Breakfast to Feature New Freeway Data

Date for Chamber of Commerce's July membership meeting has been set for July 19.

The meeting will be a 7 a.m. breakfast in Civic House, according to H. I. Berman, chamber president.

Usual date for the monthly membership session is the second Thursday of each month. But the third Thursday has been scheduled for July for the purpose of obtaining special highway data.

Jake Roberts of Abilene, Texas Highway Department district engineer, will be speaker for the July 19 breakfast.

He will report to chamber members the State Highway Department's plans and policies in regard to the new Federal Aid Highway Act of 1956. A main provision of the act makes available federal funds to states for the purchase of right of way on interstate freeway routes.

The right of way financing is important to Mitchell County and Colorado City since right of way has not been purchased for U.S. Highway 80 freeway in vicinity of Colorado City.

Roberts will be in Austin all next week conferring with State Highway Department officials in regard to the Federal Aid Highway Act.

IN CENTRAL TEXAS TOUR

Local Business Group to Study Seven Industrial Foundations

Local business men will visit seven Texas cities to study industrial foundations in operation.

Plans for the tour study were advanced Thursday night at the Chamber of Commerce directors meeting.

The two-day tour will be sponsored by the chamber later this month.

Representatives of the chamber's directorate and industrial development committee will be included in four personnel, according to H. I. Berman, chamber president.

Cities to be visited are Cisco, Weatherford, Grandview, Waco, Marlin, McGregor and Brownwood. Population of the seven communities range from below to equal and above Colorado City.

All have industrial foundations now in operation as an aid to industrial development and expansion within their communities.

The local group will study ways and means for forming a foundation, operational policies and programs, and the results of the foundation within each community.

Possibility of an industrial foundation for Colorado City was discussed here at the June membership meeting of the Chamber.

Paul Marable, manager of industrial development department for West Texas Chamber of Commerce, mentioned the foundation plan in his talk at the membership breakfast and then conducted an open forum on the plan following the breakfast.

The chamber tour for studying foundations in operation is an outgrowth of that program.

Data obtained by the chamber directors indicates that industrial development through foundations is a rapidly expanding program in Texas.

The Texas Engineering Experiment Station reported in 1953 on 14 foundations established within the state. And last year—in

Saturday Rites Conducted for Mrs. Wulfjen

Mrs. Bert L. Wulfjen, pioneer Colorado City resident, died Thursday night in Natchez, Miss., at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Sam Geisenberger Jr.

Funeral services were conducted here Saturday, 10:30 a.m., in the First Methodist Church with the pastor, Rev. Jack Ellzey, officiating.

Burial was in the Colorado City Cemetery under direction of Kiker and Son Funeral Home.

Mrs. Wulfjen became ill in April while visiting her daughter. Her condition became critical and Mr. Wulfjen traveled by plane to her bedside May 3.

The Wulfjens were married Dec. 31, 1899, in Georgetown and had lived on their ranch 15 miles south of Colorado City since their marriage.

She was an active member of the First Methodist Church here.

Survivors include Mr. Wulfjen; one daughter, Mrs. Geisenberger; six brothers, McSwain Fowler of Niagara Falls, N. Y.; Fred Fowler of Gause; Ed Fowler of Georgetown; George Fowler of Jarrell; James Fowler of Odessa and Tom Fowler of Midland.

Also surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Birdie McDaniel of Georgetown; Mrs. Pearl Patridge of Gause and Mrs. Hattie Fowler of Dallas; and one grandchild.

Pony League All-Stars to Play Snyder Squad Friday

Colorado City Pony League All Stars will play the Snyder All Stars Friday, 7:30 p.m. in Snyder.

The game will be a practice at fair and will have no bearing on the Pony League playoffs.

1955—the station's research report disclosed three times the 1953 number were operating in Texas and that the number was increasing steadily.

Research studies reveal also that the industrial foundation plan is geared for small towns.

Initially, foundations were found generally in larger cities—those with populations in excess of 10,000 and with an average of 38,500.

But in 1952 only one community within Texas with a population above 15,000 had formed a foundation, yet 21 foundations have been formed in cities of less than 10,000 population, and five in towns of less than 2,500 since 1952.

As a result the average size of all cities in Texas having industrial foundations is now 16,000 and the average size of cities forming foundations since 1952 is 7,100.

