Rockport council votes to keep claim to No Man's Land

By PAT BLAIR
Staff Writer

To the applause of some 30 to 40 residents of No Man's Land who crowded the council chamber Tuesday night, Rockport's city council voted not to relinquish its claim to the area between Rockport and Fulton as part of the city's extraterritorial jurisdiction.

The vote was 4-0 on a motion by City Alderman Murray McMillan — seconded by Alderman Betty Jean Ward — to reject a request from the Fulton town council that Rockport relinquish its extraterritorial jurisdiction (ETJ) claim to the area.

In making the motion, McMillan said, "I think if we relinquish our extraterritorial jurisdiction, we relinquish our responsibility to the voters." This drew applause from the audience as did the subsequent council vote.

The Fulton town council prior to Tuesday's meeting presented Rockport with petitions signed by 102 residents of the area between the two cities — popularly known as No Man's Land — seeking annexation into Fulton. This was accompanied by a letter from Fulton officials asking the city to release its ETJ claims on the area.

G. T. Lambert, a resident of No Man's Land, before the meeting Tuesday presented the Rockport council with a petition signed by 199 residents of the area who are against annexation by Fulton. Commenting on it, Lambert said, "We have 199 signatures against your 102."

"I have nothing against Fulton except they offer nothing I'm not getting now — except higher taxes," Lambert told Rockport officials. "My question is, if we were annexed by Fulton, what would we get? Rockport has more to offer."

Lambert told the city, "We were approached (on the question of annexation) with, 'Which (city) would you rather be in, Rockport or Fulton. They didn't tell us we had a third alternative, to remain as is. We have a preference to remain as is until Rockport takes us in.'"

Another resident of the area, Alma Hobson, told the council, "I have never been approached by either side to sign a petition." She said her only knowledge of events in the area is through the newspapers and added, "Not everyone has been polled in that area."

Ward assured the residents present that Rockport does not intend to annex No Man's Land and City Manager Herman Johnson, asked by McMillan to explain the annexation process, added his assurances that the city has no plans to annex the area.

"I've been with the city 23 years," Johnson said, "and the city has never talked about annexing No Man's Land. When a city annexes a

No incumbents appear

Three candidates for the position of Aransas County Navigation District commissioner addressed the membership of the Aransas County Taxpayers Association Tuesday evening to discuss their qualifications and the issues in the upcoming ACND election Aug. 13. None of the incumbent commissioners attended the meeting.

Fred Grupe, candidate for Precinct 1-1A told those present that the waterways, harbors and beaches in the area are important now and will continue to be important in the future. Grupe said that the policy of those currently serving on the navigation district board "seems to be not to do anything until it's too late and then to do half of what needs to be done or less." He went on to say that just because a certain plan of action costs less and will take care of the problem temporarily doesn't mean that it's safe or that it will do the job in the future.

Grupe stressed that the navigation district must work as a team, taking problems and assessing them, working in a businesslike manner to resolve them. He stated that he believes the ACND should be a self-sustaining entity and not a tax burden. He cited his experience in construction, marine construction, maintenance and marine maintenance as well as business as his qualifications for the position.

ACTA member Mitch Ammons asked Grupe where he would stand on the 40 percent homestead exemption that the taxpayers association is seeking. Grupe replied he would support the exemption.

Precinct 3 candidate Richard Hardy spoke next, telling voters that his primary concern is that the ACND is becoming an increasing tax burden. He said that since the district is income-producing, it should be an asset rather than a liability. Hardy said that his goal as a commissioner would be to see to it that the ACND becomes self-supporting.

Hardy urged everyone to vote regardless of their preferences for individual candidates. "Government ceases to exercise the right of the people if they refuse to vote," he quoted.

Ammons again asked if Hardy would be for or against the 40 percent homestead exemption. He replied that he supports any type of tax relief and said the county has a broadening tax base which should take some of the burden off the individual taxpayer.

Audience member Mavis Ponton asked Hardy for his position on the leasing of beach property as in the case of the Rockport Art Association leasing navigation district property for the establishment of an art museum. Hardy replied that he sees museums and such "as a community thing" and is not opposed to this type of arrangement. However, he did voice opposition to "private entities leasing through this program under which, if Rockport applies and is accepted, the city would be given a 100 percent grant from the government.

This money would, in turn, be loaned to a new or existing business, manufacturer or developer who would use the money in some manner that would decrease unemployment in the county "not only for the present but in the future," Johnson said.

The loan under this program is then to be repaid to the city, with interest, and the city could use 50 to 75 percent of the money returned from the borrower to fund capital improvements. Johnson said this money can be used for any type of capital improvement except a city hall or other public building.

The remaining 25 to 50 percent of the money returned by the borrower could be loaned to another new or existing business under the same terms as the first loan, Johnson continued. The city, he emphasized, would pay nothing back to the federal government.

Johnson added this grant is not guaranteed and that prior to applying for money under

ROCKPORT CITY MANAGER Herman Johnson outlines the steps taken by city and county officials in event of a hurricane during a hurricane preparedness meeting at the county courthouse in Rockport Wednesday evening. Story is on page 3b.

County gets good report on financial condition

Accountant Ray Harris pronounced Aransas County's financial condition sound as of Dec. 31, 1982, during the July 27 meeting of the Aransas County commissioners court.

Harris, of Harris, Havins & Company Certified Public Accountants of Sinton, went over the report page by page during the meeting and invited questions from the commissioners. Total county assets were listed at $5,620,000 while total liabilities were $3,057,000.

Aransas County Judge John D. Wendell announced a proposed plan for the allocation of $304,004 in federal revenue sharing funds. Wendell proposed that $100,000 be spent to repair the county jail, $50,000 would be allocated to the new courthouse fund, $45,504 to go for library repairs and possibly towards the building of a new public library, $100,000 for road equipment, $6,500 to the Aransas County Council on Aging, and $2,000 to the public library fund. He pointed out that no salaries were to be paid from these funds and that all monies would be put towards projects.

The commissioners voted to purchase, on a lease basis, a telephone system from Executone, which bid $240 per month for a new system. Southwestern Bell bid $500 per month for a similar system. The court plans to purchase a teleprinter for use in the county tax office but has deferred a decision pending bids from both companies.

The court approved a resolution sent by San Patricio County requesting a $26,624 grant from the State Criminal Justice Division to hire a court administrator and interpreter for the judicial district courts.

Two requests for permission to cross county roads for geophysical surveys of the area came from Western Geophysical of Victoria and Western Geophysical of Beeville. The Beeville firm plans to do seismographic testing in various parts of the county without drilling or use of explosives, and plans to secure the permission of the various property owners before testing on their property. The company's request was approved by the court.

The Victoria firm said it would pay the county $100 per shothole for testing in the vicinity of the Aransas County airport. In addition, the application stated that any and all damage resulting from the testing would be paid for by the company. A motion by Commissioner W.B. "Pete" Sanders and seconded by Commissioner Mike Womack to grant the request was approved.

The Town of Fulton requested county approval of its plan to locate the water tower on Palmetto Street within the town limits of Fulton. The water tower is currently one and a half blocks outside of the town limits. Fulton plans to request that Rockport release the water tower from its extraterritorial jurisdiction. Fulton needs the water tower within its corporate limits in order to obtain a lower key rating on its fire insurance premiums. The county gave its approval to the request.

A motion to amend the 1983 juvenile budget in the amount of $8,308 to hire a new probation officer for the remaining months of the year was approved. In addition, a new district judge will be included on the juvenile board. Wendell explained that the current probation officer has a larger caseload than the state will allow so another must be hired.

The court cited emergency action in purchasing a new stamp machine for the county for $4,632. According to Wendell, the machine the county has been using is broken beyond repair.

Cal Gas Corporation of Houston was granted its request to cross several county roads in Lamar to lay a gas line. Other applications to cross county roads included one by Thomas Spruill to cross Shell Ridge Road with a water and power line, and one by Michael C. Kaczmarik to cross Terry Street with a water line. All requests were approved.

Hearings, special meeting called on federal jobs grant proposal

Public hearings have been called for Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 8 and 9, on a proposal by Rockport city officials to file for a federal grant that will reduce unemployment in the county by loaning money to a business, manufacturer or developer.

The possibility of the grant, administered through the federal Urban Development program, was brought before the city council during Tuesday night's meeting at City Hall. The council called for public hearings to begin at 7 p.m. Monday, Aug. 8, and 6:45 p.m. the following night.

Rockport Mayor Burt Mills has called a special council meeting for 7 p.m. Monday, Aug. 1, to consider filing an application — after the Aug. 8 and 9 public hearings — for the 100 percent Urban Development Action Grant. Proposed use of the funds is a loan to the Baker-Haldeman Development Corp. in relation to their Nautical Towers project.

City Manager Herman Johnson said some $244 million in federal aid money is available through this program under which, if Rockport applies and is accepted, the city would be given a 100 percent grant from the government.

This money would, in turn, be loaned to a new or existing business, manufacturer or developer who would use the money in some manner that would decrease unemployment in the county "not only for the present but in the future," Johnson said.

The loan under this program is then to be repaid to the city, with interest, and the city could use 50 to 75 percent of the money returned from the borrower to fund capital improvements. Johnson said this money can be used for any type of capital improvement except a city hall or other public building.

The remaining 25 to 50 percent of the money returned by the borrower could be loaned to another new or existing business under the same terms as the first loan, Johnson continued. The city, he emphasized, would pay nothing back to the federal government.

Johnson added this grant is not guaranteed and that prior to applying for money under beach property for money-making ventures."

Precinct 4 candidate Ranous Blankert spoke next, saying that the ACND plays a similar role to that of a landlord — buying, selling and maintaining property. He told those present that he has a lot of time on his hands and that he can offer the navigation district some of his expertise in the areas of management and maintenance.

Blankert advocated the distribution of electricity at Rockport Harbor through meters to make sure it is distributed fairly. In addition, he said he has studied the navigation district minutes of the past two years in an effort to examine some of the problems the district has been having.

When Ammons asked Blankert the same question he had asked the other two candidates, he said he supported the idea of the 40 percent homestead exemption.

Fulton authorizes funds for town parade float

FULTON — A motion by Alderwoman Pat Loflin and seconded by Alderwoman Katherine McLester to allocate $5,500 of the town's funds for a town parade float was unanimously approved by the town council during a special meeting at 7 p.m. Tuesday, July 26.

Fulton Mayor L.E. Casterline told council members that attorney Gene Garcia, who was not present at the meeting, advised that town funds could be used to purchase the float. According to Secretary Lucille Hinson, Garcia said that money may be used from any unallocated or miscellaneous funds. Hinson said that Garcia had told her that Corpus Christi, Aransas Pass, Portland and Gregory have all purchased town floats in this manner.

Before the meeting adjourned, one woman in the audience asked ACTA President Willis Pfeifer, "Am I correct that none of the navigation district commissioners which are in office came to talk to us?" When Pfeifer assured her she was correct, she replied, "Well, that's kind of an insult to the people's intelligence."

During the organization's business meeting, a nominating committee consisting of J.C. Harlan, Kathryn Winkelman, Bob Stranahan and Florence Samson was approved to bring the organization a slate of four directors and four officers at the September business meeting.

A motion by Harlan and seconded by Blas Ramirez to appoint former ACTA President Mitch Ammons to represent the association during the appraisal district's budget hearing

See Candidates, page 8a

Alderwoman Lynelle Hunt asked Hinson how much the town has in unallocated funds to which Hinson said close to $6,000. A Corpus Christi firm had told Alderman Leslie Cole Sr. several weeks ago that a float would cost approximately $5,500 to build, including a trailer. The council has not yet engaged a firm to do the work. A committee on design was set up a last week's special meeting and will continue to work on a design for the float.

Annexation proceedings west of the town limits officially began at Tuesday night's meeting. The territory to be annexed consists of Block 61, Fulton outlots 106 through 118. Two public hearings will be held, one at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 16, at the town hall, and the Congress seems unperturbed by tremendous waste

It's a good thing most Americans pay their share of income taxes. If they didn't, the federal government could not write off billions of dollars wasted annually by the bureaucracy and still continue to meet its obligations.

Almost every day newspapers publish shocking accounts of waste in nearly every level of government, but major waste in the federal establishment is in the military.

A senior Defense Department official estimates shoddy work by military contractors increases the cost of some weapons and military gear by 50 percent.

This happens despite the fact the Defense Logistics Agency has 6,450 inspectors. Their job is to monitor quality in more than a quarter of a million contracts.

A Pentagon spokesman said 50 percent weapons cost overrun is conservative. The cost of many military items from uniforms to missiles and sophisticated electronic equipment is sometimes up to 50 percent higher because contractors fail to make things right the first time.

Maybe the Pentagon ought to set up a review board to force contractors to perform. Similar systems work well in the private sector.

The Navy should be embarrassed because it paid Sperry Corp. $100 or more last year for several simple aircraft simulator parts that could have been bought for 4 or 5 cents in the government supply system.

The Naval Air Systems Command in St. Louis bought four parts for aircraft Radar Test Stations from McDonnell

Douglas, paying $417,000 more than the price listed for the same items in the federal supply system.

These examples of widespread waste and inefficiency were uncovered by Pentagon auditors. The revelations have so far failed to shock congress into doing anything about waste. It has been going on for years.

In addition, the General Accounting Office issued a 22-page report criticizing purchasing practices at two Air Force logistical centers, a San Antonio facility and a similar operation at Tinker Air Force Base in Oklahoma City.

GAO said officials at the huge Air Logistics Center at Kelly Air Force Base in San Antonio squandered $90.5 million by ignoring defense contractors' ability to deliver parts ahead of schedule.

This parting note: Sen. William Proxmire gave his "Golden Fleece of the Month Award" for June to the National Institute of Education for "flagrant failure to keep tab on a $900,000 government contract."

Setback unfortunate

After trying at least twice before in the past several months, U.S. senators voted themselves a 15 percent pay raise and placed a 30 percent ceiling on outside earned income.

The debate was lively and punctuated by cries of "corruption," "rich boys" and demagogues before senators voted 49-47 on the bill that will pay them the same as House members — $69,800 a year, effective July 1.

Ten senators, mostly Republicans, switched votes at the last minute. Had one of the switchers stuck with a no vote, the resulting tie would have crushed the pay raise.

The final vote was on a compromise offered by Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., came after the Senate voted down by big margins the two larger increases to $100,000 and to $80,000 — which also would have prohibited outside income.

The Senate displayed callous disregard for the plight of millions of unemployed Americans, many of whom are not even eligible to receive unemployment compensation.

Senators would have provoked less criticism had they waited until the nation returns to better economic times.

We better do it ourselves

Editor's note: The Live Oak Philosopher on his grassburr farm has found out about the ailments of the Statue of Liberty, his letter this week reveals.

Dear Editor:

The topic for discussion this week is the sad plight of the Statue of Liberty. She's got a hole in her arm and a plant is growing out of it.

Because of sloppy reporting in New York, the writer who reported this didn't say what kind of plant it is. It's something that needs to be looked into.

