

THOUSANDS ATTEND ARMISTICE DAY FETE

LEGION CARNIVAL AND PARADE MOST SUCCESSFUL EVER HELD IN THE CITY

A crowd estimated at as high as ten thousand persons witnessed the Armistice Day parade here last Thursday. It was, in the opinion of many of the old timers, one of the largest all-day crowds ever seen in the city. From early morning until after ten o'clock at night there was no vacant parking space around the square and on many of the streets leading thereto.

The parade, which was about an hour late in starting from the high school block, was over a mile long and along the entire route, which was through the entire business section of the city, was witnessed by throngs of persons which jammed the sidewalk space. It was by far the most pretentious and colorful pageant that has ever traversed the city streets. While there were several floats, elaborately and patriotically decorated, for the most part the caravan was made up of bunting and flag decorated cars, with here and there a bit of comedy.

The Elida and the Portales bands, the latter costumed in clownish attire, furnished the music for the occasion, and plentiful comment was heard in praise of both organizations.

Thursday afternoon the program was continued with speeches at the band stand on the court house square by Carl Magee, editor of the New Mexican State Tribune, and Col. J. D. Atwood, of Roswell, former department commander of the Legion in New Mexico. Colonel Atwood's address was one of the best ever heard in the city, and as this was his first speech here, the people of Portales learned something of the magic of his oratory. He spoke along general lines in connection with Armistice Day and events leading up to the ending of the world war and the care of the disabled veterans.

Magee, of course, attracted hundreds to the speaking. Putting his speech, Mr. Magee declared that when the next war comes, as come it surely will, the nation should not stop at conscription of manpower, but should draft the wealth and industry of the nation. The striking coincidence in connection with this declaration was that at precisely the same hour, President Coolidge, speaking in Kansas City at the dedication of the big war memorial, made the same declaration in practically the same words.

Speeches pressed forward after the speaking to shake hands with the speakers and for some time the two gentlemen held an informal reception at the band stand.

After the speaking the legion carnival at the big tent was opened in full blast and thousands of persons thronged it all day and until midnight. Both theatres were open for an afternoon matinee, and standing room was at a premium during the day and night at both of them.

Friday and Saturday the celebration fever had somewhat subsided, but there was a good attendance at the legion tent and at the theatres, during the afternoons and nights.

From an entertainment standpoint the carnival was a great success, and it is understood that the legion post here cleared a rather neat sum of money which is to go into the memorial fund.

THEY JUST MARCHED UP AND PLEADED GUILTY

District Judge Hatch, Court Stenographer Holmes, District Attorney C. M. Compton, and Assistant J. C. Compton went on a deer hunt north of Tucuman last week. Nothing could be expected from this combination but for the deer to walk up and plead guilty, your honor.

