The home of Pat and Becky Morris at 1435 Oak St., was the scene of a fire Tuesday morning, as a blaze apparently caused by a coffee maker in the kitchen caused extensive heat and smoke damage throughout the house, which was being remodeled.

The call was received by the Colorado City Volunteer Fire Department at 10:54 a.m. and Fire Marshall L. O. Schaffer said that fire fighters were at the scene for about an hour to an hour-and-a-half, though the fire was quickly under control. He said they were there that long because of problems with the fire hydrant.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris were at work when the

New homes planned in park area

The Colorado City Council and Housing Developer Len Dockum of Sweetwater talked at considerable length Tuesday night and came to an agreement which will mean thirty-five additional new houses in the Ruddick Park area.

The area was formerly owned by Dell Barber and lies north of 8th Street in the general area of the swimming pool. The western boundary of the development will be Shepherd Street which is paved from 8th Street to Tenth Street. Dell Barber will continue to own a slice of property along Tenth Street from Shepherd to the area east of East-over Street.

The area of discussion was curb and gutter along the East side of Shepherd. There is no curb and gutter there and Dockum would have liked to curb and gutter his side where there is a curb and gutter across the street and wished to leave the remainder "as is."

The planning and zoning board had recommended curb and gutter along the whole side of the subdivision. The council finally came to the conclusion that they should go along with the recommendation of the P & Z Board and Dockum agreed to put curb and gutter along the whole length—840 feet—of his subdivision. The subdivided area is 544 feet wide.

Dockum told the council that dirt work in the subdivision could begin within a week.

The council also approved a complex deal with developer Earl Hammond which will allow Hammond to postpone the installation of curb and gutter and paving in the Lone Wolf addition as long as he is beginning a new house every ninety days.

Eventually he will have to pave and curb and gutter all of his developed subdivision.

The Council approved a subdivision for Martin

Basinger of Post on the west side of the Dairy Queen. The subdivision is one large lot on which Basinger plans to build a package store.

Basinger also requested a Mobile Home permit "for my employees to live in."

The area is not zoned for mobile homes and the council granted a temporary permit good

(Q) Is there anyplace around Colorado City I can get swimming lessons for my child that is less than two years old?

(A) No swimming lessons for that age child is being offered at the Colorado Municipal Swimming Pool or through the Wallace Center. No private instructors have been found either.

The closest place to get swimming lessons for children that young is at Western Texas College in Snyder, though all their classes are filled for the summer and the waiting list has more than 20 names on it.

If you want lessons for your child next year, Joy Pylant of the Adult Vocation Department advises you to call by next April.

LISD Board chooses a head coach

A new football coach at Loraine High School was selected Monday night at their regularly scheduled monthly meeting.

B. D. Trice of Cisco was offered the job after reviewing some 18 applications.

Trice has approximately 18 years experience in coaching, however, he has been out of coaching the last four years. According to Superintendent Glenn Sanders, Trice wanted to get back in coaching.

Trice is 47 years old, married and has one boy that will be a senior this year.

In other business, board members gave Superintendent Glen Sanders authority to employ a firm to check for asbestos-containing material in the school.

Employed Donna Mize of the China Grove area as a business teacher.

Reviewed the Texas Assessment of Basic Skills scores recently released by the state. "As a whole we did real well, better than last year," Sanders reported.

Eighty-five percent of students mastered the test.

Gazebo Ball tickets are still available

Chamber of Commerce Manager Linda McCombs is encouraging all people to go ahead and purchase their tickets for the Gazebo Ball which will be held tomorrow (Friday) from 8 p.m. until midnight at the Civic Center.

"We want everybody to go ahead and purchase their tickets as soon as possible," said Mrs. McCombs, concerning the gala event which is limited to the first 400 people who purchase their tickets. Tickets are on sale at the Chamber office for $15 per person.

All proceeds from this gala event will go toward the completion of the Dell Barber Kiwanis Park located downtown at the corner of Second Street and the Sterling City Highway. The Kiwanis Club started the project, and several thousand dollars are still needed for its completion.

Phillips pointed out that each of the firemen put at least half of the money he received from

As stated in previous stories about the ball, there is no formal attire required, the main thing is that people come on out and have an "exciting, good time," stated McCombs.

Entertaining the crowd will be the Dave Adams Orchestra from Abilene, a ten member band which performed for local citizens at a previous event.

Refreshments consisting of ham, turkey, dips, chips and a variety of cheeses will be served.

Perhaps the highlight of the festivities will occur during intermission, when individual services and items will be auctioned off. Quilts, donated by R. B. Baker and senior citizens from the Wallace Center, are just a few of the items to be auctioned off.

Kiwanians offering their individual services are: four hours of window cleaning by Dell Barber, one edging and lawn mowing job on an estate-sized yard by Bobby Lemons and two funerals and one wedding at a cut rate performed by Rev. Robert Bracy.

Other individual services to be auctioned off are a wedding solo performed by Cecil Oursbourn, accompanied by musicians Robert Hoback and Steve Morris, and a windmill repair job by Charlie Useton.