With kooks using everything from flower pots to backyard gardens, from windowsills to national forests, to grow the stuff, how do we know some far-out kook isn't using that hole in the arm of the Statue of Liberty to grow marijuana? You might say, aw just some bird dropped a harmless seed there. A likely story. Let's get to the bottom of this.

Not only does the copper-plated 97-year-old lady have a hole in her arm, she's coming unriveted. She's held together by 300,000 rivets, and 30,000 of them have come loose. Moreover, investigators have found her head is 2 feet out of line. They say it's due to a design error from the very start, not from holding up that torch for so long.

This brings up a matter of foreign policy. As all high school graduates — except those who can't read — and many teachers know, the statue was given to the United States by France.

Now, suppose we had given the Eiffel Tower to France and something went wrong with it. Wouldn't France's foreign policy demand that we come over and fix it? Or if we'd given Big Ben to England and it started losing two hours a day and even if it was months before the British noticed it, wouldn't they still clamor for us to fix it?

Probably so. But if the money to repair the Statue of Liberty is raised, and it ought to be, we'd better do it ourselves.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

The golden goose's nest

A trip to Grand Prairie

By Ted Norman
Managing editor

On July 25, 1925 a young, dashing freshman medical student at the Baylor College of Medicine (Dallas) rented a Model T Ford, picked up his beautiful young girlfriend, a nursing student at the same campus, and spirited her off to Grand Prairie where they were joined in holy matrimony. Last weekend a retired doctor and a retired nurse came to my Rockport home and we celebrated the 58th anniversary of the trip to Grand Prairie.

Eight years after the Grand Prairie trip, that medical student and nursing student became my parents, struggled through the great depression, World War II, two children, three grandchildren and several aborted attempts at a medical practice.

The trip in the Model T Ford took about two hours, the results of the trip have lasted two lifetimes.

Because nursing students could not get married while in school the event had to border on a clandestine operation. My father has convinced me he knows how to do clandestine operations.

They were, as they are now, a strikingly handsome couple. Lorene, the perfect image of a Florence Nightingale and Earle, the handsome mustached young medical student. It would have been a pleasure to have watched them motor off in their rented automobile to be wed.

The marriage produced a dedicated couple who had one son and a daughter. The daughter gave them three grandchildren. The son gave them many headaches and perhaps a few disappointments but they have never complained or voiced objections, only showed their love and guidance.

The young bride didn't know the difficult task that lay ahead for her or the demanding role she would be cast in as the wife of a doctor and Army officer, the mother of a beautiful daughter and an asthmatic son who, try as he may, could not stay out of trouble.

Her days were filled with consoling a struggling young doctor and tending to the many cuts, bruises and broken bones the son brought to her.

She began her new life as a mother struggling to raise her two children under the restriction of the abject poverty of a struggling medical practice in East Texas. Later her doctor husband moved to Corrigan, a small East Texas sawmill town where he set up what he hoped would be a rewarding medical practice that would provide his family with an income after the long years in college and medical school.

Corrigan could not support a doctor, it was 1928 and there just wasn't any money in town. The practice failed.

They packed up and took their show to West Texas where, after the birth of a daughter they came face to face with the same financial problem.

Many times after a long tiring trip in an old Ford to deliver a baby in a West Texas rain storm, the doctor would arrive back home with a chicken or a sack of potatoes as payment for his services.

If anyone did pay in cash the money was used to put more gas in the old Ford.

Just when he thought there might be a chance of making a go of the medical practice the stock market crashed, the practice followed closely behind.

There were days in CCC camps, then a son came along and the family continued to struggle, as did most every other family, through the long dark years of the great depression. Somehow, thanks to the strength of that young doctor and that beautiful nurse, they made it.

After the depression, Lorene thought perhaps good days might be just around the corner, but on Dec. 7, 1941 she saw those days, when she hoped to have some time with her husband, disappear when the doctor was shipped off to Central America and the African Theatre to help those who were fighting a war.

She worked as a nurse, a mother and block warden during the war. She drove across country in an old Dodge with her two children to have a fleeting moment with her doctor when he returned from one war area only to return to another.

Finally the war ended, the daughter married and the son left home to fight a war in Korea and they were alone for perhaps the first time.

The troubles didn't depart though. Lorene, with Earle by her side, has had to struggle with two operations for cancer, the latest one only a few months ago when the family gathered at her hospital bedside to be with her in yet another struggle.

Earle finally got to practice medicine and do the thing he loves to do, help other people. He has done that all his life. They helped educate half of the Normans in Texas plus a few with other names.

Because the 25th fell on a Monday, four of us, Earle, Lorene, a friend of mine and myself had a celebration over the weekend.

We had a seafood dinner at a restaurant in Rockport that is their favorite, and as we departed the restaurant a full moon greeted the couple as it rose over Aransas Bay, where the doctor had spent many seasons hunting or fishing.

The evening was continued on the deck of my home as my friend and I listened to stories of the past and sipped a little warm wine, my dad smoked his cigar and told of days in West Texas, Africa and Central America.

Lorene talked of those days in Corrigan when dad brought twins into the world. They were dying and he didn't know what to do for them. He returned to college and found out what to do, the twins lived.

Watching my dad smoke his big cigar and gaze at the moonlight on Aransas Bay, I thought back of the times he tried to make a hunter and fisherman out of his only son. He failed at the task and later joined in his son's belief that hunting wasn't all that important in a man's life.

He told of the first time, when he was 10, another doctor made a call to his father's West Texas farm to treat a member of the family. That was the first car he ever saw.

As I watched them drive off Sunday in the little brown compact Chevrolet with a ding in the door and a broken tail light, I remember he once told me he wanted to be a doctor so he could own a car like the doctor that came to the farm. The car lost its importance in his life years ago.

All the times weren't bad, Lorene still remembers the bright yellow convertible she and her young doctor owned.

It was really great having a chance to help my parents celebrate the 58th anniversary of their trip to Grand Prairie.

Results of poll look good

Job performance improves

If the economy continues to improve, it will enhance President Reagan's chances of re-election if he decides to run. There has been no official announcement, but there are indications he will be a candidate.

The President can take heart that more people approve his performance now than in March, according to a Time magazine poll.

Also, a Newsweek survey revealed 61 percent of Americans think Reagan's 1980 campaign staff was wrong in obtaining documents from President Carter's White House.

And 82 percent of 610 responses in a telephone survey conducted by the Gallup organization said they knew about the issue, which is being investigated by the FBI. Fifty-nine percent of those who said they knew of the document flap believed it would become a major campaign issue.

However, 53 percent of the total number polled said they think secret intelligence is gathered regularly in political campaigns, and 32 percent said they believe it is done infrequently.

Fifty-nine percent of those polled by Times said the economy was improving, and 43 percent said Reagan was responsible for it.

Results of the Time poll were almost exactly opposite those in another survey last March, when 55 percent gave the president low ratings and 45 percent gave him high ratings.

Austin at Wharf

Only a few weeks ago this column urged enforcement of the Monroe Doctrine in Central America and the Caribbean and suggested that this nation stop the flow of arms from Russia and Cuba to the areas. Well, the President has at least made a move in that direction by deploying a battle group to Central American waters. This hurrah gives my detractors another chance to cry "warmonger." Sorry, I have little or no patience with idiots.

A photo in one of my daily newspapers the other day showed a picture, speaking of idiots, of a group in Austin standing atop an overpass and displaying a sign which read: "U.S. Out of El Salvador." They were identified as members of CIPES (Committee in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador). Immediately I wondered if the kooks and weirdos of the '60s and '70s might not be coming back to life again.

James Kilpatrick last week defended the vote of Vice President Bush when he broke the tie in the Senate over moving ahead with production of nerve gas. It was an agonizing decision and the Bush vote gave it the go-ahead.

As you might guess I too approve, agonizingly. Let those who disagree with this and the two preceding paragraphs hear Kilpatrick's concluding paragraph. He quoted Gibbon: "The Antonines preserved peace by constantly preparing for war." Often enough over the years I have deplored the circumstance of so few people who are familiar with Gibbon's "Rise and Fall of the Roman Empire," I'd even settle for familiarity with any of the condensed versions of the rather massive tone.

Meanwhile, I'll wager and offer long odds that the well-intentioned know-nothings atop that overpass have never heard of Gibbon. After all, wasn't it only last week that I noted that sizable numbers of Americans think Central America means Middle Western United States.

Trouble in this country, and it may well someday lead to its "fall", is that too much is forgiven because of good intentions.

Here now, before I am taken to task, I offer a rather obvious observation on preserving peace by preparing for war. Straight off it is a terrible observation, more, a horrible indictment of the human race, yet it is a circumstance to which we must face up, unless we are so audacious as to deny history.

As Kilpatrick notes, we should understand what nerve gas is, a colorless, odorless, almost undetectable compound, invented first by the Germans in the 1930s. Now no poison gas was used during World War II, however, only because the Allies sent word to the Germans that if they used gas we would retaliate in kind. Of this I am intimately, personally familiar, but that is another story. Suffice for present day circumstances, following WWII, the U.S., Britain and Russia divided the German stockpile. We dumped ours into the sea. The Russians had other ideas.

Since then, for the past 40 years, the Soviets have worked hard, gone all out to further develop nerve gas weaponry. We, it seems, are just getting into the act, planning to at least meet Russian capabilities. That is what the tie vote broken by Bush was all about.

It might have been just another story — three San Antonio youths charged with criminal mischief, a second degree felony. After plea bargaining with the district attorney payment of restitution was agreed upon. Well, that happens every day, but here there's a rub.

The precinct constable at Port Aransas where the incident occurred received five telephone calls urging that he drop the charges. The calls came from three United States Congressmen and two Texas State Representatives. Plaudits to the constable. He declined. In my view further plaudits would go to the constable if he were to reveal the names of the elected officials who sought to influence him. One is left to wonder, what influence the parents, guardians or the chaperone who accompanied the youths must have upon publicly elected officials who would ask a law enforcement officer to ignore his duty?

Isn't this just as serious as the recent sex offenses committed by two other Congressmen? Or one might ask, to what greater extent might the Congressmen and State Legislators be influenced in the interest of their supporters, to use a kindly word? After all, the Port Aransas incident might be easily dismissed as trifling by comparison.

Naturally other questions come to mind, although of less importance. The "youths" involved, one described as a minor, were accompanied by a female adult "chaperone" who offered to pay damages which were first estimated to be over $10,000, but finally came to around $3,000.

Usually, within my experience, chaperones are provided for young unmarried females, not males of an age to be prosecuted. In any event I've always understood that the first duty of a chaperone is to see that all her charges have gone beddy-bye before she retires herself. And so on.

Finally, were it not for the circumstance of the constable being contacted by telephone by high government officials, rather than by letter, I should say it would be his firm duty to reveal their names. There is already too much hanky-panky from on high.

RFTA sponsors 'Same Time, Next Year'

"Same Time, Next Year," the romantic comedy about a 25-year-long love affair, will be presented Aug. 18 at the Rockport-Fulton High School Auditorium. Bernard Slade's blockbuster hit will play for one night only with the curtain going up at 8 p.m.

Penny Roseboom and Adam Scanzh of the nationally acclaimed Alpha Omega Players will star as lovers who are married, but not to each other. The entire action of "Same Time, Next Year" takes place in the same guest cottage of a country inn in Northern California. During the 25 years covered in the six scenes of the play, the couple spend a weekend there every succeeding year.

The Alpha Omega Players are the performing arm of the Repertory Theater of America which is based right here in Rockport. Each year the three touring companies cover about 50,000 miles each, playing one-night stands in communities from Maine to California and parts of Canada.

Because of their flexibility, they will often perform in a room that was not intended to be a theater. The company has performed in an outdoor amphitheater in California and a sports arena in Florida. They have played an airplane hangar in Pennsylvania and once, in 1969, played "Spoon River Anthology" in a graveyard. Having the advantage of the new high school auditorium facilities, "Same Time, Next Year" promises to be a fine example of the company's work.

Tickets for "Same Time, Next Year" may be purchased from members of the Rockport-Fulton Tourist Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Caradine, former residents of Palm Harbor, sent invitations to many of their friends here to help them celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary July 20.

Allied Live Oak Bank hosted an informal reception July 17 for artist Michael Frary, benefitting the Rockport Art Association. Frary is a full professor of art at the University of Texas. He works with mixed mediums and has earned more than 100 art awards, purchase prizes and honorable mentions. One of his watercolors was selected by the National Gallery of Art for presentation by former President and Mrs. Lyndon Johnson to the New Zealand Prime Minister and his wife. The Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C., has also acquired one of his watercolors. Prominent guests for this reception from out-of-town included Mr. and Mrs. George Seagert of Houston, Ruth Delmar Sullivan, Eileen D. Keenan and Mrs. H.D. McCowan, all of Corpus Christi. Representing the Texas Assembly of Arts was Mr. and Mrs. Jim McBee, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Fraser, Mrs. Jerome Taras of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. George S. Nalle Jr. of Austin, Jean Brac of Austin, Judge and Mrs. Wells Stewart of Corpus Christi; Lawrence Wood of Refugio, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fisher of Breckenridge, Colo., Maude and Bill Ellis of Port Aransas, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Judson of San Antonio and Mary Lewis Kleberg of Kingsville.

Last weekend Betty Thomas entertained her friend, Gerri Kislung, of Corpus Christi with a dinner party in her honor.

Frances Bailey stopped in Rockport on her way back home to California. She stayed with her son, Frank, his wife, Kathy, and granddaughter Amy. Frances has been to Europe five times booking assignments for the Stockton, Calif., Chorale Singing Group.

CONGRATULATIONS! Rev. and Mrs. Barrett Renfro welcomed the arrival of their first son, Daniel Paul, born July 20 in Spohn Hospital. Daniel weighed 6 pounds 12 ounces. Maternal grandparents are Col. and Mrs. Paul Dillon of San Antonio. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Barrett Renfro Sr. of Carrollton.

Rev. and Mrs. Boyce Laqua have returned from a "worthwhile and interesting" vacation of nine days to Israel, Jordan and Cairo, Egypt.

Mae Jackel Willetts and Blanche Metcalf have returned from a week-long trip to Bandera, where they attended a Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints conference.

Betty and Louis Willetts have returned from a two-week trip to visit their son, Dan, and his family in Virginia Beach, Va. Last Sunday a miscellaneous bridal shower was held for Laura Fisher, bride-elect of George Green, in the Fellowship Hall at the Church of Christ. Hostesses were Glenda Blankenship, Margie Lake, Sissie Sharp, Diana Moore and Martha Alexander. The bridal colors of light blue and white were used on the serving table that held a centerpiece arrangement of wedding bells. Punch and cake were served the 40 guests. Laura is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clouis Fisher and George is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Green, all of Rockport. The wedding will take place Aug. 27 at the Rockport Church of Christ.

