This cannot lawfully be done."

Attention was called, in the opinion, to the similarity of the provisions of the state act, and Frazier-Lemke Act (Federal Farm Moratorium Act), which was recently declared unconstitutional by the supreme court of the United States. The court also relied upon two recent decisions handed down by the supreme court of Texas, in which the "State Emergency Moratorium Act" and the "Anti-Deficiency Judgment Act" were held unconstitutional, as legislation atempting to impair the obligation of contracts in violation of the Constitution of Texas and the United States.

May Move Two Murder Cases to Eastland County

W. D. R. Owen of Eastland, acting criminal district attorney in the absence of his brother who is on a vacation, stated Thursday that Judge Russell has been informed that every cooperative action will be taken by Eastland county officials.

Russell was informed that the cases could be taken care of around Sept. 1, Owens stated.

Decisions Invalidating Bankhead Law And Parts of AAA Program Will Have Little Effect On Farmers of County

Decisions invalidating the Bankhead law and parts of the agricultural adjustment administration program could have little effect on the 1,393 Eastland county farmers, C. Metz Heald, county agrilcultural agent, and O. W. Ewing, cotton assistant, predicted Saturday.

Neither Heald nor Ewing believes that the county's cotton growers will be tempted to gin and market more cotton than they are alloted or will attempt to escape the heavy extra tax imposed on such "hot" cotton at the gins.

Few, if any, farmers have planted more cotton acreage than specified in AAA contracts, the officials stated. A survey to find such over-planted farms is under way in the compliance work.

If any farmers are found to have planted more cotton than their allotment allows, they will be asked to plow it under.

Reasons Stated

Reasons Heald and Ewing gave for anticipating no attempted evasions of the cotton tax or other phases of the law included:

Checks reimbursing Eastland county farmers for their unplanted or plowed-under cotton will be paid as usual.

The farmers last year agreed with the program and they have given little indication that they are not satisfied.

County farmers have arranged their 1935 programs to include AAA provisions.

The AAA and Bankhead law are both crop insurance of the finest type.

Approximately $84,000 was received from cotton contract payments last year and this year's payments will be as great or greater.

Heald pointed out that the AAA amendments passed recently by the senate would provide that the agriculture schedule be maintained as current, at least until October. He emphasized that it is not within his province to make any predictions concerning the actions of farmers cooperating with his office.

$100,000 Bond Required

Federal Judge Randolph Bryant at Sherman recently granted a temporary injunction against the Bankhead cotton tax and set it down for hearing Sept. 11. The $100,000 bond which the Texas Cotton Ginners Association must post before the collection of the tax becomes effective is to be posted with Judge Sherman.

In Eastland county there are 1,193 cotton farmers who signed AAA cotton reduction contracts this year, while 1,393 farmers, including the 1,193 AAA farmers, are participating in the Bankhead act.

Under the AAA farmers are paid for land rentals and for cotton parities, while under the Bankhead law they are not but only receive cotton certificates as do those under the AAA.

A total of 16,142 pounds of cotton is being offered for sale in the special pool, Ewing reported, while certificates representing 17,337 pounds of cotton last year have been exchanged for use in offering the cotton for sale this year.

First two cent distribution payment amounted to $2,118.20. The last payment was $749.66, making a total of $2,867.80.

DECISION ON A LIVESTOCK SHOW REACHED

Termed by a committeeman, Rev. Chas. W. Estes "a climax to anyone's fair," a livestock show in conjunction with the Eastland County Fair this year was decided on by members of the event's committee in session Thursday at the Eastland Chamber of Commerce offices.

Dates of the fair are Sept. 25-28.

The show will be an exhibit of four divisions in the Jersey group and four in the beef cattle, it was indicated. Also to be exhibited are sheep, goats, horses, and mules.

Premiums will be offered in the cattle group. The show will not be confined to registered stock, except in the beef cattle division, committeemen stated.

The show will be staged with surplus funds from last year's fair.

The Eastland group voted to financially provide for the regular rabbit show of the county club.

The cattle will be exhibited in the old Coca Cola building in Eastland, if negotiations mature with H. C. Davis and Walter Jarrett, company official at Abilene.

Members of the group reporting at the commerce building and voting for the livestock show were L. A. Hightower, Carl Johnson, C. J. Rhodes, Rev. Charles W. Estes, T. E. Richardson, all of Eastland.

Thursday he was in attendance at a training school for WPA employees at Austin. It was not known what district he will work.

First of the promotions was announced recently when R. F. Boston, county works manager, was made district field supervisor for WPA with headquarters at Big Spring.

Average Family In U.S. Has More Cash Than During 1933

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 31. The average insured family has 30 per cent more cash in the bank today than it had in 1933, and has reduced the mortgage on its home by 10 per cent in the same two-year period, according to a survey of 10,000 families.

An average reserve of $356 per family of cash on hand and in banks, was reported as of the spring of 1933 in response to a questionnaire.; this compares with $464 per family at the present time, an increase of $108, or 30 per cent.

A reduction in the size of the average mortgage from $3,464 in 1933 to 3,110 in 1935 was shown in the reports. Approximately 49 per cent of the policyholders investigated were home owners; the average home valuation was $5,-301. Half of the homes were owned clear of encumbrance; the remaining 50 per cent were mortgaged.

The average amount of life insurance owned per family was $7,-710 in 1933, and $8,199 in 1935, an increase of 6.3 per cent.

The average net worth of each family ,including equity in home but exclusive of life insurance, was $2,953 in the spring of 1933, and had risen to $3,440 two years later, the survey showed, an increase in average wealth of 16 per cent.

