242 Injured...

Eight Perisn In Las Vegas Hotel Fire

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Blowtorches of flame shot through an elevator shaft and up one side of the 30-story Las Vegas Hilton Tuesday night, as four separate fires "of suspicious origin" left eight people dead and 242 injured.

Searchers went room-to-room in the hotel's east wing today looking for possible additional victims in the gambling mecca's second major hotel blaze in three months.

Six people, including a firefighter, were hospitalized in critical condition after the fires, including one major blaze that started on the eighth floor and three smaller fires on other floors. Most of the injured suffered smoke inhalation and were released after treatment.

A pillar of flame shot up the side of the 2,783-room hotel, the nation's largest, as hundreds of guests fled into the streets or scrambled to the roof where helicopters plucked them to safety.

"When we got outside, there were flames shooting up the side of the hotel. It looked like the 'Towering Inferno,'" said Hank Arkin, a guest from Merrick, N.Y.

Fire Chief Roy Parrish said two men were being questioned about the blazes, which followed by less than three months a fire at the MGM Grand Hotel that killed 84 people and injured more than 700.

However, Clark County homicide Detective Michael Brady said "nobody is in custody for arson." He said six people were questioned about possible looting, but they were later released.

Guards were at all entrances and in the casino area today, while guests returned to the hotel in an effort to retrieve belongings.

Manager Art Donovan said he had "no idea" when it would reopen.

The first-floor casino was not damaged. Hotel officials said that unlike the MGM Grand, the stone-facade Hilton had sprinklers and smoke detectors on every floor.

The main fire began about 8:05 p.m. in the southeast corner of the eighth floor. A pillar of flames quickly leapt from window to window up the side of the building, spewing smoke over the Las Vegas Strip.

Guests broke windows to scream for help, or lowered themselves on ropes made of bedsheets. Stairwells to the ground floor were jammed.

One victim died in a fall onto an outside deck, Clark County Coroner Otto Ravenholt said. The others died of smoke inhalation, he said.

About 25 minutes after the first fire was found, a second blaze was discovered in a different wing. Two more were found within 20 more minutes, and a special weapons team was called to the scene when authorities suspected arsonists might be at work inside.

Some 450 firefighters battled the fire.

The fire on the eighth floor was under control shortly after 9 p.m., fire officials said the other blazes — in a second-floor laundry room and on the third and ninth floors — were put out later.

The eighth and ninth floor hallways were gutted, Sgt. Bob Hilliard said.

School To Revise Rule On Absences

Snyder School Trustees last night instructed the staff to revise attendance polices for secondary schools, extended contracts of system-wide administrators and discussed office space requirements of the Scurry County Appraisal District.

The revision of attendance policies was requested following a discussion with doctors and several parents.

Dr. Paul Thompson told the board that present policy concerning excused absences at the high school requires physicians to assume parental responsibility.

Following a review of his interpretation of school policy on absences by Lee Presswood, high school vice principal, board members expressed surprise that excuse notes signed by parents were not being accepted.

Continued discussion indicated that high school administrators, system-wide administrators and board members had different interpretations of the attendance policy adopted last year by the board.

Dr. Thompson, and Dr. Carl Dillaha, both of whom attended the meeting, said they frequently were asked to sign statements that pupils were ill when they had not seen a doctor for that particular illness. A child may be sick enough to miss school without having to see his or her doctor, and only the parents are in a position to know about these cases, the doctors said.

Dr. Thompson also cited an incident in which he said he wrote a request for a student to be out of school because both his parents were hospitalized and he was needed. The student returned with the note and said he was told at the high school that he could "tell Dr. Thompson to stick it."

Board members and administrators expressed concern over this report and offered profuse apologies to Dr. Thompson. This certainly was not the response expected of a professional, said Ted Crenwelge, board president.

Administrators are to bring policy revisions to the board at a later meeting.

John Reed, chairman of the Scurry County Appraisal Board, and Ray Peveler, chief appraiser, discussed office space problems of the appraisal

Q.—If we were so short of electricty this morning, why were classes held in Snyder Schools?

A.—Inquiries produced several reasons. Supt. Bill J. Hood said buses were already bringing in pupils before the curtailment was requested, and also that there was no request to shut off heating equipment in schools, and schools usually shut down only when travel is hazardous. Henry Clark, manager of Texas Electric Service Co., said the curtailment was not aimed at schools, but to uses that could be decreased or shut off temporarily without serious interruption of activities.

Cons May Occupy Old Bases

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Gov. Bill Clements says unused military bases in Texas might be a good place to put inmates to relieve overcrowding at state prisons.

"We're investigating the possibility of turning these into quasi-penal institutions, but I don't know yet what we will do," Clements told reporters Tuesday.

State prison officials are looking for ways to solve the crowding problem. U.S. District Judge William Wayne Justice of Tyler has said overcrowding causes many problems at the Texas Department of Corrections.

"We have a very serious overpopulation problem, and it's going to be very tough to solve," Clements said. "Dozens of different options are being looked at."

Meningitis Outbreak Grows

HOUSTON (AP) — Medical investigators admit they may never know precisely why a puzzling outbreak of meningitis, that now has infected 34 people in Houston, clustered in a elementary school classroom.

Health officials say 10 people have died since Jan. 1 from the disease that has stricken at least 89 people in Texas. And one of the dead, a 12-year-old girl, was among six students in a sixth-grade Dodson Elementary School classroom to be afflicted with meningococcal meningitis.

Negative blood samples and throat cultures taken last week from students and employees at Dodson prompted doctors at Baylor College of Medicine and from the Centers for Disease Control in Atlanta to begin an inquiry into the habits of the stricken students — looking for an elusive common thread.

Six Arrested At Pantex Protest

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) — A Catholic priest and five others face trespassing charges following their arrest during a demonstration against nuclear weaponry at the Pantex Corp. plant.

The six were taken into custody by private security guards at the plant after they scaled an outer fence Tuesday morning.

None of the protesters attempted to scale a high-voltage fence separating the Pantex weapons assembly facility from the perimeter fence, authorities said. The plant is located about 30 miles east of Amarillo.

Electric Power Curtailed...

Arctic Blast Sweeps Through Snyder Area

An arctic blast sent temperatures tumbling to their lowest level this season last night, causing curtailment of energy consumption throughout the state.

In Snyder, a low reading of 9 degrees was recorded at the city water plant, the lowest since last Nov. 18, when a reading of 12 degrees resulted from a heavy snowstorm.

Although a few light snow flurries moved across the area during early evening hours Tuesday, skies here cleared overnight and high winds which sent the chill factor far below the zero mark had subsided by morning.

Texas Electric Service Co. asked its customers to curtail the use of electric power as much as possible by turning thermostats down and shutting off appliances and lights not absolutely needed, as part of a state-wide request. Response to the pleas for conservation were fantastic, Henry Clark, local TESCO manager, said. System-wide, TESCO's load had been reduced by 100 megawatts (100 million watts) soon after the pleas went out. The reduction was necessary because natural gas suppliers for some generating plants had shut off delivery of fuel to the power companies.

Clark said generating plants normally using gas were switched to oil, which is not as efficient in producing electricty. This also put a heavier load on the lignite-fueled generating plants in East Texas. Big industrial users of electricty were quick to respond to the request for curtailment, said Clark, including some installations in Scurry County, such as Texaco, SACROC and Ezzell-Key Feed Mill.

Low temperatures were general over Texas this morning, with some points reported record lows.

