FROM EARLY-DAY FENCES — Collecting barbed wire is one of the fastest growing hobbies in these parts, and a barbed wire exhibit is attracting considerable attention at the Scurry County Fair. The exhibit is in the armory. Scores of collectors are expected tomorrow for a barbed wire trade day, scheduled at the Towle Memorial Park Pavilion near the fairgrounds.

TAKES PRIZE — The Hermleigh Young Farmer Chapter won a blue ribbon with this display of helpful hints for the growing of grain.

JUDGING NEARLY OVER

Fair Is Busy Place

Activity at the third annual Scurry County Fair picked up yesterday afternoon with the completion of judging in the sheep, beef, community exhibits and educational exhibits divisions. In addition, judges cast final glances at entries in the women's divisions of the show and they rendered final judgment in the art show.

Swine went into the arena this morning as judging came to a close. Exhibits will remain in place through Saturday so that visitors to the Fair may see the entries.

Eddie Eicke, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Eicke of the Northeast Community, copped blue ribbons with his prize Hereford bull and with his top Hereford heifer. Both animals won grand championship awards.

The bull, a 1,358 pound, 16-month old animal, will go on sale at the Hereford breeder sale in Big Spring Dec. 2. It is in the blood line of Husker Mischief. Breeder was young Eicke. The champion heifer is a summer yearling.

Grand championship in the steer division went to Steve Daugherty, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Daugherty of Fluvanna. He won with an 855 pound, 10-month-old Hereford which was entered in Class 3 (751 pounds and up). Reserve honors went to his sister, Linda Daugherty, who copped a blue ribbon in Class 2 (601 pounds to 750 pounds). Linda also took a blue ribbon in Class 9 for heifers under one year of age, and she showed the same animal for a reserve ribbon to Eicke's 12-18 month old animal that won the grand championship.

Eicke's brother, Johnny, won second in Class 9 (heifers under 1 year), and his sister, Sahala, took third place. Eddie's cham-

VOTERS' MESSAGE HEARD

LBJ's Plans Bog Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's domestic program is in deep trouble in Congress — trouble that can be traced to several sources.

There is general agreement that a major cause of the problem is growing concern among voters over the war in Vietnam, the prospect of higher taxes, rioting in cities and the cost of living.

Members of Congress, particularly in the House, are getting more mail than normally. Frequent recesses and long weekends have given them more time to go home and rub elbows with the people.

The message is coming through.

"The people are frustrated," a top House Democrat said. "They are unhappy and it's getting worse. They wonder why we don't do something about it and if we don't, they might do something about us in next year's elections."

House Democratic Leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma summed it up this way:

"We (the Democrats) just don't have the votes we had last year when the President's program fared very well. We lost 47 seats in last year's elections. Another factor is the growing concern of the people over the fiscal situation and the war in Vietnam. We just can't move as fast this year as we did last year."

Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, chairman of the House Republican Conference composed of all 186 GOP members, agreed with Albert's appraisal of how the voters are feeling.

"But the fact remains," Laird added, "that the Democrats still have a majority. It's not our fault that they don't vote together. I believe that lack of leadership on the part of the President is a major cause of the slowdown. The president should establish priorities, keeping in mind the war in Vietnam. Then we could vote on them and get out of here."

A leading Senate Democrat who preferred anonymity put it this way:

"The session has dragged out longer than we had planned because of several factors that hadn't been counted on. Several months were used up on the congressional reorganization bill. The Dodd censure case took up a lot of time. Almost two months were used up debating the campaign financing bill. And then there has been the almost daily long discussions of Vietnam policy."

The Senate-passed congressional reorganization bill is one of the major measures in trouble in the House. There have been committee hearings but no definite action is sighted. The bill isn't too popular with the leadership.

Another Senate-passed measure, a $4.6 billion two-year extension of the antipoverty program, is almost hopelessly bogged down in the House Education and Labor Committee. It may be weeks or months before the House gets a crack at it. And it almost certainly will be trimmed.

A House-passed civil rights bill designed to protect individuals in the exercise of their rights is languishing in the Senate Judiciary Committee, whose chairman, James O. Eastland, D-Miss., is far from enthusiastic about it.

Buddhist Begins Fast At Palace

SAIGON (AP) — Militant Buddhist leader Thich Venerable Tri Quang has begun a hunger strike outside the presidential palace, his followers said today, and up to 1,000 monks and nuns plan to march there Sunday despite a government ban.

Meanwhile, a leader of the Hoa Hao Buddhist sect, Nguyen Tan Dat, was trying to mediate the issue that led to the militants' protests—a government charter recognizing another moderate faction as the official representtive of South Vietnam's Buddhists.

Tri Quang has been staging a sit-down in a park across from the palace since Sept. 28, when about 1,000 monks and nuns marched there from their headquarters, the An Quang pagoda.

Members of the politically ambitious militant sect said Tri Quang has begun "a fast until death if necessary." A spokesman said later the monk had eaten a few dry crackers and was drinking small amounts of liquid.

