COUNCIL VOTE UNANIMOUS

Critics Fail to Stop Big Tap Water Rates

City Council Monday night voted unanimously for a compromise version of its graduated minimum charges for large tap residential water users.

The action whacked downward the minimum charges for taps ranging in size from 1 inch to 2 inches.

At the same time it increased the number of gallons of water those users will obtain with the minimum charge.

Councilmen viewed it as a definite endeavor to compromise the big tap charges — a point of warm controversy for the last couple of months.

But for approximately half dozen large tap water users in appearance at City Hall and 2 lawyers representing them, the lowered version still was not enough.

They attacked the big tap charges as unfair.

And Harry Ratliff, 1 of the 2 attorneys, said the council action may mean defeat for a bond election city officials believe necessary to expand the municipal water plant and increase water feeder lines into the city from the plant.

Joining Ratliff in the vocal protest to council were Dr. R. D. Bridgford, M. L. Kirschbaum, Mrs. C. S. Martin and attorney Austin McCloud, H. L. Berman, one of the chief spokesmen for the protestors at a special hearing a few weeks ago, was silent during the discussions.

Here are the new big tap minimums approved unanimously.

Producer Extends Maude Oil Field

Mitchell County's Maude (Clear Fork) Field has been extended 1.25 miles of the northeast with completion of M. R. Voltz No. 1 Helbert.

The producer highlights new oil developments here that include a new Sharon Ridge 1700 Field oiler and three new drilling sites.

Voltz No. 1 Helbert was completed for a daily potential of 102 barrels of 27 gravity oil, plus 2 per cent water.

Production was after acidizing with 250 gallons of fluid and was from perforations between 2,934 and 3,118 feet over total depth of 3,251 feet. Pay was topped at 2,934 and casing was set at 3,250 feet.

San Andrews was topped at 1,524 feet and Clear Fork at 1,980 feet.

Site is 1,980 feet from south and east lines of Section 18, Block 28, T-1-S, T&P Survey.

Staked as two drilling sites in Westbrook Field were Col-Tex Refining Company No. 33 and 41 Abrams 3 miles northwest of Westbrook.

Both of the projects will drill to 3,300 feet — No. 33 Abrams at a site 2,310 feet from north and 1,005 feet from east lines of Section 33, Block 28, T-1-N; No. 41 Abrams, 990 feet from north and 1,650 feet from west lines of Section 41, Block 28, T-1-N, T&P Survey.

PHONE TAKEOVER AT WESTBROOK DEC. 1

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company will assume operation of Westbrook telephone exchange Dec. 1.

Truman Black, Southwestern Bell manager in Colorado City and Snyder, announced the date Thursday.

Agreement for the company's purchase of the Westbrook system was reached several months ago, subject to approval by Federal Communication Commission.

Black announced the Dec. 1 date following notification that the FCC had approved the deal.

Southwestern Bell will continue to operate the Westbrook exchange on a manual basis until plans can be completed to convert the exchange to dial, Black said.

Present plans are for the appointment of a local agent to act as Southwestern Bell's representative at Westbrook until the dial changeover is made.

The local agent will be responsible for the operation of the switchboard and receiving payments for bills from customers, the manager said.

Council Constitution Awaits Ratification

Complete organization of a Mitchell County Council of Churches Thursday awaited ratification of the council's constitution by participating churches.

The constitution, patterned after one for Austin Council of Churches, was approved Monday night at a meeting of representatives from 7 churches.

However, it was voted by the temporary council organization Monday night, that the constitution will not become operative and final organization of the council will not be accomplished until after at least 4 churches ratify the constitution.

Drafting the proposed constitution, which under went several revisions in the Monday meeting, was a committee of Dick Wistrand, layman of All Saints' Episcopal Church; Rev. Clarence Collins, minister of First Methodist Church; Rev. John Brand, minister of First Presbyterian Church; and Rev. Don McCoy, minister of First Christian Church and temporary chairman of the council during the organizational period.

In the meeting Monday night approving the constitution for presentation to prospective member churches were Brand, Collins and Wistrand; Rev. Lynward Harrison and Pat McKinney Jr. of St. Luke Methodist; Claude E. Cogwell of First Christian, Rev. Alan Conley of All-Saints Episcopal, Rev. C. C. Beck of Mt. Zion Baptist, Rev. Robert Tuiel of Payne Chapel Christian Methodist Episcopal.

Preamble of the constitution states: "In the Providence of God, the time has come when it seems fitting more fully to manifest oneness in Jesus Christ as Divine Lord and Saviour, by the creation of an inclusive cooperative agency of the Christian churches of Mitchell County."

Six prime purposes of the council, as explained by the constitution are:

New Vicarage Dedication Set Sunday

Dedication of the new vicarage of All Saints' Episcopal Church will be Sunday at 6 p. m.

Directing the service, "The Blessing of a Home," will be Rt. Rev. George H. Quarterman of Amarillo, Episcopal bishop of Northwest Texas.

Participating in the dedication service also will be Rev. Don Hungerford of Snyder and Rev. Allan Conley, All Saints' vicar.

The service will be at the vicarage, 705 E. 7th St., with the congregation and other friends in attendance.

A supper in the church at 7 p. m. will follow the dedication. The supper will honor Bishop Quarterman and new vicar of the church.

Confirmation rites will be conducted Sunday morning at All Saints' 8:45 a. m. service with the bishop conducting Holy Communion, the confirmation and preaching the sermon.

Hungerford to St. Mary's In Big Spring

Rev. Donald N. Hungerford, who for 3.5 years served as vicar for All Saints' Episcopal Church here and St. John's Church in Snyder, has been named rector of St. Mary's Episcopal Church in Big Spring.

The 32-year-old minister will be instituted as rector of the Big Spring church Dec. 6 at 10:15 a. m.

Hungerford, who resided in Snyder while serving as vicar for the Colorado City church until last summer, is a native of Hartford, Conn., and was educated at Trinity College, Hartford, and Berkeley Divinity School in New Haven, Conn.

While serving as vicar here he was a leader here in the local Ministerial Alliance, and the School of Christian Education. In addition he serves on the executive committee, board of examining chaplains, department of mission, church pension fund committee and faculty of Episcopal Youth Conference, all in Diocese of Northwest Texas.

School officials purchased the property in view of the fact that Colorado City is expanding in north and east areas and that a future site can be obtained in more economical manner before an area builds up.

In other business Monday night, the district's board of trustees:

Voted to renew contract with Pritchard & Abbott for appraisal of oil property within the district. The one-year contract, with a fee of 3 per cent, is subject also to the tax appraising firm's approval.

Authorized taking of bids for 2 old school buses owned by the district — a 1947 model See SCHOOLS Pg. 5

The 10.2 acres are being purchased from Jack Cox at a price of $600 per acre.

The property is all of Block 1, Monticello Addition No. 2, and adjoins Eastover Addition. It is located east of Eastover St. between E. 17th St. and E. 15th St., now undeveloped crop land.

BOYS 13, 14 AND 16

3 Migrants Break Into Loraine Store

Three boys in a migrant cotton crew have admitted breaking into Loraine Furniture Store Friday night.

They took approximately $100 worth of merchandise and money while their father was at a Loraine gin awaiting the ginning of a load of cotton.

