Cable viewers get WFAA reprieve

A lot of behind-the-scenes negotiations have resulted in the continued carriage of WFAA-Dallas for local television cable subscribers.

Dale Mathis of Landmark Cablevision said Thursday that "Tuesday evening Landmark Cable was able to reach an agreement with S. M. Moore and Catclaw Communications for the lease of the Sweetwater microwave tower. With this agreement it allowed Landmark attorneys and Times Mirror Microwave attorneys to reach a temporary agreement for the continued carriage of WFAA."

Friday, November 15 was to have been the cut-off date for the popular Dallas station after Landmark and the Sweetwater cable company turned down a proposed contract from Times Mirror Microwave which called for a 200 percent increase in rate charged for the signal.

Mathis stressed that "the agreement with Catclaw is only on a month-by-month basis and can be canceled on a 30-day notice or by the sale of the microwave property in Sweetwater. The agreement relieved the pressure of Times Mirror of having to have its equipment off the tower by December 1."

"Another positive result was to allow the cable companies involved to continue their discussions with Times Mirror for carriage of WFAA on a permanent basis," said Mathis.

Mathis said that one solution that is being studied involves Colorado City and Sweetwater building their own microwave system that would tie in with cable systems east of Abilene. "If this is the case Colorado City would like to continue with Times Mirror service until the new system could be built," said Mathis, adding that it would take about six to eight months to build.

"With so many companies and individuals with those companies involved–the decisions are not simple," said Mathis. "Landmark Cable is committted to keep WFAA if it's humanly, technically and economically possible."

Loraine eyes street work

By Ray Mayo
Editor

The Loraine City Council, during its meeting Thursday, agreed to purchase a used grader to maintain streets.

John McMackin, a sales representative for Treanor Equipment Co. in Abilene, was at the meeting and described a number of options including purchase or lease purchase of a new machine or purchase of a used one.

The council agreed to purchase a used Galleon model for $15,000 if bank financing can be arranged. McMackin explained that a new motor grader would cost about $85,000.

Council members said the machine will be used to maintain streets as well as alleys.

Council members present were unanimous in their decision to purchase the machine, however Mayor J. R. Price said councilman J. C. Hall Jr., who was not present, was opposed to the idea because he felt the grader would not be used enough to justify its cost.

The city has been without a motor grader for several years and has had to rely upon Mitchell County to grade the streets.

Later in the meeting, the council agreed to write County Commissioner Bill Preston a thank-you letter for the recent work done on the streets.

A proposal to start a street paving program was tabled for the time being until more work is done on the streets once the motor grader is put into service.

The council discussed, but took no action, on the possibility of abolishing the taxation of motor vehicles. City secretary Christine Britton said that there is over $6,000 on the tax rolls in vehicle taxation and that the collection rate is about 75 percent. Vehicles not over 10 years old are taxed according to their value. The council decided not to abolish the tax, otherwise property taxes wouldhave to be raised to make up the difference.

In other business, the council tabled an agenda item concerning garbage collection. The city presently pays $775 a month to a private firm to have trash collected. The city is studying the possibility of using its own equipment and manpower to pick up garbage in order to save money.

Councilman Joel Ray Atkins asked and was given approval to extend Chief of Police Edgar Haltom's hours for a 90-day trial period. Atkins said that Haltom now works 12 hours a week and asked that up to six hours a week be added in an effort to better protect the city.

Atkins said it would be at his discretion on how many extra hours a week Haltom would work, but would not exceed six hours.

"I'm only asking this for the protection of the city," said Atkins.

The council agreed to a 90-day trial basis. Haltom is paid $3.35 an hour.

No action was taken on a proposal from Mayor Price concerning a pay increase for Mrs. Britton. Mrs. Britton took over the duties of city secretary in July at $750 a month. In September, her salary was raised to $850 a month. The council agreed to study the matter further after Mrs. Britton has completed some of the required courses.

Holiday mailing tips given

The holiday season is fast approaching and Colorado City Postmaster C. L. Greer and Westbrook officer-in-charge Donna Graham have a half a dozen "dos" and "don't" for customers who want to be sure their holiday parcels get delivered.

