Blow May Be Expected Near Jap Homeland

Regularity Of U. S. Bombings Stirs Speculation

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 18 — Invasion of a part of the Japanese Kurile island chain reaching north from the enemy homeland may be expected, Secretary of the Navy Knox said today.

Asked at a news conference whether it was likely that the United States would attempt to take that island group in the North Pacific, he replied "sometime, sure, but nobody knows when."

The discussion was prompted by the increasing regularity of American bombing raids on islands in the chain which extends from the Japanese mainland north to the Russian Kamchatka peninsula.

Among the bases which have been struck frequently there, particularly in the last five days, is Matsuwa, less than 500 miles from the mainland of Japan.

Other Bases Bombed

Other bases frequently bombed from the air are Chimusu, Paramushiro, northernmost of the group, and Onekotan.

Knox, discussing the war in the Pacific, said that the developments have been confined to bombardment of the Kuriles and continuing aerial assaults on enemy positions cut off from supplies in the eastern Marshalls, and the regular bombings of the enemy bases in the Caroline island group including Truk and Ponape.

He said the Japanese evidently were "trying their best to get some supplies" into the isolated bases in the eastern part of the mid-Pacific Marshalls, but "without much success." From six to ten barges a day are being sunk as they attempt to run supplies into the bases," the Navy secretary said.

Sedition Trial Is Suspended

WASHINGTON, April 18 (U.P.)—The biggest sedition trial of this war was suspended today to permit G-men to search the country for Edward James Smythe, mysteriously-missing defendant. The government prosecutor said he hoped the New Yorker would be apprehended before nightfall.

Judge Edward C. Eicher adjourned the trial's second day session after some two hours of bickering among the two dozen attorneys and argument on various motions.

Delay Motion Granted

He granted the delay on motion of Prosecutor O. John Rogge, who later told reporters that Smythe's absence was preventing selection of jurors. If the New Yorker continues missing, Rogge said, the government will be faced with the choice of delaying the trial until he is found or separating his case from that of the 29 other defendants and trying him separately later.

Naturally, he added, the government desires to avoid the necessity of having two separate trials. He said he did not know how long the prosecution would

Keynote Speaker For GOPs Considered

CHICAGO, April 18. (U.P.)—Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, Mich., and Rep. Clare Boothe Luce, Conn., were mentioned most prominently today to make the keynote address at the Republican national convention as the committee on arrangements, headed by Harrison E. Spangler, national chairman, met here in executive session to pick a temporary chairman.

One of the principal chores of the committee will be the selection of the keynoter but Spangler refused to speculate on any possible choice.

"The field is wide open," he said on his arrival yesterday.

Brutal Houston Slaying Laid To A Maniac

Woman Is Beaten, Slashed To Death At Her Residence

(By The United Press)

HOUSTON, April 18. — Evidence mounted today that a maniac beat and slashed Mrs. Dollie Garrett Richardson to death and left her crumpled body at the foot of the blood-bathed staircase in her home.

Police discounted the possibility that a burglar, surprised while ransacking the Richardson home, committed the murder. A thorough search this morning failed to show anything missing.

A large and valuable diamond on Mrs. Richardson's finger was not removed by the slayer. A pearl-and-diamond dinner ring, believed for a time to be missing, was found in the house by Homicide Lt. A. C. Thornton.

Statewide Search

Search for the killer spread to every quarter of the state, and the Houston police department advised officers that the murderer might have scratches about his face. Mrs. Richardson's fingernails were broken and gged. It was believed that she might have clawed her assailant's face in a brief, furious struggle to escape.

Two suspects were sought for questioning. Their descriptions were broadcast to every officer in the state. One was a powerfully built negro, possibly the same one who recently attacked two white women in Beaumont. The other was a skimpily-described white man.

Both were seen in the fashionable residential district where Mrs. Richardson, 42, a prominent churchwoman, lived with her husband and a 'teen-age son.

Several Clues Found

Police Chief Percy Heard assumed personal charge of the investigation. He announced that a force of police homicide agents and special investigators had found several "clues," which were sent to Austin for laboratory examination by state technicians.

Heard declined to identify the clues, but the killer's weapon was not among them.

Mrs. Richardson was first believed to have been the victim of an axe wielder. However, an autopsy indicated that she had been kicked to death after being knifed.

Bloody shoeprints on the staircase and in a second-floor bedroom appeared to substantiate the

Methodists Holding Annual Conference

Approximately 400 Methodist ministers and laymen are attending the annual district conference of the Lubbock district at Asbury church today.

Delegates and pastors from 40 charges, representing about 68 churches in the district were present for the one day meeting which was highlighted by a sermon on evangelism by Dr. Harold G. Cooke, president of McMurry college in Abilene, this morning. Luncheon was served at noon by the Asbury Woman's Society of Christian service.

Dr. L. N. Lipscomb, district superintendent, was in charge of the general session this morning at 9:30 when reports from pastors covering all phases of church work were heard, together with a report by Dr. Cooke on the McMurry endowment campaign.

The afternoon session was to be in two sections, Rev. C. A. Bickley, pastor of the Asbury church, said. The women of the WSCS were to hold a session under the direction of Mrs. C. C. Coffey of O'Donnell. In the other session Dr. Lipscomb was scheduled to continue his general meeting.

House Group Abandons Plan For Legislation To Draft 4-Fs

Present Authority Is Said Ample

WASHINGTON, April 18. (AP)—The House military committee today abandoned plans for special legislation to force 4-F's into essential work through the threat of induction into Army and Navy labor battalions.

Chairman May (D-Ky) announced following an executive meeting that the committee had decided that government agencies such as selective service and the War Manpower commission already had ample authority to require physically disqualified men to move into essential jobs.

STIMSON EXPLAINS ARMY'S SIDE OF DRAFT PICTURE

WASHINGTON, April 18. (U.P.)—Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson, replying to "implied criticism" of the Army's manpower policies, said today that "no human intelligence" can tell in advance the number of men needed for future service.

He explained that the Army's estimates of need must "stand up after a time lag of seven months" because it takes one month to get correct figures on the number of men in service, selective service calls must be placed two months in advance, and men have to be trained at least four months before they are ready for use as combat replacements.

Referring to the fact that the Army reached its goal of 7,700,000 men by April 1, some 30 days sooner than previously expected, he said steadily decreasing losses and suddenly improved deliveries from selective service during the last week in March sent the total beyond the mark a month early.

"This demand to apply the brakes very suddenly presented a difficult problem for selective service, undeniably," he conceded.

Britain Plugs Invasion Leaks

BY PHIL AULT
United Press Staff Writer

LONDON, April 18—In the most drastic Allied step yet taken to safeguard invasion secrets, Britain today virtually interned the entire diplomatic corps of 43 nations under an unprecedented order forbidding them to leave this country or to communicate in code with their governments.

Only the diplomatic staffs of the United States, Russia and the British dominions were exempt from the ban announced by the "TIME IS GETTING SHORT"

LONDON, April 18 (AP) — "The time is getting short," the French people were warned today in the latest of a stream of pre-invasion broadcasts from the government-controlled London radio.

They were advised to store as much food as possible because "at least until the day of liberation comes, civilians must live on what is stored."

foreign office at 11:30 p. m. (4:30 p. m.CWT) last night only a half hour before it took effect. Others among the United Nations, including Brazil and Mexico, who have declared war on the Axis, were subject to its provisions.

Invasion "Not Far Away?"

The move came as Nazi sources were predicting that the opening of a western front was "not far away." A Paris broadcast said the invasion was "nearer even than we would have expected" and a Berlin dispatch appearing in the Stockholm newspaper Aftonbladet reported that most Germans believed it would start in the last half of May.

The German Transocean agency also said rumors were circulating in Lisbon that another meeting of President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill was impending. Air passengers from England, the agency said, told of an area being fenced off with barbed wire

Big Snowstorm Hits Midwest

(By The Associated Press)

One of the most severe unseasonal snowstorms in years had spread out unexpectedly over the high great plains area of western Nebraska and Kansas Monday night, threatening livestock and halting already-late farm operations.

McCook, Nebr., had an unprecedented 19 inches of wet, heavy snow with the fall continuing in-

FREEZING WEATHER HERE

(By The United Press)

Much of Texas sought the pleasant warmth of the sun's rays whenever possible today following a sudden plummet of the mercury last night which sent sub-freezing temperatures to the Panhandle and upper South Plains areas.

(Temperature at Lubbock reached a low of 32 degees).

Temperatures ranged downward today more than 40 degrees in some spots as compared to yesterday's highs and prospects were that the eastern and coastal areas would feel even sharper weather tonight.

to the night, and at Kearney, motor cars stalled in drifts from a ten-inch snowfall. Lighter snow was general throughout Nebraska and as far eastward as north-central Kansas.

Sub-Freezing Temperatures

Sub-freezing temperatures were general throughout the area last night, bringing fears to livestock men for the safety of both cattle and sheep.

In the Oklahoma Panhandle, a 55-mile wind stirred up a dust storm which reduced visibility to less than a mile at some points.

E. C. Bray, of Syracuse, in northwestern Kansas, where seven to nine inches of snow covered the ground, said that livestock had come through the winter in poor condition because of a shortage of protein feeds and that he expected losses from the storm to be heavy.

Many Sheep Lost

In a similar storm a week ago, he said two sheepmen alone there lost between 1,000 and 1,400 head.

The weather bureau at Kansas City forecast slightly rising temperatures for the area today.

Eastern Colorado ranchers reported heavy calf and lamb losses in the snowstorm which measured 10½ inches to 12 inches in the vicinity of Boulder, and four inches at Cheyenne, Wyo. The storm extended southward into northeastern New Mexico.

McCormick Cites Communist Threat

READING, Pa., April 18 (AP)—Col. Robert R. McCormick said today "Communists and their abettors not only dominate the Democratic party but are actively trying to control the Republican national convention as the New Deal did in 1940."

"They received a serious setback in Wisconsin but they still persist," the Chicago Tribune editor and publisher said in an address prepared for delivery at a conference of the 179th district of Rotary International.

Communists "dominate our government," he asserted, because "four hundred odd thousand of them . . . have held the balance of power" in New York state and "New York state has the largest vote in the electoral college."

The speaker said that "Mr. self-seeking politician that he is, has catered to the Communists on every occasion but one—when they split with the British. Then he was guided by his instincts, which by heredity, education, and present environment were stronger than his political calculations."

"The fact is above contradiction," Col. McCormick declared, "that troops had not been sent to the Pacific in number to hold the Philippines, and have not been sent in sufficient numbers to recapture them and free American prisoners suffering untold tortures in Japanese prison camps, because the Communists, and their unbelievable Tory associates, wanted them sent elsewhere."

Elliott Roosevelt Divorce Uncontested

FORT WORTH, April 18 (U.P.)—Formal division of community property and the setting up of a trust fund for benefit of the children was all that remained of the second marriage of Col. Elliott Roosevelt, second son of the president, today.

In an uncontested divorce action in 48th district court yesterday, Mrs. Ruth Googins Roosevelt was granted a divorce from her air corps husband in a decree which declared all property of the couple community property to be equally divided.

A waiver of service, signed by Colonel Roosevelt, now stationed in England, was presented in court, and Mrs. Roosevelt was granted custody of the couple's three children, David Boynton, Elliott, jr., and Ruth Chandler Roosevelt.

British Use Torpedoes Ridden By Two Men In Diving Suits

LONDON, April 18. (U.P.)—Torpedoes straddled by two-man crews encased in diving suits have been used successfully by the British navy in the Mediterranean, the Admiralty revealed today.

Like characters out of a comic strip fantasy, the men wrap their legs around the long, slim explosive projectile and ride it under water until it reaches its target. Then they attach its explosive charge with a time fuse to the hull of a ship or whatever the objective is and ride the propulsive part of the torpedo to safety.

The use of the strange device was disclosed by the announcement of the award of two Distinguished Service Orders and two Conspicuous Gallantry medals to men who took part in a successful attack on the enemy-held naval base at Palermo, Sicily, in January, 1943.

Used In Sicily

Several "human torpedoes" stole through the anti-submarine nets guarding the Palermo harbor and edged in undetected across its full length.

