

$91,000 More

Feed Grain Payments Increased for 1969

As much as $91,000 increase in 1969 government payments may come to county feed grain growers if they participate to the same extent as last year. Millard Brown, ASCS office manager, announced the provisions under which operators will draw added feed grain payments.

Collingsworth County has received a 3.3 bushel per acre increase in the county average yield to bring it to 33.4 bushels per acre.

On top of this, the price support payment has been increased 1¢ per bushel, now totaling 55¢ per acre.

These two increases will amount to about $1 per acre on the base acreage, which is just under 91,000 acres.

The basic provisions of the 1969 feed grain program are the same as for 1968, Mr. Brown said. One exception is that barley will be considered a feed grain and will come under all provisions of the feed grain program.

The feed grain loan rate, based on freight rates to a Gulf port, is expected to be the same as last year, $1.67 per hundredweight. Collingsworth received a 6¢ increase last year to bring this figure above some of those for surrounding counties.

The average diversion payment will be $18.27 per acre, while the price support will be $9.79, on the county average basis. The amounts will vary according to the individual farms, it was pointed out.

As in 1968, a producer must devote 20 percent of his feed grain base acreage to a conservation use without payment to be eligible to participate in the program and receive a diversion payment on all additional acres up to 50 percent of his grain sorghum base.

The price support payment will be on 50 percent of the grain sorghum base acres for the farm if planted in a workmanlike manner.

Mr. Brown also announced that substitute crops, such as guar, may be planted on the diverted acres again this year. Guar can be harvested as a substitute crop by forfeiting 50 percent of the feed grain diversion payment.

Guar or other substitute crops cannot be harvested from the first 20 percent of the feed grain base (that acreage on which the grower does not receive payment).

Dodson Students Make Selections

Dodson High School students made their selections for honors Monday, Jan. 20. At the same time, it was announced that Nancy Guley is the valedictorian of the senior class and Sheila Lewis the salutatorian.

Cindy Hightower was named Colleen to represent Dodson at the Miss Irish Rose Contest in Shamrock on St. Patrick's Day. Double honors went to two students. Sheila Lewis was chosen most popular girl and most beautiful girl, Dennis Sexton was named most popular boy and best all around boy.

Also Gary Norman was chosen most handsome and Nancy Guley the best all around girl.

State-Wide Program

Brush Control Plan Told to Area Ranchers

County Extension agents and ranchers of the south and east Panhandle met in Shamrock on Thursday, Jan. 16 to set up the local-level organization of a state association to control brush on Texas ranges.

The overall program will be administered by the Texas Brush Control and Range Improvement Association. W. R. Breeding, Samnorwood rancher and county commissioner, is the area co-ordinator.

John R. Henard, Jr., and Paul Montgomery were the ranchers named to represent Collingsworth County in the district 1 organization.

Mr. Matthews, an Abilene rancher, is state chairman and presided at the Shamrock meeting.

The state association proposes to control brush—mesquite, shiner, sage and other plants—through a program patterned after the old screwworm eradication program, explained County Agent Don Reeves.

The ranchers will set up their own eradication program, by

Vaughan Resigns SCD Post; John Brim Appointed

Orville Vaughan of Dodson tendered his resignation as a member of the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District board of supervisors in a meeting of that group Tuesday, Jan. 21, after serving on the body 14 years.

The board then chose John Brim, who lives south of Wellington, to succeed him.

Mr. Vaughan became commissioner of Precinct 1 the first of this year, and he told other members of the Salt Fork SCD Board he would resign to avoid any possible conflict of interest.

"I'd say John Brim is just about Mr. Conservation himself," said Gary Reed, work unit conservationist of Soil Conservation Service, in making the announcement. His appointment will become effective upon approval by the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board.

One of the district's outstanding exponents of soil and water conservation, Mr. Brim was one of the first two men to win

At Iowa Park Game

WH Crowns Basketball King, Queen Friday

Wellington boys and girls will play key games against Iowa Park in Rocket Gym Friday, Jan. 24, as the second half of district round robin play begins.

The Skyrockets and Rockettes will crown the Basketball Queen and King between the games.

The Wellington teams will travel to Memphis Tuesday, Jan. 28 to meet what is possibly their bitterest rivals this season.

Wellington girls are leading District 2-AA, but they need to win every game, and Iowa Park does have a good team, Coach James Stavenhagen pointed out. "Their girls have a strong forward end, but their guards are weak. We defeated them there, but they hadn't played much basketball then, so we know they will have improved by now," he said.

Iowa Park boys are considered stronger than they have been in past years.

The Rockets defeated the Hawks only 8 points on the Iowa Park court to open the basketball season. Because the Hawk football team was participating in post-season games, some of the players had worked out only three or four days, and their team is expected to be much stronger now.

"There is really not a team

Junior High Tourney Opens Thursday at 9:30

Junior size action starts Thursday at 9:30 a.m. in the annual Wellington Junior High basketball tournament. Coaches Carroll Nunnely and Dick Hamilton reminded this week. Games will be played from 9:30 to 4:30 on Thursday and Friday. Consolation finals will be played at 5 p.m. and 6 p.m., and championship finals at 7 p.m. and 8 p.m. Saturday.

Sixteen teams will participate including boys and girls teams from Shamrock, Wellington 7th and 8th grades, Hollis, Memphis, Paducah, Arnett and Clarendon.

"We invite the public to attend," said Coach Nunnely. "You'll be surprised how much action and excitement these young teams can show."

C-C Banquet Tickets Go on Sale This Week

Tickets will go on sale this week for the annual Collingsworth Chamber of Commerce banquet, which will be held on Thursday, Feb. 13, Mrs. Pat Phipps of the C-C office announced.

The banquet speaker will be Robert T. (Sonny) Davis, an Austin attorney who is known throughout the nation for his work with boys and girls in the prevention of delinquency.

Because of his leadership in this work, and because of the serious interest which this county is taking in its youth, Mr. Davis' talk is expected to be of unusual interest.

Tickets may be bought at the Chamber of Commerce office, said Mrs. Phipps, and at other locations.

The banquet will be held in Bura Handley Community Center, beginning at 7:15 p.m.

As director of the Texas Youth Conference, Mr. Davis already is known to a number of boys and girls in the county who have attended this annual summer youth event.

A former assistant attorney general of Texas, Mr. Davis was selected in 1963 as organizer and director of the Texas Youth Conference, America's fastest growing, privately financed youth development program.

He is the founder and president of the National Leadership Institute providing leadership training for major colleges and universities throughout the United States, training over 5,000 adults and youths annually.

He estimates he has spoken to more than 700,000 adults and youths concerning delinquency and youth leadership.

State Highway Asked

Salary Raise for Officials Approved

The Commissioners' Court in its first session of 1969 approved salary increases for elected officials and some county employees, set up a meeting with other taxing agencies to discuss the collection of delinquent taxes, and heard a group from McLean seeking designation of a state highway that would cross Collingsworth County.

The session opened Monday, Jan. 13, reconvened Wednesday and continued Thursday and Friday morning. Much of its work was routine for the first of the year.

This was the first session for the two new commissioners, Orville Vaughan of Precinct 1 and Pat O'Hair of Precinct 3. They took the oath of office informally the first of the year after the illness of County Judge Zook Thomas prevented the usual swearing-in ceremony. Others sworn in were County Attorney Paul Spillman, who succeeds Judge R. L. Templeton; Sheriff John Rainey and Constable Bruce Hite who were re-elected. Outgoing commissioners were Woodrow Wood, Precinct 1, and J. C. Emmert, Precinct 3.

The salary increases approved are on a yearly basis and vary with the office. The total increase amounts to $3,854.50 per year.

The largest adjustments went to two elected officials in the lower salary bracket. The salary of the county attorney was increased $500 per year from $4,700 to $5,200, and the salary of the county treasurer was raised $400 from $3,900 to $4,300.