President of the ball committee is Joe Kirschbaum, while other members are, Joy Morris, Flo Caldwell, Ray Anne Carlock, Barbara Gray and Jean Holbert.

So the stage is set for everyone to have a marvelous Friday night of dancing, eating and fun. Attend and support the Gazebo Ball so the Dell Barber Kiwanis Park can be completed!

Fire department gets exemption

Several members of the Loraine Volunteer Fire Department met with the Loraine City Council Tuesday night to discuss the Council's recent decision not to allow purchases to be charged to the City of Loraine without approval from city officials.

Jim Clifton, Jr., spokesman for the firemen, asked why the fire department's "credit was suspended" at the last meeting.

Loraine Mayor Royce Beights said, "Our sole purpose for suspending credit or however you want to call it, concerned a fairly large bill at Higginbotham (Lumber Company) of around the neighborhood of $200 that was not authorized, by a person not connected with the city or under the city's employment or under that directive. This brought to our attention that, if we're that lax, then just almost anybody could go down and open a charge account and charge it to the city. So, to stop anything like that, we decided to make this change in our rules."

The purchase mentioned by Beights was one of some paneling for the fire department building and was paid by the fire department before the date of the City Council meeting, according to Donny Phillips, one of the firemen present.

A lengthy discussion began then with Councilman Roland Rickard stating that the rule had not been meant to undermine the fire department's integrity but to protect the city from unauthorized purchases by unauthorized persons and councilman Eddie Galvan saying that he felt they should "change back to the way it was."

Phillips pointed out that each of the firemen put at least half of the money he received from

Findleys awarded bid on CISD house

Two bids were opened for the Building Trades house at 107 E. 21st St., during the regular meeting of the Colorado Independent School District Board of Trustees Monday night and the bid was awarded to Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Findley who offered $69,100.

The only other bid received for the house, appraised at $67,695.37, was in the amount of $67,201.

Also during the meeting, Dr. Walter Bingham was hired as Administrative Supervisor, replacing Geneva Findley who is being transferred to the position of Tax Collector-Business Manager, a post that will be left vacant upon the retirement of Jay S. Craddock, Jr.

The Board also approved changes in school policy to re-define job descriptions for those two positions.

In other action, the Board:

Accepted the resignations of Betsy Aycock, first grade teacher, Barbara Chrane, fifth grade teacher, Julia Jo Brown, fifth grade teacher, and Virginia Folsom, third grade teacher;

Approved the appointments of Dugan Eugene Tuttle as P.E. teacher-coach at Middle

She will do a dance routine to "Beat It" for the talent competition at the pageant.

When asked why she entered the pageant, she said, "It was fun last year and it seemed like it would be bigger this year. I thought it would be a nice experience to remember in years to come."

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesus Valero and has four brothers and four sisters.

An 18-year-old graduate of Loraine High School, Jana Britton is the daughter of Gene and Christine Britton and has two brothers and one sister: Randy, Mike and Carla Aston.

Before she graduated, she was a member of Future Homemakers of America, National Honor Society and band, where she was elected band sweetheart. Honors she has received include the National Science Merit Award, United States National Band Award and inclusion in "Who's Who in Music." She was also president of the Student Council.

In her spare time, she enjoys twirling, playing tennis and bicycling.

Jana plans to attend Western Texas College one year and then transfer to Texas Tech to major in broadcasting. She entered the pageant "because it will be a lot of fun and good experience."

For the talent competition she will sing "The Rose."

At Colorado High School, where she will be a junior in the fall, Jody Mann plays the flute in band, will be treasurer for the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, is a member of the Flag Corps, Student Council and Wolverines and participates in volleyball, basketball and track.

She was the 1981 Rodeo Queen and her hobbies are rodeoing, swimming, riding bikes and sports in general.

She is the 16-year-old daughter of Charla and T. A. Whitesides and has one sister, Becca, and one brother, Todd.

Her main reasons for entering the pageant, she said, were "I like working with everybody, being in front of people. It's a lot of fun and good experience."

A dance routine to "The Kid is Hot Tonight" will be her contribution to the talent competition of the pageant.

Kristy Frizzell, 17, enjoys reading, singing and aerobic dancing and is playing the part of one of the king's wives in Colorado City Playhouse production of "The King and I."

She graduated this spring from Colorado High School, where she was a member of the Flag Corps for three years and played the clarinet in band.

She said she entered the Miss Mitchell County pageant because she thought it would be a lot of fun and, "I'll be going to Miss Texas Teen (pageant) in July and it will be good experience."

In the talent competition, she will sing "What a Feeling," also known as "Flash Dance."

fire calls into a "kitty" which was used for most purchases for the fire department.

Phillips also said that the entire volunteer fire department had been deeply hurt by the Council's action and fireman Danny Butler stated, "We need your trust again."

There was more discussion and then Beights canvassed the council members and each stated that he felt the fire department should be exempted from the new ruling.

