Food, shelter program OK'd for county

Mitchell County has been chosen to receive $1,900 to supplement emergency food and shelter programs in the area, said County Judge Bill Carter.

The selection was made by a national board made up of affiliates of national voluntary organizations and chaired by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA). United Way of America will provide the administrative staff and function as fiscal agent. The board was charged to distribute $70 million appropriated by Congress to help expand the capacity of food and shelter programs in high-need areas around the country, said Carter.

A local board made up of Carter; Dolores Wood, "The Helping Hand" representative; Judy Chapman, treasurer of the local Salvation Army Service Unit; Rev. Robert Bracy, Ministerial Alliance; Bertie Kidd, Veterans Service officer and executive director of the Community Distribution Program; and Ida Salazar, director of the Mitchell County Child Daycare Center, will determine how the funds awarded to Mitchell County are to be distributed among the emergency food and shelter programs run by local service organizations in the area.

The local board is responsible for recommending agencies to receive these funds and any additional funds available under this phase of the program. Under the terms of the grant from the national board, local governmental or private voluntary organizations chosen to receive funds must:

- be non-profit
- have an accounting system and conduct an annual audit
- practice nondiscrimination
- have demonstrated the capability to deliver emergency food and/or shelter programs, and;
- if they are a private voluntary organization, they should have a voluntary board.

Qualifying organizations are urged to apply, said Carter.

Application forms are located in Carter's office, second floor, Mitchell County Courthouse. The deadline for filing the application Request for Funds by a qualified Local Recipient Organization (LRO), is 1 p.m., Monday, March 16, in the county judge's office.

Further information on the program may be obtained by contacting Carter at 728-3457.

DEBBIE CHRISTIAN, Mitchell County extension agent for the past three years, was honored with a reception Tuesday night at the C. C. Thompson Room. Miss Christian has accepted a similar position in San Angelo. On hand to wish her well were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Woods. The reception was hosted by the Extension Homemakers Clubs.

5 CISD candidates file

Wednesday was the filing deadline for the Colorado Independent School District board of trustees and no new candidates had filed other than the five that had already announced.

The five candidates for the two places on the board are Ronnie Aston, Eddie Gregory (incumbent), Sara Ortiz, Rogene Spruell and John Taylor. J. C. Britton, whose term is also expiring, chose not to seek re-election.

As of Friday, no other candidates had filed for the Mitchell County Hospital District board of directors. Filing deadline is Tuesday, March 10. Those filing for the four places are incumbents Gus Armstrong, Marian Bassham and Jay Craddock. The other place is currently held by board president Preston Morris. The city, school and hospital district elections are set for Saturday, April 4.

Loraine voters will not have to make a choice in this year's city election. Roy Price is running unopposed for re-election as mayor and Stanley Moore, Carlos G. Martinez Jr. and Jackie Walker are unopposed for the city council.

Green Thumb workers honored during week

Mitchell County Judge Bill Carter has signed a proclamation declaring March 8-14 as Older Worker Week.

"Older Texans are among our most important resources. Today, older men and women are valued members of our work force and we are committed to giving them every opportunity to lead full and productive lives," the proclamation reads.

"Older workers possess unique skills, capabilities and talents, all gained through years of experience, hard work and dedication."

"For more than two decades, the Texas Farmers Union Green Thumb Program has provided training and employment opportunities for our older rural Texans, and in coordination with the Job Training and Partnership Act Programs, even greater numbers of seniors will enter the job market," it reads.

"I urge all citizens to support both public and private efforts to provide and maintain the dignity of our older workers by utilizing their abilities in gainful employment," said Carter, while members of the Green Thumb program looked on as he signed the proclamation.

An annual event, Older Worker Week is designed to spotlight the valuable qualities of the mature worker. Texas Farmers Union Green Thumb encourages both public and private employers to join them in honoring older employees during this time.

Green Thumb currently operates in 126 counties allowing over 1,000 senior workers to earn wages while assisting non-profit organizations. The program enrolls, age 55 and older, provide needed services which contribute to the maintenance and growth of rural communities. Program participants work in such areas as senior services, employment assistance, weatherization, environmental quality, public works and education.

Mitchell County Green Thumb workers include Angie Barrera who has been with the program 10 years, Dominga Galvan, Pearl Lindsey, Valentina Martinez, Paula Munoz, Jesus Pineda, Virginia Whirley, Charles Buchanan and Conuto Arellano.

Letters to the editor

Dear Editor:

What do people do when their name is mispronounced. They correct the person doing the pronouncing. Since Colorado

City isn't a person she cannot correct anyone. I hear the people on radio mis-pronouncing the name Colorado. You can always tell when a person isn't a native by what they call the city. I know no one that likes their name mis-pronounced even though they sometimes dislike their name.

Come one let's call our city by its real name. I know these people know what the name is and if they don't, maybe they need to learn.

I don't live in town, in fact I don't live in Mitchell County, but I do get my mail out of Colorado City and I don't like to hear the name mis-pronounced. I live in Scurry County.

If the city wants the name changed why don't they call an election and change it. If not let's call it what it really is.