Increases to other elected officials were:

Sheriff, up $88.72 per year to $5,200; county-district clerk, up $388.64 per year to $5,200; tax assessor-collector, up $388.64 per year to $5,200; county judge, up $388.64 per year to $3,988.64; justice of the peace, up $200 to $3,500.

Salary increases for county employees were: Janitor, increased $200 to $3,500; veterans' service officer, up $200 to $2,000 per year; two deputy clerks, up $200 each to $3,400; deputy tax assessor, up $200 to $3,400 per year.

No increase was given to the offices of county librarian, who draws $2,400 per year, and the

Cancer Film Features Wellington Native, Due at Childress Soon

"The Many Faces of Fear," a film based on the life of a young man born at Wellington, will be shown Feb. 18 at Childress, under the sponsorship of the Childress County Chapter of the American Cancer Society.

James Hilburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hilburn, was a young actor of much talent, yet his career that was so promising was cut short by cancer.

The University of Texas M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute at Houston became interested in his case and was responsible for this film which shows his valiant fight against cancer.

The Childress showing will be at the Palace Theatre at 7:30 p.m. This site was chosen because of the large attendance expected.

"We hope many Wellington people will be interested and come to see this picture," said Mrs. Lois Stiner, who is working with the Cancer Society of Childress.

The Hilburn family moved from here to Childress, where James Hilburn grew up, and where his father was postmaster for many years.

County Groups Study Delinquent Tax Collection

Representatives of all taxing agencies in the county will meet Thursday, Jan. 23, with Marshall Sherwood, a Panhandle attorney, to discuss the collection of delinquent taxes.

It will be held in the county courtroom starting at 7 p.m., County Judge Zook Thomas said.

The commissioners court contacted Mr. Sherwood earlier in the winter, in regard to collecting delinquent county taxes.

Represented in the meeting Thursday will be the commissioners' court for the county, the City of Wellington, the City of Dodson, and the Wellington, Samnorwood, Quail and Dodson school districts.

The schools are due to have one or more board members, the superintendent and tax collector present.

Judge Thomas said that Mr. Sherwood will explain what he would do for the taxing units, and what they would need to do.

After this meeting, the local groups will decide if they wish to enter a contract with Mr. Sherwood.

SALT FORK SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

By Lynn Hagan

Of the serious problems in agriculture today, cropland erosion must rank as the worst.

Even in Collingsworth County there are many acres of once fertile productive land that now lies gullied, stripped of its fertility, and unfit for cultivation. Once, the philosophy of many farmers was to "wear out" a farm with cotton or some other crop, then move on westward.

No longer can this idea exist. No more virgin rich lands in the United States await the plow, as it did 100 years ago. Farmers today realize that they must preserve the soil on their own farms and keep it in condition to produce for them in the future as well as the present time. To be able to do this every farmer must utilize the most valuable thing on his farm—his crop residues.

Practices such as terraces, diversions, and contour farming play an important part in every conservation program, but give little protection from blowing winds or packing rains.

Falling raindrops are a major cause of erosion. They strike the soil traveling at a high rate of speed, creating a force of over 1000 times their weight on the area they strike. This causes a splashing of soil particles into the air and dislodges the humus and fertile particles. These are then easily carried away by runoff. If no runoff occurs, these dislodged particles are still easily carried by the wind. This is the main reason land blows so easily after a hard rain. The force of the drops also tends to pack the soil, causing "puddling" and slowing penetration of water.

About the only protection soil can have from wind and raindrops is something to obstruct the surface wind speed and to break up the energy of the raindrops. This is where good management of crop residues is so important. Almost all farmers in this area grow some high residue crops such as grazing sorghums, grain sorghums, or small grain, and have the opportunity to use these for their benefit. This residue is one of his best assets. It works for him day and night with no labor cost. It contains nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium and other elements necessary for plant growth. It adds organic matter to the top portion of the soil and provides nutrients for soil bacteria growth.

Residue also increases the infiltration rate of rainfall, reduces runoff, decreases evaporation, lessens crusting of surface soil, and increases aeration for roots. By returning these residues to his land each year, a landowner will not only keep his soil productive, but actually build it up, especially by applying additional fertilizer.

In our area, where sandstorms are a major problem, it is important that farmers leave as much residue on the surface as possible during the critical wind erosion periods. According to SCS recommendations the residue should be left on the surface until the seedbed is prepared for the following crop—generally about April 1 for spring seeded crops and about August 1 for fall sown crops.

Today, along with the great improvements in farming practices, a person will sometimes see a farmer burning his wheat stubble or other residue. This is the same as burning money.

Because of all the benefits, utilization of crop residues is considered by conservationists to be the cheapest, most practical method of controlling erosion and building up land on any farm.

For more information on the management of crop residues, farmers should contact the technicians in the Wellington Work Unit of the Soil Conservation Service.

1969 Cotton Harvest Comes to a Close

Cotton harvest in the Eastern Panhandle is fast coming to a close. Gins are caught up and those that are not finished for the season lack only a few bales, according to W. E. Cain, at the Memphis Cotton Classing Office, Consumer Marketing Service.

This will be the last market news release by the Memphis classing office as it will close next Monday. This week the office classed 8,054 samples to bring the season classing total to 183,370.

Qualities of cotton classed this week declined as the season neared its end. Light Spotted grades accounted for 44%, Spotted grades for 41% and Tinge and below 10%.

Staples also declined as 15/16 staples accounted for 13%, up from 8% last week; 31/32 were 59% and 1 inch 23%.

Micronaire, or fineness and maturity, readings show 52% in the desirable range of 3.5 to 4.9, 36% miked 3.0 to 3.4 and 10% 2.9 and below.

Pressley, or strength, readings show the weekly average to be 81,000 and the season average is 82,000 pounds per square inch.

The cotton market remained steady this week on the most active qualities traded. Some of these qualities and average prices for 3.5 to 4.9 mike were: Mid. Lt. Spot 15.16, 18.15; Mid. Lt. Spot 31/32, 18.47; SLM Lt. Spot 15/16, 17.73; and SLM Lt. Spot 31/32, 18.17.

Cottonseed remained steady at $49 per ton.

Notes from Your County Home Demonstration Agent

By Mrs. Leta Hill

Coffee

Long ago, the legend runs in the hills of Ethiopia, lived a young goatherd. While tending his flock he noticed that the goats became very playful after eating the berries of a plant that grew wild in the grazing range. Communications being what they were, coffee remained Ethiopia's secret for many years. By the 14th century coffee plants were grown in Arabia. Gradually, coffee spread all over Europe.

In America the first coffee houses did not become popular until after the Boston Tea Party. By the time of the Civil War, coffee was very much a part of the American way of life and a coffee break was important to the morale of soldiers of the north and south as it is to the modern day G.I., and so, century by century, coffee and the enjoyment of the coffee break has spread around the world.

Here is the direction for coffee for a crowd (using a coffee maker).

50 servings, 1 pound* ground coffee, 2½ gallons water;
100 servings, 2 pounds* coffee, 5 gallons water
150 servings, 3 pounds* coffee, 7½ gallons water.

*To use 1 or 2 pounds of coffee from a 2- or 3-pounds can measure about 5¼ cups per pound.

New Food Development

The Chinese have been making a soybean cheese called sufu for centuries. Now scientists are trying to develop a foolproof method of making good sufu for American consumption with no undesirable off flavors.

U. S. Department of Agriculture researchers have found keys to eliminating a beany flavor and the soy cheese can be incorporated with acceptable Western flavors, such as garlic, wine or pepper. The soybean cheese is made from a curd which, when cut into cubes and incubated, becomes covered with a white fungus somewhat like that of Camembert cheese. It is soft and pale yellow with a pleasant aroma and taste.

A brine solution prevents bacterial growth.

Lowry Appears on Program of American Dental Association

Joel Lowry and Aquiles Mas, senior students in the University of Texas School of Dentistry, Houston, presented a table clinic at the American Dental Association meeting in Miami, Fla., earlier this year.

