Dutch Give Up Colonial Rule In East Indies

New Partnership A Victory For UN Conciliation Moves

(By The Associated Press)

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands, Dec. 27.—Queen Juliana gave up most of Holland's rich colonial empire today by proclaiming independence for 77,000,000 Indonesians.

The simple, 30-minute ceremony in the royal palace climaxed four years of guerrilla fighting in the tropical East Indies islands and weeks of tough bargaining in conferences between Dutch and independence-seeking Indonesians.

Linked By Symbol

With Juliana's signature, the United States of Indonesia (U.S.I.) became the world's newest independent nation. It also began an experiment in international partnership — the Dutch-Indonesian republic are loosely linked by the symbol of the Netherlands crown.

The queen declared that separation of the East Indies colonies from the Netherlands was "piercing . . . the very roots of our existence" and added:

"The world looks on in wonderment and perceives that, here and now, these two countries are realizing its own deepest desire, the desire for peace."

Capital Taken Over

'In the Netherlands, this is viewed with solicitude,' she continued, indicating mildly that a strong minority in the Netherlands had opposed the time of the transfer of the sovereignty. "But at this moment, and in this place I would state emphatically that in the Netherlands one and all concur with the principle of the transfer of sovereignty."

On the other side of the world, dark-skinned natives celebrated the independence for which they fought four years of sporadic guerrilla warfare. U.S.I. leaders took over control of the Indonesian capital of Batavia, Java, from Dutch troops.

Amidst the solemn formality in the marble-walled "Civic Hall" of the palace Premier Mohammed Hatta was present to represent his new country.

Anthems Played

The brief program was concluded by the queen's speech, followed by the playing of the Indonesian national anthem "Indonesia Raja" and the Dutch hymn "Wilhelmus" on the palace carillon.

At almost the same moment the two anthems were being played in Batavia, with the raising of the Indonesian red and white flag over the former governor.gener-

Mercury Skids To 18 In City

Another frigid minimum—18 degrees this time—reminded the area that winter is here to stay during the early morning hours today.

A cold front that moved in from the north had less effect than expected, however, and today the Weather bureau station at Municipal airport sees only occasional clouds marring a blue sky today, tonight and Wednesday.

Three Degrees Warmer

This morning's 18-degree reading was only three degrees warmer than Monday's 15, but the maximum this afternoon was expected to be somewhat cooler than the maximum of 55 degrees recorded Monday afternoon. A minimum of about 50 degrees was expected this afternoon, said Melton Connell, observer at the weather station.

At 4:30 a. m. Dalhart, the town on top of the Panhandle reported 22 degrees, or seven degrees "warmer" than the temperature

Big Tank Truck Carrying Water To Thirsty Displaced Texans In Parched New York City

(By The United Press)

AUSTIN, Dec. 27—A mammoth truck toting 3,000 gallons of water in its plastic-lined interior rolled on its way toward New York today as cheering Texans came to the aid of parched Manhattan.

The 45-foot long truck, flanked by a siren-screaming motorcycle escort, rumbled off on its 1,998 mile jaunt from in front of the Texas capitol.

Lt. Gen. Ernest O. Thompson, commander of the Texas National Guard, waved the waterlift north and eastward with the farewell:

"This celebration is one of mercy . . . sent in hopes that it will bring goodwill and peace on earth in thirsty New York."

Manning the giant, white-painted truck were two veteran drivers, boasting between them 1,600,000 miles of traffic-threading without an accident.

They are Red Tipton, 26, and Billy Davis, 35, both of Houston. Both are native Texans.

Each carried a canteen filled with Highland Lakes water on his hip. That was to insure that neither would "mooch a precious drop" once they ar-

Seven Escape From Prison At Huntsville

Four Men Captured As Officials Comb Region With Dogs

(By The Associated Press)

HUNTSVILLE, Dec. 27 — Two more convicts who tunneled out of the state penitentiary here were captured today by a Walker county commissioner.

Seven convicts escaped from the walls, main unit of the farflung prison system, here yesterday. Three still are at large.

Two were captured six hours after the escape.

No Resistance Given

Captured today by Walker County Commissioner Felix Hardey were Don Kemper, serving six years for forgery from Mitchell, Comal, Scurry and Howard counties, and Weldon Green, serving life as an haditual criminal.

Hardey said the men made no resistance as he arrested them eight miles east of New Waverly, about 20 miles southeast of Huntsville.

Two of the men — Cecil Bill Isom, serving 45 years for robbery from Harris county, and David Crocket McCullough, serving 22 years from robbery from Dallas county — were captured without a struggle some six hours after the escape.

The break occurred yesterday morning. Isom and McCullough were recaptured in a barn 15 miles south of here by Warden T. T. Easley of Eastham prison farm. The men were unarmed. They said they had split with the other five near Phelps.

Fled In Truck

The search for the remaining three centered between New Waverly and Groveton.

The men fled from the prison in a pick-up truck but four of them left the machine shortly afterward because "it was too hot." The other three later adbandoned the truck and set out afoot on the highway. Don Kemper, serving six years for forgery from Mitchell, Comal, Scurry and Howard counties, was driving at the time. The three were believed hiding near Groveton today.

The other two convicts were thought to be hiding near the barn

Einstein Offers New Formula To Unlock Secrets Of Nature

(By The United Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 27 — Prof. Albert Einstein today offered scientists the world over a new cosmic theory that, once it is solved and understood, may set them on the solution of the mystery of life.

The new "generalized theory of gravitation" was evolved by the 70-year-old Einstein during 30 years of study. He has put together a theory several times in recent years, but in each case discarded it himself, having found it to be in error.

The newest theory, made public at a press conference during the annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, attempts in one series of equations to set forth the laws governing two fundamental forces of the universe — gravitation and electromagnetism.

Pioneered A-Bomb

Those two forces, scientists agree, produce virtually all the phenomena of nature, but there has been no single formula that explains their relationship and what is behind their functions.

For instance, any school child knows that when something is dropped the object falls to the ground or lowest level because of gravity. And knows also, that a magnet attracts metal. Scientists point out that these are two different forces of nature and that for years an overall formula was needed to explain just what the forces are and the part they play, in the physical world.

It was just such a simple formula that Einstein offered in 1905 that eventually led to the atomic bomb. In that year he first published his special theory of relativity that showed that the amount of energy in a mass could be determined by multiplying the amount of the mass by the velocity of light squared. The simple formula was: E equals MC2.

Thus, scientists after many years learning to understand what Einstein discovered, saw that enormus amounts of energy could be READY FOR ITS FINAL TRIP—Ed Branch, superintendent of Lubbock's garbage department, inspects a typical alley-scene of the next few days—barrels filled with Christmas wrappings and flanked by discarded Christmas trees. The garbage department "never gets caught up," but it's working under even greater pressure during the holiday season. The city has one garbage truck to approximately every 5,000 of population. Plans call for eventual increase to one truck for every 4,000. (Staff Photo)

MEN AND TRUCKS UNDER PRESSURE

Aftermath Of Christmas Hits The Boys Who "Clean 'Er Up"

By BILL CLARK
Journal Staff Writer

The bright and shiny wrappings are gone from under the Christmas tree today, but holiday tinsel and glitter—tons of it—will create a major problem for at least a week in the city garbage department.

Under the direction of Ed Branch, superintendent of the city garbage department, the entire force of some 40 men and 11 trucks will be working under greater than usual pressure to meet the heavy demands of the holiday season.

Situation Aggravated

As each of the collection trucks makes its semi-weekly rounds every alley in the city, it will be accompanied by two men who will walk 30 to 35 miles a day, lifting heavy containers. Each man will lift 12,000 pounds of refuse, much of it Chrimtsa wrappings, for the final trip to the dumpgrounds, during his day's work.

Although the department normally works a seven-day schedule, the men quit at noon last Saturday for the holiday and no collections were made Sunday or Monday.

That brief respite, plus the fact that many housewives are discarding Christmas trees and such assorted items as rugs, linoleum, and other bulky items that were replaced by Christmas-gift new ones, aggravates the collection sit-

Gas Line Freeze-Up Leaves Town In Cold

NEOSHO, Mo., Dec. 27. (U.P.)—The main gas line serving this Ozarks town of 7,000 population went out of service in a "freeze-up" today, cutting off heat in homes housing about 5,500 persons. Temperatures were below freezing.

The gas service company issued an emergency call for all employes and rushed in extra help from Joplin and Carthage. Workers toured the city, cutting off every gas outlet. Officials repeatedly broadcast warnings of the emergency.

Children and the ill were rushed to homes where coal and oil are used for heating, but cooking became an immediate problem in almost every household.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27 — A pension bill in the Senate and an insurance bill in the House are the top priority items for veterans in the congressional session starting a week from today.

A bonus bill for World War two veterans is in the background. Even its strongest supporters among veterans' organizations don't expect this multi-billion dollar measure to get anywhere in the next session.

The House already has passed a liberalized pension bill for veterans of both World Wars. Now it's up to the Senate to act.

65 Minimum Age

There have been estimates that over the next half century the bill would set the taxpayers back around $8,500,000,000.

One of its major features provides that any veteran would be considered permanently and totally disabled upon reaching the age of 65. He could get a $72-a-month pension if he had no dependents and an income below $1,200 a year, or if he had dependents and an income below $2,500.

Chairman Rankin (D-Miss) told a reporter the first bill the House veterans' committee will consider probably will be an insurance measure supported by the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled American Veterans and Amvets.

The bill is on the technical side and wouldn't pply to any tremendous number of veterans, committee officials said.

Bonus Bill Pending

One reason the organizations want it is that it would give veterans with service connected disabilities an extra two years to ap-

UNION BOWS TO COURT ORDER

Transit Strike In Cleveland Halted

(By The Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, Dec. 27 — AFL unionists bowed to a court injunction today and called off the city's six-day transit strike.

By a voice vote, members of the AFL-transit union voted overwhelmingly to abide by an injunction ordering them to give up the strike against the city-owned Cleveland transit system.

Buses and street cars were expected to start rolling almost immediately. The injunction set a 2 p. m. deadline.

Transit officials, however, said no attempt would be made before tomorrow to maintain normal schedules.

Deadline Given

The unexpected strike by some 4,200 persons began early last Thursday. It had paralyzed public transportation in the nation's sixth largest city.

Common Pleas Judge Joseph A. Artl issued the injunction last night following a special hearing.

Artl gave the strikers until 2 p. m. (EST) today to take over the throttles of vehicles of the city-owned Cleveland transportation system. His instructions were contained in an injunction granted the firm against the strikers in extraordinary session last night.

No Retaliation

An hour or so later Thomas P. Meaney, president of local, agreed to the judge's directive. But he insisted that the transit board promise there would be no punish-

No Shooting War In 50 Years Is Seen

LONDON, Dec. 27. (U.P.)—Prof. Arnold Toynbee, 60, one of the world's foremost historians, predicted today the "cold war" with Russia would not become a shooting war until the year 2,000 at the earliest.

The author of the six-volume "Study of History" said the cold war probably would be fought in Asia for the next 50 years—because Communism had been contained in Europe—and that a "shooting war is not inevitable within the next 50 years."

Lubbock Mail Still Stacked

Lubbock postoffice today looked as if Santa Claus were still in town.

Thousands of packages still were stacked, dwindling slowly as Lubbock residents called for them.

After the last delivery was made Saturday, five train cars filled with packages for Lubbock residents arrived, said Postmaster Amos H. Howard.

Delivery Difficult

Those marked for special delivery were delivered immediately Delivery of the remainder was attempted Monday, but postal help found many persons to be away from home.

The canceling machine at the postoffice showed a total of 1,324,000 letters and Christmas cards had been cancelled in the 12 day period closing Sunday. That represented only a portion of the letter-size items going through Lubbock postoffice. Many cards and letters were canceled through the approximately 70 meter machines of Lubbock business firms.

It represented far less than half of the number of items handled through the postoffice during those 12 days, because it included none of the parcels, none of the

Ultimatum Delivered To Striking Workers

DALLAS, Dec. 27. (AP)—A. J. Emory, president of the Dallas union bus terminal, today delivered an ultimatum to striking CIO station workers. He told them they would have to return to their jobs or be replaced.

Declaring that a public transportation business must operate as a public service, he said they were being advised to return to their jobs on their regular shifts today or report for duty not later than 8 p. m., otherwise their jobs will be filled with permanent replacements.

The workers, members of the CIO Transport workers local 275, walked off their jobs Saturday afternoon during the peak of the Christmas eve travel rush. The strikers include baggage and ticket agents, clerks, porters and maids.

Explosion Sets Fire To House On Ave. J

Mrs. Bob King, about 65, was taken to West Texas hospital late this morning by Sanders ambulance for treatment of shock resulting from an explosion and fire at the residence she and her husband occupy at 4401 Ave. J.

A sedative was administered, her physician said, adding that she had suffered no physical injury. She will be released Wednesday, it was indicated.

King rubbed a match to light a kerosene heater, unaware that someone had left a butane gas tap open, city firemen said. Approximately $600 damages was occasioned by a resultant fire. Windows were blown out and a fire started in a closet. King suffered slight burns of the hands, firemen said.

The alarm was turned in at 11:37 o'clock.

Twelve minutes earlier, a residence occupied by Sally Jones, a negro woman, at Twenty-sixth and Ave. B caught fire from a faulty flue. The inside of the house and the attic were damaged.

Loopholes For Taxpayers Are To Be Tighter

Foes Of Tax Hike Lining Up Support For Coming Battle

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—Congress may call for a crackdown on tax evaders and close some tax "loopholes" before it considers any legislation to raise tax rates on individuals or corporations.

Rep. Forand (D-RI), members of the tax-framing House ways and means committee, today told newsmen:

"If every tax legally owed the government were collected, I believe the budget could be balanced without resorting to any tax increases."

Treasury and congressional tax experts now are studying the problem of tax dodging. Some estimated that the government is losing $5,000,000,000 a year by tax evasion and by the so-called loopholes. These permit some taxpayers to work the tax laws in a manner to trim-down their tax obligations.

GOP Opposes Tax Boost

If that amount were collected it would just about cover what the government needs to balance the budget.

Meanwhile, Republicans on Capitol Hill—expecting considerable support from Democrats—lined up for battle against any proposal President Truman may make for tax increase.

Rep. Joseph W. Martin, jr., the House GOP leader, issued a formal statement saying he expects the President to propose a multi-billion dollar tax-hiking program "so that the administration can proceed with its extravagant and illiberal plan to socialize America."

"A tax increase at this time," he said, "would have a depressive effect on economic conditions generally and might precipitate the country into a tail-spin which would cost millions of workers their jobs."

He predicted defeat for any tax-upping bill.

Excise Rates Studied

Martin renewed his plea for a slash of around $600,000,000 to $750,000,000 a year in the war-imposed excise rates on such things as furs, jewelry, luggage, communications and transportation. Such legislation now is backed by a substantial number of Republicans and Democrats. Mr. Truman has said studies are being made to see if the excises can be reduced.

Senator O'Conor (D-Md) offered the openion yesterday that reduction of the excises to their pre-war rates would provide a healthy stimulus for affected industries. He said increased sales and profits, in turn, would "make possible

Two Cases Of Burglary Here

Rushing drug, at 2810 Ave. H, was burglarized in the night, but it could not be determined today what merchandise had been removed, pending a return of store officials from Christmas trips.

Police said they believed, after talking with employed personnel there, that several watches and other jewelry had been taken, perhaps billfolds and other merchandise.

Entrance was at a side door.

Church Is Entered

Burglars kicked a hole in a window and entered Redeemer Luthefran church, at Twenty-second and Ave. W, but City Patrolmen V. P. Stephens and Doyle Clark said they believed nothing was taken.

Two persons, 18 and 21, of Shallowater were arrested and questioned briefly in connection with the drugstore burglary.

They probably will be able to establish their innocence, a city detective said. They were arrested at a tourist court, where one allegedly was associating with a prostitute and the other was slumped down in a car as though hiding, police reports said.

