SNYDER . . . The Christmas Shopping City

TWENTY-TWO TONS OF STONE are shown being unloaded at the site of Snyder's new Post Office building. The Arizona Ledge Stone will be used for facing and trim. It was quarried near the Grand Canyon and was furnished by Fulgham Stone Co. of Ft. Worth. Scheduled date for completion of the Post Office is December 31, but according to the owner-builder, William C. Null of Fort Worth, February 1 will be the earliest possible date. New equipment is already on hand to be installed when the building is finished.

Bitter Cold Slams Into State Again

By The Associated Press

The second bitter cold front of the week slammed into Texas Thursday. High winds whipped the cold air deep into the state. But the new front brought no moisture.

The cold, dry weather followed a wet norther which entered Texas Monday bringing as much as 16 inches of snow at some points.

The Weather Bureau issued freeze warnings for the upper part of the state for Friday.

The 16 inches were at Romero in the Panhandle near the New Mexico border.

The snow which eaded Wednesday fell in the Big Bend—heaviest in 30 years at El Paso—and in the Panhandle and South Plains.

The snow, accompanied by freezing rain and sleet, spilled over from worse conditions in New Mexico, where up to 36 inches of snow blanketed the ground.

Thursday morning, almost all the state was clear.

The Weather Bureau warned of temperatures as low as 25 degrees coming for the west and north portions of North Central Texas, and as low as 15 degrees in the northwest part of the Panhandle.

Low thermometer readings Thursday were in the upper 20s or low 30s for most of the Panhandle, South Plains and Far West.

The new front and the old one pushed into Missouri, Colorado, southern Wyoming, and Kansas, bringing snow and strong, cold winds. They set off rains in Iowa and Illinois.

Amarillo received 3 to 8 inches of snow in the latest wave and 4 inches more at Dalhart put the three-day total at 9 inches. McLean measured 7 inches, Borger 6 and Stratford 3½.

Although visibility at Dumas dropped near zero for a while from the thickly falling flakes, it measured only 2 inches of added snow.

Cold air raced on southward across Texas as skies cleared over the Panhandle. Forecasters said the weather front would push all the way to the Gulf of Mexico by late in the day.

The earlier wave of snow hit New Mexico hardest. Parts of the state continued to dig free and repairmen labored to get telephone and power service, disrupted in numerous areas at intervals, back to normal.

It took help from rescue parties for hundreds of marooned deer hunters to reach safety in New Mexico.

El Paso, at the west tip of Texas and just south of a snowbound New Mexico sector, bounced back quickly from its worst winter storm in years. Seven inches of snow dwindled into scattered patches by Wednesday night.

'MR. SAM' DIES

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

BONHAM, Tex. (AP)—Sam Rayburn, who served longer as House speaker than any man, died today in the home town he loved.

Cancer and its complications caused his death. He would have been 80 on Jan. 6.

The White House was notified immediately. So was Rep. John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, the Democratic leader of the House.

McCormack was the man Rayburn chose to serve temporarily as speaker when "Mr. Sam" had to leave Congress before it closed because of what he called lumbago.

But even then, his doctor believes, he knew he had cancer.

The physician, Dr. Joe A. Risser, and members of the speaker's family and staff stood by the bedside in Risser Hospital as Rayburn faded away.

"It was a very easy death for a very great man," Dr. Risser told reporters.

Asked about the immediate cause of death, Risser said simply that: "He just quit breathing."

Then, in more formal language, he put it this way:

"At 6:20 this morning Mr. Sam passed away. He died quietly. His respirations stopped.

"The heart continued to beat for four minutes after the cessation of respiration. He showed no evidence of pain lines in the face. He seemed to be as one in sleep."

Dr. Risser added that death was "an apparent result of diminished function of the respiratory center of the brain, which controls the respiration of the individual."

Rayburn had been unconscious for about 36 hours before his death. The doctor and family had spent two near-sleepless nights at the hospital.

Rayburn had lost nearly 50 pounds in the months that cancer had ravaged his body. His normal weight was 176. Dr. Risser said he had dropped to about 120.

Authorities here said the funeral will be at 1:30 p.m. (CST) Saturday at the First Baptist Church in Bonham.

The body will lie in state from 9 a.m. (CST) tomorrow until 9 a.m. Saturday in the Sam Rayburn Memorial Library.

Mr. Sam was taken to the Wise Funeral Home shortly after the family left the hospital in the dawn of a windy, gray day.

The funeral services will be conducted by Elder H. G. Ball, minister of the Primitive Baptist Church of Tioga, Tex. Rayburn joined the church some years ago.

The chaplain of the House, the Rev. Bernard Braskamp, will assist.

Under present plans, the casket will be open during the time Rayburn lies in state in the hall inside the library.

Dr. Risser said the family decided that they would prefer that people remember the Rayburn Foundation, which supports the library, instead of sending flowers.

The auditorium of the First Baptist Church—a strikingly modern building of yellow brick with long, sweeping roof lines, seats about 700. Rayburn's administrative assistant, John Holton, said chairs could be provided and extra rooms opened and a public address system thus could reach well over 1,000 persons.

SAM RAYBURN
. . . record for speaker

JOHN W. McCORMACK
. . . interim successor

The burial services will be held immediately after the church services at Willow Wild Cemetery. These, as will the services at the church, will be open to the public, Holton said.

It was up to the White House, to announce definitely whether President Kennedy would be on hand. But the hour of the services was moved up from 2:30 to 1:30 p.m. to accommodate Kennedy's schedule.

Messages of sympathy were pouring in from all over the country, Holton said, and there was no time to read them immediately and list the persons from whom they came.

A large, simple granite marker inscribed "Rayburn" stands at the family plot. Smaller stones are at the heads of the graves of eight other Rayburns who preceded the speaker in death.

President Kennedy is expected generally to attend the services. He will have to shuffle arrangements for a four-day Western trip.

The first telephone call from the hospital after Rayburn died went from Dr. Risser to Kennedy's physician in Washington, Dr. Janet Travell.

This was by long-standing prearrangement. The President had asked that he be kept in touch with Rayburn's condition and told immediately when the speaker was gone.

Rayburn's administrative assistant, John Holton, put through the call to McCormack.

The sergeant-at-arms of the House, Zeake Johnson, was told promptly that the man who wielded the gavel there more than twice as long as any other was dead, and it was from him that the first word of Rayburn's death came out.

Dr. Risser summoned news and cameramen who had been keeping the vigil and saw them in the office of his clinic, a modern yellow brick structure just across the street from the house he converted into a hospital.

It was the end of August when Rayburn left Washington and came back home to be cared for by his doctor. He had lost weight previously and had been feeling bad for weeks.

Risser had warned him of the possibility of a tumor early in July.

Rayburn was in pain then although he called it a backache. Yet he continued to preside over the House.

Twice, Risser said, he nearly blacked out on the rostrum and had to be helped away to rest.

At his bedside here when Rayburn yielded to cancer were his two sisters, Mrs. W. A. Thomas of Dallas and Mrs. S. E. Bartley of Bonham. A brother, Richard, was unable to get to the hospital quite in time.

A great-nephew, Robert Bartley, Jr., 23, a member of the Federal Communications Commission in Washington, was present. So were two great-nieces. The caretaker of Rayburn's ranch was there—Buck Henson.

And then there were staff members, Holton, D. B. Hardeman, and H. G. Dulaney, and several nurses.

13 Italian Airmen Slain By Congolese

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The United Nations today announced that insurgent Congolese troops had "brutaly murdered" 13 Italian U.N. airmen at the Kivu Province town of Kindu.

A U.N. spokesman said the unarmed fliers were shot by unruly troops shortly after their arrest last Saturday afternoon.

Some of their bodies were dismembered and hurled into the Lualaba River, the spokesman added, by soldiers who apparently suspected them of being Belgian paratroopers.

The U.N. spokesman, George Ivan Smith, said the U.N. command was presenting "specific proposals" to the central Congo government for forceful action to investigate and punish those responsible for the murder and to prevent a repetition.

If the government response seems insufficient, Smith said, the U.N. is prepared to act immediately on its own. He added that Malayan troops prepared for any necessary action, already are being flown to reinforce the 20th man Malayan U.N. garrison in Kindu.

The U.N. already had threatened military action if the rebellious soldiers—part of a disorderly command of more than 2,000 claiming allegiance to leftist Vice Premier Antoine Gizenga—failed to give up the Italians.

U.N. headquarters here was in teletype consultation with Acting Secretary-General U Thant in New York throughout the night to decide on the next steps to be taken by the world body.

The murder of the Italians was announced after word that Congolese Gen. Victor Lundula had returned to Kindu for another attempt to secure the Italians' release and to quell what was described as an open mutiny against the authority of the central government. Diplomats in Leopoldville said Gizenga himself was responsible for the mutiny.

The 13 Italian airmen had flown into Kindu in two C119 transports on a routine mission Saturday. Congolese troops attacked the airmen in the U.N. Malayan officers' mess, manhandled and beat them and took them off to the town prison.

Eyewitness reports to the U.N. said the men were shot before a crowd.

DeGaulle Urged To Free Fasting Trio

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle today faced mounting pressure from abroad to release three fasting Algerian nationalist leaders who reportedly intend to continue their hunger strike until set free.

Three Moroccan ministers sent by King Hassan II to plead with De Gaulle for the release of Mohammed Ben Bella, vice premier of the Algerian rebel government, and two rebel ministers announced Wednesday night that they were delaying their departure for home.

The announcement raised speculation that De Gaulle may be showing signs of freeing the three rebel leaders to avoid making them martyrs in Algeria's fight for independence.

Ben Bella and his fellow prisoners, Hussein Ait Ahmed and Mohammed Khider, were transferred under heavy guard from the Chateau de Turquant in the Loire Valley to Garches Hospital near Paris Monday night when French officials became concerned about their health.

The three started their fast Nov. 2, along with about 3,000 other Algerian prisoners in France who are on a hunger strike demanding better prison conditions.

Algerian spokesmen had indicated earlier that Ben Bella and his two ministers were demonstrating solidarity with all Algerians imprisoned by the French. But their attorneys made it clear that the three are fasting for their freedom. Ben Bella is determined to go on "to the end," his lawyer said.

The Moroccan ministers arrived Tuesday and talked with De Gaulle and Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville. They conferred again with Couve de Murville Wednesday and, after a hospital visit with the fasting Algerians, paid him a second visit Wednesday night.

In New York, meanwhile, the U.N. General Assembly by a 62-0 vote appealed to France to "redress the legitimate grievances of the Algerian prisoners in recognizing their status as political prisoners, with a view to making possible the immediate termination of the hunger strike."

France had declared in advance that it could not recognize any such action by the assembly and was not present for the voting. Thirty-one nations abstained—including the United States and Britain—on the resolution submitted on an emergency basis by 34 Asian and African nations.

Hospital sources reported that Ben Bella was able to walk with out assistance but that he appeared thin and tired.

President Leads Nation In Mourning For Sam Rayburn

In a statement released after the chief executive, saddened by the death of House Speaker Sam Rayburn, had taken off on a trip to the West Coast, Kennedy said the nation "has lost a devoted servant and the citizens of this country an unflinching friend."

The presidential statement echoed sentiments voiced in an outpouring of sad tributes which began flowing from the Capitol immediately after the news came from Bonham, Tex., where the speaker died.

There were no party lines in the expressions of grief over the loss of the man known as "Mr. Democrat." The Republicans who fought him at every step in the chambers of Congress were as outspoken in sorrow as the most loyal political followers.

The Kennedy statement:

"Mrs. Kennedy and I join the nation in mourning the death of Speaker Rayburn. His public service stretched from the administration of President Woodrow Wilson to the present day. But it was the quality of that service more than its length, that was so distinctive.

"A strong defender of constitutional responsibilities of the Congress, he had an instinctive understanding of the American system and was a loyal counselor and friend of presidents of both parties on the great matters which affected our national interest and security.

"I had singular opportunity as a young congressman, and more recently as president, to appreciate his perseverance and his character which were molded in rock and remained unchanged by circumstances.

