Hope Dim For Labor Peace

(By The Associated Press)

DESPITE continuing conferences between management and labor, strikes in the railroad and automotive industries set for next week appeared a virtual certainty Monday.

A federal mediator working to avert a May 11 strike date set by three unions against the nation's railroads reported after separate Monday conferences that "it looks very much like there might be a strike."

Some 190,000 members railroad operating unions would be involved if the strike came off.

UAW, Chrysler Negotiate

In Detroit, the United Automobile Workers union (CIO) continued negotiations for a new contract with the Chrysler Corp. The union last week set a May 12 strike date. It asks a 30 cents an hour wage increase for some 75,000 members.

In the railroad dispute, Frank Douglass, chairman of the National (Railway) Mediation board, said his board would meet with railroad and union officials Tuesday. "If the picture is unchanged Tuesday, those meetings may end our negotiations," Douglass said.

The railroad unions representing engineers, firemen and enginemen, and switchmen, rejected a fact finding board's recommendation for a 15½ cents hourly wage boost.

The six-week-old meat packing industry strike was extended Monday by the CIO Packinghouse Workers union to small plants and branches.

The union claims 90,000 members—employes of Wilson, Swift, Armour and Cudahy—are out on strike. The companies, which last week proposed the workers return to their jobs and accept a fact-finding board's nine cents an hour recommended increase, reported a

Lamesa To Ballot On $1 Million Bond Issue

LAMESA, May 3 (Special) — Lamesans will ballot Tuesday on the proposed issuance of $1,000,000 in city bonds to be used in the completion of the city's water and sewage system expansion program.

These bonds would supplement $350,000 in revenue bonds voted last year for this project.

City Manager J. D. Wilson issued a prepared statement today in which he said that "to complete the water program as planned and to carry out the original expansion plans, your city council feels that it will be necessary to vote additional bonds in the amount of $1,000,000."

Wilson urged "every tax payer" to vote in the election, which has aroused little, if any, active opposition.

The polling place is the City Hall, and the polls will remain open from 8 a.m. uitl 7 p.m. V. Z. Rogers wil serve as election judge.

County Meetings Set Over State Today

Bitter Battles Seen Among Demos Today

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

A LAST-MINUTE exchange of angry words by the leaders of two feuding factions of Texas Democrats Monday indicated a bitter struggle for control of county conventions over the state today.

Republicans likewise will meet in many counties in an equally-bitter fight over control of that party in Texas, and to decide which of several presidential candidates will win support.

The make-up of the state conventions of both parties May 25 will be determined at the county meetings. Results of precinct conventions Saturday chiefly indicated that there will be plenty of fighting at many county sessions.

State Democratic Chairman Robert W. Calvert challenged what he called the "self-appointed" leadership of Woodville J. Rogers, pro-Truman chief. He said Rogers had favored Henry A. Wallace and opposed Harry Truman for the Democratic vice-presidential spot in 1944.

Rogers snapped back that is wasn't so. About half of what Calvert had to say was a "fabrication," Rogers countered, and Calvert's statement indicated he is "scared."

Texas' organization Democrats led by Calvert and Gov. Beauford H. Jester want to send the state's delegation to the Philadelphia convention uninstructed as to candidates, instructed to oppose President Truman's federal civil rights proposals.

The opposition seeks outright instructions for Truman and support of the platform evolved at Philadelphia.

Calvert Opens Fire

Calvert started the convention-eve word-slinging with a sharp attack on Rogers and by saying the pro-Truman Democrats want to turn the party platform over "to northern political bosses."

He said Jester and the state executive committee had made their position clear that they would support the party nominees, "but we don't like some of things that have been going on in our party."

"We want a delegation to Philadelphia uninstructed as to candidates—one which is unwilling to give President Truman, the big city political bosses, the minority labor or racial groups, or anyone else, a blank check to select candidates and write a platform at the natinal convention," Calvert said in a statement issued here.

"Who wants a delegation pledged to Truman?" Calvert asked after noting that the governor, the executive committee and the Young Democrats favor an uninstructed delegation to the state convention in Brownwood May 25. However, most precinct delegates were believed uninstructed.

The GOP meeting is another matter. One faction, led by County GOP chairman John L. Vaughan is expected to face opposition from a group headed by M. D. Temple, chairman of the Lubbock County Republican club, members of which walked out of at least two precinct conventions Saturday to hold rump conventions and name their own delegates.

L. C. Ellis, county Democratic chairman, last night was still awaiting answer to a telegram sent Monday to State Democratic committee headquarters to determine the number of delegates Lubbock county is entitled to send to the state meet.

County Sessions Set Here Today

With prospects for explosive fireworks in the Republican meeting, Lubbock county Democrats hold their county conventions this afternoon at the courthouse to name delegates to state conventions later this month.

The Republicans, split wide open between two rival factions will meet at 2 p. m. in the District courtroom. The executive committee will meet an hour earlier.

Demo Session May Be Quiet

Delegates from the Demo precinct conventions held over the county Saturday meet at 3 p. m. in the courtroom. No unusual action is expected to come from the Democratic meeting, with possible exception of some disagreement over whether to send an instructed or uninstructed delegation to the state convention in Brownwood May 25. However, most precinct delegates were believed uninstructed.

Jet Plane Test Pilot Killed In Takeoff At California Base

WASHINGTON, May 3. (AP) — Howard C. Lilly, 30-year-old test pilot was killed today at Muros Airbase, Calif., while taking off in the Douglas Sky Streak, a single engine jet which holds the world's speed record.

Word of Lilly's death was received by John Victory, secretary of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, the top government agency for aviation research.

The Sky Streak is being used to study maneuvering problems at transonic speeds, the speed of sound, at sea-level is roughly 760 miles an hour.

SCIENTIST SPEAKS TWICE TODAY

Dr. Millikan Explains Harmony Between Religion And Science

By BILL HAMS
Avalanche Staff Writer

"EVERYONE who reflects at all believes in God," Dr. Robert A. Millikan, world famous scientist, author and lecturer, told approximately 250 persons gathered in the Texas Tech recreation hall last night for the second of a four-lecture series at the college.

"That a real atheist should exist at all is the most unbelievable thing to me," he declared, "it is as obvious as breathing that every man who is sufficiently in his senses to recognize his inability to comprehend the problem of existance, to understand whence he came and whither he is going, must in the admission of the ignorance recognize a power, a force, that which is behind existance."

Dr. Millikan based his subject upon the quotation, 'The Fool Hath Said in his Heart There is no God.' He was introduced by C. C. Schmidt, professor and head of the Tech physics department, who outlined many of Dr. Millikan's achievements in the field of science.

Dr. Millikan, chairman of the executive council of the California Institute of Technology, will speak twice today. At 5 p.m. he

Mac Hancock, Sheriff At Morton, Killed

(Special To The Avalanche)

LEVELLAND, May 3—Sheriff Mac Wesley Hancock, 60, of Morton, was killed almost instantly about 4 p. m. Monday six miles west of Levelland on the Levelland-Whiteface highway when his automobile struck the rear of a heavy road maintainer.

The sheriff of Cochran county was returning home from Huntsville where he had taken two prisoners to the state prison. He had arrived in Lubbock about 8 a. m. Monday and spent part of the day in Lubbock while his 1947 Oldsmobile two-door coach was being serviced at a garage, according to Lubbock officers. He was alone at the time of the accident.

Was Veteran Officer

The driver of the combination caterpillar and grader machine, Clem R. Huckaby, of Levelland, was not injured.

A resident of Morton since 1941, Hancock had been sheriff there four years and was seeking re-election this year. He was a veteran peace officer, having served in that capacity for about 32 years.

He had been a resident of Lamesa and Dawson county for 40 years, prior to residing at Morton. He was born in Erath county in 1888.

Car Is Crumpled

According to the highway patrol, who investigated the accident, the automobile crashed into the rear of the machine crushing Sheriff Hancock against the steering wheel and the dash board. There were no skid marks to be found on the highway, and the left rear wheel of the car was along the center stripe, the officers reported. This indicated, they said, that he may have fallen asleep while driving, considering his long trip and that he was facing the sun when the accident occurred.

The steering wheel was broken off, the windshield knocked out, and the front seat forced under the dashboard, they said. A highway patrolman said that the car apparently moved forward about three feet after the impact, and was completely crumpled.

Body Taken To Morton

"It looked like the front of the automobile stopped on impact," he said, "and that the rest of the car

Two Are Held For Investigation

Two women were being held by Lubbock police Monday night for investigation in connection with a shoplifting complaint after their arrest about noon Monday, one of the suspects being caught with a whole ham and a chicken on her person.

Identified by officers as mother and daughter, they had not explained last night how they had obtained more than $150 worth of groceries and clothing of all sorts which was found in their automobile.

Caught Leaving Store

An employee of Furr Food store No. 5, at 1702 Texas Ave., caught the two suspects leaving the store with more than $10 worth of groceries. They had attempted to start a car parked near the store.

Officers said that the older woman, about 48, had hidden from view a ham and a chicken. Other items had also been taken by the 26-year-old woman.

Included in the property found in the car were several women's dresses, hosiery, socks, shoes, a bolt of cloth, underwear, and a large box of groceries.

A third woman was seen in the

H. B. Holdridge, Jr., 15, Hurt In Motor Scooter Accident

H. B. Holdridge, jr., 15, of 2405 Twenty-ninth, was injured about 6 p. m. Monday when his motor scooter collided with the side of a car at Twenty-eighth and Jefferson Ave., throwing him almost through the right rear window of the automobile.

Holdridge suffered a gash on the forehead, in which several stitches were taken, and a possible fractured right knee. X-rays were to be taken at St. Mary's hospital this morning, where he was admitted following the accident.

According to police, the boy apparently did not see the car driven by David V. Lawson, 22, of Lubbock route 7. Lawson was driving west on Twenty-eighth and was almost through the intersection when Holdridge, going south on Jefferson, collided with the vehicle, records showed. The point of impact on the car was the right rear fender.

Five Children Die In Mishap

(By The Associated Press)

AMARILLO, May 3—Five children suffocated today in an abandoned meat market showcase at Dumas.

The children are Charles, Ralph and Allen Nichols, aged 7, 4 and 3; and Patsy and Dennis Hills, aged 6 and 4.

They were found at 3 o'clock this afternoon. They were playing in the showcase early this morning, and the door was blown shut.

Forest Hills, father of two of the children who suffocated, is an oilfield worker for Kerr McGhee oil company. Jack Nichols, the father of the other three, is employed by the Stocker Construction company.

A Dumas physician said the children had been dead about two hours when their bodies were found. The case had been dumped in the rear of the small cottage where the Hills lived.

Taft, Stassen Duel In Ohio

(By The Associated Press)

OHIO Republicans vote their presidential preference today and answer the big question: How many Republican delegates can Harold E. Stassen pick up in Senator Robert A. Taft's home state?

The former Minnesota governor, lately a strong runner in the GOP nomination sweepstakes, is bidding for 23 of the 53 delegates Ohio will send to the convention.

Support Price Boost Favored

Stassen posted tonight a proposal to boost farm price supports as he bid for rural backing in his Ohio presidential delegate battle with Senator Robert A. Taft.

In advance of tomorrow's expected heavy primary balloting, Stassen urged in a prepared radio address that the cost of farm hired labor be included in fixing the floor the government has put under some crops.

This proposal, often made by farm lawmakers, could be expected to raise the floors.

Taft Closes Campaign

Taft closed his campaign at Cincinnati with the statement that he would be "willing to line up with any opponents in a common fight against Communism."

Stassen backers privately claim they may get as many as 19 delegates over the state. Taft supporters won't concede the loss of more than six. Ohio politicians generally say that if Stassen gets 10 or more he can claim a major win.

Stassen is concentrating on the mosts heavily industrialized points in Ohio. His managers hope to cash in there on opposition to the Taft-Hartley labor law co-sponsored by the senator and bitterly fought by labor unions.

Dewey Also Is Busy

If Taft does not make a good showing in his home state, politicians agree his presidential hopes will have been badly hurt. But if he smothers Stassen, the Minnesotan's recent boom may be muffled.

Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York also is doing what he can to head off Stassen.

Dewey, at Portland, began a

TO TAKE NEW POST

WASHINGTON, May 3. (AP)—The White House announced today the resignation of R. Henry Norweb as ambassador to Cuba to assume "another important post." President Truman requested Norweb to return to Washington for consultation in preparation for his reassignment. The brief announcement did not disclose the nature of the new assignment the president has in mind.

Suspect Held In Robbery Of Texas Bank

(By The Associated Press)

HUNTSVILLE, May 3.—A 24-year-old man from Riverside, Tex., was arrested here today for robbery of the New Wayerly State bank.

Sheriff Lloyd Farris of Walker county said $1,924 was recovered. He said a check with the bank indicated this was about $120 short.

Farris identified the man as William Carl Sullivan. He said Sullivan signed a written statement admitting the robbery. He quoted Sullivan as saying he went broke in the cattle business and decided to rob the bank to replace the money.

Car Picked Up

The bank was robbed about noon today. First reports gave the amount of money taken at between $4,000 and $5,000. New Wavely is 12 miles south of here, in the same county.

Farris said Sullivan walked up to highway patrolmen Elmer Nichols and A. L. Bouldin in front of a cafe here about 3 p. m. and told them he understood the sheriff was looking for him.

Earlier the sheriff had picked up a car driven by two persons in which the money and a gun were found. He had gone to Riverside. The patrolmen took William Carl Sullivan there; then to New Waverly, to be viewed by officers of the bank.

License Remembered

The sheriff said charges would be filed here tomorrow.

He said that Leon Bilnoski, vice president of the New Waverly bank, after the robbery recalled that a man answering the robber's description had spent a lot of time in front of the bank a week ago. Bilnoski remembered the license number on a car in which the man drove off.

A check showed the car in William Carl Sullivan's name, the sheriff said. Officers, enroute to Riverside, met the car occupied by two other persons, who knew nothing of the robbery.

The sheriff said Sullivan in his statement had told of trading cars with the man who was driving the machine earlier in the afternoon at Huntsville. He said he had left

Peacetime Draft Gains In House

By J. W. DAVIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 3—The House Armed Services committee voted 28 to 5 today for a peacetime draft designed to help build up a military force of more than 2,000,000 men.

Men from 18 through 30 would have to register, with those from 19 through 25 liable for two years service. Most veterans would be exempt.

Secretary of Defense Forrestal praised the measure as an excellent one to cope with what he has called world tension and others have called the threat of war with Russia.

Prefers Senate Plan

At the same time, Forrestal said he prefers a Senate draft bill which also provides for training of 18-year-olds as reserves. The Senate Armed Services committee worked on this measure in secrecy today.

(The administration has been seeking: (1) a temporary draft and (2) a longer-range system of universal military training under which younger men would be trained in a new system of camps and other institutions. These UMT students would not be in the Army.

(The Senate committee has favored merging the two plans, train-

FAMILY OF FIVE ARE INJURED

Twister Blew House All Over Cornpatch, Storm Victim Says

By TOM STONE
Associated Press Staff Writer

McKINNEY, May 3—Ray Duncan, 49, gashed and beaten by a tornado, lay on a mat on the floor of a darkened hospital here tonight, one arm crooked about his injured 7-year-old son who lay beside him.

These were two victims of the deadly twister that took a death toll of four and hospitalized at least 53 in the neighboring Collin county towns of McKinney and Princeton this afternoon.

Duncan, deep cuts on his head and hand and suffering other injuries, told the story of what happened to him and his family.

"I was at the front door of my farmhouse, east of McKinney, watching the rain and hail. My wife, Ola, she's 45, and our two-year-old baby, Lenda and our son, Dale, 17, were at the house. All of a sudden I was blowed away. The house was blowed all to pieces and the tornado strung it all over the cornpatch.

"That twister blew the floor out from under me and left me on the ground. My wife, the baby and Dale were hurt by debris. Dee

Damage High; Wide Section Demolished

Swath Cut 600 Yards Wide, Two Miles Long; Other Towns Also Hit

(By The Associated Press)

McKINNEY, May 3—A tornadic wind lashed out of a darkened, hail-swept sky this afternoon to batter McKinney and its neighboring community of Princeton. Three persons were killed and 53 were hurt.

Nineteen of the injured remained in McKinney hospitals late tonight. None was considered in critical condition.

Hundreds of homes, buildings and businesses were damaged in both cities. Trees were uprooted, streets were smeared with debris.

The tornado cut a 600-yard wide path, two miles long, through McKinney.

Other Sections Hit

The dead were:

Mrs. Lola Lowry, 77, fatally injured in her McKinney home.

J. H. Maynard of Princeton, struck by lightning.

A 14-year-old boy whose death was confirmed by city hospital attendants at McKinney.

Other twisters struck during the day in other sections of North Texas—in Montague, Hunt and Hopkins counties, causing relatively minor damage.

The big Texas Textile Cotton mill at McKinney was badly damaged. Between 500 and 600 persons were working there when the tornado struck. Some were injured. A number took refuge in the plant's vault.

Associated Press staffer Tom Stone said, after inspecting the great swath of battered homes: "I don't see how so many escaped alive."

Top Floor Demolished

Stone said city, county and state officers labored to quiet the confusion. Power failed at city hospital. Nurses trotted through the darkened corridors with flashlights. The hospital overflowed with emergency patients and many of the injured were placed on mats in the halls.

