STORM HITS PANHANDLE

Seek Driver As Six Injured In Auto Collision

MAN FORCES CARS TO HIT, THEN LEAVES SCENE OF CRASH

SLATON, Nov. 23 (Special)—A man who was driving a light coupe which sideswiped another light automobile here about 12:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, precipitating a headon collision and the injury of six persons, was sought by peace officers. The man allegedly left the scene of the crash without stopping.

An automobile driven by Miss Thelma Wilson of Lubbock was knocked into the path of a small coupe operated by Earnest Carroll of Slaton and the two machines collided. Miss Wilson and her mother, Mrs. Nina Wilson of Lubbock, suffered shock. Miss Wilson was bruised and cut. Another woman in the Wilson car suffered bruises and possibly a fractured rib. Two small boys named Stewart, nephews of Mrs. Wilson, were injured. One of the boys was received at Lubbock sanitarium where he was treated for a broken nose.

Carroll suffered a broken leg and bruises. With persons from the Wilson car he was taken to Mercy hospital.

The Wilsons reside at 720 Avenue K here. None of the six persons was believed hurt seriously.

The hit-run driver was believed to have been alone when the accident occurred, Police Chief Tom Abel said. The crash occurred in north Slaton.

PLAN MADE FOR SINO-JAP PEACE

PARIS, Nov. 23 (AP)—The League of Nations council, at a short private session shortly before noon today, completed a tentative draft of a resolution it hoped would be acceptable to Chinese and Japanese governments as a basis for restoring peace in Manchuria.

The next was not made public. Chairman Aristide Briand planned to discuss it with the Chinese and Japanese spokesmen later in the day and report the results of the discussions to the other 12 members of the council at another meeting tomorrow.

Shortly before the close of today's session, the Chinese delegation said it understood the plan being discussed by the council members was largely in agreement with the Japanese proposal for a commission to investigate conditions and that it omitted any definite provision for evacuation of troops as the Chinese demanded.

HOPE TO HIKE DEMOCRATS' MAJORITY

LEADERS COUNTING ON SPECIAL ELECTIONS FOR INCREASES

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Democratic leaders are counting on special elections to increase by two their majority in the House of representatives before congress convenes. Republicans, however, are conceding nothing.

Representative Garner of Texas, probable speaker, has been informed in recent telegrams that Democrats will win the fourteenth district in his state and the fifth New Jersey district, both formerly held by Republicans.

Should these forecasts materialize, the Democrats would have 219 seats, Republicans 214 and Farmer Laborites one. There is a vacancy in the first New Hampshire district which will be filled at a special election later.

The Texas election tomorrow is viewed by Representative Wood of Indiana, chairman of the Republican congressional committee, "very much like a 'hoss race' which looks favorable to the Republican candidate."

BOOZE VALUED AT $350,000 SEIZED

NEW YORK, Nov. 23 (AP)—The freighter Raritan Sun with 5,000 cases of liquor was seized today and 60 men were arrested at Bushey's dry dock at the foot of Court street, Brooklyn.

Customs officials estimated the value of the liquor at $350,000 and the vessel, a 533-ton freighter, at $750,000, figures which, if authentic, would make the seizure one of the largest of its type in the history of prohibition enforcement.

PLANE FORCED DOWN

ODESSA, Nov. 23. (AP)—Heavy fog forced a tri-motored transport plane of American airways, eastbound from El Paso to Fort Worth and Dallas, to land here at 5:45 p. m. yesterday. Mail carried by the plane was sent forward last night by train.

MEXICAN HELD FOR BREAKIN ON SUNDAY

MINOR THEFTS OCCUR HERE DURING THE PAST WEEK-END

A jewelry store robbery, in which a Mexican with his pockets loaded with watches and rings was captured, and a series of minor thefts were reported in Lubbock Saturday and Sunday.

Antonio Martinez, 26, of Lubbock, was arrested in the 1100-block of Thirteenth street by William Mabray and Don Reeder, police patrolmen, who pursued him from Helber's Jewelry store, 1113 Broadway, where he had broken glass in a display window and taken rings and watches having a retail value of $831.50. Although the suspect threw away several articles of loot in his flight, they were recovered virtually unharmed and all missing jewelry was returned, Police Chief John Lemond said. A burglary charge was to be filed against Martinez today.

Youth Rewarded

Eugene Knox, a newspaper mailer, of 1630 Eighteenth street, was responsible for the capture and was given a wrist watch by the store. He said a Mexican came out of an alley and passed him on the sidewalk; he heard a crash and saw the man scooping articles from the jewelry store window. Knox reported to the policemen, who were in Tech cafe, 1121 Broadway. Strewing the glistening articles of loot along his path of flight, the Mexican was captured and resisted, being subdued when slugged on the head with a pistol. The robbery occurred about 3:30 a. m. Sunday.

Mrs. W. H. Baker, 2105 Avenue K, told police two boys about 18 years old snatched her purse from her near her home Saturday night. The purse, with which the pair escaped, contained $3.50 in cash, she said.

A black dress coat was stolen from an automobile parked near Texas avenue and Thirteenth street Saturday night, B. R. Bryant, the owner, of 2107 Twenty-seventh street reported.

Bicycles Stolen

W. B. Price, 511 Avenue L, and Lloyd Mickey, 1807 Sixteenth street, told police their bicycles were stolen late Saturday.

A woolen blanket belonging to Hill Garrison, 2217 Nineteenth street, was stolen from an automobile here Sunday, he reported.

THREE CAUGHT IN ROBBERY

TWO OTHERS SOUGHT IN $150,000 GEM THEFT AT PARTY

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—Three men were prisoners today and at least two others were sought as members of a robber gang which invaded the home of William H. Mitchell in suburban Lake Forest and escaped with $150,000 in jewelry taken from Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell and their seven guests.

Most of the jewelry was recovered from the overcoat pockets of one of the robbers. The garment had been abandoned when the owner became entangled in a fence as he fled bullets of policemen who interrupted the holdup early yesterday.

The robbers, numbering five or six, entered the home shortly after midnight. While they were forcing Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell and the guests to surrender their valuables, William Matheson, the family chauffeur, slipped upstairs and called police.

Police soon walked into the residence. They were forced to stand against the wall but their appearance made the robbers panicky and they soon fled out of the side door. The police, who had not been disarmed, followed and began firing.

Cut off from their automobile, the intruders fled in all directions.

Negro Stabbed In Post Altercation

A knife still fast in his upper cheek bone, Charles Malone, 34-year-old negro of Post was received at Lubbock sanitarium at about 4:30 o'clock Sunday morning following an altercation in which a negro woman stabbed him.

Efforts to remove the knife at Post failed and he was brought to the sanitarium where the weapon finally was pulled out after physicians decided drills would have to be used. The blade penetrated the bone and emerged from the roof of the mouth, attendants said.

Malone's condition was not believed serious today.

SEVEN DIE IN DERAILMENT OF TRAIN

AT LEAST DOZEN OF VALUABLE HORSES ARE KILLED

(By The Associated Press)

LEXINGTON, Mo., Nov. 23—Derailment of a speeding special train carried death to possibly seven men and at least a dozen members of an equine aristocracy known throughout the show rings of the nation.

The 50-car "million-dollar" train, hurrying horses and other animals from the American Royal livestock show at Kansas City to the International Livestock exposition in Chicago, piled up on the Missouri Pacific tracks near Lexington late yesterday.

Officials blamed a spreading rail on a roadbed weakened by recent rains. Four bodies were removed from the wreckage of the 24 cars which left the track. Missouri Pacific officials said three men were not accounted for.

Coroner Edmond Lissack of Lafayette county said two victims had been identified as Alivie Babb, an attendant for the stable of Emil Philip Schandein of Milwaukee, and Jacob Krieder, 30, also an attendant.

Surviving animals, some crippled, others badly scarred, were walked to quarters in Lexington. Due to confusion at the scene, owners were unable to estimate their losses accurately.

Only three of the dead horses were identified in the first check. They were harness animals, Scottish Rite and Tipsy Cake, owned by Mrs. A. C. Thompson, Chicago, and The Lark, owned by Miss Mary Gwyn Fiers, Oklahoma City.

Grandis Will Visit In Baltimore Home

BALTIMORE, Nov. 23 (AP)—Dino Grandi, Italian foreign minister, and Signora Grandi left for New York on a special train this morning after a week-end visit with Ambassador John W. Garrett and Mrs. Garrett at their home here.

Grandi's calendar until Friday includes speaking, dining, meeting prominent people and "seeing America" as represented by New York. The trip today was his fifth train ride in America with a total mileage of 826 miles, making him one of the fastest traveling state guests in recent years. He has been in the country seven days.

Ten Are Indicted In Mine Area Fuss

MOUNT STERLING, Ky., Nov. 23. (AP)—Ten Harlan county miners, mine union officials and former Evarts officers were indicted today by a Montgomery county grand jury on charges of murder and conspiracy after murder indictments returned against them by a Harlan county grand jury had been quashed. Four of the ten were accused also of aiding and abetting.

The action was the first maneuver in the legal battle between the commonwealth and the defense in trials on Harlan county indictments which had been set for today and was taken over objections of the defense.

Prohibition Issue Back In Spotlight As Raskob Sends Out Questionaire

DEMOCRATIC CHAIRMAN ASKS OPINIONS OF PARTY MEMBERS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23—John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic national committee, oas come to the front again, bringing the prohibition issue with him.

Reaffirming his conviction that tie next national convention of the party should declare frankly for submitting the prohibition issue to the people, Raskob has sent the 88,580 contributors to the 1928 Democratic campaign fund a questionnaire asking what they think about it.

Yes or no answers were asked to seven propositions, while in an accompanying letter Raskob employed his most persuasive argument for position declaration.

The move was a follow-up to his presentation of the home rule plan for liquor control last March to the national committee. He evoked then a bitter outburst, particularly from southern leaders, many of whom felt deliberate injection of the prohibition issue was a fine way to wreck the party's 1932 prospects.

His seven questions sought to establish whether contributors favored a definite platform declaration on prohibition, whether they wished the platform to commit the congressional Democrats to a resolution which would get the Eighteenth amendment again before the people, whether they favored the home rule plan or straight-out repeal and whether they desired that all future amendments to the constitution be submitted to popular conventions rather than tie state legislatures.

The announcement of the questionnaire by party headquarters here described this latest move one "to ascertain just how the rank and file of the Democratic party feels" about a platform declaration.

Constance Bennett Married To Marquis

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Nov. 23 (AP)—In the drawing room of a semi-rural mansion, Constance Bennett, one of the screen's highest paid actresses, was wed late yesterday to the Marquis "Hank" Falaise.

Thus a romance hedged about with a great show of secrecy finally was resolved into concrete facts.

Miss Bennett became a bride for the third time. The groom, Henri Marquis Le Bailly de la Falaise de la Coudraye, is the divorced third husband of Miss Bennett's erstwhile social and professional rival, Gloria Swanson, who now is en route to New York by boat with her fourth husband, Michael Farmer.

Ira King Finally Stops Hiccoughing

MANSFIELD, O., Nov. 23 (AP)—Ira A. King has finally stopped hiccoughing, at least temporarily, it was reported at general hospital today.

King's gall bladder was removed yesterday and his two-week old seige of hiccoughing ended, attendants said. It was hoped a permanent cure had been effected.

For 14 days, King had been seized by the hiccoughing spasms at the rate of seven a minute.

TWO FREED IN SHOOTINGS

GUESS, CROSBY FOUND NOT GUILTY IN THE MEXICANS' DEATH

(By The Associated Press)

ARDMORE, Okla., Nov. 23—Held blameless in the fatal shooting of two Mexican college students here last June 7, William E. Guess and Cecil Crosby, former deputy sheriffs, went back to their partnership filling station today.

Following joint acquittal of murder charges in the death of Manuel Garcia Gomez by a district court jury yesterday, Judge Asa E. Walden announced he would dismiss murder charges pending against Crosby in the death of Emilio Cortes Rubio, kinsman of the Mexican president.

Self Defense Claimed

Guess, who fired the shots that killed the two students, was acquitted of the murder of Cortes Rubio last summer. He testified he fired in self defense when the youths produced pistols as he sought to question them on a dark street where they had parked.

Salvadore Cortes Rubio, third member of the ill-fated vacation party driving home from American colleges, presented testimony to show the boys believed they were being held up, due to the fact the officers wore no uniforms. He was not molested.

SLEET FORCES MERCURY TO LOW MARK

WIRE COMMUNICATIONS BLOCKED; BUS, TRAIN TRAVEL SLOWED

AMARILLO, Nov. 23. (AP)—The windswept plains of the Texas Panhandle were chilled today by a driving sleet storm which forced temperatures far below the freezing point and blocked wire communications at many points. Bus and train travel was slowed and planes were grounded by a dangerously low ceiling.