A special survey of urban housing conducted in 61 cities by the U. S. bureau of foreign and domestic commerce showed a reduction in the average mortgage on owner-occupied homes of 3,29 per cent from 1933 to 1934. The fact that the reduction for the two years from '33 to '35 totaled 10.22 per cent would seem to indicate that the average family is paying off its obligations at an increasingly rapid rate, the report concludes.

Monkeys Have a Triangle Love Case

HOUSTON—A triangle love affair resulted in two "murders" at the Houston zoo.

Murphy, patriarch of a band of Rhesus monkeys, watched Pat, a bachelor, make improper advances toward his wife, Maggie. According to monkey social rules, a male should never aproach within reaching distance of another's mate.

Pat and Maggie broke the rule. The enraged Murphy seized Pat and with one bite severed his jugular vein. Maggie was the victim of a similar fate.

A similar case occurred several years ago when a Capuchin monkey was placed in a cage with a spider monkey and his wife.

Allegedly stolen from the hotel by the negro, Chief Mead reportthe following:

Eight bedspreads.

Two dresses.
Thirty yards of bolt dress goods which retailed at $1.00 per yard.
One 12x14 feet rug.
One fan.

Other goods was also taken from the hotel, Chief Mead stated.

Accident Victim Buried on Monday

Funeral services for Frank Davis, 50, brother of Eastland residents, who was killed by hit-run drivers Saturday night on a road near his home five miles south of Rising Star, were held from the Baptist church in that community Monday afternoon.

According to reports reaching the Eastland relatives, Davis was struck by an automobile driven by four boys from Blake, across the Eastland county line in Brown county. His body was carried on the bumper for 150 yards before it was either tossed off or dropped, it was stated.

Brown county officers have taken the group into custody, it was stated.

Survivors included Mr. Davis' sisters in Eastland, Mrs. Floyd Brewer, Mrs. Burgamy, Mrs Pryor, a brother, Hoyt Davis, Eastland; brothers, Lawrence, Oral and Truman, Rising Star; Tom, Louisiana, Arthur, Brownwood. The son Cecil, 18, and a daughter, Goldline resided at his home. Two other daughters also survive.

Mrs. Noble Harkrider of Eastland is a niece of Mr. Davis.

Well Near Gorman Making 120 Barrels

Responding to a 1,500 quart acid treatment, Kirk and Davisson's No. 1 Gowan well, located two miles east of Gorman, was flowing at the rate of over 120 barrels per day Saturday.

Well pressure forced an hourly flow at the rate of five and six barrels.

The well was treated with acid in the gray lime formation between 2.847 and 2,878 feet.

Arnold Kirk and George Davisson, both of Eastland, are drilling the well.

Acid treatment came the latter part of last week after it had been drilled to a deeper depth than that originally scheduled.

It is located in section 25, Block 2 of the H&TC railway survey.

The territory, in recent years a dormant one, was viewed with eager eyes by many oil men of the section. Operators were present in Eastland from Fort Worth and, it was understood by some, preparing to lease land in that section.

Another well near Gorman, George Campbell's No. 1 Thompson was reported drilling at 2,600 feet. The well is in section 17, D. and D. survey. It is about four miles southwest of Gorman.

WPA NEEDS $5,385,000 TO PROVIDE JOBS IN DISTRICT

An aggregate of $5,385,600 will be spent in the 13 counties comprising WPA district No. 13, centering on Abilene, if WPA realizes its purpose of providing jobs for all employables now on relief rolls.

District 13 had 8,976 employable men and women at last count of National Reemployment Service agents in each of the counties, according to E. A. Elliott. District 5 supervisor for the NRS. Elliott's office serves 44 West Texas counties, inclcding all of those in WPA District 13.

The breakdown by counties: Eastland, 3,320; Sterling, 58; Taylor 1,320; Mitchell, 345; Scurry, 472; Jones, 619; Callahan, 688; Nolan, 476; Kent, 176; Shackelford, 280 (plus rural rehabilitation clients); Stephens, 487; Fisher, 561 (also plus RR clients); and Coke, 174.

From the district total, if employment is provided for each employable at $600 a year— the amount set for the WPA program in Texas—total expenditure of WPA funds in the area also would be $5,385,600.

Of that amount, $1,922,000 would be spent in Eastland county alone, leader of the district in number of employables on rolls. Taylor county, with 1,320 clients, would stand second in distribution of funds, with $792,000.

Total expenditures in the other counties provided work were provided for each employable, follows, Sterling, $34,800; Mitchell, $207,000; Scurry, $283,000; Jones $371,000; Callahan, $412,000; Nolan, $285,000; Kent, $105,000; Shackelford, $168,000; Fisher, $336,000; Stephens, $292,000; Coke, $104,000.

Because of the limit on per-man expenditures, it would be necessary for governmental agencies sponsoring projects tof urnish virtually as much in materials as does the WPA in labor, it was said. That would double total expenditures to be made on projects in the various counties.

No more projects, however, will be approved in each county, federal officials have said, than are necessary to furnish jobs to the employables on the relief rolls in that county.

Employables not on relief rolls at present must receive certification from proper relief officials to become eligible for WPA jobs, Elliott pointed out. All labor requirements on the projects will be supplied by NRS, rather than from WPA headquarters, the latter setting up projects but submitting to NRS for filing lists of various types of laborers and numbers needed.

Science Spots Deadly Grass

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.— Prompt and positive identification of almost infinitesimal traces of sulphur and deadly selenium has been reported by Prof. George R. Harrison of Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Dr. Harrison's research solves one of science's most baffling prob-lems. Its importance was emphasized anew only a few weeks ago when reports from sections of the country told of the poisoning of herds of livestock whose owners, unable to find the selenium, had allowed the cattle to graze on deadly vegetation.

