Committees Named

Bratten Outlines Chamber of Commerce Work Program

L. B. Bratten was installed as president of the Wellington Chamber of Commerce January 1, succeeding John Coleman.

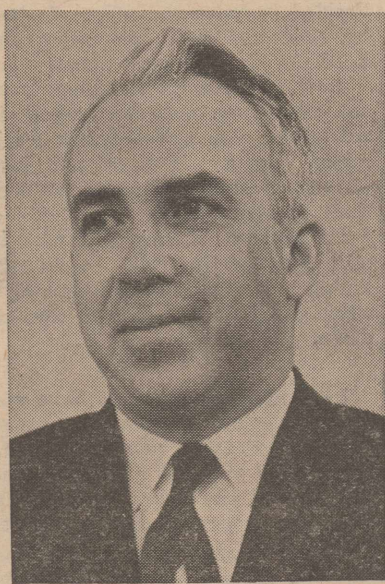

Taking office with him were Billy Hatch, vice president, and Calvin Hurst, treasurer. N. M. Higdon is the manager.

1960 directors are Wood Coleman, Carl Wischkaemper, Orville Vaughan, Eldon Holley, Dr. Chas. B. Jones, Robert Lewis, George Henry, Charles Allen, George Shadid, Jimmy Kelso and C. T. Hubbard.

This week Bratten announced the chairmen of the working committees and these in turn will name members to work with them.

Mrs. John Coleman is chairman and Mrs. James Sullivan is co-chairman of the Civic Improvement committee, while Mrs. A. J. Fires heads the community beautification committee.

Judge C. C. Bishop is chairman of the highway and transportation committee; Zook Thomas, agriculture and livestock; John Coleman, water resources; Mack Said Jr., retail and wholesale development;

L. B. Bratten

George Henry, public relations; Henry Sullivan, industrial development; George Shadid, membership.

C. T. Hubbard heads the executive committee, an advisory body.

Increased membership will be spotlighted in the year ahead, Bratten said.

Both business and individual memberships will be stressed.

"Wellington must present a united front if we are to get ahead," the new president declared.

Greater participation in the program of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, to the extent that Wellington will be allowed a director is ahead. "I want us to become affiliated with WTCC if at all possible," Bratten commented. "I think we will be in a better position to attract industry that may be seeking a location through the West Texas Chamber," he said.

Work will continue on several unfinished projects.

At the top of the list is continued work on the Salt Fork dam.

"We certainly will do everything we can. If we can get the dam located somewhere where we can get an irrigation district, it will mean more than a gas strike," Bratten said.

Work to secure a show barn will be continued, as will several other projects.

Walter Rogers Reports

Civil Rights Explosive Issue in Congress

"Civil rights will be the explosive issue in this session of Congress, that and the international economic situation," Congressman Walter Rogers told The Wellington Leader during a short visit here Tuesday, January 12.

Sportsman Rogers found Collingsworth quail elusive birds on his annual hunt here.

The tax situation will loom large also.

"After 10 years, those of us who believe there can be a tax cut have it where a complete study is being made of the tax situation, with the hope it will result in tax relief in 1961 for the people who are most sorely in need of it," he said.

"The other thing is a dull subject, but important: the international economic situation this country is faced with. There is increasingly larger foreign competition in the production of goods, supplies, and materials in foreign countries," Congressman Rogers continued.

"Many of the factories that make these goods were built by Foreign Aid funds. That is one of the reasons I have always opposed Foreign Aid."

Asked what the American manufacturers might do, Walter Rogers replied:

"We'll have to play it by ear. We don't know the potential of Russia. If Russia moves into the international market, we are going to have a really rough time."

"I think what we've got to do is make a better quality merchandise and anticipate the needs of these countries that are in the foreign markets, for it is about impossible to compete price-wise with those using cheap labor and slave labor."

The lawmaker expects vigorous action from strong advocates of civil rights, "because it is one of the strong weapons they can use to centralize government, to provide a means for working out federal encroachment in all state elections and matters of public office of all kinds."

Youth Council To Set Up Activity Work

A council made up of Wellington high school students has been named to work out a regular program of activity for their classmates. This is the outgrowth of a series of dances during the holidays, sponsored by Police Chief and Mrs. Troy Marsh; Sheriff and Mrs. John Rainey; Mr. and Mrs. Eli Wolf and Mrs. Lola Lee Roark.

Members of the council are Lonnie Roark, Bruce Crosby, Mike Rainey, Elaine Crawley, Elouise Bowen and Patricia Sullivan.

The council will hold its first meeting this week after mid-term exams are finished. At this time, work will begin on the activity program for high school students which now is expected to be a monthly dance or other entertainment.

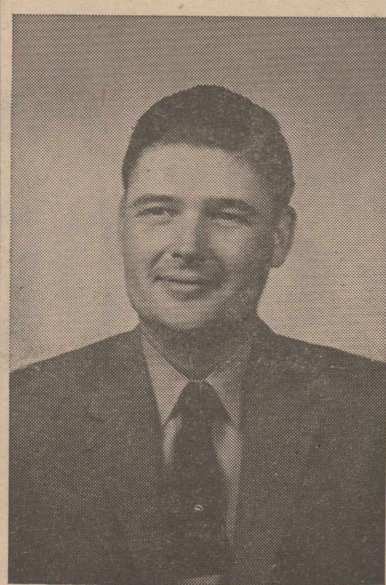

Templeton for County Attorney

R. L. Templeton this week authorized The Wellington Leader to announce his candidacy for county attorney, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary. He said:

"A great many people have asked me to announce for the office of County Attorney. I hesitated for quite some time. There are two good reasons. In the first place, I have no quarrel with the present County Attorney and think he has done a good job. In the second place, I have rather enjoyed being out of politics."

