

Along The Waterfront

With the calmer weather the fish are starting to bite again, nearly everyone going fishing now are coming in with some fish.

There are several boats going out each day from the Jolly Roger Hunting and Fishing Camp and most of them return with nice catches. The trout, rat reds and gaff tops are biting out there.

Harry Mills took a party out from Mills' Wharf Saturday and they came in with 46 nice trout. All the fishing around the Wharf is generally improving, and the redfish are starting to bite out at Rattlesnake Point, too, several being caught there this week.

T. A. Lambert and party, of San Antonio, went out from Smitty's Bait Stand and caught 21 trout, which averaged 2 pounds each. Mr. and Mrs. Fred White, also of San Antonio, got 40 mixed fish near Smitty's Stand, Sunday, July 8.

Melvin Klenke and party of five, of Seguin, fished with C. L. Thomas Tuesday, July 10, and brought in about 60 nice trout. They were all well pleased with their trip and some of the party is coming back soon for a five-day fishing trip. Henry Ballou has taken several parties out in his boats this week and they have been very lucky in getting nice catches of fish.

Woman's Club Presents First Program

J. L. Baughman of the local Marine Laboratory and Mrs. Ruth Del Mar Sullivan of Corpus Christi were the speakers on the program presented at the Aransas County Woman's Club at their regular meeting last Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Baughman gave an interesting and enlightening talk on the Geologic formation of Live Oak Peninsula. His explanation of the natural processes that brought about the formation of our particular part of Texas was so clearly and colorfully made that the audience was absorbed in what proved to be a fascinating story for all who heard it.

Following Mr. Baughman's talk, Mrs. Sullivan read excerpts from the poem, "Finger of Earth", by Violet West Sone. Mrs. Sone taught in the Rockport schools, and she wrote her poems of the Oaks, the storm, the wind and the water and the people with sensitive appreciation. The selections Mrs. Sullivan read were chosen with fine taste, her discriminating interpretation of the verses and her rich and beautiful voice charmed her listeners. One favorite selection was a description of the Fulton mansion and a character sketch of Mr. Fulton. But perhaps the verses that carried the most immediate appeal were the ones which had for their subject, "The Bird Woman", who was none other than Mrs. Jack Hagar, president of the Woman's Club.

A monthly program is planned by the club, and participants will come from out-of-town as well as from the community and the membership of the organization itself. The general subject for the club year will be "Our Finger of Earth." It will deal with various aspects of life in Aransas County, there will be programs on the history, legends, native plants and birds, old houses and other subjects of interest to loyal residents of the area.

Merchanettes Enter Texas Zephyr Tourney

The Rockport Merchanette fans saw a well-played return game here last Thursday night as Rockport defeated Beeville by a score of 8-5. This game made the fourth one played with Beeville this season, each team now having two wins and two losses to their credit.

On the next night the Merchanettes met the Bay City Merchanettes at Port Lavaca in a match which resulted in another victory for Rockport. There were no runs scored until the first of the 3rd inning when Louise Wright crossed home plate to make the first score of the ball game. The Merchants got three runs in the fifth inning to end their scoring, but the Merchanettes went ahead to chalk up six more runs, defeating their opponents 7-3.

The next game the Merchanettes played was the opening game of the Goliad softball tournament Monday night. The much feared Yoakum team gave the Merchanettes a good fight, but were overpowered by Rockport's hitting ability. Bessie Atwood was the first to score in this game, crossing the plate in the bottom of the second inning. The Merchanettes had a 5-0 lead before Yoakum could bring in a run. A home run slashed to center field by Louise Wright in the bottom of the 4th inning contributed to the score which ended 11-3 in favor of the Merchanettes. By this win, Rockport gained the privilege of returning to Goliad to play Hallettsville on Wednesday. But it seems he opponents had all the luck. The Merchanettes had a 4-1 lead over the Cotton Maids until the bottom of the fifth inning when Hallettsville got all the breaks at once to roll in six runs.

It was a wildly exciting fight to the finish as Opal Warden made the last run scored for Rockport in the bottom of the seventh in an attempt to regain position as high scorer. The final result was the Cotton Maids 10, Merchanettes 5.

Tomorrow night at Gonzales the Merchanettes will begin their try for another trophy—this one being given to the winner of the Texas Zephyr's tournament. (Continued on Page 8)

Roy Mullinax Jr., Leslie Sparks Return From Korea

Roy Mullinax, Jr. and Leslie (Pancho) Sparks arrived in San Diego, California, on Wednesday, June 27th, and both have been released to inactive duty in the Marine Corps.