In other business, Joe Morren, C.P.A. presented an audit of the city's finances, noting that for the fiscal year which ended March 31, 1983, the City of Loraine had revenues amounting to $27,171.50 over the budgeted revenues while the expenditures had been $8,102.74 under budget, leaving the city with a surplus of $35,264.24.

One of the possible uses for the surplus discussed by the council was paving or repair of some of the streets in town.

B. B. Hardee of Texas Electric Service Company met with the Council about TESCO's proposal to increase their revenues by 16.1 percent and explained that the city had four options in the matter: deny the request, in which case TESCO would appeal to the Public Utilities Commission; grant an increase tied to the increase approved by the PUC; suspend the request for 120 days which would only put off action; grant the entire 16.1 percent increase.

Hardee said that granting the entire request would probably result in Loraine residents having higher electric bills than anyone else, since the PUC itself would almost certainly not grant the whole request. The council voted to grant an increase tied to PUC's decision.

Mayor Beights reported to the Council that he had talked to Colorado City Manager Rick Crowley again about using Colorado City's landfill and asked him to discuss with the Colorado City Council the possibility of charging for the landfill's use by the truck or by the yard, rather than charging them to dig a trench which the Loraine Council felt was too large for Loraine's needs.

Beights also reported that Herschel Williams had submitted a proposal to take care of Loraine's trash in a government-approved manner for $18,000 per year.

The Council instructed Beights to check further into both proposals. In other matters, the Council:

-Passed an ordinance against unsafe buildings;

-Discussed the feasibility of buying a new police car or repairing the old one and instructed City Secretary Kay Nell Cornutt to get estimates on both options and report back to the Council;

-Voted to install water lines on certain city property as requested by Lindsey Petty and Bill Preston;

-Heard a complaint from a Loraine resident about a letter he received telling him to dispose of a vehicle on his property which was in violation of the city's "junk car" ordinance.

-Heard and approved a policy set out by Crowley regarding problem water bills. Meters will be reread anytime. Water meters will be changed out with the water user paying the cost, if the meter is OK. If the old meter is faulty, the city will pay costs.

Summer program employs youth

Mitchell County presently has 22 youth employed on the CETA Manpower Summer Youth Employment Program, according to Nolan and Mitchell County Field Office Manager Vicki Cannon.

The CETA program is a government-funded program which helps youth get summer jobs with surrounding businesses. The purpose of the program is to give youth an opportunity to develop good work habits and gain experience in the world of work.

Youth will have the opportunity to learn new skills or improve their skills while they are getting paid. In addition, youth can explore areas of vocational interest through their job, counseling sessions or materials provided by their counselors. The program is designed to teach youth more about the capabilities and the world of work so that they can make career decisions in the future.

The CETA program has been around since 1974, but this will be the last year it will be in existence said Ms. Cannon. Starting next year a Job Training Partnership Act will take effect. In some ways the program will be similar to CETA, but it will require more commitments by the employer.

Presently the CETA program pays the workers' salaries for the program. The eligibility for the program is based on family income over the last six months and family size.

This year 32 youth applied for summer jobs, with 15 being employed in Colorado City, three in Westbrook and four in Loraine. Under this program the youth will get paid minimum wage, work 40 hour weeks for 10 weeks, said

Ms. Cannon. Ms. Cannon also stated that work stations are required to keep strict work hours and to make sure that everyone does their job.

In addition, sessions are set up with workers to discuss work habits, work attitudes and the current labor market.