Mrs. Lorene Smith, who was working at the Texas Textile mill, said glass flew through the plant and that the whole top floor of the factory, where spinning was done, was demolished. She was cut by flying glass.

First reports of casualties, from state police headquarters, reported from 10 to 50 persons dead.

Mayor Walter B. Gantt of Princeton, a community six miles east of McKinney, said tonight the town was without power or phone service. Two churches were damaged, the high school gymnasium was completely destroyed, a large warehouse was leveled, practically every home was damaged. Every business house was damaged to some extent.

Farm fields between Princeton and McKinney were littered with furniture, tin roofs and debris, Gantt stated.

Red Cross Workers Enroute

Princeton's town square was littered with roofing and lumber, a boat belonging to the mayor was carried 200 yards and wrapped around a telephone pole. A brick washeteria was blown down, injuring Mrs. Frank Recer, wife of the owner.

A duplication in names had caused an earlier estimate of four persons dead.

Red Cross volunteers administered to the suffering and homeless of the stricken cities and a Red Cross spokesman said at Dallas tonight that a crew of disaster workers were flying from St. Louis and would arrive in the storm area tomorrow morning.

The tornadic winds centered on the southeastern section of McKinney. There, many homes were leveled or knocked from their foundations.

National Guard Called Out

James Carey of McKinney said he saw the tornado come out of the west, lash at the edge of Princeton, then loop back to strike his home town. Lyman D. Robinson, Collin county superintendent of schools, said he believed the stormwind was not a tornado but a heavy wind.

Ambulances from Dallas and surrounding communities answered the emergency call. A few hours after the storm, traffic on highway 77 was lined bumper to bumper, for 28 miles south to Dallas.

National Guardsmen assisted state police in the storm area tonight,

Second Twister Slashes Through Oklahoma

Tornadoes Leave 23 Dead In Six States

(By The Associated Press)

DEATH - DEALING tornadoes, stirred up by spring's changing weather, added Texas to their list Monday with at least three killed for a 48-hour toll of 23 dead and more than 156 injured in six states.

Oklahoma, one of the states struck Saturday night, received a fresh blow. A tornado hit the center of the town of Caney in southwest Oklahoma, but a few-minutes warning enabled the residents to take refuge in storm cellars.

The postoffice, a theater and several stores and homes were destroyed.

Violent windstorms hit neighboring Coleman, Mill Creek and Sulphur in rapid succession. Three persons were reported injured.

Five States Battered

The winds scourged Oklahoma, Missouri, Kansas, Kentucky and West Virginia in a west-east course which started Saturday.

Heavy rains poured additional misery on survivors in hard-hit West Virginia after the winds abated.

Truman Says World's Future May Be Determined This Year

WASHINGTON, May 3. (AP) — President Truman said today this year "may well determine the world's future."

The chief executive did not specify what events he had in mind.

But in a message of greeting to the AFL Upholsterers' International convention, Mr. Truman wrote:

"You are meeting here in a year which may well determine the world's future, and whether liberty loving people everwhere are to remain secure in the freedoms they have gained through the centuries. We in the United States are determined that their way of life—and our way—shall not perish from the earth.

Green Sees Political Upset

"I know the upholsters and all good Americans will fully and wholeheartedly support the course which has been charted for the benefit of humanity and the preservation of the rights of free people."

AFL President William Green told the same gathering that there will be a "startling political overturn" in the November elections "if prices continue to go higher and smug industrial leaders continue to deny compensatory wage increases."

Pointing to the GOP primary victories of Harold E. Stassen, Green added in his prepared address:

"I am offering no brief or endorsement for Mr. Stassen, but the fact that he is proving more popular with the rank and file of Republicans than his old guard opponents appears to me to show which way the political trend is swinging in this country."

Congress' Record Blasted

Green labeled the record of the 80th Congress as a "collosal failure." He added:

"A Strange coalition of reactionary Republicans and equally reactionary southern Democrats has teamed up to support every legislative attack against labor and every legislative favor for big business.

"They refuse to go along with even partial restoration of price controls and at the same time vote a tax bonanza to the wealthy. They block progressive improvement of our social security system and then vote to deprive newsboys and other helpless groups of even the meager protections of the existing system."

Of Henry A. Wallace's third party candidacy, the AFL chief asserted:

"There used to be a time when some liberals in Washington regarded Wallace as a lamb, but he has now been exposed to the world as a sheep on a leash from Moscow."

The voting machine was first used in a New York City election in 1892.

Soviet Army Officer Believed Sought Protection Of British

BERLIN, May 3 (U.P.)—Reliable sources reported today that Lt. Col. Y. D. Tassoev of the Soviet army, who disappeared April 23 in Bremen, had sought "protective custody" of British authorities.

The Russians had charged the Americans with kidnapping Tassoev, whose name had been listed in earlier official reports as J. D. Tassajew.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay said Saturday that no Americans had kidnapped "that officer or any other Russian." He said the officer was not and never had been in American custody.

The sources which reported that Tassoev had sought protective custody under the British denied any knowledge that he had been taken to Washington, as reported in some quarters.

High U. S. Army authorities said it was highly unlikely that he could have been taken to the United States by British agents without their being informed.

Ann Jeffrey To Test Wartime Regulation Requiring Soldier's Consent For Divorce

BY LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, May 3—Al Jolson has signed that contract with Harry Cohn for another Jollson story, as yet unnamed, but when I said, "goody, goody, now Larry Parks will have the part, and the fans will stop crying on me" —I was told not to get excited. Larry Parks will not be in the Jolson picture until the lawsuit is settled. Cohn won the first round in the Parks suit, but it is being appealed.

Sidney Buchman will produce the new Jolson epic because he was largely responsible in getting the thing settled with Jolson. Even so, he will have to go some to out-produce Sidney Skolsky, who made the original.

Here is one for the book: Carl Brisson has to go into court and prove that he owns the rights to his own life story before his son, Freddie, and his daughter-in-law, Rosalind Russell, can film it.

This is what happened: Carl gave a seven-year option on his life story to the Norkisk Film company in Denmark, two years before the Nazis occupied the country. The seven years have run out, but Norkisk will go into the Danish court with the claim that five years of German occupation shouldn't count.

Brisson says Norkisk has no case, because the company continued to make films during those five years.

Divorce Law Test Set

Chatter in Hollywood: There have been rumors all week that the James Masons had sneaked into town and were living in the house they rented in Benedict canyon. But I can't believe it, because they cannot come into town until the litigation with David Rose is settled. If they should, they would very likely be served with papers.

Ann Jeffrey's divorce suit this summer will get the attention of the legal fraternity all over the country and for a technical reason.

Anne will test the regulation established during the war which prevents a wife from obtaining a divorce from a man in uniform without his consent. She filed for a divorce from Captain Robert Serena, of the regular army, last fall, but he refused to accept the papers.

Since they have not lived together for several years and there is no chance of a reconciliation, she will now try through the courts to obtain a reversal of the wartime congressional act or to have an exception made in her case.

Kathleen Winsor says that when their divorce comes up, she will be the one who will file, and not Artie Shaw.

My goodness, when I think of all the publicity and all the talk when they got married—and remained together for less than two years—I wonder why people don't wait before they decide they can't live without each other, and rush into marriage.

Miss Winsor will spend a year writing a new novel, which is nothing like "Amber," but a modern love story.

Dempsey Escorts Taylor

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Linda Christian, with four men, was the center of attraction at a local cafe the other eve. One of the Christian gal's escorts was, of course, Tyrone Power.

Otto Preminger, at the same cafe, with pretty redhaired Arlene Dahl on his arm.

Joe Drown, hotel magnate, who bought Marion Davies' beach home, is calling it ocean house. He has converted it into an ultra-exclusive beach hotel, and plans a big opening the last of this month.

Freddie March, who was seriously ill in London after he arrived there, is reported recuperating. He underwent an operation before he sailed for Europe, and his illness was a relapse.

Saw Frances Gifford having dinner with Benny Thau and some other friends, and she looks simply wonderful.

Estelle Taylor and Jack Dempsey together again at the Dells. I still believe that Estelle is, and always will be, head woman in Jack's life.

A strange twosome together at the Fox and Hounds was Yvonne De Carlo and Nils Granlund. Wonder if Granny was trying to sign Yvonne for a show?

Eddie "Rochester" Anderson's 19-year-old son, Billy, track star at UCLA, is going to try for the Olympic team, and he is a hot contender. Eddie is literally bursting his buttons over the boy.

MRS. E. W. MUSTIAN

WHERE OTHER MEDICINES FAILED, RETONGA GAVE HER WELCOMED RELIEF

"It Was All I Could Do To Force Down A Bite Or Two," Says Mrs. E. W. Mustian In Praising Retonga For Relief It Gave Her From Distress Of Indigestion, Gassy Stomach.

"As my husband said, 'Retonga is one medicine we will be glad to recommend to anyone'," happily states Mrs. E. W. Mustian, who lives in her own home with her husband and four children at 2023 N. E. 28th St., Fort Worth, Texas. A member of the Baptist Church, Mrs. Mustian helps her husband in his service station and parts business. She was born and raised in Nacogdoches County, Texas. She gratefully adds:

"During the past year or so it was all I could do to force down a bite or two at meal times. Food just seemed to stop in my chest and not go down. Gas pressure was so bad that it seemed to cut off my breath and at night I would have to get up out of bed because I felt like I couldn't breathe. I seemed to be constantly bloated with gas and suffered untold torture from muscular aches and pains in my shoulders and arms. For two or three hours in the mornings I felt fine, but the rest of the day was a drag for me. I seemed to be full of toxic poisons and just felt awful.

"I don't believe anyone could be more thankful for this grand medicine than I am," continued Mrs. Mustian. "Retonga gave me the relief that all other medicines I have tried failed to give me. My appetite is so good now that I don't stop at a bite or two and eat anything I want. I can take a good, full breath anytime now and not be bothered by that full feeling. Those awful aches and pains have let up and I sleep restfully at nights and feel good all day long. I will be glad to personally tell anyone about Retonga."

Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, borderline Vitamin B-1 deficiency, and constipation. The active ingredients of Retonga are purely herbal, combined with Vitamin B-1. You can get Retonga at all good drug stores, including Mark Halsey Drug Stores. Adv.

MacArthur Says Japs Coming To Cherish Democratic Privileges

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
INS Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, May 3—Gen. Douglas MacArthur declared in Tokyo today that the Japanese people, only recently emancipated from automatic rule, are becoming fully adjusted to the basic principles of Democracy.

The Allied supreme commander's statement came in conjunction with ceremonies attending the first birthday of Japan's new constitution, an elaborate affair in which Emperor Hirohito played an active part.

Hirohito was an honored guest of the upper house of the Japanese parliament, presiding over the 15-minute ceremony to honor the new constitution.

Emperor Sits At Attention

He did not speak, but sat stiffly at attention while the prime minister and other government dignitaries delivered brief speeches.

Gen. MacArthur's 1,500-word speech was then delivered to the parliament. He declared:

"The Japanese people are coming to understand, apply and cherish the rights and privileges conferred by their new constitution."

He warned against appeasement of the "forces of despotism composed of willful minorities."

The general declared further:

"These forces are on the march in every land."

In pointing out that "all humanity today is faced with the fateful choice between Democracy and despotism," the general did not directly mention Russia, but he spoke of the minorities of "the extreme left or of the extreme right" as being equally engaged in pressure to "destroy freedom."

Urges Spiritual Strength

Gen. MacArthur declared that the defense against such minority pressures "lies more than all else in the spiritual strength of the people and the unyielding firmness of their chosen leaders." He continued:

"For the lessons of contemporary history make it unmistakably clear that when peoples or their leaders shrink or yield before such pressure or permit invisible controls to be superimposed upon representative government by any minority groups whatsoever, governments fall and freedom perishes."

The general declared that Japan today is a land of "relative calm and purposeful effort in a turbulent and confused surrounding."

He lauded what he termed the stamina, resiliency and determination of the Japanese people.

TEMPLE MAN CLAIMED

TEMPLE, May 3. (AP)—The Rev. Joseph Hegar, 60, who has held numerous Texas pastorates, died here last night following a cerebral hemorrhage suffered in Austin Friday. At the time of his death, he was minister of the Czech Moravian Brethren church here, business manager and circulation manager of the Bratrske Listy and Brethren Journal, and vice president of the Synodical committee of the Czech Moravian church.

WINS BEST DECORATED BICYCLE PRIZE—Annette Rose, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rose, 2812 Twenty-first, won first prize in the bicycle parade Saturday for having the best decorated girl's bicycle. Her bicycle was decorated like a motor boat. She is pictured above standing beside her wheel. She won a $50 bicycle, given by Sears, Roebuck & Co.

Judging Contest To Be Held Today

The Fourteenth annual Block and Bridle club livestock judging contest will be held all day tomorrow beginning at 10 a.m. in the Texas Tech livestock pavillion, R. C. Mowery, head of the animal husbandry department, has announced.

Approximately 65 junior animal husbandry students are entered in the competition.

The event will be a standard inter-collegiate contest in size with three classes of beef cattle, three classes of horses, three classes of hogs and three classes of sheep to be judged. The number of contestants is the largest in the history of the contest at Texas Tech.

The national Block and Bridle club, of which the Texas Tech chapter is a member, will award a gold medal to the individual making the highest score in the entire contest. The Tech chapter will award four books to the high individual including "Beef Cattle, Their Feeding and Management", by Snap; "Pork Production," by Smith; "The Western Horse," by Gorman; and "Sheep Science," by Kammlade.

Four prominent agriculturists will judge the contest including, Quinton Williams, superintendent of the soil conservation district at Pampa and high individual on the winning team in the international livestock judging contest in 1929; J. P. Smith, Panhandle, a 1935 graduate of Texas Tech and member of the winning team in the international meet in 1934; Euel Liner, Lubbock, Texas Tech graduate of 1932; and Lewis Nance, Post, Texas Tech international team in their senior years.

"The contest will have especially keen competition since it will indicate some of those students who will be strong contenders for the senior livestock judging teams in the fall," Mowery stated.

Results of the contest will be announced and awards will be made at the annual Block and Bridle banquet to be held May 20.

Post Stampede Dates Changed

POST, May 3. (Special) — The dates of the 1948 Post Stampede and Rodeo have been set up to May 20-23 inclusive to avoid a second annual conflict with the professional rodeo sponsored by the American Business Club in Lubbock.

The sudden enforced change of dates found the Post citizenry ready to pitch in and make the 1948 show the "biggest and best in history and truly the Fastest Show in the West."

Merchants started putting welcome banners on their building fronts on Thursday and by this week the town was fully decorated in rodeo regalia. Booster trips by chartered bus are being scheduled to begin in the near future.

Dances Are Set

This year's show will introduce several features never before included in the Post Stampede. A dance pavilion is now under construction and will be ready Saturday, May 8 for the first free pre-rodeo dance. Another free dance will be given Saturday, May 15 at the pavilion on the rodeo grounds. On Wednesday night May 19, the regular rodeo dances will get under way. Dances will also be given the nights of May 20, 21 and 22.

Lewis Blair, well-known bull fighting clown who travels with the Bill Lyons rodeo stock, has been engaged for the rodeo performances.

Bill Lyons' stock will be fresh from a winter's rest and in shape to tussle with the toughest of cowboy contestants.

Three thousand dollars will be awarded the winners of the rodeo contests.

Each evening's performance through Saturday, and the Sunday afternoon performance, May 23, will be preceded by a parade. A highlight of the show, as always, will be the Cowgirl Sponsor contest.

Complaints Dismissed Against Braniff Line

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics board dismissed today complaints filed by Pan American Airways and Pan American-Grace Airways against Braniff Airways, which is preparing to compete with them on South American routes.

The Pan American companies, pioneers of international airline operations, asked the board to suspend Braniff's certificate for five years. They said the additional service would be unduly costly in mail pay.

Braniff, with headquarters at Dallas, was given a route to South America in 1946 at the direction of President Truman after the CAB was unable to select a carrier. The board had decided that an airline should be certificated, but split on which one should be named.

The CAB heard arguments last week on whether it legally could dismiss the complaints without hearing. Today's order answered that question in the affirmative.

Of 900,000 people eligible for Social Security, only 288,000 have applied because they cannot afford to retire and live on Social Security.
—Henry Morgenthau.

WOULD YOU WORK 5 YEARS for $6.15 a month?

If you are now age 35 and have earned and continue to earn at least $3,000 a year under Social Security, at age 60 you will be entitled to a benefit of $50.25 a month. Payments will begin when you are age 65. If you continue to earn $3,000, and work right on until you are 65, you will get $6.15 a month more from your Social Security. But would you work five years longer for $6.15 a month more?

Chances are, you couldn't live on $50.25 a month—or $56.40 either, for that matter. Chances are, you couldn't afford to quit. But you can afford to quit when you are 60 if you supplement your Social Security now, while you are earning a steady income. Which would mean the most to you—five more years of labor, or five years sooner in which to start taking life easy?

You can supplement your Social Security benefits with Southwestern Life Insurance to guarantee yourself an income of $100, $150, $200 a month—or for any amount you wish—and quit when you are 60! There's a Southwestern Life retirement plan to fit every pocketbook. Let me show you today how to combine your Social Security benefits with Southwestern Life Insurance. The sooner you hear the facts, the more you will know about how easily and conveniently you can combine life insurance with Social Security.

