

Soviet Resolution Falls Short In U. N. Council

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., AP—Western opposition in the U. N. Security Council today doomed a Soviet resolution asking for condemnation of U. S. spy plane flights.

Diplomats waited to see if the two neutral nations on the council—Ceylon and Tunisia—would line up with the Western majority, or would merely abstain on the vote expected Thursday.

Both Ceylon and Tunisia were to speak this afternoon along with U. S. ally Ecuador in the third session of the council debate on the Soviet charges against the United States.

Even before the council began debate, diplomats and observers at the U. N. had been certain the seven votes necessary for adoption Tuesday's session of the debate bore this out.

Only Communist Poland and the Soviet Union were committed to vote for the proposal. Argentina and Nationalist China said they would vote no. France said they could not give their assent to the resolution. Britain and Italy did not announce their voting positions, but they were known to be planning to cast negative votes.

The resolution was prompted by the downing of an American U2 photo-reconnaissance plane May 4 near Sverdlovsk, 1,400 miles inside the Soviet Union and subsequent information from Washington that the United States had been making such flights over Soviet territory for four years.

The Soviets called on the council to condemn "incursions by United States aircraft into the territory of other states" and to ask the U. S. government to prevent their recurrence.

In the debate Tuesday, Jerzy Michalowski of Poland said U. S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, in defending the U2 flight, had enunciated a "Herter doctrine" that the United States had the right to send spy planes over the Soviet Union for security reasons.

He said the 1928 Havana and 1944 Chicago aviation conventions, both ratified by the United States, banned unauthorized flights over foreign countries but "Herter sought" to nullify international law by the law of the jungle.

Delegates of Britain, France, Argentina, Italy and Nationalist China defended the U2 flights.

China defended the United States. They denied Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko's charge that the flights were aggressive acts, although Marin Amable of Argentina said nothing could justify violation of any country's territorial sovereignty.

Sir Pierson Dixon of Britain said President Eisenhower had given a "categorical assurance" that the flights had been suspended and would not be resumed, but despite this the Soviet Union used the U2 case to break up last week's Paris Big Four summit conference, on which the nations of the world had built up so much hope.

Armand Berard of France said the Soviet Union had caused "profound disappointment" by refusing to participate in that conference. He called for controlled disarmament, a projection of devices into space carrying nuclear warheads.

Eighty Ortona, Italy, pointed out that the United States had just put a satellite spy plane in orbit from Cape Canaveral, Fla. He said such U. S. satellites and the recently orbited Soviet space ship had "in effect" increased capacity of exploring or observing compared to airplanes.

He urged a speedup in international discussions on surprise attack and outer space, to put such things to good use in a document circulated by the council members.

Chief U. S. delegate Robert Lodge told the council that the United States had sent back to their homeland 2,052 all were attached to the Soviet Embassy in Washington, the Soviet secretary in the U. N. or the U. N. secretariat.

Lodge had listed the 11 in his speech to the council Monday. He said the document said they had sought secret atomic data, military manuals and aerial photographs from Moscow and Washington, and had offered up to $8,000 for such information.

Seniors Told To Develop Drive In Life

Almost 100 students from Snyder High School received diplomas at commencement exercises at the high school auditorium last night and heard Dr. James H. Jauncey, pastor of the First Christian Church of El Paso, tell them they must strive to put the "drive of success" into their lives.

"The Future is determined by the spirit and goals of each," Dr. Jauncey told the group as he urged them to lay aside the apathy that has overtaken the American youth concerning principles and personal pride.

"Success is determined by the drive within your mind," Dr. Jauncey continued, stating that Russia is succeeding in science where we are failing or lagging behind because they have a drive instilled within them from the days of their infancy and the flame is kept alive all through life.

Dr. Jauncey gave several historical examples showing "where there is no vision, the people perish," taking his examples from ancient history to the present age. T. E. McCollum, superintendent of the Snyder schools, introduced Dr. Jauncey.

Proceeding Dr. Jauncey, Johnny Joyce, in his valedictory address, told his class mates that it is not what they can do that matters, but what they can do and will do, adding that they must strive for service and achieve effort. He stated that true peace comes only from a positive accomplishment of goals in this rapidly growing and changing world.

"Reputation is what we do when we are not seen by men, character is what we do when we are seen by God," Joyce concluded.

Salutatorian Sherrill Bell emphasized how much they owe their family, school and religious training before they could go on to success.

Several scholarships were presented by T. D. Wiman, Jr., high school principal. Johnny Joyce and Sherrill Bell received scholarships from the State Department of Education; Charlene Johnson received the teachers scholarship as the most outstanding student in the classrooms; Charles Eastwood received the Lions Club Scholarship; Camilla Roberts received the High School PTA scholarship; Jerry Walker received a joint scholarship from the Holy SS Class and the First Methodist Church; and Marsha Hurst received a nursing scholarship from the auxiliary of the Canyon Reef Medical Society.

Program for the evening included the procession by Kathy Mott, invocation by Marcus Strickland, president of the senior class, presentation of graduates by McCollum and benediction by Lynn Herndon, vice-president of the senior class.

The Girls chorus under the direction of Robert Clinton provided music for the occasion singing "So In Love" and the senior class song, "Halls of Ivy."

J. W. Phillips, vice president of the board of education, presented the diplomas.

THE LONG AND THE SHORT OF GRADUATION is summed up in the above picture taken just before Snyder seniors made their last trip to the high school auditorium last night. Five-foot-minus Anita League RGS '60, a tough time reaching Norman Gladson's tie to straighten it in as much as he and Doug Brunson are both six-foot-four.

Departure Of Plane Delayed

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP)—The freedom flight of nine Americans and their CP from Communist East Germany was delayed today, perhaps by bad weather.

More than 24 hours after Soviet authorities released the group and their U. S. Air Force transport, they remained on Communist soil.

A Communist police official at Grevenhagen near the meadow forced down the lumbering, old twin-engine transport, reported in a dispatch that the plane was still there.

"We had to level out a take-off strip," he said. "But we don't know why it hasn't taken off. The weather may be the reason."

Federal Tax Payments Up

DALLAS (AP)—Federal tax collections have increased at a record rate to 11 per cent during fiscal 1960. Elton Campbell, Jr., distributor of Internal Revenue, said today.

Campbell said Tuesday's deposits for the district of $11,189,083 bring the total of the fiscal year to date to $1,329,737,441.

This shows an increase over last year of 11 per cent, almost three times the normal 4 per cent increase rate from year to year, Campbell said.

He said the big increase is believed due mainly to the booming economy of the northern half of Texas.

"Other contributing factors," he said, are better compliance of taxpayers, an increase in taxpayers due to population increase, more young people working and more young people working and more young people working in the labor market.

Cost Of Living Skyrockets To All-Time Record In April

WASHINGTON, AP—Living costs rose four-tenths of one per cent in April to another record high.

The rise was the largest for any month since last June.

In reporting the increase today, the Labor Department said it was largely due to a raise in food prices. Poor scoring growing conditions were a factor in the upward movement of food costs.

The department's consumer price index rose to 126.2 per cent in April from 125.8 per cent in March. This is 1.3 per cent higher than a year earlier.

Nearly a million workers in the auto, farm equipment and related parts industries will get a 2-cent-an-hour pay raise because of the April living cost rise. Their union contracts, pending for adjustments based on the consumers price index.

An adjustment of about one cent an hour will go to an additional 150,000 workers, most of them employed by the Volkswagen Electric Manufacturing Co.

