HOBBY THAT he has enjoyed for a dozen or more years is Dr. D. Ball of our town who provides the Lions Club with a splendid program at their luncheon the other day. Dr. Charles Cleveland arranged the program.

Along about 1941, Dr. Ball became interested in photography. He obtained a 35-mm camera and began making pictures and picture slides. Mr. Shy Osborn appreciates his enthusiasm for photographing in color unusual flowers, rural scenery, snakes, insects, fish and the like.

In a 20 to 30 minute program, Dr. Ball showed slides and told about them. These include a series on snakes, particularly area snakes. In one hunt, Dr. Ball and party found a den of 84 lizards out at the Yancey McCrea ranch.

Other pictures included frogs, toads, spiders, birds and more. Many of the pictures were close up with a telephoto lens. His audience enjoyed a series of pictures made in the mountains of Colorado. Other slides showed wild flowers in all their natural beauty.

Dr. Ball, often accompanied by Mrs. Osborn, has made vacation trips devoted largely to photographing things. These trips included outings to the Big Bend Park, Arizona, Colorado and elsewhere.

His pictures reflect a lot of ability, resulting from study and practice. His backgrounds, you will note in seeing the pictures, are considerably to the value of a photograph.

GUESS YOU might say we've been annexing some new land the last two days. Sand and dust from Colorado, New Mexico and eastern Texas have been flowing into our area and settling everywhere. Not much local dirt is being blowing. . . . In comment on the work of the CoC's industrial committee Friday we would have said the plant they're building will be a powdered milk processing plant with, possibly, cheese making machinery, too.

Relatives are pleased to report that the condition of Miss Anna Moad, who underwent surgery Thursday at Temple, is splendid. She's due to be in the hospital until about the 25th.

MR. NORMAN Houston, the manager, has simplified the business of playing the game. He has a new club with a dial on it. If you want to use a 9-iron, you just dial the club to "9." If you want to use a 4-iron or a putter, just dial the club. You don't have to carry a whole bag full of clubs, just the dial club and, maybe, a driver. You can even drive with the dial club.

ONE OF THE nicest affairs we've attended in a long time was the Girl Scout birthday party Friday night at the Junior High school. Just about all the Girl Scouts in town were there, and most of their parents came along with them.

Mr. Joe Comingle was the master of ceremonies. First, everybody spread their dishes of food and ate supper in the cafeteria. Mr. O. L. Lee gave the invocation.

In the main auditorium, a play was presented by a group of Girl Scouts. It told the story of how an unbelieving father became a believer in the Girl Scout program. . . . Two new troops, No. 10 and No. 11, were introduced. . . . The Brownies were introduced. . . . The Brownies sang several songs and gave their promise. There's nothing nicer than little girls. . . . The program was closed with the Girl Scouts and Brownies forming their

Special Course In Salesmanship Planned In Fall

The nearly 100 persons who attended the University of Texas extension course offered here last week by instructor E. A. Willford voted to invite him to return next fall and teach a week's course in salesmanship.

Mrs. Lucile Huffmyer, secretary of the Merchants Credit Association, which sponsored the course in public relations last week, said that definite information regarding the fall course would be available for announcement well ahead of time for the class to begin.

A total of 98 persons registered for the public relations course, and 93 persons attended all sessions and were awarded certificates. The certificates were given out at the final session Thursday night by Supt. Arlin Birt of the city school system.

President Charles Graham of the credit agency presided at business sessions during the course. James L. Wimbush, distributive education instructor at Cisco High School, attended the four-night course, which was held in the community conference room at the First National Bank. "Everyone was well pleased with the public relations course," Mrs. Huffmyer said. "We are grateful to Mr. Willford and to others who contributed to the successful event."

Hospital News

Mrs. Howard D'Spain, who has been in a critical condition at Graham Hospital for over a week, was reported as greatly improved Saturday.

Mrs. Walter Merritt was also showing improvement Saturday. Dismissed this week were Mrs. Truman Evans and infant daughter, Mrs. W. A. Timmons, Mrs. Ray Clark and T. A. Graves, all of Cisco; Mrs. J. K. West of Putnam and Katherine White of Burkett.

