Six Workmen Killed In Farm Plant Explosion

LOUISVILLE, KY.—(AP)—Six workmen were killed and at least 26 others were injured Monday in an explosion at the big plant of the International Harvester Farm Equipment Company.

The cause of the explosion had not been determined hours after the blast demolished a 150 by 75-foot brick and steel building in which engines made in the nearby main plant were tested.

Normally about 56 of the company's 4,000 employees worked in the test building but the explosion took place just as the night shift was leaving and the day shift was arriving so officials were not sure how many men were in the building at the time.

Fire followed the blast but soon was extinguished by city and county firemen. Then police and volunteers aided the firemen in rescue work, which was hampered by intense heat and the fact that the basement of the building was flooded.

There were two 5,000 gallon fuel tanks under the test building but firemen said they apparently did not explode as first reported.

No casualty list was available immediately as the injured, many blackened beyond recognition, were taken to hospitals.

Monday Deadline For Filing 1947 Income Returns

March 15, income tax day, is here, and final returns on 1947 income must be filed with the Department of Internal Revenue by midnight Monday.

Tax accountants have been working night and day the last several weeks to meet the deadline, and many individuals who have failed to file returns right after the first of the year, but didn't spend a busy weekend getting them in shape. All will breathe a bit easier Tuesday, and a number of tax accountants plan brief vacations.

Post G. M. Oates said tax returns must be placed in the post office not later than 8:30 p. m. Monday to be postmarked March 15. He warned persons to be sure of sufficient postage since the bureau will not claim postage due mail, making such returns delinquent.

Citizens may have their returns to the district agent of the Department of Internal Revenue in Odessa up to closing time Monday. Tax returns filed here this year are expected to establish an all-time record.

Arabs Agree To Partition Talks

NEW YORK.—(AP)—The Arab Higher Committee for Palestine agreed Monday to consult with the big powers on the Palestine crisis. The decision was announced by Issa Mahkleh, New York representative of the Arab committee, as delegates of the United States, Russia, France and China went into their fifth and final session on Palestine.

The Arab group has refused to take part in any United Nations discussions on implementation of the U. N. partition plan. Mahkleh was expected to confine himself to answering a series of questions submitted by the big powers last week.

Jewish Agency representatives sat with the big powers at their last press conference on Friday. Chief U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin still clung to his hopes that a "peaceful settlement" might yet be reached through Jewish-Arab conciliation.

William Stonestreet Dies In Fort Worth

FORT WORTH.—William C. Stonestreet, prominent Fort Worth clothing merchant and well-known West Texas rancher and businessman, died Sunday in a Fort Worth hospital after an illness of several months.

He and the late J. D. Davis were founders in 1900 of Stonestreet and Davis, men's clothing establishment. Known to his friends as "Stoney," he had participated in this city's progress for 55 years. Stonestreet was born in Cana, N. C., and came to Fort Worth in 1883.

Stonestreet was married September 7, 1898, to Eusebia Scharbauer, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Scharbauer of Fort Worth and Midland. They had no children.

Primary among his varied business interests was a ranch near Decatur, which attracted much of his attention.

Funeral services will be held at the residence here at 3 p. m. Tuesday at 8:00 a. m. at the residence of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Davis, officiating. Interment will be in Greenwood Cemetery.

Plans Resistance

(NEA Telephoto)
Dr. Stefan Osusky, former Czechoslovakian minister to England and France, revealed plans, in Cincinnati, Ohio, for a worldwide resistance movement against Russian domination of his country. A visiting professor of history at Colgate University, he said he would organize Czechs outside the iron curtain and encourage an underground within the country.

Fast House Action Due On Aid Bill

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The $5,300,000,000 European aid program, safely through the Senate, moved to the House Monday. There were indications of passage before April 1.

The House Foreign Affairs Committee, which must act before the measure reaches the floor, may approve it by Wednesday.

Tuesday the Republican Steering Committee will meet to consider it and to map strategy.

The Senate approved the $5,300,000,000 bill early Sunday 69 to 17. The administration is stressing speed. It wants aid under way well before the Italian election April 18. The Communists are planning to make a show of strength there.

The House took up rent control Monday. In advance of the formal debate, six Democratic members of the House Banking Committee contended it would result in rent boosts as high as 50 per cent in some cities.

The Democrats centered their attack on a provision of the bill which would allow local boards to raise rents or lift controls entirely.

Senator McGrath (R-R-I), chairman of the Democratic National Committee, called the measure a "Republican savior—the landlord, soak-the-tenant rent control law."

A Senate—House "watchdog" committee debated the question, "Is the Taft-Hartley Act working?"

Truman Vetoes Southerner For Cabinet Post

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—President Truman was said Monday to have turned down suggestions that he put a Southerner in his cabinet.

Between now and July, Truman must pick a successor to Clinton Anderson. Anderson will quit as secretary of agriculture as soon as Congress ends to run for the Senate in New Mexico.

Some Administration lieutenants were said to have suggested that the president might cool off the Southerners by picking an outstanding agricultural leader from south of the Mason and Dixon Line to succeed Anderson.

But Truman was reliably reported to have vetoed this as an obvious and probably ineffective gesture that might boomerang outside the South. The guessing—and it is only that—is that the office will go to a mid-Westerner.

Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.) told a reporter he thinks Dixie would be pleased if it got additional recognition in the cabinet.