SYNONYMOUS with the arrival of the first robin in Gainesville, is the beginning of the circus season. The history of the organization is rather thoroughly known. It began as an extra-activity of the Little Theater group in the spring of 1930 when a group of friends and neighbors who had a yen for the circus got together and staged one. It was so popular to performers and spectators alike that it was repeated in 1931 and made its first out-of-town appearance at Denton. During the intervening years, 235 performances have been witnessed by more than half a million persons throughout the Southwest.

The performers work to perfect their acts, spending months and months in rehearsals. More than 125 people will participate and their program here will feature aerial, acrobatic and equistrienne numbers.

THERE will be trained horses, ponies, including Peruna, the little Shetland pony that was mascot for two years of the famous SMU mustangs, dogs, monkeys and clowns.

Spectators will see tight wire walkers, bareback riders, girls on the flying trapeze, tumbling acts and the tiny sized car in which twelve clowns are mysteriously placed will be there.

Lawyers, doctors, business men, clerks, housewives, soda dispensers, school teachers, delivery boys and students in Gainesville don their costumes, put on circus paint and enjoy the thrilling life under the Big Top. Some of the girls in the tumbling acts started their circus careers as grammar school girls and now are either high school or in junior college students.

There is an air of the professional about the acts. The aerialists for instance, trained with members of the flying acts of Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus.

Lubbock is one of twelve cities in which the circus has engagements this season.

TAKING PICTURES

WITH graduation time approaching again and summer weddings just around the corner, not to speak of vacations beginning in a few weeks, the favorite picture time is upon us. The time to take a picture is when you are looking like one.

If hair is washed and waved a day or two before the sitting, the results will be rewarding and more natural appearing than if you go directly to the studio from the beauty shop's hair drying machine.

If you get to bed early the night before the shutter clicks and give yourself plenty of time for an especially careful make-up job, you will have little to fear when you face the birdie.

A recent article on this subject suggests that you follow the contours of the mouth in applying lipstick for the camera, for a natural clean-cut look. And a light lipstick is better than a dark one, if you would avoid a heavy effect.

Lubbock And South Plains School Pupils Exhibit Art Work At West Texas Museum

Approximately 225 original pictures, drawings and designs are on exhibit today in the Tenth Annual Children's Art exhibition at West Texas museum on the Tech campus. The works of art, submitted by Lubbock and South Plains public school pupils from grades one through eight, will remain on display at the museum until May 21 for examination by the public.

A grand prize, 14 certificates of merit and a number of honorable mentions will be awarded for the best work in the grade represented in the exhibit. The pictures will be judged by a special jury, not yet named, on Saturday, May 8, and the announcement of prizes will be made on Sunday, May 9.

Contributions Reduced

First and second place certificates of merit will be awarded in each of the first seven grades, with seven and eight being lumped together for judging purposes, it was announced today by Robert Lockard, a member of the department of architecture at Texas Tech.

A smaller number of contributions has been received for the exhibit this year, Lockard said, because of the prohibitive cost of art materials.

All works accepted for the school exhibit have been produced by South Plains school children during the 1947-48 school year or summer months. Drawings from life, local scenes and purely imaginative ideas are predominant in the display, and all copies, tracings, and drawings made from other work in imitative modes have been eliminated as nearly as possible.

Judging Points Listed

Important points which judges will consider Saturday in evaluating the pictures are originality, sincere and childlike approach, pleasing color arrangement and design, appropriate use of the medium for the subject, and absence of adult influence.

Public school teachers, through whose influence and cooperation the display has been made possible, have expressed the hope that the exhibit will bring a genuine bond-in-art between parents, teachers, children and the general public that will be of value to the community.

The display may be seen at the museum Monday through Saturday from 9 to 12 a. m. and from 2 to 5 p. m. Sunday museum hours are 3 p. m. to 6 p. m.

THREE-RING SHOW DUE FRIDAY

Gainesville Circus To Feature Top Acts By Educated Horses

Fine horse flesh will be much in evidence as one of the many features of the Gainesville Community circus which presents its three-ring show in four performances—matinee and night at the fair grounds here Friday and Saturday. The two-hour program includes a variety of acts by educated horses and ponies represented as among the best in circus circles.

Foremost among the acts is Vern Brewer's famous eight-horse Liberty troupe, which represents the acme of horse training. This act has been a part of the circus for several years, and was featured in the Rose Bowl circus at Pasadena before 60,000 people on July 4, 1946.

Shetland's Will Perform

A trio of highly educated dancing horses will be presented by Gerry Murrell, Portis M. Sims, and A. B. Garvin, and concluding this remarkable demonstration of equine intelligence, there will be the ever-exciting and thrilling steeplechase, with riders leaping their steeds over high barriers on the hippodrome track.

For the kiddies there will be dozens of handsome little Shetland ponies, including Peruna, for two years mascot of the Southern Methodist university Mustangs. They perform amazing drills in military groups of six, and likewise appear in the rings with dog and monkey riders in bareback exhibitions.

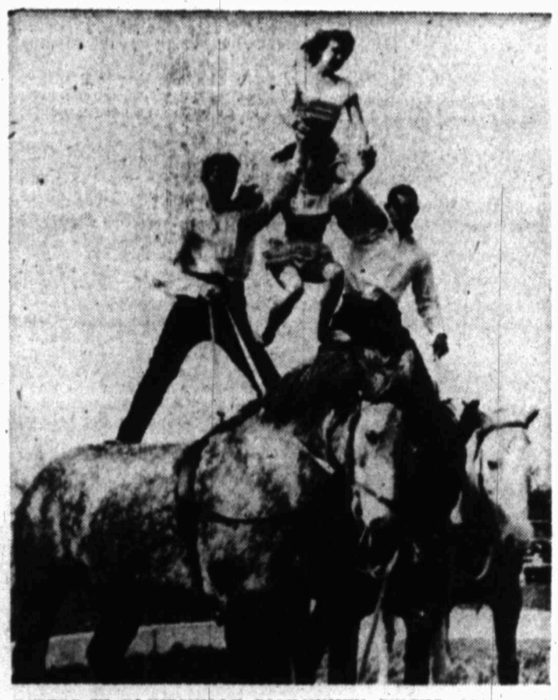

There are ponies that mount pedestals, that waltz around the ring, that perform on the teeter-totter, and Sims in one act presents a huge horse and a tiny pony in an especially interesting exhibition of precision training.

Big Top Seats 3,000

All the performing animals appear in the opening extravaganza "Spangleland Fantasy," which is closely followed by an equine pageant "The Garland Entree," in which many riders guide their steeds in an intricate drill through a bower of flower-decked garlands.

The circus' own huge fireproofed big top, seating 3,000 persons, will be set up at the fair grounds, and the parking area is to be available.

Tickets are on sale at the Varsity Book store at 1305 College Ave., and in the lobby at the Hilton Hotel. Tickets also are available from members of various women's clubs of the city, and from members of the Lions club.

RIDERS IN GAINESVILLE COMMUNITY CIRCUS—Masters of the equestrian art are bareback riders of the Gainesville Community circus, headed by Jimmy McClendon, Pat Reagan and Lawrencine Davis. The bareback set is one of 100 features in the two-hour circus performance to be presented in three rings at the fair grounds here Friday and Saturday, matinee and night, under sponsorship of the Lubbock Women's club and the Lions club.

Fort Worth Man Speaks By Recording At Own Funeral

FORT WORTH, May 3 (U.P.)—Fear of death is groundless, George Stephens, 75, said at his funeral yesterday.

Stephens, who died Friday, spoke at his funeral by means of a recording he made four years ago. The record had been given a Fort Worth funeral home with instructions to be played at his final rites.

In a low but distinct voice, Stephens slowly said that the "prospect of the end has been a dreadful prospect." Fear of death, h added, is responsible for much of the hell in the world.

"We are now beginning to see that this fear is groundless because spiritual consciousness (the real man) knows nothing of death, dissolution or grave," Stephens said.

Piano selections and vocal solo preceded the recording. The casket remained closed during the services. Stephens' body, as he instructed, will be sent to the University of Texas Medical school in Galveston for scientific use.

AUSTIN, May 3 (AP) — State health officer Dr. George W. Cox said today Texans should not be alarmed over reports that fresh fruits and vegetables are possible carriers of polio.

"There is absolutely no evidence that the disease is spread in this manner, Dr. Cox said.

The health officer said he had heard that a Houston physician had speculated on the possibility that polio is spread by fruits and vegetables.

Jack Drain was master of ceremonies and the group included Terry Sanders, Sharon Haney, Maxine McCollum, Jackie Reese, Martha Cudd, Gene Roy Powers, Edd Sides, Pinky Pinkston and Burl Hubbard.

Taylor To Fight Alabama Charge

WASHINGTON, May 3 (U.P.) — Sen. Glen Taylor of Idaho, fighting mad over his arrest in Birmingham, Ala., said today he would carry to the Supreme court his battle against the city's segregation law.

The senator, who is Henry Wallace's third party vice presidential candidate, said he would return to Birmingham tomorrow for his scheduled trial on a disorderly conduct charge.

He was arrested Saturday night after attempting to enter a conference of the Southern Negro Youth congress through a door marked "negroes." He was fingerprinted and then released under $100 bond.

Taylor, who accused city police of manhandling him, said the Birmingham segregation law was unconstitutional and that he was "prepared to carry it to the U. S. Supreme court."

Different View Taken

In Birmingham, however, police commissioner Eugene Conner pointed out that Taylor was not charged with specific violation of the segregation law but with disorderly conduct. The charge presumably will be pinned on his insistence on entering the meeting place through the negro entrance after a policeman warned him against it.

Taylor said one of the policemen hit him with his elbows while others "shoved me bodily" into an automobile for the ride to the police station.

His arrest was denounced by Wallace.

"This," Wallace said in Kansas City, "dramatizes the hypocrisy of spending billions for arms in the name of defending freedom abroad while freedom is trampled on here at home."

Campaign Manager Speaks Out

In New York, C. B. Baldwin, Wallace's campaign manager, called on President Truman to "protect the constitutional rights of Sen. Taylor and the people of Alabama." He said Taylor's arrest was "outrageous" and typical of the "arrogance of the white supremacists."

Clark Foreman, head of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare, said incidents such as Taylor's arrest are "clear evidence of the need" for a federal civil rights program.

"Those Alabama politicians who have been attacking President Truman's (civil rights) recommendations should be called upon to state how they intend to guarantee constitutional rights of Americans in Alabama," he said.

Disastrous Fire Prevented On Navy Tanker At Corpus Christi

CORPUS CHRISTI, May 3 (U.P.) —A disastrous fire from flying sparks aboard a navy tanker was averted when crew members and city firemen wet the decks to prevent the gasoline cargo from igniting, fire chief John G. Carlisle said today.

Chief Carlisle said the fire broke out in a boiler uptake about 10:30 p. m. yesterday. He said the fire aboard the tanker Mission San Juan was probably caused by an accumulation of soot or from chemicals used in cleaning.

"The fire drove sparks up the stack onto the deck where ethyl gasoline was being pumped aboard," Chief Carlisle said.

U. S. Gives Okay To Advance Of Funds For Chinese Aid Program

WASHINGTON, May 3 (INS)—The United States government today set machinery in motion to permit an immediate advance of $338,000,000 to China for relief and economic rehabilitation under provisions of the foreign aid act.

Still under discussion between the two governments is extension of an additional $125,000,000 to provide for transport of military surplus equipment to China.

The State department made public an exchange of notes between Secretary of State Marshall and Chinese Ambassador Wellington Koo.

Co-operation Is Pledged

Koo agreed that the economic assistance would be handled under specified conditions. He further promised that the Chinese government would start negotiations at once on a bilateral agreement covering all phases of the impending aid.

Marshall advised Koo that the United States intends to send a special mission to China to oversee the application of this economic assistance.

The ambassador promised "fullest co-operation" on the part of his government with this mission.

Pending conclusion of an overall agreement between the two countries, China agreed to set aside funds in Chinese currency equal to such assistance as might be designated an outright grant.

The U. S. mission would have this Chinese currency fund at its disposal to defray operating costs of the mission in China.

CIO Official Believes Precinct Meetings Are 'Weakness' In Democratic Structure

BY WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

Are precinct conventions a weakness in our Democratic structure?

Robert Oliver, state director of the CIO thinks so. Oliver, a husky, greying fellow of about 40 who hails from Corpus Christi, happened to be floor leader of the Democratic precinct preliminaries we attended Saturday.

It was precinct 133 at Dallas and 1,500 qualified voters could have attended.

Thirty-two persons turned out. "That's the weakness," Oliver said. "People should make themselves heard at precinct conventions but they aren't interested enough to show up."

Eight Negroes Sign Up

Oliver handled the proceedings deftly and the whole thing was over in 30 minutes.

About 28 persons signed up as delegates to the county convention which will be held tomorrow. These included eight negroes who sat by themselves in the school auditorium.

Oliver read a resolution that nominees of the Democratic party should be supported. It passed without a dissenting vote. Then came time for the precinct to elect a chairman to the county convention. Oliver was nominated, and a man moved that the nominations be closed.

But just then a Miss Jean Rogers got up and proposed the name of a man seated next to her. She hoped, she said, that she wasn't out of order. Oliver said no, of course not, that he would be glad to have opposition as precinct chairman. Then Miss Rogers said she wasn't trying to get the man in as a candidate for chairman—she just wanted him added to the list of county convention delegates. Oliver was elected chairman and Mrs. Melody Tune Douthit was named secretary.

Physician Makes Announcement

Oliver then asked if anyone had anything to say further and it was at this point that Dr. Morris F. Waldman, an ear, nose and throat physician, got up and started talking about zoning. It developed that he was not satisfied with the zoning in his section of the city and he had organized the Precinct 133 Civic association, "because we've got to fight."

Dr. Waldman, clad in a sports outfit, invited all the people to come to a meeting, saying, "if you have any idea of what you want to fight for bring your fighting clothes."

After the meeting adjourned, Miss Rogers, a young woman who seemed to have an English accent, came down to the front of the auditorium and complained to Oliver and Miss Douthit that:

"I thought this was the place where we could speak our political views."

Oliver said mildly: "You had a chance to say anything you wanted to."

Miss Douthit spoke up: "If you wanted to say something for Mr. Truman, why didn't you?"

"I didn't want to say anything for Mr. Truman," Miss Rogers said.

She pulled out several copies of a statement and laid them on a table. "This is what I wanted to say," she said. Then she walked out.

We took the time to read her statement. It said Mr. Truman has the diplomatic vision of a gopher.

BRITISH TAX PURCHASING POWER

Government Fiscal Policy On Businesses Believed Harmful

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Staff Correspondent

The neat trick of the Labor government in Great Britain of supplementing loans and grants from the United States with a capital levy on her own thrifty nationals should be carefully evaluated.

Apparently the design is to curtail the purchasing power of the British well-to-do for one year by giving them a tax bill in excess of 100 per cent of their income, causing them to sell assets in order to meet their tax liabilities.

The actual market technique of finding buyers for securities which will be in forced liquidation has not been clearly delineated.

U. S. Levies Cited

While American economists may be shocked by the British tampering with the principle of prudent fiscal policy, we should not overlook the mote in our own eyes. The rigid adherance over here to normal depreciation policy in this inflationary period when the cost of replacement of tools has skyrocketed entails what is tantamount to subtle and concealed capital levy.

Corporations are forced to overstate their current profits by understating costs incidental to the wearing out and becoming obsolete of tools of production and other corporate facilities. Permitted depreciation continues, as usual, on the basis of original cost, blithely ignoring the fact that replacement cost is about double.

The effect of this is to make current depreciation funds insufficient for replacement of worn out tools. It is in effect a process of putting established companies out of business through gradual concealed liquidation.

Law Modification Asked

In technical terms, depreciation is a charge against earnings before taxes, that is to say, the allowable depreciation is deducted from corporate income subject to the corporate income tax. To the extent that current depreciation is insufficient for replacement, the additional supplementary funds have to be provided by the corporation out of the residue of net income after taxes, or through borrowing or the sale of additional securities.

In view of this dilemma, which has been marked by an insufficiency of new venture capital, William Townsend, head of Townsend-Skinner & company, analysts of economic data for banks, has proposed a modification of the tax law.

"If you change one word in the terminology upon which the treasury regulations are based and allow industrial corporations," Townsend proposed, "to set up 'replacement' rather than 'depreciation' reserves, you will confer a great boon on the businessmen of this country, who are, literally, paying taxes at present on a part of their operating expense.

"The purpose of the depreciation reserve should be to insure the continuous operation of merchandising and manufacturing plants where use and obsolescence make replacements constantly necessary.

"And because replacement costs and original costs were so nearly the same and the original cost was already on the record, it became the habit and practice to set up these reserves under the term 'depreciation' and, of course, it is axiomatic that nothing can be depreciated beyond zero.

"With the present replacement costs about twice the original cost of the equipment in use, it is obvious that the reserves are utterly inadequate and the difference has to be made out of earnings after rather than before taxes."

While to the superficial this will seem like a windfall benefit to industry, it is more accurately described as an effort to assure economic continuity despite the chaotic effect of inflation.

