Whites Battle Negroes In Oil Field Race Riot

Many Believed Injured, Deaths Feared At Eldorado, Ark.

STARTS WEDNESDAY

Mob Seek To Clean Out Camp of Laborers; Shooting Begins

EL DORADO, Ark., May 6.—Rioting broke out in the oil fields eight miles north of here tonight when a band of 200 oil-field workers marched upon a camp of 88 negroes brought to the field by the Standard Oil company for the construction of the 100 mile pipe line between the deep sand district and the Mississippi river.

Only meager reports are available here. Several wounded have been brought to El Dorado and reports are that several have been killed. Approximately 100 shots were exchanged between county officers, negro guards and oil workers. Negroes in the camps rushed from their tents in all manners of garbs and have deserted the camp, it is said.

Two Groups Form.

According to the reports the oil men formed in two groups and went to the foreman of the construction gang employing the negroes. He is reported to have told the men that he would get the negroes out of the field if they would go away and allow him to do it peacefully.

Shots are reported to have been fired from ambush and a general battle followed in which the negroes were scattered as well as the workers. County officers came upon the scene with deputies and officers from Norphlette and after exchange of shots both factions were scattered.

Sniping Reported.

County officers and Standard Oil company officials could not be reached. A telephone report at 11 o'clock said that except for occasional sniping all was quiet.

Hospitals at Smackover and El Dorado have received no wounded thus far, although ambulances at El Dorado have been called to the scene.

The rioting started about 10 o'clock tonight and was over in a few minutes.

Scholarship Made Available Here For College Students

The Major Francis Grice chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution of this city has established a Junior college scholarship of $300 a year. The fund, it is understood, is for the benefit of any one or two persons wishing to attend the Junior college but not financially able to do so. The money will be loaned to the student, perferably a girl, and a second year college student, to be repaid after the person has graduated from Junior college and has a position or is drawing money. Interest will not be charged until the student has finished school.

The fund has been created primarily to assist college seniors to graduate from the Junior college that would otherwise be forced to quit school because of finances. A committee from the chapter, under the direction of Mrs. P. A. Welty, organized the fund and will have charge of its presentation.

ASK CLASS TO PLAY

Henrietta Invites Wichita Falls to Come Over For Theatrical.

The Henrietta high school has extended an invitation to Wichtia Falls high school students to attend the senior class play, "Much Ado About Betty," in Henrietta, Friday, May 8. The cast is said to be composed of the best amateur actors in the senior class and an excellent entertainment is promised. Several parties of local students are being formed, to attend the play.

Clarendon Man Is Named President Of Hardware Ass'n

AMARILLO, May 6.—O. C. Watson of Clarendon was elected president of the Panhandle Hardware and Implement Dealers association here today in the closing convention session, and the delegates voted to meet in Amarillo next year again.

Among resolutions adopted this morning was a vigorous protest against the coating of paint on the installment plan and of "easy payment" plans in geenral.

TAKES 2,300 VOLTS; LIVES.

Quanah Man Owes Life to Fact He Was Standing on Box.

QUANAH, May 6.—The difference of standing on a wooden platform instead of on the ground saved the life of John Middleton here yesterday afternoon when he came in contact with 2,300 volts at the plant of the Quanah Light & Ice Co. Mr. Middleton was rendered unconscious, and received severe burns on his right shoulder and both hands. He will recover.

EX-MINISTER HELD FOR THEFT

NEW YORK, May 6.—Albertus A. Reilly, described by his lawyer as a former minister, was arraigned today on a charge of petty larceny and sent to Tombs prison in default of $1,000 bail. Reilly, who pleaded not guilty, was arrested for cashing two worthless checks for $40 each at the Waldorf Astoria hotel.

MEDICS WOULD SHORTEN CLASS STUDY COURSES

State Convention Goes On Record Favoring Changes

AUSTIN, May 6.—(AP)—Curtailment in the length of medical courses to enable students to graduate more quickly was favored today in a resolution adopted by the house of delegates of the State Medical association in convention here. Use of trade names by physicians' firms, also was declared ethical.

Discussion of the resolution urging shorter courses revealed that the physicians favored a more intensified course which might be completed sooner, but not at the sacrifice of efficiency. The resolution expressly provided that medical courses should be as thorough as at present.

Use of general trade names by physicians' firms was declared ethical in the adoption of the report of the committee on scientific work, which had under consideration a request from the Harris County Medical association for a ruling by the Texas association on the question.

Smackover Gets 10c Oil Raise

SHREVEPORT, La., May 6.—A ten-cent raise in the price of crude around Louanne, Smackover, measuring 23-23.9 degrees gravity was posted today by the Louisiana Oil Refining corporation.

The new price is sixty cents a barrel, with the stuff below 23 gravity bringing forty cents as formerly. At the same time the Louisiana Oil Refining corporation cut crude testing 28 degrees gravity and above to $1.35 a barrel. There is a highly competitive market for the Louanne crude. Other companies had not posted similar prices late tonight.

CITY IS HOST THURSDAY TO TRAVELING MEN

P. T. A. Convention Will Start Registering This Afternoon

300 VISITORS HERE

This Many May Arrive For Extensive Programs That Are Planned

Between 250 and 300 traveling men are expected to register at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the lobby of the Kemp hotel for the three-day state session of the Travelers' Protective association of America, which convenes here today.

Arrangements for the sessions had been perfected late last night and every indication pointed, according to officials of the association, to one of the most successful conventions it has ever held. An extensive entertainment program has been planned which includes trips over and about the city, the county and the Wichita valley. It will also include a visit to Lake Kemp for the final session of the convention Saturday.

Harrison to Speak.

The first meeting will open at 2:30 this afternoon in the ball room at the Kemp with an address of welcome by Hubert Harrison, manager of the chamber of commerce. A business session will follow with J. M, Duggan of Honston, president of the association, in charge.

The visiting ladies will be entertained during this time with a movie party given by the ladies of the association living in Wichita Falls. The benevolent order of the association will meet at 4:30 in the ball room.

A street parade will open Friday's meetings at 9 o'clock with the line of march through the business district. A business session of the convention will be held beginning at 9:30.

At noon the officers and ex-officers will be guests of the chamber of commerce at the meeting of the business council in the hotel dining room. The business session of the afternoon will start at 1:30 with the ladies scheduled for a party at the Country club at 3 o'clock.

To Elect Officers.

The election of officers and the next meeting place are both scheduled for the Friday afternoon meeting.

Judge J. S. Dickey will deliver the principal address at a banquet at the Wichita club in the evening.

Early Saturday morning the trip to Lake Kemp will start. A picnic dinner will be served at noon, with several addresses scheduled immediately afterward, the party to start back about 2 o'clock.

An especial appeal has been issued Wichita Falls members of the association for them to register at the meeting Thursday afternoon. All admission is by card and the registration is essential, according to Harry May, under whose direction the local arrangements have been made.

HEN MOTHERING KITTENS

Litter of Cats Finds Haven of Refuge Under Biddy's Wings.

YANKTON, S. D., May 6.—Six small kittens on the farm of A. W. Jones of Cedar county, Nebraska, across the Missouri river from Yankton, are being mothered by a hen. Biddy, large and brown, patiently sits on her strong brood apparently quite contended, giving way periodically to the mother cat when the latter comes to feed her family. The mother cat also seems satisfied with the arrangement.

DISAPPROVE OF MA'S PARDONS

Methodist Vote Disapproval of Her Policy in Church Meet.

DALLAS, May 6.—Disapproval of Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson's policy of pardoning criminals was expressed here today in a resolution adopted by the Dallas district conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South. This action was taken at the concluding session of the two-day conference, which, yesterday elected delegates to support the unification plan of the north and south Methodist churches. Dr. H. D. Knickerbocker, presiding elder, presided at the conference.

SONORA RANCHMAN DIES.

Bright's Disease Claims Man in San Angelo Hospital.

SAN ANGELO, May 6.—Mat Karnes, of Sonora, 62, wealthy pioneer ranchman of Sutton county, died at a local hospital this afternoon from bright's disease. Burial will be at Sonora Thursday afternoon. The widow, one son and five daughters survive. Karnes began his career in livestock raising near San Angelo in 1884.

Mrs. Gertrude Green Is Winner Again In Shrine Contest For Popularity

For the second time, Mrs. Gertrude Green has won the "Miss Wichita" popularity contest staged here by Maskat Temple, A. A. O. N. M. S., in connection with a Shrine circus. A tabulation of votes at the show Wednesday night revealed her carrying off first place with a small margin over Miss Irene Taylor who came second. Miss Thelma Gregg was third, Miss Maurice Franklin fourth, and Miss Lorean Raney fifth in the balloting.

As a reward for her triumph, "Miss Wichita" will have her choice of either a costly diamond ring or a trip to Los Angeles on the Shrine special train that will carry a large number of Wichita Falls Masons to the imperial council sessions in June.

Miss Taylor and Miss Gregg will also receive diamond rings, while appropriate prizesc will be awarded the other contestants. Presentations will be made with much pomp and ceremony at tonight's circus when Mrs. Green will be crowned "Queen of the Wichita Falls Shrine Bodies."

An added feature of tonight's attraction will be announcement of prize winners in the baby show being conducted as an adjunct to the circus. Physicians and Red Cross nurses have been busy the last two days examining babies in the Masonic Temple and their decisions are to be made public tonight. Prizes will be awarded the "blue ribbon" youngsters after the results are announced. An unusually large entry list has been reported.

Crowds continued to flock to the Bob Morton circus attractions Wednesday night and were rewarded with the usual meritorious amusement presentation.

Proving You Can't Trust Weather Man

FOR three days Wichita Falls barometers have rested on 28.2 yet in that time the thermometer has climbed to unusual heights even for May and then has follen back again to still more unusual depths. Also, during the past three days dry, sandy and rainy weather have vent their fury on the city.

Monday the thermometer soared to 92, then fell back to the 64 mark. Tuesday it stopped at 82 and dropped to 51. During the three days the wind velocity has gone as high as 24 miles per hour, while yesterday it sunk to an average of 8 miles. Monday the skies were clear, but Wednesday they were overcast. Monday the city was visited with a sandstorm that came out of a clear sky. Tuesday it got rain that caught straw hats unawares.

How is that for variety of climate.

PATRICK GONE IN DARKNESS: SEARCH STARTS

Army Air Service Chief Causes Concern By Long Absence

WASHINGTON, May 6.—Every agency of communication available to the war department was put into use tonight in an effort to set some trace of Major General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the arm yair service who left Memphis, Tenn., at five p. m., for a flight to Nashville, but had failed to arrive there at 11 o'clock.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 6.—Major General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the army air service, who was reported to have left Memphis for Nashville in an airplane at 5 o'clock has not arrived here at 10 o'clock, said Lieutenant Cincep J. Meloy, instructor in the 105 squadron observation, Nashville. The flying time is about two hours.

Lieutenant Meloy said he had wired officials in Washington, D. C., that the major general had not reached Nashville and was also wiring other points in an effort to gain information of his whereabouts.

A delegation of army officers who had gone to Blackwood Field, near Nashville, to greet General Patrick returned at dark.

Steady Rains Fall Through Panhandle And Southwest Okla.

Northwest Texas and southwestern Oklahoma from Dallas through to the Panhandle and up past Altus were drenched yesterday by a slow drizzling downpour that soaked in as it fell for the first few hours and then began to run off when the ground could hold no more.

Out through Abilene the hardest rains were reported, Seymour registering 1.3 inch precipitation and Abilene recording .75 inch. Vernon and vicinity reported approximately an inch of drizzle that will probably be of great benefit to crops as that section has missed sevral of the good rains of late. Burkburnett reported a steady rain, while Frederick and Altus were both visited by Wednesday morning rains.

Roads in all directions have been rendered slippery and in some cases impassable by the water. The Henrietta road is reported to be passable but in bad condition The Vernon and Seymour roads are also said to be slippery and dangerous.

GOOD RAIN IN QUANAH.

Third One in Month Visits City Wednesday.

QUANAH, May 6.—The third good rain within a month visited Quanah last night and this morning and will greatly add to the moisture in the ground and enhance the possibilities for a good cotton crop this year. The rain was gentle and continued throughout the morning intermittently.

SNOW IN MICHIGAN.

Cold Weather Threatens Opening of Baseball Season.

DETROIT, Mich., May 6.—With temperatures around freezing, snow was reported this morning from widely separated parts of Michigan. Light snow flurries were reported at Muskegon, on the west coast. Heavy snow fell at Flint and threatened to interefere with ceremonies attending the opening of the Michigan-Ontario Baseball league season.

REAY FOR POLE FLIGHT.

Amundsen All Set for Aerial Dash to Arctic Center.

OSLO, Norway, May 6.—(AP)—Dispatches received here from Captain Amundsen, detailing his plans for the north pole flight which he expected to start today said the auxiliary vessel, Farm, will proceed as far northwest as ice conditions will allow, while the other auxiliary vessel, Hobby, will go as far northeast as possible.

Dr. Mowinckel, premier of Norway, sent a wireless message to Amundsen assuring him that all the people of this country are following his undertaking with the greatest intent and hoping for success.

MRS. SHEPHERD, FINALLY FOUND, BERATES STATE

Chicago Woman Bitter As She Is Arrested On Murder Charge

TO FURNISH BOND

Crowe Does Not Oppose $5,000 Bail for Foster Mother of Boy

CHICAGO, May 6.—After a hectic day of excitement and suspense, clashing officials and the hurling of charges back and forth between the accused and the accussers, Mrs. Julia Shepherd, who with her husband, William D. Shepherd, is charged with the slaying of their youthful ward, William Nelson McClintock, millionaire orphan, surrendered late today in the court room of Judge Jacob Hopkins, chief justice of the criminal court. There, during a strikingly quiet session at the end of the exciting day, Judge Hopkins stayed the mittimi for her arrest until Friday morning released her on her own recognizance until that time and promised her release Friday morning when she appears upon the filing of $5,000 bond.

She Weeps.

And after it was all over, and it had been arranged that Mrs. Shepherd should not, like her husband, be incarcerated in the county jail the woman who claimed she gave a mother's love to her millionaire ward, and who Judge Harry Olson, instigator of the investigation yesterday termed a "Lady Macbeth," sat in the corridor outside the court room and wept.

"All I have given is love and care," she sobbed, "and all we have gotten is persecution. Oh, if only my boy could be brought back, I would gladly sacrifice myself on a cross of iron."

The courtroom scene was devoid of the wrangling that might have been expected. Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney raised no objection when Mrs. Shepherd's attorneys asked for bail and did not even object when they asked that their client be released on her own recognizance.

Has No Evidence.

"There is no evidence that I have as state's attorney," Mr. Crowe said, "that can cause me to oppose bail in this case. I have no objection to the fixing of bail in a reasonable amount in both charges against Mrs. Shepherd."

Mr. Crowe's attitude was the exact opposite of that when Shepherd himself asked for bail and which the state's attorney successfully opposed through four court actions. He manifested the resentment he expressed yesterday when the coroner's jury took action in recommending the preferring of charges against Mrs. Shepherd with the trial of her husband fixed for a date less than two weeks distant.

Mr. Crowe maintained that action of the coroner's jury would interfere with the trial.

DEMAND POWER OWNERSHIP

Customer Control Cited as Best Way of Avoiding Government Monopoly

HOUSTON, May 6.—(AP)—Customer-ownership of public utilities as the best means of averting government ownership was one of the outstanding subjects discussed at the 20th annual convention of the Southwestern Public Service association here today.

"The next congress will be swamped' I am told', S. J. Ballinger of San Antonio, told the convention, "with demands for government ownership of water power", and the inference was that unless customer-ownership of public utilities adequately fulfilled its mission, the next step might be a demand for their government ownership.

King Re-Elected State Consul Of Modern Woodmen

AUSTIN, May 6. — Bert King of Wichita Falls was re-elected state consul and Carl Gallagher, McKinney, was re-elected state clerk in the closing session of the quadrennial state encampment, Modern Woodmen of America here today. Election of officers and adoption of resolutions closed the convention until 1929.

Organization in the national camp will be re-arranged for the coming four years with the same state officers probably appointed in Texas.

Delegates elected today to represent the state organization at the national encampment in Milwaukee, Wis., June 23 were: A. R. Byrnes, Enloe; C. B. McConnell, Wichita Falls; O. A. Mangrum, Dallas; J. L. Hobson, Fort Worth; O. W. Mayo, Waco; J. P. Pool, Victoria; A. M. Chambers, Houston; Ed Englehardt, San Antonio; W. A. Stephenson, Sweetwater; T. H. Jameson, Chillicothe; H. V. Trahan, Galveston, and B. L. Biert, San Angelo.

ROBS WOMAN IN HOME.

Youth Points Dark Object At Her and Escapes With Money.

HOUSTON, May 6.—A bold daylight robbery of a woman in her own home was reported to police by the victim, Mrs. H. J. Lyon, 1503 Taum avenue, at 5 p. m. Wednesday.

A youth described as being about 19 years old, boldly entered the back door of the Lyon residence. She reported to police that she was forced to walk backward through the house to her bedroom and took 12.

PRAISE FOR VAN SWERINGEN.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—(AP)—An endorsement of the Nickel Plate railroad merger project, coupled with high praise for O. P. and M. J. Van Sweringen, the individuals most active in its promotion, was expressed before the interstate commerce commission hearings today by Richard F. Grant, president of the United States chamber of commerce.

Shepherd's Wife Avows Belief

William D. Shepherd, accused of the murder of his foster-son, William McClintock, orphan Chicago millionaire, and the boy's mother, knows that his wife still has faith in him. She has been seeing him at every opportunity to tell him of her confidence in the outcome of the case. She is seen leaving the Chicago jail with Robert H. Stoll, Shepherd's law partner, who is a member of the defense counsel.