The Alabama senator has opposed Truman's civil rights program, just as have his Southern colleagues. But he wants the issue to be settled within the party.

Public Schools Get Per Capita Payment

AUSTIN.—(AP)—The state Monday paid $7,551,746.95 to the public schools.

This represented $5 per capita to 1,509,799 schoolchildren. It brought the total paid so far this school year on the per capita apportionment to $35.

The total per capita for the year is $55. Another installment will be paid in April.

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The Commerce Department Monday increased the crude oil export quota for the first quarter of 1948 to 1,100,000 barrels, a hike of 500,000 barrels over the original quota set February 20.

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Secretary of State Marshall told senators Monday that if the United States stops aid to Greece, the consequences will be "swift and tragic."

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The State Department said Monday that if Italy goes Communist she will get no further economic aid from the United States.

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—A Central Texas delegation Monday sought Senate committee approval of $1,000,000 to start work on the $16,000,000 Belton Reservoir.

Anderson To Run For Senate

(NEA Telephoto)
Secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson, right, enjoys a laugh with Secretary of Commerce W. Averell Harriman, as they leave the White House after a cabinet conference. Later Secretary Anderson announced he would be a Democratic candidate for the Senate from New Mexico and would retain his cabinet post until Congress adjourns in June.

Meat Packers Set For Quick Walkout

FORT WORTH.—(AP)—Packinghouse workers if Fort Worth, Dallas and Vernon who are members of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (CIO), were set Monday for 12:01 a. m. Tuesday walkout after efforts in Chicago Sunday failed to avert a nationwide strike over wage disputes.

The arbitration proposal was sent to Swift & Company, the Cudahy Packing Company and Armour & Company, but Swift and Cudahy quickly rejected.

They said they were standing pat on their offer of a nine-cent-an-hour wage boost.

The union, which originally had demanded a 29-cent an hour increase for its 100,000 members, said it would call off the strike if the companies would accept arbitration of the 20 cents difference.

Armour has not replied to the proposal but the union said it would arbitrate with that company alone if it accepted.

Southern Palestine Battle Toll Mounts

JERUSALEM.—(AP)—The fiercest battle yet waged in the sands of Southern Palestine was reported in its third day Monday with Jewish and Arab fatalities already 36.

Mired by mud and slowed by driving rains, Jewish forces were said to have a Haganah informant to have driven a wedge to the aid of the beleaguered settlement of Gath.

The death toll in the battle so far, according to a Haganah version quoted by the Palestine Post, is 28 Arabs and eight Jews.

Haganah is the militia of the Jewish Agency. The Palestine Post is an English-language daily published by a Jewish firm.

Truman Backs Harriman In 'Loyalty' Wrangle

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—President Truman Monday ordered federal agencies to turn down any requests from Congress or the courts for secret papers on loyalty investigations of government employees.

He instructed agency chiefs to refer any demand, including any subpoena to the office of the President for such response as the President may determine to be in the public interest in the particular case.

The order in effect backed up Secretary of Commerce Harriman, who has refused to give a House committee papers dealing with the department's investigation of Dr. Edward W. Condon's loyalty.

Soviet Calls War Talk Crazy Idea, Hysteria

NEW YORK.—(AP)—Yakov Lomakin, Soviet consul general here, says talk of war between the United States and Russia is "a crazy idea" and "hysteria."

Leaving La Guardia field Sunday for Stockholm, enroute to Russia for a vacation, he said: "We Russians do not believe in war, and we do not want war. We want peace."

155,000 Are Idle In Initial Stages

PITTSBURGH.—(AP)—More than one-third of the nation's 400,000 soft coal miners quit work Monday to support the demand of John L. Lewis for miner pensions.

An early tabulation showed more than 155,000 miners idle in eight states as follows: West Virginia, 60,000; Kentucky, over 40,000; Pennsylvania, 27,800; Illinois, 13,000; Ohio, 6,500; Alabama, 6,000; Indiana, 2,000; Tennessee 300.

The U. S. Steel Corporation reported nine of its 14 Western Pennsylvania pits were closed, with 7,000 miners idle. The corporation expected its coal output would drop Monday to about 20,000 tons, or one-third of capacity.

The Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation reported all its Pennsylvania and West Virginia mines were closed and 4,600 miners idle.

Republic was another steel corporation affected, with three Pennsylvania mines down. The output of steel company-owned pits is used in making fuel for steel mills.

Commercial mines, too, whose production is sold on the open market, began to shut. The giant Pittsburgh Coal Company reported at least nine of its mines closed. Owners of some independent mines expected the movement to spread.

Miners said the walkouts backed up demand of Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, for $100 monthly pensions for miners.

Two hundred and ten miners reported Monday morning to a Frick pit at nearby Bridgeville, but returned home. The firm's mine at Muse, Pa., a few miles distant, did not open. The Bridgeville pit produces about 1,800 tons daily; the Muse operation about 3,000 tons.

No Attempt To Work
The Bridgeville diggers milled around the mine lamp house but made no attempt to obtain their working lights.

Then, as one of the miners "threw away his water"—the traditional signal of a work stoppage in which the miner pours his day's supply of drinking water on the ground—the men walked away toward their homes.

The morning sirens sounded as usual but went unheeded by the miners, the first at 5:30 a. m. to signify work was scheduled. The second warning was at 6 a. m. to prepare the miners for work. The third at 6:20 would have sent the first group toward the pits and the final call at 6:45 a. m. was the normal sound to begin operations.

