McDavid, Hiller Attend Flood Insurance Meeting

John M. McDavid of Glass, Sorenson and McDavid Insurance Agency and Delmar R. Hiller of United Savings Association attended a meeting in Ganada Saturday, called by Cong. John Young and addressed by officials of the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development with regard to flood insurance.

At this meeting they learned the following:

The new National Flood Insurance Program moved an important step toward operation with the publication of proposed standards in Federal Register, according to Secretary George Romney of the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The proposed standards specify what States and communities must do to qualify for participation in the program. An essential portion of these requirements sets forth the criteria for adequate land management and use measures in flood prone areas.

The program has two main public purposes:

First, it encourages States and communities wishing to participate to make appropriate land use adjustments designed to prevent unwise use of the flood plain and reduce the amount of property exposure to floods.

Secondly, it provides insurance protection against flood losses to owners of properties in flood prone areas who previously were unable to obtain insurance. For owners of properties already in the flood plain the program provides Federal assistance to keep the rates within bounds.

"The program," Secretary Romney said, "is designed to meet a long-standing need for

Voters Authorize Sewer Bond Issue

Rockport residents on Apr. 18 voted 176 to 43 in favor of authorizing the city to issue $125,000 in revenue bonds for sewer system improvements and extensions.

This will enable the city to match and accept an outright grant offer of $150,000 from the Department of Housing and Urban Development. This grant will be matched by the $125,000 in sewer and revenue bonds, plus $25,000 budgeted in this year's operating account.

Sanitary sewer collection system needs to be enlarged to:

1. Extend this service to a badly needed area and the northwestern portion of the city.

2. To provide adequate size main lines carrying sewage into the sewage treatment plant. Main lines serving the central and southern areas of the city and the northeastern portion of the city need additional capacities in order to effectively handle the present load and provide for the ever-increasing load.

3. Some of the oldest lines in various parts of the city have deteriorated to a point where it now needs replacement.

This work has been proposed after careful study by the City Council, city engineers and city planners.

The citizens advisory committees which worked to develop the city's Comprehensive Plan recommended this work as part of the necessary capital improvement program for Rockport.

Chamber Happenings

The Chamber extends welcome to two new members: the charter boat BALBOA, owned and operated by Buck Armintrout, and Timberlane Camping Grounds owned by Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ingersoll.

During the past few days many visitors from Wisconsin, Canada, Michigan, California, Arizona, Oklahoma and Texas have registered at the Chamber of Commerce building, listing their home address and temporary local address for the convenience of friends or relatives who find themselves in Rockport.

Many people have various ideas about the exact purpose or objective of a Chamber. At this spring's meeting of the South Texas Chamber of Commerce Managers and Secretaries Association held in Edinburg, one speaker said: "The main job of any Chamber of Commerce is to help local businesses earn more money." He went on to say that to accomplish this, a Chamber of Commerce had to do many things to bring in more visitors, new residents, etc.

* * *

The Chamber of Commerce believes that two new friends for Rockport have been recruited in James Brown of Milwaukee, Wis., and Richard Jones of Santa Fe, N.M., who are birdwatching enthusiasts. These two young men, who have been vacationing in the

Daylight Savings Time Starts Sunday

When you go to bed Saturday night, set your clocks ahead one hour. In other words, if your clocks say 10 p.m., set them to 11 p.m. This is because Daylight Savings Time officially begins at 2 a.m. Sunday. Of course, if you want to be absolutely precise, you can stay up until 2 a.m. Sunday and then move the clocks ahead to 3 a.m. and then go to bed, but we'd advise doing it the easier way. The idea of Daylight Savings Time, of course, is to give people one more hour of daylight for golf, fishing, gardening or whatever they enjoy doing in the daylight.

Capital Improvements Program Recommended

A tentative capital improvements program for the city was agreed on this week an informal meeting attended by th City Council and members of the city's planning advisory committees.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

I clipped your article from the Pilot in January requesting data on old times, places and people in your area, hoping that in my 'digging' for historical data on Goliad, that I would also find something for your anniversary edition planned for April, 1969.

Recently, some old newspapers were brought in to me, from which I have been writing a series of articles for the Goliad Advance-Guard.

The following appeared in The Goliad Guard, Vol 21, No. 11, Saturday, June 30, 1888:

"The Guard welcomes a new paper soon to be started at Rockport by E. M. Fly and George Perrenot, to be called The Aransas Pass Beacon."

Now, in my possession, is an Aransas Pass Beacon, Vol. I, No. 8, of Tuesday, August 28,1888: It was published in Rockport.