Debbie Fake was the honoree of a miscellaneous bridal shower given by some members of the First Baptist Church last Saturday in the Fellowship Hall. A white lace tablecloth centered with a blue floral arrangement was used on the serving table that held a decorated cake and punch. Debbie is the bride-elect of Rick Hamm and the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Charles Fake of Rockport. Rick is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hamm. The wedding will take place at the church Aug. 13.

Louise and Frank Smith spent a day in San Marcos visiting Louise's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Donnell.

Sally Calhoun has returned from a two-week visit to West Texas where she visited relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bailey have their granddaughter, Jean Pringle, of Houston visiting them this weekend.

Billy Eveson is in San Antonio for two weeks serving on a pit crew for modified stock car races.

Janelle Eveson and her two nieces, Evannia and Celeste Garner, have returned from a two-week stay in Asheville, N.C.

Young Anne Ogle had an early sixth birthday party Tuesday, July 26, at Nature's Way Day Care Center. A round cake with a heart on top covered with endeared herself to me by promptly doing just that. Pat says she loves to cook and collect recipe books.

One tip she shared with me was her own idea of substituting applesauce for mayonnaise in tuna salad. She said that she had mixed a large bowlful of tuna salad one day and belatedly discovered that she was out of mayonnaise and out of desperation used the applesauce instead. Since many of us use chopped apples in our salad and as many more of us are concerned with added nutrition, it sounds like not only a good idea nutrition-wise, but taste-wise as well. Personally, I would delete the use of the chopped apples if I were using applesauce to replace the mayonnaise.

FRIED CORN STICKS
1½ cups yellow cornmeal
1 teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 large egg
2 tablespoons light cream
Butter-flavored Crisco, for frying

Combine and sift all dry ingredients. Beat egg and cream together. Add boiling water a little at a time and mix, repeating until you have a stiff dough.

Use about 1 tablespoon at a time and roll into sticks. Use a heavy skillet and about 1/8-inch shortening and fry until golden brown. Drain on paper towels.

BARBECUE SAUCE
1 cup catsup
½ cup Worcestershire sauce
¼ cup butter
1 cup strong, black coffee
1 tablespoon each of pepper, salt and sugar
Combine all the ingredients and simmer for 30 minutes. Brush on barbecued meat.

BATTER-FRIED WIENERS
1 cup sifted flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
¾ cup yellow, coarse

cornmeal
1 tablespoon sugar
1 large egg
¾ cup milk
2 tablespoons melted shortening
16 all-meat wieners

Mix all of the ingredients and dip the wieners in the batter. Gently place them in deep, hot fat and fry until they are golden brown. Good brushed with barbecue sauce.

Thanks, Pat, for the helpful hint and for sharing some of your recipes with our readers. Any of you who wish to contribute will please do us that honor by sending your recipes to me in care of The Pilot.

Blood test no longer required

According to Aransas County Clerk Val Jean Eaton, a new state law will no longer require blood tests before obtaining a marriage license. The new law is scheduled to take effect Aug. 29.

Eaton also announced that the fee for birth and death certificates will increase from the current $3 to $5 on Sept. 1.

Bob Krueger weds Kathleen Tobin

Former Ambassador at large to Mexico Bob Krueger of New Braunfels married Kathleen Tobin of Bandera on Friday, July 29, at Saint Mark's Episcopal Church in San Antonio. A wedding reception followed at the Old Ursuline Academy.

Tobin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Freeman Tobin of Bandera. She received her BA degree in English literature from Texas A&M where she was president of her sorority, Kappa Kappa Gamma. She was a legislative assistant to Congressman Sam Hall in Washington, D.C., from 1980 to 1981 and was public relations coordinator for Gill Savings Association in San Antonio until recently.

Krueger is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Arlon Krueger of New Braunfels. He received his BA from Southern Methodist University, his MA from Duke University, Durham, N.C., and his PhD from Oxford University in England. He was professor of English literature for 12 years at Duke, where he also served as Vice Provost and Dean of Arts and Sciences. He represented the 21st district of Texas in Congress from 1975 to 1979. He is a candidate for the U.S. Senate in 1984.

Matron of honor was Tobin's sister, Martha Bersch of Houston, and her sister, Ann Tobin, of Bandera was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Patricia Tobin of Houston; Dianne Tobin of Bandera; Shannon Smith of Houston; Lynn Morrow of College Station; Janet Anderson of Dallas; Lesley Chidgey of San Antonio; Suzy Wilbanks of Norman, Okla.; Jan Hevenor of San Antonio; and Pat Clarey of Washington, D.C. Junior bridesmaids were the bride's nieces, Suzanne and Kara Tobin, and the flower girls were Mindy and Amy Tobin.

Best man was Jim Land of Crockett. Serving as groomsmen were Jack Warren of Houston; Roy Spence, Garry Mauro, Tom Henderson and Marc Campos of Austin; Bob Slaughter and Dan Dutko of Washington, D.C.; Michael (Buzz) Rochelle of Dallas; Frank Pool of San Angelo; and Lukin Gilliland Jr. of San Antonio. Ushers were Jon Massey of Washington, D.C., and the bride's five brothers, Don F. Tobin Jr. of Lafayette, La.; Tim, Phillip and Mark Tobin of Bandera, and, Patrick Tobin of Houston.

The couple took a wedding trip to Hawaii, after which they will live in the Krueger home in New Braunfels.

Hairstylists attend workshop

Some 25 hairstylists attended a workshop on men's and ladies' hair color at Hair People in Corpus Christi on Monday, July 25.

Rockport hairstylists attending the workshop included Jerry Iles and Pat Smith of Jerry's Hair Design.

The workshop was under the direction of Redken representative Jerry Saunders of Dallas.

Travel Tips from the Travel Gallery

CHRISTMAS IN JULY

Think Christmas now, as it is indeed time to make your Holiday vacation plans. Making your reservations now for travel in December will enable you to take advantage of the airlines "Super Saver" rates in effect at the present time. There are a limited number of these discounted rates per flight and of course with the extra influx of travel during the Holiday Season it is important to make your reservations early to insure you and your family the least expensive rates available.

If you are considering Amtrak this year for your Holiday transportation it is also necessary to reserve your space early. Amtrak has terrific family plan rates available which can save you a substantial amount. The head of the family pays full fare, spouse is half price and children pay only quarter fare. There are sleeper roomettes and bedrooms also available for an additional fee if desired. The Amtrak service departs from San Antonio every Tuesday, Friday and Sunday. Give me a call and I can quote you fares to all destinations.

How about a Cruise? You can spend Christmas Day and New Year's Eve cruising the Clear Waters of the Caribbean or the Romantic Mexican Riviera aboard a luxurious ship. Excellent space is still available for various departures in December including Dec. 24 and 25 for 7 and 8 night cruises. A $150.00 deposit will hold your cabin until November.

Perhaps skiing the slopes of Colorado, a warm fire, and a hot glass of wine is your idea for this Holiday Season. Our new agent Julie Howland, is from Colorado, and an avid skier. She has planned many vacation packages and can advise you in many areas. Condominiums are at a premium at most ski resorts, so check with Julie now for availability.

December 25 falls on a Sunday this year and is only 148 days away. Call today for prices and availability to your vacation destinations.

Revival begins at church picnic

A church picnic at the Big Tree in Lamar will launch a five-day revival at Rockport's First Baptist Church beginning this weekend.

Events will start at 5:30 p.m. Saturday, July 30, with recreational activities, followed by the picnic at 7:30 p.m. Each family or group attending has been asked to bring enough fried chicken for themselves and a few more, plus a salad, vegetable or dessert. Revival services, conducted by evangelist Emory Gadd, will begin at 8:30 p.m. The revival will continue at the church Sunday with services at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. Monday through Wednesday, a brunch for the church youth will be held at 11 a.m. and evening services will begin for the public at 7:30 p.m. all three days.

Finding God through prayer

By the Rev. Wayne Paff,
Pastor,

Peace Lutheran Church
Have you ever noticed that the Bible is always pushing prayer? We are encouraged to pray constantly, to pray like children, to ask, to seek, and to knock. Have you ever wondered why?

Jesus when he taught his disciples to pray points out that prayer speaks of our relationship to God, that we need Him and that we can be assured that He is close to us.

The Shepherd's staff

One thing is for sure, says Jesus in Luke 11:1-13: God Wants Our Prayers. God wants to hear us and he wants to notice us. After all, as Jesus said: He is a Father, a Father who is willing to give of Himself. And we are privileged to know that He is the "Daddy" of our Lord Jesus Christ. God indeed wants us to have a relationship with him.

And when God answers our prayers, He gives that gift — the gift of Himself through the Holy Spirit. And that makes a big difference for our lives. For when we pray, the Spirit lets our trust grow and the Spirit lets us receive God's love. Isn't that what we seek most of all — to know we are loved?

So when you pray — don't sell your relationship short with God by asking, seeking, knocking only for the gifts, when prayer will allow you to have the Gift-giver in person. For when you pray, say "Dear Daddy" — for you are His children through Jesus Christ.

OUTDOOR GAMES AS WELL as indoor activities highlighted Vacation Bible School at Rockport's First Baptist Church this past week. Some 141 children age 4 years through sixth grade level were enrolled in this year's program, compared to 113 last summer, according to First Baptist Church Minister of Education Dale Pogue. (Photo by Pat Blair)

MONTE SINAI CHURCH of Rockport will be inaugurated in services at 3:30 p.m. Saturday, July 30. The church is located at 3000 S. Doughty off Hwy. 35 and will serve the congregation of the Unified Pentecostal Local Church here. The Rev. Antonio Vega is pastor and will conduct Saturday's dedication services. The local church has around 60 members and has been meeting in the home of one of the congregation. Services are at 9:45 a.m. and 6 p.m. Sundays, 7 p.m. Tuesdays. Bible study is at 7 p.m. Thursdays.

Methodist women prepare for bazaar

Women of First United Methodist Church in Rockport are busy with preparations for their annual Fall Bazaar scheduled this year for Wednesday, Nov. 9, at the church.

A bazaar workshop was held Tuesday, July 26, and another is set for Aug. 30. At least 50 women are involved in making the crafts projects, canned goods and baked goods that will be offered in the bazaar.

A new feature of the bazaar this year will be a "white elephant" booth.

The religious community

Breakfast planned

A "Dutch treat" breakfast for the congregation of Rockport's First Presbyterian Church will be held at 8:30 a.m. Sunday, Aug. 7, at Charlotte Plummer's Seafare Restaurant.

Members of the church who plan to attend are asked to call their reservations to the church office, 729-6251, by Monday, Aug. 3. Anyone needing transportation is asked to call the church office for arrangements.

The breakfast is hosted by Jim and Edith Crusier.

Seekers Cluster meets

The Seeker's Cluster of Rockport's First United Methodist Church will meet at 9:30 a.m. Thursday, Aug. 4.

The Cluster, a small group of women in the church, visits those who, because of age or other reasons, are physically unable to attend church. Meetings are held in the homes of the shut-ins.

City accepts Allied Bank petition for annexation

A letter from Tim Gilles, president of Allied Live Oak Bank, asking for annexation of the bank into Rockport was read and accepted by Rockport's city council during their meeting Tuesday night.

No further action could be taken at this time. At a later meeting, the council will consider instituting annexation proceedings, which will include setting dates for two public hearings.

The first workshop for consideration of the city's 1983-84 budget was called during Tuesday's session. The workshop will begin at 3 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 2, at City Hall.

Final approval was given to ordinances that will:

- Grant a special use permit to the Rockport Art Association to locate the O'Connor Home on Rockport Beach for use as an art center.
- Rezone Lot 29, Block 1, of Rockport Country Club Estates Unit 1-A to allow construction of multi-family dwelling units.
- Grant a special use permit to Bill Walston and James L. Anderson Jr. for location of a double-wide mobile home inside

Rockport city limits for residential use.

— Annex the 15.131-acre Unit 1-A of Rockport Country Club Estates into city limits.

The council voted to accept an appraisal report submitted by Sidney H. Smith III for a 400-foot-long portion of Live Oak Street between 2nd and 3rd streets and offer that property to adjoining property owners at the appraised value of $9,600.

A request by Western Geophysical for permission to conduct a Vibroseis geophysical survey on Cherry Street to Linden to the city limits and on Market to 881 was approved. Purpose of the survey is to look for possible signs of oil or gas.

Bids were opened for purchase by the city of a two-ton truck and the council moved to award the bid to the apparent low bidder — Commercial Motors with a bid of $16,979.63 for a 1984 vehicle — provided it meets city specifications. Also bidding on the vehicle was Bradford Pontiac with an offer of $19,186.30.

The council gave first reading of a proposed ordinance increasing the city's mowing fees from a $25 to a $40 minimum.

Approval was given for purchase of an engine analyzer (cost $2,995) for use by the city mechanic in repairing city vehicles.

An increase in the Texas Municipal Retirement Service, in line with the TMRS Act adopted by the State Legislature, was approved.

A request by David Rittiman for a two weeks' extension on the permit allowing him to anchor his sailboat in Little Bay was approved.

FIREMEN BATTLE A BLAZE that razed 25 acres of brushland in Aransas Pass around Ave. A Wednesday afternoon. Units from Rockport as well as Port Aransas and Ingleside were called to help Aransas Pass firemen with the fire. Some houses and a church were threatened by the fire but no property was lost "except a lot of brush," according to one Aransas Pass fireman. The alarm came about 2:35 p.m. and the flames were brought under control about 5:30 p.m.

Summer meet ends at La Bahia Downs

La Bahia Downs at Goliad had one of the biggest weekends in its 21 year history July 23-24. After being postponed one week by rains, the second weekend was a tremendous success. Forty races were run over two days with 366 horses participating.

Saturday was all Texas Bred Feature trials. Twenty heats were run at the 300 yard distance. Competition was very stiff with all racing to qualify for the July 31 finals and consolation. This year's Texas Bred Feature has a whopping big gross purse of $157,800. This broke last year's record purse of $153,000. Some of the nation's top 2-year-olds performed at their best. Leading all qualifiers was Feins Tiddie Bar, owned by the Murdock Livestock Co. of Stamford. Feins Tiddie Bar ran the 300 yards in 15.52 setting a new track record for that distance. The previous record of 15.65 was set in 1979 by Three Ohs Lass. Two other qualifiers also broke or tied the old record.

The other feature finalists competing Sunday are Speed Galore, 15.62; Mighty Three Boots, 15.65; Struttin Easy, 15.69; Ohs Valentine, 15.71; Crimson Runner, 15.75; Touch of Crimson, 15.83; Thats My Oh My Oh, 15.84; Tinas Go Go, 15.84; Almas Baby, 15.87.

The July 24 races were equally exciting. Another 20 races were run, highlighted by the Six Flags Derby and Hidalgo Futurity Finals. The Six Flags Derby was won by Ima Jody, owned by Jeanie B. Pape of Goliad. The 3-year-old mare ran the 350 yards in 18.17 into a stiff headwind. Ima Jody captured the winners share of $9,433. The Hidalgo Futurity, also at 350 yards, was won by The Double Native, owned by Ray Whitley of Friendswood.

