Big Offensive Planned In Europe

Allies Prepare To Crush Nazi Forces Before Christmas

LONDON —(AP)— British Tommies and American armor rocked the Germans back toward Venlo on the Maas (Meuse) from the Holland salient Thursday in what appeared to be the preliminaries to an offensive aimed at breaking organized German resistance before Christmas.

West of Antwerp in Holland Canadian forces were less than two miles from the German guns at Breskens commanding the sea entrance to the port.

In Aachen, U. S. First Army troops, again smashing German tank and infantry counterthrusts northeast of the Siegfried Line city, held about half the wrecked city and smashed on into the northwestern quarter where fighters and fighter bombers pinpointed strongpoints ahead of the bazooka and grenade squads.

Coinciding with Berlin's report of a savage Russian onslaught against East Prussia's defenses, the German radio declared the British offensive in East Holland, "in support of the American attack on Aachen, has increased in violence."

The timing raised the possibility of a grand strategy plan to beat the Nazis by smashing simultaneously at East Prussia, heart of German militarism, while wrecking the Rhine-Ruhr Valley, the center of German industry.

An Associated Press war correspondent with the British Second Army said Lt. Gen. Sir Miles C. Dempsey's troops, striking swiftly after taking Venray, had advanced about three and a half miles south toward the railroad town of Amerika.

Berlin said Dempsey had concentrated strong forces in the area to annihilate the Germans' Maas bridgehead — an objective which would straighten the line along the Dutch border in preparation for an Allied cross-river assault.

In a desperate effort to avoid being trapped on the west bank, the Germans apparently were falling back to the south toward Venlo as their comrades in the Venray-America area were pushed back.

Col. Dowman Announces New Program

The world's largest bombardier school at the Midland Army Air Field will be processing and training only returned combat bombardiers in the near future, Col. Charles H. Dowman, commanding officer, announced Thursday.

After assignment from the Army Air Forces Personnel Distribution Command, these combat bombardiers will be given a six-week refresher course to teach them new bombardment developments and techniques and to review basic bombardiering subjects in far more intensive scope than is possible in cadet schools, Colonel Dowman explained.

Those selected to be instructors will be given an additional three-weeks training and will become bombardier instructors in the AAF Training Command or will be utilized for training of personnel within the Air Forces in the continental United States, Colonel Dowman said.

"Although the graduation of Class 45-4B on January 27, will mark the end of three years of cadet training at MAAF, present estimates indicate that even more trainees will be processed in the future than in the past.

"This change in our program will not diminish the amount of work to be done in the slightest. The full employment of all our personnel and facilities will be required for the accomplishment of the new mission," emphasized Colonel Dowman.

There will be no coalition of Republicans and Anti-Roosevelt Democrats in the presidential race in Texas.

This became clear Thursday as Republicans announced they had flatly turned down such a proposition from the Regulars.

German City Evacuated By Nazis

LONDON —(AP)— Germany announced Thursday the evacuation of the East Prussian border town of Eydthuhnen and said the Russians were hurling tremendous infantry and tank forces against the Junkers' province to achieve a "grand scale break through at all costs."

Berlin tacitly acknowledged in Wednesday's communique that the great new Russian offensive had plunged across the East Prussia border and reached another frontier town of Schirwindt, nine miles northeast of Eydthuhnen. Moscow has not yet announced the drive.

Eydthuhnen, 87 miles east of Konigsberg, capital of East Prussia, is a German submarine training station. It is the first German settlement which the Nazis have abandoned in the east.

"The battle is rising in intensity and taking on greater proportions," the Berlin radio said. "The Russians have brought up most of their forces from Finland and Estonia and flung them into the fray."

The enemy said the drive, under command of the 36-year-old Russian Jewish general, Ivan D. Chervniakovsky, was aimed at Eastenburg, major Prussian rail center. The battle was reported savage all along a 30-mile front from Schirwindt to Kalcarija in Lithuania.

Swift Russian advances through the Carpathian Mountains have liberated one-third of the Carpatho-Ukraine, easternmost province of Czechoslovakia, and established virtually a solid front for the Red Army across the wedge of high ground between the Polish and Hungarian plains.

Moscow announced early Thursday that Col. Gen. Ivan D. Petrov's Fourth Ukrainian Command, pouring through gaps left in enemy defenses by Hungarians collapse, had dealt stunning blows to German positions in the rich Danubian Basin.

The high command disclosed seven Russian troops had captured seven important Carpathian passes in advances ranging from 12 1/2 to 31 miles along a 170-mile front.

It also was disclosed that Russian and Romanian forces under Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky, commander of the Second Ukrainian (Continued on Page 2)

Democrats And Republicans Both Claim Winning And Keeping Peace Are Prime Issues In 1944 Campaign

Campaigning in America's first wartime election in 30 years struck hard Thursday on winning and keeping the peace, with Republicans and Democrats sharply at odds on which man could best run the job.

And more is yet to come—in a Saturday night speech by President Roosevelt in New York, where his policies in diplomacy were assailed Wednesday night by Governor Dewey as resulting in American soldiers "paying in blood."

"I am x x x convinced," Dewey said in a broadcast from the New York Herald Tribune forum, "that to the extent that we leave our international relations to the personal secret diplomacy of the President, our efforts to secure a lasting peace will fail."

Germans have been terrified "into fanatical resistance" and are "fighting with the frenzy of despair," he said, because of "our failure to have ready an intelligent program for dealing with invaded Germany."

Indicting vigorously the administration's handling of foreign affairs, the Republican presidential nominee said it would be a "great disaster" if "a few individual rulers should in secret conferences try to shape the future peace of the world."

"We must make certain that our participation in (this) world organization is not subjected to reservations that would nullify the power of that organization to maintain peace and to halt future aggression. The surest way to invite disaster is to insist that everything must be perfect from the start," he said.

Doubt that Dewey, if elected, could "buck the known and recognized powerful isolationist forces in the Republican Party" was expressed in Raleigh, N. C., by Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy under Woodrow Wilson. Daniels said in a radio talk:

The long promised American invasion of the Philippines is underway, Tokyo radio said Thursday.

Powerful naval task forces and transports "invaded" Leyte Gulf on the eastern side of the Central Philippines, Tuesday, and for two days have been shelling and bombing defense establishments, said an imperial communique heard by the Federal Communications Commission.

"Part of the enemy forces seem to have landed on Suluan Island" at the mouth of the gulf, an earlier Domei news agency broadcast reported.

Simultaneously Manila radio announced 270 carrier borne planes, sweeping over Luzon Island in four waves, bombed Manila and Clark Field's big air installations Thursday morning.

Japanese reports that Gen. Douglas MacArthur's forces have returned to the Philippines overshadowed Allied capture of two strategic Japanese bases and a reported third-day British air and naval bombardment of the Nicobar Islands in the Indian Ocean on Adm. Lord Louis Mountbatten's route to Singapore.

Fifth Army Takes Peaks At Bologna

ROME —(AP)— Fifth Army troops have captured several more peaks and villages on the southern approaches to Bologna and the Eighth Army has forced a bridgehead across the Pisciatello River north of the Bologna-Rimini highway in the Adriatic sector. Allied headquarters announced Thursday.

The bridgehead, east of the important road junction town of Cesena, was gained against strong German opposition, the war bulletin said.

Fighting bitterly against reinforced German troops American infantrymen established themselves at San Clemente on a subsidiary road to the Bologna-Rimini highway, nine miles from Castel San Pietro. Other Fifth Army units took Vaglie to the west and entered Castel Vecchio, about two and a half miles northwest of San Clemente, while doughboys carried new position on Highway 65—the main road to Bologna north from Florence.

The communique said "very heavy fighting" continued on the southern slopes of Monte Belmonte in the Highway 65 area.

Bad weather again hampered ground operations in most of the sectors and curtailed operations of the Mediterranean Allied Air Force.

The Weather Bureau reported at 10 a. m. that hurricane warnings had been hoisted from Daytona to Cape Hatteras in anticipation of winds of 60 to 80 miles an hour velocity.

No loss of life or casualties were reported from the hurricane which earlier caused perhaps a dozen deaths, injured between 300 and 400 persons and sank at least three small vessels in Cuba.

The storm swung around Key West Wednesday night, moved up the Florida west coast and turned inland just east of Tampa.

Winds up to 100 miles an hour caused some property damage in the Tampa area and the city was warned to expect another hard blow later Thursday. St. Petersburg came through with no heavy damage reported.

Senatorial Warnings

Two Republican senators, Ball of Minnesota and Burton of Ohio, have given some timely advice on the subject of America's participation in a world security organization. The former has called for defeat at the polls of 11 senators he designates (without naming) as "isolationists."

Burton has warned that these 11 senators and others are already preparing to block our membership in any international peace group.

These warnings, coming from within the Senate, cannot be safely dismissed as idle words. Nor can they be called political, for both senators have identified eight of their 11 allegedly isolationist colleagues as Republicans.

Burton, unlike Ball, does not ask for direct action by the voters next month. Instead he presses for a majority vote of House and Senate to ratify treaties, instead of the two-thirds Senate vote now required.

Whether or not we join such a movement depends much more on the Senate's membership than it does on the occupant of the White House. This was proved, of course, by the "willful men" of 1919-20.

The two senators' obvious concern is significant in view of the fact that the Senate is already on record as favoring the Connally resolution, which urges American membership in a world peace organization, by a vote of 85 to 5.

While this sentiment is at its height, Burton calls for prompt action on both his suggestions.

However prompt or slow this action may be, the two senators have at least given voters implicit notice to examine senatorial candidates' records scrupulously in the light of their own desires for world security.

And they have provided them with another reminder that, whatever the country's sentiment, one-third plus one of a Senate quorum could block American participation in an international security organization, and perhaps jeopardize the peace of the world.

Civil Service Cuts Coming

Sizable cuts in the number of federal employees—now variously estimated as 2,938,000 by the Civil Service Commission and an all-time high of 3,113,000 by Senator Byrd's economy committee—are expected to be announced soon by the Bureau of the Budget.

The cuts may come before election, but the real impetus behind them will be a couple of other factors: first, the federal employees' overtime pay act which requires every government agency to review its personnel requirements every three months; second, President Roosevelt's mid-September directive to Budget Director Harold D. Smith, ordering him to make immediate plans for liquidating wartime agencies and reducing others to peacetime levels when the war is ended.