The table clinic consisted of a series of slides on pin-retained amalgams. These slides were automatically changed by a synchronized tape while the students explained models and other materials on display.

The table clinic won in state-wide competition last spring in San Antonio. The table clinic program at the national meeting is open to undergraduate dental students from the United States and Puerto Rico who were selected from preliminary competition to represent their schools.

This is the second year that Lowry and Mas have won this honor in their dental branch.

Lowry is the son of Mrs. Jack Lowry of Samnorwood and took his pre-dental work at Texas Tech. Mas practiced dentistry in Cuba before he and his wife were forced to leave that country. Recently members of both their families have been able to leave, Mrs. Lowry said.

Navy to Cachet Apollo 9 Covers

NORFOLK, Va. — Manned Spacecraft Recovery Forces of the U.S. Navy will provide collectors with "Recovery Day" cachet and cancellation services for the upcoming Apollo 9 manned space flight.

Philatelic coordinators designated for Atlantic and Pacific Fleet Recovery Forces (Task Forces 140 and 130) will receive all such envelopes and make distribution to assigned ships.

To permit adequate time for required handling of covers, collectors should mail pre-stamped, self-addressed envelopes to reach the appropriate coordinator prior to Feb. 13. Covers received after this deadline will be cancelled at Norfolk or San Francisco.

Due to popularity of this service and postal facility limitations on recovery ships, the coordinator for Task Force 140 will accept only six envelopes while Task Force 130 will accept eight covers from each individual collector.

Benny Carson led Quail scoring with 15 points, while Leon Ward had 18 for Hedley.

W-2 Deadline

DALLAS. — Friday, Jan. 31, 1969 is the deadline for employers to give employees their 1968 W-2 forms, showing the amount of earnings, income tax withheld and social security information, Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue for Northern Texas, said today.

Forms W-2 have to be filed with income tax returns and those who had more than one job last year should make sure they have received all of them when they file their returns.

EARLY ACCOUNTANTS

Accounting was practiced by scribes in Babylonia as early as 2500 B.C., ancient clay tablets reveal. Details on tax transactions were pressed into clay sheets. The sheets were baked to preserve them as permanent records.

BURROWING ANTS

A common species of ant, the eastern or Allegheny mound builder, builds clusters of large mounds with burrows extending some 5 1/2 feet below the surface.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

Q. Where can I get copies of the new tax forms?

A. Most taxpayers should receive their income tax forms in the mail early in January. Forms will also be available at local IRS offices as well as in many post offices and banks.

If you received a form in the mail, please use it when you file your tax return. It contains identifying information to help avoid mistakes that delay processing and refunds or demands for more money.

The Form 1040 tax package that you received in the mail has a two-part pre-addressed label that shows the taxpayer's name, address and Social Security number. If you do not use the form sent you, peel off the top label and put it on the form you file. The card Form 1040A is pre-printed with taxpayer's name, address and Social Security number.

Q. Were there any changes in the tax law last year I should know about when I file my 1968 return?

A. Adoption of the surtax in 1968 was the major change. This surtax will increase the amount of income tax most individuals pay for 1968 by 7 1/2%. A line has been added to the tax form to help taxpayers make this calculation and it is explained in the instructions that come with the tax form.

Q. Do I have to include Social Security benefits when I add up my income for the year?

A. Social Security benefits are not taxable. However, they do have to be included when determining if the support test has been met for a dependent.

For example, if a widow had no other income but Social Security benefits of $1,200 during 1968 and she spent it for her own support, it will be necessary for anyone claiming her as a dependent to provide more than $1,200 towards her support for the year.

Q. Where can I get a copy of the new Farmers Tax Guide, Publication 225?

A. Contact your local IRS office or county extension agent for a free copy.

Q. I want to get my return in as soon as possible so I can get my refund. Do I have to wait until my boss gives me my W-2? I have my own record of wages and tax withheld.

A. A copy of your W-2 form must be attached to your tax return. Many taxpayers had their refunds delayed last year because they forgot to do this.

The law requires employers to issue W-2 statements to their employees by Jan. 31. Many issue them sooner so you should have your W-2 form shortly.

Q. I don't think my medical expenses were more than 3 percent of my income in 1968. Does that mean I can't deduct my Blue Cross payments?

A. One-half of your medical insurance premiums up to a maximum of $150 may be deducted even though your total medical expenses do not exceed 3 percent of your income. Therefore, you may deduct part of your Blue Cross premium if you itemize.

Information to help you figure out your medical expense deduction is given on page 7 of the 1040 instructions. Mistakes in handling medical insurance premiums occurred frequently on tax returns last year. To avoid mistakes, read the instructions carefully.

Q. Last year I bought a bull at an auction. If I keep it for breeding purposes do I use its cost to figure depreciation?

A. Yes, generally the basis for depreciation of purchased livestock held for draft, dairy or breeding purposes is cost. However, special rules apply if purchased stock are included in inventory.

CARD OF THANKS

OUR BUDDY

By Mrs. Ross Swift

(A Tribute to Claude McKinney)

He came to Dodson, when just a young man; He came with his family, without much of a plan. He soon had a little fight, not aiming to get out of line, But they gave him his choice, To join the cops or pay a fine. Money was so scarce that a job looked like more fun. So he put on a gun and moved to Wellington.

He made the county Sheriff and his knowledge grew ripe, And for many years it looked like he was in for life. There were many that he arrested, For with bootleggers the county was really infested.

He even met up with Clyde Barrow when Clyde was about 16. That was long before Clyde and Bonnie formed a little team. Yes, he made some enemies, but many were his friends. As he carried on his work, we learned our lives he would defend.

He now holds the office of Justice of the Peace; It just looks like his gun carrying jobs never cease. Now he's my dear old Uncle, and love him I really do, But there's a hundred or two (nieces and nephews) that also love him too.

Even Bea and Governor wouldn't trade him for a penny. I guess you know who he is now—Our Buddy—Claude McKinney.

—His Nieces and Nephews.

Jaycees Contribute New Civic Responsibility to Community

Wellington Jaycees will join others from over the Panhandle this week end at the annual winter convention in Dumas.

We owe our members our thanks for the fine work they are doing in the community. One of the major purposes of their organization is to train young men in civic responsibility. They become aware of problems of their area, as well as of its potentiality. They have the opportunity to bring in new ideas.

Young men who became Jaycees in Wellington no more than a year and a half ago are assuming some of the community's more responsible places. Certainly they are needed.

At Dumas they will meet with other Jaycees who are also doing important work in their towns, and from this will come the spark of energy for more and possibly new work here.

Combating Lack of Exercise

An Oklahoma school teacher, is waging a one-woman war to combat the lack of exercise, thus the lack of muscular development, in many of today's youth.

Her weapon is an ancient one — yoga. Her battleground is her kindergarten class at an elementary school.

She employs a series of exercises — some as calm as lying on the floor in silence for two minutes to rest and breathe slowly. Others are more active, including hand stands, tumbling, and standing on heads in the corner.

While Mrs. McClelland is aiming her campaign at the young children, there are many of us who could very well utilize her exercises.

Buried in Trash

As if there were not enough things in this old world to worry about, the problem of trash and air pollution keeps coming to the fore.

It appears that every few months, someone should ring the alarm bell concerning mankind's disposal of its waste materials, garbage and pollutants. Here is a problem not close to solution, yet new methods of waste disposal must be discovered or mankind stands in danger of being buried with its own garbage and wastes.

Trash disposal has come a long way since the early days when residents of a town merely hauled their trash to the edge of town and burned it. Perryton had a system like that for years, and a generation of people here grew up used to the sight of clouds of smoke coming from the dump ground at the southeast edge of town where trash was being burned.

Several years ago Perryton stopped burning trash and went to the sanitary fill method of disposal. This has resulted in transforming the dump ground site into a beautiful park area, one which will eventually be part of a city golf course instead of a lake fed by sewage and surrounded by rotting debris.