"In announcing for the office of County Attorney I want it known that I will not actively campaign for the position. If the people of Collingsworth County want to make a change, it will be up to them to make it. If the voters of Collingsworth County see fit to make me their next County Attorney, the only promise I make is that I will carry out the duties of the office in a quiet, efficient, and conscientious manner, striving to avoid controversy, with partiality to none, and fairness to all."

Donald L. Nunnelley

Donald Nunnelley for Sheriff

Donald Nunnelley this week authorized the announcement of his candidacy for sheriff of Collingsworth County.

A native of the county, Nunnelley said he had no campaign promises, but he was running for office on the basis of experience he has had as a member of city and state law enforcement in other cities.

"If you see fit to elect me sheriff, I will serve all the people to the best of my ability," he said. Nunnelley is the son of Mr. and (Continued on back page)

District Executive

Eller Transferred to Oklahoma Scout Job

Bill Eller, district scout executive for the Comanche District, has been transferred to Bartlesville, Oklahoma, where he will serve in the same capacity. This is considered a distinct promotion, since the Bartlesville district serves a much larger number of Scouts.

The Eller family moved to Bartlesville Monday.

Eller has completed four years as district Scout executive here, beginning with 26 Scouting units and 466 boys. There are now 42 units, including Explorers, Cubs and Scouts, with 1,028 boys actively participating.

During this time, the Comanche District committee and the Commissioner staff were organized. The Scout leaders' round table was instituted, and district banquets were begun, along with an annual Scout Exposition and regular leadership training courses.

The number of courts of honor were increased, and the district has participated in all Adobe Walls Council activities.

"We have very much enjoyed living here and appreciate all the courtesies that were extended us," Eller said in leaving.

Mr. and Mrs. Eller were active

Mrs. S. L. Coleman, Pioneer Mother, Dies January 6

Mrs. S. L. Coleman, one of the true pioneers of the county, died in St. Joseph's Hospital January 6 at the age of 86.

She and her husband, the late J. S. Coleman, were among the first to settle in the Dozier community.

Since 1917, Mrs. Coleman had lived in Wellington, where she came to educate her seven sons.

She arrived in the period when the county still knew violence, helped to organize a community with its school and church, and in recent years had lived quietly enjoying the fruits of her family's pioneering.

Mrs. Coleman was born Sarah Leon Nelson near Gadsten, in Cherokee county, Alabama. In 1887 her father, the late B. F. Nelson, brought his family to Texas, coming by train to Bell county, where they took an ox-cart to Bosque county. Her father died in 1881, and ten years later her mother moved the family to the Indian Territory.

She was married to J. S. Coleman on August 6, 1892, at Spanish Fort, and later that year they came to Collingsworth county from Stephenville.

There was no name for the Dozier community when they arrived, and they did their trading at Memphis, going across the prairie, with only the hills for landmarks.

A few years later, Mr. and Mrs. Coleman helped secure the first school in the community and gave the land on which it stood. They helped with the first church services, held in the school.

This school served patrons along a 16-mile stretch along Salt Fork. The section of land on which they filed has never passed out of the family.

Mrs. Coleman had been a member of the Church of Christ since 1900.

Funeral services were held Friday at 2 p.m. at Bowie Street Church of Christ, with Minister John Gay officiating. Burial was in the family plot in Dozier cemetery.

Pall bearers were Douglas Coleman, Donald Coleman, Joe Alex Coleman, Mark Coleman, Frank Coleman Jr. and Mario Coleman.

Surviving Mrs. Coleman are seven sons: Alex Coleman and Wood Coleman of Dozier; Frank Coleman of Quail; John Coleman and Dee Coleman of Wellington; Jess Coleman of McLean and Leon Coleman of Oklahoma City.

Other survivors are four sisters and a brother, Mrs. Ruby Senter and Mrs. Mabel Cartier of Coweta, Okla.; Mrs. Doshia Laremore of Tulsa; Mrs. Margaret Jensen of Montana; and Bevie Rounds of California. There are 20 grandchildren and 27 great grandchildren.

County Bank Assets Pass Seven Million Figure

WINTER FUN

Snow such as they have seldom seen in their young lives entertained Wellington's children Tuesday and Wednesday, January 5 and 6. But it was hard work for Phyllis Ann Sullivan to pedal her tricycle through the several inches of snowfall that covered her yard and sidewalk. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Sullivan.

Collingsworth County bank assets soared to $7,302,710.40—the highest point in recent years and one of the highest in the history of the county, reports of the three banking institutions to the Federal Reserve Bank and the State Banking Commissioner show.

Deposits reached $6,819,996.66—another near-high mark.

But on top of these figures is the fact that between $900,000 and a million dollars is tied up in cotton on which farmers as yet have not collected a cent. This would push the asset figure well over the 8 million dollar mark, and deposits to around seven and three-quarters million.

This is the picture with which Collingsworth county starts the 1960s.