Mullinax and Sparks, both veterans of World War II, and members of the Marine Reserves, were ordered to active duty last July, members of the Corpus Christi Reserve unit, Company B, 15th Infantry Battalion.

Mrs. Mullinax, Mrs. Sparks and Mrs. J. M. Sparks met them in San Diego and they returned to Rockport Friday, July 5.

A Pacific veteran of Marine service from September, 1944, to April, 1946, Mullinax' latest overseas duty was with the First Marine Division in Korea from November, 1950 to June, 1951.

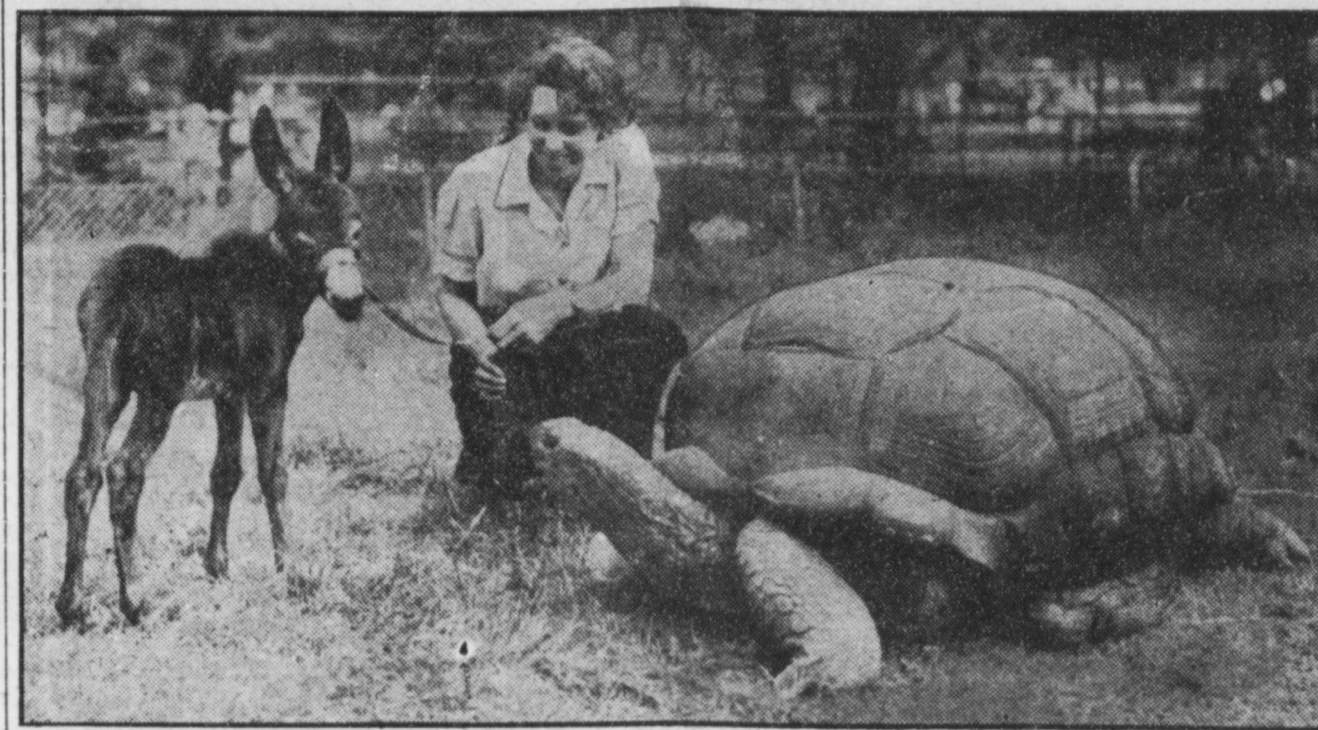

While in Korea he took part in the famous withdrawal of the First Marine Division from the Chosin Reservoir when trapped by the Chinese Communists. He later saw duty on the central front in stopping the Spring drive of the Reds and later taking the offensive against them.

Mullinax was promoted to the rank of Sergeant while in Korea. His friends will find him at his old job with the Auto Service Co., which he left when called into the armed forces.

Sparks served in Korea from last November until June of this year and is a veteran of the severe fighting at the Chosin Reservoir when his division was encircled there last winter. A veteran of World War II, he served overseas from April, 1944 to February, 1946.