One torpedo sank the 3,362-ton Italian cruiser Ulpio Traiano as

Nazis Trapped At Sevastopol

Enemy Evacuation Effort Fails; Reds Shaping Up Final Assault On City

By EDDY GILMORE
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, April 18. — Two big Russian armies were reported nearing a juncture in the outskirts of Sevastopol today for a final onslaught against a frenzied Axis garrison barricaded in the streets after failing to effect a large scale evacuation from the burning city.

(The Vichy radio, quoting a German report, said "the battle for Sevastopol has now commenced," with very heavy fighting taking place in the fortified region of the town.)

Front dispatches said that Gen. Andrei I. Yeremenko's independent maritime army was moving downhill on the city from the southeast after cracking a 2,200-foot mountain position known as Baidar Gate in a drive that yesterday swept up a road junction 12 miles from Sevastopol and five miles from Balaklava, scene of the famed "charge of the light brigade."

Juncture Is Imminent

This force, moving through dense minefields, was expected to link up at any hour with Gen. Feodor I. Tolbukhin's Fourth Ukraine army, alreday filtering through Sevastopol's barricades from the north, the dispatches said.

All reports from the front indicated that the German command has not been able to accomplish a Dunkirk scale evacuation, although in the last few days the trapped Axis troops tried to get out of the battered port on any kind of craft they could find, throwing caution to the wind as cannonading Russian guns echoed over the city and bombers raked the docks.

Enemy Troops Stranded

The dispatches estimated that thousands of Germans and Rumanians were still stranded on the docks of Sevastopol while others, fighting a determined rearguard action in the suburbs, were

Allies Gain In Imphal Sector

Offensive Aimed At Jap Invaders

(By The Associated Press)

KANDY, Ceylon, April 18. — Allied forces carrying the fight to the Japanese invaders northeast of the plain of Imphal have scored advances and still are "making satisfactory progress," an Allied communique announced today.

Presumably this offensive was directed against one of the three original strong columns of Japanese which invaded India last month, although the communique did not specifically give the location of the fighting.

On the southern sector of the Imphal front Allied forces drove the Japanese out of one position near the track to Silchar, but the enemy counter-attacked and fighting still is going on, the communique added. In this area the infiltrating Japanese are striving for possession of the Bishenpur-Silchar track, an alternative land route connecting with the American-operated Bengal-Assam railroad, Allied lifeline to Burma-China operations.

Sharp Fighting Breaks Out

Sharp fighting broke out on the Kohima-Dimapur road northwest of Imphal where Allied troops, holding positions which the Japanese formerly had occupied, repulsed enemy counter-attacks, the communique declared.

Here Allied forces are fighting to break up Japanese infiltrations along the main land route to the Bengal-Assam railroad.

There was "no material damage" in the bitterly contested Kohima defense area, 60 miles due north of Imphal, the communique said.

Chinese troops in North Burma continued their advance down the Mogaung valley in their drive on Myitkyina, main Japanese base, forcing an entry into the Japanese strong point of Warazup, 25 miles northwest of Mogaung.

Airmen harass Japs

Allied aviation continued to harass and bomb enemy air fields, installations and concentrations throughout the Burma area. For the second time in three days American long-range fighters struck at the Japanese air field at Heho, central Burma, destroying some 17 fighters and damaging two in the air.

Tokyo claimed Japan's offensive into India has carried within

WPB Studies Freeze Order

WASHINGTON, April 18. (U.P.)—The War Production board, it was disclosed today, is considering an order to freeze production and prices of textiles and clothing at 1943 levels as a means of restoring production of low-cost, essential items of apparel.

The order, reportedly being withheld until certain objectionable features are resolved, was understood to require direct WPB authority for any firm to manufacture after July 1 any higher-priced civilian garment than it produced between Jan. 1 and Dec. 31, 1943.

Shoe Production Quota

The shoe industry already operates on a production quota system prohibiting manufacturers from adding higher priced lines without specific authorization.

The reason for the order was said to be failure of other methods to prevent manufacturers from concentrating on higher-cost, higher-profit articles at the expense of low-prices and more essential items.

Could Increase Line

An official said that the plan would permit a manufacturer to increase a certain price line provided his output in cheaper lines was raised proportionately.

This, it was explained, would be done by giving permission for production of higher-priced lines only to manufacturers who could show that manpower was available and the higher-cost output essential.

CONVICTS RECAPTURED

HUNTSVILLE, April 18. (AP)—Two convicts escaped from the Harlem prison farm Monday by sawing out of the dining room but were recaptured shortly afterward at Sugarland. They were James Edward Long, 24, serving 25 years for robbery and robbery by assault from Dallas, Bexar and Harris counties; and Marvin Cowan, 23, serving three years for burglary and forgery from Travis county.

New 'Hold The Line' Order Is Proposed

WASHINGTON, April 18 (AP) — CIO President Philip Murray proposed today that a new hold-the-line anti-inflation order, adjusted to permit wage increases, be set and firmly held.

He told the Senate banking committee that the present price control law "carried a mandate that wages and prices were to be maintained" as of their Sept. 15, 1942, relationship, but he contended the commitment has not been carried out. As a result, he declared, the President's hold-the-line order is unfair to the working population.

Arguing for "more vigorous price control — not less," Murray asserted that living costs increased 43.5 per cent between Jan. 1, 1941 and December, 1943, "but wages have actually been stabilized."

He told the committee, which is considering extension of price controls which expire June 30, that profits of food corporations "have soared to a point that they represent the sorriest chapter of the war program."

Chorus Of Approval Expected On Single Department Of War

WASHINGTON, April 18. (AP)—A chorus of approval by expert witnesses is expected in military circles when hearings begin next week on unification of American armed forces in a single department of war.

Secretary of War Stimson will be one of the first witnesses before the special House committee on postwar military policy, headed by Rep. Woodrum (D-Va), which has set unity of command as its first study.

A survey of military opinion suggested today that virtual unanimity on the desirability of consolidating the military services may have been the reason it was placed first on the committee's agenda, leaving more explosive issues — notably universal military service — until later.

Gen. George C. Marshall is one of the moves more insistent advocates.

New Supporters In Navy

Unification found few supporters in the Navy until recent months, but has picked up impressive strength at the higher command level, and the most sweeping reform proposals have come

Berlin, Other Areas Blasted By Big Armada

Enemy Airmen Forced Into Big Aerial Battles

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, April 18 —About 2,000 American heavy bombers and fighters attacked Berlin and other objectives in Hitler's continental fortress today, forcing German planes into heavy aerial battles.

One strong formation carried out the bombing of Berlin, the first daylight blow at the much-bombed capital since March 22.

The British-based Fortresses and Liberators struck Germany in strength for the first time in five days. A separate force of Liberators lashed at the anti-invasion targets in the Pas-de-Calais area in northern France.

Probably 1,000 Heavies

The first announcement of the big operation indicated that probably 1,000 heavy bombers took part, accompanied by as many Mustangs, Thunderbolts and Lightnings flying a protective escort.

Allied medium and light bombers joined the fresh offensive, crossing the channel in sunny weather.

Berlin radio declared a great aerial battle developed over northern Germany as escorting fighters "were dispersed by attacking German fighter units so the four-engined bombers could be attacked directly." Despite bad weather the German fighters inflicted heavy losses on the Americans and on return flight the heavy bombers were attacked incessantly, the radio said.

At the same time Liberator bombers blasted again at the Pas-de-Calais "invasion coast" of France.

"Very strong forces" of fighter planes accompanied the Berlin raiders, it was announced, indicating that probably 2,000 planes took part in the widescale attacks.

"When the American bombers approached the Berlin area their losses increased and a great many parachute landings were seen," Berlin said. It asserted German fighter planes took off from dozens of airdromes along the route to engage the American formations "despite bad weather conditions."

ITALY BASED BOMBERS ATTACK BALKAN AREAS

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, April 18 (AP) — Italy-based heavy and medium bombers continued the Allied pounding of German communications in the Balkans last night by attacking the railyard at Plovdiv, 85 miles southeast of the Bulgarian capital of Sofia, it was announced today.

A communique said the night foray followed yesterday's daylight blows by escorted heavy bombers against railway targets in Sofia and the Yugoslav capital of Belgrade, and against airdromes and aircraft factories in

Two Slain Women Still Unidentified

CAMDENTON, Mo., April 18. (U.P.)—State and county officers today sought the missing parts of two decapitated, unidentified women's bodies in an 80-mile long artificial lake in the picturesque northern foothills of the Ozark mountains.

The first body was found [illegible] three fishermen Sunday. Cl[illegible] only in underclothing, the [illegible] tim's head had been cut of[illegible] the mouth and the left leg [illegible] been severed between the hip [illegible] th knee. The woman was [illegible] lieved to have been about 50 ye[illegible] f age.

As Camden county authoriti[illegible] sought clues to the murderer yes[illegible] terday, the second body was found washed ashore 200 yards from where the first victim was discovered. A young woman, about 25 years old, her head had been cut off cleanly a the shoulders. She was clad only in panties and one stocking.

Missouri state highway patrol investigators theorized that the two women had been murdered Saturday night, while a storm was raging in the Ozarks, and had been brought by boat to the point in the lake where they were found, opposite a dead end road. Sheriff Jack Stotler said he found no tire tracks or footprints on the road when he arrived, the first person to reach the scene by automobile.

Authorities said they had no clues to the identify of the victims. No local residents were reported missing. The wife of a Springfield, Mo., truck driver walked into the Springfield police station just as authorities had decided that she was the younger victim. A fingerprint check exploded the theory that they were the wife and mother of a Kansas City, Kans., man who said they were missing.

Church Women Attend Regular Meetings, Reviews And Teas

Lubbock women met for book reviews and a spring tea in addition to regular afternoon church society gathering Monday.

First Christian Woman's council met in the home of Mrs. J. H. Hackfield, 1705 Twenty-ninth street, for a review of the book, "My Country and My People," (Lin Yutang) given by Mrs. Ben F. Brewer. Circle 4 was hostess to the 70 who attended.

In her review of "Brothers Under the Skin" by Carrie McWilliams for St. John's Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service in the home of Mrs. Clyde Smith, 1915 Twenty-ninth street, Mrs. O. L. Byrd said the book is full of ugly, hard facts, figures and statistics which ever American should read carefully and conscientiously.

It is a story of our discrimination against colored minorities in this nation, she continued. This discrimination is one of the most powerful that Axis countries are using against us. The author says Americans are really a kindly people and have no idea of the harm done by this discrimination.

Figures Given

Few people are aware of the fact that the white race is in the minority, she stated. There are 766,000,000 whites to 1,134,000,000 non-whites, and the war is taking a bigger toll of the whites.

Other races were also discussed by the reviewer. Purpose of the book is to show us our faults and to make us try earnestly to do something about them, she said.

Assistant hostesses were Mesdames J. Ben Cole, Pearl McWhorter and W. J. Rother. Thirty attended.

Mrs. Tom Tarwater continued her series of lessons of the book of Revelation for Circle for Service Men's Wives in the home of Mrs. R. P. Lightfoot, 2024 Tenth street Eight were present.

City Recreation Head On Job

Mrs. Grace Dyess officially assumed her duties as the first superintendent of the new city department of recreation this morning.

Her arrival from Orange, Texas, was followed by an immediate call by Charles Whitacre, chairman, for a meeting of the city recreation council with Mrs. Dyess (pronounced "dyes") in the chamber of commerce Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock.

Offices Being Established

Expectation is, various of the officials said, that the shaping of a definite recreation program will begin at this meeting, and will proceed rapidly.

Offices for the new department are being established on the first floor of the city hall in the space formerly occupied by the municipal courtroom.

One of her first task, Mrs. Dyess said, will be the organization of the department personnel. But she cautioned that she will not be prepared to proceed with this step until after the meeting with the council. Until then, it was explained, no one will know with certainty what the personnel will be.

However, the full-time employes of the department will be few, although the operation of the summer phase of the program will require a number of seasonal playground supervisors. Belief is that this summer employment will appeal to school teachers or perhaps to advanced college students.