John W. Tippit, assistant research economist at Texas Engineering Experiment Station, in a research report recently stated: "There is no doubt but that the industrial foundation has become a small town industrial development, too, though it should be mentioned that the larger communities have by no means abandoned their foundations."

Landowners within Zone 1 of Mitchell County Soil Conservation District Tuesday night will elect a new district supervisor.

The Zone 1 meeting and election will be at 8 p.m. in Fairview community center, according to Harold Stephens, Soil Conservation Service unit conservationist here.

New supervisor named Tuesday night will succeed Lee Strain, who resigned recently from the supervisor's post after suffering a heart attack.

Included in the district's Zone 1 area is that portion of the district north of Morgan Creek and Lake Colorado City and west of Colorado River, including that portion of Scurry County south of Lake J. B. Thomas and the Colorado River.

Stephens said a temporary chairman will preside at the meeting Tuesday evening until the landowners select a chairman to conduct the election.

Nominations for supervisor will be made from the floor and nominees will be voted on by secret ballot. If one citizen does not have a majority after the first voting, then the two candidates with highest number of votes will be included in a run-off also with secret ballot, Stephens said.

Supervisors of the district adopt policies and programs for the district's conservation program and administer that program among cooperating farmers and ranchers.

A conservation program will be presented by SCS technicians Tuesday night following the election.

Refreshments also will be served, Stephens emphasized, and landowners are invited to attend with their entire families.

Absentee Vote Opens Monday For Primary

Absentee balloting in the July 28 Democratic Party primary will begin here Monday.

Printing of ballots Saturday was awaiting a final check by Democratic County Chairman Harry Ratliff, who has been attending the Texas Bar convention in Houston.

The absentee balloting will be conducted in the Courthouse office of County Clerk Leach and will continue until July 24.

Citizens voting the absentee ballot must obtain their ballots either in person at the clerk's office or by mail.

"We want to emphasize," Leach said, "that if a person is unable to come to the Courthouse, he can request his ballot by mail."

Chamber of Commerce will conduct a survey here to determine shopping habits of the average Colorado City housewife.

Purpose of the survey will be to determine why citizens shop outside the city and to obtain suggestions for local merchants from their customers.

Data obtained in the study will be made available to merchants as a means for improving their services to the public.

Chamber directors voted Thursday night to conduct the consumer poll.

The survey here will be similar to polls conducted recently in Pampa and other cities as an aid to offering better customer services and increasing retail trade.

Big Spring is preparing to make the poll within its primary trade territory.

Cities the size of Pampa have paid out more than $500 to conduct the survey.

But the local chamber will seek to enlist the aid of volunteer women workers for brief assignments in the residential areas and keep the cost to at approximately $100. That was the sum authorized Thursday night by directors for mimeographing survey sheets, compiling survey data and various incidentals.

Exact dates for the survey have not been scheduled, but directors authorized Chamber Manager Bill Quimby to go ahead with planning and organization with the survey.

Questions in the survey will deal with citizen opinions on primary municipal services—schools, police, fire and any other needs considered important by persons interviewed.

But most of the questions will seek individual opinions concerning Colorado City's retail prices compared without those in other communities, available selections in merchandise, courtesy and efficiency of clerks, cleanliness and comfort of shopping facilities, whether or not merchants provide adequate information on prices and merchandise by advertising attractiveness of store displays, popularity of city-wide special sales days, availability of nationally advertised brands in local stores and others.

The poll also will seek suggestions for local merchants to improve their services in addition to asking for major reasons why Colorado City citizens go to other towns to shop.

Details for the poll will be announced later by the chamber.

But it was emphasized by the directors that the survey will be conducted in manner so that identification of persons answering written survey questions will not be listed.

MORE THAN INDUSTRY

Farmer Accidents Lead Death Toll

Accidents are never cheap. Farm accidents in the U. S. every year claim the lives of about 10,000 farm people, more than a million and cause economic losses of $1,500,000,000.

Last year, points out W. L. Clark, executive agricultural engineer and secretary of the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, more farm accidents than in any other industry, and that the loss of life and property is being met by the workers of any other major industry.

Clark, pointing out that the loss of life and property is being met by the workers of any other major industry.

The President said that in nearly every accident human failure is associated with the tragedy of life and that experience in industry has proved that accident prevention measures always pay.

Clark points out that specific studies in other states show that as high as 86 percent of all farm machine accidents involve tractors and tractor equipment. This might be a mighty good place to start a safety program on most farms.

