McFarlane pleads guilty to misleading Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert C. McFarlane left congressional Iran-Contra investigators in little doubt last spring that he had deliberately misled Congress about efforts inside the Reagan administration to sidestep a ban on aid to Nicaragua's Contra rebels.

Some committee members said at the time they felt the former national security adviser's under-oath testimony must have been true because it was so self-damaging.

McFarlane put the seal on that judgment Friday when he pleaded guilty to four misdemeanor charges accusing him of withholding from Congress the fact that the administration had helped the Contra movement stay alive, in part through soliciting secret multi-million dollar contributions from third countries.

By pleading guilty, McFarlane in effect admitted he made false statements in letters sent in 1985 to the House Intelligence and Foreign Affairs committees and in testimony in December 1986 before the Foreign Affairs panel.

In that testimony McFarlane made this statement: "I did not solicit any country at any time to make contributions to the Contras. I have seen reports that various countries have."

That was challenged by John Nields, chief counsel of the House Iran-Contra panel, who referred to the country involved as "Country 2" although it had been independently identified as Saudi Arabia.

"Now in fact, you did have a pretty good idea of Country 2's funding of the Contras, didn't you?" Nields asked.

"Yes," McFarlane replied.

Nields: "In fact, as you've testified yesterday and today, you had a hand in obtaining contributions totaling approximately $32 million from country two?"

McFarlane: "Yes."

Nields: "But you did not tell that to the Foreign Affairs Committee at that time?"

McFarlane: "No, I was trying to use some tortured language, inappropriately I think...It wasn't a full account...This isn't as full an account as I could have given."

Later, he said that testimony and his statements in the 1985 letters were "clearly too categorical on my part."

In other portions of his Iran-Contra testimony, McFarlane said he had helped alter documents, failed to shut down an out-of-control covert operation and did nothing when Marine Lt. Col. Oliver L. North told him he planned to hold a "shredding party."

McFarlane said repeatedly that if anyone was at fault in all of this, it was he.

Rep. Lee Hamilton, D-Ind., chairman of the House committee, rejected McFarlane's attempt to take all of the blame.

"As the national security adviser you are the spokesman for the president of the United States," Hamilton told the witness.

"And when we write to you, we do not write to Mr. McFarlane, we write to you as the representative of the president.

"And when you spoke to the Congress and when you wrote to the Congress, we accepted your words and your assuranecs as those of the president.

Storm strands travelers, students

Associated Press

A blizzard plastered the northern Plains with deep snow driven by wind up to 65 mph Friday, endangering newborn calves and stranding travelers along hundreds of miles of blocked highways in Colorado, Nebraska, Wyoming and the Dakotas.

The storm barreled into Minnesota on Friday night. Blizzard warnings were issued for the northwestern part of the state, and wet snow and 35 mph wind made driving hazardous.

Students heading home aboard two school buses were caught by the storm Thursday and were spending their second night as guests at two farms, one of which had no electricity.

"We feel it is in the best interest of the public to not, not go out on the highway," said Capt. Pius Ternes of the North Dakota Highway Patrol. "We don't want someone getting stranded. It's just a very dangerous situation."

"We've mostly had people sliding off the road. We're not even pulling them out. We're just getting people out of the vehicles," Nebraska State Patrol dispatcher Alex Haberkorn said in Scottsbluff.

Several hundred pupils in Colorado spent the night in their schools. Some travelers tried to sleep on the floors of a courthouse. North Dakota Capitol workers were sent home Friday about an hour after they arrived.

There were numerous minor accidents as vehicles slid on ice and snow, and many schools closed. Snow plows could not keep up with blowing, drifting snow in many areas. Wyoming state offices were closed, although the Legislature met.

Hard-hit Nebraska was not expected to get relief until late Friday or early today. The storm was expected to track across Minnesota and Wisconsin.

Up to 40 inches of snow fell in two days in the mountains of Utah at the Alta ski resort, with 37 inches at Snowbird. Three to 4 feet had fallen around Lead and Deadwood, on the edges of South Dakota's Black Hills. Visibility in areas was down to zero.

School bus driver Linda Barret and her 13 riders took refuge Thursday at a farm some 20 miles from Harrisburg, Neb., when the storm cut visibility, and bus driver Sharon Grubbs and her eight riders, ages 7 to 13, wound up at a farm 17 miles from Harrisburg, in far western Nebraska.

Grassland burns in Midland, Howard, Martin counties

By PATRICK CRIMMINS
and ED TODD

Grass drier than kindling wood aged under the sun turned into blazes and smoke on pastures and rangeland in Midland, Martin and Howard counties Friday afternoon.

A range fire that started about 3:50 p.m. Friday north of the Lomax community between Stanton and Big Spring raged about six hours in burning between 3,000 and 4,000 acres of grassland, according to the Martin County Sheriff's Department at Stanton.

The fire burned from south of the highway for about 10 miles to near Lomax. Firefighters from Stanton, Greenwood and Big Spring fought the blaze, which was excited by dry grass and whipping winds, officials said.

Fires, carried by northwesterly winds that peaked to 45 mph, also burned grassland in northwest Midland but spared Midland houses.

The in-town fire, fueled by dry, swirling winds, burned to just yards from a northwest Midland residential neighborhood before it was controlled by Midland firefighters. No injuries were reported.

Four Midland Fire Department fire engines were dispatched to the fire, which burned more than two dozen acres of brush and grassland between Loop 250 and Bluebird Lane along Midland Drive.

"We know it started on a dirt road where people had been dropping trash," said Battalion Chief Bob White of the Midland Fire Department. "The houses east of Midland Drive were of concern for awhile," he said.

Some residents who live east of Midland Drive pulled out garden hoses to wet house roofs, fences and lawns when the fire seemed to be nearing their houses.

Mrs. Carl Banks began hosing down a picket fence at her daughter's house near the intersection of Midland Drive and Crestgate Avenue when the choking smoke was at its thickest.

She soaked about half of the fence before the fire was contained, and the smoke cleared just before 2 p.m.

"It was scary for a while, though," Mrs. Banks said. "I was scared to death it was going to get the dogs."

Joe Holmes, 4303 Crestwood, and his wife were driving home from Hobbs, N.M., when they noticed the white clouds of smoke as they neared Midland.

Fire may not hurt land, specialist says

ABILENE (AP) — A massive range fire that marched through Callahan and Shackelford counties Friday ravaged ranch land, but agriculture officals said that after one good rain, the terrain may be better than ever.

"In most cases the fire itself does little damage to range conditions," said Jack Landers, extension range specialist in San Angelo. "What will really hurt is if ranchers allow grazing too soon on the burned land.

"This is almost a natural process in West Texas. We hate to see the damage it does to fences, wildlife and buildings. But this old country does have a healing characteristic, and depending on spring moisture and grazing, well, it could be better off in the long run," he said.

The fire about 150 miles west of Dallas began Thursday night and by Friday afternoon had charred about 140,000 acres and continued to burn.

Landers told the Abilene Reporter-News that he is concerned about the blaze's effect on wildlife in the area. Although small patches of fire seem to help wildlife, larger burns have an adverse efect.

Such fires often eliminate cover for quail, rabbits and deer, he said. The temperature of the fire also plays a big role in hurting wildlife.

The protein levels in the brush and grass that have been burned are typically very low at this time of year, he said.

But ranchers have supplemented the grass with protein for some time, "so the grass loss is not as great as one would think. It just looks bad," he said.

Landers said he participated in several prescribed burns earlier this year and the country is already recovering and greening up.

He said ranchers should wait 60 to 90 days before turning livestock back on the burned land to allow it to recover.

In Shackelford County, prescribed burns have been going on sice early January. The Soil Conservation Service has seen increased interest in the use of controlled burns for prickly pear control.

Although Friday's fire has been wild, ranchers will see the same advantages of a controlled burn.

"A person can take advantage of the fire and come in with a very small amount of herbicide and practically get 100 percent prickly pear control," Landers said.

Dole once again challenges Bush to one-on-one debate

CHICAGO (AP) — Republican Sen. Bob Dole, scrambling to alvage his presidential campaign, challenged GOP front-runner George Bush on Friday to show up for a live 30-minute television show Dole has purchased for tonight.

Earlier Friday, as he campaigned around Illinois, Dole vowed to stay in the race at least through the state's primary on Tuesday, though he said he would reassess his chances after that.

Dole, who pulled most of his TV ads off the air in Illinois earlier this week, said he had bought television time on a Chicago station and would broadcast live from a small college in Galesburg, Ill.

He challenged the vice president to join him there for a debate at Knox College, which was the site of one of the famous Lincoln-Douglas debates.

Bush has declined Dole's repeated challenges to a one-on-one debate. But Dole said, "In any event, I'll be there to discuss the issues. I dare George Bush to have a debate with Bob Dole."

Bush is tentatively scheduled to be in Galesburg tonight to attend a GOP dinner.

Earlier in the day, Dole had joked with reporters that he might have a cardboard cutout of Bush on the stage if the vice president wouldn't show up in person.

"We're hanging by our fingernails," Dole said at an airport news conference in Moline. "We need to somehow capture the attention of the Illinois voters."

Lawmaker proposes overhaul of sentencing system

By JEANETTE ALLEN
Reporter-Telegram Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — The chairman of a special legislative committee Friday proposed a major overhaul of the state's sentencing system to ease overcrowding of county jails and state prisons, but other lawmakers said the policy may backfire.

Rep. Al Granoff, D-Dallas and chairman of the House Select Committee on Sentencing and Recidivism, told his committee the proposal increases "hard time" for violent offenders, while offering alternative punishment — such as intensive supervision probation — for non-violent crimes.

Granoff cited a study showing ex-convicts punished by means other than incarceration are less likely to become repeat offenders.

"Ultimately the problem is the problem with the crime in the streets," he said. "It is my hope to come out with a complete overhaul of the criminal justice system. If we are saying jails' space is the only problem to overcome we are being dishonest to the public."

The committee will present its recommendations to the 1989 legislative session.

Rep. Dan Morales, D-San Antonio, said he agrees with the basic structure of the proposal, but it has to be studied carefully to ensure that no one part of the criminal justice system would face an overload.

The committee agreed that part of the problem is the unequitable sentencing system. For example, a first-degree felon can be sentenced from five years to life in prison, while a person committing a third degree felony may be sentenced from two to ten years. Someone convicted of first-degree murder thus could serve the same amount of time as a shoplifter.

Morales said, "We need to restrict or limit the oprions and cut off the wide discretion given to courts and judges."

Rep. Allen Hightower, D-Huntsville, said he could not support the Granoff plan because the fourth-degree felony in the revised system, which calls for nine months' mandatory time before parole, could worsen overcrowding.

Moscow Circus embarks on first North American tour in 10 years

N.Y. Times News Service

NEW YORK — Bears danced, a juggler juggled and an unlikely triumvirate of American producers and a Soviet circus impresario announced this week at Radio City Music Hall that the Moscow Circus would make its first North American tour in 10 years.

The renowned Soviet ensemble is to open in Toronto on Aug. 15 and conclude a 15-city tour in San Francisco next Jan. 1, after about 200 performances, including 44 shows at Radio City between Sept. 12 and Oct. 9.

At this week's preview of the 11 acts that the circus will bring to America, Grigory Popovich danced atop an unbalanced ladder and sent a dizzying aerial parade of rings flying through the theater's mirrored Grand Foyer.

But the real show-stoppers were Tisha and Knopa, two Russian brown bears that looked like people in bear costumes, and their trainers, Vyacheslav Zolkin and Svetlana Mikityuk. Tisha danced and did somersaults, and Knopa stood on a plank balanced on Zolkin's feet while it played catch with Ms. Mikityuk.

"The Soviet circus is more than a collection of performers and animals," said Steven E. Leber, who is producing the tour with Scott Sanders of Radio City Music Hall Productions. "It's a cultural institution."

