Year's first snow falls

From Local, Wire Reports

An estimated 2 1/2 inches of snow fell in Snyder Thursday night, giving local school children a blanket of white stuff to walk through on the last day of school before Christmas.

Schools were to let out for the Christmas break at 2:45 p.m. Friday. Classes were conducted as usual at Snyder as well as at Ira and Hermleigh schools.

Across the state, travelers advisories were in effect for much of the northern half because of the snow, which began falling Thursday afternoon in the Panhandle.

The heaviest accumulations of snow were at Wichita Falls, where six inches had fallen in six hours by 3 a.m., and Denton. Interstate Highway 35 in Denton was impassable this morning as a result and a few area schools were forced to close for the day or to open late, authorities said.

Most of the snow in North and West Texas had stopped by early morning, but heavy snow continued to fall in the Longview-Marshall area of East Texas, which had about five inches by 9:30 a.m., officials said.

In Dallas, two to three inches blanketed the ground at dawn. The snow snarled rush-hour traffic and caused numerous minor accidents as overpasses were glazed with a layer of ice, authorities said.

Public schools in both Dallas and Fort Worth remained open.

Schools in Wichita Falls opened about 1 1/2 hours late. Dozens of accidents were caused by the snow, but no serious injuries were reported, police said.

Scattered rainshowers were also falling over South Central Texas as a cold front was slowly pushing through South Texas and the upper Gulf coast.

By late Thursday night in the Panhandle, Paducah had received three to four inches of snow, Amarillo more than four inches, Tulsa two inches, Plainview an inch and a light See SNOW, page 10A

Inflation figures called 'fantastic'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spurred by November's 0.2 percent drop, the first in eight months, inflation at the wholesale level is running at just 0.3 percent for the year, the government said today. Food prices last month plummeted 1 percent, their steepest fall since July 1982.

The new report virtually ensures that, for all of 1983, wholesale price inflation will be less than 1 percent, which would mark the economy's best performance in nearly two decades.

Even in advance of today's annualized 11-month calculation, showing an even smaller inflationary gain than had been expected, economists were cheering the year's anticipated results.

"Fantastic," exclaimed Edward Yardeni, chief economist for Prudential-Bache Securities Inc. and Michael Evans, an economic consultant here, said, "It's amazing considering where we were three years ago" when wholesale prices had surged 11.8 percent.

Prices rose 7.1 percent in 1981 and 3.7 percent last year. Not since 1964, when the gain was 0.5 percent, have wholesale prices risen at a rate below 1 percent.

The department said energy prices, as expected, also fell last month — down 1 percent. Those prices had been off in October after six months of increases.

On the good news for November food prices, the department said vegetable prices were down 16.5 percent. Fresh fruit prices fell 9.5 percent. It attributed those sharp declines to improved supplies of bananas, citrus fruits, corn, lettuce, tomatoes and beans.

WTC trustees okay increase of tuition fee

Some $56,000 in additional income during the 1984-85 school year is expected at Western Texas College with the implementation of a $2 per-hour tuition fee increase.

College trustees Thursday unanimously approved a recommendation that this fee be increased from $4 to $6 per semester hour effective next fall.

Dr. Don Newbury, WTC president, characterized the change as "showing our commitment that the students should pay a little bit more for going to school."

The change marks the first tuition fee increase in the history of the school.

It has been noted that the current fee of $4 per hour places WTC at the lower end of college tuitions charged throughout Texas.

An $8 fee had been discussed during the November meeting of the board, but this was dropped as too high. It has been noted that the change would place WTC "about in the middle" of tuition fees charged by area colleges.

Assuming a 15-hour semester load, the increase will equal an extra $30 charge per student per semester.

Since part-time students are charged a minimum of $25 per semester under state law, there will be no change in fees for district students taking four hours or less.

In other college-related business Thursday, trustees voted to:

—Accept the college's annual audit of federal student financial aid funds. The audit was completed by the Snyder accounting firm of Anderson, Anderson and Vestal. In line with the college's involvement in such funds, estimated at less than $10,000, and the detailed requirements placed on such reports by the federal government, trustees also accepted the auditor's recommendation that they only require such audits every two years.

—Accept the resignation of Diamond M Museum Director Jan Parker, who has resigned to accept another museum post in Santa Fe.

—Accept the low bid of $3,912 to purchase four correcting-type typewriters and two electronic typewriters. The bid was offered by DLS Agency Inc. of Lubbock. Other bids were from Stephen's See FEE, page 10A

CHRISTMAS GIVING — The Scurry County Goodfellows effort received a substantial boost from Snyder High School students Thursday, who delivered some $4,200 in cash and another 642 pounds of canned goods. ### Policy rescinded...

'No fishing' at WTC lake

College trustees Thursday opted to rescind an earlier policy allowing fishing in the small lake which is encircled by the Western Texas College golf course.

A variety of reasons for the closing were offered and the most often cited was the safety factor for fisherman — who could be struck with golf balls.

Other reasons noted were a maintenance problem when fishermen stray onto course greens and the fact that, in the words of Trustee Bill Wilson, "The present policy isn't working anyway."

He was referring to the reason why fishing for a minimal fee was initially instituted at the course,

Wilson pointed out that this was done in an attempt to curb illegal fishing at the lake.

By paying a $1 fee, individuals were allowed to fish around the lake's dam area at the east end. A fishing permit was then issued.

Wilson made the motion to rescind the old policy. After his motion, considerable discussion followed with Trustee Edwin Parks noting his continued support of allowing some type of fishing activity at the lake.

Earlier alternatives discussed included allowing fishing in all areas of the lake on the two mornings that the golf course is normally closed. See LAKE, page 10A

Yule 'Rhapsody' due here Sunday

A dynamic musical experience is in store for those who attend the presentation of "Christmas Rhapsody" at the First Baptist Church at 7 p.m. Sunday.

The general public is invited at no charge.

"Christmas Rhapsody" has been labeled by its composers as "a new and innovative concept in Christmas music...the complete Christmas service."

The production is under the direction of Jerry Neill.

Performing the work will be the adult choir of First Baptist. They will be accompanied by a 17-member orchestra comprised of both church members and students from Snyder High School.

The orchestra includes a brass choir, percussion section, six keyboards, drums and a rhythm section.

Serving as narrator for the program will be Glenn Polk. Soloists include Kay Hopper, Susan Scott, Glenda Hollingsworth, Billy Kay and Kristi Masters.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "When wearing designer denims, the ends should justify the jeans."

Keeping tabs on our neighbors:

Prior to last Sunday's big game between Washington and Dallas, all the talk was on football. There was a story making the rounds in Andrews that was repeated by James Roberts in the Andrews County News.