PROPER TECHNIQUE

Fuel Storage Can Save Farmer Cash

Savings of 15 per cent or more in fuel bills can be made by most farm tractor operators if they give attention to proper fuel storage and fuel economy techniques, says W. L. Clark, executive agricultural engineer.

Evaporation during the hot summer months takes a toll of fuel in storage. Partially filled tanks exposed to the sun may lose three to four per cent of their contents within a month. Shaded tanks lose one per cent or less.

Clark points out that the loss of fuel in storage is a major factor in the cost of operating a tractor. He recommends a daily check of the air cleaner, all hose and fuel line connections and carburetor. Most of this checking can be done at a glance but in case a difference is noted it is the amount of fuel consumed, then, he says, that the operator must check.

'56 Cars Down in Line, Up in Cost

Although the auto industry thinks the 1935 models will be sufficiently new and different to give a big boost to buying car sales, some automotive authorities are not so sure.

Clark points out that the 1935 models will cost more, with increases of over $100 in the lowest priced lines, and that the cars will be lower in altitude but otherwise not drastically changed from the '34 versions.

Most of the innovations are in the high-priced lines.

Clark believes the price differential will reduce some prospective buyers to purchase 1934 models this fall, since with end-of-season discounts, they'll cost several hundred dollars less than their 1935 counterparts.

The result could be a good cleanup of the '34s, without in-

POPULATION, PROSPERITY GROWTH

Texas to Gain 479,000 More Families And 1.5 Million Passenger Cars in Nine Years

Texas population of registered passenger cars will increase by more than 1,479,000 and there will be a gain of 479,000 families in the state by 1944, according to a study by the nation's largest independent automobile finance company.

The company's analysis of the expected growth in the state's population and in family income—without considering other important economic trends at work—points convincingly to higher levels of prosperity in the future.

Passenger car registrations by 1944, the analysis reveals, should total more than 2,500,000, a 56 per cent increase over the 1,590,000 now registered.

The finance company also forecasts a population gain of about 10 per cent, or more than 1,479,000 persons, by 1944. This would bring the state's population to more than 15,000,000.

As for families, the company forecasts a gain of 479,000, raising the total to more than 2,500,000 as compared with about 1,500,000 families now.

"Credit is a major force in maintaining local prosperity," the company stated particularly in view of the excellent payment record made by families in the state.

"Two out of every three automobiles are sold on credit. Its continued use in the sale of cars and other valuable consumer goods will continue to make for higher living standards, more convenience and greater comfort for American families."

Other encouraging factors in the automobile outlook, the company said, are the rapid growth in two car families, accompanied by the trend to suburban living; the sound record of the credit payment established by families purchasing cars; continued high levels of employment, income and savings; and more aggressive selling by automobile manufacturers and dealers.

Modernization of highways and streets, including relief of city congestion and provision for more parking facilities, the finance company official added, are vital considerations in view of the expected growth in auto registrations.

Preliminary observations of a mounting auto census reports promise another good show in Texas this year according to the assistant director of wildlife and game, who said the Game and Fish Commission.

He said the data was obtained through 45 census lines established throughout Texas and that the analysis shortly will be available from United States Fish & Wildlife Service which has final authority on hunting of doves since they are migratory birds.

Field reports likewise will be studied by the Commission at its July 12 meeting in Austin, when recommendations for most major game regulations will be made.

The assistant director said that, while population estimates are favorable, the final statistics might not permit the extra five days allowed last fall when Texas had an extraordinary mourning dove hunt. Ordinarily, a 40-day season is allowed with the state divided into a north and south zone. The shooting period for years has begun on Sept. 1 in the

State Capital NEWS

North zone which comprises about three-fourths of the state.

Last year the south zone season was experimentally delayed, running from Oct. 15 through Nov. 28. The established pattern calls for afternoon shooting only, with bag and possession limits both set at ten birds.

"The drought in Texas has hurt our population somewhat," said the assistant director, "but because of the tremendous carry over from the record numbers of last year, we still have plenty of doves. Reports from north states which provide many migrating birds later on also are favorable."

The first birds from the experimental state quail hatchery at Tyler will be ready for shipment July 23.

At the same time, hatchery production has been geared to accommodate more orders from persons needing quail for local re-stocking.

The assistant executive secretary urged persons interested in the quail program, particularly those in East Texas, to send in their orders to commission headquarters in Austin with the assurance that their applications will be processed promptly, and game wardens assigned to make final arrangements.

