West Coast Firms Ask For Whiskey

Two West Coast firms have filed pleas of intervention in 32nd District Court seeking to regain possession of $50,000 worth of whiskey taken in custody here.

Filing the pleas were Young's Market Company of San Diego, Calif., and Southwest Shippers Inc. of Los Angeles.

Their action was in answer to a civil suit filed by County Attorney Frank Ginzler in cooperation with Texas Liquor Control Board after a truck loaded with 950 cases of bourbon was stopped here early in May.

Drivers of the truck, Marvin L. and Murry Jennings, were placed in jail in lieu of $1,000 bond when they failed to produce proper license and papers for transporting the big load of whiskey.

And Saturday, although the two California firms had begun legal action in an attempt to regain the bourbon, the men still were in County Jail.

In their court pleas filed Friday, the two firms claimed that Southwest Shippers was hauling for Young's Market.

The bourbon was purchased from Brown-Forman Distilleries in Louisville, Ky., according to the court pleas, and was moved to Evansville, Ind., where Southwest Shippers too possession of the shipment for transportation to California.

The firms contend that the whiskey was not illicit, that Young Market is a wholesaler with proper federal and California licenses, and that the whiskey is not subject to forfeiture.

Memorial Day Holiday for Many Here

A big portion of Colorado City will be closed Wednesday in observance of Memorial Day.

Most offices—federal, state and county—will be among those observing a holiday.

City National Bank and numerous retail stores also will be closed since May 30 is a date approved earlier for holiday observance in a poll conducted by Chamber of Commerce.

However, major grocery stores announced plans Saturday to remain open for Wednesday shoppers.

COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS

Seniors Urged to Find Life's Vision

BY BRENDA BELL
Record Staff Writer

Colorado High's 1962 graduating class received diplomas Friday night with the admonition to face the world with clear vision.

Eighty graduates in traditional caps and gowns walked across Colorado High Auditorium stage to receive their diplomas from Dr. Oscar Rhode, school board president. Earlier, they had acknowledged awards and honors, then heard Dr. James H. Jauncey of El Paso deliver the commencement address.

It was Jauncey, minister of El Paso's First Christian Church and scholar with 10 academic degrees, who urged a "sense of vision" for the graduating seniors.

DRIVER ARRESTED

Car Yields 80 Cases of Beer

Officers opened up a car full of officers. Here Friday night and found 80 cases of beer stacked inside.

Driver and owner of the vehicle—a Sweetwater man—was taken into custody to face charges of transporting alcoholic beverages.

The beer haul, another step in a new crackdown on bootlegging in Mitchell County, was made at 10:30 p. m. by Chief Leon Yeager, Truman Henderson, Bill Henderson and Dan Pfeuffer, all city police, and Deputy Sheriff Roy Richards.

Police, alerted earlier Friday night on a tip that a load of beer was traveling into the Colorado City area, discovered the car on the city's east side. The driver parked the auto, a 1953 Oldsmobile, at the VFW Club and went inside the club building while under observation. While the driver was away from the car, police checked the auto and discovered the beer. A quick check of auto registrations revealed the name and address of the car's owner.

Then the man was called outside the club and taken into custody when he admitted ownership of the auto.

Formal charges had not been filed Saturday, but County Attorney Frank Ginzler said the case would be filed Monday in County Court.

Size of the beer load inside the car was surprising to veteran policemen, who couldn't recall ever finding so many cases in a similar vehicle.

Beer cases were stacked level with car windows in the front seat area adjacent to the driver also, in the trunk space.

FIRST BAPTISTS FINANCE

South American Tour For H. W. Bartlett

BY RUTH COFFEY
Record Staff Writer

Monday June 4 is the day a dream starts coming true for H. W. Bartlett. The Rev. Mr. Bartlett, pastor of Colorado City's First Baptist Church, will on that date leave for his preaching tour of South America. He will be in South America five weeks.

That preaching tour with its sermons, revival meetings, and addresses to Southern Baptist seminaries on a neighboring continent, has been the best dream and the earnest prayer of Rev. Bartlett for the past three years.