Similar pay raises may be due to an additional 100,000 workers, mostly in apparel plants. Their situation is uncertain because their labor contracts are awaiting large adjustments have either expired or will soon do so.

Arnold Chase, Labor Department price chief, said the sizable living cost rise in April is not viewed as the beginning of a strong upward trend in consumers prices.

Continuing heavy sales of new cars kept prices up for the new models.

Prices of clothing changed very little in April. And there was no change in costs of public transportation, repairs and home maintenance or for electricity.

The Labor Department reported that the purchasing power of factory workers dropped by 1.4 per cent from March to April—the fourth straight monthly decline.

Spendable earnings—that is, net pay checks after tax deductions—dropped by about 85 cents to $80.20 a week for the factory worker heading a family of four.

The decline resulted from shorter hours of work, also the Good Friday holidays fell during the April survey week.

Chase said that because of the unusually large increase in food prices in April, he expected little change in the over-all living cost index in May.

But he forecast probable additional living cost increases—due to higher food prices—the remainder of the summer.

The only significant price decline in April was for used cars. The Labor Department said are meeting severe competition from new compact cars.

Two Ships In Collision

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The aircraft carrier Saratoga and the German merchant ship Bernd Leon Hartz collided 200 miles east of Cape Henry Tuesday night, the Navy reported today.

No one was hurt on either ship. The carrier came into Hampton Roads and the freighter proceeded toward Baltimore.

Both ships were damaged in the collision which occurred about 7 p.m.

The Saratoga's jet fuel lines were ruptured, starting a fire which was quickly extinguished. Her catwalks and one of her sponsors were heavily damaged and one of her masts was overboard.

A spokesman at Atlantic Fleet Headquarters said the Saratoga was scheduled on her port side.

The destroyer Stranling escorted the merchant ship from the collision area to the Virginia Capes. Then the merchantman headed toward Baltimore.

The 60,000-ton Saratoga is the largest aircraft carrier ever built, displaces 16,000 tons, the Forrestal class, first of the super carriers.

The ship is 1347 feet long, with a 24-foot beam and carries 100 aircraft.

Normal complement is 3,500 of officers and men. The ship is commanded by Capt. Alan F. Fleming.

Nixon Can't Win, Stassen Declares

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Harold E. Stassen said today Vice President Richard M. Nixon can't win the presidential election. Stassen, who four years ago failed in a bid to keep Nixon from the vice-presidential nomination, urged the nomination of one of four Republicans he thinks can win.

The former adviser to President Eisenhower called for dumping of Nixon and the selection of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, U.N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, Secretary of the Treasury Robert R. Anderson or Secretary of the Interior Fred A. Seaton.

Stassen, in a memorandum mailed Tuesday to the 60 other Pennsylvania delegates to the republican National Convention, said it appears that Nixon would carry only Maine, Indiana, Vermont, New Hampshire and Arizona.

A delegate to the convention which opens in Chicago July 25, Stassen pleaded for an open convention and a platform that asked that his party's leaders withhold selection of a presidential nominee until after the primary June 7 in California.

Stassen said if Nixon makes "an impressive showing" in his home state "he will drop his fight against him at the convention."

"This means that I will not battle against him at the convention," Stassen said. "I will give in for the sake of the party."

Rockefeller has said repeatedly he will not be a candidate for the presidential nomination, and that he would attend the convention.

Lodge, Anderson and Seaton have not been mentioned seriously for the nomination which is considered Nixon's without a contest.

TO GET DEGREE—Mrs. Joanna Wall Rhodes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wall of Camp Springs, will receive her degree in elementary education from Texas Tech on May 30, in the Lubbock Coliseum. A 1956 graduate of Hobbs High School, she finished her college work in January and has been teaching in the Waller S. Zoway Elementary School in Lubbock. She will teach there next year also. Mrs. Rhodes went her first two years to Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene, transferring to Tech in 1958.

Woman's Culture Club Has Outstanding Program At Final Meeting Of The Year

The Woman's Culture Club met Tuesday afternoon at the Martha Ann Club for its final meeting of the season.

The program entitled "Our Texas Heritage" was led by Mrs. Jodie Bynum.

Special guests, pioneers of Texas, were: Mr. Aubry Clark, Miss Ruby Clark, Miss Jessie Mae Clark, Mrs. Kate Thrane, and Mrs. U. G. Williams.

Following their introductions, each guest related an incident which he or she experienced when first coming to this part of the country. Every event told was indeed interesting. Some were amusing and some serious, especially Mrs. Thrane's encounter with the Indians.

Yellowstone and Platte Rivers drove them away to the south and west, taking possession of the land. For 150 years they resisted the approach of all intruders. Thus they represent the most significant human element in retarding the occupation and settlement of the plains region.

The Comanche was not driven into this country but came because they found it well suited to their mode of existence. They moved into the South Plains in order to secure greater supply of horses. The horse was both a form of capital and a medium of exchange for them. In fact, during the 19th century the horse, next to the buffalo was the principal food for some of them.

Parker and a few others escape him, the Indian was never a threat anywhere in Texas after that time."

Mrs. A. C. Martin gave a comprehensive history of Scurry County and the town of Snyder. In part she said: "The county of Scurry was organized in 1884, just eight years after the first families began settling here. It was named for General Wm. R. Scurry a confederate officer and a member of the last congress of the Republic of Texas. It is composed of 909 square mile of rich prairie land, drained by the Colorado River, primarily a ranch and farm country. Today it has become a rich oil field, perhaps the wealthiest county west of Fort Worth."

Snyder, the county seat of Scurry, was established in 1887. Mr. Pete Snyder a man from Pennsylvania arrived in this county after many skirmishes with the Indians, and established a camp on Deep Creek, giving the town his name.

In 1884 the first commissioners court was held. Not until 1886 was the first court house built, the lots being donated by Mr. Snyder and others. The first business buildings were erected on the south side of the square and made of adobe blocks.

"The first newspaper, 'The Comanche West,' was published in 1898 which was a weekly edition. To day we have the Snyder Daily News with more than 6150 subscribers."

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. S. A. Tibbels, to 19 members and five guests.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching and relieve pain—without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance, "Bio-Dyne"—discovery of a world-famous research institute. The substance is now available in supplementary or treatment form under the name Preparation 11.

Mrs. Bynum gave a resume of Texas early history. In part she said: "By the spring of 1870 civilization had already established a firm beach-head on the rolling plains, in the form of ranches and Quaker settlements. However, there was still an occasional Indian threat. The Comanches in the territory were prone to jump reservations and head south for buffalo country during the spring months."

"The Slaughter brothers, John and Will, were ranching in what is now Crosby Co. They had been there since the early part of 1872 and to them the Indians had been as it were a burr under the saddle from the start. The Comanches, not only had stolen 40 head of horses from them, a pair of mules from the horse, but had also killed two men in Yellowstone country in order to get a herd of burros which the two men were driving to Colorado."

"After this country had been cleared of the Indians, the buffalo hunters came. They built dugouts on the banks of Deep Creek, luring them with buffalo hides. The first houses built here were made of lumber hauled from Fort Worth. In one instance it took six weeks to haul the material for one house on a freight wagon drawn by teams of oxen."

Mrs. Annie Bailey reported on the part of the Comanche Indian played in the History of Scurry County. A few excerpts from her report are: "About the beginning of the 18th century the Comanche Indians left their country between

"After a time the Comanche situation became more tragic. He would not be made available, for white men."