"Don't box yourself in"–Use the right container. Boxes must be adequate in size for the items being mailed and provide enough space for cushioning material. They must also be strong enough to hold the weight of their contents. If the box has adequate space for an address (cross out confusing information), it is not necessary to wrap it in paper. If paper is used, however, be sure it is equivalent to the kind used in grocery bags (60-pound weight). Fiberboard tubes and similar long packages are acceptable if their length does not exceed 10 times their girth.

"Give yourself some cushion"–Cushioning absorbs and distributes shock and virbration. Examples of good cushioning materials are foamed plastics, corrugated cardboard and loose fill material such as polystyrene, popcorn or shredded newspaper. Loose fill material should completely cover the items being mailed.

"Close parcels up right"–Use tape, not string or rope, to close packages. Cellophane and masking tape should not be used. Pressure sensitive, filament-reinforced tape is recommended and should be wrapped around the parcel at least twice.

"Addresses are important"–You can spend a fortune on wrapping, but your package will never reach its destination if it is not addressed right. Print or type the address clearly on one side of the parcel only. It is also a good idea to put the name and address inside the package in case the address label comes off.

"Don't mail your pet elephant!"–Packages must not exceed 70 pounds. They must also be at least 3½ inches wide and 5 inches long, and total length and girth cannot exceed 108 inches.

"Don't overinsure"–If your parcel is valuable you might want to insure it, but insure it only for its actual value. The Postal Service pays claims based on the actual value of lost or damaged items and not a higher insured amount.

"If you follow these six suggestions, it'll help us get your package where it's going on time and in good shape," said Graham and Greer.

Now is the idea time to insulate

EXTENSION NOTES

By Debbie Christian
County Extension Agent

After a summer of high cooling bills, fall has brought some relief in both the weather and our pocketbooks. But that relief may be short-lifed once winter sets in.

If you have been paying extra cooling or heating costs because you have uninsulated areas of your home, now might be the time to consider insulation.

In other homes especially, unfinished attics, finished attics between the ceiling joists, exterior walls, floors above crawl spaces or around a slab foundation may not be insulated. You can find out if you have insulation by visually inspecting these areas or having an "energy audit" done for your home.

If you decide to insulate, compare different products before buying. Each insulation product is given an R-value or rating number, to show how well it keeps heated air from flowing through it. The higher the R-value, the more it slows down air flow.

Most insulation has an R-value of only 3, 4, or 5 for each inch of thickness, so to reach higher R-values, it may be necessary to install several thicknesses of insulation or denser amounts.

All insulation should be installed with a moisture-vapor barrier. Otherwise, moisture generated inside your home may escape through ceilings or walls and may form condensation in attics and walls. Condensation causes insulation to "pack down" and to lose insulating potential.

Some insulation already has a moisture-vapor barrier attached to it. Or you can use 4 or 6-mil thick poyethlene sheeting as a barrier. Foil-backed gypsum board, if taped at the joints, also makes an effective moisture-vapor barrier. Regardless of the type of moisture-vapor barrier used, it should be placed next to the inside wall to prevent the movement of moisture through the insulation.

Whether you decide to install insulation as a do-it-yourself project, or plan to hire a professional, it can pay to inform yourself about the different types of insulation and their uses.

Maximizing grazing efficiency focal

Livestock producers in Texas are using planned grazing systems on about 15 million acres.

Kevin Wright, district conservationist for the USDA Soil Conservation Service at Colorado City, said that the efficiency of forage production is dependent on the health of the plants on rangeland.

"Plants capture solar energy in their leaves and use this energy to manufacture their own food," Wright said. "If these leaves are continuously grazed short, the plant will use all its stored food reserves, reduce forage production, and die."

Livestock are highly selective in what plant species they graze. They graze the best first and the worst last. They also like to come back to the same plant and graze it again because of the young tender regrowth.

Wright said this is why the better plants have been killed off rangeland, reducing forage production on much of it by up to 75 percent.

The loss of these better plants that the livestock prefer can be stopped and the process reversed if the rancher desires to maximize grazing efficiency.