Tri Quang made the same "fast until death" pledge in a hunger strike last year but gave up after 100 days when it was evident his protest was arousing little sympathy.

This figure was to be the final report of the week, since the campaign headquarters is not open on Saturdays.

This Is Tiger Day!!

Efforts to generate enthusiasm for tonight's opening district football contest between Snyder's Tigers and Lamesa's Golden Tornadoes reached a high point Thursday with a city-wide pep rally and the signing of a proclamation by Mayor M. L. Broman.

The pep rally was held in the Junior High Stadium following an 8th grade football game between Travis and Sweetwater. Mayor Broman's proclamation officially proclaims today "Snyder Tiger Day" in the city. The Snyder - Lamesa contest begins at 7:30 p.m. in Tiger stadium. Tickets have been on sale all week at the school administration office on Thirty-seventh Street, and they can be purchased at the gate tonight.

Gridiron enthusiasts at the high school held a spirited pep rally during general assembly this morning and another short rally was on tap this afternoon.

Text of the proclamation follows:

"WHEREAS, the Snyder High School varsity football team has worked diligently at every practice session since the season began to improve itself as a team and as individual players; and

"WHEREAS, such diligence has paid dividends, as shown by the improvement in the play of the team; and

"WHEREAS, the team and each individual member thereof put forth one hundred percent effort in its last game against Big Spring; and

"WHEREAS, the individual members of the team and the coaches have expressed their sincere appreciation for the loyal support of the Tiger football fans; and

"WHEREAS, the team and coaches have continued their diligence for improvement by long hours of practice in preparation for the opening district clash with Lamesa at Tiger Stadium on Friday night; and

"WHEREAS, the team has earned and is entitled to the support of all local football fans;

"NOW THEREFORE, I, M. L. Broman, Mayor of the City of Snyder, officially proclaim Friday, October 6, 1967, as SNYDER TIGER DAY in Snyder, and urge all citizens to give their wholehearted support to the team as it "takes the Tornadoes."

CRMWD To Seek Bids On Pipeline

Bids will be asked soon for construction of 33 miles of 36-in. pipeline from Big Spring to the Martin County pump station of the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

Directors, meeting Thursday in Big Spring, authorized O. H. Ivie, general manager, to proceed with advertising of bids. This section of line will be constructed first in order to help the district move more water from Big Spring to the west end of the system. Currently, there is a restriction on the movement because the district has only a 27-in. line between these points. Later, bids will be asked for pipeline between Big Spring and the district's new lake to be impounded above Robert Lee.

The board also gave Ivie authority to proceed with plans for a channel dam on the Colorado River above Colorado City to intercept and divert the concentrations of salt water in the normal low flow of the river. The structure would be low enough to permit passage of the fresh flood waters over the dam and down the river into the new lake. Ivie said test borings on prospective sites had been made and the datum soon would be studied.

The board was briefed on the district's appeal of a $774,000 total condemnation award for land, damages, water contract, etc. on the Willcockson ranch in Coke County.

Charles Perry, Odessa, president, was authorized to sign a contract with the Texas Highway Department for the rerouting of SH 158 and FM 2034 around the south end of the new reservior, and the district also granted borrow pit esements to the highway department.

The final draft of the proposed budget of the district for 1968 was amended to the extent of $7,032 to permit adjustment of professional salaries. The revised figure is $2,182,706, of which $914,332 is in operating expenses and $1,268,374 is debt service requirements. The increase is only about two per cent over the previous year. The budget was presented by Lyle Deffebach, Snyder, new chairman of this panel.

Payment of $12,290 to the Texas Water Development Board for the district's share of measuring quantity and quality of stream flow was approved.

Sworn in as a new member of the board was H. S. Samson, Odessa, succeeding W. E. Bruce, who resigned after 17 years of service. Bruce was one of the original directors from Odessa.

Solons Eye Programs Of Future

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress wants a curb on high-priced government programs in the future as well as an immediate spending cut, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills said today.

Mills, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, said in a statement that is the meaning of his committee's 20-5 vote Tuesday to delay action on the tax increase measure. The committee decided to postpone action until the President and Congress reach an understanding on spending.

"It is clear that the point of the protest has been missed," the Arkansas Democrat said. "Spending cuts in this fiscal year or in 1969, welcome as they would be, are not really the central objective."

Mills spoke out a day after President Johnson, at an impromptu news conference, renewed his insistence that Congress act on his request for a 10 per cent surtax on individual and corporate income taxes.

He disagreed with Congress' contention that he should first show firm plans for spending cuts.

Despite the President's plea and a federal freeze on Congress' pet public works project, Congress shows no signs of increasing taxes before spending is slashed.

W. O. Moore Service Set

Mr. Moore is survived by his wife, Mrs. Chan Schultz Moore, of the home in Laredo, and a brother, William L. Moore of Arizona.

