Snyder School Expands

All the 13 new classrooms which were constructed at West Elementary School have been put to use, according to Silas Devenport, principal of the school.

Several of the new classrooms were in use several days ago, and this week the school moved 10 classrooms of students, six of them to the new part of the building. Two classrooms were brought in from temporary buildings outside to eliminate use of temporary buildings at that school.

At the opening of the school term last fall, the West Elementary and East Elementary both had half-day classes for some first and second grade students. Later, as the first of new classrooms in the school building expansion program were completed, they were able to put the students back to fulltime classes.

At the North Elementary School, a number of students are in temporary buildings and will be for the remainder of this school year. By next fall, plans for completion of the new Northeast Elementary School, which is now under construction and which will relieve the crowded situation at North Elemntary.

Devenport said the recent move at his school relieves crowdedness considerably. There are 612 students enrolled at the school, which now has 27 regular classrooms, a library, music room, library work room, an acoustically-treated room which can be used for speech therapy, and offices. The cafeteria, which is being expanded, is not yet ready for the school to use the addition.

The principal said that with the new classrooms and facilities, organization of the school can be maintained in such a way that classes will be better served and that the building is now being put to its planned use.

Editor Balks At Questions

WASHINGTON (AP)—Robert Shelton, a copy editor for the New York Times, refused today to say if he is a Communist and challenged the right of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee to ask him the question.

He contended that the question not only violated his rights under the First Amendment to the Constitution but also threatened freedom of the press.

When Shelton refused to invoke the Fifth Amendment against possible self-incrimination, Chairman Eastland (D-Miss) ordered him to answer the question "on penalty of contempt" of the U.S. Senate.

Shelton again declined to say whether he was a Communist, and emphasized that he was not invoking the Fifth Amendment.

Today was the third and final day of the current series of public hearings in the subcommittee's hunt for red influences in the press and other media. Eastland said there will be other hearings later.

Eastland told reporters the subcommittee already is conducting closed - door sessions in preparation for additional public hearings later and added that the investigation "will not be confined to New York City."

So far most of those heard in the current phase of the inquiry have been employes of New York City newspapers.

One of them, who refused to say yesterday whether he was a communist, promptly lost his job as a reporter for the New York Daily News. He is William A. Price, who said he started working on the Daily News as a copy boy in 1940 and has been with the paper ever since except for 4½ years as a naval aviator during World War II.

Declining to invoke the Fifth Amendment's protection against possible self-incrimination, Price refused to answer many of the subcommittee's questions, although Eastland repeatedly told him he was risking punishment for contempt of the Senate.

The Daily News published in today's editions a telegram it said had been sent to Price by Executive Editor Richard Clarke, saying in part:

"Your conduct as a witness before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee . . . today has destroyed your usefulness to the News. Therefore your services as an employe of the News are being terminated immediately."

Clarke told Price the News will pay him any salary or other amounts due him and that, "if you so request, payment will be mailed to your home address."

Price, in declining to answer questions put to him, said the subcommittee had no right to inquire "into my private affairs" since he held no public office and drew no pay from the government.

Information Program Set By Officials

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration plans to launch a greatly expanded anti-Communist idea offensive in Asia and the Middle East if funds are voted by Congress.

President Eisenhower is expected to ask in his Jan. 16 budget message for an increase of more than 50 per cent in the appropriation for the U.S. Information Agency, for which Congress voted 85 million dollars last year.

Eisenhower gave a tipoff when he said in his State of the Union message yesterday:

"Injustice thrives on ignorance. Because an understanding of the truth about America is one of our most powerful forces, I am recommending a substantial increase in budgetary support of the United States Information Agency."

He did not spell out what purposes the increased propaganda funds would be used for.

However, it was learned that administration officials have decided a much greater effort in the war of words—the idea conflict side of the cold war—is needed in the Middle East and Asian countries to serve America's own interests there and to counter Communist aims.

The USIA presently operates about 200 posts such as information centers and libraries in 79 countries over the world. But the under-developed countries in Africa and Asia have come increasingly under Soviet pressure and propaganda campaigns.

Officials feel new U.S. efforts should be concentrated in those regions.

Snyder Firm Gets Contract

Holder Construction Co. of Snyder has been awarded a contract to install a 102-mile pipeline for the Cosden Petroleum Corp. of Big Spring.

A six-inch pipeline has been planned to connect the Cosden Refinery with a terminal south of Abilene. In addition, a four-inch loop at Tye will connect the new Abilene Air Force Base, and another four-inch segment will connect the Cosden Refinery with Webb Air Force Base west of Big Spring.

C. O. Holder of the Snyder firm, and R. L. Tollett, president of Cosden, signed the contract for laying the line. Contracts for planning the project were awarded to Pipeline Technologists, Inc. of Houston.

The entire project will cost $1.5 million.

Cosden previously transported petroleum products to the Abilene terminal by rail. The lines to the Abilene and Webb Air Force Bases will transport jet fuel.

Pickup Truck Damaged By Blaze In Snyder

A pickup truck was damaged by fire about mignight last night at the Beacon Lodge on the Sweetwater highway.

Firemen who went to the scene said the fire had been put out when they arrived, however.

Firemen did not learn the identity of the owner of the pickup.

State To Get Cold Fronts

By The Associated Press

Two cold fronts are due to bring Texas temperatures back to more seasonable levels over the weekend.

The first is from the West and moved Friday along the upper Panhandle down to the Red River Valley country around Wichita Falls. It will drop temperatures only slightly.

The second, much colder front, headed for the state from Canada. It is stretched across northern Nebraska and is to move into the Panhandle Saturday morning.

The Weather Bureau said no severe cold is due for the state.

No rain was forecast.

Only two points reported freezing weather Friday morning. Salt Flat recorded 30 and Presidio 31.

Other temperatures included Amarillo 33, Junction and El Paso 34, Wichita Falls and Lubbock 35, Odessa 39, Big Spring 40, Waco and Fort Worth 45, Austin and Texarkana 48, Abilene and Laredo 50 and Brownsville 61.

Trouble Brewing In Chile

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Most of Chile was under a state of siege today as the government moved to meet a nationwide strike call and what it termed "Communist agitation."

The government of President Carlos Ibanez declared the state of siege—a modified form of martial law—last night after adjourning Congress. All military leaves were canceled and all soldiers were ordered on the alert.

Chile's big Central Labor Union (CUT) called for the nationwide strike Jan. 9 to protest the government's plan to freeze wages, prices and pensions for civil servants as an anti-inflation step. Labor leaders said the freeze would cause hunger through the nation.

Crowds marched through Santiago's streets last night, demonstrating against the government action.

Police started a roundup of prominent labor leaders, arresting 51. They included Clotario Blest, head of the CUT.

The state of siege decree banned public meetings, put censorship on newspapers and radio stations, and permitted homes to be searched and arrests to be made without warrants.

Gen. Horacio Gamboa, Santiago garrison chief, said additional military units would be brought to the capital if necesary to strengthen the local force and to "guarantee the right to work."

Politics Read Into Message By President

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some Democrats today read into President Eisenhower's State of the Union message strong indications that he may seek a second term.

Republicans generally professed to find no such clues in a document which Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate Democratic leader, said yesterday was full of "political overtones."

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) said in an interview the tone of Eisenhower's message to Congress indicated to him that unless some adverse physical report is forthcoming Eisenhower is getting ready to run again.

McClellan commented that many of the President's proposals were "obviously more political than prudent."

Sen. George (D-Ga) said he doesn't know what Eisenhower is planning to do but "he covered a lot of ground in the message just like Harry Truman used to do."

Rep. Flood (D-Pa) said Eisenhower's message "sounded like the statement of a candidate." Rep. John Bell Williams (D-Miss) called it "an announcement for re-election," adding that it was "the most patently political document in years."

Sen. Knowland of California, Republican leader who is epected to seek his party's presidential nomination if Eisenhower doesn't run, shrugged off questions about any political import of the message.

But Sen. Saltonstall of Massachusetts, the assistant GOP leader, said he doesn't believe Eisenhower gave the "slightest hint of whether he intends to run."

Sen. Francis Case (R-SD) found Eisenhower "more concerned with the responsibilities of the presidency than with the rhetoric of the candidate."

Ex-Alabama Official's Wife Is Suffocated

GADSEN, Ala. (AP)—Mrs. James B. Allen, wife of the former Alabama lieutenant governor, died of suffocation and Allen was badly burned in a fire at their home today.

Allen suffered second degree burns of the face, hands and upper part of the body in rescuing his two children, James Jr., about 10, and Debbie, 1 year old.

The tragedy was the second in less than a month for the family. An Allen daughter, Mary Rebecca, 3, died of pneumonia Dec. 20.

Allen broke out a window and helped his son to safety, and then passed out his daughter. He cut his hand in smashing the window.

Cause of the fire was not immediately available.

Fire Truck Is Stolen At Night Club Blaze

BOSTON (AP) — While firefighters were battling a night club blaze in the theatrical district early today, someone stole one of their big fire trucks.

The thief abandoned the ladder truck when it crushed against a fence at the Boston Common. He couldn't make a full swing around the corner without a tiller man to steer the rear end.

Two State Senators Paid For 'Services' By Trust

THE PRINCE AND HIS BRIDE-TO-BE — Grace Kelly, the queen of the American movies, poses with Prince Rainier III, of Monaco, after their engagement was announced at a luncheon given by Miss Kelly's parents in Philadelphia.

Kelley, Corbin Are Recipients

AUSTIN (AP)—State Auditor C. H. Cavness said today that two state senators, Rogers Kelley of Edinburg and Kilmer Corbin of Lubbock, are among those who received pay from U.S. Trust and Guaranty Co. for "legal services."

Cavness said the company, now in receivership, paid $500 to Corbin in December, 1954. Kelley was not the direct recipient of payments, but two checks for $2,400 each were paid to his Edinburg law firm between January and April of 1955.

Cavness said he was confirming that his assistants have found records of the payments only because the fact had been disclosed earlier by someone other than he or his staff.