Woman Eludes Men

Police were asked to investigate the alleged activities of two men about 11:40 p. m. Monday at Twenty-eighth and Ave. N. A young husband said his wife eluded them after one had got out of a car and seized her, placing a hand over her mouth to muffle her screams. He sought to place her in the car, the wife told her

Mary Haworth's Mail

Further Interest In Survival Is Void In Wife And Mother; What Shall She Do

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am a wife and mother, 48 years old, and perhaps I have demanded achievements of myself beyond my capacities. You be the judge.

For the past two months I have been unable to call up any of my resources sufficiently to arouse enough interest to bother to continue the struggle for survival—and this despite loyal friends and neighbors, the esteem and affection of children, an extensive range of civic and social interests, abundant faith in God's power for good, and residence in a city which offers great cultural diversity.

My adolescence was acutely unhappy, with much circumstantial cause. I married at 18, with "magnificent" ideals, but quite unprepared either to understand my husband's personality or to meet ensuing problems,—and it has been rough going all the way.

Now, 30 years later, I have accumulated enough knowledge to realize that Jerry's personality is extremely infantile. He vacillates between extreme neurotic behavior at best, and a benigh psychosis at worst. His deep anxieties and defensive feelings, revealed in aggressive attitudes and fancied slights, precipitate daily crisis in the family.

ALWAYS BEEN MORE HURT THAN HAPPY

IT has been no small feat to keep the children from hating him and to give them a sense of security and a reasonable degree of emotional balance in this hurtful environment. My efforts haven't been total failure, but the heartbreaks overbalance the success, nonetheless. I might feel that the struggle had been worthwhile were it not (1) for the early death of a cherished daughter and (2) the cruel far-maiming of our eldest son.

Add to that the fact that every conscientious effort toward sublimation is viciously opposed by Jerry—to the confusion of our younger son, now 14—and you may guess whether my apathy is caused by rebellion or despair. The trick is, what to do about it? I am weary past all caring; I just don't want to play any more; but some instinct for survival keeps nudging me to revive and go on.

As I cannot afford psychiatric counsel I am turning to you for guidance, because I like the clean-cut way you go to the heart of a matter. Much, very much, has been left unsaid, so you'll have to read between the lines. Signed C. L.

TIRED OF RUNNING AWAY FROM HERSELF

DEAR C. L.: It occurs to me that your age—approaching 50; the turn-style into the afternoon of life—is doing a lot to accelerate to panic proportions certain discordant emotional strains in your unconscious.

Very likely you are a chronic victim of ingrained pessimism, to counteract which you've consciously leaned towards thoughts and imaginery of perfect bliss that might reward your "faith" some day—in the morning years of life. Also it appears from your references to sublimation and to play that you've tried to outrun inner desolation, travail, etc., by keeping in perpetual motion socially.

Hence on reaching the age when nature insists "Slow down," and when common sense and your mirror remind that discrapancy grows between the person you are and the dreams you hold, you find yourself overwhelmed by an almost physical feeling of being trapped—of being overtaken and throttled by emotional catastrophe.

REBUILD OUTLOOK ON SOLID GROUND

IMMEDIATELY, of course, there is an urgent unconscious impulse to escape all this, but the route of escape which impulse proposes is loudly forbidden by other dictators in your unconscious,—and the net result is that you feel stymied and dead-beaten; or, as you say, "weary past all caring."

To illustrate how neurosis hoodwinks, possibly your conscience infers that your forbidden notion of escape would be to desert or destroy Jerry, and maybe you have a suspicion that you are resisting that type of impulse. But fundamentally your struggle has been with and against yourself, and you feel blocked because of course you cannot escape yourself, yet neither have you deeply accepted yourself or the reality of Jerry's unsatisfactory personality or any other less-than-ideal phenomenon in your married experience.

To revive interest in living, you have got to base your existence on solid ground, psychologically; and it occurs to me that Dr. H. A. Overtsreet's book "The Mature Mind" (W. W. Norton Company) may be a lamp to your feet. But in my opinion, high-quality psychiatric counsel would be invaluably helpful here.—M. H.

TESTIMONY IN TRIAL REVEALED

Japs Confess Use Of Yanks In Tests

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Dec. 27.—Radio Moscow said today that Japanese on trial for war crimes in Siberia admitted using American war prisoners as human guinea pigs in garm warfare tests.

In a trial of 12 Japanese army officers, the radio broadcast said, some of the defendants asserted these experiments with deadly, plague, cholera and other germs were in preparation for launching germ-bomb attacks on the United States and Britain during World War Two.

One defendant, Gen. Otozoo Yamada, former commander of the Japanese Kwantung army in Manchuria, was said to have testified that germ experiments on prisoners were aimed primarily for use on the Soviet Union, the Mongolian people's republic and China in addition to the U. S. and Britain.

U. S. Has No Record

According to reported testimony by Tomio Karasawa, second defendant to appear before the court, lethal germs were used by the Japanese army's top-secret germ warfare branch "to ascertain the degree of vulnerability of the American army to different combat infections.

(In Tokyo, General MacArthur's headquarters said there are no records of the Japanese having experimented with germs on American prisoners. As far as headquarters knew the Japanese had never been accused by any of the Americans held at Mukden, scene of the alleged experiment, of using them as germ-warfare guinea pigs.

(Old U. S. Army intelligence reports in 1946, however, disclosed that the Japanese had conducted germ-weapon experiments on animals, but there was no evidence they ever had used human beings or ever had used the weapons in actual warfare.

(Some observers believe the trial is being used by Russia as an answer to recent Japanese and American occupation demands for the release of Japanese war prisoners she is still holding. Russia claims to be holding 10,000 Japanese as war criminals but Japanese and U. S. estimates place the figure at nearly 350,000.)

The germ warfare experiments were said to have been conducted by a special "unit 731." Moscow radio and official Soviet newspapers said one of the defendants testified that unit 731 was established by a special decree of Emperor Hirohito in 1936 and functioned before and during the war.

Ban On Cotton Shipments To Galveston Appears Imminent

GALVESTON, Dec. 27. (AP)—A ban on cotton shipments to Galveston seemed imminent today.

A rail embargo already has been imposed on shipments to two warehouses and other storage facilities are filling up fast.

A combination of a bumper cotton crop and a slowdown in cotton shipping is causing the pileup.

The Cotton Concentration compay and the Bayside Warehouse company both are loaded to capacity and have a backlog of shipments in rail yards waiting to be unloaded.

800,000 Bales Stored

The Galveston cotton exchange reported there are about 800,000 bales of cotton stored here.

G. Harrell Brown, secretary of the cotton exchange and board of trade, said it is hoped that a break in shipping will occur within the next ten days to relieve the pressure.

Officials of the Cotton Concentration company said they had about 75 to 100 cars of cotton waiting to be unloaded. The rail embargo on shipments to them was imposed Dec. 13.

Since that time some shipments, already enroute to their Galveston warehouses, have arrived.

Cars Tied Up

The Bayside Warehouse company has about 40 cars in the yards waiting to be unloaded.

E. H. Thornton, sr., general manager of the Galveston wharves said there is no storage problem along the dockfront.

Currently the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe railway is running a cotton special from the Lubbock area to Galveston and Houston.

Reports said cotton also is piling up at Houston and there is a possibility that shipments of cotton may be stopped to both Houston and Galveston.

TOWN LAYS PLANS FOR REBUILDING

Disastrous Blaze Results In A New Spirit Of Civic Pride

HYNDMAN, Pa., Dec. 27 (AP) — The fire which leveled this mountain community's business section has forged a new spirit of civic pride in Hyndman.

That became apparent today as merchants, town officials and businessmen started to lay plans for a new and better town.

The Christmas Eve fire burned out three blocks of the center of town. The bank, 12 other business buildings, about 20 homes and the postoffice were reduced to twisted, charred wreckage.

An unofficial estimate of damage compiled by businessmen placed it at around $1,000,000 — a staggering amount for a town of about 1,500 population.

But Hyndman has not bowed to fate.

Everyone Helping

"We are going to build a better town than we ever had before," Charles O. Burns, cashier of the burned-out bank declared.

"The fire has bound the community together," George Keller, principal of the local high school said. "It is really amazing. Everyone is helping."

The high school was not damaged by the fire. Emergency relief headquarters were set up there.

Keller said "I do not know of a single person who is not doing all he can. We now have a closely-knit town.

"For years I've been trying to get folks to think about remodeling our school. In the past two days, there have been residents helping out here who have never seen the inside of the school before

"No they are talking about a new high school building."

Merchants were talking about getting construction of new stores and offices underway immediately.

Vault Left Standing

The bank will reopen in a new temporary headquarters tomorrow. It has engaged an expert to open the vault, standing alone in the burned-out area. It contained about $12,000 in cash.

Clean-up work started while smoke was still rising from the blackened debris.

The Red Cross moved into this southwestern Pennsylvania town to help in the big job ahead.

Hyndman has been declared a Red Cross disaster area.

Food, clothing, furniture and other items to help the town back on its feet are being distributed by Red Cross workers.

Assistant Director Andrew M. Gregg of the Red Cross' eastern area disaster service, said that those who owned their own homes would be eligible for reconstruction grants.

The fire started when a Christmas tree in the home of sommers Fisher blazed up. Fisher's wife, Corrine, 60, was trapped and died in the fire. Fisher was burned badly and is in serious condition at Memorial hospital in nearby Cumberland, Md.

The blaze swept quickly through the old building that made up the heart of the town.

Cafe Owner Plays Host To Customers

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 27. (AP)—Restaurant-owner James R. Hightower doesn't have a family with which to spend the holidays, so yesterday he decided to play host to his customers.

He put a sign in the window of his Rose City cafe in the downtown district offering free chicken dinners to the first 400 persons to come in between 10:30 a. and 2 p. m.

It didn't take him long to drum up trade. In a short time his small cafe was filled and there was a long line on the sidewalk outside.

By 2. p. m. the 400 dinners were gone and Hightower and his weary employes closed the doors. Then they had to go home to get something to eat—all the food in the cafe was gone.

"It wouldn't have seemed like Christmas without giving something," Hightower said.

AFL Suggests Raises By Cutting Expenses

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27. (AP)—A proposal that workers be told they can have a raise if they help cut costs came last night from the American Federation of Labor.

"Most American managements have never seriously tried to cooperate with unions by submitting cost data and assuring union members of a fair share in the saving that could be made by joint effort to reduce cost," it said.

"Some amazing results could be accomplished if workers were given week by week costs records, so they could see the results of their efforts, and management agreed to share the savings with them, determining the just wage increase by collevtice bargaining negotiations.

"At least a goal could be set of 7 cents, 10 cents, or 15 cents more in wages through cost reduction."

The AFL made the suggestion in its publication "Labor's Monthly Survey." It said the plan could help keep up purchasing power without causing a general increase in living costs.

Holiday Dinners In 10 Minutes Predicted

New Developments In Kitchen Speeding Work Of Housewives

DENVER, Dec. 27. (INS)—The holiday feast of America's homes in 1975 will taste better than those "mother used to make in 1949"—and it will be prepared in a fraction of the time.

This was the prediction today of Prof. Margaret Pritchard, one of the nation's leading home economists.

Miss Pritchard, of the University of Denver's home economics department, said today that the meal of the future can be prepared in "less time than it takes the man of the house to whip up another batch of egg nogs."

Ten-Minute Meal

She explained:

"With such new conveniences as the electronic and infra-red stove, it is not at all unlikely that tomorrow's homemaker can prepare a roast turkey and full-course meal in from five to ten minutes."

The rapid-cook stoves—some of which are already on the market—will be combined with quick frozen, concentrated and dehydrated foods for those speedy meals. Miss Pritchard observed that more foods will be eaten raw, or after only short cooking periods, for full nutritional and taste values. The expert added:

Developing Fast

"It isn't far fetched to assume that the days are numbered for the 'born cook, who puts in pinches of this and pinches of that.'

"So many new developments are coming so rapidly to make the kitchen life of the housewife of the future easier and better, that mama can soon stop worrying about her dinner and begin to enjoy those egg nogs with her guests."

Second Twins Born Within 10 Months

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 27. (AP) Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Kohai are the proud parents of their second set of twins within 10 months.

Yesterday, the day after their wedding anniversary, Jeffrey and Michael were born. Each weighed a little more than five and a half pounds. Mother and babies are reported to be "doing fine."

Last Feb. 9 Mrs. Kohai, 27, gave birth to twin girls.

Following the latest additions to the family, Kohai, 31, a grocery manager, commented:

"I'm a little weak. But very pleased."

Littlefield Wins 'A' Crown

Wildcats Top Mexia Eleven

LITTLEFIELD, Dec. 27 (Special)—This South Plains farming community today still was in a state of jubilation as the result of the Littlefield Wildcats' 13-0 triumph over the Mexia Black Cats at Abilene Monday in the Texas Class A football finals.

The title triumph provided a new high in the grid fortunes of a school which has been one of the area's top powers through the last decade. And, after the convincing manner in which the Wildcats trounced Mexia in the season finale, there was no doubt that they were of true championship caliber.

Same Old Story

It was the same old story of bone-bruising power as Littlefield smashed over, through and around the outmanned Mexia club.

A capacity crowd of 11,500 fans at Abilene's Fair Park stadium saw the burly Wildcats, sparked by Tom Bailes and Frank Gage, cut loose with another of their now—famous ground juggernauts. While the Wildcats weren't busy hammering away on offense, they were throwing up a stout defense that slapped down every Mexia threat almost as soon as it arose.

In short, Coach J. S. Fikes' Big Red team wrote the final chapter in its playoff parade just as it had written the four earlier installments. It simply battered the opposition into submission.

The Wildcats dominated play even more clearly than the score might indicate. They amassed 289 yards net rushing to only 14 for the losers, and did not allow Mexia inside their 20-yard line all afternoon. True, the Black Cats connected on 14 of 36 passes for 106 yards, but an alert Littlefield secondary came up with four timely interceptions that practically nullified Mexia gains via the airways.

Line Smears Attack

As in previous playoff battles, the hard-charging Wildcat line paved the way to triumph. Fikes' forward wall, led by husky Jerry Cotter and the Fowler twins, John and Jim, repeatedly smeared Mexia's running attempts, and rushed Black Cat Quarterback Garland Cain so ferociously that the Panthers' heralded passing game never did catch fire with any consistency.

For the first eight minutes, play was on fairly even terms. Then Littlefield began the 94-yard land assault that produced the first touchdown. The drive was a chop, chop, chop affair, with Bailes and Gage alternating at cracking into the scrappy Black Cat line. These two workhorses of the Wildcat backfield carried the ball on all but one of the 22 plays consumed in the scoring march, with Gage finally smashing over left guard from one yard out for the counter. His attempted left end sweep for the extra point was stopped.

Just six plays later, five minutes deep in the second period, Littlefield had its second touchdown. On the first play after the kickoff to Mexia, John Fowler snagged a Black Cat screen pass on Mexia's 32-yard marker. Bailes, Gage and Donald Crossley hammered to the 25-yard line in three plays. Then Bailes literally climbed over a heap of players at left tackle, did a complete spin as he was hit by a linebacker, broke into the clear and raced for the touchdown. He also added the extra point on a neatly-executed forward handoff from Crossley over the left side.

After that second Wildcat tally, the game—for all practical purposes—was over. Occasionally Mexia turned on fleeting offensive bursts good for short midfield gains, but whenever the Black Cats began to approach touchdown territory, the South Plainsmen rudely slammed the door in their faces.

Bailes, Gage Outstanding

It would be almost impossible to over-emphasize the roles of Bailes and Gage in today's Wildcat offensive. Operating behind the smooth-functioning Big Red line and aided by some deceptive ball-handling by Quarterback Crossley, these two pounded away at the outmanned Mexia line relentlessly. When the smoke cleared, the 185-pound Bailes had powered to a net pickup of 172 yards in 36 carries, while Gage had spun and squirmed to 106 yards net in 26 tries from scrimmage. Their total gain of 278 yards accounted for all but 11 yards of Littlefield's total for the day.