But the miners were on their way home.

Prices Zoom As Livestock Held From Stockyards

CHICAGO.—(AP)—Country livestock suppliers cut deliveries sharply Monday under prospect of a packinghouse workers' strike at midnight.

Packers accepted no animals of direct consignment. Those received for sale to local butchers and Eastern buyers were estimated at 2,000 hogs, 3,500 cattle, 300 calves, and 2,000 sheep.

Last Monday an estimated 13,000 hogs, 14,000 cattle, 700 calves, and 2,000 sheep were on sale.

Price advances ran from 50 cents to $1.00 a hundred pounds for live hogs. The top price was $24.50. On cattle the range was unevenly 25 cents to $1.50 higher with good and choice steers and heifers on the high side of the range. Choice steers topped at $33.00, the best price on the Chicago market since February 25.

Lambs were up 50 cents a hundred pounds to top at $23.00. Only weaners did not fit the pattern. Good and choice kinds managed to hold steady, but lower grades dropped $1.00 to $2.00.

NEW LOW RECORD

KANSAS CITY.—(AP)—The smallest livestock run in 22 months was reported Monday as the deadline neared for a packinghouse strike which would shut down three of the "Big Four" operators in Kansas City.

The mid-morning count on hogs was only 17 head. Estimates on other classes were 8,000 cattle, 150 calves and 2,500 sheep. It was the lightest run since May 27, 1946, when OPA meat price controls neared their end.

Storms Threaten To Bury Crashed Airliner

ANCHORAGE, ALASKA.—(AP)—Storms threatened Monday to bury the last trace of a crashed Northwest Orient Airlines DC-4 which carried 30 persons to their death high up on towering Mount Sanford.

The forecast of bad weather increased the probability that the bodies of the 30 victims will remain entombed on the 16,396-foot peak.

The four-engined airliner, enroute from Shanghai to St. Paul, crashed Friday night on a glacier of the mountain 190 miles north-east of here.

Cage Season Heads For Olympic Tests

NEW YORK —(P)—Basketball tournament activity reaches its peak during the next six days. By Saturday night the U. S. Olympic tryout field will be completed.

About 50 games will be played on such scattered fronts as New York, Kansas City, Brooklyn, Denver and Berkeley, Calif.

The University of Louisville won the gruelling 32-team NAIB tournament in Kansas City Saturday night to become the first quintet to qualify for the Olympic tryouts in New York March 27, 29 and 31.

The winner of the National Invitational tournament in New York Wednesday night will become the second team. And then on Saturday night the final six clubs will be determined. Three will come from the National A.A.U. tournament in Denver, and one each from the Western N.C.A.A. playoffs in Kansas City, the Eastern N.C.A.A. playoffs in New York, and the National Y.M.C.A. tournament in Brooklyn.

New York Semi-Finals
Monday night the New York Invitational presents its semi-final offerings. New York University meets DePaul in the first game and St. Louis University takes on Western Kentucky in the nightcap.

NYU squeaked by Texas 45 to 43 in the final six seconds Saturday night while DePaul whipped North Carolina State 75 to 64. In spite of these results, the New Yorkers have been installed as one point favorites in Monday night's battle.

St. Louis, selected as the outstanding team to visit Madison Square Garden during the regular season, is rated slightly better than one point over the experienced Kentuckians.

HEALTH...

Can you visualize all the life in the body being generated in the brain? All this VITAL FORCE being transmitted from the brain to all the organs of the body over NERVES? As the nerves carry their full voltage (impulse) as it were, the organs function properly, the result, HEALTH.

This is simple enough, isn't it? But do you comprehend the WISDOM of the GREAT plan? Do you see how all the nerves unite to form the spinal cord, the life line of the body? Do you see how the spinal cord, with its trillions of nerve fibers, serves the body, similar to a big cable leading off from a telephone building to service thousands of homes?

Short circuit the big cable (spinal cord) as it leaves the housing (base of the skull), what will be the EFFECTS? Decreased function (poor HEALTH). To enjoy HEALTH you must ferret out the CAUSE of ill health and have it corrected. If your condition has resisted your efforts to correct it, turn to Specific Chiropractic.

Yanks Steam In Grapefruit League Play

ST. PETERSBURG, FLA. —(P)—The New York Yankees have the baseball experts second guessing themselves Monday.

Before the start of the Spring training, the experts figured the Boston Red Sox as shoo-ins to capture the American League pennant due to the acquisition of some Grade A talent from the St. Louis Browns.

However, the Yanks are burning up the Grapefruit League while the Sox are stumbling along. The Yankee pitching is especially hot.

Sunday the Yanks met the favored Red Sox for the first time and took them into camp 5-2 in ten innings, with Joe DiMaggio's 350-foot three run homer breaking up the game.

Kramer Keeps Up Tennis Victories In Record Tour

FORT WORTH —(P)—Jack C. Harris, veteran promoter of tennis tours, says the current rout by Jack Kramer of Bobby Riggs settles two things to everybody's satisfaction:

1. You don't have to put on a show to attract a crowd.
2. The fans can't claim there's any idea of a "fix."

Kramer, last year world's champion amateur, is giving Riggs, kingpin of the professionals, a classic licking. In 47 matches to date, the tall Los Angeles product has blasted to 31 victories—18 in the last 21.

