Oil Industry In Texas Pins Hope On New Measure

COMPROMISE BILL IS SIGNED AS SPECIAL SESSION WANED

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Aug. 13.—Texas today had a new oil and gas conservation law, on which was pinned the hopes of the oil industry for a reversal of the chaotic conditions of the past several months and for a substantial price recovery.

Moving swiftly in the waning hours of a special session the legislature late yesterday passed a bill to strengthen oil and gas conservation statutes.

Signed By Sterling

The bill, a compromise measure that composed the radical differences between the respective bills of the two houses, became a law a few hours after its passage when it was signed by Governor Ross S. Sterling. It had received more than enough votes in both houses to become effective immediately on the signature of the governor.

Simultaneous with the signature of the bill, C. V. Terrell, chairman of the railroad commission, administrators of the conservation statutes, announced a hearing would be held August 24 at Austin to consider issuance of new orders governing the East Texas field.

The East Texas field has been generally regarded as the thorn in the side of the oil industry and has drawn a major portion of the blame for the collapse of the price structure of both the national and world markets. Low crude oil prices have been attributed to the almost unparalleled and uncontrolled production of hundreds of thousands of barrels dumped on an already groaning market from the mammoth East Texas field, the largest in the world.

Part Of Plan Passed

With the passage of the bill, Governor Sterling succeeded in putting over a half of his conservation program. The other half, that would have provided for an appointive commission of three to administer conservation statutes, was killed in both houses last week.

Passage of the bill, however, did

GUN IN TORCH SLAYINGS IS IDENTIFIED

NEW CLUE IS FOUND IN DEATH OF FOUR IN AUTOMOBILE

(By The Associated Press)

ANN HARBOR, Mich., Aug. 13—A revolver turned over to prosecuting officials by the chief of police of Ysilanti today was identified by police ballistics experts as the gun with which Harry Lore, one of the four young persons slain early Tuesday on a country road near here, was shot to death.

Officials did not reveal where the gun was found. Lieut. Earl O. Stephens, ballistics expert at Detroit, who examined the gun there and compared it with the .38 calibre bullet taken from young Lore's body, said there was no doubt the weapon was the one with which Lore was shot.

Lore's three companions, Thomas Wheatley of Denton, Anna May Harrison and Vivian Gold, both of Cleveland, were slain by blows, an examination revealed. Then their bodies were placed in Wheatley's automobile, soaked with gasoline and set afire.

Finding of the gun was the outstanding clue by which authorities hope to find the slayer or slayers of the four young persons, who ranged in age from 15 to 17.

A roughly dressed man about 30 years old, who was reported seen early Tuesday with the two couples in a restaurant in Milan, and who paid the bill, was sought.

Two hours and a half after the appearance at the restaurant, the bodies were found in the burning automobile, eight miles away.

TOKYO, Aug. 13—Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon, jr., American fliers held for questioning because they allegedly took photographs of fortified areas while flying over Japan, were ordered today by government officials not to leave Tokyo, pending decision of their case, under penalty of imprisonment.

Pangborn and Herndon also were ordered to leave word at their hotel whenever they left it.

The procurator did not say when he would give his decision but an assistant told Herndon it probably would be soon.

PLAN TO PLOW UP COTTON OPPOSED

FOURTEEN SOUTHERN STATES ASKED TO ADOPT PROPOSAL

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—In a drastic effort to restore a fair price for cotton, the farm board has offered to withhold from the market for one year 3,000,000 bales if southern planters destroy a third of the crop under cultivation.

Telegrams were sent late yesterday to governors of fourteen cotton producing states urging adoption of the proposition. Within a short time, reports reaching Washington said the offer was not viewed with favor in many southern regions.

Conference Held

Chairman Stone dispatched the offer after conferring with directors of the American Cotton Cooperative association and the cotton stabilization corporation on the agriculture department's 1931 crop estimate of 15,584,000 bales. The forecast sharply reduced the staple's market price.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 (AP)—Governors of cotton states today were charged by Chairman Stone and Carl Williams, cotton member of the Farm board, with direct responsibility for organizing the suggested campaign to destroy a third of the south's cotton to avert an economic disaster.

If growers plow under every third row under cultivation, Stone said, the American Cooperative association would be asked to withhold 2,000,000 bales. The board, through the stabilization group, holds 1,300,000 bales of the 1929 crop.

Stone said the program, "if fully carried out by southern farmers as well as by ourselves will mean reduction of total supply by at least 4,000,000 bales and withholding from this year's market of 3,000,000 bales more."

The program would be put into effect September 1 and completed

(Special To The Journal)

DALLAS, Aug. 13—Declaring the Texas Cotton Cooperative association "has nothing to fear from sensational accusations made by a former employe of the association," R. J. Murray, general manager, this morning issued a statement in connection with allegations Wednesday by Representative Lawrence Westbrook on the floor of the house at Austin.

The statement follows:

"Nothing New"

"There is nothing new in the attitude shown by Mr. Westbrook toward the former officers of the association and the cotton members of the federal farm board which deserves public interest or discussion, and is largely a personal controversy on the one hand and internal organization matters on the other hand. A fuller legislative inquiry will be welcomed.

"In the meantime, the regular pre-season membership conferences will be utilized to make known to the membership every phase of the organization's business and future plans. WEATHER DELAYS LINDBERGHS' HOP

NOME, Alaska, Aug. 13 (AP)—Lowering clouds and rain today delayed the departure of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, flying vacationers, for the Orient.

Lindbergh said it was "very doubtful" if the take-off for the Siberian coast could be made this morning as planned. The storm and rain continued unabated throughout the night. The unfavorable weather yesterday also prevented a photographer's plane from leaving for the east.

In commenting on the change of their plans, for Lindbergh had announced after arriving here Tuesday afternoon that they "must be on their way" Thursday morning, he said they were in no great hurry and could well await clearer skies for the hazardous 1,067 mile flight from Nome to Karaginsk, across the Bering sea.

LIVES LOST IN EXPLOSION AND FIRE

OTHER WORKERS SAVED FROM GARAGE WHEN ROOF CAVES IN

(By The Associated Press)

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Aug. 13.—Five persons were burned to death shortly after 10:15 a. m. today in a fire and explosion in a garage on the eastern limits of the city.

The fire started from an explosion which occurred as an employe in the rear of the garage poured gasoline or alcohol into the radiator of an automobile, believing it to be water.

Firemen rescued all persons in the rear of the garage and then concentrated their efforts on the front.

There were about 15 persons in the front of the garage. Before all could escape the roof caved in.

Within a half hour firemen had taken five bodies from the building. It was not immediately determined how many others had been burned.

The identities of the victims were not learned.

The garage where the explosion and fire occurred is on U. S. Highway 12 at the eastern limits of the city.

Chiropractors Are Opposed By Regents

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Aug. 13 (AP)—The University of Oklahoma board of regents today had taken a firm stand against the admittance of chiropractors to practice in the university hospital.

It also had pointed out its contention that under the state statutes it has "jurisdiction and control" of the hospital and its policies.

The board's action came late yesterday during a meeting at which Dr. L. J. Moorman, for 21 years a member of the medical school faculty, was selected as acting dean.

He succeeds Dr. S. R. Cunningham, appointed temporarily by Governor W. H. Murray, after Dr. Le Roy Long, had resigned as dean following Governor Murray's order that a chiropractor be admitted to the hospital to treat a patient.

Clouds Hide View Of Meteor Shower

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 (AP)—Overcast skies last night prevented astronomers of the United States naval observatory from viewing the perseids, the shower of cosmic dust through which the earth passes each August.

They will be forced to postpone for another year their efforts to chart the positions of the streaks of light that appear in the night sky when the dust particles are heated to incandesence by the friction of the earth's atmosphere. Officials at the observatory said the best nights for observing the perseids had passed, although the earth will continue to move through the dust cloud until Saturday.

PARDON NOT TO BE GIVEN BY PRESIDENT

FORMER OFFICER MUST SERVE YEAR AND DAY IN PENITENTIARY

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Executive clemency was denied today to Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, serving a sentence of a year and a day for accepting a bribe.

Attorney General Mitchell announced that the application for clemency would not be granted by President Hoover.

The reason for his denial was given that none of the three prosecutors and judges whose opinions were asked on the petition advised clemency.

No Exception Taken

A recent executive order signed by both President Hoover and Attorney General Mitchell provided that "when none of the persons so consulted advises clemency the papers shall not be sent to the president," except in exceptional cases.

"The attorney general said he had determined there was "no reason to make a special order submitting the papers to the president" and thus the plea in behalf of Fall automatically was denied.

Besides the year and a day sentence, Fall was fined $100,000. He began serving his sentence several weeks ago in Santa Fe, N. M.

Submitted By Friends

A brief statement handed to newspaper men by Mitchell today pointed out that the application for clemency had not been made by Fall himself, as is ordinarily required, but had been submitted in his behalf, "by a number of officials and citizens of New Mexico."

It was said this application, nevertheless had been "given the careful and complete consideration required by the rules governing applications for pardon."

The three men who advised against clemency were Justice William Hitz of the District of Columbia court of appeals, who sat in judgment on Fall; Atlee Pomerene, special prosecutor for the government in the oil trials, and Leo A. Rover, U. S. Attorney of the District of Columbia.