To the editor:

We would like to take this opportunity to thank Officer James Burson of the Texas DPS and Mr. Donny Lowrance, a local automobile repair shop owner for taking the time to come and speak to the Driver Education classes at CHS.

Officer Burson gave an excellent lecture over DPS policies and careers in the Texas DPS. Mr. Lowrance spoke about automobile maintenance and the dangers of street racing.

Thank you both for giving of your time and knowledge. Your investment is an investment in the safe future of our young people.

To the editor:

It was mentioned on Thursday's edition of the RECORD that I was elected to represent the Hispanic Community for the PTSO.

I am an American of Mexican descent. I represent one race and that is the human race. This is 1987 not the 50's. Segregation is out and that is an era that should not be repeated.

Ortiz announces candidacy

THE CANDIDATES

Sara Ortiz, 37, has announced her candidacy for election to the board of the Colorado Independent School District.

Mrs. Ortiz, wife of Oscar Ortiz, lists herself as a mother, housewife and businesswoman. Her husband is employed by Atlantic Richfield and together they own and operate Ortiz Auto Sales.

They have five children, Shawne, Shea, Sarah, Frank and Wesley.

"Four of our children attend three different schools in the Colorado Independent School District," she said.

She says there are four reasons why she would be a good school board member:

1. "I have been directly involved with the students through the Girl Scout Program. I am also a member of the board of the West Texas Girl Scout Council and Unit Service Chairman for Mitchell County";
2. "I also volunteer as room mother for three of my children at school";

3. "For the past two years, I have helped to organize the graduation dance for some of the seniors";

4. "I am on the organizational committee for the annual teacher's appreciation banquet, which has been a great success".

"I believe that anything that is good for our children's education will involve positive interaction with children, teachers, parents and the entire community," she said. "I feel that I will be an asset to the present school board because of my positive leadership abilities."

"I would appreciate your support and vote on April 4," she said.

They call people like Chuck trash - even before they get out of diapers.

His mom raises him for a week or so, then passes him on to his 38-year-old grandmother. She looks out for him when she's sober, which means Chuck has a lot of time to himself.

He is six the first time he is raped, younger than that the first time he sees it happen to his grandmother.

Chuck never meets his father. Occasionally his mom drops by - usually on the day her mom picks up a check at the post office.

Stealing comes natural, but it worries his grandmother and she cautions him to do it with care. There are no funds for bailing him out.

Like most youngsters, Chuck's desire to possess far exceeds his talents for acquiring. Early on he gets acquainted with the juvenile authorities.

Occasionally he goes to school, but he seldom comes home afterwards. His place is in the street with other young boys who are being raised parttime by grandparents and aunts and neighbors.

Their problems became his problems.

Sometimes he steals to get electronic equipment that can, in turn, be sold for quick cash. Other times he steals in order to drive nice cars. Sometimes he just steals food so his stomach will feel better.

When he's high he walks among the beautiful, sees himself dressed in their clothing, driving their cars and spending their money.

Drugs cost money, so Chuck learns early how to climb indiscreetly through windows in promising neighborhoods. It is dangerous work, but he takes pride in his ability to do it well.

Then one day he sees himself shooting a cop. So do a lot of other people who are standing in and around the liquor store. At least two of those witnesses die, along with the cop.

His court-appointed attorney doesn't help much - not after the D.A. has painted "animal" pictures for the jury.

At least the "animal" winds up in the elite company of other "animals" on death row. He stays for years while educated attorneys and judges fight their way through the appeals process, because suddenly this life seems valuable.

Then one night they strap Chuck to a guernsey and roll him into a room in front of civilized people. People who have left their families and come out in the night just to watch an animal being put to sleep. It's a strange night, one filled with sadness and revenge, guilt and satisfaction.

We have no choice, though. When a dog goes mad, you destroy him. No one asks what street the pooch grew up on, or when his father kicked him or abandoned him. You just get rid of him before he has a chance to bite you into madness.

It's the same with the mad human. As long as we don't ask who kicked him, and who abandoned him, killing a killer before he can kill us, makes as much sense as anything else.

On-The-Job Injury
Don't let it
keep you off the job a day longer than necessary

"I want to get rid of the pain and get back to work." We hear this a lot.

Temporary pain killers may be okay for temporary pain. But when the pain stays . . . or keeps coming back . . . it's time to try something else. The chiropractic approach to pain is to locate the CAUSE of the pain and correct it. When the cause is corrected, the pain usually goes away in short order. Why not try chiropractic FIRST for on-the-job injuries?

A consultation and preliminary examination can help determine whether chiropractic might help. If treatment, x-rays or other lab tests are indicated, they are covered by most Workers' Compensation insurance plans. CALL US TODAY.

County Extension Agent

Sitting at my desk contemplating this last news article, it is difficult to know what to say. I guess I should begin by saying "thank you" for your overwhelming support of extension educational programs in the three years that I have been here. It has been fun giving microwave demonstrations, conducting home furnishings and clothing workshops, teaching Fit for Life classes, and meeting so many interesting people. Hopefully you have gained some knowledge or skill that will make your everyday living a little easier.

