UN Receives US Plans For Korean Peace

NEW YORK, Sept. 28. (AP)—American sources today outlined a six-point peace formula for Korea calling for a unified country to be put back on its feet by the combined resources of the United Nations.

The elements the United States considers essential for Korea's future follow close proposals advanced by Britain and Canada. The British are rushing work on a post-war plan for the nation.

NO BASES

American informants said the "United States has no desire for bases or special privileges in Korea" and wants the country to be free from the domination of any other nation.

It also desires Korea's admission to the U.N. and the organization of the country in such a way that it "will pose no threats to its neighbors"—China and the Soviet Union.

Basic in the whole American idea is the establishment of a strong U. N. commission with wide authority to handle on the scene the multiplicity of post-war problems in the country. The U. S. favors strong Asian representation on that commission.

The informants said the actual peace terms with the North Koreans are regarded as a "military decision." This leaves it up to Gen. MacArthur's command to determine how and where it will accept the capitulation of the Communists.

The informants gave this detailed outline of the American position:

1. Korea must be a free, independent and united country. This obviously means wiping out the old division of the country along the 38th parallel.

2. Methods for Korea's unification can be best devised by having a strong United Nations commission in the area. In the present circumstances it would be unwise to develop detailed blueprints here. The commission should have authority to deal with the problems on the scene in consultation with MacArthur's command and the people of Korea.

3. The Korean people to be consulted should be chosen in free elections by secret ballot on the basis of universal suffrage. It would be up to the commission to determine what elections were needed. There would have to be a general election in North Korea but since the South Korean elections of last May are recognized as valid by—elections might be the only thing needed there to fill war-caused gaps in the assembly's ranks.

4. Strong emphasis should be placed on the whole problem of reconstruction. The United States wants Korea designated as a "Pilot project" in which all the resources of the U. N. would be brought to bear on the problem.

5. No single nation should be dominant in the selection of the Korean problem.

6. Korea must be set up in such a way as to pose no threat to her neighbors. The nation should be admitted to the U. N. and assume the charter's obligations.

Politics And Crime Link Up To Be Studied

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 28. (AP)—The Senate Crime Investigating Committee today opened hearings expected to delve into the political interests of the underworld.

Approximately 30 witnesses have been summoned for the hearings which will continue through Saturday.

Among those subpoenaed is former State Atty. Gen. Roy McKittrick, a Missouri candidate for governor in 1948.

TELLS OF OFFER

McKittrick previously had testified that Charles Binaggio, Kansas City northside Democratic leader, offered $30,000 if he would withdraw from the gubernatorial race and run for attorney general.

Binaggio supported the present governor, Forrest Smith.

Last April 5 Binaggio and his henchman, Charles Gargotta, were shot to death. Their slayers have never been found.

Other witnesses include several persons whose names have been linked with — Mafia, secret Sicilian society. The committee is expected to look into the political interests of Mafia.

FIRST TOP

Kansas City is the committee's first stop in a series of hearings on gambling and organized crime. Other scheduled stops include Chicago and Philadelphia.

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn), chairman of the committee, said on his arrival here last night that the purpose of the hearings will be to get a clear picture of interstate crime.

"Our job is not to solve crime—although we would be gald to do that if it should come out in any hearing," he said. "But we do not try to supersede or interfere in what is primarily a local law enforcement matter."

Barrier Slowdown Into Berlin Lifted By Reds

HELMSTEDT, Germany, Sept. 28. (AP)—East German border guards speeded up their clearing of Berlin-bound trucks at the zonal frontier to almost normal rate today after the latest in a long series of unexplained slowdowns.

More than 150 trucks from western Germany still were queued in front of the barrier, however.

The long queue grew yesterday when the Communists staged one of their periodic slowdowns, passing trucks across the border at the rate of only two or three an hour.

Scurry Well Is Abandoned In Ellenburger

Seventeen miles southwest of Snyder, W. C. McBride Inc. No. 1 E. M. Conrad has been quit as a dry hole in the Ellenburger at total depth of 8,235 feet.

The failure is 660 feet from the south and west lines of section 73, block 25, H&TC survey. Last operation on the No. 1 Conrad was a drillstem test taken in the top of the Ellenburger at 8,217-8,235 feet. Recovery was 400 feet of sulphur water with no shows of oil or gas.

That formation was topped at 8,271 feet. Elevation was 2,219 feet.

W. R. BELL

Standard Oil Co. of Texas has staked its No. 3-2 W. R. Bell, outside of production on the northwest side of the Kelley Snyder field in Scurry County.

It is one location due west of Standard No. 1 W. R. Bell, a producer.

Location is 660 feet from north and 1,667feet from the east lines of the southeast quarter of section 382, block 97, H&TC survey.

Rotary tools will be used in drilling to 7,000 feet. Operations will begin in the near future.

Drillsite is—seven and one-half miles northwest of Snyder.

PENNSYLVANIAN

Midland County wildcat has found flowing oil in the Pennsylvanian lime. This project, C. W. Murchison and associates No. 1 Joe Canon, et al, 24 miles southwest of the city of Midland flowed at the estimated rate of between 25 and 35 barrels of oil an hour for a short time on a drillstem test at 10,370-578 feet.

No water was developed. The prospector was originally started to drill to 13,500 feet to explore the Ellenburger. It probably will be carried on down to that formation.

This new development is one and three-quarters of a mile north and slightly west of the nearest completed Ellenburger producer in the Pegasus multipay field. That producer is Magnolia Petroleum Co. No. 3-30 Glass.

The Murchison No. 1 Canon is 660 feet from south and east lines

Meat Price Drop Expected As Marketing of Stock Increases

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28. (AP) — Government promises of larger supplies and lower prices of meat today showed signs of fulfilment.

As the Agriculture Department predicted several weeks ago, the movement of cattle and hogs from farms to slaughter market is beginning to increase. Likewise, slaughterers are beginning to cut their buying prices. These price cuts should soon be reflected in retail price levels.

USUAL TREND

It is normal for meat supplies to be lowest and prices highest in the late summer. That is the season of smallest marketings of meat animals. Farmers are busy then with crop cultivating and harvesting operations and with fattening of meat animals.

Normally, farm sales begin to expand in late September. They usually reach the year's highest level in December and January. Similarly, prices generally are lowest during those months.

As evidence of increasing meat supplies, the Agriculture Department reported that meat production by federally-inspected slaughterers last week totaled 328 million pounds. This was an increase of 6 per cent over the previous week and 11 per cent above production in the correspondent week last year.

PORK MOST

The bulk of this increase was pork. Hog slaughter was 9 per cent greater than in the previous week.

Market receipts of hogs last week were said to have been the largest for the season to date and of record proportions for this time of year.

Supplies of beef cattle at major markets also were the largest of the season. Receipts showed an increase over the previous week, but unlike hogs were considerably smaller than a year ago.

UN Diplomats Deny Rumors

(By the Associated Press)

Top diplomats at the UN and in several capitals continued today to deny any knowledge of rumored peace feelers by the North Koreans.

The report circulating in New York yesterday that the Korean Communists had offered, through Indian UN representatives, to stop fighting and accept a UN settlement was discounted by authoritative sources.

High foreign ministry officials in New Delhi said today "no such proposals have reached us," and they had no information to support the rumors.

A British foreign spokesman in London also denied any knowledge of such reported peace feelers, either in the United Nations or through an intermediary power.

Sir Benegal N. Rau, India's chief delegate to the UN, yesterday denied his delegation had been chosen as the "go-between" in any North Korean peace negotiations.

American officials both at the UN and at the State Department in Washington said they knew nothing about the rumors. UN Sec. Gen. Trygve Lie also disclaimed knowledge of the report.

Russia's Delegate Jacob A. Malik, when shown the dispatches sent by two news agencies which had attributed the report to authoritative sources in the UN merely shrugged his shoulders and said he knew nothing about the report.

School Enrollment Is About 3,400; Four New Buildings Near Finish

The number of students in regular attendance in the Snyder schools now stands about 3,400, according to an estimate of M. E. Stanfield, superintendent, who said this morning that no definite taliy had been made since early last week.

Attendance increased with about 75 new students enrolling Monday, he said, and any increase since then has probably been slight.

A definite count is expected to be made tomorrow, he added.

Four temporary classroom buildings being erected on the campus of the northwest elementary school are nearing completion, Stanfield said, and will probably be finished late this week or in the first part of next week. Then two buildings will be started on the junior high school campus.

The system will have a total of 15 temporary buildings constructed on the five campuses to take care of the overflow enrollment.

Britain Won't Let Communist-Sponsored Group Meet in England

LONDON, Sept. 28. (AP) — Sponsors of a Red-tinged "Second World Peace Congress" hinted today they will shelve plans to hold it in Britain.

Faced by a labor government edict that Foreign Reds will be refused entry visas, the sponsors said a meeting of the group planning the six-day demonstration will be shifted from London to Prague, Czechoslovakia.

The Congress was scheduled Nov. 14 to Nov. 19 in Sheffield.

Prime Minister Attlee told the committee yesterday the foreign office will not "allow foreigners to come to the United Kingdom for the purpose of organizing the congress."

Feather Merchants Won't Have Business Derided Any Longer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28. (AP)—The feather industry has its feathers ruffled, and it's all because of foam rubber.

This came out yesterday at a Federal Trade Commission (FTC) hearing.

The FTC is trying to work out fair trade rules for the feather and down people, who make everything from down comforts to arctic jackets. And the hearing barely had started before Emanuel Licht of New York took over.

REPRESENTS GROWERS

He's a duck man himself. Represents the growers out on Long Island.

Licht said he'd like the fair trade code to forbid a feather merchant from advertising his product as "non-allergic."

"Non-allergic," it turns out, is a fighting term in the feather industry.

"The foam rubber business," Licht said, "has got the public fully prejudiced against feathers."

They began their campaign in 1948. They derided our industry, and claimed that their product is non-allergic."

Here Licht paused for effect.

NO SUCH ANIMAL

"There isn't such a thing as non-alergic rubber," he said. "Nothing is non-allergic in itself. People can be allergic to anything."

James A. Bialock, conducting the hearing for the FTC, wondered if many of the feather and down people had referred to allergies in their ads.

Licht said he's seen only one so far, but he thought that was too many. Furthermore, he said, he didn't think the rubber interests should be allowed to advertise that way either.

Since no rubber people were present, the head nodding was almost unanimous.

Red Invaders In Flight; Seoul Battle At An End

Re-Arrest Set For Brassiere Brigade Girls

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 28. (AP) — Orders went out today to re-arrest eight members of Miami's "brassiere brigade" and authorities moved to recover some of the stimated $100,000 loot.

The Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co. signed complaints against six women and husbands of two of them. County Solicitor Robert R. Taylor ordered their re-arrest.

Those named in the re-arrest order were:

Marie Orr, 21, her mother, Mrs. Gladys Orr, 47; Mrs. Bonnie Jean Herbert, 22 her husband, Lawrence, 23; Mrs. Betty Corrigan, 23; her husband, William Edward, 24; Mrs. Billy Ruth McNabb, 27; and Mrs. Rita Orr, 18.

Circuit Judge George E. Holt signed an order impounding all money, automobiles and other property of 11 persons allegedly involved in the case, including $10,000 now in the hands of the court.

The tieup of property included the eight named in the criminal action together with Michael Orr, 21, husband of Rita; Cecelia Hay, 20, and William Matthew Albert, 21, who police said was engaged to marry Marie Orr.

Lovett Picked To Fill Early Defense Post

ROBERT A. LOVETT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28. (AP) — Former Undersecretary of State Robert A. Lovett was picked by President Truman today to be deputy secretary of defense.

He succeeds Stephen T. Early, who is leaving the defense post Saturday to return to private business.

Lovett is a close friend of Secretary of Defense Marshall, under whom he served as undersecretary of state. He is now in the investment banking business.

Mr. Truman telephoned Lovett at his home at Lucust Valley, N. Y., offered him the appointment and got a prompt acceptance.

It had been expected from the time Mr. Truman named Gen. Marshall as defense secretary, after the resignation of Louis A. Johnson, that Marshall would call upon Lovett to serve under him.

Since Congress is not in session Lovett will be given a recess appointment. The appointment later will be subject to Senate confirmation.

Senate approval is expected.

Lovett, a 55-year-old native of Huntsville, Tex., served as special assistant to the secretary of war in 1940 and 1941. He later became assistant secretary of war for air, a post he held until December, 1945.

Free Beer Shipment Sent To Fighters On Korean War Fronts

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28. (AP) — The armed forces in Korea are going to get 1,200,000 free cans of beer, a gift from brewing interests.

The Army yesterday accepted the offers of 600,000 cans each from the Joseph Schlitz Brewing Co., Milwaukee, and Schenley Industries, Inc., New York.

The Army said the offer was made some time ago after a ration of one can a day to front line troops had been cut off. There were some complaints in Congress and elsewhere about issuance of beer to fighting men, but the Army said it had received no formal complaints from organizations.

Red China Accuses U. S. Of Shelling One Of Her Merchant Ships

LONDON, Sept. 28. (AP) — Communist China has charged a U. S. destroyer shelled one of her merchant fleet in Chinese waters and demanded a hearing before the United Nations General Assembly.

Foreign Minister Chou En-lai, in a message broadcast over Radio Peiping, said the merchant vessel was "shelled on Sept. 21 off the Shantung Peninsula." He described the incident as the latest in a series of American provocations and called on UN Sec. Gen. Trygve Lie to admit Red China to the assembly to recount her grievances.

Vienna Riots Continue For The Third Day

By RICHARD O'REGAN
(Associated Press Staff)

VIENNA, Sept. 28. — Scattered Communist disturbances broke out for the third day in Vienna this morning as Russian-organized Red workers continued to harass the Austrian government.