The dream was born when the pastor met and became friends with the Rev. James E. Musgrove who now heads Southern Baptist missions in Brazil.

Brasilia, new city in the heart of the jungle, will be part of the Bartlett tour itinerary which will cover 18,000 miles. The trip and preaching tour is being financed by members of First Baptist Church here. Rev. Bartlett will leave June 4 for Houston, then will fly to Miami. From Miami he will fly to Caracas, his first point of landing in South America.

All of the Bartlett tour will be made by plane travel. After Caracas, he will fly to Belém, at the mouth of the Amazon, where he will be met by the Rev. Musgrove. His friend, who helped him plan the preaching mission, will act as his interpreter in Brasilia and other cities of Brazil—a country which speaks Portuguese. The Texas minister will preach for a week in Brasilia, after short stops in Belém, near the world's widest river, and in Manaus.

Rev. Bartlett will speak in the new Baptist Church at Brasilia. The church was built with funds given by the Jarman foundation. That famous foundation, estate of a "Full time Christian," gave millions to missions and completely built the new church at Brasilia, Mr. Bartlett said here this week.

From Brazil, Rev. Bartlett will fly to Sao Paulo, "The City of St. Paul," in Rio de Janeiro; to Curitiba. Then the Colorado City preacher will travel by plane over Iquassu.

He was the featured speaker at the dinner where twelve of Lone Star's General Division district managers received recognition for outstanding performance in the field of management during 1961.

"One of the critical elements of making our organization more effective across the board is the ability of all our people to pass on through organizational channels the facts and information related to all phases of our operation that they have gained in their everyday working experiences. This pool of knowledge can and will be utilized for more effective and more efficient operation," Mr. Potter said.

"No company can run the risk of being complacent and satisfied with past achievements," Mr. Potter added. "Progress requires continued and constant improvement."

Joe C. Darrow, vice president in charge of Lone Star's distribution operations, presided at the dinner. The outstanding achievements of the twelve award winners were highlighted by M. L. Bird, vice president in charge of the General Division. He presented plaques to the managers for first, second, and third place awards in competition among four General Division area groups.

Those who scored highest in their groups included: Class A districts: Harry King, San Angelo, first place; Hal L. Dyer, Wichita Falls, second; and W. M. (Bill) Brainerd, Abilene, third.

Property Owners To Speak

Colorado City's new paving program moves into public hearing Monday night at City Hall.

The hearing will be the final step before actual work begins.

Both proponents and opponents of the paving program will be heard at the session, which will begin at 7:30 p. m.

Bond funds already have been approved for the proposed 52-block paving program. And block-by-block areas planned for paving have been published in The Record and mailed to adjacent property owners.

Whether or not all these areas are included, as proposed, will depend on the action following the hearing Monday night.

Assessment cost to adjacent property owners for the new paving will range from a top of $4.43 to a low of $2.29 per front foot.

Property owners, if curb and gutters already are in place, will pay $1.45 less for the paving.

Variance in prices for paving is in ratio to street width.

The paving program originally was planned for residential and business program—including resurfacing already accomplished. But City Council has proposed 20 blocks of downtown alleys also for paving.

Playoffs Here Monday

Seminole Indians took advantage of jittery Colorado City pitching and fielding Saturday to come from behind and defeat the Wolves, 4 to 3, in Seminole.

The Wolves outlasted Seminole 10 to 3 and led 3 to 1 through top half of fifth inning.

A seventh inning rally fell short for C-City when Mike Andrews singled and Charlie Houston's long drive over the fence was ruled a ground rule double, instead of a home run.

Colorado City Wolves and Seminole Indians resume their Regional Playoff series here Monday.

Game time will be 3 p. m. at High School-Pony League park.

Admission will be $1 for adults and 25 cents, the same as all of the regional playoff games.

If a third game is required, it will be played Wednesday in Midland at 3 p. m.

CONTRACT BRIDGE LEAGUE

Tournament Play Is Next Sunday

A contract bridge tournament has been announced for Colorado City Country Club house here Sunday, June 3. Tournament money will go to charity.