A word about my Extension Homemakers-86 of them in six clubs. A wonderful group of ladies who have helped and taught me a great deal. Their dedication to extension has been a constant encouragement to me.

And my kids-the 4-Hers. Mitchell County 4-Hers are high achievers with supporting parents and leaders standing behind them all the way. There are future state 4-H officers, scholarship recipients, and community leaders in this group.

Being an Extension Agent in Mitchell County has been a real growing experience for me. There are so many of you that have helped me in any number of ways. It would be impossible to mention individuals. Instead, I close with a very heartfelt thanks for allowing me to serve and work for you in Mitchell County. Best wishes to all of you for many years to come and my continued interest in your support of extension education.

LOVE ONE ANOTHER

Ernest Bailey - Pastor Oak Street Baptist Church
 "Anyone can love those who love them. Love your Enemies," Jesus Christ said.

Malice, hatred, and prejudice destroy us on the inside. God's answer to these wrong attitudes is love. Jesus was the love of God in human flesh. God's love is so different the Bible has a special word for it. It is a "God-kind of Love." It is love that loves the unlovely, that asks and expects nothing in return. That kind of love can fill hearts with peace and lips with kindness. Jesus Christ said, "Love the Lord with all your heart and your neighbor as yourself." (Matthew 19:19) The way you love your enemies is to make them your friends. You can discover this love by knowing and trusting Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior.

Drillrite has been staked for the No. 1 Mayne, an 8,000-ft. well in Mitchell County. The operation will be located 11 miles southeast of Colorado City in a 400-acre lease in the H&TC Survey. The operator is Primary Fuels of Houston.

Mitchell County's Sharon Ridge Field gained a producer when John Otis Cole completed the No. 4 Davis Cole "C" six miles southeast of Ira.

The well indicated ability to pump 30 barrels of oil per day, plus 40 barrels of waste water. It was taken to a 1,850-ft. bottom, and will produce from a set of perforations at 1,630 to 1,726 feet into the wellbore.

The operation is located in a 100-acre lease in the H&GN Survey.

A Midland-based operator has staked location for the No. 6 Coleman Ranch "A", a developmental well to be located ten miles northwest of Westbrook. With projected total depth of 3,500 feet, the well will be drilled in a 100-acre lease in Mitchell County's North Coleman Ranch Field, H&TC Survey. The operator is Richmond Drilling.

D. L. Ray Inc. has posted

"Here's a NEW TAX LAW tip"

The new tax law requires that all employees file a new Form W-4 before October 1, 1987... but file it now so you can make sure the right amount of tax is being withheld. Your employer or the IRS has the forms and instructions.

production figures on five developmental wells in Mitchell County's East Iatan-Howard Field. The wells are in a 320-acre lease in the T&P Survey.

The No. 18 W. L. Foster Estate is located one mile southwest of Iatan. It showed potential to flow 44 barrels of oil per day, plus 188 barrels of water on a 64-64-in. choke. Total drilling depth was 3,400 feet, and production is from perforations commingled in the Glorieta and Clear Fork Formations, ranging from 2,503 to 3,326 feet into the hole.

The Nos. 19, 22, 24 and 29 W. L. Foster Estate are located seven miles southwest of Westbrook. The wells indicated ability to flow oil at the combined rate of 99 barrels per day, plus a combined 459 barrels of water. Production tests on the four wells were run on a 64-64-in. choke. Total drilling depth for each well was 3,400 feet. Production is from perforations commingled in the Glorieta and Clear Fork Formations, ranging from 2,471 to 3,336 feet.

The same operator has revealed production figures on the No. 8 Cone, a developmental well in the East Iatan-Howard Field. The well is located eight miles southwest of Westbrook in a 280-acre lease in the T&P Survey.

The operation flowed 18 barrels of oil per day, along with 73 barrels of water on a 64-64-in. choke. Bottomhole was at 3,400 feet, and production is from perforations commingled in the Glorieta and Clear Fork Formations, ranging from 2,491 to 2,890 feet into the wellbore.

All are piano students of Linn Bethel in Snyder and were among 301 entrants in the competition representing 36 music teachers.

The competition was on Saturday and Sunday, the piano students were presented in a recital. The event is sponsored annually by the Midland Music Teachers Association.

Winning first place gold medals were Andrea Helm, Cole Latimer, Tia Bassham, Lauren Perkins and Jody Webb. Nikki Findley received a third place bronze medal.

Colorado Middle School Claxton led the win with 21 points. Claxton led to a 19-10 lead in quarter points. Colorado School's Raymond Z and David Simms added points, respectively, in the period.

Caps, visors to be sold

Baseball caps and visors are the items that the Colorado High School chapters of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes will be selling this year as money-making projects.

Both the boys and girls will be selling the caps and visors until March 18. Price of the caps will be $10 each and the visors will be $8 each. All proceeds will be used to send as many members that wish to go to the national FCA convention.

Coach Rick Robinson, the sponsor of both the boys and girls chapters, said the reason to sell caps and visors is so that fans and boosters can be recognized as being from Colorado City. He also said that if someone who wishes to purchase a cap or visor is not contacted by an FCA member should call him at work at 728-3424 or at home at 728-3340.