The boys—16, 14 and 13 years of age—were apprehended Saturday after investigation by Deputy Sheriff Lewis Claxton.

They were held in custody until a preliminary hearing Tuesday morning before County Judge Elmer Martin on charges of delinquency.

Final hearing in the case is scheduled for Saturday morning before the judge. In the meantime, the trio have been released in custody of their parents.

County Attorney Frank Ginzle said the three boys apparently committed the burglary late Friday night while waiting for their father and with nothing to do in town.

They first attempted to pry open the furniture store's front door, but were unsuccessful. They left an iron bar they had used as a tool and then went to the store's back door.

In the back, they broke out a glass in the door and then entered the building.

Inside the store they took loot that includes watches, BB guns, pocket knives, shells and some cash.

The burglary was not discovered until J. C. Hall Jr., owner of the store, opened his business Saturday morning.

The boys, according to Ginzle, are in a migrant family harvesting cotton here in the Loraine area. They originally are from Robstown in Nueces County.

Campaign Nearing Halfway

Mitchell County United Fund's 1960 finance campaign soared to above the $13,000 mark Thursday, less than 3 days after its major kickoff.

Jeff Taylor, campaign chairman, at noon Thursday reported pledges and collections at $13,412.

However, that is less than half of the goal of $27,875 needed to allot funds during the 12 months of 1960 to nine participating United Fund agencies.

The $13,412 was counted in reports from six of the campaign's seven major divisions, Taylor said.

Here's the way the reports tabulated:

Advance gifts division — $8,345 in pledges and collections.

Special gifts — $1,805 in pledges and collections.

General solicitation — $1,265 in pledges and collections.

Employes division — $1,713 in pledges and collections.

County West division — $284 in pledges and collections.

The big push for the United Fund's 1960 funds began here Tuesday morning at a kickoff breakfast in Civic House for all Colorado City and County West volunteer workers.

Starting simultaneously with the local group, were volunteers in Loraine under the chairmanship of Rev. H.M. Farrington and Rev. Merriel Abbott.

However, initial report from the Loraine segment of the drive was not expected at campaign headquarters here until later in the week.

"We are gratified at the splendid response to the United Fund call in this opening phase of our campaign," Taylor said Thursday, "but our job still is less than 50 per cent complete."

The goal of $27,875 may seem large. But it is necessary for the programs of our agencies which accomplish so much for youth and charity and medical advancement.

"Our campaign leaders," Taylor said, "are urging all our volunteer workers to complete their card assignments as quickly as possible."

"For it is only when these card assignments are worked that we reach our goal and finish this one drive for all 9 agencies."

This "round-up" breakfast will be for all division chairmen, team captains and workers.

Its purpose will be to check the exact position of the campaign, analyze its needs and carry out the final roundup necessary for success.

In the meantime, reports will continue to be made daily See FUND Pg. 5

10.2 ACRES OF LAND

Schools Purchase Block for Future

Colorado Independent School District has completed a deal for 10.2 acres of land in the city's northeastern area.

The property was obtained as a future school building site in case the community's growth requires additional school construction in years to come.

Supt. Frank Wilson said the acreage definitely is "long range" planning for the school system.

The 10.2 acres are being purchased from Jack Cox at a price of $600 per acre.

The property is all of Block 1, Monticello Addition No. 2, and adjoins Eastover Addition. It is located east of Eastover St. between E. 17th St. and E. 15th St., now undeveloped crop land.

'59 FARM CENSUS

County Workers Named for Census

Five census takers have been named for the Mitchell County area in the 1959 Census of Agriculture, according to Ivan J. Barber, crew leader.

The census takers and the area they will work are as follows:

South of Loraine — Berdett Lee.

North of Loraine — Mrs. Opal Jo Blair.

Colorado City area — R. E. (Bob) Post.

Northwest of Colorado City — T. J. Geiger.

Westbrook area, from U. S. 80 south to county line — Mrs. Blanche Bell.

Barber said the census takers will begin an intensive training course No. 18 in preparation for start of the field canvass Nov. 23.

The training session will be held in Colorado City, and will be conducted by the crew leader who recently attended a five day census training course.

The training course will cover the use of the census questionnaire, census definitions, interviewing, and map reading. Emphasis will be placed on the importance of locating every farm and obtaining complete and accurate information.

The census takers will conduct some actual interviews as part of the training.

MISS EFFIE COPELAND

20 Years of Service Speaks Fine of Farmers Home Clerk

Miss Effie Copeland isn't one to brag about her work for the government.

But her service with the U. S. Department of Agriculture speaks loudly in her behalf.

Infact, Miss Copeland recently received a special citation in recognition of 20 years of service in the Department of Agriculture.

Those entire 20 years — which become 21 Dec. 16 — have been with the same agency, the Farmers Home Administration or its predecessor, the Farm Security Administration.

Miss Copeland is clerk typist assistant in the FHA office supervised for Mitchell County by John Russell.

She has been on the job here for FHA or FSA since June 16, 1937. And she handles the records for 136 FHA borrowers in Mitchell County.

In her work she keeps individual files and loan records, all in multiple forms; handles mortgage papers and vouchers, posts collections and other dates for various files, keeps complete notations and visits records for her supervisor's file, has charge of outgoing and incoming office correspondence, makes out monthly, quarterly, semi-annual and annual reports, and maintains a multiple card system to prepare these and special reports.

That appears to be a lot of paper work and it is. But Miss Copeland says it is about the same as it was 20 years ago.

Indicating the string of government red tape and record keeping hasn't grown any in recent years.

Miss Copeland received an outstanding service award from the Department of Agriculture just 2 years ago. And there is little wonder.

For service is more than just a word for her. That's apparent by the fact that her only lengthy absence from the office in 20 years has been in 2 instances of surgery.

Right now, she has 987 hours of accumulative sick leave plus 90 days of accumulative annual leave — which

IN TUESDAY CEREMONY

Miss Carol Cox is Installed High School FHA President

Carol Cox was installed president of the Colorado City High School Future Homemakers of America in a ceremony last week in the high school homemaker department.

Mary Belle Stockton was installed vice president; Orine Faye Feaster, second vice president; Brenda Butler, secretary; Ann Sellier, treasurer; Patricia Roberts, musician; Sue Jarman, reporter; Jeaneal Howell, historian and Patricia Thomason, parliamentarian.

Mrs. Otis Holladay installed the officers using "Keys" as her theme. Lighted candles were placed as symbols of light which radiates throughout the world. "This is the light of F. H. A. ideals and purposes that make our homes, communities, nation and world a happier place in which to live," Mrs. Holladay said.

"The key is first thought of as mainly an opener, rather than a closer. Second, the key must be taken in hand before it does any good. Third, great opportunities await on the other side of an opened door," Mrs. Holladay said.

Centerpiece of the refreshment table was an arrangement of eight red roses, one large glittered key and a

Today's Smart Gal Economizes on Her Time

BY EDNA MILES

It's paradoxical that in this day of good taste, some women feel that it's perfectly right to economize in the matter of a wrist watch. So they spoil an otherwise attractive costume and good accessories by wearing a castoff watch belonging to husband, son, or brother.