Sunday night Kramer beat Riggs 6-0, 6-0 in 30 minutes here—most decisive defeat ever administered in a top tennis match such as this.

"The tour which will take us to 75 American cities and into Europe aptly demonstrates that showmanship is not necessary in sports," says Harris, the Chicago sporting goods man who takes a leave of absence from his company when he promotes.

People Love It
"It also shows that any claims that we might try to make the matches close just to get the crowds are false. This is strictly tennis and that the people love it is shown by the fact that close to 230,000 have seen the 47 matches thus far. It is the greatest tour in tennis history, well ahead of the 1899 Don Budge-Kilworth Vines tour, tops until this time."

ROUNDUP UP THE STRAYS.
Hardin-Simmons opens its baseball season Monday against TCU at Abilene. Baylor opens Monday also, with Stephen F. Austin.

The Murray, Okla. State Aggies won the regional junior college basketball tournament with a 59-51 victory over Tyler Junior College. Wayland of Plainview took third place. The Southwest Conference swimming meet, expected to be a splashing battle between Texas and A&M for the title, will be held this weekend at College Station.

Morgan Hampton of the Abilene Country Club has been added to the faculty of Hardin-Simmons as golf coach.

The New York Yankees had a string of 28 innings of exhibition ball without allowing a run when they faced the Reds last Saturday. Before the game Manager Bucky Harris, with mock solemnity, warned his pitchers:

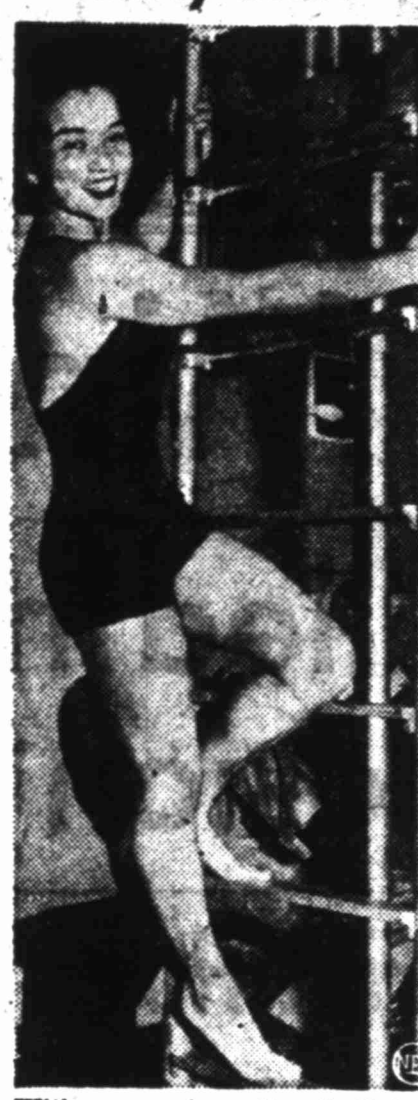

"The first man who allows a run goes to Newark, two runs he goes to Kansas City, three to Norfolk, four to Binghamton, and five he's out of baseball." Starter Spec Shea qualified for Binghamton in one inning—but you'll see him in a Yank uniform all season, however.

The Big State League in a meeting Sunday decided to let each team carry 21 players the first 21 days of the race but to be cut to 17 thereafter.

The league opens April 21 and closes September 7... 30 for strays, quick coffee from a can.

First electric trackless trolley coaches in the United States were installed in Salt Lake City, Utah, in 1928.

Early Start

With women's national diving champion Ann Ross having joined the professional ranks, the race for the amateur crown is wide open. Los Angeles' Vicki Draves, above, is a strong contender. She will compete in the Olympic trials in Detroit, July 10-11.

Kaiser-Frazer Introduces Four New 1948 Models

• The 1948 KAISER

• The 1948 FRAZER

• The 1948 KAISER CUSTOM

• The 1948 FRAZER MANHATTAN

AT NO INCREASE IN PRICE!

While Other New Car Prices Are Advancing

HERE'S WHY Kaiser-Frazer can make this announcement while other new car prices spiral upward. Kaiser-Frazer controls its own supply of many basic raw materials... has its own engine plant, foundry and steel mill. Materials from these sources funnel into new and modern Willow Run—the largest automobile manufacturing plant in the world under one roof.

Unfinished steel goes in one end of this great plant and comes out a quality automobile, ready to be driven away. All this is accomplished in a matter of hours, and with the economy of Kaiser-Frazer straight-line production. This is an achievement of men who are injecting new methods and ideas into an old industry.

In the new 1948 Kaiser, Frazer, Kaiser Custom, and Frazer Manhattan you get all the features that others have attempted to copy since Kaiser-Frazer design was introduced in 1947.

So far no one has been able to more than approximate the graceful exterior body lines. No one has come near matching the roadability... the ride resulting from seats cradled between the front and rear wheels, such wide seats with both elbow and shoulder room. And none have the style features, the wide choice of colors and fabrics.

You get all this plus the many refinements made possible by years-ahead engineering and design. And, of course, all 1948 Kaiser or Frazer cars have the new Goodyear 24-pound pressure Super-Cushion tires that make bumps something you see but never feel.

Enjoy a ride today in America's newest new cars—the 1948 cars that have not gone up in price!

