Three Men Are Held Pending Action Here

Three men, all ex-convicts from the Fort Worth-Dallas area, are being held in Sherman after signing confessions to about 70 burglaries, including two at Fluvánna, according to County Sheriff Homer Whisnand.

Whisnand said the men have admitted breaking into the Fluvanna Mercantile Store twice, first on Jan. 29, and later on April 17. These are the only burglaries in this area which they have admitted, Whisnand said, but it is believed that they committed more.

The men, known to be members of a ring which includes at least six other men, are James Lester Cannon, 32, Howard Douglas Bowman, 37, and Erbon Lee Partin, 44, all from from Fort Worth and Dallas.

Whisnand has been in Sherman for about three days, working with the Texas Rangers and with sheriff's from other counties where the men have admitted burglaries. He said the men were arrested on a tip from a young Sherman boy who overheard a conversation which caused him to go to the Grayson County sheriff there.

Whisnand said their confessions stated that they specialized in usually in small towns that have no police protection, and that they got anything of value. The sheriff said they admitted they took cigarettes, coffee, women's appareal and rifle shells from the Fluvanna store.

They operated so fast, the sheriff said, that they would sell the stolen goods in Fort Worth the morning after the burglary. The 70 burglaries included in the confession were committed this year, Whisnand said.

It is not known for sure yet if the men will be brought here for filing and trial, since so many other places have greater charges against them, he added.

Tourist Plans Laid By C-C Committee

Several tourist programs were discussed yesterday by the Chamber of Commerce tourist development committee in its first meeting of the chamber work year.

The committee, headed by Claude McCormick, discussed needed maintenance work on several tourist promotional signs placed on U.S. Highway 180 from east of Weatherford to west of El Paso and appointed a subcommittee of Lawrence King and Tommy Davis to handle work on the signs. The Snyder signs number eight, and they have been on the highways for two years.

The panel also discussed its work in helping to bring people to Snyder for special events. The second annual high school band festival will be among those events. The committee is now working on a new Snyder brochure for promotional purposes.

The program of the committee calls for continuation and enlargement of its tourist courtesy program, and it will operate that program during August. Tourists will be stopped occasionally as they enter Snyder and will be given free meals, lodging, car servicing, and entertainment.

Also under the committee's program is work with the U.S. Highway 180 Association to help encourage tourist travel on the highway. Harry Holbrook of Snyder is president of that organization, and Tommy Davis is Snyder director.

Crazy Cuts Cost

MADERA, Calif. (AP) — Barbers here have voted to raise prices on "crazy" haircuts from $1.25 to $1.50, "not for the money," one barber said, "but to discourage the horrible things." Affected hair styles include ducktails, flat tops, boogies, Davy crewcuts, Cherokees and Mohawks.

WRECK INJURES TWO PERSONS—The car in the foreground of the above picture and the pickup truck in the background were involved in a collision one-tenth mile south of Snyder on the Big Spring highway at 4:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Gillie Lewis Wells, Big Spring, a passenger in the pickup driven by her husband, was reported to be in fair condition this morning in Battenfield-Jones Hospital-Clinic, where she was taken by Bolger ambulance. Wells was treated for minor injuries and released yesterday from the hospital. Driver of the 1954 Plymouth sedan was Scotty Oscar Wallace, 607 Thirty-second Street, Snyder, and passengers were his wife and Clarence Wallace, none of whom were injured (Lee Watson photograph)

Ike's Decision On Talbott May Come Minus Senate Aid

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The "personal" decision President Eisenhower says he will make on Harold E. Talbott's future as secretary of the Air Force apparently will have to be made without any advice from the Senate.

There was no indication that an early report would be made by the Senate Investigations subcommittee which inquired into Talbott's about-to-be-severed outside business connection.

The subcommittee wound up its hearings yesterday after Talbott had testified that "I now see that I was mistaken" in some of his actions. Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) said it would act "without undue haste" in reporting its findings.

Talbott dramatically told the subcommittee yesterday he is giving up, effective next Sunday, the partnership in the New York firm of Paul B. Mulligan and Co., which has paid him $132,032 in the 2½ years since he took his Pentagon job.

The firm, which has some clients with government defense contracts, specializes in management engineering.

Talbott declined comment on published stories that he was about to resign. The White House said it has not received a resignation, and it dismissed as unfounded various speculations about a possible successor.

Eisenhower, in telling his news conference yesterday that the final decision on Talbott "is going to be handled by myself personally," did not indicate he would welcome or consider advice from the subcommittee as to whether any of Talbott's actions were improper.

But he said he would await completion of the hearings and would then read the full record before deciding for himself.

The President said there has been no suggestion that Talbott was guilty of fraud or wrongdoing in a legal sense. He said he believes the secretary's official duties "have been almost brilliantly performed." He noted Talbott is an old personal friend.

But, he said, the actions of a public official must be impeccable from the standpoint of both law and ethics. "What is now involved is, Was a proper standard of ethics violated?" he said.

As he was speaking, Talbott was before the subcommittee as its windup witness, swearing that "I have never used my position as secretary to pressure a living soul to give the (Mulligan) company business."

"In retrospect, however," he continued, "I now see that I was mistaken in permitting myself to make phone calls or write letters about the company."

He had acknowledged telephoning from his office and writing on Air Force stationery letters dealing with affairs of the Mulligan company.

Mulligan, Talbott's partner, said he did not know that the firm had ever been formally considered for membership in the Association of Consulting Management Engineers. The Baltimore Sun had said yesterday the association turned the firm down for membership, partly because of Talbott's interest in it.

In Fayetteville, N.C., where he is vacationing, President Horace Crockett of the association said last night the Mulligan firm had never formally applied for membership. Crockett said he does not think the Mulligan firm's work qualifies it for membership in his group, adding that Mulligan and his associates "are doing a good job in their field."

In a last act of the Senate inquiry, McClellan and Sen. Mundt (R-SD) took a statement by telephone from the two top officials of the Douglas Aircraft Corp. and made public a stenographic recording of it.

It quoted Donald W. Douglas Sr. and his son Donald Jr. as stating Talbott had mentioned to them last October his connection with the Mulligan company, but that they did not consider it a hint for business for the firm. Both said they felt it was "surprising" that Talbott mentioned his income from the firm.

The senior Douglas said he felt he and Talbott were such good friends that the secretary could mention the partnership to illustrate a point "without being improper. But I did wonder why he would tell me about his earnings from it."

McClellan told newsmen it probably will be next week before the subcommittee can find time to meet and see how close they are to agreeing on what the evidence shows. He declined to discuss possible findings.

Mundt said he thought that writing a report "should be comparatively simple, because the areas of criticism are relatively limited."

SHOWERS ADD .34 INCHES OF RAIN

Continuing thundershowers added .34 of an inch of moisture to Snyder's catch for the year yesterday and last night. Showers totaling more than an inch were reported from a few sections of the county, with rain amounting to about .25 of an inch or more apparently general over the county.

Cloudy skies kept the temperature down to 92 degrees in Snyder yesterday. The mercury fell to 68 degrees overnight, David Strayhorn, weather observer, said, and stood at 70 degrees at 7:30 this morning.

Being Mayor In Texas Is Tough Job

By The Associated Press

City government in Texas looked like a tougher job than ever Thursday. Particularly for mayors.

At Houston, Galveston and Wichita Falls, the men in the top jobs were having their dificulties. Frustration . . . recall . . . impeachment.

Seven city councilmen in Houston decided they definitely will try again to impeach Mayor Roy Hofheinz. Two impeachment charges allege Hofheinz gave department heads orders designed to pressure the City Council into accepting his plans for a 20 per cent tax hike.

Meanwhile, there were continued reports that the Harris County Grand Jury would return indictments in the land office scandals Thursday. The scandals broke eight weeks ago when it was found that city-owned houses and lumber from demolished right - of - way houses had disappeared.

Personal property taxes levied on Wichita Falls automobile owners were blamed for the troubles of Mayor Lloyd C. Thomas and five councilmen. They face recall action.

Members of a citizens group Wednesday started the machinery they said was hoped to sweep the city hall. Headed by cafe operator Bill McCollum the group filed a request for petitions asking the recall of Thomas and councilmen Roy C. Hyatt, Elie Lam, Gene Liepold, Bill Reitchmuth and Dr. E. Aubrey Cox.

Only Councilman Jack Banner escaped the recall group's wrath. He voted against assessment of the auto tax which averages 4 to 5 dollars per car.

About 1,300 suits have been filed in an effort to collect similar past taxes. City tax attorney Theodora Leuders said she had just received the "H's" in checking the list of taxpayers . . . or owners.

At Galveston, bawdy houses —gay palaces of pleasure on the island resort—remained padlocked at last report. This was despite the repeated statements from Mayor George Roy Clough that he prefers redlight districts to wandering prostitutes.

But Clough, who ran for office this year favoring an open but segregated redlight district, said he was happy about the padlocking.

"It takes a lot of responsibility off me," he said, and added:

"I will say this: It's going to be a hell of a job keeping them closed."

Natural Gas Bill Comes To House Floor

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to exempt natural gas producers from direct federal regulation came to the House floor today. Neither friends nor foes made any confident predictions.

If it should be passed, it is unlikely that Senate leaders, driving for early adjournment, would call it up for what promises to be a lengthy debate there. It still could be acted upon next year.

The bill would remove the present authority of the Federal Power Commission to fix producers' prices for gas sold to distributors shipping it through interstate pipelines.

Backers claim it would not increase prices to consumers. They argue that it would strike federal shackles from the gas industry, encourage production and thus make more gas available at reasonable prices.

Opponents contend ending federal regulation would raise prices and the ultimate consumer would have to pay more.

The issue cuts across party lines. Support is concentrated among legislators from the Southwest producing states. Strongest opposition comes from predominantly consuming areas.

In effect, the bill would nullify a Supreme Court decision of June 7, 1954, in a case involving the Phillips Petroleum Co. The court held that Congess intended in an earlier act for the FPC to regulate field prices of gas sold for transportation across state lines. Prior to that decision, the commission had operated on the theory that it had no such regulatory powers under the 1938 Natural Gas Act. The court said the FPC should exercise such authority.

The pending bill contains provisions which its sponsors claim would protect consumers from runaway prices. One section would direct the FPC not to allow pipeline companies to charge off as operating expenses more than a "reasonable market price" for the gas they buy from producers.

Japan's Reds Ordered To Make Selves Legal

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's Communist party has been instructed to abandon all underground activities and become totally legal under Japanese law, Kyodo news service said today.

The Japanese news agency said the orders were given to the party's National Council, meeting here, by Shoichi Kasuga, chairman of the party's central directorate.

The Communists have not allowed Japanese or foreign newsmen into the convention, attended by some 100 top party functionaries in Japan.

Kyodo said Kasuga's statement to the convention had been obtained by Japanese law enforcement authorities but did not say how.

In the past the party has operated both above and underground. As a political party is is not outlawed in Japan, has actively campaigned in past elections and now has three members in the Diet (Parliament).

Underground, according to Japanese police, it has maintained military-type organizations, armed with illegal pistols, crude bombs, "Molotov cocktail" fire bombs and grenades.

TALBOTT HUDDLES WITH SYMINGTON—Air Secretary Harold Talbott, right, talks with Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo), a former air secretary, before the start of a hearing session by a Senate Investigations subcommittee in Washington into the propriety of Talbott's private business activities. At the session Talbott told investigators he is getting out of the management consultant firm of Paul B. Mulligan & Co.

Giles Gets 3 Years In Land Fund Theft

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Former Texas Land Commissioner Bascom Giles was found guilty today of being an accomplice to theft of $6,800 of the state's veterans land program funds.

