Three Arrested on Drug Charges After One Dies of Overdose

Three San Antonio youths were arrested in Aransas Pass after one of their friends was taken to Lyman - Roberts Hospital. Reported to the Aransas Pass Police Department was a possible drowning at a motel in that city.

The Aransas County Sheriffs department was called and Deputy Sheriff Don Beard reported the following to the Pilot.

A 16-year-old youth from San Antonio had been swimming in the motel swimming pool and was found floating in the pool. Police and an ambulance were called and the youth was rushed to the hospital. Police went to the youth's room at the motel and when the other youths answered the door the police officers smelled a strong odor of marijuana. The youths were advised of their friend's condition and their room was searched.

Found in the room was approximately 3/4 of a pound of marijuana, and approximately 275 prescription drugs that are a felony violation of the law to have unless there is a prescription issued for them.

Two of the youths, both 16, from San Antonio were arrested for possession of a controlled substance and for possession of marijuana as was John Aguilar, 17, of San Antonio.

At approximately 7:10 p.m., Saturday the 16-year-old youth that had been taken to the hospital was pronounced dead by the attending doctor.

An autopsy was ordered by Justice of the Peace Martin Haskett of San Patricio County at the request of Sheriff Bob Hewes.

Assisting Beard and Hewes in the investigation were Assistant Chief of Police V.R. Patterson, Sgt. Hudgins, Sgt. Ramirez and Officer Grumbles of the Aransas Pass Police Department.

Charges were filed with County Attorney Ellis L. Clark on all three sujects and bond was set on Aguilar at $2,500 for possession of dangerous drugs and $1,500 for possession of marijuana.

Jury Gives Billy Joe Pool Life Sentence

Billy Joe Pool, of Brownsville, went to trial Tuesday, July 16th, on an indictment charging him with receiving stolen property and being a habitual criminal. His plea was not guilty before a jury. The case was tried in the 36th District Court with Judge John Miller presiding.

Robert Coaker, of Aransas Pass, testified that he was the owner and operator of the shrimp trawler, Connie & Deb, and that it was docked in Conn Brown Harbor on the evening of April 1, 1974, and that it was equipped with radar, radio transmitting and receiving sets and a tape recording player, of the value of more than $3,000. The vessel was secured and locked. Next morning he found that the hatch had been broken, the boat entered, and the radar, radio transmitting and receiving sets, and the tape recording player missing.

A few days later David Charles Hale, of Aransas Pass, went to the police in Aransas Pass, and confessed that he and another young man, a nephew of defendant, had stolen the radar, and other items from the vessel, and implicated the defendant, Pool in receiving and concealing the stolen property.

Sheriff Robert Hewes and Ranger Jim Peters went to Brownsville and arrested Pool. They recovered the radar and the radio sets there and the tape recording player in Riviera.

Mrs. Winnie Light, the District Clerk, in Sinton, identified the judgments and sentences in two forgery cases in which a Billy Joe Pool had been convicted of forgery in San Patricio County. Joe Zapata, County Commissioner, at Sinton, testified that the defendant was the same Billy Joe Pool who was convicted in Sinton and that Pool served the two sentences imposed upon him there.

After the jury was instructed as to the law and the attorneys

Celia Plus Four Golf Tournament Slated Aug. 3-4

Plans are rapidly taking shope for the "Celia Plus Four" golf tournament to be held at Live Oak Country Club August 3-4, according to announcement by Tom Andrews, general chairman of the event.

Entries for the member-guest tournament are coming in steadily and indications are that a capacity field will be participating in this year's tournament. The field will be held to the first 60 two-man teams entered.

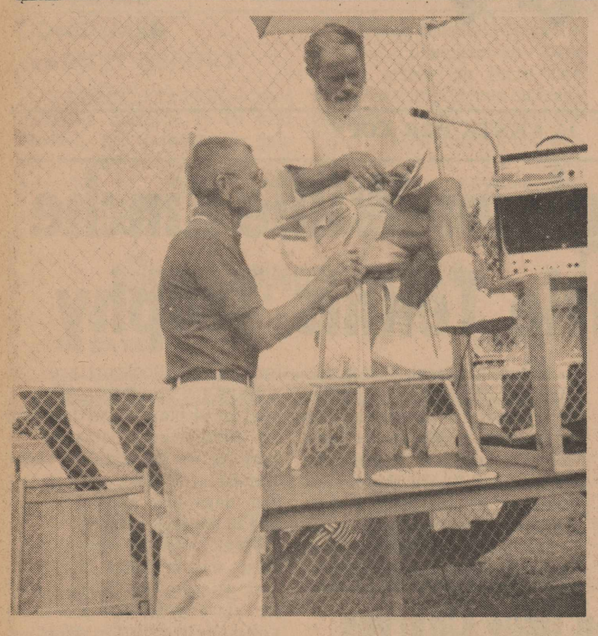

This will be the fourth member-guest tournament to be held at the club, the first being held on the first anniversary of hurricane Celia which devastated this area on August 3, 1970. That accouts for the title "Celia Plus Four" for this year's tournament and by coincidence the first day of the two-day event falls exactly four years after the 1970 storm.