Sparks is entitled to wear the Korean Service Medal along with previous awards of the Victory Ribbon, China Service Ribbon, Presidential Unit Citation, American and Asiatic-Pacific Theatre Ribbons.

Sparks will be back as one of the mechanics at Auto Service Co. soon.

THE V.F.W. OF ROCKPORT

In their efforts to fulfill obligations as a civic body, members of the Rockport V.F.W. Post are presented with many problems. Being veterans and part of a patriotic group, these members are continually called upon, and expected to handle, certain specific duties of the community life.

The innumerable small details incidental to preparation or completion of these duties often require more time than the duty itself. Not only the handling of such details but the work itself falls generally, on the shoulders of a few men. These men give time and thought to interests of civic betterment. In but few instances are these tasks done directly for the benefit of their membership or the Post itself.

A large number of eligible non-members and people of Aransas County fail to realize how big a part the V.F.W. does take in civic work. Traffic direction, when needed, aid to law enforcement officers, relief and securing of aid to non-member veterans, help and sponsorship of growing boys are but part of the tasks performed by the Stewart-Wendell Post.

None of the members are wealthy or idle. All have families and obligations to meet. The time they devote to community welfare is done usually at sacrifice of their own interests, but somehow they find time to do it. They gain nothing but the satisfaction of knowing that they helped in what needed doing, that in a small way

A Prescription Department With an Outstanding Record

180,000 satisfied prescription customers, over a period of over 30 years... every prescription on file for reference, or refill. This Department was started by Mr. A. L. Bruhl, Pharmacist and manufacturing chemist, who is still associated with Pharmacist Shelley Roaten, in an advisory capacity. The many years this drug store has been in Rockport have seen a miraculous change in prescription medicines—from the crude nostrums of the early Eighties, to the present day highly-standardized products of exact chemical science, and the wonders performed by the new, so-called "miracle drugs."

LITTLE RED BOX SALVATION ARMY'S NEW CALLING CARD

By ED EAKIN

A little red box has replaced the jingling tamborine as the calling card of the Salvation Army. The reason is a cast of mistaken identity. The red box, faced with the shield of the Salvation Army is to assure people that their money is going into the right hands.

Other groups, whose uniforms are similar, have capitalized on the good will of the Salvation Army to make collections in Coastal Bend towns including Robstown.

Workers Hampered
Salvation Army solicitors are hampered in their work. "Why you were here only yesterday," people will tell them. The masqueraders always manage to arrive in town just before the Salvation Army representatives.

The red box—as the tamborine in some areas—is the trade mark of the Salvation Army, caretakers of forgotten men and women; protectors of homeless youth; a spiritual lifeline to struggling humanity.

Robstown not only gives to the Salvation Army, it also receives. In the taciturn manner in which it always works, the Salvation Army helps care for Robstown's needs.

Food Orders

Each Christmas more than 50 town's needy. Last year, two Robstown girls and six others from Corpus Christi were sent to the home for unwed mothers in San Antonio.

The average costs of $245 was covered completely and the girls retained in the home a month after the child was born to learn child care and make the proper arrangements for adoption.

One of the most familiar works of the Salvation Army is to aid fallen men. Transients who come to South Texas from all parts of the country, most always make Corpus Christi their first stop.

The men are given a hot meal, clean clothes, a bed to sleep in, and most important, a new outlook on life.

Families not eligible for governmental welfare aids, are given emergency care, while dormitories house homeless men and women and in some cases stranded families.

Church Program

Besides their social work, the Salvation Army has church activities for the unchurched, full-time spiritual program that covers all age groups.

Stacked in between other projects is a youth recreation program. This includes boxing, basketball, football and Boy Scout work. Last year the team sponsored by the Salvation Army was the city champions in the basketball league.

Captain Ben Jones, commander of the Corpus Christi unit of the Salvation Army, has a job that four or five men could fill and still be kept busy.

Full Program

Besides being bookkeeper for the organization, he preaches four sermons a week, supervises a rehabilitation program for alcoholics, heads the recreation program, and the weekly program in the church center.

In the center, the program starts out like this: women's clubs, teenage craft group and a junior legion of 125 children on Monday and Tuesday nights; choirs for children and adults on Wednesday night and on Thursday, the mid-week church service. Following services a band class for 12 children and a Sunday school teacher's preparation class are held. Friday is Scout day and Saturday is reserved for open-air services.