Cheddar cheese soup often benefits by the addition of some finely grated carrot. The carrot should be added as the soup slowly heats so the shreds will partly soften.

Complaining Shows LBJ No Longer In Full Control

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson called a sudden news conference in his White House office. In itself this wasn't unusual. He has done it before. This time it was his purpose that was unusual.

When he called in reporters Thursday he wanted to complain about what Congress is and isn't doing. Other presidents have done that when they got steamed up enough.

But for Johnson to do it—the obvious purpose being to enlist public understanding of his problem by providing a fill-in on congressional behavior — was a pretty good indication he is no longer the master politician in full control.

He had a lot to complain about. Congress has been dragging its feet. Last January when he sent his budget to Congress, asking $136 billion to run the government, he included 14 major appropriations bills.

After nine months in session Congress still hasn't finished with 10 of the 14 bills. But Johnson was complaining also about the congressional fever to cut what he asked although in some instances it voted more.

In addition, he asked for an income tax boost as one way of heading off inflation. But Congress hasn't done anything about it and, at the rate it's going isn't likely to, preferring to cut spending.

But this public complaining isn't the way Johnson in the past would have tried to bend Congress to his will. While he was in Congress and since becoming President, Johnson has been one of the greatest political engineers in history in manipulating and maneuvering the men in the Capitol to get what he wanted.

In short, he hardly would have handled his problem the way he did Thursday if he was still in charge. For instance, all through 1965 he never stopped praising Congress which did a prodigious job of legislation that year.

It has never come near to repeating that performance. As Johnson became more occupied with the Vietnamese war, the White House and Congress seem to have been on different wave lengths.

Neither Johnson nor Congress is showing the fiery spirit they had two years ago when full American involvement in the war was just beginning.

Johnson has quieted down a bit from the earlier years when he showed almost an eagerness to get on television with statements to the public. For one thing, he probably found out he is not at his best or most convincing on television.

The President, on camera, had too many hammy gestures with face and hands. They were meant for emphasis but turned out to be distractions.

It was perhaps no accident that his 30-minute television talk on the war last Friday night in San Antonio may have been his best performance yet—because his teleprompter had broken down.

In the past it enabled him to appear to be looking right into homes when he was actually reading his speech in large letters out of sight of the TV camera.

Without the teleprompter in San Antonio he had to read his speech, looking down at it and with no time for gestures. The speech was an explanation of the war and the American reason for being in it.

Socialist Likes Thrill Of Chase

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "It's as easy to make money today, mate, as at any time in history," boomed the confident voice of the world's highest paid Socialist.

There is plenty of opportunity," continued Leonard J. Matchan, sitting in shirt-sleeved ease in a Fifth Avenue hotel suite as he contentedly absorbed a dry martini.

"But some can see opportunity and some can't. Some have the guts to follow up on opportunities—to have a go at it—and others don't. That's why you have bank clerks and screwballs like me."

At 56 Matchan has a carnival touch but is certainly no screwball.

In Britain as board chairman of Cope Allman International, Ltd., a gigantic holding company, he runs a firm that operates in 74 countries, has 164 subsidiaries, 15,000 employes and does an annual business in th e $175-to $200-million range.

He himself now has a tidy personal income varying between $550,000 and $600,000 yearly.

"It may be hard to reconcile all this with being a Socialist," said Matchan, whose chief disappointment in life is that he once ran for Parliament on the Labor ticket and lost, "But I believe in raising the standard of living for everybody."

The son of a sewing machine repairman, he started raising his own living standard shortly after quitting school at 16 and getting a clerk's job at $2.80 a week.

At nights he studied a correspondence course in accounting and soon began helping work out the tax returns of American film figures such as Adolphe Menjou and Roland Young.

By 21 he had come to the United States, produced a film here and returned to London, "broke but wiser."

"An Englishman likes to think he knows more than anybody else," he said genially, "but I'm afraid your people were a bit too sharp for me—then."

Back in England, Matchan entered the cosmetics business and quit at 40, a multimillionaire.

"Actually, I've retired twice and couldn't stand it either time," he said. "I got fed up with doing nothing."

In 1955 he purchased as a corporate shell for about $1,200,000 a Birmingham firm that made brass bedsteads.

"The directors had brass bedstead minds," remarked Matchan crisply. "But I quickly changed that."

He began gobbling up other companies. Today he is popularly termed in Britain" the industrious industrialist" and the "merger magician."

Among the 140 products his firms turn out are lipstick containers, Aerosol bombs, and women's clothing. They also operate a number of hotels.

"We make everything from a packet of pins to a clap of thunder," is the way Matchan likes to put it.

As expansive physically as he is financially, the industrialist stands 6 feet 1½ and weighs over 250 pounds. He owns an airplane and helicopter and a 120-acre island, flies 200,000 miles a year, has no hobby and wants none.

"The only exercise I take is two sauna baths a day," he said. "For relaxation I sometimes play chess with a hotel headwaiter.

"I like doing things that other people can't do or back away from. It's the thrill of the chase—that's it.

