RANDALL COUNTY NEWS

VOL. XXIV — CANYON, RANDALL COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, AUGUST 12, 1920. — NUMBER 20

THOUSANDS OF ACRES FOR CULTIVATION

Probably Greatest Period of Development Facing Randall County During Next Few Months.

Development has been going on in Randall county so silently and growing so rapidly that probably few of the citizens of this good county were aware of the magnitude of the real development being made in this section. A close study of the situation finds that more acres of sod land will be put into cultivation this year than any other time within the past ten or fifteen years.

A short conversation with most of the farmers will reveal the fact that a big per cent of them are thinking of plowing up tracts of sod land of different sizes in order to put in a bigger wheat crop this fall or a much bigger row crop next spring.

A canvass of the retail implement dealers will find that more tractors have been sold in Randall county this year than all of the years put together since that useful farm implement has been put on the market. The dealers will tell you that more plows are being bought, or rather called for, as it is almost impossible to buy large plows now, and every farmer who is buying plows wants one to hitch behind a tractor rather than to be pulled by horse power.

A short talk with the bankers will disclose the fact that there are very few farmers who have not paid out, or nearly paid out, on their lands in Randall county, and a majority of them have a substantial bank account in spite of the fact that nothing the farmer has had to sell during the past two years brought prices in comparison with the prices he has had to pay for the manufactured articles that he buys.

More land has changed hands in Randall county during the past year than any two years during the period of the past ten years. There has been a general rise in price. A considerable proportion of the sales have been made to farmers who have either lived in Randall county, or farmers from some other section of the Plains country who know the Panhandle and have made good in this section.

There is a great demand for rent farms in Randall county. The demand is more each year than can be filled, but the demand this summer seems to be greater and more pressing than ever before.

There is no boom on in Randall county, and no one has attempted to start a boom. The farmers who have lived here for years and understand the country have made big crops during the past three years. They have paid for their places and bought more land. They have seen the advantage of motorized machinery over the expensive and wholly independable hand labor, and are buying machinery to branch out for the coming year with greater farm production than ever before. The wheat crop just cut, averages around 12 to 15 bushels to the acre. There is prospects of the greatest row crop Randall county has ever had. The good rains of the past three weeks has put the ground in excellent condition for plowing, and the farmers are going to break out large tracts either for wheat or row crops next spring.

Those who have watched carefully believe that Randall county is in the period of the greatest development this section has ever known. It is a substantial development with no earmarks of a boom which is likely to blow up under a little adversity.

Band Sale Blowed Up

There was no benefit sale of ice cream cones for the band Saturday night as no one showed up to assist with the sale. In addition, there was a very small crowd on the street on account of the tent show which was largely patronized.

The benefit sales will be continued Saturday night. C. F. Walker and Rev. Ted P. Holifield have charge of the sales and will continue them until the bandstand is paid for and sufficient money raised for the uniforms for the band.

Marriage Licenses Issued

The following license to marry have been issued this week:

August 6—John L. Oliver and Miss Rose Agnes Allen.

August 9—O. L. Sugart and Miss Cora Daniel.

August 10—I. T. Campbell and Miss Gladys Norfleet.

BAILEY SUPPORTERS ARE VERY ACTIVE IN RANDALL COUNTY

The men in Randall county who are supporting Joe Bailey for governor have been active in the campaign during the past week.

A meeting was held Friday evening at the court house which was largely attended, and plans were made for a close canvass of the voters of the county in the support of Senator Bailey in the primary of August 28.

Lon Sellers and E. T. Miller of Amarillo were present at the meeting and made short talks of what the Potter county club was doing.

Senator Bailey will speak at Plainview this afternoon at three o'clock and it is likely that a number of Randall county voters will go to hear him.

E. T. Cole, an attorney from Clarendon, spoke on the court house lawn Monday afternoon in the interest of Bailey. Mr. Cole had visited Canyon during the campaign this spring and addressed the voters of the county. After Mr. Cole had spoken, B. Frank Buie of Canyon answered him in behalf of Pat Neff's candidacy.

Senator Bailey was second man in the first primary, Thomason leading the county, and the Bailey followers believe that they will carry the county in the primary on August 28th.

Barn Struck by Lightning

The barn at the J. S. Pool place just north of the Normal was struck during the heavy electrical storm on Wednesday night of last week, doing considerable damage to the cone and corner.

Mr. Pool states that not long ago he and J. W. Williams bought the large warehouse west of the mill, sawed it in two, Mr. Pool moving his half to his place for a barn. Mr. Williams moved his half to his place east of town to convert into a house. After he had started to remodel the frame two weeks ago during a heavy wind the wind blew over Mr. Williams' part of the building, and now his section was struck last week. However, Mr. Williams fixed up his building and is now constructing his house, and Mr. Pool is having the damage on his barn repaired.

Lost Fine Jack

Leo Stocker was in the News office Friday on business and states that he lost his fine Jack last week. The animal was one of the best in Randall county and was a great loss to the owner.