Over the country, trash disposal problems are mounting. The U. S. produces 1,500 pounds of air pollutants per person per year, much of it from burning trash. Philadelphia plans to quit burning and start burying trash in abandoned coal mines. Other cities are working on plans to get rid of trash and garbage, while still other cities keep pouring sewage and trash into rivers and lakes.

Unless something is done, this country is going to be knee-deep in waste matter. It's a problem that urgently needs a solution.

"I'll Show 'Em"

AUSTIN.—Sponsors of unsuccessful 1968 efforts to legalize liquor by the drink in Texas will take another tack this season. Sen. Joe Christie of El Paso and Rep. Cleatus Davis of Houston will propose that a constitutional amendment on the question of open bars be submitted to Texas voters.

And since Gov. Preston Smith endorsed the constitutional amendment approach in his campaign platform and the State Democratic Party platform, he is expected to support the Christie-Davis plan.

Senator Christie feels that a "sure-enough" mixed-drink bill would have a better chance of passage by the Legislature than Gov. John Connally's "mini-bottle" bill had last summer, if it would take effect only on statewide voter approval.

But he and Representative Davis are bound to hear argument that while a referendum on the subject won over a majority of voters in the 1968 primary election, the majority came from big-city residents, and less counties went for the proposition than against.

Tax Policy Recommended

Texas Committee on State and Local Tax Policy, headed by House Tax and Revenue Committee Chairman Ben Atwell of Dallas, came out with some suggestions for providing the $343 million or so the state will need in new revenue over the next two years, but said it would not make formal recommendations.

Possible sources listed include personal and corporate income taxes, increasing the 3% state sales tax, and removing tax exemption on food and taxing certain services.

Committee estimated that a modest personal-income tax (such as Oklahoma's) alone would reap some $370 million a year.

Appointments

Governor Connally—as much as four years behind on some appointments—did his best to catch up as the twelfth hour of his term in office came and went by making 39 last-minute appointments.

Job Education Plans

Senate Committee on Vocational-Technical Education has proposed a broad program for expanding vocational and technical education in Texas.

Nine key recommendations of the Committee, which conducted a series of public hearings include:

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where the peabrain cult of "tell it like it is" and draw it worse, has finally killed the aged Saturday Evening Post magazine.

Four or five decades back into the olden days this journal appealed to folks who already knew how it was without having to be told, and who liked to read about people rising above their problems instead of wallowing in them.

But the tell-it-like-it-is boys took over the Old Post, and forgot one "is": that magazines live on advertising revenue. And advertisers apparently got afraid that folks reading the New Post would think goods advertised in it might be as inspireless as it was.

public school programs together with technical and technological education and pre-vocational instruction; placing the administration under a Deputy Commissioner for Occupational Education and Technology under Board of Education; creation of an advisory council of 21 on vocational education; continuation of James Connally Technical Institute near Waco and creation of several other similar institutions; adequate funding for school and junior college job programs; counseling or training a cooperative secondary junior college program; licensing and regulation of private trade schools and continuation of the senate study committee.

Special Election Talk

After the Legislature began recovering from the shock of the death of Rep. Dave C. Howard of Uvalde, speculation started about possible candidates for his 49th District place in the House.

Representative Howard died in Austin of a heart attack after the first day of his second session in the Legislature. Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes said, "I knew him as a dedicated public servant, fine gentleman and friend who will be missed in legislative halls." Gov. Connally called him "a man of high honor and integrity."

Talk was strong in Austin that Dolph Briscoe of Uvalde, prominent rancher who ran unsuccessfully last year for governor and a former member of the House, will file as a candidate for Howard's vacant place when Gov. Preston Smith orders a special election. But

Briscoe would not make an official comment.

Texas Water Plan

House Water Study Committee headed by Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake will ask the rest of the Legislature to submit a $3.5 billion bond issue to Texas voters, to help finance the Texas Water Development Board's $10-billion Texas Water Plan.

Committee will make a generalized endorsement of the statewide water plan and has asked the private, non-profit Texas Research League to make a study of some sort of special tax which could be levied and dedicated to paying interest and principal on Water Development Board bonds while they are waiting for water uses to develop and help pay off the loans.

Vending Curbs Eyed

Amusement vending machine operators should be licensed and prohibited from lending money to tavern keepers, a House Investigating Committee maintains.

Committee urged tough curbs on vending machine firms and taverns. Applicants for beer licenses would be screened to cut out those who have been convicted by felonies and certain types of misdemeanors in the last five years. Vending machine concerns could hold no interest in taverns or lease premises to them.

Short Snorts

Comptroller Robert S. Calvert estimates that lawmakers will have more than $1.2-billion in general revenue to spend on operations for the next two years.

Texas ranks 46th nationally in the average amount of aid to families with dependent children, 35th in aid to the blind, 32nd in old-age assistance and 44th in aid to the partially and totally disabled, according to the State Department of Public Welfare.

Texas Legislative Council has proposed legislation to require training of all police officers, with a state requirement that all officers earn a state certificate.

chair, which the 31 senators bought for him through a collection.

Texas Supreme Court refused to reconsider its decision that the state's appeal for a hearing in a Midland Sunday closing law case was filed too late. Constitutionality of the law will be tested in a similar San Antonio case.

Third Court of Civil Appeals ruled that sales by an El Paso firm to a Mexican buyer are not exempt from state sales tax.

A uniform statewide system of voting by machine—with the state renting them to counties which don't have their own—and appointment of chief county election officers to supervise registration and voting procedures has been recommended by the Election Code Study Committee.

ASCS Body Gives Approvals

The County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee approved a large number of applications for ACP practices under both the regular and emergency programs in the meeting Friday, Jan. 17, according to Millard Brown, office manager.

Transfer of cotton allotments between farms was approved. Approximately 125 transfers involved about 225 farms, including both the farms the allotments were transferred from and those receiving them.

Mr. Brown said approximately 100 cotton allotment leases were completed this year and 116 acres of cotton allotment were sold outright.

January 31 W-2 Deadline

DALLAS. — Friday, Jan. 31, 1969 is the deadline for employers to give employees their 1968 W-2 forms, showing the amount of earnings, income tax withheld and social security information, Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue for Northern Texas, said today.

Forms W-2 have to be filed with income tax returns and those who had more than one job last year should make sure they have received all of them when they file their returns.

EARLY ACCOUNTANTS

Accounting was practiced by scribes in Babylonia as early as 2500 B.C., ancient clay tablets reveal. Details on tax transactions were pressed into clay sheets. The sheets were baked to preserve them as permanent records.

BURROWING ANTS

A common species of ant, the eastern or Allegheny mound builder, builds clusters of large mounds with burrows extending some 5½ feet below the surface.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

Q. Where can I get copies of the new tax forms?

A. Most taxpayers should receive their income tax forms in the mail early in January. Forms will also be available at local IRS offices as well as in many post offices and banks.

If you received a form in the mail, please use it when you file your tax return. It contains identifying information to help avoid mistakes that delay processing and refunds or demands for more money.

The Form 1040 tax package that you received in the mail has a two-part pre-addressed label that shows the taxpayer's name, address and Social Security number. If you do not use the form sent you, peel off the top label and put it on the form you file. The card Form 1040A is pre-printed with taxpayer's name, address and Social Security number.

Q. Were there any changes in the tax law last year I should know about when I file my 1968 return?

A. Adoption of the surtax in 1968 was the major change. This surtax will increase the amount of income tax most individuals pay for 1968 by 7½%. A line has been added to the tax form to help taxpayers make this calculation and it is explained in the instructions that come with the tax form.

Q. Do I have to include Social Security benefits when I add up my income for the year?

A. Social Security benefits are not taxable. However, they do have to be included when determining if the support test has been met for a dependent.

For example, if a widow had no other income but Social Security benefits of $1,200 during 1968 and she spent it for her own support, it will be necessary for anyone claiming her as a dependent to provide more than $1,200 towards her support for the year.

