WILD WELL MENACES SOONER CITY

ONLY TWO OF 'BIG SHOTS' REMAIN

Few leaders of Chicago's north side gangster 'mobs' have cheated the coroner. Even the 'big shots' of the rackets have been taken for the well known rides until now only two of them remain. They are Al Capone (Below upper left) and George 'Bugs' Moran, (upper right). Bullets only recently claimed the lives of Joe Aiello (lower right) and Jack Zuta (lower left.)

Coolidge Defends Hoover Administration In Radio Address For Republicans

FORMER PRESIDENT SAYS WORLD-WIDE TRADE RECESSION COULDN'T BE STOPPED BY ANY ONE GOVERNMENT; CITES CAUSES

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Oct. 31.—Calvin Coolidge said last night in a 15-minute radio address that the policy of President Hoover had done much to alleviate the situation arising from business conditions.

Mr. Coolidge spoke under auspices of the Republican state committee in behalf of the re-election of Governor Frank G. Allen, Republican, and for the election to the senate of his friend and former campaign manager, William M. Butler.

Is World-Wide

On business conditions, Mr. Coolidge said:

"We have had a world-wide recession in trade. It has been due to a combination of causes which no one yet comprehends. There has been a chronic revolution in China, economic chaos in Russia and grave disturbances in India, so that one half of the population of the globe has been turned into a financial liability.

"South American states have been in revolt. These had their influence. But probably we are going through that secondary reaction which has usually followed the first revival after great wars.

Can Be Aided

"No government worthy of confidence undertakes to guarantee prosperity. It can, however, through wise measures promoting security and peace, accompanied by reasonable taxation, greatly encourage all kinds of business. Such a policy will make business better when times are good and prevent it from being worse when times are bad.

"If there was any action that could have been taken by the government of the United States which would have prevented the trouble that has arisen all over the world,

FIVE TEXANS ARE KILLED

FATAL ACCIDENTS TAKE PLACE THURSDAY; ALL ARE MEN

AUSTIN, Oct. 31.—Jodie C. Bird, 25, Leander produce merchant, was instantly killed last night when the car in which he was riding to Austin overturned on the Robert E. Lee highway about five miles out of Austin.

MEJIA, Oct. 31. (AP)—Wilmer A. Chilcoat, 23, a casing puller in the Wortham oil field, died last night of injuries received when a heavy pipe fell on him. J. B. Henderson also was injured in the accident.

EL PASO, Oct. 31. (AP)—Henry Harrison, 26, of El Paso, was crushed to death late yesterday when he slipped as he attempted to board a large army truck and fell beneath the wheels.

DENTON, Oct. 31. (AP)—C. W. Moore, 23, member of the Texas & Pacific railroad signal corps at Texarkana, was electrocuted late yesterday while working on signal lines here.

WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 31.—"Dad" Sutton, aged caretaker for Walter K. Campbell at Lake Kemp, was drowned at 6 o'clock this morning when the outboard motor boat in which he was piloting four passengers tipped over about 300 yards from shore.

YOUTHS WARNED ON VANDALISM

Lubbock's youth was asked today by John Lemond, chief of police, not to destroy property or to damage it in any way, in their celebration of "Hallowe'en tonight.

"The police want to help the boys have a good time," the chief said. "But, we don't want them to do any damage like breaking up or destroying property. If they do we will be forced to arrest them and that will mean trouble for themselves and their parents."

Lubbock, as a rule, the chief explained, had a quiet observance of the annual celebration. In years past there has been very little serious trouble reported.

No cases of damage were reported last night, he added.

IRRIGATION IS CONSIDERED

ENGINEERS TO BEGIN SURVEY OF PROJECT ON COLORADO

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANGELO, Oct. 31.—Engineers for a survey of a Colorado river irrigation project embracing areas about Robert Lee, Bronte, Oak Creek and Winters will be in the field within two weeks, according to an agreement signed this morning by the irrigation committee and Donal O'Neal of Dallas. The Municipal Engineering company of Dallas will do the survey work.

Members of the irrigation committee include John Q. Adams, Winters banker, Tad Richards of Oak Creek, W. W. McCutcheon of Robert Lee, C. C. Holer, R. E. Hickman and Robert Knierim, of Bronte.

The survey will determine the size of the project, expected to include about 150,000 acres.

A bond issue will be called for whatever sum recommended by the survey.

POLITICS NEAR CLIMAX

CITIZENS PLAN TO TRANSPORT SANDIE FANS

FIVE HUNDRED CARS TO TAKE VISITORS TO TECH FIELD

Officials of civic clubs, ladies clubs, the Lubbock High school, the Boy Scouts organization, and other organizations are busy this afternoon working under the direction of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce in getting five hundred automobiles signed up to carry 2,000 Amarillo football fans to and from the football field tomorrow when Lubbock High school Westerners play the Amarillo Sandies.

Hurley Carpenter, former Texas Tech football captain, was elected chairman of the chamber of commerce committee that met this morning to secure the necessary transportation.

Mayor Makes Plea

Mayor J. J. Clements, one of those who attended the game in Amarillo last year, was present at the meeting and urged all Lubbock to turn out in order to return the splendid hospitality extended Lubbock citizens in Amarillo last year.

Efforts are being made to contact every citizen through the committee in order to get the five hundred cars, however members of the committee urge those who do not get a special invitation to be at Hotel Lubbock promptly at one o'clock Saturday to carry visiting fans out to the game by two o'clock. The game is to be called promptly at two-thirty.

Instructions Given

Those who furnish cars are urged to drive east down Main street then turn south on Avenue K, lining up single file to pick the crowd up at the east entrance of Hotel Lubbock.

Cars will be needed to carry the fans back to town after the game and this job is considered by the committee as equally as important as transporting them to the game.

Mayor Clements urges that all Lubbock business men attend the

WOMAN SPORTS WRITER MARRIED TO $40,000,000 BUT SHE CONTINUES WORK; HAS BEEN SECRET

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 3J.—She's married to forty million dollars but she continues as a reporter.

She rides to the office in a limousine, but gets out of it around the corner and "walks to work."

She has a house with 10 servants but her typewriter is as battered as any.

She's Mrs. Silas Newton, nee Nan O'Reilly, and one of the few women sports writers in the country.

She's been married for eighteen months and even her closest friends apparently didn't know about it.

And how was it kept secret? Merely by not attempting to hide it.

"You won't fire me will you?" was the first question she asked when her editor found out she was married.

Assured her job was safe, she heaved a high of relief and asked for a vacation. She and Mr. Newton are on it now, somewhere in the middle west.

They were married just before they sailed for Europe for the British open in 1928, he to participate, she to write about it.

In addition to being a well known amateur golfer, he is president of the Indiana Oil and Gas Corporation. He gave her a million dollars as a wedding present.

Stage Set For Grid Battle; Expect Ten Thousand In Stands

BY COLLIER PARRIS
Journal Sports Editor

A traditional rivalry that has grown with the increasing strength and prestige of Lubbock High school and the Texas Interscholastic League will be exemplified tomorrow when the grid teams of Amarillo and Lubbock High schools meet for their annual game.

This year it happens to be more than just an annual affair, however, with both teams fighting for supremacy in District 1 of the state league. A victory for Amarillo will virtually cinch the 1930 championship for the Golden Sandstorms, while a triumph for Lubbock would mean that the Westerners have another chance, a good chance, at the title this season.

Westerners to Fight

The teams meet at 2:30 Saturday afternoon on the Texas Tech college gridiron. Amarillo, with an unmarked space on the losing side of the slate for the season, hopes to keep the record spotless and take a very important step toward the fifth straight district championship for the Sandies.

Lubbock, with one loss marring an otherwise perfect sheet, sees a place in a three-cornered tie for the district title and the first victory over Amarillo in four years across the Amarillo goal stripe, and will be fighting to attain that uneasy state of mind between a championship and a tie for second place.

Tie Would Be Bad

The Sandstorms do not need a victory to give them practical assurance of a district crown. A tie game will eliminate the Westerners from the race, unless unlooked-to

Civil War Vet Won't Pay Tax On His Bathtub

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 31 (AP)—Theodore J. Sherwood, 84, retired South Dakota stockman and Civil war veteran, went to jail today because "I'll be carnsarned if I'll pay a tax on keeping clean."

Fined $30 for failure to obtain city inspection of plumbing Sherwood declared he installed the bath tub himself and wouldn't pay the $2.50 inspection fee.

"Your honor, I won't pay anyone a tax on my bathtub," he said.

The court reduced the fine to $10 but Sherwood stood firm.

"No siree," he said, and marched indignantly to jail to stay two days.

GIBSON SEEKS NAVAL PARITY

Premier Tardieu has frankly explained to Ambassador Gibson France's position and Premier Mussolini was expected to Rome today to give the Italian side.

Principle Admitted

France, it was learned in official quarters, is ready to make concessions on the naval problem without, however, admitting the principle of Parity, the rock upon which Franco-Italian negotiations has struck.

If Ambassador Gibson carried any message to Premier Mussolini from Premier Tardieu, it is believed here to be that France has no desire to isolate Italy and that on the contrary she hopes through a binding naval accord to establish friendly and helpful relations in all domains.

The cut made the posted price 18 cents at Houston stations. Recent decreases in crude oil prices were believed to have brought about the reductions.

PARTY CHIEFS ARE HEARD IN TALKS

BOTH SIDES CLAIM TO BE GAINING VOTES IN CAMPAIGN

BY BYRON Ph...
Associated Press Staff Writer

True to its early promise of infinite variety the political campaign continues an ever-changing picture, reviving old associations and producing new issues almost within sight of election day.

Raising a once-familiar voice from his political retirement, Calvin Coolidge counselled a radio audience of his fellow-countrymen last night to stand by the Republican administration at Washington, and avoid "rash experiments" in troubled times.

Hurley Defends Party

Simultaneously a member of the Hoover cabinet, Secretary Hurley, declared Republicans first had sponsored the five-day work week which made an unheralded entry into the national campaign but a few days since, in a speech by Democratic Chairman Raskob.

Speaking in Ohio, James M. Cox, charged that Republican candidates were raising an issue of "sectional hate" by warning the voters against delivering the leadership of congress into the hands of southern Democrats.

Farm Relief Unearthed

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 31.—The first snow of the season fell today in parts of Tennessee and freezing or near-freezing weather prevalent over the entire state.

Knoxville awoke to find a skim of snow on the ground and an inch covering was reported from Dandridge.

From Memphis came reports of a reading of 32, the first freeze of the autumn and a frost that killed some tender plants. Brisk snow flurries enlivened Nashville in the early morning, although the snow melted as it fell. The thermometer registered 32 here also.

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 31 (AP)—Northeastern Oklahoma received another reminder today of the approach of winter when temperatures dipped to new low marks for the season. In Tulsa the mercury dropped to 28 degrees at 7 a. m., the first subfreezing temperature recorded here.

GUSHER TURNS RAMPANT ON CITY'S EDGE

FIRE HAZARD IS GREAT; MOVE ON TO GUARD ENTIRE CITY

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 31.—Flowing an estimated 60,000 or more barrels of oil and 100,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily, a wild gusher at the southeast doorstep of Oklahoma City threatened residence and business districts today. The fire hazard led to closing of schools, breakfastless, fireless homes and traffic blockades.

Chief danger of fire lay in great clouds of gas which clung to lowlands surrounding the well. As a slow southeast wind sprayed business and residential districts with oil, rigid no-fire regulations were enforced in homes south of seventh

ORDER WELLS SHUT IN

BIG LAKE COMPANIES MUST GET MARKET FOR DEEP PAY

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 31. — Operators of the seven Big Lake field oil wells in the 8,500 foot pay were ordered by the state railroad commission today to shut in their wells until they have been properly tubed or a market provided for excess gas used in the production of oil.

The Big Lake field is in Reagan county on University of Texas lands. The deep wells are owned by two companies, in both of which Continental Oil company owns a large share of the stock.

The wording of the shut-in order was as follows:

"Both said group Number one oil corporation and said Big Lake oil company shall shut in all wells now producing from the deep pay horizons keeping same entirely shut in from November 15, 1930, until there shall have been provided a pipeline or other adequate market for the utilization of such natural gas as shall be produced in the orderly operation of said wells, or until such wells have been properly and scientifically tubed so as to conserve and prevent all waste gas from escaping from said wells."

SCIENTISTS DISCOVER FORMS OF DIGESTIVE POISONS CAUSE DEAFNESS; FINDINGS ARE RESULT OF EIGHT YEARS OF STUDY

By HOWARD W. BLADESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

CHICAGO, Oct. 31. (AP)—Discovery of digestive poisons that could cause more than one form of deafness was made public today. The poisons arise from incomplete intestinal digestion.

This new field of attack on impaired hearing was reported to the American Academy of Ophthalmology and Occlaryngology by Dr. Mark J. Gottlieb of New York.

He told also of a treatment in these cases which caused some "startling improvements" in hearing.

Deafening Reported

"The findings," he said, "are the result of eight years investigation in the hearing research clinic at Beth Israel hospital, New York. They were prompted by the fact that a great many deafened patients suffer with disturbances of the stomach and intestines.

"The specific complaints are belching, heartburn, fullness for a long time after eating and alternate attacks of diarrhoea and constipation. Accompanying these are headache, blurring of the vision and lassitude. These complaints are usually found to have been present before advent of the hearing difficulty.

Tested On Guinea Pigs

"The fact that the intestinal contents of certain deafened people are poisonous to guinea pigs on injections and produce among other things bleeding and inflammation in the hearing organs of these animals adds another link to the chain of evidence that deafness in a large number of patients is due to some poison arising in the intestines."

"The source of this poison was found in partial failure of the pancreas. This organ supplies digestive ferments, trypsin for digesting proteins, amylopsin for sugars and steapsin for fats. If any of these were insufficient,

A Smashing Serial Of Football And Love

'MUD AND GLORY'

SYNOPSIS

Red Thomas, freshman football ace, is jealous of Terry Malone's ability on the field. In a quarrel, Red breaks Terry's arm. After a year's absence, Terry decides to leave Princeton and go to Yale. Sonny Drayton takes Terry to a party given by Margot Blair, whom Terry has been anxious to meet. Sonny confides Terry's plans to Margot and urges her to persuade him to stay at Princeton.

CHAPTER VII

Margot lighted a cigarette, pulled on it a few times, then stood smiling at Sonny Drayton, thinking it over. There was daring and mischief in the blue eyes now. Four cocktails and the general idea of it aroused her competitive spirit. Could she get him to come to Princeton? Worth trying anyhow.

After all, she really was impressed with her first glimpse of Terry. He looked hard and lean and strikingly handsome in an athletic way. She adored his thick, black, curly hair, his dreamy eyes and boyish smile. She noted that he wore his clothes with an air of studied carelessness which distinguished him from the collegiate "fusser" type. He reminded her of men snapped in the confusion of horses and dogs and smart women pictured in magazines. Slightly under six feet, he lounged with a characteristic slouch. But he walked as if he stepped on springs. Every movement hinted of strength and power under loose-fitting tweeds.

She compared him with Red Thomas. Red was taller and more solidly built than Terry. Red was all granite. Terry was delicately moulded of granite and velvet.

Her mind made up, Margot tossed away the cigarette. "I'll think it over, Sonny. But remember, my motives are purely selfish. I'm not even interested in his football."

"Fair enough. That suits me." He again took her arm and whispered. "Let's get back to the gang. They'll think we're throwing a party out here."

They rejoined the party.