"This country has lost a devoted servant and the citizens of this country an unflinching friend."

Two partners of the speaker in dealing with the nation's business —Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana—effectively summed up for their legislative colleagues.

Johnson's office spoke for the vice president while Johnson himself was on the way to the airport for a Western trip—a journey which Johnson cancelled upon receipt of the news. The statement said:

"The Capitol is a lonely place without him and the good people of the world have lost a companion and an ally. He was always there when he was needed. His voice and his judgment were heard and respected. In the end it all added up to one thing. He did what was right."

Mansfield put a similar view in these words:

"I feel that I have lost both a father and a brother, but I know the nation's loss is greater still. He was the last of the old frontiersmen and his place will be difficult to fill."

Rep. John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, likely successor in the speaker's post Sam Rayburn held so long, had this to say at Boston:

"In the death of Speaker Rayburn the country stops in sorrow.

Prominent Texans Join In Tribute

By The Associated Press

The death of Speaker Sam Rayburn brought immediate comment from Texas leaders and officials.

"I am deeply grieved to learn of the death of Sam Rayburn," said Gov. Price Daniel. "In more than half a century of public service Mr. Rayburn brought great honor and distinction to our state and made lasting contributions to welfare of the nation and the free world. His strong leadership will be missed greatly not only by our own country but by all the peaceful nations of the world."

Other comment included:

J. E. Connally, chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, said: "Mr. Sam was very close to me in fact, almost like a father—so his death is a great personal loss, and I am deeply saddened.

"Speaker Rayburn was truly the greatest living American. He now joins the ranks of the greatest of all great Americans.

"The people of this nation have lost their most distinguished and devoted public servant. No other man has done more for his country.

"We shall, indeed, miss Mr. Sam."

Byron Skelton, Texas Democratic national committeeman, said: "Sam Rayburn was one of America's great men of all times. He was a statesman without a peer. He walked and talked with the mighty; but never forgot the little man or those needing help or protection. He was so wholesome and down-to-earth in this daily living that he was loved and respected by everyone from the president of the country down to small children in the grade schools. They all felt that someone he belonged to them and that he was the protector and defender of their beloved United States of America. His passing is mourned by every responsible American. The hearts of Texans are filled with sadness and personal tragedy, because in losing Sam Rayburn they have truly lost a part of Texas."

Sen. Ralph Yarborough said: "Sam Rayburn was the tallest Texan of them all. As such he will stand in histories of the 20th Century world he helped so much to shape."

Three New U. S. Satellites Are Circling Globe Today

By HOWARD BENEDICT
Associated Press Staff Writer

Three new United States satellites circled the globe today seeking data for navigation and spy-in-the-sky space systems.

The trio soared aloft Wednesday in one of this nation's most productive days in the space age.

A pair of the satellites rode skyward in the nose of a Thor-Able Star rocket fired from Cape Canaveral Wednesday night. One is the 100-pound Transit 4B, carrying a nuclear generator for ultra-long-life operation. The other is a 240-pound "Dumbell" package which is intended to stretch out more than 100 feet in two weeks in a satellite stabilization experiment.

The satellite twins gave the U.S. a big boost toward a space navigation network to guide ships, planes, submarines and missiles.

Earlier, the 35th rocket in the Discoverer series flung a satellite into orbit from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., in another try at developing means of recovering capsules from space.

Within a few days, the Discoverer is scheduled to eject a capsule which Hawaii-based planes will attempt to snare as it parachutes to earth. Eight such capsules have been retrieved in previous tests. Retrieving the capsule is essential for recovering data from the Midas missile detector and Samos reconnaissance satellites.

The successes raised the total of successful U.S. satellites to 59. The Soviet Union has orbited 13.

In other missile-space developments Wednesday:

A Pershing artillery missile scored its 22nd success in 26 test firings on a short-range hop of less than 220 miles from Cape Canaveral.

The Nike-Zeus missile killer system registered a double triumph at White Sands, N.M. In one test, Zeus radar tracked a special missile test target. In the other, the launch, technique and ground electronics equipment were given a trial.

The Air Force launched Explorer XII, a 10-inch, 74-inch, 80-pound, 16-pound satellite named Oscar (for orbiting satellite carrying amateur radio) to beam signals to more than 200,000 amateur radio operators in this country. Intended to be kicked loose from a Discoverer, Oscar will enable the hams to practice the art of tracking and observing a moving space object.

Union Civic Center Sets Open House

An "Open House" is scheduled for tonight to officially open the new civic center at Union. Refreshments will be served and the public is invited between 7 and 9 p.m.

The new center is located about one mile west of Union and lies half in Scurry County Precinct 2 and half in Precinct 3. A green tile stripe on the floor from east to west divides the precincts. The precinct lines were changed several weeks ago so that this would be true. The change was made so that voters from both precincts could use the building as a polling place. Voting boxes 6 and 19 will be placed on their respective sides of the green line in all future elections, and voters in these boxes are reminded of their new polling places.

Truck Driver Hurt In Highway Mishap

Charles A. Wilson, Houston truck driver, was described as being in "fair" condition this morning at Cogdell Hospital following 5 one-vehicle accident about 3:30 a.m.

The International Marketing Co. transport he was driving overturned 15 miles west of Snyder on the Lamesa Highway. He was taken to Union by a passing motorist, and from there to the hospital by Bolger Ambulance Service. He is said to be suffering from severe chest injuries.

OLD BOOKS ARE DISPLAYED by Drew Bullard and Tommy Sinclair at the Lamar Jr. High library during the celebration of National Book Week this week. Between them is a microscope which is necessary to read the smallest book on display there.

Schools Observe Book Week Here

"Hooray for Books" is the theme of National Book Week being celebrated this week across the nation and in Snyder's schools.

At Lamar Junior High students were asked by their Librarian, Mrs. Rose Lemons, to bring in old or interesting books for display. According to Mrs. Lemons the response was exceptional. Over 115 items were brought in.

The exhibits are divided into Unusual books, Old Textbooks, Old Library books, Old Magazines and Old Newspapers.

Oldsters will recognize the "blue back spellers" and the McGuffy Readers. Others, perhaps not quite so old would enjoy the 1939 edition of the Tiger's Lair. The Junior high students are enjoying it.

The oldest book dated 1819 was brought by Tommy Sinclair. An 1826 book is shown by Deanie Wood.

In the old magazines a 1914 Good Housekeeping magazine devotes many many pages to the women's angle of the battle for suffrage. Noticeably absent from the advertising in the old Good Housekeeping were ads for washing machines, refrigerators, freezers and major appliances which we take for granted today and make up the bulk of advertising in women's magazines.

Several old newspapers are also displayed by the students. Included is a 1925 edition of the Scurry County Times. Of interest is the fact that the Hermleigh Bank boasted deposits of $200,000. Also, at a meeting was called for the next Thursday of Confederate veterans in the basement of the courthouse.

According to Mrs. Lemons the Book Week celebration is a real success. Not only was the response to the request for exhibits most gratifying, but the interest taken in the display has been exceptional.

Beria Death Story Told

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—A sensational new version of the arrest of Soviet police boss Lavrenty P. Beria; purporting to come from Premier Khrushchev, was reported by Polish Communist sources today.

They said Beria brandished a pistol and was disarmed by Khrushchev himself who wrestled with him in a heretofore undisclosed meeting of the Communist party politburo.

The informants said Beria later was tried and executed on Dec. 23, 1953 in Azerbaijan. This date agreed with previous announcements of the execution.

The Polish sources told Western newsmen they were present at a glass-clinking reception for about 1,000 persons during the recent Soviet party congress in Moscow when Khrushchev launched into the story of his physical struggle with Beria.

Two Mishaps Are Reported In City

Reds Warned Of Sunday Deadline

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department has drawn a deadline for Communist party leaders as deadline for registering with the government near.

The party has until Sunday to register with the department as an arm of the Soviet Union. If the party doesn't register, its officers must by Nov. 30.

Both deadlines are apt to be ignored by Communist party leaders, who have fought the issue in the courts since passage of the Subversive Activities Control Act of 1950, which prescribed the registrations. The Communists have vowed to go to jail rather than comply.

In the face of the defiance, Justice Department officials have begun mapping plans to prosecute. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy disclosed in testimony Wednesday the steps his department would take if the deadlines are ignored.

If the Communist leaders fail to register "as they have indicated," Kennedy told a meeting of the Associated Press Managing Editors convention, they will then be subject to a $10,000 fine and a five year imprisonment. We will also move in that area."

Both the party and its leaders are subject to a fine of up to $10,000 for each day of violation of the registration requirements. If the two deadlines are ignored there is a third party members must file by Dec. 20. If they don't, they face the same fine.

Also, individuals may draw a five-year prison term for each day they have not registered.

The showdown between the government and the Communists has been in the works since the law was passed. The deadlines are based on the Supreme Court's refusal last Oct. 9 to reconsider its decision upholding provisions of the 1950 law.

The law requires foreign-controlled organizations to give the department full details of their structure and operations — names and aliases of officers and members, sources of income, recipients and purposes of money spent, location of printing presses.

As for the Communists are concerned, the choice is between the frying pan and the fire: Prosecution under the 1950 act if they do not register, prosecution under the Smith Act of 1940 if they do. The 1940 law bans advocating violent overthrow of the government.

Tuesday, The Worker, Communist newspaper, said of the requirement to register as subversive agencies of a foreign power: "Of course, neither the Communist party nor any of its leaders will lend their signatures to such a life."

The government could deal the party a heavy financial blow by delaying prosecution while the potential penalty mounts.

J. Walter Yeagley, assistant attorney general in charge of the department's internal security division, said Wednesday:

"We're going to wait a while. As you know, the penalty is cumulative, but we haven't decided when we're going to file."

Your Postmaster says: Be sure your Christmas cards and packages arrive on time; please shop and mail early.

Boy Is Injured In Scooter Accident

Franklin Parsons, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe F. Parsons, 1806 Thirty-ninth, was injured shortly afternoon yesterday in a motor scooter accident.

The accident occurred just west of the Big Spring Highway on Thirty-fifth Street. He was taken from the scene to Cogdell Hospital by Bell Ambulance Service, where he was believed to be suffering from a mild concussion. He was discharged from the hospital this morning.

Kennedy On Western Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy, saddened by the death of House Speaker Sam Rayburn, set out today on a four-day Western trip.

The trip will be partly political but probably will open with a major foreign policy talk. The schedule includes Democratic party tributes and a display of naval striking power, but might be altered so that Kennedy could attend Rayburn's funeral.

Kennedy's big jet took off from Andrews Air Force Base in nearby Maryland at 9:31 a.m. EST for Seattle, where he speaks at the University of Washington's 100th anniversary celebration this afternoon.

Before leaving, Kennedy met with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and other foreign policy advisors. The discussions presumably included the visit to Washington next week by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany.

State Sues For Property

AUSTIN (AP) — The attorney general announced today the filing of the first suit under the state's new abandoned property recovery act.

The suit seeks recovery for the state of $1,094,150 in stock and dividends held for the unknown owner of a missing railroad land trust certificate. The case was filed in Dallas' 101st District Court.

The petition names the Mercantile National Bank of Dallas, trustees of the Texas Pacific Land Trust and various claimants to the missing certificate owner.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Henry Braswell said the missing certificate of proprietary interest was first issued in 1888, but no one has been able to establish ownership since. He said the certificate was issued as part of a plan of reorganization of the Texas and Pacific Railway Co., after it went into receivership in 1885.

Storm Damage In Mexico $16 Million

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Relief crews struggled across muddy reaches of Guerrero state today to feed the refugees and bury the dead of Cyclone Tara, now unofficially reported to have claimed 220 lives.

Authorities of the Pacific coastal region ravaged by the cyclone's wind and rain for more than three days last week estimated the damage, including homes and crops, at $16 million.

Desolation marked a 30-mile stretch of the countryside 80 to 90 miles north of the resort city of Acapulco.

Merchants Of Snyder . . . Through The Merchants Committee Of The Snyder Chamber of Commerce!