Indeed, circuses are taken very seriously in the Soviet Union, which has more than 100 companies, special schools devoted to tightrope-walking and clowning and an estimated annual attendance of 100 million, according to Yuri Matveyev, deputy director of the Moscow Circus.

adˊə-pos

adipose — (adjective) Nowadays it seems that everyone is jogging, dieting, lifting weights, or somehow trying to get rid of excess "adipose" deposits. "Adipose," or "fat" as the less polite among us know it, comes from the Latin word "adeps," meaning "grease or fat in the body." Whatever we call it, reducing "adipose" buildup takes hard work and discipline. We don't know about you, but hard work and discipline make us hungry for ice cream. We think our "adipose" battle is going to be a long one!

STORM

They were still there Friday and planned to spend a second night. The electricity had been out at the second farm, owned by Jack and Karen Holt, since late Thursday.

"It's kind of like the old days," Ms. Grubbs said. She and Mrs. Holt used a camping stove to cook meals while the children huddled under blankets.

Outside Scottsbluff, Neb., Jim and Elizabeth Davis of Hot Springs, Wyo., spent about 15 hours stuck in their car before they were rescued Friday. Davis, 68, said he and his 67-year-old wife had apples and candy, plenty of blankets and a full gas tank.

For one resort, the storm was too much of a good thing.

"We must have close to 4 foot. Even the ski slopes are closed," said Bob Ekeren, manager of the Terry Peak Lodge in the Black Hills. Snow buried cars at the lodge and would-be skiers stayed inside Friday morning, he said.

"Right now you can't hardly see your hand in front of your face," Ekeren said. "I've never seen this much snow in my life. It's just unbelievable."

Wind gusting to 60 mph was reported Friday morning at Fort Morgan, Colo., and to 65 mph at Rapid City, S.D. Western Nebraska had gusts to 50 mph.

The wind blew off a 20-by-30 foot section of roof at a Rapid City hotel, and it landed on three cars. No one was hurt.

Friday was the 100th anniversary of the start of the four-day Great Blizzard of 1888 in the East. That storm claimed 400 lives.

The weather threatened thousands of newborn calves, and ranchers in the Nebraska Sandhills region worked around the clock to get animals to shelter.

"The men are just exhausted...We worked all night long," said Marianne Beel. "We had 300 calves born yesterday. We're dragging them in, separating them from their mothers."

Dick Kjerstad, chairman of the South Dakota Beef Checkoff Campaign Committee, said Friday the storm could be a severe blow to the state's cattle industry. "If it lasts another day, there could sure be some big losses," he said.

In the Nebraska Panhandle, all roads in and out of Kimball were closed and Civil Defense Director Dan Jenson estimated 600 travelers spent the night in the town of 3,800 residents.

Hotels and motels were filled, and residents opened their homes, he said. But many spent the night at the Kimball County Courthouse, and about 200 truckers slept in their trucks.

Interstate 80 was closed for more than 300 miles, from Walcott, Wyo., to Rock Springs, Neb., because of snowdrifts and low visibility. Many other roads also were closed in eastern Wyoming, including almost 140 miles of Interstate 25, and in western Nebraska.

The closing of roads into Laramie, Wyo., marooned skiers at the Snowy Range ski area, which has no overnight accommodations. Co-owner Terri Collins said about 180 people spent the night on the floor and tables and most were too tired Friday morning to go skiing on 12 inches of fresh snow.

"We've got all the roads closed. People have to stay home," said Kathy Moan of the Wyoming Highway Patrol. She said roads in and out of Cheyenne and Gillette were closed and the eastern part of the state was immobilized Friday morning.

About 100 miles of Interstate 90 was closed overnight in western South Dakota, and sections of I-94 were closed in North Dakota. Several northeastern Colorado highways also were closed, including sections of Interstates 25 and 70, the State Patrol said.

In northern Colorado, 250 to 300 of the 1,200 students in the Weld County School District spent the night in schools because buses couldn't get them home Thursday, said Superintendent Bob Gudka.

"The kids are having a ball," Gudka said. As for the teachers, he joked, "we may have to get psychological help for them later on."

He said parents in four-wheel-drive vehicles fetched some students Friday morning and a few were sent home on a convoy of buses accompanied by other four-wheel-drives.

Curt Wilcott/Reporter-Telegram

A wall of flames fueled by dry grasslands and gusty winds seems to greet motorists Friday afternoon in northwest Midland.

Weekend will be cooler

From Staff and Wire Reports

Midlanders can expect a nice day for kite flying and other outdoor activities today.

Mostly fair conditions are predicted with a high in the mid-60s and northerly to northeasterly winds at 10 to 20 mph and gusty, according to the weatherman at the National Weather Service at Midland International Airport.

Partly cloudy skies and slightly cooler temperatures in the mid-50s are expected for Sunday.

The record high for March 11 is 89 degrees, recorded in 1967. The low for March 12, set in 1948, is 15 degrees.

Friday's high temperature was 72 degrees, and the low was 42 degrees.

STATE

A cool front stretched across Texas Friday afternoon from near Sherman to the lower Pecos valley north of Del Rio.

Behind the front, westerly winds whipped in the 20 to 30 mph range and gusted to near 45 mph. Brisk southerly winds blew areas ahead of the front.

A second frontal system cut across the northwest corner of the Panhandle. Clouds and cooler air covered that part of Texas, where Dalhart was the cool spot at 3 p.m. with 48 degrees.

The National Weather Service forecast called for partly cloudy skies today with scattered thunderstorms in the northeast, east and south central parts of the state. Partly cloudy north and west, mostly fair south tonight and Sunday. A slight chance of thunderstorms was forecast for the Panhandle late Saturday.

NATION

A powerful late-winter blizzard whitened the Black Hills of South Dakota, with heavy snow and winds up to 65 mph barreling through parts of that state, Colorado and Nebraska on Friday before moving east into Minnesota.

Blizzard warnings extended from northeast Colorado across the Nebraska Panhandle and northwest Nebraska into much of South Dakota. Parts of Interstate 80 in western Nebraska were shut down.

In South Dakota, Rapid City reported winds of up to 65 mph and heavy snow. Nearby Lead and Deadwood had up to 3 feet of snow. Sturgis had 20 inches, Spearfish, 18, and Custer and Hill City 14.

The blizzard also blasted the northeast plains of Colorado, where winds gusted to 50 mph at Wellington, Akron and Fort Morgan.

Snow also continued to fall across much of Wyoming, where Rock Springs received 15 inches, Laramie, 11, and Cheyenne, 7.

The storm moved slowly northeastward into Minnesota, where up to 3 inches of snow was measured north of Bemidji. Wind gusts of 49 mph were reported at Duluth.

Today's forecast called for the late-season storm system to bring widespread showers and thunderstorms from the lower Ohio and western Tennessee valleys into the lower Mississippi Valley and western Georgia. Blowing snow was likely from the Middle Missouri Valley into parts of the Great Lakes. Snow and sleet were forecast for central Wisconsin, with rain across the lower Great Lakes and Ohio Valley and scattered snow in the northern Plains and central Rockies.

FIRE

"I sure thought about" wetting down his roof, Holmes said until he saw the blaze subsiding.

The largest and most enduring of the fires was the grassland fire reported near Lomax, a farming community in Howard County. The fire started near the Interstate Highway 80 overpass near Lomax, according to a Martin County Sheriff's Department spokesman. Fire-fighting units from Greenwood, Stanton and Big Spring were dispatched to the blaze, and more units were standing by. By Friday night, the fire had burned through the Wilkinson Ranch.

In yet another range fire, grassland on the Holt Ranch and Scharbauer Ranch about 20 miles north of Midland in Martin County were burned Friday afternoon.

Neighboring rancher Bobby Matthews who joined in fighting the range fire speculated that the blaze was started by a lit cigarette discarded by a motorist traveling on Texas Highway 349 (Lamesa Highway).

"Somebody threw a cigarette out there, I think," said Matthews. "There was so much smoke, it was hard to see."

Firefighters who manned pumpers and tankers from Midland, Lenorah, Stanton, and Northeast Midland County fought the fire along with ranchers, according to a Martin County Sheriff's Department dispatcher. TST Paraffin Service of Lenorah hauled in tankers filled with water to help fight the fire.

And road-graders plowed fire guards to help stop the fire.

"That winds shifted so you couldn't tell which way it (the fire) was going," Matthews said.

Battalion Chief Bob White of the Midland Fire Department said his firemen didn't spot "anything suspicious" to suggest what started the fire on the ranches.

He speculated that a glass Coke bottle struck by sunlight could have started the fire.

"Now, that happens occasionally," he said. "The sun hits it just right and works like a magnifying glass on tissue paper."

He estimated that four to five sections were burned.

"It was pretty large."

Another a grass fire, possibly started by burning trash blown from a barrel, was reported near Farm-to-Market Road 715 and County Road 145 southeast of Midland. The Midland Fire Department and Greenwood Volunteer Fire Department fire-fighting units and a Midland County tanker were dispatched to that blaze.

Activist says being held by Contras 'terrifying'

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — An American peace activist held by Contra rebels for nine days said Friday the experience was the most terrifying of his life and his captors threatened to kill him if he tried to escape.

Richard Boren, a 30-year-old Witness for Peace volunteer from Elkin, N.C., said he was forced at gunpoint to go with the Contras after they captured him during an attack March 1 on a northern farm cooperative.

They freed him Wednesday night, suffering from a cold but unharmed.

Witness for Peace, based in Durham, N.C., opposes U.S. policy on Nicaragua and support for the rebels, and seeks to document Contra human rights abuses.

"The explosions sounded like they were all around, literally, I thought we'd end up getting killed," Boren said of the rebel attack on the cooperative.

"I heard a shot right at the door to the house I was staying in," he said. "I looked up and saw Isabel Ramos, the 13-year-old girl, was wounded."

DOLE

. Dole, campaigning across central and western Illinois, denied reports that he had considered pulling out of the race. But he conceded there had been some discussion of another less drastic option.

"There was some talk about maybe just canceling a couple of days' events to heighten whatever we're going to do later," Dole said at a stop in Bloomington, where he spoke to Illinois Farm Bureau leaders.

Dole said hi staff cutbacks were made to save money and because most of the workers were no longer needed after Super Tuesday.

Campaign aides said Dole also was buying television time to air ads on Sunday.

Throughout the day, Dole made it clear that his task in Illinois, if he is to overtake Bush, is to draw the vice president out on issues and to separate him from the good will that many Republicans feel for President Reagan.

"I'm sort of running against the ghost of Ronald Reagn," the senator said.

In addition, Dole said that Bush's victories on Tuesday had given him a big boost in polls.

"What we need to do is slow down this Super Tuesday momentum," Dole said.

One effort by Dole is to continue to press Bush to participate in one-on-one debates even though the vice president has declined.

"If we could just discuss the issues in one state ... I will win," Dole said. "It's pretty hard to slow down a freight train if you don't talk about the issues."

One issue on which he has pressed Bush is the vice president's involvement in the Iran-Contra affair. "...I've said from the start that it's not going to go away. That's why it should be addressed," Dole said.

One uncertain element in Dole's strategy is how Illinois voters will react to the possibility that a Bush victory in their state could effectively end the GOP nominating race. Dole maintains there are many voters who have yet to decide which candidate they will back.

"I know there are a lot of people, probably 20 percent, who are just now beginning to focus on who the candidates are," said Dole.

Asked whether he would abandon the race if he loses next week, Dole said, "We will reassess after Illinois. I am going to be very realistic about this."

McFARLANE

"You spoke for the president," Hamilton said. "And the responsibility must rest with him, as well as with you. You cannot, it seems to me, accept responsibility for mistakes, as admirable as that may be, and thereby absolve the president of any responsibility."

"There is no rebuttal," McFarlane replied.

McFarlane, who has testified at length before the grand jury empaneled by independent counsel Lawrence E. Walsh, attempted suicide last year by swallowing 30 to 40 Valium tablets one day before his scheduled testimony before a presidential commission that also investigated the Iran-Contra affair.

