Anti-Castro Commandos Attack Cuba Sugar Mill

More Raids Are Pledged

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A "very successful" commando-type attack on a sugar mill in the eastern Cuba province of Oriente was reported today by an anti-Castro action group here.

The revolutionary Recuperatin Movement (MRP) headed by Manuel Artime said the attack occurred on a big sugar mill at Púerto Pilon, on the southern coast of Oriente Province, the easternmost in Cuba.

Details are coming in on the attack and will be made public at a news conference here at 4 p.m. EST and in San Juan, Puerto Rico at 3 p.m. local time, MRP said.

Headquarters of Artime's group here said it did not know his whereabouts. It added the attack on the sugar mill was by members of the MRP group who recently landed in that area.

Exiles have vowed for several months they would resume this month active efforts to harass Fidel Castro's economy and strive for eventual overthrow of his regime.

The extent of damage to the mill and the nature of the weapons used to attack it were not announced by MRP. It said it hoped this could be made known later.

"This is the first of a series of attacks to come immediately," said a spokesman at MRP. "Our immediate objective is to liquidate targets vital to the hangman Castro. Later on we shall go in for establishment of large scale guerrilla forces in our homeland.

"Eventually we shall carry big scale war to Cuba against Castro and his Communists."

Exiles here recalled that after Castro and his little band of invaders landed in Cuba, one of his first attacks, in 1956, was against a military outpost near the same sugar mill. MRP spokesmen here said the mill is close to the Sierra Maestra where Castro and his forces carried on guerrilla warfare against a preceding dictator in Cuba, Fulgencio Batista. The Batista government fell Jan. 1, 1959.

Denton Man Shot, Killed In Ft. Worth

FORT WORTH (AP) — Wallace S. Sherman, 40, was shot to death today as he reportedly forced his way into a suburban Samson Park residence.

Sherman was dead on arrival at a hospital with gunshot wounds in his left chest and right hip.

Peace Justice Jim Boorman ruled homicide.

Samson Park police chief Emmett Burch said Sherman was shot with a .22 pistol.

Police arrested a woman at the house and said she would be taken to the district attorney's office to make a statement.

Burch said the woman told him she had obtained a court restraining order against Sherman and that he forced his way into her home while she was alone.

Rights Bill Needs Work Says RFK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said today "there is still a lot to be done" before a final accord can be reached on a package of amendments to the House-passed civil rights bill.

As he arrived at the capitol for a conference with Senate leaders of both parties, Kennedy told newsmen that serious problems remain to be settled.

Earlier Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., the GOP leader, had told newsmen that a full accord had been reached on the proposed changes, with only a final look at the exact language remaining.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., assistant majority leader and floor manager of the bill, told newsmen there still are three or four areas on which complete agreement has not been reached.

Coastal States Buys Peake's Stock

NEW YORK (AP) — The common stock of Peake Petroleum Co. was acquired Tuesday by Coastal States Gas Producing Co. of Corpus Christi, Tex. On the basis of stock market quotations, the transaction involved approximately $3,235,550.

Hotter War Is Predicted By McNamara

By ROY ESSOYAN

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Defense Secretary Robert F. McNamara today predicted a stepup in the war against Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam but warned again that it would be a long drawn out affair and "we should not delude ourselves on this score."

In a statement before leaving for Washington, he said marked progress had been made in implementing plans to increase substantially the strength and fire-power of the Vietnamese air force.

"I am confident if our plans are executed persistently they will lead to success," he said.

McNamara spoke briefly to newsmen before ending a crowded 30-hour visit in Saigon. His air force plane took off at 7:02 p.m. (6:02 a.m. EST) for Washington via Pearl Harbor.

McNamara's visit concluded with a conference with Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khang, strongman premier. They reviewed the general military, political and economic situation.

No important new recommendations on the war against the Communist Viet Cong were expected from McNamara's 30-hour visit, an aide to the secretary said.

McNamara followed up his last visit, two months ago, with wide-ranging recommendations for increased U.S. aid and more American combat advisers, if necessary.

This trip was described as mainly to update McNamara on progress made in the past two months.

Boy Still Missing In Lake Tragedy

Late this morning officers were trying to determine if the body of four - year - old Joe Daniels could possibly be in Lake J. B. Thomas.

The body of the boy's mother was discovered in the lake Tuesday morning. She and the boy had been missing from their home in Seminole since Saturday night.

A missing persons alert had been forwarded to the Lake Thomas patrol Saturday since it was thought Mrs. Daniels might have gone to a friend's cabin there. The description of the car, however, did not match the car which Mrs. Daniels was apparently driving. Lake patrolmen said that neither the car which was found, nor the car which was described, were at the lake Sunday. A workman at the lake said that the car which was found was there Monday, but since the car did not match the wanted car, it was not connected to Mrs. Daniels until her body was found.

Justice of the Peace Cone Merritt ordered an autopsy. Results of the autopsy revealed this morning that death was caused by drowning.

The Snyder fire department started dragging for the boy's body at about 4:30 p.m. Tuesday, but discontinued the search at 9:30 p.m. This morning lake personnel were continuing to drag the area where the mother's body was found.

Fire Chief Warren Boyd said this morning that the department would continue the search when officers determined definitely that the child was not somewhere other than in the lake, or when they were requested to resume dragging operations.

Several leads in and around Seminole were being investigated this morning by Scurry County sheriff Earl Abercrombie in attempting to locate the missing boy

IN SECRET SESSION

NATO Ponders France's Claims

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP) — Foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization took up in a secret session today the demands of France for a stronger role in the alliance's affairs.

Emerging from a three-hour session, Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder of West Germany would say only that he thought the meeting had a "cleansing effect" on NATO's structural problems.

This was an apparent reference to differences between France and Paul Henri Spaak, outspoken foreign minister of Belgium, over the role NATO should play in the years to come.

Before the ministers went into session, Spaak declared he would ask the French "to spell out just what you think is wrong with NATO — and how it should be righted. Otherwise, quit rocking the boat."

France wants the NATO structure loosened to give members a stronger voice in policy, and to cut down the dominant U.S. role. Other members believe the NATO structure should be tightened.

The only decision announced after the morning session was the appointment of Manlio Brosio, veteran Italian diplomat, to be NATO secretary-general to guide the alliance through the difficult period of reorganization.

Brosio on Aug. 1 will succeed Dirk U. Stikker of the Netherlands, who is stepping down because of ill health.

As the ministers emerged from the Juliana Barracks meeting hall, nearly a thousand women from NATO countries silently paraded in the neighborhood under a steady spring rain to protest the nuclear arms race.

A delegation of 15 women, each carrying a paper daisy with the word "peace" in various languages, passed through police lines and presented a petition to NATO officials. It called for general and controlled disarmament and assailed any spread of nuclear weapons.