Mrs. Dyess' arrival in Lubbock to reside was in the nature of a home-coming. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. Y. Thompson of Tahoka. She is a graduate of Lubbock Senior High school and Texas Technological college, as well as a post-graduate from Southern Methodist university, Dallas.

Her professional experience has been extensive, including approximately 15 months in civil service employment in recreational directive work in Alaska and organization of a new department of recreation in Temple. She taught school in Tahoka four years and for six months was in Abilene as coordinator between McMurry college and the three Methodist churches in that city. She resigned as a civil service director of recreation in a war project at Orange to accept the position here. Mrs. Dyess has a son, Clark, 11, now enrolled in San Marcos Military academy, who will join her during vacation.

Maj. Rainier Defends Allied Drive In Italy

Major objectives of the Italian campaign have been achieved, members of Lubbock Knife and Fork club were told at their monthly dinner in Hilton hotel Monday night by Maj. Peter W. Rainier, member of the general staff of the British Eighth army during the African campaign.

Major Rainier pointed out there were five objectives of the Allies in the invasion of Italy. These were: (1) To knock Italy out of the war. (2) To open the Mediterranean to Allied shipping. (3) To acquire landing fields to allow Allied planes to bomb southeastern Europe and Germany. (4) To pin down 20 Axis divisions. (5) It was a good place to kill Germans. All five have been accomplished, he said.

Must Kill Enemy

In commenting on the fifth objective, Major Rainier sair the Allies could not hope to win this war by simply pushing the enemy back. They must kill as many as they possibly can.

A veteran of two world wars, Major Rainier spoke at length of his experiences in the North African campaign in speaking on "Allied Strategy in War and Peace," telling how the British troops, who were badly outnumbered, were driven back time after time only to surge forward again and again to achieve final victory. He stated he was the first British officer to talk with American troops when the forces of those two nations joined forces in North Africa.

Major Rainier was introduced by Major F. E. Hangs, commanding officer of the ROTC unit at Texas Technological college. Jack Randal, president of the club, presided.

from the Navy side.

However, the general approval of the single department principle is not accompanied by any such universal agreement on the form of organization.

The question of timing also is expected to produce some controversy. So far all public statements have referred to postwar action, but there is a growing belief in military circles that the consolidation should be effected to as great an extent as possible without waiting for the end of hostilities.

In the opinion of many officials, the success of the joint chiefs of staff and of the unified commands in combat areas provide the basis for an immediate merger.

Italian Battle Still See-Saw

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, April 18 (AP)—Allied troops fought their way back yesterday into an outpost on the western flank of the Anzio beachhead and threw back a strong German raid north of Cassino after fierce hand-to-hand fighting, headquarters announced today.

The beachhead troops took six prisoners in regaining the lost position about four miles from the coast.

Allied Casualties Suffered

The Allies suffered some casualties in repulsing the raid on one of their forward positions in the Terelle area, about four miles north of Cassino. Some of the German artillery harassing Allied troops in Cassino is located behind Terelle and the opposing armies watch each other warily in that rugged mountain sector.

It was disclosed, meanwhile, that some Allied patrols had made deep penetrations west of the Sangro river in the central sector of the front without contacting Germans.

Showing intense suspicion of Allied activities in the lower Garigliano river sector of the main front, the Germans laid more than 400 rounds of artillery fire and additional mortar fire on the Minturno area. On Sunday night they had thrown up flares to illuminate the landscape every 15 minutes.

In devastated Cassino itself there was a normal exchange of fire and grenades.

LONDON, April 18. (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill, speaking in answer to several questions concerning current and recent conferences toward postwar agreements, told the House of Commons today that "the great body of work achieved by the League of Nations" ought not be lost in the postwar international peace setup.

"I think if the League of Nations had been properly backed up it would have been successful," he said, adding:

"Preliminary exchanges of opinion on postwar questions are constantly taking place between various members of the 34 United Nations, but I can not hold out the expectation that any agreed statement on the subject will be made in the near future."

Orde Charles Wingate, who organized the Chindits and led them on a spectacular raid into the Burma jungles.

Since the outbreak of World War II, Army engineers have been assigned 10 billion dollars worth of construction work.

This Mother-In-Law Story IS DIFFERENT!

Grateful to son's wife for tip about MOUNTAIN GROWN FOLGER'S COFFEE

BECAUSE SHE WAS GENEROUS AND SMART ENOUGH TO TAKE A SUGGESTION FROM HER SON'S NEW WIFE, MRS. BRYAN LEE OF BEEBE, ARKANSAS, DISCOVERED THE BEST COFFEE SHE'D EVER TASTED.

Dear Sirs:

One morning my boy remarked to his bride, "Honey, I hope you will learn to make as good coffee as Mom does. Boy! It sure gives me a lift!" She replied, "I can make as good coffee as anyone if you will buy the kind my Aunt Mable uses." I asked, "What kind of coffee does your Aunt Mable use?" She said, "Folger's". So that afternoon, at her suggestion, I bought my first pound of Folger's Coffee. That night I made the best coffee I ever made in my life and every pound since has been Folger's.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Bryan Lee

Why women are so faithful to Folger's

You'll notice that women who use Folger's talk about its flavor to their friends and relatives . . . feel that no other coffee in the world can compare with it. And it's true that Folger's has a special flavor found in no other coffee.

You see only the Folger people know how to select and blend precious coffees from the World's Coffee Growing Paradise to produce the miracle of flavor that has made Folger's loved by millions, and preferred above all other brands.

You can almost measure the difference in Folger's flavor—women write they use ¼ less than of ordinary weaker flavored brands and get the best coffee they've ever tasted! So the very goodness of Folger's makes it a real economy in the long run. There's a mountain of flavor in every spoonful of Folger's!

Bricker Cites People's Aims

LOS ANGELES, April 18 (AP)—Gov. John W. Bricker, near the end of a nine-day tour of western states, declared in a speech here last night that the "people want no more part of the New Deal philosophy" and are seeking "a speedy return to the Republican form of government."

The Ohio governor, candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, said he had concluded on his tour that the American people have four principle objectives. He listed them as follows:

First: They want to win the war just as soon as possible consistent with the best military tactics and the least loss of life.

Want Lasting Peace

Second: They want to insure a lasting peace, and so they desire "a firm and positive national and foreign policy that will guarantee our security."

Third: They want a post-war America in which there are jobs under the competitive enterprise system "with freedom and opportunity for all."

And fourth, the governor declared, they want "a speedy return to the Republican form of government," which, he added, would involve "taking policy matters out of the hands of the chief executives and restoring it to Congress where it belongs."

Cynicism Cited

The governor said:

"There appears, I'm sorry to say, a certain amount of cynicism in some quarters about the possibilities of avoiding World War III, if certain administration policies are not changed. The atmosphere of suspicion and distrust which the New Deal has brought about with its back-room diplomacy, its political censorship of war news and its refusal to state in unequivocal terms its war aims, has disturbed the American people.

"It is my sincere belief that all four of these objectives can be realized soonest and best by a Republican victory at the elections this fall."

Information Centers To Aid Vets Planned

READING, Pa., April 18 (AP) — The veterans bureau contemplates establishment of a nationwide network of information centers to aid discharged veterans and demobilized war workers, Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines, administrator of veterans affairs, said today.

"The centers will not be set up to furnish services, but to direct those seeking to the proper places where services and jobs may be obtained," he declared in a speech prepared for broadcast from a Rotary club district conference.

Asserting that problems of veterans' employment and employment of other people are interdependent, Hines said that a policy board is at work on the employment problems, and meanwhile, as preliminary steps, informational pamphlets for veterans soon will be issued at discharge points with the information centers also to be set up.

Shortage Of Paper Bags In City Becomes Acute; Change In Shopping Routine Is Due

By WALTER SWITZER
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

Lubbock housewives probably will have to devise other means of carrying home the daily or weekly supply of groceries within the very near future due to the extreme shortage that now exists in paper bags.

A recent survey of local food stores, wholesale grocery houses and paper companies revealed the supply is fast deminishing and there is no hope of replenishing the supply this month—maybe not until June 1, according to a representative of one of the paper companies

As to other means of transporting the groceries home it was suggested by one store operator that everyone should save the sacks as they get them; then when the supply at the store has been used up, take a sack or two to the store when buying food items and have the groceries put in these sacks. It was pointed out that this could be done only if the person bringing the sacks used them to transport his own food items. In other words, the grocer would not be permitted, under the existing state law, to use the sack for another person's groceries.

Imported Baskets Suggested

Another suggestion offered was to import baskets from Mexico and offer them for sale, while others say this would be impractical.

Several housewives here already have grocery "perambulators" which they wheel to the store to cart the groceries home According to dealers there are some of these still available in Lubbock.

A manager of a local hardware store pointed out that ration-free ladies' bicycles, equipped with baskets, are being manufactured and a shipment is expected in Lubbock within the next few days.

Another store manager pointed out that people who have cars can have their groceries or other items taken to the cars in shopping baskets from the stores and carry them home without using bags.

Shopping Bags Suggested

One grocer suggested using shopping bags, but upon checking with the paper companies it was revealed than none of these are available at the present time.

That the paper sack situation is much worse than a year ago, was evidenced by the fact that an out-of-town paper salesman said that his allotment for last year for this territory was 18 cars, while this year's allotment was ony three cars.

The manager of one paper company here said that four-pound bags are the largest he has. However, he said he has a supply of waterproof wax bags ordered which should arrive within the next few days, but the price of these bags is so high that store operators would be forced to charge the consumer a deposit of approximately ten cents on them.

He stated that paper bags were bought by the wholesale paper houses on monthly allotment basis and his April allotment had been cancelled, adding that, in all probability, his May allotment would also be cancelled. He said it is certain that this shortage would continue until September and possibly for duraion of the war.

Housewives of Lubbock can do much to relieve the situation by cooperating with their dealers, not only grocers, but dealers in other commodities. Store operators will welcome any suggestion for relieving the situation.

Raid's Anniversary Marked In Tokyo

(By The Associated Press)

The Japanese have not forgotten the bombing of Tokyo two years ago — April 18, 1942 — by carrier-borne American planes led by Maj. James H. Doolittle, now a lieutenant general commanding the U. S. Eighth Air force in Britain.

The Japanese radio, in a broadcast recorded by NBC, said "memorial services" were held today in Tokyo.

The broadcast added that a plaque was unveiled at the imperial boys' military school, which the Japanese say was hit during the raid, and "all the students vowed 'we will be in the army and navy air forces soon and avenge the death of our comrades who perished on this spot'."

TULSA, Okla., April 18 (AP) — United States crude oil production increased 19,110 barrels daily in the week ended April 15 to 4,437,620 barrels daily, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

Illinois production declined 9,200 barrels daily to 214,900 barrels and Texas, 100 to 1,910,250. Louisiana output was unchanged at 358,500 barrels a day.

Governor Talks In Longview

LONGVIEW, April 18 (AP)—Gov. Coke Stevenson compares the constitution to "the book of instructions that comes with your automobile."

Honor guest last night at a Longview Chamber of Commerce banquet climaxing the 19th annual East Texas Chamber of Commerce convention, the governor told the banqueters that "there is nothing unnecessary on the machinery of government. No manufacturer would put anything on a machine that could be dispensed with."

Amendments Limited

He likened that situation to the constitution, composed by men who knew the science of government and who, he said, in their wisdom provided that the constitution could not be amended at a special session of the legislature.

A Corsicana resident, Joe E. Butler, was elected president of the ETCC. Re-named vice-president and general manager was Hubert M. Harrison of Longview.

Among the convention speakers was Dr. Umphrey Lee, president of Southern Methodist university, Dallas, who said postwar planning is desirable but that there are limitations. He added that the only kind of prosperity that would help the average citizen is that originating in the home, church and small communities where individuals are in close contact with each other.

Some Of Questions Answered On Draft Worries Of 4-Fs

By MARL ...W and ZIELKE
Associated Press Staff Writers

WASHINGTON, April 18—For the 4-F's—worried or confused by all the talk about drafting them—here are some main points, plus some problems the government must solve:

First: The only purpose of such a draft would be to force 4-F's into war essential jobs.