Wichita Falls recorded 12 degree before dawn, breaking the record 13-degree reading set in 1933. San Antonio recorded 19 at 4 a.m., breaking a record set in 1899. Forecasters said the mercury would likely dip lower in San Antonio before dawn. Victoria recorded 24, breaking a record 25-degree reading set in 1933.

Early morning temperatures were below freezing except in extreme South Texas. Temperature extremes ranged from 7 below zero at Amarillo to 38 at Brownsville. Some readings included 10 at Abilene, 12 at Dallas-Fort Worth, 13 at Tyler, 22 at Houston, 28 at Corpus Christi, 18 at Austin, 11 at Midland and 28 at El Paso. Sub-freezing temperatures dipped as far south as Alice where the mercury plunged to 29 just before dawn.

Fall Term To End Before Christmas

A 1981-82 school calendar providing for the first semester to be completed before Christmas and the second semester the third week in May was adopted last night by the Snyder Board of Education.

The new calendar also specifies dates which will be used to make up for any classroom time lost because of weather, and for the first time, Snyder pupils will end their summer vacation well in advance of Labor Day.

Teachers will begin a series of four in-service days on Tuesday, Aug. 18, and the first day of classes will be Monday, Aug. 24. The first holiday will be Labor Day, Sept. 7, and Thanksgiving holidays will be Nov. 26-27. Christmas holidays are scheduled to begin Dec. 23. However, if a makeup day because of weather is required for the first semester, classes will be held on Dec. 23, making Dec. 24 the first Christmas holiday. Classes will resume on Monday, Jan. 4, the beginning of the second semester.

A teacher in-service day is set for March 8 and spring holidays are on the calendar for March 9-15, Tuesday to the following Monday. These holidays, however, are subject to revision, with March 8-9 designated as make-up days for time lost because of weather if they should be needed.

Easter Holidays are set for April 8 to April 13, Thursday through Monday. But April 8 would be another make-up day if it should be needed.

The spring semester will end May 20, with a teacher in-service day set for Friday, May 21.

The calendar ultimately adopted was one of nine proposals considered by the board. Several teachers attending the meeting expressed their approval of the one selected by the board.

SNYDER TEMPERATURES: High Tuesday, 51 degrees; low, 9 degrees; reading at 7 a. m. today. 9 degrees; precipitation, trace; total precipitation for 1981 to date, .52.

WEST TEXAS: Clear and cold today. Fair and not so cold tonight. Partly cloudy and warmer Thursday. Highs 30s except mid 50s west of mountains. Lows tonight 20s. Highs Thursday low 50s Panhandle to mid 60s Big Bend.

The SDN Column

You probably have noticed by now---if not, it won't make any difference to you anyway---that we got our big type back yesterday.

And it looked strange.

However, it is almost identical to the type we were using prior to the installation of our computerized typesetting equipment last October. It will take some getting used to again, but most of us older ones appreciate it. We don't have to hold the paper quite so far away from our eyes to read it, and for some of us, it may mean that we will not need to have our eyeglasses adjusted so soon as would have been the case otherwise.

We had thought that we would be without our larger type only a few days when the computers were installed, but there were complications and these were not worked out until this week.

If you have ever stopped at an eating establishment in Winters, perhaps you noticed a big picture of Bart Starr, the pro football great, on display.

Dr. Don Newbury, new president of Western Texas College, says there is a story behind this particular picture.

It seems that, back during his playing days at Green Bay, Bart Starr was on a hunting trip, or perhaps he was only passing through Winters. Anyway, he stopped at this particular cafe. As he was paying the tab, he told the manager that it was one of the best meals he ever had and introduced himself: "I am Bart Starr of the Green Bay Packers."

The manager thanked him for the good words about the food but advised, "I'm sorry, but we buy all of our meat from Superior Packing Co. in Fort Worth."

As you might expect, Starr was flabbergasted, but his wife thought it was hilarious that not only would a cafe manager not know Bart Starr, but he also had no idea what the Green Bay Packers were.

Subsequently, Starr sent the cafe the picture of himself, which was put on display and remains there.

It reminded us of a cafe in Wytheville, Va. It had been recommended to us by a friend as a place that served excellent breakfasts. Upon entering, we noticed this huge photograph that took up virtually all of one wall. One of the people looked vaguely familiar, and later we learned that we had seen his picture in history books. It was Woodrow Wilson, and this cafe happened to occupy the site where he had exchanged marriage vows with one of Wytheville's widows while he was serving as President of the United States. And the management of that cafe was not about to let anyone forget it.

We did not recognize Woodrow Wilson right off, but somehow, we believe we would have known Bart Starr at first glance. After all, Wilson was a mere president.

a significant date

You might not have noticed, but Jan. 27 was the anniversary of a significant day in the history of this country.

Eight years ago signaled the ending of the war in Vietnam.

This country, reputedly the mightiest power in the history of mankind, came home like a beaten dog with its tail between its legs. It was a humiliating experience that would take a long time to live down, if it could be lived down.

Perhaps it is not good to bring it up again, year after year; but, then, who can say that in the long run there are not some built-in benefits that, if nurtured and handled with care, will work to this country's advantage?

Trying to put a finger on where it all began is like trying to say where a circle begins. President Kennedy had inherited from the Truman and Eisenhower regimes a commitment to prevent a Communist takeover in South Vietnam, a small, weak Southeast Asian country formed in 1954 from a coastal strip of the former French colony of Indochina. To keep this tiny ally from going down the Red drain, Kennedy increased the amount of aid to the South Vietnamese government. Where President Truman had sent 35 military advisers and Ike had sent some 500 more, Kennedy sent 16,000.

That was the real beginning of a war that was to tear this country apart as surely as its citizens, once the war was over, would suddenly come to the realization that the United States, after all, was fallible.

When that notion settled across the land like a cold, wet blanket,the nation reacted in the same manner a young man might react upon learning that he has lost his manhood. We came to a recognition of our limits.

And that wasn't all bad. We faced up to the fact that even nations have human characteristics and that one of those characteristics is that nobody can do everything, no matter how great he or she might be.

We came home, beaten, bowed and licking our wounds, a nation split down the middle over a war a half a world away.

About 57,000 U.S. troops had died, including about 46,000 in combat. More than 300,000 Americans had been wounded and about 780 were missing. The South Vietanamese had suffered 255,000 troop deaths and the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong over one million.

Over one and a half million people were killed and perhaps twice or three times that many were wounded — in a brushfire in Vietnam.

If it hadn't been for Watergate, waiting on the steps back home that took Americans' minds off Vietnam, the after-war tailspin might have been even more severe.

Jan. 27, 1973 ... a date to remember. A war to forget.

By now you've heard — quite likely several times — that human rights is out and terrorism is in as a primary consideration in the formulation and conduct of U.S. foreign policy.

"Swift and effective retribution" against terrorism, that is. We have that on no less authority than President Ronald Reagan.

Say one thing for the switch, the Reagan team has certainly latched onto a popular cause. Which human rights was not always, especially in some quarters on Capitol Hill. Terrorism does not have much of a consitutency except among terrorists themselves, who aren't all that numerous worldwide and so far as is known are non-existent in political Washington.

But it has not picked an easy one. Even before deciding what is to be done about the problem, there is the problem of defining it. The terms "terrorism" and "terrorist" have been used indiscriminately in recent years to cover any and all of the following:

Selective attacks against a government and its representatives, such as the Tehran embassy seizure; organized guerrilla warfare, such as the Palestine Liberation Organization campaign against Israel; hijacking of airliners, for politicial or personal reasons; abduction and murder of business leaders, such as has become epidemic in Italy; similar targeting of celebrities selected for maximum publicity effect, such as the assassination of Britain's Earl Mountbatten; random violence by "urban guerillas" of a variety of nationalities, such as Puerto Rican nationalist bombings in the United States; a government's repression of its own population; such as in El Salvador.

