ITALY OKAYS LEAGUE SESSIONS BUT WOULD DICTATE DISCUSSION TOPICS

WOULD LEAVE IF DISPLEASED BY THE TALKS

BRITAIN IS DETERMINED TO AIR ASPECTS OF CRISIS

By The Associated Press.

Italy agreed yesterday to attend the League of Nations council session called for July 31 to discuss her dispute with Ethiopia but demanded, in effect, the right to dictate what the council talked about.

League officials at Geneva immediately expressed fear lest Italy bolt the session. Great Britain, with France's tentative backing, has demanded that the council discuss all aspects of the crisis.

At Addis Ababa Emperor Haile Selassie welcomed convoking of the council, reiterated Ethiopia's desire for peace.

Rome reported Eritrea, Italy's African colony, was already under martial law.

At London, an Italian official charged Haile Selassie had designs upon Italian territory in order to "extend his empire to the sea."

ROME, July 27. (AP)—Italy sent the League of Nations today an implied threat to quit the council session starting Wednesday if it discussed phases of the Italo-Ethiopian quarrel Italy did not want talked about.

A telegram to J. A. C. Avenol, league secretary-general said Italy would not "have any difficulty in participating in the session" if its work were confined solely to "studying the most opportune means of placing the commission of conciliation and arbitration in position to resume its labors."

(The Italo-Ethiopian commission adjourned at Scheveningen, the Netherlands, when members could not agree on proper topics for discussion.)

Should Italy's demands fail to be met, the communication to Geneva said, Italy reserved "the right to make known its observations."

The Italian note limited the council's discussion, in effect, to the frontier clash at Ualual last December in which 30 Italians and 110 Ethiopians died. That was the same limitation she sought to set upon the work of the conciliation commission.

Authoritative quarters here said tonight the league's hands had been effectively tied. Premier Benito Mussolini, they asserted, had doused liberally with cold water any remaining hope that the controversy could be settled peacefully.

(At Addis Ababa, Emperor Haile Selassie reiterated Ethiopia's desire for peace. Welcoming convoking of the council, he put it up to the league to decide when one member could invade another's territory and said Italy makes arbitration impossible "because she desires to exclude the frontier treaty."

'European diplomats meanwhile continued trying to find some way to avert war, centering their efforts at London where the British government faced press demands for league action to force Britain to close the Suez canal to Italian warships. Speakers urged British action to "halt Italy.")

Federal Judge Upholds AAA

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 27. (AP)—Federal Judge John D. Martin in an oral opinion handed down tonight upheld the constitutionality of the agricultural adjustment act in dismissing a suit to recover $6,863 paid by a Memphis packer in processing taxes.

I Heard . .

"Spud" Watts, recent acquisition to Pampa's golfing circles, in an exuberant mood last night. He had just received a dozen golf balls from Al Espinosa, nationally famous golfer. Espinosa taught Watts his golf, and the young man shoots good enough to get in the championship flight of the Country club city open tournament which gets under way this morning. Watts, with the General Atlas Carbon company, came to Borger and then here from Arkon, Ohio, where he learned his golf under Espinosa.

Denies Story

HOUSEWIVES IN DETROIT STAGE NEW MEAT WAR

Many Men Scratched, Bruised; Their Hair Pulled

DETROIT, July 27. (AP)—A housewives' war for lower meat prices left numerous men scratched and bruised in Hamtramck today, kept police scout cars dashing from one beleaguered butcher shop to another, and sharply curtailed retail meat sales.

Most of the casualties were husbands of women not connected with the women's "committee for action against the high cost of living," the organization which arranged for demonstration and placed 500 militant pickets in the field.

The men were seized as they came out of meat shops, their faces slapped, their hair pulled, and their packages confiscated and hurled in the gutter. A few were knocked down and trampled.

Several persons were arrested but the majority were quickly released.

The strike will be continued, declard Miss Mary Zuk, leader of the movement, until meat prices are reduced 20 per cent. She predicted it would spread from Mamtramck, a Polish section, into all other parts of the metropolitan area.

Pastor Charged With Theft of 8 Ranch Horses

MENARD, July 27 (AP)—Charged with stealing horses, Mrs. Anabel Gatlin, pastor of the First Christian church here, and her husband, Cecil Gatlin, were held in jail here today under bonds of $3,000 each.

An examining trial was waived by Mrs. Gatlin.

Sheriff Cecil Walston said he had recovered six of eight horses stolen from John Keeney and Dan McLain of Menard and Tom Lowe, foreman of the H. P. Opp ranch. He said the six horses were on a ranch leased by the accused couple and located eight miles north of San Saba.

7 SOLDIERS KILLED

ANKARA, Turkey, July 27. (AP)—Tight military censorship lifted long enough today to disclose the deaths of seven soldiers in the explosion of two munitions dumps near Ismidt yesterday and today. A cigarette thrown into dry grass set off the blasts, officials announced. The dumps contained large quantities of cartridges and hand grenades.

NATION-WIDE STRIKE LOOMS IN OLD MEXICO

TAMAULIPAS GOVERNOR EXPECTED TO QUIT ANY MOMENT

MATAMOROS, Tamaulipas, Mexico, July 27 (AP) — Reinwhich took over the city of Matamoros to prevent possible violent clashes between opponents and supporters of Governor Rafael Villarreal and Mayor Ragael Munguia C. during a virtual seige of the city, were ordered here tonight, but the exact significance of the move was not explained.

MEXICO CITY, July 27. (AP)—A threatened nation-wide general strike against Augstin Olachea, governor of the northern territory of Baja California, today gave President Lazaro Cardenas new cause for anxiety.

The national federation of workers and peasants threatened to strike early next month unless Cardenas removed Olachea. The labor organization accused him of using terroristic methods against opponents.

Developments in the four other trouble states today were:

Tamaulipas—Virtual siege of several cities, including the capital Ciudad Victoria, was lifted and thousands of rebellious peasants started home, confident Cardenas would oust Governor Rafael Villereal.

Tabasco—Tomas Garrido Canabal, his 12-year state dictatorship ended by Cardenas' intervention to remove "Garrido's governor," Manuel Lastra, said he would not flee into exile. He said he would stay at Tabasco and "show that I can take it."

Pampa Future Farmers Take Second Honors

Pampa's Future Farmers of America club not only played a large part in bringing to the district first place at the state conference in Lubbock last week but brought greater honor to Pampa by taking second place in the contest. There are 350 department organizations in the state, divided into eight sections for administrative purposes.

Each club entered an exhibit of trophies, ribbons and other prizes won in competition during the past year. The Pampa club showed 62 ribbons, two large banners, two large pictures of famous farmers, and records on many cash awards to take second place among the 350 entrants.

The Pampa F. F. H. club is made up of boys in the agriculture class at Pampa high school. Pampa delegates who accompanied Prof. J. L. Lester, sponsor, to the convention were Everett Vanderberg, Ivan Noblitt, Floyd Stevens and Earl Rice Jr.

Million-Dollar Hall of State Is Centennial Feature

Central unit of the Texas Centennial Exposition, the Texas State Building, will cost $1,200,000. Designed by a committee of Texas architects, the building will be a massive structure of Texas limestone with a frontal width of 488 feet, a depth of 258 feet and 80 feet high at its center, in which the Niche of Heroes will be located. The two front wings will be occupied by regional rooms, devoted to the four geographical divisions of the state—East, West, North, and South—while at the extreme ends will be the Halls of 1836 and 1936.

Forming a third wing, extending to the rear from the Niche of Heroes, will be the Great Hall of Texas. This hall will be a large room with six semi-circular bays in which will be displayed flags of the six governments that have ruled Texas. At one end, silhouetted against stained-glass windows, will be a heroic statue symbolic of Texas. On the floor will be outlined a map of Texas with bronze markers showing historic places and old pioneer trails. Murals will decorate the bays and walls of the regional rooms. Below the great hall will be an auditorium.

The walls of the Niche of Heroes, behind its columns, will bear in relief heroic figures of the major heroes of Texas, while under the windows in the side colonades will be placed smaller figures of other historic Texas characters.

The interior of the Hall of 1836 will be a replica of a Texas mission, while that of the Hall of 1936 will be modern.

Mayor Of New York Clamps Down On German Immigrant

Rioters Defile Flag Of German Ship, Bremen

(By The Associated Press.)

Two anti-nazi incidents in New York drew from Berlin yesterday (Saturday) a press demand for a formal apology in one case and a communique holding that a commercial treaty had been breached by the other.

The latter was the refusal of Mayor F. H. La Guardia to license an unidentified German immigrant, "Mr. K," as a masseur on the ground that the Reich itself had violated the treaty under which he sought the license by discriminating against American Jews.

An official release said that "this constitutes a clear breach" of the pact and that "it is up to the American federal government to give instructions to officials concerned to observe the treaty."

The other incident was a communist demonstration at the sailing of the liner Bremen Friday night in which the German flag was defiled. Berlin newspapers demanded diplomatic amends.

While seven of the demonstrators were arraigned in New York and two more, suffering from bullet wounds, were arrested in hospitals, a state department official in Washington expressed regret at the incident.

Senate leaders forecast that a resolution to investigate the Reich's treatment of Jews and Catholics would be pigeonholed as a result of state department opposition.

Jews Hit Again

BERLIN, July 27. (AP)—Naziism's big offensive against reactionaries struck new terror into Jews and steel helmet war veterans today but Catholics, heretofore under heavy fire, thought they discerned indications of an imminent truce.

NEW SCHEDULE FOR TEACHERS' PAY RECEIVED

Premium Placed on Teacher Training By State

A teachers' salary schedule approved by the state board of education for the 1935-36 term has been received by County Superintendent W. B. Weatherred. The board each year names maximum salaries for which state aid is granted to common school districts.

The new schedule puts a premium on teacher training, as well as on experience which formerly received chief emphasis. It begins with a monthly salary of $75 for teachers with no college training but one or two years' experience, or $80 for those with more than three years' experience, and ranges to $90 for teachers with degrees but no experience, and $105 for those with degrees and five years' experience.

Principals' salaries start at $100 for those with two years in college and no experience, and range to $150 for those holding standard degrees and having five years' teaching experience.

All superintendents' salaries are based on holding college degrees. Those with no experience may receive to $130 monthly for a nine-month term, while the maximum of $200 monthly for 12 months is scheduled for those serving in a school having 20 or more teachers.

Districts have also been notified that rural aid funds for teachers' salaries, industrial aid, library aid, and district transportation, are credited to the separate districts and may be disbursed on order of

FIFTY DIE IN EXPLOSION OF -- ARMS PLANT

Believe Many Working Girls Are Included Among Dead in Italian Factory.

VARSE, Italy, July 27. (AP)—With a terrific blast which shook villages and broke windows in buildings for miles around, the Bickford-Smith munitions factory at Taino blew up this afternoon taking an estimated toll of 50 lives.

Many girls were working in the plant and it was feared they were inclued among the dead. Scores of workers were injured.

Officials of the factory and municipality refused to answer questions concerning the explosion.

Villagers, however, expressed the opinion the first blast occurred in the packing warehouse. They said many girls were working in that building.

The families of the approximately five hundred employees of the plant hovered around the outskirts of the factory grounds until late at night, awaiting reports from squadrons of militiamen who were rushed to the scene.

Witneses said several smaller explosions followed the first tremendous blast, which caused a heavy pall of smoke and dust to obscure almost completely the immediate vicinity.

Late tonight a dozen bodies had been reported found, but many others were thought to be buried under the widely-flung debris.

Firemen from surrounding towns and cities patrolled the grounds. Other explosions were feared.

A provisional infirmary was set up by Red Cross doctors and nurses to care for the wounded and dying being brought in by searchers.

Patton Weeps as He Scans Message

WASHINGTON, July 27. (AP)—Representative Patton (D-Texas) dropped his head on his desk today and wept.

He had just read this telegram from John H. Kirby, Houston, Tex., lumberman:

"Don't let them intimidate you. Give your enemies the bayonet. Every informed man and woman in Texas knows you are innocent."

Patton raised his head.

"Everybody in Texas is with me," he said. "They all know me and they know I never did anything wrong in my life."

Patton is the Texas representative who told the senate lobby committee he received a box of cigars at the hotel room of John W. Carpenter, president of the Texas Power and Light Co., and was questioned about investing $3,000 in government bonds in a period when his salary was only $3,100.

Miss Jeanne Marie Sullivan of Wichita Falls will spend the next month in Pampa as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Gribbon.

Allred Says Local Officers Must Enforce Criminal Laws

AUSTIN, July 27. (AP)—The burden of law enforcement will rest on local officers and state police will be used sparingly in enforcing criminal statutes in political subdivisions, Governor Allred said today.

The governor, in a sternly worded statement, said the state police under the new department of public safety, would be used to ferret out major criminals and warned that localities could look to Austin only in emergencies and where local officers failed to do their duty.

The department will begin functioning August 9, bringing the Texas Rangers and the state highway patrol under one commission.

"In creating this new agency the legislature never intended that there should be any interference with, or usurpation of, the powers and duties of local officers," the governor said. "The primary duty of enforcing laws rests squarely on the shoulders of local men who have been selected in the respective counties and cities.

"I have always believed, and still believe, it is unwise to interfere with local officers in the performance of their duties so long as they make an honest effort to give their communities efficient enforcement. When local forces are either unwilling or unable to enforce the laws it is my judgment it shall then become the duty of the state agency to lend such aid as may be necessary to meet the situation."

Governor Allred recalled recent activities of Rangers in raiding gambling places in several communities under his orders.

"Their activities along this line demonstrated beyond any doubt that the laws, whether popular or not, can be enforced if the local officers will but make the proper effort."