Second: It seems certain such a draft must come through special congressional legislation — not through a selective service order—because so many special problems are involved.

There are 3,600,000 men in 4-F—those between 18 and 38 found physically unfit for soldiering — and of that number the War Manpower commission (WMC) says only one million are not in essential jobs.

One Million Affected

Therefore, it is that one million who would be affected.

Before Congress okays a draft—if it ever does—a strong fight on the floor seems sure. Not all congressmen will agree such a draft would be effective. Even top government officials are in disagreement now.

The House military subcommittee, which investigated the problem, has recommended quick action by Congress. It did not recommend immediate induction of 4-F's.

Immediate Action Suggested

It suggested, however, that the armed forces get to work immediately to have plans ready for handling 4-F's, if Congress approves their induction.

This is what the committee proposes Congress enact into law:

The 4-F's in essential jobs to remain free from the draft as long as they stay in those jobs. The rest would be called. Once inducted, if they were willing to take essential war jobs, they would be furloughed from the Army. If they should refuse such jobs, they would be kept in Army labor battalions.

Those furloughed into civilian jobs, of course, would be paid the civilian salary, drawing no Army pay. Those who preferred to stay in the labor battalions, would be given regular Army pay.

Questions Are Answered

Here are the questions start:

Would those one million 4-F's new in unessential jobs fill the manpower needs in war industries if they would take jobs there? Apparently so. The estimated manpower needs in industry by July 1 is 800,000.

How many of those one million 4-F's are capable of going into other occupations? No one seems to know.

What is a war essential job? It differs from place to place. A 4-F cook in a town not pressed for manpower, would be non-essential. A 4-F cook in a war-busy town might be necessary. Therefore it seems likely the former would be drafted but not the latter.

Kin Of Veterans Put First On Job List

WASHINGTON, April 18 (AP)—The House voted overwhelmingly Monday to place veterans of the nation's wars and their wives and widows ahead of all other applicants for civilian jobs in every branch of government.

Names of veterans and wives or widows of disabled veterans would go to the top of government job lists immediately upon Senate passage of the bill and presidential signature.

LEGISLATION APPROVED

WASHINGTON, April 18 (AP)—Legislation to provide lifetime compensation for merchant seamen permanently disabled as a result of enemy action won House approval today. There was no debate as the bill was sent to the Senate.

Throneberry Is Found Guilty

STEAMBOAT SPRINGS, Colo., April 18 (AP)—O. B. Throneberry, a hard-talking Texan who once broke jail to evade trial, faces a possible prison term of 10 years to life for his conviction last night of second degree murder.

Throneberry, 28, was found guilty by a district court jury which required less than two hours of deliberation following a one-day trial. Throneberry did not testify.

He was charged with his brother, Randel, 26, now a fugitive, with robbing and trussing Ethelbert Purdy, recluse sheepherder, last August. Purdy was found dead in his sheep wagon the day after the robbery. The ingeniously tied knots had tightened with his struggles.

Escaped Colorado Jail

Throneberry and his younger brother escaped Routt county jail last October, clouting Sheriff Ernest Todd with a table leg and using his car for their get-away.

O. B. was subsequently captured at West, Tex., and returned to the Steamboat Springs jail. Earlier this month he slashed his arms, telling cellmates "this time when they take me out, they'll put me six under."

He was impassive as the verdict was read. The court ordered him to reappear after five days for sentence.

War Against Japs

one and one-half miles of the vital Bengal-Assam railroad but there wasn't a word of confirmation from Allied sources.

Instead, Mountbatten's headquarters reported successes in the Allies' own offensive into Burma, told of Japanese defeats along the northern Burma supply system and generally indicated there was nothing to dim the confidence surrounding the defense of India and the important railroad.

Carries Supplies To Stilwell

The Tokyo radio claim put Nipponese troops six miles southeast of Dimapur, a junction on the key Bengal-Assam railroad over which flow supplies for Allied troops under Lt. Gen. Joseph Stilwell trying to blast a short-cut land road from Ledo, India, to Chinese bases.

Tokyo said this great advance, which means the railroad may be blocked soon, was made possible by the capture of Kohima, Allied base 35 miles south of Dimapur, on April 6 and the subsequent release of troops there. Mountbatten has never reported the fall of Kohima, has communiqued all attacks on the base have been repulsed and said counter-attacks have cleared the enemy from several road-straddling positions near Kohima.

Jap Division Withdrawn

Associated Press War Correspondent Thoburn Wiant reported in a delayed dispatch that official Allied quarters estimate at least one Japanese division has been withdrawn from eastern Burma to combat Allied forces preying on supply routes in northern Burma feeding the enemy's Indian drive.

The methodical air campaign to blast the Japanese out of each defensive outpost in the Southwest Pacific continues. Hollandia, Dutch New Guinea, caught the latest pounding. General Douglas MacArthur declined to tell the Japanese just how many tons of bombs pounded the base, except to say it was more than 200 tons and a heavy blow.

Australian ground troops pushed two miles beyond captured Bogadjim towards the once-important enemy base of Madang, New Guinea, but met no opposition.

Planes from the Southwest and Central Pacific teamed up for a one-two punch landed on Truk's defenses in the Carolines.

"Human Torpedoes"

she was being completed for service, and another wrought such damage to an 8,500-ton transport that she sank after being towed away for repairs.

As described officially, the "human torpedoes" are not suicide devices for the men who pilot them. All four men decorated now are prisoners of war, as are some others who took part in the operation.

The weapons were described as about the same size and shape as ordinary torpedoes. The explosive charge is attached to the nose. The torpedo is powered by electric batteries.

When the target is reached, the men dive beneath the torpedo, set time fuses and get away as fast as they can.

Stock Market

MARKET SUFFERS SELL-OFFS

NEW YORK, April 18 (AP) — The stock market today suffered one of its sharpest sell-offs of the past month on the largest volume in three weeks as customers scurried to safety in anticipation of a possible nearby Allied push in Europe.

Trends soon began to waver after a rather steady opening and, with the ticker tape picking up some speed, pivotals fell fractions to 3 points or so. Offerings dwindled in the final hour and, approaching the close, extreme declines were reduced in most cases. Transfers for the full stretch were around 1,000,000 shares.

Conspicuous on the offside were Santa Fe, Great Northern, Union Pacific, Delaware & Hudson, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Texas Co., Sears Roebuck, Deere, Douglas Aircraft, Dupont, J. C. Penney, Allied Chemical and Western Union "A".

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 18 (AP) — Cotton slumped almost $1.00 a bale today as expectations of new important war developments brought out nervous commission house and New Orleans liquidation. The decline was accelerated by a lack of buying orders as only scale down mill price fixing developed.

Futures closed 90 cents to $1.25 a bale lower.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, April 18 (AP) — Cotton futures closed barely steady $1 to $1.10 a bale lower here today. Most of the selling pressure, which brought the drop, came from holders of long contracts who took profits on a surmise that the European invasion was near.

Some liquidation was in sympathy with weakness in grain.

Argentina Says Spy Activity Almost Gone

BUENOS AIRES, April 18. (AP) —The Argentine government announced today that almost all German and Japanese espionage in Argentina had now been stamped out and that federal police were diligently seeking to eliminate any cases of spy activity which might still exist.

A communique issued by the subsecretariat of information and press gave additional details of the espionage activities which led to Argentina's break in diplomatic relations with Germany and Japan last January.

It said Shozo Mural, civil attache of the Japanese embassy who headed a Japanese spy ring, sent information to Tokyo by code "from a neighboring nation" which the communique did not identify.

The messages used code based on certain letters in ordinary novels and other books which were marked almost imperceptibly.

Continuation Of Guayule Urged

WASHINGTON, April 18. (AP) — Rep. Poage (D-Tex) says it would be tragic to destroy what the government has developed in guayule natural rubber production in Texas and California.

Chairman of a House agricultural subcommittee that investigated the project recently, Poage told a reporter his group had not discussed formal recommendations since the study was not complete, adding a hearing would be held here probably next week.

Congress two years ago appropriated $27,000,000 for guayule experiments and now is considering liquidating the project.

Project Well Started

"We've got 33,000 acres of 18-months-old shrubs out there and a processing plant in operation," said Poage, asserting that the shrubs should be allowed to grow to maturity at an age of four to five years because "it would be uneconomic to cut them sooner."

Poage said Texas has 3,000,000 acres of dry land and California 1,000,000 acres of marginal land suitable for this use, and expressed the belief that "we can get natural rubber here cheaper than rubber from South America."

in Britain similar to the Roosevelt-Churchill conference area at Casablanca.

FDR Changes Trip

"In this connection, the impending arrival of a very distinguished personality is talked about," the Transocean dispatch said, "Simultaneously, it is stated here (Lisbon) that President Roosevelt has changed his trip to the South and has turned eastward."

The British foreign office's order restricting foreign diplomatic staffs revoked privileges laid down by the congress of Vienna in 1815 as inviolable, but the announcement detailing the regulations asserted:

Reasons Are Explained

"In the unprecedented circumstances created by military operations impending in the present year, any inadvertent disclosure of information which resulted in helping the enemy or in unnecessary loss of British or Allied lives might have such serious effects, not only upon the course of these operations, but also on relations between this country and any foreign country whose nationals were concerned, that the government has reluctantly felt bound to adopt this unusual security measure."

Specifically, the order forbade:

1. Transmission or receipt by diplomatic missions in this country of any telegram which is not in plain language.

Couriers Can't Leave

2. The dispatch of any diplomatic bag which has not been submitted to censorship and the receipt of such bag dispatched after that date, until it has been censored.

3. The departure from this country of official couriers or diplomatic or consular representatives or any members of their official or domestic staff.

Though use of their own codes was forbidden, diplomats will be permitted to send censored messages in British government code through British diplomatic channels, official sources said.

Both United States and Russia were consulted in advance of the order, it was revealed.

Bowfin, Plowed Up By Louisiana Farmers, May Help Relieve Shortage Of Salmon, Other Fish

WASHINGTON, April 18 (AP)—Louisiana farmers are plowing up fish, and have been, it seems, for years.

A plow is strangle tackle but that's what's been bringing up the amia calva, alias the choupique, alias the john-a-grindle, alias the prairie bass, and more commonly known as the bowfin, a fish apparently indifferent to the absence of water.

It is only natural that a fish with so many names, possessing a lung in addition to gills, and with a flavor which gourmets describe with smacking lips, should be set aside for special consideration by the fish and wildlife service.

Substitute For Salmon

In an essay prepared by the Interior department's fish experts the bowfin is highly recommended as a delicious substitute for smoked salmon, herring or finnan haddie.

And please note they said smoked. Fresh, not much to rave about, but smoked—soigneem.

That the bowfin's light no longer is beneath a bushel is indicated by the reaction to it on the Chicago market. Up 500 per cent in sales last year. The proceeds well over $1,000,000.

Most widely known in the Mississippi river states, it is nevertheless to be found in large rivers almost anywhere, and lends itself nicely to home smoking.

Under-Exploited Resource

Says the fish and wildlife service: "The bowfin is an under-exploited resource, awaiting only intelligent utilization to make it a valuable contributor to our food supply."

About that plowing up business. The service says the ancestors of the bowfin licked prehistoric droughts by developing an air sac which they filled with an extra supply of oxygen. Declaring that this sac developed into a primitive sort of lung, the service adds:

"Now, when the receding flood waters of the Mississippi leave vast backwater areas of swampy mud, the bowfin suffers no inconvenience, for, like its long-dead ancestors, on such occasions it breathes the oxygen of the air instead of the oxygen of the water.

Sentence Is Given Rancher-Playboy

LAREDO, April 18 (U.P.)—Seven-times married Winfield Scott, wealthy Texas rancher-playboy, planned his eighth marriage to his seventh wife today, as he sat behind the bars of the Webb county jail.

It may take quite a bit of planning on Scott's part, for he has 29 more days to spend in the local jail and 18 months to spend in a federal institution to be designated by the U. S. attorney general.

During testimony yesterday before Federal Judge Allan B. Hanney on a show cause order why Scott's 18-month sentence on a narcotics charge should not be revoked, the Fort Worth man-about-town revealed his plans to remarry his seventh wife, Mrs. Ruth Scott Cameron, wife of an Army captain now overseas.