And in some cases, the problem acquires a politically delicate dimension when terrorists by definition of some authorities are actively supported by others, such as the bankrolling of the PLO by, among others, Washington's off-and-on good friends, the Saudis.

All of the above manifestations are relatively recent, but the problem itself is not. Walter Laquer of Georgetown University's Center for Strategic and International Studies, the experts' expert on the subject, points out that "contrary to widespread belief, terrorism is not a new and entirely unprecedented phenomenon." Its contemporary roots go back to the anarchist movement of the late 1800s and Irish nationalism of the same vintage which has survied into our times.

As the Irish example indicates, it is a politically loaded term. One nation's terrorism can be another's liberation movement, such as with the Jewish immigrants of post-war Palestine and the Palestinians today.

The past, however, provides no answer to today's problem, which continues to be debated inconclusively in the United Nations and other forums. In the late '70s, Congress was presented with an "Omnibus Anti-Terrorism Bill" that came up with little more in the way of an answer than blacklisting countries receiving U.S. assistance if they were adjudged to be giving aid and comfort to terrorist activities.

The United States and several other major Western governments have taken more meaningful action with the establishment of special counter-terrorist military units. There have been a few notable successes — the Germans at Mogadishu and the Israilis at Entebbe. But the risks are great, as demonstrated by the failed U.S. rescue mission in Iran. And the opportunities for effective action of this type are few in comparison to the extent and variety of terrorists activity.

Hijackings could be halted, complete security achieved for diplomatic personnel and premises and still there would be a terrorism problem. There would still be those fanatic individuals and groups willing to sacrifice any number of victims and die themselves for a cause appealing to none but themselves. They are elusive foes, difficult for the forces of order to engage in battle, their places when defeated quickly taken by new groups with new causes.

Once the Reagan team really gets into this, the complexities of developing an effective counter-terrorist policy may make the Carter administration's tussles with the South Koreans, assorted Latin military juntas and communist regimes over human rights look like the good old days.

There are some people who say there are no surprises left in the world anymore. they say that everything has become predictable.

We know who wins the election before the polls close.

We can accurately predict the sex of an unborn baby.

We can tell when our appliances will go just by checking the date on the warranty.

And if a woman serves braised parakeet lips over wild rice for dinner, it's a certainty her husband had it for lunch.

Well, adventurers, take heart. There are a few things that will cointinue to be a mystery no matter how much technology dominates our lives. Some things will never be predictable in our times.

Take the cost of your prescription. I can never anticipate how sick I am until the druggist tells me the cost of my medicine. I can be standing there feverish, nauseated, aching and afraid to start a long novel, when he announces, "That'll be $12.17." $12.17! I've paid more for a suntan!

At other times, I've been the picture of confidence as I stand at the counter with loose change in my hand and a simple stitch in my side. the druggist presses a small vial in my palm no bigger than a thimble and announces, "$47.53." I haven't seen that much cash since the garage sale.

And speaking of garages, what about the one where you take your car to be fixed? Don't tell me the world doesn't hold some shockers. The garage I go to is a shrine. It marks the birthplace of the post-dated check. More chest pains have been recorded at a service department of car repairs than at any other single place of business. No matter what estimate has been given, there is always a charge that was not foreseen. I have heard there was a person whose car had to be pushed into a garage only to discover the problem was a 15-cent hose, but I never knew him personally.

The American people are not naive, nor are they without appreciation that services cannot carry a standard price tag, but I watched a young girl recently in the vet's office who had come to claim her puppy. First she had her billfold out and as they tallied up the charges, she got out her checkbook. As they continued adding up the tab, she graduated to her charge card revolving account.

I wouldn't be surprised if that dog had to live to be 137 before he was paid off.

Early American women who were wealthy enough to afford a trip to the beauty salons were hooked up to a contraption that looked like an electric chair out of a late night horror flick.

Each metal clip-like curler was attached to a cord which was attached to something — you really couldn't see where they went through that maze of cords.

To get her hair looking good, a woman first had to look like Medusa, the mythical lady whose hair changed into serpents. Imagine, if you can, a woman with her hair encased in blobs of metal, a woman who appears to be suspended from a tangle of cords and wires.

After a grisly ordeal like that, I hope their hair came out looking gorgeous. No wonder the plain hair knot was so common.

Women were overjoyed when they came out with rollers, metal at first, then plastic.

But men weren't happy. Many housewives took to wearing curlers at night — right along with the cold cream.

In the sixties, the situation got out of hand when it became popular to go shopping with curlers on. It got to be where friends didn't recognize each other if they weren't wearing curlers. Hair dryers were around and did sell, but you wouldn't know it by going to the grocery store.

Some women gave up rolling their hair and decided it would be easier to iron it. That prefaced the advent of the hand held dryers.

Hand held dryers were a blessing to everyone and were probably invented by an irate husband. They were heavy and awkward at first, but it was something novel and it caught on.

Instead of straight hair being part of the counter-culture, it became fashionable. Blow dryers eventually got lighter and hairdressers learned they could do nifty little wave tricks with them. And men got a break — no more curlers.

Now there are curling irons, a lot like the earlier contraptions, but only one curl is done at a time so it doesn't look quite so grotesque.

Rollers are back too, electric ones. No wires, no cords and they only stay in for about five minutes. With hair setting being so much easier in the seventies, curls became common again.

With blow dryers, curling irons and electric rollers selling so well, some stores don't even stock rollers anymore. Nowadays, a woman wearing curlers in her hair when shopping is an oddity.

How about three cheers for progress.

We are often solicited for contributions to the poor. The poor were provided for by the laws in the Old Testament. The church at Jerusalem had many Gaililean Christians and widows to support. Palestine was disturbed by unrest, and famine and persecution made the Christians' lot harder. The church at Antioch sent a gift during the famine to the brethren in Jerusalem. Macedonia and Achaia contributed to the poor of Jerusalem. Paul urged the church at Corinth to give to the poor (I Cor. 16:1-3). He said God loves cheerful givers.

"Every man according as he purposeth in his heart, so let him give, not grudgingly, or of necessity: for God loveth a cheerful giver." — II Cor. 9:7

NEW YORK (AP) — When winter halts production in the farm belts, city dwellers tend to forget the severe drought that has plagued those areas since last summer, and which has continued ever since.

Now, with planting time approaching, said Lee Schuster, a farmer and farm manager, 'We have the potential for an explosive situation." The fallout, he said, might include sharply higher prices.

Here and in other cities worried about water supplies, the bad situation on the farms has been nearly forgotten during the winter, when people see few media photos of crops withered by drought.

But the drought is unabated, said Schuster, executive vice president of Oppenheimer Industries, Inc., a Kansas City-based firm with 800,000 acres under management. In many areas there has been little rain or snow. Over vast areas there is little subsurface moisture.

The expanse is unusual. Storm tracks in some years might deprive one area of moisture and drench another. This time, said Schuster, "there is no place in this country of agricultural importance that has gained moisture at the expense of another." Aside from the Southeast, most important growing areas are affected to some degree.

With loans costing 20 percent, many farmers are going to be cautious about borrowing to fertilize their acreage for 100 percent production. Not knowing if water will be available, some may plant for 80 percent rather than optimum yields.