It is no answer to cite chapter and verse in the form of legalistic reasons why prudent adjustments to the realities should not be made.

News Briefs

The following county court judgments were signed Monday by Judge Walter Davies: Paul Hemanes, 34, and Willie Lee Hervey, Lubbock negroes, $100 and costs each for liquor law violation; P. W. Morris, $1 and costs in each of three check law violation charges. Judge Davies said he had set bond of $600 for Phillip Johnson, 31, a student charged with drunk driving. Johnson pleaded innocent of the charge, the court said. Robert Lee Fulcher, 18, a negro, pleaded guilty of simple assault and was fined $1 and costs by D. W. Robertson, justice of peace. Robertson also fined John G. Calcote $50 and costs on a state labor department charge that he worked a female at his cafe more than nine hours on a certain day. Total assessment was $63.30, Robertson's records showed. Upon motion of County Attorney John Steele, a charge of drunk driving naming A. T. Perry, was dismissed for "lack of evidence." The charge had been filed March 1, when Perry pleaded innocent.

Accompanying the Lubbock Senior High school band on its trip to the Interscholastic League Music Festival in Canyon Saturday was Billy Irvin Pittman, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Pittman of 3302 Twenty-second. Billy, a student in Roscoe Wilson school, didn't go along just for the trip—he won a third place award with his drum solo. He is a drum pupil of Tommy Shook of the Tech band.

Body Of Lubbock Officer To Be Returned To U.S. From India

Mr. and Mrs. Elisha L. Robertson, sr., of 1802 Sixteenth, were informed by official telegram Monday afternoon that the body of their son, Capt. Elisha L. Robertson, jr., was being returned to Fort Sam Houston, Texas, for burial in a national cemetery.

The parents were not advised when it would reach Fort Sam Houston, but plan to leave for services within a few days.

Capt. Robertson died April 9, 1945, when a four-engine plane he was checking as test pilot spun in at Ondol, 75 miles from Calcutta, India, when an engine exploded. Six others died with him. He was 26.

The body was buried at Ondol, later reburied at Calcutta when the Ondol base was discontinued.

A military escort will accompany the body, and appropriate military honors and religious services were offered in the telegram.

San Angelo Resident Joins Staff Of Lubbock Chamber

Duties began Monday morning for Geo. A. Bond, resident of San Angelo for many years, as he became the most recent addition to the Lubbock chamber of commerce.

A. B. Davis, manager of the chamber, said Bond's work temporarily would be of general nature. More specific duties will be assigned when two more vacancies on the staff are filled.

Mrs. Bond and their three children are to remain in San Angelo until the close of school. The children are George, jr., 12, Carolyn Ann, 8, and Howard, 5.

Born and reared in San Angelo, Bond was a full colonel in the army when World War II ended. He saw about two years of active service in the Pacific, participating several major engagements. He has been a faculty member in San Angelo Junior college since he was retired to inactive status.

Pampa Oilers Pound Hubbers For 5-2 Triumph

Lubbock Errors Prove Costly As Avon Driggers Scatters 10 Hits

By JOE KELLY
Avalanche Sports Editor

Two costly errors, coupled with a pair of singles, sent the Pampa Oilers into a 2-0 lead in the sixth inning last night and made it possible for them to take the first of a two-game series with the Lubbock Hubbers, 5-2.

Lefty Avon Driggers doled out 10 safeties to the Hubbers, keeping the hits scattered except in the seventh inning when, with two out, the Hubbers pushed over two runs. It was their closest threat to a show of power all evening.

Lefty Herby Pitts, aided by the wise head of Don Moore, hurled a respectable game, but was the victim of two errors on hard-to-play balls hit to Frank McAlexander. McAlexander was forced to come in for topped balls that bounced erratically down the third base line and his throws, in each case, were bad.

PLAY PAMPA TONIGHT
The final contest in the current two-game home series with the Pampa Oilers will be concluded at Rosenthal Field tonight at 8:15. Manager Jackie Sullivan nominated Lefty Frank Cobo to hurl for the Hubbers, with Don Moore behind the plate. The Pampa hurler may be Frank Payte, who recently held the Hubbers to four hits.

Royce Mills, who took over pitching chores in the eighth inning, gave up the final four hits and two runs in the first frame he chunked.

Pampa Scores First

Five fast double plays, three by the Hubbers, helped each side to get out of deep holes. Twice Pampa left three runners on the basepaths and twice they had two men stranded. Lubbock left three men on in the seventh and had two runners left in the fourth and fifth.

Pampa got their first two runs when Tony Range led off with a topped drive down the third base line that McAlexander had trouble in fielding. When he threw wildly to first, Range went to second. Joe Fortin followed with the same kind of grounder and again McAlexander threw the ball away, Range scoring and Fortin holding first.

Bob Belford went out, moving Fortin to second and Mike Feduniak promptly dropped a single into centerfield to score him.

Lubbock Rally Fails

The third—and winning—Oiler run crossed the plate in the next inning. Frank Rice walked and went to second on Earl Harriman's perfect sacrifice. Jack Riley also drew a free trip to first and Range promptly scored Rice with a single.

Lubbock tried vainly to get these runs back and came within a single counter of doing it in the seventh. Jack Haynes singled, but was forced by Pinch hitter Kermit Altizer, for whom Cotton Russell ran. Russell was forced at second by Al Smith. Chick Fowler moved Smith to second with a single and Manager Jackie Sullivan walked to load the bases. Virgil Richardson then smashed a hot drive to left field to score Smith and Fowler.

Pampa picked up two unneeded runs off Mills in the eighth canto. Belford struckout. Feduniak walked and Driggers got his second hit, a curving drive that got away from Haynes, Feduniak scoring and Driggers going to third. R. C. Otey then singled through second, Driggers scoring.

The game, played in chilly weather, was Lubbock's seventh loss in 11 games and left them just ahead of Clovis, while Pampa moved up in the standings.

Guadalupe Defeats Wilson, 3-2, For Grade School Championship

The Guadalupe grade school softball team defeated the Roscoe Wilson school 3-2 yesterday afternoon at Jumbo Webster Field for the city championship of the grade schools.

A double by Bobby Coronado that drove in two runs in the three-run fourth inning decided the tight contest. Gil Garcia opened the inning with a single and Gil Paez followed with another one. Julian Bustillos, the winning pitcher, then singled Garcia home. Coronado stepped in at this point and unlimbered a base-clearing double.

Wilson's two runs also were garnered in one inning, with Moore the hero for the losers. With a man on base, Moore slammed a long hit to centerfield that went for a home run, scoring both Wilson counters.

Abel Garcia, Guadalupe backstop, was outstanding yesterday in the field, throwing runners out and catching a brilliant game.

The line score:

Guadalupe	003	000	0—3 9 2
Roscoe Wilson	000	200	0—2 3 1

Bustillos and A. Garcia; Scott and Evans.

Tech Will Seek Five Freshman Grid Tilts

W. L. Stangel, chairman of the Athletic council at Texas Technological college, will leave for Phoenix, Ariz., Wednesday to attend the spring meeting of the Border Inter-collegiate Athletic conference.

Routine conference matters will take up the greater part of the meeting, Stangel said.

Two matters other than routine business that will be considered, however, will be a request by Texas Tech to play five freshman football games during the coming season and discussion of the National Collegiate Athletic Association sanity code.

In the matter of the sanity code, the conference will discuss actions to be taken to comply with amendments to the NCAA constitution, applying to the code, which were passed Jan. 10, 1948.

The sanity code is a group of regulations set up by the organization in an effort to promote clean athletics among its member schools.

The request for five freshman football games instead of the four allotted to members of the Border conference is being made in an effort to obtain one more home game for the Texas Tech freshman team. In explaining the request, Stangel pointed out that an unnamed college had agreed to play the Tech squad providing that it was on a home and home basis with both games being played during the 1948 season.

Surging Cards Drop Chicago Cubs, 3-1

ST. LOUIS, May 3 (AP)—Effective pitcting by Jim Hearn and fine defensive job by his teammates gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 3-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs today before 3,735 customers. Hearn kept seven Chicago hits scattered. Catcher Del Rice threw out two Cubs trying to steal second, and a peg by Enos Slaughter nipped a Chicago runner at the plate.

Johnny Schmitz, lifted for a pinch batter after the Cards nicked him for three singles and two runs in the seventh, was the loser.

Successive singles by Rice, Hearn and Red Schoendienst, and an error by Nicholson, were good for two Redbird runs in the seventh. Rice advanced to second on Hearn's safety and then scored when Nicholson let the ball go through his legs. Schoendienst drove in Hearn.

Hard-hitting Stan Musial, who has 14 runs batted in for almost one third of the Cardinal total in this department, drove in Schoendienst in the third inning with the first run. Schoendienst walked and advanced to second on Terry Moore's single.

Chicago finally managed to push across a run in the eighth. A two-bagger by pinch batter Cliff Aberson scored McCullough, who drew a base on balls.

Lubbock sport fans will be glad to hear that Fred Taylor, Lubbock High school's head baseball coach and assistant grid mentor, is rapidly recovering from an appendectomy performed last Saturday and will return to his home today. Coach Taylor was apparently in good health Friday afternoon as he directed his Westerners to a 21-7 triumph over the Borger Bulldogs, but had to undergo the operation the next day. Taylor will have to miss the Lubbock-Plainview district tussle Wednesday night, but he should be back at his post early next week.

Lubbock hopes for a strong Westerner football team this fall were boosted Monday when big Jack Bryant, stellar tackle and co-captain of the '48 eleven, returned home from a local hospital where he underwent a knee operation. Jack, a tall 230-pounder who was voted on the second All-District 1-AA team in '48, hurt a knee last fall and the injury refused to heal. But surgeons removed a cartilage from Jack's knee last week and, at the last report, were sure that the knee would be completely well by the time training opens Aug. 15. As one of the physicians said, "The injured knee will be stronger than his 'good' knee in a few weeks." That is certain to be good news for head grid Mentor Pat Pattison, who is counting heavily on big Jack to bulwark the Westerner line this fall.

Add Charles Pressley, the standout center of the 1945 Westerner football team, to the list of Lubbock High gridders who have participated in the annual Texas All-Star classic. Pressley took part in the '46 coaching school tilt and also played in the Oil Bowl encounter at Wichita Falls. Other Westerners who played for the All-Stars include R. W. Moyers, Hubert Bechtol and Roland (Tuffy) Nabors. Dick Schmidt, 1947 Westerner co-captain and lineman, will be on the North squad this summer.

Reports from Seminole indicate that Val Joe Walker, the Indians' great grid, cage and track star, is planning to attend San Angelo Junior college this fall. If Walker does play for the Rams, he will be working with several other South Plains gridders, inciuding Lubbock's Diddy Pearson and Brownfield's Bob Lewis. Other reports from the where-are-they-going department indicate that Brownfield's Alton Martin and Joe Vernon are headed for Tulsa university. Lubbock's Jack Alderson is a probably for Southern Methodist and Amarillo's Bobby Farmer has been "visiting" the Texas Aggie campus.

OWLS BEAT FROGS

HOUSTON, May 3 (AP) — The Rice Owls made four runs out of three hits, an error, a walk and a hit batter in the eighth inning here today to break a 3-3 tie and defeat Texas Christian's Horned Frogs, 7 to 3.

TWO PLAYERS RELEASED

ST. LOUIS, May 3 (INS)—The St. Louis Cardinals today released two players to minor league clubs on options. They were Outfielder Larry Miggins, sent to Omaha in in the Western league, and First Baseman Glenn Nelson, released to Rochester of the International circuit.

Henderson Beats Minnis

BROOKLYN, May 3 (AP)—Bill Henderson, the transplanted Texas lightweight, scored his second impressive metropolitan victory tonight when he pounded out a four-round decision over Carl Minnis of Philadelphia at the Eastern Parkway arena.

Henderson, who registers from Cliffside Park, N. J., weighed 130. Minnis weighed 129¾.

Henderson Has Disadvantage

The Texan, a stablemate of light-heavyweight champion Gus Lesnevich, had a distinct disadvantage in height and reach, but managed to smash out a unanimous decision.

Minnis bothered Henderson in the first round with a long, sharp left jab But in the second round, the Texan started getting inside and scoring with telling body punches.

Texan Jolts Negro

In the third round Henderson jolted the rangy negro with a right to the temple and Minnis staggered against the ropes, managing to keep his feet.

That was the blow that won the bout, however. Henderson followed up his attack in the fourth round to leave no doubt about the verdict.

Attendance At Big League Games Sets Near-Record Pace

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP)—Baseball attendance is taking out after last year's record total with 1,709,487 paid for the first two weeks of the new season.

As this represents 89 home dates, the big leagues have been packing them in at the rate of 19,078 each time they open the gates.

Cleveland is way out front in the per game race as the Indians have played before 165,237 customers in three appearances at Municipal stadium. That average of better than 55,000 can not last, of course, but it augurs well for another banner year for the Tribe which drew more than a million and a half fans last season.

Actually the attendance leader of the moment is the New York Giants with 196,690 for eight home games. The Polo Grounds opener with Brooklyn, the early appearance of the Giants' home run power and the fine start of the club are contributing factors.

Texas Aggies Trounce Mustangs In Southwest Loop Tilt, 9 To 2

COLLEGE STATION, May 3 (AP)—Earl Beesley pitched the Texas Aggies to a 9-2 victory over Southern Methodist here today to keep Texas A&M in the fight for the Southwest conference championship.

Beesley scattered eight hits and kept the Mustangs corraled except in the fourth when an error, a double by Danny Lynch, a single by Jenson and a double play let in two scores.

The Aggies shelled Erwin Kay for three runs in the third and George Baker took over in the fourth. Four runs greeted him and the Aggies chased over two more in the eighth as they ran their base hits to 13.

The Aggies scored three in the third on Cliff Lindloff's double, the first of Zeke Strange's two homers, Bobby Fretz' single and Dusty Clark's double.

Lubbock Bowlers Fail To Place In Tourney

DALLAS, May 3 (Special)—Lubbock women bowlers came close, but failed to finish in the top brackets of the Women's International Bowling Congress being conducted here.

The Hub City feminine keglers bowled team play Sunday night and followed with doubles and singles competition Monday morning. They were far off the pace being set in team play, Southwestern Public Service company rolling 2,030 compared to the leading California team's score of 2,812.

In the singles Shirlee Wernick of Chicago, Ill., leads with 696, while Norma Crossland was the closest Lubbock bowler on 509 pins.

In the doubles, the highest Lubbock total was turned in by Aleene Hilton and Artie Galloway, 968, while the current leaders have 1,188.

Texans to date have failed to crack the first five in any event, while only scattered individuals and teams from Texas have done better than the Lubbock bowlers.

Team scores:

Hemphill- Wells (Lubbock), 1,965 pins by Billie Maslovar, 405; Herbie Ranton 339; Lenora Roberts, 325; Hilton, 427; Galloway, 409. For Southwestern Public Service, Marcelle Curlee, 389; Arlys Womble, 368; Maxine Buckner, 437; Bertha Thomas, 427; and Norma Crossland, 409.

Citation Only Starter For Rich Preakness On May 15

BALTIMORE, May 3. (AP) — Calumet's Derby winner, Citation, is the only announced starter today for the May 15 Preakness and many are predicting "That's all, brother."

There's no question around Pimlico that Citation will be home first in the second of the classics for 3-year-olds. The argument is over whether anyone will dare dispute him.

One group tells you not to be surprised if Citation will just have to walk the mile and three sixteenth by himself. Others say that after one owner makes his move several others will follow

But there's no denying that right now it's Citation first and all alone for the $100,000 classic

Trainer Jimmy Jones says Coaltown will come up tomorrow from Louisville with Citation just for insurance. In case Citation goes wrong Coaltown will be called in Those who pooh-pooh the idea of a walkover can give you plenty of reasons. First of all there's the lure of money if not the glory. The Preakness pays off $35,000 in second, third and fourth money.

Then both the owners of Escadru, the Derby rearguard, and third place My Request weren't convinced their colts did their best in the run for roses, both got bumped and while no one is alibing they might want another chance.

However, neither one is committed yet.

Those who believe it will be a horse race also reel off the names of Better Self, Salmagundi, Kilroy, Bovard, Saggy and Macbeth as prospective starters. But so far they are just names.

At any rate, there is a good chance it will be the smallest Preakness since 1943 when Count Fleet scared away all but three contenders.

May 14 Deadline For Entering Qualifying

All players planning to qualify for the National Open Golf championship, which will be played in Los Angeles, Calif., later this summer, should turn their entries in to Herb Schroeder, Lubbock Country club pro, not later than May 14.

Schroeder declared yesterday that all entries for the qualifying rounds, which will be played at the Lubbock Country club June 1, must be in the hands of the National Open committee in New York not later than May 17.

Schroeder said that pairings will be made in New York and returned to the local club, where they will be announced as soon as they are received here.

Texas is one of the few states to be granted two qualifying locations for the National Open, one of golfdom's biggest events. Lubbock was given the tourney because of the good course, its central location and the tremendous interest in golfing being shown in West Texas.

Schroeder said yesterday that every effort was being made to get the course in top condition and that it would be one of the finest courses in Texas by the time the qualifying round was shot here.