Communists seized control of two Danube River bridges connecting suburbs in the Russian sector of the four power city with the central part of the town.

One railroad station on the line from Vienna to Bratislava, in Czechoslovakia, also was occupied by Communist demonstrators —but the Austrian government diverted trains by another route.

The Danube bridges — one of which bears the name of the "bridge of the Red Army" — were blocked by automobiles and Communists sitting astride the road.

In another Russian sector, Reds held up street car traffic for several hours.

The demonstrations were all restricted to Russian districts of Vienna.

Austrian Chancellor Dr. Leopold Figl's press officer said the situation was much calmer than in the last two days, during which the Communists staged strikes, demonstrations and traffic interruptions. They said they were protesting government wage and price increase.

Allied quarters said today the Communists have some justification for their protests, since the wage increases are not equal to those of prices, particularly food.

There was a back-to-work movement in many factories, although in some Russian-controlled factories workers remained on strike.

Snyder Housing Is Up Three Times Over 1940

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28. (AP) — The number of dwelling units in Texas increased from 1,804,884 in 1940 to 2,398,125 as of April 1, 1950, the Census Bureau reported today.

The 1950 figure is preliminary and may be revised before the official 1950 census figures are approved, Director Roy V. Peel of the census bureau said.

Virtually every city and county in Texas showed an increase in housing in the decade.

The report, listing 1950 figures first and then 1940, showed:

Ector County 13,214 and 4,677, Odessa 9,461 and 3,030; Howard County 8,274 and 5,892, Big Spring 5,593 and 3,692; Kerr County 4,930 and 3,739, Kerrville 2,616 and 1,661; Lubbock County 31,430 and 14,888, Lubbock 21,749 and 9,111; Midland County 7,954 and 3,576, Midland 6,794 and 2,862; Scurry County 7,594 and 3,313, Snyder 3,972 and 1,150; Taylor County 19,993 and 12,477, Abilene 14,503 and 7,879; Tom Green County 18,210 and 11,283, San Angelo 16,321 and 9,882; Val Verde County 4,860 and 4,036, Del Rio 3,996 and 3,340.

General Dean Said To Be In Hands Of Reds

By JACK MacBETH
(Associated Press Staff)

WITH U. S. FIRST CAVALRY DIVISION, Korea, Sept. 28.—American counter-intelligence officers said today South Korean informers reported they recently overheard Communist Army officers planning to move Gen. William F. Dean from Chongju's stockade to Seoul. Gen. Dean has been missing since the July retreat from Taejon.

Gen. Dean was commander of the U. S. 24th Division.

Three South Koreans who escaped from the Chongju stockade told American officers they heard North Korean officers discussing Gen. Dean on Saturday.

REMOVAL TO SEOUL

This was in connection with the reported plan for his removal to Seoul.

The American did not say whether the South Korean informers actually had seen the general before they escaped from the stockade.

Chongju was captured by the First Cavalry Division in a 100-mile advance from Poun Tuesday.

The South Koreans were quoted as confirming repirts that 200 civilians in the Chongju stockade were massacred before the Reds pulled out of the city.

DISAPPEARS

Gen. Dean disappeared July 20 during the battle for Taejon.

He was last reported passing ammunition to a bazooka team and directing fire as Communist tanks entered the city.

The Army listed him as missing in action.

There were reports he escaped from Taejon but had disappeared on his way to American lines. His staff officers never lost hope. "The general can take care of himself," they said.

There was one report he was wounded. It was not confirmed.

Luck Lands Chicago Cabbie On Swank Girls College Faculty

HOLLINS, Va., Sept. 28. (AP) — The slip of paper the lady passenger handed the cab driver was a pretty good tip. It turned out to be his passport from taxi jockey to college professor.

How does a cabbie become a college professor?

"Easy," said Peter Spycher. "Just be sure to pick up the right passengers."

There was really quite a bit more to it than that, however.

PILOTS CAB

Spycher's Swiss accent made it summer in Evanston, Ill., when Miss Grace Edwards, assistant professor of religion and philosophy here at Hollins College, hailed him. She was late for a luncheon date and neither she nor the cab driver seemed to know how to reach her destination. She didn't know the exact street address. He had a map of the city, but without the street number the map didn't help much.

Spycher's Swiss accen made it a bit tougher for both.

Another cab driver resolved the difficulty and offered directions. Miss Edwards and Spycher chatted quite a bit during the ride. And when she reached the place for her luncheon date she handed him the slip of paper. It was the name and address of Dr. John R. Everett, president of Hollins. Miss Edwards went into lunch. Spycher drove away.

PROF. NOW

Came the start of the fall term here this month and Miss Edwards met the Evanston cab driver again. But he was now Dr. Peter Spycher, new professor of French and German at Hollins.

Miss Edwards' slip of paper had tipped Spycher to the job. Also helpful was the fact he holds a Ph. D. from the University of Zurich in Switzerland, and taught last year at the University of Kansas. He held a one-year teaching contract there under the special exchange program of the Institute of International Education.

CONTRACT EXPIRES

The contract expired in June. And that's how Dr. Spycher came to be in Evanston, driving a cab. He didn't want to return to Switzerland and he figured his talents might run, among other things, to cab driving.

Which of the jobs does Dr. Spycher prefer? Cab driving or teaching modern languages?

"Instructing lovely young ladies in French and German," said the Swiss in his 17-jewel accent, "as you might say, a darn sight better."

Whole Army Of Communists Is In Peril

Only Sporadic Action Reported In Other Sections Of Front

TOKYO, Friday, Sept. 29—The Red invaders of South Korea were fleeing headlong north towards the 38th parallel today, their last resistance inside Seoul at an end and their entire army in imminent danger of annihilation.

A U. S. Tenth Corps communique early today said the enemy from Seoul withdrew along roads leading north to Uijongbu. That is 12 miles north of the Korean capitol and only 18 miles south of the 38th parallel boundary which the Communists crossed in their surprise assault June 25.

The communique, at 3:05 A. M. (12 noon Thursday, CST) covered operations through midnight Thursday Korean Time (9 A. M. Thursday, CST).

TAKE SEOUL

It said the U. S. First Marine Division cleared out pockets of resistance high ground north and northwest of the city. Enemy resistance in Seoul and occupied Dominating high ground north and Clared at an end.

Inside Seoul, AP Correspondent Don Whitehead quoted Col. Lewis "Chesty" Puller, commanding the First Marine regiment, that the last Reds fled the city at 6 P. M. Wednesday, (3 A. M. Wednesday, CST), but the Tenth Corp communique implied that some slight resistance had been cleaned up after that hour.

Thursday, Marines and U. S. Infantry marched at ease through the ruined streets while thousands of civilians emerged from hiding places and began the terrific job of cleaning debris, Whitehead reported.

Elsewhere in South Korea there were small, sporadic flashes of action as North Korean troops turned and fought briefly and ineffectually.

The Tenth Corps reported one such action when the U S., 187th Airborne Regimental combat team captured the village of Kumpo, Northwest of Seoul and near Kimpo airfield, chasing an enemy battalion.

Red positions in caves and on two hills about 25 miles south of Seoul, between Suwon and Osan, were reported wiped out by two battalions of the U. S. Seventh Infantry and Marine planes.

RETAKE CITIES

To the south, the Americans recaptured the cities of Taejon, Namwon and Hadong.

Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, commanding the U. S. Eighth Army, told correspondents at his headquarters in the south:

"The North Korean Army is in complete rout and no longer exists as an organized force."

Ninety-one American prisoners-of-war were rescued in the latter two southern towns. Ten were litter cases at Hadong. All had been abandoned by fleeing Communists.

Tank-paced columns of the U. S. 25th Division liberated 80 American prisoners at Namwon, 42 miles northwest of Shinju, and 11 at Hadong, 20 miles southwest of Chinju. It was the largest number of Americans liberated thus far in the three month Korean war.

AP Correspondent Stan Swinton reported white-clad South Korean civilians cheered and waved Korean flags as the American columns pushed ahead on the southern roads almost unopposed.

TAEJON RETAKEN

Taejon, highway-rail hub 90 miles south of Seoul, was recaptured by the U. S. 24th Division, two months and seven days after its out-numbered and out-gunned elements yielded the city to the onrushing Red hordes.

Raked by allied fighter bombers, Red columns fled from Seoul toward the 38th Parallel, 35 miles north of the South Korean capital. B-29s were bombing the escape route ahead of the Reds.

A spokesman at MacArthur's headquarters reported 1,700 Reds were killed, 750 captured and 11 tanks hit between Seoul and Uijongbu to the north.

Gen. Walker said all Red forces

Sports World Has New Respect For World Champion Charles

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Staff)

NEW YORK, Sept. 28. — Joe Louis knows today that they never come back.

Ezzard Charles, a vastly underrated heavyweight champion, buried the ghost of Louis last night at Yankee Stadium in 15 cruel rounds. It was the same sad story that Jack Dempsey and Jim Jeffries learned years ago. You can't beat father time.

Puffed to 218 and shaky in his timing, Louis absorbed a bloody beating in his unfortunate bid to become the first heavyweight champion ever to recaptured his battle. He missed by plenty.

The 29-year-old Charles did everything but knock out the bewildered Joe Louis of 1950, a 36-year-old man whose iron fists had rusted away. Joe groped blindly toward the top rope in the 14th to save himself. He probably wouldn't have lasted many more rounds.

"I just didn't have it," he said in his dressing room, swabbing his swollen-shut left eye with an ice pack.

"I just didn't have it in any department."

He didn't have to say so. It was obvious. Only in the 10th round when he hurt Charles with a flash of the crowd of 22,357 that paid a gross $205,370. Some 25,000,000 more watched on television.

BRILLIANT FIGHT

Charles fought a brilliant fight to earn the unanimous vote of all three officials. Referee Mark Conn gave him a 10-5 edge, Judge Joe Agnello 12-3 and Joe Frank Forbes 13-2. The AP card had it 12-2 with one even.

It is too bad that Louis' failure will take much of the overdue credit away from Charles. The lean 184 1-2 pound Cincinnati Negro, previously recognized as National Boxing Association champ, now is also certified in New York State.

The British recognized Lee Savold of Paterson, N. J. as their champ. He may be next on the list for Charles.

"I'd like to fight Savold or anybody" said Charles.

Louis was the popular favorite as well as the 5 to 8½ betting choice last night. But at the end, everybody had new respect for Charles.

This was no awed youngster in there with Louis. Sure, he was fighting his old idol and friend. But he came out punching.

Hooking to the body, throwing a right hand to the head, Ezzy completely outboxed Louis. Joe plodded straight ahead in his usual style but when he caught Charles he couldn't put over the old equalizer.

HIT AND MOVE

Throwing hard body punches and moving in close before Louis could counter was the Charles victory pattern. It was fool-proof. When he chose to hit and run, his going-away punches were more effective than Louis' whistling right hands into the air. The way he moved on top of Louis you would never suspect he was the man giving away 33 1-2 pounds.

Ezzard was in trouble twice, in the fourth and 10th. A left-right to the head buckled his knees in the fourth but he came back strong at the bell. Louis had his one big chance in the 10th when he shook up Charles with a short right to the head and chased him the rest of the round. He never could set him up.

Charles got the short end of the purse; about $57,405, counting his slice of the $140,000 radio and TV cash.

Louis, who said he made his comeback to get money to pay up income tax debts, will receive about $100,458 for his share of the fight and radio money.

Asked if his pay fixed him up financially, Louis mumbled a brief, "Yeah."

Pennant Bound Yanks, Phils May End Their Suspense Today

AP STAFF

So near and yet so far.

Both the Philadelphia Phillies in the National and the New York Yankees in the American are within two victories of a World Series meeting but the road is strewn with glass.

The Yanks and the Phils have a chance to end it all today but the task is not as easy as it appears on paper.

New York can clinch with the help of the St. Louis Browns. The Yanks will have to beat the Philadelphia Athletics and the Browns must co-operate by downing the Detroit Tigers in order to assure New York of its 17th pennant.

The Phils can nail down their first flag since 1915 by taking a doubleheader from the tough New York Giants. The Phillies can also win if they split with the Giants while the Brooklyn Dodgers divide with Boston or if the Dodgers lose a doubleheader to the Braves.

Here's the picture in both leagues

Phila.	90	60	.600		4
Brooklyn	85	63	.574	4	6

Both the Yanks and Phils missed opportunities yesterday to take charge. The Yanks fumbled a chance to assure themselves of no worse than a tie by dropping an 8-7 decision to the Athletics while the Tigers nosed out St. Louis, 5-4.

The Phils boshed an opportunity to clinch the pennant by dropping a doubleheader to the Giants, 8-7, in 10 innings and losing 5-0. The Dodgers divided with the Braves, winning the opener, 9-6, but losing the nightcap, 4-2. A Philly sweep and the flag would have been in the bag.

Sam Chapman doomed the Yanks by banging a two-run homer off Whitey Ford in the ninth inning to win the game. The loss was Ford's first compared to nine victories.

The A's rolled up a 5-1 lead during the first six innings for sore armed Joe Coleman. The roof fell in on Coleman in the seventh when the Yanks scored six runs to take a 7-5 lead. Yogi Berra knocked in three runs with his 27th homer and second of the game. Johnny Mize completed the uprising with his 25th homer. The A's got one back in their half to set the stage for Chapman's game-winning clout.

The Tigers scored four runs in the sixth inning, three on a homer by Pat Mullin, to take a 4-1 lead against St. Louis but Art Houtteman, seeking his 20th victory couldn't hold it. Houtteman was knocked out in the ninth when the Browns squared matters. The Tigers came back to win in the last half when Hoot Evers flied out with the bases loaded to score Johnny Groth.