Officials emphasize that this is not an open tournament but is a member-guest invitational tournament. The tournament will be over 36 holes, 18 holes each day, and will be determined by partnership low ball. Flights will be based on lowest team-member's handicap.

Merchandise prices will be awarded team flight winners as follows: First, $125.00; Second, $100.00; and third, $75.00. Numerous door and special prizes also will be awarded during the tournament.

On Friday prior to the start of the tournament on Saturday, contestants may play a free practice round. This will be followed by a happy hour and a free fish fry for players and their wives.

Andrews urged club members to get their entries in promptly. Already registered are guests from several Texas cities and one from as far away as Louisiana.

Dewey Lingo, tennis tournament committee chairman, standing, confers with John Gutzke, professional at Rockport Racquet and Yacht Club, who umpired all final matches and announced scores over a public address system at Key Allegro Tennis Club where most of the matches of the second annual Rockport Summer fun Mixed Doubles Tennis tournament were played during the past two weekends.

Tennis Tourney—

previously played in Rockport, this year partners in the first round were selected by lot, names being drawn from the list of entries by the tournament committee.

Thereafter partners, both winners and losers, were swapped on an established formula. In this way no players dominated the tourney and every player had an opportunity to experience the skill - or lack of it - on the part of several partners and opponents. Also, with three divisions in operation, every player participated in at least three matches even though he may have lost in all of them.

This unique tournament play plan was devised by Bob Mooty, professional at Northwood Club in Dallas and used there early this year with a total of 128 players playing at four clubs. The plan was brought to Rockport by Peggy Lingo who assisted her father, Dewey Lingo, local tournament committee chairman, in setting up and operating the tourney.

Other committee members were Dr. Jim Wideman, George Cone, Joe Hugenberg, Lee Wideman, Pat Padgett and Dave Crooks. Gutzke and Jim Langham, formerly professional at Key Allegro Tennis Club, were tournament consultants.

A feature of the tournament was availability of refreshment at the Key Allegro pro shop. Loyce Landrum and Lee Wideman of the Rockport Chamber of Commerce office were in charge, assisted by a number of volunteers. Available for sale were sandwiches, cake, pie and cookies, as well as soft drinks, all for the benefit of the Chamber of Commerce. Much of the food and other materials and services were contributed by local business firms and individuals.

Throughout the tournament tennis related paintings by Gunny Whittle, widely known local artist and widow of the man in whose memory the annual tournament is staged, were on display at the pro shop.

Hugenberg, Chamber of Commerce president, was master of ceremonies following the dinner Sunday night. Mrs. Whittle presented the Whittle trophy to winners of the tournament and assisted Hugenberg in awarding individual trophies to winners and runners-up in the three divisions of the tourney.

Crooks read and then presented to Lingo a resolution paying tribute to Lingo for his efforts in staging the 1973 and 1974 tournaments. The resolution credited Lingo with having added substantially to the progress and popularity of tennis in this area. More than 100 players and spectators had signed it. Lingo then presented a desk set to Crooks in recognition of his efforts in promoting the tournaments and writing news stories about them.

Highlight of the evening was the gift by Mrs. Whittle to Lingo of an oil Painting of a tennis player which she had done with advice and guidance of her husband prior to his death last year.

Before the dinner a social hour was provided by Bob Warren who has been owner and operator of Key Allegro Inn. Music for the party was contributed by a group of local musicians as an expression of their interest in promoting tennis. The musicians were Vernon Kleypas, Jim Fowler, Howard Black and Elroy Parr.

from the dealer's house. He lost the car in Alice. Barrera then went to the Sheriff's office in Alice and ascertained that the suspected car was registered in Aransas County. Then Deputy Sheriff Daniel Vargas took a stand on Highway 35 south of Rockport. Vargas stopped the car and saw Zamudio throw some packages out of the window of the 1972 Pontiac. The officer recovered these and arrested the defendant. Vargas sent the suspected items to the laboratory, Department of Public Safety in Austin. An analysis by a chemist revealed that the contents were almost pure heroin and the Chemist, Mr. George Taft, appeared at the trial, and so testified.

The State rested.

The defendant did not testify for himself or call any witnesses.

The case was argued Thursday morning and given to the jury at 11:00 a.m. A verdict of guilty was received by the Court at 11:35 a.m.

Then the question of punishment was submitted. Sheriff Bob Hewes testified he had known the defendant several years and that his general reputation was bad. The jury was instructed on punishment, argument heard, and the jury retired to assess punishment and decide whether to recommend probation.

After deliberating an hour the jury brought in their second verdict setting punishment of the defendant at three years confinement in the Texas Department of Corrections and denied his application for probations.

The jurors trying the case were: Jerry Hawes, Jr. Lewis Caton, Vena L. Wilson, Mrs. Mary L. Lassiter, Louis Borkholm, Jane I. Rogers, Mrs. M.H. Rheinlaender, Mrs. R.D. Scrivner, Mrs. Claude L. Patterson, Mrs. George Wiest, Mrs. Clinton E. McElveen, Mrs. J. Martin Shaw.