SPRING STYLES IN AUTOS OUT ON VIEW TODAY

Automotive Association Is All Ready for Big Display

Twenty-eight different models of automobiles, representing approximately $500,000 in cars will be on display beginning at noon today and lasting through Saturday, in what dealers claim will be the biggest spring automobile show ever held in Wichita Falls. Over 100 cars will be on display in the new W. J. Nolen building, 1009 Scott street.

Decorating Building.

Workmen were busy late last night decorating the building, while still others were polishing up the already glistening cars, only a few of which will be installed before this morning. Some of the cars were already in place and stalls were being made for the rest.

The show will be the most beautiful yet held here, according to Lloyd Weaver, president of the Automotive Dealers' association, under whose auspices the display is being held. All the latest models of autos will be on exhibit during the next three days. The natural beauty of the cars will be enhanced by the varied decorations of the interior of the building.

Salesmen Present.

C. H. Nolen, chairman of the show committee announced that in conjunction with the show special demonstrators will be present to show off hidden points of the machines. A special display will also be held of all auto accessories and mechanical features.

Souvenirs of flowers will be presented by many of the dealers to all women attending the exhibit. Folders explaining the merits of each car have arrived and are ready for distribution. Admission is free.

The different mkase of cars that will be on exhibit, in all their different models are: Buick, Cadillac, Chevrolet, Chrysler, Dodge, Durant, Essex, Ford, Franklin, Gardner, Hudson, Hupmobile, Lincoln, Marmon, Maxwell, Moon, Nash, Oakland, Oldsmobile, Overland, Packard, Pierce-Arrow, Reo, Rickenbacker, Rollin, Star, Studebaker, Willys-Knight.

WHITE NAMED HEAD OF M. E. JUNIOR BOARD

Stewards Elect Officers At Banquet of Senior Men

Harold White was elected president of the Junior board of stewards of the First Methodist church at an election of officers held Wednesday night in the Wichita club. Other officers elected are: Wallace Bright, vice president; Horace Downing, secretary, and Duncan Clark, treasurer.

The business session followed a four-course banquet given in honor of the junior board members by the senior board of the church.

Prior to the election of officers, Carlton Bowman sang a baritone solo, "Shipmaster" and responded with "God Bless You Sweetheart." Lee Irwin accompanied him on the piano. George Carden gave several amusing negro dialect readings and Raybon Porter, playing his own accompainment, gave several vocal numbers.

Martin Speaks.

N. H. Martin, president of the senior board of stewards, Dr. Walter J. Johnson, pastor of the church, W. W. Silk, Wallace Bright, Rev. F. M. Richardson and Guy Railey were on the program.

A standing vote of thanks was given the retiring officers headed by E. R. Highfill, former president of the board.

Covers were laid for thirty. Those present were: Rev. F. M. Richardson, Rev. Walter J. Johnson, and Messrs. W. W. Silk, N. H. Martin, Guy Railey, J. D. Pinkston, associate pastor, Raybon Porter, educational director of the church, F. M. Hansen, E. R. Highfill, Kingsley Davis, Homer Doke, Marshall Doke, John Allen, Bill Kerr, George Carden, Horace Downing, Gerald Downing, Duncan Clark, Jack Martin, Gerald Vinson, Wallace Bright, W. R. McClure, Gerrard Boone, Richard Warman, A. A. Orford, James Williams, George Sibert, John Warren, and H. B. White.

"GROOMS" GET HIT HARD.

Mock Marriages Call for Treats In Cinco de Mayo Celebration.

DEL RIO, May 6.—At a Cinco de Mayo celebration in Villa Acuna, Tuesday night, all saloons in the town were closed and beer was sold on the plaza for the benefit of the schools and churches. As the festivities increased young girls were brought out and mock marriages were held and the groom was compelled to buy beer for the crowd. Many American visitors were caught in the trap and it was reported today that they were hard put for explanations to their wives when they returned home.

AMARILLO GETS WEST TEXAS C C 1926 MEETING

Panhandle City Wins Out In Spirited Fight Thursday

CONVENTION CLOSES

R. Q. Lee of Cisco Is Elected President at Final Session

MINERAL WELLS, May 6.—(A. P.)—The seventh annual convention of the West Texas chamber of commerce closed here this afternoon in an outburst of enthusiasm with the selection of Amarillo as next year's meeting place and election of R. Q. Lee of Cisco as president succeeding Colonel C. C. Walsh of San Angelo.

Amarillo defeated San Antonio, Abilene and Metcalf Gap for the honor of the 1926 convention. Abilene, though nominated, cast its vote for the Panhandle city and before the voting had been completed San Antonio voted to make it unanimous for Amarillo. The voting then ceased.

Rain No Damper

Neither a three inch rain nor the demonstration yesterday, which consumed large quantities of energy, could, in the slightest, check the rousing spirit in which the last session of the convention was held.

The afternoon session opened with a storm of noise, a dozen bands, trying to uphold the glory of a competing city, burst loose in the convention simultaneously. It was a contest of endurance, with lung capacity playing the deciding factor, as the brass horns blazed forth for a wild half hour. Amarillo's band glared, San Antonio's and Abilene's bands answered, while the Old Grey Mare from Brownwood stalked, frightened down the aisles.

Every attempt of Colonel Walsh to start the meeting only roused afresh the pandemonium of the bands, until through sheer weariness the convention subdued into a semblance of order.

George Sanders of San Antonio, president of the Oil Trail Drivers' association, spoke on the work of the association and asked support for construction of a monument to Oil Trail Drivers in San Antonio.

Wichita Bid Presented

Rev. Milo Atkinson of Wichita Falls, invited the organization to come to this city in 1917. New vice presidents and directors were introduced as were Porter Whaley, manager, and Homer D. Wade, assistant manager.

The following were announced as winners of the band contest:

Former official band class: Weatherford, $400.

Five year class: (Bands: Bands organized five years) Colorado, $440; Plainview $250.

Four year class: Stamford $300; 111th Medical band, Fort Worth, $175; Bandmasters association band, $75.

Three year class: Anson, $200; Comanche, $100; Texas Band Teachers association $50.

College class: North Texas Agricultural college, Arlington, $300; John Tarleton, Stephenville, $125.

High school class: Whitney, $125; Breckenridge, $75.

Breckenridge received a silver loving cup for the best decorated float in the parade, Decatur Baptist college, and Weatherford winning honorable mention.

A similar cup for the best decorated automobile went to Spur, Plainview and Brownwood getting honorable mention.

Resolution adopted called for state regulation of motor bus lines, placing them on a parity with railroads, establishment of a department by the organization devoting its efforts to better agriculture in West Texas; encouragement of textile mills; repeal of the law compelling railroads to give claims priority before being released from receivership; a more liberal appropriation for state experimental stations; oppose manufacture of carbon black from natural gas; ask for a system that will give equality of taxation commend board of water engineers, reclamation department, and U. S. geological survey; tariff protection for cotton seed and peanut products, sheep, goats, cattle and other farm products; repeal of the law compelling Mexican immigrants to pay a bonus for entrance into the country during harvesting season; recommend cutting up the large ranches in farms; extension of the county agent work and other co-operative agencies; commend the present national defense act; point with pride to the Texas Technological college being built at Lubbock; urge support for the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railroad, and support for state park.

Official Personnel.

Vice-presidents and directors of the chamber elected are W. D. Cline, Wichita Falls; William Osche, San Antonio; A. F. Dugan, Littlefield; M. K. Graham, Graham; J. A. Wheat, Seymour; R. W. Haynie, Abilene; Rufus Wright, Sweetwater; Dr. P. C. Coleman, Colorado; L. E. Eastland, Breckenridge; A. B. Spencer, Fort Worth; W. W. Rix, Big Springs; Hardy Grisson, Haskell; R. L. Penick, Stamford; Houston Harte, San Angelo; S. W. Posey, Lubbock; Leon Shields, Coleman; F. W. Greber, Brownwood; A. M. Bourland, Vernon; W. R. Chancellor, Midland, and O. F. Thrane, Snyder.

New directors are: J. J. Murphy, Crosbyton; Percy Ralls, Dallas; Joe H. Smakelford, Cross Plains; J. E. Bell, Fredericksburg; George Sager, Memphis; V. A. Robinson, Post; Ernst O. Thompson, Amarillo; J. E. Thompson, Breckenridge; C. S. Guinn, Dalhart; William Massey, Ft. Worth; Joe Weaver, Eastland; Dan D. Moore, Ft. Worth; Sydney Webb, Mineral Wells; Amon G. Carter, Ft. Worth; Ralph G. Erwin, Ballinger; Clifford B. Jones, Spur; B. S. Huey, Cisco; C. C. Walsh, San Angelo; Eugene Prescott, Kerrville; Seth Holeman, Hereford; Fred W. Turner, Santa Anna; W. A. Moore, Llano; A. H. Brittain, Wichita Falls; P. A. Rogers, Wichita Falls; Nat Goldsmith, San

Piggly-Wiggly President Quiets Rumor That He Is To Sell Local Chain

Rumors prevailing here for some time to the effect that C. S. Wyatt, president of the Piggly-Wiggly corporation here and operater of the eight Piggly Wiggly stores in Wichita Falls was soon to dispose of his interests and leave the city re quited Wednesday by Mr. Wyatt himself when he declared his intention of remaining here and conducting the Piggly Wiggly business on the progressive scale that has characterized his operations heretofore.

Negotiations were at one time under way between Mr. Wyatt and a syndicate of Fort Worth men anxious to acquire control of the Piggly Wiggly chain in this city. He was prompted to consider disposition of his holdings by a break in health which for a time appeared serious. He has since, however, greatly improved and now the matter of a sale has been definitely dropped. This was done, it is understood, at the request of Mrs. Wyatt.

C. S. WYATT.

Dinner To Be Regular Meeting Of Rotary Thursday

Instead of the regular noon day luncheon Thursday at the Kemp hotel, members of the Rotary club will meet at the Wichita Falls Golf and Country club Thursday evening at 7 p. m. for a diner dance and the installation of new officers.

The names of the officers, chosen last Thursday by the board of directors, have been kept secret from the remainder of the membership and will be announced for the first time Thursday evening. Retiring President C. U. Daniels will act as toastmaster at the dinner and the program includes a talk by A. E. Myles, one by Walter Cline, musical numbers by Mesdames C. Y. Tully, W. M. Priddy and J. S. Pitman, with a feature number, "A Search for Hidden Treasure." Dancing will start with a grand march followed by a set of old fashioned Virginia reel, with Orville Bullington as fiddler.

Members are requested to drive down Pearl street four blocks east of Brook, turn to the right on the road past the old Country club, to Speedway, and then west to the Country club entrance, because of the impassibility of Speedway and Brook streets at present.

Wichita K. P.'s Hosts To District Lodges

Wichita Falls Knights of Pythias Pioneer lodge No. 49 was host to district members Tuesday night in the lodge rooms, corner Ninth and Travis streets. Over a hundred delegates were in attendance from Electra, Henrietta, Burkburnett and Iowa Park.

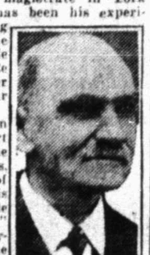

John F. Marrs, local attorney, made the address of welcome to the delegation which he welcomed to this city, hoping they would see fit to be guests of the local chapter at some future date.

W. R. Arnold of Iowa Park returned the welcoming speech. He was followed by excellent talks on the lodge activities by several members of the lodges, including A. D. Butcher of Iowa Park, John Bradley of Henrietta and C. P. Engleking of Electra.

One candidate was present from Henrietta and took the rank of "page." Some other lodge business was disposed of, including a report to be sent to the grand lodge at Brownwood this month.

Plans were discussed for a drive to obtain the Wichita county quota of funds for the support of the K. P. Orphans Home at Weatherford.

JACOB STAGER

YORK, Pa., May 6.—Jacob Stager, for 39 years a magistrate in York courts, says it has been his experience that during the full of the moon more people get into trouble than at any other time in the lunar month.

When the moon is full his court room is the same way, he observes, and in the dark of the moon there is quite a perceptible lull in "business."

"I'm not superstitious," avers the magistrate, "but my records will show that there are more fights, more cases of drunkenness and more trouble in the full of the moon than at any other time."

stood, in the face of a substantial bonus offered the local man by Fort Worth capitalists for the privilege of acquiring control of the Wichita Falls Piggly Wiggly stores.

In connection with Mr. Wyatt's announcement Wednesday that he intended remaining in Wichita Falls it was learned that sales of the eight stores controlled by him led all Piggly Wiggly chains in the United States in April sales, figuring, of course, on a comparative unit basis.

A belief that Wichita Falls was destined for one of its most progressive business years and a statement that he wished to be on hand to share with other merchants in the legitimate growth of his institutions was expressed by Mr. Wyatt in commenting on his determination to "stick it out in Wichita Falls."

Mr. Wyatt's avowal of continuation in the city set at rest reports that had been gaining widespread scope this week.

Charges Are Filed Against Companion Of Slain Burk Man

ELECTRA, May 6. — Charges of robbery with firearms with a bond set at $7,500 were filed here today against C. A. Graham, companion of M. R. Henning who was shot and killed last night while attempting to make his escape from officers who sought to arrest him. With the filing of the charges the statement was made by County Attorney Wayne B. Somerville that only one count of five possible charges was being taken up against Graham at this time.

Graham was arrested shortly before midnight Tuesday as he was attempting to make his way across a cotton patch after his companion, Henning, had been shot at the wheel of the automobile they were driving.

Following Graham's arrest four gold watches, about $8 in change, a Smith and Wesson revolver in bad mechanical condition and unloaded, and a toy pipe which looked like a pistol were taken from him and the body of Henning.

The arrest of Graham and the shooting of Henning came as the aftermath to a series of holdups which had been staged early in the evening by two men alleged to be driving a Star touring car. Officer Roy Macey located a car answering the description given to him and ordered it to halt. It gathered speed at the command and the officer shot, the bullet striking Henning in the back and causing a wound from which the man died an hour later.

Three of the hold-up victims positively identified Graham and Henning as the men who held them up.

The body of Henning will be brought to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Henning in the southeastern part of Burkburnett some time Thursday.

Burial will take place later in the Burkburnett cemetery.

Mrs. M. C. White Funeral Thursday

Funeral services for Mrs. M. C. White, 84, one of the oldest Wichita county pioneers, who died at her home, 901 Burnett street, Tuesday night after a short illness, will be held this afternoon from the Central Presbyterian church at 2 o'clock with the Rev. Nat F. Grafton officiating.

Friday morning the body will be shipped to the old family home, Montague, for interment, by the Merkle undertaking company.

Mrs. White came to Wichita Falls with her husband in 1887. Mr. White purchased a wholesale grocery house which he managed until his death in 1896. Mrs. White was active in civic clubs for many years prior to her death.

She is survived by four children from her first marriage: J. D. Avis of this city, F. M. Avis of Imperial Valley, Mrs. S. H. Hodges of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Mary Palmer of Hereford, Texas. She also leaves one sister, Mrs. Polly Boohaw of Montague.

Pall bearers for the funeral services here will be E. P. Dave, Jack Avis, Robert Avis, Houston Hodges and W. U. McCutcheon.

Methodist Bishops Adopt Budget Of $1,400,000 for Year

NASHVILLE, May 6. — With the election of two treasurers, the acceptance of a budget of $1,400,000 as a monument appropriation for missionary work for 1926 and the holding of a night session honoring the memory of the missionaries who have died since the last annual meeting, the board of missions, Methodist Episcopal church, south, rounded out a heavy day's work.

It was considered probable that the business of the board would be completed tomorrow when administrative secretaries, bishops in charge and missionaries will report on the work in the Latin-American fields to be followed by a meeting of the centenary commission. The leaders today concluded reports on the Oriental fields.

The election of J. F. Rawls of Suffolk, Va., as treasurer of the board fills a vacancy caused by the death of J. D. Hamilton of Nashville.

Mrs. Ina Davis Fulton of Sherman, Texas, was elected to succeed Mrs. F. H. E. Ross, Nashville, resigned, treasurer of the woman's department of the board, effective July 1.

The board set December 10 as the date for a special meeting, when the budget appropriations tentatively agreed upon today, contingent upon the response from the church-wide appeals for missions will be alloted to the respective fields of mission work.

The tentative budget carries a church-wide appeal of $750,000 for missions and of this amount $510,000 is the monument sum required to complete the $1,400,000 budget. The suggestion of the estimate committee as to the basis of appropriations provides a total of $1,015,115.04 for foreign mission work and $329,831.57 for the department of home missions.

Lemon Juice Whitens Skin

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a quarter-pint of the most wonderful skin whitener, freshener and beautifier.

Massage this exquisitely fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It cannot be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.—Adv.

Music Provides Good Optimists Program

Members of the Optimist club were entertained Wednesday at their weekly luncheon with a musical program.

Miss Katherine Kilander, the only member of "the fairer sex" who belongs to the Optimist club, played one of the numbers which she will give at her recital Friday evening at the Junior college, by the request of Rev. Leslie Miller. George Carden, reader, gave several negro dialect numbers and Rev. Miller sang "My Wild Irish Rose" with the club singing with him on the course and "For You Alone."

Solon R. Featherston, vice-president of the club, in the absence of the president, Bert King, presided over the meeting. Three new members, Marvin Rudd, N. Manoushagain and B. B. Craft were introduced to the club.

WOMAN SO ILL WASHED DISHES SITTING DOWN

Mrs. Ashcroft's Remarkable Recovery After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Covington, Ky.—"I was so weak and nervous I could hardly do my housework as I could not stand because of the bearing-down pains in my back and abdomen. I ... down most of the time and did what I could do in that way—as washing dishes, etc. One day a book describing Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine was put in my mail-box. I know how the Vegetable Compound had helped others so I gave it a trial. I had to take about a dozen bottles before I gained my strength but I certainly praise this medicine. Then I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood medicine for poor blood. I was cold all the time. I would be so cold I could hardly sit still and in the palms of my hands there would be drops of sweat. I also used the Sanative Wash and I recommend it also. You may publish this letter and I will gladly answer letters from women and advise my neighbors about these medicines."—Mrs. HARRY ASHCROFT, 632 Beech Avenue, Covington, Kentucky.