The Giants piled up a 7-2 lead over the Phils but the Whiz Kids tied it up with five runs in the eighth only to lose in the tenth when Al Dark singled home Monte Irvin from second base. Jim Hearn shut out the Phils on seven hits in the finale to win his 11th game and ninth without a loss over Philadelphia in his career.

The Dodgers pulled the opener out over Boston with a four run eighth inning rally that Gil Hodges featured with a three-run homer. The Braves won the nightcap when Bob Elliott cracked a grand slam homer in the sixth off Erv Palica.

Washington eliminated the third place Boston Red Sox by sweeping a doubleheader at Fenway Park, 2-0 and 6-3, behind Con Marrero and Gene Bearden.

In other games Bob Feller shutout the Chicago White Sox, 7 to 0, for Cleveland; Pittsburgh trounced the Chicago Cubs, 7-4; and the St. Louis Cardinals blanked Cincinnati, 1-0, behind Harry Brecheen's three-hitter.

San Antonio Evens Score in Dixie Series

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 28. (AP) — Nashville and San Antonio headed here today, all square in the Dixie Series at one game each.

San Antonio, the Texas League playoff winner, last night hung a 10-5 licking on the Southern Association titlist.

The teams resume the best four of seven series here, tomorrow night.

Hal Hudson held Nashville to seven hits, while his mates banged 11 and took advantage of eight Vol errors.

San Antonio broke loose in the sixth inning for four runs and that started the Missions to a one-sided win.

Southwest Conference Coaches Singing Usual Pre-Game Blues

(By the Associated Press)

Southwest Conference football squads started tapering off today for Saturday's full schedule of games.

There were notes of gloom here and there.

Otis Douglas, whose Arkansas team was upset last week by Oklahoma A&M, threatened to keep his squad out until dark yesterday if "you don't do better." He sent them in at 5:30, but didn't appear very happy over the workout.

Southern Methodist Coach H. N. (Rusty) Russell said the Mustangs' practice yesterday went "pretty slow." He drilled his regulars on defense against Ohio State plays, as run by the subs.

Texas Christian University Coach L. R. (Dutch) Meyer sent his offensive team through a dummy scrimmage, but worked his reserves hard against Oklahoma A&M running plays.

Texas A&M, 48-18 victor over Nevada last week, skipped through another long session. The Aggies are expected to be in top physical shape for Texas Tech Saturday night.

Rice, prepping for its season opener against Santa Clara, got the news that Halfback Teddy Riggs and Tackle Charley Bittner have been alerted for active duty with the Marines. They are expected to be available to play against the Broncs.

Baylor got a lift when Veteran Halfback Buddy Parker decided he'd play this season. He previously had said he would skip football and sign a professional baseball contract.

Texas added another sophomore to its starting lineup when Hugh Reeder was given the task of filling in for injured Center Dick Rowan, out with a dislocated elbow.

Fullback Byron Townsend and Guard Jim Pakenham missed the workout because of injuries.

One-Man Reunion Held In Biloxi, Mississippi

BILOXI, Miss., Sept. 28. (AP) — A one-man reunion of the United Confederate veterans was in full swing here today with business sessions of various Confederate organizations, memorial services, a luncheon and a plantation party.

The lone Confederate veteran attending is Gen. James W. Moore, 98, of Selma, Ala., commander of the UCV.

Undaunted by the failure of his comrades in greay to attend, he said he expected another reunion to be held in Norfolk, Va., in 1951.

The reunions of the UCV, the Sons of the Confederacy, the Sons of Confederate Officers, the Order of the Stars and Bars and the Confederate Memorial Assn. opened last night.

south of the Pusan-Taejon-Seoul highway, winding diagonally from Southeast Korea to the northwest, will be annihilated. Any possibility of organized Red retreat from the south was doomed Tuesday by the link-up of armored columns from the Inchon and Pusan beachheads.

That line now is "secure," Walker said.

Gen. MacArthur's spokesman said a Communist buildup was observed around Suwon, in the northern corner of the huge allied trap. He added that it had "potentialities of being dangerous," but added:

"It is difficult to say at this time whether the enemy in this buildup is prepared to fight on whether they are just trying to get out."

For a new taste-treat frost a cake with banana frosting. To make it cream a quarter cup of butter or margarine; add four cups of sifted confectioners' sugar, alternately with a half a cup of mashed ripe banana and a half a teaspoon of lemon juice. Joe Says He's Had Enough

NEW YORK, Sept. 28. (AP) — After the long, hard road Joe Louis traveled to attempt a comeback, he lost like a champion—a champion sportsman, at least.

As quiet and monosyllabic as ever, the big Brown Bomber who never exploded in Yankee Stadium last night took his decisive defeat by seven-years-younger Ezzard Charles without an alibi or a whimper. He reached the end of the road the way he had come up—with class. But now Joe says, he's had enough.

Charles the conqueror was almost as quiet in his dressing room, although obviously enjoying his greatest moment in victory. He did not boast about winning a unanimous verdict over the man who used to be his idol, but had only praise for his victim.

Not so delucet was the comment from Jake Mintz, his Pittsburgh pilot who never was noted for reticence. Voluble Jake took full advantage of the happy occasion. Asked who Charles would fight now, he guessed:

"We'll fight anybody, but we'll have to have the champion's end. He came up the hard way, and always have taken the short end. Now we're champ, and anybody who fights us must take the challenger's end. That goes for Lee Savold, too. We didn't recognize no European world champion.

GOP Cashing In On Truman Marine Letter

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28. (AP)—The Marine Corps may have forgiven President Truman for calling it a police force, but some Republicans are out to see that the famous letter isn't forgotten.

A number were disclosed today to have made plans to use the letter in their campaigns for re-election, accusing the President of having blundered when he wrote it.

One House member, himself a former Marine, was reported to have had 50,000 photographic copies made of the letter Mr. Truman sent to Rep. McDonaugh (R-Calif), a month ago.

Superimposed over the letter is a photo showing two weary Marines, hiding behind a dirt mound and ready to shoot, with one of them saying to the other: "So this is a police action.

Colleagues who told of his action declined to identify the congressman.

McDonough said he has received several attractive bids from persons who want to buy the original. He is going to let the Marine Corps League, an organization of ex-Leatherknecks, decide who shall be allowed to buy it after all bids are in. No offer less than $1,000 will be considered, and the letter won't be sold to "crackpots," he said.

The league, McDonough said, will get the money.

McDonough said he has no doubt about legality of selling the letter.

"It was sent to me and it is mine," he explained. "I can do with it what I want."

Gifford Appointment To Court Of St. James's Surprises Party

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
(Associated Press Staff)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—In political circles around Washington, a lot of people were puzzled today by the way President Truman has been filling top level government jobs.

One thing appears true on the record. The victors have not been getting all the spoils, and the President has denied key jobs to some of his most effective money raisers in the 1948 campaign.

The newest appointment to occasion such surprise is that of Walter S. Gifford, former head of American Telephone and Telegraph Co., as ambassador to London. It was announced yesterday.

GOOD GOP

Far from being a good Democrat, Gifford was found to be down in administration political reference books as a good Republican. And he was not given just any diplomatic post; in terms of prestige, he got the best. Traditionally the assignment to the court of St. James's had often been a prize political plum.

Gifford said in a statement from New York that he was "very happy for the opportunity which the appointment . . . gives me to be of service in these critical times."

His selection fit a pattern noted in other recent personnel changes.

Louis Johnson, whom Mr. Truman let out two weeks ago as secretary of defense, was one af the President's most industrious backers in the 1948 election campaign. Many insiders credit him with raising the funds to fuel the drive which produced the Truman victory.

BIPARTISAN

Now Johnson is completely out of the administration — replaced by Gen. George C. Marshall, who has said he spent so many years as a soldier that he never developed any personal politics. When he served formerly as secretary of state, Marshall ran a strictly bipartisan shop and kept rigidly clear of political involvements.

In order to name Gifford to London Mr. Truman had to refuse the assignment to former Ambassador James Bruce, who had previously served as envoy to Argentina and as director of the European rearmament program in the State Department.

Like Johnson, Bruce is reported to have contributed generously to the 1948 political war chest and to have "raised" additional funds. Months ago newsmen heard that the President had told him he would go to London when Ambassador Lewis Douglas quit.

But when Douglas sent word about three weeks ago that his health would not permit him to serve any longer, the President decided on Gifford. The decision apparently was made on Secretary of State Acheson's recommendation.

BREAKS NEWS

The President then faced the problem of breaking the news to Bruce. He imposed tight secrecy on the whole operation until Douglas came home and formally submitted his resignation.

Then he called in Bruce and told him Gifford would get the job. Bruce and the President are reliably reported to have quit as friends but the politicians are wondering how enthusiastically Bruce will regard any future Truman political contests.

Persons familiar with the President's views say he picked Gifford for the London post because he considered him the best qualified man for the job. He wanted some one with a knowledge of government operation, sound judgment, administrative ability and personal wealth.

Gifford had done government work during both world wars and in the early days of the depression. He could afford the extra expenses of being envoy to London. These may amount to as much as $25,000 a year above the $25,000 salary and about $15,000 in allowances which the job carries.

Also the fact that he is a Republican is regarded at the White House as strengthening bi-partisan foreign policy.

Massachusetts Visitor Speaks At Rotary Club

Guest speaker at the Rotary Club luncheon today was J. Paul Canty, of Milton, Mass., who is visiting his daughter here, Mrs. James H. George.

Canty, a field revenue agent for the federal income tax division in his home state, explained some of the chief points of difference between tax laws in Massachusetts and in Texas.

One of the chief differences, he pointed out, is that his state does not provide for filing a joint return by the husband and the wife because the state does not have a community property law.

Canty said his work is primarily with the underworld, checking on gamblers and other racketeers who often evade the income tax filings.

"We do not tax sponsors of lotteries or give-away programs held for charity purposes," Canty said, "but tax the winners."

Canty paid tribute to his director, Henry F. Long, who is not only well known in Massachusetts but also throughout the nation as a tax expert.

Canty is a former newspaperman, having been a sports writer for the Boston Post, the old Boston Record and the Boston Advertiser, and also a feature writer for the Newspaper Enterprise Association.

During World War I, he was official correspondent for the 76th Infantry Division.

His daughter here, Mrs. George, is one of seven sons and daughters who participated in active service during World War II. One of them, a son, was killed in action.

After Canty's speech, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Norred, who have been managing the Country Club and preparing meals there for more than two years, were presented with a bedspread as a gift from the Rotary Club. Lee Stinson made the presentation.

This was their last day of service at the country club. They will be doing similar work at the American Legion and V. F. W. hut in the Memorial Park.

October 15-21 Declared Oil Progress Week

AUSTIN, Sept. 28. (AP)— Gov. Allan Shivers today designated Oct. 15-21 as Texas Oil Progress Week, declaring the state's progress has been in direct proportion to the development of its petroleum resources by private enterprise.

"The petroleum industry is the largest contributor to the economy of Texas and to the support of its public institutions and government, Shivers observed in an official memorandum.

"The oil industry in Texas, as well as in the entire United States, is better prepared today than ever before to meet any national emergency because of consistent increase in the oil industry's capabity in all phases of production, refining and proved oil resources," the governor continued.

He said members of the oil industry will co-ouerate during Oil Progress Week in informing the public about the ways in which their industry has contributed to high standards of living and the preservation of a free democratic American way of life.

Sydney Wool Markets Slacking Off Some

SYDNEY, Sept. 28. (AP) — Sydney wool markets closed for the week with continued easing tendency.

This was more pronounced on top lines and broader quality wools.

Competition came chiefly from continent.

Greasy Merino fleece sold to 179¼ pence a pound.

Foot specialists report that children outgrow their shoes every one to six months until they are fifteen.

Free of Manslaughter Charges

Jacob Kiefer embraces his wife in Mineola, L. I., after being found innocent of manslaughter charges in the Long Island rail road wreck last February that cost 32 lives. Kiefer, 56, was engineer of a train which passed a stop signal and smashed head-on into another at Rockville Center. He testified he "blanked out" just before the accident.

British Delegates Working On Korea Plan In United Nations

NEW YORK, Sept. 28. (AP) — British delegates rushed work today on a four-point plan for post-war Korea which they hoped to present to the United Nations General Assembly tomorrow.

They are holding almost continuous conferences with other delegations to work out details and especially with Asian countries. The Asians would be called on, under the British proposal, to make up the greater part of the UN commission to supervise post-war Korea.

A source close to the Indian delegation said his country viewed the plan sympathetically and might even become a co-sponsor.

The plan, which still is subject to modification, envisages an independent, united Korea with a democratic government elected under UN supervision. The UN would continue to furnish assistance to prevent an armed attack and would set up the supervising commission.

American officials, reportedly in favor of the British recommendations, are expected to make positive contributions to the plan during talks today.

Another hot Asian problem comes up in the Security Council this afternoon when that body is expected to reach a vote on inviting Communist China to present in person her charges of American aggression on Formosa.

The consensus here is that Gen. MacArthur already has the necessary authority to chase retreating Reds into North Korea and that no explicit directive is necesary. The problem before the assembly, informed sources feel, is the political future of the war-torn country.

Koreans Ambush Bus

RANGOON, Burma, Sept. 28. (AP) —Rebel Karen tribesman ambushed a bus on the South Burma coast, killing 27 persons and wounding 16 others, an unofficial report said today. Two policemen were listed among the dead.

