HEMBREE DIES IN CHAIR

INDIAN FORCES SMILE AS DEATH HELMET PLACED ON HEAD

(By The Associated Press)

McALESTER, Okla., April 17.—E. S. (Choc) Hembree, 38-year-old Indian, died in the electric chair early today for criminally attacking and shooting Leota Bosley, 23-year-old school teacher of Loco, Okla., thirteen months ago.

Just before the death helmet was placed over his head and face, Hembree smiled at the fifty men who witnessed the execution, then waved farewell with his left arm before it was strapped to the chair. The smile seemed somewhat forced, and as the helmet slipped over his face he appeared to grit his teeth and steel himself for the electric shock.

Before walking to the chair, Hembree had shaken hands with fourteen men in the room, including state penitentiary officials, doctors, official witnesses and the prison chaplain. Just before seating himself in the chair he reached over the back of it and shook hands with the state's executioner.

Asked by Warden Sam Brown if he had anything to say, Hembree's only words were: "I appreciate all the favors you have done for me." He hesitated and then added "that is about all."

SAN QUENTIN, Cal., April 17, (AP)—Robert Joyce Tasker, 26, who as a convict writer won wide recognition for his novels and short stories, left San Quentin prison on parole yesterday and went to Hollywood to take an editorial position with a film magazine.

Tasker entered prison Oct. 16, 1924, for holding up an Oakland grocery stor, using a broken revolver. His term was fixed at ten years. Time off for good behavior made him eligible to parole.

Actress, Husband Must Marry Again

LOS ANGELES, April 17.(AP)—Helen Twelvetrees, screen actress and Frank Woody, real estate broker, plan to be married again.

Their secret marriage in Reno, Nev., March 21 was revealed when the actress forgetfully wore a brand new wedding ring to work the day she returned from the honeymoon.

Soon it was determined the marriage was performed approximately ten days before Miss Twelvetrees' divorce from Clark Twelvetrees had become final.

"It was just an unfortunate misunderstanding of dates," Woody said last night. "We'll get married again in California, and soon."

DISMISSED

Chief Deputy Sheriff O. B. Conley, below, yesterday was dismissed by Sheriff Wade Hardy. The dismissal order became effective immediately.

CHIEF DEPUTY CONLEY GETS DISMISSAL

INDICATES HE MAY BE CANDIDATE IN RACE FOR SHERIFF

Dismissal of Chief Deputy Sheriff O. B. Conley from the Lubbock county sheriff's department Thursday afternoon was revealed this morning by Sheriff Wade Hardy after he had been asked to substantiate the report.

Cutting departmental costs by reduction of personnel was the reason given by Sheriff Hardy for dismissal of the chief deputy. The dismissal order became effective immediately, he said.

Says No Reason Given

Conley this morning said that Sheriff Hardy had declined to give him a definite reason for the dismissal.

Conley intimated that the conversation which followed led him to believe that his plans to be a candidate for Lubbock county sheriff in the next election had a bearing on the dismissal. Sheriff Hardy, in reply to a query, said that he expected to be a candidate for re-election, according to Conley.

Earnest To Serve

Deputy Sheriff Will Earnest will serve as acting chief deputy, and no successor to Conley has been chosen, Sheriff Hardy said this morning.

Conley joined the sheriff's department in mid-January of 1929 as chief deputy, coming to the county force from the city police department.

TWENTY HELD IN CRIME SYNDICATE

NEW YORK, Apr. 17. (AP)—Twenty persons were under arrest today as members of what police said was a crime syndicate that dealt in murder, arson and robbery, much as a grocer deals in potatoes.

New York and Newark detectives, who participated in the roundup, said the gang was responsible for three killings, six cases of arson and numerous holdups, with counterfeiting carried on as a sideline.

Detectives said a price scale was arranged. For instance, they declared, an arson job on an ordinary two story frame dwelling cost $500.

GIRL'S FATHER CHARGED IN ASSAULT

SPUR MAN CHARGED IN DEATH OF GIRL IS FARMER'S TARGET

(Special To The Journal)

SPUR, April 17.—Target of a father stirred by the unexplained death of a 19-year-old daughter, J. N. Edmonson, 30-year-old Spur mechanic, was in a critical condition at Nichols sanitarium here this morning. Attending physicians conceded him only a bare chance of recovery.

A leaden pellet from a pistol fired by C. H. Foreman, prominent Dickens county farmer, struck Edmonson in the lower left abdomen and tore his intestines in five places. His condition appeared even more critical, hospital attaches said, than it did soon after the shooting which occurred at about 4 o'clock Friday afternoon. Edmonson made a short statement in connection with the case today, Sheriff W. B. Arthur said.

Free On Bail

Edmonson was free in bail of $2,000 on a murder charge filed against him in connection with the death of Miss Elsie Foreman, Sunday, in a Crosbyton hotel where she and Edmonson had registered as Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Edmonson of Stamford.

The young woman's father was arrested by Chief Deputy Sheriff J. W. Nichols, who saw the shooting, and charged with assault with intent to murder.

Wounding of Edmonson followed a long talk between Foreman and Edmonson, Chief Deputy Sheriff Nichols said. The shooting occurred in a local garage.

Edmonson was arraigned before County Judge O. C. Newberry at Dickens, and waived examining trial. He was freed on bond of $1,000.

Several Sign Bond

More than a dozen Spur citizens made the trip to Dickens to sign Foreman's bond and as many more called by telephone and offered to act as sureties, according to Sheriff Arthur.

The accused man declined to

McGuire at Lamesa, trial judge in the case.

Judge McGuire was advised yesterday that Pope was in custody of the sheriff at Weatherford. It is understood that one of his bondsmen asked to be withdrawn from the bond. With the decision of the appeals court the Pope trial would be again before the trial court.

MODERN COLLEGE LIFE CHARGED WITH UNDERMINING HEALTH OF STUDENTS

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, April 17—Modern college life was charged today with undermining the health of students and sending out run down men and women to do the pioneering work of the world.

The indictment was made by Dr. Lee H. Ferguson, director of the student health service at Western Reserve university and chairman of the committee on tuberculosis of the national conference on college hygiene which will report to the conference at Syracuse next month.

Dr. Ferguson based his assertion on work at Western Reserve where students have been given regular physical examinations and reports from other institutions of higher learning.

He called upon university authorities to take steps to remedy a situation which is undermining student health. Some of the best students, overburdened by increasingly difficult curricula have had to drop out because of poor health. Facilities for recreation, Dr. Ferguson said, are not what they should be. Students should have thorough physical examinations.

"Modern college life is taking a terrific toll among students."

YARD CONTEST PLANS MADE

LUBBOCK GARDEN AND KIWANIS CLUBS TO SPONSOR EVENT

Plans for the annual yard and garden contest were started at a meeting this morning of committees representing the Kiwanis club and Lubbock Garden club at chamber of commerce offices. Other groups will be asked to join in sponsoring the contest, which begins immediately.

Every yard in the city this year will be declared in the contest and will be judged, the committee announced, as contrasted to solicitations of entries last year.

"You Win If You Lose" was adopted as the slogan of the annual yard and garden contest, and members of the committee pointed out that there was no relation between the class of a home, the amount invested in it, and possibility of its being a winner in the beautification program.

Durwood Bradley, B. Sherrod, and J. B. Maxey compose the Kiwanis club committee which attended this morning's conference.

Members of the Garden club committee present were:

Mrs. Clark M. Mullican, Mrs. Frank Winn, Miss Delia Wilkinson, Mrs. George N. Atkinson, and Mrs. M. C. Overton.

OKLAHOMAN CHARGED AFTER AN ATTACK OF PUBLISHER

(By Associated Press)

HOLDENVILLE, Okla., April 17—Charges of assault with intent to kill were filed today against State Senator Tom Anglin by Assistant County Attorney R. D. Howell, jr., after investigation of an alleged attack by Anglin on Tom R. Phillips, Holdenville publisher, yesterday.

Anglin, waiving preliminary hearing, was bound over to district court under $2,500 bond.

Has No Statement

He declined to make a statement.

The next term of distrct court is scheduled for July.

Due to alleged friction between Phillips and District Judge George C. Crump of the Hughes county district, Phillips said he would have his attorneys demand Judge Crump's disqualification in the case.

The attack allegedly was made on the main street of Holdenville yesterday afternoon when Anglin and Phillips chanced to meet. Anglin was with O. F. Huser, Hughes county election board secretary, at the time of the reported encounter.

No Shots Fired

Howell said he was told by witnesses that Anglin spurned an attempt of Phillips to shake hands in greeting and struck at Phillips, later drawing an automatic pistol and threatening the publisher. He was disarmed and no shots were fired, officers said.

PLAINVIEW HOST TODAY AS PRESS CONCLAVE OPENS

PLAINVIEW, April 17 (AP)—Opening the 24th annual convention of the Panhandle Press association here today, Olin E. Hinkle of Pampa, president, asserted that the newspaper business was due to undergo many important changes in the decade, "some good, some bad," but that the country press was destined to retain its sound position without radical alteration.

He referred to scientific advancement as proof that present methods of assembling news would be obsolete in a few years. Unless the profession can absorb new methods without abusing hard-won privileges, he predicted the necessity might arise for repeating the fight for a free press and decent press.

Hinkle cited "the new sensationalism in pictures" and recent tendencies of courts to restrict the gathering and printing of news in a way that modern science permits. He urged progressive yet conservative publishers not to give ground and yet not be unreasonable in dealing with law enforcement.

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 17—Mayor Walker, against whom charges of incompetency have been filed with Governor Roosevelt, has decided on the keynote of his reply. It will assert that the mayor is an administrative officer, "not a detective."

"It is not the mayor's business," he said, "to open desks and drawers and go snooping and sniffing around corners to check up hourly on the actions of 130,000 city employes."

His answer, running into thousands of pages of statistics and history, will be delivered to the governor shortly.

No Money Paid

When found, Blumer showed the strain of the nervous tension he has been under for more than week. He was ushaven, his clothes were badly in need of pressing and he was desperately tired.

Alive and Unhurt

Blumer himself sent out the first word that he was alive and unhurt. At 9:30 o'clock last night he telephoned Wells from the hotel. Fearing a hoax, Wells had Lutzinger listen in on the conversatio. Blumer covinced them of his idetity and his frieds hurried to Decatur.

Blumer was released, Wells said, when his abductors became frightened at the close pursuit of police. Rockford, Ill., authorities and Chicago police led by Detective Lieutenant William Cusack, conducted the search in and near Rockford ad in vicinity of Streator, Ill. BLIND SCHOLAR TELLS HOW NEW YORK "LOOKS" TO A MAN WHO CANNOT SEE

BY LORENA HICKOK

NEW YORK April 17 (AP)—Halvdan Karterud, a blind scholar, walked the streets of New York and told how a great city "looks" to a man who cannot see.

A bizarre and confusing babel of human voices speaking many tongues.

Ceaseless scream and rumble and clang of metallic, mechanical sounds.

Endless canyons walled in by immense buildings—vast sounding boards whose height his ears cannot measure beyond five stories.

A sensation of going up and up and up in an elevator to a level where the air feels thinner about his temples.

Mr. Karterud, one of Norway's outstanding blind teachers, is a delegate to the world conference on work for the blind, now meeting at the Hotel Pennsylvania. He has been blind since birth.

Of the 120 delegates, representing 37 nations at the conference, about one fourth are blind. What they "see" in New York, he said, must be just about the same as his impression.

Their "eyes" are their ears, their clever, sensitive fingers

TWO CHILDREN, MAN, WOMAN PERISH

LEAKING GAS PIPE AT KILGORE TODAY IS CAUSE OF BLAZE

(By The Associated Press)

KILGORE, April 17.—A pillar of fire from a leaking gas pipe line burned a man and woman and two children to death in their tent home three miles from here on the Longview road early today.

The victims are: Mrs. Kate Dodson, 39, her two children, J. D. Howell, 9, and J. B. Howell, 6, and Burt Bishop, 22.

Others Escape

Mrs. Dodson's husband and several other children were believed to have escaped.

The fire occurred shortly after midnight and it was not until 7 o'clock this morning that searchers could remove the bodies from the smouldering ruins of the tent.

The fire, shooting 200 feet into the air, ignited the nearby forest but the Kilgore fire department succeeded in bringing the forest fire under control. The victims came here recently from Arkansas.

How the leaking gas became ignited was not known.

The deaths brought the toll from fire to six here in the last two days. Joe Lamb, 25, of Houston, and Milton H. Petteway were burned to death in an explosion at the Humble Oil company camp three miles from here yesterday.

M. J. Pendleton was in a serious condition from burns received in the same explosion.

Lamb died shortly after the blast. Petteway died in a Henderson hospital last night.

Later today, employes of the Atlas Pipeline company said 2,500 barrels of oil burned when the pipeline broke (a three-foot split in the line had occurred near the scene.

The company had installed a new "booster" station three days ago and pressure was not steady because the station was being tried out. Employes had not detected the leak because of the variable pressure in the line. The fire followed a creek bed where many people were camped.