The governor said he was extremely hopeful local law enforcement officers would assume their full share of responsibility and that "citizens and their duly constituted officers will cease turning their eyes to Austin for the ordinary problems of law enforcement. It seems to me that the time has come in this state and nation when local units of government should assume the full measure of responsibility not only in law enforcement, but in all other matters where possible. The idea seems that has gone abroad in the land seems to be, in recent years, that we must look to centralized authority rather than stand on our own legs."

TAX BOARD OF TEXAS SLASHES RATE 15 CENTS

Treasury of State Has a Gloomy Outlook

AUSTIN, July 27. (AP)—Texas taxpayers will receive the benefit of a 15 cent reduction in their state ad valorem tax rate despite a gloomy outlook for the treasury.

The automatic tax board today fixed the total property tax for state purposes at 62 cents per $100 valuation, compared to the constitutional maximum of 77 cents. All of the reduction was in the tax for school purposes, the rate being cut from 35 cents to 20 cents. The general revenue and confederate pension rates were set at the constitutional maximum of 35 and seven cents, respectively.

The prospective deficit in the general revenue fund at the end of the fiscal year, August 31, 1936, was estimated at $12,929,239, compared to a calculated deficit of $7,290,985 at the end of the current fiscal year.

Three factors were credite with the anticipated increase in the general revenue fund deficit; the $3,000,000 Centennial appropriation; increase of $2,000,000 in the rural school aid appropriation and $2,707,000 in interest and sinking fund requirement for relief bonds.

Legislative appropriations from the general revenue fund totaled $33,366,096. Receipts from sources other than ad valorem taxes were estimated at $15,902,999, from which was deducted the relief bond sinking fund and interest. The net total to be raised from the ad valorem tax was $20,170,307. It was estimated the 35 cent rate would yield only $7,241,068.

A heavy cash balance in the available school fund caused the reduction in the school rate. The balance at the end of the current fiscal year was placed at $22,482,935. Total requirements for schools, including a per capital scholastic apportionment of $17.50 for approximately 1,560,000 scholastics, was estimated at $30,318,241.

Lunch Prevents A Bank Robbery

CHICAGO, July 27 (AP)—Four brash bank robbers drove smartly up to the Mount Prospect State bank in a nearby suburb today, waved gawking townspeople aside with a machine gun, and stopped short at the door.

The door was locked, and in its glass center hung a sign reading: "Out to lunch."

The quartet broke pell-mell for their car, and made an embarrassed getaway.

TREATY TERMINATED

BERLIN, July 27. (AP)—The official German press service announced today Germany considered her commercial treaty with America terminated. The press service communique said the treaty was broken by the action of Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia of New York in refusing to license a German resident there as a masseur because of alleged anti-Jewish acts by the nazis.

FACES THREAT OF CONTEMPT IN TESTIMONY

'BIG LIQUOR INDUSTRY' ALLIED WITH BOTTLE MAKERS

By PRESTON L. GROVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 27. (AP)—A charge that National Distillers corporation, a major American whisky producer, was "head of a bootleg ring" today was flung before an incredulous senate committee by Lester P. Barlow, lock design engineer.

Immediately he called down upon his head a threat of citation for contempt for refusing to answer questions of Senator Clark (D-Mo) bearing on "proof" of his charges.

Barlow was one of a dozen witnesses who appeared before the finance committee ,some supporting and some opposing a provision in the federal liquor control bill passed by the house under which "bulk sales" in kegs would be permitted, contrary to present treasury regulations.

Barlow brought samples of a bottle lock he said was being produced by his organization, Yale and Towne company of Stamford, Conn.

"But the glass industry don't want it," he stormed with a belligerency amazing to the several senators present.

The reason the glass industry didn't want it, Barlow said, was that "the glass industry is in the hands of a bootleg ring."

Growing increasingly heated and waving his bottle samples about, he said the "big liquor industry" is in the bootleg business and was allied in it with the glass bottle makers.

Senator Clark immediately set after him with questions for proof of his charges.

In reply to one question Barlow named the National Distillers, described in earlier testimony as the largest individual American producer.

"Who told you," Clark snapped

Barlow as hotly replied that he got his information at a meeting in a Washington hotel at which a representative of the glass bottle industry "told me to get out of the protection business and get out quick."

Price of Wheat Rises 5 Cents

CHICAGO, July 27. (AP)—Wheat prices spurted the allowable limit of five cents on the nation's big grain markets today.

Reports of an alarming spread of black rust damage in the northwest and Canada provided the acceleration.

Accompanied by unusually heavy dealings, quotations swept up to the government-pegged peak in the last hour of trading at Chicago, Kansas City and Minneapolis.

Suggestions that 1935 would prove to be the worst black rust year on record excited traders. Spurred by the prospective havoc in once promising fields, they have witnessed a rise of 16 cents and more in wheat values during the past three weeks.

Mrs. Ellie Balk and children, Sybil and Freddy, have returned to their home in Teague after a visit here.

I Saw . . .

Travis Lively Jr., back for the week-end from Clarendon where he is working on a farm and incidentally getting in shape for the Harvester football season. Killing six skunks in one batch with a stick and breakin r horses (items in his activity record) did not come under the head of football training, he said. . . . Moose Hartman was also in town; he's lost at least 15 pounds this summer. Hard work, he said.

TWELVE NEW STARTS ARE STAKED IN GRAY COUNTY

BY GEORGE L. GUTHRIE.
Consulting Geologist, Combs-Worley Bldg.

Activity in the plains district shows no decrease due to the new gas laws and rules set down by the railroad commission. The opinion seems to be that after stabilization the price of casinghead gas will rise so that curtailed production will be of benefit to all concerned.

So far there has been no definite figures given on the gas-oil ratio in regard to flowing wells, however, the commission is working on this problem at present and if the system and work applied in arriving at the dry gas production and allotment figures are given to this question the result should be practical as well as equable.

Nine completions added 2,450 barrels daily to the field potential, the completions represening every county except Moore. There were 18 new locations made which represented Gray and Wheeler counties.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, July 27. (AP) — Week end liquidation and reports of insect damage in Texas brought minor recessions in the cotton market today as futures finished 1 to 5 points lower.

A thin market existed for the two hours of trading and light buying or selling orders proved sufficient to bring about price swings of around 50 cents a bale.

Then a few selling orders came into the market from traders who did not want to maintain a position over the week end, and others who put a bearish interpretation on continued reports of army worm damage to the Texas crop. Prices slumped and October ended the week at 11.55, December at 11.40, January at 11.399 and May at 11.35. Spots held steady with middling at New Orleans unchanged at 12.05 cents.

Early support appeared in the market for brokers who ordinarily act for large spot houses and there was some buying by professionals.

Liverpool also had a quiet day.

Reports from South Texas showed that the new crop is beginning to move in volume with Corpus Christi receiving 4,662 bales of the new yield today.

So far this season Houston had reported 178 bales and Corpus Christi 26,419 bales of the 1935 crop.

KANSAS CITY LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, July 27. (AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—A total of 149,500 cattle were received at 11 principal midwestern markets this week compared with 1665,368 ast week and 192,819 the corresponding period a year ago. At Chicago 11.65 was the practical top while prime 1,240 lb. steers reached 11.60 at Omaha. At river markets western grassers ranged from 4.50-7.50 strong weights at the outside while desirable stockers and feeders brought from 5.00-7.25.

An advance of 25-65 featured the week's trade in fat lambs. Top native ambs reached 8.75 at St. Louis and Chicago while best yearlings made 6.660 at the latter point. At Kansas City Texas yearlings sold in a spread of 5.35-65.

Receipts of 167,500 hogs compared with 370,802 the same week last year; advances of 10-65 were registered with most points 25-60 higher. New high marks since 19390 were established with a top of 11.00 at Chicago.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, July 27. (AP) — Equities strode vigorously along new high ground in active trading on the New York stock exchange today.

In terms of the Associated Press average of 60 stocks, the market closed at a new high for the year at 46.6, up .4 of a point. Trading was faster than Friday and more active than any Saturday since June 22. Transactions totalled 734,240 shares.

Brokers said they could point to no general news development in back of the market and believed most of the buying came into the steels and motors on favorable reports from those sectors.

Opinion in financial circles was that the bulk of the demand consisted of buying from investors, many of whom have recently had various bonds called. And by some observers it was reported that this accumulation was reinforced a little by short covering.

Buying which put both Chrysler and General Motors up to new highs was interpreted in commission houses in terms of the automobile output for the week ended today.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, July 27. (AP)—Prospects that black rust havoc in North American spring wheat crops may radically change the world wheat supply situation shot wheat prices skyward today.

Canadian as well as United States field reports appeared to justify suggestions that 1935 is proving to be the worst black rust year ever known.

General belief was freely expressed among grain traders that the giant onward sweep of black rust, unchecked both north and south of the Canadian border, would be apt to keep the United States on a domestic basis, leaving no margin for wheat exports this season.

Excited jumps of prices brought about big profit-taking sales, and the market reacted in the late dealings, closing unsettled, 2⅞-3⅞ above yesterday's finish, Sept. 92⅞-93¼, corn ⅝-1¼ up, Sept. 77⅞-78, oats ⅝-1⅛ advanced, and provisions showing 15 to 35 cents gain.

Accelerating today's fresh ascent of Chicago wheat prices were cables showing the Liverpool market had made a full response to yesterday's steep advances here.

Stunning market effects followed in particular a comprehensive report from a widely known crop specialist saying black rust has now shut off any further sap from going into wheat kernals all through the Dakotas and Minnesota, as well as in a large section of Canada.

Corn, oats, rye and provisions took their cue chiefly from wheat strength.

New price records for the season were chalked up as to lard.

Pampa Drug Beats Skelly Team 4-3

The Pampa Drug store's playground ball team won a thrilling 4 to 3 game from the Skelly-Schafer Gasoline plant team Friday evening. The game was replete with thrills and it was not until the last man was out that the game was safe for the druggists.

Mennig of the druggists gave the fans a thrill, and also put his team in the lead, in the opening inning when he banged out a triple. Hits after that were few and short as pitchers took no chances.

Davis was on the mound for the winners, with Mennig behind the plate. Haines went the rounds for the visitors, with Carlson receiving.

Yanks Lose Another

NEW YORK, July 27. (AP)—Charley Ruffing's wildness in the ninth inning enabled the Senators to break a tie score and defeat the Yankees for the second straight time, 8 to 7. Ossie Bluege singled home the winning run after Ruffing had walked Schulte and Kress with two out in the ninth.

ALLISON AND BUDGE BEATEN AT WIMBLEDON

OPENING MATCHES ARE WON BY ENGLISH NET STARS

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 27. (AP) —There was something hauntingly familiar about the atmosphere around Wimbledon's cloistered confines tonight as America's Davis cup tennis players, beaten in the two opening singles matches of the challenge round, tried to assume cheery fronts as they prepared to spend a quiet weekend in the country.

The official count was two to none for England, both Wilmer Allison of Austin, Tex., and 20-year-old Don Budge of Oakland, Calif., losing to H. W. (Bunny) Austin and Fred J. Perry, respectively.

The hardest blow of all was the short-panted Austin's triumph, for it was hopefully figured he would be the victim of two American victories. Instead, he took the measure of Allison in five sets, 6-2, 2-6, 4-6, 6-4, 7-5, while Budge captured the fancy of the capacity crowd of more than 15,000 by extending the sparkling Perry to four sets before bowing, 6-0, 6-8, 6-3, 6-4.

As matters stood the United States was in exactly the same spot it occupied a year ago, both in the matter of defeats at the end of the first day and in prospects for the next three matches. Allison's failure to "take" Austin sent America's hopes of recapturing the coveted cup, lost since 1927, down around the zero point. The American team, however, was not entirely downcast.

Dodgers Smack Giants Down

BROOKLYN, July 27. (AP)—The Dodgers slammed out four runs off Al Smith and Frank Gabler in the second inning, after Smith's hand had been hurt by a line drive in the first, and defeated the league-leading Giants 6 to 4 today. The defeat left the Giants only 1½ games ahead of Chicago.

23 WORLD RECORDS BROKEN - - - SINCE LAST OLYMPIC GAMES

By ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK (AP) — Eye-witnesses thought the record-breaking peak had been reached in 1932 when the cream of the world's athletic crop blasted a score of track and field records in the Los Angeles Olympics under as nearly perfect conditions as any competition has ever known.

The figured the Olympic track the fastest of all time, but they overlooked Princeton's hard-baked, deeply rock-ballasted cinders. They considered the pace extraordinary, which it was, but the Cunningham-Bonthron and the Peacock-Owens rivalries had not yet moved into the headlines. And so, within three years after Los Angeles, it is a certified fact that 23 world records have been broken, bettered or equaled, including marks in a dozen of the standard Olympic events.

During the last three years, in fact, the competitive pace has been faster and more startling than it was before or even during the 1932 games.

Some Were Just Kids in '32

Such record smashers as Jesse Owens, Eulace Peacock, Keith Brown, Bill Bonthron, Jack Torrance and Walter Marty were not even participants in the last international games. Others, including Glen Hardin, Glenn Cunningham and Ben Eastman, were beaten in the Olympic competition.

Eastman and Owens have given time and distance their worst beating in the last two seasons. The former Stanford star's come-back in 1934 resulted in successful attacks on three records, including the 880-yard run. At the same time he was finally given credit for the 440-yard mark of 46.4 seconds which he had registered in March, 1932.

Owens, in a single afternoon at Ann Arbor in the year's Big Ten championships, tied the 100-yard record of 9.4 and eclipsed the world standards for the broad jump, 220-yard dash and 220-yard low hurdles. His best lateral leap measured 26 feet, 8 1-4 inches, but he was beaten in the National A. A. U. championships by Peacock, whose winning jump of 26 feet 3 inches also bettered the existing world record.