He said he had intended not to report any results of investigation of the company's Waco records until he appeared before the Senate Investigating Committee Wednesday.

Kelley told the Houston Post this was the first he knew that his law firm got any money from U.S. Trust.

"Our firm represents dozens of insurance companies around the state and has done so for the past 25 years," Kelley said.

Kelley said a big part of his firm's practice is based on." Abstract, title insurance and insurance work."

Cavness said that aside from the checks to Corbin, Kelley, and State Rep. Bert McDaniel of Waco, company attorney, his staff has not found any checks made out to other lawmakers.

"We're still trying to determine what happened to those checks made payable to cash," said Cavness, referring to checks totaling $25,000 which were charged to U.S. Trust and Guaranty's "legal services" account.

Two other state senators, Carlos Ashley of Llano and Jep Fuller of Port Arthur, said shortly after the seven million dollar collapse of the Waco banking and insurance firm that they had accepted employment by the company in the past.

Ashley and Fuller have not disclosed how much they were paid.

Cavness said his staff has not yet talked to Kelley, Corbin, Ashley or Fuller. All except Ashley are members of the Senate Insurance Committee.

The $25,000 in checks made payable to "cash" for legal services was paid out from January to June of 1955, paralleling the period the Legislature was in session.

One check was for $15,000 and two were for $5,000 each.

Cavness has said previously he considers it "unusual" that the company would have made out checks to "cash" rather than to an individual in paying for legal services.

The latest disclosures of who received money from U.S. Trust and Guaranty came as the Insurance Commission's stepped-up drive to give Texas the toughest insurance regulation in the nation knocked out two more companies yesterday and had two more in doubt.

Establishment Of Lutheran Church Talked

Forty-seven persons interested in development of the Lutheran Church here met last night and discussed establishment of a mission in Snyder.

Pastor James F. Vorkoper of Miles spoke on "The Name of Jesus," declaring that work of church people is "To exalt the name of Jesus and believe in His person and to witness to His Name to others and to all the world."

A regular service was scheduled for the Sunday evening of Jan. 15 at 6 p.m. A Sunday school will be started at the same time. Services will continue each Sunday night.

A steering committee elected to take care of business until a regular pastor can be called to the field was made up of Dr. DWain Collins, Calvin D. Lange, and A. A. Graumann. A Sunday school committee was also appointed to order material and gather children for the opening of the Sunday school.

An application for aid to the Board of American Missions and the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Texas and Louisiana of the United Lutheran Church in America was signed and sent to the officials of that body.

About 90 persons, including children, were at the meeting. A fellowship supper and program will be held for all interested on Jan. 25. A group from Miles and Lubbock will be invited.

Rayburn To Observe His 74th Birthday

WASHINGTON (AP)—Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn (D-Te) turned 74 today, looking and acting younger than many colleagues much his junior.

Wires and telephone calls reached his capitol office congratulating him. He has served as speaker longer than any other person in history—11 years, 3 months and 20 days.

Just before the House recessed yesterday for the weekend, members of both political parties eulogized Rayburn, who has been a member of that body since March 4, 1913. It was noted that he has served longer than any other present House member.

Strange Will Leaves Money To Two Women

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two women will receive $300 a month for life if they can do without three things: alcohol, tobacco and men.

This strange condition was part of a will left by Percy T. Martin, a wealthy real estate developer. He died in 1952 leaving an estate of $448,946.

Mrs. Helen Dill, 53, a widow now living in Owensville, Ind., and Miss Frances Miller, 51, friends of Martin, were each left $300 a month if they do not indulge in alcohol, tobacco or become engaged or married.

The will was approved yesterday in Superior Court. Each woman was awarded a retroactive payment of $8,700. Both had filed affidavits attesting that they were meeting conditions of the bequest.

Governor Answers Investors Protest

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Shivers sent a reply today to angry investors in the defunct U.S. Trust and Guaranty Co. who had asked him by wire, "What are you trying to cover up and why?"

Shivers said again he feels the state Insurance Commission acted as rapidly as was possible against U.S. Trust and Guaranty.

"I have faith in the commission's reliability and competence. If you or anyone else has any evidence to the contrary it should be submitted to me, to the Senate or House investigating committees or to a grand jury," Shivers said.

His telegram was sent to a group calling itself the Dallas and Fort Worth Preferred Depositors Assn.

Some 150 investors in the Waco firm decided at a meeting last night to send the governor a wire.

Shivers' telegram said:

"The Insurance Commission has repeatedly made clear its duty to obtain specific and sufficient legal proof of insolvency before it acts against any company. This was true with respect to U.S. Trust and Guaranty, as commission had to act on basis of proof, not allegation. As soon as sufficient proof was obtained, the commission acted.

"I have faith in the commission's reliability and competence. If you or anyone else has any evidence to the contrary it should be submitted to me, to the Senate or House investigating committees or to a grand jury.

"The interests of depositors and shareholders will be protected by a court-appointed receiver. The depositors do not need to pay dues to any organization in order to obtain fullest protection by the courts. I trust the members of your association are aware of this fact.

"Every effort is being made to speed the legal processes in order to avoid any dissipation of assets. We are all working to see that the consequences of this tragic failure are kept to an absolute minimum."

The Dallas meeting touched off the governor's reply.

Heart Doctors To Be Quizzed

CHICAGO (AP) — The Journal of the American Medical Assn. today urged the nation's heart specialists to ignore a questionnaire asking their opinion on President Eisenhower's physical ability to serve a second term.

The Journal said the questionnaire was mailed by the American Research Foundation, Princeton, N.J., to all 400 heart specialists listed in the Directory of Medical Specialists.

The medical magazine said no hint was given as to how the information is to be used. It added:

"This type of questionnaire, whatever the source, said be discouraged, and, to prevent the hysteria that such information could foment, the questionnaire should be tossed into the wastebasket."

Ikard Not Planning To Seek Re-Election

Jim Ikard, county tax assessor-collector, said today he will not be a candidate this year for re-election.

Ikard said that because of ill health during the past few months he had decided not to seek the office.

Now in his sixth year as tax assessor-collector, Ikard was a deputy in the office for two years before his first election. He has not announced what his future plans are.

Geral Greene, Ikard's chief deputy since he has held the office, has announced that he will be a candidate for the office.

Looking At Patient's Tongue Called 'Waste'

LONDON (AP)—Dr. Irvine Loudon told the medical profession today that doctors are wasting their time by asking patients to stick out their tongues.

Writing in the British Medical Journal, he said he had examined 700 patients with coated tongues and discovered:

Almost all heavy smokers have furred tongues.

Many nonsmokers with upset stomachs do not have coated tongues.

Belton Man Is Indicted

BELTON (AP)—Oscar McQueen, 50, who held his sister prisoner for seven hours in her barricaded Temple home and shot her as police closed in, was indicted yesterday.

The New Orleans cabinet maker, was named twice on charges of assault to murder the sister, Mrs. Mayme Miller, 59, and her daughter, Mrs. Anna Peters.

McQueen let Mrs. Peters leave after a short time, but bound and held Mrs. Miller in a locked bedroom Wednesday. He threatened to shoot her if police tried to enter.

Officers fired tear gas into the room and battered down the door. McQueen fired as they entered, and Mrs. Miller was wounded twice. Her condition was not considered critical.

McQueen said "I went all to pieces and started shooting. I didn't aim at her. I just started shooting."

Boy Restored To Life Then Dies In Hospital

DENVER (AP) — Little Neal Demers, electrocuted and then restored to life by a quick-thinking doctors New Year's Eve, is dead.

The 4-year-old died yesterday at Colorado General Hospital, where he lay unconscious for 4½ days.

Neal fell at his home, toppling a lighted Christmas tree onto the tracks of his new electric train. The wires short-circuited, and Neal was electrocuted when his head struck the tracks.

Summoned by the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Demers of suburban Aurora, Dr. Robert Squires first pronounced Neal dead. Then he opened the boy's chest with a razor blade and massaged the heart. It fluttered into life.

Neal was placed in an oxygen tent and fed by a tube. Another tube was inserted into the windpipe after pneumonia developed.

Polio-Stricken Youth Turning Green At Hospital In Illinois

CHICAGO (AP) — A polio-stricken farm youth, whose nine brothers and sisters and parents also have suffered polio attacks, was reported in grave condition today and his body was described as having turned a greenish color.

The youth, Edward Walsh, 15, has been unconscious since early Wednesday at the Research and Educational Hospital of the University of Illinois.

Twelve of the 18 members of the Karon Walsh family of Durand, a community of 700 in northwestern Illinois, were victims of polio last summer.

The most seriously stricken were Edward and David, 17, the eldest of the children, who has been at the University Medical Center since last October. Six of the children were not stricken. The parents suffered light attacks.

Edward was brought to the hospital Dec. 28 after his condition in a Rockford Hospital became worse. Doctors said his body had a greenish hue. They said they tested his blood serum and found it was green, instead of red. They said they did not know what caused the condition.

Three other children have been hospitalized in Rockford. They included twins Julia and Joan 13 and Rose Ellen, 5. The other children were cared for at the Walsh farm home, and as physiotherapy patients in visits to Rockford hospitals.

The father, 53, and the mother, 45, came to Chicago when Edward's condition became more serious this week.

More than $7,000 was raised for the Walsh youngsters through contributions coming from all parts of the country.

Think More, Remain Young

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Modern society's greatest affliction, says a University of Michigan psychologist, is that the present generation doesn't have to do enough thinking.

Dr. Wilma Donahue told 5,000 members of the Los Angeles County Medical Assn. that one of the best ways to keep young is to continue to use the brain.

She said yesterday that she is convinced children today do less thinking than their grandparents.

"Everything is done for us," she said. "We are told what to think and seldom have to meet new situations. The farmer of the past had to meet some new crisis every day. Less thinking means that only 10 per cent of this generation really are creative people.