Mrs. Dodson and her two children were burned to death in the same bed. The fire started at 4 a. m. and the charred bodies of the four persons were found about 45 minutes later.

Highway Grading Nears Completion

Grading and drainage work on state highway No. 24 in Crosby county, from the western line of the district to the edge of the caprock in Blanco canyon, is expected to be completed by Saturday, according to Guy R. Johnston, divisional construction engineer of the state highway department. Womack, Herring & Rollins, is the contracting firm doing the work.

Some of the highway has been opened to traffic and the rest will be by the first of the week. Only a small amount of concrete work was necessary, the total being 100 cubic yards.

The new route will join the present route in the eastern part of Crosbyton and the old road down the caprock will be used for some time until an arrangement can be made to build another road down the caprock.

From the Dickens county line west to a point more than midway through the canyon, the road was finished several months ago. It now saves more than a mile of road and with completion of the highway across the canyon about three miles will be saved between Lubbock and Spur.

ONLY ONE COFFEE IS ROASTED UNDER SCIENTIFIC CONTROL

Hills Bros. Use Radically Different, Patented Process to Develop Finer Flavor

The housewife who cooks food in small quantities to insure perfect results will instantly recognize the value of Hills Bros.' patented, continuous process—Controlled Roasting—as a means to develop the utmost flavor in coffee.

Instead of the rare blend of fine coffees being roasted in bulk, which is the ordinary method, only a few pounds at a time are roasted. These small quantities pass continuously through the "Controlled Roasters" in which heat and speed of operation are automatically controlled.

Because of this accurate control of the flow of coffee and the heat, every berry of the blend is roasted evenly. None are overdone—none are under-roasted. This uniformity is demonstrated in the cup of coffee eventually made. It has a flavor other coffees cannot equal because they are not roasted the same way.

Hills Bros. Coffee is sold everywhere by grocers. It comes to you perfectly fresh because it is packed in vacuum. This process extracts air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, from the can and keeps it out. Ordinary cans, even if airtight, do not keep coffee fresh. Ask for Hills Bros. Coffee by name and look for the Arab—the trade-mark—on the can.

Anti-Feminist Will Visit America

BY MINOTT SAUNDERS
NEA Service Writer

PARIS, April 13—"Women are wrong to give up a kingdom to become a departmental worker for the state."

This is the opinion of Madame Lucie Delarue-Mardrus, well known author and one of the most brilliant of the modern women of France. She is an ardent anti-feminist, as that term is generally understood, and this is going to be one of her talking points when she goes to America within a few weeks for a lecture tour.

The civil code of France practically puts women in the class of minors, but actually they have little cause to envy their sisters of other countries who have equal rights with men. Mme. Delarue-Mardrus answered the statement of a French journalist, that the inferior civil status of the women in France caused them to kill their husbands, with the remark that it was all nonsense. She scouted the idea with derision.

A Coming of Age

"It is true that women here do not have the same rights as men and that they are merely minors in the eyes of the law," she said. "If they are enfranchised, it will mean that they are grown up. They will change the civil code so that they will no longer need to ask their husband's permission to work, can have bank accounts without his consent, keep their own money, and do as they please. But will the vote really mean all that? Have they not in reality all these things in fact, if not in name?

"Perhaps I am wrong, but I think that in asking for the vote women are giving up a kingdom for something much lower."

There has been another flurry here on behalf of the women's suffrage measure which has been toyed with by Parliament for many sessions. This would give women the vote, on an equal status with men. The Chamber of Deputies has passed it, but the Senate has repeatedly voted it down. It is generally recognized that the Chamber acts with an eye on the constituencies, while the venerable senators, more secure in their seats and less likely to turn with political winds, simply vote it down and leave the issue in the air.

Not Interested in Vote

There is an organized suffrage movement in France, but it isn't very strong. Regardless of propaganda and infrequent demonstrations of a lame nature, it is only too obvious that the average French woman is not interested in the vote. This always seems strange to American and English women observers, but the reason unquestionably lies in a different philosophy which the women of France maintain. Mme. Delarue-Mardrus explains it in this way:

"Women have always been the power behind the throne. In their former status they were honored, loved and praised, which is what a woman wants in life if she is sincere wth herself. On the other hand, the men whom they ruled had all the cares and responsibilities and grew gray following out their bidding. Now women will have the name as well as the game, but they will have also the responsibilities that go with it, the criticism leveled against those in charge, and they will grow old and wrinkled. And in the end what have they achieved of fundamental importance to them?"

Mme. Lucie Delarue-Mardrus . . . an ardent anti-feminist.

Mme. Delarue-Mardrus thinks that women should strive, rather, to cling to the advantages that they have always had, but if they insist upon equal political rights they should shoulder equal obligations.

Urges Women Serve State

"This is a very important thing," she said. "I do not think that it would be fair for men to have to serve the state two years in military service in return for the privilege of citizenship and the franchise, and that women should go entirely free. If women are to have the vote, they must also have the duties. They should be forced to serve the state two years, either working in postoffices, as telephone operators, or doing other tasks equally as laborious, unless they have children. In that event, of course, they have fulfilled their duty to the state. But how many women who, not yet prepared to have children, would want to sacrifice two years of their lives, and two of their best years, as our men are called upon to do, just to get the vote?"

Mme. Delarue-Mardrus is not at all old fashioned, and when she talks like this she talks as a woman who has done much in her own way, with the advantages that modern life everywhere gives women. Although she has always been an anti-feminist, she has advanced political and social views. She has been a writer of poetry, novels and biographies since she was a child, and has published 40 works. One of her best known is "William the Conqueror," which has been translated in English. She also paints, sculptures, and is an accomplished musician, playing both the violin and the piano. When she is in America she will lecture chiefly on the Near East where she lived for many years.

THREE HELD IN POISON CASE

MURDER CHARGES ARE FILES AS POISON FOUND IN BODY

EASTLAND, April 17. (AP)—Three men remained in jail without bond here today, charged with murder, after county officials received a report from the state chemist at Austin that an analysis showed poison in viscera taken from the body of Jack King, who died suddenly March 25 at Rising Star.

Bill Sheehan, Ralph Pancake and Harry Sheehan, held on murder charges in connection with King's death, had made no effort to obtain bond. Formal complaint lodged against them charged them with having caused King's death by mixing poison in whisky that King drank.

To Oppose Bond

County officials expected to present evidence in the case to the grand jury due to convene April 27. Justice of the Peace Jim Steel, before whom charges against the men were filed, said he would not allow men charged with his death were bond unless required to do so by habeas corpus proceedings.

Members of King's family became suspicious of foul play and reported the matter to County Attorney Joe H. Jones, who immediately started an investigation and caused the body to be exhumed. King and the old acquaintances.

LUBBOCK WOMEN STAGE DRIVE TODAY TO SELL TICKETS TO CHARITY PLAY

Women this morning were attempting to sell a thousand tickets to a charity play, Booth Tarkington's "The Intimate Strangers," to be presented by the Little Theater in the Palace theater Monday night for benefit of the Salvation Army and United Charities.

Eight teams of two women each were organized to make the sales. The women will continue the sales through Saturday. Wesley Read, business manager of the production, is supervising the ticket sales.

Workers representing the Little Theater, Salvation Army, and United Charities, reported this morning at chamber of commerce offices for assignments to districts and allotments of tickets.

Only the business district will be canvassed, Mr. Read said.

In urging Lubbock people to buy the tickets and attend the show, Mr. Read last night stressed the fact that every cent taken in will go to the Salvation Army and United Charities. The use of the theater building and all of the materials used in connection with the presentation, are being donated he said. He announced that the Plains Furniture company had offered to furnish all of the furniture needed and in addition had offered to transport the articles to and from the theater without cost to the production.

Mrs. R. A. Mills, property manager, selected the furniture to be used.

P. A. Kleinschmidt, of Texas Technological college, and students of the college art department are preparing the stage scenery. Mr. Kleinschmidt has been named scenic and stage manager of the production.

Arthur Brown, director of the play, announced last night that a finished production was assured.

"All of the members of the cast know their parts and are taking a real interest in the rehearsals, which are being held daily," he said.

The play is being given by the Lubbock Little Theater as its 1930-31 presentation.

ASK REVISION OF PENSION

PLAN WOULD RETIRE PRESIDENT OF U. S. STEEL COMPANY

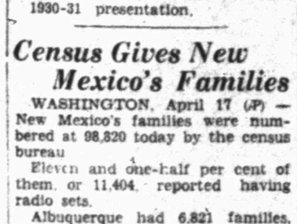

NEW YORK, April 17. (AP)—Stockholders of the United States Steel corporation will vote Monday on a revised pension plan which would retire their president, James A. Farrell, in February 1933. Executives of a number of subsidiaries also would be retired in a comparatively few years.

The plan, prepared by Myron C. Taylor, chairman of the finance committee, calls for compulsory retirement at the age of 70. Officers may retire voluntarily, or at the request of their superiors, at 65.

The pension plan provides that the pensioner shall receive one per cent of the average annual salary for the three years before retirement multiplied by the number of years of service.

Mr. Farrell, reputedly one of the highest paid executives in the country, has been the operating head of of United States steel since 1911 when he succeeded W. E. Corey as president. He began his career in the steel industry at the age of 15 as a wire worker.

If the plan had been in effect during the time of the late Elbert H. Gary he would have been compelled to retire as chairman of the board in 1916, more than 10 years before he died in 1927.

LAWLESSNESS IS STUDIED

WICKERSHAM BODY TO PROBE ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS' ACTS

CINCINNATI, April 17 (AP)—Lawlessness among enforcement officers is being studied by the Wickersham commission which intends to consider "this ugly side of our officialdom" in its deliberations on the American judicial system.

Chairman Wickersham of the law enforcement and observance commission made that statement in a speech last night before the Cincinnati regiona crime committee.

"In the desperate effort to compel obedience to law," Wickersham said, "experience has shown that those charged with the high function of enforcing the law sometimes stoop to attain their ends by means as illegal as the acts they seek to punish or suppress.

"It is time a study should be made of this phase of our civilization. . . ."

He made no reference to prohibition except to say that "overwhelming public interest" in the topic "has obscured the fact that the commission was charged with the duty to study and report on any other subject."

NO CHANGE MADE

LAREDO, April 17 (AP)—Seymour Lowman, assistant secretary of the treasury, announced here last night that there would be no immediate change in the schedule of open hours at the international bridge at El Paso. Bridges at five other points on the border are now open 24 hours daily but the El Paso bridge is closed at midnight.

THE MORE HOODLUMS SCARE NEGRO THE BETTER HE PLAYS HIS CORNET

CHICAGO, April 17 (AP)—Volumes have been written about gang threats, but the suggestion that they might be an aid to the art of music was never offered until today.

It remained for John Collins, manager for Louis Armstrong to point out this possibility, when he complained that Louis, a negro, who toots a tuneful cornet in a night club, was being threatened and followed around by hoodlums.

Louis, his manager said, quit one night club job for another, luring the customers one place to another.

"But the more they scare him," Collins told the police, "the better he plays the cornet."

"He gets those shivery, shakery, tremolo effects, you know, like the customers like."

Police furnished Louis with an escort, to accompany him home in the early morning hours.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., April 17. (AP)—A bubble of quartz and another of paraffin as thin and brilliant as a soap film make a new electric battery at Purdue university.

The battery lives on "static," changing this kind of electricity into flowing current. It has been made by Dr. Karl Larkhorovitz, head of the department of physics, with his assistant Ferguson W. Shaw.

Neither quartz nor paraffin is supposed to conduct any electrical current whatever, one topping the list of best known insulators among inorganic and the other among organic substances. But in the Purdue static battery they are the electrodes.

Thinness Reason

Their extreme thinness is the secret of their transformation into good conductors. When they are immersed in a salt solution, the "ions" in the liquid penetrate them and flow as a current.

Ions are electrified particles of atoms. Ions streaming through the atmosphere cause radio's static. They also carry the tiny electric spark which stings your finger at contact with another object after shuffling your feet over a thick insulating floor covering on a cold day.

So tenuous are these chips of atoms that the amount of current in the Purdue battery is almost the equivalent of completely nothing in volume. It registers three-quarters of a volt, which is its "speed." But the volume is too slight to be measured.

The paraffin bubble is so thin that it has to be blown by the equivalent of the breeze from the flip of a fly's wing. The quartz is a little thicker and is made by a delicate glass-blowing technique.

ALEXANDRIA, La., April 17. (AP)—Two Dallas High school girls, Johnnie Johnson, 15, and Mary Frances Bailey, 16, taken into custody early today by police, were being detained for their parents.

When they left home they started to walk but were given a ride into Alexandria by two men in an automobile.

"We had a date to meet them here last night and go on to New Orleans with them," they told police, "but we decided we did not want to."

Sugar should be judged by the amount of sweetening it does

Imperial is the largest-selling sugar in Texas because it is expertly refined, cleaner and sweeter. Less non-sweetening matter is left in Imperial. This is the reason why so many women find Imperial more economical and satisfactory to use. We invite you to try Imperial Sugar in this new recipe for Fudge Waffles.

