Non-Essential Driver Must Get Along On Old Tires Despite Synthetic Boom

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—Despite heavy synthetic rubber production, the tire situation will remain "tight" for the next six or nine months.

Rubber Director Bradley Dewey in reporting this today said:

"The non-essential driver will not get a new tire in the visible future, and he can stay on the road only if he reduces his driving to bare necessity and recaps his tires on time."

Dewey revealed that the country's crude rubber stockpile now will fall below the danger-line, primarily because of what he called a late start on rayon cord production.

"To bridge the crisis in domestic transportation which this situation implies and keep their industry in operation," he said, "the truck and bus industry must cooperate as never before. Over-loading and speeding must be eliminated and every tire carcass which can be saved by recapping must be so preserved."

The tone of Dewey's fourth progress report was pessimistic, even though Dewey disclosed that synthetic plants already completed have a rated annual capacity of 640,000 long tons of rubber, only about 200,000 tons short of the goal. "No one need worry about this country's ability to produce synthetic rubber," he added.

Since the last progress report, however, the armed forces have increased their demands for heavy duty combat and airplane tires. Dewey said, adding that "the ineffective general manpower situation" has made it difficult to man even the existing tire-building machines.

De Gaulle Controls French Government

ALGIER, Nov. 10. (AP)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle was left in virtually undisputed control of the French committee of national liberation today following the resignation of Gen. Henri Giraud as co-president and other sweeping changes which drew Communist influence out of the committee's reconstruction.

Giraud's withdrawal, which, however, left him in command of the French armed forces, came at an unannounced meeting yesterday at which the committee adopted two decrees dropping five members, adding seven others and ordaining a separation of the civilian and military powers. An official announcement said that both decrees were signed by all members present, including Giraud.

Congress Tries To Avert Strike

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—Congressional intervention to head off a threatened strike of 1,100,000 railroad workers became increasingly likely today.

A senate subcommittee called on Fred M. Vinson, economic stabilization director, to defend his order rejecting the non-operating brotherhoods' demand for an eight-hour day.

Before the committee is a joint senate-house resolution designed to override Vinson and put the industry under effect. Chairman Johnson (D-Colo.) predicted approval of the resolution "unless Mr. Vinson presents some very sound reasons why we shouldn't."

At a hearing yesterday, George M. Harrison, president of the railway clerks, said the heads of all 15 of the non-operating brotherhoods are ready to fix a date for a strike upon completion of a vote among the unions' membership. He pledged however that a walkout would be put off until Congress had had time to act.

Oil Council Asks Crude Price Rise

CHICAGO, Nov. 10. (AP)—Asserting that the price of oil must be raised if the industry is to produce a sufficient amount to meet the need of the war program and essential civilian demand, the Petroleum Industry War Council yesterday voted to ask Congress to obtain higher crude oil prices.

The appeal to Congress to amend the oil price control statutes to permit higher prices was in the form of a resolution adopted by the PIWC and came after its recommendations for a boost had been vetoed by the office of economic stabilization.

Second Ball Bearing Plant Is Battered

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Algiers, Nov. 10. (AP)—German troops lashed out in nine furious counterattacks in the past 24 hours against American soldiers pressing in the Venafra area against the core of the greatly-reinforced Nazi winter line, it was announced today, but all were thrown back with U. S. artillery and infantry fire taking a heavy toll.

In a sharp new blow at Nazi war production, American Liberators battered the ball bearing works at Villar Perosa southwest of Turin—the last Italian source of vital bearings—and Flying Fortresses bombed the Ansaldo steel works, docks and railways at Genoa, Italy's leading port.

The Germans charging in the Venafra area tried vainly to hurl the Americans into the craggy ravines of the upper Volturno river.

Enemy resistance was almost equally stubborn along the entire line, but the Eighth Army to the east further consolidated its positions on high ground overlooking the Sangro river, and inland seized two important areas, including the towns of Castiglione and Forlì, in gains of over five miles.

The Germans launched a heavy counterattack at Calabritto on part of the Fifth Army front held by British forces, but this, too, was repulsed.

These frenzied sallies cost the Nazis heavily in casualties and prisoners captured. Allied headquarters announced American artillery backfired the enemy in the Venafra area poured shells into enemy ranks by day and night in barges whose destruction echoed through the valleys and whose shells ripped up the mountainsides.

Captured enemy documents confirmed prisoners' stories that the Germans had chosen their present front as a "winter line" and that the enemy command ordered the line to be held at all costs for "at least eight weeks."

Allied patrols probed the stout line.

Gestapo Holds Germany Firmly

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 10. (AP)—Reports from Germany on the eve of the 25th anniversary of the World War armistice, when internal chaos broke the Kaiser's empire, indicate that Heinrich Himmler's Gestapo has the home front in a firm grip.

In view of the succession of defeats suffered recently by the German army, however, Nazi leaders have taken a number of precautionary measures designed to keep affairs at home under control and avert any possibility of a collapse due to cracking morale.

According to advices from inside Germany, Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels, SS officials, police chiefs and propaganda leaders held a lengthy conference in Berlin two weeks ago to study the situation and decided that:

(1) The German security police should be strengthened and better armed.

(2) The quasi-military formations of the Nazi party must be held in a state of intensified preparedness.

(3) Stricter control must be exercised over all areas in which industrial plants are located and over all port areas.

In line with these decisions, it was said, a new arsenal already has been established for the security police in the industrial center of Prenzlau, 60 miles north of Berlin. Reports from Denmark also declared that approximately 3,000 SS men who were sent to Denmark during the recent disturbances there were being hurried back to Germany.