Other fourth day winners of Feature races were: Fannin Feature - Native Moon Creek; South Texas Sprint Series #2 - My Tiny Jewel; Auto Dealers' Sprint - Miss Star Charge and the Open Championship #2 - I Had a Dream.

The final weekend of the Summer Meet will run July 30 and 31.

Three file for water district elections

HOLIDAY BEACH — Three candidates will be on the Aug. 13 ballot for election of three directors to the board of the Aransas County Water Control & Improvement District No. 1.

The three, in the order in which their names will appear on the ballot, are Hilmar E. Flowers, M. Joan Nish and Wilson R. Burns. Nish and Burns are both running for re-election. Incumbent Jane Kemmerer is not seeking re-election.

Candidates drew for ballot order Tuesday morning, July 26.

Absentee voting in the election begins Wednesday, Aug. 3, and will continue through Aug. 9 in the Lingner Real Estate Building on Hwy. 35 North in Holiday Beach, the temporary office of the water control & improvement district.

Voting in the regular election will be in the Lee Miller Recreation Building on the east side of Hwy. 35 North, with polls open from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m.

The water control & improvement district board is expected to set a date for election canvass during its meeting set for Monday, Aug. 1. That meeting will begin at 10 a.m. in the Lingner Real Estate Building.

Also expected to be on the agenda of that meeting will be a discussion of election expenses.

new territory, it has two years (under state law) to provide all city amenities to that area.

"The sewer," Johnson said, "is the big thing. There's no way, financially, the city could provide you with sanitary sewer service."

Under Texas laws, the city would have to provide sanitary sewer service to all residents of No Man's Land within two years, Johnson said, or the residents could petition for disannexation.

Earlier, No Man's Land resident Betty Muth said, "I think the main concern is that if you relinquish your (ETJ) claim, we'll be annexed by Fulton."

Johnson in his explanation of annexation proceedings said, "Fulton couldn't annex you if it wanted to." He said under current state laws, a general law city can annex only on a lot-by-lot basis, on the request of the individual property owners.

"In order to annex anything less than 500 feet wide and 1,500 feet long," Johnson continued, "it has to be adjacent to the city on two sides." Present law, he added, requires the city to hold two public hearings on any tract for which annexation is being considered, with one of those hearings being on the site. Johnson added that in September, the law will change and require only one public hearing.

"But there's more to it than just saying, 'We're going to annex you'," he said.

Rockport Mayor Burt Mills added his assurances of the city's intentions not to annex No Man's Land: "Rockport does not intend to annex anyone we can't take care of."

ings was approved by the membership.

Ammons reported on a lengthy school board budget workshop July 25 at which the board originally considered a 6.2 percent budget increase but decided to work it down so the actual increase is less than 3 percent. He said he was "favorably impressed with the board members' participation and interaction" during the workshop.

Pfeifer reported that he had tentatively scheduled a meeting with representatives of the General Land Office in Austin Aug. 5 to discuss a ruling on whether or not the posts and walkways emplaced in the water by H.E.B. off Live Oak Point are illegal.

ACTA member Harold Pinchin advised members that Congressman Bill Patman will be at First National Bank Town Hall at 3:30 p.m. Aug. 3 and urged everyone to come and speak with him.

other at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 23, at Woody Acres Trailer Park.

Discussion of a possible application for a sewer grant was tabled until next week's meeting since Garcia has not yet had time to go over the requirements.

Casterline reported that he had delivered the town's letter and affidavits from No Man's Land residents requesting annexation by the Town of Fulton to Rockport Mayor Burt Mills and City Administrator Herman Johnson. He said that Johnson told him the only action that would be taken at Tuesday evening's city council meeting would be to accept the letter and defer a decision.

Bidding on the bait stand at L.E. Casterline fishing pier will be closed at 5 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 2, the council decided. Bids will be opened in a special meeting at 7 p.m. the same evening, just prior to the workshop meeting. Hinson reported that the town has received one bid since two bids were rejected last week.

Work on the town's 1983-84 budget will begin Aug. 30. The town's fiscal year begins Oct. 1.

Sand Dollar Tournament next week

The Texas Sand Dollar Fishing Tournament, an event which organizers plan on scheduling annually in Rockport, will take place for the first time Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 6-7.

The privately-sponsored bay fishing tournament is organized by Houston businessman Gary Marsh and will be headquartered this year at the Sandollar Resort, though the resort is not affiliated with the tournament sponsorship.

"We've been fishing down there for years," says Marsh of the Rockport area. "We felt it would be a good location. It's a nice area with excellent facilities."

An organizer of the Dallas-based PVI Fishing Tournament, Marsh said of the Sand Dollar event, "We are planning on this becoming an annual tournament. We hope to expand it next year to include an offshore division."

Some 60 fishermen have already entered the tournament, said Marsh, most of them from the Houston area. There is still room in the contest field for three or four more two-man parties, he added.

A two-fisherman per boat maximum rule will be applied to the tourney. Persons fishing without boats, whether wading or pier fishing, will be paired with other fishermen if possible, unless providing their own partners. The tournament entry fee is $30 per person. All entrants must have a Texas fishing license and all Texas Parks and Wildlife fishing regulations will be strictly adhered to.

Cash prizes will be awarded in seven categories. They are $200 for the most in total weight of all fish (speckled trout, redfish and flounder); total weight of speckled trout, $125; total weight of redfish, $125; and total weight of flounder, $125. The largest by weight and length, of any flounder, speckled trout or redfish will earn a $75 award. The total weight of all fish will be on the two-man team basis. All other prizes will be on an individual basis.

After an organizational and information meeting at 7 p.m. Friday, the tournament will begin at 6 a.m. Saturday, continuing till 8 p.m. that night and again on Sunday, from 6-11 a.m. Weigh-in times for Saturday are noon-1 p.m. and 7-8 p.m. and on Sunday from 11 a.m.-noon.

Softball All-Stars

Intracoastal team plays in Harlingen

The Intracoastal All-Stars traveled to Harlingen for the second phase of Senior League All-Stars softball play this week and played their first game Wednesday night, losing to Laredo-Del Mar.

Four representatives of Aransas County softball are on the Intracoastal team — Michelle Dingenary, Mary Randall and Laurie Adkison of the Rockport Flyers and Patty Buenano of the Rockport Angels.

Despite their 25-3 loss to Laredo, Intracoastal still had a chance of winning the All-Star tourney as of Pilot press time on Thursday. Their second game was scheduled for Friday night. The San Antonio All-Stars, Laredo and Intracoastal cond phase of Senior League All-Star softball play this week play.

Wednesday night's loss was due primarily to weak pitching from Intracoastal, coupled with Laredo's flawless fielding. Kim Knippa of Ingleside pitched most of the Intracoastal game, walking batter after batter. Buenano relieved her in the seventh inning but the score was already 18-3.

Dingenary played left field and was responsible for a good out early in the game, catching a fly right on top of the left field fence. Adkison played centerfield and Randall was short stop.

Live Oak Country Club readies for popular Celia Plus 13 event

Live Oak Country Club is getting ready for its largest tourney, the popular Celia Plus event, organized by Tom Andrews of Aransas Pass. The tournament, Celia Plus 13 this year, is always held the first weekend in August. It was scheduled the very first time 13 years ago — the weekend that Hurricane Celia blasted through the Coastal Bend. "Needless to say, the tournament was not held the first year," comments Andrews. "The next year, it was the Celia Plus One and we've had one every year since. Now it's Celia Plus 13."

Andrews continues, "It's been a very, very successful tournament. We've had guests from all over the country play every year."

This year's event promises to be no exception. A full field of 120 is expected for the two-man, best-ball event. Flights will be determined by handicap.

"The tournament was originally designed to provide some sort of prize for virtually every player," says Andrews. Prizes range from door prizes of substantial value to awards of merchandise from the club's pro shop for the top winners.

Sword of Hope golf event set Aug. 12

The third annual Sword of Hope Invitational Golf Tournament will be held Friday, Aug. 12. The men's tournament will have progressive tee times beginning at 11 a.m. at the Corpus Christi Country Club. A special tee time may be arranged by calling Tommy Burke at 991-7870 Corpus Christi Country Club Pro Shop. The entry fee is $100.

A cocktail party will be held at 6:45 p.m. followed by the awards and prize presentation which is sponsored by local merchants. Dr. E. Jackson Giles, Lou Wells and Harriet Null are coordinating the two tournaments.

The women's tournament is spearheaded by Anita Brown, Carolyn Humphrey, Joan Griesbach, Dottie Jarvis, Betty Kemp, Ann Meese, Pat Albright, Polly Nelson and Harriet Null.

The women's tournament will have a shotgun start at 9 a.m. at the Padre Isles Country Club. The entry fee is $30. The entry fee includes green fees, golf cart and luncheon for all participants immediately following play. For couples playing in both tournaments the entry fee is $120 per couple.

All proceeds for the tournament will benefit the American Cancer Society. For more information please contact May Braley at 854-1931.

Night is often best time for fishing

Frustrations are many for the daytime fisherman on Texas' popular reservoirs. Sunburn, wary fish and the often disturbing presence of other recreational boaters are just a few of the deterrents to a good summertime fishing expedition.

But as many of the state's dedicated anglers have learned, even the busiest sailboat and waterski haven become s the fisherman's property after sundown.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologist Joe Toole of Marshall said more and more East Texas anglers are hitting the lakes at night during the "dog days" of summer.

"There are several things you have to be aware of to be successful at night fishing," Toole offered. "One difference is that darker colored lures, even black ones, seem to be better at night than light colors."

Toole believes this is because fish can see a dark lure silhouetted against the relatively lighter sky better than a light-colored one. "Black seems to be the best color, even when fishing a plastic worm on the bottom," said Toole.

There has been much debate among fishermen as to whether a dark or moonlit night is best. "Fishing success cannot be correlated to moon phases, but I think it's wise to make your first night fishing trip during a full moon phase simply because it's easier," he said.

Night fishing has proven productive for all Texas' sought-after fish species, including largemouth bass, catfish, striped bass and hybrid stripers. They all tend to forage more actively near the surface at times, and bass and stripers in particular sometimes will hit topwater lures more readily at night than during the daytime.

Rebel's Revenge leading 10 Pins

Rebel's Revenge, the team of Ernest Keill and Vance Callender, still leads the Tuesday 10 Pins bowling league standings. Due to the number of makeup games from last week that remain to be played, no standings are available for the rest of the league teams.

Bill Stark, with a 134, leads the high individual game rankings, ahead of Callender with 103 and Keill with 99. Keill is high individual series leader with 292. Stark is in second with 266 and Callender, with 263, is in third.

High team game standings are headed by the team of Bill & Aaron with 390. With 368, the Fillies are in second and Rebel's Revenge is third with 357.

Rebel's Revenge has 1,035 to lead the high team series ranking, ahead of Bill & Aaron with 1,034 and the Fillies with 1,025.

Area fishing report

Palm Harbor Marina — 729-8540 — Fishing is great. Guide Gary Clouse took out the Duncan family and they came back with 44 nice 4-pound trout, caught in the bay. C.D. Raifsnider of Colleyville had eight "lovely trout — 5 and 6 pounders." Mr. Barron got a 31-pound kingfish in the bay and seven smaller ones, too and Bob Maass of Dallas landed an 8-pound red and a good stringer of smaller trout. Live bait supply is pretty good but get there early.

Beach Road Bait House — 729-8614 — "Fishing's pretty slow." Will have live bait for the weekend.

Sea Gun — 729-2341 — "Been good." Lots of trout and redfish. Charter boats doing well, though the water's still a little muddy. Plenty of bait, live included, for the weekend.

Sandollar Marina — 729-8562 — Lot of speckled trout off pier and some reds, too. Best late at night under lights. Also some sheephead. Bait looks good, live supply should be o.k. for the weekend.

Fulton Harbor Bait — 729-8532 — "If you have a boat, fishing is real good out by the wells and by the second green channel marker out of Fulton Harbor." Mostly specks and sand trout. Fair off pier. Will have plenty of live bait for the weekend but usually sold out by 8 a.m.

Key Allegro Marina — 729-2761 — "Pretty good fishing these days." High Cotton good for four nice catches of kingfish — 10 or 15 each trip. Trout pretty good at night under the lights in bay; mostly specks. Plenty of frozen bay and offshore bait for the weekend.

Kleine's Rattlesnake Point — 729-2892 — "It's been fair." The Dabbs have had another good week and Travis Wilcox got a bunch of big keepers. Mostly speckled trout, caught on finger mullet and spoons. Plenty of dead bait for the weekend.

Business & finance

If you're retired you've got to own common stocks.

By SCOTT BURNS

In the past year millions of Americans have been caught in a brutal squeeze.

After years of enjoying rising interest rates on their savings — whether they were in bank certificates or money market funds — interest rates declined and reduced the interest income many people depend on for their basic needs. For example, if you had $50,000 in a money market fund a year ago, your income was about $500 a month. The same $50,000 now produces less than $375 a month.

Worse, it is absolutely certain that inflation will reduce the real purchasing power of such interest income. The figures below, for instance, show the impact of a 5 percent inflation rate over 15 years, expressed first as an adjusted interest rate and second as the real purchasing power of a $10,000 income.

As you can see, if you invested in a certificate or bond that provided an 11 percent yield and had an annual income of $10,000 when you started, the purchasing power yield would decline to only 5.29 percent over 15 years and your actual purchasing power would have dropped to only $4,810.

Projecting 15 years is important because that is how long most men will live if they retire at age 65. Since women usually outlive their husbands, their prospects are even worse.

Is there a remedy? A way to maintain level purchasing power without a significant loss of current income?

Yes!

For those who haven't invested in the stock market, this is the time to do it. It is still possible to find stocks that provide yields competitive with money market funds while offering the potential of future income growth.

You can understand how this works by taking a close look at the table below, the result of a computer program I wrote to evaluate and compare real purchasing power from stock dividends and bond interest over long periods of time.

The second column, labeled "unadjusted yield," shows the effective yield of a common stock assuming that you start with a yield of 8 percent and the dividend is increased at the rate of 6 percent a year. This is misleading, however, because income you receive in the future won't have the purchasing power of income you receive now.

The third column, labeled "adjusted yield," shows how much that growing yield is AFTER adjusting for 5 percent inflation. As you can see, it makes a big difference. Still, you could expect a slight improvement in your purchasing power over a long period of time.

The fourth column shows the purchasing power gap between a stock with a growing dividend and a bond or other fixed-interest investment that yields 11 percent. Just as the purchasing power of future dividends is adjusted for inflation, so is the purchasing power of your interest income. As you can see, while the fixed-income bond investment begins with a substantial advantage, the gap is closed quickly. The common stock provides a higher real income in year 6.

The fifth column keeps a running total of the gap between real purchasing power of the common stock and the 11 percent bond or certificate. As you can see, it takes 11 years to close the gap. But the common stock provides the greater REAL purchasing power in the long run.

Bottom line? If you're retired or approaching retirement, you've got to own some common stocks for the long haul.