The Sunday afternoon and evening sessions will be under direction and sponsorship of the American Contract Bridge League. L. T. Barber, league director from San Angelo, will be here as tournament director.

Mrs. H. E. Goodwin is local director and publicity chair.

Marine Writes Home From Laos

Letter from far away Laos word to move out to Laos and here we are.

He concludes, after referring to the President as the Marine Corps' "Big White Father" and "El Presidente," by growing more serious: "Hope this finds you well, Father Tom," he writes.

Then, "It is an honor to fight for my country, especially for a little county called Mitchell County and the city of Colorado City."

Young Salmerson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnulfo Salmerson, enlisted as a Marine two years ago. He spent Christmas in Japan. With 45 days duty left to go in the Far East, his letter tells Father Quinlan, "well my battalion is now in Siam on the border of Laos."

"Don't know if you've heard Laos," Pfc Salmerson's missive of the thousand Marines in continues. "Well, that's us! We were on this ship called the USS Navarro, then we got word to move out to Laos and here we are."

WESTBROOK'S WSCS

Methodist Group Stages Meeting

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Westbrook Methodist Church met Monday in the church for the installation of new officers and their pledge service.

The president, Mrs. L. R. Messimer, called the meeting to order. Mrs. J. W. Hawkins was in charge of the pledge service.

The opening hymn, "Come Thou Almighty King" was sung by the group.

Opening prayer was said by Mrs. C. W. Newton.

The scripture lesson, taken from Matthew 25:34-40, was presented by Mrs. E. L. Ashford.

Mrs. Hawkins briefly outlined the purpose and motives of the WSCS. She said that it is through the hands of the members of the WSCS that the work of the "household of God" is done. She listed 3 fields in which the members should be most interested. They are: world-wide mission program; local mission program and cultivation of interest.

Mrs. Messimer spoke on the social, spiritual and financial obligations which the society is planning to assume next year. She said, "Giving money is not enough. We must help spread the knowledge of Christ around the world. We must pledge, not only our money, but our greater gifts, faith, prayers, study and service."

Mrs. A. L. Young spoke on the subject, "The Faith that Compels Us." She said, "When a person believes in God as all powerful, all loving Father of all men, then that person is not only willing, but eager to labor whenever she can for the spread of the Kingdom of God. Our personal faith must be the cornerstone."

Mrs. Price Hendrix spoke on the subject, "Factors that Confront Us and Frontiers that Call Us." She told the members present that we are confronted by changes everywhere. In groups, in family, in international relations and in missions. Money is not enough to meet these changes and frontiers. It is only the beginning. We must pledge ourselves, and we must study and understand the modern world's challenge."

Mrs. J. L. Rees spoke on the subject, "The Challenge that Confronts Us." She said, "There is a simple way to meet that challenge, that is to take the first steps as we believe that God directs."

Mrs. Hawkins told the group, "This is the practical working out of a program of witness and service. It has three sections: our mission pledge, local budget and cultivation."

Rev. Larry Sullivan was in charge of the installation of officers. He expressed appreciation to the WSCS for their co-operation with him and the church. A prayer of consecration in unison closed the meeting.

Mrs. Taylor Is Guest At Club Meet

Mrs. Cricket Taylor, county home demonstration agent, was guest at the Wednesday meeting of the Looney Home Demonstration Club hosted by Mrs. Bill Thompson.

Mrs. Charles Williams, club president, presided at the meeting.

Mrs. Ivy Lane directed the recreation. Refreshments of tuna dip, potato chips and cookies were served to 16 members and the guest, Mrs. Taylor.

Why you may never catch up with the Joneses

Their car is a slightly battered '56 model. The house could use a coat of paint and some new rugs all around. The family couldn't get away for a vacation last summer. Why should anyone envy them — unless it's a case of their contagious happiness.

They're close as a family, self-sufficient, self-reliant with what they have. Faith in themselves plays a big part in their happiness; a deep religious Faith plays a bigger part. Take a look at your life and see if it could be fuller. Regular worship at your church or synagogue can help you find what you've been missing.

