Russians Claim They Do Not Want War But Are Ready If It Comes; Might Displayed

(By The United Press)

MOSCOW, May 1.—Flames of war are burning more fiercely and might spread to any part of the Soviet union, Defense Commissar Klementi E. Voroshilov today declared in a May day address to massed troops.

Speaking at the greatest show of Soviet military might in history, Voroshilov declared that the "Soviet union does not want war, but we are always ready."

"The Russian people are grateful for the blessings of peace and are happy not to be involved in the imperialist war," Voroshilov said in a four-minute speech.

"We must exercise the utmost vigilance and strengthen our red army and our red fleet," he added. "Bloodshed is growing. War mongers will try to drag us into the war and then attack one or another part of our territory. We must double our vigilance, increase ten-fold our preparedness while further strengthening our military might."

Tens of thousands of troops filled Red square and adjacent streets. Cavalry, infantry and marines were represented.

Josef Stalin Appears

The demonstration began at noon with the appearance of Josef Stalin at the Lenin mausoleum in the center of Red square. He was surrounded by the cabinet.

Simultaneously, the gates of the Kremlin opened and Voroshilov, mounted on a white horse, rode through the troops to the mausoleum, where he made his address.

Hundreds of Russian planes maneuvered over Red square in an impressive display of Soviet air might.

A manifesto of the communist internationale published prior to the demonstration denounced "imperialist war mongers" and charged that the United States was reaching out for Greenland and Iceland and was joining in a dispute over the Dutch East Indies.

Germany Is Defended

The manifesto said the Germans had gone into Scandinavia "to

Seven Persons Die When Plane Falls

(By The United Press)

CLACTON-ON-SEA, England, May 1—Village officials announced today that seven persons were killed and more than 100 injured as a result of the crash of a German Heinkel bombing plane in this seaside resort.

Four members of the plane's crew and three civilians were killed when the plane hit an apartment house and burned itself in a great crater, exploding its load of eight 500-pound bombs.

Houses Are Damaged

About 50 houses were damaged, some being destroyed.

Soldiers, policemen, air raid wardens, firemen and auxiliary firemen, ambulance crews and Red Cross workers turned out and prevented the strangest accident of the war from being even more of a tragedy by getting people away from the danger zone and preventing a devastating fire.

As it was, damage was estimated at not less than $400,000.

It had been known last night that German raiding planes were out over the southeast coast. Three of them were seen in mid-evening, flying low over the sea front. A little while later there was heavy anti-aircraft fire. Then searchlights were played in the sky out at sea. Shortly before midnight there was a burst of anti-aircraft fire. Then came the rattle of machine gun fire, and tracer bullets were seen. It was believed German planes were attacking a ship convoy.

One Plane Is Struck

Firing continued after midnight and one of the Germans was struck. One of its two 1,150 horsepower motors went out of action and the crippled plane flew in over the Clacton ocean front. Those people not asleep heard the roar of its one working motor, closer and closer as it lost altitude. Desperately, its crew began firing Verey signal rockets, seeking a landing place. It came lower and lower until it smashed into the apartment house.

The powerful, compact raider, its wing span spreading to 74 feet, tore through the apartment house and kept on through the seaside villas 100 yards from the seafront, until

Mexican Boy Is Held For Bicycle Thefts

Police at noon held a 14-year-old Mexican boy suspected of having done an energetic business in stealing, buying and trading in bicycles.

According to the version of Julio Herrera, Mexican cop who made the arrest, the boy had two or three unassembled bicycles, ownership of the parts of which is questionable.

According to Herrera, the boy is suspected of having stolen several bikes, taken them to the canyon, torn them down, thrown away parts that could be identified, then mounted unidentifiable parts on old frames he would buy occasionally in Lubbock.

Girl Attends 74 Schools In Past 10 Years

BOSTON, May 1 (U.P.)—Miss June Hanke, 16, whose address might be given as "North America," is getting her education the hard way.

In the past 10 years she has attended 74 schools in every state and in Canada and Mexico. Miss Hanke is the daughter of a salesman who travels "like a gypsy" and settles temporarily wherever prospects look good.

Born in Detroit, she attended six kindergartens in her first year. Her freshman year at high school was spent in 16 schools. Despite her "hit and run" education, Miss Hanke is in the same grade as other girls her age.

She estimates that she has traveled 360,000 miles in 10 years.

Hatch Bill Is Killed Today

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 1 — The House judiciary committee killed today the Senate approved Hatch bill to regulate political activities of state employes paid with federal funds.

The committee ordered the bill "tabled," meaning that it will be stuffed away in a pigeonhole.

The vote was not announced and Chairman Sumners (D-Tex) refused to discuss the matter beyond making the bare announcement of disposal of the measure.

To Start Petition

In addition to restricting the political activities of state employes paid in whole or in part with federal funds, the measure also would have limited personal campaign contributions to $5,000.

Soon after the action was disclosed, Representative Dempsey (D-NM) announced he would start a petition to take the measure away from the committee and bring it to the House floor for debate.

Abnormal Cold Reported Over Midwest Area

Snow Flurries In Some Sections As Winds Die Out

(By The United Press)

Winter cracked its whip over the north central states today in the wake of destructive winds which left at least 16 dead from Texas to Kentucky.

Snow flurries blanketed the northern fringe of the fertile corn belt from the Dakotas to Michigan, ranging to an inch in northern Iowa. Traces were recorded as far south as northeastern Kansas and central Illinois.

Snow At Chicago

Chicago had its first measurable May snowfall in 17 years, when half an inch fell.

The U. S. weather bureau at Chicago said the light snow or rain would prevail over the Great Lakes region through the night with fair skies and rising temperatures Thursday. Abnormal cold, generally with sub-freezing readings, was reported through most of the midwest. Damage to crops was slight.

Winds of tornadic velocity which swept through the Mississippi valley from the southwest last night, taking a serious toll in property and human life, were dissipated today as the brunt of the storm struck in the Appalachian range. The center of the storm was in northern Indiana, but the velocity had dwindled to 24 miles an hour, and the weather bureau said its force was spent.

Five Killed In Missouri

Eastern Missouri counted five dead from the lashing power of a tornado, bringing the national toll to 16 deaths.

A farmer and a negro farm hand were killed near Sikeston, Mo., and two negro laborers and a small boy were the storm's victims at nearby Bertrand, Mo. A stray twister at Grand River, Ky., destroyed the home of Mrs. Ruby Hawks and smothered her in the HOUSTON, May 1.—John Frank Lee, 42, unemployed automobile mechanic, was shot to death and his wife was assaulted criminally today by a negro man who had been chased away from the Lee home two hours earlier.

Lee was shot through the left eye and was killed instantly. The negro had commanded him to hold up his hands, but shot Lee before he had time to obey.

Was Seated On Bed

Mrs. Lola Lee, 37, told police and Justice of the Peace Tom Maes that her husband was seated on his bed when the shot was fired.

His body fell to the floor and Mrs. Lee tried to escape, she said, but the negro seized and attacked her.

The couple's two sons, Edgar, 15, and Earl, 13, were in an adjoining room. Edgar was not awakened by the shot or disturbance. After the attack, Earl ran to a neighbor's home and summoned officers.

Verdict Is Withheld

Justice Maes withheld an inquest verdict while officers searched the area for the killer. Bloodhounds were brought to the scene but failed to pick up the trail.

About midnight, Mrs. Lee said, the negro appeared at the back door of their small home and called: "Come here."

"We didn't pay any attention, thinking it might be one of our sons, Edgar or Earl," she said. "Then we realized that the boys were asleep in the other bedroom. My husband went to investigate and got a butcher knife and went around the house, but he didn't find anything."

Came Back And Entered

The negro came back and entered the house.

Mrs. Lee said that after the first visit of the negro, she and her husband sat on the bed "talking and listening" for two hours.

"The curtains separating the bedroom from the kitchen parted and the negro stepped in with a pistol. "'Put 'em up,' he told us and my

No Plans For Sudden Entry Held By Italy

But Indignation Is Felt Over British Shipping Order

(By The United Press)

ROME, May 1. — United States Ambassador William Phillips called on Premier Benito Mussolini today and was said to have been informed by Il Duce that no sudden change will be made in Italy's position relative to the war.

Phillips called on Mussolini, it was said, to ascertain if possible what the Italian position is in the present international situation in view of the sharpened tone of Italian official and newspaper statements relative to the Allies.

No Sudden Change

He spent 45 minutes with the premier and after the meeting it was said that Mussolini advised him no sudden change in the present Italian position of non-belligerency is in prospect.