Mr. Stocker states that the row crop in the Umbarger community is very fine. The rains have made one of the best crops he has ever seen in Randall county.

Mr. Stocker states that preparations are being made for a big wheat crop this fall.

Wheat Little Stronger

Wheat gained a little on the market during the past week, and local buyers were able to pay $2.25 during the past few days. Very little wheat is being offered by the farmers at this price.

Mrs. A. McElroy has started work on a new bungalow on West Evelyn street, west of the Presbyterian manse.

FAIR MEETING TOMORROW

A very important meeting will be held Friday (tomorrow) afternoon at the court house at 2 o'clock in the interest of the Randall County Fair which will be held in Canyon Sept. 8, 9, 10.

Randall county can have one of the greatest Fairs on the Plains this year with the proper co-operation among the business interests and the farmers of Randall county.

Every business man in Canyon is expected to quit his work and attend this meeting.

The farmers are urged to come to the meeting.

The District Futurity Show will be held in Canyon on those dates, bringing registered hogs from 22 of the finest herds in Northwest Texas. It will be an opportune time for a great time in Canyon.

Attend the meeting Friday afternoon.

CULLEN THOMAS TO SPEAK HERE FRIDAY

Hon. Cullen F. Thomas of Dallas is coming to the Panhandle in the interest of Pat Neff's candidacy for Governor and will speak in Canyon Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the court house.

If the weather is favorable the speaking will be at the band stand, but if the weather forbids outdoor speaking, the meeting will be held in the district court room.

Mr. Thomas has long been one of the the leaders of Texas political life. He is a brother-in-law of Senator Morris Sheppard. Mr. Thomas is a highly interesting speaker upon all occasions.

There was a big crowd assembled Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock on the south side of the square when the drawing for the $50.00 in cash was pulled off. The following numbers were the lucky ones Monday:

1818—T. S. Holmes, $5.00.
1077—Wm Schroeder, $5.00.

As announced last week there will be no more Trades Day Tickets given, unless arrangements are made a little later. The business houses of Canyon are grateful for the very fine business created by the Trades Day tickets. Trades Day will not be held in September owing to the Randall County Fair and the Futurity Show to be held on September 8, 9, and 10, which time will be the second week in September.

Buys Guthrie Grocery Store

Floyd B. Palmer of New York closed a deal this morning for the Guthrie Grocery store and will take charge at once. The stock was being closed out by Messrs. Guthrie and Hunt. Mr. Palmer will have a full stock of groceries in the building by the first of the week and ready for business.

Mr. Palmer stated this morning that he intends running a cash and carry store, giving the customer the benefit of the cost of delivering the goods. He is a widely experienced business man. He has been in this section of the country since April and on account of the fine climate decided to make this his home.

Buy Tractors

Kuehn & Wise have sold the following Fordson Tractors this week: C. T. Watson, H. H. Gillham, W. H. Rockwall, W. T. Helms, E. N. Zachery H. C. Burner, L. J. Fulton, Joe Grosch and two to Lester Gillham.

One ton trucks were sold to W. H. Hicks and Chas. Sutton.

WALKER RETURNS MONDAY WITH BOYS

C. F. Walker, John Burgan, John Vetesk and Robert Stratton returned home Monday night from College Station where they have been for ten days attending the short course for boys and where examinations were given for boys to represent Texas in the stock judging contests. They were accompanied on the trip down by Robert Hester who is representing Randall county on the Texas Special for boys which is making an extended trip through the northern and eastern states.

None of the Randall county boys were successful in the examination for the different stock judging teams, but they came back confident that they learned enough during their first trip to College Station to stand a better chance in the examinations next year. Every one of the boys want to make the trip again next year, and are strong boosters for the short course. More than one thousand Texas boys took the training, and the Randall county boys who were there this year want to see a large number go from this county next year.

HOLIFIELD IS RED CROSS SECY. —GAMBLE HEADS ROLL CALL

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Red Cross last night at the court house, Rev. Ted P. Holifield was elected secretary of the Red Cross chapter of Randall county. Mrs. D. A. Park has held the position since the chapter was organized, but resigned when the Park family moved to their farm north of the city. Mr. Holifield was connected with the Clovis Red Cross Chapter before coming to Canyon.

Miss Ollie Sone was elected leader of the Junior Department and Dr. H. H. Latson will have charge of the First Aid Work. Both are experienced in their line of work.

The November Roll Call of the Red Cross will be in charge of H. C. Gamble. Randall county has always had a very large membership in the Red Cross and with the great Health Campaign now being conducted, and the fact that the money collected in the November Roll Call goes to this work in Randall County the local chapter is expecting a very hearty response from the people of Randall County.

AMARILLO BOOSTERS VISITED CANYON YESTERDAY FOR HOUR

Canyon was attacked yesterday afternoon at 5:25 by the livest bunch of Trade Excursionists that has ever hit this town. They were from Amarillo, and arrived here as the last town to visit after a three days trip, but showed no signs of the three day's hard journey.