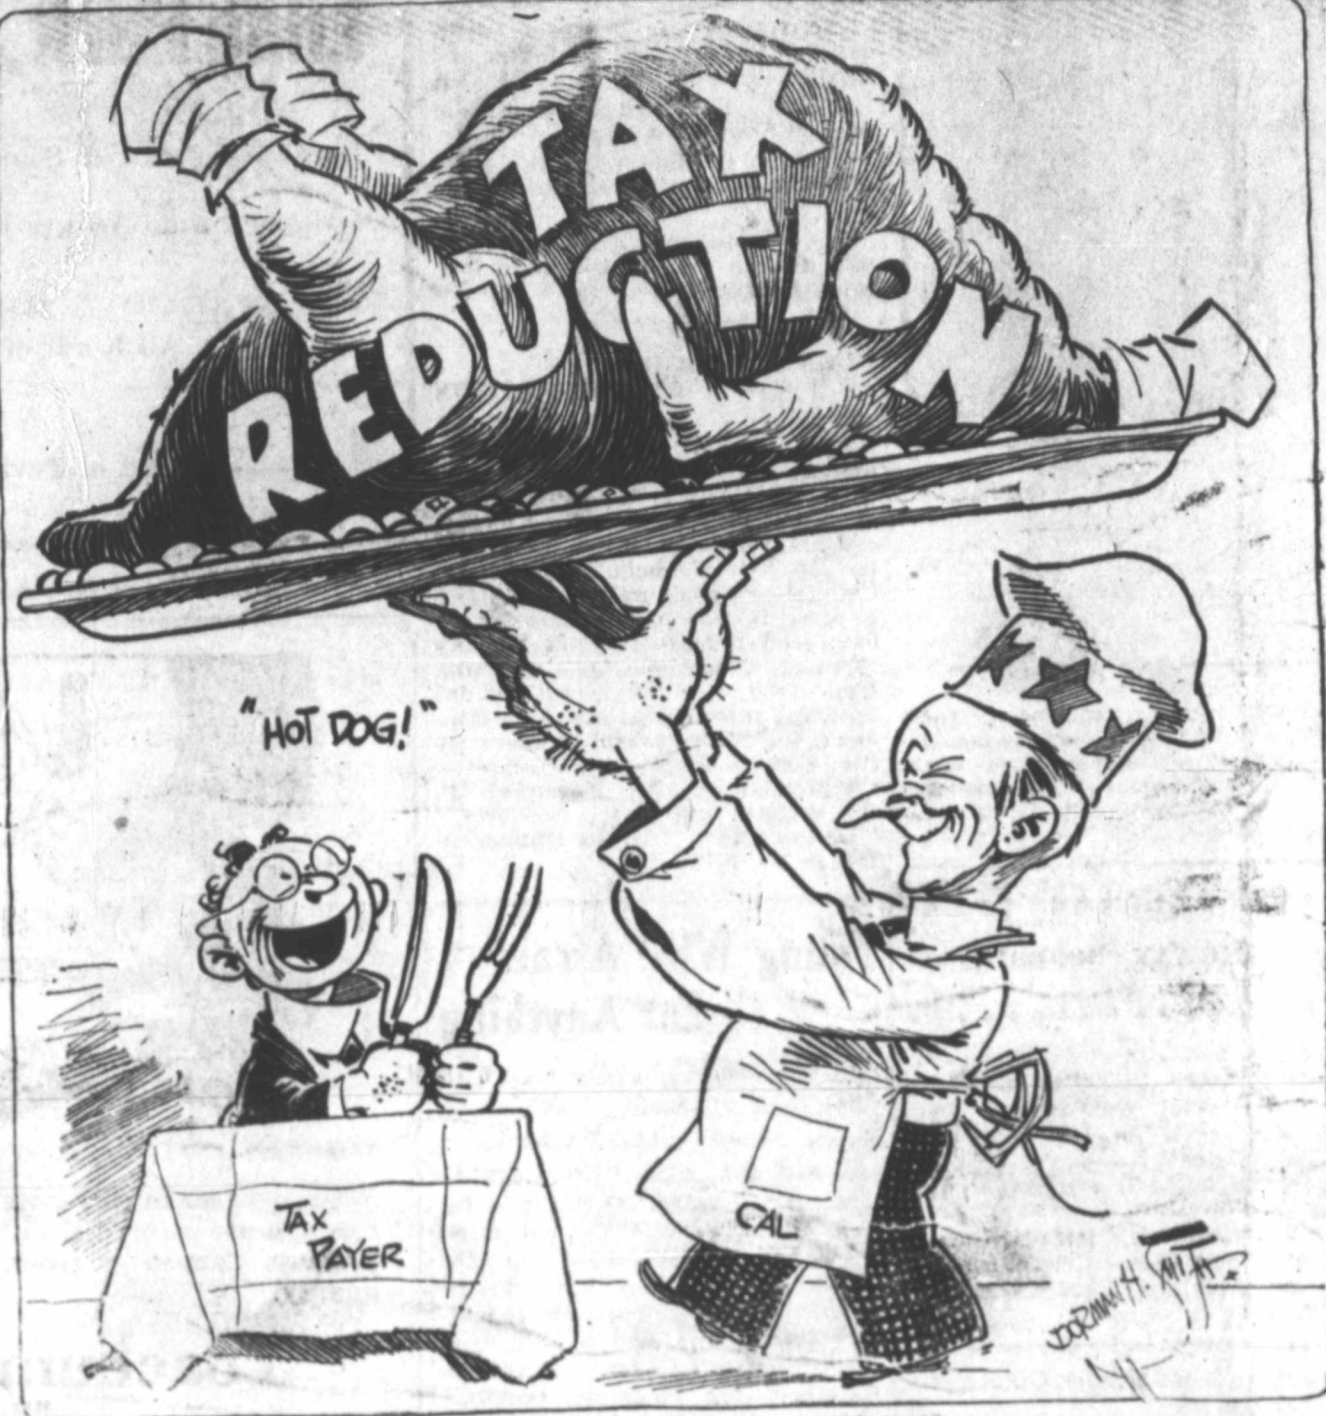

The results was the bagging of three bucks.

The Portales neighbors of Judge Compton dined on venison last Sunday.

BOYS SCOUTS MEET

The Boys Scout District meeting was held in Portales Saturday beginning at one o'clock. Troops were present from Clovis, Melrose, Texico-Farwell and the Portales Troops. The afternoon was spent in contests between these troops. Portales troops were victorious in the field contest in making 84 points. Melrose made 71; Clovis 49; Texico 13 troop 26 and Texico 6. Portales scouts won first place in knot tying, fire by friction, fire building, skinning the snake, antelope race and tug-of-war. They won second place in troop yell, flag and steel, and the 3-legged race. They took third place in archery. Paul Revere rescue race, and chariot race. E. N. Wheeler local scoutmaster of Portales troop deserves the credit for Portales troop honors. He is one of the most efficient and faithful of scoutmasters anywhere, and he is doing a most wonderful work for good among these boys. Minor Huffman, Boy Scout Executive was present and supervised the meet.

OUR CHEF IS GOOD AT THIS

CORE DRILL TO TEST N. M. POTASH BEDS

CONTRACT LET BY BUREAU OF MINES FOR THIS EXPLORATION

Santa Fe, Nov. 14.—Field men of the U. S. geological survey, New Mexico announce additional information regarding a resource more important than oil wells. This information made public today concerns potash—increasing evidence of the similarity of American deposits to the famous deposits of France and Germany of which the United States last year imported $17,000,000 worth in the form of potash salts.

Four of the potash minerals found in southeastern New Mexico—namely sylvite, kainite, polyhalite, (both red and white) and langbeinite. The latter two had not been previously reported in the United States. The quantitative information necessary as a basis for commercial exploration of the New Mexico potash deposits can be obtained only by core drilling. Fortunately, public interest in the commercial possibilities of these beds is increasing, private organizations are making core tests at different points, and whenever possible the government is cooperating with these organizations.

Moreover the last congress appropriated $100,000 for potash explorations during the current year under the joint auspices of the department of the interior and commerce. The geological survey is to select the sites, make the analysis and tests, and report the results. The bureau of mines is to make the necessary contracts with the owners, lessees, and drillers and to have the general direction of the drilling operations.

Core drilling will be done in the New Mexico area and the tests thus made will provide a means for determining the thickness and potash contents of the beds penetrated and will show the problems to be met in mining. As long as 25 years ago, traces of potash were found adjacent to the alkali and salt lakes in Torrance county but thus far there has been no core drilling.

A Bigger One Got Away
Last summer Edwin Neer and H. H. Buchanan went to the mountains on a fishing trip. On their return nothing definite could be learned of their catch, but recently word drifted in to this effect:

E. N. was whipping the stream for trout when a native came up. Had any luck? he inquired.

Just one, answered E. N.

Of good weight? ventured the native.

Well, replied Edwin, to tell you the truth, I haven't weighed it yet, but when I pulled it out, the river went down three inches.

Tom McCauley, Carl Yonchum and Miss Mae Belle McCarty accompanied Miss Naomi McCarty to Texico Sunday.

THANKSGIVING

Owing to the fact that Thanksgiving comes on present day, the Portales Valley News will publish on Wednesday of next week. Advertisers and contributors are urged to get their copy in early, so that everything will work smoothly at this end. The News office will be closed on Thursday afternoon.

Santa Claus Letters

Arch. N. M.
Nov. 12th, 1926.

Dear Editor:
I think there is a real Santa Claus because my daddy was Santa Claus here at Arch last Christmas, and I know his voice when he came in.

I am 8 years old. I like to read the Portales Valley News.

I will be glad when Christmas comes and Santa Claus brings our toys. I want a little clock stove or dresser. If you see Santa tell him to hurry.

Your friend,
Otera Pate.

Elida, N. M., Nov. 12, 1926

Dear Editor:
Your question whether there was a real Santa Claus aroused me very much. Of course there is a Santa Claus. If there wasn't where would we get our dolls and drums and sugar plums, nice chocolates and all sorts of candy and all other play pretties and all sorts of other things imaginable.

All children like Santa Claus because he makes toys. This is all I have to say this time.

Yours truly,
Irene Saffley.

Some Damage
By High Wind

Tuesday Portales experienced the worst windstorm in years. The wind filled with sand and dust blew all day making it very disagreeable for those who had to be out in the weather.

Along about four in the evening it reached its height, taking off several sections of the roofing of the Kemp Lumber Co.'s building.

Between Clovis and Portales one of the high line poles went down putting this line out of commission and making it necessary to fire up the plant in Portales.

In town several wires were blown and broken down. The wires serving the Portales Valley News went down with the roof of the Kemp Lumber Co., but the quick work of the N. M. Utilities soon had them back in working condition.

In the country many bales of cotton were blown out, and several auto tops were wrecked.