Tension over a possible quick move which would bring Italy into the war at the side of Germany had been heightened by the revelation that the British admiralty had ordered British shipping-in-transit to avoid the Mediterranean until further notice because of that possibility.

Italy Was Indignant

Italian circles were indignant over the British order.

Some unofficial spokesmen said such an order was unwarranted and others said it had complicated the situation by creating the opinion that Italy's attitude makes the Mediterranean unsafe for shipping. Well informed persons said Italy never had been adverse to other nations using the Mediterranean, but had not wanted those nations to get the idea that their interests in the Mediterranean were more important than Italy's.

Despite press attacks on the Allies, a British commercial mission is meeting with Italian authorities here soon and the London correspondent of Foreign Minister Galeazzo Ciano's newspaper Telegrafo at Leghorn reported yesterday that "there is hope that differences over the British blockade may be ironed out during talks which the mission will have in Rome."

Attitude Of Italians Toward The Allies Is Said Alarming

PARIS, May 1 (AP)—The Italian attitude toward the Allies "has become definitely alarming" in the last two days, a foreign ministry spokesman declared today.

The spokesman said the foreign office's concern over future relations with France's Mediterranean neighbor was "frankly uneasy."

He added that the ministry's apprehension was based on the general atmosphere in government and diplomatic circles in Rome rather than on specific facts.

Reward For Capture Of Hitler Recalls The Daring Plot Of Americans To Nab Kaiser

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, May 1 — A Pittsburgh group offered today to pay a million dollar reward for the capture of Adolf Hitler, unhurt, but specified that the German fuehrer must be delivered into the custody of the League of Nations before the end of May.

Samuel Harden Church, president of the $28,000,000 Carnegie institute, announced the offer on behalf of an unnamed group, which he said was acting in "good faith," in a letter to the New York Times.

The unusual proposal brought back recollections of a daring post-World war scheme of a group of American soldiers to kidnap the German kaiser from his refuge in Holland.

In his letter, Church said that Hitler should be delivered "for trial before a high court of justice for his crimes against the peace and dignity of the world."

Church said in a telephone interview with the Times that the proposal had been discussed for some time among some members of the Duquesne club of Pittsburgh after private advices reached them saying Hitler planned an attempt to break through on the Western front soon.

Shortly after the armistice of 1918 a band of Americans who had served with the A. E. F., among them Col. Luke Lea of Tennessee and Larry MacPhail, now president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, secretly entered Holland and travelled to Kaiser Wilhelm's "haven."

According to legend surrounding the adventure, which the participants were reluctant to discuss in later years, the party

MRS. MARY BUNDICK

I began having severe attacks of indigestion after my meals. I would bloat regardless of my diet and this condition made me so nervous I could hardly stand it at times. But when those terrible pains settled in my joints and muscles and my arms, hands and limbs began to swell to almost double their size I thought I was doomed to suffer. My flesh pricked and burned and for eight months I went about on crutches. I was confined to bed part of the time and unable to do a single thing. When Gly-Cas was so highly recommended to me I secured a treatment and by the time I had taken it one week I could see a wonderful change."

"Since Gly-Cas has given me regular elimination of those clogged intestinal impurities and my bowels are functioning properly my health worries have been solved," continued Mrs. Bundick. "I have not had a single attack of indigestion since, that dreadful pain and swelling has left my body. I get about without the aid of my crutches and the most I could say for this marvelous remedy would not be sufficient praise for what it has meant to me."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, this city, and by the leading druggists in surrounding towns. Adv.

Numerous awards were presented at the annual banquet of the Dairy club of Texas Technological college featured by an address by Henry Teubel, president and manager of the Swisher creamery, Inc., of Tulia, in the women's dormitory of the college Tuesday night.

Teubel, who came to the United States when 18 years of age, contrasted the opportunities offered in America with those in the "old countries."

At the close of Teubel's speech, Dr Clifford B. Jones Tech president, spoke briefly, lauding the Tulia man's talk and declaring, "Thank God, we live in a place like America."

Speech Is Highlight

Teubel's speech and the presentation of awards to dairy contest winners highlighted the banquet program.

Youths Facing Assault Count

WAXAHACHIE, May 1. (U.P.) — Charges of burglary and assault on an officer will be filed against two youths, aged 19 and 20, in the robbery of the Dunlap Hardware and Furniture Co., and slugging of Nightwatchman Sid Edwards at Midlothian last night, Sheriff Joe Roy said today.

Edwards surprised two men in the act of robbing the store and arrested them. En route to jail, they jumped on him, struck him on the head and ran. Edwards fired at the pair but missed and they escaped.

Edwards said "about $5 in cash" was discovered missing at the store. He said he was not hurt seriously.

Roy, notified of the holdup, telephoned a description of the two to Fort Worth police who arrested them. They were described as well known Fort Worth police characters.

Ellis county deputies brought the two here, where Edwards identified them as his assailants.

Constipation Relief That Also Pepsin-izes Stomach

When constipation brings on acid indigestion, bloating, dizzy spells, gas, coated tongue, sour taste, and bad breath, your stomach is probably loaded up with certain undigested food and your bowels don't move. So you need both Pepsin to help break up fast that rich undigested food in your stomach, and Laxative Senna to pull the trigger on those lazy bowels. So be sure your laxative also contains Pepsin. Take Dr. Caldwell's Laxative, because its Syrup Pepsin helps you gain that wonderful stomach comfort, while the Laxative Senna moves your bowels. Tests prove the power of Pepsin to dissolve those lumps of undigested protein food which may linger in your stomach, to cause belching, gastric acidity and nausea. This is how pepsinizing your stomach helps relieve it of such distress. At the same time this medicine wakes up lazy nerves and muscles in your bowels to relieve your constipation. So see how much better you feel by taking the laxative that also puts Pepsin to work on that stomach discomfort, too. Even finicky children love to taste this pleasant family laxative. News note from California:

LEMONADE
AT MEALS

SIX BENEFITS NOTED!

Hollywood, Calif.—Americans like change. They're getting tired of that proverbial glass of water by the plate at every lunch and dinner.

Instead they're setting a big pitcher of lemonade on the table for the enjoyment of all.

Of course it's delicious — everyone likes lemonade. Its zip and tang whets the appetite, makes food taste better.

But the healthful balance lemonade adds to any meal is what is gaining most applause for the new plan.

Lemon juice supplies vitamins C and B_1 — two vitamins which the body does not store, so must be taken daily for the best of health.

And lemons are the only known source of citrin (the newly discovered vitamin P). This may explain many of their special health benefits, scientists say.

So get a dozen Sunkist Lemons today. (They are California's juiciest and finest.) Make a big pitcher of tart lemonade for the family dinner. Give your folks this "glass of water" that health authorities suggest in a more delicious and beneficial form—lemonade! Start today!

Mrs. H. F. Godeke Is Named Seventh District President

By MARGARET TURNER
Journal Woman's Editor

SHAMROCK, May 1 — President of the Seventh District, Texas Federation of Women's clubs for a biennial term will be Mrs. H. F. Godeke. She won over her only opponent, by 38 votes, Mrs. W. P. Clement. The election was held for four hours Tuesday, second day of the convention.

Over 400 women are attending sessions, representing 49 counties in the Panhandle and Plains section. Featuring closing day, which is today, will be an address, "Now We Are Fifty," by Mrs. Richard J. Turrentine, Denton, director to the general federation, which is observing a golden jubilee this year.

Applause Tuesday morning was almost hysterical after the convention had voted to ratify the action of the board in unanimously endorsing the candidacy of Mrs. J. W. Walker, Plainview, past district president, for presidency of the Texas Federation. Mrs. O. H. Carlisle, Houston, Mrs. Walker's only opponent, is a visitor at the convention. Mrs. Walker in expressing appreciation of the honor said, "Whatever the outcome of the election I hope I may sustain, in victory or defeat, your faith in me."

Guest speakers at the Tuesday afternoon session were J. C. Kellam, Austin, state NYA administrator, who discussed, "Youth—Asset or Liability?" and Miss Isabel Robinson, of the West Texas State Teachers college art faculty, Canyon, who discussed, "Developing The Artistic Resources Of The High Plains Of Texas."

Mrs. Godeke has served as urban-rural cooperation chairman of the Texas federation for two administrations and during the last administration she has served as chairman of comparative government. She is vice-president and program chairman of the County Federation.

She recently completed a term as president of the Llano Estacado Delphian chapter and is honorary vice-president of Delta Kappa Gamma teachers fraternity.

Mrs. Godeke is a member of the steering committee of the People's Library movement.

She is recognized over the state as an authority on parliamentary law and has served as parliamentarian for the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers and for the 14th district of that organization and served as parliamentarian at spring conventions.