For the third successive playoff game, the Wildcats did not complete a pass, which emphasizes the overwhelming dominance of their bowl-'em-ove. ground juggernaut.

Score Nullified

Late in the fourth quarter, the Panthers registered a 37-yard pass gain that carried into the end zone, but on the play a Black Cat lineman had obviously jumped offside, causing the score to be nullified. Mexia's deepest penetration came early in the final stanza, when the Central Texans reached Littlefield's 22-yard stripe before Gage intercepted a first-down pass on the Wildcat five.

The first half was all Littlefield. The Fikesmen piled up 191 yards net on the ground while limiting their foes to a net rushing gain of eight yards, and registered a 10-4 edge in first downs.

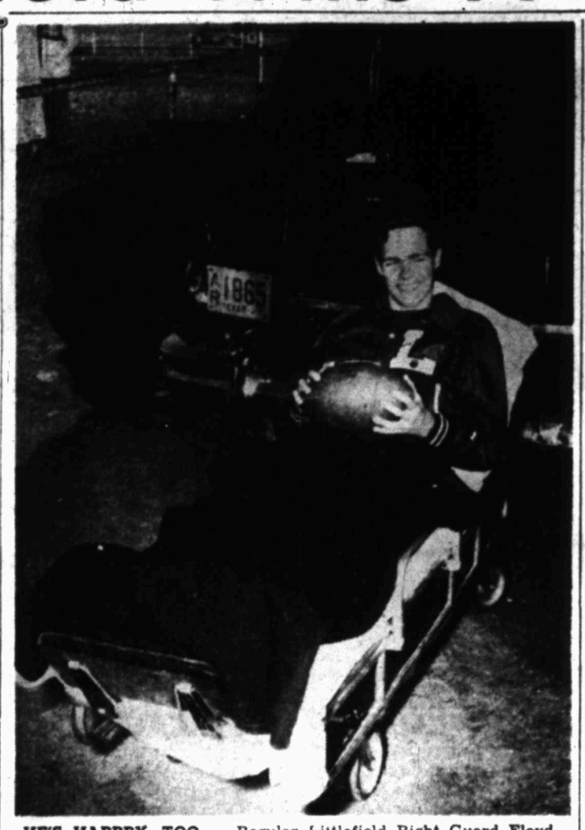

But just when it appeared that the heavier South Plains team was about to wear down the Mexia aggregation, the well-drilled Panthers came storming back to hold their own through the last two stanzas. Although they didn't have the guns to match Littlefield's heavy artillery, they battled to the very end before going down to their first defeat of the 15-game campaign.

Ty Bain, the former Texas Tech blocking back who now is head coach at Mexia, summed it up very well after today's game when he remarked, "Don't take a thing away from that Littlefield team. I think we have a good little ball club, but Littlefield has a good big ball club—the best we met all season."

The victory was the Wildcats' 14th in a row since they bowed to Dalhart, 14-0, in a rain-soaked season opener. One of the wins, however, was by the slim margin of a penetrations edge over Sudan in a District 4-A game which ended in a 7-7 scoring tie.

The Wildcat triumph kept the Class A title in West Texas (Monahans having won in 1948), and gave Fikes a record of a state crown, a regional championship, two bi-district titles and a district division pennant in his six years at the Littlefield helm.

CITATION, COALTOWN GROOMED

Old Racing Rivals To Tangle In '50

NEW YORK, Dec. 27 (U.P.)—Racing fans can expect 1950 to be one of the liveliest years in turf history.

It's true, as the hoof-dust of '49 fades into the past, that there are whimperings from track owners who are not making so much profit as in the lush months immediately following the war.

But it's not likely that two-bettors will let the eye-tricklings of plant moguls dampen their enthusiasm for a year that promises grand competition.

Events of '49 readied the turf for exciting contests in all divisions. The levelling-off process in competition was so pronounced, for example, that nearly every expert in the country favored a different "horse of the year." And there were a halfdozen claimants for each divisional championship.

Citation To Return

Old rivalries that resulted in disagreements and stand-offs during '49, will be renewed, and new ones will be developed as the younger horses move up a notch into the higher age-groups.

Into this hurlyburly among hayburners will come galloping "Mr. Horse," himself. Mighty Citation from Calumet is coming back after being out of competition since the Tanforan handicap last December. A popped osselet was given plenty of time to heal.

If Citation displays the form of '48, the golden galloper will try to harvest the richer stakes and forge past Stymie as the world's leading money-winner. He'll try to become the first horse to win $1,000,000 in purses.

Citation is prepping now for his return to competition at Santa Anita, with the $100,000 handicap as an objective.

Coalition Is Groomed

Meanwhile, Coaltown — that other Calumet speedster — is grooming for the new season in Florida, and for another crack at Capot. Greentree's Capot beat Coaltown twice late in the season—in the Sysonby at Belmont park and in the Pimlico Special. Trainer Ben Jones attributed Coaltown's two defeats to staleness after a long campaign. And Jones hopes that a throat "rattle," which has been bothering Coaltown recently, will not prevent his starting from the same gate with Capot, at least once.

Jones also is readying Ponder to continue the Ponder-Capot feud of '49. Ponder is in California for the $100,000 Maturity stakes, but Capot, wintering at Aiken, S. C., will not be geared to pick up the fight until the Maryland season opens in late March.

Strong Threats Seen

Other three-year-olds of '49 that should spice the handicap division are Olympia, Palestinian, Old Rockport and Colonel Mike.

Meanwhile last year's juveniles will come thundering into the headlines as three-year-olds of 1950 in the spring and early-summer classics—the Kentucky Derby, the Preakness, and the Belmont Stakes.

What horse will stand out in that threeyear-old competition? Experts and fans are arguing the question now, will it be Oil Capitol, Middleground, Hill Prince, Guillotine, Curtice, Wisconsin Boy, Roman Bath or Theory?

It should be a great year for the gee-gees and the fans. Even some of the boom-spoiled track owners are drying their eyes and suspecting timidly that the recession at the mutuels may have hit bottom.

Charles Named Boxer Of Year

By JACK CUDDY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—The Ring magazine today named Ezzard Charles "fighter of the year" and top contender for the vacant world heavyweight crown; but it stated also that if Joe Louis came back in 1950, as was likely, Joe would automatically be rated No. 1 contender.

Although Charles of Cincinnati is recognized as champion by the National Boxing association, the Ring magazine's annual ratings today listed the world title as "vacant."

The copyrighted ratings, released in the February issue of the magazine, ranked ancient Jersey Joe Walcott of Camden, N. J., as the No. 1 opponent for Charles; and listed veteran Lee Oma of Dertoit as next best contender. Bruce Woodcock of England and Lee Savold of Paterson, N. J., followed in that order.

Mills Given Blow

Freddie Mills of England, world light heavyweight champion, was given a sock on the chin by being rated below Joey Maxim of Cleveland, No. 1, and Archie Moore of St. Louis, No. 2, among the 175-pounders.

Sugar Ray Robinson, welterweight champion, was named the No. 1 contender for middleweight Champion Jake LaMotta's crown. And Nat Fleischer, the magazine's editor, stated that Robinson "is undoubtedly the best fighter, pound for pound, in the ring today."

Lack of class among newcomers was reflected when the ring failed to pick its annual "rookie of the year." However, welterweight Lester Felton of Detroit was named "the fighter who made the most progress in 1949."

To Get Trophies

Felton and Charles will receive their ring trophies on Jan. 12 at the annual dinner of the New York Boxing Writers association in the Hotel Waldorf-Astoria. Charles also will receive the boxing writers' Edward J. Neil award for having contributed most to the sport during 1949.

Fleischer explained that Charles was chosen "fighter of the year" because of his Chicago victory over Walcott for the N.B.A. crown, because of his successful title defenses against Gus Lesnevich and Pat Valentino and because he maintained "fine public relations."

Charles closest rivals for the award were Robinson and featherweight champion Willie Pep. "But Robinson had too many postponements," explained Fleischer. "And he was held to a draw by Henry Brimm." Pep failed to meet ex-champ Sandy Saddler in a return title bout.

Progress Is Reported

Fleischer reported "some evidences of progress" in the high calibre of amateurs who were now entering the professional ranks in most divisions. However, the year had been somewhat dismal for the fight game because attendance at boxing shows had fallen off in most countries.

He said the attendance slump could be attributed to (1) lack of development of post-war talent, (2) the post-war recession, (3) television, and (4) lack of intelligent matchmaking, "even at Madison Square Garden."

A new record of 18 deaths had resulted from ring injuries, and Fleischer said he believed most injuries were caused by improper matting on the rings and by the practice of "breaking" the padding in gloves over the knuckles before a fight."

Junior High Coach Had Doak At Guard

DALLAS, Dec. 27 (AP) — Doak Walker, who became a three-time All-America football player, had to intercept a pass one day in order to get to play in the backfield.

Walker reveals this today in the second copyrighted series being published by the Dallas Times-Herald.

It was in junior high school. "I really looked forward to going out for football that year . . . but the first afternoon I got a real jolt," the Southern Methodist university quarterback writes. "I guess the coach got a good look at my big, thick neck because he put he in at right offensive guard. Good gosh! Of all things! Here I am a backfield man and I wind up in the line.

"I didn't say anything though; I wanted to play so bad that I was afraid to object."

But one afternoon during scrimmage, Walker intercepted a pass. "I went all the way and that was that. From then on the coach played me in the backfield."

Raiders Close Drills Today

After a morning skull-session, the Texas Tech Raiders were scheduled for a stiff afternoon practice on the field—their last at Jones stadium—today as time for Saturday's Raisin Bowl tilt with San Jose State grows steadily nearer.

The Raiders depart by train at 8:30 a. m. Wednesday for Fresno and the scene of the bowl clash, the time of arrival there scheduled for 2:05 p. m. Thursday. A workout Thursday and Friday in California will be used to polish the offense and strengthen the defense.

In Good Shape

Monday the team members returned from a three-day holiday period at home, and Coach Dell Morgan said the squad appeared to be in fine mental and physical shape and were "ready to go."

The Raider team was divided into different groups Monday so that all could be kept busy in practice at one time, and Coaches Tipp Mooney, G. B. Morris and Allie White were in charge of different groups.

Readying of the offense for the San Jose Spartans has been the largest objectives of the coaches, and pacing the offensive backfield yesterday were Quarterback Ernest Hawkins, Halfbacks Cal Stevenson and Tim Hatch and Fullback Bud Conley. Milton Rathbone put in time working on laterals and other wide stuff around end.

The probable starting foursome worked mainly on ground plays in the cool session, and another group concentrated largely on passes, with Albert Salem hitting his mark accurately with his aerials. Today the routine will be alternated.

Making up the number one line in practice were Dick and Hugh Jackson at ends; Doug McSwane and John Andrews at tackles; Bobby Garner and Dan Pursel at guards; and Bobby Williams at center.

In addition to offensive maneuvers, defensive drills were run against San Jose plays as run by Tech players.

A wide-open style of play is expected to be used by both teams in the Raisin Bowl tilt, and pregame predictions have the team with the better passing attack tabbed as the winner. Both Tech and San Jose have good running attacks and powerful lines to stop ground games.

The Red Raiders depart for Fresno at 8:30 Wednesday morning, ariving there at 2:05 p.m. Thursday in time for a workout.

Yanks Defeat Rebels

North Notches 20-14 Victory

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 27. (AP)—A squad of hand-picked northern college football players overpowered a select group of southern collegians in the second annual Shrine charity game in the Orange Bowl last night, 20-14.

The Yankees evened the score for last year's 24-14 southern triumph and did it conincingly before 37,378 rain-soaked fans.

Yale Coach Herman Hickman's hefties came charging back to erase a 0-7 half-time deficit with two quock touchdowns in the third quarter and another in the fourth.

Rebels Take Lead

The Rebels, under Coaches Andy Gustafson of Miami and Bob Woodruff of Baylor, grabbed a lead in the second quarter on a 80-yard touchdown run by Vanderbilt's Lee Nalley.

The speedy halfback took a handoff from Miami's Whitey Campbell and, behind perfect blocking, raced down the sidelines to put the South ahead. Forrest Griffith of Kansas added the extra point, his first of two for the evening.

With the third period only five minutes old, the Yankees struck for their first touchdown with Notre Dame's Walter Grothaus recovering a South fumble on the South's 24.

Two plays later Villanova's Steve Romanik passed to Harry Wettlaufer of Pennsylvania to the eight. Larry Coutre of Notre Dame rammed through to the four and then squirmed to the one foot line.

Romanik sneaked over for the touchdown. Ralph Pasqueriello of Villanova missed the extra point.

The South still led, but not for long. Pennsylvania's Ray Dooney took a pitchout around right end and went eight yards to score with two Rebel tacklers still hanging on. Billy Bye of Minnesota kicked the extra point and the Yankees went ahead, 13-7.

The North hiked its lead in the fourth quarter after Dooney recovered a South fumble on the Rebel 10. On the next play Pasqueriello scored on a pitchout around right end. Bye again added the extra point.

Rupe Wright of Baylor recovered Dooney's fumble on the North's 43 and the Rebels took it from there, Griffith traveling the final 15 yards for the touchdown.

The Yankees racked up 22 first downs to the South's seven and gained 350 net yards rushing to the Rebels' 73.

Westerners Drill For Abilene Tilt

A hard workout today should put the Lubbock Westerners in fair shape for Wednesday's encounter with Abilene's Eagles in a basketball game to be played in Abilene.

The Lubbock squad returned to the hardwood Monday and went through a light workout which featured running, passing and ball-handling, and Coach David Cook indicated that today's practice would be longer and harder, beginning at 4 p. m.

The local five will be out to avenge the setback at the hands of the Eagles, who gave Lubbock its second loss in 11 contests, and the sledding is expected to be tough in the home gym of the Abilene aggregation.

The return of Charles Lambert to practice was seen, but he is not expected to see action against Abilene. The senior guard injured his right foot in the third game of the season and has been out of action ever since.

A "B" team game will be played with the Abilene reserves before the varsity game Wednesday. The team representing Lubbock will be varsity reserves and several players off the Cowhands. It will not be a Cowhand game.

Between the Lines by Joe Kelly

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Here we are 1,700 miles or more from home—and we can't get Lubbock out of our thoughts. We'd like to know how the basketball teams are doing, how Bill Henderson made out in his fight, what the state football picture is now, how Tech looks getting ready for the Raisin Bowl and so many other things. Already it seems weeks since we left for this city of hubbub and turmoil. It's fine being with our parents again and seeing some old friends, but the longer we stay here, the more we realize just how grand Lubbock is.

A few days prior to leaving on this vacation, we ran a column that touched on the athletic situation at Texas Tech. It was in discussion of a letter we had received. Since then we have had several other letters taking up points made in the column. Some of them agreed, some disagreed. In fact, the opinions were about even. We don't intend to run a lot of the letters. In fact, we are going to print only one of the letters and that for a particular reason. It comes from a recent Tech graduate, a chap who was an outstanding grid and track star. He took a whack at pro football and now lives on the South Plains. We think his attitude is more than fair, particularly since he and the coaches sometimes did not see eye to eye while he was in college. Without further ado, here's the note:

"I have been reading with interest your comments regarding a new coaching staff at Tech. I am not from the old school which believes that what was good enough for my grandpappy was good enough for me and will be good enough for my kids. However, I believe that Coach Morgan and his staff are doing a fine job at Tech. I don't believe that the way to build Tech is to start by tearing down what it has taken many years to build.

"Let's look at Tech's record the past few years. What would H-SU and Coach Woodson give for three consecutive Border Conference championships? As long as Tech pursues her present policy of trying to get into the Southwest Conference, her present non-conference schedule will be occupied mainly by the Southwest Conference teams. If a change in this policy is in order, then let's place that load on whose shoulders it belongs, certainly not Coach Morgan or the athletic department. Tech's dream of a berth in the Southwest Conference extends much farther back than Coach Morgan's position with the athletic department.