On receipt of that order, Smith instructed all federal agencies to make reports within 30 days on how personnel might be reduced, and these reports are now coming in and being reviewed by Budget Bureau examiners. Concurrently, every government department receiving a congressional appropriation is now bringing in its estimates on funds required in the next fiscal year beginning July 1, 1945.

No Trick At All

Everybody seemed quite surprised at an aeronautical engineer's claim that practically anybody can learn to fly a small new civilian plane in five hours.

Well, that's all very nice. But if we didn't know that an airplane doesn't have to be backed out of a driveway or squeezed into a parking space between two other planes we'd be a lot more impressed.

Official Tokyo's brief announcement—unconfirmed by any U. S. sources—that U. S. warships and transports "invaded Leyte Gulf" did not specifically say that assault waves had landed. The task force entered the 80 mile long gulf Tuesday, the communique said.

On Wednesday the naval gulf opened up and carrier aircraft swooped down on Japanese defensive installations.

Japanese "navy and army units" the communique added, "are at present intercepting this enemy force." (Tokyo uses this phraseology variously to describe ground fighting, aerial interception, or no defense at all.)

A landing anywhere around Big Leyte Gulf, some 400 miles from Manila, would put MacArthur's forces for land-based air sweeps over the entire Philippines.

BALTIMORE — (AP) — Eleven-year-old Jimmy Wolfe was treated in Mercy Hospital Thursday for a compound fracture and multiple lacerations—all because he wanted to show his four-year-old cousin how the Baltimore baseball team hit the ball.

Jimmy, who wants to play with the Orioles some day, hit a ball onto the roof of a warehouse next door to his home Wednesday and started to retrieve it.

He jumped from the roof of his home to the warehouse skylight, and fell four floors into a roofless elevator which had been stopped for the night. His face bleeding profusely and a bone protruding from his right leg, Jimmy dragged himself to the front door of the building and found it locked.

Making his way back to the elevator, he clambered upon the superstructure and then pulled himself up the cable, hand over hand.

He was found on the roof by his mother.

Governor Stevenson Approved Two New Constitutional Adds

AUSTIN — (AP) — Two proposed constitutional amendments which voters will pass upon in the Nov. 7 general election Thursday were endorsed by Governor Coke R. Stevenson.

The governor, at a press conference, said he thought county governments would find very helpful the amendment permitting them to reallocate, upon approval of property owning tax payers, the property tax rates with the present maximum of 80 cents per $100 valuation.

It was his opinion that this proposal would be especially beneficial in financing postwar construction.

The governor also approved a second amendment which would permit towns and cities to set up pension and disability benefit systems for municipal employees.

Civilians May Not Get Turkey For Holidays

DALLAS — (AP) — Come Thanksgiving, the piece de resistance on dinner tables of civilians probably will be something besides turkey.

All civilian purchases have been suspended until the armed services buy 60,000,000 pounds of turkey—and C. M. Evans, chief of the dairy and poultry branch of the War Food Administration office of distribution said here that even though sales started July 11, only half that amount has been obtained.

Unless the Army gets the 60 million pounds within two weeks, the situation will begin to affect the civilian supply for Thanksgiving, he said.

Spring rains retarded growth of turkeys, Evans said, and added that in addition, many turkey raisers have been slow to offer their birds for sale.

O'Daniel Suggests Senator Tunnell Throw Him Out

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A sharp verbal clash between Senators O'Daniel (D-Texas) and Tunnell (D-Del.) broke out Thursday at a hearing by the Senate Campaign Expenditures Committee into the financing of the anti-New Deal Texas senator's weekly newspaper.

Mrs. O'Daniel, appearing voluntarily before the committee, had finished reading a prepared statement in which she asserted that Chairman Green (D-R) of the committee had made a "vicious and unwarranted attack" against her husband.

On the point of leaving the witness chair, she remained to answer questions by Senator Ball (R-Minn.) regarding circulation figures of the W. Lee O'Daniel News. After one of Ball's questions Senator O'Daniel, who had drawn up a chair next to his wife, leaned over and whispered to her.

Tunnell interrupted the proceedings at this point with "I suggest that the Senator not prompt the witness."

O'Daniel shot back: "I suggest that if you don't like my sitting here by my wife you remove the Senator from Texas."

The Delaware senator turned to Green and said: "I make that suggestion, Mr. Chairman."

Green ignored the suggestion, however, and the hearing proceeded with Mrs. O'Daniel testifying that practically all printed copies of the newspaper, or about 70,000 weekly, are distributed.

Mrs. O'Daniel, listed as editor of the publication, had asked for permission to attend the hearing and Chairman Green (D-R) had told her to come along. If she had any useful information, he said, she could testify.

The main witness is Garfield Crawford, business manager of the paper and treasurer of the Common Citizens Radio League.

The Senate investigators heard Robert M. Harris, who helped organize the Anti-Fourth Term American Democratic National Committee, testify Wednesday that he had sent a cashier's check for $1,000 to the league, along with names of some 200 persons, for subscriptions to the O'Daniel paper.

Ex Convict Shoots Self As Officers Close In On Him

FORT WORTH — (AP) — Justice of the Peace Frank Hurley Thursday said that Tommy Glenn Forehand, 23-year old ex-convict, chose death by his own hand—a fate predicted by his mother—when officers cornered him, downtown Wednesday midnight, four hours after his father, Stanley N. Telephone Company And Workers To File Wage Raise Brief

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — Southwest Telephone Workers' Union (Ind.) and the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company were given two weeks to file briefs as testimony was concluded here Wednesday in a regional War Labor Board panel hearing on a proposed wage increase for 33,000 employees of the firm.

The union has requested a 17 1/2 cent-an-hour increase for all non-supervisory employees, contending the weekly pay rate in the five-state area served by the company is $7.03 per week below the national average for telephone workers.

Violation Of Firm's Policy George C. Cepkoff, vice president and head of the personnel department of the company, said wages paid are in keeping with the general policy and any increase would be a violation of the Little Steel Formula.

Dean Alexander S. Langsdorf of Washington University, chairman of the panel, said in addition to the two weeks granted to file briefs, it would require probably two more weeks to prepare a transcript and forward the panel's decision to Washington.

Casualty Lists Mount As Many Fronts Build Up Battle Intensity

WASHINGTON — (AP) — United States Army casualties on the Western land front, from the invasion on June 6 through October 3, numbered 174,780.

Air Force casualties are not included in this figure announced Thursday by the War Department.

Of the total, 29,842 were killed, 139,227 wounded and 14,711 missing. The casualties include those of the Seventh Army which landed in Southern France as well as those fighting in France, the Lowlands and the German border region.

Since the start of the war, the combined Army and Navy casualty total is 453,375, compared with 417,035 two weeks ago.

Army casualties for all theaters through Oct. 6 were 384,895, an increase of 33,602 since the last announcement of casualty figures Oct. 5.

New Tabulation System Part of the increase, the department said, "is due to a revised and improved statistical system which permits a more up-to-date picture of the situation. However, there inevitably remains a time lag of about 15 days between actual casualties and the receipt of individual reports for accounting at the War Department."

Of the 384,895 casualties, 75,562 are dead, including those who died of wounds as well as battle field deaths; 208,392 are wounded (excluding those who died of wounds); 48,404 are missing and 52,537 are captured and interned.

The last Navy casualty figure is 68,480, an increase of 2,688 in two weeks.

Right Shoe Styles Will Make Most Legs And Ankles Look More Perfect

ADELE JERGENS: Finds ankle straps enhance legs.

By ALICIA HART, NEA Staff Writer

Instead of envying the pretty legs of other girls, copy their choice of footwear, which (more often than Nature's handiwork) makes underpinnings the long-stemmed beauties that provoke sighs.

High-heeled shoes, for instance, deepen the curved line of any legs; makes any pair of ankles and calves look slimmer. The more sleekly shod your feet, the more fragile ankles look by contrast.

For these and other tips, listen to screen lovelies whose legs rate camera close-ups; in particular to Adele Jergens, "Tonight and Every Night" pin-up girl.

Adele thinks that for winter wear, suede shoes promise the most in flattery; that high-riding bracelet straps or "slings" are glamor's best advertisements.

If ankles are slimmer than you like, however, she thinks flat-heeled shoes will make them look fuller; that straps or oxford ties across the instep will foreshorten a longish foot. Pumps, in her opinion, are the best bet for giving full legs the illusion of slimmness. Do a better job when they have walled laces and rounded toes; are made of heavy material—such as reptile or calf—which by contrast minimize size of legs.

North Elementary P.T.A. Begins Work On Annual Carnival

Mrs. Stanley Erskine was appointed head of the donation committee, and Mrs. J.R. Crump was appointed head of the property committee. Room mothers announced that they have selected their booths, and have started making their plans.

The association will sponsor a poster contest to advertise the party with members of the Palette Club as judges. Prizes will be awarded for each of the four grades.

Mrs. Clint Dunagan had charge of the program for the day. Mrs. Joseph Mims introduced Mrs. Harold Swain, who played "On Wings of Song," and "Shadow Dance," on the piano.

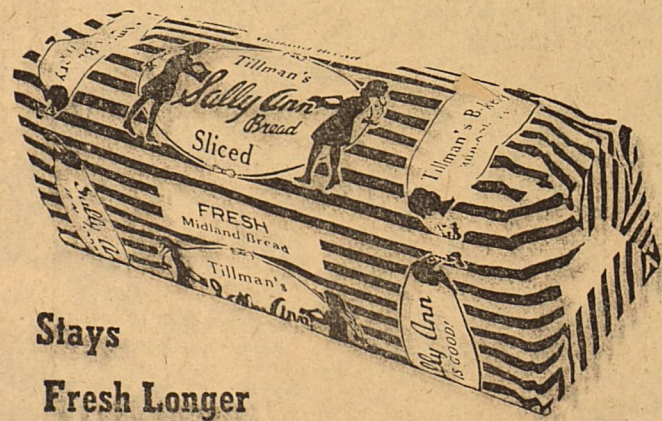

Mrs. Dunagan then announced that the theme for the year is "Challenge of Today and Tomorrow," and led a discussion on "Objectives and Purpose."