Entries are expected from many cities in West Texas, with probably 15 to 20 persons from Lubbock entering. All entrants must carry a handicap of three or less. Those having over three need not bother to apply, since the national association has limited the handicap.

Former Jockey Faces Charges

NEW YORK, May 3 (INS) — Earle Sande, once America's greatest jockey, today was charged with illegal possession of narcotics, which allegedly were used to stimulate one of his horses to victory in a recent race at the Jamaica race track.

Sande was arraigned before U. S. Commisioner Edward E. Fay in Brooklyn, technically, agents of the Narcotics bureau of the U. S. Treasury department charged him with failing to register an amount of morphine and failing to pay a tax on it. He was paroled in his own custody for appearance next Monday.

Sande, who is 49, was the winning jockey in three Kentucky derbies. This record which he held jointly with Isaac Murphy, was broken on Saturday when Eddie Arcaro rode his fourth Derby winner.

Sande now is a horse breeder and trainer, and owns 12 horses.

On April 21, his horse "Big Stage" won a race at Jamaica. A saliva test ordered by the racing commission allegedly showed definite traces of morphine.

Newt Secrest Is Sold To Kitty League Club

Isic Newt Secrest, catcher with the Lubbock Hubbers and a chattel of the Boston Braves, has been sold outright to Hopkinsville of the Kitty League.

Secrest, who was with the Hubbers in spring training at Dallas, left the club yesterday and is going to Clarksville, Tenn., where Hopkinsville opens play in the Kitty League tonight.

The stocky catcher was used sparingly in West Texas-New Mexico League games, appearing in three contests, all on the recent road trip. Before the season opened, Secrest did most of the catching for the Hubbers.

Had .231 Average

In three games, Secrest batted 13 times and hit safely on three occasions, all singles. He drove in two runs and had a batting average of .231. Behind the plate he had 14 putouts, three assists and two errors, with three passed balls.

Secrest last year played with the third place Hopkinsville nine that won the playoffs by beating Owensboro and Madisonville. He appeared in 113 games and had a batting average of .292. Behind the plate he maintained a .963 fielding average.

Hubber officials did not feel that Secrest could help the club, particularly with the acquisition of the heavy-hitting, experienced Don Moore. The Hubbers will continue to carry Floyd Walker and Kermit Altizer as reserves, but another player must be cut off soon.

Deadline for the West Texas-New Mexico League clubs carrying more than 16 players is Wednesday night at midnight. By that time the Hubbers will have had to cut off one player from the current 17 players on the roster.

The Hubbers are carrying the following players at present:

Catchers, Moore, Walker, Altizer; Pitchers, Cotton Russell, Bob Clodfelter, Frank Cobo, Herb Pitts, Marvin Alexander, Royce Mills; Infielders, Virgil Richardson, Al Smith, Jack Haynes, Frank Alexander, Manager Jackie Sullivan; and outfielders, Chick Fowler, Charles Scarborough and Frank Boothe.

Littlefield Edges Slaton Nine, 8-7

LITTLEFIELD, May 3, (Special)—Littlefield—or Littlefield's heady little shortstop, Otis Moyer—stole a 10-inning Oil Belt league game here Sunday afternoon from Slaton, 8 to 7.

With the score tied, two men down and two strikes on the last batter, Moyer saw his chance and streaked in from third to steal home.

Haberer, Littlefield pitcher, had singled in the ninth to drive across the tying run.

The teams together made 15 miscues, eight of them charged to the winners.

The line score:

SLATON	001	030	300	0—	7	7
LITTLEFIELD	000	032	101	1—	8	13

REAL ESTATE AGREEMENTS HIT

Lower Courts Upset In Ruling On Covenants Against Negroes

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP) — Courts cannot enforce real estate agreements which bar colored persons from all-white neighborhoods, the Supreme court ruled today.

In a 6-0 decision, the court said government action to back up such covenants violates the "equal protection" clause in the 14th amendment, and in Washington, D. C., breaks a federal law covering similar ground.

The court specified, however, that the clause "erects no shield against merely private conduct, however discriminatory or wrongful." It said there is no violation so long as the agreements are carried out voluntarily.

Three Actions Involved

Chief Justice Vinson wrote the two opinions handed down on the issue. In neither did he go beyond the question of excluding would-be residents on the ground of "race and color."

Solicitor Philip B. Perlman, in oral argument of the cases, also had discussed the question of exclusion of Jews. After hearing today's ruling read, he declined to speculate whether covenants excluding persons on religious grounds also are barred.

Justices Jackson, Reed and Rutledge took no part in the cases.

Three separate actions were involved—one each from St. Louis, Detroit and the national capital. The St. Louis and Detroit cases, involving state courts and laws, were consolidated. The Washington case, purely federal, was handled separately.

"Blow" Against Segregation

In all, however, the results were the same. Lower court decisions upholding enforcement of covenants were overturned.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said in a statement at New York that the decision is a "blow" against segregation.

The St. Louis case was that of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Shelley, negroes. They bought property in an area covered by a covenant restricting it to Caucasian occupancy until 1961. The agreement provided forfeiture of the property as the penalty for violation.

Mr. and Mrs. Orsel McGhee appealed the Detroit case. The property they bought was under a covenant limiting occupancy to Caucasians until 1959, with no specific penalty provided.

Law Is Given

The Washington case involved property covered by an agreement that it should never be "rented, leased, sold, transferred or conveyed to any negro or colored person." The covenant provided a penalty of $2,000, which was to be a lien against the property.

Appellants in that case were Raphael C. Urciolo, a white real estate operator, and several negroes. Urciolo sold some of the affected property to James M. Hurd, who said he was not a negro but a Mohawk Indian.

Both the constitutional amendment applied in the state cases and the federal law applied in Washington were adopted shortly after the civil war with a legislative history showing their intent to protect negroes against discrimination.

The 14th amendment is a limitation upon the powers of the states, and therefore does not apply in the District of Columbia.

In the Washington case the court relied on an 1866 law which says "all citizens of the United States shall have the same right, in every state and territory, as is enjoyed by white citizens thereof to inherit, purchase, lease, sell, hold, and convey real and personal property."

ing the 18-year-olds in the armed services along with draftees. The House Armed Services committee unanimously approved a separate UMT bill last summer, but so far neither House nor Senate has voted on such a bill.)

Plan Acceptable

Forrestal told the House Armed Services committee that the draft bill it approved today provides an answer to the "immediate and imperative demand for something to augment the size of our armed forces."

Secretary of the Army Royall called it "thoroughly acceptable to all the services—Army, Navy and Air Force."

Even before the committee vote, Rep. Vinson (D-Ga) told reporters that "my opinion is that the House will have nothing to do with UMT this year."

Rep. Towne (R-NJ) has talked tentatively of offering an amendment which would provide for UMT to come into effect at the end of the two year draft.

Demos Join In Vote

Forrestal, during his appearance before the House committee, was asked by Rep. Gavin (R-Penn) about reports that 2,000,000 men in western Europe are to be militarily equipped with U. S. lend-lease.

"There is no such proposed program now so far as I am aware," the secretary replied.

Funds Approved For Co-Op Power Lines

An allocation of $210,000 for extension of electric lines of the South Plains Electric Co-operative (REA) in this county and portions of four others served by the organization, has been approved, the co-op was advised yesterday by wire from Congressman George Mahon.

The announcement was made by W. C. Newton, manager, who said that a total of 184 farm homes will be served under the new project that involves 120 miles of line.

Newton said the allocation included funds for various purposes other than construction of the line itself, such as an addition to a substation, and some improvements at the headquarters building here.

By counties, the construction will include 32 miles in Hale county to serve 39 families, 28 miles in Lubbock county to serve 47 families, 25½ miles in Hockley county to serve 41 families, 34 miles in Crosby county to serve 56 families, and a half mile extension in Lynn county for one family.

Newton said availability of conductor (wire) might delay much of the project, but he anticipated that a back order for wire would be received by September or October, and that the project would be completed this year.

All other materials except the wire are on hand or available on order, he said.

Tornadoes Kill 23

munities bore the brunt of the twisters in the state. Three members of the Raymond Taylor family of Hupp Hill died in the Clarksburg hospital of storm injuries. One man was killed near Weston and a fifth victim, another man, was killed at Mount Clare. About 30 other persons were injured in West Milford, Lost Creek, Wolf Summit and Quiet Dell.

Search For Victims Continues

Searchers continued to hunt for victims among the muck and ruins of leveled structures. Damage estimates topped $1,000,000 in West Virginia. In 1944 a similar storm killed 100-odd persons near Clarksburg. Last night's tornado literally played leap frog around that city of 30,000.

Freak incidents amid the scenes of death and catastrophe were reported. At Quiet Dell, the home of Mrs. Minnie Bartlett, 66, was picked up and carried 40 feet to the edge of a highway where it landed intact. A 240-pound farmer said he was blown 100 feet. At Mount Clare, a town of 200, the body of an automobile found an incongruous perch in the limbs of a large tree.

Kentucky counted five known dead. Several other persons were missing and about 50 were injured by a tornado which streaked across Clinton and Wayne counties.

The town of Alpha, Ky., was hard hit. The Davis Chapel church there was wrecked while 125 were attending services. Many of the 15 injured in Clinton county were among the worshippers. Two persons were killed there.

Eye-witnesses said the storm ripped along a quarter mile wide path, levelling houses, trees and all else in its path. It zipped from one county to the others. The communities of Alpha and Glasgow were among the chief sufferers in Kentucky.

Similar twisters hit Missouri, Oklahoma and Kansas Saturday. High winds and heavy rains were reported in Indiana and Illinois.

Included in the death toll resulting from the latest storms were by states:

Kentucky — Mr. and Mrs. William Denney, Alpha; Mrs. Grief Gregory and two sons, names not known.

The auxiliary made plans for a tea for Gold Star mothers to be held May 16 from 3 p. m. to 5 p. m.

Condition Of Miss Polly Scott, Accident Victim, Satisfactory

The condition of Miss Polly Scott, of 902 Ave. L, was reported satisfactory last night from Lubbock Memorial hospital where she was recovering from injuries received in a motorcycle accident about 11 p.m. Sunday.

M. J. Cotter, about 24, of Littlefield route 1, received minor injuries, and was released from the hospital Monday morning.

The accident occurred when the motorcycle the two persons were riding went out of control north of Lubbock on highway 87, officers said.

W. C. Jones of Brownfield took the victims in his car to the hospital. Miss Scott suffered lacerations of the head. Cotter received a displaced shoulder and bruises and scratches.

party, but she had disappeared when police arrived at the store. She was believed to have been connected with the alleged offenses.

Other Cases Probed

Investigation was being continued by city police in two cases of assault, a burglary and other offenses.

Emelio Moronio, Mexican, of 115 Ave. L, remained in serious condition at West Texas hospital last night where he was taken early Monday for treatment of five knife wounds of the arm, back and chest.

It was believed the injuries were suffered about 4:30 a. m., according to police. Another Mexican, about 30 years old, was being questioned in connection with the case.

A. E. Douglas, about 35, of Camp Dixie, was treated for a scalp laceration at West Texas hospital about midnight Sunday. Police said they had found the man in the 2300 block of Ave. H, and that he was bleeding from a cut above the left ear.

Police were investigating his statement that someone had slugged him.

Burglary Reported

Burglary of Hendrix grocery at 501 Ave. Q was reported to police by H. W. Hendrix. He said a screen was cut over a door, glass in the door broken, and entrance made by unlatching the door. Taken were nine cartons of cigarets, a box of cigars, a picnic ham, three pounds of bacon, and eight pounds of sausages.

The sheriff's department said prison transfer agents accepted custody Sunday of two persons who were convicted of felony theft in Cochran county: Jack T Wilson, 19, and Walter Lee Matthews, 23, both of Abilene.

Fines Are Assessed

Upon representation of a Lubbock woman that Noel Weldon Allpin, 29, of 1600-block Main, had made indecent motions to small girls in a city park and had exposed his person in her presence, Allpin was fined $100 for indecent exposure and $100 for vagrancy, corporation court officials said. He had not satisfied the assessment this morning. The fines mean 68 days in jail if not paid.

George Clark reported that $110 worth of tools had been stolen from a school at Thirty-second and Ave. Q.

Thirty-two persons were arrested by police over Sunday and charged with drunkenness nine with disturbance; two with failure to leave information at the scene of an accident; one with indecent language, and one with vagrancy

Bond of $100 was posted by Laveda Peugh, 27, of 1320 Seventeenth, who pleaded innocent of failure to leave information at scene of a crash. Franco R. Isquerdo, 30, of 216 North Ave. O, was fined $50 on a similar charge after his arrest.

Police arrested 13 women at local hotels last night and charged them with vagrancy by prostitution. One negro porter was charged with vagrancy by association with a prostitute. All were assessed $50 each in corporation court.

A bicycle was reported stolen from Norman Ashley, of Ashley courts. It was described as a Roadmaster, valued at $20. Another bike was reported stolen by Mrs. Ruth Perry, of 223 North Adams. It was described as a Rocket boys bike.

The Plumbers and Steam Fitters union, at 2002 Ave. J, reported theft of a Smith portable typewriter.

Twister Hits Home

Lynn, here, was hurt when a piece of tin hit him on the jaw as he was returning to the house from school.

"Dale was taken off to the Veterans hospital here. I guess my wife and baby are at the home of some relatives. I guess that's where they went."

The hospital's power was gone. Nurses hurried through the corridors, carrying flashlights. A fire truck power unit supplied a limited amount of light for the hospital.

City, county and state officers strained to quiet the confusion in the city. Directing traffic alone was a big job—cars were strung bumper to bumper all along Highway 77 south to Dallas—28 miles.

A police car with a loudspeaker prowled the streets, and an officer shouted into the microphone: "Keep off the streets. The best thing to do if you don't have any business here is to go home."

I saw a woman sitting on the front steps of her demolished home. She was sobbing.

Damage Enormous As Tornado Rips Through McKinney; Other Communities Also Hit

but the governor's office at night emphasized there was no martial law and no need for martial law.

Edwin Benkendorfer, 19, who was unhurt, said the wind drove an iron rod through his automobile. He said he saw a bicycle on top of a house.

Hospital Damaged

The Texas Textile mills district, in the southeast section, was hardest hit.

Residences were unroofed and destroyed. Some were blown into the street after the wind lifted them from foundations.

Huge tree trunks were twisted from their roots.

The top floor of the city hospital was blown off, but the hospital treated patients in its undamaged sections.

Paul Stimson, newspaper editor at Wylie, was touring Collin county when the storm struck.

Twister Hits Nocona

"A third of the town of Princeton was wrecked," he said, adding that most of the damage there was to homes. Farm homes were "lifted up in the air and blown apart," he stated. He said many automobiles were tossed into cotton fields.

An hour before the tornado struck McKinney, a twister hit Nocona, 90 miles north and west of McKinney, destroying one house and uprooting numerous trees. R. E. Flint of Nocona, said the large vortex of the twister was carrying much debris.

Barry Stroup, Associated Press newsphoto editor, took a look at the storm area by plane. He said about ten or twelve square blocks in McKinney appeared to have been destroyed.

School Unroofed

The Veterans hospital, undamaged, received storm injured. Dr D. P. North, chief VA hospital surgeon, rushed to the city hospital to aid physicians.

L. L. Perkins, editor of the Courier-Gazette here, estimated that 150 residences were blown down.

The metal roof was reported torn from the south ward schoolhouse.

McKinney High school's gymnasium was damaged. No schoolchildren were reported hurt on the grounds or in the building.

Sidney Mack, overseer at the Texas Textile mills, said the lights went out three times before the storm hit. He was off duty. Mack decided he would try to reach home, where his children were alone.

Mill Is Damaged

Just as Mack cleared the side door the storm hit. Something hit him in the stomach. He tried to open the gate to the mill yard, but failed. Mack said the sound of the wind and the ripping of timbers was terrible. He said everything seemed to be over in three to five minutes.

C. R. Miller of Dallas, owner of the mills, drove to McKinney when he learned of the storm. He valued the plant at $2,000,000 but would not venture an estimate of damage. The second floor was gone.

Mack said mill operators tried to herd workers into a tower for protection. In the excitement not all of them made it. Those who didn't were among the injured.

Hail hit during the storm "like golf balls hammering on the roof," men at the mill said.

New Church Ruined

The new Kings Memorial church (Baptist) in the mill district was ruined. It held its first revival only a few days ago.

Bricks were scattered around as if they had been taken apart separately.

Mrs. Ola Perry, who lives nearby, was asked what happened.

"Don't ask me," she replied. "I was under the bed. I prayed as I never prayed before."

Fifty-three injuries actually had been counted at 7:30 p. m. by Dallas News correspondents.

The storm cut a 600-yard path, two miles long, through McKinney.

A 14-year-old boy was reported killed, but his death had not been confirmed at 7 p. m.

Power Goes Off

Communications were still crippled four hours after the storm. Emergency calls jammed the only circuits. There were no telephone lines left to Princeton.

A check of funerel homes and hospitals here late Monday evening did not confirm a large death toll.

George Smith of McKinney said in a broadcast over station KMAE tonight that the city hospital was damaged but was being used.

Operations were being performed in the corridors and aisles, he said. There was a plea for doctors and nurses.