By PEGGY BELVIN

A SURE SIGN that summer is finally here... the frolicking colts on the emerald green velvet of the grazing land fronting FRANK KELLEY'S FRONTIER FARMS on East Highway 80.

The picturesque barn fronted by the white fence ring and bordered by the greenness of pastureland has been the breeding place for some of the finest show horses in this area.

DOUG ENGLEMAN, trainer, his wife, BETSY, and their 2 children, live in a world of curry combs, saddle bits and show rings scented with the aroma of fresh-mown hay and clover.

"FRONTIER SENSATION", current champion of the farms, was named reserve champion in the novice class last January at the FORT WORTH STOCK SHOW and reserve champion in the JUNIOR STAKES.

The 5-year-old dark chestnut mare can perform in 5 gaits: walk, trot, slow gait, canter and rack. She performs under an english saddle. She is marked with 1 white sock and has been showing since she was 3. She is a registered American Saddle Bred mare, with the American Horsebreeder's Association, with headquarters in Louisville, Kentucky. Her sire is "KING OF ROSEHAVEN" and her dam is "ELSIE ANN."

Kelley refused the price of $3,500 for Sensation at the Fort Worth Show.

The 11 head now under stable at Frontier Farms have a combined value of approximately $25,000.

Listed in the Frontier Farm's Hall of Fame are "Kodachrome", a mare who reached her peak of fame during the shows of the late 1940's and "Frontier Sally Ann", winner of the Fort Worth Stakes in 1959.

SAW A LETTER the other day from the VICE-PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES. Across the top of the right-hand corner of the envelope where stamps are placed, was only the name, LYNDON B. JOHNSON.

Wonder how far a letter mailed with no stamp, but the name, PEGGY J. BELVIN, scrawled across the corner, would go? Would make bets it wouldn't even make it around the corner.

Would like to be the first woman vice-president; easiest way I know of to get out of licking stamps.

CONVERSATION CORNER

By RUTH COFFEY

WEDNESDAY, May 30, is Memorial Day. By tradition it is the one day set aside in all America for the remembering in special ways—flowers, programs, ceremonies—all heroes of all this country's wars.

Memorial Day is every day in many Mitchell County families. Certainly, for a working woman reporter for four state papers—Abilene, Big Spring, Dallas, Ft. Worth—during World War II, a day never passes without special remembering.

NEVER HEAR the old piano classic "Chop Sticks" without remembering a tall, blue-eyed flying lieutenant sitting with his pretty young wife on our piano bench, playing "Chop Sticks" furiously just before he said that nonchalant "So long."

He was Lt. Dick Lowe Jones, son of the Chester Joneses who lived then on Hickory St. Lt. Dick crashed over England while practicing flying in a fog.

NEVER HAVE coffee or a cola in the Bill Doss Drug Store without remembering a dashing lad named Archie Mohler who used to "soda sleet" there before it became fashionable for all drug stores to hire fountain girls.

Archie, known to the Air Force as T/Sgt. William A. Mohler, was a turret gunner. His parachute failed to open after a mission over Austria left him wounded. The parachute might have opened, surviving crew members said later, except for the heroic fact that Archie clasped his mortally wounded best buddy in his arms and tried a double jump.

NEVER SEE a sailor without remembering Steve Bodine, only son of the Jim Bodines. Steve was a lover of life . . . of Texas University . . . and his country. Just a few months after he joined the Navy, he met death from strafing while he was manning a gun on the deck of a ship in our then badly-crippled and undermanned Navy.

NEVER PASS Abilene Christian College or that attractive dark red brick home on East 4th St. where Viola Hale lives, without remembering Ted Hale. A senior in ACC, Ted wound up in Army personnel, somewhere in Italy. It was January, 1945.

A sniper ended his life when he rushed, without thought of personal safety, to a street under fire. He had dashed out to attempt rescue of a friend, lying wounded not far from safety. He was the younger son of the Jim Hales, brother of Jack.