Armed Bandit Strikes Service Station Here

A man carrying a pistol in a paper sack with only the gun's b el showing held up the Denson Gulf Service early this morning and robbed the firm of $208.

Robert Clemons, night attendant at the station, described the robber as being a white man about 19 or 20 years old. The armed robbery was reported at 3:53 a.m.

An area alert was immediately issued, but as of late this morning no arrest had been made.

Local Contractors Present Petition To School Board

A group of five Snyder building contractors met with the Snyder School Board at their regular meeting Tuesday evening and presented a petition.

The petition, which bore 138 names, was presented "to protest the practice of certain employes of Snyder Independent School District engaging in the business of construction, plumbing, painting, or real estate business." The petition continued, "We do hereby petition the Board of Trustees of Snyder Independent School District to take immediate action to see that this practice stops and to prevent such practice in the future."

In the discussion following the presentation of the petition, the builders said that they felt that no teacher could devote the proper amount of time to teaching and carry on construction projects at the same time.

They also said that they did not feel that a teacher should not have an outside job, but they felt that the building business was one which demanded attention throughout the day. Also they said they felt that teachers who engaged in building represented unfair competition, since their profit margin could be smaller, and since they were in a position of exerting influence on teachers and parents.

They objected more, they said to the teachers' ethics in the building business than to the fact that they were in the building business.

Builders presenting the petition were R. C. Read, Jerald Smith, Bert Henley, Dillard Henley and John Bailey.

School Board president J. L. Browning appointed a committee consisting of Ray Martin, Bill Schiebel and Dr. Robert Clinton to study the problem, and to return a solution at the next board meeting which would "be fair to all."

The School Board opened bids on gasoline and oil for the coming school year. The apparent low bid was submitted by the Humble distributor. Gasoline was bid at $.1775 and oil at $.83 per gallon. The total estimated cost for the year was $9,315.13. The next lowest of the six bids received was submitted by Gulf with a bid of $.1783 for gasoline and $.83 for oil per gallon. The total Gulf bid would have been $9,350.35.

The board also voted to advertise for bids on a new 9-passenger station wagon to replace a 1956 model which is used by the athletic department. Athletic director Horface Bostick met with the board to explain the needs of his department for adequate transportation.

S. L. Terry, Amos Joyce and Joe York were unanimously re-appointed to the school's tax equalization board.

Meeting with the board was Guy Sullivan, who requested that the practice of allowing the girls' summer recreation program use of the high school and junior high schools gymnasiums be continued this summer, and also that the program again be underwritten in the amount of $800 by the schools.

The recreation program, which has been in effect for several years, was continued by the board.

On a motion by Martin, seconded by Schiebel, the board voted five to one to continue the school lunch assistance program, the surplus commodity program, the NDEA program, and also to once again start participation in the milk program.

State assistance on milk purchases had been discontinued by the board three years ago. The NDEA program was set up by the National Defense Education Act following Russia's sputnik, and provides up to 50 per cent of the cost of certain teaching aids, especially in the fields of science and mathematics.

The programs are administered by the Texas Education Agency.

Voting against the motion was board member, C. L. Terry. E. D. Flynn, business manager of the schools, was re-appointed as local supervisor of the programs.

Wilson Hunt of the firm of Pritchard and Abbott, valuation engineers, was present at the meeting. He and the board members discussed the proposed budget for the coming year.

The budget for the present year, excluding debt service, is $2,314,489, including a capital outlay fund of $23,567. The proposed budget for next year is $2,324,000 not including any capital outlay fund.

Hunt said that he felt sure valuations for tax purposes could be held near the present $130,976,000 value in the school district. The official budget hearing will be held at the high school cafeteria June 30. Representatives of the oil companies are expected at the meeting.

Formal resignation of a number of teachers was accepted by the board. Those resigning were: Gerald W. Cardwell, high school physics and chemistry teacher; Mrs. Wanda Clinton, Central fourth grade teacher; Mrs. Ann Cross, East first grade teacher; Mrs. Eleanor Dryden, Travis Junior High language arts; Miss Lady Falls, high school Spanish; William A. Holt, speech therapist; Miss Nancy Johnson, Central first grade; E. J. Moore, East physical education; Mrs. Metta Moore, Lamar Junior High girls' physical education teacher; Miss Polly Satterwhite, North second grade; James H. Stewart, Travis Junior High assistant principal; and Roger Gee, who had been on leave of absence and gave written notice that he did not plan to resume teaching in Snyder.

No replacements were recommended to fill the vacant positions. It is expected that they will be filled during the summer.

T. E. McCollum, superintendent of schools, announced that the Baccalaureate Sermon would be given by Dr. Jimmie Nelson in the high school auditorium at 8 p.m. May 24, and that graduation exercises will be held Friday, May 29 at 8 p.m.

Senator Williams' Resolution Invites Probe Of Solons

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., offered a resolution today to bring senators specifically within the scope of the Bobby Baker investigation and to broaden the inquiry to include the handling of campaign funds and other matters.

His resolution, for which he requested immediate consideration, also would extend to Sept. 1 the Rules Committee's investigation now scheduled to be finished at the end of this month.

Introduction of the resolution was touched off by a stormy hearing of the committee Tuesday at which Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.Y., urged that senators be asked about their relations with Baker, resigned secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority.

Sen. B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., the committee chairman, dismissed Case's request as "the height of demagoguery."

Jordan told newsmen that "I think it would be an insult to senators" for the committee to ask them the questions proposed by Case.

Williams, author of the original resolution directing an investigation of the Baker case, told the Senate that it was clearly intended in the original resolution that "there be no limit to the authority of the Rules Committee."

But he said he was offering an amendment to the resolution "which unquestionably will lay to rest forevermore the question of the authority of this committee."

After Baker had resigned under fire last Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, the committee launched an investigation of whether his outside business dealings had conflicted with his official duties or involved other improprieties.

Baker, who built up a fortune he estimated at more than $2 million while on the Senate pay roll at $19,600 a year, invoked his Fifth Amendment protection against possible self-incrimination and refused to answer questions when called as a witness.

At a hearing Tuesday of the Rules Committee, thrown open to the public at the last minute, Case urged that each senator be asked if he ever had had any business or financial dealings with Baker or had received campaign contributions or anything else of value from him.

"No investigation of Bobby Baker can have any real meaning without an investigation of the relations of members of the Senate with Bobby Baker," Case said at the stormy hearing.

Fireworks Prove New System OK

WHITE SANDS MISSILE RANGE, N. M. (AP)—The fiery explosion of a little Joe II rocket shattered the early morning calm today in an apparently successful test of the Apollo moon spacecraft launch escape system.