Weather reports from towns in the region indicated that the fury of the storm was spent and some relief could be expected soon. Slowly rising temperatures have promise that the icy accumulation would begin to thaw.

Lines Are Down

More than 50 toll lines of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company were out of service. Ice had snapped many of them, while others were laid flat on the ground. All wires of the Rock Island and one line serving the Fort Worth and Denver railroad were reported down.

Repair crews were striving to repair the lines but were making slow progress. Lines were reported breaking at numerous places today.

The Panhandle was being served by trains and busses operating on slow time schedules, icy tracks and frozen roads preventing normal operations. Planes at many airports were stormbound and had to wait for better weather. Pilots regarded the ceiling as too low for safety.

Temperatures began to rise slowly. At Texline the mercury had climbed from a low mark of 10 degrees to 18 degrees. It was 23 degrees at Amarillo, as compared with a low of 16 degrees. At Quanah the temperature was 36 degrees. Wichita Falls reported 45 degrees and at Memphis it hit the freezing mark.

FAMILY OF FIVE IS FOUND DEAD IN HOUSE TODAY

BOSTON, Nov. 23 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. William F. Goodale and their three young children were found dead today in their Dorchester home. Neighbors had not seen any of the Goodales since last Friday and police investigated the theory that their deaths were accidental, caused by gas or the exhaustion of oxygen in the house.

The bodies of Goodale, who was a teacher at the Boston Latin school, and his wife, a former Worchester school teacher, were found in the bath room of the house. There was a gas water heater in the room.

Two of the children, Mary, aged one and a half years, and Anna, aged four, were found in their beds. The other child, William, aged three months, was in his carriage.

Discoveries of the bodies was made after a neighbor, who had noticed that the curtains had been drawn since Friday, called police to investigate.

One Killed, Five Shot In Robbery

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (AP)—One unidentified man was killed and five persons seriously wounded today by bandits who held up the Colonial Tea house and fled with $325.

Fourteen persons were in the establishment at 3 o'clock this morning when five holdup men entered, leaving one in a car outside. They lined up the guests in the kitchen and forced Charles Levitt, the proprietor, to hand over the money in the cash drawer.

With the money in their possession, they started running and shooting simultaneously.

Tickets To Amarillo-Lubbock Clash Going Fast; One Special Is Assured

Lubbock grid fans who want tickets for the Lubbock-Amarillo game at Amarillo Thanksgiving day had better rush down to the Hilton hotel drug and make their purchases right away as there are only 200 ducats left, J. O. Smith, manager of the store, said today.

The sale of tickets continued brisk over the week-end in spite of the fact that only seats behind the goal line are left, Mr. Smith said.

"A seat behind the goal line is better than none at all," Mr. Smith said. "We have been informed that this allotment will be the last for Lubbock people. We have also been instructed to send all remaining tickets back to Amarillo by Wednesday morning as they say there is a great demand for them there.

All seats on the Amarillo side of the field also have been sold, it was said.

No other tickets for the game will be available, Amarillo officials have declared. About 5,000 general admission tickets which will allow standing room around the field will be sold the day of the game in Amarillo and the "first-come, first-served" plan will be followed.

It is thought that thousands of fans will be turned away from the game.

MORE TICKETS NEEDED TO ASSURE 2 TRAINS

Only enough railroad tickets to justify the running of one special train to Amarillo for the Westerner-Sandie football game Thursday had been sold today, according to E.

FUGITIVES AT LARGE AFTER JAIL BREAK

PRISONERS SAW BARS IN SPITE OF ARMED GUARD; BEGIN HUNT

Despite an armed guard posted expressly to prevent a jail-break, seven prisoners escaped from city jail at City hall at about 11:10 o'clock Saturday night after bars had been sawed from a north window. Four of the fugitives are felony prisoners and one is a former convict who also had escaped from the Louisiana state prison.

The guard, Jim Robinson, discovered the break about 10 minutes later when he inspected the outside of the jail. City and county peace officers immediately began a search and spread an alarm, sent descriptions of the escaped men to law enforcement agencies in this section, and inspected all trains here. None of the fugitives was reported captured at noon today.

Those who escaped were:

B. H. Dildey, 31, alias A. B. Mallow, former convict at the Texas state penitentiary and escaped from the Louisiana prison, facing sentences of two years each in district court here for forgery and perjury.

Conway Jones, 25, sentenced to four consecutive years each in district court here for forgery and passing forged documents.

Chester LaFitte, 22, a partner of Jones and facing the same sentence.

C. H. Gunsalus, 27, arrested here as a suspect in a bank robbery at Optima, Okla., but charged here with possession and transportation of liquor.

Jack Godfrey, 26, sentenced last Friday to 30 days in jail and assessed of court costs for aggravated assault and battery on another prisoner in city jail.

Frank Godwin and John Wyrble, also misdemeanor prisoners.

Earlier Attempt Failure

An attempt to break jail was made last Monday night, but severed bars were discovered by officers in time to frustrate an escape. Officers said bars which had been sawed in a cell were found Thursday and welded. Hacksaw

HOODLUMS PUT ON THE SPOT

THREE GANGSTERS IN NEW YORK SHOT IN BACK BY RIVALS

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Three more New York gangsters have died in the way gangsters die.

The body of John (Jackie) Lynch, 26, was found yesterday, propped against a high board fence in the Bronx. A few feet away, sprawled grotesquely in the gutter, was the body of Michael J. Ahearn, 26.

Each had been shot in the back—the gang way. There was a single bullet hole behind Ahearn's right ear. The bullet that killed Lynch entered the left side of the back. Another had been fired under his right eye.

Sixteen hours later, in a downtown street, police found the body of a third murder victim, Jerry Gerrado, 35. He was identified as a liquor runner. Gerrado, like Lynch and Ahearn, had been killed, police said, in the "on the spot" manner from which gang killers so seldom vary.

Lynch and Ahearn were listed by police as members of the Rao beer and liquor running mob. Lynch had a police record.

NEW COUNTY JAIL IS NOT RECEIVED

Whether County Commissioners court officially would receive the new $127,000 county jail today had not been determined at noon. County Judge E. L. Pitts late this morning said architects' certificates had not been presented.

The new structure, fitted with the most modern of prison equipment, was expected to be turned to the county today, Charles Reynolds, construction superintendent, said Saturday. Installation of plumbing and heating equipment was almost finished. The jail will accommodate 104 prisoners.

County Commissioners court has not determined whether formal dedication of the building and a period of inspection by the public will be conducted.

Miss Ratliff Marries; Dinners And Parties Are Occasions For Week-End Here

Local Girl Is Bride Of Tyler Man In Service This Morning; Have Breakfast

Miss Maurine Ratliff became the bride of John A. Mathis, jr., of Tyler this morning at 8 o'clock in a ceremony read in parlors of First Methodist church by Rev. J. O. Haymes, the pastor. Mrs. W. K. Cooper was the only attendant of the couple.

White tapers and sweetpeas decked the mantel, before which the pair was married. Baskets of white chrysanthemums, palms and ferns completed the background.

The bride was gowned in a model of golden biege and pink velvet with a lovers' knot of blue at the waist. She carried a bouquet of pink ophelia roses and valley lilies. Her attendant wore copenhagen blue chiffon with black accessories and carried a boquet of briar cliff roses.

Ushers were Miss Lola Mae Davidson and D. L. Parker.

As a processional for the entrance of the wedding party, Mrs. Clarence O. White played Lohengrin's wedding march. She continued with "Hearts and Songs" as the ceremony was read. After the marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Mathis left for a honeymoon trip to Central and South Texas, expecting to be at home at 827 Grove street, Tyler, about December 1.

Groom Is Geologist

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Ratliff, 1920 Main street, is a former student in Baylor university at Waco. Mr. Mathis, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Mathis, Tyler, is a graduate of A. and M. college, College Station, and is a Tyler geologist.

Out of town guests for the wedding were Mrs. S. E. Wilson and Mrs. H. B. Wilson and daughters of Hobbs, N. M.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served in the home of the bride's parents. Guests included Misses Lois Stuart, Katie Lee Allen, Mozelle Macha, Valera and Eloise Ratliff, Betty and Janice Wilson of Hobbs, N. M., Mesdames W. K. Cooper, Clarence O. White, J. Robert Cooper, S. E. and H. B. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Davis and Sanford Gabriel.

HOUR-GLASS IS SYMBOL OF MODERN ROASTING METHOD

Accuracy Is Assured in Controlled Roasting — Hills Bros.' Patented Process for Roasting Coffee

Better than anything else, an hour-glass symbolizes the exactness of Hills Bros.' patented, Controlled Roasting process. For as the accuracy of the hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow . . . a little at a time . . . so the wonderful, unvarying flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee is produced by this patented process that roasts evenly, continuously . . . a little at a time.

This is very different from ordinary, bulk-roasting methods. The results are very different too. You can judge them yourself, if you compare Hills Bros. with other coffees.

Hills Bros. has a finer, uniform flavor. Roasting it a little at a time makes this possible. For every berry receives the right amount of heat. None is underdone, none is overdone. The same delightful flavor is assured in every pound. Bulk-roasted coffee can't guarantee these things. No wonder Hills Bros. Coffee has and holds so many friends!

Hills Bros. Coffee comes in vacuum cans that keep it fresh. Air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is removed and kept out of these cans. Even ordinary, "air-tight" cans won't keep coffee fresh. Ask for Hills Bros. Coffee by name, and look for the Arab trade-mark on the can.

DR. MYERS

Doctor Myers' Daily Column On Child Welfare

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

HOOKEY PLAYER

Recently a junior high school principal told me that he was appalled by the large number of parents who deliberately lie for their children. His remark prompted me to ask other principals.

"Oh, yes, that is common," was the typical response; "and you would be surprised at the kind of parent who does so," was sometimes added.

The boy or girl plays hookey, slips out of the school building, goes automobile riding, to a talkie or on some other escapade. The student, if discovered to have been absent, is reported to the home. The child takes the matter up with the mother who, over the telephone, assures the principal that the child was ill at home, had gone shipping with her, or was down town lunching with the father. Next morning the mother reduces the fabricated alibi to writing, and the child carries it to school.

This principal's school is in a community highly favored economically. Near it are a number of fine churches. The principal noted that some of the most frequent offenders among mothers were church workers, civic leaders, and those of the kind whose pictures sometimes appear on the society page of the newspaper. Since such persons are looked up to in their community, their practice of the kind condemned is the most serious.

Of course it is easy to see why mothers of this sort have great temptations to lie for thei rchildren, since to have their children punished at school for truancy would readily be known by their neighbors and associates, with consequent embarrassment. To cover up the matter by a little lie appeals to these mothers, apparently, as the practical way out of the difficulty. Whereas we might expect lying for children by parents to be more common to the less privileged social level, we must remember that some parents are glad to have the school punish their children who do wrong there, and do not on that account feel that such punishment is a social stigma.

Think of what it must mean to the morals of the child to ahve his parents lie for his escape from justice. He had openly violated a rule of the school. He lied to escape the known and deservd pnalty. His mother, in order to protect her social pride, had lied with him. She was the major party to his misdemeanor. She did not disapprove his truancy. She approved it. She even helped him escape the consequences. She did not disapprove his lying to escape just penalty. She lied herself deliberately to deceive the school principal in order to shield the child from being apprehended as a liar.

No doubt she frequently had punished that same child in earlier years to prevent in him the habit of falsifying. How is she ever going to set herself right with that child? What more could she have done to train him in crime? It will be relatively easy for him to violate school rules again, for he knows his mother will defend him. He naturally assumes that if he should get into trouble that would lead him to the juvenile court, there would his mother be to lie him out. She had taught him that lying cleverly is a handy means of escaping temporary trouble. All he needs to do is to acquir more skill, he thinks, at escaping apprehension when he violates law and order anywhere and, if caught, to be more apt at improvising skilful lies to clear himself.

Let us parents pray fervently for courage enough never to lie for our children.

Thanksgiving Table Appointments Express Happiness

Thanksgiving table set with filet lace cloth, Wedgewood china, silver tray holding fruit, silver candlesticks and cider tumblers.

Art Supplied to Central Press
By Home & Field Magazine

A JOYOUS freedom from restraint should be the spirit of the Thanksgiving feast, as befitting the warmth and cordiality of a family reunion. This feeling should be reflected in the table settings, which should not be stiff or formal, although the best linen, china and silver should be used.

Fine old crystal, silver and china pieces may be used in the design of the centerpiece to create an atmosphere of genuineness and dignity which is important to the occasion.

Amusing arrangements are also allowable, especially if the family party includes many children. The many odd pieces of glass, metal or porcelain that are so popular today give the table a delightful air of unconventionality, and intrigue the adults as well as the children. Many are inexpensive and help dress up the table and aid the jollity of the occasion.