CLUCK RECALLS BEGINNING OF TEACHERS ASS'N. IN INTERVIEW

Cisco's 45 public school teachers were in Abilene Friday and Saturday attending the Oilbelt District, Texas State Teachers Association meeting, and included with the Cisco group were Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Cluck.

Mrs. Lucile Huffmyer, secretary of the Putnam schools, and Mr. Cluck, superintendent of the Cisco schools for 17 years ago, were resigning several years ago, was one of the founders of the Oilbelt Teachers Association. The area now is known as District 7, Texas State Teachers Association.

Working with Mr. Cluck in the founding of the Oilbelt Association were P. B. Bittle, then superintendent of the Eastland schools; R. F. Holloway, superintendent of the Ranger schools; R. D. Green, superintendent of the Abilene schools and E. J. Woodward, superintendent of the Brownwood schools.

Dave Brumbeau, staff writer for the Abilene Reporter News, Friday interviewed Mr. Cluck and the Saturday morning edition of the News carried the following story:

Central West Texas teachers who attended the Oilbelt District 7 convention in Abilene Friday shouldn't let this go to their heads, but . . .

"The hats teachers wore at the first Oilbelt meeting looked more like hats, not like bird cages, or whatever they call 'em today."

That's the opinion, probably not considered, of a man who isn't talking through his own hat. He knows because he was at that first meeting.

But R. N. Cluck, superintendent of Cisco schools when the first Oilbelt meeting was held in the early '30's, has serious comments to make that were under the hats 20 years ago and today.

There's been a great change, says Cluck. "It has been a most remarkable and most outstanding change between what we had then and what we have now."

In fact, says Cluck, it's been this difference—a miracle. For one thing, says Cluck, the teachers today look much more spry. They are not worked to death. And he recalled that some teachers 20 years ago had classes with as many as 65 pupils.

"I think teachers today know what to teach and how to teach it," said the man who is a charter member of the Oilbelt Association.

"Teachers today know when to smile and when not to," said Mr. Cluck, adding, "I think that covers a world of improvement. Teachers used to keep pupils in for laughing; now they laugh with them."

Cluck, who has been out of the teaching profession for the past few years, also traced after visiting the meeting Friday, the growth of the Oilbelt idea. He said he and the superintendents from Abilene, Ranger, Cisco, Eastland and Brownwood used to meet and discuss football problems.

They decided it would be better to hold regular meetings on more friendly terms and teachers from the five cities were invited to meet at Cisco. Cluck was elected president at the first meeting.

"It's remarkable to see the growth and changes since that first meeting," said Cluck.

In fact, hats or no hats, Cluck was so impressed with the teachers and changes he found in the teaching profession that he has decided to start back and become a schoolman again.

Dr. Miller is expected to attend the meeting of the Industrial Committee; the Water Resources Committee will hear a report from the State Water Resources Committee created by the last session of the State Legislature; the agenda for the joint meeting of the State and National Affairs Committee includes discussion with Dr. Manion. Other meetings include the Community Services Committee, which sponsors the "community clinic" program in cooperation with local chambers of commerce.

Results of an election of new officers to head the 5000-member organization will be announced at the close of the convention's general business session which ends at noon on March 30.

Range Prospects Deteriorate Due To Dry Weather

AUSTIN, March 13. — Spring range and pasture feed prospects deteriorated during February and early March, particularly in the west, as effective rainfall was received only in extreme north-eastern and some southeastern counties, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

In that dry western area most range grass has been eaten to the ground and small grain pastures grazed closely. Warm February temperatures brought along some additional small grain pasture but lack of surface moisture slowed development. In eastern and southeastern areas, clovers, rescue grass and small grains made good development in the mild February weather with some cases of bloat reported among cattle on the fast growing clover. By the end of the month, however, lack of moisture was again slowing development of spring feed over a large part of that usually favored eastern area.