ROSSELL HI DEFEATS PORTALES, 13 TO 0

RAMS CLASSED BEST TEAM COYOTES HAVE PLAYED THIS SEASON

A rebuilt and reorganized Coyotes football machine defeated Portales high school here yesterday afternoon by a score of 13-0. The game was played at Thorne park before only a small crowd. Next to the El Paso game the Coyotes had played by far the best high school football game seen here this year.

The Coyotes scored in the third period, Johnson going over the line for two touchdowns doing the booting. The referee's whistle saved another score in the closing moments of the game when the Coyotes had placed the ball on the Portales one yard line.

Tengue and Cagle played their usual spectacular game at ends yesterday, breaking up many plays. Poe Corn proved that he had all the stuff necessary to make of a real quarterback. Johnson played an excellent game at half as did Mitchell who accounted for many of the Coyote gains through the line and around the ends.

The Coyotes presented an entirely new front in their game against Portales yesterday. They had the fighting spirit necessary to win football games and aside from a few fumbles in the early part of the game the Coyote machine was running smoothly. It was a team yesterday which might easily have defeated Clovis as Portales has a much better team than Clovis.

Portales presented one of the best coached football teams seen here this year. It was a great little football team, possessed of a real fighting spirit, and with a variety of plays which win football games.

With a mentor like Portales the Coyotes 1926 football season would have been a different story.

Heb Corn suffering from a bad knee since the El Paso game, went in for a few plays yesterday and demonstrated that he has not lost the power to be good for gains each time he starts with the oval.

It is expected that Corn, Brown and Flood will be back in shape for the annual battle with Las Cruces which will be played at Las Cruces on Thanksgiving day.

From a look of the Coyotes in their game yesterday they have at least the makings of a first class team. The players of eastern New Mexico, west Texas and Oklahoma, Mr. Gould was the geologist directly responsible for the work in connection with the discovery of the gas wells at Amarillo, Texas, which led to the recent oil boom at that place.

More than ten of the leading accredited companies have joined together in this work and it is expected that the result will be one of the greatest movements for the benefit of the oil industry in the state as well as in Texas and Oklahoma. Tucuman will be the first stop made by the party.

Mr. and Mrs. U. V. Dobbs who have been visiting his mother, Mrs. C. M. Dobbs returned last week to their home at Grant, Neb.

CONFERENCE DECISION TO BE KNOWN MCH. 1

PROPOSAL TO MOVE COLLEGE FROM CLARENDON MEETS MUCH OPPOSITION

Amarillo, Texas, Nov. 17.—An executive committee of the Northwest Texas Conference, Methodist church, to receive proposals for a new location for Clarendon college, will be in Amarillo on December 1, it was learned yesterday.

The committee, which was named at the conference last week in Childress, will be in Clarendon on the previous day.

Permanent location of the college will be determined at a called session of the conference on March 1.

Whether or not the college is to remain at Clarendon or will be moved to some other city will be settled once and for all at this meeting upon the final report of the executive committee of seven appointed by Bishop John M. Moore.

The committee will go to Clarendon on November 30 to hear offers from that city and on the following day will be in Amarillo.

The relocation of the Methodist school has been a conference question for some time, church officials say, and at the recent annual meeting the question became so acute that a general committee of 25 was named by the bishop to look into the advisability of moving the school. The report of the general committee resulted in the appointment of the seven executive committeemen empowered to accept or reject proposals.

While it is the general information that the school will remain at Clarendon permanently or will be relocated at Amarillo depends upon the offers made by the two cities, church heads here say that proposals from other cities will be considered.

More Elections
YET TO COME

Elections are not over yet. In January there will be a justice of the peace and a constable to elect in each precinct.

This election should be ordered at the next meeting of the Board of County Commissioners.

In April there will be an election of school directors for the Portales Independent School District. There will be four to elect at this time. Now is a good time to begin thinking this matter over so that at the very best material obtainable may be elected. This is one of the most important elections of all.

RESEARCH WORK IN STATE

Santa Fe, Nov. 15.—Charles Gould, state geologist of Oklahoma and a party of geologists and field men representing the principal oil companies operating in the southwest, left Monday for the eastern part of the state to begin research work for the purpose of correlating the geological formations of the first of eastern New Mexico, west Texas and Oklahoma. Mr. Gould was the geologist directly responsible for the work in connection with the discovery of the gas wells at Amarillo, Texas, which led to the recent oil boom at that place.

More than ten of the leading accredited companies have joined together in this work and it is expected that the result will be one of the greatest movements for the benefit of the oil industry in the state as well as in Texas and Oklahoma. Tucuman will be the first stop made by the party.

Mr. and Mrs. U. V. Dobbs who have been visiting his mother, Mrs. C. M. Dobbs returned last week to their home at Grant, Neb.

WILL CLOSE FOR THANKSGIVING

The Famous and Joyce-Fruit Dry Goods Stores announce that they will be closed all day Thanksgiving. At the time of going to press the News has no statement from the other stores, but it is safe to say that they will follow the custom of years past and close on this day.

Farmers and others living out of town will find it to their advantage to do their trading earlier in the week, so that all can enjoy the holiday without inconvenience to any one.

"UNCLE JOE" CANNON PASSES AWAY FRIDAY

Danville, Ill., Nov. 12.—Joseph Cannon, for half a century one of the nation's foremost statesmen, died here shortly after noon Friday. Myocarditis was given as the immediate cause of his death.

Death came quietly, in contrast to the dynamical vital life of the man America knew and dearly loved. The only semblance to the great, bustling, fighting ex-spoken of the house of representatives was the strong bearded face.

Cannon's body was racked by almost 31 years of strenuous life and weakened by almost a year of continuous illness, but he summoned enough courage to smile just before the end came.

Everybody here was a friend of Joe Cannon, and when news of his death spread over the city, the citizenship moved in the direction of his home.

Some walked, a few rode in limousines, but the majority plotted their way in creaky automobiles—just plain Americans who liked Uncle Joe. They were told there was nothing to be done. But they gathered in little groups to talk.

Realizing that life's sunset was approaching the veteran statesman recently completed his own tomb, which he visited regularly to see that the flowers were cared for.

At the bedside when death came were Mrs. Ernest N. Leasure and Miss Helen Cannon, both daughters; Dr. Wilkinson, personal physician; a nurse, and Gordon, a negro chauffeur and personal servant.

Cannon's republicanism was born with the republican party, and he died steadfast in his faith. It was said of him that "the old guard might relent—but Cannon, never."

A Boomerang

During the recent campaign when four prominent Roosevelt county republicans were campaigning in the Dona community the only disqualification that the candidate for county treasurer could think of was that the present incumbent was in the real estate and insurance business. In laying this claim before the public, Mrs. Watts, republican candidate for sheriff, said, "Hold on there, if that disqualifies him it will also disqualify me. I am in the insurance and real estate business too."