THE ORIGINAL THANKSGIVING feast took place after the Pilgrims completed a long, hard first winter and succeeded in the struggle to raise the crops vital to survival in the New World. The spirit of the momentous occasion was captured in Jennie Brownscombe's "The First Thanksgiving."

Ever See A Flat Pilgrim?

When the Pilgrims celebrated the first Thanksgiving in 1621, their menu would have put most of our modern Thanksgiving dinners to shame. In addition to the traditional turkey, the list of entrees for that first celebration included venison, wild geese, ducks, lobsters, eels, clams, oysters and several varieties of fish.

Accompanying the main courses were corn, gooseberries, strawberries, cherries, grapes, plums, cranberries and biscuits made from flour carried in the Mayflower's stores.

For dessert, the Pilgrims had Indian pudding made from flour, molasses and cranberries, using a recipe given them by the friendly Indian, Squanto. They may also have had fruit pies and tarts.

All this was washed down with new wine made from the local grape crop, with perhaps a few strong spirits from the ship's stores.

Contrary to common belief, the first Thanksgiving celebration was not one meal, but a three - day series of meals eaten by 140 persons, including 90 Indians who were guests of the Pilgrims. After the long, hard first winter and the struggle to raise the first crops, we may imagine the Pilgrims adopted the Indian custom of eating heartily as long as the food lasted.

While it is difficult to estimate accurately the number of calories consumed in the three - day Pilgrim Thanksgiving feast, it is safe to assume from the variety of foods that the celebrants far exceeded what is now regarded as a proper daily intake.

But even when he let himself go on occasions of special feasts such as the first celebration of the harvest in the New World, the Pilgrim didn't have much of a problem about the calories he consumed turning into excess weight. He lived a rugged outdoor existence requiring long hours of hard manual labor. Any weight added by the feasts was soon lost in doing the daily chores. If you remember the paintings and drawings of the Mayflower settlement, you never saw a fat Pilgrim.

As today's Americans emulate their Pilgrim forefathers in celebrating Thanksgiving, they may not enjoy the extreme variety of foods featured in 1621. But many will exceed recommended caloric intake by a great deal.

If he sampled each of the foods on that first Thanksgiving menu, the average Pilgrim probably consumed about 3,000 calories at a sitting. The modern Thanksgiving dinner, although more temperate in its variety, boasts foods that are generally richer than the leaner wild game and the berries on the Pilgrim's menu. And the 1961 dinner can easily exceed proper caloric intake by understandable failure to resist second and third helpings of turkey, dressing, sweet potatoes, pie or other delicacies.

Technological progress has released us from the hard exercise that was so much a part of the early colonist's life; but this is a mixed blessing. It is this same lack of hard exercise — along with overeating — that contributes to the problem of excess weight. For while the Pilgrim worked off those excess calories, modern Americans do not.

However, science has a way of correcting the problems it creates, such as easier living. One of the most popular of its developments recently, of course, has been an effective way to control weight, alleviating the need in virtually all cases to face a weight increase from heavy holiday dining. Tested formulas — exemplified in the 900 - calorie weight control foods — make it possible to control caloric intake at no sacrifice in nutritional requirements.

Party Souffle Fits Budget

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

A cold souffle is always pleasant to serve to guests because a hostess can prepare it well ahead of a party.

In making this elegant dessert, it's well to give special attention to certain techniques. Why? Because we have heard cooks murmur that their creations do not reach the heights of the cold souffles they see in professional photographs.

If you've had trouble creating a really high cold souffle, and we'll admit we've had, you'll be interested in the techniques we found successful with the following recipe.

Make sure that you follow the recipe directions for beating both egg yolks and egg whites. We use an electric mixer for this. Be certain, before adding the sugar to the whites, that you beat them until stiff peaks form. This means that when you slowly lift the beater out of the whites, the peaks will stand straight up without bending over slightly at the tips. After slowly beating in the sugar, continue beating until the meringue is extremely stiff.

Fold the whipped cream (or whipped evaporated milk) into the chocolate mixture, not the other way around.

Impressive as this Mocha Souffle is, it won't make holes in a budget. At recent New York supermarket prices, the souffle (using heavy cream) cost $1.40; using evaporated milk, it cost 79 cents.

Whether cream or evaporated milk is used, the souffle's flavor is delicious. However its texture is "spongier" with evaporated milk than it is with cream — probably because more air is beaten in with the milk than with the cream.

MOCHA SOUFFLE

¾ cup sugar
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1 cup cold coffee
1 package (6 ounces) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
6 eggs (separated)
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cream of tartar
1 cup heavy cream (whipped)

Stir together ½ cup of the sugar and the gelatin in a saucepan; stir in the coffee. Stir constantly over medium - low heat until the gelatin is dissolved. Add the chocolate; stir until melted and the mixture is smooth; remove from heat. Beat egg yolks until thick and pale - colored; gradually and gently beat into the chocolate mixture. Allow to stand at room temperature until the bottom of the saucepan feels lukewarm. With clean beater, beat egg whites, salt and cream of tartar until stiff peaks form. Beat in, 1 tablespoon at a time, the remaining ½ cup sugar; continue beating until very stiff. Fold in chocolate mixture, then whipped cream. Turn into a 1½ - quart souffle dish with a 2-inch collar. Chill until firm. At serving time carefully remove collar. Makes 12 servings.

Evaporated Milk Version: Instead of 1 cup heavy cream, use one 6-ounce can (2-3 cup) evaporated milk, whipped. To whip evaporated milk, chill in freezer tray of refrigerator until ice crystals form around edges. Turn into chilled bowl and beat vigorously with rapid - action hand rotary beater or high speed of electric beater until milk is stiff.

To Make Paper Collar: Fold waxed paper into several thicknesses 3 inches wide and long enough to go around souffle dish with a generous overlap. Attch to outer surface of dish with sealing tape, leaving one inch of the paper below rim of dish to make collar two inches high.

South Seas Named Rose Of Year

A new giant in the rose kingdom . . . a giant in size, fragrance, novelty and the luminescent Tahitian pink that inspired the name — South Seas — for this unusual hybrid tea, has been chosen the 1962 Rose of the Year.

The choice of a majority of 10,000 home gardeners . . . members of a national rose testing panel . . . South Seas will be introduced this spring.

A brilliant young hybridist who also produced King's Ransom, a current All - America Rose Selection, South Seas passed with flying colors a one year trial by test growers in all parts of the country.

The director of plant research also has another All - America rose to his credit, the floribunda, Fusilier.

His newest effort is a robust, tall growing plant (3 to 4 feet in height) that produces enormous Tahitian pink flowers up to 7½ inches across. Fully double, the flowers are high centered and saturated with a heavenly fragrance. A pronounced luminescence of the petals imparts extraordinary brilliance and glamour to the exhibition type bloom.

The well branched plant produces strong, upright canes that are excellent for cutting. Abundant foliage covers the plant well and the dark green leaves have an inbred resistance to disease.

The overall habit of South Seas is tall, full and well rounded — especially at the base. Lateral branches usually develop before the terminal flower opens, creating a plant of remarkable freedom and continuity of bloom.

South Seas is not only a prodigious producer of blooms but it is especially tolerant of extreme temperatures — performing as well when the thermometer registers over 100 degrees as other roses do at 75 degrees.

The combined majesty and elegance of the individual blooms provides South Seas with a crowning glory that is unique in all respects. Its perfection of form, color and fragrance have never failed to generate unabashed enthusiasm among those who have either grown or seen South Seas. In addition, the remarkable vigor and vitality of the plant . . . the size, abundance and beauty of its foliage provide a combination rarely seen in modern roses.

To its coveted title of Rose of the Year, South Seas will add many blue ribbons for those who grow it for competition . . . and just plain adulation from those gardeners who want a prize winning beauty for their own home planting.

A particularly good choice is a washable stretch bra that fits well both now and "then." Just be sure that the junior miss learns why and how she should suds and rinse her bra after every wearing.

Denver City, Albany Head Up Schoolboys

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

Denver City and Albany start after repeat championships of Texas schoolboy football this week as the lower classes open state play.

Classes AAAA and AAA will be rounding out their playoff brackets with the district championships. ... in the former and ... in the latter. Each will have ... championships.

Wichita Falls and Corpus Christi Ray, favorites of Class AAAA, will be after district crowns Friday night, Wichita Falls against Grand Prairie and Ray against McAllen.

In Class AAA, Breckenridge, four times champion and twice co-champion, will be playing Graham with a view toward the district title, thus eliminating Brownwood, the defending state champion. Breckenridge played Brownwood to a scoreless tie and won on penetrations in the event it loses no district games.

Denver City and Albany, with 25-game and 24-game winning streaks respectively, head fields of 32 teams in each division as the AA and A state playoffs start moving.

Denver City plays twice-beaten Crane at Denver City Saturday afternoon. One of the losses suffered by Crane during the regular season was at the hands of Denver City, 15-6.

Jacksboro, favorite for the Class AA title, starts against Decatur, a team with a 6-4 record, at Weatherford Saturday night. Decatur is a substitute—it took the place of Azle, which ran into eligibility trouble. Azle won the Dist. 10 championship but was found to have a player, halfback Jimmy Stewart, over the age limit. Decatur, as district runner-up, got the playoff spot.

The future doesn't look too bright for Decatur. It was beaten 81-0 by Jacksboro during the regular season.

Albany, an overwhelming favorite to repeat with the championship in Class A, opens against Mason, a team with a 7-2-1 record, at Albany Friday night.

There are five former state champions in the two classes—Terrell, Brady and Denver City in AA and Wink and Albany in Class A. Wink and Albany both are in the upper bracket and if they get through four rounds will be meeting in the semi-finals.

Class AA: Friday, Dalhart vs. Floydada at Canyon (night), Quanah at Hamlin (night), Hamilton at Ballinger (night), Duncanville vs. Plano at Garland (night), Terrello vs. Gilmer at Pine Tree (night), Hillsboro at Brady (night), Hearne at Georgetown (night), Columbus at Livingston (night), Gonzales vs. Pleasanton at Kenedy (night), Missouri City Dulles vs. Sweeny at Alvin (night), Devine at Freer (night), Donna at Refugio (night); Saturday, Crane at Denver City, Jacksboro vs. Decatur at Weatherford (night), Hooks vs. Jefferson at Texarkana (night).

Class A: Friday, Gruver vs. McLean at Borger (night), Kress vs. Idalou at Plainview (night), Seagraves vs. Rotan at Seminole (night), Sonora at Wink (night), Crowell vs. Burleson at Olney (night), Pilot Point vs. Forney at Richardson (night), Mt. Vernon vs. Overton at Pittsburg (night), Brownwood vs. London at Jacksonville (night), San Augustine vs. Groveton at Nacogdoches (night), Waco Connally at Franklin (night), Thorndale vs. Shiner at La Grange (night), Hull-Daisetta vs. Crosby at Liberty (night), Louise at Sealy (night), Bandera vs. Three Rivers at Jourdanton (night), Woodsboro vs. Rio Hondo at Bishop (night).

San Angelo, Fort Worth Paschal, Houston Milby, Spring Branch, Galena Park and San Antonio Jefferson already hold district championships of Class AAAA. Others expected to be crowned this week are Ysleta, Borger, Wichita Falls, Dallas Kimball, Denison, Texarkana, Port Neches, Austin, Corpus Christi Ray and San Antonio Brackenridge.

Dumas, Seminole, San Angelo Lake View, Carrollton, Gainesville, Bay City, Port Lavaca and San Benito already are in the state playoff in Class AAA. The others are expected to be Breckenridge, Carthage, Corsicana, Cleburne, Nederland, Angleton, San Antonio Lee and Del Rio.

Things Must Get Better For 49ers

By HARRY JUPITER
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Like a Viennese analyst, Coach Red Hickey is trying to restore the confidence of his San Francisco 49ers by reminding them of happier days.

"Things weren't always like this," he tells his warriors, wounded in pride and body, as they prepare for Sunday's National Football League clash with the Chicago Bears.