18 New, Aproved Marks.

Here are the world record performances made and officially approved since the 1932 Olympics:

110-meter high hurdles—14.2, by Percy Beard, U. S. A.

400-meter hurdles—50.6, by Glen Hardin, U. S. A.

100-meter dash—10.3 (equals), by Ralph Metcalfe, U. S. A.

200-meter dash—20.6 (equals), by Ralph Metcalfe, U. S. A.

500-meter run — 1:02, by B e n Eastman, U. S. A.

600-yard run — 1:09.2, by B e n Eastman, U. S. A.

800-meter run — 1:49.8 (equals), by Ben Eastman, U. S. A.

880-yard run — 1:49.8, by Ben Eastman, U. S. A.

1,000-yard run—2:10, by Lugi Beccali, Italy.

Mile run—4:06.7, by Glenn Cunningham, U. S. A.

1,500-meter run—3:48.8, by Bill Bonthron, U. S. A.

3,000-meter run—8:18.4, by Henry Nielsen, Denmark.

Four-mile run — 19:01, by Volmari Iso-Hollo, Finland.

Javelin throw—249 feet. 8 inches, by Matti Jarvinen, Finland.

Discus throw — 171 feet, 11 3-4 inches, by Harold Anderson, Sweden.

Shot-put—57 feet, 1 inch, by Jack Torrance, U. S. A.

High Jump—6 feet, 9 1-16 inches, by Walter Marty, U. S. A.

Decathlon — 8790.46 points, by Hans Sievert, Germany.

Following are the marks yet to be passed on by the International A. A. F. for inclusion in the world record books:

100 yards—9.4 seconds (equals), by Jesse Owens, U. S. A.

220 yards—20.3 seconds, Jesse Owens, U. S. A.

220-yard low hurdles—22.6, by Jesse Owens, U. S. A.

Pole vault—14 feet, 5 1-8 inches, by Keith Brown, U. S. A.

TWO SILVER FOX HEADS LINKED BY GLASS RINGS

PARIS (AP)—Glass rings held together the heads of two silver foxes which the Countess Alexandre de Casteja wore while lunching at the Crillon the other day. The pelts were swung around the neck like a lei, with the tails hanging down the back.

The countess wore the furs with a frock of black wool jersey finished with a white pique vest buttoned with gold butttons and a wide-brimmed panama hat having a skein of red, white and black string around the crown.

STRONG HINTS FOR FARMERS SPREAD THROUGH ULSTER

BELFAST (AP) — The world's queerest show is on tour in Northern Ireland.

Its top-liners are cheeses so bad that they are locked in their cases behind thick glass; rotten eggs so rotten that they would not be used even at election time; chickens that were born "damaged goods"; potatoes of the kind that mean spoiled dinners, and rancid butter.

These farm horrors are being displayed by the Northern Ireland ministry of agriculture as a lesson to farmers on what to avoid.

Department of agriculture engineers have developed a portable outfit for irrigating crops.

Receiving aviation's highest honor and the personal congratulations of his commander-in-chief, Captain Albert F. Hegenberger of the United States Army Air Corps was awarded the Collier trophy by President Roosevelt in ceremonies at Washington, D. C. Hegenberger's feat of landing a plane by blind flying was hailed as last year's greatest contribution to aviation. The flyer is shown shaking hands with the president.

CHICAGO—The Classic Stakes, in which Omaha conceded as much as 13 pounds and ran the fastest mile and a quarter in a half dozen years to thoroughly shellack his foremost rivals and definitely clinch the 3-year-old championship, furnished examples of the strategy used by owners, trainers, and jockeys in their efforts to aid the cause of their horses.

Of course, in the case of the big number at Arlington Park only the riding of Wayne Wright, the brilliant reinsman whom Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons borrowed from Joseph E. Widener, counted for much, so great was the long-legged Omaha's superiority.

But if you are interested in what owners and trainers say to jockeys in that moment before the riders are lifted into the saddles, here are the orders which were given to the boys riding Omaha, Bloodroot, and little Black Helen.

Come Back to Omaha in Stretch.

Black Helen generally was supposed to have been the one Omaha had to beat, but Fitzsimmons' instructions to Wright were:

"If Black Helen and St. Bernard go to the top and try to run away from you, forget them. They'll come back to you in the stretch.

"But if you see Bloodroot and Roman Soldier going to the top, you move too.

"And stay out of trouble."

Black Helen, the more fancied half of the Col. Edward Riley Bradley entry of herself and Bloodroot, was in receipt of her filly allowance of five pounds from Omaha and had proved her ability to go the route in fast company by acquiring the American Derby.

Bloodroot came onto the track wearing the first string silks of Col. Bradley, while Black Helen wore the red cap of the less highly regarded running mate. This caused some excitement, and the more knowing suspected the renowned Bradley wile.

The fact that Bloodroot's post position was No. 2, entitling her to the Bradley green cap, was a more or less satisfactory explanation at the time. Besides, the crack Don Meade was on Black Helen.

Bradley Shot to Win With Bloodroot

What followed made it clear that the foxy Bradley believed that he had something up his sleeve, however.

Black Helen fought it out with St. Bernard, a colt sent out to steal the race if possible.

Bloodroot stayed off the pace and started her drive in the stretch. It carried her past the tiring Black Helen, and another couple of jumps would have put her in front of St. Bernard.

A check-up after the event showed that Meade was instructed to ride his own race.

But Lester Balaski, on Bloodroot, was to stay off the pace, move with Omaha, and if possible nail him.

Bloodroot wasn't good enough to finish in front of the Beliar flyer, but at that the strategy came close to working. A less skillful ride on the part of Wright, a little less class in Omaha, and Col. Bradley easily might have captured the Classic Stakes and the $28,975 that went with it.

SENATE INVESTIGATORS FAIL TO FIND UTILITY OFFICIAL

WASHINGTON, July 27. (AP) — The senate lobby committee was disclosed tonight to be contemplating an extended inquiry into any relationships found to exist between members of congress and lobbyists in general.

It was learned that questionnaires had been submitted to many companies and individuals, covering all phases of lobbying activity. The inquiry sheets asked among other things for figures on sums spent and their source, and also for the names of all members of the senate and house who were approached.

In the interim before the resumption of investigations next week by both senate and house committees, other developments included:

Senate lobby investigators tonight reported an inability to obtain the appearance of H. C. Hopson, dominant figure in the Associated Gas and Electric company which expended $700,000 fighting the administration public utilities bill.

William H. Collins, counsel for the house investigating committee, reported that records taken from the office of Bernard B. Robinson, Chicago securities executive who has been questioned about his anti-utilities bill activities, would make the "best headlines thus far in the investigation."

In a general order to all employes, the federal communications commission today warned those participating in its investigation of the American Telephone and Telegraph company not to accept any favors or gifts from company officials or employes.

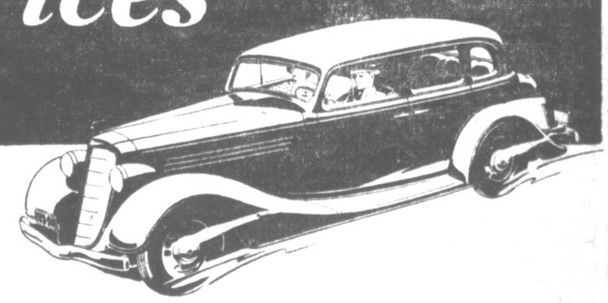

Meanwhile, house and senate conferees on the utilities bill remained at loggerheads. Chairman Wheeler (D., Mont.) of the senate conference committee reported no development since the conference adjourned indefinitely yesterday with signs of temper and complete disagreement.

The conflict arose over the presence of Ben Cohen, administrattion aide, whom the senate conferees insisted should be permitted to advise them.

'Hopping to It' for Nation's Beer

A sight to gladden the heart of the beer drinker on these torrid summer days is this—though he'd probably be in a fog to understand why until he was told. On this maze of wire and string will grow part of the mammoth hop crop that helps put the tingle in the nation's brew. The scene is in one of the vast hopyards of the Sacramento valley in California, during the "stringing" operation. The men working between the rows of poles use miles of cord, which is strung to the ground from the 20-foot posts. Up these strings the hop vines climb until the crop is ready to be harvested.

WRANGLIN' THE PAST. By Frank M. King. Printed by Book Division, Haynes Corporation, Los Angeles. $5.00 postpaid.

This book, published in June, recently came to my desk. It could class as an autobiography as it is the personal reminiscences of Frank M. King of Los Angeles, but it is more than that. It is the history of the pioneer years of our great southwest. The story opens with an account of King's grandfather moving with his family from Georgia in 1849, passing across Texas and New Mexico, spending some time at different places en route, settling near Los Angeles in 1853.

King's father grew up and married in California, but brought his family back to Texas in 1873 and here Frank King learned to ride, rope, and the various work of a cowboy's life. Later, they moved west again, running a store at Golden, New Mexico, and a small ranch about thirty miles from there. While riding in the breaks one day, Frank discovered what turned out to be a silver-lead mine. Numerous legal difficulties followed the beginning of mine operations, with things happening in accredited western style.

King drifted on to Arizona and did some bronc breaking. He decided he wanted a try at newspaper reporting and secured a place on the Phoenix Gazette in 1889. Here he worked hard, doing some studying each day for three years. His work of reporter was full of excitement and adventure.

The Midland, Texas, stockyards in the 70's, a cattle round-up near Houston, group of XIT cowboys in 1894 and another in 1883, remudas, trail herds, also some prominent characters of the early days are among the numerous illustrations in this book.

We read of the passing of the great trail herds to the north, of what was usually known as the Old Chisholm Trail from Doan's Store on the Red river to Abilene, Kas. A chapter is devoted to the explanation of range words and terms. Towns important in the 60's and 70's as stopping places for cowmen; colorful figures of fifty, sixty, seventy years ago, pass across the stage as one reads. The present generation will read with interest these accounts of cow camp and the trail, of home-making pioneer and reckless adventurer, happenings that go into the making of an empire. The old-timers will smile reminiscently and say, "I remember when . . ."

WRANGLIN' THE PAST is beautifully bound, profusely illustrated, good paper, clear print, conveniently arranged, is not only entertaining but of historical value as well.

TEXAS WRITERS OF TODAY. By Florence Elberta Barns, Ph. D. Tardy publishing company, Dallas. $4.25 postpaid.

This book, compiled by Florence Elberta Barns, Ph. D. (Chicago University) and awaited with eagerness by many people, is now available to purchasers. Dr. Barns taught in Chicago University before coming to Texas. She has been instructor at Baylor college and Baylor university, Waco, also has made a number of extended trips to Europe where she did a great deal of research work under grants from the American Council of Learned Societies. Her home is now in Austin.

For six years, Dr. Barns searched for and collected material for this work, sending out thousands of communications and questionnaires, reading countless letters, manuscripts, newspaper clippings, etc., from which she selected the copy which makes up the contents of Texas Writers of Today. A similar volume is contemplated for publication each succeeding three years. The author invites Texas writers to send her data for the 1938 volume.

In the preface, the author states that she considers the volume a source book of contemporary writing in Texas; that writing is here distinguished from literature in its strict sense.

The Foreword by Dr. Robert Adger Law, Ph. D., professor of English, the University of Texas, gives facts relative to varied interests in different sections of our large state, its culture and progress, information which will be interesting not only to Texans but to those of other states also.

Dr. Barns devotes some twenty pages to the introduction in which she traces the "Growth of a Literature in Texas."

Approximately 1,300 writers, including journalists, novelists, historians, poets, and all branches of the writing profession, arranged alphabetically, are given with a bit of writing, a poem or excerpt of prose. Following this, the different types of writing represented are listed under their respective headings, the names of writers being alphabetically arranged in each division.

On the inside of the back cover is pasted a literary map of Texas, the work of Dr. Barns. This unique map unfolds to a size about 12x12 inches. Fifteen rows of names in small type form the border for the sheet. On the outline map of Texas are placed names of all towns which are the birthplace or present residence of a Texas writer. Spaces between the border and the state line are used for titles of books, names of newspapers and periodicals, and figures representative of historical facts or figures. A cowboy on his pony, a prairie schooner drawn by four oxen, the Alamo, an oil derrick, a mission bell, the wild lobo, cactus, a crude building with the lettering "Judge Roy Bean, Law West of the Pecos," are among the drawings.

TEXAS WRITERS of TODAY is 6x9 inches, contains more than 500 pages, cloth bound, gold lettering. It will be a valuable addition to the reference section of all libraries.

ART AND ARTISTS OF TEXAS. By Esse Forrester O'Brien. Tardy Publishing company, Dallas. $3.00 postpaid.

This authentic book on our artists past and present was published July 15. It is 6x9 inches, contains 408 pages, is cloth bound, and stamped in gold.

It will be a valuable source book to all those in quest of material for short talks, essays, club papers, and addresses on the subject of Texas and Texans in Art.

Statewide Oil, Gas Hearing To Be on Aug. 19

AUSTIN, J 27. (AP)—A call for a statewide oil and gas proration hearing, an appellate court ruling that innocent holders of forged oil tenders acquired no legal rights and announcement the house committee investigating the oil industry would meet in open session Tuesday were developments today in the oil world.

Coincident with the call for the statewide hearing August 19 preliminary to issuance of new allowables, the commission announced it would start Monday to test efficiency of East Texas refineries. The tests would determine if the plants were operating wastefully and if the recovery from any plant was excessively high.

Conflicting reports on refinery operations have been received, some to the effect that recovery in some instances is so high as to indicate use of illegally produced crude.