Q. Where can I get a copy of the new Farmers Tax Guide, Publication 225?

A. Contact your local IRS office or county extension agent for a free copy.

Q. I want to get my return in as soon as possible so I can get my refund. Do I have to wait until my boss gives me my W-2? I have my own record of wages and tax withheld.

A. A copy of your W-2 form must be attached to your tax return. Many taxpayers had their refunds delayed last year because they forgot to do this.

The law requires employers to issue W-2 statements to their employees by Jan. 31. Many issue them sooner so you should have your W-2 form shortly.

Q. I don't think my medical expenses were more than 3 percent of my income in 1968. Does that mean I can't deduct my Blue Cross payments?

A. One-half of your medical insurance premiums up to a maximum of $150 may be deducted even though your total medical expenses do not exceed 3 percent of your income. Therefore, you may deduct part of your Blue Cross premium if you itemize.

Information to help you figure out your medical expense deduction is given on page 7 of the 1040 instructions. Mistakes in handling medical insurance premiums occurred frequently on tax returns last year. To avoid mistakes, read the instructions carefully.

Q. Last year I bought a bull at an auction. If I keep it for breeding purposes do I use its cost to figure depreciation?

A. Yes, generally the basis for depreciation of purchased livestock held for draft, dairy or breeding purposes is cost. However, special rules apply if purchased stock are included in inventory.

Navy to Cachet Apollo 9 Covers

NORFOLK, Va. — Manned Spacecraft Recovery Forces of the U.S. Navy will provide collectors with "Recovery Day" cachet and cancellation services for the upcoming Apollo 9 manned space flight.

Philatelic coordinators designated for Atlantic and Pacific Fleet Recovery Forces (Task Forces 140 and 130) will receive all such envelopes and make distribution to assigned ships.

To permit adequate time for required handling of covers, collectors should mail pre-stamped, self-addressed envelopes to reach the appropriate coordinator prior to Feb. 13. Covers received after this deadline will be cancelled at Norfolk or San Francisco.

Due to popularity of this service and postal facility limitations on recovery ships, the coordinator for Task Force 140 will accept only six envelopes while Task Force 130 will accept eight covers from each individual collector.

Quail Splits Double Header With Hedley

Two free shots that connected with the hoop as the game ended gave Hedley boys a victory over the Quail Quails 42 to 40 Tuesday, Jan. 14 in a game played at Hedley.

That same evening, without trouble, the Quail Bobwhites defeated the Hedley girls 41 to 25.

None of the players in the boys game was having a good night, and the Quails were able to make only 23 percent of their shots from the field and 33 percent from the free throw line—an unusually low percentage for that team.

The game was tied 40-40 when a Hedley player was fouled and made the two free shots.

Benny Carson led Quail scoring with 15 points, while Leon Ward had 18 for Hedley.

Quail	9	16	25	40
Hedley	10	22	34	42

The Bobwhites took a lead early in the game and maintained it throughout.

With 17 points each, Jan Gosnell and Joyce Johnson led the scoring for Quail. Jane Floyd had 10 for Hedley's high.

CARD OF THANKS

OUR BUDDY

By Mrs. Ross Swift

(A Tribute to Claude McKinney)
He came to Dodson, when just a young man;

He came with his family, without much of a plan.
He soon had a little fight, not aiming to get out of line,
But they gave him his choice,
To join the cops or pay a fine.
Money was so scarce that a job looked like more fun,
So he put on a gun and moved to Wellington.

He made the county Sheriff and his knowledge grew ripe,
And for many years it looked like he was in for life.
There were many that he arrested,
For with bootleggers the county was really infested.

He even met up with Clyde Barrow when Clyde was about 16.
That was long before Clyde and Bonnie formed a little team.
Yes, he made some enemies, but many were his friends.
As he carried on his work, we learned our lives he would defend.

He now holds the office of Justice of the Peace;
It just looks like his gun carrying jobs never cease.
Now he's my dear old Uncle, and love him I really do,
But there's a hundred or two (nieces and nephews) that also love him too.

Even Bea and Governor wouldn't trade him for a penny.
I guess you know who he is now—Our Buddy—Claude McKinney.

—His Nieces and Nephews.

Jaycees Contribute New Civic Responsibility to Community

Wellington Jaycees will join others from over the Panhandle this week end at the annual winter convention in Dumas.

We owe our members our thanks for the fine work they are doing in the community. One of the major purposes of their organization is to train young men in civic responsibility. They become aware of problems of their area, as well as of its potentiality. They have the opportunity to bring in new ideas.

Young men who became Jaycees in Wellington no more than a year and a half ago are assuming some of the community's more responsible places. Certainly they are needed.

At Dumas they will meet with other Jaycees who are also doing important work in their towns, and from this will come the spark of energy for more and possibly new work here.

Combating Lack of Exercise

An Oklahoma school teacher, is waging a one-woman war to combat the lack of exercise, thus the lack of muscular development, in many of today's youth.

Her weapon is an ancient one — yoga. Her battleground is her kindergarten class at an elementary school.

She employs a series of exercises — some as calm as lying on the floor in silence for two minutes to rest and breathe slowly. Others are more active, including hand stands, tumbling, and standing on heads in the corner.

While Mrs. McClelland is aiming her campaign at the young children, there are many of us who could very well utilize her exercises.

Buried in Trash

As if there were not enough things in this old world to worry about, the problem of trash and air pollution keeps coming to the fore.

It appears that every few months, someone should ring the alarm bell concerning mankind's disposal of its waste materials, garbage and pollutants. Here is a problem not close to solution, yet new methods of waste disposal must be discovered or mankind stands in danger of being buried with its own garbage and wastes.

Trash disposal has come a long way since the early days when residents of a town merely hauled their trash to the edge of town and burned it. Perryton had a system like that for years, and a generation of people here grew up used to the sight of clouds of smoke coming from the dump ground at the southeast edge of town where trash was being burned.

Several years ago Perryton stopped burning trash and went to the sanitary fill method of disposal. This has resulted in transforming the dump ground site into a beautiful park area, one which will eventually be part of a city golf course instead of a lake fed by sewage and surrounded by rotting debris.

Over the country, trash disposal problems are mounting. The U. S. produces 1,500 pounds of air pollutants per person per year, much of it from burning trash. Philadelphia plans to quit burning and start burying trash in abandoned coal mines. Other cities are working on plans to get rid of trash and garbage, while still other cities keep pouring sewage and trash into rivers and lakes.

Unless something is done, this country is going to be knee-deep in waste matter. It's a problem that urgently needs a solution.

AUSTIN.—Sponsors of unsuccessful 1968 efforts to legalize liquor by the drink in Texas will take another tack this season. Sen. Joe Christie of El Paso and Rep. Cleatus Davis of Houston will propose that a constitutional amendment on the question of open bars be submitted to Texas voters.

And since Gov. Preston Smith endorsed the constitutional amendment approach in his campaign platform and the State Democratic Party platform, he is expected to support the Christie-Davis plan.

Senator Christie feels that a "sure-enough" mixed-drink bill would have a better chance of passage by the Legislature than Gov. John Connally's "mini-bottle" bill had last summer, if it would take effect only on statewide voter approval. But he and Representative Davis are bound to hear argument that while a referendum on the subject won over a majority of voters in the 1968 primary election, the majority came from big-city residents, and less counties went for the proposition than against.

Tax Policy Recommended

Texas Committee on State and Local Tax Policy, headed by House Tax and Revenue Committee Chairman Ben Atwell of Dallas, came out with some suggestions for providing the $343 million or so the state will need in new revenue over the next two years, but said it would not make formal recommendations.

Possible sources listed include personal and corporate income taxes, increasing the 3% state sales tax, and removing tax exemption on food and taxing certain services.

Committee estimated that a modest personal-income tax (such as Oklahoma's) alone would reap some $370 million a year.

Appointments

Governor Connally—as much as four years behind on some appointments—did his best to catch up as the twelfth hour of his term in office came and went by making 39 last-minute appointments.

