Parties Trying To Put Over Gas Project Charged

DISCHARGED ATTORNEY REVEALS CONVERSATION ON NOVEMBER 27 REGARDING MATTER; CITY COMMISSIONERS REQUEST RESIGNATION

Out-of-town interference by persons interested in Lubbock's gas bonds figured in firing of City Attorney E. L. Klett Thursday, the ousted official charged today.

"Some out-of-town parties trying to put over this gas revenue bond issue have been very active in trying to oust me as city attorney," Klett declared.

"One of them called me over the 'phone the day of the commission meeting, the one on Nov. 27, and told me he was in his room at the Lubbock hotel and that two commissioners were coming there to see him. He said he wanted to see me first.

Said It Very Important

"I told him that I didn't have time because I was going home to call some of my friends to attend the commission meeting to protest my discharge. He said that was what he wanted to see me about, and that it was very important he see me before the two city commissioners came to his room."

Action of the commission yesterday came as a surprise to Attorney Klett, who was not informed of his dismissal until some time after the session had ended. Klett, counsel for parties to suit in federal court now in session, had been unable to attend the meeting.

Action Foreshadowed

Foreshadow of the dismissal action had been cast 15 days ago, however, when the city official, hearing the rumor that he was to be fired at the commission meeting that day, got in touch with the mayor and two commissioners. On the basis of conversation with them, Klett said today he was virtually certain the matter would come up at that meeting.

No member of the commission had talked with him up to late this morning, since the Nov. 27 meeting, Klett said after failing to recall any such conversation.

Immediately after the commission "asked the resignation" of Klett Thursday, in effect a discharge since appointees were selected to take office immediately, J. E. Vickers and W. W. Campbell, law partners, were named his successors.

Motion to oust Klett, who has held the city attorney's post for the past 10 years, came from Commissioner B. E. Needles and was seconded by Commissioner A. J. Richardson after a discussion of the resignation for about 15 minutes. It had developed into a three-cornered conversation, punctuated with frequent periods of silence, between Needles, Richardson and Mayor Ross Edwards.

Asked Thursday night to make a statement regarding action of the commission, Klett said he was too occupied with details regarding his federal court case.

Has Had His Say

"I had my say at the last meeting anyhow," Klett declared.

It was only after repeated requests that he elaborated today on the commission action.

At a meeting of the commission Nov. 27, some 40 friends of his had rallied to defend him when Klett believed, on the basis of reliable

WHEAT PRICE JUMPS FULL LIMIT

SETTING OF MINIMUM ARGENTINA PRICE REASON FOR RISE

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Dec. 13 — World wheat prices shot higher today following announcement that Argentina had fixed a minimum price for its grain 20 cents above the ruling market. Wheat futures in Chicago jumped the 5 cents per bushel limit permitted by trading rules.

Trading at the opening here was very excited and both December and May wheat contracts were lifted above the dollar-a-bushel level for the first time in recent weeks.

Values at all international markets rose swiftly with the opening. Liverpool reflected the bullish Argentine news by jumping around 5 cents. Winnipeg was up the 3 cents daily limit allowable.

The Buenos Aires market scored one of the sharpest wheat price advances on record by opening 19 cents a bushel above the previous close.

"STRONG MAN" RETURNING

CALLES TAKES PLANE TODAY FOR MEXICO; ACTION PUZZLES

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 13—General Plutarco Elias Calles, retired "Strong Man of Mexico," took off in a Central Airways of Mexico transport plane from here at 3:40 a. m., (PST) to return to his native land.

He was accompanied by Luis Morones, Mexican labor federation chief, his son, Gustave Calles, and Morones' secretary, Samuel McKelligan.

Plans "Indefinite"

The former president of Mexico, a question mark in his country's politics since his announced retirement, said his plans were "indefinite," but that he was going either to Mexico City or his ranch properties at Sinaloa.

Refusing to comment on Mexican developments, Calles has lived in seclusion in Southern California since his return from a voyage to Honolulu last summer. He came here from San Diego, Calif., yesterday with Morones.

Attempts were made by Calles' attendants to cloak the departure this morning in utmost secrecy.

Opera Stars Defy Friday, The 13th

NEW YORK, Dec. 13 (AP)—Two feminine opera singers openly defied "Friday the Thirteenth" superstitions today.

Lily Pons, Metropolitan star, told her associates — amid a general crossing of fingers — that she was born on April 13.

She sent invitations to 13 guests for a "black cat" party, with spilled salt, walking under ladders and such bogies as the entertainment.

Colette D'Arville, here from the Paris opera comique, undertook a radio audition during the day, wearing a "lucky" dress with 13 buttons.

SUBSIDIZATION OF COLLEGE ATHLETES VOTED BY SCHOOLS

ATLANTA, Dec. 13 (AP) — The Southeastern conference voted today to permit financial assistance to athletes, a move interpreted as official sanction of subsidizing athletic ability.

The conference adopted by a vote of 11 to 2 an amendment to the by-laws that athletic ability should receive consideration in determining student values in the assignment of scholarships, loans and appointments for remunerative works.

The amendment set forth that such assistance shall never be granted primarily as a reward for athletic success. It also decreed that it must be held to the legitimate expenses of attending the institution such as tuition, fees, books, board and lodging.

Two Are Drowned As Car Overturns

CROCKETT, Dec. 13. (AP)—Two men drowned last night when the automobile in which they rode plunged off a Houston county highway into a creek three miles west of Augusta.

A washout caused Griff Allen, 40, of Grapeland, the driver, to lose control of the car, which hit a bridge and overturned into a creek. The water was only two feet deep but both Allen and his companion, Bill Scarborough, 22, of Augusta, were unconscious and trapped inside the car.

The government charged conspiracy to sell the appointment for $1,000 to James W. Ives of Baltimore, an Olympic athlete of 1932.

Homely Hubbies Are Preferred By Beauties

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Dec. 13. (AP)—Dr. Paul Popenoe braved the handsome men of Hollywood today with the observation that beautiful women prefer their husbands homely.

And from more than a hundred screen beauties there was a chorus of "ayes."

"In a homely man, the woman first sees the essential thing—security," said Dr. Popenoe, who is director of the Los Angeles Institute of Domestic Relations.

"She realizes life with him will be harmonious. He usually realizes his own failings and goes to the extreme to please a beautiful wife, while a handsome husband usually is indifferent, wishing to please nothing but his own ego."

PENSION PLANS ARE PUSHED

QUESTIONNAIRE SENT TO ALL STATES ON SOCIAL SECURITY

BY NATHAN ROBERTSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 (AP)—Striving to get the non-contributory old age pension system into effect soon after New Year's, officials disclosed today they have sent a questionnaire to all states.

It is final check-up by the Social Security board to determine which state will participate in the system at the beginning.

Hope To Supplant Relief

Board officials expect to be ready to put the plan into operation as soon as congress provides the money. They hope it will go a long way toward helping states care for "unemployables" out of federal relief rolls as of Dec. 1.

The federal government will grant $15 a month for each needy individual 65 years old or over, provided a similar amount is granted by the state.

The questionnaires were sent out primarily to determine which can comply with mandatory provisions of the Social Security law, but also to get estimates of the cost of the grants during the next few months.

Under the law the federal government will give grants only to states which

Have an old age assistance plan in operation in all political subdivisions so that all eligible persons can get aid.

SPECIAL MEET OF LEAGUE IS ASKED

PEACE PROPOSAL GIVEN IN DISPUTE SAID TO VIOLATE PACT

BY ROY P. PORTER
Associated Press Staff Writer

Emperor Haile Selassie asked the League of Nations to call a special meeting of the league assembly on the grounds that the Franco-British peace plan violated the spirit of the league covenant.

The plan, which it was understood offers about half of Ethiopia to Italy in exchange for peace, already has resulted in a call for a session of the council next Wednesday.

Smaller Nations Opposed

Many of the smaller nations in the league were represented as opposed to the plan on the grounds that it would give Premier Mussolini his objective in East Africa.

Rebellion against the Franco-British proposal threatened in the house of commons today as the impression grew in Geneva the plan would be turned down.

By letter and telegram, British constituents protested to their representatives in parliament against the war settlement suggestion which would give Italy a part of Ethiopia.

Would Reject Proposal

At Dessye, Emperor Haile Selassie, who has not yet received the peace proposals, said personally he would summarily reject them if they provided for partition of Ethiopia.

An official communique from Addis Ababa reported the defeat of an

Frank A. Smith Is Acquitted Of Charge

LONGVIEW, Dec. 13 (AP)—Frank A. Smith, son of Railroad Commissioner Lon Smith, was acquitted last night of charges of bribery.

A district court jury which heard young Smith deny allegations that he bribed a witness in an oil theft case to make himself unavailable deliberated one and one-half hours.

Smith was acquitted recently of charges of conspiracy to bribe.

WILL SANTA CLAUS PASS HER BY?

A doll, even a repaired one, will brighten her Christmas. For she is one of those many wistful little figures to be found pressing their noses against Lubbock's toy strewn shop windows these days—and turning away with tears in theirs eyes. If the Goodfellows drive goes over, she, and many like her, will know there IS a Santa Claus on Christmas morning. Won't you help TODAY?

HELP OFFERED GOODFELLOWS

MANY SEEK TO AID IN WORK AS CHRISTMAS DRIVE CONTINUES

With many individuals, including members of Boy Scout and Junior Welfare league organizations, offering to work on assembling packages or any other tasks incidental to the movement, the Lubbock Goodfellows drive rolled along today.

One knotty problem, that of finding a place for the package committee to work between now and Christmas eve, was solved this morning with the donation of a building at 1103 Main street by its owners, C. E. Maedgen and Asa W. May. That location will be a beehive of activity as toys, fruit, candy and nuts are assembled by workers, who will divide the building into sections in which will be packed gifts for boys and girls according to their years.

An error in tabulation in yesterday's Journal listed total cash donations at $631.56 when it should have been $636.56. A $10 donation by Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hickerson was erroneously listed at $5, causing the discrepancy.

