Six Killed, Many Hurt In Cong Terror Attack

Billet Is Hit Before Dawn

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Viet Cong terrorists shattered a U.S. officers' billet today in a predawn attack with machine guns, grenades and a truckload of explosives, killing three Americans and at least three Vietnamese and wounding 143.

The Americans died in gun battles with the small band of raiders during and after the attack on the 10-story Victoria Hotel. The injured included 113 Americans, at least 18 hurt seriously.

The powerful blast also wounded a number of Vietnamese women and children in nearby homes. It was one of the most devastating terrorist attacks of the war.

Vietnamese police said two men speeding from the scene on a motorbike were arrested after their vehicle overturned. Police sources said one admitted taking part in the attack.

The explosion ripped the hotel's three lower floors apart, smashed windows throughout the building, shattered outside walls as high as the fifth floor, unloosed a torrent of water from a 12,000-gallon rooftop tank and left a huge crater out front. The water probably prevent a brief electrical fire from turning the building into an inferno.

Many of the Americans escaped injury by ducking into bathrooms or under their bunks when they heard the first firing outside the building shortly after 5 a.m.

One officer said there had been reports the Viet Cong had slipped 250 pounds of explosive into the city and intelligence units had been looking for it.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge denounced the attack as "typical Communist violence of the criminal kind" as he inspected the wreckage and conferred with officials at the scene.

Authorities said repairs would be undertaken quickly. The building housed 200 officers. It is on Tran Hung Do Street, between downtown Saigon and the adjoining Chinese quarter of Cholon.

About half a mile away is the Metropole Hotel, a U.S. enlisted men's billet where a similar attack on Dec. 4 killed two Americans and wounded 67.

The terrorists followed the usual pattern of attacking first with small arms, then exploding a vehicle laden with explosives.

U.S. military authorities said a gray Citroen panel truck pulled up in front of the billet at 5:12 a.m., coming from the direction of downtown Saigon. Several men jumped out and opened fire on the American and the Vietnamese MP at the entrance.

Another terrorist was spotted planting an explosive device across the road. It was apparently a pellet-scattering Claymore mine, and it went off first.

The guards fired at the terrorist and knocked him down but he got up and ran off. He was apparently taken away in an accomplice's car. Then the major charge in the truck went off.

CONCERT MEMBERSHIPS — Bud England, standing, purchases some student memberships in the Scurry Concert Association from H. W. Cargile, treasurer of the association. The annual spring membership drive will close at 5 p.m. Saturday. Memberships will be available until that hour at the campaign headquarters located in the community room of West Texas State Bank. Student memberships sell for $4 each, while adult memberships are priced at $7.50 each. A family membership may be obtained for $20 regardless of the number in the family.

School Vote Set Saturday

Voters will get their first opportunity of the year to cast ballots tomorrow when school districts hold their annual trustee elections.

Board members will be named in all of the school districts in Scurry County and in addition three posts will be filled on the county school board.

Polls will open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m.

Two trustees will be elected from a field of five candidates in the Snyder Independent School District.

Candidates in the Snyder district are J. L. Browning, Ted Crenweige, Dillard Teal, James D. Simpson and Albert Ray Martin. Browning is the only incumbent in the race. The other board member whose term expires this year is Buster Anderson, who is not seeking re-election.

Three polling places have been designated for the Snyder School District election: Voters may cast ballots at the East Elementary School, the City Hall or at West Elementary School. There are no boundary lines or voting areas designated, the three sites being provided purely for convenience of the voters.

The Ira Independent School District will fill three board posts from a field of seven candidates. In the race at Ira are Harold Lee Holladay, W. C. Sterling Jr., Horace Fowler, Louie Z. Ashley Jr., Travis Stokes, Buford Sterling and L. V. Rasco. Holladay is an incumbent. Marvin Sorrells and Howard Sterling, whose terms also expire, are not seeking re-election.

Hermleigh Independent School District has only one candidate with two board posts to fill. Cecil Hall and Hollis Ward, whose terms expire, did not file for re-election. Jimmy Beck is the only candidate to file for a place on the Hermleigh ballot.

At Fluvanna, Bill Stansell, incumbent, James E. Beaver, M. A. Gleghorn, W. S. Bruner and Dene Beaver are candidates with two board posts to be filled. J. D. Patterson, whose term expires, is not seeking re-election.

Incumbents are the only candidates in the race for three posts on the county school board. Hugh Taylor is the only candidate for the county-at-large post, while Blake Walker is the candidate in Precinct No. 1 and Charlie Bley is the candidate in Precinct No. 2.

Five Persons Are Indicted

A Scurry County grand jury returned six indictments against five persons Thursday, passed over one complaint, and "no billed" two persons.

Patricio R. Martinez was indicted on two counts of driving while intoxicated, second offense. The same type of indictment also was returned against Harold Gene Pitts and Arthur James Isbell.

Isbell of Memphis, Tex., was involved in an accident in which Nathan Wade, Scurry County rancher, was killed.

Indictments for removal of mortgaged property were returned against Charles Broom and Charles Hendrix.

The grand jury "no billed" Garland Ray Fox and Jimmy Gardner and passed over a complaint against I. D. Melton when the complaining witness failed to appear.

Tunnell Sees More Wildcatting

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — Changes and innovations adopted by the Texas Railroad Commission have emphasized incentives to encourage more Texas wildcatting and make oil development more economical, says Railroad Commissioner Byron Tunnell.

Tunnell spoke Thursday night at a joint meeting of the North Texas Oil & Gas Association's production committee and the North Texas section of the Society of Petroleum Engineers of AIME.

Tunnell urged the oil leaders to "take a personal interest in the political life of Texas." He said that this is the only way to be effective in governmental matters.

He said he hoped the oil leaders understood the role of the commission and the contributions made by oil and gas conservation laws to the "welfare of Texas."

The NTOGA, he said, is to be commended for its interest in public questions which he said "are and must be, at some stage a political matter."

Tunnell said a matter of great importance to the commission in the long range role of Texas as a major source of energy is the state's crude oil reserves.

In speaking of incentives for more production, Tunnell said, "I would like to make it clear that I am talking about removing obstacles of a regulatory nature that may stand in your way toward finding and developing more oil."

Carr To See FBI Report

AUSTIN (AP) — Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr said today the Justice Department has agreed to give him copies of the FBI report on Texas' 15-day special voter registration last month.

The agreement cancelled a hearing scheduled for this afternoon in San Antonio at which Carr planned to ask U.S. Dist. Judge Adrian Spears to compel the Justice Department to make the report available.

Carr filed in federal court here a reply to the Justice Department's request that Texas be ordered to conduct two more free voter registration periods this year.

The reply was filed with the same three-judge federal court that struck down the Texas poll tax Feb. 9. A hearing has been set for 10 a.m. Tuesday on the Justice Department's plea for additional voter registration April 8-19 and Aug. 22-Oct. 8.

Protesters Are Silent

BOSTON (AP)—Some 60 anti-war demonstrators stood in silent protest today outside a jail where nine others began serving 20-day jail terms on charges of loitering and blocking traffic.