"In 1874 the U. S. Govt. commissioned Randal McKenzie to take over Fort Concho at San Angelo and get the Comanche out of here at any cost. After making thrusts into Palo Duro Canyon, destroying Indian horses and every Indian he could find, in a final foray he marched into the Snyder area in the bleakness of December. Although McKenzie let Quantah

AGAINST ALL RULES OF HUMANITY

French Drug Store Presents Some Outstanding Features

By INEZ ROBB
 PARIS — It is too late to save the summit, but I feel the intelligence I am about to impart may succor more frazzled tourists than the American Hospital at Neuilly, the Embassy, the American Express and the Poles combined.
 Both the wonder and the pride of Paris at the moment is a new drug store on the Champs Elysee about a block from the Arc de Triomphe. It is a glittering institution of gleaming glass and chrome that the French proudly believe to be American, and that I regard as miraculous.
 When my French friend asked me to lunch with her at a drug store, I thought she had gone off her rocker. Through the entire summit conference, I had existed as the Palais de Chaillot on ham sandwiches, made by a French descendant of the late Fred Harvey—whose dying words to his heirs "so the legend goes were "Cut the ham thin, boys."
 So I was in no mood to enter a store as a drug store customer, to come a Parisian and drug store, to call it "lunch."
 Ah-h-h — but this is the drug store where one sits at a little table and decides between sole au gratin, comme en Grande Bretagne, de Veau prevencol, or the nousette de porc, non-Presnager.
 With a soufflé au Grand Marnier to round out the meal.
 But it is not of the food that I come to twang my lyre. Or even to sing the praises of that novelty to the French, a popcorn machine, inside whose glass case the finished product drifts and swirls like snow.
 No, the salvation I wish to pinpoint for tourists-to-come are two devices of such extrajudicial sophistication that they could only be French. I can scarcely wait until some enterprising American entrepreneur introduces them in the drug store of home sweet home.
 Not to prolong the suspense, the first of these devices, on the left as one enters the drug store, is a machine that massages weary feet.
 And whose feet in Paris, after all those cathedrals and cobbled streets, aren't collapsed. Here, for one new franc, or 20 cents, is a massage for the dogs. All the tourists has to do is step on the machine, which looks like the vending machines that pepper drug stores at home, drop in the coin, and purr as the automatic massage gets to work on the metatarsals. It is bliss, pure, unadorned bliss.
 But marvelous as is this merciful machine to ease the arches, I have saved the best for the last. The real lifesaver for tourists is on the right of the door as one enters this Taj Mahal of drug paraphernalia. It is an apparatus that also bears a family resemblance to the American weighing machine.
 However, there is one crucial difference. At head height, there is a round plastic bowl, just the right size to contain the average phony-soufflé. There is also the "measuring" little bit for the new one-ounce piece. When it has been deposited, the customer puts his face in the plastic bowl and a half-mask appears. Next, the patient puts his schnoz into the mask and begins to breathe deeply of pure oxygen.
 Unfortunately, I forgot to time how long or how much oxygen my 20 cents purchased. But it seemed to me that I was breathing deeply and with increasing happiness and joie de vivre for several minutes before there was a little click and the oxygen ceased.
 Let me say that when I thrust my face into the oxygen mask, I was so exhausted from (1) the royal wedding and (2) the summit that I feared I might never live to see home again. I was, in two words, dead beat.
 However, by the time I had inhaled my 20 cents worth of oxygen I was floating around about two feet off the ground. I, who had been so full of misery and simple exhaustion only moments before, now felt no pain.
 It is when a girl with a mongrel meets a man walking a mutt," said Baker, deservingly. "Each then realizes the other is broad-minded, unprejudiced and not interested in trying to keep up with the Joneses."

Togetherness In Congress Fades

By JAMES MARLOW
 Associated Press News Analyst
 WASHINGTON (AP) — Togetherness lasted less than a week.
 Democrats and Republicans in a moment of bewildered silence which they called a united front, rallied behind President Eisenhower when Premier Nikita Khrushchev humiliated him and wrecked the summit meeting.
 But politics and the upcoming elections got the better of them. Khrushchev performed on Monday, May 16, the togetherness here lasted until Thursday when it must have become suffocating to Adlai Stevenson. He attacked Eisenhower. Things got back to normal fast.
 Now Democrats disagree with Democrats, Republicans with Republicans. And Democrats and Republicans are charging each other with being "soft on communism," a phrase not heard much since the days of Sen. Joseph McCarthy.
 This is a kind of bonus for Khrushchev. Stevenson, who may once again get the Democratic nomination, said that while Khrushchev smashed the summit, Eisenhower "crossed his and sledgehammer," through his administration's handling of the spy plane incident.

Dog Is Now Best Friend Of Woman

By HAL BOYLE
 NEW YORK (AP) — The dog, once man's best friend, today has become women's best friend, says Stephen Baker.
 "In the cities the dog often takes the place of the old-fashioned marriage arranger. A dog is the best husband-catcher a single girl can find," he says.
 Baker, a 6-foot-4 art director for a major advertising firm here, is author of "How to Live With a Neurotic Dog." He is convinced that if America has 25 million dogs, "at least 25 million of them are neurotic—and that's a conservative estimate."
 The reason is that living a dog's life in a civilized world is bound to make anybody neurotic.
 But he believes the best Leap Year investment a girl in search of matrimony can make is to buy a dog—and take it for a walk.
 "If they meet a bachelor out walking his dog, the twosome at once becomes a foursome. It's not a pickup. It's just one dog greeting another dog," he pointed out.
 But in using a canine Cupid to help her track down a soulmate Baker emphasized, it is important that a girl pick a pooch that best suits her own personality.
 "A girl who is tall, elegant and aloof should choose a Russian wolfhound or Afghan hound, which gives the same appearance," Baker said.
 "If she is friendly and outgoing, she should stroll with a French poodle. It is the friendliest of dogs."
 Baker has owned dogs ranging from a Pekinese to a Newfoundland.
 "No girl should walk with a cocker spaniel, a bulldog or a police dog," he said.
 "The spaniel is the most neurotic of dogs, and raises the suspicion she is a complete neurotic herself."
 The bulldog is aggressive and masculine and makes her look that way. A shy man will cross the street rather than meet a girl with a police dog. He is afraid this is the kind of girl who would check his every movement if he married her."
 What is the best combination of all?

Bryant Wins Nomination In Florida

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Farris Bryant, Harvard-trained Ocala attorney who urged a firm hand in dealing with Florida's integration problems, has won the Democratic nomination for governor. The 45-year-old former House speaker captured 55 of the state's 67 counties in a smashing triumph over State Sen. Doyle E. Carlton Jr., who had pledged to continue the moderate course of retiring Gov. LeRoy Collins in dealing with racial problems.

Returns from 1,927 of the state's 1,971 precincts gave Bryant 481,172 and Carlton 406,630. Bryant has to face Republican nominee George Peterson of Fort Lauderdale in November, but Democratic nomination has been tantamount to election in Florida. Selection of Bryant means the state is headed toward a more conservative form of government during the next four years. Bryant pledged no new taxes and trimming of 25 million dollars a year from the state's spending program.

Bryant, a militant advocate of states' rights, declared Collins was out of step with Floridians on the racial issue. He said Florida needed a governor who had training, experience and the mind to combat efforts to integrate schools, lunch counters and beaches.

While promising to preserve segregation by all "honorable, legal and constitutional means," Bryant said he would never close the public schools.