He's showing them movies of their finest hours — their 49-0 trouncing of Detroit and 35-0 shellacking of Los Angeles in October. To the 49ers, that seems a long time ago.

San Francisco was sitting atop the football world a month ago but they've lost three and tied one in their last four games.

"The boys are working hard," Hickey says, "and I'm trying to encourage 'em. There never has been any apparent lack of effort."

Len Rohde will go at offensive tackle in place of big Bob St. Clair, who has a painfully pulled thigh muscle.

Abe Woodson, who won all league honors last year, is back in the defensive secondary in place of Jerry Mertens.

But Hickey won't say whether he plans to go with John Brodie or Bill Kilmer or both at quarterback now that Bobby Waters, the third triggerman in the shotgun triumvirate, is injured and apparently through for the season.

"That's for the bears to find out," Hickey says, "but we'll have some surprises for 'em."

Hawks Going Down, Down

By The Associated Press

The St. Louis Hawks, five times Western Division champions of the National Basketball Association, slipped into fourth place of the five-team Western Division Wednesday night, bowing to Detroit 127-122.

It was the Hawks' fifth loss in six games. They now stand 5-9 for the season.

"I'm here to trade," he said in Detroit. "I'm not talking about my 10th man. I'd trade any of our top players. They tell me I've got three of the best players in the world. Well, I'm ready."

That position, however, was quickly reversed by owner Ben Kerner in St. Louis. "No Hawk players are on the market until they are put there by this office," he said.

The Detroit victory moved it past St. Louis into third place. In the other games, Philadelphia snapped Cincinnati's six-game winning string 145-133, Syracuse dumped New York into the Eastern Division cellar 114-102 and Los Angeles defeated Chicago 133-118.

Bailey Howell with 30 and Don Ohl with 28 paced the Pistons, while Cliff Hagan's 30 points was tops for St. Louis.

Philadelphia led virtually all the way in ending the Cincinnati string, but had to overcome a spectacular performance by Oscar Robertson, who had 49 points, high for his pro career.

Rudolph, Cupit Slosh Into Lead

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — The weatherman boosted spirits today as the $15,000 Cajun Classic golf tourney teed off following nearly a week of heavy rains.

Almost two inches fell on the hilly Oakbourne Country Club course Wednesday, but two promising youngsters—Mason Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn., and Jackie Cupit of Longview, Tex.—blasted through the water with four-under-par 67s in the pro-am event.

The sizzling 67s by Cupit and Rudolph served notice that favorite Jay and Lionel Hebert, natives of Louisiana, and staccato-swinging Doug Sanders have their work cut out on the 6,534-yard course.

Lionel Hebert won the tourney last year, while Jay took the crown in 1959.

Some Strange Things Are Happening

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Shades of yesteryear—there's a Friday afternoon and a Saturday morning game on tap this week in college football.

Virginia Tech entertains George Washington at Blacksburg, Va., in the Friday afternoon game. Saturday morning South Carolina and North Carolina State clash at Raleigh, N.C.

The N.C. State-South Carolina Atlantic Coast Conference game was rescheduled to avoid a conflict with the Duke-North Carolina contest at Durham Saturday afternoon which will determine the ACC champion.

The nation's top-ranked teams and bowl hopefuls were confident of avoiding upsets such as hit Georgia Tech and Colorado last Saturday.

Texas, ranked No. 1 in The Associated Press poll, engaged in a brisk workout stressing pass offense for Texas Christian.

Michigan State, seeking to rebound against Northwestern after last week's surprise defeat by Purdue, will be minus guards Ed Budde and Wayne Fontes. Both suffered ankle sprains. Ohio State guard Wayne Betz also suffered an ankle injury and is a doubtful starter against Oregon.

Optimist Club Hosts School Managers

Several of the "unsung heroes" among the younger set—Snyder's junior high football managers—were the featured guests of the Optimist Club at noon today during their regular weekly meeting as held at Sallie's Restaurant.

Hosting of the group represents a part of the club's annual Youth Appreciation Week observance in which the wealth of juvenile "decency"—often going unnoticed—is recognized and lauded.

The Optimists observe the special week each year, with November 13-19 being the time set aside for recognition in 1961.

Travis managers honored at the fete were Randy Feagan and Aubry Jones (7th grade), William Wemken (8th) and Jesse King and Johnny Nokes (9th). Tending to Lamar's managerial duties and representing that school at the meeting were Robert Golden and Billy Wilson (7th), Tom Duke and George Norris (8th), and Buster Melton and Jim Sullenger (9th).

R. E. Cooper, Lamar principal, and Jim Stewart, Travis assistant principal, will accompany the boys to the meeting.

LSU Sniffing Roses After Sugar Shun

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—With bowl atmosphere hanging heavy over Baton Rouge like Dixie dew, Louisiana State's Bayou Bengals stalk Mississippi State Saturday night for a victory that may pave the road to the Rose Bowl.

With LSU turning down a bid to the New Orleans Sugar Bowl earlier this week and conjecture that the Tigers may head west for a New Year's Day showing, the game with Mississippi State has almost been lost in the shuffle—almost.

LSU, gunning for its eighth straight triumph after a season-opening loss to Rice, figures as a three-touchdown favorite.

These are the weapons state must face:

Bengal halfback Jerry Stovall, looking more and more like an All America, leads the Tigers in rushing with 333 yards, has received nine passes for 135 yards and has a 38.2-yard punting average.

The passing of quarterbacks Lonn Amedee and Jimmy Field, who have completed 42 of 99 tosses for 594 yards.

Halfback Wendell Harris, the top scorer in the SEC, who seems to be approaching the peak once predicted for him.

And a savage line anchored by All America guard candidate Roy Winston.

Mississippi State now 5-3 for the season—offers the running of fullback Mackie Weaver—298 yards on 89 attempts—and the passing of Billy Hill, John Correro and Charlie Furlow. The three have completed 69 of 120 passes for 776 yards.

A near-sellout crowd of about 65,000 is expected to be in Tiger stadium for the 8 p.m. (CST) kickoff.

Pistol Pete Retains Lead With 20 TDs

NEW YORK (AP) — Pete Pedro of West Texas State continues to lead major college football players in scoring and Hugh Campbell of Washington State has virtually clinched his second straight pass-catching title, the latest NCAA Service Bureau statistics showed today.

Pedro has scored 20 touchdowns, only four short of the record set by Art Luppino of Arizona in 1954, for 120 points. Jim (Preacher) Pilot of New Mexico State is second with 96 points.

Campbell caught only two passes last Saturday. But with two games left to play, he holds a 10-reception edge over Oscar Donahue of San Jose State, who has only one game remaining. Campbell has caught 44 passes and Donohue 34.

Larry Vargo of Detroit and Mack Burton, San Jose State, have scored the most touchdowns with passes, seven apiece.

Lance Alworth of Arkansas is the punt runback leader with 275 yards on 23 returns. Idaho's Dick Mooney maintained his lead in kickoff returns with 494 yards on 23 returns. Greg Mather of Navy, who booted a field goal in his team's loss to Duke Saturday, has scored the most points by kicking, 47.

Championship Is Placed On Line

CHICAGO (AP)—A field of 128 men and 64 women will warm up tonight in a "parade of champions" for the fifth annual world's invitational match game bowling championship.

The 10-day tourney, with a distribution of $48,240 in prize money, formally starts Friday with the entry list representing 25 states and Canada and Mexico.

The preview in tonight's special competition for $3,000 in prizes will be followed by day and evening sessions for nine days and a climactic single daytime session on Sunday, Nov. 26.

After the first four days, the fields will be sliced to 48 men and 32 women, a double round Tuesday, Nov. 21, will send 15 men and 15 women into the match-play finals along with defending champions Don Carter of St. Louis and Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Maris Dubbed MVP

By SKIPPER PATRICK
Associated Press Sports Writer

RAYTOWN, Mo. (AP)—Home run king Roger Maris, sporting his second most valuable player award in as many seasons, looks to the 1962 American League season as a challenge to keep on doing his "very best to help the Yankees to another pennant."

The reticent slugger, who socked 61 home runs last season, again edged out Yankee teammate Mickey Mantle for the award in voting by 20 members of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Maris received 202 points to Mantle's 198. A year ago he beat Mantle by only three points.

Jim Gentile, Baltimore's first baseman, was third in the poll with 157 points. Norm Cash, Detroit first baseman, was fourth with 151 points and Yankee pitcher Whitey Ford fifth with 109.

Based on a count of 14 points for first place, 9 for second, 8 for third down to one for 10th, Luis Arroyo, New York's great relief pitcher received 95 points for sixth place. Frank Lary, Detroit pitcher, with 53 points; Rocky Colavito, Detroit outfielder, 51; Al Kaline, Detroit outfielder, 35, and New York catcher Elston Howard, 30, rounded out the top 10.

Speaking for his family—wife Patricia and four young children—Maris said: "I'm real happy. All of us are happy. I was hoping all along I would win it but I wasn't sure until I got the official call."

Busy with details of building a new home "in the greater Kansas City area," Maris said he is dedicated toward "helping the Yanks win the pennant again next season."

Maris, who also led the American League with 142 runs batted in, got seven first place votes, six for second place, three each for third and fourth and one for sixth. He played in all but one game during the season, getting 159 hits in 590 times at bat for a .269 average. Slugging at a .620 clip, he had 16 doubles, 4 triples and scored 132 runs.

Maris won the 1960 MVP award on 39 homers and 112 runs batted in.

Mantle, hampered with injuries during late season, hit 54 homers and batted .317. He drove 132 runs in. The Mick had six first place votes, seven seconds, two for third and five for fourth.

Gentile, a sophomore, got five more votes for first place. His 46 home runs decorated a .302 batting average. He was only one behind Maris in rbi with 141.

Cash was named on every ballot along with Maris and Mantle. He received one first place vote for his league leading .361 batting average, 41 homers and 132 r.b.i.'s.

Arroyo, who had a 15-5 record and a 2.18 earned run average, got the other first place vote.

Maris hit his 61st homer in the last game of a 162-game schedule after he had fallen out short of Ruth's 1927 mark in the former 154-game distance.

Between You And Me

BY JERRY JACKSON

Take four backs and subtract one, add in that a forward wall less two tackles, put them all together. Now, whatcha got?

The answer to that riddle is: an eight-man football team.

A grid rarity—at least from a local standpoint—will be in the offing here Friday in Tiger Stadium when Grandfalls-Royalty and Oklaunion meet head-on in their Region II title clash. As far as can be determined, the game represents the first eight-man clash in history to be played in Snyder.

Borden County's Gail Coyotes, who traditionally give everybody a run for their eight-man money, have nabbed several district titles in the past years, but have never succeeded in making it here for a playoff tilt. On one occasion the Coyotes pointed to Snyder, but lost out on the proposed site by the margin of a coin flip.

Snyder is a "natural" as a base for the upcoming battle, as it is the city of consequence most nearly equi-distant from the two competing schools. Oklaunion is little more than a hop, skip and jump from the Red River's banks in north Texas (near Vernon), while Grandfalls is located near Monahans.

In order to avoid confusion as far as the "Class B" designation of the game is concerned, it may be noted that both eight-man and 11-man schools of comparable enrollment bear that tag. The option rests with individual schools as to whether to take part in eight or 11-man ball depending on the existing manpower on which they have to draw.

Eight-man game rules are comparable to those of standard 11-man, with the primary difference being the size of the playing field. The playing areas as we commonly see them are 50 yards in width and 100 yards in length, while in contrast the eight-man fields are scaled at 40 by 80 yards.

Advance poop on the game (Oklaunion's Cardinals are 9-1, including bi-district, while the Cowboys of Grandfalls are 8-1-1) points to the fact that it should be a real corker. Also, as a yardstick of the interest generated it has been learned that Grandfalls officials have requested that a block of 1500 tickets be furnished them for advance sale within the area.

Tickets are $1.25 for adults and 50 cents for students, and the larger the turnout of local fans on hand the better the chances of Snyder's securing other playoff games in the future.

