County tax assessments take hit for 2nd year

Mitchell County Tax Assessor/Collector Sylvia Clanton attended Commissioners' Court Monday morning to bring the court some not-so-good news. The county's tax valuations are down approximately $44.7 million and valuations on the road fund are down by about $44.9 million.

The appraised taxable values will be used by commissioners to develop a budget for 2015. Values were down $24 million last year, and this year's decrease amounts to values dropping by about $68 million in the last two years.

Clanton said that valuations are down due to decreased oil and gas exploration taking place on January 1, 2014. A large percentage of the county's tax base consists of mineral production, so decreased production equals lower tax values.

The production rate and price per barrel is based on statistics reported on January 1, 2014. Wells drilled on January 2nd or later will be part of next year's valuations, but anything reported after January 1st of this year will not go into the tax base until the year after.

County employees will see a 5% increase in the cost of their health insurance, as of October 1, 2014. An agreement to renew health insurance with Blue Cross/Blue Shield has been approved, and the county will pay a big part of the expense for employees.

Mitchell County pays $748.96 per month toward insurance for individual employees, $836.27 for employees with a child, $936.27 for employees plus children, and $1,132 for county employees plus family policies.

Commissioners agreed to the transfer of funds to an additional Certificate of Deposit at First National Bank. County Judge Ray Mayo said that the CD for $1

CHANGES AHEAD - Citizens, like Royce Angel seen here, will be seeing a change in hours of operation at the United States Post Office in Loraine. The office will be open for four hours, instead of six and a half, in the near future.

Hours to change at Loraine Post Office

Loraine citizens met last Thursday to discuss some changes that will be taking place regarding the hours of operations at the local office. The community meeting was held Thursday, July 24th at 4 p.m. in the Baptist Church located at 503 Lightfoot Drive.

The proposed retail hour change will see the post office in operation for four hours each weekday, compared to the six and a half it's been open in the past.

A survey was sent to citizens in Loraine, and of the 242 surveys mailed, 99 of them were filled out and returned. According to statistics made available by the USPS, 94 of the 99 surveys returned show that customers are in favor of realigning the hours of service.

Other options included a change in delivery, which would have the local office closed and provide roadside mailbox delivery. A village post office option would provide office services at a suitable alternative location, like a business, and a nearby post office option would mean that the office would be closed and patrons would have to use an office in a nearby town.

Lorainians were definitely in favor of keeping the local office open, with a reduction in hours. After receiving the results of the survey, the Postal Service exam-

Special election called to fill Duncan's seat

A special election has been set for September 9th by Texas Governor Rick Perry to fill the seat left vacant in the Texas Senate when Robert Duncan resigned to become chancellor of Texas Tech University. Duncan represented the 28th District, which includes Mitchell County.

At least five candidates have announced their intentions to run for the office.

