Doggy Dog

SHE CAN'T RESIST . . .
Fu Lin's Bonita is a nudist by nature, but when she got a $200 Paris-designed wardrobe she just had to unpack the bag and look. Her brilliant-studded collar is part of the outfit.

TRYING ON . . .
Rather fetching, what? The collar of this stunning blue spring jacket, reminiscent of Queen Elizabeth, is hand-embroidered. The dainty paw-kerchief on the hip is perfumed, too!

EVERY GARMENT . . .
For a gusty winter this charming fur coat is just what a little Chihuahua needs. Or is it Bonita, who lives with her owner, Mrs. F. W. Fieler, in Denver, seems a trifle skeptical.

BUT SHE DOESN'T . . .
Too, too sweet! This leaf-patterned brocade afternoon gown is a sensation when Bonita goes out to tea. This ensemble also includes a doggily scented kerchief for that frilly touch.

SEEM SATISFIED . . .
Perhaps Bonita is just being mournfully reminiscent. This cape completes the outfit given to her by Mrs. Ollie Hart of Chicago. The outfit was made for Mrs. Hart's small dog, but it died.

Race Wagering Repeal Law Again Being Sidetracked

AUSTIN, April 5 (AP)—An effort to set for early consideration in the Texas senate a bill to repeal the law legalizing betting on horse racing failed at least temporarily today.

The senate refused to lay aside another bill it was considering at adjournment last week so that a motion to set the betting repeal measure for special order Wednesday would be in order. The vote was 16 to 13 against side-tracking the pending business.

Lifeless Bodies Found In Beds; Brickbat Used

Fingerprints And Outline Of Man's Foot Are Clues Followed By The Police

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Calif., April 5. — Smudgy fingerprints and the outline of a man's foot strengthened police search today for the brickbat killer who crushed the skulls of Mrs. Edna A. Worden, 48, WPA worker, and her 12-year-old daughter, Marguerite Estelle.

The two were slain early Sunday morning in their small hillside apartment, a block from the rumble of downtown Los Angeles traffic.

Low Moans Are Heard

An elevator operator, hearing low moans, summoned the building manager, J. E. Harrigan. What he saw hurriedly brought police homicide squadsmen.

On one bed of the living room lay the body of the blonde, curly-haired school girl, a bloodstained brick atop the pillow which covered the head. Her rag doll was beside her.

On a nearby cot Mrs. Worden sprawled lifeless, her battered head touching the floor.

Sixth Since January

It was the sixth case since January of brickbat assaults against women here.

Detectives said the killer entered through a kitchen window after stealthily removing his size 11 shoes. Plaster casts of his footprints showed the wool fibers of his socks.

Fingerprints were found on the dusty exterior of the window.

At 2 a. m., apartment dwellers said they heard several screams, but thought they came from a tavern a block below. The disordered bedclothing indicated Mrs. Worden had struggled desperately.

Neither Criminally Attacked

Apparently neither of the victims was criminally attacked, Autopsy Surgeon A. F. Wagner said.

Letters indicated that Raymond Worden, divorced husband of Mrs. Worden, had been sending her and their daughter $30 monthly out of his government compensation as a Pair had been held in the Dickens county jail. He had not been admitted to bail when arraigned, said Fred Arrington, county clerk.

Payments To Be Given Farmers In Dust Bowl

Farm Officials Today Open $5,000,000 Payment Plan For Distressed Counties

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 5. — Government farm officials instituted today a $5,000,000 emergency benefit payment for the nation's dust bowl.

Farmers in 90 counties where "black blizzards" have damaged crops, closed schools and threatened further trouble this summer will be offered funds for measures intended to control soil blowing.

Approval Is Awaited

The payments will be made from the $500,000,000 agricultural soil conservation program awaiting approval in congress, but will be in addition to the regular AAA benefits.

H. R. Tolley, administrator of the federal farm program, said the special program at most could help the situation only for this season and next.

"It offers farmers of this region an opportunity to check soil-blowing until a more permanent solution can be worked out," he said. "The plan is not offered as one which will end dust storms."

48 Counties In Texas

The program will be effective in 48 counties in Texas, 18 in Kansas, 10 in New Mexico, 8 in Colorado and 6 in Oklahoma although additional counties may be designated.

Payments will be made for special cultivation on crop land subject to soil blowing or for planting cover-crops on this land. Each farm in the

A code of ethics relative to radio broadcasts by Lubbock religious groups was adopted by the Lubbock Ministers association at a meeting this morning in the pastor's study of the First Methodist church.

No complaints had been made by ministers concerning ethics in presentation of any religious broadcast, although some had been made by others, an officer of the association said.

Rules Are Given

The code follows:

Recognizing that the radio audience includes persons of all types of political, social and religious beliefs, each minister will endeavor to prevent the broadcast of any matter which would commonly be regarded by Christian people as offensive.

No minister shall defame or disparage a brother minister, directly or indirectly, by words or acts which call into question the integrity or Christian sincerity of any person or of any group presenting services of worship over the radio.

Exemplify Master's Spirit

In all broadcasts, ministers shall seek to exemplify the spirit of the Master in content of all messages, in the method of presentation and in the conclusions that are drawn by the speaker.

The ministers' association gives a program over Radio Station KFYO at 10:45 a. m. o'clock each morning and from 5 to 5:30 o'clock each Sunday afternoon.

Dr. F. B. Malone gave a review at this morning's meeting on the book, "The Art of Ministering to the Sick", by Dr. R. C. Cabot and R. L. Dicks.

Winter Strikes At South Plains Area

Snow, sleet and rain interrupted spring's advent on the South Plains Sunday to add moisture storage which will be valuable in planting season and to give residents of the area a rare encounter with snow in April.

Approximately 2 1-4 inches of snow fell from 8 o'clock Sunday morning until about 4 o'clock that afternoon, and precipitation totaled .63 inch, Don L. Jones, experiment station superintendent, reported. Rain had fallen earlier in the morning.

"Did you enjoy yourself at church?" asked his mother.

CIO Seeks Million Recruits In Ranks

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, April 5 — The Committee for Industrial Organization, disclaiming any intention of sit-down strikes or a rumored dispute with the American Federation of Labor, extended its unionization drive to the oil industry today for a potential million recruits.

Head man of the drive was big Harvey C. Fremming, oil workmen's association chief and lieutenant of John L. Lewis, who called the union's executive council into a closed session for a final review of detailed plans for the national campaign in all departments of the petroleum industry.

Conference Arranged

In addition to the executive session behind locked doors, the fast moving president of the International Association of Oil Field, Gas Well and Refinery Workers, started arrangements for a conference with officials of the Humble Oil and Refining company, whose employes at the Baytown refinery had announced a majority vote opposing C. I. O. unionization at the plant.

Fremming was quick to say the C. I. O. was not looking for a fight and didn't want any sort of strike.

Discussion of the strike angle was raised because of a statement by Gov. James V. Allred declaring opposition to sit-down strike methods

Crash Of Great Ship Is Feared After Take-Off

Douglas Transport Was Last Heard From On Saturday; Equipped With A Radio

(By The Associated Press)

BURBANK, Calif., April 5.—Eight and possibly ten persons aboard a Douglas transport plane which hopped off here at 10 a. m. Saturday for New York were missing today.

The plane was being ferried across the country to be shipped to Holland for delivery to the Royal Dutch Air Line. It was equipped with a radio sending and receiving set. The pilot, Glen Moser, 30, had no scheduled stop, except at Kansas City.

Bad Weather Reported

Bad weather was reported over Arizona and if the ship got that far, Douglas Aircraft Corp. officials believe it might have been forced down there.

TWA records indicated eight persons besides Moser and Co-Pilot Joe Wolfolk, 32, were aboard the ship, but George W. Stratton, assistant to the Douglas Corp. president, could give only the following list, besides the two fliers:

E. R. Moser, 55, father of the pilot.

Merle Estey, 29, Douglas engineer.

Mrs. Lucille Estey, his wife.

Bernard Troy, jr., 33, parking station operator.

George Kent.

Mrs. B. R. Uderlih, mother of a Douglas employe.

Were Guests Of Pilots

Kent and Troy were guests of the pilots.

The plane was expected to fly by way of Kingman and Winslow, Ariz., Albuquerque, N. M., and Amarillo, Tex.

Mrs. Moser expressed hope her husband had grounded the ship in one of several emergency fields in southern Arizona, New Mexico or Texas, but since more than a day and a half had elapsed since the take off, Douglas officials did not share this hope.

Pilot Moser had been flying four years, three years as an army officer and during the past year for Douglas.

Three Men Are Arrested As Result Of Raids In City

Three men were arrested and probably will be charged this afternoon, in liquor raids conducted on three Lubbock places on South Avenue H late this morning, said the sheriff's department.

Directed by J. R. Ramsey, deputy supervisor of the Texas Liquor Control board, the raids were participated in by the sheriff's office and by city police, as well. Two "dry hauls" resulted, but a pint of liquor was obtained at another place and a case made out for charging sale, said Bedford F. Carpenter, chief deputy sheriff.

Sam W. Fort, Mack Wilson, B. B. Conant, B. H. Murphy and another liquor board inspector were accompanied by Carpenter and by Bill Mabray of the police on the raids, the party splitting.

A Lubbock woman who had not been reported arrested was charged this morning with sale of beer.

Texans Victims When Boats Are Capsized At Santone Resort

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANTONIO, April 5—Medina lake's worst tragedy today had taken the lives of six persons, one of whom was drowned in a futile effort to rescue his five-year-old child.

A sudden gale swept across the main channel of the lake, upsetting two motor boats and spilling their 11 occupants into the deep water of Medina's main channel. Five from the large boat, in which there were nine persons, and one from a smaller boat which attempted a rescue were dead. The others clung to the sides of the large boat in the cold water until help arrived.

Sam Johnston died while attempting to reach his five-year-old daughter, Minnie Lee. Rescuers who arrived more than an hour later found Mrs. Johnston clinging to the side of the boat, still supporting her little daughter, who was dead.

Son Is Rescued

George Johnston, her nine-year-old son, was rescued by Frank Trahan.

The others who perished were: Mrs. Lucille Lamkin, about 35.

Henry L. (Sunny) Lamkin, 45, part owner of a cafe.

James E. Stone, an employe of the Missouri Pacific railway, who moved here recently from Mathis, Texas.

Leslie A. Bowers, 34, an employe of the pari-mutuel department of Alamo Downs.

Witnesses Are Shaken

Eye-witnesses, still too shaken by their experience to give more than sketchy accounts of the tragedy, made conflicting reports of what happened.