A pro football athlete died and went to heaven and after a few weeks floating around on a cloud complained to St. Peter. "All this inactivity is killing me. I led an active life down on earth, busy goin' and doin' all the time. Here I've got nothing but time on my hands and I'm bored to tears."

St. Peter replied, "Well, we've got a football game this afternoon over on the next cloud. Perhaps you'd like to go over and watch it. I can arrange to have you transported over if you like."

The young man accepted the invitation, attended the game, and came back four hours later, rushed up to St. Peter and waxed enthusiastically about the visit.

"It's the greatest stadium I've ever seen—all that marble, those columns, pillars, marble seats—the whole place is fantastic. And the game was superb—great athletes. I even like the way the players were identified...the quarterback had QB in gold on his jersey, the tight end TE, and the split end SE..."

"...but St. Peter, I never was able to figure out one puzzling feature. There was a guy walking up and down the sidelines that had TL on his coat. I never did figure out who he was."

"Think nothing of it," St. Peter said. "That was God—he thinks he's Tom Landry."

George Dolan, in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, wrote about a crafty old merchant, holding a fire sale who pulled a friend aside and confided.

"I make money the old-fashioned way," he said, gesturing at the smoke-blackened walls. "I burn it."

Q — With Scurry County's cotton crop expected to be down, how is the rest of the state doing comparatively?

A — Across the state, the Upland cotton harvest is expected to be down 15 percent. Some 2.3 million bales of cotton are expected to be harvested. The statewide yield is estimated at 335 pounds per acre, compared to 301 pounds a year ago.

In Brief

Israel asks less military aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan plans to ask Congress to give Israel $1.4 billion in military aid in fiscal year 1985, according to a State Department official.

That figure compares with $1.7 billion in Israeli military aid for fiscal 1984, which began Oct. 1, but half of that money was a grant and the remainder was a loan, which must be repaid.

Companies ok cleanup pay

WASHINGTON (AP) — In one of the largest court settlements of its kind, 10 major oil and petrochemical companies have agreed to pay $50 million to clean up two abandoned chemical waste dumps in Louisiana.

The government announced Thursday that the companies — including such giants as Exxon Corp., U.S. Steel Corp., and Dow Chemical Co. — agreed to clean up the two sites near Baton Rouge, La., and begin a 30-year monitoring program to guard against possible leaks into water supplies.

Concrete barriers, armored patrols are security upgrades

By The Associated Press
Concrete barriers at a Navy weapons base in California, armored patrol vehicles at a nuclear lab in Tennessee, a red alert in New York — America's federal establishment is taking visible steps to defend itself against the threat of radical suicide bombers.

Sen. Daniel Patrick Moynihan predicts that foreign anti-American forces, like the ones responsible for deadly bombings at U.S. facilities in Beirut and Kuwait, may "bring the war to our shores" in 1984.

"We should assume it and not be surprised by it," the New York Democrat told a conference on terrorism earlier this week.

Because of the "suicide-mission concept," FBI Director William H. Webster says, such an attack "presumably could just as easily take place in the United States and calls for reasonably prudent measures."

Since the Oct. 23 attack that killed 241 servicemen at the U.S. Marine headquarters in Lebanon and Monday's bombing in Kuwait that killed seven at the U.S. Embassy, physical precautions have been taken from coast to coast to prevent the same thing from happening on U.S. soil.

Gray alerts, requiring increased identification checks and searches of suspicious parcels, are in place at the nation's 7,500 federal buildings.

Top-level red alerts, in which extra guards are added and physical security beefed up, have been declared for federal facilities in five cities in upstate New York — Syracuse, Buffalo, Utica, Watertown and Binghamton. Officials said some red-alert procedures were being employed in Albany, Manhattan and Brooklyn as well. Three-foot concrete barriers were installed this week in front of the U.S. Mission to the United Nations in New York and the federal courthouse in Brooklyn, and behind gates at six entrances to the Seal Beach Naval Weapons Station in California.

In Washington, where steps to improve security on federal property first surfaced at the White House during the Thanksgiving weekend, security is tight — and getting tighter.

A Pentagon spokesman announced Thursday that security officers will soon take "clearly visible" measures to boost protection. Starting Tuesday, Pentagon police will shut tunnels that normally carry commuter buses, military vehicles and taxis underneath the huge Defense Department headquarters.

At Brookhaven National Research Laboratory on Long Island, officials Thursday began checking security passes for all personnel.

How much would you be willing to bet on the public appeal of an "ugly doll?"

If you understand merchandising, you might be aware that anything can be sold with enough hype. But even Xavier Roberts who designed the first of the Cabbage Patch Kids could never have imagined that shoppers would be lined up for hours, breaking one-another's arms in their frantic determination to buy one. The unlovely yarn-haired doll is outselling anything this Christmas.

What P.T. Barnum called "puffery" was enough to fill a circus tent anywhere, any time.

But today's media proliferation of "puffery" can entice tens of millions to pay ten prices for a pair of denim jeans!

U.S. News and World Report comments: "Never have so many been bombarded with so much information that means so little."

"People in all walks of life are drowning in a sea of promotional messages touting everything from diet drinks to designer fashions to macho actors to fried chicken."

With high-powered and persistent promotion, a TV network was able to mobilize half our nation's population to watch a boring TV film called "The Day After."

Steven M.L. Aronson, author of the book called "Hype," defines this concept of merchandising as "The artificially orchestrated creation of an atmosphere of hysteria." It sells Hula Hoops, copper bracelets, mood rings, singing groups such as "The Monkees" — ugly dolls.

And increasingly public relations wizards have learned how to get public mention and attention without paying for it.

Doggedly, they pursue "Donahue" and "Merv Griffin" and "Good Morning America" until they get their clients interviewed and their products showcased.

And the media momentum spills over into magazines and newspapers and all of us in the information business become unwitting promoters of a person, a product, a silly movie titillatingly called "Flashdance" — and/or even an ugly doll.

Diet Coke, launched last year with a $100,000 extravaganza at Radio City Music Hall, catapulted itself into fourth place in that highly competitive market.

It takes sustained advertising to keep even a quality product out front, but the hit-and-run merchandisers don't worry about that.

It is enough for them to harvest a quick killing from enough lemmings willing to buy one cosmetic once — or one theater ticket or phonograph record or one pet rock ... Or one ugly doll at $25 times 2½ million.

Assembly wants information order

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly approved a resolution backing efforts to create a "world information order" which opponents, including the United States, fear would encourage government control and censorship of news.

The Assembly voted 135-4, with 9 abstentions, Thursday night to approve the resolution and an attached set of guidelines. Voting against it were United States, Britain, Ecuador and Israel.