To maximize grazing efficiency, the better plants must be made as healthy as possible. To accomplish this, they need a chance to grow without continually being grazed. Animal numbers need to be balanced to forage produced.

A planned grazing system, tailored to meet the needs of the plants, the livestock, and the rancher is the best way to maximize grazing efficiency, Wright stressed.

"You can't tell a cow what to eat, but you can limit the length of time and when she eats, using a tailor-made planned grazing system," said State Range Conservationist Thett Johnson of the Soil Conservation Service. Planned grazing systems can be applied using a rotation between as few as two pastures."

If you are interested in maximizing grazing efficiency and improving your grassland, contact your local Soil Conservation Service personnel. They give technical assistance to landowners and operators through soil and water conservation districts and can help to design a system to meet your needs.

Spring is the best time to start a planned grazing system, so now is the time to start planning.

4-H entry cards due

Mitchell County Extension Agent Mike Mauldin reminds 4-H members with livestock projects to fill out their entry cards Monday, November 18 at 6:30 p.m. at the C. C. Thompson Room.

"It's time to enter 4-H livestock projects at the 1986 major livestock shows," said Mauldin. "If you plan to enter any of the major shows please come to the C. C. Thompson Room in Colorado City on Monday night, November 18 at 6:30 p.m. to fill out and sign your entry cards."

Mauldin says each entrant must have their Social Security number on their entry card or the entries will not be accepted. The cards will be mailed on Tuesday, November 19.

Program expanded

AUSTIN–State Comptroller Bob Bullock has expanded a creative program to cut costs and improve efficiency in his office by offering internships to a handful of Texas' brightest college students.

Bullock said his office will select up to 10 outstanding college students each semester to work with management in the Comptroller's office in finding better ways to serve Texas taxpayers.

Last year, Bullock used a three-person team of agency employees, who were selected through competitive testing and interviews, to work on a wide range of agency problems and issues.

"That program has brought better procedures and better methods to many office functions and I've decided to recruit talented men and women from Texas college campuses to expand the program," Bullock said.

Bullock said he felt confident that students with new ideas and fresh vision could bring problem-solving techniques that could benefit the agency and Texas.

"Good ideas aren't the sole property of full-time state employees. A so-called outsider will have a different approach because they won't be directly tied to the day-to-day routine."

The Comptroller's Honors Intern Program will begin with a group starting to work in January. Three groups of students will be included in the program each year for four-month periods.

Bullock said that successful candidates for the program will be paid $1,251 per month while participating in the program.

He said the interns will work with the agency's professional staff in virtually all areas of the Comptroller functions including tax collection, electronic data processing, training, enforcement, administration, taxpayer services and executive administration.

Cook's Corner

Smith enjoys cooking international recipes

"You might say that cooking is a hobby with me," says wife and mother, Kleta Smith. "I like to prepare international type foods and my family is easy to please.

"There are some things certain ones in my family do not like, but I try to prepare enough at meal time so everyone eats something.

"I learned to cook from my mother and by the time I was in junior high, I was preparing the evening meal. My mom would make up the menu for me and I would prepare it. She worked and I had an older brother and a younger brother. They had chores they had to do to help out and I did the cooking.

"There was one request my husband, Bill, made before we were married. He wanted me to learn to bake an apple pie, his favorite dessert. My mother taught me how and it is his favorite. My whole family likes pies and when I do prepare one, it doesn't stay around very long."

The Smiths are parents of three children, Brian, eight years old; Stacy who is six and Autumn who has recently turned two years old.

"The only thing I really have trouble with is burning the toast. Every time I burn the toast the smoke alarm goes off and automatically the family knows that I must be preparing toast. The alarm used to frighten the kids, but they have gotten used to the sound."

She is sharing some recipes with RECORD readers today that might be useful in the upcoming holiday season.

NERVE PRESSURE CAUSES A DISTURBANCE

Accidents, falls, uneven stress, tension, over-exertion or any other factor which may cause a minor displacement or derangement of one or more of the vertebrae can cause irritation to spinal nerve roots. These, in turn, may cause malfunctions in your body.