Or, they continue to wear the large, old-fashioned watch of the 1920's complete with sapphire stem-winder. It looks almost as masculine as a man's watch and, on a woman, just as unattractive.

For a woman who wants to be chic but doesn't want it to cost her a fortune, the new costume watches made by one large American company provide a smart solution. They come in five different styles, ranging from the classic round watch the size of a dime to a petite and very new oblong shape. The price tag allows you money back from a $20 bill.

These new watches are, of course, reliable timepieces. They come with expandable bands of suede or nylon straps.

New watches are economical, chic. This one has suede strap.

Paul's Letter Topic for Talk To T.E.L.

Mrs. B. H. Gregory was hostess Friday to members of the T. E. L. Class of the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Bennett Scott, class president, welcomed 15 members and two guests, who were Mrs. W. E. Bates, and Mrs. Lee Lavender.

Mrs. I. K. Galey read the 100th Psalm. Mrs. Bertie Aldridge, class teacher, led the prayer.

Mrs. Lavender spoke on the letters of Paul to Timothy, reminding him of sincere faith in his mother and grandmother. The scripture forms the foundation as well as the name of the T. E. L. Class, the group were told.

The speaker praised the individual members of today and yesterday for the important part they play in the church. She said "Do not feel that you are stumbling along, for actually you are sailing." Mrs. Lavender concluded her talk with a poem, "Lamps of God."

An informal Bible quiz was given the group by Mrs. Cooper and Mrs. Scott.

During the business meeting, the class voted to send a love gift box of items to a blind boy in college.

Present were Mrs. Galey, Mrs. Maude Charters, Mrs. Carl James, Mrs. John Colson, Mrs. Paul Cooper, Mrs. W. A. Lasiter, Mrs. Bennett Scott, Mrs. Lavender, Mrs. L. L. Band Boosters Meet

Colorado City Band Boosters met Monday evening with 23 members present.

The club voted to invite the president of the band, or a person he wishes to appoint, to meet with the Band Boosters Club at their regular meetings.

He would have no voice in the legislation but would be free to express his views and that of the band in all business pertaining to the band.

Dr. Marvin Majors, president of the Band Boosters, reported on the work of the band in becoming famous. Majors said the success of the band can be contributed to the hard work of its members and support of the town.

WITH THREE SPEAKERS

American Hospitality Is Topic For Hesperian Club

"American Hospitality" was topic of the program Friday for members of the Hesperian Study Club in the home of Mrs. E. H. Winn.

Mrs. O. L. Simpson talked on "The Immigrant, the Refugee, The Mexican National and The Foreign Student."

"The Value of International Exchange of Teachers and Students" was subject of a talk by Mrs. Raymond Perdue read by Mrs. Lynn Halbert.

"Need for a Universal Language" was subject of a talk written by Mrs. Charles Freeman, read by Mrs. E. M. Majors.

Mrs. Simpson said that "America was founded upon the principal that differences of race, color, religion or national origin should not be used to deny equal treatment or equal opportunity."

In emphasizing the American tradition, Mrs. Simpson said that America historically has been a haven for the oppressed of other lands.

However, the speaker pointed out five major shortcomings in our immigration and nationality laws which are unwise and injurious to the nation. (1) The laws reflect an attitude of hostility and distrust toward all aliens. (2) It discriminates against human beings on account of national origin, creed and color. (3) It ignores the needs of the U. S. at home and abroad. (4) It provides unnecessary and unreasonable restrictions and penalties against individuals. (5) It is badly drafted, confusing and in some respects unworkable.

In speaking on the subject of "The Foreign Student," Mrs. Simpson reported on the number of exchange students in our country, and the progress made by Hank Kirscher, secretary of International Student Affairs, whose program in 1956 devised a workable opportunity for more students to participate in this program.

On the subject of "The Immigrant," Mrs. Simpson stressed the importance of their role in our agriculture production here at home and other places.

There are dozens of awards for overseas study offered yearly by various foundations, associations and institutions such as the Fulbright Fellowship and the Ford Foundation.

Mrs. Halbert said that the American Institute of International Education arranges exchange scholarships with other countries and help 5000 foreign and American students and specialists a year. The speaker also discussed the merits of the International Exchange of Teachers and Students.

"Evaluation studies show that exchange experience helps grantees to lose unrealistic or stereotyped views of American life. Participants in the program return to their own country and play an ever increasing part in spreading mutual understanding among the free nations of the world," said Mrs. Halbert.

Mrs. Majors, who spoke on "Need for a Universal Language," said that now in a world recently made smaller by jet travel, man is still effectively isolated from his neighbors by language barriers.

She discussed the difficulties involved in trying to present a basic language for all people — a world language. This achievement of a world language is primarily a matter of government action, said Mrs. Majors.

An international tongue would have to begin in the kindergarten level, and would come to maturity in about 20 years, said the speaker. In this way, man will overcome the barrier of words.

Mrs. Bennett Scott reported on the County Federation meeting. Mrs. Vivian Shropshire resigned as secretary of the club and Mrs. J. D. White was elected to fill the vacancy.

The hostess served pumpkin pie topped with whipped cream and coffee to Mrs. Halbert, Mrs. J. E. Hale, Mrs. Otto Jones, Mrs. Majors, Mrs. J. A. Sadler, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. V. V. places. "As they travel from one temporary home to another, they have very little opportunity for improving their living," said the speaker.

She explained how some communities have solved their problem with a planned program by an organized committee. The committee consisting of farmers, school representatives, a newspaper editor and a county nurse. The first step was to get acquainted with the migrant workers and their families.

Migrant camps were visited to learn the needs and interest of the workers. The need for better food and management was apparent, so the local workers helped by their profession, met the urgent needs of the temporary laborers.

Mrs. Halbert talked of "The Value of International Exchange of Teachers and Students."

She said that the American Field Service School Program in New York expects to send 200 juniors abroad for five months in 1959. Qualifications for the students are good academic records, language proficiency and qualities such as human understanding, ability to adapt quickly to different people.

Zetagathians Hear Museum Progress

"Progress Report on Local Museum" was topic of a talk last Thursday by R. H. Ratliff to members of the Zetagathian Study Club in the home of Mrs. Martin Weaver. Mr. Ratliff said that an old plaque probably from the second Mitchell County court house, has just been unearthed in east Colorado City on the Clint Mann place.

"Records show," he said, "that a jail was the first thing needed in the county. A 20 X 14 foot jail was built containing a misdemeanor room. Contract for the first courthouse was let in 1881."

The speaker said that an outdoor kerosene lamp and a 1904 City National Bank calendar were found in the old Sheppard home now being torn down.

Picture of an Easter Hunt at Colorado City Country Club in 1929 was shown the group. Also pictures of the Colorado

City Band of 1898, the Colorado City Guard (a military organization in every town before the Spanish - American War) and a roundup at Spade Ranch were shown. These pictures will be displayed in the museum, the speaker said.

The speaker reported on and showed pictures of Indian drawings found in a cave in Cuthbert. They are believed to be authentic.

"Response to the Museum has been great," said Mr. Ratliff, who is president of Colorado City Museum Association. "We have had response from Georgia to Montana."