Job Education Plans

Senate Committee on Vocational-Technical Education has proposed a broad program for expanding vocational and technical education in Texas.

Nine key recommendations of the Committee, which conducted a series of public hearings include: Updating and expansion of

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where the peabrain cult of "tell it like it is" and draw it worse, has finally killed the aged Saturday Evening Post magazine.

Four or five decades back into the olden days this journal appealed to folks who already knew how it was without having to be told, and who liked to read about people rising above their problems instead of wallowing in them.

But the tell-it-like-it-is boys took over the Old Post, and forgot one "is": that magazines live on advertising revenue. And advertisers apparently got afraid that folks reading the New Post would think goods advertised in it might be as inspireless as it was.

public school programs together with technical and technological education and pre-vocational instruction; placing the administration under a Deputy Commissioner for Occupational Education and Technology under Board of Education; creation of an advisory council of 21 on vocational education; continuation of James Connally Technical Institute near Waco and creation of several other similar institutions; adequate funding for school and junior college job programs; counselor training a cooperative secondary junior college program; licensing and regulation of private trade schools and continuation of the senate study committee.

Special Election Talk

After the Legislature began recovering from the shock of the death of Rep. Dave C. Howard of Uvalde, speculation started about possible candidates for his 49th District place in the House.

Representative Howard died in Austin of a heart attack after the first day of his second session in the Legislature. Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes said, "I knew him as a dedicated public servant, fine gentleman and friend who will be missed in legislative halls." Gov. Connally called him "a man of high honor and integrity."

Talk was strong in Austin that Dolph Briscoe of Uvalde, prominent rancher who ran unsuccessfully last year for governor and a former member of the House, will file as a candidate for Howard's vacant place when Gov. Preston Smith orders a special election. But

Briscoe would not make an official comment.

Texas Water Plan

House Water Study Committee headed by Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake will ask the rest of the Legislature to submit a $3.5 billion bond issue to Texas voters, to help finance the Texas Water Development Board's $10-billion Texas Water Plan.

Committee will make a generalized endorsement of the statewide water plan and has asked the private, non-profit Texas Research League to make a study of some sort of special tax which could be levied and dedicated to paying interest and principal on Water Development Board bonds while they are waiting for water uses to develop and help pay off the loans.

Vending Curbs Eyed

Amusement vending machine operators should be licensed and prohibited from lending money to tavern keepers, a House Investigating Committee maintains.

Committee urged tough curbs on vending machine firms and taverns. Applicants for beer licenses would be screened to cut out those who have been convicted by felonies and certain types of misdemeanors in the last five years. Vending machine concerns could hold no interest in taverns or lease premises to them.

Short Snorts

Comptroller Robert S. Calvert estimates that lawmakers will have more than $1.2-billion in general revenue to spend on operations for the next two years.

Texas ranks 46th nationally in the average amount of aid to families with dependent children, 35th in aid to the blind, 32nd in old-age assistance and 44th in aid to the partially and totally disabled, according to the State Department of Public Welfare.

Texas Legislative Council has proposed legislation to require training of all police officers, with a state requirement that all officers earn a state certificate.

chair, which the 31 senators bought for him through a collection.

Texas Supreme Court refused to reconsider its decision that the state's appeal for a hearing in a Midland Sunday closing law case was filed too late. Constitutionality of the law will be tested in a similar San Antonio case.

Third Court of Civil Appeals ruled that sales by an El Paso firm to a Mexican buyer are not exempt from state sales tax.

A uniform statewide system of voting by machine—with the state renting them to counties which don't have their own—and appointment of chief county election officers to supervise registration and voting procedures has been recommended by the Election Code Study Committee.

Gives Approvals

The County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee approved a large number of applications for ACP practices under both the regular and emergency programs in the meeting Friday, Jan. 17, according to Millard Brown, office manager.

Transfer of cotton allotments between farms was approved. Approximately 125 transfers involved about 225 farms, including both the farms the allotments were transferred from and those receiving them.

Mr. Brown said approximately 100 cotton allotment leases were completed this year and 116 acres of cotton allotment were sold outright.

School Men Hear of Teaching by Phone

Wellington students may sit in their classrooms and receive instruction from teachers in their own rooms at Clarendon or Memphis in the not too distant future, under a program already available.

Administrators and school board members from those three schools met with officers of General Telephone Company in Memphis Tuesday, Jan. 14, to see a demonstration of the methods in use. Supt. J. L. Harper, High School Principal E. W. Clement and board member David Baumgardner represented Wellington.

Blackboard by wire, tele-lectures and school to home instruction were discussed and demonstrated by Carl Yancey, marketing services administrator for General Telephone Company, San Angelo.

Tele-lecture uses regular telephone circuits and permits one or more classes in as many towns to be in direct audio contact with a teacher or lecturer. Two-way communication is established and sensitive microphones permit students to ask question or discuss subjects in detail, according to Sherron Lee, division manager for General Telephone at Memphis.

Blackboard by wire enables the teacher or lecturer to write on a device at his desk and have his writings shown on a television screen in the classrooms of the various schools participating in the program. He can make handwritten notes, work a math problem, show construction details or other graphic aids. As he writes, it will be reproduced on a screen before the students. His voice will be transmitted at the same time.

Texas A&M University has a tele-lecture program, CATE, originating from its educational center and serving 17 schools up to 72 miles from College Station.

During the Tuesday meeting at Memphis, the school men discussed the project with Dr. Tom Moffett, director of the A&M project, in his office at College Station. He used a conventional telephone to explain in some detail the accomplishments and problems of the program. The group at Memphis used a tele-lecture.

Mr. Harper reported the discussion was completely successful.

He also cited advantages to schools such as the three in this discussion. All could receive instruction in subjects for which only one might have a teacher.

General Telephone Company personnel joining Mr. Lee and Mr. Yancey were C. G. Grizzle, area sales manager, of Brownfield, and John Milstead, communications consultant, of Memphis.

This is the second meeting of the school men with General Telephone officials. The Wellington School Board has not taken up the installation of the system here, Mr. Harper said.

Rockets Take Crucial Contest from Quanah

Wellington Skyrockets returned to conference play to defeat the Quanah Indians 59 to 57 in an important contest at Rocket Gym Friday night, Jan. 17.

This followed a non-conference win over Altus 74 to 68 Tuesday, Jan. 14. The same night, Wellington girls defeated the Altus girls team 37 to 29.

Neither the Rockets nor the Indians played especially good basketball, the pressure of this meeting having caused both teams to tense up some.

Wellington boys trailed by 5 points with a minute and 40 seconds of play left. Quanah called time out to begin its stall game, then was caught with a traveling violation that gave Wellington the ball.

With the pressure on, Chuck Wilbur scored to cut the Indians' lead to 3. Then Quanah's Ronny Page was caught traveling again. Glen Barber scored on this, then intercepted a pass and scored to put the Rockets one point in the lead.

Quanah had to turn the ball over one more time without getting a shot, then fouled Glen Barber and he made one free throw on a one and one situation. The Indians came down-court to score and tie the game. As Wellington worked for a shot, Larry Robinson was fouled and made both free shots. Quanah failed on three shots at the basket before Wellington got the rebound as the game ended.

Lester Robinson led Wellington's scoring with 17 points and the other starters, Barber, Tony Hurst, Wilbur and Lester Robinson, had 10 each. Page scored 19 for Quanah.

Junior Varsity

Wellington boys junior varsity took a 60-44 victory over the Quanah junior varsity after jumping to a 15-point lead in the first quarter.

This hustling aggregation was getting its shots all over the place—inside, outside and at the free throw line.

"Our free shot percentage was a lot better than it has been. We didn't give up 5 points all night," said Coach Jimmy Forrester.

Every boy on the team got to play and all but two of the 15 scored.

High pointer was Bobby Saied with 13 and Sam Dyess had 11. Hamby scored 18 for Quanah.