The brilliant fireball of the deliberate explosion scattered flaming pieces of the missile over a wide area of White Sands missile range in the southern New Mexico desert.

Early indications from National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials were that the test, the first of the Apollo escape system tests, was successful.

The test had been delayed 24 hours because of winds and a dust storm Tuesday.

The squat, silvery Little Joe II blasted into the sky about 6 a.m. from a cloud of dust caused by the rocket's seven solid fuel engines generating more than 300,000 pounds of thrust.

Climbing to 22,000 feet altitude in about 30 seconds, the 86-foot tall vehicle stacked with boilerplate models of the Apollo command and service modules, reached a maximum aerodynamic stress period at the time of the explosion that was set off by ground signal.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am involved with a married man. We love each other deeply and have for many years. We know our relationship is wrong, but we have always been very discreet as I wouldn't hurt his family for the world. In the beginning we agreed not to disrupt his family, but now he has started to talk of divorcing his wife to marry me. Abby, I can't let that happen. His wife recently had a change-of-life baby, and she couldn't manage without him. He is financially unable to support two families. How can I make him see that he has to stick with his family without losing him completely? He's the only man I have ever loved.

DISTRESSED

DEAR DISTRESSED: As long as you continue to see him, you are encouraging him to leave his family for you. It is more painful to cut off a puppy's tail an inch at a time. End the relationship in one clean break. It will be painful to both of you, but if you allow this affair to continue on any basis, two innocent families could suffer from your selfishness.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I am 18 years old and I dress like a lady, act like a lady and expect to be treated like one. Recently, while shopping in a supermarket, I pulled my cart into the first aisle when one smart checker snapped his fingers at me and said, "Next aisle!" There was no checker there, so I asked, "Where is the checker?" He barked, "KEEP YOUR SHIRT ON!" The checker never did come, so I was ordered back in the first aisle. As I was emptying my basket, he snapped his fingers at me again and said, "Tax items first, sister." Then he started throwing my food around, so I said, "Don't throw that food — we have to eat it." He asked who I thought I was, and I told him I was a cash customer, that's who I was. Then a man who looked like the manager walked by and said, "Hold down the noise, please, Miss." Do you think I should let it go, or should I go to the higher authorities and demand an apology? This is a big chain store market.

DEMANDS RESPECT

DEAR DEMANDS: No. There must be another market in your neighborhood where the service is more civil and super than at this one. Try it.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: My sister and I had a serious falling out four years ago over some lies she spread about me, and I haven't spoken to her since. I just learned that she has an incurable disease and can't last more than a year. Her husband plans to keep it from her as long as possible. Abby, I want to make up with her, and help to make her last months happier by doing what I can for her and her family. I am afraid if I suddenly go to her and offer my friendship, she will suspect the truth about herself. Yet, I don't want her to leave this world thinking I never forgave her. What should I do?

TORN

DEAR TORN: Go to her and offer her your friendship. It is not unusual for relatives to "bury the hatchet" during times of illness.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I feel sorry for the woman whose husband never remembers her birthday. My husband never forgets mine. He wouldn't dare. His is the next day, and he always gets me a nice present so he'll be sure of getting one himself. Sincerely,

ETHEL

The Knapp community center was the scene of a banquet honoring the May Junior High and Senior graduates of the Knapp and Murphy community, Tuesday evening.

Ladies of the community contributed the food and Mmes. Bill Poe, Halley Browne, Maurice Duncan and Albert Taylor served the tables. Tables were beautifully decorated with white clothes and spring flowers. Place cards were miniature diplomas tied with blue ribbon.

Miss Doris Steadman, teacher of the young people at Knapp Baptist Church sponsored the affair and the young people especially thanked her for so much of the planning and work that made it such a nice thing for all to remember.

Joyce Browne gave the invocation, and Kathy Poe recognized the graduates and introduced the speaker, Phil Floyd, a student of Snyder High School. Mr. Floyd gave a very interesting address. Miss Steadman gave the benediction.

Mighty Menace

Water is one of the most destructive forces. If you doubt this consider the Grand Canyon, where the wearing away of water created a chasm thousands of feet deep. On a much smaller scale, the same principle applies to the walls and floors of your bathroom where only quality materials can protect you from constant repairs and replacements.

HEART COUNCIL OFFICERS—These officers were elected by the Scurry County Heart Council at its annual membership meeting Tuesday. From left are Joe Carroll, president; Mrs. Dean Floyd, secretary; Badger Robertson, vice president, and Doug Flynn, treasurer.

Heart Council Is Told Of New Advances In Research

Revolutionary techniques in the treatment and management of coronary cases have come onto the scene in recent years because of constant research, Dr. Robert H. Mitchell told a group here Tuesday.

Dr. Mitchell, of Plainview, is president - elect of the Texas Heart Association. He spoke at the annual membership meeting of the Scurry County Heart Council at the Snyder Country Club at noon Tuesday.

His address dealt principally with coronary cases — the malfunctions of blood vessels that provide the heart with oxygen and the cause of a large percentage of "heart trouble" or "heart attacks."

Dr. Mitchell said that research conducted over a five-year period in a huge DuPont plant revealed that initial coronary attacks still are fatal to some 25 to 30 per cent of the victims. However, he said the picture was much brighter for those who survive initial attacks.

He said it was encouraging to note that a person suffering from a coronary attack who survives for 48 hours has a 90 per cent chance of getting back on his feet and in most cases back on his job.

"Management" of coronary cases has changed vastly in recent years, Dr. Mitchell reminded. Where doctors formerly insisted on complete rest for long periods of time, they now insist that such patients get on their feet as soon as possible, preferrably within three or four days.

"The emphasis now is on graded exercises, with an increase as tolerance improves," Dr. Mitchell said.

He commended the local Heart Council on its record. During its last campaign for funds the local unit subscribed about $4,000, compared with a "fair share" of about $2,700.

"I believe your record is the best in the state so far," Dr. Mitchell declared. He said such interest has made possible research that has resulted in rapid strides in the treatment of heart diseases in recent years.

Officers to serve the local council were elected at the meeting. Joe Carroll was elected president to succeed Pat Falls. Other officers are Badger Robertson, vice president; Mrs. Dean Floyd, secretary, and Doug Flynn, treasurer.

Special awards of appreciation were presented for cooperation in the Heart Fund campaign. They went to Charles Bruce, golf professional at the Country Club, who staged the Heart Fund Gold Tournament; Stanley Noah, co-owner of Snyder Lanes where the Heart Fund bowling tournament was held; to Radio Station KSNY and to The Snyder Daily News.

Japanese Royalty To Visit Ruins

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Japanese Crown Prince Akihito and Princess Michiko, representing one of the world's oldest cultures, today take a look at Mexico's oldest and newest centers.