Trahan, whose heroic efforts saved the lives of several, said nine persons were in a nine-passenger inboard motor boat.

He and Johnston were in a smaller boat with an outboard motor. The craft were in the main channel of the lake, one of Southwest Texas' best known boating and fishing resorts, when a sudden squall came up in the semi-darkness.

Trahan said the larger boat capsized while he and Johnston were a short distance away.

"We put the outboard boat about and rushed to the rescue," he said. "Our motor stalled and a big wave turned the little boat over just as we reached the spot where the big boat capsized."

Trahan and Johnston were thrown into the water and Trahan held to the sides of their boat for a minute, then swam out several times to rescue or try to rescue those who were floundering in the water nearby.

Divine Guidance Is Sought As Lubbock Grand Jurors Open Session Here Today

Grand jury for the April term of the 99th district court began its labors this morning after divine guidance of its efforts had been invoked by presiding Judge E. L. Pitts.

Veteran court attaches said they believed it was the first time in the history of Lubbock county that the impaneling of a grand jury had been preceded by the reading of Scripture and by prayer. Judge Pitts, who assumed office following the last election, said that it will be a regular part of the opening of all court terms over which he presides.

Remarking that nearly all legislative bodies begin their sessions with devotionals, Judge Pitts continued with the question, "How much more important is it, then, that we seek the guidance of the Supreme Architect of the Universe for a judicial body which must pass on the lives, liberty and property of men, and the welfare of little children?"

Rev. C. E. Hereford, pastor of the First Baptist church, conducted the devotional, which consisted of the reading of eight verses of Scripture from the first chapter of Romans and a brief prayer. His Scripture began with the verse, "Let every soul be subject unto the higher powers. For there is no power but of God: the powers that be are ordained of God." He concluded with the eighth

New Weapons For Use In Crime War Over Country Are Found

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK, April 5 (AP)—Discovery of two tools for scientific crime detection, one a light that reveals fingerprints never before visible, and the other a method of making ransom money so a suspected bill will shine like a glowworm, was made public today.

Both came from the Bell Telephone laboratories.

The suggestion of a police official who visited the laboratories only two weeks ago, turned up the fingerprint discovery.

Are Made Permanent

Dr. Francis P. Lucas discovered the method, which mineralizes the prints and makes them permanent, in contrast to present silver nitrate and iodine fuming methods which tend to fade.

The mineralized prints show as dark lines. Having made them indestructible as metal, Dr. Lucas turned to another department of metallurgy, which uses ultra-violet, or black light, to reveal metallic crystals not otherwise clear.

The surfaces carrying the indestructible prints were soaked with dyes invisible under light, but which shine like glow worms, under the invisible rays.

Prints Stand Out

This makes the mineralized prints stand out like iron bars in a night lighted window.

A black or colored surface, which masks fingerprints of it, can be dyed any color desired.

The new method of marking ransom money uses similar invisible dyes. A bill can be dipped entire,

Youth Confesses He Fired Famed Shiloh Tabernacle

ZION, Ill., April 5 (AP)—Thomas Griffith, 19, was held in jail here today after he confessed, Police Chief Alven Ruesch said, he set fire to the famed Shiloh tabernacle and radio station WCBD because he wanted "to get even" with Wilbur Glenn Voliva, pontiff of the Christian Apostolic church.

Chief Ruesch quoted the youth as saying he poured kerosene on lumber stored beneath the floor and ignited it.

BY CAROLYN TRAHAN
As told to James F. Laughead, Associated Press staff cameraman

MEDINA LAKE, Texas, April 5 (AP)—I should have stayed. I should have stayed. Oh, why did I leave them to hold on to that boat. They told me not to go.

We were over halfway across the lake when a gust of wind just flipped us all into the water. I came up swimming. I saw five-year-old Minnie Lee go down. I grabbed her by the hair.

Everything was so dark. I must have been out of my mind. Everybody was hollering and there wasn't a boat on the lak.

Mrs. Lamkin began to go down. Brother Frank helped me get her on top the overturned boat. I know Minnie Lee was dead. She didn't say a thing.

Then I struck out for shore. Oh, why did I do that. I should have stayed and died like the others. But I was crazy I guess.

The water was icy cold. My zipper stuck on the leather jacket I wore and try as I could it wouldn't come off. My shoes were too water soaked. They wouldn't come off.

They all yelled to come back. But I went on. Again and again I went down. I could see shore about half mile away. It was dusk. Then brother Frank hollered. 'Go ahead sis you can make it.'

The water was so cold. I seem-

Spring Tonic Is Suggested

By ALICIA HART
NEA Service Staff

The very best spring tonic for hair, skin and figure beauty is made like this:

To nine hours sleep every night for a month, add 15 minutes of setting-up exercises once a day and a diet of more vegetables and salads than desserts, starchy or fried foods.

Mix with a pleasant disposition and, for seasoning, a systematic nightly skin routine to suit individual requirements. Take this regularly, and you'll find that spring blues are something you won't catch, that any such concoction as sulphur and molasses is something you won't need.

If you haven't taken seriously conscientious beauticians' remarks about health being the true foundation of real beauty, do so just for a month and see what happens.

Until you have exercised properly every day for four weeks, you can't possibly have any idea of how much better setting-up routines make you feel. Eat the right kind of food and you'll have a clearer head and lighter feet. Sleep more hours to convince yourself that rest makes for sparkling eyes and a sweeter smile.

Remember that skin which is cleansed, lubricated and stimulated faithfully night after night will stay young and attractive. Improper cleansing causes blackheads, blemishes and dinginess. Dryness is a forerunner of fine lines and wrinkles. Open pores and sallowness often are the result of sluggish circulation, so don't under-estimate the importance of stimulating tonics and lotions.

Make up your mind to be gloriously healthy, so you'll feel well and look prettier all the time. Unless there is something organically wrong, in which case you ought to see a doctor immediately, you can attain all by yourself the kind of glowing health that makes for sparkling eyes, clear skin, beautiful hair and a supple, slender figure.

Texan Believes He Has An Original Letter That Was Written By Washington To British Leader

CENTER, April 5 (AP)—T. R. Day, author and collector of rare documents, says he believes a letter in his possession is the original George Washington wrote to Lord Cornwallis outlining the terms of surrender of the British army at Yorktown.

Day says the letter was in a collection of documents he obtained from the administrator of the estate of Baron Friburgo, millionaire plantation owner of Brazil, in 1928.

Day says:

Proof Is Impossible

"It is obvious to any thoughtful person that absolute proof of any documents of such age is impossible, but there are evidences which cannot successfully be disproved. The Washington letter was lost and unaccounted for up to the time this letter was discovered by me in Brazil. It fits into the historical accounts of the surrender of Yorktown in every detail. The letter is written in what is recognized to be Washington's phraseology and literary style. Many competent judges and experts have examined it and all have pronounced it unquestionably authentic."

He named several prominent persons who had inspected the document.

Day says he checked the congressional library and learned the library had two letters from Cornwallis to Washington regarding the surrender but that Washington's reply had been lost at least 100 years.

According to Day's information, Cornwallis wrote Washington Oct. 17, 1781, asking for terms upon which his army might surrender. The next day Washington replied and Cornwallis surrendered Oct. 19.

Day's letter reads:

"Headquarters before York,
"18th Oct. 1781.
"My lord:
"To avoid unnecessary discussions and delays I shall at once, in answer to your lordship's letter of yesterday, declare the general basis upon which a definive or capitulation must take place.

"The garrisons of York and Gloucester, including the seamen, as you propose will be received prisoners of war. The conditions announced by sending the British and German troops to the parts of Europe to which they respectively belong, is inadmissible. Instead of this, they will be marched to such parts of the country as can most conveniently provide for their subsistence; and the benevolent treatment of prisoners, which is inveribly observed by the Americans, will be extended to them. The same honours will be granted to the surrendering army as were granted to the garrison of Charleston.

Answer Is Asked

"Your lordship will be pleased to signify your determination either to accept or reject, the proposals now offered, in the course of two hours from the delivery of this letter, that commissioners may be appointed to digest the articles of capitulation, or a renewal of hostilities may take place.

"I have the honor to be, my lord, your most obedient servant.

"G. Washington."

Day says members of the Frigurgo family were frequent visitors to France and England and that it is believed Baron Friburgo purchased the Washington letter while abroad.

Day, grandnephew of George C. Childress, author of the Texas declaration of independence, has written several books on agriculture in Brazil.

CLEAR vision is the absence of blur; eye comfort is the absence of physical, mental and nervous fatigue, plus clear vision, which in many instances is only possible through a modern analytical examination, by a competent Optometrist. Only an Optometrist makes the ANALYTICAL examination. . . . This is the reason that Optometry is so outstanding today.

Sales Of Babies May Be Halted

AUSTIN, April 5 (AP) — The legislature may take steps to stop the sale of babies in Texas.

The practice of selling or bartering infants offered for adoption is more widespread than might be assumed, Mrs. Violet Greenhill, director of the state division of child welfare, said recently when corrective measures were introduced in the house and senate.

Senator Ben Oneal of Wichita Falls proposed a bill to prohibit the sale or exchange of any child under 15 years of age. Rep. W. O. Reed of Dallas would make it a penitentiary offense to "market" children under 21 years old.

Legislation Is Needed

A previous legislature adopted measures prohibiting licensed child-placing agencies from charging or receiving fees. Mrs. Greenhill said corrective legislation is needed now to ban sales by individuals.

Senator Oneal said the depression and difficulties parents encountered in providing for children aggravated baby sales.

"Babies actually have been advertised for sale," he said. "The district attorney in San Antonio has the affidavit of one couple that paid $35 for a child. In another case a baby's parents were told their child had died and later the infant was sold for adoption."

Highest actual price paid for a baby was $50, Mrs. Greenhill said.

She said maternity homes have borne the brunt of baby-sale criticism, but individuals are engaged in the practice. She believes child-placing agencies have on the whole given their support to legislation banning the sale of children, and have cooperated with the present law.

Her chief criticism is against persons she charges have sold children into improper environments.

Record Enrollment In The Texas Prison System

HUNTSVILLE, April 5 (AP) — The inmates of the Texas prison system totaled 6,245 March 23, two more than the record established Aug. 16 last. The population now is 195 greater than the average of 6,050 for the 12 months of last year. Huntsville with 1,237 men led and Ramsey farm with 945 was second. Eastman has 747; Central 615; Harlem 499; Clemens 476; Darrington 47; Retrieve 437; Blue Ridge 388; Wynn 278; Goree (women) 122; and the asylums 31.