"A farmer can gear up for 100 bushels an acre or he can settle for 80," said Schuster. "If he goes for the maximum things have to work out correctly," he said. "Given the moisture conditions, there's a lot of caution and fear."

If production is curtailed, it would mean higher grain prices not just for consumers but for beef, poultry and other livestock producers. They in turn might be forced to cut back, eventually adding to the upward price cycle.

The balance of supply and demand already is precarious because of last summer and fall's drought, Schuster points out. Corn production last year dropped 17 percent from the year before. Soybeans fell 21 percent. Wheat, harvested early, escaped the drought; it might not this year.

As a result, prices of some grains already are much higher than they were a year ago. Corn, for example, now sells at about $3.45 a bushel, compared with $2.67 last year. "If anything happens to disrupt the '81 harvest," warns Schuster, there could be a grain price explosion.

Health Quiz To Air Here

"Answer sheets" for the public to use during the upcoming, nationally televised National Health Quiz are available at the County Extension Office.

Cheyl Tiegs, a "cover girl" and a health and beauty reporter, will co-host the National Health Quiz with actor Peter Graves on Sunday, Feb. 15 at 9 p.m. on KERA Channel 13 from Dallas. Check local listings for any differences in broadcast times.

Viewers who participate will test their general medical knowledge and special risk factors. During the test it isn't absolutely necessary to use the answer sheets but they do help make the scoring easier.

National Health Quiz developers explain that the quiz will try to help viewers detect any risk factors they may have concerning the four leading causes of death: heart disease, cancer, stroke and auto accidents.

Although the test cannot tell viewers if or when they might be victims of these causes of death, the test can alert viewers to ways they can reduce the risks of early death from them.

Part of the test will include tabulating your "body age," which may be more or less than your actual age depending upon your physical condition, medical history and behavior patterns.

For example, a man aged 41 might have a "body age" of 46 — maybe because he is overweight, has high blood pressure or smokes cigarettes. On the other hand, that same man could lower his "body age" to 38 if he changed his behavior.

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

Our British cousins have a bid they call the comic notrump. It is a non-vulnerable notrump overcall to show 13 cards with a long suit to run to, if doubled.

In this hand from the 1966 Olympiad, we found a French player using this bid with conspicuous lack of success.

Their opponents were a Spanish pair who just weren't going to be bamboozled by this comic relief. Thus, North doubled the comic notrump. East jumped to five clubs. He could count on eight tricks there and South was strong enough to bid five hearts.

West passed and North (possibly a member of a family of bullfighters) just bid seven hearts to close the bidding. The opening lead was not ruffed and South wrapped up the grand slam.

It was just about a top score. One North-South pair found their way to seven notrump where there were also 13 tricks, but very few got beyond six.

Bad North-South scores came when East bid seven clubs and got doubled for just 900 points minus.

The North-South bottom came when North responded one spade-East bid just four clubs and South tried a Blackwood four notrump and went to seven spades when North showed three aces. East opened a club and West ruffed.

Senators Squabble Over Shock Probation Issue

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A bill urged by Gov. Bill Clements to put limits on the granting of shock probation ran afoul of two state Senators and was delayed for two weeks, after heated debate.

The Jurisprudence Committee decided Tuesday to hold the bill, sponsored by Sen. Chet Brooks, D-Pasadena, pending an attorney general's ruling on the constitutionality of part of the measure.

The bill would limit instances in which a judge may grant shock probation, a procedure where a defendant convicted of a non-violent crime is sent to prison but released after two to three months. The idea is to give first-offenders a taste of prison life to shock them into reforming.

Witnesses said revisions of the bill would encourage judges to use the technique more often but Sen. Carl Parker, D-Port Arthur, said the changes actually limit judges' discretion and "don't make any sense to me."

The measure bars a defendant who appeals a conviction from the early release, and the constitutionality of this provision was sharply questioned.

Several senators also objected to the addition of a list of offenses that would be ineligible for shock probation, such as rape of a child, official misconduct, weapons violations, illegal wiretapping and voluntary manslaughter.

Parker and Sen. Bob Glasgow, D-Stephenville, objected strongly to including rape of a child and voluntary manslaughter, and pointed out that the wiretapping crime referred to a law that has not been passed.

Glasgow said rape of a child was voluntary, consensual sexual intercourse with someone under age 17, and that voluntary manslaughter was often committed "in the heat of passion under mitigating circumstances."

"You're not going to allow district judge give shock probation to a 19-year-old boy who fell in love with his high school sweetheart who's 16, and they made love in the back of his car and got caught?" Glasgow asked.

"We're not talking about ravishing a 3-year-old girl," Parker added. "No one was harmed in the case of the 19-year-old kid, and you think he ought to be sent to the Texas Department of Corrections for a full term?"

Brooks responded that senators had to "consider the public relations aspects of these things."

"You and I know what these things mean, but you go back to your district and get a tough opponent who starts talking about 'rape,' and you'll be in big trouble," Brooks said. "'Rape of a child' just doesn't sound like a backseat romance."

"I think we ought to be concerned about doing what's right, and not about public relations," said Glasgow, a first-term legislator.

"Well, maybe so, but you have to think about PR sometime. That's how I got to be dean of the Senate," Brooks shot back.

Senior Citizens To Hear Stenholm

Congressman Charles Stenholm will be the guest speaker for the pre-noon program Friday at the Scurry County Senior Center.

The crowning of the new Valentine King and Queen will follow Stenholm's talk. Also to be introduced are the Valentine royalty from previous years, Frances Martin, Owen Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Andy Deen.

Everyone planning to attend Friday's program is asked to plan to arrive at the center in time to be seated before Stenholm's speech begins at 11:30 a. m.

The new Valentine King and Queen will be crowned with crowns loaned by La Casa de Blanco, and the coronation will take place under an arch loaned by Beta Signa Phi sorority, Gloria Shaw, Senior Center director, said. She expressed appreciation for the loan of the items to add color to the program.

Because of the preparations necessary for Friday's special program, the Thursday games night at the center will be cancelled, Jean Smith, activities director said. The center is usually open from 6 p. m. to 8:30 p. m. on Thursdays.

Friday's noon luncheon menu will also be special, featuring baked turkey with wild rice dressing, broccoli, orange glazed carrots, fruit salad, hot rolls, and---appropriately--Red Velvet Cake.

If I were a king and knew a queen whose love was not quite mine, I'd send her flowers from Hinshaw's and ask her to be my Valentine.

Group Health Policies Pursued By Teachers

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Teachers have told a House committee that most of them must meet the high cost of medical insurance out of their small paychecks or just do without it. The House Insurance Committee took testimony on Tuesday on bills that would up group insurance for teachers and other school district employees.

Organizations of educators said they want group insurance but disagreed over the details.

Committee members are expected to piece together a bill from the various ideas received.

Only about 60 of Texas' 1,035 school districts make group insurance available to their teachers and other employees.

Judy Koehl, a middle school teacher from Queen City, said she takes home $770 a month while her husband's $710 — also for teaching school — is reduced by $80 for health insurance premiums.

She urged a system of regional group insurance programs that would take into account the varying costs of medical care across Texas — "I don't want to be penalized by someone living in another part of the state, such as Houston."

Whether the state helps pay teachers' premiums will be a major issue. A $50-a-month contribution for all school employees and retired teachers would add an estimated $360 million to 1982-83 spending.

Rep. Hamp Atkinson, D-New Boston, chairman of the House Education Committee, said some teachers don't want the state to contribute toward group insurance premiums.