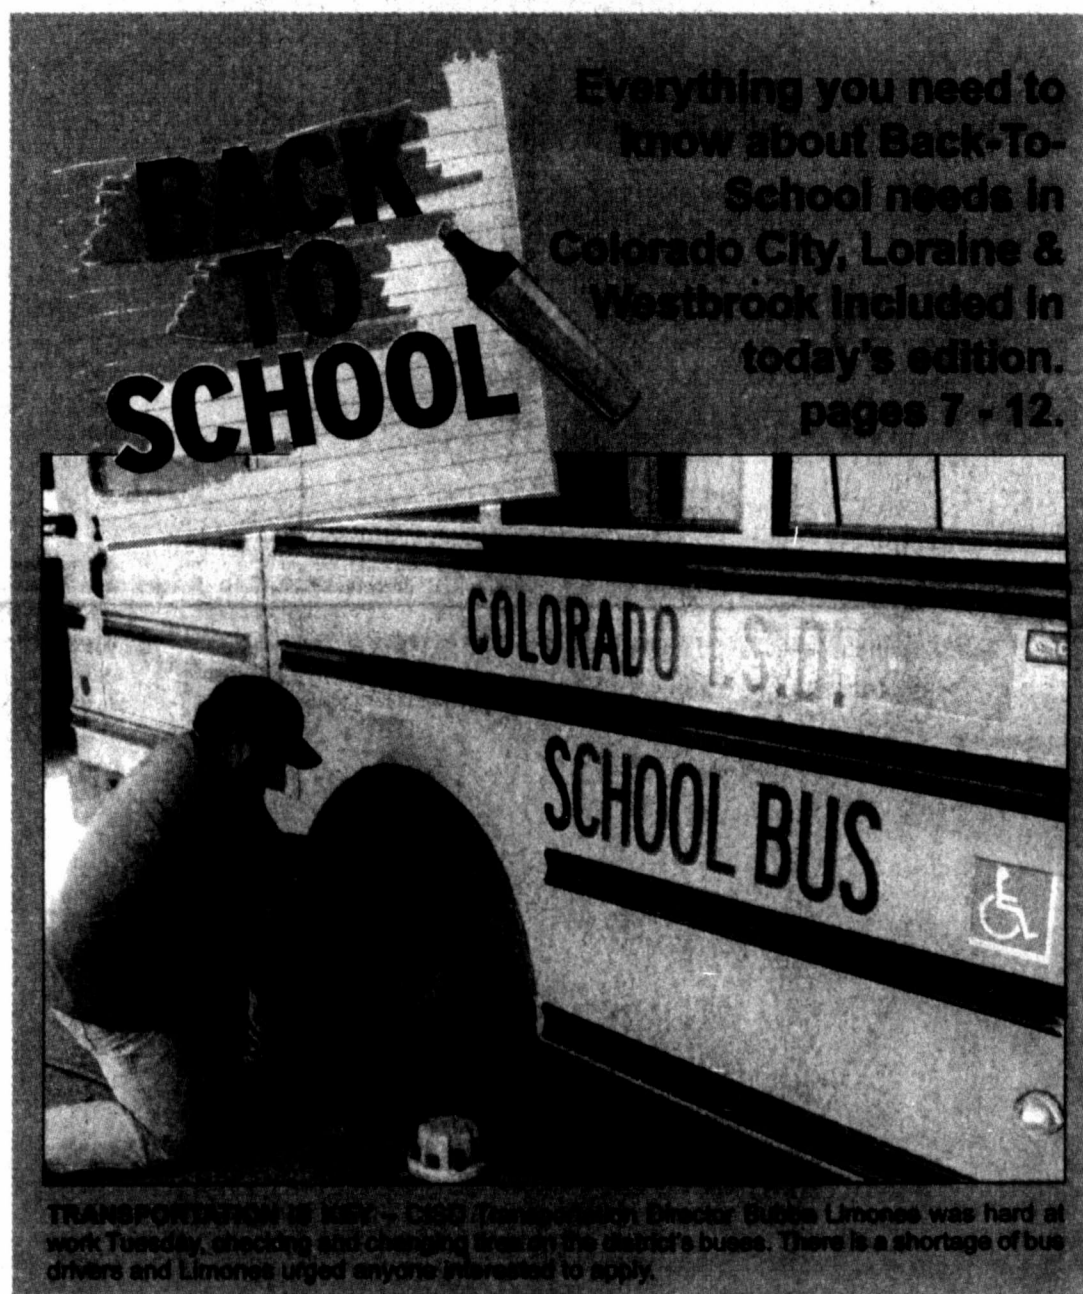

Greg Wortham, former mayor of Sweetwater, resigned from his post to throw his hat in the ring as a Republican candidate for the open seat.

Texas Representative of District 83 Charles Perry made his formal announcement to run for the seat on Tuesday. Perry has said he will withdraw from the ballot for re-election to his current position.

Since Perry was running unopposed, his withdrawal leaves no one running for District 83 House of Representatives, something that has never happened

Merrell continues education legacy while moving to HS

The name of Mark Merrell is synonymous with education in Colorado City and rightly so. Merrell has dedicated the better part of his life to educating local youth and founded many programs to teach students about things that cannot be found in books.

Merrell grew up in Hastings, Nebraska. With a Methodist pastor for a father, he moved around a lot and likes to say his hometown was southwest Texas. During his childhood, he lived in Garden City, Happy, Jayton, Throckmorton, and Merkel to name a few places.

"Every place we lived, there was something good," Merrell said.

After graduating from Abilene High School in 1976, Merrell went on to graduate from Tarleton State University in 1979.

Mark Merrell

He moved to Colorado City in 1980 to coach and teach Texas History at Colorado Middle School not knowing that CMS would become a home, of sorts, to him. He had the opportunity to work with such greats as Doyle Lowrance and Jerry Reynolds.

As his career progressed, Merrell took on the added duties of assistant principal and started the In-School Suspension program to address disciplinary issues at the school. Around that same time, he was named the Wallace Coordinator, organizing adult education.

In that capacity, he had the opportunity to work with the senior citizens group there as well. Merrell remembers that time fondly. "It was fun," he said.