Report of the financial drive to date is:

Previously reported	$636.56
Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Powell	5.00
Total	$641.56

Donations are being received at Avalanche-Journal offices, 1211-13 Texas avenue, where they are listed and then turned over to Chief Goodfellow. Approximately $1,100 will be needed to complete the work of bringing a Merry Christmas to every needy boy and girl in Lubbock and Goodfellows urge those planning to make donations to do so, either in person or by mail, at their earliest opportunity.

Still seeking names of needy kiddies, Goodfellows ask Journal readers to fill out and send in the coupon, printed today on Page 6.

BUSINESS GAIN IS EXTENDED

RETAIL SALES HOLDING SPOTLIGHT IN U. S., REPORT REVEALS

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 13—Trade improvement continued last week, "extending along a wider front than has been the case in many years at this season," Dun & Bradstreet's review said today.

The retail division had the spotlight, it said. "While weather conditions forced consumers to cover long-postponed needs of men's and women's clothing, shoes, hardware, groceries, and other winter merchandise, it was the surge in the buying of Christmas goods that was the outstanding feature of retail trade during the week."

"Based on the results of the past two weeks, estimates for December retail volume range from 15 to 30 per cent in excess of 1934, with a larger gain expected for jewelry, radios, toys, fur garments, rugs, fur-

ITALY TO GET LARGE PART OF NATION

SOVEREIGNTY, CONTROL OF OVER TWO-THIRDS OF LAND OFFERED

BY CHARLES P. GUPTILL
Associated Press Foreign Staff

ROME, Dec. 13 — The Franco - British plan for peace between Italy and Ethiopia, made public today, would give Italy sovereignty or control over approximately two-thirds of Ethiopia.

An Italian government spokesman said his government could make no comment on the proposal at present but that "they are being examined with care."

Five Points To Plan

There are five points to the plan, as follows:

1. Italy would get sovereignty over Tigre provinces, already conquered by her military forces, except for the sacred city of Aksum and a corridor connecting that city with Ethiopia.

2. The Danakil frontier would be "rectified" so as to give the Aussa region to Ethiopia in full sovereignty;

3. The Somaliland frontier would be "rectified" running from the Kenya-Somaliland boundary intersection to Gorrahei, west of Guramdab, to the intersection of the 45th degree and the British Somaliland frontier;

To Get Free Port

4. Ethiopia would get a free port on the sea, preferably Assab, and a corridor leading to it; France and Great Britain would undertake to get from Ethiopia guarantees against the importation of arms and munitions;

5. France and Great Britain would

CONTINUATION OF LAW TO BE ASKED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13. (AP)—Continuation, in some form or other, of the temporary neutrality law will be proposed to the next congress by President Roosevelt.

He told his regular press conference today that the present neutrality law, enacted last August, expires next February. Obviously he is trying to get something to take its place.

However, Mr. Roosevelt said it would be a couple of weeks before his proposal on neutrality is put into final form.

Mr. Roosevelt discussed a number of subjects with several score newsmen. They were brought up by questions after his opening announcement that there is no news.

Suspended Animation For Hundreds Of Years Is Envisaged By Scientist

DRYING OUT PROCESS IS EXPLAINED TO MEDICAL GROUP

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 13. (AP)—Keeping a man in suspended animation for hundreds of years so that he can come back to life in the future century of his choice is envisaged by Dr. Alexis Carrel of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, an expert on cell immortality.

He described a drying out process by which this may be possible, to a meeting of the New York Academy of Medicine last night.

The possibility, he said, is at present remote. It could be done only to a few selected individuals.

Dr. Carrel said that clairvoyance, which he defined as the ability to see the past and the future, is a scientific fact.

It explains, he said, much of the after-life evidence which spiritists attribute to those now dead. But he said it is far from unreasonable to believe that some part of human personality may escape death.

Dr. Carrel held out no hope of taking an entire body apart and putting it back together to make a new man and a new life out of organs, kept alive outside the laboratory, which seem to be immortal by themselves.

But he foresaw real rejuvenation, changing an old man back into an "earlier stage" of Over-worked postmen bring in a fresh batch daily, despite the official announcement last Monday that New Year's day game had been sold out within a week after Southern Methodist was selected as Stanford's opponent. A few hours later the rejections are carried away.

LOUISIANA IS CALM AGAIN

CITIZEN HAS TO COCK HIS EARS TO HEAR ANY POLITICS

BY RALPH WHEATLEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 13 (AP)—Political Louisiana is like a calm after a storm.

A political campaign is in progress but the average citizen has to cock his ear to hear about it, a strange situation in the state which had become accustomed to Huey Long's thunder and lightning type of campaigning.

The Fire Is Out

The bullet that killed Huey Long also mortally wounded Longism in Louisiana and just about killed it nationally. It lingers on in Louisiana, but the fire is out. When this campaign ends Longism probably will end forever regardless of the outcome of the January election.

His followers are beating their breasts in the campaign based on "complete the work of Huey Long," but none among them knows what that means as Huey did not discuss his future plans with anyone. He was his own counsellor. He gave orders. He did not seek advice. His was a one man machine.

To Repeal Laws

Hardly had Long been buried before his lieutenants sought peace with the White House, whose portals Huey had attacked with all the fury at his command.

The word has been passed that after the election, if his followers should win, some of Long's dictatorial laws would be repealed. After the election, it matters not which side wins, there will be a definite back-tracking from Longism.

Railroads Buying New Equipment

CHICAGO, Dec. 13 (AP)—American railroad shoppers have stepped into the equipment market with almost $50,000,000 in their jeans.

A survey disclosed today that six roads alone have earmarked approximately $48,800,000 for new stock, principally freight cars and rails, and improvement of rolling property now on hand.

The Pennsylvania led the way by placing orders for 10,000 freight cars to cost about $25,000,000. Santa Fe officials here said they would pay around $3,600,000 for 333 miles of new steel rails, $1,400,000 for 5,350 freight cars and $1,600,000 for improvement of cars and locomotives now in use.

Farmer's Income On Rise, Official Says

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 13 (AP)—The farmer's share of the national income is rising, J. N. Lipscomb, representing the cotton division of the Agricultural Adjustment administration at Washington told 300 persons attending the annual gathering of county agricultural agents and home demonstrations from 65 counties in the San Antonio area when they opened their three-day session Thursday.

"When Theodore Roosevelt became alarmed at the farmers plight, the American agriculturist was receiving 18.9 per cent of the nation's annual income," Lipscomb said. "In 1932, before the adjustment program had been put under way, his income was 7 per cent. Now it is about 10 per cent."

Mauna Loa Volcano Spews Lava Stream Toward Hawaiian City

A fiery flow of lava, 13 miles long, crawled down the sides of Mauna Loa volcano in several streams and from several fountains to cause concern in the city of Hilo, Hawaii, 40 miles distant. The volcano, shown in a previous eruption at left, was roused from two years' slumber by an earthquake which also sent a small but damaging tidal wave against the shores of the island. Right, an airview of Hilo, where residents were watching the red glow of the crater, 13,000 feet in the air. (Associated Press Photos).

Trial Postponed Due To Illness

BURNET, Dec. 13 (AP)—H. B. Opp's trial for the Menard county slaying of W. R. Tomlinson in a range dispute was postponed indefinitely Thursday because of the illness of four attorneys.

Proceedings already had been delayed a day because Dan Moody, leading defense counsel, was ill yesterday. The addition of Carlos Ashley, district attorney of the 33rd judicial district; B. W. Smith, San Angelo defense attorney; and Herman Topperwein, Menard county attorney, to the sick list today halted the trial indefinitely.

BORDER SESSION IS ON SATURDAY

To occupy his chair of president, Dr. W. A. Jackson of the Tech faculty left early today for Las Cruces, N. M., and the annual winter meeting of the Border Intercollegiate Athletic conference.

Coach Dutchy Smith of Tech accompanied Dr. Jackson and will represent the athletic department at the convention.

President Jackson said last night that the most important points to be brought out at the meeting probably would hinge around the scheduling of games between conference members. Action may be aimed at Texas Tech for failure to schedule more than one conference game each season, Dr. Jackson hinted.

The question of cash guarantees for visiting teams probably will be threshed out on the basis of mileage, and Dr. Jackson anticipated lively debate on this subject.

E. L. Larson, high commissioner of the Border conference, is expected to offer a summarized report of his "investigations" over the circuit last spring and to offer suggestions and amendments.

It has been rumored that presidents of all the conference member schools have been invited to attend the meeting, but Dr. Bradford Knapp, Tech president, is out of town and could not be contacted.

Members of the conference are Arizona State Teachers college at Flagstaff, Arizona State Teachers college at Tempe, Texas School of Mines, New Mexico A. & M., University of Arizona, University of New Mexico and Texas Tech. Officers, in addition to President Jackson and Commissioner Larson, are Vice-President F. C. Osborn of Flagstaff and Secretary-Treasurer C. Z. Lesher of Arizona.

The meeting begins tonight and continues through a day and night session Saturday.

VEGETABLES TAKE THE SPOTLIGHT OF STYLE IN ANNUAL WESLACO PROGRAM

(By The Associated Press)

WESLACO, Dec. 13—Cold storage plants, temporarily translated into coutures,—the Parisian angle is momentary — opened their doors last night and, while folks north of the 30th parallel massed around cookstoves and radiators, models of 1935-36 feminine styles paraded beneath the stars.

The "fashion revue" was the climax of a two-day celebration of the 16th birthday of this "city of the valley."

Models Perishable

The enigma of the cold storage plant housing the dressmaking shop is solved by the brief explanation that the models are perishable. They are not fabricated from rare furs nor the spinning of the silk-worm, but of the vegetables, flowers and citrus fruits that mature here while the soil in the major consuming areas slumbers beneath the snow.

When the creations left the hands of the designers they were preserved in the chill of the icebox against their hour of glory, hidden from the eyes of jealous competitors.

Followed Current Types

The lines of the models followed current types of women's wear from bathing suits to evening gowns. The assembly has a light foundation garment upon which is sewed or glued the maker's choice of flowers, fruit or vegetables for design, or any desired combination of decorative edibles.