Mrs. Godeke moved to Lubbock in 1930 from Milwaukee, Wis., where she was active in club, school and civic enterprises. Her husband is head of the mechanical engineering department at Texas Technological college.

Reorganization Plan Is Drafted Tuesday

Reorganization of Motor Fuels Corporation of Levelland was discussed at a hearing Tuesday in Fort Worth before Glen Smith, referee in bankruptcy and minor changes approved in a plan recommended by the stockholders' committee, according to the Associated Press.

No objections were made by creditors to the proposed plan. Copies of the proposals will be mailed to all creditors and stockholders and a confirmation hearing has been set for May 14. At that time the plan will be considered again.

Meantime the plant is being operated under a receiver appointed by the federal court. Ira Butler of Fort Worth is the receiver. He was selected by Judge James C. Wilson.

Expansion Of Power Lines Under Way

Texas-New Mexico Utilities Co. is completing a 22,000 volt high line between Seagraves and Seminole to replace the former 11,500 volt line that was being overtaxed, due to growth of a demand for power in the Gaines county seat, H. I. Allen, vice president and general manager, said.

Another high line with 11,500 volt capacity, from Denver City northeast 11 miles to the Bennett field, is to be completed late this week.

Plains Power & Light Co. is completing an 11,500 volt line from Plains south to Denver City to hook onto the T-NM high line there. The concern, owned by Clyde Hartwick and associates, will furnish power to the Yoakum county seat. The utilities will sell power to the Plains group.

Rapid expansion of power lines in Gaines and Yoakum counties has been credited to development in the oil fields. The company has increased its plant capacity at Seagraves as well as extended high lines to nearby fields and towns.

Lecture Series To Be Presented Here

Plans for a three-day lecture series to be delivered at Texas Technological college next fall in connection with work of the Southern Community Institute of Holland's magazine were disclosed at the chamber of commerce this morning by R. C. Morrison, institute director.

Morrison announced also that a story of Lubbock's cleanup campaign record will appear in an early issue of the magazine. One of the chief reasons for his visit here, he explained, was to gather material and pictures for the article.

Primary purpose of the institute, he explained, is to encourage improvement in living and health conditions in towns of the south. Lubbock was the recipient of a certificate awarded by the institute for having made the outstanding cleanup record during 1939 among all cities and towns of the south, he added.

Founders' Day Banquet Held By Beta Sigma Phi Chapter

The rapid growth of the Beta Sigma Phi sorority since its founding nine years ago was traced by Mrs. Arch L. King, president of the charter group of the Texas Alpha Delta chapter organized here three years ago, in her talk at the Founders' Day banquet at Hilton hotel Tuesday night.

"From a small beginning the sorority has grown into an international organization with more than one thousand chapters and a membership exceeding twenty thousand women in the United States, Canada and the Hawaiian Islands," Mrs. King said.

Mrs. Theresa White was voted outstanding member of the local chapter during the year and she will be awarded a sorority plaque.

Miss Kathrine Malone, who will be installed as president, Thursday night, made the response for the chapter.

"Our Love For Beta Sigma Phi" was sung by a quartet composed of Mrs. Lloyd Zellner; Misses Lee Blundell, Bertha and Tarsey Singley. Miss Blundell led the chapter in singing sorority songs.

Table decorations arranged by Mrs. Vannoy featured a musical theme, with tiny orchestral figurines displayed on a background of gold and black, the organization's colors, and lighted by gold tapers. Placecards were yellow with a large black musical note on them.

Preceding the banquet a candlelight pledge service was read by Miss Lula Mae Cravens, educational director. Following the meal the ritual of jewels, initiation service, was directed by Mrs. King.

Attending were Mesdames Bennett Curry Benson, Nathan White, Thresa White, C. H. Scales, W. H. Galloway, William A. Wilbanks, Vannoy, King, Zellner; Misses Mary Bowers, Eloise Smith, Bertha and Tarsey Singley, Powell, Malone, Lottie Croslin, Blundell and Cravens.

WPA rolls on April 1 listed about 2,100,000 persons, and officials were reported to have estimated that enough money remained to keep all but 350,000 employed through May and June. Some congressmen have predicted elimination of 600,000 relief clients from the rosters unless extra funds are provided for the two months.

The figures on employment were made public by McNutt in a statement coincident with President Roosevelt's proclamation designating this as "national employment week."

McNutt instructed state directors of 1,600 federal employment bureaus and officers of the CCC, the National Youth administration and the office of education to cooperate with civic organizations and private employers to find jobs for the unemployed.

Georgia Probe Is Being Conducted

GAINESVILLE, Ga., May 1. (U.P.)—Cancelled checks and bank deposit slips were produced today by federal prosecutors in an effort to show that a north Georgia county commissioner served as a clearing house for graft payments to Rep. B. Frank Whelchel.

O. John Rogge, assistant U. S. attorney general and director of the recent federal cleanup in Louisiana, took over presentation of the government case. He brought to the witness stand several small town bankers to testify regarding Whelchel and H. Grady Stones, Pickens county commissioner, who were accused of conspiring to sell federal appointments.

The government alleged that Whelchel received $1,100 for appointing Hulon Holcomb to a rural mail carrier's route at the village of Ball Ground.

"Gloss over" your engine's age— Change now to OIL-PLATING

"Full-time lubrication" is the good description of OIL-PLATING given by a garage man. He was letting a customer see why to change to patented Conoco Germ Processed oil, which is the way to have your engine OIL-PLATED.

"Now part-time lubrication," explained the garage man, "is from oil-film draining down every chance, like a liquid. But this Germ Processed oil, besides its swell oil-film, gives OIL-PLATING, which is up through your engine nights and days, every minute, full-time."

"Never drains down, not even parked?" the customer quizzed.

"Right! That's what's special about Germ Processed oil. It's made to OIL-PLATE lubricant on engine parts in a regular close partnership—this way". . . and grunting forcibly the garage man made his fingers interlock.

The customer allowed that OIL-PLATING must be as drain-proof as chromium-plating, and he added, "So all I've heard about starting up with the oil drained down, wouldn't be a worry any more with the engine's insides OIL-PLATED?"

"No it wouldn't. OIL-PLATING outsmarts heavy starting wear—and other wear, too—and that's why you wouldn't guess the age of an OIL-PLATED engine from the way it keeps giving oil mileage."

"I'd like to see how much mileage is meant by Your Mileage Merchant sign, but I've only got five or ten minutes". . . which proved ample for changing to Conoco Germ Processed oil, and the customer drove off with his engine being promptly OIL-PLATED.

Grain Farmers Obtain Profit

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, May 1—Although Uncle Sam claimed title today to an undetermined amount of mortgaged 1939 wheat, grain belt farmers who repaid government loans have turned a profit on the transaction principally because of the war and a domestic crop scare.

The government's 1939 wheat loan program, a phase of the ever-normal granary plan, has ended except for loans on about 21,000,000 bushels of grain stored on farms. These can be extended a year. Outstanding loans not eligible for extension will be called.

Amount Is Unknown

How much grain the government eventually will possess because of defaulted loans cannot be determined as yet.

Originally the Commodity Credit corporation advanced more than $110,000,000 on 167,000,000 bushels but recently farmers have been repaying loans at the rate of about $7,000,000 weekly. Thus, the bulk of the grain has been redeemed by producers taking advantage of the 20 cents a bushel or more rise above original loan rates.

Terminal markets have been flooded with receipts of wheat which would have been marketed last summer and fall had it not been for the loan program. However, much repossessed wheat is believed to be held by producers who are speculating in the hope of a further price upturn.

Two negro laborers were killed at Bertrand, Mo.

Greatest destruction was reported in Texas where damage was estimated at $1,000,000. Three oil and gas wells were reported running wild near Greggton in eastern Texas after the storm toppled half a hundred derricks. City officials called for assistance of county officials for patrols and to keep motorists out of the lowland areas where the gas had settled. They feared the gas might be ignited and cause widespread fires in the oil country.

The gyrating storm struck Frankston, an Anderson county town of 800, shortly before dark. Mary Lee Cook, one-year-old, was drowned when a cloudburst that accompanied the storm swept a wall of water through a concrete highway culvert where the child's mother, Mrs. Ted Cook, had sought refuge. A score of houses in Frankston were damaged by the wind.

Two Die At Richland

Two persons were killed at Richland, Tex., when the twister demolished the James McNeese home, a barn and several garages. The dead were McNeese, 65, and his son, Cecil, 45. Mrs. Alice McNeese, 60, was injured critically.

At Tull, Ark., six white persons were killed and half the buildings of the small village were destroyed. Several injured were taken to neighboring cities of Benton and Bauxite. Damage was estimated at about $3,000.