Wherever you drive, wherever you go, 'round the corner, down the street, there is a Kaiser-Frazer dealer ready to serve you with genuine factory parts and approved service.

THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM, MIDLAND, TEXAS, MARCH 15, 1948-3

League Of Women Voters Elect Mrs. William Y. Penn, President

England's Hope Lies With Marshall Plan, Program Emphasizes

Mrs. W. Y. Penn, who has been serving an unexpired term for Midland's League of Women Voters, was elected president of the group for the coming year at a Saturday luncheon-meeting in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer.

Vice president will be Mrs. J. E. Beakey, to be assisted by Mrs. E. Beakey, secretary, and Mrs. Albert Kelly, treasurer. Constituting the board of directors are Mrs. George Turner, Mrs. R. V. Oberholzer, Mrs. George Putnam and Mrs. John Fitzgerald.

Mrs. W. Y. Penn, a former Briton, discussing economic conditions in England, shared program honors with Mrs. J. Howard Hodge, a Midlander who attended a session of the Security Council of the United Nations this summer in Lake Success, N. Y.

Mrs. Womack discussed Britain's food and material shortages and the reasons for these, explaining why past loans have not solved the problems. England's economic progress is primarily dependent upon her chief resource, coal. Mrs. Womack explained, "Britain was the forerunner of the industrial revolution, but she has failed to keep up with it," said Mrs. Womack. "She does not have the money to modernize as she should... her present hope lies with the Marshall Plan."

Urges Support Of UN
"Public understanding and support of the United Nations is vitally important," stressed Mrs. Hodge in her discussion of the meeting place, procedure, accomplishments and organization of the UN to date.

"Four-fifths of the people of the world are giving some measure of support to the UN," stated Mrs. Hodge. "Debates and disagreements have been played up to the exclusion of the many agreements," she said. "The UN is not a failure, it is a false idea of the progress made by the organization."

"It should be remembered," Mrs. Hodge urged, "that the machinery of this organization is in its infancy."

Present for the meeting and election were Mrs. N. A. Lancaster, Mrs. B. C. Albert of Clanton, Neb., Mrs. T. T. Womack, Jr., Mrs. Paul Lathrop, Mrs. Max David, Mrs. Robert C. Relief At Last For Your Cough

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

CREOMULSION for Coughs, Chest Colds, Bronchitis

Chiropractic is based on the fact that the brain is the human power house. It creates vital energy. Without brain energy no organ or part of the body can function. Brain energy is transmitted over the body's network of nerves. These nerves radiate from the spine, and it is in the spine that the nerve can be "pinched" by vertebrae, and the flow of energy over them impeded or cut off. When in this way the connection is broken between brain and one or more parts of the body, disease is the inevitable result. By skillful analysis and precise spinal adjustments, the Chiropractor is able to locate and release impinged nerves and restore an uninterrupted flow of brain energy to the part affected. Health follows naturally.

CASE HISTORY No. 35—A middle aged woman suffering great distress from colitis. Stomach cramps and sourness were constant. Despite professional attention the condition was continually getting worse. She was advised to visit a Chiropractor and a series of spinal adjustments brought her relief. Shortly afterwards, when venturing out doors on a severe winter's day, she caught cold in both knees. They became swollen and arthritic developed. She returned to her Chiropractor and further spinal adjustments were given. The arthritis cleared up and has not returned since.

CASE HISTORY No. 37—A girl 16 years old who was brought to a Chiropractor suffering from "nerves" and general debility. In addition, she had a cross-eyed condition which had developed following an attack of whooping cough when she was two years old. A nerve impingement of long standing was located and spinal adjustments were given to correct it. Within a few weeks she was a well girl again and had gained considerable weight, and much to her delight, her eyes had returned to their normal position.

Indecision

The United States government has taken the position that a UN force, if it is sent to Palestine, must be used only to keep the peace and not to enforce partition. Let us suppose that such a force is sent, and then try to discover the fine distinction in its operation.

A sizable, well-equipped international army could probably stop the fighting by superior strength. Then what? Two things might happen. The Arab nations could bow to the UN majority decision and allow partition to proceed. Or they could announce that if efforts were made to enforce the decision they would again oppose it by force of arms.

Assuming that the Arabs took the second course, what would be the UN army's role? If the Arabs began firing and the international soldiers fired back, would they be enforcing partition or trying to keep the peace?

These are hypothetical questions, and the Palestine situation is too grave for such academic discussion. But academic discussion seems to be our government's present solution of the Holy Land problem. The approach is somewhat as if a house were blazing fiercely in a street of closely-packed dwellings and the firemen arrived on foot, with no fire-fighting equipment, and began a formal debate on the possibility of the fire's spreading.

The American position, as outlined by our delegate, Warren Austin, is a model of parliamentary propriety. It would favor the appointment of a committee of inquiry.
If that committee found that international peace was threatened and if a majority of the Security Council agreed, it would consult with other members "with a view to such action as may be necessary."

All this is very proper and very passive. It doesn't try to stampede the UN. It doesn't try to throw American weight around.

But this doesn't square with reality. The American position would be more becoming to, say, Costa Rica than to the world's strongest nation and the prime force behind the General Assembly's favorable vote on partition. Now it seems that our government doesn't want partition. At best, the growing crisis finds America abandoning a position of natural and necessary leadership for one of indecision.