The next day Terry walked across the campus with Sonny on their way to University Field for the first varsity football practice of the season. The peace of afternoon, deep in summer sun and shadow, with great trees drowsing, the turf beneath them fresh and cool, with birds flitting among ivied walls of Gothic buildings, stirred the old dreams in his heart. Dreams that only the very young live and know—aspirations that do not die because they are interwoven with the motivating force of life itself.

Terry was living again the day of days when he saw for the first time the great Princeton athlete, Hobey Baker. The thrilling event remained vivid in his memory long after stirring athletic victories blurred against the glamorous haze of time.

He was just a little fellow and saw that day his first college football game. Accompanied by Sonny and Mr. Drayton, they came up to Princeton from Philadelphia. To little Terry it was a day of wonder, aspiration and strange adventure. Everything was new, exciting. Even Mr. Drayton changed. He always impressed Terry as a big, silent man devoted to horses, golf and the law. Anything but the kind of man given to the companionship of little boys.

But from the time they started for Princeton he was a different man, friendly and talkative. He pointed out to them the location of the football field; and Terry, with his damp hand clasped in Sonny's, stared out over the rolling country to where the distant towers and spires blended against the sky.

Mr. Drayton talked of the days when he sported an orange and black jersey in fierce games with the giants of Yale and Harvard. It was exciting and thrilling, but not to be compared with the big moment of the day, inside Mr. Drayton's club.

As Terry looked over the crowd in the living room, his gaze was caught and held by a young man whose name is written in the sky, a legendary hero of sport. He had a strong profile, blond hair and clear intelligent eyes. A lithe, powerful body was neatly concealed under a tweed suit, so that any hint of unusual bigness escaped the eye.

Terry punched Sonny and in awed silence he saw the athlete move through chattering groups and head toward them. He warmly shook hands with Mr. Drayton, who introduced the boys.

"Hobey," he said, "want you to meet my two little Tiger Cubs. Going to be the battery in the Yale game of 19—."

"Two little Tiger Cubs, eh," smiled the athlete, warmly shaking their hands. "Well, stout fellows, aren't you also going to help us beat them in football that year?"

Terry's brain spun wildly for a moment. He stared at Sonny and glowed as boys do, with the awful excitement of it. "Yes, sir. We're going to play football too."

A minute later, Baker moved away called by admiring friends. Terry followed him through the crowd and saw a radiant beauty of about nineteen smile at him with a fascinating air of intimacy. Terry felt an exquisite sort of pain. Something strange and new entered the boy, infusing him with the illusion of glamour.

Hobey Baker went on with his flaming career, blithely unconscious that he had contributed to the events by which a little boy moved toward an inevitable destiny, a rare and cherished moment which had ignited the magic spark of aspiration in the heart of an imaginative boy. A spark that flared into burning ambition during the closing minutes of the game which followed.

It was the Tiger's last chance to score. Hobey Baker had played splendidly for Princeton all afternoon, stubbornly defending his threatened goal against the tide in blue; hitting the line and taking out interference, in the excitement of a heated scrimmage, a Yale man fumbled. Hobey Baker shot out of the tangled pile of bodies, grabbed the bounding pigskin and was away. Down the field raced the blond Princetonian, wrenching himself free miraculously from outflung arms of Yale men who sprinted at his heels. Terry's hand gripped Sonny's. It was damp with nervousness and expectation and fear of disaster.

A touchdown! A touchdown for Princeton!

On and on raced Hobey Baker, leading the field streaming with running figures toward the last white line. They swarmed around him, one after the other, hurling their flying bodies at his legs. One man hit him, then another. He went down under a massed pile of blue jerseyed players.

Terry dropped on his seat in sick quietude. With misty eyes he looked through the cold twilight across the field. The Yale section was suddenly alive with mad, cavorting figures; their band crashed out delirously. The game was over a few minutes later. Princeton lost.

Down on the cleat-scarred field, Hobey Baker walked to the sidelines. Terry watched him until he disappeared in the crowd. Then the little fellow stood up and was one with the ageless Princeton family singing with bared heads their song of loyalty. Over the field flowed strains of Old Nassau, weaving a sentimental spell about the hearts of a new generation, deluging the old with a flood of association.

That night, back at his home, Terry took his bright dream to bed with him, as a child takes a new toy, holding it close and happily to the last, falling asleep only to dream of playing on the Princeton team; team with Sonny and Terry together licking Yale by many, many touchdowns—and Hobey Baker standing on the sidelines watching them do it. Terry Malone paid to this not very distant incident the tribute of a tender, reminiscent smile as they entered the football field and wandered about the field house. Again he was a wide-eyed kid staring with wonder at grouped pictures of old Princeton teams. There were photograph of past elevens and individual portraits of brilliant stars.

"There's a picture of Dad". Sonny glowed with honest pride. "The old boy must have been hot stuff on the football field. I'll bet he could smash an end play!

"Gosh, I only hope I can be half as good. I've dreamed and dreamed about playing on the varsity so long that now, when I have my chance, I'm afraid I'll spoil everything, lose the Yale game or something like that."

Terry frowned. He had often dreamed the same thing. "Let's get out of here. You'd better get dressed The coach will be after you, Sonny."

While Sonny dressed, Terry sat on the porch railing at the training house. Several old teammates who started freshman year with him came out the door. A lucky few sported varsity sweaters.

Red Thomas had been detained at his home in Wilkes-Barre by sickness in the family. He would report in a week or so, Terry learned.

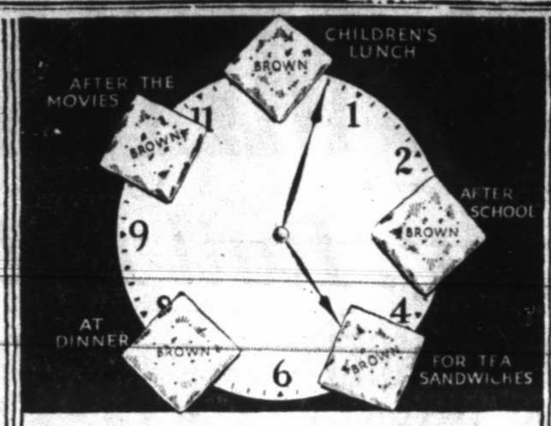

With all his sport loving nature, he envied the perspiring athletes swinging into action under alert coaches. A long punt, spiraling toward midfield, bounded on the grass before him. Terry picked it up, balanced the smooth oval in his hand. His legs ached to kick it down the long green field. Unable to resist, he booted it high and far. It was great fun to kick a football again.

After practice, he heard his old companions splashing and laughing under the showers. They came out and scattered across the green sward of University Field toward the red-brick building that housed the training table.

Burne came out with Sonny. He greeted Terry with warm friendliness and then discounted his proposed entrance into Yale. "Your bed is still in our rooms, Terry. Better forget about Red Thomas. Everything will be all right. Everyone has had someone they didn't like around all the time. We can't like everybody, Terry, but after all, we don't have to go with everybody. Don't let a little thing like that get you down."

Terry kicked at the turf, shook his head. "Made up my mind. Sorry, Burne. Awfully sorry."

How an Irishman glorified the Irish potato

JUST the other evening I ran across this interesting recipe for Potatoes O'Brien and the story of its origin:

O'Brien, so the story goes, was chef at Jack's, a restaurant famous for its good food back in the days when New York was small enough that you sometimes met a friend on the street. And he originated Potatoes O'Brien—a favorite dish in hotels everywhere today.

If you've thought that Potatoes O'Brien were too complicated to make at home, you'll be glad to know how easy they are—and how good! Fried in Crisco, a fat so sweet and fresh that it tastes good all by itself, potatoes really taste like potatoes.

POTATOES O'BRIEN

Dice cold boiled potatoes. Mix them with chopped raw bacon, onion and pimiento. Fry in Crisco in a frying pan as you would hashed brown potatoes. Stir occasionally until partly brown over the bottom, double over like an omelet and serve on the platter in omelet shape.

The secret of an omelet's rise

Here's an omelet that has a success hint wrapped up in it: It's browned on top of the stove and then popped into the oven to finish cooking, so that there's no chance of its falling. And, of course, the delicate, fresh-laid flavor of the eggs is preserved when you fry in Crisco—a cooking fat that tastes good just as it comes from its air-tight can.

SUCCESS OMELET

5 eggs (separated) — Few grains pepper
1 teaspoon salt — Few grains cayenne
3 tablespoons hot water — 1 tablespoon Crisco

Beat egg yolks until thick and add salt, pepper and cayenne—and hot water. Mix well. Fold in lightly the stiffly beaten whites until thoroughly blended. Melt Crisco in an iron frying pan or omelet pan. Pour in the egg mixture and spread evenly. Cook over a slow fire, moving the pan occasionally so as to distribute the heat evenly. When a delicate brown underneath, put in a moderate oven (350° F.) and bake 10 or 15 minutes or until top is firm. Fold and serve on a hot platter. Garnish with parsley. As a change from plain omelet, just before serving, fold in the omelet, jelly (or hot green vegetables such as peas or asparagus).

ALL MEASUREMENTS LEVEL. Recipes tested and approved by cooking authorities. Crisco is the registered trademark of a shortening manufactured by The Procter & Gamble Company. ©1930, P. & G. Co.

Taste Crisco—then any other shortening. Crisco's sweet, fresh flavor will tell you why things made with Crisco taste so much better.

STATE TO TEST SMALL BILL

GRAY AND WHEELER INVOLVED IN CASE UP BEFORE COURT

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 31—The state of Texas was granted the right to test the constitutionality of the Small land bill, which validated the titles to land in the beds of navigable rivers, when the state supreme court granted a writ of error in the state's suit to recover river bed land along the north fork of the Red river in Gray and Wheeler counties in favor of the free public school fund.

The suit was against C. W. Bradford and others, the state being joined by W. T. Caswell and M. H. Reed, who claim oil rights in the disputed area.

Held Constitutional

The Small land bill was held constitutional by the third court of civil appeals.

In its application for a writ of error, the state contended the Small bill was invalid and had no application in this instance since the suit was pending at the time the bill was enacted. In the event the supreme court should decide the bill was applicable, the state declared its intention of contesting its constitutionality to the public free school fund by the state constitution and partitioned and set apart to the fund in 1900.

Violates Amendment

The state also alleged the bill violated the provisions of the conservation amendment of the state constitution in that it donated to patentee and awardees the beds of streams already appropriated to the free school fund.

The state in its original suit, asked cancellation of all patents on surveys which purported to cross the stream or encroached on the river bed to the extent of the encroachment on the school land.

The state also set up the contention that application of the Small bill to the suit would make the law retroactive.

SCIENTISTS ARE PLEASED WITH WORK DONE ON NIUAFOU ISLAND; PICTURES OF RARE VIEWS OBTAINED ON ECLIPSE

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31—Phenomena connected with the sun's eclipse heretofore never observed by man were reported to have been registered in pictures taken on the eclipse, October 21, on Niuafou island in the Southern Pacific by the United States naval observatory eclipse expedition.

A dispatch received today from Commander C. H. J. Keppler, in charge of the expedition, indicated photographs taken held exceptional promise of new discoveries. The message said:

Nine Plates Made

"Nine plates from the 63 foot camera show exceptional beauty and detail. Professor Marriott vastly gratified. Professor Mitchell's spectographs show exquisite definition through a long range in wave length from 3,200 in violet to 7,800 angstroms in red. Several coronium plates are visible in the spectra, of which one at wave length 6,770 is a new discovery.

"This line is of considerable strength and shows itself on two different photographs, the green coronium line and the red one at 6,374 show—much structural detail. Both the spectograph and the photograph coronal disturbances on the east and west edges of the sun took their origin in eruptive prominences. The details shown on coronium lines, do not all resemble that exhibited by the prominences, and the changes in coronal forms shown by successive spectra indicate violent motions in corona.

"These disturbances can be traced to heights of 100,000 miles above the sun's surface. Similar prenomena have never been observed before. Coronal streamers on Einstein plates extend more than two diameters beyond the edge of the sun."

Luis Is Believed In Mexican Embassy

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 31 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Estrada said today he had received a cable from the Mexican embassy at Rio de Janeiro which led him to believe Washington Luis, deposed president of Brazil, had taken refuge there.

Senor Estrada added the message gave the last name as Lewis rather than Luis, but he believed this was an error in transmission.

Pre-Hallowe'en Parties Feature Social Events

Class Entertains; Matrons Hostesses

Although Hallowe'en is this evening, a number of parties during the week have heralded the event. Ghosts have walked, costumes have been employed for events, fortunes have been told and other seasonal entertainment has enlivened the social occasions.

There was an attendance of about forty people Thursday evening at a party given in the parlors of the First Methodist church. The affair was given by the Wesley class of the church, with a select group serving as hostesses, and special guests were husbands of members.

A program was given under the direction of Mrs. H. W. Sims and it consisted of contests and stunts, music and readings. Mrs. Ethridge W. Eagan sang a solo, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. J. B. Galland, and Miss Cathryn Royalty gave a musical reading, accompanied by Miss Margaret Stone at the piano. Mollie Davis and Mrs. Sims gave readings.

Refreshments were served by a committee, of which Mrs. Pebble Talley was chairman. As guests arrived they were greeted by Mrs. W. L. Stringer, who stood at the door and was in costume.

Mrs. McCrummen Hostess

Mrs. Frazier McCrummen entertained members of the Sunshine Girls class, of the First Baptist church, Thursday evening in her home at 2308 Avenue P. Mrs. McCrummen is teacher of the class.

Hallowe'en stunts were enjoyed by the group. Those who attended were Layton Lawson, Glendon Shirley, Rayburn Hale, J. T. McClung, Mary Bolding, Doris Hollyfield, Oleta Walker, Eva McClung, Elizabeth Knight, Joyce McCrummen, Garnet Collins, Ruby Green, Jack Green, Peggy Simpson, Sybil Cope, Mary Knight, Dale and Leilan McCrummen.

June and Joyce Wheelock entertained last evening in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Wheelock, 1802 7th street, having as their guests a number of their little friends. Those who attended were in Hallowe'en costume and Hallowe'en games were played.

The guests listed included Elva Mae Hunt, Louise, Mary and Helen Jarrett, Gloria Conley, Marian Turner, Kathleen Fels, Charlotte Wheelock, Dorothy Smith, Jonnie Mae Thompson, Betty Jane Smith, Lucille Harvey, Amy Jane Atkins, Juanita Pew, Pauline Hawthorne, Ruth Duncan and Sylva Wheelock.

Hallowe'en appointments were used Wednesday for a party given by Mesdames W. E. Brown, Howard Logan and Joe Logan in the home of Mrs. Brown at 1612 Texas Avenue.

Bridge was played with Mrs. W. B. Hearrell winning high score, Mrs. R. W. Crowder, jr., making second high, and Mrs. Ray Allen scoring low. Mrs. O. A. Terry was high in a general cut.

At the close of the afternoon, a refreshment plate was passed and the hostesses were assisted in serving by Misses Lena Bell and Marguerite Brown and Doris atum.

Guests included Mesdames Ray Allen, Vernon Brown, Fred Childress, R. W. Crowder, Clayton Gammill, A. F. Holt, J. B. Jackson, J. A. Phipps, jr., John Porter, G. C. Turner, O. A. Terry, W. B. Hearrell, Mike Brennan, Lee Ragland, Harry Green, Clarence Davis, Marion Howard, R. L. Marks, Harold Eaton, Ira Jenkins, Maple Wilson, Byron Brown, Newma Roberts, W. F. Stimson, J. L. Stimson, Tom J. Foster and L. C. Tatum.

Two Entertain For College Club

Scarlet and black, colors of Texas Technological college, were used as decorations last evening when Miss Alene Odom and Mrs. Weldon Snodgrass entertained members of Les Cigales club in the home of the former hostess at 2402 15th street.