SELF-FEEDERS ADVOCATED

EATON PLANNING TO CONFER WITH ALL HOG FEEDERS

Advocating self-feeders for hogs, D. F. Eaton, Lubbock county farm agent, today said he desired to confer with every Lubbock county farmer feeding or expecting to feed hogs.

Experiments conducted at Texas A. & M. college established that grains need not be ground to be fed in self-feeders, that the contrivances eliminate waste, and generally are more economical, he said.

Reasons Given

In a self-feeder, a hog is hurried less and chews instead of gulping his feed, the county agent explained. If fed by hand, the feed should be ground or soaked, as the animal gulps it as he jostles to get his share.

Water, shade and pasturage should be immediately adjacent to the self-feeders, Eaton said, or much of the advantage of the feeder would be lost. Hogs pinned up did not gain proportionately, although

"Hello Baby", But It Wasn't A Baby

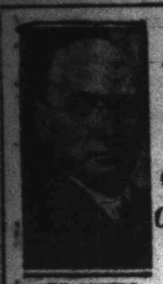

CHICAGO, Aug. 13 (AP)—The police say Frank Beters must revise his social technique.

This became apparent they reported after he had accosted a strange woman with "hello baby."

The woman weighed about 300 pounds. Her reply was a left uppercut. It was a glancing blow, however, and Beters was able to flee. The woman pursued him.

Policemen Mathew Brennan and Fred Kreuger, in an automobile witnessed the affair and overtook Beters, holding him until the woman arrived, whereupon she hit him again.

"But the lady," said officer Brennan, "went away without giving her name. She explained that her husband was jealous and might smash his way into jail for the purpose of homicide."

Doctor Myers' Daily Column On Child Welfare

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

JEALOUSY

Often I read and hear from parents of the child who is stubborn or disobedient or does not get on at school, when nearly always one or several other children are described as wholly different, giving them no trouble. In a family of several children there is no general problem more frequent. Sometimes the parent adds, about the troublesome child, "And he sometimes says he does not think we like him as much as—".

There's the clue. Upon further inquiry the parent will nearly always say, "We have always tried to treat them exactly alike." If one suggests jealousy, one is told that no such thing could be.

In the first place, we parents should know that no matter what we think, what the child believes is for him so. Secondly, we should realize that no matter how conscientiously we try to be impartial, no two children in the family are treated the same. It is not humanly possible to be entirely impartial, except in theory. Indeed, it is possible that the child whom we think our favorite supposes us to like him less than another child. That child, moreover, who had for some reason got more attention from us than another may, on receiving less of it, feel very jealous.

Of course, we will not consciously compare one child with another, nor hold one up as a model for another, however tempted we may be to do so. Nevertheless, we can hardly keep from suggesting comparison by our looks or movements. Knowing these facts, we, of course, will be on guard so as to do as little harm as possible. One child is so stubborn or so disobedient, or so careless, or so indifferent, or so poor a pupil often, just because another is so co-operative, so obedient, so careful, so alert or so successful a student. The moment one childs gets fewer approvals or more punishments he is likely to believe himself less loved than the other children. As he is punished more he grows more jealous, doing more things to be punished more, to feel more jealous, causing him to do more bad things and so on in the same unfortunate direction. In this manner one child of the family with a few dark spots may grow to be the black sheep.

In such an instance we are puzzled. We do not want the good child to grow worse; we are glad that he is so lovable and gets along so well at school. Nor can we condone the evil conduct in the bad one. But in our effort to meet our problem we may do more harm than good. Our task is to let the better child go on succeeding and to help the other one to learn more successes, win more satisfactions and approvals.

We shall learn ways of helping this child do more things which he can do well, and then we shall be generous with praise. We shall take our friends into our confidence, persuading them not to pay so much attention to the more winsome, more successful child, and to lose no opportunity to reward the smallest improvement in the other child. We shall work on ourselves, to be less easily annoyed by him, overlooking small things but holding him to good standards in respect to major problems. We shall engineer his environment so as to keep him more often out of trouble making fewer commands, so we will less often feel called upon to disapprove or punish him.

BURNS CHOSEN BY PIONEERS

EARLY SETTLERS OF COUNTY GATHER IN ANNUAL REUNION

R. C. ("Rollie") Burns, Plains pioneer and one of the founders of Lubbock, Wednesday afternoon was elected as president of the Lubbock Pioneers association at its seventh annual reunion at the Panhandle-South Plains fairgrounds.

Visitors who were early day settlers here gathered with residents of all parts of the county to relive the events of days past.

Mr. Burns came to the Plains in 1881 and to Lubbock in 1888. He succeeds P. B. Penney who served as president during the year that is closing. Mr. Penney came to Lubbock in 1894.

J. D. Caldwell, who came to Lubbock in 1886, was elected vice-president and Miss Blanche Bean was elected secretary-treasurer to succeed Bob Crump of Shallowater.

Membership Is Same

Membership in the association remains at 25 years, although there was a suggestion at the Wednesday meeting to make a change in this law. Frank Wheelock proposed that the membership be opened to those who have lived in Lubbock for 20 years and who are 50 years of age. Members defeated this proposal in a vote. The association is now open to those who were living in Lubbock 25 years or more ago and to families of these people.

About 250 gathered under a shed at the fair grounds at the meeting this year. The afternoon was spent in reminiscences and the renewal of acquaintanceships. In the late evening, a picnic lunch was spread. Basket lunches were brought, while barbecue and son-of-a-gun were prepared on the grounds by a committee headed by Ed Meredith.

Old Timers There

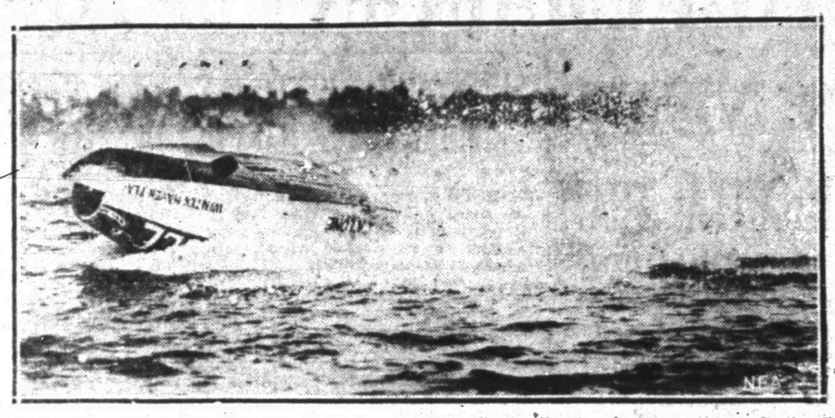

Among those who were at the meeting yesterday were the earliest settlers on the Plains. Bud Smith, who came to the Plains in 1874 and to Lubbock in 1900, was up from his ranch near Slaton to attend the meeting again. Among the others who came here in the early days were Mr. Burns and Mrs. George R. Bean, who came to the Plains in 1881 and later to Lubbock. Others in attendance who were here before 1890 were Joe Boyd, Albert Taylor of Muleshoe, Mrs. George Wolffarth, B. O. McWhorter, Mrs. W. A. Bacon, A. G. Hunt, C. E. Hunt, Garza Burns, George C. Wolffarth, Mrs. George Boles, Frank Wheelock.

Many others who were in the crowd were on the Plains or in Lubbock by 1900. Children and grandchildren of the pioneers swelled the crowd.

Among those who were in attendance from out of town were Mrs. Eva Outhouse of Witt, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dalton of Mineral Wells, Mrs. C. O. Collins of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Belcher of North Texas, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barclay of Las Cruces, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Doyle and family of Kingman, Kans., Mr. and Mrs. Albert Taylor, Mrs. E. W. Estes, Miss Rebecca Estes and G. B. Estes of Monahans.

Although there was little in the way of a program, Frank Wheelock made a talk, George R. Bean presided for the business session and J. T. Magee offered the invocation.

Bottoms Up!

Malcolm Pope, dare-devil outboard motorboat racer, isn't at all upset by the capsizing of his craft, the Cyclone. For it has been built with a special covered deck which allows it to roll over in the water while traveling at high speed. This spectacular picture shows the maneuver being executed purposedly on Lake Manhassett, Long Island. A sharp twist of the rudder threw the boat on its back in a whirl of spray, as you see it here. Pope, strapped safely in his cockpit, came up smiling.

Forfeiture Of Bond Is Sought In Suit

Forfeiture of a $250-bond posted for H. E. Smyer, who failed to appear in county court last January 5 for trial on an aggravated assault charge, is sought in a suit filed by the state against Smyer and his bondsmen Wednesday in county court.

Approved December 12, 1930, the bond is signed by Smyer, N. L. Green, and J. L. Sawyer.

REMOVE CANNON'S LEGAL BARRIERS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 (AP)—The legal obstacle that Bishop James Cannon, jr., recently placed in the way of the senate campaign funds committee's inquiry into complaints he violated the federal corrupt practices act in 1928, was removed Wednesday.

Justice Cox in the District of Columbia supreme court dismissed the Southern Methodist churchman's petition for an order restraining the committee from further investigation into his political activities.