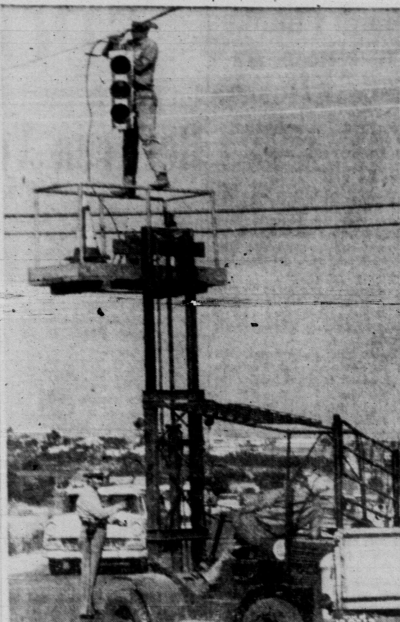

Carlton, who ran with Collins' active support, conceded defeat during the 18-day primary.

Collins said at Tallahassee he was disappointed by the defeat of Carlton but he pledged his full cooperation to Bryant.

Carlton ran with the editorial endorsement of most of the state's daily newspapers, but his organization wasn't nearly as effective as that of Bryant.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon picked up Florida's 26 Republican national convention delegates and Sen. George Smathers as a favorite son got Florida's 29 Democratic delegates votes. Their states of delegates were unopposed.

The Smathers delegates got 250,245 votes in returns from 1,498 of 1,971 precincts. Nixon delegates polled 46,083 in returns from 1,407 precincts.

TIRED ARM OF THE LAW—Monday afternoon Snyder residents got a glimpse of the most reliable type of traffic signal. It came from the long arm of a policeman standing in the center of the intersection at Thirty-seventh Street and Avenue S as police officers took turns directing traffic while men from the city electrical department replaced the single traffic light with two new ones. Above, J. H. Kimmel, directs the five o'clock traffic.

Recounts, Protests Result In Little Change For Census

By The Associated Press
Census blues plague many a Texas city, and it appears those most disappointed by the government's head-count probably will stay that way.

There have been angry protests from community leaders in a number of places. In most cases their complaint was that the preliminary census report just couldn't be right—chamber of commerce and other sources were positive their city had a lot more residents.

People in a number of places got busy with supplemental drives to round up all their neighbors the census takers missed. Some of these campaigns are still in progress, but quite a few have given up.

"It looks like the census workers were more accurate than we thought," observed a resident of Paris, one of the complaining cities.

Paris carried out a brisk "Operation Miscount." Mayor Bill Hagan had asserted that with all local indices pointing to a gain, figures showing his city dropped from 21,643 a decade ago to 20,000 were ridiculous.

But Operation Miscount turned up only 136 Paris residents missed by the government enumerators.

Surprisingly, the biggest upward revision so far in Texas was in the tally for Midland. That West Texas oil center, already rebounding at a 47.5 per cent increase since 1950, got credit for 2,227 more persons than the Census Bureau first listed.

Officials explained that the Midland total jumped to 82,278 because they had credited the extra 2,727 to rural sections of Midland County by mistake, instead of to the county seat.

Tommy Day, president of a subcommittee of the Chamber of Commerce in that Central Texas city and neighboring areas of Bell County. It added more than 500 to the preliminary census total of 82,278.

In Killeen, another oil field center in East Texas, civic leaders posted a reward of $1 for word of every person not previously enumerated. They called it "Operation Now Count."

So far there have been no reports of significant changes from such campaigns in Killeen or such other cities as Fort Worth, Austin, Athens, Big Spring, Lubbock and Sweetwater.

Newspapers joined in these protests by publishing convenient blanks to be filled in and mailed to the Census Bureau. Special clerks were assigned to answer Chamber of Commerce and other telephones listed for giving information about people missed in the census.

Butler Says Ike's Regime Too Soft Toward Russians

NEW YORK (AP)—Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler accuses the Eisenhower administration of being too soft toward the Soviet Union the past two years.

"I think we have been playing fast and loose with the Russians under this administration," he said Tuesday.

He said he was not accusing the administration of a deliberate policy of appeasement but rather of an unwitting reliance on the Soviets.

He said that fallacy of the administration's thinking as tragically exposed in the collapse of the summit meeting.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty, asked for comment on Butler's attack, said in Washington, "Tell him I laughed and said Mr. Butler is the best Democratic national chairman the Republicans ever had."

Butler made his charge at a news conference shortly after Gov. LeRoy Collins of Florida was selected as permanent chairman of the Democratic National Convention.

Sen. Frank Church of Idaho was picked for keynote speaker at the convention opening July 11 in Los Angeles.

The two men were chosen at a meeting of the 14-member committee on arrangements. The choices are technically subject to ratification by the delegates at the convention.

Selection of Collins, 51, a southern moderate on racial issues and civil rights, may help bridge the gap between Northern integrationists and Southern segregationists in the party.

Church, 45, is a civil rights advocate and is the youngest member of the Senate.

Butler's charge that the Eisenhower administration has been soft toward the Soviet Union came after a suggestion at a news conference that the Democratic party was risking becoming known as the party of appeasement.

Butler said the softness he alleged consisted of telling the American people that Premier Nikita Khrushchev was changing his attitude, of reducing the size of the U.S. military establishment and of the handling of Khrushchev's visit to this country last year. Butler said the Eisenhower administration trusted Khrushchev too far.

Butler said the United States should negotiate with the Soviets "from a position of strength." He said he agrees with those who are entitled to a debate on what caused the summit collapse. He also said he agrees with Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York that political partisanship should have no part in the debate.

Think Lunik III Returned May 20

BEDFORD, Mass. (AP)—U.S. Air Force experts think the Soviet satellite, Lunik III returned to the earth's atmosphere and burned up about May 20.

The National Space Surveillance Control Center at Hanscom Field announced the calculation Tuesday.

The Soviets launched the rocket last Oct. 4. It circled the moon and transmitted photographs of the moon's far side.

The center said the most recent Soviet space capsule, Sputnik IV, is orbiting the earth in eight parts spread over a 16-minute interval. It figured this minor constellation makes it orbit in 94.3 minutes.

375 Holiday Road Deaths Predicted

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Safety Council says as many as 375 persons may die on the nation's highways during the three-day Memorial Day holiday.

The previous record of 371 was set during a three-day observance in 1958.

In addition to the fatalities, the council said Monday, 13,000 persons could suffer disabling injuries from auto accidents.

A non-holiday weekend of the same number of hours—78—and on the same day of the week would result in about 310 deaths and 12,000 disabling injuries the time of year, the council said.

Soviet Resolution Falls Short In U. N. Council

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Western opposition in the U.N. Security Council today doomed a Soviet resolution asking for condemnation of U.S. spy plane flights.

Diplomats waited to see if the two neutral nations on the council—Ceylon and Tunisia—would line up with the Western majority or would merely abstain on the vote expected Thursday.

Both Ceylon and Tunisia were to speak this afternoon along with U.S.-allied Ecuador in the third session of the council debate on the Soviet charges against the United States.

Even before the council began debate, diplomats and observers at the U.N. had been certain the Soviet resolution would not get the seven votes necessary for adoption. Tuesday's session of the debate bore this out.

Only Communist Poland and the Soviet Union were committed to vote for the proposal. Argentina and Nationalist China said they would vote no. France said she could not give her assent to the resolution. Britain and Italy did not announce their voting positions, but they were known to be planning to cast negative votes.