Of the deposit figure, $5,799,944.80 is in demand deposits.

Loans and discounts at the opening of 1960 are $2,812,894.27.

Undivided profits are $119,585.58.

TV-Translator Meeting Called Saturday Night

A public meeting has been called for Saturday night, January 16, to explain the proposed TV-Translator system which the Greenbelt Translator System is seeking for Collingsworth county.

The meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. in the county court room, and all television owners interested in the program are urged to attend.

Organization of the Greenbelt Translator System was completed some months ago, but officers have held off actual work until they could observe thoroughly the quality of reception in nearby Panhandle counties that now have it working.

Ed Crowder of Dodson is president of Greenbelt; Joe Terry is vice president and John Coleman is secretary-treasurer.

The meeting Saturday is an information meeting, Coleman stated.

Memberships in the system are now being taken, and when the required number is reached, application will be made to the Federal Communications Commission for a permit to operate.

If there are no delays, Coleman estimated that the system could be in operation by summer.

★ Jimmy Dale McGill New Year's Baby

The new year—and the new decade—was 10 days old before Wellington's New Years baby arrived.

He is Jimmy Dale McGill, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McGill, who moved recently to Amarillo.

Jimmy Dale was born at 4:21 p.m. Sunday, January 10, in St. Joseph's Hospital, and he weighed seven pounds and six ounces.

The traditional gift for the mother and child was given by St. Joseph's Hospital.

Against Bobcats

Rockets Open District Play Friday Night

Wellington Skyrockets open district basketball play Friday, January 15 against the Childress Bobcats on the Childress court.

Both A and B teams will play. The Rockets will not play, as Childress has no girls basketball.

"Childress seems to have as strong a team as any in the district," Coach E. W. Clement said. "They have quite a bit of height, but not too much experience."

Before they lost out in the Wichita Falls tournament last week end the Bobcats had a 12-4 won-loss record. Wellington A team, including tournament games, had a 9-9 record.

"Our records don't mean much when Wellington and Childress get together," the Rocket coach commented.

The starting lineup will be announced immediately before the game, but Rockets on the A squad are Captains Butch White and Glen Lacy, and Weldon Cleveland, Granvel Killian, Bill Estes, Robert Weir, Roland Roberts, Elmer Keller, Jerry Rainey, Jackie Daves, and Ronnie Rudy, manager.

Bill Eller

in First Methodist church and she participated in PTA. They have four children, Sandra, 12; Wayne, 10; Bill, 9; and Kenneth, 8.

"Hollis Alford, assistant Scout Executive of the Adobe Walls council, will serve the district until a replacement is secured.

Sitting of Voluntary Nuclear Ban Exposes False Soviet Propaganda

The greatest flaw in the dictator state is that to survive it must superpose its political ideology upon activities in every field of human endeavor. This is the means by which individual liberties are lost. Hitler censured the reading of his people by burning books and promulgating interdict on those radio stations which operated beyond the Nazi sphere. However, even Hitler never went as far as the Soviet Russians who have set up rules and regulations which reach into the academies of arts and sciences and have gone so far as to alter the facts of history. Lying, cheating, deviation and deception make up a common course to reach the ideological goal.

It is for this reason the Western powers have found negotiation with the Soviet not only frustrating but well nigh impossible. President Eisenhower has put the finger on the Soviet for embracing these tactics in its international relations when he announced to the world that the United States was divorcing itself from the moratorium on nuclear weapons tests on its expiration at midnight, Dec. 31, and then told the world why.

This moratorium was set for a definite expiration date when it was agreed on 14 months ago. The President's decision—reached after consultation with 15 top administration officials—does not mean this nation will resume the nuclear tests. Instead, it is announcement that we shall continue suspension of the tests but voluntarily and free from any obligation to do so. When and if we resume these tests, the President said, we will give advance notice to the world.

The force of this announcement relates to the scheduled resumption of Geneva talks between the West and the Soviet on permanent abandonment of nuclear tests. The talks are to be resumed on Jan. 12. But in the recess since these talks were suspended, the Soviet scientists who compose their nation's delegation to the conference have been laying a groundwork of false information and propaganda designed to make agreement on an international level impossible. The President flatly accused them of clouding the atmosphere with "intemperate and technically unsupportable" claims. "The United States delegation," he said, "will make public from the verbatim records of the conference the facts which will completely refute this Soviet document."

Unquestionably, the trouble arose when the politicians in the Kremlin brought the Geneva delegation of scientists to heel and read from the rule book on ideological custom. But Eisenhower's move has put the pressure on the Soviet in grand manner. Unless the Soviet delegation can answer the United States delegation—and most likely it cannot—it will be compelled to back down or break up the conference. In doing so, the Soviet will suffer a propaganda defeat of major order before the world.

Army Goes Big for—Overalls

Nobody wants to shave so much as a dime off the budget for national defense — if all that money is really needed to defend against our enemies. But do the armed forces really need as much as they ask for? And are they spending wisely the billions that are handed out to them each year?

It has been the custom of armed forces to demand more and more, to be—or profess to be—continually dissatisfied with the quality and quantity of the equipment furnished them by the taxpaying civilians.

It develops that the United States Army, perhaps fearful that the clothing factories were all going out of business, has laid in a 10-year supply of fatigues — those green cotton uniforms in which the soldiers fight, do kitchen police, wash trucks and lounge around the barracks wishing they were out of the Army.