Tech banners were displayed around the entertaining room and tallies were in the form of a double "T". Red and black sandwiches which were served with a refreshment course, accentuated the color scheme.

Games of bridge were played during the evening.

Guests were Misses Dorothy Knipp, Estelle Griffin, Floyce Snodgrass, Bernice Dean, Imogene Gordon, Ruth Reed, Margaret Green and Lorene Odom.

Members in attendance were Misses Dorothy Rylander, Lola Thompson, Nina Gordon, Mildred Harris, Corene Ratliff. Mrs. Ethridge W. Eagan and Mrs. Hal Yoder were guests during the tea hour.

E.M. Black Host With Hotel Dinner

E. M. Black was host with a dinner Wednesday evening in the Aztec room of the Hilton Hotel. His guests included W. C. Garrett, of Amarillo; J. M. Black, of Austin; Mrs. A. H. Westgrove and daughter, Lucille, of San Antonio; Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Wright, who have recently moved here from San Antonio; Mr. and Mrs. Dan G. Huebner.

Mrs. Earl Wyatt Will Visit In Lubbock

Mrs. Earl Wyatt, of Amarillo, who was elected state president of the American Association of University Women last week at a convention in Waco, is to be in Lubbock during the week-end as a guest of Mrs. William Dingus, 2502 21st street, and will attend the Lubbock-Amarillo football game.

Miss Zula Mae Logan, teacher in the Amarillo public schools, is to spend the week-end in Lubbock with her parents.

Preparation Of Meats And Vegetables Is Demonstrated By Mrs. Leona Ihrig

The preparation of vegetables and meats, using new methods was demonstrated Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Leona Rusk Ihrig in the concluding program of the 1930 free cooking school.

Mrs. Ihrig is a nationally famous food expert who was brought here this week under the sponsorship of the Avalanche-Journal Publishing company to conduct the school. The programs, which started Monday, were conducted in the Uptown Dance Palace.

A roast was prepared yesterday, liver was broiled, beans, carrots, squash, beets and other vegetables were cooked and recipes were dictated by Mrs. Ihrig. This was called the dinner program of the school. Other days had been devoted to the luncheon, breakfast and to parties.

Preceding the lecture Thursday, Miss Kitty O'Connor, local dancing teacher, appeared in a toe dance as the specialty of the afternoon.

Points stressed Thursday were that most women cook with too much water and too much fire. Mrs. Ihrig prepared her vegetables and cooked them in the oven in covered dishes, using from two to four tablespoons full of water to each one, excepting the cabbage, which she cooked in an open vessel.

Temperatures to be employed in cooking meats and vegetables were given by Mrs. Ihrig.

She cooked a mock cherry pie, using cranberries and raisins, and gave recipes for meat sauces. On this day, as on others, she stressed economy in the preparation of meals.

The program Thursday concluded the seventh annual free cooking school that the Avalanche and Journal have sponsored for the women of the vicinity.

President Elected For Thespian Club

Miss Hilma Bartlett was elected president of the Thespian club for the ensuing year at a meeting held recently in the home of the sponsor, Mrs. Ray Mowery, 2420 Broadway. This organization is composed of students of Texas Technological college.

Idabelle Templeton was elected vice-president; Aileen Brown, secretary-treasurer and Lois Karnes, reporter.

New members who were initiated were Jewell Adams, Beulah Anderson, Aileen Brown, Edna Wilkinson, Lois Karnes and Mary Spring.

Others present were Joellene Vannoy, Reba Merle Boyles, Francis Barks and the sponsor, Mrs. Mowery.

Lubbock Artist Is Honoree At Affair

As a compliment to Mrs. Chester Hubbard, four matrons of the city were at home yesterday afternoon at the James H. Goodman residence, 2401 19th street. Guests for the afternoon included artists and art patrons of the city and about one hundred called.

The hostesses with Mrs. Goodman were Mesdames Murray Jones, J. E. Vickers and Earl Hunt. Assisting them were Mesdames W. B. Price, Hub Jones, Joe Hilton, Mrs. A. L. Williams and James L. Quicksal.

During recent months Mrs. Hubbard has received considerable recognition as a professional artist. Among her late honors are memberships in the American Feredation of Art and of the San Antonio Chisel and Palette club.

A public showing of Mrs. Hubbard's paintings is to be sponsored in the near future by Mrs. Vickers and Mrs. Hunt in their studio at 1906 13th street.

METAL APARTMENT

CHICAGO.—This city is to have the first all-metal apartment house in the United States. A silver-colored alloy of aluminum will cover the outside of the building, and the walls will only be three and one-half inches thick. The building will be 17 stories high. The walls, although extremely thin, are expected to retain heat better than brick walls.

CLEMENCY FOR CONATSER IS SOUGHT

JONES COUNTY PEOPLE SUBMIT PETITION TO GOVERNOR

Success in securing signers to his petition to Governor Dan Moody to pardon his son Lloyd Conatser, of Levelland, who was sentenced to 99 years for murder in connection with the slaying of Sheriff Bob Smith and Deputy Jake Owens of Fisher county, is reported by C. J. Conatser, his father.

Eleven of the twelve jurors who passed upon young Conaster for a crime which Joyce Shepard, known as Bill Smith, confessed to committing before he paid the supreme penalty, have signed a special petition addressed to the governor.

Signed Affidavit

Before his death Shepard, in the death cell at Huntsville, signed an affidavit exonerating young Conatser of any connection with the crime.

The father has been securing signatures to petitions asking for the pardon of his son. He expects to present them soon to Governor Moody.

Dated October 28 and addressed to both the governor and the state board of pardons, the petition reads:

"We, the undersigned citizens of Jones county, beg the privilege of submitting to you the fact that we were the jurors who tried and convicted Lloyd Conaster for the killing of Bob Smith, the sheriff of Fisher county. We understand that his prison record is good. We have read the statement made by Joyce Shepard about an hour before his execution at Huntsville. In that statement Shepard exonerates Conatser of all guilt in the killing of the two officers in Fisher county.

"We, therefore, heartily recommend executive clemency and complete pardon of Lloyd Conatser."

Signatures on the petition were: W. C. Russell, of Hamlin; W. L. Fletcher, sr., of Hamlin; J. M. Mickler, of Avoca; C. W. Bartlett, of Anson; G. W. Dixon, of Anson; N. A. Mathison, of Anson; G. W. Hyatt, of Anson; I. J. Alexander, of Anson; S. J. Isbell, of Anson; E. J. Andess, of Avoca, and F. W. Peckham, of Stamford.

Aid Is Asked For Mine Blast Relief

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 31 (AP)—An appeal to Oklahoma chapters of the American Red Cross to raise $25,000 for relief of dependents of victims of the Wheatley No. 4 coal mine disaster at McAlester, Okla., was issued by the midwestern branch of the American Red Cross.

MELLON'S SON LIKES BANKING AND INTENDS TO STICK WITH PROFESSION

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Paul Mellon is just a young man learning the banking business and trying his best to satisfy his employers.

The son of Andrew Mellon, secretary of the treasury, and one of America's most wealthy men, is starting out just as would any other young fellow with a college education who began work with the Mellon National bank of Pittsburgh—and he knows it.

He was doubtful about allowing a reporter to interview him at the bank, intimating that it might not be viewed favorably by the bank's officials.

He was certain it would cause him trouble if a photographer tried to make a picture of him at the bank at his desk. So the interview had to be brief.

Yes, he likes banking, but of course he hasn't been working in the bank long enough to know much about it.

No, he wasn't spending just a summer around the bank, but actually intended to remain in the business.

Last spring when Paul was graduated from Yale, where he had been prominent as a staff member of the Yale Daily News, it was said he planned a literary career.

It was reported that he might enter the publishing business, but did not care to enter the banking profession. He planned to travel and write, it was said.

Questioned about his future plans, Paul admitted he still had thoughts of travel and enjoyed writing—but he intends to stick to banking.

Gillette Company Is Facing Suit

BOSTON, Oct. 31 (AP)—A group of minority stockholders of the Gillette Safety Razor company filed a bill in equity in the supreme court just before closing time Thursday against the directors holding them liable for $8,566,840 damages and for impairment of the company's capital to the extent of $13,000,000.

The suit is aimed in general at the measures taken in order to secure the merger with the Autostrop Razor company.

OVER-EXPANSION GIVEN BLAME FOR DEPRESSION ERA

MARYVILLE, Mo., Oct. 31 (AP)—Over-expansion in both agriculture and industry is to blame for business depression, Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde told an audience here last night.

"The problem is world wide," Hyde asserted. "This economic storm blew up after President Hoover was elected by a vast majority.

"Agriculture in America today has been industrialized. It is an industry and no longer a way of life. Like all other industries its one salvation lies in organization, and that is the farm board's job.

"President Hoover, despite innumerable handicaps, is carrying out his promises to the farmer. He got the farm board he asked for, he got the naval treaty he demanded, and he got that adequate tariff which he has said is the foundation of farm relief."

THREE LOCAL MEN MAKE SOLO HOPS

Three Lubbock men who have made their solo flights as student aviators under the direction of Ben Branson, pilot for the South Plains Air Transport company and local instructor, are to apply for private flying licenses after they have completed their ten hours of solo flight, Branson announced yesterday.

Flights were made in the Waco Model F training ship. The men are: "Bud" Roberds, George Field and J. A. McCelvy. Time was, Roberds, 6 hours, 25 minutes; Field, 7 hours and McCelvey, 8 hours, 10 minutes.

Branson has a number of other students taking instruction. All lessons are given from the municipal airport five miles north of town where the transport company maintains its two ships. The men have been taking from fifteen to thirty minutes or more of instruction daily.

THE PLAINSMAN

That Girl on Broadway says some persons prefer failure to minding their own business.

COME on, you Westerners! It won't be long now! Two thousand Amarilloans in two special trains will be here tomorrow for that big game and if the weather's good at least 7,000 grid bugs will be on hand.

Come on, you Westerners!

The Plainsman will be at the game, in persons, and is all ready for the kickoff. Here's a late picture of him, new blanket, Westerner pennant and all!

(Editor's Note: The Plainsman wears a beard in the above photo, hoping the gate-keepers will get him mixed up with some of the older Amarillo players. That way he expects to gain free admittance to the park!)

But listen, folks! Before that game rolls around there's something else important coming off, as the bathing beauty indictated to the judges. There's going to be a big pep meeting at the High school tonight, beginning at 7:30, and everybody who wants the Westerners to win ought to be there.

* * *

THE pep meeting is going to be the first annual city-wide rally for the Westerners, with similar meetings coming on the eve of each Amarillo game, each year. Mayor Clements will be there tonight, J. E. Vickers, now a solemn lawyer but back in 1910 the first coach the Westerners ever had, will also be on hand, together with a flock of the old time Westerners who played Amarillo when both Lubbock and the North Plains metropolis were wide places in the road.

Sylvan 'Old Woman' Sanders, who played quarterback in 1910; Velton Spikes, who played in the line and backfield from 1911 through 1914; 'Dad' Farris, Ross McWhorter, Ben Dickson, Lattie Rankin, Bud Roberds, Houston Spikes, Elwin Wheelock, 'Preacher' Arbuckle, Daddy Dickinson and his little brother, 'Pea Patch', will be there, and every other old Westerner who can get there, will be on the job. It's going to be a big affair, all right.

Let's all turn out and drop the years off our shoulders. Victory in the Amarillo game means everything to the youngsters. The grown-up ought to help any way they can and they'll enjoy attending a pep rally again.

* * *

That Man on Avenue Q says the trouble with his wife is that she has too many evening gowns and not enough aprons.

* * *

Did you hear the one about the poundkeeper's daughter who went to the dogs?

* * *

TONIGHT is Halloween night, which bodes few people any good. The Plainsman believes in the kids having a good time but when it comes to tearing things down, mutilating property and destroying things at the cost of much time, trouble and money, that's carrying things too far. It is hoped that the police force has been augmented to an extent that patrols will be kept throughout the city.

* * *

Halloween used to be a happy time for most everybody but now it has gotten to be a night for vandalism and in some instances, downright crime. The kids can have their parties, pull a few outside stunts that hurt no one, and everybody'll be happy. But when they run plumb wild, that's something else. It just oughtn't to be allowed.

* * *

You householders had better lock your doors and windows, put the car in the garage and bar the door. Batten down everything if you want to be saved time, trouble and repair money. Tonight's Halloween!

The Plainsman's idea of a good job is driving a street sprinkler in Venice.

When a fellow is knee deep in love with a girl she ought to put him on her wading list.

One of my friends told me this one. He went home the other night and his wife met him at the door.

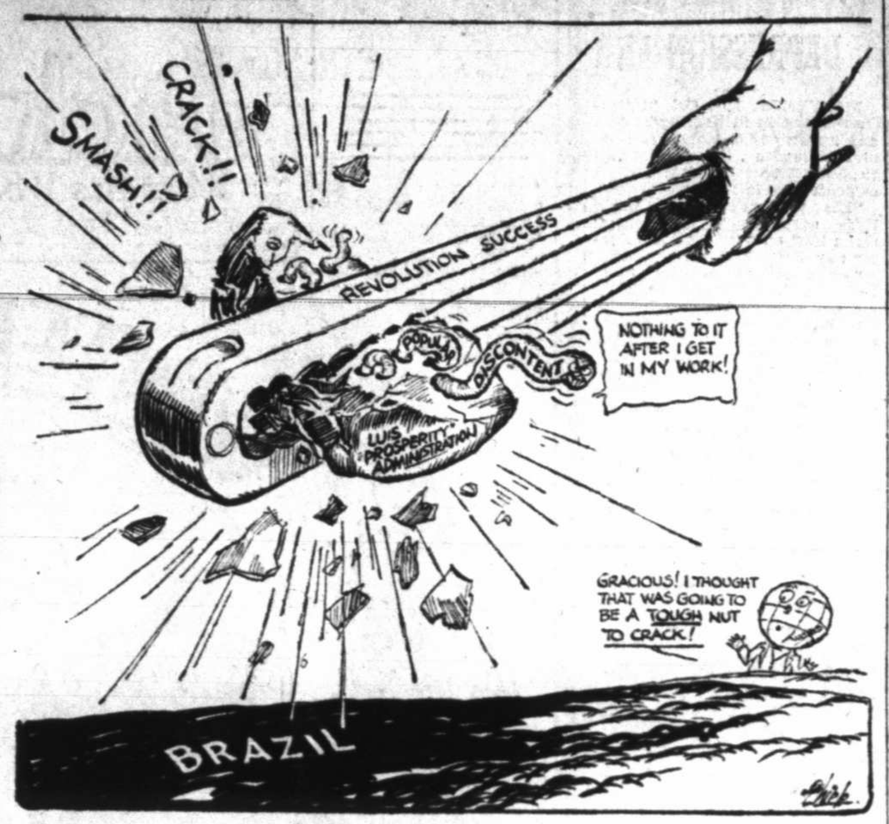

Oh, honey," she cooed. "I saw the sweetest little hat in a shop downtown to day!"

"All right, all right," he sighed, "put it on and let's see how it looks on you!"

It is said that the broadcasting company which engaged Bernard Shaw, dramatist, for his radio talk, expected him to give a play by play description.

Dame Rumor Says Wickersham Group To Recommend Light Wines And Beer, But The Guess May Be A Bad One

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The impression grows that the Wickersham Commission, otherwise known as the President's National Commission on Law Observance and Enforcement, will come along one of these days with a report which will recommend, in effect, light wines and beer.

Your correspondent puts that forth as a matter of common report rather than as a prediction. The commission has said and done so many funny things, both collectively and individually—not forgetting that individual, Chairman George W. Wickersham—that your correspondent is little short of delighted to leave predictions about the commission to them as cares to make 'em.