A white farmer and an unidentified negro were killed north of Sikeston, Mo., and a small boy was fatally injured at Bertrand, Mo., near Sikeston.

Guardsmen Called Out

Half the buildings at Chaffee, Mo., a town of 3,000, were demolished and McMullin, Mo., a Scott county hamlet, was reported destroyed. Members of the Cape Girardeau, Mo., service company national guard were sent to the wrecked areas for patrol duty and to assist the band unit of the 140th infantry, U. S. army, stationed at Chaffee.

Kentucky and Tennessee cities reported high winds that damaged communications and power lines and caused some property losses. Thunderstorms accompanied the wind and at Nashville, Tenn., 1.11 inches of rain fell in five hours.

Violent winds had caused the death of one man in central Illinois Monday night.

Slaton Pioneer Is Visitor Here Today

"Uncle George" Marriott of Slaton, who says with a grin he knows everybody in Lubbock county, visited Lubbock this morning—"sort of in celebration for getting out of Clovis hospital after a 29-day stretch."

Uncle George once operated the Slaton depot reading room, in the days when persons from Lubbock perforce went there to dance, if they danced.

He said "don't tell anybody, but I'll be 80 June 9."

Asked how he felt, he said he could "explain better by a story."

"The other day," he said, "the Rev. Quattlebaum, Slaton minister, asked how my rheumatism was. You know I used to do a lot of tap dancing—going around to the public schools and doing some shuffling. Well, I put on a jig act with my right foot, keeping the left anchored with my walking cane. 'My Baptist leg is all right, but I can't do nothing at all with my Methodist leg,' I told him."

Custody Of Russell Is To Be Sought

A requisition that eventually will ask that I. B. Russell be released by California to custody of Sheriff Ed Hofacket of Hockley county so that Russell can be returned to face a swindling charge, was being prepared this morning by Burton S. Burks, 72nd district attorney.

Sheriff Hofacket and a deputy, W. C. Rogers, were in Lubbock to give required information to Burks. A check of $234 presented to Tom H. Davis of Anton for threshed maize was basis for the complaint, said

Sheriff Hofacket

Chamber Completes Its Census Drive

The chamber of commerce this afternoon and Thursday morning "will complete our work in connection with the census, by collecting remaining blanks here and there in business establishments."

Afterward, work in counting noses will be left strictly to cleanup efforts of the regular census officials and to the public.

Robert H. Bean, district supervisor of the census, said that persons who "feel possibility of having been missed can telephone me at 4728 or call at 209 McElroy building, which is at 909 1-2 Broadway. Blanks will be sent to such persons and they can be mailed back."

Savings Levy

those savings will be sterile. The saver will be performing a disservice by withdrawing the amount of his savings from the flow of money spent for consumption. There will be no means for him to put the monsy back to work by investing it.

"Their solution is simply that the government must take the savings from the people and use them in a gigantic and apparently perpetual spending-lending program. It is a perfect build-up for a tax on savings."

Stock Market

WAR ISSUES LOWER

NEW YORK, May 1 (AP) — Blocks, aircrafts, motors and other shares associated with war drifted lower today carrying the whole stock market fractionally downhill.

Traders were motivated in their pessimistic outlook by indication that the campaign for the control of Norway was turning against the Allies.

Losses were general toward the close and the timidity of operators was shown by the small total of transactions, about 450,000 shares.

If the weak market showed any good feature it was that declines only amounted to small fractions after an opening which saw some leaders as much as a point off.

Chief of the issues on the downside were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, Case, Caterpillar, Douglas, United Aircraft, Martin, American Airlines, American Smelting, International Nickel, General Electric, Dupont, Union Carbide, Johns Manville, Loft and Western Auto Supply. The last named slipped 6 points at one time to reach a new low of the year.

Bonds were as weak as stocks. Commodities averaged slightly lower.

Weakness in the London, Paris and Amsterdam markets exemplified the general attitude of traders in this country.

Wheat closed 1⅞-2⅞ lower than yesterday, May 1.04⅞-1.05⅛, July 1.04⅛-¼, corn ⅝-¾ down, May 64, July 64⅝-⅝, oats ⅜-⅝ lower.

Building Totals Are Far Ahead Of 1939

Building permit total for the first four months of 1940 are more than $500,000 ahead of the same period last year, preliminary tabulations in the office of City Building Inspector Jim Reid disclosed this morning.

The total to May 1 this year of $1,586,027 compares with $1,044,618 on the same date last year, a difference of $541,409, the report showed.

The first permit for the new month of May was issued this morning to G. C. Bishop, owner, and R. D. Jones, contractor, for a residence costing $2,800 at 2322 Seventh street.

it buried itself and burst into flames.

There was one shattering explosion, then several more. Evidently, the gas tanks and the plane's bombs, suspended vertically, had blown up.

Persons as far away as one mile were staggered by the concussion from the explosions, and persons as far away as 20 miles heard them.

Terrified residents ran from their homes in their night attire to see what had happened.

Fires were started in wrecked homes. Within a few minutes police had reached the scene. Soldiers aided them in cordoning off the danger area and air raid wardens and firemen and auxiliary firemen fought the fires.

An elderly man, bedridden, and his wife were rescued from their home, the entire front of which had been blown away. A baby carriage was found hanging in a tree. A piece of one of the plane's parachutes was found half a mile away. Four revolvers, belonging to the plane crew, and bedding and clothing were strewn in roadways.

The first body recovered from the smoulderding crater was that of a German second lieutenant. Then four more bodies were found, one of a woman.

The woman's body was in the pile of burned debris left of the home in which she had been sleeping.

"Before we could do it, the negro shot my husband. He rolled off the side of the bed and the negro went out of the back door.

"I hid behind the dresser, but soon the negro returned and started ransacking the place. He found me and made me come out."

The negro assaulted her and she quoted him as saying: "If you had come out when I called you before, I never would have shot your husband."

Earl Lee said he heard his dog barking in the kitchen, looked into the room and saw a negro. A moment later, he heard a shot. He said the negro entered his room and told him to "be quiet."

Edgar slept until his mother shook him and told him his father had been killed, Earl said.

Police Homicide Detectives J. F. Willis and Frank Murray investigated and said they found large footprints around the house, apparently made after a heavy rain. The officers found an empty .32 caliber pistol cartridge on the floor of the bedroom.

Mrs. Lee said the negro was between 20 and 30 years old, five feet 10 inches tall, had dark brown skin and big lips, and wore a dark work shirt and rolled-up trousers with no shoes. She said she could identify him.

Young Man Was Only Seeking Cool Spot

Cops sped to 812 Texas avenue. A burglar was on the roof. So said an emergency alarm.

Prowl car patrolmen found a young man making down a bed over the eaves.

"Too hot down there inside," he said.

A tire and tube was reported stolen from J. E. Mann of 809 Sixth street, two tires and tubes from Lyle Yates of 802 Avenue H. A similar loss was reported by Yates Saturday.

Doyce Barrett and Kenneth Campbell said two coats and a vest were stolen from them in Mackenzie State park.

Police investigated a report someone was trying to effect entry to a small house at the rear of 2208 Eighth street, but no one was arrested.

Firemen early Tuesday night answered an alarm in 600-block Broadway, where a burning car had been extinguished before their arrival.

Three Suspects In Murder Eliminated

LORENZO, May 1 (Special) — Three suspects had been eliminated and officials were "grasping at straws" in their efforts to solve the fiendish murder-robbery at Lorenzo State bank as they continued investigating today.

The body of Irvin Bownds, 36-year-old cashier found dead Monday in the bank vault, was buried Tuesday afternoon in Lorenzo cemetery, after services had been read at the First Baptist church by Rev. W. M. Turner of Pecos. The Masonic lodge conducted graveside services.

Sheriff Jim Williams of Crosbyton said this morning three suspects had been eliminated. Sheriff Williams, the Lubbock police department and the Lubbock county sheriff's department said they knew nothing of the rumor that a man had been arrested in a Lubbock dancing place Tuesday night after the man had shown a roll of currency and begun talking of the Lorenzo crime.

Sheriff Williams returned to Lorenzo this morning to continue investigation.

Pitchers Begin Catching Up With Hitters In WT-NM; Hubbers Invade Lay

Carleton's Shutout Keeps Dodger Light Glowing

Lubbock Turns First Home Victory, 7-5

Returning to its senses long enough to reel off results that resemble baseball scores instead of hardwood runaways, the West Texas-New Mexico league campaign today plans bang-up series finales on four fronts before shifting scenes again take the limelight.

For Lubbock enthusiasts—there are a few still left—this afternoon's appearance of the Hubbers will be the last until one week from tonight when Big Spring comes here to inaugurate nocturnal contests.