The table pictured is informal but dignified. A filet lace tablecloth is used with silver tray filled with grapes, crab apples and a colorful Hubbard squash is the centerpiece. This is flanked on either side by tall silver candlesticks and silver cider mugs filled with ivy. The china is Wedgewood.

Even the widely advertised depression may have done some good by turning the caviar appetites of the halcyon days gone by back to the good old foods of the early pioneer times. Possibly fewer tables will boast roast fowl but many will be thankful for roasts of pork or beef, and all can be thankful that vegetables and fruits are so plentiful and cheap this year.

Santa Suggests—

Fruit Basket Pin Cushion

If you are in the mood to give baskets of fruit for Christmas this year, there is something brand new on the market that will delight your debutante sister or your college girl friend.

It is the new fruit basket pin cushion. The basket itself come in two kinds, porcelain openwork or in painted woven baskets.

It is the fruit, however, that is simply enchanting. Pears, grapes, peaches bloom in luscious colored silk design on the top of the basket. Each is stuffed properly and the basketful makes the newest addition to the modern dressing table. Pins are in again. Pin cushions are needed!

Supper Honors Mr. And Mrs. Blackwell

Holiday cheer marked several social events of Sunday in Lubbock and contributed to the season's festivities.

Among the events was a turkey dinner served by Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Henley in the afternoon at their home, 2224 Main street. Guests were Messrs. and Mesdames Harry Hunter, J. O. Morgan, W. D. Girand, jr., D. Jarrett, Dr. and Mrs. R. L. McAllister and Miss Kate Dean Cook.

The annual Thanksgiving dinner was served to girls in College Inn Sunday evening at that hall. There were a number of extra guests, including the honorees, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Wilson. For the first time in several months, every girl who stays at the hall remained here for the week-end.

Mr. Wilson made a talk at the dinner on what the board of directors is trying to do for Texas Technological college and students there.

Have Waffle Supper

Another of the Sunday affairs was a waffle supper served in the home of Mrs L. C. Tatom, 2219 15th street, complimentary to Mr and Mrs Edward Blackwell, bride and groom of last week.

Hostesses on this occasion were Misses Melba Mae Tatom, Martha Alice Penney and May Tom Simmons. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Blackwell, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Head, Misses Kathleen Conrad, Sally Bean, Ada Ruth May, Maxine Clark, Messrs. Joe Leaverton, Homer Maxey, Harmon Jenkins, W. B. Rushing, Doyle Jordon and W. D. Lawson, jr.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Ribble, 2220 18th street, were hosts to several friends Sunday with a turkey dinner in their home. Chrysanthemums were used on the table and place cards were in the Thanksgiving motif.

Guests were Messrs. and Mesdames R. L. Stewart, Bennet Moore, Allan Hill, J. C. Rigney, Miss Cornelia Meadors of El Reno, Okla., Wanda Jo Ribble, Jackie Rigney, Robert Allan Hill and Buster Hill of Brownwood.

Centaur Stag Club Has Sunday Affair

Centaur stag club members entertained a number of their friends with a smoker at the Glorieta Sunday evening. Guests included Atmar Atkinson, Russell Brown, Billie Crenshaw, Jack Drown, Forest Daily, Charles Crensnaw, Claude Goldsmith, Calvin Hazelwood, Hugh Hunter, Leon Ince, P. G. Minter, Billy Murray, Charles Maedgen, E. G. Pharr, Douglas Ross, Del Smith, John Stiles, James Stone, Joe Taylor, Jesse Young and Bates Thornton.

Club members who attended were Tom V. Watson, Bill Collins, Gordon Dickinson, Richard Hoffman, Adolphus Smith, James Henley, Rob O'Hair, George Martindale, Trent Campbell, Tom Hutchinson, Edgar Neal, Jack Beyan. Alumni attending were Kenneth Leftwich, James Whiteside, Truett Brooks and Roy Pryor.

LUBBOCK WESTERNERS UNHAMPERED BY COLD, DAMP WEATHER

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

"Simmons' defeat by Howard Payne, decisive though it was, will make the Cowboys that much harder to handle Thursday when the Matadors go to Abilene." Thus spake Russell T. "Dutchey" Smith, Tech line coach, upon returning from the scene of the Yellow Jacket triumph. "Howard Payne whipped 'em all over the lot," avers Smith, "after a couple of bad breaks early in the game had stunned the Cowboys something terrible. Why, that bunch didn't know what to do when the game was over. Les Cranfill slid up and down the bench and his boys huddled around even after the crowd had left the grandstand. But they'll be back Thursday and you can count on them playing one of their best games."

So if you fans were beginning to feel optimistic over the game at Abilene Saturday you may as well change your mind if one is to take Smith seriously. We who are in close contact with him have learned to take him seriously, too. You may look for a tight fight in Abilene on Turkey Day and no foolin'. And more fans than you would imagine are not going to Amarillo to see the Westerners and Sandies play, but are shipping off to Abilene bright and early Thursday morning. Just a big bunch of them are going to see the Tech-Simmons game in preference to the Lubbock-Amarillo contest.

Axel, this gold football business for the Matadors is going over like nobody's business. Spencer Wells, Dick Smith, Carl Patton, The Plainsman, Parker Prouty, R. J. Keller, Ross McWhorter, Riley Hule and C. W. Ratliff, the first nine to sign up, have been followed by Tim Stovall, Ray Hinchey, Roscoe Wilson, Jack Parsons and Leroy Drown.

That makes fourteen. We need six or eight more. Call us at this office or Spencer Wells at his office and get your name in the pot. The balls go to the Matadors provided they beat the Cowboys, you know, and that means they're likely to go. Old Timer, have you sent in your pledge yet?

Here's a letter from Electra, Texas, which may be of interest:

"Dear Mr. Sports Editor:

"The people in and around [illegible] would like to [illegible] your belief in regard to the [illegible] high school center position. There is no doubt that Bob Crawford is an excellent player. He must be to play on such a wonderful team as Lubbock has this year.

"Electra High has the best center in the state. He goes under the name of Monte McDannald. This is the little chap who whipped Crawford's ears down last year for all-district honors.

"Coach Stallworth at Quanah, who scouted three years for Baylor University, says McDannald is the best man he ever saw on a high school field. Barry Holton, Notre Dame man, now coach at Wichita Falls, says Crawford does not even rate with this little man.

"I am most sure you would think the same thing if you could see McDannald in action. That is your [illegible], you haven't seen anyone [illegible] in your district.

"[illegible] will invade Pampa on [illegible] after Thanksgiving. Go [illegible] grand little man perform. I will almost bet you would [illegible] your mind.

"Crawford, I guess, will get all-state center because his team will [illegible] higher than Electra, but he [illegible] doesn't deserve it. Hope you [illegible] hell out of the Sandies.

"Yours,

"A Pal."

Yeah, what a pal! But seriously, gs, this McDannald youngsters is ite a footballer. He did beat out rawford for all-district honors last ason and the district was twice big then as it is now. Crawford ll get it in District 1 this season t little McDannald would give n a close race if the district was its original size. We have not rgotten the Electra pivoter and 're glad somebody else has put a word for him. McDannald is aller by several pounds and ches, and Crawford utilizes those ra points along with his natural lity, which, in our opinion, would e the Westerner center the edge. p'n Bob is a lot bigger this year n he was a year ago and that nts some. We have seen little ters make big centers look exdingly ill, but we have yet to anybody make Crawford look n pale. Crawford has it over e in size and is the latter's equal spirit and ability were the two qual stature. We're glad to get letter, but all we can see yet is Crawford. If we can make the pa-Electra game we'll sure be to give McDannald another nt.

HOME STRETCH IN PRACTICE IS REACHED

AMARILLO SANDIES IN HARD GRIND; MEET ON THANKSGIVING

Just what effect the dreary weather will have on the football teams practicing for important games this week remains to be seen, but since "the show must go on" it is unlikely that the squads will declare a holiday just because it is raining and cold.

The Lubbock Westerners, leaders in District 1 of the Texas Interscholastic league grid race, went through a good workout Saturday and probably will hit the ball again today in the business of preparation for the game Thursday with the Amarillo Sandies. The game is to be played on Butler Field at Amarillo, a tie or a victory cinching the district championship for Lubbock.

Barnett May Return

Gene "Debs" Barnett, regular fullback who has been out with a broken foot for the past three weeks, was on the field Saturday throwing a few passes around and watching the Westerners work out. He was to have donned a uniform today for his first real practice since the Childress game, but the unfavorable weather may prevent it. His foot has not entirely healed, though he has abandoned his crutches and cane.

The most serious injury on the squad now belongs to Bill Davidson, who has been running at halfback since Barnett's injury, Scoggin doing the fullback position. Davidson sustained a hurt in the Plainview game, his knee coming into contact with the ground with such force as to strain a ligament. The member has not shown rapid improvement; in fact, the knee seems worse now than at the time of the accident.

From the Amarillo News-Globe of Sunday's issue, the following is taken:

Sandies Practice

With never a thought of taking a rest until after Thanksgiving, the Golden Sandies of Amarillo High school plunged into the first of three strenuous workouts Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. These three workouts will be the final preparations for the most important game for Amarillo this year—the Lubbock contest at Butler Field Thursday.

"Realizing they are the underdogs the Sandies are determined to show their followers they can put out the game of their lives Thursday. There is no sign of cockiness among the squadsmen. The Sandies are confident in an eager way. They believe they are a much improved ball club and will give the Westerners a run for their money.

Being the underdog is a new role for the Sandies. They find themselves doped to lose their second district game to Lubbock—more conference losses than in all the preceding three years together. Coaches Blair Cherry and Howard Lynch are hoping their charges will play heads-up football. They are through with the teaching part of the work. It remains now for the boys to keep their heads, block and tackle as they've been taught and remember the assignments.

FOURTEEN TEAMS ARE UNDEFEATED

By The Associated Press

Fourteen teams, headed by Oklahoma City university, still could boast football records unmarred by defeats today and eight of them had escaped ties as well.

Oklahoma City has wone 10 straight games, one more than Tulane and Southern Methodist. In scoring among unbeaten teams, Tulane leads the list with 276 points. Defensive honors go to Maryville of Missouri which has permitted the opposition only six points.

Unbeaten teams, as compiled by the Associated Press, follow:

College	Won	Tied	Pts.	OP.
Oklahoma City	10	0	249	45
Tulane	9	0	276	14
S. M. U.	9	0	158	41
Tennessee	8	0	224	9

BATTLES PLANNED ON THANKSGIVING

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23 (AP)—Far Western elevens today set about preparing for Thanksgiving day battles that practically clean up the 1931 football schedule. Only a few intersectional engagements will remain after next Thursday.

The Thanksgiving day schedule lists two outstanding clashes. Oregon will take on St. Mary's at San Francisco and Florida comes to face the University of California at Los Angeles Bruins.

Last Saturday in Los Angeles, Oregon beat U. C. L. A., 13-6, with Mikulak and Temple, halfback aces, leading the attack. California followers were still talking today about the Bears' triumph Saturday over their keenest rivals, Stanford's Indians, 6-0, for the first time since 1923.

One conference game remains to be played. It will pit Southern California against Washington at Los Angeles, December 5.

A Yale expedition is to explore the Himalaya mountains and Western Tibet in search of man's development from an ape-like creature.

Grid Race Complicated By The Defeat Of Notre Dame

SOUTHWEST CONFERENCE TEAMS WILL END CHAMPIONSHIP RACE THIS WEEK WITH MUSTANGS, FROGS IN RUNNING

BY BILL PARKER,
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Nov. 23 — Paced by the undefeated and untied Southern Methodist Mustangs, Southwest conference football teams will close the conference race Thursday and Saturday.

The finale will be at Fort Worth Saturday between Texas Christian and Southern Methodist—a game the Frogs must win to tie Southern Methodist, which has a clear record of five consecutive conference victories. Texas Christian has been defeated by Texas.

Other final games will be Thursday at College Station where Texas and Texas A. and M. hold their thirty-eighth annual battle and at Houston Saturday where Rice and Baylor play. Arkansas concluded their schedule last Saturday, losing a 26 to 12 game to Rice.

Texas Christian remained in the title chase Saturday by smashing Baylor 19 to 6 on power plays which saw Oliver, Green and Dennis crack the Bear front wall for three touchdowns.

Southern Methodist stopped Navy Saturday 13 to 6 but lost the service of Marion Hammon, giant tackle, who smashed an ankle bone and will be out the rest of this season. Two passes from Travis to Mason scored the Mustangs touchdowns.

A capacity crowd of 33,000 people is expected to witness the classic Thanksgiving day between Texas and A. and M. Governor Ross Sterling is scheduled to initiate the game by tossing the football to the waiting captains.

Rice is expected to trim Baylor in their closing conference game at Houston. The Owls revealed power Saturday by beating Arkansas.