Since that time, Merrell has worn many hats within Colorado City. Most notably, he worked for many years as CMS Principal, a position where he

CISD incorporates AVID curriculum in MS and HS

FIRM FOUNDATION – The foundation of the competition gymnasium and fine arts building was poured last week at the site of the new CISD campus. Workers began pouring concrete at 3 a.m. and continued into the next day to complete the job. Photo courtesy of Reggy Spencer.

Several teachers in the Colorado ISD school system are preparing to use new curriculum called AVID to get students ready for the career and college readiness that is required by House Bill 5. Andra Maxwell will be working with 8th graders, and Melissa Lara and Marina Wilcox will start the program with freshmen. The three CISD faculty members traveled to San Antonio this summer to work with a site team for training in the curriculum. HB5 is a law requiring Texas high schools to offer classes that will prepare students to go on to college or provide training for a career after graduation. AVID's mission is to close the achievement gap by preparing all students for success. Colorado High School Principal Mark Merrell said that approximately 48% of people with a college degree work in a field not related to the degree. AVID will help students identify their interests in order to take the classes they need to pursue those paths.

According to the AVID manual, in 1980, Mary Catherine Swanson, then English Department chair at San Diego's Clairemont High School, developed AVID to address the significant needs that she observed at her school. Court ordered integration in 1980 transformed the student body of Clairemont, which had served an affluent, homogeneous population. Busing brought to the school hundreds of disadvantaged students who had no experience in the traditional college preparatory programs that were Clairemont's strength. Ms. Swanson devised AVID to help these students succeed in a rigorous program and prepare for college.

AVID meets the needs of students by providing academic instruction and other support to students to prepare them for eligibility in four-year colleges and universities. It also gives students college-level entry skills and increases their coping skills. The curriculum motivates students to seek college educations, and increases each student's level of career awareness. According to the AVID fact sheet, 93% of seniors completed college entrance requirements after using AVID, compared to 36% without the program. Merrell said that eventually, all teachers will train to use the new curriculum, as the program's basics can be used in all classes. Not only does the curriculum prepare seniors for college entrance, it has shown to reduce the amount of students dropping out of college as well.

K9 Viper is in need of specialized equipment

GEAR FOR VIPER – K9 Viper, a Belgian Malinois, is the partner of CCPD Officer Nick Holbrook. Viper needs a ballistic/stab vest and other training supplies, so funds are being raised to purchase the gear. Donations can be made at gofundme.com. Photo courtesy of Holbrook.

Colorado City Police Officer Nick Holbrook and his sidekick K9 Viper have been patrolling the streets together for a year, keeping Colorado City safe. Because he serves local citizens, Viper is in need of some specialized gear that will protect him and help in his further training.

Viper was trained by Holbrook himself, and he has recently been recertified by the National Narcotics Detector Dog Association to sniff out and detect drugs of many types. Intense training started after Holbrook contacted the Drug Enforcement Agency and legally obtained samples of illegal drugs.

Drug detection work can be dangerous for officer and K9 and having the right equipment is of the utmost importance to Viper's safety. Viper is a passive alert dog, which means he sits or lays down to alert Holbrook to the presence of drugs.

Due to city budget constraints, Holbrook has used his own funds in Viper's training. He is now seeking funding to outfit Viper with a ballistic stab vest to protect the dog from bad guys intent on hurting him.

Hopefully, enough funds will be raised to also purchase a full bite suit, as Holbrook is interested in furthering Viper's training. The bite suit will be used to protect other officers while training Viper in apprehension and related obedience tasks.

Holbrook is cost conscious and has secured the purchase of a used, but never worn, ballistics vest for about a third of the cost of a new vest. The protective gear was made available from a fellow K9 handler who lost his partner before he was able to put the vest to use.

A total of $2,350 is the amount needed for the vest and bite suit, and Colorado City citizens are already stepping up to the plate.

Holbrook has set up an account through gofundme.com, where donations can be made online. Anyone wishing to donate can do so by visiting the website.

Miller makes stop in Colorado City

Sid Miller, Republican candidate for Texas Agriculture Commissioner, came to Colorado City Tuesday morning to meet local citizens and hear their concerns, as he goes along the campaign trail. The candidate is the first running for a state-wide office that has visited Colorado City in several years.

Hailing from Stephenville, Miller raises trees and quarterhorses for a living. He graduated from Tarleton State University and said he thinks Texas' greatest natural resource is the youth of the state. He said that the average age of farmers in Texas is 58, and he wants to see more young people interested in agriculture.

Before putting in his bid for the office of ag commissioner, Miller served six terms in the Texas House of Representatives. He chaired the committee that oversees the Texas Department of Agriculture, an agency he wants to improve upon if he is elected.