"Tech teams have the same plays as the Los Angeles Rams, the Fighting Irish of Notre Dame, the Chicago Bears and every other good T formation team. True, they don't have a separate coach for each position and ordinarily they don't have a Johnny Lujack, Bobby Layne or Steve Van Buren to run these plays. What Tech does have is a fine head coach with three good assistants doing eight men's work and a fine bunch of hustling kids who have won three consecutive conference championships.

"What good has it done Texas A & M or San Francisco or Colgate or any of the other schools to fire the coaching staff and give no more support to the new staff than it did the old? Let's take our present coaching staff, add those needed assistants and give them the support and the material. That is my opinion of how to build Tech's teams. Not by tearing down."

The writer of the letter then makes the charge that several top prospects that might have gone to Texas Tech have chosen other larger schools because of "inducements." He admits such charges are hard to prove, but claims they are what is losing many a fine prospect for Tech. Then to go on with the letter.

"What Tech needs is a few assistants, an alumni association which is determined to get those good high school boys and a little more cooperation from those so interested in throwing nine year's progress away. Yours very sincerely . . ."

When we get home, we might find letters from other lettermen who have an entirely opposite point of view. We wouldn't know. We do know that this letter comes from a former player who might be expected to take that opposite view. This much we do know; we aren't going to head any committee for a general house cleaning, nor will we fight it. Primarily, the coaching situation at any institution concerns the alumni. The public is secondary. And sports writers generally carry little weight in any such situation. For further proof we refer you to Amarillo and Coach Bull Lynch.

This is all for now, but we may be back with another column before getting home. Sportswise, we're enjoying Washington.

Opening Day Marks At Track Toppled

ARCADIA, Calif., Dec. 27. (AP)—Turf men are crooning "happy days may be here again" following the opening of Santa Anita racetrack's 13th winter meeting with a record-smashing debut throng of 66,000.

While several other race plants have been forced to cut purses because of lagging turnstiles, the crowd here yesterday topped the previous high for the inaugural day,—62,440 in 1947.

The pari-mutual handle totaled $2,250,394, second only to the 1947 figure of $2,726,433.

Your Host Wins

The feature race, the $50,000 California Breeders champion stakes, was captured by the favored Your Host, owned by William Goetz, with Johnny Longden astride. Time for the mile and one-sixteenth was 1:44.

Your Host galloped into the lead before the field had reached the first turn and never was in danger. Blue Reading came from behind to annex second—five lengths back—and Top Production rated third.

The two-year-old stake with its added money was actually worth $81,725.

Ponder Gets Workout

The crowd displayed as much or more interest in the co-feature, dubbed the Nonrovia purse, for $7,000, largely because Ponder, the Kentucky Derby winner, was in the field.

However, the Calumet farm three-year-old found the six furlongs too short for his liking and wound up 10th in the 11-horse field. Ponder is being groomed for the $100,000 Santa Anita Maturity Jan. 28 and yesterday's jaunt was merely a warm-up.

The sprint was captured by Fred W. Hooper's Olympia by four lengths in 1.10 1/5, with Royal Blood placing and Bolero in the show position.

Ags, Cowboys Are Favored

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Dec. 27. (U.P.)—Oklahoma A&M and Wyoming were co-favorites today as the 14th annual edition of the All-College basketball tournament began.

The Oklahoma Aggies entered the eight-team tourney with a season's record of five victories and one defeat. They have won five straight titles here and eight in all.

Cowboys Are Underdogs

Wyoming was rated a slight underdog to the Aggies. The Cowboys have a nine and two record including five straight victories.

The opening game of the tournament at 2 p. m. paired Oklahoma City university, holder of a five-game winning streak, and low-rated Baylor university. Oklahoma City's record was six and two, while Baylor had four victories and three losses.

Arkansas, with a two and five record, was paired against Alabama, three and two, at 3:15 p. m.

The night opener paired Texas, five and three, against Wyoming. Following the 7:45 game, Oklahoma A&M and Vanderbilt, holder of a five and one record identical with the Aggies, were pitted.

Record Crowd Will Watch Bowl Tussle

DALLAS, Dec. 27. (AP)—The largest crowd ever to see the Cotton Bowl football game will be in the cavernous stadium next Monday. And all of the 75,347 fans are advised to wait until the last gun before moving for the exits.

Lots of things happen in the final periods for the competing teams in this bowl game—Rice and North Carolina. Especially North Carolina. They call the Tar Heels the "minute men of football."

They don't always win them in the last minutes but they probably win more at that stage of the game than any other team.

Stage Fast Finish

Rice is a last-half outfit, too, only the Owls have had more success with it this season than the Tar Heels. The most notable garrison finish by Rice was against Texas. They were behind 15-0 until late in the game yet won 17-15 as Froggy Williams kicked a field goal with 10 seconds to go.

North Carolina beat North Carolina State in the last few minutes, licked Georgia 21-14 with two minutes to go, scored 21 points in the fourth period to beat South Carolina, stopped Virginia on the seven-yard line with a minute to play and the score 14-7, edged Duke 21-20 as Art Weiner blocked a field goal try in the last minutes and otherwise added ulcers for veteran Coach Carl Snavely.

To Resume Drills

They couldn't make gallant finishes against Notre Dame, Tennessee and Louisiana State but they were in the game with the Irish until the last period and led Louisiana State 7-6 most of the way.

Rice had to come from behind to beat Southern Methodist, Texas and Baylor and had to stop Texas Christian down around the two-yard line as time ran otu. The only time the Owls didn't have it when the chips were on the line was against Louisiana State, to whom they lost their only game of the season.

Both Rice and North Carolina resumed practice today after taking out for the Christmas holiday period. Rice planned two workouts daily with scrimmage in the afternoon. North Carolina works at Chapel Hill today but will do all remaining practice on Dallas soil. The Tar Heels take a plane tomorrow for Dallas, arriving in mid-afternoon. Rice won't come to Dallas until Sunday.

STANDARDS NOT YET UP TO PAR

U. S. Families Of Low Income Group Show Diet Improvement

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 27 (AP) — Low income Americans are improving their diets, but they still eat less good food than their fellow citizens.

This report was made to the American Association for the Advancement of Science today by Dr. Hazel K. Stiebeling.

More than 2,000 scientific reports — the largest number on research ever made at such a gathering — are to be made during the six-day meeting, now in its second day.

Approximately 10,000 scientists are attending.

Dr. Stiebeling, chief of the Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics of the Agriculture department's research administration, said families with incomes of $7,500 or more a year eat about two-thirds more milk and meat than $2,000-income families.

Diet Quality Up

Those with the higher incomes, she said, eat more than twice as much fruit as those with low incomes.

And the low incomers eat ten times less frozen fruits and vegetables than the $7,500 class.

Nevertheless, she said, the low income Americans have been making significant gains in diet quality. To do this they are spending two-and-a-half times more now on what they eat than at the beginning of the war.

Last year these same low income people added more meat, poultry, fish and eggs, by about 30 per cent. They added 20 per cent more milk and its products except butter. They also ate more fresh vegetables and fruits.

Not Enough Calcium

Dr. Stiebeling said tables of modest income Americans have been improving for a long time.

Americans still don't eat enough calcium, but city people are doing a lot better than a few years ago. Then they ate only a third as much as they needed; now they get two thirds.

In acids from citrus fruits and tomatoes the city people have jumped from only a fifth as much as they needed, 12 years ago, to four-fifths now.

In B vitamins from foods, the city folks have made their best gains, eating nearly 90 per cent of all they need.

In calories, she said, the United States is producing more than people need.

A revolution is going on in food agriculture, said Dr. E. C. Stakman, University of Minnesota, president of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

This revolution, he said, produces better crops and better food plants and animals at less labor and expense. Today a farmer works less than half as long as 50 years ago to produce 100 bushels of wheat.

Rust diseases that once destroyed U. S. wheat at the rate of 300,000,000 bushels a year now do little serious harm. Farm machinery in the last war freed enough land previously used for feeding farm work animals, to feed sixteen million cattle.

Installment Buying Climbs To New Peaks

Merchants Report New Record On 1949 Christmas Purchases

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—This is the day to clear the Christmas presents out of the living room and start worrying about the bills. Both presents and bills are apparently at a record high this year.

Merchants report they sold more presents than ever before. Even with the lower prices most customers favored, the total dollar sales appear, in preliminary reports, to be higher than last year.

But the Federal Reserve board reports that more people put more things on the cuff this year than ever before. Even before the Christmas buying rush, installment credit was at record peaks. And the large sales which stores report for home appliances, television sets, refrigerators, washers, radios, this month forecast another sharp rise in the total of buying on time, when the final are gathered and analyzed.

Two things contributed to the pre-Christmas rush of installment buying: First, the generally higher degree of confidence in the business future; and, second, the $2.8 billion that veterans expect to be getting in the next couple of months from insurance refunds.

Americans owe more than $17 billion on goods they are using on credit. More than $10 they are buying on time, with cars accounting for $3 billion of it.

The present consumer credit if $17 billion, compares with $7½ billion at the time of the 1929 financial crash.

Those dealing in consumer credit—which includes charge accounts in the stores, service credit, and single payment loans at loan companies, as well as installment credit—say the total is not dangerous, because of the similar growth since 1929 in national income, personal savings, and wages and salaries. The population has grown, too, and the Census bureau now estimates it at more than 150 million. Everything is bigger and better—including your debts.

City Garbage

uation this week.

Facilities Above Average

Each of the packer-trucks and trailer-trucks used by the department will make four loads a day to the dumpgrounds, carrying 6,000 pounds per load, Mr. Branch said.

That means 264,000 pounds a day of refuse will go to the dumpgrounds this week.

Among the collections will be scores of Christmas trees, as a survey of alleys showed this morning. Many persons, however, will leave their trees up for a few days and the rush of Christmas-tree collections is not expected to start until about New Year's.

Despite the fact that Lubbock is one of the few Texas cities of its size that make no charge for garbage collection, the city's collection facilities are far above average, a survey reveals.

Abilene's trucks, for example, are taking three loads a day to the dumpgrounds, as compared with Lubbock's four per truck. A charge is made for collections.

Business Rush Factor

Amarillo and Albuquerque both of which make garbage collection charges, employ 20 to 21 trucks, respectively, to do so.

Some city officials attribute the huge strain in which the garbage department is being placed to the general prosperity and excellent business here.

"In the pre-Christmas rush of business, Lubbock stores were uncrating tremendous quantities of packed items," Branch explained, "so our Christmas rush started about the time the retail business rush did."

In some downtown sections, collection trucks have been able to cover only a block or a block and a half before emptying a full load at the dump grounds.

Dump Trip Short

A total of 36 men are working at collecting, with two more men sweeping and cleaning downtown streets and alleys and two at the dump grounds taking care of the sanitary fill process by which garbake is levelled into ditches or the canyon and bulldozed into more sanitary and sightly form.

"We're fortunate that our trip to the dumpgrounds is a short one,' Branch commented.

The department will hardly recover from the post-Christmas pressure until the spring rush starts. Then, when Lubbock householders prune trees and begin to mow grass, the refuse will once more constitute a major and continuing problem.

Texas Water

rive in water-shy New York.

First crack at the 3,000 gallons of water will go to former Texans. But after that, the invitation was out to everyone.

Emblazoned in two-feet high red letters was the hospitable invitation, "Have A Drink On Texas."

Sponsors of the trip, faced with the certainty of below-freezing temperature en route, used a plastic-lined, insulated tank that would maintain a constant temperature in the water from Texas to New York.

The trip will cross 12 states, including Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, South and North Carolina, Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York.

The huge white truck, furnished by the York Transport Co. of Houston, was expected to reach its arid destination on New Year's eve.

Donors of the precious water cargo are editors of the Highland Lake News, a periodical which devotes its columns to reports on hunting and fishing and Texas propaganda.

Wick Fowler, editor-in-chief, said the Highland Lake News had been "touched" by news and radio reports of the water shortage in the nation's largest city.

Aboard the truck will be 5,000 paper cups.

Fowler said that Texans living in New York would get first priority. If any water is left after the cracked lips of Texans have been moistened, it will be doled out to other New Yorkers on a first-come, first-served basis.

After the paper cups are used up, Fowler said, "we'll expect those thirsty New Yorkers to use their hats like we do in Texas, or else drink from spigots on the truck."

Naturally, the first cup will go to a gorgeous Texan whose name was Sloan Simpson until last week when the mayor of New York officially changed it to "Mrs. William O'Dwyer."

If Mrs. O'Dwyer is still honeymooning, the first cup will be offered to another illustrious Texans—Gen. Dwight O. Eisenhower.

SPEECH NOT FREE

ST. LOUIS. (U.P.)—It took Herman McMorris, 19-year-old Negro accused of cursing a police officer, a full minute to stammer out his name and address in court. Judge John Waechter dismissed the case without further hearing. "It would take a month of Sundays," explained the court, "for this boy to call the officers everything they say he did."

Floods in southern Mexico have caused heavy loss to coffee cultivators.

Daily MARKETS

Stock Market

LEADERS DECLINE

NEW YORK, Dec. 27 (AP) — The stock market started to settle into lower price ground late today.

The decline was not pronounced but a good many leaders were shoved into the minus column and final prices were the lows for the session.

The volume of trading increased as quotations teetered downward. Turnover for the day reached a rate of around 1,500,000 shares for the full session.

A good deal of talk in the financial district revolved around the chances of the usual year end rally developing during the week.

Higher prices were paid most of the day for Southern Pacific, United Aircraft, Philco, United Gas Corp., Kennecott Copper, Homestake Mining, American Can, Gulf Oil, Transcontinental & Western Air, and Johns-Manville.

Among the balky spots were Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Studebaker, Radio Corp., Pepsi-Cola, American Telephone, Dow Chemical, Philip Morris, International Paper, Union Pacific, Standard Oil (NJ), and U. S. Gypsum.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 27 (AP)—Quiet trading took place in cotton futures today as the market turned irregular. Nearby March and May contracts advanced a few points on trade price fixing which in part was against export sales or for mill account. Commission houses sold deferred contracts, presumably evening-up for over the year-end.

The ECA announced a grant of $1,400,000 to Greece to buy United States cotton. This would involve about 8,750 bales.

Futures closed unchanged to 20 cents higher than the previous close.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Dec. 27 (AP) — Gains worked lower in light trading at today's board of trade session. Many pit traders took to the sidelines early in the day, and at times trading was at a complete standstill.

Corn held around last Friday's close during the early part of the session, but reacted to the weakness of wheat. March wheat was influenced by reports of rain in the southwest.

At the finish wheat was 1⅜ to 1⅝ lower than Friday's close, March $2.16⅜-17. Corn was ⅝ to 1¼ lower, March $1.31-31¼. Oats were 1⅛ to 1¼ lower, March 72¼. Rye was 1¼ to 2⅛ lower, May $1.41½. Soybeans were 1 to 2¼ cents lower, March $2.29¼-28¾. And lard was 5 to 15 cents a hundredweight lower, January $10.37.

Snow Adds To Japs' Misery

TOKYO, Dec. 27. (AP)—Heavy snow today spread a new blanket of misery over central Japan, where eight persons were killed and hundreds left homeless by 20-odd earth temblors between Sunday night and this morning.

National rural police said eight were killed and one person was missing. Many were injured but only one seriously. Eighty-six homes and buildings collapsed and 283 others were badly damaged.

The earth's convulsions were felt in nine perfectures of Honshu, Japan's big general island. Imaichi, a city of 17,000 about 85 miles north of Tokyo, suffered most.

Measures Are Taken

Seven of the dead lived in Imaichi. Most of the homeless were in that area. The police said emergency measures were being taken to comfort them and shelter them from the snow and cold.

Approximately 100 Americans were in the stricken area, where the U. S. army has several rest hotels. All escaped injury.