Where, Oh, Where, Does the River Rhine Go?

Newspaper readers following the war in the Netherlands have been bewildered by the confusion of odd names the Rhine River acquires as its waters fray out and pass through the Netherlands in a number of smaller streams. Data on the map above, according to the National Geographic Society, should clarify the puzzle. In Germany, the Rhine contents itself with one name, but once over the Netherlands border, it becomes the Rijn. Then, near the Dutch village of Millingen, it branches for the first time. The southern or main stream, becomes the Waal River. The other branch flows nine miles northwest, to Arnhem, where it again branches, its new right arm becoming the IJssel, emptying into the IJssel Meer (the old Zuider Zee). The left arm, flowing west from Arnhem, is the Neder Rijn for 26 miles, then, without apparent reason, changes its name to the Lek River. Rhine waters flow still farther northward in a branch of the Lek which, until it reaches Utrecht, is called the "Crooked" Rhine. Flowing out of Utrecht, westward to the North Sea, it becomes the Oude Rijn, or "Old Rhine."

Allied Craters Trap Allied Tanks

When Allied planes swept over Boulogne, France, before that city was liberated, they left virtually all enemy strong points ringed with deep bomb craters. Later, after the city had been freed, these Canadian tanks, rolling through the night in pursuit of the fleeing Nazis, ran smack into the "tank traps" created by their air force pals.

Spirit Wife?

Mrs. Shannon Carter, above, of Los Angeles, Calif., was charged with inducing the late Eugene H. MacDonald to will his $70,000 estate to her, claiming that she was MacDonald's "wife in a former life." MacDonald's parents testified their son was of unsound mind at the time of the will in 1943, asked that it be nullified.

Britons' Secret Fort Buster

British authorities have just released photos and description of the AVRE tank, pictured above in France. A hitherto carefully guarded "secret weapon," it features a special stubby-barreled mortar, called a "petard," which hurls a charge containing many times the explosive force of any projectile of similar dimensions. Highly successful in cracking the Atlantic Wall during invasion of Normandy, it is now blasting at Siegfried Line forts.

Postal System Strange And Wonderful In Ways

WAUKEGAN, ILL.—(AP)—A statement which Dr. J. E. Walter mailed to a patient in Waukegan on April 30, 1941, bearing the required 2-cent stamp, came back Wednesday—and it arrived because of insufficient postage.

Dr. Walter said he didn't need to re-mail the statement—the bill long ago was paid—but he was puzzled by the return of the mail since the intra-city first class postal rate increases to 3 cents did not go into effect until last March—almost three years after he sent out the statement.

Public Warning! BEWARE OF PIN-WORMS

War-time living conditions may be the cause of spreading Pin-Worm infection. Scientific reports in the communities have shown at least one-third of the examined children and grown-ups to be victims of Pin-Worms—often without knowing what was wrong!

Watch out for the warning signs that may mean Pin-Worms in your child or yourself: the tormenting, embarrassing rectal itch, the uneasy stomach, bed-wetting, nervous fidgeting, finicky appetite.

New Discovery Hailed By Doctors

After centuries of distress caused by Pin-Worms, a new and highly effective way to deal with this stubborn pest has recently been discovered. This scientific discovery, hailed by medical authorities, is a remarkable drug (gentian violet). It is the vital element in P-W, the new Pin-Worm treatment developed by the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son, America's leading specialists in worm medicines. P-W tablets are small and easy to take, and they act in a special way to destroy the creatures.

So don't take chances with Pin-Worms. At the first warning sign, ask your druggist for P-W, and follow the directions. P-W means Pin-Worm relief!

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
(Sub for Dewitt Mackenzie)

Japanese reports that the re-occupation of the Philippines has begun are, as usual, subject to revision for accuracy, but fit perfectly into the picture of the Pacific war which has been building up for some time.

Whether the Leyte Gulf action is actually a part of a general invasion or merely a preliminary is of little moment. Either way it means that within a comparatively short time MacArthur will have kept his promise to return.

Never Before In History

Never before in world history has there been such a battle as that for the Philippines, which is actually what the entire Pacific war has amounted to so far. Japanese outposts have been pushed back gradually for thousands of miles to prepare for this action. Even Admiral Halsey's activities of the last few days, in a comparatively small corner of the great ocean, have been staged on a scale to stagger the imagination. He has thrown a great arc of protection between the Philippines and Japan, destroyed 915 enemy planes and with them the threat of aerial counter-action, sunk or damaged 312 ships, and smashed many of the bases from which both operated. Now history's greatest fleet and greatest floating air force can be placed at the disposal of MacArthur.

The battle will be bloody, but we can hope it will not be long. The Japanese have never been able to entrench themselves firmly in the Central and Southern Philippines, where native guerrillas and even some Americans have continued resistance.

Philippines Are Key

Once recovered as a base for further operations against Japan, the Philippines will prove the key to the whole Pacific war. The resources of the Indies, Sumatra and Malaya on which the Japanese have depended will be largely cut off. In three years America, fighting two wars either of which would have staggered the historians of the past, will have returned the Pacific situation almost to its starting point. We know now that we can't "whip the Japs in ninety days" as some thought before Pearl Harbor. But we also know that if MacArthur has Thanksgiving dinner in Manila, Japanese thanksgivings will be all over.

Typical Hunters' Luck

PUEBLO, COLO.—(AP)—James Pitcock aimed at a buck. The bullet passed cleanly through the buck's ribs, and then broke the neck of a doe standing on the other side. Both animals died instantly.

That wasn't all of Pitcock's luck, either. Besides having a regular game permit, he was carrying a special license allowing him to hunt doe.

GERMANY WILL TRY IT AGAIN

By Sigrid Schultz

Copyright, 1944, by Sigrid Schultz
Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

As an American newspaper correspondent in Berlin from 1919 to 1941, Sigrid Schultz saw at first hand the events that led from World War I to World War II. And she saw the behind-the-scenes preparation for the coming "war-in-peace" that she warns may culminate in World War III. This is the story of Germany's plans to win the peace, plans that even now are being put into effect.

XXII
MANY people try to interpret developments in Europe, and especially in Germany, through their knowledge of old-time, upright Germans. Yet the German character, both national and individual, has in the last 50 years changed to such a degree that what was a logical estimate of character in World War I is sheer foolishness in World War II.

The German army, its drillmasters, Hitler, Himmler, et al. have aroused, stimulated, and exaggerated traits and instincts which have slumbered in the German people for centuries, to the point where the friendly German in whom so many Americans still believe has ceased to be an important factor in any German group. He is the German of yesterday. It is the German of today with whom we have to deal, the arrogant, ruthless, intelligent schemer who either suavely hides his intentions or openly boasts of his brutality.

It must be stressed that this new German has nothing in common with the descendants of old-time Germans in the United States and other countries. Early German immigrants left their native land because they wanted to build up a new and different kind of life. Generally, their grandchildren have had the advantage of other than pan-German education. They owe no loyalty to the Germany of today, for it is not the same nation from which their forebears stemmed.

I WAS in Berlin in 1914 when the Kaiser called his nation to arms. In 1939, I was present in the Reichstag at that early hour of September 1 when Hitler announced the invasion of Poland. No other contrast could have underlined so well the changes in the German character.

In 1914 a young Norwegian cousin and I roamed through the Berlin streets, quite evidently foreigners, and experienced nothing but friendliness from the people. We saw the Kaiser address the crowds from the balcony of his castle. We saw the citizens bring bouquets of the chubby little red roses that bloom in August and throw them to the uniformed troops with their spiked helmets, marching to war with their bands blaring, the brasses glittering in the sunshine. The crowds always shoved us ahead to help us see what was going on.

On that September day of 1939, however, when the Fuehrer gave the order to march, Germany was a grim, a purposeful country. Troops left the Berlin railway station without cheers. In fact the only cheers heard in the streets came from a few people who had been ordered out in organized groups by their Nazi cells. The streets leading to the temporary Reichstag in the Kroll Opera House where Hitler was to speak were lined with police, and with Schutz Staffeln men in field gray battle dress instead of their customary black uniforms.

In that somber Berlin one could realize only too clearly that what had remained of gemuetlich Deutschland had now been swept away. The atmosphere hung heavy with suspicion and hatred of all foreigners, including representatives of neutral countries.

DURING World War I a hushed silence would greet the mention of the invasion of Belgium.

I remember the German professor of international law at the Berlin University under whom I studied before the United States entered the war. Professor von Martitz marched up and down the classroom literally tearing his gray hair because German troops had violated Belgian neutrality. "This is a crime," the old man said, "and you will see—Germany will be punished for it."

I looked around the classroom at the other students, about five young men in field gray, evidently soldiers at home on sick leave. They seemed to share the anxiety and shame of the professor. And nothing happened to the old man for expressing freely his but imperial act of aggression by the German government.

But the average German of 1929 and 1940 apparently felt no compunction when Hitler's troops invaded one ill-armed neutral country after another without formal declaration of war. When German ships masquerading under foreign flags sailed into peaceful harbors, as they did in Denmark, in Norway, in Holland, and then turned their guns on defenseless populations, the average German had no qualms of conscience nor did he bemoan the betrayal of human decency. When so-called "tourists" visiting Copenhagen suddenly emerged from their hotel rooms in German uniforms and helped Nazi troops seize Denmark, when German sailors stole Norwegian uniforms and tried to march on Christiansand in violation of all military law, no protest was heard.

Granted that if anyone had dared to voice objections as Professor von Martitz did he would have been drawn and quartered or sent to a concentration camp, which is rarely better. The fact that Hitler and Himmler had to resort to concentration camp methods to enforce their rule showed that there were Germans who rejected their teachings. They were numerous enough to convince the Nazis that they must be cowed by terrorizing and persecuting their potential leaders. But they were not numerous enough to form an effective force.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

One of the most popular members of the executive committee of the American Contract Bridge League is Lee Hazen of New York. I have occasion to sit in a meeting with him every two weeks, and he always has an interesting hand. Here is one he gave me the other day.