He said as many as 50 to 60 percent of all teachers already are covered by a spouse's policy and "are saying, 'If you have money for insurance, just put it into salaries.'"

The committee approved a bill in 1979 that required state contributions in an amount to be determined each session by the Legislature.

FARM BUREAU MEMBERS
Can Buy Oranges & Grapefruits

The Scurry County Farm Bureau Board of Directors recently voted to participate in a Member-to-Member Sales Program, according to C. D. Gray, Jr., county president.

"Through this program, producer-members throughout the state can now sell their products directly to other members," Gray said. "Texas Farm Bureau members will receive high quality products at a reasonable price."

Citrus will be the first commodity to be offered to members. This month, 40-pound boxes of valley oranges and ruby red grapefruit can be ordered. The cost per box will be $8.65 for oranges and $8.40 for grapefruit.

Orders and payments are now being received at the Scurry County Farm Bureau Office. Deadline for orders will be February 12. The citrus will be delivered the week of March 1st.

Police Patrol Beats On Bikes

KELSO, Wash. (AP) — The newest police patrols cruising this town of 12,000 have no sirens or flashing lights. But they do have something that can surprise even the coolest of criminals — two wheels.

When Police Chief Tony Stoutt was told to trim his budget, he figured he could save on squad-car costs by mounting his police on bicycles.

And although Stoutt had to lay off two Kelso patrolmen, he was able to pocket a third pink slip by starting the bicycle corps. Officers helped him save even more by using their own bikes.

In some ways, a cop on a bicycle is more effective than one in a squad car, officials say.

"Bikes really throw burglars," said Lt. Dan Price, who organized the patrols. "They can see a police car a block away by its silhouette. But even if they have stereos under their arms, the sight of a person on a bicycle doesn't intimidate them."

"You see things on a bike you can't from a car," said another two-wheeled officer, Chuck Dunnavant. "When you're driving, you have to pay more attention on the road."

Surprise, approval, and a few catcalls were common responses to the bikes by local citizens, Stoutt said in an interview Tuesday. The bikes have been in use about two months on the force, which has 16 full-time officers and 13 reservists.

Entire Police Force Of East Texas Town Arrested

EAST MOUNTAIN, Texas (AP) — Sheriff's deputies armed with arrest warrants combed through this small East Texas town, looking to arrest every city law enforcement agent on charges of impersonating a police officer.

City Marshal James Morgan and two of his reserve officers, Phillip Luchae and David Patterson, were arrested Monday on five separate charges by Upshur County Sheriff Dale Jewks, who said he was enforcing the orders of a county grand jury.

Morgan, elected City Marshal in May 1980, was booked into the county jail, then released on $500 bond after his arraignment before Justice of the Peace W.V. Ray. The same thing happened to Patterson and Luchau and Jewks said warrants have been issued for five more reserve officers.

The sheriff said the arrests came after a grand jury recommended charges against the marshal and his reserve officers because they had not completed a state certification course within six months of the time they assumed their duties, as required by state law.

Jewks said the investigation began last August, triggered by complaints about a "speed trap" in the town, which was incorporated three years ago. Any officers who issued tickets or made arrests but had not been certified was violating state law.

Winter's Worst Takes At Least 13

By TAMARA JONES
Associated Press Writer

Winter's fiercest storm claimed at least 13 lives as icy winds hurled blinding snow across the nation's midsection — virtually paralyzing cities as authorities urged people to stay indoors and wait out its wrath.

As the battered region from the Rockies to the eastern Great Lakes dug out from under up to a foot of snow, officials in four Southern states today surveyed the damage left by tornadoes that killed at least one and left dozens injured.

A snowmobiler was found frozen to death in Idaho, and blowing snow, icy roads and zero visibility were blamed in traffic fatalities Tuesday in Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri and Michigan.

Searchers became lost in near-blizzard conditions themselves before reaching the body of Arthur Frey, 47, about a half mile from the disabled snowmobile he had been riding in Island Park, Idaho.

Meanwhile, four people died in a 28-vehicle chain reaction crash on snow-shrouded Interstate 80 at Altoona, Iowa.

The storm turned much of Illinois into a windy deep-freeze after slinging up to a foot of wet snow across northern and central counties.

Authorities there reported two traffic deaths that may have been snow-related. A 64-year-old woman died when her auto veered into oncoming traffic in Arlington Heights and a 23-year-old pedestrian was killed by a hit-and-run driver, police said.

The Chicago metropolitan area was socked by a foot of snow, prompting several major hotels to offer reduced "snow rates" to commuters who didn't feel up to braving the snow to get home.

In Kansas, winds clocked at 55 mph careened across parts of the state as temperatures dropped to 20 below overnight, the weather service said.

Tree limbs felled by the high winds caused scattered power outages to about 4,400 customers throughout Missouri, utility spokesmen said.

Meanwhile, at least 62 people were injured — four seriously — when a sudden tornado flattened a school and destroyed or damaged some two dozen other buildings in Bay Minette, Ala., about 40 miles northeast of Mobile.

Among the injured were 44 students at the Bay Minette Middle School, which was demolished by the twister Tuesday morning. Most sustained cuts from flying glass, hospital officials said, but two youngsters were in guarded condition Tuesday night.

"We didn't have five seconds' warning," said Coach Harry Shiver.

Daily apple not a bad idea

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I read your column on the lady who suffered from constipation for 10 years. What a pity there was no mention of eating apples to break the laxative habit. My experience has been to eat as many as needed of whole apples to keep in good condition. I will be 90 years of age soon and I need only a few apples that I enjoy to keep fit. It is important to eat the entire apple. Too many people peel the apple and throw the best part away. It is important to thoroughly cleanse the apple because of spray residue.

DEAR READER — Thank you for your thoughtful comment. It is true that fresh fruit is often helpful in promoting good bowel function. Why? For one reason it contains bulk and, as I usually mention, it is important to colon function to include bulk in your diet. Studies have shown that cereal fiber is one of the more effective sources of bulk and that is why most people usually mention bran.

Raw apples do contain a lot of bulk and that slows the absorption of the sugar in the apple to the point that the blood sugar doesn't even tend to rise after eating a raw apple. Many other fruits also contain bulk.

Now I can see that you are a firm believer in the old adage that an apple a day keeps the doctor away — and perhaps the idea that if a little is good, more is better. But I must say that not everyone with colon problems tolerates apples well. For some people they are gas formers. But so is bran. A person sometimes has to find out what works best for him or her as an individual.

A proper diet, adequate bulk and regular habits helps to relieve many of the bowel complaints that people have. These aspects are discussed in The Health Letter number 16-4, Spastic Colon, Irregularity and Constipation, which I am sending you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

A spastic colon often causes frequent small stools rather than absence of a bowel movement. And alcohol is one hidden cause for bowel complaints in those who use too much of it.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Would you kindly explain what a Colles fracture of the wrist is? Will it affect the fingers and what are some of the after effects one can expect from this? I am 66 years old and fractured my wrist. The fingers seem very weak. Is there some therapy I can take to help the strength come back in my hand?

DEAR READER — A Colles fracture means a fracture of the distal end of the radius, the bone in the forearm that joins the hand region near the thumb. The tip (styloid process) of the ulnar bone (the other forearm bone) may also be broken. The displaced bone gives the wrist a typical "silver fork" shape. It is named after the doctor who first described it in 1814, Abraham Colles.