Hannay, after hearing Scott admit that he had taken "a drink" since the original sentence was suspended for five years but that he had quit taking narcotics, refused to lessen the sentence and ordered Scott to jail here for 30 days pending the naming of the institution to which he will be confined.

Woman Sniper Is Captured Among Kwajalein Japs

TEMPLE, April 18 (AP)—A woman sniper was among the enemies who challenged American forces in the Kwajalein operation in the Marshall islands, Sgt. Raybourn B. Fryrear of Tuttle, Okla., reported here today.

Fryrear was the first battle casualty from that operation to arrive at McCloskey general hospital. He lost his right foot on the third day of that battle.

"We hit the island in the afternoon of Feb. 1, with the fourth wave" he said. "The first thing we ran into was a woman sniper. We didn't know it was a woman at first, but realized that whoever it might be was most effective with a rifle. We finally surrounded the position and one of the men crawled up behind her without revealing his presence, threw himself forward and disarmed her. She surrendered without resistance."

theory. The autopsy showed that Mrs. Richardson had received heavy blows on the heal, chest and abdomen. There were eight deep slashes on her face. Heard said they appeared to have been made by a heavy, long-bladed knife.

No Criminal Assault

There was no evidence of criminal assault, the autopsy report showed.

The body was found yesterday afternoon by a neighbor, Mrs. Homer Pollan. She and Mrs. Richardson had planned, in a telephone conversation a few hours earlier, to attend a bridge party during the afternoon.

The negro suspect was said to be about 35 years old, and to weight about 190 pounds. His height was listed as 5 feet, 9 inches. He was driving a "shabby sedan" when in the vicinity of the Richardson home a few hours before the murder was discovered.

Also wanted for questioning was a 40-year-old white man. He parked his automobile before the Richardson home at mid-morning yesterday. It disappeared a short time later. The man was described as about 5 feet, 10 inches tall. He wore eye glasses.

Badoglio Is Forming New War Cabinet

NAPLES, April 18 (U.P.) — The new cabinet under Marshal Pietro Badoglio will consist of 17 ministries, it was learned today, including three without portfolios which probably will be filled by Liberalist Benedetto Croce, Count Carlo Sforza and Enrico Dinicola, president of the pre-fascist chamber of deputies.

While the ministerial list is only partially settled, it was confirmed that Guilio Rodino, a Christian democrat, will become minister of interior, probably with a Socialist under-secretary.

Badoglio talked with leaders of the Communist and action parties last night, and planned to see the heads of the other four junta parties later.

Most of the defense attorneys argued in support of a motion by E. Hilton Jackson, counsel for Gerald B. Winrod, Wichita, Kan., for an investigation of "shadowing" of prospective jurors by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Eicher sustained Rogge's objection that "this is ridiculous procedure" because the arguments were the same as thoes advanced yesterday in support of a like motion which Eicher denied.

Had Telephone Conversation

James J. Laughlin, attorney for Smythe, said he had not heard from his client since a telephone conversation last week when Smythe said he would be here April 24—next Monday.

Laughlin said all he knew of his client's whereabouts was that "his address is a box number in New York."

The court revoked Smythe's $1,000 bond and issued a warrant for his arrest.

Twenty-six German aircraft were destroyed during the day's operations, the bulletin said. The Allied losses were two heavy bombers and eight fighters.

Other air operations yesterday included medium and fighter-bomber sorties against rail lines and bridges northeast of Rome and similar targets just beyond the battle lines across Italy.

The Germans sent raiding parties against the Anzio beachhead defenders and the Eighth Army front but all were driven off.

COLOGNE BLASTED BY RAF MOSQUITO BOMBERS

LONDON, April 18 (AP) — RAF Mosquito bombers blasted the Rhineland city of Cologne last night and at 1 p. m. (6 a. m. CWT.) today the German radio warned that "enemy formations are approaching northwest Germany."

The Air ministry announced that one plane was lost during the night operations which also included mine laying operations.

London enjoyed its fourth straight raid-free night and a German plane which ventured over the southcoast of England early today was shot down.

Production Of Cars To Await Victory

WASHINGTON, April 18 (AP)—The production of pasenger cars must await the collapse of either Germany or Japan, the War Production board today notified the automobile industr, advisory committee. The panel of 17 top motor makers "unanimously concurred," WPB said.

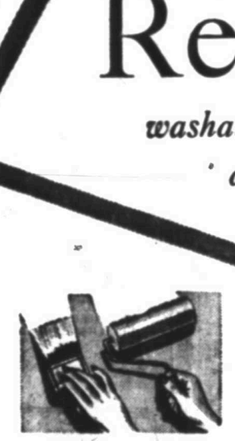

However, a government spokesman made it clear that WPB favors the resumption of civilian car production immediately after the defeat of either of the major enemies, probably on a limited basis which would permit the companies to continue production of war goods. The conference left two major questions undiscussed: First, whether post-war cars would be limited to 1942 models; and second, whether new manufacturers would be permitted to enter the field in competition with the nine pre-war companies.

SUPPOSING EVERY CAR IN AMERICA HAD ONLY 3 TIRES

Supposing we woke up tomorrow morning and found that every automobile in every garage in America had one flat tire ruined beyond repair . . .

And not one spare tire from Maine to California to replace them!

Of course, that isn't going to happen tomorrow, or on any one day . . . but little by little it could happen, reaching out farther and farther until all America is paralyzed . . . unless we take care now.

It's up to every one of us to guard and protect and save the mileage in our tires as we have never scrimped and saved before . . . to make our present tires last straight on through the war if possible.

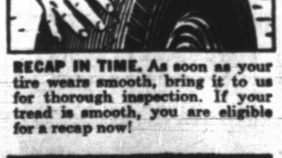

That is our duty and our trust to those who work for us and to those who fight for us.

THIS IS THE SIGN of a local, independent business built on experience, knowledge, skilled service and products of quality.

KEEP SPEED DOWN under 35 miles an hour. Drive slowly—especially on curves. Avoid holes, ruts and curbs. Start and stop carefully.

KEEP AIR PRESSURE UP to 32 pounds all around. Even standing in the garage, your tires may lose as much as 10 to 20% of their air pressure in just one week.

RECAP IN TIME. As soon as your tire wears smooth, bring it to us for thorough inspection. If your tread is smooth, you are eligible for a recap now!

City Managers Urge Highway Planning

DALLAS, April 18 (AP) — The Texas City Managers association here today authorized the appointment of a special committee to draft a resolution urging the use of available federal funds for mapping a new inter-regional highway system and related projects.

The League of Texas municipalities, under the resolution, would be asked to join in the movement.

Speakers said that under legislation already passed in Washington many months ago there is an allotment of more than $600,000 for use by Texas in planning postwar highway construction, particularly on the interregional system.

Appropriation Studied

With Congress now considering a bill to appropriate $3,000,000,000 for the interregional highway system work after the war, speakers said it was important that the planning phase be started without delay. Under the program, the state is supposed to match the federal grant for planning.

In a key address on "What's Ahead for Our Cities" Clarence E. Ridley, executive director of the International City Manager's association in Chicago, stressed the importance of postwar planning.

Aside from all the work to be done on housing, health, sanitation streets, highways and aviation, Ridley stressed that internal cleanups are needed in the governing system also.

The convention, led by President A. P. Hancock of Amarillo, will close this afternoon. Thirty-five city managers are in attendance.

Brotherly Love Cited As Basis For Peace

Friendship and brotherly love must be the basis of the peace of the world of tomorrow, declared V.W.J. Scott, of Charleston, W. V., Imperial Prince of the Dramatic Order, Knights of Khorassan, at a dinner Monday night at Lubbock hotel as a guest of Lubbock Boabdil temple, DOKK.

Approximately 250 persons were present from towns over West Texas.

"We must look into the past to examine our failures and accomplishments, and into the future for an inspired faith in God and man," he stated.

Yesterday afternoon conferences were held with temple officers in attendance.

The Imperial Prince, who is on an official visitation through the Southwest, was given a pair of cowboy boots, hat and western shirt by the local temple.

HOUSTON, April 18. (AP)—Damages of $153,000 and permanent injunction against alleged violations of price regulations in seven Texas cities were aske by the Office of Price Administration in a suit filed in district court today against the Houston Wholesale Liquor company.

The company was charged with selling 16,462 cases of liquor at more than ceiling prices in Houston, Port Arthur, Beaumont, San Antonio, Dallas, Amarillo, Big Spring and Waco.

Keenly Contested Races Foreseen

NEW YORK, April 18 (AP) — For better or for worse the major baseball leagues open their third wartime season today — a campaign that has been forecast as one of the most keenly contested in years despite, or rather because of, draft uncertainties.

If the weatherman is kind, some 125,000 persons are expected to witness the eight scheduled games in the American and National loops, each complete with band music and other traditional first day ceremonies.

This is far short of prewar opening day crowds, but the boys in the front offices are convinced that because of the anticipated close competition, the season total attendance for both circuits will exceed the 7,714,636 of a year ago and perhaps the 8,874,755 of 1942.

Yanks Meet Red Sox

The world champion New York Yankees open on the road against the Boston Red Sox while the St. Louis Cardinals, National league champs, entertain the Pittsburgh Pirates at home, but the Washington Senators, as usual, will put on the most glamorous inaugural spectacle.

With President Roosevelt away from the White House on a brief vacation, Vice President Wallace has assumed the rule of chief throwerouter of the first ball, a scene to be duplicated by other dignitaries at New York, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Boston, Detroit and Chicago.

Sharing the limelight with Vice President Wallace at Washington will be 81-year-old Connie Mack, the "grand old gentleman" of the national game, who is starting his 61st season in the sport as manager of the Philadelphia Athletics. Mr. Mack thinks his A's, tailenders last year, have a chance this season and he is counting on his Luman Harris to chalk up victory No. 1 by outpitching Johnny Niggeling.

Reds Expect Large Crowd

The Cincinnati Reds, picked by sportswriters as the team likely to end St. Louis' bid for a third straight National league flag, expected the largest turnout of the day, some 27,000, to get a glimpse of the Reds and Chicago Cubs. Bucky Walters of the Reds, has been nominated to oppose Hank Wyse on the mound in a battle that may duplicate last year's 1 to 0 Cincinnati triumph.

Paul "Dizzy" Trout of Detroit, is the only 20-game winning pitcher of 1943 nominated to work this opening day. Some 22,000 are expected at Briggs stadium in Detroit to watch him toil against the St. Louis Browns.

Hank Borowy To Pitch

Hank Borowy, instead of Spud Chandler, is listed to pitch for the Yanks against the Red Sox while Southpaw Max Lanier, instead of big Mort Cooper, will toe the slab for the Cardinals against Pittsburgh. Rip Sewell, who won 21 games for the Pirates with his tantalizing slow ball last year, has been supplanted by a rookie, Elwin Roe.

In other games the Brooklyn Dodgers play the Phillies at Philadelphia, the Boston Braves at New York Giants, and the Cleveland Indians at Chicago, White Sox. Orval Grove, the pitcher who came nearest a no-hitter in 1943, is expected to oppose southpaw Al Smith, of the Indians.

Grove, pitching against the New York Yankees, held the Bronx Bombers hitless until with two out in the ninth, Joe Gordon doubled. That gave him a one-hitter, one of 11 in both major leagues in 1943.

Ike Williams Wants Shot At Montgomery

PHILADELPHIA, April 17 (AP) —Ike Williams today was pounding on Bob Montgomery's door—ready, willing and qualified for a shot at the Pa.-N.Y.-N.J. version of the lightweight title held by the Bobcat.

Ike qualified for a return bout by blasting Mike Delia's aspirations at the arena last night in one minute and 54 seconds of the first round of a scheduled 10-rounder.

About 70 per cent of total U. S. ton production goes to the med forces, and is used in about ,000 different articles.

Hotel Doorman Has Seen Phillies Open For Past 44 Years

PHILADELPHIA, April 18 (AP) — Hotel Doorman John Brodie planned to knock off work a little early today so he could go out to Shibe Park for the season's opener.