The resolution was prompted by the downing of an American U-2 photo-reconnaissance plane May 1 near Sverdlovsk, 1,400 miles inside the Soviet Union, and subsequent information from Washington that the United States had been making such spy flights over Soviet territory for four years.

The Soviets called on the council to condemn "incursions by United States aircraft into the territory of other states" and to ask the U.S. government to prevent their recurrence.

In the debate Tuesday Jerry Michalowski of Poland said U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, in defending the U-2 flight, had enunciated a "Herter doctrine" that the United States had the right to send spy planes over the Soviet Union for security reasons.

He said the 1928 Havana and 1944 Chicago aviation conventions, both ratified by the United States, banned unauthorized flights over foreign countries, but that Herter sought "to replace international law by the law of the jungle."

Delegates of Britain, France, Argentina, Italy and Nationalist China also spoke.

Other contributing factors, he said, are better compliance of taxpayers, an increase in taxpayers due to population increase, and more young people working and more people continuing in the labor market.

China defended the United States. They denied Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko's charge that the flights were aggressive acts, although Mario Amadeo of Argentina said nothing could justify violation of any country's territorial sovereignty.

Sir Pierson Dixon of Britain said President Eisenhower had given a "categorical assurance" that the flights had been suspended and would not be resumed, but despite this the Soviet Union used the U-2 case to break up last week's Paris Big Four summit conference "on which the nations of the world had built up so much hope."

Armand Berard of France said the Soviet Union had caused "profound disappointment" by refusing to participate in that conference. He called for controlled disarmament "to eliminate the menace in the projection of nuclear weapons into space" carrying nuclear warheads.

Egidio Ortoni of Italy pointed out that the United States had just put a Midas "spy-in-the-sky" satellite into orbit from Cape Canaveral, Fla. He said such U.S. satellites and the recently orbited Soviet space ship had an enormously increased capacity of exploring or observing compared to "international dealings on surprise attack and on outer space."

FINAL RITES AT LAST—Senior students and their dates line up to go through the final ceremony before they are full-fledged alumni of Snyder High School...

Seniors Told To Develop Drive In Life

Almost 100 students from Snyder High School received diplomas at commencement exercises at the high school auditorium last night and heard Dr. James H. Juancey, pastor of the First Christian Church of El Paso, tell them they must strive to put the "drive of success" into their lives.

"The future is determined by the spirit and goals of each," Dr. Juancey told the group as he urged them to lay aside the apathy that has overtaken the American youth concerning principles and personal pride.

"Success is determined by the drive within your mind," Dr. Juancey continued, stating that Russia is succeeding in science where we are failing or lagging behind because they have a drive instilled within them from the days of their infancy and the flame is kept alive all through life.

Dr. Juancey gave several historical examples showing "where there is no vision, the people perish," taking his examples from ancient history to the present age.

T. E. McCollum, superintendent of the Snyder schools, introduced Dr. Juancey.

Preceding Dr. Juancey, Johnny Joyce in his eulogistic address told his class mates that it is not what they can do that matters, but what they can do and will do, adding that they must strive for service and achieve effort.

He stated that true peace comes only from a positive accomplishment of goals in this rapidly growing and changing world.

"Reputation is what we do when we do when we are seen by God," Joyce concluded.

Sahaburrahman Sherrell Bell emphasized how much they owe their family, school and religious training before they could go on to success.

Several scholarships were presented by T. D. Wiman, Jr., high school principal, Johnny Joyce and Sherrell Bell to the Department of Education; Charles Johnson received the teachers scholarship as the most outstanding student in the classrooms; Charles Easterwood received the Lions Club scholarship; Camilla Roberts received the High School PTA scholarship; Jerry Walker received a joint scholarship from the Holy SS Class and the First Methodist Church; and Marsha Hurst received a nursing scholarship from the auxiliary of the Canyon Reef Medical Society.

Program for the evening included invocation by Kathy Mott; invocation by Marcus Strickland, president of the senior class; presentation of graduates by McCollum; and benediction by Lynn Herndon, vice-president of the senior class.

The Girls Chorus under the direction of Robert Clinton provided music for the occasion singing "So In Love" and the senior class song, "Halls of Ivy."

J. W. Phillips, vice president of the board of education, presented the diplomas.

Next World's Fair To Be A Whopper

NEW YORK (AP)—The 1964-65 New York Worlds Fair is going to be a whopper—two and a half times bigger than the fair in 1939-40.

THE LONG AND THE SHORT OF GRADUATION is summed up in the above picture taken just before Snyder seniors made their last trip to the high school auditorium last night...

Departure Of Plane Delayed

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP)—The freedom flight of nine Americans and their C-47 from Communist East Germany, was delayed today, perhaps by bad weather.

More than 24 hours after Soviet authorities released the group and their U.S. Air Force transport, they remained on Communist soil.

A Communist police official at Grevesmuhlen, near the meadow farm-engine transport, reported in midafternoon that the plane was still there.

"We had to level out a take-off strip," he said. "But we don't know why it hasn't taken off. The weather may be the reason."

North German clouds covered rains softened the ground. U.S. Air Force men stood by at Wiesbaden to welcome the nine Americans—eight men and a woman—who strayed on a flight from Copenhagen, Denmark, to Hamburg, Germany, and spent four days in Soviet custody.

A U.S. military mission team headed by Lt. Col. Clarke T. Baldwin, Jr. of Warren, Va., is ordered to the landing site, about 10 miles inside of the Iron Curtain to handle formalities connected with the release.

Federal Tax Payments Up

DALLAS (AP)—Federal tax collections have increased at a record rate of 11 per cent during fiscal 1960. Ellis Campbell, Jr., district director of Internal Revenue today.

Campbell said Tuesday's deposits for the district of $11,089,003 bring the total of the fiscal year to date to $1,230,727,149.

"This shows an increase over last year of 11 per cent, almost three times the normal 3 per cent increase rate from year-to-year," Campbell said.

He said the big increase is believed due mainly to the booming economy of the northern half of Texas.

Other contributing factors, he said, are better compliance of taxpayers, an increase in taxpayers due to population increase, and more young people working and more people continuing in the labor market.

Ira Postmaster Nominee Is Named

Announcement was made in Washington, D. C., this morning that President Eisenhower had sent to the Senate the name of Norene Chaney as nominee for postmaster at Ira.

Mrs. Chaney, a widow, has lived in the Ira community for the past 10 years, and she took the examination for the Ira postmaster's post several months ago.

Cost Of Living Skyrockets To All-Time Record In April

WASHINGTON (AP)—Living costs rose four-tenths of one per cent in April to another record high.

The rise was the largest for any month since last June.

In reporting the increase today, the Labor Department said it was largely due to a rise in food prices. Poor spring growing conditions were a factor in the upward movement of food costs.

The department's consumer price index rose to 126.2 per cent of the 1947-49 base period. This is 1.9 per cent higher than a year earlier.

Nearly a million workers in the auto, farm equipment and related parts industries will get a 2-cent-an-hour pay raise because of the April living cost rise. Their union contracts provide for adjustments based on the consumers price index.

An adjustment of about one-cent an hour will go to an additional 150,000 workers, most of them employed by the Westinghouse Electric Manufacturing Co.

Similar pay raises may be due an additional 100,000 workers, mostly in aircraft plants. Their situation is uncertain because their labor contracts providing for adjustments have either expired or will soon do so.