MRS. J. F. HOLDER
PASSES AWAY

Portales people were shocked Thursday morning, November 18, at the news that Mrs. J. F. Holder had passed away. Death came about 6 a. m. and was due to a long disease tuberculosis, she had been a victim of this disease for two years and was seemingly getting along nicely when Monday evening she had a hemorrhage, and another Wednesday morning, from which she did not recover.

Mrs. Holder was born, Minnie Tisdale, in Arkansas, October 21, 1881. She was united in marriage to J. F. Holder, September 8, 1904. To this union five children have been born, Lella Mae, who died at the age of 15 months, Jewell, Opal, Ruby and Emerald, who were at the bedside when the end came.

Mrs. Holder was converted at the age of thirteen and joined the Methodist church. She has always been an active member, teaching Sunday school, and other church work. She always put Christ first in her life.

Two years ago the family moved to Portales for the benefit of Mrs. Holder's health, and the change seemed to be doing her good, until a severe cough brought about the hemorrhage. Mrs. Holder was a faithful wife and a devoted mother, and made a host of friends during her stay in Portales. The family have the deepest sympathy of the entire town.

The funeral service was held at the Methodist church at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. Rev. Thurston conducted the services, and afterwards the remains were laid to rest in Portales cemetery.

The Work of God

And in every work that he began in the service of the house of God, and in the law, and in the commandments, to seek his God, he did it with all his heart, and prospered.—2 Chron. 31:21.

Give me within the work which calls today.
To see Thy finger gently beckoning on;
No struggle grows to freedom, work to play.

And tolls begun from Thee to These are done.—J. F. Clark.

God is a kind Father. He sets us all in the places where He wishes us to be employed; and that employment is truly "our Father's business." He chooses work for every creature which will be delightful to them. If they do it simply and humbly, He gives us always strength enough, and sense enough, for what He wants us to do; if we either tire ourselves or puzzle ourselves, it is our own fault. And we may always be sure, whatever we are doing, that we cannot be pleasing Him, if we are not happy ourselves.—J. Ruskin.

Boy Scouts

For some time the News has endeavored to bring before the parents and citizens of Portales the importance of the Boy Scout movement, and the need of financial aid so that they may get full benefit from the area work. For the past two years the Portales Scouts have received this benefit, but no financial assistance has been given by Portales. The News feels that Portales should be too independent to be placed on the charity list. That Portales should be proud to carry her part of the load. Perhaps the importance of this move can be better expressed by the following editorial which recently appeared in the New Mexico State Tribune from the pen of Carl C. Magee. While written in the interest of the Scout movement in Albuquerque, it equally applies to Portales.

"The Boy Scouts are asking for financial help to carry on their project. They ought to have it. The territory, of which Albuquerque is the center, has an excellent scout executive and a fine, upstanding group of scoutmasters. These keep the morale and work of the scouts at high pitch, without regard to some misfits on the scout council. The latter fact should deter no one from lending his financial assistance to this great organization.

"The Boy Scout movement is a great thing for boys. My oldest son, now deceased, joined the scouts during the first year of the existence of the organization, 15 or so years ago. I watched at first hand the enormous part the scouts played in the development of his body, mind and, more especially, his character. After his maturity he gave the scout movement much credit for his ideals.

"In recent years I have seen the benefits of the scout influence on my younger son. I have watched its effect on many other boys. I am able to pronounce it good.

"No task so important as the development in body, mind and character of our boys and girls confronts any parent. Sometimes we forget, under the hourly pressure of business or other duties, and neglect our children. It is our bitterest mistake. Nothing so affects the future happiness, or woe, of parents as their children. For them to develop into strong, self-reliant, worthy members of society is our greatest joy in life. For them to be defective in physique, mind or moral character brings us grief untold.

"The day the boy or girl ceases to be a little child and passes beyond the reach of the mother-wing, the danger begins. School brings new contacts. It is impossible that these be altogether good and wholesome. The church tends to lose its hold on them to a degree. There is a distinct relaxing of the control of infancy.

"Here the scout movement steps in with the boys and supplies a supervision and direction to their liking. They love the activities of the scouts. Yet these all these help in building bodies and minds. They teach honor and self-reliance and self-control. America could ill spare this great organization, devoted to the development of manhood in our boys.

"Those without boys of their own should be interested in other men's boys. No one should lack an abiding desire to help the scout movement along.

"The man who doesn't love boys is not a normal man. He lacks memory and vision; memory of the problems of his own boyhood and with its conflicting, undisciplined emotions and general lack of control; vision of the possibilities, under proper guidance, of a stalwart, useful manhood.

"Contributions to the Boy Scout fund should come easy. In fact, many should make it voluntary. No solicitation should be necessary. Let everyone help. Don't turn down the boys."

'Let's Quit Advertising'

Men who in other respects seem to be in full possession of their faculties give evidence of mental weakness every now and then by uttering the words, 'Let's quit advertising.' They are quite willing to spend thousands of dollars for salesmen and personal representatives of that sort, but now and then advertising seems to be too expensive and they think they can lay up a fortune by refusing to invest any more money in printed publicity.

It was only a short time ago that David I. Walsh, twice governor of Massachusetts and for six years its representative in the United States, learned that even a politician's advertising must be kept up. When Mr. Walsh appeared at a hearing before the State Department of public Utilities in the State House, he was greeted by a stenographer reporter with the query, your name please.

A few years ago no stenographer reporter or any one else around the State House would have asked such a question. At that time the name of David I. Walsh was advertised and his picture was printed frequently.

The merchant who plans to give up advertising simply advertises that they are suffering from hardening of the mind.

Quite a number of newspaper fellows at various points in the state, and several people in Roswell, have not yet lost all of their indignation over the presence in Roswell and the eastern part of the state of a number of agents of the Department of Justice, sent here to keep an investigative eye on the election. There is absolutely no reason for anybody to have a fit over these gentlemen and ladies who so courteously dropped on us. No one who is running a square game needs to take umbrage over all of the investigation that anybody wants to pull off, and those who were running a straight deal anyhow might better have saved the heat for the cold day that last Tuesday proved to be. If all grew out of the conditions which unquestionably prevailed at the spring primaries, and as this was a congressional as well as a state election, it was perfectly natural that the department of justice should study the situation. Naturally they found nothing to engage their particular attention. Governor Hackett was right in attempting to start something toward a decent election plan, though in the light of the decisions, it is conceded that he may have gone at it unfortunately. Apparently the best that we can hope for in this generation is to dislodge the primaries a bit. In this part of the state the most severe form of a direct primary would be unanimously favored, but it may not be wholly practicable all over the state. Until some reform is effected, there is no justification for any squeamishness about the presence of whole flocks of department of justice agents, in Roswell, Carlsbad, Clovis or anywhere else. Southwestern Dispatch.