Walsh was not permitted to use McFarlane's testimony before the Iran-Contra panel as evidence in his case, since McFarlane testified before the congressional committee under a grant of limited immunity.

After resigning as national security adviser on Dec. 4, 1985, McFarlane was asked the following May to lead a secret mission to Tehran to open contact with so-called moderate Iranians thought to have influence with Lebanese radicals holding several kidnapped Americans.

With North as a member of the party, the group traveled aboard an aircraft carrying spare parts for Hawk missiles previously shipped to Iran by Israel.

The cake and the Bible signed by President Reagan, which McFarlane also carried as gifts, were to become celebrated symbols of the affair.

JAILS

"I won't support it if it doesn't reduce the time for non-violent crime," said Hightower, chairman of the House Committee on Corrections. "If we keep putting more people into the system than now, we simply can't stand it."

Morales said, "We won't introduce anything that will significantly aggravate the (overcrowding) problem."

A study completed last week of county jail capacity shows local jails are backed up with convicted felons. The state's 39 largest jails "are in serious trouble," said Robert Viterna, executive director of the State Commission on Jail Standards. About 9,000 county jail inmates are pre-trial felons, while 4,000 are convicted felons.

Viterna said decreasing inmate traffic through the Texas Department of Correction's "front door" may be the best way to lessen overcrowding at state and local levels. He said hiring officials to handle court procedures around the clock and setting limits on excessive bonds may ease inmate crowding.

119 died in fire on passenger vessel

The passenger vessel Noronic was destroyed by fire at a dock in Toronto in 1949, killing 119 people.

The fire broke out shortly after midnight when most of those aboard were asleep.

The Noronic was the largest Canadian passenger ship ever placed in service on the Great Lakes.

Officer demoted for conduct during theft-ring case

By PATRICK CRIMMINS
Staff Writer

The Midland police officer who helped break a multi-state theft ring was demoted for his conduct while on the case, Police Chief Richard Czech confirmed late Friday.

Sgt. Dale Seago, 34, was demoted to a patrol officer for violating a direct order while he was working on the case, Czech said.

Seago was on vacation Friday and attempts to reach him for comment were unsuccessful.

In December 1987, Sam's Wholesale Club in Midland notified police that videocassette recorders and telephones valued at more than $10,000 were stolen by members of a theft ring who stuffed the items into boxes containing cheaper items, according to Midland police Lt. Lannie Lee.

After Seago was assigned to the case, he discovered a Houston connection to the case which led to Sunday's arrest of seven Houston-area residents, according to Det. Sue Brietzke with the Harris County Sheriff's Department.

The seven are suspected of involvement in thefts of Sam's Wholesale Club locations in Texas, Oklahoma, Florida, Louisiana, and Tennessee, Ms. Brietzke said.

According to a story published in Friday's Fort Worth Star-Telegram Seago was demoted for traveling out of state on the investigation when he was told not to.

Czech would not comment on the reason for the personnel action, but he said it had "nothing to do" with the investigation.

U.S. senators tell Gorbachev tanks, artillery should be cut

WORLD

MOSCOW (AP) — A group of U.S. senators told Mikhail S. Gorbachev on Friday that Soviet superiority in tanks and artillery scared the West into a nuclear defense, so cutbacks in those arms should precede strategic missile reductions.

The senators said they sensed the Soviet leader is less worried about President Reagan's Strategic Defense Initiative, but they said they doubted that signaled greater tolerance of it.

"I think there has been a lessening of Soviet apprehension about SDI," said Sen. Sam Nunn, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee. "I think they recognize that it is a long-term project."

The senators met with reporters after a weeklong exchange with high-level Soviet military and political officials.

The Kremlin wants to link a superpower agreement on reduction of strategic weapons to compliance with the 1972 Anti-Ballistic Missile treaty. The treaty outlaws space-based defense systems like that seen under SDI, popularly known as the "Star Wars" program.

Nunn said the Americans pressed for "delinkage" of the two issues, but they "did not get any encouragement at all along that line."

The official news agency Tass, in its account of the meeting, said Gorbachev reiterated the Kremlin's "allegiance to its position on a direct linkage" of missiles cuts with ABM compliance.

"Violating it destroys the entire machinery of the agreement," Tass quoted Gorbachev as saying. "We shall never be able to bridle the rabid charger of the arms race if it is let loose in outer space."

Gorbachev and Reagan signed an agreement eliminating all medium-range nuclear weapons at their Washington summit in December.

Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., said he assured Gorbachev that the treaty was likely to be ratified this spring "with no crippling amendments" and that the concern of the Congress and administration had turned to the issue of how to cut strategic, or long-range nuclear arms.

U.S. and Soviet negotiators are at work in Geneva on a proposed treaty to eliminate 50 percent of the superpowers' long-range, or intercontintal nuclear missiles.

Both sides have said they would like the treaty ready for signing in late May or early June when Reagan visits Moscow, but the senators expressed doubt it would be ready in time.

Nunn said the Kremlin should first cut its overwhelming superiority in conventional weaponry such as tanks and artillery.

"There is a great correlation between our first-use reliance on nuclear weapons and their massive conventional forces," Nunn said.

He said he explained to Gorbachev during the group's meeting, which lasted more than three hours, that a Soviet rollback of tanks and artillery from Eastern Europe would go far in reducing the fears of America's European allies about a Soviet military threat.

NATO nations, which will lose their medium-range missiles under the agreement signed in December, have balked at further nuclear cuts without prior reductions in Soviet conventional arms.

Bell says it wouldn't oppose ban of 976

STATE

AUSTIN (AP) — Southwestern Bell, stung by bad publicity about dial-a-porn services for which it does the billing, said Friday it would not oppose a ban on the controversial "Dial 976" program.

Dial-a-porn, as well as horoscope, soap opera and other types of information, are offered as part of the phone company's Dial 976 program. The provider of the service sets the price, but Southwestern Bell does the billing.

Opponents, including parent groups, have complained that dial-a-porn is too accessible to children. School districts have said thousands of dollars of dial-a-porn calls have been made from their phones.

The Public Utility Commission is considering whether to ban all 976 service as a result of the dial-a-porn problem.

Bill Free, Southwestern Bell vice president, said his company would support the ban if ordered by the commission.

"While we have made numerous attempts to correct a variety of 976 abuses, it's clear that our efforts have fallen short of what customers expect from us. We simply cannot or will not permit further damage to our most valued asset — the confidence that our customers place in us," Free said.

The PUC has asked for public comment on two proposals: a ban on 976 service or a requirement that it be available only to customers who ask for it. Free said the second option is "unacceptable because it would still associate Southwestern Bell's name ...with materials harmful to its image and reputation."

Dave Lopez, a Southwestern Bell spokesman, said, "Our primary concern is to make sure the corporate image damage doesn't continue."

Responding to a PUC request for other alternatives, Free proposed a system in which dial-a-porn would be separated from other types of 976 services by establishing a new three-number prefix for "any programs which have the potential to harm the company's image and with which the company does not wish to be associated."

Under the proposal, Southwestern Bell would no longer provide a billing service for dial-a-porn and would make the services available only to customers who ask for them.

"If they wish to be in the business of adult or live programming, they should no longer be allowed to count on Southwestern Bell to bill or collect their charges," Free said.

Southwestern Bell and General Telephone are now offering, at no charge, blocking of calls to 976 numbers.

The PUC has banned live conversation on dial-a-porn calls by restricting all 976 calls to recorded messages. But a court order has enjoined enforcement of the recordings-only requirement.

Southwestern Bell's announcement Friday drew concern from Omnicall, a Seattle-based company that offers a variety of 976 services in Texas through a related company.

Dick Hodgkin, an Omnicall executive, said the firm offers soap opera updates, dial-a-joke, horoscopes and children's programming in Dallas.

Panel recommends book mention evolution by name

AUSTIN (AP) — A State Board of Education committee recommended Friday that high school geology textbooks mention the theory of evolution by name.

If the proposal is approved today by the full board it would mark the first time the state mandated specific inclusion of evolution theory in a textbook.

In a 3-0 vote, and with no discussion, the board's committee for students approved a staff recommendation to include the theory of evolution in the "proclamation" for geology textbooks for the 1990-91 school year.

The proclamation is the guideline used by publishers in writing texbooks to be considered for use in Texas.

Victoria Bergin, Texas Education Agency deputy commissioner, said the move probably would not change the content of geology books, many of which she said already discuss evolution.

"The old way it was stated talked about fossils, dinosaurs, extinction theories and methods of dating. Within that, the publishers and the teachers could certainly put in things that had to do with theories of change and how things change over years," she said.

Elizabeth Judge of Broader Perspectives, Inc., a group that says its "emphasis is on encouraging a bias-free society," pushed for the change. She said Friday it is important to mention the theory of evolution by name.

"It's the first time the word has ever been used," she said.

Until 1984, the state has tight guidelines that restricted textbook discussion of evolution.

Ms. Judge said the concept of evolution has been discussed in biology and geology textbooks since then, but not by name.

"There's no rule against having the concept in, but it puts the publishers in a funny position. 'Do we or don't we?' Some of them would be brave enough to put it in. Some of them wouldn't. Some of them would put it in and call it something else (such as) genetic changes or adaptations," she said.

The textbooks covered by the proclamation to be approved Saturday are scheduled to be ready for review in May 1989 and the subject of public hearings in August 1989.

The geology books are for a high school elective course.

Shamir attacks peace plan

JERUSALEM (AP) — Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir on Friday attacked U.S. peace proposals for the first time in public, charging that they were "fraught with danger" and incapable of bringing peace to the region.

U.S. Secretary of State George P. Shultz shuttled through the region last week to urge Arab and Israeli acceptance of the plan.

"The only word I agree with in the U.S. plan is the name Shultz," Shamir was quoted as saying by the Israeli daily newspaper Haaretz.

Shamir previously has criticized elements of the U.S. proposal in private meetings with party officials, but statements published Friday in a series of interviews constituted his first rejection of the plan as a whole.

Shamir's comments on the plan were criticized by a high-ranking official in Israel's left-of-center Labor Party, which shares power in a shaky coalition with Shamir's rightist Likud bloc.

"It would be extremely artificial if the American people hear only one unauthorized version," former Foreign Minister Abba Eban told Israel radio.

Foreign Minister Shimon Peres, Shamir's rival and a leader of the Labor Party, supports the plan.

In Cairo, President Hosni Mubarak of Egypt and Jordan's King Hussein said Friday that Shamir would pit himself against world opinion if he rejects the U.S. peace plan.

"I don't think that this (Shamir's comments) will lead to a comprehensive settlement or a comprehensive peace which is very important for the whole area and the whole world," Mubarak told reporters after a 3½-hour meeting with the Jordanian leader.

"I agree," Hussein said.

The Egyptian leader said he and Hussein were making "our maximum effort in the right direction," to reach a Palestinian settlement.

Shultz has requested an Israeli decision on the plan by the time Shamir arrives in Washington on Monday and has publicly complained that both the Arabs and the Israelis are unwilling to compromise.

The plan calls for Israel to give up land in the occupied West Bank and Gaza Strip in exchange for peace in the region.

Shamir said he was particularly disturbed by the part of the U.S. proposal that calls for kicking off direct negotiations with an international conference.

That, he told the English-language Jerusalem Post, "obligates me to resist...with all my power. And my power to resist is very great."

He said the United States had changed its position on the convening of such a conference without reason and he warned the proposal was "fraught with danger."

Shamir told Haaretz that while the United States is undeniably a friend to Israel, "every bit of it (the U.S. plan) was an attempt to satisfy the Arabs."

The right-wing leader has twice blocked Cabinet votes on whether Israel should approve the plan.

The issue is expected to come up a final time before the Shamir trip during a Cabinet meeting Sunday.

Eban, a member of Peres' Labor Party, announced Friday he would travel to the United States hours before Shamir to explain Labor's position on the peace plan to the Americans.

"The fact is that Mr. Shamir did not get any authorization to refuse the peace plan. No parliament, and no Cabinet agreed to this refusal," Eban said on Israel radio.