When the opening lead held, West continued with the ace of diamonds, then led another diamond, to which East followed. Hazen won with the jack, and now the question was how to play for the ninth trick. If any one of the three suits broke, he could make his contract; but Hazen thought that in all probability the suits would not break, due to West's peculiar opening. If he went after spades or clubs and they did not break, he would go down.

Having spent five minutes trying to analyze the hand, and deciding he would need luck to guess the right play, Hazen led a small club, won with dummy's king, led back the deuce of hearts and finessed the ten. It held, and Hazen had his nine tricks. Maybe you won't agree with his play, but I do—because it did give him nine tricks.

CIVIC FATHERS HIT THE ROAD

HOBART, TASMANIA —(P)— A bend in one of Hobart's roads was said to be dangerous so seven of the city's aldermen piled into a car and went to investigate. When the car hit the curve it skidded over the edge and deposited the civic fathers among blackberry bushes in the bed of a creek.

Their on-the-spot decision was unanimous. The work was declared urgent.

undergird it. And only one candidate (President Roosevelt), by his record and forthright consistent pledges, can be trusted to win this goal."

Also on the Herald Tribune forum were Rep. Clare Boothe Luce (R-Conn) and Helen Gahagan Douglas, Democratic candidate in California for a seat in Congress.

Mrs. Luce spoke of the need of working constantly to maintain peace and said Dewey "has clearly grasped this courageous concept of waging peace."

Mrs. Douglas stressed the need of international cooperation in "this rapidly shrinking world" and continued: "Franklin Roosevelt has long understood this philosophy. He fought for it with all the strength of his magnificent heart."

Says Stalin Favors FDR
In Chicago, Rep. Dirksen (R-Ill) said in a radio speech "Mr. Churchill has now found that, instead of being a good horse trader, Mr. Roosevelt is a push-over, and Mr. Stalin has found that out, too. That's why Mr. Stalin is for a fourth term for Roosevelt."

The vice presidential nominees, Democrat Harry S. Truman and Republican John W. Bricker, for the time being stressed matters other than foreign policy.

Truman told an Eugene, Ore., crowd that Dewey traveled to the Pacific Northwest "posing as a liberal, then goes East to tell the Old Guard he is going to repeal all liberal laws."

Bricker, in a Los Angeles speech saying that the war is being won "often in spite of the New Deal," attacked Truman as "one who is the product of the corrupt Pendergast machine, which preyed upon the people of Kansas City, which stole elections and perverted justice." Bricker was cheered so much by the crowd that he responded with an encore.

and 1,980 feet from the east lines of section 1420, EL survey.

Both are slated to drill to 3,600 feet for the Payton pay. No. 1 Dunn, 880 feet south of the same owners' No. 2 Payton, now bottomed at 3,537 feet with 7-inch casing cemented at 3,531 feet, is scheduled to start by Oct. 20. No. 2 Dunn is slated to begin digging by Nov. 20.

No official information has been released regarding No. 2 Payton, other than the report that a cable tool rig would be moved in to drill out the cement, and drill into the expected pay. Cores were taken above the present bottom, but they did not show much. No. 2 Payton is an east offset to the discovery well for the district.

North Cowden Extension
Sun Oil Company No. 1-G O. B. Holt Jr., 660 feet from the south and east lines of the A. B. Robinson pre-emption No. 1, in block 43, T-1-N, in South Andrews County, and on the northwest side of the North Cowden field, is to start drilling soon to 4,750 feet to look for pay in the North Cowden pay section.

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1-C Lowe & Bliler, 1,998 feet from the east and 1,930 feet from the section lines of section 23, block A-26, psi survey, in Northwest Andrews County, is an effort to extend the Fullerton field production to the north and east. It is to start digging to the Fullerton pay at between 7,000 feet and 8,000 feet, by Oct. 24.

Test Improved
Richmond Oil Company No. 1 Nelson section 34, EL survey, in Northwest Dawson County, is bottomed at 4,965 feet in lime after swabbing for 20 hours at the rate of 32 barrels of oil per day, natural. A slight amount of water has been developed. It is not sufficient to cause a great amount of concern.

The operators are considering drilling a short distance deeper. According to reports from Ector County sources, Shell Oil Company, Inc., and Cities Service Oil Company have acquired mineral rights on two quarter sections in West Ector County, in the vicinity of the same operators' No. 1, TXL, which has shown for commercial production from the Devonian and the Silurian, and which is now digging ahead to go to the Ellenburger to satisfy its contract, for rather high prices—the consideration to be paid out of a part of the oil which might be produced from those leases.

High Prices Reported
For a 163.88 acre lease, Shell and Cities Service are reported to have contracted to pay George C. Frazer $571,760, plus the regular royalty. The bonus is to be paid out of one-fourth of 5/6ths of the oil.

The same operators are said to have agreed the pay the same owners $570,815 for the mineral rights on a 163.09 acre lease in the same vicinity and the payment on that deal is also based on one-fourth of 5/6ths of the oil that may be produced from it. These figures have not been confirmed or denied by the interested parties. The reports are from unofficial sources considered reliable.

Dry in Yates Area
B. F. Phillips No. 2 F. A. Perry, section 13, block 194, GC&SF survey in East Pecos County, an effort to extend the west extension to the Yates field, has been plugged and abandoned on a total depth of 1,992 feet in lime and sand. No oil signs were developed.

Standard Oil Company of Texas No. 1 Bonebrake, section 49, block 1, H&GN survey, in Northwest Pecos County, was taking a drillstem test at 1,870-1,917 feet in anhydrite and shale. No oil shows had been reported.

The Texas Company No. 1-L University, section 41, block 9, University survey, one and one-half miles east of the Emma pool in South Andrews County, produced 504.10 barrels of oil during 22 hours of a 24-hour potential test, and was still flowing early Thursday morning.

The oil was cut three per cent basis sediment and drilling fluid and five per cent acid residue. It was coming from 142 perforations in the casing at 5,310-53 feet after 2,000 gallons of acid had been injected.

Texaco No. 1-M University, a south offset to the new discovery, and 664 feet from the south and 660 feet from the east lines of the northwest quarter of section 41, block 9, University survey, and a south offset to the A. L. University, had reached 948 feet in redbeds and was drilling ahead.

Sun Oil Company No. 1 Martin, section 17, block A-41, psi survey, South Andrews County, wildcat, was swabbing one barrel of clear oil hourly early Thursday morning, after swabbing off load and residue from a 1,000 gallon acid treatment in the San Andres to the current total depth at 4,381 feet in lime.

Superbombers Have Show Team Against Aggies At Odessa

ODESSA—Two outstanding finds of the Second Air Forces 1944 football season have been produced by the Superbombers' own conversion program and they will be in the starting line-up on Saturday at Fly Field here against the North Texas Aggies. Game time is 8:15 p. m.

Russ Gilpin, former Michigan State quarterback from Detroit, and big Bob Hendren, ex-Culver-Stockton end from Clarinda, Iowa, both are starring at new positions this season in the Superbombers line.

The 2AF eleven comes into Odessa, playing for the men of Pyote Army Air Field and other nearby air fields and civilians of the surrounding community, with a record of six victories in seven starts. A recent 12-6 defeat to the Iowa Sea-hawks was the only loss in two seasons of football.

Racehorse Gilpin playing Bruce Smith pass and raced 40 yards to a touchdown to help Michigan State defeat Great Lakes in 1942, is an example of what perseverance will do. He was virtually released from the 2AF squad during tryouts. Unable to break into the backfield, he was headed back to his home base when he asked Major William Reese, head coach, for a tryout at guard.

Gilpin has more than two years of college competition remaining at Michigan State. He's 21 years old. Hendren, a 6 foot 8 inch 20-year old giant, is playing his first big-time football with the Superbombers. He came to the 2AF as an end, but due to a surplus of ends and a shortage of tackles, Major Reese transferred the Iowa boy to tackle. He has performed consistently well.

Blocking Back At Guard Another blocking back who has been converted to guard and spells Gilpin on the line is Ed Ulinski, whose sound efficient play at quarterback and hard blocking marked the Super's early games. Lieutenant Ulinski, who starred at Marshall College in West Virginia, has helped Coach Reese play a manpower shortage at guard.

Besides Gilpin and Hendren, several other Superbomber linemen have one to three years of college competition ahead of them. These include: Jack Baldwin, hefty Cen-tenary center from Longview, Texas, who captained the Super's at El Paso last week; Don Avery, Alabama freshman tackle; LeRoy Rowland, Pomona (Calif.) freshman guard; Tom Fears, Santa Clara end; Tony Samaria, Northwestern tackle; Bill Huber, Notre Dame end; Ray Wisozki, Mississippi tackle; Max Jordan, Denver U. guard.

Outstanding collegians in the 2AF line include Lt. Nick Susoeff, All-Pacific Coast end from Washington State; Lt. John Harrington, star Marquette end; Nick Klutka, Florida end; Adrian Hasse, little All-American end from Amherst; Ben Moye, Presbyterian tackle; Jim Farroh, Iowa guard; Ed Hinstra, Sterling (Kan.) College guard who played with the New York Giants; Mort Shiekman, Pennsylvania guard; Lou Palazzi, Penn State captain and center; Dick Mangrum of Michigan State, and Bill Remington, a center voted the "most inspirational player" of the year by his 1942 teammates at Washington State.

Zivic Kayoed Saia In Eighth Round Of Dallas Ring Bout

DALLAS—(AP)—Cpl. Fritzie Zivic, taking all the fights he can while working for his Uncle Sam in the Air Corps, reopened boxing in Dallas Wednesday night with an eight-round knockout of tough Pat Saia of Philadelphia.

Zivic, former world's welterweight champion, batted Saia down four times before he put over the teeing blow—a right to the stomach.

A crowd of 3,500—one of the best to turn out here in years for a fight show—saw Zivic floor Saia in the third—although this was more of a shove than a blow—in the fourth, seventh and for a seventh-count in the eighth before administering the K. O. punch. Zivic weighed 151, Saia 149.

Zivic, who hails from Pittsburgh, is stationed at San Antonio where he is a corporal in the Air Corps.

PURDUE LOSES COACH LAFAYETTE, IND. — Lt. Mel Taube, USNR, on leave as member of Purdue's coaching staff, has been assigned to duty at an advanced submarine base.