One claiming to know, revealed that the wearer "may don whatever she chooses under the citrus-vegetable garment but outwardly, from head to foot, it must be composed of chosen products which must be grown in the Rio Grande valley.

One Contained 1,200 Turnips

Some costumes consisted of more than 40 varieties of products and one contained 1,200 turnips. Many days were required to adapt to products of orchards, gardens and fields for the single appearance before the multitude and, contestants said, the prizes did not pay for the work.

The wearers of models marched a block-long parade walk against a background of Spanish-type business buildings and palms that lined the curbstones. Girls in bathing suits constructed from the backbone of a New England boiled dinner mingled with others clad in patterns along the more formal lines of day and evening wear stuccoed with golden citrus or flowers native to this area, while 10,000 spectators looked on.

Three Prizes Awarded

Three prizes were awarded, the winners being judged in the class, fruit, vegetables or fowers, in which the major portion of the costumes predominated.

The style show was established here in 1932, and resulted from an unexpected cold spell. A civic body had planned a tomato fiesta but the sudden cold killed made plants and the more durable carrot was substituted. Twenty young women modeled gowns made of carrots and the exhibit was so well received the mid-winter affair was expanded to include all the fruits of the soil in this region.

HALF DOLLARS ARE OFFERED

THIRTY THOUSAND OF TEXAS CENTENNIAL COINS COMING

(By The Associated Press)

DENVER, Dec. 13 — Thirty thousand Texas Centennial half dollars will be coined by the Denver and San Francisco mints; N. M. O'Reilly, assistant director of the United States mint, announced today.

The coins, struck in observance of Texas independence and the formation of the Republic of Texas will be released through the Texas department of the American Legion when the centennial is celebrated next year.

Congress authorized the coining of one and one half million Texas coins.

Increase In Cattle Feeding Predicted

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13. (AP)—A "material" increase in cattle feeding during the 1935-36 winter season over last year was predicted today by the agriculture department.

Officials said shipments of stocker and feeder cattle from the stockyard markets into corn belt states last month were more than 50 per cent larger than the shipments of November last year they were, however, smaller than any other November since 1919.

Feeding operations in Texas are expected to top last season.

DEBT WARRANT NOT AGAINST DANIEL BOONE OF PIONEER DAYS, MAN SAYS

(By The Associated Press)

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 13—The Daniel Boone named in warrants charging debt, recently found in old Fincastle records, by no possibility can be the famed American pioneer, Daniel Boone of Kentucky, William Boone Douglas, president of the Boone Family association and president of the American Order of Pioneers, informed the Associated Press today.

Commenting on a recent dispatch from Christiansburg, telling of the finding of the warrants in boxing old records, Douglas said:

Were Other Daniel Boones

"Who this Daniel Boone was I do not know. I do know three other Daniels Boones of the Revolutionary period who are not related to Daniel Boone of Kentucky fame, and there were probably more . . .

"However, by no possibility can the Daniel Boone of Kentucky be involved, for the simple reason that he had no connection with either Cowan (another man named in a warrant) or Bain (named as the man to whom the money was owed). He never lived in the locality mentioned, nor did he have any estate there, and furthermore, he was very busy elsewhere on the dates given."

Douglass brings forth records to show that Boone of Kentucky, on the dates mentioned in the warrants, was then performing in Kentucky some of the deeds that made his name famous among the pioneers of early American days.

Suspicion On Gang In Liggett Death

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 13 (AP) — A tell-tale pellet of death—a sub machine gun bullet—swung suspicion back to gangland today in the Walter Liggett assassination.

It served also to revive possibility of federal government intervention in the investigation requested by Gov. Floyd B. Olson, Attorney General H. H. Patterson and Chief of Police Frank Forestal.

The governor and attorney general telegraphed their plea direct to U. S. Attorney General Homer Cummings.

BRITISH GOLD IS LURING ACTORS

They were signed by Micheal Balcon, executive of the company, who has just departed after his second appearance here in six months.

ADJUSTMENT IS CONSIDERED

COMMISSIONERS STUDY REVENUES; SALARIES TO BE CHARTED

A salary adjustment affecting a group of city employes; inauguration next spring of an extended effort to collect delinquent taxes; and revolutionary methods of providing City revenues were proposed at City commission meeting Thursday afternoon.

Plan Square Deal

In the words of Commissioner B. E. Needles, the proposed salary adjustment is for a "fair and square "deal" to city employes.

The city manager was instructed to chart every city employe, his salary, what work he does, and whether or not he uses his own car while transacting business of the city. His report will be the basis for further consideration at the next meeting of commissioners.

Asserting that some employes were working for less than $100 a month, at least one for $30, Commissioner A. J. Richardson opened the subject for discussion.

Jobs Are Responsible

"Some employes at the light plant get less than $100 a month. They are subject to danger, and their jobs are responsible. They ought to be paid what they are worth for their services," he stated.

Whether the salary adjustment will leave untouched those in brackets above, either for a raise or a reduction, was not revealed.

Of the mind that a far too lenient policy had been established in the collection of delinquent taxes, the City commission discussed the feasibility of beginning, probably next March, a drive to reduce delinquent tax rolls.

The City commission some time back, Mayor Ross Edwards said, had decided not to use harsh methods in collecting back taxes. The City sent its own agent out to talk with citizens having delinquent assessments, but the mayor declared the results of that method were doubtful.

Action Is Postponed

Postponement of further action regarding the delinquent accounts until next spring was made in order not to throw a double burden on taxpayers at the present time, when current collections are coming in.

New methods of providing revenue for the city were: a graduated tax on retail gross business and a sales tax.

Richardson advocated the graduated tax on retail gross business, and requested the commission to appoint a committee of Lubbock merchants and an attorney for delving into details necessary to put the plan in shape. Purpose of the tax would be to collect enough revenues to permit exemption of homesteads up to evaluations of $3,000, he said.

The sales tax idea was brought up by Commissioner B. E. Needles as a method of abolishing present tax systems, the sales tax collections to provide sufficient revenue for all city expenditures.

Authority Questioned

Whether the city has authority to embark into those two fields of taxation was questioned during the meeting. Pending a ruling from the attorney general's office at Austin on the legality of the taxes, and pending further information regarding the steps and knowledge necessary to work out the plan, the commission deferred action.

An offer to pay 1934 taxes, now delinquent, but without penalty and interest, was refused by the commission. The proposition had been tendered by Spencer A. Wells, who had disagreed with valuations of that year assessed on some of his property by the board of equalization.

Refusal was based on precedent of the commission in not accepting such offers.

Other Business On Docket

A variety of other business was on the docket Thursday.

The commission approved plans to decorate Lubbock's downtown street intersections with Christmas trees donated by the American Legion, passed readings of ordinances on paving and hog soning, and passed a resolution authorizing plans for paving of sections of nine streets.

Placing of the Christmas trees beneath traffic signals at 10 intersections was authorized. The trees, in height from 12 to 14 feet, will be placed within the next few days at the same time decorative lights are put up.

No protests were entered by property owners along sections of several streets to be paved. The City commission accordingly passed the first reading of an ordinance assessing the cost of improvements against owners.

The paving will be on: Twentieth street, from Adams to Van Buren; Twenty-first street, from Avenue X to Van Buren street; Twenty-s-e-c-o-n-d street, from Avenue X to Jefferson avenue; College avenue, from Twentieth to Twenty-second streets; Jackson, from Nineteenth to Twenty-first streets.

Second reading was passed on an ordinance making it unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to keep live hog or hogs within the city limits, except in a zone created and defined in the bill, for a longer period than 24 hours. Penalty for violation of the ordinance is fixed at not more than $100 each day any provision of the bill is violated. The zone has been created southeast of Lubbock along the Panhandle & Santa Fe Railroad Co. tracks.

Resolution Approved

Resolution approving engineer's plans and specifications for several more paving projects, the cost of which will be shared by the property owner, the city, and the WPA, affected the following sections of streets:

Avenue L, from Thirteenth to Sixteenth streets; Avenue N, from Broadway to Main; Avenue R, Broadway to Thirteenth street; Avenue S, Broadway to Thirteenth street; Avenue U, from Broadway to Broadway to Main; Avenue V, Broadway to Main; Avenue Y, Sixteenth to Nineteenth streets.

Ninth street, from Avenue H to Texas avenue; Thirteenth street, from Avenue T to College avenue.

Relief Mayor Now Staging Crusades

PICHER, Okla., Dec. 13 (AP)—Fred Gary, who quit a job on relief last year to become Mayor of Picher, is in the midst of two crusades.

He is winning acclaim for his drive against love-making in cars on Picher's streets.

He is getting brickbats for his efforts to enforce traffic ordinances. Members of the chamber of commerce warned that he might drive trade from Picher with too rigid a traffic code. After the chamber's committee called, he remarked:

"Many persons complain of accidents caused by motorists not heeding the rules. If violations continue, I intend to raise the fine from $4 to $10 and costs ($17)."

Being police judge is part of his job.

But Some Drivers Likely'll Make It

OAKLAND, Calif., Dec. 13 (AP)—Every precaution has been taken to prevent any automobile from plunging into the water when a new bridge completed here swings open for water traffic on the Oakland estuary.

Sirens will shriek, a loud-speaker will blare, bells will sound and red lights flash in warning, while wooden gates will drop. But even if a driver passes all these, a three-cable "yielding barrier" will bring his car up short before it can plunge over the edge of the gap.

The Detroit river sometimes is called the Dardenelles of the New World.

LECTURER GETS INVITATION FOR LIFE IN PRISON

CHICAGO, Dec. 13 (AP)—Dudley Crafts Watson, extension lecturer of the Art Institute of Chicago, has received many invitations in his day, but he'll never forget the recent one to spend the rest of his life in prison.

He was invited to address inmates of the Minnesota state reformatory on art.

Before him were more than 1,000 prisoners, many of them bitter, sullen, hopeless. But he launched into his subject, talking to the men as though they had a connoisseur's capacity to understand.

When he finished the audience rose and gave him an ovation. Then the warden rushed up to him and exclaimed:

"Mr. Watson, you should spend the rest of your life in the penitentiaries!"