The swelling during the acute injury can put pressure on the nerves that go through the wrist area (carpal tunnel) to the fingers. This may cause a variety of symptoms including tingling. But if you can move all your fingers and use your hand, you are doing well. Ask your doctor what exercises are best for you in view of your stage of recovery. But I should think you can expect good recovery in your case.

Dear Abby

Wedding May Be Full Of Unexpected Joy

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1981 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Our son is being married at a formal church wedding in May, and I am very nervous about the bride's selection of bridesmaids.

Five out of her six bridesmaids are already visibly pregnant! By May, one will be six months along, two will be in their eighth month, and the other two had better have their overnight cases packed and in their cars!

The bridesmaids' gowns are the maternity type, but Abby, I wonder what the reaction will be when they all walk down the aisle in various stages of pregnancy? (They're all married, so there's nothing wrong with it, but the coincidence might cause people to snicker.)

Is there some tactful way I can get my future daughter-in-law to reconsider her choices?

NERVOUS IN NEVADA

DEAR NERVOUS: No. It's the bride's prerogative to be attended by her closest friends, in whatever shape they happen to be in. Just make sure there's a doctor in the house.

DEAR ABBY: We are two 17-year-old girls who baby-sit to earn extra money, and our problem is one that many other teen-age baby sitters have.

In our town, we get a dollar an hour for baby-sitting. This is the same pay our mothers received when they baby-sat as teen-agers. Due to inflation, we think we're entitled to $1.50 an hour before midnight and $2.00 afterward. How should we go about getting a pay raise?

UNDERPAID

DEAR UNDERPAID: Sitters can hardly stage a "sit-in." But all you sitters can stand united and ask for a uniform increase. And if you get a boot in the bustle, all you have to lose is your seating capacity.

DEAR ABBY: I am writing to tell you how much good you did for me when you published the following in your column:

"When I met him, I liked him.
"When I liked him, I loved him.
"When I loved him, I let him.
"When I let him, I lost him."

I can't thank you enough for printing that. It saved my reputation. My boyfriend and I had been dating only a short time, yet he was pressuring me to "let him." I'm 16 and he's 18.

I very nearly gave in, then that little saying popped into my head and gave me the strength to say no.

Needless to say, today we aren't speaking. I know it sounds like the plan backfired, but it really didn't. I may have lost a boyfriend (who in the long run turned out to be worthless anyway), but I gained the respect of other guys with better values. (Boys talk.) I hope other girls who read your column that day took your advice seriously. I did. And today my life is the best it's ever been. Thanks.

SAID NO IN SAN FRANCISCO

DEAR ABBY: I so enjoy your patient-doctor stories. Here's mine: Years ago when I saw my gynecologist, his nurse was standing by to assist him while he painted me with gentian violet. Up through my "modesty tent" came the doctor's voice, raised in song, "She got her thrill on Blueberry Hill!"

Roundup Snares Thousands Of Aliens

By JAMES R. KING
Associated Press Writer

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — Illegal aliens working on farms, ranches, construction sites and elsewhere in Texas have been captured and bused back across the Rio Grande by the thousands in the past three weeks, a roundup spurred by the lifting of census restrictions.

The restrictions, which prohibited the Border Patrol from raiding private businesses, were imposed last spring in hopes of getting a better census count, but officers in the field complained they were kept in effect several months after the count was completed.

The ban was lifted Jan. 15 and "we had our second highest January in history" said Richard Staley of El Paso, chief of a Border Patrol district that includes most of southern New Mexico and West Texas as far east as Van Horn.

"January is usually one of our slower months — there is usually very little 'harvest,'" he said. But last month he said his 385 officers apprehended 12,080 undocumented workers and returned most of them to Mexico.

Other Border Patrol officers from here to the lower Rio Grande Valley and as far north as Dallas reported the same trend. Even though the ban extended through the first half of January, agents working in the Valley caught twice as many illegal aliens last month as they had in December, said Jim Kerr, a Border Patrol supervisor based in the McAllen headquarters.

"We could drive down farm roads and look out either side and see illegals working in the fields," before the restrictions were lifted, he said. "Hell, they were waving at us as we went by."

Not any more.

"One day, working just three hours in Odessa, our officers pulled 84 aliens out of (oilfield) pipe (supply) yards up there," said Johnny Williams, chief pilot with the Border Patrol sector headquarters in Marfa.

In Dallas, regional chief William Chambers said "as of last week we have arrested 510 in the Dallas-Fort Worth area alone." Most of them have since been bused back to the border, where illegal aliens are released to walk across the bridges back into Mexico.

Immigration officials say those bused back to the border "volunteer" to return — as opposed to the few who elect to stay and wait — in jail — for a deportation hearing.

Charles Elmore, a Border Patrol intelligence officer based in Marfa, said there is rarely any hostility between the illegal aliens and the officers who arrest them.

"They joke and laugh on their way back to be processed. There is no deep-seated hatred there. It's not that we don't like these people," he said. "I don't blame them for trying to come up here and better themselves.

"But the United States just can't solve the whole world's evils."

COSMETOLOGY GRADUATES—Kim Ratliff of Rotan and Lisa Sledge of Sweetwater were honored with a reception Tuesday in the Western Texas College Cosmetology lab to mark the completion of their training there. Miss Ratliff will be employed by Thornhill's in Snyder, while Miss Sledge will return to continue training in preparation for an instructor's license. They are to take state board examinations on March 2.

Says Constituents Don't Smell Bad

NEW YORK (AP) — A Greenwich, Conn., selectman is taking exception to a remark by New York City Mayor Edward Koch that her constituents are starting to smell bad because of a water shortage in the Northeast.

"We have a serious situation here," First Selectman Ruth Sims said in a telephone interview today. "We've undertaken strict measures, but people are managing very well."

Koch said Tuesday that in Greenwich, "they have had to, by law, reduce their water usage by 60 percent. That means people there don't take showers every day any more.

"It's getting so you can tell when someone comes from Greenwich, Conn. We don't want that to happen in New York City," he said.

Water levels in New York reservoirs were at 31.7 percent of capacity Tuesday, a little more than 100 days supply, and consumption is down from a normal of 1.433 billion gallons a day to 1.254 billion gallons.

Schoolboys To Ink Conference Letters Today

by The Associated Press

Coaches and recruiters from nine Southwest Conference schools fanned out across Texas today to sign the cream of the schoolboy football crop, but several bluechippers — including Richardson Pearce's defensive lineman, Ray Childress — ended the suspense Tuesday.

Childress, a 6-foot-6, 235-pounder who was injured most of his senior season, announced he will enroll at Texas A&M University.

His final decision eliminated Nebraska and Texas.

Earlier, the All-State pitch-and-catch duo of Port Arthur Jefferson's quarterback Todd Dodge and wide receiver Brent Duhon had opted for the Texas Longhorns, and Highland Park quarterback Rob Moerschell said he will go to Texas and play football and baseball.

Teammates defensive back Robert Smothers and running back Don Holloway said they would follow Dodge and Duhon to Texas.

Snyder High School tackle, 6-4, 250 Tony Degrate, was also to ink with the 'Horns today.

Childress, the leading vote-getter on the Dallas Times Herald's annual bluechip team, said, "I like the atmosphere and the facilities at A&M. After I visited Nebraska last weekend, I knew A&M was where I wanted to go."

Kevin Hancock, a Parade Magazine All-American linebacker from Texas City, said he will sign with the Baylor Bears.

Hancock, a 6-3, 215-pounder who averaged 12 tackles per game last season, joined Killeen linebacker John Bright in committing to the Bears and Coach Grant Teaff.