British Subs Sink Seven Nazi Ships

LONDON, Nov. 10. (AP)—British submarines sank seven ships, probably sank three more, and damaged six others during recent patrols in the Mediterranean and Aegean seas, the admiralty announced today.

Two troop ships were among those sunk in the Aegean, a communiqué said, and at least two escorted convoys suffered casualties from gunfire and torpedoes.

Marines Battle Hard Against Japs Landing on Bougainville

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—Loss of three destroyers, two in the South Pacific, and the third in battle with a submarine in the Atlantic was announced by the navy today.

SOUTHWEST PACIFIC ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Nov. 10. (AP)—United States Marines, tanks, artillery and planes are battling hard against several hundred Japanese who have landed north of Empress Augusta bay, thus forcing the Americans to fight on both sides of their Bougainville beachhead in the northern Solomons.

Latest advices from Adm. William F. Halsey indicated strongly today that the Japanese already are attempting to exert a squeeze play. While the northern force brought 50 mm. mortars into action, another force attempting to push up from the south skirmished with Marines and was pounded by 16 tons of explosives by Avenger torpedo bombers and Dauntless divebombers.

Defense Pleads For De Marigny's Life

NASSAU, Bahamas, Nov. 10. (AP)—Youthful Attorney Godfrey Higgs, making a final argument in his most important murder trial, told a Bahamas supreme court jury today that to cause Alfred de Marigny to be hanged from prejudice would be to greater crime than the slaying of Sir Harry Oakes.

Higgs asked jurors not to convict de Marigny of the murder of his multi-millionaire father-in-law, whose bludgeoned and burned body was found last July in a bedroom of the ocean-front estate, Westbourne.

"Purge from your minds any prejudices or pre-opinions," he said.

"De Marigny is a foreigner of French descent.

"Some of his actions may have shocked the people of this island, or shocked you.

"But you are not trying him on prejudice.

"If de Marigny died from prejudice it would be a greater crime than the slaying of Sir Harry Oakes.

Row Develops Over Unforeseen Coal Issue

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—A new row was developing today over a generally unforeseen issue in the Lick-Lewis wage agreement covering the soft coal industry.

Does the agreement require payment of the $40 lump sum per miner as retroactive pay for underground travel time between April 1 and June 20?

The coal operators say they are not required to pay it. The United Mine Workers take a contrary view, and the government hasn't made up its mind.

Reds Thunder Over First Heavy Snows

LONDON, Nov. 10. (AP)—The Germans acknowledged fresh retreats north and west of Kiev today before superior Russian forces, thundering over the heavy snows of the western Ukraine toward the Polish and Rumanian frontiers.

Gen. Nikolai Vatutin's first Ukrainian army was said in official Moscow advices to have advanced 27 miles in a day from Kiev, capturing 30 towns and villages. The Kiev combat carried within 58 miles of the important rail city of Korosten, further threatening Germans in the Ukraine with encirclement.

Russian tanks and infantry were pounding heavily at German lines northwest of Smolensk "in swaying fights" on the approaches to the Latvian frontier, the German communiqué said. Violent Russian attacks also were reported in the Nevel area of the frozen north.

Oil Industry's Building Sets New Record

CHICAGO, Nov. 10. (AP)—President William R. Boyd, Jr., of the American Petroleum Institute, predicted today that in seven months "we shall have facilities to transport and refine practically all of the oil we can produce and all the products required for the prosecution of the war."

Assessing that 1943 has been the "greatest" construction year in the petroleum industry's history, Boyd said that plans call for new plants for production of vital 100-octane aviation gasoline and aviation lubricants in "overwhelming" amounts.

In an address prepared for delivery to the institute's second war conference, Boyd told the oil men that increasing supplies of manpower with which to carry on the industry's construction program and war operations "has been a subject of mounting seriousness with both the petroleum and the petroleum industry war council."

Governor Will Probe Waste Of Texas Gas

AUSTIN, Nov. 10. (AP)—The controlling factor in his opposition to a proposed natural gas pipeline from Corpus Christi to Charleston, W. Va., is whether the gas intended for export is now being wasted, Governor Coke R. Stevenson indicated.

To this end, he said, he would consult with the Texas railroad commission for a further determination of the facts.

The governor has opposed the transport line on the theory that it would tend to deplete gas reserves which are needed for the development of Texas industry.

At a press conference he exhibited a letter from Richard Wagner, president of the Chicago corporation which owns the Tennessee Gas and Transmission company, operators of the proposed line, in which Wagner gave four principal arguments in support of the project.

Wagner said the line would stiffen the price of natural gas in the Gulf coast area, bring greater return to land and royalty owners, increase state production tax collections, and result in greater conservation and recovery of gas that is now being wasted.

He asserted 300,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas is wasted daily in Texas.

Wagner added that known Gulf coast gas reserves are in excess of 40 trillion cubic feet and geologists believe this will be augmented by additional drilling and new discoveries.

The total gas needed to supply the transmission line for the next 20 years will be negligible in relation to total reserves, he said, and conservation practices encouraged by the project may result in saving gas in excess of the volume passing through the pipeline.

The Chicago corporation, Wagner declared, already has $15,000,000 invested in Texas and its earnings have been placed in improvements rather than taken out of the state.

The pipeline will add substantially to these investments, he continued, and give employment to additional persons including a substantial number at a headquarters office to be opened in Houston.

Gardner Symonds of Corpus Christi, president of Tennessee Gas and Transmission company, has announced construction of the 1,182-mile line will start within two weeks.

Five thousand men will be employed on the job which has a priority order for $45,302,998 of which $23-

U-Boats Sunk Faster Than They Are Built

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—The Allies apparently are sinking U-boats faster than Germany's bomb-battered submarine factories can turn them out.