The resolution called for the U.N. Information Committee to seek assistance from the Commission on Transnational Corporations in connection with the committee's mandate to promote a new world information order.

Third World nations say the new order is needed to counter what it calls unfair coverage of developing countries by large Western entertainment and news organizations. The nations say political upheaval and disasters tend to be emphasized, with news of social progress largely ignored, and that Western media impose their cultural values on the Third World.

The United States has complained that aspects of the new information order promoted by most members of the U.N. Educational and Scientific and Cultural Organization would encourage governments to further stifle free expression and to censor news coverage.

The resolution appealed to governments, organizations and communication media, both public and private ... to disseminate more widely objective and better balanced information about the progress of developing nations and about U.N. activities."

The guidelines said an appeal should be made to "the international media" to support the "efforts of the international community towards global development and, in particular ... the efforts of the developing countries for their own economic, social and cultural progress."

Those abstaining in the vote were Austria, Belgium, Canada, France, Italy, Japan, Luxembourg, the Netherlands and New Zealand.

Kuhn hands out tough penalties to 'drug users'

NEW YORK (AP) - Commissioner Bowie Kuhn sounded a stern warning as he imposed the stiffest drug penalties in baseball's history.

"We take the drug problem and our role as models for young people seriously," Kuhn said. "We will do what is reasonably necessary to protect the game."

On Thursday, the commissioner's office revealed that it had imposed one-year suspensions without pay on Steve Howe of Los Angeles, Willie Wilson and Willie Aikens of Kansas City and former Royals player Jerry Martin.

In Howe's case, the suspension could last even longer than one year. Howe's suspension cannot be reviewed until Dec. 15, 1984, at which time it could be extended if he has not conquered his cocaine dependency.

Kuhn left open the possibility of ending the other three players' suspensions as early as May 15, when their cases will be reviewed. Kuhn cited their three-month prison sentences for attempted possession of cocaine and public apologies as mitigating circumstances. At the same time, Kuhn said each of the three had admitted during his investigation that they had occasionally used cocaine.

"The two situations are very different," Kuhn said in differentiating between the suspensions given Howe and the three others. "In Howe's case, it clearly will be a year and could be longer."

Also facing possible sanction was Vida Blue, a former MVP and Cy Young award-winning pitcher who was cut by the Royals last August. Blue was to be sentenced on a misdemeanor charge of possessing three grams of cocaine on Monday.

Kuhn, who will end nearly 15 years as commissioner on March 1, said the players may work out with their teams during the suspension, but they will not be paid.

"A message?" the commissioner asked rhetorically. "Yes, I think it is a message."

While this message came through loud and clear to baseball's front offices, Wilson said he wasn't sure he agreed fully with it.

Interviewed from prison, Wilson told ABC-TV's Nightline news show that he understood Kuhn's warning, "but if he wants to make me a role model, that's fine on the field. Baseball is my job. But off the field, I'm a role model to my own kids. That's all I have to do."

Wilson said he had stopped using cocaine long before he was arrested and that he got involved with the police only because he made a phone call to a drug dealer for a friend.

Detroit says it will get Darrell Evans

DETROIT (AP) - Outbidding 16 other major league teams, the Detroit Tigers say they have reached an agreement in principle with Darrell Evans, 1983's most highly-sought free agent.

The ex-San Francisco Giant was expected today to sign a three-year agreement with the American League club after further negotiations overnight with Tigers General Manager Bill Lajoie, said Evans' agent, Jerry Kapstein.

"... Things are moving in a positive direction... if we can reduce to writing an agreement that both sides can sign, Darrell Evans will become a member of the Detroit Tigers," Kapstein said Thursday night from San Diego.

Detroit Manager Sparky Anderson said Thursday from his home in Thousand Oaks, Calif., that he hadn't decided where to play Evans, who was chosen by 17 clubs in the free agent draft.

Evans batted .277 with 30 home runs for the Giants last season, playing 113 games at first base and 32 at third.

"There's nothing yet to get into on that," Anderson said. "He plays first, he plays third, he plays the outfield. I'm not planning on the outfield."

The acquisition is expected to fill a major gap for Detroit, which sought a power hitter to play either first or third.

"I know he beat us enough times when I was in the National League," said Anderson, who managed the Cincinnati Reds from 1970 to 1978. "He never swings at bad pitches. That was one thing I liked about him. And he'll walk 80 to 100 times a year."

In other action, Trey Tippens racked up 21 points and Terry Garza hit for 15 to lead the Black Squad past the Tornadoses, 51-39.

Snyder Gold is now 4-1 for the season while the Black team is 6-0.

Peterson named All-South Plains

LUBBOCK - Chad Peterson, who pulled down 40 footballs for 502 yards as the leading receiver in District 2-4A this year, has been named to the Class 4A All-South Plains Team.

Peterson, an all-district split end and voted Most Valuable Player for Snyder High School, had three touchdowns and averaged 14.8 yards per catch.

State finalist Lubbock Estacado landed seven players on the team, including Player of the Year Terry Upshaw, a 5-5, 160-pound senior running back who has rushed for 2,045 yards and 28 touchdowns with one game, the state championship, still to play. Estacado head coach Louis Kelley was Coach of the Year.

District 2-4A placed eight players on the team in addition to Peterson. Among them were Andrews quarterback Bill Morrison, Lake View running back John Rodgers, Lake View offensive guard Mike Helms, Pecos linebacker Wes Bolinger, and Sweetwater defensive back Donald Jones.

Bolinger also earned honors as All-South Plains punter.

Monahans placed three on the team, offensive guard Todd Tamplin, defensive lineman Lin Sanford and defensive back Ryan Roark.

Dolphins need victory against NY Jets tonight

MIAMI (AP) - The New York Jets and Miami Dolphins, based on their past performances, are a sellout in the Orange Bowl.

A good 75,000 screaming fans are expected in Miami tonight when the Jets and the Dolphins renew the bitter rivalry that culminated in last season's American Football Conference championship game.

"The Jets are the Jets," said Miami tight end Joe

USFL coach main Houston prospect, reports Chronicle

HOUSTON (AP) - Hugh Campbell, coach of the Los Angeles Express of the United States Football League, is the leading candidate to become coach of the National Football League Houston Oilers and is interested in taking the job, the Houston Chronicle reported today.

The newspaper said Campbell, 42, who coached the Edmonton Eskimos of the Canadian Football League to five straight Grey Cup victories before joining the Express last year, would be able to get out of his contract with the USFL team because the club has been sold.