The nine were ordered to jail after Thursday's melee on the steps of South Boston District Courthouse where four of them were knocked to the ground by a mob and beaten as they burned their draft cards.

The protesters stood outside the Suffolk County Jail for one hour today and said they would repeat the demonstration every day for the duration of the jail terms. Among those making the silent protest were seven ministers and their wives, ranging in age from 30 to 50.

No incidents were reported.

Strike Paralyses Argentine Railroads

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—A 24-hour strike by employes of state-owned railroads brought all trains in Argentina to a halt today.

Workers demand a 32 per cent pay increase. The railroads offered a 15 per cent hike plus fringe benefits.

Long lines of workers waited for buses. Private automobiles jammed downtown streets. Thousands of suburban dwellers were late to work.

AFS Breakfast Set Saturday

The Snyder Chapter of the American Field Service will hold a breakfast meeting at 7 a.m. Saturday at Sallie's Cafeteria.

The AFS unit sponsors the foreign exchange student program here. Anyone interested in the AFS work is invited to attend the meeting.

Concert Assn. To Close Its Drive

The Scurry Concert Association membership drive for the 1966-67 season will close Saturday.

After the drive no memberships will be taken and there will be no single admissions sold for any of the concerts. Only members will be able to attend the three or more concerts planned by the association.

Mrs. Herbert Feather, membership campaign chairman, urged everyone who has not been contacted to join at the headquarters in the community room of West Texas State Bank before 5 p.m. Saturday.

Several exciting and outstanding attractions are being considered by the association. Among them will be the Varel and Bailley Singers of Paris. This is expected to be a popular and entertaining attraction for young and old alike. The balance of the program will be announced at the conclusion of the membership campaign.

Directors of the Scurry Concert Association have elected officers and board members for the 1966-67 season. The officers include Dr. Robert Clinton, president; James Casey, Herbert Feather, Mrs. J. M. Kayser, Mrs. Herbert Feather and Mrs. Jack Patchell, vice presidents; Mrs. Glenn Barron, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Ed Schulz, recording secretary; Hubert Cargile, treasurer.

Students In UIL Events

Snyder High School students will begin defense of their district title tonight at the University Interscholastic League literary contests at Levelland.

The district meet begins with one-act play contests this evening, with other contests scheduled for Saturday.

Thirteen students were in the Snyder High one-act play delegation which left today. They will be the sixth contingent to perform before the judges tonight.

Twenty-nine other Snyder High contestants entered in other events will leave at 5:45 a.m. Saturday for the site of the district meet. Six faculty sponsors will accompany the students to Levelland.

Snyder won the district literary crown last year, rolling up a total of 148 points. Sweetwater placed second last year with 107 points.

Rail Fight Heads To Higher Court

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The railroad firemen's union headed for a higher court today to fight an injunction against their strike on eight major lines as rolling effects of the walkout showed up in auto plant shutdowns, highway commuter jams and mail movement trouble.

Service on the lines was crippled in 38 states from coast to coast and Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz said he saw no immediate end to the stoppage. The secretary had just made a direct appeal to the unions' chief on the basis of "a very great national interest."

The biggest immediate effects appeared in operations of the giant General Motors Corp. which shut down six plants in Michigan, idling 13,000 workers, for lack of incoming parts and shipping for finished cars.

About 36,000 more of the industry's workers, including 33,500 in GM plants in Detroit, Flint and Pontiac, Mich., were sent home early.

In Ohio and Texas, Ford and Chrysler workers went on short shifts.

And at Kansas City, a GM official said another 8,200 in plants in that area would be affected if the strike continued.

Commuters were in trouble in various areas, and emergency measures were adopted for movement of mail at some points.

BUSY OFFICE — There was plenty of business at the Scurry County tax office Thursday as area motorists hurried to secure license plates before the deadline today. However, the plates will still be on sale — at an increased rate. A total of 9,500 plates have been purchased to date. (Staff Photo)

Kidnaper Stays Quiet

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — There still apparently is no word from the husky kidnaper of 18-year-old Daniel Goldman.

The youth was taken from his plush [illegible] home early Monday by a middle-aged gunman who demanded $20,000 from the Goldmans.

After learning the family had no money in the home, the gunman awoke Daniel, forced him to dress at gunpoint and left in one of the family automobiles. He told the Goldmans he wanted $25,000 in ransom and the amount would be doubled the next night.

The car was found later that morning. There was no sign of the kidnaper or his victim.

Police, including FBI agents, had no comment on the case.

Turkey Prohibits Use Of Bases

ANKARA, Turkey (AP)—Turkey has prohibited the use of air bases in this country for U2-type spy flights by U.S. Air Force planes, an authoritative government official affirmed today.

At the same time, Ankara has asked Washington for a review of the military and political aspects of bilateral agreements between the two countries and negotiations are under way in both capitals.

Turkey also has asked for a substantial increase in American military aid.

In Washington, the Defense Department declined comment.

(Other U.S. officials said minor adjustments might be possible in agreements between the two countries. They said they do not expect any major changes.)

Spy flights originating from American bases in Turkey have caused political complications for the new right-wing government of Prime Minister Suleyman Demirel.

An American U2 pilot, Francis Gary Powers, crashed in neighboring Russia in 1960 after he had taken off from Incirlik Air Base in southern Turkey.

Last December, an American RB57 two-man reconnaissance plane crashed under mysterious circumstances in the Black Sea off the Turkish coast. The plane, an up-to-date electronic version of the old U2, also had taken off from Incirlik.

Leftist politicians and the press are highly critical of Demirel's friendship with America.

State Water Plan Price Tag Told

MOUNT VERNON, Tex. (AP) — The Texas water plan carries the state to the year 2020, Gov. John Connally told the Northeast Texas Water Development Conference.

Gov. Connally said the cost of the reservoir construction alone in the plan would be $1.25 billion.

He told the conference Thursday night it was the first time he had discussed in details the objectives of "one of the major planning efforts of history."

He said the plan, initiated in 1964 by the Texas Water Development Board, is "imaginative and demonstrates vision."

"It will provide for the expanding water needs of a growing Texas," he said. He also said the plan was "expensive."

Pointing out that a disproportionate share of Texas surface water flows through the eastern and southeastern fringes of the state, Gov. Connally said the board proposes to move a share of this surface water, which is surplus, to other areas in Central, South and West Texas.

He said the "hard truth" is that there is not enough water in Texas to furnish an irrigation supply to the high plains from the east when presently depleted ground water is gone.

Gov. Connally said there is a "good possibility" of importing water from out of state, but said this action is "far in the future."

Increases in the state's population, which he said should give the state some 21 million persons by the year 2000, will make future water needs great, he said.

Gov. Connally said a first step in the water plan will come in the November general election when voters will be asked to expand their water development fund to $400 million. The faster the state moves to preserve reservoir sites, he said, the less the water plan will cost.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What do you do with otherwise nice neighbors whose front yard looks like a used car lot? This is a problem all their neighbors have been trying to solve without hurting anyone's feelings.