"It used to be considered that older people are dumber than younger ones, but new studies show this is not necessarily true. Twenty years after Iowa State University graduates were tested for intelligence, they were given identical tests. After 20 years it was amazing to find that the intelligence had increased instead of being dulled by time. Comprehension, vocabularies and general information had increased.

"After 50, however, there may be some decrease in mental abilities. The decrease may be only the lack of speed. What happens to athletes as they age isn't due to poorer muscles; it's more that their brains are less able in speed of perception and response."

Dr. Donahue advised older people who are thinking of retiring to do more than merely prepare to develop a hobby.

"It should be much more than a hobby," she said, "and something the person thinks will be of real value. Those who earlier have learned to get along well with people are least apt to get cantankerous as they age."

HELD IN WOMAN'S DEATH—David C. Geiger, right, talks with deputy sheriff Mark Fowler at the jail in Summerville, S.C., after his arrest in connection with the death of a Texas woman who hitchhiked a ride in his truck. Geiger said the woman shot herself in the cab while they were driving through Arkansas.

Defending Dixie Net Champ In Tough Match

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Defending champion Eddie Moylan should get his first real test in the Dixie Tennis Tournament today when he runs up against Bob Bedard.

Bedard, a promising Canadian, won a tough one yesterday from veteran Bryan (Bitsy) Grant of Atlanta, who won this tournament four times in his younger days. Bedard had to go all out to win 6-4, 2-5, 6-3.

Moylan, from Trenton, N.J., did not play singles yesterday.

In yesterday's best match Armando Vieira of Brazil defeated Orlando Garrido of Cuba, 6-2, 6-2.

Yeshiva University became the first American university under the Jewish auspices on Nov. 16, 1945.

Demos Blast President On His Speech

WASHINGTON (AP)—The political skirmishing was on in Congress today with Democrats challenging President Eisenhower on foreign, farm, tax and other major election-year issues.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas signaled the attack, saying the state of the union and the world is not nearly so rosy as Eisenhower pictured it in his annual message to Congress yesterday.

Johnson told a news conference the "political overtones" of the President's message "are the subject of deep disappointment and great regret" to those who have tried to cooperate with the administration in the national interest.

"Most Americans know that the domestic situation is not as rosy as it is pictured and that the international situation is one of deep concern."

He said the administration had become "frantic about the farm situation" and was rushing out a program to appeal to the voters—particularly those in the Midwest—in this year's elections.

Commenting on Eisenhower's call for payments on the national debt before tax cuts, Johnson said the Republicans had been bragging for months about reducing taxes 7½ billion dollars in a period of deficit spending.

Chairman Byrd (D-Va) of the Senate Finance Committee backed Eisenhower's statement that in a time of prosperity the nation could not afford to go further in debt to cut taxes.

He said also he is pleased by the budget prospects Eisenhower outlined, "but I am disturbed by the fact that it (the message) indicates proposal of additional expenditures in a half-dozen or more nondefense categories . . ."

Sen. George (D-Ga), a Finance Committee member, reiterated his determination to push for a tax reduction for those in the low and middle income brackets as soon as budget balancing is in sight. Senators Carlson (R-Kan) and Flanders (R-Vt) also expressed hope that taxes still can be cut.

LIPS THAT TOUCH LIQUOR—Marjorie Plamp, a young choir singer who has been consuming bourbon whiskey at the rate of ten bottles a week for the past seven years, reaches for another snort of her favorite drink. Just a swish in the mouth and out goes the liquor with not a drop for the inner woman.

Councilman Is Arrested For Burglary

ARDMORE, Okla. (AP)—A city councilman has been arrested and charged with second degree burglary in what police believed to be a two-state burglary ring.

Joe Taylor, 51, who operates a grocery here, was arrested last night by State Crime Bureau agent Hubert Bartlett and Sheriff Enoch Watterson.

Taylor issued a blank denial, terming the charge against him a "political smear" and saying it was "completely false."

County Atty. Raymond Burger, who filed the charge on a complaint of Herbert Harris, a grocer in nearby Stratford, said he would continue his investigation.

Officers said the councilman specifically would be questioned about six burglaries at Stratford. Also he is to be questioned concerning some burglaries for which Jack Mitchell, 33, a former convict, was arrested. O. K. Bivins, head of the Oklahoma Bureau of Investigation, said Mitchell is being held in connection with 228 burglaries in North Texas and six in Oklahoma.

NCAA Convention Opens Tomorrow

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Assn. indicated today it proposes to slam the brakes on "free rides" for college athletes.

A stringent amendment to the recruiting section of the NCAA bylaws will be presented at the 50th annual convention opening tomorrow, Executive Director Walter Byers said.

So-called "Booster Clubs" of alumni would be eliminited by the amendment, which prohibits NCAA member schools from permitting "an outside organization to utilize or administer funds for the purpose of transporting prospective student athletes to its campus."

Action By Grand Jury Against Trust Studied

HOUSTON (AP)—District Atty. Dan Walton said today he will not at this time ask for a grand jury investigation into the local aspects of the U.S. Trust & Guaranty Co.

Foreign Oil Is Discussed At Meeting Of Study Club

Foreign Oil was the topic of the program at the meeting of the Acacia Study Club Wednesday at the Hilander with Mrs. Howard Harrington as hostess and Mrs. Elmo Weyel as program chairman. There were 18 members present.

James L. Kincaid, Scurry County Chairman of the Oil Industry Information Committee, introduced E. L. Anders, Jr., who is a Consulting Petroleum Engineer from Abilene. He is a former resident of Snyder and was associated with SACROC. Anders has lived in Venzuela and Peru at different times, and he told of the living conditions in the oil towns there.

According to Anders, they are provided very good, comfortable homes and clubs. Most of the engineers, geologists and technical people are Americans, but 95 per cent of the labor must be nationals in the country, where they are operating, although many United States Oil Companies have investments in these major oil producing countries.

He went on to say that the United States still leads in oil producing in general with Venzuela next, producing one-third as much. Most of the foreign oil companies can undersell the United States, though, because it takes less number of wells to produce. Anders also said that nearly every country in the world produces some oil.

GIVING ACCOUNT TO GOD

EVERY PERSON SHALL GIVE ACCOUNT OF HIMSELF TO GOD (Rom.14:12). This is one fact often overlooked by men. All shall be judged according to the deeds done in the body (2Cor.5:10); and all that men do comes from the heart, whether the deed be evil (Matt.15:18-20; Gal.5:19-21) or whether it be good (Matt.5:8; Gal.5:22-24). Hence, let each person keep his heart with all diligence for out of it are the issues of life (Prov.4:23).

GOD HAS APPOINTED A DAY FOR THE JUDGEMENT OF ALL MEN (Acts 17:31). No man knows when that day will be but he can rest assured that it is coming! Some men may live as though they were a law unto themselves, thinking they are to give an account to no one! Faithful Christians will obey the elders of the church (1Pet.5:1-4; Heb. 13:17), and every person must give an acount of himself to God!

THERE WILL BE NO INFIDELS AT THE JUDGMENT though they professed infidelity during their life. At the judgment, all such will believe in God and in Jesus Christ, even confessing it, but it will be too late to do them any good (Rom.14:11; Phil.2:10,11). God calls such a person a fool! (Psalm 14:1). The Holy Spirit says through Solomon to "Fear God and keep His commandments: for this is the whole duty of man." (Eccl.12:13).

GOD COMMANDS ALL MEN EVERYWHERE TO REPENT NOW (Acts 17:30,31), inasmuch as all men must be judged before Him. A person must repent before he can be "baptized into Christ" (Acts 2:38); then the Lord adds him to the church (Acts 2:47). If one expects to receive mercy at the judgment, he must be merciful (Matt.5:7; Jas.2:13). Remember, there is no way of avoiding giving an account to God at the judgment. Repent today!

"THE CHURCHES OF CHRIST SALUTE YOU." (Rom.16:16). Nineteen hundred years ago the church you read about in the New Testament was established. Today, she has the same name, worship, organization, doctrine, and life.

Sons Rushed Into Marriage

CAIRO (AP) — Palestine refugee families in the Gaza Strip are forcing their growing sons into marriage to save rations.

Most of the 250,000 Arab refugees living in the camps are dependent on rations from the United Nations Relief and Works Agency.

A ruling of UNRWA says that if any member of a family earns more than 15 pounds ($45) a month, the family will be considered self-supporting and not in need of rations. In practice this is rarely the case. Most refugee families have as many as five to eight children, and there may be the grandparents and a cousin or two.

The rations are distributed in accordance with the numbers of the family, but if one member begins to work and earns more than 15 pounds, the rations for the whole family are cut off.

Often the rations—particularly if it is a big family—exceed 15 pounds in value. If a daughter or son begins to work with a salary just over 15 pounds—and salaries rarely pay more in the Gaza area—the family would be losing in income.

The one way out is to find a wife for the working son. Once married he is considered to head a family of his own.

The Insurance Scandal

A complete audit by certified public accountants of the books of 1,400 Texas domestic insurance companies has been ordered "within a year" by the State Insurance Commission. To that end, a call for help from the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants to speed up the survey was issued.

This step came on the heels of a Travis County district judge's order to a grand jury to make "a searching inquiry into what he called the "recent insurance debacle."

The only drawback to the audit (600 "foreign" insurance firms will not be affected) is the year's time contemplated in the order. It might not be physically possible to complete the audit any sooner, but three months would be much better. In any event, the sooner the better; for stable, solvent and responsible firms are entitled to a clean bill of health as quickly as possible. Undoubtedly a big majority of the 1,400 companies will be found in good condition, but the scandal involving a comparative few unfortunately and injustly reflects on all, and the audit should be pushed with all speed, even if it costs the state important folding money.

Insurance companies have played an important and necessary part in the development of Texas, and the sooner the matter is cleared up the better. Besides, the state should leave nothing undone to protect investors and insured alike.