"I used to say, 'We're gonna' hit the ground running.' Now I say, 'I'm gonna' hit the ground listening' because I learn a lot more when I'm listening," Miller said of his interest in hearing from rural constituents.

Miller said one of his top priorities he will concentrate on, if elected, will be water. With an ever-growing population, water is a major concern for the future of the state.

Miller said that representation on the state's water board has been reduced, as the five-member board is now a three-member board. He expressed his concern regarding representation for rural Texans, saying that though the board members are "good guys", only 10% of the $8 billion available has been allotted for rural counties.

He said that he intends to "stand in the gap" for rural Texans and will bring water engineers on staff of the TDA if he gets elected. Miller also plans to look into other ways to provide water for citizens in the future, such as desalination and rainwater collection.

During his time in the Texas House, Miller sponsored a pro-life bill known as the sonogram bill. He said that it saves the lives of about 10,000 babies per year.

He is also known for helping to change a law to allow landowners to sell seats, making helicopter hog hunting possible and, even profitable, for property owners.

Miller said his opponents have spent about $6 per vote during the primary election, while his campaign spent only about a dime per vote. He said he is proud of his fiscally conservative approach and will continue in the same manner.

If elected as agriculture commissioner, Miller said he plans to change the leadership style somewhat. "I'll probably be a hands-on commissioner who is more directly involved with the job," he said.

Programs in the department of agriculture will be audited and Miller said he would take a fresh look at the existing projects if he is elected in November.

Before the meeting broke up, Republican Chairman John Beckmeyer thanked everyone for attending and urged everyone to be sure and vote in the general election in November.

AGRICULTURE COMMISSIONER CANDIDATE - Sid Miller, Republican nominee for Texas Agricultural Commissioner, visited Colorado City Tuesday morning. He stopped in at the C.C. Thompson Room to share his hopes for the future and talk to local citizens.

OPINION & COMMENTARY

TUMBLEWEED SMITH Relocating a historic synagogue

Leon Toubin grew up in the B'nai Abraham Synagogue in Brenham, believed to be the oldest Orthodox Synagogue in the state that has been in continuous use since it was built in 1883. Leon's mother was an active community leader who wrote books on Brenham and the Jewish community there. The city was one of the first areas in Texas outside of a major population center to develop a sizeable Jewish population. As the number of Jews in Brenham declined and the building became a destination for people interested in Jewish history, Leon became the caretaker. "We haven't had services here for sometime," he says, "and with less and less people coming to see it, I decided it needed to be moved to a place so it could be preserved. The wood is original from the 1880s, and the entire interior is original. It's in great shape and it's beautiful."

A Russian immigrant told Leon it looked like a synagogue she attended in Russia. Others say it looks like a rural Baptist church. It's a simple white structure with arched windows, plain doors and a round window above the entrance. But the inside looks like something from Eastern Europe.

Leon is on the executive council of the University of Texas. He thought the university might be interested in having it, since it has an active Jewish studies program. "They were interested, all right," says Leon. "But they wanted me to donate seven million dollars for the moving and upkeep. I said, 'You're nuts.' They came back a couple of times and came down to two million. I told them to forget about it."

The city was getting anxious to have the property where the synagogue is located and suggested the structure be moved to a local park. Leon said no. Someone in Houston recommended moving it there, but Leon was afraid of what might happen to it. "So many synagogues have become hardware stores or community centers and others have just turned to rubble. A friend suggested moving it to the Dell Center in Austin, so I talked to the director who told me he would come down and look at the building only if I would take him to Blue Bell. I told him I could arrange a tour and get him some ice cream."

Within a few weeks, a moving company person showed up and later engineers and architects were crawling all over the place. Then there was a $25,000 feasibility study made. 63 pages. Windows had to be done over, the floor had to be reinforced, the roof had to be re-structured, the building had to be handicapped accessible. The final budget came to nearly $600,000. I asked them if they would raise the money and they said I had to do that. So I talked to some people in Houston who were generous. My wife and I helped. Others have donated and we have the money now."

The move will take place with a few months and plans are for it to be in its new location by late October, when the Texas Jewish Historical is having a joint meeting with the Southern Jewish Historical Society. Leon says he'll miss having the synagogue in Brenham. "But I know it'll be in the right place and will be taken care of and used for Orthodox services and family events. That's what it's for."

Making duplicate copies Appreciating differences

By Monte Wike

Men have tried for centuries to make copies of something without having to make an original every time. This is especially true in reproduction of writing.