The 12-man 98th District Court jury assessed his punishment at three years in the state penitentiary but he remained free on $2,000 bond after attorneys filed a motion for a new trial.

Giles, who had proclaimed sponsorship of the 100-million-dollar veterans land program, served as chairman of the program's administrative board.

Giles was the first to face trial in the veterans land scandals which have rocked the state since last November, when weekly newspaper editor Kenneth Towery, of Cuero, Tex., first broke the story. In all there have been 319 indictments returned against 21 individuals in 9 counties.

Giles' conviction was on the second count of a two-count indictment. Although it found him guilty, the jury returned no finding on a charge that he stole the $6,800.

B. R. Sheffield, Brady, Tex., land dealer, jointly indicated with Giles, awaits later trial.

The state based its charge on the purchase of the Veterans Land Board of the 10,114-acre Rosenow Ranch in Kinney County for resale on a subdivided basis to 54 war veterans.

The $6,800 was the price paid for a tract for which Tom Regian, Temple, Tex., was listed as the veteran wanting to buy the land. Regian testified he did not know he was an applicant and told the jury he thought he was signing for a $100 loan when he signed blank application papers.

The Texas veterans land program was started in the fall of 1949 as a plan to reward World War II veterans. Korean War veterans later were included. The program allowed veterans to buy land at a maximum cost of $7,500 each with 5 per cent down and 40 years to pay the balance at 3 per cent interest.

The former commissioner faces trial in San Antonio, Tex., Aug. 15 on a three-count indictment. Two counts charge that he consented to accept a bribe and the other charges acceptance of a bribe of $30,000. Three indictments charging him with consenting to accept bribes of $8,000, of $15,000, and of $36,000 have been returned against him in Zavala County.

Funeral Thursday For Mrs. Boydstun

Funeral services for Mrs. W. R. Boydstun, 47, of 3214 Avenue U, will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the First Assembly of God Church with the pastor, the Rev. Robert Owens, officiating.

Mrs. Boydstun died Tuesday night in a Wichita Falls hospital of injuries sustained when she was struck by an automobile while crossing a street in Wichita Falls Friday night. Also injured in the accident was her brother, Earl Gray, of Artesia, N.M. Mrs. Boydstun and the Gray family were on a vacation trip together.

Arrangements for the services and burial in Lamesa Cemetery will be under the direction of Bolger Funeral Home.

Survivors include the husband, two daughters, a son and seven grandchildren, all of Snyder; the parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Gray of Lamesa, and a sister and two brothers.

Passengers And Crew Were Killed

By NATE POLOWETZKY

LONDON (AP) —Bulgaria admitted today its antiaircraft guns shot down an Israeli airliner, killing all 58 persons aboard. It said the plane was of course for 100 miles over Communist territory.

Bulgaria expressed regret for the tragedy and appointed a government commission to inquire into the disaster in which 12 Americans perished.

Breaking a 24-hour silence, the Bulgarian Telegraph Agency, in a broadcast communique, said the El Al Constellation left its course over Yugoslavia yesterday entered Bulgarian air space "without warning" over Trin. The town is about 35 miles northwest of Sofia. The airliner was flying from London via Vienna and Istanbul to Isreal.

The plane, by Bulgarian account, moved within a short distance of Sofia on its errant course, then flew south before being shot down in flames near Petrich, just a few miles from the Greek border.

Aboard the plane were 51 passengers and a crew of seven.

The Bulgarians said their antiaircraft defense was "unable to identify the plane, and after a few warnings, fired."

A storm of protest arose in the British House of Commons when R. H. Turton, foreign undersecretary, informed members that Bulgaria admitted shooting down the plane.

Herbert Morrison, former Laborite foreign minister, called it a "brutal business" and "a terrible thing to do." Turton said he shared Morrison's views, adding "I can't envisage any circumstances which a civil airliner on a civil flight can be legitimately shot down."

The plane crashed into the side of Mt. Orvilo, less than five miles north of the Greek border and about 18 miles east of the Yugoslav frontier. A Greek military source in Salonika said yesterday the pilot, a Briton, apparently had followed the Struma Valley just inside Bulgaria instead of his regular route along Yugoslavia's Vardar Valley, 60 miles west of the frontier.

First word that there were no survivors from the crash came several hours earlier from a Bulgarian foreign official in Sofia. He told The Associated Press in London by telephone that "all are dead."

In another telephone call the British Embassy in Sofia said the Bulgarian government had confirmed that the crash occurred near the town of Petrich, just north of the Greek border.

A communique from the El Al Israell Airline today indicated the big four-engine Constellation exploded while trying to make a forced landing on Greek territory after being hit by the Bulgar shells.

The communique, quoted a report from the Israeli legation in Athens, said Greek frontier policemen who witnessed the crash gave this account:

"The policemen heard four gun shots and afterwards saw smoke and a small fire. The aircraft turned left to prepare for forced landing over Greek territory near the Greek village of Patricia. Suddenly an explosion was heard and the aircraft came down in flames over Bulgarian territory, some 10 kilometers (6 miles) from the border."

"Twenty minutes after the accident, cars were seen moving towards the place of the crash in Bulgarian territory. The Bulgarian Foreign Ministry informed the Israeli mission in Sofia that they had sent medical teams to the place.

An Israeli air force Dakota took off early today for Sofia via Greece taking six officials of the airline to investigate the crash.

A Greek government statement yesterday, based on reports from soldiers of the 10th Greek Army Division in Macedonia, said flatly that Bulgarian gunners shot down the plane. But later the Greek 3rd Army Corps headquarters released an eyewitness account of a soldier who said he could not be sure whether an explosion he heard before the plane went down was from an antiaircraft cannon or came from within the plane.

A joint communique last night in Tel Aviv by the Israeli Communications Ministry and the airline said the plane had been "fired on by Bulgarian soldiers at a place near the Greek-Yugoslav border." The communique based its claim on the Athens report, however.

The airline reported that these American passengers were aboard the plane: Mrs. Rella Avram, Mrs. O. Cohen, a Mr. Hameiry, Mrs. A. Hahn or Hann, Mr. A. Mann; Mrs. Shaeffer or Schaeffer, R. Sacks, Mrs. A. Sacks, Mrs. D. Sacks, Mrs. M. Katz and her small daughter and Mrs. Zahawa Sheinbaum. No addresses were given.

Mrs. Sheinbaum, 37, was secretary general of Histadrut Ivrit, an organization for the preservation of the Hebrew language, in New York.

A Greek military source in Salonika said the pilot apparently had gone off course, following the Struma Valley just inside Bulgaria instead of Yugoslavia's Vardar Valley—the regular route—60 miles west of the frontier.

Congress Urged To Reconsider Road Bill Before Adjournment

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today expressed keen disappointment over House rejection of new highway legislation, and urged that Congress reconsider the matter before ending its session.

In a statement, the President said differences over financing methods should not be permitted to "deny our people these critically needed roads."

The House in a series of votes yesterday killed all new national highway legislation.

It rejected 224-193 President Eisenhower's plan for a multibillion-dollar program of construction to be financed by a long-term bond issue.

Then it defeated 292-123 a Democratic pay-as-you-go substitute plan calling for increases in gasoline and some other automotive taxes to raise $12,423,000,000 over the next 16 years.

"I am deeply disappointed," Eisenhower's statement said, "by the rejection by the House of Representatives of legislation to authorize a nationwide system of highways.

"The nation badly needs new highways. The good of our people, of our economy, and of our defense, requires that construction of these highways be undertaken at once. There is difference of conviction, I realize, over means of proposed one plan of financing which I consider to be sound.

"Others have proposed other methods. Adequate financing there must be, but contention over the method should not be permitted to deny our people these critically needed roads.

"I would devoutly hope that the Congress would reconsider this entire matter before terminating this session."

Congress leaders are driving for adjournment as quickly as possible.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty was asked whether the President meant that Congress should extend its session to enact road legislation. Hagerty said he had no comment on that.

He also refused to say whether the White House is doing any personal contacting of lawmakers in an effort to get the legislation through.

After yesterday's votes, the consensus of House leaders appeared to be that highway legislation was dead for this year, and perhaps also for next year.

"The answer is, everybody wants a road bill and no one wants to pay for it," commented House Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts.

Others said opposition came largely from truck owners who would have been hit heaviest by financing this construction. I have proposed tax increases in the Democratic measure.

The House ditched by a 292-123 vote the Democratic-sponsored bill which would have helped pay for new construction costs with $12,423,000,000 in added automotive taxes over the next 16 years.

Earlier the Congressmen knocked down 224-193 along party lines a substitute containing Presiraise money through long-term bonds issued by a separate government corporation.

Actually, Eisenhower's proposal did not count up to the 101-billion-dollar program originally announced although it was based on a special commission's report that that expenditure would be needed to give the nation the roads it will need in 10 years.

Federal and federally matched state funds under the Eisenhower plan would have totaled about 38½ billion over a 10-year period. A 21-billion-dollar bond issue would have financed most of the cost of a 40,000-mile network of interstate highways.

The Senate voted earlier this year for a five-year program providing extra federal money also for primary, secondary and urban roads. Increased taxes were suggested by Senate sponsors but not provided in the measure.

Texas School Segregation Law Thrown Out By Federal Judge

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Texas' laws upholding racial barriers and segregation in public schools have been junked by a federal judge's ruling.

But Gov. Allan Shivers, noting that some cities in the state already have made moves toward ending segregation in the schools, cautioned against what he termed "too much rush and confusion."

The ruling was by Judge R. Ewing Thomason, former West Texas congressman, who yesterday specifically ordered Texas Western College, a subsidiary of the University of Texas, to lift its ban on Negro students. The action was a result of a suit filed here by Thelma White.

Miss White asked the court to rule on her right to enter the college on the basis of the Supreme Court decision which held school segregation unconstitutional.

Thomason said the ruling still would permit local communities to carry out intent of the Supreme Court's decree as rapidly as local conditions allow. But he added that his decision made it clear that school segreation is outlawed in Texas.

State Atty. Gen. John Ben Sheppard said Texas would appeal if Thomason had ruled all Texas laws on racial segregation invalid. He withheld further comment until he reads Thomason's opinion.

State attorneys filed an exception to Thomason's ruling and said they would appeal to the Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans.

Shivers advised local school districts not to "dash headlong" into rubbing out race lines.

A number of Texas school districts already have voted for starting desegregation next fall. Brownwood, Tex., school officials made such an announcement yesterday, less than 24 hours after the Board of Education at San Angelo, Tex., made a similar announcement.

Shivers named a state advisory committee on the problem and said he believed it would be "most helpful with solutions to many of the critical problems."

"There is too much rush and confusion at present," the governor said. "I hope that no district will dash headlong into action for fear or pressure hasty, ill-advised action could do much harm. Careful study and calm, deliberate action are essential to the future welfare of all Texas children. I hope all districts will be fully advised and prepared before final decisions are made."

The governor also suggested appointment of local committees or individuals to work on the problem and to keep in close touch with the state advisory group.

Committee members named by Shivers:

Dr. Martin L. Edwards, Hawkins; Dr. E. B. Evans, Praisie View; Mrs. Joe Perkins, Eastland; Mrs. Joe Fisher, Jasper; Toland Meridith, Atlanta; Charles Howell, Beaumont; C. N. Sullivan, Crockett; Leo Hackney, Greenville; James L. Lindsay, Midland; Earnext E. Sanders, Fort Worth; J. B. Parker, Elkhart; Dr. Herbert Donnell, Waxahachie; William C. Monroe, Brownwood; W. H. Smith, Galveston; Tom M. Pogue, Corpus Christi.