Speaking on Israel radio, Shamir said he would explain to Shultz "that his plan, as it is seen today, can't solve the problem of peace in our area and can't guarantee the safety and security of the state of Israel."

Despite Shamir's tough stand, U.S. officials are still hopeful that Shultz and Reagan may be able to persuade the prime minister to change his mind, diplomatic sources said.

Shamir, however, stressed that he will bring the Americans his own suggestions on how to make the plan more acceptable.

"This paper (the plan) given to us is not Moses' commandments from Mt. Sinai," Shamir said on the radio.

Shamir aide Yossi Ahimeir told The Associated Press the prime minister would suggest implementing Palestinian self-rule in the territories on a step-by-step basis, testing the idea in a single city, for example, before expanding it throughout the territories.

In addition, the prime minister will suggest that instead of an international conference, peace talks be held under Soviet-American auspices, Ahimeir said.

Finally, Ahimeir said, the prime minister wants a more flexible timetable than that sought by Washington, which has called for starting talks on an interim solution in the territories by May and opening negotiations on the final status of the West Bank and Gaza by December.

Shamir wants to delay talks on the final status until self-rule is implemented throughout the territories, his aide said.

Seatbelt law OK'd

ROME (AP) — Parliament has approved a law requiring the installation and wearing of seatbelts.

The law requires all cars registered in the last 10 years to be equipped with seatbelts in the front seats by March 1989. By September 1989, drivers and front-seat passengers will be required to wear them.

The law will also require child safety seats to be used for children up to age 4 in the back seat and for children aged 4 to 10 in the front seat.

GOP talks to Tower about running for governor

Tower

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas Republican leaders, in search of a strong 1990 gubernatorial candidate, say they have approached former U.S. Sen. John Tower about running for the post.

"I have talked to the senator about running," Ray Hutchison, former state Republican Party chairman, said Thursday. "Let me just say that he didn't show a disinterest in the idea. He didn't slam the door on me and he didn't kick me out."

Tower was en route from Washington D.C., to Dallas Friday and could not be reached for comment by The Associated Press.

Gov. Bill Clements, whose term expires in January 1991, already has said he will not seek re-election.

"There are many Republicans in this state who are absolutely committed to the Republican Party fielding a very, very strong candidate for governor in 1990," Hutchison told the Dallas Times Herald. "I think there is an excellent opportunity for the party to retain control of the governor's seat if we have the right candidate."

Hutchison said others also had approached Tower about the 1990 governor's race.

Another former state GOP chairman, Peter O'Donnell, was leading the effort to persuade Tower to run, sources told the Dallas newspaper.

Republican pollster Lance Tarrance of Houston, a longtime Tower friend, said the former senator would be a formidable opponent for other Republicans in the primary and for the Democratic nominee in the general election.

"Bringing in a John Tower, with his seniority in the party, would be an incredibly brilliant move," Tarrance said. "I have to think other Republicans would have to back out, because only so many people can drink from the same cup."

A Tower candidacy may scare some Republicans out of the primary race, but Hutchison and Tarrance said others, including Texas Railroad Commissioner Kent Hance, former Congressman Tom Loeffler and Texas Secretary of State Jack Rains, may run.

"There is Jim Baker," Tarrance said. "And I think there will be more names in the future. For instance, Anne Armstrong would be an excellent candidate and so would her husband, Tobin."

Baker is U.S. treasury secretary. Mrs. Armstrong is a former U.S. ambassador to Great Britain, and her husband was Clements' appointments secretary during the 1978-82 term.

Attorney General Jim Mattox and Treasurer Ann Richards are expected to square off for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in 1990.

Tower was elected to the Senate in 1961 and served until 1985, when he decided against seeking re-election. He now operates a consulting firm in Dallas.

Group seeks extension for amnesty

AUSTIN (AP) — State lawmakers, church leaders and immigration lawyers urged Congress Friday to extend the amnesty deadline by one year.

Under the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986, most undocumented aliens have through May 4 to apply for amnesty to remain in the United States legally. Agricultural workers have through November.

The National Immigration, Refugee and Citizenship Forum said Friday that is not enough time because of changes in Immigration and Naturalization Service amnesty rules and the economic hardships faced by many aliens who want to apply.

"If we really want to solve the problems of this underground population, if we want to bring these people out from the shadows and eliminate the exploitation...then let's give it a chance," said Linda Wong, a Los Angeles lawyer representing the Mexican American Legal Defense and Education Fund.

She spoke at a Capitol news conference that included church leaders and others working on behalf of aliens seeking amnesty. The group also called on the INS to abandon its plan to reduce staff at the legalization offices where aliens make their amnesty applications.

INS plans to close its Austin and Corpus Christi offices after the May 4 deadline also drew criticism from the group. Spokesmen said those offices should remain open through the November deadline for agricultural workers.

"I really think Congress intended that a full open-door policy be applicable throughout the application period, and nothing less. Closing the doors is not the answer. Outreach is the answer, especially for farmworkers," said Olga Moya of the Texas Department of Agriculture, who spoke at the news conference.

Under the amnesty law, aliens who can prove they were in the United States prior to Jan. 1, 1982 are eligible for permanent resident status. The INS initially projected 3.9 million aliens would apply, but only 900,000 applications were received through mid-February. The application period began last May.

INS officials said they were cutting staff at legalization offices because of the low number of applications.

Monsignor Donald Chatham of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Austin said at the news conference that many aliens have not applied because of "a lack of public outreach... and a backlog in the number of undecided cases."

"It's actually based upon fear," he said.

"Our ultimate goal is to make the amnesty law work as Congress intended. That is, to bring from out of the shadows of the law all persons eligible for legalization," Chatham said. "We are convinced that a full one-year extension of the application period is essential to reach this goal."

State Reps. Dudley Harrison, D-Sanderson, Lena Guerrero, D-Austin, and Sen. Gonzalo Barrientos, D-Austin, issued statements in support of the positions taken by the group.

Houston mayor proposes layoffs

HOUSTON (AP) — Mayor Kathy Whitmire, trying to cope with an $11 million revenue shortage, revealed a budget reduction plan Friday in which more than 200 full-time city employees would be laid off.

Mrs. Whitmire presented the $7.7 million budget reduction plan during an emergency meeting.

The mayor's plan includes 219 layoffs of full-time employees in five departments, including 151 in the municipal court system. Eighty part-time employees, all but 14 of them in the library department, also would be terminated.

Mrs. Whitmire said she would like for the termination notices to go out within 10 days, with layoffs to take effect on April 15.

Her budget proposes reductions other than layoffs in the fire and police departments. The only departments in which no spending cuts are called for are the City Council and the controller's office.

A group of council members met during the week to develop its own list of spending cuts that would spare key departments such as police, health and library.

Terps upset No. 18 Wrecks

Associated Press

The Atlantic Coast Conference tournament, known for its upsets, got off to a characteristic start Friday as rejuvenated Maryland upset No. 18 Georgia Tech 84-67 and qualified to meet No. 9 North Carolina in the semifinals.

Ironically, the young Terrapins were led by Keith Gatlin, one of the last holdovers from the Lefty Driesell coaching era. He scored 25 points, including six of seven 3-point shots, to avenge two one-sided defeats by the Yellow Jackets in the regular season.

That was a season-high for the 6-foot-5 senior guard, who sat out last season and the first semester with academic problems. Derrick Lewis added 17 points for the Terrapins, who lost to Georgia Tech 96-83 and 104-82 during the regular season.

The victory gave Maryland, 17-12, at least an outside shot at an NCAA tournament berth.

College Basketball

North Carolina opened the tournament with a 83-62 romp over Wake Forest.

Atlantic Coast

No. 9 UNC 83, Wake Forest 62

Ranzino Smith scored the first eight points of a 21-1 first-half surge that lifted the Tar Heels, 23-5, from an 18-11 deficit to a 32-19 lead. J.R. Reid led North Carolina with 21 points.

No. 11 NC St. 79, Clemson 72

Charles Shackleford scored 26 points, including two key baskets in the closing minutes, to lead North Carolina State, 24-6. Clemson, 14-14, got 19 points apiece from Eldon Campbell and Grayson Marshall.

Big East

No. 5 Pittsburgh 75, Connecticut 58

Jerome Lane scored 19 points and Charles Smith had eight of his 16 in a key second-half run for No. 5 Pittsburgh, 23-5, overcame a 10-point deficit in the first half.

No. 13 Syracuse 67, Boston C 53

Stephen Thompson had 15 points and Rony Seikaly 14 as the Orangemen, 23-8, held off the 15-13 Eagles. Sherman Douglas added 13 points and Derrick Coleman 12 for Syracuse.

Seton Hall 61, Georgetown 58

John Morton, who scored 20 points, hit one foul shot and Mark Bryant two in the final minute as the Pirates, 21-11, moved into the conference semifinals for the first time. It was the first Big East tournament loss to any team but Syracuse for Georgetown, 19-9, which got 24 points from Charles Smith.

Big Eight

No. 4 Oklahoma 99, Colorado 66

Ricky Grace scored 20 points and Oklahoma capitalized on numerous Colorado turnovers to beat the Buffaloes. Stacy King added 19 points for the Sooners, who take a 28-3 record into the semifinals Saturday against Missouri.

Missouri 90, Iowa St. 80

Derrick Chievous had 29 points and 10 rebounds to lead the Tigers, 19-9, and Doug Smith, who had 11, sparked a second-half rally that put the game away.

Kansas St. 75, Nebraska 70

Steve Henson, who set a conference record this season with 48 consecutive free throw, was 4-for-4 from the line in the final 21 seconds for Kansas State, 21-7.

Winds slow up WT runners

By TERRY WILLIAMSON
Assistant Sports Editor

ODESSA — The Friday nightmare of over six hours of qualifying is over in the 44th annual West Texas Relays at Ratliff Stadium, but if Old Man Wind continues to howl for today's final it could be Nightmare II.

High winds ripped through the Pearl of West Texas Friday, spoiling any real thrill that could be gained from a well-run track meet. This is a meet where times and distances mean nothing with winds that would blow a block of granite off the track.

Still, they're running this meet as scheduled and it will be remembered as a meet of survivors if high winds continue through today's finals. Action begins at 11:45 a.m.

With only three events complete in the 5A Division, Lubbock Coronado jumped to the early lead with 24 points while Amarillo Palo Duro is second with 19 1/5 points. Midland High is a surprise third with 16 3/5 points.

THE BULLDOGS got a second place finish from Stirling Warren in the shot put with a 53-2¼, a career best, and a second place from Braggston Morris in the long jump with a fine 20-0¼ against the wind.

"We're thrilled with Stirling's effort," said MHS coach Johnny Williams. "He finally got over that 50-foot hump. He has been looking good, but not throwing very well. I think this might send him on his way."

MHS also got a fifth place tie in the high jump from Rusty Holt with a 5-10.

Midland Lee got only two points with a fifth place 51-2¼ finish from Paul Little in the shot put, but again this was a first for Little, who hasn't been over the 50-foot mark.

Friday did little to answer the question of who will win the 5A Division. Odessa Permian, the meet favorite, was disqualified in the sprint relay and Midland High didn't qualify in the 1600 relay without Chris Johnson making this meet. Lee doesn't have senior star Jimmy Fennell, who is suffering from a thigh injury sustained last week in Andrews.

"PERMIAN gave everyone a little crack in the door, but I don't know if we can challenge or not without Fennell," said Lee track coach Eddie Wolski. "We are running with all juniors and seniors Saturday in the finals. I guess we will see how good we will be in the future."

Lee did qualify both relays and newcomer Troy Oliver, a junior, qualified in both the 300 and 110 hurdles. Marcus Strambler qualified in the 300 hurdles while Ferris Strambler earned a 200 berth. Bill Swearingen, who has won this year, made it in the 400. But none of the Lee runners had the fastest qualifying time.

MHS placed only its sprint relay and Olan Burnett in the 400 finals for today. Both Lee and MHS failed to get anyone in the three distance races.