The sharp decline of the reich's undersea fortunes was brought out by figures on U-boat warfare released by the joint British-American governments last night.

The Allies announced that at least 60 German submarines were destroyed during the last three months, five a week. Over a six-month period, 150 subs were destroyed, certainly.

Authorities have estimated that the German war machine was able to turn out from 25 to 30 subs a month when operating at peak production and unmolested by air attack. Since the U. S. eighth air force and the RAF have pounded U-boat centers mercilessly, it is believed here that the reich's best efforts are 20 a month, far below the rate of destruction.

President Roosevelt, citing the figure 60 as a minimum, said this represented more submarines sunk than Allied merchant ships lost in August, September and October. August and October were one-two—the best months of the war for ship losses.

craft guns, 22 field guns and huge stores of other war gear.

Nazi troops were reported operating on a 50-mile deep arc west of Kiev in the first heavy snowfall on the Ukrainian front. Capture of Kirovsk or Zhitomir further to the south would cut the last railway short of Poland connecting German armies in the north with Nazi-held territory south and west of Kiev.

Thus the battered German divisions still inside the Dniester bend faced the choice of isolation or a precipitate retreat to the Rumanian border. These enemy forces north and west of Kiev meanwhile were being pushed back toward the almost impassable Pripyet marshes in lower White Russia.

Spain Bids For U. S. Sympathy

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—General Francisco Franco's government has declared its "manifest good will" toward the United States in what was seen here today as a Spanish bid for American sympathy.

In a note delivered to the state department yesterday by Ambassador Juan Francisco de Cardenas, Spain asserted that she has not recognized the Japanese puppet government in the Philippines.

The message, couched in diplomatic eloquence, said it was prompted by "the erroneous interpretation ascribed to the cablegram of courtesy" sent by the Spanish government to Jose P. Laurel, president of the Manila puppet regime.

Allies Did Not Bomb Vatican

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—A suggestion that Germany was responsible for bombing the Vatican last Friday was seen today in a state department release declaring that the lone plane could not have belonged to the Allies.

Mann Attacks Court Ruling

AUSTIN, Nov. 10. (AP)—A supreme court opinion remanding the Ford Motor company case to a trial court is "themed on a funeral dirge of Texas anti-trust laws as written by the legislature," Attorney General Gerald C. Mann declared in a rehearing motion.

The attorney general's petition said the supreme court decision, remanding the case for trial on merits as governed by the supreme court findings, holds that a manufacturer who has parted with the title of his product has the right to impose restraints upon the resale of products in order to protect his economic interest in the "good will" of those who use his products.

It added:

"This is the basic argument of the proponents of the fair trade acts—that a manufacturer of trademarked or branded commodities has a vital interest in the good will engendered by the sale of such goods with his mark or brand on them, and that an exception to the anti-trust laws ought to be made to enable him to foster and protect that good will."

"The so-called fair trade legislation has been rejected by the legislative branch of the government in this state."

"It's basic philosophy has now been adopted by the court in its opinion in this case."

"The state had contended that not only was the Ford dealer contract illegal on its face but that Ford, by a series of alleged practices, did in fact control and unlawfully influence the resale prices of its Texas dealers."

The court held, among other things, the dealer contract on its face did not violate the state's anti-trust laws.

German line.

Besides throwing in many more troops supported by heavy artillery concentrations and tanks ready for disruptive sorties, the Germans have cut many machine-gun emplacements in mountainside rocks.

The Eighth Army advances to Castellone, Carovilli and Forl put the lateral road inland from Vasto under Allied control. Advancing to Forl, British forces crossed the Vandra river on the Voltorno's headwaters. They encountered 45 major demolitions in their drive, and big fires were seen in Castel di Sangro and Ronero, still German-held.

The advance took more than a dozen other villages, including Macerona, Vallepiccola, Roccasecura, Montalto, Monticello, and Seblana.

The blow upon the Villar Perosa ball bearing works by 15th air force Liberators came a day after Flying Fortresses had wrecked a similar works in the nearby Fiat factories in Turin.

There was no official announcement on the damage at Villar Perosa, but the Fortress raid on Genoa was reported successful. Intense anti-aircraft fire was reported at Genoa.

With snow falling over the Apennines and low clouds preventing flying over the Eighth Army front in Italy, swarms of Allied fighters and fighter-bombers crossed the Adriatic to support Balkan guerrillas.

RAP Spitfires fired a small ship off Saseo Island near the Albanian coast, shot up radio stations and gun positions at Kavaje, Albania. RAP Kittyhawks hit a medium-sized merchant ship at Split, Yugoslavia, and set fire to railway cars near the docks.

In Italy, U. S. A-36 Invaders blew up a locomotive and four railway cars near Rome and hammered highway transports, while P-40 Warhawks bombed bridges, roads and the town of Cerrano north of Isernia. Last night Wellingtons bombed railway bridges at Pontonsieve 12 miles east of Florence. Mosquitos the previous night fired trains between

Two enemy planes were shot down, against no Allied losses.

An official announcement said a final tally showed Flying Fortresses and Liberators had established a new record in this theater by shooting down 48 enemy fighters in the big aerial battle over the Messerschmitt factory at Wiener-Neustadt in Austria Nov. 2. The largest previous total had been 45 downed over the Gerbini airfield in Sicily in July.

Wrestler Gives 100th Transfusion

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 10. (AP)—Spike Howard, 66-year-old wrestler and strong man, has looked forward to his 1,000th blood transfusion for years, so when he gave it last night he invited 250 guests to the ceremony at the Elks club.