"I guess it's the only bad habit I have," explained the 56-year-old Brodie, "quitting early on opening day. I haven't missed a Phillies' opener in 44 years."

The flattered management of the Phillies sent two passes to Brodie after learning that he spends his annual vacation following the club around the National league circuit.

Sports Roundup

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 18 — Now that northern baseball training is all over but the groaning, it can be reported that they had spring training in the south of Russia this year . . . A Moscow dispatch states: "Prominent Soviet masters of sport renewed an old tradition by gathering in the Black sea coast to train before the beginning of the summer sports season. This time the USSR champions gathered in Sukhum, where the weather is sunny and warm and roses already are in full bloom." . . . The dispatch goes on to say that participants in a track and field meet, April 11, included several Red army officers and the Georgian girl discus thrower, Nina Dumbadze, who has trained hundreds of soldiers in precision grenade throwing. Two of the strongest Russian soccer football teams also have been training at Sukhumi . . . Florida papers please note.

A ROOKIE A DAY

Gene Mauch, Dodgers' shortstop: He's only 18 years old and has played fewer than 50 games of professional ball, but right now Gene is the Brooklyn infield . . . The reason Leo Durocher tried a comeback at second and put Dixie Walker on third temporarily was to supply the steadying influence that would help Mauch live up to his early promise . . . He must be good to be worth that much effort and he's been looking more like a major leaguer in each of Brooklyn's few exhibitions . . . Enrolled in the Army Air corps and may be called in mid-season . . . Gene once was president of the student body at Piedmont, Calif., High school . . . If he makes good in Brooklyn, he can be elected president of the borough council.

SERVICE DEPT.

The Camp Davis, N. C., football team, which had trouble scheduling games last fall, already has heard from eleven outstanding service teams. Lifting the 25-mile travel restriction may have had something to do with it. . . . Basic training groups at Keesler field, Miss., have cooked up a game that combines basketball, soccer and football. They call it significantly, "murder." . . . Ens. Charlie O'Rourke, former Chicago Bears quarterback, has turned up in Ireland, where he says he was surprised to find some other O'Rourkes. He'd been looking at Notre Dame and Holy Cross lineups so long he thought the Irish were all Rymkuses, Osmanskis and Krauses.

Opening Of Baseball Season Is Psychological Blow At Axis

By JACK CUDDY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 18.—America deals the Axis another psychological blow today by opening the 1944 major league baseball season, apparently geared to carry the national pastime through its third full campaign of the global war.

Of the Axis partners, Japan best understands the significance of this opening. For years the Japanese studied baseball in the United States and tried to play it in their own country. Accordingly, there would have been much rejoicing among Hirohito and his henchmen today had the exigencies of war forced our ball parks to remain closed.

You may be sure also that the Nazi investigators of our national morale get an earache from the cry of "play ball!" in our major cities. Unquestionably, Herr Hitler, that earnest but erring student of mass psychology, has kept close tab on our baseball situation. It's that important!

High Officials See Importance

Although the international angle was not mentioned when Steve Early told Washington reporters that President Roosevelt "is pleased to see baseball continuing," there may have been more than met the ear in that statement. Likewise, when Mayor LaGuardia of New York boosted the game on the radio Sunday.

Excluding the effect of organized baseball upon the morale of workers at home and upon the morale of men in the armed forces, the opening of this major league season is an important international demonstration that the United States — although all-out for war—still can carry on tis most widely publicized divertissement. More important: That it can do this without showing a particle of preference to the men participating in the divertissement. No preference has been asked for ball players; and none has been given.

Heartening To Allies

Meanwhile, this demonstration that the United States, though making the greatest and most effective war effort of any country in history, still can carry on its national pastime, must be heartening to our Allies and other members of the United Nations. It must be of particular interest to Canada and to those Latin American republics wherein the gospel of baseball has been so widely disseminated.

Of far more importance than these international effects, of course, are the wholesome benefits to be garnered from another baseball season by our citizens at home and by our men in service. Baseball's contributions to the national morale have been stressed by the game's apostles ever since Pearl Harbor. There's little new about these contributions — these benefits to the public. They've merely been increasing for slightly more than a century, as the game spread throughout the land, and as improved methods of transportation and communication made it a diversion for millions. Today baseball is our most widely publicized entertainment. It gets more newspaper and radio space even than the movies. You might call it an institution.

This particular opening of the ball season should be a happy event for America and its friends; but bad news for Hitler and Hirohito.

Pro Football Meet Opens

Manpower First Topic For Study

PHILADELPHIA, April 18. (U.P.) —Officials of the National football league, here for the opening of the league's annual meeting, indicated today that discussion of how to fill their ranks with capable athletes would be one of the first topics up for consideration.

Several of the representatives indicated that the possibility of using college football players who had received medical discharges from the armed services and whose schools had abandoned the sport, would be discussed. It was pointed out, however, that permission for freshmen and sophomores who fall in that category to play would have to come from the respective colleges' athletic association and from league commissioner Elmer Layden.

Undergraduates Banned

League by-laws stipulate that no player may compete in the national professional league until the class in which he first entered college is granted. Team owners agreed last year to use juniors and seniors returning from service to play if their schools had abandoned football and permission was granted. The agreement, however, was not put to general use.

The use of such freshmen and sophomores would be of assistance to all teams who have already tapped the supply of available 4-F's and army dischargees. Some teams will present lineups showing 60 to 80 per cent of such players.

Early arrivals among the club owners generally were optimistic regarding the outlook for 1944 despite the loss of most of the name stars to the various services. They expressed a general opinion that 4-F's and medical dischargees would supply enough top-calibre players to place the league in better shape than it was last year.

BATON ROUGE, La., April 18 (AP)—C. B. Hodges, president of Louisiana State university, said today that the board of supervisors at the university had presented Coach Bernie Moore with a new 5-year contract.

Arkansas Football Schedule Announced

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., April 18 (AP) — The University of Arkansas football team next year will play Texas university in Little Rock October 21 and will meet Rice and two service teams in Fayetteville, the tentative football schedule announced today by Coach Glen Rose revealed.

The Porkers will play eleven games, all but three out of the state.

The schedule:

Dell Morgan To Speak To Levelland Gridders

LEVELLAND, April 18 (Special) —Head Coach Dell Morgan of Texas Technological college will be principal speaker when members of Levelland's district-winning grid team are guests tonight of a dinner program jointly sponsored by the Lions and Rotary clubs in the American Legion hall.

T. E. McCollom is program chairman and James A. Ellis will be master of ceremonies.

John Morton is president of the Rotary, G. T. Hatton of the Lions club.

Not all members of the district champions will be here — several are in the armed services.

Date palms produce from 100 to 400 pounds of dates a year.

Cowhands Out For Spring Grid Camp

The Lubbock Cowhands reported Monday to the Lubbock Spring football camp, with about 75 youngsters from the Junior High school turning out for the first day.

Coach Marlin "Shorty" Hayhurst spent most of the day issuing uniforms to the boys and getting them registered, but expects to put them through a stiff workout today.

The Lubbock Westerners' grid plans began to take shape Monday as Coach J. Mule Davis began to outline a few plays for the boys. The team worked on the new plays which will be the forerunner for intra-squad battles that will be a regular feature for the rest of the camp.

Coach Davis said Monday that he planned some scrimmage the latter part of this week, but those boys still taking part in track will see very little action in the scrimmage until released from the track squad.

What Readers Of The Evening Journal Say—

The Plainsman Gets Some Mail

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Letters from readers are welcomed at all times and on all subjects. However, no letter of more than 600 words will be considered for publication, and all letters belittling, or impugning the motive of any individual, firm or corporation must include for publication, the true name of the author. The Editor shall be the sole judge of whether or not letters may be published and cannot engage in correspondence concerning them)

URGES UNDERSTANDING

Dear Plainsman: In the last few days I have read letters to you that give out with, "We don't like you non-Texans anymore than you like us." Let's not have anymore of those rude statements. I don't think the writers of those letters have sons or brothers in the service, for if they had they would realize that these boys are all here by force, not choice or will.

They are dreadfully homesick. That is the main reason that Texas does not look good to them. No other state would look a bit better, in fact no boy would write home and say, "This is the finest state I have ever been in." They are all alike. They wish this mess was over.

So lets be kind-hearted and understanding and not add to their misery. After all, these boys are going out to fight for us, whether they are from Boston, Los Angeles, or St. Paul. And if they don't like Texas, let's help them to bear it. Laugh it off and quit acting like spoiled kids. I hope that I can always be an—

Understanding Texan,
Lubbock.

"SUPER" TEXAS

Dear Plainsman: My wife, who has remained in Lubbock since I've been in the Army, frequently sends me clippings from The Avalanche-Journal so I can keep up with what's going on at home. The other day she sent me your column in which you re-printed the exploits of Texans since the beginning of time, according to the "Yankees exiled in Texas" at the Amarillo Air base. I find this sentiment exists in a more or less degree wherever I've gone in the Army.

When anything "big" takes place in connection with the war effort, or otherwise, the soldiers from other states sit around and wait for Texans to come forward and take at least part of the credit. They are really disappointed when this doesn't happen.

According to us who are from Texas, this isn't a form of braggadocia, but is merely an expression of pride and loyalty to our home state.

The other day one of the officers here from Mississippi got a copy of the Memphis Commercial-Appeal which had pictures splashed all over the front page showing results of a hail storm there where the hail stones reached gigantic proportions. When our colonel, who is from Illinois, came around, the officer with the paper asked him if he wanted to see pictures of a "super" hail storm. The colonel said, "Where did it happen, in Texas? Everything I ever hear of that is 'super-duper' since I've been in the Army has some connection with Texas."

He was being facetious, of course, but maybe he had never seen a West Texas hail storm at that!

Yours,

That Girl on Broadway says what any person knows is what he's learned, minus what he's forgotten—so it couldn't be very much!

WE are sure there is considerable juvenile delinquency the nation over. There always is, even in normal times, and everyone knows that the current era — psychologically and otherwise — is of the sort which contributes to loose living; which is conducive to the throwing off of time-honored restraints upon the part of all members of the human family, regardless of age.

But lately so many social workers, government officials, preachers, editors, clubwomen and youth counsellors have cried out against juvenile delinquency that most of us are prone to believe—without thinking—that every youngster in the land is on the high road to perdition.

That, of course, is not true. Furthermore, despite the furore, most of the young people are just as good, basically, as the generations before them were at the same age—and a good deal smarter, to boot.

Most adults, The Plainsman included, rarely come into direct contact with the rank and file of the 'teen-age group in whatever city they happen to reside.

Therefore, it is natural for us old fuddy-duddies to believe everything we read and hear, from J. Edgar Hoover on down, to the effect that every kid between 12 and 20 is riding to hades in a basket.

We get reports from the seamy side, but not from the good side. And the first thing we know we're parroting that "Young America, rank and file, soon may be past all redemption."

WE adults can set ourselves right, and thereby perform a service to the kids, if we'll get out once-in-awhile and mix and mingle with the 'teen-agers in their off moments. Quite accidentally, The Plainsman did that the other night and learned a good lesson. He recommends that others do likewise—and learn, likewise—whenever the opportunity presents itself.

It so happened that we were invited to speak to a group of boys and girls between the ages of 15 and 18, all of whom are either seniors or juniors in Lubbock Senior High school. About two-thirds of the group was made up of girls. In all, about 25 were present and while we knew the names of four, we knew only one at all personally.

As one of only two adults present, The Plainsman sat on the sidelines watching the youngsters at their fun and, without their suspecting it, noting almost every word and action—actually studying them.

Everything we saw and heard impressed us that there was a group of happy, healthy young Americans, enjoying themselves and each other—entirely natural and unaffected. They weren't "eating their white bread," as the old saying goes. They were "eating their angel food cake." And they loved it.

* * *

The boys, in the first flush of young manhood and beginning to feel the dignity of their position, were carefully turned out and as polite as punch. There were some good heads among them, too, and some future talents already discernible. They were an impressive group. But, maybe because we have a houseful of boys of our own and no daughters, the girls present impressed us most.