The Army procurement officers who bought a 10-year supply of fatigue uniforms ought to be court-martialed. But they won't be. In fact we will never even know who they are. If Congress gets nosy about the deal the Pentagon brass hats will tell the taxpayers' representatives that it is none of their business, that the information is "classified," that national security would be imperiled by its divulgence. And the President will back up the brass hats.

How much do you suppose is invested in that huge pile of unused uniforms, and in warehousing and maintenance for same? That investment was included in one of the Army's budget requests under plea that it was urgently needed "for national defense." How many other such items are in the Army's budget, and the Navy's, the Marines, the Air Force budget?

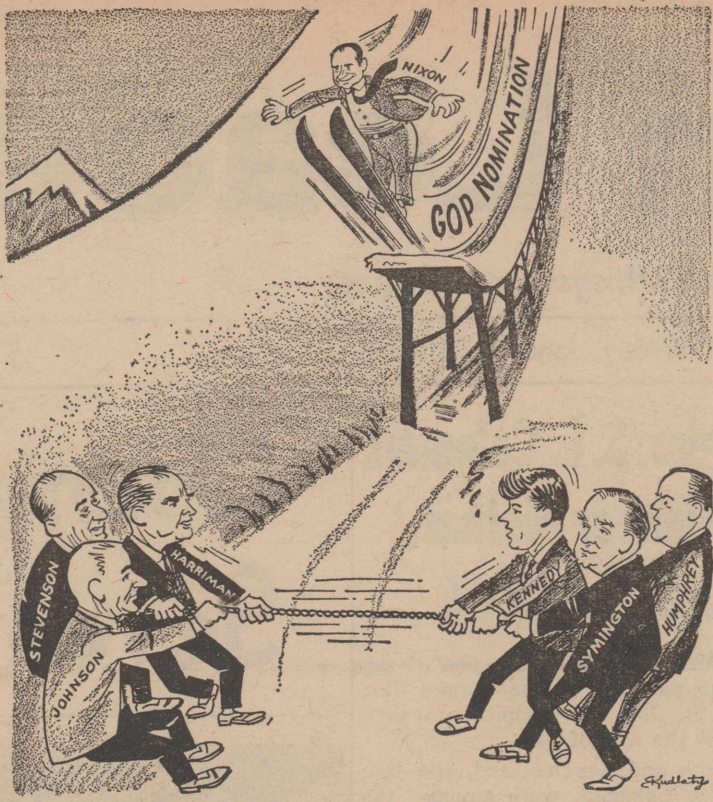

Congress may not be able to find out what happens to the money, once it is voted and turned over to the defense Department. But Congress holds the ax before the budget is approved. The armed forces petitioners should be required to justify every item of their requests. It would be interesting to hear the Army's justification for a 10-year supply of overalls.

Golfing businessmen often feel that if they shoot above par they are neglecting their golf; and if they shoot below par they are neglecting their business.

A lot of fellows who say what they think don't do enough thinking.

You'll be happier if you are necessary to somebody.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where the government is going to let lipstick factories run on a few days longer using the 17 colors which federal health wardens claim make rats sick.

My lipstick expert neighbor says he notes the said impure colors are mostly reds and oranges, and he can testify that lipsticks in those hues have caused trouble among mankind.

Says, though, with only blues and greens left for lip illumination it is going to take a while to get used to the new look in women.

I see where a newspaper low-rates Presidential Candidate John Kennedy on account of he looks more like a college freshman than a President.

My sagging neighbor says it is dirty politics to jeer at a man's boyish looks in these latter days when custom says only beatniks and Fidel Castro can offset their damp ears with beards.

Says a bearded Kennedy would be more impressive, though, and he would just as soon have a president with pretty whiskers as one with a retractable platform.

I see where a reporter got to looking around and found cheating on tests is a very popular activity in many U.S. colleges.

My hard-pressed neighbor says year old son of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Thomas died in Amarillo following throat surgery.

C. E. McKinney, superintendent of the city water works, advises all to get plenty of water on Saturday for city water will be cut off all day Sunday to work on engines.

Miss Norma Cook entertained in honor of Miss Rose Couch Saturday evening at home on South Barton street.

this shows the colleges are up-to-date, and youngsters are getting training in how to keep inbred moral principles from standing in the way of success.

Says a college student who don't major in cheating is apt to find he can't hold his own against business competition, the Joneses and the income tax.

I see where some folks think taking any kind of federal aid or subsidy is mighty close to immoral.

And my factual neighbor's conscience is bothering him because he has been living on government grace ever since the income tax was accepted.

Says the 16th amendment makes all of his income government property any time Congress wants to take it, and letting him keep a little for seed all these years has likely been a grave misuse of public funds.

I see where the government has decided to raise the price of steel by cahooting with the union for a billion dollar wage boost.

But my fretless neighbor says the steel companies can keep their prices down in spite of this additional expense if they will just hire the nearest farmer to manage their affairs.

On account of anybody who is still farming in 1960 obviously knows how to stay in business with costs going up and income coming down.

I see where some states have got a merit system on car insurance rates, whereby if you are a perfect driver you get a little reduction, but if you ever overlooked a stop sign you pay maybe double.

Which ought to soon get the careless drivers priced off the highways, but won't solve the traffic problem because it leaves wayward pedestrians unclobbered.