Employer's deadline on tax nears

Aug. 1 is the date by which employers must report on Form 941 social security and withheld federal income taxes for the second quarter of 1983 and pay any taxes due, the Internal Revenue Service says. If the quarterly liability (less any deposit during the quarter) is $500 or more, the unpaid balance must be deposited.

This deadline does not apply to employers who make timely deposits of the full amount of tax due in Federal Reserve or approved commercial banks. They are allowed until Aug. 10 to file Form 941, "Employer's Quarterly Federal Tax Return."

Employers who have not received a Form 941 by mail can order one through the Forms/Tax Information number listed in the telephone book under U.S. Government. IRS Publication 15, Circular E—Employer's Tax Guide, is also available by telephone.

BLUE WATER MARINE has received honors from the Hydra-Sport Company for being the largest dealer in the United States. They also received awards for being the largest dealer in their region. Owner Steve Franklin and his wife were given a free trip to the Caribbean for the awards. Franklin said that Blue Water Marine sold 49 boats from 18-25 feet during the contest period to gain the first-place honors among 313 U.S. dealers. Blue Water Marine has been in business for three years in Aransas County.

Stanley grocery store to open Sept. 15

The first businesses in Rockport's new Harbor Oaks Shopping Village will open their doors to the public Sept. 15, according to Roger Seaman, president of Candy Stick Corp., developers of the $5 million project on Hwy. 35 North.

"We're about two to two and a half months behind our original schedule," Seaman said this past week, but he added the center is coming along now and should meet the Sept. 15 target date.

Set for the fall '83 opening is the center's anchor tenant, a 22,000-plus square foot Stanley grocery store. O. B. Stanley is president of this Texas-based company which operates a grocery chain in the South Texas area.

Seaman said a drugstore will also be among the opening tenants — although it will not be Eckerd's as was originally announced. Stanley said that company, one of the first tenants announced for the combination strip center-minimall, after subsequent study decided Rockport wasn't large enough for their needs.

Seaman added at this time he cannot name the drugstore that will be locating in the center.

It is possible at this point that "two or three" of the local tenants may be opening on Sept. 15, Seaman added. Bob Bernardy, whose Live Oak Real Estate firm is handling local leases of space in the shopping center, said the center is about 70 percent filled but he is not at liberty at this time to give names.

Two tenants of the new center that Bernardy could name are his own Live Oak Real Estate and the Travel Gallery.

Other businesses planning to locate at this time, he added, are a gift shop and "an excellent restaurant" that will offer a varied menu with emphasis on seafood.

When completed, the shopping center will contain some 100,000 to 120,000 square feet with a minimall patterned after Houston's Galleria. Parking facilities will accommodate approximately 550 vehicles.

Plans for the shopping center were formally unveiled by Seaman March 17, 1982, and ground broken late last year.

Gas well production is down

AUSTIN — Railroad Commission Chairman Mack Wallace has announced that Texas oil and gas wells produced 439,716,283 Mcf of gas in April, down 14.53 percent from field runs a year earlier. That brings the total gas production for the year to date to 1,822,436,927 Mcf of gas.

Marketed gas production in April totaled 359,407,312 Mcf and reflected a 16.82 percent decrease from the April 1982 volume. Marketed production is the total gas to transmission lines and for carbon black, plant fuel and lease use.

Gas exported from Texas in April totaled 209,510,690 Mcf. Exports of Texas-produced gas in April totaled 168,310,478 Mcf, and reflected a 19.55 percent decrease from the year-earlier month.

Texas gas production in April came from 234,674 oil and gas wells.

In March 1983, Texas wells produced 452,822,019 Mcf of gas. Marketed gas production in March totaled 374,065,184 Mcf. March exports of Texas-produced gas totaled 151,310,472 Mcf.

Intruders net $3,000 in Palm Harbor burglary

A silver service set, VCR unit and a white gold ring totalling $3,000 in value were reported taken when the residence of Joyce C. Berry in Palm Harbor was burglarized between July 17 and July 22.

The incident was reported last Friday, July 23.

A tool box and $385 in assorted tools were reported taken from a boat belonging to Thomas Trainor sometime between Saturday, July 23, and Wednesday, July 27. Trainor said the boat was in his front yard at the time of theft.

A hanging chair was taken from a gazebo in front of Jean Bardin's private pier. Value of the chair was estimated at $100. The theft occurred late Saturday or early Sunday.

An incident of theft of service was reported by the manager of an Aransas County motel Tuesday morning, July 26. Sheriff's deputies were told a man rented a room of the motel on June 18 and left June 19 without paying his bill.

Total rental for the room was $30.39.

A pool cue valued at $20 was taken from the game room at the Go Cart Track on Hwy. 35. Theft occurred Tuesday evening, July 26, and was reported by owner Jerry Gibson.

An attempted break-in of a residence was reported by Andy Kowalik. The incident occurred between 10 a.m. Saturday and 10:42 a.m. Sunday.

Patricia Flores reported theft of $65 in cash from her residence Sunday afternoon.

The bodies of two Refugio men were recovered from Copano Bay near Copano Retreat approximately seven miles west of Rockport Tuesday afternoon, July 26.

The bodies of the men, identified as Nick Ramirez, 46, and Dionecio Ramirez, 35, were recovered from the bay by Texas Parks & Wildlife Department officials about 4:19 p.m., more than 32 hours after they left Refugio on a fishing trip.

According to a report filed with the Aransas County Sheriff's office, the two men left Refugio about 8 a.m. Monday, July 25, for Copano Retreat, located on FM 881 West. They were expected to return that evening.

About 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, the Corpus Christi Coast

Guard received a call from Lydia Garza, the sister of the two men, to report they were missing.

About 2:42 p.m., the sheriff's department received a call from TP&WD Game Warden Doug Parker who had received information regarding the missing men. Parks & Wildlife officials began a search for the bodies which were found a little less than two hours later. The boat used by the two men, a 15-foot canoe, was found about 500 feet from the bodies.

The bodies were identified by another sister, Blasa Ramirez. The report said the men appeared to have been in the water since around 10 or 11 p.m. Monday. County Sheriff Bob Hewes indicated they might have been in the water longer, anywhere from 12 to 24 hours before they were found.

The bodies were taken to Marshall Funeral Home in Aransas Pass then transported to Moore Funeral Home in Refugio. The canoe was recovered and turned over to the sheriff's department pending being picked up by members of the family.

Roles discussed during hurricane meeting

Tips on hurricane preparedness and a discussion of the roles of city, county and state officials, law enforcement agencies and fire and medical service personnel were outlined at this year's hurricane preparedness meeting Wednesday night in Rockport.

Mitch Ammons, Emergency Management coordinator for Aransas County, introduced speakers for the meeting that began at 7:30 p.m. in the District Courtroom of the Aransas County Courthouse.

Rockport City Manager Herman Johnson, one of the early speakers during the meeting, told those present that the first step, in event of a hurricane threatening this area, will be a meeting of the mayors of Rockport and Fulton and the county judge to decide on a course of action.

Johnson and successive speakers — who included Aransas County Sheriff Bob Hewes, Rockport Police Chief Joe Hinojosa, County School Superintendent Joe Randow — all emphasized that if an evacuation order is given, those who can leave the area should do so.

"Evacuations are not called," Sheriff Hewes said, "unless the two majors and the judge really deem it necessary."

Chief Hinojosa said if an evacuation is ordered, law enforcement personnel are sent out with a public address system to make the announcement. Later, Assistant County Fire Marshal Rick McLester added the county's five fire departments assist in this.

The fire departments, which together comprise the county emergency corps, consist of 150 to 200 volunteers who can help with "anything that could arise that needs manpower," McLester said. He added there are 15 fire trucks county-wide that are also available in emergency.

Randow discussed the availability of shelters for those who do not leave the county during a hurricane. If shelters are opened, he said, the first will probably be Live Oak Elementary.

"No buildings will be opened (as shelters) until we are given the word," Randow emphasized. If shelters are open, he advised those who use them to not bring any fuel-operated equipment and to bring any special foods or medical supplies they might need.

Randow added if an evacuation is ordered, the school will provide buses for those who need transportation.

Bill Aston, chief paramedic with the Aransas County Emergency Medical Service, emphasized that people needing special medical supplies should have a supply of them in event of a hurricane. "We (the EMS) carry supplies on the ambulances, but these are in pre-measured doses and cannot be dispensed like a pharmacy," he said.

He added the EMS has two modals, a four-wheel drive vehicle of its own and has been assured of a four-wheel drive vehicle from the Rockport fire department. Two of the EMS volunteers have agreed to cover a shelter if one is required this year. "I think we have enough people to handle the situation," Aston said.

Ammons emphasized that water and sanitary sewer service are big problems in the aftermath of a hurricane when power has been disrupted. This is one of the reasons people who are evacuated are not encouraged to return soon to the city, he said: Water and sanitary sewer service may not yet be restored.

County Judge John Wendell added people should fill up all containers with water prior to a hurricane.

Other speakers on Wednesday's program included representatives of the Salvation Army and Red Cross and the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Sally stopped in Rockport to pick up a postcard

By PAT BLAIR

Staff writer

"People always want to know, what do you do with a philosophy of religion degree," says Sally Clark — then she adds, "You marry a clergyman, of course!"

Sally, "of course," is married to the Rev. Walter Clark, pastor of St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Rockport. She finds it "interesting" that she would grow up to become an Episcopal minister's wife because her education began in an Episcopal kindergarten in Stanton, Va.

"My birthday is in November, so I was really too young to go to school with my contemporaries," Sally recalls. As a result, she spent two years attending kindergarten classes. "My teacher," she recalls, "said I was her 'beloved problem.'"

Born in Woodstock, Va., a town "that has a lot of similarities with Rockport," Sally was named Sarah, after a grandmother. "She was always called Sally, so I'm called Sally," she added. She attended public schools then went to Randolph-Macon Woman's College in Lynchburg, Va., for the first two years.

As a junior she transferred to Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tenn. She planned to graduate from Vanderbilt, but in transferring from one college to the other, she had lost some credits which she planned to make up in summer school.

"But my parents called one day and said they were going to the Middle East, the Holy Land . . ." Sally had a choice: she could go to summer school, make up the lost credits and graduate from Vanderbilt — or she could go with her parents and return to Randolph-Macon as a senior.

"I went to the Middle East — it was a marvelous experience," says Sally, adding she never regretted any of her choices.

It was when she returned to Randolph-Macon that she became a philosophy of religion major. "I liked so many things, I got to my senior year without ever picking a major," she said, adding she "could have majored in religion or political science or, or, or . . ."

Her choice was decided in part because of the head of the religion department "who was an excellent scholar and teacher. And," she adds, "I've always been interested in people, what they believe, why they believe it."

At that point, Sally said, she was considering becoming a social worker. "I did volunteer work a couple of summers for various religious organizations — one summer a group of us painted and wallpapered the living quarters of elderly people living in a community in Germany."

She remembered the summer after the Berlin Wall was erected living in a Lutheran Church that had been cut by the wall. "We were an international bunch and we did a lot of running back and forth on errands for the church."

She met Walter at the wedding of one of her friends to one of Walter's classmates. "I kept noticing him and he kept noticing me. We got married six months later and moved right to Connecticut." That was in 1967. Walter had finished his seminary work and was pastor of a small rural parish.

He was at the same time working at Yale New Haven Hospital as chaplain and wanted to do post graduate work in the field, Sally said. "So he applied at St. Luke's and Texas Children's Hospital in Houston. He came down (to Texas) to look around and called me on the phone and said, 'You're moving to Houston for two years.'"

Both the Clarks, Sally said, "loved Houston. We thought it was such a livable city." But after the birth of their first child, Stephen (now entering the eighth grade), they decided they wanted their children to grow up in a smaller community than Houston.

One year, Sally recalls, they took a drive down the coast and saw a sign that said "Rockport." "We turned off," Sally said, "to get a postcard to send to a friend in Rockport, Maine."

But when they got to this Rockport, they were charmed. "I remember," Sally says, "Walter saying, 'I think I'll see if they have an Episcopal Church here.' They came to Rockport in March 1975 and bought their home on Magnolia Street. "We're very much at home in it, very, very fond of it," Sally says. They became close friends of the woman who owned it — she grew up in the house and lived there all her adult life until her 80th birthday, Sally says — and one of Sally's proudest moments was when they had the former owner to Thanksgiving dinner one year after the Clarks had made some changes to adapt the house to their needs.

"She (the former owner) really seemed to approve of what we had done," Sally recalls.

In Houston, Sally worked in a shop in the Galleria, teaching handcrafts such as needlepoint and crewel embroidery. "I enjoyed that kind of creative outlet," she says of the experience. "It was a very good hobby/part-time job."

In Rockport, Sally's first job was teaching of a different kind — in the preschool she helped establish.

"When we got here," she says, "there was a need for a community preschool." Working with people from other churches in the area, Sally helped establish the ABC Learning Center for preschool children. She also served as the school's first director for that first year, until a permanent director could be hired.

Another first for Sally was with the Aransas County Emergency Medical Service, which she enthusiastically supported. When the service was first organized, she says, "they didn't have a surplus of volunteers," so Sally took the course that qualified her to serve as a volunteer with the service "to help them and because I believed in what they were doing." So she was on the first run made in Aransas County by an EMS unit.

"I stayed with them (the EMS)," she added, "until they got more experienced people."

These days, Sally's major interests — outside her home and family which includes the Clarks' younger son, Benjamin — are the Aransas County Public Library and her job as a stockbroker for Rotan Mosle of Corpus Christi.

She's a member of the board of directors of the library with a special concern at this point that the library gets larger quarters. "They need it," she says emphatically.

Her job as a stockbroker traces back to 1977 when she started taking night classes at Corpus Christi State University. The following year, she started working "seriously" toward a master's degree in business administration, a goal she reached in May 1981.

"At that point," she said, "I knew I wanted to do something in the line of helping people with their investments, financial planning — I felt this was an area where I was good."

Rotan Mosle agreed, enough to take her into the firm this past fall. As a woman who is also a stockbroker, she is a member of a minority. "There may be four female brokers in Corpus Christi," she says. "And I'm the only broker in the office."

But, she adds, she's never had any problems in being accepted. "I've never met anyone adamantly anti-female broker."

Actually, she adds after some thought, her becoming a stockbroker may go back to her childhood, when her father would take Sally and her sister fishing.

He was a college dean, she said, and "an astute investor. He wasn't really sure what little girls liked to talk about — so he talked about investments."

Back then, Sally recalls, it was "fun." Today it's a career . . .

Police report

Coins, radar detector taken in burglary

A radar detector valued at $225 was reported stolen when a vehicle belonging to Thomas M. Smith III was burglarized Monday, July 25.

Police said the incident occurred between 4:30 and 6 p.m. while Smith's vehicle was parked at his residence.

Rolls of coins were the object of the burglars who broke into the residence of J. W. Hunt late Tuesday or early Wednesday.