Will Crew Morris, San Antonio; W. Howard Hoffman, Slaton; F. H. Purnell, Dr. Neal D. Cannon, Alf Roark, and Mrs. Ed Kilman, all from Houston; Dr. Edmund Heinsohn, Mrs. Alden Davis, Rev. Victor M. Goertz, and E. W. Jackson, Sr., all of Austin; Dr. M. K. Curry Jr., and S. E. Wood Jr., of Marshall; Dr. Arthur Deloach, Lufkin; Mrs. Leon S. Price and Allan Wight, of Dallas; Bishop Joseph Gomez and Harry Provence of Waco; and M. J. Harven, Tyler.

Shivers said Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey and Speaker Jim Lindsey would add the names of legislators to the committee.

AREA OIL ROUNDUP

Field Tests Set In Scurry, Kent

Field tests in Scurry and Kent Counties and a wildcat in Stonewall County are among the new locations announced by oil operators in this area.

Wheelock-Weinschel of Corsicana will drill the Scurry County project, the No. 4 Eula Burt Keller, in the Kelley-Snyder field. Drillsite is 467 feet from south and 1,400 feet from west lines of 340-97-H&TC. That is about six and a half miles northwest of Snyder. Rotary contract is to 6,900 feet.

The Texas Co. No. 1-A Ann Oldham is to be a 6,100-foot Ellenburger wildcat one and a half miles north of the Old Glory field of east Stonewall County. Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of the southeast quarter of section 1, H&TB, A-75.

Honolulu Oil Corp. of Midland has filed application to drill the No. 4 Frank Stewart in the SMS-Canyon sand field 15 miles northwest of Clairemont. Location has been made 1,650 feet from north and west lines of section 4, John Rodman survey. Rotary tools are to drill to 6,300 feet.

BORDEN OILER

Texaco has reported completion of a new producer in the Jo Mill-Spraberry field of Borden County at the No. 3-A-NCT-2 W. L. Miller.

The well flowed 166 barrels of 38.5-gravity oil with no water on a 24-hour potential test. Production is from perforations at 7,312-388 feet which had been acidized with 500 gallons of acid. Gas-oil ratio was 750-1, with tubing pressure 50 pounds and a packer on casing. Pay was topped at 7,312 feet.

The new well is 550 feet from south and 3,194 feet from west lines of 2-33-T&P.

NOLAN COMPLETION

The South Group-Ellenburger field of south Nolan County has gained a second producer with the completion of General Crude Oil No. 1 R. L. Alderman.

The well, six and a half miles southeast of Maryneal, made an initial potential of 38 barrels of 47.6-gravity oil per day on the pump. Production is through perforations at 6,490-530 feet and 6,-540-560 feet where 3,000 gallons of acid had been used. Gas-oil ratio was 1,199-1. The well is in 107-1-A-H&TC.

SCURRY COUNTY

Phillips Petroleum No. 1-A Dan Whatley, Scurry wildcat seven miles west of Dermott, is waiting for cement to cure on casing set at 360 feet.

Sun Oil No. 1 Flournoy is drilling in lime below 8,295 feet. Kewanee No. 1 Rogers is drilling in lime and shale below 5,454 feet. Trice No. 1 Birdwell is drilling in shale below 5,437 feet.

Cloudbursts Fall On Some Texas Areas

By The Associated Press

Cloudburst rains fell on some of Texas' most drought-ridden areas Thursday as the western half of the state—and some other points—stayed wet another day.

Temperatures remained high.

An unofficial report of rains ranging from 4 to 8 inches was listed for the Marfa-Alpine area while cloudbursts estimated around 6 inches pummelled the Panhandle region around Channing, Tex., north of Amarillo.

Big Spring reported a 1.42-inch downpour and Lubbock reported 1.13 inches. Both places have been among the driest in the drought-harried state.

Torrents were reported from El Paso into Presidio, Jeff Davis and Brewster counties Wednesday afternoon and night. The El Paso deluge hit in the same areas flooded 30 homes in the city's mountain View District.

Army personnel and National Guardsmen were called out to help stricken residents and to attempt diversion of the runoff.

Flat pasturelands were covered with three to four inches of water in some areas. Arroyos and canyons filled up hurriedly with dangerous flash floods but there was no report of human casualties.

The cloudburst north of Channing in Hartley County washed out sections of the Fort Worth & Denver City Railroad but the tracks were repaired sufficiently shortly before midnight to allow the departure from Amarillo of a northbound passenger train.

The Wednesday and Thursday downpours followed similar rains in scattered areas which struck Tuesday.

Forecasts called for continued scattered thundershowers and little change in temperatures, topped Wednesday at 101 in Cotulla and Presidio.

Emilie Turney Finishes Task Of Long Move

By FRANK TIFFANY

FT. RILEY, Kan. (AP)—Blue-eyed, auburn-haired Emilie Turney has just finished the task of moving her household—some 5,000 miles.

Emilie is an Army wife whose husband is among the thousands of soldiers participating on Operation Gyroscope. In this gigantic move, 9,000 members of the 1st Infantry Division in Germany are trading places with the 10th Division at Ft. Riley.

The vanguard of the 1st Division arrived here Monday.

Today Emilie, her two children and her husband, C.W.O. Vale Turney, are established in a rented house in nearby Junction City—and already are talking about buying a home of their own.

Emilie's task of setting up a new household in the United States has an added complication. In addition to her household duties and caring for her 18-month-old daughter Patricia and 4-month-old son Billy, she has a language barrier.

A German girl, she speaks and understands a little English but her husband still must interpret fast-moving conversation for her.

She loves the supermarket. "It's good, fine. You can buy anything there," she said.

She added that over here "everything's bigger — the shops, the cafes—but the service is not equal to Germany. A young man there has an apprenticeship — studies three years to be a waiter. Dresses cost less here, but they're made better in Germany, I think."

With her husband's coaching plus special classes at Ft. Riley to help the wives adjust to life in America, the Turneys figure the language problem will be solved shortly.

Unmarried soldiers had few problems. They went to barracks to live.

Dr. Robert Wasson To Undergo Surgery

Dr. Robert F. Wasson, 2905 Avenue S, is in Gaston Hospital, Dallas, where he will undergo surgery this week.

During his absence from Snyder, which is expected to be about one week, his office at 2811 Avenue S, will be kept open by Mrs. Jerry Slaughter, office nurse.

The operation he is to undergo is not a serious one, he stated.

Lutheran Not Panicky Over Heresy Charge

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A young Lutheran pastor on trial before fellow churchmen on charges of heresy says "my ministry will continue regardless of what happens here."

The Rev. George P. Crist Jr., 31, said he was not "panicky" about the outcome of the trial and was prepared to accept dismissal from the ministry if the Northwest Synod of the United Lutheran Church imposes such a sentence.

The trial, first in the 60-year history of the synod, is hearing charges that Pastor Crist "adulterated the Word of God" and mixed his own "opinions and surmises" with the Scripture.

The penalty, if a finding of guilty is returned and upheld by the synod convention in 1956, could range from a simple rebuke to defrocking.

The trial, behind closed doors and before a board of seven other ministers, entered its second day today. Neither side planned to call any witnesses.

Rev. Crist, pastor of the Bethlehem Church in the village of Durham in neighboring Waukesha County, is accused of 14 counts of deviation from Lutheran doctrine. He has headed the congregation of 225 members for six years.

Pastor Crist said he will attempt to prove that his beliefs "constitute a permissable point of view within the Lutheran Church." He said he would deny some of the charges against him as "not reprsentative of my views."

The trial centers around 18 sermons delivered by Pastor Crist earlier in the year. He said the sermons accurately reflected his views and added he would not recant any of his preachings.

Margaret Sanger Leaves Hospital

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Mrs. Margaret Sanger, 71, one of the nation's leading advocates of birth control, leaves Cedars of Lebanon Hospital today after a two-day checkup. She was admitted earlier this week for what was reported to be a heart ailment. Doctors said yesterday, however, that she was not suffering from any ailment and was in good condition.

Court Of Appeals Sets Aside Powell's Contempt Charge

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Court of Appeals today set aside the contempt of court conviction of Clyde L. Powell, a key figure in congressional and grand jury investigations of housing scandals last year.

Powell, former assistant commissioner for rental housing in the Federal Housing Administration, was sentenced to a year in jail.

The sentence grew out of various appearances by Powell before a federal grand jury. He was accused of failing to answer certain questions.

In setting aside the sentence of U. S. Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letts, the appellate court said:

"The government faces a dilema. Either Powell, when he appeared before the grand jury for the third time, had not answered the questions and so had the privilege of refusing to incriminate himself when he was asked them, or he had answered the questions and the government was guilty of an outrageous misrepresentation to the trial court (Judge Letts) concerning what had transpired before the grand jury.

"If the former be the case, Powell cannot be convicted for exercising the privilege. If the latter be the case, certainly no appellate court will consciously permit an injustice thus unwittingly committed by a trial court to stand."

Baby Sitter Waiting For Parents' Return

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — Barbara Jean Burkeheart, 9 weeks old, today was still awaiting her parents who left her with a Durham baby sitter nearly a month ago.

Mrs. W. H. Parrish said the infant's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Burkeheart of Jackson, left the girl with her on July 4, promising to return in a week.

Monday Mrs. Parrish received a letter from Mrs. Burkeheart. It said they would come for Barbara yesterday.

"I haven't heard from them anymore, so maybe something else has happened," Mrs. Parrish said last night.

Mrs. Parrish said of the baby, "She's just fine, and has a better color and has picked up and everything. She has black hair and black eyes and is sure sweet."

Houston Treasurer Named In Eleven Felony Indictments

HOUSTON (AP)—Roy Floyd, who recently was fired as city treasury director, today was named in 11 felony theft indictments in the property scandal probe.

The Harris County Grand Jury returned a total of 19 indictments against Floyd and four other Houstonians.

Also indicted were:

Joseph L. Angle Jr., who was fired as acting superintendent of the city's land acquisition division.

Luther Nisbet, Angle's chief assistant, also fired.

Waldo H. Coffman, wealthy lumber, real estate and oil man who is a missing witness in the probe.

August Danburg, electrical supplies dealer.

"This does not conclude our investigaion," said Dist. Atty. Dan Walton. "We will carry it on into the next term of court. We have much more work to do."

Nisbet faced four indictments and Angle three, including a joint indictment. Coffman and Danburg faced one each.

All of the indictments charge felony theft except the one against Danburg, which charged perjury.

Each charge, if followed by conviction, calls for a maximum sentence of 10 years imprisonment.

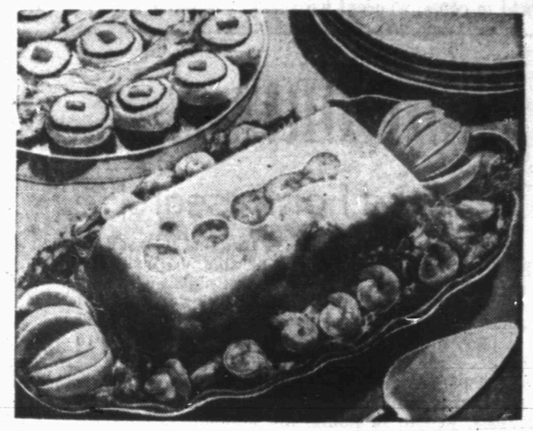
Frozen condensed soup is a recent arrival in the food field. Here is a molded seafood salad recipe to serve for a ladies' luncheon this summer:

COOL-PINK SEAFOOD SALAD

1 can (10 ounces) frozen condensed cream of shrimp soup
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
1 cup diced cooked lobster (5-ounce can)
1 cup finely diced celery
½ cup cream-style cottage cheese (small curd)
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Remove top of soup can. Place can in a deep pan (the bottom of a double boiler is fine) of very hot water over low heat until thawed. Stir with a fork occasionally as soup thaws. Sprinkle gelatin over cold water to soften. When soup is thawed turn into a large mixing bowl. Place softened gelatin in container of boiling water; stir gelatin until dissolved. Add dissolved gelatin to thawed soup and stir together with a fork; stir in lobster (drained and diced if canned), celery, cottage cheese and lemon juice. Pour into individual molds and chill until firm. Unmold on salad greens. Makes 4 to 6 servings.