Wheeler Well Flowing 60 Bbls. An Hour

Whittington No. 3 Johnston Gets Sand At 2,290

Well is Located About 1,500 Feet From First Producer

Wheeler county has its fourth oil well in the Whittington No. 3, Johnston, about 1,500 feet from the No. 2, the first producer, reported by wire yesterday as flowing about 60 barrels an hour from sand picked up at 2,290 feet.

The well is reckoned, according to yesterday's reports as a 1,500-barrel producer and figured better than the No. 1, which was completed for an initial production of around 500 barrels a day.

Texhoma Oil and Refining company has a rig running about 2,000 feet from the new well. Wheeler county shows about ten operations at present.

News Of The Fields

Consolidated, Bullock

The Consolidated Oil company and J. S. Cosden are shut down below 650 feet in their No. 1, Bullock, southeast corner of the TE&LCO survey, block 336, Bullock land, northeast Young county.

Muse-Cranfill, Lowe

Muse and Cranfill et al. have spudded and are drilling on their No. 2, A. J. Lowe, block 2, Holman survey, Crawford pasture sub-division, 300 feet west of the No. 1, northwest of the Gambrell pool, southwest Archer county.

Simms, Collins

Simms Oil company is drilling below a last reported depth of 1,050 feet carrying ten-inch pipe on their No. 1, Collins located in the northeast corner of the southwest quarter of section 7, H&TCRRCO survey, block 10, north Wilbarger county, 2½ miles south of Odell.

Kentucy, Wilson

The Kentucky Oil corporation's No. 1, Tad Wilson, in the southwest quarter of the Benjamin Howard survey, a half mile southwest of the Waite Phillips Mankins well, northwest Archer county, is a derrick with a rig moving on when the weather permits.

Verschoyle, Bounds

C. H. Verschoyle et al are shut down at 1,192 feet on their No. 1, Bounds, just south of the railroad track on the west edge of the Bounds farm, BBB&CRRCO survey, section 11, abstract 54, north of the Ragle pool, south Archer county. It is expected to start up again in a few days and finish the hole to 1,500 feet.

Holmes et al, Richardson

Holmes-Freeman-Merritt were rigged up and should have spudded yesterday on their No. 1 Richardson, located in the southwest corner of the northwest quarter of section 39, block 15, H&TCRRCO survey, north Wilbarger county.

Simms, Carpenter

The Simms Oil company has spudded and is drilling at about 100 feet on its No. 8-B. Carpenter, TE&LCO survey, block 237, north line of the lease, Kickapoo pool, north Young county. The No. 7-B is drilling at about 650 feet.

The No. 2-A is a location due west of the No. 1-A, swabbing. It is expected to move the rig off of No. 1-A to 2-A sometime today.

Foard County Test

Holmes and Freeman have taken over a drilling contract for a 2,500-foot test on a 5,000 acre block on the Worsham and Wishon ranch west of Crowell, Foard county, and expected to get started soon there. The block is located about three miles south of the Texas company's test, just past the location stage.

With the Murchison and Fain test the prospective hole will give Foard county its third operation of this year.

Bastrop County

BASTROP, Texas, May 6. — The Bastrop locality, Bastrop, Texas, will soon have four operations, a survey, at the end of the past week shows.

Donald Clark No. 1, Milly Hicks, twelve miles northwest of Bastrop has been spudded in drilling.

A derrick is being erected on the Glover tract near Otis, twelve miles southwest of Bastrop.

Machinery is en route to the W. C. Sinkkan No. 1, Calvin Coal company, four miles north of Bastrop, well to be spudded by May 10.

A contract has been signed for a test on the Spoon farm, eight miles west of Bastrop, and another test is known to be prospective for a location within five miles of Bastrop.

Burns, Turberville

Lester T Burns was rigged up and expected to spud yesterday on his No. 1 Turberville, in the center of quarter section 24, Jefferson county school lands, about two miles southeast of the Major pool.

This is the first of a series of four tests to be drilled here by Burns, three remaining locations being No. 1 Carrie Threet, in the center of block 106, Jefferson county school land, No. 1 Turberville, in the center of block 46, due east of the Major pool, Jefferson county school lands, and No 1 Longley, south half of Joseph Levins survey, east of the Major pool.

This area, due south of Archer City is attracting more than a little attention since the recent developments in the major pool and is getting more than a litile drilling.

March Pipeline Runs Are Million Bbls. In Excess Of Runs During February

Four North Texas Counties Run Nearly 3,000,000 Barrels of Crude Oil.

Four North Texas counties ran 2,197,548 barrels of crude oil through pipelines in March, a report of the Texas railroad commission made public Wednesday shows. Of the counties, Wichita, Archer, Young and Wilbarger, Wichita is credited with first position, largely however because Holliday district figures are included with those of Electra and Burkburnett, actual daily production reports showing Archer to have the lead.

The report credits Wichita county with 1,871,740 barrels of which 694,707 barrels is given to Electra, Archer county, with 578,758 barrels, Young county with 269,050 barrels, and Wilbarger county with 109,586 barrels.

The total runs of the state of Texas exceeded twelve and one-half million barrels. Three counties only exceeded the million barrel mark with the Groesbeck field of Limestone county and the Wortham field of Freestone county the only single pools to top the seven unit figure. Wichita county was third in the list of counties.

The runs show an increase of 1,000,000 barrels over the February figures.

Production of the principle counties in the state other than those already mentioned follows:

| | |
|---|---|
| Limestone | 2,030,050 |
| Freestone | 1,993,151 |
| Brazoria | 390,443 |
| Eastland | 162,655 |
| Harris | 420,530 |
| Hardin | 190,712 |
| Liberty | 987,903 |
| Orange | 307,182 |
| Navarro | 798,751 |
| Reagan | 390,000 |
| Shackleford | 178,329 |
| Stephens | 444,522 |
| Laredo | 115,014 |
| Ranger | 141,829 |
| Jefferson | 36,039 |

Four New Lytton Wells Completed

LOCKHART, Texas, May 6.—Four wells in the new Lockhart oil field were completed Tuesday. They are. Gulf Beaty numbers 4 and 5, each producing 400 barrels: Marland Oil company's No. 5, with 1,500 barrel production; Brownlee et al of Austin, drilling on south end of Beaty tract, with unestimated production. The Brownlee well is south of the proven area. The Grayburg Oil company is bailing its Beaty No. 1, at 1,600 feet and indications are that it will be a good producer. It is the furtherest well west in this field. Riddle well No. 1, drilled by Armstrong Brothers, has a fine showing at 1,100 feet.

Sixty acres of land with two producing wells were bought for $120,000 by the Grayburg Oil company from the United North and South company. The A. T. Caldwell fourteen acre tract and one duster was bought by the Quaker Oil company.

Shackleford County

Phillips Petroleum company's No. 2 Parrish in the northeast quarter of section 47, Blind asylum lands, southwest edge of the Ibex pool, southeastern Shackleford county, made 682 barrels on actual gauge in 24 hours from the sand at 2,090-95 feet up to 7 a. m. yesterday. The well was at first reported as a 2,000-barrel producer.

Its completion is regarded as of more than usual importance to this district, the usual producing level being about 3,600 feet.

Only 26,400 Bbls. Increase in Oil Production Week

American Petroleum Institute Shows Light Oil Decrease

NEW YORK, May 6.—The daily average gross crude oil production in the United States increased 26,400 barrels for the week ended May 2, totaling 2,182,850 the American Petroleum Institute announced today. The daily average production of Smackover, Ark., heavy oil field increased 28,000 barrels during the week. The daily average production excluding Smackover heavy, decreased 1,600 barrels. The daily average production east of California was 1,586,850 barrels an increase of 27,400. California production was 596,000, a decrease of 1,000.

Oklahoma shows a daily average production of 447,350 barrels a decrease of 10,350; Kansas 89,450, an increase of 1,650; North Texas 90,750 an increase of 750; East Central Texas 132,600, a decrease of 5,100; West Central Texas 72,550, an increase of 6,300; North Louisiana 52,150, an increase of 1,350; Arkansas 355,500, an increase of 27,350; Gulf Coast 103,000, an increase of 1,850; Southwestern Texas 48,650, an increase of 1,400; eastern 103,000, an increase of 1,000; Wyoming, Montana and Colorado 91,850, an increase of 1,200.

Daily average imports of petroleum at principal ports for April were 203,633 barrels compared with 240,484 for March, and for the week ended May 2, 188,715 barrels compared with 181,714 for the previous week. Daily average receipts of California oil at Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports for April were 90,033 compared with 105,161 for March, and for the week ended may 2, 54,571 barrels compared with 108,572 for the previous week.

No changes were reported in crude oil prices for the major districts; Mid-Continent oils are quoted at $1.35 to $2.35 a barrel according to the gravity of the oil. Pennsylvania crude, Bradford district, is quoted at $3.40 a barrel; all other grades at $3.20. Gulf Coast crude, grade "A" is quoted at $1.75; grade "A" at $1.50. California prices range from $1.25 to $2.40, according to the gravity of the oil.

Silkwood-Brashear

Silkwood and Brashear were shut down yesterday at a depth of 1,870 feet on their No. 1. Fasset and Tuttle, located in the northwest corner of the west eighty acres of the Fasset and Tuttle farm, southwest of Iowa Park, Wichita county. The hole is drilling at that depth but will probably be carried deeper.

Texhoma-Holmes, Flanicken

Texhoma Oil and Refining company and Holmes were drilling yesterday below a last reported depth of 1,485 feet in lime i ntheir No. 1, Flanicken, in the northeast corner of the southwest quarter of section 5, block 16, H&TCRRCO survey, a mile northeast of Tolbert, north Wilbarger county.

Premiums In Disguise Are Sooners' Lot

Small Buyers Take Low Gravity Crude at High Figure

TULSA, Okla., May 6.—The decline of the light oil fields of Oklahoma has caused the smaller crude oil purchasers to do many things not countenanced by the major buyers. Quite a number are buying oil in the pools that range from 33 to 37 gravity and giving the producer the benefit of a grade higher in gravity. On the books this indicates that no premium is being paid, but actually a 10 to 35 cent premium is being offered.

In eastern Osage county the producers are being offered a 25 cent premium for 38 gravity crude and up by the Pierce Petroleum corporation, which has a modern refinery at Sand Springs to supply with oil.

New Heavy Oil Line For Smackover Area

The Shreveport and El Dorado Pipeline company with extensive connections in Louisiana and Arkansas light oil fields has announced its intention of laying a six-inch line with a 12,000 to 15,000-barrel a day capacity into the heavy oil district at Smackover. The new line will be of great benefit to producers there, the present pipeline capacity of this 300,000-barrel a day field amounting to about 100,000 barrels.

Worthham Daily Loses 1,000 Bbls.

Wortham did 51,000 barrels up to 7 a. m. yesterday morning from between 315 and 320 wells for 24 hours, according to advices from Fort Worth last night. The mark is a new low for the field since it reached its full development, the pool having showed a trifle better than 52,000 barrels from the same number of wells on Monday and Tuesday.

THE PURPOSE AND DIFFICULTIES OF "WAR GAMES."

While the umpires were gathering data to decide the result of the joint army and navy maneuvers in the Hawaiian Islands, Secretary of the Navy Wilbur issued an announcement which sums up the purpose and difficulties of the test, and indeed of all similar tests. Speaking first of the central aim and then of the uncertainties, the secretary says:

"While lessons of the utmost value to the country's defense will be learned from the joint maneuvers in Hawaiian waters, the outcome of any particular phase in itself is not the primary object for holding the maneuvers. The welding of the fleet into a homogeneous unit, the training of personnel, afloat and ashore, under conditions to be met with in actual warfare, and the severe tests to which material is put, are made possible only under those conditions in peace. Such exercises simulating the severe conditions of war, serve to disclose any weakness or deficiencies in the units of the fleet or in the defenses on shore.

"The fact must not be lost sight of that only to a certain degree can war conditions be simulated, and, while the actual operations are the best practical demonstration of what can be done with all the different available units of the American navy, the whole maneuvers are basically theoretical. It naturally follows, then, that the decision of the umpires will be based not only on what the opposing forces actually accomplished, but what actual war experiences show would have been accomplished under identical conditions in a war campaign. It is possible even that no definite decision as to which side won can be reached."

Thus the whole affair is shown to be highly theoretical. Maneuvers are movements rather than combats. Since they are but halting attempts, it is necessary to bring to bear upon them the lessons learned in actual engagements. But this too often complicates one theory with another. It is not always certain that the lesson will apply, and still less is it certain that the course of movements not actually carried out can be foretold and properly gauged.

The lessons learned from the world war in respect of sea fighting were very imperfect, and those learned before that time are now entirely out of date. No major fleet engagement of the war was pressed to a decision. The allies took the offensive with their surface ships, yet their principal objective was to keep the seas open for commerce. Victory was to be won on land and any great sacrifice of ships in aggressive tactics would have been useless—indeed might have proved disastrous, since in case of failure, it would have let the bottled-up enemy out.

But if the great war failed to give any trustworthy indication on sea fighting, it did furnish trustworthy data on the organization and direction of large forces. Because she knew how to mass her fleets in large units, Britain gained the mastery of the sea, and because of France's gigantic military maneuvers that power was able to begin a successful defense on land. The handling of large forces is what our officers need to study. Heretofore, they have had little opportunity for such study, save in the stern and expensive school of actual conflict, for we have always had a very small army in peace time, and, until lately, have not attempted to stage even naval maneuvers on a large scale.

FACT OR PRINCIPLES?

John M. Coulter of the University of Chicago department of botany, addressing the congress of Disciples of Christ, declared, as though disposing of all doubt and discussion: "There is no longer any question as to the fact of evolution. Darwinism, curiously confused with evolution, is simply one of a number of explanations of evolution, most of which have been proposed since Darwin's day."

The "fact" of evolution, that is organic evolution, is supposed to be established by the finding of a great store of remains of extinct species, by similarities of structure and function of existing species, and by the logical inference that the gaps in the record which remain to be filled have, as a matter of course, been filled. All this, however, does not absolutely establish evolution in the strict scientific sense; it merely creates a strong presumption of its truth.

Distinction must be made between those theories which scientists believe in and those which they can substantiate with facts drawn from their own particular departments of investigation. Evolution is universally acclaimed by scientists, but it is nowhere demonstrated. The more it gains in probability, the less it becomes susceptible of proof. It gains in general character and loses in that particularity which would give it a place in a separate department of its own where it could be supported by competent data. Each scientist may believe in it implicitly, yet he is forced to put it aside in conducting his experiments, and content himself with the less inspiring but more tangible standards developed in his special branch of knowledge.

Thus evolution may rule supreme in the realm of theory without reaching that point at which it is absolutely probable. It may be an undisputed fact to the scientific theorist, but it is not so to the practical investigator, except in the case of the investigator of fossil remains. The truth is that evolution is a great generalization which has not yet reached the stage of adequate explanation. Since science is "partly organized knowledge," as Herbert Spencer said, nothing is really established in science so long as it defies explanation.

Evolution is in a state almost as nebulous as that of the theory of falling bodies before Sir Isaac Newton developed the law of gravitation. "Almost" is said advisedly, because Charles Darwin attempted a scientific development of organic evolution. But his efforts, as evolutionists concede, did not prove wholly successful. Subsequent theories have proved even less successful. Darwin remains the great evolutionist and all his followers base their claims upon his achievements, directly or indirectly. Since those achievements are admitted to have been faulty it is inevitable that all subsequent ones are even more faulty. Therefore, evolution remains more or less a riddle, and until it has been satisfactorily explained it is idle for special pleaders to treat it as an established dogma.

THE CROSS-WORD PUZZLE.

A new book by a man named Foster lies upon my desk. Foster has invented a new kind of cross-word puzzle.

I have several books of cross-word puzzles that have been sent to me.

Every day when I pick up a newspaper I see cross-word puzzles as an established part of the daily pabulum for the common people.

The cross-word puzzle seems to have taken the country. It is said that more than 200 periodicals devoted to the subject have existed in the United States. It has become a sort of fad from which few people are exempted.

There is much to be said in its favor. Cross-word puzzles improve the vocabulary. They develop concentration and agility of mind.

Balmar, the famous cross-word puzzle composer in his day, says, "The constant use of the dictionary, frequent search for proper synonyms, study of the derivation and construction of words, logical habits of deduction and the ability to intuitively grasp an author's hidden meaning, develop an intimate acquaintance with the English language that steadily enriches one's vocabulary as can no other means of study."

The cross-word puzzle is nothing but an easy form of word square. Whereas, in the word square, all words are interlocking, in the cross-word puzzle such interlocks are but few. The constructor saves himself the trouble of thinking out a number of words of the same letters by introducing blank spaces.

One sign of a ready command of the English language is an ability to say the same thing in other words. And the proof of one's mastery of the tongue is that he can think of a short word and a sound Anglo-Saxon word in preference to a long and Latin word. In the days of Dana of the New York Sun, the word "commence" was taboo. The word "begin" should be used instead.

As an exercise in mental agility, the cross-word puzzle fad has been a good thing. It is impossible to see any harm it can do, except, perhaps, that it can take too much time from other and more necessary pursuits.

But the people must have some form of play, and a cross-word puzzle is infinitely preferable to checkers, chess and other games of chance. It calls for resourcefulness, agility, and the ability of one mind to penetrate the activities of another.

It will be found in real life that success does not depend upon one's logical equipment, but upon his combination of resourcefulness and luck. He must be able to think quickly and accurately, rather than be able to think logically in a straight line.