These people have a two-car garage, yet five "not-too-new" cars are parked day in and day out in their driveway.

I believe the husband buys old cars, fixes them up and then sells them. This is a nice residential area and we are all tired of this blot.

NEAR ALBANY

DEAR NEAR: Before demanding that your neighbor quit giving his front yard (and the neighborhood) the appearance of a used-car lot, ask a lawyer if he (the neighbor) is within his rights. If the law is on his side, ask your neighbor if he'll be a good fellow and keep a couple of those cars behind garage doors.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me why so many men ignore their wives while they are out in public? Mine is the worst when it comes to this. If people didn't know we were married to each other, they would never believe it to see us out together. He acts like he doesn't even know me. He never speaks to me or looks at me, and if he has to tell me something he will sneak the words out of the side of his mouth while nobody is watching. I am neat and clean and not bad looking, and I am his age. Can you explain this to me so I won't feel so put out.

IGNORED

DEAR IGNORED: You are probably overly self-conscious in public, and so is your husband. Forget about what others think, and how you appear to them. Relax and make small talk with your husband. This should break the tension and put you both at ease.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am dating a guy who is never on time when he comes to get me for a date. If he says he will pick me up at 8 o'clock, he will show up at 8:30 or maybe 9. Last Friday night he was an hour and five minutes late! Don't tell me to quit going with him because he's worth waiting for. How can I cure him?

KEPT WAITING

DEAR KET: When he arrives, YOU keep HIM waiting for exactly the same number of minutes he kept YOU waiting. This is what is known as the "RX" treatment, or giving him a taste of his own medicine.

* * *

CONFIDENTIAL TO CHARLOTTE: If you crave compliments, dress for your men and throw all the fashion magazines in the trash can.

'Great Society' To Feel Pinch

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration sources predicted today that President Johnson will withhold spending for some new "Great Society" programs if Congress refuses to make recommended cuts in old government programs.

The forecast came as Johnson called his Cabinet together to hear proposals and projects on programs which — in his words "could be foregone, or eliminated, or postponed, or stretched out in hope of saving money."

Johnson told a news conference Thursday that he hopes to find areas where cutbacks will ease the shortages in labor, manpower and commodities. Construction would be such an area, he said.

This would impose on government agencies the type of restraint which Johnson asked Wednesday night of business leaders and Thursday of city mayors — cutbacks on spending for new plants, equipment, public works and buildings.

Johnson hinted that any substantial savings thus achieved would diminish the prospect of his calling for a general tax increase to prevent recent price advances from becoming a wage-price spiral.

But the signs so far from Capitol Hill, he told newsmen, are that Congress will increase his $112.8-billion budget instead of reducing it.

"If we can impound anything (any appropriated funds) that we don't have to spend, we will do it," Johnson said.

Forces Grow During March

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials report that American ground forces in South Viet Nam increased by 15,000 men during March to a new total of 230,000 — about 75,000 below the Korean War peak.

The new total is only 5,000 short of the figure currently authorized for deployment in Viet Nam by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Including offshore units, the over-all U.S. forces in and about South Viet Nam totals more than 300,000. During the Korean War, U.S. troops and supporting elements in Japan and elsewhere reached a maximum of 473,000.

Defense Department officials, reporting this Thursday, said they do not expect a significant increase in draft quotas. This is because, they said, volunteer enlistments have been running at a relatively high level.

1836 Party Is Recreated In Interest Of History

By PEGGY SIMPSON
Associated Press Writer

A 19th century birthday party given by Gen. Sam Houston for his wife Margaret Lea will be recreated — sideburns, long dresses and all — in Huntsville Sunday.

The seventh annual birthday celebration dates from an appeal by former Gov. Price Daniel for emphasis on Texas' heritage between March 2 and April 21.

Between those dates in 1836 came Texas' declaration to break away from Mexico, crushing defeats inflicted by the Mexicans, and, finally, a victory for the rebels that clinched Texas' independence.

Gov. John Connally has stepped up the campaign to awaken Texas to the history around them. He emphasizes that restoration of historic houses and public places and celebrations such as the one in Huntsville Sunday are not only valuable as an insight for Texans into their state but attract tourists and enrich their visit within the state.

Today, Texans are more history-conscious than ever.

In 1965, the Texas Historical Survey Committee designated 1,297 buildings worthy of official state of Texas "historic landmark" seals. About 3,000 have been issued since the committee was formed.

One of Texas' most significant shrines, the long-neglected Presidio la Bahia in Goliad, where Col. James W. Fannin and his troops were massacred March 27, 1936, is being painstakingly restored through a private grant.

A private historical association says it will help cities and groups with the research and financing involved in preserving or restoring historic sites.

The most famous celebration linked with history is San Antonio's week-long Fiesta. It is held every year to coincide with the anniversary of Texas' independence, April 21, when Sam Houston's troops routed Mexican Gen. Santa Anna at San Jacinto. Fiesta week opens with a somber pilgrimage to the Alamo, then livens up each night in the jubilant spirit of independence.

Another well-known historical celebration is Jefferson's pilgrimage April 22-24, when the town's women wear hooped skirts and open the palatial homes to the public. Jefferson was a thriving river port before and after the Civil War.

In Huntsville Sunday, Sam Houston's oldest living descendant, Mrs. Jennie Morrow Decker of Houston, will be on hand for the imitation birthday garden party. She is 95.

The dean of men at Sam Houston State College, George L. Morton, will put on sideburns and depict Sam Houston. Descendants of early East Texas settlers from 20 towns around Huntsville will help show the public the state park's new horticulture trail, Houston's home, law office and kitchen, and the steamboat house where he died.

The director of the Sam Houston museum, Mrs. Grace Longino, said she felt the garden party would be similar to one Houston would have given.

"We are trying to recreate the serenity and graciousness of an unhurried era, and show Southern hospitality at its best," she said.

Naive Kid's Nostalgia

A YALE MAN. By Milton White.

Here is a sentimental journey back through the years, to a forgotten age of absolute innocence.

The novel is a first-person narrative by Dave Miller, a half-pint youngster from Central High in Springfield, Mass., whose father, a tailor, manages to send him to Yale in the fall of 1932.

It's doubtful that, even in 1932, freshmen were quite as awed and naive as Dave, but the kid doesn't let it bother him.

As an 89-pounder, he is spotted by the crew coach, and has some amusing adventures trying to understudy the coxswain. He is less fortunate in fencing class.

His hometown date for the Harvard game becomes ill, so her mother shows up—and gets soused, while Dave sits in rain-drenched Yale Bowl helping Babe Ruth drink whisky sours.

At Christmas time Dave goes home and finds the old high school crowd a pretty dreary lot.

His one big fling during freshman year is to spend a day in New York, wearing a borrowed raccoon coat and cutting quite a figure in Central Park.

With its pop tunes, movie stars and period customs, this story is all nostalgia, hip deep. Somehow it all seems a million light years away. Have a look at the days.

Shovelfuls Of Violence

THE ADVENTURERS. By Harold Robbins.