Another highly regarded linebacker and a Parade Magazine All-American, Alan Jamison of Houston Westchester, also said he would sign with the Bears.

Baylor also has apparently landed running back Jerome Johnson, a 6-2 195-pound all-stater from Class 2A co-champion Pilot Point.

Highland Park offensive tackle John Barns said he will wait until next week and sign a national letter of intent with Stanford.

The national signing day is next Wednesday and most SWC coaches said they will not release their signing lists until then. Some said they don't want to give outside schools such as Colorado and Oklahoma any help.

The top bluechip running back in the state, Patrick Franklin of Bay City, has narrowed his choice down to Houston and Texas A&M.

Bluechip defensive tackle Bill Heathcock of North Garland and offensive lineman John Stuart of Clear Lake have committed to Texas while 250-pound offensive tackle Brian Camp of Lewisville said he will play for defending SWC champion Baylor.

Arkansas Crushes Bears; Eying Loop Leader Now

by The Associated Press

The Arkansas Razorbacks are alive and well and right back in the middle of the Southwest Conference basketball race again.

The Razorbacks played strong defense Tuesday to coast to an easy 67-50 victory over the Baylor Bears to set the stage for Saturday's "High Noon" type shootout with the Houston Cougars.

Appropriately the game will be played at high noon Saturday for a regional television audience with the Razorbacks hoping to use the home floor advantage to move closer to the first place Cougars.

In other SWC roundball action Tuesday night, Texas edged Texas Christian, 88-84; Texas Tech beat Rice, 61-55, and Texas A&M beat Southern Methodist, 61-56.

Arkansas coach Eddie Sutton said the Razorbacks played their best defense ever for 20 minutes in the victory over Baylor. The Razorbacks used a strong man-to-man defense to limit Baylor to eight points in a 16-minute span.

"Our press did a great job. I'm sure they threw the ball away seven or eight times against it," Sutton said.

Darrell Walker came off the bench to score 16 points and Scott Hastings had 22 for the Razorbacks. Terry Teagle had 14 points and was the only Baylor player scoring in double figures.

Baylor coach Jim Haller said Hastings was the difference in the game.

"We usually do well against Arkansas when we shut Hastings off, but tonight he had 14 points by halftime," Haller said.

The Texas Longhorns jumped off to a comfortable 53-28 halftime lead, but had to hang on at the end for an 88-84 victory over TCU.

Texas coach Abe Lemons said he didn't know what happened in the second half when TCU outscored the Longhorns 15-2 in the opening minutes and pulled to within 2 points with just under a minute remaining in the game.

"I guess you've got to play them close to keep the crowds coming back. We had a whole lot of bad and little bit of good tonight and that sort of sums up the whole year," Lemons said, "What you saw is what we are."

Lewis Reportedly Held By FBI Investigators

LOS ANGELES (AP) — L. Ben Lewis, one of two key missing figures named in a $21.3 million bank fraud suit filed by Wells Fargo National Bank, is reported to be in FBI hands and discussing the case with investigators.

Lewis, a director of Muhammad Ali Professional Sports, Inc. and operations manager of Wells Fargo's Beverly Drive Branch, has not been seen in public since reports of the alleged embezzlement began to circulate earlier this month.

Meanwhile, Wells Fargo announced Tuesday that Gene Kawakami, the manager of one of its major branches, had been relieved of his duties.

Bank spokesman George Caulfield also confirmed that the bank is seeking $25 million in punitive damages from MAPS, in addition to the return of the $21.3 million allegedly embezzled.

Caulfield declined to say why Kawakami, manager of the bank's branch in the wealthy Miracle Mile district, was relieved of his duties, and Kawakami said he had been advised by his attorney to make no statements.

Asked if Kawakami was relieved because of allegations on tape cassettes delivered to sportscasters from Harold J. Smith - the other missing men named in the bank's suit - Caulfield said, "I'd better not comment on that. All you can say is that the action relates to our continuing investigation of facts around the case."

However, Caulfield did say of Kawakami, "We're not suspending him - he's still in our employ."

The Long Beach Independent Press-Telegram and Time magazine reported they had learned that Lewis has been in the hands of the FBI since last Wednesday or Thursday.

The FBI refused to confirm the report, and pointed out that no warrants had yet been issued in the case.

Snyder Wins 13th In A Row...

Tigers Saddle Sweetwater, 58-52

SWEETWATER – If you get 'em when you need 'em that's what counts, and that's exactly what Snyder's Tigers did here last night in defeating the host Sweetwater Mustangs 58-52 in District 2-AAAA boy's roundball action.

The Tigers, who missed the front end of bonus situations fives times in the second period and four in the last, got four clutch freethrows from Kris Seale and John Wilson in the final three minutes of the game to help cap the victory. Snyder, in capturing its 13th straight win, extends its season record to 16-12 and is 4-0 in second round district play. Sweetwater falls to 2-2 in conference action and 14-15 on the season.

The freethrow line was just one chapter in this 2-4A rivalry, which saw Snyder rally three times to finally overcome the fired-up challengers.

Sweetwater, led all night by Rodney Griggs and Gilbert Gerst, jumped out to a 6-0 lead. Snyder tied it at 8-8 but Marvin Green and Gerst scored the final four points of the period to give the Mustangs a 12-8 advantage.

Snyder stayed close throughout the second quarter, but could never catch the hosts. Strong help off the bench, via D.W. Lofton and James Caldwell, keyed the effort. The Tigers were beseiged by four turnovers in the period - 14 in the first half - and managed to hit only 5 of 11 freethrows. Five of the charity situations were front ends of one-in-ones; a possible 10 points that never materialized.

The Tigers closed out the half with back-to-back buckets by Barry Blackmon and Lofton to trim Sweetwater's lead to a point, 26-25. Snyder had a chance to take the lead, but foul shots by Caldwell and Curtis Gafford simply would not fall.

But the Tigers were to rally again.

Add the final four of the second half to 10 straight in the third period and Snyder rallied for 14 unanswered points in taking a whirlwind 35-26 edge. Arnold started the march with a turn-around jumper. Caldwell and Arnold notched two more buckets, and Lofton and Caldwell put up another pair for the nine-point Tiger advantage. In addition, Green was ticketed for his fourth foul early in the quarter, severly cramping the Mustangs' strength.

Snyder kept the lead at nine until Gerst scored from underneath to end the period at 41-34. Gerst and teammate Whisenant got three points to put the Mustangs back in the ballgame early in the fourth period, 41-37. The Tigers retaliated with eight consecutive points - one hoop by Blackmon, Seale, Arnold and Caldwell - for a 49-37 advantage.

The lead remained until Gerst and Whisenant came up with another three points, then added four more, whittling the lead to 50-44. Snyder kept it from eight to six points, and at 52-46, Seale banged in two freethrows for the Tigers.

Both teams traded scores again, but it was Wilson who gave Snyder an eight point advantage with under 40 seconds to go when he canned both ends of a one-and-one situation. James Goodwin got a final bucket for the hosts, but time ran out as Snyder won by six.

Blackmon's 12 led Snyder. Eric Arnold had 10 points and Seale, Caldwell and Lofton added 8 each. Wilson had 7. For the Mustangs, Gerst and Griggs had 17 and 16 respectively. Danny Williams scored 8.

The Tigers are slated at Scurry County Coliseum on Friday, to take on Fort Stockton.

Gear For Final Friday...

Felines Edge 'Stangs

Coach Ken Housden's Felines made it three in a row here last evening, defeating rival Sweetwater, 45-45, in the high school gym.