During the business meeting, Mrs. Sam L. Majors reported on the County Federation. The club agreed to provide transportation for members of the Golden Age Club to their meetings. Zetagathian members voted to enter the "Light-A-Window" contest and Mrs. Weaver and Mrs. W. S. Rhode were appointed to serve on the executive committee for the County Federation Library.

The club accepted the resignation of Mrs. Homer Bodine. Attending the Thursday meeting were Mrs. Robert Aycock, Mrs. J. S. Craddock, Mrs. Trevor Crawford, Mrs. L. S. Girvin, Mrs. Curtis Latimer, Mrs. Eldon Mahon, Mrs. Majors, Mrs. Don Meecoy, Mrs. Rhode, Mrs. W. J. Turner, Mrs. Brady Warren, Mrs. James Trammell and Mrs. John Brand.

BY COMMUNITY DAY SPEAKER

Lack of Understanding Stressed in Program

Rev. Harry Vanderpool, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Snyder, was speaker Friday for the "World Community Day" program in the First Methodist Church.

Rev. Vanderpool said "There is a mood of pessimism in the United States concerning world peace. People ask what they can do to promote peace, then what will they do about it if we have it?"

"It is important to create a climate in which the seeds of peace can grow," said the speaker. "More people have been won to communism in 40 years than to Christianity in 2000 years."

Rev. Vanderpool, who spent six months as an exchange minister in England, said that "In Europe, attitudes have improved. Germany, in her program of rebuilding, shows an attitude of hope and faith in the future."

"This is also true of Italy," said the speaker. "All reminders of Mussolini have been destroyed. Italians are now interested in automobile production."

Rev. Vanderpool stressed that our great problem today is a lack of understanding. "We think the English are arrogant and lacking a sense of

"HE IS BEST OF ALL MEN WHO FOLLOWS GOOD ADVICE"

"Quoted by Zeno (400 B. C.)"

It is amazing how many people are quick to offer health advice. Without any study or knowledge, they tell you what you should do or take when you are sick.

Thoughtless friends are sincere but unfortunately there are many opportunists. Some door-to-door peddlers and sharp mail order promoters consider profits more important than the good their products will do.

Wise men know the only person capable of giving good advice about how to treat sickness is a physician. They also realize when they obtain medicines and health aids from a pharmacist pledged to consider health more important than immediate great profits, they are always safer.

CRUCIAL 3-AAA TILT

Injury Riddled Wolves Oppose Leading Lamesa

Colorado City High Wolves move into the first of 2 final and crucial District 3-AAA games Friday night and the odds are stacked against them.

Coach Otis Holladay's lads tackle Lamesa High on the Tornados' home field.

And they catch the Lamesa club, pre-season favorites within the district, just as they have hit the powerful pace expected of them all season.

The encounter is critical for both Colorado City and Lamesa.

A loss for Holladay's rebuilding team knocks the Wolves once and for all from any championship contention.

Defeat for Lamesa would eliminate the Tornados also from title hopes.

Right now Lamesa, fresh from 22 to 15 triumph over Snyder High in Snyder's own front yard, is co-leader of District 3-AAA with Snyder. Each has 2 triumphs and one loss.

Colorado City, loser 8 to 33 to Snyder, is tied for second with Sweetwater as both have one win and one loss on their district record.

Holladay and his assistants merged their B-team unit with their varsity this week as they prepared for the Friday night encounter with Lamesa. And the Wolves need the extra bench strength.

Definitely out of the Lamesa game and the Nov. 20 encounter with Sweetwater are Douglas Hodges, small but tough defensive center, and Wayne Reed, halfback. Both have broken hands — Reed sustaining his 2 days before the Lake View game and Hodges receiving his injury in the Lake View contest.

In addition to the injuries, Colorado City will face the most physically potent club of the entire District 3-AAA. For Lamesa will outweigh the Wolves about 15 pounds per player on the average. And their ranks are mostly experienced seniors, while C-City is sprinkled with juniors and sophomores.

Cheering the Wolves, however, is the return of Jerry McKay, the talented halfback and the team's No. 1 passer. He was out of uniform last week when the Wolves romped over Lake View, 27 to 6.

Jay Shimer, the quarterback, will see more defensive action this week. He'll get the duty to assist in filling the gap created by Hodges' injury. Robert Womack, who moves from backfield to guard, will be returning to more backfield action with Reed out of the lineup.

Colorado City's big defensive job will be to contain Howard Westmoreland, the 200-pound Lamesa fullback, who combines with a couple of 180-pounders, Richard Crump and Graham Addison, for the big power in the Tornado backfield.

And these heavyweights have plenty of beef and experience up front, too, clearing their offensive path. Gary Everett and Ross Woodson, guard and tackle on the line's right side, are both 200-plus linemen. Smallest player in the Lamesa lineup is quarterback Kirk Wiggins, who tips the scales at 155 pounds — 5 less than Colorado City's heaviest back.

For the season, Lamesa has won 6 and lost only 3. And within District 3-AAA, the record is 2 wins and only 1 loss — a defeat at the hands of defending champ Sweetwater.

But Sweetwater knocked the Tornados off earlier in the season. Last week's 22 to 15 triumph over Snyder, who previously beat Sweetwater, is convincing enough that Lamesa has finally reached the peak expected of them.

C-City moves into the Lamesa game right after their first victory of the season. They plan to mix their offense up as much as possible in an effort to offset the weight and experience advantage of Lamesa.

BOYS, GIRLS TEAMS

W'brook Cagers In Clean Sweep

Westbrook boys and girls made clean sweeps of basketball games Friday and Tuesday nights against Barnhart and Gall.

Dink Rees led the boys to a 56-48 win at Barnhart with out ever trailing. Parrish Gary hit the basket for 14. Westbrook took the lead from the opening whistle, led 9-7 at the end of the first quarter, 27-20 at halftime and 44-28 at the third marker.

Grady Davis was outstanding on Westbrook's defense. Others playing for Westbrook were Ray Conaway, Joe and Manuel Contreras, Larry Raschke, Bill Bird, Dale Byrd and Jesse Watson.

Westbrook girls took a close one from Barnhart 34-33 with Linda McMahan tallying 17 points. Tuesday night in a home game she and Marie Pufman each scored 15 points to lead their team to a 49-40 win over Gall girls.

Playing on the Westbrook girls' team are McMahan, Pufman, Glenda Rees, June Ritchey, Faye Conaway, Judy Ranne, Ruth Rich, Anita Richards, Martha Bacon, Tanya Boatright, Loretta Whitehead, Doris Sweett, Rebecca Bird and Barbara Chambers.

Dink Rees again Tuesday night paced Westbrook to a 64-26 rout of Gall, hitting the basket for 18 points. Grady Davis was runner-up with 10. Westbrook led 15-4 at the end of the first quarter, 26-8 at halftime and 44-11 in the third quarter.

Friday night the Westbrook teams will be in action again — both the boys and girls' teams playing Highland High in the Highland gym.

6th Grader Survives 'Upset Week' as Best Gri Guesser

By DON BANTA
Record Staff Writer

With a rash of upsets in weekend football activity even the top winning entries in the Record's football guessing contest were far from perfect.

Winning first prize with an entry containing 3 games with the wrong teams picked to win was Douglas Aycock, a sixth grade student at Hutchinson Elementary School.