Happy Homemaking

By BARBARA BAKER

If you have trouble making even rows in your garden plot, use an old hand lawn mower. It will make two rows just the right width at the same time.

Cellophane wrappers covering new lampshades should be removed since they are usually unsightly and often warp the shade due to room humidity or heat from the lightbulb.

A handy head covering while doing housework is a short tie-around-the-waist apron. Apron strings are so convenient for tying around the head and the apron more than covers the hair.

To get rid of sand inside sleeping bags before those vacation camping trips, first clean thoroughly with a vacuum cleaner then generously coat the inside with baby powder (not talcum). Next, rub in the powder then turn upside down and the loosened sand will shake right out.

If the granulated sugar which you have stored in an unopened bag becomes hard before the bag is open, just let it drop to the floor once or twice. Drop about a foot or two and the sugar should loosen.

To neatly organize tots' drawers, use cardboard egg cartons whose individual cups hold tiny socks perfectly. The cartons create a neater appearance and are easier to get at when wanted.

Shown above is the 43-ft. shrimp trawler "Cherokee", a 13-ton vessel built entirely by Ivan C. Olenick, a carpenter foreman at RYSCO. It took him 10 months to build it in his spare time.

The Cherokee is powered with a 671 G.M. Diesel and has a steel keel, which he says is the first boat in the area with this type of keel. Since building his boat, three others have been built with steel keels.

The vessel is all fiberglass with the interior in Philippine mahogany and birch. It will be used for bay and gulf beach shrimping.

Olenick is a member of the Rockport Shrimp Coop and the Seafood Producers Association.

Veterans Families Due Benefits

Families eligible for the Veterans Administration's Civilian Health and Medical Program (CHAMPVA) will soon be receiving in the mail a new VA pamphlet on these health benefits services for dependents and survivors, according to A.A. Hunter, Veterans Administration Regional Office Director.

The just - published CHAMPVA pamphlet (VA Information Bulletin 13-6) furnishes detailed information on eligibility, medical services, and methods for filing claims.

Hunter said copies are available at all VA hospitals, clinics, domiciliaries, and regional offices, at the veterans' assistance centers, nationwide, and at U.S. embassies and consulates overseas.

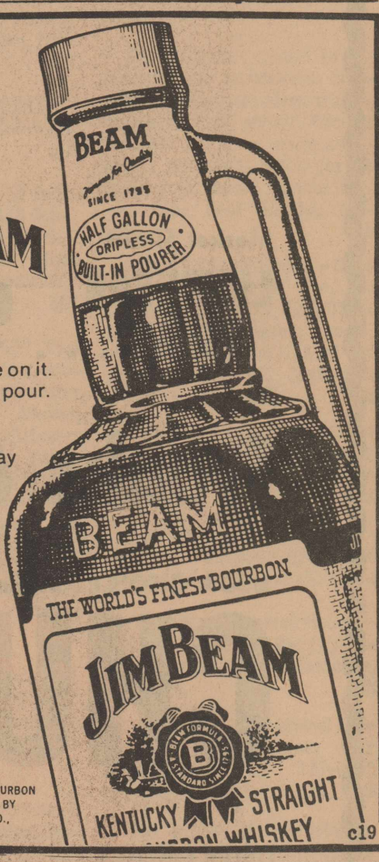

Request for the pamphlet should be sent to the nearest VA hospital or regional office, not to the VA Central Office in Washington, D.C.

CHAMPVA provides partial VA payment for the health care of wives and children of veterans who are 100 percent disabled from service-connected causes and for the survivors of those who died of such causes after leaving military service.

Neighborhood Carnival Held

A backyard carnival was staged Saturday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Smith, 1001 N. Austin, for the benefit of Muscular Dystrophy, by Miss Andrea Smith and Miss LeaAnn Smith, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Smith of Houston, and Miss Kathryn Morgan and Miss Lori Morgan, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Morgan of Rockport, and grand-daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Smith.

After many hours of selling tickets to the neighborhood, the carnival opened at 10:30 a.m. The varied booths consisted of: Ring the Duck Head; Marble Shoot; Ball Throw and Fortune Telling.

Miss Leslie Wilson, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Smith, of Patterson, Louisiana, was the lucky winner of the raffle prize. Other prize winners were: Kevin Morgan and Mrs. Wesley Morgan, who presented her prize to little Miss Hope Pearson, a guest.

A gay time was had by all that attended and one in the group was overheard to say, "When will the next neighborhood carnival be held". The amount of $10.52 was collected for Muscular Dystrophy. The girls are certainly to be commended for such a worthy cause.

Tourist Association Activities Described

Current activities and plans for the future of the Rockport-Fulton Tourists Association were described by Jim Fowler, president of the organization, at a luncheon meeting of Rotary Club July 17 at Ramada Inn.

Fowler explained that while the association was not a part of Rockport Chamber of Commerce, it works very closely with that organization on all projects designed to attract more visitors to this area. It has an annual budget of about $7,000 and currently is trying to attract more supporting and participating members.

One of the association's immediate needs is for approximately $2,000 to be used for advertising the attractions of Rockport and Fulton to prospective visitors in northern states and in Texas. It is planned to use billboards, letters and descriptive literature for this purpose. The association also is hoping to attract industrial and civic conventions, Fowler said.