On February 19 the most severe "black duster" since the mid-30's moved a haze of dust across the State leaving an unpalatable coating of dust on all dry range and small grain pastures. A mild winter has permitted stretching of supplemental feeds and permitted maximum salvaging of dry feed available on the ranges. On March 1 all range feed was reported at 65 percent condition. This recorded a 2-point decline during February and was 1 point below range feed conditions a year ago. The 10-year average for March 1 is 75 percent.

Cattle and calves are coming through the winter in fair to good condition with heavy supplemental feeding. In the east, cattle were making satisfactory gains on the generally adequate green feed but in the west most everything was being maintained with supplemental roughage and cake except where small grain pasture was still available.

Many calves are already on the ground and green feed is needed to increase milk flow of mother cows. Calves and yearlings made good gains on northwestern wheat pastures. Cattle and calves were reported at 75 percent condition on March 1. This compares with 74 percent a month ago; 72 percent a year ago and the 10-year average of 78 percent.

Sheep continued to lose flesh in spite of heavy feeding of shipped-in roughage and concentrates. Movement of carryover and fall milk lambs was heavy during February. Heavy supplemental feeding has put most of these lambs in slaughter flesh even though small grain pastures and dry range feed are extremely short in the main sheep country.

Goat shearing has started in a few southern Plateau counties. All stock sheep were reported at 73 percent condition. This compares with 76 percent a month ago, 75 percent a year ago and the 10-year average of 79 percent.

Coast Guard To Take Enlistments

Enlistments are once again open in the regular establishment of the U. S. Coast Guard, Captain Frank A. Leamy, USCG, Commander, 8th Coast Guard District announced today.

Since November 1953 Coast Guard enlistments have been virtually closed, except in the rating of steward's mates. Limited quotas have been assigned to the 8th Coast Guard District Recruiting Offices, and Captain Leamy stated that prospective recruits should apply immediately.

The Coast Guard will accept qualified men between 17 and 25, or under 30 (with prior military experience), who can pass the Armed Forces Qualification Test and who have no more than one dependent.

Recruits are trained at the Coast Guard Receiving Center, Cape May, N. J., then assigned to one of the many branches of Coast Guard duty. Those interested may apply for a variety of Coast Guard service schools.

The Coast Guard also has separate openings for those interested in becoming steward's mates. Complete details are available at Coast Guard recruiting offices in the Custom House, New Orleans, La., or in the Santa Fe Building, Dallas, Texas.

Display Planned Of Cisco Products

Plans are being made for Cisco area manufacturers to be honored during the first week in April as a part of Texas Industrial Week observance, Manager B. A. Butler of the Chamber of Commerce reported Saturday.

Chairman J. L. Stafford and his industrial committee are making arrangements for the local observance.

Local plans include a showing of products of Cisco area manufacturing plants. This display will be arranged at the Reynolds Building, Mr. Butler said. The committee is contacting manufacturers concerning the event.

Plans for the week also include out-of-town speakers for the Lions and Rotary club luncheon meeting, emphasizing the industrial week theme. Students of the schools will be invited to write essays on subjects pertaining to the week.

"We appreciate our local industries and Texas Industrial Week is a splendid time to call attention to their worth to the community," Mr. Butler said. "We are confident that the public will want to join us in this program."

Additional announcements concerning the week will be made in the next few days.

Central Texas Dairymen Have Record Month

Dairymen delivering milk to handlers regulated under the Central West Texas marketing order delivered an average of 5.17 percent more milk per day during February than in January, Byford W. Bain, market administrator, announced today. On a daily basis producers delivered an average of 387,915 pounds per day, which is an increase of 19,063 pounds per day over January production.

The reported daily production for February 1954 shows an increase of 45.05 per cent, or 120,488 pounds over February of 1953. The average daily production per farm during February was 529 pounds which compares with 501 pounds during January and 484 pounds in February of 1953. There were 733 producers delivering milk to regulated handlers during February which is a decrease of four producers from January and an increase of 45 producers over February 1953.

The average daily Class I sales for February show a decrease of 1.7 percent, or 6,029 pounds from January. The total daily Class I sales for February was 348,601 pounds as compared with 354,630 pounds during January; however, the reported daily Class I sales for February 1954 show an increase of 45 percent over February 1953. Of the total milk received from producers during February, 90 percent was utilized as Class I and 10 percent as Class II, or manufactured products.