Power was out over much of the city and flashlights were utilized in hunting through wreckage for possible additional casualties, Smith stated.

Smith said a number of farm homes were damaged between McKinney and Princeton.

RED CROSS AIDING IN SENDING MESSAGES TO AREA

The Lubbock county Red Cross disaster unit last night was cooperating with amateur radio operators in Lubbock in an effort to reach relatives of Lubbock residents who might have been in the McKinney storm vicinity.

Numerous messages were sent to disaster headquarters by the local Red Cross unit, it was announced by J. V. Beauchamp, disaster committee chairman for the Lubbock chapter, and amateur radio operators, under direction of H. S. Reece, were coordinating other messages to the storm section, it was said.

In addition, many persons called radio and newspaper offices in an effort to determine if relatives had been victims of the tornadic winds. At a late hour, no definite information that relatives of Lubbock residents had been seriously injured had been received.

THREE EAST TEXAS TOWNS SUFFER TWISTER DAMAGE

GREENVILLE, May 3. (AP) — Twisters caused damage at Merit and Commerce in Hunt county today.

Roofs were blown off several farm houses at Cumby, in Hopkins county. Trees were uprooted at Commerce.

At Merit the second floor of the Masonic hall was blown off, a filling station owned by Doyle and CcCloud, and a storage building owned by G. N. Stewart, were destroyed.

Commerce had a hard rain. There was a heavy rain here.

his gun and money in a suit case in the car.

Man Reported Nervous

At New Waverly the robber ordered the bank president, K. S Keeland, to put the bills in a suitcase the bandit carried. Then the bandit locked three people in the bank vault and escaped in a 1946 or 1947 model maroon Ford.

Keeland said the man appeared at his desk and stated he was a contractor on a government project nearby and wished to deposit money in the bank to meet payrolls. He said the project was a "military secret." Keeland reported the man was "nervous."

"I told him we would be glad to handle his deposits," Keeland said.

"I'll show you what I want." Keeland quoted the man. He said the robber drew a .45 caliber automatic from his pocket. "I want money."

Sheriff Is Called

He walked to the desk of Miss Margaret Slott, bookkeeper and cashier, and held a gun on her, ordering the bank president to place the bank's money in the suitcase. Keeland went into the vault and got the money.

Besides the president and the bookkeeper, the vice president, Bilonski, was in the bank.

The president's son, T. W. Keeland, entered the bank while the robbery was going on. He said he knew something was amiss and his father winked at him.

The banker's son quietly left the bank and walked across the street to call the sheriff. He was unable to get the sheriff immediately because of telephone line trouble.

Completing his call, the son returned to the bank just as the robber was driving away. He said the man was in a 1946 or 1947 maroon Ford automobile and that a piece of cardboard with letters written on it covered the rear license number.

He entered the bank and released the three bank officials, who had been locked in the vault by the robber.

The bandit wore a dark brown suit and a light tan felt hat. He was about six feet tall, 28 to 30 years old and weighed about 160 pounds.

The three bank officials said they could identify him.

structed delegation. Answering his own question, Calvert said:

"Woodville Rogers of San Antonio, self-appointed leader of the self-righteous who has not yet recovered from the fact that his candidate for governor was defeated in 1946 and that he was kicked off the state Democratic executive committee, a small coterie of followers most of whom supported Dr. (Homer P.) Rainey in the governor's race in 1946, and the more radical of the labor leaders who have not followed Henry Wallace into the Progressive party."

Rogers replied that he was not "kicked off" the executive committee, that he was not a candidate for re-election. He said he supported Grover Sellers and not Rainey for governor, and that his stand on principles was so well known there was no need of replying to another series of questions propounded by Calvert.

British Hasten Reinforcements

(By The Associated Press)

JERUSALEM, May 3—The vanguard of strong British reinforcements reached Jerusalem today while Scottish infantrymen enforced a truce between Jews and Arabs in the Holy City's battered Katamon quarter.

Jerusalem had its quietest day in months. Only a dozen or so single shots were fired and most of these were on the fringes of the city. The British hope by negotiation to extend the cease fire to cover the whole city and its Christian, Jewish and Moslem shrines. A truce also has been arranged in the Arab port city of Jaffa which now is ringed by Jewish forces.

British To Resist Invasion

He made the statement to Maj. George Fielding Eliot, military analyst for the New York Post and Home News. Then MacMillan went out to inspect the British reinforcements which had just reached Jerusalem.

Dr. Millikan Speaks

will discuss "Release and Utilization of Atomic Energy" at Memorial auditorium, and at 7:30 p. m. he will talk on "The Road to Peace" at Tech Recreation hall. His final talk will be Wednesday night.

Dr. Millikan declared in his opening lecture Sunday afternoon in Tech gymnasium that a good heart and a well trained mind provide the basic elements for a full and useful life. The talk was made following an address by Major General Andrew D. Bruce, deputy commander of the Fourth army, Fort Sam Houston, who spoke in dedication ceremonies for the Memorial circle on the campus. More than 2,000 persons attended the ceremonies and heard Dr. Millikan's address on "The Two Supreme Elements in Human Progress."

Scientist Denies Conflict

The eminent scientist in his talk last night tried to show his listeners that there is no conflict between science and religion, but that both are in harmony, and are parallel in hopes and aims, and are growing nearer as the centuries pass.

Dr. Millikan declared that organized religion is in fact today the greatest social institution in the country. He brought out that in the last U. S. Census more than 55 million persons were listed as church members.

Asking the question, "Do you believe in God?" the scientist declared, "The best reply I can make is: The question requires an education rather than an answer. No one can picture nature devoid of those things that we attribute to existance, to life."

Traces Evolution Of Religion

Tracing the evolution of religion, the scientist said that its growth and development was even more striking than the material evolution that has gone on in the world. Religion, he declared, had the crudest beginning from the time some brain got a spiritual ideal. The early man buried tools and weapons with the body in the belief that it might be of aid in the next world or existance.

He explained that early man's concept of religion was closely tied with nature. That efforts were made to appease the vagrancies of nature, and that each part of nature was believed to be controlled by a particular god that must be appeased, and that the greatest sacrifice was that of a human.

The second great step, Dr. Millikan said, was when God spoke to Abraham who was about to sacrifice his son, Isaac. Abraham, the lecturer said, decided that God was not a wrathful, beastlike power, but was kind and would rather accept an animal sacrifice than a human one.

Jesus Brought Greatest Progress

For thousands of years the world carried on with that type of belief, Dr. Millikan said, until a new idea, inspired by God, was given the people by Jesus, Mohammed and to some extent by Buddah. Their teachings of love and unselfishness struck a mortal blow at the concept that God was a 'super powerful human being.' They taught that God is a spirit and at the same time changed man's concept of duty by offering the 'golden rule' instead of sacrifices. The duty of benevolence, altruism, love and unselfishness replaced the duty of slaughtering animals on an altar, he said.

Dr. Millikan credited the great next step forward in religion to Galileo, scientist and astronomer, who with his experiments exploded many of the theories that had gripped the world up to that time. The scientist said that Galileo's experiments and findings were the basis of the mechanical age, changed the whole human concept of God and broadened the thinking of the world to include a universe that was governed by law.

The religious world discovered a God who ruled by law and orderliness, Dr. Millikan said, and not by caprice or whim. It also changed man's sense of duty, for he learned that he must learn God's laws and strive to get into harmony with them.

Speaks Of Darwin

The next step forward in the evolution of religion was credited to Darwin, whom Dr. Millikan declared was a firm believer in God. Darwin, he said made it possible for the world to evaluate progress by looking backward into history, into the rocks, and into the elements. Man learned that he could play a part in his progress, and that there was unlimited possibilities for mankind in the future. It brought science and religion ever nearer, the scientist said. The scientist, he said, hopes to give service, and learned that the individual is subordinate to the rendering of that service.

Science is changing religion, Dr. Millikan said, but science has not added or subtracted anything to the question, 'What becomes of the individual after life ends?' Religion goes on where the boundaries of knowledge end and science knows just how quickly those boundaries are reached, he said.

Religion, he said, will last as long as man hopes, aspires, and reflects upon his existance, and strives to meet his responsibilities.

HANGING ATTEMPTED

A 43-year-old Lubbock man was in serious condition at Lubbock Memorial hospital last night after he had attempted to hang himself in city jail, according to police. The man had been charged with drunkenness about 4 p. m. yesterday. The attempted suicide happened about 10:30 o'clock last night. Officers said he used a belt which he tied to one of the bars, and then lifted himself off the floor and tied the other end around his neck. He was discovered when another man was being jailed.

RED AIR FORCE PUTS ON SHOW

Military Experts Await Report On Display Of Russian Planes

By ELTON C. FAY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 3.— The big, four-engine planes that Russia put on display over the weekend may provide a new insight into her airborne army equipment.

Military experts here await the arrival of more detailed reports from United States diplomatic observers at the May Day parade before analyzing what the Red Air Force put out for show.

It is likely that at least some of the big planes were the Soviet TU-70, an aircraft bearing close resemblance to the American B-29.

The assumption has been that the Russians copied many of the features of five B-29s known to have been forced down in Soviet-controlled areas during the war.

Plane's Range Estimated

Photographs of the TU-70 indicate it may be a hybird transport-bomber. Although its elongated fuselage appears to be a conventional transport design, the plane carries the plexiglass nose used by bombardiers for sighting.

The installation of bomb bay doors (if they are not indeed built into the transport version) and of bomb bays would be an easy matter of conversion. Requiring more time would be the addition of defensive guns to the transport.

The TU-70 is reported to have a passenger capacity of 72. It is to be presumed, however, that this could be increased substantially if the plane were used strictly as a troop carrier.

If its performance compares with that of wartime B-29s, the TU-70 could carry troops and land as far as 3,000 miles distance from its home base. The range would be about half of that distance if the plane were to drop paratroopers and return to base.

This would mean that with TU-70s, Alaska would be within easy range for an attack by commando-type Russian forces intent upon seizing airfields there.

Russia is known to be giving considerable attention to airborne armies. Estimates of the size of her airborne force range up to 200,000.

Russian Position Analyzed

But to employ a force of this size, the Soviet Union would need heavily stepped-up production of troop carrier planes, especially of the long range type. (Some commanders estimate that as many as 800 large transports are required to move one division of 16,000 soldiers.)

There are only official guesses as to the number of big bombers or bomber-transports that Russia might possess.

Secretary for Air Symington has estimated that Russia may have at least 1,000 long range bombers. Gen. Carl Spaatz, former Air Force chief of staff, guesses that she could produce from 500 to 1,000 more a month.

The United States, which built some 3,000 B-29s during the war, has fewer than 1,000 in service now but between 1,200 and 1,500 in storage.

Russia's need for a large "air lift" for troops arises out of two deficiencies:

1. Comparative small merchant fleet and navy. This means that if she had any overseas ambitions, she would have to count heavily, in the initial strike, on air transportation.

2. A rail system entirely inadequate to provide heavy troop transport to bombers thousands of miles distant. For purposes of quickly building up defense garrisons, Russia again must turn to the air.

Library Positions Announced By Civil Service Commission

Examinations have been announced by the Civil Service commision for librarian and library assistant in various federal agencies in Texas, and for filling social worker and medical technical assistant positions.

The librarian posts pay from $3,397.20 to $14,149.60 a year, and the assistant jobs range from $1,954 to $2,644.60.

Majority of social worker positions are in the District of Columbia. Government, and medical technical assistant jobs are in federal prison hospitals throughout the country. Salaries for the latter range from $2,644 to $4,149.

Education and experience requirements are set up. Details and blanks are available at the office of Elmer Potts, local secretary, in the postoffice building, and from regional offices.

World Peace Organization Chapter Will Be Discussed

Preliminary steps toward organization of an adult chapter of the United World Federalists of Lubbock, an affiliate of an international peace organization of approximately 250,000 members, were announced yesterday by Richard M. Ehrlich, director of the chapter organized several months ago among college students.

Ehrlich was joined by Truett Tyler, executive secretariat in a statement that the organization believes in strengthening the United Nations into a government which has the authority to enact and enforce world law, a limited world government edequate to prevent wars.

The United World Federalists recently created what they call a world government institute at San Angelo college, an they point to the recent forum held at Abilene under direction of James P. Speer, former member of the U. S. State department. Such a forum is planned here for mid-May, it was said.

Junior High School Students Hear Talk

Approximately 415 ninth grade students from Central and O. L. Slaton junior high schools flocked into Lubbock Senior High school Monday afternoon for an explanation of rules and traditions and for pre-scheduling conferences with assigned counselors.

The two groups, who had two weeks earlier heard an explanation of senior high courses for which they were eligible by Principal Floyd Honey and Director of Guidance Grace Padley, met with previously assigned guidance teachers and filled out subject course cards, which have gone to parents for final approval.

The group from Central Junior High school toured the building and heard regulations and traditions explained to them by student council members while the group from Slaton Junior high met with guidance teachers, following which the groups "traded places."

The number of ninth graders expected to enter senior high this fall is almost identical with the number of seniors who will graduate this spring, high school officials said.

Senior high students received a half-day holiday while the orientation and pre-scheduling activities were held.

Weather predictions can be made 25 per cent more accurately by use of the seismograph, the instrument scientists use for recording earthquakes.

Supreme Court Rules Four Movie Firms Violated Anti-Trust Act

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—The Supreme court ruled 6-1 today that four firms operating movie theaters in Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico violated the Sherman anti-trust act by combining to obtain monopoly rights.

The government brought the anti-trust act charges against the Griffith Amusement company, Consolidated Theaters, Inc., R. E. Griffith Theaters, Inc., and Westex Theaters, Inc.

Justice Douglas delivered the court's ruling. Justice Frankfurter dissented in part. Justices Murphy and Jackson took no part.

Further Action Set

The Justice department said the movie exhibitors, by pooling their film-buying power, jointly negotiated licensing agreements with the major film distributors. These agreements, the government charged, prevented other exhibitors from competing with the four firms in obtaining feature films for first or subsequent run exhibition.

At the same time, the Justice department asserted, the four firms acquired theaters of competing exhibitors under agreements binding the sellers not to compete in the future.

Judge Edgar S. Vaught in U. S. district court in Oklahoma City dismissed the government's complaint on the ground that the charges were not sustained by the evidence. The government then appealed directly to the Supreme court.

In finding the violation of the Sherman Act, the Supreme Court directed that the case be sent back to the district court for a determination of the effect and extent of the asserted monopoly practices on competitors of the four firms. The court also told the district court to issue a decree "which will undo as near as may be the wrongs that were done and prevent their recurrence in the future."

Longview Fire Damage Heavy

LONGVIEW, May 3. (AP) — A spectacular fire destroyed two buildings and damaged three others in the heart of the business district here today.

The flames were believed to have started in the Texas theater, one of the buildings destroyed. The other building destroyed housed the Household Furniture store.

Other businesses destroyed or badly damaged were the Dorice Blouse shop, the Roundup club the Local Finance Co., the Topp's Printing Co., the Dunn Jewelry shop and the O. H. Grissom offices

Loss to buildings alone was placed at $200,000.

No One Injured

The flames started about 10:30 a. m. and were brought under control shortly after noon. Fire fighting equipment from Kilgore, Gladewater and Greggton aided the Longview department in fighting the blaze.

The block involved is on Fredonia street between the railroad station and Cotton street. The walls of the two-story furniture building fell with an ear-splitting crash.

No one was injured despite the fact that hundreds were attracted to the scene. More than 100 men volunteered in aiding the fire fighters and in removing goods from the flaming structures. Much of the stock of the Topp's Printing Co. was removed before workers were forced from the building.

During the height of the fire flames leaped 50 feet in the air, and the intense heat and smoke caused a number of firms to evacuate their employes.

Oldtimers described the fire as the worst in Longview's history.

Texas To Protest FCC Ruling On Censorship On Broadcasts

AUSTIN, May 3 (AP)—Texas will file a protest with the Federal Communications commission over a proposed ruling under which radio stations would not be permitted to delete libel from political broadcasts, Attorney General Price Daniel said today.

Rep. Lindley Beckworth (D-Tex) will present the attorney general's brief at a hearing in Washington May 7 before the FCC in the case of the Port Huron, Mich., broadcasting company's application for a renewal of its permit.

Daniel said the FCC took away the company's license because it censored a political speech to remove material it considered libelous. The FCC position, Daniel explained, is that under rules of the FCC, stations which accept political broadcasts can not censor them even though they consider the matter libelous.

"In our opinion the Texas libel laws are in effect despite the federal communications act, and the FCC should not force radio stations to accept speeches which contain libelous matter," Daniel said.

Bomb Built Into Book Kills Brother Of Intended Victim

WOLVERHAMPTON, England, May 3 (INS)—A bomb built into a book of Shakespeare today killed Rex Farran, 26-year-old brother of Capt. Roy Farran, to whom it was addressed.

Capt. Farran was blamed by Palestine's Stern gang last year for the murder of 18-year-old Alexander Rubowitz, a Jewish youth who disappeared after being picked up by Farran's police squad in the Holy Land.

Capt. Farran was acquitted of the murder charge by a military tribunal and then allegedly was marked for death by the Sternists. He was visiting in Scotland when the bomb arrived at his home this morning.

Police said the bomb had been mailed in Britain.