The royal couple launch a full day with a visit to the centuries old pyramids and ruins of San Juan Teotihuacan, about 35 miles from the capital.

These include Pyramids of the Sun and the Moon, the Palace of Butterflies, an ancient Aztec citadel, and other attractions still being discovered and rehabilitated.

Last royalty to visit the archaeological zone was Queen Juliana of Holland, her husband and daughter. They said later it was one of the highlights of their tour of Mexico.

A glimpse of modern Mexico comes when the couple separate, the Prince visiting the huge independence housing project of Mexico's Social Security Institute, and the Princess taking a trip to the National Children's Welfare Institute.

Princess Michiko will be conducted by Mrs. Adolfo Lopez Mateos, Mexico's first lady, who sponsors the institute.

Sabine Lakes Said Good

AUSTIN (AP)— At least five reservoirs in the Sabine River Basin have surface water supplies of excellent quality, says the Texas Water Commission.

They are Lake Tawakoni, Greenville Reservoir, Lake Gladewater, Lake Cherokee and Murvaul Lake, the commission said in a report released Tuesday.

The report followed a study by the commission and the U.S. Geological Survey of the chemical quality of Texas' surface waters.

The report said water of satisfactory quality also was found at the proposed Kilgore, Cherokee Reservoir No. 2, Toledo Bend, Big Sandy, Rabbit, Carthage, Stateline, Tenaha and Bon Wier reservoirs. The report recommended additional study of the water at the proposed Lake Fork Reservoir.

GOPs Urge Runoff In Each County

AUSTIN (AP)—Members of the Texas Republican Executive Committee are urging every county in the state to hold a June 6 election to settle the hot U.S. Senate runoff race between George Bush and Jack Cox.

At a regular post-election meeting Tuesday, the committee formally approved a resolution asking each county to hold the decisive vote. State headquarters director Marvin Collins said special instructions for runoff would be mailed to each county today.

Collins told committee members that one voting place in each county would satisfy state election laws, provided there are no local runoff races that involve separate precincts.

Principal business of the meeting Tuesday was to canvass the almost 143,000 votes cast in the May 2 primary, an increase of 23.7 per cent over the previous record primary vote of 115,332 in 1962.

Both runoff candidates spoke to the committee, which made no endorsement but gave each a long round of applause.

THREE SEEMS TO BE A CROWD

Rep. Cannon Respected As Quiet, Powerful Statesman

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Clarence Cannon is dead at 85, after 41 years in the House, and outside his own state of Missouri probably very few Americans ever heard much of him. Yet, he was one of the most powerful men in Congress.

This kind of anonymity is why tourists get disappointed when they visit the Capitol, expecting to see Daniel Websters, and very often find instead in the House or Senate just a handful of men sitting around and ignoring the speaker.

There isn't a Daniel Webster in the place these days. But there are powerful men there like Cannon, who died Monday, and, like Cannon, are not broadly known because of the way they operate, even though they are old timers.

They're the chairmen of powerful committees. They do their work in committee offices, aided by staffs, rather than on the floor of the House or Senate. Their power is not in oratory but in their control over legislation.

Cannon, a Democrat and an autocrat and chairman of the House Appropriations Committee for 20 years, took seriously his job as a watchdog on government spending. He was tough and jealous of his power.

It has been estimated that in his time his committee, after chops and slices and cross-examination, approved and sent up to the full House for a vote as much as a trillion dollars in spending bills.

But that was after Cannon and his crew of Democratic and Republican committee members cut the bills below what Democratic and Republican presidents asked.

Cannon was the oldest member of the House but not the oldest in Congress. That distinction belongs to his senior by one year, 86-year old Sen. Carl Hayden, Arizona Democrat and dean of Congress. He has been there 52 years.

Hayden, as chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, was Cannon's opposite number. But few Americans probably ever heard much of Hayden either, and few ever saw him until President Johnson addressed Congress last Nov. 27.

There, sitting behind the President but looking half asleep, was Hayden and, beside him, 72-year old John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, speaker of the House.

These two men — if Johnson should die — are next in line for the presidency. McCormack would be first.

Another truly powerful congressional figure not widely known is Rep. Wilbur Mills, Arkansas Democrat.

Mills, 54 and in Congress 25 years, is chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, which handles all revenue legislation, particularly income taxes, before the full House can vote on it. This group shapes what the House votes on.

For years now it has bottled up the Kennedy - Johnson program of medical care for the aged. Mills has been the chief bottler.

The most powerful committee in Congress — the House Rules Committee — is headed by the very conservative Rep. Howard W. Smith, an 81-year old Virginia Democrat who has been in Congress 32 years.

This committee can suffocate a bill which has been approved by another committee and, except under unusual conditions, keep it from getting up to the full House for a vote.

In running his show Smith is not distinguished in the public mind for the speeches he makes. But he is certainly distinguished in the congressional mind for the power he holds and wields.

If the question is asked—how come men of the age of Cannon, Hayden and Smith can continue in such positions of great power without challenge — the answer is simple: They got and held their jobs through the seniority system.

Nothing is going to be done to change the system, because all the younger members of Congress know that if they can just last long enough they, too, will become chairmen and nothing will ever be done to dislodge them.

Arkansas To Face Battle On Gambling

By WICK TEMPLE

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—The swanky casinos in this once-glittering resort are silent, closed by order of Gov. Orval E. Faubus, but a vigorous campaign is under way to make Arkansas the second state with legal casino gambling.

The Hot Springs Chamber of Commerce is circulating petitions to get a constitutional amendment on the November election ballot legalizing gambling.

The chamber must get 30,800 signatures on the petitions by July 2 to place the issue before the voters. This is expected to be relatively easy. But not the battle that will follow.

The Arkansas Christian Civic Foundation, which represents 2,200 evangelical churches in the state, is mobilizing to defeat the gambling amendment.

"It doesn't have a chance," said Dr. William E. Brown, executive director of the foundation. "We have thousands of volunteers that will be working to keep gambling dead."

And gambling is dead — at least for the present. Faubus clamped on the lid in March after the Arkansas House voted 91-3 to ask Hot Springs authorities to enforce the state's anti-gambling laws.

The gamblers themselves—the men who own the three big casinos in Hot Springs — say they are not taking an active part in the legalization campaign.