Advance Ticket Sale Indicates Big Crowd For Friday Contest

Ticket sales for the Midland High School and Big Spring football game indicate a packed grandstand when the two teams tangle Friday night.

Fans were coming to the Chamber of Commerce in increasing numbers Thursday morning to obtain tickets for the sports contest. Tickets on sale at the Chamber of Commerce call for seats between the 35 yard lines.

School officials suggested Thursday it will be more convenient for those attending the game if those sitting in the west stand will use the west gate, while those sitting in the east stand use the south gate.

Gordon, Navy pilot awarded the medal for rescuing Army fliers downed off New Ireland, will sit together behind the Arkansas bench. Britt is now a law student at the university, Gordon is home on leave.

Gen Tunney Changes Mind About Training
NEW HAVEN, CONN.—(AP)—Commander Gene Tunney, USNR, who said he once believed that preparation for war should be concentrated on military training, has changed his mind.

He told Connecticut sports writers and members of the New Haven Gridiron Club Wednesday night that "we are better equipped than any other nation in the world to carry on a long war" because of sports.

And he indicated that a talk he had with Gen. Douglas MacArthur in New Guinea last December had "done much" to change his mind.

Tunney quoted MacArthur as saying that football and boxing were the best sports for the development of the fighting man. But he said it was his belief that any sport would develop "gameness and fortitude," qualities which he said were essential in a fighting man.

Concerning "the essentiality of sports for the future warrior," Tunney said that today he is advocating a postwar compulsory physical fitness program for the youth of the nation.

The former world heavyweight champion said he believed the spectator benefits as much from watching sports as does the participant because "he sees courage demonstrated."

Army Crapshooting Becomes Economic Issue In Italy

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The size of stakes in Army crap games became an economic issue Thursday, as if they weren't.

Spang in the middle of a scholarly discussion of Allied military currency used by our army in Italy, Economists Donald L. Kemmerer and T. Eugene Beattie observed that the soldiers customarily are handed their pay in the biggest bills available "and incidentally stakes in crap games are kept high."

"To keep transportation costs to a minimum our soldiers are generally paid in the largest denominations possible," the economists stated in a folder distributed by the economists' national committee on monetary policy.

Lotta Lire
"For example, a soldier entitled to $46.50 on pay day will get four 1,000 lire notes, one 500 lire note, one 100 and one 50."

It doesn't take an assistant professor of economics, such as Kemmerer is at the University of Illinois, to deduce that this procedure is virtually a command invitation for high rolling on the vagaries of that Old Eighteen from Decatur and Little Joe from Kokomo.

The currency, which Kemmerer and Beattie say looks like cigar coupons lithographed on mediocre paper, is turned out in Washington and shipped to Italy where it has been declared legal tender. The exchange rate is 100 lire to the dollar, and soldiers with a sense of thrift, a smart pair of dice, or both, frequently convert the lire to dollar money orders which they dispatch home after the pay day furies.

Football Soft After Western Bronco
ANN ARBOR—(NEA)—Milan Lazetic, Michigan's left tackle, contends that no end or back ever threw a block like a pony that has been running wild for a couple of years, especially when he feels the first touch of a saddle. Lazetic is one of three all-Montana state high school brothers who were raised on their father's cattle ranch a few miles from Anaconda. Following service in the Navy, from which he has a medical discharge, Lazetic became a deputy sheriff in Deer Lodge County. The Sheriff, as the Wolverines call him, was a cow puncher and rodeo rider. To him the Big Nine schedule can't be as tough as the battering bucking broncos handed out.

Hostesses Learn Greeting Do's For Wounded Veterans

NEW YORK—The wounded soldier's first date is the hardest, USO hostesses here have found.

Because the way he is treated the first time he leaves the hospital and his buddies may have everything to do with his being able to take his place in society—or make him a self-conscious, anti-social citizen—the USO has instituted a training course to teach their junior hostesses how to meet returning servicemen.

"We find that more and more soldiers back from the fronts are coming into our clubhouses," Mrs. Pearl Case Blough explained. "They have been physically wounded, and are still worried and anxious. We want our girls to know how to talk to them."

And so there are five do's which every hostess must learn to perfection before being given the responsibility of entertaining a wounded man:

1. Reassure the men about their future and their jobs. They need hope and encouragement to develop confidence.
2. Talk about their homes and families. They may not want to talk about their war experiences.
3. Smile a lot.
4. Be understanding, but don't overdo sympathy. Many of these men are going to have to make a fight to get well.
5. Be natural. The man on crutches wants friendly, normal homelike relationships. They are five helping hands which every one of us should learn to extend the serviceman faced with an uphill struggle back to a normal, healthy life.

Boys In Khaki Enjoy Spending Day On Farm

By RUTH MILLETT

Their farm is near an army camp and in the two years of its existence they have entertained more than 500 soldiers.

Maybe "entertained" isn't quite the word. For this farm couple, with a large family of children of their own, invites the boys to make themselves part of the family for a day.

On Sunday afternoons the farmyard is full of khaki. Some times there are 20 or 30 on the farm at one time.

They come in time for Sunday dinner and stay on for supper, and often take the boys who have been there before get out early and get the potatoes peeled and the dishes set out before the family gets home from church.

Church, by the way, is where the couple run into a lot of the boys they invite out for the first time. But not all. The farmer says, "We have boys of all faiths. We don't care what their religion is. After all, we figure it's enough that they're in uniform. As far as we're concerned that makes them all members of the same lodge."

The boys who have spent Sundays on that farm have come from every state in the union. Some are farm boys, who insist on helping with the chores because it seems like home, and some are boys from Eastern cities who admit they have never been on a farm before in their lives.

"Thank You"

That couple aren't known in their town as being active in war work. But they have probably done more than anyone in their community to show the boys training to go overseas just how much they are appreciated.

A lot of the country club set in the same town are known for their war work. Yet the country club has closed its doors and its golf course to GIs—for fear they might overrun the place.

But this farmer and his wife—to whom feeding so many soldiers means extra hours in the fields, and extra hours in the kitchen canning foods, love to see their farmyard overrun with boys in uniform, rich boys, poor boys, Jews, Protestants and Catholics.

Apparently they know what our men are fighting for, and believe in saying "thank you" in a way soldiers will know it is sincere.

It Is True What They Say About Paris

AP Newsfeatures

PARIS—GI Joe's are finding Parisian women beautiful, fascinating, graceful, alluring companions wise in the ways to a man's heart but they don't want to marry them.

"Aren't they wonderful," sighed T/S Gerald M. Sullivan of Asbury Park, N. J., a handsome Irishman who gets his share of shy smiles.

"There is nothing like this back home and we have the best in the U. S. A. But I wouldn't want to marry one. A man would grow old in a hurry, trying to keep her from the wolves or vice versa. They don't seem to settle on one man."

That is the consensus of American soldiers in Paris who at the same time point out that the women back home could pick up a few pointers on how to keep a man and make him happy.

GI Joe's claim they still hold high the torch of love for sweethearts back home. Until now at least they haven't forgotten to remember. But here in Paris, girls are adding flame to the torch.

Belgians Say Allies Will Live To Regret Kindness To Germans

By HAL BOYLE

WITH THE AEF IN BELGIUM—(P)—Civilians near the German frontier cannot understand why the American Army isn't as ruthless with the German populace as the Nazis were with the citizens of ad joining countries when Hitler was in his heyday.

Typical is the Lardinois family in the little Belgium village of Aubeil.

Madame Joseph Lardinois, told us why she and her three children—Jean, 24, Marthe, 21, and Marie Jose, 20—will always hate the Nazis.

Joseph Lardinois was a prosperous wholesale grocer in 1940 when the German Army crashed across the frontier. He bundled the family into their car and started toward Brussels.

Nazi Planes Struffed Them

Beyond Liege the column of refugees was attacked by 40 Nazi planes.

"They came down and strafed us, setting the car ahead and the car behind us on fire. My husband halted our car then and helped me and the children to a ditch where we stretched out to escape the flying bullets."

"Four times the planes came back and strafed the long line of screaming and frightened refugees who huddled together like sheep because there was nothing else they could do. The third time they struck my husband with three bullets."

Marthe silently brought out a neatly pressed vest. Holes showed the path of the bullets.

Tried To Help

"My husband, although both of his lungs were punctured, got to his feet and tried to help us back into the car when the planes left," Madame Lardinois continued. "We managed to get to the next town and tried to obtain medical aid but there were scores of wounded and it was six hours before a doctor treated him. But it was hopeless anyway. He was too badly wounded to live."

She paused.

"There were many terrible sights that day. Much as I grieve for my husband I feel sorer still for one mother who tried to run to safety with her baby in her arms. One bullet struck her child in the head and scattered its brains all over her. I will never forget the sounds that that young woman made."

There was nothing we could say. When we turned to go a little later Marie Jose looked at us gravely and said:

"You Americans are too easy with the Germans now. You really don't know them. You will live to regret your kindness."

Along the border they told their hates.

Glamorize Gray Hair With Blue Rinse And Right-Colored Clothes

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Gray hair can be pure drama, if its owner will but play it up, styling it distinctively and as unlike Whisler's Mother's as she can swing it.

Best procedure is to make a deal with a hairdresser who has a flair, and let him have his way with scissors, permanent wave and blueing rinses.

Wear dress colors that will focus eyes upon your hair. Triple-starred colors for daytime are navy and black. For evening, the more vivid the color is, the better it will dramatize a silvery crest.

For make-up, pin your faith in spun-sugar pink. Delicate color harmonies are an eye-catching foil for an aureole of striking gray or white hair.

SAN SALVADOR—(P)—Five men exiled or jailed by former President Maximiliano Hernandez Martinez are candidates for the presidential chair left vacant last May when the former "strong man" of this coffee-producing Central American country was overthrown.

Although the elections will not be held until Jan. 7, 1945, the campaigns of the five are already under way. Some clashes already have occurred and the candidates recently formed an Election Vigilance Committee in an attempt to reduce the amount of fighting. Each candidate appointed two representatives and the government appointed two to the committee, which investigates street fights and recommends legal action to the district attorneys.

HOW TO BE HAPPY THO' HOSPITALIZED

"Start patient off right, not by merely snatching his duds in the usual fashion, but by giving him a neatly printed receipt . . ."