WHOOOPER ALERT IS ABOUT DUE

AUSTIN, March 13. — The Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission said field personnel will help "convoy" the annual spring sweep northward of the small remaining flock of Whooping Cranes.

His instructions emphasize maximum protection for the majestic cranes, which are the largest North American birds alive, and also stress accumulation of data as to route taken and any stopovers.

Scientists have been striving to chart the exact path used by the giant birds on their way to and from their nesting grounds in the far north. The route they take has been narrowed to less than two hundred miles and leads almost straight northward from their ancestral wintering habitat on the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge on the Texas Gulf Coast.

The route apparently veers slightly to the west.

The Executive Secretary said recognition by national and international authorities has been given to the vast network of protectionists set up along the Whoopers' flyway.

This vast network, stretching for hundreds of miles, was prompted by the gradual decrease in the Whooper population, partly from losses to firetraps in the hands of unthinking hunters.

Down on the Coast, Julian Howard, refuge manager, and as such official winter keeper of the big birds, said he is ready to deliver back north all twenty-four of the Whoopers that arrived in November. The flock gained three new members last nesting season. Takeoff time probably will be in late March, as a dramatic climax to Nature's annual birdlife migration.

Howard's staff has been occupied enforcing a new rule making the Whooper's habitat out of bounds to the general public, purely as a security measure. They also helped record some of the Whoopers' distinctive calls.

But Howard and his crew again failed in a high priority assignment. That is to determine the actual diet of the birds. They do feed in shallow water on small crustaceans such as crabs and fish. But they also feed on land. During the winter, some of the Whoopers spent considerable time in the brush, apparently eating berries or small mammals such as mice, toads and insects.

Before long the mammoth white birds, with bare red crown, black legs and yellow bill, will mysteriously disappear, along with their secrets, destined for another seven months in the far north.

Vets Questions And Answers

Q — I have a $10,000 National Service Life Insurance term policy, and I'm thinking of converting to a permanent plan. Do I have to convert all of it, or could I convert part and keep part as term insurance?

A — You may convert part of your insurance to one or more permanent plans, and keep the rest as term. You may convert in multiples of $500, starting with a minimum of $1,000.

Q — I'm planning to take a correspondence course under the Korean GI Bill. How large a GI allowance can I count on getting from the VA?

A — Your GI education and training allowance will be equal to the amount that the school requires non-veterans to pay for the same course.

Q — When I was in service, I was told that the only persons I could name as beneficiaries for my GI insurance indemnity were wife, children, parents, brothers or sisters. If I apply for the GI term insurance available to Korean veterans, will the same restrictions on beneficiaries apply?

A — No. For the GI term insurance, you may name any person or persons, firm, corporation or other legal entity, including your estate. The restrictions on beneficiaries apply only to the free in-service indemnity.

Q — I am a disabled World War Two veteran taking Public Law 16 training. After I finish my course, will VA find me a job?

A — No. Under the law, VA's responsibility has to end after it has trained you to the point of employability. However, your VA training officer will refer you to an appropriate State or Federal employment agency for assistance in finding a job.

Mrs. P. T. Weatherby and daughter, Vera Lucille, are spending the weekend with their son and brother, Pvt. Clarence G. Weatherby, who is in his second eight weeks training at Fort Bliss. They were accompanied by Mrs. O. C. Stewart and daughter. They are expected to return sometime Monday.

AND NEWS OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Lona Ann Anderson Weds Sammy McClure In Friday Ceremony

Miss Lona Ann Anderson, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. L. C. Anderson of Cisco, became the bride of Sammy McClure, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. McClure of Abilene, in a double ring ceremony performed Friday evening, March 12, by the Rev. D. M. Duke, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, at the home of the bride's parents.

The couple stood before an arch of greenery and white flowers with baskets of white flowers at each side. The bride wore a blue taffeta street-length dress with blue net overskirt sprinkled with rhinestones. Her accessories were of pink and her corsage was of pink carnations. She carried a white Bible.