Douglas made mistakes when he picked Snyder over Lamesa, Northwestern over Wisconsin and L. S. U. over Tennessee. He was 8 points off on the key score, guessing C-City over Lake View, 19-6.

But his overall card of predictions still was good enough during the week of many football upsets to take the contest's first prize — 2 tickets to Texas Tech vs. University of Houston at Lubbock, Nov. 14.

Mrs. Lois Breeden, an employee of Robert's Butane Gas and Appliance Co. was winner of second prize, a year's subscription to the Record. Mrs. Breeden picked Texas Tech over Arizona, Northwestern over Wisconsin and L. S. U. over Tennessee also for 3 wrong guesses.

She was off 15 points on the key score, guessing C-City 13, Lake View 7.

Missing 4 games each were Harold Hendley, Glen Thomas, Mrs. Glen Thomas, Mrs. J. Ed Richardson, director of Colorado City's public school lunch rooms, won third prize of 2 passes to Lone Wolf Drive-in Theater or Palace Theater. Mrs. Richardson also missed 3 games, the same 3 that Douglas Aycock missed. She was off 15 points on the key score, guessing C-City 13, Lake View 7.

Lee Roy Miller, Mobil dealer at the Mobil Service Station, 395 E. Second, recently completed special training in the latest methods of service station operation.

The 2-week training was at the Mobil Oil Company Sales Development Center in Abilene with current information on design changes and requirements for late model cars, products, all car services and station management.

All other entrants missed more than 4 games each.

Tech Opposes Houston in Home Final

Texas Tech's final home game of the season will be with University of Houston Saturday at 2 p. m. in Lubbock.

Fittingly Texas Tech's homecoming, it will be the Red Raiders' only appearance on their own gridiron since the Texas Christian game Oct. 10.

After the Houston game, only a contest with University of Arkansas at Little Rock Nov. 21 remains for the current crop of Raiders.

Only five seniors will be making their final appearance before local fans — co-captains Ken Talkington of Tyler and Jerry Selfridge of Borger, Mickie Barron of Childress, Ronnie Rice of Lefors, and Bill Turnbow of Burkburnett.

A standout lineman for the visiting Houston Cougars is Colorado City's big Jim Windham.

Veterans Day Looks To World Peace

The date is the same, but the name is different and so is the observance. Armistice Day once was a date for parades, flags, uniforms and bands. Now, the date, Nov. 11, is Veterans Day and it slips by the calendar with hardly a notice from most of us.

You can't be sure of the reason for this indifference. Maybe it is because we have become so used to war and threat of war that we want to hide our eyes. Or it might be that we are beginning to understand how inhuman and futile war really is.

It could be a case also of too much generality, changing from celebration of a victorious ending of World War I to a tribute for all persons who have served in our nation's armed forces. After all, there now are more than 22,600,000 American veterans, who along with their families are 40 per cent of our nation's population.

But we shouldn't forget the date. For its purpose, as declared by Act of Congress in 1954, is "to honor veterans on the 11th day of November each year . . . a day dedicated to world peace."

Certainly we must recognize and remember the sacrifices in war, for we must believe in the ideals of our Christian democracy beyond the price of life itself. And much of our country's greatness stems from the fact every generation of Americans has contributed men and women who set the cost of liberty above their own lives.

At the same time, Veterans Day looks ahead, dedicated to the goal of peace throughout the world. That's the most important part, too, for without real peace so many will have given so much in vain.

Even our nation's program for veterans is aimed for the future. More than 10,500,000 veterans have received education and training, getting ready to face a world where education is more and more important. More than 5,400,000 veterans have obtained GI loans to buy their homes or go into business, spearheading the greatest wave of home buying this nation ever witnessed. More than 6,400,000 veterans are aiding protection of their families through government life insurance policies.

Compensation and pension payments go to more than 2,860,000 disabled veterans, helping them to meet today and tomorrow. And the Veterans Administration's 170 hospitals treat nearly 500,000 ill and disabled veterans each year, attempting to rehabilitate them so they can return home as independent, self-sufficient citizens.

With its dedication to peace, Veterans Day is a day even more for all citizens — young and old, veteran or non-veteran. And it should be a day when all of us resolve, really in our hearts, to put love of God and man — and, thus, true peace — first in our daily living.

Almost Half Of '60 Acreage To Texas

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson has proclaimed a national marketing quota of 13,133,000 bales (standard bales of 500 pounds gross weight) and a national acreage allotment of 16 million acres for the 1960 upland cotton crop.

Texas' share will be 6,761,512 acres with an additional 55,965 acres for the national reserve. The secretary also announced his determination that alternate — Choice (B) — farm allotments for the 1960 upland cotton crop will be 40 percent larger than the "regular"

Choice (A) allotments for the same farms.

An acreage allotment of 22,243 acres will be in effect for the extra long staple cotton grown in Texas in 1960. The national marketing quota will be 66,590 bales with a 64,776 acre allotment.

December 15 was set as the date for a growers' referendum on marketing quotas both upland and extra for long staple cotton. At least two-thirds of the farmers voting in the referendum must approve the quotas if they are to remain in effect.

TEXAS AGRICULTURE

Contrasts Shown In Farm Reports

By JOHN C. WHITE
Agriculture Commissioner

Two top spokesmen for the U. S. Department of Agriculture got up before the National Association of State Departments of Agriculture in Nashville, Tenn. the other day and gave conflicting versions of what our farm income looks like in these waning months of 1959.

True D. Morse, the under-secretary of agriculture who often speaks for Secretary Ezra T. Benson, painted a somewhat rosy picture in which he saw agriculture in general in a stronger position than at any time in the past several years.

Then Oris V. Wells, administrator of the Agricultural Marketing Service, appeared to give us an entirely different version but one which we knew was more nearly in line with the facts back home.

It made some of us wonder whether one top hand in our USDA sometimes is completely uninformed on facts another top hand knows all about.

Wells reported to us that so far in 1959 farm prices have averaged four per cent lower and net realized income of farm operators some 10 to 15 per cent below the prices and incomes for the same months in 1958.

This was in sharp contrast to a similar report Wells had given us the year before, when farm prices had run six per cent and realized farm income some 20 per cent higher for the first eight months of 1958 than for the same months of 1957.

But the economist was able to remind us that "the current trend in farm prices and farm income comes as no surprise. We had expected 1959 to be not so good a year generally in terms of farm prices and income as 1958 but nevertheless better than 1957."

He quoted his prediction from last year on the 1959 outlook, to the effect that "although an increasing flow of products from farms will probably maintain total cash receipts from farm marketings, the elimination of a acreage reserve program payments after 1958, and prospects for a further slight rise in production expenses could well bring a reduction of some five to 10 per cent in realized net farm income, depending largely on the level of crop production next year."

This prediction has been more than borne out, with realized net income dropping some 10 to 15 per cent instead of the anticipated five to 10 per cent. But it made some of us wonder just where Under Secretary Morse got the information for his own report on the same program.

Trinity Water Hassle Reflects Big Requirements for Growth

Typical of the tangle of interests and viewpoints that confront Texans when they set out to "solve the water problem" is the current hassle over Trinity River water.