According to the Chronicle, interim Oilers Coach Chuck Studley, named to the job midway through this season to replace Ed Biles, became expendable in the minds of team officials after Houston lost to the Tampa Bay Buccaneers three weeks ago. At the time of that game, Tampa and Houston had the NFL's fewest victories this season - 1. The Oilers subsequently have won another game - a victory last weekend against Cleveland - to pull even with the Bucs at 2-3.

Houston closes out its season Sunday at Baltimore.

Studley has said previously that he would like to stay on. However, he refused to discuss the situation this week, saying the decision was in the hands of Oiler management.

Besides Campbell, the Chronicle said seven other coaches either have been or would be contacted by the Oilers as possible Studley replacements. They include Tom Osborne of top-ranked University of Nebraska; Woody Widenhofer, the assistant head coach of the Pittsburgh Steelers; Dick Coury of the USFL New Orleans team; Joe Bugel, an assistant of the Washington Redskins; LaVell Edwards of Brigham Young University; Ernie Zampese, an assistant at the San Diego Chargers; and Cleveland Browns offensive coordinator Larry Weaver.

Separated shoulder.

Quarterback Richard Todd, the goat of New York just a year after "Todd is God" signs flew in Shea Stadium, is hobbled by a bruised thigh but expected to start. After last week's 34-7 loss to Pittsburgh, the Jets' last game at Shea before moving to New Jersey, police had to escort Todd off the field as people threw beer and debris and shouted obscenities.

The Dolphins will be without their regular QB, Dan Marino, who on Thursday became the first rookie signal caller ever named a Pro Bowl starter. Coach Don Shula, confident in veteran backup Don Strock, decided to give Marino a few more weeks rest to heal a sprained knee before the playoffs.

Miami, winner of four straight in this series and holder of an 18-17-1 advantage in the series, needs a victory to assure itself at least one home game in the playoffs this season.

Twelve players - among them fullback Mike Augustyniak, linebacker Greg Buttle and offensive lineman Stan Waldemore - are on injured reserve.

Running back Freeman McNeil missed seven weeks - a span in which the Jets were 2-5 - with a

Girls entertain 2-4A tilt here

Late this morning the word was that Old Man Winter was going to let Snyder and Andrews tee it up tonight, tipping off the 1983-84 District 2-4A basketball season in Scurry County Coliseum.

A junior varsity game is set for 6. The varsity contest will follow at approximately 7:30. Tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for students.

Snyder goes into the contest with a 4-4 record while defending district champion is undefeated at 10-0.

"We're ready to get after it," said Snyder coach Ken Housden this morning. "We know it will be tough, but we're ready to play."

Alabama rips Tech

OSAKA, Japan (AP) - Alabama outmuscled Texas Tech 76-56 in the second round of the Suntory Ball college basketball tournament Friday before 15,500 Japanese basketball fans at Osaka Castle Hall.

Alabama scored 12 points on offensive rebound shots in the first half, opening up a 21-11 lead after the first 10 minutes of play.

Texas Tech's 5-foot 10 guard Bubba Jennings kept the Raiders in the game early on with crowd-pleasing jumpshots from outside, going 6-for-7 from the field in the first half and finishing with 18 points, high for the Raiders.

Morton defeats Snyder in Reese AFB tourney

LUBBOCK - Two-time state champion Morton used its inside strength to overpower Snyder in the first round of the President's Division of the Reese AFB Classic here Thursday.

Morton outscored the Tigers 20-12 in the third period and 21-14 in the fourth, to build the 68-48 victory. Snyder, now 2-9 for the season, was to play Canyon at 10 this morning.

In other results Thursday, Roswell, N.M. defeated Canyon 59-58, Fort Worth Arlington Heights ripped Brownfield 69-56 and Roswell Goddard nipped Andrews 55-54.

"Their post play was what really hurt us," said Snyder Coach Larry Scott of Thursday's loss. "They did a real good job of working the ball in to (6-2) Rob Johnson. He's a real strong player and he outmuscled us. They pressed the whole game and run a very good fast break."

"We just weren't consistent either. We came out and scored six in the first quarter, then outscored them 16-11 in the second, and weren't consistent in the second half either," mused the coach.

West started proceedings for the defense with the king, ace and five of hearts. The third heart was ruffed high in dummy.

With two tricks down the drain, South could see that at the worst there would be a two-way club finesse for his contract. Dummy's king of spades had been demoted, since all South could use it for would be a club discard.

A man in a hurry would draw trumps with two leads, note that West had produced eight red cards as against East's four, see that the odds favored playing East for the club queen, finesse against him and get ready for the next rubber in a few seconds.

South wasn't in that much of a hurry. He decided to get more information, so after playing just one trump, he cashed dummy's ace of spades, ruffed a spade high, led a second trump to dummy, discarded a club on the spade king and ruffed dummy's last spade.

West had produced four spades so South knew that he had been dealt four spades, six hearts and two diamonds, which meant he held just one club.

A club was led to the king and now South could finesse against East with certainty of success.

It's that party time of year and you want to put on a special look for festivities. The easiest way is to create a glow with your makeup. Since your lips should always be luscious, try this new trick of turning them into pure gold. First choose an amber or brownish color lipstick as your base. Then take a golden gloss and very gently, with a lipstick brush, blend it over your lips. Finally dab a bit more gold to the center of your bottom lip — it's a highlighter that will set off your entire face in gold tones, and make you feel like a million dollars.

NORTH POLE, N.Y. (AP) - There's no fooling the much-younger generation, especially when it comes to Christmas. When a cagey 4-year-old named Amanda walked into the reindeer barn at this snowy fantasy land, she made a quick antler count.

There was Dasher, and Dancer, and Prancer and Vixen ... eight in all, and Amanda was satisfied. On a snowy December Saturday, all was well in North Pole, N.Y., the little village that even the U.S. Postal Service recognizes as Santa Claus' home.

North Pole is actually a Yuletide theme park in the town of Wilmington about 9 miles from Lake Placid.

It was opened in 1949; within three years, it had its own post office, however, and today it's the place where letters addressed simply to "Santa Claus, North Pole" are delivered year-round.

The park's denizens do their best to keep little kids believing. A talking Christmas tree cheerily greets passers-by; life-sized characters like Frosty the Snowman lead youngsters in a frolic through the snow; and in a little log house, the rotund one himself - with real whiskers - patiently hears youngsters' petitions.

But there's a small rumble from the reindeer barn. Some tiny children have spotted Rudolph, all right - but his nose is moist and black! Aha!

"Rudolph's nose only gets red on a foggy winter night," explains Tom Patnode, who takes care of what he says is one of only two reindeer herds in the continental United States. A crisis of faith averted, the kids go back to patting the friendly creatures.