Detroit Youth Brings $20,000 House Home As Winning Prize

DETROIT, May 3 (AP) — Auto worker Roy Barth loves his son Dick, 14, but the boy does bring home problems.

Dick set out to fly a model airplane Sunday and came home the owner of a $20,000 property.

The boy had stopped at a "Builders show" and bought a 50 cent admission ticket, which gave him a chance on an "ideal home."

Dick won the raffle.

Barth was pleased — and confused. He said he didn't know whether to keep the house. It will be an expense to maintain.

Further, the collector of internal revenue is expected to call on Barth for about $4,000 in taxes on son Dick's luck.

Hopes Grow For New Terry Field

Oil Odors And Stains Are Found In Samples Taken From Bankline Test

Oil odors and oil stains were taken Monday to mean that there are possibilities of discovery of a new oil field in southeast Terry county. The indications came from the Bankline Oil Co. No. 1 F. L. Butler four miles northwest of the Welch field in northwest Dawson county, which is the nearest proven petroleum producing area.

The Bankline prospect is 660 feet from north and west lines of Section 12, Block C-39 PSL survey. It is now bottomed at 4,967 feet in the San Andres Permian lime.

Oil Indications Found

Soft drilling and a porous section were encountered at 4,923 feet. Samples through a part of the zone from that peint to 4,957 feet showed some oil odor and some oil stains.

Because of caving, a thorough study of samples was not possible.

The operator cored at 4,957-67 feet. Recovery was five feet of material with the top three feet being dolomite oil and gas. The bottom two feet area was dense. A drill stem test was not attempted because of the danger of possibly sticking to tools in the caving hole. It was decided that the shows were good enough to warrant running the casing so a test could be made without taking risks from the open hole.

No Formation Water

The venture found the top of the San Andres lime about 30 feet low to a number of dry holes in the adjacent regions, but it encountered the porous section in that formation about 100 feet high to any other prospector which has been drilled in that territory.

No formation water has been developed in the exploration of the section, which is showing for possible production.

Soil Conservation Tour Is Planned

TAHOKA, May 3 (Special) —A "Conservation Caravan," sponsored by the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce, will leave the Lynn county courthouse at 9 a. m. Tuesday to visit 16 nearby farms where soil and water conservation practices have been carried out successfully and profitably.

Setting out that "the soil is our heritage and we must protect it for the generations to follow as well as for the present generation," leaders of the caravan said purpose of the field day is to acquaint business men and farmers of the county with soil conservation measures that are being carried out.

It is explained that the farms scheduled for stops were not chosen because they were carrying out practices better than those on other farms in the county, but were chosen because of locations and the wide variety of practices.

Each stop on the full day's schedule is 25 to 30 minutes except for a sack lunch at the noon hour which will be at the Thomas deer pasture following inspection of the irrigation project on the Thomas farm.

After leaving the courthouse at 9 a. m., first stop is to be at a johnson grass elimination project. The grass was sprayed with atlicide (1 and ¼ pounds to one gallon of water) the first week in August, 1947 when the grass was in the bloom to soft dough stage.

Stop No. 2 at the Fred McGinty farm, 9:35 a. m., inspections to include: earthen dam built in 1944 containing 3,442 cubic yards, and has not been dry; 12,211 feet of terracing built in 1946; 430 acres of contour furrowing in 1940, and an entire farm cultivated on contour basis.

Stop No. 3, at W. P. Thomas and J. F. Stuart farms, 10 a. m., to include 46,800 feet of terrracing on the Thomas farm and 38,685 feet on the Stuart farm. Both farms are contoured, and both are terraced under one system.

Stop No. 4, at G. M. Stewart pasture, 10:40 a. m., to inspect and earthen dam built in 1947, containing 47,536 cubic yards, and with a watershed of 6,000 acres.

Stop No. 5, at E. A. Thomas farm, at 11:10 a. m., an irrigation project, where water is piped 1,480 feet underground through 8-inch pipe to concrete ditch. Ditch is 1,030 feet long.

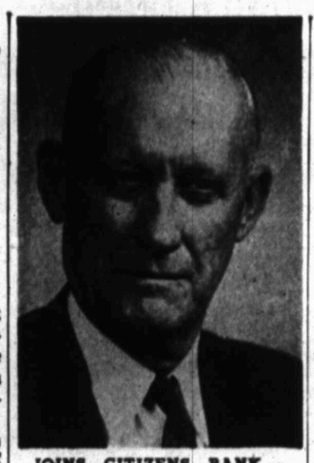

Stop No. 6, paper sack lunch at M. L. and W. P. Thomas deer pasture, 11:30 to 12:30, then inspection of irrigation facilities where water is forced uphill through underground pipe for distance of 2,900 feet from well.

Stop No. 7, Lewis Manley farm, 12:55 p. m., project of sub-irrigation of alfalfa.

Stop No. 8, Elton Smith farm, at 1:20 a. m., entire section of land irrigated with four wells.

Stop No. 9, J. H. Sander farm, 1:55 p. m., where 160 acres irrigated with one well. All rows run north and south, and water ditches east and west. Has 12 acres of

California Woman Has Claim For Driving Autos Longest

SOUTH PASADENA, Calif., May 3 (AP) — Mrs. Jessica P. Merville says she guesses she can claim the record for driving an automobile longer than any other woman.

"If any woman has been driving since 1897, I bow," says the 69-year-old former antique dealer. "but I drove my father's 1898 one-cylinder Winton. He was an inventor of farm machinery and factory equipment. People used to flee the streets when they saw me driving."

Mrs. Merville is driving a 21-year-old Essex but she plans to go east and get a new car.

State Prison Conditions Claimed Improved

Meetings Over State Planned

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, May 3—T. R. Havens of Brownwood said today that conditions in the Texas Prison system have "improved wonderfully" since the first of the year. He made the statement here today in a report to the State Prison Board on prison morale.

He said the improvement was caused by concentration of all "trouble makers" at Ramsey prison farm and placing these men in

MEETING SET IN LUBBOCK

Lubbock was among several larger Texas cities at which mass meetings will be held before the summer primary elections in an attempt to gain backing for the $4,000,000 program to continue cleaning up prison conditions, a late Associated Press dispatch from Dallas said Monday night. A definite date for the Lubbock mass meeting was not announced.

separate cells. He said this restored hope to prisoners who want to get along with the prison administration.

Mass Meetings Okayed

W. C. Windsor of Tyler termed the report "the best yet submitted."

Havens said the present prison population was 5,870 and that there would be 6,366 inmates if present trends continue.

The board members approved the plan to hold mass meetings to show the public the need for $4,000,000 for improvements in the prisons. Such a mass meeting was held here yesterday.

B. A. Stufflebeme of Grand Prairie said similar mass meetings will be held in Amarillo May 27, Wichita Falls May 19 and Waco June 13. He advocated holding of still more meetings.

All Members Present

It was the first time in several months that all members of the board had been present. These included Havens, Stufflebeme, Windsor, Bronson Morgan of Jasper, French Robertson of Abilene, Barney Harrison of Greenville, Elmer Lincoln of Texarkana, J. E. Wheat of Woodville and T. N. Whitehurst of Beaumont.

Stufflebeme, in his report on the board's public relations policy, said that the mass meetings and a number of small meetings before civic groups had been held throughout the state to "inform the people on conditions in the prison system."

In addition to the mass meetings, he called for transcriptions to be made for broadcast over radio stations.

Inspections Permitted

In keeping with its policy of public information, the board authorized T. O. Ellis, new manager, to permit inspection visits to the prison units by responsible persons and groups, as have been permitted to the press in recent months. A former policy of inspection tours for an admission fee was revoked some time ago.

The board continued in effect a policy of having a board committee investigate any future shootings at the prison system.

Ellis, describing methods used recently to quell a riot at Ramsey prison farm, insisted that "we must have discipline," and asked the board to back him in demanding it. He said that the difficulty had quited down and the prisoners involved had created no new disturbances.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Miller of Sundown, Hockley county, and their son, William Miller, 22, of Reese, Mich., were killed instantly Sunday when a fast New York Central passenger train struck their car at a railroad crossing near Saginaw, Mich.

The Millers were en route to Reese to return their son to his wife and small daughter after he had visited in Sundown recently. They left Sundown Thursday for the Michigan city and had planned to arrive there late Sunday, relatives here said.

Farmer And Oilman

Mr. Miller, 49, and his wife, Anner, 48, had resided in Hockley county 19 years. Mr. Miller was a farmer and of recent years had been engaged in various phases of the oil business.

The son, who served three years in the U. S. Navy, had been attending school in Oklahoma, and came to Sundown to visit his parents before re-joining his family. He is survived by his wife and a 13-months-old daughter.

Survivors Are Listed

Mr. and Mrs. Miller are survived by another son, Earl, and a daughter, Mrs. Jessie Lee Deaton, both residing in Sundown. BOSTON, May. 3 (INS)—A black and white angora cat owned by Mrs. Ida Ciamma of East Boston crawled into the family washing machine today.

Eisenhower Says No Nation Now Willing To Provoke World War

By INEZ ROBB
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 3. — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower declared today that no great nation, including Russia, is willing at the moment to provoke deliberately a global war.

He said at a news conference:

"But I fear a stupid act which might bring it about or a deadlock where neither side feels it can retreat."

A question concerning his stand on the conscription of students for military service elicited the most serious reply of the conference from Eisenhower. With present draft and UMT issues obviously in mind, the general said:

"The time has come when everyone of us from 17 to 60 must place first his obligations to his country, in regard to school or anything else."

The general, in unfamiliar civvies, also once more took himself out of the presidential race at his first news conference since his arrival Sunday at Columbia university, whose presidency he will assume in June.

Eisenhower's declaration of his

HEALTH SAFEGUARD

Pest Control Plans

LUBBOCK has been a much more pleasant place in which to live during the past two Summers because of the genuinely effective fly and mosquito control program carried on by the City Health department.

Therefore, it should be good news to everyone—and especially to rural area residents—that the program is to be operated on a countywide basis this summer, with DDT spraying to be started within the city in the next few days in the Arnett-Benson addition.

Much more than personal comfort, which means a great deal, is involved in an effective program of this kind. Flies and mosquitoes are, according to health authorities, the worst of all spreaders of disease. Any community where these pests are controlled effectively is sure to be healthier. Security is increased when the control is extended over an entire county, as will be done in Lubbock county this year. The danger of disease does not stop at any city limit, which is ample proof that, to be most effective, the DDT spraying program necessarily must go as far beyond the municipal boundaries as is practical.

The whole program would be even more effective if every county on the South Plains should sponsor similar preventive measures. Officials of many of them are interested and the probabilities are that most will, in time, make provision for systematic war against the pests. When that happens, a long step toward protecting the health of all the people of this great area will have been taken.

Golden Goobers

TEXANS who study a recent Department of Agriculture report almost certainly will acquire an enhanced respect for the once-humble peanut which now is well on the road to farming aristocracy.

The report shows that the goober crop in this state last year exceeded $33,000,000 in value, second only to Georgia, where it totaled about $70,000,000—almost as much as cotton as a money crop.

Texas also was second in acreage planted, with about 800,000, with Georgia again in first place, with more than 1,500,000. Most of these acres previously were devoted to cotton. The average yield per acre, according to the report, was considerably higher for peanuts than cotton.

The increased peanut planting also has been responsible for the establishment and expansion of a considerable industry in each state, employing several thousand persons, mostly devoted to the preparation of peanut butter.

Furthermore, the experts say the peanut industry is in its infancy. They do not attempt to forecast the number of products that might be made profitably from the plant and its products. But it is significant that the late Dr. George Washington Carver, famous negro scientist, made more than 200 different items from the peanut and the plant, including synthetic leather, chemicals, paints of various kinds, cloth and dozens of others.

Indeed, the report indicates that a new family of agricultural royalty is in the making which eventually will challenge in many areas, as it already has in Georgia, the position of cotton as king.

IT was quite impossible for her to make them believe her.

They were kind to her and they listened to her with a tolerance that was infuriating but which she was unable to combat.

They were beginning to exchange commiserating glances over her head, glances that said only too plainly that she was ill, that the shock of Tommy's death had been too much for her, that she had cracked under the strain. When Sam Blanding got to his feet and said, rather uncomfortably, that he guessed he'd better be running along, she knew forlornly that she had failed.

"I won't say a word about this," the sheriff said unhappily, looking at neither her nor Rush directly. "No use to get the town on its ear. Tell you what, Mrs. Bancroft, when you get to feeling better you give me a ring and I'll come out and talk to you again."

He gave her his full direct gaze and as she looked into the intelligent eyes she felt a wild hope stir inside her breast. Was he trying to tell her something? Trying to reassure her but in such a way that the others would not understand? She felt pulses quicken all over her body.

Rush laughen then, a bit too heartily.

"After Ann's had a good rest she'll realize how mistaken she's been." He put his arm about her shoulders; it was all she could do not to draw away. "I'm not saying, you understand, that there isn't some truth in what she says." His voice was smooth as velvet. "It's her interpretation I don't agree with."

"Of course," Enos said, also smoothly, "and under strain facts have a way of looking different. Believe me, I know."

"YOU know . . ." Rush said and then he hesitated, glanced down at Ann's drawn face, then looked at Sam Blanding again. "I don't know what you'd think of this, Sam, but we've got a cabin over on the lake. I was thinking it might not be a bad idea to take Ann up there for a few days until she's entirely rested." His deference to the sheriff was both flattering and disarming.

And any wild hope Ann may have had in Sam Blanding died an abrupt death when the sheriff said, "Why, I can't see where it would hurt any." And then he said gently, "Provided, of course, you take good care of the little lady. Wouldn't want any accidents to happen to her." His voice underlined the word accident, oh, very lightly, and Ann realized the sheriff had put no credence in her story. None at all.

Sheriff Blanding looked acutely uncomfortable for a minute after his remark and so he added, jocularly, "Not that I think—" But that was no good either, so he began again, his face red—"They say these things have a way of coming in threes, you know."

Help came then from an unexpected source.

Gay said, her voice low and sweet, "I don't mean to sound silly but wouldn't it be easier to get in touch with this man in Cheyenne?"

Everybody looked at her in such astonishment that the bright color laped to her face and she said defensively, "Well, wouldn't it sort of clear the air? If you put yourself in Ann's place it's easy to see why she's upset; I would be, I know, if the same things had happened to me. It seems to me—" She paused, looked frightfully embarrassed— 'well, almost too much of a coincidence."

"Gay!" Rush said.

THAT one word contained so many things that Ann, for a moment, was appalled. She struggled for sanity. Not Rush and Gay! Dear God, surely not! If there'd been any feeling between them, any love for each other, she'd have sensed it. She knew she would have. Yet Rush's single speaking of Gay's name had said volumes.

"It would be so easy to check," Gay said doggedly and she wouldn't look at Rush. "A long distance telephone call—"

"But, my dear, what would it accomplish?" Enos asked softly.

Sam Blanding turned his pipe back and forth in his hands. "I guess it probably won't hurt none to call him if it'll make Mrs. Bancroft feel any better."

"Of course," Enos said rapidly. "Of course." He turned to Ann. "Do you want to talk to him yourself, Ann? Or do you trust Sheriff Blanding?"

"I—" Her mouth was parched, her voice was harsh. "I don't—know."

"Well, look," Rush said and there was an edge to his voice that she recognized as a danger signal; Rush's temper was growing short. "You must know! I mean—doggonit Ann, if you don't know, who does? Or don't you know what you want?" He watched her and his probing eyes made her shiver! "The thing is, there's no point in getting everyone all up in the air over nothing. Go ahead and call Cheyenne if you want to but it seems to me—"

And Enos cut in so easily it was almost as though he had visibly smoothed ruffled feathers. Enos said, "But we want to ease Ann's mind, Rush. She'll rest better and recover more quickly if—"

From a far distance she heard herself distinctly. "There's nothing the matter with my mind," and then the blackness and the terror descended upon her, came down like a dark angry cloud out of the strong June sunshine, and overwhelmed her. It was a little like drowning and, although she struggled, she knew full well she was quite lost. I accomplished nothing at all, she thought. I gave away all my knowledge and I didn't gain a thing. And so it will go on . . . and on . . . and . . .

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

DON'T you ever pay any attention to those sourpusses who tell you that the comics are harmful for children and contribute to juvenile delinquency.

That's just a lot of rot.

BRANDEIS

The comics are a wonderful tonic in these days of a thousand anxieties, and if a child does not become a juvenile delinquent by reading all about the Palestine massacres, the Italian riots, the bloodshed in Colombia and the lying and treachery of the Russians, he certainly is not going to be hurt by Buz Sawyer, Steve Canyon, Terry and the Pirates or Blondie.

Speaking of Blondie, just the other day that strip contained a wonderful bit of philosophy.

Cookie, Blondie's little girl, is asking her mother for a cookie.

Blondie reaches up to the shelf and takes down the cookie jar.

"Aren't you going to have one, too, Mama?" the little girl asks.

"No, dear, I don't seem to care for them any more."

Whereupon the little one remarks:

Do you mean to say when you're big enough to reach the cookie jar by yourself, you don't care for them any more?"

Of course little Cookie didn't mean to be a philosopher.

But just think for a moment.

Think of the many things for which you did "not care" any more "when you were big enough" to reach the cookie jar" by yourself.