Trinity development poses special problems. This largest river in Texas (in volume of water) has a 455-mile channel that meanders through or near three major population centers — Fort Worth, Dallas and Houston. All are directly concerned, not to mention the smaller cities along the way.

In the current hearing before the State Board of Water Engineers, Houston and the Trinity River Authority jointly seek permits to build two dams, both near Houston. One would be a reservoir at Livingston; the other, a salt water barrier at Wallisville.

At first, Houston alone sought the permits with stiff opposition from TRA. Then the two agencies compromised and agreed that both would build the dams with Houston footing 70 per cent of the bill and getting 70 per cent of the water.

But before the plan could be approved, objections came from all sides. These now are being heard before the Water Board.

San Jacinto River Authority, which supplies part of Houston's water, contends the city should stick with the San Jacinto. North Texas Municipal District and the Municipal Service Company, which long has sought irrigation rights downstream, is opposed to the plan as are various landowners whose property would be flooded by the new reservoir.

Testimony is complex, often heated and expected to be quite lengthy.

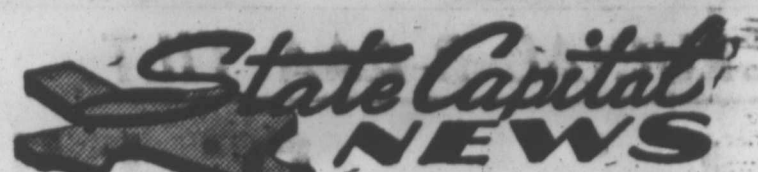

Some of the data presented on future water needs provides a glimpse of the possible Texas of tomorrow. An engineer, appearing for Houston, predicted the nine-county area around that city will have a population of 6,750,000 by the year 2010—more people than the whole state had in 1940. Water needs will be a staggering 2,682,000,000 gallons a day, he said.

PROMOTION STUDIED—House Investigating Committee has been looking into the money-raising methods of a man who claims to have a device to upgrade uranium ore.

John Milton Addison faces charges in state and federal courts of using illegal financial methods. He has reportedly borrowed $1,000,000 at 10 per cent interest in unsecured loans.

But lenders appearing before the House committee said they had faith in Addison and felt he had been "persecuted" by law enforcement officers.

Rep. H. J. Blanchard of Lubbock heads the investigating panel. Other members are Reps. Joe Burkett of Kerrville, Tom Jamies of Dallas, Carl Conley of Raymondville and John Allen of Longview.

COURT TO MOVE—Texas Supreme Court holds its last session in the 71-year-old State Capitol building this week.

But it may be a month before the high court gets all its records and huge library moved and gets settled into the splendid new quarters in the just completed Court Building.

On Nov. 18, however, the judges are to sit at the new marble bench. Furthermore, they will add a new tradition to Texas judicial history by wearing black robes.

Court of Criminal Appeals and Third Court of Civil Appeals are to move into the new building at a later date.

MAY BE SUED—State Supreme Court has ruled that a labor union may be sued for damages by one of its members.

It reversed the holding of a lower court that the union could not be held responsible. This clears the way for a plumber to seek $19,039 in damages.

H. J. Borden, the plumber, charges that an agent for the United Association of Journeymen and Apprentices of the Plumbing and Pipe-fitting Industry barred him from work.

ASLEEP?—Texas Conservatives heard a familiar voice tell them they have become "lazy."

Speaking to a Chamber of Commerce audience, former Gov. Allan Shivers said, "In Austin, the conservative element has little or no leadership . . . has lost its initiative . . . it's incentive."

Shivers, long a Conservative standard bearer, recommended development of a program for the general welfare rather than fighting isolated battles for business interests alone.

He urged a coordinated Conservative program. Opposing forces, he said, have the "perfect set-up" generating fervor for their cause through a tax-free organization, the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education.

SPEED UP—Texas drivers are bearing down on the accelerator more this year, a State Highway Department survey shows.

Study showed average highway speed at 54.8 miles per hour in 1959 compared to 53.4 for 1958. Passenger cars are traveling at an average 56.2 miles per hour; trucks, 50.3; buses, 60.7. Legal rate of speed for buses is 55 miles per hour.

According to the sampling, 21.9 per cent of passenger cars are exceeding the legal rate of 60 miles per hour. Last year only 15.2 per cent were above the legal speed.

Highway Department's survey was made with camouflaged radar equipment at 24 representative locations on rural state highways.

NEW DWI TESTS—It's so hard under present law to prosecute a driving-while-intoxicated charge that most law officers settle for a lesser charge, says the head of the Governor's Highway Safety Commission.

Speaking to the Texas Safety Association, Brad H. Smith urged passage of laws allowing for chemical tests to determine drunkenness.

DANIEL RAPS—Private research agencies have done a good job of fact finding, but the Legislature has been slow to carry out recommendations, Gov. Price Daniel said at the Texas Research League's annual meeting.

He cited law enforcement and traffic safety as areas of legislative foot-dragging and implied there had been an effort to undo Insurance Department reorganization.

BIBLE COMMENT

We Can't Satisfy Wish for Money

The word "career" has become one of the most important in our language. What does a career mean to the student, young businessman or businesswoman; to the writer, artist, teacher or doctor?

More often than not it has come to imply getting rich, securing prestige and property.

Many of the young adults in high schools and universities calculate their life's aim in terms of an amount of money per year. Achievement is measured often in respect to what they can persuade someone they are worth—not in respect to what they can offer to people around them.

The tragic reality to this state of mind is that it leads down a street with no end. True satisfaction can never be delivered in the form of a salary or sales commission. "He that loves silver shall not be satisfied with silver; nor he that loves abundance, with increase; this is also vanity." (Ecclesiastes, 5:10). Recognizing these traits for what they are—vanity—we can understand that their satisfaction is no deeper than a rain puddle. It can catch the rays of the sun and the blue of the sky, yet its base is mud. Tomorrow it will be gone.

To clutch money as though it were truth, or to long for prosperity as though it were the answer to happiness is certainly vanity in its most deadly form.

Lesson in Politics For Merchandising

By ROY V. FOX
Record Co-Publisher

Every successful politician learned early in his career that one vote is not as good as another.

He knows that by obtaining the vote of a group leader he may automatically count several votes to his credit.

Although the same principle applies in advertising, many advertisers never learn to recognize its value. The retailer, like the politician, gains more than a single customer when he reaches a person of influence.

The shopping habits of many people are likely to be influenced by certain individuals.

Among the plus-values of newspaper advertising is readership by just about "everybody who is anybody" in the local community. The very positions of leadership of such people are partly dependent upon their thorough knowledge of the community affairs which comes from local newspaper-reading.

This role of the local newspaper was emphasized last spring by a Southern political leader when he told a university graduating class that he would recommend three things for the attainment of community leadership: "Regular church attendance, good relations with the local bank, and regular and thorough perusal of the hometown newspaper."

Sociologists who have studied the tendency of certain individuals to assume the role of leader and advisor, point out that the role is often limited to certain fields.

For instance, women might look to one woman for advice on cooking, to another for advice on sewing, and to another for advice on gardening.

But whatever the group leaders specialize in, it was found that they made an extra effort to keep themselves informed in their specialty.