Diced avocado makes a pleasant addition to chilled tomato soup. So do diced cucumber and celery.

Bible Thought

For unto angels hath he not put in subjection the world to come, whereof we speak. (Hebrews 2:5).

EDITORIALS

The Need For Research

Every newspaper office is frequently asked to supply information of one sort or another, including how to spell some pretty elemental English words or who won the World Series of 1919. This is accepted as a part of the public service a newspaper is supposed to render, and indeed most of them are happy to oblige.

But of late a new kind of demand is quite frequently made on the time and good nature of editors, novelists, people in public life and others who are supposed to know a thing or two. We have received our share of the kind that usually begin, "I have been asked to prepare a paper on the Blackhawk War, and will you please send me all the information you have on the subject?"

John Steinbeck, the novelist, in a recent Saturday Evening Post article, spoke of the demands upon him from young people for information on various subjects, and in many cases the youngsters said they were writing him at the suggestion of their teacher.

All the information that the race of mankind has managed to compile in six thousand years can be found within the covers of books. An educated person is one who, lacking the answer in his head, knows where to find it. Writing on any subject, in any form, is 90 percent research—unless one is equipped with an exceedingly good memory—and ten percent writing talent.

No one can be considered an educated person, no matter how many degrees he may have after his name, unless he knows where to find the answers that his memory does not provide. There are hundreds of libraries in this country, not to mention reference works in various school libraries, where the answer to almost any question can be found. But how many people, even college graduates, know where to look and how to find the answer? Admittedly it is not something that comes naturally.

So we come to the conclusion that our schools at all levels need to teach what must be a new science—how to find the answers. We say "new" because so few people really know how to look things up for themselves.

Dramatic Inflation

In Hollywood 2,000 actors male and female voted unanimously to strike producers of filmed television shows who are deadlocked in contract with the AFL Screen Actors Guild. Speaking for the guild, of which he is president, Walter Pidgeon said the board of directors had recommended that membership authorize it to call a strike "if necessary to obtain a just and decent contract."

If so, it would be just about the deluxeist strike ever staged in this country, barring the walkout of scheduled airline pilots a year or two ago.

And what wages are they proposing to strike for? A mere $90 a day, against a producer's offer of $75 a day; the old contract called for a measly $70 a day. The weekly minimum for actors and singers would be $300, against an old scale of $250, and a producer's offer of $265 weekly. Keeping in mind that such employment is usually sporadic, that is still pretty classy wages for run-of-mine actors and singers.

Screening a live or filmed television show is costly business. The list of actors, directors, technicians and supernumeraries that appears on most of the finished products must have prompted the thought in the minds of many of the hapless viewers: "My, what an awful lot of people it takes to louse up a simple story!"

But no business on earth has more "inflation" than show business. When night clubs in Las Vegas pay as much as twenty, twenty-five, thirty and forty thousand dollars a week for individual talent, it is time Congress took a look at the income tax situation, not of those who receive such outrageous stipends, but those who can "afford" to pay it. There must be an angle to it somewhere.

Naturally such swollen salaries set off a sort of reflex action in all lines of show business, and some day there will be an accounting. That day will come, we imagine, when the public gets so fed up with mediocre material and performances that all aspects of show business will find it necessary to rub out and start all over again.

Tea For Tornado

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (AP)—When a tornado struck Scottsbluff, Miss Phyllis Rutland of Harrow, England, was all alone in the home of T. L. Green where she was a guest.

She admitted she had no idea what Americans did under such circumstances so she reacted in British fashion and brewed a cup of tea.

"It's always the thing in a crisis," she explained later.

Brief Explanation Given On Differences In Old And New Military Reserve Laws

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—This is an ABC on the military reserve bill just passed by Congress to build up a pool of trained men. President Eisenhower is expected to sign it into law shortly. It will go into effect at that moment.

First look at the reserve program as it stands under a law passed in 1951.

Under that law everyone discharged from the armed forces, unless he served eight years, must then go into the reserves so that his total active and reserve service is eight years.

There are three kinds of reserves:

1. Ready reservists who train. They drill one night a week, from 12 to 48 weeks a year, and spend 17 days a year in camp. They get paid, according to rank, for the days and nights they drill.

2. Ready reservists who don't do any training. They get no pay.

3. Standby reserves. They, like the second group of ready reservists, do no drilling.

Both groups of ready reservists, in case of war, would be called into active service ahead of the standby reserves. Who, under present law, goes into the ready reserves and into the standby reserves?

1. Anyone with less than five years in the armed forces must, upon his discharge, go into the ready reserves. But whether or not he takes reserve training is voluntary. If he doesn't take the reserve training, he must stay in the ready reserves until his eight-year obligation is up.

2. Anyone who has had five years in the armed forces, or a total of five in the armed forces and the trained ready reserves, can ask for a transfer into the last-to-be-called standby reserves until his eight years are up.

That's the way it is now. It will remain that way for all those who enter the armed forces before Eisenhower signs the new bill: they have a total obligation of eight years on active service and in the reserves.

For those who enlist or are drafted after the new bill becomes a law, the total obligation will be six years instead of eight.

They will have to put in combined service of five years in the armed forces and the trained ready reserves, and one year in the standby reserves.

They won't have a choice — as exists now — of choosing to go ifito the nontraining ready reserves when they get out of the armed forces. They'll have to go into ready reserve training.

Examples: Jones gets out of the Army after two years' service. He must go into the trained reserves for three years. Then for another year he is in the standby reserves.

Congress made a special provision for men already in the armed forces. When they get out, since they're covered by the old law, they can choose to go into the nontraining ready reserves.

But Congress said the government — in limited numbers and only until July 1957 — could offer them this deal, which they could take or reject:

A man in active service for 12 months can be discharged provided he agrees to to into the trained ready reserves for a period which, when added to his active service, would total four years. Then, since under the old law he still has an eight-year obligation, he could serve his remaining four as a standby.

Or a man who has filled out his enlistment or draft term, if he volunteers to go into the trained ready reserve, will have to serve only one year in that group. Then he'd serve out the rest of his eightyear obligation as a standby.

This is what the new law will also do — but again only for a limited number — for predraft youths under 18½:

They can become exempt from the draft by volunteering for special training of three to six months, followed by 7½ years in the trained ready reserves.

A high school student who volunteered for the trained ready reserves under this arrangement could defer his required active training until he graduated or reached 20. Meanwhile, he'd be credited for the ready reserve drills he attended.

Under present law a youth who joins the National Guard before he's 18½ can avoid the draft, provided he agrees to stay in the Guard until he's 28. Under the new law he can shorten his term in the Guard to eight years by volunteering for three to six months of active training at some armed force post.

Twilight Is Woman's Best Friend

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Curbstone reflections of a pavement Plato:

A girl's best friend isn't a diamond—it's dusk, the time of day when she begins to sparkle herself.

Twilight is for the ladies, their big hour of charm. As a man feels most like a man in the morning (well, on some mornings at least), so a woman feels most like a woman at twilight. It is then she puts her best face forward.

One of the surest signs of the feminine sex's superior physical endurance is the fact that, whereas a man's strength wears down during the day, a woman's strength builds up.

Some women, I know, will snort at my theory that the sexes live by a different interior clock.

So let me try to prove it by citing a situation familiar to many married couples:

The tired husband arrives home and is told by his wife that this is their wedding anniversary and they are going out for the evening with another couple. Well, he doesn't want to. He begs, whines, pleads utter exhaustion. All to no avail.

When the two couples meet, the wives are as lovely and sparkling as schoolgirls. But the husbands are drooping.

But midnight works a magic change. The wives begin to fade like Cinderella, the husbands come alive. They want to get out on the dance floor. They laugh, tell jokes to strangers at the next table, and call to the waiter for madder music and stronger wine.

When the night club closes, the husbands still don't want to go home. They want to push over bus signs and throw rocks at the moon.

Now, what has made this change in the attitude? Very simple. The strength of the wives ebbed as the night dwindled, the strength of the men rose with the approach of daylight, the time when men feel strongest.

LITERARY GUIDEPOST

THE EXHANE OF JOY. By Isabel Quigly. Harcourt, Brace.

Neddy Coke, 31, is an architect, with a wife, Celia, 25, and two children whose ages add up to about five. As this fascinating first novel opens, he has a job in Australia that will keep him away a year. His family will stay in Italy, with introductions from an English acquaintance whom Celia mistrusts.

The mistrust was proper, though not for the reasons that aroused it. Celia meets Ginevra; and at Ginevra's, an ardent poet named Arcangelo. He bows over her hand the first time, then brushes it with his lips, then kisses it meaningfully, in style, and she finds herself happily, inexplicably, helplessly falling into his arms.

She has a long-time servant who is horrified; a conventional-minded mother herself, she too is horrified. But there it is. She is, madly in love, and she sets out to explore with Arcangelo all the sensual delights which had failed somehow to come to flower in her husband's company.

An uncontrollable, and in itself utterly enviable, passion is the central incident in this novel, but the real story shows the dramatic contrast between Latin and Anglo-Saxon, man and maid, knowledge and innocence. Step by step we see Ceila's defenses, all of the head and the conscience, swept away by the blood coursing hotly through her. The things that ought to be surrender wantonly to the delectable things that are. This is a story of the wonderful triumph of the senses. It is all the subtler, and all the finer, for the detached intelligence with which Celia, even in the grip of passion, estimates and assesses her swift, breakneck flight in the poet's arms.

America's Allies In Far East Capable Of Furnishing 1.3 Million Men In First Callup

By MURRAY FROMSON

SEOUL (AP)—If war starts tomorrow in the Far East, what could America's Asian allies put on the line in their own defense?

In the face of billions of U. S. dollars spent in Far East trouble spots in the two years since the guns went silent in Korea, the answer is interesting.

Roughly, the United States probably could count on upwards of 1,300,000 soldiers and airmen from South Korea, Nationalist China and the Philippines—and this would be only the initial call-up.

This figure, though unofficial, was made available by qualified sources in the three vigorously anti-Communist countries.

An unofficial estimate of Allied power looks like this:

South Korea—21 divisions of 13,000 men each presently under arms. In addition, supporting these units are corps units, artillery and special weapons battalions which fatten the South Korean standing force to about 650,000 men.

Nationalist China—25 divisions of 10,000 men each with supplementary units and special weapons bulging the standing army figure to roughly 500,000. The Nationalists also have three wings of jet fighter-bombers and a group of prop-driven F47 Thunderbolts.

The Philippines — The islands currently have 40,000 men under arms. Reliable informants say the Filipinos could call an additional 100,000 men in an emergency. They are still without a jet air force, but the United States will soon begin training 50 fliers in American-supplied T33 jet trainers at Clark Air Force Base.

The Philippines is the only SEATO member of the three. Pakistan and Thailand are the other two Asian members of this collective security organization.

Another question often raised is: How good are the troops now available?

The South Koreans are the only soldiers who have seen recent combat on a large scale. They make up a young army, which has been praised as being able to hold its own with any in the world today. It is the fourth largest behind the Soviet Union, Red China and the United States.

The Nationalists have now been out of fighting for nearly six years, and they are growing older. A relatively stale army is always a big question mark.

The Chinese are sensitive about this point.

They argue that they are calling up youngsters all the time and that they have the young soldiers where it counts—Quemoy and Matsu. Unofficially, it is estimated that four of Chiang Kai-shek's toughest divisions are out on these offshore islands.