T. I. A. A. IS IN FINAL WEEK

DENTON, A. C. C. AND TEXAS A. AND I. SEEK TITLE

DALLAS, Nov. 23 (AP)—The Texas Intercollegiate Athletic association football campaign moved into its final week today.

Two undefeated elevens, North Texas Teachers college in the eastern division and Abilene Christian in the western sector, faced the crucial contests of the season. The former needed to win from the San Marcos Teachers Thursday to finish in a tie with Texas A. & I. and Abilene Christian must defeat Daniel Baker at Brownwood Thursday to win the western division championship.

Sam Houston will meet Stephen F. Austin Thursday. Neither eleven is in the running for conference honors. Sul Ross was scheduled to close its campaign against Schreiner Institute at Alpine Thanksgiving day and McMurry was booked to meet West Texas Teachers in Amarillo on that date.

Texas A. & I. will close against St. Edwards in San Antonio Friday.

Standing:

WESTERN DIVISION	W	L	Pct
Abilene Christian	3	0	1000
McMurry	2	1	667
Sul Ross	1	2	333
West Texas	1	2	333
Daniel Baker	1	3	250
EASTERN DIVISION
Texas A. & I.	4	0	1000
North Texas	3	0	1000
Sam Houston	2	2	500
San Marcos	2	2	500
East Texas	1	4	200
Stephen F. Austin	0	4	000

MISSOURI VALLEY TEAMS WILL PLAY

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 23 (AP)—Preparations for Thanksgiving day battles with outstanding non-conference opponents occupied three Missouri Valley conference football squads today while the other two elevens disbanded and began preparations for basketball.

Grinnell finished its season by losing to Drake 7 to 6 Saturday and Creighton wound up with a 7 to 0 loss to Marquette.

Washington university and the Oklahoma Aggies will close their seasons in Turkey Day battles with traditional foes while Drake will meet Marquette in the final home game before starting a three weeks' trip to Honolulu.

St. Louis university will be Washington's foe in the big holiday grid attraction at the home city of the two schools. The Oklahoma state schools, the Aggies and the University of Oklahoma will renew an ancient rivalry at Norman.

The conference championship remains in the hands of Drake as a result of the Bulldog triumph over Grinnell.

NEBRASKA HAS TITLE AGAIN

CORNHUSKERS ARE TO MEET PITTSBURGH THANKSGIVING

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 23 (AP)—Nebraska's cornhuskers tucked away another Big Six championship and began final preparations today for their intersectional football struggle with the Pitt Panthers at Pittsburgh Thanksgiving day.

The many-time champion Huskers climaxed their conference schedule last Saturday with a 23-0 victory over Iowa State, runner-up.

The Big Six final standings showed a drastic shakeup from the 1930 ratings. Only Kansas State college, in third place, finished the 1931 schedule in the same position it held last November. The 1930 champion Kansas university Jayhawkers dropped to fourth place this season with one conference victory.

Oklahoma and Oklahoma A. and M. will clash at Norman and Kansas State will take on Washburn college at Topeka, Kas., in non-conference games Thanksgiving day.

Final 1931 Big Six conference football standins:

Team	W.	L.	Pct.	Pts.	OP
Nebraska	5	0	1.000	58	10
Iowa State	3	1	.750	40	41
Kansas State	3	2	.600	56	20
Kansas	1	3	.250	14	26
Oklahoma	1	4	.200	22	47
Missouri	1	4	.200	21	64

HOWARD PAYNE IN RUNNING

DEFEAT OF SIMMONS PUTS JACKETS IN TITLE CHASE

DALLAS, Nov. 23 (AP)—Howard Payne had climbed to within striking distance of the Texas conference football championship as the 1931 grid campaign moved into its final week today.

Howard Payne's 20 to 0 victory over Simmons university last week was the major upset of the season. Simmons was undefeated, untied and unscored upon in conference play before that game. The Jackets needed only to defeat Southwestern university in Georgetown Thursday to move into a tie with Simmons for the leadership.

Trinity university and Austin college will meet at Sherman in their annual Turkey Day tussle and Simmons will meet Texas Tech that day.

Texas conference standing:

	W	L	T	Pct
Simmons	4	1	0	800
Howard Payne	3	1	0	750
Austin College	2	2	0	500
Southwestern	2	2	0	500
St. Edwards	1	3	1	300
Trinity	0	3	1	125

NATION'S LEADING GRID SCORERS

(By The Associated Press)

To all intents and purposes, Bob Campiglio of West Liberty (W. Va.) Teachers college and Bob Monnett of Michigan State have clinched first and second places in the national race for individual football scoring honors.

Campiglio, who has completed his schedule, holds the top post with 146 points and Monnett ranks second with 127. Neither apparently can be dislodged.

Leaders in each of the nation's nine major groups or conferences follows:

East—Campiglio, West Liberty, 146; Midwest—Monnett, Mich. State, 127; Rocky Mt.—Christensen, Utah, 90; South—Felts, Tulane, 81; Pacific—Shaver, 70; Southwest—Ledbetter, Arkansas, 8; Big Ten—Pardonner, Purdue, 45; Big Six—Grefe, Iowa State, 41; Missouri Val.—Duncan, Grinnell, 37.

TULANE, TROJANS AND NORTHWESTERN ARE NOW FAVORITES

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 23 (AP)—The defeat of Notre Dame has served to complicate still further the already puzzling complexion of the national football title chase. Perhaps it never will be straightened out to everyone's satisfaction.

While Notre Dame was following up victory after victory, the general tendency was to consider the Ramblers the best in the country, taking their "suicide" schedule into consideration. But now they have fallen victim to Southern California's tremendous power and the situation has radically changed.

Face Other Games

Now, at least three teams, Tulane, Southern California and Northwestern, must be considered with two others, Tennessee and Southern Methodist, not far behind. Southern California still must meet Washington and Georgia before entering the Rose bowl game. If the Trojans win these two games and Tulane, probable opponent for Southern California in the Rose bowl, hurdles Louisiana State and Washington State, the experts may be content to award the mythical national crown to the winner of the New Year's day classic.

This week's schedule:

East: Defeat of Harvard leaves the section without a recognized champion. Chief games Thanksgiving day involve Cornell and Penn; Colgate and Brown, Nebraska and Pitt, and Carnegie and New York university. Intersectional games will be played Saturday between Army and Notre Dame; Stanford and Dartmouth, and Detroit and Georgetown.

South: Tulane and Tennessee, both unbeaten, will make their final conference starts, the former against Louisiana State Saturday and Tennessee against Kentucky Thanksgiving day. Vanderbilt and Alabama will meet Thursday and Georgia Tech Saturday.

Midwest: Regular Big Ten season has been completed but charity games will bring out all teams. Northwestern must beat Purdue Saturday to clinch the championship. A defeat for Northwestern will give Michigan, Ohio State and Purdue a chance to share in the title with Northwestern provided Michigan stops Wisconsin and Ohio State conquers Minnesota.

Southwest: Southern Methodist can gain undisputed possession of the conference title by stopping Texas Christian Saturday. Baylor and Rice will play the same day. Thursday the annual classic between Texas and Texas A. and M. tops the program.

Far West: Florida meets the University of California at Los Angeles Thanksgiving day while Oregon tackles St. Mary's of Oakland on Saturday.

Rocky Mountain: Utah will be heavily favorited to whip the Utah Aggies Thursday and clinch the conference title.

MATADORS AND COWBOYS ARE TO CLASH

THANKSGIVING BATTLE TO CLIMAX SEASON FOR GRIDSTERS

The Texas Tech Matadors rested Saturday while the Picadors, freshman gridsters, were mopping up on the Simmons University freshmen and while their coaches, Pete Cawthon and Dutchey Smith, were seeing the Simmons University Cowboys getting mopped upon by the Howard Payne Yellow Jackets.

The Howard Payne-Simmons game and its surprising outcome was of considerable interest here due to the fact that the Matadors journey to Abilene for a game with the Cowhands on Thanksgiving Day. Just what effect their loss to Howard Payne Saturday will have on the brand of football they play against the Matadors is worrying the Tech coaches and players. They believe their loss will make the Cowboys fight all the harder Thursday, thus making it tougher than usual on the Matadors.

The Matadors looked powerful Friday afternoon in their Homecoming Day game, winning over the strong University of New Mexico team, 32 to 6. They felt the marks of a scrapping team in this game and there are certain bruises and lacerations which may hinder the Matadors in the Turkey Day game. A check revealed that no serious injuries had been sustained. Fullback Harold Crites was taken from the game with an injury which may prove worse than expected.

The Picadors will journey to Plainview Wednesday for their final game of the season with the Wayland College Jackrabbits. Coach Frank Kimbrough of the Jackrabbits watched the Picadors administer a 38 to 0 spanking to the Simmons frosh Saturday and went away impressed with the strength of the Tech first year men. Tech appreciates the gridiron potentialities of the Wayland Jackrabbits, also, and will make every effort to round out the season with three straight victories, after as many straight losses.

Nebraska To Meet S. M. U. Next Year

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 23 (AP)—Announcement of the signing of Southern Methodist university for a game in Dallas, completed the 1932 University of Nebraska football schedule.

The Cornhuskers will play the Mustangs December 3, 1932, at Dallas, and the game is expected to draw a crowd of 45,000. Dana X. Bible, head Nebraska coach, is a former Texas Aggie mentor.

Death Claims Two Players On Team

ST. EDWARD, Neb., Nov. 23 (AP)—Twice within three days death has depleted the ranks of St. Edward's undefeated high school football team.

Last Friday, William Weed, 18, star end, died from a skull fracture suffered in a game at Oscola, Neb. Yesterday, Allan Wake, 16, his pal and a fullback on the team, died in an Omaha hospital from an infection which developed following a hip injury received in a game with the Fullerton High school. Wake was ill for three weeks.

Keep thy shop, and thy shop keep thee.—George Chapman.

Literature

A list was compiled the other day of the best sellers of the last thirty years. It reveals much about the trend of American life.

Back in 1902 "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" was a well known literary figure. She lived in a simple, homely story. There was something refreshing about her. And when "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come" left home in 1904 with only his dog to trail him across the mountains he had a wet-eyed audience. That same tearful influence went along the trail of the Lonesome Pine when June went back to remember her lost romance. It predominated when Garth went blind in "The Rosary."

Books were simple. They dwelt with emotions that hadn't acquired a veneer of sophistication. Life wasn't complex in those tales. For the most part books were erected on love and sacrifice and honor. If an author could make his readers weep he had done much.

But another influence crept in just before 1915. Industry was growing larger. It was fast becoming a predominating force in American social life. And since literature follows life, it became the skeleton for fiction plots as well.

Booth Tarkington used it in "The Turmoil." Smoky skies of American cities were as interesting as the drama of love over which two young people fought on a more or less industrial basis.

But "Seventeen" was a return to pure, unalloyed enjoyment of the wistfulness that goes with youth. It was life itself, unhampered by outside restriction. Life at 17. And it was lovely.

And then, suddenly literature wasn't afraid to look at the hidden side of life. It decided not only to talk about the things that people do, and their consequences, but to give the reasons for the actions. It grew introspective. It criticized when it felt like it. It caricatured.

Instead of telling a story about a certain group of people it chose cross-sections of life itself. It had a lesson to teach. The fact that John married Mary was interesting but not important. Quite probably John didn't. And if he did he and Mary were just as likely to have wished that they hadn't.

"Main Street," "Elmer Gantry," "If Winter Comes," "So Big" . . . the list began to look as though the authors were living intensively as well as extensively. Best sellers had outgrown their growing pains. They weren't afraid to talk about the symptoms of life.

And literature, while it may not be as quietly enjoyable, is considerably more instructive. That is—if you want to be instructed.

Navy Squabble

It is hardly surprising that the committee chosen by President Hoover to pass on the "abysmal ignorance" charges of the head of the Navy league should have turned in a report upholding the president. The charges voiced by the Navy league's president were wild, on their face; that the gentleman was speaking out of turn could be deducted as soon as his statement was read.

Indeed, now that the smoke of battle has died away, it is possible to wonder whether President Hoover needed to take any notice of the accusation in the first place. A propaganda organization is expected to attack any public official who does things of which it does not approve, and most people pay very little attention. That it would have been so in this case is hardly to be doubted. At any rate, the issue seems to be settled now, and it is obvious that the head of the Navy league has not greatly added to his reputation.

A Hollywood syndicate was found to be distributing liquor instead of films. Which makes it appear that talkies are turning into speakeasies.

That Girl on Broadway says no woman knows how much she cares for her fiance until she has the engagement ring appraised.

Times were so tough last summer that angels were buying their harps on the installment plan.

THE raucus yawpings of a neighber's radio, in which a howling soprano is informing someone that "you're driving me caa-razy," gives rise to the thought: Are we really any better off than our ancestors were in the dim dawn of creation? Are we really as well off as the First Americans who were freely roaming these plains until a bare three generations back?