The increase is attributed in part to the absence of a pardoning system for about a month.

Old Family Bibles Still Being Used For Records

AUSTIN, April 5 (AP) — Family Bibles brought into Texas 50 years ago still are used as records of births and deaths.

The most striking example comes from the Texas old age assistance commission whose investigators have been shown more than 100,000 such Bibles by persons seeking to qualify for old age pensions.

W. A. "Jack" Little, acting director of the commission, said that in at least 50 per cent of the 214,000 cases investigated, ages of applicants had been proved by entries in family Bibles.

A person must be 65 to qualify for old age assistance.

Approximately 250 American companies incorporated in China went bankrupt during the last year, the American commercial attache at Shanghai reports.

Large Cargo Of Scrap Iron Will Be Shipped In Texas

BEAUMONT, April 5 (AP) — The largest cargo of scrap iron from this part is expected to leave early in April when the steamship Nailsea Meadow clears with more than 8,000 tons consigned to Japan. The vessel is new, coming here directly from the shipyards.

Prices for scrap have increased rapidly from $3 and $4 a tone to $10 and $20 in recent weeks. The shipment will top the total of 7,872 tons for February. O. L. Caywood, port director, says the installation of magnets materially reduced the cost of loading scrap iron.

Nate Karchmer, president of the Oklahoma Waste Trade Dealers association, says junkmen are gathering bedsprings, automobile chassis, frying pans, and radiators from alleys, barnyards, and byways to be sold abroad for armaments.

Young Monkey Sees World From Back Of A Dog Friend

HUNTSVILLE, April 5 (AP)—Popeye, a year-old monkey, sees the world from the back of Pert, a five-year-old registered pointer owned by Charles Fadell. Popeye is the son of Pedro Da Monk, pet of the convicts at the penitentiary, and Chico, his consort brought here for him after a prolonged bachelorhood within the "walls."

The dog and Simian are inseparable and are familiar kitchen door callers to many Huntsville housewives. Popeye climbs on Pert's back about 8 a. m. and they start their tour of the town. Their return is uncertain, says J. P. Williams, Fadell's employe, "maybe they will come in early, maybe late."

Williams says Popeye's love for the dog is such that he has deserted his mother. When he leaves in the morning, Chico climbs the fence and cries after him, but rides away, heedlessly, for a tour of backyards.

It is estimated that the sea contains enough salt to bury all land under a layer 400 feet deep.

TO CLYDE LITTLEFIELD of the University of Texas again goes the palm for a good job well done. The former Longhorn player and head coach has put over quite successfully an event that strikes recognition not only for the state's most elaborate university but for Texas in toto—the Texas Relays.

Due to Littlefield's efforts, the Texas Relays now rank alongside of, if not before, the outstanding university-sponsored track and field carnivals of the country. The Kansas Relays used to be the most outstanding affair of its kind in the West or mid-West. The Drake Relays ranked high, and the Penn Relays stood out in the East.

Not only because it heralds the opening of outdoor track and field each year but because of the class of the field, the Texas Relays now command national and international attention. Mr. Littlefield has played the most prominent individual part in making the Austin event one of the very best in the top flight of the country's spring athletic meets.

IT MUST BE GOOD WHEN NINE RECORDS CRASH

Track and field is an old, old sport. Athletes have been running and jumping and throwing things for quite some years. Some records have been established that may never be excelled, but the big surprise is that unbeatable records have not been established in ALL track and field events. That records continue to go by the boards indicates that our modern youth is not such a lame brain, a pampered pet, an anemic Percival, after all.

The Texas Relays passed its tenth birthday last Saturday, yet a total of nine records was broken, six of them in the university division. Do not tell us the race is degenerating!

Styles and systems and color schemes change in football and other team sports, as more scientific methods, more trickery and deception, are worked out by the master minds. There is annually an increase in attractiveness, as new ideas, stressing color and showmanship, are developed.

But a track or field man is on his own, so to speak. There are training rules, to be sure, and constant developments in care and training of the body; also in regard to getting the most out of one's natural abilities. But there's a limit to how fast a man can run, how high he can jump, how far he can throw things, and this limit is up to the individual. With records continually falling in one meet after another, it is therefore significant that our modern youths, so often criticized for letting themselves down, are demonstrating more manhood than their predecessors.

Coming closer to home, it is not unsatisfactory to note that one of the local boys did himself rather proud in the Saturday Texas Relays. John Case of Petersburg, the iron-lunged, slightly built youth who can be seen almost any day of the school year tearing around the Texas Tech track, lap after lap, finished fourth in high class competition in the 3000-meter run. This race supplanted the customary 2-mile run.

In a meet admittedly pretty rough for Texas Tech's class of athletes, Case was certainly not without honor. Men of nation-wide reputation as distance men competed in the race, and some of them beat him. But he wasn't the last one to the tape.

WESTERNERS POINT TO DISTRICT MEET TITLE

Next to football, Coach Weldon Chapman of Lubbock High school had rather win track and field meets. For long he has hoped to see a Westerner squad ake the district tournament. Present indications are that the dream is closer to realization than in several years.

The Westerners have done right well so far, what with winning a little invitation meet here, sweeping honors in the Caprock Relays at Memphis and running away with the Snyder invitation meet last Saturday. The district meet, scheduled April 17, will be much tougher than any of these, no doubt, but hope is high in the Westerner camp.

Chapman does not pretend to be the track and field coach. He is occupied with spring football. Goober Keyes takes care of the track and field squad and is doing a swell job of it, but Chappo is very much interested.

One reason for Lubbock's hopes is Lamesa High school's current stride. The Golden Tornadoes ruled the district for some time, fell off last year, and seem in worse shape this year. In the Snyder meet Saturday, the Tornadoes scored just 9 points, compared with Lubbock's 72. For the first time in a long time Lubbock is in a position to do a little crowing over Lamesa, and nobody can blame them, not even the Tornadoes, who had their turn at crowing and who, no doubt, will be back up there before long.

Coach Elmer Moore's Olton bunch will be hard to beat in the district meet, and other clubs will be strong. The Westerners haven't set any records on fire so far, but their superiority in recent meets indicates they'll be better than tough in the district eliminations.

DOUBLE-T BOYS DESERVE PATRONAGE TONIGHT

As mentioned herein before, the association of Texas Tech lettermen is throwing its annual show tonight. They say it will be one of the best, and it probably will. Three promising boxing bouts have been arranged, and at least one "professional" wrestling match.

Bill Holcomb and Allan Plummer, heavyweights, have been rehearsing their wrestling act, and they agree that it's better than any they've ever put on. They do a take-off on professional grappling that is really the nerts. That in itself will be worth the price of admission.

George Winter and Pete Owens, two other gridders, will assume roles of Tech coaches in giving the low-down on what transpires in the dressing room between halves and after a game. They also have their act down pretty pat, and if they don't get into the lineup next fall you can charge it to their realistic performance tonight. They're valuable men, and it is to be hoped their act won't be taken too seriously.

Al Simmons Is With Senators

LAKELAND, Fla., April 5 (AP)—Al Simmons, who cost the Detroit Tigers $75,000 and a big salary for one season's work, went to the Washington Senators today at a bargain price.

AL SIMMONS

Manager Mickey Cochrane, who bought Simmons from the White Sox late in 1935, refused to disclose the price placed on his friend and companion of championship days on the Philadelphia Athletics, but all Tiger camp followers were agreed it wasn't much.

Estimates on the sale price ranged from $7,500 to $15,000 for the outfielder who hit well over .300 for 12 of his 13 years in major league baseball.

Announcing the deal Sunday as a straight cash transaction, Cochrane said:

"There is no need to make the price public. It would only add fuel to the fire and I'd like to forget the whole thing."

Qualifying For Tech Golf Tourney To Be Extended

Snow and rain that momentarily reduced Meadowbrook Golf course to a quagmire Sunday resulted in extension of qualifying for an annual Tech golf tournament, said G. H. Tosh, manager.

The qualifying field has today and Tuesday to complete touring which will shove up first matches to Wednesday and Thursday, second round play to Friday, and semi-final rounds Saturday.

Thirty-six hole final play will be Sunday, said Tosh. He said he expected a large field. Cups will be presented to winners and runners-up of all flights and in the consolations, and refreshments will be served when pairings are announced, he had announced.

Football Situation At Notre Dame Is Said Under Control

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, April 5 (AP)—Football situation at Notre Dame is under control, all right. All Coach Elmer Layden has to do these days is announce tennis schedules. Usually he's talking his head off this time of year. Note to New York fight referees: At Los Angeles the other night, fans cheered a referee for stopping a dull bout . . . Van Mungo of the Dodgers is turning on the heat early. . . . He's fanned 21 men in 18 innings of exhibition game hurling. . . .

That California college pitcher who turned in a no-hitter last week is ticketed for the Yankees. . . . This corner's dough rides on Montanez tonight, despite all that talk of a "fix." . . . Marvin McCarthy reports via the Chicago Times that Hunk Anderson is driving the Michigan line candidates so hard the grunts and groans can be heard all the way to Chi. . . . Only thing lacking in those eye-witness stories of Miley and Kupcinet vs. the St. Louis Cardinals (first team) was what the writers at the ringside did about the fight, if anything. . . . Ken Strong, the pro football star, is playing semi-pro baseball with the New York Springfields. . . .

Harry Stuhldreher, Wisconsin coach, says the football huddle is doomed. . . . Frank Crosetti of the Yankees has reached page 693 in "Gone With The Wind." Is that boy fast? . . . Billy Taub, who tailors most of the Broadway sports mob, says Tony Canzoneri's taste in clothes is second to none. . . . Lou Chiozza of the Giants sticks out his tongue when making a difficult stop or catch.

George Watkins, former big league outfielder, signed with Houston on condition he be put in left. . . . George owns a sporting goods store in Houston. . . . He's got a sign in left field with a big bell in the center . . . . Any hitter who rings the bell collects $50. . . . "I want to stay in front of that bell," says George. "No player on the other side is going to get $50 from me if I can help it. . ."

New York Yankees Lead Citrus Race

NEW YORK, April 5 (AP)—The rise of the New York Yankees to first place and the continued superiority of American league clubs in inter-league games featured last week's "grapefruit league" games.

The Yanks, plunging into a heavy exhibition schedule in the deep south, won four games and boosted the club average to .833 with 15 wins against three defeats.

Lead Is Swelled

Eleven of the Yankee victories have been over National league foes, thereby swelling the American league's lead in inter-circuit games. The league has won 26 out of 45 contests with National league opponents.