Arnold Chase, Labor Department price chief, said the sizable living cost rise in April is not viewed as the beginning of a strong upward trend in consumers prices.

Chase said the April increase was particularly influenced by price boosts for fresh meats and vegetables. He said the food price increase was due to supply short ages brought about by adverse weather during the past few months.

Foods as a whole rose by 1 1/2 per cent between March and April. Prices rose for most meats, particularly pork, fresh fruits, eggs, and for potatoes and tomatoes.

Chase said that because of the unusually large increase in food prices in April, he expected little change in the over-all living cost index in May.

But he forecast probable additional living cost increases—due to higher food prices—the remainder of the summer.

The only significant price decline in April was for used cars, which the Labor Department said are meeting severe competition from new compact cars.

Continuing heavy sales of new cars kept prices up for the new models.

Prices of clothing changed very little in April and there was no change in costs of public transportation, repairs and home maintenance or for electricity.

The Labor Department reported that the purchasing power of factory workers dropped by 1 1/2 per cent from March to April—the fourth straight monthly decline.

Spending earnings—that is, pay checks after tax deductions—dropped by about 85 cents to $90.20 a week for the factory worker passing a family of four.

The decline resulted from shorter hours of work; also the Good Friday holiday fell during the April survey week.

Midas Satellite Soars Over Earth

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—An experimental Midas "spy" satellite today whirled about the earth every 94.34 minutes, ready to test its missile detection equipment on giant flares and friendly rockets.

Midas, weighing 2 1/2 tons, will determine the feasibility of using a series of such satellites to patrol the earth for enemy missiles. These orbiting space stations will use infra-red sensing devices to detect the heat trail of a hostile missile the instant it is fired.

The alarm would be radioed to the United States, which then would have about 30 minutes to activate defense and retaliatory measures.

Ike Slates His Report For Tonight

WASHINGTON, AP—President Eisenhower reports to the American people tonight on the collapse of the summit conference of the summit conference and its effect on the policies of this and other free world nations.

He speaks to the nation in the midst of political, diplomatic and legislative repercussions over the use of a U.S. spy plane brought down in the Soviet Union just before the summit blowup.

The Kremlin was urged by the White House to let the Soviet people listen to broadcasts on the President's 30-minute talk. James through American newsmen said "the Russian people, as well as the free people of the world have a right to hear it."

The President's address, from the White House at 7:30 EST will be carried live by CBS and ABC-TV networks, and all major radio networks. It will be rebroadcast at 9 p.m. by NBC-TV.

To broadcast the presidential message overseas in English and 23 other languages, including Russian.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee called Secretary of State Christian A. Herter for closed-door testimony Friday, starting a major inquiry into the downing of the U-2 spy plane and the chain of events which followed.

The hearings are to continue into next week with testimony by Director Allen W. Dulles of the Central Intelligence Agency, Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr., Gen. Nathan Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Agency.

Road Bids Due June 21

The Texas Highway Department is calling for bids on June 21 on improvements to Farm Road 1605 (Thirty-seventh Street) in Scurry County.

The work will involve grading a little over two miles extending from State Highway 350 to U.S. 84.

Plans for the improvements have been "in the mill" for several years, and the additional right-of-way acquired by the county is now being cleared of utility lines, etc.

The Texas Highway Department estimates that 80 working days will be required to complete the project.

Fight Erupts In Turkish Parliament

ANKARA, Turkey (AP)—A wild fist broke out today between opposing deputies in Parliament over Premier Adnan Menderes' strong man policies. It came as Menderes was reported ready to ease his clampdown on the opposition People's Republican party.

The fight started when Deputy Asim Gulek denounced Menderes' ruling Democratic party. He charged its policies had abolished freedom of speech in Turkey.

Democrats rushed toward Gulek and fists flew in a 10-minute melee. Order was restored when the speaker of the chamber called a short recess.

At least seven Republicans required first aid after the battle. An equal number of Democrats also suffered bruises and minor injuries.

HILO SMASHED BY TIDAL WAVES—Automobiles tossed about like toys amid the debris of broken buildings attest to the fury of four tidal waves that hit Hilo, Hawaii. The waves, generated by earthquakes in Chile; 6,800 miles away, took at least 36 lives, injured scores of others, and caused property damage estimated to run in the millions of dollars. Nixon Can't Win, Stassen Declares

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Harold E. Stassen said today Vice President Richard M. Nixon can't win the presidential election. Stassen, who four years ago failed in a bid to keep Nixon from the vice-presidential nomination, urged the nomination of one of four Republicans he thinks can win.

Top Consular Operation In Mexico

By JACK BUTLER
MEXICO CITY (AP)—The United States consular operation in Mexico is the largest in the world, says the U.S. Embassy. It may be enlarged.

The flow of Mexican travelers to the United States is expected to average around 200,000 a year from now on. More than half a million Americans visit Mexico annually. Over 50,000 Americans live and work here, and more are moving to Mexico to retire. Trade relations are booming.

To handle the work and problems arising from these conditions the United States maintains 12 consular offices outside Mexico City.

The former adviser to President Eisenhower called for dumping of Nixon and the selection of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, U.N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson or Secretary of the Interior Fred A. Seaton.

Stassen, in a memorandum filed Tuesday to the 68 other Pennsylvania delegates to the republican National Convention, said it appears that Nixon would carry only Maine, Indiana, Vermont, New Hampshire and Arizona.

A delegate to the convention which opens in Chicago July 25, Stassen pleaded for an open convention, and failing that, asked that his party's leaders without selection of a presidential nominee until after the primary June 7 in California.

Stassen said if Nixon makes "an impressive showing in his home state" he will drop his fight. "This means that I will not battle against him at the convention," Stassen said. "I will give in for the sake of the party."

Rockefeller has said repeatedly he will not be a candidate for the presidential nomination, and that he won't attend the convention.

Lodge, Anderson and Seaton have not been mentioned seriously for the nomination which is considered Nixon's without a contest.

Veto Hailed As Campaign Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some Democrats claimed a new election campaign issue today in President Eisenhower's successful veto of a bill to aid depressed areas.

The Senate voted Tuesday to sustain Eisenhower's May 13 veto of the 251-million-dollar economic assistance measure.

The vote was 45 to override and 39 against. The 45 votes were 11 shy of the two-thirds majority needed to pass a bill over a veto. Forty Democrats and five Republicans voted to override. Twenty-five Republicans and 14 Democrats supported Eisenhower. The Democrats included 12 Southern senators and Sens. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio and J. Allen Frear Jr. of Delaware.

Two Ships In Collision

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The aircraft carrier Saratoga and the West German merchant ship Bernd Leon Hardt collided 200 miles east of Cape Henry Tuesday night, the Navy reported today.

No one was hurt on either ship. The carrier came into Hampton Roads and the freighter proceeded toward Baltimore, Md.

Both ships were damaged in the collision which occurred about 7 p.m.

The Saratoga's jet fuel lines were ruptured, starting a fire which was quickly extinguished. Her catwalks and one of her superiors were heavily damaged and one of her masts was overboard.

A spokesman at Atlantic Fleet Headquarters said the Saratoga was sidestepped on her port side. The destroyer Strubling escorted the merchant ship from the collision area to the Virginia coast. The merchantman headed toward Baltimore.

The 60,000-ton Saratoga is the largest aircraft carrier ever built—slightly larger than the Forrestal, first of the super carriers.

The ship is 1,046 feet long with a 248-foot beam and carries 100 aircraft.