And, to be sure, the local newspaper is a prime source of information on which they based their advice as well as their own shopping.

When you want information where do you look for it?

Best bet is to seek out a person well informed on the subject, then quiz him for all the facts you can get.

That's why, when we decided to write something about quail hunting, we went direct to Fred Palmer.

Why Fred? Well, in the first place, Fred has spent the major part of his life in the great outdoors. The handsome Houstonite has hunted since he was a mere boy. And he has loved it since his first day out.

In the second place, he is a master of the art of game calling. Not only does he know how, but he knows how to teach others how.

Fred was born in Inverness, Miss., on Nov. 27, 1920. His father was a hunter and a fisherman of some ability. He devoted much time to teaching his boy to hunt and fish.

Being a natural athlete, Fred caught on quickly. During the depression he spent his money hunting and trapping. He sold quail, squirrels and rabbits to hotels in Hot Springs, Arkansas, where he was reared.

Because money was scarce, Fred learned to make every shot a kill. With that type of upbringing he trained his eye to be acute and his coordination perfect.

In high school Fred was active in athletics—in football, boxing and track. His real interest was in boxing. He became a Golden Gloves finalist as a welterweight and won the Golden Gloves championship in Chicago in 1939.

Out of his 73 fights as a professional he won 71. In a rematch he won over the two earlier victors. In all of his fighting he was never knocked down or out and he scored 38 knockouts.

The last four years of his fighting Fred spent in Hollywood as a stunt man and actor. He still holds a screen actors guild card.

Fred has played in "Treasure of Sierra Madre" with Humphrey Bogart and Walter Huston. He also was filmed in "Johnny Diamond" with Dick Powell.

As a stunt man he was John L. Sullivan in the film "The Great John L." He was typed in gangster parts, bit parts—and earned 32 screen credits.

Tiring of screen work and longing for the great outdoors, Fred left Hollywood in 1953. He came to Houston to engage in home construction work. Four years later he became associated with Bud Hagner in the game call business. Fred designs the calls and Bud makes the finished product.

To date they have produced three types of Truetone Game Calls. During the next two years they will have six more calls, including domestic, big game calls—for use in Africa to call lions, tigers and other big predator animals.

Their calls are made entirely of anodized aluminum and stainless steel, and therefore are virtually indestructible.

Not content merely to produce a lifetime guaranteed call, Fred made a recording of instructions for the hunter to follow in using each call. Furthermore, he tells how to give the proper inflections—and demonstrates by sounds the exact tones the hunter must endeavor to obtain.

On the other side of his quail call platter Fred discusses the birds and their habits—and their habitats.

About quail hunting Fred has this to say: "Anyone who has hunted quail knows that the cheerful bobwhite will freeze you like it does an old pointer on the first covey of the season."

"If you've never been quail hunting, all we can say is that when you do go out you'll proclaim it the finest of all wing-shooting sports. The quail is the perfect game bird. He is plentiful. He holds well for a dog. He flies fast and straight. And he is unsurpassed on the table. A smoky, crisp Autumn day afire with your favorite gun, a fine dog and fried bobwhite, is one of the rare treats in a sportsman's life."

That Fred is enthused about the pastime, there is no doubt. We asked him about hunting with dogs. To this he replied, "With a good quail call you can hunt very successfully without a dog. But a good pointing dog will find more birds. Furthermore, he'll help you collect all the birds that you shoot. And there will be fewer cripples left to die."

In answer to our question about the bird itself, Fred said: "Quail feed on grain and the seeds of grass or weeds. Overgrown farms are ideal quail habitats. But this fine game bird flourishes in cultivated country too. He may be found around the edges of fields, along brushy fence rows and in light open woods where his food is more abundant."

"Coveys roost on the ground at night, usually on high ground. Seldom do they move their roosts very far from night to night."

"Best shooting comes during the early morning and late afternoon hours. The birds are most responsive to your quail calls during these periods of the day and least responsive during the heat of the day."

With Fred's Truetone Quail Call you don't blow through it... you draw air into it.

Fred demonstrated the proper positioning of the mouth, the thumbs and forefingers for giving the lost quail call. "It's the only call you'll need while hunting," said Fred, as he emitted a "chirp, chirp, chirp." His advice was to repeat the call three times, with a slight pause between each call.

He closed our discussion with a demonstration of the mating call, used for "springtime prospecting of quail territory, for future hunting."

A most interesting session with Fred Palmer ended with mutual well wishes for "good luck and good hunting for many seasons to come."

'Mail Early' Campaign Starts For Yule Cards and Packages

Postmaster A. M. Morris Thursday announced his annual "Mail Early for Christmas" campaign and outlined his plans for insuring delivery of all Christmas gifts and cards by Christmas Eve.

Diamond

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt smiles for photographers in New York. She celebrated her 75th birthday.

"We've found from past experience," Morris said, "that the two biggest factors in successfully handling the Christmas mail rush are first, to get our Post Office facilities into high gear from every standpoint, and second, and most important, to have the full cooperation of the mailing public."

He then offered some helpful suggestions by stating, "It's not too soon to start checking your Christmas gift and card lists very carefully—making sure that each address includes full name, correct mailing address, city, and state."

He also said, "Early Christmas shoppers should stock up now on heavy wrapping paper, sturdy corrugated cartons, strong cord, and paper adhesive tape, to insure secure packing and wrapping of Christmas gifts."

Buy stamps for your Christmas cards now, before the rush, and thus avoid those last minute Christmas mailing headaches, he added.

Predicting that this year's Christmas mail will set a new, all time record, exceeding even the 183,440 pieces that were handled here in the pre-holiday season of 1955, Morris especially directed his appeal to "the lady of the house" for cooperation on his "Mail Early for Christmas" campaign. She's the one that usually selects the Christmas cards, buys most of the gifts, and sees to it that the Christmas mailing lists are up-to-date, the Postmaster explained.

For guidance on your Christmas gift mailings he suggested that you secure Pamphlet No. 2 at the Post Office, which gives you helpful, detailed information.

The Post Office also provides free labels which read "ALL FOR LOCAL DELIVERY" and "ALL FOR OUT OF TOWN DELIVERY," so that you can sort your Christmas cards into two groups before you mail them, with the addresses all facing one way, thus hastening their handling and delivery.

Be sure to use only first class four cent, or seven cent air mail postage on your Christmas cards. This enables you to include handwritten messages on the cards and, also, cards sent by first class mail are subject to forwarding or return service, if necessary, whereas cards that are mailed at the three cent, third class rate, may include only your signature and will not be forwarded or returned.

It is not only socially correct, but extremely helpful to both the Post Office and those on your mailing lists, to include your return name and address on every Christmas card envelope. And this is especially important, Morris emphasized.

The postmaster emphasized the importance of planning your Christmas mailings so that those Christmas cards and gifts for most distant points are mailed first. Special effort should be made to get all of your out-of-town packages and cards into the Post Office before Dec. 10.

Those for nearby points will arrive before Christmas Eve if they are mailed by Dec. 15.

Attention for C-City

Colorado City's colorful history received special attention last week in an edition of the Houston Chronicle.

Highlights of C-City's past were related in Symund Byrd's column with an assist from Harry Ratliff, local attorney.