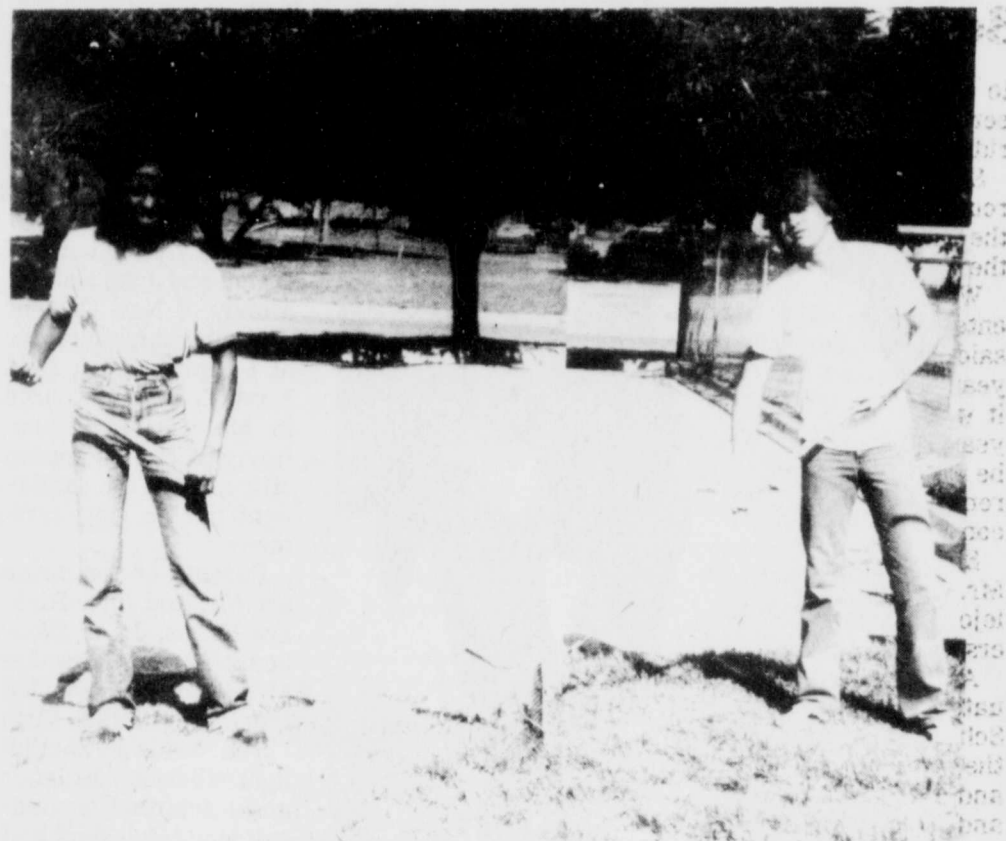

For the summer, youth will be employed in Colorado City at the following places: the Mitchell County Public Library, the Mitchell County Courthouse, at the Wolf fieldhouse, day care center, city department, state park, housing authority and Wallace Center.

In Westbrook, the youth are serving as teacher's aids for the summer school program and in Loraine, youth are employed by the city and by the Loraine School District. Ms. Cannon says at the present time she doesn't know if any more youth will be employed.

Ms. Cannon also added that CETA is offering applications to adults for on the job training. Under this program, if an adult is hired, CETA will pay 50 percent of the person's wage during their beginning work period. Ms. Cannon will be taking applications at Wallace Center every Tuesday from 1:30 p.m. until 3:30 p.m., and she would be glad to talk to any interested employers about the program.

Ms. Cannon says she is thankful for the excellent cooperation she has received with employers in this area.

SUMMER WORKERS aided by the Manpower Program are Della Ausbie and Billy Wood, who are employed at the Mitchell County Courthouse. The Manpower program employs 22 local youth.

Kay and John Mundy

Evans, Munday united April 22

Kay Lynne Evans of Irving and John Patrick Mundy of New Orleans were united in marriage at 7 p.m. on April 22 in First Christian Church in Metairie, Louisiana. Rev. Stephen Thompson officiated at the candlelight double ring ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Evans, Jr. of Oklahoma City and Mrs. Joe Mundy and the late Joe Mundy of Colorado City. The bride's Candlelight Illusion designer gown featured a mid-calf length full skirt and high Victorian neckline with a lace ruffle at the top of open net work. The Princess Di sleeves were of the same material. The fitted waist was designed with a satin sash and an imported French netting veil was gathered to a halo flower ring. Candlelight shoes completed the bridal outfit. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of a dozen white rose buds and English ivy.

The maid of honor, Jenny Hearin, niece of the groom, wore a knee length white dress with a burgandy sash and carried a nosegay of burgandy flowers.

Nolan Roberts of New Orleans was best man and he wore a black tuxedo identical to the groom's.

Wedding music consisting of "The Wedding Song" and "Don't Go Changing" was provided by organist May Ball.

A reception honoring the couple was hosted by the bride's parents at the historic Marie Antoinette Hotel in the French Quarter of New Orleans on April 30. The registry table, presided over by Melissa Mundy, niece of the groom, was covered with a white cloth and skirt and decorated with a burgandy flower arrangement. A scalloped, decorated archway led to the main party room where the bride's table was draped with an ivory cloth.

FIVE GENERATIONS of the Mannering family got together for a picture Sunday afternoon in Colorado City. Wilda Mannering (in chair) moved to Colorado City in 1921 immediately after her marriage to Lester, now deceased. Her daughter, Lila Mannering Hall (seated at right), was born here and graduated from Colorado High School, marrying Hubert Hall, also from Mitchell County. Ronda Hall Laubach (standing) lived in Colorado City for 2½ years, beginning when she was 2 months old and her father was in the South Pacific during World War II. Wendy Laubach Janoe (seated at left) graduated from New Braunfels High School and married Phillip Janoe who is employed by the Janoe Kenworth Truck Co. in San Antonio. The baby, Christi Lea Janoe, was born April 8, 1983 in San Antonio.

Local students attend band camp

Thirty-eight middle school and high school students from Colorado City left Sunday morning for the start of Sul Ross State University's band camp and Sunday afternoon, the students registered and auditioned for places in the four concert bands.

Colorado City students in the Honors Band, conducted by Rick Lambrecht of El Paso, are Rhonda Barber, Lisa Gardner, Jody Webb, Melinda Selver, Melanie Rees, Allen Garcia, Barbara Heredia, Richy Womack, Christi Dillard, Bavahe Patel, Perry Conner, Marty Cleckler, Doug Baum and Steve Rosas.