In the Girls Division, Odessa High scored 26 points for the first day lead, but the Permian girls scored 10 points and look strong for a high point finish.

Defending champion Midland High didn't score any first day points while Lee had five points after three events. Lee's points came from senior Susie Dunn, who placed fourth in the long jump with a 15-5¾ and sixth in the high jump with a 4-10.

MHS has two relays and Dawn Shelby in the finals today and that won't be enough to earn another championship ring. Lee also has two relays and both Carrie Roach and Melody Miller in the 100. Janice Samuels earned a 100 hurdle berth.

Roach's 12.04 was the fastest qualifying time of the day and the only local runner to earn that particular honor and it came in a new event for her.

"I don't run the 100 normally. I run the 200, but it's so close to the 800 relay that I've been thinking of running the 100," said Roach. "I felt pretty good."

Both MHS and Lee failed to gain a 1600 relay team to the finals or any distance runners.

SMU, Baylor, Arkansas post victories in SWC tournament

From Wire Reports

DALLAS — Carlton McKinney hit 11 of 13 shots and scored 26 points Friday as top-seeded Southern Methodist University beat TCU 86-74 in the quarterfinals of the Southwest Conference Post-Season Basketball Classic.

The Mustangs increased their record to 25-6.

The Horned Frogs, who had lost to SMU twice in the regular season, ended their year at 9-19 under new Coach Moe Iba.

McKinney couldn't miss in the first half, scoring 18 points and hitting two 3-point baskets as the Mustangs built a 44-32 intermission lead. He was 8-of-8 from the field.

Guard Danny Hughes of TCU set a tournament record with seven 3-pointers. Arkansas' Ron Huery held the old record of six.

Baylor 54, Texas Tech 53

Michael Hobbs tipped in a missed shot with four seconds left to give No. 2 Baylor a comeback victory over seventh-seeded Texas Tech.

Baylor, 22-9, will face Arkansas, 21-7, at 8 p.m. CST today.

Texas Tech, 9-19, lost its first opening-round game in tournament history after leading by as many as 13 points. The Bears rallied behind Daryl Middleton, who had 16 points before he fouled out.

The Red Raiders' Sean Gay hit two free throws with 59 seconds left to give Tech a 53-52 lead.

With 32 seconds left, he missed the front end of a one-on-one and the Bears worked the ball to Michael Williams, who missed a shot from the corner. Hobbs tipped the ball into the hoop.

A mid-court shot by Jerry Mason fell short and the Red Raiders fell to 9-1 in first-round tournament games.

Arkansas 76, Texas A&M 64

Defensive specialist Keith Wilson scored a career-high 18 points Friday as third-seeded Arkansas beat sixth-seeded Texas A&M.

Wilson, an All-SWC defensive first-team pick, stunned the Aggies with his offense, scoring 14 points in the first half. The junior from Fort Smith, Ark., had a previous career high of 17 points against Rice last year.

Houston 72, Texas 57

DALLAS — Rolando Ferreira led four Houston starters in double figures with 17 points.

The fifth-seeded Cougars are 11-6 in the SWC and 17-11 overall and took a 10-point lead at half against Texas which finished 10-7, 16-13. Horace Chaney led the Cougars with 15 points and Richard Hollis had 14.

San Antonio East Central upset

AUSTIN (AP) — Kethus Hanks scored 39 points and 6-foot-11 Gerry Holmes added 20 Friday night as Houston Sam Houston upset San Antonio East Central, 91-86, in a double-overtime Class 5A semifinal game at the state schoolboy basketball tournament.

Sam Houston will play Fort Worth Dunbar, a last-second 58-55 victor over Dallas South Oak Cliff, for the 5A championship Saturday night.

Sam Houston's victory eliminated East Central, which had not been beaten in 34 previous games this season and was making its first state tournament appearance.

REGULATION play ended with the score tied 76-all when Tony Terrell, Class 5A's second-leading scorer this season, missed a jump shot and Sam Houston grabbed the rebound.

Terrell's desperation shot at the end of the first three-minute overtime also was off target, and Hanks and Holmes controled the second extra period.

Hanks — 15 of 42 from the field — grabbed 21 rebounds, and Holmes 18 even though he missed nearly half of the game because of fouls.

Terrell, averaging 34.5 points a game, scored 28. Robert Keno was high for East Central with 34.

In the other 5A semifinal game, Derrick Daniels hit a running 3-point shot at the final buzzer as Dunbar edged South Oak Cliff.

IN 2A on Friday, Liberty Hill's Phillip Lenox scored 32 points as his team and Archer City shot their way into Saturday's finals.

Liberty Hill, runnerup last year, defeated Troup 81-65, and Archer City, a 1987 semifinalist, beat Haskell 70-54 in first-round games.

South Oak Cliff, losing to Dunbar for the third time this season, led 47-34 with 2:40 left in the third period, when Dunbar started its comeback.

A Daniel 3-pointer from beyond the line of 19 feet 9 inches, gave Dunbar a 54-52 lead with 1 minute to go, and Randy Williams followed with a free throw for a 55-52 Dunbar lead.

Eric Ivory swished a 3-pointer for South Oak Cliff with 6 seconds remaining to tie the game, 55-55, and Dunbar called time out.

Daniels, a 6-2 guard, split two defenders on the run and shot, with the ball glancing off the backboard and into the basket. He never stopped running, sprinting toward the dressing room as his teammates surrounded him.

DANIELS led all scorers with 22 points. Dunbar coaches claim he also holds the national high school career assist record with 1,456, including six against South Oak Cliff.

Ivory was high for South Oak Cliff with 15 points.

Lenox, one of three players in Texas schoolboy history to score over 3,000 career points, had 19 at halftime as Liberty Hill led 46-29.

That put Liberty Hill's all-senior lineup on track to tie the 2A scoring record of 92 points, set by Sweeny in 1954, but the Panthers fell short.

Troup's Allen Austin, hitting three 3-point goals, was high for Troup with 25 points but fouled out with 3:59 to play.

Troup starter Marcus Kincaide also went to the bench with five fouls with 2:56 remaining in the third period. He had 15 points, but the Tigers made only 10 of 20 free throws.

ARCHER CITY, a finalist in 1967 and 1986, got 28 points from Nicky McCorkle, including four of four 3-pointers.

Haskell shot 32.4 percent from the field, connecting on only four of 25 3-point shots.

Archer City led 56-50 at the end of three quarters but Haskell missed 13 of 15 field goal attempts in the final period. Haskell's four points in that period were scored by Mark Young but Brad Bevel was high for Haskell with 14 points.

Liberty Hill raised its record to 30-8, and Archer City advanced with va 33-3 record. Haskell was eliminated at 29-6,Troup at 31-4.

Gooden looks good in four-inning stint against Braves

Associated Press

Dwight Gooden worked four scoreless innings in his second preseason start, leading the New York Mets to a 2-1 victory Friday over the Atlanta Braves.

"It was a load off my mind to do well," said Gooden, who gave up five runs on eight hits in three innings against Los Angeles in his first spring workout.

"I've never had a good spring," said Gooden, adding that he intended to revert to a power pitcher this year after going to more off-speed pitches the year before.

Gregg Jeffries and Dave Magadan each had two hits, and each drove in eighth-inning runs to break a scoreless tie.

Mets (ss) 8, Expos 2

In the other Mets game, Darren Reed hit a grand slam, leading New York over Montreal. Rookie Kevin Elster also homered for his first hit of the spring.

Angels 14, Brewers 3

California had 22 hits, four by Mark McLemore, in beating Milwaukee. McLemore tripled and scored in the first inning and drove in two runs with a single in California's six-run second against Bill Wegman.

Blue Jays 9, Twins 1

Jesse Barfield, Willie Upshaw and Pat Borders all homered in Toronto's nine-run fifth inning, and the Blue Jays beat Minnesota. All nine runs came on nine hits off reliever Tippy Martinez. Upshaw's homer was a grand slam.

Pirates 2, Astros 1

Bobby Bonilla and Sid Bream hit run-scoring doubles in the eighth inning, lifting a split Pittsburgh squad from a 1-0 deficit against Houston.

Rangers 4, Pirates 3

Non-roster outfielder Steve Kemp had two doubles and a single, and drove in a run as Texas beat Pittsburgh. Kemp, hitting .375 for the spring, doubled to drive in Pete O'Brien in the first inning, giving the Rangers a 2-0 lead.

Cardinals 7, Phillies 4

Luis Alicea singled twice and had an RBI double, leading St. Louis to its third straight victory. Bob Horner and Willie McGee had RBI singles in the first inning, Vince Coleman walked with the bases loaded in the second, and Terry Pendleton an RBI single in the third as the Cards took a 4-0 lead.

Reds 11, Royals 2

Danny Jackson pitched four innings, giving up a run on two hits, and Lloyd McClendon and Jeff Treadway homered as Cincinnati got 13 hits in its victory over a split Kansas City squad.

Andrews took the first day lead in the 4A Division by scoring 31 first day points. But the Mustangs will be hard pushed to keep that lead today since Big Spring, Lubbock Estacado, Monahans, Dunbar and Frenship all appear to have strong teams for the finals.

Joe Don Finley led the Mustang first day effort with a winning 159-11 in the discus while Stephen Hines placed second in the pole vault and Ronnie Seals second in the shot put.

Monahans' Charles Thompson, one of the high point individuals last year, started early this year by winning the long jump Friday with a 22-9.

Merkel took the early 3A Division lead with 32 points behind two division record performances by Britt Pursley. He set a 3A pole vault mark with a 14-6 and came back with a 6-7 division record in the high jump. That is the performance of the meet so far and it will take some high powered performances today to top that.

Greenwood got on the scoreboard with eight points on a second place finish from Randy Donnell with a 6-2 in that record high jump event. Donnell also qualified for both hurdle events for the Rangers while Greg Austin got a 400 berth, Kane Harris in the 800 and Greenwood will also have the 400 relay.

Stanton got a double qualification from Anthony Inman in the hurdles while Robert Jones and Eddie Jordan landed 100 berths and the Buffs have a sprint relay squad for today.

KU GUARD BOOTED— Kansas guard Otis Livingston was kicked out of practice by Coach Larry Brown and will not play in the Big Eight Tournament this weekend. Brown and Livingston had an argument during practice and Livingston was told to leave.

HANSEN LEADS— Neil Hansen of England shot a 5-under-par 66 Friday for a 137 total and a one-stroke lead over runner-up Severiano Ballesteros of Spain after two rounds of the $360,000 Majoca Open, the first European event counting for the PGA tour.

JOCKEY SUSPENDED— Jockey Patrick Valenzuela was suspended from thoroughbred racing at Santa Anita Park Friday after he failed to meet a deadline to tell stewards why he didn't show up for a scheduled ride March 2. Valenzuela, 25, telephoned track officials on and said he was leaving that day "to take care of some business" in New Mexico.

STADIUM CRASHES— At least 20 people were killed after part of a stadium collapsed during a soccer match in the Valletta, Malta, Libyan capital of Tripoli, killing at least 20 people.

6 INTERESTED IN TONY— Six NFL teams, including Pittsburgh and Denver, have contacted the Dallas Cowboys about a possible trade for rB Tony Dorsett, but only the Steelers have named a player they would be willing to swap, officials said. One player speculated to be on the Mike Merriweather, a seven-year veteran and a three-time Pro Bowl player. It was possible that Denver Broncos WR Vance Johnson is on the trading block.

Vermont closes in on Utah with slalom win

HANCOCK, Vt. (AP) — Gabriella Hamberg and Dean Keller gave Vermont an unprecedented sweep of the slalom Friday and the Catamounts narrowed defending champion Utah's lead to 23 points entering the final day of the NCAA ski championships.

"I felt a lot of pressure today because I've been winning a lot of slaloms this year, but I knew we had to finish," Hamberg said after the race. "I would have been disappointed without this victory when the whole year has been so good."