The farmer with a few hundred hens and turkeys some hogs and dairy cows need not worry about the price of farm crops. Turkeys and fat hogs are bringing a good price. Eggs make the town dwellers wish for the farm life and spare ribs and sausage taste like pure gold. It is the diversified farming that pays in any section, and there is no section in the U. S. better adapted to diversification than Roosevelt county.

The time of year is at hand for the public to cooperate with the postal employees by mailing their packages early. The mails are beginning to become congested already, and in a few weeks more they will be crowded to the limit. By reading the advertisements in the Portales Valley News and doing your Christmas shopping early you will make more than one happy.

Miss Helen Lindsey, the efficient post mistress of Portales with the aid of her assistants in the office and on the rural and star routes are giving the people of Portales and community a real service. The News finds that they are giving every effort to serve the public, and is well pleased with the way in which this paper is handled by them. If you do not feel that you are getting the service that you should, perhaps your name is on the wrong list and the paper is not being sent to your proper address. If this is the case let us know so that it can be remedied.

Portales Valley Take Notice
"Motor fuel is to be made from sweet potatoes and molasses in a plant now under construction in Queensland, Australia, in the first large-scale attempt in the world to produce power alcohol. The plant will have a capacity of 2,000,000 gallons a year."

The above appeared in the Monday issue of the Albuquerque Journal. It has possibilities which may build up a bigger industry consuming millions of tons of the Bradley Yams and millions of gallons of the Kenyon syrup.

BUGS BROADCAST AT KOB STATION

The bugs talk to you on Monday nights if you listen for them. More than that, they give you the secret of their habits and dwelling places, and inadvertently let you know how to get rid of them. KOB, State College broadcasting station, 348.6 meters, is the place where these bugs and rodents talk on Monday evenings. The whole farm program, from 7:30 to 8:30, is full of interesting information and entertainment, including several numbers by the College instrumental sextette. On Monday evening, November 22, the sextette will play "At Sunset," "Mellow Moon," and "Hungarian Dance No. 5."

Young Wife Afraid to Eat Anything

"I was afraid to eat because I always had stomach trouble afterwards. Since taking Adlerika I can eat and feel fine." (signed) Mrs. A. Howard. ONE spoonful Adlerika removes GAS and often brings surprising relief to the stomach. Stops that full, bloated feeling. Removes old waste matter from intestines which you never thought was in your system. Excellent for obstinate constipation.

Reports are to the effect that a man lost his hat in Artesia Tuesday morning, and by noon the same hat was found on the streets of Portales. People in Portales were out looking Tuesday, expecting a whole dry goods store would pass thru next—some wind.

Floyd Community and School News

School is running again after a two weeks delay. The first week the teachers all attended the teachers' meeting at Santa Fe, and the last week was for harvest. Everybody should be rested, and ready to start the new six weeks with a strong determination to accomplish more than was accomplished the last six weeks.

Miss Maurine has been in excellent spirits this week. The fact is she has a new desk.

Mr. Lang is determined that New Mexico will not always remain ignorant in regard to voting and politics. He announced in assembly that each student would have the privilege of marking a ballot some time soon.

The Algebra class has finished the chapter on graphs and fundamental principles, and is taking up the chapter on addition. Mildred is regretting the fact that cotton picking and algebra will not mix.

Mabel Hagg who stated in the sophomore class has moved to Portales.

The Normal players directed by Earl W. Scott from Las Vegas will be here to put on the play "The Man Who Married the Dumb Wife." Tuesday November 23rd. There will be plenty of good entertainment between acts. Everyone remembers the play put on by these players last year. The Admission will be 15, 25 and 40 cents.

While Miss Bell the Related Art and Domestic Science teacher, was spending the past week with her parents at Las Cruces, she talked with Donald Gordon formerly a graduate of this school, who is attending College there. She reports that he is doing fine in everything with the exception of English and Chemistry, but thinks he will pass. Donald is looking forward to the Christmas vacation when he will be at Floyd.

The Vocational department is preparing a team to enter the district stock judging contest to be held at Portales Saturday. The two weeks vacation has somewhat interfered with the preparations.

for this contest, but the boys have the best wishes of the entire school.

In Spanish Class

Miss Maurine:—Tomorrow we will have the multiplication tables in Spanish. Be able to write them on the board.

Roy:—I will have to learn them in English first.

Wilma:—I used to think—

Miss Bell:—What made you stop.

G. A.:—Mayne I am simply wild about you.

Mayne:—Oh, I am so glad, what show shall we buy tickets for?

G. A.:—I said wild, not crazy.

Paci Haragan has been employed to look after the trucks during the year.

Roy Terrell spent his study hall period Monday in the library reading up on clothing for women.

Mr. Lang:—Can you remember any incident in relation to the corn problem?

Leon:—I can remember in 1890 how easy it was to get.

This county was selected to send the canning exhibit to Chicago this year. Miss Kerr and Miss Henney, home economics teacher at Elida, were at Vernie Hudgins place, Friday, canning for the exhibit.

Many of the Floyd people attended the Armistice program at Portales.

Mr. Benson took sick on Tuesday of last week, and kept getting worse. On Thursday the doctor was called. He became unconscious Saturday night, and never regained consciousness until his death Sunday morning at 3 o'clock.

Mr. Benson has lived at this place for 20 years. He used to have a post office there from which the community got its name. He was about 68 years old at the time of his death. Mr. Benson was buried in the Benson cemetery, just as the sun went down Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Moore and Mrs. Hudgins and daughter, Vernie were the only attendants at the funeral from Floyd.

Mr. Rufus Stinnett was among the boys who enjoyed the round-up on the X—ranch Saturday. Old time cow chuck was served Mr. Chumby is weaning calves and shaping his herd for the winter. He will winter about 600 head. He has recently added 250 thoroughbred Herefords to his herd. This is one of the best blooded bunches in the country.

Mr. G. S. Hatcher spent a week with his parents at Benton, Texas. This is the first visit in his old home for five years but he has decided to visit more often.

The singing was very much enjoyed Sunday afternoon.

Mr. C. C. Hall bought 14 calves from L. D. Whorton. They were kept in the pen at his home at Floyd for about a week for purpose of weaning and branding.

They were then moved to his ranch about 30 miles west of Floyd. He also bought 21 calves from Mr. Horney who lives at Portales. They have not been delivered yet.

Mr. L. K. Terrell is feeding out 100 head of sheep to put on the market in a short time.

Frank Watkins two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Watkins, living southwest of Floyd was badly scalded Thursday and died Friday. Interment was made in the Portales cemetery.

The funeral services were conducted by a friend of the family from Clovis. Mrs. Watkins sister from Lake Arthur arrived for the funeral.

Most of the other relatives live in Indiana. Mr. and Mrs. Watkins are new people in this community and the entire community extends their heartfelt sympathy.

Hurshel Mathews from Plainview, Texas has been a visitor in this community the past few days.