Invade Lamesa Thursday

During the interim, Manager Charlie Engle and his charges, who jumped back into the win column for the second time since the season got under way with a 7 to 5 triumph over Pampa Tuesday, will have made a six-day tour of the northern half of the circuit, after one stop in Lamesa.

Beginning tomorrow, the Lubbocks will take to the road for the second time, invading Loboland for a one-day stand, then swinging back to the north Panhandle for a three-game series with Borger's Gassers Monday and Tuesday. Pampa will entertain. Then the trek home. Similar schedules will be followed by the other league members now entrenched at home.

Midland Thumps Sox

Other than Lubbock's return to form, biggest talk of the league today was the second consecutive setback Midland's surprising Cowboys handed Manager Claude Jonnard's high-flying Gold Sox last night, 10 to 9, in the ninth, to tumble the helium city aggregation into a three-way second place tie and hurtle the Loboes into the lead by one-half game.

The Loboes did their part in retaining a top percentage reading by thumping the pesky Gassers, 5 to 4, while Big Spring was increasing its status with a neat 4 to 2 triumph over Clovis.

Hyma Is Impressive

Lubbock's triumph at their stomping grounds on College avenue and Second street was the initial one of the season on the home grounds. Another important feature of the victory was that it marked the first time that a Hubber hurler had gone the distance without faltering. John Hyma, lanky 19-year-old right-hander, turned the trick in tossing a scattered nine-hit game with his defense clicking in a complete reversal of form from that which had marked play until yesterday's game.

Hyma promptly walked into hot water in the initial stanza, issuing a walk, two hits and three more walks that gave Pampa three runs to start on, Jerry Jordan's double scoring two of them, a base on balls the other.

Another shining light in the Lubbock victory other than Hyma was

Large Crowd Sees Tech Double-T Show Last Night

What was believed to be the largest attendance ever to witness a Double-T production Tuesday night jammed into Tech gymnasium for "The Insane Review," annual spring comedy presented by members of the Red Raider lettermen's association.

A program of 17 acts were "sure fire" hits with the appreciative audience and critics proclaimed the show the best in the history of the college. Both professional and simon-pure, the latter the football players, had prominent parts in the production.

Moneys derived above expenses will be used to beautify the Matt Hitchcock memorial garden in Tech stadium and to repaint the huge Double-T sign on front of the college gym.

The house was "brought down" by Jack Wheelis, an end on the football team, who contributed a Gypsy Rose Lee strip-tease act. Still another that stopped the show was Dudley Akins' impersonation of Coach Pete Cawthon talking to his footballers between halves of a game. Dixie White impersonated Coach "Dutchy" Smith in the same act. Both impersonations were excellent and deserved the applause they received.

Wiley Walker of the radio team of Wiley and Gene served as master of ceremonies and turned in a splendid job. Hop Halsey and his Drugstore Cowboys, W. E. Lavender the magician, Mule Kayser with his impersonations, the singing of Miss Brunette Beard and the singing of Miss Johnnie Faye Templeton were other acts which were well received.

High School Baseball Meet Opens At Fox Park Thursday

With their eyes set on the District High school baseball tournament which gets under way at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon at Fox Park, Coach Fred Rich's Cooper High aggregation today planned further practice before launching into competition with Whitharral's defending champions, Roosevelt and Frenship for the 1940 South Plains schoolboy crown.

Two games are on docket in the double elimination three-day tournament, which will be climaxed Saturday afternoon. Initial tussles each day start at 2 o'clock, the nightcaps scheduled for 4:30 o'clock.

Cooper Hurlers "Hot"

Tuesday afternoon, the Cooper nine sharpened its attack with an impressive 3 to 0 triumph over the Arnett-Benson Independents.

Red Phillips started on the mound for the winners and allowed but one bingle in four frames, giving way to Lefty Robertson who held the Independents to "nary a one" in the remaining three stanzas. Wilson toiled for the losers, limiting the Cooper crew to four scattered safties.

Cooper scored in the fifth when Womack walked, Huckabee reach first on an error and Berry singled to send in both. The final tally came in the sixth when Qualls hit a single, stole second, advanced to third on a passed ball and scored on a perfect bunt by Doyce Barrett.

San Antonio Kids Continue To Set Texas Loop Pace

(By The Associated Press)

Before the Texas League season started the critics picked Ft. Worth, Shreveport, Houston and Dallas as the big four.

Only Houston has lived up to expectations. The Buffs have either been on top or in second place from the start.

Dallas is dangerously near the cellar. Shreveport is in it. Fort Worth is having a tough fight to stay in the first division.

And leading the big parade is a gang of San Antonio youngsters relegated to the second division by even the broad-minded before the drive opened.

Last night, with Hay Hanning in the box, they shut out Oklahoma City 2-0.

Houston lost ground when threatening weather forced postponement of the game with Fort Worth.

Beaumont edged ahead of Dallas with a 4-3 decision and Tulsa beat Shreveport 9-4.

Tyler Strengthens Club, Wins Pair

(By The Associated Press)

The Tyler Trojans were getting nowhere fast in the East Texas league race when club officials called time out for a pep talk and to secure new players.

What they said and did paid off it seems because the Trojans had lost eight games in a row up to Monday night but now have two victories.

Last night Tyler beat Jacksonville 21-0, with Nick Gregory, one of the new players, leading the 23-hit attack with four singles and a homer.

The other games were postponed due to rain.

Three Games Booked At Softball Park; Lead Changes Fast

With Home Lumber and Supply and Corcorran's established as the league's top teams, the 14 other clubs in the city softball loops tonight start firing to displace them.

Corcorran's, which took over the Class B lead last night when Poultry and Egg defeated Dalby, engages Southwest Products in the middle game of a three-contest card. Hub Laundry and Lubbock Sash and Door, both considered strong threats in the Class C division, meet in the 7 o'clock opener, with Sears and McIlhaney playing in the final.

Lumbermen Drop Borden's

Home Lumber edged out Borden's 15 to 14, to take over the lead in Class C last night, as the Eggers swatted Dalby, 19 to 12, to hand over the Class B top spot to Corcorran's.

The opening game last night was a merry slugfest all the way, hefty hitting rather than loose defensive work accounting for most of the tallies. A three-run seventh-inning rally sparked by doubles by Cox, Ferrell and Felty pushed the Lumbermen ahead.

Lumbermen Connect

The Lumbermen found Charley Herring's throwing easy, got 22 base blows, every member of the team except Firstbaseman Sides getting two or more. Wayne Finnell, with two doubles and a home run, topped the clouters.

Borden's took a lead with a seven-run outburst in the second, featuring homers by Pitcher Herring and Catcher Pharr, but the Lumbermen kept pecking away and finally went ahead in the seventh.

Errors Set Record

Dalby set a new high in reverse in their game with the Eggers, 17 errors going into the books against them. Smith, third base, and Wadsworth, first base, miscued five times each.

Howard Kimble started on the mound for P. and E. and was credited with the victory, although Lefty Mathis replaced him in the fifth. Kimble struck out eight men, Mathis added two more.

The line scores:

A CORRECTION

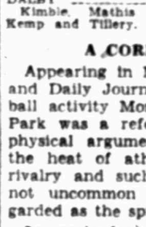

Appearing in Morning Avalanche and Daily Journal reports of softball activity Monday night at Fox Park was a reference to a bit of physical argument precipitated by the heat of athletic rivalry, such rivalry and such arguments being not uncommon and generally regarded as the spice of the program.

In yesterday's references, however, it was said that Earl Ince figured in the extra-curricular activities, and that said person, upon becoming involved in arguments with a few persons, including the umpire, "challenged anybody in the house," or words to that effect.

Two errors, one of them more or less technical, seemed to be present in the report of the contests. The person for whom the reference was intended was Earl Ince, jr., to be specific, and Earl Ince, jr., told the Morning Avalanche he did NOT challenge everybody in the park, but admitted he figured in a brief fistic skirmish following the game.

Texas Cowhand Provides 9th Straight Win

BY JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

There's no use being skeptical any longer. Destiny's Dodgers are so hot they're setting the National League on fire and the other clubs are blotted out of the picture.

Nine straight victories, climaxed by a no-hit pitching performance from a 33-year-old Texas cowhand who almost decided to quit baseball last winter and stay at home on the range, show that Brooklyn is taking baseball seriously and will have to be taken seriously.

Winning streaks sometimes are put together with luck but the Dodgers' wasn't. They simply overwhelmed every foe they have met. Tex Carleton's no-hit 3-0 masterpiece against Cincinnati yesterday pointed up the fact that Brooklyn pitchers have allowed only 63 hits and 14 runs in nine games.