In southern Japan, Mount Aso on Kyushu island quieted down after blowing its volcanic top yesterday. The peak stopped belching huge stones and dense black and brown smoke. Only a thin column of white spiraled skyward.

News Briefs

A Reese Air Force base soldier, Wilbur E. Denny, 18, was hurt slightly about 7:50 p.m. Monday when his motorcycle was in collision with a car driven by Ralph A. Fletcher, 42, of 2806 North Second on East Broadway east of the Underpass. Denny was treated at West Texas hospital for bruises and contusions of the left side. The accident occurred as Fletcher attempted a "U" turn, police said.

Hollie C. White, jr., of 2220 Twenty-fourth street, received a commission as second lieutenant upon graduation from the United State Air Force officer candidate school at Lackland AFB in San Antonio Dec. 16, it has been announced.

A contribution of $1 from Jack B. Cox increased the total of the 1949 Goodfellow's Christmas fund for the needy children of Lubbock to $3,991.02 today.

Christmas holidays in Lubbock county rural schools will continue through this week. Classes will be resumed Monday, said Roy Boyd, county superintendent. All schools were dismissed for the holidays Dec. 21 except Frenship, where holidays opened at close of classes Dec. 22 and Idalou, where holidays opened at close of classes Dec. 23.

J. Lynn Swarts of Clovis, N. M., brother-in-law of Swain Rodgers of 3106 Twenty-seventh, was injured seriously in a three-car collision in front of his home Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Swain Rodgers and son were in Clovis to spend Christmas and are remaining there while Swart's condition is serious. Swartz suffered a fractured leg, four fractured ribs and a spinal injury, extent of which had not been determined at noon today.

County court judgments filed early this afternoon: Jimmie D. Rawlston, 28, of Lubbock route 3, $75 and costs, drunk driving; Euselio Munchaca, 19, theft of four hub caps, $15 fine, costs and one day in county jail.

al's palace.

Thus was culminated the agreement, signalling a major achievement for the United Nations whose conciliation commission paved the way for the Dutch Indonesian agreement.

Rich Islands In Union

The agreement had been ratified earlier by the Netherlands government and all 16 Indonesian states—including the larger Indonesian republic and 15 smaller federated states.

It unites under Dutch commonwealth status islands covering 743,885 square miles—about three times the size of Texas—including Java, the richest and most populous; Dutch Borneo, largest in area and rich in oil; Bali, home of beautiful ceremonial dances and fine handicrafts; Sumatra and numerous smaller, less populated islands. The area produces a vast wealth of minerals, spices, tea, coffee, rubber, quinine, tobacco, rice, cocoa, coconut products and citronella oil for chasing away mosquitoes.

BORERS BORE FARMERS

ST. PAUL, Minn. (U.P.)—State entomologists estimate that the European corn borer caused $40,000,000 damage to Minnesota's corn crop in 1949. To combat the borer, agricultural specialists are trying to develop a hybrid resistant to the pest.

Texas Western Team Drills For Sun Bowl

EL PASO, Dec. 27 (AP) — Texas Western settled down to a two-a-day practice grind today with only a week remaining until its football date in the Sun Bowl with Georgetown university of Washington, D. C.

The El Paso team, representing the Border conference, plays Georgetown Jan. 2.

A city wide welcome is planned for the arrival by plane Wednesday afternoon of the Georgetown Hoyas.

Texas Western came up with bad news yesterday. A practice session disclosed one defensive star will be benched and another handicapped by an injury.

Punter Sonny Holderman will be in at defensive halfback, but a knee injury won't let him do the kicking. And Joe Holley, defensive tackle, won't suit up. He has a back injury.

Backfield Men Will Hold Bowl Spotlight

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 27. (AP) —California and Ohio State each will field large football teams in the Rose Bowl Jan. 2, and rival lines gifted in stout defensive tactics that can hardly bid for crowd appeal.

But each team also packs a player or two able and liable to explode for long scoring plays which very definitely qualify for the fancy of the football fan.

Ohio State employs an offense that stems off the T, the split T and even drifts into a single wing on occasion, and most anyone in the four backfield positions is apt to throw a pass when least expected.

Colorado Favored In Kansas City Tourney

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 27 (U.P.) — Colorado got the nod today as favorite in the annual pre-season Big Sevent basketball tournament in which Michigan will appear as a guest team.

But nobody expected the unbeaten Coloradoans to breeze through the four-day meet which starts with a twin-bill tonight in Kansas Sity's mammoth municipal auditorium.

Tonight's card will open with Oklahoma (3-2) meeting Iowa State, followed by Kansas in a clash with red-hot Kansas State. Colorado will open tomorrow night's play against Nebraska, with Missouri clashing with Michigan in the nightcap to round out first round competition.

Nightly sessions will be held throughout the tournament, climaxed by the championship game Friday. Afternoon sessions were scheduled Thursday and Friday to run off the consolation flight.

Louisiana State To Speed Final Drills

BATON ROUGE, La., Dec. 27. (AP) — Louisiana State university headed down the stretch today in final practice session for the Oklahoma Sooners in the Sugar Bowl football game.

The Sooner squad was due by plane at Biloxi, Miss., 96 miles east of here at 3:45 p. m., today to finish training.

The L. S. U. Tigers entered the post-Christmas practice period yesterday after a brief layoff. They were in good condition, with End Tommy Brown the only player to miss the workout. He, together with Backs Bubba Field and Billy Baggett, were troubled by leg muscles. All were expected to be ready for Monday's game in New Orleans.

THEY MEAN "NO EXIT"

BOSTON (U.P.)—Pedestrian traffic is heavy through a Northeastern University revolving door clearly marked "not an accredited egress."

Now science has found that even rust can be put to good use, as insulation in motors and generators. Using a new steam oxidation process, engineers have succeeded in giving steel a uniform coat of rust. This thin film insulates the steel and makes it resistant to moisture and burnout.

Extortion Case Is Nearing End

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 27 (U.P.) — Attorneys defending two former models charged with a "sex-extortion" plot against Hollywood educator Ben Klekner neared completion of their case today.

Pudgy Toni Hughes, whose red-haired roommate was Klekmer's girl friend for two years, was the last defense witness to testify last week before the trial was recessed for Christmas.

She and her roommates, Hlen Keller, 26, allegedly milked the middle-aged talent school president of more than $9000 by threatening to reveal his intimacies with the pretty redhead. They also were accused of trying to get $10,000 more to hush up a spicy tape recording of a rendezvous between the two.

Petended To Be In Love

Earlier in the trial, Klekner, 49, testified that the brunette Miss Hughes promised to time-bomb his home if he failed to pay off. He said he pretended to be in love with Miss Keller only to silence her demands.

But Miss Keller and her 29-year-old codefendant denied they ever sought payment of anything but just debts contracted by the silverhaired school chief during the courtship. He - kept borrowing money from her to buy lavish gifts for Miss Keller, her roommate said, but when she asked for her money back Klemmer threatened to have her run out of town.

Klekner said he usually paid Miss Keller $15 after their hotel "dates," but she said he promised to marry her after getting a divorce and sent her impassioned love poetry.

Failure to carry out his promises led her to make the tape recording, she said, so she would have proof of his offers to marry her and something with which to back up requests for repayment.

Veterans' Bills

ply for or reinstate national service life insurance. The time runs out at the end of this year.

Rankin has a bonus bill pending before his committee but isn't showing much of an inclination to push it. It would give World War two veterans $3 for each day of service in this country and $4 for each day of active service overseas.

But any benefits under the GI Bill of Rights, like schooling or on-the-job-training, would be deducted from a veteran's bonus.

Rep. Pace (D-Ga) has put in a broader bill. It would pay $4 or $5 and omit the GI reductions.

High Employment Cited

The VFW is bucking for the Rankin bonus bill and apparently is more enthusiastic about it than the other veterans' organizations. But a VFW spokesman, John Williamson, said he doubts it will be pushed next year.

"I think the feeling is," he said, "that we just aren't ready for it at this time of high employment and production."

The bonus for World War one service men was put through during the depression of the '30's.

Williamson said the Rankin bonus bill might cost around $10,000,000,000 or $15,000,000,000 against $3,000,000,000 for the World War one bonus.

Bus Strike

ment against anyone participating in the six-day walkout.

The board agreed. In turn, Meaney and other officials assured the firm there would be no attempt to reopen the issue of paid vacations during the present contract.

That was the basis for the walkout in the first place. David Ralph Hertz, CTS umpire, ruled last June that operating employes should receive only 88 hours of paid vacations annually, starting in 1950.

Previously, these employes had been receiving 96 hours, they struck in hopes that would be continued.

Law Believed Justified

In ruling against the transit strikers, Judge Artl made it plain he felt an Ohio statute which outlaws strikes by public employes is entirely justified. He said:

"I say that such a strike is one means of destroying government and if you destroy government you have anarchy and chaos. I believe that is why the legislature has spelled out the common law (in the Ferguson act) . . .

"I think it is clear that in our government, the government is the servant of all the people. And a strike against the public, a strike by public employes, has been denominated in decisions . . . as a rebellion against government."

Two tires and wheels were reported taken off a trailer belonging to Louie Mote of Woodrow. P. M. Cade of Slaton reported cotton and two cotton forks stolen.

The following county court judgments were filed by Judge Walter Davies since Christmas Eve:

W. T. Baker, $250 and costs, liquor law violation; Truman Hutson, $5 and costs, check law violation; John H. McMahan, $75 and costs, drunk driving; Eldon Thomas Rawald, 21, $75 and costs, drunk driving; Rito Gonzales, carrying a pistol, $100 and costs; Peter B. Bennett, 21, $15 and costs, check law violation; Miguel Reyes, $75 and costs, drunk driving.

Donald Wells Hall, 25, of 421 Ave. F, charged Saturday with the robbery by assault of a Lubbock woman, was arrested Monday, the sheriff's department announced.

The prisoner, taken into custody in the 700 block Broadway, allegedly took $20 from Mrs. Pauline Wilson who lives in a tourist court here.

Issues Advice For Long Married Life

VALLEY CITY, N. D., Dec. 27. (U.P.)—The best way to keep a wife happy is to stay out of arguments with her, says a 95-year-old man who celebrated his 70th wedding anniversary Christmas day.

D. W. (Dad) Clark disclosed the secret of his matrimonial success at a special banquet honoring him and his wife, also 95, last night. Their friends and neighbors, who staged the banquet, presented the Clarks with $70, a dollar for each year of their marriage.

"I don't attempt to disagree with my wife and that way we get along all right," Clark said. "Our fights have been so few and far between that we've forgotten all about them."

Tax Evaders

a greater tax return to the treasury."

Rep. Forand, in discussing taxes with newsmen, blamed the Republican-controlled 80th Congress for a large part of the lost revenue evaded by individuals.

Political Effects Problem

That Congress, he said, cut down the staff of special agents the treasury employed to catch the tax-evaders—"although these agents were putting into the treasury $20 for each $1 spent in collecting the money owed the government."

Since 1950 is an election year, Congress may go slow in putting up the money to hire squads of new agents for a crackdown on the evaders.

Such a crackdown might mean government agents looking into the books of many additional doctors, lawyers, small businessmen, farmers and other self-employed persons who are not subject to the tax-withholding of a part of their current income as are wage and salary workers.

Would a big crackdown produce a big yell about government "snooping?" What would the political effect be?

But, no the other hand, these are all those people who pay all their taxes through the wage and salary deductions: how do they feel about some other people being able to avoid taxes on substantial parts of their incomes—because the government now is not staffed to check their income tax reports?

These are some of the questions Congress must face.

Einstein Theory

released when the atom is split. In the case of the early formula, the letter E represented energy in the equation. The letter M represented Mass, C the velocity of light which is 186,000 miles a second, and the numeral 2 a symbol meaning to square the figure.

The newest Einstein theory, offering a "unified formula" for gravitation and electromagnetism, contains 29 symbols which must be written in long hand.

Scientists attending the AAAS meeting, which runs through this week, had no comment on the new Einstein theory for two reasons. 1. It has not yet been published in full, and 2. They will need to study it thoroughly before they can understand it.

Unexplored Regions

Off the record comments indicated that if Einstein has a correst formula then science in time will unlock many hidden secrets of the forces of nature. Scientists already know that the atom is composed of particles known as neutrons, protons and electrons, but the two fundamental forces—graviation and electromagnetism—are still in unexplored regions. Once Einstein's new theory is understood and can be put to work, the scientists believe the mysteries of the universe and of life itself may be solved.

incoming letters and cards and none of the outgoing mail that wa. not letter-size.

One Lubbock man has been scratching his head in puzzlement over the delivery of a Christmas card to his family from another city when the card bore nothing except the name, without either a street address or city listing.

Postmaster Howard figured out the most likely explanation, which was that the card was mailed from another city along with several letters addressed to Lubbock. The card was left, despite its lack of address, with the letters coming to Lubbock. Upon arrival here, a postal employe evidently looked up the street address and placed the card with other mail to the family. Postmaster Howard expressed the belief that the remainder of Christmas packages would be received on incoming mail today.

Two Soldiers Held In Theft

MT. HOLLY, N. J., Dec. 27. — Two soldiers with 30 months service overseas in Trieste were to be discharged today at Fort Dix. Instead they are in jail charged with holdup, robbery and automobile theft.

Pfc. Joseph Pritchett, 27, of Port Arthur, Texas, and Pvt. Norman Smith, 26, of Louisville, Ky., were arrested in Camden, N. J., early yesterday by Delaware river bridge police.

Held Without Bail

They were taken to the Burlington county jail here and held without bail after arraignment before Magistrate Joseph McHugh of nearby Florence township.

Camden Detective Sgt. John Trout gave these details of the arrest:

Pritchett and Smith hired the cab of James Richards, 31, in downtown Trenton and told Richards to drive them to Camden.

As they drove to Camden, one of the soldiers thrust a soft drink bottle against the back of the cab driver's neck and said "this is a stickup."

Man Is Bound

Thinking the bottleneck was a gun, Richards stopped the taxi. He was bound with a tow rope found in the cab and gagged with a handkerchief.

Trout said the soldiers then took $17.25 from Richards, threw him in a field, and drove off to Camden in the cab.

Richards got loose and walked to a nearby factory to report the theft to police.

Prison Break

where Isom and CcCullough were found.

Prison Manager O. B. Ellis put almost 100 guards into the search. They took with them dogs from Eastman, Wynne, Harlem and Central prison farms.

One Reported Armed

Three men believed to be convicts were seen near Groveton late yesterday afternoon. Sheriff Harris Johnson of Trinity county said the men attempted to hold up the unidentified driver of a car in that area.

One of the men, Sheriff Johnson said, was reported to have been armed. The man hunters theorized that the armed man was Thomas W. Tucker, 38, serving 64 years for murder from Brazoria and Tarrant counties.

Ellis identified the other convicts as Weldon green, serving life as a habitual criminal; Walter Throp, serving 25 years from Dallas county for robbery, and C. M. Mershon, 38, lifer from Limestone county as a habitual criminal.

The seven convicts only recently had been released from the isolation barracks, where they had been confined for breach of prison discipline.

No Shots Fired

It was one of the biggest breaks from the main state prison in recent years.

The seven walked away without a shot being fired at them while the picket in the sentry box on top of the wall telephoned the prison office that seven suspicious men were leaving the vicinity of the outside prison wall.

Ellis said the men must have spent more than a week digging their tunnel, punching their way through 21 feet of hard clay and washing it out through the storm sewer.

The investigation now under way, he said, may involve trusties, since the escapees must have been given aid in preparing for their break.

They did not have access to the discharge kaaki clothes in which they left the prison, Ellis said. The manner in which they escaped showed that the break had been well planned and carefully executed.

Fire Carefully Tended

While in the recreation yard near the east wall of the prison, they had carefully tended an open fire, near a manhole on the storm sewer system.

Prisoners tending the fire masked the view from the nearby picket tower while others removed the cover, entered the sewer and dug their tunnel. Dirt from the tunnel was scattered into the storm sewer.