Chiropractic teaches that nerve pressure, or nerve irritation, can cause a disturbance of delicate body functions resulting in increased susceptibility to disease process. By alleviating irritation to spinal nerve, your Chiropractor seeks to cause your body to operate more efficiently and more comfortably.

Place, time essential to study

(Third in a Series)

Your children need a place to study. Whether you live in a one-bedroom apartment or a sprawling ranchhouse, you can set aside a study area. It can be a desk in a bedroom or the kitchen table. But it must be fairly quiet with good light.

Children also need a time for studying. Help your children create schedules. If they set aside time for chores, work, fun, and study on a weekly basis, they can make better use of their time. These schedules should be flexible enough to allow trade-offs and shifts when necessary.

Previewing material. Encourage children to begin an assignment by previewing the material–for example, by reading the introduction to a chapter, the headings, and summary. This is like looking at a road map. Here they create a mental "map" of what is ahead. They complete the "map's" details when they read the chapter.

Reading and thinking. When reading the chapter, they should try to fit details into their mental "map." This is the time to use the attention-grabbing strategies–self talk, positive images, and questions. It helps if they pause before each new section to "test" their understanding. Using the strategies for learning and remembering, they can ask: "What conclusions can I draw from this? How should I categorize the information? Do I see analogies? What are the main ideas?"

Taking notes. Children can't remember everything they read. It will help them, though, to take notes of the main points. These notes serve as a summary of the most important points. The act of taking them and reviewing them will help the student to categorize the material, understand and remember it. And the notes will help in preparing for tests.

Self-Testing. Children should test themselves to see what they know and don't know. They can then apply their study time more efficiently to the sections on which they are weakest. You can help by making up test questions, for example, "What are the chief food products of the country being studied? Why? Do we use these in our home?"

Preparing for Tests. Encourage your children to prepare for tests by spacing studying over days or weeks. They should make sure they understand the material and relate it to what they already know. They should review it more than once. "Cramming" the night before is not a good idea, and it is important to get a good night's sleep.

Mike Ligon

Student of the week

Ligon stays busy at CHS

The controversial "no pass, no play" rule hasn't affected Colorado High School senior Mike Ligon.

The 17-year-old son of Ray and Brenda Mason says it's all "a matter of dividing up your time between school and athletics."

Ligon was quarterback for the CHS football team this past season and is now a member of the varsity basketball team.

While he admits that sports is his main interest, it's apparent he doesn't neglect his studies or otherwise he wouldn't be a member of the National Honor Society.

He also serves as secretary of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and plans to run track during the spring.

Ligon says it's hard to decide which sport is his favorite–"all of them are my favorite" he says diplomatically.

He was a quarterback his freshman and sophomore years and as junior on the varsity team, he was a receiver. He moved back to quarterback this year.

He expects to play point guard in basketball. He runs the 400 meters and 1600-meter relay in track.

"Last year, I went to regionals in the 400 meter and 1600-meter relay," he points out.

He was picked for the varsity track team when he was a freshman, and he admits he's had a close friendship with track coach Rick Robinson ever since.

"I think Coach Robinson has been an inspiration and helped me," he says. "I got to know him and became friends with him through track."

Life at CHS is anything but dull, Ligon notes.

"I stay pretty busy most of the time between school and athletics," he says.

Ligon plans to major in landscape architecture at Texas Tech University in Lubbock, explaining that a landscape architect designs the outside surroundings of homes and buildings.

"I've always liked it and been interested in it," he says of his intended career.

TO ALL INTERESTED PERSONS

You are hereby notified of the opportunity to request a public hearing and/or submit written comment concerning construction permit application No. C-9668 to 9673 and No. PSD-TX-661 by Texas Utilities Electric Company to construct natural gas and oil fired gas turbine facilities near Colorado City in Mitchell County, Texas. The proposed location is the Morgan Creek Plant on Highway 163 approximately four miles southwest of Colorado City. The proposed facilities will emit the following air contaminants in amounts significant enough to require a Prevention of Significant Deterioration (PSD) permit review: nitrogen oxides, sulfur dioxide and particulate matter. In addition, the proposed facilities will emit: volatile organic compounds and carbon monoxide. No other pollutant emission increase will result from this project.