G. F. Perrenot, Sr. was General Manager, and E. M. Fly, Sr. was Editor. The yearly rate was $2.00; six months, $1.25; three months, 75c; and single copies were 5c.

On the front page is this: "The Rockport Beacon is only five weeks old."

Also: "A consignment of vegetables from Southwestern Texas may be seen in the office of J. T. Nagle, No. 149 Fourth Ave., near Fourteenth St. Mr. Nagle is agent for the Southwest Texas Immigration Association. The vegetables sent north are intended to show what can be grown in the county. The collection includes a huge 'double' onion, grown at Rockport, Aransas County, by J. F. Frandolig.—New York Tribune."

On the front page are two advertisements. One reads: "For Sale. Second hand machinery comprising the plant of the Boston Beef Packing Company at Fulton, consisting of boilers, engines, iron tanks, piping, iron and brass fittings, blacksmith and tinners tools, can making machines, windmills, wagons, carts, etc. Bargains, can be be had in these goods, by applying to Jno. I. Carruthers."

The other: "Real Estate—L. F. Bailey & Co., Land and General Agents, Rockport, Aransas Co., Texas."

The office of publication of this paper was on Austin St., foot of St. Mary, between Market and Main Streets.

The following will all be quotes from the back page:

R. P. Bracht is our authorized agent to solicit subscriptions for the Aransas Pass Beacon, and receipt for same.

Time Table, San Antonio & Aransas Pass Railway, taking effect Monday, July 16, 1888-Rockport Station: leave 5:35 a.m. - arrive, 10:40 p.m.

The building of another 'grand' hotel is described; the contractor was W. L. Van Alstyne of Lincoln, Nebraska. It was to be three stories high, with an attic, and to have 96 rooms. There was to be a tower at the south front, with an outlook and comfortable observatory 85 feet above the streets. It was to be illuminated with electric lights.

An obituary reads: Died-in this city, August 22, 2:30 p.m., Maggie, second daughter of M. J. and J. M. Terry, of consumption, aged 16 years and 5 months.

Dr. Jno. A. Clarke, physician, had an office on Austin St., north of the Court House.

Dr. Clark was also Mayor; he and G. E. Waterwall, secretary, notify the City of Rockport of ordinances passed by the Board of Aldermen in session on the 8th and 9th of August, 1888.

One of the ordinances defines the city limits; "that the rates as far, as charges by city vehicles for conveyance of passangers shall not exceed 25c per head, for passengers from the depot to Chatka St. on the south, and from depot to Cherry St. on the north. Beyond the limits 50c may be charged or the rate of $1.00 per hour . . .'

I trust that some of this will be of help to you.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Frances Johnston, Vice Chairman
Goliad County Historical Survey Committee.

SECURITY
REAL ESTATE
Incorporated
John A. Lewis, President
Lois Townsend Gurley, Office Manager

SECURITY specializes in the handling of unimproved Aransas County real estate which is bought and sold, for the most part, for investment purposes. An investment in this type of property is similar to investing in 'growth stocks' in the stock market. Little or no income is received during the holding period, but a profit comes when a sale is made and it is usually a long term capital gain. Parcels usually are acreage tracts but sometimes consists of groups of lots. And usually we know of some activity in the future that will account for the increase in value. Here are some of the items that we recommend be purchased.

Block 61 Fulton which will lie between the present route of Highway 35 and the Highway 25 Express Route.

A one hundred acre tract in the Fulton Outlots in addition to numerous single ten acre tracts in this subdivision. The Aransas County Airport will account for this increase in value.

Seventeen lots in Old Tasselfoot Village Subdivision, Lamar, which are under-priced at this time. As soon as the water problem is solved in this subdivision, this property is going to move.

Numerous whole blocks in the Manning Addition. This property has a good elevation, and another wet year or two and people will be moving to higher ground. The same thing applies to our acreage tracts in the Swickheimer Subdivision.

Ninety Six acres on the Intercoastal Canal to be subdivided or developed for either industrial or residential purposes.

And for the large investor or group, 864 acres West of Canoe Lake properties.

Library News

Books were donated to the Aransas County Public Library recently by J. F. Chaney, Mrs. Bill Williams, R. P. Johnson and L. W. Tuer.

As this is National Library Week, you may be interested to know a few facts about your local library. The Librarian is Mrs. Clara Brymer and her assistant is Mrs. Dorothen Montgomery.