Sunday Services

Sunday begins with the Sunday school, which has grown from 18 to about 220 members in the three years that Capt. Jones has been in Corpus Christi. After church services, Capt. Jones spends the afternoon in hospitals and making other pastoral visits, and leading a Bible study group, a six year course for Corps Cadets, a select group of young people who are studying to become Salvation Army officers of community service workers.

Later on in the evening are the young people's service and then the street evangelistic services.

To help carry on this work, Capt. Jones has a small staff of workers: welfare and office secretaries, three solicitors, bus driver, manager of transient lodge, cook, caretaker, maintenance and repairman and a truck driver.

Dormitory Staff

A dormitory staff, men who are getting back on their feet are given grants of from $3 to $15 a week, strictly for spending money while they get food and clothing and a place to live until they are ready to go on their own again.

The general offices of Salvation Army, located in downtown Corpus Christi at 806 North Staples, includes family welfare and transient lodges, clothing center and

WHAT MAKES COMMIES RUN in Korea is evidenced by the picture above, a dramatic display of the power packed by Uncle Sam's warbirds. The above shooting gallery-on-wheels is a B-26 light bomber. Its arsenal consists of 28 100-pound bombs, four tanks of napalm and enough ammunition (about 6000 rounds) to feed 14 forward firing machine guns and two turret fifties. store room. The church center has the chapel, youth center and playgrounds.

The Salvation Army receives $22,500 a year from the Corpus Christi community chest. The additional funds to fill out its annual budget of some $50,000 comes from solicitations.

Besides homes for men, the Salvation Army is planning to construct a dormitory for working girls who come into the city and would like to stay in a home with Christian influence.

Community Service

Captain Jones said they hoped some day to have a community service unit set up in area towns like Robstown with local communities to help operate it.

A frequent visitor to Robstown Rotary Club and a popular after-dinner speaker, Captain Jones likes to relate stories about the Salvation Army and how it effects the lives of people.

His most oft-told antidote is about Eddie, a juvenile delinquent. Eddie, according to Captain

Jones, had a long list of delinquencies when he was sent to the Salvation Army from the juvenile court.

Eddie Converted

He was found to be interested in painting, so a teacher was obtained, and Eddie kept coming to the club. One night Eddie attended chapel services and when the invitation was given for the young people to become Christians, he slipped out from his seat and came down and knelt at the altar.

Captain Jones came and knelt beside him to encourage him and direct him in his decision. "Now remember one thing, Eddie," he said, "If you are interested in being good, God will take care of you."

It wasn't long before Eddie entered the service and went to war. More than a year later, he came back in town and of course the first place he visited was the Salvation Army and Captain Jones.

Convoy Duty

Speaking with the captain and his wife, Eddie told of convoy duty in the North Atlantic. He described how enemy planes would come out of the sky and state the ship and how scores of his buddies would be killed beside him.

Mrs. Jones, being very motherly, exclaimed, "when you got the battle call and knew you were going out perhaps to face death, weren't you afraid?"

"No, Mrs. Jones," he answered. "Remember when I got converted."

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Might Say The Birds Got "Nettled"

Had dinner with Tik Bradley the other day, and over a frosty bottle of beer I found out about his job with the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

"Now just exactly what do you do?" I asked him. "Shoot birds with a cannon" he calmly replies.

Seems they actually do use a cannon—to shoot out a net over a flock of birds feeding on the ground. The birds start to take off at the sound of the shot, but the settling net brings them back to earth. Then they're banded around the leg so more can be learned about their migratory habits. Afterwards, they're let loose—and everyone's happy.

From where I sit, it was a good example of how when you learn the real facts they're often not as bad as they may sound at first. Like with people. Get to really know your neighbor and chances are you'll be more tolerant of his preferences—even though they're not your own. Take a good look, before you jump to conclusions.

State Health Officer Warns of Typhoid Danger

Austin, Texas.—"Now that summer has come to Texas it is time for people who expect to enjoy camping and swimming during the warm weather to be sure that they are adequately protected against typhoid fever," according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer. "Although the public health strides of recent decades have practically eliminated typhoid fever as a threat to persons living in communities with approved water supplies and good sanitation, the disease remains a real danger to those who swim, camp or picnic in remote rural areas. "Typhoid fever is transmitted from one person to another by means of water, food or milk that has been contaminated by discharge from a patient suffering with the disease or from an apparently well typhoid carrier. "Spectacular reductions in typhoid fever cases and deaths as compared with those of a generation ago should not give the public a false sense of security. There has been 95 cases of typhoid and paratyphoid fever in Texas in 1951—in spite of community efforts to improve sanitation, isolate patients and supervise known carriers. This indicates that it is still highly desirable for individuals who may be exposed to unfavorable conditions to safeguard themselves by seeking protection at the beginning of the vacation season. "Immunization is a simple and safe procedure. Since this immunity lasts for only three years, anyone who has not been inoculated since 1948 should receive new protection this year. In addition, persons who have never availed themselves of this preventive measure should by all means do so now if they plan to participate in outdoor pleasures. All persons who are due for immunization against typhoid fever in 1951 should go to their physicians without delay if they have not already received the recommended inoculations."