Air-wise, most Nationalist pilots are well over 30 and many are 40. But the air force, like the army, feels it has the youngsters to do the job.

One observer says the Nationalists appear to suffer from the same shortage the South Koreans displayed in 1950—lack of artillery and knowledge of how to use it.

Through the military defense assistance program, the United States is continuously expanding services of advisory commissions to its Far East allies.

Actually, the United States can call up only three full divisions in Asia today. But that doesn't mean ground troops are being discounted in future military plans as reliance on the Air Force and atomic bombs increases.

One high officer said, "The main object of war is still to seize ground and the people on it. You can't do that with airplanes—only with men carrying rifles. These troops have got to hold the ground once they seize it."

Dispersal and mobility is being emphasized throughout Korea, Japan, Okinawa, Formosa and the Philippines, where American air or ground forces are stationed.

". . . And that means more ground troops will be necessary, not less," one infantry officer declared.

The present American ground force lineup in the Far East—with most units up to 25 per cent understrength—looks like this:

Korea—24th and 7th divisions and a large number of service troops and men attached to the Korean Military Advisory Group.

Japan — 1st Cavalry Division, which is responsible for ground defense of all central and northern Honshu and the newly arrived 508th Airborne Regiment.

Okinawa—75th Regimental Combat Team and two battalions of artillery now are being backed up with the arrival of two regiments of the 3rd Marine Division.

All U. S. units—Army, Navy and Air Force—are in much better shape today than they were in 1950, when the Korean War started. New weapons, new equipment and a new attitude of readiness is evident among U. S. troops throughout the Far East.

But there is some feeling that too much reliance is being played on the Air Force.

"It took only two bombs to force Japan to surrender," said one air officer.

However, he ignored the fact that thousands of infantrymen and Marines gave their lives to seize islands which were converted into bases for the atom bombers.

Diplomatic World May Learn Talk Without Name-Calling

By INEZ ROBB

Peace, it's wonderful!

This international truce in name-calling may not last, but, while it does, isn't the semi-silence golden?

For a long time now, I have had the feeling that the fifth freedom should be Freedom from Invective. The current sample of civility in public life convinces me.

If statesmen on both sides of the Iron Curtain discover that it is possible to conduct international relations in a normal tone of voice, without commission of verbal assault and battery, the bent and battered ears of the world may begin to heal. Most of us have cauliflower ears, just from listenin'

We Americans have done our share of name-calling, too, just to prove that any number can play the game. However, we are ham amateurs when compared to an old master such as the late Andrei Vishinsky, who must be bouncing in his grave like a yo-yo at the present era of urbanity and decorum.

The present iterim of courtly gentility must be especially trying for Pravada and Izvestia, silenced for the nonce in re "western imperialism," "Wall Street aggresion," "capitalist conspiracies" and "American fascism."

Of course, we may wake up any day and discover that this age of sweet reasonableness has come to an untimely end, and that Izvestia and Pravada are back to normal, i.e., broken out in another rash.

But, in the meantime, I certainly am enjoying the novelty of a little quiet and peace around the world household, and hope it continues.

It would be a boon if diplomatic relations could be conducted, even temporarily, with a bow toward the Marquess of Queensbury as well as Karl Marx. Me, I am tired of the Dead-end Kids' approach to world affairs. There is a lot to be said for the Lords Chesterfield and Fauntleroy.

There was a time when the poet could write "Diplomacy is to do and say. The nastiest thing in the nicest way."

Recently, diplomacy has been the reverse: it has been to do and say, the nicest thing in the nastiest way. In the postwar (W.W. II) world, even if a nation is going to force billions in cash on another, the recognized diplomatic gambit has been first to insult the recipient, and then force the money on it.

I am all for a permanent return to the old formula — "the nastiest thing in the nicest way," if necessary. Even if someone is preparing to work me over with a monkey wrench, I would much prefer that he be polite about it and proceed according to the best taste.

Grandma used to say, "You don't catch flies with vinegar." Diplomats could do worse than paste that slogan in their Homburgs.

In time, we might even be able to erect a big sign: "QUIET, PLEASE. WORLD AT WORK."

Money Managers Keep Busy Avoiding Inflation Of Credit

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—How to keep good times going is the problem today for the money managers. They think they have the answer in mild restraints on credit.

Their idea: Not only have you never had it so good, but if you're to avoid hard times in the future, money mustn't be let to get too easy now.

So the cost of short-term borrowing has risen to the highest point in more than a year and a half. And the price of long-term government bonds has fallen—another way of saying that the yield on them has risen to keep pace with higher rates charged on other loans.

This may be hard for some to understand—the fellow, say, who is looking for a comfortable-to-carry mortgage for a new house for a growing family; or the businessman who'd like a bank loan, at last year's cost, to get ready for the fall and Christmas trade.

The policy of mild restraint is based on the belief that price inflation isn't much of a threat in the United States now, but that credit inflation could be. And inflated credit could kill the business boom simply by over-stimulating it and bringing on a bust.

With an apparent frown for the easier credit terms that have become popular, the comptroller of the currency has told the 4,800 national banks in the land: "Go ahead and do all the consumer loan business you can, but be sure you do it sensibly."

The Federal Reserve Board has sent notice to the 1,900 state banks who are members of the system that it plans to keep an eye on their installment credit activities.

The official worry stems from the chance that all the talk nowadays about higher prices could lead businessmen and consumers to start stocking up on goods and materials to beat any anticipated rise. Borrowing to build up inventories, officials fear, could lead to the same situation that preceded the recessions of 1949 and 1953-54.

Consumer credit is already at an all-time high. During the first half of this year, the Federal Reserve notes, bank loans to business increased by two billion dollars. This is contrary to customary experience. Bank loans usually drop in the first half of the year and increase in the second half to take care of the crops and the fall pickup in trade.

Officials are quick to point out that there is nothing dangerous in the size of the loans, either at the business or consumer levels. National income and production have kept step with, or set the pace for, the debt increase. But the money managers dislike any prospect of an over-optimistic credit inflation being piled on top of the present considerable boom.

Their policy appeals to be: Enough credit and money to keep the boom going along at its present pace—but not so much as could lead to excesses which would only end, after the fling, in hard times.

RADIO-TV REPORT

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Progress report on George Gobel movie star—

Lonesome George, the TV idol, is making a movie over Paramount way. It's a remake of "The Lady Eve," the 1941 laughgetter that starred Henry Fonda and Barbara Stanwyck. Only they're not going to call it that; they're looking for another title now (how about "The Real George"?).

George was doing a scene with Mitzi Gaynor, who plays the Stanwyck role, and looking real natty. The little feller had on a spotless tuxedo with white coat and his old pals of the National Barn Dance would never have recognized him.

It was George, all right. You could tell when he opened his mouth and those droll tones came out. He was doing a scene in which Mitzi swooned in his arms at the sight of his pet snake. George's gyrations to revive her had everyone on the set stifling snickers.

"That's the way it is all the time," said Mitzi afterwards. "David Niven and I have the darnedest time keeping straight faces when we're playing scenes with George.

"He's the funniest man—and so shy! Why, he's probably suffering the tortures of hell in that scene where he has to catch me and rip my dress."

Like Mitzi, George is in good hands. Directing him is Norman Taurog, who has handled most of the leading comics of the past 30 years. Lately he has specialized in Martin and Lewis.

"People have asked me how he compares to Martin and Lewis," said the roly-poly director. "My answer is that there is no comparison—there's two of them!

"George is going to surprise a lot of people as an actor. He's terrific. He has a quality that comes right off the screen at you."

Overseeing the film is Paul Jones, a rotund leprechaun who produced the first "Lady Eve." Also films with Red Skelton, Bing Crosby, Bob Hope, etc., including several "road" epics.

"This Gobel has a great quality in the rushes," Jones remarked. "He leaps right of the screen."

WASHINGTON LETTER

Dinner in 7 Tongues Tasted Same to All

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP) — A fancy dinner spelled out in seven languages was served up to a select group of Washingtonians recently, but it tasted the same to all whether the Spanish-speaking recognized it as "comida," or the Yiddish as "onbaysn."

Hosting the unusual affair was Robert C. Prebel, president of the Encyclopedia Britannica. The occasion: the launching of the Britanica's new World Language Dictionary, a work offering word equivalents in seven languages, of some 6400 basic English words.

Prebel presented the two volumbes, gilt-edged and leather-bound and each about the size of the Washington telephone directory, to representatives of the seven language groups represented in the dictionary, the French, German, Italian, Spanish, Swedish and Yiddish. A set was sent to President Eisenhower as well.

Members of the press, who attended the dinner, also lugged home copies. Preble also suggested that guests take home the 12-by-six-inch menus to paste in the front of the dictionary as mementoes of the occasion.

Dinner for the German was "abendessen." For the Italian, it was "pranzo"; for the French, "dinner," and for the Swedish, "middag."

Piece de reistance of the dinner was what the Yiddish call "hartsfun fileminyon rosini." This is what you and I call "filet mignon." Here's the way radishes were listed: In French, "radis roses"; in German, "radieschen"; in Italian, "ravanelli"; in Spanish, "rabanos"; in Swedish, "radisor" and in Yiddish, "royzn-retekhlekh."

• • •

Guests at another Washington dinner party recently sat on the floor and ate off tables not more than a foot high. This was nothing unusual for them. Three Navy officers and their wives, who one time or another had been stationed in the Orient, and had often attended sukiyaki parties in Japan. Sukiyaki is a concoction of delicately flavored meat, or poultry, cooked on a shibachi, or small Japanese charcoal stove, usually placed right on the table before the diners. Two Japanese girls, in colorful kimonas with obi sashes and native sandals, took over the preparation and serving.

Oil Activity Pickup Recorded In West Texas In 28th Week

A sharp upturn was noted in West Texas Drilling activity for the 28th week of 1955. A total of 92 applications, including 20 wildcats, were filed in 24 counties in Railroad Commission District 7-C and 8.

The number compares to 75 applications, including 13 wildcats, staked the preceding week.

Totals for the year now are 2,319 field tests and 500 wildcats, a grand total of 2,819 tests for oil and a weekly average of 100.4.

Seven counties in District 7-C shared 18 applications, including 10 wildcats. Seventeen counties in District 8 shared 74 applications, including 10 wildcats.

District 7-C wildcats were: Crockett, three; Coke and McCulloch, two each; Concho, Irion and Reagan, one each.

District 7-C field tests were: Reagan, three; Coke and Crockett, two each; and Tom Green one.

District 8 wildcats were: Andrews, four; Pecos, two; Crane, Mitchell, Terry and Yoakum, one each.

District 8 field tests were: Andrews, 14; Crane, 9; Scurry, 8; Howard, 7; Ward, 5; Gaines and Mitchell, 4 each; Ector, 3; Midland and Pecos, 2 each; Dawson, King, Lamb, Loving, and Terry, 1 each.

Tactful Weatherman

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Harry F. Wahlgren, the government weather man here, has made many references in his forecasts to the "warm" weather this summer but not once has he mentioned that ugly word "hot."

A reporter, perspiring in 98-degree heat, asked why not.

"There is no point in saying it is continued hot and humid, at least not when it stays under 100 degrees," Wahlgren explained.

"They'll be hotter than ever if we do that."

Senate Opens Murder Case Of 3 Officers

NEW YORK (AP) — The Senate Armed Services Committee "has quietly reopened" the case of the 1946 ax slayings of three American Army officers in Passau, Germany, the New York Daily News said today.

Former Army Capt. James M. Leech, of Lima, Ohio, was charged with the crime last year in warrants issued by a United States court in Germany.