The rain had hardly ceased when the excursion arrived. Fifty cars would have met the special train had not the streets been almost impassable, but the boosters did not mind the walk down town, and all of them hot-footed it to the business section where they put in the hour's stay in Canyon.

They were accompanied by a good band which played at the bandstand during the stay of the excursion in the city.

RED CROSS NURSE COMING FOR WORK IN THIS COUNTY

Miss Lutie V. Burkholder, field representative of the Red Cross is in the city in regard to the work of the Red Cross. She received notice yesterday that a nurse had been assigned to Randall county, and will arrive before the first of September.

During the Randall County Fair, Sept. 8, 9, 10, the Red Cross will have a First Aid and Health Exhibit which will be very highly interesting to the people of the county.

The services of the Red Cross nurse will be free. She will go into the schools and the homes teaching hygiene and home nursing, and will assist in every way possible to maintain good health in Randall county.

Miss Burkholder states that the annual roll call of the Red Cross will be held November 11 to 25. The money collected will go to this home nursing work. The Red Cross has always had a very large membership in Randall county, and an effort will be made this year to enroll every citizen in the county. The Red Cross is not a war organization. It devotes as much effort to maintaining good health as it ever did to war work, and it is a recognized authority on health problems.

BABY SHOW WILL BE HELD DURING RANDALL CO. FAIR

Mrs. Fred H. Ives has been appointed by C. F. Walker, general secretary of the Randall County Fair, to supervise the Baby Show which will be held during the Randall County Fair on September 8, 9, 10. Mrs. Ives is now making plans for this show. The Red Cross Nurse who has been assigned to Randall county will be here by that time and is expected to give valuable assistance to Mrs. Ives.

During the eighteen months the United States was in the world War 70,000 of our men were killed or died of wounds. During that same period 250,000 babies died in the United States. The Red Cross and the Health Department recognize that the great problem in America today is one of education as to the proper care of babies so that such an appalling large number will not die, a big per cent of whom succumb from preventable causes.

Receives Gila Monster

Miss Ermee Conner, who is visiting in Arizona, sent her father this week a Gila Monster which she bought from some Indians. The reptile resembles the lizzard, is of a spotted tan color, and is deadly poison. After having it at his office for a day, Mr. Conner turned it over to President Hill, who will keep it at the Normal.

Miss Conner wrote as follows regarding the reptile: "It is very poisonous so do not let it bit you. Also if it blows its breath on you it will make you sick, so be careful how close you stand to it.

"Feed it raw eggs and sweet milk. This month it is more dangerous, so be very, very careful how it is handled.

"After you have taken it to town and showed it off, you can give it to Mr. Hill for the laboratory."

There is a $5,000.00 reward out for the capture of one 24 inches long.

Chas. Harter Will Leave

Chas. Harter has sold the Normal Barber Shop to Price Bros. and will leave the first of the week for Truscott, Knox county, where he will be in partnership with his brother-in-law, G. B. Warren, in a general mercantile business. He goes into a very fine and well established business which he considers a great opportunity.

This is the second attempt Mr. and Mrs. Harter have made to get away from Canyon, the first being when he sold the Star Barber Shop last summer to Price Bros. The people of Canyon are very sorry to see the Harter family leave here, but wish them the best of success in their new home.

H. O. Price stated yesterday that he had not decided just how the two shops would be run, but will make announcement after Mr. Harter turns him the business next week.

Good Rain Yesterday

A good rain of nearly an inch fell in Canyon yesterday afternoon at four o'clock. The rain was not so heavy in Amarillo, but extended as far south as Tulia, with a good rain to the west.

Stork Special

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Gustllebaum last Thursday.

COMMENCEMENT AT NORMAL SATURDAY

Dr. J. L. Henderson Will Speak—Dr. Virgin in Fine Address at Auditorium Sunday Morning.

The summer session of the Normal will close Saturday morning at 10 o'clock with the commencement address by Dr. J. L. Henderson of the University of Texas, followed by the presentation of the diplomas and certificates by President J. A. Hill.

President J. A. Hill has issued an invitation to all of the citizens of the community to attend the Commencement exercises Saturday morning.

Sunday morning Dr. Virgin of Amarillo preached the Commencement sermon, the following report of the address being taken from the Prairie of this week:

Doctor H. W. Virgin, Pastor of the First Baptist Church of Amarillo, Texas, brought to our student body on Sunday morning one of the greatest messages we have heard in many days. He took for his text: "This one thing I do—I press towards the mark of the high calling of God."

He emphasized Paul's delight in using figures based upon the arena of the ancient Greeks and Romans. Following this he pictured a scene in which the goal ahead was the only ambition of the aspiring youths. Continuing, he said, "This youth had an unwavering aim. To this end did he train; for this purpose he denied himself. Let me remind you that the successful man is a man with an unwavering aim."

