Currently the announced commitments to the campaign are $6.8 million with two years remaining until completion.

New Pre-Pay Service Set

Colorado Citians will have pre-pay public telephones beginning today according to Cecil Fowler, Southwestern Bell manager.

The company's plant personnel have changed out the old public telephones and replaced them with all new instruments.

Fowler said he thought that telephone customers would like the change. "We haven't had them in the past," he explained, "because of an equipment problem. We just did not have the necessary equipment here to make pre-pay phones work. But now that the equipment has been installed the pre-pay phones are ready to go into service."

The manager said there were approximately 60 phones of this type in Colorado City.

Under the new setup customers will deposit the dime first and then make their call. If the line is busy or there is no answer the coin will be returned when the receiver is hung up.

County Cotton Crop Nears 50,000 Bales

Final End Now In Sight

Mitchell County cotton production neared the 50,000 bale mark Saturday with most harvesting and ginning near completion.

Most gins were caught up or had a few bales remaining on the yard.

This week is expected to put the finishing touch to the long delayed crop — one of the latest in the history of Mitchell County.

The Colorado City total shot up to 21,568 bales as of Saturday morning with an estimated 100 bales still waiting to be ginned.

Producers' Co-op had turned out 9,709 with "maybe a 100 bales" left on the yard.

Farmers Gin had 5,008 bales out and an employee said "they were through."

Some 15-20 bales remained on the yard at Guitar Gin. They have a total of 3,084 for the season.

Colorado City Gin had 3,767 out and "none on the yard."

The Buford Co-op's figures showed some 5,400 bales ginned with approximately 10 left on the yard.

At Westbrook Planters' Gin had a total of 4,294 bales with six on the yard to be ginned. A gin employee said the plant would do spot work on certain days this week in finishing out the season.

Guitar Gin in Loraine had an empty yard and some 4,220 bales on the books with "a few coming in along."

Loraine Co-op produced 9,160 bales with 60-70 on the yard. A gin spokesman said 3-400 more bales were expected.

That would put the Saturday Loraine total at 13,380 bales so far.

The highest single total came from China Grove with 11,153 bales ginned this season.

After running a check on 10,400 bales it was found that 4,200 came out of Mitchell County and the remaining 6,200 from Scurry County.

Counting the 4,200 bales from China Grove, the Mitchell County total would amount to 48,842 bales of cotton to date though the figure will be somewhat higher with the additional bales produced since press time.

The county total is expected to be very near the 50,000 mark for the crop and should be completed this week providing the warm, sunshiny weather holds.

FOUR DAY EFFORT

Heart Fund Slates Residential Drive

Some 125 Heart Sunday volunteers begin a residential canvass of Mitchell County homes today.

Plans for the effort were announced by Heart Sunday's co-chairmen, Mrs. Robert Barman and Mrs. Cummins Woody.

Each volunteer will call at the homes of 10-20 citizens to distribute helpful information about the heart diseases and collecting contributions to the Heart Fund for Mitchell County.

The residential canvass is expected to augment the total already collected in the February campaign in the county that is being conducted to support and expand research in heart diseases as well as for education and community service programs carried on by the Mitchell County Heart Association.

The local group is part of the American Heart Association and is the only national voluntary health agency devoted exclusively to combatting diseases of the heart and blood vessels.

Captains in the Heart Sunday effort include Mrs. Brice Webb, Mrs. J. A. Sadler Jr., Mrs. Lindy Merket, Mrs. Hubert Bassinger, Mrs. Eddie Braswell, Mr. and Mrs. Danny Majors, Mrs. J. R. Erwin, Mrs. Carl Bell, Mrs. Dave Sanders, Mrs. Mary Post, Mrs. C. W. Cook, Mrs. Donald Fite, Mrs. Rodney James, Mrs. Trevlyn Kelley, Mrs. Aubrey Self, Mrs. Wayne Whiteside, Mrs. J. D. Bolin, Mrs. B. A. Jackson and Mrs. Betty Albright.