Leeeh has denied killing the three officers—Maj. Everett S. Cofran, Washington, D.C.; Capt. Adrian L. Wessler, New Rochelle, N.Y.; and Lt. Stanley M. Rosewater, Omaha, Neb.

They were bludgeoned in their beds at a luxurious villa at Passau, and their rooms were set afire.

Last May 12, however, a week after West Germany regained its sovereignty, the Bavarian state prosecutor started a new investigation.

While the case still was under U.S. jurisdiction, Rep. Thomas J. Dodd (D-Conn) had inserted in the Congressional Record a demand that the Army, State Department and then-existent high commissioner for Germany make a complete report.

In a dispatch from Washington, the Daily News said today that Congressional investigators conferred yesterday with William D. Canfield, who probed the case when he was a trial attorney with the U. S. High Commission in Germany.

The News quoted committee sources as saying the meeting with Canfield was a "preliminary inquiry" and "after other inquiries are made the senators will decide whether to air the case in public hearings."

Leech lived in a house adjoining a villa occupied by Cofran, who had Wessler and Rosewater as his guests when the slayings occurred.

Leech once was held for four months in Germany for questioning.

During the five years just prior to 1954 a half million harvesting combines were manufactured in the United States.

Frankfurters Can Be Made Into Simple Or Fancy Meals

Be it circus, beach, backyard or supper table, the hot dog is traditionally American.

The origin perhaps is German, but the uses and popularity of the frankfurter, wiener or hot dog, depending on which term you use, belong strictly to this country.

And homemakers are learning lately that the hot dog can be both plain and fancy. It isn't just a between-meal fare or away from the kitchen stove dish. Hot dogs can be dressed up for delicious and economical meals.

They lend themselves to various cooking methods. Since they are a ready cooked meat, they may be served either cold or hot. If you buy a pound, you usually will get 7 to 8 hot dogs. They may be heated by broiling, boiling or dipped in corn meal batter and fried. Cold, they are sliced crosswise into bite size portions for the hearty addition to tossed vegetable or kidney bean salads. They also can be stuffed or served with rich, spicy sauces.

BROILED FRANKFURTERS

12 frankfurters
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
12 slices bacon
24 toothpicks

Slit frankfurters in half, lengthwise, but not so completely as to flatten them. Mix together mayonnaise and mustard; blend well. Fill the slit frankfurters with mixture. Wrap each filled one with 1 slice bacon; hold in place with toothpicks. Place on broiler rack in broiler pan under unit so frankfurters are about 3 to 4 inches from unit. Broil 4 to 5 minutes, turn and broil 2 minutes longer. Remove toothpicks and serve in frankfurter buns. Makes 6 servings.

BARBECUED HOT DOGS

8 hot dogs
¼ cup chopped onion
2 teaspoons sugar
¾ teaspoon paprika
¼ teaspoon salt
1-3 cup catsup
1-3 cup water
3 tablespoons vinegar
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
Few drops Tabasco sauce

Place hot dogs in a greased 11 x7 x 1½-inches baking pan. Combine onion, sugar, paprika, salt, pepper, catsup, water, vinegar, Worcestershire sauce and Tabsco sauce. Pour over frankfurters. Bake in 400 degrees F. oven for 30 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

TOMATO-FRANKFURTER RAREBIT

8 frankfurters
6 tablespoons margarine
¼ cup flour
1 cup milk
1 No. 2 can tomatoes
¾ cup shredded cheese
1-3 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
6 frankfurter rolls
Margarine for spreading

Slice frankfurters ¼ inch thick. Melt margarine in saucepan. Add flour, stirring smooth. Add milk gradually, stirring until thickened. Add tomatoes, stirring, then cheese. Stir until sauce is thickened and cheese is melted. Add salt and pepper. Fold in frankfurter slices. Heat thoroughly, then keep hot over gentle heat while toasting rolls. Split frankfurter rolls and spread with margarine. Toast under broiler until golden brown. Pour rarebit over rolls and serve at once. Crisp radishes and celery and extra rolls are good with this. Makes 6 servings.

FRANKFURTER PASTIES

2 cups sifted all purpose flour
1 teaspoon salt
2-3 cup shortening
1-3 cup grated processed American cheese
1-3 cup cold water
8 frankfurters (about 1 pound)
1 cup drained sauerkraut, cut fine

Sift flour and salt into a bowl add shortening and cut in with pastry blender or knives until pieces are the size of small peas. Stir in grated cheese; mix thoroughly. Sprinkle mixture with water and blend it in lightly. Gather up dough to form a compact ball. On a lightly floured surface, roll half of pastry at a time into one-eighth inch thickness rectangle. Cut each half of rolled dough into 4 triangular pieces about 4½ x 7 inches, or large enough to enclose frankfurter. Cut lengthwise slit in each frankfurter and fill with 2 tablespoons sauerkraut. Place each filled frankfurter on a piece of rolled dough and pinch dough together so that frankfurters are entirely enclosed. Place on greased baking sheet. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 15 minutes or until cheese pastry is lightly browned.

MACARONI FRANKFURTER BAKE

1 tablespoon salt
3 quarts boiling water
8 ounces elbow macaroni
6 frankfurters
1 cups grated sharp cheddar cheese
1½ cups milk
1 teaspoon dry mustard
½ teaspoon caraway seeds

Add salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. Split frankfurters lengthwise and stuff with ¾ cup cheese. In a bowl, mix remaining ingredients; add cooked macaroni and mix lightly. Pour into greased baking dish and place stuffed frankfurters on top. Cover and bake in moderate oven (350 F) 30 minutes. Uncover and continueu baking 10 minutes or until top is lightly browned. Serve immediately. Serves 6.

MUSTARD FRANKS IN PICKLE CREAM SAUCE

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 pound frankfurters
1 small onion, chopped
¼ cup wine vinegar
¼ cup water
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 cup sour cream
½ cup sweet pickle relish

Melt butter or margarine over medium heat. Add frankfurters and onion; cook until onion is tender Combine vinegar, water and mustard; mix well. Pour over frankfurters. Cover and cook over low heat 10 minutes. Remove frankfurters. Add sour cream and pickle relish to vinegar mixture; mix well. Return frankfurters to pan. Heat to serving temperature. Serves 4.

PINEAPPLE STUFFED FRANKS

1 pound frankfurters
1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple, (2 cups)
½ cup finely chopped onion
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
¾ teaspoon sugar
¼ cup chili sauce

Split frankfurters not quite through. Spread out half the franks, cut side up, in a greased baking dish. Spread with partially drained pineapple. Top with remaining split frankfurters. Cook onion in fat until tender (about 10 minutes). Stir frequently so as not to burn. Add remaining ingredients and cook for 5 minutes. Spoon sauce on franks. Bake in a 350 degrees F. oven for 30 minutes. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

FRANKS WITH GREEN PEPPER RICE

1 medium onion, chopped
2 tablespoons bacon drippings or other fat
½ cup catsup
½ cup canned tomato sauce
¼ cup sherry wine
¼ cup water
1 tablespoon wine vinegar
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
2 tablespoons sugar
Salt to taste
1 pound franks
1 1-3 cups precooked rice
2 tablespoons grated green pepper
2 tablesoons butter or margarine

Saute onion gently in bacon drippings for 5 minutes or so. Add catsup, tomato sauce, wine, water, vinegar, Worcestershire sauce, sugar and salt mix well and heat to simmering. Add franks to sauce; cover and simmer about 15 minutes, turning and basting franks occasionally. Prepare rice according to directions on the carton. To the hot rice add the green pepper and butter; toss gently with a fork until butter melts and ingredients are well mixed. Spoon rice in a ring on a serving plate, arrange franks in center and pour sauce over franks. Serves 4.

CORN COVERED FRANKFURTERS

2-3 cup cornmeal
1 cup plain flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons fat
1 egg, slightly beaten
¾ cup sweet milk
1 pound hot dogs.
Deep fat

If self rising cornmeal and flour are used, omit baking powder and salt. Combine first five ingredients. Cut in fat to resemble fine crumbs. Combine egg and milk add to first mixture and stir well until mixed. Insert wooden skewers into franks; spread franks with cornmeal mixture and fry until brown in deep fat which as been heated to 325 degrees F. Serve with chili sauce.

FRANKFURTER BUNS

2 packages yeast, compressed or dry
¼ cup lukewarm water
1 cup milk
¼ cup sugar
2 teaspoons salt
¼ cup sugar
2 teaspoons salt
¼ cup shortening
2 eggs
4½ cups sifted flour (about)

Soften yeast in lukewarm water. Scald milk. Add sugar, salt and shortening. Cool to lukewarm. Add 2 cups flour. Mix to smooth batter. Add eggs. Beat until blended. Add softened yeast. Mix well. Add remaining flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead until smooth and satiny. Place in lightly greased bowl. Grease surface. Cover. Let rise until doubled (about 1½ hours). Punch down. Shape into number of buns desired by pinching off portions of the dough and rolling each piece into a slender roll 4 inches long and ¾-inch in diameter. Place on greased baking sheets. Let rise until doubled (about 1 hour). Form remaining dough into a smooth ball. Grease surface lightly. Cover and put into refrigerator; when wanted, remove dough from refrigerator and punch down. Mold at once or, if preferred, let dough stand in warm room for an hour before molding. Let rise until doubled. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 18 minutes. Makes 2 dozen 4½ inch buns.

TO LEAD WEST GERMAN ARMY—Former Wehrmacht generals Adolf Heusinger, left, and Hans Spiedel, right, will become the highest ranking generals in the new West German army. The security committee of the Bundestag in Bonn announced the appointments. Both Heusinger, 57, and Spiedel, 58, will have the rank of lieutenant general—the same they held in World War II.

Reds Choose Wang For Geneva Talks

TOKYO (AP)—Wang Ping-nan, Red China's choice as negotiator in the Geneva talks with the United States, holds high rank in Chinese Communist councils and is a close associate of Chou En-lai, premier and foreign minister.

Peiping radio announced Wang's selection yesterday soon after President Eisenhower told a press conference the Geneva session starting Monday could lead eventually to face-to-face negotiations between Chou and Secretary of State Dulles.

In Geneva, Wang, now ambassador to Poland, will negotiate with U. Alexis Johnson, U.S. ambassador to Czechoslovakia and a State Department Far East expert.

Wang was secretary general of Communist China's delegation to the 1954 Geneva conference which drafted the Indochina truce. Chou headed the delegation.

In 1946 Wang was Chou's liaison man with the foreign press at Chungking during the last fruitless direct negotiations between Communists and Nationalists. In 1953 he was one of Red China's representatives attending Josef Stalin's funeral.

Johnson, the U. S. negotiator, was a background figure during Korean truce negotiations with the Chinese Communists. He then was deputy assistant secretary of state for the Far East.

In Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist headquarters at Taipei President Eisenhower's press conference statement that talks between Dulles and Chou might be necessary came as a new, jarring jolt.

The President declared, however, that the United States first must find out at Geneva what the Chinese Communists want to talk about.

The Foreign Office in Taipei declared Nationalist China firmly opposed any Formosa cease-fire.

Dulles, saying Johnson's chief aim at Geneva would be to seek release of 51 Americans held in Red China, declared Tuesday that Johnson also would sound out the Chinese Communists' attitude on a Formosa cease-fire.

Peiping radio, launching a fresh attack on "U.S. imperialism," made clear that Red China would renew demands for withdrawal of U.S. forces from Formosa.

House Expects Adjournment Next Week

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress moved two of its dwindling number of major bills into position for final action today but House leaders clung to the view the session would spill over into next week.

The Senate is in the position usually occupied in previous years by the House—marking time while the other branch struggles with bills to be cleared out before adjournment.

Senate leaders said it is hard for them to understand why a windup this Saturday is not possible in view of several long strides made yesterday in clearing up the docket.