"O, the power of a great purpose! It has changed the face of the world." Dr. Virgin cited a number of instances from the life of Napoleon in proof of this vital truth. "He did not dally with his purpose," said the speaker; "there was no turning to the right nor to the left. No dreaming away time in building air castles; but for him there was only one purpose—forward, onward, upward, straight to the goal. The secret of his power was in concentrating his powers upon one single point. Concentration and consecration of life upon one purpose should be the dream of every heart."

The speaker next pointed out the objectives in life that young people should strive toattain. "What is your goal?" he said. "Is the commercial world so alluring that you can think of nothing else? Some people live in a stream of commodities. To such man's life consists in the abundance of his bank account. And whosoever argues to the contrary is impractical, a mere idealist, an impractical dreamer likely always to be poor."

HAD ROUND-UP SHOW MONDAY AT NORMAL BASEBALL FIELD

Some of the boys got together Saturday and organized a Round-Up show to be put on Monday in connection with the Trades Day. The show started at 3:30 and drew a very large crowd, all of whom pronounced the show to be a very good one.

In the riding contest C. O. Edwards was given first money, George Johnson second and Lloyd Rusk third.

The boys are beginning now to make plans for a big round up during the Randall County Fair on Sept. 8, 9, 10. There will be some great riding and roping contests, and various other features which will remind one of the old reunion days when there were scores of bad horses brought from every section of the country for the contests.

Land Sales Made

S. B. McClure reports the following deals this week:

C. O. Keiser sold to R. J. Wall a quarter section southwest of town for for $4,000.

R. W. Foster bought 400 acres of Lester Smith south of town at $26 per acre.

T. F. Reid has sold his residence in Canyon north of the railroad to G. W. Johnson who lives on the Wilson place west of town.

Dr. R. D. Gist of Amarillo has bought a half section in the south part of the county of Grant Bellas.

ing, reliable, familiar friends. They grow dearer to me as the days go by, and I find them an unfailing source of comfort and strength. Dreams! All progress, I grant you, is postulated upon dreams. But he who dreams but dreams for their own sake may find pleasure and profit in them, but he who strives not for the mark of the high calling in Christ Jesus."

Doctor Virgin then spoke of the pleasure to be derived from music and art and nature, but pleaded that these do not bring to the soul its highest pleasures. He held up Christ as the only goal that would satisfy. "Be ye perfect as I and my Father," said Doctor Virgin, "was Christ's goal."

"I am wondering," continued the speaker, "if you have purposed that Christ shall be your goal. Loyalty to Christ means devotion to his person. Across a chasm of 1800 years Christ makes of every one—He asks for the human heart. Loyalty to Christ means, also, that you must accept his teachings and propagate them. Morley says 'It is better to bear the burden of impracticalness than to stifle conviction and to pare away principle until it becomes mere hollowness and triviality.' There is nothing gained by promise." Doctor Virgin applied the principle of compromise to present day religion and politics and insisted that all this temporizing meant ruin in the end."

Dr. Virgin closed his admirable address by pointing out that God is a constant observer of the race we run and the goal towards which we are striving. He enforced this truth with the very appropriate and happy story of a boy who had been the constant companion of his old blind, father. But the day came when the boy and father had to separate. The boy won honors on the athletic field at college and was chosen by his school to represent it in a contest with its most successful rival. But just before the day set for this contest the boy received word that his father lay at death's door. The boy reached the bedside of his dying father just in time to bid him goodbye, and then returned to college and begged that he might still represent his college. "He fought," said Doctor Virgin, "as no one ever fought before and won for his school. When the contest was over, one of the Professors questioned him as to his strange conduct. He wondered why the boy wished a place on the team under such circumstances. 'Why,' said the boy,' don't you understand? I wanted to win. This is the first time my father has ever been able to see me; he was looking down on my efforts."

The Silver Joker

Denver News: Senator Pittman put one over on the country. It has just been discovered that what is known as the Pittman law contains a joker, designed to boost up the market value of silver. For every dollar melted up the Treasury is required to buy an equivalent amount of bullion at the fixed price of $1 an ounce. As a consequence, we are now purchasing silver bullion at a big advance on the price in the world market and far in excess of all requirements for coinage.

Senator Pittman hails from Nevada. Silver is plentiful in Nevada. He is a Democrat. His joker is legalized graft. It should be eliminated from the Pittman law when Congress reassembles.

THE SECOND PRIMARY

The second primary in Texas will center in interest around the Governor's race. In fact, there will be contests only for the offices of governor, lieutenant governor, and the supreme court to be decided in this county, as all district and county officers were selected in the first primary.

The race for governor is getting warm. While the News believes Bailey has a chance to win, yet the odds are against him and if there are as many votes polled August 28 as there were July 24, Bailey will be overwhelmingly defeated.

The News considered Pat Neff the least equipped of the three men who made the race against Bailey. He showed qualities during the period of mud slinging of being a second rate politician. Yet he won through an intensive and extensive campaign.