Children are much more "sophisticated than they used to be," sighs Margo "Mother Goose" Hess, who at 70 years old is in her 18th year at the park. "They just grow out of the believing age quicker."

"It's hard to put the stars in their eyes after they've been here a few times," says general manager Bob Reiss, who presides dressed in a red parka and a jangling, bell-covered hat.

Meg and Eileen, a pair of 9-year-olds from Troy, N.Y., exit the reindeer

Salvadorans tied to crime cover-up

WASHINGTON (AP) — A secret report written for the State Department suggests that El Salvador's defense minister tried to obstruct an investigation into the murders of four U.S. churchwomen, sources say.

And at least one portion of the report discusses an unconfirmed order from a higher authority to soldiers to kill the women, one source said. However, the report concludes there is no compelling evidence linking high officials to the murders.

All the sources insisted Thursday they not be quoted by name in discussing the report, which was written by retired U.S. District Judge Harold R. Tyler Jr.

The report was submitted to the State Department on Dec. 3, with copies going to congressional committees. Members of Congress were permitted to read the document at committee offices.

The sources said the report suggests Gen. Carlos Eugenio Vides Casanova played a role in trying to cover up the 1980 murders, although it does not accuse him of any specific crime.

The four churchwomen — Sisters Ita Ford, Maura Clarke, Dorothy Kazel and Catholic layworker Jean Donovan — were killed Dec. 2, 1980.

At the time Vides Casanova was head of the National Guard. He was promoted to defense minister, the country's highest military post, April 18, 1983.

The report says as part of the cover-up, the soldiers responsible for the killings were transferred from their airport protection assignments to other areas. And they exchanged weapons with other military men, according to the sources who saw the report.

One source said the report suspects that "the current defense minister, Casanova, is the guy who knew about it a couple of days after the murders. The report says it's not sure he was involved in the cover-up, but there's some evidence to think he was. We know he appointed the heads of two military commissions that investigated the murders."

Missing items later found

Two misdemeanor thefts reported Wednesday were cleared Thursday as individuals reported finding the missing merchandise.

City police say that a Kirby vacuum cleaner reported stolen from a car owned by Nita Brown of 1611 28th St. was found by a passerby in the 1600 Block of 28th St. early Thursday morning.

Also found Thursday was a ladder owned by Western Texas College which had been reported stolen from the back of a pickup. The missing ladder had apparently fallen out of the truck on Round Top Road and was returned to the college.

Wreck noted

A single minor traffic mishap was reported in Snyder Thursday.

It occurred at 1:19 p.m. on the parking lot of the First National Bank. According to reports, a 1980 Chevrolet driven by Sharon Smith Edminson of 2408 Ave. L. struck a parked 1978 Chevrolet owned by Mrs. Joe Glass of 2804 42nd St.

Damage to both vehicles was rated minor to moderate.

Britain's Winston Churchill met Joseph Stalin in Moscow in 1942 to reaffirm their countries' alliance against the Axis powers.

One investigation reportedly was for publication and the second for internal National Guard use. Military investigators reported in February 1981 that they could not determine who was responsible for the killings and turned the case over to civilian authorities.

After pressure from the U.S. Embassy, the investigation was revived, and it was reported in May 1981 that five national guardsmen were arrested. But the sources said Tyler concluded that the National Guard hierarchy knew who was responsible soon after the murders.

A source said the report found it "quite probable that Vides Casanova knew what happened and was part and parcel of the cover-up." Two other sources confirmed that the report suggests that the general knew about the alleged participation of the five guardsmen in the killings shortly after the murders.

In discussing the murders, the report said two of the arrested guardsmen informed investigators that their sergeant told them he was ordering the killings on the authority of higher-ups.

But the report found Salvadoran investigators discounted the information and there's no evidence Tyler pursued the development, a source said. Instead, Tyler concludes there's no compelling evidence of involvement by Salvadoran officials.

Several sources said the report concludes that there is strong evidence to believe the five accused guardsmen are guilty.

Rep. Mary Rose Oaker, D-Ohio, has served for three years as the liaison for families of the victims to the United States and El Salvador governments. She says the report contains "startling information which the American people have a right to know" and urged that it be made public.

Troops retake strategic base

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) — Government troops retook a strategic army base on an eastern volcano, but fighting persisted in the area as army units pursued rebels with artillery, warplanes and helicopters, military sources said.

The sources, who requested anonymity for security reasons, said Thursday they had no further details on the battle at Cacahuatque Volcano, a 5,000-foot peak 100 miles northwest of San Salvador.

The volcano has served as a launching base for rebel attacks on the Morazan province capital of San Francisco Gotera, 10 miles to the east. The area north of the city is a stronghold for the leftist rebels waging a four-year war to topple the U.S.-backed rightist government.

About 1,000 rebels seized the peak Wednesday and the army launched a heavy counterattack early Thursday. The guerrillas said they killed 60 government troops, wounded 75 and captured nine. Fourteen rebels were reported killed.

The Defense Ministry only confirmed that 44 soldiers were missing.

In the capital, the Constituent Assembly approved a new constitution Thursday night, ending a 20-month job of writing the new document which will be formally presented Tuesday to interim President Alvaro Magana.

The new document — El Salvador's 36th since 1824 — closely resembles the 1962 constitution, although it strengthens slightly the legislative and judicial branches at the expense of the executive.

Actor is easy to view on TV

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Sherman Hemsley, better known as television's irascible George Jefferson, is easy — as well as fun — to watch, judging by the eighth annual survey from Man Watchers Inc.

Hemsley, along with ABC-TV anchorman Peter Jennings and eight others, was on the group's list of the 10 "Most Watchable Men in the World."

Others selected as easy on the eyeball in 1983 were film star Richard Gere, baseball player Steve Garvey, actors Christopher Atkins, David Hasselhoff, Jon-Erik Hexum and Stacy Keach; "Hour Magazine" host Gary Collins and race car driver Danny Sullivan.

Man Watchers president Suzy Mallory said the list, announced Thursday, was compiled from ballots submitted by 1,000 to 2,000 Man Watchers members — including a few men.

"The only surprise is that we don't have any politicians for 1983, which might not bode well for the 1984 election," she said.

Man Watchers' members didn't seem to go for good looks alone. For example, one Man Watcher wrote of the Canadian-born Jennings: "Love his speaking voice and the way he says 'out' and 'about.'"

Geter on his way home

DALLAS (AP) — Lenell Geter, cleared by a state judge to fly home today to his South Carolina family for Christmas, says he wants to become an advisor to prison inmates after his case is resolved.

The 26-year-old engineer, who was employed at E-Systems Inc. in Greenville before his arrest on armed robbery charges, said Thursday that during his 16 months behind bars he found some prison inmates who probably had not received fair trials.