But House Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts said next Tuesday or Wednesday still appeared the best guess to him. Other House leaders expressed a similar view.

Conferees reached agreement yesterday on two major pieces of legislation, a minimum wage increase and a foreign aid money bill, with the House winning clear-cut victories on both.

These are expected to be whipped to the White House today. The minimum wage bill would increase the statutory floor in interstate commerce from 75 cents to $1 an hour, effective next March 1. President Eisenhower, who asked for 90 cents, said yesterday he hadn't yet talked to Secretary of Labor Mitchell and didn't know whether he would accept Mitchell's recommendation to sign the measure.

The conferees on the foreign aid measure confounded predictions by settling their sharp differences on the first day they met. They settled for a total of $2,703,341,750 in new cash, or 563 million less than Eisenhower asked and 502 million less than the Senate voted.

The House disposed of one of the session's biggest problems yesterday by junking all the highway construction plans before it. Swept to defeat were both Eisenhower's bill, with its bond financing feature, and a rival Democratic measure which called for billions of new taxes to help finance better roads.

The main remaining hurdle to adjournment appeared to be a housing bill still drydocked in the House Rules Committee, where half of the members oppose its public housing provisions. The committee planned another session today on whether to send the measure to the floor.

If Congress takes no action, most of the big government housing programs such as FHA mortgage insurance will expire July 31.

Two money bills besides foreign aid are still pending. On one of these, a catch-all measure carrying funds for many agencies, Senate-House conferees meet today.

The other, carrying funds for Congress, has passed the House. The Senate Appropriations Committee drafts its version today.

Police To Charge Mentally Retarded Youth With Murder

CHICAGO (AP)—Police said they planned to charge a 17-year-old mentally retarded youth with murder today in connection with the rape-slaying of 8-year-old Mary Manzo.

The youth, Clarence Baugh, who police said has admitted slaying the girl and hiding her body under a viaduct near her home, was to appear at the inquest.

The discovery July 7 of the tiny and bruised body in the dark railroad underpass set off an extensive manhunt.

Police picked up Baugh, a Negro, Monday night on a report by a neighbor that he had been known to molest young girls. A lie detector test proved inconclusive. He underwent questioning Tuesday and yesterday.

Capt. Frank Reynolds said Baugh admitted kidnaping the girl near her South Side home on a promise to buy candy. Instead, Reynolds said, the youth took her to a vacant building, slugged her with a pipe when she screamed, then raped her.

The girl had been missing since the night of July 4 when she went to a store on an errand. Her body was found three days later by street cleaners.

Police said Baugh, who has no police record, had been a pupil in a school for abnormal children. They said he admitted being a sex deviate. His parents are deaf mutes.

Judge Dismisses Contempt Charge

NEW YORK (AP)—A federal judge has dismissed contempt of the Senate charges against Corliss Lamont and two other men who refused to answer questions in 1953 before Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's investigations subcommittee.

Judge Edward Weinfeld, in granting a defense motion for dismissal yesterday, said the indictment failed to show that the subcommittee had proper congressional authority to conduct such an inquiry.

Weinfeld did not rule on the validity or scope of McCarthy's authority but said in his decision:

"The indictment is barren of any allegation or fact from which the authority of the permanent subcommittee can be ascertained.

"One vainly examines the public law and Senate resolutions set forth in the indictment to find any reference to the permanent subcommittee, let alone any delegation of power to it."

The 53-year-old Lamont, son of the late Thomas W. Lamont, a J. P. Morgan & Co. partner, had contended the McCarthy committee never was legally authorized by the Senate to conduct its investigations.

Lamont was indicted by a grand jury last Oct. 14 along with Abraham Unger and Albert Shadowitz.

Refusing to answer 23 questions put to him by the subcommittee, Lamont pleaded the First Amendment with its guarantees of free speech.

Lamont, an author and educator, had refused to say whether he was under Communist control or associated with Communists at the time he wrote a book, "The Peoples of the Soviet Union."

A chapter from the book was included in an Army handbook.

Lamont has called himself "a free-wheeling liberal" but has publicly denied that he is or ever was a Communist.

In a statement following the court's decision, he termed dismissal of the indictment "a great victory for freedom of speech, freedom of the press and all those traditional freedoms which are now heavily assailed on every side . . ."

Lamont was a lecturer in philosophy at Columbia University until last April, when he withdrew to await the outcome of the contempt charge.

Unger was one of the defense attorneys in the conspiracy trial of the 11 top Communist leaders. Shadowitz was a former government employe who worked on vital defense projects.

Fifty Girls Swept To Sea By Currents

TSU, Japan (AP) — Fifty high school girls in a beach swimming party were swept to sea today by treacherous ocean currents and pounding surf.

Conflicting reports placed the death toll as high as 41.

It was Japan's worst swimming beach disaster.

The newspaper Asahi said 36 girls picked up by fishing boats had not been revived four hours later.

Police lifeguards and 25 doctors and nurses worked feverishly over them but one doctor said, "It seems hopeless."

The newspaper Mainichi said all 36 were believed dead. Kyodo news service said five bodies had been pulled from the water and several still were missing. Many had been battered against the rocks.

Some 270 high school students, supervised by teachers, were at the beach party. About 50 swam away from the main group. They floundered in the rough water and then were carried out by the current.

Hysterical and weeping parents arrived at the beach, crowding around the teams trying to restore life.

Dr. Jiro Higuchi said that when he arrived, "Most seemed to have some but very slight heart palpitations. But when three hours artificial respiration failed to revive them, we considered our efforts hopeless."

Dr. Susumi Nagai said, "We were called too late. Many picked up were laid on the beach and remained there for at lesst 15 minutes before artificial respiration was begun."

East Germany Sings Unification Plan

BERLIN (AP) — Communist-controlled East Germany, supporting Soviet policies as usual, has endorsed Russia's plan for German unification as part of an all-European security system.

The agreement was announced last night in a joint communique after the four-day visit to East Berlin by Soviet Premier Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev, on their way home from the Geneva Big Four meeting.

The Western Allies at the summit conference insisted that Germany must be reunified before a Europe-wide security system could be set up. The Soviets held out for the security system—and abandonment of the North Atlantic Alliance—first.

The Big Four's foreign ministers are to begin negotiating the two issues at a conference in October.

Turncoats Dislike Thoughts Of Arrest Before Seeing Families

By VIRGINIA PASLEY

ABOARD THE S S PRESIDENT CLEVELAND (AP) — The three Army turncoats admitted today the news that they would be jailed before they could be reunited with their loved ones "is almost too much to take."

They told me they had not expected to be arrested the moment they set foot again on American soil, though they had steeled themselves to the prospect that they would have to answer to the Army some day for deserting their country and joining the world of the Chinese Reds.

The first indication of what the Army's attitude would be toward the men — Otho G. Bell, Lewis W. Griggs and William A. Cowart — came Monday when a Pentagon spo[illegible]id they would be arrested immediately, and probably would be court-martialed.

Since they boarded the President Cleveland July 11, the three ex-POWs have enjoyed a freedom denied to them since they went into their self-imposed exile. All said they thought they were prepared for the final reckoning, but that now they weren't so sure.

"For the last five years, we have been in prison," Cowart said, summing up the attitude of the others. "It isn't going to be easy going back to another prison."

As I talked with them, the thoughts of each man turned to their relatives who have been praying and hoping for their return. For each turncoat, there was the bitter realization that they may not be joined with their loved ones for weeks, or even months.

"I guess now I won't see my mother," said Cowart. "She is sick, and it's been six years since I saw her."

His mother, Mrs. Chester Green — she was divorced when Cowart was only 6 — has lost her health since her son turned his back on the United States. For months after he had refused repatriation, she refused to believe it was her son.

Otho Bell has never seen his 4-year-old daughter, Paula, who was to travel from Olympia, Wash. with her mother, Jewel, to greet Bell when the ship docked. Half-heartedly, Bell insisted that the Army announcement didn't bother him.

"I can take it," he said. "But, I'm worried about Jewel and Paula. They're coming to meet me. Now I don't know if the Army will let them get near me."

The Army may permit Bell a brief meeting with his wife in San Francisco.

Griggs was the most philosophical of the three men. He had hoped for a chance to talk with his mother, Elsie, who lives in Jacksonville, Tex., before his arrest.

"I would like to see her very much," he said. "But maybe this is the best way."

Each in his turn, I asked the three men who had chosen the Communist way of life and then changed their mind what punishment they thought would be fitting mfor them. Should it be long prison terms, loss of citizenship, exile?

None would say.

Ironically, they placed their hopes on three things the Chinese could never offer them — a fair trial, the inherent justice of the American people and their government, and a chance to tell the world their story of what it's like behind the Bamboo Curtain.

Bomb Plotters Get Top Ranks In Jerry Army

BONN, Germany, (AP)—Two of the 1944 bomb plotters against Hitler, Adolf Heusinger and Hans Speidel, have been named to the top ranks in the new West German army.

They headed a list of officer appointments approved Tuesday night by the Security Committee of the Bundestag, lower house of Parliament.

They will serve first in a 6,000-man volunteer force to be raised this year as the nucleus to the 500,000-man armed force West Germany has pledged to the Atlantic Alliance.

There was no indication what posts they will hold. They will have their former rank of lieutenant general.

The new army will include only one full general. He will not be appointed until organization of the armed forces is well under way.

The Security Committee also approved the appointments of 3 major generals, 21 brigadier generals, 275 colonels, 680 lieutenant colonels, 966 majors, 970 captains and 400 lieutenants.

Speidel, 58, now is Bonn's civilian representative at Supreme Allied Headquarters in Europe. He was Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's chief of staff on the Western Front in World War II.

Heusinger, 57, has been heading the Defense Ministry's military planning department. He was wartime chief of the German supreme command's operations division. Defense Ministry officials have said previously he would be named chief of staff of all the armed forces.

Both Heusinger and Speidel were arrested after the 1944 attempt on Hitler. Heusinger was released after two months. Speidel escaped and was in hiding when the war ended.

Estate Of $1,109,551 Goes To Ann Sheridan

NEW YORK (AP)—A tax appraisal shows that press agent Steve Hannagan left a gross estate of $1,109,551, with $218,399 going to movie actress Ann Sheridan, his friend for many years.

After taxes and other expenses, the net estate was valued at $768,098 in a report filed in Surrogate's Court Tuesday.

Hannagan died of a heart attack at the age of 53 while traveling in Africa in February 1953.

Miss Sheridan's share of the estate was in the form of insurance policies that named her as beneficiary. Hannagan, twice married and twice divorced, often escorted Miss Sheridan. They were frequently rumbred to be about to marry.

The tax appraisal valued Hannagan's public relations business at $407,056. Other assets included notes for $40,000 signed by Miss Sheridan. She said Hannagan loaned her the money to buy two movie scripts. She eventually settled the debt with the estate for $15,000.

Hannagan's will provides an annuity of $1,500 for his sister-in-law Elizabeth Nichols, of Lafayette, Ind. There were a number of other bequests to former employes and friends. The remainder was left in trust for his brother Frank C. Hannagan, of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Bulganin On Way Home From Berlin

BERLIN, (AP) — Soviet Premier Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev left East Berlin by plane Wednesday for Moscow after a three-day visit with the East German Communist regime.

Prime Minister Otto Grotewohl and his Cabinet, along with top Soviet officials and East European diplomats, saw the Russian leaders off.

The Soviet chiefs stopped here on their way from the Big Four summit conference.

Before boarding the Russian plane, Bulganin in a brief speech said he was impressed by the workers, industry and intellectual circles in East Germany. He wished "continued success for the German Democratic Republic in its fight for a unified, democratic and peace-loving Germany."