Neff all but alienated the followers of Thomason when he declared Thomason not a fit candidate because he lived too far from the center of the state, and declared on the platform that he would not support Thomason were Thomason in the second primary. Neff started out with one version of his land plank, and when he got in hot water in the west he tried gracefully to reverse himself.

Bailey is trying to make the open shop a question in the campaign, but has no where explained just what he proposed to do. In fact throughout his campaign he has been dealing in generalities and shows a woeful lack of knowledge of the affairs of the state since his residence in Washington during the past fifteen years has removed him from close observation of state affairs.

In 1916 there was a campaign in Texas which has a great similiarity to the present gubernatorial campaign. Colquitt, Campbell, Brooks and Henry were candidates for the United States Senate. Colquitt attack the administration of Wilson as bitterly as does Bailey at the present time, but lacked the personal magnitism and old time friendships which characterizes the Bailey following. The other three were for Wilson. In the first primary Colquitt led all candidates with a plurality of 25,000. When it came to a final test between Colquitt as an anti-administration man and Culberson an administration follower, Colquitt went down in defeat by a majority of 70,000, and only a small per cent of the voters of Texas participated in the primary.

Such papers as the Fort Worth Star-Telegram now plead that this race is altogether different than the one of 1916. The Star-Telegram fought Bailey in the May convention because he opposed the national administration and sought to send a delegation to San Francisco to deputiate Woodrow Wilson. no act of whom is Bailey willing to endorse during his eight year's administration. The Star-Telegram seeks to show that Bailey is the strongest man in the race for governor, and that the people of Texas are electing a governor on August 28, which office has nothing to do with the national administration. Furthermore they hold that a vote against Neff is not a vote against Wilson.

There has never been a man in Texas politics with stauncher friends or more bitter enemies than Joe Bailey. Any candidate could fight Joe Bailey in the race as well as Pat Neff can. The people of Texas who vote for Neff on August 28, will to a great extent, not take into consideration that they are voting for Neff so much as they are voting against Bailey. Perhaps from a technical standpoint Bailey's attitude toward the national administration has nothing to do with his race for governor, but the majority of the people of Texas believe that it has. Bailey was against every reform that has been written into the national laws. Maybe that has nothing to do with his campaign for governor, but we shall see what the voters think of it. Bailey was against the war with Germany. Perhaps that would not prevent him from making a good governor for the state of Texas, but most people don't want that kind of a public official. During the war Bailey was afflicted with the lockjaw and his silvery voice refused to raise in behalf of the various governmental enterprises which were necessary for the successful conclusion of that horrible butchery in Europe which would have been carried to American soil in time had the Huns won. Perhaps that is no discredit to a great mind, but there was hardly a republican worthy the name who did not use his best efforts during the war to see that America won, and if any one should have objected to the methods of Wilson during the war certainly it would have been the republican leaders.

The thing that is going to defeat Joe Bailey on August 28 is well put by an old Confederate Veteran at Waxahachie last Thursday when he introduced Pat Neff. The daily papers carried the story as follows:

C. M. Supple presided at the meeting and presented Col. B. F. Marchbanks, who introduced Mr. Neff.

Colonel Marchbanks is over 70 years old. He is a Confederate veteran. His only son was killed in action fighting under the American flag in France. He was presented by Mr. Supple as a man with not only his war record, but, in addition, as a man who made Liberty bond speeches during the war.

The old man, white haired, white bearded, hands clasped behind his back, made a fine figure as he stood with erect shoulders and quavering voice, addressing his fellow townsmen. "I represent the American people," he said, "when they asked me to speak tonight, I did not want to do it, but a voice told me not to decline when duty calls. Thoughts went over the ocean. I saw the wounded and the dead there. I saw my boy and I knew it was my duty to speak tonight. Not in a personal partisan way but for a great cause.

"When I came out of Appamatox I said I did not ever want any more war. But in all these years I have always been for my country, right or wrong and I have not criticised our presidents, either Democratic or Republican. Much less did I criticise our great President, Woodrow Wilson, who led my boy to war. My wife and I bought a $50 Liberty bond and the bank carried it, and we paid it out on the installment plan. It never occurred to me whether I would get a dollar out of it or not, and I never cared. The man who was too scrupulous about that ought to have told his fellow-countrymen that they might go down, but to buy them so we could win the war. My boy put as much as he could of his poor little $30 salary into Liberty bonds, too, and he never asked how much they would be worth, and whether they would carry a premium. And he did not shut his mouth, but went on, willing to give his life for his country. I am not willing to trust a man who was not willing to trust his country during the war. I am not willing to trust a man who was silent when death and danger swept over his country.

"The only criticism they can make of Mr. Neff is that he is too good to be Governor of Texas."

As the News has stated on several occasions, the race is not certain for either Neff or Bailey. It will depend upon the number of voters who decide to participate in the second primary. If Bailey is defeated he can lay the blame to his record during the war. The people of the United States have without exception defeated every man who has dared stand out against his country during the war, and Bailey will hardly be an exception unless there is an unexpected break on account of the weakness of Mr. Neff as a candidate.