NEVER SING the old "Aggie Hymn" without remembering a Capt. Frank Blassingame, A&M Forever grad and commissioned Army man killed early in the war on the Italian front.

Never see the words "Pearl Harbor" or "Hickam Field" without remembering Everett Pond, son of the Harry Ponds and little brother of Mrs. Carl Echols, now of Midland. Our American Legion Post is named for Everett, along with Mitchell County's first World War I casualty Oren C. Hooker. Everett lost his life Dec. 7 when the Philippines were attacked from the quiet sky gone suddenly mad.

NEVER HEAR the name Wyatt—Billie Wyatt Martin (Mrs. Elmer) or Charles—without remembering Wilson Wyatt and Jack Wyatt, two brothers of Billie and Charles, reared here by the late Miss Neal Mills and Mrs. Lottie Wilson. Wilson was lost with his USN ship at sea, near Guam. Later, his brother Jack, AAF, was fatally wounded on an air mission in the South Pacific. T/Sgt. Jack Wyatt was a tail gunner.

NEVER SEE anybody from the Charles Mann Sr. family without remembering their "littles boy" Nat Mann, who went down with the first and one of the few—transport planes the US lost over the Mediterranean.

Never see the M. E. Millers without remembering how staunch both were when the cablegram saying their Army son, Lt. Bobby C. Miller died in action, in the Belgium Bulge, Jan. '45. The Millers have another son—William Floyd Miller, USN, captured in Manila '43, and kept a prisoner of war for three and a half years.

NEVER HAVE gone long without remembering names like Bud Doss, son of the late Milburne and Flo Doss family, who begged so hard his mother signed papers permitting him to join the United States Marine Corps when he was not quite 16. Rifle-loving Buddy was made a rifle range instructor in California at the ripe old age of 16. Later he was part of a Marine team called a "Suicide Squad", trained in jungle fighting.

Young Doss's love of adventure caused his death. In a rest camp on Saipan, he walked too far one day. An enemy sniper—tied to a tree—ended his life. Buried first at Guam, Marine Bud Doss, rests now in the beautiful new Memorial cemetery in Hawaii.

NEVER SEE our Bonnie Burt, Red Cross secretary, without remembering how she went with then Police Chief Dick Hickman one early morning to a little house "out in the flats." They went to take Mrs. Curtis Scott, expectant mother, the yellow message beginning "Regret to inform." It was in January '43 that Pvt. Curtis Scott was killed in combat in Italy.

NEVER PASS Colorado Steam Laundry without remembering a boy named Walter Wilson—clean-cut, ready laughter, faithful Sunday Schooler. Pfc Wilson, after duty in the Aleutians, was killed in France, shortly after D-Day. His body lies in St. Avold military cemetery in France.

And there was T 5/c Leslie Wood, son of the J. B. Woods who live now in Midland. His death in Italy, Jan. 6, '44, left little Elizabeth Aycock this town's first World War II widow. Remember?

Glen Churchill, Seaman 1/c, husband of the former Louise Pritchett, was lost with an aircraft carrier at sea. His son Dick Churchill, by the way, is here from Midland visiting his grandparents the J. C. Pritchetts this week. Glen's mother is Mrs. Loraine Churchill of Dallas. S 1/c Churchill was a casualty in the Bismarck Sea, just off Guam.

NEVER REMEMBER Mitchell County's World War II heroes without remembering the name Harrel W. Fuller, son of the Garrell Fullers of Loney Community. T/Sgt. Fuller met fatal wounds in Germany Aug. 16, 1944.

NEVER COULD, these 17 to 20 years later, remember all the lads who marched away in khaki, blue, or olive drab, with Mitchell County's more than 1200 men and boys who entered military service between Dec. '41 and V. J. Day. Never could forget these boys who did not come marching home.

The names we have included from our own personal store of memories are names of the boys we knew best. We plead reader indulgence if, in some instance, we have failed to recall and to salute some other name. If even one has been omitted, it is unintentional.