The Texas Legislature has been dilatory and neglected in providing adequate safeguards against the operations of unscrupulous promoters, and must inevitably bear a major share of responsibility for this situation. If it has not been lobbied into inactivity, it has at least exhibited a blind side to conditions. Perhaps a special session to enact effective laws and regulations would be justified under the circumstances. Had the Legislature seen its duty and done it nobly in past sessions in all likelihood there would be no scandal now.

Turmoil In Britain

Anthony Eden's recent shake-up of his cabinet did not still the voices of criticism of his government, but seemed rather to aggravate it. Oddly enough, most of it is coming from the Conservative press, including some papers to which Eden has been a fair-haired boy in the recent past.

Thus, what only a few weeks ago appeared to be a government more than ever firmly in power because of the Labor Party shake-up, now has developed into a situation that may find the Conservatives fighting for their lives.

One of Eden's former stalwart supporters, the Daily Sketch, blasted him in a front-page "leader" this week, warning that his days at No. 10 Downing Street are numbered "if he does not tackle inflation." It added that even Eden's friends were saying, "if he cannot make up his mind to govern, let him make up his mind to go." Later editorials toned the editorial down, but insisted that Eden "will do nothing until he is shoved into it, that he drifts rather than makes decisions."

Most damaging revelation was that British surplus tanks and other weapons which had been sold to Belgium reappeared soon in Egypt. Eden has promised a "white paper" on this, but contented himself for the time being by saying that surplus war materials could be sold to foreign countries only if the buyer guaranteed not to use them for military purposes.

The oposition Labor Party has been wise enough not to take any great dish in the rising storm against Eden, being content to let the Conservatives fight it out among themselves. However, Hugh Gaitskell, new leader of the party, has demanded a recall of Parliament to debate the arms sale before Eden and his new foreign minister, Selwyn Lloyd, come to Washington for conferences later this month. Eden refused this demand.

So, two of our longtime friends, France and Britain, are experiencing internal political turmoil. Republican leaders in this country can find small comfort in the reflection that such things move in cycles, spreading from country to country.

They Talked Too Loud

Neither Congress Nor Television Can Give Each Maid A Man This Leap Year

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The war between the sexes always reaches a crisis during leap year.

The old saying that "love will find a way" doesn't hold true this year. There are only 17 million possible husbands available for 20 million possible wives.

In this mathematical dilemma neither Congress nor television can dream up a giveaway program that will award every young and old maid what she wants — a real live mate.

It's a time when every smart girl becomes her own kangaroo, and leaps "thar fustest with the mostest." But in seeking a husband she must beware her tactics don't boomerang.

The only real rule of the matrimonial chase is "catch as catch can." But as some overanxious ladies have already learned to their regret, some lures work better with the wild male beast than others. And some don't work at all.

What is the best way? There is no one best way. It depends on the prey — if I should use such a word.

As I see it, the market divides itself roughly into four general classes: (1) elderly childless widowers; (2) middle-aged widowers with children; (3) veteran, professional bachelors; and (4) young amateur bachelors.

It is a well-known fact that elderly widowers tend to turn their hearts to widows. Any girl interested in reaping one of these gaffers, therefore, should first become a widow herself. There are several techniques in how this can be done, but each woman is on her own and in this problem will get no help from me. I'm a married man myself.

To win a middle-aged widower with offspring you must do two things. First, write the U. S. Children's Bureau for a pamphlet on how to get along with children. Apply this knowledge to his kids. Give them a firm kindness and love. Once they want to have you around, he'll have to have you around. The second thing you have to do is to handle him. Treat him kindly, so that he'll feel like one of the children, too. But also bawl him out occasionally — so that he won't get too lonesome for his first wife.

The veteran, professional bachelor is a tougher nut to crack. He is full of bad habits, wary of women, thinks he knows what he wants out of life and is sure it isn't marriage.

To try to reform a pro bachelor is to become his victim. The right approach is to encourage him in his bad habits until he breaks down with an ulcer or a heart attack — then he is wide open for marriage. Wifehood in this case, of course, generally is also nursehood, and I am eternally amazed at the number of wonderful women who seek to marry this type of man and seem happy in their fate. The answer lies in the unplumbed well of woman's everlasting mystery.

There is no set, sure way to win the fourth type — the amateur bachelor. You have to improvise with young fellows today. They get more difficult every year.

But here are a few general tips that should stand up:

If he catches a common cold, try to avoid coming down with pneumonia yourself. A man is afraid of a woman who can always outdo him.

If he invites you up to a home-cooked meal in his apartment, don't complain about how he burned the canned spaghetti. Remember, after you're married, you can bring in good well-cooked spaghetti from the nearest delicatessen.

To boil it all down, all normal young bachelors are lonely and uncomfortable, but hate to admit it openly. Your problem is simply to show him in feminine ways how he could have a much better life hitched with you — but not so much better a life that he becomes frightened with the thought it will change him too much.

So, young lady, if you would lead a young man over the hurdle of matrimony, lead him gently. Don't shove — he may balk.

Remember, you're not fooling with one guy out of a million. He's one out of 17 million — and there are 19,999,999 other single American ladies who might be looking for a chance to snare him.

It Will Be Difficult To Separate Fact And Fancy

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The voters will need magnifying glasses to distinguish facts from fancy nine months from now when the presidential campaign is getting up steam.

That's the time Democrats and Republicans will make their loudest claims on what each side has done for the country in the Congress session which opened this week.

On a few issues the voters may be able to put the full blame or credit on one side or the other. On most legislation they probably won't be able to tell clearly who did what.

This is going to add to the voters' confusion:

1. Democrats and Republicans are pretty evenly matched: In the Senate, 49 Democrats, 47 Republicans. In the House, 230 Democrats, 203 Republicans. There are two vancies.

2. In many ways the programs of the two parties will be pretty similar. And on much legislation voting won't be along straight party lines.

Since the Democrats outnumber the Republicans, Eisenhower will have to depend on some Democratic support to put across any of his programs at all.

That will give the Democrats at least some credit for anything the Republicans claim. But, since this is a presidential election year, the Democrats are going to try for their own programs.

This might seem to simplify maters for the voters but—

In this period of American prosperity both parties are pretty conservative. There will be no social revolutions offered or passed in 1956. But some Democrats and Republicans are more conservative than others in the two parties.

The result will be: batches of Republicans and Democrats lining up on certain pieces of legislation against other batches of Democrats and Republicans.

LITERARY GUIDEPOST

THE THREE LEGIONS. By Gregory Solon. Random House.

"Varus, give me back my legions!" the senile Emperor Augustus Caesar begged futilely when he heard the news of the disaster inflicted on his proconsul by barbarian hordes of Germans.

This is the stirring tale of the Legions Claudia, Pholiux and Victrix, seen principally from the viewpoint of the legion tragically misnamed, at this ultimate hour, Victrix.

Victrix is commanded by Cinna, battle-worn, scarred hero of the frontier, though Agranus thirsts meanly for the post. The calendar has just turned into the Christian era. It is late summer. Some Roman horse have been decimated, or worse, and Cinna demands revenge. Though Varus, Agranus and their seeming friend Arminius would direct his wrath elsewhere, he has his way, raids a village, puts the men to death, carries off the women.

In the background are the stories of individual Legionnaires, thier lusts and furies, their barbarous rewards and inhuman punishments. But our immediate concerns are the ambitious Agranus, the scheming Arminius, soft Varus, surgeon Larsidius, Talt and lecher, Qunitius the hot tempered, honest Cinna, Thessia the conquerors' willing slave and the young, unhappy, untried recruit.

This is the historical novel with the veil or romance boldly lifted away. Solon by-passes billing and cooing, plunges straight into the harsher passions and the mad brutalities of soldiers, whether civilized Romans or their uncivilized foes. This is realism. This is real, too. It is your hand that slips on the bloody shaft of the javelin, your eyes that spot the crushed skull, your ears that ring with the shrieks of the tortured and dying.

Speeches Of Soviet Leaders Assume New Tone Of Confidence After Tour Of Asia

By WALTER LIPPMANN

The speeches made in Moscow by the Soviet leaders are indeed very different in tone from their speeches six months ago. The difference is not mainly or really in the Soviet position on the biggest issues. Nothing happened at Geneva six months ago to justify anyone in thinking that the Soviets were getting ready to yield anything substantial for the sake of an agreement. Moscow was as uncompromising in July as it is today.

The difference between the speeches then and now lies elsewhere. It lies in their confidence, which is new and recent, that the Soviets are winning the cold war in Aisa and Africa, and that they have us, so to say, over a barrel. Bulganin and Khrushchev have come back from India, Burma and Afghanistan with an exuberantly happy conviction that in the contest for influence and power, they have won, that they have come successfully to terms with the native feelings and the national sentiment of the key countries of South Asia. It is because they feel so strong on this account, that they can afford to talk so roughly to us. In fact, they are acting now as if they were convinced that the more roughly they talk to us, the more they will be applauded in South Asia. They must have been mightily pleased not only with the big crowds but with what the leading personalities in the region said to them privately.

* * *

It would be complacency indeed to shrug this all off as nothing more than Khrushchev's usual bad manners. His talk is not mere talk. Something serious and real has happened, and the Western allies have in fact suffered an important setback. The Soviet diplomacy has achieved a notable success. We can deceive only ourselves if we deny or ignore it.

In the broadest and simplest terms what has happened is this. Between Morocco on the Atlantic Ocean and Indonesia in the South Pacific, across North Africa to Egypt to the Middle East to South Asia to Southeast Asia, there live a great mass of human beings who during the past four centuries were under the imperial rule of the great powers of Western Europe. Many of these peoples have, all of them will soon have, achieved their independence.

But until now the issue of their independence has been one between them and the old empires. Russia, which has long tried to have a hand in this area, was successfully excluded throughout the nineteenth century and, in fact, until this past year. The Russians have now broken through, more accurately they have jumped over, the barriers which excluded them. For the first time they have become a principal power in the Middle East and in South Asia. This is the achievement about which Bulganin and Khrushchev are so exuberantly pleased with themselves. They feel as Mr. Dulles might feel if he had suddenly come back from a triumphant tour of Prague, Warsaw, and Peiping.