The other day we happened into a shop and found a man in overalls at work. We had seen him many times before at the same kind of work and thought nothing of it. He apologized for being caught in the disgraceful condition of having to work. For a couple of years he has held an executive position, and perhaps had not been fitted for the job. The idea is this; when a man apologizes for having to work, just what kind of a chap is he? The greatest workers in America are not afraid of being caught in the act. Nor is it any disgrace to wear overalls while doing work. A few months ago overalls were a fad and the News criticised the movement. A few fellows got sore at what we said, but none of them are now wearing overalls, because it was a fad, and fads are short in life. What this country needs today is more fellows willing to dignify work by wearing overalls if the job demands this kind of wearing apparel but of uttermost importance in dignifying labor with honest work.

Senator Harding has intreperted the meaning of the republican platform on the League of Nations question to suit Senator Johnson. Now comes William Howard Taft demanding that Senator Harding reverse his stated opinion. Taft is perhaps the original League of Nations advocate in America. He is making a strong fight for the League, and he is not without influence. There promises to be a merry war in the republican camp with Taft and Johnson leaders of the two factions, one for the League and one against the League. Governor Cox has bid for the support of Taft in the senatorial contests. Taft has always been a reliable straight party man, and while he may differ with Harding, he will not bolt the party. Johnson has the repuation of a bolter.

It would not be at all surprising to hear any day of another general war breaking out in Europe. Several minor wars have been existing for months. The war world which closed with the armistice on Nov. 11, 1918, has by no means quelled the war-like disposition of Europe. If another general war should break out in Europe, America could not stay out of it in spite of the fact that we are not in the League of Nations, nor have we declared peace with Germany.

Senator Gore, a strong opponent of Wilson, was defeated in Oklahoma. Every candidate in strong democratic states who has dared oppose Wilson has been badly defeated. Does this mean anything in the case of Joe Bailey?

There will be a second primary for the benefit of three state offices. The county candidates will have the expense of this second primary to pay. This is not right, and the legislature should correct this defect in the law.

The manner in which Governor Cox starts in his campaign it is pretty safe to bet that he will smoke Senator Harding off his front porch before the end of the campaign.

Randall county is going to have a real fair Sept. 8, 9, 10. Don't miss it.

Cheapness Recommends It

Cleveland Leader: Cheapness of operation of the airplane is going to recommend it in the future, it seems. Early in the flying game, it was supposed that it would always cost so much to go from place to place by airplane that the expense would be practically prohibitory. But all of that has been changed, and the critics are now talking about how economical it is to travel through the air. This since the recent trip of 1,200 miles in an all metal plane, involving only 100 gallons of gasoline.

Lazy Propaganda

Ed Howe: In spite of the general understanding that work never hurt anybody, the element contending the average man is shortening his life by the eternal rush and grind of business, is growing rapidly. This take-it-easy talk sounds like a lazy man's propaganda.

The Whip is Going

Brooklyn Eagle: "I can remember the time," said the retiring whipmaker, "when we cut 40,000 pounds of whalebone a year just for whips alone." Those were the days when the streets of the cities and the country roads were filled with phaetons, victorias, sulkies and other types of horse-drawn vehicles, when every driver had a whalebone whip. Now the motor car is king, the whip has gone—and perhaps the threatened extermination of the whale will cease.

Starting the Sugar Hold-Up

San Francisco Chronicle: Either there are no antitrust laws in Cuba or, as in this country naturally competing interests may combine to soak the foreigners. The Cuban growers and refiners, who a few months ago would gladly have contracted their entire crop to us for 6c or 7c a pound, have now reached an agreement and made a pledge not to sell us another dollar's worth of sugar for less than 24c.

Attorney General Palmer made the original suggestion to the Cubans that his limit was 17c or 18c a pound net to the growers. But when a Government official starts a profiteering scheme one can never tell how much it will be improved on.

Manual Training and Art Departments in Chapel Friday

Miss Lucy Goodwine represented the Manual Training Department in an illustrated discussion of what children can make. She showed the fundamental tools necessary to make simpler things in a rural school. Her demonstrations of things that can be made in a rural school included a rural mailbox, bird-house, newspaper holder, book-ends, window boxes, trellises, waste basket, etc. Miss Goodwine spoke of correlation of this handwork with the regular school work.

Miss McAdory, who is supervisor of art in a county in Alabama, presented the need of art appreciation in rural schools. She spoke of need for better pictures.

Have one good picture, well framed, rather than several cheap ones, she advised. This point she illustrated by two pictures. Pottery making for country schools is also advisable. Common clay may be molded and designed into artistic models. It is not the material but the artistic skill of the modeler, that determines the beauty of a piece of pottery, she declared.

The members of Art Class 35 are giving demonstrations in modeling, textile study, etc., this week and the following weeks.