Hamberg, of Sweden, the 1986 winner who won six of eight slalom races this year, had a combined time of 1 minute, 25.99 seconds, .86 seconds faster than Utah's Kjersti Nilson.

"Vermont is getting closer, but we shall take them. This is a team sport," said Nilson. "That's the main thing — your team effort."

Keller, of Superior, Wis., edged Rob MacLeod of host Middlebury by .28 seconds with a combined time of 1:43.20. Utah's best finisher was Igor Podboj, who was fourth. With three skiers needed to finish each event for a school to get points, Vermont also placed Jana Caldwell fifth and Heidi Frost sixth for 90 points. Sonja Stotz, eighth, was the only other skier in the top 10 for Utah, which got 80 points.

However, the Utes, who won the NCAA team championship the past two years with Vermont the runnerup, placed Henrik Smith-Meyer seventh and Gordon Perry ninth in the men's race for 82 points. Jesse Hunt was Vermont's other top finisher in sixth place, and the Catamounts managed 81 points.

Utah, which entered the day with a 331-299 lead over Vermont, finished leading 493-470 in the battle between the east-west ski powers.

Dartmouth was third with 386, moving ahead of Wyoming, 376. Colorado remained fifth with 364.5 points and the rest of the top 10 was New Mexico, 309.5; Middlebury, 244; Williams, 197; Anchorage, 189.5, and St. Lawrence, 126.

No school has swept the two slaloms since the women's event was introduced to the championships in 1983. Vermont's performance also helped ease the bad memories of past poor showings in the event. Hamberg's 1986 victory was Vermont's only other slalom triumph, while the men have never won the event.

The men almost met the same fate when Nils Albert fell on the first run and wound up 27th. Vermont's other three skiers "had the pressure on them" not to fall, LaCasse said.

But although Vermont picked up nine points on Utah, LaCasse acknowledged the Utes would be difficult to catch in Saturday's men's and women's cross-country relays. "It will be tough to beat them," he said.

Angelo State loses

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo. (AP) — Cleo Conley scored 19 points and Michael Morris added 18 to lead Southeast Missouri to a 111-75 victory over Angelo State in the first round of the NCAA Division II South-Central Regional Tournament on Friday.

Southeast Missouri, 27-3, which tied its school record for season victories, led throughout the contest. The Indians will play Missouri-St. Louis, which beat South Dakota State 68-63 earlier Friday night, at 8 p.m. Saturday.

For Southeast Missouri, Lawrence Wilson scored 16 and Ray Pugh added 12. Malcom Henry had 12 rebounds.

Leading the scoring for the Rams was Robert Barley with 16 and Tim Howard and Chris Mason, who each added 13. Mason also led rebounding for Angelo State with 9.

Oilers' Lowe out of lineup

EDMONTON, Alberta (AP) — Edmonton Oilers defenseman Kevin Lowe could be out of the lineup for six to eight weeks after breaking a bone in his thumb.

Lowe injured the wrist during his first shift in the third period against of a 4-1 loss Wednesday night to the Montreal Canadiens. He tried to ward off Mike McPhee with one arm during a rush up ice and the bone broke.

Red Sox 6, Tigers 1

Roger Clemens and three other pitchers allowed just four hits, and Rich Gedman hit a homer and single as Boston's split squad beat Detroit. Dennis Lamp worked three scoreless innings in relief of Clemens, allowing just one hit, and rookie Zach Crouch and Wes Gardner finished up.

Indians 4, Padres 3

Eddie Williams drove in Scott Jordan with a sacrifice fly in the ninth inning to give Cleveland its victory over San Diego.

White Sox 6, Yankees 2

Dan Pasqua had two singles, scored twice and drove in a run against his former teammates, leading the Chicago White Sox past the New York Yankees. It was Chicago's first victory in six spring games. Pasqua has six hits in 15 at-bats.

A's 10, Cubs 5

Dave Stewart, a 20-game winner last season, became the first pitcher this spring to go six innings, allowing two runs on five hits as Oakland beat the Chicago Cubs.

Giants 5, Mariners 3

Kevin Mitchell tripled home Will Clark in the top of the ninth inning to break a 3-3 tie.

Tyson, Tubbs pass exams

TOKYO (AP) — Undisputed world heavyweight boxing champion Mike Tyson and challenger Tony Tubbs passed their physical examinations today and were declared fit for their title bout March 21.

Dr. Takashi Suzuki said "no problems" after checking the two boxers at the Jikei Medical College Hospital in Tokyo.

"I was most impressed with Tyson's thick neck. With it, Tyson receives very little damage to the brain when he receives punches," Suzuki said.

Tyson's neck was measured at 20.1 inches against Tubbs' 17.3, he said.

Suzuki said Tubbs' reach is 10 inches longer than Tyson's.

Nakajima's birdie run ties for Honda lead

GORDON S. WHITE Jr.
N.Y. Times News Service

CORAL SPRINGS, Fla. — Tommy Nakajima of Japan birdied three straight holes at the turn Friday, and became the first of six golfers to finish two rounds of the Honda Classic at seven-under-par 137.

Jodie Mudd, who opened with four birdies in his first five holes, was the last of this big crowd to tie for the lead halfway through the $700,000 event on the windy Tournament Players Club at Eagle Trace.

The others in the parade of finishers at 137 were Fred Wadsworth, with his fourth eagle in a week; Ken Brown, the gentleman farmer from England; Dan Forsman, who also had a string of three birds, and Ed Fiori, who ran four consecutive birds at his turn.

Nakajima, Forsman, Fiori and Mudd each shot a five-under 67 while Brown and Wadsworth each had a 68.

"That start felt good," Mudd said of his first five holes. "The ball just seemed to want to go into the hole."

Sandy Lyle, who won the Phoenix Open in January, had a chance to tie or break the Eagle Trace record of 63. He was at nine under through 17 holes after birdies at the 15th, 16th and 17th. But he bogeyed the 18th after putting his second shot into a greenside bunker.

Lyle finished at 64 for a 138, which left him tied with Joey Sindelar and Curt Byrum a shot behind the six co-leaders.

Lyle and Brown are a couple of British golfers who don't mind the strong winds that seem to haunt this tournament every year.

"With those greens sticking out into ponds, you don't have much room for the wind taking your ball away." Brown said. "You face disaster on every shot with pins 8 yards from the water's edge. Back home, where the wind is always blowing, it can easily take your ball off course just as it does here. But back there, when that happens, you get to whack at it again."

The famous Scottish and English links have very little water in play. A windblown shot will most likely land in rough or a bunker.

Henning leads Seniors on 68

SIMI VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — South Africa's Harold Henning birdied the last two holes Friday and finished with a 4-under-par 68 to take the first-round lead in the $275,000 Seniors Classic at Wood Ranch.

Walter Zimbriski, a former steelworker, was alone in second at 69, followed by defending champion Bob Charles at 70.

Orville Moody, who won last weekend's Vintage Invitational with a record score of 25-under-par, cooled off a bit and carded a 71.

Those four were the only players to break par, as strong winds and quick greens kept scores high on the 6,727-yard course 40 miles northwest of Los Angeles.

Dale Douglass, Roberto DeVicenzo, Larry Mowry and Shigero Uchida shared fifth place at 72.

Dee Nutt back as ACU coach

ABILENE, Texas (AP) — Dee Nutt, who once coached Abilene Christian University's basketball teams to three Southland Conference titles and seven NCAA playoff appearances, has been hired again, school officials said Friday.

Nutt will replace Mike Martin, who resigned recently after eight seasons to seek a coaching position at a NCAA Division I school.

Nutt, 59, currently is superintendent and boys basketball coach at Westbury Christian School in Houston.

As the Wildcats' head coach from 1955 to 1969, Nutt's teams compiled a 199-158 record. The Wildcats won Southland Conference titles in 1965, 1966 and 1968 and had only one losing season under Nutt's leadership.

Mauch under weather

CHANDLER, Ariz. (AP) — Angels Manager Gene Mauch, saying he hasn't been feeling well in recent months, left the club Friday to return to California for a medical examination.

Mauch, who cited "health reasons" for taking a leave of absence, is scheduled to undergo an examination Monday in Palm Springs, Calif. The Angels hold the latter part of their spring training in Palm Springs and he owns a home in nearby Rancho Mirage.

Cookie Rojas, an advance scout for the Angels, will serve as interim manager of the Angels and skippered the club Friday afternoon in an exhibition game against Milwaukee at the Brewers' spring park here.

Mauch, 62, met with Angels General Manager Mike Port early Friday morning, later informed his coaching staff he was taking a leave of absence, then spoke to the players during a brief team meeting.

Afterward, Mauch told reporters: "Since last August, I haven't really felt the way I think I should. I'm going to find out if this is how you're supposed to feel when you're 62.

"I'm going to get after it."

Some of those closest to Mauch mentioned that he had been reluctant to have physical examinations in recent years, and hasn't had one for some time.

A heavy smoker, Mauch often has been plagued by a cough.

He had spoken with Angels owner Gene Autry and his wife, Jackie Autry, on Thursday night and mentioned that he was concerned about his health. They apparently suggested he have an examination.

Aide testifies Mecham thinks he has 'divine guidance'

NATION

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Gov. Evan Mecham believed he was "divinely guided" in making executive decisions, one of his closest aides testified Friday at Mecham's impeachment trial.

Sam Steiger, a special assistant who was forced out of office by his own indictment on political extortion charges, also described a bitter battle between Mecham and the state's attorney general, who Steiger blamed for Mecham's downfall.

"I had the feeling that the governor did and does feel he is divinely guided," Steiger said in response to a question by Sen. John Mawhinney, a Republican like Mecham.

Mawhinney asked if there was truth to rumors that Mecham, a devout Mormon, "could and would make decisions on specific pieces of legislation through, he believed, some divine inspiration."

"Yes, the governor believes his motives are divinely inspired," said Steiger, "at least adhering to principles that are divinely inspired.'

Asked by The Associated Press about Steiger's comment on divine guidance, Mecham would say only: "Sam, he's a little off the wall in some of his comments, too."

Mecham 63, took office in January 1987 and was impeached by the House of Representatives Feb. 5. He is the first U.S. governor to face an impeachment trial in six decades.

His Senate trial is examining three broad charges of misconduct. The Senate now is hearing testimony on the first, which alleges that Mecham attempted to obstruct an investigation into an alleged death threat by one of his aides against a witness testifying before a grand jury investigating Mecham's campaign finances.

Although Steiger's defense testimony only peripherally addressed the charge, he held senators riveted with his blunt, colorful descriptions of the Mecham administration.

That fight, he said, stemmed from Mecham's resentment that he "took an inordinate public beating" over eliminating the state's Martin Luther King holiday for executive branch workers when it was really the attorney general's idea.

Corbin had advised all 1986 gubernatorial candidates that the holiday had been illegally declared that year by then-Gov. Bruce Babbitt and that Corbin would have to sue the governor if it was observed.

In the most vitriolic comments of the trial's two weeks, Steiger described Corbin as "not very bright but politically adept" and suggested he manipulated legislators.

"He (Corbin) has deluded many of you into thinking he is a competent person," he told the senators.

He declared that Corbin had turned the attorney general's office into "one of the most expensive in the country" and disliked Mecham's cost-cutting policies.

"I believe those people are capable of setting up anybody," he said of Corbin and his staff, "but I have no knowledge they did."

Contacted for comment on Steiger's remarks, Corbin said: "Oh well, you know Sam. Just remember the position he is in with regard to our office and you can draw your own conclusions."

Steiger is being prosecuted on charges that he tried to extort a vote from a parole board member.

Mecham faces a criminal charge alleging that he concealed a $350,000 campaign loan, an allegation also at issue in the impeachment trial. Mecham's third impeachment charge alleges he misused $80,000 in state funds by loaning it to his car dealership.

He also faces a recall election May 22, but that could change if he is convicted by the Senate. A two-thirds vote of senators could remove him from office, and a second two-thirds vote could bar him from holding any state office again.