Everyone of them was tastefully turned out in party dress. Not one was extremely attired.

There wasn't a homely girl in the crowd and several were as pretty as a peach. Every one of them was as fresh looking as the proverbial rose.

We were proud of those kids, because they were part and parcel of our home town. We thrilled with pride because they are typical—they are bound to be typical — of the 'teen-agers of the country from one end to the other.

THERE was a good bit of monkeybusiness connected with the program, which was exactly as it should have been. The youngsters "let themselves go" along that line and there wasn't a bit of cynicism in evidence; there wasn't a blase kid in the crowd.

Nobody can tell us—not even an old maid doctor of philosophy who makes a career out of telling mothers how to rear children—can convince us that there is anything wrong with youngsters who get a bang out of simple pleasures. And that's exactly what those kids were doing.

Since Lubbock is not a city set apart; since it must be considered as being populated by pretty average Americans of all ages, it occurs to us that our young people are very much like young Americans everywhere, from Orono, Maine, to Eugene, Ore., and from Los Angeles to Atlanta. None of us, no matter where we live, are anything "extra special." Therefore, isn't it logical that the picture we saw and have drawn here is fairly typical of that everywhere in the country?

We think it is.

We do not mean to leave the impression that the nation should shrug off juvenile delinquency wherever it raises its ugly head.

We do not mean to say that juvenile delinquency shouldn't be intelligently combatted with everything at the command of thinking society. It should be.

But we do mean that thoughtlessly smearing all youth with the stain of moral instability and general delinquency has become a fad; that it is wrong; it is without factual basis, and it is hurtful to the decent young people of the nation, which means most of them.

Get out and look at the run-of-the-mine of our American kids for yourself sometime.

You'll find they're a pretty good sort—fully as good as their predecessors in all generations!

WE mentioned here the other day the forthcoming visit to Lubbock of Dr. Earl Carlson, of New York and Florida, the celebrated specialist in spastic paralysis cases. But his visit here promises to be so important to so many people that we wish to again call attention to it and to a meeting of parents who have children suffering from the strange malady.

Spastic paralysis, while sometimes resulting from meningitis or a fall, usually results from an injury at birth. Many people call it "birth injury." In some way too technical for attempted explanation here, spastic paralysis removes the individual's control over, and co-ordination of, muscles and thus keeps most victims bound for life in a wheelchair or a bed.

Mrs. A. E. Jones, a leader in the fight on spastic paralysis in this section, reports that 20 victims of the disease have been discovered in this general area but she feels sure there are others. She asks that all parents of children thus handicapped get in touch with her at her home, 2112 Sixteenth street, telephone number 7627, at their earliest convenience.

Mrs. Jones also urges all parents of affected youngsters to attend a meeting at her home at 8 p. m. on April 20, which is Thursday night. There plans will be discussed concerning the forthcoming visit of Doctor Carlson.

This movement is an important one, especially to parents of child victims. It also is a humanitarian one and success of it will be hoped for by every citizens with the milk of human kindness flowing through his veins.

PLOUGHING STRAIGHT AGAIN
XIX

OUR luck, without warning, suddenly took a big turn for the better. The dilemma was solved, and my grandfather and I, for I was old enough now to be a partner in the work if not the farm enterprise itself, were offered a way out.

Our help came from the source of all our past assistance, Judge McNamara. He drove into the farmyard one evening after Old Jan and I had finished one of the slimmest meals that ever aggravated our hunger.

The Judge no longer wore his frock coat. He had bowed to the times He had adopted navy blue, double-breasted suits as the garb of an important public official. The mane of pure white hair was still his crowning glory, however, and his hat was in his hand as he came up the walk to the porch. He was sniffing the air, turning his head from left to right.

"Well, well," he commented. "Cant smell any alky-a-cookin'. Must have gone out of the business."

We could have added that he wasn't likely to smell much of anything else cooking, but I'm sure he knew that.

We settled down in the porch chairs.

"You know," the Judge started right off, I've made the lousiest business deal today a man ever made. Lousy's the word, isn't it, son?"

I replied that lousy was a good substantial word.

"I bought the damn mortgage on this farm," the Judge declared.

Old Jan winced.

"Yeh," the Judge continued disregarding Jan, "bank wouldn't have the thing around the place. Called me up today and offered it to me for practically nothing. I was sap enough to buy it."

OLD JAN was sitting straight up in his chair, batting into the air with his hands.

"Look here now, Judge," he started. "What you trying to pull? We're not charity patients and we don't propose to be your pet charity."

I could see the jaw start moving out, but the Judge must have rehearsed the handling of this situation.

"Listen, you old, broken-down Polack farmer," he yelled. Don't give me any of that. I'm not the Red Cross. I don't feel sorry for you and I got stuck with this mortgage. Now, if you'll keep your shirt on, I think we can all come out on the deal.

"I've got faith in this land in southeastern Colorado. It doesn't look like much now, but I know damned well it can come back if it's given a chance, if it's farmed right. That's going to be your job, and I'm going to see that you do it. I haven't got too much invested in this mortgage. I know I'm going to have to put a lot more in before this farm begins to pay out. But when I get through I got a hunch that I'm going to have a good sound investment to pass on to the relatives I'm responsible for. It's going to take the land and you and me, and when you're out of the picture, it's going to take the land and your grandson here. And, fortunately, the grandson is twice the man his grandfather is."

"By God," said Old Jan. "I'll walk off the place."

"You will not."

And we didn't

It was like starting farming all over again, farming with hope, farming with a future. We developed a plan of operations. First we had to hold the soil, then, gradually, turn all of the land back into grass. There would be no cash crops. It would be a livestock venture as it always should have been, as it was until the war years. Eventually a comparatively small portion of the acreage would be devoted to feed crops, with emphasis on drought resistant varieties. It would be slow, tedious work, but in the meantime we could live, could look forward to steady improvement in our returns.

"Now, we are 'ploughing' straight again, Little Jan, my lad," Old Jan would say in his enthusiasm.

I WAS doing some "ploughing" of my own, ploughing heavily through school books, for in the winters I was in town going to school again. I spent Saturdays and Sundays on the farm, but during the week I lived in town. I had a room in the basement of Judge McNamara's home, tended the furnace and did the little work around the house for my room and board. Mary Hughes was ahead of me in school, for I had missed a couple of years. Yet, occasionally, when there was a school function for which she had no date, she would draft me to take her. I was back in a pleasant flow of living.

Old Jan, too, enjoyed those years. He was building back the farm. It was fruitful work, even though discouraging at times. It was hard work. Old Jan had to be constantly on the alert to prevent the wind from further ravaging his soil. If the land started to blow, he had to get out onto it immediately to roughen it up. Then there was replanting, sometimes several times, for the wind-blown soil would cut off the tender shoots like emery.

The Judge watched the development closely and the friendship between the two men ripened into something fearful to behold.

THE BYRNES DOLE SCHEME

The WPA relief rolls of the worst depression years listed no more than a sprinkling of names, and the cost was negligible, compared with the federal unemployment benefit scheme which was outlined a few nights ago by War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes during a New York address.

At their peak, the WPA rolls listed five to six million names. Heaven alone knows how many names would be on the federal benefit dole proposed by Mr. Byrnes, but it might run up to 30 millions, or even more.

People on the WPA rolls had to make at least the pretense of doing some sort of work for the money they received. Mr. Byrnes proposes benefits without requiring any effort. Those on the WPA rolls received negligible amounts of money — in most cases, just enough to hold body and soul together. Mr. Byrnes advocates benefits which would be based, in some degree, upon swollen war boom earnings. Mr. Byrnes, in short, is proposing more help for several times more people, wholly without effort on their part, than WPA ever dreamed of during its lushest days.

Despite all this, it doubtless is proper that the Byrnes scheme should be given full consideration. But it is difficult to see how consideration possibly could be favorable except by those who would burden the nation with something far more difficult, far more expensive and infinitely less deserving that WPA ever was.

2,000 BOMBERS

FORT WORTH, April 18 (AP)—The Fort Worth division of Consolidated Vultee Aircartf corporation in a press release today said more than 2,000 four-engine bombers and transports had flown from the plant during the past year. The plant marked its second production anniversary Monday.

The smelt gets its name from its distinctive odor, which resembles that of the cucumber.

Tank Driver Risks Life To Save Picture Of Fickle Girl

Everybody's Under Fire On Anzio Beachhead

BY ERNIE PYLE
Journal War Correspondent

WITH Fifth Army Beachhead Forces In Italy, April 18 — (By Wireless)—Here on the Anzio beachhead nobody is immune.

It's not only a standing joke, but a standing fact, that a lot of front - line people would not voluntarily come back into the hot Anzio - Nettuno area for a small fortune.

ERNIE PYLE

People whose jobs through all the wars of history have been safe ones, up here are as vulnerable as the fighting man. Bakers and typewriter repairman and clerks are not absolved from shells and bombs. Table waiters are in the same boat.

When I'm back in the harbor area writing, I eat at a mess for staff officers. Twice within 10 days, big shells have demolished buildings on either side of this mess.

Waiters Get Mention

The four boys who serve us here asked if I would mention them in the paper. I said I certainly would, not only because they're doing a dangerous job but also because they are four of the most courteous and best-dispositioned men I've ever met. They are:

Corp. Harold Gibson, of Booth Bay Harbor, Me.; Pvt. Lloyd Farlee, of Pierce, Neb.; Pvt. Herb Wullschleger, of Wichita, Kas., and Pvt. Charles Roderick, of Salem, Mass.

HERE is a sad story. It concerns a tank driver named Corp. Donald Vore, a farm boy from Auxvasse, Mo.

The corporal had a girl back home he was crazy about. After he came to Italy she sent a beautiful new big photograph of herself. Like most tank men, he carried it with him in his tank.

The other day a shell hit the tank. It caught fire, and the whole crew piled out and ran as fast as they could. Corporal Vore had gone a little way when he suddenly stopped, turned, and went dashing back to the tank.

Gets "Last Message"

Flames were shooting out of it, and its heavy ammunition was beginning to go off. But he went right into the flaming tank, disappeared a moment, and came climbing out—with his girl's picture safely in his hand.

A few hours later the crew came trudging back to home base. Mail had arrived during their absence. There was a letter for Corporal Vore from his girl. He tore it open. The letter was merely to tell him she had married somebody else.

They said that if it hadn't been such a long walk back, and he hadn't been so tired, Corporal Vore would have returned to his tank and deposited the picture in the flames.

ABOUT a year ago I wrote an item about the numerous uses we'd found for the brushless shaving cream which is issued to frontline troops.

Its virtues are legion. It is perfect for sun and windburn, nurses shampoo their hair in it, it soothes fleabites and softens chapped hands and cracked fingers. And now the soldiers have discovered that if they'll massage their feet with it once a day, it goes a long way toward preventing the dreaded trench-foot.

It's a shame somebody doesn't shave with it once in a while.

War Plays Queer Trick

Some soldiers were telling me the other day about running onto another soldier stretched out in the back seat of a jeep, way up front, almost in No-Man's-Land.

His helmet was down over his eyes, and he had a half-smoked cigar in his mouth. They were in dangerous territory, and they went to take a closer look at a soldier so nonchalant.

He was dead. A sniper had shot him through the back of the helmet. He was just lying there, looking perfectly relaxed, the cigar still in his mouth. He had been dead two days.

* * *

THE other day I ran onto Maj. Henry Frankel, of Brooklyn. I've been crossing his trail ever since July of 1942 in Ireland, and every time I see him he has gone up a notch in rank. When I first knew him he was a lieutenant.

Major Frankel speaks about eight languages, but as far as I can see, a man with his luck doesn't need to speak anything. Listen to this—

The other day he was digging a dugout in the back yard of a place he had picked out for billeting, and he dug up a case and a half of fine cognac, numerous bottles of benedictine, anisette and old wines, a box of silverware, and a gallon of olive oil.

Being an honest man, Major Frankel hunted up the Italian owner who had buried it, and gave him back everything except the 18 bottles of cognac. These he kept as a reminder of his own meticulous honesty, and shared them with other parched and deserving Americans.

DO YOU HAVE AN IRRIGATION WELL?