* * *

To my mind a most significant thing about these speeches is that they say so little about economic matters and so much about political matters. The Soviets are not offering to out-bid the West in the field of economic aid, that is to say of capital export. They are for a little aid, not very much, one might say just enough to establish the fact that the West is not the sole supplier of economic aid.

Their heavy cars are political, and what they are doing is to exploit the reaction to our policy of military alliances. As we have backed Pakistan, they have backed India and Afghanistan. As we backed Thailand, they back Burma. As we back the so-called northern tier with Iraq and Iran, they back the southern tier with Egypt, Syria and Saudi-Arabia. By making our military pacts with certain countries, supposedly countries on "our side," we have opened the door for the Russians into the countries which are supposedly not on our side.

We are stymied by our own policy. Having discriminated in favor of certain countries by giving them arms, we cannot talk back to the Russians if they discriminate in favor of the other countries.

* * *

There is no reason, it seems to me, to hope that the rapid deterioration of the Western position can be arrested as long as there is a contest in which we back Turkey and Pakistan and Thailand while they back Egypt, Afghanistan, India and Burma. They will almost surely win that contest. For with the exception only of Turkey, they are backing the stronger combinations.

If there is a way out, it would seem to lie in taking a new stand, which is opposed to special military alliances in South Aisa, and in the field of economic aid favors regional rather than country by country projects of development.

Zaroubin And His Wife Are Feted By Norwegians

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—In protocol-conscious Washington, the Russian ambassador and Mrs. Georgi Zaroubin have their night to be feted as honor guests at a white tie dinner given by the dean of the diplomatic corps, the Ambassador of Norway and Mrs. Munthe de Morgenstierne.

Since the Russians don't ever like to step out alone, the ambassador invited two counselors at the Soviet Embassy and their wives to come along. A society editor reported that all was quite well until it came to the champagne.

One Russian told her that Russian champagne is better than the French, which was being served.

"Even after I had admitted that our own U. S. champagne can't measure with the vintage of La Belle France," she reported, "that I had tasted Soviet wine and found it lacking; he still insisted that Russian champagne is the McCoy." He lifted his French champagne an said, "Dai Bokh Ne Poslednaya," which means "Thank God, this is not the last drink!"

It was a typical Norwegian dinner the popular ambassador and his charming wife, Marjorie, served their numerous dinner guests. Among national dishes were a fish pudding with a shrimp and lobster sauce, and larded filet of reindeer served with a Norwegian counterpart of our cranberry sauce, teetle berry sauce.

* * *

Mrs. Leslie Biffle, wife of the former secretary of the Senate thinks one of the mose important qualifications of a hostess is to make every guest feel that he is the most important person at the party.

* * *

Francesca Lodge, lovely blonde wife of the American ambassador to Spain, John Davis Lodge, and their young daughter, Beatrice, report they are doing quite well with their Spanish. The two who began their lessons in Washington before going to Madrid last year, are back in town with the ambassador. They will divide their home leave between the capital, where they lived during the years Lodge was serving as Republican congressman and with the ambassador's family in Westport, Conn.

The ambassador is scheduled to make a series of speeches in New York and Connecticut before returning to Madrid after the first of the year. There has been speculation that the envoy, a brother of Henry Cabot Lodge, American delegate to the United Nations, may seek a Senate seat after his tour as ambassador.

Peter Pan Is Really For Adults And Not Children

By INEZ ROBB

Christmas is always full of lovely surprises, but none so completely wonderful and satisfying as the final one, which turned out to be a trip to Never-Never Land with Mary Martin as Peter Pan and Cyril Ritchard as the marvelously wicked Captain Hook.

Oh, the star dust is still around me, and I have only to close my eyes to see Peter flying with sensational ease, verve and gaiety back and forth across the stage of the Ambassador Theatre in New York. How he swooped and soared and spiraled like a swallow giddy from a drop too much of holiday champagne!

The invitation from the National Broadcasting Company said that adults must be accompanied by a child, in order to gain admission to the run-through of "Peter Pan," which Miss Martin and Mr. Ritchard will repeat on television next Monday.

And, the invitation continued, after the run-through, adults and their child-sponsors would be entertained at a party at Maxfield's Old-Fashioned Ice Cream parlor, with Capt. Hook as soda jerk.

I doubt if there has ever been such a scramble to borrow kids in the history of New York. Every child we tried to borrow had already been spoken for. Finally, my husband said he qualified on the ground he is mad both for Mary Martin and ice cream.

However, we finally made it legal by getting a two-thirds option on Master Douglas Lyons, son of Sylvia and Leonard. Sylvia retained the other third, and only the fact his father is now in Russia prevented Douglas from being cut up among more sponsors than a heavy-weight prize fighter.

Once at the theatre, Douglas discovered how lucky he was. Some moppets had been split five and six ways. Even so, it was all adults could do to hold their embattled own. Children, notoriously selfish little animals, insisted on occupying seats while their sponsors stood on the crowded sidelines.

The management finally put a stop to this tense situation by inviting all the children down front to sit on the carpeted floor, lean on the stage and generally make themselves at home, this left the seats for the grownups, and restored order.

But once the run-through began and the incomparable Mary Martin, radiant and joyous flew onto the stage, the audience was ageless. It followed Peter down "the second turn to the left and straight ahead to morning" into Never-Never Land with Nana, the pirates, the Indians, the terrible Capt. Hook, and the ticking crocodile.

We clapped our hands until they ached, and cried and assured Peter we believed in fairies and thus saved Tinker Bell. And we were astounded and delighted when we hissed Capt. Hook for his villainies and he suddenly hissed right back.

And when the two hours of magic finally ended, and we were convoying Douglas to the ice-cream party, Sylvia and Add and I agreed that "Peter Pan" is really for adults, not children. Because how can children, who have never really been out of Never-Never Land enjoy a return to its sorcery as much as we poor adults who left it so long ago?

Baggett Quads Planning For First Quiet Birthday

By TIM PARKER
Associated Press Staff

The Badgett quads—they're four very pretty young ladies now—look forward to a different kind of birthday Feb. 1.

Their 17th birthday at their two-story Galveston home may be the same sort of quiet affair as yours or mine.

No TV newsreel cameramen aiming their machines as gifts are unwrapped, no living room interviews with reporters, no strongers.

At least that's the outlook right now. It could change, and if it does Joan, Joyce, Jeraldine and Jeannette will understand. They'll smile and talk about their ambitions, boy friends, and how they're different from each other. That's been their life and they accept it.

But a quiet birthday at home with the family, and maybe some boys, would be fun. "We don't plan a party," says their mother, Mrs. W. Ellis Badgett, in what you could call a hopeful tone.

In a way, it marks the "growing up" of the four poised, neat and friendly girls whose birth in 1939 surprised everyone, including Mom and Pop. The big party a year ago —with about 75 guests crowding a hired hall—was the official send-off. The 17th birthday is a sort of confirmation, along with no parental fussing about lipstick and late dates.

The quads will be graduated this year from Ball High School in Galveston. They sometimes go to school in a group, but more often they go singly or two at a time. Their dates are principally school pals. Only Joyce has a "steady." He is Ronnie Bailey, also about to get out of high school.

Any danger of the foursome being broken up by marriage?

"Well, no," says Mrs. Badgett with a smile. "I don't think any of them is thinking of getting married, right now."

The girls still do some prankish romping in the one large bedroom with its two big beds. The pillow-fights and horseplay of recent years are not so frequent. Dignity comes with years.

When the Badgett family refers to "the little girls" they mean Joyce, Jeraldine and Jeannette. Joan, the first-born, has always been taller. The other three are what doctors would call "identical triplets".

Hollywood Today

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Back from a brush with death, Buster Keaton says he is ready, willing and able to resume his long career as "the most knockabout comic in the busines."

A month ago, he was stricken with internal hemorrhaging. Rushed to the hospital, he was placed on the critical list. His condition was termed "very grave" for a number of days.

Now he's up and around, and there's even a smile instead of his famous dead pan.

"Yes, it was a tough time," he remarked at his modest bungalow in the heart of Los Angeles. "But I didn't know anything about it. I was fighting the anesthetic when they put me under. Every time I started to come out of it, I'd be fighting again. So they kept me out cold for four days.

"They pumped 10 pints of blood into me in 14 hours. Ten pints—that's as much as I had in me, so you can see how much I lost. They cut a hole in my trachea so I could breathe and were feeding me intravenously in my ankle. At one time I had six tubes stuck in me."

Perhaps the reason for his amazing recovery was the fact that he has remained in good physical condition since childhood. Said he: "There's no doubt about it—my father and I had the roughest act in vaudeville."

He continued his violent routines during his long movie career. Only two months ago, Keaton at 60 was performing prat falls on a TV spectacular that would have jarred most younger men into insensibility.

Despite his illness, Buster said he will be able to resume his physical comedy.

His plans for the future will be held up until a final checkup in three or four weeks. Then he plans to resume his TV career. He plans to stay here until late June, when he'll go to work on "The Buster Keaton Story," which will star Donald O'Connor at Paramount. Buster will help on the script and comedy routines.

Tigers, Lions Meet In 1-AAA Tilt Here

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

AS YOU'LL NOTE elsewhere on this page, the All-State Class 4A team has been released.

The All-State 3A team, as some of you are perhaps interested in knowing, will be released for Sunday papers. All of the all-state teams were revealed at the annual winter meeting of the Texas Sports Writers Association at Dallas last Monday which we attended.

We're not supposed to reveal the fellows who made the all-state teams until they are released but maybe we won't be committing a crime if we say the Tigers are "well represented" on the all-state selections.

The All-State teams as picked by the Texas Sports Writers Association are considered the "official" all-state teams.

Tiger football coach John Conley left at noon today for Los Angeles where he'll attend the NCAA (National Collegiate Athletic Association) winter meeting.