Police said the incident occurred between 6 p.m. Tuesday and 8 a.m. Wednesday. Drawers in the bedroom of the residence were reported opened and searched by the burglars and some rolls of change were found on the floor.

The report from Rockport police said it had not been determined if anything had been taken.

An estimated $150 in damage was reported when someone broke into one room and broke the window of another room at a Rockport motel. Nothing was reported missing in the incident which occurred between 5:30 p.m. Sunday, July 24, and 5:30 p.m. Monday.

An incident of forgery was reported by a city convenience store when someone at the store cashed a two-party check for $45. The incident, which happened June 11, was reported Monday afternoon.

Window screens and the wiring to a soft drink machine were damaged when someone attempted to break into a Rockport motel last Sunday.

Police made one arrest, at noon Wednesday, of a man on a charge of public intoxication.

In years gone by

20 years ago — 1963
Virginia Shivers was the only woman sheriff at the sheriff's convention in San Antonio. An article about her in the San Antonio Light said she was "the third elected woman sheriff in Texas history..."

L.E. Castlerline had his name printed on the "free of charge" ticket for the Cove Drive In.

Fishing was good with 41 kings, 520 trout and 18 gafftops.

Chester Brumley, Gilbert Hill Jr. and Carl Osborn attended a firemen's training school at Texas A&M College.

A TV could be bought with $1 down and $9 a month per a local store advertisement.

15 years ago — 1969
Manuel Flores Jr. won the only sportsmanship trophy at the Salvation Army camp at Midlothian. He also won first place in free style swimming.

Renee Tuer was elected treasurer of the Texas State Junior Girls Gold Association.

The Good Neighbor Club met in the Odd Fellows Hall with Gladys Mullan, Della Scott and Neva Sorenson as hostesses.

Mrs. John P. Mitchell entertained the Tuesday Bridge Club with two tables of dessert bridge at her home. Mrs. House won high score, Mrs. Chester Johnson second high, Mrs. Harry Mills low and Mrs. Tom Rogers the slam prize.

The regular meeting of the Lamar Woman's Club was held in the Emerald Room of the Sea Gun Restaurant. A delicious lunch was served to 14 members and two guests.

10 years ago — 1973
The Band Booster Club of Rockport-Fulton High School held a reception for the new band director, Dan Frells, and his wife.

Joel M. Mixon assumed the duties of director of instruction for the Aransas County Independent School District.

Sheriff Robert Hewes attended the annual Sheriffs Association of Texas conference in Tyler.

The Fraternal Order of Eagles held a barbecue at the Rockport Lions Club barbecue pit across the street from the Woman's Club Building.

The Aransas County Riding Association held a professional rodeo at the Aransas County Riding Association Arena.

A very courageous individual

When stories of courage are told, this one should not be overlooked.

In a town called Stoke Mandeville, England, a 38-year-old farm worker walked nearly a mile for help after a baling machine severed his left arm just below the shoulder.

Despite intense pain, blood loss and almost paralyzing shock, the man carried his arm across a field to a farm where an ambulance was called to take him to a hospital.

The story said the man's arm was "literally torn" from his body and his clothing, except for his boots, was ripped off by the baler.

"He's very tough," said the head of the team that reattached the man's arm in 10 hours of surgery.

New Method CLEANERS and LAUNDRY

Ken and Judy Callaway, flanked by their competent employees, proudly announce the opening of their New Method Cleaners and Laundry. They specialize in silks and fine fabrics, offer one-day service, make alterations, drive-through convenience and even provide one-hour rush order service upon request. The new facility is located at 1805 Glass Ave. (behind the Ice Box on Hwy. 35). "Let us treat you like royalty — use our full service, drive-through window!" (Paid Advertisement)

Linda Brennan

Oscar Madisons take note!

Good news for all you Oscar Madisons! Linda Brennan is here to clean your office, home or condominium.

Brennan runs Linda's Cleaning Service, designed especially for those who may not have the time or energy for extensive cleaning. Linda's Cleaning Service can help those of you who tend to mutter, "Sorry about the mess," when guests come over.

Linda's Cleaning Service is a relatively new business but Brennan has had experience working with other cleaning services before starting out on her own.

Brennan will change sheets, clean windows and doors, dust, vacuum, scrub bathrooms, wash floors, clean kitchens, living rooms and other general cleaning duties. Although she will not do personal laundry, she will, on occasion, wash sheets and towels.

Brennan charges an hourly rate for her service, a rate which she may change to monthly for her best customers.

Linda's Cleaning Service is available Monday through Friday and occasionally on Saturday if necessary. The phone number is 729-2171.

R REALTOR® CUTTING THE COST OF AIR CONDITIONING

By Meceal Casterline, President
Rockport Area Board of Realtors®

The month of August is the middle of summer and we're all feeling the hot weather that goes along with it. Our air conditioners are running at full capacity to keep us cool and comfortable in these warm days.

But, the Rockport Area Board of Realtors® reminds you that using an air conditioner costs money. High utility bills are on the minds of homeowners all across the country. According to a nationwide survey reported by United Press International, home energy costs rank second only to food costs as a consumer concern and present more of a problem than the price of gasoline.

According to the UPI report, nearly half the Americans who use home air conditioning said it would be difficult to make further reductions to save energy. However, researchers found the Midwesterners are still able to make additional cuts on their energy use. While in the Northeast and West only four out of 10 households use air conditioning. Westerners said they would find it difficult to cut back more than they already have.

Besides turning up your thermostat and cutting back on your use of air conditioning, there are other ways to save energy dollars this summer. They include the following:

- Call a qualified serviceman to inspect your air conditioning unit at the start of summer to be sure it is working efficiently.
- Check your air conditioning filters at least once a month during the summer and replace disposable filters regularly. Remove washable filters and use warm, soapy water to clean them every month.
- Use landscaping, outside awnings and roof overhangs to shade south and west facing windows. Don't forget to lower Venetian blinds and draw your drapes to help keep out direct sun rays and heat.
- Avoid partial loads in the washing machine. Also, use warm and cold water settings to save energy.
- Similarly, use your clothes dryer for full loads only. Keep the lint screen clean, too.
- Air-dry your dishes and skip the dishwasher's dry cycle to keep your kitchen cooler. Detergent with rinsing agents will help keep your dishes from spotting.

The Rockport Board of Realtors® says it's never too late to start saving energy. Following the above suggestions can help you have lower utility bills this summer and in the years to come.

DEAR MISS MANNERS — My problem is somewhat unique. I'm a very pretty 14-year-old, and my problem has me very depressed.

Ever since I was 10 years old, I have been longing to be a professional singer.

Recently I went to a concert starring one of my favorite entertainers. About a week before the concert, I bought his new album. Every day, when my parents were at work and my little brother had gone out to play, I'd line some pillows on the sofa and pretend they were an audience, turn on the stereo and pretend that I was with his group. Although I've done this every day almost since I was 10, I still feel a little silly.

Finally, Friday night came, and I thought I'd forget all my problems and enjoy the concert. I didn't. As soon as the group came on stage, I got chill-bumps and I almost cried because I couldn't be up there.

Almost every night, I think of how I'd look and feel on stage.

I often try to picture myself leading a normal, boring life — finishing high school, going to college and being a teacher or something along that line. But for the life of me, I can't see myself being something I'm not made for. What I really want to do is to make people laugh and cry with music.

I've heard so many people say that it's not an easy business, and that you have to be able to handle rejection. That's OK, too. I've handled rejection all my life. All I need is a chance. If I can't have that, I might as well be dead! Please help.

GENTLE READER — If there is one thing that the wish to become a star is not, it is unique.

Neither is being pretty at the age of 14, nor even feeling discouraged at that age because one is not a star. You may rest your mind about all that.

Probably you are aware that Miss Manners is not in the business of giving "chances" to potential stars of any description; she, for her part, is aware that yours is not exactly an etiquette problem. Nevertheless, there you are, like a pillow on a sofa, so she will give you what plumping she can.

The people who told you that performing is not an easy business, and that one has to be able to handle rejection when aspiring to it, are correct. Miss Manners only wonders that they neglected to mention that in order to succeed in the entertainment business, one should be entertaining.

It is not reasonable to expect people to pay money to watch someone whose chief characteristic is the desire to be watched. Depressed and self-absorbed teenagers can be readily observed for free.

The best thing in your letter is the desire you express "to make people laugh and cry with music." Why don't you work on that? All you have to learn is music, what makes people laugh and cry, and how to produce these effects.

It will not help to sit and cry for yourself while the very people you most admire are performing, instead of using the opportunity to study what it is that they do that makes you and others admire them.

It will not help to dismiss normal life as boring, since it is the very people who lead those lives whom you will need to learn to please.

It will not help to eschew education. One reason is that the more you know, the more you have to offer others. Another is that teaching, which does not appeal to you, is nevertheless a profession that involves skillful performing, and the best chance you have now of daily observing what commands attention and what loses it.

And the chief one, which your advisors also neglected to mention, is that all performers who expect to eat (Miss Manners knows some dancers who don't) must have other marketable skills to exercise while they are handling rejection and wishing they were dead.

Judith Martin's "Miss Manners' Guide to Excruciatingly Correct Behavior" (Atheneum) is now available for etiquette emergency consultation.

Feeling incorrect? Address your etiquette questions (in black or blue-black ink on white writing paper) to Miss Manners, in care of this newspaper.

Chelation therapy not proven effective for arteriosclerosis

The Food and Drug Administration has approved chelation therapy for treating persons poisoned by lead or other heavy metals but not for arteriosclerosis (hardening of the arteries). The FDA says the drug ethylenediamine tetraacetate (EDTA) has been illegally advertised for use in chelation therapy to treat arteriosclerosis.

The treatment involves injecting EDTA in a vein for one or two hours. After the patient rests for several days, the treatment is repeated. This is done from five to 50 times and can last from weeks to months. The cost is about $3,000.

Chelation proponents claim EDTA surrounds calcium in the bloodstream and removes it through urination. Plaques, which clog arteries, also contain calcium. The proponents say less calcium in the blood allows calcium in the plaques to dissolve. This is supposed to improve circulation to the heart, lower the risk of heart attack, and reduce pain and breathlessness.

The Harvard health letter points out three problems with this view. First, plaque primarily contains fiber, not calcium. Second, no proof exists that EDTA removes calcium from plaques. Finally, solid evidence is lacking that chelation therapy relieves symptoms like pain or breathlessness.

If administered quickly, an overdose of EDTA can cause death. Given slowly, the drug is generally harmless, although it can cause kidney damage and various types of temporary discomfort.

Prepare fall vegetable gardens now

Although there is still plenty of hot weather ahead, it's time to start getting things in shape for your fall vegetable garden.

Much of Texas is well suited for year-round gardening and fall vegetables generally have better quality and flavor than those grown in the spring, says Dr. Sam Cotner, horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Many popular warm-season vegetables such as tomatoes, pepper, eggplants, pole beans, potatoes, okra, cucumbers and squash can be planted during the coming weeks.

Also, the so-called "winter" vegetables such as broccoli, cabbage, cauliflower, greens, parsley and carrots can be planted now for early harvesting. Later plantings of these cold-hardy crops will supply fresh vegetables well into winter.

What are some of the important aspects of fall gardening?

First of all, get the land into good shape, suggests Cotner. If you had a garden this spring and fertilizer was applied, little if any additional fertilizer will be needed before fall planting.

For new gardens, apply two to three pounds of complete fertilizer such as 10-20-10 per 100 square feet and work it into the soil, recommends the horticulturist. If plants make slow growth, apply a light amount of fertilizer between rows and water it into the soil.

Adequate water is vital for a successful fall garden, particularly for seed germination and early plant growth. Cotner suggests "pre-irrigation" before planting followed by subsequent, light waterings three or four times a week to keep soil from drying and crusting. Water stress during early growth of plants can reduce later yields.

Transplanting is a good practice in the fall since this allows seed to be started in areas sheltered from high temperature and drying winds. Check at garden centers for recommended varieties of vegetables and strong, vigorous, healthy plants, or you may want to grow your own transplants, notes the horticulturist.

Border school districts' enrollment is increasing

By JOHN TOWER
U.S. Senator for Texas

The serious economic problems Mexico is experiencing have affected Texas, particularly areas along the border, in a number of ways. One of the most serious is the steady increase in the number of illegal aliens crossing Texas' 889-mile border with Mexico.

This problem has created a burden for border area school districts, which already had been responsible for providing free public education to thousands of alien children in the United States legally and illegally. During a two-year period, for example, Brownsville alone experienced a 4,000-student increase in enrollment, primarily from alien children.

The Texas lieutenant governor's office estimates there are currently about 29,000 illegal alien children enrolled in Texas schools, an increase from about 25,000 last year. Because of the difficulty in counting illegal alien residents, the actual number could well be higher. Additionally, many alien children who reside in this country legally also attend Texas public schools.

The rising number of illegal alien children is of particular concern, since school districts must provide not only teachers, books and materials for these students, but also buildings and other facilities as well. An increase in enrollment caused by additional alien children, then, may make it necessary for a district to build new facilities.

Since most school districts along the border already have relatively high property tax rates, this additional burden is difficult to absorb with the local tax base.

The number of alien children enrolled in our schools is an effort of federal immigration policy — and the government's inability to enforce its immigration laws. Therefore, the federal government has a responsibility to help affected school districts.

I am sponsoring legislation to provide federal assistance to school districts with large concentrations of alien students. My bill would provide up to $1,000 per alien child for school districts in which these children account for 500 students or 5 percent of the student body, whichever number is lower.

The federal government already provides similar assistance to school districts with large concentrations of children from military families, because we have always believed that local school districts should not have to bear sole responsibility for educating children whose parents work on federal reservations.

Certainly, the federal responsibility for alien children, particularly those here illegally, is comparable to that for military families.

I strongly believe my legislation is of tremendous importance to all border states, and the nation as a whole. At my request, the Senate Education Subcommittee will hold a hearing on my bill during the coming week. I will participate in this hearing, as will Texas state and local school officials.

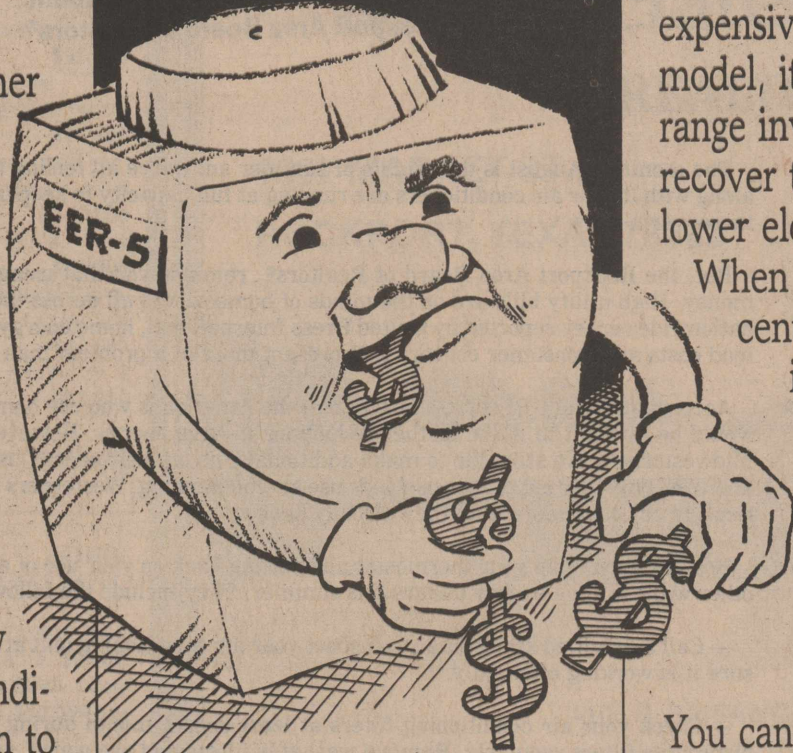

It is my hope that my colleagues will understand the federal responsibility to these school districts and pass this important legislation.