Unless some action is taken against Bishop Cannon soon, he can not be prosecuted on charges of violating election laws in 1928, when he threw all his influence against Alfred E. Smith, Democratic nominee. The statute of limitations expires in September although there is some question as to the exact date.

In the absence of the bishop, who sailed several weeks ago for Europe, his attorneys, R. H. McNeill and H. W. Winburn, argued today the senate investigation was a persecution and that the committee was attempting to assume functions of a grand jury.

After listening to several hours of argument, Justice Cox said the petition failed to show the committee's inquiry into the Virginia campaign exceeded its authority.

A federal building and postoffice costing $130,000 is to be built at Sweetwater on a site purchased seventeen years ago for that purpose.

WHAT ARE THE HOLES FOR?

Transverse holes pierce the tread of this tire entirely through. At each revolution the tire breathes — a forced draft of air expels the internal heat that prematurely destroys ordinary tires and keeps the holes of the tire shiny clean regardless of the road, sand, gravel, clay or mud. These holes provide also the air cushion in the very tread of the tire itself.

To let the tire breathe.

Why should a tire breathe?

Because as it breathes—cooling, refreshing air—it throws off—destructive heat, keeps lively, cool and strong, and rides with floating ease through three anti-skid lives instead of one.

BEAUMONT DEFEATS HOUSTON TO REMAIN IN PLAYOFF SERIES

HUBBERS LOSE; TO MEET GIRLS NEXT

WYATT WINNER OVER DEAN IN DUEL

TIE WILL RESULT IF EXPORTERS WIN IN GAME TONIGHT

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The tradition that a man may be down but never out holds true for baseball clubs. Until last night the Beaumont Exporters were two down and almost out to the Houston Buffaloes in their battle for the first half pennant. Today, the Exporters are only one down and very much on the up and coming as a result of their 2 to 0 victory in the fourth game of the series. And just to make it sweeter, the Exporters regained their pennant feet by sweeping aside Jerome "Dizzy" Dean, the young fellow who has won 22 Texas league games this season and leads the league in strikeouts with 225. The fifth game of the series will be played tonight in Beaumont. If the Exporters win, the series will stand at two-all with a sixth game necessary. The second game of the series was a 15-inning 4 to 4 tie.

Wyatt Turns Trick

The good right arm of Whitlow John Wyatt turned aside the Houston offense last night. Wyatt, sent to the Exporters by Detroit a month ago to get his arm in condition, proved that his salary wing is in fair working order by stopping the Buffaloes cold. Until Wyatt stopped Houston, the Buffaloes had won 20 of their last 22 games, and the 2 to 0 defeat last night terminated their consecutive winning streak at 11.

The game was runless until the first of the ninth. With two out, Tommy Hughes beat out an infield hit down the first base line. He raced to second when Sturdy tossed wild to Dean on the play, the pitcher covering first. Paul "Pound 'Em" Easterling strolled up there and walloped Dean's first pitch into the right center field crowd for a double, scoring Tommy Hughes. Ray Fritz followed with a double into the right field crowd, scoring Easterling.

Allows Four Hits

Wyatt had a superb night against the second half league leaders. He limited them to four hits and struck out 9. It was a spectacular mound duel, however, for the estimated crowd of 13,385 saw Dean strike out 12 and pitch a game that would have won under most any ordinary conditions. It was Wyatt's 8th victory in 7 starts.

The Fort Worth Cats picked up a full game on the second place Dallas Steers with a 13-inning decision over Wichita Falls, 5 to 4. Dick Whitworth and Bob Cooney tied up in a mound duel in which both allowed plenty of hits but managed to keep them from coming in the pinches.

Double Hero

Whitworth was a double hero. His mound performance kept Wichita Falls from scoring after the sixth inning, and in the 13th frame, it was Whitworth who slid across home plate with the winning run on Jimmy Dalrymple's double to center. Two were out when Whitworth scored the winning run. It was Whitworths' 14th victory this season.

The Dallas Steers lost valuable second place ground when they dropped the opening series game to Shreveport, 5 to 4. Shreveport committed 8 errors in the first five innings to give Dallas a 4 to 1 lead, but after this, the Sports settled down and rallied enough to triumph. A three-run stampede in the seventh spoiled Dallas' chance for victory. The Sports outhit their opponents 9 to 5.

Andy Bednar uncovered a six-hit game last night to give his Galveston Buccaneers a 3 to 2 verdict over San Antonio. Hobo Caron, San Antonio mound ace with 16 victories this season, was pounded for 10 hits by the Buccaneers.

AMERICAN LEGION FINALS REACHED

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 13 (AP)—Texas and Arkansas junior baseball champions will play Oklahoma and Louisiana winners respectively here today in the first round of the American legion sixth region finals.

With two Southern association umpires in charge Austin, Texas, champions, will meet Ada, Oklahoma, champions at 1:30 p. m. Conway, Arkansas, winners will meet the Jesuits Post team of New Orleans thirty minutes after this game.

The sixth region champion will enter a playoff with other western region winners later for the western championship and the right to meet the eastern champion in October in the "world series."

A full blooded Choctaw Indian, Charley Britt, who has pitched 25 games without a loss, is to play on the Ada team.

10,000 GATE CRASHERS

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., (AP)—Crashing the gate is not confined to ball parks. A report on grade crossing accidents released here shows 10,000 motorists crashed into the black and white striped bars that are lowered at crossings during the year 1930. In many cases the motorists were killed.

SPYING ON SPORTS
BY COLLIER PARRIS

The Fort Worth Cats have given up the ghost so far as a Texas League pennant in 1931 is concerned and are ready to dispense with valuable players in order to come out of the red. The first sale took away Lu Stoner, who is becoming one of the best-travelled players in baseball. He went to Newark of the International League and was significant of the attitude the Cat bosses have toward winning the pennant.

The Cats probably will sell several other star players before the season is over. The sale of Stoner was about the only thing left to do because Fort Worth stood in danger of losing him via the draft route, the Panther city being just another farm so far as the big boys are concerned. Well, about four other clubs might as well get rid of their stars and let Houston and Dallas and Beaumont rest through the remainder of the season. Nothing like giving up.

Baseball depression? Not much. The Giants made a trade the other day whereby they will have the services of Leonard Koenecke, slugging outfielder of the Indianapolis American Association team. The price asked for Koenecke was $75,000, just a pittance, of course, but $75,000 nevertheless. The strange part of the deal, however, was the request by the Indianapolis officials that no cash be turned, but that $75,000 worth of Giants be handed to the A. A. club instead. So next spring, Mister McGraw, the umpire's pal, will look over his stuff, pick out $75,000 worth of promising Giants and ship them over to Indianapolis.

We haven't been informed of anything of the sort being accomplished but it looks like a good time for the scheduling of football games between some of the schools represented at the Tech coaching school this week. Coaches usually have little to do with the carding of games, particularly college and university coaches, but a number of business executives are here and they are probably talking over things that may lead to important games. D. W. Carlton, business manager of athletics at Texas A. & M. college, Doc Blackwell of S. M. U., Dr. Gaylord Johnson of Rice and Ed Olle of the University of Texas are men here who have the power to talk about schedules. It would be a good time, it seems, for Tech officials to talk about some games down the line.

Tech has a good schedule for 1931 but indications are that it will be better in 1932. Nearly all of the big games, such as Baylor, Haskell and Simmons, will be played away from home this fall but next year Baylor comes here and there is the strong possibility that Notre Dame will send a team here next year. It probably will not be the varsity but the Irish 'B' team is about all if not more than the Matadors will be able to entertain. Coach Pete Cawthon and Assistant Dutchey Smith of Tech have indicated that after the coaching school is over this week they may be ready to announce other important games on the 1932 card.

And speaking of writing of football and schedules for 1931 we are reminded by a pamphlet and by personal interview that plans are complete for the big Texas invasion of Boston on October 24. We have had frequent communications from W. H. (Bill) Hitzelberger, manager of the Texas-Harvard football special trains that will run this fall, and Fred B. Caylor of Lubbock has offered personal interviews with persons in this section who wish to take advantage of the pleasantly low rates to the east and back.

You may board a special train at almost any point in the state and make the trip to Boston and New York, staying until November 18, for as low as $130. This price includes pullman, meals, bus fares, theater tickets and football tickets. For further information you may call us at this office or get in touch with Mr. Caylor at the Hilton hotel or write Governor Bill Murray.

Those baseball gals will be here tomorrow ready for a two-game engagement with the Hubbers. The first game will start at 8:30 tomorrow night at Merrill Park and the second will be played at the same time Saturday night. These games should draw the largest baseball attendance of the current season and grandstand seats probably will be at a premium. Our advice is to come out early. A pepp

Coaching School Pays Tribute To Rockne At Fete

TWO HUNDRED ATTEND BANQUET GIVEN BY LUBBOCK C.-C.

In the midst of scholastic enterprises and banquet festivities two hundred coaches from 24 states, pupils of Jimmy Phelan and his staff of instructors in the Texas Tech coaching school, paused last night to pay tilent tribute to the master of them all, the late Knute Rockne of Notre Dame, described by his followers and co-workers as the greatest exponent of football.

Following the regular routine of coaching classes and field demonstrations yesterday, the coaches met at a local hotel as guests of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce last night at a banquet, R. C. (Dick) Smith was toastmaster. Short addresses by outstanding visitors at the coaching school were made and general discussions followed the main events at the board last night.