Wellington-Altus

Skyrocket strong defense was a telling factor in Wellington's 74-68 victory over the Altus, Okla., team, as both were hitting a good percent of their shots from the field as well as from the free-throw line.

Wellington's high pointer was Glen Barber with 19, while Lester Robinson scored 13, Tony Hurst 12, Chuck Wilbur 11 and Larry Robinson 10. These were Coach James Stavenhagen's starters. Gary Jackson led Altus' scoring with 23 points and Collingsworth County residents are reminded they have only until Jan. 31 to register for voting in elections during 1969, Mrs. Rita Owens, tax assessor-collector has reminded.

At the same time, she urged that they not wait until the last minute to obtain registration certificates.

All persons over 60 years old must register this year, along with those in other age brackets, if they wish to qualify to vote in all elections.

Applications must be made at the tax office.

There is no fee for registering in order to obtain a certificate to vote since the poll tax was abolished.

Bill Davis had 17.

Altus	11	28	45	68

"The girls were playing against a good ball club and did a real fine job," said Coach Stavenhagen. "I feel our defense was especially strong during this game."

Wellington girls scored 18 points in the first quarter and 19 for the remaining three periods. Altus' strong forwards did not have sufficient height, and Rockette guards were quick to cut off their offense.

Betsy Trapp led Wellington scoring with 15 points and Mary Lou Holton had 14. High pointer for Altus was Sharon Cliff with 17.

Funds Sought to Train Low Income Workers

The Collingsworth County Community Action Committee met Thursday night, Jan. 16, to approve a request for federal funds to teach skills to individuals in the low income bracket.

The request was presented Monday to Argus A. Burnett, director of the Potter-Randall County Community Action Corp. which administers the program here, by Mrs. James Masten, county co-ordinator.

County Judge Zook Thomas said that the classes, taught by local instructors, might enable some individuals to get better jobs, while others could learn enough to help their own situation.

The amount of money to set up this program was not designated, but would be worked out if the request is approved.

Judge Thomas outlined the classes that the community action committee is seeking:

—A sewing class would teach women to make children's garments from used clothes, to make over and alter clothes for themselves as well as sew from new material.

—A typing class would enable its students to be better qualified for job opportunities.

—Skill training would be directed at men wage earners. Those wanting to work as farm hands would be taught the care of farm equipment, especially tractors. There would be training in small machinery such as lawn mowers.

—Training in basic plumbing, painting, and electrical work is proposed. Some of those in the course might be able to become helpers in those trades, others would learn to do their own work in these fields.

—Neighborhood improvement would show families how to improve and make more attractive their own premises.

Present for the meeting on Thursday were County Commissioners W. R. Breeding, Pat O'Hair and Melvin Seale, Judge Thomas, Mrs. Masten, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Franks, Mrs. W. R. Breeding, Ralph Owens, J. M. Romo, Mr. Guajardo, Howard Powell, J. W. Thomas, and the Rev. James Jackson.

MORE COINAGE OPERATIONS

Last week I described the first steps in the minting of coins. After the blanks have been approved, they are put through an edge-rolling machine which gives the rims only a slight thickness.

This higher rim not only protects the face of the finished coin but permits precision stacking.

With the blanks edged, they are then ready to be fed into the presses. Under many tons of pressure, the upper die is brought down, impressing the blank, while the under die makes its impression and the collar forms the edge corrugations.

As coins come from the presses, they pass along an endless belt where trained inspectors check them for defaults.

Social Security Must Have Report on Earnings Over $1680

If you were entitled to any social security benefits in 1968 but had earnings of over $1680 or if you had reported that you would have such earnings, you are required to complete a special report between Jan. 1 and April 15, 1969.

This report is separate from your income tax return.

Beneficiaries who notified social security that their 1968 earnings would exceed $1680 should receive their annual earnings report forms in the mail. However, if the form is not received by mid-March, they should request one from the Amarillo social security office.

If you go to the office for assistance, or visit with the representative who services the town where you live, be sure to bring your 1968 income tax return and any W-2 forms showing wages you earned in 1968. Also, bring your records showing what months you earned less than $140 if you worked for wages, and the months you did not work, or worked very little, if you were self employed as payment may be made for these months of little or no work.

Beneficiaries who were 72 or over in all months of 1968 do not have to file the annual report as their earnings will not cause loss of benefits regardless of amount.

Junior Varsity Downs Shamrock Girls Lose

After a hard-fought three and a half quarters, Wellington's junior varsity boys pulled ahead to take a 58 to 41 victory over the Shamrock junior varsity on the Irish court Thursday, Jan. 16.

Although they played hard, Wellington B team girls lost to the Shamrock girls 36 to 23.

High pointer for the Wellington boys was Sam Dyess with 22, while David Moore scored 11. Shamrock's leading scorer was Allison with 9.

Shamrock	10	18	32	41

Wellington girls trailed the entire game.

"They were suffering from that old No. 1 problem, they couldn't get the ball in the basket," said Coach Jimmy Forrester.

"I think we stole the ball as much as Shamrock and handled it as much, but that doesn't count unless you get it through the hoop."

Mary Lou Davis led Wellington's scoring with 18 points. Crossland was high for Shamrock with 10.

Collingsworth County FARM NEWS

By Don Reeves
County Agricultural Agent

The first annual Southwestern Animal Health Conference for livestock men will be held Feb. 28 and March 1 at the convention center in San Antonio.

This conference sponsored by the College of Veterinary Medicine, Texas A&M University, and the Texas Veterinary Medical Association, will have producers and veterinarians gathering in common sessions to discuss the problems of disease control as they affect all segments of the livestock industry.

Anyone interested in attending this conference can contact the county agent's office for further information.

The major pruning on shade trees should be done during the winter months, while the trees are dormant. Before pruning any tree, make sure that you have a justifiable reason for performing the operation. Think through what you are trying to accomplish by pruning and take the necessary steps to carry out your objectives.

The first and foremost purpose of pruning is to maintain a strong framework for the future development of the tree. Other reasons are to reduce the size or to keep them within specific bounds.

To remove dead, diseased, or weak growth as well as broken limbs and rubbing branches. Another reason is to improve the size and quality of the flowers and fruit. The final reason is to balance the top growth with the root system at transplanting time.

Unless pruning can be justified for one of these reasons it is better to place the shears and saw in the shed and obtain the desired exercise by spading a flowerbed.

Some of the general principles that will apply when pruning shade trees include the removal of all dead or diseased wood, broken limbs, and weak growth. Shorten or remove entirely long unsightly branches as they offer too much resistance to the wind and are frequently subject to storm damage.

Never stub back limbs or branches. Rather, cut back to a main branch or trunk so that there will be no stubs remaining. The so-called "stubbing back" or topping large branches will result in a proliferation of sucker growth and leave a wound that is impossible to heal.

To protect pruning cuts and prevent the entry of disease and insect organisms, all cuts over one inch in diameter should be painted with a special tree paint obtainable at all garden stores or nursery sales yards. For temporary treatment of a wound, a coat of shellac will give four to six weeks of protection.

The homeowner can frequently handle the pruning operation himself if the work can be reached from a ladder. If your trees are quite large or need extensive work, it is best to hire a professional tree surgeon. He will have the necessary tools and training to do the job correctly and safely.

If there is evidence of disease in the tree or shrub being pruned, it is important that after each cut the pruning equipment be dipped in a disinfectant to kill the disease organisms to prevent their spread to other portions of the tree or even to other trees. A 10% household bleach solution makes a very satisfactory disinfectant. This can be prepared by mixing one part of bleach to nine parts of water. Dip the pruning equipment after each cut is made.

the area where you work
a better source of bacon

When more "bacon" circulates around in our vicinity, each one of us gets more of it. And we can help substantially to keep increasing amounts of it within our reach...by doing most of our personal business where we live.

We might remember, too, that "bacon" comes in many different forms... as better jobs, better business, better service, higher property values, stronger churches and schools, better fire and police protection, and more neighbors able to help us carry the load of local community expenses.