Fudge Waffles

½ c. butter
1 c. sugar
2 egg yolks, beaten
2 sq. chocolate, melted
1¼ c. flour
1 t. baking powder
½ t. salt
½ t. Cinnamon
½ t. vanilla
2 egg whites, beaten

Sift flour with baking powder, salt and cinnamon. Mix the ingredients in order listed, folding in the stiffy beaten egg whites last. Preheat the waffle irons 5 minutes. Drop a tablespoon of the mixture on each grid section, close and bake 2 minutes. Serve with whipped cream.

NAIL - PICK UP IS TOMORROW

BOY SCOUTS TO SEEK TO WIN PRIZES IN CLEANUP DRIVE

Forerunner of the annual city cleanup and paintup campaign, a nail-pickup will be held here Saturday, each of Lubbock's seven Boy Scout troops attempting to win prizes offered, according to D. T. Jennings, area scout executive. The cleanup campaign is scheduled to start Monday.

Last year, it was necessary for the winning troop to average more than 99 pounds of nails and assorted junk in order to gain first place, the executive said.

The scouts will assemble on the north side of Central ward school at 8:30 a. m. Saturday. The boundaries of their districts will be described and the pick-up drive will be formally opened. The boys will pick up nails and rubbish in the streets only, the executive said.

The gatherings will be sacked up and labeled with the troops' numbers and transported to the city hall in city trucks where the sacks will be weighed. The troop averaging the greatest number of pounds per active scout in the troop, will be awarded the first pennant. Second and third awards also will be made.

Other Awards Offered

Another group of pennants will be awarded during the morning in the mobilization contest. The troop having the greatest percentage of its active scouts entered in the contest will be entitled to first award, Mr. Jennings said.

Districts designated for the different troops for the contest follow:

Troop No. 2 Avenue Q to Avenue A; Broadway to Fourth street.

Troop No. 3 Avenue P to Avenue V; Nineteenth street to Thirty-fourth street.

Troop No. 4 Broadway to Nineteenth street; Avenue Q to Texas Technological college.

Troop No. 6 Broadway to Fourth street; Avenue Q to Texas Technological college.

Troop No. 7 Nineteenth street to Thirty-fourth street; Avenue V to west side of city.

Troop No. 8 Broadway to Nineteenth street; Avenue Q to Avenue A.

QUEEN MARY TO DAZZLE FIVE COURTS WITH BRITISH ROYAL GEMS THIS YEAR; HAS VALUABLE COLLECTION

British royalty gleams with jewels when arrayed for a formal court. Queen Mary is shown in this new picture in one of the dazzling costumes she will wear at 1931 presentations. She also is wearing part of her royal gems.

LONDON (AP)—Britain will have a better look at Queen Mary's jewels this year than for several years past.

Not only are four courts to be held here at Buckingham Palace, but another is to take place in July at Holyrood palace, in Scotland.

The queen has one of the world's great jewel collections, for besides the famous crown jewels she has a considerable collection of her own and is considered an expert in selection and valuation.

Adept At Wearing Jewelry

Thrcugh years of practice, perhaps, she is adept at wearing in the grand manner ornaments which might handicap other women. When fully jewelled for a formal court ceremony she is indeed regal.

Most famous among the crown jewels is the Koh-i-noor diamond, from India, which is never worn by the king. Back of this lies a strange Indian tradition.

If the jewel ever were worn by a man ruler, the legend runs, India would be lost to him. The royal family is not given to superstitions, but in this case it gave way and the great gem was set in the crown of the consort.

Gems Have Romantic History

The royal emeralds, likewise, have a romantic history. They were won by the queen's grandmother, the Duchess of Cambridge, in a lottery. Afterward they were bequeathed to the Duchess of Teck, and then to Prince Francis of Teck.

Since they have come into the possession of Queen Mary (she was Princes Mary of Teck) she has added many pieces and they are now among the world's finest collections of emeralds.

Her favorite piece in the set is an exquisitely carved emerald pendant which she often wears on state occasions.

The queen is also very fond of pearls and has a splendid necklace of Scotch pearls. On unofficial occasions she often wears a double row of pearls and single pearl earrings. Queen Victoria and Queen Alexandra had this same partiality to pearls.

KING OF SIAM IS EN ROUTE TO U. S.

VICTORIA, B. C., April 17 (AP)—King Prajadhipok of Siam, suffering from an indisposition ship's physicians described as a slight attack of bronchitis and malaria, was sailing toward Vancouver, B. C. today for a visit to the United States.

The liner Empress of Japan brought him and his queen across the Pacific in record time, arriving here last night. The king is en route to New York, where he will undergo an eye operation.

The monarch cancelled all official engagements here, but the royal party was received by dominion and province officials aboard the vessel. They were met by Queen Rambaibarni and Prince and Princess Svasti. The queen and her escort faced a battery of cameras and newspapermen.

The queen was presented a basket of roses from "the rose city of Victoria," and received the delegation with a speech.

J. A. Lemaire, clerk of the privy council, spoke on behalf of Premier Bennett. Prince Amoradat Kridakara, Siamese minister at Washington, D. C., presented the Canadian party.

HOLMES APPOINTED

DALLAS, April 17, (AP)—Appointment of W. H. Holmes of Amarillo as a member of the Republican state executive committee for the thirty-first senatorial district was announced at state headquarters here. Holmes was candidate for governor in 1928. He succeeds H. E. Exum of Amarillo, resigned.

EDITORS SEEK AMENDMENT

WOULD ALLOW BOARD POWER TO ACT ON GROUP MEMBERS

WASHINGTON, April 17. (AP)—An effort to amend the by-laws of the American Society of Newspaper Editors to empower the board of directors to discipline members was received Thursday at the opening session of the organization's annual convention.

A resolution to that effect was offered by Willis J. Abbot, editor of the Christian Science Monitor. It said one member was under indictment on serious charges and the association was powerless to remove his name from the membership roll.

Refers To Lea

Abbot said he was referring to Luke Lea, of Nashville, who has been indicted in connection with charges of violating the banking laws.

Action was postponed. The question arose several years ago, when some members sought to discipline a western member. The latter threatened to sue each member of the board of directors for libel if they took such action.

Attorneys held that under its by-laws the society had no right to discipline a member and since then some members have made a determined effort to obtain the amendment.

Loss of Revenue

The society was told by Lincoln B. Palmer, manager of the American Newspaper Publishers association, that injection of advertising into the news columns of newspapers was causing a lot of revenue.

He presented exhibits to show how large advertising campaigns were operated, with paid advertisements in magazines and other channels and that newspapers were used by press agents to work off advertising under the guise of news.

Fred Fuller Sheed, editor of the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, and president of the society, urged its members to encourage a full and Frank discussion of means of preventing recurrence of industrial and economic depression.

Sheed said the depression and its accompanying distress did not follow solely from the stock market or tariff making and was not a reverberation of the World war. He said it was definitely connected with economic conditions.

Members of the society last night were guests of President Hoover, who received them informally. Only members attended and nothing of what was said by the executive was made public.

Seven Indicted On Hidalgo Charges

EDINBURG, April 17. (AP)—Seven former Hidalgo county officials were under indictment today for unlawful delivery of sinking fund warrants. They were A. W. Cameron, former county judge; W. D. Chadwick and W. L. Lipscomb, former commissioners; Cam E. Hill, once county clerk; George W. Walton, ex-treasurer; and L. E. Tinkler and O. T. Liles, former auditors.

E. B. Reyna, former tax collector of the Tabasco school district, also was indicted for unlawful delivery and malicious destruction of maintenance fund vouchers. All those charged were allowed to appear voluntarily to make bond.

HIGHWAYS TO BE MERGED

CARLSBAD CAVERN AND AKROMA HIGHWAYS TO BE JOINED

Merger of the Carlsbad Caverns U. S. No. 62 and the Arkoma highways was agreed upon at a meeting of the Arkoma Highway association this week at Muskogee, Okla., although the move will not be effected until summer, according to J. H. Hankins, president of the Carlsbad Caverns highway group.

"Governor Andres Ortiz, of the state of Chihuahua, Mexico, has advised me that within 12 months there will be an oiled road from Juarez, opposite El Paso, to Chihuahua," said Mr. Hankins upon his return.

"With the addition of the thousand miles of highway between Maysville, Ky., and Niagara Falls, to the two thousand miles of the Carlsbad Cavern highway between Maysville and El Paso, we will have a 3,000 mile road across the United States connecting two nations," Mr. Hankins added.

To Perfect Merger

The Arkoma and Carlsbad groups are expected to perfect a merger of their organizations at a meeting to be called between May 1 and June 1, in Oklahoma City, Mr. Hankins said. The date will be agreed upon by Mr. Hankins and Judge Berry, Yellville, Ark., president of the Arkoma association.

The Arkoma association was organized four years ago to promote a federal designation for the road east of Oklahoma City. It made an application to the executive committee of the U. S. Highway association but withdrew when the Carlsbad association presented its plea.

There were about 40 men from three states, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas, at Muskogee, Mr. Hankins said. Texas had about as many as the other states. Only two towns in Arkansas were represented.

Luke Roberts, Lovington, N. M., vice-president for that state; C. W. Snyder of Altus, first vice-president and R. A. Singletary, Oklahoma City, good roads bureau manager for the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce, attended with Jess N. Hire, president of the Altus Chamber of Commerce.

BOND HEARING SET IN MAY

PRELIMINARY TRIAL WAIVED BY MAN IN BROWNFIELD

BROWNFIELD, April 17.—(Special)—A hearing for J. A. Bond, who faces a charge of murder, will be held May 6 before Judge Gordon B. McGuire. The hearing was granted after Bond had waived preliminary hearing and been refused bond in justice court, and his attorneys had filed for a writ of habeas corpus.

Bond is charged with the murder of J. A. White, Brownfield grocer. The hearing probably will be held in Lamesa, where Bonds has been held in jail since the fatal shooting of White. Although Bonds was moved from here to another jail, there were no signs of mob violence.

White was shot early Sunday morning, April 5, as he sat drinking a cup of coffee in a local cafe.

IN DISTRESS AFTER EATING

Heavy, Tight Feeling of Indigestion Relieved By Black-Draught, Says Tennessean.

"My work is such that I did not get my meals regularly as I should, and then sometimes I eat hurriedly, and this makes me have indigestion, headache, dizziness and constipation," says Mr. Fred Stricklin, of Savannah, Tenn. Mr. Stricklin continues:

"A few doses of Black-Draught relieve me and make me feel like working, and my head clears up.

"Black-Draught is very easy to take and I don't know of anything that will relieve the heavy, tight feeling after meals as quickly as Black-Draught. I have been using it, at intervals, when needed, for years."

Another Tennessean, Mr. Jesse Smithson, of Bluff City, tells of taking Black-Draught for the relief of headache and indigestion. "It has helped me so much," he writes, "I don't know how I could do without it. I find Black-Draught such a fine medicine, I highly recommend it to my friends and neighbors."

Huge Steel Order Brings Work

IF THE 25,000 tons of steel were rolled into rails it would make a railroad from New York to Chicago.

A contract for 125,000 tons of structural steel—largest single order ever placed—for the new socalled "Radio City" being erected by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in the center of New York, will bring work to thousands. The steel, which will be rolled and fabricated in the Pittsburgh district, means employment of 8,000 to 10,000 men. Erection in New York will require another 1,000 structural iron workers and 200 supervisors. Movement of the material will call for 5,000 to 6,000 cars. If the steel were rolled into rails it would form a railroad from New York to Chicago. The quantity is three time larger than required for the Empire State building, tallest in the world; and two-and-a-half times that needed for the Hudson river bridge, world's largest. "Radio City" will extend along Fifth and Sixth avenues in New York from Forty-eighth to Fifty-first street. In the group will be a 65-story skyscraper, two 45-story buildings, great theaters and a monumental elliptical broadcasting center.

"PETTICOAT INFLUENCE" IN FEMININE COSTUMING CAN BE TAKEN LITERALLY

BY JANE EADS

NEW YORK, April 17. (AP)—The "petticoat influence" may be taken literally as far as femminine costuming is concerned this season.

For that relic of days when modesty was indeed in flower figured importantly in showings of summer fashion at the Hotel Astor by the garment retailers of America.

Flapper Again

And along with this strictly feminine garment there appeared numerous other accessories to aid and abet the "womanly woman" in her seasonable metamorphosis from the athletic or flapper type.

Little false curls to cover the shaven neck; cobwebby scarfs to disguise a brawny sun-tan; long, trailing skirts to hide an audacious ankle with fans and kerchiefs and parasols to add charm were featured.

Pajamas and shorts for sports wear, however, are still in vogue, but even these are becoming more feminine in design. In a parade of pajamaed mannequins the trouser garments were so wide as to give the semblance of skirts. Fashioned from soft silks pleated chiffon, satins and velvets, most of these were shown with chic little jackets.

Even the strictly tailored street costumes are on the wane, suits and coats having more of the dressmaker touch. Gaily patterned and brightly colored scarfs, generous chiffon kerchiefs and frilly lace trimmed collar and cuff sets relieve what mannish severity these costumes may have retained.

Cotton lace and embroidered organdy in all the pastel shades will be most popular for evening wear the retailers predict.