Save money on electricity with an EER/SEER air conditioner of 8 or more

Time to buy new air conditioning? Whether you're shopping for a window unit or a central system, you can save money on operating costs if you choose a model with an Energy Efficiency Ratio (EER or SEER) of 8 or above.

EER and SEER are ratings that indicate how much cooling the air conditioner delivers in relation to the amount of electricity it uses. Because it is engineered to run more efficiently, a system with a high EER/SEER will consume less energy, thus helping you reduce your electric bills.

Although a high efficiency unit may be more expensive than a standard model, it is a better long-range investment. You will recover the extra cost in lower electric bills.

When you're selecting central air conditioning, it also is important to make sure the unit's cooling capacity — measured in BTU's — is right for your house.

You can get more information about the correct BTU sizing for your new home by inquiring at your CPL office.

Week of July 31-August 6

Bono's Astro-Que

© By Lillian Bono

ARIES (March 21-April 20) Be more in tune with your work. If you are involved in a situation where others depend on you for their income, it will become important that you make a change.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21) A trip prepares you to face hostile co-workers with respect to an incomplete project. Put forth your best efforts now.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) Straighten out your home situation. You need to find things and can only do so if all is in order and under lock and key. Don't discuss your secrets with total strangers.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) Your desire for a full-fledged romance will be rewarded. Candlelight dinners are par for the course and you should take advantage of social invitations of which there are many.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) You may find that by pursuing an educational goal you will achieve a dream that is not as far-fetched as first imagined. It behooves you to look into a new area of work for advancement.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) Carry plans to completion at home and don't sign agreements without consulting an expert. You could be making a mistake at this time of your life.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) A feeling of great freedom is yours as you emerge from a long siege of depressive thoughts that may have held you back from doing your best.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You could be traveling to a distant place, figuratively speaking or for real, it depends on your financial situation which is bound to improve.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Someone you mistrusted could turn out to be your best friend. Get rid of your guilt feelings by painting the town red if you can spare the time.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 20) A love affair will have to be kept quiet while you straighten out your present domestic life. If your prospective partner isn't willing to wait, then the romance isn't worth the effort.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) Put all your talents to work and don't allow others to interfere with your modus operandi since you have much to offer the world of commerce and industry. This is your week to shine.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) A friend will come through when you need a helping hand. Don't rely on that person too long because you could spoil a good thing. Maintain a sane balance.

By J.T. YURKO

Norman Bates has returned as proprietor of the Bates Motel, the pleasant, out-of-the-way place with a fine Gothic house just in the back. It's a little run down, as Norman's been sent away for close to 20 years. Sure, he's committed a few murders, but that's all in his past.

Would you spend a night at Bates Motel? To this day there are people who get shivers down the spine when taking a shower in a motel room. It's all due to Hitchcock's genius, with a great assist from actor Tony Perkins, now re-creating a role that is movie legend.

"I really wasn't looking to do a 'Psycho II,' says Perkins, "but as I read this script I felt it had many of the ingredients of the first picture — things that made the first picture entertaining and noteworthy, such as a good plot and respect for the characters."

Little did Hitchcock or the rest of the company realize in 1960 that they were making a masterpiece of horror, but one tempered with comedy.

"Hitch was very lighthearted about the film. He only wanted to see if a feature could be made with a TV crew and equipment on a modest budget. We never felt we were creating a masterpiece. Hitch was so relieved not to have to go on location, not to have to work with a big crew and the general bulk of a production, that he had a good time with the film. And it may have made the film better as he didn't have to worry about effects, he could concentrate on his story and subjects."

Perkins was picked for the original "Psycho" by Hitchcock after seeing him in the film "Fear Strikes Out" about baseball player Jimmy Piersall's nervous breakdown.

"Someone asked me if Hitchcock would have liked this sequel, and it's really an unanswerable question, one that should be given to a licensed gypsy or medium. It was made in a way that dignifies and perpetuates the 'Psycho' myth. We could easily have made an exploitation film which had the house and the mother and made a successful slice-and-splatter movie."

The sequel to "Psycho" contains moments of humor, much like the original. Says Perkins: "It's remarkable how audiences react to the original film. There are whole passages now that are obliterated by laughter from the audience." Nobody laughs during the notorious shower sequence, however, and when asked what it was like to film that great moment of cinema history, Perkins replied, "I don't know, I wasn't there. That was a double."

QUINCY

In tonight's drama, Quincy (Jack Klugman) saves the life of a well-known entertainer who catches fire while free-basing cocaine, and then learns first-hand about the widespread acceptance surrounding drug abuse. The show airs SUNDAY, JULY 31 on CTV.

Whataburger's Prize Cup Roundup.

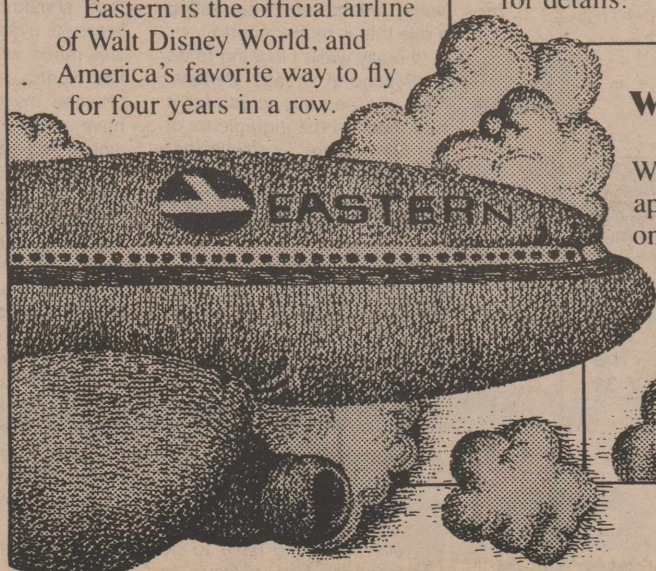

Win a trip for two to Epcot Center at Walt Disney World.

We're giving away a total of five trips for two to Epcot Center, the community of the future. Trips include hotel accommodations, admission to Epcot and Walt Disney World, and round trip airfare to Orlando, Florida, on Eastern Airlines.

You'll be flying in style on Eastern Airlines.

Eastern is the official airline of Walt Disney World, and America's favorite way to fly for four years in a row.

Just peel the tab off the bottom of 16, 24, or 32 oz. cups.

On Coca-Cola or other soft drinks. No purchase necessary. See complete rules for details.

Collect our themeline to win one of five trips for two.

Collect all five pieces to our themeline "It's not just a hamburger, it's a Whataburger," and you could be on your way to Epcot.

Win instant food prizes.

You could win a great big delicious Whataburger, a Whataburger Jr., a hot apple pie, or french fries on your next visit. So come on in to Whataburger and play the Prize Cup Roundup. Your odds of winning are 1 in 4, with over a million prizes to be awarded. Before you know it, you could be headed for Epcot Center.

It's not just a hamburger, it's a WHATABURGER

"Coca-Cola" is a registered trademark of the Coca-Cola Company.

BEFORE & AFTER

GROVES

All My Children: Jenny learned about another one of Tad's schemes that would have her involved in doing something to help him. Donna resumed her singing career with Chuck admiring her from a nearby table. Erica went on with her plans, regardless of the "interruption." Coming: Daisy manages to give Nina some much needed advice.

Another Life: Miriam broke down after learning Paul was not among the survivors of the plane crash. Gene warned Carla not to give Monk false hope of becoming a dancer. Amber visited Dr. Galvin for pregnancy tests. Coming: Lori begins to have pains. Gene confronts Sebastian about Lee and Kate's engagement.

Another World: Cecile sold off her jewelry, borrowed money from Brian and then left town. Larry accepted the conclusion that Jean was in Alma's hotel room. Nicole's revealed cocaine addiction threatened her life. Coming: Clarice realizes she has to make an appearance and tries to gather herself together for the moment.

As The World Turns: Steve found another plot by Craig threatening himself and Betsy. Lyla thought Craig was trying to tell her something. Charmane was nearly tripped up by Whit, but managed to recover. Coming: Craig continues to play his games, but is unaware how close he's coming to a crisis. Gunnar gives Barbara a strange message.

Capitol: Fran decided to venture out of her shell, but at the wrong moment. Paula decided not to take too many chances at this time. Clarissa decided she would rather wait for Mark to make another move. Coming: Myrna discovers Jordy's "scheme."

Days Of Our Lives: Liz's three-year jail sentence prompted a tearful parting from the baby and Neil. Tony fended off Renee's advances. Circumstantial evidence mounted in the search for the murder of Trista's mother. Coming: Renee decides to give matters a "push," but Anna is much too "agile."

Edge Of Night: Sky and Raven prepared a trap in a new office building Sky once owned and were caught in an elevator. Jody accused Miles of dating too soon after Nicole's death. Peter's new explosive story was out: Mike Karr was taking bribes. Coming: Robbie shocks Preacher with his knowledge of a "secret."

General Hospital: Luke hid the disc in the heel of his orthopedic shoe, brought the shoe to the repair shop and gave Ruby the ticket. Holly learned Nanny was dying and went off to see her. Celia had one of Grant's pills analyzed. Coming: Lesley gets "word" about Rick's meeting with Rose. Guiding Light: Vanessa decided she could use Billy for her own purposes just as he thought he could use her for his. Lillian again refused to tell what she knew about Beth's problems at home. Coming: Mindy gives Phillip the shock of his life.

Loving: Mike Donovan's moods worried his mother and wife. Merrill's stubbornness nearly cost her her "cover." Roger insisted on making his phone call in spite of misgivings. Coming: The Donovans decide to have a family conference.

One Life To Live: Trapped in Vicki's mountain cabin, Clint fought for his life. Ed Hall was caught in mounting waves of suspense as Llanview officials considered him for their police chief. Asa showed off a new "side" of his personality as husband and prospective father. Coming: Bo and Delila find themselves trying to avoid problems.

Ryan's Hope: Una told Charlotte that Neil finished his plans for Frank's death. Jack suggested he and Leigh discuss living together. Beth Shelby was shocked to see Jill's picture in a national magazine and told her daughter Maggie that Jill is her half-sister. Coming: Charlotte has a change of heart and tries to reach someone.

Search For Tomorrow: Wendy was guilt-ridden, but still couldn't stay out of Warren's bed. Suzi caught her kissing Warren and ran off to seek solace from Joanne. Stephanie wanted to call off her romance with Steve, but he refused to give her up. Coming: Joanne's life could be in danger.

Young & The Restless: Kevin was confused, bewildered and angry, but agreed to listen to reason. Nikki was sure she'd done the right thing, but hadn't reckoned on Kevin's sense of revenge. Julia acted to make things easier for Nikki, but was repulsed. Coming: Rick comes up with a plan that could cause problems for everyone, including Victor.

MEDICINE CHEST

Your Professional:
Troy True, Reg. Pharmacist

Are skin bleaching products effective? — P.S.
 Products which contain the chemical hydroquinone are both safe and effective for the removal of age spots, freckles and dark blotches that can occur during pregnancy, according to the F.D.A. When you use skin bleaching products, avoid direct sun exposure to the affected area, and follow the directions on the product label.

What kind of side effects can occur from cancer drugs? — B.C.
 Most cancer drugs work best in those body areas where the tissue cells are multiplying rapidly. Therefore, those tissues whose cells multiply rapidly are potential side effect areas. These would include bone marrow (when blood cells are produced), stomach and intestinal tract and skin and mucous membranes.

Tissues whose cells multiply more slowly include the nervous system, the heart and circulatory system, lungs, liver and kidneys. These tissues are less likely to be sources of side effects.

I have hypertension [high blood pressure]. My doctor told me not to drink regular coffee. Why? — L.C.
 If you do not drink regular coffee on a regular basis, caffeine could trigger an increase in your blood pressure. Chronic coffee drinkers do not have this problem, because their bodies have developed a tolerance to the caffeine.

Dear Debbie

DEAR DEBBIE:

I am a young minister who never thought I'd be writing a letter to you in my wildest dreams. However, I have a problem I feel could use a feminine point of view.

As is customary in our town, I spend Sunday dinner with a different family each week. I am grateful for this hospitality and I like the opportunity of getting better acquainted with the different families. However, I find myself the victim of harmless, well-meaning "match-makers." Well, let me amend that. Perhaps they are not so harmless. Invariably, they introduce me to daughters, neices, out-of-town visitors, etc. I suppose they feel I should be properly "settled." I find myself extremely embarrassed in these situations. I know the women feel equally uncomfortable.

I know that someday I want to get married. However, I want to be able to choose whom and when! How do I discourage the match-makers in a nice way?

TOO ELIGIBLE DEAR ELIGIBLE:

This is indeed a loaded question. Of course, you don't want to offend anyone. However, at the same time you are being thoughtlessly manipulated.

I assume that by now you have ascertained those in your congregation who are doing the Cupid routine. I suggest that the next time it is their turn for Sunday dinner, you politely ask if you could bring a date and then do so. If this is impossible, privately ask your host or hostess if there will be any other guests present. If they go into the whole routine about this wonderful young woman you just must meet, politely decline, taking a rain-check as you do so. If this happens often enough, they'll get the hint.

DEAR DEBBIE:

This isn't really a problem, but I thought I'd write to you anyway. The other day, I was having lunch with a friend. The restaurant was quite crowded and it was obvious (at least to me) that the waitress had her hands full keeping up with the lunch crowd. However, my friend did not see it that way. She was unnecessarily demanding and simply could not understand that the waitress couldn't possibly keep up with her bids for attention. In fact, my friend even went so far as to blame the waitress for the way the food was prepared. I was quite embarrassed and felt terribly sorry for the waitress. Of course, when we left, my friend refused to leave a tip. I left an overly generous tip just to make up for some of my friend's abuse.

Don't you think you could say something so that people would better understand the plight of waiters and waitresses? I think it would be greatly appreciated.