Chairman Ernest O. Thompson of the railroad commission will be the first witness at the oil committee's hearing, Representative Augustine Celaya of Brownsville, chairman, said. The committee was in secret session over the week end outlining its procedure for the public session. For weeks it has been conducting a closed inquiry into activities in the East Texas field.

Other members of the commission, Lon A. Smith and C. V. Terrell, also will be called, Celaya said.

'Two Bottles' Break Opium Habit

SIANFU, Shensi, China. (AP)—The "two-bottle" system of curing opium addicts is proving effective here in a women's treatment center. It involves the use of a bottle filled with water and another containing an opium solution. Whenever the addict is given a dose from the opium bottle, it is refilled with water.

Road Runners Will Play La Junta Nine Monday, Tuesday

Club to Face Goofy Dean at Amarillo This Afternoon

Tiger Joe Berry, former member of the Road Runner ball club, now with Ponca City in the Western association, and Cliff Clay, former league player now with the Wichita Water Works team of Wichita, Kan., will be here when the Road Runners meet the La Junta Mexican team Monday and Tuesday nights in the last games before the Pampa nine leaves for the Denver Post tournament.

Clay is scheduled to take the mound on Monday night with Berry named for the Tuesday night battle. This afternoon at 3 o'clock in Amarillo the Road Runners will meet the Shamrocks, with Lee Daney doing the mound work.

Jack "Dopey" Dean, self-styled cousin of the St. Louis Deans, is scheduled to face the Road Runners this afternoon. Dean was knocked from the mound when the two teams met here a week ago. Since that time, the "Goofy one" has been practicing twice daily, getting in shape for the invasion of the Pampa team. On last Sunday, Dean held the Huber Blackfaces of Borger to four hits and defeated Byron Chody, who will accompany the Road Runners to Denver.

The games here tomorrow and Tuesday nights are expected to be crowd record breakers. The Mexicans are, without a doubt, the fastest fielding bunch of players who have been here this year. Their hitting on the previous appearance was the only weak spot. Since then, however, the team has been hitting the ball and winning games.

The Road Runners will field the team that will go to Denver for the Tuesday night game. New players on the roster will be Berry and Clay, who will arrive Monday. Chody, pitcher for Huber, Ledford, pitcher for Coltexo of LeFors, Surface, outfielder for Phillips of Borger.

It was learned yesterday that Sammy Hale of Coltexo will not accompany the Road Runners to the Little World Series in Denver. Manager Freddy Brickell immediately announced that he will take George Bulla, diminutive lefthander, thus giving him four right-handed pitchers and two portsiders. Bulla and Chody can both take a turn in the outfield and both are dangerous hitters.

The loss of Hale will not weaken the team, it is predicted. With Joe Surface capable of playing any position in the outfield, at first base, or behind the bat, and Nell ready for any position in the infield or outfield, the Road Runners will be able to make several different switches in their lineup, still with plenty of power.

The Mexican Charros players, each and every one of them natives of Mexico, have been meeting the best teams in the east and winning most of their games.

The starting lineup for La Junta will probably be:

Raymundo Gonzales, shortstop, born in Sinalca 21 years ago—a good hitter and sensational fielder.

Jose Luis Gomez, second base, a youngster but good enough to be sought by several major league clubs.

Juan Rodriguez, right field, steady fielder and good hitter.

Ramon Bragana, Roberto Cabal, Ismael Montalvo and Ernesto Salzar, pitchers, Cabal is a great lefthander and will probably face the Road Runners tomorrow night. Bragana is the Cuban who hurled a 13-inning victory here last spring.

Pampans Beat Amarillo 14-10 In Ragged Game

The Pampa Road Runners saw a five-run lead vanish into thin air as the Amarillo Shamrocks pushed 10 runs across the plate in two wild innings at Road Runner park on Friday night. Never beaten until the last man is out, the bird aggregation staged another rally of their own, and when the smoke of battle had cleared away, the Road Runners had taken a 14 to 10 game from the Amarilloans.

Freddy Brickell and company gave Carl Stewart a five run lead in the second inning on only two hits. Three walks, three errors and a stolen bases helped the run cause. Stewart saw the lead disappear in the third when Amarillo scored six runs on five hits and two walks. The righthander left the mound with the bases loaded and only one man down. George Bulla took up the burden and two men scored before a fast double play retired the side.

The lefthander was nicked for four runs in the fourth inning on four hits and a dropped fly by Brickell.

Five bingles, including doubles by Nell and Horton gave the Road Runners four runs in the fifth inning. Nell tripled to open the sixth but he went to sleep on the bag and raced home on an infield fly which the pitcher caught, making a double play. Seitz then drew a walk and Summers tripled down the third base line. He died on base. Two runs, on a walk, sacrifice, and consecutive double by George and Scaling, sent the Road Runners into the lead. They clinched the game in the eighth with two runs off Dean who hit Seitz, walked three, and allowed George a single, his fourth hit of the game.

Vic George got his batting eye in the right position and banged out a double and three singles in six trips to the plate. Nell and Scaling helped the cause with a double and triple each. Seitz scored four times on a hit, three walks and being hit.

Don Bailey, former Road Runner, took batting honors for the visitors by smacking out two singles and a double on his first three trips to the plate. Wilson tripled and Evans doubled for the other Amarillo extra base hits.

Summers and Bailey did some base-hit robbing when they raced far and wide to take hits and make almost impossible throws to get runners. Corbitt and Evans came up with almost impossible plays to cut off runs in the opening inning. Bailey robbed Brickell of two sure hits by making great plays.

Jack "Dooey" Dean, tried to throw a jinx at the Road Runners in the opening inning when he found a black cat and dropped it on Scaling's back while that worthy was waiting his turn at bat. Scaling chased Dean back to the Amarillo dugout and returned the cat. When Amarillo went into the lead in the fourth, Scaling swiped the black cat from the Amarillo dougout and the Road Runners immediately went into the lead. Dean got the cat back, but a young lady in the audience enticed the feline away from the Shamrock bench.

PEEWEES AND LONGHORNS PLAY TODAY AS DANGER OF FEUD RENEWAL FLARES AGAIN

Star Hurler Returns, Will Pitch Today; Top Workout Turned in Yesterday.

Everything is hunky-dory with the Peewees today. Their favorite pitcher, Amos Reed, who succumbed to an attack of wanderlust several weeks ago, has returned.

He will be on the mound for the team, composed of 13-year-old boys, this afternoon when the Peewees with gore in their eyes, seek to avenge a defeat dealt them last week by the Longhorns. The game will be played promptly at 3:30 o'clock at Magnolia park. No admission will be charged.

There was no indication yesterday that the feud that almost broke up the team Thursday would be renewed this afternoon, but on the other hand there was no reason to believe that the boys would not start flinging bats, bases, and insults at each other. The boys who, figuratively speaking, well - nigh swam in their own tears Thursday, had about patched up their spectacular quarrel, but certain remarks still got under their skin which they claim is a shade tough.

Large Crowd Expected.

Friday afternoon, the boys annihilated the Jack Rabbits, 18 to 12. Yesterday morning, they held a snappy workout, and their infield work would have made the Road Runners themselves whistle "The Lady in Red" for sheer delight in an almost perfect performance. The largest crowd of the season is expected this afternoon. There will be ample space for the spectators to park their cars.

The smouldering feud almost flared again Friday when heated phrases were exchanged, and two of the boys threw down their gloves and started for each other with the word "fight" written on their faces, but they were separated and the combustible tempers were soothed by team mates. Only a few tears were shed. The boys actually seem to play best when they are at outs.

Peewees—Grover Heiskell, rf; Buckingham, 2b; Morrow, cc; Mills, 3b; Dull, 1b; Heiskell, p; Aulds, c; Kilgore, lf; Kemp, cf.

Jackrabbits—Keyser, 2b; Jack. lf, Slitz, 1b; Harold. 3b; Keyser, ss; Jones, rf; Carpenter, cf; Denver, p.

The Peewee lineup today will see Dull playing at his regular position in centerfield, Claude Heiskell at first, Buckingham or Mage Keyser, who joined the team yesterday, at second; Reed will pitch and Aulds will be behind the bat. The Longhorn linepp will likely include star players of the Jackrabbit team.

Campbellites Win From Baptists

The Fiddlin' Campbellites won their second consecutive game in the Men's Twilight league by taking a snappy 7 to 5 game from the Deep Water Baptist on Friday evening. The Fiddlin' boys broke into the win column against the Texas company on Tuesday night.

McDaniel pitched nice ball for the winners. Wooten was behind the bat. McAnally was on the mound for the losers, with A. B. Cecil receiving.

Starting players were:

Christian church—Wooten, T. Ferrell, Luerker, Lamb, McDaniel, K. Ferrell, Belew, Ed Johnson, Moses.

Baptist church—A. B. Cecil, Halmark, Hammill, Hendren, McAnally, Foster, Bassett, Squires, Luttrell, Morgan.

Mrs. Charles Dean has had as her guest her cousin, Mrs. W. E. Willis of St. Louis. Miss Viola Reuppel of St. Louis is her house guest now for two weeks.

'Jailbird' To Face Cummings Again In City

Sailor (Jailbird) Moran and Bob Cummings will come to Pampa on Wednesday night to finish a battle started in Amarillo last Thursday when the wild sailor landed in jail, had his purse forfeited, and was fined $18. The battle will be staged at Road Runner park.

The two grapplers met in a main event and with one fall each under their belt, the going really got rough. Moran fouled Cummings and tried for a surf board. Before he had a chance to make Cummings forfeit the match, the "Law" took charge of affairs and Moran was rushed to the bastile where he spent the night thinking over his sins.

Cummings, one of the best wrestlers in the country, wants another chance at Moran and he will get it here. The Californian prefers the going according to rules, but there will be none when he gets at Moran, he declares. Cummings is the boy who wrestled a two-hour draw with Otis Clingman in El Paso, just before Clingman went to Mexico City.

The semi-final will see Red Michael, former Pampa boy and protege of Clingman, meeting Pat Garrison, local Irishman. The going should be fast and scientific. Michael is a wonderfully improved grappler, while Garrison showed that he can wrestle when he stayed 17 minutes with Clingman last week.

Opening the card at 8:30 o'clock will be Andy Dowler, Pampa Swede, and Ken Daly, Borger's wrestling attorney.

Advance sale of tickets reached a new peak when it was learned that Moran and Cummings would finish their battle here. Promoter G. B. Garrison may have to install additional ringside seats for the night. Ringside and box seat tickets are available at Pampa Drug No. 1.

Eaton Leads in Denver Tourney

DENVER, July 27 (AP)—Zell Eaton, Oklahoma City's crack golfer and western amateur victor last year, swept into the lead today in the Denver invitational golf championship when he took a one-stroke advantage over Nathan Grimes, of Denver, who tied him yesterday.

Eaton finished his second 18 holes of the 72-hole medal play with a 71, one under par, and coupled it with his flashy 68 tallied yesterday to give him 139.

Grimes blazed home early in the afternoon with a 140 total—a 68 recorded yesterday and his even par of 72 chalked up today.

Johnny Goodman, Omaha player with many golf titles tucked safely away, trailed in third today with 144. Goodman appeared the best of the immediate trailers to overtake Eaton or Grimes. The former national open champion shot a 70 yesterday and 74 today.

Mrs. Fay N. Gray left Thursday for New York City to spend some time receiving medical attention. She plans to return by boat to New Orleans, where she will visit relatives.

DISCOVERY WINS AGAIN

CHICAGO, July 27. (AP)—Discovery won the $10 000 added Arlington handicap before 20,000 spectators today, beating Stand Pat by five lengths. Riskulus was third and Skip It was fourth in the field of seven. Discovery smashed the track record for the mile and a quarter route, running the distance in 2:01 1-5.

Net Champions In 5 Groups Decided

Champions in five divisions of the Summer Recreation tennis tournament have been decided, but only after some desperate games. Finals in the senior singles will be played at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

"Lefty" Hamilton took the junior singles division after five terrific sets with Homer Widener. The scores were 6-4, 10-8, 4-6, 0-6, 6-3.

Hamilton then teamed with Edgar Myatt to defeat Fred McLaughlin and Wayne Winkler 2-6, 7-5, 6-3, 6-3.

In the senior doubles, Harold Gregory and Frank McLaughlin teamed to defeat Gene Adams and Fred Lamb, 6-4, 6-3, 6-1.

Dado Shields won the women's singles by taking straight sets from Flora Dean Finley, 6-2, 6-1.

Katherine Wheatley and Frank Conley defeated Dado Shields and Fred McLaughlin, 4-6, 12-10, 6-3, in the mixed doubles.

PROMOTERS GIVE UP IDEA OF SCHMELING FIGHT IN DISGUST

NEW YORK, July 27. (AP)—Max Schmeling, the temperamental Teuton, broke his silence today and talked himself right out of the American heavyweight picture.

He demanded such a fancy figure to come to New York to fight either Max Baer or the sensational Joe Louis, that Jimmy Johnston and Mike Jacobs, rival metropolitan promoters, threw up their hands and said they guessed they'd have to try to struggle along without the German financier.

All Herr Schmeling wanted was: A flat guarantee of $150,000 (free of taxes) deposited in an Amsterdam bank in advance of the fight; 35 per cent of the gate (also free of taxes) and $5,000 for training expenses.

"I'm through," said Mike Jacobs, who was working on a Schmeling-Louis match in the interests of the Twentieth Century Sporting club. "I've crossed that guy off my list."

"The terms are ridiculous," exploded Jimmy Johnston. Madison Square Garden impresario as he saw his chances for a Baer-Schmeling show knocked higher than a kite. "He talks like he was Dempsey and this is 1929."