When we visited the restoration of Benjamin Franklin's office in Dearborn, Michigan, we saw the elaborate scheme he had invented where a series of arms could duplicate his handwriting as he wrote. Granted, this only made one other copy, but it saved a lot of effort in writing it out each time. The printing press had already been invented, with its complicated movable type, but each page had to be cast by hand in the lead, and one sheet of paper at a time pressed over the master copy.

I remember when I was a kid growing up that all the papers from school were in purple ink from some kind of gelatin process. Then there was the old mimeograph where you had to type the copy on to a special stencil. If you made a mistake you had to fill it in with a special correction "wax". Then you put the stencil on the drum, filled the machine with ink, and turned the crank to make the copies.

Now it is so wonderfully easy, with computers and printers. You can correct mistakes instantly (thanks for spell-check!), change the color and font and set the borders and margins. Then it can be sent electronically to hundreds of people or to the paper.

People even try to make carbon copies of themselves or others. Penney's and Sears count on this. They publish catalogues and say, "Here is what you are supposed to wear to be 'in style'." Heaven forbid that we wear last year's fashions! On the other hand, if you get too far out of line, then you are branded a weirdo or freak.

What is the boundary between acting, thinking or dressing like others and your own fierce independence of individuality? Do we have to partake of sin just because "everybody is doing it"? Does the nation become a den of thieves because there are dishonest people here and there?

Attitude, prejudices, vocabulary, tastes and trends can be as infectious as the common cold. People seem to like the idea that they mirror each other, rather than stand alone and unique. There is a freedom of expression, but there is a tougher slavery to repetition and "copy-cat-ism".

Every person will have to answer for his or her deeds. Every sin and mistake will be judged. It is a challenge to stand above and beyond the crowd, to be the leader rather than the follower, to be the original rather than copy, to be right instead of wrong.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letter to the Editor:

Intuition is knowing without reasoning. The primitive area of our brain has intuition or instinct.

Our brain has layers added which provide reasoning. Civilized man has both intuition and reason. Civilization and technology permits survival and even prosperity with only 10% of reason ability. Absent use of the reason layers, intuition prevails.

Religion is universal in humanity - it must be intuitive. It is generally the most comfortable and gratifying frame of mind-termed by atheists as "the people's opiate."

Albert Einstein was extremely reasonable. But his private life was as fragile as the most common of men. His brain layers remained distinct. He discovered much about "God's nature" but never discovered "God". He relied heavily on reason and lightly on "God". Most of humanity is the other way round.

Most men who have moved the frontier of science and reason have been agnostic. Agnosticism is conservatism about reason and religion. We believe that what men claim to be "God" is mythical and that if there is a "Nature's god" it has not been revealed to earthly beings!

We are as firm as the religious and the atheists and equal distance from each. We respect intuitive "fact" and reasonable "fact" and find both tentative.

LOCAL NEWS

ENJOYING A TRADITION — Lori and Dorris Dockrey were among several local citizens attending the annual Spade Reunion. The reunion provides a look into the history of the famous ranch and the families who lived there.

Mitchell County history shared at Spade Reunion

The 48th Annual Spade Reunion was held Saturday, with three families attending that had never been to Spade Reunion before. As always, there was plenty of Mitchell County history shared among those attending the reunion.

The day's festivities kicked off at 10 a.m. with a meet and greet at the First Baptist Church Activities Building in Colorado City. Reunion organizer Diana McKenney said that the meet and greet is a great time for families to visit and learn the history of their ancestors. The focus of the reunion was old-fashioned traditional foods, and a program by Liz Redwine talked about foods that were often prepared and eaten on the ranch. Minnie Lee Moore was in attendance, and she said that her mother raised chickens and sold eggs for most of her childhood. Proceeds from the egg sales eventually paid for Moore and her sister to attend college.

Following a catered meal, a business meeting was conducted. There was some discussion on the upkeep of the Spade Community Cemetery, and plans for next year's reunion have begun.

Everyone was encouraged to bring in a copy of their favorite recipes from childhood and index card booklets of the compiled recipes were available to everyone attending the reunion.

million will be transferred from funds in the county's TexPool account. TexPool funds earn .03% interest, and bank officials offered an interest rate of .25%.

The county's engineering firm, Lauren Engineers & Constructors out of Abilene, has fulfilled its contract with Mitchell County, regarding the planned desalination plant. Mayo said that the firm has been paid $325,000 by the county over the past two years.

The county will be moving forward on the project with an engineering safety net. Two change orders were approved in case more engineering services are warranted. A procurement assistance change order in the amount of $20,000 was approved in case the county needs assistance in acquiring more services or supplies.

A construction management change order was also approved if the county should need more help with construction of the project. Court members hope not to have to use the $75,000 change order, but it is in place if needed.