The discovery also is expected to aid industry in the detection of sulphur and selenium impurities in steel and other alloys and metals.

Dr. Harrison employed infra red waves instead of ordinary light in his experiments with the spectroscope. With these waves the tiny bands of the spectrum by which sulphur and selenium are known to the scientist, appeared sharply and readily and high sensitive photographic plates, though under ordinary light they cannot be distinguished.

The chemical analysis method, called by scientists both cumbersome and unreliable, now is in general use.

AIDS DAIRY INDUSTRY

OTTAWA, Ont.—The Canadian Government will spend $1,000,000 this year in an effort to stabilize the dairy industry. The money will be used to support the cheese market until prices reach the level of butter prices and are above world prices now received by Canadian cheese producers.

DESEMONA, July 29.—Desdemona's annual reunion to be held Aug. 9 and 10 is expected to attract a crowd as last year's gathering, 5,000, according to Tom J. Nabors of the arrangements committee.

Events for the old-time boom town of "Hogtown's" reunion include singing, baseball and softball.

Reasons given for the anticipated high attendance include the good condition of crops.

Courthouse Insured Against Riot Damage

QUANAH, Tex.—For the first time in history the 50-year-old courthouse here has been insured against riot damage.

Members of the commissioners court explained their action by declaring that although they have considerable faith in the people of the county, yet they believe an ounce of prevention is worth 16 times as much cure.

The commissioners admitted that they took out the insurance after reading of three courthouses being destroyed by mobs in the past year.

Get Any Kind of a Job and Go To Work Is Advice of Janitor Who Made Money During Depression

STEPHENVILLE, July 28. — The only way to make a living is to work, and Congress can't do anything about it, thinks Janitor R. A. Clark, who paid out his home during the depression.

"Nearly all people seem to want to get as much relief and government money as they can," said Clark. "What they ought to do is to get a job—any kind of job—and go to work. There's plenty of work for people who want to do it."

Clark has been janitor of a three-story building at John Tarleton College 15 years and says he doesn't have much education—"just what I got in rural school and by watching the profession here." But he hasn't missed a day at the end of his broom handle in 12 years and this summer he is being offered more odd jobs than he can get time to do.

When the janitor's abbreviated salary was slashed a few years ago, he turned spare time into money by caring for lawns and doing other odd jobs, and he didn't miss a payment on his home, taking care of the final installment about the time increasing relief rolls were sending delegations to Washington. In addition, he sent a daughter to an institution for the deaf and dumb and cared for two other children and his wife.

Less than a month ago the janitor kept a woman waiting a week before he could tell her whether he would have time to care for her garden during the summer.

"Jobs are not hard to get," Clark explained. "If you do the work in a way that makes a person profit, he's sure to want you again. There's not any use in such big relief rolls, and there wouldn't be such things if everybody would quit fooling around and go to work.

Clark, who reads newspapers thoroughly and can say off-hand what is the latest action in Washington, and doesn't have much faith in congress and the New Deal.

"Them people," he said "are just fooling around and don't know what they are doing. I can't understand it all and it's not doing me any good. There is not but one way to make a living and that's to get any kind of job—and work."

Announcement was made today by Sam Gamble, president of the Ranger country club that the Ranger Country Club would play Weatherford at Mineral Wells on Sunday afternoon at 1:30.

Last week golfers from Breckenridge played a group from Jacksboro and each week teams from other towns will be invited to Mineral Wells to play over the new course.

Word has been received in Ranger that Weatherford is planning on having out a big crowd and it will take all the golfers in Ranger to complete the pairings. President Gamble has urged that every golfer in the club make plans to play at Mineral Wells Sunday if possible.

D. L. KINNAIRD ANNOUNCE FOR COMMISSIONER

Donald L. Kinnaird will seek election to the city commission on a platform of vindication of the former administration with which he served as chairman for two years, according to a formal announcement released to the press today. Kinnaird's signed statement follows:

"Next Tuesday, August 6, I shall seek the position of city commissioner to fill the unexpired term of O. E. Harvey. It was not my intention to seek this post, but on the advice and request of not one or a few but many of my friends, it became apparent that there was an obligation on my part to the citizenship of Eastland and my former colleagues to allow the people of this city an opportunity to express their confidence in the former administration if they so desire and to repudiate charges which have been hurled against men who did their sincere best to serve the city conscientiously.

"Every possible effort on my part was made to settle my recent election difference by arbitration to save any expense to the taxpayers. It was not until I was told by my opponents that the court house was the place to find out if I was right did I seek court intervention.

"I do not believe that the majority of the people have accepted as truth any of the detrimental statements and accusations against me personally or the commission with which I served, and I seek the office believing that we shall be vindicated by a majority of the votes to be cast next Tuesday.

"It is my firm purpose to cooperate to the fullest extent with the present administration if elected, but at the same time I shall oppose most igorously any action which I sincerely believe to be to the detriment of the people of Eastland. Some expenditures have already been made of which I could not conscientiously approve.

"My position as chairman of the former commission did not entitle me to a vote except to break a tie, but I can say without fear of contradiction that my relations with colleagues were cooperative thruout, and will be none the less in the future.

"As one of a number of accomplishments of the former administration, Eastland today enjoys approximately $70,000 worth of improved and paved streets which cost the taxpayers practically nothing, including about $33,000 worth of gravelled streets at almost no cost and a modern paved highway through town that represents a $40,000 improvement for this city and which cost the taxpayers nothing except the water used in construction.