Joe Jacobs, Max's manager, put on the hot spot by the German's dawdling around, was aghast when he read his warrior's cable. He was disappointed and disgusted.

Schmeling's decision followed upon several days of frantic cabling back and forth across the Atlantic.

TEXAS HORSE WINS

SUFFOLK DOWNS, BOSTON, July 27. (AP)—Black Highbrow, heavily favored gelding carrying the red and white colors of Mrs. Edward Haughton of Texas, accounted for the $3,500 added bay stakes for two years old today before a record throng estimated at more than 45,000.

GRANTS REPRIEVE

AUSTIN, July 27 (AP)—Governor Allred today voluntarily granted a 30-day reprieve to Ben Boyd, convicted in Wharton county of the murder of Bob Golightly, former Austin cafe operator. Boyd was scheduled to be electrocuted at the Huntsville penitentiary early Monday. Governor Allred said he was not fully satisfied with the record and wanted further time to study it.

THE TWISTER - -
Don't Let Him Get YOU!

Twisting . . .
the illegal practice of persuading a life insurance policyholder, thru misrepresentation, half truths, and incomplete comparisons, to drop or surrender his present policy in one company and buy new insurance in another company.

Has the twister called to see you? If he has not, he may do so soon; look out for him!

A twister claims to be an insurance man. He visits you after you have purchased insurance with another company, and tries to dissatisfy you with your policy. He has only one purpose—his own personal gain.

Deal with the twister as he deserves—ask him to put his proposition in writing. If he does so, submit the data to the company underwriting your present policy, or communicate with the Insurance Department of the State of Texas at Austin.

Four to Receive Appointment to Service Schools

The eighteenth district of Texas will have for appointment to the military academy, for entrance in 1936, two cadets, and to the naval academy two midshipmen, according to Congressman Marvin Jones.

In order to afford equal opportunity to all young men in the district who are interested in entering these institutions, appointments for the eighteenth district will be made on the basis of a preliminary competitve examination which will be held under the direction of the war and navy departments on October 26, 1935.

For each vacancy which exists at the military academy there will be appointed one principal and two alternates; and at the naval academy one principal and three alternates. These appointments will be made strictly in accordance with the ratings made by the applicants on the examination.

It must be understood that this preliminary examination is simply for the purpose of determining to whom the appointments will be given, and that nominees must then met the entrance requirements of the academies. This is done by taking the regular entrance examination for the military academy in March, 1936, or for the naval academy in February, 1936; or, in lieu thereof, submitting educational certificates with or without validating examinations in English and mathematics, according to the character of certificate submitted. In addition to mental examination each candidate is required to pass a rigid physical examination.

Candidates for the military academy must be between the ages of 17 and 22 at the time of entrance, which will be the first week day in July, 1936. Candidates for the naval academy must be not less than 16 nor more than 20 years of age on April 1, 1936. This has been construed to mean that the candidate must not yet have reached the age of 20 on that date.

The preliminary examination as well as the entrance examination is a diffficult one and announcement of these vacancies is being made at this time in order that any prospective candidates may have an opportunity to prepare themselves for the preliminary examination during the coming months.

Chihuahua—Gov. Rodrigo Quevedo, the other governor in trouble was confronted with Agrarians who protested to headquarters of the national revolutionary (government) party against his administration, alleging favoritism and misgovernment.

MATAMOROS, Tamaulipas, July 27. (AP)—Next moves in the stormy political situation in Tamaulipas, brought to a head by demands of peasants for changes in the state and certain municipal administrations, apparently lay tonight with the federal government and Governor Rafael Villarreal.

Persons familiar with Mexican politics and methods agreed generally that it was only a matter of time, probably three or four days, before Governor Villarreal, charged by the Agrarians with being unfriendly to them, would resign under pressure from the federal government.

Should he resign, a number of mayors, including Mayor Rafael Munguia C. of Matamoros, also would go.

Von Helldorf, Berlin police chief, summarily outlawed individual Jew-baiting and announced the state nazi movement itself would prosecute the anti-semitic fight "in another way."

Secret police cracked down on the Stahlhelm again, raiding members' homes in Parchim, Ludwigslust and Waren where the organization was recently banned. Several leaders were arrested.

An olive branch was held out to Catholics by the official organ of the Hildesheim bishopric. It said: "We consider true peace between the state and the Catholic church quite possible."

Perhaps significantly, the pronouncement coincided with reports, widely circulated in Catholic circles, that Monsignor Cesare Orsenigo, Papal Muncio, had delivered to the foreign office still another communication from Pope Pius protesting treatment of Catholics.

The nazi swastika was torn from the Bremen's bow mast and flung into the North river by a group of demonstrators.

While lacking official reports on the outbreak, Acting Secretary of State Wilbur J. Carr informally expressed regret at the incident in Washington.

Scores of persons, including several policemen, were injured during the melee, which raged along the waterfront at the Bremen's west 46th street pier and aboard the vessel itself.

Edward Drolette, 34, described by police as the ringleader, was shot twice in the body during a skirmish on the deck.

Band to Give Concert

The Pampa Municipal band, directed by Winston Savage, will give another concert at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the City park. The band appeared before a large audience a few weeks ago. An even larger crowd is expected to hear the concert tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim White and Tommie White returned the past week from a 10-day trip to Eagle Nest and Red River, N. M.

LIGON SMITH WILL BE HERE TUESDAY NIGHT

WILL RETURN TO PLAY FOR DANCE AT PLA-MOR

One of those dances which attracts all dance lovers of the countryside, and which promises to be outstanding dance of the summer season, will be held Tuesday night at the Pla-More with Ligon Smith's orchestra furnishing the music.

Ligon Smith is well-known to Pampa as well as to people over the Southwest. He played for a highly successful dance here two years ago. Mr. Smith's orchestra has been the dance attraction over radio broadcasting station WFAA for years.

As usual, Mr. Smith will have with him a group of entertainers. Louise Tobin, the CIA beauty, also sings and dances. Timothy McManus sings tenor. Jimmy Stewart, the south's foremost hillbilly singer," will sing special numbers. The orchestra is the same that has been packing houses in large cities over the southwest during Mr. Smith's present road trip.

Mr. Smith, his band and entertainers are being brought to Pampa by Carl Benefield, manager of the local theaters.

The dance will likely be the most important dance, socially, of the summer.

AAA Will Slash Wheat Acreage

WASHINGTON July 27 (AP)—The farm adjustment administration today was reported to be considering slashing 1936 wheat acreage from 15 to 18 per cent below the "base" acreage.

The final decision hinged upon the amount of black rust damage. Officials said that if the damage proves negligible the acreage reduction may be as much as 20 percent. But Chicago today reported the rust spreading.

A 15 to 18 per cent reduction below "base" acreage—the average of approximately 51,000,000 acres—planted by contract signers in the 1930-32 period — would compare with a 15 per cent cut in 1934 and 10 per cent this year.

Announcement of the reduction to be required probably will be made before next Saturday. Officials had planned to determine the reduction earlier, but were said to have been delayed because of the rust spread in spring wheat areas.

New Drive for Private Jobs Is Plan of Hopkins

WASHINGTON, July 27. (AP) — Harry L. Hopkins' works progress administration today contemplated plans for a nation-wide drive to stimulate the supply of private jobs for those on relief.

Coupled was a determination to cut off the dole those refusing private employment.

In making known the new move, officials said the transfer of every man possible from relief to a private job, even if temporary, was essential if the $4,000,000,000 work fund was to end direct relief by november——the goal set for employing 3,500,000.

But the drive, in which state works progress directors and their subordinates will assume the task of seeking to promote a resort to relief rolls by private employers temporarily needing more workers, will emphasize too the permanent absorption of those on relief. The goal was to reduce the amount of federal relief appropriations needed after the present fund is gone.

The private work drive was in addition to 3,500,000 jobs relief officials contended would be supplied indirectly by an estimated expenditure of $1,500,000,000 on materials and equipment.

Questioned on complaints that some on relief in middle-western states have refused harvesting jobs, officials insisted the situation had been remedied by Hopkins' order to stop relief in such cases.

New Taxes Are Tacked on Bill

WASHINGTON, July 27. (AP) — Amid a furious campaign for adjournment of congress by the last week in August, the president's new tax bill was expanded today to boost the rates on incomes as low as $50,000.

House ways and means committee democrats who are drafting the bill-which holds the present key to adjournment—ended their preliminary work by broadening it to dip into the incomes of more than 7,000 individual taxpayers. Previously it had been indicated that the rates would remain unchanged below $150,000.

The committee has yet to consider many comparatively minor points. Nevertheless its members apparently recognized the pressure for adjournment. They arranged for the bill to be introduced formally and taken up by the full committee Monday.

Their hope was to get a new measure through the house a week from tonight.

Senate democratic leaders meanwhile were at work lining up their big majority against all amendments when the tax bill reaches the senate floor. They figure such an agreement would get the bill through the senate within a week. If this could be done it would leave ample time for congress to wind up its work before August ended.

'Human Cannonball' Is Hurled to Death

OCEAN PARK, Calif., July 27 (AP)—An inquest next Tuesday was ordered today for William C. Miller, 22, of Newtonville, Mass., and New York, who was hurled more than 125 feet to death in the ocean in his first attempt to be a "human cannonball."

His body was recovered today from under a pier near where he was propelled from an amusement park "cannon" by compressed air yesterday.

Police ordered the cannonball performances suspended.

Captain Cliff Gregg, manager of the act, said Miller had implored him for an opportunity to be shot out of the cannon.

Gregg said the youth told him he was an experienced diver and had engaged in similar work in New York. Friends of Miller, however, declared he merely was seeking a thrill and never before had tried the stunt.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Vaughan and children have returned from a visit with relatives in Oklahoma.

Montana Cowboy Crowned King of Cheyenne Riders

CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 27 (AP) —Turk Greenough, Red Lodge, Mont., cow waddie, was crowned "king of the bronc riders" here tonight at the 39th annual frontier days rodeo.

Greenough experienced the western coronation for the second time, repeating his victory of 1933. "Cowboy Turk" grabbed the crown today when he "threw fits" over the hurricane deck of "Kid Riner," outlaw Wyoming horse raised on the Careyhurst ranch of Senator Robert D. Carey.

The first champion crowned in today's finals was John Bowman, Trent, Tex., who won the trophy given for the calf event. Bowman roped his calf today in 20.5 seconds for a three-calf average of 19.16 seconds.

Allen Holder, of Midland, Tex. was second with 26.2.

MILWAUKEE, July 27 (AP)—Four men on a pleasure cruise around Lake Michigan were killed today when their airplane crashed from an altitude of 200 feet as the pilot sent it into a flat turn in attempting to land.

'Country Hick' Destroys Flirt

LUFKIN, July 27. (AP)—Cenobya was pretty but destructive, a flirt and cheat. Mr. X was a big, gangline, country-bred, anonymous boy.

Both were spiders.

Sophisticated Cenobya was a black widow who reigned over her glass-walled home in the Lufkin News office with a splendor unmatched in the insect world.

She welcomed visitors of various species, vamped them, then destroyed them.

But Mr. X came to the city today and made good in a big way—twice.

He was a harmless looking creature, a gray country yokel. No one knew to what species he belonged. He looked like an easy victim for Cenobya.

Placed in the bottle-home of the News mascot, the country spider paid her no attention. Irked, she rushed to the attack. In a moment she was dead.

Incredulous News office employes believed the conquest of Cenobya was a fluke, and placed another of the vaunted black widows next to Mr. X, the upstart hick.

The nondescript, unnamed garden variety of spider as quickly dispatched the second widow.

Mr. X awaits more competition.

Rev. and Mrs. John Mullen and children will leave tomorrow morning for the Lampasas river country where they will fish and visit friends.

(VOL. 29. NO. 96) PAMPA, GRAY COUNTY, TEXAS, SUNDAY MORNING, JULY 28, 1935 (PRICE FIVE CENTS)

MISS RAGSDALE AND MR. HEARE MARRY IN EWING HOME

New Negligees Have 'Allure'

White cobweb lace over white makes one of the filmy new Paris negligees. The low V-neckline is accented by the long drooping sleeves, while the girdle is marked by a black enamel flower outlined in silver. Design by Maggy Rouff.

BY ADELAIDE KERR.

PARIS (AP)—Negligees are "going in for" allure.

No more pajama lounging suits. No more tailored house coats. Instead curves, soft lines, low necklines and trailing skirts.

Lace, chiffon, soft crepe, and taffeta are back in the boudoir and with them such subtle colors as grey green, pansy blue and coral and such accents as turquoise and violet. The idea is to look both feminine and worldly.

Some of the new peignoirs are sufficiently formal in effect to be worn as hostess gowns or for informal dinners at home.

Models Colorful.

Ardanse makes some of the most colorful negligees seen this season. One is a grey green tafeta affair with short puffed sleeves split down the front so that the rose taffeta slip underneath may be seen.

Sheer chiffon coats with big sleeves and trailing skirts worn over satin slips of a contrasting color are Madame Yrande's contribution to the negligee mode of 1935. She cuts them on the bias so that the skirts swoop backward with an air as regal as the robe of a queen. Blue violet goes over white, green over pale blue, cherry over gray blue, wine red over flesh and brown over salmon.

To Look Like Frocks.

Chiffon negligees made over heavy cream lace slips are another negligee note which spells allure. Some of these are made of soft pastel colors so that the lace pattern will show underneath.

Negligees which look like frocks are being designed for some of the smartest Parisians. They are fashioned with short puffed sleeves, high necklines and full bias skirts. Some are of pink shadow print criffon with the figure stamped in the same color, others of pale blue mousseline sprinkled with deeper blue bachelor's buttons.