Quail News

By Mrs. G. T. Stephens

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

President Nixon's inaugural speech was accepted with calm approval by people here with whom I talked; but they saw no reason for any big changes in the immediate future. There are the commitments made by previous administrations. Then there is the fact that Congress is practically the same body it has been for the last eight years, and both of these are important. But the big block in front of any change is the entrenched bureaucracy of the U.S. government. Talk about the establishment. This is "the establishment" that protects its future and its organizations even after the reason that brought them into being has ceased to exist. Bureaucracy is the immovable object.

There was hope, however, that the Nixon leadership will bring about a gradual improvement in law and order and more appreciation of real values and a more intensified effort to achieve them. Nixon challenged a nation "rich in goods but poor in spirit" to work together for peace at home and abroad.

A wire story in the dailies says that the inauguration of Gov. Preston Smith was the culmination of a boyhood dream that began when he was eight. That seems to be an unfortunate use of the word. Governor Smith's dream will be culminated when he has finished two terms as an honest, public spirited, effective governor.

While driving south on Highway 83 a few miles north of Aspermont last week, Louise and I saw a large bobcat crossing the road ahead of us in a walk. The animal must have been accustomed to cars for he did not break into a run and was only a few yards up the hill as we whizzed by. He simply turned his head and looked at us. In case Oran Starkey, Otto Russell or any of these other cat callers and bow and arrow men are interested, the place the bobcat crossed is one mile north of the Salt Fork of the Brazos River.

Speaking of driving, you can see some beautiful green wheat and pretty cattle in Collingsworth County these January days. This is particularly true of the Kelley, Dodson, Arlie, Loco country. People miss beauty they should see by not driving around just to be looking. Paul Guthrie was enthusiastic about the beautiful mists and sights he observed on Buck Creek the other morning. He says paintings of these native beauty scenes are the ones that would sell.

Do you have dreams and even nightmares? Don't worry about it, you are normal. According to the scientists every person who gets sufficient sleep has from four to seven periods every night that are known as Rapid Eye Movement. When awakened during one of these periods the sleeper tells of all kinds of dreams from the horrible to the most pleasant. If allowed to sleep through this interval of time they remembered nothing when they awoke.

People who remember dreams are those who wake up at least partially during one of these dream periods. You can be awakened by many things — dogs fighting, roosters crowing, cattle lowing, an arm asleep, an empty stomach or your bedmate pulling off the covers. So if you dream of being in a stampede, falling off a mountain, a pretty woman giving you the eye or sitting down to a banquet of which baked turkey, roast beef, baked ham and baked salmon are only the entrees, think nothing of it. You simply remembered a tiny part of what goes on in your subconscious mind at least four times every night.

I can make a plausible guess as to why a person would dream of a sumptuous banquet or a pretty woman. What I would like to know is why I dream of driving a jalopy over the old dirt road to Memphis and suddenly coming on top of a rough hill from which there is no possible descent—except to wake.

Why do some people talk in their sleep and remember nothing of it, while others remember their dreams and never talk?

Quail Hosts Norwood Teams Tuesday Night

County basketball fever runs highest when Quail and Samnorwood teams meet.

The Quail Quails and Bobwhites will host the Samnorwood Eagles and Eaglettes on Tuesday, Jan. 28, for the second time in conference play this season.

The first meeting, just after Christmas, was about as even as traditional rivals can make it: Quail boys won 84 to 55 and Norwood girls were victors 53 to 36.

Neither Quail Coach Bill Wilson nor Norwood Coach Ken-

Miss, Mr. Quail Named Monday at Box Supper

Pamela Langley and Benny Carson were chosen Miss Quail High School and Mr. Quail High School in the annual elections and pie and box supper Monday evening, Jan. 20.

Miss Langley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Langley, while Carson's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Carson.

Selected as Miss and Mr. Quail Grade School were Sandra Sullivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sullivan, and Terry Canada, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Canada.

Boxes, some of the most colorful that have been sold in recent years, were auctioned, along with pies and cakes.

Total funds raised from this event were $628.85, Supt. E. P. Haynie announced at the end of the program.

A fun part of the event was the pie eating contest, with Johnny Needham winning the junior section and Julian Torrez the high school division. The pie eating contest among men of the faculty was judged a draw.

Serving as auctioneers were Raymond Horton, John Coffee and Don VanPelt of Wellington.

This entertainment is sponsored each year by the junior class, which uses part of the proceeds to finance the junior-senior banquet. The remainder is used to finance other school activities.

Junior Varsity, Girls B Team, Go to Paducah

The Wellington Junior Varsity boys and Girls B Teams will play Paducah there Thursday, Jan. 23, Coach Jimmy Forrester has announced.

This will be the first meeting for the two schools. A game scheduled during the Christmas holidays was cancelled by mutual agreement due to flu.

"We don't know what they have, but they always give us a tough game, especially when we play there," Coach Forrester said.

The Junior Varsity and Girls B Team will not play again until Feb. 6, when they participate in the Shamrock B Team Invitational Tournament.

Modernize Motor Vehicle Records

AUSTIN.—Inmates of the Texas Department of Corrections at Huntsville this month are expected to complete the first phase of a sweeping modernization of Texas motor vehicle records.

The Corrections unit was "hired" by the Texas Highway Department to help with the computerization of millions of vehicle records. Inmates are learning new skills and the taxpayers are netting substantial savings in the course of the work.

Involved in the project are the matching of approximately 6.5 million 1968 vehicle registration records with current certificates of title, and converting the combined records by a typing operation into a format suitable for electronic input to computer storage.

Conversion to data processing will increase the efficiency of vehicle registration. By late 1969, owners of more than seven million vehicles in Texas will receive computer-printed registration renewal forms. One copy of the form will be validated by the local county tax assessor-collector and returned to the Highway Department's Motor Vehicle Division. This copy will then be placed in a document scanner that "reads" the information and automatically updates registration data in computer storage. Another copy will serve as a receipt for the vehicle owner, and a third will be filed in the county tax office.

New Semester Starts at Quail

Quail students began their second semester's work Monday, Jan. 13, Supt. E. P. Haynie said this week. The school's present enrollment is 115, up considerably from the beginning of the first semester.

neth Martindale will say much about the game except that the other has some good teams.

As far as District 4-B standing is concerned, Samnorwood girls are second at this point and Quail girls are third. Quail boys rank second and Norwood boys third.

Prior to this game, however, Quail boys and girls will travel to Lakeview Friday, Jan. 24 to begin the last half of district round robin play.

Lakeview girls rank first in District 4-B and the two teams have played once previously when Lakeview won.

Lakeview boys rank fourth in the district, nevertheless, they shoot the ball well and could spell trouble for any of the other teams. The two have met twice, once in conference play and again at the Samnorwood tournament. Quail won both games.

In district games played Friday, Jan. 17, Samnorwood boys edged by Lakeview 69 to 67 and Samnorwood girls lost by one point, 50 to 49.

Hedley girls defeated Dodson 51 to 33 and Hedley boys won 75 to 48. Quail had an open night.

Tax Meeting

The commissioners' court has had under consideration hiring an attorney to collect delinquent taxes, and the matter was deferred until the next court could act.

The county will act along with other taxing agencies, and a meeting date was set.

Highway Designation

A group representing the McLean Lions Club met with the commissioners' court in regard to a request for the designation of a state highway which would follow the route of Farm to Market Roads through the county.

Judge Thomas said the group explained that the road would enter Collingsworth County near the northwest corner, follow a farm-to-market road that is designated but not built to connect with FM 1036 and FM 1056 at Abra. It would follow FM roads southeast to Wellington, then along FM 338 to Dodson and south to the county line.

County Park

Earlier in the winter, the State Parks and Wildlife Department was asked if it could furnish someone to landscape the county park.

Judge Thomas said that he had been notified that the state P&WD does not have landscape architects, and the county was referred to the Extension Service, which does have personnel for this type of work.

In medieval times the age of consent for a girl was 12.