Business and professional captains are Mrs. Charles Wood, Cummins Wood, Bob Barman and Mrs. Bob Pender.

Mrs. Lena Bauman is in charge of the Loraine drive, and Mrs. Herman Parsons is handling the Westbrook efforts.

According to Heart Fund figures these diseases accounted for 59 deaths in Mitchell County last year and for 54 percent of all the national deaths.

Bob Barman, local president, said heart and blood vessel diseases are now costing the nation about one million lives annually.

"Latest statistics indicate that bout 14,600,000 adult Americans suffer from heart disease and an additional 6,900,000 are victims of hypertension. In addition some 14,600,000 persons have definite heart disease and 13 million have suspected heart disease," Barman explained.

ACCENTS OF LOVE

Rev. Smith Addresses Maranatha Club

Rev. M. A. Smith, Jr., pastor of First Baptist Church, was guest speaker Thursday when Maranatha Study Club members met in the home of Mrs. Hulen Bagwell, 1026 East 12th St.

"Accents of Love" was the subject for a lecture by the Rev. Smith.

Basing his talk on the 13th chapter of I Corinthians, the speaker told club members, in his introduction "The more excellent way is the way of love. Nothing is more demanding, more convicting, or more revealing than the power of love."

Rev. Smith then accented the significance of love, the difference in Christian love. "It is a spiritual achievement," he said, "we do not fall into it, we develop it, we acquire it, we grow into it. It expresses the character of God — to love the unloveable, people we do not like, the love of self sacrifice, that goes the second mile, seeks the best for others. Love that sent Jesus into the world."

The superiority of love was explored by the speaker. "It is superior to eloquence," he said, "superior to spiritual insight, superior to intellectual eminence, superior to faith, superior to charitable deeds."

Of the spectrum of love, Mr. Smith mentioned the aspects of being patient and kind, of not being jealous or boastful, not arrogant or rude, not glad when others go wrong.

In conclusion he cited the satisfaction of love. "Love is eternal in nature," he said. "It develops maturity of spirit. It sees with the eyes of faith."

Miss De Anna Simmons Becomes Bride Of Richey Stanton Cary

Miss De Anna Simmons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl A. Simmons, 424 East 13th St., became the bride of Richey Stanton Cary Saturday, of Snyder, February 19, at 7:30 in the evening.

Double ring vows were exchanged in First Baptist Church here with the Rev. Davis Egger, pastor of First Methodist Church, as officiant.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Garland Cary of Lofaline.

Altar, draped in white, was decorated with three cathedral arches entwined with greenery for the candlelight ceremony. A vase of giant white chrysanthemums centered the altar which was flanked by twin candelabra holding white wedding tapers.

Escorted by her brother Billy Simmons the bride wore a gown of white peau de soie of empire design. The molded bodice was designed with a scooped neckline and long tapered sleeves. The slender skirt had a chapel train extending from a bow at the back of the high waistline. Alencon lace appliques re-embroidered with seed pearls trimmed the neckline, the sheath skirt and edged the train.

The bride's three-tiered veil of illusion was attached to a pillbox of lace and seed pearls. She carried a white Bible enhanced with a single white orchid and stephanotis arranged in a cascade.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Alton Currie, the former Miss Gayle Stone, of Mesquite. Best man attending the bridegroom was Raymond Webb.

Bridesmaids attending the bride were Mrs. Raymond Webb and Mrs. Doug Chitsey. Attendants were gowned in dresses of ivory satin brocaded in antique gold, designed with bell skirts and sheath lines. Brief butterfly veils were caught to matching satin bales. Their flowers were gold cymbidium orchids.

Davis Egger Jr. and James Anderson were groomsmen. Wedding guests were seated by Kenny Simmons, brother of the bride of Tulsa, Oklahoma, and John Horton of Corpus Christi.