Bonds, witnesses said, emptied his pistol at the grocer, firing the last shot into the man's head after he had fallen behind the cafe counter.

Bonds surrendered immediately after the shooting.

The total public debt of the United States at present is about $16,000,000,000, which is more than $130 per capita. This money was borrowed from citizens and residents of the country, who receive interest on their bonds. The U. S. has no foreign debt.

Merry Mary Marries

NEA New York Bureau

Though she had announced that she never would wed until her theatrical career was at an end, blonde Mary Nolan, stage and screen star, now says she will continue to appear in pictures and vaudeville despite her recent marriage to Wallace Macrery, Jr., youthful Wall Street broker. They are shown here in New York after their surprise wedding. The actress, formerly known as Imogene Wilson, attracted world-wide attention during her volcanic romance with Frank Tinney, musical comedy comedian.

FRENCH PIANIST CHARMS AUDIENCE IN LAST TECH ARTIST COURSE EVENT

As the last number of the 1930-31 Artists course, Maurice Dumesnil, French pianist, was presented in pianoforte recital Thursday night at Texas Technological college gymnasium.

Unperturbed despite the fact that his private piano failed to arrive from Dallas from where it had been shipped, the pianist seated himself at the college baby grand piano and presented a repertoire that included compositions of Beethoven, Chopin, the French composer, Debussy, and Listz.

The program was opened with well-loved "Moonlight Sonata" (Beethoven). The artist made the happy choice of selecting world-famous favorites in the classical realm of music and charmed a large assembly with his interpretations of the numbers prior to their rendition.

Selection from Chopin included "Ballad" (Opus 38); "Mazurka in F sharp" and "Valse Brillante" (Opus 34).

After leaving the platform upon finishing the first group, Mr. Dumesnil returned to take two bows before resuming his place to play a number of compositions by Debussy. Unlike other artists who have appeared in concert in Lubbock, the French pianist was very informal and sat at the piano chatting with his audience much as if he were in his living room and they were his guests for the evening.

"Reflets dans Leau" (Reflections in the Water), "Les collines d' Anacapri" and "Golliwgok's Cake Walk" were received with prolonged applause by a delighted audience. The last number was explained to be very similar to popular American music, although it was composed in 1908 — twenty-three years ago.

"Mouvements Perpetuels" (Poulenc); "Chimes in the Bay" (Vuillemin); "Les Anes-the Donkeys" (Groviez) composed the next group. Each piece was interpreted by the artist who explained in a half-apologetic voice that "you must be in a receptive mood for the piece to mean much to you."

The well-known "Hungarian Rhapsody," No. 11 by Liszt was the final selection, although Mr. Dumesnil returned to play an encore after the audience showed no inclination to leave.

The program was played entirely from memory and with a beauty that filled the gymnasium with rhythm and melody, despite acoustics which are not of the best.

Mr. Dumesnil toured South American with Isadore Duncan, late famed dancer, for six months several years ago and he has written a book which will be published about the tour this fall. F. M. T.

Thought For Today

Go to the ant, thou sluggard; and consider her ways and be wise.—Proverbs 6:6.

* * *

A sluggish, dawling and dilatory man may have spasms of activity, but he never acts continuously and consecutively with energetic quickness.—George S. Hillard.

Advertising Helps

Advertising pays. That has been uttered so frequently it is almost a platitude. From it has come the erroneous belief that only the advertiser benefits. It is far from the truth. It doesn't take into consideration that advertising as a whole is overwhelmingly honest.

You have a mill in the area in which you live, let us say. It employs 1000 in normal times. Now only 700 are working. Why? Because there is not the demand for its products. That demand can be increased by advertising, and men will go back to work. The entire community, as well as the employer, will benefit. Producers will become buyers, and th welfare of the whole people, from millionaire to laborer, will be effected.

In 1929, $60,000,000 was spent to sell 5,358,000 cars, a cost for advertising of $11 a car. Without advertising it is reasonable to assume many less cars would have been sold. Thousands, perhaps millions, employed in the automobile industry wouldn't have had a job. Steelworkers, tire manufacturers, paint producers—all would have been affected.

The analogy can be applied to department stores, other types of stores—to industry as a whole.

We save our teeth because we read of benefits of using a toothbrush. We play healthful sports because we see sporting equipment advertised and recommended. We furnish our homes attractively because we see attractive furniture advertised. We are educated how to live more fully by advertising. And creating demands means that more men and women have jobs.

Just now in a period of depression, there is buying caution. People are saving their money, in some cases because they aren't working and earning more, in others because of the fear of losing their jobs, in still others because they do not understand.

It would seem, regarding the matter from an unbiased viewpoint, that, since the average citizen reaps the greatest benefits, he should buy from the concerns which advertise. He should understand that it is one way he can help prosperity to return.

And wise executives, realizing that advertising does pay in more ways than one, should insist on volume advertising. It means business for them. It means they are for employes. It means they are contributing something to aid return of prosperity.

A Third Party

Some of the most brilliant thinkers along political lines have declared recently that the United States needs a third political party. They assert that new ideas and ideals are needed, that a new outlook backed by platforms radically changed from those of the old line parties is necessary. That is a matter for debate.

That such a tendency is finding favor in some sections, especially in local elections, seems apparent. Groping for a way to solve their problems, many politically-minded individuals have broken away from the old parties and have succeeded in nominating and electing what may best be described as independent candidates. It is not at all unusual to find independent candidates fighting for office with choices of Republicans and Democrats far behind when the ballots are counted.

This at least suggests that there is dissatisfaction with the established parties in certain section. It doesn't necessarily mean that a new national third party will be the outcome. But it most certainly does mean that the wise Republicans and Democrats have something significant to think about when planning for the future.

The Plainsman Says:

* * *

PROVING that anything can happen, The Plainsman made a bust in last night's column. Talking about the Little Theatre's charity show next Monday night, he said there would be 1,000 tickets sold at a buck a throw, which is half right and half wrong. There will be a thousand tickets sold, all right, but they'll be sold at half a buck apiece—which makes The Plainsman as near right as he was wrong, anyway.

* * *

So, if you didn't get stuck for a ticket today, buy one tomorrow. They ought to cost a dollar each, so count yourself lucky to get off with four-bits. Every penny taken in will go to the Salvation army and United Charities—not a nickle will be held out for anything. That's a benefit worth supporting—there's darn few of 'em like it.

ROTARIANS of the 41st district of Rotary International will gather at Plainview Monday for a two-day session. Civic clubbers from all over North, West and Central Texas will be on hand, including Al Roth, president of the whole shebang and a personal friend of President Hoover. But what interests South Plains folks the most is the campaign for district governor which pits Edd McLaughlin, of Ralls, and Dr. Tom Brooks, of Baylor university, Waco, against each other.

* * *

The Plainsman claims he started the McLaughlin boom nearly three years ago with an item in this column that sent Ralls Rotarians to thinking. Edd had made such a success with the Ralls club that they decided to push him up, and it looks like he has a good chance to get over. If all the West Texas Rotary members recollect what the Waco Times-Herald said about West Texas last summer, Edd's got a swell chance to beat Mr. Brooks, former Waco mayor, all hollow.

"Behold, the happy moron!
He doesn't give a damn.
I wish I were a moron—
Gee whiz! Mebbe I am!"

* * *

Alphonso, late king of Spain, evidently disagrees with the Coolidge theory. The last of the Bourbons is one guy who did choose to run.

* * *

ONE of The Plainsman's pet peeves is the custom of the womenfolks of this burg in claiming everything they and their husbands own. You'd think to hear a lot of women talking that their husbands were only accessories after the fact, as the lawyers would say.

* * *

There were three or four young matrons shooting off ideas and occasional thoughts within ear-reach of The Plainsman just the other day. Every new house in town was "Mary Smith's house," or "Lizzie Jones' house"—they never mentioned the fact that somewhere down the line was a hard working gent who footed the well known bills.

* * *

All the new cars were "Mary's new car" and "Lizzie's new car." They didn't stop to think that on the first, tenth or fifteenth of each month that the husbands of Lizzie and Mary were scratching their heads, wondering where in the thunder they were going to dig up the installment!

* * *

SEVERAL years ago a man and his wife built a nice little home here and furnished it in pretty good style. In those days there weren't so many outstanding villas in this neck of the woods and the young wives were very much interested in the whole business. "Maggie's certainly building a nice house," they'd observe at every opportunity. "She's having an interior decorator out from Dallas and I sure do like her floor plan". Then a little later another would pipe up. "Yes, it sure is a fine place that Maggie's building. Did you know she was getting all her furniture and drapes from Oshkosh?"

* * *

And so it went on, and on, and on. The whole business was "Maggie's" to hear the gals prattle.

Then one day the news leaked out that Bill, Maggie's husband, had dropped a wad of jack and was going to have to turn the house back to the loan company and the furniture to the Oshkosh company from whence it came.

And The Plainsman is the biggest liar in the world if one of the young matrons didn't say:

"Well, I'm not surprised. Bill should have known better than to put so much in a house and furniture when he wasn't sure about his business!"

* * *

The Plainsman is in favor of the emancipation of women, all right. You ladies reading this needn't get mad and stop your paper. But doggone it! It generally takes two folks to head up a family in a balanced, practical way and it's no more right to give all the credit to one sex than it is the other.

Payments To Veterans Expected To Total As Much As War Cost—$35,000,000,000; Every Ex-Soldier Will Benefit

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, April 17.—There is no reason to suppose that the veterans of the World War will cease their demands on the treasury until the last one has passed to his final reward.

Or that succeeding congresses will fail to heed their pleas.

History already has begun to repeat itself and the assurance that the veterans hope to accelerate that time-honored process has been indicated by the national commander of the American Legion.

Resting not on a noble record of accomplishment, including soldier bonus loans, the beginnings of a pension system, the bonus itself and other federal veteran expenditures excluding loans which will cost about $900,000,000 next year, Commander O'Neil has outlined proposals for further measures which will be presented to the next and subsequent sessions of Congress.

Congress Is "Pension-Minded"

After each war it has required a shorter period to persuade congress to grant service pensions and subsequently to liberalize their provisions. Spanish War veterans of 1898 struggled until 1920 for their first service pensions, but less than 300,000 men were engaged in that war, whereas World War veterans number more than 4,000,000 and consequently are able to bring all the more pressure. So the latter had to wait but 12 years before Congress granted him allowance for disabilities whether the disabilities were connected with war service or not.

Commander O'Neil's demands have caused considerable stir but no great surprise because everyone has expected that veterans, already benefiting from legislation which has created the largest single burden on the treasury, would insist upon and receive more and more until further post-war veteran payments run up to or beyond the $35,000,000,000 which the war already has cost.

Widows Benefit

Pensions for widows and orphans of veterans was one item on the program outlined by O'Neil. These pensions made plenty of progress in the last Congress and are sure to be passed by the next. They are expected to boost the pension bill another $150,000,000.

There are those who already predict that the loans made to veterans on adjusted compensation certificates will eventually be forgiven the borrowers. No such demand has yet come from the veterans themselves and it would be presumptuous to assert here that it will ever be made, but it can be said with some assurance that if the veterans ever do get behind such a movement they will find plenty of eager support in Congress and perhaps enough to jam it through.

Relief for wives and children of veterans now in hospitals and increase in hospital facilities for veterans who will need treatment in the future, also expected by Commander O'Neil, presumably will come right along.

Proposes Increase

Then there's the commander's proposal for increasing the disability compensation for World War veterans to the level allowed to veterans of other wars, on the theory that the vetran of one war is entitled to as much money as the veteran of another. Spanish War veterans' monthly service pensions now run up to $60 a month on a scale which took them 32 years to achieve and when the World War veteran and Congress will pass it disability payments will increase tremendously in cost.

Eventually there will be an ultimate general pension bill for every veteran and ongress will pass it unless it reverses all previous performances. That, presumably, will represent the high watermark of America's post-war expenses.

"SPRING FEVER"

THE AVERAGE person calls it "spring fever." But among us of the learned profession of medicine it is called "vernal anadrenalinemia."

Dr. Clendening

Because it really isn't a fever at all. It is a lack of the secretion of the adreenal gland, and in human history it goes back and really has its origin in the most primitive times.

Adrenalin, the secretion of the adrenal glands, is the chemical substance in the blood which stimulates the muscles to activity. "The Glands of Combat, the glands of emergency energy—such are the adrenal glands," as Dr. Louis Berman remarks in his charming volume of romantic poetry. "The Glands Regulating Personality." "A Picture of its activity in the evolutionary scheme of struggle and survival is something like the following: Meeting an enemy, the animal is put in danger. It must either fight or flee for its life. In either case certain conditions must be fulfilled, if the body of the animal endangered is to be saved. Of two animals, if in one the heart should beat more strongly, the blood pressure rise, the blood flow more swiftly through the muscles, he will be the victor in the fight." Adrenalin is the secretion called out by fear or rage which does all these things.

Now in the spring the adrenal glands hardly secrete any adrenalin at all. That causes the muscles to feel sluggish, and hence the spring fever.