All others on the staff are volunteer workers, namely, Mrs. W. S. Blanton, Mrs. Jones Christian, Mrs. L. R. Ragot, Mrs. L. V. Clark, Mrs. S. S. Crooks, Mrs. J. D. Donaldson, Mrs. Charles R. Gibson, Miss Leslie Hill, Mrs. Frank Kirk, Mrs. R. W. Moore, Mrs. T. L. Morgan, Mrs. Barbara Rogers, Miss Elizabeth Whitney and Mrs. Province Winkler.

Last month, about 300 new books were added, and more than half that number have already been added this month to the present collection. Sixty-two new library cards were issued last month. The circulation for March was 1650, and a daily average of 71 people visited the library. Many come and read the periodicals, or use the reference section.

The Texana collection is considered very fine for a library of this size. There is a section of recent books or "best sellers," both fiction and non-fiction. For material which is not found in this library, it can be quickly made available through the Reference Referral, for which La Retama Library of Corpus Christi is the area Major Resource Center.

By filling out a registration, you may have a library card at no cost to a resident of Aransas County. The cost to a tourist is only one dollar, and is usable for two years. This card entitles one to the full use of the library.

Visitors are always welcome. The library hours are from 12 to 6 p.m., on Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 12. The location is on the northwest corner of the courthouse square.

Art Guild Gatherings

By JAN WENDELL

A newcomer to the Roekport Art Guild and Gallery is Cy Johnson, our Artist of the Month. Cy took up his hobby last May and has quite a nice collection considering the short time in which he has been painting. He has studied with Kit Dinger and Robert Jarvis.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson make their homes in Houston and Rockport and also own a well appointed "bus" that they take on trips all over the United States. It is from these trips that Cy, also an amateur photographer, gets much of his material for various paintings.

Cy's collection on display now includes a number of pastel sketches and paintings that were his first attempts at finished work. They are quite meticulously done with much concentration to detail and line. In "arty" jargon, Cy is what we call a "neat" painter and his work reflects a crispness that can only be achieved by clean work.

He has two oils on display that are especially noteworthy —one, a shrimp boat seen through framework of drying nets. The framework is a pleasing focus and the line is repeated variously throughout the painting. Another is the perspective look through the gallery of an old Spanish mission with the sun peeking through the archways — a bright and pleasant piece that stands true to the eye.

Cy's work will remain at the Gallary until May 15th.

At the last meeting of the Rockport Art Guild, James H. Sorenson, Jr., was guest speaker and his topic was the future of the Guild and Gallery and the start of a permanent building fund. More about that in later columns. Also on the agenda was election of officers for the year starting in May and they are as follows:

Yours truly, president; vice president, Shirley Farley; recording secretary, Gwen Whitfill; corresponding secretary, Bea Stafford; treasurer, Sis Harper; and librarian, Polly Bracht.

I will not be writing this column again until June because my going to Europe next week, but I will try to take in as many art galleries as possible during my stay and perhaps I can relate to you something of the art of the European world seen through the eyes of a Texan.

This and That

JOHN KINSEY

I will be 60 years old on Monday, April 28. Those wishing to send cards and/or presents may mail them to Box 965, Rockport. No, I'm only kidding. Don't bother about the cards; just the presents.

The reason I am being so presumptuous in mentioning my 60th birthday is this: I feel the good Lord has seen fit to keep me alive long enough to reach my 60th birthday—despite the fact that I have not followed all the health rules such as not smoking and not over-eating—then it is high time that I started helping if I expect to stick around a while longer.

On Monday night my wife, my father and a few friends will help me observe my birthday. Beginning on the following day, I expect to begin making a few changes in my life with respect to smoking, eating and drinking.

If my Dad reads this. I know he will break out laughing. He says I have been making—and breaking—resolutions since I was seven years old. My wife won't laugh, but I know she will be surprised if I keep my vows. So will I, but I sure plan to give it a good try.

Speaking of my Dad, 88-year-old L. B. Kinsey of Long Beach, Calif., I think it is mighty wonderful that he flew all the way from California to be with us on my birthday and our 35th wedding anniversary a week later.

Candy Sue Coole Has Birthday

Candy Sue Coole was honored on her birthday with a skating party at Lawson's Roller Rink by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Coole on Apr. 19.

Dear Mr. Rogero and Mr. Woods:

I want to congratulate you on the 100th birthday of The Rockport Pilot. I believe such an anniversary is a tribute to the honor and integrity of all the people who have worked on The Pilot for the past 100 years. A newspaper would not have survived that long if it had not consistently earned the respect of its readers.

Rockport and all of Aransas County have always been a favorite place of mine. I first visited there in 1931 and have been back many times in the past 38 years. I've found it always to be an interesting and stimulating place to visit.