My super-market neighbor says what he would like to see is a law to make the stores charge jaywalkers 20 per cent extra for their groceries.

The Greenbelt Translator System was formed as a non-profit organization with the purpose in mind of bringing good TV to this area. Through a series of tests it was determined that this was entirely possible and practical.

► CAN I USE MY PRESENT TV?

Yes, by installing a converter and UHF antenna. Satisfactory reception will be guaranteed to each member.

► ADVANTAGES OF SYSTEM

1. It is unaffected by local noise.
2. It delivers a snow-free picture.

4. Channels 4, 7, and 10, all from Amarillo, will be delivered, giving all 3 major networks—CBS, NBC and ABC.
5. The equipment is designed to deliver excellent color signals.

► YOUR COST

Each subscriber will be required to pay $60 for the translator system and one year service. After the first year, the cost will not exceed $1.50 per month.

► YOUR COVERAGE

We guarantee a good picture in Collingsworth County, Arlie, Loco and Hollis areas.

► HOW SOON IN OPERATION?

That depends on you. As soon as the necessary money can be put in escrow we can make application for our F.C.C. permit, and get the ball rolling on our construction.

Applicant Can Speed Social Security Check

The person filing for social security payments can help speed the receipt of his first check, according to Hal Geldon, manager of the Amarillo social security office.

Geldon advised that all persons intending to retire should contact the Amarillo social security office one or two months before actual retirement. They should bring with them the papers necessary to establish their rights to benefits. These include the social security card, proof of age, and proof of earnings for last year. Proofs of earnings can be W-2 forms, or if the person was self-employed, the income tax return with Schedule C or Schedule F and the cancelled check with which the self-employment tax was paid. If the retiring person's wife is 62, she should bring proof of her age. Also, if there are any children under 18, their birth and baptismal certificates, or other proof of age, should be furnished.

Bringing these records, Mr. Geldon said, will save the individual time and trouble. Most important of all, it will help insure that his first social security check will arrive soon after retirement.

Mario Coleman in Teaching Program

DENTON.—Public school pupils in the North Texas area have some 250 North Texas State College students helping them with their studies this semester.

They are student teachers, enrolled in the NTSC program for the preparation of teachers. Most of them are assigned to schools in Denton, Dallas and Tarrant counties, although a few teach at more distant points.

Among those enrolled in this program during the fall semester is Jay Mario Coleman, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Coleman, Wellington, assigned to teach industrial arts at Denton high school.

Under the guidance of the classroom teacher, the students assist in planning and carrying out the regular instruction program as part of their work toward earning teaching certificates.

Student teachers working in schools close to the campus have been teaching for half a day all semester. Those further away spend full-time in the classrooms for nine weeks and take special courses on the NTSC campus the other nine weeks.

Approval Given for Merger of Two Companies

The Federal Power Commission last week-end approved the merger of El Paso Natural Gas Co., and Pacific Northwest Pipeline Corporation to create a huge new company which will stretch from the Mexican line to the Canadian border.

The action will combine into a single system of El Paso's facilities, which now serve markets in the Southwest and California, and Pacific's system, which extends from New Mexico to the United States-Canadian border in Washington state.

The commission's decision came only a few weeks after FPC examiner Daniel J. Kelley recommended the merger on the grounds that it was "required by the public convenience and necessity." Kelley's recommendation was made November 20 and oral arguments on his action were held earlier this month.

Representatives of the state of California and utilities in California strongly opposed the merger. California said that it would receive no benefits from the merger, and added that the state probably would have to pay the cost of higher rates which California said can be expected from the merger.

In approving the merger, the commission made it possible for El Paso, of El Paso, Texas, to bring into its corporate structure the Pacific Co., headquarters in Salt Lake City, Utah. Although El Paso acquired 99.8 per cent of Pacific's common stocks in 1957 the two companies have been operating independently.

Buffet originally referred to a small room in which china and glass were stored.

State Highway Department Ends 41 Years Work

AUSTIN.—The Texas Highway Department has just totaled its 41st year of operation. State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer said that 80 per cent of the funds expended during the past year were for construction, and 13 per cent for maintenance.

"Less than two-thirds of one per cent was spent for administration of the Highway Department, and the remaining six and one-third per cent went for the highway patrol and miscellaneous operations.

"The 80 per cent expended for construction is the largest per cent that has gone for this item since the few years soon after the creation of the Highway Department. Almost all of the expenditures went for construction in those early days, as the counties were responsible for highway maintenance at that time. The Department assumed maintenance of state highways in 1924.

"Over the 41 years, 70 per cent of the funds have been expended for construction," Greer said.

Greer stated that during the past year, 19 per cent of the revenue of the Department came from license plates, 32 per cent from the gasoline tax, 43 per cent from the federal government, and the remaining 6 per cent from miscellaneous sources.

In the 41 years of operation, $3.3 billion dollars have been spent on the Texas Highway system. The system now consists of 60,374 miles.

Fire Chief Hiram Cudd said the fire was caused by faulty wiring and was confined to the corner of the building where it first caught. None of the machines or other equipment in the laundry was damaged.

Farmers Should Check Employees Social Security

Now would be a good time for Panhandle farmers to make certain they have a social security number for each social security employee, according to Hal Gelson, manager of the Amarillo Social Security office.