As a "cos ingeniorum," or whetstone for the wits, the cross-word puzzle is invaluable. The solution is not dependent upon skill of hand, nor deftness of touch, nor any other muscular excellence, but upon the powers of the mind alone, and as a mental stimulus it will be welcome.

WHAT HE WOULD DO.

Judge John G. Kates of Camden, in the state of New Jersey, says if he were running a newspaper in that city he would print constructive stories and nothing about crime in Camden.

Yes, and the opposition paper would print the news as its makers found the news and all the people of Camden who read newspapers would buy the paper that printed all the news and the judge and his newspaper would go to the financial deminition bow-wows. This would be what would happen to the judge.

Uncommon Sense

By JOHN BLAKE.

The Unconquered Sea.

One often hears:

"When man has conquered the skies, as he is rapidly doing, his mastery of the earth will be complete."

But man has not conquered the sea.

And not in the life time of anyone now living is he likely to conquer it.

Marvellous has been the progress of steam navigation.

Yet only a few weeks ago the captain, crew, and passengers of a great trans-Atlantic steamship were obliged to look on, helpless, while a little freighter, overwhelmed by huge seas, went to the bottom with all on board.

To have tried to launch a life boat among those giant billows would have been like trying to climb Niagara Falls.

Nothing human can live in the seaway piled up by a fifty or sixty-mile gale.

No device known to man is capable of rescuing people who have been hurled into it.

The writer in 1908 was on a substantial slow-going transport which in the Bay of Biscay responded to the call of a vessel in distress.

The vessel, a small freighter, had jammed her steering gear, and while the crew was working frantically to repair it, was tossing about like a feather on seas which were probably much less.

Four times our ship floated a cable down to the little craft, and four times it was caught, carried aboard and made fast.

But as soon as the waves swung one of the tethered ships one way and the other in an opposite direction, the cable snapped like a thread.

There could have been no launching of life boats. A life raft, had it been put over would have been swiftly carried beyond the reach of any men in the water.

It looked like an impending tragedy, for the smaller boat seemed to be filling, and it was impossible, without a rudder to keep, her head into the sea.

Fortunately the steering gear was repaired in a short while, and she went safely on her way.

But that experience convinced those on board our vessel that man is but a puny creature when he goes down to the sea, even in the biggest ships, and that a great deal of thought and engineering experience must be expended before the sea is safe.

But the thing will be done. If indeed, air navigation does not do away with the need of mastering the sea, the time will come when passengers from a sinking ship will be taken safely to another, as they are now in calm weather, thanks to the marvel of the radio.

Men everywhere are working on the problem of making human life safe on land and sea and air. With fine devotion they spend their thought and their time to the solution of problems by which they will never profit, but which will bring a rich reward to people who are to live many years later.

Man is a marvellous creature, and he has done wonders with the world that was given him as an experiment laboratory by a Creator who had no doubts as to what he would do with it in time.

But he still has a great deal of useful and fascinating work to do before the job will have been finished.

Irrigation

INDICATIONS FOR A NEED OF WATER

It is possible for the irrigation farmer to become familiar enough with the appearance of his crops to tell from their color whether or not they are in need of water.

A plant may wil under the influence of the heat of the sun on account of hot winds, but this does not necessarily mean that it needs water. Wilting simply means that the roots are not supplying moisture as fast the leaves are evaporating it.

They may not be able to supply moisture because there is no water in the soil for them to take up, if so, plants need irrigation. Or they may not be able to suppiy water to the leaves fast enough because there are not enough roots. In a healthy plant this is a good thing as it causes more roots to grow and to penetrate deeper into the soil. Of course, wilting may be caused from inspects or disease but this is a different thing from lack of moisture.

Generally plants which are in need of irrigation indicate their condition by turning a darker green. Plants which are dying from lack of water turn yellow and wither.

Just turning yellow does not mean that a crop is in need of water. It is far more often an indication of too much water. Too much water will turn a plant yellow and kill it quicker than with less chance of bringing it back than too little water.

Many an inexperienced farmer has killed his crops by putting on more water on account of them turning yellow, when they already had too much.

While the color of the crop is an indication of its need for water, the most reliable criterion is the moisture content of the soil about the roots

And praised the famous water.

HOW IT STARTED

"On a Wild-Goose Chase.

A search for something that cannot be found, a useless effort, an impossible cause, a hunt for something that will probably not be attained, is spoken of as "a wild-goose chase." The reference to the elusiveness of success in a chase of the wild goose, is of course, obvious. But there is more than that to the story of the phrase.

The modern phrase "on a wild goose chase" owes its origin to a story told of that skillful sportsman, Charles I of England. Charles liked his hunting, and according to the story, a similar fondness on the part of the nobles sometimes interferred with his enjoyment. It irritated the king, on the trail of his quarry, to find other hunting parties beating through the wood and sometimes crossing his path.

On one occasion when he was particularly desirous of getting rid of them, an idea came to him. He published among the nobles an offer of a prize to the one who could capture the greatest number of wild geese. Off they went to the seashore, and the king had the woods to himself!

And so thought the object is not literally wild geese, a not unfamiliar method of getting rid of a nuisance today is to send her "on a wild goose chase."

What Today Means To You

The excellent planetary aspects that existed last evening continue in full force until the late afternoon of today, and will serve as a stimulus to aggressive effort and constructive or original endeavor. They are not only propitious for all ordinary commercial undertaking, but augur success for real estate or mining enterprises. Any well thought out plan, free from speculative risk, can be safely initiated during this period. In the evening, conditions are not quite so favorable, and, whilst they are not adverse, they do counsel an "easing up" in efforts, and the assumption of a less forceful course of conduct.

Normal health promises to be the lot of the child born today, although the indications point to at least one serious illness before the attainment of maturity. The disposition of this child will not be very attractive to those who do not know it well, and it will rather repel than charm, as a result of its absolute candor and open frankness. It promises to be very downright, and will never compromise. In its mind there will never be a middle course—it must be right, or it must be wrong. Although it is, at times, refreshing to find such extremes of opinion in a world where so much "wobbliness" prevails, experience very often dictates a more conciliatory course, and, unless this child is exceptionally gifted with a high degree of intelligence and an unusual amount of moral courage, it will have a hard road to travel.

Is today your birthday? If so, you are clear-sighted and seldom arrive at a false conclusion, although you are not a quick thinker, nor a rapid worker. You are extremely cautious, and are apt to hesitate too much before making up your mind. This does not imply vacillation, but means that you are ultra-deliberative. Your judgment is sound, with shrewdness as its background, but it is often too late to be of much value.

You are ambitious within reasonable limits, and you are able and intelligent. Your lack of speed has often, however, militated against your immediate success.

Your married life should be very pleasant, and you are devoted to your children, who, in their turn, reciprocate your love and affection.

POEMS THAT LIVE

THE BEST

What's the best thing in the world?
June-rose, by Mayldew impearl'd,
Sweet south wind, that means no rain;
Truth not cruel to a friend;
Pleasure, not in haste to end;
Beauty, not self-deck'd and curl'd
Till its pride is over-plain;
Light, that never makes you wink;
Memory, that gives no pain;
Love, when, so, you're loved again.
What's the best thing in the world?
Something out of it, I think.

But we never connected
Her illness with food.

Unfortunate is the liver whose owner discovers it.

Exercise in moderation, when taken in the open air, is constructive and prolongs life. Exercise, involving violent exertions are are destructive and shorten life.

More Truth Than Poetry

YOU NEVER CAN TELL

When school teachers urged upon me,
In many a wearisome word,
That I model my life on the bee—
I always distinctly demurred.
All the means my preceptors made use of to spur
My sluggish and slothful ambition,
If often repeated, were certain to stir
A deep and abiding suspicion.

The bee, I was told, scorned to shirk,
He* toiled eighteen hours a day—
And never neglected his work
For the low recreation called play.
And when in the comb at the end of the year
His treasure of honey was hoarded,
He spent his old age in imbibing good cheer,
And was therefore most richly rewarded.

But the bee, entomologists say,
All their research has lately revealed,
Loafs most of the hours away
That he ought to be forth in the field.
Instead of incessantly doing his stuff
With never a rest or vacation,
He only goes out and gets honey enough
To keep him from death by starvation.

When my school teacher used to extol
The active, industrious bee,
I said in my innermost soul,
"That bug is no model for me!"
But now that I know what an idler he is,
What a shiftless and trivial creature—
I find I have patterned my life upon his,
Exactly as bade by my teacher!

*The writer is aware that the working bee is a female, but gallantry prevents him from referring to it as she in a verse which is somewhat uncomplimentary.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

THE BUSINESS GIRL AND HER BALLROOM FINERY—THE BACHELOR IN LOVE WITH HIS STENOGRAPHER— WHAT TO DO WITH A LAZY HUSBAND?

Dear Dorothy Dix—I am a lawyer and have a girl working for me as stenographer and bookkeeper. So far as her work is concerned, she is perfectly satisfactory, but she does not know how to dress for an office. She comes to work dressed as if she were going to a party. In fact, one time she appeared in such a decidedly evening costume that a client of mine laughingly asked if I were giving a ball in the office.

I feel that this girl in her silly, bedizened clothes detracts from the dignity of a lawyer's office, and I shall have to get rid of her unless she dresses more quietly. So won't you please write something about business girls dsessing suitably? EMPLOYER.

Answer—I have written much on the subject, urging business girls to dress like business girls when they go to work, instead of trying to look like a millionaire's daughter who has dropped in on papa's office or store, for a moment on her way to a reception at Mrs. Million Bucks.

But the working girls didn't take my remarks very kindly, and I received many hot letters from them saying that they never went to parties, and to balls, and receptions, and had no place to wear their finery except the places at which they worked, and that, therefore, they were ging to doll themselves up as much as they pleased for business.

Furthermore, they averred the only place they had to meet men and catch husbands was at their places of business, and so they were justified in putting on all their war paint when they went to the office or store, which was their happy hunting ground.

All of this is true, but the weak point in the argument is that inappropriate dressing is never good dressing, and that chiffons and beads, and no sleeves and low necks, which are ravishing in the evening in a ballroom, are ugly and repulsive by day in a business office.

Certainly the plainer, the more tailor-made and the darker clother that a girl wears at work the better she looks, because she is suitably gowned. A girl with beads and rattling bangles and flimsy finery at work is just as ridiculous looking as a man would be in a swallow tail coat.

Girls do themselves a great injustice by not dressing suitably for business, because if they look silly and frivolous every one believes them to be silly and frivolous. They destroy the confidence of their employer or customerw and get no credit for whatever ability they may have concealed under their bobbed hair and chiffons. There is nothing like looking the part, and if a girl wants to be trusted with important commissions she must at least show that she has sense enough to dress herself properly. You can't climb the ladder of success in high-heeled satin slippers.

Of course, it is a temptation to a girl who has never had any pretty clothes to put all she makes on her back when she gets to earning money, but she must use discretion in what she buys to wear when she works. It is good policy for her to dress well and to look smart and up to date, but she must dress like a successful business woman, not like a society debutante. DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—I am a young bachelor established in business. Recently I employed a young girl as a stenographer, and I have fallen in love with her. Now, Miss Dix, in the office she is a very sensible and sedate little girl, but when I took her out I found that she is a jolly good sport. Though I like to go out and have a good time, I thought I wanted to marry a sedate and sensible girl, but now I find myself more in love with the gay and jolly girl. Do you think this girl will make a good wife and mother? HAPPY.

Answer—Certainly a man is playing in great luck who finds in one and the same individual the girl who comes up to his ideal and who fires his fancy. Generally he has to choose between the two, because it is only once in a blue moon that you find a woman who is both sedate and a jolly good fellow.

I should say that such a one would make an ideal wife and mother. That she is sedate in business hours shows that she has poise and discretion and knows that there is a time and a place for all things. She would not make a pleasure-mad wife, and you could trust her always to conduct herself with dignity and propriety. Being sensible, she would make a good housekeeper and manager, one who would be thrifty, industrious and who would look well after her household, as did the lady in the Bible whose price was above rubies.

Being a good sport, she would not only make a good wife, but a good playmate, and that means much to a man's happiness, as nothing is so depressing as being united to a lady who is a wet blanket on every pleasure.

Chief among the virtues that a wife may possess I count a sense of humor, that keeps a wife from taking her husband too seriously and that enables her to laugh at his weaknesses instead of nagging him about them.

A girl who is at once sedate and sensible, and a jolly good sport, will certainly make a paragon of a wife. Grab her and rush to the altar. DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—My husband is the personification of kindness. He is big and strong, but for three years he has not done any work whatever. My father, having been a very industrious man, left me enough to live on. I pay for the rent and for the food, buy my husband's clothes and have given him money for a business venture, which failed. Although he is so kind and good natured, I feel at times like telling him to take his two trunks, which are his only possessions, and go.

What do you think I should do??

Answer—There is only one chance in the world to make a man of him, and that is to tell him that he must go, and not come back until he is at least self-supporting, that the price of your love is your respect for him and that you cannot respect him as long as he is a parasite upon you.

But if you turn him out of your house the chances are that he will never forgive you and never come back, so before you resort to any such drastic remedy you had better decide whether his kindness and good nature make up for his lack of energy or not. Many women keep husbands as they keep Pomeranians, for household pets.

The problem of the no-account husband is a very difficult one to solve. To an industrious, thrifty woman there is no vice that a man can possibly have which so thoroughly disgusts her and gets upon her nerves as does laziness. To see a big husky man so slothful that he will not make any effort to work fills her with contempt of him, and she writhes with shame at the knowledge that he cannot hold his own with other men, and that he has so little spirit that he is willing to be dependent upon a woman.

But what the wife is to do under such circumstances no one knows. His very weakness makes an appeal to the eternal mother in every woman. She cannot bear to think of his going hungry and cold while she has food and shelter, and so she lacks the courage to throw him out on his own.

But if she keeps on, there is small happiness, because in her heart she despises him, and no man can let a woman support him and keep on loving her. So whichever way you do you will regret DOROTHY DIX.

Society

Mrs. Homer McGregor will head the Mother's Council for next school year, it was decided Wednesday afternoon at the election held at the Junior high school.

Other officers elected were Mrs. J. C. A. Guest, first vice president; Mrs. George Wilson, second vice president and Mrs. J. M. Sheers, treasurer.

This was the last meeting of the school year. Mrs. E. S. Goodner, retiring president, presided. She made a short talk, thanking the mothers for the delightful fellowship and wonderful co-operation they had given her during the time she has headed the organization. She stated that there were two things she had wanted to do while in office but they had been mentioned to her too late and she hoped they might be accomplished next year under the new president. These two things were to organize a Mother's club in the Mexican school and to foster a sing-song once a month at the North Side Community house.

Mrs. Lee a Guest.

Mrs. J. W. Lee, who is visiting here en route to her home in Long Beach after having attended the national convention of mothers held at Austin last week was a guest at the meeting and made a short talk. Mrs. Lee, who has been living in California for four years, resided in Wichita Falls a number of years prior to moving. She told how she with Mrs. D. J. White and Miss Stewart organized the first Mother's club here 15 years ago in what was then known as the Alamo school, which was a small four-room building located on the corner of Tenth and Scott streets. She mentioned the many changes that have occurred since then and how wonderful she thought the accomplishments are.

Mrs. W. Roberts, who was a delegate to the Mother's council made a splendid report on the benefit that she got from her trip. She told of the interesting speeches that were made and the hospitality extended the delegates while there. She stated after returning from the trip she was inspired to keep pushing upward and helping in every way to make the clubs and schools better. She told that Texas is leading in the United States for having the most life membership in the council.

Mrs. Allison Speaks.

Mrs. J. H. Allison, the Mother's council representative to the Business council, made a brief talk explaining how much it meant to the Mother's club to have a representative and how much she was really getting from the council.

Representatives were present from the Mother's club of all of the schools but three. Splendid reports were made for the year's work.

Mrs. William Huff, the treasurer, reported that during the year the club had had $809.55. For the beginning of the next year there will be $77.95 which has been saved this year.

Miss Erma Nalla Voss, supervisor of music in the Austin school, played several piano numbers; Mrs. Fred C. Barron sang the congress Mother's song, "A Little Child Shall Lead;" Mrs. C. B. Haynie, delegate to the district meeting of the Parent-Teacher's association which met in Canadian several weeks ago, made a report and Mrs. Nichols from the Alamo school reported on the cafeteria.

Members of Pieria Club Enjoy Luncheon In Last Meeting Before Summer

Members of the Pieria club enjoyed a delightful party Wednesday when they held their last regular meeting in the form of a luncheon at the Mary Margaret Inn.

The table appointments were beautiful in a pink and green color scheme. The table was centered with a crystal basket filled with Dorothy Perkins roses and ferns. From the handle pink ribbons were tied which extended to each plate. To the end of each streamer was a miniature basket filled with roses. These appointments were sen to the club by Miss Helen Bengston of Boston, who is the corresponding member of the club. The crystal candle holders with pink candles were used effectively in the decorations. The place cards and nut cups were made in the shape of roses and here hand painted.

Mrs. Parks At Head.

Mrs. A. C. Parks, retiring president, was toastmistress. She made a brief talk to the club, telling of her appreciation for the many kindnesses shown during the time she has been the president. Mrs. J. C. A. Railey led the devotional. Mrs. Edwin Bebb gave a humorous burlesque of "A Peep Into the Future for the Club." Mrs. Ernest Westmoreland toasted the husbands of the members and Mrs. Chester Pugh gave a toast to the program committee. Mrs. A. C. Dulaney read a letter from Mrs. C. M. Richardson who has recently moved to Plainview, which was written in rememberance of the occassion.

Mrs. A. B. Duncan toasted the new officers and Miss Clara Shultz, the newly elected president for next year, responded. Mrs. Chester Pugh presented Mrs. A. C. Parks with a beautiful box of handkerchiefs as a token of appreciation for her work done during the year. She responded graciously. Mrs. A. C. Dulaney toasted the absent members.

Regular Study.