"Give him a paper—wrapped bar of soap and, if his hands are big enough, add a picture postcard of the hospital to send his friends."

"The smart hospital dietitian can do her part by ascertaining the patient's birthday and sending him a nice cake . . ."

"Don't let him dwell on unhappy realities like ether and scalpels."

" . . . when the honeymoon is over, send him a gentle reminder that the bill is due."

Sketches above illustrate some of the suggestions for keeping hospital patients happy, made by Paul Fleming of New Haven, Conn., at recent meeting of the American Hospital Association conference in Cleveland. Other ideas calculated to make the patient thank his lucky germs included "if he is the difficult sort, make a deal with his wife to have a little newspaper item about his appendectomy" and a mental diet of pamphlets describing the hospital's mission (let him know what he's getting and you dissipate the bill-shock.)

Veteran Organizations Spring Up Over Night

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—New organizations of the veterans of World War II were inevitable. Even with several national organizations already in the field, it was considered certain many of the lads of this war would want their national association.

Almost sure to be first to operate on a national basis will be the American Veterans of World War II, a temporary organization with temporary officers and national headquarters already operating.

In organizational meetings, a charter was drawn up and will come before Congress for action under the sponsorship of Rep. Paul Brown (D. Ga.) and Rep. A. B. Kelly (D. Pa.). The former already has lost a son in this war and the latter has one now in service.

The factor which will probably cause American veterans of this war to grow once it gets its national charter is that it is finding nuclei of its chapters to be going concerns in the 48 states. These are the veterans clubs in the colleges and cities that have been organized by men in advanced training in 27 colleges and universities and by a portion of the more than 1,550,000 veterans who already have been given their discharges.

Government To Aid In Planning Memorials

French Industry Retooling For Profitable Peace

By TOM WOLF
NEA Staff Correspondent

PARIS—France today is in very much the position of a girl who having waited four long, anxious and hard years for the return of her fiancé from the war, has finally been married. The only fly in the ointment of her unbounded marital bliss is that hubby has no job. Now the honeymoon has lasted a month and she's beginning to look somewhat uneasily toward the future.

The economic problems which France must meet — and quickly — are staggering. At the moment most of French industry — practically all of it in the Paris area — is at a standstill due to lack of electricity, coal and gas.

The DeGaulle government recognizes that power and transportation are the first two economic problems which must be solved. It is taking steps to restore power lines and railroads as soon as possible.

Industry Stymied
But getting power to the factories solves only the beginning of the problem. Much of France's industrial economy for the past four years has been geared to the German war machine. The great French factories have been making parts for Tiger tanks, Pöckle Wulfs and other German war essentials — most of which are completely useless to the Allies.

It seems unlikely at this particular stage of the war that the Allies are going to have much interest in retooling factories of France to Allied specifications. They even more unlikely that the Allies will earmark shipping space before the end of the war to bring to France machine tools and raw materials necessary to convert her economy to peacetime needs.

What then is the immediate industrial outlook? At the moment there's no one in or out of the government who can tell you. To add to the general confusion the new minister of national economy is keeping mum. His is a newly established ministry. To date the decree establishing this ministry has not been passed, despite the appointment of Mandes-France as minister. But until his ministry is established Mandes-France is not talking.

In all events, no one knows how much raw materials and what kind, are on hand. They are unlikely, however, to be very large or varied stocks, since the Germans took most French raw materials except those needed in the production of specialized items which French factories were producing for the Germans.

To date idleness of factories has made relatively little difference to the employees — who have received their pay anyway. But this situation cannot last indefinitely. The problem of unemployment will not be solved by the partial mobilization now taking place in the army. For in addition to industrial unemployment, there are tens of thousands of men and women who worked in branches of the German Bureau of Occupation which were in the process of being dissolved.

The unemployment question is additionally complicated by questions of collaboration. For example, at the moment 95 per cent of press photographic agencies are closed pending investigation by the courts to see which collabo-

Cranberry Flavors Utility Beef

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer
June Ball, lovely young Hollywood starlet, now orders utility beef at hotels. Here's one of her favorite recipes, picked up at a New York hotel.

Cranberry Pot Roast
Brown utility pot roast in 2 tablespoons hot meat drippings. Brown on all sides. Then add 1 cup vegetable stock or water and 1 1/2 cup fresh cranberries. Simmer tender, 2 to 2 1/2 hours. Garnish with fruit slices.
June Ball likes this simple, old-fashioned recipe, too.

Cabbage Roll-Ups
(6 to 8 servings)
One-half cup chopped onion, 1/2 lb. utility beef, 1 tablespoon fat, 2 cups cooked noodle rings or celery, bread crumbs, salt, chili powder and well-beaten eggs. Mix thoroughly. Unless cabbage leaves are very tender, cook in boiling water about 3 minutes. Place filling on cabbage leaf, roll and fasten with a toothpick. Place the cabbage rolls in a 3-quart casserole.

rated and which didn't. The Minister of Information told me that this question should be answered within a month. But the question of what will happen to the employees of firms found guilty of collaboration remains to be answered.

Inflation Is Problem
On top of the whole question of unemployment is the tremendous problem of inflation. In 1939 there were approximately 180 billion francs in circulation. Today there are some 800 billion — not including another nearly 200 billion francs which Germany owes France for materials "bought" during the past couple of years, but as yet not paid for. Even were there no question of unemployment, this inflation would pose a huge problem for the government — for all prices in Paris today are many times higher than even war-inflated British or American prices.

The only aspect of the industrial future which poses no problem for the French is that of markets. During the four years of occupation the Germans either requisitioned or confiscated the major part of France's agricultural, industrial and communications machinery. What was left has been worn down and almost out.

When French industry again has the power and materials and tools to produce civilian commodities there is enough needed to provide a long post war industrial boom.

But France's industrial problems are not postwar problems. They are immediate ones. The problems themselves are obvious enough. The solutions — unless war ends within the next few weeks and France is given raw material and tools — are all but invisible.

JAPANESE HELD TOUGHER THAN NAZIS
LONDON—(AP)—Capt. S. C. Carter, Australian who reached Britain to help in rehabilitating Australian prisoners-of-war, reported the Jap is a far tougher fighter than the German.

"They use noises a good deal," said Capt. Carter. "They pay a lot of attention to noise because they are afraid of it themselves."
Carter and his companions termed the Japanese "fanatical fighters, very clever in retreat, very clever in individual jungle fighting and in the open—very foolish."

China Licking Worries War And Naval Chiefs

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON Strategists in both the War and Navy departments and among planners for world peace are plenty worried about the dreadful drubbing we have been taking in China.

It's rather surprising that the critical defeats in China haven't made bigger headlines. Both Chinese and U. S. Army censorship (not entirely unwarranted for military reasons) and the delicate political situation in China are partly responsible, according to officials here. But the fact remains that the catastrophic possibilities of the Japanese successes in China have hardly been publicly explored at all. In their best, they could mean some months' prolongation of the war, with Japan and a consequent additional loss of Allied lives and Allied billions. They might also mean a change in war strategy which was to see us driving inland from the east China coast.

Formosa Attack Bitter Battle From Beginning

By MORRIS LANDBERG

ABOARD U. S. CARRIER TASK FORCE FLAGSHIP OFF FORMOSA—(AP)—The first American seaborne assault on Formosa Island has been a fierce battle from the start.

Reports coming back to Adm. Marc A. Mitscher, commander of the carrier force, assure another costly reversal for the Japanese but after two days of aerial battling the Nipponese still are trying to hit back. Their bombers are all around the carrier force, assure another costly reversal for the Japanese but after two days of aerial battling the Nipponese still are trying to hit back. Their bombers are all around the carrier force.

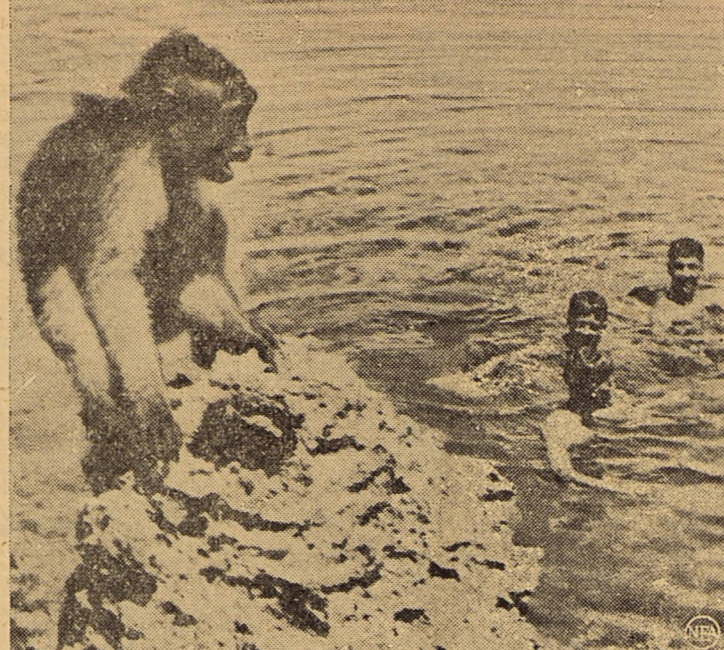

Every once in a while Japanese planes get too close. They are hunted down by night fighters. "Slash One Betty," is heard regularly as another Japanese bomber crashes into the sea. But they keep coming.

It has been a battle from the time the first Hellcats swept over the big leaf-shaped island at the crossroads of the China Sea. Navy pilots return to their carriers elated to tell how six Hellcats, later joined by eight others, took on 30 Japanese planes and shot down 27 of them. Another carrier group, which ran up a toll of 108 planes in the air, alone destroyed 40 of 70 interceptors in a rough-and-tumble melee.

The Japanese also lost many planes on the ground. American bombs damaged a score of Formosa airfields, crippled an important naval base and blinked out the island's major electric facilities.