Violent Romance

Robert Mitchum and Julie London co-star in "The Wonderful Country", a movie where they pursue a proud and violent romance, showing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Palace Theatre. Supporting cast includes Gary Merrill, Jack Oakie and Leroy "Satchel" Paige.

VIOLENCE, ROMANCE

'Wonderful Country' Sunday at Palace

"The Wonderful Country," and crew (and all their equipment) were moved en masse 500 miles from Hollywood overnight—a neat job in logistics involving the use of two chartered airplanes, five sleeper buses, twelve limousines and thirty trucks.

"The Wonderful Country," story of an American soldier-of-fortune, forced to live in Mexico to avoid a murder indictment, is the screen version of Tom Lea's best-selling novel by the same name, and features a supporting cast that includes Jack Oakie (his return to the screen), Albert Dekker, Charles McCraw and introduces the legendary bareball hurler, Leroy "Satchel" Paige, in his first screen role.

Robert Mitchum plays the role of Martin Bray, the pistolero, in "The Wonderful Country." As the hired gunman of a Mexican politician, he combines toughness and cynicism in his best vein. Julie London, who enjoys the unique distinction in Hollywood of combining equally brilliant and separate careers as singer and a dramatic actress, plays her most challenging role to date in this film as an army wife torn between loyalty to her husband and her strange passion for the paid gunman.

For filming of "The Wonderful Country," the better than 200 members of the cast

Rev. Selcraig Re-elected to Baptist Board

Rev. Jack Selcraig, pastor of the First Baptist Church, has been re-elected to the executive board of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

Selcraig was re-elected to the position during the Wednesday afternoon session of the BGCT, meeting in Corpus Christi's Memorial Coliseum last week.

The 191-member board consists of pastors, laymen and women from throughout the state. It meets four times a year to conduct the denomination's business between annual convention sessions, and is the most influential organization in the denomination.

Most of the board's work is done through committees, including the convention's plans and policies committee, the appropriations committee, committee on committees, and general committees.

16 JOB LEADERS

Chili Chairman Named by Lions

Sixteen chairmen and co-chairmen will handle key assignments in the Lions Club's Chili Day, Nov. 21.

These leaders, announced Saturday by Dr. W. S. (Bill) Rhode, will handle plans, preparation and actual work the day of the chili meals in Civic House.

In a principal role immediately is Fred McKay, who is chairman of the ticket sales. McKay will conduct advance ticket sales throughout the community. Proceeds form all ticket sales—the net profit, of course—will be applied for improvements to Civic House.

This is the second consecutive year the Lions have scheduled a chili day for benefit of Civic Center. Last fall the chili sales made enough money to re-paint the Civic House interior and install tile flooring in the kitchen.

Other chairman and co-chairmen announced by Dr. Rhode are:

Jimmy Harrison, advertising and publicity; Ross Daniels, food procurement; Ray

Noble and Bill Carter, plus; James Boyd and Dub Turner, cooks; Gus Chesney and Dr. Oscar Rhode, chili servers.

J. S. (Jess) Craddock and J. W. (Bill) Randle, head waiters; Bob Reilly and J. S. (Jay) Craddock Jr., dishwashers; Jeff Taylor, clean-up detail; Gwan Strange and M. N. (Nap) Caddell, pickup detail.

Tickets for the chili day meals are $1 and 50 cents.

Two chili meals will be served Nov. 21—the first from 11 a. m. until 2 p. m. and the second from 5 p. m. until 8 p. m.

QUESTION TO CITIZENSHIP

Part of Solution or Problem? Speer Asks

A top official in West Texas law enforcement has pointed out 2 major social problems for Colorado City citizens — heavy traffic toll and rising crime rate.

Main reasons for the increasing threat of these have been public apathy and failure of citizens to meet their responsibilities.

Maj. W. E. Speer of Odessa, head of Texas Department of Public Safety's Region 4, spoke last week here to Kiwanis Club in Civic House.

He emphasized the need for individual citizens to properly evaluate events and conditions as they arise.

"We need to re-evaluate our own life and see how we live it," the major said, "and this is much more important than money or fame or acclaim."

"We need to know if we are a part of the solution or a part of the problem in our own home, community, state and nation."

He criticized apathy, indecision and refusal of "far too many citizens" to assume their responsibility in our complex social order.

"We need to assume just a little more integrity and honesty," he said.

Pointing to the traffic problem, Speer reported 2,300 to 2,500 persons are killed, 125,000 are injured and 377 million dollars in property damaged is caused each year in Texas by motor vehicle accidents.

"These accidents are acts of man," the lawman said, "not acts of God."

"God permits this useless waste because we have not been able to conquer the automobile."

Speer said this loss could be materially reduced. This is evident in the fact that rate of traffic deaths within Texas has dropped from 17 per 100 million miles traveled in 1935 (when the Department of Public Safety was organized) to 6 deaths per 100 million miles now.

"We have made progress," Speer said, "but we need to make more."

The highway patrol major pointed to the crime problem with alarming statistics. 170,000 felony crimes in Texas each year, increase in the crime rate every year since World War 2, a crime rate increase 3 times higher than the rate of population increase.

"The most sobering thought," Speer declared, "is that almost one-half of all felony crime arrests last year involved youths 18 years of age or younger."

"But anyway you look at it, we have an increasing crime rate which should be of interest to every citizen."

"The younger generation," he said, "has not gone to the dogs."

"But if we do not change this alarming crime rate, then it may affect the stability of our very government."

There are numerous contributing factors to the crime increase, Speer reported.

"Some say it is a breaking down of home life," he said, "and some say it is because mothers are working and are away from their children more."

"Some say it is the aftermath of war with a moral breakdown."

"I don't know the reason," the major said, "but I believe boys and girls should be kept busy."

"An idle mind is a devil's workshop."

Speer said we are blessed with more material advances and with more leisure time than any generation.

"But the big problem," he said, "is what to do with this leisure time."

"If we could solve this for our boys and girls, we could turn that crime rate down."

Blind Report Planned for Lions Friday

"Vision Across Texas," a 15-minute sound motion picture featuring rehabilitation work with the blind of Texas, was presented at the Lions Club luncheon Friday noon in Civic House.

B. Hampton Bowman, rehabilitation counselor for the State Commission for the Blind, and Randolph Greene, placement counselor for the State, presented the program. Both are from Lubbock.

The film showed how much the Texas Lions League has done for the Commission in its rehabilitation program through Lions Camp at Kerrville. It will show how blind people are prepared for employment.

The program was introduced by M. N. Caddell, Director-at-large for the Camp.

The program was part of the Lions special November observance honoring the camp at Kerrville, which has allowed 4,281 handicapped youngsters to enjoy camping life since the camp was opened in 1953.

The Lions camp is free to the blind, mute, deaf and crippled children of Texas between ages of 7 and 16. Expanding steadily, the camp now has 16 permanent buildings valued at $600,000.

Each summer, for two weeks, 720 youngsters learn to swim, camp outdoors under the stars and develop new skills by learning various handicrafts.

Originally, the camp was in use only in the summer. Now it is being used the year around. During the other months, the camp serves as a training center for the adult blind — one of the thirteen recognized centers of its kind in the nation.