Another program designed to attract visitors is showing of a series of color slides illustrating the advantages of this area. The slides, many of which were the result of a recent photo contest, were shown at the Rotary meeting. Included were landscapes, seascapes, wildlife scenes and pictures of boats and homes.

Fowler expalined that one of the association's objectives was to attract permanent residents as well as tourists, adding that retirees are excellent prospects.

Miss Laquita Balderree, current Miss Rockport, who took part in the recent Miss Texas beauty and talent contest in Fort Worth and was sponsored by the tourist association, was presented at the meeting by Fowler.

Miss Balderree is a 1970 graduate of Rockport-Fulton High school and is attending Texas A & I University in Corpus Christi where she is majoring in music. In addition to being an accomplished musician, she also is a competent horsewoman and a good student, having made the dean's list at the unversity.

Miss Balderree spoke briefly, describing her experiences while participating in the Miss Texas competition in which 57 girls from all parts of Texas took part.

Cub Scouts Have Party

On Saturday, July 20, Cub Scout Dens 2 and 3 had a watermelon party at the Peninsula Oaks picnic area.

Cubs attending were Charles Daniels, John Phelps of Den 2, and Alan Vollmering, Donald Beard, Ricky Hill of Den 3.

A balloon blowing contest and nature hunt were enjoyed by the cubs.

Leaders present were Mrs. Leona Daniels, den mother of Den 2, Mrs. Lynn Mostella, Den mother of Den 3, and Mr. John Leslie, Scout Commissioner.

OUTDOORS 'n things

by L. D. NUCKLES

Create any environment and nature, over the years, will evolve an animal to fit. She'll lengthen a leg here, adapt a toe there, and move the eyes a little until she has a creature that is suited to that environment.

Moose graze in marshes, squirrels climb trees, camels live in deserts, and frogs sit on lily pads. In each instance it took some special adaptation to fit each animal to his environment. Some special adjustments are concerned with obtaining food, but many others are for self-defense or escape. Still others have to do with the terrain itself.

Take the Australian koala. This little teddy bear-like animal lives in the interior of Australia where surface water is scarce. About a dozen species of eucalyptus trees grow there, so the sole food of the koala is eucalyptus leaves. From them he gets all the water he needs, so he never needs a drink.

Specialized needs have shaped the head and beak of the woodchuck, a little snipe-like bird that feeds on earthworms. He has a long, slender bill that allows him to reach far down into the burrow of the earthworm - but this has its disadvantages. When his bill is buried in the earth he is vulnerable to attack from above. To counteract this danger he has eyes set near the top of his head. This lets him scan the trees for danger even while he probes in the earth for his breakfast. All this makes him very efficient, but rather odd looking.

The jacana is a bird of the topics that is sometimes found in the Rio Grande Valley. He has long, extremely thin legs and toes. This lets him run across lily pads, chasing insects, without sinking into the water. His beak is nothing to shout about in the matter of defense, and the thin, weak feet are something less than dangerous. To defend himself he carries a switchblade. Right at the bend of his wings he has a sharp spur that he can flip out and rip his enemy to shreds.

The sea anemone is an animal of the sea that looks like a beautiful flower. It cannot move around, yet it feeds on swift, darting little fish. When a little fish swims close enough, a tiny thread shoots out of the end of the beautiful tentacle that looks like a flower petal. This little thread penetrates the body of the fish and explodes a paralyzing poison. The thread then retracts and draws the fish down into the digestive system of the anemone.

The two-headed skink is a little lizard that really doesn't have two heads. His tail just looks more like a head than his head does. A hawk, swooping down to catch this little fellow makes allowance for movement in the direction of what appears to be a lifted head. The bird usually comes up with empty talons. The lizard scampered off in the direction the real head was pointing.

Nature is a wonderful thing. The next time you see a wild animal, a fish, a hawk, a rabbit, or a deer - make a note of the special adaptations that nature has evolved to let him cope with his environment.

DPS Public Auction Saturday, July 27

AUSTIN -- Interested in a clean used car?

Or, perhaps a four-wheel drive jeep?

If not, and if used modes of transportation aren't included in your immediate plans, then how about business machines, miscellaneous shop equipment or even radio gear?

Texans will have a chance to bid on 100 surplus Department of Public Safety vehicles in addition to various items of office equipment as the agency conducts a public auction in Austin July 27 at 10 a.m.

The auction, which will be conducted in cooperation with the State Board of Control, will be held at DPS Headquarters at the intersection of Guadalupe and Koenig Lane in Austin.

According to DPS officials, many of the automobiles are air conditioned and fully equipped.

Office equipment items include adding machines, typewriters, tape recorders, a dictating machine and others. Several items found in shops will be auctioned by Nelson International of Dallas and include torches, drills, jacks, air compressor, frequency meters, tube checker and power plant.

The DPS plans to auction two way mobile radio units, station transceivers and base station cabinets in addition to other gear.

To repair aneurysms in blood vessels, especially near the brain, a neurosurgeon at the University of Minnesota uses an ordinary household glue from Japan. There it is also used to treat intestinal ruptures and liver lacerations.