It was just such indecision as this that killed the League of Nations. The league couldn't decide what to do about the Japanese invasion of Manchuria, and the Italian invasion of Ethiopia, and Hitler's bold violations of the Versailles Treaty. So it did nothing and died of inaction.

Inaction now can mean that a few, small, backward nations may overrule world opinion. Inaction can mean the end of the UN. And it might mean war.

About Militarists

To those Americans who decry the military influence in our government, we commend the present Army chief of staff and his two immediate predecessors. It is giving Gen. Omar Bradley high but well-deserved praise to say that he is fully qualified to follow George C. Marshall and Dwight D. Eisenhower in that post.

All three are great Americans as well as great soldiers. Their careers are marked not only by military brilliance but, in war and peace, by a deep regard for human rights and human dignity. It is impossible to read their records without being convinced that they are genuine lovers of peace.

A blanket condemnation of "militarism" is a disservice to these men. This country should count itself fortunate to have had three such eminent humanitarians in its military service in time of national peril. No country can have too many Marshalls, Eisenhowers and Bradleys.

Musical powder boxes are in vogue again. To tone up the complexion, probably.

It Always Helps To Ease The Pain

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Story Of The 7½-Cent Nickel And Government Red Tape

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Any plans for putting out a 7½-cent nickel or a 12½-cent dime aren't going to get any place if the U. S. Treasury and Mint have anything to say about it. Such ideas have been advanced before. Latest advocate is Edward Mehren of Beverly Hills, Calif., who is a soft-drink company president.

Mehren got to worrying one day about how the nickel was now worth only three cents and the dime worth only six. He was having his troubles trying to compete with other makers of nickel and dime drinks and, figuratively, keep his head above water. So he wrote the Treasury about the need for 7½-cent and 12½-cent pieces and gave an interview to the papers about it.

Some place in the publicity build-up, a plan was advanced to have the present nickels and dimes arbitrarily declared worth 2½ cents more than face value. This was to save minting new coins. The thought was that this revaluation would increase their purchasing power. But somebody didn't think this one through. Actually, such a revaluation would be inflationary. Every maker of a reduced-size, three-cent candy bar selling for a nickel, for instance, would immediately raise the price to 7½ cents without increasing the size. Ditto for the nickel-size cigars now selling for a dime. They'd immediately be priced two for a quarter.

Anyway, an Omaha brewer, Arthur Storrs, saw some of this publicity. He wrote to Nebraska Republican Senator Kenneth Wherry about it. Wherry, as chairman of the Senate Small Business Committee, forwarded the suggestion to Treasury. Treasury is now drafting a reply taking a dim view of the whole matter.

Putting out a new coin would cost the country more than it would be worth. There have been two, three- and 20-cent pieces at various times. Any new coin, particularly with a fractional value, would make it necessary to scrap all existing cash registers, for one thing. All slot machines, change-making machines, vending machines, turnstiles and adding machines would also have to be changed. In addition to which the Treasury and Mint can't do anything about changing coin values till Congress authorizes it by law.

What happens to letters which citizens write their congressmen or send directly to government agencies isn't always as simple as in the case of the two letters about the 7½-cent nickels. Ordinarily congressmen can forward a request from a constituent to the proper government department and get high priority attention.

But the federal government has become such a big and sprawling thing that reference, checking, filing and cross-filing become a tremendous red-tape undertaking. Before the war, one efficiency expert figured it cost the government over $100 to answer a letter, if you counted in all the time of people who had to be consulted to give the right reply. Here's one recent case to show why:

Congressman Carl Steffan of Nebraska recently asked House Appropriations Committee's chief investigator Robert E. Lee to trace a letter through the State Department. Lee picked one at random. It was a letter from a steamship agency, enclosing check for $100 for air passage of one individual from Bucharest to Prague.

Before the file was closed and the letter answered, it had been routed twice through three buildings and was handled 35 times. The full history is too long for here, but these are highlights:

Letter received and referred to Protection Services Division. Check stapled to letter and time of receipt stamped. Sent to card room for distribution. Referred to Public Services Branch. Memorandum of receipt made for tracing in case of loss.

Delivered to Finance Division. Four copies of record of remittance made for appropriate offices. Check sent to Treasury. Letter returned to Public Services, which sent it back to card room, which forwarded it to drafting officer. Telegram drafted for Bucharest. Copy prepared for Moscow embassy. Reply drafted to travel agency. Memo drafted for Passport Division.

All correspondence signed and sent to mail room. Forwarded to Special Deposit unit, which checked everything. Initialed by chief and his assistant.

All papers sent to Office of Coordination Review. Telegram sent to code room and dispatched. Mail room sent Moscow memo. File sent to Communications and Records Division. File number assigned and letter filed.

It was decided nothing more had to be done with it.

Air Force Wants New Theme Song

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The U. S. Air Force is now in the market for a new song to go along with its new independence.

Speaking in airman language, the familiar ditty which starts, "Off we go into the wild blue yonder..." has "had it."

So the Air Force Association, largest organization of air force veterans, has obtained permission from Gen. Carl Spaatz to sponsor, sometime in the future, a national contest for a new official song.

The old song laid claim to a strong semi-official status by virtue of an air force general's letter to the AAF historian. But now Air Force Secretary Stuart Symington says he doesn't believe the old song fits the new spirit of the air force.

Maj. George S. Howard, director of the Air Force band, agrees and offers several reasons why he thinks the service needs a new tune.