The Pittsburgh Pirates continued their amazing run production and edged into second place with an average of .800. The Pirates have scored 113 runs in ten games, just one more than the Yanks have pushed across in 18 contests.

Nose Out Giants

The Cleveland Indians nosed out the New York Giants for third place on yesterday's win at New Orleans, while the Philadelphia Athletics, Washington Senators and Chicago Cubs finished the week in a triple tie for fifth place.

Chief surprise of the week was the failure of the St. Louis Cardinals, one of the betting favorites in the coming National league race, to better their lowly estate. Frank Frisch's merry men have won only five games and only the futile Boston Bees separate them from the league cellar.

Lou Ambers Meets Montanez In Non-Title Bout Tonight

NEW YORK, April 5 (AP)—They're looking for a crowd of 15,000 and a $50,000 gate at Madison Square Garden tonight when Lou Ambers and Pedro Montanez fight a 10-round bout with not even a title at stake.

That expectation is noteworthy in itself in a city where only heavyweights can ordinarily draw crowds. It's even more remarkable because Ambers wasn't considered much of an attraction when he took the lightweight crown from Tony Canzoneri.

The Kerkimer Hurricane has gained favor, however, by keeping himself busy in non-title fights and getting licked from time to time.

On the strength of his record Montanez has been established as a 7-5 favorite, but the odds were shortening.

"Giant Killer" Is Favored To Retain Crown

HOUSTON, April 5. (AP)—The largest field in the seven year history of the River Oaks tennis tournament aimed today at the titles Bryan (Bitsy) Grant won in 1935-36, but the Atlanta "giant killer" was top seeded and the strong favorite.

Seventy eight players, including Wilmer Allison, former Davis cup captain and national champion, and many other stars, entered the annual event.

46 Matches On Today

Forty six matches, arranged to cut the field to 32 players for the rest of the week's play, were on the day's bill, but few of them included the seeded stars.

Grant, Bobby Riggs, Los Angeles, Joe Hunt, Los Angeles, Arthur Hendrix, Lakeland, Fla., Walter Senior, San Francisco, Wayne Sabin, Hollywood, Elwood Cooke, Portland, and Bobby Decker, Miami, were scheduled to arrive tomorrow.

Considered the day's feature matches were those between Hal Surface, Kansas City, seeded sixth, and Allen Kay, Houston, and between Allison, seeded second, and Donald Longcope, Houston.

Out Of Retirement

Allison came out of retirement to enter the tourney. He had played in all previous River Oaks tourneys and won the title in 1934. He was teamed with John Van Ryn, his old Davis cup partner, in the doubles.

Possible surprise packages in the tourney were Frank Guensey, Rice institute freshman from Miami, Fla., and Bobby Curtis, Houston high school sensation.

Play in the women's singles, junior singles, men's doubles and veterans' singles (for men over 45) will start tomorrow.

Guernsey cattle were first brought into the United States in the early '80s.

Longhorns Top Southwest Loop And Prepare For Big Series

(By The Associated Press)

The Texas Longhorns, heading the Southwest conference baseball campaign as it enters its second week, prepared today for a crucial series Friday and Saturday with the Baylor Bears, pre-season favorites to win the championship but who lost their opening game in a smashing upset to the Rice Owls.

The Longhorns took two games from Texas Christian university and one from Southern Methodist to occupy a familiar place in the conference standing. For more than two decades Texas has been the dominant factor in the diamond race, and though relegated to the sidelines by the critics before the campaign began, the Longhorns demonstrated they are another typical Billy Disch machine by smashing the Horned Frogs, rated with the leaders this year.

Baylor Beats Aggies

Baylor lost to Rice 7-0 but came back to nose out Texas A. and M. with the sophomore "find," Tommie Fine, on the mound.

As a result of last week's forays Texas is leading with three victories and no defeats. Rice has one win and no losses and Baylor has a victory and defeat for third place.

Southern Methodist meets Texas A. and M. at College Station Thursday and Friday and Texas Christian and Rice engage in a series at Houston at the same time. Baylor plays Texas at Austin Friday and Saturday and Texas Christian meets Texas A and M. at College Station and Southern Methodist plays Rice at Houston Saturday.

First Full Week Of Racing Opens

ARLINGTON DOWNS, April 5 (AP)—A balanced program of eight events was offered today by the Texas Jockey club as the spring racing meet swung into its first full week.

The feature event will be the Amarillo over the Waggoner course for three year olds and up and which has attracted Gallaclay, Corum, Boston Mary, Woodlander, Combahee, Miss Ginbar, Brown Prodigy, Palan and the speedy Brown Cone, all seasoned campaigners.

The fourth race for maiden fillies, and known as the Debs, promised fireworks with twelve of the fastest fillies on the ground yet remaining. Of these, the Vestal-Hampshire Cherry Leaf, Three D's stock farm's Labor Day, W. C. Stroube's Didutellus and the Milky Way farm's costly juvenile, Hour By Hour, are expected to furnish the most opposition.

Starting with the sprints the program concludes with three long races, two over the mile and sixteenth route and one a nine-furlong affair.

Ralph Guldahl Is Victim In Sunday Round

BY PAUL MICKELSON

AUGUSTA Ga., April 5 (AP)—There's no doubt about Byron Nelson's "moxie" any more.

The gangling blond, who came up from Texas a few years ago has convinced scoffers he's got the heart by his brilliant victory in the fourth Augusta national championship.

Wins The Hard Way

Byron won his greatest golf triumph yesterday the hard way. He took the lead and held it half way in the 72-hole fight, surrendered it to trail by three shots with 18 holes to go and then peppered the championship course with spectacular golf to win by two blows over Ralph Guldahl, comeback star now of Chicago.

His total of 283 came within one stroke of equalling the tournament record established by Gene Sarazen and Craig Wood in 1935 and was 20 better than Bobby Jones, who finished 29th among 46 starters. Nelson's first round 66 also set a new competitive record for the Augusta national and his 32 on the final nine yesterday equalled another record. His score for the 72 holes was 66-72-75-70—283.

Trails By Four Strokes

It was that final 32 that enabled Byron to apply a "full Nelson" on his field. Going to the tenth tee, he trailed Guldahl by four strokes and the sports writers began grinding out copy on Guldahl's victory. They suspected Nelson didn't have the heart; they knew he didn't have the game to close such a gap.

Nelson closed it on the 12th and 13th holes. As Guldahl landed in the adjacent creeks off each tee to take 11 shots on the aggregate par combination, Nelson whirled over the same territory in five shots. That was the story.

Over the remaining five holes, Nelson was colder than ice, getting straight pars.

GRAHAM McNAMEE REPORTS:

"BANG! A BLOW-OUT! A CRASH!...WHILE DRIVING HER DAUGHTER TO SCHOOL"

Read This Famous Radio Announcer's Story of the Contest Between Grim Fate and A Mother With Her 8-Year-Old Daughter

"BANG! A single ear-splitting blast! And it changed this peaceful school day journey into a terrifying experience. Mrs. Gerstner of Queens Village, Long Island sat vainly clutching the steering wheel frantically trying to stop the car. But the car was definitely out of control. Like a maddened bull it lurched from side to side, then charged across the road, and finally came to a screeching, scorching stop. There was no on-coming traffic at that moment, or there might have been another bitter tragedy in the making.

"When it comes to building a tire that really saves motorists' lives by providing them with protection against high-speed blow-outs, my hand goes to Goodrich engineers. They invented the Golden Ply and put it into every Goodrich Silvertown Tire. This Golden Ply is a layer of special rubber and full-floating cords scientifically treated to resist internal tire heat which, I understand, is the great, unseen cause of these blow-outs. Thus you're protected.

"How much easier for the rest of us to profit by Mrs. Gerstner's experience without having to hear that nerve shattering BANG! Let's all be careful about tires as well as driving!"

Control Work Is To Be Sought In Texas Counties

BAY CITY, April 5 (AP)—E. O. Taulbee, president of the Lower Colorado River Flood Control association announces he will appear before the project committee of the national rivers and harbors congress at Washington April 23 on behalf of river improvement in the coastal plains counties, Colorado, Wharton, and Matagorda.

Taulbee said the association was formed for the protection of agricultural and industrial interests in the flat country of the lower river. He said he believed the reservoir construction on the upper river alone would not solve the flood hazard in this area. Records, he said, show that many of the most destructive floods originate below the proposed Marshall Ford dam, 16 miles above Austin.

"I am sure," he said, "that a combination of reservoirs, levees, and open mouth of the river will solve the flood problems permanently. I am just as certain that any of these plans alone will prove inadequate."

Survey Being Made

Previous efforts of the association were directed toward obtaining a survey by a competent agency and the United States reclamation service now is making it. The result of this survey, Taulbee said, should develop a workable plan for flood prevention. At the request of the association, Taulbee said, war department engineers recommended to congress and the house rivers and harbors committee approved the recommendation, that the government maintain a pilot ditch across the delta at Matagorda until the completion of the intracoastal canal. Taulbee said this was important because, should the channel again become blocked the raft would build quickly up the river and create a condition similar to that preceding the removal of the old raft.

"We are hopeful," Taulbee said, "we may be able to interest the government in colonizing the 310,000 acres of rich land which would be reclaimed if we obtain this improvement. It would fit into the announced program of the government to place industrious farmers from worn out land and the dust areas on productive land with adequate rainfall and good climate."

Taulbee said the rivers and harbors congress had been requested by the president to pass on programs of flood control, reclamation, and erosion prevention for his long-term program.

Chicago Loses Distinction Of Being Windiest City

CHICAGO, April 5 (AP)—Chicago apparently doesn't rightly own its nickname of the nation's "windy city."

Frederick Rex, municipal librarian, came up today with statistics showing that New York was the windiest city in 1936.

His statistical compilation, based on U. S. weather bureau recordings in 35 strategetically located cities in the United States, established that New York's breezes were 15 times stronger than Chicago's.

Pittsburgh was listed as the foggiest of the 35 communities, Kansas City as the hottest and Minneapolis as the coldest.

Santa Fe, N. M., had the most sunshine.

Bronco Riding Said Safer Than Modern Automobile

BOISE, Idaho, April 5 (AP)—Bronco riding is safer than the modern automobile, an Idaho cowboy said here today as he prepared to leave for Paris to show Frenchmen how to ride wild horses.

"Not as much chance of getting hurt on a bucker as there is in driving your car through the traffic," lanky Burel Mulkey of Salmon City commented, smiling.

Mulkey won top honors as a bronco rider at the 1936 Texas Centennial celebration.

Napoleon nearly was born an Englishman. It was just before his birth, in 1769, that the controversy between England and France over possession of Corsica was settled in favor of France.