With the tunnel completed, they donned their stolen discharge clothes, crawled through the tunnel and strolled off.

The picket on duty said he saw the men walking away and wondered at such a large group receiving releases at the same time.

Producer, Author To Cooperate In Making Film Story Of Novel

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 27—Writers who have complained about how their novels were treated by the movies will be heartened by news of Robert Rossen's new project.

The producer-director is planning to film "The Brave Bulls" and is consulting with Author Tom Lea on all details. The two men have returned from Mexico, where Lea helped Rossen select bull fighters for roles in the picture. They also visited people and places that inspired Lea to write the book.

Lea, who is also an artist, is sketching characters and scenes of the book and these will cue the production design of the picture.

Character Actress Sought

A character actress is being sought for a prize role in "I Love Louisa." She'll play Ronald Reagan's mother but she will be the romantic interest. Charles Coburn and Edmund Gwenn will fight for her hand. Maybe this is the industry's answer to oldsters' demands for something in films besides teen-age romance.

Capsule review: "12 O'Clock High" (TCF) shows how Gregory Peck whips a bombing group into shape by becoming a bad-tempered martinet. It is one of the best treatments of World War II, but not without its defects. These include its length and some of the old war picture cliches. But the acting (especially Peck) and direction approach greatness.

Cattleman Is Death Susped

SAN JOSE, Calif., Dec. 27. (AP)—Thomas P. Talle, 37, wealthy retired New Mexico cattleman held in the slaying of his wife, remained untalkative in his jail cell today while officers considered what action to take.

Talle was booked on suspicion of murdering pretty Margaret Lee Edwards Talle, 29, former Denver hotel cashier who he married four years ago. Her bullet-pierced body was found Saturday at the couple's new $75,000 home in exclusive Montecito heights. Talle was surrendered by his attorney several hours afterward.

Letter To Be Opened

The opening of a letter Mrs. Talle once gave her attorney was scheduled today. She gave attorney Elmer D. Jensen the letter 10 months ago, with instructions to open it only "in case of my death."

The attorney said he did not know whether the letter would yield a clue to the slaying.

A friend of the Talles, Wiley Van Hecke, said the two "fought like cats and dogs." Mrs. Talle once sued for divorce but had dropped the action, Sheriff Howard Hornbuckle told newsmen.

Christmas For HST Is Ending

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., Dec. 27. (AP)—The fun of walking and talking with old friends is about over for President Truman.

After three days of doing just what he wanted to during a brief Christmas holiday vacation in his home state, Mr. Truman planned to get in some work today in his Muehlebach hotel penthouse apartment in Kansas City.

Charles G. Ross, presidential press secretary, told reporters that while the President intended to do considerable work, nothing urgent was expected to come before him until he returns to Washington tomorrow.

Schedule Not Set

The President still must put the final touches on three major messages to Congress—State of the Union, economic report and the budget.

Presumably, however, this will be done in Washington after last-minute talks with top government leaders and congressional leaders.

No schedule has been finally decided upon for the delivery of the three messages. Mr. Truman, however, has indicated that he expects them to be given in this order: State of the Union, economic and budget.

The State of Union message may be delivered Jan. 4, the day after the next Congress convenes.

Statue Presented

Yesterday Mr. Truman presented a statue of Andrew Jackson to his home county. Miss Margaret Truman, the President's daughter, unveiled the statue with about 1,500 Jackson county residents looking on.

After the ceremonies in subfreezing temperatures on the Jackson county courthouse lawn, the President went inside the building for the unveiling of a large picture of himself.

Mr. Truman spoke briefly at both events, but said nothing of a controversial nature.

Following a custom he started in 1913, Mr. Truman dropped in on the Masonic lodge at nearby Grandview, Mo., last night to install its new officers. Except for the time he was away in World War I, he has done this every year.

Later in the evening, he stopped by to visit with his sister, Miss Mary Jane Truman. He also spent a short time at the Independence home of the Misses Eleanor and Grace Minor, who were giving a cocktail party. He is an old friend of the Minor family.

PARTY FACES PROTEST

LUCKNOW, India (AP) — The first organized protest against Congress Party government was staged here recently by more than 15,000 peasants demanding land and a socialized economy. The peasants marched in a two-mile-long procession organized by the Socialist Party. They demanded a more liberal deal for peasants under the United Province's bill for abolishing the zamindari system, under which most of the land is owned by a few landlords.

Congress Will Have Plenty To Think About This Session

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27. (AP)—In another week Congress will be back. It will be the start of an important year for most of the congressmen, since most of them face the voters before the year is over.

The seats of all 435 House members, and one-third of the Senate, are at stake in the elections next fall. So what they do this year will be a factor in whether they come back again in 1951.

They know that. And a lot of them will have to take their stand on the "fair deal" program President Truman is going to present to them. It will be the main fighting point in the election campaigns.

Of course, some of them, for one reason or another, have their their home territory so sewed up, that no matter what they do this year they'll still get re-elected.

Certainly a lot of attention will be focused on Senator Taft of Ohio who already is campaigning for re-election in 1950 and, if he wins, will be a contender in the Republican presidential nomination in 1952.

Larger Majority Goal

But the Democrats, who have a majority in both House and Senate now, want to win even a larger majority in the 1950 elections. Led by President Truman, they have their guns pointed at the election date.

If they get that big majority—that is, if Mr. Truman's all-out supporters get it—they'll try to whip through the 1951 Congress a good chunk of his program which fails to pass in 1950.

Not all the Democrats are all-out Trumanites. For instance, the Southern Democrats may support the President on some things but almost solidly they'll close ranks to defeat his civil rights program.

No one around here is rash enough to predict that Mr. Truman's national health insurance program has a chance of getting through the 1950 congressional session. It probably won't come up for a vote.

Yet, it will be a campaign argument for the Trumanites in the fall elections. And, if they win stronger control of Congress in the elections, they'll probably claim that as a mandate to push health insurance.

Strength Not Enough

The same goes for the Taft-Hartley labor act, which Senator Taft helped write. When the Republicans bossed Congress in 1947 they put that through.

But one of the main planks in Mr. Truman's 1948 successful presidential campaign was a promise that if he and his Democrats got control of the government, T-H would be wiped out. Labor backed him.

Then when repeal of T-H came up in the Congress in 1949, it turned out that Mr. Truman and all-out supporters didn't have enough strength after all to push it through.

Since there hasn't been any change in that strength, it's doubtful the Trumanites will try to repeal T-H in 1950. But—they than can appeal to labor again in 1950 and say something like this:

"We want to repeal it but we need more Trumanites elected. So get behind us."

Negro Vote Sought

And labor probably will, since labor wants outright repeal and it's only the Trumanites who promise that much. The most the Republicans are willing to go for is some changes in T-H.

Mr. Truman in 1948 appealed to the negro voters of the north with his campaign program for new civil rights laws, such as poll tax repeal, anti-lynching, and an FEPC (fair employment practices commission.)

The Southern Democrats were able to block that in the 1949 session and probably will be able to do so again in 1950. So on that one too the Trumanites can, in the 1950 elections, talk of what they'd do in 1951 if they got more Trumanites into Congress.

This is only part, although a big part, of some of the big issues in this up-coming Congress. But more than ever in 1950 congressmen will have to have one eye on the bills they vote on and the other on the voters they'll face.

Two Dead, Pair Hurt As Airplane Crashes

SLIDELL, Dec. 27. (AP)—Heavy fog that has smothered this area of Texas for several days was blamed today for the crash of a private plane that killed two West Texas chiropractors and severely injured two other persons.

The crash occurred Sunday night but it was yesterday before it became known to anyone except the surviving occupants of the plane.

Major George Grupe, 47, of San Angelo, a member of the state board of chiropractic examiners, and his former associate, Dr. William McLaughlin of Big Spring, died from injuries received in the crash. James Thomas Livingston, 18, of San Angelo, was pinned in the wreckage and was suffering from shock and exposeure when found.

George J. Grupe, 18, son of Dr. Grupe, was stunned. He was unable to free Livingston and staggered away. He wandered all night and after dawn yesterday he was found by a resident of this area and brought to Slidell.

Major Grupe was group commander of the West Texas Civil air patrol and a pilot. He had flown from San Angelo toward Fort Worth to take his son and Livingston to catch a bus for Des Moines where they were to attend a religious meeting.

Do you believe in making new year's resolutions?

THE ANSWERS

R. G. TUCKER, 2113 Thirty-third, district clerk at Stanolind Oil Co.: "No, I don't believe in making new year's resolutions, because you seldom ever keep them. If a person is serious about keeping them, then I think they are fine to make."

J. E. WOOTTON, 3208 Twenty-eighth, employe of Stanolind Oil Co.: "If you don't tie yourself down too close with them, they are all right. I have been known to make New Year's resolutions, but I can't say that I've kept them."

WOODROE WISDOM, 3510 Twenty - ninth, clerk at Stanolind Oil Co.: "I believe in them if you think that you can keep them."

L. F. BROWN, 2815 Twenty-sixth, employe of Standard Construction Co.: "No, I don't believe in making new year's resolutions. I learned a long time ago that I always forget them and don't keep them."

MRS. JANICE HONEY, 2307 Thirty - first, waitress at Tower Cafe: "No, I don't believe in making new year's resolutions, because you never keep them. I've made them before, but have never been able to keep them."

MISS MACKEY GUY, 1512 Tenth, registered pharmacist at Mark Halseys: "No, I don't. I think that you can't keep the resolutions after you've made them. If a person can keep them, if they're really sincere about it, then it might be a good idea, but most people make them just for the tradition of it and then go out and deliberately break them."

Youth Facing Charge Of Shooting Girl, 6

CHICAGO, Dec. 27 (AP) — A charge of assault with intent to commit murder has been placed against Bruce Meeks, 19, in connection with the shooting of a six-year-old girl during a tavern holdup.

Police said the girl, Penny Gust, was shot in the right arm by Meeks because she cried while he and a companion robbed her father's southside tavern on Christmas eve. They said Meeks admitted shooting the Gust child but contended it was accidental. However, they said all witnesses said Meeks threatened to shoot the child if she didn't stop crying after wandering in on the holdup scene.

Penny was reported in fair condition at a hospital.

Police said Meeks and William (Hotdog) Riley, 30, a former convict, have been identified by Penny's father, John Gust, and several of 15 others in the tavern as the bandits who robbed him of $60.

Meeks and Riley yesterday also were charged with 11 robberies of taverns and groceries. Police said the robberies, committed since Dec. 12, netted the pair $893.

FEDERAL WORKERS DECLINE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27 (AP) — For the first time in seven and a half years the number of federal employes has fallen substantially below 2,000,000, the Civil Service commission said today. The total at the start of December was 1,988,600, lowest since April 1942.

Since 1469 B. C., there has only been 291 years without war in some part of the world.

70 Violent Deaths In Texas

National Toll Soars To 544

(By The Associated Press)

The long holiday period—Friday to last midnight—counted 70 violent deaths in Texas.

It was one of the heaviest tolls on record.

Traffic deaths alone mounted to 34. Twenty-one died violently from miscellaneous causes such as fires and plane crashes and 15 were homicides or suicides.

Latest Reported

Among the last on the list were these:

Antonio Larrea of Brownsville was fatally injured when struck by a bus last night.

Bryan Wilson Messick, 28, was killed yesterday by a stray bullet fired in a gun battle at Victoria.

Maria Beatrice Herrera, 2, was killed Sunday when an automobile accidentally backed over her in front of her parents' home at Victoria.

Major George Grupe, 47, of San Angela, and Dr. William McLaughlin of Big Spring, died in a plane crash near Slidell Sunday night.

BLACK CREPE REPLACES HOLLY IN MANY HOMES

(By The Associated Press)

Black crepe replaced the green holly in the homes of more than 500 persons killed in violent accidents across the nation over the extended Christmas holiday.

Nearly 400 of the deaths resulted from traffic accidents. The traffic toll—387—was under the estimated 435 made by the National Safety Council for the period from 6 p. m. last Friday to midnight Monday.

Far Above 500

But the total soared far above 500 with other violent deaths. Sixty-five persons were killed in fires and 92 others lost their lives in accidents of miscellaneous causes. These included shootings, falls, electrocutions, plane crashes, exposure and asphyxiation.

Tragedy came to many homes in place of Santa Claus. A mother and her six children perished in a fire which swept their small home in San Antonio. Another Texas family of five was wiped out in an automobile-gasoline truck accident.

Texas led the nation with 70 violent deaths.

Simple Little Tragedies

There were many simple little tragedies.

A two-year-old girl in East St. Louis, Ill., choked to death on Christmas candy. In Clearwater, Fla., a 12-year-old boy riding a bicycle collided with an automobile and was killed. The driver

FILING OF CHARGES PENDING

Brunette, Shot By Ex-Wife Of College Professor, Improving

ATHENS, Ga., Dec. 27. (AP)—Miss Mirian Thurmond, shot twice by the divorced wife of a college professor, was reported improving today.

The 28-year-old brunette had been in serious condition for the past two days. Her nurse reported today, however, that "her pulse and respiration are good. That's the main thing."

Miss Thurmond and University of Georgia journalism Dean John E. Drewry were wounded Friday night in the Thurmond home. Mrs Kathleen Drewery, the dean's ex-wife, is in jail. Formal charges have not been filed pending outcome of Miss Thurmond's condition.

Dean Drewery's condition is good and he was up and about in his hospital room yesterday. He is a widely known teacher and author.

Mrs. Drewry told Clarke county officers she shot her ex-husband and Miss Thurmond in a fit of rage. She and Drewry dined together the night of the shooting, Mrs. Drewry said, and had discussed a reconciliation.

The Drewrys were divorced in July after 23 years of marriage.

Best-Dressed Women Named

NEW YORK, Dec. 27. (AP)—The 1949 list of the world's 10 best-dressed women was out today, and it reads a lot like last year's list.

Only two newcomers are on the roster of fine fashion. They are Broadway stage star Mary Martin and Mrs. Kingman Douglas, the former Adele Astaire, of Middleburg, Va.

Heading the list for the second consecutive year is Mrs. William Paley, slender, brunette wife of the head of the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Others On The List

Runnersup, as announced by the New York Dress Institute yesterday are:

2. The Duchess of Windsor, of New York and Paris.

3. Mrs. Harrison Williams, New York.

4. The Duchess of Kent, London.

5. Mrs. Leland Hayward, the former Mrs. Howard Hawks, of Hollywood.

6. Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, jr., Washington and New York.

7. Miss Martin, star of "South Pacific,' of Norwalk, Conn., and New York.

8. Mrs. Byron Foy, New York.

9. Mrs. Louis Arpels, Paris.

10. Mrs. Douglas.

Except for Miss Martin, Mrs. Douglas and Mrs. Foy, all were on the 1948 list. Mrs. Foy was on the 1947 roster and several previous ones.

Many of those named have been among the top 10 for years, including the Duchess of Windsor and Mrs. Leland Hayward. Mrs. Williams has been so listed every year except one since 1933.

Mrs. Paley, in winning top fashion honors, is described as a simple dresser who buys comparatively few clothes.

She is the former Barbara Cushing Mortimer, of Boston, and a sister of Mrs. Vincent Astor and Mrs. John Hay Whitney. She was a fashion editor before her marriage to Paley.

The institute, in selecting the best dressed women, conducts a nationwide poll of 500 newspaper and magazine fashion editors and designers.

Magazine Says They Are Real

NEW YORK, Dec. 27 (AP) — A sensational claim that so-called "flying saucers" are space vehicles from another planet kindled new controversy on the subject today.

The air force promptly discounted the claim. A spokesman said: "Air force studies of 'flying saucers' lend no support to the view that they come from another planet."

Most Important Story

The assertion that the flying discs are real and that they are used by visitors from another planet was made by True magazine in an article it calls the "most important true story we have ever published."

It was written for the January issue by Donald E. Keyhoe, a former information chief for the aeronautics branch of the U. S. Commerce department.