Following the luncheon and the toasts the last regular study course was discussed. Mrs. G. T. Drinkard talked on "Curative Power of Music"; Miss Vivian Railey discussed "Selections and Interpretations from Schumann and Schubert"; Miss Mabel Drinkard played several piano solos and Miss Vivian Railey, accompanied by Mrs. Edwin Bebb, gave several violin numbers.

The officers for the new year were installed, Mrs. J. E. H. Railey conducting the ceremony.

Those who enjoyed the pretty affair were Mesdames Edwin Bebb, Kenneth Bebb, John T. Carter, G. T. Drinkard, A. C. Dulaney, A. B. Duncan, O. T. Gorsline, A. Hallman, F. O. Harrell, Earle Jameson, A. # Joe Denton Returns For Ten Rounder With Clyde Hull Next Week

CLASSY JOE POURS IT ON HARRY RYAN

Farewell Scrap for Hull Who Plans Tour North

BATTLE IN OPEN AIR

Legion to Build New and Spacious Indoor Arena.

By BLOND CROSS

Joe Denton, classy Joe, the battler who possibly has won more popularity in Wichita Falls than any other glovester by his ever willingness to mix it and his clean carriage in the ring, is coming back. Joe Denton, the speedster, after more than a six-months absence from Wichita Falls cauliflower circles, will return next week for a ten-rounder with Clyde Hull, the clever St. Paul miller, announces Legion Promoter Wofford.

New Arena Big.

The bout will be held in the open air, the first legal outdoor scrap of the year for Wichita Falls. Work was to have begun Wednesday on the new Legion arena at Eleventh and Ohio, but Jupe Pluve stepped in and crumbed the deal. Weather permitting, construction will begin today, according to Wofford. The new arena is to be situated just across the street and one block down from the lot on which it was located last summer. Larger and better seating capacity will be the aim of the Legion in the new structure, said the promoter. Fact is, the arena is to be almost twice as large as that of 1924.

The return of Denton is expected to cause a pleasant ripple in the Wichita Falls sporting fraternity, for there never was a boxer who ever staged any cleaner cut fight than did Amarillo Joe in his bouts of last summer here.

Fights Fast Boy.

Denton is picking a fast and mighty clever lad for his first return bout in this city, but many of the closer followers of the game aver the Legion has not gone wrong in matching him with Hull. Hull, by the way, will be staging his farewell scrap. He plans a series of bouts in Oklahoma, and then a trek back north.

Denton, it will be remembered, stumbled into a bunch of tough luck last summer and during the course of a bout had his jaw broken. The injury has healed up, and he has already put on a number of bouts.

Joe's most recent fling at the squarred circle game was a severe lacing he gave Dago Ryan in Dallas. Wichita Falls fandom fully realizes that Ryan is a tough boy for anybody to beat, but according to Dallas newspapers, the Dallas Wop was licked from gong to gong in a slam bang affair.

It is more than likely that the weekly fight nights of the Legion will be changed from Thursday to Friday. However, it is not definitely decided whether the pending embroglio will be on Thursday or the following day, said Wofford.

ILLINOIS ASSEMBLY CHEERS FIGHT BILL WHILE IT PASSES

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., May 6.—Marked by the greatest outburst of applause this general assembly has yet afforded the house today passed the Green boxing bill by a vote of 96 to 41.

The unusual demonstration came when Mrs. Rena Elrod, Chicago, cast her vote for the measure. The other two women members voted against it. A huge bouquet of flowers was presented to Mrs. Elrod by advocates of the bill as an indication, they said, of their gratitude for her stand for clean sport in Illinois.

This bill would provide a boxing commission of three members to be appointed by the governor to control the sport. It is similar to the New York law and legalizes ten-round bouts to a decision, but excludes from its provisions amateur bouts and exhibitions for which the performers receive no prizes or compensation.

STEP ALONG WINNER

LEXINGTON, Ky., May 6.—Step Along, Fred M. Grabner's chestnut colt won the Blue Grass stakes here today with Broadway Jones finishing second and Bill Strap third. The time was 1:51 3-5. All three are entered in the Kentucky derby May 16.

SEVEN CREWS ENTER COLLEGIATE REGATTA

NEW YORK, May 6.—Seven varsity crews, one more than last year, will compete in the intercollegiate regatta on the Hudson river at Poughkeepsie June 22, the board of stewards of the Intercollegiate Rowing association announced today. Records officially closed today with the receipt of varsity and freshman entries from the University of Wisconsin. Five crews will start in each of the junior varsity and freshman events.

Pennsylvania, Cornell, Syracuse, Columbia, Navy, Wisconsin and Washington will compete in the varsity event. Pennsylvania, Cornell and Columbia have competed in every intercollegiate regatta since the organization in 1895, of the association.

Wisconsin rowed its first race in 1898, while Syracuse joined the quartet in 1901.

Dark Horses Hustle Out In Derby Trials

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 6.—Dark horses came to light in the derby trials here today nominees for the $50,000 race May 16 being sent at a fast clip over short distances. A number of eligibles for the fifth renewal of the $10,000 Clark handicap, feature on opening day next Saturday, also were put through the paces. Several derby candidates are probable starters in this race.

The most pretentious move of derby eligibles came from Abstract who, with his stablemate, Annihilator was sent on a fast breeze. The Anderson and Kendle colts stepped the quarter together in 23 4-5, half in 48 2-5 and three-quarters in 1:13. Here Annihilator began to fall back and Abstract went the mile in 1:42, a very creditable work for the track.

Cup Bearer, the G. C. Quinby eligible breezed five-eighth in 1:04. This colt does not extend himself in his trials and can do better with colors up.

Elsass did a good move when he stepped three-quarters in 1:18 3-5 and galloped out the mile in 1:46 1-5. Russell Cave showed a good three-quarters in 1:16. Boon companion breezed a fast half, pulling up at that point in 49 3-5. Pyroot breezed three-ighths in 37 4-5 and Balbec went seven-eighths in 1::36 3-5.

Quatrain and Captain Hal, two of the most likely looking derby colts here were out for long gallops. Captain Hal is considered a probable starter in the Clark Saturday. Quatrain was not named for the event, although Kentucky Cardinal, Lee O. Cotter, boon companion Abstract and Rush among the derby candidates who are eligible for the stakes.

Such popularity must be deserved

THE "man-in-the-street", the "man-in-the-limousine"—men in all walks of life, laugh with Bud Fisher. He draws more smiles, perhaps, than any other cartoonist in America.

Depend upon it, the public recognizes the real thing—whether it's cartoons or cigarettes.

Witness the sustained popularity of Chesterfield cigarettes. Here again men have found the real thing, in better tobaccos, and in richer, milder, more satisfying taste.

Spudders and Shippers In Series' Final This Afternoon

ROB'T OSBORN SKIPPER BUD'S MOUND CHOICE

Crew Benefits Greatly by Enforced Day Of Idleness

BUFFS COME FRIDAY

Waco Here Sunday for 3 Games, Then Bob's Bears

By BLONDY CROSS

With a day's enforced idleness behind them, albeit an idleness that proved a boon to Tanner's crippled Spudder forces, the Spudders and Exporters are all set for the final game of the series at the Harvey plant this afternoon.

Long Bob Osborn, for Wichita Falls, will oppose Stuart Jacobus on the mound. Each hurler is the leader of his pack, and the battle should be a royal one.

Pete and Walt Rest.

The day's layoff, caused by wet grounds, benefitted Tanner's sore-arm mound corps greatly, allowed First Baseman Walt Golvin a recess from playing on his injured ankle, and gave Second Basema Turgeon, another sore-whip gentleman, a much needed rest.

Houston's Buffs will storm the fortress Friday for the first of a two-game attack. Then on Sunday comes Dell Pratt and his Wacoans for a three-day encampment.

Ill Omen for Bruins.

San Antonio's brutal Bear bludgeoners creep up on the fortress next Wednesday. That's May 13, an ill omen indeed for the slugging Bruins on their first tour north after flaying the South Texas entries in the rough and uncouth manner that has been their won't so far this season.

Watch that San Antonio attack melt when it hits Fort Worth and Wichita Falls, were the words of Manager Bud Tanner last night. Santone plays in Dallas today, then invades Shreveport for a pair. After that Bob Coleman's club besieges the Stockyards for a trio. When Skipper Jakie's crew of Cowtowners has finished with the league leaders they come to Spudderville to be polished off.

Then They're Off.

After the San Antonio series at Athletic park, the Tannermen play hosts to the Cats for one day. That's April 16, Saturday after next. This completes the home stand. The Spudders then jump off on the first long road trip of the season, embracing games with Fort Worth, Dallas, Waco, San Antonio, Houston, Beaumont, and Shreveport. Or in other words, the Spudders will visit every park in the league before returning home. The club opens again in Wichita Falls June 1 with Dallas.

Collins Is Last Survivor of Old $100,000 Infield

Stuffy McInnis Also is Left But He Has no Club Now

Bill Stuffy McInnis hooks up with another big league club—if he should do—Eddie Collins stands out as the sole survivor in the big show of that famous old $100,000 infield that carried the Athletics to fame over a decade ago. Frank Baker, third baseman of that old quartet and the originator of the home run equdemic, dropped out of the game in 1922 after a comeback session with the New York Yankees. Jack Barry dropped out before that after managing the Boston Red Sox. He is now baseball coach at Holy Cross and producing future stars for the big leagues. Barry had a chance to manage the Washington Senators last season, it is said now, and turned the opportunity down. If such was the case he wished himself out of a chance to lead a pennant-winning team.

The Collins should outlast all other members o fthat Big Four is interesting in view of the fact that he has played daily during his career. Barry's last years in the big show were spent in a managerial capacity. McInnis during his service with the Indians a few seasons ago, played but part of the time, alternating with Doc Johnston and others. Baker had retired when the Yanks dragged him back.

Meanwhile Collins has played day in and day out with what at times has seemed a hopeless outfit. He played under discouraging conditions generally. The days have been frequent in recent years when no member of the White Sox knew who would be manager of the club when they woke up the next morning.

Collins kept his head up when most members of the Sox were more interested in what was under their pillows than what the box scores showed.

EVOLUTIONER ARRESTED.

Professor in Tennessee Held for Alleged Violation of Law.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 6.—A special dispatch from Dayton, Tenn., says that Professor J. T. Scopes of the science department of Rhea high school was arrested Tuesday charged with violating the Tennessee law prohibiting the teaching of evolution in the state public schools.

MACKS TIED FOR LEAD.

NEW YORK, May 6.—The Yankees fell back into their losing ways today dropping the final game of the series to the Athletics in ten innings, 6 to 2, giving Philadelphia three victories out of four games played. The two-all score was broken in the 10th when Jones weakened, and Bishop, the first batter, hit him for a home run. Before the inning was over, Shocker succeeded Jones in the box and the Athletics had tucked the game away with four runs and five hits. The famous consecutive game record of Everett Scott was cut short at the 1,307th contest when Manager Huggins ordered him to take a rest. Score:

VETERAN SCOTT MISSES CONTEST NUMBER 1308

NEW YORK, May 6.—(AP)—Everett Scott, veteran shortstop of the New York Yankees, broke his long stretch of playing in consecutive games today when he failed to appear in the opening lineup when the Yankees faced the Athletics at Yankee stadium. Previous to today, Scott had appeared in 1307 consecutive games, Starting his string when he was with the Boston Red Sox, June 20, 1916.

The veteran shortstop complained of pains in his leg and Manager Huggins sent Peewee Paul Wanninger, the 20-year-old recruit from the Augusta club of the South Atlantic league to the shortstop position.

Tyrus Wrecks Honus' Mark

Life Time Number of Extra Bases 1,456

DETROIT, May 6.—(AP)—A record that has been engraved on the books since the mighty Honus Wagner laid aside his bat and glove, was erased at St. Louis yesterday and another written by Ty Cobb, when he brought his life time number of extra bases on hits to 1,456. The previous mark, held by the Flying Dutchman of the old Pittsburgh Pirates was 1,448.

Up to yesterday Cobb was two short of Wagner's mark. His batting field day of three home runs, a double and two singles, however added ten more extra bases to his total.

Cobb also equalled an American league record by making four extra base hits in a nine inning game. The National league record is five.

In addition to these performances the tying of the modern major league record of three runs in one game and the unusual, though not unprecedented feat of hitting safely on six consecutive times at bat in a nine inning game, Cobb wrecked half a dozen other marks (all his own).

All together Cobb holds more than a score of records, most of which have not been even approached by other stars of the game.

Waco Steps On Shreveport For 6 to 4 Victory

Sports Use 16 Players In Futile Effort to Stem Defeat

SHREVEPORT, May 6.—Shreveport used 16 players but was unable to check the advance of the Waco Cubs and the visitors won the second game of the series 6 to 4. Gleason, who worked for Waco, was hit hard, but was tight in the pinches. Joubert Davenport, southpaw, made his first appearance of the season, relieving Brewer but only worked one inning, being forced to retire when he turned an ankle running to first base.

WON'T RETIRE--JACK

NEW YORK, May 6—(AP)—Sailing on the Berengaria today with his wife for a five weeks trip to England and France, Jack Dempsey reiterated his assertion that he had no intention of retiring from the ring. He explained that his trip was to be a honeymoon and not for the purpose of promoting his pugilistic career.

Asked whom he regarded as the most formidable heavyweight boxers Dempsey reflected a moment and then said: "Tunney, Gibbons and Willis."

He said his plans for the future were indefinite. "I'll fight or do anything else that's worth while," he asserted.

Too Much H20 Cause 3 Texas Postponements

Spudders Benefit by Day of Rest, Believes Skipper

DALLAS, May 6.—Rain prevented three games in the Texas league today. San Antonio was scheduled to play at Dallas, Houston at Fort Worth and Beaumont at Wichita Falls, but were all rained out. Shreveport and Waco at Shreveport were the only teams to carry out their schedule.

The day of rest gave Skipper Tanner a 24-hour leeway in which to bring his crippled pitching staff around into creditable condition. The layoff makes it possible for Bob Osborn to take the mound this afternoon against the Beaumonters fully rested from his last venture to the hilltop.

Tomorrow, Tanner will use Carl Williams against Houston here, and by the next day expects to send Rip Wheeler to the slab for the Ripper's first 1925 Texas league start. Tanner last night was very optimistic about the chances of Wheeler being fully prepared for action by the hour of the second Houston affray which comes Saturday.

With Wheeler in harness again the Spudders can then boast of four effective hurleds. They are Osborn, Williams, Dick Morgan and the Ripper himself.

SEEK ARMISTIC OF REBELS

LONDON, May 6—Negotiations for an armistice between Emir Ibn Saud, leader of the Wahabi tribesmen, and King Ali of the Hedjaz, beleaguered in Jeddah on the Red sea, by the Wahabi forces, have been initiated here, it was announced this afternoon.

SOVIET OFFICIAL IN JAPAN

First Ambassador Presents His Credentials

TOKIO, May 6.—(AP)—Victor Kopp, first soviet ambassador to Japan, presented his credentials to the prince regent today and was later received in audience by the empress.

No word has been received from Moscow regarding the acceptance of Tokiachi Tanaka, former vice minister of foreign affairs, recently named as Japanese ambassador to Russia, although the foreign office attaches no importance to the delay.

TRANSPORT CAPTAIN FREED.

Fuller Acquitted by Court-Martial of Culpability in Liquor Case.

NORFOLK, Vt., May 6.—Commander D. W. Fuller, commanding the naval transport Beaufort, was acquitted by a court-martial at the naval base here today of all three charges alleging neglect of duty in connection with the finding aboard his ship of 500 quarts of whiskey when it docked here in February.

A New Guide for Motorists!

Texas is a big state. It is also a wonderful state and it offers a variety of attractions to the motorist.

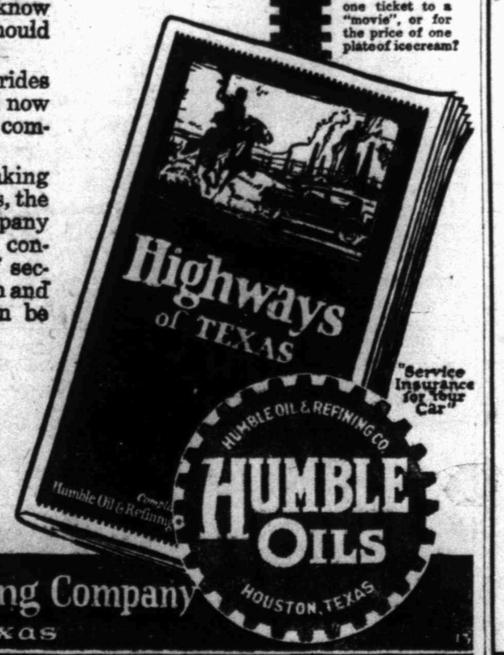

To fully appreciate your own state, you should see and know every section of it. Texans should "See Texas first!"

Texas has made wonderful strides in modern road building, and now smooth highways link every community in the state.

To assist you in always taking the right road in seeing Texas, the Humble Oil & Refining Company has issued a booklet which contains a handy arrangement of sectional maps showing how each and every point in the state can be most easily reached.

Get A Copy Free From Any Humble Dealer

These booklets are being distributed free of charge to their customers by all Humble Dealers. Get your copy. If your dealer's supply is exhausted, write us, giving his name, and we will see that you are furnished a copy immediately.

What greater pleasure can you buy for the price of a gallon of gasoline, which takes your whole family fifteen miles or more, for the cost of one ticket to a "movie", or for the price of one plate of icecream?

8 Victims of Bomb Blast in Pittsburgh Identified Thursday

PITTSBURGH, May 6—(AP)—At the county morgue today Albert J. Jeremiah identified the bodies of eight persons who were killed in an explosion in Swissvale, a suburb, early this morning. All the victims of the blast were his relatives. The bodies were terribly burned and identification in some instances was possibly only by teeth fillings, rings or bits of clothing.