In speculating about this commission one doesn't feel just like depending on the promise that all known facts point to the theory that the commission will suggest modification of the Volstead act. Of course, all the known facts do.

But, in all seriousness, there are several splendid minds among the membership and when you get such a group of acknowledged intellects accompanied by strong prejudices you are likely to get almost anything when everybody gets together and tries to make a report with recommendations.

Can't Ignore Report

Assuming that the reader is impartial on the subject of prohibition—which certainly establishes a new record for optimism in assumptions—one makes bold to suggest that a definitely moist recommendation from the commission would cause a great deal of commotion. It simply can't be ignored. Even President Hoover couldn't ignore it. It's his commission. It includes several so-called "best minds" and it is dealing with a great national problem.

Everybody knows that Hoover isn't either a fanatical wet or a fanatical dry. It can be stated with confidence that the president is for whatever he thinks is best for the country and for the Republican party and for the success of the party ticket in 1932.

In passing the commission's report along to Congress, Mr. Hoover can endorse it, remain noncommittal or make adverse comment. Assuming that the commission is somewhat less than completely dry in its suggestions, the subsequent attitude of the president becomes a lively subject of speculation. Nobody knows, apparently, just what he would do.

A great many persons are convinced that there are enough "Hoover men" on the commission—such as Wickersham and Judge Kenneth Mackintosh of Washington—to make sure that the majority attitude is not unsatisfactory to the president.

Even so, Mr. Hoover might pass the anticipated report along to Congress without comment, as the deliberate and carefully considerered opinion of a distinguished and studious group of public servants.

Many Problems Involved

Those who have watched the commission most closely—whether they have taken it seriously or otherwise—think that it will suggest that the Volstead act be amended to allow the various states to define the term "intoxicating beverage."

According to this belief, the commission is unlikely to suggest any tinkering with the eighteenth amendment. But, if the recommendation were carried out in legislation, those states where Volstead act enforcement is difficult—or impossible—would be allowing themselves light wines and real beer and those states which are really dry would continue to go along on near-beer and illicit products.

That proposition wouldn't appeal to the organized drys or to the organized wets who are now all yelling for repeal of the eighteenth amendment. But it might look attractive to Mr. Hoover as he thinks of 1932. If he were publicly to throw the whole thing into the lap of Congress, announcing that decision on the commission's recommendations was entirely up to the people as their will might be expressed through their chosen representatives, he might be able to avoid making any such strong personal stand on the prohibition issue as is likely to be demanded of both presidential candidates in 1932. Of course, it is quite likely that the president isn't sure just what he will do in 1932, but it is dead certain that he is giving the matter plenty of thought.

It may occur to some readers that your correspondent has been sleuthing around trying to discover just what kind of a report the commission is going to make on prohibition and just what sort of an attitude the president is going to take. And that your correspondent hasn't had complete success.

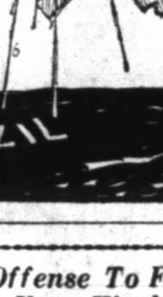

Diet and Health

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D., Author of "THE HUMAN BODY"

(EDITOR'S NOTE: A pamphlet on the "Hygiene of Women," by Dr. Lulu Hunt Peters, revised by Dr. Logan Clendening, can be obtained by sending 10 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of The Lubbock Daily Journal.

EAT LITTLE AND EXERCISE, YOU MUST LOSE WEIGHT, SAYS DOCTOR CLENDENING.

THE REDUCTION of weight is based on a purely mathematical equation. Food makes fat. Work and exercise consume it. If you eat a small enough amount of food and take enough exercise you will lose weight. That is the mathematical equation.

Dr. Clendening

But in the practical working out of that equation there are two unknown factors. One is the constitutional tendency of the person who wants to reduce. The other is the mental stamina of that same person.

The constitution of most overweight people is peculiar. They certainly store fat more readily, and gain weight on less food than thin people.

Dr. S. Straus tested this out on an overweight girl. She was used to calculating diets. She conscientiously lived on the very lowest number of calories that was safe for her. In four months she lost five pounds.

The factors which cause this are not fully understood. Size and weight and growth in animals is mysterious. An elephant and a sheep start out eating about the same kind of food. The sheep gets to a certain size and stop growing; the elephant goes on and on. If it were purely a question of mathematics the more the sheep shoveled into itself the larger it would get.

"But," you say, "these are two different kinds of animals." Well, constitutionally fat people are at least a variety of the human species. To a certain extent they are a separate kind of animal.

For practical purposes, we can conclude that overweights probably utilize food more completely, and for reducing purposes must keep on very low diets.

The influence of the ductless glands is another factor. I do not emphasize it here because the decision about the importance of this factor belongs to your physician.

The mental stamina of the person who wants to reduce plays as much a part in the result as anything. Few people are well enough disciplined to endure the rigors of the regimen. Less than 10 per cent of attempts at reducing overweight, when carried out in the patient's home, are successful. People who go to an institution to reduce are successful in over 70 per cent of cases.

There is a great lesson here, which is:

You can reduce at home, but you must organize your entire household for the task.

Far more reduction campaigns go wrong because that part of the program is neglected, than because the right menus are not found.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

C. J. P.: "I have noticed that most vegetables at the finer restaurants in New York City are very vivid in color, as they are cooked with bicarbonate of soda. Is it safe to be taking so much soda if one does not need it?"

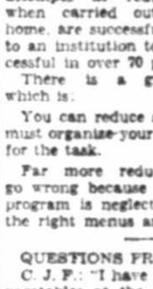

Answer: Yes. No harm is done. The body can neutralize large quantities of sodium bicarbonate. However, the practice is poor. If vegetables are not overcooked they preserve their colors.

In New York

With Swan

Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Emil Glibb, my philosophical friend from out west who makes periodical visits to Manhattan, comments that "if unemployment just meant not working, New York would be facing a crisis."

Emil allows that he never saw so many working people who had so much time for standing around doing nothing. He thinks the unemployment situation might be solved here by putting people to work in the jobs of gazabos who stand around by the hour watching toilers dig holes in the ground.

"It seems to take a couple of thousand people to build a skyscraper," allows Emil. "The other 1750 stand on the sidewalk and tell each other how they'd to it."

While joining this crowd, Emil met a friend from his home town. Being a hospitable cuss, Emil invited the friend to lunch. "Sorry, old top, but I'm too busy," said the friend, continuing to rubber at a skyscraper in the process of erection. "And I've got a matinee date at 2:30."

* * *

Emil promised to bring his wife home a new dress. But after looking at the prices in the Fifth Avenue windows he decided to buy that farm instead.

Emil says that there are two things you can depend on a New York taxi driver for: the address of a speakeasy or a gyp night club. And he says he'll never be able to go down into his own cellar again without ringing a bell and asking if Tony's there.

* * *

Emil says he doesn't see how the automobile has helped the transportation problem in New York. "We used to get there faster in a horse car," he remarked, after it had taken him 40 minutes to get seven blocks by motor.

The only difference Emil finds between a skyscraper and the new home town depot is "that we used to talk more about the depot."

Emil says that the only folks outside of critics who have a chance to get a good seat in an average theater are the scalpers, "and they go home to listen to the radio as soon as they have sold their tickets."

Emil called me on the phone the the other morning with the information that he had found two theater passes under his door. He wanted to know what the big idea was. Sensing a racket of some sort, I concluded that it was one of the old-time games of sending one pass and forcing the possessor to buy a seat for his companion. It's known as the "two-for-one" gag.

But, after looking at the passes, this semed to be something new. When we reached the theater that night, there was a line a block long. They all had received such passes in the morning mail. When we got to the box office to trade in the passes for seats we were told that fifty cents per ticket was required as a "house courtesy" or something like that.

This show, which had been given but five or six days to live—and deserved not much more—is now second or third in the list of long runs on Broadway. And it's kept alive by this form of artificial respiration.

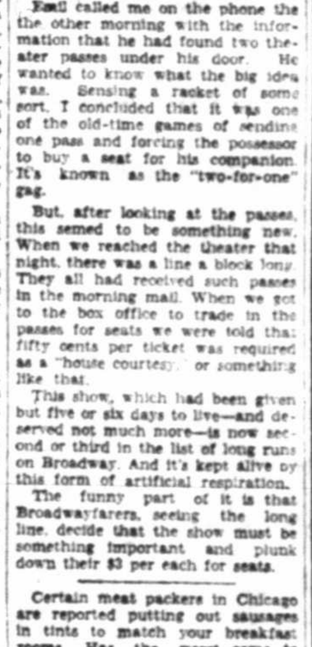

The funny part of it is that Broadwayfarers, seeing the long line, decide that the show must be something important and plunk down their $3 per each for seats.

THE TINYMITES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The serenade was very nice. In fact they played and sang it twice and all the Tinies clapped real loud. "That's great," one of them cried. "Please strum and as you go along, we'll try to sing a little song. It may be good, or may be bad. We won't know till it's tried."

The man who had the big guitar replied, "All right, lads, here you are. I'll simply play a lot of chords and you make up the tune. I'm sure that I can follow you. It really isn't hard to do. I've learned a lot of tricks since I have played this old guitar."

And then he started off, "pling, pling!" and all the bunch began to sing. "Four happy Tinymites are we, just journeying in Spain. We came to see what we could see and we're as pleased as we can be. In fact we've seen so much we know our trip's not been in vain."

The Travel Man cried, "Say, that's grand. I really cannot understand how you make up the words so quick. You make me very proud to travel 'round with lads like you because of all the things you do." The Tinymites then noticed they'd attracted quite a crowd.

So, once again they sang their song and not a single note went wrong. The people who had gathered 'round gave all of them a hand. And then they heard the Travel Man say, "We must go!" And off they ran. It was the most fun they had had in any foreign land.

Not far away the Tinies saw a pony. Clowny shouted, "Aw, I'd like to have a ride on him. Just see how nice he's dressed." The ride was soon arranged and then wee Clowny felt real proud again. He sat up mighty straight and tried to look his very best.

(The Tinymites find a very unusual cart in the next story.)

FARM PRICES AT LOWEST

HAY, VEAL, CALVES AND EGGS FAIL TO SHOW DECLINES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The lowest October level of farm prices since 1915 was reported today by the department of agriculture in making known a five point decline from September 15 to October 15, to put prices 34 points below a year ago.

The farm prices of virtually all commodities except hay, veal calves and eggs declined. Hay prices virtually were unchanged; veal calves advanced slightly; egg prices showed considerably less than the usual season advance.

Others Move Down

Fruits and vegetables moved down 22 points; grain 8; cotton and cottonseed, 7; dairy products, up 2; poultry and poultry products up 4 points.

The average farm price of hogs declined from $9.44 per hundredweight on September 15, to $8.79 on October 15. A year ago the price was $9.10. The lower prices were attributed principally to a seasonal increase in supplies.

Reach Lowest Level

Farm prices of sheep decline sharply and at $3.93 per hundredweight reached the lowest level recorded for any October 15, since 1911. The farm price of lambs continued to decline but remained slightly above the level of October 1921. This decline was said to be seasonal and attributable to sharp increases in marketing.

A decline of 10 per cent was noted in corn prices which were down 12 to 13 per cent in the corn belt states and from 5 to 7 per cent elsewhere.

Funeral Services For J. W. Isom Held

Funeral services for the late J. W. Isom, 73, of Idalou, who died Thursday morning at 9:45 at his home, were held this morning at 9:30 prior to sending the body to Brady, Texas, for burial.

Mr. Isom had lived in Idalou for seven years. Besides his widow, 12 children survive: J. L., W. A., H. B., Jimmie, Jessie and Lera Isom, Mrs. Mary Hamlin, Mrs. M. Marricle and Mrs. A. Bass, of Idalou; Mrs. H. W. Thompson of Louisiana and Mrs. J. A. Cook, and William Isom of Eddy.

Rix-Sanders funeral home was in charge of arrangements. Mr. Isom had been ill for two years.

Russia is buying twice as many German agricultural implements as a year ago.

Is Not in Doubt as To What Gave Her Such Relief

Amarillo Woman Says: "Argotane Has Done Wonders for Me, Now Relieved Of Ten Years Suffering."

Mrs. Lee Sisemore, of 2020 W. N. W. Ave., Amarillo, Texas, has been greatly impressed with her experience with Argotane and does not hesitate to say that she has obtained complete relief and that she believes it to be a remarkable medicine. She said:

"Yes, I must say I'm very greatly improved. I'm taken only three bottles of Argotane, and now eat with so much more satisfaction that I hardly seem like the same woman. My food agrees with me better and I don't have sour stomach and suffer with those miserable, puffed-up sensations like I did.

"I've suffered with stomach and digestive troubles, for the long years," she continued, "and my condition had gotten to be such that often I couldn't retain my food at all. I had frequent sick headaches, and my kidneys bothered me. I was very nervous and slept badly, and had weak, fainting spells.

"After I began taking Argotane a week or so, I began to notice a little improvement right away and now, I'm feeling just splendid. I sleep fine, and am much stronger, and have more energy. I eat just anything I want, and am not bothered with indigestion at all. My kidneys are back to normal, and all of my headaches have disappeared. I will recommend Argotane to anyone with pride. It has done wonders for me."

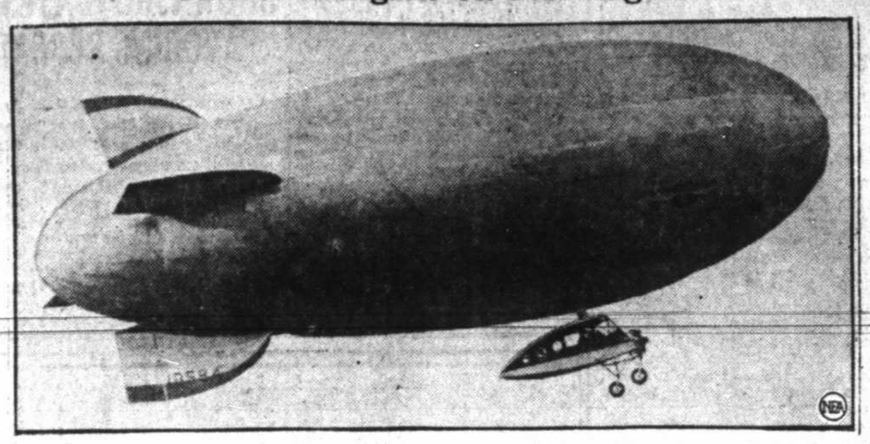

Genuine Argotane may be purchased in Lubbock at the Bowen's Drug store. Adv.

"Flivver" Dirigible On Test Flight

Here's a baby blimp that you could land in your back yard with no trouble at all. It's the 104-foot non-rigid dirigible that a German inventor has designed to sell in America for "no more than a higher-price automobile." The ship is pictured on a test flight at Cape May, N. J. There is room for four persons, including the pilot, in the gondola. On the nose of the "envelope" is a cap and anchoring cable enabling one man to anchor the craft. The two vertical "fins" at the stern are the rudders and the two horizontals, the stabilizers.

GOAT RESCUED BY HUMANE OFFICIAL

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 31 (AP)—A white Angora goat, marooned three months on a steep rock ledge above the Columbia river near Oak Ridge, Wash., rested comfortably today on a bed of straw in the Portland pound.

The goat was rescued from the precipice last night after hours of perilous efforts by O. R. Stafford, Oregon humane officer.

Despite the warnings of friends Stafford climbed the steep 300-foot cliff to the ledge. The ledge ran along the face of the cliff 300 feet and Stafford chased the goat back and forth in an effort to capture it. Finally attempting to escape, the goat leaped 20 feet down the face of the precipice and landed in a small crevice.