"We have, or will have an abundance of the Virginia or Eastern quail which occur in East Texas," he said. "We will be ready to move them out at the rate of about 1500 birds per week."

The executive secretary said there was a comparative shortage of co-called Texas quail which occur West of the Brazos River, or in southwestern Texas. This is because insufficient brood stock of wild birds was trapped.

The experimental hatchery was created by the commission as a means of spearheading quail habitat improvement and as a means of actually providing seed stock where native birds are scarce.

"The weather again has been a retarding factor in our quail population," said the assistant executive secretary. "But East Texas has been favored with some good rains, and food and cover conditions are not far from normal."

Fox rabies epidemics in several West Texas counties have apparently been controlled for the rest of the summer, State Health Commissioner Henry A. Hollie reports.

Dr. W. H. Stover, Presidio Health, said 350 dogs had been vaccinated in the county, and additional strays had been impounded. Schleicher County was based on.

on a decrease in the number of fox heads coming into the State Health Department laboratory for diagnosis, and the fact that local health authorities in the counties have all reported "excellent" cooperation in county-wide rabies control campaigns.

Meanwhile, two South Texas counties—Starr and Hidalgo—are meeting dog rabies outbreaks heads on.

Increasing incidence of fox rabies in the wide open space of West Texas began early this spring. Prior to that time the area had been practically free of the infection.

Human exposures to mad foxes have occurred, and livestock losses have been reported.

Local health officials in the counties involved, acting under terms of the state rabies control law, declared emergencies as the threats to human health became acute. Each county invoked dog vaccination programs, stray dog pickups, and fox population reduction campaigns.

Dr. W. H. Stover, Presidio Health, said 350 dogs had been vaccinated in the county, and additional strays had been impounded. Schleicher County was based on.

BEWARE OF GLARE

SUMMERTIME ACTIVITIES ARE HARD ON EYES!

Whether you vacation at the beach or in the mountains, or just spend your time in casual outdoor activities, the sun you enjoy so much can be harmful to your eyes. Nothing can mar a vacation as easily as headaches and feeling badly, due to eyestrain. Glare strain is often the cause of maladjusted eyes and can easily be more severe than eye difficulties. Absorptive lenses (colored) eliminate all but a negligible amount of harmful infrared and ultra-violet rays and can be ground to individual prescription.

Scouter From England Talks To Lions Club

England is like America when it comes to scout workers.

Lack of sufficient workers keeps boys and girls out of the youth program.

That was the report made here Friday by Miss Audrey Bayliss of Haslemore, Surrey, England.

Miss Bayliss, volunteer worker in England's Girl Guides' same as Girl Scouts, was guest speaker at the Lions Club luncheon in Civic House.

She is a summer exchange consultant serving at the Camp Bootee Oaks, area Girl Scout camp near Sweetwater.

Miss Bayliss, who during the fall and winter is a school teacher in England, said there were only eight or 10 paid Girl Guides workers in the entire British Isles.

And the youth program depends upon volunteer workers like herself to carry a big load in the planning, directing and counseling of the guides.

"And there is a waiting list for girls in every branch," she said, "because of the lack of leaders just as in America."

Miss Bayliss was introduced by Mrs. Jewel Richter, president of Mitchell County Girl Scout Association.

And Mrs. Richter emphasized the need for volunteer Girl Scout workers here at home—in Mitchell County.

There are now 1 Girl Scout troops organized within Mitchell County, Mrs. Richter said.

But those 1 troops have had to develop their programs with only nine leaders and co-leaders.

"Therefore the groups have been crowded," she emphasized, "and senior scouting has been out of the question."

Mrs. Richter appealed to the Lions to aid in securing Girl Scout leaders, declaring "their future is in your hands."

Congress granted a federal charter to the Boy Scouts of America in 1916.

Athletics Whip Braves 6-5 in Nine Innings; Cardinals Upset

The snake-bitten Braves—winner of only two games this season—pushed the league-leading Athletics to the limit Friday night before losing a 6-5 decision in the ninth inning.

The two Pony League teams were all tied 5-5 at the end of the regulation seven innings of play and two extra innings were necessary to determine the winner.

White Sox—with only three prior wins on the book—upset the Cardinals 5-2 in the first game Friday with Danny Fisher holding the Cards to three scattered hits.