Really, there's room for thought here, isn't there?

Of course our early forebears and our Indian friends didn't have any of the benefits of civilization, such as hot and cold water inside their residences, gas, electricity, telephones and fine furniture. They didn't have any plumbing, had no motor cars, planes, railroads or bus lines.

ONE FOR RIPLEY

Believe It Or Not—No Amarillo team has defeated a Lubbock High school team since 1927!

(Although they were the livery of the Golden Sandstorm, Amarillo football players bearing the brunt of victories over Lubbock have hailed from Ft. Worth, Sherman, Lamesa, Liberal, Kansas, and Hollywood, Cal.!)

To make a long story short they didn't have anything but food, water and boundless space—and the ability to wrest from nature the clothes they needed and the place to call a home.

NO paved streets or highways ribboned the land but neither were there any taxes, politics, prohibition arguments or radio. Disease, students of science tell us, was unknown. Laws were simple rules of the tribe that any child could understand and was forced to obey.

There was no unemployment, no charity. There was a positive dearth of luncheon clubs and after dinner speakers. There were no bond issues and every man saw before him all the room he needed or wanted; all the food he needed for the asking; plenty of water, warmth and protection for the asking and more home-sites than even the most energetic of our modern-day realtors could subdivide.

To be sure, our ancestors lived rudely and simply. They couldn't conceive of football stadiums of today, the world series or million dollar prize fights. Their amusements were savage, or almost so—no movie men or Ziegfelds were alive then.

Yet, at the same time they didn't worry about the price of cotton or the price of wheat. Wall Street was nothing but open country and the red menace was ages further along the trail of time.

Maybe you're reading all this somewhat cynically.

Perhaps you're saying: "That guy's just goofey. I'll bet he wouldn't want to live under the conditions upon which he's writing."

But don't be so sure about that last sentence.

Most of us if we'd only stop and think, would be better off if we trod in the moccasin tracks of eons ago—even if we don't realize it.

OF course, we can't do anything about it. The world has come along—call it "advanced" if you want to—until we've reached this point of super-civilization where obscene books are regarded as literature and where dirty drawings are characterized as "art." We've reached the point where it's impossible to have a good time without throwing a small fortune into the ozone and where the institution of matrimony forms the basis for the majority of our jokes.

But are we better off than the Indians were before Christopher Columbus and his hellions landed off our shores?

There's room for plenty of cogitation here.

That Man on Avenue Q says if the dentist followed the lead of the Pullman company he'd add fifty percent to every bill—a surcharge on both uppers and lowers!

Many Scotchmen are moving their families to Venice so their kids won't scuff up their shoes on the pavement.

TWO middle-aged men who had not seen each other since they roamed together in college had met, 35 years after graduation, in Chicago where one had long resided and had reared his family. The Chicagoan, named Bill, insisted that his old pal, Elmer, come to his home for dinner and prior to the meal the two, with Bill's wife in an adjoining room, were talking of their lives, experiences, successes and failures.

"But Bill," Elmer boomed, "I do want to congratulate you on the success your son has made. Why we hear of him, 'way out in our country. It sure must make you proud to know that you're the father of a young man who has fought his way to fame and power as the editor of a great Chicago newspaper!"

"Shhh, Elmer, shuu-h!" Bill warned, "don't talk so loud. I wouldn't have my wife know about Bill for the world—it would break her heart. She think's he a crooner in a Loop speakeasy!"

We can't help but wonder if Hooey Long will be permitted to advance his Senate gyrations as original or if he'll have to give credit to the copyright holder, the Hon. Thomas Heflin.

Minnesota Farmer-Laborite, Kvale, Will Continue To Hold Balance In House If Three Republicans Elected

NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Paul John Kvale awakens nearly every morning, scratches his head and asks himself:

DUTCHER

"Let me see. Am I the most important member of Congress today or am I not?"

Then he looks at the morning newspaper to learn whether there have been any more congressional changes due to death or special elections and makes a note to the effect that he either is or isn't the temporary balance of power in the House of Representatives. Then he goes out and shoots ducks.

Life has been like that for Paul John Kvale since the elections of 1930. It threatens to become more and more like that until his present term expires in March, 1933.

KVALE (pronounced Qualley) is the only Farmer-Labor member. After the last general election the Republicans had two more seats than the Democrats. Then other congressmen began to die—14 so far—and now, thanks to death and recent elections, the Democrats have three more seats than the Republicans.

Kvale's relative importance as a balance of power or potential balance of power has see-sawed up and down. When there are 217 Republicans and 217 Democrats he can, by his vote, toss control of the House to either party. The three seats now vacant through death are Republican seats. If Republicans retain all three, Kvale goes in the driver's seat again. If the Democrats win only one of the vacant seats and a death occurs among them, there's Kvale again as a one-man balance of power. You can work out a dozen such combinations, all likely enough to suggest that the Minnesota Farmer-Labor party will continue to hold a disproportionate share of influence and publicity throughout the next Congress.

KVALE'S position is somewhat similar to that of Senator Shipstead, the Minnesota Farmer-Laborite who sits with 48 Republicans, 47 Democrats and a Republican vice president who has a deciding vote, although the Senate lineup has remained constant all year.

His career resembles that of another young progressive, Senator Bob LaFollette of Wisconsin, the chief difference that LaFollette won his present prominence by vigor and ability and Kvale his largely through circumstance. But Kvale now has new and expanded opportunities.

Kvale is 35 and LaFollette 36. Each was elected to succeed a deceased father whom each had long served as secretary, campaign manager and confidential adviser. Each took office well trained for congressional service. Kvale's father was the clergyman who announced that he was drier than Andrew J. Volstead and defeated Volstead when he last ran for Congress. Both Kvales were always interested in "LaFolletteism."

At this time of year Kvale hunts ducks every morning near his home at Benson, Minn. His next favorite sport is music. Besides six years of service with his father he has been a high school teacher, a newspaperman and an aviator. He was a sergeant and machine gun instructor in the A. E. F. and a bill to cash soldier bonus certificates has been his most interesting contribution to the legislative hopper here.

His constituency, largely Scandinavian, is almost entirely agricultural.

Diet and Health

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D., Author of "THE HUMAN BODY"

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six pamphlets and six articles by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each pamphlet and 2 cents in coin for each article, with a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Reducing and Gaining," "Feminine Hygiene," "Indigestion and Constipation," "The Care of the Hair and Skin," "Infant Feeding" and "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes." The articles are: "Normal Diet," "List of Books for Mothers," "Bed Wetting," "Diet of the Expectant Mother," "Ear Troubles" and "Tuberculosis."

DANGER OF BURNS

AS SOON as your child is old enough to begin to toddle around, comes the danger of burns.

Dr. Clendening

Accidents occur, of course, while the child is still in the cradle. Scalding water spills on the skin, flaming matches fall from the hands of the mother or nurse. But these hazards are increased a thousand-fold when the little adventurer in life begins to move around and explore the world for himself.

There is even more danger later when sister is big enough to help mother by carrying a kettle of boiling water. By reaching for a kettle on the stove where it is a little too high for her, and may tip and spill during her clumsy but earnest efforts to lift it down. When junior has become fascinated with the mystery of fire and has begun to play with matches. When bottles of inflammable cleaning fluid are left so that they can be investigated.

The greatest danger is from hot liquids. The Milwaukee children's hospital has published an investigation into the burns treated in their hospital during the last few years. There were 214 cases (all in children). Ninety-seven were burned by hot water, 19 by hot coffee, 4 by hot soup, 2 by hot milk and 2 by hot gravy. This makes a total of 124 burned practically by the same method—n—early two-thirds of the total.

The next largest number were burned by fire—35. Only 4 were burned by firecrackers. Two were burned by gunpowder. Six were burned by contact with the metal of a hot stove.

Other ways were by cleaning fluid which ignited, a steam pipe, and such chemicals as iodine, ammonia, toothache medicine, and especially lye.

plain. The most dangerous place for

The lesson of these figures is getting burns is the kitchen. Your children should not be asked or allowed to help there until they are old enough and big enough and selves.

strong enough to protect them-

Water is one of the heaviest substances in the world. Too heavy for little hands and arms to move a great deal of it readily. And it easily gets out of control—it spills and splashes and spreads out into a broad stream which, when it is scalding, injuries a wide area of skin. Then its specific heat, as the physicists say, is very high; it retains high temperatures for a long time.

It is hardly necessary to dwell on the serious nature of such burns. Aside from the immediate danger of death—29 of the 214 children died—the permanent deformities are life-long handicaps. Young skin is tender and the scarring is deep. Such scars on the face are serious disfigurements. A beautiful little girl may spoil her whole life by trying to lift a boiling kettle from the stove.

MUSTEROLE

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—It was during the intermission between acts two and three of those very smart comedies.

All the wits, ermines, sophisticates and public social figures were carefully shuffled on the sidewalks, under a sheltering theater marquee.

Out of the half-dark of the street areaway leading to Sixth avenue suddenly appeared two young women. One was about 24, and not attractive. The other appeared to be slightly younger, was poorly dressed and slovenly of appearance.

And to the amazement of the ritzy gathering, these two girls began to "panhandle."

In the several years that I have dwelt in New York, I have seen many things—but never before have I encountered young women who had sunk to the whining snivel of the fawning street beggars. They went about their sniveling with the professional air of those half-men who clutter the New York streets.

ONE used the old line: "Cantcha help a girl getta cupa coffee . . ."

The other's approach was different. . . . "Cantcha helpa girl get a room so's she can stay straight."

Obviously they were working together; probably to gather courage.

To be sure we have all been told time and again about the equal rights of women with men; we've watched them launch successfully into business; we've seen them occupy high posts in the world of law and banking and merchandising. So I assume they should have the equality of the gutter as well.

SOME weeks ago Konrad Bercovici was telling me the tale of a young woman whose fortunes were at the lowest ebb. And he declared her to be the finest type of feminine independence—a glowing example of her sex.

The scene was one of those free coffee kitchens opened by charitable folk during the depression. A small cafe had been taken over and food and coffee was being distributed to girls out of work. Sitting at the window, Konrad had watched one girl walk back and forth several times. She was trying to gather sufficient courage to ask for food. Obviously, the idea galled her. But hunger won—and she entered.

Sitting down, she noticed several familiar faces and went to chat with another girl. While waiting to be served, she was offered a cigaret. The cigaret was a mere gesture—she lit it!

At that moment, a severe-looking woman was about to serve her. Noting the cigaret, the servant of charity quickly put the food behind her.

"You cannot smoke here . . . we cannot serve you, I'm afraid," the woman began. There were other comments on the girl's casual attitude.

"The girl was hungry—more hungry, perhaps, than anyone will know," Konrad told me later. "Yet she rose, and without a word walked out the door. She could not bring herself to accept charity with string attached."

A London rubber company pays girls to test wearing qualities of shoes with rubber soles. American co-eds should take advantage of this to make some profit on the way back from automobile rides.

Crime, says a scientist, is caused by glands. Second story men are probably victims of money glands.

Anyway, Theodore Dreiser will henceforth be more careful about toothpicks in public.

Brave Coppy was the last to take his turn and do his best to make the wee fire engine travel safely down the little street. The fire dog kept on running fast. They reached the engine house at last. The others gathered 'round as Coppy jumped down off the seat.

"Into the house we'll push this truck," said he. "And I hope we have luck." Then Scouty broke right in and said, "We'll have to turn it 'round. It goes in back first, you can see. This should be easy as can be. First we'll unhitch the dog. Then roll the engine o'er the ground."

So, as his long tail swayed and switched, the slim hound shortly was unhitched. He ran right to his little stall, where he stayed day and night. "He sure knows just where he belongs. He stays there till he hears fire gongs," said Clowny. "I'll bet, when he's hitched it is a thrilling sight."

The Tinies then all lent a hand to make the little engine stand face out, as 'twas suposed to face. It didn't take them long. Said Scouty, "Gee, that plan is slick. The truck can get away real quick. Say, shall we wait until we hear another clanging gong?"

"Oh, no," said Coppy, "I suggest that we look 'round and do our best to find a comfy place to eat. I'm ready for a meal." "Me, too," said Clowny. "Come, let's go. I'd like two sandwiches, or so. You know, when you have had enough, how good it makes you feel."

They shortly found a small cafe and then the bunch heard Scouty say, "Well, look who's going to wait on us. A Scotty, trim and neat. They found a table. Then the pup, dressed in an apron, walked right up. The Tinies smiled and Scotty said, "What will you have to eat?"

(The Tinymites ride in a dog cart in the next story.)

PANTRY OF UNION WOMEN IS VISITED SATURDAY NIGHT

The pantry of Mrs. E. R. Slater in the Union community was visited Saturday night by a group which attended the annual achievement day program of the Union Home Demonstration club.