Last week the appearance of the campus was greatly improved by volunteer workmen from the student body. Due to the shortage of labor, the campus had had little care during the summer. The volunteer workmen cut the weeds and gave the grounds a general cleaning. The Y. W. C. A was there with its customary desire to do service. They cut and raked and served—pink lemonade. After the days labor, the occasion was immortalized by a group photograph.

Play Tournament Continues

The Mumblepeg Tournament ended last week, bringing more satisfaction to the Cousin fans than to the others. The games were held according to the 1920 rules compiled by Hoyle, or perhaps the Hoyle children. The results are:

First place, Vonda Sheets, Cousins.
Second place, Ida Petty, Block House.
Third place, Willie Graham, Faulkner.

The basketball contests opened Monday afternoon with a hot game between Huntleigh and Block House. Interest ran up to 212 degrees Fahrenheit. There was no weeping and wailing, but there was plenty of gnashing of teeth. The score was 21 to 19 in favor of Block House. Helen Brit of Huntleigh, Beth Elo and Mildred Wilhite of Block House starred as guards. The line up was:

Block House—Beatrice Scott, F; Ruth Lowes, F; Ruby Houston, C; Alta Hull, C; Beth Elo, G; Mildred Wilhite, G.

The second game was between Gatewood and Faulkner. Faulkner's strength lay largely in its centers, Ruth and Iren Carson, while Gatewood's formidible position was due chiefly to the guards, Beulah Evans and Emma Della Summerville. Gatewood took the game, the score being 16 to 13. The lineup was:

Faulkner—Zelma Reed, F; Ruby Cowart, F; Ruth Carson, F; Irene Carson, C; Willie Mae Bramlet, G; Vivian Courtney, G.

Gatewood—Zee Foster, F; Mildred Harrell, F; Susie Hartman, C; Bertha Stenson, C; Beulah Evans G; Emma Della Summerville, G.

The third game was between Cousins and Jenkins, although Jenkins was was not fully qualified for entrance into the contest. The game was extremely lively but occasionally the players lapsed into football rules. Cousins satisfied themselves with winning the game with the score 27 to 14, however, the game was not counted in the series. The stars for Cousins were Minnie Gray Smith, forward, and Iva Cary, guard. Deci Greer, forward, was headliner for Jenkins. The lineup was:

Cousins—Minnie Gray Smith, F; Savola Roberts, F; Lois Peck, C; Esther Young, C; Valentine Crawford, G; Iva Cary, G.

Jenkins—Deci Greer, F; Bernice McGehee, F; Sadie Miller, C; Effie Mace, C; Novella Forest, G; Dollie Clark, G.

The fourth game was a hard game in which Gatewood eliminated Cousins. The teams were rather evenly matched, but the score was 12 to 4.

The final game was close, but was not played as vigorously as it might have been. Fouls were few, only two points being made on fouls. Gatewood became undisputed champion by defeating Block House 12 to 10.

Comedians Enact Tragedy

Last Thursday afternoon when Brunk's Comedians attempted to stage a comedy in which the Normal baseball team was to be the goat, they were much surprised to see the comedy converted into a tragedy; or at least it had a tragic ending from their point of view. The climax oc-

Better Country Schools Week at W. T. S. N. C. Demonstrations in Chapel Under Direction of Y. W. C. A.

The chapel program of the week, Aug. 2-9th, was given over to the Y. W. C. A. for the purpose of demonstrating activities of special interest to those students who are to teach in the country. The week's program was opened with a demonstration of plays and games by the physical education department. Such games as these were played: The Grand March, Virginia reel, three deep, donkey's tail, circle relay, indian club relay, this is my nose, suit case races, etc. Miss Terrill, director of the games, explained plans for a circus which could be given in a small community. All students were asked to hand in suggestions for circus stunts. A compilation of these is to be given to the students the latter part of the week.

The second demonstration was given by the department of agriculture and home economics, the subject chosen being "milk." Miss Rambo explained the importance of milks in the diet, illustrating with charts. Mr. Fred Ives tested a sample of milk for butter fat, using a Babcock milk tester. Mr. Ives urged every country school teacher to secure a Babcock Milk Tester for his school and test the milk on the farms of his patrons. "90 per cent of the cows on the Southern farms are not paying for their board," he stated.

Two Brothers Struck by Lightning

Two brothers, Lowell and Horace Tadley, were hoeing cotton four miles south of Shamrock last Monday when they were struck by lightning. The two boys were within fifteen feet of a fence, and the shock did not come direct. Lowell, the older boy, was shocked more severely than Horace. Both were knocked unconscious, and precipitated to the ground. Horace became conscious within afew minutes, and ran to the house for water, and help. A farmer brought the older boy, who was still unconscious, to the house in his car. A doctor was summoned immediately, who after an examination of the boy, stated that there was a small clot of blood above his eye. Now and then the boy regained consciousness, and had fits. He was unconscious fully three hours. The next day he was feeling alright, only a little weak. His right arm is still nervous and is shaking pretty badly from the shock. His younger brother is free from any effects.—Amarillo Tribune.