Miss Betty Williams was maid of honor and wore a blue taffeta dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. Everett Suggs served as best man.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents. The table was laid with a white cloth and held a centerpiece of red and white carnations. Mrs. D. Alexander of Grand Prairie ladeled the punch and Mrs. Norman Anderson of Abilene served the blue and white wedding cake.

Both Mr. and Mrs. McClure attended the Cisco High School and are now making their home at 1824 Roosevelt in Abilene where he is employed by the Gooch Packing Company. Out-of-town relatives and friends attending were Mr. and Mrs. Troy M. Anderson and son of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Carol Anderson of Irving, Mr. and Mrs. Doc Madry and daughter of Brownwood, Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Anderson of Abilene and Mr. and Mrs. Archy of Abilene.

Also attending were many friends and relatives of Cisco.

Alura Lee Thames Honored At Party

Games were played and the happy birthday song sung after which refreshments were served to Jimmie and Karen Moore, Butch and Skeeter Cox, Claude and Linda Kinser, Patricia Gail McMillin, Roger L. O. Zellner, Mayna and Larren Gray, Mrs. Lou Kinser, Mrs. Jolene McMillin, Mrs. Odell Cox, and Mrs. Dorothy Gray.

Presbyterian Women Meet On Tuesday

The Inspirational meeting of the Women of the Presbyterian Church was held Tuesday at the church with Mrs. C. M. Townsley presiding.

The opening prayer was led by Mrs. C. R. Baugh and minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Reports from the Mid-Texas Presbyterian in San Angelo were given by Mrs. H. Grady James, Mrs. B. S. Huey, Mrs. W. F. Watson, Mrs. W. W. Wallace, Mrs. John Kleiner, and Mrs. P. R. Warwick.

Miss Willie Word was in charge of the program having all to sing "All Hail The Power of Jesus Name," followed by a prayer Psalm and other scripture reading. Mrs. Frank Borman represented a local Press reporter interviewing reporters who had attended a meeting in Willingen, Germany, considering mission fields.

Mrs. Watson, Mrs. Huey, Mrs. Wallace, Mrs. J. A. Jensen, and Mrs. J. J. Tableman were asked if the church any longer had a missionary obligation, answering that christianity must permeate all areas of life and every group of christians should be a missionary society and every christian a missionary. It is not enough for people to come to church but church must go to the world.

Miss Word concluded the program by "summoning all Christians to come forth and accept duty to narrow for the Lord all the earth and to go forth with fresh assurance to the task of bringing all things into captivity to Him and of preparing the whole earth for the day of His coming." The hymn, "Lead On O King Eternal," was sung, followed by all praying the Lord's Prayer.

Twenty-four members attended.

The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Britain of Cisco. The bride wore a two-piece powder blue ensemble with black accessories and an orchid corsage.

Mr. Terry, a building contractor, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Terry of Dublin. Miss Altman has been a popular young business woman of Cisco for a number of years.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to Texarkana, the bride was wearing a gold British tweed suit with black accessories.

Capt. and Mrs. Charles B. Dunn and children are visiting in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Bailey. Capt. The Duns plan to be in Cisco for a week and then visit relatives in Phoenix, Arizona, and Salem, Oregon, before going to Neah Bay, Washington, where he is to be stationed.

Mrs. Rex Carrothers and daughter, Ann, plan to leave early Tuesday for Houston to make their home. Mr. Carrothers was transferred to Houston recently by the Humble Pipe Line Company.

"Swap the Bill of Rights for what?"

...for what?

THE COMMUNISTS openly HATE our American Bill of Rights. They would like to replace it with ideas of their own.

What would we get in place of freedom of religion?
... No religion.

In place of freedom of speech, and of the press?
... Gags, and government-controlled newspapers.

In place of freedom from cruel and unusual punishment?
... "Water cures" and "truth serums."

In place of the right to a fair trial?
... The mockery of justice.

Before we ever give away even the smallest bit of our freedom, let's take a long, long look at what we're likely to get in exchange. That's the real test.

A vital cornerstone of America's economic freedom is the independent bank—with bank services designed to afford maximum convenience, protection and economy in money matters. We invite you to make full use of our services.