The Executive Director of the Texas Air Control Board has determined that the proposed facilities will not violate any state or federal air quality regulations and will not have any significant adverse impact on soils, vegetation or visibility. He, therefore, has made the preliminary determination to issue these permit.

The degree of PSD increment predicted to be consumed by the proposed facility and other increment consuming sources in the area is as follows:

	Averaging Time	Maximum Increment Consumed (ug/m³)	Maximum Allowable Increment (ug/m³)
Sulfur Dioxide	3-hour	56	512
	24 hours	21	91

A copy of the administrative record, including all materials submitted by the applicant and additional information, are available at the office of Mrs. Debra Barber, Regional Director, Texas Air Control Board Region 1, at the Commerce Plaza Office Building, 1290 South Willis, Suite 205, Abilene, Texas 79605, telephone number (915) 698-9674, and at the Texas Air Control Board at 6330 Highway 290 East, Austin, Texas 78723. Interested parties may inspect these materials during regular business hours and submit written comments and/or request for hearing to the Executive Director of the Texas Air Control Board. Requests for hearing must be in writing and shall state the nature of the issue proposed to be raised in the hearing. Comments should be limited to the air pollution aspects of the proposed project and should not concern land use aspects which are beyond the jurisdiction of the Texas Air Control Board. All air pollution related comments received in writing by Dec. 21, 1985, will be considered by the Board in making its final decision of these applications. All comments will be available for public inspection at the Texas Air Control Board office in Austin.

IT'S THE COACH'S FAULT

Matthew 7:1-5

Richard R. Alkire - Pastor — First Baptist Church, Loraine, Texas

The world is full of armchair quarterbacks. During the football season, everyone is self-proclaimed critic of their favorite high school, college, or pro football team. Whenever the team does well, and is winning their games, everyone praise the team, coaching staff, and everyone involved. BUT when the team is LOSING,things aren't going their way.....FIRE THE COACH, IT'S HIS FAULT!!!!

We're that way in all phases of life. In government, church, and civic organizations, the pastor-president-leader is always blamed when things go wrong. No matter how good the coach is, the players must have the ability and work hard to win. It's the same way in all organizations. Instead of judging, we should take care of our affairs and let God take care of everybody else. He is capable of doing just. Remember what Jesus said in Matthew 7:1, "Do not judge lest you be judged."

If we are to get along in this world, we're going to have to learn to accept people as they are, and give credit where credit is due. We are commanded in God's Word to glorify Him in all that we say and do. We are also admonished to "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these thing will be added unto you" (Matthew 6:33).

Girls fall short in area match

By Tony Franco
Sports Editor

ABILENE–Colorado High School's volleyball team overcame a shaky start in its area title match against Breckenridge here last Tuesday night, but came up just three points shy of making Lubbock's Region I tournament following the 15-4, 12-15, 15-12 loss to the Buckaroos.

The area match marked Colorado City and Breckenridge's second consecutive meeting in the second round of the playoffs. The buckaroos defeated the Wolves in last year's area match also played at Hardin-Simmons University.

The Wolves end their season with a 14-6 record and another bi-district title. Breckenridge, 16-7 and representing district 6-AAA, now advances to the regional tournament where they last year lost to eventual state runner-up Fabens.

"The Colorado City team looked very good," said Buckaroos coach Sharee Cummings "much better than they did against Gatesville. It was a tough match, probably our toughest one of the year. I feel privileged to beat them." Of her team, Cummings said, "They were wonderful."

The second two games of the match were much more indicative of the close battle between the clubs following the Bucks lopsided victory in the opening game.

Breckenridge got seven of its 15 first game points on Colorado City errors committed by a shaky Wolves squad. Of the remaining eight points, five of the Breckenridge points were on unreturned serves.

Junior Holly Tarter served for three of the Wolves four points in the opening game and two of those three came on blocks by senior Sherry Fite. Diane Gregory served for the remaining point.