The reason why the adrenal glands are so exhausted in the spring is a long story that goes back to the most primitive conditions of man's life on earth. It is really a heritage of those conditions, a habit formed long ago which we simply cannot get over.

You see, the winter time in prehistoric days was a period of great danger. There was not much to eat in the winter, and the cave bear and the saber-toothed tiger might turn up at any moment at the door of one of our forefather's dwellings and there was a fight on his hands. He naturally had to activate his muscles with adrenalin in order to win the fight.

Then marauding tribes of less provident neighbors were always prowling around in the winter, trying to steall the carefully laid-up stores of provisions our ancestors had put aside during the harvest season. This meant more fighting and more adrenal activity. Then if you had to go out hunting for meat in the winter and trail an Irish Elk over the snow covered landscape, that required a good lot of adrenalin.

The consequence was that by spring the adrenal glands were just exhausted. They had worn themselves out with the fighting and the fearing of the winter.

Fortunately, the spring did not make so much of a demand on them. The animals and neighbors were busy mating in the spring and did not have time for fighting and marauding. And there was not so much necessity for it, because food was more abundant—the fish were leaping in the stream, the fowl were coming back, and the green things pushing out of the earth. Food was on every hand, easy to get. So the adrenal glands just took a rest, and the muscles relaxed and there was no urge to do any exertion.

The habit got so ingrained that it has persisted down to the present day. And that is the real explanation for spring fever—a lack of adrenalin in the blood or, as we scientists say, anadrenalinema.

GAR WOOD SEEKS TO BREAK RECORD

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., April 17. (AP) Gar Wood, who failed by a split second yesterday of equaling the world's motorboat speed record, today said he was still confident his Miss America IX could break the mark, but that he was uncertain whether he would try again at the present.

Wood, who recently lost the record to Kaye Don, of England, said his Miss America would require several days for reconditioning before another attempt was worth while.

The present record is 103.49 miles an hour, which Don established in his Miss England II on the Parana river at Buenos Aires.

In nine runs yesterday on Indian creek here, Wood's fastest speed was 103.249 miles an hour.

He inspected specimens of the clip here and pronounced them satisfactory. The agent declared no break in the wool market was feared.

SWAN

In New York With Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, April 17.—Life is like that . . . and also like this:

He is an author who goes among strange peoples and explores little-known spots. He has been present when the weirdest of voodoo rites were being staged; he has looked upon the magic of jungle people and come away mystified; he has listened to the barbaric music of the rituals.

Recently, in his latest book, "Jungle Ways," he turned strong stomachs by relating tales of cannibalism in which he became an unwilling but curious participant—out of immediate necessity, to be sure.

Very well — the other evening I encountered William Seabrook, this explorer-writer, at a little gathering being given for "Emperor Faustine" Wirkus, the marine who became king of a little island.

Long about 10:30, I noted the gent, who had hob-nobbed with savages and cannibals, looking worried and harassed. He frequently consulted his wrist watch and then, in a sort of desperation, whispered in my ear:

"How do you stand this noise and commotion? It makes me terribly nervous. . . . I think I'll have to go home. . . . I guess I'll have to go back to the jungles for a quiet evening among the savages."

And I had thought this was a nice quiet little Manhattan evening affair.

* * *

And life is also like this—

He was a broken-down newspaperman. And, by the way, few of his sort are left. He found himself on his very upper-uppers in New York and went about borrowing dimes. Suddenly a bright idea came to the vagabond.

Somewhere in his hazy-minded travels he had heard the name of a certain prominent and prosperous newspaper executive. Ah . . . he would cease taking mere dimes and quarters and go in for big money—dollars and even five dollars.

Now, it so happened that the newspaper executive had been variously a wire service writer or a newspaper reporter in every key city in America.

With one exception — he had never been in Milwaukee!

Very well — the wandered decided to use the executive for the big touch. He gathered information here and there and finally arrived at the office of this particular editor, walking in with a fine assurance and addressing the "boss" by his first name.

"Gosh, Jack, it's nice to see you after all these years," began the stranger. The editor looked up, and there was no trace of recognition in his eyes.

"I don't seem to remember you. Where did I know you" inquired the editor.

"Aw, you really haven't forgotten those good old days in Milwaukee . . ."

Out of the entire United States, the poor fellow had to pick that one city. . . .

Apology!—There's nothing that makes a fellow feel quite so foolish as an error caused by a slip of his writing hand. And so, imagine my embarrassment! I've laid to rest as likely an oldtime performer as you're likely to find herebouts. The other day, in the course of notations, I referred to "the late Richard Carle". And I really had been thinking about Raymond Hitchcock. And with Mons. Carle cavorting about in his best manner in "New Yorkers"! Well, I've taken some spring tonic and feel better.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

Wee Scouty cried, How did you get into that little boat? I'll bet you think you've played a trick on us by riding all alone." "Why, sure," said Carpy, "I am slick and that's how I played this trick. Instead of riding with you all, I travel on my own."

"Say, youngster, I like spunk like that and to you I take off my hat," exclaimed the kindly Travel Man. "You'll always get along. A lad who works his own sweet way is bound to find that it will pay." Then Carpy said, "I hired this boat, so there is nothing wrong."

They rode until they grew tired out and then the whole bunch scrambled out upon the shore. The Travel Man then said, "We'll leave today. I've hired a plane so we can fly to Hongkong." Then there came a cry from all the happy Tinymites, of "Hip, hip, hip, hurray."

They shortly bid Bangkok goodby and sailed forth up into the sky. "How long's it going to take us?" asked wee Scouty, with a smile. "Oh, hours and hours," the Travel Man replied. "Be patient as you can. And, if you want to, take a snooze for just a little while."

With wondrous speed they moved along and not a single thing went wrong. It didn't seem so long until the Travel Man cried out, "I see the town of Hongkong, boys, and soon we'll find some bran' new joys. Before we leave we'll find out what the place is all about.

They landed shortly, safe and sound and bumped a bit along the ground. And then they took an auto all expecting quite a treat. Arriving in the town, they saw some sights that filled them all with awe. Each Tiny felt real thrilled to see a narrow Chinese street.

(The Tinymites eat in a peculiar place in the next story).

Even for light opera, opines the office sage, things look darkly.

Mrs. Sloane's Interesting Birth Theory---and How It Worked

Mrs. Anna Borgenholm Sloane . . . was in India, teaching British children . . . when her own son was sentenced to Sing Sing for five years. . . . She returned to reaffirm her faith and help him to get out.

Before her first child was born Mrs. Sloane decided it must be a boy who would become a brilliant engineer. . . . It was a boy, and he was brilliant—so very brilliant that after he was sentenced to Sing Sing, for a long term, he was able to outsmart six judges and argue his own way to freedom

ROY SLOANE, 26, is back again in the hands of the law.

For the past three years Sloane pitted his wits against six judges in 12 attempts to get out of New York's famed Sing Sing and Dannemora prisons. He won out, and was a free man by virtue of his ability to argue.

A few weeks ago, police locked the doors of a New York building in which a jewelry stickup had occurred. One man argued loudly that he be allowed to leave. Police, suspicious, took him to the victims. They identified Sloane as one of the stickup men. And back he went to prison.

About 26 years ago Mrs. Anna Borgenholm Sloane concentrated her thoughts on the child she was soon to bring into the world, and the hope that he would some day become a very brilliant engineer. Even today, despite the failures which have come to her, she hopes.

Royal Herbert Sloane arrived with all the love a fond mother could give him. She was proud of the beginning of her work. The child she had "suggested" should be a boy, was a boy. That was a very good start for her theory. What about the rest of her hopes?

Mrs. Sloane's pre-natal theories certainly seemed to work. The toddler grew from babyhood to boyhood. The boy was brilliant, and he had a knack for engineering!

He was a student at Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh when his brilliance took a sudden turn.

He was arrested on a charge of receiving stolen goods. He was convicted. And the next school for Roy Sloane, delinquent, was the Pennsylvania Training School. For a year and a half he was an inmate of the reformatory.

Still his mother hoped for the best for him. "Boys will be boys," she told herself, "and Roy is a high-strung youngster. This was just a slip. The punishment was good for him. It will never happen again. Now he can go on with my life desire—he will be a brilliant engineer. He must be. I will it so."

AFTER his release he joined his mother in New York.

The boy was intererested in taking extension courses in chemistry at Columbia University. His mother was proud of his wishes. But money wasn't plentiful, and Roy had to help win the sums needed for his schooling.

Thus, part of his time during 1925 and 1926 was devoted to automobile selling. The remainder was given over to his studies. Again he shone in his work. His mother beamed with pleasure.

Little did she know what her boy's future was to be.

Four years and two months ago Roy Sloane was arrested in an automobile owned by Reginald D. Hudler of Mount Vernon, N. Y.

He was arrested because police had been told to be on the lookout for a stolen car bearing Hudler's license. The arresting officers discovered that the boy in the car had in his possession "the most complete set of automobile keys it has ever been the dismay of the New York police to see."

Roy was charged with grand larceny, and in March, 1927, Royal Herbert Sloane dropped his name to become a number for five years in Sing Sing.

At the time his mother was ignorant of the trouble in which her brilliant youth had managed to delve. She was in India, gathering material for another book—she was already the author of "Children the World Over" and "Our Little Lapp Cousins"—and she was teaching the youth of India for British government pay, at the time of Roy's dilemma.

Five years! A long time that is to be sliced out of the student career of a lad who is to become a brilliant engineer!

But within a month Roy was returned to a White Plains, N. Y., courtroom to hear his sentence raised from five to ten years by the then County Judge William F. Bleakley. Why? The boy's Pittsburgh conviction had been discovered. Thus he was being resentenced as a second offender under the New York state Baumes laws. These laws require an increasing amount of punishment for the second and third offenses of a criminal, and life imprisonment for a fourth offense.

RETURNING to Sing Sing, his clever wits churned. However, Roy Sloane seemed to be a fairly quiet, peaceable, and likeable prisoner. He seemed to take everything as it came without grumbling. He seemed to like the other inmates and they liked him. He got along famously with the keepers.

It was not until fully six months later that the eagle eye of the massive John Sheehy, then the head of the prison detective system, spotted a flaw in the bars of Sloane's cell. The investigation by prison authorities got under way.

The cell bars had been cut! The severed pieces had been filled in with putty painted black. The brilliant young man's mattress held an assortment of escape equipment which might have turned the best jail breaker in the country green with envy.

So that was why Sloane was so friendly with the fellows! In his spare moments he had gathered up these weapons of escape with their help.

In his spare moments with a file and radiator valve handle Sloane had fashioned a key which would open his cell door from the inside as well as the outside. During more of his leisure hours he was carving out an imitation revolver with a metal barrel of very business-like appearance. A bottle of hydrochloric acid was discovered in his keeping. The state later said that he had planned to throw the acid in a guard's face, to blind him while making an escape.

HE hadn't forgotten a trick.

He had a keeper's hat, and he had arranged the blue uniform he wore when he played the trombone in the prison band, to look like a keeper's uniform. There were 16 one-foot lengths of pipe in his cell.

These, he confessed, he had expected to join together in the prison yard after he had stepped gaily from his cell, to pull down the telephone wires running from the watch tower to the warden's office so that the prison alarm could not be sounded immediately. The more time a man has to escape from Sing Sing, the better his chances are to lose himself in the surrounding hills.

"He used to work on those contraptions while the trains would roll by the prison overhead. He had those trains timed, and he'd aim to do his hammering and his pounding in those moments when the train would deaden his sound," Guard Conyea explained.

But most serious of all in the eyes of the law—

Sloane had provided himself with a pair of ugly knuckles which he had fashioned from steam radiator wheels and pieces of metal and wood.

The possession of a pair of brass knuckles by a citizen in New York state is a misdemeanor. When a person already convicted of the crime possesses the weapons the act becomes a felony. So Sloan was taken again to the White Plains' courtroom. This time he was charged with possessing unlawful weapons.

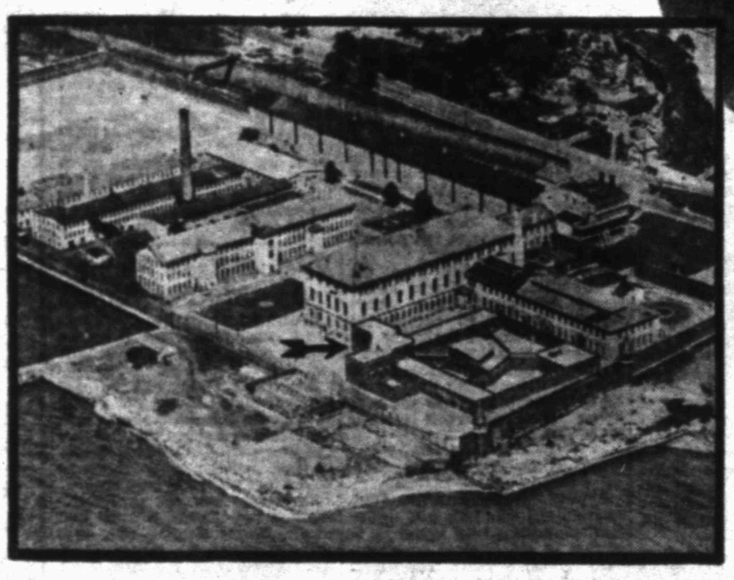

AND there began a trial the like of which the state had never seen before.