"I wouldn't mind having to start all over again tomorrow. What am I saying? I may have to."

Might Interest Climb Even Higher?

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — If interest rates are high now, what will they rise to if a business expansion develops as forecast?

Just one year after the tightest money crunch in decades, some business economists again are worried about even higher interest rates and perhaps a potential shortage of funds.

This concern for the future seems to be overdone when you check the present situation: interest rates already so high there seems little room for additional increases; money so plentiful almost anyone can borrow it. A whole set of factors soon may change this situation however. First on the list is Federal Reserve policy. The Fed has permitted an increase in the money supply during recent months of about per cent, a potentially inflationary rate. The spigot soon may be closed.

Even as this flow of money to the economy slows, business may have to borrow to rebuild its dwindling inventories and prepare for the expected expansion in demand for goods and services.

This factor will become especially important if the auto industry puts labor troubles behind it and rolls toward what is expected to be one of its best model years over. As autos go, so go hundreds of other industries.

The consumer, we are told, also will participate heavily in this expansion by increasing his demand for appliances, automobiles, housing, furniture and a variety of lesser items.

Then there is the problem of financing government needs. Depending on whether the tax increase goes into effect this year, the federal government will need to borrow a couple of billion to several billion dollars.

This is where the request for tax proposal is turned down, interest rates are expected to turn up.

This is an awesome prospect, for some interest rates already are at their highest levels in four decades. Any additional increase would be into the 7 per cent category, and perhaps as high as 8 per cent or more.

Rates so high would destroy the recovery in housing construction, an industry important not solely because of the money involved but because of the people and the way of life it represents.

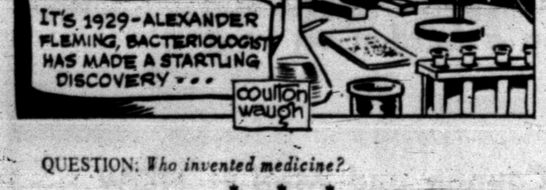

New home construction just one year ago reached its lowest rate in 20 years. Because money was short, the richest nation on earth could not supply enough new housing to take care of the new families formed within its borders.

So soon after this disastrous experience, it is unlikely that the Federal Reserve or the administration will tolerate a repetition. Somehow, it is agreed, money must be kept flowing in the housing market.

In order to bring this about some sort of selective credit controls may have to be imposed. This is a prospect that few money managers welcome, for controls in one area sometimes cause repercussions elsewhere.

The alternative to a tax increase, one that in an emergency might be acceptable to the economists in Washington, is to impose controls on wages, prices and credit.

Junior Editors Quiz on MEDICINE

QUESTION: Who invented medicine?

* * *

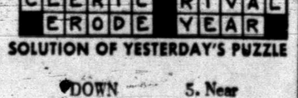

ANSWER: Ancient, primitive people thought that disease was caused by evil spirits and should be treated by magic. More reasonable ideas came in with Egyptian times. But it was the Greek physician Hippocrates, the Father of Medicine, living in the 400's B.C., who first began the investigation and treatment of disease in a logical, scientific spirit. As scientific knowledge grew, medicine grew with it. The Roman, Galen, studied the workings of the body, a study carried much further by the Belgian Vesalius in the 1500's. In the early 1600's, a great stride was made by Harvey, an Englishman, who proved that blood circulates in the body. In the 1800's, medicine leaped ahead as Pasteur and Koch showed that disease was caused by germs. Joseph Lister used this knowledge to sterilize instruments — in surgical procedures. About the same time, anaesthesia, a way to put patients to sleep during an operation, was discovered. Then came such startling developments as X-rays, by which a doctor can see through a body, and penicillin, the first antibiotic, or wonder drug. These are only a few highlights in medicine's inspiring history; many other discoveries remain for the future.

DENNIS THE MENACE — GRANDMA

GENERATE ENTHUSIASM — A big pep rally in Junior High Stadium last night generated a lot of enthusiasm for the district opening football clash between Snyder and Lamesa. Kickoff is set for 7:30 p.m. in Tiger Stadium.

FIRST DISTRICT GAME

Bengals Host Tors Tonight

Hoo Boy!

It's the day that Tigers and Tiger fans have long awaited — the opening date for the first district football game.

Snyder High School's Tigers will face a 7:30 p.m. challenge from Lamesa's Golden Tornadoes in Tiger Stadium. Lamesa's eleven will be in somewhat the same situation that Snyder found itself in two weeks ago. That is, the visitor's will be underdogs.

One has only to recall the Steer clash to realize that the favorite's seat is a dangerous place to sit. The Bengals outplayed Big Spring's Steers before falling 7-3 in a close, hard-fought tussle. Lamesa, no doubt, will be up for the game tonight.

Snyder, like Big Spring was a few weeks ago, will be considered a heavy favorite on the basis of comparative scores. While the Steer margin of victory over the Tigers was only four lucky points, Big Spring pinned a 29-0 setback on the Tornadoes, thus indicating the locals are 25 points better than the Tors.