Mrs. Slater has 938 containers of vegetables, relishes and jellies including, 80 quarts of tomatoes, 166 quarts of fruit juices, 197 cans of leafy vegetables, 169 cans of other vegetables, 259 of starchy vegetables, 40 quarts of mince meat, 78 jars of jellies, 149 jars of pickles and relishes. Total value of foods she has preserved is $309, in addition to $225 worth of vegetables she sold fresh and $60 worth of canned foods she sold.

Summary report of Mrs. M. D. Gamble, the secretary, showed that club members had canned 4,194 containers of vegetables, 202 containers of fruit, 822 containers of pickles, 100 containers of preserves, 477 containers of meat, 24 quarts of brine vegetables, 71 quarts of fruit juices, 600 quarts of relishes, 500 quarts of mince meat. In addition the club has canned 106 containers for a sick neighbor and 108 containers for the Slaton Chamber of Commerce to use in charity work. More than 2,500 pounds of meats were preserved for family use last winter. Meat is yet to be cured and canned for this winter. Practically all members plan to can a beef besides the pork they plan to cure.

Mrs. V. L. Cade is president. Attending from Lubbock were L. C. Ellis, Durwood H. Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. B. Sherrod, H. J. Bower, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Eaton, Marjorie Taylor, Ruth Stockton, Dorothy McFarland and J. H. Brock. Short talks were made by Messrs. Eaton, Bower, Sherrod, Ellis, Bradley, Brock and Miss McFarland.

ROBBERS GET $1,000 IN LOOT AT SLATON

SLATON, Nov. 23 (Special)—Loot totaling about $1,000, including $150 in cash, was taken from the City Drug store here about midnight Sunday. Four diamond rings, a diamond wedding ring, three women's wrist watches, two men's wrist watches, and about 10 pocket knives were stolen.

Entrance was gained by breaking glass in a rear window and crawling through the opening. Hearing the crash, Deputy Sheriff R. L. Wicker went to an alley and commanded a fleeing man to halt. The night officer fired three shots and the suspect escaped. Two men were believed to have executed the break-in, the Lubbock county sheriff's department was notified.

Most of the money taken was ickels, dimes and quarters. No rrests had been made late this orning in connection with the obbery.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 23 (AP)—Cotton opened barely steady today at a decline of 2 to 6 points on renewed liquidation and selling from the South. January sold off to 6.08 but offerings were absorbed later by covering and trade buying.

There seemed to be considerable selling here early through brokers supposed to be acting for the cooperative interests and by brokers with Japanese connections. The pressure subsided somewhat after the first few minutes and the market steadied up on continued covering with January advancing to 6.10 and May to 6.48. The market at the end of the first half hour was about net unchanged to 2 points lower. Reports from Washington concerning the arrangements for financing the holding of between 6 1-2 and 7 million bales of cotton under the New Orleans agreements of last month seemed to be without much effect on the early market.

Liverpool cables attributed relative steadiness there to covering and trade buying and reported a fair cloth business pending with India.

The rally from the opening decline carried prices up to 6.19 for January and 6.5[illegible] for May, or about 6 to 8 points net higher later in the morning. Offerings seemed to increase on this advance, however, and there probably was some selling of cotton on the easier ruling reported in the wheat and stock markets. Prices worked off to 6.09 for January and 6.44 for May, with the active months showing net losses of about 2 to 4 points at midday.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 23 (AP)—The cotton market opened easier today although Liverpool cables were better than due on much lower sterling. First trades here showed losses of 2 to 3 points. Easing continued after the start on further December liquidation. Tomorrow will be first notice day for that option and there were many selling orders in the market at the start.

December traded down to 5.94, January to 6.06 and March to 6.25, down 5 to 6 points from Saturday's close. Near the end of the first hour prices were steady but at the lows.

Following the early decline the market had a good rally reported due to shorts covering and good trade buying. December advanced to 6.06, Jan. to 6.20 and March to 6.38, up 12 to 14 points from the early lows.

Toward noon prices turned easier with stocks and wheat, Dec. dropping to 5.99, Jan. to 6.11 and March to 6.30, down 7 to 9 points from the highs, and to about level with Saturday's close.

At noon the market was rather easy in sympathy with stocks and grain weakness.

NEW ORLEANS OPEN

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 23 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady today: Dec. 5.97; Jan. 6.09; March 6.28; May 6.47; July 6.65; Oct. 6.89.

NEW YORK OPEN

NEW YORK, Nov. 23 (AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady today: Dec. 6.01; Jan. 6.08; March 6.26; May 6.40; July 6.61; Oct. 6.89.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 23 (AP)—Firmness of industrial issues failed to provide much help for a heavy railroad group in today's stock market.

Prices opened under moderate pressure but the decline was checked in the first half hour after U. S. Steel had duplicated Saturday's low of 60. Net gains of a point or slightly more developed in American telephone, Allied Chemical, Westinghouse, Eastman, Case and Johns-Manville. Steel fully regained its loss.

Rail shares, however, showed only temporary improvement and sagged back toward their early lows after fractional recoveries. Atchison, Union Pacific, New York Central, Southern Pacific, Pennsylvania and Rock Island were off 1 to 2 1-2.

Call money ruled at 2 1-2 per cent.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 23 (AP)—Grain prices tended sharply downward early today, influenced by a tumble in British exchange rates. The acute weakness of sterling was in turn ascribed to sales to cover payments on goods which have been rushed into Great Britain before new tariffs become effective. Opening 3-8 to 1 1-8 cents off, wheat afterward fell further. Corn started at 1-4 decline to 1-2 advance and subsequently receded all around.

Gov. Sterling To Inspect Oil Area

AUSTIN, Nov. 23 (AP)—Governor R. S. Sterling will leave tonight for the East Texas oil field where he will spend two days on a trip of inspection.

He said his itinerary had not been definitely fixed on suggestion of General Jacob F. Wolters, in command of Texas national guardsmen occupying the area under martial law, who said no definite schedule could be adopted in advance.

It will be the governor's first visit since he issued his proclamation placing the field under martial law last August 17, when all wells were closed in for a period to put proration into effect after production had been unrestricted since the pool was discovered about this time last year.

Painting Found To Be Worth Fortune

CHICAGO, Nov. 23, (AP)—A painting, listed as having been done by an "unknown artist," purchased by a wealthy Chicago woman for $400, was described today by Dr. Maurice Goldblatt, an art authority, as a genuine Gainsborough, valued at $50,000.

The purchaser was Mrs. Sol H. Goldbert, wife of a wealthy hairpin manufacturer. She was passing an auction sale of paintings recently when she was attracted by an oil depicting a pastoral scene with a turreted castle in the background. She overbid several other persons.

HICCOUGHING STOPS

KITTANNING, Pa., Nov. 23 (AP)—Walter Bovard, 53, was recovering today from a five-day attack of hiccoughing which started last Monday night. The attack ceased late Saturday night and Bovard was under observation today in a hospital here.

AUSTIN, Nov. 23 (AP)—S. M. N. Marrs, state superintendent of public instruction, has accepted an invitation to attend President Hoover's conference on home building and home ownership in Washington, December 2 to 5.

HOUSE FOR RENT

SEATTLE, Wash.—Mike Creek, laborer, wanted to set up light housekeeping, but he didn't have a house. Chancing upon a suitable tool shed in the yard of a construction company, he hired a truck and hauled it to a location which pleased his fancy. From a nearby dump he produced furniture to fit out his new home. Its appearance, when completed, made Mike's eyes sparkle with pride. Police, however, interrupted his reveries to drag him off to jail for stealing the tool shed.

GRID TICKETS

Kancher, division passenger agent of the Santa Fe.

"Ticket sales are going rather slow," Mr. Kancher said, "and we're afraid we'll be short of equipment if a last-minute rush is made." He said order for the trains must be made by Wednesday morning.

"Indications are that the weather will be inclement and will prevent fans from driving up to the game," Mr. Kancher said. "We would like for those fans who had planned to drive to make reservations as soon as possible".

TRAINS ASSIGNED

"The Westerner", one of the special trains to be run to Amarillo Thursday for the Lubbock-Amarillo game, will be occupied only by high school students, the band, pep squad and faculty members, according to plans announced by Supt. M. H. Duncan this morning. It is thought there will be enough fares to justify the running of "The Westerner" for the students only. "The Plainsman", the other Santa Fe train christened after the Daily Journal's columnist, Chas. A. Guy, will carry adult fans of Lubbock and vicinity, it was said.

Present plans call for the running of two trains to the game, one to be known as "The Westerner" and the other as "The Plainsman".

Schedule of the trains is as follows: Leave Lubbock, 9:15 a. m. Thursday, arrive Amarillo, 12:01 p. m.; leave Amarillo 7:30 p. m., arrive Lubbock, 10:30 p. m.

FANS WARNED ON FAKE TICKETS

AMARILLO, Nov. 23 (Special)—Although all the reservations for the Lubbock-Amarillo game here Thanksgiving have been disposed of and nothing remains now but to sell general admission tickets, T. G. Hull, faculty member in charge of the ticket sale, still has his worries.

Friday afternoon a suave young man approached a local printing concern and made a proposition with the proprietor to "run off" 1,000 duplicate reserved tickets. The young man minced no words, explaining his proposition in about four minutes and hurriedly disappearing when his offer was turned down.

Hull is fearful some fake tickets will find their way into the hands of unscrupulous persons and will be sold to honest people. He warns every fan to purchase tickets from no one save officials at the ticket office in the Chamber of Commerce headquarters.

"There is only one place to buy genuine tickets," Hull said Saturday, "and that is at the Chamber of Commerce. The price is $1. I believe everyone who wishes to see the game will be taken care of. There is no need for any one to pay a premium for tickets. And if any one does, he'll be taking a chance of buying a bogus ticket. All tickets will be carefully examined at the gates Thursday and with experts thoroughly acquainted with type in charge, there is not a scant chance for any one to put across a bogus ticket. So be very careful."

ONLY GIRLS SELLING FOR PEP SQUAD

Pololwing reports that a number of young men were selling football souvenirs and buttons for the Lubbock-Amarillo game, M. H. Duncan, superintendent of schools, issued a statement this morning in which he said that no one but girl members of the high school pep squad had been authorized to sell souvenirs.

"We've had several people to tell us that boys under the guise of pep squad members are selling these buttons," Mr. Duncan said. "The pep squad girls are endeavoring to raise funds to make the trip by selling these trinkets and they would like to have the support of the townspeople and fans."

BULLARD IMPROVES

Improvement was reported today in the condition of Selma Bullard, 23, of Milford, Texas, who suffered a fractured skul in an automobile collision Saturday at Anton. Bullard had regained consciousness and his condition was good, attendants at West Texas hospital here said late this morning.

FLYING BOMB TO BE THE BIG NOISE OF NEXT WAR, SAYS SON OF INVENTOR

NEW YORK, Nov. 23. (AP)—"Big guns!" scoffed Elmer A. Sperry, Jr. "They'll play a minor role in military tactics of the future. The flying bomb is the thing."

Sperry, who at 38 has the enthusiasm of a stripling, explained today how the robot pilot, developed by his famous father with the admiring son helping, will revolutionize warfare if the world is ever afflicted with another war.

Meanwhile, it is being devoted to peacetime uses. The eastern air transport today officially sets it to work flying air liners between New York and the south.

"A flying bomb or aerial torpedo," Sperry declared, "is the cheapest way to deliver a ton of explosive to an objective. A gun is the most expensive.

"Say you want to destroy an ammunition depot 500 miles away. A big gun couldn't do it, but an aerial torpedo could. You'd simply fit a cheap plane with a robot pilot and some other gadgets and load it with explosive. Then one dark night, it would take off by itself, with another plane following, controlling it by radio.

"When the flying bomb reached the depot, down it would plunge, blowing everything off the map. Then the human pilot could fly back and sit down to breakfast."

The robot pilot, an essential feature of such a bomb, was developed through the years by the elder Sperry who died in 1930. Perfected with the aid of his son, it is principle very much like another Sperry automatic pilot, called by mariners "iron mike," which keeps heavy steamships ploughing a true course for days through the sea.

Extension Class Is Formed In Dickens

Twenty school teachers of Dickens, Spur and Dickens county have organized an extension class for Texas Technological college, J. F. McDonald, director of the extension service, said.

"They got 20 teachers together and signed them up and then asked us for a teacher," Mr. McDonald, said. "That certainly shows a splendid spirit. We are to go there Tuesday night with a teacher and complete the organization."

Meadow has an extension class, recently organized, he said. At Brownfield the class probably will not start until after the holidays.

JAIL BREAK

blades have been found in the jail at intervals for several months, officers said.

The last successful break here occurred at city jail July 12, when nine prisoners escaped. Four were recaptured.

An automobile stolen early Sunday morning about six miles north of Lubbock and abandoned after being driven about six miles was believed to have been taken by fugitives from the jail here. Two men were believed to have taken the machine.