TEXAS' YIELD IS LOWERED

DECLINE OF 200,000 BALES ESTIMATED FOR SEASON

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Dec. 13 — The United States department of agriculture has attributed an estimated 200,000 bale decline in the Texas cotton crop to late fruit damage by frost and freezes.

Production was forecast at 3,050,000 bales based on Dec. 1 condition. Last year 2,406,000 bales were produced and in 1933, 4,428,000 bales.

"The final outturn of cotton will depend upon whether or not the various influences affecting the harvesting of the crop during the remainder of the season are more or less favorable than usual," the department stated.

Frost damage to late fruit, it said, "was most severe in the trans-Pecos and high plains areas and extended approximately as far east as Wichita Falls and Abilene."

Ginnings prior to Dec. 1 totalled 2,419,000 running bales, compared with 2,177,000 and 4,087,000 by Dec. 1 in 1934 and 1933, respectively. The department estimated 83 per cent of the crop was ginned to Dec. 1, compared to 94 per cent in 1934, 95.7 per cent in 1933, and a 10-year average of 91.6 per cent.

LODGE OFFICERS NAMED

HALE CENTER, Dec. 13 (Special)—R. W. Patterson was named consul commander; Jack Wardlow, adj. lieutenant; A. L. Kellar, banker; and E. E. Stennett, manager, during an election held by the local Woodman lodge last week. Other new officials named were J. L. Jetton, escort; T. F. Mounts, clerk; Carl McMennamy, watchman and G. E. Shook, watchman.

BRIGHT SPOTS

Three Drivers

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich.—John Dailey, 35, and Arthur Martin, 38, couldn't agree who was driving when their automobile collided with another. So Patrolman Richard Doot held them both for driving while intoxicated.

Mrs. Dailey, riding in the car, complicated the case when it came up for hearing. She backed the men away from the bench and insisted both were wrong—that she was the driver.

Justice Harry Creswell decided to ponder the situation.

Spite Slayer

ADA, Okla.—James Lewis, a young farmer, was sentenced to a year in jail for hanging a neighbor's horse for spite. He allegedly hanged the animal with barbed wire to a persimmon tree.

Piped Paperhanger

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y.—Otto Traphan shouldn't smoke his pipe while he's busy papering a room.

He sued to collect $20 for papering Mrs. Flora Chapman's living room; she rested saying he'd smudged the paper after he tapped the ashes in his pipe with his fingers.

"The paper looks like an old automobile road map," Referee Joseph Morschauer decided, and ordered Traphan to pay Mrs. Chapman $45.

Took The Cows

TOWSON, Md.—A farmer lost three cows, his wife and three children.

He appealed to the police to help find them.

"I'd like to get my cows back," he said. "You might also look for my wife. But if you don't have time for both, spend what you can spare on the cattle."

Extra-Special

KALAMAZOO, Mich.—"Hold until he arrives" was the direction on a letter received at the county jail for an itinerant, name withheld.

Sheriff Charlie W. Struble took charge of the letter, mailed from New Orleans on Dec. 4.

"It will be only a matter of time until I shall be able to complete delivery," he said.

Worry retards recovery from broken bones and diseases, and causes pain and illness, tests have shown.

HEARST HIGH IN PRAISE OF MRS. LANDON

TOPEKA, Kas., Dec. 13 (AP)—William Randolph Hearst, was as enthusiastic in praise of Mrs. Landon as of Governor Alf M. Landon after their meeting Tuesday.

"I could write columns and columns about her," Hearst told members of his party. She would be the first typically American woman to preside over the White House."

TAX STUDY IS BEING MADE

GOVERNOR ALLRED IS SEEKING ESTIMATE ON PENSION NEED

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Dec. 13.—Governor Allred revealed today that he had started a tax study on which to base recommendations to a special session of the legislature on revenue sources to pay old age pensions.

Difficulty in determining how much money the state needed, he indicated, made uncertain the date for the third called session. At the close of the preceding one he indicated it would be convened in January.

Did Not Commit Him

His statement to members that he would not see them before January, he noted, did not commit him to assembling the legislature in that month.

R. B. Anderson, tax commissioner, was enlisted by the governor to assist in the tax study, along with Orville S. Carpenter, state auditor who will become executive director of pensions when the act becomes effective Feb. 14.

Governor Allred said Carpenter was studying pension systems in New York and California and would confer with social security board members in Washington.

To Be Estimates

Calculations of pension funds needs, he said, necessarily would be estimates until the pension commission registered eligible applicants. Statistics based on Carpenter's study, he said, may not be sufficiently definite nor a predicate to legislative recommendations.

A further difficulty in setting up the pension administration, Governor Allred said, was indefiniteness of available funds. The act, which required payments started by next July 1, authorized five per cent of income for administration.

Only revenue provided, however, was three-fourths of the liquor tax. That can not be calculated with certainty he said, until the volumn of liquor consumption showed a normal trend.

Tom Hickman Back To Old Cooke Job

GAINESVILLE, Dec. 13. (AP)—Back to his old job as Cooke county deputy sheriff came Tom R. Hickman today.

The picturesque peace officer, until 13 days ago senior captain of the Texas Rangers, started 26 years of chasing criminals as a Cooke county deputy in 1909.

Hickman is a native of Cooke county and the commissioner's court this week authorized Sheriff Luther McCollum to put him back on the payroll. Henry Kirchenbauer was reappointed deputy along with Hickman and both will draw the same salary and have equal rank.

The veteran officer and rodeo judge was asked to resign from the Rangers on Dec. 1 by the Texas Public Safety commission. They gave as a reason that he did not "fit into" the organization.

However, it was strongly hinted that Hickman's dismissal came after a futile raid on Top O'Hill terrace, a night club between Dallas and Fort Worth.

His dismissal created a stir and a legislative investigation of the public safety commission was begun. John A. Atchison, jr., of Gainesville, was a member of the house investigating committee.

DIVORCE GRANTED

RENO, Nev., Dec. 13. (AP)—Eight years of marriage were ended in as many minutes here Thursday for the former Millicent Rogers, Standard Oil heiress.

The daughter of the late Henry Huddleston Rogers, II, was granted a divorce from her wealthy Argentinian husband, Arturo De Peralta-Ramos, by District Judge Thomas F. Moran after attorneys presented depositions supporting her charge of extreme cruelty.

An eight-mile subterranean walk beneath two Kentucky counties can be taken by visitors to Mammoth Cave, Kentucky.

Pair Would Duel Duce's Sons

Reported plan of the two sons of Worqheh Martin, Ethiopian minister to London, to challenge the two older sons of Benito Mussolini to aerial combat has stirred a storm of protest, with letters reaching Martin from all pares of the world, urging him to forbid the duel. Joe Martin, left above, and his brother, Ben, right, are skilled airmen and Mussolini's sons, Bruno, left below and Vittorio right, have several daring sky exploits to their credit on the northern Ethiopian front.

ESCAPES ARREST BY SHOOTING SELF

ELIDA, N. M., Dec. 13 (AP)—A man whom officers sought to halt in his flight with a purportedly stolen car shot himself to death here Thursday after he had jumped from the automobile and attempted to elude his pursuers on foot.

Deputy Sheriffs Bob Poindexter and John Bradford of Portales, N. M., said they were trying to establish identity of the man as either Lloyd Mahan, jr., of Roswell, N. M., or Robert Arnold, of Roswell.

The man, alleged to have taken the automobile at Hereford, Tex., was stopped in a filling station here at the request of Texas officers.

Identification, officers said, was made from a notebook found on the man's body, instructed that "in case of accident" Mary J. Mahan, and Mrs. A. Arnold, Roswell, be notified. The inscription indicated Mrs. Arnold was his mother, the officers said.

Officers said they had fingerprinted the man and were holding his body here for further and more positive identification.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide.

City Of Stamford In Oil Business

STAMFORD, Dec. 13 (AP)—Stamford Thursday became the first municipality in West Texas, insofar as could be learned, to become owner of a producing oil lease properties.

Peckham brothers and Danciger Oil and Refineries No. 1 City of Stamford was showing for 25 to 50 barrels per day from the Cook horizon after taking one foot of sand topped at 1,815 feet.

The test, located on city land near the municipal water reservoir, is directly north of the new King sand production near Lueders. It filled 650 feet with oil in 14 hours.

Operators announced the test would be carried to the King horizon around 2,400 feet.

SCHOOL GETS WPA AID

HALE CENTER, Dec. 13 (Special)—Cotton Center school, 14 miles southwest of here, was recently granted a $27,400 WPA project for construction of a 90x120 foot gymnasium and improvement of the school campus.

Wealthy Tyler Man Slugged By Hiker

TYLER, Dec. 13 (AP) — J. D. Wrather, wealthy Tyler oil man, was in an Overton hospital last night for treatment of severe injuries he said he received when slugged by a man he picked up on the highway.

His condition was regarded as "more or less serious."

Wrather, taken to the hospital by a passing motorist who found the oil man on the Tyler-Overton highway, did not regain consciousness until last night.

Gly-Cas Gave Her Real Results— All Else Failed

Neuritis And Stomach Disorders Had Made Mrs. Mullins Miserable For Years; Unable To Sleep Before One O'Clock, Dizziness, Headaches Were Awful; Gly-Cas Again Unfailing

"Gly-Cas is the first medicine I have ever found to give me the results I wanted," declared Mrs. A. E. Mullins, 2207, 24th street, Lubbock, highly respected lady of this vicinity, recently in talking with the Gly-Cas man at the Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway;

MRS. A. E. MULLINS

"For the past six or eight years my stomach had been a constant cause for distress," continued Mrs. Mullins, "Gas and bloating followed each meal I ate and the attack of indigestion was almost unbearable at times. Often the gas would press against my heart so much I could not lay down to sleep before one or two o'clock in the morning. I lost my appetite and had to force every bite I ate and I dieted continually. Then to make my already miserable condition worse neuritis settled in my arms, shoulders and neck. The sharp stabbing pains were terrible and my neck became so sore I could hardly turn my head, I was badly constipated and was always taking laxatives. Dizzy spells were quite frequent and would often have headaches which were so annoying. A good nights sleep was impossible and it seemed my entire system was wearing-out. I had put many medicines to the test in my case but met only with repeated failure—until I began Gly-Cas—it was the one REAL medicine of them all."