However, comparisons in the Andrews tilts do not put the Tigers in such a favorable light. The Mustangs thumped Snyder 28-0 and defeated Lamesa by a 19-0 count. Using the same reasoning, you can believe Lamesa is nine points better than the Bengals.

In the only other outings, both teams were less than impressive as the Stamford Bulldogs turned back Snyder by the tune of 26-0 while Seminole's Indians scalped the Tors 40-0. Thus both teams should have plenty of incentive to grab that first win.

All things considered, the Lamesa challenge should be a serious one. For the Tornadoes will have an edge in weight along the line, both offensively and defensively, and they should have an edge in speed.

Both teams had open dates last week and both teams are in good shape, healthwise, for the battle tonight. Snyder comes by its favorite's role mostly on the basis of the performance against Big Spring. Anyone who saw that game will tell you the Tigers jelled. There's no doubt now that they can and will be ready for battle. Lamesa, on the other hand, has never lived up to its potential. Should the Tornadoes decide to play ball here tonight, then it will be a close game. Otherwise, it could be a one-sided affair.

Led by Jerry Rains and Ronnie Shields, two senior lettermen, the Tiger defense will be extremely hard to penetrate.

The offense also has shown considerable improvement. Only a key penalty prevented the Tigers from going into the Big Spring end zone as Raymond Rios and Ephrain Cervantez led the offensive charge. Both are juniors, and both are capable ball carriers.

Coach Wayne Tyrone also can call on other capable backs to carry the ball, such as juniors David McGinnis and Joe Greer. Steve Holder, another junior, is guiding the team smoothly at quarterback. He has a lot of poise for a junior.

A rugged, senior-laden, experienced line should offset the Tornado advantage in size.

Lamesa lost most of its lettermen through graduation, but the Tors will have a promising quarterback in Earl Norris, 155-pound junior. He likes to throw short, quick passes to ends Terry Kinard and Pat Ryan. Other top targets are wingback Kenneth Demerson, a 165-pound speedster, and tailback Ronnie Scott, 170-pound speed merchant.

Tackles Dale Boyd (190) and Randy Bedwell (220) guard Pat Benton (185), and center Paul Russell (190) give the Tors plenty of heft. The other linemen are on the light side; that is about the same size as their Snyder counterparts.

Because of its speed advantage, Lamesa may come out throwing the ball. Look for the Tors to employ a wide open style of attack from their I formation with variations.

Senior end Frankie Grimmett (191) and other receivers should provide the Tigers with more balance than their foe. That is, the Bengals can use the aerial game to help the running attack while Lamesa probably will take to the air lanes more often.

We looked into our crystal ball, and it said: Snyder 14, Lamesa 7.

Probable starters:

Ends — Lynn Pierce, 140, and Pat Ryan, 178; tackles — Randy Bedwell, 220, and Dale Boyd, 190; guards — Tony Calhoun, 165, and Pat Benton, 185; center — Danny Hollman, 155, or Paul Russell 190; quarterback — Earl Norris 155; winback — Kenneth Demerson, 165; tailback — Ronnie Scott, 170; and fullback — Gary Woodul, 145.

SNYDER

Offense: Ends — Dwaine Boydston, 158, and Frankie Grimmett, 191; tackles — Bobby Clayton, 190, and Tim Mebane, 165; guards — Jack Greene, 163, and Larry Wadzeck, 152; center — Robert Sadler, 152, or David Wilson, 160; quarterback — Steve Holder, 155; halfbacks — Efrian Cervantez, 145, and O. L. Cooper, 165; and fullback — Raymond Rios, 171.

Defense: Tackles — Grimmett and Cooper; guards — Eddie Ray McClain, 165, and Mebane; linebackers — Craig Bell, 183, Ronnie Shields, 172, and Jerry Rains, 164; cornerbacks, Merce Hernandez, 151, and Davil McGinnis, 162; and safeties, Boydstun and Mike Flynn, 144.

Lonborg's 1-Hitter Evens Series At 1-1

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Jim Lonborg woke up today and knew he was on the road for real. Carl Yastrzemski woke up and knew how good it felt to be able to sleep without taking a sleeping pill.

Collectively, the Boston Red Sox knew how it felt to be even with the St. Louis Cardinals again in the World Series.

The Red Sox pulled even at 1-1 Thursday by whipping the Cardinals 5-0 in Boston behind the one-hit pitching of Lonborg and the two-homer slugging of Yastrzemski.

The teams then moved to St. Louis where the Series will resume Saturday with Gary Bell, 13-13, pitching for the Red Sox and Nelson Briles, 14-5 going for the Cardinals.

Lonborg produced his masterpiece — he retired the first 19 batters he faced and didn't allow a hit until Julian Javier doubled with two out in the eighth — after foresaking his own bed again for a room at a downtown Boston hotel.

Yastrzemski, on the other hand, slept in his own bed Wednesday night, but he had to take a pill to get to sleep.