Conley will make the trip with some other area coaches, including Tugboat Jones of Midland; Bob Harrell of San Angelo; Bud England of Monahans; and Johnny Hickman of Levelland. The group will travel by auto.

It was brought out yesterday that Abilene coach Chuck Moser is flying to Los Angeles for the meeting. To which Conley quipped: "Yeh, but he won state."

Tigers Hungry For Conference Win

Hope everyone plans to turn out and welcome the Tiger basketeers back home tonight. It's been exactly three weeks since the Tigers have played before the home folks.

Tonight's foe, Vernon, has accomplished a feat that the Tigers have been unable to do—win a District 1-AAA game. Vernon has a 1-0 district record to the Tigers' 0-4.

So you see the Tigers could use your support tonight.

Jack Spikes will be playing his first home cage game of the season for the Bengals tonight. Spikes, after setting out the early part of the season with a broken hand, returned to action last week at Brownwood where the Bengals walked off with the 13th annual Howard Payne College Invitational crown.

Ironically, Spikes was named on the all-tournament team at the HPC meet. Needless to say, the Tigers have been strengthened since Spikes returned to the fold.

Efforts are now underway to restore or replace some championship trophies, won by the Tigers, which were lost in the fire that destroyed the high school building in 1937.

Six Football Trophies Lost In Fire

Six championship football trophies were ruined in the 1937 fire. They included four district championship and two regional trophies.

The Tigers won the district grid title and regional titles in 1930 and 1931. Then they captured the district crowns in 1932 and 1936.

Since we have a new trophy case at Tiger Gym, it would be well and good that all trophies the Tigers are entitled to be placed therein.

This would be a good project for our civic clubs to undertake or any business firm as far as that goes. By each club or firm furnishing one trophy, the expense would be very little.

A committee is already working on this matter.

If any club or firm would like to take part in this project, you can contact any member of the committee, consisting of T. D. Wiman, John Conley, Wacil McNair and yours truly.

Let's beautify our trophy case.

BACK HOME—J. P. Ward, above, and his Snyder Tigers will make their first home appearance since Dec. 16 tonight when they take on the Vernon Lions at Tiger Gym. The Tigers, who won the Howard Payne tournament last week, will carry a 5-5 season record into tonight's game.

Bengals Seek 1st Loop Win

The Tiger basketballers return home tonight for their first 1956 appearance at Tiger Gym where they'll meet the Vernon Lions in a District 1-AAA contest.

Tipoff time has been set at 8. A "B" game between the two schools will precede the Tiger-Lion tilt, to start at 6:30.

The Tigers will be seeking their first win in District 1-AAA play although the Bengals sport a 5-5 season record. Four of the five losses have occurred in conference action.

In non-district play, the Tigers have won five of six games.

Vernon has won one of three conference games, defeating Lamesa, 39-36, for their lone loop victory.

For the season, Vernon has won three and dropped six.

The Tigers haven't played at home since Dec. 16 when the Black and Golders bowed to Sweetwater, 50-52. Seven of the Tigers' 10 games to date have been played away from home.

The Bengals have made one 1956 appearance already, dropping a 59-79 decision to powerful Palo Duro of Amarillo Tuesday night.

The Palo Duro game opened a busy month for the Tigers. The Snyder lads will play 12 games during January including the Palo Duro tilt.

Milton Ham continues to lead the Tiger scorers, the junior forward having compiled 151 points in 10 games for a 15.1 average. Ham has made 65 field goals and 21 free tosses.

Second leading Tiger scorer is little Jerry Taylor with 136 points in 10 games, an average of 13.6 per.

Alan Snead follows with 110; Jack Spikes, 45; Robert Dabbs, 42; Powell Berry, 40; Don McNew, 30; Dwayne Prince 7; Bud Morgan 3; and Tommy Prichard 2.

Big Bill Uhl Leads Dayton Over Duquesne

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Dayton's third-ranked Flyers have themselves a 10-game winning streak at the moment, but more important, seven-foot Bill Uhl has shed his sleeping giant role and matured into a full-fledged Goliath in college basketball.

Time was when the big fellow wasn't much more use than a five-foot guy standing on a step ladder. He had height but couldn't move.

But last night Big Bill moved with relative ease as the unbeaten Flyers ran away from Duquesne 68-52. Uhl had 23 points, all but three from the field, and grabbed 24 rebounds.

All was not butter and honey among the top-ranked teams last night. Maryland, playing possession ball, upset seventh-ranked George Washington 66-44. And lightly regarded Spring Hill of Mobile, Ala., tumbled previously undefeated and 12th-ranked Memphis State 69-65 with a fantastic closing drive in the title game of the Senior Bowl Tournament at Mobile.

George Washington, which hadn't been choked off with less than 50 points since 1950, couldn't get the ball away from Maryland. The Terps just played catch and dared the Colonials, who had averaged 82 points a game in building a 9-1 record.

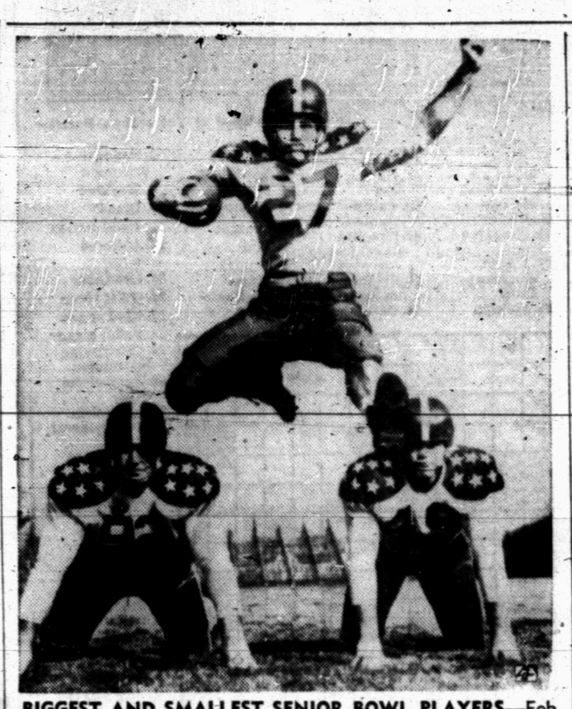

Memphis State seemed headed for an 11-0 record, leading 63-48 with 7 minutes left in its bid for a second straight Senior Bowl crown. But then Spring Hill went off on a tear, striking for 21 points while State got just a field goal.

State attempted a freeze with a 2-point lead and less than 3 minutes left, but Spring Hill twice stole the ball and Ed Tibbets pumped in the clincher from under the basket with 40 seconds remaining. Gene McGuire, who scored the tying points, was high with 27.

Elsewhere, Vince Yockel scored 30 points as Clemson defeated Miami (Fla.) 98-96 in the Senior Bowl consolation game. Western Kentucky wiped out a 3-point deficit and Ohio Xavier's unbeaten record 73-72 with Montroe Holland sinking two free throws for the clincher with less than 2 minutes left to edge the Ohioans. And tall, talented St. Louis breezed past Lovola of New Orleans 110-79.

Tulane, led by Cal Grosscup—making his first appearance after transferring from Purdue—smacked Georgia 72-56 in a Southeastern Conference game.

Johnny Saxton of Newark, N.J. was knocked out but once in his first 54 bouts. He was stopped last April 1 by Tony DeMarco in the 14th round, thereby losing his welterweight title.

BIGGEST AND SMALLEST SENIOR BOWL PLAYERS—Fob James (27), 168-pound Auburn back who is the smallest man on the South squad in the Senior Bowl game in Mobile, Ala., is shown in practice leaping over the South's two biggest players, Don Goss (92), 240-pound Southern Methodist tackle, and M. L. Brackett (49), 240-pound Auburn tackle.

Senior Bowl Tilt On Tap Tomorrow

By HOYT HARWELL

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Coaches Buddy Parker of the North and Paul Brown of the South today decided which of their players will have the job of moving the ball in tomorrow's seventh annual Senior Bowl game.

The coaches also named tough defenses with the accent on weight.

Parker, coach of the pro Detroit Lions, said he will alternate Wisconsin's Jim Haluska and Iowa's Jerry Reichow at quarterback.

The South has passing backs in Bob Hardy of Kentucky, Most Valuable Player in the Blue-Gray game at Montgomery, and George Herring of Mississippi Southern. Hardy will probably do most of the signal calling, with Herring slated for punting duty.

Brown, coach of the pro champion Cleveland Browns and a long rival of Parker, named four running backs. Alternating at left half will be Don McIlhenny of SMU and Fob James of Auburn, the Southeastern Conference's leading ground gainer.

Ed Vereb of Maryland's Orange Bowl team will run out of the other halfback slot, and Auburn's Joe Childress, will be the fullback.

For the North, Lou Baldacci of Michigan and Bob Moss of West Virginia will be called on for the wide plays. Fullback Bill Murakowski of Purdue was picked for the power bursts.

The South's line will be flanked by All-America Howard Schnellenberger of Kentucky, Hardy's favorite target, and Tommy Harkins of Vanderbilt.

It's the Hardy - Schnellenberger combination that has established the South as a one-touchdown favorite.

Between the big ends will be tackles Frank D'Agostino of Auburn, another All-America, and Jim Locke of VPI; guards Bo Bolinger of Oklahoma and Scott Suber of Mississippi State and center Bob Scarbrough of Auburn.

For the North, Harold Burnine of Missouri and Jim Carmichael of California will anchor the line. Tackles are Sam Huff of West Virginia and John Dittrich, a guard for Wisconsin. At guard Parker has Roger Siesel, tackle for Miami of Ohio, and Carl Mystrom, Michigan State All-America.

The South's defense is built around big Bob Pellegrini, Maryland All-America center who'll be middle guard. Linebackers are Tony Sardisco of Tulane and Steve DeLaTorre of Florida; side backs are Whitey Rouviere of Miami of Florida and Henry Moore of Arkansas, and deep backs are Earl Blair of Mississippi and Art Davis of Mississippi State.