Taxes Prevent Expansion Of Paper Industry

ALEXANDRIA, La., Sept. 28. (AP) —Though six major paper plants have been established in the south since the end of the war, seven more are needed within the next five years, the Louisiana Forestry Assn. was advised yesterday.

But even as he made the statement Arthur Wakeman, executive vice president and general manager of the Coosa River Newsprint Co. in Alabama pointed out that paper plants are "not the most profitable investment you can make" though returns are steady.

RELATES STORY

He related a story told by an official of The New York Herald Tribune about investment in a newsprint plant. He said a number of wealthy men were asked to put up $30 million to build a plant to produce about 100,000 tons of newsprint annually.

Investigation, he said, showed the plant would gross about $9 million a year with a gross profit of $2,500,000. Of that, he said, corporate taxes would take about $1 million, leaving $1,500,000 to be divided among the owners.

But since the investors would come within the higher income tax brackets, he said, the government would collect an additional $1,270,000, leaving only $230,000 after taxes.

MORE TAX

And if one of the owners should die, he said, profits would be further cut by inheritance taxes.

In 10 years operation, he said, the individuals who put up their money would get $2,300,000 for their share of the returns, while the government would get $22,700,000.

"After the new tax laws got into effect next year," Wakeman said, "you could put the remainder in the petty cash fund."

Stock Market

NEW YORK, Sept. 28. (AP) — Buyers crowded into the stock market today and bid prices higher on a furiously fast session.

They met no dearth of offerings, however, and as a consequence prices edged up only a few cents.

The buying enthusiasm was impelled by Korean peace rumors.

COTTON

Abilene Man Tells of Seeing Russians at Korean War Front

NEW YORK, Sept. 28. (AP) — The New York Times today quoted U. S. Army officer—fresh from capture—as saying he had been questioned by Russian officers in North Korean uniforms.

All the Russians' questions were political, said the American officer.

The Times told how the officer and a fellow prisoner were taken on a 200-mile exhibition tour, as proof that the Reds were winning the war.

Times War Correspondent Charles Grutzner reported that Lt. Billy McGarver of Abilene, Tex., and Platoon Sgt. Olie Chapman, of Lawton, Okla., rejoined their unit yesterday after running mancled toward U. S. troops.

FROM YONGDONG

Grutzner's dispatch was from Yongdong, Korea.

At Abilene, McGraver's wife told of receiving a wire from Grutzner —relayed by the Times—who passed along the "good word" at the request of McGarver.

McGarver related that the North Korean soldiers treated Chapman and him "wonderfully" at the front, but mistreated them during the marching tour of many villages and camps.

While on tour, McGarver said, he and Chapman were wakened by a guard kicking their ribs or stamping on their insteps.

The worst torture, McGarver said, was psychological—repeated questioning.

The prisoners were told by their captors that they would be treated properly under the Geneva convention but would be executed for "any impropriety or impoliteness."

He said the uncertainty about what constituted impropriety or impoliteness was "awful."

OBVIOUS QUESTIONS

The primary questions, McGarver said, were "right out of 101-5 and 101-10 (army tables of organization and equipment)."

"You knew they knew the answers, like how many men in A Co., so you gave them the right answers," he said. "When they got you telling the truth they would try you out with questions on the wrong side of the tracks. They remind you, 'the truth or we execute you.'

"Lucky for us, they did not separate the sergeant and me, so we told them the same lies."

McGarver said he swore his outfit was smaller than it really was. They told the North Koreans their company had been shot to pieces and had almost no survivors.

The lieutenant said that on Sept. 26 they were in the hills near Yongdong when United Nations forces captured the city. The guards became alarmed when American planes made strikes for further advances, he said.

WANTED TO SHOOT

"They wanted to shoot us so they could take to the hills and tell the officer they had lost us," McGarver said. "While they were discussing it and prodding us with rifles there was a near-by hit. We hit the ditch in a cornfield.

"The guards kept running. We crawled up a ridge and saw trucks on the road. We had no idea we were so near the United States lines. The guards started coming back.

"We saw a Sherman tank and ran toward it. The guards took off into the hills."

McGarver and Chapman were captured by the North Koreans Sept. 12 in the Pohang area.

Woman Takes Poison When Confronted With Murder Indictment

ROCKWALL, Sept. 28. (AP) — Sheriff W. J. Price said today a Rockwall woman indicted on murder charges in the death of her husband took poison last night when confronted with the indictment.

The woman, Mrs. Meddie Bowles, 48, was in critical condition in a hospital.

A Rockwall County grand jury indicted Mrs. Bowles yesterday in the death of her husband, Luther (Mike) Bowles, about 70, in December, 1949.

Mrs. Bowles had been employed as a housekeeper in a Dallas home. When Dallas officers went to the residence last night, Mrs. Bowles asked time to change clothes. When she didn't return, officers entered a bedroom and found Mrs. Bowles lying across a bed and a half empty bottle of poison nearby.

Children enjoy prunes and raisins to eat out of hand; or team them with hot cooked cereal or other fruits.

Reorganize Defense Plan

SAIGON, Indochina, Sept. 28. (AP) —French garrison forces, holding the Indochina frontier with China under rising pressure from Communist-led Vietminh, reorganized their defense system today.

The Vietminh forces have been augmented recently by units trained and equipped in Red China.

French military sources said old line posts in the frontier zone were being consolidated. The new policy already has been applied to at least two known cases.

Pakha, the outpost guarding the approaches to Laokay, which is the western anchor of the frontier defense line, was abandoned after Dongkhe was overrun by the Vietminh 10 days ago. French troops did not reoccupy the post although it could have been done.

The region most affected by the reorganization is around Laokay. Strong Vietminh concentrations still are menacing the isolated position, now entirely supplied by air.

Record Polio Year Forecast

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28. (AP) — It now appears that 1950 will be the third worst polio year on record, the public health service said today. The worst are recorded as 1949 and 1916.

There were 2,170 new cases of polio last week, 1¼ per cent more than in the preceding week—which, in turn, showed a 22½ per cent increase over the week before.

Furthermore, the service said, the peak of the disease is occurring later than any of the past 20 years except 1932.

The total since last March is 18,403 cases.

For the corresponding period last year 30,350 cases had been reported But last year the disease reached its peak in mid-August, and then went into a steep decline.

I couldn't eat regularly and lots of times I was unable to hold the food on my stomach. Then I heard about HADACOL. After the first few bottles I could tell a definite improvement. Now my stomach doesn't trouble me at all. I eat anything I want, and my nerves are fine." (Give HADACOL a chance to help you.)

Mrs. Hilton Shuff, a loving mother of Rt. 1 Box 42, Ville Platte, Louisiana: "My son Mark Wendell has been sick for some time. A lot of the time he couldn't hold anything on his tomach. He was very weak and pale. Then I started giving him HADACOL, and he improved in just a short time. He's gained weight and has more energy than a dozen wild Indians." (HADACOL is great for puny, nervous kiddies with easily upset stomachs due to lack of important Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin.

Mrs. Alma Kincaid, 2125 E. Adelaide, St. Louis, Missouri: "I've been taking HADACOL for over a year. Before taking it, I had stomach distress for some time. Nothing seemed to help me. Then I took my husband's advice and took HADACOL. A good friend of his told him of the wonderful results he had from HADACOL. Now that I'm taking HADACOL I eat anything. I recommend HADACOL to all of my friends." (A big improvement is often noticed within a few days.)

Why Continue to Doubt

These are just a few thousands upon thousands of letters that constantly pour in telling of the wonderful results the great new HADACOL is giving. It's only a very foolish person who would continue to 'doubt' HADACOL'S effectiveness and continue to suffer in view of such overwhelming evidence.

Relieves the Cause of Stomack Distress Due to Such Deficiencies

So if you are suffering from stomach disturbance (gas pains, indigestion, heartburn), if the food you eat disagrees with you because your system is lacking Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin—don't delay —start taking HADACOL today. HADACOL is not a quick-acting antiacid which gives symptomatic relief—instead, HADACOL actually relieves the REAL CAUSE of such stomach misery due to such deficiencies. And continued use helps prevent such painful distress from coming back.

Hundreds of Doctors Recommend It

Hundreds upon hundreds of doctors recommend HADACOL. It not only supplies weak, deficient system with extra quantities of important Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin but also beneficial amounts of precious Calcium, Phosphorus and Manganese—elements so vital to help maintain glorious health and guard against such deficiency ailments. And so inexpensive. Costs only a small amount a day. Trial-size bottle, $1.25. Large family or hospital size, $3.50.

Small Dip In Prices Noted

By The Associated Press

Many wholesale food prices responded to the favorable turn in the Korean war news and tipped downward this week.

The declines were not large, and are unlikely to have much effect on overall retail food prices unless the downtrend continues for some weeks. But they constituted the first appreciable setback in food costs in nearly three months.

The Dun & Bradstreet wholesale

The Dun & Bradstreet wholesale in the largest weekly decline so far this year. This index compiled by the business reporting agency represents the total cost at wholesale of one pound each of 31 foods in general use. At $6.61 this week it compared with $5.96 in the week just before the Korean war broke out, and with $5.61 a year ago.

USUALLY LAG

Retail food prices, however, usually lag behind wholesale changes by a few weeks. The Commerce Department indicated this week that because wholesale levels were "appreciable higher" in late August and early September, housewives probably could expect more mark-ups. many retailers contend their prices still have not fully reflected the advances in their own costs.

Chickens were two to four cents a pound cheaper in many competitive stores this week. Changes in other meats were mostly minor and irregular.

SOME EGGS HIGHER

Large Grade A eggs pushed two cents a dozen higher in some places but medium and small eggs were beginning to ease back. This is a normal seasonal trend.

For the first time in many weeks, more fresh produce items went up than declined. Higher in most places were snap beans, lima beans, tomatoes, cucumbers and canteloupes. Lower were abundant apples, and peaches.

The Agriculture Department termed stewing hens the most-plentiful food for market promotion this week. These are abundant at this time of year when farmers send them to market as their egg output declines. The cullen birds usually are plump and meaty.

POULTRY BEST

Poultry also is the Agriculture Department's meat headliner for the coming month.

Other headliners on the department's October list of plentifuls for the whole nation: Cabbage, onions, Irish potatoes, sweet potatoes, cranberries, eggs, cheese, butter, dry beans, peanut butter and honey.

The American Farm Bureau Federation issued a statement at Chicago saying price controls and rationing for meat and livestock would "cut the production of meat at a time when increased supplies are needed, and bring back the black market."

Offers To Buy Utility

TERRELL, Sept. 28. (AP) — The Texas Power & Light Co. has offered to buy Terrell's municipally-owned power plant for $671,800. A two-thirds majority by voters here is required for the proposal to carry. No election date has been set.

Mark One For The Yanks

Pvt. Norman L. Perry of Mount Carmel, Ill., gazes impassively at the body of a North Korean soldier sprawled in front of a hut in Waegwan, captured by U. S. 24th Division soldiers. The division retook Kumchon in their drive on Taejon, scene of the 24th's bitterest defeat in their retreat southward.

Clarify Conflicting Policies On Crossing The 38th Parallel

WASHINGTON. Sept. 28, (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur reportedly has been given authority to send troops across the 38th Parallel into North Korea if that action is necessary to destroy the Communist army.

But responsible quarters who reported this yesterday said no final decision has been made thus far as to whether the United Nations shall occupy North Korea after the fighting stops.

OKS DECISION

President Truman presumably approved the essentially military decision that MacArthur should be authorized to send troops across the parallel, the border between North and South Korea, if that is necessary to the destruction of the North Korean army.

Presumably, also, it was reviewed with other members of the UN, under whose flag MacArthur is directing fighting forces in Korea.

Authorities here said the decision was based on the UN Security Council's resolution of June 27 which called on member nations to furnish aid to South Korea "to repel the armed attack and to restore international peace and security in the area."

These informants said the reasoning back of the decision is that it would not be possible to restore "international peace and security in the area" unless the North Korean army is totally defeated.

The speed which MacArthur's forces have been pushing the invaders back was reported to have been a factor in splitting the 38th Parallel issue into two parts —an immediate, military one and a long-range political one.

CLARIFIED

The question was clarified here after conflicting reports from London and New York, where the United Nations is meeting.

An official London source had said the U. S., Britain and France had agreed that UN forces should cross the 38th Parallel only with specific approval from the General Assembly. This source said permission for such a move would be asked.

But a U. S. delegation spokesman in New York said no UN action would be necessary — that MacArthur already had authority to do whatever he regards as essential to the destruction of the North Korean army.

Light Showers Due In West Texas Plains Area

Most of Texas was cloudy today, except in the extreme west and the Davis Mountain area.

Occasional light rains were expected in West Texas this afternoon, tonight and tomorrow, the weather bureau reported.

The eastern half of the state was reported partly cloudy, and the northeast portion was expected to receive scattered light rain.

Heavy fog lay in the Dallas to Houston area at mid-morning today, but it was not expected to endanger highway travel, the bureau said.

Temperatures fell to 51 at Salt Flat for the low overnight minimum, and 76 at Galveston for the high minimum. High maximum yesterday was 95 at Alice and Laredo, low maximum 77 at Texarkana.

In spite of cloudiness over most of Texas, little rain was reported by 6:30 a.m. today. A trace fell at Lufkin in East Texas and Brownsville had .30 inch.

At mid-morning today temperatures ranged in the 70's on the coast, near 70 in central portions and lower 60's in the Panhandle and South Plains.

Woman Industrialist

JOHNSTOWN, N. Y., Sept. 28. (AP) —Mrs. Charles B. Knox, 92, one of America's leading woman industrialists, died here last night.

For more than 40 years, Mrs. Knox had headed the Charles B. Knox Gelatin Co., founded by her husband in 1890.