Rockne Praised

Jimmy Phelan, instructor of football courses this week, a former pupil of Rockne, paid high tribute to his old master for his part in developing and protecting the game of football. "Rock" was the lone defender of the game during his lifetime, the University of Washington mentor said.

Silent Vote Taken

A resolution, prepared by a committee composed of Clyde Littlefield of the University of Texas, Matty Bell of Texas A. and M. college, and Jack Meagher of Rice Institute, was read by Littlefield and was adopted by those attending the banquet by a brief, silent rising vote.

The resolution, which is to be sent to Mrs. Rockne, follows in part:

"We realize in the death of Rock that football has lost its best and dearest friend—a man who was the ideal of the virile, masculine manhood of the country. He represented the finest and best traditions of the game of football. Because of his modesty and unselfishness, and his other sterling qualities, not only the coaches, but all of the American people took him to their hearts. He represented the ideal of American manhood. He demonstrated in his life that sportsmanship, self-sacrifice, hard work and faith in his fellow man are the paths to success.

"Through our association and contact with him in coaching schools he has placed a stamp on us that is invaluable. We always will respect and honor the man and cherish the name—Knute Rockne."

Several Speakers Heard

Among the other speakers were Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of Texas Technological college; C. E. Maedgen, president of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, W. S. Posey, Roscoe Wilson, and Pete Cawthon, coach of Texas Technological college, all of Lubbock, Jimmy Kitts of Athens, Texas; Jack Meagher, coach, Rice Institute, Houston; Joe Bailey Chaney, coach, Howard Payne college, Brownwood; Matty Bell, coach, Texas A. and M.; "Clipper" Smith, coach, University of Santa Clara; Bill Dimmitt, Beaumont; Ed Olle, University of Texas; Clyde Littlefield, head coach, University of Texas; S. D. Burton, coach, West Texas State Teachers college, Canyon.

Yesterday's program at the college class rooms and laboratories consisted of a lecture in the morning by Phelan, a special basketball demonstration in the afternoon and a period of practical football work on Matador field late in the afternoon.

Phelan in his lecture completed the initial discussions of individual players and positions in the line, dealing particularly with the wings, and followed up with demonstrations on the field using uniformed men to illustrate his points.

S. D. Burton of West Texas Teachers college used a number of his all-T. I. A. A. stars in practical floor work at the gymnasium yesterday afternoon, demonstrating his defensive tactics against the charges of Jimmie Kitts of Athens High. Today the work will be resumed with the Canyon Buffs taking the offensive.

Phelan's lecture this morning dealt with work of backfield men, their positions and their assignments. He will illustrate his theories in today's field work.

pery infield workout is sometimes as interesting as a ball game, anyway, and you always miss this if you don't come early. There will be no increase in admission prices.

RACE POSTPONED

GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 13 (AP)—After two successive postponements, the prospects seemed slim today that the third attempt to hold the sixth running of America's highest light harness racing stake, the $60,000 Hambletonian would be successful. Continued wet and cold weather last night brought few signs of improvement to the muddy track at Good Time park and it was expected that the race would be put over again until tomorrow.

WICHITA TEAM COMING HERE TOMORROW

LITTLEFIELD WINS IN GAME WITH LOCALS LAST NIGHT

Although they collected thirteen safe hits off Pitcher Moore the Hubbers of Lubbock lacked the scoring punch last night and the Littlefield baseball team won a medium fair game, 6 to 1, on the Merrill Park field. Dickey for Lubbock limited the visitors to nine, hits but they came where they could do the most good and Moore's third attempt against Lubbock proved successful.

It had been reported that Willis Knight, former ace of the Hubber mound staff, would chunk for Littlefield but game time found the burly one at the initial sack where he played only a fair game until the ninth when he went in to strike out two Hubmen and close out the inning without a score.

Girls' Team Next

Tomorrow night the Hubbers meet a strange crew with the coming of the Goldsmith D. & M. girls' team of Wichita, Kansas. Reports from the Kansas metropolis, where the star girl athletes have gathered from several states in the formation of one of the outstanding feminine clubs of the country, has it that the ladies had heard of Lubbock's Hubbers and sought to meet them in a nine-inning combat. They play the first of a series of two games on the Merrill lot tomorrow night, beginning at 8:30, and remain over Saturday for the second game Saturday night.

Composed entirely of girls, the reports have it, this team plays the best semi-pro clubs of the country, is scheduled to meet in fifty games on the present tour, and has a reputation for winning. "Lefty" Langford, until recently one of Dallas' star girl athletes, is one of the leading hurlers of the team and will pitch one of the games here, playing at shortstop or in the outfield in the other.

Changes Not Successful

Last night's game saw Manager Waller sending men to importunat posts who were new to the Hubber lineup and the result was not pleasing to Hubber fans. Moore was touched for numerous hits and not an inning passed but that at least one Hubber got on base, either by hit or error. Moore refused to grant passes last night.

Littlefield scored in the first, second and fifth, getting three runs in the latter when Dixon tripled to score Ballard and Hanks who had been dusted off and who singled in succession.

The Hubbers tallied their lone score in the third when Red Gaither singled, went to second on Knight's fumble and stole third coming in on Crites' single.

"SUNNY JIM" BOTTOMLEY BACK ON JOB WITH CARDS AND MEANS TO HOLD POST DESPITE COMPETITION OF ROOKIE

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

A season or two ago Sunny Jim Bottomley was the slugging idol of St. Louis fandom. A brilliant first baseman and an effective hitter, he had things almost his own way with the crowds. Then he went in an an almost total eclipse as a slip in his batting was followed this season with the rise of the Rochester recruit, Jim Collins, and "Sunny Jim" became a bench warmer.

But Bottomley is back on the job now and he apparently means to hold it. He didn't get into action until a week ago when Collins was hurt but since then he has been playing with all his old time dash and hitting harder than ever. In nine games since his return to action Bottomley has made 17 hits, climaxing his swatting spree last Wednesday when he rapped out six straight in the second half of a doubleheader.

"Sunny Jim" was right in there back of Jess Haines and Flint Rhem yesterday to help the Cardinals take a double victory over the Brooklyn Robins. In the first clash he hit a home run and two singles and he added a triple in the second. Aided by this clouting, the Cardinals won the opener 5 to 0 as Haines turned in an eleven-hit shutout then poundeed out an 8 to 5 triumph in the second game although Johnny Frederick hit two homers and Lefty O'Doul one.

The double victory enabled the Cards to remain 8½ games ahead of the Chicago Cubs, who went into second place by winning two from the Phillies. The Cubs had to go ten innings before they hammered Sheriff Blake from the mound with five runs to win the first 7 to 3, but the second was easy as they piled up 18 hits to win, 12-1.

The New York Giants slid back to third when they could get no better than an even break with Pittsburgh's Pirates. Remy Kremer checked all the Giants except Mel Ott in the first clash and Pittsburgh won, 6 to 4. Ott drove in three of the Giant runs with two homers. He hit another four sacker in the second game while Bill Walker held the Pirates to three hits for a 9 to 0 triumph. The doubleheader between Cincinnati and Boston was rained out.

The New York Yankees and Cleveland Indians supplied the American league program with some comedy but they each managed to gain a half game on Philadelphia and Washington by splitting a twin bill.

New York piled up 18 hits behind Lefty Gomes' effective pitching to win the first slugfest 18 to 1 but the Indians made 13 hits good for 17 runs in the second and won out 17 to 7 as Sarge Connally checked an early New York assault.

Philadelphia's Athletics and Washington's Senators each lost a game. George Earnshaw failed to hold an early Philadelphia lead and Detroit finally won by a 7-6 count in the 12th inning. Washington went down in the regulation time before Vic Frasier and the Chicago White Sox. Frasier held the Senators to six hits while the Sox, after 22 scoreless innings pounded Crowder, Hadley, Fischer and Liska for 17 hits and an 11 to 1 triumph.

Boston's Red Sox made it two straight over the St. Louis, 6 to 5.

Dawson County Tax Rate Is Unchanged

By Staff Correspondent

LAMESA, Aug. 13.—The Dawson County Commissioner's court this week decided on the same tax rate for 1931 as the county had for 1930, Judge Philip Yonge, county judge, announced at the close of the regular meeting Tuesday.

"Our rate this year will be 73 cents on the $100 valuation," Judge Yonge announced. "We decided not to change the rate, although the valuations are about $150,000 lower."

Valuations this year are $6,586,000, Judge Yonge said.

SUCCESS SEEN IN SHUTDOWN

SOONER OIL COMPANY OFFERS TO PAY $1 FOR CRUDE OIL

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 13 (AP)—The first definite sign of success looms in Governor W. H. Murray's fight for a price of $1 a barrel for crude oil.

Eight days after the governor had shut down flush wells in the state, and had called out national guardsmen to enforce the order, one refining company late yesterday advised Governor Murray it was in need of crude and would pay $1 a barrel to obtain it from wells now closed.

The offer was made by Rex H. Winget, on behalf of the Cushing Refining and Gasoline Co., of which he is secretary and general manager. Governor Murray told Winget he was leaving for Texas today and asked the oil man to return, Monday.