Old Landmark Is Removed With Loss Of A Bridge

GRANDBURY, April 5 (AP)—Dismantling of the old bridge across the Brazos river here, built in 1877, removes a landmark from this region. It was constructed of lumber hauled by wagon from Fort Worth, cost $30,000, and required two years to complete. It was the first span across the Brazos between Waco and its mouth.

Construction was financed by a group of business men here and it was operated as a toll bridge until 1893 when it was taken over by Hood county and used until a modern bridge was built in 1932.

Egyptian women of Cleopatra's time wound their hair around small bamboo rods, coated it with Nile mud and baked the arrangement in the sun. Then the mud was cracked off and the hair combed out.

Tractor-Powered Scissors Built For Mechanical Chopping Of Big Trees

TEMPLE, April 5 (AP) — Kirk Knight, ruddy-faced, 27-year-old Bartlett farmer, has constructed a tractor-powered "scissors" which cuts down trees.

The device, mounted on a (45 horse power caterpillar) tractor, resembles a giant beetle.

The "blades" of the "scissors" are stubby steel jaws made of two-inch armor plate.

Idea Is Explained

Knight said the largest tree he chine, he explained today, from cutting wooden matches with a pair of scissors.

Knight said the largest three he has cut was en elm 22 inches across.

Knight said the machine hits a tree and the jaws "bite" through the wood.

The machine cuts off the tree six inches from the ground, leaving a smooth stump, and the tractor moves over the stump. If the jaws fail to "bite" through a large tree on the first grip, the operation backs off the tractor and hits it again.

Two Trees A Minute

Knight said he can "easily" average two trees a minute during a 10-hour day, estimating the machine will do the work of 200 woodchoppers. He said the device uproots trees or brush with shallow root systems.

A steel hood protects the tractor and its operator from falling trees. Knight said there is little shock felt in the operator's seat when the machine hits a tree.

Suggestions For Safe Driving
(Talk Number Two)
OUR BRAKES
One of the most important things in Safe Driving is to be able to stop when necessary.
Constant or regular checking of your brakes is absolutely necessary to make your brake service always dependable.
Everybody knows this—but somehow don't attend to it regularly and systematically.
Brakes give you plenty of notice when they need adjustment—the responsibility is YOURS.
Drive so you won't need to use your brakes too often or too suddenly. That breaks them down and causes frequent adjustments.

The World's Record Holder... Glenn Hardin... Going Over the Hurdles

WAITING FOR THE GUN—Moments when nervous tension reaches the crest. As Glenn says: "It's a punishing pace." Like many another champion who prizes good condition and healthy nerves, Glenn Hardin chooses Camels for his cigarette. "They never jangle my nerves," he says.

SAILING OVER A LOW HURDLE—It looks effortless, but Glenn's strained, tense face shows how the race drains tremendous physical and nervous energy out of him.

TOPPING A HIGH HURDLE—Superb form helped Glenn win honors in 2 Olympics—and brought him the world's record. His record-breaking time, 50.6 seconds for the 400-meter hurdles, was sensational.

BREASTING THE TAPE—Glenn Hardin is famous for his sprinting finish. He calls on his reserve energy to send him flying to the tape. And after the finish, he lights up a Camel. Why? Because, in his own words: "Camels help to ease strain. They set me right."

THE YOUNGEST MAN on the Olympic track squad. Glenn Hardin was only 20 years old when he won his first Olympic victory for the U. S. He eats sensibly—takes good digestion for granted. The picture (right) shows Glenn enjoying his favorite meal—rare, thick, juicy steak, green vegetables, fruit, milk, and Camels. As Glenn phrases it: "It wouldn't do me much good to eat and not digest properly. So I smoke Camels for digestion's sake. It's grand to light up Camels and enjoy the sense of well-being that comes when digestion is going along o-kay."

"NO MAN WANTS JITTERY NERVES, when there's high voltage all around him," says Raymond Newby, radio engineer. "That's why my choice is Camels. I've always heard, and my own experience convinces me, that Camels don't jangle the nerves."

AIR HOSTESS of a leading air-line, Miss Betty Steffen, observes: "I strive to be alert every single minute. I find Camels are a wonderful help in keeping me feeling pepped-up. I smoke as many Camels as I please. They never get on my nerves."

An Important Fact for Cigarette Smokers
COSTLIER TOBACCOS
Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS ...Turkish and Domestic... than any other popular brand.

MRS. ANTHONY J. DREXEL 3rd, in the spacious dining salon of the S.S. Normandie, enjoys an after-dinner Camel. "Social life keeps nerves on the qui vive," says the society leader. "Smoking Camels tends to minimize the strain. It's been my experience that Camels encourage a sense of well-being. They're so mild—I never tire of them."

THE following verse was accompanied by a note, reading: "Dear Plainsman— I thought perhaps you might like to pass along this little jingle, since you daily give your readers chuckles and sometimes what is known in the theater as 'belly laughs'. I know you must like laughs and therefore will appreciate a verse dedicated to one. Good luck. Daily Reader."

Here's the verse:

"A laugh is just like sunshine,
It freshens all the day;
It tips the peak of life with light
And drives the clouds away;
The soul grows glad that hears it,
And feels its courage strong—
A laugh is just like music

Speaking of laughs, maybe you can pry one out of this.

There had been a larrupin' family row; the police had been called in; Mr. Blank was haled before the magistrate on a charge of beating his wife.

The Judge rebuked the prisoner severely.

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself," His Honor declared, "for assaulting your wife like that. I never saw a nastier black eye. Do you know of any reason why I shouldn't throw you into jail?"

"Yes sir, Judge," the prisoner said. "If you do, you'll break up our honeymoon!"

THE current mad dog scare, which has been running in Lubbock and environs for a week now, is nothing to be lightly set aside. Not only must the city be stripped of stray and unvaccinated dogs but children and grown people alike must take care not to fool with dogs or cats which are acting strangely.

Dr. Sam C. Arnett, speaking informally to a group of Cub scouts and their parents the other evening, dwelled at some length regarding the situation.

The Plainsman only wishes every mother and father in town could have heard what was said. But since that was impossible, this column is briefing the doctor's remarks for the benefit of all.

First, said Doctor Arnett, don't attempt to doctor, catch or feed a dog which is slobbering or frothing at the mouth; which is rolling its head from side to side; which seems to be "down in the back legs"; or which is dashing about barking and trying to bite other dogs. Go immediately to a phone and call city authorities, report the description of the dog and the neighborhood and let the proper authorities take care of the situation.

If bitten, he said, immediately paint the wound with iodine, or, better, with carbolic or nitric acid, keep the wound open and go immediately to the physician of your choice. He'll do the rest by giving you a shot a day for 21 days if the bite is on the head, the fingers or the toes, or a shot a day for 14 days if on some other part of the body.

Don't take chances, he warns, because physicians know of no other death as painful or as horrible as death from rabies infection.

DOCTOR Arnett said he had seen one man die of rabies and that he never wants to see another.

The disease, in its final stages, affects a human just as it affects a dog or a cat.

The human tries to bite everything that comes his way and the only anaesthetic that can ease his pain is chloroform. And, of course, it is impossible to keep a person chloroformed indefinitely.

The man whom Doctor Arnett saw die pleaded for days for someone to kill him to take him out of his misery. Not even a 4-grain shot of morphine helped him. He bit two nurses who had to be given vaccine treatments.

Only bright spot in rabies infection is that 90 per cent of treatments result in the patient's complete recovery.

But the rest of it is terrible.

'Eve's Orchard'

BY MARGARET WIDDEMER
Copyright, 19137, NEA Service, Inc.

SYNOPSIS: Eve Mannersfield goes back to her 200-year-old house and orchard in Connecticut after five working years in New York. She plans to rent or sell, marry gay, slim Denny and return to Manhattan apartment life. But the tendency to stay in her beloved old home grows. Quiet, practical George Cleveland, who lives nearby, and Uncle Henry, an old family friend, help her move in. Eve's old crowd drives out the first Sunday. When they leave, Marylin tells her "surprise"—she and Peter, being homeless, have decided to board with Eve.

CHAPTER 18
GEORGE PROPOSES

Peter spoke gently behind Marylin, as Eve hesitated. "We love you whether you want us or not. After all, I don't know why you should want us."

Judge, always responsible, had heard the horn and was in the room by now, overcoated to go. He said nothing. Judge would never ask for anything. But his eyes, his whole hungrily anxious little face, begged by its very intensity of effort not to ask anything.

Eve thought quickly. After all, as with Uncle Henry, it would only be till she rented. The house was big enough, certainly; the money would help out; but, more than anything else, she couldn't let Judge down. It would mean everything in the world to the child—"like a dog on a chain," as George had said. The air of tenseness, the undernourished look that came of late hours and little fresh air, would disappear with a country vacation.

"You understand I may rent in a fortnight, even," she said. "But I'd love to have you till then."

"Darling!" Marylin embraced her. "Even for a week it would give us a chance to get our breaths. And anyway, you mayn't rent for ages. The wanderers have a haven!"

Peter also hugged her. "And now that our crime is revealed, I'll go carry the suitcases up," he said.

As for Judge, who never kissed anybody, he came up and stood very still beside Eve.

"I—I'm obliged, Eve," he said.

Then he ran out of the room. Eve knew he was hunting for somewhere to cry without being seen.

Ellen, behind her, said nothing at all in a way that Eve well knew meant disapproval.

"Ellen, what else could I do? And after all, I love a houseful, and it will help with expenses in the most wonderful way," she said, moving with Ellen to the other end of the room and speaking in a low voice.

"Why, yes, dear, if you're glad I am," Ellen said. "Shall I come up and help you hunt them up bedding, or did they bring it?"

Since everybody knew that for years the Featherstones had told everyone that they were through being slaves to things, and had reduced life to four suitcases, Eve wondered if Ellen was being sarcastic. But it wasn't like Ellen; and seeing her sweet little pointed face, so anxious always to be kind, Eve was ashamed of herself for thinking so.

"No, you wouldn't know where the sheets are," she said. "I'll get them when the rest have gone."

But Ellen slipped out of the room.

Kilian had vanished somewhere; Dillard Betz had stolen out of the darkness, shamefaced, but not sufficiently so to walk to the station. Denny came close and took her hand. He bent and kissed her goodby. The presence of Marylin never counted; Marylin kissed everyone. The rest were at the car.

"My own darling! I've scarcely had a minute alone with you. I'll be out next weekend if it's humanly possible," Denny whispered before he went.