And would you invest $114 now for a good chance to realize $471.00 profit off one acre in three months?

Onions grow well in West Texas but seed onions have the multiple hazards of wind damage, freezing, hail, and late maturity, while onions transplanted have only the hail hazard. We have onions out which have 100% survived the conditions of the past three weeks, including the 16 degree freeze. Bermuda onions are all right transplanted up to May 1st, and Spanish Onions to May 15th. The Bermudas mature about July 10th, the Spanish around August 1st.

The country has had an onion famine and it will take hundreds of carloads to give everybody a sample in May the supply will be more plentiful, but the June prospects in North Texas are estimated at 20% to 25% of normal. That gives the market about 40 days to clean up before the maturity date of Bermudas out here. I have yellow Spanish on hand now, and will have yellow and white Bermudas and White Spanish for sale at the Three Circle Farm, 3 miles west of Shallowater, in a few days.

It takes 18 crates to set an acre in 20 inch rows. Yellow Spanish are $4.50 per crate of 6000, yellow Bermudas $3.00, White Bermudas and Spanish $3.50.

We are getting them set out for an overall cost of 35c per thousand.

The ceiling prices set by the O.P.A. are liberal and already buyers are offering high prices for acreage around Farmersville.

Come out and look the deal over. We are transplanting about 50 acres and should wind up about May 1st. You can't sell onions high next summer unless you take a chance NOW.

Lonergan Placed In Cell At Sing Sing

OSSINING, N. Y., April 18 (AP) —Playboy Wayne Lonergan was placed in a Sing Sing prison cell today, starting a 35-year-to-life term for the strangulation slaying of his wife, Patricia, heiress to $7,000,000.

The 26-year-old former Royal Canadian Air craftman made the 30-mile trip from New York in a closely-guarded, bullet-proof limousine shortly after being sentenced by General Sessions Judge James G. Wallace.

Before donning a drab gray prison uniform, the one-time natty night life figure replied to prison officials' routine questions with the same cool demeanor he exhibited through his two-week murder trial.

"To what do you attribute your criminal act?" he was asked.

"I deny guilt," he replied.

HOUSTON, April 18. Mayo of Houston told 1,200 Texas dentists at the Texas Dental society's 64th annual convention today.

"Dry Water" Due To Be Boon In Saving Natural Gas Wells

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., April 18—Dry water, so named because it contains a dash of stuff that causes it to evaporate rapidly, is in use to save natural gas wells from ruin by flooding.

Dry water is made at the Pennsylvania State college by mixing with ordinary water a little acetone and ether. The savings are so big they promise to increase our natural gas resources.

The discovery of the well-saving process was announced by Dr. Samuel T. Yuster, associate professor of petroleum and natural gas engineering, and K. J. Sonney, of the United Natural Gas company, Oil City, Pa.

Water Seals Off Gas

When a gas well drowns, its bore fills with water, which also seeps from the bore into the rock-like sand which carries the gas. This water backing into the sand effectively seals off the flow of gas, and it has been difficult to restore such drowned wells to useful production.

To recover a drowned well, the water is pumped out of the bore hole. The acetone-ether mixture is run into the well and forced under air pressure, to penetrate into the water-filled pores of the gas sands.

Water Not Forced Back

The acetone does not force the water back farther into the sand to any extent, because this chemical is soluble in water. The acetone and ether mix with the water to render it much drier. At the same time, the natural gas increases the evaporation rate of the water. The result is to break the water ring around the well and permit gas to resume flowing.

The method was proved by drowning and then unplugging three wells of the United Natural Gas company. A well of 1,000,000 cubic feet capacity came back to 98.8 per cent of its flow. The other wells did about as well.

Natural catastrophes drown gas wells. Also drowning sometimes has to be used in order to make repairs on a gas well, in spite of risk of losing a lot of the well's capacity.

Concern On Indian Situation Dispelled

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten's favorable overall assurance regarding the Allied position in relation to the Japanese invasion of the remote Manipur district of northeast India should help dispel some of the public concern which has been created in Allied countries by lack of adequate official news of the operations.

There's nothing on the face of the situation to warrant us in refusing to accept the assurances of the high command that the Allies have the invasion in hand.

What we seem to have been up against mainly has been faulty official presentation of the news.

Never A Major Threat

Analysis of all the circumstances surrounding this Japanese invasion make it clear that it never has presented a major threat to India proper. How could three or four divisions of men seriously threaten that vast sub-continent?

The British have at least a million troops, trained and fully armed, ready for action in India. They have hundreds of thousands of reserves. They have vast quantities of materiel. There are powerful American and British air forces in that theater. And there are transport facilities available to move adequate aid to the invasion area.

But how could such a small Japanese force penetrate into India if the Allies were prepared? Well, it's the easiest thing in the world for enemy columns to outflank one another in jungles so dense, that one can see only a few yards.

Penetration Easy

It has been easy for the Nipponese to penetrate to the big plain in which stands the city of Imphal — the main Allied base in that theater. Imphal is the immediate objective of the enemy. He wants it so that he himself can have a base from which he can strike at the Allied communications just to the west.

However, Mountbatten's headquarters assures us that the plain of Imphal is strongly held by Allied forces, and that the city is secure. So is the town of Kohima, sixty miles north of Imphal.

A month from now the Burmese jungle will be deluged from the monsoon which will last until fall. If the invading Japanese are still sticking to the Manipur district without a base, they will indeed be in a bad way, for the jungle paths will be turned into raging torrents.

There's no reason for us to conjure up bugbears out of this situation.

Representatives To Boys' State From City Are Selected

The list of Lubbock representatives who will take part in the annual "boy's state" observance in Austin in June has been completed, according to an announcement Monday.

They will be Jimmie Lowrey, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Lowrey of 1926 Twenty-seventh street, representative of the American Legion; Billy Felty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis J. Felty of 2103 Sixth street, representative of Kiwanis club; David Hester, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt L. Hester of 1918 Twenty-eighth street, representative of American Business club; Robert Conley, son of Mrs. Ernest Conley of 2113 Main street, representative of the Optimist club; Fred McDonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex McDonald of 2221 Eighteenth street, representative of the Rotary club, and Herbert Hawkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Hawkins of 2501 Twenty-eighth street, representative of the Lions club.

The boys were named by the Legion and the luncheon clubs from a list of 20 juniors nominated by H. J. McCabe, Lowrey, H. D. Stanley and Dixie White. There was no "particular qualification, except that each nominee was outstanding for his qualities of citizenship and his capacity for furthering that quality."

The youths will be in Austin from June 6 to 13, and will organize themselves into various "town and county political units, then will conduct an election in approved manner of their elders and fill places from governor down to precinct; hold legislative sessions and otherwise be afforded a chance to learn as much as possible about the political setup of our state," it was announced.

The Legion has sponsored the plan in all states, but this year Allen Bros. post here suggested that other groups might like to sponsor an expense-paid trip for one boy each.

OWI Building Strong Radio Transmitter

WASHINGTON, April 18 (AP) — The Office of War Information is building in southern California a $1,000,000 short wave radio transmitter which officials rescribed as "perhaps the most powerful station beamed into the Pacific by any belligerent."

OWI disclosed the project today in stating that the facility will be erected and operated by Columbia Broadcasting system for OWI and the coordinator of inter-American affairs.

The Defense Plant corporation last week announced the award to CBS of a $450,000 contract for the station, located at Delano, Kern county, Calif.

The new outlet, for propaganda purposes and entertainment of troops, will be "very high-powered," an OWI spokesman said, and is expected to reach the entire Pacific theater of war. Exact kilowatt details were withheld however.

Cold Cuts Southern Peach Crop Severely

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., April 18. (AP)—The late freeze will cost southern peach growers an estimated 10,000,000 bushels of production, Secretary Carroll R. Miller of the national peach council said today.

He reported the cold weather of April 4-5, coupled with earlier freezes in Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas, has reduced the expectable crop in 10 southern states to an estimated 9,200,000 bushels.

Last years yield was only 5,100,000 bushels, but in 1942 it was 20,800,000 bushels and the 10-year average is 16,700,000 bushels.

Miller emphasized that estimates now are tentative, inasmuch as complete injury and recovery cannot be gauged until later in the growing season.

He said there had been no reported damage north of the Mason Dixon line.

TUBERCULOSIS PROPOSAL

WASHINGTON, April 18. (AP)—A public health service division of tuberculosis with an appropriation of $10,000,000 for its use was proposed today by Senator Thomas (D-Utah).

Infant Death Rate Rising

HOUSTON, April 18 (AP)—Overcrowded hospitals, lack of domestic help and shortages of doctors are pushing the infant death rate in Texas cities upward, Dr. Austin E. Hill, city health officer, will tell a joint meeting of health officers and the public health section of the Texas Medical association in Austin Thursday.

Dr. Hill in an interview today listed other reasons for the increased death rate to too much traveling with young babies, difficulties of soldiers wives, who frequently live in strange communities, and war work by pregnant women.

Dr. Hill made the survey with the cooperation of Texas municipal health officers.

12 Cities Studied

In 12 Texas cities studied infant deaths increased 751 from 2,189 in 1942 to 2,940 in 1943, he reported. With 46,230 live births for 1942 and 58,043 in 1943, the death rate per 1,000 live births jumped from 47.35 for 1942 to 50.65 in 1943, he said.

Increases in the infant death rate in Houston, Beaumont and Tyler have been largely responsible for the larger statewide figure, Dr. Hill stated.

In Beaumont the comparative figures were 48.62 for 1943 and 42.40 for 1942; in Tyler 35.3 in 1943 and 31.7 in 1942.

San Antonio Led State

San Antonio led the state last year with an infant death rate of 68 per 1,000 live births but this figure represented a decline of .8 from 1942, Dr. Hill said. Corpus Christi had a 1943 rate of 67. The 1942 figure was not available. With a death rate of 63.1 in 1943, El Paso recorded a decline of 2.4 from the 1942 figure.

Wichita Falls' rate dropped from 41.4 per 1,000 live births in 1942 to 30 for 1943 while Austin's figure slumped from 49.67 in 1942 to 41.81 last year, Dr. Hill reported.

Tahoka Fire Destroys 2,104 Bales Of Cotton

Lubbock Fire Chief W. E. Twitty said 2,104 bales of cotton were destroyed Monday night by fire that swept a cotton yard in north Tahoka.

It was the second disastrous cotton fire within months at the Lynn county seat. Last fall 1,853 bales were burned up at another yard, Twitty said.

Twitty said when he and several of his firemen arrived, bringing a hose truck, about 600 bales were untouched. That was at 7:30 o'clock. A few minutes later the wind direction turned from northwest to northeast, sweeping the blaze through the remaining bales.

Every bale in the yard was destroyed, Twitty said.

High wind velocity hindered firemen in efforts to combat spreading of the fire.

Chief Twitty said origin of the blaze had not been ascertained.

Fire Threatens Red River MK&T Bridge

DENISON, Tex., April 18. (AP)—A Frisco railroad work train which happened to be nearby probably saved the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad bridge across Red river Monday when driftwood under the structure caught afire.

Denison firemen extinguished the blaze at the base of the span but could not reach the top of the trestle with portable equipment. The Frisco train took a tank of water over the fire and put it out. Damage to the bridge was negligible.

Annual 'Muster' Of Aggies Set Friday

The annual "muster" of former students of Texas A. & M. college is to be held in Hilton hotel Friday night at 7 o'clock, according to an announcement Tuesday by W. G. McMillan.

The muster, a stag affair, will be one of thousands held by A. & M. men throughout the world on that date, annual day of gathering for all Aggies. The first celebration was held in 1903 and this year's meetings are to be held especially to perpetuate a similar muster of 25 Aggies on Corregidor, shortly before it fell to the Japs back in April, 1942.

Aggie musters will be held this year in the South Pacific, Alaska, England, Italy, India, China, the Canal Zone and "any place where two A. & M. exes happen to be," McMillan said. A. & M. has furnished more officers for the armed forces than any other school, it was pointed out.

Especially invited to the Lubbock muster are A. & M. men stationed at the two Army air fields here and the training detachments at Texas Tech, McMillan said.