Jesse Lotspeich of Clint is conductor of the Concert Band. Colorado City students in that band are Jennifer Holguin, Danashu Lusk, Amy Garcia, Ricky Mendoza, Steve Smith, Mark Molina and Shane Wells.

Don Hurt and Lisa Mendoza are Colorado City band students in the Junior Symphonic Band conducted by Ban Black of El Paso.

These students will rehearse and study with outstanding music teachers from all over West Texas. At the end of the week of study, they will present a concert Saturday afternoon before returning home.

Lummus honored with dinner

The United Methodist Congregation of Lorraine had a farewell dinner on June 5 for their pastor, Rev. Charlie Lummus and his family. Lummus is entering the U.S. Navy as a Chaplain. His wife, Melinda and daughters, Lori and Lilah, will be with relatives in Dallas until he has completed basic schooling and received his assignment.

Following the Sunday meal, Mrs. Syble Walker read a beautiful article appropriate for the occasion. Mrs. Raymond Wheeler then presented the "Pot of Gold"—a monetary love gift from the congregation. Though the traditional thought finds a pot of gold at the end of the rainbow, in this case the rainbow lies in their future. Other gifts were presented.

Trina Lemons then sang "How Great Thou Art" with the group joining her in one verse and the chorus. Melinda Lummus then gave a testimony and special thanks to all.

Picture taking was the finale of the program.

More than 50 were present.

Brucellosis quarantine still pending

According to Attorney General Jim Mattox, Texas will pursue all legal options to prevent a quarantine on the state's multibillion cattle industry because of the rising cases of brucellosis.

Mattox returned from Washington last week following a meeting with Agriculture Secretary John Block in an effort to negotiate a possible compromise, but it didn't happen. "I think both sides were courteous, but extremely firm in the matter," Mattox was quoted as saying. Recently the U.S. Department of Agriculture issued a quarantine on the Texas cattle industry, that would go in effect June 1. However, a federal judge in San Antonio issued a temporary injunction and scheduled a hearing later on.

Texas, said Mattox, is contending that the USDA did not allow for a comment period before it issued the quarantine. To be able to do that, the situation would have to be considered an emergency. By this, the normal rulemaking procedures were interrupted.

"The reason they cannot show that an emergency exists is because we have a program in place, a brucellosis enforcement program that is actually improving the quality of our herds," said Mattox. Mattox says Texas is better off with the brucellosis problem than it was two years ago, and better off than other states who are suffering from the problem. He added that some states have far greater problems with the disease, and they have not been quarantined.

However, if the USDA is prevented from the current quarantine, it would begin devising a new one that the courts would uphold. This process would take approximately 75 days. A number of States, including Montana have indicated that they would issue their own restrictions against Texas cattle should the situation not be solved.

Figures released by the Texas Department of Agriculture showed that more than two million head of cattle worth more than $700 million were shipped from Texas to other states in 1982.

Crime rate steady

According to the Justice Department, nearly 25 million American households were touched by violent crimes or theft in 1982, a one percent decline from the previous year.

The department's Bureau of Justice stats attributed the decline almost entirely to a decline in percentage of households with a member who had personal property stolen away from home. It said the percentage of households that experienced theft at such places as a restaurant, office or work place fell from 15.9 percent to 13.3 percent.

The percentage of households touched by other crimes (rape, robbery, motor vehicle theft, etc...) has stayed steady from 1975-1982.

These figures are taken from the National Crime Survey and are generally conceded to be the most comprehensive crime data available because they include both crimes reported to the police and those which are not reported to the police. The information is drawn from regular interviews with about 50,000 Americans.

The crime survey reported that 29 percent of American households were touched by crime in 1982, just 3 percentage points lower than in 1975. In 1981, the survey reported 30 percent of US households were touched by crime.

During 1982, the households most vulnerable to crime were those with high incomes, those in central cities and those headed by blacks, the report showed.

The most common crime continued to be larceny, touching a fifth of the nation's households, while seven percent of all households were victims of attempted or complete burglary, and six percent had a member who was the victim of a violent crime.

Smoke-cooking seafood is a nice change of pace

If you're looking for a delicious change of pace in your outdoor cooking this season, try smoke-cooking seafood. This is an excellent method of preparing drum, shark, mackerel, jack or other plentiful fish or shellfish.

Preparing smoked seafood is not a difficult process involving a lot of special equipment, according to Annette Reddell Hegen, seafood consumer education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

You will need a charcoal, gas or electric grill with a cover or hood, charcoal briquets if using a charcoal grill, one pound of hickory or other hardwood chips (available at most grocery stores), salt, water, vegetable oil, fish, two large bowls and a basting brush. An oven thermometer is helpful, but not a necessity.

With these things in hand, you're ready to start. If the fish is frozen, thaw it first under cold running water. Mix one gallon of cold water with one cup of salt and stir until dissolved. Marinate fish in this brine—30 minutes for pan-dressed fish or one-half inch fillets, 45 minutes for one-inch thick fillets or steaks. Soak chips in two quarts of water.