A majority of the prisoners—city, county, and federal charges—remained in the jail although they did not warn officers.

DEMO MAJORITY

and one Republican, closed their campaigns for election to congress from the 14th district to succeed the late Harry M. Wurzbach, republican, with political meetings today. Election will be tomorrow.

Three entries led the field. They were Carl Wright Johnson, Democrat, San Antonio; Richard M. Kleberg, Democrat, Corpus Christi; and Charles W. Anderson, Republican, San Antonio. Others were expected to poll only a scattering vote.

Both state and national political significance was attached to the election because Wurzbach was the only Republican in the Texas congressional delegation and because of the closeness of the vote between the two parties in organization of the house at the coming winter session.

Republicans pinned their hopes on the split in the Democratic ranks.

Baptists Receive 81 In Pond Revival

Rev. W. Y. Pond, of Waco, who is conducting a revival at the First Baptist church, has announced as his sermon theme for the evening service, "Sister Lot and the Society of Sodom and Gomarrah."

The revival begins its second week of services today. Eighty-one persons have asked for membership thus far in the meeting.

Enrollment Lower At Sunday Schools

The drop in temperature Sunday caused a decline in enrollment at Lubbock Sunday schools and a total of 3,020 was reported for eight churches. The First Baptist church reported an attendance of 921 and First Methodist, 741. Others were as follows:

Broadway Church of Christ, 445; First Christian, 274; First Presbyterian, 258; Asbury Methodist, 156; Calvary Baptist, 121; Cumberland Presbyterian, 104.

bureau observers. Rain was predicted in the eastern, central and southern regions and there was a possibility of precipitation in the west.

The Panhandle region, which caught the full force of a sleet storm early today, was again threatened with freezing temperatures. However, the mercury was not expected to slump as low as today's minimum.

Showers have visited practically every portion of the state in the past 48 hours, breaking an unseasonable heat period. The precipitation was regarded as an aid to crops and range conditions.

The only storm damage reported was in the Panhandle where numerous telephone and telegraph lines were broken by ice. The Panhandle was virtually isolated for hours by the storm.

No Criminal Cases Slated This Week

No criminal cases are on 99th or 72nd district court dockets this week.

Counsel for Pitson Lambert, a negro charged with murder, refused to waive a special venire and the negro's trial was postponed. Understanding Lambert had no attorney, counsel was appointed for him and agreed to choose a jury from the regular venire, Durwood H. Bradley, district attorney, said. Subsequently, it was learned that Lambert had a lawyer, the prosecutor said. Lambert probably will be tried at next term of court.

Many railway stations in France are to be abandoned.

Periodical Pains Relieved In 3 Minutes

Month after month some women still suffer needless pain but those who know simply go to a drug store or soda fount, get a package or dose of "B-C" and get perfect relief in 3 minutes, continuing their duties in pain-free, easy comfort.

"B-C" is the formula of two North Carolina druggists, contains several ingredients that function together for the relief of headache, neuralgia and periodical pains, accomplishing in a few minutes what no one drug formula can do under 1 to 3 hours.

"B-C" stops the pain, quiets the nerves, is perfectly harmless. No other preparation like it. Nothing else gives such profound relief. Ask your druggist, he knows. (Adv).

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

he weekly Confidential Report f Secret Operative X45833R. Here 'tis, in all good grace.

"And now comes a garbled ranslation of the report of the ctivities of the Lamesa High chool Golden Tornadoes (he night have added 'of Lamesa of Dawson County of Texas'), that ave transpired since my last eport.

"And if it's not garbled now we'll scream if he starts anther paragraph with a connection; it will be when Coller Parris gets a whack at it. refer to him of the big Axe, nd the missing bill fold.

"Anyway, the vocal boys engaged in a highly contested ame of football here Wednesay afternoon in which they ere sorely pressed to squeeze t a 7-0 win over the Tulia illers.

his humble one sees nothing misery in store for the Tores. They sure did look sick nesday, and it sure is easy to out the fact that Floydada push them clear off the field beat them out of everything pt their pretty trousers when two teams meet on Thanksgiv- Day

"You are asked to watch these umns for the information as where the game will be play- (It has since been decided play at Lamesa). From the ermined attitude of all the icials concerned, it would apr that the supreme court will e to step in and decided as where the battle will be ed. Toodle oo, Operative 3R now signing off."

too bad we're going to have miss that Floydada-Lamesa It is likely to be nothing less great, big wow of a gridiron between the two strongest B teams of the district. The football game of the season, an all around standpoint, was here last Wednesday between oydada Whirlwinds and the eld Wildcats, and if you elieve it, consult the records. the style was not as beautiee as some of the bigger cold high school games here eason but those kids surely us something about fight irit. They knew their footoo.

rhaps you note Colonel nus Tack's rating of the ock and Amarillo high l teams in yesterday's nche-Journal. If you did then the first thing you d do after reading this is by for a copy of the paper.

Old Tack, the Amarillo Big Boy, has prepared a careful analysis concerning both teams and it is interesting to behold. But Old Tack, you sure fixed yourself up, didn't you? Boy, the alibi you printed is about the best we have ever seen. It should be plain enough for anybody to see.

Old Tack, who as a dopster and judge of football games is a good argufier with operatic folk, is quite plain in his indication that Amarillo will win, yet in his comparison of the things that count, we mean the classification of individual players, passing attack, punting, blocking and experience, he gives Lubbock a big edge. Read it if you don't believe it. So when Lubbock beats Amarillo, when and if it does, Old Tack will say, in nicer phrases perhaps, "I told you so! Didn't I show you in black and white where the Westerners had it on the Amarillo Sandies?" So he's fixed up, no matter how the wind blows.

FOOTBALL STARS OF SATURDAY

(By The Associated Press)

Johnny Baker, Southern California—His field goal in last minute of play beat Notre Dame, 16-14.

Albie Booth, Yale—Booted field goal in fourth quarter to stop Harvard, 3-0.

Henry Schaldach, California—led his team to 6-6 win over Stanford.

Lewis Brown, Nebraska—Ran 80 yeards for touchdown to aid Nebraska to beat Iowa State and clinch Big Six title.

Ken Travis and Weldon Mason, Southern Methodist—Passing combination accounted for both touchdowns against Navy.

Jim Hodgins, Tulane—Scored twice against Sewanee on runs of 77 and 57 yards.

Bill Hewitt, Michigan — Beat Minnesota with 57 yard run for only touchdown of the game.

HALE CENTER TO HOLD "OLD FOLK'S BANQUET" NOV. 24

HALE CENTER, Nov. 23. (Special)—Plans have been completed by the committee of the Hale Center Chamber of Commerce for the annual "Old Folks Banquet" to be held Tuesday noon in the annex of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Dr S. J. Underwood, chairman, announced.

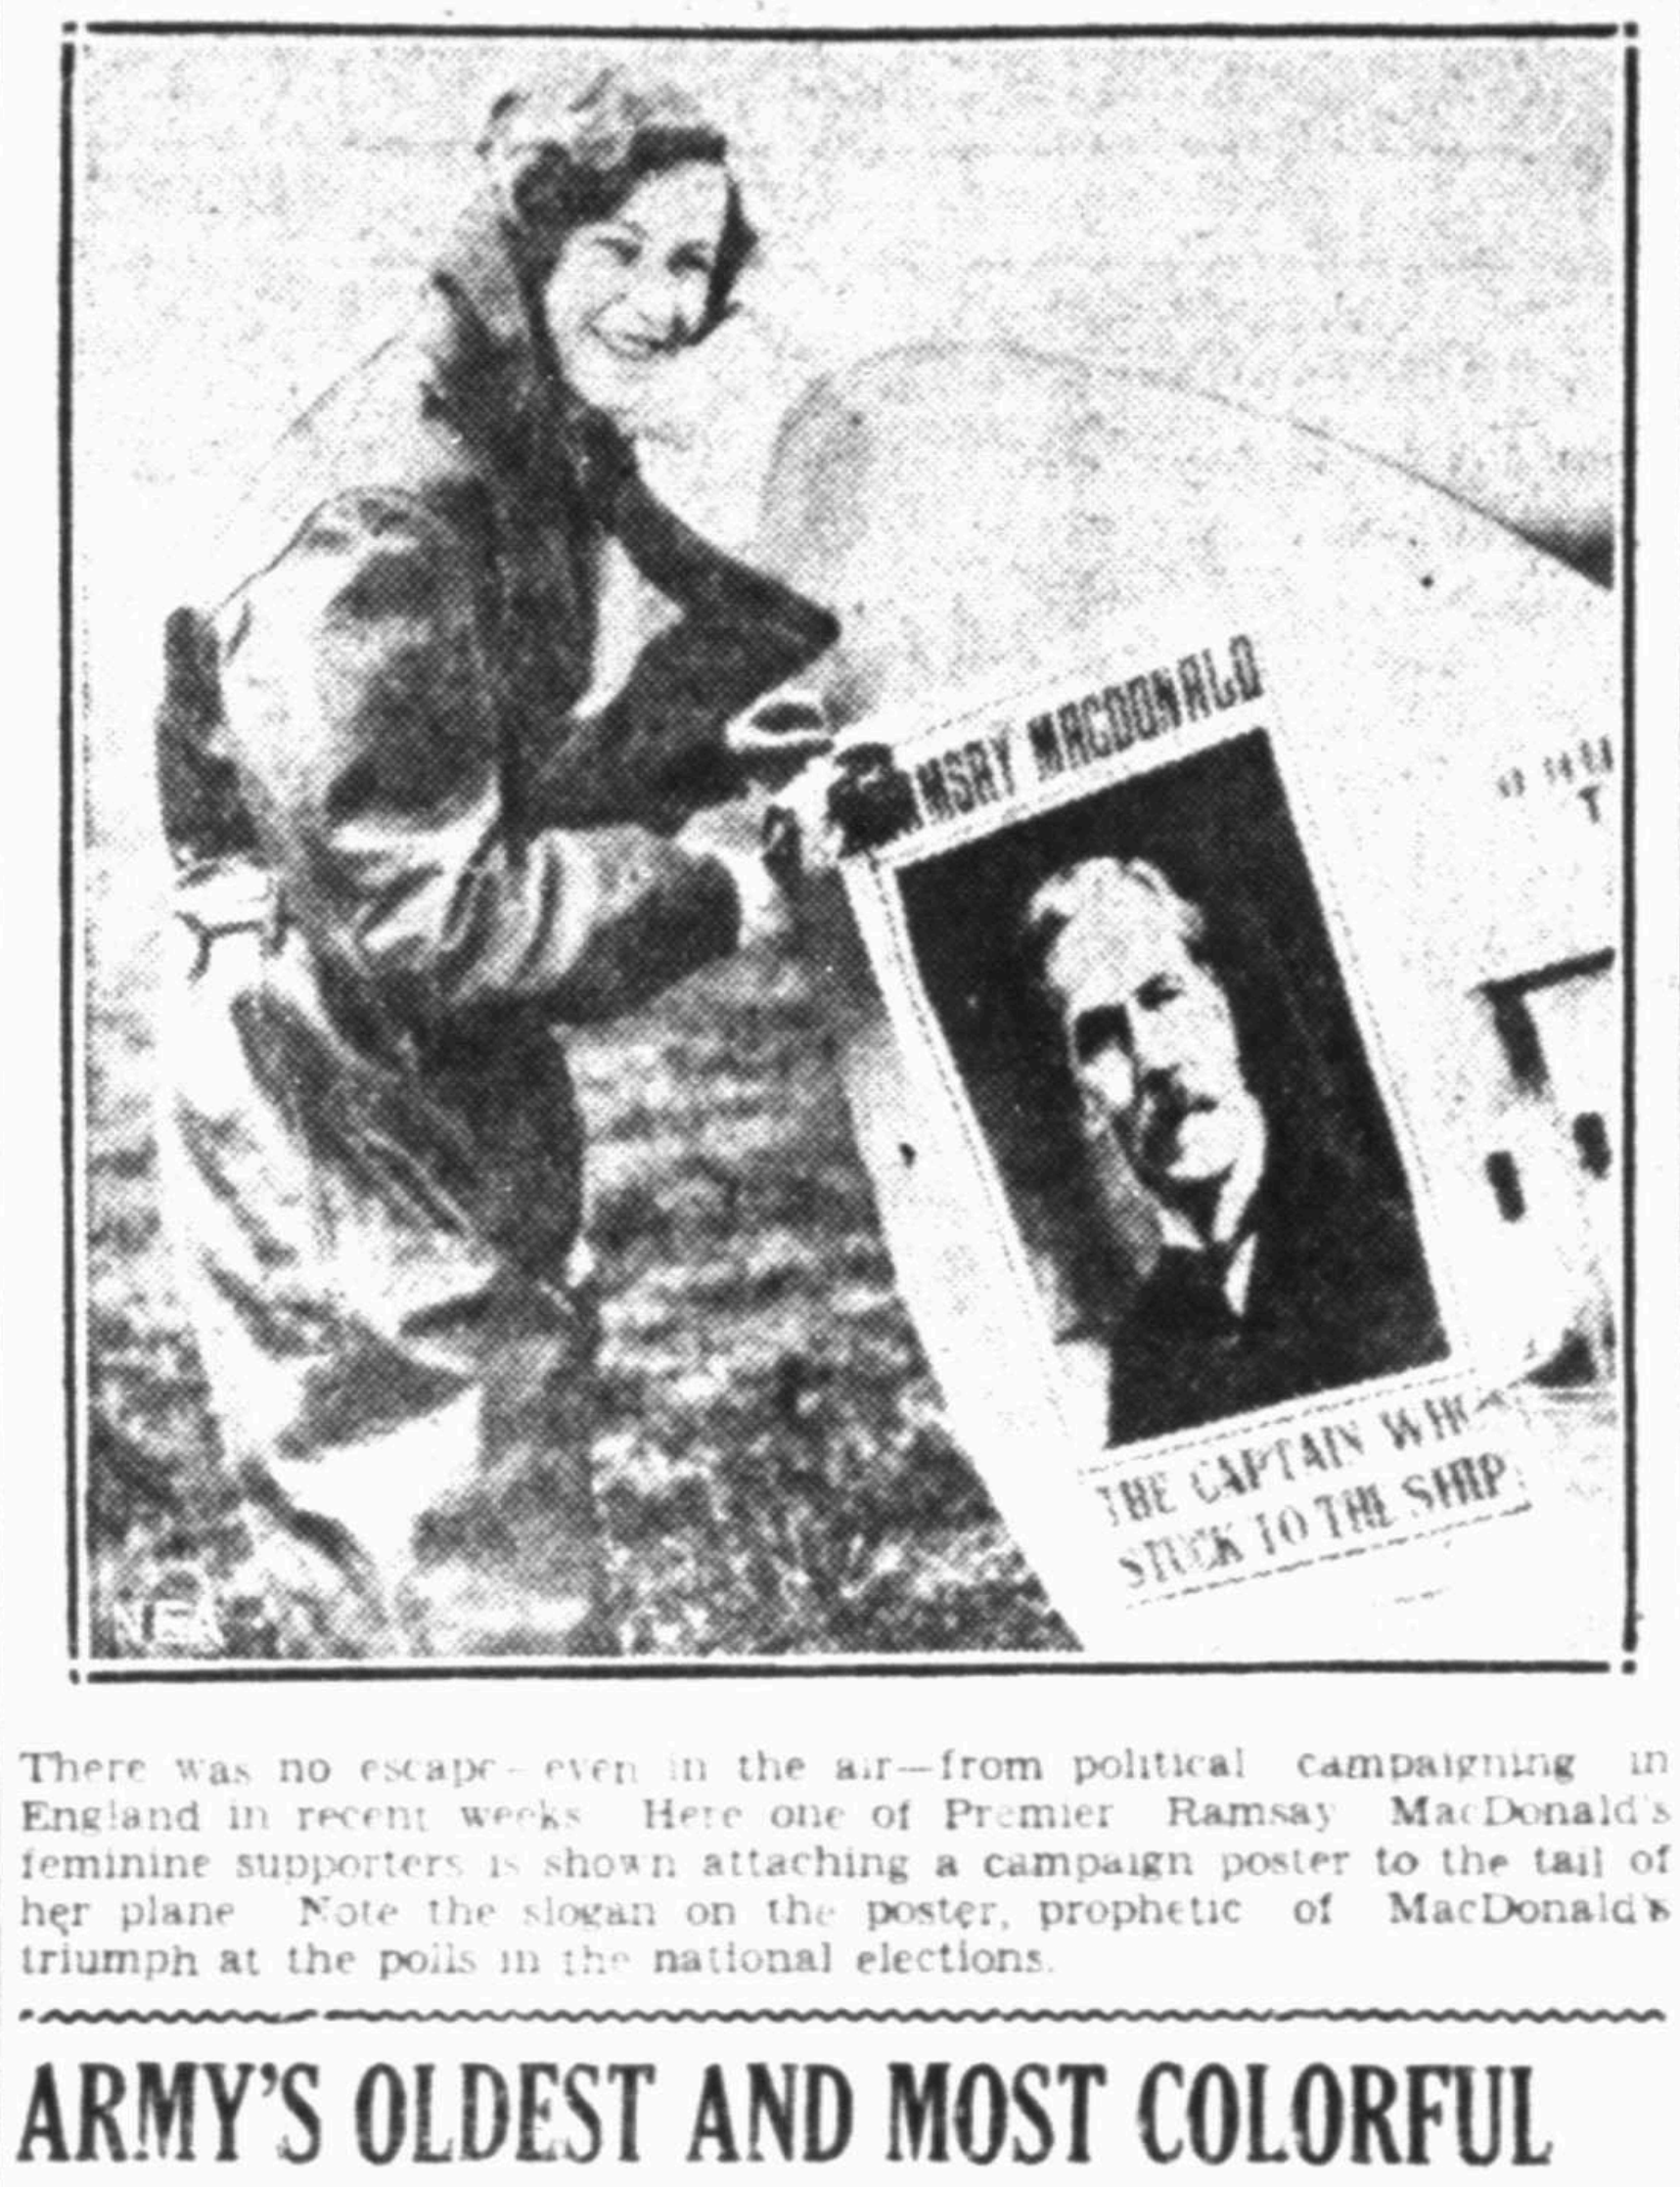
It is expected that 30 or more persons 80 years of age and over, will be guests of the local organization. Last year more than a dozen attended.