U. S. loss of 45 planes is one of the heaviest of Pacific operations. It is no wonder that the Japanese sent available planes—possibly China-based reinforcements—to retaliate against this task force. Defense of strategic Formosa—which the Japanese like to call their "Immovable aircraft carrier"—is contrast with recent tendencies of the

MALARIA HAYMAKER: A MURDER BLOW

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Army experts on malaria say that natives of Papua, in New Guinea, where the disease is common, have a technique for killing a fellow native by giving him a relatively light blow in the lower left ribs—called the "malaria haymaker."
"This is over the spleen, which enlarges considerably during malarial attacks," the surgeon-general's office says. "Since almost all natives are infected, the probability of splenic enlargement is great and an enlarged spleen ruptures easily even under a light blow—with fatal results and no external mark."

The Kiddies Toggery, a shop for children only, is a busy spot in Midland's main shopping area. It is owned by Mrs. Josephine K. Ligon, who established the business six years ago.

The Kiddies Toggery is located at 403 North Main next door to the Midland National Bank, and affords shopping privileges for parents of younger children unsurpassed in many cities far larger than Midland. Not only do parents of the younger children visit the shop frequently, but many persons looking for gifts for parents of new arrivals have found the Kiddies Toggery an ideal place to make purchases.

The concern features the best in clothing for children up to eight years of age, both boys and girls. Only the very best quality clothing is carried by the concern. All merchandise is bought from firms with years of successful experience in manufacturing apparel for the younger set.

"If bought at the Kiddies Toggery, it wears better and lasts longer" is the slogan of the concern. "We always strive to see that this is true," Mrs. Ligon declared.

In addition to its complete line of wearing apparel for young children the Kiddies Toggery carries an unusual selection of toys.

Among the toys now in stock are dolls dressed up and ready for bed, monkeys, dogs, horses, kitty cats in fur and washable chintz, kangaroos, big lazy bears in white fur and wool, unusual rag dolls and baby dolls. "We are glad we have been able under wartime conditions to carry such a complete line of clothing and toys for the children," Mrs. Ligon said. "We cordially invite both parents and the children to visit our shop and assure them we will strive to serve them to the best of our ability."

Some scholars believe less than 20 per cent of American Negroes are of pure African descent.

Cars And Trucks Do Important War Job

The attention of C. L. Gladden of Midland Motors is centered on its parts and repair departments because Midland's present supply of cars and trucks must be kept running until Tokyo has fallen.

"We are in the best possible shape to help you keep your car or truck running until after the emergency," Gladden said. "Automobiles and trucks have done a great job in the war effort, which is a remarkable thing because most of them now are more than six years old."

"Service, regular service, is what will keep these cars and trucks going until after victory and when new ones are available," Gladden said.

Repaired Furniture Can Have Quality

In many instances a repaired piece of furniture can be of better quality than a new one, J. B. Sanders of the Sanders Furniture and Paint Shop said.

Older furniture is likely to have better quality material than pieces built in recent years. By skillful repairs these older pieces can be converted into handsome, serviceable pieces.

Sanders has had years of experience at refinishing, upholstering and furniture repairing.

High Costs Call For Revision Of Fire Insurance

Fire Prevention Week found thousands of property owners checking and eliminating hazards to help prevent fires.

Wayne Gillespie, manager of the Midland office of the Employers Casualty Company, also urges another checkup. "Check your insurance before you have a fire," he suggests.

"It has been estimated that the cost of labor and materials have increased 25 to 30 per cent in Texas since the beginning of the war. If this is true, and a building would cost $8,500 to build before the war were destroyed by fire today, it would cost the owner between $10,500 and $11,000 to replace it, if it could be replaced at all.

"If your fire insurance is still based on pre-war values—has not been revised to meet today's replacement cost—you stand to lose a substantial sum should your property be destroyed by fire today. So it is to your interest to keep your fire insurance up to date.

Recently the Texas State Insurance Commission adopted for use in this state a new improved broader form fire policy. Many exclusions found in the old policy have been eliminated in this new form, which also affords extension of coverages on both building and contents.

"However, your program of insurance should be reviewed and possibly changed in order to take advantage of all of the benefits obtainable. A trained representative of the Employers Casualty Company can fit this new policy to cover your particular needs.

"In Texas, the Employers Casualty Company sells direct, instead of through agents or brokers, and insures only the better class risks. This plan effects a substantial saving in the cost of providing insurance, and this saving is passed on to policyholders in the form of a dividend. The current rate of this policyholder dividend is 20 percent. "If you would like to revise your fire insurance to meet present day values, if you would like to secure the advantages of the new broader form fire policy, and if you would like to reduce your insurance costs without sacrifice of safety or service, we will be happy to assist with your program," said Gillespie.

He also offered another suggestion:

Mother Wants To Quit After Twentieth Child

ALLENTOWN, PA. —(AP)—Mrs. Esther Esterly and her 20th child, two-day old Timothy, were reported doing well at Sacred Heart Hospital Monday.

"I've done my share," the 43-year old mother said after Timothy's birth. "This is my last."

Eighteen of the 20 children still are living. They range in age from 13 months to 26 years. Mr. Esterly is a truck driver.

tion: "A loss is a loss—no matter what the cause. And fire and windstorms bring a loss of income from rents. They make your rental property unfit for tenancy until the damage is repaired. If it is your home that is damaged, you must pay high wartime rents elsewhere.

Just include rents or rental value in your fire and windstorm policies and avoid such losses."

White Collar Worker Has Toughest Time Of All In Getting Raised

By JAMES MARLOW
 WASHINGTON—(AP)—No one is sticking his neck out to name the day when the nation's wage control program will be changed but—mean-while, how does a white collar worker get a raise?

A Mid-Westerner, writing in, asks that question. Here's the answer: The War Labor Board (has wage-salary jurisdiction over employees, unionized or not, who make less than $5,000 yearly and are not in professional, administrative or executive jobs.

The board does have control over those same people in professional, administrative or executive jobs if, making less than $5,000 a year, they are members of a union.

Except in very special cases, employers of eight or less workers are exempt from wage and salary controls and can raise as they please. Two Yardsticks

WLB has two yardsticks in granting increases: The Little Steel Formula and a bracket system. But under both WLB has to give approval.

Unionized workers, through their union, can ask WLB to approve a raise. Unorganized workers, and this includes the majority of white collar workers, generally have to depend upon their boss to ask WLB.

The board doesn't have time to handle all the individual requests which otherwise would arise. And, the Little Steel Formula applies to groups and not to individuals.

Under the Little Steel Formula anyone is entitled to a raise of 15 per cent above what he made Jan. 1, 1941. Except in rare cases, WLB will approve.

But the bracket system works like this: WLB has 12 regional boards. They figure out "sound and tested going rates" of pay for various jobs in different areas within their region. In the New York region New York City might be one area and Albany, N. Y., another area.

Here's an example: Take New York City stenographers. Say they make from $15 to $50 a week. Somewhere in between those figures is a salary range—say from $30 to $40—which a majority of them make.

Minimum Bracket

That range from $30 to $40 is called a bracket. WLB will take the minimum bracket figure—in this case $30—as the rate up to which WLB will give approval on salary increases.

Suppose a boss has 10 stenographers in his New York City office. They make $25 weekly. They've had no increase since Jan. 1, 1941. He asks WLB to grant an increase.

Since under the Little Steel Formula they are entitled to a 15 per cent increase since Jan. 1, 1941, the board lets them have that much.

But a 15 per cent increase on $25 is only $37.50, for a total of $22.75.

This is still $1.25 below the WLB's minimum bracket of $30. So the boss could go back and ask the board to grant that $1.25 to bring his stenographers up to $30. And the board would grant it.

Wouldn't that be breaking the Little Steel Formula, since WLB here would be granting more than the total 15 per cent allowed by the formula? No. Here the board is trying to make pay rates for stenographers in the New York City area equitable.

Take another case. Here's a New York City area boss with 10 stenographers making $28 weekly, or $2 below that $30 minimum bracket. If they hadn't received the 15 per cent increase allowed by the formula since Jan. 1, 1941, the board would let them have it.

Entitled To Benefit

But that 15 per cent increase, added to their $28, would be $42.00, or $12.20, which is $2.20 above the $30 minimum bracket set by the board. That would be all right. The board says they are entitled to the benefit of the Little Steel Formula's 15 per cent increase.

But suppose that some boss had raised his stenographers 15 per cent since Jan. 1, 1941 and now they still were making only $28. The board would permit him to raise them $2 to bring them up to the $30 minimum bracket.

Remember: This $30 minimum bracket was only an example of that the WLB might do in the New York City area in the case of stenographers. The same board might set a $25 minimum bracket for stenographers in the Albany area.

Thus the various minimum brackets would be worked out around the country to fit the various occupations, whether they were on an hourly or weekly basis. There are also maximum brackets but at WLB it was said these are seldom used any more.

American Troops' White Bread Source Of European Amazement

By HAL BOYLE
 WITH AMERICAN TROOPS IN BELGIUM—(AP)—What do you think it is about the American Army that most impresses French, Belgian, Dutch and German civilian populations?

It's not speed, mobility and power, nor the amount and variety of its equipment. What astounds them most is that the American troops actually get white bread to eat in the field.

To these people, bread is literally the staff of life—the mainstay of every menu—and they regard it as nothing short of a miracle that combat troops can be served bread of such quality. They themselves have had no such bread for five years and when a few occasionally get a chance to sample a slice they eat it as if it were cake.

American fighting men get better bread than most of them got at home because the Army Quartermasters' mobile bakery outfits are within six to 10 miles of the front. They keep fresh loaves rolling out of the field ovens on a 24-hour daily schedule at the rate of 576 pounds every 25 minutes.

Rate Maintained

That rate of production is maintained day in and day out by such outfits as that headed by Capt. Walter C. Herget, 24, of Syracuse, N. Y.

"In the first 100 days in Europe we produced two million pounds of bread—ten tons a day—and during that time we had to dismantle our equipment and move to new locations seven times to keep up with the Army," he said.

The freshly-baked bread is allowed to cool four to six hours to prevent mold and sogging, then the loaves are sacked in 60 pound lots and started to the front by truck. The bread reaches the mess pans of the soldiers not more than 36 hours after baking.

No Battle Casualties

Neither the captain nor his men have had any battle casualties because of the Army policy of stationing them just beyond enemy artillery range. But they have campaign memories to repay them for the long hours of drudgery in excessive heat and choking flour dust.