The dead are:

Clement Jeremiah and wife, Carl Kegler and wife, Carl Baldus and Mrs. Marie Kothe and Richard Baldus, aged 7.

Investigation of the cause of the explosion, which resulted in property damage estimated at $400,000 to $500,000, was under way before the last body had been removed from the ruins. Four buildings were destroyed and others nearby damaged.

County detectives assigned to the investigation late today held to their first theory that the blast was caused by a bomb charged with dynamite or nitroglycerine. The destruction wrought was over too wide an area, they said, to have been caused by exploding gas.

Detectives found a section of copper wire, such as is used in wrapping the exterior of time bombs, buried under a mass of debris.

County Fire Marshal Pfarr is certain the explosion was caused by nitroglycerine.

Romance of King Ranch Disclosed

NEW YORK, May 6.—A romance of the 1,600,000-acre King ranch in Texas was disclosed today in word of the sudden marriage in Austin, Texas, Monday of Miss Alice Von Roeder of New York, known as a beauty, to Dr. Gillette Burns of Cuero, Texas. The fathers of the pair are physicians.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Ludwig Robert Von Roeder said the two families had known each other for 25 years, but that Dr. Burns and his bride had met only recently.

Miss Von Roeder had gone to Texas to visit Mrs. Rudolph Kleburg, her father's aunt and wife of the manager of the King ranch. August Von Roeder, uncle of the bride, also is a Texas ranch owner. Dr. Burns is 30 years old and his bride 22.

EX-GOVERNOR'S WIDOW DIES.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—A. D. Davis Smith, widow of Edmund J. Davis, governor of Texas during the reconstruction period, died here yesterday. She was 87 years old.

Unlawful Grafting Operation Basis Of Big Damage Suit

ST. LOUIS, May 6.—Charging that skin was unlawfully cut from her legs and thighs and grafted upon another child Sarah Finer, 13 years old, has brought suit for $10,000 damages against Abraham and Rebecca Finer, grocery proprietors at Brentwood, a suburb, with whom she formerly lived. The action was brought through Samuel Finger, her legal guardian.

The removal of patches of Sarah's skin took place August 17, 1923, the suit avers. The skin, according to attorneys for the child, was grafted on a child of the Finers who was badly burned and later died.

The suit charges that Finer and his wife struck, menaced and abused Sarah, jerked and dragged her forcibly and compelled her to undergo the operations. Later, the suit avers, she was given an anaesthetic by hypodermic injection and the skin removed. The removal, it is charged, left her limbs permanently disfigured and scarred.

Finger, who is the child's uncle, obtained her custody from the Finers by habeas corpus proceedings last January. It was testified he had relinquished all claim to the child, having turned her over to the Finers when he was appointed her guardian on September 29, 1919, her parents having died.

Decentralization Of Industry Is Cure For Evils—Shepperd

MINERAL WELLS, May 6—(AP) A "corporate empire" is crystalizing on every side, endanger—American economic and political independence, U. S. Senator Morris Sheppard, of Texarkana, declared today in an address before the West Texas chamber of commerce convention. He described an industrial development in America, which, he said, had made the majority of the people tenants and employes with a small controlling class above. The political independence gained in 1776 has been lost in an economic dependency which began with the development of machine power at the close of the civil war, he said. "We dwell too much in our physical resources and not enough on our human resources," he continued. "The studenduous material resources of this country are unmatched in the world, but far above these material resources are the men, women and children of this republic.

Richest in World.

"While we are the richest nation in the world, the largest portion of the wealth is held by a comparative few. It would be far more satisfactory if wealth were so adjusted that the majority could live in their own homes with the hope of owning their own enterprises.

"The home owners of 1776 were far richer in ownership qualities than the American of 1925. Now the majority are tenants and employes. A man in a dugout, who can call the dugout his home, and with a prospect of improvement, is worth more to the nation than a man surrounded by luxury but doomed forever to the status of a tenant.

"At the dawn of American Independence people either owned or could look forward with assurance to the ownership of their homes and industries.

Small Classes.

"American individualism made possible the declaration of independence. This was the signal feature of American progress up to the close of the Civil war. Then came the development of mechanical power, and this has continued until the people are separated into a small controlling class on one side and employes and tenants on the other.

"The parting of the ways between the old individualism and the new autocracy is here. The farmer is at the mercy of the giant corporations, which control industry and distribution. Thirty per cent of the people are engaged in agricultural pursuits but these 30 per cent get only 17 per cent of the wealth. The cotton farmer of Texas scarcely receives the cost of production, and a small profit. Gradually the farmer is being driven to lower standards of living than any American ought to tolerate.

"The cattleman has ceased to have an effective voice in marketing his product. Outside combinations are infinitely enriched by his labor."

Decentralize Industry.

Senator Sheppard's solution of the problem is decentralization of industry in the United States and restoration of the processes of manufacture to individual and local control.

"The people must secure economic independence without which political independence is an empty name," he continued. "The operators of industry must have the prospects of becoming owners. The Texas Technological college, judged by its possible results, in the most significant steps in the history of a free people since the battle of San Jacinto. Texas must make, within her borders, everything that Texas needs. With five million cattle for instance, she virtually is giving away hides and then buying them in manufactured products at enormous prices. We must re-open the channels of opportunity so the tenants may become owners."

Famous New York Restaurant Closes

NEW YORK, May 6.—Jack's restaurant in Sixth avenue, opposite the Hippodrome, closed forever this morning when the last guest had finished his after-party supper.

Jack Dunstan himself announced unexpectedly at the dinner hour last night that his restaurant, famous for years as the meeting place of actors, newspaper men, politicians and sportsmen, would be closed because he "needed a rest".

With the closing 100 employes lost employment, but Jack said that none need worry and at least a score of them are independently wealthy.

On the walls of Jack's place were murals by Edward S. Simons, cousin of Ralph Waldo Emerson, depicting scenes from the story of Little Red Riding Hood, from the Tales of Hans Anderson and the Brothers Grimm.

Jack said he didn't know what would become of the restaurant—perhaps he would give it to his son, William Dunstan. At any rate it wouldn't be reopened under the old name.

Hindy Sympathy Was Put on Too Thickly Thinks German Paper

BERLIN, May 6.—The Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, organ of the Stinnes interests, today tells the nationalist press in connection with its comment on Ambassador Houghton's London speech that "it put President Coolidge's sympathy for Von Hindenburg on too thick."

(Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, the German president- elect, was the nationalist candidate.)

"Mr. Coolidge's real position is correct neutrality," the paper continues, "but Secretary Mellon's and Mr. Houghton's sympathy for Von Hindenburg exert a favorable influence upon Coolidge."

The Morgan Post says there is no doubt that Ambassador Houghton's speech represents the wishes of all parties in the United States and "are a sign that the people on the other side of the ocean begin to see why the pacification of Europe has failed during the past seven years." It adds that there is not yet sufficient hope that Paris will "at least hear the voices of admonition and warning from abroad."

HELIUM GAS FROM TEXAS

Four Carloads Arrive in Philadelphia For Big Dirigible.

PHILADELPHIA, May 6.—Four carloads of helium gas to be used in the dirigibles Shenandoah and Los Angeles in flights this summer are being unloaded here today from the steamship City of Dallas. The gas came from Fort Worth, Texas, and is to be sent to the hangars at Lakehurst, N. J., by freight.

Mexican Bishop Is Cited for Alleged Seditious Letter

MEXICO CITY, May 6.—Jose de Jesus Manrique Zarate, bishop of Huejutla, has been cited to the attorney general by the department of the interior for a recent pastoral letter which the authorities consider openly seditious.

Referring to the occurrences in connection with the creation of the Mexican apostolic church and the taking over of church buildings by the government Bishop Zarate said that the church owned the buildings and that the government was guilty of theft when it ook them over.

Concerning the article in the Mexican constitution empowering the government to intervene in religious matters the pastoral letter is quoted as saying:

"We solemnly declare that we will never submit to the government's authority in church matters in which the pope is the only authority". ecclesiastical laws, it was added.

Any laws contrary to the devine or were null and highly unmoral.

Bishop Zarate ended by forbidding the priests to accept the constitution or future laws connected with church matters, but at the same time prohibited violence or rioting whenever the authorities used force to carry out the laws.

EPPSTEIN WILL PROBATED.

Fort Worth Man Names New York Brother as Executor.

FORT WORTH, May 6.—The will of the late Milton L. Eppstein, which was filed with Probate Clerk Harding Wednesday, leaves an estate of $350,000. Louis B. Eppstein, brother, New York City, is designated as independent executor without bond.

A trust bequest of $5,000 is made for the baby hospital, a local charitable institution. Ten thousand dollars is left to a cousin, Monie Weixel of Fort Worth.

Campbell, Guilty, Is Given 2 Years in Pen

GREAT FALLS, Mont., May 6.—Gordon Campbell, discoverer of the Kevin-Sunburst oil field and the man who employed Senator B. K. Wheeler at $10,000 a year as his attorney following Wheeler's election to the senate in 1922, today was found guilty in the federal court here by a jury under charges of fraudulent oil promotion and using the mails to defraud.

The jury was out 29 hours and returned a sealed verdict at 9:30 o'clock last night. The verdict was read before Judge George M. Bourquin this morning.

Campbell is under another indictment in the District of Columbit with Senator Wheeler and E. S. Booth, former solicitor of the interior department, charged with consipracy to procure federal land by fraud.

The oil operator was sentenced at once by Judge Bourquin to two years in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth and was fined $1,000.

FORCES UNIFICATION.

Beaumont District Convention Votes Endorsement of Church Combine.

PORT ARTHUR, May 6.—The Methodist Episcopal church, south, of the Beaumont district, in conference at Port Arthur, voted 47 to 21 in favor of unification of the north and south branches of the church Wednesday morning.

Sugar, Water, Salt Aid in Operations

WASHINGTON, May 6.—Use of three of the simplest elements of every day life, water, sugar and salt, to strengthen a patient to endure an operation and aid in his recovery was described last night by Dr. William J Mayo of Rochester, Minn., in his annual address as president of the Congress of American Physicians and Surgeons.

Introduction of the three elements into a patient's system, Dr. Mayo declared, will do much to temporarily sustain life and aid in re-habilitation after the operation.

MA REACHES ORANGE.

Governor and Party Arrive for Fishing Trip and Visits.

ORANGE, Texas, May 6.—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson and her party will go on a fishing trip on Sabine Lake and pay social calls on H. J. Lutcher Stark and W. D. Lea and their families, it was announced.

Son of West Texan Wins Reversal Of 40-Year Sentence

AUSTIN, May 6—Ralph G. Vancel son of a wealthy West Texas rancher man, won a reversal of the 40 year sentence which was given him at Fort Worth for the death of his infant son, Ralph Jr., and will have a new trial. Criminal appeals court declared that facts in the first trial of Vancel were "insufficient to show death was by any criminal means or agency."

The Vancel child was found in an automobile on the streets of Fort Worth injured apparently from a wound by a long pin.

The court gave to Clarence Anderson, Wichita county, a new trial and reversed the 15 year sentence against him for criminal assault, holding evidence was insufficient to sustain the judgment.

States motion for rehearing the one year liquor sentence of Les Carter Wichita Falls, previously reversed, was overruled.

TRAIN WRECKED IN SOUTH

Fast C. and O. Passenger Leaves Rails At Richmond, Va., Several Hurt.

RICHMOND, Va., May 6.—(AP)—Chesapeake and Ohio fast train No. 4, from St. Louis and Cincinnati, due in Richmond at 4:05 p. m., was wrecked when several coaches left the rails and piled up just as the train was entering the city here this afternoon. A number of people were reported slightly injured, but no one was killed. The derailment occurred in Highland Park, inside the city limits and the injured were rushed to city hospitals in taxi cabs.

"Call of the Wild" Is Motive for College

DEL RIO, Texas, May 6.—"Call of the world" was characterized as the chief reason of attending college by Miss Anne Ainsworth, instructor in English at Ross teachers college at Alpine in a talk before high school students here Tuesday.

She said thatevery one who had ever accomplished anything really worth while, from Beowulf and other mystic heroes of early race history, on down to "our own Teddy Roosevelt, had an adventuorous spirit largely developed. She said that attending college was a big adventure.

TROTSKY BACK TO MOSCOW.

Ex-Soviet War Minister Returns From Health Resort.

ROSTOV, Russia, May 6.—Leon Trotzky, former soviet war minister, passed through here last night on his way to Moscow from Sukhum, the Trans-Caucasian resort where he has been staying for his health.

The famous bolshevik leader, who is definitely reinstated to good standing in the communist party, spent a half day here.

Bishops Put Ban On Instructed Voting

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 6.—The college of bishops, Methodist Episcopal church, south, adopted resolutions late today declaring that "it is not in harmony with the spirit and usage" of the church for the conferences to undertake to instruct laymen "to vote in a certain way."

The resolutions further declared that "if such conferences do pass resolutions with a view to instructing their delegates, such delegates must nevertheless be free to follow their own consciences when voting on any question."

AVIATOR HURT IN JUMP.

Control Stick Causes Plane to Fall, No Fractures Suffered.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 6.—Major Henry Taylor, army flier, stationed in Columbus, was injured severely today when he jumped from his airplane when the control stick broke as he was flying 1,500 feet above Batzum, Ohio, six miles north of Akron. Taylor was brought to a Cleveland hospital where physicians say he suffered no fractures.

New Church Going Up Near Petrolia

PETROLIA, May 6.—Farmers living west of Petrolia have begun actual construction work on their new Missionary Baptist church to be erected six miles west of here at a total cost of approximately $15,000.

The old church has been torn down to give material for the new building, and services for the congregation will be held each Sunday in the Petrolia Baptist church until the new structure is completed.

APPROVE RAIL EXTENSION

Attorney General Passes Favorably on Petition of Sabine Railway.

AUSTIN, May 6.—A charter amendment to permit the Waco, Beaumont, Trinity & Sabine Railway company to construct a 79-mile extension between Livingston and Beaumont, was approved today by the attorney general's department.

The company also was permitted to build a belt line around Beaumont, eight and a half miles long. R. C. Duff of Houston, president, said today the road had been given permission by the interstate commerce commission to build the extension.

Jackson County All Set for Hopper War

ALTUS, Okla., May 6. — With a $500 appropriation by the Altus chamber of commerce and an agreement on the part of wholesalers to sell at cost bran and other ingredients for mixing with arsenic as a grasshopper remedy the campaign to rid Jackson county of the voracious insect is getting rapidly under way.

Added effort was put to the movement Monday when it was learned that a 15 acre field of maize at Blair, Okla., has already been devoured by the grasshopper pest. Millions of the tiny hoppers are reported to be hatched out and ready to pounce upon the cotton crop when it comes up.

MARKETS

N. Y. Stocks

NEW YORK, May 6.—Stocks were active, and higher as a whole today, with trading brisk in some divisions and lagged in others.

Trade news was mixed in character, the weekly steel trade reviews failed to disclose much improvement in that industry, although the steel stocks held relatively firm. U. S. Steel common closed fractionally higher at 115⅝ after selling above 116.

Gasoline price reductions in New York City and a few other eastern municipalities had a restraining effect on trading in the oil group which showed mixed changes. Gross earnings of the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company for the first four months of the year, made public today, exceeded $37,000,000 or about equal to the gross earnings for the first seven months of 1924.

Buying of the rails was stimulated by the publication of statistics showing that car loadings for the week ended April 25 had established a new high record for the year and were 36,000 cars above the week before. Further accumulation of St. Louis-San Francisco common sent that stock up two points from the year's new high record at 81. New peak prices also were established by Gulf, Mobile and Northern, Colorado and Southern second preferred and Seaboard Air Line common and preferred.

Other strong spots included Lehigh Valley, Missouri Pacific preferred, Texas and Pacific, Wabash common, Ann Arbor common, Chicago, and Eastern Illinois preferred, Perre Marquette and Pittsburgh and West Virginia all of which showed net gains of 1½ points or more. Heavy selling of Union Pacific just before the close sent that stock down from 139¾ to 136¾ closing slightly above the bottom for a net loss of more than one point on the day.

A sudden burst of activity in the Willys-Overland issues sent the common up more than 2 points to a new high record at 18⅝ on total transactions of 100,000 shares. Maxwell A advanced 1⅜ but the B fell back 2¼.

American Can was the outstanding strong spot among the industrials soaring six points to a record high for all time at 188.

Call money held steady at 3½ per cent. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Foreign exchanges ruled slightly easier. Demand sterling was quoted just under $4.85 and French francs around 5.21½c. Norwegian kroner broke 15 points to 16.84c.

NEW YORK EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, May 6.—The aggregate market value of all securities traded in on the New York exchange exceeded $60,000,000,000 on January 1, 1925 up to that time the largest total in the history of the exchange, it was revealed in the annual report of President E. H. Simmons, made public today.

"The past year in finance," said Mr. Simmons, "has been significant chiefly as revealing the financial pre-eminence and stability attained by the country since the war in its full scope and its complete strength.

"Internal elements of weakness which had previously seemed to threaten America's financial leadership, have mainly disappeared. Our major industries, with few exceptions have adequately bridged the dangerous intervening years which followed the armistice, and now are operating competitively on a peace time basis, after the emergency financing of recent years. Over the whole country standards of living have been maintained at high levels, and a very general degree of prosperity has prevailed."

Mr. Simmons expressed the belief that the unprecedented "bull market" which followed the election last fall had been kept within safe bounds. The rapid succession of favorable developments last summer, including agricultural prosperity at home and European progress following the adoption of the Dawes plan, he said were reflected in a swift enhancement of values and prices.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

NEW ORLEANS, May 6.—The cotton market after ruling quiet during the greater part of the session developed an active wave of selling in the last quarter of an hour of trading which carried prices down sharply. July which traded as high as 23.97 during the morning dropped to 23.35 or 62 points and closed within a few points of the low for a net loss for the day of 38 points. The general list showed net losses of 33 to 38 points.