Billy Key went the entire nine innings for the Athletics without relief and struck out 16 Braves. Ronaldo Lujan handled the first seven innings on the Brave mound but gave way to Lucky Merket in the eighth.

The winning Athletic run in the ninth was chalked up by Randy Cupp who scored after whoping a single.

The Braves fought an uphill battle the entire game, coming from behind twice to tie the score.

Athletics chalked up the first run in the opening frame with Red Lindsey scoring.

They added two more in the third with Key opening the frame with a home run. Lindsey followed with the other score.

Braves pulled to within one run—3-2—in the fourth with Merket slamming a homer with Henry Burton on base.

M. Williams' score in the top of the fifth for the Braves to tie the score at 3-3.

But the Athletics marked up two runs in the bottom of the fifth to go ahead again 5-3. Key walked. Lindsey socked a single and both scored.

Braves came from behind again in the sixth to tie the score 5-5. Merket and Lujan both singled and scored the runs.

Then the teams rocked along until the ninth when the Athletics tallied the winning run.

White Sox scored three runs in the opening inning and held the winning margin through the rest of the game.

GIANTS BEAT INDIANS

Pirates Nip Yankees 14-13 in Late Rally

A three-run rally in bottom of the sixth-inning gave the Pirates a 14-13 win over the league-leading Yankees in Little League play Thursday night.

Giants outslug the Indians 16-8 in the other game Thursday.

In the free-hitting Yankee-Pirate game, the lead changed hands several times before the Pirates eventually won out in the sixth.

It was Archie Biggers, Baxter and Martin Christian that tallied the final three Pirate runs.

Biggers singled, Baxter reached first on an error, Christian singled, Pete Garrett's hit was bobbled and Dale Walker singled to manage the three tallies.

Pirates wasted no time in the second inning, scoring seven runs.

Yanks bounced back for four runs in the third and added two more in the fifth frame when Jesse Franco and Felix Salmeron scored.

With the Yanks within one run of them, the Pirates chalked up four more runs in the fifth for a 11-6 advantage.

But the Yanks put on a show of their own in top of the sixth with seven runs for a 13-11 lead. Double by Barney Barnett and J. Franco were the big hits.

But then the Pirates, resting in a tie for second with the Giants, rallied for the three runs in bottom of the sixth to win the tilt.

Charles Houston, who subbed for starting pitcher Biggers on the Pirate mound in the sixth, was the winning tosser.

Giants went hog-wild for 16 hits and a 16-8 victory against the Indians in the second tilt.

Fourth and sixth innings found the Giants scoring seven runs each with the other runs added in the first and fifth frames. Indians scored four runs in the first and third frames for their total run output.

Giants scored first in top of the initial inning with Roger Richards scoring on Sammie Vaughn's single.

But the Indians took a 4-1 lead in bottom of the first when Kenneth Cloud, Kenneth Beasley, Bill McGuire and Larry Johnson all scored with the advantage of only one hit and four Giant errors.

Indians increased their lead to 8-1 in the third with Sylvester Williams' triple the big hit.

But then the bottom fell out for the Redmen.

Giants exploded for seven runs in the fourth.

Kenneth Cannon walked, Joel Shackelford and Dickie Summers both singled. David McKay went to base on an error, Bobby Stewart doubled, Richards singled and Maxie Connell doubled to account for the runs.

And then came seven more runs in the sixth for the Giants.

Singles by Shackelford, McKay and Stewart were the only hits of the inning with the Indians committing three errors.

ney and Pat Bullock—chamber directors—are members of a committee that will work with Snyder on the plant project.

A generating plant has been proposed to supply electricity for cooperatives in a West Texas area of more than a dozen counties—cooperatives which have been financed by Rural Electrification Administration loans.

City officials and chamber leaders several weeks ago investigated the possibility of a site for the plant on Lake Colorado City, but were informed that the cooperative plant could not make use of the Texas Electric Service Company owned lake.

And it was after the local study that the chamber decided to cooperate with Snyder in an effort to locate the plant—if it is built in this area at Lake Thomas.

Directors termed the initial July observance here this week as a worthwhile program, even better than first anticipated.

They complimented individuals and organizations who directed and sponsored the observance and expressed appreciation for their efforts in behalf of the community.

This year's program will be studied in an effort to improve the 1937 observance, they said.

In the eastern floods in 1935 Boy Scouts engaged in rescues, delivered food and good drinking water, and served as messengers for relief officials.