"There was no expense to the city whatever in obtaining these benefits, although members of the former commission and I made four trips to Austin at our expense and in my own personal car. These improvements were the result of hard work, long hours, and quick action on the part of members of the former administration, and not a penny of city money was used for even hotel expense.

"There has been criticism of the former commission for apparent dilatory attitude in collection of delinquent water bills, but the critics fail to mention that the former administration took over their duties during the worst depression ever exrerienced by the nation. It was a time when ever former well-to-do people were wondering about their next meal, and to have deprived unfortunate citizens of water because of guiltless inability to pay, would have been nothing short of inhumanity of the worst form.

"There were innocent women and children, whose husbands and fathers had lost their jobs, who would have suffered if there had been a hard-boiled policy of taking out meters for delinquent bills without regard for the situation.

"I look forward to the election Tuesday confident that you people of Eastland will express yourselves in my favor and will accept my sixteen years of business experience in this city and my service as chairman of the commission from April, 1933 to April, 1935 as a proper qualification for service in your behalf during the unexpired term of Mr. Harvey. I pledge conscientious attention to your interests(a policy of strict but sensible economy, and honest cooperation.

(Signed) Donald L. Kinnaird."

RISING STAR, July 29.—Activity in the old Morgan pool, town, comes to life with the spudding in by Anderson & Drury of about eight miles northwest of a new well on the L. J. Griggs farm. The same firm is rigging up for another well on the Bud Gage farm, about one miles east of their Griggs location.

The well on the Griggs place in near the Griggs No. 1, brought in some seven years ago when first play was started in the Morgan pool. The well is said to be still producing about 15 barrels daily. Depth of the wells is about 3100 feet and the oil is of high gravity.

The operators have quite a bit of land under lease in the vicinity of the new wells and will likely drill a number of holes.

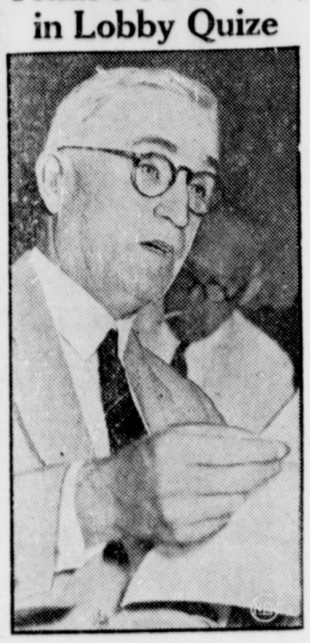
Texas Power Man, in Lobby Quize



Repeatedly denying that he remembered giving a congressman "a box wrapped up in a newspaper," John W. Carpenter, of Dallas, Texas, president of the Texas Power & Light company, is pictured above as he testified during the senate lobby investigation in Washington. Carpenter admitted a trip to the capital to contact Texas congressmen, with all expenses paid by his company.

Outboard Motor Boat Races to Be At Brownwood

Residence of West Texas will have their first opportunity to see big-time outboard motor boat races Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 3 and 4, during the regatta at Lake Brownwood, near Brownwood, Texas. The races will be run as feature events of the two-day regatta, on Saturday and Sunday afternoon.

Entries have been received by the regatta association from racers from Fort Worth, Dallas, Houston and Beaumont. Additional entries are being received daily, and officials expect one of the largest fields entered in any of this year's races in Texas. The races will be run under the auspices of the National Outboard association, with N. O. A. officials in charge.

The one mile course has been laid out near the dam at Lake Brownwood, and nearby ground has been cleared, affording an excellent view of the races. The races will be run in two heats of five miles each.

Races will be open to four N. O. A. classes, A, B, C, and F, with prizes of $65, $45, $25 and $15 offered in each race. Amateurs and professionals will compete in the same races, amateurs to receive the equivalent of the cash prizes in merchandise and trophies, as they elect. Cash prizes total $800.

Special races for local, commercial, inboard and outboard boats will be held Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Special free-for-all hydroplane race will be open to all boats following the N. O. A. races.

The two-day program will get under way at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, Aug. 3, with a bait and fly casting tournament, held under the auspices of the Izaak Walton league. Prizes totaling $30 are offered in these events. Diving and swimming contests will follow the casting tournament.

The dance committee has secured Charlie Davis and his orchestra now playing at the Roosevelt hotel, New Orleans, to play for the regatta dance at the Memorial auditorium Saturday night. This orchestra is playing its first engagement in Texas, being booked for the Adolphus hotel, Dallas, immediately following the regatta engagement. The dance will be in honor of the visiting boat racers and army aviators.

Winners of the surboard contests will give an exhibition Sunday afternoon immediately preceding the N. O. A. races. Following the races, there will be exhibition swimming and diving by winners of these contests.

Regatta officials are expecting record-breaking crowds at Lake Brownwood for the two-day regatta, which offers unique entertainment for residents of arid West Texas. Lake Brownwood, a 7,500-acre body of water, is one of the largest inland lakes in the state, and racing officials state it offers an ideal course for staging the race meet. Large delegations throughout West Texas are expected for the entertainment.

Revision Of Income Taxes Approved

WASHINGTON, July 29. — Drastic revision of personal income tax rates on incomes of $50,000 or more was agreed on by the house ways and means committee when plans were shaped to rush the tax the rich bill to passage this week.

THREE STORIES TO BE REOMVED FROM BUILDING

Frank Brown, contractor, accompanied by Mr. McClay, representative of the building owners, arrived in Ranger Monday morning to begin work on removing three stories from the old Guaranty State Bank building.