Conroe Gets Station

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28. (AP) — Montgomery County Broadcasting Co., Conroe, Tex., yesterday was authorized to operate a daytime only, 500 watt, radio station of 900 kilocycles.

Tire Rubber Economy

Never Possible Before

Into the national achievement record has gone this phenomenal tire rubber economy—never known or possible before!

Not an ounce of wasted rubber yet each tire can give every owner years, instead of miles, of safety and service—his one tire investment for years to come.

With local communities solidly backed by extensive dealer investments in service and maintenance equipment, all of the *original safety mileage of these unique tires is continuously renewed and renewable—when other tires are giving up their lives.

They are tires that work and serve at the very heart and core of the national economy in normal times, and in every possible rubber emergency.

They have set up entirely new standards of safety and mileage by which other tires are now being judged and measured, everywhere in the United States.

Whether with black, or with whitewalls, they provide their exclusive Protective Curbguard, their new Royaltex Tread and Traction, and they deliver up to 60% more safe mileage.

They have resulted from many years of continuous research, experience and U. S. Rubber investment. They are the only such tires in the world, priced as low as life and safety permit.

They are the tires that now roll and serve with the nation, with tire rubber economy never known before, remaining fresh and new in safety when other tires are giving up their lives.

Girl Has Sprouting Acorn In Her Nose

PENSACOLA, Fla., Sept. 28. (AP)—Four-year-old Julia Ann King was brought to a hospital here late Wednesday.

Julia Ann had a sore nose, reported her mother, Mrs. George King of Milton. In addition, she had been upset and had lost her appetite, Mrs. King said.

Doctors operated, removed an acorn from Julia Ann's nose. Attendants looked closely at the acorn—it had sprouts.

2 New Busses Purchased For School System

The Snyder school system yesterday afternoon bought two new school busses from a bus dealer in Oklahoma City, Elmer Taylor, business manager, making the purchase.

The Chevrolet busses, with a 48-passenger Superior Pathfinder bodies, cost $3,644.50 each.

The purchase was made in accordance with a decision of the school board Tuesday night authorizing Taylor to determine the number of new busses needed and make arrangements to purchase them on the open market.

The schools here have two other new busses ordered through the state board of controls for schools and are expecting shipment some time in October. These were ordered in June.

The school board decided to buy the two purchased yesterday from a dealer because of the time required for delivery through the state board.

Busses are somewhat cheaper when bought through the state's motor pool, but waiting lists are long. When the two bought yesterday and the two ordered from the state board arrive, Snyder will have 19 busses. Two used busses were purchased about a week ago from a dealer in East Texas.

The enrollment of several hundred students more than were expected created the need for more busses. Some drivers have reported having to carry more than 100 students in 48-passenger busses.

Temporary Appointments For Over 100 Officers Due Today

By JOHN CHADWICK
(Associated Press Staff)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28. (AP)—President Truman was expected today to give temporary appointments shortly to some of the persons whose nominations the Senate didn't approve before Congress recessed on Saturday.

When Congress quit until Nov. 27, an even 100 nominations were left hanging and thus died. Some of them were submitted so late that the Senate had little chance to consider them; others were held up by controversies.

Under Senate rules, all nominations not acted upon when the lawmakers adjourn or recess for more than 30 days are returned to the White House, to receive further consideration they must be resubmitted.

TO FILL SOME

Mr. Truman can, and no doubt will, fill some of the vacancies by recess appointments. These will be good only to the start of the new Congress on Jan. 3, however. They cannot carryover from one Congress to the next.

In the meantime, of course, the Senate may confirm the President's choices if he resubmits the nominations when Congress returns on Nov. 27.

During the 1950 session just ended, the Senate confirmed 25,600 nominations submitted by Mr. Truman and rejected only four. Figures don't tell the whole story. More than 20,000 were routine promotions of armed services personnel.

The four turned down by the Senate—all in one day last August—were Martin A. Hutchinson of Virginia to be a member of the Federal Trade Commision, Frank E. Hook of Michigan to be a member of the Motor Carrier Claims Commission, N. Neil Andrews to be a federal judge for the northern district of Georgia, and Carroll O. Switzer to be a federal judge for the southern district of Iowa.

OBJECTIONS

All ran into objections from their home state senators, and the members of the Senate sided with their colleagues rather than the President.

Only a day before Congress recessed, Mr. Truman sent up the nomination of Stephen J. Springarn of New York for the place on the Federal Trade Commission which the Senate had denied to Hutchinson.

No action was taken on Springarn's nomination and Mr. Truman is expected to give him a recess appointment.

Two other nominations not acted on when the lawmakers quit were those of Robert T. Creasey of New Jersey to be assistant secretary of labor and Irving Florman of New York to be ambassador to Bolivia.

Greer Garson Would Keep Secret of Her Citizenship Filing

FORT WORTH, Sept. 28. (AP)—Movie Actress Green Garson said she wanted to keep her application for American citizenship secret because she didn't want to "fire the cannon before the flag goes up."

"This is the time for filing out forms," she told the Fort Worth Star Telegram by telephone last night from Albuquerque, N. M. "The time to celebrate is when you're admitted to the family."

The actress, who maried Dallas oilman Elijah E. Fogelson last July, filed the application here Tuesday. She gave her name at the time she entered the country as "Eileen Evelyn Greer Snelson," and listed her birth date as Sept. 29, 1908.

No Confirmation On Korea Peace Feelers

NEW DELHI, India, Sept. 28. (AP)—High foreign ministry officials said today they had no information of North Korean peace feelers which rumors circulating in New York said had been advanced through Indian representatives.

Rumors circulated at the United Nations Assembly in New York yesterday that the North Koreans had indicated their willingness to accept a UN settlement.

There was no confirmation of the rumors, however.

Ives Asks For Price Controls By January 1

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
(Associated Press Staff)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28. — Sen. Ives (R-NY) declared today the price situation is getting out of hand and he called on President Truman to set up control machinery speedily.

"I hate to see price control come," Ives said, "but I think it must for there has been no marked improvement in the present picture by the first of the year. And no appreciable improvement appears likely."

Ives told a reporter he figures it will take the government until at least Jan. 1 to organize a price control agency which could operate on a big scale.

LOWER LIVING

A Report from the Federal Reserve Board, meanwhile, made it plain that the nation's current standard of living is due for a lowering.

The report pointede to the heart of the growing enonomic problem with a showing that:

1. Although barely beginning to feel the impact of expanded defense orders, the nation's industrial machine is pounding out goods and materials at a rate not far from that achieved at the height of the second world war.

2. Even so, it hasn't managed to keep up with soaring business and consumer demand, much less fill that demand with a left-over capacity for defense goods production.

Already, the excess of demand over supply has produced "additional sharp rises in prices," the board said.

Its report implied that satisfying defense needs still to come will mean reducing civilian supplies available, regardless of prices.

One hint of possible future effects of the nation's mobilization on consumers came yesterday when the Interior Department set up a Minerals and Energy Administration (MEA) with power to parcel out supplies of coal, gas, oil, electric power and raw materials for defense.

SOME CURBS

With that action came word that curbs may shortly be imposed on the octane ratings of automobile gasoline and even commercial aviation fuel.

The department has said there is plenty of auto gasoline and that rationing is definitely not in prospect. But officials said there may shortly be restrictions on the amount of alkylate so as to preserve supplies for high grade military aviation fuel.

Alkylate is the ingredient which boosts the octane rating and efficiency of gasoline. Its cutback in auto gasoline might bring some reduction in engine performance.

Bush Says New Type Explosive To Help Prevent Third War

LANCASTER, Pa., Sept. 28. (AP)—Dr. Vannevar Bush, World War Two head of the Office of Scientific Research and Development, says the "shaped" explosive charge is one of the new weapons the U. S. needs to help prevent a third major conflict."

The "shaped" charge—first used in the Korean war—utilized a new method of packing an explosive into a bomb or artillery shell. It is designed to concentrate the force of the explosion for greater penetration of armor plating.

Mountain Roads Are Scene of Child Birth

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 28 (AP)—Mrs. James Edward Young, who lives atop as steep a mountain as there is in this mountain state was about to have her fourth baby.

An ambulance was summoned to take her to the hospital. But the road stops a half mile from her house. So the ambulance driver called on firemen to help bring her down the steep slope on a cot.

They got half way to the road, when the young mother told them to stop. With two firemen assisting, she delivered a baby girl. Then, at her direction, they trundled her back to the house on the cot. Both mother and child were reported doing well.

Young Mother Admits Killing Her Children

FOSSIL, Ore., Sept. 28. (AP)—A young mother whose three children died within 21 months was held in Wheeler County jail today.

Dist. Atty. George Dukek said Mrs. Juanita Louise Carr, 23, had admitted dropping her infant son on his head and smothering her other two children in their beds.

He said the housewife could not explain her reason for killing the children except to say there were times she didn't like them.

Half Million Aliens Try to Enter U. S. Illegally in Last Year

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28. (AP)—An immigration service official said today that 500,000 aliens were caught trying to enter this country illegally during the past 12 months, twice as many as in the preceding year.

It is anybody's guess, he said, how many others actually got in without legal means.

Harlon Carter, new chief of the Border Patrol, told a reporter the service is "concerned" over the situation and has asked Congress to supply money to hire 800 more patrol officers, bringing the total to almost 2,000.

A great proportion of the half a million who were turned away the past year made their entry attempts over the Mexican border, Carter said. Many of these, he added, were migratory workers, and have long been a problem.

Petroleum Group Into Louisiana Coast Area

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 28. (AP)—Members of the petroleum division of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers journeyed to Port Sulphur, La., today for an all day production facilities inspection trip that marks the close of a four-day convention.

The engineers were told yesterday that oil and gas deposits beneath the Gulf of Mexico extend as far out as 75 miles from the coastline.

Scurry Well

of section 13, block 41, T&P survey, T-4-S.

The oil flow came at the end of a four hour drillstem test at 10,370-578 feet. There was a strong blow of gas at the surface after 14 minutes and the strong blow continued to the end of two hours.

During the last two hours the tool was open the gas blow was dead to weak.

The tester was closed at the end of the four hours for a 15 minute period. Then the connection at the top of the drill pipe was broken down. It was found that the switch in the tool had been plugged. That condition was remedied and the drill pipe then started flowing oil to the pits.

The tool was closed a few minutes after the flow started. It was estimated that the flow was at between 25 and 35 barrels per hour. There was no water.

Operator was coming out of the hole with the tester at last report.

Top of the Pennsylvanian lime is at 10,300 feet. Elevation is 2,882 feet. That is on a datum of minus 7,418 feet.

On the top of the Pennsylvanian porosity the No. 1 Canon is 389 feet low to the same point in Magnolia No. 1-A TXL, the discovery well of the Pegasus fueld.

BIG LEASE

Argo Oil Corp. has taken a ten-year commercial oil and gas lease on a spread of approximately 2,560 acres in West-Central Sterling County.

The lease covers acreage owned by the Hildebrand interests. No information is available regarding the bonus paid, or the amounts of annual rental which is provided for in the lease contract.

There is no drilling obligation. Included in the trade are sections 3 and 4 in block 21, H&TC survey, and sections 18 and 20, in block 31, T&P survey, T-5-S.

The spread is about eight miles west and slightly south of Sterling City, and approximately five miles east of the Glasscock County line.

It is five miles southeast of Plymouth Oil Co. No. 1 TXL, recently completed small pumping discovery from a Permian lime.

ON FARMOUT

The wildcat, which was previously reported, to be drilled by Whiffen Estate, Inc. in Northwest Menard County, will be dug on acreage secured on farmout from American Trading & Production Corp. of Midland.

The exploration, No. 1 Fritz Wilhelm, is to be in the extreme Northwest part of the county, 330 feet from south and west lines of the Fred Speck survey No. 6.

The wildcat is contracted to test to water in the Ellenburger which is calculated to be reached by the time the hole gets to 4,100 feet. The 4,500-foot contract depth will not be drilled if production is found at a lesser depth.

Rotary drilling by Mactex Drilling Co. of Lubbock is to start by Oct. 1.

The Whiffen estate is to get a checkerboarded spread of half of a block of 7,782 acres held by American Trading in that area in return for drilling the well. American Trading retains offset acreage to the location.

The No. 1 Wilhelm will be 20 miles northwest of Menard.

EXTENDS FIELD

A one-half mile east extension of the Sweetie Peck field of Southwest Midland was indicated at Gulf Oil Corp. No. 1 Peck, when it developed flowing production from the Pennsylvanian on a drillstem test at 10,380-10,500 feet.

The indicator made 61 barrels of oil to tanks in two hours through a one-half inch choke. On the three-hour drillstem test, gas was at the surface in eight minutes and fluid in 45 minutes. After a flowing to pits for 15 minutes the oil was flowed to tanks.

Gas-oil ratio was 1,291-1 and the gravity of the oil made is 32.3 degrees.

The No. 1 Peck is slated to be dug on to the Ellenburger.

Location is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 21, block 41, T-4-S, T&P survey and 30 miles southwest of the city of Midland.

GAINES COUNTY

Shell Oil Co. has staked an out post to production from the Devonian in the North Russell field of Top of the pay is 7,100 feet and Northwest Gaines County, as No. 1-C Jones.

Projected depth is 11,200 feet. Rotary tools will be moved in and drilling will begin immediately.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 496, block G, CCSD&RGNG survey and nine miles southwest of Denver City.

IN TEX-HARVEY

Walter T. Rosen has completed his No. 1-9 Hugh Dixon as a new producer on the north side of the Tex-Harvey field of Central-East Midland County.