Tickets are being sold to others for the affair. An attendance of more than 100 others, besides the guests, is anticipated.

Several are expected to attend from Plainview and Lubbock.

Among the local guests are the following, all 80 years of age or more: J. F. Saeser, S. A. Bird, R. W. Lemond, D. T. Weddington, G. D. Allen, J. A. Wheeler, S. P. Burham, Z. M. Wilson, Mrs. Nance Taylor, Mrs. J. W. Cox, Mrs. E. J. Coffey, Mrs. L. J. Yates, Mrs. Norfleet, Mrs Sarah Walls, Mrs. Margaret C. Neeley, Miss Emma Landers, D. Wardlow, Mrs Sallie Cook, Mrs. Wagner, Mrs. Celina Gilvray, R. G. Brownd, J. C. Pierce, Mrs. J. A. Johnson, Jimmie Ritchey and R. W. Babb.

Politics in the Air!



RAMSAY MACDONALD
THE CAPTAIN WHO STUCK TO THE SHIP
NEA

There was no escape—even in the air—from political campaigning in England in recent weeks. Here one of Premier Ramsay MacDonald's feminine supporters is shown attaching a campaign poster to the tail of her plane. Note the slogan on the poster, prophetic of MacDonald's triumph at the polls in the national elections.

ARMY'S OLDEST AND MOST COLORFUL REGIMENT WILL BE MECHANIZED SOON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (AP)—The army's oldest and most colorful calvary regiment is to surrender before the rush of armored cars and tanks its 100 years of glory in the saddle.

Known to old-timers as the dandy first regiment, it will be mechanized in the spring.

The stirring thunder of hoofs will give way to the roar and grind of machinery but the story of the regiment's romantic service against the Indians of the old west, in the Mexican and Civil wars, in Cuba, and the Philippines is an ineffaceable part of army history. The young officer who was to become the president of the Confederacy—Lieutenant Jefferson Davis—was its adjutant when the regiment was organized in 1833.

In 1916 and 1917 the regiment helped patrol the Mexican border but when the World war came infantry, rather than cavalry, was the great need in France. It was the first time the old regiment was not called for active service on the front.

Stationed at various western and southwestern posts the old regiment will move from Fort D. A. Russell, Marfa, Texas, to Camp Knox, Ky., between next May 1, and June 30, to put on wheels and tractor belts and change its designation to first cavalry (mechanized).

Blows Himself To Honors With Horn

LOUISVILLE, Neb., Nov. 23 (AP)—With a big baritone horn, F. H. Nichols has virtually blown himself into the honor of being Louisville's most distinguished citizen for 1931.

Henry A. Newman post of the American Legion chose him for the honor and will present him with a loving cup at a civic ceremonial.

Nichols has made the town band-conscious. There are four full sized bands, to say nothing of an orchestra. There's the farmers' band, the cement factory band, the high school band, the official town band and the Nichols family orchestra.

Nichols plays in two of them and had a hand in the organization of all.

Convicts May Take Extension Courses

ST. PAUL, Nov. 23. (AP)—College courses by mail will be offered to prisoners at the Minnesota state penitentiary.

The state board of control has completed arrangements with the extension division of the University of Minnesota whereby inmates at the prison may take the school's correspondence courses, numbering 250 and ranging from art to business and political science.

The prisoners would pay the regular tuition charge for mail order courses from money earned at the penitentiary.

The new educational policy is in line with other reforms made at the institution after the Wickersham report on the nation's penal systems.

THATA GIRL!

AUSTIN—University of Texas co-eds are good sports, their boy friends all agree. Isabel Abdou, president of women's organizations at the College of Mines, is in favor of a moratorium on taxes for college dances this year and is confident the girls will vote for it, thereby saving their boy friends tax fare.

Capitalizing the publicity he received in May, 1930 when he became the father of quadruplets, Carl A. Morlok was elected constable at Lansing, Mich., by an overwhelming margin over the closest of his six opponents. Morlok's campaign card, on which appear pictures of the new constable and his four young daughters, is shown above. Morlok carried 37 of the city's 39 precincts.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

MAN IN THE MOON GETS FACE LIFTED TO ALLOW BETTER VIEW OF MOON MAP

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE, Associated Press Science Editor

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 23. (AP)—The sides of the moon's face, now distorted to human sight by the satellite's curvature, are being "lifted" just a little into better view by a new kind of moon map.

Man sees fully only a small part of the middle of the moon's face, that part directly in line with his eye. Everywhere toward the edges of the moon, he is really looking down the constantly steepening sides of a hill, because the moon is a globe.

This moon map, described to the national academy of sciences at Yale university today by Dr. F. E. Wright and Dr. F. G. Pease of the Carnegie institution of Washington, is equivalent to taking an airplane on the moon and flying a short distance toward the edges to get a look straight downward to see what the lunar topography looks like if directly underneath.

This seemingly impossible trick is feasible because of the moon's nodding motion, scientifically called its libration. Very slowly, with a motion requiring years for each shake of his head, the moon turns his face back and forth over a distance of about 10 degrees.

As a result the moon presents a slightly different face toward the earth each year. Ordinarily it would take about one lifetime of watching to see all these moon faces. But a new device set up on top of Mount Wilson, Calif., alongside the 100-inch telescope reduces this "lifetime" to a few hours.

A photograph of the moon's face is projected like a movie "still" on a screen which is a round, white ball, about half the size of an automobile hood. This ball represents a miniature, artificial moon.

By use of some unique devices the photograph can be varied to produce exactly the same views on this moon screen as would come from flying about the moon to look straight down from angles a few degrees to one side of the center.

CHURCHES ASKED TO DETERMINE DATE OF EASTER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23. (AP)—American churches soon will be asked to help settle the question: when does Easter Sunday come?

Varying over a period of 35 days, the uncertain date of this religious feast day has created confusion and worked hardship on business which annually caters to the public's fancy for new spring finery.

Now a league of nations committee has proposed to churches of all nations that the Sunday after the second Saturday in April be accepted as a fixed date. A note has been drafted which it is hoped all governments will commit to church representatives.

Dr. C. F. Marvin, chief of the weather bureau, who attended the league committee meeting in Switzerland as a technical advisor, said today the note will be referred to the state department for possible changes before it is made public.

The committee hopes the churches will have expressed their attitudes by 1933. If its suggested date is approved it can be made effective soon afterward.

Bring Out Mittens

DOUARNENEZ, France—Sailor folk in this fishing town are bringing out heavy mittens and sea jackets. Seals have been unusually numerous, which the weather sages say indicates a hard winter.

Rogers To War

MEDFORD, Ore.—Will Rogers is on his way to the far east to be a war correspondent. "I'll be back in time for the presidential campaign," he said. "I wouldn't miss one of those for all the wars."

Horse Unharnessed

PLEASANTVILLE, N. J.—When Charles Spencer woke up his horse was unharnessed and his wagon was kindling. A train hit the rig, took the harness off the horse and dropped Spencer about 100 feet from the crossing dazed but unhurt.

Five Meals Needed

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Three meals a day may be enough for the hoi polloi but the young men at Yale find it insufficient. Dr. Yandell Henderson, discussing feeding experiments, said Yale men need five meals a day.