Millions of Americans are acquainted with Aransas County because of the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge. Texans, and many visitors from other states, also know Aransas for Goose Island State Park and the great hunting and fishing the county offers. I personally remember Aransas County for all these attractions plus the many fine people I have met there.

In the years ahead, I know The Rockport Pilot will continue to serve the people of Aransas County, maintaining its high standards, thus earning another 100 years of life.

Sincerely,
RALPH W. YARBOROUGH

Warmest congratulations on this memorable occasion—the Centennial Anniversary of the Rockport Pilot.

Newspapers have played a vital role in the history of the United States and of the State of Texas. Our Constitution proclaims the rights of freedom of speech and press, but we must remain vigilant against all who would stifle freedoms which are so essential to all Americans.

Few business establishments can equal the record of the Rockport Pilot. This newspaper has continuously and meriotoriously served it local area and our State.

Greetings and best wishes to all participating in this Centennial Celebration.

Sincerely,
PRESTON SMITH

Dear Friends:

Congratulations on your Centennial! When one thinks of one hundred years of continuous publication it is very natural to look back and then forward. THE ROCKPORT PILOT is a splendid publication, and one that I anticipate reading with pleasure each week. It is quite understandable that it has endured for one hundred years for it has contributed so greatly to the grouth of our area and has grown up with it. It is my feeling that the important ingredients that make a newspaper last are the information and pleasure that it brings to its readers. THE ROCKPORT PILOT is excellent in both respects, but in addition it is a family newspaper bringing weekly service and enjoyment to the entire family. Aransas County can be, and is, justly proud of its outstanding newspaper. Your high standards guarantee you another one hundred years.

With sincere best wishes, I am

LIBRARY TRUSTEE WORKSHOPS HELD

The Texas Library Trustee Workshop was held at Key Allegro Restaurant on April 18. Forty-one persons registered as board officers, members, city officials, librarians and interested citizens from Aransas Pass, Corpus Christi, Portland, Port Lavaca, Taft Sinton, Victoria and Rockport.

Hostesses for the occasion were the Aransas County Library Board and Mrs. O. W. Brymer, librarian. A well planned program beginning at 9 a.m. with registration and coffee served in the dining room was followed at 9:30 with opening remarks by Frank Wells, board chairman. Mayor Delmar Hiller welcomed the visitors and members to Rockport and the meeting.

Mrs. Brymer introduced Charles Norwood, City Manager of Portland, Mrs. Phyllis Burson who is director of Libraries of Corpus Christi and also president-elect of Texas Library Association, and Fred Bell, field consultant in the field service division of Texas State Library who conducted the session. He was assisted by Mrs. Burson in the afternoon projects and workshop evaluation after a luncheon break.

All conferences agreed that it was one of the most interesting and informative workshops held in the area thus far and were most delighted with Rockport and Key Allegro. The library personnel and its board members are grateful to L. D. Nuckles for bringing his equipment and giving his time to show the film, "Hottest Spot in Town" provided by Bell, which so ably depicted the storehouse of knowledge and the wealth of heritage within the walls of the libraries.

Every successful library has a good board and faithful trustees behind it; a good board is a victory and not a gift—it requires countless hours of effort to achieve victory. The development and growth of a successful board was clearly and effectively presented by Bell during the four hours of workshop.

Those who had not visited our library previously, did so at the close of the conference. "A truly worthwhile program and a day well-spent" was the consensus of those present.

Mrs. T. L. Morgan was overall chairman.

TROTLINE PROPOSAL

M. W. Cochran has informed the Pilot that the Parks and Wildlife Committee has passed on to the Texas House of Representatives a proposed measure, House Bill 530, which would call for regulation of trotlines and requiring that a license tag to identify the trotlines be placed on the lines every 300 feet or less, if the line is shorter than 300 feet.

Rockport - Fulton captured their first district win as the Pirates bombed Taft 7-3 last Friday on Pirate Field.

The Pirates tallied runs in four innings while batting in six innings. RFHS accumulated eight hits including Isaac Walls' 3-run homer. Willie Rinche's two singles and Johnny Jackson's two singles.

Isaac Walls was the winning pitcher as he went six innings in striking out nine, walking two and giving up four hits.

ESTELLE STAIR—

Rockport School of Fine Arts and subsequently became manager of Michael's Gallery.

In 1966, she began art study with Kit Dinger and in 1967, Mrs. Stair became a charter member of the Rockport Art Guild. She served on the constitutional and organizational committees of the Art Guild and through unceasing efforts, helped lead the Rockport Art Guild from modest beginnings to a permanent gallery and workshop. Since then she has studied with William Brigl of Dallas and Robert Jarvis, of Laguna Beach, Calif.