"Gly-Cas is a blessing to sufferers with its remarkable action," continued Mrs. Mullins, "I can now eat the foods I wish without any ill effects afterwards. Those horrible neuritis pains have been relieved, sleep good, stomach and bowels regulated, dizzy spells and headaches are in the past and I am now enjoying good health as others. It is wonderful that a single medicine can do so much and in such a short time. Gly-Cas is one medicine I do not hesitate to recommend for I know from my own experience just how different it is from the ordinary medicines of today."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, and by leading druggists in surrounding towns.

Gly-Cas $1.00 per box—6 boxes $5.00. Add 2c postage for each box ordered. Send money orders made payable Mark Halsey Drug Store. Don't send cash. Checks not accepted—No C. O. D. Mail Orders—Adv.

TURN TO QUALITY—TURN TO ECONOMY

When Old Gold Buyers Call At Your Home Insist On U.S. Federal Permit To Buy Old Gold. Then Double Check With Your Local Jeweler As To Value.

Do you remember the days of the Gold Brick Artist?

The Modern Gold Brick Artist uses the same old method "SOMETHING FREE" to gain an audience.

True To Form---The Modern Gold Brick Artist Collects HIS CASH IN ADVANCE.

DISAPPOINTMENT!
Can't You Just Hear Her Say "Oh! that is NOT what He Sold Me!"

YOU surely have heard the story of the Gold Brick Artist --- who sold his gold bricks to the city visitor--and in many cases "wise guys" bought them.

His methods were crude--but similar to those of the Modern Gold Brick Artist. Both of these slickers fool the public.

Today's Gold Brick Artist finds it easier to prey on the Housewife who is not as well posted on the tricks of the trade. Here you find him at the door offering the bottle of silver polish--FREE. Oh yes! Absolutely Free--with ONLY ONE Requirement--that he be allowed to CALL BACK and Demonstrate the Polish--and when he returns he brings with him his Gold Bricks--the Chest of Silver, Watches, Flat Silver, etc. This STRANGER tells you all about the SAMPLES he is showing (what you receive on an order may be different) and with his Clever Manner and Glib Tongue he induces you to pay a CASH-IN-ADVANCE down-payment, which as a rule is the salesman's commission on your order.

YOU WOULD NOT THINK OF BUYING A DIAMOND FROM A COAL DEALER--or From An Absolute Stranger.

WHY? -- Because you Lack Confidence in His Judgment!

Confidence In Your Jeweler

If real service is being rendered to the Public by your Jeweler—sooner or later you will appreciate his efforts—and he then has your confidence.
YOUR JEWELER has his stock of watches, chests of silver, precious stones, etc., right in his store—for your examination and selection. There is no room for disappointment—you secure the very article you desire—no substitutions.

Besides You Receive The Service You Deserve!

If your watch is not keeping exact time, you are not required to send it in to the FACTORY for an adjustment and be without a timepiece for several days or weeks. Your Jeweler will fix it for you today.
If the Chest of Silver you order from your local Jeweler as a gift for a friend is not the pattern desired you can exchange it. Your Jeweler expects to stay in business in your city and any courtesy extended to you, naturally will bring you to HIS STORE in the future—The Gold Brick Artist may never see you again—and why should he—he has your Cash Deposit on the order—he has gone!
Your Jeweler properly protects his goods. His silver pieces are wrapped in flannel rolls—bearing the store name—which often carries a certain PRESTIGE—thus enhancing the value of the gift.

Chief of Police Issues Warning Against Peddlers

THIS IS A WARNING TO BEWARE OF STRANGERS—posing as solicitors, salesmen or inspectors—seeking admittance to your homes.

STRANGERS SHOULD NOT BE ADMITTED TO YOUR HOMES UNTIL THEIR CREDENTIALS HAVE BEEN CHECKED UP AND VERIFIED—and that you are sure they are LOCAL PEOPLE—living here in Lubbock—paying taxes and entitled to an interview.

ONE NEED NOT BE AFRAID of offending the Honest Salespeople Known to YOU—or a Representative of a LOCAL BUSINESS INSTITUTION—they will have their credentials with them and welcome such investigation.

DO NOT PAY CASH TO STRANGERS IN ADVANCE—on any merchandise—in many cases the customer has NEVER received the merchandise nor has any refund been made of the advance payment.

DO NOT CASH CHECKS FOR STRANGERS—or issue a check as a down payment to a stranger—often times these have been "ALTERED" and later cashed by a third and innocent party.

IN CASE YOU ARE SUSPICIOUS—PHONE THE POLICE AT ONCE (do not delay in doing this)—as we are anxious to cooperate with our citizens at all times.

HIGH PRESSURE FREE GIFT ARTISTS—have been working the residence districts in this general section of late—offering all kinds of merchandise on the basis of "something free!" as a means of gaining admittance to the homes. In most cases there is NOTHING FREE to be given away.

IT'S BETTER TO BE SAFE THAN SORRY—protect yourself—BE SURE you know who the stranger is at your door—Be Sure they are local people or Representatives of Local Institutions.

FILMS SPLIT BROTHER-SISTER TEAM AND BUDDY EBSEN DOESN'T LIKE IT

There's no sentiment in Hollywood when it comes to handing out a contract. When the film makers saw Buddy and Vilma Ebsen and decided they wanted Buddy for a comic, it meant nothing that they were breaking up a brother-sister team.

BY ROBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 13 — Buddy Ebsen is tall, awkward, and ingratiatingly homely. His sister Vilma is small, pretty and a clever dancer like Buddy. But times have changed in Hollywood, and so the movies have kept Buddy and let Vilma go.

Buddy, who keeps that shock of reddish-brown hair long by preference—"it saves money," he says—thinks their failure to keep Vilma was a mistake. But movie studios have no sentiment about brother-and-sister acts.

Vilma insists Buddy did not have a chance in the picture, "Broadway Melody of 1936," that featured them as a team.

Father Teaches Dancing

"She has gone east to get more experience," he says. "What they don't know is that she has the makings of a good dramatic actress. Some day she's going to show 'em."

The Ebsens, Florida natives, were brought out for pictures after successes with their eccentric dancing in New York.

"I had two years pre-med at the University of Florida and Rollins," relates Bud in his slow, slow drawl, "but then I had to go to work and all I could do was jerk soda and hoof a little.

"My father teaches dancing—ballroom and classical—in Orlando, my home town. I never went for that kind of dancing much, but I got interested again when the Charleston came in. That was more my style. Vilma was helping my father at his school, and we Charlestoned together, and—"

First Name A Secret

When Buddy went to New York, he jerked soda four months before he got a job in the chorus of "Whoopee," and then when Vilma came north he got her a job too.

Buddy is 27, Vilma 24. He is married to Ruth Cambridge, former newspaper woman, now here with him, and Vilma to Robert Emmett Dolan, orchestra leader.

With a face as wide open as the old Barbary Coast, Buddy still has one deep dark secret—the name his parents gave him. He even signed his contract "Buddy."

Prisoner Is Not Required To Pay

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Dec. 13 (AP)—Sylvester Moore, negro, did not have to hand the police court judge $5.

The judge said the injury Moore received when he was jolted in the police patrol wagon en route was sufficient fine.

Fur Animals Over Texas Reveal Drop

AUSTIN, Dec. 13 (AP)—State game conservations are worried over the decline in fur-bearing animals in Texas. The big drop in pelts is shown in the catch of opossums and skunks, which constitute 80 per cent of the crop.

Badger and ringtail cat furs were the only ones to show increase; muskrat remained about constant, and fox and raccoon hides sold decreased slightly. Last year's crop of 912,275 pelts was a decrease of 35 per cent.

Policeman's Lot An Unhappy One

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 13 (AP)—Homeward bound policemen, weary from a day of beat-pounding, will have to "git along" on their own little doggies.

Chief of Police T. O. Sturdivant has banned the practice of free rides home for off-duty men and station clerks in city-owned radio cars.

HOTEL BUYS TURKEYS

MULESHOE, (Special) — Fred P. Warren and Levi Churchill, local turkey growers, have sold a large order of dressed turkeys with the La Fonda hotel at Santa Fe, N. M. The hotel got some of the birds last year and were so pleased they sought birds for this year's Christmas trade.

BOXING BRITISH!

LONDON, Dec. 13 (AP)—The fine art of boxing, laments the critics, seems to be passing to the United States. Tommy Loughran's recent fight here brought a wail.

"It hurt just a little," comments one writer, "to see the oldest and best English boxing style revived by a man from America."

'GREENS WILD'

MELBOURNE, Australia, Dec. 13 (AP)—A golfer here made six holes-in-one. At the dog-leg sixth, on the Kew club links, his tee shot was off line. The ball finished by gently rolling into the cup on the eleventh green.

SPANIARD AND LOUIS FIGHT TONIGHT

DUSKY DETROITER IS FAVORED TO TAKE PAULINO HANDILY

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 13—Joe Louis, the dusky Detroiter who has been fighting professionally little more than a year, takes boxing back to the "good old" days of 1929 tonight when he encounters the shopworn but durable Paulino Uzcudun in a 15-round bout at Madison Square garden.

For the first time since the ill-omened Primo Carnera-Ernie Schaaf bout three years ago a complete sellout is anticipated at the garden. Receipts are expected to surpass $100,000, with a 20,000 crowd.

Seen as Cut and Dried

All this comes from what is expected to be a more or less cut and dried affair, with a Louis victory almost certain. The only question to the "experts" seems to be whether Joe will knock Paulino out or even off his feet.

Uzcudun says Louis won't do it. He seems to have a good basis for that prediction in his record of 69 fights without a knockdown. Going even further, he predicts he will win.

Joe Predicts Knockout

Louis, who has chalked up 21 knockouts in 25 professional starts, predicts a knockout in six rounds. There is a strong possibility that Louis' dynamite laden punches will cut Paulino so badly that the referee will stop the fight.