"Oh," Marylin cried suddenly. "Florence Willetts' handbag! I promised she could have it back yesterday—she's sailing tomorrow! Where did I put it? Denny, Denny, tell Jean to wait!"

Kilian Is Obnoxious

Eve remembered where it was. She ran upstairs to get it from the middle of the bed in the front room. She found it, shook out its contents on the counterpane and turned to run back with it.

Jack Kilian was coming into the room, his impudent bright eyes on hers.

"Here, take it down," she said, waving it. She felt that kindness toward him, which one feels for parting guests because they are parting.

"No hurry," said Jack, with a smile. He slid the inevitable arm around her.

"Oh, don't," Eve said as casually as she could for the shiver of repulsion she felt. She would have been sharper, but for remembering how she had let him kiss her for Denny to see. "Must you do that sort of thing?"

"Oh, say, why make an exception of me?"

This wasn't funny. He was grabbing her again, and he was stronger than she was.

"Stop! And go away!" She sounded to herself like a frightened small girl. She struggled to get loose.

"I really would stop, Kilian," said George's unhurried baritone behind her. "I don't think she likes it."

Jack Kilian released his grip, looked foolish, then recovered himself and managed a grin. "Always butting in, Cleveland. Eve and I didn't want you."

"Better take this down with you," said George, handing his friend the handbag Eve had come for. And Kilian, so matter-of-fact was George, actually went.

"See you soon!" he said to Eve. He tried to be jaunty, but his air was rather crestfallen.

"Thank you," Eve said, scarlet. Then, "I hate your friend. He's horrible."

"Not my friend!" said George. "Here, sit down, you poor child." He was talking rather faster than usual, and more angrily. "I happened to go to Groton with him, and he came prancing and wagging up to me when Mother dragged me to Mrs. Power's; that's all. And Mitzi's tried to team us ever since. I know he's a bounder. Thank heaven, I came up for the bag too."

She took a long breath. Things were less important, suddenly, at his steady coolness. She stood, forgetting to move or speak, leaning against the door. Downstairs the front door slammed. The car started up outside, dimmed in the distance. The party wa gone, all but the Featherstones. A sense of spaciousness settled down over the old house. There was no sound except the normal country ones; a sleepy hen remarking that she had laid an excellent egg, the creak of a tree outside the window in the wind.

Eve sat down on the bed. She did not know how piteously and wearily she looked up at George, nor why he suddenly came and stood over her with his hands resolutely behind him, and said, "Eve—" and stopped, and then said, "Eve—" again. He said it a third time, and then:

"I can't stand it any longer. You're so sweet and beautiful and plucky and alone, with not a soul to look after you. I meant to keep quiet for a long time, but I can't. Brutes like that being able to jump at you, because they think you have nobody to fight them off—"

She stared up at him, scarcely able to believe what she had heard; she was too tired to move. She put her hands flat on each side of her and leaned on them and listened helplessly.

"Please don't look frightened at me," George said desperately. He sat down opposite her on a small stiff chair. "I won't rush you. There's nothing to do about it for a month, if you like. I tried to prepare you a little yesterday for what I thought I'd be saying maybe in a month or two—about what my life is, and the sort of things it would have. . . . I thought you understood a little. I always know what I want out of life immediately. I don't act like it or look like it, I know, but it's the way I am about everything. My profession. Getting this Seymour house. My university. I knew that first night Mitzi Power dragged me over to your party, where I didn't at all want to come—I knew, when I saw you and talked to you, that I wanted you for my wife."

He stopped talking. He had finished, but aside from that, he seemed perfectly collected. He waited to hear what she would say, as if he had been asking her to go for a walk.

Her Inevitable Answer

Eve continued to sit on the edge of the spare-room bed. She was too astonished to answer George immediately. He was by no means the first man who had wanted to marry her, but he was the first who had ever surprised her when he said so. There he sat, quite motionless in the little walnut chair he had pulled up before her. His steady bright blue eyes were on hers; his lips were shut close. She felt afraid, suddenly, of the strength she sensed behind that seemingly unemotional waiting. And she realized suddenly, with a sinking heart, what loss her inevitable answer might mean; how much, in spite of short-lived angers, she had come to depend on this strength and kindliness. Few men were friends if they once had wanted to be lovers. And Eve did want him for a friend!

Nevertheless, she spoke.

"I can't, George."

"I don't mean now. I mean—think about it."

"I can't even think about it."

"You don't know that," he said. "So long as there isn't anybody else, you might want me after awhile. If I worked hard at it. I don't think you liked me when you met me; I think you do now. You might—care for me—enough to marry me—after awhile."

She shook her head.

"George, I can't."

"Not ever?"

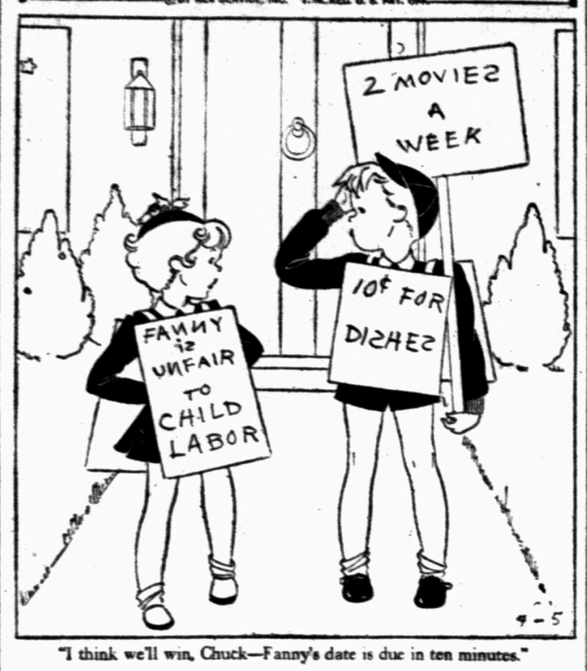

"Not ever."

He said firmly: "You don't know that. And so long as there isn't anybody else, I'm going on thinking you will. Except," he said naively, "that I'm crazy over you, we scarcely know each other yet."

His eyes never wavered but she saw that his hands, those broad strong hands laid flat on his knees, were trembling.

Friendship survives for George and Eve, tomorrow.

GOVERNOR ALLRED'S COURAGEOUS VETO

Governor James V. Allred is eminently correct in vetoing and promising to veto various county tax remission bills offered by legislators to please the folks back home and approved by other legislators who make a practice of automatically supporting local bills offered by colleagues.

Further, the governor is to be commended for exhibiting the political courage essential to vetoing such bills, for with every veto, no matter how sensible, he is certain to make some enemies.

Take for instance the bill to remit certain Harris county ad valorem taxes which Governor Allred unhesitatingly blue-penciled on Friday.

Harris county is the largest, from a standpoint of population and votes, in Texas. Topped by Houston, Harris county has more than its share of top flight politicos, many, many wealthy men who are wont to contribute to political campaigns, and a large and powerful legislative delegation. Harris county wanted part of its state ad valorem taxes sent back for use in a worthy flood control project and it would have been far easier for the governor to acquiesce to Harris county's demands than to refuse them.

But Governor Allred looked at the state's financial condition and he knew that to remit part of Harris county's taxes would not be right, or fair, no matter to what cause the remitted funds might be put. He recalled that state institutions of all kinds are in need of tax money, that the state has a deficit in general revenue and that there is a place for every penny of tax money even before it is paid in. So the governor vetoed the Harris county bill and warned the legislature that he would decline to sign any others like it.

For that we pay him unstinting honor.

It is refreshing in these days and times to see a high public official do what he knows is right without worrying about the political repercussions; to courageously take a stand and hold it, come what may.

The governor may have lost a few friends in some of the counties seeking tax remissions, but he has gained in the added respect and admiration that thinking Texans in all parts of the state will have for him as a result of his wise decision.

A Thought . .

So likewise shall my heavenly Father do also unto you, if ye from your hearts forgive not every one his brother their trespasses.—St. Matthew 18:35.

Hollywood Chit-Chat

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Holywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, April 5 — There are lots of gray-haired location managers in Hollywood. Location managing is a select profession open only to gents with an infinite capacity for trouble and a relish for doing odd things such as scampering into a wilderness to measure the decibels, or sound volume, of wind in the trees.

I got to talking with Frank Messenger the other day, when it was raining and his "Night Must Fall" company was working in the studio. His real title is Production Manager, but he's busiest when bossing a company on location.

Recently he has been working with Robert Montgomery, Rosalind Russell, and the rest of the cast and crew on a cottage-and-garden set in Sherwood Forest, 50 miles from Hollywood. The players motored back and forth, but Messenger and the technical staff camped out.

Long before shooting started on the picture, the trouble specialist was up there picking out a site, figuring on sunlight, where shadows would fall, how much sound the wind would make, whether wild birds and other noisy fauna were too plentiful, and also whether there was poison oak or ivy in quantities sufficient to endanger the players. (It's all right if a production manager gets ivy poisoning, because he doesn't show.)

Must Guess Right

After shooting started, Messenger would crawl shivering from his cot at 5 a. m. and inspect the weather instruments. No amateur meteorologist, he had to calculate as nearly as possible what the weather would be like by 10 o'clock. A good many thousands of dollars hung on his guesses, because almost an entire day would be wasted if rain or clouds greeted the company when it arrived at location.

If his observations promised clear weather, he telephoned the studio, and the studio in turn notified all concerned by 6 o'clock so that they could be on the road by 7.

Messenger also had to forecast the condition of the light, because that makes a difference in the type of film used. And the make-up department is interested in the quality of illumination.

Next, he notified the caterer how many lunches would be needed at noon. For an idea of how many technicians are required to handle cameras and sound on location, 110 lunches were served one day when Montgomery and Miss Russell were the only players before the camera.

What A Job!

A production manager is responsible for everything, from costumes and first aid to the safe packing and transportation of dozens of tons of mechanical and electrical equipment. He can't forget even a package of pins — if they need pins — without delaying the picture making.

Clever Lads

Hollywood autograph hunters have a new trick. They rush up to a star at a preview or in front of a restaurant and hand him pictures of himself to sign. The players are flattered by this because each one believes he is being accorded special attention by the fans.

What he doesn't know is that these signature-hounds work in pairs, one kid carrying a stack of pictures of all the principal stars, the other youngster making the actual approaches and carrying only a single photo.

Now, Let's See—

Federal Legislation, Both Existing And Pending, Makes Game Of Neutrality Act

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 5. — Just where this country would be left if a Spanish government submarine should torpedo an American ship carrying munitions or other war materials to Italy is a question to which you can't get even a semi-official answer here.