The magazine, saying its conclusions were based on an eight-months investigation, stated:

"For the past 175 years, the planet earth has been under systematic close-range examination by living, intelligent observers from another planet.

"The intensity of this observation, and the frequency of the visits to the earth's atmosphere, by which it is beinng conducted, have increased markedly in the past two years."

They're Ahead Of Us

The flying disc, Keyhoe writes, vary "in no important particular from well-developed American plans for the exploration of space expected to come to fruition within the next 50 years. There is reason to believe, however, that some other race of thinking beings is a matter of two and a quarter centuries ahead of us."

The article says that "project saucer," operated by U. S. army air force investigators and charged with solving the mystery, "are receiving and evaluating" reports of sighted flying discs at the rate of 12 a month.

True learned, Keyhoe says, that a "rocket authority stationed at Wright field has told 'project saucer' personnel flatly that the saucers are interplanetary and that no other conclusion is possible."

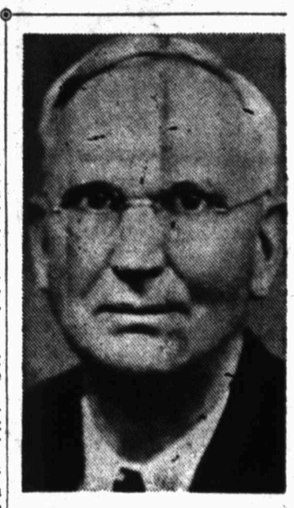

Cases of reliably reported sightings, the writer says, are closely checked by teams of air intelligence officers and technicians.

On Hush-Hush Basis

"Astronomers, rocket experts, guided missile consulants, aeromedical men and other specialists work on a hush-hush basis," Keyhoe said.

The magazine says the interplanetary vehicles have been identified and categorized as three main types — a small, non-pilot carrying disc-shaped aricraft

Ex-President Of TCU Dies

FORT WORTH, Dec. 27 (AP) — Dr. E. M. Waits, who had served Texas Christian university as president and president emeritus for more than 30 years, died last night.

Dr. Waits, 78, had been ill for over four years. He died of a heart ailment.

Funeral services for the noted educator, one of the leaders in building the school to its present high place, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock with burial in Greenwood cemetery here.

Ordained In 1896

He was ordained in 1896 to the ministry in the Disciples of Christ, accepting the pastorate of a church at Fulton, Ky., which he filled until 1901.

May 23, 1898, he married Miss Sarah Wooten of Bowling Green, Ky., and in 1902 they moved to Texas where the young minister had accepted the pastorate of the Christian church at Ladonia.

From Ladonia he moved to El Paso in 1903, to become pastor of the First Christian church, but in 1907 came to Fort Worth as pastor of the Tabernacle Christian church.

In 1915 Mrs. Waits died. A few months later Dr. Waits resigned to accept a church in San Diego, Calif., and was arranging to go there when he was elected president of T. C. U.

Assuming the presidency in September, 1916, Dr. Waits actively engaged in many campaigns for the improvement of the financial and educational status of the uni-

HAVE you noticed all the people going around these last two days with bandaids, or adhesive wrapped around the ends of their fingers?

They are, as you must know, the victims of one of the most serious national epidemics on record. They are the poor souls who got Christmas gifts from Scotch tape fiends.

We've seen the figures on Christmas trade as released by the National Association of Department Store owners and also by the Federal Reserve board.

But what we'd like to know is how many million yards of Scotch tape were used on Christmas packages; how many broken fingernails and swear words resulted from the practice—and, also, whether the manufacturers of Scotch tape are going to pay their stockholders 100, or 200, per cent dividends!

It's getting so nobody can give nobody nuthin without slapping on a couple of yards of Scotch tape (1) to hold the outer covering together; (2) to hold the inner covering together; and (3) to make getting the box open a problem which would frustrate a safecracker.

As a result, we have become a nation of seared souls and hangnails; a collection of people who cringe everytime somebody mentions sending them any kind of a gift smaller than a locomotive!

THE cellophane craze was—and is—bad enough and maybe the practice people get prying into cigaret packages and other cellophane protected bundles stand them in good stead when they have to attack a box prepared by a Scotch tape addict. But cellophane in its palmiest day was a cinch compared to Scotch tape—and always will be.

Our old friend the Rev. Dr. Herndon Ignatius Robinson preached a darn good sermon the Sunday before Christmas about poorly wrapped packages and we were quite impressed by it. But a week later, when prying into our collection of hankerchiefs, neckties and sox we couldn't help wondering if, like us, Doctor Robinson was wishing that at least some of his packages were poorly wrapped—which, in this day and time, means with little or no Scotch tape!

WE present-day Americans have become so used to talking about "billions" of this and "billions" of that—mostly taxes and government expenditures — that we have gotten it into our heads that a "billion" is nothing at all.

But the truth is, not many of us have any idea at all of the size of a billion of anything, from peas to nuts and bolts.

To give yourself an idea of how much a billion is, consider this:

The average person can count to 170 in one minute's time, but to make the arithmetic easier, let's put the figure at 200. That means a count of 12,000 per hour, 288,000 per day, and 105,120,000 for each year of 365 days.

Thus, if Adam and Eve had begun counting on the day they appeared in the Garden of Eden; if they had lived all through the intervening years, and kept counting day and night, they would not have reached a billion.

It would take 9,512 years, 34 days, five hours and 20 minutes for the billionth count to be reached, under the rate of 200 per minute!

Keep this in mind the next time Mr. Truman orates about raising taxes by another billion or two; or the next time somebody shrugs off the $240,000,000,000 plus public debt by saying, "oh, well, we just owe it ourselves!"

About the best way we know to describe what a billion dollars means is to put it this way:

If a guy had a billion silver dollars in one big pile and wanted to transfer them to a hole in the ground by pitching the dollars into it one by one; if he could toss one dollar per second into the hole, it would require about 30,000 years to complete the job!

So many billions of dollars have been tossed around since March 4, 1932, that it would take an army nearly all of eternity to pitch 'em into a hole—if there could be a hole that big!

SMARTEST farmer we've heard of in a long time is the one who planted onions and potatoes in adjoining rows. The idea was that the onions would make the potatoes' eyes water and thus both crops would be plentifully irrigated!

BY DREW PEARSON: SENATORIAL PAYROLLS AGAIN ARE PUBLIC KNOWLEDGE

AEC Pondering How To Silence Chatty Officials

WASHINGTON, — To make it tougher for senators to conceal kickbacks, Secretary of the Senate Les Biffle has ordered to be published the names and salaries of everyone on senators' payrolls.

PEARSON

This information had always been available to the public until the Republicans took charge of Congress in 1946. Then GOP Secretary of the Senate Carl Loeffler issued a blackout order, suppressing information about senators' employees. This was about the same time this column J. Parnell Thomas for accepting kickbacks from his employees.

Loeffler admitted to this column that he had acted upon the orders of a mysterious senator whom he refused to identify. Later, when this column exposed what Loeffler was up to, Sen. Burnet Maybank, South Carolina Democrat, introduced a bill to force Loeffler to publish the names and salaries of all Senate employees. But Maybank's bill was suppressed by Republicans, didn't even get a hearing.

Now, conscientious Les Biffle has countermanded Lieffler's order and directed that all names and salaries must be published.

Atomic Secrets

The security - conscious Atomic Energy commission is quietly wrestling with one of the most difficult secrecy problems in its brief and turbulent history. It's the problem of what action, if any, should be taken against high officials who casually pass out, for all the world to read, our most jealousy guarded atomic secrets.

Two recent examples of irresponsible talking on the part of "responsible officials" have brought the whole problem to a head.

First, Sen. Edwin Johnson, Dem., Colo., member of the congressional atomic energy committee, blurted out details on the power of our more powerful. He added that our scientists hope to devise means of prematurely exploding bombs headed our way.

Second, Curtis Mitchell, former deputy director of information at the Pentagon, recently revealed that the U. S. stockpiles of atom bombs are located in caves in the southwest.

The later was a secret known to this columnist and others, but nexer before revealed until Mitchell burst into print.

Much as the AEC worries about the safekeeping of its secrets, its experts have reluctantly concluded that nothing can be done to button the lips of high officials.

The basis for this decision, in the case of Senator Johnson, is two fold: 1, legal action against a high-ranking senator on the congressional atomic committee might result in severe Senate retaliation in the form of reduced confirmations and time-consuming investigations; 2, to take action against Johnson would, in effect, tell the world that Johnson's story was true.

The AEC fully realizes that failure to take action against such violations may lead to the revealation of further details of our most secret program. Caught in this unhappy predicament, the AEC has decided to keep its fingers crossed and do nothing.

IT hasn't been getting the headlines of the unification row, but the navy has been quietly speeding up preparations for submarine warfare.

Russia is now reported to be building 1,000 submarines—all of them the latest Nazi-design Schnorkel U-boat, capable of staying under the water for several days without coming up to breathe. This is the type which began to wreck American shipping again during the last few months of World war II.

The Navy's present problem is to outguess the Russians, since a sub's characteristics must be known before a sub killer can be designed to combat it. However, the undersea admirals believe they can keep abreast of Russian submarine design, and are even working on a submarine to intercept other submarines under the sea.

At the start of the last war, the navy was caught completely unprepared for submarine warfare and the losses were staggering. This time, elaborate preparations are being made, even in peacetime, for submarine attacks. Some of the navy's plans remain secret; but it is permissible to outline the following plan for sub defense:

The seacoast will be sown with mines, harbor entrances screened with submarine nets, and harbor bottoms driven with spikes. Patrol planes and blimps will prowl for subs along the coast.

Spearheading the air patrol will be the navy's twin-engine P2V, which can fire machine guns, rockets, depth charges and bombs all at once. For long-range scouting trips, the navy will start production soon on a four-engine, armed-to-the-teeth seaplane — the PB2Y. Blimps, which can now be refueled at sea from tankers, will also play an important part in anti-submarine warfare.

Subs vs. Subs

Most potent weapon against the submarine may be the submarine itself. The navy is building small intercepter subs to lurk along the submarine lanes and engage the enemy in undersea battle. An advantage is that these subs make no noise as they lie in wait.

The navy also plans to carry the attack against submarines straight to their base, is training special raider amphibious units to demolish submarine bases. Rocketfiring submarines that can surface, fire a broadside of guided missiles and quickly submerg, will also be used. However, the admirals are worried that the same strategy may be turned against us and used by an enemy to attack American coastal cities.

Because Russia is concentrating on a submarine fleet which already numbers 300, Chief of Naval Operations Forrest Sherman has assigned The Navy's No. 1 submarine expert, Vice Adm. Francis S. Low, to make a special survey of our underseas defenses. This project has been given top priority.

Careful, Kid, Thin Ice!

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

WHY is it that one woman can move to a new town and in a short time become a real part of the community, while another housewife can move to a new place and years later still feel that she doesn't belong and that home is somewhere else?

Here are some of the more important reasons for the difference.

One woman makes up her mind immediately that wherever she lives is home. The other refuses to stop thinking of home as being the place she has left.

MILLETT

One woman makes an effort to become a part of the community by immediately becoming an active church member, letting it be known that she is willing to work in P.-T.A. and other community projects. The other hangs back waiting to be urged to take part in whatever is going on.

One woman is interested enough in other people to remember their names, their interests, etc. So the step from stranger to acquaintance to friend is often accomplished in a hurry for her. The other can meet the same person several times without recognition. She blames it on a poor memory for names, but what it actually is, of course, is a lack of interest in other people.

GOOD INTENTIONS DON'T JELL

ONE woman is prompt about returning any hospitality that is offered to her. The other has good intentions—but it takes a long time to get around to following up an invitation with one of her own.

One woman is vitally interested in her new town and everything that affects it. The other is interested mainly in how it is inferior to the place she left.

One woman has her life so arranged that she can offer hospitality on the spur of the moment—making the most of chance opportunities for getting better acquainted with people she meets. The other has to know days in advance if she is to have guests.

Those are some of the reasons why one woman can fit herself into a new environment in short order—and another woman remains an outsider for a long, long time.

"Try And Stop Me"

WHEN A gay party ended, an important Brazilian diplomat stayed the night with Van and Emmy Cartmell. Before retiring at 4 a. m., the diplomat suggested that if it wasn't too much trouble, he would like a couple of cups of hot coffee. He downed three cups—without sugar or cream—with evident satisfaction.

"How many cups of coffee do you generally take in the course of a day?" asked Emmy Cartmell. "Twenty-five to thirty," said the diplomat. "Doesn't all that coffee keep you awake?" Cartmell asked. The diplomat thought for a moment. "Not always," he answered slowly, "but it helps."

Politicians Provided Plenty Of Laughs For Nation In '49

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—'Twas the day after Christmas and all through the capital nothing was stirring, not even a politician.

That being the case the pundits of events portentous labored long in their files to come up with pieces for the paper about what an amazing year was 1949. There were year-end reviews on politics, high finance, the state of the nation, and what-are-we-going-to-do-about Russia. All very interesting, too.

I don't keep a file cabinet, myself, on purpose. When I send a yarn clattering out on the telegraph wires each night, I try to forget it. If I can't and it still sticks in my head at this time of the year (when there's nothing else to write about) then I figure it qualifies as one of the laughs of 1949. With your permission, the laughs (or at least the smiles):

Rep. Clare Hoffman, R., Mich., demanded that all the gold bars in Fort Knox be sawed in half; he thought maybe they were just gold bricks. There was a report that the Bureau of Engraving was selling dollar bills in big, square sheets for use as Christmas wrapping de luxe, but the boss man hastened to deny it. He makes money for spending purposes only and would be delighted if he got no further queries.

Racket Is Feared

A special commission in charge of remodeling the White House decided exactly how to handle the job, except for one thing: what to do with the ancient brickbats and historic timbers from the foundations. The boys figure no matter what they do, they'll start some kind of racket involving genuine souvenirs from the White House. The Public Utilities commission decided that radio music was good for local trolley riders.

The television experts came up with so many gimmicks, mostly complicated, on how to turn their art into technicolor that the Federal Communications Commission refused to approve any of 'em for a while. The Secretary of Agriculture produced a scheme to lower the price of food in the grocery and raise it on the farm. Nobody complained about this except the taxpayers, who were supposed to make up the difference.

SEN. CABOT LODGE, R., Mass., took a long look at the plans for remodeling the Senate Chamber and said it was going to look not so much like a cocktail lounge as the First National Bank. Now it's finished, golden walls included, and the Capitol architect is fearful of what the gentleman is going to say when he sees the finished article. The Senatorial snuff boxes, I am happy to report, still are available at either side of the Vice-President's desk.

It wasn't funny, but I couldn't suppress a wry smile over Rep. J. Parnell Thomas of N. J., the big un-American activities man, going to jail for un-American activities, namely, cheating his Uncle Sam of $8,000 cash.

Rep. Robert F. (Where are we going to get the money) Rich, R., Pa., suggested that everybody in the government, from the White House down, have his head examined. The Treasury asked Congress please to quit making it print special postage stamps commemorating such things as chickens.

Solon Loses Pants

The capital cameramen had a peaceful year. They didn't get kicked, hit or beaten once, except, of course, by John L. Lewis. The Navy's topographic photograph of Washington, showing in detail every possible target in the city, wound up a hundred times enlarged as a photo mural on the wall of an F Street cocktaileroo.

The Shah of Iran on a government - sponsored tour said he was surprised to see so few pregnant women in the streets. President Truman on vacation showed up in sports shirts making Bing Crosby's look pale. A junketing Congressman lost his pants in Spain soon after he had denied officially he had lost them, the happy police chief nabbed the thief and returned the trousers.

And I'm getting a good start. If the big brass isn't recovered from its fruit cake by tomorrow I fear I'll have to produce a second installment of cockeyed 1949 in review.

ABLE EDUCATOR NEEDED

Members of the recently created State Board of Education are following at least one course which undoubtedly will be approved by the great majority of Texans.