Khrushchev in an address last night to a crowd of 250,000 in East Berlin's Red Square restated the Soviet position that Germany must be united only within an all-European security pact. The Soviets, he declared, could not expect the East Germans to be willing to be absorbed by a West Germany "that is rearming as a partner in the North Atlantic Pact."

The party boss also promised that Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov, when he meets with the three Western ministers in October, would insist that both East and West Germany be present at discussions on German unity. The West has refused to recognize East Germany but the summit conference left the question of German representation up to the ministers.

District Pony Meet Continues, Little Leaguers Resume Play

Sweetwater Meets Abilene At 6:45

Championship of the District 7 Pony League tournament may be decided tonight as the tourney goes into its third night of play.

Tonight's first game, starting at 6:45 p.m. on the Towle Memorial diamond, will match Pony League all-star teams from Abilene and Sweetwater.

Each of these teams has lost one game in the double-elimination tournament. Abilene lost to Sweetwater in the first round 7-5 in a 12-inning game, or five extra innings. Sweetwater lost to Snyder in the second round 5-2. Abilene, in the second round, eliminated a McCamey-Crane-Rankin team 5-0 after Snyder had downed that team 1-0 in the first round.

The winner of tonight's Abilene-Sweetwater game will earn the right to meet the Snyder all-stars in the second game of the night. That game, then, could decide the championship. Snyder will take the title if it wins that game, but if the other team defeats Snyder tonight, a second game will be played tomorrow night because Snyder will have only one defea

The winner of the district tournament here will advance to a bi-district tournament in San Antonio, which will send a winner to a regional tourney at Corpus Christi. The region covers six states and will produce a champion to send to the Pony League world series in Pennsylvania.

So far, in only four games of this tournament, there has been one game stretching longer than even most extra-inning games go in Pony League, the 12-inning affair between Abilene and Sweetwater; two shutouts by Snyder and Abilene over MCR; and one one-hitter pitched by Snyder's Johnny Griggs over MCR. There have been 37 hits in the four games, or an average of slightly more than nine hits per game and less than five per team.

So far, Sweetwater has the top-hitting team in the tournament. That team is batting .200 after two games, while Abilene has a .151 average, Snyder .148, and MCR, which is now out of the tournament, .087.

James Parker of Sweetwater so far is leading batters in the tourney with a .444 average in the two games. He is followed by four .400 batters, Kenneth Drake and Mickey McGrew of Snyder, Bobby Bushong of MCR, and James Crenshaw of Sweetwater.

The teams have used a total of 14 pitchers in the four games. Among the most-used so far is Sweetwater's Parker, who was winner in the team's first night game and loser the second night. Others who have been winners are Snyder's Griggs and Dick Hayes, and Abilene's Pat Armstrong. Losers other than Parker have been Jerry Pulliam and Nelson Huffman, both of MCR, and John Choate of Abilene. Other mounders used have been Bob Austin, George Lewis, and Roger Evans by Abilene; Jack Byrd, Mike Everts, and W. D. Morris by Sweetwater.

Snyder LL Stars Meet C-City Nine

It will be do or die for Snyder's American Little League All-Stars tonight as they clash with Colorado City in the semi-finals of the Area 2 Little League tournament in Rotan.

The winner of tonight's game will gain a place in the finals and cinch at least second place in the meet.

The way the tourney is set up, the winning team must remain undefeated, for whenever a team loses one game, it is automatically eliminated from the competition. Snyder's National League was taken from the tournament by the Americans in the first game Monday night.

Colorado City advanced to the semi-finals the easy way, drawing a bye for the first round; and after tonight they will be either in or out, depending on the outcome of their game.

Toby Derring, Colorado City All-Star manager, said that either Don Best or Benny Greenfield will start on the mound for his crew, with the nod probably going to Best, who has run up a 9-2 won-loss record. Greenfield, a southpaw, was the top pitcher of the league with an 11-1 record.

It was not known definitely who would work as pitcher for Snyder—at least 11 of the 15-boy squad have pitched in at least one game this season.

John Weaver, the top pitcher for the Yanks who pitched Monday night, will not be eligible according to rules of Little League, Inc., which limit the innings that a pitcher can throw per week.

Richard Samuelson, Charles Gladson and Larry Patterson and any other of the 11 pitchers stand good chances of starting, or at least seeing action, in tonight's match. Samuelson boasts four wins with no losses, Gladson has won three while losing five and Patterson has a three-nothing record.

Derring indicated that the rest of his probable starting line-up would include Jerry McKay, catcher; either Best or Greenfield, the one who does not pitch, first baseman; Buddy Compton, second baseman; William Sanders, third baseman, Dwayne Spivy, shortstop, Bobby Wilson, center fielder; Alex Campbell, right fielder and Bobby Stewart, left fielder. Others on the All-Star team who may start or see action are Doug Hodges, Charles Rotheell, Kenneth Beasley, Jerry Williams, James Ratliff and Bobby Stewart.

Again, the Snyder starters are uncertain, and some changes will probably be made, but here is the way they played Monday: Ronnie Wylie, catcher; Larry Patterson, shortstop; Richard Samuelson, third baseman; Tommy Minton, left fielder; Charles Gladson, first baseman; Steve Free, second baseman; Butch Niedecken, center fielder; and Land McKinney, right fielder. The other squadmen who may play are Jerry Franks, Joshua John, Gilbert Merritt, Jerry Tucker, Charles Davis and Roland Key.

McKay was singled out as the Colorado City's heaviest hitter. Derring said he led their league with homers and was the only boy in their league who was able to knock two out of the park. They play on a regulation Pony League-size field, he said. Best will probably bat in the second clean-up position.

Samuelson ranks as Snyder's hardest hitter, having recorded two doubles and seven home runs this season, one of which was in the tournament Monday night with two men on. Minton ranks No. 2 with five homers and four doubles.

But the showdown will come at 7:30 tonight on the Rotan field when the two teams meet.

Bear Bryant Is Back At Work After Tour

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Paul (Bear) Bryant was back at work today as head football coach and athletic director at Texas A&M College, following a month-long tour of Army installations in the Far East.

FACES TELL WHO WON—A happy Doug Ford hugs his son, Doug, Jr., after he won the PGA golf title in Detroit, Mich. The man who lost, Cary Middlecoff, right, is a stablemate of Ford at Kiamesha Lake, N.Y. Ford beat Middlecoff 4 and 3 in their finals match.

San Antonio Ready To Take Loop Lead

By The Associated Press

San Antonio's hurrying Missions are poised to take over the Texas League lead.

The Missions knocked the front-running Dallas Eagles into the ropes Wednesday night to move within one game of the top. And if they can administer the kayo punch Thursday night will hold the lead by two percentage points.

It's the big one for both clubs as they square off in Dallas, with San Antonio depending on Mel Held, an 18-game winner, and Dallas using Jim Tugerson, who has a 9-9 record.

Frank Fanovich was magnificent Wednesday night in pitching the Missions to a 2-0 victory over Dallas in the series opener. He held the Eagles to five hits and made it seven victories in a row during which he has given up only five earned runs in 65 innings. That's a fabulous earned run average of .063.

Hisel Patrick did a good job for Dallas, yielding only six hits, and the first run off him was unearned. The second one was on the up-and-up, however. Dallas got two men on base in the ninth but Fanovich knuckled down and escaped damage.

All the leaders except San Antonio took beatings and Tulsa, walloped by downtrodden Beaumont, 21-16, fell down to sixth place while Fort Worth surged into a tie for fourth with Shreveport.

The Beaumont victory was a fantastic affair. The Exporters slammed 13 runs across the plate in the third inning. Together the two clubs rapped 38 hits with Beaumont getting 24 of them. There were nine extra-base blows. Eight pitchers were used, five of them by Tulsa. Beaumont sent 19 batters to the plate in that 13-run frame.

Fort Worth beat third - place Houston 2-0 behind Carroll Beringer's 4 - hit pitching. Norm Sherry hit a bases-empty home run in the fifth inning and Dick Williams drove in the second run with a single in the sixth.

Oklahoma City knocked Shreveport into a tie with Fort Worth for fourth with a 3-2 victory. It was the sixth straight triumph for Oklahoma City.

Jim Kirk pitched a 4 - hitter and scored the winning run himself in the eight. He got on with a single and tallied on an error by Sport shortstop Joe Joppe.

Three More Sign To Play For Midwestern

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—Signing of a fullback and two ends has brought to 14 the number of football players who have inked letters of intent to attend Midwestern University, head football coach Dick Todd announced yesterday.

The fullback is John Crews, 185, of Childress. Jack Womack, Floydada, and Phillip Earhart, Lefors, both 190, are the ends.

Players who signed letters of intent earlier include ends Arlie Potts of Phillips, Tommy Ohdlein of Levelland, Eugene Collard of Richardson and David Greer of Paris Junior College; backs Larry Lane of Phillips, Mac Freeman of Levelland, John O'Neal of Richardson and Paul Martin of Weatherford; and guards Orville Smith of Pleasant Grove and R. H. Grantom of Wichita Falls.

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away . . . .

Nagging backache, headache, or muscular aches and pains may come on with over-exertion, emotional upsets or day to day stress and strain. And folks who eat and drink unwisely sometimes suffer mild bladder irritation ...with that restless, uncomfortable feeling.

If you are miserable and worn out because of these discomforts, Doan's Pills often help by their pain relieving action, by their soothing effect to ease bladder irritation, and by their mild diuretic action through the kidneys —tending to increase the output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

So if nagging backache makes you feel dragged-out, miserable...with restless, sleepless nights...don't wait...try Doan's Pills... get the same happy relief millions have enjoyed for over 60 years. Get Doan's Pills today!

NATIONAL CHAMP FOR A DAY—Snyder's Bud Morgan demonstrates the form which enabled him to set a new national Junior Olympics record of 13.8 for the 120-yard low hurdles, in Houston Monday. Then he saw his mark fall, as the former national champion and record holder trimmed it to 13.7. The Houston Post termed the event as the most interesting of the two-day meet.

SPORTS

Piersall And Others Unsung Bosox Heroes

BOSTON (AP)—Jim Piersall, Boston's "other outfielder," and the left side of the infield are the unsung men of the Red Sox push to within three games of the American League Lead.

The names in the headlines are those of left fielder Ted Williams, who leads the team in batting with a .340 while playing in 43 of the 98 games, right fielder Jackie Jensen, with 76 runs batted in, and first baseman Norm Zauchin, with 20 home runs.

But it's taken timely singles to enable the Sox to win 37 of their last 48 games too. And the quartet of Piersall, second baseman Billy Goodman, shortstop Billy Klaus and third sacker Grady Hatton have had 'em when they were needed.

Piersall got the hits that beat Cleveland's third-place Indians (two games behind New York) twice in as many days. With the score tied 1-1 Tuesday night, Piersall showed his speed by beating out a high hopper that scored what proved to be the winning run in a 5-1 triumph.

Yesterday his three-run homer put the Sox ahead 3-2 and they went on to a 6-2 victory.

It took injuries to Milt Bolling and Eddie Joost at the start of this season to give Klaus his chance after the Rex Sox purchased him from the American Assn.

His fielding has been sparkling —and his fancy glove work has everybody hustling. Klaus is making plays on balls that would have been hits against other Sox shortstops in recent years.

Hatton is doing some outstanding fielding himself. He is death to curving line drives and slow rollers in his territory. He's known as a clutch man with a bat. Tuesday night his single tied the score 1-1. He scored two runs after singling twice yesterday.

Goodman, the long-time Red Sox handyman with a .310 lifetime average, started off the season with miseries at the plate. But Manager Mike Higgins has kept him at second and he's coming into his own. He reached on two singles, a double and a walk in five chances yesterday.