MEMORIAL DAY—and this Memorial week—Conversation does not feel inclined to "write funny." Or waggish. Or tongue-in-cheekish. Feel inclined, simply, to leave you with a long-time favorite bit . . . a few lines written by the rugged poet-story writer, Robert W. Service, during World War I. Learned it in the sixth grade. Somehow, it says exactly all we feel like saying this particular Memorial Day.

YOU'LL LIVE—you'll live, young fellow my lad,
In the gleam of the evening star.
In the woodnote wild
And the laugh of a child
And all sweet things that are.

CROWN BOWL TIPS
By Lonnie Bounds

Make Baby Splits

There are two kinds of baby splits: the 2-7 and the 3-10. They can be made by either hitting both pins or grazing one pin so that it slides into the other.

The 2-7 can be best made by moving to the right and aiming for the space between them, or where the 4-pin would have been.

The 3-10 can be best made by moving to the left and aiming for the space between, or where the 6-pin would have been.

In general, if you can get both pins in your sights, do not try to graze one or the other. Save the grazing for bigger splits.

VFW To Mark Memorial Day At Post Home

Veterans of Foreign Wars here will have a formal flag raising ceremony marking Memorial Day, Wednesday, May 30. Flag raising will be at sunrise at the post home, 1264 College Ave.

A coffee and doughnut breakfast will be served in the post home following the flag raising. The doughnut breakfast is to be served at 7 a. m. Post commander Don Delaney, in announcing the observation of Memorial Day, said that all members of the American Legion Post, all members of the organization of Veterans of World War I, and all interested ex-service men are invited to attend and help keep the day.

all three speakers and their presentations. We feel that the exchange of opinions and offering of ideas that was brought forth is most healthy.

Our thanks also goes to the large number of persons (500 average each night) who not only attended but also offered thought-provoking questions for the speakers to answer. The reception of Mitchell County, we feel, was generally very good.

And finally our thanks to for an excellent job — John the three speakers themselves: M. Claunch, Arthur Smith, and Franklin Little.

We hope that many have been stimulated to more reading on this subject and to deepened commitment to the principles of their faith and their country.

Our prayers are for the spread of God's Kingdom throughout all nations, in the hearts of all men, and on His terms.

Sincerely,
signed — (The Rev.)

If we want business here, let's be clean all the year.
It's BUSINESS we must be prepared for."

In 1958 the Rev. Bartlett made a similar tour to Alaska. He is a graduate of Hardin-Simmons University, grew up in Big Spring, and holds his degree in theology from Southwestern Baptist Seminary in Ft. Worth. He came to Colorado City in April 1961 after pastoring College Church in Big Spring.

While he is away, the Rev. P. D. O'Brien, former pastor here and at First Baptist Church in Big Spring, now of Houston, has accepted an invitation of the church here to serve as interim pastor.

Mrs. Bartlett and the couple's daughter Nancy Jane will spend the time visiting in Eldorado, Ark., as guests of her parents.

Letters from the Rev. Musgrove and from the various South American Mission Boards are currently on display in the entrance foyer of First Baptist, along with a huge map of South America marking the Bartlett tour.

Deadline Past For Grazing Feed & Wheat

Farmers were reminded this week, by the local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, office, USDA, that acreage diverted under either the 1962 wheat or feed grain program may no longer be pastured.

Orrion J. Linam, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Mitchell County Committee, said today that May 1 was the deadline for pasturing such acreage. Acreage to be diverted under the program participant at the time a check is made of compliance. In this county, this check should be substantially completed by July 15.

Under the wheat and feed grain programs, farmers are seeking to bring production into line with needs through diverting to a conserving use acreage formerly planted to either wheat or corn, grain sorghum, or barley. Program payments are made under the programs to offset the loss of income which otherwise might have been returned from such crop production.

Farmers in Mitchell County have signed up 102 farms for participation in the wheat stabilization program, and 386 farms under the feed grain program. Acreage signed up for diversion under the programs included 1,596 acres from wheat production, 14,602 acres from corn-grain sorghum production including barley.