Kill Crawford, cousin of the bride, of Lamesas, was flower girl. Rogenia Flowers of Lamesa and Craig Woodward of Lamesa were candlelighters.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. Dwight Tomb, organist, who accompanied Milton Simmons, cousin of the bride of Coleman, soloist who sang "'Til There Was You" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Reception Fetes Pair

Following the ceremony a reception in the church parlor honored the bride and groom and their attendants.

Refreshment table was covered in gold satin and held appointments of crystal. Candelabra encircled with white satin ribbon, held white candles and the three-tiered bride's cake.

Mrs. Kenny Simmons, Mrs. Don Redwin and Mrs. Billy Simmons were members of the houseparty.

For a honeymoon trip to Corpus Christi the bride traveled in a beige doubleknit sheath worn with black patent accessories. She is a graduate of Colorado High School and attended San Angelo State College.

Mr. Cary, graduate of Loraine High School, received his bachelor of Science degree in mathematics at Texas Technological College in Lubbock.

The couple will live, after their return from their wedding trip, at 1912 Coleman, Apartment 3, in Snyder where the bridegroom is employed by Standard Oil of Texas.

C-City Visit By Burleson

Congressman Omar Burleson was here Tuesday and attended Kiwanis Club luncheon while on a campaign swing through the 17th District.

The Anson legislator described his visit back to the area as "just to look at the situation."

Asked about his opponent, Abilene attorney Elden Mahon, and any future campaign plans, Burleson said, "I consider any opponent formidable, but there hasn't been any real campaigning for me yet."

Burleson said he may have a campaign organization at a later date with chairmen designated in some counties.

"I usually leave it up to my local friends on campaigning," he said.

He explained that he had received "a very fine reception" since coming back to the district Feb. 11. Burleson is expected to return to Washington, D. C. at the end of the week.

Burleson explained he had planned a campaign in the district due to the new counties, but that it would now be "more intense" since he has drawn an opponent.

Among the stops Burleson has made and is scheduled for on the visit are visits in Coleman, Brownwood, Abilene, Big Spring, Anson and Sweetwater.

He expects to be in the district much of March and April except for handling committee work and important votes in the capital.

A REMINDER TO VOTERS OF PRECINCT ONE!

Just a little reminder to The Voters of Precinct One:

The Writer is a Candidate for Justice of Peace, Precinct 1, Mitchell County.

If you will check the records here you will find that I have attended to business in a rightful way — not too hard, not too loose on anyone. Some got mad and some didn't but I have tried to treat all alike.

This is the reason I am a candidate one more time. Think of this when you go to the voting box.

Ruth Coffey's CONVERSATION CORNER

ACCORDING to an article in Good Housekeeping magazine some of the nicest and most famous people cherish their odd little superstitions.

That's a nice thing to know. Probably everybody in this whole world has at least one superstition — in spite of logic, learning or intellect.

For instance . . . it's bad luck to brag and if you do brag you'd better be sure to knock on wood. Knock on your head if you can't reach real wood.

* * *

EVERYBODY knows that the way you break the spell of bad luck put on you if you spill salt is to toss a few grains of the spilled salt over your shoulder. The left shoulder, that is.

Other bad luck omens — like opening an umbrella in the house . . . walking under a ladder . . . or crossing a black cat's path you just can't do much about. You're in for it.

Sneezing on the wrong day is bad, too. Never sneeze on Sunday. You'll have "the bad man" with you all week. Remember? "Sneeze on Monday, sneeze for danger; sneeze on Tuesday, kiss a stranger; sneeze on Wednesday, sneeze for a letter; sneeze on Thursday, something better; sneeze on Friday, sneeze for sorrow, sneeze on Saturday, see your sweetheart tomorrow; sneeze on Sunday . . . . . and you've had it.

* * *

SOME superstitions are more on the hopeful side. Like wishing on the first evening star. But when you've made your wish be sure not to look at your star until you've counted three more . . . or your wish just won't come true.

You can make a wish if your car goes under the underpass when a train is going over the overpass. It's sure to come true, then.