The county will proceed with the desalination plant construction as soon as word is received from the Texas Department of Agriculture regarding a proposed extension. Several obstacles have arisen during the construction phase, and county representatives have requested an extension on the operational date of the plant.

If granted by the state, the request extends the first operational date of the plant from August 2014 to August 15, 2015.

83 are Borden, Scurry, Mitchell, Gaines, Brown, Lynn and part of Lubbock County.

Former state representative Delwin Jones, of Lubbock, announced his bid Monday.

Jodey Arrington, the former vice chancellor at Texas Tech University, has also announced plans to run for the seat, along with veteran Epifanio "Ian" Garza.

Given the number of candidates running, a chance of a run-off election is good. Other candidates has been able to do some of his most memorable work.

While he credits the faculty at the school, like secretaries Sonja Lawson and Gayle Younger, for the wonderful things accomplished at CMS, Merrell founded the Dare to Care Rally that featured student talent. During the rally, students highlighted veterans that lived in Mitchell County.

Veteran recognition became near and dear to Merrell's heart, and the Dare to Care Rally transformed into something much bigger, much more noteworthy.

CISD became the recipient of a Service Learning Grant, and Merrell took the opportunity to begin a program that changed the way students think of veterans as a whole. Former teacher Tammy Johnson assisted with a program that brought students and senior citizens together, and Real History, Real Heroes was born.

For decades, middle school students in Colorado City have interviewed veterans, made display boards about their service and lives, and published special sections in the Colorado City Record featuring specific servicemen and women.

The programs accomplished something that no amount of education can: Kids got to know the real people behind the "vet-interested in running for the senate position must file an application with the Texas Secretary of State's Office by 5 p.m. on Friday, August 1st.

Early voting will begin on Monday, August 25th. The winner will serve the remainder of Duncan's term which expires in 2017.

Gov. Perry's office said the September date was chosen so that the new senator will be in office before the new legislative session begins in January.

eran" label. Participating in those programs made history real for hundreds of Colorado City students and illustrated what patriotism is all about.

As the school applied for and received three tiers of the Service Learning Grants, other programs sprung up as well. Students now have a local cable program, KWLF, known as KWOLF. No one should forget the National History Day program either.

National History Day provides an outlet for students to research an historical subject and design programs to go with the subject, such as speeches, display boards, DVDs, etc. There was also a group of students who produced a CD called Better Than the Book CD. Students wrote and performed songs about American history.

Merrell has taken on a new project recently. He will be principal at Colorado High School this year, a new task he is looking forward to undertaking.

Merrell and his wife, Judy, have lived in Colorado City for about 35 years. They have two children who are married, Mica and Clayton Roberts and Megan and Matt Oliver. They are the proud grandparents of four grandkids, Elisha, who is new-born, Cameron, 6; Cooper, 7; and Carter, 10. They also have a granddaughter on the way.

ined the responses and announced the intention of maintaining four window service hours per weekday.

A copy of the survey results made available to the Record said, "To allow for the completion of administrative tasks associated with the implementation, the Postal Service will announce the date of implementation and the new operational hours of the office at a later date."

There has been a 27% drop in customer retail visits to post offices since 2005. In May 2012, the POST plan was announced as a plan to realign retail window hours based on customer use in more than 13,000 post offices around the country. The Postal Service is now finalizing the implementation of this plan. The timeline has been extended, and the POST plan will now be finalized in early January 2015.

Since the program was announced more than two years ago, 9,166 post offices have had retail operating hours adjusted. Of the 13,000, 3,009 offices are now six-hour offices, 4,900 are now four-hour offices and 1,257 are now two-hour offices.

As a self-supporting government enterprise, the Postal Service receives no tax dollars. It relies solely on the sale of postage, products and services to pay for operating expenses. Additional information on the POST Plan can be found at www.usps.com/futurenetwork. Click the links under Preserving Post Offices.

A teacher takes a hand, opens a mind, touches a heart.

Teaching is a noble profession without which the civilized world would have no hope. What teachers do in the classroom is very important and each of them play a part in the grand scheme of society. We are proud of the teachers we have in Mitchell County. May we encourage you to keep on going, keep up the good attitude, keep the faith. You make the world go round.

Just as being a teacher is a big responsibility, so is being a full-service community bank. We also touch so many lives in this area. We're proud of the work we do, and grateful for the support the community has given us. By sharing the Hometown Spirit together, we're building a brighter future for our children and for all of us.