Speculation as to the consequences of such an incident, however, is bound to get one back to these facts:

1—That neutrality legislation, existent and pending, leaves it entirely up to the President to determine whether a state of war or civil war exists abroad.

2—That no provisions of the neutrality bills passed by the two houses of Congress, whether "mandatory" or "discretionary," can go into effect unless the President formally finds and declares such a state of war to exist.

3—That the aggressive military powers of the world are falling out of the habit of declaring war, preferring to wage war, when they can, under the pretense that they're doing nothing of the sort.

4—That such powers thus leave themselves free to brand as an unfriendly act any formal declaration by this, or any other government, that they are in a state of war—especially when the declaration is an instrument for enforcing commercial embargoes or other restrictions.

5—That all this leaves operation of the neutrality act a sort of a guessing game, with President and State department guessing how best to keep America out of war—assuming that's what they want most. It also leaves a wide field in which to play the game of international politics, which diplomats have been playing from time immemorial.

Up To President

So much can be said without reference to the sections of the Pittman and McReynolds bills, now being ironed out in conference, which confer other discretionary powers on the President. The Pittman bill leaves it up to the President to decide which if any materials, in addition to munitions, American ships should be prohibited from carrying to a country he decides is at war. The President also must decide when and whether belligerent vessels should be barred from using American ports as supply stations. The McReynolds bill is believed to be more satisfactory to the administration than the Pittman bill. It leaves it to the President to decide whether or not to require that title to all shipments to belligerent nations shall have been transferred to the foreign buyer, and whether or not American citizens should be prohibited from traveling on belligerent ships.

Munitions to Spain were embargoed by a special act of Congress early in January. This act stands until "in the judgment of the President" the conditions of civil war described in the act have ceased to exist. The new general neutrality act will enable the President to prescribe its provisions when he finds a state of civil war to exist, but there is nothing in it to compel him to "find" any such thing or to "find" that a state of war exists between nations.

Just One Situation

Italy has a large army in Spain. Germany also has troops there, according to reliable reports. Germany and Italy are permitted to buy aircraft engines and other munitions and implements of war in this country.

Dutcher

It is fairly evident that for spectators to conclude that Italy and Germany are at war with the Spanish government. The new neutrality law will permit Roosevelt to declare Italy and Germany at war with Spain and embargo munitions to them, as urged by Senator Nye.

There is no indication that he will. Yet that hypothetical case of a torpedoing of an American vessel carrying munitions to Italy stands as an example of just one of the situations that may develop.

There is nothing in the prospective neutrality statute which could prevent the State department from going to such an extreme as it recently did in prohibiting American physicians and nurses accompanying ambulances to Spain and administering to mangled women and children in Madrid. The fact that this order was rescinded only after some highly secret backstage lobbying and wire pulling is an interesting commentary.

Japan did not declare war on China when she invaded Manchuria and shelled Shanghai. Italy declared no war on Ethiopia. Italy and Germany have declared no war on Spain. A law asking that the President decide whether such conflicts and others which will arise are states of war, brings to mind the recent statement of Senator Key Pittman, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee:

"There is not the slightest evidence that Italy as a government is doing anything in the Spanish civil war. There is evidence that great numbers of Italian soldiers are going in."

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, April 5 (AP)—Stocks ambled along recovery paths in today's market.

Selected steels, oils, motors and specialties edged forward fractions to around 2 points in slow dealings. Gains were fairly well maintained near the fourth hour.

The ticker tape came almost to a standstill just before the supreme court convened. It failed to pick up much speed later when it was announced there would be no ruling handed down today on the much-debated Wagner labor relations act.

Inspiring buying, brokers said, was the decision of the federal reserve board to support government bonds and a lessening of tension over the strike outlook.

Federal loans pushed up briskly in the bond market and corporation issues improved substantially. Commodities were mixed. At Chicago cash corn jumped to $1.40 a bushel for the first time in 17 years and corn futures were up the limit of 4 cents a bushel at one time to new 12-year peaks.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, April 5 (AP) — First prices showed little change on the New Orleans cotton market today as options started the new week just about where they ended the old one.

Old crop months were net unchanged to 3 points higher with May at 14.38 and July at 14.31. In the new crop division Oct. was net unchanged at 13.79 and March was off a point at 13.88.

The trade was a good buyer at the start of trading. Selling was mostly liquidation from the long side.

Over the week-end little developed to change the general tenor of trading and traders appeared willing to let prices drift along at current levels while awaiting a fresh incentive.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 5 (AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady, two higher to two lower, on trade buying of near months and commission house selling of distant positions. May 14.44; July 14.31; Oct. 13.77; Dec. 13.71; Jan. 13.71; March 13.77.

Trading was comparatively quiet. In the absence of aggressive selling the market became steadier shortly after the opening in sympathy with the action of the stock market and owing to more favorable reports of the automobile strike situation.

Prices rallied to net gains of 7 to 10 points on Liverpool, trade and New Orleans buying while contracts became scarce. July advanced from 14.31 to 14.40 and shortly after the first half hour was selling at 14.38 when the market showed net gains of 5 to 8 points.

On trade, warehouse and New Orleans buying, the market advanced further to carry new crop positions up to new highs for the season. Contracts were scarce and, with southern selling light, offerings represented realizing on the scale-up. Juyl rallied to 14.50 and at mid-day was selling at 14.48, when prices were generally 14 to 21 points net higher.

and saying an investigation had shown "sit-down strike organizers have invaded Texas."

"If the governor is talking about our union, he has been misinformed," Fremming said. "It is not the policy of the union to conduct a sit-down or walkout strikes. Strikes of any character are bad and should be resorted to only in the case of extreme emergency, but the right to strike is an inalienable right. We believe in one philosophy—collective bargaining. All we want is for the workmen in the oil industry to accept the C. I. O. as their bargaining agency. We don't want a strike. All strikes are bad."

disabled World war veteran. He resides at Arlington, N. Y. Members of his family said he was not informed of the tragedy yesterday.

The two victims formerly lived in Manchester, N. H., where Mrs. Worden's mother, Mrs. Frank W. Blood, widow of a roofing contractor, has her home.

Until yesterday, the most brutal brickbat case here this year was the attack and slaying of Mrs. Rose G. Valdez, 20, near the crib of her baby March 2. A bloodstained brick was found in a wastebasket. The killer eluded capture.

Four other women in recent weeks have been beaten with bricks. No arrest has been made, although several suspects were questioned.

area will have a wind erosion allowance of 75 cents for each acre thus classified by the county AAA committees.

Farmers must complete the special dust storm measures by June 1. The AAA said 85 per cent of earned payments would be paid as soon as possible thereafter. Regular AAA payments will not be made until the end of the crop year.

The AAA said listing and furrowing which will net dust bowl farmers 25 cents an acre, would reduce the amount of wind erosion this season, while cover crops, which will bring the farmers up to 50 cents an acre, would reduce soil blowing next winter and spring.

Special Grand Jury Ordered To Consider Murder Case

OLTON, April 5.—(Special)—A special grand jury was ordered impaneled by District Judge C. D. Russell this morning to consider a charge of murder against Leroy Kelly, negro, in connection with the fatal shooting at Littlefield last March 20 of Sheriff F. A. Loyd.

Prospective grand jurors were directed to report in court this afternoon and an immediate investigation of the slaying was planned. Indications were that a special venire will be called for Thursday to be available for trial of the case should the expected indictment be returned.

Couny officers announced that Kelly will be kept in the Lubbock county jail until time for his arraignment and trial.

A. C. Jackson, business manager and tax collector of the district, planned to confer with Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, president of the board, this afternoon relative to the meeting, which must be held within five days after the election.

The election resulted in the return to trusteeships of R. F. Bayless, W. G. Alderson and E. Jack Parsons, but the full board must officially canvass the reurns, administer formal oaths and reorganize for the next year.

Grading Work On Highway Starts

Grading work, preparatory to starting a new type of paving for this section, is under way on highway 15 from Seminole to the New Mexico state line, George M. Garrett, division engineer, reports. First grading work began last week and the job is expected to be completed in from four to five months.

"Tank bottoms," or the refuse of oil tanks, which settles to the bottom of the tanks, is to be used for surfacing. It will be mixed with sand and spread from four to seven inches thick. Thickness will depend upon the character of the sub-base.

The present road is being graded up and barrow ditches built for drainage. On some of the hills, where there is plenty of caliche it is not expected much grading will be necessary.

Something like 20,000 barrels of tank bottoms will be necessary for the surfacing work. Delay in the grading work was necessary until the highway department could locate enough oil to complete the job. A considerable amount of correspondence and travel was necessary in order to contact oil company officials. The bottoms came from several concerns, in amounts from 1,000 to 8,000 and 9,000 barrels.

Grand Jury

verse—"Owe no man anything, but to love one another: for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law."

The grand jury began its session facing routine labors. District Attorney Burton S. Burks said that only 13 felony cases were pending for submission to the jurors at this time, although the likelihood is that other matters will arise. The cases pending immediately involve one alleged violation of failing to stop and render aid laws; two each of swindling and forgery; five of theft over $50; two of burglary and one of drunk driving. The judge advised the grand jury to make a preliminary report when its present work is completed, and then return later during the 12-week term before taking a final adjournment.

Members of the grand jury are: W. B. Croslin, Lubbock, route 1, foreman; J. W. Jackson and Ben V. Smith, both Lubbock; Frank Bledsoe and V. S. Harrington, Idalou; Troy Edwards and Walter Robinson, Shallowater; Joe S. Walker, B. B. Castleberry and C. F. Lilley, Slaton; and Lonnie Williams and E. Williamson, Lubbock route 4.

Deputy Sheriff Cap Moore was placed in charge of the grand jurors. J. T. Inmon was appointed door bailiff and Deputy Sheriff Grady Harrist, Constable Ragan Reed of Slaton and Deputy Constable John Lemond were appointed riding bailiffs.

The only departure from routine in the judge's instructions occurred when he remarked that an informant, whose name was not mentioned, had suggested that reports of gambling dives in the city and county be investigated. The judge made no personal comment concerning the suggestion.

college.

Clear Weather Returns

With return of clear weather in Lubbock this morning only scattered patches of snow remained. Minimum temperature of last night was 30 degrees, both the experiment station and college reported. Maximum Sunday was 37 degrees, the station said.

The moisture was not of immediate benefit to crops, except to scattered patches of wheat, said Jones.