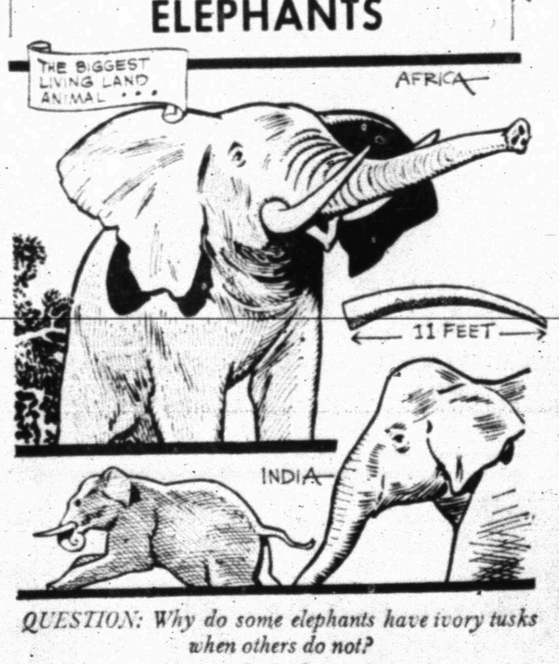

They hope that the illegal operation will resume as it has several times over the century that Hot Springs has had gambling. Under this situation, only a small city tax comes out of the more than $50 million annual gambling take.

Legalization would give the gamblers security, but it would impose state and county taxes, and it would provide for as many as seven casinos in Hot Springs, possibly, spreading the business thin for the present three big operators.

The Hot Springs Chamber of Commerce is for the legalization as any other chamber in the nation might be for an industrial campaign. That's what gambling is here—an industry.

Chamber members were hurt by the shutdown. The tourist trade slacked, conventions canceled. Some 600 persons were put out of work. Only one of the night clubs that operated along with the casinos has remained open.

Junior Editors Quiz on ELEPHANTS

QUESTION: Why do some elephants have ivory tusks when others do not?

* * *

ANSWER: The elephant has unusual equipment to help him survive. His huge size and inch-thick skin protect him from other animals; he has a fabulous trunk with which he can pull up trees, squirt water down his throat, or use for smelling or fighting. As if these features were not enough, his two upper teeth have evolved into long curved tusks. These are very useful for grubbing into soft ground and digging up tender roots, of which he is very fond.

Elephants are either of the African or Indian type. Both male and female African elephants have tusks—but the tusks of the male are larger, up to 11 feet. Since an elephant uses his tusks in fighting, the male's longer tusks are important to help him protect his family. The female uses her tusks for food gathering. All elephant tusks are made of ivory.

Male Indian elephants also have long tusks, although not so big as the African kind. These animals must be able to confront such an enemy as the tiger. But the female Indian elephant often has no tusks at all. Since circus elephants are generally Indian females, few of these are seen with tusks.

* * *

FOR YOU TO DO: Put a peanut, still in it's shell, on the table. Now reach down and touch it with your nose. Try to pick it up with your nose. Of course you can't! Yet an elephant could pick up that peanut with his nose! There are bumps on the end which can close around things, almost like fingers.

Wolves Nip Tigers, 4-1

COLORADO CITY — The Colorado City Wolves took command early in the game and never quite allowed the Snyder Tigers to get going here Tuesday to take a 4-1 decision and blunt the pennant hopes of the Bengals in the District 3-AAA baseball race.

Righthander Larry Dambor-sky, C-City's mound ace, allowed the Tigers only two hits while striking out 11 and walking 4.

Tiger righthander J. N. Wall was touched for six safeties, but fanned 10 and walked only 1 during the contest.

The Wolves scored two runs in the second inning when Perry Millsap and Danny Kennemur singled after Damborsky had walked.

The Tigers got their only run in the fourth inning. Leslie Brown walked and then scored on Drew Bullard's single down the right field line.

Rob Hall's one-base lick up the middle in the sixth was the only other hit the Tigers collected during the game.

The Wolves added single runs in the fifth and sixth innings to clinch the decision.

The victory gave the Wolves undisputed first place in the district race. Colorado City has won 8 and lost 2 in league play. Brownfield, idle Tuesday, is just a step behind at 7-2, while the Tigers are 6-3 for the district campaign.

Following Tuesday's action, the Brownfield Cubs may hold the key to the district championship, since they still have games with both Colorado City and Snyder on their schedule. If Snyder should beat Brownfield and Brownfield should beat Colorado City, the race still could wind up in a three way tie. On the other hand, Brownfield could win it outright by defeating both Snyder and C-City.

That speculation, of course, does not take into consideration the possibility that either Sweetwater or Lamesa might rise up and knock off one of the contenders down the line.

Snyder's next action will be on its home diamond Saturday when the Sweetwater Mustangs come to town.

Steve Hillhouse On All-SWC '9'

By The Associated Press

Seven players from champion Texas A&M made the All-Southwest Conference baseball team selected for The Associated Press by coaches.

Texas, Texas Christian and Baylor landed two each while Southern Methodist got the other place on the 14-man team. Rice, the other member in the conference race, failed to scratch.

Baylor had unanimous choices —righthanded pitcher Henry Perkins and third baseman Jerry Hall. Frank Stark, Texas A&M first baseman, also got all the votes.

Lance Cobb, Texas A&M outfielder, got the six votes but one of them was for utility outfielder.

Bill Hancock, Texas A&M catcher who led the conference in runs batted in with 13 while hitting .293, easily won a spot on the team. He lacked only one vote, that going to Butch Thompson of Texas.

Steve Hillhouse, the Aggie lefthander who had a 7-1 record and an earned run average of 1.61; Bob Myer, Texas righthander who had a 6-1 record and 2.09 ERA, and Perkins, who had a 5-2 mark and 1.91 ERA, make up the pitching staff.

The infield is composed of .300 hitters — Stark (.317); second baseman Bill Grochett of Texas A&M (.313); Hall (.373) and shortstop Tom Hillary of Southern Methodist (.360). Even the utility infielder is a slugger—Jerry Ballard of Texas A&M, who clouted .375.

The outfield also is made up of .300 batters—Jay Walrath of Texas Christian (.327) in left, Lance Cobb of Texas A&M (.360) in center and Ward Sommers of Texas (.370) in right. And the utility outfielder, Alan Koonce of Texas A&M, hit .359.

NATO Names Brosio As Secretary-General

THE HAGUE, the Netherlands (AP) — Italian diplomat Manlio Brosio was named secretary-general of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization today in succession to Dirk U. Stikker, a Dutchman.

The appointment, decided up by a unanimous vote of the ministers, had been expected. Stikker has been in ill health for several months.

Brosio is at present Italian ambassador to Paris. He will be 67 on July 19.

Rookie Pete Ward of the Chicago White Sox led his team in eight departments last year and tied for most home runs on the team with 22 and in triples with six.

School Men Set For Golf Tournament

The third annual Schoolmasters Golf Tournament will be unreeled Saturday on the Snyder Country Club course.

Action will begin at 9 a.m.