The grapevine has it that Denver City, which thumped Olney here in ice-clad Tiger Stadium in last year's playoffs, is again interested in returning here should an occasion for a neutral site avail itself. They are fortunate this Saturday in catching Crane at home in a bi-district tussle, and should the Mustangs win and advance further in the playoff picture Snyder's chances would be enhanced considerably by a good reception as afforded the Grandfalls-Oklaunion visitors here this Friday.

Title Shot Promised Ortiz-Rosi Victor

NEW YORK (AP) — The winner of Saturday's Carlos Ortiz-Paolo Rosi fight will get a title bout with lightweight champion Joe Brown, matchmaker, Teddy Brenner said today.

He said Brown's manager, Lou Viscusi, agreed to the bout in telephone conversation.

"He accepted our offer of a $60,000 guarantee," Brenner said. "The fight will take place in March. The site hasn't been selected."

Brenner said the fight probably will be in either Houston or New York.

Rosi, a native of Italy, and Puerto Rican-born Ortiz, now fight out of New York.

'B' Cagers In Fluvanna For 8 P. M. Clash

The Snyder Tiger "B" cagers, eager but untested, drop the mantle from off their 1961-62 season tonight in Fluvanna when they take on the Buffs of that community in an 8 o'clock contest.

Tiger coach V. V. Shearburn has indicated that his lineup is still in the tentative stages. His starting unit, however, will be drawn from the octet composed of James Sellers, Billy Stewart, Darrell Aldridge, Harley Bynum, Benny Minnor, Gale Potter, Edward Schulz, and Jim Marcum.

Buff mentor Mackie Greene has announced that his starting five will sport Roy Summers at center, Joe Zapata and Bill Kingston at forwards, and Charlie Berryhill and either Joe Beaver or Wayne Green at the guard psoitions.

FINE EDGE TOO SOON?

Abe Concerned Over Sharpness

By The Associated Press

Texas, the nation's No. 1 team, goes after its ninth straight victory Saturday and its opponent, Texas Christian, fears it might be too sharp.

This unusual situation developed Wednesday when Coach Abe Martin of Texas Christian, thinking his Horned Frogs had been too sharp in practice, said he sure wished the boys had a normal let down Thursday.

"We may lose our edge before game time," he explained.

Texas probably wishes it would, but the Longhorns weren't taking any chances on the Frogs having a letdown—they went through a brisk workout, emphasizing pass offense.

Expectations were that Texas Christian, with its Sonny Gibbs in the saddle, would be using the pass plenty and Texas may be preparing to fight fire with fire.

Southern Methodist got glummer when it lost another regular Tuesday. Right halfback Tommy Brennan went out with a knee injury and might not be able to play against Arkansas at Dallas Saturday.

Arkansas, however, had plenty of spirit and it wasn't dampened in the least although the Razorbacks had to work out in the rain. Coach Frank Broyles was somewhat concerned about his defense for the SMU spread formation. It was new stuff for the Razorbacks, who have had to defense only against the T formation until now.

Texas A&M polished its aerial attack as the Aggies prepared to invade Houston for a crack at Rice. Coach Jim Myers had six players on the injury list and feared one of them, tackle George Hogan, may not be able to play Saturday.

At Houston, most of the talk concerned an effigy that appeared on the campus. It was the first one to be hung up to Coach Jess Neely in 22 years as headman at Rice.

The Owls haven't been doing very well in the Southwest Conference race, where they were supposed to be one of the leaders, and a loss to Arkansas last week that knocked Rice out of a shot at second place added to the agitation.

Baylor, which hosts Air Force Academy Saturday, was cheered when all its injured appeared likely to be in shape to play. Three of them were ready for full service and a couple—quarterback Bobby Ply and fullback Dalton Hoffman—may be able to play part time.

Texas Tech, which has the week off, got in its first practice of the week Wednesday. The Red Raiders had taken out Monday and Tuesday as a reward for beating Boston College.

HANGIN' TREE NOTES

Jess Joins Bill In Effigy Parade

HOUSTON (AP) — The Southwest Conference appears to be running ahead of schedule on effigies.

Already two football coaches have had the little figures erected to them. The conference usually has only one a season.

Jess Neely, for 22 years coach of Rice, had his first effigy Wednesday. It was hanging from a tree limb on the Rice campus and across the back were the words: "Jess Neely, November coach, Arkansas 10, Rice 0."

Neely has been noted for his great finishes but his team this year has won only four while losing three after being rated one of the top outfits of the conference.

Coach Bill Meek of Southern Methodist had his effigy Saturday when his team lost to Texas A&M. SMU has won only two games all season and was winless in 1960.

There also was a "Fire Meek" sign burned into the grass at Ownby Stadium, the SMU practice field.

President Willis Tate of Southern Methodist called them "unwise and unkind things . . . I believe that it is in the American tradition to be a good loser as well as be a good winner. And I hope the excitable anonymous people who performed these tasteless acts will remember and act by that tradition in the future."

Another coach in the conference, reportedly under fire for failure to win enough games, apparently had weathered the storm without an effigy. He was Jim Myers, coach of Texas A&M, whose team was reported hurt by dissension. The players in question, however, denied it.

The Dallas Times Herald said it had learned Myers would be offered a new long-term contract next week.

A DAILY VIEW

by Rev. R. Charles Spivey

"But Ittai answered the King, 'As the Lord lives, and as my Lord the king lives, wherever king shall be, whether for death or for life, there also will your servant be'."

II Samuel 15:21 (Read verses 19-23.)

This is real loyalty. Ittai didn't have to follow King David. He was a foreigner in the land, only recently moved there, had no oath of fealty. But Ittia felt that he was an adopted son, a real part of the family, and thus was ready to follow Daivid even to the death.

This kind of loyalty is desperately needed today for the sake of Christ. We need to feel that we are a part of the real family of God. That Christ is our King; that we will follow Him no matter what or no matter where.

Denver City, Albany Head Up Schoolboys

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

Denver City and Albany start after repeat championships of Texas schoolboy football this week as the lower classes open state playoff.

Classes AAAA and AAA will be rounding out their playoff brackets with 10 district championships to be decided in the former and eight in the latter. Each will have 16 district titlists.

Wichita Falls and Corpus Christi Ray, favorites of Class AAAA, will be after district crowns Friday night, Wichita Falls against Grand Prairie and Ray against McAllen.

In Class AAA, Breckenridge, four times champion and twice co-champion, will be playing Graham with a view toward the district title, thus eliminating Brownwood, the defending state champion. Breckenridge played Brownwood to a scoreless tie and won on penetrations in the event it loses no district games.

Denver City and Albany, with 25-game and 24-game winning streaks respectively, head fields of 32 teams in each division as the AA and A state playoffs start moving.

Denver City plays twice-beaten Crane at Denver City Saturday afternoon. One of the losses suffered by Crane during the regular season was at the hands of Denver City, 15-6.

Jacksboro, favorite for the Class AA title, starts against Decatur, a team with a 6-4 record, at Weatherford Saturday night. Decatur is a substitute—it took the place of Azle, which ran into eligibility trouble. Azle won the Dist. 10 championship but was found to have a player, halfback Jimmy Stewart, over the age limit. Decatur, as district runner-up, got the playoff spot.

The future doesn't look too bright for Decatur. It was beaten 81-0 by Jacksboro during the regular season.

Albany, an overwhelming favorite to repeat with the championship in Class A, opens against Mason, a team with a 7-2-1 record, at Albany Friday night.

There are five former state champions in the two classes —Terrell, Brady and Denver City in AA and Wink and Albany in Class A. Wink and Albany both are in the upper bracket and if they get through four rounds will be meeting in the semi-finals.

Class AA: Friday, Dalhart vs. Floydada at Canyon (night), Quanah at Hamlin (night), Hamilton at Ballinger (night), Duncanville vs. Plano at Garland (night), Terrell vs. Gilmer at Pine Tree (night), Hillsboro at Brady (night), Hearne at Georgetown (night), Columbus at Livingston (night), Gonzales vs. Pleasanton at Kenedy (night), Missouri City Dulles vs. Sweeny at Alvin (night), Devine at Freer (night), Donna at Refugio (night); Saturday, Crane at Denver City, Jacksboro vs. Decatur at Weatherford (night), Hooks vs. Jefferson at Texarkana (night).

Class A: Friday, Gruver vs. McLean at Borger (night), Kress vs. Idalou at Plainview (night), Seagraves vs. Rotan at Seminole (night), Sonora at Wink (night), Crowell vs. Burleson at Olney (night), Pilot Point vs. Forney at Richardson (night), Mt. Vernon vs. Overton at Pittsburg (night), Brownwood vs. London at Jacksonville (night), San Augustine vs. Groveton at Nacogdoches (night), Waco Connally at Franklin (night), Thorndale vs. Shiner at La Grange (night), Hull-Daisetta vs. Crosby at Liberty (night), Louise at Sealy (night), Bandera vs. Three Rivers at Jourdanton (night), Woodsboro vs. Rio Hondo at Bishop (night).

San Angelo, Fort Worth Paschal, Houston Milby, Spring Branch, Galena Park and San Antonio Jefferson already hold district championships of Class AAAA. Others expected to be crowned this week are Ysleta, Borger, Wichita Falls, Dallas Kimball, Denison, Texarkana, Port Neches, Austin, Corpus Christi Ray and San Antonio Brackenridge.

Dumas, Seminole, San Angelo Lake View, Carrollton, Gainesville, Bay City, Port Lavaca and San Benito already are in the state playoff in Class AAA. The others are expected to be Breckenridge, Carthage, Corsicana, Cleburne, Nederland, Angleton, San Antonio Lee and Del Rio.

Things Must Get Better For 49ers

By HARRY JUPITER
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Like a Viennese analyst, Coach Red Hickey is trying to restore the confidence of his San Francisco 49ers by reminding them of happier days.

"Things weren't always like this," he tells his warriors, wounded in pride and body, as they prepare for Sunday's National Football League clash with the Chicago Bears.

He's showing them movies of their finest hours — their 49-0 trouncing of Detroit and 35-0 shellacking of Los Angeles in October. To the 49ers, that seems a long time ago.

San Francisco was sitting atop the football world a month ago but they've lost three and tied one in their last four games.

"The boys are working hard," Hickey says, "and I'm trying to encourage 'em. There never has been any apparent lack of effort."

Len Rohde will go at offensive tackle in place of big Bob St. Clair, who has a painfully pulled thigh muscle.

Abe Woodson, who won all league honors last year, is back in the defensive secondary in place of Jerry Mertens.

But Hickey won't say whether he plans to go with John Brodie or Bill Kilmer or both at quarterback now that Bobby Waters, the third triggerman in the shotgun triumvirate, is injured and apparently through for the season.

"That's for the bears to find out," Hickey says, "but we'll have some surprises for 'em."

Hawks Going Down, Down

By The Associated Press

The St. Louis Hawks, five times Western Division champions of the National Basketball Association, slipped into fourth place of the five-team Western Division Wednesday night, bowing to Detroit 127-122.

It was the Hawks' fifth loss in six games. They now stand 5-9 for the season.

"I'm here to trade," he said in Detroit. "I'm not talking about my 10th man. I'd trade any of our top players. They tell me I've got three of the best players in the world. Well, I'm ready."

That position, however, was quickly reversed by owner Ben Kerner in St. Louis. "No Hawk players are on the market until they are put there by this office," he said.

The Detroit victory moved it past St. Louis into third place. In the other games, Philadelphia snapped Cincinnati's six-game winning string 145-133, Syracuse dumped New York into the Eastern Division cellar 114-102 and Los Angeles defeated Chicago 133-118.

Baily Howell with 30 and Don Ohl with 28 paced the Pistons, while Cliff Hagan's 30 points was tops for St. Louis.

Philadelphia led virtually all the way in ending the Cincinnati string, but had to overcome a spectacular performance by Oscar Robertson, who had 49 points, high for his pro career.

Rudolph, Cupit Slosh Into Lead

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — The weatherman boosted spirits today as the $15,000 Cajun Classic golf tourney teed off following nearly a week of heavy rains.