Spike—his real name is Edward but his best friends wouldn't know it—says he has "never sold a drop and never lost a case." He once gave more than five pints in three days, and during an epidemic, he submitted to transfusions every day for six weeks.

Ruth Ellen Olmstead Is Bride Of Pfc. Arthur E. Nelson, November 6

Miss Ruth Ellen Olmstead, daughter of Mrs. Carl Deckman, 408 Yeager, became the bride of Pfc. Arthur E. Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Nelson of Houston, in a double ring ceremony November 6.

The Rev. R. L. Gilpin, pastor of McCullough Methodist church, read the marriage ritual at 8 p. m. in the home of the bride's parents at 408 Yeager.

A fall motif was carried out in decorations with chrysanthemums and garden bouquets featured.

Mrs. Carl Deckman, mother of the bride, was the only attendant. The bride's father served as best man.

A reception was held in the home following the ceremony when ice cream and wedding cake was served to members of the family and a few friends. The cake was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom with two small American flags placed on either side.

The couple is at home at 414 N. Ballard.

Mrs. Nelson came to Pampa from Bartlesville, Okla., and has been employed for the past year at the Southwestern Bell Telephone company.

Pfc. Olmstead is stationed with the 104th Guard Squadron at the Pampa Army Air Field.

BY RUTH MILLETT

"We sold our house and moved into an apartment just three weeks before my daughter, whose husband was drafted, came home to live with us. If we had only known she was soon to have a baby we never would have sold the house. As it is, we're going to be pretty crowded—but we'll manage somehow."

You hear that sort of thing over and over today. Young folks, independent to the point of not telling their parents anything about their business or their plans, are falling back on the parents whenever they need them, and are confidently expecting to be welcomed with open arms. And usually they are welcomed because parents are like that.

NO OBJECTION OFFERED

Without even mentioning that he is seriously interested in a girl, a soldier gets married and sends the girl home to live with his folks.

Without considering how it will affect her parents, a young wife decides to send her small child home to live for the duration so that she can get a job.

And so it goes. Most parents are willing to help their children today, when so many of them need help.

But they would like to be consulted and confided in. They would like to know what to expect.

A telegram reading: "MEET MIDNIGHT TRAIN TUESDAY: COMING HOME TO LIVE FOR THE DURATION" may come as a shock to parents completely unprepared for it, even though the telegram is signed by a favorite daughter.

The common cold usually runs a definite course of from three to ten days.

Eight Drinks Are Complexion Aid-- If the Beverage Is Clear Water

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Few of us ever drink the eight glasses of water a day which are recommended for health and a clear complexion. Maybe it's the idea of eight glasses all together that appalls us. But properly spaced throughout the day, eight glasses are not as many as you imagine.

For instance, petal-skinned film star Gene Tierney, who has just kept a date with the stork but will be back at the studios very shortly, makes a habit of having a "half glass of warm water with a half lemon squeezed in it before breakfast each morning."

If you like, add a teaspoonful of mineral honey—clover or alfalfa—to make it more palatable. It's a marvelous morning pick-up and a boon to clearer, smoother complexions.

And when you feel hungry in the middle of the day, yet you know very well that you ate a substantial enough lunch, drink a tumbler of water. It will fill the void and you'll be just one more glass to the good.

Also, if you've been trying to lose weight, drink a glass before lunch or dinner and you won't want to eat too much. No, actually, eight glasses a day aren't hard to take at all.

Fashion Flashes

Mere wisps of shoe string straps are holding up georgette on the cocktail and evening dresses one sees around at smart Manhattan night clubs. They sparkle with sequins, paillettes or jet. After these frocks are trimmed with fringe, embroidery or self materials. There seems to be no limit to the ingenuity of the New York creations turned out for fall and no one should lack glamour with such clothes hanging on the racks!

Hemlines are no longer simple. Noted and approved around town are the saw-tooth and scalloped hemlines. After this motif is carried to the neck and sleeves. They are seen on bright and sporty dresses, as well as on afternoon and cocktail New York creations. No one can tire of the new silhouette when such variety is added. Particularly good looking in a Victory red wool with a deep Y-neck, edged with saw-toothing. This is carried down to the hem and a zebra belt encircles the waist.

See at Monte Carlo Club on a gay Saturday night was a blonde young thing. It was simply made, almost a sports dress, but the glitter of jet buttons and the luxurious material made it one of the most interesting New York creations at the night club. It attracted considerable attention and did her escort, a young lieutenant, due credit.

Why VICKS Is So Good For Relieving Miseries of Childrens Colds

More than two generations ago—in grandmother's day—mothers first discovered Vicks VapoRub. Today it is the most widely used home-remedy for relieving miseries of children's colds. And here is the reason...

The moment you rub VapoRub on the throat, chest and back at bedtime it starts to work two ways at once—and keeps on working for hours—to ease coughing spasms, help clear congestion in cold-clogged upper breathing passages, relieve muscular soreness or tightness. It promotes restful sleep. Often most of the misery of the cold is gone by morning! That's why VapoRub is so good to use when colds strike. Try it!

Armistice Day • 1943

"One Picture is worth more than a Thousand Words"...

Armistice Day, 1943, brings no end to the battles raging on the many fronts. Cannons and rifles go on about their deadly business, bringing screaming sudden death to thousands... bringing pain and writhing anguish to countless others. The lads who lie dead in the mud have found peace 'midst "war's rattles"... but who among them would not exchange that peace for a chance to fight again... and for the chance to return home after the war? "War loves to seek its victims in the young," who relinquish so much of life... un-lived!