The tournament is open to any coach or classroom teacher in any school system. The entry fee is $7.50, which includes green fees and a barbecue.

After 9-hole qualifying rounds, the group will be seeded into flights and then continue play for 18 more holes. Winners in each flight will be decided on the basis of 27 holes of medal play.

J. P. Ward, Snyder High School golf coach, is the defending champion. He edged Bill Moss of Seymour by one stroke to win in 1963.

In fact, Ward is the only champion the tournament ever had, having won the first event two years ago.

Bill Hartsfield, Snyder football coach, won the first flight last year, while the local tennis coach, Dub Holt, won the second flight.

Last year's event drew some 33 entries, and the list may be slightly larger this year. Notices of the tournament have been forwarded to various schools over West Texas.

Houston To Study SWC Resolution

HOUSTON (AP)—Houston athletic director Harry Fouke says the university is studying the Southwest Conference resolution against membership expansion before elaborating "on our future plans."

The conference, in its annual meeting at Lubbock last weekend, unanimously decided against adding a ninth member for the present. Houston had applied to join the conference.

"We are now studying the full meaning and implications of the recent Southwest Conference resolution relative to the expansion of the conference," Fouke said.

"As soon as all of our people are fully aware of the facts," he said, "then we will be in a better position to elaborate on our future plans."

The Southwest Conference already has a member in Houston —Rice University.

In its resolution, the SWC faculty committee said an increase in membership would make further expansion almost inevitable and would disrupt the round robin schedule in athletics.

The University of Houston is the second largest school in Texas.

U. S. Holds Good Lead

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The United States, with a substantial lead in points, is expected to do well in today's 4,000-meter event which will wind up the International Modern Pentathlon Championships.

The 4,000-meter cross country run will close out the five-day meet.

The U.S. team has 11,218 points, with Brazil second at 10,952, West Germany third with 10,284, and then Mexico 9,638, Spain 9,934, Italy 3,458 and Portugal 1,454.

Brazil gained 50 points on the United States in the 300-meter freestyle swimming competition yesterday, with Capt. Jose Wilson winning in 3:48.8, a record for the Conseil International du Sport Militaire (CISM) meet.

The victory placed Wilson fourth in the over-all individual competition with 3,726. The first place finish added 1,060 to his previous total.

Giants' 'M' Boys Continue To Burn Up The Diamond

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Will Willie Mays hit .400?

Well, if Juan Marichal wins 30 games, the Say Hey Kid is liable to bat .500.

The San Francisco Giants' torrid twosome continued to ravage the National League Tuesday night, punishing the Houston Colts 6-0.

Mays ran his average to an astronomical .478 with his 12th and 13th homers and a single in five trips. Marichal won his sixth game and trimmed his earned-run average to 1.73 with his second straight shutout.

The Giants' "M" boys are murder by themselves but when thrown against the opposition in combination it's tantamount to a nuclear holocaust.

As for Marichal, the veteran right-hander who won 25 games last year, is 12 days ahead of the pace he set in 1963 when he didn't win his sixth game until May 24. And the season started a week later this year.

For the record the last .400 hitter was Ted Williams in 1941 with .406. The last 30-game winner was Dizzy Dean in 1934 with 30-7. Modern baseball has never had a .400 hitter and 30-game winner on the same club.

In other NL games Tuesday, Milwaukee blanked New York 2-0 behind Hank Fischer's three-hitter; Pittsburgh nipped Cincinnati 3-2 in a four-hour, rain-interrupted marathon; St. Louis topped Philadelphia 4-2 behind Curt Simmons and Chicago nipped Los Angeles 3-2 on Dick Tracewski's ninth inning error.

In American League action, Minnesota routed Chicago 11-1; Baltimore blanked Washington 5-0; Cleveland edged Boston 6-5; Detroit snapped a five-game losing streak and a five-game New York win skein 7-2 and Kansas City whipped Los Angeles 6-2.

Mays' three hits drove in four runs and extended his batting streak to 19 games. After flying out in the first he battered Houston starter Skinny Brown for a solo homer in the third and a two-run shot in the fifth. His seventh inning single also drove in a run.

Marichal allowed just five hits and retired 14 in a row over one stretch while winning his 12th straight over a two-season stretch.

Milwaukee's Fischer faced just 29 batters and got all the runs he needed when rookie Rico Carty crashed his first major league homer against Met starter Alvin Jackson.

Cincinnati's Jim Maloney pitched four perfect innings before rain interupted the Pirates-Reds game at Pittsburgh. After a 1½-hour wait, play was resumed, and Maloney quickly lost his no-hitter and shutout when Smoky Bugess singled and ex-Red Gene Freese homered to tie it at 2-2.

After another 28 minute delay, the Pirates won it without a hit in the eighth on an error, fielder's choice and two walks off Maloney.

Curt Simmons beat the Phillies for the 13th time in 15 decisions since they released him four years ago but needed eighth-inning help from Roger Craig to do it.

Leading 4-1, Simmons gave up a single to Tony Gonzalez and Danny Cater with one out in the eighth. Craig came on and after Gus Triandos' double delivered one run, the lanky Cardinal retired the side and blanked the Phils in the ninth to save it.

Tracewski fumbled pinch hitter Joey Amalfitano's grounder with two out and the bases loaded in the bottom of the ninth to give Chicago its victory over the stumbling Dodgers.

Raiders Announce Basketball Slate

LUBBOCK (AP)—Texas Tech has announced a basketball schedule for the 1964-65 season with 24 games, 13 at home including a first-time appearance here for the University of Wyoming.

A home game Dec. 1 remains to be filled.

The Raiders will host Wyoming Dec. 12. The two teams have played twice previously, and the Cowboys won both, by 66-56 in the All-College Tournament at Oklahoma City in 1940 and by 100-91 at Laramie last December.

Other non-Southwest Conference games slated for Tech are with Nebraska, Colorado and the Phillips 66ers.

Tech was second in the Southwest Conference last year, winning 11 games and losing three. The Raiders finished over-all with a 16-7 record.

The 1964-65 schedule:

Dec. 1—to be announced, at Lubbock; Dec. 5—at New Mexico; Dec. 7—at Arizona; Dec. 12—Wyoming; Dec. 16—at Oklahoma; Dec. 19—Nebraska; Dec. 21—Colorado; Dec. 29-30—Sugar Bowl Tournament at New Orleans (Georgia Tech, Louisville, Vanderbilt).

Jan. 4—at Texas; Jan 9—Arkansas; Jan. 16—Phillips 66ers; Jan. 26—Southern Methodist; Jan. 30—at Texas Christian.