Big delegations of fans and sports writers are expected from other cities, especially Detroit and Chicago; extra press seats had to be installed. Extra police will be assigned to the garden area, and some 1,200 more will patrol Harlem.

Ceremony in Garden

The weighing-in ceremony at 2 p. m., usually held in the state athletic commission offices, has been transferred to the garden because of the crowd expected. The heavyweight champion, Jimmy Braddock, will be on hand to see the man he may have to fight next fall for the title, and five former champions will be present.

Among them is Max Schmeling, who is slated to meet Louis next June providing the bomber gets past Paulino and following fights against Izzy Gastanaga and Charley Retzlaff.

The main bout, scheduled to start about 9 p. m., central standard time, will not be broadcast.

The preliminary card includes an eight-rounder between Eddie Mader of New York and Al Ettore of Philadelphia, and six-round battle between Jack Gibbons of St. Paul and Billy Ketchell of Philadelphia.

Gibbons, a son of the famous middleweight, "Phantom Mike" Gibbons, is a light heavyweight making his eastern debut. The other two bouts are heavyweight affairs.

SOUTHWEST MEET TO BE SATURDAY

DALLAS, Dec. 13. (AP)—The designation of various 1935 athletic champions will be made here tomorrow at the annual Southwest conference meeting.

President E. W. McDiarmid of Fort Worth has announced that:

"So far as I know the meeting will have no special business to consider. The usual official designation of champions in various sports promises to be the most important matter, as far as public interest is concerned."

The faculty representatives of each of the seven member schools will compose the executive conference staff. As usual, their meeting will be behind locked doors.

The Texas, Lone Star and Junior college conferences also will meet here tomorrow and award their 1935 championships.

An informal meeting has been planned for tonight to hear an open discussion on matters pertaining to intercollegiate athletics.

Due to the fact that Southern Methodist is playing in California's Rose Bowl, and the Texas Christian Frogs in Louisiana's Sugar Bowl, numerous changes are expected in the 1936 Southwest conference basketball schedule, the official championship schedule will not be announced until tomorrow when coaches will get together and iron out present difficulties.

Omaha May Invade England Next Year

NEW YORK, Dec. 13 (AP)—William Woodward's Omaha, king of the 1935 three-year-olds, will invade the English turf next year if he has fully recovered from the mysterious ailment that forced his retirement last August.

The stretch-running son of Gallant Fox, which like his famous sire won the Kentucky derby, Preakness, Belmont stakes and the Arlington classic, is doing light work at his owner's Belair stud in Maryland. Even to the expert eye he shows no signs of the ailment that has had his trainer, James Fitzsimmons, and veterinarians guessing since he went lame after winning the classic.

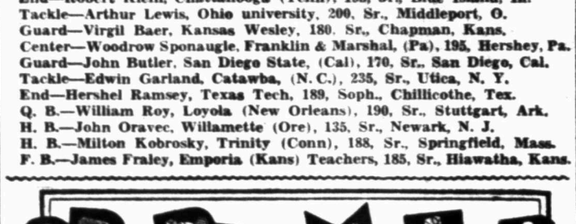

"He appears perfectly sound," said Tommy Driscoll, foreman of the stable. "Of course he is only being galloped but I intend to bring him back to Aqueduct Dec. 22 and put him in hard training. Capt. C. Boyd-Rochfort, Mr. Woodward's English trainer, will be here to watch the colt and pass on his fitness to race abroad."

Ramsey Named On "Little All-America"

THE AMARILLO-PAMPA combination has clicked again, and Lubbock, so far as catching on the Thanksgiving bandwagon, is dust under the heels of Harvesters and Sandies.

For three years now we have been going up to Plainview with Coach Chapman and the Lubbock High superintendent to attend these winter grid meetings of District 1. Three times we've heard Amarillo's delegates say: "Well, wait till next year after and we'll play you on Thanksgiving. We've already arranged with Pampa for next year."

We heard the same thing again yesterday.

Coach Chapman and Supt. Oberholtzer put up a brave fight, like they always do, but they were completely and decisively overpowered, held on the baseline and tossed out at first. All Coach Chapman could say then was: "That'll make us try harder than ever to get out of the district."

Blair Cherry, Amarillo coach, was adamant in his refusal to consider Chapman's request for the Thanksgiving date, and Odus Mitchell of Pampa only grinned. Cherry, however, took the trouble to explain that "it isn't exactly what I want, personally. I would just as soon play Lubbock as Pampa, but our fans and our school board demand we play Pampa. So what can I do about it? We've already closed the deal."

CHANCES ARE SLIM for Lubbock's transfer to District 3. (Principal Chester Kenley of San Angelo, traveling with the football team to Amarillo, told us yesterday at the Tech Field workout that his school would not agree to accepting Lubbock as a member over there) and it is doubtful that any other arrangement will be made to increase interest in the high school race here. Roy Henderson, interscholastic league athletic dictator, has hinted that Big Spring might be moved into this district, with Sweetwater and San Angelo disolving into another loop.

If Big Spring comes into District 1, Lubbock may be able to arrange a Thanksgiving date with the Steers. That might prove interesting.

On Chapman's account, the District 1 situation is regrettable, but it would behoove us now to get busy with what we have, build up a winning team, smear the Sandies and the Harvesters all over the Panhandle and laff at 'em when they want us for the big holiday game. Lubbock is scheduled to play Plainview here next Thanksgiving. Chapman particularly wanted Amarillo next year because it's the Westerners' time to play the holiday game at home. Texas Tech being on the road then. But Plainview it is, and Plainview it probably will be. Well, Plainview beat us, didn't it? Maybe that was the beginning of another heated rivalry, although it will be hard to get Lubbock heated up over it next year.

ONE THING ABOUT THAT meeting yesterday we did like was the attitude toward this infernal 18-year rule. The superintendents and coaches of District 1, we feel, are as open minded about some things as any you'll find, and this down-the-throat stuff handed out by the Austin fellows meets with their unanimous disapproval.

And they're not so hot for this referendum idea, either, the principle of which lays down the law as high-handedly as the original 18-year proposal.

The "referendum" which is to be submitted to schools over the state next month literally means this: "You can make it a 19-year age limit rule, and you can take and like it, or you can revert to the 18-year rule."

In other words, you will not have the opportunity to vote down the 18-year rule. You must vote FOR it or FOR a 19-year rule. It's a compromise, like challenging a man to a duel and giving his choice of weapons — so long as they're pistols.

A 19-year age limit would be better than the 18-year rule, but not as good as the rule which applies right now. We were getting along pretty good, even about to forget the 8-semester and transfer rules, until this age thing came along.

Considering the situation from a local angle, Lubbock High awards letters to fifteen players this season. Under the 18-year rule, three of them would be eligible next year. With 19 years as the limit, six of them would be eligible. Under present regulations, including semester and transfer rules, eight of them could play, plus three from the reserve squad who also would be eligible under the 19-year age limit.

District 1 schools would like to see each other lose all their letter men, but the authorities, by their action yesterday, convinced at least this reporter that they thinking about the boys who will remain in school, attend classes and try for diplomas, but who can't play football because, for reasons probably beyond their control, they've been unable to graduate at the age of 16.

HIGH SCHOOLS IN QUARTER FINALS

PORT ARTHUR MEETS CORPUS TODAY; 3 MORE SATURDAY

(By The Associated Press)

The Texas Interscholastic league football race swings into its quarter finals today with Port Arthur and Corpus Christi playing at Corpus Christi.

The other three games are scheduled tomorrow. They will put San Angelo at Amarillo, Greenville at Mexia and Dallas Tech at Wichita Falls.

The withdrawal of the Tyler Lions because of an ineligible third string player created a reinstatement of the Greenville Lions, who last week lost to Tyler on 20-yard penetrations, 4 to 1.

Amarillo-Angelo Tops

Tops this week-end will be the San Angelo and Amarillo battle. Amarillo won the 1934 state championship by defeating Corpus Christi. It promises to be one of West Texas' hardest fought games —an old-fashioned grid war between two power teams. The game is scheduled for Butler field where no Texas Interscholastic league team has ever defeated the Golden Sandies.

Hot football arguments, as only the Panhandle can produce, are raging concerning the probable outcome. San Angelo fans believe their high school line is the state's best. Amarillo fans do not think so. It has been going on that way for a week and will continue until Saturday's starting whistle.

Mexia May Be Surprise

The Greenville and Mexia tilt should be interesting. Mexia, playing its first year of class A football, punched the league with a stiff jolt last week by defeating a strong Temple team. The Blackcats are big, fast and strong and rule favorites over a Greenville team that was not impressive against Tyler.

The Dallas Tech and Wichita Falls game is a toss-up. Tech has played the stronger teams this year, but the Coyotes whipped a couple of Dallas teams in non-district games and are confident of making it three victories in a row over the big city boys.

SAN ANGELO TEAM SPENDS NIGHT HERE

San Angelo High school's football Bobcats trampled the turf of Texas Tech field yesterday in a semi-final workout before meeting the Amarillo Golden Sandies Saturday in a quarter-final game.

Coach Harry Taylor and Principal Chester Kenley brought their big Bobcats to town early yesterday afternoon, dressed them in the glittering play suits and hustled them out to Matador Field for an hour of routine workout that impressed a hundred or so railbirds. The visitors spent the night at Hotel Lubbock, and were to proceed this morning to Amarillo, arriving there in time for a workout on Butler Field this afternoon. Tomorrow they clash with the state championship Sandies in one of the four closing games of the Texas Interscholastic league race.

Show Heft, Speed

A hefty, powerful-looking squad, about 35 in number, will be gunning against Amarillo for a place in the state semi-finals, which means the schoolboy grid championship of West Texas. The Bobcats rambled through routine drill, kicking, passing and signal practice, and looked good while doing it. They were throwing passes like basketballs, and catching them like outfielders. They punted far down the field, kicked field goals recklessly but effectively, and showed a lot of pep in signal practice.

San Angelo advanced to the quarter-finals by defeating El Paso High school last week, 7 to 0.