Although the brain senses the pain of damage anywhere in the body, it has no pain sensation itself. Brain surgery is often performed while the patient is awake.

New safety rules for cribs are helpful to buyers. But if you're handing down an old one, use four-inch bumpers around the mattress to protect the baby. If mattress isn't tight wedge in a towel to keep it in place.

The lowly lichen -- actually a symbiotic combination of algae and fungus -- is being used to test for air pollution. Seems pollution is the only thing that can damage it.

Government is becoming more stringent about medications we take. Manufacturers of over-the-counter preparations now must spell out the active ingredients in each product, and warn against overdosage.

World Record Broken By One Foot

If you happen to read the Guinness's Book of World Records, 1974 Edition, and come to the part about a guy standing on one foot for six and one half hours, disregard it and use the following.

Dennis Buck, 15-year old son of Mrs. Shirley Buck of McQueeney, stood on his right foot for seven and a half hours.

One day the sophomore at Seguin High School was reading the record book and noticed the part about balancing on one foot. After practicing for a while, Buck decided to break the record last Saturday, July 6.

Starting at 1 p.m. Saturday with 20 witnesses, Buck stood on his right foot, using no means of support or balance. To pass the time he played cards and catch with some friends and watched television.

Buck said his leg held out very well, but the arch in his foot hurt a bit.--Seguin Enterprise.

Reports For Household Workers Due By July 31

Quarterly wage reports and social security contributions for household workers are due by July 31, according to A.L. Finck, Jr., social security district manager.

"People who pay a household worker $50 or more in cash wages in any 3-month quarter must send a report of the wages, along with the social security contribution, to the Internal Revenue Service within one month after the end of the quarter," Finck explained.

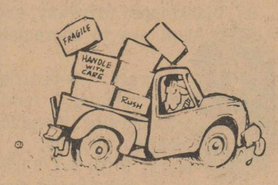

Quarters are January-February-March, April-May-June, July-August-September, and October-November-December. Wage reports and social security contributions for the 2nd quarter of 1974 are due by July 31.

People who employ household workers may file the wage report on a form available at any Internal Revenue Service Office - "Employer's Quarterly Tax Return for Household Employees (for Social Security)." To get the form, call Internal Revenue at 800-252-1000. There is no charge to the calling party.

The social security contribution for a household employee is 5.85 percent of covered wages, and the employer pays a matching amount. "It's acceptable if the employer pays the full 11.7 percent contribution," Finck said.

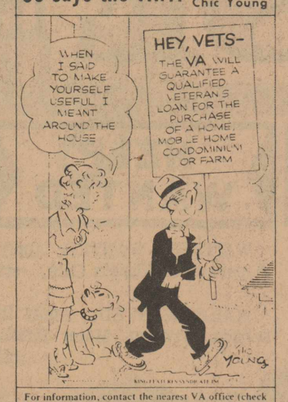

Social security contributions help build retirement, disability, survivors, and Medicare protection for workers and their families. People who employ household workers can get a free copy of the leaflet, "Social Security and Your Household Employee," at the social security office, 5733 S. Padre Island Drive (992-1191).

Advertising calendars were first distributed in the 19th century, many of them promoting patent medicines.

Questions and Answers

Q. I'm a 58-year-old widower, and I've been unable to work for the past 9 years. I've never worked under social security. However, my wife did work all her life in jobs covered by social security. Can I get monthly social security payments on my wife's work record?

A. If you were dependent on your wife for one-half your support when she died, you may start getting monthly payments as a widower at 60. Or, if you're severely disabled, you may be able to get benefits before you're 60. You should get in touch with your social security office to see if you're eligible for benefits based on your disability.

Q. I'll be looking for my first job this summer. I've never gotten a social security card and someone told me I'll need one. Should I get one now or should I wait until I'm hired for a job?

A. You should apply for your social security number at least several weeks before you'll need it. So it's a good idea to apply now. Applications for social security numbers from people who don't remember having had one are screened against the central files in Baltimore to make sure one person doesn't get more than one number. Screening takes time.

To get information about applying for a number, call, write, or visit any social security office.

Commercial Fishermen Will Celebrate Opening of Season

Commercial fishermen will be celebrating the opening of the fall shrimping season next month with a kick-off shrimp dinner in Aransas Pass.

The shrimp dinner, sponsored by the Seafood Producers Association will be held Sunday, August 11, from 1 to 5 p.m. at Kleberger Elementary School cafeteria, 748 W. Goodnight Avenue.

Tickets will be $2.50 for adults, $1.25 for children ages 7-12, and all children under seven may eat free of charge.

James Warren, Jr. of Aransas Pass, Association president, said the dinner is to wish everyone luck when the fall shrimping season opens just a few days later, August 15.

Invitations have been sent out to state, county, and city officials as well as area individuals by the Association. Last year the Association drew a crowd of 2,000 to the annual event. It is open to the public.

State Representative Leroy Wieting of Portland has already announced that he will attend the dinner. Miss Shrimporee Mary Ann Quiel has accepted an invitation on behalf of the Aransas Pass Chamber of Commerce.