It flowed 24 hours through a 12-16th-inch choke and made an initial production of 220.49 barrels of 36.2-gravity oil. Three per cent of the total fluid recovered was water. Gas-oil ratio was 620-1.

Top of the pay is 7,100 feet and total depth is 7,399 feet. Five and one-half inch oil string was cemented at 3,502 feet. Pay section was shot with 750 quarts of nitro glycerin.

Location of the new producer is 661.9 feet from north and 659.7 feet from east lines of section 9 block 37, T&P survey.

TERRY COUNTY

Amerada Petroleum Corp. is swabbing to test its No. 1 W. O. Miller, east offset to the same company's No. 1 Willard, which has shown for a discovery from a reef lime in South Terry County.

A string of 5 ½-inch casing is cemented at 8,520 feet and total depth is 8,560 feet.

Pay section between the casing seat and total depth was washed with 500 gallons of mud acid. The prospect flowed to pits for 30 minutes and made an estimated 10 barrels of oil.

Operator then turned to tanks and it flowed 11 ½ hours through a one-half inch choke and made 218.85 barrels of fluid. Average shakeout was one-tenth of one per cent basic sediment. No water was present.

Gravity of the oil was 43 degrees. Gas volume was 118,000 cubic feet per day and gas-oil ratio was 258-1.

No. 1 Miller is located 660 feet from north and west lines of northeast quarter of section 6, block C-37, psl survey and 20 miles north east of Seagraves.

NEAR FORT STOCKTON

Gulf Oil Corp. and associates have scheduled a 12,000-foot wildcat in Central Pecos County, nine miles southeast of Fort Stockton.

It will be No. 1 Theo Winfield, 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 3, block 12, T&STL survey.

Projected depth is calculated to test the Ellenburger.

Gulf will be the operator and has a half-interest in the wildcat and the block on which it is located. The remaining half interested is divided among Cabot Carbon Company, LaGloria Corp. and Bryce McCandless.

POTENTIALED

A south offset to the Bend conglomerate discovery seven miles north of Old Glory in Central-East Stonewall County has been completed by Skelly Oil Co. for a potential of 148.95 barrels of 39.4-gravity oil in 17½ hours.

The new well is the No. 1 Cleve Hamilton, 467 feet from north and east lines of A. M. Reed survey.

The producer flowed through a one-half inch choke from perforations at 5,861-67, 5,876-90 and 5,900-05 feet. Casing pressure was 800 and flowing tubing pressure was 125 pounds.

Communist Threat Hits Trade in Tibet

NEW DELHI, (AP) — The Communist threat to Tibet has hit trade with India, informed sources say.

India's trade with Tibet, and through Tibet to Southwest China formerly amounted to $4 million a year. Trade with West China has completely stoppe dand trade with Tibet has fallen sharply.

In view of the uncertain political conditions in Tibet, Lhasa merchants are selling hoarded stocks, sources said. Some are reported to have moved to the Indian district of Darjeeling.

Nancy Chaffee Wants To Go To Wimbleton Tilt

By BOB MYERS
(Associated Press Staff)

VENTURA, Calif. Sept. 27—Nancy Chaffee, who is best described as good looking, shapely and the new national indoor women's tennis champion, has adopted several solemn resolutions.

The main one is to win her way to Wimbledon this year.

If she makes the grade, several other matters will have taken care of themselves. Included would be formal ranking by the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association, preferably, in the first five.

At the moment, the newly turned 21-year-old Ventura girl, who captured the nations indoor crown in New York in March, is unranked. She was out of competition virtually all of 1949, due to a back injury, and was accorded no rank by the guiding fathers of tennis.

The rankings won't be issued again until next winter, so Nancy has a chance of becoming one of the finest unranked players in the world, if all goes well.

SERIOUS NOW

The back injury has been corrected, and so has Nancy's frame of mind. She is deadly determined to become a fine player.

The change of mind for Nancy is somewhat curious. She is the daughter of a veteran professional teacher here and she began playing tennis when she was nine years old.

But Nancy, a gay youngster, preferred all these years for the most part to take fun first and tennis second. True, she was an outstanding tournament player in Southern California as an under-15 contestant, and in 1947 she won the national girl's outdoor singles crown. Several sectional titles have come her way during the years.

Nancy says, however, that she was known as a "party girl," and she said it was mostly an apt description.

Heres' was tne innocent fun of a high school kid, and later as a co-ed at the University of Southern California, where she majored in radio. But even teen-age parties last late, which isn't good for strict trainiig routine, tennis or otherwise. Apparently her father, Harold S. Chaffee, let her play—for fun.

Recently, Nancy said, she decided that if she was going to play tennis, she'd play it more for keeps—even with one of her favorite partners on frequent trips to Hollywood Film Star Ginger Rogers.

WON INDOOR TITLE

So she practiced hard before entering the national indoor, and won it without much trouble. Her competition, she admits, wasn't what she'll run into along the tournament schedule this year, but she decided she can play a top brand of tennis.

She'll continue this course in the coming tournament at Ojai, Calif., and the always rough Southern California tournament, where so many of the nation's top players have been developed.

She hopes to prove good enough to recieve financial help from the tennis fathers to make the Wimbledon jaunt, and then head into the eastern swing and the national at Forest Hills.

One of her victims was the well publicized Gertrude Moran of Santa Monica. It was Nancy's first trjumph over Gorgeous Gussy in four tries. She's convinced Gussy will never beat her again.

And, Nancy, added, Gussy can wear all the fancy panties she pleases, lace, white or black. But not Nancy. She doesn't think they are the correct attire for tournament tennis. Oh sure, Nancy wears cute shorts, and looks good in 'em. But she adopts them only in informal matches.

For the record, Nancy is five feet seven inches tall, weighs 134 pounds, has bright green eyes and curly hair as back as polished coal.

Her tennis idol is Louise Brough, and maybe someday Nancy, now that play time is over, will hit the top bracket just like Louise.

Third Russian Roulette Fatality Among Youths

HOUSTON, Sept. 27, (AP) —A 15-year-old boy lost a game of Russian roulette with a .22 calibre pistol in the basement of the San Jacinto monument near here last night.

The boy, Billy McWhorter of La Porte, whose father, L. B. McWhorter, is building engineer at the monument, died in a hospital here of a bullet wound in the right temple some two hours after the shooting.

The death was the third teen-age Russian roulette fatality here in little more than a month.

Three friends who were with him said they had no inkling of what he intended to do until he picked up the pistol.

"I think I'll play some Russian roulette," they quoted him as saying.

The other boys said they lunged for the McWhorter boy but he pulled the trigger before they could snatch the gun out of his hands.

Kefauver Asks FBI to Help In Slaying Probe

CHICAGO, Sept. 28. (AP)—The federal government has been asked to aid Chicago police in investigating the slaying of William J. Drury, a private investigator and former policeman.

Top ranking policemen, assigned to track down the slayers, apparently are without a single clue after 'round-the-clock searching since the killing Monday night.

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn), chairman of a U. S. Senate committee investigating organized crime, said last night that Drury had been slain to prevent him from testifying before the committee. He said he had asked both the Department of Justice and the Federal Bureau of Investigation to help solve the slaying.

NO TALKING

Drury, onetime police lieutenant and on the force for more than 20 years, was killed before a committee attorney had interviewed him on crime conditions in Chicago. A short time before he was slain the attorney had sought to reach Drury at his home.

Kefauver told State's Atty. John S. Boyle that the committee had planned to call Drury as a witness before the committee, which is scheduled to hold a hearing here next week.

Kefauver said he made his request for federal aid in the investigation before leaving Washington yesterday.

FBI ASSISTANCE

"It is my feeling that the Federal Bureau of Investigation should lend every assistance in this matter," Kefauver told a Chicago Tribune reporter, "and that the Department of Justice should make every effort to gather evidence on the Drury killing, with a view to bringing the matter before a federal grand jury."

The committee chairman expressed annoyance when he learned that deputy marshals had been unable to find several persons subpoenaed by the committee. They included many former associates of the old Capone gang.

"In the long run," he said, "they won't gain anything by disappearing. They will be found sooner or later."

Farewell Party Given Teacher From Fluvanna

Await Rescue in Labrador

Sixteen men who parachuted from a B-50 bamber which crashed in the Labrador wilderness last Thursday await rescue from their improvised camp sight after being located by a search plane Sunday. Note the men around the fire, in the center foreground, and one man standing in the "O" of their "16 OK" signal on the ground. Also note the tents at the right. All sixteen were removed from the wilderness in the U. S. air force base at Goose Bay, Labrador, by helicopter and amphibious plane.

Woman in Cowgirl Suit Shoots Husband, Battles With Police

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28. (AP) — A 47-year-old woman attired in a cow girl outfit staged a gun battle with police last night after wounding her husband.

As more police arrived at the scene, the woman walked from her home — still carrying her .22 calibre rifle — and surrendered.

At police headquarters, she was identified as Mrs. Amelia Bange and charged with aggravated assault and battery and violation of the firearms act.

HAND WOUND

Her husband, Herman, 67, was treated for a wound of the right hand at Woman's Homeopathic Hospital.

Police Sgt. Thomas Gavin gave this account of events:

He and Patrolman Harry Wissler were sent to the Bange home in response to a radio message. They found Herman Bange breaking the glass in his front door. He said his wife had refused him admittance.

As Herman reached through the broken glass to open the door, a shot rang out and Herman staggered back with a hand wound.

Gavin sent for reinforcements, hospital and started toward the door. Another shot rang out. Gavin fired once himself and a third shot came from the house.

MORE POLICE

Gavin sent for reinforcements. Three police cars roared up to the house and Mrs. Bange walked out to surrender, wearing a ten-gallon hat, white-trimmed black cow girl shirt and boots.

The police sergeant said Mrs. Bange told him the gun battle climaxed an argument of long standing with her husband. She did not explain the cow girl outfit, he said.

Texas Farmers Borrowing Less From Banks

The plant and equipment of Texas ranches and farms have never been in better condition, according to A. C. Alexander, executive vice-president of the Snyder National Bank, who represents the Texas Bankers Association.

"One of the best indications of this is that Texas agriculture borrowed less from banks during 1949 than during 1948," Alexander said.

Reporting on the ninth national survey of agricultural lending made by the agricultural commission of the American Bankers Association, Alexander noted that there was a decline in both the number of new loans and the total amount borrowed from banks by Texas ranchers and farmers last year.

"This decline is particularly healthy," he said, "in view of the present uncertainties and the slight drop in agricultural income. It shows that farmers and stockmen are wisely avoiding excessive debt and are holding on to their reserves to meet any possible emergency."

Alexander stated that "in 1949, the last full year of operation, the 827 Texas banks serving agricultural communities loaned $414,779,000 to 251,436 farmers and ranchers to meet all types of financial needs. This is a decline from the 261,024 agricultural loans, totaling $476,924,000 made by banks during 1948. Of the total amount loaned last year, $397,833,000 was borrowed by 245,580 farmers and ranchers to finance production and operational requirements. Of these loans, only $175,190,000 were outstanding on January 1, 1950.

"During the year, there were 5,856 farmers and stockmen, representing only 1.5 per cent of all those in the state, who made real estate loans in an aggregate amount of $16,946,000. The prosperity of the state's agriculture is shown by the fact that only $26,565,000 in real estate loans were outstanding at the beginning of this year.

"The total of all bank-held farm and ranch debt in Texas on January 1, 1950, was $201,755,000."

Alexander noted that one of the brighest aspects of the present agricultural debt situation is the small size of the average loan, indicating the service that banks are rendering to the owners of small ranches and farms in particular. The average loan for production purposes was only $1,620, and the average loan made on farm real estate was only $2,894.

"With the pent-up demand for equipment caused by World War II apparently satisfied," Alexander said, "a larger and larger percentage of agricultural borrowing's have been going into other long range improvements. These improvements, along with the growing trend in Texas to practice modern conservation and land management, will assure the importance of the state in the agricultural picture for years to come."

TALK OF THE TOWN

BY FRANCES BIOW

When a new eatery opens in Snyder, heart of the prairie, and maintains "If it swims, we'll get it," that's [illegible] mention. The Village, next to Canyon Courts, East Highway, certainly presents an inviting front to diners-out.

The Village opened with hosts of new patrons taking the tour through the gleaming kitchen, blinded by alumnium and unnerved by the electric potato peeler. MRS. J. B. NOWLIN returned from Canada's clime to rush into hostessing for the swank new place. Things to boost about, she says, are the Baby Plates, which come Scott-free with mom's and pop's fare. The Child's Plate costs 50 cents, is a meat and vegetable plate.

They love the young, it would seem, as they've stocked four small chairs, three high chairs. They got the Kansas City steaks direct from Kansas City and not Fort Worth. Delicacies like lobster, frog legs, and pheasant will be available for the asking, so they said. The menu, printed on a paper the size of a pillow case (Well, not quite!) does offer a wide variety of nourishment, described in western terms.

MRS. C. A. HEATH loves the story coming from Morningside, that new settlement built up with incredibly spick and span small homes. (Holland has nothing on the way those folks tend their stoops). It seems MRS. THURMAN HOLLIDAY appealed frantically to the carpenters of the development to DO SOMETHING to her hot water heater cabinet. Reason for the lady's alarm was that her two year old son is forever crawling into it and going to sleep!

Mr. and Mrs. Moore Return From Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Moore, west of Snyder, have returned from an extended trip through several north eastern states. They toured Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia and Washington, D. C.

In Washington they spent ten days visiting with their son, Carl Raymond Moore, an employee in the National Bureau of Standards, the electronics division. Returning, they visited Columbus, Miss., and Lone Star, Tex.