Because every person charged with crime is permitted a defense, Stewart Baker, Ossining, N. Y., attorney, was appointed counsel for Sloane. To the surprise of everybody—particularly Baker—Roy waved the astonished gentleman aside and asked permission to conduct his own case.

Sloan, in his prison garb, with a stripe on his arm marking him as an "isolated prisoner," maneuvered between the witness stand and the counsel table. He questioned his opponents with the adroitness of a veteran. He questioned and answered himself with a flow of wit, pertinent and impertinent.

Q. (to himself): What is your occupation?

A. (to himself): I am a waiter.

New York's Sing Sing prison . . . where young Sloane was able to accumulate a saw, file, imitation revolver, bottle of hydrochloric acid . . . and other trinkets. . . . The arrow indicates the death house, where he was later held.

The judge reprimanded him for his levity.

"But your honor, I am a waiter—for the state of New York—at $5 a year, waiting for the years to roll by," the boy answered.

The jurors pricked up their ears.

He said he certainly had intended to break jail, but by the time he was nabbed by Sheehy his intention had dissolved into nothingness. He had received, he told the jury, a letter from his mother in India. She had heard of his plight and had asked him to serve his sentence like a model prisoner, so that when he was released early on good behavior, he might go on with the work she had always hoped he would undertake.

That letter, said Sloane, had made him change his mind about escaping, fully a month before the tools were found. Would you believe it—no you wouldn't—he was busy removing those implements from his cell one at a time when he was caught!

He even brought the fake pistol up as a point in his favor.

"If I had intended to escape," he cried to the jury who were watching the attorney-defendant with bulging eyes, "I could have got a real pistol at Sing Sing."

TO prove that he could "get anything" at Sing Sing by some trick, which the court officials always called legerdermain, he produced from his clothing a set of tools, including two chisels and a screwdriver. The prison guards gasped!

The boy, they said, had been searched carefully before he left Sing Sing. He had been searched again before entering court. Yet here was an armory of tools popping from his clothing like so many rabbits out of a magician's hat.

He explained (a few weeks ago):

"You see, at that time they never searched between your shoulder blades. With a piece of string around your neck you could hang anything there."

But the jurors had to ask themselves: "Did he or did he not possess brass knuckles?" The case hung on that.

So Sloane tried to prove that the "knuckles" were a harmless small pipe from the top of a steam valve. He swore that he planned to use this segment of the valve to get leverage in opening the lock of his cell door.

And so the case ended and the jury filed out. For hours they argued over that valve. They stood six for conviction and six for acquittal. They called for the "knuckles."

The "knuckles" passed from hand to hand.

Then a juror discovered that the radial spokes of the handle had been filed to permit the insertion of fingers. That marked the articles definitely as "brass knuckles."

And so the jury filed back.

The foreman rose. He pronounced Sloane guilty, but he declared that the jury recommended mercy "on account of his extreme youth and apparent ability."

Royal Herbert Sloane . . . has used his ingenious mind . . . for getting into and out of jail . . . instead of becoming an engineer.

Roy Sloane on the witness stand at White Plains, N. Y. . . . proudly exhibiting the contrivance he had built in his cell . . . for unlocking the cell door either from within or without. . . . It was an ingenious, crank-like affair which caused the jury's eyes to bulge.

SEVEN years were then added to the term of the boy who was to have become a brilliant engineer, but who had already run through several warning signals.

Sloane was transferred to the state's Dannemora prison at Clinton, N. Y., as a dangerous convict. He didn't like it in the least, for he had hoped in his spare moments this time, to study law. Later he was returned to Sing Sing, where he prepared for an appeal.

Four months later Sloane had won a new trial on the grand larceny charge. Here, too, he conducted his own defense. This time he brought two convicts and his mother—who had returned from India to aid him—to testify for him, with telling effect.

Edward Snyder, a 20-year convict in Dannemora prison on a charge of robbery, told the jury that he and Frank Hawks, a Sing Sing convict, had, in 1925 and 1926, been doing big business with one Albert Goldman, a fence for stolen automobiles in Brooklyn.

Goldman, according to the testimony which Sloane drew out of Snyder, gave Hawks and Snyder orders for a certain number of cars of specified make. All they had to do was go out and steal cars parked at curbs and in garages. Then Goldman employed Sloane to sell those autos. And he did. And that, he said, is what he was quite innocently doing when he was nabbed as the greatest auto theif of Westchester County.

Sloane convinced a jury of intelligent-looking men that he was not guilty. It took them only one hour and 45 minutes to reach a verdict.

MOTHER SLOANE forgot her academic degrees, her poise, her calm, as she rushed to hug the tall blond. The courtroom audience cheered.

But Sloane knew that while the verdict automatically wiped off that 10-year sentence, it might not invalidate the seven-year additional sentence—which he had had imposed on him for possession of the knuckles. Certainly, if he had been illegally imprisoned he couldn't be held for attempting an escape!

County Judge Frederick P. Close admitted that the problem was a poser, and suggested that Sloane appeal from the ruling.

So Roy went back to Sing Sing again and began to work on his appeal. Two months after the first acquittal he had applied for two writs of habeas corpus from Supreme Court Justice George H. Taylor, who passed the later application on to Justice Joseph L. Morschauser.

Within 10 minutes that judge had denied the writ. Five months passed. Sloane studied law and other things.

And so in November, 1929, he, Joseph (Babe) Pioli, a killer, and Edward (Snakes) Ryan, a gunman, were sent to the death house to keep them from engineering another jail break.

But by a long and gummy path of legal red tape, Sloane's troubles eventually got to the Court of Appeals at Albany, N. Y. This court ordered Westchester County to resentence him for a misdemeanor (as a citizen) instead of a felony (as a criminal).

Simple, wasn't it? He should have thought of it himself! At the most he could only be sentenced for one year. And he had spent a lot more than that in prison already.

And so Roy Sloane, a free man, heard the gates of Sing Sing slam behind him.

He had his picture taken with his mother, promised to go straight, said he had learned his lesson.

But only a few weeks later, three men tied up three employes of a New York jewelry firm and stole $25,000 worth of diamonds from the safe. Police arrived quickly and locked all the doors of the building.

One young man in the lobby argued insistently that he be allowed to leave. Suspicious, a sergeant led him to the robbery victims. They identified him as one of the robbers.

It was Sloane. He had argued himself back into prison.

ANOTHER ROUND OF GALA OPENING DAY GAMES SET IN TEXAS

WAY CLEARED FOR SHARKEY-CARNERA FIGHT

Collier Parris

Plans continue to go forward toward the annual West Texas Golf association tournament to be held here May 21-24. Wesley Read, president of the Lubbock Country club, and his cohorts are putting forth every effort to make the tournament a success so far as human hands can make it. There is always the matter of elements to consider, but why consider them? There's no way of controlling the antics of the weather man. All we can do is pray for sunshine and a moderate wind.

* * *

A moderate wind in this country is equal to a gale in some home towns of West Texas Association members, but if they come a day or two earlier and get accustomed to the cross winds and sand storms they will find it a big help.

* * *

There's a lot of interest being taken in the association's centers and pre-tournament indications are that a record assembly of the state's best amateur golfers will be on hand. Traveling representatives of leading sporting goods houses who "make" Lubbock are all loquacious in their predictions that the tournament here will draw a big crowd of golfers. Wherever they go, they say, they are struck by the great amount of interest that seems prevalent in other cities concerning the coming tournament.

* * *

It's a big thing, this West Texas tournament, and if handled right will go down in the books as one of the leading events of the year for Lubbock. Thirty-six golf clubs in as many West Texas towns are members of the West Texas association, and it is safe to say that each club will be represented, some by a large number of players. The present memberships consists of clubs in Lubbock, Plainview, Canyon, Amarillo, Post, Sweetwater, Colorado, Big Spring, Midland, San Angelo, Brownwood, Dublin, Wichita Falls, Electra, Childress, Memphis, Vernon, Quanah, Clarendon, Stamford, Albany, Breckenridge, Abilene, Floydada, Matador, Brady, Stephenville, Coleman, Lamesa and Spur.

* * *

We might as well make a golfing column out of this and cast a few slurs at local golfers and their latest scandal notes. As it is generally known, the Lubbock Country club and the Meadowbrook Golf club are holding a constant tournament; that is, the Country club is holding one tournament and the Meadowbrook club another. The tournaments are of the same type, under different names.

The Country club inaugurated what is known as a "ladder" tournament a few months ago. Each member was supposed to play a qualifying round of 72 holes. Only sixteen golfers have turned in their scores, however, out of a possible hundred or more. They were to be rated according to their total scores, low man taking first place on the "ladder", next low man second, and so on down the line. After they all had qualified, the tournament proper was to begin. It goes on indefinitely. Each player may challenge the player immediately above him on the ladder and if the challenger wins, he supplants the loser, the latter dropping down a rung no matter what his qualifying score might have been.

* * *

Here's how the 16 Country club golfers are standing at present. There have been several matches and several golfers have changed places. Gibson Payne, who played in the exhibition foursome with Walter Hagen and Joe Kirkwood here recently, has held top place since the tournament began. The players and their qualifying scores are listed below.

* * *

Gibson Payne, 312; John Edmisson, 317; E. T. Daniels, 329; Ross McWhorter, 342; Jo Dick Slaughter, 328; V. O. Jennings, 347; L. H. McLarty, 361; J. O. Smith, 361; D. A. Dowell, 364; O. J. Felty, 377; Don Mitchell, 327; W. B. Kelly, 353; Waldo Trotter, 390; Oscar Slaton, 391; James Gregg, 415; J. Kuykendall, 416.

* * *

Likewise the Meadowbrook is staging a tournament, called the "trophy" tournament, the main difference being that W. G. McMillan is a little more generous than the Country club officials and is giving gold and silver golf ball charms to the low scorers. After a qualifying round of 18 holes, the five low men received gold balls, numbered, 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5; and five silver balls, numbered 6, 7, 8, 9, and 10. There were a number who did not finish in the first division but who, when they first defeat their superiors in the second division, may challenge No. 10 and if fortunate may thereby gain a silver ball. In such a manner he may challenge the others and in time may arrive at the top. Before that, however, he must defeat a bunch of collegians who seem to hold the golfing edge around here, meaning

FOUR CLUBS TO SHOW OFF TO HOME CROWD

WEDNESDAY WINNERS REPEAT THURSDAY TO TIE RACE

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Another round of gala opening day games was scheduled Friday in the Texas league with Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio and Houston showing off before admiring home crowds. All returned to their home ports victorious with the exception of San Antonio Indians who were scalped twice by the Buccaneers of Galveston. Crowds of 15,000 or more were anticipated at Dallas, Houston and Fort Worth. The Houston and Beaumont combat will be played under the flood lights, being the first Texas league night contest this season.

The four teams which inaugurated the season with wins Wednesday, breezed right back on the same road Thursday to retain the four way deadlock for first place between Dallas, Fort Worth, Galveston and Houston.

At Shreveport, Manager Morse of the Dallas Steers kept his cohorts going fast with a 5 to 2 verdict over the Sports. Lefty Fuhr, veteran portside chunker, was steady as a clock, turning the Sports back with seven scattered hits.

Joe Schultz's Houston Buffaloes raced away with a 12 to 5 decision over Del Baker's Beaumont boys. The Buffaloes uncorked a slugging attack in the second frame to score six runs, which drove Buck Marrow to the cooling showers. The Exporters got to Durham for four runs in the eighth inning, but had to let it go at that. Beaumont, after losing two straights to the Buffaloes in Beaumont, will try their luck for a couple of days against the Buffaloes in Houston.

Seven runs in the fifth inning were the only scores the Fort Worth Cats scored against Wichita Falls Thursday, but they were enough to give the Cats two straight victories and a 7 to 6 win. Young Roland Flynn started for the Spudders, but the seven run bombardment in the fifth drove him from the mound. The Spudders open against the Cats in Fort Worth Friday.

Galveston continued to stop San Antonio, turning the trick Thursday with a 6 to 2 decision that saw Harris turn in a beautiful five hit game against the Indians. He whitewashed the Tribe for six consecutive innings. Galveston opens at San Antonio Friday for a two game series.

IDEAL WEATHER AT DALLAS TODAY

DALLAS, April 17 (AP)—Ideal baseball weather prevailed today for the opening of the Texas league season in Dallas. The Steers returned home after winning two consecutive games at Shreveport, and were scheduled to open against the Sports here today.

Manager Hap Morse picked George Murray to hurl. Moulton was Shreveport's best pitching bet. A campaign to win the class A opening day trophy ended today with many business houses and factories closing for the game. A crowd of 17,000 was the campaign goal.

SPUDDERS OPEN AT HOME CITY CATS

FORT WORTH, April 17 (AP)—The Wichita Falls Spudders were here today to open the home season for the Fort Worth Cats.