Merit System Council Offers Competitive Exams

Chas. S. Gardiner, director of the Merit System Council in Austin, announced today that competitive examinations for nine different classes of state jobs will be given August 11. The examinations may be given in as many as 45 different towns. Openings for stenographers, typists, child welfare supervisors will be in various offices throughout the state. Key punch operators and tabulating machine operators are needed in Austin only. The last day for filing applications is July 21. Gardiner said that further information and an application blank may be obtained from any office of the Texas Employment Commission, the State Department of Public Welfare, or by writing the Merit System Council, 510 W. Eleventh St., P. O. Box 671, Austin, Texas.

O.P.S. BRIEFS

OPS Increases Cattle Quotas
Increased cattle slaughter quotas for civilian beef consumption during July has been announced. The increase is predicated upon the assumption that cattle marketing in July will exceed that for July a year ago.
Cattle quotas for July slaughter has been upped by OPS to 90 percent of the 1950 base, and, in addition, federally inspected slaughters may increase their quotas a maximum of 15 percent, providing the additional beef goes to the Armed Forces.
The July quota for calves, lamb and sheep went up to 85 percent of the 1950 base; but unlike cattle and swine, Armed Forces requirements must come out of the regular quotas.
For civilian consumption the July slaughter quota for swine has been set at 105 percent of the 1950 base. To meet requirements of the Armed Forces, federally inspected slaughterers may increase their swine quotas a maximum 15 percent, providing the additional amount goes to the Armed Forces.
Retailers Post OPS Ceiling Signs
Signs reading "The Prices of Merchandise in this Store are no Higher than the OPS Ceiling Prices of the Articles" are appearing in all stores this week which are in compliance with OPS regulations applying to the sale of articles covered by Ceiling Price Regulation 7.
The provisions, which Monday of this week, required all sellers of articles under CPR 7 to post the notice also requires that all items affected by the regulation be tagged or marked with the selling price legibly and plainly visible.
Retailers Get OPS Extension
Time in which to receive OPS acknowledgment of price chart filing has been extended to July 31 for those retailers affected by Ceiling Price Regulation 7.
The San Antonio district OPS said that the additional time is needed to accomplish the mailing of receipts.
Spring Lamb Held To Winter Prices
A supplementary OPS regulation issued last week makes clear that all lamb meat, regardless of season, is regulated by the base period, Dec. 19 through Jan. 25, selling price.
The regulation, which makes no distinction between winter and spring lambs, is an interim measure pending issuance of dollars and cents ceiling governing wholesale and retail prices of lamb carcasses and cuts.
There is no ceiling price on live lambs.

Draft Law Is Extended Four Years

Austin, Texas—The draft law, scheduled for expiration July 9, has been extended in amended form to July 1, 1955, Brig. Gen. Paul L. Wakefield, state director, reminded Texas people last week.
Gen. Wakefield noted the following important changes in the Selective Service act:
1. Men inducted will serve for 24 months, as compared to 21 under the old law. Males must register at the age of 18, as formerly.
2. Men are liable for induction at age 18½ instead of 19. No man below 19 can be inducted so long as a board has eligible older men.
3. Physical and mental standards for service have been lowered, with the result that some men now classified IV-F will be found suitable for I-A.
4. The present strength of the armed forces—approximately 3½ million—can be raised to 5 million men.
5. Except for cases of extreme hardship, a man may not be deferred for dependency on the basis of a wife alone.
6. Men now or hereafter deferred on educational, occupational, farming, or dependency grounds will remain liable for service until age 35. Men not deferred are liable only to 26th birthday.
7. Conscientious objectors to military service shall be ordered by local boards, subject to regulations prescribed by the President, to perform civilian work in the national interest for 24 months.