Dexter Rivers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Len Rivers of the Bethel community is rapidly recovering from the bruises she received some time ago when she was run over by a wagon.

Mrs. Chas. Bussel of Clovis is visiting in the Crawford home.

The grain thrasher will be in this community the latter part of the week.

Miss Ruth Summers visited the Portales school Friday.

Geo. Sweet and family took dinner in the L. A. Toller home Sunday.

There was a very good crowd out for Sunday school Sunday but should have been more. There was no Church as Rev. Grizzle could not be here. Sunday school begins at 2 o'clock. Come and bring your neighbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall McCluskey have come to Floyd to make their home. Their little son Carl is attending school here.

A. L. Bacon is absent from school on account of illness.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Norris and daughter of Clovis visited friends in Portales Sunday.

Is There Really a Santa Clause?

Some of the smart folks of Portales have insinuated that "there is no Santa Clause." The Portales Valley News is a whole lot worried over that, because it has always believed the jolly old fellow was real. What do you boys and girl think of it? Will you write the Santa Clause Editor of the News a letter, telling what you think of this? Any boy or girl reader of the News, no matter where they live, who is not over fifteen years old, is welcome to enter this debate. No matter what you think—if you say there is no Santa, why just write the letter, telling why you doubt his existence. If you are one who still has faith in the old fellow, hurry in your letter for the News needs help.

All letters will be published in the News just as soon after they are received.

HOME, DAD AND THE BOY

By FRANK H. CHELEY

The Alibi Dad
HIS stock excuse is "too busy."
He is a good friendly fellow, but he never delivers. His intentions are good, but his self-starter is out of fix.
He always finds himself engulfed in an emergency and so begs off with the kid until a later time.
He belongs to forty-nine committees for the deaf, dumb and blind; serves on the Board of Directors of the Orphans' Home; but his own boy gets his inspiration and man-contact with a "total stranger."
There is one committee he falls on utterly—the committee of one to give his own boy a square deal.
He is the Dad who "Could tear down the world
And build it up new,
If he did half the things
He intended to do."
He is High Past Master at the Good Intentions Association.
"Mother, tell me a funny story, please."
"Wait, son, your father will be home by and by and he will tell us both one."
Father was the Chief Alibi!

SOCIETY

Presbyterian Missionary Society.
The ladies of the Presbyterian church organized themselves into a Missionary Society, Thursday afternoon of last week. They will meet again today (Thursday) at 2:30 at the home of Miss Helen Lindsay for a social meeting.

Eastern Star Meet.

The Eastern Stars met at the Masonic Hall Thursday evening, Nov. 14. Mrs. Ida Evans the Grand Worthy Matron, and Mrs. Laura Becker the Associate Grand Worthy Matron were present to lend encouragement to the chapter, by both example and precept. Mrs. Evans made an interesting and instructive talk on the origin of the Eastern Star. The Star exemplified the work of its order by initiating J. G. Wayne.

At the conclusion, Mrs. S. N. Hancock, a Past W. M. presented with a few appropriate remarks a set of after dinner spoons to Mrs. Evans the gift of the Star. She also presented a lovely bouquet and a box of toilet water to the Mrs. Becker.

At a social hour following, refreshments were served. The Star members were out in great numbers. Mrs. J. C. Compton is Worthy Matron this year and has done a fine years work. She has inspired the members with her enthusiasm and zeal.

Hughes and Forrest Dinner.

On Monday evening at 7 p. m. Mrs. Ike Hughes and Mrs. Rex Forrest were hostesses to a number of their friends at a dinner party honoring Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Browne.

The living room and dining room were beautiful in their decorations of fall flower and autumn leaves and fruits, all suggestive of the approaching Thanksgiving time.

The guests were seated at quartet tables and included: Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Browne, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Black, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Spies, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Carr, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rowley and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Compton.

The dinner was served in four courses and consisted of turkey and all the extras.

The evening was spent in playing 42.

Mrs. A. G. Kenyon Entertains Home Makers Club.

One of the most interesting H. M. C. programs of the year was rendered Wednesday afternoon, when the club was entertained by Mrs. A. G. Kenyon at her pretty farm home just at the edge of town.

Mrs. Kenyon also had charge of the program. The opening number was a song by the club, "The More We Meet Together." This was followed by the business session, then a song "We're Here For Fun" opened the real program of the afternoon.

The roll call response was answered with a Thanksgiving verse or poem and was an interesting feature, and was followed by a very pleasing letter from a former member, Mrs. Hanson now of Albuquerque.

Mrs. Christie then in her usual charming manner gave a humorous reading "My Watch" and graciously responded to an encore.

Mrs. Strickland followed with a most excellent talk on "Better Homes" emphasizing the spiritual side. The next number a duet by Mesdames Mueller and Orr was well received and called for an encore.

Miss Kerr then gave one of her interesting practical talks the subject being "The Future Possibilities of Club Work." A song "America The Beautiful" by the club was followed by the club history by Mrs. Cate.

Mrs. Kenyon made some very appropriate remarks on things for which we should be thankful, also said just a few words about Club Organization.

Mesdames John and Ike Marx

well were guests of the club and each made a few remarks appropriate to the afternoon program. The closing number was a song, "Blest be the Tie That Binds." Thirteen members and two guests enjoyed delicious refreshments served by the hostess.

The next meeting Wednesday, December 8th will be an all day session with Mrs. Strickland. Subject, "Christmas." Cookery, Plum Pudding and Fruit Cake demonstration. All members desiring to attend this meeting are requested to meet at Mrs. Livingston's not later than 10:20 on the above date bringing a dish of something good to eat, and transportation will be provided.

The Portales Woman's Club will meet on Wednesday November 24 at 2:30 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin on State street. Mrs. Rex Forrest will be joint hostess with Mrs. Martin.

Mrs. Fred Luper is in charge of the program.

Each member responds to roll call with a verse of thanks.

Watch Elimination

Good Health Depends Upon Good Elimination.

RETENTION of bodily waste in "the blood" is called a "toxic condition." This often gives rise to a dull, languid feeling and, sometimes, toxic backaches and headaches. That the kidneys are not functioning properly is often shown by burning or scanty passage of secretions. Thousands have learned to assist their kidneys by drinking plenty of pure water and the occasional use of a stimulant diuretic. 50,000 users give Doan's signed endorsement. Ask your neighbor!

SWORD IS PROOF PEOPLE MAY VOTE

Glaris, Switzerland, Nov. 10.—The family sword which he brings with him to the polls is proof a citizen of the Cantons of Glaris, Oppenzell, Uterwald and Lehmets is entitled to vote. Where the family sword has been lost, the voter appears with a bayonet. His vote is never challenged.

On election day inhabitants of these cantons meet in the open air and discuss the event. Bearing the swords their fathers, grandfathers or earlier ancestors used in defense of their country, the gathering resembles mobilization for war much more than a political meeting.