Gelson said, "Farm wages are reported on a yearly basis and the report must be filed with the Director of Internal Revenue during January 1960 for covered employees who worked in 1959." Under the law, farm wages must be reported by a farm operator if he paid cash wages of at least $150 to a worker. If the operator did not pay at least $150 in wages he is still required to report the wages paid a worker if the individual worked on some part of 20 days on a time basis: such as by the hour, or by the day, etc.

Reports filed by area farmers last year showed a sharp increase in number and quality. Correct and complete reporting helps to guarantee that the employee receives full social security credit for the work done.

Crew Pushes Core Tests at Mangum Site

From the Mangum Star:
The weather hasn't been any help and core drillers at the Salt Fork dam site, eight miles southwest of Mangum, are still struggling to carry on shade tests despite cold rain and snow.

Tuesday, Bob Rothhammer of the Engineering Testing Co., of Wichita, Kan., had completed two of the 14 test holes to be put down in the rea. The purpose is to see whether shale in the area is 'tight' enough to impound water in the proposed reservoir at the dam site.

Thus far, all the shale tested has been 'tight', or capable of holding water, K. R. Cooper of Austin, Texas, reclamation bureau geologist, reported.

"We must check the average permeability of shale in each of the 14 holes to know whether the entire area is made up of water-holding shale," he added.

Located a half mile apart, the two holes were drilled to 1,117 and 2,102 feet. Four to five feet of gyp were found in the bottom of the holes.

Rothhammer has until March 1 to complete the 14 tests.

A drill rig mounted on a truck and a water pump are used for the core tests. The crew checks the permeability of the shale every 10 or 20 feet.

Buster Hughs and Clyde Ingram from Whites Auto Store are in Wichita Falls this week attending the spring and summer show and school of instructions held by the Whites stores there.

Rains Put Land in Good Shape for Terracing

A good many cooperators of the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District have decided to rebuild or construct new terraces. Some of those building new terraces are J. D. Wilson, W. C. Harwell, Leo Popwell, Farris J. Hess and James H. Wood.

Now is a good time to build terraces in this section of the Panhandle. The main purpose of terraces is to intercept the flow of water across cultivated land and either hold it or divert it to a safe outlet thus preventing erosion. With the erosion stopped the soil is kept on the fields where it can be of benefit to future generations as well as the present. Once the soil is washed down the creek it is of no value to anyone.

A second but equally important purpose of terraces in this area is to hold the runoff water on the land until it is absorbed. This additional moisture can greatly benefit the present crop. Mr. J. D. Wilson said that he had the best crop in years on some land that was completely re-terraced in 1958.

A good terrace system is hard to beat but a faulty or poorly laid out system is worse than no terraces at all. Be sure and contact the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District or the local Soil Conservation Service office for assistance in installing a correct terrace system.

British Commonwealth refers to those countries within the British sphere which are completely self-governing.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Writing from Washington, Wes Izzard, editor of the Amarillo News, has this to say about The Texan that he calls the amazing Mr. Johnson: "This single-mindedness and insistence on being prepared for every move may boost him into the Democratic presidential nomination. If that's what it takes, he has more of it than any of his competition. And there are some shrewd observers who scoffed at Johnson's chances nine months ago who now admit these chances are even and getting better every day."

On the same day Mr. Izzard's column appeared, the noon radio announced that Speaker Sam Rayburn had declined the proffered chairmanship of the Democratic National Convention for 1960. Obviously Mr. Rayburn feels that he can be of more service to his friend and fellow Texan working among the rank and file of delegates than he can from the exalted position of chairman of the convention which he has held for three consecutive times. The Johnson for President campaign is rolling right along in dead seriousness and is being considered seriously by people in all parts of the United States.

I have intimate contacts with small town editors in every state in the union, quite a number of whom are friends of many years' standing. From talking to them and reading their letters, I am of the opinion that Lyndon B. Johnson is the only Democrat who can beat Nixon. These small town editors do not believe that Kennedy, Stevenson, etc., can get the job done and some of the editors from Minnesota think that Humphrey is the most undesirable of all the candidates mentioned.

Some of my staunch Republican friends admit that a Democratic ticket of Johnson and Symington might very well leave Nixon wondering what hit his apple cart, but they say that with either Kennedy, Stevenson or the improbable Humphrey that Nixon would be a shoo-in.