U.S. may go to court over PLO mission

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department said Friday it will go to court unless the PLO closes its observer mission at the United Nations by March 21, a decision drawing an immediate protest from U.N. Secretary-General Javier Perez de Cuellar.

The department will enforce the Anti-Terrorism Act of 1987 passed by Congress last December ordering the Palestine Liberation Organization mission shut, Attorney General Edwin Meese III said in a letter to Zehdi Terzi, head of the PLO office in New York.

The United States won't try to close the mission until the litigation is resolved, said a letter from U.S. Ambassador Herbert Okun to Perez de Cuellar.

Yasser Arafat, the PLO chairman, was quoted in Tunis as saying if the PLO office were closed, "the PLO will find a way to rehabilitate the revolution within the framework of the international organization, via the delegation of any Arab state."

Arafat added: "If they use this weapon, for our part, we will work toward expelling Israel from the United Nations. The Americans know we are capable of doing this. And if Israel is expelled, it will never be able to re-enter the international organization, even via the United States."

The decision "is in fact mind-boggling," said Clovis Maksoud, the permanent observer at the United Nations for the Arab League.

"The call by all members of the U.N., Israel being the only obvious exception, for the U.S. to abide by its treaty obligations, was not heeded, and with the attorney general's decision the international consensus was brushed aside," Maksoud added.

The 1947 treaty under which New York became U.N. headquarters obliges the United States to let all accredited missions operate, officials have said.

"It has been argued that the provision of the act closing the mission violates our obligations under international law," Assistant Attorney General Charles Cooper, head of the Justice Department's Office of Legal Counsel, said at a news conference.

"For more than a century, however, the Supreme Court has held that Congress has the authority to abrogate treaties and international law for the purpose of domestic law."

Meanwhile, Secretary of State George P. Shultz, asked about the issue at a briefing Friday, called the law "one of the dumber things that the Congress has done lately." He said the attorney general "will go forward under the law as he must" but added:

"The administration opposed that law. And my opinion remains that it is a very bad piece of legislation ...and the net result of it is, from the standpoint of those who don't like the PLO — and I don't like the PLO — but from the standpoint of those don't like the PLO, what have they done?"

"They've glorified the PLO and they've given legitimacy to the PLO," Shultz said.

Perez de Cuellar "strongly protested this violation of the headquarters agreement" during a Friday morning meeting he had with Okun, the U.S. ambassador to the U.N., said U.N. spokesmn Francois Giuliani.

The secretary-general's legal staff is "studying options," but Giuliani refused to describe them.

Okun's letter also says that the United States refuses binding arbitration of the dispute over the mission, the worst confrontation ever between the United Nations and its host country.

The 159-nation General Assembly, in a special meeting last month, asked the World Court in the Hague to rule on whether the United States must agree to arbitration. Oral arguments are scheduled for April 11.

Cooper said the statute "has superseded the requirements of the U.N. headquarters agreement" and that participation in an international tribunal "we have decided would be to no useful end."

U.N. officials and diplomats regard the threat to the PLO mission as a challenge to the independence of the United Nations.

Even the United States' closest allies have denounced the attempt to close the mission and several Arab diplomats have suggested that the General Assembly move to Geneva if the mission here is closed.

It was not clear if the assembly would convene again to consider the dispute.

Last year, the State Department closed down the only other PLO office in the United States, an information office in Washington, in what turned out to be a futile attempt to head off legislation ordering the U.N. mission closed.

Despite this and despite the headquarters treaty, Congress passed the law ordering the mission closed.

GOING BY THE BOOK

In almost every human endeavor there's a right way and a wrong way. That's why in most fields folks recognize and respect certain established techniques. The expert advises the novice to go by the book.

The same principle applies to the business of living.

The Holy Bible has preserved for mankind God's own revelation of His Will and of His Way. It is the foundation of faith, hope and love for countless millions.

Read it. Study it. Cherish your Bible. Make each day richer in spiritual adventure going by the Book.

Mainline religious bodies launching interfaith TV network

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK — America's mainline faiths, mostly missing from television's sweeping purview in recent years, are launching a new, unprecedented ecumenical network on the nation's cable TV systems.

Plans for it were confirmed in interviews this week, with a partial start-up expected in midsummer, expanding to 18 to 20 hours daily in the fall.

"A fresh, new wind is coming across the country's television screens," said the Rev. Daniel Paul Matthews, a Manhattan Episcopalian and board chairman of Vision Interfaith Satellite Network.

Called "VISN," it will shun soliciting money, as typifies individual TV religious preachers. But it has financial backing of the industry, and projects sustaining commercial sponsorship.

"It's an idea whose time has come in market need and consumer need," said David Ochoa of Nashville, Tenn., a United Methodist and president and chief executive officer of the enterprise.

"For years, the mainline denominations have been on the sidelines, but they've finally got off their duffs and are doing something."

RELIGION

Ochoa, who owns a cable channel in Los Angeles and who also is communications chief for United Methodism's board of higher education and ministry, added:

"It's the first time mainline faith groups, Protestant, Roman Catholic, Eastern Orthodox and Jewish, have worked together to create a new TV programming service for people of faith nationwide."

Religious television in recent times has been dominated by individuals, such as the fallen TV personalities Jim Bakker and Jimmy Swaggart, giving a limited impression of religion.

"We've been getting personal pietism exclusively slanted toward a narrow perspective," Matthews said. "This is a valid piece of the pie, but it gave a distorted image of American religious life."

Matthews, with extensive TV experience in Knoxville, Tenn., and Atlanta, before becoming rector of Manhattan's Trinity Church, said the new network would reflect historic faiths that have been the "backbone of America."

Actively involved are most major Protestant and Eastern Orthodox denominations, plus some evangelical and Jewish bodies. Officials said Roman Catholics are expected to join through decisions of bishops late this month.

Officials emphasized that added participation of evangelical groups was sought, including Southern Baptists, who already operate their own cable network.

Several factors largely have pushed mainline faiths off network television, including aversion to soliciting money, plus deregulation of broadcasting, which made public service time unnecessary and mostly unavailable.

This combination spurred individual preaching entrepreneurs to take over the field, fervently appealing for donations, raising huge amounts to buy their TV time.

A catalyst for the new network was one of the largest cable systems in the country, Tele-Communications Inc. (TCI), based in Denver.

Break-ins mystery despite FBI probe citing churches

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK — Scores of odd break-ins have occurred over a period of four years involving groups opposed to U.S. policies in Central America.

In many cases, the targets were sanctuary churches providing haven to Salvadoran and Guatamalan refugees. The burglaries had a strange similarity. Files and records were ransacked, or taken. But no valuables were missing.

"It's never been solved," says David Lerner, spokesman for the Center for Constitutional Rights, which has documented the puzzling series of cases. "The smoking gun has not been found."

A House subcommittee investigated the incidents last year, and determined no perpetrator. Church workers had testified that it appeared some federal agency was involved, but that fact was not established.

The mystery deepened when the constitutional center, through the Freedom of Information Act, in January obtained more than 1,200 pages of heavily censored FBI files on a five-year investigation of the Committee in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador (CISPES), that cited about 25 U.S. religious groups.

They include Protestant, Roman Catholic and Jewish groups, and repeatedly mention the sanctuary movement, several of whose leaders were convicted in 1986 for harboring undocumented aliens.

But "the break-ins are not reflected in the documents," Lerner said. "We just don't have the answer yet.

"That doesn't mean the FBI had not participated. We have good reason to believe there was a connection between the break-in's and this investigation, and we hope to get to the bottom of it."

He said the center, through its lawsuit, still was to receive other FBI files from regional offices.

Several of the religious groups mentioned in the FBI reports strongly protested being brought under surveillance.

As an example of the references, Lerner cited this passage in a April 2, 1984, report from the Dallas FBI special agent to headquarters in Washington:

"Investigation has determined CISPES is very closely connected with the U.S. Catholic Church. The church, which agrees with most CISPES philosophy, has set aside various sanctuaries to be used to house illegal Salvadorans in the United States...."

Actually, various Protestant churches — Methodist, Episcopal, Presbyterian, Baptist, Unitarian-Universalist and Lutheran — as well as Jewish and Catholic congregations, are among the more than 300 offering sanctuary.

FBI Director William Sessions has defended the surveilance of CISPES on suspicion the Washington-based group was subversively aiding Marxist rebels in El Salvador, which he termed "terrorist," but no criminal activity was found.

He conceded "mistakes" may have been made in the investigation's mushrooming to other groups. Lerner said about 160 organizations are named in the FBI files, including these religious groups:

U.S. Catholic Conference, National Council of Churches, World Council of Churches, American Friends Service Committee, Friends Religious Society, Southern Christian Leadership Conference, New Jewish Agenda, Maryknoll Sisters, Sisters of Bernedict and Sisters of Mercy.

LIFESCOPE

To Diet Or Not To Diet! Lifescope Says, "More Important Matters Deserve Your Attention!"

When you have eaten your fill, bless the Lord your God for the good land He has given you. But that is the time to be careful! Beware that you do not forget the Lord your God by not keeping His commandments, His judgments, and His statutes which I command you today, lest - when you have eaten and are full, and have built beautiful houses and dwell in them; and when your silver and your gold are multiplied, and all that you have is multiplied; then you say in your heart, 'My power and the might of my hand have gained me this wealth.' Always remember that it is the Lord your God who gives you power to become rich, and He does it to fulfill His promise to your ancestors.

For instance, take the matter of eating. God has given us an appetite for food and stomachs to digest it. But that doesn't mean we should eat more than we need. Don't think of eating as important, because some day God will do away with both stomachs and food.

When you come together to eat, it isn't the Lord's Supper you are eating, but your own. I am told that everyone hastily gobbles all the food he can without waiting to share with the others, so that one doesn't get enough and goes hungry while another has too much to drink and gets drunk. What? Is this really true?

Haven't you yet learned that your body is the home of the Holy Spirit God gave you, and that He lives within you? For God has bought you with a great price. So use every part of your body to give glory back to God, because He owns it.

"It is written, 'Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceeds from the mouth of God.' "

Oh, taste and see that the Lord is good; blessed is the man who trusts in Him!

Man accused of killing stepson who couldn't recite ABCs

CHICAGO (AP) — A man was accused Friday of beating his 5-year-old stepson to death when the child was unable to get past the letter "G" in reciting the alphabet.

"He thought the child wasn't telling him the ABCs to make him mad," police Sgt. Michael Chasen said of Dwayne Blocker, 24.

Blocker was indicted by a Cook County grand jury on murder charges Friday and ordered held in lieu of $150,000 bond.

Blocker allegedly killed Charles Moss by beating him with his hands, a belt and a tree limb at their home, said Lt. James Phelan.

According to Phelan, the boy's mother, Joyce Blocker, 21, was sick Wednesday and Blocker picked up Charles from preschool.

After the child could not complete the alphabet, Blocker shouted, "Do it again," the lieutenant said.

"Then he punched him several times, hit him with a belt several times and then went outside and got a tree branch and struck him several more times," Phelan said.

The boy ran to his mother's room upstairs, where he collapsed, said David Schneidman, a spokesman for Illinois Department of Children and Family Services.

The youngster died later that day at St. Francis Xavier Cabrini Hospital.

"When this guy said he became angry because the boy could not get past the letter G, that sounds absurd, ridiculous," said Schneidman. "But frankly, reasons like that are very common among several child abusers.

"Certainly the child suffered a great many injuries — a broken arm, two broken legs, brusies on the leg, a solid bruise from the shoulder blade to the buttocks," Schneidman said. "What has to be ascertained is whether some of the bruises had been inflicted earlier."

Schneidman said abuse follows a pattern.

"In severe abuse cases, there are several things that can trigger an incident," he said. "The child's learning ability is one of the common reasons. Others are eating habits and toilet training."

The couple's 1-year-old daughter, Jasmine Blocker, was admitted to the hospital to check for potential abuse, Schneidman said, while the state moved to gain temporary custody of the baby.

Blocker was to be arraigned April 4.