Now you're ready to start the fire. If using charcoal, use fewer briquets than for an average broiling fire, and when the coals are red, spread them sparsely over the bottom of the grill. If using a gas or electric grill, set the temperature on low.

Next, cover ceramic or charcoal with one-third of the wet chips which will produce smoke and reduce the temperature. Low heat is a must.

When the fish have soaked the prescribed amount of time, drain and pat dry. Grease the grill well, adjust it four to six inches above the heat, and place the fish on the grill, skin side down. Baste the fish, and keep the oil handy for occasional basting during cooking. Be sure the fish does not dry out! Add soaked chips as needed.

Cooking times vary with the temperature inside the grill, type of grill, weather, amount of moisture in the chips, and the distance of the fish from the source of heat.

At 150-175 degrees, it will take about an hour for half-inch fillets to cook, but if the temperatures increases to 250 degrees, the cooking time reduces to about 20 minutes. When done, the fish will turn a golden brown on the surface and will flake easily.

It is more economical to smoke more fish than you will use for one meal, says Hegen. Freeze the excess by cooling thoroughly in the refrigerator, wrapping tightly in a moisture and vapor-proof paper and storing at zero degrees.

To re-heat, wrap the thawed fish tightly in foil and place in an oven at 300 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes.

No increase in postal rates seen

The U.S. Postal Service, heading for its second consecutive surplus year, has scrapped plans to raise postal rates in November, Postmaster General William F. Bolger said recently.

The last rate increase, which raised the cost of a first-class stamp to 20 cents was in 1981.

The amount of rate increase is still up in the air. "We have no idea at this point in time. That's what we are wrestling with," explained Bolger.

He discounted rumors that the price of mailing letters will go up in the early part of 1984. He said that it takes nearly a year after filing with the postal rate commission to get the increase approved. No request has been filed so far.

Morris' honored in Snyder

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Morris of Colorado City were among the individuals and organizations honored by the Scurry County Senior Citizens Center at its annual Recognition Banquet Thursday June 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris have donated their services to the Senior Center's major fund raising event, "May Day," for the past five years. Morris serves as auctioneer for a sale of quilts made in the Center during the year and Mrs. Morris assists him.

In presenting their plaque, Gloria Shaw, Senior Center director, said, "Grady and Molly are just great! The way they run our auction is something to see, and I think we have people who come just to see them in action!"

This year's auction, which included several donated items as well as the quilts, netted the Center more than $17,000.

About 300 persons attended the Thursday recognition banquet, which was held in the Scurry County coliseum.

Schafers to attend reunion

L. O. Schafer can hardly wait until July 14 rolls around. What is so special about that particular date?

That is when Schafer, and some of the members of the 904 Signal Co. Association get together for their two year reunion. The 904 Signal Co. Association was a branch of the United States Air Force in World War I. The group, numbering about 150, repaired radios and transistors for the B-17 and B-24 aircraft. Schafer served in the Air Force from 1942-1946.

The 904 has been conducting these reunions since 1960, and since that time Schafer has missed only a few reunions. "A fellow which is now deceased, from Knoxville, Tennessee had the idea to start having the reunions, and now it has turned into a well organized affair," said Schafer.

This year Schafer and wife Juanita along with fellow squadmen and their wives will be meeting in St. Louis, Missouri at the Henry the Eighth Hotel for the three day event. Sometimes children and grandkids also show up for the get-together. Schafer estimated that usually 30-35 members show up at the reunions.

"It's nearly impossible for everyone to make every reunion, sometimes different people show up for different ones," commented Schafer. The meeting place changes every reunion, that way everyone gets a chance to see various parts of the U.S. The reunions have been held in Texas twice, in Houston in 1975 and in 1979 the reunion was held in Amarillo. Other places the 904 has met include Chicago, Detroit, Boston, Minneapolis, Minnesota; Knoxville, Tennessee; Indianapolis, Indiana and Dells, Wisconsin.

At the reunions, sight-seeing tours are taken and everyone sits down and "shoots the breeze" said Schafer. The final night a banquet is held, along with a business meeting and memorial services for their deceased countrymen.

What city has Schafer enjoyed the most? "I'd say it was probably Dells, Wisconsin. We did more sight-seeing. We took a lot of boat rides up the river, and later on went on up to Canada," said Schafer.

Schafer says that there is only three members of the 904 that he knows of that live in Texas, including himself and one fellow from Corsicana and another from Childress.

Schafer says the unique thing about the 904 is that most of the members keep in touch, either by letters, telephone or a newsletter that is sent out to each member every two months. "We are a pretty close knit group, and at the meetings the wives get well acquainted also," explained Schafer.

So now time has come for another reunion of the 904 and it seems these meetings bear the meaning of the 904's theme—"Soldiers Together - Brothers Forever."