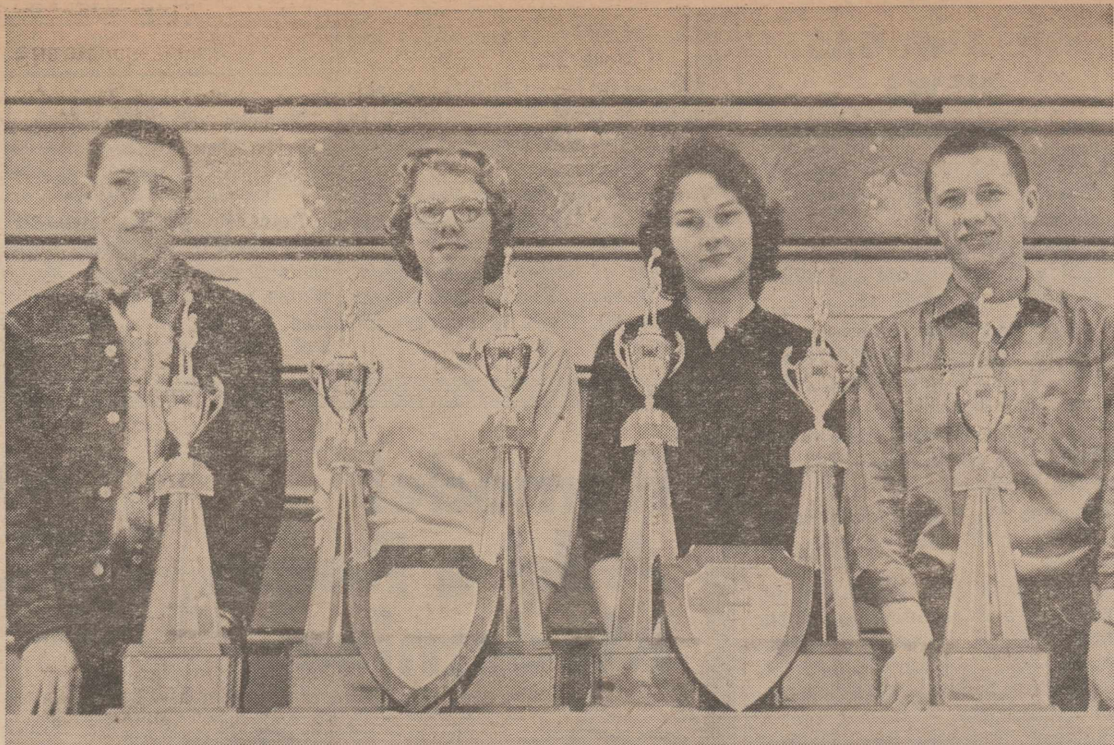

Another of the great pioneer women of Collingsworth county has passed on to her eternal rest. She was Mrs. S. L. Coleman who was buried last Friday in the Dozier land she loved so well. She was a part of the living history of Collingsworth county from nearly its beginning until the present day. She was one of those strong women who felt that the early days in spite of the arduous living conditions were remarkably good and full of hope and opportunity. She was such a gentle looking and kindly faced woman that it makes you pause and remember that she brought forth such strong sons and daughters to serve their country and their community so well in times of war and peace.

Lewis Graham has made a recording of Mrs. Coleman as she was interviewed by her son John as she told something of the early days. It is for the information of the young people who know little of the great but comparatively unsung people who built this community. It is history that you should hear.

I secured a job for our deaf mute printer in Dawson, Ga., and in looking it up to send him a clipping about the snow I ran into the fact that there is a Dallas, Georgia. The population is 1,928.

The train wreck in Wellington, Ohio caused more than one person to ask me how many Wellingtons there are in the United States. I believe there are nine, but I know the names of only four. They are in Texas, Ohio, Kansas and Colorado. But one time going from Dover to Calais, I happened to send a cablegram and the wireless operator got out his book and after some counting remarked: "Do you know that there are 113 Wellingtons in the world?"

My mother, who is ninety-two, still takes an interest in newspapers and has a remarkable memory. She read the item about John Roberts adventure with the rattlesnake in the middle of December and remarked that it was not so unusual for snakes to crawl out on the warm days in winter. She told me a tale of Morris Wells and myself who were playing in the back yard on Christmas eve and a big snake crawled out from under the kitchen into the warm sunlight and she called to us and we killed it with a couple of hoes. She said she welcomed the incident because it gave us something to talk about other than

WELLINGTON TOURNAMENT TROPHIES

Six of these eight handsome trophies awarded in the Wellington Invitational Basketball Tournament Saturday, January 9, remained with Collingsworth County teams. Exhibiting the trophies are the captains of the Rockets and Rockettes, host teams, Glen Lacy, Sharon Campbell, Jolene Groves and Butch White. Receiving the first, second and consolation place trophies, in that order, were Samnorwood, Paducah and Wellington A team boys, and Hedley, Wellington and Samnorwood girls. The shield trophies for sportsmanship went to Dodson girls and Quail boys.

when was Santa Claus going to come.

I may not be doing too well in selling advertising space these last two weeks, but I sure have been going to town as far as collecting food is concerned. After the paragraphs last week John Roberts brought me 12 quail and L. A. Gilmore gave me a bunch of smoked sausage. This reminds me that Mrs. Hayden Williams has not given us any wild plum preserves this year. If E. A. Singley still ran his flour mill, I figure that I could get along OK regardless of inflation, the Democrats, the Republicans and the bureaucrats. How the printers would get along is something I do not know.

Remodel Dodson Post Office

Remodeling the Dodson Post Office is under way and both the interior and exterior will receive a new look, Postmaster Howard Hunt said.

The outside will be refinished to match the First State Bank, which owns the building. The lobby and working areas will be textured and fluorescent lights will be put in, and the ceiling has been lowered. A window has been removed from the front.

Nunnolley

Mrs. Ernest Nunnolley and his wife is the former Melba Pendergrass of Quail. They have two small daughters, Tina Marie, 3, and Patricia Lee, 17 months. The family home is 1401 Floydada.

Nunnolley lived here until 1953, when he joined the Amarillo police department, with which he was associated until 1957, when he became a Texas Liquor Control Board officer. He resigned from this work May 31, 1958, and returned to Wellington to engage in farming southwest of town.

"I have worked with sheriff's departments, the Texas Department of Public Safety, the Liquor board, and all other types of law enforcement agencies, and I am familiar with the practical working of law enforcement at all levels," he said.