Stafford lowered himself to a jutting rock and succeeded in dropping a rope over the animal which he hoisted back to the ledge.

Stafford, with the goat in his arms, then started the still more dangerous climb to the top of the cliff far above the ledge. Hours after dark he appeared at the top where a companion awaited him. Together they maneuvered the goat down a rock slide on the other side.

The goat was given medical attention in the form of a pail of water.

TREATMENTS BY RADIO WAVES IS HELD AS OBTAINING MONEY UNDER PRETENSE BY JURY; "AETHERONICS" IS CLAIMED

(By The Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 31.—A criminal court jury decided today that one who uses radio waves as an agency for the treatment of human ills, is guilty of obtaining money under false pretenses.

Treatments by radio were given from the office of Dr. J. E. Johnston, and even if there was no response in the case of Judge Samuel H. Gardner, who was a party to an experiment in the court room, there was a large number of Dr. Johnston's patients to testify that his treatments were of benefit to him.

Paraphernalia Produced

Paraphernalia was produced in court to better demonstrate the methods of treatment by "aetheronics," as the practice was termed. Dr. H. C. Bennett, Lima, Ohio, a witness for the defense, demonstrated the methods. Johnston testified his method consisted of starting "waves," which became active when they clashed with waves emanated by the human body.

Judge Gardner, by Dr. Bennett's admission, did not respond to the experiment in which he voluntarily took a hand after watching defense Attorney William H. Coleman in the part he played in a similar experiment.

Attorney Coleman had written figures on a bit of paper and showed them to Dr. Bennett. The paper was placed on a machine before the court. Dr. Bennett manipulated the machine and announced the figure was 52 and said he felt manifestations of copper. He explained the figure 52 corresponds in "aetheronics," to copper.

There were further demonstrations, and then Judge Gardner wrote figures on paper. The paper was placed on the machine and there followed further manipulations of the paraphernalia on the part of Dr. Bennett. There was no reaction, Dr. Bennett said. It was, he explained, only one of many experiments, some of which had failed.

The false pretense charge was brought after Dr. Johnston had accepted a fee from a county detective for treatment of one whom the detective said, was his sister. Detectives raided his office several months ago.

Bandit's Threat Good For $3,750

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 31 (AP)—A middle aged man walked into the Bank of America branch at Sixth and Main street, in the heart of the city Wednesday and presented a note to the teller, E. A. Winstanley. The note read:

"Write me out a draft for $3,750 or I will have this building blown off the corner—dynamite—planted all around."

Winstanley gave the robber the money.

A search by detectives revealed no dynamite.

BOOST IN TIRE PRICES COMING

AKRON, O., Oct. 31. (AP)—Reports of upward revisions of rubber tire prices quoted to dealers for spring dating business were confirmed today. With nearly every major tire producing concern in the United States sharing in the move, price lists have been materially altered and in most cases advanced, the boost ranging from 2 1-2 to 5 per cent.

"The newest change in prices is constructive and of value to the rubber industry generally," said a B. F. Goodrich statement.

No statement was forthcoming from Firestone officials, but it was learned from authoritative sources that the Firestone company's price schedules also were advanced.

NOVEMBER 4 TO ARMISTICE DAY SET AS AMERICAN LEGION WEEK BY MOODY

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 31—Governor Dan Moody today proclaimed November 4 to Armistice Day as American Legion week and called on all citizens of Texas to cooperate fully with the world war organization in its campaign for members.

In the proclamation, Moody stated the Legion was one of the best influences in the nation, that it was pledged to a program of community usefulness and service and "their desire to serve in peace must command our deepest respect and admiration." He characterized the Legion as a great stabilizing influence in American life, urging all citizens to cooperate in the campaign since the accomplishments of the Legion depend largely on the membership.

Eligible veterans also were asked by Moody to enroll in the American Legion.

Magistrate Lets Hunter Off For Leaving Evidence

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 31(AP)—Magistrate Ed Lawrence is a man who will repay a favor.

Five years ago he tried a defendant for catching skunks out of season and made an unpleasant mistake by permitting the evidence to be brought into court. Judicial procedure was sadly disrupted.

Yesterday Squire Lawrence had a similar case before him. The defendant, William Gilkerson, was considerate enough to leave his three skunks outside before appearing for trial.

The squire assessed the trapper $5 and costs, then made him a present of the costs for being so solicitous of magisterial dignity.

Gold Transferred To New York Bank

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP)—Fifteen million dollars in gold consigned to the Guaranty Trust company here by the Banco do Brasil arrived today and was taken to the New York federal reserve bank for the account of the guaranty.

Some confusion had arisen over the status of the shipment in view of the revolutionary developments in Brazil, but it was explained that the overthrow of the Washington Luis government had no effect on the transfer, which was solely a commercial traction.

The Banco do Brasil is a private institution, although it is a government depository and handles financial transactions for the government.

QUESTIONNAIRES SHOW CANDIDATES FAVORING REPEAL

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31—The Association Against the Prohibition Amendment announced today 371 replies to 823 questionnaires it sent to congressional candidates to ascertain their prohibition views showed 265 for and 99 against repeal of the 18th amendment.

Henry H. Curran, president of the association, added that "scattering answers favored modification of the Volstead act or putting the question of repeal up to popular vote of the people and a few candidates evaded the question entirely."

"On the basis of replies received," he said, "Repeal and anti-repeal fights will be staged in 34 of the 48 states. Repeal candidates are in the congressional races in such hitherto dry states as Iowa, Arkansas, Texas, Oregon, Utah, West Virginia and Vermont."

TALBOT EVADES PREDICTION

G. O. P. NOMINEE SAYS "NOBODY KNOWS" WHAT'S COMING

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Oct. 31—Although confident that the voters to whom he has made his appeal will follow through with their ballots next Tuesday, Col. W. E. Talbot of Dallas, Republican nominee for governor, allowed himself only the prediction that "nobody knows" what will happen, when he returned last night from a stumping tour of the state.

He was hoarse from frequent speaking and had a cold, which he did not deny might possibly be blamed upon his wearing Texas-made clothes as part of his campaign to "buy it made in Texas."

The Republican candidate reported that one material result of his campaign was the reopening of the Denison cotton mills.

Col. Talbot will conclude his campaign with a radio address over station WFAA at 8:30 p. m. tonight. He will speak at Athens Saturday night and will close at McKinney Monday night.

Brush Fires Are Sweeping County

VENTURA, Calif., Oct. 31 (AP)—Two brush fires continued to rage uncontrolled on widely separated Ventura county watersheds today, one having burned over 12,000 acres of pastures and brush and the other 600 acres of brush and scrub oak. Two thousand men were recruited to fight the fires.

The more serious of the fires described by fire warden as the most devastating since in 1924, swept a large portion of northeastern Ventura county, the upper reaches of Sespe valley and the Santa Clara river section on a 10 mile front.

NEW YORK—It is nice to be married by Mayor Walker. "I hope I'll be the only one ever to come between you," he said posing between Samuel H. Levine and bride for pictures just after uniting them. Levine once played football at Princeton. His bride is the former Charlotte Brandt.

JOE TAKES HIS FIRST PLANE RIDE

GEORGIA MAN FINDS HE AND SON SOARING UP IN PILOTLESS PLANE; CRACKS UP LATER

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Oct. 31 (AP)—Joe Nicholson, who had never touched the controls of an airplane, has made his first flight—and cracked up for good measure—but it wasn't according to his own planning.

He took his five-year-old son to an airport here yesterday against admonitions of his wife.

A plane was engaged and they took their seats as the pilot went about the task of turning the propeller.

But the motor was balky. Finally the pilot opened the throttles wide and gave the propeller a mighty whirl.

With a roar, the engine started and likewise the plane. The pilot was knocked down and the ship speeded over the field, bounced a time or two and took to the air.

Everything went along all right until a gust of wind struck the pilotless craft and it crashed.

The pilot, out of breath, reached the wreckage soon afterwards and helped Nicholson and his son from the cabin. Neither was hurt.

GIN IS DAMAGED

Small damage was done by a fire at the Murray gin on Avenue C between Broadway and 13th at 4 o'clock this morning. Ashes and cinders that had been placed against the side of the building smouldered during the night and then caught early in the morning.

Notice to the fire department was given by the night watchman.

BARBER BOARD TO BE HONORED HERE

Barbers and beauty parlor operators of the South Plains are to banquet Monday night at the Hotel Hilton with John W. Johnston, chairman of the state barber board and J. B. Robinson, vice-chairman, who will be here Monday and Tuesday to conduct a state barber examination.

Two hundred people are expected, P. H. Massey, chairman of the local committee, said. Area included in the territory extends from Plainview on the north to Big Spring on the south and from Spur west to the state line.

Lubbock alone has 100 barbers while there are more than that number over the rest of the territory.

Life is Not All Spinach and Coddled Eggs

What a worry it was in our grandmothers' day—to keep kiddies from over-stuffing eager little tummies! To guard against the danger of too many goodies!

And your youngsters today . . . what of them? Growing, plastic, hungry little bodies. Amazing appetites. Like lovable savages they shed civilization, sometimes—and raid your pantry shelves!

But you can let them eat their fill now. Particularly if you adopt this wonderful modern way of cooking—with Snowdrift for shortening.

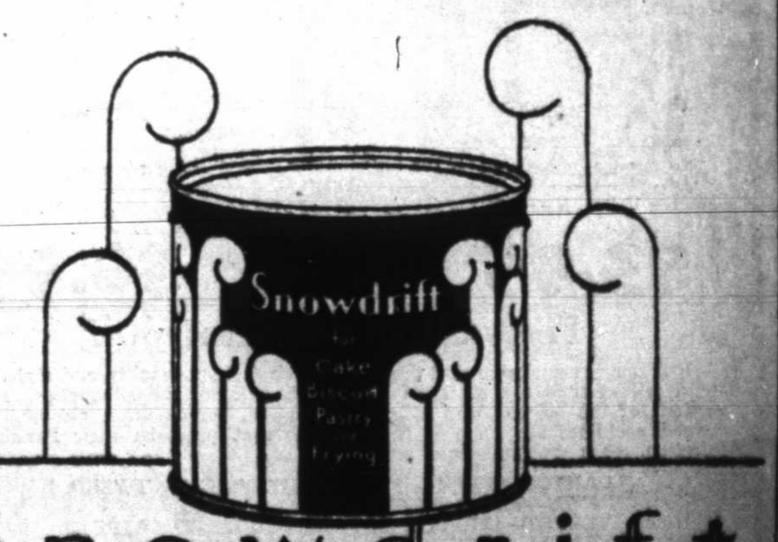

Your cakes and pies will really be flakier, lighter, more wholesome if you use Snowdrift. First of all because Snowdrift is an easily digested, wonderfully pure food in itself. And second, because it always creams in so perfectly—blends so smoothly with the other ingredients. That, of course, gives lighter cake—finer, more wholesome pie crust.

And for frying---

It's the golden-brown tender crust that makes fried foods so delicious—so tempting to children. And the shortening you use makes this crust. Isn't it nice to know—when you use Snowdrift—that your fried foods will always be wholesome? And so healthful that you can give the kiddies all they want?

Snowdrift at Reduced Price

Snowdrift is now at its lowest price in years. Ask your grocer. You'll find that the price is so low, you can use Snowdrift for all your baking and frying every day.

BIG SPRING IS STRONG FOR NEW LINE

GOOD DELEGATION IS PRESENT TODAY AT AMARILLO

"We are looking for a good delegation from Lubbock at the Amarillo railroad meeting Friday," Garland Woodward, Big Spring attorney and former Lubbock resident, said yesterday afternoon while here with a party of men from his town en route to Amarillo. "We think a lot of Lubbock and we know that Lubbock always takes a broad view of things that help build the South Plains country."

The delegation from the terminal of the proposed Texas and Pacific Northern on the south, was here for a short time en route to Amarillo where they were to spend the night. Mr. Woodward, chairman of the cenral railroad executive committee, representing towns along the new line, will confer with Texas and Pacific officials before the meeting Friday.

Others Make Trip

In the party were: R. T. Piner, banker; R. L. Cook, realtor; Eddie Price, banker; C. T. Watson, manager of chamber of commerce; J. B. Collins, Big Spring Building and Loan association; E. T. Kelly, Southern Ice and Utilities company; Fox Stripling, realtor; Sam Eason, realtor; George White, county commissioner and Pete Johnson, county commissioner.

Later in the evening several others from Big Spring passed through. Mr. Woodward said that there would be 15 or 20 business men from his town at today's meeting.

Place of the holding of the hearing has not been announced by the I. C. C. as far as has been learned, Mr. Woodward said. "I hope Lubbock gets the hearing and I believe that it will," Mr. Woodward said.

Either Davis Or Sullivan

Either John F. Davis or Thomas F. Sullivan, examines for the I. C. C. will probably be named to conduct the hearing. Mr. Davis held a hearing in Lubbock a year or so ago, on the application of the Texas and New Mexico permit to build into Lovington, Mr. Woodward said. Mr. Sullivan conducted the Santa Fe hearing in Amarillo last January.

"No date has been set for the hearing but we are hopeful of an early one," Mr. Woodward added. "If the hearing is held late in November or early in December, it is proable that the Texas and Pacific will get a final decision some time in March.

To Start Work

"President Lancaster has said that construction work will begin 'immediately' after the permit is granted. I take it that it means within 30 days after the permit is authorized."

Mr. Woodward said that he believed that the application to build the railroad and that by spring work would be starting.

"Lubbock will have through train service from Lubbock to Fort Worth that will be two hours shorter than any other route," the attorney added. "This will be a main line, as far as the Texas and Pacific Northern is concerned, into Lubbock."

Quebec Bank Clerk Is $67,837 Richer After Race

QUEBEC, Que., Oct. 31 (AP)—A pot of gold came today to a young Quebec bank clerk named Gerard Cote who held one of the four tickets on "The Pen," a fifty-to-one shot that won the Cambridgeshire at Newmarket, England.

Cote's share in the pool sponsored by the army and navy veterans, now located at St. John's, Newfoundland, amounts to $67,827.

No Bills Reported In Florida Charges

TALLAHASSE, Fla., Oct. 31 (AP)—A special grand jury investigating alleged charges made against Governor Doyle E. Carlton by certain newspapers of the state, reported today the finding of "no bills."

"No bill" was reported by the grand jury against the Florida State News, newspaper here, because "there has been no evidence introduced before us that would warrant an indictment" on charges of "libelous statements."

"There has been no evidence brought before us," the report continued, "to justify an indictment against Doyle E. Carlton for accepting or giving bribe money."

BARMAIDS STOP DRYS

LONDON. — Barmaids are the cause of the prevention of prohibition in England, according to Councilor Joseph Wilson. "The English barmaid is a lady," he says, "and forms a real barrier in this country against prohibition. The Englishman is a decent drinker and his traditional respect for women will prevent him from being otherwise."

New Uses Likely For Helium Gas

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP)—Helium the noninflammable gas used in dirigibles, may also be used in the future for heating and cooling purposes, and to preserve food.

Experiments indicating possibility of these uses have been reported to the American Chemical Society by W. E. Snyder and R. R. Bottoms.

Because of its high conductivity of heat, helium may be used as a medium for circulation in heating and refrigeration systems. Helium used as a preservative of food keeps other gases, which encourage decay, from reaching the food, their experiments show.

Rail Timetables Going, Predicted

CHICAGO, Oct. 31 (AP)—There is, after all, a ray of hope for those folks who puzzle over the modern railway timetable and wonder what's what, and which is which.

It was held out by J. A. Droege, vice-president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, who told electrical engineers he hoped the time would come for the abolishment of that "most tantalizing of modern mysteries—the timetable."