A republic for more than a thousand years, Switzerland is a country of ancient traditions. The electors of these four cantons meeting to discuss a referendum on the question of the sales of wines and beer, do so with all the warlike setting of their forefathers.

SUGGESTIONS FOR A THANKSGIVING SALAD

Everybody knows that turkey and cranberries and pumpkin pie are always in for Thanksgiving dinner, but what about the salad? Miss Veda Strong of New Mexico A. & M. College, gives the following suggestions as a solution of that problem.

Salad Stuffed Celery
Wash the celery, cut it into convenient pieces for handling. Fill the hollow part of the stalk with a mixture of cream cheese, chopped olives, nuts, a very small bit of red pepper, and salt to taste. Sprinkle lightly with paprika. Any kind of cheese may be used instead of cream cheese. Serve the stuffed celery stalks on lettuce leaves. A slice of fresh tomato adds a bit of color to the salad.

Tomato Jelly Salad
1 envelope gelatine, 1-2 onion 1-2 cup cold water, 2 cloves 2 cups tomatoes
Few grains cayenne
Soak gelatine in the cold water five minutes. Mix remaining ingredients, bring to boil and boil ten minutes. Add soaked gelatine, and when gelatine is dissolved strain. Turn into a mold and chill. May be sliced and served on lettuce with mayonnaise.

Cranberry Salad
1 envelope gelatine 3-4 to 1 cup celery (diced) 1-2 cups water 1-8 tsp. salt 1 pint cranberries 1-3 cup nuts 1 cup sugar
Cook cranberries in 1 cup water for 20 minutes. Stir in the sugar. When it cools add gelatine, previously dissolved in 1-2 cup cold water. Stir well and cool. When it begins to thicken add nuts and celery and mold in one or in individual molds. When molded in a cake pan it can be cut and served in slices with generous portions of mayonnaise.

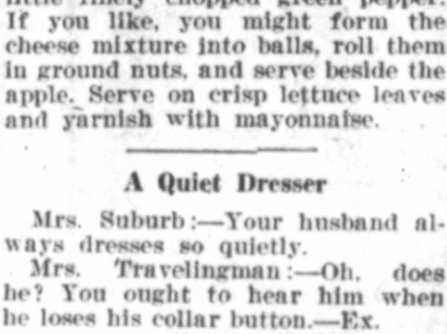

Blushing Apple Salad
Select medium sized apples, pare and core them. Cook in a syrup made in the proportion of 2 cups of water and 1 cup of sugar. The syrup should cover the apples. Bake in a covered pan. Red cinnamon candies, or red hots added to the syrup gives the apples a pretty rose color. After the apples are cooked and chilled, fill centers with cream cheese softened, and season with a little salt, a little paprika, and a little finely chopped green pepper. If you like, you might form the cheese mixture into balls, roll them in ground nuts, and serve beside the apple. Serve on crisp lettuce leaves and garnish with mayonnaise.

WASHINGTON LETTER

(Special to Portales Valley News)

Washington, Nov. 17.—If you believe everything you hear in Congressional and political circles, they will tell you that the crying need in Washington today is strong party leadership. Some profess to note the pendulum swinging from factional control to centered and responsible leadership. So numerous and varying are the opinions advanced by members of Congress and political observers here that it is difficult to forecast what the next session of Congress will bring forth.

It is said that the forced retirement of Senator Butler of Massachusetts by the electorate leaves President Coolidge without a personal spokesman in the Senate. The regular Republican organization favors the bestowal of authority upon Senator Curtis of Kansas as the leader of the majority. He is recognized as one of the old "warhorses" of the upper chamber and has given long and faithful service as a Republican whip. It is currently reported that there are other aspirants for this high honor which must be settled by the Republican caucus.

The caucus is a conference of all Senators or Congressmen as the case may be, to determine the general policies of their party for the coming session. The course of important legislation, however, is charted by the Steering Committee consisting of five organization Senators who handle the business of the Senate. In recent years the growth of the bloc system has clipped this power of party leaders.

A few years ago it was customary for Uncle Joe Cannon, then the speaker of the House and Senator Aldrich, Republican Leader in the Senate to take hikes along the Potomac and in an hour or two shape the course of legislation. The day of the czars of legislation are past.

No secret is made of the fact proposals to contest the seating of Senator-elect Vane of Pennsylvania and Smith of Illinois contains political dynamite for both parties. Senator Blease, Democrat of South Carolina, has brought a division in the ranks of Democrats by the contention that the seating of the Senators is a matter of State rights. On the other hand a few Republicans have revived old animosities by starting to question the rights of certain Southern senators to their seats involving the enforcement of the 14th amendment to the Constitution, which deals with suffrage for negroes. Senator Norris of Nebraska listed as a Republican but recognized as a leader of the so-called insurgents is trying to reopen the Vane case before the Select Committee on Elections headed by Senator Reed of Missouri.

The Nebraska Senator contends that fraud existed in the election in Philadelphia. The whole unsavory mess will be aired in the public prints soon.

There are rumors in official circles in Washington to the effect that President Coolidge and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon are at odds over the latest proposition to reduce taxes. The President has suggested that income taxes, individual and corporate, payable in 1923, might be cut 10 or 12 percent. Comments from the leaders of both parties at the Capitol indicate quite strongly that tax reduction will be the football of politics during the next 18 months, especially in view of the approaching presidential election. It is represented that the tax on corporations is bothersome to the President as the last tax law reduced the Capital stock tax but increased the corporation income tax, which it is claimed affects 20,000,000 security holders. Fiscal experts have estimated that the proposed tax credit on individual income, affecting approximately 90 per cent of the taxpayers has not boosted the Coolidge proposition. It is expected that officials will fall into line and advocate the applying of a 10 per cent discount on income taxes paid in 1926 to the March 1927 installment, or perhaps distribution over other installments in 1927. It is doubtful that any tax reduction or rebate bill can be passed by Congress between December 6, the date of convening and December 15, when the final 1926 tax installment is due. Therefore, the reduction or credit plan is approved. It will necessarily apply next year.

The Democrats now are arguing for a permanent, rather than a temporary reduction in taxes. The business organizations feel that corporations deserve first consideration of any tax reduction, because they contend the corporation rates are out of line with the individual tax rates. It is also stated that certain groups in Congress will oppose tax reductions on corporations, and working in alliance with the Democrats they could hold up the tax measures indefinitely.

The oil lease scandals which shocked the country two years ago are again centered in Washington. Arguments will be made next week before the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia involving Messrs. Dohoney and Fall who were mentioned as the beneficiaries of the political deals, who alien property case which brought another member of the late President Harding's cabinet in the courts, is presented to the attention of Congress. Hearings begin Monday before the Ways and Means Committee on legislation proposing to return German property.

The failure of the Senate to take up the English impeachment case at this time gives the Senators plenty of opportunity to get their houses in order before the convening of the next session on December 6th.