Vernelle Beavers And Edwin Parks Are Wed

Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Beavers of Fluvanna have announced the marriage Sept. 20, of their daughter, the former Miss Vernelle Beavers, to Edwin Parks. Mr. and Mrs. Parks were married in a single ring ceremony in the parsonage of the Church of Christ, Clovis, N. M. The Rev. Claude A. Lorts officiated.

Mr. Parks is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Parks, north of Snyder.

Mrs. Parks wore a soft gray suit with navy accessories and a baby blue blouse. Her shoulder corsage was of pink carnations. Attending the bride was Mrs. Johnnie Jacobs, her aunt.

Mrs. Parks is a graduate of Fluvanna High School.

After a wedding trip to scenic points in Colorado, the couple will be at home on a ranch 12 miles north of Snyder.

Allied Junction Traps Reds

Dark arrows show United Nations drives against crumbling defenses of North Koreans. Allied linkup at Changjû (underlined) closed the trap on thousands of Reds in the southwest area. Heavy fighting continued in Seoul, where mop up operations appear near an end. Reds were fleeing the city to the north and northeast.

New Casualty List Shows 51 More Dead

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28. (AP) — A Defense Department casualty list (No. 108) released today contained 300 names of casualties in Korea of whom 51 were dead.

The list also included 197 wounded, 41 missing, 11 injured in battle zone accidents.

Crabmeat Supper Cows Young 'Gator

OLEAN, N. Y., Sept. 28. (AP) —Policemen fed live crabs to Allie, their pet baby alligator, until a small crab bit back.

Allie and the crab finally settled down at opposite ends of the aquarium, eyeing each other in a deadlock.

Alberta Fires Die Before Snow And Rain

EDMONTON, Alberta, Sept. 28. (AP)—Snows and drenching rains have snuffed out a chain of some 100 forest fires which blazed across Canada's northwest this week. Officials said the danger now is over.

The giant rash of fires, which attracted attention throughout the continent, stretched from the Saskatchewan Border across northern Alberta and 380 miles north along the Alaska highway.

Smoke from the flaming woodlands caused a vast pall that spread thousands of miles eastward, blotting out Monday night's eclipse of the moon and creating a haze as far away as New York.

MacArthur Is Congratulated On Two Sides

TOKYO, Thursday, Sept 28. (AP)—Gen. MacArthur received today congratulatory messages on the liberation of Seoul from South Korean President Syngman Rhee and Nationalist China's President Chiang Kai-shek.

A headquarters release said Rhee's message read:

"On this historical occasion of the liberation of Seoul I wish to express to you on behalf of the Korean government and people deepest gratitude and everlasting warm memory of your brilliant leadership which has made this victory possible against such great odds. Though the battle still continues, the outcome is certain. Of all your great achievements in a long life of extraordinary public service, I believe history will record your leadership of the United Nations forces as the most magnificent."

Chiang said: "It gives the Chinese government as well as myself great gratification, indeed, to learn that under your magnificent planning and command the United Nations forces have recaptured Seoul. I send you hearty congratulations and am certain you will have complete victory."

Houston Man Killed By Earth Cavein

HOUSTON, Sept. 28. (AP) — Rescue workers yesterday lost a frantic race to save Johnny Francois, buried in a cavein as he operated an air hammer in a 10-foot hole.

The 35-year-old construction worker was working on an expansion project for the Shamrock Hotels Cork Club. His chest was crushed and neck broken.

U. S. News Men Meet With Foreign Editors

HOUSTON, Sept. 28. (AP) — Sixteen foreign editors met today with some 20 from the Southwest to discuss a common bond—newspapering.

The group, which will be here through Saturday, is holding round table conferences on the problems of a newspaper and foreign affairs.

South Koreans Take Red Isle

PUSAN, Korea, Thursday, Sept. 28. (AP) — South Korean Marines occupied Namhae Island off the south coast of Korea yesterday killing 300 Communists.

Commander Lee Yong Woon, vice chief of staff of the Korean navy, said warships bombarded the island, five miles east of Yosu, before the Marines went ashore.

The island is one of the largest off the South Korean coast. It is about 25 miles southwest of Chinju, for a long time main Red springboard for the southern thrust at Pusan, major allied supply port on the southeastern tip of the Korean Peninsula.

Giant French Liner Fouls Bouy and Goes Aground In England

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., Sept. 28 (AP)—France's maritime pride, the 49,000 ton liner Liberte, got fouled up in Southampton harbor last night, but broke loose with no apparent damage and was ready to continue her New York run today.

The British Coast Guard said the liner, which had come here from Le Havre to pick up additional passengers, nosed into a mudbank when one of her propellors fouled a buoy.

A short time later the vessel—France's largest passenger ship—swung free from the mudbank and anchored for the night in Cowes Road. A French line spokesman said she was not damaged.

The Liberte was formerly the German liner Europa. She was ceded to France as a war prize and recommissioned. This was her third voyage.

Judge Obliges Man Who Wants Jail Sentence

DETROIT, Sept. 28. (AP) — Adam Howard Bell stole a bicycle, intending to ride it home to Atlanta, Ga.

In court he was conscience-stricken.

"It was wrong," he said. "I ought to get about 60 days in jail."

The judge obliged him.

DAVIS & HUMPHRIES — OWNERS & OPERATORS

Founder of Rice Institute Was Murdered in Sleep by Valet

By MAX SKELTON
(Associated Press Staff)

HOUSTON, Sept. 28—One of the nation's most famous murders, 50 year old this month, is woven into the history of Houston's Rice Institute.

William Marsh Rice, an 84-year-old Massachusetts native who made a fortune in Texas, was murdered with chloroform Sept. 23, 1900, while sleeping in his New York City apartment.

Rice had earmarked his estate to establish the William M. Rice Institute for advancement of literature, science and art. The murder trial and forgeries of the will kept the estate tied up in court for seven years after Rice's death.

Albert T. Patrick, an attorney and confidential adviser to Rice, was accused of having instigated Rice's valet, Charles F. Jones, to chloroform the wealthy octogenarian.

TURNED EVIDENCE

Jones turned state's evidence and was not prosecuted.

Patrick was sentenced to death and stayed in Sing Sing Prison's death row four years before his sentence was commuted to life by Gov. Frank Higgsin in 1906. Six years later, Gov. John A. Dix gave Patrick a full pardon.

Just about the time Patrick left Sing Sing, the first class of 50 students was enrolling in Houston's new Rice Institute.

Rice had received a charter for the school in 1891, but the death of his second wife, his own murder and litigation over his will delayed its opening until 1912.

The original endownment then was valued at about $5 million.

Today the school possibly is the nation's wealthiest, on a student per capita basis.

Its assets approximate $40 million including endowments exceeding $28 million. The student body is limited to 1,500. Hundreds of applicants are rejected each year.

SOUND INVESTMENTS

The original endowment still is intact. Rice trustees have taken its proceeds, along with other gifts, and made sound investments in oil properties and real estate.

Rice was born in Springfield, Mass., in 1816, of a large family At the age of 14 he left home to work in a New England country store which he purchased seven years later.

Then he began to hear about Texas' fight for independence. He decided to move to Texas, arriving at the little bayou city of Houston in the late 1830's. He arrived penniless. His personal effects and merchandise shipment had been lost at sea.

Rice took a job as a store clerk. Working day and night, he rose rapidly until he was a partner in the firm of Rice & Nichols, exporters, importers and wholesale grocers.

MANY INVESTMENTS

He made many investments in Texas and Louisiana land. At the close of the Civil War he left Texas a wealthy man. Thereafter, he made his home in New York and New Jersey, but until the day of his death he continued to try to multiply his wealth so as to give Rice Institute a firmer financial foundation.

Published records quote his as explaining his dream this way:

"Texas received me when I was penniless, without friends of even acquaintances, and now in the evening of my life, I recognize my obligation to her and to her children. I wish to leave to the boys and girls struggling for a place in the sun the fortune I have been able to accumulate."

Rice originally planned to build the school at his 160-acre estate near Dunellen, N. M. At the age of 60, however, he decided it should be established in Texas.

Before his second wife died in 1896, Rice already had given the Institute a "start" with a gift of $200,000, but his wife's death delayed matters.

WILL CONTESTED

Under Texas law, property accumulated during a marriage is considered joint property of husband and wife, each having an equal undivided interest. Mrs. Rice's will attempted to distribute half the estate.

Rice contested the will on the grounds he and his wife were not resident of Texas and had not been since the end of the Civil War.

The case was ready for trial when Rice was murdered.

Patrick, formerly of Texas, was a New York attorney associated with an attorney handling Mrs. Rice's will.

Patrick became a close friend of Rice and told investigators he had worked out an agreement whereby Rice would pay $250,000 as full settlement for claims against his wife's will.

Patrick claimed that at Rice's request he had prepared a new will. This will revoken plans for the Institute and named Patrick residuary legatee of the entire estate. He also produced a letter, signed W. M. Rice," directing that Rice's body be cremated.

This letter and the will produced by Patrick were found by the courts to be forgeries.

Patrick was arrested for forgery on Oct. 4, 1900.

ARRESTED IN 1901

On Feb. 27, 1901, he and Jones, the valet, were arrested for murder They were indicted two months later.

Jones, in turning state's evidence, said he had murdered Rice by undermining his health with medicines, some of which were prescribed by a physician and some by Patrick.

He said he met Patrick on Sept. 23, 1900, and then went to the apartment where he found Rice sleeping. He said he placed a cone containing a sponge saturated with chloroform over Rice's face and left it there 30 minutes.

Jones disappeared after the trial.

Patrick died Feb. 11, 1940, at Tulsa, Okla., at the age of 74.

Rice's estate was turned over to the Rice Institute trustees in 1907, five years before the first classes began.

The trustees have maintained a strict policy on keeping the number of students small enough to permit each to receive every possible educational opportunity from the facilities available. The enrollment is increased gradually as the facilities are enlarged and operating incomes from the endowments climb.

PAY NO TUITION

Students pay no tuition but must pay laboratory fees.

A Houston girl, a June graduate, says her four-year education at Rice cost her about $75 a year. About one-fifth of the students are girls.

A young Houston Engineer says his Rice education cost him about $200 a year.

Competitive examinations frequently are used in selecting the small freshman classes.

Rice long has been famous for scholarship and engineering in recent years, despite being handicapped by a small enrollment, it has made history in athletic competition.

Construction projects on the 300-acre Houston campus now include a 70,000-seat, $2,500,000 football stadium and a 6,600-seat, $1,250,000 gymnasium.

Daredevils Defy Death With Stunts in Jet Powered Planes

By DON DOANE
(Associated Press Staff)

FUERSTENFELDBRUCK, Germany, Sept. 28—An F-80 jet fighter plane streaks toward two others at 500 miles an hour. Spectators gasp in horror at what looks like a sure head-on collision.

In a heart-stopping second the three planes meet in a blinding blur of speed—and pass safely, missing each other's wingtips by a scant few feet.

That's just a routine part of the day's work for five flying daredevils from the U. S. Airforce's 36th Fighter Group based here in Southern Germany. They do acrobatic stunts with jet planes at speeds which most humans hope they'll never have to travel.

Billed as "The Skyblazers" this aerobatic team has become a featured attraction at air shows throughout Europe. Its members are:

Capt. Harry (The Horse) Evans of Clarksburg, W. Va.

Capt. Vincent P. (Flash) Gordon of Pueblo, Colo.

Lt. C. A. (Bill) Pattillo of Atlanta, Ga.

His twin brother, Lt. Charles C. (Buck) Pattillo, also of Atlanta.

And Lt. Lawrence D. (Dagwood) Damewood of Roanoke, Va.

NOT FOR WEAK HEARTS

If you have a weak heart, you'd better skip their show.

Take that dangerous head-on pass, for instance. They do it this way:

Bill and Buck Pattillo fly in the same direction, with just room enough between them for another plane to squeeze through. They fly less than 10 feet above the ground.

Dagwood Damewood, roaring at them from the opposite direction at the same height slips through that narrow gap. Their wingtips are seldom more than ten feet apart when they meet.

With each plane traveling at 500 miles an hour, that means they come together at the rate of 1,000 miles an hour. That doesn't leave much time or room to correct any errors.

"QUITE SIMPLE"

"Oh, it's quite simple," the flyers explain in the off-hand manner in which they discuss their death-defying stunts. "We just line ourselves up by the runway—two on the outer edge and one down the middle. We're bound to clear."

Another of their spectacular stunts is called the "bomb burst."

Four jets fly in diamond formation, Flash Gordon in front and center, the Pattillos on the wings, and Damewood "in the slot" at center rear.

As they scream past the grandstand, the formation suddenly opens like a bomb bursting. Gordon shoots straight up in a big loop, The Pattillos shoot off and up to each side. Dame heads straight on, snaprolling as he goes.

DEATH POWER DIVES

They do power dives that look like sure death until they pull out maddeningly near the ground. They do stunts in formation, almost touching wingtips. Many of their maneuvers are spontaneous—the leader sets the pattern and the others follow. Their precision is as perfect as a troupe of ballet dancers.

Capt. Evans organized the group about a year ago. They have performed in England, Belgium and France as well as Germany. Europe's boldest professional flyers are aghast at the things they do.

When this reporter said he'd like to see their show, they volunteered to stage one. That's how casually they regard their work.

One day as they were warming up their planes to take their turn at an air show, a stunting British pilot failed to pull out of a dive and crashed in flames before their eyes—and those of thousands of spectators.

off and started their dizzy stunts to

take the crowd's eyes and minds

All of the Skyblazers are veterans of wartime aerial combat. All except Buck Pattillo are married.

"What do your wives think of you risking your neck like this?" we asked.

"Oh, my wife thinks it's kind of silly," said Flash Gordon. "But she doesn't make any fuss about it."