Browns Beat Yankees

The St. Louis Cardinals were rained out against the Giants yesterday, but the Pittsburgh Pirates were beaten for the fourth straight time, 6-2, by the Phillies. The Chicago Cubs had an 8-7 squeeze to win in ten innings from the Bees. Al Todd hit a homer in the extra installment for the victory.

Plaudits of the baseball world also went to another Texan, the 25-year-old southpaw of the St. Louis Browns, Emil Bildilli, who stopped the world champion New York Yankees 2-1 on two hits in his first start in the majors.

It was the seventh time in ten games a lefthander had started on the mound against the Yanks and the fourth time they had fallen. They have been beaten twice by righthanders.

The Cleveland Indians climbed back into exclusive possession of the lead in the American League with a 10-5 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics.

The Boston Red Sox were 9-4 victims of the Chicago White Sox.

The Washington Senators bagged the Detroit Tigers 9-4.

Poetic Justice Comes To Carleton

BY JOHN FRYE
Associated Press Sports Writer

CINCINNATI, O., May 1 (AP) — Tex Carleton, discarded by the minors only months ago as an apparent "washout," looked at the world today from the heights of no-hit baseball fame.

The tall, curly-haired 33-year-old refugee from the American Association pitched the undefeated Brooklyn Dodgers to a 3 to 0 triumph over Cincinnati yesterday before 10,544 fans who were with him almost to a man.

If any there were who cried "they can't do that to our Reds," they didn't have much chance to be heard.

The 10,544 cheered Milkman Jim Turner, late of the Boston Bees, who in eight innings allowed but four hits. But soon after Pete Coscarart lofted one over the left-field wall in the fifth for a three-run homer, fans suspected they might see the realization of pitcher's dream. They applauded the Reds—but yelled and cheered the Texan's every move.

Throws 92 Pitches

Aside from tying modern major league records in giving his team its ninth straight game at the start of the season, there was poetic justice in Carleton's performance.

Carleton, formerly with the St. Louis Cardinals and the Chicago Cubs bet sold down river to Milwaukee and unconditionally released last year, conceded "it makes me feel great," but said he "didn't realize until the eighth that I might have a no-hitter."

"From then on," he grinned, "I counted every pitch."

In hurling the second no-hit no-run game of the season—just two weeks to a day since Bobby Feller turned the trick for Cleveland in the opener against the Chicago White Sox — Carleton threw 92 pitches. Four men faced him in each of three innings as a result of his two walks and Dodger errors, and the rest of the time the Reds went out one-two-three.

First Winner Is Back Again

BY FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, May 1 (AP) — Twenty three years ago this month a young San Antonio lady won the first Texas Women's golf title.

Today, little of the spring gone from her step, virtually none of the effectiveness from her game, silvery-haired Mrs. Jack H. Lapham teed off for the second round of the annual tournament, still a favorite.

Sentiment didn't make her a favorite. She established herself from the beginning, carding a comfortable 90 over rain-washed Brook Hollow in the qualifying round and then eliminating Mrs. W. F. Alexander of Dallas, 7 and 5, in a stunning first round match yesterday.

Seeks Eighth Title

Seven times the gracious, kindly San Antonio sportswoman has won this Texas title, the last time in 1928, at Houston.

Younger stars came along. Mrs. Lapham still is the master of the short game. National Champion Betty Jameson and the youngsters who have taken over the headlines still pause to study her chips and putts.

Mrs. Lapham isn't the current favorite — those roles belong to Betty Jameson, Mrs. Dan Chandler, Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite and Mrs. E. R. Hury — but she will be feared if she meets up with any of them before this tournament is ended.

The tournament had only one feature match today. Mrs. Goldthwaite drew Miss Marie Levi of Dallas.

Mrs. Goldthwaite easily disposed of Mrs. S. R. Lawder of Houston in the first round, 6 and 5. Miss Levi was only a shot or two off par with a 3 and 2 victory over Mrs. G. G. Gannon of Houston.

Mrs. Chandler Prospers

Miss Jameson, nearing Mrs. Lapham's title record in trying for her fifth consecutive victory, was paired against Mrs. W. H. Ainsworth of Houston. Betty dropped Mrs. P. K. French of Fort Worth, 6 and 5, while Mrs. Ainsworth rallied to beat

Cy LaMaster Named Cowhand Mentor

Football fortunes of Lubbock High school's Cowhands are now in the hands of Cy LaMaster. The former Texas Tech player, manager and assistant backfield mentor was appointed to the position Tuesday night by the Lubbock school board.

LaMaster served as coach at Tulia High part of last season, later assisting with the Westerners in their drive to the state championship.

Since the record number of prospects turned out for the Cowhand and Westerner squads for spring training, LaMaster has been serving at the high school, his appointment being more or less expected by observers.

Hubbers Win Second

Steve Niedziela, hustling, hard-hitting third baseman who has been on the suspended list with a sore arm. His hitting played a prominent part in the tally department as his defensive work did in holding down Oller scoring.

Niedziela, with three for three, Drake, with the same record, and Hajduk, with two for four, were the big guns in the Hubber attack.

Stevens Pacing Loboes

At Lamesa, it was Malcolm Stevens who again led the attack with two homers and a single in four times up for the Loboes. Pitching duties for the losers were handled by John Tysko, for the winners by Lefty Millspaugh.

A mound dual that was tops considering a cold north wind was offered Big Spring fans, Pete Poteet striking out 10 batsmen while the Barons' Larsen whiffed 13 in aiding Manager Tony Rego's nine to a close victory. The Pioneers, tied in the cellar with Lubbock, came up with a rally in the ninth on two booming homers by Johnny Stone and Williams, but couldn't keep up the momentum and were stifled.

Homer Turns Trick

For Amarillo, there likely is a funny taste in the mouth—and all of its own medicine. Emmett Fulcwinder, clouting outfielder, for the Sox had sent his mates ahead of the Cowboys in the eighth with a homerun that caught two aboard. But with one out, Manager Sammy Hale sent in a pinch hitter, who reached first on a walk. Catcher Al Berndt then came up. An argument ensued during which Hill was relieved on the mound for Amarillo by Trantham. On Peavine's second toss, Berndt caught the pellet on the nose and the game was over. Bob Mitchell went the distance for the winners.

Buffs Return To Tech Field

A busy afternoon of running plays featured Texas Tech's spring football workout yesterday. The Red Raiders are expected to reveal a smooth clicking machine Thursday night at 8 o'clock when they scrimmage the West Texas State Teachers at Tech stadium, the third and final scrimmage between the speedy, elusive Crimsons and the husky Canyon aggregation.

Coach Cawthon has issued a cordial invitation to all fans to be his guests at Thursday night's scrimmage. Professor D. O. Wiley and his Texas Tech band will play.

Regulation "Game"

The scrimmage will be a regulation game except for the kick-off. Each club will hold the ball until lost through the required four downs.

The Raiders are nearing the end of their 30-day spring training grind and the majority of candidates have come through as expected. A few who were expected to blossom into first rate talent started fast but faded out. However, Coach Cawthon expected some to fail this spring and claims he will be thoroughly satisfied if he can reap about 25 better than average players from the large squad.

In Thursday night's free-to-the-public scrimmage the fans will see such tested backs as C. L. Storrs, Tyrus Bain, Bill Brown, Rogers Smith, Charlie Dvoracek, Tom Douglass, Ed Harris, "Red" Amonett, Don Austin, Milton Hill and Raymond Flusche go for pay-dirt. Such boys as Amonett, Brown, Hill and Austin are speed demons and have been difficult to stop in other sessions with Canyon.

Thompson To Perform

Coach "Dutchy" Smith will trot out his best forwards against the Teachers. Somewhere along the scrimmage route the fans will see Newman Ledbetter, tackle; Rafe Nabors, center; Prince Scott, end; Captain Lonnie McCurry, guard; Charlie Daniel, guard, Eddie Saliba, tackle; Bob O'Connor, tackle, and many others prove their worth down in the mire of the line where the going is always rugged and rough.

The Teachers' outstanding "act" for Thursday night will be "Blazin' Bill" Thompson the former Amarillo High great.

6,500 MILES of WIRE
Installed in Lubbock

Men Watch Sensitive Dials . . . test local telephones

Others Climb Poles . . . string wire to new homes

Wires being connected at the telephone office

Crews of workmen install telephones in new homes

Enough copper wire to reach from here to Fort Worth 20 times . . . 6,500 miles of it . . . has had to be installed in Lubbock during the last five years so that new telephones could be connected with all others in the city.