EX-WAITRESS DEAR EX:

All too often, people dining out expect the waiter or waitress to serve them as if they were personal butlers or something of that nature. Somehow, they feel they're paying for such service. Well, for purposes of edification, let me just say that often these waiters/waitresses are grossly underpaid.

They're on their feet for twelve to even fourteen hours a day. Most of them do their best to be polite and efficient. After all, they live on tips.

When dining out, please try to be considerate. Don't expect the impossible from your waiter. Remember, there's no excuse for rudeness.

NOTES AND TIPS

* The Wine Spectrum is offering a smooth, mellow wine made from 100 percent California grapes, called Vivante. It was developed to suit the tastes of the economy-minded wine consumer, and is predicted to be one of the great wine bargains available. It's slated to be among the best of the California jug wines.

* In 1981, the U.S. exported a record number of wines abroad, but due to tariffs and currency devaluations, that figure dropped for 1982. Although Canada and Britain remain the top importers of American wines, among those who have substantially increased their imports of U.S. wine are Venezuela, Denmark, and Iceland.

* The winemakers of Sonoma County chose the finest barrels of 1982 Cabernet Sauvignon this spring. The four winners are to be auctioned at the Sonoma County Wine Auction on August 6th and 7th. The winners: 1982 Iron Horse Cabernet Sauvignon; 1982 William Wheeler Cabernet Sauvignon; the 1982 Domaine Laurier Cabernet Sauvignon; and the 1982 Gudlach Bundschu Cabernet Sauvignon. For more information on the auction, contact the Sonoma County Wine Auction, in Healdsburg, CA.

* Taylor California Cellars is absolutely positive you'll like their Light Chablis, Light Rhine and Light Rose wines which have 25 percent fewer calories than regular wines, and is "guaranteeing" your satisfaction with the taste of these wines by offering rebates of $3 for U.S. wine and $2 for those who don't.

Soap Bubbles..... by Seli Groves

Lots of nice things are happening for lots of nice people in soapdom, to wit: Lisa Loring (Cricket, "As The World Turns") wed her long-time love, Doug Stevenson (ex Lee Sentell, "Search For Tomorrow"). Malcolm Groome (Patrick Ryan, "Ryan's Hope") will be starring in an important production called "Danny and the Killer Rain." Malcolm, (who has been concerned about our planet and the way too many people abuse our natural resources and threaten the future of both the world and its people) describes the work as "... designed to be instructive, not fear-inducing." It is meant to teach children about acid rain.

Congratulations to Ms. Alexis Julia Cullen-Baker. The tot, daughter of Kathleen Cullen (Amanda, "Guiding Light") and Kathleen's husband, lawyer Tim Baker, turns two this August.

THAAO PENGHLIS
Thaa Penghlis (Tony, "Days Of Our Lives") finished his work in the film, "Sadat." The movie is based on the life of the courageous late Egyptian president, Anwar Sadat. Thaa, who is a superb artist, is also deeply interested in history. He once told us that artists may be about the most observant "historians" because, "Art is an ongoing process ... studying it teaches us more about the people it represents than almost anything else ..."

Buffalo-born Nik Nicholson, the producer of "Edge Of Night," wonders if any of you have any "diaries" about the earlier days of the series. He recently heard from a fan who remembered a storyline that concerned the Grimsley family. Write him c/o ABC-TV, 1330 Avenue of the Americas, N.Y., N.Y. 10019. Meanwhile, as Mike and Nancy Karr (Forrest Compton and Ann Flood) go through problems in the 20th year of their marriage, does anyone out there know the given name of the first Mrs. Mike Karr? Yes, there was one. Write c/o this paper.

CAST AWEIGHS:
Welcome Gloria DeHaven, star of stage, screen and EVERYTHING!!! to "Ryan's Hope" as Beth Shelby.

SOAP SCRAPS: John Wesley Shipp (Kelly, "GL") and Kin Shriner (Scotty, "General Hospital") helped raise funds for a Doctors' Urgent Care Center in Charleston, West Virginia ... Kim Delaney (Jenny, "All My Children") joins Loretta Swit in a CBS film ... Joseph Taylor (Tony di Salvo, "Young & The Restless") would like a fan club: Write c/o "Young & Restless," 7800 Beverly Blvd., Los Angeles, CA, 90048 ... Byron Cherry picked off a plum part in the flick, "The Agitators."

FAMILY TIES

Alex (Michael J. Fox, I.) is Big Brother to a 10-year-old Vietnamese boy named Ming (Eugene Akutagawa), whom he aims to mold in his own conservative image, in the "I Gotta Be Ming" episode of NBC's "Family Ties," to be rebroadcast MONDAY, AUG. 1.

THE PROMISE

Stephen Collins and Kathleen Quinlan star as a young couple planning to marry until a tragic accident ruins their plans, in the romantic drama "The Promise," airing TUESDAY, AUG. 2 on the "CBS Tuesday Night Movie."

Howard Keel's career keeps on rolling

By Joan Crosby

Howard Keel

"I'm a late bloomer," says Howard Keel, a big smile on his ruggedly handsome face.

Keel is, and always has been, a man of great presence. His first career saw him starring on Broadway in Rodgers and Hammerstein musicals like "Carousel" and "Oklahoma."

Then he moved to Hollywood and starred in classic musicals like "Annie Get Your Gun," "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers" and "Kismet." He also made many non-musical films.

But despite all that, Keel is more popular today than ever — because of his role as Clayton Farlow on "Dallas."

During a hiatus from the series, Keel traveled to England where he covered 4,000 miles doing 15 concerts in as many days. His recognition there was beyond anything he got years earlier when he had the lead role in a London company of "Oklahoma."

"I'm even going to make my first record album. The offer came while I was over there, and we investigated the company and it is legitimate. It's my first album, although I am on a couple of original cast albums."

The LP, set for release

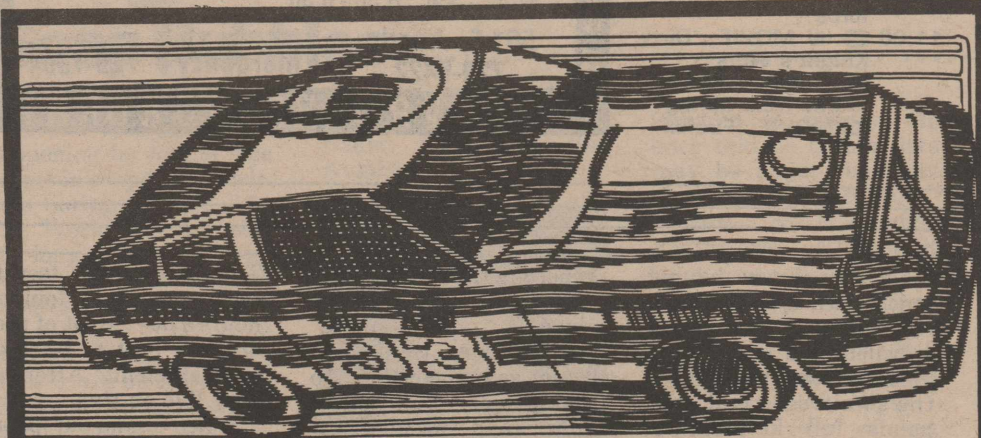

around Christmas, will be called "Love from Howard Keel."

Keel, not a man given to bragging, is charming and bashful when asked about how female fans received him during his English tour.

"Well, there were a lot of roses thrown on the stage and someone sent 11 roses to my dressing room at one theater with a note that said she would deliver the twelfth in person."

"You know, it's exciting any time you meet with some success in this business. To have kept working over the years is wonderful. It never bothered me that I was never a superstar. Why, even after my success in England in Oklahoma, I came back to New York and I had to audition for a musical."

A WEEKLY SYNDICATED COLUMN
FROM STARS HALL OF FAME ORLANDO, FLORIDA

MARY PICKFORD AMERICA'S SWEETHEART

'Little Mary' was the innocent child who could never grow up. She was caught in the time capsule of late Victorian nostalgia in her first movies in the 1910s and early 1920s and despite her shrewd business acumen and dramatic shearing of her trademark golden curls, was not able to survive into the brash, modern thirties. However, her reign in the early part of the century was absolute, and her popularity was second to none.

Mary Pickford was born Gladys Smith in Toronto, Canada, in the early 1890s. Her exact year of birth is unknown, but was probably 1893—the same year that movies were first born. Her background was that of gentle working class, verging on poverty, and she first went on the stage at the age of five to support her family. Her first starring role on Broadway also gave her a new identity as Mary Pickford—Gladys being considered too working class and Smith too forgettable.

Mary went to work with D.W. Griffith at the Biograph Company in 1909, earning $10 a day. Just a year later she was the star of the company, and by 1916 she was working with IMP for the enormous sum of $10,000 per week.

She became known around the world as 'Little Mary' from her 27th film, "The Little Teacher," and carried on that immensely successful characterization in "Poor Little Rich Girl" and "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm." 'Little Mary' was the innocent, naive and totally lovable little child-woman struggling against the odds of the world. Mary Pickford's physique enhanced her child-like roles—she was under five feet tall and weighed less than one hundred pounds. Her head was slightly too big for her body, and her costumes were padded to conceal any curves she had.

Mary was always very conscious of her image. When she met Douglas Fairbanks she was very concerned about the direction in which their relationship was heading since at that time she was married (rather unhappily) to a boisterous Irishman, Owen Moore. Their marriage was a stormy one because Moore disliked Mary's mother, 'Ma' Pickford, intensely. Mary, a devout Catholic, took her wedding vows very seriously, but eventually she could not take Moore's uncontrollable rages. In 1920 Mary travelled to Nevada and obtained a divorce, which included a settlement of $150,000 to Moore. She also made a statement to the press that the reports that she would marry Fairbanks were 'absurd.' Three weeks later they were married secretly in a Los Angeles suburb.

The newly married Fairbanks' were hailed as the 'King and Queen' of Hollywood. They entertained royally at their home, Pickfair, and travelled extensively throughout the world meeting real kings, queens and presidents. Doug Fairbanks became caught up in the entire 'aristocrat scene' and soon began spending more and more time in England. However, he did agree to make "The Taming of the Shrew" with Mary in 1929, and although the movie opened to favorable reviews, 'Little Mary' just wasn't capable, in her fans' eyes, of playing a shrewish Katherine. Afterwards Doug fell in love with Lady Sylvia Ashley and in 1935, due to 'insurmountable problems,' Hollywood's dream couple divorced.

An enduring reminder of Doug and Mary's happier days lies in the cement on Hollywood Boulevard in California. While renovating one of their houses, Doug and Mary pressed their hands in the wet cement and signed their names. Their friend, Sid Grauman (of Chinese Theatre fame) loved the idea and Hollywood Boulevard's Walk of the Stars was born.

At Six Flags Stars Hall of Fame in Orlando, Florida, fans can see Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks on the set of "The Taming of the Shrew." And they can also walk the attraction's version of the Walk of the Stars called Plaza of the Stars, where more than 130 stars of motion pictures, television and the recording industry have left their prints and signatures enshrined in cement.

CLOSEUPS: Richard Mulligan will be starring in "Reggie" when the new ABC series airs in the Fall. The Emmy award winning actor for his role in "Soap" grew up in the Bronx, is now married to interior designer Leonore Stevens, and lives in the chi-chi section of Los Angeles known as Hancock Park. Richard's hobbies are reading, studying parapsychology, bicycle touring and "serious quiet thinking"... Didya know Robert Guillaume, in addition to his starring role as Benson, has put together a successful night club act? He has taken it on the road to such places as Atlantic City, Las Vegas, Bermuda and Canada. The father of three, Guillaume lives in Tarzana, a suburb of Los Angeles... Christopher Hewett, the man you'll see replacing Herve Villechaize in "Fantasy Island" as Mr. Roarke's sidekick, stands 6'2" tall. He was born in England, later moved to New York where he appeared in many stage productions. Hewett's most recent credits include ABC's "The Elephant Man" and the New York and Los Angeles productions of "Peter Pan" starring Sandy Duncan. He was Captain Hook.

Tchaikovsky opera airs

The 1983 Festival Ottawa production of Tchaikovsky's opera, "Eugene Onegin," from the National Arts Centre, will be broadcast on CBC on Sunday, July 31.

With baritone Thomas Allen in the title role and soprano Kathryn Bouleyn as Tatyana, this new production in English marks the welcome return to the National Arts Centre of mezzo-soprano Lois Marshall in the role of Filippievna.

Other Canadian performers in principal roles include Vancouver-born bass Don Garrard, mezzo-soprano Diane Loeb of Ottawa and tenor Bernard Fitch of Toronto. "Eugene Onegin," first performed in 1879, is considered Tchaikovsky's most successful opera.

Ask Kate

'Little House' not razed

By Kate Woods

I know that "Little House: A New Beginning" was canceled, but I read somewhere that Michael Landon might try to do more episodes. If so, where will they be shown? — C.P.

NBC hasn't razed the little house completely. Landon and crew will be back in September in the first of three planned two-hour specials. Karen Grassle will even be joining the rest of the Ingalls clan in at least one show.

THE STING — What is the real name of Sting, the lead singer for the Police? Can you tell me his age? — R.W.

Sting was born Gordon Sumner 31 years ago, the son of a Newcastle milkman. If you miss the group's upcoming concert tour, you can catch Sting in late '84 as one of the villains in the $30 million sci-fi epic, "Dune."

OLDIES BUT BADDIES — I've always been a fan of the B-movie melodramas that starred the likes of Dane Clark and Richard Conte. I'm trying to come up with the name of one that Clark starred in. He was on the run from the police with Gail Russell. Also, are Clark and Conte still living? — J.T.

Dane Clark has spent much of his screen time on the run — in 1948's "Moonrise" he had Miss

Michael Landon

Russell in tow. Richard Conte died in 1975, but Clark is still working. He just finished a guest spot on an upcoming "Simon & Simon."

JUST-IN TIME — My wife and I have often wondered why we don't see Justin Henry, the great little actor in "Kramer vs. Kramer," anymore. Has he retired, as it were? — S.E.

With an Oscar nomination under his belt, Justin went back to school in his hometown of Rye, N.Y., for a few years away from the limelight. But he's filming two projects this summer — cable TV's "Tigertown" with Roy Scheider, and Universal's "16 Candles."

Movie Nostalgia

By Marie landiorio

The lush, green countryside of 18th-century England and the vibrant streets and drawing rooms of London provided the background for a lusty film about an earthy young squire named "Tom Jones."

Under Tony Richardson's flawless direction, the cast of this 1963 film romped through a mischievous John Osborne screenplay to win nine Academy Award nominations. It won four, including Best Picture, Best Director and Best Screenplay. "Tom Jones" was the first British film since "Hamlet" to win best picture.

In 1982 and 1983, the Oscars for Best Picture again went to British films. This has sparked a controversy within the Academy about the classification of British productions — should a film produced in England be placed in the foreign film category or not? The Academy says no, any film released in the English language is eligible for the Best Picture category.

Question: What were the British films that won for Best Picture in 1982 and 1983?

Answer: "Chariots of Fire" and "Gandhi"