Colorado High School dress code explained

The district's dress code is established to teach grooming and hygiene, prevents disruption, and minimizes safety hazards. Students and parents may determine a student's personal dress and grooming standards, provided that they comply with the following:

Students and parents are responsible for using good judgment in dress and grooming so that the student's dress and appearance do not present health and safety problems, damage school property, or threaten to disrupt the educational process. In order to maintain an orderly environment conducive to the attainment of the educational mission and purpose of the district, all students shall be required to conform to a reasonable dress and grooming code.

The principal's office is directly responsible for the administration of the dress code and the prevention of exaggerated styles of dress, hair or accessories that may draw unfavorable attention to the wearer. The school district encourages students with the supervision of their parents, to maintain high standards of dress, grooming, and personal appearance. The dress code applies to the school, the entire school day, including school activities. The following guidelines outline the dress code for all students:

1. Students shall not lead school officials to reasonably believe that such dress and grooming will disrupt, interfere with, distract, or detract from instructional and/or school activities.
2. Students' dress shall not create a health problem or hazard to student's safety or to the safety of others.
3. Students' hair shall be clean, neat and well groomed. Male students' hair will be off the collar of a regular shirt (low-neck T-shirts are not an exception to this rule) and is not to extend below their earlobe on either side. Hair will not come down over the eyes and ears. Ponytails, shaved heads, Mohawks, and portions of shaved heads are not permitted. Sweatbands or headbands shall not be worn in the building at anytime.
4. Student hairstyles, which present fads or extremes that may disrupt, cause undue attention, interfere with, or detract from instruction and/or school activities, will not be permitted.
5. Students shall be clean-shaven at all times. Beards and mustaches are not permitted. Sideburns will be permitted provided they do not extend beyond the bottom of the ear and are not too bushy so as to appear to be part of a beard.
6. School attire should never be suggestive or indecent, nor create a disruptive environment or health hazard.

The following guidelines for attire shall apply to all students:

A. Appropriate shorts attire should be longer than the wearer's fingertips with arms extended down the person's side. Shorts do not include wind shorts, gym shorts, bike shorts, or any other clothing that allows unnecessary exposure. Bike shorts may not be worn underneath wind shorts. No un-hemmed or frayed shorts or pants will be allowed. Shirt lengths may not exceed the hip area.

B. Excessively tight pants, shorts, or skirts are not allowed. Leggings, spandex or tight fitting slacks will not be allowed unless worn with a dress or long blouse that should be longer than the wearer's fingertips with arms extended down the person's side.

C. No caps, hats, or head coverings of any type may be worn in the building or at any indoor school function.

D. Shirt tails shall be worn inside the trousers except for those designed to be worn outside.

E. No ties will be worn unless in a traditional manner.

F. Half shirts and/or midriff tops for boys and girls are prohibited (NO skin can be showing when standing with both arms parallel). Shirts are to be buttoned at all times except for the top button.

G. Sleeveless shirts must be commercially cut and sewn (3 inches wide) and must cover the shoulders and underarms. Low-cut shirts or v-neck shirts are not permitted.

H. Earrings for boys are prohibited. When taken up, earrings will not be returned to the student and will be disposed of.

I. Jewelry with spikes is not permitted nor is jewelry with large metal beads, including belts.

J. No body piercing or body piercing jewelry (other than earrings on girls) will be permitted. Tattoos will not be permitted. (Any student enrolling in school with a tattoo(s) must keep the tattoos covered at all times). Students shall not mark on or draw on hands, arms, etc. These markings are not permitted.

K. Students' clothing should be of suitable design and considered modest. Excessively tight-fitting clothing should not be worn. Basic clothing, which was designed to be underwear, may not be worn as outer garments. Sleepwear such as lounge pants or pajamas is not permitted. Students may not wear see through clothing, tank tops, mesh shirts, halter tops, low cut dresses or skirts, midriff tops, or clothing that promotes or advertises alcohol, drugs, the occult, violent or sexual themes which are not appropriate to the school educational environment; miniskirts, short split-skirts, or any other clothing that causes undue attention to the wearer. Pants that call for a belt to be worn must have a belt.

L. Students will not be permitted to wear excessively loose fitting pants or shorts. Sagging shorts or sagging pants are not permitted.

M. Extremes in any type of clothing will not be permitted.

N. Footwear shall be worn at all times as required by state law. Students will not be permitted to wear shoes which can become a safety issue. No slippers or house shoes may be worn.

O. Warm-ups will be permitted if they are clean, neat and in good condition.

P. No holes, rips, or tears in clothing are permitted unless they were made that way. No excessive tears, rips or holes will be permitted at all regardless of manufacture where skin shows.

R. Any accessory or clothing article deemed gang related as determined by school administrators is prohibited including but not limited to discriminatory pictures, words, slogans, etc.