Mustangs To Leave For Coast, Dec. 26

DALLAS, Dec. 13. (AP)—The Southern Methodist Mustangs, who play Stanford New Year's in the Rose Bowl, will leave here Thursday, Dec. 26, for Pasadena, Cal., Jimmy Stewart, athletic business manager at Southern Methodist, said today.

Stanford To Start Practice Saturday

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Calif., Dec. 13 (AP)—Stanford's football players will return to the practice field Saturday for their first drill in preparation for the clash with Southern Methodist at Pasadena New Year's day.

A session in the morning and another in the afternoon will be held for the Indians who have been studying for final examinations since defeating University of California in the "big game" November 23.

In the absence of Head Coach "Tiny" Thornhill, who will see his alma mater, the University of Pittsburgh, play University of California at Los Angeles Saturday, practice will be conducted by Assistant Coach Ernie Nevers and Jim Lawson.

Lubbock Is Again Left Out In Cold In Scheduling District One's '36 Season

PAMPA AND AMARILLO PLAY THANKSGIVING DAY AGAIN

Disgruntled and disappointed as result of the combined attitude aimed at them by Amarillo and Pampa regarding scheduling of District 1, Class A conference games, officials and coaches of Lubbock High school today were hopeful of satisfaction through another source, perhaps the redistricting of the schoolboy football plan in Texas.

Efforts by local authorities to arrange a Thanksgiving grid date with either Amarillo or Pampa failed yesterday when representatives of those schools announced at the annual winter meeting of district members in Plainview they had already "made an agreement" to play each other on that date again next year.

There was nothing Lubbock could do about it, although Superintendent Kenneth Oberholtzer, Principal R. W. Matthews and Coach Weldon Chapman were on hand to make bitter protest. They might have been hammering the Rock of Gibralter with drumsticks.

A tentative "conference" schedule, its certainty depending upon the continuation of present district membership, was arranged and accepted. Lubbock's part in it calls for the district opener with Pampa on Oct. 24, at Pampa; the second game with Borger at Lubbock Oct. 30; the third with Amarillo at Lubbock on Wednesday, Nov. 11, and the final with Plainview at Lubbock on Thanksgiving.

Support Referendum Vote

Outside the arranging of schedules, which required less than an hour as contrasted to the three- and four-hour sessions of heat and hearty talk which heretofore have featured the meetings, there was little but routine business for the executive committee. The usual motions and seconds regarding changes of the minutes, the ticket and pass situation and recommendations to the state board of control were made and passed.

The committee devoted considerable time to discussion of the forthcoming referendum on the state's 18-year age limit rule, and voted to request Texas Interscholastic league officials to present "both sides of the picture instead of Roy B. Henderson's 'prejudiced' and one-sided argument" with the referendum ballots next month. The body also agreed to campaign vigorously against the 18-year rule in the Texas Panhandle.

Careful, Now!

Question was raised by a delegate as to the justification of submitting ballots for a compromise 19-year age rule instead of for abolishment of the 18-year age rule and return to the present 20-year rule. This question, however, was not pushed. delegates hestitating to strike too hard at the good old interscholastic league lest the magnates of the G. O. I. L. turn thumbs down even on the referendum, and stick by its bitterly opposed 18-year limit.

There was no election of officers at today's confab, the body voting to retain the present front desk men until the spring meeting or later. Superintendent C. E. Davis of Plainview presided as chairman, and Superintendent W. A. McIntosh of Borger scribbled the notes as secretary.

Also Ran

Others attending the meeting and offering a vote of thanks to the Plainview Chamber of Commerce for the free meal were:

Superintendents Kenneth Oberholtzer of Lubbock and C. M. Rogers of Amarillo; Principals R. W. Matthews of Lubbock, Lem Sone of Pampa and O. J. Laas of Plainview; Coaches Blair Cherry of Amarillo, Weldon Chapman of Lubbock, Carl Moulden of Borger, Froggie Lovvorn of Plainview and Odus Mitchell of Pampa; Harry Hoare of the Pampa Daily News, Jack Woodward of the Plainview Herald and your reporter.

The District 1, Class A football schedule as tentatively drawn up and accepted at the annual winter meeting of school authorities and coaches at Plainview yesterday, follows. The schedule is subject to change provided membership of the district is altered one way or another.

TRUMAN SPAIN IS NOMINATED AS PONY CANDIDATE FOR ROSE BOWL FILM TEST

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Dec. 13 (AP)—If it's a new movie idol California desires out of the Rose Bowl classic New Year's between the Southern Methodist Mustangs and the Redmen of Stanford, the No. 1 nominee of the Galloping Ponies is Truman Spain, giant All-American tackle.

This Spain fellow, young ladies, is definitely of the Latin type except that instead of being sleek he is as hard as ship's steel and as torrid as a foundry furnace.

Co-Eds Say He's a "Honey"

He is tall, very bronzed and handsome enough. His smile flashes from white and very even teeth, and according to campus co-eds, he is a "honey."

He has straight black hair, which, like Clark Gable's, kinda' likes to fall down over his forehead.

His feet, well so are Garbo's, so why discuss them.

Look Out

No mere man could use the correct expression, but a co-ed said:

"His large, black eyes burn into you and make you feel that something is going to happen."

Spain is a smashing football player, but alert producers of the film colony usually nab at least one "movie find" out of the annual Rose Bowl game, therefore Spain is offered by the Mustangs to the lords of moviedom.

Of course, none have really made the grade except Johnny Mack Brown, former All-American halfback at Alabama, but that doesn't matter to Spain's Mustang buddies who hope to serve as his co-managers and share in on the profits if and when Spain appears before the camera.

Could Take Gorillas

Because of his size, and this Spain is the kind of a guy who is four-square and all man, he could not trip the light fantastic, and little is known of his crooning, but he would be a rumba king gone wild when turned loose on a gang of gorillas in one of Hollywood's typical gang pictures.

Spain doesn't know yet that he has been nominated as the Mustang's first contribution to the true and beautiful art of filmdom, and his discovery of it probably will make him so mad that he'll do a one-man job of destroying the Stanford forward wall.

Well, this is just a warning to California's sun-kissed beauties—it will be Truman Spain, the Mustang's nominee for the annual Rose Bowl movie find.

BALL SESSION IS CLOSED

NEARLY QUARTER OF A MILLION DOLLARS CHANGES HANDS

BY CHARLES DUNKLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Dec. 13. (AP)—The boys with the bulging bankrolls had folded up their checkbooks today with the three-day major league baseball confab at an end.

About a quarter of a million dollars changed hands in five deals and nine of the 16 club owners went home with new players. Seventeen players will don new major league uniforms next season in the biggest turnover in years.

Here's what happened in the player mart:

American League

Boston obtained Jimmy Foxx and Johnny Marcum from Philadelphia for Gordon Rhodes, George Savino, a rookie, and $125,000 in cash.

Detroit bought Al Simmons from Chicago for $75,000 cash.

New York exchanged Monte Pearson and Steve Sundra, a rookie, from Cleveland, for Johnny Allen. All are righthanded pitchers.

National League

New York traded Leroy Parmelee and Phil Weintraub to St. Louis for Infielder Burgess Whitehead.

Boston obtained Catcher Al Lopez, Infielder Tony Cuccinello, and Pitchers Bob Reis and Ray Benge from Brooklyn, for "Dutch" Brandt and Randy Moore.

In addition to player deals, the National league settled the crippled financial situation of the Boston club by turning it over to Bob Quinn, a pioneer in baseball, who has been associated with the game for 45 years. Quinn started the gigantic task of rebuilding the Braves by the Brooklyn deal. Quinn said he had just started his rebuilding program and other deals would follow.

As the meeting closed yesterday, with a joint session of the two major leagues, the ban on barnstorming was made binding on players in both leagues. The club owners decided players might appear in exhibition games not later than ten days after the close of the season.

PRESSURE IN CASE CITED

OUT-OF-TOWN PARTIES BLAMED BY KLETT IN DISMISSAL

information which had come to him, that he was to be fired by the commissioners. He said at the time that he was "slated to be the fourth" city official to lose office under the present administration.

Appearance of the delegation supporting Klett, admittedly requested by him to attend that commission meeting, provided the commissioners yesterday afternoon with their main topic dealing on his dismissal.

Action Is Censured

Such action was censured by Commissioners Richardson and Needles yesterday, and other reasons for seeking his resignation were declared to be: His lack of harmony with the administration; his failure to "talk it over" with the commissioners first before bringing the public in; his long tenure of office, such that it "wouldn't hurt to let somebody else have it."

Klett's resignation was the last matter discussed by commissioners, and was brought up by Commissioner Richardson when he replied to Mayor Edwards' question, "What else have we got up for discussion?" with the answer, "Klett's resignation for discussion."

"I am representing 23,000 people, not 30 people," Richardson declared, "and I think his action (at the last meeting) was entirely out of line."

Needles Speaks Up

Needles, next to speak, said, "Everything considered, I think it's our place and duty to ask Mr. Klett to resign. People of Lubbock are now thinking he's running the commission . . . I'm in favor of us running it, not him."

Expressing regret that the city official was not present, Richardson continued, "I'm sorry he could not be here to witness this . . . as I want it to be open and 'above board.' I don't consider this personal at all, it's the City's affair. But we need an attorney to carry out the wishes of the people.

"What he said last time was a reflection on our old City commission before he went into office, on the last City attorney, on the bar association and also a reflection on others."

A statement by Mayor Edwards, "I've always championed his cause," was agreed upon by the group when the mayor asked it for verification.

Was Not In Harmony

"But I did think," he said, "that he showed himself not to be in harmony with the present administration. I didn't feel he ought to have challenged me in that manner." (The mayor was referring to Klett's statement on Nov. 27, "It is a wrong policy to continue the firing of employes of the city, leading to a wrecking of the city organization." The mayor took issue with Klett in a brisk exchange of words).

Partially excusing what had occurred at the previous meeting, by saying that the City attorney had been sick, and "kinda unstrung," Needles nevertheless concluded, "The fact he did come up here is what we have to consider . . . he didn't talk it over with us at all. We represent the whole city, not just friends of his, and the way everything is now I don't see what else we can do but ask him to resign.