The work is expected to start late today or Tuesday morning, Brown stated today, the only delay now being occasioned by securing proper permits.

The plans call for removal of the three top stories from the building, leaving the structure two stories high in front and three stories high in the rear, as the ground floor at the front of the building, which was formerly occupied by the bank, has much higher ceilings than the offices in the rear.

Tentative plans call for some remodeling on the building, McClay stated today, which will make the building more modern than it is at present. For the time being, however, the plans call for removal of the top floors only.

Only local labor will be used in tearing off the three floors, it was said, though it was not stated how many men would be employed.

Permits have been secured for blocking off a portion of Austin and Main streets, leaving room for traffic, so that there will be less likelihood of accidents resulting from the demolition work.

Plans call for removal of the elevator shaft, as there will be no need for it in the future, it was stated.

It was hoped today that work of erecting the scaffolding would be started immediately and as soon as it was completed the actual removal of the brick work on the three top floors would begin.

STAR COMIC

Believe it or not, W. C. Fields has his serious moments now and then. Here is one from his new comedy "Man on the Flying Trapeze" coming to the Lyric Theatre. Maybe, like Diogenes, he is looking for an honest man with that searchlight.

GROWN-UP

Now twenty years old and six feet tall, Jackie Coogan, who was the "The Kid" of the Charlie Chaplin picture, returns to films to make his grown-up debut in Zane Grey's "Home on the Range," now at the Lyric Theatre. Randolph Scott and Evelyn Brent are featured.

TENSE DRAMA TINGLES WITH BIG SURPRISES

One of the most unusual romantic dramas ever to come out of Hollywood is Fox Film's "Orchids To You," which comes Sunday to the Lyric Theatre. With a brilliant cast, sparkling dialogue and a most novel setting, the picture has been declared a smash-hit by previewers.

In "Orchids To You," John Boles, the screen's most popular singing star, plays the role of a clever society lawyer. He thrilled previewing audiences with his fight to oust a pretty girl florist from her prosperous business. The way he wounds her—and then wins her—is the best post-graduate course in love that can be imagined!

Jean Muir, the foremost of filmdom's leading ladies, has the part of the beauteous lady florist.

Charles Butterworth, the comedy favorite of millions of movie-goers has the role of a "deadpan" cowboy, who proposes every Tuesday—just for practice.

Ruthelma Steens, Harvey Stephens, and Arthur Lake, the other featured favorites in the cast turn in some of the finest performances of their careers.

"Orchids To You" was produced for Fox Films by Robert T. Kane and directed by William A. Seiter.

W. C. Fields Writes, Acts, Comedy Role

After the paying motion picture public had laughed itself into the aisles over the comedy antics and expressions of W. C. Fields in such films as "Tilly and Gus," and "International House," Paramount studios, realizing "Bill" was definitely a motion picture star, begged him to try his hand at writing originals—to be credited to "Chas. Bole," Fields' pen name.

The latest comedy to come from Charles Bogle is Paramount's "Man on the Flying Trapeze," which stars W. C. Fields, and which comes to the Lyric Theatre Monday.

The first original story he attempted reached the screen as "Six of a Kind." In it he presented his famous billiard act, long a favorite with New York theatre-goers; and spoke one line: "I always talk loud; I'm a sheriff." That one line, and his pool table act, stole the entire show.

From "You're telling Me" one line went down in history, culled from a hundred funny situations. Fields, driving the "Princess Lescaboura" (Adrienne Ames) to his home in a handsome limousine, was met by his wife (Louise Carter) vengefully awaiting him. At the sight of the gorgeous equipage, she fainted. "Look out!" whispered Fields, hoarsely, while ducking behind the car, "she may be stalling!"

The grocery store sequence of "It's a Gift," consisted largely of two things. First Fields was endeavoring to secure ten pounds of cumquats for a customer. Second, he was trying to help a blind man. Between the two Fields said "Coming. Coming!" a dozen times. Not much, to be sure, but in that phrase was wrapt untold tragedy, the frantic effort of a hapless man to do two things at once, and to do neither of them well.

Out of such homely words does Fields pull his comedy that warms the heart of the audience, and sends it into helpless hysterics of laughter. On such he has again built laughs in his new film, 'Man on the Flying Trapeze." In this picture Fields, as a hen-pecked brow-beaten clerk, attempts to play hookey from work to attend a wrestling match. Mary Brian, Kathleen Howard, Grady Sutton and Lucien Littlefield are in the supporting cast.

Shake-up In State Jobs Is Due When Election Is Held

By United Press

AUSTIN.—The biggest shake-up in state employment experienced since 1927 is due to take place after the next state election.

To avoid frequent changes in department personnel, the legislature created boards to manage most of the state functions. The boards have three members or multiples of three. It was provided that a third of the memberships should expire each two years. Initial boards drew for two, four and six year terms to start off the staggered system.

The theory was that each governor would name a third of the board members. There would always be a majority of old members to prevent a new administration making a clean sweeep in order to place its own followers in jobs.

The legislators overlooked the effect of a governor having more than one term. Gov. Dan Moody had two. Governors Ross Sterling and Miriam A. Ferguson, who followed, had a term each.

Sterling reappointed many Moody appointees whose terms expired in the Sterling administration. The result is that a majority of the board members will not be of new political flavor untill after another election.

The bitter battle fought by the Governor Ferguson, who supported oponents of Allred in both an initial and run-off primary, has prevented coalition of their supporters. In most instances the Allred appointees are more inclined to the Moody-Sterling hold-overs than to the board members named by Mrs. Ferguson.