You name it: this 781-page novel by the author of "The Carpetbaggers" has it. All the usual gambits to attract the popular trade, that is.

It has lots of sex, crime, violence, pseudoglamor and the smell of money. It has a huge cast, plenty of action spread all over the Americas and Europe, and a knowing familiarity with highlife in the jet set.

Mostly it is about Diogones Alejandre Xeron, known as Dax, a primitive stud male of mixed breed who comes from the little mythical country of Corteguay in Latin America. Thanks to this sponsor, the typical dictator El Presidente, he spends most of his time wandering the world's fashionable cities as a polo-playing Latin Lover.

The story gets under way with the sex and sadism formula. At the age of 6, Dax witnesses the rape-murder of his mother and sister by rebel soldiers. A few years later, trapped by the military, he is forced to kill his grandfather, already nearly dead from torture.

The cast includes a French-English banking family, a wealthy American family interested in politics, a nymphomaniac who is the richest heiress in the world, a roundup of Texas oil promoters, a phony Russian prince who fronts for a fashion house, a paranoic shipping king who swindles the Texans, and a few assorted dope addicts, homosexuals, prostitutes, gun runners and primitive assassins.

Every few pages there is a sex kick, usually with Dax as the central figure, whether the scene is a bedroom, the sea, a beach or an automobile. At one point, Dax attends a party at which there are 12 women. Including ex-wives and ex-mistresses, he has slept with all but one—she was too old. A sort of class reunion.

Us inhibited clerks and secretaries sure get a lot of action for our $5.95. Maybe we shouldn't wait for the paperback.

Girl Scouts Prepare Camp For Summer

Paint brushes and mops will be put into action as the Seniors help with the work of readying Boothe Oaks for the summer camping season. The girls will meet the new Camp Director, Mrs. Floyd Stubbs, of Abilene and hear about the Trip Camp—a special adventure they will plan for this summer.

Alabama Matrons Sold On Physical Fitness

By JAMES PURKS

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — "May I speak to your mother, please?" A young voice replies: "No, I'm sorry, she's outside, running."

Almost every day, six attractive housewives run around their Birmingham neighborhood.

Motorists stare. Curtains of some houses are seen to part.

Twice a week, a 56-year-old woman dons sports togs and runs two or three miles around an indoor track at the YMCA, often joined by others.

Men runners, huffing on the same track, pay them little heed — their way of saying the gals are OK, accepted.

What's going on?

The name of the game is physical fitness and it seems to be contagious.

It's a way of battling the pressures of housework, the telephone, noisy kids, business pressures, cooking and, always, the waisteline.

"The basic problem of women is emotional; the average housewife is our source of concern," said Marion Phillips, one of those responsible for these goings on.

Would life be more enjoyable, tension-free for the average Alabama housewife if she ran a mile daily, or exercised a minimum of 15 minutes per day?

Mrs. Phillips, a physical fitness instructor and mother of three, says yes.

Mrs. Phillips conducts twice-weekly physical fitness classes at the YMCA. Her goal is to put the participants through a six-week course and inspire them to continue exercises on their own like the neighborhood runners.

"The main thing to get across is that this should not be a six-weeks course, that physical fitness is a way of life," she said.

Mrs. Phillips believes that if an average housewife exercises vigorously on a regular basis, she'll feel a lessening of tension and be able to cope with the little daily crises.

The same applies for men, she said.

"Our mental institutions are so overcrowded. I believe 50 per cent of the people, if they had just kept themselves physically fit, wouldn't be in there," she said.

White House Job Juggling Reinstates JFK's Advisor

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Jack and I hit it off from the start," said Walt W. Rostow, an idea man for John F. Kennedy before and after he moved into the White House.

President Johnson, who has shown great respect for some of the brainy men Kenedy picked as helpers, has now brought Rostow, intellectual and former professor, back to the White House to help him.

Rostow will have the title of special assistant but, since he and Johnson never worked this closely together before, it remains to be seen how well they hit it off.

The move really put Rostow, 49, back in his old job. For most of Kennedy's first presidential year Rostow was in the White House as deputy special assistant to the President for national security affairs.

Late in 1961 he moved over to the State Department as counselor and head of its policy planning staff, a job he held until Thursday when Johnson reached out and brought him back to the White House.

This kind of job-juggling is a little mystifying. Rostow's policy planning staff at the State Department took in the whole range of American foreign policy, present and future.

As a White House idea man for Johnson, Rostow probably will get mixed up in some domestic as well as foreign problems although Johnson indicated Rostow won't have to worry about much domestic stuff.

Johnson said Rostow will operate principally in the foreign policy field, explaining: "I shall look to him as a catalyst of ideas and programs on various continents of the world."

This is where the puzzle comes in: Why is it more important to have Rostow at the White House than heading State's policy planners, since his principal task in his new job will be the foreign field?

It might seem natural to conclude that Rostow will be the successor of the brilliant McGeorge Bundy, former Harvard dean, who was Kennedy's top White House assistant on foreign policy and link with the State Department. But Johnson brushes aside that idea.

He denies Rostow or anyone else is taking the place of Bundy who was kept in his job by Johnson until he recently resigned to become president of the Ford Foundation. He had a very high regard for Bundy's brains.

Johnson says he has appointed five men, including Rostow, to share Bundy's responsibilities. Nevertheless, as of now Rostow looks like the closest thing to Bundy.