The governor, it was said at his office today, expects other companies to pay $1 per barrel for oil within the next week.

Earlier in the day, Governor Murray had flayed what he termed "propaganda to scare me" in his martial law shutdown of flush pools and intimated there might be "such a thing as the state taking charge of pipeline companies.

Usually it isn't automobiles which kill people.

More often it's RECKLESSNESS.

This means that thousands of lives CAN be saved, if people will take the trouble to save them.

Will you join in a great national crusade to save lives . . . to make our streets and highways safer? Thought For Today

And his mercy is on them that fear him from generation to generation.—St. Luke 1:50.

Mercy turns her back to the unmerciful.—Quarles.

Not Quite Accurate

The expressions we use in everyday speech are often rather inexact.

A few days ago the papers told of an accident at a Pennsylvania camp for poor children.

A young man had taken seven youngsters out into a lake in a boat. Through some accident or other the boat was upset. None of the seven children could swim. The young man managed to keep all seven of them afloat, however, until another boat could come out and take them aboard.

Then, because there was no room for him in the rescue boat, he set out to swim ashore; but his work of saving the children had exhausted him, and he drowned before help could reach him.

The headlines, naturally enough, reported that he had "lost his life"; and when you stop to think about it you will find that there is something a little bit inexact about that expression.

Most of us are generally more or less confused about the underlying purpose that is concealed back of being born and living and dying. We have grown a bit shaky on some of the old certainties, and we sometimes have a hard time trying to figure out why we are here and where we are going. But there is one point on which men of all times and places have been able to agree.

Whatever life and death may mean, humanity has concluded that the man who gives up his life for the sake of someone else has put himself in harmony with the spirit and the plan that are above and beyond the things of the visible world. He has not, in any real sense of the word, "lost" his life; he has paid it out voluntarily to serve another, and it is impossible to believe that he has really lost anything worth keeping by his action.

So, with this lad in Pennsylvania, who died in order that seven children might live—has he, really, "lost his life"? Has he not, rather, gained something; something more than most of us will ever gain, though we live to be eighty?

Baking Square Pies

Members of the Ohio Bakers association, convening at Toledo recently, are discussing plans for the baking of square pies. This, they say, would make it possible for more pies to be baked in one oven and would result in welcome economies.

Consumers of pie really ought to get behind the movement, too. The square pie is really not new. There have been rural housewives in various parts of the country who have baked square pies for years; and anyone who has ever eaten one will testify to the advantages which the square pie offers.

The real pie enthusiast knows that the tastiest part of the pie is the knobby, flaky portion where upper and lower crusts are joined together; and in the square pie there is just about twice as much of this as in the round one. If the bakers are going to promote square pies, pie-eaters will be owing them a vote of thanks.

Bridgeless Gap

Although prices of raw materials continue to drop, prices of finished manufactures do not keep pace with them, and until they do prosperity will not return. This is the warning issued in the current Business Conditions Weekly of the Alexander Hamilton Institute, which asserts that purchasing power cannot return to normal until the price gap between raw materials and manufactures is bridged.

Just at present this gap is at its widest point. The Weekly points out that "raw material prices in June were 34.9 per cent below the peak in 1929, whereas finished goods prices showed a decrease of only 24.3 per cent."

Banks may fail in a great many ways, but not at calling overdrafts.

THEY'RE telling a story on Jimmy Phalen, the Washington coach and instructor at Doctor Peter Cawthon's coaching school, which may or may not be true. But anyway, it's a good story.

According to the yarn, Mr. Phalen, former Notre Dame star and as Irish as Paddy's pig, sought to purchase a certain building lot and upon investigation discovered that the lot belonged to a Jewish rabbi. He went around to the rabbi's home and was greeted by the latter's secretary.

"I want to see the rabbi", the coach declared in his finest Celtic brogue.

"Vat's the name, pliz?" asked the secretary.

"Phalen's the name", the Washington coach declared and the secretary disappeared, going into the rabbi's private quarters.

"Vat did you say the gent's name is?" the rabbi asked his secretary.

"Phalen, is it", the secretary said.

"Vell", returned the Semite, "tell him I have vent out. There's absolutel nutting no rabbi can do for him!"

BELIEVE it or not, but if present economic conditions have forced a shortage of business in all lines it has also forced a shortage of certain kinds of news. One would not think, perhaps, from surface observation, that the widely publicized 'repression' could extend to the happenings of the day but it has and the fact is readily discernable to the harness newspapermen.

The depression has increased front page financial and business news because it has made the average newspaper reader conscious of the importance of such news.

But by the same token it has decreased market page financial and business volume, largely because of the slump in trading.

THE depression has increased the amount of crime news. During the present business slump—which has admittedly placed many people 'on edge'—there has also been an increase in suicide news. Foreign news has again become more important—more important, probably, than it has been at any time before or since the world war, because of unrest brought about by world economic ills. But the everyday run of news, such as was once found upon every side and read with casual interest, has fallen off if The Plainsman is reading the news reports correctly.

Building news is scant—so are reports of large business transactions. People are not making many improvements upon their homes or business properties and generally speaking, they are not doing anything much but 'holding on'—waiting the return of the day when it is possible to forecast the events of the week ahead.

As a result of these conditions the newspaper reader—although he may not realize it—is being daily treated to a different dish and his tastes have changed to meet it.

WHERE the reader once mainly gave his attention to events in his own home town, nearby sections or states, today he reads about Japan and Germany as readily as he used to pore over domestic reports. A news story from Denmark is likely to be received with as much interest today as a story from California was accepted several years ago.

In other words, although the depression has affected the news reports in one way, it has broadened the average reader's scope of interest.

Speaking of the way the 'repression' is changing our lives, it is reported that it is even changing our colloquialisms and our general methods of conversing.

The other afternoon a Lubbock woman was enjoying a siesta when her door bell buzzed. She peeked out and saw a man at the door.

Poking her head into the front room she called out:

"I can't come in there right now—I'm not dressed. Walk in and take a chair".

"Thanks, lady", the man returned, "but I don't want no chair—I came after the radio!"

WELL, well—dear old Texas is finally becoming effete (if that's the way to spell it.) It won't be long now until our delegates to eastern conventions will have to forego the pleasure and time-honored privilege of dressing themselves in chaps, ten gallon hats and other wild western garments. They won't be able to fool our eastern cousins any longer.

The reason for the change was slap-bang on the front page of yesterday's Journal—the story from Dallas telling about a booze truck being hijacked. Some bold, bad bandits 'stuck up' a $5,000 load of fancy licker and in true Chicago and New York style, pistol-whipped the rum-runners before making off with the loot.

NO longer can our friends from the middlewest and east place Texas in the 'rough and ready' category! No longer will they be permitted to vision us as 'horned men of the wide open spaces'!

Apparently, we are just as nice and just as well mannered as they are—and this yarn from Dallas proves beyond a doubt that we're raising booze barons who transact their business in the most accepted fashion!

Wickersham Commission Reports Police So Busy Handling Traffic Problems That Large Sections Are Not Patroled

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Automobiles, so important in the American economic system and recognized by the average citizen in his conception of proper living standards, are a big factor in the prevalence of unprevented crime.

DUTCHER

Not only because criminals of all types—even including "gamblers, prostitutes, bootleggers and narcotic peddlers"—use them in their business, but also because, the Wickersham commission asserts in its report on police, that traffic problems and duties have increased so rapidly that there is a general lack of adequate patrol service in cities throughout the country.

Traffic difficulties are becoming more serious and automobile accidents more frequent, according to the commission experts, who cite a National Safety Council record to compare our 12,000 homicides last year with 32,500 deaths on the public highways and approximately 1,000,000 injuries in automobile accidents.

"That this number will increase in proportion to the number of vehicles in use on the highways and the number of miles traveled can not be doubted by any person who has studied traffic statistics," it is declared. "From present indications there is reason to believe that there will be greater use of streets in the future with a constant increase in the death curve."

The police will find it increasingly necessary to approach the problem, first, through engineering principles, then education, and finally, "without too much emphasis, through appropriate enforcement methods. But meanwhile:

"Traffic problems have increased so rapidly that most of the executives' times and all of the time of a very large proportion of the force is used to keep the traffic moving and without too much congestion along the city streets.

"As a result, large sections of a community are without police patrol, and in three of the large cities surveys have shown that there were no policemen on sections outside of the business districts between the hours of 8 a. m. and 4 p. m. To some extent this condition prevails throughout the United States."

But hundreds of scientific men have been studying traffic for years and disagree as to the solution of the perplexing problem, the report says. Traffic rule enforcement is ineffective unless it is accompanied by both engineering and education. It is pointed out that the Hoover Conference on Traffic, composed of experts from every activity touching the automotive and transportation field, "is still struggling along hoping to find an answer for some of the many difficulties presented by increased congestion on streets and highways, due to the increasing use of automobiles."

Motor cars present still another problem to many police forces, for although larger cities usually supply automobiles to their police in "countless numbers" of small forces of one to 10 men, in sheriffs' offices and many of the small state police units the policeman must supply his own.

Forced to buy this and other equipment, a policeman borrows money, often $500 or $600 and often from politicians, and "he must do his job with halter around his neck of which he may never clear himself." The Wickersham experts say this initial debt frequently leads an officer into graft.