Almost two inches fell on the rolling Oakbourne Country Club course Wednesday, but two promising youngsters—Mason Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn., and Jackie Cupit of Longview, Tex.—blasted through the water with four-under-par 67s in the pro-am event.

The sizzling 67s by Cupit and Rudolph served notice that favorites Jay and Lionel Hebert, natives of Louisiana, and staccato-swinging Doug Sanders have their work cut out on the 6,534-yard course.

Lionel Hebert won the tourney last year, while Jay took the crown in 1958.

Optimist Club Hosts School Managers

Several of the "unsung heroes" among the younger set—Snyder's junior high football managers—were the featured guests of the Optimist Club at noon today during their regular weekly meeting as held at Sallie's Restaurant.

Hosting of the group represents a part of the club's annual Youth Appreciation Week observance in which the wealth of juvenile "decency"—often going unnoticed—is recognized and lauded.

The Optimists observe the special week each year, with November 13-19 being the time set aside for recognition in 1961.

Travis managers honored at the fete were Randy Feagan and Aubry Jones (7th grade), William Wemken (8th) and Jesse King and Johnny Nokes (9th). Tending to Lamar's managerial duties and representing that school at the meeting were Robert Golden and Billy Wilson (7th), Tom Duke and George Norris (8th), and Buster Melton and Jim Sullenger (9th).

R. E. Cooper, Lamar principal, and Jim Stewart, Travis assistant principal, will accompany the boys to the meeting.

LSU Sniffing Roses After Sugar Shun

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—With bowl atmosphere hanging heavy over Baton Rouge like Dixie dew, Louisiana State's Bayou Bengals stalk Mississippi State Saturday night for a victory that may pave the road to the Rose Bowl.

With LSU turning down a bid to the New Orleans Sugar Bowl earlier this week and conjecture that the Tigers may head west for a New Year's Day showing, the game with Mississippi State has almost been lost in the shuffle—almost.

LSU, gunning for its eighth straight triumph after a season-opening loss to Rice, figures as a three-touchdown favorite.

These are the weapons state must face:

Bengal halfback Jerry Stovall, looking more and more like an All America, leads the Tigers in rushing with 333 yards, has received nine passes for 135 yards and has a 38.2-yard punting average.

The passing of quarterbacks Lonn Amedee and Jimmy Field, who have completed 42 of 99 tosses for 594 yards.

Halfback Wendell Harris, the top scorer in the SEC, who seems to be approaching the peak once predicted for him.

And a savage line anchored by All America guard candidate Roy Winston.

Mississippi State now 5-3 for the season—offers the running of fullback Mackie Weaver—298 yards on 89 attempts—and the passing of Billy Hill, John Correro and Charlie Furlow. The three have completed 69 of 120 passes for 776 yards.

A near-sellout crowd of about 65,000 is expected to be in Tiger stadium for the 8 p.m. (CST) kickoff.

Some Strange Things Are Happening

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Shades of yesteryear—there's a Friday afternoon and a Saturday morning game on tap this week in college football.

Virginia Tech entertains George Washington at Blacksburg, Va., in the Friday afternoon game. Saturday morning South Carolina and North Carolina State clash at Raleigh, N.C.

The N.C. State-South Carolina Atlantic Coast Conference game was re-scheduled to avoid a conflict with the Duke-North Carolina contest at Durham Saturday afternoon which will determine the ACC champion.

The nation's top-ranked teams and bowl hopefuls were confident of avoiding upsets such as hit Georgia Tech and Colorado last Saturday.

Texas, ranked No. 1 in The Associated Press poll, engaged in a brisk workout stressing pass offense for Texas Christian.

Michigan State, seeking to rebound against Northwestern after last week's surprise defeat by Purdue, will be minus guards Ed Budde and Wayne Fontes. Both suffered ankle sprains. Ohio State guard Wayne Betz also suffered an ankle injury and is a doubtful starter against Oregon.

Pistol Pete Retains Lead With 20 TDs

NEW YORK (AP) — Pete Pedro of West Texas State continues to lead major college football players in scoring and Hugh Campbell of Washington State has virtually clinched his second straight pass-catching title, the latest NCAA Service Bureau statistics showed today.

Pedro has scored 20 touchdowns, only four short of the record set by Art Luppino of Arizona in 1954, for 120 points. Jim (Preacher) Pilot of New Mexico State is second with 96 points.

Campbell caught only two passes last Saturday. But with two games left to play, he holds a 10-reception edge over Oscar Donahue of San Jose State, who has only one game remaining. Campbell has caught 44 passes and Donohue 34.

Larry Vargo of Detroit and Mack Burton, San Jose State, have scored the most touchdowns with passes, seven apiece.

Lance Alworth of Arkansas is the punt runback leader with 275 yards on 23 returns. Idaho's Dick Mooney maintained his lead in kickoff returns with 494 yards on 23 returns. Greg Mather of Navy, who booted a field goal in his team's loss to Duke Saturday, has scored the most points by kicking, 47.

Championship Is Placed On Line

CHICAGO (AP)—A field of 128 men and 64 women will warm up tonight in a "parade of champions" for the fifth annual world's invitational match game bowling championship.

The 10-day tourney, with a distribution of $48,240 in prize money, formally starts Friday with the entry list representing 25 states and Canada and Mexico.

The preview in tonight's special competition for $3,000 in prizes will be followed by day and evening sessions for nine days and a climactic single daytime session on Sunday, Nov. 26.

After the first four days, the fields will be sliced to 48 men and 32 women, a double round Tuesday, Nov. 21, will send 15 men and 15 women into the match-play finals along with defending champions Don Carter of St. Louis and Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Maris Dubbed MVP

By SKIPPER PATRICK
Associated Press Sports Writer

RAYTOWN, Mo. (AP)—Home run king Roger Maris, sporting his second most valuable player award in as many seasons, looks to the 1962 American League season as a challenge to keep on doing his "very best to help the Yankees to another pennant."

The reticent slugger, who socked 61 home runs last season, again edged out Yankee teammate Mickey Mantle for the award in voting by 20 members of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Maris received 202 points to Mantle's 198. A year ago he beat Mantle by only three points.

Jim Gentile, Baltimore's first baseman, was third in the poll with 157 points. Norm Cash, Detroit first baseman, was fourth with 151 points and Yankee pitcher Whitey Ford fifth with 109.

Based on a count of 14 points for first place, 9 for second, 8 for third down to one for 10th, Luis Arroyo, New York's great relief pitcher received 95 points for sixth place. Frank Lary, Detroit pitcher, with 53 points; Rocky Colavito, Detroit outfielder, 51; Al Kaline, Detroit outfielder, 35, and New York catcher Elston Howard, 30, rounded out the top 10.

Speaking for his family—wife Patricia and four young children—Maris said: "I'm real happy. All of us are happy. I was hoping all along I would win it but I wasn't sure until I got the official call."

Busy with details of building a new home "in the greater Kansas City area," Maris said he is dedicated toward "helping the Yanks win the pennant again next season."

Maris, who also led the American League with 142 runs batted in, got seven first place votes, six for second place, three each for third and fourth and one for sixth. He played in all but one game during the season, getting 159 hits in 590 times at bat for a .269 average. Slugging at a .620 clip, he had 16 doubles, 4 triples and scored 132 runs.

Maris won the 1960 MVP award on 39 homers and 112 runs batted in.

Mantle, hampered with injuries during late season, hit 54 homers and batted .317. He drove 132 runs in. The Mick had six first place votes, seven seconds, two for third and five for fourth.

Gentile, a sophomore, got five more votes for first place. His 46 home runs decorated a .302 batting average. He was only one behind Maris in rbi with 141.

Cash was named on every ballot along with Maris and Mantle. He received one first place vote for his league leading .361 batting average, 41 homers and 132 r.b.i.'s.

Arroyo, who had a 15-5 record and a 2.18 earned run average, got the other first place vote.

Maris hit his 61st homer in the last game of a 162-game schedule after he had fallen out short of Ruth's 1927 mark in the former 154-game distance.

Between You And Me

BY JERRY JACKSON

Take four backs and subtract one, add to that a forward, and less two tackles, put them all together. Now, whatcha got?

The answer to that riddle is: an eight-man football team.

A grid rarity—at least from a local standpoint—will be in the offing here Friday in Tiger Stadium when Grandfalls-Royalty and Oklaunion meet head-on in their Region II title clash. As far as can be determined, the game represents the first eight-man clash in history to be played in Snyder.

Borden County's Gail Coyotes, who traditionally give everybody a run for their eight-man money, have nabbed several district titles in the past years, but have never succeeded in making it here for a playoff tilt. On one occasion the Coyotes pointed to Snyder, but lost out on the proposed site by the margin of a coin flip.

Snyder is a "natural" as a base for the upcoming battle, as it is the city of consequence most nearly equi-distant from the two competing schools. Oklaunion is little more than a hop, skip and jump from the Red River's banks in north Texas (near Vernon), while Grandfalls is located near Monahans.

In order to avoid confusion as far as the "Class B" designation of the game is concerned, it may be noted that both eight-man and 11-man schools of comparable enrollment bear that tag. The option rests with individual schools as to whether to take part in eight or 11-man ball depending on the existing manpower on which they have to draw.

Eight-man game rules are comparable to those of standard 11-man, with the primary difference being the size of the playing field. The playing areas as we commonly see them are 50 yards in width and 100 yards in length, while in contrast the eight-man fields are scaled at 40 by 80 yards.

Advance poop on the game (Oklaunion's Cardinals are 9-1, including bi-district, while the Cowboys of Grandfalls are 8-1-1) points to the fact that it should be a real corker. Also, as a yardstick of the interest generated it has been learned that Grandfalls officials have requested that a block of 1500 tickets be furnished them for advance sale within the area.

Tickets are $1.25 for adults and 50 cents for students, and the larger the turnout of local fans on hand the better the chances of Snyder's securing other playoff games in the future.

The grapevine has it that Denver City, which thumped Olney here in ice-clad Tiger Stadium in last year's playoffs, is again interested in returning here should an occasion for a neutral site avail itself. They are fortunate this Saturday in catching Crane at home in a bi-district tussle, and should the Mustangs win and advance further in the playoff picture Snyder's chances would be enhanced considerably by a good reception as afforded the Grandfalls-Oklaunion visitors here this Friday.

Title Shot Promised Ortiz-Rosi Victor

NEW YORK (AP) — The winner of Saturday's Carlos Ortiz-Paolo Rosi fight will get a title bout with lightweight champion Joe Brown, matchmaker, Teddy Brenner said today.

He said Brown's manager, Lou Viscusi, agreed to the bout in telephone conversation.

"He accepted our offer of a $60,000 guarantee," Brenner said. "The fight will take place in March. The site hasn't been selected."

Brenner said the fight probably will be in either Houston or New York.

Rosi, a native of Italy, and Puerto Rican-born Ortiz, now fight out of New York.

'B' Cagers In Fluvanna For 8 P. M. Clash

The Snyder Tiger "B" cagers, eager but untested, drop the mantle from off their 1961-62 season tonight in Fluvanna when they take on the Buffs of that community in an 8 o'clock contest.

Tiger coach V. V. Shearburn has indicated that his lineup is still in the tentative stages. His starting unit, however, will be drawn from the octet composed of James Sellars, Billy Stewart, Darrell Aldridge, Harley Bynum, Benny Minnor, Gale Potter, Edward Schulz, and Jim Marcum.

Buff mentor Mackie Greene has announced that his starting five will sport Roy Summers at center, Joe Zapata and Bill Kingston at forwards, and Charlie Berryhill and either Joe Beaver or Wayne Green at the guard psoitions.

FINE EDGE TOO SOON?

Abe Concerned Over Sharpness

By The Associated Press

Texas, the nation's No. 1 team, goes after its ninth straight victory Saturday and its opponent, Texas Christian, fears it might be too sharp.

This unusual situation developed Wednesday when Coach Abe Martin of Texas Christian, thinking his Horned Frogs had been too sharp in practice, said he sure wished the boys had a normal let down Thursday.

"We may lose our edge before game time," he explained.