Farmers Get Verdict

In the case in the District Court this week where a farmer or farmers of this county sued for damage incurred from planting a certain wheat supposed to have been spring wheat, a verdict was returned by the jury in favor of the farmers. Our information is that the seed concern selling the wheat was asked to pay the farmers for their loss on the basis of $22.50 per acre. It is also understood that the attorney who represents the seed concern believes that it is best to pay the farmers off and not transfer the case as had been previously mentioned.—Lubbock Avalanche.

Ode

July 4, 1857.

O tenderly the haughty day
Fills his blue urn with fire;
One morn is in the mighty heaven,
And one is our desire.

Be just at home; then write your scroll
Of honor o'er the sea,
And bid the broad Atlantic roll
A ferry of the free.
For He that worketh high and wise,
Nor pauses in his plan,
Will take the sun out of the skies
Ere freedom out of man.

—Emerson.

The Fortune Teller

"You will marry the one you love," said the fortune teller.

"Has he dark hair?" asked Miss Gush.

"Yes."

"Has he a cute little mustache?"

"Yes."

"Is his name George?"

"Yes."

"Is he an automobile salesman?"

"Yes."

"Does he live on Blank street?"

"Yes."

"Has he given me an engagement ring set with a diamond and two pearls?"

"Yes."

"Will he be 24 in August?"

"Yes."

"My," said Miss Gush, as she turned to her companion, "Isn't it perfectly wonderful how a fortune teller can know all these things! And they are all true, too! I can't understand it!"—Toronto Telegram.

Facts and Comment

The unexpected frost hurts not the gathered garden.

An Enemy he made through Scorn to spend
The Courtesy that would have made a Friend.

What seems to be lack of courage to do a thing may really be courage not to do it.

The number of immigrants arriving at New York is increasing week by week, but the superintendent of the immigration station at Ellis Island says that there are few domestic servants among them. Housekeepers who have waited hopefully for immigration to begin again to renew the sadly depleted supply of maids will be disappointed when they learn that the Irish and Scandinavian girls in the steerage are planning to work in factories.

One by one the bibulous are losing their beverages of last resort. The Bureau of Internal Revenue has placed blackberry cordial, wild-cherry wine, the elixirs of licorice, anise and bitter orange, compound spirits of juniper and myrcia, compound tincture of lavender and the number of other pharmaceutical preparations on the list of intoxicating liquors. Though Jamaica ginger, colloquially known as "Jakie," seems a long way removed from compound tincture of lavender, the law has ferreted out their relationship and published it abroad.

Although experimenters have learned that it is possible to change the color of certain precious and semi precious stones by exposing them to the action or radium, the discovery is probably of little practical importance. A man of science put a number of sapphires of different kinds into a box that contained a small quantity of radium; a month later the white sapphires had become yellow; the blue sapphires, green; the wine-colored sapphires, red; the dark blue sapphires, violet. But not many persons would be willing to experiment with stones that are of much intrinsic or sentimental value.

Chinese laundries, which for years have been picturesque bits of foreign color in our American towns and cities, are growing fewer. The Chinese who first came to America were poor and ignorant and could not go into any business that required capital or a knowledge of the language and customs of the country. In order to be independent they resorted to the laundry business, which required little of either, and began to save money and learn the things that are necessary for pleasanter and more profitable occupations. There are fewer Chinese laundrymen to-day, but in Greater New York alone Chinese own and run more than two hundred resturants.

Between now and November we shall doubtless hear much about stumping and stump speakers, perhaps without realizing that the verb "stump" is as distinctly American as maize or the wild turkey. Few words, indeed, have more real American political history in them. A stump speaker was a man who addressed his hearers from the only platform that was available; namely the stump of a tree that some pioneer had felled. The word shows how native and natural to Americans is an interest in public affairs. Even the other American use of the word—the slang one, to "stump," meaning to challenge—is racy and redolent of the soil. When you "stump" a man you put an obstacle in front of him like the stump that blocked his forefather's plough-share.

An ingenious computer has taken pains to calculate the energy spent in making hyphens. Reckoning that it takes half an ounce of power to make a single hyphen, and that each of the 200,000,000 people who write English make on an average three hyphens a day, he calculates that we thus waste 18,750,000 pounds of power a day, or, as he asserts, enough to draw a railway train around the world. Well, what of it? Making hyphens is certainly an innocent occupation, and we can afford the time and energy if we wish. The world is full of just such idle-minded computers, who are always figuring how far a man could jump if he were as able as a flea, or how big a power plant it would take to give a man as brilliant a headlight as the firefly carries. Futile stuff, all of it. Some of us, who are reckless, make a dozen hyphens a day, and others, more absemious, go months without making one.

We wish to again call the attention of our patrons to the fact that unless they have a regular monthly account with us, it will be impossible for us to open an account with them in order to charge a small item. The loss of time in making these small collections amounts to more during these times of high expense, than the item amounts to.