Each and every town, it is concluded, should furnish all its police equipment.

ACCIDENTS

Interesting studies have been made in large industrial plants to discover whether accidents happen more frequently to some people than to others.

Dr. Clendening

Everyone probably knows of some person who appears to be constitutionally unlucky about accidents. A person who is always falling upstairs or tripping over rugs or running needles into the fingers, or hitting the thumb with a hammer.

Well, it appears that these people are deficient in "aestheto-kinetic co-ordination." Whatever that means! It does mean something and an attempt will be made to explain it. In the meantime the accident receivers will be happy to know that the tests show that the higher intellectual processes are not deficient, that indeed the reasoning powers are somewhat higher in those who are prone to accidents.

Studies have been made in several plants by keeping careful tabulation of the number of accidents each worker has in the course of a year. Naturally most of the repeating accidents are of a minor character. One man had 34 in a year, while workers close to him had none. The average number of accidents was 1.4 per worker. But 68 men had more than 6 accidents each.

The cause seems to be constitutional in some personalities. Tests show that these people do not respond to new situations with rapid muscular response. They were tested by having a special sense—sight and hearing—stimulated in a certain way as a signal to perform varying muscular movements. For instance, if a green light flashes to stop the machine, and if a bell rings, they are to slow the machine's speed. The time between the signal and the required movement was measured. In those prone to accident it was longer than in the others.

That is what is meant by poor aestheto-kinetic co-ordination.

This is subject, however, to training, and the frequent accident victim is hereby warned to take a course in efficient aestheto-kinetic co-ordinating.

Another trait of these people is not so easy to overcome. It is temperamental instability, determined by testing for ocular balance, tremor and various nervous reflexes.

Those who passed the two kinds of tests satisfactorily had an accident rate 48 per cent less than those who did not pass.

Answer: No.

CURE FOR CROSS-EYES

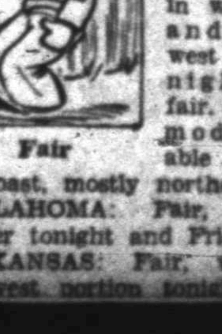

A mechanical means of correcting crossed-eyes has been devised by Dr. E. E. Maddox, of Bournmouth, Eng. The doctor says that many of the more incurable cases of squint are due to the persistence of the infantile inability to co-ordinate the movements of the two eyes, and his apparatus is designed to discourage the tendency of each eye to focus by itself instead of in partnership with the other eye. The new instrument is called the cheiroscope, taking its name from two Greek words which mean "hand" and "look". The principle which it employs is the use of the hand of the squinter to educate his squinting eye, imitating the natural process of infancy in which the hand and eye mutually perfect their training by trial and error. The new device is similar in some respect to the familiar stereoscope, but the cheiroscope is tipped so that the lenses are above a horizontal tray surface which replaces the picture carrier. The child looks down upon the tray and a vertical plane divides the field of vision.

An Arkansas jury refused to return a verdict before receiving its fees. You might say justice not only is not blind but has excellent foresight.

Aviators seem to be flying everywhere this summer, even off the handle.

Twelve hundred pounds of Bermuda onions were produced on one-fifteenth of an acre at Snyder where onion growing is gaining in favor and volume.

IN NEW YORK with Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (AP)—This is the season when Broadway leaps over its ordinary borders and flows in all directions, like a Mississippi flood.

While gaudy night-club entrances gather cobwebs, the summer editions of these spots may be found glittering along the Long Island highways.

And the hundred-and-one summer colonies that lure the heat-weakened city dwellers are offering headline attractions that would stagger the most hardy bright-lights producers. It is as though some Titan had dropped a hundred or more famous ones from some cloud, and they had rebounded over the entire countryside.

With Broadway continuing to offer unemployment to even the best of players, it has been a bonanza summer for the seaside, hillside and mountain resorts. Every place that even hinted at having a metropolitan colony now has a little theater, and successes of the theater mix liberally with try-outs.

In fact, some of the large producers, uncertain of plays that lie on their desks, have used this opportunity to see what they look like on the stage. Ordinarily, this would be an expensive experiment. A troupe would have to be organized, wages posted and a try-out arranged in some nearby town. But this summer, the scores of hastily organized stock groups are glad to get new material.

Thus, you will find, Cape Cod has none other than Grace George appearing at the head of its list and giving "The First Mrs. Fraser," which ran months and months on Broadway. Susan Glaspell, who won the year's Pulitzer play prize, may be found giving other products to a group in Westport. Peggy Wood, who has been in London so long that the American theater despaired at getting her back, may be found performing in and around White Plains. Leo Bulgakov, who has been a leader in the newer experimental movements, is to be located at Surry, Me. Valley Stream, Southampton, Woodstock and scores of other resort spots offer headliners that Broadway would be glad to star.

But the income from the summer colonies and from Broadway are quite different. Performers whose salaries would run into three figures were they featured in the bright lights are willing to take a very nominal wage to spend the summer in the country.

And no longer are these suburban groups of the "arty" or "little theater" persuasion. Hits are now more easily available, with a generous trimming of the "second rights" prices.

Speaking of theatrical matters, there's a gag on Broadway that stage conditions were so bad that ticket scalpers had been observed giving away passes.

And whatever may be the results of the much-discussed repression, certainly it has driven from the New York streets those perenial nuisances, the sidewalk ticket hawker. Also it has hit hard the various agencies that act as ticket brokers.

With only a dozen shows—perhaps less by this time—left, there is little percentage in the turn-over commissions. Usually, with the boards crowded by varied selections, business is likely to be brisk. Hotel ticket racks, they tell me, are hardest hit.

And even Joe Leblang's, which often resembles a busy railroad station at train time, is relatively quiet.

A new statute in Illinois prohibits carrying in an automobile firearms meant for criminal usage. Looks like a body blow at the motor car business.

It may be true that prosperity is just around the corner but there seems to be some doubt about the traffic signal.

Mayor Walker has gone to Germany to take the baths. It is not known whether he took along his record for the same treatment.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

Two Tinymites were mighty quick to grab hold of the great stick. Upon it fine bananas hung, but it was fairly light. The Travel Man cried, "That's the way! It's fun to turn work into play. Try not to take a tumble, though, or you'll be in a plight."

The native trailed along real slow till Scouty cried, "Come on, let's go! I hate to lag along like this." This made the native smile. "All right," said he. "I'll gladly run, if that's what you think should be done. I'd like to make a bet, though, that you tire out after while."

And he was right. It wasn't long until the Tinies weren't so strong. They started lagging far behind and Coppy shouted, "Wait! Just walking sounds much better now. Then we will reach your home somehow. I guess we are too little to move on at such a gait."

"Oh, well," replied the native, "we will soon be there, as you can see." He pointed to a little hut a... added, "I live there!" They we... inside and had a drink of nice co... water. "Gee, I think," cried Scout... "that it tastes just fine. Co... water's really rare."

They hung around an hour or ... and then decided they must ... And then they hiked back to t... beach and there they saw a bo... "I'd like to ride in that," said o... "I think 'twould be a heap of fu... It is a big flat-bottomed thing. I... bound to keep afloat."

Soon Clowny shouted, "He... Come here! Give me a ride and l... me steer." The natives in the bo... just smiled and then one of the... roared, "We're coming, son, and yo... can ride. Your steering skill sh... soon be tried." And when the bo... pulled up to shore, wee Clown... climbed aboard.

(The Tinymites go to Galapag... in the next story.)

SALVAGING MAIL MATTER

A great many letters would reach dead letter offices if there were no postal directory service. How effectively this service performs its ... is seen in the fact that during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1929, ... 29,079,619 undeliverable letters were received in all the dead letter offices in the country—a fact to which the Postmaster General points with considerable pride. Considering the billions of letters that are handled by the postoffice each year—the New York City postoffice alone delivers 17,000,000 letters every day—the dead letter office figures seem slender indeed.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 13 (AP)—The cotton market had an active and strong opening, owing to a sharp advance in Liverpool as a result of the farm board's recommendation that farmers destroy a third of their crop. First trades showed gains of 27 points. This was hardly a full response to the advance in foreign markets. October traded up to 7.10 and December to 7.30. At these levels there was considerable profit-taking and prices eased off to 7.01 for October and 7.21 for December, a decline of 9 points from the earlier highs.

The market became quieter after the first hour and gradually eased off during the rest of the morning on profit-taking and selling on the belief that the proposition of the farm loan board to cut production was rather impracticable. October traded down to 6.93 and December to 7.12, or 17 to 18 points under the early highs but still 9 to 10 points above yesterday's close.

Around mid-session the market was quiet and steady but near the lows.

The British board of trade statistics for July issued this morning were considered rather better than expected. A fresh storm warning for disturbance somewhere south of Cuba apparently had little effect on the market.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (AP)—Cotton opened very steady today, 20 to 24 points higher on trade buying and covering promoted by nervousness over the farm board's appeal to plow under every third row of cotton in the south and the strength of the Liverpool market.