First, he says, the official change of title from Army Air Force to U. S. Air Force has fouled up the lyrics of the present song, which used to end: "...nothing can stop the Army Air Force."

"Grounded" Maj. Howard says he and his musicians have tried their best to find a way to delete the word "Army" and still have the song go smoothly, but they can't get off the ground.

On the USAF new Sunday afternoon radio program they've tried "...nothing can stop the U. S. Air Force," but neither audience nor band think it sounds right.

Actually, Maj. Howard points out, this makes the second time the wording has had to be changed. As originally written, it was "...nothing can stop the Army Air Corps." During the war the service's name corps became the Army Air Force, a change which happily fitted the melody.

Robert Crawford, former AAF captain who now owns a restaurant called "The Blue Sky" in Miami, wrote the original tune, copyrighted as "The Army Air Corps" in 1939. It won a contest and soon became the "semi-official" theme song of the service.

Now, however, Maj. Howard thinks the service needs a new song to fit its new status. He says it should be "as modern as the new Air Force." It should be "a stirring, forward searching composition," he thinks.

Maj. Howard says he is well aware of the controversy which is likely to be started among air force veterans who will oppose substituting a new song for the one which carried them into so many battles. He hastens to point out "the wild blue yonder" will continue to be played by the band as frequently as always.

A former B-17 pilot who flew more than 20 missions over Germany during the war, and who doesn't belong to the AFA, offers this opinion on the subject:

"They can have all the contests they want to get a new song for the air corps, but for the guys who did the flying during the war there will only be one really official song. And that's the one about the wild blue yonder."

Texas Democrats Must Chari On Course In Revolt, Says Jester

DALLAS (AP)—Governor Beauford Jester said here he definitely had not bound the Texas State Democratic Convention by signing a report opposing President Truman's civil rights program.

Jester signed the report after it was adopted by a committee of Southern governors in Washington last week.

"I couldn't say we (Texas) could withhold electoral votes because I'm not sure we wanted to do that," he said here Sunday night.

Jester and State Democratic Chairman Robert Calvert, Hillsboro, stopped here enroute home from Washington.

Jester said Texas' role in the Southern Democratic revolt would have to wait until after the state party convention in May.

He said he planned to make a report to the people on the situation shortly, either by radio or through the press.

The governor said Senator Harry Byrd and former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes frequently were mentioned by Southerners as their choice for the presidential nomination. He said he "couldn't say" whom he would support if Truman refused to back down on his civil rights program.

Calvert said Virginia, Arkansas, Mississippi and South Carolina had "definitely" revolted. He added he believed the Texas convention would send an unopposed delegation to the July national convention "in order to meet whatever situation arises."

There were 319 active combatant vessels in the United States Navy on January 1, 1947.

It was quite impossible for her to make them believe her.

They were kind to her and they listened to her with a tolerance that was infuriating but which she was unable to combat.

They were beginning to exchange commiserating glances over her head, glances that said only too plainly that she was ill, that the shock of Tommy's death had been too much for her, that she had cracked under the strain.

When Sam Blanding got to his feet and said, rather uncomfortably, that he guessed he'd better be running along, she knew forlornly that she had failed.

"I won't say a word about this," the sheriff said unhappily, looking at neither her nor Rush directly. "No use to get the town on its ear. Tell you what, Mrs. Bancroft, when you get to feeling better you give me a ring and I'll come out and talk to you again."

He gave her his full direct gaze and as she looked into the intelligent eyes she felt a wild hope stir inside her breast. Was he trying to tell her something? Trying to reassure her but in such a way that the others would not understand? She felt pulses quicken all over her body.

Rush laughed then, a bit too heartily.

"After Ann's had a good rest she'll realize how mistaken she's been," he put his arm about her shoulders; it was all she could do not to draw away. "I'm not saying, you understand, that there isn't some truth in what she says. His voice was smooth as velvet. It's her interpretation I don't agree with."

"Of course," Enos said, also smoothly, "and under similar facts have a way of looking different. Believe me, I know."

"YOU know..." Rush said and then he hesitated, glanced down at Ann's drawn face, then looked at Sam Blanding again. "I don't know what you'd think of this, Sam, but we've got a cabin over on the lake. I was thinking it might not be a bad idea to take Ann up there for a few days until she's entirely rested." His deference to the sheriff was both flattering and disarming.

And any wild hope Ann may have had in Sam Blanding died an abrupt death when the sheriff said, "Why, I can't see where it would hurt any." And then he said gently, "Provided, of course, you take good care of the little lady. Wouldn't want any accidents to happen to her." His voice underlined the word accident, oh, very light, and Ann realized the sheriff had put no credence in her story. None at all.

Sheriff Blanding looked acutely uncomfortable for a minute after his remark and so he added, jocularly, "Not that I think—" But that was no good either, so he began again, his face red—"They say these things have a way of coming in threes, you know."

Help came then from an unexpected source.

Gay said, her voice low and sweet, "I don't mean to sound silly but wouldn't it be easy to get in touch with this man in Cheyenne?"

Everyone looked at her in such astonishment that the bright color leaped to her face and she said defensively, "Well, wouldn't it sort of clear the air? If you put yourself in Ann's place it's easy to see why she's upset; I would be, I know, if the same things had happened to me. It seems to me—" She paused, looked frightfully embarrassed—"well, almost too much of a coincidence."