Study Fitted to Rural School Is In P-TA Outline

By MRS. J. M. CRAIN, Claude Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers State Publicity Director

"Better Opportunities for the Rural Child Through the Parent-Teacher Association," is the timely theme suggested for rural parent-teacher programs, 1935-1936, by Mrs. W. A. Leeper, Dallas, state chairman of program service for the Texas Congress of Parent and Teachers. Proper correlation between the general subject and the monthly topics should be closely observed.

For the first meeting in September the program heading is, "What the Rural Parent-Teacher Association Can Do for the Community." Projects and objects for the year are the salient points to be stressed at this time.

"The School Needs and How to Meet Them," is a typical topic for October. The school superintendent or principal or the county superintendent is the logical person to lead the general discussion on changes in the curriculum, special activities, social phases, physical plant, paramount educational questions, general plans of the school program for the ensuing year, or some necessary adjustments.

As American education week is annually observed in November, the distinctive title, "What is Meant by Parent Education," seems quite appropriate for the month. A teacher or a parent education specialist centers the remarks on how a parent-teacher association can organize and promote a parent education program.

"The Importance of Making the Home and the School Attractive," suggests a befitting subject for the December program. Some parent is scheduled to lead the round-table discussion on ways that all patrons may assist the teachers and pupils in beautifying the school grounds.

A real community meeting of all organizations in the locality is to be held in January. Representatives from the Boy Scouts or Maverick club, Girl Scouts or Girl Reserves, 4-H club, Future Farmers of America, federated club, and any service club of the men are to participate in discussing the caption, "The Value of Character Developing Organizations," emphasizing how the respective movement is promoting this special feature.

"The Necessity of Supervised Community Recreation," introduces an invaluable theme for February. The school as a community center, bands, orchestras, little theaters, musical clubs, literary clubs, dramatic clubs, and parent-teacher study groups are to be discussed with the play-ground supervisor or a teacher, preferably the physical education director, as the leader.

A school nurse or the county physician is to direct the March program which features the topic, "Better Facilities for the Protection of the Health of the Child." A demonstration of the school method of teaching health from the primary group of pupils and from the intermediate division is highly commendable for such an occasion.

Some representative from the safety council presides at the April meting foscusing the discussions on the outstanding feature, "Making the Community Safe for the Child." Every angle of safety is to be presented and all teachers as well as many patrons are requested to enter whole-heartedly in the participation of the round-table remarks.

"Accomplishments and Needs for the Coming Year," appropriately climaxes the year's activities in May. The entire membership is asked to be the participants and to present any point needing special emphasis for the enlargement of the membership; the usefulness of the association to the home, the school, and the community; the contribution of the parent-teacher association to the uplift of every child in the school district.

Taking Children on Tour Was A Picnic for the Roosevelts

Archie Jr., Mrs. Archibald Roosevelt and Theodora, garbed for their camper's tour of the Balkans.

DAUGHTER-IN-LAW OF T. R. READY TO DO IT AGAIN

By Mary Margaret McBride, NEA Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK.—Pack up the children in the old kitbag—or if you have it, a new kitbag equipped with the latest in picnic accessories—and start out to see the world, gypsy-fashion, this summer, why don't you? That's what Mrs. Archibald Roosevelt, daughter-in-law of the illustrious T. R., did one year and she had such fun that she has not only written a book about her experiences, but is planning another trip.

The Roosevelts, Archie Sr., Archie Jr., aged 15; Theodora, 14, and Mrs. Roosevelt went to the Balkans on the jaunt described in Mrs. Roosevelt's book, "We Owed It to the Children." They drove through mountain passes, over corduroy roads and into bandit country in an open car, cooked their own meals and camped out nights wherever they were when dusk came.

"The idea," explains Mrs. Roosevelt, "was to have a vacation that would be of educational value to the children and at the same time be a vacation for Archie Sr., who is never at all interested in the usual trips to Europe, but seems irresistably drawn to the most unhealthy, inaccessible and remote places it is possible to find. It was his suggestion that we motor and camp through the Balkans."

Mr. Roosevelt Was the Cook.

The camping equipment included a sleeping bag for each person that could be rolled into a snug bundle when not in use, a folding army cot for Mrs. Roosevelt and a tent big enough for all four to sleep inside if, as often happened, they camped on some Greek plain completely surrounded by shepherds singing plaintive songs all night.

The cooking was done on a gasoline stove which also folded——and was done, moreover, by the head of the family.

"Archie Sr. is really a marvelous cook," Mrs. Roosevelt, declares. "He got all the meals on the trip. We each had our daily chores. When we stopped for the night, Archie Jr. put up the tent. Theodora and I got out the sleeping bags and arranged the toilet kits handily. Everybody helped with the clearing up after the meal.

"Luckily we had a case with a nest of pots and pans, and also a picnic basket with an alcohol lamp. The latter was a gift at the steamer, and we debated whether to take it, for it seemed almost too luxurious for the kind of trip we were making. Later we were glad we had it, for it saved time. We never stopped to cook lunch, but just ate sandwiches made from left-overs of the day before and washed down by hot tea or coffee carried in the picnic basket thermos."

Other essentials of a family gypsying trip, according to Mrs. Roosevelt, are an axe, a camera and field glasses. Since half the purpose of the trip was to educate the children, Theodora and Archie Jr., went everywhere with their parents, sat up late, and met all the interesting people the trip afforded. Once this was an old Montenegrin general who casually pointed out a tower to the awed youngsters with the remark:

"When I was young, the men who had been fighting the Turks would bring back Turkish heads, noses, or ears and pile them around the tower as tokens of triumph."

The children became marvels of ingenuity at making themselves understood anywhere by gestures, and Archie Jr. covered himself with glory in Larissa, Greece, by crowing like a rooster until the populace, quickly gathered around, understood that he wanted to buy a chicken. Unfortunately, they took him too literally and insisted upon selling him a chicken that was still walking around crowing when what he required was one all dressed and ready for the pot.

Mrs. Roosevelt advises women who decide to go gypsying with the family to take as few clothes as possible. She found artificial silk dresses in dark colors were cool and did not cling and get rumpled. In the open car, she was always glad to have long sleeves, for the sun was hot. She kept a diary in her pocket and made notes of everything. The trip included Italy and even Paris before it was ended.

"We had a grand time and learned many things not in the guide book," Mrs. Roosevelt sums up. "Archie Jr. and Theodora learned to endure discomfort and, incidentally, their parents.

EVERYBODY FLOCKS TO PICNICS OF ALL KINDS FOR SUMMER FUN AND THEIR POPULARITY GROWS

There are picnics and picnics, and Pampans are enjoying every kind on these cool evenings that are so inviting after hot days. Scarcely an organization meeting this summer has escaped a picnic, not to mention the dozens of impromptu outings taken daily by small groups.

The al fresco meals tend to fall into three classes. For the simpler sort somebody inquires about the dinner menu, says, "Oh, that again? Well, let's take it outside, anyway," and leads a move to the back yard or a shady place near LeFors.

Old-fashioned picnics with heaping hampers, fried chicken, and red lemonade happen less frequently, but there are still occasions when all the children have an opportunity to get sick on too much chocolate cake.

Then there are the modern-version picnics, so carefully packed, well refrigerated, and civilized that they would be effeminate anywhere except in breezy West Texas.

Pampans Take All

Pampans may take their choice, and they are choosing overwhelmingly to picnic for the food, recreation, or coolness' sake.

Last week's events included a Business and Professional Women's club picnic on the Ed Daly ranch Tuesday evening, an outdoor dinner for First Methodist choir Wednesday and a joint picnic at Allison for Methodist young people of two counties on the same evening.

Clara Hill class picnicked in the city park Thursday evening, while Fidelis class was at Harvester park, and First Baptist Reapers class had its turn Friday. The Order of Eastern Star also took its meeting outside Friday.

Still more picnics are planned, including the all-day dinner-on-the-ground encampment of county home demonstration clubs at the Gething ranch next month, and a lawn party announced by First Baptist Young Women's Auxiliary for Monday of next week.

YOUNG WOMEN'S CLASS ENTERTAINS GUESTS

Guests and members in service were included with members of First Baptist Fidelis class for a picnic at Harvester park Thursday evening.

Games of croquet and baseball were enjoyed until dark, when a picnic lunch of sandwiches, potato chips, cookies, and punch was served. Games, stories, and songs ended the pleasant hour.

Those present were Misses Loma Groom, Juanita Higgins, Cleta Baker, Jewel Binford, Dovie Woods, Mary Nelson, Grace Bird, Mannie Abbott, Maxine Polson, Hildred Brake, Donnie Lee Stroope, Grace Carpenter, Johnnie Davis, Murriel Kitchens, Claudine Frashier.

Mrs. T. F. Morton, Evelyn Morton, Messrs. Kenneth Irwin, Underwood, Nelson, Ralph Higgins, O. G. Dickinson.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY MARY E. DAGUE,
NEA Service Writer.

One of the most pleasant discoveries I ever made was that a meat loaf can be jellied instead of baked. The jellied variety offers an entirely new taste sensation because you can use seasonings that are impossible when cooked otherwise. And, made festive looking by clever garnishing, they are as suitable for company meals as the proverbial chicken.

When you garnish jellied molds remember that the top of the loaf is in the bottom of the mold, and dress it up as attractively as possible.

Jellied Veal Loaf.

One knuckle and shin of veal, 1 pound lean veal, 4 eggs, 1 good sized onion, celery tops, parsley, salt and pepper.

Ask the butcher to saw through the bone in several places. Put bone, meat, celery tops, onion peeled but not sliced and boiling water to cover into a large kettle with a closely fitting cover. Simmer until the meat is tender. Drain from stock and chop fine. Boil stock until reduced to 1½ cups and strain. Simmer eggs in boiling water for 20 minutes. Garnish bottom of mold with a few slices of eggs rolled in minced parsley. Put in a layer of meat, season well with salt and pepper and cover well with a layer of eggs cut in thin slices. Cover with minced parsley. Add remaining meat and season well with salt and pepper and more parsley. Pour over stock. Put a plate over meat, weight lightly and let stand on ice until chilled and firm. Rut a spatula around the mold to loosen it, turn out on a serving plate, garnish with tiny peeled tomatoes cut in quarters almost to the point of separation and serve. Cut in slices for serving.

Monday's Menu.

Luncheon: Baked potatoes stuffed with creamed dried beef, shredded lettuce, rye bread, berries and cream, sugar cookies, lemonade.

Dinner: Vegetable soup, moulded tongue, mayonnaise, lattice potatoes, kohl-rabi au gratin, stuffed peach salad, rice souffle, milk, coffee.

Moulded Tongue With Mayonnaise Sauce.

One beef tongue weighing about two pounds, 1 onion, 6 cloves, ½ teaspoon peppercorns, 2 teaspoons salt, 1 small carrot, 2 blades celery, 2 sprigs thyme, 1 bay leaf, 3 sprigs parsley, 1 sprig savory, 2 tablespoons granulated gelatine, 3 cups meat stock, juice 1 lemon.

Scrub tongue well, washing thru several waters. Put into a large kettle with onion peeled and stuck with cloves, carrot scraped and sliced, celery diced and seasonings. Cover with boiling water and simmer until tender, about two hours. Remove from stock and cool. Strain stock and measure. There should be 3 cups. Remove skin and roots from tongue and run a skewer thru tip of tongue and fleshy part to keep it in shape. Soften gelatine in cold water for five minutes and reheat strained stock. When boiling add softened gelatine and lemon juice and stir until gelatine is dissolved. Put a mold in ice water and cover bottom with cooked carrot slices, beets cut in fancy shapes, threads of green pepper and parsley. Add tongue and cover with remaining gelatine. Chill until firm and turn out on a large platter to serve. Serve with mayonnaise.

COUPLE PLANS TO MAKE HOME AT SHAMROCK

TRIP INTO WESTERN STATES FOLLOWS CEREMONY

Miss Jean Ragsdale, daughter of Mrs. C. G. Ragsdale, and Clayton Heare, Shamrock attorney, were married Saturday morning at 9 o'clock in a simple ceremony at the home of Judge and Mrs. W. R. Ewing.

Judge Ewing read the impressive service with only the bride's mother, her grandmother, Mrs. T. D. Ragsdale, and Frank Dubose of Shamrock as witnesses. The rooms were beautiful with vari-colored garden flowers. Miss Ragsdale wore a white suit with all white accessories, and carried a bouquet of pink sweetheart roses.

At the close of the ceremony the couple left for a trip through the Colorado mountains and Yellowstone park. They will be at home in Shamrock later this summer.

Miss Ragsdale has lived in Pampa several years, was graduated from the high school, and for the past two years has served as deputy district clerk. She is a member of the Business and Professional Women's club here.

Mr. Heare, member of a prominent pioneer family of this section, is a member of the firm of Reynolds and Heare at Shamrock, and has become well known over the Panhandle as an attorney.

M. E. CIRCLE TO MEET

Circle three of First Methodist Missionary union will meet at the home of Mrs. N. F. Maddux, 907 E. Browning, at 3:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. Mrs. Everett Westbrook will be hostess. To end the meeting, members will spend an hour making visits.

GREEKS INSPIRE FROCKS

PARIS (AP)—The Greeks inspired a striking frock which one chic Parisian wore recently at a soiree at the Cercle Interallie. It was designed by Schiaparelli of pale yellow crepe, cut along Grecian lines, finished with a gold cord and tassel belt.

NASTURTIUMS AS ACCENT

PARIS (AP)—Nasturtiums were the favorite flower at the races here. They perched on the shoulder of white crepe frocks, accented the decollette of black ones and trimmed black hats.