At the start higher Liverpool cables warranted a good opening but the market opened practically unchanged and fluctuated narrowly within a few points until the weekly weather and crop report was received. It proved much less favorable than expected and on this report and numerous private advices from Texas and elsewhere reporting that crop conditions were growing unfavorable the market advanced until October traded at 23.15 or 20 points up compared with yesterday's close. The advance was helped by a report from a private authority in Memphis making the condition of the crop 90.5 per cent and stating that conditons in the cotton belt were far from satisfactory. After ruling dull during the noon hour and during the early afternoon the market broke badly near the end on the reported heavy selling by a big operator based on good rains during the day in northern and western Texas. This break carried October down 58 points from the top to 22.57.

The market seemed quicker to respond to bearish influences than to constructive forces as was shown by the rapid final slump. Sales in the local spot market for the day, 4,444 bales was the largest in some time. Exports today, 5,784 bales.

NEW ORLEANS SPOTS.

NEW ORLEANS, May 6.—Spot cotton closed steady, 40 points down. Sales on the spot 3017 bales; to arrive 1427; low middling 22.25; middling 23.65; good middling 24.25. Receipts 2282; stock 173,973.

AUTOS REACH NEW TOTAL.

DETROIT, Mich., May 6.—A new high monthly production total of 420,373 cars was reached in the automobile industry in the United States in April, directors of the National Automobile chamber of commerce, meeting here today, announced.

The largest month previously on record was May, 1923, when the total was 404,450. The biggest single month last year was March when 393,270 cars were manufactured.

MAY FILE TEXT MANDAMUSES

AUSTIN, Texas, May 6.—Permission to ask for writs of mandamus to force recognition of repudiated textbook contracts was granted seven publishing companies today by the state supreme court. The petitions were advanced on the docket and set for hearing May 20.

SCENES FROM "JANICE MERIDETH," MOVIE ATTRACTION, STRAND NEXT WEEK

Weekly Paper Will Be Published By School Next Year

Owing to the success of the high school and Junior college bi-weekly newspaper, "The Wichitan," this year, the staff has decided to issue the publication as a weekly during the next school year, it was announced by Lemuel Peters, business manager.

The sixth and final issue of "The Wichitan," appeared at the school Wednesday morning, the largest and most complete edition of the year.

The issue is dedicated by the staff to A. F. Edwards, faculty sponsor of the paper, for his untiring effort, his whole hearted work and the time and interest he devoted toward making the enterprise successful.

Compliments Staff.

"The staff of 'The Wichitan' is to be complimented," Mr. Edwards declared in an interview, "for their efficient service and enthusiastic cooperation in producing the paper. The present publication, through their efforts, is the first in the history of the school that has been a financial success. Over 1,000 issues of each paper have been sold and distributed over the state and nation through the exchange, and the paper as a business institution is able to stand on its own feet. Requests have come from other states to purchase advertising space, and many other school papers have reprinted our jokes and sayings, giving us credit.

Bigger Next Year.

"Plans have already been made for a bigger and better paper next year which will be a weekly, and the following staff has been nominated for election at a staff meeting Thursday morning: Miss Leota Tucker, editor in chief; Jerry Vincent, managing editor; Lemuel Peters, business manager; Ed Smith, circulation manager; Sybil Parrish, advertising manager; Vera Cain, organization editor; Jewell Millican, exchange editor; Mary Tancred campus news editor and Milton Wade, assistant campus news editor. The feature editors and others will be elected at the beginning of the fall term."

Katy Claims The World's Record For Longest Run Without Changing Engines

Is is farther from Cincinnati to New Orleans than from Franklin, Mo., to San Antonio Texas?

The above question comes to the front with the report of a Southern System engine setting a new world's record Tuesday by pulling an eight and ten coach train from Cincinnati to New Orleans, a distance of 832 miles. The reports stated that this was ordinarily the work of five engines and was the longest single pull ever made by a locomotive.

M-K-T officials have taken issue with the record claim however and seem able to establish their counter claim that the record for the longest single haul by one engine was set about one year ago and equaled several times each day since that time by the engines on train 3, 4, 5 and 6, running daily between Franklin, Mo., and San Antonio. The distance by rail between these two cities is exactly 872 miles, bettering the 832 mark by 40 miles.

Local Katy officials state that these four passenger trains of the road are daily pulled by 41 per cent Pacific Type locomotive, the fastest and most powerful on the line. During the past year 55 per cent of the runs started out with one of these locomotives finished the 872 mile journey without repairs or delays. These engines are daily called on to pull from eight to 16 coaches.

H. J. Bruce Stresses Need of Service As Club Before Lions

"We, as Lions, represent the city we live in," declared H. J. Bruce, president of the local Lions club, at the weekly noon Lion's luncheon at the Kemp hotel Wednesday. "As we act and speak, so will others judge us," the speaker stated, telling of his observations at the West Texas chamber of commerce convention in Mineral Wells Tuesday.

"The whole success of the great convention of 30,000 delegates, all intent on furthering the success of West Texas was only the joint expression of the service and spirit of each individual," Mr. Bruce told the Lions. "We by our spirit and service should so sell Lionism and Wichita Falls to the world."

B. G. Ripley, vice president, presided at the meeting and in a short business session, a motion was made that members in alphabetical order be invested with the responsibility of arranging the club program. H. J. Bruce, Dr. C. [illegible] Bailey and C. L. Baum [illegible] announced by Secretary C. C. [illegible]ley to conduct the programs for the coming three weeks.

C. H. Franks was introduced as a new member and music was furnished a quartette of Lions under the direction of B. T. Burgess, accompanied at the piano by A. B. Maples. The singers were M. Gose, J. L. Eggleston, C. L. Baum and C. L. Garrett.

C.-C. Delegates Are All Intact as The Special Gets Beck

They got back home yesterday morning just a little less noisily than they left. Some of the most ardent C-C. delegates seemed just a little hoarse but otherwise all were intact and no damage was reported done.

To a man they declared the convention to be a great success and stated that Wichita Falls would be host to the 2,500 visitors in 1927. The delegation lent its support to Amarillo for the 1926 meet with the understanding that that city would next year support the claim of Wichita Falls for the 1927 meet.

Wichita Man Wins Appeal on Sentence

Clarence F. Anderson took a new lease on 15 years of his life as the result of a decision handed down yesterday by the state court of criminal appeals. The decision reversed and remanded the 15 year sentence given Anderson some time ago in Wichita county ona statutory charge.

R. E. Andrews of Archer county lost his appeal to the court, made after he had been sentenced to twp and one-half years for manslaughter, following the death of F. H. Melguin who died in the general hospital from injuries sustained, it was alleged when Andrews struck him with a knife.

The court denied the motion of the state for a rehearing in the case of Les Carter, whose appeal was granted last week.

Yesterday passed without a single suit being filed in the district clerk's office. It was the first day of its kind in several weeks according to District Clerk Kerr.

Four marriage licenses were issued at the county clerk's office yesterday to the following persons: Dudley Fry and Miss Irene Cockrehame, Hollis, Okla.; L. R. Grundy, and Mrs. Ruth Bennett, city; Mr. J. L. Keeley and Mrs. Mable Beeson, city; Will Crumbs, (colored) and Miss Lucile Gibson, city.

Kansas City Men Get Warm Welcome Here Wednesday

"While we are here primarily to sell Kansas City to Texas, we are every one of us going back to Missouri thoroughly sold ourselves on West Texas and West Texas potentialities," declared J. M. Guild, general secretary of the Kansas City, Mo., chamber of commerce and head of the delegation of trade trippers which stopped over in Wichita Falls for an hour Wednesday morning. "The rain may get our clothes wet for us but we are glad for you, for we know just what it means to this year's crops," he added.

Here at 10 A. M.

The Kansas City delegation, 110 strong, arrived in Wichita Falls promptly at 10 o'clock yesterday morning on a train with seven Pullmans, two dining cars and two baggage coaches. They were greeted at the union station by J. T. Harrel, president of the Wichita Falls chamber of commerce and other directors, marching from the depot up Eighth street in a drizzling rain to the time of marches played by the 20-piece military band which accompanied them.

The parade wound up at the Kemp hotel, the band giving a short concert in the lobby. Luther Hoffman made a short talk there welcoming the visitors, remarking that in West Texas a rainy day was as effusive a welcome as was ever accorded a visitor.

Greetings in Music.

The greetings of Kansas City to Wichita Falls were sung by Burt Beuder and Harry Kessel accompanied by Tom Beckham on a mandolin, "Howdle-de-do, Wichita Falls."

The visitors spent their hour making the rounds of Wichita Falls merchants and spreading the good will of their city over as wide an area as possible. They distributed several hundred miniature brass cowbells as mementos of their trip. The special left at 11 o'clock for Abilene and points along the Wichita Valley, coming here from a night at Gainesville.

The trip is a six-day affair, taking in a territory included by Guthrie, Gainesville, Wichita Falls, Abilene, Amarillo, and Dodge City, Kansas. The party left Kansas City Sunday night.

Katy Officials Speak At Division Meetings

Katy officials were kept busy yesterday keeping up their regular work and running from one meeting to another.

The regular safety meeting was addressed by J. L. Walsh, general superintendent of Safety, with headquarters in Dallas. The officials present continued to work out safety plans with a view to stopping needless accidents among employes and also with an eye to the motorists, who is always trying to "beat the train."

C. I. Evans, general fuel agent for the M-K-T. with headquarters in St. Louis, was present and spoke to the officials attending the monthly division fuel meeting. Fuel men discussed the need of conservation and the best method of working out fuel saving.

Many bargains appear daily in the lassified columns of the Wichita Falls Record News.

Liquor Smuggling Rewards Offered

NEW YORK, May 6.—(AP)—Citizens who inform the federal authorities of liquor smuggling activities leading to the conviction of bootleggers under the customs law will receive 25 per cent of the fine imposed and of the money obtained through the sale of seized boats, Edward Barnes, assistant solicitor to the collector of the port, announced today.

Mrs. Alma Y. Miller, county clerk, is a Fort Worth visitor during the convention of the State Association of County Clerks being held there May 7, 8 and 9.

Clears Complexion

"Oh! how clear and beautiful your complexion is today, my dear!"

THERE IS a certain joy—a certain pride—in knowing you are admired, whether it be from father, brother, husband or sweetheart! And back of that joy is the satisfaction of knowing all is well.

Men are fascinated by the charms of beauty. Women gaze with envy, secretly jealous, perhaps, wondering—hoping—praying for that attractiveness which is not theirs. But why the wondering—the hoping—the praying for that craved for attractiveness—that clear skin—that beauty. A clear skin—is the barometer of one's condition. A healthy skin radiates beauty. Pure, clean blood means a clear skin.

S.S.S. is waiting to help you. It will rid your blood of its impurities and give you that clear complexion. Since 1826 S.S.S. has been ridding people of blood impurities, from pimples, from blackheads, boils, eczema and from rheumatism, too. Because S.S.S. is made from fresh herbs and barks, it may be taken with perfect safety. Try it yourself. You will not only look better, but you will feel better, too.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

S.S.S. The World's Best Blood Medicine

Spring Fever

What is Spring Fever?

It is simply low Vitality, a lack of Energy caused by impurities in the blood. You feel tired and lazy in the Spring because the Blood is not prepared for the sudden change.

At this season of the year Nature is trying to throw off the impurities and adjust itself to the warmer temperature.

A Good Blood Tonic just at this time is a great help to Nature. It Strengthens and Invigorates the whole system.

Grove's Tasteless chill Tonic

is made for that purpose; it contains just what the Blood needs, IRON and QUININE, in a form acceptable to the most delicate stomach. It destroys the malarial germs, Purifies and Enriches the Blood and prepares the Blood to withstand the heat of Summer. You can soon feel its Strengthening, Invigorating Effect. 60c per bottle.

NEVILLE-OHEIM WEDDING

This afternoon at the Episcopal church at 3:30 occasioned the wedding of Miss Cora Neville and Mr. Curt Oheim. The church was beautiful and very artistic i nits decoration of Dorothy Perkins roses, ferns and other greenery. Preceding the ceremony Miss Bennie McGlasson played a violin solo "O, Promise Me" accompanied by Mrs. Cedric O. Taylor. Miss Jimmay Norman then sang "Or Perfect Love".

To the strains of Lohengrins Wedding march played by Mrs. Cedric O. Taylor the bridal party entered—first came Miss Mamie Kae Nutter, maid of honor, with Mr. T. J. Goggins, groomsman; then followed the bride and groom, who took their places before the altar where the Episcopal ceremony was said by Rev. Harry T. Virdun of Dallas.

Only the immediate families and a very few intimate friends were present, the wedding being a very quiet one owing to the recent bereavement in the family.

The couple left immediately after the ceremony for a wedding trip of several weeks; they will visit Washington, D. C., New York and other eastern points. They will be at home in Dallas after June first.

Utilities Problems Up For Discussion Before Service Convention

HOUSTON, May 6.—(AP)—Men widely known in the public utility field discussed problems of utilities before the 30th annual convention of the Southwestern Public Service association at the second session of the organization here today.

General Guy E. Tripp, of New York, chairman of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing company, visualized the time when light, heat and energy may be stored and electricity not used at all. J. M. Shannahan of Hampton, Va., president of the American Electric Railway association, paid a tribute to public utilities in the southwest as among the best in the country, touched on customer-ownership, asserted that Texas was behind other states in failing to regulate bus lines, and declare dthat as far as interstate regulations is concerned, a bill is being prepared for congressional enactment definitely empowering a governmental agency to govern them.

W. G. Kinsolving of Abilene, trafic manager of the West Texas Utility company, another speaker, discussing good public relations said they rested on charity, sympathy and friendship; "They mean goodwill," he said, and added; "they will live forever."

S. J. Ballinger, San Antonio, of the commercial department of the San Antonio Public Service company, speaking on "continuing relations with customer owners," urged the delegates to "sell" the company along with the certificate," and not simply sell to a customer-owner an investment.

FROSTED STRAWBERRIES.

Iowa Frost and Freeze in Central States Ruins Crops.

CHICAGO, May 6.—Advices to the weather bureau here today said frost has practically wiped out the Iowa strawberry crop and also unprotected truck crops in Iowa. The bureau also had reports of freezing temperatures in northern Michigan, Minnesota and the Dakotas, with snowfalls in Northern Michigan and other northern sections.

BATTLE SHOWS DEFECTS

Island Defense and Attacking Fleet Shown Inferior.

HONOLULU, May 6.—(AP)—The mattle of Oahu, and the most extensive army-navy maneuvers ever conducted by the United States disclosed defects in both the island defenses and the fleet, which have been made the basis of a special report and recommendations to the secretaries of war and navy, the chief umpires announced in a non-committal communique issued following the conclusion of the critique shortly before noon today.

DELEGATES ELECTED.

GREENVILLE, Texas, May 6.—Anti-unification delegates were unanimously elected to the annual North Texas Methodist conference to be held in Greenville in October by the Greenville district Methodist conference in session at Lone Oak today.

IOWA PARK

HONOR GRADUATES.

The seniors, who will graduate with honors at the Iowa Park high school, are: Gladys Van Horn, valedictorian, a yearly average in all of her work being 96 1-3 per cent; Zella Thompson, salutarian, yearly average 95-23-40 per cent, and Edwin Hooks, giftorian, with yearly average of 90 29-90 per cent.

The senior class this year is the largest graduating class in the history of the school. There will be twenty-one candidates for the high school diploma on the evening of May 15 and they are: Gladys Van Horn, Zella Thompson, Edwin Hooks, James White, Joe Bailey Bubaker, Howard Gay, Lewis Quick, Marvin Banks, Haynes Pitts, Reid Estes, Harvey Dunn, Louis Hodges, Thelnia Matthews, Thelma Dodson, Dorothy Hand, Ella Burnam, Veda McMullen, Adlyn Love, Gracia Swanson, Isla Cothran and Andeau Stafford.

COMMENCEMENT SERMON.

Rev. J. W. Hammond, professor of history of Texas Christian university, Fort Worth has accepted the invitation extended him by the senior class to preach the commencement sermon Sunday morning, May 10, at eleven o'clock in the auditorium of the W. F. George high school. Special music has been arranged for the occasion.

Dr. J. W. Hunt, president of the McMurrah college of Abeline, will deliver the commencement address to the seniors on the evening of May 15 at eight o'clock.

The seniors are preparing "Kicked Out of College" to be presented as the senior class play and it will be offered on the evening of May 14, at the high school.

IOWA PARK VERY QUITE.

The little town of Iowa Park is very quite this week after the closing of the big rodeo on the Triangle ranch and the ground dry enough for the farmers to work. There is only a few of the rodeo people left and they are closing up the business end of the big show. Most of the cowboys and cowgirls left here for Mineral Wells to stage a rodeo for the benefit of the visitors of the West Texas chamber of commerce which is now in session.

NEW GIN FOR IOWA PARK.

E. C. Knox, manager of the Farmers' Gin company, has purchased new machinery for a gin to be installed at this place. The machinery bought is the latest and best put out by gin people. The Murrah system will be installed and will cost about $28,000 when completed. This makes the second new gin for Iowa Park to be installed this year and the estimated ginning capacity for both gins will be 200 for every 24 hours. The gin will be steel throughout, while the power will be electricity and all cults screened so as to present accidents which usually occur around cults and shafts. The gin will be ready for operation by September.

The GILDED ROSE

by May Christie

Who's Who in the Story.