"Gay!" Rush said.

THAT one word contained so many things that Ann, for a moment, was appalled. She struggled for sanity. Not Rush and Gay! Dear God, surely not! If there'd been any feeling between them, any love for each other, she'd have sensed it. She knew she would have. Yet Rush's single speaking of Gay's name had said volumes.

"It would be so easy to check," Gay said doggedly and she wouldn't look at Rush. "A long distance telephone call—"

"But, my dear, what would it accomplish?" Enos asked softly.

Sam Blanding turned his pipe back and forth in his hands. "I guess it probably won't hurt none to call him if it'll make Mrs. Bancroft feel any better."

"Of course," Enos said rapidly. "Of course." He turned to Ann. "Do you want to talk to him yourself, Ann? Or do you trust Sheriff Blanding?"

"I—Her mouth was parched, her voice was harsh. "I don't know."

"Well, look," Rush said and there was an edge to his voice that she recognized as a danger signal; Rush's temper was growing. "You must know! I mean—doggonit Ann, if you don't know, who does? Or don't you know what you want?" He watched her and his probing eyes made her shiver. Rush's eyes made her shiver. "The thing is, there's no point in getting everyone all up in the air over nothing. Go ahead and call Cheyenne if you want to but it seems to me—"

And Enos cut in so easily it was almost as though he had visibly smoothed ruffled feathers. Enos said, "But we want to ease Ann's mind. Rush, she'll rest better and recover more quickly if—"

From a far distance she heard herself distinctly. "There's nothing the matter with my mind," and then the blackness and the terror descended upon her. came down like a dark angry cloud out of the strong June sunshine, and overwhelmed her. It was a little like drowning and, although she struggled, she knew full well she was quite lost. I accomplished nothing at all, she thought. I gave away all my knowledge and I didn't gain a thing. And so it will go on... and...

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY

America's Card Authority
Ten or 15 years ago tournament bridge was considered complicated, but today there is hardly a community that does not provide tournaments.

At the Montreal Metropolitan Tournament, which will be held at the Hotel Windsor April 2-4, His Worship the Mayor of Montreal, Camille Houde, will be patron.

Today's hand was played by Douglas Andress, secretary of the Montreal Bridge League. His partner was L. H. Benjamin, the treasurer. I do not think West could be criticized for doubling. Nevertheless Andress made five.

He trumped the opening diamond lead in dummy with the four of hearts and cashed the ace of spades. When he led the club queen, West trumped with the ten of hearts, Andress overtrumped with the king, and ruffed the nine of diamonds in dummy. The ten of clubs was led back and when West trumped with the jack of hearts, Andress discarded the four of spades.

West now led the king of spades, which was won in dummy and the ace of hearts was cashed. The seven of clubs was led. West discarded the six of spades and North the jack of spades. Dummy's deuce of spades was trumped by North with the nine of hearts and the ten of diamonds trumped in dummy with the eight of hearts. The five of spades was trumped with the three of hearts.

Thus West won only the queen and jack of hearts.

Farmer Amazed When Cow Sprouts Broomstick

CEDAR RAPIDS, IOWA—(AP)—

Sheldon Anton, farmer living northwest of LaPorte City, was astonished to find 18 inches of a broomstick protruding from between the ribs of one of his Holstein cows.

The cow, purchased at a sale last fall, had not been doing well and a short time ago developed an abscess on her side. It ruptured recently and the broomstick popped out. How the stick got into the cow's stomach remained a mystery.

Lake pulsations called selches, first observed in Lake Geneva but later found in many other lakes, have not been adequately explained by science.

Texas Czechs Urge Support Of Firm Stand Against Red Russia

LA GRANGE, TEXAS—(P)—Friendship with Russia Monday was labeled as "a kiss of death for free people," by top officers of the National Alliance of Czech Catholics of Texas. They have issued a call for united support of President Truman's firm stand against Russia and support of the Marshall Plan to stop Communism.

The views of the Texas Americans of Czech extraction were made in a statement by the Rev. Paul F. Kaspar of Louise, alliance president, and former Senator L. J. Sulak of La Grange, vice president, following a conference in La Grange.

"Recent events in Czechoslovakia," the statement said, "amply prove that friendship with Red Russia is a kiss of death for free people. We appeal for united support behind President Truman's firm stand and the Marshall Plan against Communism."

"The fall of Czechoslovakia is just another warning that free people must stand 'one for all and all for one' against their common enemy, or perish one by one. We urge a united front of America with all other free people for the effective protection of all."

"The death of Jan Masaryk and sending of thousands of the best Czechs and Slovaks to slave camps," the statement continued, "show that the Communists stop at no crime. It is a fatal fallacy to treat them as another political party. It is high time the Communists be outlawed as more dangerous than common criminals."

The alliance is a federation of Texas Czech Catholics organizations with a total membership of approximately 30,000.

CHINA'S COMMUNIST RADIO UNDERLINES MONEY FLIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO—(P)—The Chinese government makes no bones about the sad plight of its plummeting currency, but the Chinese Communist radio underlined the situation this way:

The broadcast was heard here by The Associated Press.

TEC Announces Free Aptitude Tests Are Available In Midland

Aptitude tests which employers may use in screening personnel and determining which tasks workers are particularly fitted for, are available without cost to Midlanders through the Texas Employment Commission, H. W. Wester, here from the district office at San Angelo, said Monday.