They went into the battle gladly, buying our freedom with their blood, so let's give more gladly, give more freely... and bring those who are left home sooner! Are not the things asked of us small in comparison to the price our men are paying for Victory... and all that it brings? We think of them fighting, but do we know as they do, that "fighting" is "killing and being killed"? Let's really put our shoulders to the War-Wheel! Let's work harder, buy more bonds... and cooperate in any and every way to bring the war to a more imminent finis!

Market Briefs

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Buying courage revived to some extent in today's stock market, after six successive declining sessions in which Monday's advance was one of the sharpest of the year, and leading rail and industrial specialties enjoyed a good rally.

Dealings, fast in the forenoon with large blocks of low-priced issues crowding the ticker tape, tapered in the third hour. Transfers were around 1,500,000 shares against yesterday's 2,340,100.

There was some short covering and re-instatement of commitments here and there when talk of an early peace, main instigator of the recent downswing, waned on Prime Minister Churchill's warning that the campaign of 1944 in Europe would be the most severe and costliest in lives that the allies have ever experienced.

From advances were Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Great Northern, N. Y. Central, American Distilling, Low's, Paramount Pictures, Pepsi-Cola, Distillers Corp.—Searns, Douglas Aircraft, Bethlehem, U. S. Steel, Westinghouse, Du Pont, Ohio Oil, Texas Co., and Oliver Farm. In areas at intervals were American Telephone, Chrysler, American Can, Standard Aircraft, Goodyear, Standard Oil, N. J. and Boeing.

At Chicago wheat was up $\frac{1}{8}$ to $\frac{1}{4}$ cents a bushel. Cotton, in late grades, was up 5 to 55 cents a bale.

College Courses Offered for Air Corps Reserve
To Identify Future Army Fliers
Young men of 17, who volunteer and are accepted for enlistment in the Air Corps Reserve, will be presented with this official Air Corps lapel button to be worn with civilian dress while they are on an inactive status, the United States Army announces.
The new badge, which will identify its wearer as a member of the United States Army Air Forces, is silver-finished with a blue enamel center. Upon reaching the age of 18, the young Air Corps Reservists will be eligible to begin their preflight training. If they are high school or college students at that time, their call to active duty may be deferred until the end of the current semester, provided it is completed within 6 months after they reach the age of 18.
When young 17-year-old men who wear the blue and silver wings of the air corps enlisted reserve are called to active duty, they will receive one of the finest college training courses ever offered as part of their aviation cadet training. Lt. Evan K. Shelby, aviation cadet recruiting officer at Pampa Army Air Field, said today.
The youths will be enrolled in a five-month pre-flight course in one of the country's colleges or universities. Their studies chiefly academic, comprise such subjects as English, geography, modern history, physics, and civil air regulations. They also receive basic military training which includes infantry drill, physical training and other military related subjects.
"Under the college preparatory pre-flight program of the army air forces," Lt. Shelby said, "our young men receive college training that is second to none in equipping them for the demanding career of an army flier. The course is but part of a well-rounded and complete training that makes them the finest fliers in the world."
"Youthful, capable manpower is needed to man the bomber and fighter craft that is raising off our assembly lines. But that manpower must be trained to meet a cunning and ruthless enemy... and that's the training they get."
"The training program of the army air forces looks beyond victory, however," added Lt. Shelby. "The young men who are fighting for our freedom of the skies today must cover their tomorrow commercially. The peacetime opportunities of an armed America make this pre-flight training doubly valuable to young men who enlist in the air corps enlisted reserve."

Ducks Increase From 27 Million To 150,000,000

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 10. (AP)—In the chilly dawn this fall, American devotees of duck shooting are firing their limited shares of shells at what is probably the greatest waterfowl population in North America since the turn of the century.
During the long drought of the mid-thirties, thousands of acres of breeding marshes in Central Canada dried up, and the number of ducks in North America plummeted to an all-time low, estimated in 1936 at 27,000,000.
Both sportsmen and the government turned back their shirt cuffs. The hunters formed "Ducks Unlimited." It was a non-profit organization to rehabilitate the vast migratory waterfowl breeding grounds, in Canada with money provided by sportsmen; in the United States, a sort of land-lease project.
Working with the government, joint efforts produced five ducks to fly this winter where only one winged his solitary way last seven years ago. Now the duck population is back around 150,000,000, the figure accepted by federal fish and wildlife service experts as the probable number of the birds in 1900.
Reclamation of swamp lands was the big cause of the duck increase.

Food Plentiful In North Italy, Writer Learns

(Editor's Note: Following is the second of a series of four uncorroborated articles on conditions in German-occupied Italy written for the Associated Press by Gunnar D. Kumiin, chief correspondent in Rome for the Swedish newspaper Timningen, who traveled by truck, train and airplane to return to Sweden, the story.)
By GUNNAR D. KUMIIN