"When we rolled off the beaches the doughboys actually cheered us—because they knew we soon would have that white bread on the way to them," said Herget. "It is pretty rare for frontline infantry troops to cheer a quartermaster's unit. We will never forget it. It meant everything to our morale to know how they felt about our work."

In normal times, England imports about 50,000,000 heads of lettuce annually.

Norwegian Situation Approaching Climax As Nazis Fear Revolt

By EDWIN SHANKE
 STOCKHOLM—(AP)—Conditions in Norway are fast approaching an explosion. The Germans, fearing revolt, are attempting to smash the home front organization with increased terror.

Norwegian Legation sources said more than 1,000 Norwegian hostages have been seized in the last few weeks. Arrests as often as possible are made of likely underground leaders. Prisons and concentration camps are filled.

Norwegian sources say German patrols search homes and gathering places day and night and that very often, Norwegians are shot "by mistake."

Violent Sabotage

Violent sabotage is increasing in addition to the passive resistance and causing nervousness among the Nazi occupants, who are tightening restrictive measures. The Norwegians said they had accurate information showing the Germans were moving together into selected apartments houses after ordering out the Norwegians. Nazi suicide squads could convert such buildings into defense strongholds.

The stiffening Norwegian resistance was first noted last Spring when a Nazi labor mobilization of three classes, which could easily be diverted to military training was thwarted. Thousands of young Norwegians vanished from homes and factories into the forests and mountains. Nazi conscription offices were blown up, records were burned.

Since then, planned sabotage against war industries has grown. The program recently was highlighted by a series of bold attacks.

Social Situations

The Situation: You have guests for dinner and one of the dishes you serve them doesn't turn out quite as well as usual.

Wrong Way: Keep talking about how poor the dish is, saying that you are ashamed to offer it to them.

Right Way: Keep your chagrin to yourself, just saying once, "I'm afraid I didn't have very good luck with this dish today." (If you keep ruminating down what you give your guests you not only make them more conscious of its lack but you also force them to keep protesting. "But it's delicious.")

EVER SEE A DOG FISH IN A TYKE SPOT?

FRESNO LAKE, MONT.—(AP)—John Bradley weighs in with this first year: "We were out fishing the other day and they weren't biting, so I got interested in a tyke, dangling a bamboo rod over the side of a boat. I watched him lose interest, eat a sandwich, nod off to sleep. Then, shortly I saw his rod zig-zagging crazily and my Springer spaniel, 'Duke,' splashed in pursuit. Duke caught the rod in his mouth, played the fish-out and swam ashore with a hooked, three and one-half pound rainbow trout. Who got the fish—well, who caught it?"

MAY AND DECEMBER MARRIAGE AND MAYBE NOT

HUTCHINSON, KAN.—(AP)—"Eve," asked a 90-year old man taking out a license to wed a 16-year old girl, "can I go about getting a divorce?"

Surprised probate court clerks quickly explained that if he already were married and had never been divorced he couldn't legally marry again. That wasn't the case at all, said the man, and walked out without further explanation.

$1000 Beauty

Do you like the painting reproduced above a thousand dollars' worth? Judges at Pittsburgh's Carnegie Institute did, for that's the amount of the first prize they awarded to its painter, Yasuo Kuniyoshi, Japanese-born American of New York City. Called "Room 110," the painting is a pale still life arrangement of an umbrella, a rose, a photograph and a bunch of grapes.

No Worse Fate Than Stranded Series Fan

By SID FEDER
 BARI, ITALY—(AP)—The worst fate that can happen to a baseball fan is being in Greece at World Series time surrounded by British troops and without communication to find out what is cooking. For Greece doesn't know how important the Series is and the Tommies don't care.

I missed my first World Series in 10 years this fall and if that is not bad enough I was stuck in the middle of Peloponessus with the British army while it was going on. There were only two other Americans—both correspondents—and all three of us talked a mighty good series.

The toughest blow of all came when British paratroopers dropped at Megara last Thursday, and helping one of them out of his chute I asked him desperation if he knew how the series came out.

Thought it was St. Louis.

"I'm not sure," he replied in a thick Lancashire dialect, "but I think a St. Louis team won."

Anyway, we three correspondents wanted to make a numbers bet among ourselves but all the money to be had was in Greek Drachmas. And since one buck now is worth 150 million Drachmas you can see there is no percentage in that.

The only fellow worse off than we three correspondents was Lt. Andrew Marshal, Bristol, Va., who crash-landed his plane in the hills east of Megara several days ago and just managed to come out of the woods. He didn't even know the Browns won the pennant and would not believe it until Sgt. Dan McIntyre of Geary, Okla., who was among the first Americans to land in Eastern Greece, gave us a rundown on the series.

OFFICER STIRRED BY DUMB WAITER

FORT RILEY, KAN.—(AP)—When Lt. Col. Frank Meyers sat down to dinner at the officers' club, the waiter brought him a knife and fork but no spoon.

"This coffee," he remarked pointedly, "is going to be pretty hot to stir with my fingers." The waiter beat a hasty retreat and returned a short time later with another cup of coffee. "Maybe this isn't so hot, sir," he beamed.

FISHERMAN'S LUCK WITH A CATCH IN IT

AUGUSTA, KAS.—(AP)—Patient angling netted Frank McLin a four-pounder, plus several smaller ones. He tied his catch to a bridge while he went around a bend in the river. When he returned the fish were gone—and so was a car which had been parked nearby.

'MEANEST WOMAN' TELLS CASUALTY FABLES

KANSAS CITY—(AP)—Three families here received mysterious telephone calls giving false tragic information concerning relatives overseas.

In each case the supposed War Department or Red Cross representative was a woman. One message informed a young wife that her Navy husband had been killed in action. Another informed a mother "something had happened" to her service son.

Each time the informant had accurate names and addresses of the persons notified. But the information was false.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Estimated fire losses in the United States in September were $31,448,000, in increase of 3 per cent over August and 19 per cent over September, 1943. W. E. Malhate, general manager of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, said.

RATTLED RATTLESNAKE RATTLED TO DEATH

CUT BANK, MONT.—(AP)—Passengers yawned as the bus labored up an incline on the Lewiston-Billings run. Suddenly, they jammed to one side and the driver stopped. Off the road in a natural amphitheater a hawk and a rattlesnake were locked in mortal combat. The passengers made bets. The wily hawk feinted, then caught the snake behind the head and shook and clawed furiously. This he repeated time and again. The snakebackers paid off. The hawk took flight, did an Immelman turn over his destroyed target—then flew away triumphantly.

Sailors' neckerchiefs were originally designed to be used as slings or tourniquets for battle injuries.

Insane Veterans Of Present War More Limited

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (P)—Insane veterans of this war stand less chance of having sizable estates built up for them than insane veterans of World War I.

The reason: World War I veterans received double disability pay from the government for their war-caused insanity.

They received a pension and, if their insanity was considered a total disability, they received government war insurance payments of $57.50 a month.

This war's insane veterans receive a disability pension but no insurance disability payments. The insurance issued in this war is life insurance. It is payable only upon the death of a serviceman or veteran. It protects his survivors, not him.

Made Big Difference
It is that $57.50 insurance disability pay that makes—or made—a big difference in building up an insane veterans' estate. For example:

The regular disability pensions of veterans of both wars is drastically reduced if they are hospitalized and have no dependents. But the World War I veterans had this advantage. No matter how much his regular pension, that insurance payment of $57.50 monthly remained constant.

If he was hospitalized and had no dependents, the $57.50 was set aside for him or invested for him by a guardian appointed through the Veterans Administration (Va).

Large Estate
See how it adds up: $57.50 for 12 months is $690. Over a period—say 18 years—that $57.50 would be $12,420. That tidy estate would be even larger if invested.

These, of course, were mostly hospitalized cases. With Uncle Sam footing the hospital bills and the benefits piling up, the estates grew. (The insane veteran living at home had smaller chance of having an estate built up for him. Much of his benefit money was used for living expenses.)

But the insane veteran of this war, even though hospitalized, does not figure to have a big estate. If he's hospitalized and has no dependents, his regular pension will be sharply cut. And he will receive no insurance pay at all.

If he has dependents, however, his pension goes to them whether or not he is hospitalized. His beneficiaries get his insurance when he dies.

Bridges Says Dozen Demos Anti-Roosevelt

WASHINGTON (P)—Senator Bridges (R-NH) said Monday that an even dozen Senate Democrats had told him they would not vote for reelection of President Roosevelt.

"That," commented Senator Hill (D-Ala.), "is the wildest political wish that one could be guilty of. It's political bunk of the rankiest kind. It shows how desperate the Republicans are when they talk that kind of political stuff."

Bridges named no names for publication. He told reporters the 12 Democrats, over a period of weeks, had informed him they were against Roosevelt, although some might now have changed their minds or might do so later.

Some For Dewey
"Some of them," he said, "are going to vote for Thomas E. Dewey. Some are just against Roosevelt and will vote only for the state Democratic ticket and not the national."

The Republicans, Hill countered in talking with newsmen, ought to be concerned that Senator Ball (R-Minn.) "already has declared that up to date he can't take Dewey."

Bridges said Republicans and anti-Roosevelt Democrats will control the next Senate. Hence, he said, a Republican president ought to be elected so he can work effectively with the Senate majority for the next four years and with a House which he said is sure to be Republican.

Bowles Says Black Liquor Market Ends
WASHINGTON (P)—Price administrator Chester Bowles said the liquor black market, which "reached gigantic proportions" early this year, now is "virtually a thing of the past with liquor again moving in legitimate channels."

See how it adds up: $57.50 for 12 months is $690. Over a period—say 18 years—that $57.50 would be $12,420. That tidy estate would be even larger if invested.

These, of course, were mostly hospitalized cases. With Uncle Sam footing the hospital bills and the benefits piling up, the estates grew. (The insane veteran living at home had smaller chance of having an estate built up for him. Much of his benefit money was used for living expenses.)

But the insane veteran of this war, even though hospitalized, does not figure to have a big estate. If he's hospitalized and has no dependents, his regular pension will be sharply cut. And he will receive no insurance pay at all.

If he has dependents, however, his pension goes to them whether or not he is hospitalized. His beneficiaries get his insurance when he dies.