Shorter, faster and more frequent trains are coming with the development of electrified lines, and passengers in the future will just wait for them as they do now for street cars. Even Mr. Droege, who has been in the railroad business for 25 years, admits that a timetable sometimes stumps him.

LISTEN

HEAR the difference before you feel it at the wheel. "How," you ask, "can this new Texaco make so much difference in the sound of my engine?" Because it is full-bodied and crack-proof. The new Texaco protects thoroughly, completely, from the first cold thrust of flashing pistons to the last mile of a long fast drive. It is free from all cold-sensitive impurities—free from all hard-carbon-forming elements.

Drain and refill with the correct winter grade of the new Texaco Motor Oil today—then listen! Remember, that new quietness means more than better daily performance. It means that in the crankcase of your engine is a tougher, longer-lasting motor oil that cuts dollars from your lubrication expense and adds miles to the life of your car. Arkansas Man Tells of the Good He Gets From Taking Black-Draught.

Mena, Ark.—"If there is a better laxative medicine made than Thedford's Black-Draught, I've never found it, and I tried a good many before I began taking Black-Draught about twenty years ago," writes Mr. H. F. Miller, who lives on Eleventh Street, this city.

"I am satisfied with Black-Draught. When I feel all out of sorts, my feet seem to feel heavy, and I feel tired when I haven't worked; and I get a bad, slimy taste in my mouth, I just take two or three doses of Black-Draught and I feel better.

"I have found it good for indigestion, in fact for about everything it is recommended for. We just keep it in the house and use it for biliousness, headache and such complaints. I recommend Black-Draught to others."

This well-known medicine has been in use nearly 100 years, and its popularity is constantly increasing, as growing sales clearly prove.

STATES TO ARGUE OVER BOUNDARY

CHANGING OF RED RIVER'S COURSE GIVES WAY TO DIFFICULTIES ON DUCK HUNTING DATES

(By The Associated Press)

TEXARKANA, Oct. 31 — Wild ducks cavorted with safety today while hunters laid aside their guns to argue state sovereignty over a narrow strip of land between the old and present bed of the Red river, about 20 miles northwest of Texarkana.

"The land belongs to Arkansas and I will arrest anyone shooting ducks on it," George Taffe, game warden of Little River county, Ark., said.

Hunters Arrested

Arrest of six Texarkana men on charges of illegal hunting Sunday started the argument over the land ownership.

The Arkansas duck season opens November 1, while the Texas season opened October 15. Hunters had exhibited Texas licenses and contended they were shooting on Texas soil when arrested by Taffe.

Taffe said he took the matter to Arkansas state officials five years ago and was informed the old Red river bed marked the state boundary and the strip in controversy was in his jurisdiction. While Arkansas has been collecting taxes on the disputed area many years, Bowie county, Texas, officials exhibited government maps showing the land in Texas said they were ready to press their claim.

To Be Test Case

Arraignment of the hunters at Ashdown, Ark., Saturday will launch a test case, which likely will be taken to the supreme court to determine the sovereignty, officials of a club of which the hunters were members, said. Bowie county officials were making a survey to be presented at the hearing.

Crude Prices Are Cut In Louisiana

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 31. (AP)—Reduction in the prices of crude ranging from 28 to 35 1-2 cents were announced here today by the Standard Oil company. The new schedule generally met by other companies affects Caddo, Homer, Haynesville, Bull Bayou, Sabine, Crichton, Desoto, Eldorado, Cotton Valley, Sarepta and Carterville fields. Crude of 40 gravity and above was quoted at $1.07. The new prices range from $1.04 for 39 gravity to 6 cents for 29 and below.

Smackover was quoted at seventy and Bellevue a dollar.

COLORFUL HIGHWAY BRIDGES SEEN AS NEXT MOVE; SPANS TO BE ARTISTIC

(By The Associated Press)

PINEHURST, N. C., Oct. 31—Colorful highway bridges trimmed with shining aluminum alloy may greet the American public soon if the steel construction industry adopts a suggestion made today at the convention of the American Institute of Steel construction. P. H. Wood, vice president of the Converse Bridge and Steel company, Chattanooga, said in an address that public demand for more aesthetic bridges made it necessary for the steel industry to change its practices to meet competition. He prefaced the paint suggestion by saying it "may sound like a wild idea," and without artistic supervision "might be terrible."

"During the war," he continued, "the French painted a number of their railway bridges similar to the way ships were camouflaged. A number of colors were used and the effect was certainly startling.

"From even a short distance away they looked like anything but a bridge. The same ingenuity by artists on steel highway bridges would, I believe achieve pleasing results, particularly if the design of the span was aesthetically satisfactory."

Timber Growing Is Urged For Southland

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31. (AP)—Timber growing was described today by the department of agriculture as the only means of eventually checking the decline in the pine industries of the south whose annual output is now valued at more than $524,000,000.

The pine industries employ 20 per cent of all those engaged in all manufacturing enterprises in the south and represent about one-fourth of the capital investment in all manufactures of the region, the department said.

The original southern pine forests of the 12 states from Virginia south to Florida, west to Oklahoma and Texas, and north to Missouri covered about 210,000,000 acres. Of the original vast area of Virgin pineland, but 12,650,000 acres remained uncut in 1927 and, 43 per cent of this lay in Florida.

In two years, from 1926 to 1928, the consumption of canned fish in this country has increased about 350 per cent.

STRIBLING MEETS CHRISTNER

IN THE REALM OF SPORT

With Collier Parris
Journal Sports Editor

It won't be long now. At 2:30 tomorrow afternoon the stands at the Texas Tech athletic field will have been filled to capacity, if present indications of the crowd hold true, and the Gold and Black of Lubbock High school will vie with the Black and Gold of Amarillo High school. The purpose of it all is to see which high school has the better football team, and to partially decide which will represent District 1 in the state championship race.

The Daily Journal (also the Morning Avalanche) is carrying today and yesterday a series of comparative stories dealing with the individual merits of the teams who clash here tomorrow. You might read the detailed accounts before making any more wagers. The sum total of it all is this: Lubbock's backfield is composed of four lettermen of last year, the combination being outweighed 11 pounds by the Amarillo backs, among whom is one letterman. Lubbock's forward wall is composed of five lettermen and two others just about as good. One letterman adorns the Sandie line, which weighs 1,183 pounds as compared to the Lubbock line poundage of 1,140, a difference of 43 pounds. This makes the Amarillo lineup have a 54 pound advantage over Lubbock. Now figure it out.

Now, Mr. Coach Blair Cherry, we'll find out what your boys eat for breakfast. If you beat Lubbock, it is ham and eggs, for that is the kind of league you said this was if it couldn't beat the Sandies. Bring 'em on, then take 'em back.

Coach Cherry called Coach Henry Frnka via long distance the other night and asked the Westerner mentor what kind of ball would be used in the game. "A Ray Morrison special", replied Frnka, and there came a groan over the wire. (Mrs. Frnka heard it and told us about it) "Ouch! so that means lots of passes, eh?" said Cherry, "what do you say to a Knute Rockne?" After some deliberation and argument, "Oke", said Frnka, "a Rockne it will be, but they're not so hard to throw, either".

The Amarillo team got quite a scare not so long ago when the Childress Bobcats pushed over two touchdowns against the Sandies as result of passes. Since then the Sandie mentor has dealt in pass defense, so it may be a different story now. Since the Amarillo-Childress game, Electra and Lubbock have defeated the Bobcats, and it appears to us that if the Bobcats could score a pair of counters against Amarillo that Lubbock ought to be able to do at least that much.

Don't forget the Matadors tomorrow. They will be in a hard game at Canyon with the Buffaloes, and the crowd there will be as large in proportion, as the one here. It is likely that many Lubbock fans and lots of Tech students will follow the Bullfighters to Canyon. It is Homecoming Day for the Teachers, and alumni and ex-students numbering into the thousands are due to be there. It will be the sixth meeting of the teams, both of which will be fighting for a definite purpose. Tech will remember the 20 to 0 stomping given the Matadors last year, and will be seeking sweet revenge. The Buffs will be trying to please their alumni supporters as well as their students on Homecoming Day, and as an added incentive will try to even the count between the schools. Tech is leading now in games, 3 to 2.

We're just about to forget to make a few predictions. Maybe meekness makes us put them at the bottom today. We lost five out of 20 last week, but you'll have to admit that the losses resulted from upsets over the state. Here's how they look this week-end:

COLLEGE GAMES

Southern Methodist 13; University of Texas 7, at Austin. Texas Christian 28; Abilene Christian 0, at Fort Worth. Texas A. & M. 7; Centenary 7, at College Station. University of Arkansas 20; Louisiana State 13, at Shreveport. Baylor University 14; Oklahoma Baptists 6, at Shawnee. Rice Institute 13; Sewanee 7, at Houston. Texas Tech 14; West Texas Teachers 7, at Canyon.

HIGH SCHOOL GAMES

Lubbock 7; Amarillo 7, at Lubbock. Pampa 33; Vernon 6, at Vernon. Electra 26; Plainview 0, at Plainview. Childress 6; Wichita Falls 13, at Wichita Falls. Cisco 7; San Angelo 6, at San Angelo. Sweetwater 0; Breckenridge 30, at Breckenridge. Waco 13; Corsicana 6, at Corsicana. Woodrow Wilson 7; Oak Cliff 13, at Oak Cliff. Temple 6; Cleburne 7, at Temple.

VETERAN WINS MATCH

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 31 (AP)—John Freberg, Chicago veteran, took a one fall decision from Charlie Strack, Oklahoma strong man, in a wrestling bout here last night. Freberg gained the fall in the eighth round with a reverse body and crotch hold. Eddie Wirth, of Kansas City, took a one fall decision from Louis Miller, San Francisco.

HANDICAP NOT TO BE WORRY FOR LOCALS

EXPERIENCE IS HELD BY LUBBOCK; LINES ARE COMPARED

(Editor's note: This is the second of a series of two articles comparing the individual merits of the Lubbock High school and Amarillo High school grid teams, which meet at the Texas Tech gridiron tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 in a crucial contest).

When the Lubbock High school Westerners meet the Amarillo High Golden Sandies tomorrow in their annual clash, the Westerner forward wall, like its backfield, will be a laboring under a weight handicap, but will have the greater number of experienced men, according to years played on their team, which places the teams on a comparatively even basis.

Lubbock's linemen are outweighed, on the average, six pounds to the man, though there is a greater variance in some position. At center, the Westerners will have the advantage in weight while the Sandie center will have a year of experience on the Lubbock pivot man. Bob Crawford is due to start in the middle of Lubbock's line, with Ramon Glass starting for Amarillo. Crawford is one of the biggest men on the Westerner squad, weighing 175 pounds and standing six feet tall. He is a junior, playing his first season with the Lubbock regulars, and has one season left. Glass of Amarillo weighs 170 pounds, and is playing his second year with the Sandie regular team, though he has never lettered. It is his last year with the Sandies.

Watson Faces Heavier Man

At left end Bill Ed Watson, 165 pound husky, will be facing Odell Conaley, 170-pound flash for Amarillo, who plays right end. Watson is a junior, playing his first season with the regulars, and with one season of eligibility left. Conaley is a senior playing his first and last season for Amarillo.

Malcolm Martin, Westerner right end, wearing a letter from last season, will be one of the most able linemen on the field. A veteran with one year's experience, he is one of the most valuable men on the Westerner team. He weighs 151 pounds, and is some lighter than his opponent in the Sandie line, Dave Floyd, 159-pound left end for Amarillo. Floyd is playing his first season with the Sandie regulars, and has one year left.

Estes Weighs 186

Lubbock's left tackle is Carroll McCasland, and he will face John Estes, Amarillo right tackle, in the lineup tomorrow. McCasland will be greatly outweighed, pitting his 164 pounds against Estes' 186. With the exception of one player, Ralston Talbot, reserve tackle, Estes is the heaviest man on the Amarillo force. He is a junior, playing his first season with the Sandie regulars. McCasland is a senior, playing his first and last season with the Westerner regulars.

Archie Brawley plays right tackle for Lubbock, and he will line up against the Amarillo left tackle, Mike Montgomery, co-captain and only letterman of the line returning this season. At both tackle posts, the Sandies are considered stronger. Montgomery and Brawley weigh the same, 175 pounds, and both are experienced men. Mike is a junior playing his third year with the Amarillo regulars, and has one year left. A letterman of 1929, he is one of the most feared men in the Amarillo team. Brawley is playing his second season with the Westerners, and is a letter man of last year. This is his last season of eligibility on the Lubbock team.

Sandie Guard Heavier

The Lubbock left guard has a 10-pound weight handicap but the advantage in experience over the Amarillo right guard. Milton McGehee, Westerner guard, is a senior, playing his second and last season with the Lubbock team. He weighs 160 pounds, is fast, a good blocker, and able guard. Bill Allen plays the right guard for Amarillo. He weighs 170 pounds, is a junior, with no regular experience behind him, and with one year left.

The other Lubbock guard is slightly overshadowed in weight and also in experience, Melvin Grigg, 150-pound Westerner lineman, will oppose Johnny Foster, 153-pound Sandie. Grigg is a junior playing his first year for Lubbock. Foster is playing his second season with the Amarillo regulars, and has one season left.

St. Olaf College Among Undefeated

recorded that St. Olaf college ranks with the undefeated football teams of the nation.

The college, located at Northfield, Minn., with a student body of 700, apparently has been overlooked in the rating of unbeaten elevens.

The Oles, in winning five successive games, have amassed 199 points to 13 for their opponents, and have listed South Dakota State and Carleton among their victims.

St. Olaf's big star is Syl Saumer, a 190-pound halfback who has averaged 10 yards a try in ball carrying this season, and whose punts average up 47 yards.

SANDIE MENACE

Things around right end on the Amarillo high football team are handled by the young man shown below. He is Odell Conaley, regular interference smasher and pass receiver deluxe. Conaley weighs 170 pounds and this is his first year on the Sandie squad. He is a senior. Lubbock fans will get a glimpse of his performance here tomorrow afternoon when the Westerners face the North Plains men in the crucial game of the District One race.

RAPIER MEETS BROAD SWORD

PONY-STEER TILT TO BE THRILLER; OTHERS HAVE WEAK CARDS

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Oct. 31 (AP)—The rapier will be pitted against the broad sword at Austin tomorrow, when the Southern Methodist Mustangs and University of Texas Longhorns clash in their important southwest conference duel. The 1930 title might well rest on the result.

Southern Methodist, with its heralded aerial attack, will be the rapier; Texas, with its robust running attack, the broad sword. It promises to be one of the season's most spectacular exhibitions.

Loss to Eliminate

Both elevens will go into battle realizing they must win to remain in the running for the conference flag. Defeated by the Rice Owls, 6 to 0, in last week's big upset, Texas could ill afford to be held to a tie. A loss would be ruinous. The Mustangs, held to a tie by Baylor two weeks ago, need every victory they can get if they are to have a shot at the crown.

As a result of last week's decisive 27-0 win over Indiana, the tricky Methodists generally have been installed slight favorites.

Loss Is Overlooked

Texas' loss to Rice is not being taken too seriously by the prognosticators. Employing a bruising running game, with Ernie Koy as the spearhead, the Steers piled up 13 first downs to four for the Owls and lost only because they had a punt blocked in the closing period.

As no other conference tilt is scheduled, the fray at Austin is expected to attract one of the year's big crowds. Rivalry between the two schools rapidly is developing into a conference tradition, and they will be there from the far corners of the state tomorrow.