Root Valley Fair Lodge

By PAM JARNAGIN

We rushed summer a few days and got out the old ice cream freezer to try our luck at homemade ice cream. Our luck was good and we enjoyed the fruit of our labor on the front porch. We are planning a salad supper on Friday, June 17 at 5 p.m. for our fathers and their families in honor of Fathers Day. The picnic will be in our back yard.

The local chapter of the Veterans of Foreign Wars donated an American flag and pole to grace our front lawn as June 14 was Flag Day. We had the color guard from Sweetwater make the presentation.

We are indebted to our Veterans in many more ways than one.

One of our projects for Root Lodge residents is to make our own nursing home flag to fly with our honored American flag.

Like Frances Scott Key, who wrote "Star Spangled Banner," we will look to see our banner waving proudly in the winds.

Assignments made by club for Craft Day

The North Loraine Extension Homemakers met in the home of Mrs. Clarence Matejowsky at 2:30 p.m. June 8, for a regular meeting. Mrs. Raymond Wheeler presided. The roll call was answered with "a vacation is —." A word game "Bride Groom" was conducted, with Mrs. Matejowsky coming out the winner.

Mrs. Matejowsky told about her recent vacation, a trip to California which fit in with the roll call. She also showed pictures they made on the trip.

During the business, assignments were made on the participation in the Craft and Recreation Day at the Medallion Room set for June 17. All clubs in the county will participate in this.

Mrs. Matejowsky was elected as nominee to become a delegate to TEHA Convention in Lubbock in September.

Members present for the meeting were: Mrs. J. M. Templeton, Jack Linam, Hubert Meadows, T. L. Holman, Ruth Blair, Rosia Hamrick, Raymond Wheeler and Matejowsky. Visitors were Mrs. Russell Cope and Mrs. Lindsey Petty.

Club makes workshop plans

The regular meeting of the Baumann TEHA Club was called to order by the president, Bernice Hallmark, at 2:30 p.m. June 7th in the home of Mrs. Pauline Smiley. Mrs. Hallmark led the club prayer.

Mrs. Lynn Compton read minutes of the last meeting and Pauline Griffin gave the treasurer's report.

Plans were made for the recreation workshop in Colorado City on June 17th.

Mrs. Clara Butler brought the program, speaking on the "Strange Secret Life" of Queen Elizabeth. She stated there were many peculiarities about the queen and her every day life the public did not know as told by an ex-aide who stated "A woman whose wealth is estimated to be in the hundreds of millions yet she is very frugal. Goes about the palace turning off lights, today's roast will be tomorrow's sandwiches, that sort of thing. She daily reads her horoscope as does the Duke. She watches her favorite soap operas, cannot stand smoking or swearing and appears to be the happiest when she puts on very ordinary clothes and goes out among her subjects. She is very good, kind and lenient with her servants and never goes in public without wearing a hat." She closed by saying some of the queen's habits seem to be a favorite of our own.

Members present were Mmes. Butler, Compton, Era Mae Cornutt, Mable Givens, Griffin, Hallmark, Leach, Stella Harris, Gladys Payne, Vada Preston and Pauline Smiley.

20 ways to help hold down your electric bill.

A checklist to help you save energy and money at home.

Energy Conservation Practices

The following low- or no-cost home conservation practices can help you save energy and money.

- ☐ Do not use air conditioning until absolutely necessary.
- ☐ Keep your thermostat set as high as possible. We recommend 80° in the summer. For added comfort, use ceiling or portable fans to circulate the air.
- ☐ Check your air conditioner filters each month to see if they need cleaning or changing. And make sure that the outside unit is free of grass, leaves and trash.
- ☐ When leaving home, turn off air conditioning. If away for two days or more, turn off water heater.
- ☐ If you use an automatic dishwasher, set water heater to 140°; otherwise, set temperature to 120° or lower.
- ☐ Use scrap insulation to plug air leaks from attic and around window air conditioners.
- ☐ Repair water leaks in pipes and faucets, and seal air duct leaks.
- ☐ Use drapes, blinds, shades, awnings or plants to block sunlight.
- ☐ Try to minimize traffic through outside doors.
- ☐ Economize in the kitchen. Plan meals so several dishes can be cooked in the oven at the same time.
- ☐ Save when you do laundry. Wash and dry only full loads of clothes.

Energy Conservation Measures

These home installations and modifications require an investment, but may return their cost to you in the form of savings on utility bills.

- ☐ Caulk and weatherstrip around doors and windows to reduce air leaks.
- ☐ Add insulation to ceilings, walls and floors.
- ☐ Insulate ducts, especially in the attic.
- ☐ Insulate hot water pipes in attic.
- ☐ Install insulation blankets on water heaters, especially in garage or basement.
- ☐ Investigate cost-effectiveness of storm doors and windows.
- ☐ Add solar-reflecting materials to glass doors and windows on east/west exposures.
- ☐ As a convenience, install a clock thermostat to automatically set air conditioner and heating unit to desired temperature. Even when you're away from home, the clock thermostat can control your air conditioner for more economical operation.
- ☐ If your central air unit is more than five years old, you may want to consider replacing it with one that's more energy-efficient. We recommend new units with a Seasonal Energy Efficiency Rating (SEER) of at least 9. Ranch Roundup to be held in San Angelo

Ranchers from 25 states and several countries are expected in San Angelo August 1-5 when the 3rd Annual International Ranchers Roundup convenes in this West Texas ranching hub.