"There's a very small minority (of inmates) that got a raw deal," he told The Associated Press. "I'm very burdened by that. I've seen men cry. I've heard stories of men who were separated from their families and their wives having to go on welfare for no reason."

Geter was released on $10,000 bond Wednesday after an appeals court granted a request from both prosecutors and defense attorneys for a new trial.

State District Judge John Ovard Thursday waived all travel restrictions on Geter's bond and scheduled a pre-trial hearing for Jan. 30. Geter planned to return home to South Carolina today.

Texas Gov. Mark White, who had urged a speedy study of Geter's appeal, said Thursday at his weekly news conference in Austin he believes the courts "are in the right position now."

"I think the district attorney in Dallas has taken the right steps to ensure there is justice done in the case," White said. "They have an opportunity to review the facts. If there has been a mistake made, I think it's appropriate we correct the mistake."

Geter claims he became a suspect in a string of Dallas-area robberies only because he is black and looked suspicious to an elderly white woman.

Five eyewitnesses testified that Geter was the man who robbed a fast-food restaurant in the Dallas suburb of Balch Springs, but nine co-workers said he was at work on the day of the robbery. Two of the nine — the two who could place Geter at his desk at the hour of the hold-up — did not testify but gave depositions after his conviction and life sentence.

The unusual legal maneuvering that led to his release began Monday when Dallas County District Attorney Henry Wade said public pressure prompted him to agree to a new trial for Geter. Wade also said that if Geter passed a lie detector test, all charges against him would be dropped, completely clearing him.

Geter said he would be willing to take the test if his attorneys approved, but court-appointed defense lawyer Edwin Sigel said he and his colleagues still had reservations about the test.

A polygraph administered last spring produced inconclusive results because of Geter's nervousness, officials said, but he did pass a sodium pentothal "truth serum" test.

Sigel said a decision will be made in January on whether to go ahead with the polygraph.

"We won't do it until we get out of that incarceration mentality. He was in prison for more than a year and that makes you very nervous," he said.

Wade, who Thursday said he has assigned two of his three best prosecutors to the case and ordered an intensive reinvestigation, angrily charged defense attorneys had "welshed" on the lie-detector deal.

"I think it's bad faith," Wade told The Dallas Times Herald. Sigel countered by saying, "We didn't welsh on anything."

Geter was released after several of his co-workers from the aerospace firm drove to Dallas to deliver the bond they raised through personal loans from the E-Systems credit union.

Geter was one of six black engineers from South Carolina whose pictures were circulated to Dallas-area police officials after a Greenville robbery. Geter became a suspect, Greenville authorities said, only after an elderly white woman thought Geter looked suspicious because he frequented a city park after work.

Wade, Sigel and Ovard, whose court has jurisdiction, all asked the 5th District Texas Court of Appeals to remand the case back to Ovard's court for a new trial. A three-judge panel of the court agreed to the request Wednesday.

While in prison, Geter helped teach inmates to read and write and conducted Bible study classes and chess tournaments.

Geter said would probably return to work, possibly at E-Systems, and would be eager to help some of his friends in prison.

"I do want to encourage men as best I can. I don't mind being a resource person and being able to advise the ones who got railroaded. But I can't say now that that I will dedicate myself to that cause," he said.

In Brief

Lucas leads officers to site

BASTROP, Texas (AP) — Bastrop County Sheriff Tommy Moseley said self-described mass killer Henry Lee Lucas led officers this week to the site where the body of an unidentified woman was found in June 1979.

"We did not tell him anything," Moseley said Thursday. "He just showed us right about where it was."

Moseley said more investigation would be done before any Bastrop County charges are filed. He said he would interview Lucas again.

Moseley, who was a trooper for the Texas Department of Safety in 1979, originally found the woman's body in weeds off U.S. 290, about 6.5 miles east of Elgin.

Moseley said he got his first hint that Lucas might be involved in the death when he attended a seminar for law enforcement officials earlier this month in Austin concerning the Lucas cases.

Animal engineering possible

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A new technique that uses modified human genes to convince cells to grow could lead to the birth of rabbits, sheep and dogs that are more than double their normal size, researchers say.

The University of Pennsylvania has applied for a patent on the possible commercial applications of the "enhanced-growth" technology developed in a genetic research project, school officials announced Thursday.

Last year, researchers at Penn and in Seattle teamed up to develop a so-called "Mighty Mouse" that is twice the size of a normal mouse. The researchers now are working on larger species, including rabbits, sheep and dogs, officials said.

Ralph L. Brinster, a professor of reproductive physiology at the university's School of Veterinary Medicine who is carrying out the research project, said there have been no births yet of altered-gene animals larger than a mouse. However, the technique has promise for such commercially valuable animals as cows, pigs and other farm animals, he noted.

Man, woman killed in Abilene

ABILENE, Texas (AP) — A man and woman were shot to death at the rental office of an apartment complex, but the gunman spared two others, police said.

Dear Abby

Judge Says to Teens: Go Home and Grow Up!

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1983 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I am now the father of two small children. When I was a teen-ager, our minister read something from your column that contained a powerful message. It went something like this: "Kids, don't sit around asking where you can go and what you can do for entertainment, go home and do something constructive. Grow up!"

Does this ring a bell? If so, can you locate it and publish it again?

ROCKY MOUNTAIN NEWS FAN, DENVER

DEAR FAN: The item to which you refer was written by Philip B. Gilliam, a juvenile court judge from Denver. It was titled, "An Open Letter to a Teen-Ager." It appeared in my column nearly 20 years ago. And here it is:

"Always we hear the plaintive cry of the teenager: What can we do? ... Where can we go? The answer is, Go home!

"Hang the storm windows, paint the woodwork. Rake the leaves, mow the lawn, shovel the walk. Wash the car, learn to cook, scrub some floors. Repair the sink, build a boat, get a job.

"Help the minister, priest or rabbi, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army. Visit the sick, assist the poor, study your lessons. And then when you are through—and not too tired—read a book.

"Your parents do not owe you entertainment. Your city or village does not owe you recreational facilities. The world does not owe you a living. You owe the world something. You owe it your time and energy and your talents so that no one will be at war or in poverty or sick or lonely again.

"In plain, simple words, grow up; quit being a crybaby. Get out of your dream world and develop a backbone, not a wishbone, and start acting like an adult.

"You're supposed to be mature enough to accept some of the responsibility your parents have carried for years. They have nursed, protected, helped, appealed, begged, excused, tolerated and denied themselves needed comforts so that you could have every benefit. This they have done gladly, for you are their dearest treasure. But now, you have no right to expect them to bow to every whim and fancy just because selfish ego, instead of common sense, dominates your personality, thinking and requests.