The Associated Press
STOCKHOLM, Nov. 10.—The German armies in Italy have driven far northward some 1,500,000 sheep which normally pasture every autumn on the plains of Foggia and supply Rome with winter meat.
The food situation in the capital is catastrophic as a result.
The difference between Rome, which is in the field of operations, and Northern Italy is best demonstrated by food. When I left the capital 16 days ago the bread was a grey-yellow color, so full of poppy flour and other indigestible ingredients that it was almost uneatable.
Grapes from the city's environs are exhausted and oranges, which normally are available abundantly in the winter, now are on the other side of the front.
The only meat obtainable is purchased at the black market at staggering prices, such as approximately $5 a pound.
The sale naturally is uncontrolled, and for that reason a roaring trade is done with meat from all animals or livestock which has died of illness.
The civilian population along the Tyrrhenian sea was evacuated by the Germans in order more easily to defend the coastline against Allied landings. Consequently fishing stopped.
When we left Rome by automobile on our uncertain journey north the last train from Rome had returned to the capital a few days earlier without even reaching Florence, 212 miles being bombed 18 hours following its departure.
We traveled a roundabout way on the least frequented roads in order not to be stopped or become involved in German military transport, where bombing danger is greater. Our two cars had diplomatic license plates and large Swedish flags on the roofs.
We went toward the Apennines at dawn. There are 12 different roads across this range and in order to avoid our enemies we chose the easiest—though it is tough enough, anyway.
At 3,000 feet we ran into clouds and drove slowly up the winding road toward Futa Pass between Florence and Bologna.
If the Germans are trying to barter off Northern Italy at the summit of the Apennines, they must doubt they have great prospects of success. The position is made stronger because it is impossible to outflank it by landings in the rear.
At the top of Futa Pass we lunched at a roadside inn on macaroni made from the finest white flour, eggs, chickens and pigeons roasted over an open fire in our presence. We had these, grapes, apples and pears—all washed down with fine Chianti. We had entered the area of plenty in Northern Italy.
Up there people are eating all their food as if it were their last. They would rather starve later than see the Germans remove their food and wines.
In Milan the iron hand of the German occupation weighs more heavily than anywhere else in Italy. But the opposition is more active than anywhere else, with the possible exception of Turin.
Among the pugnacious working class in Northern Italian cities is a

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—The wave of Notre Dame enthusiasm that has been sweeping New York apparently hasn't engulfed the professional footballers. We asked Buff Donnell, assistant coach of the one-victory Dodgers, whether he'd trade the club even for the Irish and the answer was first dead silence, then a mumbled remark that they haven't had any opposition... The idea, in spite of Rip Miller's claim that this is the best Irish team of all, was that Buff wouldn't mind having some of the players, but he wouldn't want his job to depend on what the whole squad would do against such outlaws as the Bears, Packers or Eagles.

Bear Passer Leads Baugh

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO, Nov. 10. (AP)—Despite mud, rain and the Green Bay Packers, Sid Luckman of the Chicago Bears put on his usual fine passing show to keep ahead of Washington's Sammy Baugh this week in the National Football league's aerial race. Luckman managed in Sunday's game to complete eight of 16 attempts for 188 yards and two touchdowns. Baugh, in five contests, has 67 out of 124 for 938 yards and 15 touchdowns.
Luckman thus ran his seven-game record to 70 connections in 126 attempts for 1,375 yards and 16 touchdowns. Baugh, in five contests, has 67 out of 124 for 938 yards and 15 touchdowns.
Luckman's yardage through the air is greater than the total offensive yardage of any other player in the league. The Packers' Tony Canadeo, the leading ball carrier with 398 yards, has also added 550 on passes—total gain of 1,007.
"Take Luckman away from the Bears and they would have just an ordinary team," says Green Bay's Don Hutson. "We could beat the Bears, but not Luckman."
Sid's greatest worry is keeping his weight under 205 pounds. Once he gets above that figure he loses as much as 20 per cent of his effectiveness. Excess weight just doesn't agree with him, acting as a brake on his speed, passing and thinking. The Bear coaches threaten to fine him if they catch him eating his favorite dish, apple strudel.

Pampa Field Joins In Amarillo Parade

Eighteen twin-engine training airplanes from Pampa Army Air Field will fly in formation over Amarillo Thursday morning, as a highlight of the big parade scheduled here on Armistice Day, Major James Gough, director of flying at PAAAF, announced today.
The 18-ships armada will be flying in a north by north direction, in elements of three planes, with Capt. Robert H. Farrell, commanding officer of squadron 1, in the lead plane. Aviation cadets will be in the planes on either wing. The planes are scheduled to appear over the parade's reviewing stand at 10:30 a. m.
Officials of Pampa Field's Women's Army Corps recruiting team will also be represented in the Amarillo parade, according to Lt. Evan K. Shelby, WAC recruiting officer. In conference standing, however, the two teams are tied, each having won one game and lost one. Plainview beat Brownfield 19 to 0, lost to Amarillo 33 to 6; Pampa beat Brownfield 26 to 6, was nosed out by Lubbock 12 to 0.

Air Cadet Dog Reported Lost

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Nov. 10. (AP)—Mister, the dog who trained through firing courses and won a pair of wings along with his master, is missing.
Lieut. John Michael Conroy of Buffalo, N. Y., now stationed at Peterson Field, reported the famous "year-old police dog" was seen last near a Colorado Springs hotel.
Mister trained with Conroy at Santa Ana, Calif., Sequoia, Chico and Luke fields. When Conroy went from Chico to Luke the dog was not permitted to ride with a cadet on the bus, but friends chartered a bus for Mister.
Often photographed doing his tricks, the dog regularly stood at attention with the cadets when an officer entered the barracks.

Pampa To Vie With Plainview Armistice Day

Pampa High school's football team will leave at 5:30 this afternoon for Plainview where at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon they will play their last away-from-home game of the 1943 season.
The team will work out this afternoon at Harvester field, eat supper at the high school cafeteria, then leave for Plainview.
Tomorrow morning they will look over the Plainview gridiron, but will not work out.
Coach Oils Coffey, is taking the entire Harvester squad on the trip, with the exception of Dick Manry, who has been out of the lineup for several weeks, and Billy Clay, who recently suffered an injured knee.