October contracts sold up to 7.09 and March to 7.60 on the initial demand, but much skepticism was expressed as to the success of the plan for cutting down the size of the crop, and the market soon eased under liquidation, local and New Orleans selling. By the end of the first half hour October was off to 6.99 and March to 7.50, or about 10 points from the best with active months generally ruling about 16 to 17 points net higher. Liverpool cables reported renewed buying and general covering on the farm board recommendations in that market and said the demand for cotton cloth was broadening.

The market became quiet after the early rush of buying orders had been supplied and prices sagged off later in the morning under realizing or reselling. October contracts declined to 6.93 and March to 7.45, or about 15 to 16 points from the high level of the morning, with the active months showing net advances of about 10 to 13 points at midday.

NEW ORLEANS OPEN

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 13 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady. Oct. 7.10; Dec. 7.26; Jan. 7.35; March 7.54 bid; May 7.72 bid; July 7.91 bid.

NEW YORK OPEN

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (AP)—Cotton futures opened very steady. Oct. 7.05; Dec. 7.26; Jan. 7.36; March 7.55; May 7.69; July 7.88.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Aug. 13 (AP)—Grain prices tended downward early today. Liverpool reported large shipments of wheat from Black sea ports, 4,680,000 bushels for the week, compared with 3,080,000 last week and 1,944,000 a year ago. Increased figures on the big domestic carryover of wheat also attracted notice.

Opening a shade to 5-8 cent off, wheat later continued to sag. Corn started unchanged to 5-8 cent lower and afterwards showed setbacks all around.

INDICT FORMER CITY OFFICIAL

JUNCTION, Aug. 13 (AP)—John Munn, former city tax collector and assessor and a resident of this section for 20 years, was charged by the Kimble county grand jury, which adjourned yesterday, with misappropriation of public funds in six counts. He was also charged with altering a public record and with theft over $50.

About $2,000 is alleged to have been misappropriated. He was released on bond of $300 granted in each of the eight cases.

The grand jury returned 12 indictments in the two-day session. Eight were against Munn, two against Houston Ivy and Ed Walker of London on liquor counts and a rape charge against Tom Smith, 60, long time resident of this county charged with attacking a young girl. A special venire has been called for August 18.

Charges of negligent homicide against three Colorado, Mitchell county men drew no action and it was believed future grand juries would take none. Four Colorado men were camping near here a few weeks ago when one of them was drowned.

The men have been free on their own recognizance.

PRESS MEETING

News, Sweetwater; and Edward Warren, publisher of the Post Dispatch. Officers of the organization will also attend the advance gathering.

Largest regional press association in the world, the West Texas Press has arranged an ambitious business program and through co-operation of the Lubbock Chambers of commerce and Board of City Development will be honored with social functions and inspections of Lubbock and Texas Technological college. Included in the business session plans is a re-organization program designed to place the association upon a basis of service to members.

Program Arranged

Program for the convention has been largely arranged by the program committee, composed of James L. Dow, Chas. A. Guy and Garnett Reeves of Lubbock; C. S. Broyles, Sweetwater; W. H. Ritzenthaler, O'Donnell; Sam Roberts, Haskell, and Homer Steen, Floydada. Included as speakers are Gene Howe editor and publisher of the Amarillo Globe-News, famed as "The Tactless Texan"; Houston Harte, publisher of the San Angelo Standard-Times and president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce; D. A. Bandeen, Stamford, general manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce; Col. Richard McCarty, editor of the Albany News, and Wilbur C. Hawk, general manager of the Amarillo Globe-News and first vice-president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Business sessions will be held Friday morning and afternoon, and Saturday morning. The convention will close late Saturday upon completion of the annual golf tournament, to be held on the Lubbock Country club course with the Bill Parker trophy, presented by the Olmsted-Kirk Paper company, Dallas, as the prize. Informal gatherings will favor wives of visiting newspapermen.

Scoops Will Rogers On Carlsbad Visit

By Staff Correspondent

LAMESA, Aug. 13.—Victor L. Minter, secretary of the Carlsbad Chamber of Commerce, who was here this week, is proud of the fact that he "scooped" Will Rogers, noted humorist-columnist-actor, on the occasion of the latter's visit to Carlsbad caverns several months ago.

Meeting Rogers Sunday afternoon at the Caverns, following his trip through, Minter got the former Oklahoma cowboy to talk. He then called El Paso and dictated a short statement over long distance, quoting the humorist.

"Rogers went up to the window at the ticket office and asked for two tickets," said Minter. "The attendant asked him, 'two adults?' Rogers replied, 'No, one's a woman.'

"I scooped Rogers who did not send his Carlsbad story out until Monday, but I got him in the news in Monday morning's papers," Minter added.

Rural Women Plan Picnic In Dawson

(By Staff Correspondent)

LAMESA, Aug. 13.—Rural women of Dawson county will hold their annual picnic August 21 at Mullin's ranch in the "brakes" twelve miles east of town. An attendance of 300 is expected.

The county recreation committee is in charge. There will be a basket picnic, with games and stunts in the afternoon, including singing and contests.

THREE REPORTED DROWNED

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Three persons were reported drowned when terrific rains filled the Techachapi and Monolith valleys with swirling floods, damaged railroad tracks and two large factories, and forced workmen to flee for their lives.

Desertion Charges Filed On Wednesday

C. G. Finley and H. W. Pettijohn were named defendants in complaints alleging wife and child desertion filed Wednesday in county court by William Evans, assistant county attorney.

After August 22, all wife and child desertion complaints will be filed in district court, since a new law which goes into effect at that time makes the offense a felony, according to the assistant county attorney.

The offense formerly was a felony, but a ruling of the state courts of criminal appeals held the previous statute invalid.

Science Symposium

Dr. Karl T. Compton, president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, is chairman of the national symposium on new research tools, to be held by the American Chemical society, in Buffalo, in August. Approximately 2000 scientists will participate in discussions.

OIL INDUSTRY

not completely dissolve the threat of martial law over Texas oil fields threatened by Governor Sterling when the outlook for passage of the conservation bill was extremely dark. The governor was asked last night if the martial law threat was covetated by the new law. "Certainly not," he replied. "If those fellows get to cutting up over there, we might send the troops in any time."

The compromise bill was passed in the house, 125 to 12. Only one dissenting vote was cast against it in the senate, the vote being 30 to 1.

The bill was characterized by Governor Sterling as one with "teeth" in it.

Court Test Seen

That it would be given a test in the courts was believed inevitable.

It was designed to reduce physical waste to a minimum and contained definitions defining virtually all types of physical waste. Court procedure in cases involving the railroad commission will be accelerated by giving case attacking the commission's orders the right of way. The lack of adequate court procedure was one of the main causes of the failure of the old law.

Under the bill the commission is expressly forbidden to make any attempt to hold production within market demand. A bill with market demand was recommended by representatives of several major oil companies but argued against by Governor Sterling.

REDISTRICTING TRY MEETS WITH FAILURE

AUSTIN, Aug. 13 (AP)—Another attempt at congressional redistricting had failed today.

After working hours yesterday and until a few minutes before adjournment of the special session last night house and senate delegates to a free conference reported they were unable to agree on a compromise bill.

It marked the second time this year that congressional redistricting had failed of realization. Committees worked two weeks during the regular session in an attempt to obtain a suitable bill. The bill was passed by the house but killed in the senate by two votes.

Both the house and senate committees were adamant and refused to yield ground in the last hours.

The house bill provided a new district for the Panhandle; another for West Texas and the third for the South Texas coastal area.

The senate bill woul have given East Texas a new district; and placed one in the Panhandle and another in the south coastal area.

Under the 1930 census, Texas is entitled to three new congressmen, increasing the number to 21. Failure to redistrict will result in the election of three congressmen-at-large.

CO-OP CHARGES

The charges, including malfeasance and misuse of the organization's funds, were made on the floor of the house yesterday by Representative Lawrence Westbrook of Waco, former Texas representative of the American Cotton Co-operative association. The house voted that they be investigated. No date for the start of the inquiry had been set.

Gambling Charged

The first charge alleged that Lynn Stokes of Ballinger, president, and Harry Williams of Dallas, former general manager, "had in 1929 used over $400,000 of money, due to members, for cotton, gambling on cotton purchased outright from the Farm Bureau Gin company, and that they had lost this money and could not have paid it back if they had not been able to borrow from the farm board."

The second charge alleged Stokes, Williams and "other members and officers of the executive committee had loaned themselves large sums of money from the funds of the organization without authority."

Another charge claimed that under management of Stokes, the farm Bureau Gin company, a subsidiary, lost more than $600,000 belonging to the reserve fund of the members of the old farm bureau cotton association in gambling on cotton.

TECH BEAUTY

being on the honor roll of the institution throughout her attendance.

She was a member of San Souci, social organization for young women and during 1930 was judged as one of the beauties of the institution. She was a pre-med sophomore in the school of liberal arts.

Officials at Texas Tech, informed of the news of Mrs. Schermerhorn's death this morning, were unstinted in their praise of the young student who attended the local college for two years. Teachers and students alike through words of sorrow told of the excellent work of the young woman while in this city, of her popularity among those of her own and other organizations and of her general scholastic standing in the college. She was on the honor roll of the school, they stated, from the time of her entrance until her withdrawal. During her school days in Lubbock she lived with her mother at 2410 Fourteenth street.