A "Meet the Teacher" session will be held Friday, August 22nd from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Parents are encouraged to attend to meet their child's teacher, drop off school supplies, and pay for class t-shirts.

"Kelley Car Rider" mirror signs will be available for purchase at Meet the Teacher time also. Anyone that regularly picks up a Kelley student should have one. Cost is $2 per sign. Students will not be allowed into a car without a Kelley Car Rider sign clipped around their mirror, unless the driver has a special permission pink slip from the school office.

The first day of school is Monday, August 25th.

August 11th begins registration at LISD

Loraine ISD is getting ready to kick off their 2014 / 2015 school year. We have many events scheduled to take place early and want to keep parents informed and help them get ready for the start of school.

Football and volleyball two-a-days will be starting August 4. Football with Coach Kyle Hawk will begin at 7:00 a.m. Volleyball with Coach Gibson will begin at 9:00 a.m. If you are coming or thinking of coming to Loraine and are a new H.S. transfer, you need to speak with the Mr. Steven Parker, Principal and Coach Hawk, head coach/athletic director as soon as possible. All athletes in grades 6, 7, 9, & 11 must have a physical done this year. If you need a physical form come by the administration office and pick one up.

If you are a transfer, the office has a transfer policy that must be signed and agreed to by students and parents.

If you participate in AG or would like to participate either in showing or judging please let Ms. Sykes, AG teacher know as soon as possible. She will help in finding animals and with the proper care directions.

Remember dual credit classes start Aug. 25th. All classes are on the Loraine ISD campus, you must have registered with the counselor, Mr. Doug Fortenberry. The tuition and books are still being covered by the district. He will be available August 6 at the school campus for questions.

Beginning August 11th, new students and transfers must pick up a registration packet in the administration office to register prior to the beginning of school. Please bring birth certificate (issued from the court house), immunization record, social security card, and the driver's license of the enrolling parent/guardian. You must also bring proof of residence as well. You can also pick up athletic schedules, supply lists, and school calendars at that time.

Please feel free to go on to the school website <http://www.loraine.escl4.net/> or follow on School Connect to stay informed of all the latest news at Loraine ISD. We also have our Loraine ISD Parents page on Facebook. Classes begin on August 25th.

Hutchinson registration begins Aug. 13th

The first step in registering a student at Hutchinson Elementary School is packet pickup, and this year the school will hold packet pickup Wednesday and Thursday, August 13th, 14th from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. each day.

After paperwork packets are picked up, parents should take it home, fill it out and read the parent information.

Lone Star Registration will be held Tuesday, August 19th from 1 to 4 p.m. Completed packets should be taken to registration, and students will be informed who their homeroom teacher will be for the school year.

Meet the Teacher is planned for Friday, August 22nd from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. The come and go gathering will give parents the opportunity to meet their child's teacher, drop off school supplies, pay for class t-shirts and pay for 5th grade band books and recorders. Cost for the t-shirts is $10 each. Only 5th graders are required to participate in band, and cost is $10 for the book and recorder.

New students to the district may pick up a registration packet from the administration building on Hickory Street starting Wednesday, July 30th. The completed packets should be returned to the respective campus during the week of August 11th – 15th. Birth certificates, shot records, Social Security cards and all previous school records should be taken to the campuses, if possible.

The first day of school for all Colorado ISD students is Monday, August 25th. Students can eat a free breakfast at 7:30 a.m. each school day, and class begins at 7:55 a.m. at Hutchinson. School is dismissed each day at 3:30 p.m.

Hutchinson Principal Julio Castillo would like to take this opportunity to remind parents of some basic dress and hair codes. Shorts must be below the fingertips when arms are placed at sides. No tank tops or short skirts. Pierced ears are not allowed for boys.

Hair should be a natural color, appropriate style and appropriate length. For boys, that means hair may not be below the bottom of the ears or the bottom of the collar. No ponytails, buns or any other attempts to shorten hair by using rubber bands will be permitted for boys, either. Cornrows are acceptable but must comply with the hair code length.

The designated drop off area at Hutchinson is on 5th Street in front of the cafeteria. Students are to arrive no earlier than 7:30 a.m.

The designated pickup area for students after school is on 4th Street. Parents are reminded that it is illegal to park across the street and have students cross to the car. Please enter through 5th Street from Hickory and curve around to 4th Street. Remain in one line to pick up children on the correct side of the street. For all students' safety, please do not pass cars in line to pick up students.

Buses will be loaded after school on Cedar Street, in front of the Hutchinson campus. Please do not attempt to pick up children in that area.