NATION IN BRIEF

Kennedy supports increase of minimim wage to $5.05

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., chairman of the Senate Labor and Resources Committee, expressed his support Friday for increasing the minimum wage to $5.05 per hour over four years but said he still remains committed to raises tied to inflation because "it's the best way to make the minimum wage a living wage."

Kennedy said his committee has scheduled action on the minimum wage bill during the week of April 11.

The House Education and Labor Committee voted Thursday to raise the federal minimum wage to $5.05 an hour over the next four years.

Worker electrocuted

ATLANTA (AP) — A Georgia Power Co. worker was electrocuted Friday when he came into contact with a low voltage cable, and electricity was shut off to some downtown office buildings, the company said.

Georgia Power spokeswoman Meg Reggie said Johnny Lane, a lead cable splicer, was working in an underground vault behind the offices of The Atlanta Newspapers Inc., when he came in contact with the cable and was knocked unconscious.

Lane, 35, died shortly before 10 a.m., Grady Memorial Hospital spokeswoman Beverly Thomas said.

Officer commits suicide

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — A 23-year police veteran was found dead Friday in a cemetery of an apparently self-inflicted gunshot wound, two days after his estranged wife was discovered shot to death.

Officer Walter Krejcik, 44, was found a few yards from his car with a .38-caliber pistol near his hand, State Police Lt. Jay Dornbecker said. He said the death was being treated as a suicide.

The body of Krejcik's 39-year-old wife, Pamela, was found Wednesday at her parents' home in Clayton Township. On Thursday, Krejcik was named in a murder warrant charging him in her death.

Police said Krejcik's body was found by a worker or a passerby at Flint Memorial Gardens.

Man not dead as believed

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — A doctor who taped a suicide note to the wheel of his van at Niagara Falls and disappeared after he was charged with attempted murder of his estranged wife has telephoned his father.

"He has contacted me and I told the FBI and the court and so forth," Howard Johe, a Charleston architect, said Friday of his son, Dr. David Johe.

Johe said his son got in touch with him in the past few weeks.

Until that call, the family had believed that David Johe, 35, had committed suicide in July.

SUNDAY, MARCH 13, 1988

HAPPY BIRTHDAY! IN THE NEXT YEAR OF YOUR LIFE: Travel revives the spirit of romance. Job opportunities may not be as golden as they are advertised. Many of you would do better to stay put. Personal choices will be blessed with good luck. Hope springs eternal where a love relationship is concerned. You and mate draw closer together. Invest in people instead of things. Show off previously hidden talents. Mix and mingle more.

CELEBRITIES BORN ON THIS DATE: legendary infielder Frank "Home Run" Baker, band leader Sammy Kaye, actress Deborah Raffin, clergyman-chemist Joseph Priestley, singer Neil Sedaka, composer Hugo Wolf, Scientology Church founder L. Ron Hubbard, golfer Andy Bean.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Parties are unpredictable today, even if you are the host. Travel to help a friend. Romance has you on the run, also on edge. Slow down a bit and you will be happier.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Clear thinking is essential. Getting outdoors will help clear away those cobwebs. Insist a loved one talk about a problem and then help solve it. You are on the right track.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Your weekend blues will soon be lifted. Get your nose out of a book and socialize with positive-thinking friends. Romance could feature an unexpected visitor. Inspiration comes in a unique way.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): You can make the most of a social encounter today. Invite an old friend to join you. You draw people like a magnet. Good music makes you feel great! Hear your favorites.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): You will have a member of the opposite sex eating out of your hand this weekend. Borrow a leaf out of a friend's book and a parent-child problem will disappear. Bitterness fades.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): You will feel a real sense of relief once you stop trying to run everyone's life. A gentle reminder from loved one puts you on the road to greater happiness. Romance thrives.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Make trade-offs in order to restore tranquility at home. Remember, you cannot please everyone all of the time. Observe all safety regulations. Moving too quickly could be hazardous to your health.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): You prove that you are the person everyone says you are. It may be difficult to help a young, unfortunate individual. Keep trying. The rewards are too great for you to give up now.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Your common sense helps you bring greater balance to your personal life. Your opportunity could come today! Keep faith with your objectives and pursue a family dream. Support comes when you need it most.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Your ability to see more than one side of a situation is good news for many people. Travel is just one option now. A community children's program benefits from your intervention.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Work out your own destiny. Too many cooks will spoil the soup. You could experience a strong desire to be alone and count your blessings. It is time to decide on long-range goals.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Unless you want to end up out on a limb, you will pull in your horns today. Let other family members present their ideas for solving a financial problem. Be conciliatory.

Doctors say Gibb died of heart inflammation, drugs not involved

LONDON (AP) — Andy Gibb, the British-born pop singer and former teen idol, died of heart inflammation and there was no evidence that drugs or alcohol were involved, doctors said Friday.

Constable Michael Harvey of the Oxford coroner's office said no inquest would be held because Gibb died of natural causes.

Gibb died Thursday at John Radcliffe Hospital, Oxford, after complaining of stomach pains. He was about to resume singing and start recording for Island Records after years of personal and drug problems.

Brothers Robin, Barry and Maurice of the Bee Gees singing group said the body "will be flown back to his home in Los Angeles as soon as possible and a memorial service will be held there."

"All friends and family mourn the passing of this exceptionally talented and well-loved artist," they said in a statement issued through Robin Gibb's personal assistant, Ken Graydon.

A hospital statement Friday said: "Mr. Gibb died from inflammation of the heart of the sort commonly caused by a virus. There is no evidence that his death was related to drink or drugs."

The Bee Gees statement said: "The family and friends of the Gibbs are shocked by the untimely death of Andy Gibb. His passing was completely unexpected.

"He died of myocarditis, a rare viral infection of the heart muscle. This tends to occur without any warning and there is no effective treatment. The pathologist found no evidence that alcohol or other substances were implicated in any way."

Rob Partridge, publicist for Island Records Ltd., said Gibb became ill last weekend and was admitted to the hospital "essentially for observation."

"Prior to him falling ill, I'm unaware of any heart condition at all," Partridge said.

Robin Gibb, 39, spoke to reporters Friday at London's Heathrow airport. He was meeting his 72-year-old father, Hughie Gibb, arriving from Los Angeles.

"There was no question of Andy using drugs," he said. "I don't know where that story came from, but there is absolutely no truth in it. He was not using cocaine again."

In 1982, Andy Gibb said he became heavily involved in drugs and dropped his career after the breakup of his highly publicized relationship with television star Victoria Principal.

Three years later, he entered the Betty Ford Rehabilitation Center in Rancho Mirage, Calif., for treatment of a cocaine habit.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Authorities say it's just too bad: Michael Jackson cannot bring his pet chimpanzee Bubbles along when he performs here this summer.

The Aftonbladet newspaper reported Friday that the National Board of Agriculture has said "definitely not" to Bubbles, a 3-year-old former laboratory chimp used for cancer research. Sweden's stringent regulations impose quarantines of up to six months on most animals entering the country.

CINCINNATI (AP) — If they can't have the Rev. Jimmy Swaggart, Riverfront Coliseum officials say Bruce Springsteen will do. But their offer may be too late.

After Swaggart's last-minute cancellation, coliseum officials are trying to book the singer March 24-26.

Springsteen's agents previously had asked about those dates, but he was turned away because of the Swaggart booking made a year earlier.

Now, however, Springsteen is booked March 26 in Lexington, Ky., and chances of getting him to make a Cincinnati stop are limited, said Rich Neumann, vice president for marketing at Riverfront Coliseum.

"We have approached them about playing us the 25th and Lexington the 26th. We are guardedly optimistic," Neumann said Thursday.

Swaggart's agents canceled his engagement two weeks ago, after disclosures of his alleged misconduct and admission of an unspecified sin. The television preacher faces disciplinary action by the national Assemblies of God for allegedly meeting with a reputed prostitute in suburban New Orleans.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Former astronaut James Irwin, who made six unsuccessful trips to Turkey in search of Noah's Ark, has begun searching for the Egyptian chariots swallowed by the Red Sea when the Israelites fled Egypt.

According to the Book of Exodus in the Old Testament, God parted the Red Sea for the fleeing Israelites, then drowned the pursuing Egyptians.

Irwin, his wife, Mary, and three other Coloradans accompanied an international team that spent about $250,000 and most of February retracing the Israelites' steps. They spent a week diving unsuccessfully for evidence of the Biblical episode.

"The purpose of the whole expedition was to retrace the Exodus route from the region of Cairo to the real Mount Sinai," Irwin said Thursday.

Irwin said no date has been set for another expedition.

Irwin, a member of the Apollo 15 crew who walked on the moon in 1971, searched Mount Ararat six times between 1982 and 1987 without finding evidence of Noah's Ark.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Elizabeth Taylor, a five-time divorcee, has been named Ex-Spouse of the Year for bouncing back from years of "sulking and feeling sorry for herself."

Last year's winner of the Ex-Spouse of the Year was talk show host Johnny Carson, who has been divorced three times.

The Rev. Roger Coleman, who has launched a nationwide campaign to observe April 1 as the second annual Ex-Spouses Day, said Friday that Ms. Taylor "is a symbol of broken relationships...and made such a comeback."

Coleman, a Disciples of Christ minister with the Community Christian Church in Kansas City, has been divorced once. He said he has mailed packets of information to 7,500 singles organizations across the country.

Coleman said that although there is an element of humor in Ex-Spouses Day, he's also seeking more responsible behavior between spouses "so the children can be taken better care of."

Coleman said he chose Ms. Taylor because, "For many years she seemed to be sulking and feeling sorry for herself, but now she is making contributions to society," such as fund-raising for AIDS research.

YPSILANTI, Mich. (AP) — Sandra Gubin, an American woman who championed the cause of Soviets seeking to join their spouses in the United States, has been divorced from her Soviet husband.

District Judge Kenneth Bronson agreed with her contention that Aleksei Lodisev married her solely to enter the United States.

"The defendant's entire testimony is shot through with evasiveness and contradictions," said Bronson.

Gubin and Lodisev were married in the Soviet Union in 1981, while Gubin was studying in Kiev.

Public services cut in response to sanctions imposed by U.S.

PANAMA CITY, Panama (AP) — Panama's military-backed government ordered cuts in public services Friday as new U.S. sanctions compounded a financial crisis. Police firing tear gas broke up an opposition rally.

The beleaguered government of strongman Gen. Manuel Antonio Noriega reportedly also was considering delaying or reducing paychecks due early next week to nearly 150,000 public employees. A spokesman said no decision was made on those steps.

Several businessmen said they were warned their stores could be expropriated if they refused to cash public employees' paychecks.

A planned demonstration by government opponents in the central banking district was broken up Friday afternoon by riot police firing tear gas grenades and spraying the burning liquid from portable canisters.

Three journalists were injured when police sprayed gas in their faces at close range. They were: Lucia Annunziata, a reporter with La Repubblica of Rome; David Walters, a photographer with the Miami Herald; and Manolo Iscala, a cameraman for Spanish television.

The nation's new chief executive, Manuel Solis Palma, ordered his Cabinet into emergency session after President Reagan imposed several new sanctions, including putting some Panama Canal fees in escrow.

The Cabinet ordered working hours in all government offices slashed from eight to six hours daily.

It also told government agencies and departments to cut their use of electricity, fuel and telephones, and asked employees to take vacations due them immediately.

Treasury Minister Hector Alexander was quoted by a Panama City newspaper as saying upcoming paydays of public employees "are going to have to be deferred" because of a growing cash shortage.

The newspaper La Estrella said the treasury minister did not elaborate on his remark about delaying paychecks, which was carried in a brief, three-paragraph story Friday morning.

A source close to Panama's government said the Cabinet also contemplated delaying paychecks to government workers, reducing their pay temporarily and giving them partial payment in food instead of cash.

The U.S. sanctions were announced on the 10th day of a bank closure forced by a cash shortage in Panama. The country uses the American dollar as its currency and its Central Bank normally receives transfers from the U.S. Federal Reserve.