Texas probably wishes it would, but the Longhorns weren't taking any chances on the Frogs having a letdown—they went through a brisk workout, emphasizing pass offense.

Expectations were that Texas Christian, with its Sonny Gibbs in the saddle, would be using the pass plenty and Texas may be preparing to fight fire with fire.

Southern Methodist got glummer when it lost another regular Tuesday. Right halfback Tommy Brennan went out with a knee injury and might not be able to play against Arkansas at Dallas Saturday.

Arkansas, however, had plenty of spirit and it wasn't dampened in the least although the Razorbacks had to work out in the rain. Coach Frank Broyles was somewhat concerned about his defense for the SMU spread formation. It was new stuff for the Razorbacks, who have had to defense only against the T formation until now.

Texas A&M polished its aerial attack as the Aggies prepared to invade Houston for a crack at Rice. Coach Jim Myers had six players on the injury list and feared one of them, tackle George Hogan, may not be able to play Saturday.

At Houston, most of the talk concerned an effigy that appeared on the campus. It was the first one to be hung up to Coach Jess Neely in 22 years as headman at Rice.

The Owls haven't been doing very well in the Southwest Conference race, where they were supposed to be one of the leaders, and a loss to Arkansas last week that knocked Rice out of a shot at second place added to the agitation.

Baylor, which hosts Air Force Academy Saturday, was cheered when all its injured appeared likely to be in shape to play. Three of them were ready for full service and a couple—quarterback Bobby Ply and fullback Dalton Hoffman—may be able to play part time.

Texas Tech, which has the week off, got in its first practice of the week Wednesday. The Red Raiders had taken out Monday and Tuesday as a reward for beating Boston College.

HANGIN' TREE NOTES

Jess Joins Bill In Effigy Parade

HOUSTON (AP) — The Southwest Conference appears to be running ahead of schedule on effigies.

Already two football coaches have had the little figures erected to them. The conference usually has only one a season.

Jess Neely, for 22 years coach of Rice, had his first effigy Wednesday. It was hanging from a tree limb on the Rice campus and across the back were the words: "Jess Neely, November coach, Arkansas 10, Rice 0."

Neely has been noted for his great finishes but his team this year has won only four while losing three after being rated one of the top outfits of the conference.

Coach Bill Meek of Southern Methodist had his effigy Saturday when his team lost to Texas A&M. SMU has won only two games all season and was winless in 1960.

There also was a "Fire Meek" sign burned into the grass at Ownby Stadium, the SMU practice field.

President Willis Tate of Southern Methodist called them "unwise and unkind things . . . I believe that it is in the American tradition to be a good loser as well as be a good winner. And I hope the excitable anonymous people who performed these tasteless acts will remember and act by that tradition in the future."

Another coach in the conference, reportedly under fire for failure to win enough games, apparently had weathered the storm without an effigy. He was Jim Myers, coach of Texas A&M, whose team was reported hurt by dissension. The players in question, however, denied it.

The Dallas Times Herald said it had learned Myers would be offered a new long-term contract next week.

A DAILY VIEW

by Rev. R. Charles Spivey

"But Ittai answered the King, 'As the Lord lives, and as my Lord the king lives, wherever king shall be, whether for death or for life, there also will your servant be'."

II Samuel 15:21 (Read verses 19-23.)

This is real loyalty. Ittai didn't have to follow King David. He was a foreigner in the land, only recently moved there, had no oath of fealty. But Ittia felt that he was an adopted son, a real part of the family, and thus was ready to follow Daivid even to the death.

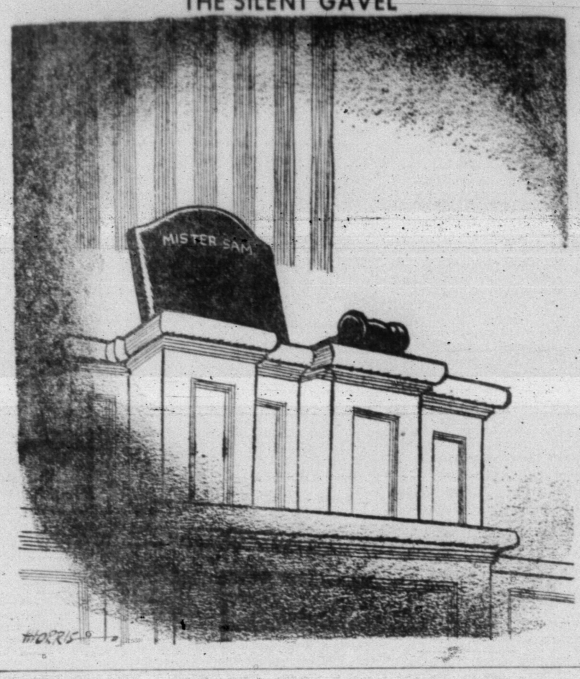

This kind of loyalty is desperately needed today for the sake of Christ. We need to feel that we are a part of the real family of God. That Christ is our King; that we will follow Him no matter what or no matter where.

Finnish Sauna Could Put Nation In Fighting Trim

By INEZ ROBB

In this wonderful land of opportunity, there is always something new on which the citizen can make a down payment. At almost any moment now you and I can expect a door - to - door salesman making a pitch for an "authentic Finnish sauna".

This Finnish institution, combining a high - voltage Turkish bath with flagellation, will soon replace the swimming pool as a status symbol. At least that is the announcement of an American firm just organized to push the sauna in this country.

It could be that the sauna is the answer to President Kennedy's physical fitness program. One thing is certain: the sauna kills or cures. It separates the men from the boys and the women from the weak sisters.

Through the centuries, the Finns have adapted to this combined ordeal by extreme heat followed by a jolly romp in the snow or jump in an icy lake. It — the sauna — has produced in Finland a brave, tough and resilient people. And eventually, after high mortality rates in the first five to seven generations, it might produce an admirable race of Tarzans and Janes in the U.S.A. But it is only fair to warn that the fallout is going to be high in the first go - round.

On the theory that when in Rome, one ought to try the local specialties, my husband and I essayed the sauna when we were in Finland five years ago. Our scars are now healed and our admiration for the Finns quintupled. Let me begin by saying that no Finnish home, hotel, or club is complete without a sauna, a small, windowless, airtight room — sound proofed to muffle the piteous pleas for help from such weaklings as I.

Usually the sauna is equipped with an old - fashioned iron stove, benches where the victims sit, and a big pail of water in which birch branches innocently lurk.

Out of deference to American modesty (true or false), the sauna on this occasion was restricted to my husband and myself. The only other person present was a muscular Finnish woman who presided over the slow burn.

Did I say "slow"? When we entered the sauna I thought I was trapped in a burning building and breathing fire. The stove was then red hot, but it was white hot by the time I made my escape 15 minutes later. My lungs were seared in the first 10 seconds.

Nor were they all that were seared. When I sat down on the wooden bench, I rose with the galvanic speed of Old Faithful. The wood obviously was on the point of bursting into flame. I took the rest of the sauna standing.

From time to time, just to make it harder and hotter, our guardian sprinkled water on the stove. Great clouds of live steam enveloped us. A lobster, subjected to such treatment, would have been table - ready in 10 minutes.

As if this were not enough, our companion pressed the wet birch boughs into our blistered hands and told us to beat ourselves, the better to get the circulation up. I figured that if my circulation ever got up as high as my dander, the jig was up.

With the cunning of a trapped animal I escaped from that foretaste of hell into the massage room when our guardian's backed was turned as she stoked the white-hot stove. She was after me in a trice. It was September and there was no snow around. But the sauna was only 10 feet from an icy lake, into which she now proposed to throw me.

I outwitted her only by curling myself, Laocoon - like, around the massage table, holding on for dear life and yelling bloody murder. She couldn't wrestle the table through the door, or I would have been a goner. My husand, too, balked at the deep - freezer treatment.

We escaped alive but just barely. Perhaps the sauna is the very thing needed to get this nation into fighting trim. Certainly, it did just that for me.

Soviet Planes To Indonesia

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The Indonesian air force announced today that three new Soviet-built TU16 long-range jet bombers would soon go to East Indonesia for maneuvers near the border of Dutch-held West New Guinea.

The bombers, received from the Soviet Union under an arms deal, have just concluded an operational exercise in North Sumatra.

Two bomber and fighter wings already are patrolling off West New Guinea, which Indonesia claims. Top government leaders have called on the people to prepare for war if the U.N. assembly approves a Dutch proposal for a self-determination vote in the territory.

Language In New York Is Strange

By BUD SPRUNGER

NEW YORK (AP)—A stranger in this town can run into trouble trying to order breakfast.

Friend of mine from the Southwest couldn't get a doughnut. They kept handing him something with jelly in the middle—where the hole is supposed to be. Finally he found out that in this spot the word for doughnut is crueller.

Arriving from San Francisco, I made the mistake of asking for a snail with my coffee. The dudes turned sort of green before I corrected that to butterhorn. They figured that out but told me in the future to ask for Danish.

Other translations are not quite as difficult. Almost any tourist can figure that hotcakes on the menu are pancakes.

But you can get mixed up in the names of meals in the Midwest, Southwest, West and South we say supper for the last meal of the day, but around here it is dinner. And so they won't get confused, they say lunch when they mean dinner.

And, oh yes, around here they call a waitress Miss, not Mam, as in the Southwest.

By and large these folks speak English pretty well, but they do have a lot of trouble with the word bring. They hand you something and say "bring it over there." Apparently the teachers around here don't drill their kids on the verb take.

New Yorkers go to business, while the rest of us go to work. Maybe they just don't work as hard here, I don't know.

You never hear of them going to the city, either. Just about everybody in Northern California goes to the city when they go to San Francisco, which they pronounce San Frenceisco. But here suburbanites say they are going to New York, and those that live in boroughs other than Manhattan say they are going to town.

Clothing can cause you trouble, too. I wanted a pair of Levis the other day and some clerk was trying to be helpful. After I had tried out overall pants and jeans on him, he finally convinced me that what I wanted was a pair of dungarees. Turned out he was right.

Maybe the trouble here is the schools. The kids around here don't get grades. No, sir. What they get are marks.

And although that bring and take thing floors them, the Eastern kids go to grammar or elementary schools instead of grade schools.

When they go to a grocery, they haul home a bag of food when they should be getting a sack. Or, as they say in Tennessee and Kentucky, a poke.

Replacement For Molotov Is Named

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — The Soviet Union today appointed Alexander I. Alexandrov to replace former Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov temporarily at the East-West International Atomic Energy Agency.

This was regarded as a strong indication that Molotov would not return to Vienna. He was Soviet IAEA representative until his denunciation by Soviet Premier Khrushchev at the Moscow Communist party congress. He returned to Moscow Sunday.

The Soviets told the agency Alexandrov would head the Soviet mission for the time being. He had been Molotov's deputy since July 1960.

Junior Editors Quiz on SPEECH

QUESTION: Can anybody talk to animals?

* * *

ANSWER: Yes, they can, but only in the simplest way. The farmer in our picture calling his cows in for milking, can't tell them, "Go around the south side of the barn, girls and you will find an especially fine pile of alfalfa." But he can and does call out, "Come bos, come bos" and the cows recognize his voice and know that he is going to feed them so they come. They will often talk back to him in their cow language, "moo" in this case meaning, here we come. You can certainly talk to a dog and say, "nice boy," and he will look up and whine back, meaning, "nice master." You can teach him simple commands, too.

Recently, experiments have been made towards talking to animals in a more complicated way. It has been found that dolphins are very intelligent and appear to make sounds which are almost like speech. Investigators are working on the problem of getting the dolphins to understand speech. They are experimenting with electric wires which run current through the brain and may be able to help the dolphins learn to talk.

* * *

FOR YOU TO DO: Try talking to your dog or friend's dog.

Masterpiece To Go On Exhibition

By MILES A. SMITH
Associated Press Arts Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Rembrandt's masterpiece "Aristotle Contemplating the Bust of Homer" shortly will go on exhibition at New York's Metropolitan Museum of Art, which Wednesday night bid it in for $2.3 million—the highest known price for a single painting.