"I just wanted to make sure I got a good night's sleep," explained Lonborg, who did the same thing last Saturday night before pitching the pennant-clinching game against Minnesota.

He stayed at the hotel both times because he wanted to simulate road conditions. On the road there's no one to bother him the night before he pitches, and his record has shown the difference. At home this season he was 88-5, on the road 14-4.

Yastrzemski has his own sleeping problems.

"I'm a little nervous when I'm trying to go to sleep and sometimes I take a sleeping pill," explained the American League's Triple Crown winner who exploded from a hitless first game to a three-hit, four-run-batted-in second game.

"I took a pill last night, and I had nine hours of sleep," Yastrzemski said Thursday. "I won't need one tonight because we don't play tomorroww."

As nervous as he is away from the ball park — "I'm very nervous when I'm home eating breakfast" — Boston's brilliant left fielder is completely calm once he reaches the playing site.

Before the second game of the Series, Yastrzemski passed up batting practice because he had taken 20 minutes postgame bat work the day before. Instead, he climbed onto the trainer's table and took a 45-minute nap.

"When I don't take batting practice, I usually take a nap," he said. "The trainer woke me up at about a quarter to 12, and I felt great."

The Cardinals didn't feel too good a couple of hours later when Yastrzemski socked a 380-foot bases-empty homer in the fourth inning and a 430-foot blast with two on in the seventh.

"When I hit the first homer, I told Jim, 'You have enough, Big Guy. Go get 'em'."

Lonborg certainly did get them.

For the first 6 1-3 innings, the 24-year-old right-hander allowed only one swing that resembled a hit — a hard ground ball that second baseman Jerry Adair backhanded and fired off-balance to first.

Then in the seventh Lonborg's chance to equal Don Larsen's perfect game feat in the 1956 Series evaporated. Curt Flood worked the count to 3-2, fouled off two pitches and then watched as the next pitch dipped low and outside for the fourth ball.

In the next inning, Lonborg also lost his no-hitter. He retired the first two batters on grounders, but Julian Javier swung at the first pitch and lined it down the left field line for a clean double.

That was the only hit the Cardinals got, and Lonborg became the fourth hurler to pitch a one-hitter in a Series game.

"I didn't care about the walk," said Lonborg, a prime candidate for the AL's Cy Young Award. "I'm not after my perfect game — yet. The no-hitter is what I wanted.

"Javier hit a hanging slider. As soon as threw it, wanted it back. It was the only bad pitch I made all day.

"The no-hitter is the one goal that has eluded me during this fabulous season. I pitched in the All-Star game, I won 20 games (22, to be exact) and I pitched in the World Series. I'll get that no-hitter some day."

The Red Sox certainly wouldn't mind, if that day is next Monday when Lonborg is scheduled to start the fifth game.

In the meantime, he'll have to recover from a blister on his right thumb.

"It developed in the seventh inning, and it hurt his breaking ball at the end," Boston Manager Dick Williams said. "But there never was any thought of taking him out. He had a caloused area on the thumb, and when he pitches as hard as he did today sometimes it splits open."

While Lonborg was closing the doors on the Cardinals, who had collected 10 hits in the first game, Yastrzemski was breaking the game open.

He led off the fourth inning by rocketing a one-strike pitch from Dick Hughes about a dozen rows into the right field stands. After Boston scored on Rico Petrocelli's bases-loaded sacrifice fly in the sixth, Yastrzemski went to work again.

After Ron Willis walked Jose Tartabull and gave up a single to Dalton Jones, Yaz unloaded a blast off Joe Hoerner into the right-center field seats behind the Boston bullpen.

"I was going for home runs all day," the left-handed slugger said. "Against Gibson (St. Louis' Bob Gibson) I didn't go for homers because I didn't feel really sharp. I just wanted to lay the bat on the ball.

"But when you feel good, you naturally go for home runs, and I felt exceptionally good. I just wanted to hit one out, shake something up."

He evened something up, too.

Pony Defense Stops Travis Ninth, 21-0

SWEETWATER — The host Ponies capitalized on an inability of Travis 9th grade to muster enough punch to claim a 21-0 verdict here Thursday night in a rugged football match.

Sweetwater collected its first tally with two minutes gone in the first quarter on a 60-yard run.

They pushed across the goal again in the second period with a 45-yard march. A run for bonus points gave them a 14-0 halftime advantage.

On the second play of the second half, a Pony back got loose on a 45-yard run to the Travis 8, and the hosts pushed on in for their final TD. The kick for extra point was successful.

Travis fought back with determination and threatened twice in the first half. The visitors had the ball on the Pony two yard line when the first half ended. Earlier, the Blue Devils drove to the Pony seven, but couldn't push past that point.

Travis also drove to the three and inside the 20 again in the second half, but could not mount a sustained drive.

Johny Mata was outstanding, both offensively and defensively for the Blue Devils, and Frank Rodriguez won applause for his defensive efforts.