Three serves by Denise Jackson gave the Wolves an early 5-3 lead in the second and Colorado City kept it as late at 8-7 with one serve each by Yvonne Lujan, Tarter and Gregory.

Breckenridge scored the next four behind the spiking of Shannon Ludd and one Wolves error. Trailing 8-11, the Wolves made it 11-11 with one service point by Jackson and two by Gregory. Jackson's came on a spike by Tarter set up by Jody Huff and one of Gregory's points was a spike by Fite.

Breckenridge served for one point to take a temporary 12-11 lead before three service points by Lujan gave the Wolves the second game victory–one on a spike by Fite.

A spike by Gregory with Lujan serving gave Colorado City the first point of the third game, but five errant hits by the Wolves, helped Breckenridge to a 6-1 lead. A serve by Huff broke the Bucks streak and the Wolves made it 4-6 with two serves by Jackson.

A block and a spike by the Bucks Valerie Cooper and two Colorado City errors, again gave Breck a big 10-4 lead. A point saving dig by Gregory and a spike by Fite scored two of four straight Lujan serves that brought the Wolves back at 10-8.

Salina Eubanks served for the next two points to increase Breck's lead to 12-8 and got help on a kill and block by Carla Riggins. Facing three points from elimination, the Wolves again fought back to tie it at 12-12. Tarter served for one of the points in the four point stretch and Huff served for the other three–one scored on a block by Jackson. Breckenridge took a 13-12 lead on a spike by Tracye Perry and got the final two points on a Wolves player in the net and a bad set by Colorado City.

Said Wolves coach Cindy McMillin during a post-game meal, "It's been a pleasure coaching the girls this year."

VARSITY volleyball player Denise Jackson, a senior, makes a bump pass during Colorado High School's area match against Breckenridge Tuesday night. Jackson is a three year starter for the Wolves.

Basketball action starts this week

Mitchell County sports action, which saw the recent conclusion of football and volleyball seasons will now take to the court as Colorado City, Loraine and Westbrook varsity basketball teams all begin the 1985 season with games Tuesday night.

The Colorado City boys squad, fresh off consecutive trips to the playoffs, begins the season with an 8 p.m. tipoff Tuesday at Midland Greenwood. The Wolves varsity girls begin the season immediately prior to the boys with a 6:30 p.m. contest against the Rangerettes. Junior varsity contests will be at 5 p.m.

The Loraine boys and girls begin their season at Trent Tuesday, beginning with a 6:30 p.m. girls contest. Bulldog junior high teams will host Highland Monday at 6 p.m.

At Westbrook, varsity Wildcat teams will travel to Grady Tuesday for three games (A and B boys and girls) beginning at 5 p.m. Westbrook junior high teams will be at Roscoe Monday with a 4 p.m. start.

Landlords should be aware of laws

By Jim Mattox
Attorney General

If you are a tenant or a landlord, you should be familiar with the laws governing the renting of residential property. Laws concerning safety of tenants are often quite specific in their requirements.

The landlord has an obligation to install the following security devices if requested to do so by the tenant:

–one interior window lock or latch per window;

–one pin lock that operates without a key for each sliding glass door;

–one deadbolt lock, operated from the outside by key and from the inside without a key, per exterior door, excluding sliding glass doors, screen doors and garage doors;

–one night latch per exterior door, except on sliding, screen and garage doors.

If the tenant has a written lease, the landlord may require the request for security devices to be in writing. The landlord may decide how and where security devices are installed generally and may charge the tenant for the cost of installation. The landlord may not make a profit on the transaction.

In certain instances, the landlord must install the locks and latches without reimbursement from the tenant. For example, if the apartment has not had a window latch at all, the landlord must install one without charge. Likewise, if the partment has had no deadbolt or doorknob lock during the time the tenant has lived in the apartment, the landlord may not charge for installation of the lock.

A landlord must comply with a request to install the locks or change or re-key them within 15 days on receiving the request, except under certain circumstances such as illness or a death in the family.

If you need more help or information on this or other consumer problems, contact your nearest Attorney General Consumer Protection Office (in Austin, Dallas, El Paso, Houston, Lubbock, McAllen and San Antonio). The Attorney General's Office is the people's law firm. We're here to help you.