Tickets for the dinner may be obtained in Rockport from Mrs. J.C. Harlan, 1204 E. Orleans (729-2781) or in Aransas Pass from Mrs. Jenny Criddle, 152 S. Eighth (758-2601) or Mrs. Easter Taylor, 855 S. McCampbell (758-3543).

Jim Bradshaw's job is to locate and buy fuel CPL must have to generate electricity.

Jim Bradshaw is Fuel Resources Manager at Central Power and Light Company. He has a tough job: Locating and purchasing natural gas and fuel oil to generate electricity.

When CPL's major supplier of natural gas began curtailing delivery, by as much as 65%, CPL had to look elsewhere.

Unfortunately, natural gas is in short supply and in great demand. As a result, costs have skyrocketed.

And, when CPL can't find enough natural gas, fuel oil must be purchased at even higher prices.

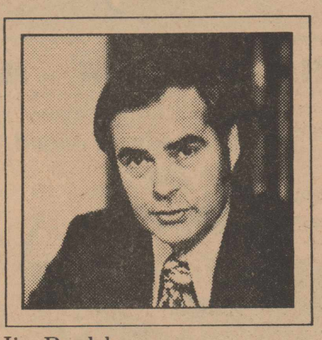

These higher fuel costs have been showing up on your electric bills.

We don't like charging you for these high fuel costs, anymore than we like paying them.

But finding new supplies of natural gas at prices anything close to what we paid two years ago is impossible.

So long as CPL has to pay more for fuel, your family and Jim Bradshaw's family will have to pay more for electricity.

Meanwhile, we will keep buying the lowest price fuel possible, while he and all of us at CPL continue our efforts to stabilize fuel prices.

CONSUMER MARKET REPORT

COLLEGE STATION - Beef counters continue to be well stocked and forequarter cuts show most attractive prices, according to one consumer marketing education specialist.

"Greater consumer demands for beef hindquarters have raised prices on those cuts while lowering prices on forequarters," Mrs. Gwendolyne Clyatt, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A & M University System, said this week.

"Look for best beef buys on ground beef, round steak, chuck roasts and steaks, and liver.

"Pork supplies are usually lower in summer and the higher prices reflect this condition now. However, several pork cuts--smoked hams, loin cuts and the Boston butt--are among the better meat values," the specialist noted.

Poultry is another good buy. Whole and cut up fryers are priced low and the quality of the birds on the market is excellent, the specialist reported.

Fresh fruit items in best supply at most economical prices include oranges, bananas, nectarines, peaches, pineapples, plums, cantaloupe, honeydew melons and watermelons.

Best vegetable buys are cabbage, carrots, squash, okra, corn, radishes, green onions, and dry yellow onions, the specialist said.

CONSUMER WATCHWORDS: Cheese is a good bargain now because prices have dropped as a result of larger than usual supplies.

Try combining cheese with small portions of leftovers for a tasty and economical meal.

CLOTHING REFLECTS PERSONALITY

COLLEGE STATION - Clothing can be used as a clue to personality, one clothing specialist said.

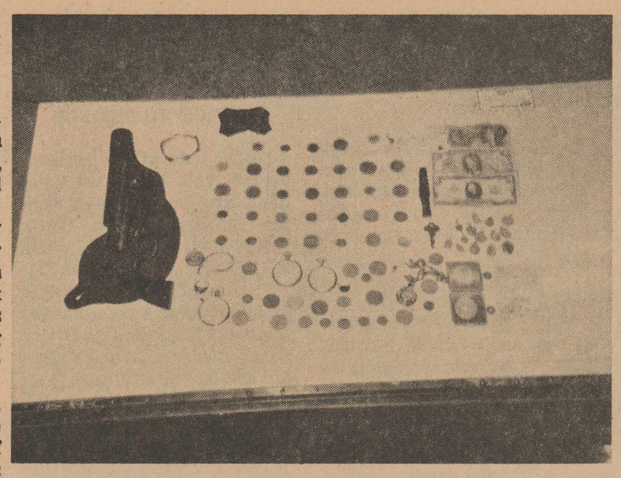

"People with certain personality characteristics tend to choose the same kinds of clothing and the same colors," explained Margret Ann Vanderpoorten, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A & M University System.

"People who are interested in clothes and have lots of them are often more sociable than those who have few clothes and little interest in them," she pointed out.

Warm colors such as red and yellow are often chosen by those who like entertaining and outdoor activities.

The blues and greens are preferred by people who like indoor activities more and enjoy being alone.

"Generally, people who like strong, clear colors also like other people around them and are outgoing, while those who favor pale or subdued colors often prefer quiet activities and are more independent," the specialist said.

Baumhofer Gets 5 Years for Burglary

Dale Eugene Baumhofer, age 27, of Joplin, Mo., was sentenced to 5 years at the Texas Department of Corrections for burglary, last week by the 36th District Court.

Baumhofer was charged with burglary of the Flea Market at Ann and Liberty Streets in Rockport on February 1, 1974.