The artist got 500 florins for it, the modern equivalent for that being $7,800.

And the National Gallery in Washington, which broke the record for auction prices for the second time in the evening, will display Fragonard's magnificently beautiful "La Liseuse," a picture of a young woman reading. The price was $875,000.

It was a record - topping night at the Parke-Bernet Galleries as 24 old masters brought $4,679,250. They were from the collection of Alfred W. Erickson, New York advertising man who died in 1956, and his widow Anna, who died last February. The auction took just under an hour.

There is no way of proving or disproving how much one painting might have brought in a private transaction at some point in history. But even guesses and rumors seldom have gone above $1 million to $1½ million. It never has been denied that when the late Andrew Mellon—whose pictures now are in the National Gallery—paid the Russian government $21 million for seven pictures in 1932, Raphael's Alba Madonna was rated at a little more than $1.1 million.

The record for a single painting at auction was $770,000 for Rubens' "The Adoration of the Magi," at a London sale in 1959. The record for a collection at auction was $2,166,000 for seven French moderns in London in 1958.

Leslie A. Hyam, Parke-Bernet president, said that so far as anyone in the art world could tell, the "Aristotle" price was by far the greatest figure ever achieved. He said the Fragonard brought two or three times more than any previous Fragonard.

The "Aristotle," 56½ by 53¾ inches, shows the philosopher garbed in dark robes, a golden yellow mantle and a broad, black hat. He stands with his hand on the bust of the poet. It is signed and dated 1653.

A private collector living in New York, whose name was not announced, got the third most valuable painting in the sale. It was the early Venetian Carlo Crivelli's "Madonna and Child" of 1472, the central panel of a polyptych. Other panels are in the Cleveland Museum of Art, the Brooklyn Museum and the Metropolitan, which has two.

Not all the Erickson paintings will remain in America. A London dealer, Lord Duveen of Millbank, paid $180,000 for another fine Rembrandt, "Portrait of an Old Man." A third Rembrandt, a portrait of Prince Frederick of Orange, went for $110,000 to the New York dealer, M. Knoedler & Co. The London dealers Thomas Agnew & Sons paid $105,000 for a portrait of Princess Sibylle of Cleves by Lucas Cranach the Elder and $60,000 for a Raeburn portrait of Quintin McAdam as a boy.

The Carnegie Institute in Pittsburgh got the important Perugino, painted by Raphael's teacher, "Saint Augustine with Members of the Confraternity of Perugia," paying $125,000, and carried off a Franz Hals, "Man with a Herring," for $145,000. A Pittsburgh private collector paid $35,000 for a Holbein portrait of Sir George Nevill.

It was announced that the New York dealers Rosenberg and Stiebel were the second highest bidders on both the "Aristotle" and the Fragonard.

There was speculation that they might have been serving as agents for a private collector, such as the Ford family of Detroit. But after the sale Hyam said he believed they were acting for "a great museum." Speculation on that point included such names as the Cleveland Museum of Art.

The opening bid was $1 million, and auctioneer Louis J. Marion said it came from a private collector "over on Park Avenue."

Woman Says She Fired Fatal Shots

WAXAHACHIE (AP) — Joan Brock, 27, told Dist. Judge A. R. Stout's court that she, not Dennis Woodbury, killed W. S. Carpenter, Tyler druggist.

The woman, under a 99-year sentence for her part in the slaying of Carpenter, testified for the state.

Woodbury, an ex-convict, is on trial for murder in the slaying of Carpenter, 43, during a narcotics robbery Nov. 4, 1960.

The Brock woman, brought here from the Goree Women's Prison near Huntsville, said both she and Woodbury struck Carpenter on the head as he walked toward a safe containing narcotics.

She said she took the money and narcotics, turned them over to Woodbury and that the two then put his bound and gagged body in the car, drove to near Lufkin and dumped him after she shot the druggist once in the head and one time in the chest.

Carpenter's body was found in a thicket near Lufkin last November. A jury at Lufkin was unable to reach a verdict in Woodbury's first trial.

Earlier witnesses testified they saw Miss Brock and Woodbury in Tyler at about the same time the druggist was slain.

Chico Marx Will Filed For Probate

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — The will of the late Chico Marx of the famed Marx brothers comedy team was filed for probate Wednesday.

The document disclosed an estate listed only in excess of $10,000, which was left to Marx's widow, Mary Di Vitha Marx.

Marx, 74, died last Oct. 11. The will made no bequests to any of his brothers nor to a former wife, Betty, or a daughter by that marriage Maxine Culhane of New York City.

Storm Areas Hit By Bitter Winds

By The Associated Press

Bitter winds blew across miles of snow-covered countryside today behind the second storm to buffet New Mexico and Texas in three days. The new storm also hit Colorado, Oklahoma and Kansas.

As much as three feet of snow blanketed storm areas, which counted eight deaths from the wintry weather since Monday.

Blizzard conditions lingered on the Eastern Colorado plains closing U.S. Highway 160 west of Springfield and U.S. 40 between Kit Carson and Cheyenne Wells.

Next snow thickened the icy coverlet in extreme northeast New Mexico and parts of the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles, and spread eastward into Kansas.

Skies cleared early today in the Texas and New Mexico areas. Snow, continued in Oklahoma, where it blocked roads west of Boise City in the state's westernmost county.

Elsewhere in the storm sector, subfreezing temperatures left many highways glassy slick and hazardous.

Fresh snow measured a foot or more at some points, and considerable amounts remained from the preceding two days—up to 36 inches in the mountains of south central New Mexico, where there were 6-foot drifts.

Half a foot of snow from the latest storm left 16 inches on the ground at Romero in the Texas Panhandle.

In the Oklahoma Panhandle, a 15-inch fall over Cimarron County around Boise was the heaviest. There also was some snow in northwestern Oklahoma outside the Panhandle, but it did not accumulate.

Near-blizzard conditions prevailed at Clayton in northeastern New Mexico for several hours. Howling wind churned a foot of fresh snow.

More than 12 inches of new snow blanketed Trinidad in southern Colorado, and wind gusts hitting 50 miles per hour made auto travel risky along the eastern slope of the Rockies. An ice storm gripped Denver.

Colorado's first storm death of the week occurred south of Denver, where a woman died when a car skidded off an icy highway Wednesday night.

There have been six storm fatalities in Texas and one in New Mexico.

DR. CHARLES J. JARVIS

Dentist To Address K&F Club Friday

A practicing dentist who is engaged in the professional job of extracting teeth will deviate from his job somewhat at his appearance before the Scurry County Knife and Fork Club Friday night at the Snyder Country Club.

Instead of pulling teeth he will be pulling laughs from members of the club. From advance reports the laugh-pulling job will not be difficult.

It has been reported that Dr. Charles J. Javis even gets laughs out of his patients. Still and all, Dr. Jarvis in his home town of San Marcos is said to have the happiest patients of any D.D.S in the business.

It wasn't until after he had a year at Texas A & M and had been graduated by the United States Naval Academy that Jarvis decided on Dentistry as his profession. He graduated from the University of Texas School of Dentistry in 1938. He is a member of local, state and national professional fraternities and has been elected to membership in Omicron Kappa Upsilon, national honor dental society.

Jarvis served in World War II, going through the last 13 months of the war as Assistant Navigator on the Carrier, U. S. Langley. Following that hitch, he became a carrier pilot for three years.

He is an elder in the First Christian Church of San Marcos and immediate past president of the San Marcos Kiwanis Club.

His subject here will be "Prescription For The Happy Life."

Nixon Urges 'More Fire'

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — The United States needs "to put a lot more fire and a lot more backbone" into its effort to keep Communist China out of the United Nations, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said Wednesday.

Nixon told a news conference he was not ready to advocate United States withdrawal from the United Nations if Red China is admitted, but warned that American public opinion might demand withdrawal or a drastic cut in U.S. funds for the body.

He said President Kennedy's public statements against Red China's bid for United Nations membership have been emphatic, but "what concerns me is that at the second levels in our administration, a defeatist attitude has been expressed."

Nixon, a candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination in California, spoke later at a $100-a-plate fund raising dinner here.

Cool Robbers Get $200,000

HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. (AP)—Two well-dressed men, one carrying an attache case and the other a briefcase, coolly staged a $200,000 jewelry store robbery Wednesday.

Ten days ago one of the men bought a jeweled cufflink at the store, H. L. Gross & Co. This time he strolled in with a companion and said he came to exchange the cuff link.

The clerk then informed Joseph Singer, the manager: "I am a Treasury agent. This store has been depositing phony money, and I'm here to check on it."

As Singer swung open the safe door, both men produced guns. The attache case and briefcase were filled with watches, rings and loose diamonds.

Before fleeing the men lined up Singer, Howard Gross, one of the owners, two clerks, a window washer and a customer and bound them with copper wire around wrists and ankles. Surgical tape was draped over their mouths.

Snyderite Is Appointed To Honor Guard

COLLEGE STATION, — Timothy A. Pixley of Snyder has received an appointment to the Ross Volunteer Company, a cadet honor guard at Texas A&M College.

The Ross Volunteers, the oldest student organization in the State of Texas, was founded in 1887 by Col. T. M. Scott, then business manager of the College, for the purpose of banding together outstanding military men at Texas A&M College into a crack drill team.

Although the organization presents several drill exhibitions a year, the Company today has evolved into more than just a drill team. Now it represents a combination of the military, academic and character traits that mark the outstanding student in the corps of cadets.

Membership is limited to 125 cadets.

Pixley holds the rank of Staff Sergeant.

Goldwater Says Chance Missed

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., says the United States should have pushed over the Berlin dividing wall "when it was only one brick high—and then backed off to see what would happen."

Military men have told him nothing would have happened, Goldwater said.

"Now it's too late," he said in a lecture at Holy Cross College Wednesday night.

Goodfellows Set Meeting Here Tonight

Ergman (clothing), Park Hamilton (distribution), Cecil Boren (finance), Herman Trigg (theater), Dr. Jimmie Nelson (ministerial), Fire Chief Warren Boyd (toy collection), and Lester Mundy and Bernard Bartels (box collection).

The drive for funds, food, toys and clothing is to get underway shortly, with all such goods as accumulated being distributed to needy families at Christmas.

Bible Society Asked To Launch Project

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Bible Society has been asked to set aside $400,000 to buy and distribute Bibles to overseas areas where communistic, atheistic literature is being passed out.

The society's council, at the close of its annual meeting Wednesday, urged the expenditure, adding: "All over the world people are choosing either atheism, materialism, or the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Millions may choose Christianity if we can reach them with copies of manuscripts in their own languages."

Lady In Distress

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—Robert R. Osborne, police dispatcher, sent a prowl car to the aid of a housewife in distress Wednesday with this postscript:

"If the lady doesn't answer your knock on the door, she says it will be because the rat is between her and the door."

Rowan Is Denied Service At Club

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Carl Rowan, deputy assistant secretary of state, was refused service at a Kansas City night club for an hour Wednesday night. Then the management learned his identity.

"It's not particularly embarrassing to me," Rowan said. "I've been in hundreds of incidents like this. I've been a Negro for a long time. It is disgusting, though, that these things happen."

Rowan was here to address the American Association of Land Grant Colleges and State Universities. Rowan and four companions, all white, went to the Eighty-Eight Keys after its Negro combo, led by pioneer jazzman Baby Lovett, had been recommended as one of the best shows in town. They sat at a table for an hour before the management decided to serve them.

Scientific Thinking Leads To Dismissal

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Substitute teacher Ernest Bury, 30, thought the most scientific way to demonstrate the evils of tobacco to eight graders would be to let them puff a cigarette.

Bury, who doesn't smoke, borrowed a cigarette from a student at Jonas Salk School and suggested each child take a puff.

About half the class of 30 tried it. One girl got queasy and complained to the principal, who called the superintendent, Fred J. Kiesel. He fired Bury.

"Allowing youngsters to smoke is certainly contrary to the teaching of morals to children and is deeply regretted," said Kiesel.

"I was simply thinking as a scientist," Bury said.