By winning their first two games at Wichita Falls, the Cats whetted the baseball appetite of their constituency and between 15,000 and 18,000 are expected to be crowded into the ball yard this afternoon. Hansen and Yarvan for Fort Worth, and White and Bradbury for Wichita Falls, were the probable batteries.

Perfect weather prevailed

GALVESTON EXPECTS LIGHT ATTENDANCE

SAN ANTONIO, April 17 (AP)—Cloudy weather prevailed as San Antonio prepared to open its home baseball season today. This and the two defeats at Galveston Wednesday and Thursday, it was feared, would cut attendance, but 6,000 fans were expected. Manager Robertson of the Indians planned to send Cy Smith, veteran right hander to the hill against Galveston. Manager Del Pratt of the Buccaneers declined to name his starting hurler.

Cubs Prepare For First Ladies Day

CHICAGO, April 17. (AP)—The Chicago Cub management ordered out additional gatemen and ushers today to man Wrigley field against the rushes of the first "ladies day" crowd of the season.

The first come, first served system was to be tried once more, but if such confusion as resulted last season occurs, the ladies, who support the Cubs in legions, probably will have to go back to ordering tickets by mail.

Two Titles Won By West Coast Girls

NEW YORK, Apr. 17. (AP)—Two of the first three titles in the women's National A. A. U. swimming championships have gone to the Pacific coast.

Helene Madison, great swimmer from Seattle, won the coast's first title when she outsped a good field in the 100-yard free style in 1:03 2-10 last night. The second, the low board diving event, went to Georgia Coleman, graceful ace of the Los Angeles Athletic club.

Eleanor Holm of the women's swimming association of New ork, accounted for the other championship event, the 300-yard medley event in 4:22 1-10.

In team scores, the women's swimming association of New York was leading with nine points. The Los Angeles club was second with eight; and the Washington A. C. third with six.

YANKEES, CARDINALS AND BROWNS COP THREE IN ROW

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The big fellows of the big leagues are getting an early lesson this season in just how tough some of the other teams can be. Only three teams have won their first three games of the season. Of these only the St. Louis Cardinals have had a fairly easy time.

The other two are the Boston Braves, who have disturbed the peace of the experts considerably by upsetting the highly-rated Brooklyn Robins thrice, and the New York Yankees, who have taken three tough ones from the Boston Red Sox.

Allows Five Hits

The Braves won No. 3 yesterday 7 to 4 as Ed Brandt allowed Brooklyn only five hits and Dazzy Vance contributed to his own downfall by throwing to the wrong base just before Young Charley Wilson clouted a homer with two on. The Yanks came out ahead 2 to 1 in a pitching due between Herb Pennock and Hod Lisenbee that was not decided until the ninth inning.

The Cardinals had a fairly easy time winning their third game from Cincinnati 6 to 3. Jess Haines and Paul Derringer checked all the Cincinnati batters except Wally Roettger, who hit five times in a row.

The surprising St. Louis Browns nearly won a third game when Harvey Walker, Detroit recruit outfielder, dropped a fly in the ninth inning and let in the tying run but after coming from behind again in the tenth, the Browns lost out in 12 innings, 6 to 5.

Win First Game

Like Detroit, Pittsburgh won its first victory of the year, downing the Chicago Cubs 4 to 3. The Cubs played rather loosely, having 12 men left on base.

Washington's Senators regained their edge over the champion Philadelphia Athletics, taking a close scrap 5-4. The A's barely missed tying the score as they tallied twice in the ninth inning and found some consolation for the defeat in the pitching of Hank McDonald, their 19-year-old recruit.

Clint Brown of Cleveland turned in a neat pitching job as he shut out the Chicago White Sox with six hits to win 7 to 0. Although he allowed nine hits, Clarence Mitchell's spitball was more than good enough to enable the New York Giants to beat the Phillies 14 to 4.

VAN RYN TO MEET SUTTER IN FINAL

PINEHURST, N. C., April 17. (AP)—John Van Ryn of Philadelphia was matched against Clifford Sutter of New Orleans in the men's singles finals of the North and South Tennis tournament today, while Mrs. Van Ryn battled with Mrs. Marion Jessup, Wilmington, Del., for the women's singles title.

Van Ryn, seeded number three, advanced to the finals yesterday by defeating Frank X. Shields, of New York, ranked numer one in a brilliant five set match, 3-6, 4-6, 6-1, 6-1, 6-3.

Sutter conquered Bryan Grant, of Atlanta, 6-1, 6-0, 6-1, in the semi-finals.

Playing a steady game, Mrs. Van Ryn disposed of Marjorie Sachs, Boston, 6-4, 6-4. Mrs. Jessup advanced with a 10-8, 7-5 victory over Virginia Rice, another Boston girl.

STARS OF GAMES ON YESTERDAY

(By The Associated Press)

George Grantham, Pirates—clouted homer with one on in eighth to beat Cubs, 4-3.

Herb Pennock, Yankees—Held Red Sox to eight scattered hits and beat them, 2 to 1.

Dale Alexander, Tigers—His single in 12th drove in Gehringer with run that beat Browns.

Clint Brown, Indians—Held White Sox to six hits and blanked them, 7-0.

Charley Wilson, Braves—His homer with two on beat Robins, 7-4.

Wally Roettger, Reds—Clouted Cardinal pitching for double and four singles.

CITY LEAGUE'S OPENING SET

EIGHT TEAMS ARE TO PARTICIPATE IN SCHEDULE

The Lubbock City Baseball league season will open May 15, with eight teams participating in a 30-game schedule, it was announced last night after a meeting of managers and players at the chamber of commerce rooms in the City hall.

It was unanimously voted to make the organization an "open" league, due to the fact that players in one team sometimes are associated with other organizations sponsoring teams. The player limit was set at 16 men. The list of 16 must be turned in immediately before the opening of the season, but up to that time managers may carry as many players as desired.

To Meet Managers

President J. R. Leuenberger and Secretary-Treasurer Steve Delaney will meet with the eight team managers next Monday night to draw up a tentative schedule and to consider bids of two sporting goods houses in regard to purchasing bats and balls and other materials for the season.

Managers Introduced

Eight prospective teams were represented by managers recently appointed by Lubbock organizations and were officially admitted to the league. The following men were introduced as managers of the teams:

Lions Club, O. B. Conley; American Business Club, W. D. Watkins; Auto Dealers, Joe Shism; Texas Utilities Company, A. D. Chase; Rainbow club, M. D. Newton; Wolfforth, M. T. Daniels; Avalanche-Journal, Hollis Payne, and Lubbock Wholesalers, Virgil Goodman.

Bill Hargrove of Lubbock was elected official scorer for all league games at the meeting last night.

Discuss Playing Parks

In order to expedite the playing of games so that two may be played on the same day, it was voted to select two playing parks and a practice field, the playing parks to be fenced and gates provided. An admission charge of 10 cents was fixed at the meeting. Merrill Park and Fair Park were considered as possible sites for league games.

The income derived from the "gate" will be turned over to the league secretary-treasurer, Steve Delaney, and will go toward the general financing of the league, for purchasing balls, bats and improving playing and practice fields. Each team will finance itself in the matter of providing uniforms and each player will be responsible for extra equipment.

GIRL IS SIGNED

JOPLIN, Mo., April 17. (AP)—A 19-year-old girl who bats and throws righthanded has been signed as a catcher by the Western association baseball club of Joplin. The recruit is Miss Vada Corbus, whose brother Luke Corbus, has played in the league two seasons as a catcher and outfielder.

HEAVYWEIGHT BOUT IS SCHEDULED TO BE HELD IN JUNE

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 17 (AP)—Primo Carnera, who used to do a bit of carpentering in Venice, was back in good standing in this state today and prepared to battle Jack Sharkey, Boston heavyweight, here in June.

Madison Square Garden officials may have more than a few words to say about whether Carnera shall be permitted to meet Sharkey under the promotional banner of James J. Johnston at Ebbets field June 10 but present indications are that the bout is as good as made and will receive approval from the New York State Athletic commission.

May Be Contested

The Garden insists it holds a contract calling for Primo to battle no one but the winner of the forthcoming Max Schmeling-Young Stribling heavyweight titular fray at Cleveland July 3 and notified the commission by letter that it was prepared to go to the courts to maintain its contract rights.

James A. Farley, chairman of the commission, had a snappy comeback for this one, however:

"This letter," he declared, "is written acknowledgement that Madison Square Garden has been dealing with a suspended boxer. We have rules providing very severe punishment for that."

The commission intimated it would recognize no contract signed with Carnera while he was under suspension, thus clearing the way for a Sharkey-Carnera encounter.

Definite anouncement that such a bout has been arranged is expected from Johnston's headquarters within a few days.

INTRAMURAL CAGE GAMES SCHEDULED

Renewing the long battle for campus supremacy, six Texas Tech intramural cage games will battle this afternoon in the second division of the double round robin schedule.

The first game today will start at 5 o'clock when the band and Bookstore teams of the Independent league meet. At 6 o'clock the juniors and seniors of the Aggie league play and at 7 o'clock the "Fish" and sophs of the Aggie league will occupy the gymnasium floor.

Twelve prizes are to be given as many intramural cagers at the close of the season. The Tech Bookstore will give ten silver basketballs charms to the ten outstanding players and "Crip" Golightly, varsity coach and supervisor of the intramural games, will give two silver balls to the two players showing the most improvement in the course of the season.

Hack Wilson Wants Remedy For Slump

CHICAGO, April 17. (AP)—Wanted: A quick remedy for a serious batting slump. Address Hack Wilson, Cub centerfielder.

The pudgy Hack, who set the National league home run record of 56 circuit drives last season, is in the throes of a slump that has carried over from the training season. In three games against Pittsburgh Wilson has hit safely once, once.

Yesterday luck was particularly bad and the Pirates treated him cruelly. Rogers Hornsby who bats ahead of Wilson, was passed three times, twice to fill the bases. Hack fouled out once, and grounded out the next time. Later he forced the Rajah, to gain life at first for the only time of the game.

DAILY MARKETS

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, April 17 (AP)—Traders who felt that a technical rally in the stock market has been long overdue made another effort to rout the bears in the early trading today, but with little success.

There were several advances of a point or two in the first few minutes but by the end of the first half hour, much of the advance had been lost, although the list was still irregularly higher. Trading continued in unimportant volume.

Auburn rose 4 points, then fell back 8 from the top. An upturn of a point in U. S. Steel was later cancelled. Advances of about a point in American Can and American Telephone, however, were well maintained.

Early advances of a point or two, later modified, occurred in such issues as American Tobacco B, National Biscuit, Consolidated Gas, Eastman, General Electric, Can, New York Central, Southern Railway and Safeway Stores.

Overnight news was not of a character to influence the trend, and the list continued to fluctuate in a narrow trading area.

Sterling cables opened up 1-32 at $4.85 7-8.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, April 17 (AP)—Reports of general drouth northwest, with rain urgently needed over wide stretches, led to early upturns in grain prices today. Furthermore, Liverpool dispatches said the market there was firm and advancing, with demand good especially from European continental countries. Opening a shade to 7-8 cents higher, wheat afterward continued strong. Corn started at a shade decline to 1-4 advance, and subsequently kept near to the initial range.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 17 (AP)—Cotton opened steady today 2 to 4 points lower under selling promoted by the relatively easy showing of Liverpool.

The comparatively small offerings were readily absorbed by trade and commission house buying, however, and the market soon steadied with active months selling back to yesterday's closing quotations by the end of the first half hour. May contracts, after selling off to 10.10, rallied to 10.18 while October advanced from 10.69 to 10.74. Reports of favorable weather in the South may have been a contributing factor on the opening decline.

Liverpool cables reported local and Manchester liquidation in that market but said there was more cloth inquiry from India and South America. Egyptian futures in Alexandria were 21 to 37 points lower and the Indian spot quotation in Liverpool showed a decline of 5 points.

Trading was comparatively quiet later in the morning with switching from May into later deliveries constituting a good part of the business. Offerings were light, however, and prices ruled generally steady on covering and trade buying. May sold up to 10.22 and October to 10.81, with the market at midday showing net advances of 4 to 9 points.

NEW ORLEANS OPEN

NEW ORLEANS, April 17 (AP) — Cotton had a quiet but fairly steady opening today despite relatively unfavorable Liverpool cables. First trades showed losses of 4 to 5 points and prices continued to ease off after the start, July trading down to 10.35 and October to 10.68, or 5 to 6 points under yesterday's close.

Offerings were absorbed at the early decline and as the stock market opened steadier, prices here rallied and soon recovered the early loss. At the end of the first hour the market was steady and about even with yesterday's close with trading light.

The market became much steadier during the morning despite rather easier stocks. The stimulating influence was the better weekly statistics than expected, particularly mill takings which showed a considerable increase over the previous week. There was fair trade buying and July advanced to 10.80 and October to 10.83, or 14 to 15 points up from the early lows and 9 to 10 points above yesterday's close. At noon the market was quite steady and right at the highs.

L. H. SIMPSON IS DANGEROUSLY ILL

Virtually no change was reported this morning in the condition of L. H. Simpson, pioneer Lubbock citizen and former fire marshall who is in a critical condition at his home at 1402 Avenue M. Mr. Simpson's health has been poor the last several years.