Former Gov. Moody's power in state boards was extended not only by Gov. Sterling's reappointment of men who had been named by Moody's system of making appointments during his second term. If he had appointed a man in his first term and was particularly pleased with him, that man would be reappointed for six year when the next vacancy occurred. Then some one would be given the four year term, thus left vacant.

After the next election there will be on the boards a third of Mrs. Ferguson's appointees, a third of persons appointed by Governor Allred and a third made up of those appointed by Governor Allred in a second term, or a third appointed by some new governor. Either way the majority of the boards will be changed politically. It is therefore natural that state employees view the future with considerable trepidation.

Governor Alllred is making many of his first term appointments in advance to give the selected officials time to study the job before taking it over. He has named a bank commissioner, a state auditor and two members of the state game commission, though their terms will not expire until September.

This raises a surmise that he may have selected, also, the commissioners of the new state Department of Stafety. They will choose the state director who is to have charge of the new anti-crime drive. It would be a wise thing for a governor to do, giving the commissioners a chance to study the problem before being run to death by job hunters.

While following his father's plow, Dean sat in a furrow to rest. On the next round Speer, not noticing the youngster, plowed his son under a coating of dirt. The child was uninjured, but frightened.

TEXAS TO HAVE 'STREAM-LINED' LAW MACHINE AS CRIME HALTER

Senator Collie Helped In Bill Writing

A "streamlined" state police law machine will become active in Texas August 10 which responsible bodies believe will be the nemisis of the organized crime.

Called by some at 'Texas G-Men' the organization will lift present police methods into a system second only to the federal method of crime detection and criminal apprehension.

Modern mechanical ingenuity will aid state police in the combined Texas Rangers-Motor Patrolmen's organization. Ballistic tests—a statewide radio system teletype installization—these will aid in stamping out organized crime in Texas and probably halt offenders leaving a gory trail of unlawliness across the state.

Responsible for the new state police are Senator J. W. E. H. Beck of DeKalb, Texas, and Senator Wilbourne B. Collie, secretary of the Crime Investigating Committee, who gave their creation to the 44th legislature.

Senator Collie, who represents this district, and is an Eastland resident, was also importantly responsible for a law which destines to become a deterrent to another criminal — the shady securities salesman.

Senator Collie, who was on a sub-committee, wrote the old "blue sky law" with Senator Van Zandt and Weaver Moore.

Laudatory in its comment for Senators Collie and Beck for their crime law is the Texas Tax Journal which said in a recent issue:

"The robber, hi-jacker, and kidnaper have enjoyed facilities of escape afforded by good roads, automobiles, and airplanes without being seriously molested by the disorganized system of the State's constabulatory. The facilities, however, that aided criminals will be met in the future with modern facilities of government at will, in our opinion, clear Texas to a great extent of its criminal element, and be a deterrent to those whose minds run along criminal lines.

"The Crime Investigating Committee," continues the magazine, "headed by Sen. J. W. E. H. Beck of DeKalb, Texas, with Sen. Collie, secretary, gave to the 44th legislature, a bill that was passed and approved by the governor that guarantees a short life to the activities of criminals."

"Senators Beck and Collie and their co-workers deserve the highest praise in presenting such a workable and comprehensible bill," compliments the Journal.

In a similar vein the Snyder Signal in a recent issue said:

"Senator Collie's heavy duties as a secretary of the crime investigating committee, which worked out an anti-crime bill that became law, probably headlined his achievements. This forward step in crime prevention and detection will undoubtedly have more effect on the state than most of the much-debated questions combined."

"It takes Texas out of the horse and buggy days into an era of crime control," states the Signal.

Governor Allred Friday appointed George W. Cottingham, editor of the Houston Chronicle; Ernest Goens of Tyler and Albert Sidney Johnson of Dallas to the Public Safety Commision, which will direct the state police operations.

The appointments become effective Aug. 10 when the State Rangers and Texas Highway Patrol combine into the co-ordinate police force.

Yet to be selected is a director of public safety and chief of the Ranger and highway divisions.

Under the combination the Public Safety Department will be under control of the commission with a director of public safety as executive officer and various divisions chiefs. A bureaus communication and divisions of criminal identification and education will be established to aid the state police force.

All future appointments will be under a modified civil service system, the new crime law provides.

A bureau of education will be established to educate citizens of methods of crime detection. It is proposed to have training schools for the benefit of city and county officers.

Morgan Myers and Ernest Daniels of Eastland, motor patrollmen, will be members of the new law enforcing agency.

Local Orchestra Heard by Lions

Miss June Bentley of Weatherford, guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Railey, sang to the accompaniment of the orchestra.

Program chairman was L. R. Burnside.

F. M. Kenny presided in the absence of John Burke, who is on his vacation.

Out of town visitors were Russell B. Jones of Breckenridge, and son, Russell B. Jr.

Abe Lincoln Assassinted AS BEEN AROUND oad With Billy, The Kid

He has been everything from soldier to butcher to actor to farmer; he has rubbed elbows with Billy the Kid, the outlaw; he saw President Abraham Lincoln shot to death, and from all the turmoil and strife of 90 years he says the old days were the best though he is not complaining particularly of the present.

John Freeland was born in Baltimore county, Maryland, Dec, 9, 1845. There wasn't much of a town. Just a community that had sprung up about a cotton factory. They called it Mount Vernon.

He has seen a big part of these United States and taken advantage of all the opportunities life affords.

Most interesting are his experiences at Washington at the close of the Civil war, a conflict in which he served valiantly. It was the night of April 14, 1865, that he saw President Lincoln's assassination. He is probably the last person living today who was in Ford's theater when that crime of the ages was committed.