"In heaven's name, grow up and go home!"

DEAR ABBY: What should we do when guests drop in uninvited at the precise moment when our favorite television program comes on?

My husband and I never go out on that night because we want to stay home and watch this particular program.

BUGGED IN BOZEMAN, MONT.

DEAR BUGGED: You can either bite your tongue, turn the TV set off and lie through your teeth about how "happy" you are to see the drop-ins, or you can greet them with, "Hello! We were just about to watch our favorite TV program. We hope you like it, too, because we wouldn't miss it for the world."

Then turn up your set so they won't hear you grinding your teeth.

***

CONFIDENTIAL TO MULLING IT OVER IN MANKATO: I agree with your bumper sticker. If you think education is expensive, try ignorance. Education without common sense is a load of books on the back of an ass.

(Every teen-ager should know the truth about drugs, sex and how to be happy. For Abby's booklet, send $2 and a long, stamped (37 cents), self-addressed envelope to: Abby, Teen Booklet, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.)

Passenger in space possible

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a couple of years, a space shuttle could be orbiting Earth with a passenger who won't be flying the craft or conducting an experiment. Essentially, that passenger will be a tourist.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Thursday it is finishing plans to send into space the first person who is neither an astronaut nor a scientist.

The first flight of a shuttle with a space tourist aboard could come as soon as 1985, said NASA Administrator James M. Beggs.

Beggs said the first non-scientist, non-astronaut aboard the shuttle probably will be an author, artist, or journalist.

He said he expected the first such flight within three years, but added that it may come "as early as 1985."

Island gunman is to be evaluated

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND, Texas (AP) — Authorities say a man who held another tourist at gunpoint will be charged with aggravated assault if found to be mentally competent.

The 53-year-old Mount Vernon man, who allegedly claimed to be a former policeman, was being held in the Cameron County Jail without bond this morning.

Authorities say the he held an Oklahoma City man at gunpoint for about an hour Thursday while telling them he had another six people hostage in his camper.

The man was arrested about 10:35 a.m. in Andy Bowie County Park on the north end of the island, Cameron County Chief Deputy George Solis said.

Chief investigator Bill Marquardt of the South Padre Island Police, one of the first officers on the scene, said the gunman and 35-year-old Gary F. Gilbert of Oklahoma City were found about 30 yards apart on the beach.

Gilbert later told officers that he had been stopped by the gunman on the highway and told to drive into the dunes where his truck became stuck.

"Gilbert was not being fired on, but it looked like he had decided not to run across a hundred yards of open sand and possibly get one in the back," Marquardt said. "It wasn't a hostage situation in the usual sense of the word."

The gunman "kept saying there were six people in the camper and there wasn't anybody there. He kept talking about tactical teams and helping to get organized crime off the island," Marquardt said.

The gunman then put his .22 caliber rifle down "for no apparent reason" and officers moved in and took it away from him, said Marquardt.

The gunman told Texas Ranger Bruce Castillo that he was a former policeman in Dallas and showed him a badge and some identification. Marquardt said the man had a rifle with a fully loaded clip containing about 60 rounds.

Another 200 rounds were found in the man's truck. He also had in his possession a fully-loaded small caliber hand gun, Marquardt said.

After he was in police custody, the man "kept talking gibberish. He kept talking organized crime, but there was no one around but that poor guy who was eating sand." Solis said the man would not be charged until the mental evaluation is completed.

Scrooge actions praised

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a tongue-in-cheek defense of his comments about hunger in America, presidential counselor Edwin Meese III suggests that Scrooge wasn't such a skinflint after all and may have overpaid his hapless clerk Bob Cratchit.

The way Meese sees it, old Ebenezer "had his faults, but he wasn't unfair to anybody."

Offering a revisionist interpretation of Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol," Meese told the National Press Club on Thursday that Scrooge "had bad press in his time."

Meese was likened to Scrooge by a radio commentator last week after the presidential adviser told reporters some people "go to soup kitchens because the food is free, and that's easier than paying for it."

Meese made the remark during an interview with The Associated Press and other news services in which he also said there was no authoritative evidence that children go hungry in America.

He expressed hope that the report by a White House task force on hunger, due out in January, would "get to the bottom of some of these allegations that have been unsubstantiated."

During his luncheon speech Thursday, Meese said the administration shows compassion for the poor and is dedicated to spreading economic independence to low-income people.

Meese ended his remarks with a reference to the classic Dickens Christmas tale, suggesting that Scrooge's long-suffering clerk wasn't truly needy.

Walesa calls for reform

GDANSK, Poland (AP) — Lech Walesa, warning of more conflict and upheaval, urged the government to make Solidarity legal again in a speech. Communist authorities barred him from delivering today to commemorate workers' deaths in food price riots.

"We cannot give up the Solidarity of all people, all the downtrodden, all who are fighting for freedom and human rights, all working people," the leader of the outlawed trades union said in a text of the speech made available Thursday.

The government barred him from speaking, as he had intended, at the steel monument outside the Lenin Shipyards in Gdansk where Solidarity was born three years ago.

Today marks the anniversary of 1970 food price riots in which scores of workers were killed.

Walesa said by telephone from his Gdansk apartment on Thursday he would abandon plans to read the speech if — as in the past — the area is sealed off by riot police. But he said he would place flowers at the monument "even if I have to crawl."

The 40-year-old Walesa, winner of the Nobel Peace Prize, did not endorse a call by the Solidarity underground for nationwide protests to mark the anniversary of the riots.

But he said, "The experience of Solidarity shows that sharp and stormy conflicts cannot be avoided in postwar Poland ..."

Walesa said the union "handed the working people a powerful weapon" that, for the first time in Communist Poland, established counterbalances "for the previously uncontrolled state and party apparatus."

"Solidarity offers an opportunity for the rebirth of our country," Walesa said. Solidarity was suspended with the declaration of martial law two years ago and later outlawed.

He proposed a series of reforms without which "our country's political and economic life will go from one upheaval to the next."

The proposals included:

- Separating the state economic system from the political administration.
- Forming strong and independent organizations and unions to serve as a "counterweight" to the government and Communist Party.

—Creating more private enterprises to compete with socialized industry.

—The imposition of greater social control over the police and court systems which, he said, the authorities now "treat as tools in their monopoly of power ... aimed against the public good."

The 2,000-word speech was similar in tone and content to one which Walesa was blocked from giving last year, when authorities detained him and drove him around Gdansk for nine hours to keep him away from the monument.