Feb. 2—Baylor; Feb. 6—Rice; Feb. 9—at Texas A&M; Feb. 13—at Southern Methodist. Feb. 16—Texas; Feb. 20—at Rice; Feb. 23—at Baylor; Feb. 26—Texas Christian.

March 2—at Arkansas; March 4—Texas A&M.

'Rich' Win In TL Play

By The Associated Press

The rich stayed rich but the poor got poorer Tuesday night in the Texas League as the top three clubs beat the lower-ranked trio.

San Antonio maintained its two-game lead by dusting off the visiting Austin Senators 7-1.

Albuquerque, a half-game ahead of Tulsa for second by virtue of a postponement, started late in beating host El Paso 5-1. Tulsa came from two runs behind in the seventh inning to beat touring Fort Worth 3-2.

The result was no change in the status quo, except for El Paso, Fort Worth and Austin—ranked fourth, fifth and sixth, respectively—losing a game on the leader.

San Antonio had little trouble with the Senators, jumping to a 3-0 lead in the third inning. In the sixth, catcher Dave Adlesh rapped a two-run homer and teammate Joe Morgan hit a two-run triple in the eighth to pad the lead.

Tulsa trailed Fort Worth 2-0 before exploding for three runs in the seventh. Chris Krug slapped a two-run homer to ignite the rally. Teammate John Bramlett got on base as a hit batsman and scored on Joe Patterson's triple.

Albuquerque broke up a tight game with El Paso in the ninth inning when Ducky Lejohn belted a two-run homer. The Dukes had broken a 1-1 tie in the eighth inning when Bill Parlier doubled to score Bobby Cox.

June 1 Is Deadline For Transfers

Buford Browning, county school superintendent, has announced that the deadline for requesting transfer of students from one district to another in the county is June 1.

The June 1 date has been effect for several years. Prior to that time the date was July 1.

Those wishing to request transfers may do so at the county superintendent's office on the first floor of the Scurry County courthouse.

New College Loop Planned

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Athletic directors of seven small colleges recommended yesterday the formation of a new athletic conference of 10 schools in five states.

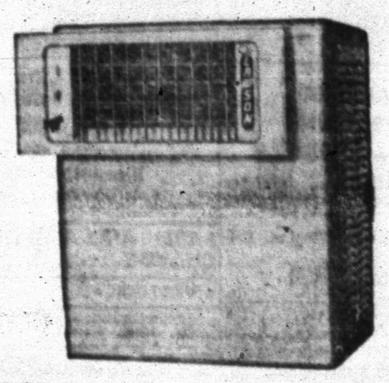

Wayland College of Plainview, Tex., reportedly interested in the conference, would be invited into membership if the circuit is organized.

Plans for the proposed conference were drawn up by directors of Western New Mexico, Silver City, N.M.; St. Michaels, Santa Fe, N.M.; College of Southern Utah, Cedar City; Nevada Southern Las Vegas, Nev.; St. Joseph, Albuquerque; Highlands U., Las Vegas, N.M.; and Grand Canyon College, Phoenix.

Arizona State College at Flagstaff, Ariz., also was represented by an observer at the two-day meeting.

Dave Brazell of Grand Canyon said the athletic directors will present the proposals for the league to the various administrators for their reaction.

New Program Is Expected To Boost Low Beef Prices

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration is expected to announce later this week a stepped-up program to bolster low beef cattle prices.

President Johnson told members of the Newspaper Farm Editors Association at the White House Tuesday that such a program was being developed, but he offered no information regarding it.

Likewise, Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman and other farm officials were mum on the possible details. But involved undoubtedly will be an increased government beef buying program.

The key to new efforts would be to reduce the country's overexpanded cattle herd, particularly breeding stock.

Low cattle prices stand as a possible troublesome political issue for Democrats in this year's elections unless prices improve before November. The beef cattle industry is an important phase of agriculture in 38 states.

At present, the Agriculture Department is buying a limited quantity of beef for donation to the needy and the school lunch program and the Defense Department is increasing its purchases for supplying servicemen overseas.

In addition, the President has sent a mission of government officials and meat industry leaders to western Europe to check on the possibilities of opening up markets there.

It is possible that the new program may offer special inducements in the form of cash subsidies to cattlemen who sell lower grade cattle — especially cows for breeding purposes.

Meat processed from such animals could be canned and possibly moved abroad under some aspects of the food for peace program, as well as used to help provide better diets for the needy in this country.

Under consideration by the administration is a proposal by the national farmers union that the government offer special payments to cattlemen who sell fed cattle at light weights. Such a payment would be designed to hold down the eventual tonnage of beef that would be provided if the animals were fattened to heavier weights.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY — "Chili con carne," said Mr. Wick Fowler, "is the greatest asset to health since the advent of the girdle."

These immortal words were spoken at the International Chili Appreciation Society's convention here the other day.

Mr. Fowler is a famous columnist who proses for the Dallas News. He is considered the bon vivant of the Chili World which he has done much to expand with some offhand recipes of his own.

So down here with Mr. Fowler to acquaint Mexico with chili con carne, which was first turned out here by a Spanish lady missionary but later got exiled with Texas, was Mr. George Haddaway who is the Chief Chili Head — a job that corresponds roughly to that of President of the United States, except that it carries weight. Also, Mr. Buck Marryat who press agents for American Airlines.

Mr. Marryat was kind enough to make public some details of Mr. Fowler's past, which had considerable effect on the perfection of chili con carne.

"In the old days," said Mr. Marryat, "Fowler used to gay blade it around Texas writing columns about various things. On one occasion he rode a mule named Milton into the wilderness to try and interview a lost gold mine.

"As it happened, Fowler got lost and ran out of food and there wasn't even a bar for miles and miles. Fortunately he found some sage brush and several varieties of wild chili peppers which old time cowboys used for keeping rattlesnakes away.

"And," said Mr. Marryat, "by combining these ingredients with Milton — rest his soul — Fowler was able to develop the first known dish of Mule Chili that was considered acceptable.

"Unfortunately, while he was warming up some a few nights later the chili exploded and blew up part of the county so Wick's editors had to bring him back to Dallas to keep him from getting lynched.

"They also gave him a bicycle to ride, not trusting him with chili pods and anything alive, but one day he was caught trying to cook Bicycle Chili in one of the linotype machines so the editors locked the remnants of his bike in the broom closet and chained his typewriter to a steel beam in the floor."

Mr. Marryat reports that Wick went on to fame and glory but fortunately kept several gallons of his Mule Chili in Memory of Milton.

His crowning achievement came during the early days of U.S. rocketry when success meant the technicians could get one to stand upright.

"Our Country lagged," said Mr. Marryat, "so the Space People called on Dr. Werner von Braun and Wick Fowler to put the first missile into orbit. Von Braun made the rocket from some hot water boilers and Wick put in a quart of his Mule Chili which shot it halfway to the moon before they could get it turned sideways.