Rosilyn Page, hard-worked daughter of a Long Island inkeeper, finds herself on his death, heiress of a huge fortune. In her hour of need she turns to

Landis Ridgway, a charming young society man who in his visits to the inn had always been kind to her. His mother,

Florence Ridgeway, who sees poverty staring her and her son in the face, induces Landis to propose to Rosilyn, although he loathes himself for so doing. Rosilyn is radiant at the wedding, but as she prepares to go on the wedding journey, she overhears gossip that Landis is marrying her for her money; she hears herself referred to as the Gilded Rose. Landis is still in love with

Lydia Harbrook, a heartless beauty who is now in Paris, preparing to marry

Stevie VanVorst, a wealthy old roue. Lydia is really fond of Landis, and highly incensed when she hears of his marriage, from

Rupert Briscoe, an old friend of Landis' who was present at the wedding.

One the night of the wedding, Rosilyn, her eyes opened now to the fact that she has been married for her money, tells Landis that theirs will be a marriage in name only. He is secretly relieved at her "common sense" attitude.

But Landis' happiness—and she had already done enough to mar it by the very fact of marrying him!—was of more importance than her own consuming feeling for him.

"Will you be all right if I push off for an hour or two, and leave you?" Behind the dubious intonation, there was a note of hopefulness, just like a weary prisoner who gets news of unexpected freedom.

"Of course, I'll be all right." She forced a laugh between pale lips.

He hesitated, giving her an odd look.

"Rather an unconventional couple, aren't we?" Then: "But maybe—as you pointed out last night—it's better so."

Her heart gave such an agonizing twist of pain she could have cried aloud at that.

But instead, she contrived a nod of the head, apparently quite naturally.

And away went Landis with his fishing pole and gear, a tramping across the dripping fields with a couple of dogs at his heels.

Rosilyn moved restlessly about the house. She found the library, but could not settle down to read. Always her thoughts wandered, in mists of disappointment and of pain.

The first morning of her honeymoon! What a travesty it was!

Oh, for brains and education, with which to hold a man like Landis!

She must study to improve herself. She must do everything to try and be upsides with fascinating women such as—

"Lydia Harbrook!" said the voice of truth within her—hateful, cruel truth!

But never, never would she emulate Lydia's hardness and her selfishness. She—Rosilyn—would devote herself to Landis' happiness. Didn't love beget love, in its turn?

She would win her husband's heart, if human power could compass it.

And—to that end—she must get knowledge of the world, of how to act, and dress, and talk. Her constant "faux pas," and her lack of "savoir faire" jarred on her bridegroom, and she knew it.

Oh, for a kind and candid friend!

She couldn't visualize Landis—had she wanted so to see him—in the role of cicerone. He was far too well-bred ever to point her errors out to her. Only his compressed lips and a quizzical look about the eyes gave evidence of her social blunders.

There was no woman she could turn to. Her aristocratic mother-in-law aroused a shyness in her that at times was almost overwhelming. A "grande dame" of the old school, and in her own especial way almost as granite-hard as lovely Lydia, Mrs. Ridgeway was a queen who condescended to her subjects, rather than a kind and loving guide.

In the gloomy library, Rosilyn dug out a dusty tome by Aristotle. The Greek philosopher might help her to a better art of living. Hadn't that been the goal of all the Greeks?

But she learned phrases were beyond her.

It was getting on for lunch time, and the idea struck her that, despite the rain, she would go out and look for Landis. The fresh air would do her headache good, maybe.

Donning a macintosh, she set off across the fields in the direction of the wood where the trout pool was situated.

All the world smelt sweet, and from the pine trees a heady "tang" that the incessant rain brought out.

Rosilyn's spirits lifted. Mightn't the sun break through for her, both literally and metaphorically?

In the first sense it did—before she reached the trout pool. Through a rift of sombre clouds it glinted palely down on Landis, in his shiny oil-skins, sitting on a fallen tree, with his fishing tackle on the ground beside him.

He did not see her, and her footsteps on the mossy earth were soundless.

Her heart leaped at that glimpse of her beloved, and then contracted with a sudden pain.

For—chin cupped on his left hand, and splendid figure set in lines of utter weariness—he was gazing with his whole soul in his eyes, at the photo of a woman in an evening frock.

Even before she recognized the pictured face, love's intuition told her that the girl was Lydia Harbrook.

CHAPTER—21
IN WHICH LYDIA SCHEMES

Paris in spring-time! Laughter on the boulevards! youth!

Beauty! Above all, Romance!

In the big open squares the tulips—orange or yellow, red or multi-colored-nodded knowing heads. The horse chestnuts nodded too, in sympathy. Under their delicate green leaves, on little seats just made for gentle dalliance, the lovers sat, perpetual spring-time in their hearts.

Yet for Lydia Harbrook—calculating as no doubt she was—some of the glory of spring had gone. Briscoe's amazing and disquieting news had robbed her of her peace of mind.

Landis—her Landis—married!

To the plain Page child.

It was incredible!

Landis—for all his deviltry so fastidious, so innately fine—to have sold himself for money!

"And she isn't even a lady!" reflected Lydia, sitting outside a little cafe on the Grand Boulevard and sipping a glass of grenadine. "She'll grate on him a thousand times a day! She'll drive him—"

"Ah, yes! where would she drive him?"

Lydia smiled a cruel little smile as her lips framed the syllables:

"She'll drive him back to me!"

As though the Page child, even securely married to him, had the ghost of a chance if she—Landis' erstwhile sweetheart—came once more upon the scene!

Yet it was maddening to think that he had taken a leaf out of her own book and sold himself for solid cash, even though such a performance was—apart from Landis' defection—one that she had always highly advocated, and was about to do, herself.

"Garson, bring me an aperitif. Something stronger than this grenadine." She tapped the edge of the glass with a nervous gesture. Why was Rupert Briscoe late for this appointment? Alone with Landis, were old admirers really falling off?

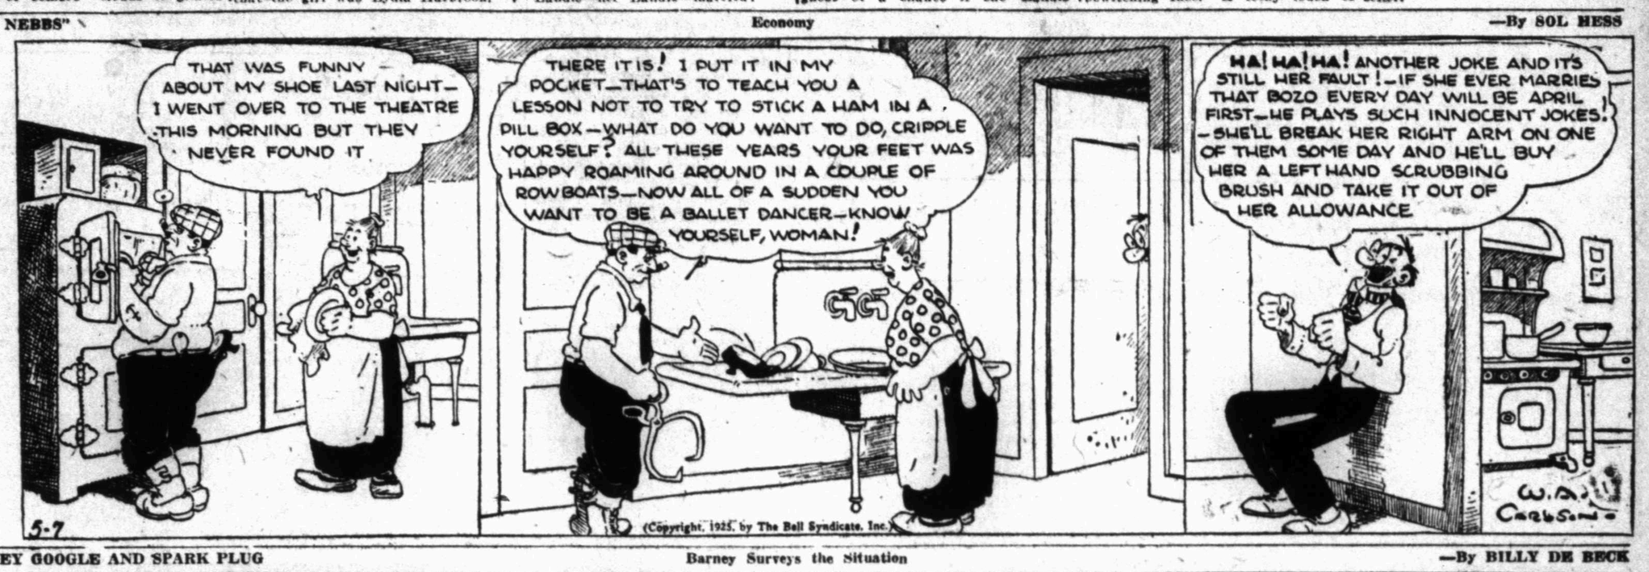

She took out a tiny pocket-mirror and surveyed the image of her own bewitching face. A teeny touch of lip-salve-so! Miss Lydia executed an artistic carmine curve. And just a fluff of powder on that perfect little nose of hers? Oh yes! Rupert appreciated beauty with its proper perquisites.

"Glad eyes"—yes to use a vulgarism—where liberally bestowed upon the charming "Americane". Really it was in atrocious taste of Rupert to be late! He was cosmopolitan enough to know how awkward was this thing waiting in an out-of-doors cafe, especially if one was a pretty woman!

Senior High Music Organizations To Give Big Concert

The musical organizations of the Wichita Falls high school and Junior college, under the direction of Miss Winifred Alvis, will be presented in concert at the college auditorium Thursday evening as one of the most important of near-commencement activities.

Four glee clubs, both boys and girls of the two institutions will appear, the high school orchestra will play, and a group of talented soloists among the students will be presented on the program which is announced by Miss Alvis as follows:

"Midnight Dream" (Schlepegrell)—high school orchestra; "Bells of the Sea" (Solman) and "The Gypsy Trail" (Galloway)—Junior college and high school boys' glee clubs; "The Bells of Youth" (Speaks)—Misses Edmontine Friberg, Lorene Tucker and Marguerite Goodner; "It Was a Lover and His Lass" (Barnby)—Misses Lucile King and Lorene Tucker, James Williams and Tom McCarty; marimbo solo, four mallet selection—John Warmuth; "It Was a Song You Sang to Me" (Lohr) and "Calm as the Night" (Bohm)—Miss Eleanor Spalding; "Red Skies" (Dvorak)—high school girls' glee club; "Elfin Horn" and "Viking Song"—Misses Loreign Russell and Leota Tucker, James Zetzsche and Evan Harris; "Whil and Twirl' from "The Flying Dutchman" by the Junior college choral club; "Duna" (Wilcox) and "I Passed by Your Window" (Brabe)—Carlton Bowman; "Songs of the South" and "Roll Away" by J. C. Mathis, C. P. Moseley, A. F. Edwards and A. K. Presson; "Sunset" (Goring Thomas)—Misses Elizabeth Peters and Loreign Russell; "Native Land" arranged from "Sextette from Lucia" by the entire chorus.

Closing Play Of School Year Will Be Given Tonight

High school seniors will present the closing play of the school year at the Junior college auditorium Thursday evening May 14, the proceeds to be used in purchasing a gift to the school.

"In the Spring a Young Man's Fancy," is the clever comedy selected for presentation, under the direction of Miss Juanita Kinsey. Clifton Clay, widely experienced in dramatic work will play the leading, and the only male role. He will be surrounded by a bevy of seven high school beauties upon whom, it is supposed, he will demonstrate where a young man's fancy lightly turns in the spring.

Misses Virginia Creath, Vera Cain, Hazel Champion, Viva Riley, Doris Brown, Lois Peevy and Lucile Collier complete the cast, and an added feature of the evening's entertainment will be a xylophone solo played by John Warmuth.

Sunday School Class To Give Big Picnic

The C. P. Moseley class of young men of the First Baptist church will give a barbecue and picnic at the Magnolia pumping station on Red river, May 14, according to announcement by Lemuel Peters, on the committee of arrangements.

Class members are inviting their girl friends, and preparations are being made for 50 guests. The picnicers will meet at the church and go in automobiles to the pumping station.

Senior High Domestic Art And Science Classes Will Be Hosts To Their Friends

Members of the domestic science and domestic arts departments at the high school and Junior college will be hostess again Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock to their parents and friends at an exhibit of the year's work in the department class rooms at the college. The students entertained their guests Wednesday afternoon conducting them through the attractive rooms which displayed their handiwork.

Under the supervision of Mrs. J. Roy Danels, head of the department of home economics, Miss Sadie Frazier, teacher of domestic art, and Miss Blanch Madigan, teacher of domestic science and domestic art, the students in the two years of high school work and one year of college work have made for exhibit beautiful dresses, hats, underthings and hand embroidered linens. Budgets and original designs of dress for various types of girls are there, produced with remarkable talent and skill. The dresses are of silks, woolens, voiles and linens in a wide variety of workmanship, color and design. Any of the models would do credit to an exclusive dress shop.

Guests, after they had visited the domestic art exhibits were taken through the model suite of rooms and to the spotless domestic science kitchen where students served them with a dainty refreshment plate of layer sandwiches, iced tea, and mints, decorated with a rosebud.

High School And College Seniors Take Examinations

Students expecting to receive diplomas at the commencement exercises held Friday, May 15, for the Wichita Falls high school and Junior college are deep in the throes of final examinations lasting Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

The final grades and averages will be completed by the teachers and turned into the general office at the college Saturday morning, when students will learn whether their year's work has been successful, and if they will be permitted to wear a cap and gown in which to step forward and receive their diploma.

Regular examinations for undergraduates will begin on the following Monday, May 11, and will extend through Thursday morning. Friday, with grading of papers, checking grades, averaging and making reports will officially close the school year of 1924-25 at the Junior College building.

College Students To Present Play

"Suppressed Desires," a clever one-act play on psycho-analysis which was presented some weeks ago by the Blue Curtain dramatic club of the Junior college at the chapel hour at school, will be given Wednesday evening for the public by popular demand, according to announcement by Miss Juanita Kinsey, dramatic director at the college.

Musical numbers have been arranged in an attractive program utilizing college talent for presentation with the play for which a nominal admission will be charged. Miss Vaughn Buchanan plays the leading role, that of a recent convert to the psycho-analysis fad. Thelma Cain appears as another enthusiast and Lemuel Peters is cast in the role of the husband who flatly refuses to be psycho-analyzed. All the players are experienced actors, and the popularity of the program at its first presentation points to a large audience Wednesday evening.

Southwestern Sends Representative to Discuss 1926 School Annuals.

J. C. Beard, representative of the Southwestern Engraving company of Fort Worth will arrive in the city Friday to meet with the combined staffs of the Coyote and the Waikun, the two publications of the Wichita Falls high school and Junior college to discuss plans for the engraving work on the publications for next year.

Miss Witherspoon Is Named Class Sponsor

Mrs. Anna Witherspoon, history teacher at the Wichita Falls high school, has been elected by a unanimous vote to serve as class sponsor for the 1926 graduating class. Mrs. Witherspoon, who has served for two years preceding as sponsor for the class is a general favorite with the students who were anxious to have her sponsor their last year in the institution.

High School Students Are Ready for First Contests in Austin

Seven Wichita Falls high school students, accompanied by their sponsor, Miss Juanita Kinsey, public speaking director at the school, left Wednesday afternoon for Austin where they will attempt to bring back to this city the major literary and tennis honors at the state meet starting today.

Wichita is sending no track or field athletes this year and consequently is due to lose the state championship track cup won last year through the stellar work of Leo Baldwin.

To make up for that the school will again shine in the literary events, if predictions of critics who have heard the local contestants amount to anything. In girls declamation Dorothy Reed will attempt to carry away high honors for the second time. She won the state championship in the junior division in 1921.

In boys debate Price McCullough and Emmett Banknight will represent the school, and here again will be a strong team. In the ex tempore speaking will be William Atkinson.

The three representatives in tennis, Marjorie Bright, Oscar Powers and Sam Bashara also accompanied the literary quartet.

Though the meet will last three days, all of the Wichita Falls contestants will see action this morning. The debaters will draw for places and probably meet in their first contest. The preliminaries in girls declamation and ex tempore speaking will also be held, according to the state program.

In the tennis all the first round matches in both girls and boys divisions will be played off.

North Texas Furniture To Give Demonstration Of Estate Gas Range

Miss Loretta Hayes, home economic expert, has been secured by the North Texas Furniture company to give a three days cooking school and demonstration of the Estate Gas Range handled by the store. Classes will be held for the women of Wichita Falls each day at 2:30 o'clock, Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoons of this week, it is announced by J. W. Bradley of the store.

Miss Hayes will demonstrate the "double boiler" feature of the Estate oven and will reveal many baking secrets. A miniature model of the Estate Range will be given away during the three days classes, and free cook books will be given to the women who attend.

The management of the North Texas Furniture company extends an invitation to all women of the city to attend the school free of charge.

Spanish American War Veterans Plan For Decoration Day

Spanish American war veterans will meet Wednesday, May 13, to make plans for a mammoth Decoration day parade to be held in conjunction with all other patriotic societies and organizations of the city. Committees will be appointed to meet with similar committees from the various organizations to work out detailed plans, according to W. R. Duke, adjutant of the local veterans' camp.

"We are planning to make the parade bigger and better than the one last year which was the biggest of its kind ever held here," Mr. Duke stated. "Beside bands, floats and uniformed bodies we expect to have in the line of march Battery F, a unit of the United States army field artillery from Fort Sill."

Flowers will be placed on every soldier's grave in the city, it is planned, and the graves will be especially marked by advance committees so that they may be easily located on Decoration day. The American legion, the Boy Scouts, the Camp Fire Girls and other patriotic organizations are expected to take part in the observance of Decoration day, it was stated.

Junior High Classes Study Constitution

The pupils of the Junior high school have just completed an examination on the Constitution of the United States. According to announcement received Wednesday from Professor H. A. Glass this is the first school in the state to study and take an examination on it. Ninety-five per cent of the whole school made good grade on it.

Several weeks ago small booklets containing twelve lessons on the Constitution was distributed among the students of the school. They studied it and then took the examination. Mr. Glass states that they learned it in such a way that it will be a great help to them and that they always remember it.