Disorders in Germany Reported by Sweden

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 10. (AP)—A Swedish newspaper, in contact with sources within Germany, said that disturbances, including the shooting of a number of persons, occurred in several cities Monday after Adolf Hitler's bear cellar speech.
The Handels Sjoefarts Tidningen, of Goeteborg, named the cities as Essen, Cologne, Dusseldorf, Mannheim, Hanover and Hamburg.
These cities are in heavily-bombed areas where morale suffered a serious blow and where hundreds of foreign workers still are employed in war industries.
Quintbacks of sabotage and plundering in those areas also followed the speech, this dispatch said, but such reports should be viewed with considerable reserve. If disturbances did occur, they may have been only on a small scale, since Heinrich Himmler's gestapo and blackshirts still maintain a tight control.
Such reports could be part of a propaganda scheme to create over-confidence in Allied nations.

Rice Starts That Old November Run

HOUSTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—Come November and there's the swish of the Rice Owls in Southwest Conference football.
They can look like the government debt in October but down the stretch Jess Neely's teams are the most feared in the circuit.
Two weeks ago the fans figured the Owls would be lucky to win a game. They beat Texas Tech but that day found the anchor of the line-tackle Charlie Malmberg—leaving the team.
Last week Rice beat Arkansas by the same margin as boasted by Texas A. & M.
Rice plays A. & M. here Saturday. The fans think there's so much chance of an upset 20-00 are expected to be in the stands for the proceedings.
But it's just history being repeated.
Neely came to Rice in 1940. His team moved slowly in September and October but was blazing in December.
It required the final week to determine whether Rice would tie for first or be runner-up. Southern Methodist managed to nose out the Owls.
In 1941 Texas beat Rice 40-0 in October. But in November the Owls began to roll. Their scoreless tie with Texas Christian knocked the Frogs out of a share of the championship. At the finish Rice was as tough as they came.
Last year Texas beat Rice 12-7 but the Owls didn't lose a November game, finishing second and again knocking T. C. U. out of the first place. Critics rated them stronger than champion Texas at the close of the campaign.
Now A. & M. comes here unscathed on in conference play. Several weeks ago the critics predicted the Aggies wouldn't lose a game at least until their Thanksgiving Day clash with Texas. Today they're not so sure. There's Rice and its November stretch run blazing again.

Adopt Air Cadet

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 10. (AP)—Air Cadet Peter Maloney of Jackson is spending his furlough here despite the fact he has "90-odd" mothers scattered about the nation.
Maloney explained how he happened to fall heir to so many mothers.
"I'd been in Australia 16 months," he said. "I was getting ready to come home and all my buddies and a lot of fellows I knew just by their last names gave me the addresses of their mothers and asked me to write them soon's I got to the mainland. Just a note to each mom, telling her how her boy was coming along."
So Maloney wrote "about a hundred mothers," and what's more, he received answers from 90 of them, thanking him for his thoughtfulness.
A mother in Beaumont, Texas, wrote: "Please come and visit us, at our expense."

An additional $14,915 will go to 4,672 recipients of aid to the needy blind, and $226,988 to 23,000 recipients of aid to dependent children.

Irisher White Selected As Best Lineman

By TED MEIER
NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—The outstanding lineman of the week was tackle Jim White, of Notre Dame.
White's stealing the ball from the arm of Army's Glenn Davis was the turning point in the Irish-Cadet classic before 76,000 at Yankee stadium. The theft on the Army eighty-yard line in the third period set up Notre Dame's second touchdown in a 26-0 triumph.
Navy's center, Jack Martin, was the second outstanding lineman. His inspirational play at Franklin field in Philadelphia spurred the Middies to a 24-7 victory over Pennsylvania. In the Southwest Monte Moncrief, 195-pound tackle of the undefeated, tied Texas Aggies, didn't yield a yard against Southern Methodist. J. C. Wetzel, SMU coach, praised him for his great blocking.
Other linemen who drew recognition included: Bill Marshall, Texas Christian end; Orville Crutchfield, Rice tackle.

Beware Coughs from common colds That Hang On

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. walks in a shambling, vigorous stride which makes it difficult for his diplomatic aides to keep up with him and at the same time retain their dignity.

Well over 200 pounds, slightly stoop-shouldered with a square determined face and cold blue eyes, the man who built most of the fortifications on Gibraltar gives the impression that he will stand for no delays or nonsense in carrying out Allied requests.

He is still governor of the Rock, and commutes back and forth by plane as the occasion arises.

A cheerful sight to the Allied mission and an omen of things to come are the German freight cars which shuttle outside the front door. The Germans retreated so hurriedly that much of their rolling stock is still being used.

On his trip to Naples, Marshal Badoglio met American officers who were assigned to him as aides on his trip to the United States in 1921. One is now a full colonel and the other a major general who had much to do with Italy's downfall. See-

American GI's used to rugged American drinks of whisky, have difficulty in making much of the mild Italian liquors remaining in stock. But one set of GI's with the Allied mission has invented a "blockbuster" cocktail.

A "blockbuster" is composed of one jigger of cognac, one jigger of rum, one jigger of creme de menthe cognac.

All that is needed afterwards is a cast iron stomach.

Sailor Describes How FDR Jr. Helped Him

CHARLESTON, S. C., Nov. 10—(AP)—Coxswain Unzio Cammarata, 19, of Baltimore, identified as the seaman rescued by Lt. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., in Palermo harbor recently, says the president's naval officer son is a bit of all right.

Cammarata, at the naval hospital here, told of the incident.

His leg was blown off by bomb fragments during a German air raid. Lieutenant Roosevelt applied a tourniquet and carried Cammarata from a destroyer's bridge down a ladder and to another ship.

Later, in an army hospital at Oran, Roosevelt visited the seaman. "He's a swell guy," Cammarata commented.

Barter System Will Be Used To Aid Needy

By SIGRID ARNE

ATLANTIC CITY, Nov. 10—(AP)—Men from 43 nations and the French liberation committee met here today with the longest grocery lists the world has ever known tucked away in their brief cases.