The vibrant florals and Gulf Coast seascapes of the painter have drawn the attention of many South Texas collectors. Also of note are her whimsical paisanos and sad owls on wood which adorn the walls of many homes throughout the state.

Mrs. Stair has shown at the Laguna Gloria Art Festival in Austin, the La Villita Gallery and the River Arts Group in San Antonio. She has also had one man shows at Bogalusa, La., and Mobile, Ala.

Somehow, in her busy schedule of painting and Gallery Manager, Mrs. Stair finds time to lecture to civic organizations on art and her love of it. She has also helped institute guild programs to sponsor handicapped and underprivileged children in artistic pursuits. Mrs. Stair has truly been and inspiration and guiding force behind the Rockport Art Guild's spectacular progress.

Mr. and Mrs. John Christian of Austin spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Haynes, who have recently moved here from Harlingen.

protection of properties against flood losses. At the same time it advances the national program or reducing such losses.

"Particularly gratifying is the partnership of the Federal government and the private insurance industry in making this protection available, along with the Federal, State and local cooperation in achieving the program's objectives."

The program was established under the 1968 Housing Act. It aims to meet an insurance need not previously met because industry found it was not economically feasible to provide it.

Proposed standards spelling out what steps are necessary for states and communities to participate are set forth in the February 27 issue of the Federal Register, which is available in virtually all large public law libraries.

The proposed standards specify what a community must do to evidence interest in obtaining flood insurance coverage. They also indicate what must be done to give satisfactory assurances that the community will adopt required permanent land use and control measures for flood areas by June 30, 1970. These measures must be consistent with the criteria for land management and use to be issued from time to time by the Secretary. After the 1970 date no new insurance can be written for areas for which such measures are not in effect.

Among the proposed criteria are provisions constricting the development of land exposed to flood hazards; provisions dealing with subdivision and building and health code requirements; guidance for development and planning; and evidence of at least first steps in flood plain management.

Indications of positive inests by communities in flood prone areas are necessary before rate making studies can be initiated. Once rates are established, and insurance firms are enrolled in the program, insurance will be sold to individuals. At first only owners of one—to four-family homes will be eligible for insurance. Owners of small businesses will be the next group to be covered.

Flood insurance is expected to be available in a number of communities some time this year. Coverage will be extended as more communities qualify and additional rate making studies are completed.

A portion of the premiums collected will be paid into the National Flood Insurance Fund for meeting claims which are greater than those which must be set by private insurers.

The Rockport City Council at a special meeting Apr. 21 asked members of the city's planning committees if they were interested in the proposed flood insurance program and were given a definite affirmative in behalf of this area.

Items From The Rockport Pilot Sept. 19, 1919

Rockport losses in 100-milegale total $1,000,000.00. Water reached a depth of 20 feet. A tidal wave of great magnitude swept into Rockport the Gulf of Mexico Sunday morning and completely inundated the entire city.

* * *

Not a mercantile establishment in the entire city escaped the fury of the wind and water in the storm which struck the city Sunday, Sept. 14.

* * *

One of the real heroes of the storm was Ham Smith who was out early rescuing parties marooned in different parts of the town. He owns the Smith Transfer Company and he forgot his own business entirely in rendering aid to others.

* * *

The Pilot suffered very heavily in the storm and the appearance at this time is the best we could do. The printing was done in San Antonio and some of the merchants of that city have seen fit to give us advertising which is greatly appreciated.

* * *

The citizens guard under the leadership of Sheriff J. A. Brundrett and City Marshall John Glazier, did efficient guard duty until relief by the Texas National Guard. They had a hard time in those first early days and nights.

* * *

B. M. Sheldon, former Rockport citizen, was bitten by a rattlesnake Monday, while assisting workmen in removing debris from around his home in Rockport.

* * *

St. Joseph Island heavy loser, Will Wood visited St. Joseph Island as soon as he could get a boat to make the trip following the storm and he reported that conditions on the island were not nearly as bad as would be expected. The loss of stock was very heavy and is its estimated that probably half of the 2,000 head of cattle on the island perished.

* * *

The mails were moving on the third day following the storm and the post office was back in is accustomed place on the fourth day.

A relief train in charge of Col. John Bonner from Houston was the first outside help to get into Rockport and that train was on its way to Corpus Christi.

Michigan's legislature has passed a bill levying the state's first income tax of 2.6 per cent.