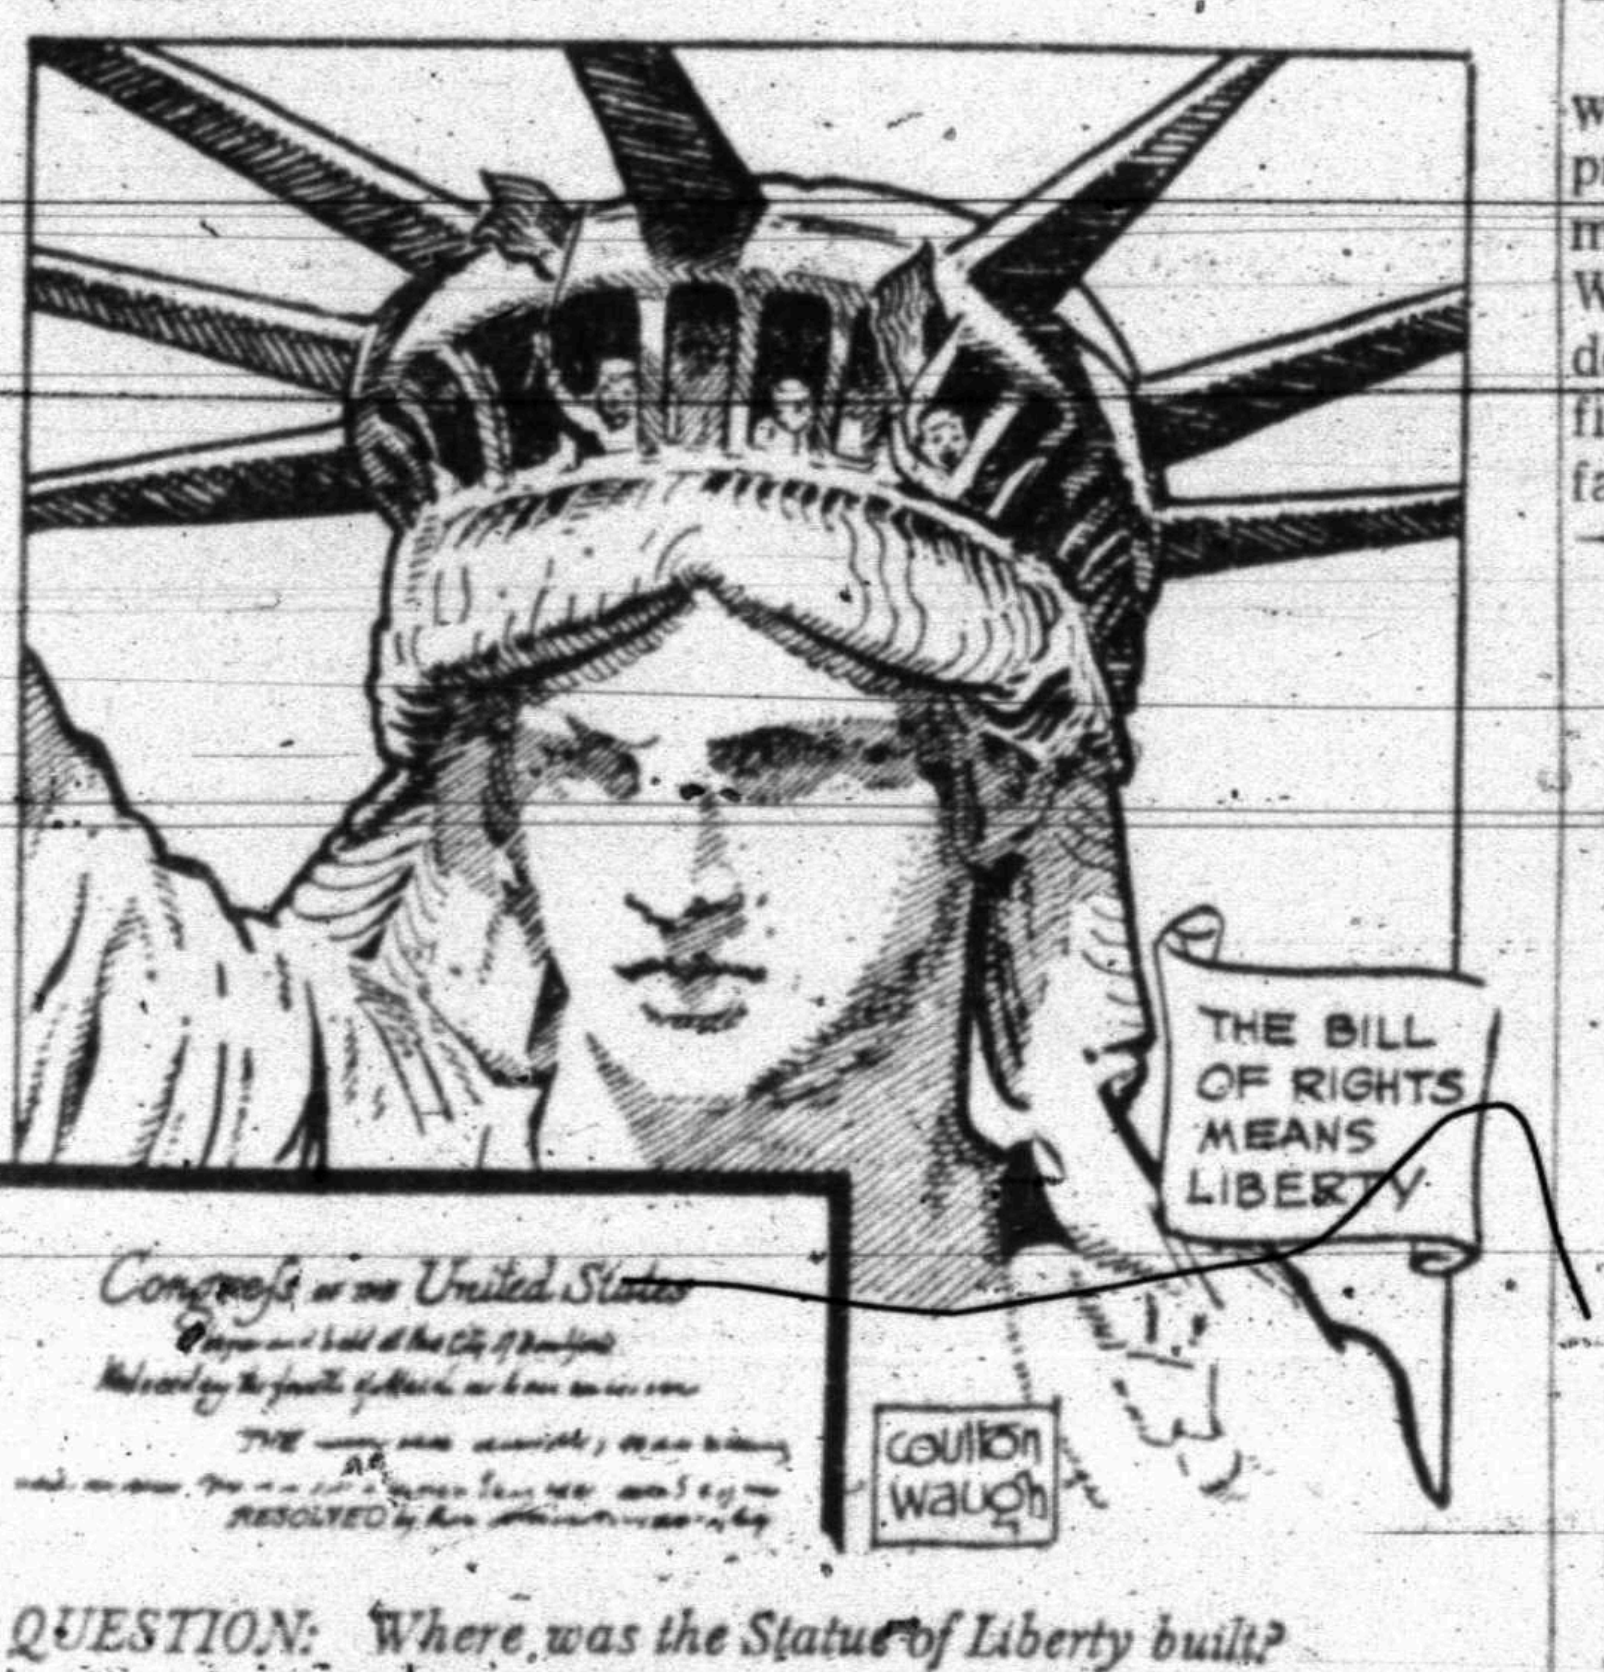
Rostow first met Kennedy in 1958 and fed him ideas and did the same for him in the 1960 presidential campaign. Rostow had also helped the administration of President Dwight D. Eisenhower with ideas from time to time.