This is the largest international meeting ever held on American soil. These men, representing 44 nations, are here to find food, clothes, medicine and tools for the people of the war zones—once the tanks have rumbled by.

Nothing—not a bag of wheat—can be taken from any country without the okay of its "constitutional body"—in our case the congress.

There are already signs of the gargantuan barter—history-making barter—which will go on here the next few weeks.

Poland has announced it will need 13,000 tons of oranges. They hope to give each child two oranges daily. They're predicting their demands on the first six months after the war.

They will also need 12,500 tons of lemons which they plan to hand out, two each month, to ten million people. Altogether, they'll need 1,600,000 tons of food the first six months.

Belgium is in a position to barter. They've announced what she's willing to swap for food: copper, tin, rubber, cotton, industrial diamonds, nuts, sugar, coffee.

China made a preliminary barter announcement. She's always been short of food. So she'll ask that from other nations. But she's willing to toss into this world grab bag such drugs as are peculiar to China.

China will need: ships, boats, trucks to carry relief into her country—much food and medicines—and then she'd like to re-establish her bombed-out universities.

These preliminary offers seem to mean anything can happen here. Early arrivals foresee a huge barter pool opened up in the joint sessions with all the world's surplus commodities thrown into the hopper.

But what about the countries that can't afford to pay, or have nothing to swap?

The agreement seems to mean (interpretations are to be clarified at this conference) that the impoverished countries will get what they need without a bill. Those who can pay will be asked to pay.

Busy Fighters Don't Remember Invasion Date

By DON WHITEHEAD

WITH FIFTH ARMY IN ITALY, Nov. 8. (Delayed) (AP)—American Doughboys who now are veterans of two campaigns were reminded today of the anniversary of the invasion of North Africa by a visit from Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark on an inspection tour of the front lines.

Gen. Clark, accompanied by his personal aide, Lt. Col. Arthur E. Sutherland, Jr., of Pittsburgh, N. Y., visited the Mignano area where the Americans had captured soggy, windswept peaks beyond which, the general said, "there is lots of disputed real estate which the Germans want as badly as we do."

"Where were you a year ago today?" Gen. Clark asked one commander and the officer was surprised to learn that this was the invasion anniversary. He had forgotten the date, after 52 days in the front line, but he then recalled leading men ashore under fire on a North African beach a year ago.

"Allied effort in the Mediterranean area this past year has been magnificent," said Gen. Clark. "We have made lots of progress and will keep on the same way till the war is won. I get mad when I see signs showing the mileage to Rome, because it still is so far away, but we'll get there."

During the day Gen. Clark heard many stories of individual gallantry by troops and officers, battling toward the Garigliano line.

He was told how Maj. Emmett Duvall of Spokane, Wash., led his troops up a 3,000-foot mountain with rocky, bald sides where it looked like a single machine-gun could hold off a whole division.

The division commander said Duvall and his men, with only two arms, fought their way through machine-gun nests to the top and that for his courage and leadership Maj. Duvall was being recommended for promotion to lieutenant colonel.

Gen. Clark also heard of Capt. Raymond Baker of Newark, N. J., who is 45 years old and in peacetime a sergeant in the regular army cavalry. Baker and a mounted reconnaissance detachment were patrolling a hill when they ran into a large enemy force.

Capt. Baker kept sending back laconic messages to headquarters: "Surrounded on three sides."

"An attacking."

"Have broken through."

"Known enemy dead 16, prisoners 10, rest still running. I lost one man."

Braniff Arises, But Trousers Sit Down

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 10—(AP)—If there are any new rules on the Braniff Airlines about safety belts, here's why:

T. E. Braniff, president of the line, made a trip in one of his commercial planes from Dallas to Kansas City one night recently and fell asleep. The hostess, anxious to see that the big boss was properly cared for, considerably fastened his safety belt.

But she made a little mistake—she hooked the safety belt to his trouser belt.

When the plane reached Wichita, Braniff arose for a chat with employees there. He arose, but his trousers stayed sitting down.

Overweight Motor Oil Proved Non-Essential

See how safe and economical a surprisingly Light grade can be with your engine Winter OIL-PLATED

A motorist who kept a record for a month averaged only 2.7 miles between stops. Maybe you average twice that. Yet the "coupon shortage" means short runs—lots of stopping and starting. That's extra bad for your oil. The first hardships of Winter will find it unfit. This year, of all years, the height of economy is to change your oil promptly.

The lightest suitable oil you can use is best for your engine—your battery—your gasoline economy... best for lengthening your car's future! You needn't risk any overweight grade...not when you have your engine OIL-PLATED for Winter by changing to economical Conoco Nth motor oil.

The "magnetic attraction" that seems set up by a certain synthetic in patented Conoco Nth oil enables it to OIL-PLATE. Now all good plating forms a staunch protective surface, and that gives you the idea of OIL-PLATING. Now think of any OIL-PLATED part in your engine facing another OIL-PLATED part...double OIL-PLATING in between—plus Conoco Nth oil's regular-type liquid film that's extra strong! You can't get more protection than that, while with overweight oil you'd only invite needless drag and dangerous "absentee" lubrication in starting cold. Don't risk it. Consult Your Conoco Mileage Merchant for your lightest grade of Nth, and face Winter fully confident, with your engine OIL-PLATED. Continental Oil Co.

Dread Engine Acid Fought by OIL-PLATING
Normal combustion always leaves acids inside of your engine when it stops. Formerly it seldom stood idle long. Soon mileage and speed heated your engine enough to oust acids.
But nowadays rationing may force long rests, while corrosive acids gnaw. To combat corrosion, metals are plated. You combat acid corrosion with your engine OIL-PLATED.