Extensive investigation by the Rockport City Police, led to the identification of Baumhofer and to his eventual arrest in Corpus Christi. As a result of this investigation several thousands of dollars in stolen merchandise was recovered, and other burglary cases cleared up for the Corpus Christi Police.

Items taken from the Flea Market in Rockport, includes: watches, rings, old coins and money along with several weapons. Practically all items were recovered from several different pawn shops in Corpus Christi and individuals who had purchased them from Baumhofer.

Sgt. J. M. Hinojosa of the Rockport Police Dept. was commended by Chief Jim Craigmile for his excellent work and time spent on the case.

Baptist Group Return From Mexico Trip

Twenty-five people from the First Baptist Church of Rockport can be called either "wetbacks" or "foreign Missionaries." They much prefer the "missionary" disignation. The "wetback" name might fit because they had to wade the Rio Grande River last week to get back into the United States from the little village of Boquillas, Mexico, across from the Big Bend National Park. The young people and their sponsors worked with picks and shovels two days to provide clean water for the villagers, who also helped in the project. The pipeline runs from hot springs at the river for about two miles to the village.

The group from Rockport was the second to work on the project. A crew of workers from a Houston church began the project under the supervision of Roy Calloway, missionary along the Rio Grande. Other church groups will complete the pipeline and soon the villagers will have fresh, clean water for the first time in their history. The water they now drink is impure, causing sickness and death, especially among infants.

Leading the group and initiating the project was Gene Ferrell, Minster of Music and Youth at the church. Ferrell drove the new church bus and coordinated all the activities of the workers.

The group camped out of doors and ate meals cooked by Mrs. Mary Wright and Ray Longino. Miss Susan Hartzell and Mrs. Bobbie Mills accompanied the young people and worked sade by side with them. Boys making the trip were Benet Stewart, Bruce James, Mark Hoffman, Jay Longino, Bret Ashley, Bobby Close, Johnny Washburn, Jimmy Jordan, and Tom Bigham. Girls were Jenelle Stewart, Debbie Edler, Sandy Ingersoll, Debbie Fake, Sandy Odom, Cheryl Odom, Kim Wood, Rhonda Childs, Sherry Longino, Jo Ann Davidson, and Lillian Vargas, who also served as interpreter.

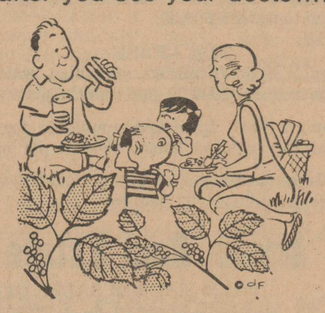

The Reverend Charles Fake, pastor of the church, went along with the young people and stated that he returned with a new sense of mission. "When you see people living in adobe houses with dirt floors, without electricity, water, or any conveniences, cooking outside on an open fire, it makes you aware that most people in the world are underfed and poorly housed. People who acknowledge Jesus Christ as Lord of their lives cannot ignore the needs of others. We in the United States are blessed with much, and we are answerable to God for the way we use it," the pastor said.

B.J. Crowley's HOROSCOPE

Week of July 28, 1974

CANCER--Those born under the sign of Cancer are emotional and sensitive. A gift of extra sensory perception seems to be more predominant with those of this sign. Best day of the week is usually Monday.

CANCER--June 21 to July 22--Stop living in a dream world. You must be more realistic about your goals. Much can be accomplished if you face reality.

LEO--July 23 to Aug. 22--Plan a solid future by adopting a sensible savings plan. Choose friends carefully.

VIRGO--Aug. 23 to Sept. 22--You find yourself in a position to get even with someone this week. Don't! Be forgiving..

LIBRA--Sept. 23 to Oct. 22--Stop projecting an image of over-confidence. The act turns most people off. You can make a great deal of headway in both friendship and business if you will just be yourself.

SCORPIO--Oct. 23 to Nov. 22--Sharpen your mind with a concrete reading program. Make a list of at least six books you have considered reading. If time is limited, read one chapter each evening before retiring.

SAGITTARIUS--Nov. 23 to Dec. 21--An exercise program is essential to your good health. Take a walk and discover the beauty in your surroundings,

CAPRICORN--Dec. 22 to Jan. 19--Take a rest and you can then come back to your work refreshed. A change of scene such as a weekend vacation will improve your outlook.

AQUARIUS--Jan. 29 to Feb. 18--Bow out of an uncomfortable situation as gracefully as possible, weighing your words carefully, so someone cannot easily misquote you.

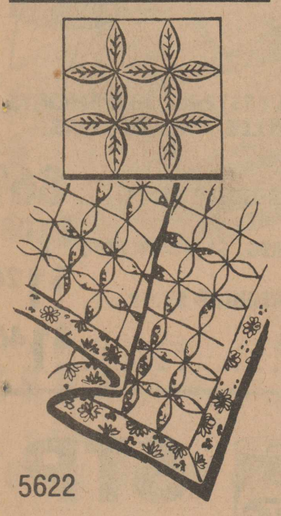

PISCES--Feb. 19 to March 20--Stick to one subject. With so much on your mind you are guilty of jumping from one subject to another in conversation.