"George Haddaway sometimes adds a teaspoon of Wick's milder types of chili to the gas tank of his airplane when he is in a hurry to get somewhere.

"However," said Mr. Marryat, "we have to keep an eye on Wick when he gets near a stove. Like all genius, he is in a chronic creative mood and needs guidance."

Mr. Marryat is convinced that Mr. Fowler will go down in the Hall of Fame for his culinary achievements.

Unless, of course, he goes up in a Ball of Flame during a moment of unguided enthusiasm.

Almost all children 7 to 13 years old were enrolled in school in 1963, according to a Census Bureau survey, while about 93 per cent of those 14 to 17 were registered.

SHOULD YOU?

Not if you drive on turnpikes or thruways, at sustained turnpike speeds. . .
Because at high turnpike speeds, riding on an $8.95 tire can be as potentially dangerous as sitting on a time bomb.
The dealer who sells you an $8.95 tire has to make a profit on it. So does the manufacturer. So do the companies that make and sell the raw materials that go into that tire.
Add these profits up. Subtract them from the selling price of the tire. And you can see that no tire made to sell for anywhere near $8.95 can possibly be strong enough to resist the pressures, the heat, the violence of sustained, high-speed driving.
(Which means that no matter what the "come-on" tire ads imply, $8.95 tires for the average driver are no bargain. They may even be a dead loss.)

Business Letter Clinic Set Here

Thirty per cent of the average business letter consists of needless words. One of every 20 letters is written to correct an error or omission in previous correspondence. Four letters out of five contain trite, "horse-and-buggy" phrases that waste the reader's time and kill his interest.

These are a few of the findings of W. H. Butterfield, one of America's leading authorities on letter writing, who will conduct a Business Letter Clinic in Snyder on Thursday evening, May 21. Sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, the clinic will be offered from 7:15 to 9:45 p.m. at the Chamber of Commerce Building, 1906 Twenty-sixth St.

Author of 16 books and many magazine articles on business correspondence, Butterfield has conducted letter writing programs for business and professional groups in more than 100 cities. His letter clinics have been offered five times in both Dallas and Oklahoma City, three times in Amarillo, Lubbock, and Midland, and twice in Houston, Albuquerque, Odessa, Abilene, Tyler, and many other cities.

"How you say it is just as important as what you say in your business letters," says Butterfield. "Sometimes the reader is influenced even more by the tone of a letter than by its contents. A friendly, human tone wins his co-operation and good will. A blunt tone irritates him. A mechanical tone bores him."

Many letters contain too much "I" and not enough "you," Butterfield points out. "The average reader has little interest in what he can do for you. He wants to know what you can do for him."

A list of trite expressions to avoid in letter writing is included among the 12 letter-improvement charts used during the clinic. Other materials cover negative words and how to avoid them, short cuts to concise writing, effective selling psychology, how to write clearly, how to give letters a friendly tone, correct form and layout, and a "check list" for successful letters. The $4.50 registration fee for the Business Letter Clinic includes the set of 12 letter-improvement charts.

Formerly Chairman of the Department of Business Communication at the University of Oklahoma, Butterfield later served as Educational Director of the National Retail Credit Association, St. Louis, and Editor of its Better Letters Service. From 1948 to 1958 he was Executive Director of the University of Illinois Foundation. He is now Vice President for Development at Texas Tech.

Listed in "Who's Who in America," Butterfield is a past president of the American Business Writing Association. In reviewing one of his books, Printers' Ink magazine called him "the most expert of the authorities." Butterfield is author of the section on "Letter Writing" in World Book Encyclopedia.

"We feel that the letter clinic will be helpful to many business and professional people," said Woody Forrester, Manager of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce. "This program is open to everyone who wants to write better letters. It is being offered as a service to the business men and women of this community."

SMU Approves Teacher's Pay Raise

DALLAS (AP) — Southern Methodist University's board of trustees has approved the largest budget in the school's history, including provision for faculty pay raises.

The $11,720,464 budget is an increase of $1,746,571 over the current budget.

The pay hike for teachers was in line with the university's master plan for development which calls for a 50 per cent increase in faculty salaries by 1969.

One university source said the upcoming faculty pay raise will be roughly 10 per cent. The instructional budget climbed 17 per cent to $5,111,946, to include expansion of libraries, and science and language laboratories, along with the salary rise.

Recreation Predicted To Be Source Of Farm Income

WASHINGTON (AP)— Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman predicts that within 20 years recreation will be agriculture's largest single source of income. At the present time, beef cattle holds that place.

The secretary expressed this belief to the newspaper farm editors here Tuesday. He said the nation's increasing population and rising income levels will bring greater demands for recreation in rural areas.

Action on the part of farmers, their leaders and government to help meet this demand will help solve surplus crop problems, Freeman said. Land not needed for crop and livestock production would be diverted to hunting lodges, swimming pools, camping grounds, golf courses and the like.

The department itself is working through its rural areas development program to shift land from unneeded crops to recreational facilities.

This program offers more for low-income farm families, he said, than the big commodity programs with their price supports and production adjustment operations. The department will help farmers establish recreational facilities through loans, grants and technical advice.

The secretary said that as new and better roads are built into rural areas, more urbanites will buy land—particularly in mountain and stream areas—for vacation cabins.

Just Lucky He Didn't Have A Dime!

MACON, Ga. (AP) — Spectators told this story of a man who was lucky he didn't have a dime.

The man drove up to a telephone booth outside a truck stop here Tuesday, but found he didn't have 10 cents for his call.

He went in for change and just as he stepped outside again, a large tractor-trailer rig smashed into the corner of the truck stop, demolishing the telephone booth.

Investigating officers said the man left before they got his name.

Subsidy Still Needed On Grain Export

WASHINGTON (AP) — The upcoming reduction in wheat price supports from a national farm average of $1.82 a bushel for the 1963 crop to $1.30 for this year's crop has lowered but not eliminated the need of a government export subsidy to make the grain competitive in world markets.

This subsidy averages 65 cents a bushel for the 1963 crop supply.

Beginning July 1, the start of the 1964 crop marketing year, the export subsidy will range between 23 and 27 cents a bushel.

While the new $1.30 a bushel support for this year's wheat is below world price levels, exporters pay a levy of 25 cents a bushel on wheat moved into export. This levy, authorized by the administration's new wheat program, goes to farmers who hold their 1964 crop harvests within government acreage allotments.

Thus, the exporter will pay 25 cents a bushel to the government for the payment to farmers, but he will get most if not all of it back from the government in the form of an export subsidy. The government will be out the amount of the subsidy, since the 25-cent levy on foreign sales goes to farmers.