They diligently appear to be publicizing as widely as possible their announcement that the doors are wide open to applicants for the new position of Commissioner of Education. Forty or 50 applications already have been received, board members said.

This almost certainly will be the most important school job in Texas. The utmost care should be exercised in the effort to find the very best educator available to fill it.

The Board of Education apparently is keenly conscious of the responsibility involved in attempting to make the best possible selection. Its solicitation of applications from all who might aspire to the position is suggestive of a determination to go out and find the best man for the job unless someone meeting the most exacting requirements can be found among those seeking it.

AID TO ENEMIES IS CHARGED

Dominican President Granted Power To Make War On Foes

CIUDAD TRUJUILLO, Dominican Republic, Dec. 27 (U.P.)—Power to set the Dominican Republican at was with any unfriendly country rested today in the hands of President Rafael L. Trujillo.

Acting swiftly on a Dec. 12 request from the president, congress yesterday authorized Truillo to declare war on any country aiding enemies of this country.

The move was directed against Cuba, Guatemala, Venezuela and Costa Rica, which have been accused of permitting anti-Dominican movements to organize on their soil.

Speech Quoted

Trujillo assured a join session of congress, and the Dominican people, that he will never use his new powers for "acts of aggression."

Speaking to the nation by radio, he said:

"No one in the Domenican Republic wants war. No one is ignorant of its disastrous results. To avoid it, we have patiently borne the most unjust outrages, but we cannot be blamed if others . . . force us to the final limit of our tolerance.

"If that happens, we shall have to defend ourselves with all our force, because we can renounce all things but honor."

Cabinet members and foreign diplomats turned out for the special congressional session which granted the powers. Thousands of others jammed into Colon square, outside the congressional building, to listen to Trujillo via loudspeakers.

Invasion Attempted

He promised that this nation never would resort to war in violation of the country's international obligations and said his country always was ready to hand disputes to conciliation, "with the express reservation that no one can condemn us to die of hunger and shame.

Anti-Trujillo forces now in exile twice have tried to invade the nation in recent years.

In September, 1947, the Cuban navy turned back an amphibious expedition soon after it sailed from Cayo Confites, Cuba.

Last June troops loyal to Trujillo defeated an attacking force which landed at Luperon, Dominica.

Both times the regime accused a neighboring nation of aiding the rebels.

of the car, enacting the role of Santa Claus, was driving to Largo, Fla., to distribute Christmas gifts to needy children. A 14-year-old boy in Martinton, Ill., was fatally shot by his teen-age brother when the shotgun their father had given them for Christmas accidentally discharged.

But highway accidents took the heaviest toll. The safety council's records show that the toll over the three day holiday was above the average. The council said that in the first 10 months of 1949 auto accidents killed an average of 83 persons every 24 hours. The average covers deaths occurring long after the accidents in which the victims were injured. There were 396 accidental deaths over the 1948 two-day Christmas holiday, including 277 traffic fatalities.

Dr. Waits' activities were not all confined to T. C. U. He served two years as president of the national board of education of the Disciples of Christ and was a member of the board of directors of the Fort Worth Carnegie library and of the Fort Worth Rotary club.

In 1920 he published a volume of his philosophical writings under the itle, "A College Man's Religion."

During his administration as executive head of T. C. U. the institution more than doubled in enrollment; seven departments were added; three buildings and a stadium erected; full scholastic and academic recognition obtained, and endowment increased by nearly $5,000,000.

Dr. Waits relinquished his position as president of the university in 1941. Dr. M. E. Sadler succeeded him.

equipped with some form of television or impulse transmitter; a metallic, disc-shaped aircraft operating on a helicoper principle, and a dirigible-shaped, wingless aircraft.

"It is the opinion of True," the article states, "that the flying saucers are real and that they come from no enemy on earth. It is also True's opinion that the air forces and project saucer are doing a serious important job to safeguard American security."

Traffic Blamed For Delay Of Performer

NEW YORK, Dec. 27. (U.P.)—A midtown traffic jam of motorists looking at radio city's Christmas decorations was blamed for Arthur Godfrey's tardy appearance on his "Talent Scout" program last night.

The radio and television performer dashed into the Columbia broadcasting studio where the program originates 10 minutes after the show went on the air. He said it took him 40 minutes to drive 13 blocks from his hotel to Radio City.

"I was listening to my car radio," he said. "You know that's a pretty good program. I got to like it."

Burglary Of Store At Plainview Reported

PLAINVIEW, Dec. 27 (Special) Burglary of Cobb's department store here was reported to police Monday by a store clerk who discovered the breakin during a routine check over the "long holiday"

Exact loss was not known, Police Chief Hoyt Curry. However, $95 in cash was believed missing from a cash register and a check by store officials indicated that at least two suitcases, two suits, an overcoat, several pairs of trousers and some shoes and boots had been taken.

Curry said the burglars entered the building through office rooms over the store, crossed to an office directly over a stair landing by moving along outside windows and drilled holes in the ceiling of the store. It was believed the intruders reached the roof of the building by climbing a telephone pole.

Store Manager C. E. Marse said the firm had closed its doors Saturday night and was not scheduled to re-open until Tuesday. The burglary probably occurred late Saturday, Hoyt said.

For a quick dessert cut plain cake in cubese and put about a third of them in a serving dish; dot with jelly; add another layer of the cake and dot with more jelly. Top with the remaining cake cubes and pour chilled custard sauce over the whole thing. Garnish with whipped cream if desired.

PRIVATE IMPORTS TO BE RESTORED

MacArthur Approves Bigger Merchant Marine For Japan

TOKYO, Dec. 27 (AP)—General MacArthur today gave the Japanese government permission to spend 8,600,000,000 yen (nearly $24,000,000) to build up Nippon's merchant marine.

Earlier the allied occupation commander announced private imports will be restored in Japan on New Year's day.

The merchant marine program provides for the construction of 275,000 gross tons in new ships and the conversion of 272,000 gross tons of war-time vessels to ocean going merchant ships.

MacArthur's headquarters said the release of funds for the shipping was part of a general program to rehabilitate Japanese shipping and reduce the cost of imports.

Freight Cost Cited

Occupation sources have long argued that if Japan could import and export under her own steam the United States could reduce its spending in Japan. The cost of goods brought to Japan in American ships has been estimated at 19 percent for freight.

Before the war Japan had a merchant fleet estimated at between 5,000,000 and 6,000,000 gross tons. Her fleet today is estimated at 1,639,000 tons.

In authorizing private imports, MacArthur took the final step in returning Japan's foreign trade to private hands. Exports were put on a private basis on Dec. 1.

The general has authorized transfer to Japanese government control $67,000,000 of foreign exchange in U. S. dollars and pounds sterling.

In addition MacArthur approved the release of $833,000 for loans to small businesses.

USE OF EQUIPMENT DISCUSSED

U. S. Arms For West Europe To Begin Moving About Feb. 1

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27. (AP)—American officials now estimate that United States arms and military equipment will begin moving to western Europe about Feb. 1—about a month behind schedule.

This delayed start means the administration will have only five months to use the $1,000,000,000 Congress appropriated to rearm the Atlantic pact countries.

Unless the money is spent or earmarked by June 30, when the fiscal year ends, it will go back to the United States treasury.

Officials expressed confidence, however, that the fund could be spent or allocated within the time limit. Most of the paper work already has been done, they said, and the way is clear for rapid-fire orders once arms aid agreements are signed with each country.

British Seek Changes

Much of the delay stems from the unexpectedly lengthy discussions with the British government over explicit terms.

Each of the eight Atlantic pact countries that are to get American arms must sign separate agreements with the United States which specify how American equipment is to be used in defense of the North Atlantic area.

Britain last week objected to the wording of the draft agreement suggested by the United States, nearly three weeks previously.

The British suggested some changes and officials said these have been more or less accepted in the informal talks of the past week.

Formal negotiations with the British on the exact wording of the agreement are expected to begin here within the next few days.

Requests To Be Granted

State department officials are hoping to wind up the British talks quickly since the other seven Atlantic pact countries are holding up their signatures until the British are ready to sign.

Government officials told a reporter that the United States has assured the British that they will meet one of their requests—that it be stated clearly in the agreement that economic recovery will have priority over the mutual aid aspects of the military program.

State department officials said they had never meant to imply otherwise and would be glad to satisfy the British on this point.

In addition, the State department has told Britain informally, it was learned, that it will omit any written ban against sending homemade military equipment outside the North Atlantic area.

Another Change Made

In the original American draft, the United States had suggested that each country agree to consult first with the United States before making any important military shipments outside the North Atlantic area.

Britain questioned this on the grounds that it might interfere with sending military equipment, when needed, to such area as Malaya and the Middle East.

The State department now has decided to leave out any reference to this at all. It is taking the position that it can always object through its representative on the North Atlantic council when it believes such shipments are weakening the total defense forces in the North Atlantic area.

Government officials emphasized, however, that the ban against transferring any American military equipment without prior consent from the United States still stands.

Cary Grant And Wife Return To Film Work

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 27. (AP)—The honeymoon of Cary Grant and his Christmas bride, Betsy Drake, is over.

Miss Drake, 26, is due to report at her studio today for a movie role. The 46-year-old Grant is slated to start a movie in a few weeks.

Their one-day honeymoon was as closely guarded a secret as was their runaway marriage Sunday in a desert home near Phoenix, Ariz.

Multi - millionaire Howard Hughes, a master of secrecy, piloted the movieland couple in his own plane to and from the Arizona rites.

Best guess had the couple honeymooning at nearby Laguna beach.

It is the third marriage for the handsome Grant. His first wife was Actress Virginia Cherrill, who later became the Countess of Jersey. Then he married dime store heiress Barbara Hutton who is now the Princess Troubetzkoy.

It is Miss Drake's first wedding. She and Grant met on shipboard two years ago and have been going steady since.

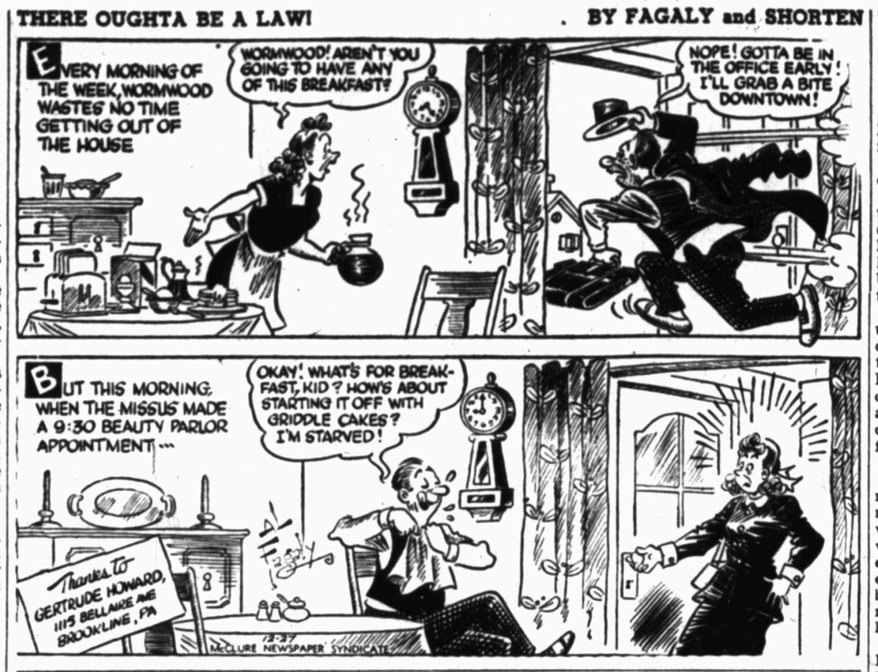

Grant made her his protege in Hollywood and they made one picture together—"Every Girl Should Be Married."

Being Duke's Wife A Full-Time Chore

Duchess Claims That Story Of Job-Hunting Just Rumor

NEW YORK, Dec. 27 (INS)—The Duchess of Windsor said today that she is by no means seeking gainful employment because being the duke's wife is "quite a full time job."

The ex-king of England and his duchess, the former Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson, arrived in New York aboard the Queen Elizabeth, and were immediately besieged by newsmen curious about reports that Wallie was job-hunting.

Duke Writing Memoirs

"I'm afraid it's just a rumor," said the duchess, who was just named again to the list of the world's ten best dressed women. She wore a suit of navy blue and wine red plaid with matching coat, navy blue velvet hat, navy shoes and bag, and sapphire earrings.

As for the duke, he said he is very much at work at present writing his memoirs. The former King Edward VIII said the manuscript is nearing publication shape and "is getting along."

The duchess, in response to queries about several jobs that had been reportedly offered to her, said that they were "nothing very serious."

The duke disclosed that he enjoyed his first Christmas at sea and that he joined "unofficially" in the caroling when a group of seamen serenaded him and the duchess.

The couple plan to stay at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York until March or April and then go to the duke's 4,000 acre ranch near Calgary, Canada.

The duke himself famous for setting styles, wore a black and white tweed suit, grey sweater, white wool shirt with black stripes, matching socks and a red tie with regimental stripes.

King George's older brother got a pat on the back from another passenger aboard the Elizabeth. David Dubinsky, president of the AFL international ladies garment workers union, said he met the duke while aboard ship and found him "well informed on labor issues."

Heart Attack Claims Pioneer Texas Pilot

TYLER, Dec. 27. (AP)—Col. O. C. Palmer, 54, pioneer flier and radioman in East Texas, will be buried today.

Col. Palmer, chiefly responsible for aviation progress in Tyler and for the development of Pounds field, died Christmas day as the result of a heart condition.

He had served as airport manager for 20 years.

Palmer received nation-wide recognition in 1938 for his work in the New London school explosion. He stayed at his radio microphone at Pounds field for 48 hours without relief sending emergency messages.

Russia is to get two 3,200-ton steamships, 20 motor schooners, 32 tugs, 2 trawlers, 75 barges and a marine dock from Finland, as reparations.

Deputies Kill Negro Who Resisted Arrest

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ark., Dec. 27. (AP)—A negro accused of killing a white woman taxi driver and wounding the peace officers was shot to death yesterday while resisting arrest.

Sheriff Cecil V. Goodwin said his deputies Kladstone Williams and C. M. Rieyes were forced to shoot when the negro — Minus Wilson, alias Eddie Hall—resisted them in a cafe.

Shortly before he was killed, the sheriff said, the negro fired one shot at Williams' wife when she surprised him in her home. Mrs. Williams was not injured.

Police had been searching for Wilson since Dec. 9 when Mrs. Joe McDaniel, 37, wife of the Luxora, Ark., town marshal, was shot to death. McDaniel and Night Marshal Ralph Williamson were wounded.

The Luxora officers were transporting Wilson to jail in a taxicab operated by Mrs. McDaniel. They said they had arrested him and a negro woman on minor charges.

Textile Worker, 59, Held For Probe Of Assault On Daughter

UNION, S. C., Dec. 27 (AP) — Police held a 59-year-old father for questioning today as his pretty teen-age daughter lay near death with a skull fracture.

Officers investigating the mysterious Christmas eve bludgeoning of 16-year-old Virginia Grace Eubanks said they were holding her father, Charlie Eubanks of Union, without charge for questioning.

The attractive brunette was still unconscious and in a critical condition late last night, according to hospital authorities at Charlotte, N. C. She has not regained consciousness since she was found alone in her home here in the midst of presents she had been wrapping for Christmas.

No Motive Found

Police said yesterday they had not been able to establish any motive for an attack or find any weapon. The girl's mother, a hotel waitress, was working Christmas eve and her father, a textile worker, said he left the house just before his daughter was found by relatives who had arrived for a holiday visit.

The girl's boy friend, James Estes, about 22, told police he talked to her by telephone a few minutes before she was found.

An uncle of the girl, R. P. Gossett, who operates a dry cleaning plant in Union, declared, "It was no accident. It was foul play." Gossett added "We're going to push this thing to the limit."