ARIES--March 21 to April 20--Your personality sparkles this week. The time is right to promote your pet peoject.

TAURUS--April 21 to May 20--Stop insisting on having your own way all the time. You must consider the wishes of others if you wish to be happy.

GEMINI--May 21 to June 20--Financial risks could prove disastrous. Use extra caution in all business dealings.

FORMS OF ART TO CHOOSE

COLLEGE STATION - Artists produce many forms of art and the viewer may need some guides to the differences among those forms, one authority noted.

She's Anna Marie Gottschalk, housing and home furnishings specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A & M University System.

"Drawings are often exciting forms of art that can be purchased inexpensively," she said.

Different kinds of media--pencil, crayon, charcoal, pastel and ink--can be applied with pen or brush, usually on paper, she explained.

They can be found with rich value contrasts of black and white, carefully shaded shapes and forms, and the exciting use of color.

"Paintings commonly use watercolor or oil for their medium. Watercolor -- water soluble pigment -- is usually done on a heavy paper and is characterized by transparent wash effects and splashy, fresh look," the specialist said.

Oil paintings are usually done on canvas and styles range from a thick, textured paint surface to thin layers of color.

The specialist noted that a new type of pigment, acrylic, has characteristics of both watercolor and oil paint.

"It can be transparent and is water soluble in its original form but can also be thick and textured and is insoluble to water when dry," she explained.

Graphic prints include wood cuts and linoleum cuts, etching, lithographs and silk screen prints.

"Each of these have the common characteristic of being produced in quantity from an original plate. The number of prints from one plate varies, but the artist's title, signature and print numbers should be visible inside the mat or frame because they are considered a part of the work of art," Miss Gottschalk pointed out.

Textile art includes weaving, hooked rugs, knotted rugs, appliques, stitchery, macreme and textile printing.

These forms of art are usually designed for wall hangings, draperies, rugs, upholstery fabrics, screens, or other furnishings.

"Sculpture differs from drawings, paintings, prints and hangings in that it is considered three - dimensional and should be viewed from all sides.

"Some materials used in sculpture are wood, metal, and plaster. Each should be used in a way that enhances that material," she said.

Should wives wait for the barometer to rise before asking their husbands for that special favor?

There is a valid reason why this system, admitted folklore, is often a good one. It depends on the husband involved, to some degree, but it is a generally safe rule to follow.

A rising barometer makes us all feel better. For the husband with corns, bunions, old wounds or creaky bones, a low barometer affects his comfort and nerves. A drop of barometric pressure affects one mentally, and also one's nerves, by causing dehydration of the tissues of the body.

Thus, a high barometer means he will probably be feeling his best--other things being equal--and that's the time, girls, to break down his resistance!

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

Bertram S. Brown, M.D.
Director
National Institute of Mental Health

INDIVIDUAL DIFFERENCES

Hindu holy men recline comfortably on their beds of nails, and American teenagers "turn on" to house-shaking rock music.

For many of us the bed of nails hurts even in thought, and the high-decibel music drives us up the wall.

Some people enjoy the silent church before the service begins; others feel frustrated until they experience the sights and sounds of something happening.

People differ widely in their tolerance for pain and their need for sensory stimulation.

Clearly, one person's entertainment or relaxation is another's pain or discomfort.

Do the extremes of sensory preferences relate to mental illness? Some answers are emerging from research being done at the National Institute of Mental Health, of the Alcohol, Drub Abuse, and Mental Health Administration, U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. The studies focus on ways people react to their environment.

Using computers and sophisticated instrumentation in the study of brain-wave patterns, the researchers have found that some people respond positively to bright light flashes and loud sounds, while others get no kicks from such dramatic stimulation.

Outside the laboratory, those of the first type--the positive responders -- are generally found where the action is. The others find satisfaction in more quiet life styles.

Business and Government leaders, personnel specialists, and people in general have long been fascinated by individual differences in human beings. The various capacities, talents, and personality tendencies determine the type and level of functioning of individuals; collectively, these individuals determine the functioning of a society.

Since the ability to function well is a brief (though oversimplified) definition of mental health, the study of individual differences is relevant to mental illness which can result from breakdown in functioning.

Through their research on individual differences, scientists in the mental health field hope to gain better understanding of relationships between personality and environment that may contribute to mental illness or promote mental health.

HOW DO YOU BE A FRIEND

Who are your friends...what kinds of people do you find yourself wanting to make friends with, asks one specialist.

She's Dr. Jennie C. Kitching, family life education specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Your friends are probably those people who do the following things consistently and over a long period of time," Dr. Kitching said.

--Can be depended upon to do what they say they will.

--Go out of their way to help others through little acts of courtesies and consideration.

--Do not correct or laugh at other people's mistakes.

--Show respect for others by not talking behind other people's backs, gossiping or telling lies, or being sarcastic or flattering others, and by being considerate of religious and political beliefs when they differ from another person's.

--Are good listeners.

--Share honors and praise with those they work with--in a group or on a team.

--Don't talk a great deal about themselves or insist on having their own way all the time.

--Always acknowledge gifts, answer letters that call for an acknowledgement and express gratitude when kindliness is shown.