PINK SATIN BELT

PARIS (AP)—A tailored belt of pale pink satin adds a novel touch to a black crinkled chiffon evening gown which the Duchess de Chaulnes is wearing this season. The frock, resigned by Molyneux, is fashioned on slender lines with a short cape across the back of the bodice.

BRITISH HURL GAUNTLET AT LEAGUE OF NATIONS

An unexpected note of common sense seems to have been injected into the international situation by the report that Great Britain will quit the League of Nations if the other members of the league allow Italy to go to war with Ethiopia.

It is a note of common sense for this reason: For just about the first time since the laegue was organized, it is a suggestion from one of the principal members that the league either do the things it was drawn up to do or quit.

The British position is reported to be about as follows: If the league, organized to prevent aggressive action by any member state, fails to make at least an honest effort to prevent the Italian drive on Ethiopia, it leaves the way wide open for aggressive action by any other state.

In that case, the principal reason for the the league's existence would seem to be canceled. Great Britain, threatening to withdraw if this state of affairs is allowed to develop, merely points out that in such a case the league would lose what usefulness it has ever possessed.

From the very beginning the league has failed to live up to the expectations of its founders. This has been due to a variety of reasons, including the fact that the French have consistently tried to make of the league a super-alliance to enforce the provisions of the Versailles treaty upon Germany. But the chief reason is the simple fact that no stream can rise higher than its source.

Concerted international effort to keep one nation from taking aggressive action toward another nation may be a beautiful ideal, but it is a hard thing to obtain in a world whose principal nations have all been guilty of aggressive action in the past and plan to be guilty of it again in the future.

Nevertheless, if there is to be any kind of international check on war, something of this sort must be attained. The refreshing thing about the latest British gesture is the fact that it reminds the world at large that if the league cannot do this it might as well go out of existence.

It remains to be seen how effective this gesture will be. There is just a chance that it will have enough of a sobering effect on such nations as France to make possible a concerted and effective protest. But the chance is a slim one.

Meanwhile, however, it will serve a useful purpose, if it reminds us all that abolishing war from the modern world calls for something more than pious resolutions and high-sounding phrases.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

TEXAS IN WASHINGTON

By DONALD YOUNG

WASHINGTON, July 27 (AP)—Senator Tom Connally doesn't like to have the cabinet and administration tell congress what to do.

While discussing the old, export-debenture problem, the Texan declared:

"I for one resent the attitude of the cabinet and administrative officers in constantly lecturing the senate and the congress about what we should do and what we should not do. They are simply glorified hired men and if they will attend to their business in the cabinet and attend to our business in the senate and the house of representatives."

His remarks came just before the senate rejected, 41 to 34, his plan to apply 30 per cent of the government's tariff revenues to assisting the financing of surplus farm crops, and just after Chairman Smith (D., S. C.) of the agriculture committee remarked that the treasury department had indicated such a program would upset its program.

"What the senator from South Carolina said about the attitude of the treasury department has no influence on me whatever," Connally declared. "When it does not want a policy adopted the treasury department, from the days of Mr. Mellon down, issues a statement and prophecy that if we do such a thing we will ruin the treasury program."

Explaining that he had to exclude raw cotton from provisions of his amendment to the agricultural adjustment administration revisions because the agriculture committee objected strenuously, the senator explained that he did not intend to supplant the processing taxes entirely.

Imposition of the processing tax, he said, undoubtedly had hindered domestic manufacturers of textiles in the export market and he predicted his plan could be put into effect without affecting treaty arrangements.

Once the congress appropriated the 30 per cent of revenues, it would be used for these four purposes, in the order named:

"Encourage the exportation of major agricultural commodities and products thereof by the payments of benefits . . . or indemnities for losses incurred in connection with such exportation . . ."

"Encourage the domestic consumption of such commodities or products by diverting them, by the payment of benefits or indemnities or by other means, from normal channels of trade and commerce."

"Finance adjustments in the quantity planted or produced for market of agricultural commodities.

THE NEW DEAL IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The administration may be able to deny that the big jobs in the five-billion-dollar work-relief program are being handed out on a partisan Democratic basis.

But not even the most astute New Deal press agent would dare take on the job of trying to prove they aren't being distributed on a pro-Roosevelt basis.

In other words, if your state has a smoothly working pro-administration Democratic machine, you can be fairly sure that the state boss—who may or may not be a Democratic senator—will have plenty to say about who is going to be works progress administrator under Harry Hopkins, and the appointee is almost sure to be a Democrat.

Even mere congressmen, if they're Democrats and regular, have a voice in appointments of work-relief area administrators.

On the other hand, if the state hasn't a Democratic machine or a Democratic senator who gets along well with Jim Farley, you may be getting an administrator of uncertain political complexion—but a Roosevelt man just the same.

* * * *

Farley and Hopkins are as one in conceding that the bulk of bigger bankers and bigger business men are out to cut the Roosevelt throat and that they still have enough influence to make the next campaign a real fight.

Any New Dealer will tell you that the big fight between that group's theory that it should control government as it has in the past and the New Deal theory that a liberal government should run the country in the interest of the people as a whole.

In New York, Indiana, Missouri, and many other state, party politics obviously dictated the appointments.

But Roosevelt personally intervened to appoint the work-relief boss in New York City. Gen. Hugh Johnson, the appointee, has very little political complexion, but persistently announces his devotion to F. D.

* * * *

In Ohio the state director is a Hopkins man, who previously held an important regional position with FERA. Of 16 work-relief area administrators, about three are considered to be genuine political appointees.

The Ohio congressmen are pretty sore about it. The reason, of course, is that Governor Davey is regarded as anti-New Deal. Furthermore, Democratic Senator Bulkley didn't demand the top job for anybody and Democratic Senator Donahey, who submitted three names, made no hot fight for any particular candidate.

* * * *

Anti-Administration Senator Harry Byrd got his own man in as WPA boss for Virginia, but that's an exception to a rule and was probably due to administration unwillingness to face a confirmation fight waged by Senators Byrd and Glass.

There's reason to believe that neither Hopkins nor any other tap-rank New Dealer is going out of his way these days to favor any senator or representative who voted against the administration's "death sentence" in the holding company bill.

William Powell met Jean Harlow with a hug and a kiss, just when the Hollywood correspondents were tearing their hair for something to write about.

The trouble with this idea of coining half-cent pieces is that many people will have to learn fractions all over again.

A 46-year-old Wisconsin mother has just had her 17th child in 28 years of marriage. If Wisconsin is worrying about her cheese consumption, there's a solution.

Germany's billion-dollar debt wouldn't be so bad, if it were all owed to the United States.

"Money in Demand in Paris," reads a headline. Well, no city in the United States will turn it down, either.

LOAN COMPANY HERE WILL BE FEDERAL FIRM

FEDERAL BANK BOARD ISSUES CHARTER TO PAMPANS

At the opening of business tomorrow morning, the Western Building and Loan association will become the First Federal Savings and Loan association of Pampa, operating under a charter issued by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board. This announcement was made yesterday by R. Earl O'Keefe, president of the association, who stated that the board in Washington had approved plans initiated by the shareholders some weeks ago to federalize the association, which has operated in the thrift and home financing field here since 1928.

Every person who invests in the association will automatically be protected against loss up to $5.000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance corporation. The federalized association will enjoy other advantages, including supervision and periodical examination under the direction of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board; membership in the Federal Home Loan Bank, availability of federal subscription to shares up to three times the entire private subscriptions, in addition to federal approval as to solvency, policies and management which is a prerequisite to federalization.

All federal associations are required to apply for insurance of accounts. They are also automatically members of the Federal Home Loan Bank system. Insurance, he pointed out, assures safety to every shareholder, while membership in the Federal Home Loan Bank of Little Rock, Ark., affords rediscount privileges which assure a reservoir of credit for the normal functioning of a lending institution of this type, and the sound expansion of its services to home owner-borrowers.

Preparatory to approval for a federal charter, insurance of accounts and membership in the Federal Home Loan Bank, the local association was thoroughly examined as to the quality of its assets, soundness of policy, management, and other requirements.

Under the new plan the association will operate strictly as a mutual organization. Earnings will be distributed equally to all shareholders, in proportion to what they have paid in. Lending operations will be confined to a radius of approximately 50 miles from the home office.

"Federal Savings and Loan associations were provided for by the congress in order to make local thrift and home financing facilities available in every community under the most favorable terms," said Mr. O'Keefe. "This required a plan whereby savings of the people would be safe, in order to encourage investment. The Federal Savings and Loan Insurance corporation was subsquently formed to protect the long-term investments in such associations somewhat similar to the way in which the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation insures the liquidity of bank deposits.

"The experience of all insured institutions has been that insurance invites public confidence. Thrifty people are convinced that funds placed in a Federal Savings and Loan association earn a reasonable return, consistent with the high safety afforded. This will insure more adequate home financing resources for this community. Our loan terms, under new policies which will go immediately into effect, are liberal enough to attract the home owner of good credit standing."

Officers of the organization are M. K. Brown, chairman of the board; R. Earl O'Keefe, president; S. Wayne O'Keefe, vice president; J. B. Bourland, secretary-treasurer.

Directors are M. K. Brown, C. P. Buckler, J. B. Bourland, R. Earl O'Keefe, S. Wayne O'Keefe, S. D. Safranko, DeLea Vicars, and M. B. Welsh.

Getting Oariented for Role

"Aw, that's only a double," says the movie-going skeptic. "The star wouldn't do that!" But Iris Actor, young English star, comes back with, "Is that so!" Here you see her practicing in London for her new role as "Grace Darling," famous English seacoast heroine, who rowed a heavy boat through a violent storm to the rescue of sailors aboard a foundering ship.

NATION HAS ALMOST RECOVERED FROM GREAT DROUGHT OF 1934

WASHINGTON, July 27. (AP)—A remarkable comeback from 1934's disastrous drought was reported today by the AAA. Officials said the nation practically has recovered from the calamity.

A year ago today, the headlines were telling of scorched plains, damaged crops, government purchasing of cattle to prevent them from starving. Now conditions are much better.

Thousands of families who depended on government relief for the necessities of life have returned to a self-sustaining basis, officials said. In addition, the resettlement administration reports that 290.155 farm families have been taken off the relief rolls to be placed in the rural rehabilitation classification.

On Feb. 1, 1935, the government's charts showed a drought area covering 1,480 counties in 25 states. Now the area has been narrowed to 131 counties in five states—Southwestern Kansas, Eastern Colorado, Northwestern Oklahoma, the Texas Panhandle and New Mexico.

From June 1, 1934, when the cattle buying program of the AAA was begun as a relief measure for drought areas, until February 1, 1935, the end of the program, the government bought 8,279.000 head of cattle from 6969,000 farms in 24 states. Cost of the cattle was $111,-451,000 or $13.40 per head.

Those cattle found edible were killed and canned with the exception of about 1,000,000 head still held in pastures and ranges.

JOHN ARNOT PLACES TOMBSTONES IN FIRST GRAVEYARD IN POTTER

AMARILLO, July 27. (AP)—After 55 years, Potter county's first graveyard which started in 1880, has its first tombstones.

John Arnot of Amarillo, who has been a resident of the Texas Panhandle for 52 years, placed a homemade, concrete marker at the head of each of the six graves.

Five of the graves contain the bones of Arnot's early-day friends and neighbors or their children.

The graveyard is half a mile north of the Canadian river in the loncly sand hills of the old JY ranch. The first person buried there was B. McQuarry, a cowboy who was fatally injured while roping a calf in 1880. His death was prior to the time that Arnot came to this section.

Mrs. Lizzie Farris Wyness, an English woman who has been in this country 15 months, was buried there in 1887. Interred nearby was her baby. The woman's husband was bookkeeper on the LX ranch. His second wife spent the money for the marking of her grave. Arnot constructed all of the others at his own expense.

Others buried in the small plot were the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mott, caretaker at the LX headquarters; Jim Bell, who was kicked to death by a horse at an isolated ranch camp in 1900, and Jim Bailey, who died in 1901 of pneumonia contracted while crossing the Canadian river during a winter storm.

Arnot helped dig each of the last five graves and was present at the burial services.

PARIS BROKERS WOOED BY DEAUVILLE CASINOS

PARIS (AP)—When the city of Deauville wants to advertise its beach, it tries to reach the tourist, but when it wants to advertise its roulette game it tries to reach the speculator.

That seems to be why there's a huge sign on a building facing the Paris Bourse bearing two large pictures of roulette wheels and a few words about Deauville's gambling casinos.

Speculators on the exchange, where fortunes are lost and won in stocks, will remain ignorant of the fact that Deauville is a beach resort if they depend on the billboard. The sign doesn't mention it.

RANGER ACQUITTED

SAN AUGUSTINE, July 27. (AP)—Joe Burleson, former Texas ranger, was acquitted in district court here today of murder for the killing of Dudley Clay, a negro described as a moonshiner. Burleson testified he shot the negro February 3, 1934, in self-defense. He said the negro was armed with a rifle.

BELGRADE'S BOOTBLACKS DANCE IN FRIDAY RITES

BELGRADE (AP)—It's hard to get a shoe shine at a public stand in Belgrade on Fridays because most of the bootblacks in Yugoslavia's capital are Moslem dervishes, and Fridays are reserved for their religious exercises.

The chief of the dervishes, Shaban Barushovitch, is usually to be found at his stand outside one of the city's finest hotels. While performing the dance of the dervishes he pierces his cheeks with copper needles, and licks red hot steel.

There is no explaining, Barushovitch said, why dervishes gravitate to shoe shining.

When the Weather Is Hottest You Need Electric Refrigeration Most

Food is the largest single item of expense in the average Pampa home. Reliable estimates place the average loss, due to inadequate refrigeration at 20 per cent of the total amount spent for food.