Rostow had a major part in shaping several of Kennedy's foreign policy statements in 1960 and some credit him with a big role in the launching of Kennedy's "Alliance for Progress" with Latin America.

He has had a special interest in Latin America, Russia, Red China, and communism in general. But he moved over to the State Department two years before Johnson became President.

Rostow, an economist and economic historian, after his graduation from Yale taught at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and at Oxford and Cambridge in England.

Junior Editors Quiz on STATUE of LIBERTY



THE BILL OF RIGHTS MEANS LIBERTY
Congress of the United States
RESOLVED
coulton waugh

QUESTION: Where was the Statue of Liberty built?

• • •

ANSWER: In France. This famous statue, the largest ever to be constructed, was presented to the United States by the French nation in 1884. The gift symbolized the friendship between the two peoples and their mutual dedication to liberty. Frederic Auguste Bartholdi made the immense statue which stands on Liberty Island in New York Harbor, out of sheets of hammered copper attached to a framework of iron. It is hollow and has a stairway inside, up which people may climb. Look closely at our picture and you can see some young persons waving flags from Liberty's [illegible]

Our artist has accompanied his picture of the statue's head with one showing the beginning of the original document of the "Bill of Rights" — the solid foundation of our conception of liberty, which is what is symbolized by the statue. These are the first 10 amendments [illegible]

In these amendments, the specific rights of people are mentioned, such as freedom of religion, of the press, of free speech and peaceful assembly. James Madison led in the fight to have these amendments adopted.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: We can't all visit the Statue of Liberty, but we can all look up the wording of the Bill of Rights amendments. Be sure you do so!

Literary World Turns To Murder

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — In the literary world this looks like the year of the battle of gory best sellers.

It pits peacetime murder in Kansas against the wartime fall of Berlin.

Truman Capote, wispish author of "In Cold Blood," estimated recently his psychological study of the slaying of a Kansas farm family of four would gross $2 million from all sources. It took him six years to do the book.

Probably his chief rival for top-selling honors is a 6-foot-1 Irishman, Cornelius Ryan, 45, who also spent six years turning out "The Last Battle," a monumental rendering of the capture of Berlin by the Russians in 1945.

Ryan has no idea as yet what his latest opus will do. But his last book, "The Longest Day," which dealt with the Allied landing in Normandy, sold more than four million copies in 27 countries.

Referring to Capote, better known as a novelist than as a nonfiction writer, Ryan remarked genially:

"For a cub reporter, he's doing great. I'm glad he has discovered the excitement of great journalism, of which he has done a masterpiece."

Unlike Capote, he makes no claim of having created a new art form.

"This style of writing was created by Thucydides when he wrote his history of the Peloponnesian War in 400 B.C.," he said. "All I've done is use old-fashioned legwork."

It was rather expensive legwork. Ryan figures he spent $100,000 in research in contacting 3,000 people in 15 countries, of whom he interviewed 700 in depth.

Surrounded by war maps and 7,000 books, Ryan spent three years in the library of his seven-acre Connecticut estate in the actual writing of his dramatic tale. The estate is named "Les Roches," after German Marshal Erwin Rommel's headquarters in France.

"I got so grumpy," he said, "that one morning my two children marched into the library and announced they were going to write a book and call it 'The Father Who Roars Like a Lion.'

"Right now I'm shellshocked. I've been living with the war for over 23 years. I can't sleep more than five or six hours a night. After doing the film script for 'The Last Battle,' I'd like to try something else for a change."

And then?

"And then I'd like to write two more books about the war. There's a lot that still hasn't been told."

Prexy Has Pipe Dream?

BOSTON (AP) — American League President Joe Cronin predicts a seven-team pennant race and a trend toward more exciting play in the 1966 season.

Back from a swing of Florida training camps, Cronin told Boston baseball writers Thursday that he is "optimistic" for the first time in years over the flag chase.

"In the past, the league has been dominated by the New York Yankees," Cronin said. "This year, though, is one of the most difficult ever to predict a winner. All clubs appear to have improved."

Cronin named the defending champion Minnesota Twins, the Detroit Tigers, the Chicago White Sox, the Baltimore Orioles, the Cleveland Indians and the Yankees as contenders. Then he added, the California Angels on the advice of their general manager, Fred Haney.

Fast Field At Austin

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — World record performers and potentials will be among the first of 1,320 athletes swinging into the Texas Relays today.

Southern University, which holds the world mark for the mile relay at 3:04.5, and Texas Southern, which came within two-tenths of it with 39.9 in the 440-yard relay, are in opening preliminaries of the big track and field meet. The Southern quartet is back intact.

Trials in most running and field events and a scattering of finals — one bringing Randy Matson, the Texas Aggie giant who holds the world record in the shot put, into competition—are in the day-long schedule.

Matson will be in the discus finals in the afternoon and might hang up a Texas Relays record. He has sailed the platter over 180 feet. The record is 188-8, held by Matson.

Ninth Grade Track Teams To Midland

Ninth grade track teams of both Travis and Lamar Junior High Schools will go to Midland Saturday where they will compete in the fourth annual West Texas Junior Relays.

Some 500 contestants representing 32 schools are expected to participate in the meet.

Finals in the field events and preliminaries in track events will begin at 9:30 a.m, with finals in the pole vault and running events slated to begin at 1:30 p.m.

Seven trophies will be awarded at the meet. They will go to the championship team, the runner-up team, the 440 yard relay winner, the 880 yard relay winner, the 1320 yard relay winner, the high point individual and the runner up individual. In addition, medals will be awarded for first, second and third places in each event.

Contestants in the West Texas Junior Relays must not have reached their 16th birthday on or before Sept. 1, 1965 and must not be above the ninth grade in school.

Admission prices for the afternoon session will be 25 cents for students and 50 cents for adults.

Nags Ready To Drag

By GENE PLOWDEN

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Gulfstream Park was being polished today for the 15th running of the Florida Derby, with 11 3-year-old colts going in the 1⅛-mile Saturday feature.

If form holds true, the winner will come from the quartet of Kauai King, Amberoid, Abe's Hope and Bold and Brave. In the last eight runnings, the winner has gone postward the favorite.

Kauai King probably will be a slight favorite after his triumph in the Fountain of Youth Stakes 10 days ago, when the dark bay son of Native Dancer whipped Amberoid. Abe's Hope, Sky Guy, Bold and Brave and others.

All are back for the Florida version of the Derby, along with Barmer, Blue Skyer, Low Son, Rehabilitate, No Love Lost and Williamston Kid.

"This is as fine a field of 3-year-olds as can be assembled today," said Michael J. Ford, owner of Kauai King. "All are hard-hitting horses. Don't discount any of them."

Owner William G. Helis Jr., and trainer Nick Combest thought enough of Sky Guy to make him eligible upon payment of a $5,000 supplementary fee. The others were the best from a field of '74 nominees, among them the injured Buckpasser and the recovering Graustark, both of whom will miss the race.