Local Men Return From Poultry Meet

Poultry raisers and hatchery operators will find 1932 a highly satisfactory year, J. R. Newman and H. E. Hannaz predicted after returning Tuesday from the International Baby Chick convention at Louisville.

Cheap eggs last spring created a shortage of pullets and many flocks were also depleted by sales, according to Mr. Hannaz. This shortage together with the huge crops of cheap feeds being produced this fall is expected to create a great demand for baby chicks next year. The present shortage of cold storage eggs is the greatest in several years and poultry men at the convention predicted a material increase in the price of eggs during the next two months. Hatchery men throughout the country are expecting a good fall business in baby chicks for broiler purposes.

H. B. Lansden, A. P. A. judge, who accompanied Mr. Newman and Mr. Hannaz on their trip, continued to Bay City, Michigan to attend the convention of the American Poultry association.

ALBERT FALL

District of Columbia supreme court, who recently added a day to the year's sentence so Fall could serve near his home because of his health was not consulted on the application.

The attorney general concluded his brief statement with these words.

No Further Action

"Under the rules the papers will be automatically filed away without further action. This course amounts to a denial of the application."

Justice department officials pointed out that Fall would be eligible for parole under the rules applying to all federal prisoners.

Thus his case could come before the federal parole board after serving one-third of his sentence or four months after the day he entered the New Mexico penitentiary.

Fall entered the New Mexico state penitentiary last July 20 after repeated efforts to escape serving the sentence had proved futile.

The 70 year old former senator was convicted of accepting a $100,000 bribe from Edward L. Doheny for leasing the oil operator the Elk Hills naval oil reserve when he headed the interior department in the Harding administration.

Myrick Files Suit Against 37 Persons

Seeking possession of five lots allegedly seized unlawfully, W. A. Myrick named thirty-seven defendants in a suit filed Wednesday in ninety-ninth district court.

The suit is styled W. A. Myrick vs. American National company of Cleveland, Ohio, and others.

Myrick says he was unlawfully dispossessed from five lots, enumerated as lots 20, 21, 22, 23 and 24, block 84, Overton addition, on August 10. He says the property had been in his possession for more than three years. The value of the real estate was placed at $500.

CONDITION CRITICAL

GILMER, Aug. 13 (AP)—Johnny Williams, 22, of Miami, Fla., who was wounded near Rhonesboro in an exchange of shots with Cliff Johnson, was reported in a critical condition today.

Ten additional miles have recently been added to the twenty-one miles underground in Carlsbad Caverns near Carlsbad, New Mexico.

FARM BOARD PLAN

within fifteen days. The attitude of the state executive was requested at once.

Almost immediately, Eugene Talmadge, Georgia commissioner of agriculture said at Atlanta, the farm board's proposal was "nothing more than a bluff." He added "congress ought to name a special committee to investigate the board. He expressed doubt whether the the board had 3,000,000 bales on hand, overlooking the control it has over the 2,000,000 bales held by the American Cotton Cooperative.

Coincidentally, the Texas house of representatives ordered an investigation of charges made by Representative Westbrook of Waco, against the Texas Cotton Cooperative association, affiliated with the board. In instigating the move, Westbrook predicted Carl Williams, cotton member of the board, would be removed by congress. He said Williams had pursued a policy of "deceit and subterfuge" in his office.

At Jackson, Mississippi, Governor Bilbo described the farm board's new plan as "an economic waste" adding "it will cost the farmers a million dollars in time and labor to plow up" a third of their crop.

Bilbo, before the board announced its proposal, had suggested leaving every third row standing in the field. He said to plow up this row would not only be a waste of time and money, but would hinder picking of the present crop by throwing stalks against the standing rows.

Commissioner of Agriculture W. A. Graham at Raleigh, N. C., asked if it would be fair for farmers of his state to plow under a third of their crop after reducing acreage 28 per cent in the past two years while Texas and other states had not decreased their acreage.

Inoperative or undesirable were the terms used by J. W. Pitts, commissioner of agriculture in Tennessee, and A. E. Markham of Tiptonville, Tennessee's largest cotton growers in describing the plan.

From Fresno, Calif., came word that J. W. Guiberson, retiring president of the California Cotton Cooperative association, said the difficulty would be to get all the farmers to adopt the plan.

Besides Legge and Callaway, the stabilization corporation elected A. E. Kobs, Oklahoma City, and R. J. Murray of Dallas, as new directors.

SELF-FEEDERS

permitted the rest of the scheme.

A hog eats and drinks eight or 10 times daily, feeding about eight to 12 minutes each time, the farm agent said. If he feeds and water is not nearby, he often will not go forty or a hundred yards for it.

A ten per cent protein supplement of cottonseed meal and tankage was fed with grain in the self-feeder tests at College Station. Skimmed milk is a cheap and satisfactory ration, hogs eating less supplementary stuffs when it is available, Eaton said. Cost of skimmed milk is estimated at 11 per cent of that of tankage a hundred pounds.

REPORT FILED WITH SENATE

COUNTY OFFICERS ARE CHARGED WITH FEE VIOLATIONS

AUSTIN, Aug. 13 (AP)—The senate committee investigating alleged irregularities in the Texas fee system last night filed a second report with the senate, in which unnamed sheriffs, district attorneys, county attorneys and justices of the peace were accused of collecting unconscionable fees.

The report urged abolition of the fee system and made these recommendations in addition:

That the state comptroller refuse to pay "warrants of deceased officers who received fees from the state until there had been a duly appointed administrator."

That the criminal procedure should be amended to provide that testimony of material witnesses in certain cases should be reduced to writing at examining trials.

That the criminal procedure be amended to allow district judges in their regular terms of court, to issue writs requiring sheriffs to summon from 12 to 16 persons to serve as grand jurors.

The committee report was not read to the senate but was ordered printed in the journal.

"We believe," said the committee in conclusion, "that by and through our efforts, there will be a great number of indictments returned where open and flagrant violations of the laws of this state have occurred and we likewise believe that the state will be able to recover considerable sums of money from the bondsmen of various officers who have obtained money from the state unlawfully."

The entire telephone system of Stamford, Texas, is being reconstructed employing a large force of men.

Yeah He's Short, But What Of It?

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 13 (AP)—The government is "stumped" on this one.

Postal Inspector L. E. W. Miller, returning from Honolulu, reports the leper postmaster at the leper colony on the Hawaiian island of Molokai, is $1,500 short in his accounts and admits it, but has a serious case of leprosy and so cannot be sent to a penitentiary. All the authorities of the colony on Molokai, except the superintendent and a few nurses, are lepers.

Several carloads of bred gilts have recently been shipped into Johnson county, Texas, for the purpose of increasing the hog population to consume the cheap feed crop.

Ellsworth Writes Magazine Article

"Farming That Pays and Why—In West Texas" is the subject of an article by Dr. J. O. Ellsworth, head of the department of agricultural economics and farm management at Texas Technological college, in the August number of West Texas Today, monthly magazine of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. The current number is devoted to agriculture in the region.

The lead article of the issue is "Meet West Texas, Again a Land of Plenty." It tells of the section comeback after the drought of 1929-30.

The August issue is the second of a series to be published by the regional chamber under a new editorial plan, which is being directed by 27 West Texas newspapermen. The September issue will deal with transportation facilities in West Texas; October, industrial development, and November, the breeder-feeder movement will be described.

U. S. LEADER IN GASOLINE TRADE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 (AP)—The United States is still the world's gasoline trade leader.

However, other countries are making inroads as indicated by commerce department reports today showing American exports of 63,195,331 barrels in 1930. This was only 49 per cent of the world trade as against 72 per cent in 1924.

A study of the 10-year period showed the Netherlands East Indies to rank second as a gasoline exporter. In 1930 its share of the total international trade reached 13 per cent as against 0.5 per cent in 1921. Russia, Persia, and Rumania also showed marked gains in exports during recent years.

The United Kingdom is the largest importer of gasoline, the United States second. Virtually all of the United States imports come from the Netherlands East Indies.

WELDING RECOGNIZED

The number of cities and towns in the United States which have adopted legal provision providing for the use of welding in building construction, now totals 100. New Orleans is the largest city which has adopted a welding code. The tallest all-welded structure is a 19-story office building in Dallas, Texas. California has the most cities and towns with welding codes. 67 having incorporated sections providing for welding.

Scotch All Right

NEW YORK—Johnny Williamson who is five and Scotch has no use for a steamer trunk. The wee laddie, traveling alone, landed from the liner Caledonia wearing a fur lined cap under a fedora, an overcoat, a top coat, sweater, leather jacket, kilts, heavy shoes and tweed breeches. "I brought a great coat instead of a bag to bring 'em in," he told his mother.

Play Until Death

VIENNA — Schwarzenstein mountain in the Tyrol has revealed that two explorers played cards awaiting death. The bodies of Aumand Anlauf and Dr. Koban, who disappeared in December, 1919, have been found in a snow-filled cleft. Between them was a pack of cards and the last quarter-inch of a candle. Evidently they froze to death.

Matrons Favored

NEW YORK—A paper published by summer students at Teachers' college, Columbia university, finds married women usually superior teachers. It says that a woman "who likes teaching well enough to remain in the profession when she no longer is compelled to do so far a means of support will be better qualified than girls who are in the work only to spend the time until marriage."