Food	38.3%
Clothing	16.7%
Rent	13.1%
Fuel and light	5.3%
Furniture and furnishings	5.2%
Miscellaneaus	21.4%

An electric refrigerator will preserve all of the food you buy. No matter how hot the weather, an electric refrigrator will constantly maintain a tmperature below 50 degrees, the critical danger point. Hot wather does not disturb its conveniences either. You can always depend upon freezing ice between meals. The certainty of dessert and salad making results is worth careful investigation.

This new institution brings to the Pampa territory two all important features—ABSOLUTE SAFETY of long term savings and investments, and ample funds for HOME FINANCING, at reasonable interest rates.

The law authorizing Federal Savings and Loan Associations is an important part of the President's program to promote business ecovery through the establishment of PERMANENT investment institutions in which the people may have the utmost confidence.

The answer to the question of where to invest safely and profitably has been supplied by the United States Government. Federal Savings and Loan Associations are conducted under Federal Charter and strict Federal supervision and regulation. They combine Government safeguards with sound, time tested business methods.

Shares in the newly chartered FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION of Pampa will be exchanged for shares of the Western Building and Loan Association of Pampa, Texas, at ONE HUNDRED CENTS ON THE DOLLAR.

Safety of Your Investment Insured up to $5,000

A Feature that will appeal to you is that your shares in this association are now fully insured up to $5,000 in amount by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, an instrumentality of the United States Government. Savings may be invested in our shares in any amount from a few dollars upward, either in regular weekly or monthly savings, or substantial lump sum investment in Full Paid Income Shares.

Principal Reduction Loans — Low Interest Rates

An advantage to the borrower is the direct principal reduction loan plan of repayment, by which interest is paid only on the unpaid balance of the mortgage indebtedness, which is decreased each month by installment payment on the principal.

The result is a lower cost for the loan, and definite assurance, at the time loan is made, as to the amount of the monthly payment and the date of maturity of the loan.

REX PICTURE HAS CAST OF FAMED STARS

ZASU PITTS, KIBBEE, HORTON, FURNISH LAUGHS

"Going Highbrow," a rollicking Warner Bros. comedy, which is scheduled as the feature attraction at the Rex theater starting today, is based on the hilarious play, "Social Pirates," by Ralph Spence.

There is an all star comedy cast which includes Guy Kibbee, ZaSu Pitts, Edward Everett Horton, Ross Alexander, June Martel, Gordon Westcott, and Judy Canova.

Spence's play was replete with amusing complications and rib-tickling dialogue, which is said to have been transferred to the screen with even more laughs.

The plot centers about a bucolic Kansas farmer who suddenly rises to riches through the stock market and his wife who immediately goes highbrow and wants to crash into New York's Four Hundred.

She rules her husband who is a simple, unassuming soul, engages a high powered press agent, who promises to introduce them to society through an impoverished aristocratic family, for a fee of $50,000. They adopt a waitress as a daughter in order to have a big coming out party.

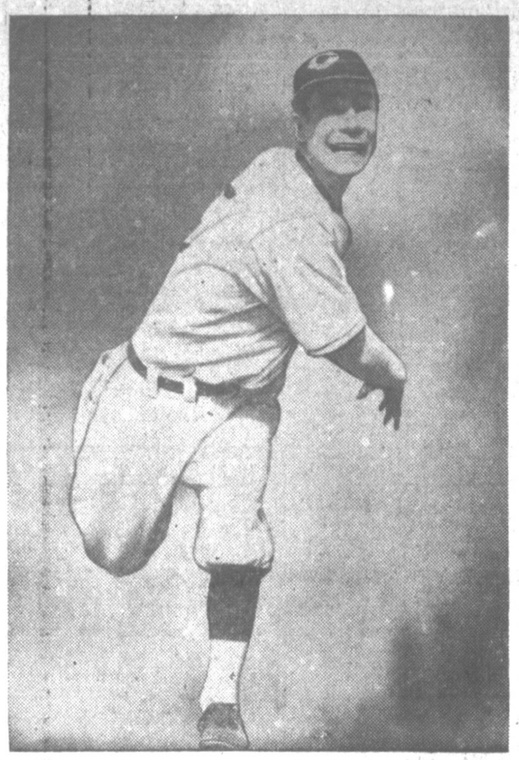

Although the picture is strictly comedy, romance enters the scene when the son of the impoverished aristocrat falls in love with the pretty waitress. This winds up in a romance as well as a must amusing and unusual climax.

Guy Kibbee has the role of the Kansas farmer who suddenly gets rich, but doesn't know what to do with his money, while ZaSu Pitts plays the part of his socially ambitious wife. Edward Everett Horton is the bungling publicity man, who gets everything mixed up.

The romantic roles are played by Ross Alexander, scion of an aristocratic mother, and June Martel, the waitress. Both are from the Broadway stage, recently "going Hollywood" and to the screen in "Going Highbrow."

Gordon Westcott is the villain of the story, pretending to be the husband of the little waitress, although he had another wife. Judy Canova, of the famous Canova family, known to all radio fans, and who recently appeared in the Warner Bros film, "In Caliente," has her first real straight role in the picture.

The Deans' New Rival

Joe E. Brown, the "open face" boy of the screen, steps forth as a rival of the famous Dean brothers in his newest picture, "Alibi Ike," which opens today at the La Nora theater. The supporting cast includes Olivia DeHavilland and Ruth Donnelly.

'RAIN INSURANCE' GAME CUTS AUSTRIA'S LOTTERY REVENUES

VIENNA, July 27. (AP)—Hundreds of chance-taking Viennese are, literally, betting on the weather. Those who can tell when a storm is coming, intuitively or by the twitching of their corns, are gathering a fine pile of Austrian schillings. Poor prophets are losing their money.

The fad has grown until it is cutting into the revenues of the state lotteries. Betting on horse racing is languishing, because loose change is being diverted to bets on whether the sun will shine tomorrow.

The new form of wagering is rain insurance—modified and developed to make it easy for the masses to get policies on a minute's notice. It started as a legitimate business. Inn keepers, ready for a rousing weekend, took out policies to protect them against financial loss in the event of rain.

Wet Season Started It

Two years ago came a wet summer, and the inn keepers who availed themselves of insurance made handsome profits. So the insurance became popular.

Now, if a Vienna family plans to go on a picnic dad gives the outing the added zest of a financial adventure. He estimates his picnic is worth a certain amount, pays the appropriate premium, and cashes in if it rains.

The housewife may relieve the drudgery of wash day by investing in a bit of insurance. If rain wets the laundry she is paid for the bother of drying it next day.

The fly in the ointment is that policies must be taken out a week in advance.

Provable Losses Waived

At first there was some pretense in the game. The purchaser of a policy announced an intention of going to some such place as the Prater (Vienna's Coney Island) and wished to be paid if rain interfered with his outing. He could, within broad limits, place his own financial value on his little excursion, so long as he paid the premium, usually 9 per cent of the policy's face value.

But the pretense has been dropped at the busy little offices where clerks hand policies over the counters. In effect, one bets it's going to rain Sunday, and the insurance companies bet it won't. It isn't necessary to prove that the policy holder would even get his feet wet.

So home-spun meterology has become a serious subject. Weather tables covering scores of years are scanned. The law of averages is applied to nature. Weather-wise oldsters who can interpret their bunions are consulted.

Companies Adjust Premiums

The insurance companies, of course, have a little the better of it, for they have made an exact and scientific study of the weather. They know they will have to pay on 5 to 6 per cent of their policies. So premiums are adjusted accordingly.

A portion of volume of rain insurance remains legitimate business. And among the best customers of the companies are Austria's private armies.

These armies, always pinched for cash, stage parades to impress the public with their strength. But they do not have uniforms for all their men. So uniforms are borrowed from government stores. The government requires that they be returned to the warehouses in good condition and pressed.

Should rain soak 10,000 uniforms the tailoring bill would stagger the treasury. So a rain policy guarantees that the uniform will be returned creased and brushed without cost to the parading army.

Auto Dealers Discuss Credit Problems Here

The first group meeting under the auspices of the Pampa Credit association was held last night when members of the Pampa Automobile Dealers association met and discussed credit problems of the automobile industry. They discussed particularly delinquent accounts and repossessions. Another meeting of the dealers has been called for next Friday night.

This is the first of a series which will be held by different groups for the dissemination of credit information in their lines of business. The meetings are held by members of the Pampa Credit association of which Walter J. Daugherty is manager.

With Sadler Show Here

The Jeffries sisters, pictured above, are one of the new featured vaudeville acts with Harley Sadler's Tent theatre, now playing Pampa under the auspices of the American Legion. These talented little girls have been given a warm reception in Pampa and are already prime favorites with the large audience which go to the big tent nightly. They are acrobatic dancers, musicians, singers and dancers. One of the acts is doing an acrobatic dance while playing violins, an unusual feat, especially for children. They are one of the many features this season at Harley Sadler's. The show starts its second and final week's engagement Monday, presenting for Monday and Tuesday nights "Restless Wives and Homeless Husbands," the play that was originally to be presented last Monday and Tuesday nights when the show opened its engagement here, but it was forced to be concelled until tomorrow night. It is said to be a great show, with Harley in one of the best comedy parts of his career. There will be lots of big time vaudeville between acts, and music is furnished by a 12 piece orchestra. READY MADE WIFE

BY CORALIE STANTON

Chapter Six

MAD SITUATION

"As it happens, I have Mrs. Moore's address here," said Mark Albery. "Mrs. Moore worked for me personally for a few weeks while my private secretary was ill. She does not have a telephone, however."

A slightly elaborate explanation, and not quite true. Albery had asked Laurie for her address because he wanted to know where she lived.

He found it in his address book and gave it to the young man.

"Do you think perhaps you ought to warn Mrs. Moore? Shall I do it for you? It will be such a shock."

"You just said joy doesn't kill," retorted Moore, with that sudden smile in his eyes, touched with mockery. "Thanks very much. I'll just get right along."

Albery felt a sudden dislike for the airman. There was something incomprehensible about him. His manner was so off-hand, almost inhuman. He was certainly changed, not only in looks. Perhaps his adventure had really turned his brain a little.

"I have a great admiration for Mrs. Moore," he said, a trifle stiffly. "She has shown the greatest pluck, and she is a splendid worker. You are a very lucky man, Moore."

"Sure, I know I must be." was the airman's reply, as they shook hands. On Albery's part, not quite so warmly, this time.

Laurie Moore sat in her little living-room in the roof, with its slanting attic ceiling on either side of the quaint dormer window, from which she looked over a dusty wilderness behind high fences, where the old houses on the other side of the street had been pulled down, and re-building had not yet begun.

Laurie's house was condemned, too, with its eight neighbors. Hers was the end one, and there was a solitary plane tree in front of it, at the moment delicately tasselled and bursting into green.

Laurie was making an evening frock for Glad. She had cooked and eaten her supper and washed up and put everything away.

It was a bright little room. Laurie wanted everything that Glad wanted. And Glad adored color. So there was orange and soft blue in the curtains and covers, and there were flowery cushions, and on the dark-stained floor gay mats, and the furniture was painted white and primrose. As the old landlady said, it looked more like a garden than a room.

Laurie's bell rang. That meant there was a visitor downstairs at the front door. Each tenant had a bell, and attended to it. The landlady was not only old but rheumatic.

Who could it be? She had not many friends. Several of the girls in the office she liked very much but nearly all of them lived in the suburbs, and they only met when they made appointments. She knew three or four young men fairly well. But with none of them was she on such terms that they would drop in casually just before ten o'clock at night.

She put down the gleaming sky-blue material that she was stitching with her busy, loving fingers, and went downstairs. She had a little landing all to herself, but no door enclosed the flat. She switched on a light on the first landing, as she ran down.

When she opened the front door, a tall man stood outside.

"I want to see Mrs. Moore," he said.

"I am Mrs. Moore," Laurie answered, surprised.

He was in the shadow; her face was lit by the lamp in the narrow hall.

He gave a sharp exclamation. Then stared at her for a speechless moment. Then asked in a muffled voice:

"You are Mrs. Moore? You!"

He laughed, and Laurie recognized him, and gave a little cry. It was the man in the train who had been so rude to her.

"Oh, it's you! I didn't see you at first! What do you want? How did you know I lived here? How do you know my name?"

He seemed to find speech difficult. He was staring at her. He would evidently not take his eyes from her face.

"It looks like fate," he said at last, which sounded to her perfectly ridiculous. Then he went on. "A friend of yours gave me your address. I found out your name—never mind how. I want to have a chat with you. May I come in?"

"I don't know why you should," she answered, resenting him, as she had done before. "I don't want to talk to you. I don't know who you are. I don't know what friend of mine you could have met. You were extremely rude to me in the train."

"I've something important to say to you. Let me come in! I won't keep you long."

His tone was so commanding that she gave way against her will. She led him upstairs and turned on more lights in her room.

She did not ask him to sit down. She looked at him coldly.

"Would you please explain why you are here?"

"Out of curiosity," he replied, with that smile in his eyes that both fascinated and repelled her. "I am in a peculiar position—unique, I imagine. You will admit I have reason for my curiosity, not to say interest. I have just learned that you are my widow. I mean—you have been my widow. Now, it is interesting to a man to learn he has a widow—when he has never had a wife."

Laurie stood there, dumb, her eyes wide, her mouth open, but not a sound could she make. Then her knees gave way and she fell into a chair.

"You see, I happen to be Rex Moore," he explained. His voice was harsh; his angry lips curved with contempt. "I have just been with Mark Albery, and he told me that, you, my widow, were working in his office, and had been for two years."