With 11 starters, the race will gross $123,400 and the winning owner will get a check for $83,400.

Post time is 4:45 p.m. EST. Sports Network will telecast it to Eastern cities.

Thinclads At Seminole

The Snyder High School track and field team will be at Seminole Saturday for another track meet and an opportunity to notch its fourth first place trophy this season.

However, Andrews is favored to win the team championship. Other teams invited are Lamesa, Levelland, Denver City, Littlefield, Brownfield, Plains, Seagraves, O'Donnell, and Crane.

"I don't know whether they all accepted invitations," said Tiger coach Jim Stehley, "but I know Andrews has a good team—they're strong in the events where we are weak."

After last week, when two Snyder teams compiled a total of 202 points, it would be difficult to convince some people that the local thinlies are weak anywhere. The 440 and mile relays teams were considered to be weak at the start of the season. But both units won Saturday and are beginning to be considered serious threats to Littlefield's dominance.

Coach Stehley said Teddy Brown, who runs one leg on the relays teams and the 440 yard dash, will miss action at Seminole due to a sore back. Joe Breeden, on the other hand, may see action for the first time in a month. He has recovered from a sore arm. Joe will throw some, but may be a little rusty.

Preliminaries are set for 9:30 a.m. and the finals in the field events at 1:30 p.m. Saturday. Finals in the running events will begin at 3 p.m. Saturday.

Entries in the various events:

100 yard dash—Ronnie Hardwick, Jackie Rice, Jerry Hardwick.

220 yard dash—Curtis Clay, Ronnie Hardwick, Jerry Hardwick.

440 yard run—Kent Noble, M. C. Powell.

120 yard high hurdles—Steve McMahan, Leon Riggins, Dwaine Boydstun.

180 yard low hurdles—Leon Riggins, Steve McMahan, Larry Hartwell.

880 yard run—Rob Golden, Tom Page and Ken Neeper.

Mile Run—Rudy Benitez, Mike Tipping and Weldon Riley.

440 yard relay—Ronnie Hardwick, M. C. Powell, Jackie Rice and Curtis Clay.

Mile Relay—Leon Riggins, Kent Noble, M. C. Powell and Curtis Clay.

Pole Vault—Jackie Rice, Vernon Clay and Drake Snyder.

Broad Jump—M. C. Powell, Steve McMahan and Vernon Clay.

High Jump—Steve McMahan, Jackie Rice, Vernon Clay.

Shot Put—Jerry Simons, Terral Austin, Joe Breeden.

Bragan Feels Braves Can Win NL Pennant

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Bobby Bragan, manager of the Atlanta Braves, had just been asked to run down his team.

"Well," he said, "we've got nine guys who can hit 20 homers. We've got five starting pitchers. The bullpen is solid. And the bench is good."

Is Bragan confident?

"Yep," he replied, "If we can get Koufax and Drysdale to go back into the movies, and take a couple of pitchers like Marichal and Maloney with then."

And that's the way it is with the Braves. They feel they have the talent to win the pennant, and they certainly feel moving to Atlanta will help. But, in the National League, nothing is ever certain and Bragan wouldn't mind a little help.

Most of it will come from his players with the Braves ready to field veterans at all positions. As a matter of fact it may be difficult for a rookie to break in anywhere.

First there are those nine 20-homer hitters — outfielder Hank Aaron, catcher Joe Torre, third baseman Eddie Mathews, outfielder Felipe Alou, outfielder Mack Jones and catcher-first baseman Gene Oliver, all of whom hit 20 or more last season.

Bragan then adds in first baseman Lee Thomas, acquired from the Boston Red Sox after hitting .271 with 22 homers and 75 runs batted in, and outfielder Rico Carty and shortstop Denis Menke, who hit the 20-homer mark in 1964.

The only non-qualifier is second baseman Frank Bolling.

Two of the 20-homer hitters — Carty and Oliver — figure to start the season on the bench unless Bragan decides to platoon. Add veteran Frank Thomas and there's little doubt why Bragan smiles about his bench.

Pitching could be the only question-mark with the make-or-break pitcher likely to be Denny Lemaster, a 17-game winner in 1964 who slipped to 7-13 last season.

Lemaster or Hank Fischer, 8-9 last year, figures as the No. 4 starter behind 24-game winner Tony Cloninger, Ken Johnson and Wade Blasingame. Veteran Arnold Earley, also acquired from Boston, will add strength to the Billy O'Dell-Phil Niekro bullpen combine.

Despite Lemaster's fall last year, the Braves were in the middle of the pennant fight until mid-September — only 2½ games out — when they finally slipped and fell back, finishing fifth, 11 games behind the Los Angeles Dodgers.

But one major factor has to be considered this year besides the wealth of talent: The Braves did not fight. They switched.

The attitude on the club seems to have changed with the move from Milwauke to Atlanta.

"We certainly would have had a better chance of winning last year if we had played somewhere else," Bragan said. "You don't relish the idea of playing before 5,000 or 6,000 people at home."

The courts willing, the Braves won't have to.

It could make the difference.

Supreme Court Gets Case Next?

By JAMES R. POLK

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — After one month and one million words, the trial of Wisconsin's antitrust suit against baseball is nearing an end.

The verdict — with all its repercussions for the National League, the Braves, Milwaukee and Atlanta — is likely to come just in time to collide head-on with the opening of the baseball season 11 days from today.

Defense attorneys said they planned to rest their case today.

Each side will have one more time at bat in the courtroom in rebuttal testimony. The state was expected to wind up in only one day.

Circuit Judge Elmer W. Roller, hearing the case without a jury, has said he wants to make a ruling by April 12, the day the Braves are scheduled to open in Atlanta.

Wisconsin has accused the National League and its 10 members of violating antitrust laws by approving, through what the state calls a monopolistic conspiracy, the transfer of the Braves from Milwaukee to Atlanta.

Wisconsin wants the Braves back — now — or an expansion team for Milwaukee — immediately.

Baseball attorneys have argued the departure of the Braves after 13 seasons here was economically justified. And they have said expansion in 1966 is hopelessly impossible, although Roller has told the league to be prepared to add another team if he orders it.

Into the trial record so far has gone more than 1 million words of testimony, covering 6,179 typewritten pages of transcript.

There have been 27 witnesses, 18 depositions, and 511 exhibits presented in the trial that began Feb. 28.

The most dramatic testimony may have come Thursday, but none of it was public.

The day's proceedings were concentrated in Roller's chambers, where testimony dealt with the confidential financial records of the National League clubs.

Roller, sealing his doors, honored his pretrial pledge that the profit-and-loss records would be kept from public scrutiny.

After rebuttal testimony, closing arguments are planned. They probably will be made in the form of written legal briefs.

The verdict, when it comes, is considered almost certain to be challenged by the losing side in a series of appeals which may reach the U.S. Supreme Court.

Astros Orbit Phils, 12-9

COCOA, Fla. (AP) — The Houston Astros meet Kansas City in an exhibition game tonight.