"I was sitting in the second gallery," he relates. "I was an extra actor then, playing soldier parts. I was a butcher and employe of a printing shop also.

"President Lincoln and family were guests of the theater that night.

"During the play John Wilkes Booth, an actor, jumped from the president's box. As he hit the stage he fell. He had broken a leg. But he got up and pulled out a long knife. Waving it he yelled 'Sic semper tyrannis!' and then dragged himself across the stage and out into an alley A man was waiting for him with a saddled horse. Booth got on the horse and rode away.

"When Booth first leaped onto the stage the people thought it was part of the play until a woman in the president's box screamed and a fellow in the large crowd that was at the show that night recognized him. Then they knew it was not part of the act. It happened so quickly, however, that Booth had shot the president, leaped to the stage, brandished the knife and fled before anybody started to do anything about it.

'I didn't see Booth shoot Lincoln. I doubt if anybody else in the audience did. I saw him jump about 10 feet to the stage.

"John Wilkes Booth was a handsome man. He had a smooth, white face and black hair and was of medium build."

"The story has been told that Booth escaped and came to Texas where he lived for some time after the assassination," the interviewer asked. "Do you believe that?"

Freeland answered quickly and emphatically. He related that he had talked to the undertaker who prepared Booth's body for burial and who buried it under the floor of what was called the "Arsenal" at Washington. The secrecy was to prevent anyone getting the body. This undertaker also disinterred the remains and moved to Mount Olive cemetery.

"He told me there was no doubt about it; it was John Wilkes Booth," Freeland said.

Booth, history relates, was shot as he came from a barn that had been set afire. Freeland says Booth told officers before he died: 'Tell my mother I died for my country."

John Freeland was but a boy when he enlisted in the Union army in the Civil war. He entered the service at the age of 16 and served three years. He was wounded in the nose at the battle of Gettysburg or he would have served longer. The bullet, Freeland said, entered the nose and came out at the back of the neck.

It was not the only wound Freeland ever sustained in his life either. He was accidentally shot in the stomach while in New Mexico.

In the Civil war Freeland was in the battle of Gettysburg, Shenandoah Valley and other engagements.

Immediately after the war he appeared on the stage in Washington. He does not remember the first name of the Booth he worked with but undoubtedly it was Junius Brutus Booth, father of John Wilkes. Of the elder Booth he says: "He was hard to get along with if you made mistakes. If you didn't do what you were supposed to you'd get a whipping from him." Freeland added, however, that he never had any trouble with Booth.

Freeland came to Texas after leaving Washington then went to Tennessee where he married. His wife has been dead 34 years. He "baches" today with three sons and a grandson at the farm near Rising Star. He has been at that place for 37 years.

During his journeys over the county he worked on the railroad near Las Vegas, N. M. "It was here that I knew a nice, pleasant, kindly young fellow named Billy the Kid," he said.

Billy the Kid was working on the railroad with Freeland at Water's Station, 20 miles from Las Vegas. He says the Kid was not a type to make you think he would make a bandit but that at the time he knew him the Kid had killed two men.

"Oh, I've seen part of this world," Freeland grinned at his interviewer.

"I was never arrested in my life—but once," he said. "They took me down to the city hall to question me."

He revealed that he had only been taken as a witness and was not used in court even then.

Freeland chews tobacco. He quit smoking a pipe 20 years ago. He likes beer, he says, but he never "took over a dram" of whisky at a time. He has four of his original teeth remaining, his eyesight is fair and he can hear pretty well. He got his second sight some time ago and reads without spectacles though not for any great length of time.

He says he took one airplane ride but "they went too fast" though he'd "ride in it again if I had the chance."

He draws a pension of $75 per month and declares "I enjoy it."

He poses willingly for pictures and asks that he be given a copy of what is put in the paper about him.

John Freeland is as interesting as his life. He says he quit school when in the sixth grade but his experiences and travel have sharpened his wit and broadened his mind. There's nothing dull about talking to him.

His interviewer drove away. Freeland watched him from his chair under the tree.

"Good-bye and good luck," he said. "Come back and see me."

Then when the car had been driven out of sight he returned to his glamorous memories.

Life goes on but mostly in the past for John Freeland.

BEN LASKA IS GIVEN FEDERAL PRISON TERM

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 29.—Ben Laska, convicted of accepting part of the Charles Urschell kidnaping money, was sentenced today to 10 years in federal prison.

Laska defended Albert Bates, one of the kidnapers in 1933. He was accused of accepting, knowingly, $10,000 of Bates' share of the ransom as a fee.

U. S. Judge Edgar Vaught pronounced sentence after rejecting a motion for a new trial.

Laska's attorney filed notice of appeal to the circuit court. The notice alleged 16 errors and attacked constitutionality of the Lindbergh law under which Laska was tried.

Old-Time Citizen Of County Is Back For Brief Business

W. R. Little, known in Ranger and Eastland county some 20 years ago as "Rile," was in town Monday shaking hands with Ranger friends and renewing acquaintances made in the years gone by. He was accompanied by Alford Ainsworth of Route 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Little owned the Hightower tract of land near Ranger consisting of some 400 acres and just before the boom sold out their interests lock, stock and barrel and moved to Phoenix, Ariz. He invested in land in that section, the irrigated kind, and said yesterday that for several years he made lots of money, but in the long run lost out and today is just "making beans."

Mr. Litttle in his younger days was a great lover of hounds and kept a pack and indulged in the sport of wolf hunting. He said that he still loved to hunt, at the age of 73, and hunted for turkey and deer in the Rockies.