Jolson Says This Is Harder War Than Last

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 28. (AP)—A tired Al Jolson returned by plane last night from entertaining combat troops in the Korean war zone and had this comment:

"Know what it feels like to be back? I'm going to look up my income tax and see if I paid enough."

"Those guys are wonderful," the singer told reporters in referring to the morale of combat troops. "This is a much tougher war than the last one, believe me."

Jolson said he and his pianist, Harry Akst gave 42 shows in war zones and at base hospitals in Japan during their 18-day tour.

"I guess the North Koreans didn't like my singing," said Jolson. "They threw lots of stuff at us at Masan."

Detroit Bus With Bad Brakes Kills Woman

DETROIT, Sept. 28. (AP) — A city bus ran wild in yesterday's downtown rush hour traffic and killed a woman.

Mrs. Ora Mae Grant, 54, a hotel housekeeper, was struck and fatally injured as the bus plowed into a crowd of pedestrians. Two other women were seriously hurt.

Police said faulty brakes on the bus were to blame. The driver was not held.

It was the second such fatality within less than 48 hours. On Tuesday Ernest G. John, 50, was killed when struck by a falling utility pole which had been sheared off by a bus. Police said bad brakes was the cause.

Presidents Rough On Bridge Piers

PEKIN, Ill., Sept. 28. (AP) — The towboat "Franklin D. Roosevelt" struck and damaged a pier on the railroad bridge on the Illinois River south of Pekin Jan. 31.

A few days ago another towboat struck the same pier and finished the job of flattening it. The boats' name? "Harry S. Truman."

Commissioner

Thomas F. Murpry, above, assistant U. S. attorney who prosecuted Alger Hiss successfully, had been named New York City police commissioner by Acting Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri. He succeeds William P. O'Brien, resigned.

PAT'S MEAT LOAF

Ingredients: 1½ pounds ground chuck beef, 1 cup prepared seasoned dry bread crumb stuffing, 2 eggs, No. 2 can solid-pack tomatoes (1 pound three ounces), 1 to 1¼ teaspoons salt (depending on seasoning in stuffing), freshly-ground pepper to taste.

Method: Put beef in mixing bowl; add stuffing and eggs. Measure 1 cup of tomatoes (about half tomato pulp and half juice) and add with salt and pepper. Mix thoroughly with spoon or fingers. Pack into heat-resistant glass baking dish (6 x 10 inches measured across top); use bottom of measuring cup to smooth down top. Drain remaining tomatoes in can, saving juice, and cut each in half; place tomato on top of meat so that there will be some on each piece when loaf is cut in 6 squares. Bake in moderate (350F.) oven about 40 minutes or until done. Squares may be removed from pan just before serving and pan-juices added to the tomato juice remaining (there will be about ½ cup), and thickened slightly to make a thin gravy. Makes 6 servings.

Paste Your Vacation Pictures In Album While Enthusiasm High

By IRVIN DESORE
(AP) Newsfeatures

By now most camera fans are back from their vacations and have seen their picture-taking results. The usual reactions are twofold: elation at the good shots, vexation at those that misfired or could have been improved or that weren't taken at all.

In most cases hindsight, or the art of second-guessing on what we should have done, is so much easier than foresight. But it never produces pictures. The solution is the same, obvious advice you've heard before think before you shoot, while you're still "on location." Think in terms of an imaginary assignment for your newspaper or a magazine. Shoot to show where you are, who you're with, what your doing in a photographically interesting manner. It's better to snap too many pictures, and eliminate later, than too few, leaving gaps in the picture story.

Okay, you have your vacation pictures. . .now what? Some assemble their contact prints in a story telling sequence and have them handy for those who ask, "How was your vacation this year?"

But the sequence gets scrambled, the prints get dog-eared and the story gets monotous in short order. Gradually the prints lose themselves in a secluded corner somewhere and eventually can't be found at all when reference to the 1950 vacation crops up.

From many such past experiences, I urge strongly that the first order of post-vacation business is to get a set of contact prints into an album or scrap book immediately. It needn't be a fancy job as long as it tells the vacation story while the enthusiasm of the trip is still high. Delay is apt to be fatal—too many new things pop up to divert your interest.

In addition, this year I added all the odd items one collects on a vacation trip that help tell the story. There's the hotel circular which identifies where we stayed, the descriptive literature which tells of our sightseeing stops, the programs for certain special events and the playbill of local stock theatre we attended. These serve as ready-made captions for pictures in the albums or for events we couldn't photograph but wished to remember.

Don't spoil an album with examples of out-of-focus, double-exposed or camera-moved shots. It may be the one and only snap of little Susie's first time on a horse. . .but why reveal that you were more frightened by the horse than she was? Discard bad prints and negatives but let them be your incentive to get a good picture next time out.

Besides the immediate value as a display piece of the vacation while it is still fresh, the completed album makes a permanent reference record with other uses. In it you can note how and where you file the negatives pictured, whether by number of subject matter. Here, too, you can study the prints at leisure to determine which are worth enlarging and whether cropping would enhance the results. If, and when, the enlargements are made, they can go in the album later to provide the close-up view or your better pictures.

The album is a handy item to bring along when visiting some of your new, vacation-found friends. What's more, it'll stay complete when you leave after many pleasant reminiscences. With loose prints it is sometimes hard to ignore a request for one of the photos, even though it is part of a set. It's another reason why a "complete set" of unmounted prints doesn't stay complete very long. That doesn't mean an album bars you from distributing personal prints. On the contrary, spurred on by a friend's request, it is much easier to make duplicate prints for them than for oneself.

Just one more thought, then I'll leave you so you can get started the guest or the host of the aforementioned newly-found vacation friends, why not anticipate their photo requests and have duplicate prints made in advance, ready to present at the very first visit? It's a nice gesture and one they'll remember—as long as the prints last.

Air Coach Is CAB-Approved

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28. (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board has given nine air lines authority to continue their cheap air coach service.

But it said in announcing the action yesterday that air coach fares must be raised from their present level of about 4 cents a mile to 4½ cents by Nov. 15. The standard airline rate is 6 cents.

The extension, good until next March 31, continued authority which had been due to expire Saturday.

Affected by the order are Capital, Chicago and Southern, Delta, Eastern, National, Northwest, TWA, United and Western Airlines. Their low fare service links most major cities over 23 routes.

Mrs. America Home To Stay; Divorce Is Out

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 28. (AP)—Mrs. America of 1949 and her auto mechanic husband have established a home here and she says "we are both home to stay now."

Frances Cloyd, 24, blond and blue-eyed, and her husband, Arthur, decided to call it quits last March while they were living in San Diego.

She even went so far as to obtain an interlocutory divorce decree. But last night she said:

"We had some time to think things over. Our kids, you know. We finally talked it over with our minister. That did it. Of course, for awhile I was away a lot—but we are both home to stay now."

She denied her selection as Mrs. America had any connection with the divorce.

The Cloyds have three children, Patricia, 14 months, Terry, 3, and Tommy, 4.

Teague Asks Opinions Of 4 Texas Educators

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28. (AP)—Four Texas educators have been requested to present their opinions of the operation of the $10 billion veterans education and training program to Rep. Teague (D-Tex).

Teague is chairman of a House committee set up to investigate the program. He planned to be in Texas today.

Asked to make the first reports were:

John Gray, Lamar College, Beaumont, Rupert Richardson, Hardin-Simmons University; Don H. Morris, Abilene Christian College; and Harold G. Cooke, McMurry College, all at Abilene.

To season a salmon salad for luncheon use finely grated onion, finely chopped parsley, prepared horseradish, salt, freshly-ground pepper and celery salt along with the usual mayonnaise or other salad dressing.

Truman Urges Non-Partisan Vote This Fall

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28. (AP)—President Truman called yesterday for the election of congressmen who will put the whole country's welfare above partisan advantage.

He made a brief broadcast, recorded Tuesday, in connection with the Democratic Party's observance of Women's Day. The speech had been billed as "non-partisan," and at no time did Mr. Truman urge election of Democrats or defeat of Republicans.

These were his criteria for congressional candidates:

"Do all you can to make sure that the candidates you vote for on election day will help win the peace. Do all you can to make sure that they will help our country cooperate with other free nations.

"Above all, be sure that the candidates you vote for are not the kind of people who will try to divide us over petty issues or weaken our international position for purely partisan reasons."

Two Patrolmen On City Force Called To Army

The police department has lost one member of their force to the Army, and will lose another Oct. 1.

Paul Tanner left Sept. 15 for his physical examination, and handed in his resignation as soon as he heard that he had passed.

Joe Langer also has orders to report to Fort Hood on Oct. 11. He will leave the force Oct. 1.

Government Planners May Take Chance And Kill Cotton Quotas

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28. (AP)—Cotton growers may get a "sky's the limit" signal next year.

Agriculture Department officials have decided that there will be no marketing quotas on the 1951 crop and they lean heavily toward grower proposals that acreage planting allotments also be dropped.

Lifting of restrictions was seen as a move to refill nearly empty warehouses. Formal announcement of next year's program may be made in a day or so.

This year's crop was produced under rigid marketing quotas and acreage allotments. It turned out to be much smaller than the government expected and supplies became tight. Exports are being limited, but there still may be a shortage of some grades before the 1951 crop is harvested.

SURPLUS THREAT

A year ago the government had upwards of one billion invested in extra supplies stored under price support and there was a threat of a topheavy surplus.

The demand for cotton has been greater than expected.

This year's planting allotment was about 21,500,000 bales.

Top-ranking Agriculture Department officials, including Secretary Brannan, have been said to oppose allotments. It is said they believe it would be difficult to justify such limits no matter how high they might be set, in the face of the short supply and the possible need for more cotton under the defense program.

Cutting out allotments would broaden the government responsibility, however, under the price support program. The government is required by law to support cotton next year at prices between 80 and 90 per cent of parity. Heretofore, price support has been limited to those farmers complying with allotments.

Dummy Grenade Bank Robbery Attempt Gets Man 3-Year Sentence

HOUSTON, Sept. 28. (AP)—Paul V. Patton was sentenced to three years in prison yesterday for trying to rob the National Bank of Commerce with a dummy hand grenade.

He was arrested March 27 after crashing into a glass door in the main lobby of the bank as he attempted to escape a teller, an infantry veteran, who recognized the grenade as a fake.

Camera For Police Is Overdue in Shipment

A mugging camera for the police department was supposed to have arrived here yesterday from Lubbock. Transportation facilities are the cause of the delay, according to Ed Basinger, assistant chief of police.

Shipment is expected today or tomorrow.

Scurry Passed by Ector County As First in New Oil Locations

After leading West Texas counties in the number of oil field starters for 49 consecutive weeks, just three weeks short of a year, Scurry County gave way in the fiftieth week to Ector County.

During the week Sept. 10 to Sept. 16, thirty-five West Texas counties shared locations for 131 tests for oil, including 25 wildcats.

Ector County led in field starters with 18; Scurry added 16; Pecos 10; Gaines seven; Crockett, Dawson, and Runnels, six each; Kent five; Andrews, Tom Green, and Upton, four each; Howard three; Cochran, Crane, Hockley, and Loving two each; Garza, Hale, Midland, Mitchell, Reagan, Reeves, Sterling, Terry, and Winkler Counties, one each.

Crockett and Ector Counties gained three wildcats each; Runnels two; Borden, Coke, Cottle, Crane, Crosby, Culberson, Irion, Kent, King, Loving, Martin, Midland, Scurry, Terry, Tom Green, Ward, and Yoakum Counties, one each.

Air Reserve Head For Our Terms In Korea

FORT WORTH, Sept. 28. (AP) — The president of the Air Reserve Assn. says we should have peace in Korea on "our terms—not theirs."

Brig. Gen. J. Lafeton Whitney of Chicago last night said he could see no reason for any appeasement in the Korean situation.

"If someone starts a fight they should be able to finish it," he said, scorning reported peace feelers issued in the Korean righting.

The Air Reserve Assn. opens its annual convention today.

He Actually Likes Work

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 28. (AP) —A man who has been painting one building for 35 years finally quit.

John Spisak retired yesterday from his job as painter for the Rowan building in downtown Los Angeles.

"With time on his hands what's he going to do? Paint his own house.

OLEAN, N. Y., Sept. 28. (AP) — James H. Knox says his stepson, while fishing in Allegany River, hooked a pretically new bicycle.

Expiring Enlistments In Coast Guard Will Be Extended One Year

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28. (AP) — Coast Guard enlistments due to expire before next July 9 have been extended for 12 months.

President Truman took the action yesterday shortly after signing a bill giving him authority to do so. The new law also places the Coast Guard within the selective service system—that is, it permits the Coast Guard to call for men in the draft if it does not get enough volunteers.

Other military manpower developments:

The President signed a bill to permit the states to organize home guards.

The Army announced it is calling up 130 physicians of the organized reserve to meet "emergency needs."

Man Strangled With Imitation Pearls Is Found In Hotel Room

SAVANNAH, Ga., Sept. 28. (AP) — The nude body of a married Atlanta toy salesman, bedecked with ropes of imitation pearls, was found in a bolted hotel room, Coroner Harold M. Smith reported last night.

Smith identified the salesman as Charles E. Pfoertner and said he committed suicide by strangling himself with a three-foot chain attached to the bedside.

The coroner added these details:

The doors and windows in the room were bolted from the inside. Two strands of pearls were wrapped tightly around Pfoertner's throat beneath the chain, and a third strand extended almost to his waist.

Two boxes of pearls were found in Pfoertner's luggage. Also in the room was a neatly handwritten portion of a short story which Pfoertner apparently had been writing.