On the line Herb Gray of Texas has been moved from tackle to end to play opposite Joe Tuminello of LSU. Defensive tackles are M. L. Brackett of Auburn and Don Goss of SMU.

The North defensive line, which averages 230 to the South's 227, has Jim Freeman of Iowa and John Paluck of Pittsburgh's Sugar Bowl team at ends; Bruce Bosley of West Virginia and 245-pound John Miller of Boston College at tackles; and Joe Krupa of Purdue at middle guard.

Behind them are Jim Brown of UCLA's Pacific Coast champions, and Jim Furey of Kansas State as linebackers; Tony Branoff of Michigan and Herb Nakken of Utah as side backs; and Jerry Harkrader of Ohio State and Gary Iowa of Michigan, as deep backs.

The kickoff is set for 1:30 p.m. (CST). A capacity crowd of 36,000 is expected in Ladd Stadium. Mutual Broadcasting System will broadcast the game. There will be no television.

Ameche Lone Frosh To Make AP All-Pro

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YOR K (AP) — Alan (The Horse) Ameche, bull-driving fullback of the Baltimore Colts, was the only rookie named to The Associated Press 1955 All-Pro team which included three members each from the National Football League champion Cleveland Browns and Los Angeles Western Conference titleholders.

Ameche, the league's ball carrying champion, received 26 of the 40 votes cast in the annual balloting by Associated Press member paper football writers and AP staff men. The former University of Wisconsin powerhouse earned the nomination by rolling up 961 yards in his first season, 194 of them in his first game.

Although they finished half a game behind the Rams for divisional honors, the Chicago Bears placed four players on the 22-man two-platoon squad. They included end Harlon Hill, guard Stan Jones and tackle Bill Wightkin on the offensive eleven and middle guard Bill George on the defensive team. Pittsburgh was the only team that was not represented on either squad.

Otto Graham, who came out of retirement to lead the Browns to their second straight championship, won the quarterback post in a romp, getting 28 votes to 8 for Green Bay's Tobin Rote. It was the sixth time on the All-Pro team for the 33-year-old former Northwestern great who promptly retired again after scoring two touchdowns and passing for two more in Cleveland's 38-14 title triumph over Los Angeles.

Other Browns voted on the AP "dream team" were offensive tackle Lou Groza, the place-kicking specialist, and Frank Gatski, the indestructable center. Groza, completing his 10th year with the Browns, was named on 31 ballots to earn the honor of being the most popular choice in the voting. Gatski, another 10-year veteran, received 22 votes to beat out Dick Syzmanski of Baltimore and Bill Johnson of San Francisco.

Rams named were guard Duane Putnam on the attacking unit, end Andy Robustelli and halfback Willard Sherman on the defensive group.

Here's how the offensive eleven shapes up:

In the line are ends Pete Pihos of Philadelphia and Hill, guards Putnam and Jones, tackles Groza and Wightkin and center Gatski. The backfield consists of Ollie Matson of the Chicago Cardinals, Frank Gifford of the New York Giants, Ameche and Graham.

The defensive team consists of ends Gene Brito of Washington and Robustelli, tackles Art Donovan of Baltimore and Bob Toneff of San Francisco, middle guard George, linebackers Joe Schmidt of Detroit and Roger Zatkoff of Green Bay, backs Bob Dillon of Green Bay and Sherman and safetymen Jack Christiansen of Detroit and Emlen Tunnell of the Giants.

Dawson Resigns

PORT ARTHUR (AP)—Ted Dawson resigned yesterday after two years as head football coach at Port Arthur High School. His contract had one more year to run. He gave no reason. Dawson's teams won 14, lost 5 and tied 1 in his 2 seasons.

Boxing 'Dies' In New York

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Big-time boxing in New York is dead. Final services will be held Jan. 16.

The Boxing Guild of New York last night voted unanimously not to dissolve its membership as ordered by Julius Helfand, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, who set a Jan. 16 deadline. The guild said it had the full support of the 16 other guild affiliates.

"We've done nothing wrong," said Charlie Johnston, president of the International Boxing Guild, of which the local guild is an affiliate. "We're ready to fight in New York right now. But if he (Helfand) takes our licenses away, we have to go out of town. We'll go anywhere to get fights. None of us is resigning."

Helfand isn't backing down either, from the tone of his press conference yesterday afternoon. He blasted the Monday night television fight promoters who decided to move to Baltimore, effective Jan. 23, and called one of the Baltimore promoters with whom they will work "Frankie Carbo's representative." Carbo, according to Helfand, is a notorious police character with a powerful influence in boxing.

"I state from the most unimpeachable source that Benny Trotta (who promotes in Baltimore with his son-in-law Angelo Munafo) is Carbo's representative in the city of Baltimore," said Helfand. "In the last three weeks, previous to this deal (moving the televised fights from St. Nicholas Arena in New York to Baltimore) Frankie Carbo and Benny Trotta, whose real name is Benny Magliano, met in the city of Baltimore to engineer the deal."

When Nashua won Hialeah's 1955 Flamigo Stakes it started him on his way to a record—seven 100,00 victories in one year.

Fleck's Win Over Ben Hogan 1955's Top Upset In Sports

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
The Associated Press

The mythical year the Yankees lost the pennant had nothing on 1955 when it came to surprising sports experts. Last year was the year Ben Hogan, Notre Dame, the Yankees and the Bears all were beaten.

Those four events were the upsets singled out by 179 sports writers in The Associated Press year-end poll with Jack Fleck's triumph over Hogan in the playoff for the National Open golf championship getting the nod as the "Upset of this year."

Fleck was a "dark horse" in the Open if there ever was one. A 32-year-old operator of a pair of municipal courses at Davenport, Iowa, Jack never had finished higher than eighth in a major tournament and had been able to win only about $2,700 as a part-time contestant on the winter tour before the Open.

Unknown To Most

He was unknown to most of the spectators and sports writers when he shot a spectacular birdie on the 72nd hole at Olympic to tie Hogan, who already was receiving congratulations for winning. But they knew Fleck the next day when he beat Hogan by three strokes in the 18-hole playoff for the title.

The nature of this upset was emphasized by the fact Fleck collected only $615.63 in tournamentt winnings during the rest of the year, appearing seldom and finishing in the money only twice.

Fleck's victory was picked as the "Upset of the Year" by 41 of the writers and broadcasters and Southern California's football victory over Notre Dame by 37.

Trojans Won 42-20

That was a shocker, too. Notre Dame had won 8 out of 9 games and was regarded as one of the nation's topmost college teams going into that final contest of the season. Southern California had lost 4—3 in a row to Minnesota, Stanford and UCLA. But the Trojans just took command and rolled to a decisive 42-20 victory.

The Brooklyn Dodgers' triumph over the Yankees—after losing the first two games—took third place in the upset balloting with 24 first-place votes and 5 other mentions. Then came the Chicago Cardinals 54-14 shellacking of the Bears, a setback that cost the Bears a chance for the National Football League's Western Conference Title. That was first on 20 ballots and Sugar Ray Robinson's second-round knockout of Bobo Olson to regain the middleweight championship got 15.

Football Upsets

Football upsets were listed most frequently by the other voters. These included Illinois over Michigan (5), Stanford over Ohio State (4), Hawaii over Nebraska (4), Army over Navy (3), Yale over Army (3) and Texas over Texas A&M (3). Ten others listed the Army-Navy games as the second or third biggest upset.

Basketball came in for attention from five experts who thought Georgia Tech's two victories over Kentucky constituted the No. 1 upset. The Australian Davis Cup tennis team's one-sided triumph over the United States appeared somewhere on 7 ballots. Three thought the No. 1 upset was Swaps beating Nashua in the Kentucky Derby and just as many mentioned Nashua's victory over Swaps in their match race.

Catholics' Spanish-Speaking Mission In Snyder Growing

(Twenty-third of a series on Snyder and area churches.)

Our Lady of Guadalupe Mission, or the Spanish-speaking Catholic Church, is a growing mission which resulted from a small beginning.

It was about 1948 when the Rev. Al Fecci, OMI, now financial manager of the Catholic-American Seminary at Mexico City, started the mission by having services in the home of one of the members. Juan Ramos, who lives in the 1200 block of Eighth Street, was the one whose home was used from that time until 1951. Ramos is still a member of the mission. The mission had about 10 families at the start.

In May, 1951, the group bought and renovated a small building on a lot owned by Casimiro Loyola at Avenue E and Twenty-fourth Street. The Rev. Edward Chrisman was at that time pastor at the St. John's Catholic Church at Hermleigh and had been working with the Latin-Americans here. During that year, the Rev. William Ostendorf, a Dutchman, became Rev. Chrisman's assistant at Hermleigh and worked with the mission here. He retired in 1952 and went back to Holland. Rev. Chrisman again began work with the Latin-Americans.

In October, 1953, the mission purchased half a block of land in the 1100 block of Thirteenth Street and moved its building there. During the remainder of that year, the mission built outdoor restrooms and a recreation platform.

The Guadalupe Mission had, in late 1952, become a part of the newly-created Snyder parish. At that time, Rev. Chrisman moved to Snyder, where the St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church was built, and he continued also to work with the mission.

The mission has a men's organization known as the Holy Name Society, with about 35 members. A lay group, this society operates the social life of the church and aids the priest in other activities. Leaders of this group, who work closely with the minister, are Martin Pena, Abrahm Lopez, Adolf Guyllen, Luis Beltran, and Roberta Vasquez. The Holy Name Society sponsors a baseball team, along with several Snyder merchants, which matches games with other towns.

Attendance at the mission has grown to about 130 each Sunday, with that number representing about 35 families. Rev. Chrisman estimates that the permanent Latin-American Catholic population here is about 150 families.

Mass is held at the mission each Sunday at 9 a.m. The priest, in his sermons, speaks Spanish a large part of the time but at times uses English. This is done for two reasons: his Spanish is not polished well yet, and many members of the mission prefer that their children learn to speak English.