It's a big job, expanding the outside wire and cable network to meet the telephone needs of a city that is growing as fast as Lubbock. In December, an $81,000 construction project was completed extending poles, wires, and cables to serve new homes south of the college. Lines have had to be extended throughout the south and southwest sections, between 19th and 34th streets . . . to Crestlawn, College Park, and Highland Heights and other additions . . . to rural communities fringing the city.

A new $26,000 construction program will be started soon to provide larger arterial cables in the downtown area, and to furnish telephone lines for the new eight-story office building. Another project will extend cable and wire three-fourths mile south of the university, for new homes in the College View, Kingser, and Lubbock View additions.

As families move into their new homes, and new business houses open, a pair of wires has to be ready for each new telephone line all the way to the central office. Soon the big arterial cables are filled, and more of them have to be pulled through conduit beneath the city's streets. Cable splicers must join wires from these big cables to those in smaller ones branching out to new sections on the outskirts.

Hundreds and hundreds of miles of copper wire have had to be added to the network of telephone lines here as Lubbock grew, and even this has been barely enough to keep up with demands for service.

As people move farther and farther from the telephone building, it takes more wire per telephone to serve them. At the telephone building, it takes more equipment to interconnect telephones as the city grows.

Because of these things, the money invested in Lubbock's telephone system, and the expenses required to furnish service are increasing faster than the revenue from more telephones, even though the plant is operating at almost maximum capacity.

As Lubbock continues to grow the telephone company will continue its efforts to meet the problems imposed by that growth, and to furnish fast, accurate, and dependable telephone service at the lowest cost possible.

As a telephone system grows, expenses increase at a much faster rate than revenue. One problem raised by Lubbock's growth arises from the fact that, although total revenue of the telephone company here has increased 88 per cent during the last five years, expenses have gone up 128 per cent.

That Girl on Broadway says the stylishly dressed woman of today is an intensely interesting study in the delicate balancing of concealment and revelation.

"The eyes, ears and throat," says a specialist, "are sympathetically connected."

This probably explains why so many things we hear and see these days give us a pain in the neck!

THOUGHTFUL men in the Senate and elsewhere in official Washington, including those both in and out of the administration camp, are at last becoming aroused of the problem of the farmers, as distinguished from the farm problem.

They're coming to talk now less about farm surpluses and low prices for farm products, more about the surplus of farm workers and low wages paid to workers on farms.

In other words, the sociological implications of the problem are beginning to transcend its economic aspects.

Two important government investigatory committees are currently devoting their attention to the farmers' plight—their researches dove-tailing into a cause-and-effect picture of a tragic hue. The Temporary National Economic committee has been holding hearings on the impact of technological developments upon farming. The LaFollette committee, which originally set out to probe violations of civil liberties among migrant "Grapes of Wrath Okies" engaged in agricultural work in California, found that the subject had much more than purely local significance. Therefore, the committee has sought to get to the roots which have produced this crop of weeds and this week the LaFollette group is busily engaged on a new set of hearings in Washington in an effort to work out a solution to the migrant problem.

The central fact emerging from both the LaFollette and Economic committee hearings and inquiries is that the trend in America appears to be away from the family farm, which we have always had as a great foundation stone in this country, and over into industrial agriculture.

The problem, of course, is how to care for the hundreds of thousands of our people who are directly dislocated by this change.

TO us of the South Plains, this is a very, very important problem. Because we have seen with our own eyes the sight of hundreds of tenant farm families moving to town or taking to the open road due to changes in the system, we know the problem is acute and must be solved. Therefore, we of this last great agricultural frontier will hope that the federal agencies tackling the problem will solve it quickly and intelligently.

One thing the investigating committees in Washington should quickly learn, if they haven't already learned, is that the present policies of the U. S. Department of Agriculture are contributing to the new methods of farming in this section, as well as elsewhere, through the parity payments plan.

The greatest reason for the difficulty of the tenant farmer in this country is, and for several years has been, the fact that the parity payments plan makes it more profitable for the landowner to produce his crops by means of machines and day labor, rather than in older, less efficient methods in which the tenant farmer and his family were indispensable.

Anyone with half an eye knows that.

BUT while The Plainsman, as well as everyone else, recognizes the source of the trouble here, he has never joined the ranks of those who, angrily, would do away with power farming by non-resident labor.

We always have held to the opinion that when systems and methods in any line become outmoded and clumsy there is nothing to be done save junk them. In this modern world, people are going to do things the easiest, cheapest and most practicable way and all the theories and all the humanitarian pleas to the contrary won't change the situation. Just as no man can turn the path of a hurricane, neither can any man, or set of men, forestall progress for long. It is inexorible and inevitable.

That's the reason we've never been among those who would attempt to force by law the return to a less profitable and efficient method of crop production.

But just because the farm tenant system has fallen by the wayside is no reason for us, as a nation, to shrug our shoulders and say, "Too bad. But we can't do anything to help these people who got in the way of the juggernaut." That is a fallacy. We can do something for them—and we must do something for them if our economic machine is ever to be put back into smooth running order and

CAST OF CHARACTERS

VAL DOUGLAS — Girl sports writer, shipped on a freighter to find excitement.

EDDIE CAVALIER — A prize fighter headed for the title, has a score to settle with Val.

CAPT. STEVE HANSEN—Skipper of the Northern Belle.

DUFFY KELSO — Cavalier's manager.

YESTERDAY: Eddie apologizes to Kelly for letting his temper get away from him, but Val is not convinced. She uses the fight in her story. Captain Hansen hints that the future of the entire line depends on getting this shipment to port safely and on time. Duffy complains about the food, gets himself assigned to galley duty.

CHAPTER IX

The Pacific wasn't so gentle the next day as they headed northward. There was a more pronounced roll under the "Northern Belle," and every once in awhile she dipped deep into a heavy sea that sent spray hissing over her forward deck.

Val picked her way along the after deck and tied a knot in a rope holding together some life preservers. It had slipped a little.

When she looked up Eddie Cavalier was watching her. He reached down, tugged at the rope experimentally and grunted with satisfaction.

"Since when are you checking up on me?" she flared.

"All in the interests of public welfare," he murmured. "Someone's life may depend on just such a little thing as a knot. Anyway, I was a Boy Scout once and I know all about knots."

"Y'know," she said slowly. "I've often wondered why you ever became a fighter?"

He gave her a long look. "Why?"

"Oh . . . never mind. Just a sudden thought." Then more brusquely: "By the way, what's on the program for today?"

"A little rope-skipping . . . little jogging . . . little shadow boxing. Pop says nothing heavy."

"Fine story that'll make for me," she commented.

He showed her a can of metal polish he had in his hand. "First I'm going to work out on some of these deck-fittings. You might get something out of that."

For almost an hour she watched him polish brass until the metal glistened in the sun.

"When you're all washed up in the ring I can get you a job polishing mail boxes and door handles in a New York apartment house."

"Thanks. I might need it at that."

"I don't think you will," she said evenly.

He shook his polishing cloth in the wind. "Hey, what is this? A change of heart. I thought you hated my internal workings—otherwise known as guts."

She felt a faint flush gathering in her face. She strove for an answer and found herself all tied up. If only she could say something. She wasn't angry, though. Of that she was certain.

He turned to his task again but when he looked up a minute later she was gone.

Eddie Cavalier watched the slender figure climb the companionway to the upper deck. His gaze followed her until she disappeared into the chart room.

Eddie was very thoughtful for a long minute. Funny, the way they had been at each other's throats since they'd known each other.

Eddie Cavalier hadn't had much time for women. He'd always had to work too hard. So he knew he oughtn't make comparisons. Still, he bet himself, she probably had a lot more than the usual run of females. She merely had to be slapped down once. That's all. Just once. And maybe, he figured, he'd be the one to do it yet.

"Hello, Matey," Captain Hansen boomed as she entered. "What's stirring?"

"Nothing. That's the trouble," she said morosely.

"Hold on," he said quickly. "Here comes Joe Barnes and he's coming awful fast."

The seaman came up the companionway two steps at a time. "This Kelso, sir. He says Wong Lee has poisoned him. He sent word he's awful sick."

"What's that?" Hansen bellowed. "Poisoned? Ridiculous!"

"Whatever it is, it's a story," Val howled and was out the door in a flash. Captain Hansen following her.

Together they dashed into Wong Lee's galley. "Wong — what's this about you poisoning Mister Kelso?" Hansen asked.

Wong smiled broadly and fingered his meat cleaver. "Me no ploison Mis'er Kleslo," he said blandly. "But me like to."

"No doubt," Val muttered, "and with just cause."

"Then why does he insist you poisoned him? Where is he, anyway?"

Wong smiled. "No ploison," he repeated. "Too much rock today." He made rolling motions with his hand and suddenly it dawned on them.