Mr. Simpson, prior to his illness, had been one of the city's most active citizens, serving as city fire chief for a number of years. He was the first chief of the Lubbock volunteer fire department.

He was engaged in the transfer and storage business here for several years and later was fire marshal. He resigned that post about a year ago because of his physical condition.

An only daughter, Miss Modelle Simpson, teacher in the Crosbyton schools, has been called to his bedside.

Three Are Dead As Result Of Blast

WICHITA FALLS, April 17. (AP) —Three men were dead today as the result of an explosion and fire yesterday at the cracking plant of the Panhandle Refinery company here. R. K. Krull, who stuck to his post to cut off the oil supply, died of burns last night. C. R. Walker and J. A. Horne died a few hours earlier. Two other men were slightly injured.

"BILLY THE KILLER" SHOT DOWN IN GUN BATTLE; TWO GIRLS ARE HELD

BOWLING GREEN, O., April 17. (AP)—Willis "Billy the Killer" Miller, known to police of a number of middlewestern cities as an all around bad man, was dead, two of his girl companions were under arrest and a second gunman was hunted today as the aftermath of a gun fight with police.

Miller was identified by fingerprints as the man slain when he lived up to his boast he would never be captured alive and shot it out with Police Chief Carl Galliher and Patrolman Ralph Castner yesterday. His companion escaped after critically wounding Castner.

Condition Critical

One of the two girls, who gave her name as Beulah Baird, 20, Kansas City, divorced wife of Walter Ash, slain in Kansas City a month ago, was picked up near Miller's body with a bulet in her skull. She was in a critical condition today.

The other girl, believed to be her sister, said she was Ruth Saunders, 23, Kansas City, but each gave different names for the other and police were uncertain of their identities.

The second gunman, listed here as Clarence Saunders of Kansas City, was suspected by police of that city as being Charles Arthur Floyd, a pal of Miller's wanted in connection with the slaying of Wallace and William Ash.

make a statement, officers said.

Describes Affair

"The men stood outside of the shops of the Highway Chevrolet company for some time talking," according to the version of my deputy," Sheriff Arthur said. "Edmonson turned and walked into the shops, to be followed by Foreman. Nichols, who had been watching to prevent trouble, went to the garage door. When he reached the door he heard the report of a pistol and rushed inside to see Edmonson running toward the front of the building with Foreman after him.

"Foreman fired another shot at Edmonson as they were passing through the storage room, Nichols said. "The shot went wild. Edmonson took refuge in the women's rest room and Nichols caught the pursuer and disarmed him of a .32 calibre pistol. Neither Foreman or Edmonson said a word after the shooting affray, according to Nichols."

Mechanic Charged

The mechanic was charged with murder Monday following an investigation into the death of Miss Foreman at a Crosbyton hotel. The young woman's body was found lying on a bed in a room which she and Edmonson had occupied since registering at about 1 a. m. Sunday.

Edmonson said that he discovered that his companion was dead when he awoke at about 11 a. m. Officers were summoned at 1 p. m.

Autopsy Made

An autopsy made by a Lubbock physician failed to show any immediate cause for death, officers said. The girl's stomach was sent to Austin for examination at the state laboratories. Edmonson told investigators that he and the young woman drank some whisky, which he found in an alley at Spur Saturday night. A report of the findings of the state chemists is not expected before Saturday.

Sheriff Arthur said that he had been expecting trouble since Tuesday when Edmonson returned to Spur after making bail in Crosby county.

"I talked to C. R. Foreman Monday afternoon following Elsie's funeral," the sheriff said. "He told me at that time he was reconciled and was going to let the law take its course. My deputy, Nichols, and I spent all day Wednesday and today watching C. R., and urged him not to do anything violent."

Sheriff Brown said that the young woman's death came as a surprise to her parents. They thought that she was spending the night with some friends in Spur. The family's home is located several miles out of town.

Edmonson had been seeing Miss Foreman irregularly for three or four months previous to the girl's death Sunday, the sheriff said that he had been informed. The mechanic is reported to have been separated from his wife for several months, he said. Edmonson is said to have a small son.

COLLEGE LIFE

he said. "It is affecting particularly the most valuable students, most of whom are living contrary to all rules of health.

"There is little konwn why this toll is so great, whether educational authorities have been heaping up curricula until the load has become more than the average student can stand, or whether social life in the college has been overemphasized until the students reach a breaking point.

"College social life has made an attempt to duplicate night club life of New York. Social affairs are carried over to breakfast time.

"If that sort of thing is unhealthy and unwholesome, colleges, instead of catering to it, should set a standard to correct it."

He listed several habits detrimental to student health—lack of sleep, over-work, over-fatigue, poor food, poor living conditions, neglect of ordinary upper respiratory infections and nervous strain.

That's how we keep from running into people. We listen more intently than you do. Therefore we are more conscious of what people are saying. In our own cities we don't hear such a mixture of tongues."

Mr. Karteruft walked along a cross-street that leads into Fifth Avenue past the new Empire State building.

"You see, these buildings act as sounding boards," he said. "This is not a very wide street—I know by the sharpness of the noises. I am conscious of enormous buildings. Not so much high as big, covering a lot of space. There are so few breaks in the walls.

"They must be at least five stories high, for the street noises would sound differently if they weren't. But how much over five stories I couldn't tell."

CENSURE MOVE IS DEFEATED

MACDONALD IS GIVEN MAJORITY IN VOTE AFTER ATTACK

LONDON, April 17. (AP)—The government of Prime Minister Ramsey MacDonald appeared today to be as safely entrenched in office as at any time in its nearly two years of life after beating a conservative motion of censure with a majority of 54 votes.

The tory leader, Stanley Baldwin, made a determined attack against the ministry at perhaps its most vulnerable front, unemployment, in moving it scensure on that count but in the division lobbies the commons lined up 305 for the government, 251 against.

Aided by Liberals

The ministry was aided by the votes of 23 liberals, less than half the liberals in the commons. Ten liberals voted against the government, and five abstained. Sir Oswald Mosley and the six members of his "new party" abstained but the labor left wing voted with the government.

The margin of victory amazed even the most sanguine of Mr. MacDonald's followers.

The vote assured the government of continuation in office for an indefinite time. Its next danger point may come after presetation of the budget, which is likely to contain some unpleasant items for the commons, both government and opposition, but with liberal help such as accorded in last night's division it should pull through without difficulty.

MICKEY MOUSE GOES TO LABRADOR TO GET MINNIE COAT; SHOW MUST GO ON

Mickey Mouse has gone to Labrador so that Minnie Mouse may receive a sealskin coat as a Fourth of July gift, according to a telegram from Mickey to the Avalanche-Journal newspapers. Mickey's latest picture will be exhibited at Saturday morning's meeting of the Mickey Mouse club, however, as usual.

The telegram is as follows:

"To the Mickey Mouse Club members of Lubbock:

The telegram is as follows:

"The last time you saw me I was wearing a gold fish bowl for a hat and trying to keep the fish out of my eyes. While I was in the bowl I thought how nice it would be to surprise Minnie Mouse with a sealskin coat for a Fourth of July present, so I put on my roller skates and came to Labrador, which is a cold place.

"I couldn't find any seals so I killed a couple of rabbits for the sealskin coat. Please don't tell Minnie. So I will not be in Lubbock in person Saturday at the regular meeting. I am sending you a picture, however, that is one of my latest releases. The name is "Carter's Kid," and it is a whiz of a picture. Better see it. I'll be with you next Saturday."

President Jack Copeland, will conduct the Mickey Mouse program as usual tomorrow morning, opening the doors to the Palace Theater at 9 o'clock. He will introduce an apple eating contest, in which a number of boys will compete for a cash prize of $1, given by the Palace theater. The feature picture is "Seas Beneath," and a comedy, "Honeymoon Trail," will be included in the program, as well as specialty dance and song numbers.

Mexican Appears In County Court Today

One of two Mexicans arrested Thursday by police appeared in county court this morning before Judge E. L. Pitts on a petty theft charge after a writ of habeas corpus had been sought to permit the suspect's release on bond.

Three cases of petty theft were entered against the Mexican, bond in one being fixed at $250 and at $100 in each of the remaining two, Judge Pitts said.

The men were arrested by Police Chief John Lemond as they were walking down an alley off Broadway. Four pairs of silk stockings and a woman's hand purse, which officers claim were stolen, were taken from them.

Hundreds of acres of heavy timber and thousands of cords of cut lumber, the property of the Bay Shore Lumber company, were in danger. Volunteers from Florence left to assist Long Lake fire fighters in attempts to control the blazes.

SAYS U. S. IS LOSING OUT

POSITION IN WORLD GASOLINE EXPORT MARKET LOST

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—An unofficial agency of the government today said the United States is losing the commanding position it has held in the world gasoline export market.

The final report of the voluntary committee on petroleum economics, appointed by Secretary Wilbur to survey the needs of the American oil industry for the next six months, emphasized the increasing ability of foreign conutries to supply motor fuel for use outside the United States. It pointed to a realignment of world-wide distribution channels which in effect is short circuiting American refineries which once re-exported great quantities of foreign oils.

Figures Confirmed

Today's report confirmed preliminary figures issued a week ago, setting the total domestic demand for the six months April 1 to September 30 of this year at 228,800,000 barrels of gasoline, derived from 461,434,000 barrels of domestic crude oil, plus imports and withdrawal of gasoline from storage.

It repeated also the distribution of this domestic production by principal areas, allocating 35.25 per cent of the total crude output to Texas, 24.56 per cent to Oklahoma, slightly under 21 per cent to California and 19.25 to all other producing areas. It recommended a total crude oil withdrawal from field and pipe line stocks of 16,082,000 barrels during the period but did not break it down by states or producing areas.

The loss of American ascendancy in the world gasoline market has come, the report showed, in the face of actual increased exports from this country. These rose from 43,300,000 barrels in 1027 to 63,200,000 in 1930, but the other countries gained faster. United States exports rose 8,417,000, 8,255,000 and 3,189,000 barrels in 1928, 1929, and 1930, respectively. The other eight major producing countries in the same years gained 6,709,000 barrels, 13,981,000 barrels and 18,727,000 barrels. The United States proportion of total shipments decreased from 62.42 per cent in 1927, through 61.21 per cent and 56.2 per cent in the next two years to 49.1 per cent in 1930.

DON'T GIVE UP; TEST KONJOLA!

Profit By The Experience Of Those Who, To Their Joy, Put Faith In Konjola

Life is a cruel and drab experience if one suffers from ills of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, or from rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness. Resolve to find relief; just see what Konjola does.

Mrs. Myrl Schieber

"Konjola is the best medicine I ever took," says Mrs. Myrl Schieber, Worth Hotel, Ft. Worth. "For over a year I had stomach trouble, nervousness, headaches and billious attacks. Often I had to quit work. But Konjola ended all this; every trace of my troubles is gone."

And see what Konjola did for Mr. A. J. Harryman, 4109½ Q Street, Galveston:

"I was on crutches, with rheumatism so bad that for three months I could not close my hands. Knees were weak, and feet and ankles so sore I could not walk ten feet. Four bottles of Konjola, and I did not need the crutches and I could open and close my hands. Konjola is the only medicine that brought results".

Mr. A. J. Harryman

Mrs. J. D. Rhyne

What encouragement there is for sufferers in the words of Mrs. J. D. Rhyne, 616 E. 11th street, Amarillo, who declares: "I was in a terrible condition for several years, with constipation, indigestion, nervousness and liver and kidney ills. I lost weight had dizzy spells and billious attacks. Words can not express my surprise over what Konjola did for me. Now I am giving Konjola to my children."

Twenty-two of Konjola's 29 ingredients are the juices of roots and herbs. Alll work together. Demand Konjola, and don't accept a substitute.

HINES WARNS WORLD WAR VETERANS TO SHOW PEACE-TIME PATRIOTISM

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—Men who served in the World War were warned by Veterans Administrator Hines that unless they show peace-time patriotism, their demands for relief will place an "intolerable" burden on the government.

Addressing the annual Red Cross convention, Hines reviewed what had been done for former service men. Without referring to demands in the last congress for full payment of adjusted compensation certificates, or to the new law which permits World war veterans to borrow 50 per cent of a certificate's value, Hines said:

"It would seem to me further extensions merit study and deliberation. Veterans must manifest a peace-time patriotism in connection with future demands, comparable to that which brought them honor in the war, if the burden upon the government for their relief is not to become intolerable and reaction impair their cause."

Hines said everyone is "proud of the fact that our government has been able to go so far in granting relief to our veterans, and the American people will make no complaint as to the cost of such relief provided these expenditures go to those who are deserving."

Brothers—But What A Difference!

These two brothers—neither of whom can speak the other's language—are spending a lot of time getting acquainted with each other down at New Orleans just now. They never met until the other day after Klaus Kueck, 11, left, had made the trip from Germany alone as he came to live with his father and his younger brother, Alfred Kueck, 10, right. Klaus' reply to Alfred means: "Thanks! I'm glad we are together at last!"