Farmer-Gent Tilt Feature

Seconding the conference clash in point of interest will be the Texas Aggie-Centenary college bout at College Station. Although they are in the midst of one of their most disastrous seasons, having lost four straight games, the Farmers are expected to give the Louisiana eleven a tight battle. Last week the Gents passed their way to a 7 to 2 victory over Baylor.

The Rice Owls meet the Sewanee Tigers at Houston.

Arkansas, winner over Rice and the Aggies on successive Saturdays, anticipates some stiff opposition Louisiana State at Shreveport.

The champion Texas Christian Horned Frogs and Baylor Bruins will have "breathers" tomorrow, the Frogs entertaining Abilene Christian college at Fort Worth and Baylor engaging the Oklahoma Baptists at Shawnee.

GEORGIAN HAS HOPES OF HIS GOING UP

SHARKEY TO LOOK ON FROM RINGSIDE; DEKUH CARDED

BOSTON, Oct. 31.—W. L. "Young" Stribling, the fistic pride of Georgia, has high hopes of adding K. O. Christner, Akron heavyweight, to his knockout victims tonight when they clash here in a 10-round bout.

Stribling in his last two starts, flattened Otto Von Porat and Phil Scott in impressive fashion and again looms as the heir-apparent to the world's championship crown.

Sharkey Is To Watch

Among the spectators will be Jack Sharkey, Stribling's outstanding American rival. The Boston heavyweight has fought both and expects to clash with Stribling again soon.

Arthur Dekuh, New York Italian, who battles Stribling next month in Atlanta, will appear against Big Bill Hartwell of Kansas City, in another 10-rounder.

GRIFFITH MEETS GREEK IMPORTATION

CHICAGO, Oct. 31. (AP)—Gerald Ambrose Griffith, the tough one from Sioux City, Ia., will engage George Neron, a Greek importation, in one of four eight round bouts involving heavyweights at the coliseum tonight.

Neron, who appears to be outclassed, is nevertheless confident he is capable of defeating Griffith. Neron was a onetime sparring mate for Max Schmeling.

Larry Johnson, Chicago negro heavyweight, will appear in the eight round semifinal against Nattie Brown of San Francisco. Charlie Retzlaff, Duluth, Minn., slugger, and Andy Shanks, a puncher from Grand Rapids, Mich., will be contenders in another eight-rounder, with Harry Dillon of Winnipeg, Man., meeting Paul Pantaleo, heavy-fisted Chicagoan, in the fourth bout.

Two Night Games On Card Tonight

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP)—Two intersectional games of importance are on the eastern football schedule for tonight. At Washington Georgetown entertains the undefeated Michigan State team and at Philadelphia Temple plays host to Wake Forest.

FAYETTE PIONEER DIES

LAGRANGE, Oct. 31 (AP)—William H. Thomas, 86, pioneer Fayette county farmer and wealthy land owner, died suddenly at his home here Wednesday.

MAY BREAK JINX

Four Horseshoes And Rabbit's Foot Given Bruder

EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 31 (AP)—Just out of the pesthouse after an attack of smallpox, the third manifestation of the jinx that has pursued him for three years, Hank Bruder, Northwestern's brilliant halfback and captain, today had four horse shoes and a rabbit's foot, to keep trouble away from him before the important Minnesota game tomorrow.

As Bruder was on his way yesterday to join the squad for the trip to Minneapolis and the game with the Gophers, a trio of pretty co-eds popped up with the hoodoo-preventers.

"Hey Hank," they purred, "these ought to break up the jinx of that number 13 jersey you are wearing."

The Purple leader, injured in 1928, laid up with a fractured leg last year, and a victim of smallpox this year, stuck the gifts in his pockets, firmly convinced that no more bad luck can catch up with him.

San Jacinto Star Declared Ineligible

HOUSTON, Oct. 31. (AP)—A bomb was thrown into the peace and quiet of District 7's football standing today when it was announced that Benny Gastmeyer, San Jacinto high's fleet ace athlete, was declared ineligible.

Gastmeyer, the backbone of the San Jacinto offense, was found too old to play during the 1930 season.

The executive committee of district seven met Thursday afternoon to decide on Ball High's protest of the forfeiting of its victory to Milby high through the using of ineligible players. It was decided that the game between those teams would count as "no game" and that the clubs would play again at Houston Wednesday, November 26.

The action taken on Carlton Luper, Sam Houston high star on October 16, ruling him ineligible on the ten semester ruling was rescinded, as well as all other action on the new ten semester ruling.

MATADORS TAPER OFF WORK FOR TILT WITH BUFFALOES TODAY; CANYON WILL STAGE BIG HOMECOMING CELEBRATION

Tapering off a week of hard work, including three days of scrimmage, the Texas Tech Matadors will go through a light workout this afternoon and will be sent to bed early. Tomorrow morning at an early hour they will depart by special bus for Canyon, where they meet the West Texas Teachers in their annual grid contest tomorrow afternoon.

Aside from being the annual scrap between the two strongest college grid teams of the Panhandle, the game tomorrow is the feature attraction on Canyon Teachers' Homecoming Day program. Hundreds of alumni and ex-students will be present to watch their Buffaloes against the Matadors. The Buffaloes, by the way, are making a strong bid for T. I. A. A. honors this season, and have passed an undefeated season so far. Last week they emerged from the Daniel Baker game with a tied score.

To Use Best Lineup

Coach Cawthon announced this morning that his probable starting lineup would consist of the best men he could muster for the positions. Two of his regulars may not be able to start due to injuries. They have been on the practice field for the last two days, but were not able to carry through with the regular workout. C. A. Doose, regular fullback, may see his position usurped by Earnest Westner. Doose sustained several minor wounds in the Horned Frog game last Saturday that may bar him from play tomorrow, and Westner has been looking good in practice this week. Rip Vinzant, injured two weeks ago, probably will not be able to start at end, and the wing positions may be taken care of by Bill Teal and Harlan Howell.

Langford Back in Game

George Langford, back in the lineup after an absence of nearly a month, will be at his old post at tackle, and the other tackle position will be filled by McWilliams or Simmons. Osborne is likely to get in the game. Guards will be Jewel Darr and Ross Ayers, with the possibility of Cap Parkinson and Curtis Allen getting in the game. Captain Jack Durham will hold down his center position.

The starting backfield may consist of Floyd Wooldridge at quarter, Buddy Brothers and Speed Moffitt at halves, and Westner at full. Lawrence Franz may alternate with Wooldridge at quarter, or he may start at one of the halfback positions.

Tomorrow will find the Matadors and Buffaloes in their sixth meeting. They have played each season since the Tech doors were opened in 1925. The count stands 3 to 2 in favor of the Matadors, but the Buffaloes took a 20 to 9 victory last year that has rankled in the minds of the Matadors to this day, and they will be fighting for a double purpose tomorrow.

HORNSBY TO BE BACK AT SECOND

CHICAGO, Oct. 31 (AP)—Rogers Hornsby will be back at second base for the Cubs when the 1931 season opens.

The newly appointed manager of the Cubs, here today to make preparations for the spring training trip, emphatically denied that his active days as a major league player are over. He said he made a mistake in trying to get back into uniform too soon last season, before he had completely recovered from injuries.

"That was a good lesson to me," the Rajah explained. "But, I'll be back in there next year. Make no mistake about that."

MEXICANS SWAMP TEXANS

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 31. (AP)—The Mexican civilian team, Anahuac, won a second straight victory over the Rainbows of San Angelo, Tex., Thursday, 13 to 1, and captured a silver cup presented by President Ortiz-Rubio. The rainbows start today in a similar series of games against the Mexican army general staff team.

Nearly half the 10,000,000 pounds of glycerine exported yearly from France is sent to the United States.

COUNTRY CLUB IS TO STAGE TOURNAMENT

"TOMBSTONE" TOURNEY IS ARRANGED FOR SUNDAY

A "tombstone" golf tournament, where the player is either buried under the score of opponents or survives to inscribe the epitaph of his enemy clubber in the grave marker, will be held at the Lubbock Country Club links Sunday afternoon. The tournament will start promptly at 2:30 o'clock.

Herbert Quinn, chairman of the tournament committee at the country club, announces that the tourney is open to all golfers in Lubbock, and is not exclusive for club members. It is thought that a great number of local golfers will take part in the contest, for which prizes will be awarded.

First of Series

The tournament Sunday is the first of a series of Sunday tournaments held on the local course, Quinn said, and is the results of efforts on the part of the committee to excite more interest in golf. A similar tournament will be held each Sunday as long as weather permits.

First, second and third prizes will be awarded the winner and runners up of the matches Sunday. First prize will consist of a wool sweater, half a dozen golf balls of superior make, and a pair of golf sox will be awarded as second and third prizes.

To Be Handicap

The tournament will be on the order of an 18-hole handicap match, with J. W. Byrnes, professional at the country club, giving the handicaps. These will be derived from qualifying scores made by golfers last spring in the tournament here.

During 1929 more than 1000 applications for radio patents were filed in this country.

Exhibits from other counties were rated as follows in the order given: Marion, Ellis, Grimes, Henderson, Hemphill, Collins, Ochiltree, Lamb, Rusk, Van Zandt, Hunt, Panola, Victoria, Donley, Trinity, Washington, Robertson, Austin, Walker, Brazoria, Madison, Nacogdoches, Lee, Galveston.

STEAMSHIP LINES MERGED

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31 (AP) — W. P. Roth, president of the Matson Navigation company, announced last night the consolidation of his company with the Los Angeles Steamship company.

Roth said the Matson company's board of directors felt the best interests of the Hawaiian trade and of companies serving this trade out of California ports would result from the merger.

No change was anticipated, he said, in either company.

NOTICE OF BANKRUPT'S PETITION FOR DISCHARGE
In the District Court of the United States For the Northern District of Texas. In the matter of Edwin Moody Smith, Bankrupt. No. 71. In Bankruptcy.
OFFICE OF REFEREE
Lubbock, Texas, October 30, 1930
Notice is hereby given that Edwin Moody Smith of the County of Lubbock, and district aforesaid, did, on the 29th day of October, 1930, file in the Clerk's office of said Court, at Lubbock, a petition setting up that he has been heretofore duly adjudged a bankrupt under the act of Congress approved July 1, 1898; that he has duly surrendered all his property and rights of property, and has fully complied with all the requirements of said acts and of the orders of the Court touching his bankruptcy, and praying for a full discharge from all debts provable against his estate in bankruptcy, save such debts as are excepted by law from such discharge.
On considering the above mentioned petition, it is ordered that any creditor who has proved his claim, and other parties in interest, if they desire to oppose the discharge prayed for in said petition, shall, on or before the 29th day of November, 1930, file with the Referee for the Lubbock Division of said district, a notice in writing of their opposition to a discharge in the above entitled cause.
W. D. GIRAND,
Refree in Bankruptcy.

NOTICE OF FIRST MEETING OF CREDITORS
In the District Court of the United States for the Northern District of Texas in Bankruptcy, Lubbock, Texas, in the matter of Samuel Henry Davidson, Bankrupt. No. 81 in Bankruptcy.
OFFICE OF REFEREE
Lubbock, Texas, October 29, 1930
To the Creditors of Samuel Henry Davidson, of Littlefield, in the county of Lamb, and District aforesaid, a bankrupt.
Notice is hereby given that on the 29th day of October, A. D. 1930, the said Samuel Henry Davidson was duly adjudged bankrupt, and that the first meeting of his creditors will be held at my office in the City of Lubbock, Lubbock County, Texas, on the 12th day of November, A. D. 1930, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a trustee, examine the bankrupt and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.
W. D. GIRAND.
Referee in Bankruptcy.

Jenny Dolly's Live Dollies

There are a couple more Dolly sisters now! Miss Jenny Dolly, one of the famous dancing Dolly Sisters, is pictured above as she arrived in London with the two French orphans whom she has adopted. Manzi, at the left, closely resembles her. Klarie, right, is a blonde. They'll all come to the United States soon.

DAILY MARKETS

Stock Market

WALL STREET PRICES

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. (AP)—A fresh drop in share prices in today's stock market was checked by the end of the first hour of trading, but rallying tendencies were feeble, and trading turned extremely dull. By midday, the list again eased.

Bethlehem Steel dropped two points to the lowest in two years, in response to its earnings statement, but then regained much of its loss in short covering. Radio, which had been strongly supported at 20, broke to a new low price at 19 3-4, then rallied slightly.

American Metals dropped three to a new low, reflecting the dividend reduction, and General American Tank lost as much. Coca Cola lost five and Crucible Steel, Missouri, Kansas, Texas and Canada Dry sagged two to ne wminimum prices. Ingersoll Rand, an erratic issue, dropped 11.

Call money renewed unchanged at 2 per cent.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. (AP)—Cotton opened steady at a decline of 1 to 6 points under renewed hedging and further scattered selling or liquidation. There was some buying on relatively steady Liverpool cables which helped to absorb the initial offerings, however, and after easing off to 11.19 for the new December and 11.75 for May, the market slightly steadier.

Reports of large sales of print cloths earlier in the week and predictions for heavy to killing frost in the central belt may have promoted some buying but business was only moderately active on the rallies of some four or five points from the lowest. At the end of the first half hour the market was barely steady with active months showing net losses of 2 to 5 points.

The market steadied after the early selling and there were rallies on some further trade buying and covering. Active months sold back to about or a shade above yesterday's closing quotations with new December advancing from 11.19 too 11.27 and May from 11.75 to 11.85. This made the general market about net unchanged to 4 points higher, but the bulge brought in a little more realizing and prices were 3 or 4 points off from the best at midday.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 31 (AP)—Cotton opened somewhat easier today owing to indifferent Liverpool cables. First trades showed losses of 4 to 6 points. The market continued to ease off slowly in quiet trading after the start, the principal business being an evening up in advance of the holiday here tomorrow and the government report due at the end of next week. December traded down to 11.16, January to 11.31 and March to 11.53 or 7 to 9 points below yesterday's close. Ring shorts appeared desirous of forcing low levels in order to cover. At the end of the first hour the market was quiet and near the lows. New Orleans will be closed tomorrow in observance of All Saints day.

Fluctuations in the quiet session during the morning were narrow but some support was received from buying based on the textile cotton goods report and absence of hedge selling.

At one time December rallied to 11.25, January to 11.35 and March to 11.60, or 7 to 9 points above the early lows. Further liquidation caused prices to ease off 6 to 7 points from the highs by noon.

There seemed to be considerable buying orders under the market to be executed on the scale down.

WILD WELL

location the gusher was far more dangerous to the city than the Mary Sudik, which attracted national attention last spring by blowing wild for 11 days.

Firemen on Duty

Every fireman in the city was on duty, roads in the north end of the city gusher field were blocked and train traffic in the vicinity of the well was restricted.

Taking personal charge of the derrick crew at daylight, Fred Morgan, president of the company, directed efforts to control the gusher. Efforts were being made to remove master valves ripped open last night and cut away by sand preparatory to installing a "Christmas tree" that would control the monster. No night work could progress, due to the strict no-light rule.

Roar Heard in City

The well's roar could be heard nearly everywhere in the city. At times it was almost deafening downtown and on the east side and the knocks of firemen awakening residents south of seventh street added to the restlessness in virtually every home in the affected area.

Negroes living in river bottom flats fled their homes as the crude from the gusher, unstemmed by earthen dykes, roured into the river.

The wind shifted southwest early today, adding to the hazard.

Incoming trains "doused" their fires as they entered the danger zone, coasting into stations. One outgoing Oklahoma City, Ada and Atoka train was not allowed to leave at 7:45.

Schools Closed

One of the six closed schools, the Walnut Grove, is but three blocks from the well. Parents were notified not to send their children to the building, where gas was thick.

Motor cars within many blocks of the well were covered with oil.