Robin Roberts and Bob Bruce were the scheduled Houston pitchers.

The Astros pounded out 17 hits and beat Philadelphia 12-9 Thursday at Clearwater. Houston collected four home runs and three doubles.

A seven-run outburst in the sixth inning was highlighted by Jim Gentile's three-run homer.

Fed Probe Into Boxing Is Secret

CHICAGO (AP) — A federal grand jury investigating gangster influence in professional boxing reportedly was to begin its third day of sessions today with the entire proceedings wrapped in secrecy.

Spokesmen for the U.S. Attorney's office refused to disclose to newsmen whether the probe would continue today. However, the grand jury, scheduled to be dismissed Monday, was held over indefinitely at the government's request, an indication of further hearings.

At Thursday's session, Bernard Glickman, 51, the government's prime witness, testified before the grand jury.

As far as could be determined, Glickman was the day's only witness in the seven-hour session.

In an attempt to maintain the secret characteristics of grand jury proceedings, Glickman was whisked into the Federal Building via an underground entrance.

Attempts by newsmen to spot him leaving the building were fruitless despite a constant watch at all exits.

The grand jury opened its probe Wednesday, hearing at least seven subpoenaed witnesses.

Glickman's tie-up with Ernie Terrell, World Boxing Association heavyweight champion, led to the probe. Glickman and Terrell are Chicagoans.

Glickman told the FBI he was beaten and choked Feb. 3 by Felix (Milwaukee Phil) Alderisio, an alleged hoodlum. Crime syndicate mobsters blamed Glickman for failure to engineer a bout between Terrell and Cassius Clay in New York's Madison Square Garden.

The New York State Athletic Commission refused Terrell a license Jan. 29 because of his alleged association with Glickman.

Mrs. Lee Seeks Eighth Golf Crown

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Mrs. C. D. Lee of El Paso and Mrs. L. D. Brown of Marshall met today in the finals of the Texas Senior Women's Golf Association Tournament.

Mrs. Lee, who has 15 grandchildren, has won the tournament seven times. She defeated Mrs. Jack Williams of Austin 1 up and Mrs. Brown beat Mrs. David Stephenson of San Antonio by the same margin Thursday.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

TEQUISQUIAPAN, MEXICO —The morning mist rose gently from the river that winds through town. And we rolled gently down the cobblestone street that bumps toward the river.

This res[illegible] tucked away in Queretaro State, some 10 miles east of San Juan del Rio, belongs to the offbeat group. There are several hotels—more than you would expect to find in a small place. All equipped with thermal waters, although not too thermal.

And like all of Mexico's health spas, it once was a bathing center for the local indigenous population. Chiefs and warriors drifted in after battles to lounge in the tepid waters and cure their lumps.

It is also a curious contrast of the colonial and the modern. The ancient section of the town stands on one side of the river. Adorned by thick walled buildings and cobblestone streets.

The new section is a retirement colony built to bring in U. S. settlers. There are more than 200 houses finished at present, ready for occupancy. Everything from one to four bedrooms. Private little gardens and yards. A shopping center is going up. There is a swimming pool for the colony.

Some of the places have been sold and others are being rented on a weekly or monthly basis, furnished. Modest prices, too.

Mr. Gonzalo Rio is the gentleman who built this particular colony.

"For as little as forty dollars a month," he said, "you can get yourself a house and pay it off in ten years."

The U. S. influence has slipped in and the model homes have catchy names to type them.

Mr. Rio also built an elegant California-type hotel at the entrance of Tequisquiapan. This place is filled with weekenders from Mexico City and other points nearby as well as visitors from around the United States.

Tequisquiapan is not considered antique as towns go in Mexico. It is only a couple of hundred years old. That is new in this country where you date civilization back a thousand years or more.

It originally was a huge ranch owned by a count and his wife. The count and countess got mighty lonesome sitting around on the front porch in the evenings counting fireflies.

So they decided to do something about it. Something along the lines of setting up a colony.

They put out the word that people who wanted a patch of farm land could acquire some by dropping in and signng up the papers. In those days such transactions were as simple as shaking hands.

And as soon as the news leaked out, every Indian in the country was on the telephone to the count putting in his bid for a corn patch.

The count and countess gave away thousands of acres and needless to say became extremely popular folks around the town that rapidly built up.

More of the old landmarks still stand in the original part of town. The narrow streets and low, thick-walled buildings remain intact. So does the pink church facing the main plaza in the center of town.

Later on, hotelmen drifted in around the mineral springs. Somebody from Mexico City discovered Tequisquiapan and a select crowd began weekending there.

Others followed and before you knew it, the U.S. tourists began coming to town. Despite this, Tequisquiapan remains a little-known place and when you consider the swarms of travelers encountered all over Mexico, relatively few go there. Which makes it an extremely desirable spot for lying in the sun.

Red clay flower pots upside down over clay saucers make ideal ashtrays for home workshops. Drop matches and cigarettes through the hole in the bottom of the pot and they are extinguished because of the lack of oxygen inside.

GRACE

. . . that is greater. Grace that comes from God. Grace that has survived both victory and defeat. Grace that comes through long years of gentle conduct and tender devotion and utter dependance in each other. That's what these life-long partners have been able to garner. God united them and they have depended on Him to keep them. They gave over the control room of their lives to God. Devotion to His cause has sweetened the influences they exert. It hasn't been hard for them to keep up their church attendance record, nor administer to the sick, nor give to the poor. It made a difference when they placed their lives in the hands of God. It will make a difference with you too, for Blessed is the man that walketh in the path of righteousness.

The Rev. R. C. Dearman will bring the messages for both the morning and evening worship services Sunday at the First Assembly of God Church. The morning service will begin at 11 a.m. and the evening service at 7:30 p.m. Sunday School is set for 10 a.m.

On Monday night, 40 Christ Ambassadors attended the South Plains Section C. A. Rally. They returned with the attendance banner and the offering trophy. This is the second consecutive month they have won the offering trophy.

A condemned man's final hour on "death row" is the story background for "Appointment," a motion picture to be shown Tuesday night at 7:30 at the fellowship hall. The film's appearance in this area is sponsored by the First Assembly of God Men's Fellowship.

One of a unique series of half-hour films produced by Gospel Films, Inc., "Appointment" tells the story of a man who tried to hide his true identity as, condemned for murder, he awaited the final moment in the prison death chamber. A confused warden and an understanding chaplain sought to break through the mystery, but the man staunchly held his ground. Then, a young girl, given last-minute permission by the governor, appeared at the prison. She claimed to be the man's sister. Yet, strangely, her real reason for coming was not to establish the existence of physical relationship, but to determine spiritual relationship.

Written and directed by Bob O'Donnell, "Appointment" features an outstanding cast.

In addition to the film showing, the evening's program will also feature a spaghetti and meatball buffet dinner, with green salad, tea, hot rolls and dessert.

Other services for the week include Friday C. A. service at 7:30 p.m., choir practice immediately following C. A. meeting, WMC at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, Royal Rangers at 7:30 Monday and mid-week worship at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.