Think of all the things you wanted so very badly and thought you'd never be able to have.

But you worked for them and you saved for them and finally you got them.

And then?

"No, dear, I don't seem to care for them any more."

IT SEEMS that the most attractive things in our imagination are either those things called "forbidden fruit," or the things that others have but seem to be unattainable to us.

Lester Dyer, principal at Calvin Coolidge school, Shrewsbury, Mass., was troubled with hookey playing by his pupils at the beginning of every fishing season.

So this year he announced a Fishing Derby and is giving prizes to the pupils catching the biggest fish.

The pupils play hookey no longer.

And here's the secret: Prizes are given only if the fish are caught before or after school hours.

By the way, getting back to the comics.

President Roosevelt was an ardent comics fan and so was Woodrow Wilson, who read his comics first thing in the morning before looking at any state papers.

American comics appear in every country in the world except one: Russia.

But in Russia it's juvenile delinquency to laugh.

LIMIT ON AID FUNDS

Showdown Is Urged

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The latest and sharpest demand for an "early" showdown with Russia has stemmed from an entirely unexpected quarter—namely, the Federal Reserve Board at Washington.

Although this agency deals with dollars rather than bullets, it has warned Congress that the United St tes cannot continue indefinitely to tax and borrow for financing of domestic needs, foreign aid and military preparations without giving Russia a "cheap" victory.

The ultimatum was submitted by Vice Chairman Marriner S. Eccles before the Joint Committee on the Economic Report, but the sensational nature of his remarks was so surrounded with technical monetary discusions that they virtually passed unnoticed except among high officials at the White House, the State Department and the Pentagon building. They also had a depressing but definite effect among a small group on Capitol Hill.

TUCKER

Most important, Mr. Eccles was expressing the considered conclusions of the board rather than his own individual views. The problem of an economic crackup under a prolonged "cold war," which will entail vast expenditures for five years or a decade, has occupied the minds of the federal financiers at many an executive session for the last few months.

FORCE: It is also understood that the single volume which has most deeply impressed board members is Strange Alliance which was written by Major General John R. Deane, former head of the American Military Mission at Moscow. From his personal dealings with the Kremlin he proved to himself, and his readers that:

(1). It is impossible to negotiate with the Russians on a formal and rational basis. It is impossible to get them to agree to peaceful and permanent settlement of major issues which divide them from the western powers, and when they do agree, they reserve the right to break the agreement at their convenience.

(2). The only argument which Moscow understands, respects and will bow to is an opponent's strength, as well as the appreciation that the other fellow will use his force if necessary.

Another historical commentary which has shaped board members' thinking is Winston Churchill's memoirs. The British wartime leader's principal thesis is that the last conflict was "unnecessary" and resulted from the "temporizing policies which the so-called democracies pursued toward Germany, Italy and Japan from 1919 to 1939. It is against the background of these writings that the Eccles worries and wanderings must be projected and interpreted.

WRECK: Vice Chairman Eccles suggested three alternative solutions to our world difficulties as aggravated by the stalemate between Washington and London. He did not seem too optimistic, however, that any one of them or a combination of them would improve our political, military or financial lot.

First, he said that the United States could continue its proposed foreign aid and carry out a military program of an "undetermined cost and size" and without any effective controls. Roughly, this would mean an annual expenditure for an indefinite period—five or ten years—of almost sixty billions. It would consist of a budget of thirty-seven billions, foreign assistance of at least five and military outlays of fifteen billions or more.

"This is the certain road, if followed long enough," he added, "to a ruinous inflation . . . Those who view us with a hostile eye no doubt hope that we will wreck our economy on the shoals of inflation. It would be a cheap way to defeat us."

ALTERNATIVE: His second alternative contemplated the reimposition of even more drastic checks and controls than we suffered during World War II—allocations of materials, construction permits, price and wage ceilings, higher taxation. In short, a police state save for the lack of brutality against the individual.

He questioned, however, whether the American people would endure such semi-permanent regimentation unless they were assured that there was "an end point in sight which will enable us to maintain our system and our institutions in a peaceful world." From his statement it is clear that neither he nor the guardians of our financial security discern any "end point in sight" under existing conditions.

Then he swung into the most grave portion of his analysis and warning:

TIME: "We may well ask for how many years must we maintain enormous and probably expanding military expenditures. The question is how long, and to what end, and at what consequences to our economy?

"We do not have the inexhaustible supplies of manpower and resources to support indefinitely, with no end point in sight, programs of the magnitude which we now are shouldering or contemplating. We cannot go on year after year, bearing these crushing costs without jeopardizing what we seek to save.

"If we were confident of the early establishment of peace, we could tolerate a tightly controlled economy. We believe that the time element is the very essence of this grave problem."

LIMITED: Most significant feature of this Eccles statement is his constant reiteration of the importance of the "time element," meaning that we can wage a "cold war" for only a limited period.

Incidentally, the board apparently does not believe that the Marshall Plan, our intervention in Greece, Turkey and Italy and our military expansion are sufficient to force Moscow to change her menacing ways. Vice Chairman Eccles delivered his talk long after all those anti-Communist moves had been made or authorized by Congress.

The old-time kitchen didn't have all of the modern gadgets. The only thing it had was the coffee-grinder hanging on the wall.

A Western man has 15 small children. Instead of a baby sitter, he needs a nursery school.

If ignorance is bliss, some folks should certainly find happiness.

Even at that, it's better to be a second guesser than to never have guessed at all.

There will never be a brotherhood of mankind so long as neighbors fall out about property lines.

This will also be recalled as an era when every college boy listed the owning of an auto as a necessity.

Some people enjoy political years. It gives them an opportunity to boo and hiss candidates appearing in the news reels.

Old Job had patience but of course he never tried to use a cigarette lighter that wouldn't work.

MINNESOTAN MAY BEAT 'BLOC'

Stassen Gains Hit 'Old Guard'

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—It is now possible to make some calculations as to the situation that will exist among candidates for the Republican presidential nomination when the party's national convention begins to assemble in Philadelphia seven weeks hence.

Developments thus far, added up, make it appear very difficult now for party leaders to deny the claims for the nomination of Harold Stassen of Minnesota, either through manipulated combination or other devices — that is, unless the young man suddenly falls on his face meanwhile. The latter seems most unlikely if you know him, know his political astuteness, know something of the careful planning and timing of his campaign and the superb organizing back of it, and have followed him about and caught the impact of the public enthusiasm that he generates.

STOKES

Look at the record, as the late Al Smith used to say.

Tops Dewey In Poll

Stassen has not only run ahead of every other candidate in three significant tests by ballot to date — Wisconsin, Nebraska and Pennsylvania — but for the first time, and just at the strategic time, he has forged to the top of the Gallup popularity poll, replacing Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, who had held first place among the Republicans consistently since the 1944 election when he was the candidate against the late Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Indications are that Stassen will do very nicely in the forthcoming May 4 primary in Ohio, in which he will contest Senator Robert A. Taft directly. And the polls forecast a victory over Governor Dewey again in the May 21 Oregon primary, the last in which these two will meet before the convention.

If it works out that way, Harold Stassen will go before the convention as the unchallenged favorite of rank-and-file Republican voters, so far as can be shown by a sampling by ballot in a representative geographical cross-section—in short, as the popular or people's candidate in his party.

He occupies now the same sort of position psychologically that the late Wendell L. Willkie occupied before the 1940 convention, into which the lawyer-business man swept to knock over the professionals. Except that in actuality Harold Stassen's position is much stronger. He has won his way by voting tests, whereas Mr. Willkie caught the public imagination by a publicity build-up that revealed a very attractive personality so unlike the sterotyped politician.

Harold Stassen, like Mr. Willkie, "caught fire" just at the right time. Previously a man very busy at his errands of running for the nomination, dashing here and there making speeches, generally known not to be acceptable to the Republican old guard, he was regarded as maybe a vice presidential possibility. But suddenly, three months before the convention, he emerged as a vote-getter extraordinary. Nothing succeeds like success in American life, including its politics. Now he carries about him the aura of victory.

For this season it is going to be very hard to deal him out of the nomination, no matter what you may hear of combinations and alliances at this stage. While many cynical persons have come to look for a "deal" in national conventions, for which reason our political lexicon contains the "smoke-filled room," it is not necessarily so. Popular sentiment does make itself felt, particularly with the white light of publicity that now pours down upon national conventions. The approach of a deal in a "smoke-filled room" will be broadcast far and wide, and politicians are inherently timid when their operations are open to scrutiny.

Has Wide Backing

Well, how about the prospects of a combination or alliance against Harold Stassen? The talk of it reveals very clearly to the public in the first place that he's looked upon now as head man, the man to beat.

The usual combination discussed is between the Dewey and Taft forces. The New York governor and the Ohio senator are not too kindly disposed toward each other. They were unable, it may be recalled, to get together in time to stop Mr. Willkie eight years ago. Furthermore, while paper claims of their managers now add up to enough to stop the Minnesotan, it is not at all certain that either Senator Taft or Governor Dewey will go into the convention with what they now claim. Harold Stassen's political earthquake is already shaking the delegate trees all around—in Iowa, New Jersey, Florida, to mention some examples.

It can be said by an observer of national conventions since 1924 that so-called alliances are hard to form and hard, if formed, to keep together. The key figures, the candidates, too often turn out to be prima donnas, thinking only of themselves. Such combinations look good on paper but very seldom work out in practice.

Senator Vandenberg of Michigan is the man now most spoken of as the compromise candidate if Harold Stassen can be "stopped." Politicians rate him the best bet. But the politicians are not always right. It begins to look now as if the Republican rank and file may have something to say.

Well-Known Radio Master Of Ceremonies Dies From Stroke

NEWPORT BEACH, Cal., May 3. (U.P.)—Radio master of ceremonies Dudley Williamson, 45, who originated the coast-to-coast broadcast "What's the Name of That Song," dropped dead at the home of a friend last night.

Williamson, who lived in a house trailer at Huntington Beach, Cal., was visiting Emil Faust at Lido Beach, near here, when he suffered a heart attack and died a few minutes later.

His body was to be cremated today at Costa Mesa, Cal., mortuary, in accord with instructions he had given his wife. He also had told her that he wanted no flowers and that money which would have been so used should be given to the American Heart association.

RAILS LEAD RALLY

NEW YORK, May 3. (AP)—Led by selected rails and industrials, the stock market negotiated another average recovery move today although animation was lacking.

Dealings were relatively slow at intervals but volume crossed the million mark for the thirtieth full session since [illegible] 18. Total for the day was 1,150,000 shares against 1,440,000 Friday.

Buyers returned on the idea that rearmament spending and European outlays would continue to prop inflationary psychology and promote business generally. Rails still had the benefit of rate boosts and brightening income prospects.

The list had to absorb considerable profit cashing in the forenoon by professionals and customers who felt that last weeks reaction was not sufficient to provide a real technical correction of the strong April rally.

Prices hardened around midday after much forenoon irregularity. While assorted pivotals finished on the offside, gains of fractions to 3 or more points prevailed at the close.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was up .6 of a point at 67.7. The rail composite added a full point at 42.7, a peak since Aug. 1946. Of 1,005 issues registering, 511 rose and 281 fell.

Touching highs for 1948 were Central Railroad of N. J. 3 at 25¼, Northern Pacific 2 at 24, Plymouth Oil 3¼ at 70, American Woolen 1½ at 80¼.

In front were Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, N. Y. Central, Union Pacific, Illinois Central, Pennsylvania Railroad, U. S. Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Montgomery ward, Phelps Dodge, American Can, Eastman Kodak, Owens-Illinois, Texas Co. and Mission Corp.

Allied Chemical yielded 3¼ at 187¼. Easier were Deere, Caterpillar Tractor, American Smelting, Dow Chemical, General Electric, Pepsi-Cola (on an earnings decline), Mid-Continent Petroleum and Chesapeake ⅞ Ohio.

Bonds were narrow.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP) — Recurrent bursts of liquidation in the final hour of trading carried cotton futures to the lowest levels of the day. Losses extended to more than $4.50 a bale with the decline accentuated by stop loss selling, with heaviest dealings in the nearby May delivery. Mill buying and short covering in the final minutes of trading advanced prices about $1 from the extreme lows.

Futures closed 35 cents to $4.05 a bale lower than the previous close.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, May 3 (AP) — Grains were a little lower most of the session on the board of trade today. Rain in the southwestern winter wheat belt, particularly Kansas, was the major cause of the slightly easier tendency.

Offsetting moisture as a market influence was the still present prospect of a railroad strike next week and re-entry of the government into the flour market. The May wheat contract was supported by these factors.

Wheat closed ½ lower to ½ higher, May $2.42¾-$2.43, corn was ⅝ lower to ¾ higher, May $2.19¾-$2.20, oats were ¾ lower to ⅝ higher, May $1.08⅞, and soybeans were 1 cent higher, May $3.97.

Eisenhower

unavailability for the presidency, which has now become a standard feature of all news conferences with the general, was prompted by a barrage of political questions laid down by 100 reporters, photographers, radio technicians and news reel operators.

At the conference, which transformed the erstwhile quiet lounge of the men's faculty club into a minor bedlam, Eisenhower said he stood pat on his now famous letter of January 23, in which he declared he would not accept the presidential nomination "even under the remote circumstances that it were tendered me."

The general, burned a brilliant pink by his recent vacation in the southern sun, said, when asked if he would accept a nomination for the highest office in the land from either party:

Letter Is Related

"In my letter of January, which I assume you have all read, I expressed myself completely and positively on that subject. Nothing has happened since to alter that stand or change the convictions I uttered then."

The future president of the nation's largest university said he had "slaved" over the writing of the January letter for a long time. He added:

"There is not a word in it that misrepresents what I mean."

Eisenhower was then asked if the report were true that he would run for the presidency if he received President Truman's blessing.

The general, seated on a lounge in the midst of the conference, laughed and said:

"You people can think up the most impossible assumption! I don't know of any individual's opinion that could change me."

When asked if a draft movement, started by a mass of individuals could affect his decision, Eisenhower shook his head amusedly and declared:

"You pursue these things into the realms of fantasy. I have tried to make myself clear. I assure you I am honest!"

Results Of Bogota Conference Fail To Generate Enthusiasm

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The enthusiasm which followed adoption of a hemisphere defense plan at Rio De Janeiro last year is lacking from comment on the achievements of the Bogota conference.

When the American republics were agreeing to the principles for military cooperating there was a strong understanding that the economic corollaries would be arranged at Bogota. Now Bogota has come and gone and the basic economic problem of Latin-America—how to fit its desire for industrial development into the United States program for freer trade and concentration upon European recovery—has been postponed again. And, while admitting the urgency of U. S. preoccupation with Europe, the Latin-Americans have not been given a great deal to sustain their hope until the next meeting, which is expected in late summer or fall.

Coordination Improved

The anti-Communist resolution adopted at Bogota represents a solidarity of views, all well and good in its place, but principally of import as it may be adopted and administered in the individual countries.

The other achievements were largely organizational, serving to clarify and codify previous agreements. Under the new charter, it is presumed that the activities of the Pan American union, the foreign ministers and numerous special agencies will be better coordinated.

Work on economic relations was not entirely omitted. The United States sought to open the way for more development by private American capital in lieu of government loans. The southern countries showed considerable reluctance before agreeing to greater safeguards against expropriation of foreign properties. They remember that private capital has sometimes enlisted U. S. government pressures for its own benefit.

North America Not Happy

On the other hand, North America has not had entirely happy relations with Latin-American borrowers. Expropriation without adequate arrangements for compensation, defaults on loans and plain, ordinary graft fill the record on the other side. Many Latin-American countries are going to have to pass entirely new laws before a truly free flow of trade and finance can be established in either direction.

Because of their understanding at Rio that something would be done for them at Bogota, the good neighbors are now bitterly disappointed. The export-import and world banks can be expected to get busy to offset some of this feeling, and Marshall plan purchases for delivery to Europe are beginning.

But ultimately political and military cooperation in the Western hemisphere will result from recognition of the Latin-American desire to balance its economy by home processing of a good part of the raw materials which must now be exchanged abroad for finished goods.

Texans Told Mohair Surplus May Be Cut

WASHINGTON, May 3. (AP)—West Texans seeking new markets for mohair were cheered by a conference today with Undersecretary of Agriculture N. E. Dodd.

Rep. Fisher (D-Tex), who headed a group which discussed mohair problems with Dodd, said he gave them hope that a domestic surplus of the fiber will be reduced by shipments under the foreign aid program.

"We received no definite commitments," Fisher told a reporter, "but we are hopeful that exports of mohair might be arranged through the use of the so-called section 32 funds of the agriculture act."

The fund to which he referred comes out of import duties collected on farm products brought into this country, and can be used to subsidize exports of American agricultural items.

"Through the use of these special funds, the army can purchase American mohair for shipment to Japan and Germany for fabrication," Fisher said.

Army and State department officials will have to give further study to the problem before there is a definite decision, he added.

Participating in the talk with Dodd were these Texans: Steve Stumberg, Sanderson; Dolph Briscoe, jr., Uvalde; Sayers Farmer Junction; Adolph Steiler, Comfort, and Ernest Williams, San Angelo.

The Texans planned to talk with Senator Connally (D-Tex) and other senate leaders later today They will leave tonight for home.