Saturday week, the Travis 9th grade team visits Big Spring for a 7:30 p.m. tussle with the Toros.

Four Share Scot Lead

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP)—America's Doug Sanders, Billy Casper and Gardner Dickinson and 22-year-old Englishman Brian Barnes went into the second round today as leaders of the 72-hole Alcan Golfer of the Year Tournament—and the weatherman predicted stormy conditions for the next three days.

Sanders, of Tulsa, Okla., Casper, of Peacock Gap, Calif., and Dickinson, of Lost Tree Village, Fla., all shot four-under-par 68s in the first round and the only English player to match them was young Barnes.

Sanders said, "The old course at St. Andrews was nice to us yesterday. But I wonder how long that's going to last."

The sun was shining Thursday and there was only a slight wind as 19 golfers—11 Americans, seven Britons and New Zealander Bob Charles—began chasing the first prize of $55,000. That's the biggest first prize ever offered in professional golf.

Peter Allis sof England and Bobby Nichols of Louisville, Ky., and Gay Brewer, the reigning U. S. Masters champion from Dallas, Tex., were bracketed at 69—one shot behind the leaders.

Tennis Meet Set

The Snyder High School tennis team will meet Seminole in a dual match at 10 a.m. Saturday. It will be there.

Coach Ken McAllister said the locals squad will include John Phillips, Ronnie Maddux, Terry Brook, Deanna Boles, Patsy Miller, Linda Miller and Rose Hartley.

Michigan State's football team ranked third in the nation in rushing defense last season and eighth in total defense. Tigers intercepted eight passes.

GET LATE BREAK

Junior Tors Trip Kittens 8 To 0

LAMESA — Snyder High School's battered and bruised B team rose to the heights on defense Thursday night, but Lamesa B took advantage of a fumble deep in Snyder territory to score and escape with an 8-0 victory.

There was not a serious scoring threat until midway in the fourth period, and then the baby Tors got two quick breaks and turned one of them into a touchdown. They got a fumble on the Snyder 25 yard line and with the aid of a penalty moved to the 7. On fourth down and still needing 7, the hosts lined up for a field goal, but Danny Brinner threw himself in front of the ball and easily blocked it as Kittens poured in on the kick attempt.

But two plays later, Lamesa got another Snyder fumble, this time on the Snyder 16 yard line. On fourth down and 9, Lamesa scored on a 15 yard pass which the receiver barely was able to scoop up from his shoe tops. The try for extra points was far short.

Following the ensuing kickoff, Snyder got a drive out to midfield, but could move no further. Then, as time was running out the visitors, in a desperation situation, gave up a safety while trying to get a passing game going from deep in their own end of the field.

There were plenty of defensive heroes, and the offense did not look as bad as the net statistics would indicate. The Kittens pounced on six Lamesa fumbles, with Ted Floyd getting a pair, Ray Ellis, Bill Bilberry, Larry Greene and Brent Beall getting one each, in addition to Brinner's block of the field goal try.

In the ball carrying department, Randy Levens had 58 yards on 19 carries, Cliff Voss 29 yards on 12 carries and Willie Harrison 17 yards on 11 carries to pace the Kitten offense. Voss, Greene and Otis Archie made their presence felt on defense, also, along with the interior linemen.

Floyd, Bilberry, Ellis, Dennis Carlton, Phillip Hill and Beall helped keep the brakes on the Lamesa attack.

Travis 8th Rips Sweetwater, 12-0

Travis 8th grade pushed across touchdowns in the first half, then settled down to a tight defensive battle in the second half to grab a 12-0 triumph over Sweetwater 8th grade in a football contest held in Junior High Stadium here Thursday night.

The Blue Devils spanned 52 yards in eight plays for their first touchdown, capped by a 10 yard run by Sammy Harrison. Harrison also contributed 15 and 11 yard gainers in the march, and quarterback Butch Buchanan hit Michael Glasscock with an 11-yard aerial to keep the drive alive.

An earlier 50-yard march to the Sweetwater 15 was halted by stout defensive play by the visitors.

George Alderete took the pigskin over with 1:06 remaining in the half on a two-yard plunge to climax a 24-yard drive which was set up by a fumble recovery. Billy Clayton contributed valuable yardage in this march, including a 14-yard burst up the middle to the two.

Neither team threatened seriously during the second half, although the Blue Devils penetrated to the Pony 20 in the last quarter on a long 40-yard pass and run play by Buchanan and Glasscock.

The Ponies never were able to get beyond the Travis 35 yard line. They were limited to three first downs, and two of them resulted from penalties. Sweetwater made only one first down — via the penalty route — during the first half.

Travis completely dominated play in the first half, but both elevens fought on about equal terms in the final two stanzas.

Red Cross Ready With $4 Million

— The Red Cross will assist some 12,000 persons hit by Hurricane Beulah in rebuilding and will spend $4 million in aid, an official said Friday.

Ed Brandhorst, headquarters director, said the agency's first firm survey estimate was finished.