Shortly after the Little family moved to Arizona oil was discovered in the Ranger field and the place that he sold produced millions of dollars in the golden fluid. Mr. Little said that had he stayed in Ranger and "got rich" no doubt the money would all be gone now, as "the boys" always manage to take it away from one.

He is the father of nine children and they are all doing well and keeping up the family name by each having a large family of his own.

Mr. Little has traveled over the entire state and says his kinspeople live all the way from the Red river on the north to San Saba on the south and he visited them in numbers of as many as 50 at the time.

Mr. Litttle came into Ranger especially to see his friend, Dr. A. K. Wier. He says the doctor has fleshened up quite a bit since he knew him 20 years ao, but considering everything, said Mr. Little in a conversation with Dr. Wier, "about all a man can use in this world is plenty of beans."

The Littles expect to return to their Arizona home in the next few days.

America Firm In Refusing To Mix In German Affairs

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The state department took a firm stand today in refusing official cognizance of demands for action against the Hitler regime because of treatment of Catholics and Jews.

"There is no German case before the state department," one official said.

The department declined to comment on demands of William Green for a boycott against Germany. Green said he was speaking officially as the head of organized labor.

Community Gas Reorganization Makes Hamilton Man Manager of Eastland Office of the Company

A reorganization of the Community Natural Gas company is to bring a new gas company official to Eastland, according to work received here today by Frank Williams, division manager.

Eastland is to be the headquarters of a new district of the company and L. D. Black is to be transferred from Hamilton as district manager. Mr. Williams is to be transferred to his old home in McKinney, Texas, as district manager in that territory.

The towns in the new Eastland district, in addition to Eastland are Gordon and Strawn.

The change has been brought about by combining the Municipal Gas company, which serves 20 cities in Texas, with the Community Natural, under the general management of Chester L. May of Dallas. Mr. May for several years has been vice president and general manager of the Community Natural Gas company and the Texas Cities Gas company. The Municipal is to be incorporated into the Community Natural Gas company and will be operated under that name, giving to Mr. May the management of perhaps the most extensive gas system in the United States. The system serves almost 300 towns in Texas and Southern Oklahoma, covering an area several times the size of an average state.

Mr. May succeeds the late James B. McCabe, who was president and general manager of the Municipal Gas company. The Municipal company is a pioneer in the gas distribution business in the Southwest, having been organized about 1909.

L. B. Denning of Dallas becomes president of the Community Natural, succeeding Frank L. Chase, who has been named chairman of the board. L. B. Denning, Jr., has been appointed general superintendent of the company.

Mr. Black, who is moving his family to Eastland, has been with the Community Natural Gas company since 1928. His first work with the company was in the construction department, and in January, 1929, he was made district manager at Colorado. In March, 1930, he was made district manager in the Sweetwater territory, holding that position until four months ago when he was transferred to Hamilton from which city he comes to Eastland.

In announcing the consolidation of the two companies Mr. May said: "The reorganizaton will permit us to continue the present complete gas service we have been rendering in Eastland and to improve this service wherever possible. One of the new services we hope to render to our customers is to show them the advantages of proper house heating this winter. It is well known that many of the common colds and more serious illnesses prevalent in this section in the winter time are due to improperly heated homes. We expect to offer our customers the type of equipment, which will protect them from sickness due to poor heating equipment and to give them full information on the best method of heating their homes. By rendering a complete and efficient gas service at all hours of the day and night, we hope to merit the continued support and cooperation of our customers."

Mr. Williams, who is being transferred to McKinney has been an active worker in the Eastland Chamber of Commerce and many organizations. He held the presidency of the Rotary club for one year.

Getting, Giving Two Philosophies Asserts Rotarian

Getting and giving are the two philosophical views in the world, James Wilson of Floydada, Rotary governor for this district, told the members of Eastland club on his first official visit Monday.

Predominant view is getting, Wilson stated, who contrasted it with the chief aim of Rotary which is giving and service.

Japan's attitude of getting makes it the greatest menace to peace in the world, the Rotary governor stated. "It has the habit of getting what it wants regardless of the other fellow," Wilson said.

Guy Rogers of Wichita Falls, guest of C. A. Hertig, sang and played two guitar numbers.

President Ben Hamner presided.

Visitors were P. Petit, R. L. Ponsler, J. C. McAfee, Cisco; Ray Newnham, Ranger.

PROFESSOR IS VICTIM OF A QUEER ATTACK

CHICAGO, July 31.— Walter Bauer, chemistry professor, died today after a operation which police believed was performed by a former suitor of Bauer's bride of three weeks.

Police said before he died Bauer told them of being bound and gagged and forced to submit to mutilation in a parked car.

He lived long enough after the torturous ordeal to tell of his suspicion a disappointed lover chose this form of revenge when Bauer was successful in wooing a hospital nurse.

Bauer said he had been in Ann Arbor, Mich., the past week taking a summer school course. He first saw his assailant there, but did not know his name.

Jefferson Standard Declares Dividend

GREENSBORO, N. C.—Declaration of the regular stock dividend of $5 per share on the 10,000 shares of stock in the company, the dividend aggregating $50,000, was one of the principal acts of the directors of the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance company at their semi-annual meeting here. The dividend is payable August 1 on stock of record as of July 22.

Another noteworthy feature of the meeting, held in the big home building of the Jefferson Standard, with President Julian Price presiding, was a report submitted by Mr. Price showing excellent progress during the first six months of 1935.

This report revealed an increase of $75,000 in surplus during the past six months, making the total capital and surplus of the company $2,900,000. Business applied for during the first half of the year represented a gain of 10 per cent over that of the corresponding period of 1934. The gain in insurance in force reached the im-