Boiler fires in many drilling wells were extinguished as the gas failed to lift and fires at one asphalt plant near the gusher were put out.

State Fire Marshal O'Neal, who sent a corps of inspectors to the danger area, said the condition was the most serious ever faced by the city. Pockets and clouds of gas will remain a hazard for days after the well is capped, he said.

Six city schools were closed today, liberating 2,150 pupils until Monday. Great pockets of gas lurking close to the ground in the southeast part of the town led to the closing, City Superintendent of Instruction J. R. Barton said.

Streets Closed

Streets and roads for a mile around the well were closed.

With only a slow wind, which shifted southeast after sunup, low-clinging gas clouds intensified the dire danger. As the wind changed from southwest to southeast, the business district received a light oil spray. A wind strong enough to sweep away the gas was hoped for.

A foundry worked all night making the "Christmas tree," huge iron tool which, through a series of gates and valves, should hold the well. It will be ready about noon, it was believed. The "tree" must be lowered from the derrick top.

POLITICS

debenture plan, opposed so insistently by President Hoover. Borah speaking in Lincoln, Nebraska, on behalf of Senator George W. Norris, forecast also an early fight in congress to repeal the Eighteenth Amendment.

Former Senator James A. Reed, in St. Louis, offered as a remedy for hard times: "To turn out Republicans as fast as we can get to them."

Predictions Made

While the echoes of these and divers other national pronouncements were mingling today with the noisy windup of more than a score of state campaigns, the political prognosticators put out a new sheaf of predictions.

William Tyler Page, clerk of the national house of representatives, forecast a safe Republican majority in the new house to be chosen Tuesday, thus contradicting directly even the most modest claims of the Democrats. Senator Caraway, returning from a Democratic campaign trip into Kentucky and Oklahoma, pronounced both states safely Democratic, notwithstanding Republican claims to the contrary.

From the prohibition front, Curran too, emanated warring communiques. H. H. Curran, generalissimo of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, predicted a gain of at least six seats in the senate and sixty in the house for the, opponents of prohibition Dr. F. Scott McBride, of the Anti-Saloon League, said Major Curran had been blowing bubbles.

Meantime, even so near election day, political headquarters found difficulty in judging how seriously the great American electorate really was interesting itself in these matters.

part of the foods was undigested and poisons formed.

In a "very thorough examination" of 41 deafened persons, Dr. Gottlieb said, 31 were found deficient in pancreatic ferments.

Have No Digestion

"In many instances," he went on, "the results showed that the patients had little or no digestion of one or more than three important classes of foods—proteins, sugars and fats.

"Many items in the problem still need clarification. It will require coordinated efforts of the chemist, biologist, pathologist, ophathalmologist, internist and otologist to investigate the obscure problems which still lurk in the darkness of this important subject. For this much assistance will be required."

STAGE SET FOR ANNUAL GRID BATTLE BETWEEN WESTERNER-SANDIE ELEVENS

upsets are destined for the remainder of the season, and give the Sandies the upper hand. Dopesters, however, do not anticipate a tie game. They hesitate in picking a winner, but are prone to believe the final score will favor one of the two teams. More radical dopesters contend that the victory will be made certain for somebody by a margin of two touchdowns.

A crowd of spectators rivalling that of the memorable day when the Texas Aggies came to Lubbock and played at the Tech field in 1928, is expected to fill the stands tomorrow. From indications of ticket agencies here and out of town, upwards of 5,000 fans will be in attendance. Enough seats will be provided to accommodate 10,000 people, M. H Duncan, superintendent of Lubbock schools, said this morning.

Amarillo "Moving Down"

Two special trains bearing approximately 2,000 Amarillo fans to the scene of the game, will arive at Santa Fe depot Saturday morning at 11:50 o'clock. Scores of other spectators have been recruited from all over West Texas and Pampa will be represented by several hundred people wo will come by train, plane and automobile.

Head Coach Henry Frnka, of the Lubbock Westerners, said th's morning that his charges were 'ready to go' and chuckled merrily over the last minute story from Amarillo announcing that Mike Montgomery, co-captain and giant tackle of the Sandies, would not be able to play.

Cherry Not Worried

Blair Cherry, Sandie head coach, said over the phone this morning that his team was fit and awaiting the opportunity to cinch title honors.

"We realize that we'll have a good team to beat", he said, "but all in all the Lubbock contest is 'just another ball game' to the Sandies".

Superintendent M. H. Duncan, who hopes for a sell-out, was 'hot and bothered' this morning at reports that all seats were sold.

"Tell them", said Mr. Duncan emphatically, "that we have plenty of seats left and there'll be room for everybody".

Plans Are Laid

Enthusiastic and elaborate plans were being la'd to greet the visiting delegation from Amarillo and escort fans to and from the grid combat. In honor of the visiting team, as well as the Westerners, the colored light clusters at down town intersections will be burned ton'ght and tomorrow night, City Manager J. Bryan Miller announced.

The Westerners were to wind up their preparations with a light drill and skull practice this afternoon and tonight, at 7:30, will be introduced to the city-wide pep meeting, scheduled at the High school auditorium. Citizens will link arms with students in hailing the Westerners and after the rally a downtown parade will be staged by the youngsters.

Music Arranged

Plenty of music will rift the air at Tech stadium tomorrow afternoon, with both Lubbock and Amarillo High school bands on duty. Pep squads representing the two institutions will be wearing their bright spangles to give further a'd to the combattants and ad color to the occasion.

There will be some closing of stores here during the time of the game, it was learned this morning, but offices of the Retail Merchants association said that closing would be voluntary.

Footballs Pledged

Members of the two teams will be fighting for more than victory in the game tomorrow, gold footballs having been dangled before both elevens as rewards for victory. "The Tactless Texan", Amarillo News-Globe columnist, and "The Plainsman", of the Lubbock Journal led drives in which fans pledged gold footballs for players and coaches in the event of victory. Lubbock pledges were made for the Westerners, Amarillo pledges for the Sandies and the two columnists, Gene Howe, editor of the Globe-News, and Chas. A. Guy, editor of the Avalanche-Journal, added zest to the campaign by promising to buy a football for a rival player should the other team be victorious.

The envoy declared he had not come to Rome as a special appointee of President Hoover to aid in settling the naval differences of France and Italy, as had been reported, but said he merely was here as a member of the preparatory disarmament commission of the League of Nations.

"As a member of the commission," he said, "I wanted to see the other members and talk over the agenda business with them before the commission meets within a few days."

Sheriff Hardy Not Rushed In Husband Hunt

"I have had only one man to make inquiry about the woman from Breckenridge who wants a husband," Sheriff Wade Hardy said today. "I am sending her the information."

Recently the sheriff was asked by a woman from Breckenridge who said she had been a widow four years and who wanted to know about a "very old man" in Lubbock, whose name she had forgotten, who wanted a wife. She told the sheriff in case he was unable to locate this man, that any "old like" man would do for her to get acquainted with.

Many Claims Made

"Of course during a political campaign many claims are made, but I do not know of anything which the federal or state governments have failed to do which either would have prevented the depression or now would cause a healthy revival of business.

"A general marshalling of all the public and private resources of the country in order to furnish employment for wage earners and a market for materials can be properly encouraged and supervised by officers of the state and national governments.

"This policy was adopted nearly a year ago by President Hoover, was followed by Governor Allen, has done much to alleviate our situation and is still in healthy progress."

delegation left this morning for Amarillo, it was announced at the chamber of commerce.

Several other tickets were expected to be sold and a number who did not plan to attend the luncheon itself, were in the party.

Several parties from Brownfield, Levelland, Lamesa and other towns went through Lubbock this morning. A few delegations, including one of about 20 from Big Spring, were in town late Thursday.

The delegations were to meet at Canyon at 10 o'clock to drive in a body to Amarillo.

SUPPLIES PREPARED

Election supplies and boxes for Tuesday's general election were being prepared today by Amos Howard, county clerk and his force.

There are 32 precincts in the county and each one will get two boxes for the balloting. "Some of the larger precincts will have three boxes," Mr. Howard added.

Sheriff Wade Hardy will be given the boxes for delivery probably Saturday.

Harlan And Ross Leave For Prison

ABILENE, Oct. 31 (AP)—Accompanied by a deputy United States marshal, Oliver P. Harlan of Lubbock and John L. Ross of Sweetwater left here early today for Leavenworth, Kas., to begin serving federal sentences of 14 months.

Harlan and Ross, both former secretaries of National Farm Loan associations, Harlan at Stamford, were convicted here last month in federal court of fraudulent acts in their conduct of the associations.

TURKISH RULER EXTENDS MESSAGE OF FRIENDSHIP TO AMERICA; STATES HIS NATION TO KEEP UP ITS ADVANCEMENT

BY PRISCILLA RING
(Associated Press Staff Cor.)

ANGORA, Turkey, Oct. 31 (AP) — Mustapha Kemal Pasha in his first message to the American public in many years today affirmed to the Associated Press his high esteem of Turkey's sister nation far across the seas.

"My feeling toward America is one of affection and admiration," he said in Turkish as a small group of guests at a ball given in honor of the eighth anniversary of the founding of the Turkish republic, gathering around to listen.

Only Monkeys Copy

He was questioned as to what respects he would like to have the country of which he is president emulate America and replied, his eyes flashing: "Turkey is not trying to copy any nation. Only monkeys copy. No nation can try to be like another. Nations progress solely through developing their own racial gifts, their own special culture, and that is what Turkey is doing."

In the light of this declaration Kemal's achievement of the past eight years is the stimulation of undeveloped aptitudes of the Turkish race, so long undeveloped that the occident is prone to disbelieve in their existence.

Abolishes Customs

In the occident it is known that Kemal abolished the sultinate, the caliphate, the fez, polygamy and the Arabic alphabet, and established the republic, separation of church and state, emancipation of women and education of the masses. Kemal's answer to this list of accomplishments is: "not I, but the development of the Turkish people's own aptitudes made this progress possible.

"What remains for Turkey to do," he concluded, "is nothing new. It is simply to develop further and further every field where the development already has been begun."

DESCRIPTION OF AL IN DISGUST TOLD IN COURT

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. (AP)—A description of former Governor Alfred E. Smith throwing down a plate of soup and declaring himself "sick and tired of this boxing business" was in the record today in the trial of the $500,000 breach of contract suit against Gene Tunney, former heavyweight champion, brought by Tim Mara, fight promoter.

Emory H. Buckner, counsel for Tunney, quoted Mara as saying he had asked Smith, who at that time was governor, to intereede to have the first Dempsey-Tunney match held in New York state.

"Governor Smith threw down his plate of soup and shouted 'I'm sick and tired of this boxing business, and if the legislature would pass a law repealing the boxing bill, I would sign it'," Mara was quoted as saying.

Buckner told the jury that the purpose of engaging Mara, was to urge the New York Boxing Commission to change its attitude in refusing to issue a license to Jack Dempsey to fight in this state until he fought Harry Wills. He held that Mara broke the agreement by failing to get the boxing commission to permit the fight in New York. The fight was later held in Philadelphia.

Buckner said Mara wrote Tunney to throw away his books, his typewriter, golf suit and dinner jacket and drive a truck.

BISHOP CANNON IS SAID TO BE WORSE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31. (AP)—Bishop James Cannon, jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, who went to a hospital last week for treatment, today had taken a "slight change for the worse."

His physician, Dr. R. Lyman Sexton, said inflammatory arthritis had spread from the bishop's right foot to his right hand and left foot and knee, "giving cause for some concern." The ailment is very painful, the doctor added.

Contributions For Scouts Coming In

Several additional contributions for boy scout campaigns in towns over the South Plains council area were received today D. T. Jennings, scout executive, said.

From Ralls a contribution of $12 was received, bringing the cash there to $111.50 and the total to $282.50.

Lamesa reported $29 additional in pledges, to add to their first contribution of $125.

Campaigns have been started in Ralls, Brownfield, Lamesa, Levelland and Littlefield during the past several weeks. None of them are complete, there being a number of others to be seen for contributions.

Caruso's Records Bring In $150,000

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. (AP)—The estate of Enrico Caruso, operatic tenor, still realizes about $150,000 annually on royalties from phonograph records, a suit filed today against his widow disclosed.

The suit was filed in Bronx supreme court by Francesco Bagno, who claimed the sum of $1,750 for advising the widow as to her rights under the Italian inheritance laws.

INVISIBLE TATOO TAGS BABY, MOTHER; IS MOVE TO STOP MIXUPS IN HOSPITALS; IT MAY EVEN BE A COAT OF ARMS

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—A 15-second shot of artificial sunshine that will tan an identification mark on a baby is advocated to prevent hospital mixups by the scientific journal American Medicine.

As the doctor hands the new born infant to the nurse she lays a stencil appropriately on its bare skin and holds it for 15 seconds under a water-cooled mercury lamp, which gives intense ultra-violet radiation.

The identification mark can be a number, or just as readily a symbol or an aristocratic coats of arms.

The Journal suggests putting a selected mark upon each mother upon each mother upon arrival at the hospital and then placing the same mark upon her baby, or babies.

This tan is harmless. Although it may disappear from ordinary sight after a few days, it can be read at any time within six months by the use of black light. This is ultra-violet light with the visible rays filtered out.

When the seemingly invisible symbol is placed under the black rays its characters are as plain as if made of dark paint.

The Journal credits Dr. Herman Goodman of New York city with originating the idea of thus making a tan record indelible for months.

Experimenting with the durability of this identification, Dr. Goodman in April this year tanned a spot the size of a quarter upon the forearm of a man.

This man played tennis with bare arms all summer, swam frequently in the surf and spent many hours with arms bare while boating until his forearms were very dark with sun tan.

In September Dr. Goodman turned the black light upon the place that had been artificially tanned, and under the invisible rays the round spot was distinctly outlined despite the months of sun tan covering it from eyesight.

Mrs. Wayland Wins In Her Application

Mrs. Lizzie Wayland was victorious in 99th district court today in her application for an injunction against A. W. Worsham and Sheriff Wade Hardy to restrain them from executing a judgment secured by Worsham in county court against Mrs. Wayland. Suit was over a rural telephone line from the Overton addition out into the country in a northwesterly direction.

The case first was decided in a justice court and then taken to the county court where Worsham again won. He was awarded by the county court the possession of the line, valued at $300 and Mrs. Wayland divested of the half interest she claimed. Judgment also of $33.75 for rental use was given.

Mrs. Wayland in August asked for an injunction restraining Worsham and the sheriff from carrying out the county court judgment.

The telephone line in question is known as rural line 9002 out of Lubbock.

Judge Clark Mullican handed down his decision in the case this morning, granting to Mrs. Wayland a permanent injunction.

Pictures In Relief Is Latest Invention

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Oct. 31 (AP)—A new apparatus for projecting pictures in relief, which the inventor, Dr. Herbert E. Ives of the Bell Telephone laboratories, believes applicable to motion pictures, was demonstrated before the Optical Society of America here last night.

The pictures exhibited were small. Because of the crudeness of the experimental apparatus they were visible to relatively small groups of people at one time. Dr. Ives explained the methods used were susceptible of refinement and theoretically were applicable to production of moving pictures, but at very great cost.

Mississippi U Is Given Dismissal

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP)—Dismissal of the University of Mississippi from the American Association of Universities was announced last night by Prof. Adam Leroy Jones, of Columbia university, chairman of the association's committee on the classification of colleges and universities.

Prof. Jones said the association took action because the University of Mississippi last summer dismissed Chancellor Hume and about one-third of the faculty without warning. The case was considered at a meeting of the University association in San Francisco Oct. 25. Mr. Jones yesterday mailed the Mississippi institution a notice of its dismissal.