8. Men entering the service by way of a draft board are obligated to serve six years in the reserves after discharge.
9. High school students will be deferred until graduated, until they attain age 20, or until they fail school work.
10. Some college students may be deferred on the basis of class standing during last completed school year, or on the basis of a government-sponsored test. The local board is not bound to defer on the basis of this information, but can defer on consideration of it. Some other college students may be deferred on a less competitive basis.
11. No inducted man may be assigned overseas until he has had four months of training.
12. All enlistments in the armed forces, reserve and regular, which expire after July 9, may be extended by the President for one year. No person shall have his enlistment extended a second time.

Captain Harry M. Wakow is home from Korea and visited in the W. T. Salch home in Fort Benning, Ga. Mrs. Wakow is the former Miss Evelyn Salch.
Myra Ingersoll and Eddie Morrison left Monday morning for Mo Ranch, where they will spend a week at the Presbyterian Pioneer Camp.

Texas Hunters May Be Restricted To Afternoon Hunting

AUSTIN—Possibility that Texas hunters may be restricted to afternoon shooting during the coming mourning dove season was indicated Friday at a meeting of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission.

Word received by the Commission from the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service, which sets the seasons on all migratory fowl, was that afternoon hunting was being considered by the Federal authorities.

This news came after the Commission had recommended the same dates, shooting hours and bag limits for the north zone on mourning doves and had recommended a later season, beginning November 15 for the south zone.

The Commission acted in accordance with a poll taken of Texas sportsmen on their preferences for the mourning dove season. Preponderance of north zone opinion was to retain the present September 1 opening date, while the bulk of south zone hunters responding to the poll wanted a later date than the present October 20 opener. Many from the south zone, asked that the mourning dove dates parallel the quail season beginning on December 1. The Commission recommended the south zone opener be November 15 and run through January 1.

Bag limits under the Commission proposal would be ten birds and shooting hours would be from one half hour before sunrise to sunset.

The Commission recommended the whitewing season in the Rio Grande Valley be on two successive weekends instead of on September 16, 17 and 19 as at present. The hunting dates would be Friday, September 7, and Sunday, September 9, and Friday, September 14, and Sunday, September 16, with no shooting on either Saturday in between the Friday and Sunday dates. The shooting hours would be from 4 p.m. to sunset.

The Commission got pessimistic word about prospects for zoning Texas for the 1951 waterfowl season. The Executive Secretary said the Fish and Wildlife Service has not yet indicated possible dates for the fall duck and goose shoot but did indicate disfavoring the zone plan because of the pressure from other states, with New York and California requesting three zones and even little Delaware seeking two zones.

The Commission then voted to recommend that the Texas waterfowl season begin not earlier than November 10. The dates last year were November 3 to December 17. No indication was received as to bag limits and length of the season on waterfowl.

The Commission changed the deer season in the nine counties west of the Pecos from November 6 to 11 inclusive to November 20 to 25 inclusive, after receiving requests from both sportsmen and landowners. The Commission also reduced the bag limit from one male white-tailed and one male mule deer to one male deer.

The deer season for the state at large is set by law and runs from November 16 to December 31, with two buck deer the limit.

The Commission authorized regulations for the new six-county area brought under regulatory control by a recent state law. A 15-day deer season was ordered beginning November 16, with one buck deer allowed. The wild turkey season would run concurrently with a limit of one gobbler. The state law on wild turkeys permits three gobblers. The quail season in the six county area would be the same as the state at large but the possession limit would be cut from 36 to 24. The new regulatory area comprises Jack, Young, Palo Pinto, Stephens, Hood and Erath counties.

Mrs. Clyde Townsend and Mrs. Alton Webb visited with their mother, Mrs. Nell Webb, in Blanton, Sunday afternoon.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

I have carefully weighed the matter of running for Alderman of Ward No. 1 of the City of Rockport, and as the time for election approaches, I am convinced that I should withdraw in favor of the other four candidates, from whom the voters will find good representation. This decision comes primarily because my residence is near the city limits, and beyond the area of present city utilities and services, and that a representative nearer the city proper could serve better. I therefore request that my name be removed from the ballot.

I want to thank my friends who showed their interest in my making this race.

MORSE, NOT REMORSE—An old skill has given 90-year-old Mrs. Emma Read of Pueblo, Colo., a new life. When her hearing failed years ago, Mrs. Read, once a frontier town telegrapher, became an expert lip reader. Recently her sight began to fail. Undaunted, Mrs. Read taught Morse code to her daughter and now has an electrical contact with the world.