Man Sought In Slayings Is Captured

COOPERSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A former mental patient sought in the slayings of his wife and neighbor was captured late Tuesday as he sat propped against a tree trunk, wounded by his own shotgun.

A search party came across Lloyd E. Shuffstall, 31, in a wooded area about a mile from his home near this northwestern Pennsylvania hamlet.

The lower part of Shuffstall's chin was shot off. Weakened by loss of blood, he offered no resistance. His capture ended an intensive 17-hour manhunt.

State police Capt. John Chrin questioned the unemployed foundry worker as saying he shot himself shortly after the slaying of his wife, Vera Rose, 47, mother of 10, and Harold DuPont, 43-year-old machinist.

DuPont was ambushed and shot on a dirt road a mile from the Shuffstall home. Mrs. Shuffstall was killed in the bedroom of her home. Both were shot with a 30-30 rifle.

State police said a son, Derald, 24, told them DuPont had been "keeping company" with Mrs. Shuffstall some time ago.

Shuffstall, released from a mental institution only a week ago, was treated at a hospital and lodged in Venango County jail at Franklin.

Tuxedos Stolen

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Someone stole a delivery truck from a suburban Upper Merion tuxedo rental firm. It contained 77 tuxedos—but all of them needed cleaning.

Even so there are many complaints about the service. Mexican citizens particularly protest over tape and delays in getting visas.

"An expansion is being studied," says the supervising consul general, Robert F. Cartwright. "Conditions could be improved if we had a consulate every 500 miles and in time this may come about. But it is too costly at present."

The U.S. Embassy in Mexico says it employs 408 persons in various departments, including the 12 consulates outside Mexico City. Mexican citizens make up half the total. The consular operation alone includes 117 Americans, 112 nationals.

"When Mexican champions like Jose Becerra fight in Los Angeles, we're really swamped," says Cartwright. Eager fans line up for blocks.

An estimated 15,000 U.S. veterans or dependents now live in Mexico on a permanent or temporary basis. The embassy Veterans Affairs office takes care of their claims for compensation and pensions, insurance, death benefits, hospital and medical care education and training.

Woman's Culture Club Has Outstanding Program At Final Meeting Of The Year

The Woman's Culture Club met Tuesday afternoon at the Martha Ann Club for its final meeting of the season.

The program entitled "Our Texas Heritage" was led by Mrs. Jodie Bynum.

Special guests, pioneers of Texas, were: Mr. Aubry Clark, Miss Ruby Clark, Miss Jessie Mae Clark, Mrs. Kate Thrane, and Mrs. U. G. Williams.

Following a brief introduction, each guest related some incident which he, or she, experienced when first coming to this part of the country. Every event told was indeed interesting. Some were amusing and some serious, especially Mrs. Thrane's encounter with the Indians.

Mrs. Bynum gave a resume of Texas early history. In part she said: "By the spring of 1879, civilization had already established a firm beach-head on the rolling plains, in the form of ranches and Quaker settlements. However, there was still an occasional Indian threat. The Comanches in the territory were prone to jump reservations and head south for buffalo country during the spring months. The Slaughter brothers, John and Will, were ranching in what is now Crosby Co. They had been there since the early part of 1878 and to them the Indians had been as it were, a burr under the saddle from the start. The Comanche not only had stolen 40 head of horses from them, a pair of mules from the Hensley brothers, but had killed two men in Yellowstone canyon in order to get a herd of burros which the two men were driving to Colorado. "After this country had been cleared of the Indians, the buffalo hunters came. They built dugouts on the banks of Deep Creek, lining them with buffalo hides. The first houses built here were made of lumber hauled from Fort Worth. In one instance it took six weeks to haul the material for one house on a freight wagon drawn by teams of oxen."

Mrs. Annie Butler reported on the "Part the Comanche Indians played in the History of Scurry County." A few excerpts from her report are: "About the beginning of the 18th century the Comanche Indians left their country between Yellowstone and Platte Rivers and moved into the South Plains. Here they fought with the Apaches, drove them away to the south and west, taking possession of the land. For 150 years they resisted the approach of all intruders. Thus they represent the most significant human element in retarding the occupation and settlement of the plains region.

"The Comanche was not driven into this country but came because they found it well suited to their mode of existence. They moved into the South Plains in order to secure greater supply of horses. The horse was both a form of capital and a medium of exchange for them. In fact, during the 19th century the horse, next to the buffalo was the principal food for some of them."

"After a time the Comanche situation became more tragic. He would not or could not adapt himself to the white man's way of life, and made ferocious raids on all settlers. So there seemed little that could be done but exterminate him if the frontier was ever to be made available for white men."

"In 1874 the U. S. Govt. commissioned Randal McKenzie to take over Fort Concho at San Angelo and get the Comanche out of here at any cost. After making thrusts into Palo Duro Canyon, destroying Indian horses and every Indian he could find, in a final foray he marched into the Snyder area in the bleakness of December. Although McKenzie let Quanah

Parker and a few others escape him, the Indian was never a threat anywhere in Texas after that time."

Mrs. A. C. Martin gave a comprehensive history of Scurry County and the town of Snyder. In part she said: "The county of Scurry was organized in 1884, just eight years after the first families began settling here. It was named for General Wm. R. Scurry a confederate officer and a member of the last congress of the Republic of Texas."

"Snyder, the county seat of Scurry, was established in 1887. Mr. Pete Snyder, a man from Pennsylvania, arrived in this county after many skirmishes with the Indians, and established a camp on Deep Creek, giving the town his name."

In 1884 the first commissioners court was held. Not until 1888 was the first court house built, the lots being donated by Mr. Snyder and others. The first business buildings were erected on the south side of the square and made of adobe blocks. "The first news paper, 'The Comanche West', was published in 1898, which was a weekly edition. Today we have the Snyder Daily News with more than 6150 subscribers." Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. S. A. Tibbets, to 19 members and five guests.

Bryant Wins Nomination In Florida

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Farris Bryant, Harvard-trained Ocala attorney who urged a firm hand in dealing with Florida's integration problems, has won the Democratic nomination for governor.

The 45-year-old former House speaker captured 55 of the state's 67 counties in a smashing triumph over State Sen. Doyle E. Carlton Jr., who had pledged to continue the moderate course of retiring Gov. Leroy Collins in dealing with racial problems.

Returns from 1,927 of the state's 1,971 precincts gave Bryant 491,172 and Carlton 406,630.

Bryant has to face Republican nominee George Petersen of Fort Lauderdale in November, but Democratic nomination has been tantamount to election in Florida.

Selection of Bryant means the state is headed toward a more conservative form of government during the next four years. Bryant pledged no new taxes and trimming of 25 million dollars a year from the state's spending program.

Bryant, a militant advocate of states' rights, declared Collins was out of step with Floridians on the racial issue. He said Florida needed a governor who had training, experience and the mind to combat efforts to integrate schools, lunch counters and beaches.

While promising to preserve segregation by all "honorable, legal and constitutional means," Bryant said he would never close the public schools.

Carlton, who ran with Collins' active support, conceded defeat shortly before 10 p.m.