Ever wish on a red bird? If he flies away you'll get your wish. Whatever you do be sure to kiss the hem of your dress if it gets turned up. That means a new dress for you.

* * *

WOULDN'T it be fun if all the good little superstitions really worked? All the brides in the world would stay happy forever. Because all brides know to wear a blue garter and put a penny in the wedding slipper.

Still, if the good little superstitions people have fun with were to work, so might the big bad superstitions! Then where would you be the next time you had a bad dream and told it before breakfast?

Or didn't you know that bad dreams told before breakfast always come true?

Furthermore if you "sing before breakfast you'll weep before night." Pretty scarey, isn't it?

And "a whistling girl and a crowing hen always come to some bad end." Only I like this version better: "a girl who can whistle and a hen that can crow will get through the world wherever they go."

* * *

MRS. ED JONES is back home after her two month visit in California. She visited her daughter Gladys Louise, her husband Jack Cox, in Lakewood, Ed Jones Jr. family in Richmond.

While there Mrs. Jones became great-grandmother to a little baby girl named for her. The baby, born to Shirley Cox and her husband Bob Cox is Lindsey Robin.

Shirley, daughter of the Jack Coxes, followed in her grandmother's footsteps. She married a fellow with the same last name — Cox. Mrs. Jones was Miss Lindsey Jones before she got to be Mrs. Ed Jones.

* * *

HOME visiting her parents, the Marcus Vests, has been Mrs. Fred Green, the former Mary Frances Vest. Mary spent a week here while her husband Airman Green was at Cannon Air Force Base for flying tests. The Greens live in Roswell, N.M.

And Loyce Ewald (Mrs. Arnold) of San Angelo has been visiting her mother Mrs. R. P. Price.

Hear tell, by the way, that Bob Fee Sr. is in Parkland Hospital, Dallas, room 473. He's the husband of Marcella (Price) and father of rancher Bob Fee Jr. and of Ronny Fee of Big D.

* * *

GAME WARDEN Royis Tucker and Chief of Police Leon Yeager were office visitors.

The two came in to show off a solid white quail, first one the game warden had ever seen. A hunter winged the little bird and he is caged until he can fly again.

Well, you've got to admit that he's one bird who lived up to his name — Bob White!

* * *

SEEN LATELYS were Mabel (Mrs. Edgar) Majors on the downtown scene . . . Joe Weaver, husband of Vicki . . . Pretty Idana Wood, the HD Agent, in a tangerine dress.

Saw Luke and Lucy Thomas at lunch together . . . Mary Post with tickets to sell for the Playhouse "Fantasticks" . . . Rack McClellan at the Lighthouse lunch counter . . . Saw Elinor Jeffries of the L.T.N.S. (long time no see) department . . . Ditto Dean Headstream . . . Attractive Dale Geer (Mrs. Buck) president of Mitchell County Federation of Women's Clubs.

* * *

HEAR TELL the Lees, J. Ralph and his wife Mary, drove to Waco Wednesday. Ralph then went on to San Antonio to a laundrymen's state convention while Mary visits the Lee son Rodney, Waco attorney, his wife Sarah (Norman) and their children Rebecca and Ralph Norman.

Saturday, the Lee daughter Iva Helen Bossenroth (Mrs. Ted) will drive from her home in Austin to San Antonio to shop and sight-see and drive Ralph back to Waco.

They'll be home in time to drive up to Childress to help Mary's mother Mrs. E. L. Biggerstaff celebrate her 96th birthday, Feb. 28.

Charles and Maxie Lee Root are conventioning, too, in an Austin meeting of hospital administrators.

* * *

MET for the first time Martha Lewey, mohter of seven children. She is in charge of the lunchroom at Wallace School. Martha also works regularly at Root Valley Fair Lodge, the 3 to 11 p.m. shift.

She is a determined believer in higher education and sends her daughters and sons to college as fast as they finish Wallace High. "I've just one more to go", Martha smiled.

One of Mrs. Lewey's two sons is a paratrooper in Viet Nam.