He said Hurricane Beulah damaged or destroyed more than 26,000 homes and that 8,978 persons with illnesses or injuries were treated by the Red Cross in the region hammered by the hurricane.

He called "amazingly low" the number of persons—244—hospitalized. Twelve persons died in Texas from Beulah's winds, rains and floods.

Brandhorst gave this breakdown for damage:

Homes: 542 destroyed, 2,683 major damage, 23,207 minor damage.

Mobile homes: 18 destroyed-477 major damage.

Farm buildings: 607 destroyed, 1,146 major damage.

Boats: 110 destroyed or major damage.

Small businesses: 520 destroyed or major damage.

The Red Cross official said 31,263 families in Texas suffered losses of property of all categories.

Asks New Routes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The New Mexico congressional delegation Thursday asked the Civil Aeronautics Board to approve additional air routes linking Albuquerque with three Texas cities. They are Dallas, San Antonio and Houston.

During the 1967 Western Open golf championship thieves broke into PGA official Steve Shabala's car and stole 400 golf gloves. He distributes them to the tour golfers.

3 Killed In Fiery Crash

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Two Grand Prairie men and a Dallas woman died Thursday in a fiery two-car collision on a U.S. 80 overpass.

A third car struck the wreckage but apparently did not contribute to the death toll.

The crash killed Willie Nelson, 24; Lamon Harrison, 23, and Mrs. Edgar M. Lynch Jr., 44.

Charles Thursby, 22, a passenger in the car carrying Nelson and Harrison, suffered a hip injury. Mrs. Lynch's husband, also 44, was treated for lacerations.

Investigators said the car occupied by the three men skidded out of control, jumped a highway median and skidded into a bridge railing.

The Lynch car plowed into the rear of the wrecked auto, rupturing a gas tank and touching off a fire that shot flames at least 30 feet into the air.

Nelson and Harrison were trapped in the flaming car.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am desperate. After nearly 20 years of marriage my husband has asked me for a divorce. He says he needs a wife, not a housekeeper.

Two years ago, in the middle of a heated argument I told my husband that his love-making did nothing for me — that I had only been putting on an act.

Abby, it wasn't exactly the truth. I only said it to hurt him. I never realized that he would take it so to heart. He hasn't touched me or kissed me since that day, and now he wants a divorce.

I would do anything to have my husband back the way he was. I have a fine home, wonderful children, a car of my own, and I don't want a divorce. Please, please, tell me what to do.

SUNK

DEAR SUNK: Unless you can convince your husband that what you said was not true, and you only tried to hurt him, I am afraid you are indeed sunk. There may not be much help for you in my reply, but it may serve to let others know that one seldom regrets unspoken words.

DEAR ABBY: My Angelo says he wants supper to be on the table at 6 o'clock sharp. So I put supper on the table at 6 o'clock sharp and where is Angelo? He is outside looking at the yard, or talking to the neighbor. I yell "Angelo" and he yells back, "One minute." One minute turns out to be one hour. So I take his supper away and heat it up again.

I have reheated his supper as many as three times, and then he says, "Boy, O, boy, are you a rotten cook."

What can I do?

ANGELO'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Give him a 10 minute warning call. Then put the supper on the table hot, and if he doesn't come and get it — give it to him cold.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I know that etiquette demands that ALL personal leters and notes be hand-written, and it is considered very poor manners to use a typewriter on these occasions, but this is my plight:

I suffer from arthritis in the fingers of both hands and it is extremely difficult for me to use a pen. I am able, however to use a typewriter, so I type all my letters and notes. Is it necessary for me to mention in my type written notes that I know better, but because of my arthritis I beg to be excused?

KNOWS BETTER

DEAR KNOWS: I believe that regardless of what the etiquette books say, consideration, convenience and common sense should dictate behavior. I personally appreciate type written notes, the propriety of which never enters my head.

DEAR ABBY: You covered the subject of why a man will usually choose a divorcee over a widow very well, but you could have mentioned another reason.

When a man takes a widow out, she usually spends the entire evening telling him what a great guy her husband was.

But when a man takes out a divorcee, she's not about to rave about what a great guy her ex-husband was, because if he was all that great she'd still be married to him.

"To meet the Lord in the air" I Thessalonians 4:17

We've looked for God in the books we've read,
And we've sought from words a pastor said
With attending ears from a polished pew.
We found Him one day when spring was new
Amid all the budding plants and trees
When we heard His voice in April breeze!

FAITH OPENS NEW HORIZONS WHEN YOU OPEN THE CHURCH DOOR

This Sacrament

What a privilege to have seen Jesus in the flesh . . . to have talked with Him, and supped with Him. To His disciples that was a never-to-be-forgotten experience.

Though 1900 years intervene, the Man of Galilee still stands in our midst and says, "This do in remembrance of me." This outward and visible sign of inward and spiritual grace separates man from the world and commemorates the death of Our Lord. He said, "Do it in remembrance of me."

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.