Recognized as the largest, most comprehensive educational function ever organized for southwestern ranchers, the IRR will feature general sessions of interest to all ranchers and landowners, plus three days of intensified concurrent sessions in beef cattle, sheep and goats, grazing management, wildlife, marketing, business management for the ranch family, and a computer workshop.

Thus far some 85 ranching experts have been confirmed to speak during the five-day event with about two dozen speakers yet to be selected. Several internationally-known ranch experts are to be on hand for concurrent sessions.

Keynote speakers for the opening day general session include Dub Waldrip, president, National Cattlemen's Association; Hon. Tom Loeffler, U.S. Congressman; Cas Maree, prominent South African rancher; and Dr. Arthur G. Hansen, Chancellor of the Texas A&M University System, a key sponsor. Other keynote speakers will be announced upon confirmation.

"Innovative Ranch Management" is the 1983 theme, according to IRR coordinators Dr. Larry White, Texas Agricultural Extension Service range specialist, Uvalde; Dr. LeRoy Hoermann, District Extension Director and formerly Extension livestock specialist, Uvalde; and Robert H. Kensing, Extension farm management specialist, San Angelo. Eighteen agricultural specialists from across the state serve on the IRR steering committee.

Hoermann and White originated the IRR concept three years ago as a means of providing a comprehensive educational format to arid-land ranchers who share common problems. Since its introduction in 1981 the multi-facet program as effectively served over 1,100 ranchers and has been favorably compared with the Texas A&M University animal science curriculum for its variety and quality of instruction.

From the outset the IRR has been held in the border area of Del Rio, Texas, with overwhelming success. Yet, in an effort to make the programs accessible to more ranchers throughout the Southwest, the coordinators opted to move the IRR to the San Angelo Convention Center for the 1983 event which promises to be much larger and more extensive.

Conference participants will have their choice of four separate ranch tours on August 5 featuring West Texas ranches noted for innovative management practices in beef cattle, sheep and goats, grazing systems, plus a two-day overnight wildlife tour in the scenic Texas Hill Country area near Kerrville.

Registered participants will also receive a copy of the 480-page bound IRR proceedings book containing most of the talks presented. This book has proved very useful by ranchers as a handy reference guide by many who have ordered extra copies of both past editions.

Registration information and more program details can be obtained from your county Extension office or by writing to IRR, P.O. Drawer 1849, Uvalde, TX 78801. Registration forms must be completed and returned with proper payment by July 1 to qualify for the $50 pre-registration discount. Attendance will be limited to 750 participants on a first come-paid basis.

Boll weevil count higher

According to County Entomologist Deanna Myers, the numbers of boll weevils in the county is higher this year as compared to last year at this time.

In Mitchell County the "high area" is the area located southwest of Westbrook.

Most of these weevils should die before one-third grown squares appear on cotton plants. However, their chances of surviving are much better in cool and damp weather than in hot, dry weather said Myers.

Myers also stated that Mitchell County will have many more weevils early this year. The later emerging weevils are the weevils that will colonize the first fields to have one-third grown squares in our area.

A decision to apply insecticide early-season for overwinter weevil control depends a lot on timing, said Myers. If insecticide application is applied correctly it should give approximately 30 days of protection from the weevil.

It will not provide protection from fall build-ups. This technique is an in-season control that will not significantly affect the number of weevils appearing next year.

To decide whether or not to apply overwintering applications, follow these tips: Scout your field two-three weeks after emergence for adult weevils. The decision to treat should be made at the pinhead or match-head square stage. For the treatment to be effective, treat the first squares when they reach the one-third grown square stage.

If the ground is too wet to get it with a ground rig, it will have to be sprayed by a plane. At least two applications will have to be made. Application should be stopped 10 days before blooming to allow beneficials time to rebuild.

The first cotton in the area will have weevils early. Here are some things to consider for overwintered control: with early-season insecticide control, it is always possible to create a boll worm problem. The chemicals used for weevil control will kill beneficials; therefore when boll worm eggs are laid, they will have no natural competition. Farmers should also scout their fields several times a week for weevils, decide on what method of application is best suited for his field (chemical, rig or plane) and be ready to treat cotton in one or two days.

Myers also stated that fields will soon be selected for the insect survey in Mitchell County.

If a farmer would like his cotton fields considered for the selection, they should send in their 15 cents-1982 ground acre fee immediately.

Checks can be made to the Mitchell County Pest Management Steering Committee in care of the following banks: The City National Bank, P.O. Box 1031 in Colorado City. The First State Bank, P.O. Box 129 in Loraine and the First National Bank, P.O. Box 1347 in Colorado City.