Moisture reports received by the Santa Fe were: Texico to Littlefield, Lorenzo to Crosbyton, Brownfield, Slaton, Wilson, Southland, 1 inch; Tulia, 4-5 inch; Happy, Tahoka, 3-4 inch; Kress, Lockney, Shallowater, Bledsoe, Ropesville, Meadow, O'Donnell, 1-2 inch; Hale Center, Levelland, 1-3 inch; Plainview, Abernathy, Floydada, Anton, Lehman, Idalou, Seagraves, Lamesa, 1-4 inch; Post and Justiceburg, showers.

College officials who made out-of-town trips Sunday reported a good snow at Happy, that it was snowing in Amarillo in early morning, at Big Spring at 5 p. m., and that no snow was on the ground at Plainview late in the afternoon.

Returns Are Being Awaited From Saturday Election

Returns still were awaited this morning from the trustee election Saturday in one Lubbock county rural district while the count in another remained incomplete and the winners uncertain, according to County Judge J. J. Dillard.

Vote counts, however, were reported from the Posey and New Deal districts. In Posey, J. C. Vannay was assured one of the two places to be filled, receiving 13 votes, while M. P. Gentry and J. M. Schaffer tied for second place, with 10 each. County officials said that the usual procedure will be to flip a coin to decide the winner. Other candidates and their vote were A. L. Johnson, 8, and Ed Maker, 1.

In the New Deal district, M. L. Seay, Hall Looney and Doldie Hamilton were successful candidates for the three places, the vote being: Seay, 77, Looney, 68; Hamilton, 58; Walter Emery, 25; and W. L. Williams, 24.

In the Idalou district, names of the seven successful candidates for trustee could not be determined until tabulations were received from Becton, one of the three polling places in the district.

Highway Project Is Opened Today

Announcement that a new farm-market road project of major importance was started this morning in Hale county and that another, in Lubbock county, has reached the halfway mark was made today by W. E. Burke, supervisor of the division of operations of the Lubbock WPA district.

The Hale county project involves approximately 13 miles of grading and drainage work in two units, one from Hale Center east eight miles to connect with the Plainview-Petersburg north-south highway, and the other extending five miles south from the Happy Union school to Stoneback where it connects with a county road cutting over the Plainview-Petersburg road.

Serve Rich Area

Mr. Burke said the roads, which will replace lanes now little more than trails, will serve one of the richest farming areas in that territory. Approximately 105 men will be employed about three months on the work.

In Lubbock county, half of the 11-mile caliche-surfacing of highway 61 from Lubbock west has been completed, the improvement now having been extended to a point a half mile west of Carlisle. The work will be carried to the Cochran county line and will make an all-weather road of one now hazardous during wet weather. Mr. Burke said the work, on which 150 men have been employed, probably will be completed in May.

Work on that particular project, he added, was interrupted momentarily today by the snow of Sunday.

Girl's Story

ed so heavy. Every time I took a stroke I fell back two or three. Big waves drenched me again, and again. But now they all yelled to me to go on.

I couldn't have made it without them encouraging me so. I could hear their voices saying go ahead Carolyn. I told myself I had to make it.

It seemed like hours. Several times I thought I'd have to give up, but I finally made land.

I fell down exhausted. Lay there for a minute or two, then got up running, screaming, through the brush for help. I couldn't get the gates open. I fell over them.

I must have slipped a hundred times. My legs were bleeding. I couldn't get my breath. It seemed like ages since I fell into the water.

Then I saw a light. I fell at the doorstep beating the door with my fists, and a lady came.

I begged her to get help.

She said she would.

I don't remember another thing, until just a little while ago when they brought me across the lake.

Oh, oh, I should have stayed. Death would have been better.

Central Law Library Being Considered For Lubbock

W. H. Evans was named a committee of one to investigate feasibility of a central law library for Lubbock county at a brief meeting of the Lubbock County Bar association in the 99th district court room this morning.

He suggested that one of several possible plans might lead to the establishment in the courthouse of such a library, described as being an important need of county lawyers.

Members of the association decided against taking a stand on President Roosevelt's proposed reorganization of the federal judiciary system.

J. I. Kilpatrick said that a committee of which he is a member will report later on plans for the annual banquet, probably to be held sometime during the month.

W. D. Benson, jr., vice-president, presided at the meeting in the absence of President W. W. Campbell. A. V. Weaver, jr., is secretary.

Suspect In Forgeries Here Of Checks Being Sought

Three of several checks allegedly forged by a suspect over the week-end were signed W. G. McMillan, police commissioner. Investigation had brought no arrest late this morning, said Don Reeder, police identifications officer.

A man arrested by Grady Harrist this morning for Amarillo authorities was in county jail awaiting transfer by Potter county officials. A woman was charged with vagrancy after assertedly being found with the man, said the sheriff's department.

Charge of theft was filed today naming a man who had not been arrested for asserted theft of 14 pairs of gloves valued at $2 each. C. E. Purcell swore to the complaint, which was filed in county court.

those in the large boat, swam to shore and rushed for aid with Mrs. Joe Finck, who has a cabin at the lake. They went in Mrs. Finck's car to Joe Graneiri's wharf.

Bill Miller and Fred Berger, who are speed boat pilots for Graneiri, took a speed boat and went to the rescue.

They found Mrs. Johnston holding the body of her daughter. Trahan, near exhaustion from his rescue efforts, was also hanging to the side of the big boat. George Johnston was near him.

Roy Akers, a friend of the victims, had been on the lake in his boat a short time before the squall struck, but had docked his craft and driven back to San Antonio.

Akers and two employes of his funeral home, Roy Weatherford and Mark Kilcoyne, rushed back to the lake with ambulances and brought the survivors to their homes. Medina lake is in the hill country 30 miles northwest of here. Lake men said it was the worst tragedy in the history of the vacation spot which has claimed many lives.

Firemen were preparing at daylight to begin diving for the bodies of the drowned.

Midland Residents Treated At Sanitarium In City

Illness of two Midland persons has caused at least nine Midland persons to visit Lubbock sanitarium, where treatment is being given. Mrs. H. E. Cummins, about 65, is suffering of a cardiac ailment and this morning had been placed under care of a special nurse, said Mrs. Clyde Barron. Sanitarium attaches said Mrs. Cummins was resting fairly well just before noon. Two sons, Clyde and Ralph Barron, the latter a Midland banker, were here, as were their wives, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williamson and Mrs. M. L. Storey of Dallas, a daughter of Mrs. Cummins. Eight-year-old Dorothy Rhea Wolcott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wolcott of Midland, was admitted Saturday for pneumonia and her condition today was "fairly good," said relatives. She had been ill several weeks. Her father and Dick Knox, Midland oil man, were here.

FLASHES OF LIFE

Shadowed

NEWBERRY, S. C.—Sims Brown, jr., got a little worried when he had driven for several blocks and the automobile immediately behind him had not changed position. Finally he stopped. The other car stopped too.

He found it was driverless. Its front had caught his rear bumper.

Pig In A Poke

PHILADELPHIA—The zoo here got more than it bargained for in an animal swap with a zoo at Hoosick Falls, N. Y. The Philadelphia zoo receipted for a pair of European wild swine, as per contract.

That same day they presented their new owners with six pigs.

Between Two Fires

PADUCAH, Ky.—Firemen answering a call to a dance hall were delayed a little enroute, but they arrived in time to check the flames before serious damage had been done.

They had to stop on the way to take care of blazing brake drums.

Chinese Massacre

HONOLULU—Calmly, federal authorities executed Tong Shon Chang's 10 Chinese entertainers as "undesirable aliens" now Tong is searching for equally intelligent American performers. His loss, he says, affects him less than the necessity of training a new troupe for his projected tour of the United States.

Tong's entertainers are fleas.

Love Tap

OKLAHOMA CITY—A defendant accused of "beating" a woman told Judge Mike Foster "I just slapped her once, judge, I didn't beat her." After being fined $11 on a disorderly conduct charge the defendant was taken to the hospital where his "slapping" hand was treated.

It was broken.

Is That Nice!

DECORAH, Iowa — Ernie Meyer, who runs a coffee shop in a theater building here, likes to tell this one.

He answered the telephone and someone inquired, "what's the picture tonight?" He answered "Mind Your Own Business," which was the show's title.

"Well, if that's the way you feel about it, all right," the person said and banged the receiver.

Graduate Nursemen

PHILADELPHIA — It was a woman's idea that brought 15 embarrassed future fathers to the Pennsylvania hospital for its new course in baby bathing and diaper changing.

Hospital authorities were quick to act on the suggestion of an expectant mother that husbands should be qualified to assume the role of nurse maid while mother takes a night out for bridge.

What's The Use

BEDFORD, Ind. — A fire removed most of the roof from Mrs. Brooks Bishop's house last week. As soon as carpenters completed repairs, the whole house burned down.

Misses The Party

BUFFALO, N. Y. — Clarence Hewitt, 29, threw out two gate crashers who butted in on a party at his home, thereby missing out on the party himself.

He went to a hospital for scalp wounds.

Eight Months Till Xmas

NEW YORK — Santa Claus arrived slightly early this year as the toy manufacturers opened a pre-view of what will come down the chimneys next Dec. 25.

Fifteen thousand new types of toys were placed on exhibit for two weeks during which 3,000 buyers are expected. Among the new models are a four octave pipe organ and silent roller skates.

Euclid made all his geometrical tabulations on a smooth surface of sand strewn over the floors of his home.

Before Co-Ed Days

Before publication of a picture showing her in a shower-bath raised Heloise Martin, Drake University co-ed, to campus fame, this is the way Broadway saw the vivacious beauty — one of the more decorative adjuncts of a famous Rialto floor show. Though swathed in only a few strands of ribbon, Miss Martin looks all dressed up compared with the big bath scene.

Amendments Are To Get Consideration

AUSTIN, April 5(AP)—The legislature likely will spend much of the remainder of its regular, biennial meeting in floor consideration of proposed constitutional amendments.

At the end of 75 of the 120-day session, the lawmakers had voted to send only one amendment to the people. In recent years they have been submitting around a dozen at each regular session. Since as many, or more, than usual have been presented this year the members have plenty to discuss in the remaining weeks.

Fifty-one proposed constitutional changes have been offered in the house and 14 in the senate. Many, of course, either have been or will be killed in committee.

Amendments can be submitted only at regular sessions. Their advocates as a rule don't press for early action because they usually have precedence on certain days. They didn't have precedence in the house the first ten weeks of the session because of the delay in adopting joint legislative rules.

A special election this summer apparently is assured. The only amendment thus far submitted, that to exempt state bank stockholders from double liability, is scheduled to be put to a vote Monday, Aug. 23. The legislature's fixing of a Monday date was highly unusual, as Texas statewide elections almost invariably are on Saturdays.