The victory gives the Felines a 15-10 season record and leaves them 4-3 in the second round of District 2-AAAA cage competition. Snyder closes out the 1980-81 season Friday at Fort Stockton.

"It was a good game for us. Everybody played and contributed quite a bit," said Housden. "It was a close game, but it wasn't a last-second shot or anything like that. We had a five point lead within the last two minutes. In fact, they came down and we let them shoot the ball (not to draw the foul) in the last seconds, but they missed."

As usual, Michelle Townsel crashed the hoop and boards to pace the Felines' victory, though as Housden mentioned, it took all-around teamwork to defeat the Lady Mustangs. Townsel pumped in 27 points had pulled down 12 rebounds. Brenda Anderson notched 8 points and Theresa Browning added 6. Pam Perceval found 4, and also grabbed 11 rebounds.

Snyder started out on top, 10-9, and took a 22-20 lead into halftime. The Felines added another point in the third, 10-9 for a 32-29 total, and both teams scored 13 in the final quarter. Sweetwater, guided by Katicia Kiker's 17 points and 10 more from Angela Doorman, kept within five for the entire game. The Lady Mustangs are 16-9 on the season and 5-2 in 2-4A play.

In earlier action, Sweetwater junior varsity downed the locals, 40-35. Tammy Merritt scored 18 for Snyder.

Friday's action will be at 6:15 for the JV game and 8 for the varsity tilt.

Monahans Sacks Girls' 2-4A Title; Snyder Leads Boys

Monahans' Loboettes clinched the girls' District 2-AAAA basketball title last night, ripping Odessa Ector 53-40. In boys' play, yesterday's scores leave Snyder a half-game ahead of Andrews for the second round lead.

Shelley Heath scored 18 and Kari Shepard added 16 as the Loboettes sacked the Eaglettes of Ector. Monahans, winner of the first round of district play with an 8-0 mark, goes 7-0 in the second round with last night's victory. district. Peveler said the appraiser's office is short of space, and in addition the county tax collector has indicated he needs more space.

School board members took the matter under advisement, but plan to meet again Feb. 26 for further discussion. Board members asked questions concerning availability of existing buildings in the downtown area, and also asked about the possiblity of one of the taxing entities providing another location for the appraisal office.

Reed said the appraisal board welcomes any suggestions and help it can get from the entities.

The following system-wide administrative contracts were extended: Jack Gorman, assistant superintendent, administration and personnel, to June 30, 1983; E. D. Flynn, assistant superintendent, business, to June 30, 1983; Dr. Thomas Scannicchio, assistant superintendent, instruction, through June 30, 1983; John Gary, athletic director, through June 30, 1983; Bill Sealy, maintenance director, through June 30, 1982.

The resignation of June McGlaun, second grade teacher at Northeast Elementary School, was accepted, and the employment of Elaine Byrd as her successor was approved.

A resolution endorsing the Alpha Study Club's clean-up campaign was adopted.

George Byerly was appointed coach of the girls' golf team, for which he will be paid $400, the usual amount paid for coaching a third sport. Byerly is head basketball coach and assists with football in the fall.

Crenwelge presided over the board meeting, and other board members attending were Bill Eiland, Mike Reed, Lillie Sullivan Jerry Rice and G. A. Parks Jr.

Prince Charles, heir to the throne of Britain, was born in 1948.

Deadline Near For Homestead Exemption

Anyone who owned and lived in a dwelling or mobile home on Jan. 1 is eligible for a homestead exemption, Ray Peveler, chief appraiser for the Scurry County Appraisal District, has reminded.

Homestead exemption forms must be filed by April 30 at the appraisal office in the courthouse.

Peveler said forms for claiming homestead exemptions were mailed recently with rendition forms for personal property. Anyone who did not receive such a form should come by the appraisal office, or call 573-8549.

Personal property renditions are required for business vehicles (any over half-ton), recreation vehicles and property used in conducting business. These should be submitted to the appraisal office. If owners do not render personal property, the appraiser is required by law to do so.

Firemen Douse 2 House Fires

Two major house fires and a minor car fire were reported to Snyder Fire Department this morning.

The first house fire was called in about 1:50 a.m. and occurred about seven miles southeast of Hermleigh. It struck a house owned by Pat Sandefur.

The next house fire was reported about 8:35 a.m. and occurred at the 2113½ College Ave. residence of Vera B. Dryden.

Both fires resulted in heavy damage. Casuses of the fires are still under investigation, said Fire Chief Alfred Kohl.

Sandwiched between the two house fires came the report of a car fire at 6:50 a.m. at 1611 28th St. Firefighters reported a 1974 Ford owned by Mrs. David Houston developed a minor motor fire.

Lunch Meeting For Appraisers

The board of directors for the Scurry County Tax Appraisal District met Tuesday at The Shack for a luncheon meeting.

On the agenda was a report concerning computer programing, but Charlie Sanders, the computer programmer, was unable to attend the meeting.

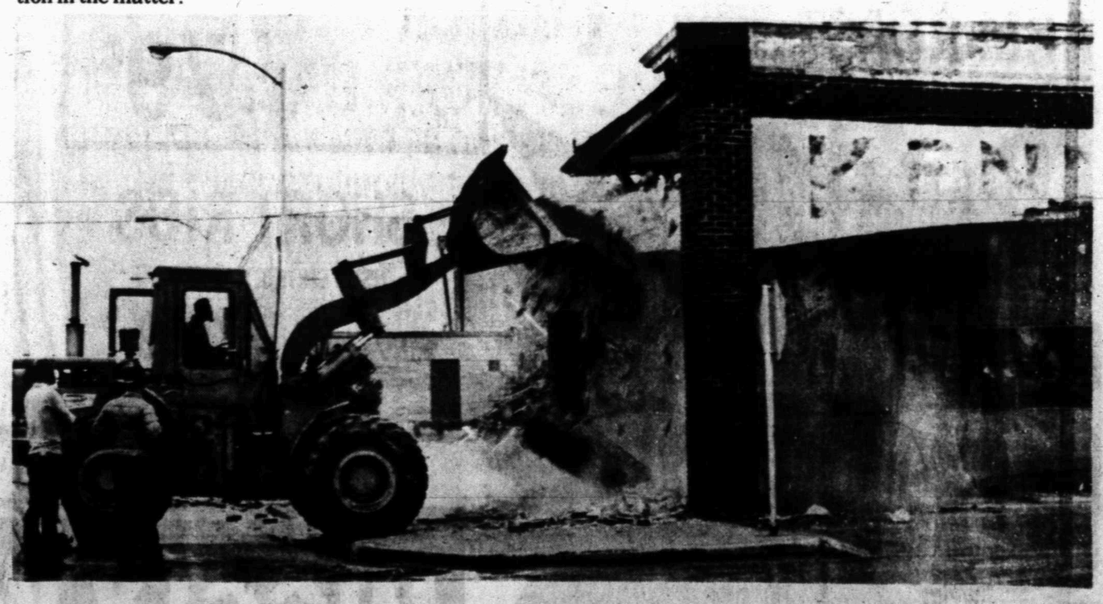

Board members then discussed the office space situation, but took no action in the matter.

BANG UP JOB—An old garage belonging to Clark Lumber Co. and located behind their store was knocked down recently with the help of a front end loader. Store personnel say the rubble will be hauled away "soon," and they have no plans for the lot. They say the building was torn down "just to get it out of the way." (SDN Staff Photo)