HE'S THEIR BOY—Dickie McBeth, chosen the outstanding member of the Snyder High School Slide Rule Club, was presented a slide rule to help him in his further study of science and engineering Tuesday. Presenting the gift, on behalf of the Snyder chapter of the Society of Petroleum Engineers of AIME, is Harold Laczik, manager of the Sharon Ridge Unit and chairman of the Snyder chapter. Others shown are, from left, W. A. Vestal (Sacroc reservoir engineer), R. O. Thomas (sponsor of the Slide Rule Club), Jim B. Thomas (Chief engineer of Sacroc), and H. E. Price (district engineer of Lion Diamond M Unit). Each year the Scurry county engineers present a slide rule to a senior student who will continue science and engineering in college.

Recounts, Protests Result In Little Change For Census

By The Associated Press

Census blues plague many a Texas city, and it appears those most disappointed by the government's head-count probably will stay that way.

There have been angry protests from community leaders in a number of places. In most cases their complaint was that the preliminary census report just couldn't be right—chamber of commerce and other sources were positive their city had a lot more residents.

People in a number of places got busy with supplemental drives to round up all their neighbors the census takers missed. Some of these campaigns are still in progress, but quite a few have given up.

"It looks like the census workers were more accurate than we thought," observed a resident of Paris, one of the complaining cities.

Paris carried out a brisk "Operation Miscoount." Mayor Bill Hagan had asserted that with all local indices pointing to a gain, figures showing his city dropped from 21,643 a decade ago to 20,606.

But Operation Miscoount turned up only 136 Paris residents missed by the government enumerators.

Surprisingly, the biggest upward revision so far in Texas was in the tally for Midland. That West Texas oil center, already raising at a 175 per cent increase since 1950, got credit for 2,727 more persons than the Census Bureau first listed.

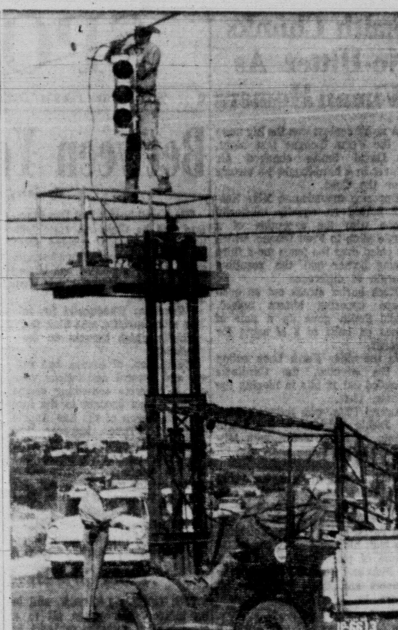

Officials explained that the Midland total jumped to 62,279 because they had credited the extra 2,727 to rural sections of Midland County by mistake, instead of to the county seat.

Temple also gained from a recheck by the Chamber of Commerce in that Central Texas city and neighboring areas of Bell County. It added more than 500 to the preliminary census total of 30,111 for Temple.

In Kilgore, another oil-field center in East Texas, civic leaders posted a reward of $1 for word of every person not previously enumerated. They called it "Operation Nose Count."

So far there have been no reports of significant changes from such campaigns in Kilgore or such other cities as Fort Worth, Austin, Athens, Big Spring, Lubbock and Sweetwater.

Newspapers joined in these projects by publishing convenient blanks to be filled in and mailed to the Census Bureau. Special clerks were assigned to answer Chamber of Commerce and other telephones listed for giving information about people missed in the census.

TIRED ARM OF THE LAW—Monday afternoon Snyder residents got a glimpse of the most reliable type of traffic signal. It came from the long arm of a policeman standing in the center of the intersection of Thirty-seventh Street and Avenue S as police officers took turns directing traffic while men from the city electrical department replaced the single traffic light with two new ones. Above, J. H. Kimmel, directs the five o'clock traffic.

AF Gives 13-Gun Salute To General

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP)—The Air Force version of a 13-gun salute was rendered Maj. Gen. Joe W. Kelly as he left here Tuesday for reassignment to Scott AFB, Ill.

During the farewell ceremony, 13 supersonic jets cut in their afterburners as they flew by the reviewing stand, thus simulating the 13-gun salute usually given for a general.

Village Set For Population Blast

MELVIN, Ill. (AP)—This village of 535 is getting ready for a population explosion Friday — Les Arends day.

Banker Fred Drake said the community 90 miles southwest of Chicago hopes to grow to 15,000 as his home town honors Rep. Leslie Arends, Republican whip in the House who is running for his 14th term in Congress.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Illinois Gov. William G. Stratton head the list of notables taking part.

Ask Cancellation Of Insurance Policy

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An insurance company asks legal permission to cancel a $20,000 life insurance policy on the late Betty Lanza, widow of singer Mario Lanza.

Mrs. Lanza, 37, died March 11 of what doctors called natural causes. In a suit filed Tuesday the Union Central Life Insurance Co. of Cincinnati contended she concealed diseases or ailments at the time the policy was written a year ago.

Butler Says Ike's Regime Too Soft Toward Russians

NEW YORK (AP)—Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler accuses the Eisenhower administration of being too soft toward the Soviet Union the past two years.

"I think we have been playing footsie with the Russians under this administration," he said Tuesday.

He said he was not accusing the administration of a deliberate policy of appeasement, but rather of an unwitting reliance on the Soviets.

He said that fallacy of the administration's thinking as tragically exposed in the collapse of the summit meeting.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty, asked for comment on Butler's attack, said in Washington: "Tell him I laughed and said Mr. Butler is the best Democratic national chairman the Republicans ever had."

Butler made his charge at a news conference shortly after Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida was selected as permanent chairman of the Democratic National Convention.

Sen. Frank Church of Idaho was picked for keynote speaker at the convention opening July 11 in Los Angeles.

The two men were chosen at a meeting of the 14-member committee on arrangements. The choices are technically subject to ratification by the delegates at the convention.

Selection of Collins, 51, a southern moderate on racial issues and civil rights, may help bridge the gap between Northern integrationists and Southern segregationists in the party.

Church, 35, is a civil rights advocate and is the youngest member of the Senate.

Butler's charge that the Eisenhower administration has been soft toward the Soviet Union came after a suggestion at a news conference that the Democratic party was risking becoming known as the party of appeasement.

Butler said the softness he alleged consisted of telling the American people that Premier Nikita Khrushchev was changing his attitude of reducing the size of the U.S. military establishment and of the handing of Khrushchev's visit to this country last year. Butler said the Eisenhower administration trusted Khrushchev too far.

Butler said the United States should negotiate with the Soviets "from a position of strength." He said he agrees with those who have said the American public is entitled to a debate on what caused the summit collapse. He also said he agrees with Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York that political partisanship should have no part in the debate.

Think Lunik III Returned May 20

BEDFORD, Mass. (AP)—U.S. Air Force experts think the Soviet satellite, Lunik III returned to the earth's atmosphere and burned up about May 20.

The National Space Surveillance Control Center, at Hanscom Field, announced the calculation Tuesday.

The Soviets launched the rocket last Oct. 4. It circled the moon and transmitted photographs of the moon's far side.

The center said the most recent Soviet space probe, Spunik IV, is orbiting the earth in eight parts spread over a 16-minute interval. It figured this minor constellation, Lunik makes it orbit in 94.3 minutes.

375 Holiday Road Deaths Predicted

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Safety Council says as many as 375 persons may die on the nation's highways during the three-day Memorial Day holiday.

The previous record of 371 was set during a three-day observance in 1958.

In addition to the fatalities, the council said Monday, 13,000 persons could suffer disabling injuries from auto accidents.

"A non-holiday weekend of the same number of hours—78 and on the same day of the week would result in about 310 deaths and 12,000 disabling injuries this time of year, the council said.