The mission has a women's organization, the Guadalupanas, with Mrs. Abrahm Lopez as president and Mrs. Angelita Baldarama as recording secretary.

The priest said plans call for the mission eventually becoming a parish with a full-time priest. The mission itself has paid for about two-thirds of what it now has.

Romanians Get Picture Of Life In U. S.

VIENNA (AP)—The Romanian people normaly read little good about the United States. But now they are learning

California is a fertile wonderland with marvelous irrigation projects. American agriculture produces so richly that vast cutbacks have to be undertaken to hold down surpluses. Negro workers enjoy a five-day, 40-hour week.

Many Romanians undoubtedly knew or suspected these things. But they never got to read them in Scanteia, organ of Romania's ruling Workers (Communist) party, until publication of articles by S. Brucan, member of a Romanian farm delegation which recently toured the United States.

The vast American surpluses continually astounded the Romanians, who come from a country where the government is constantly hammering for greater production.

Brucan describes a visit to Coon Rapids, Iowa. The Romanians were the guests of corn expert Roswell Garst, for a continual round of hospitality.

"The farmers' families all tried to show us what fine hosts they could be," Brucan says.

"Then we came to Chicago, that great American city with nearly four million inhabitants. At the headquarters of the International Harvester Co. we saw agricultural machinery for many kinds of crops. . . . We visited an International Harvester tractor works where 6,000 workers are employed, mostly Negroes. The plant works one shift and only five days a week."

Telling of a 1,000-mile auto tour through California's rich farm and pasturelands, Brucan relates:

"Everywhere we stopped the farmers greeted us with friendship and warmth. They showed us their irrigation methods in detail and explained such ingenious implements as their new cotton combine. . . ."

But he quotes some farmers complaining about low prices attributed to overproduction.

Rotary's Four-Way Test Explained Here

R. A. Schooling, member of the Rotary Club, presented the club its program at its weekly meeting yesterday.

Schooling's program dealt with the Rotary Club's four-way test and how it could be used in everyday business. The four-way test consists of four questions: "Is it the truth," "Is it fair to all concerned," "Will it build good will and a better friendship?" and "Is is beneficial to all concerned"

First Christian In Planning Meeting

A chile supper-meeting was held at the First Christian Church last night under sponsorship of the church's education committee to formulate plans on a coordinated effort of the entire church for its year of Christian education.

The plans include a teacher training course, school of missions, emphasis on increased attendance, family devotional life, summer conferences, vacation Bible school, and more adequate Bible school hours.

Mrs. Pearl Blanchard is education chairman, and Mrs. Margie McNair is co-ordinating chairman for all religious activities of the church.

Glamour Girl Gets Name Made Official

LONDON (AP)—Glamour Girl revealed today that her name really is Glamour Girl now.

The girl said that she was Dorothy Hartland before she changed her name through the courts.

"It cost me 5 pounds ($14) in solicitor's fee and 10 shillings ($1.40) in stamp fees," explained the 25-year-old blonde.

She made the change, she said, "because people always called me Glamour Girl."

And has it caused any difficulties?

"Only when I bought a dog license for my Alsatian named Beauty. The post office thought I was pulling their leg."

SNYDER AREA CHURCH NOTES

Churches Here Open 1956 With Regular Schedules

Regular services open the new year for most Snyder and area churches as they get back on their regular schedules following the Christmas-New Year seasons.

Few services would be termed as out of the ordinary. Most of Snyder's churches opened 1956 with larger memberships and attendance than those of a year ago, and numerous churches are in building programs to take care of needs resulting from the increases.

• • •

"The End of a Perfect Day" will be the subject of the sermon of the Rev. Jack Riley, pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church, in the Sunday 10:55 a.m. service, and at the 7:30 p.m. service he will speak on "Act In the Present Tense." The church is planning a series of fellowships nights, in which members will study the church program and organization, Jan. 15-Feb. 12, opening with a John Wesley film and closing with a program by the McMurry College band.

• • •

The Rev. Jimmie Nelson, pastor of the Colonial Hill Baptist Church, will speak on "Partners With God" at the Sunday 11 a.m. service and will have an evangelistic sermon at the 8 p.m. service.

• • •

At the First Methodist Church, the Rev. J. Lennol Hester, pastor, will speak at all three Sunday services at 8:45 and 10:55 a.m. and 7 p.m.

• • •

"Speak To the Children of Israel That They Go Forward" is the subject chosen by Dale Brooks, minister of the Thirty-seventh Street Church of Christ, for his Sunday 10:45 a.m. sermon. At the 7 p.m. service, he will speak on "Our Prophet, Priest, and King." Bible classes are at 9:45 a.m., training classes at 6 p.m.

• • •

First Baptist pastor G. M. Cole will speak on "Our Greatest Need" at the 11 a.m. service Sunday and on "Justified" at the 7:30 p.m. service. Sunday school is at 9:45 a.m., training union at 6:15 p.m.

• • •

Ted Norton, minister of the Twenty-fifth Street Church of Christ, will speak on "Where Are Thy Treasures" at the Sunday 10:45 a.m. service and "The Saddest Word" at the 7 p.m. service. Bible classes are at 9:45 a.m., training classes at 6 p.m.

• • •

"Where Honesty Begins" is the subject of the Sunday 11 a.m. sermon of the Rev. Avery Timmons, pastor of the Avenue D Baptist Church. Evening services will be at 7:30. Sunday school is at 9:45 a.m., training union at 6:30. Sunday is Tithers Day at the church, which has voted its new budget and will attempt to raise the funds through pledges of tithes.

• • •

The Rev. Edward Chrisman, pastor of the St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church, will speak on "The Sacrament of Confirmation — Its Forms" on Sunday. Masses are at 7:30 and 10:30 a.m. at St. Elizabeth's and at 9 a.m. at the Guadalupe Mission.

• • •

The Rev. T. Gerald Cates, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, has the following Sunday schedule: at 5:30 a.m., talk on the Calvary Baptist Hour broadcast by Bill Fortson, new music-education director; at 10 a.m., Bible lesson at the church by the pastor on "The Lord's Prayer;" 11 a.m., morning services, with the pastor speaking on "Church Discipline;" and evening services at 7:30, with the pastor beginning a series of messages on II Thessalonians, using the subject, "Punished With Everlasting Destruction."

• • •

Novel Baize of Stamford will be speaker at 10:45 a.m. Sunday services at the Avenue R Church of Christ. Evening Services will be at 7 p.m. At the Wednesday 7:30 p.m. service, speaker will be Joe Ellington.

Fluvanna Man Injured

R. L. Deere, 70-year-old Fluvanna man who fell last week and broke a hip and wrist, was reported recovering rapidly late this week. He is in Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

The training college of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police at Regina, Saskatchewan, has perhaps the only church in the world used exclusively by policemen.

Bird Hating Youth Held

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—A 14-year-old boy who said he hated birds was held for a mental examination after a third parakeet was found slain at a nearby elementary school.

One bird was drowned. The other two were decapitated.

The Fountain Dale Elementary School was broken into three times in two months. After each foray a parakeet was found dead. The last one was found yesterday.

Deputy Sheriff Claude Cline said the boy told him he particularly hated parakeets, that something would "flip in my head" and he got the urge to kill birds.

Cline said the boy told him he "enjoyed" killing birds ever since he once killed some chickens for his mother. He said he once attended the school and knew it kept a parakeet.

Juvenile Court Magistrate Evan Crosley said he would seek a mental examination for the boy.

It's Legal To Drive Faster In Texas Town

SULPHUR SPRINGS (AP)—It's now legal to drive an auto faster than 18 miles an hour in Sulphur Springs. And cars are no longer required to stop and give the right of way to horse drawn vehicles.

The auto came into its own this week when city commissioners, revising city speed limits, found that apparently two ordinances—the first giving right of way to horses, passed in 1914, and the second limiting auto speeds to 18 miles an hour, passed in 1922—were still on the books.

The new ordinance establishes auto speeds in certain areas as high as 50 miles an hour. From now on the horse must look out for himself.

Over 50 per cent of Malaya's tin production is obtained by dredging.

AMERICANISM and CHRISTIANITY or COMMUNISM and ATHEISM...which do you want? The inescapable challenge facing the Christian world today is COMMUNISM. COMMUNISM is OFFICIALLY ATHEIST. To destroy the American principle of FREEDOM of WORSHIP is the declared intention of this ANTI-AMERICANISM.

ABOUT twenty years ago the Comintern declared: "The ultimate aim of the Communist International is to replace world capitalist economy by a world system of Communism....It will bury forever all mysticism, religion, and superstition." That anti-God declaration has never been challenged. In fact, it has strengthened its atheist principles to a point that has rarely been seen before in history. The Truth is, Communism cannot live with Christianity, because it is a religion unto itself, as much so as it is a system of politics and economics.

COMMUNISTS declare theirs is simply the "scientific" application of the teachings of history. They also say theirs is not only a "scientific" system but is the ONLY SYSTEM. Communists say Christianity is superstition. They refer to Christianity as something especially designed to capture the masses for exploitation by capitalist masters. Communists say "DOWN WITH THE CROSS WHICH IS THE SYMBOL OF FAITH FOR THE CHRISTIAN WORLD."...Therefore, Communism and Christianity become the two great rival Faiths of the Twentieth Century.

CHRISTIANITY believes one thing about the nature of man and his destiny, the nature of morality, the basis of ethics, and the nature of the Universe; COMMUNISM believes the exact opposite. CHRISTIANITY believes in the INDIVIDUAL and in the RIGHTS OF MAN. COMMUNISM believes the individual is the wholly owned SLAVE OF THE STATE.

THIS atheistic, materialistic, conspiracy threatens to engulf the whole world. Unless it is stopped our liberties, political, civil and religious rights, will go the way of the unfortunate nations which have already been crushed to earth behind the iron curtain of Moscow. If you believe in God and the Bible of the Lord God Almighty, won't you help hold high the CROSS. It is being threatened by Communist enemies. For the sake of all that is dear to you...attend your church and support her good work.