PUBLIC NOTICE

PUBLIC NOTICE

No trespassing on the Maude Feaster estate, located approximately 9 miles north of Colorado City.

TO ALL INTERESTED PERSONS

You are hereby notified of the opportunity to request a public hearing and/or submit written comment concerning construction permit applications No. C-9668 to 9673 and No. PSD-TX-661 by Texas Utilities Electric Company to construct natural gas and oil fired gas turbine facilities near Colorado City in Mitchell County, Texas. The proposed location is the Morgan Creek Plant on Highway 163 approximately four miles southwest of Colorado City. The proposed facilities will emit the following air contaminants in amounts significant enough to require a Prevention of Significant Deterioration (PSD) permit review: nitrogen oxides, sulfur dioxide and particulate matter. In addition, the proposed facilities will emit: volatile organic compounds and carbon monoxide. No other pollutant emission increase will result from this project.

The Executive Director of the Texas Air Control Board has determined that the proposed facilities will not violate any state or federal air quality regulations and will not have any significant adverse impact on soils, vegetation or visibility. He, therefore, has made the preliminary determination to issue these permits.

The degree of PSD increment predicted to be consumed by the proposed facility and other increment consuming sources in the area is as follows:

Sulfur Dioxide, averaging time, 3-hour, maximum increment Consumed (ug/m) 56, Maximum Allowable Increment (ug/m) 512; Sulfur Dioxide, averaging time, 24-hour, Maximum Increment Consumed (ug/m) 21, Maximum Allowable Increment (ug/m) 91.

A copy of the administrative record, including all materials submitted by the applicant and additional information, are available at the office of Mrs. Debra Barber, Regional Director, Texas Air Control Board Region 1, at the Commerce Plaza Office Building, 1290 South Willis, Suite 205, Abilene, Texas 79605, telephone number (915) 698-9674, and at the Texas Air Control Board at 6330 Highway 290 East, Austin, Texas 79723. Interested parties may inspect these materials during regular business hours and submit written comments and/or request for hearing to the Executive Director of the Texas Air Control Board. Requests for hearing must be in writing and shall state the nature of the issues proposed to be raised in the hearing. Comments should be limited to the air pollution aspects of the proposed project and should not concern land use aspects which are beyond the jurisdiction of the Texas Air Control Board. All air pollution related comments received in writing by December 21, 1985, will be considered by the Board in making its final decision on these applications. All comments will be available for public inspection at the Texas Air Control Board office in Austin.

Meatless meals offer an excellent way to reduce the total fat content of your diet, especially the saturated fat found in meat. This Spinach and Brown Rice Casserole is economical and will satisfy all your hungry diners.

Spinach and Brown Rice Casserole

- 1 Tablespoon Oil
- 1 Large Onion, Chopped
- 2 Cups Mushrooms, Sliced
- 1 Clove Garlic
- 1 Egg
- 1 Tablespoon Whole Wheat Flour
- 2 Cups Low-Fat Cottage Cheese
- 10 Ounces Frozen Chopped Spinach, Drained
- 3 Cups Cooked Brown Rice
- Freshly Ground Black Pepper
- ½ Teaspoon Thyme
- 2 Tablespoons Parmesan Cheese
- 2 Tablespoons Sunflower Seeds

Heat oil in a Dutch oven and sauté onion, mushrooms and garlic until tender.

In a small bowl, mix egg, flour and cottage cheese. Add to sautéed vegetables along with spinach. Stir rice, pepper, thyme and 1 tablespoon of parmesan cheese.

Turn into a greased 12 x 8-inch baking dish and top with remaining parmesan cheese and sunflower seeds.

Bake at 375 degrees F for at least 30 minutes.

Yield: 8 Servings
Approx. Cal/Serv.: 210

Recipe Tip: For vegetarian meals, the problem is not getting enough protein, but how to choose combinations of food which contain essential amino acids that must be present at the same time to make new protein. For example, wheat and beans supplement each other if eaten together, as do peanuts and sunflower seeds, and rice and beans.