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Abuse of antacids

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Would you send me your Health Letter on the use and abuse of antacids? I have a hiatal hernia caused by stomach acid, which causes burning in my chest and at times under my left rib.

I have used several antacids, including Tagamet, before bed. I realize I must change my eating habits in the evenings and I wonder if eliminating acid food would help with my problem since surgery is seldom recommended.

DEAR READER — The only reason to use antacids for a hiatal hernia is to neutralize the acid contents of the stomach. Then if the contents leak backward into the lower esophagus they will be less likely to cause irritation.

Tagamet, which is not an antacid, doesn't neutralize acid but does help to prevent the formation of acid in the stomach. There are other similar medicines on the market and others that soon will be marketed.

I'm happy to send you The Health Letter 10-4 on antacids. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

But you should know that you need to do much more to manage any symptoms you are having from esophageal reflux. I presume you have seen a doctor since Tagamet is a prescription drug, but if you have not you should have a careful evaluation.

You need to eat smaller meals and it is important that you have your evening meal at least two hours before going to bed. Give your stomach a chance to empty and you will have less reflux. Coffee, tea, alcohol and cigarettes should not be used.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I just read your column about the person who had leg cramps at night and was taking vitamin E. I also had leg cramps at night and had to stand and walk a few steps. I asked my pharmacist what he would recommend and he suggested a calcium preparation. I have taken a calcium capsule every day for several years and have had no leg cramps. They also make your bones stronger as you get older. I just wanted you to know how I solved the problem of my leg cramps.

DEAR READER — Calcium certainly does stop leg cramps for some people. Also it is important for women in particular to have an increased calcium intake as they get older.

Others get relief from vitamin E. Still others get help from quinine or medicines containing quinine. Some get relief by using potassium if they happen to be low on potassium because of taking diuretics.

Others benefit by stretching their leg muscles before going to bed every night. Lean against the wall so you stretch your heel tendons. Bend at the knees and again stretch those tendons.

Learn to sleep on your side with your toes up and not dropped. The dropped foot position facilitates calf muscle cramps. You may need to put a board at the foot of the bed to hold the covers off your feet. Put a pillow next to the board and prop your feet up to prevent foot drop.

Many readers also say they get relief by wearing warm stockings over the calf. Keeping the leg muscles warm probably helps prevent cramping.

Last troops are leaving

ST. GEORGE'S, Grenada (AP) — The last 80 U.S. combat soldiers have left Grenada along with Maj. Gen. Jack Farris, their commander in Grenada since Oct. 29.

Completion of the withdrawal Thursday night came eight days ahead of President Reagan's promised Dec. 23 deadline for a complete pullout of combat forces.

Col. E.V. Parker was left in charge of non-combat U.S. troops as what he called "a transition commander" for a day or two, and then will be replaced by Col. Arthur Greaves, of the U.S. Army's Military Police.

Greaves apparently will remain on Grenada for an indefinite period as commander of 300 U.S. military personnel, including 150 military police and 150 support troops. A 392-man Caribbean peacekeeping force is also on the island as Grenada proceeds with plans to develop its own police force.

Nearly 5,000 U.S. troops invaded Grenada Oct. 25 for the stated purpose of protecting Americans on the island following the execution of leftist Prime Minister Maurice Bishop and seven other officials in a coup by hard-line Marxist military officers.

The number of U.S. forces on the island peaked at 7,355 on Oct. 31.

The departing GIs were from the Army's 82nd Airborne Division based in Fort Bragg, N.C. The final pullout started Monday when 850 men were flown back to the base.

Young cancer patient helps to light tree

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 7-year-old cancer victim who wanted to help light the Christmas tree that "must be seen all the way to heaven" got her wish at a White House ceremony held to illuminate the National Christmas Tree.

With President Reagan at her side Thursday evening, Amy Benham of West Port, Wash., pressed a button that turned on the lights of the giant living evergreen, which is located on the ellipse behind the executive mansion.

A victim of Hodgkins Disease, Amy made her request in a letter to a foundation that helps chronically and terminally ill children get their favorite wishes.

"The Christmas tree that lights up for our country must be seen all the way to heaven. I would wish so much to help President Reagan turn on those Christmas lights," Amy wrote in her letter to the Make-a-Wish Foundation.

"In my school we learned only about President Washington and President Lincoln. I would like to meet our now President because he is the one that we trust now. He isn't done but I trust him because he loves Jesus just like I do."

Reagan said, "I have always believed that the message of Jesus is one of hope and joy. I know there are those who recognize that Christmas Day is the birthday of a great and good man, a wise teacher who gave us principles to live by."

"And then there are others of us who believe he was the son of God, that he was divine. If we live our lives for truth, for love and for God, we never need be afraid."

Hernando Cortez captured Tenochtitlan, the capital of the Aztec civilization, in 1521, two years after he had been welcomed as the incarnation of the god Quetzalcoatl. In the meantime, the Spanish explorer had won the friendship of the Aztec king Montezuma II and had attacked and absorbed the second Spanish expedition which had been sent to relieve him of his command.

Actor offended by comment

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Charlton Heston claims Screen Actors Guild president Ed Asner characterized him as a "Nazi," but a guild official says Heston misunderstood the remarks in a speech about a proposed merger of two actors' unions.

Heston, himself a former president of the SAG, demanded an apology from Asner and said Thursday he supports a call for Asner's ouster as head of the 54,000-member guild.

The two actors have clashed on whether the Screen Extras Guild should merge with the SAG. Heston opposes the move.

Asner told an SAG meeting Sunday that a 1982 vote on the proposal was defeated in part by "a spirit of chauvinism, a perception, fostered by merger opponents, that actors were a 'master race' among performers and therefore the only ones entitled to the protection of a union contract."

Heston charged Thursday that Asner "characterized those who disagreed as adhering to a master-race philosophy. I take that to mean that he called me a Nazi — not only me but the considerable thousands, including seven past presidents of the Screen Actors Guild, who disagree with him in the extras merger."

SAG headquarters referred a request for Asner comment Thursday to guild spokeswoman Kim Fellner, who termed Heston's remarks "ridiculous."

"The whole brouhaha about the remark in the speech is entirely unwarranted given the remarks that were actually made, in the context in which they were made," Ms. Fellner said. "We're sorry they misunderstood, but we're not sorry for the remarks. There will be no apology forthcoming; none is required; we think this whole thing is ridiculous."

Heston, 60, said he supports a separate demand for Asner's resignation by Actors Working for an Actors Guild, a dissident group that called for a boycott of a recent SAG election.

Asner, 54, star of the old "Lou Grant" TV show, is in his second two-year term as the SAG's president.

Heston said merging the SAG and the SEG's 2,500 members "provides no conceivable advantage for actors."