He added that he has attended a number of schools, including those conducted by the FBI and narcotics control agents, and others on city and state criminal investigation and law.

"I will try to see all of you before election, but if I miss some of you, I take this opportunity of asking your vote and support," he said.

Plans Complete for Revival at First Baptist

The Rev. Glenn E. Hickey announced that plans have been completed for the winter revival at First Baptist Church. The meeting will be held January 24 through February 3. Services will be conducted at 10:00 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. daily, with the pastor serving as the evangelist.

"An outstanding feature of the revival will be the musical program. The visiting singer for the meeting will be Arthur Fray, of Rosenberg, who has served various churches in Fort Worth and Arlington before going to the First Baptist church at Rosenberg. He is known as an outstanding soloist and choral director," Rev. Hickey said.

A special attendance drive for the revival is being led by the Sunday School Superintendent, Charles Cason Jr. Mr. Cason and a group of Sunday School leaders are enlisting nearly 200 of the members of First Baptist church to serve as "pew captains." Each of these pew captains will be responsible for filling a pew for one night during the revival meeting.

Three Slightly Hurt in Wreck

Three persons were slightly injured in a rear-end collision 4.3 miles south of Dodson Saturday, January 9, about 7:20 p.m.

According to Highway Patrolman Bobby Chaffin, a 1950 Chevrolet of which O. B. Bunton, Wellington negro, was driver, was parked on the pavement without the lights, when it was hit by a 1958 Ford Fordor, driven by Ira Morgan of Quail.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan were treated in Wellington for facial cuts. A. R. Robinson, another Wellington Negro, was slightly injured, Patrolman Chaffin said.

Bunton and a third man with him were uninjured. Both cars were headed north, the patrolman reported. Assisting in the investigation was Deputy Sheriff Kenneth Hodge.

Officers Buy Hub Cap Engraver

Police Chief Troy Marsh and Sheriff John Rainey have bought an engraver to mark hub caps in an effort to stop hub cap thefts in the county.

Chief Marsh estimated that at least $300 worth of hubcaps have been stolen in the last three months, most of them one car at a time.

Any person in the county can have his hubcaps engraved with his name or other identifying mark at a cost of 25 cents per set, Marsh said.

He also urged both teen-agers and adults to not park their cars in dark alleys or off-streets. Many youngsters frequently park their cars and go off with friends in another vehicle.

Those who park their cars are urged to leave them on the square where they can be easily watched.

Contractor Files Suit Against Housing Authority

A suit was filed January 6 in 100th District Court by S. P. Barker of Barker Construction Company, Quanah, against the Wellington Housing Authority.

The suit asks for $3,737.50 which Barker claims is due him. Of this, $787.50 is for caulking around windows which was not called for in the contract, and the remaining $2,950 is money that was withheld when the final payment was made.

The Housing Authority withheld this for overtime used in finishing the project, claiming 59 days overtime at the rate of $50 per day, as provided in the contract.

N. M. Higdon, contracting officer for the Housing Authority, told The Wellington Leader that the caulking was necessary when it was found that window frames did not come up against the walls. The contract did not call for caulking, but windows and walls were supposed to come together, and the only alternative would have been to tear out the walls, he said.

Mrs. Vaughan Under Treatment

Mrs. Henry Vaughan remained under medical care in Corsicana early this week for neck injuries received in a car accident there Christmas night.

Mr. and Mrs. Vaughan and her mother, Mrs. L. B. Wheeler, were en route to the home of her brother when the car was struck from behind during a fog, according to L. B. Bratten, nephew of Mrs. Vaughan.

The car was badly damaged but Mrs. Vaughan said repairs were completed during the week end. She and Mr. Vaughan plan to return as soon as she is released by her doctor.

Sears Award to Bill Durfey

Bill Durfey, freshman in Texas Tech, was one of 10 agriculture students to receive a $200 scholarship from the Sears Foundation.

Certificates were presented the 10, along with 8 home economics recipients, by W. C. O'Mara, the Sears Foundation representative at Lubbock.

Durfey, a 1959 Wellington graduate, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Durfey of Loco.

Mother of Mrs. Thomas Dies

Mrs. Susie Bennett of Ralls, the mother of Mrs. Zook Thomas, died Sunday, January 10, at 11 p.m. in St. Mary's Hospital, Lubbock. She was 85 years of age.

Funeral services were scheduled for Tuesday at 2 p.m. in the Church of Christ at Ralls, with burial in the cemetery there.

Mrs. Bennett had visited here a number of times through the years.

Two Charged on Thefts From Rig

Charges of theft over $50 were filed against two Dozier men in connection with stealing equipment from a drilling rig in the north part of the county December 30.

Arrested January 4 were Tom Barker, 32, and Geems C. Trent, about 30, Deputy Sheriff Kenneth Hodge reported.

The men admitted taking four 55-gallon steel drums, 30 gallons of gas, spouts, high pressure hose, and other items from the rig owned by James Colvin of Shamrock, Hodge said.

They were taken to Amarillo for lie detector tests in connection with other thefts, but were cleared on those. All stolen items except the gasoline were recovered, the Deputy said.

The two were arraigned before Judge Raymond Horton, justice of the peace, and were released on $2,000 bond each, awaiting action of the grand jury.