THE BABY YAM

Under The Auspices of Portales High School

Rev. Thurston talked to us in assembly Tuesday morning. He correlated football with Christian life. He pointed out that the plan of the Christian life was just as important as the rule book in football. That the great coach Jesus Christ had just as important place in our lives as the football coach has in football. The game of Christian life needs volunteers, courage, temperance, endurance and cooperation just as much as the athletic game. In each game one must have the stick-to-it-iveness and stamina to stand by his own convictions even tho he may be laughed and ridiculed. One of the greatest things in either game is holding the line while other players do their part in making the game a success. We can not all be the Star players. Reverend Thurston stressed the fact to win we must fight to a finish. We are all players in a larger game than football, the game of Life and Christian living.

Mr. Hunter and Mr. Irvin are wondering what kind of a disease it was that caused so many absences from school November 12th day after the vacation on Armistice Day.

In this connection we might say that those who did attend school last Friday felt very much like the poem:

I wish I was a rock, a settlin' on a hill,
A-doin' nothin' all day long, but
Just a settlin' still
I wouldn't eat, I wouldn't sleep,
I wouldn't even wash—
I'd just set still a thousand years—
An' rest myself b'gosh!

The second six weeks exams will be next week, some time before we get the Turkey-day holiday.

Don't forget there are only two more football games this season, Friday November 19th when we play Muleshoe on the home field, we expect to have lots of material support from the town and readers of our column.

The last game is the return game we have with Clovis on their field on Thanksgiving day. After this game the season is closed for another year. We feel sure you will enjoy your Turkey and Day so much more if you drive to Clovis and give the team your cooperation and support that they and the school need.

There is a quickness of perception, a clearness of view, a soundness of judgment, a power of discrimination, a sureness of fact and a refinement of taste which education alone can give.

prize last Thursday in the American Legion Parade. The float was in the shape of a ship, The U. S. S. American. It was decorated in the colors, Red, White and Blue. On it were several persons, one represented the Goddess of Liberty, one the U. S. Navy, one the U. S. Army and the rest represented the American schools.

Portales played a good game with Roswell last Thursday, but lost by a small score, 13-0. The game was very interesting. Our team was slightly weakened by the absence of one or two of our main players who were ill at the time. As we say we lost but we are looking forward to an interesting and good game with Clovis on Thanksgiving, which closes the football season.

Reverend Gunstream spoke to the students in assembly Friday. His text was taken from John 29 chapter 15 verse. Jesus said to Mary after he had arisen from the dead "Whom seekest thou?" and this was the question he asked us. He said some people were seeking wealth, some honor, some power, etc. But what will it profit a man if he gains the whole world and loses his soul. His message was that we should be seeking Jesus.

It is never too late to start or to continue ones education.

The faculty have had their pictures made for the annual.

Hereford, November 17.—One thousand catalogues for the Plains Circuit Poultry Show to be held in Hereford, Texas December 23-4, will be off the press next week and will be hurriedly mailed to interested poultry breeders of this section.

Preparations are being made in Hereford to take care of at least 500 birds, and many believe that the show will equal the Tri-State Poultry show to be held in Amarillo following the one in Hereford. Reports from the seven counties in the circuit show interest in the event. All of these counties are featuring more and better poultry and the show is expected to greatly stimulate the industry in this section.

An attractive list of cash prizes have been worked out by Superintendent N. C. Vogele, and his corps of directors from the seven counties in the circuit. Special prizes have been arranged for the Grand Champions of the Show, and an attractive list of premiums will be awarded to poultry exhibits by Club members and Vocational Agriculture Students of the Circuit.

The counties represented in this organization are: Curry, Quay, Roosevelt, and DeBake in New Mexico and Bailey, Deaf Smith and Parmer in Texas. There is a possibility of other counties in this section joining the organization for the present year.

KEEP CHICKENS COZY AND WELL IN WINTER

Stop! Have you done your best to make the poultry flock comfortable this winter? If not, don't be disappointed if your hens fail to fill the egg basket everyday, says E. E. Anderson of the New Mexico A. & M. College.

Winter is an especially critical time of the year in regard to disease and egg production. It is the season when eggs are the highest and when every poultryman wants to get the maximum production. Winter is the season when disease often runs rampant, and when disease hits a flock the egg production goes down, generally in proportion to the severity of the disease and number of birds infected.

Prevention is the best prescription we can offer for the control of disease, states Mr. Anderson. Keep the house, yards and utensils scrupulously clean.

A good disinfectant in the drinking water costs but little and will often save a good many dollars. Potassium permanganate, used at the rate of one-third teaspoonful to a gallon of water, is a good disinfectant to use. Remember, this is not a treatment for disease, but materially assists in preventing the spread of disease thru the drinking water.

Colds are the forerunners of more serious troubles. Drafts are the most common causes of colds. If

BRACKEN SAYS

It is a mighty good idea to have your battery overhauled, or looked after before winter sets in.

A battery in a run down condition cannot hold up under cold weather. By having your battery examined NOW, at Bracken's Battery Shop, you may be saved many dollars later, as well as troubles and delays caused by battery failure.

A good battery is well worth taking care of, but if neglected, will be headed rapidly to the junk pile.

the birds roost where the cold wind can blow thru the house on them it is liable to result in a cold. Plenty of fresh air is desirable if health is to be maintained, but beware of improper ventilation. Dampness and crowding are also common causes of colds.

Should you be so unfortunate as to have your flock infected with colds, take immediate steps to remove the cause. Give the flock a dose of Epsom salts (1 to 1 1/4 lb. to 100 birds or 1-2 teaspoonful to each bird in drinking water or mash); be sure to keep a disinfectant in the drinking water, and if possible, isolate the infected birds.

ADMISSION 10 and 25 CENTS

MARY CARR
HOLLYWOOD, CALIFORNIA

November 18th.

Dear Friends:—

When you go to see my latest F. O. B. picture, 'Drusilla With a Million,' which is to be exhibited in Portales, Tuesday and Wednesday, November 23rd and 24th, I want you to particularly notice the comedy scene in which I eat a huge piece of cake—to the utter disgust of my high-toned guests!

Now, this is a cake with a past, for I made it in my own kitchen from a recipe which I composed years ago as the best and wholesomest I could give my dear children—six of them!

I am sending you this recipe and hope you will find the same joy in it as I do. And I urge you to see this truly amazing photoplay, 'Drusilla With a Million,' because it is just the sort of a picture for the family: for mother and father and the children as well. You will laugh a lot especially at the antics of the babies; and some of the more dramatic scenes will give you heart a gentle squeeze and make you very happy indeed.

I have never personally asked my friends to see a motion picture in the past but 'Drusilla' is such a splendid photoplay I had to break my rule of silence. Won't you be sure to see it?

Gratefully yours,

Mary Carr