"Seasick, by gad!" Hansen roared. "Seasick, an' he thinks he's been poisoned. There's your story for today, honey."

"You're telling me," Val chuckled. "And I wish I had a camera and could get Mr. Kelso in technicolor. I'll bet he looks well in green and white. Let's go down and see."

Duffy Kelso lay in his bunk and groaned. "Go 'way," he moaned hollowly. "I'm gonna die. I know it. Get me a doctor."

Val sat down beside him. "I hate to laugh in a dying man's face, Duffy, so I'll just snicker. There isn't a doctor within 100 miles of us but don't worry. You'll pull through . . . and you haven't been poisoned."

"You can't tell me that," he moaned. "That Chinee don't like me nohow."

"Kelso," Hansen chuckled. "You're just plain seasick and don't know it."

Val nodded. "That's right, Duffy.

IT'S TIME SOMETHING IS DONE

Congress has decided at last to investigate the problem of farm migration which has become one of growing seriousness.

Large scale migrations of every kind—farmers among them—began early in the depression. Destitute people by millions reasoned that they could be no worse off by moving from places where they faced starvation. The farm migration became a national problem—even a national danger, as result of the drouth disasters of a few years ago.

Most of the people who started moving then still are on the move. In nearly every case, they discovered that thy had shifted to a side of the road even rougher than the one they had left. Their only choice has been to keep on moving.

The result has been that many of the homeless wanderers never will be satisfied again to remain in any one place. They have succumbed to the itching foot which is part of human nature.

Even more deplorable than their own plight is the fact that they are rearing a generation of children likely to be nomads by instinct. And to make bad matters worse, the fact that an army of wanderers travels the highways encourages others to join them.

The problem is one which, if it grows no worse, is of sufficient seriousness to command the attention of Congress. However, it is a problem which is growing worse—which will continue to grow worse until it has begun to improve.

The time to seek the solution is, to say the least, long past due.

Today's Thought

Thad Snow, Friend Of Friendless, Gets Busy In Washington

Action May Relieve Plight Of Sharecropp

BY BRUCE CATTON
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 1—The Department of Agriculture is finally trying to get a help-the-sharecropper amendment in the law governing AAA cotton benefit payments. And thereby hangs an unusual tale.

The sharecropper's woes have been talked about for years. Less talked about is the fact that the AAA benefit program helped put the big squeeze on him.

Catton

Benefit payments are supposed to go partly to the landlord and partly to the sharecropper. The catch is that if the landlord gets rid of all his croppers and then hires them at straight day labor, he keeps the whole payment. In effect, the government has been paying the planters to turn their sharecroppers into hired hands.

If the sharecropper has things hard, the hired hand has them a lot worse—so bad that he has been falling into government hands, via the Farm Security administration, by the thousand in recent years.

Planter Snow Is Suspected

A little over a year ago, some hundreds of dispossessed sharecroppers put on a dramatic "hunger march" in southeastern Missouri. Besides making a lot of headlines, this march greatly disturbed the planters of that area.

Whispers were heard that the agitator of the movement was one Thad Snow, a prosperous planter himself, who wrote newspaper and magazine pieces in his spare time and who said openly the planters had brought this trouble on themselves. Pretty soon it was said that Thad Snow had caused the hunger march. There was some talk of tar and feathers.

Snow let them talk. Finally, he published an elaborate "confession." . . . Yes, he'd done it all; got the idea from Trotzky, down in Mexico, polished it up with the aid of President Roosevelt, the Russian ambassador and Norman Thomas, and then sprung it . . . . After a while when people realized he'd been kidding them, the furor died down.

Two Plans Are Drafted

Then Snow really went to work. First he sold his fellow-planters his idea: That IF it was no longer to a planter's financial advantage to cut his croppers off the land, the croppers would stay put and misery and want wouldn't send desperate men out on the highways. He even got most of the big planters in the region to support a formal plea to the Agriculture Department to change the system of benefit payments.

Then he came to Washington and went to bat with the department. He had hard sledding, for a long time; large bodies move slowly, government departments don't like to admit mistakes, and big cotton planters don't get listened to very eagerly down at Agriculture anyway. But he sold his bill of goods.

Two alternative amendments to the benefit law have been drafted. One would provide that in any area where a majority of the planters approve, the Secretary of Agriculture may direct that benefit money, which ordinarily would go to the cropper, will simply be withheld if the cropper is turned into a day laborer. The other is stiffer and would make the same principal mandatory all over. One or the other will come [illegible] spring.

The team Monday night won the area chapter conducting contest for the fourth consecutive time and is to enter the state contest next week.

Six trainees of Texas Technological college who have had practical experience in teaching the classes were guests. They were, Ralph Faver, Shirley Garrison, I. M. Duff, W. M. Bailey, J. W. McCrary and Thomas L. Devin. Ray L. Chappelle, head of the training department at the college. Supt. E. L. Farrar, B. M. Keesee, high school principal, and Coach Steele, W. J. Williams, Shallowater vocational teacher and E. Elliott, a F.F.A. student from that chapter, were guests.

Visitors Welcomed

Billy Casey assured the visitors they were "welcome" to the banquet; Melvin Simmons gave a toast to the fathers; Fred N. Groves, a father, assurred the boys they "had the support of the father of every boy here." Marlon Brecheen gave a toast to the visitors and Devin responded.

A regular session of a chapter was held by the team, with a number of parliamentary problems worked out. Paul Haskins and W. C. Self were initiated as greenhands, after one youth had been rejected. Other chapter officers besides Wheeler were, Rex Lee, vice president; L. V. Rea, secretary; John McCrummen, treasurer; Ray Simmons, reporter; Robert Alexander, first conductor; Fred McCrummen, farm watch dog; Wesley Scheffel, historian; Kenneth Smith, parliamentarian; Shaw, song leader, and L. M. Hargrave, vocational teacher, advisor.

Activities Reviewed

J. L. Gamble gave a brief review of the activities of the chapter, listing work done, goals accomplished and awards won during the year.

R. A. Manire of Austin, state director of vocational agriculture, spoke briefly on vocational work in the state. "I have never seen a team of adults perform so effectively, he said of the chapter conducting team. He emphasized the need of rural leadership in Texas today and the training which chapter members receive in school will be of value to them later in life. Their training, he pointed out, "will teach you boys to live, one with another."

Manire told of a recent youth congress session in Washington which he attended while there earlier in the year. He contrasted their attitude towards life with that of F.F.A. boys. "There is a dignity in labor—it is quite all right to be found working," he said.

Certificates Presented

"The training you receive here will fit you for a fuller and more complete life," he said. He urged the boys when they grew up to "become anchored to the farm," so that they might have something on which to lay hold.

At the close of the program Hargrave presented some 35 certificates of merit to nearly 30 boys. Three of them received two certificates each and two received three. Each member of the chapter conducting team received a certificate.

The banquet was prepared and served by the home economics department of the school with Mrs. Hargraves directing.

Frenship school is one of three schools in this section where senior students taking vocational work in the division of agriculture at Texas Tech receive practice training to give them experience in teaching, Chappelle explained.

Conditions In Texas Better

DALLAS, May 1 (AP) — Increased employment and payrolls in Texas, and larger average daily sales at department stores during March than in any corresponding month since 1929, were reported by the monthly business review of the federal reserve bank of Dallas released today. At the same time, distribution of commodities through wholesale channels exceeded that of a year ago by four per cent.

Data compiled by the bureau of business research of the University of Texas indicates that increases of 4.2 per cent in employment and 5.8 per cent in payrolls occurred in March compared with the corresponding month of 1939.

Growth Stimulated

Planting of corn is nearing completion and seeding of cotton has advanced northward to Central Texas. Recent rains stimulated growth of cotton in South Texas.

The Texas wheat crop has shown considerable improvement since the beginning of 1940 on account of better moisture conditions, but the prospective production on April 1 was placed at 20,770,000, the lowest since 1936 when 18,927,000 bushels were harvested. Growing conditions on the northwest high plains have been much better than in other wheat growing areas of Texas and, the review said, "that section is expected to produce 62 per cent of the state's total."

The condition of peaches in Texas April 1 was below that on the corresponding date last year and the April freeze apparently caused some damage to tender fruit.

Ranges Improved

Ranges throughout the eleventh district are showing rapid improvement since the heavy general rains the first half of April. Livestock came through the winter in good flesh, due largely to heavy supplemental feeding.

Sheep and lambs were mending rapidly at the close of March and cattle were in good condition to take on flesh with the improvement in ranges. According to the department of agriculture, spring calf and lamb crops are large, and shipments of sheep and lambs are expected to be heavier this spring than in the comparable period of 1939.