"He had a chance to resign without our asking. It seems he was going to stay on anyway whether we wanted him to or not."

Just Another Example

Richardson, directing his talk to Needles, said he "couldn't blame those people for coming up here to represent him. But lots of them didn't even know what it was all about. It was just another instance to show he has been fighting the administration from beginning to end."

"I don't think there is nothing to do but ask him to resign, myself," Needles declared.

"I make a motion we ask him to resign."

"I'll second," Richardson spoke up.

Before the question was put to the body, Mayor Edwards called for further discussion, also declaring, "If that (his recall) is the opinion of the commision, we ought to be thinking about who'll take his place."

Needles asserted there were "plenty of good attorneys to take his place, although according to him that's not so. We can appoint someone, and if they don't accept we'll appoint someone else. There're plenty here that can do the job."

"Plenty Good Attorney"

"Klett's a plenty good attorney," Mayor Edwards said. "I have all along doubted the advisability of changing. I may be all wrong . . . Of course I'm human, and I didn't appreciate his challenging me. However, I give him credit for being sick and not himself. The City attorney, though, ought to be in harmony with us."

"I've heard lots of people say, not just one but plenty of them, that it seems like the City attorney is running the city, not the commission," Needles remarked. "We know he isn't running it; I don't think he wants to . . . but he has had the job a long time and it wouldn't hurt to let somebody else have it."

After the motion had carried unanimously, the commission voted to make the resignation effective immediately.

Mayor Edwards then suggested that the commission postpone naming of a successor until "we've had time to think it over." Finding the will of the body to settle the matter at once, however, he instructed the commissioners to write the name of their choice on a ballot, for narrowing the prospects to two.

Three choices were for Vickers and Campbell, two for Durwood H. Bradley, the only two names which appeared on the first ballots.

Favors A Firm

Richardson proposed that the position be conferred on a firm, one member of which could always be on hand to save repetition of the "absence of the city attorney such as today."

Before the commission voted, however, it was understood that one member of the Vickers & Campbell partnership be chosen for regular service if that firm was selected. In case the one chosen was unable to attend all meetings, the other was to attend, it was decided.

Choice of Vickers and Campbell, with Vickers named to be present regularly, was made unanimous when Mayor Edwards and Commissioner W. B. Price, who apparently had named Bradley, agreed to vote the same as Commissioners Richardson, Needles and J. C. Royalty, the first three to ballot. The second voting was orally.

It was reported at the meeting that W. H. (Billy) Evans, now associated with Vickers and Campbell, would withdraw the first of the year. His withdrawal has no connection with appointment of his associates to the City office.

Present salary of $347.50 a month paid the City attorney was continued.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 13. (AP)—Weakness of scattered industrials today unsettled the stock market after the list had staged a quiet rally in the morning.

Tension over silver and foreign affairs seemed to have lessened somewhat, but bullish forces apparently were oppressed by the failure of recent share leaders to resume the forward push. Trading was dull during the greater part of the session.

Mining shares such as Cerro De Pasco, American Smelting, U. S. Smelting and Kennecott improved, as did Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Western Union and several oils. American can and continental Can dropped around 3 points each, and American Telephone, Western Union, Union Pacific and Du Pont fell back around a point or more. The Tobaccos eased, along with most of the utilities, and the motors and steels were bout even to a little lower.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 13 (AP)—An improved tone developed today at the opening of the cotton market here as prices gained from 7 to 10 points at the first call.

Better cables from abroad and easing of the tension in the silver situation induced a little speculative buying in the market.

Dec. was 50 cents a bale higher at 11.62; March gained 8 points to 11:30, May was up 10 points at 11.21 and July gained 9 points to 11.10.

The early advance continued during the morning and prices extended their early gains until they were from 11 to 15 points higher.

The better technical position of the market and an improved silver situation were largely responsible for the reversal in trend. July gained 11 points to 11.53, May was 13 points higher at 11.24 and July gained 75 cents a bale to 11.16 by mid-day.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 13 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, 8 to 11 higher in response to better Liverpool cables and on trade and foreign buying. Dec. 11.52; Jan. 11.53; Mch. 11.33; May 11.22; July 11.13; Oct. 10.86.

There was a fair volume of business at the opening and the market worked higher after the call on continued trade buying which was coupled with coverings by recent sellers and a moderate commission house demand.

Jan. sold up to 11.59 and March to 11.17 by the end of the first half hour with active months generally showing net advances of 14 to 18 points. The steadiness in Liverpool was attributed to trade and continential buying.

After advancing 15 to 18 points the market became comparatively quiet and prices reacted slightly under realizing or scattered selling. Jan. sold around 11.55 and March 11.34 at mid-day.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Dec. 13. (AP)—In tumultuous trading Chicago wheat prices today jumped instantly to the furthest limit allowed in any single session. All other influences were lost sight of temporarily except surprise announcement the Argentine government had fixed the minimum price for Argentina's wheat far above current world quotations, and that this morning the Buenos Aires market had opened at 19 cents a bushel rise.

Opening 3 3-4 to 5 1-8 cents up, May 99 to 1.00 1-2, Chicago wheat futures held near then to these limits. Corn started 1 cent to 1 3-4 up, May 60 3-8 to 61, and for the time altered little.

NEW THEORY

life as a possibility in two or three centuries, and disease abolished in perhaps eight centuries.

More remote, but a possibility, would be the drying or dessication process for keeping a man alive. The model for this, he explained, already exists in nature, and has been applied to organs of lower animals.

The model is an insect, tardigarum, which stops its metabolism but does not die when dried even for several weeks. Moisten it with water and this animal comes back to life.

The remarkable fact about this is that the insect's cells are complex. Even its nerve cells revive. Nerve cells are among the delicate organisms most easily and quickly susceptible to death.

FORMER ASSOCIATE CALLS THEORY "BUNK"

CHICAGO, Dec. 13 (AP)—Dr. Anton Julius Carlson, in whose laboratory fame first came to Dr. Alexis Carrel, scoffed today at his former associate's new theory that human life may be suspended in a sort of twilight-death and then started up again.

The theory is "neither science nor modern medicine," said Dr. Carlson, University of Chicago physiologist in whose experimental plant Dr. Carrel did work which won the Nobel prize in 1912.

Dr. Carlson declared:

"It is well known that life in individual organs and tissues may by suitable means be maintained for some time after the man as an individual has died. But biology and medicine know of no resurrection of the individual man, after disease or accident has destroyed one necessary link in the life process of that individual."

Negro "Herb Doctor" Is Charged In City

O. Wicks, a 43-year-old Lubbock negro identified as a "herb doctor," was charged with illegal medical practice in a complaint filed in county court this morning.

Walter Daniels, another negro, was complainant. Daniels told County Attorney Jess C. Levens that his wife, Cleo Daniels, became violently ill after taking medicine compounded by Wicks and sold to the woman for $3.75.

Wicks was arrested by police last night. He told police that his medicine was a "tincture of iron and water."

JOHN HUGHES MOVES

LORENZO, (Special)—John Hughes, assistant cashier of the Lorenzo State bank here, and formerly of Petersburg, has accepted the post of vice president and cashier of the First State bank at Petersburg. He succeeds R. A. Jefferies, who resigned to become active vice-president of the Hale County State bank at Plainview. Mr. Hughes retains an interest in the local bank.

his communication system cluttered up with the phone calls I would be sure to have follow me.

"There has never been anything like it. Why we have a dozen girls busy from morning until night receiving applications and sending the money back with rejections."

Ticket brokers said they had not been able to obtain a single ticket and admitted when they did get them the price probably would be at least doubled. Frequent reports of those seeking the highly embossed pasteboards decorated with a basket of roses, mentioned prices of from $15 to $30 for $4.40 seats.

FAVORITES NAMED AT HIGH SCHOOL

Dixie White was elected "best Westerner boy" and Perreline Tucker "best Westerner girl" in a faculty vote which accords one of the highest honors a student may receive at Senior High school.

The selection is not based on popularity, but rather on a loyalty to the school, co-operation, good sportsmanship, scholarship and other qualities which the faculty considers carefully, said C. C. Cox, teacher who was in charge of voting. Sixteen other students received votes.

Both are Seniors

White, a senior student, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob White, 917 Avenue A. Miss Tucker, also a senior, is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Tucker, 1506 Avenue R.

Voting has been conducted the last week. It was decided this morning to announce winners rather than to keep them secret until issuance of the school yearbook, in which will appear a page photograph of each of the winners.

Those Receiving Votes

The 16 others students were: Ralph Keeton, Warlick Carr, Milton Brittain, Hershel Maxey, Nannie Margaret Overton, Lillian DeShazo, Mary Catherine Rice, Gladys Hall, Mary Jo Doak, Frances Wilson, Helen Zeh, Flora May Betts, Marion Rodgers, Betty Alice Gordon, Alberta Barnett, Jane Wilson.

Hoare Faces Ousting

The opposition from the British countryside led to comment in the parliamentary halls threatening to oust Foreign Secretary Sir Samuel Hoare unless the League of Nations vetoed the peace offers formulated by him and Premier Pierre Laval of France.

A mutiny in the British cabinet was brewing, informed sources said, under the leadership of Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer.

Failure Predicted

Unofficial advices from Geneva predicted the failure of the proposal before the league council next Wednesday when that body begins its considerations.

The committee of 18, called together to consider new penalties against Italy for aggression, found itself in the midst of the peace terms controversy with only a survey of the effectiveness of existing sanctions in prospect for its session.

Authoritative sources at Rome said Pope Pius, through the church's wide diplomatic channels, was influencing the attempts for peace. Three papal nuncios—in France, Poland, and Austria—were named as having played important parts in the movement to bring the war to an amicable end.

Movements of Italian troops in Africa were suspended, the Rome government said, while action continued in the diplomatic chambers. Two thousand more troops were sailing from Naples and further shipment of supplies were reported imminent.

Bailey Land Case Being Heard Today

Conclusion of the trespass to try title suit, brought in U. S. district court by I. C. Enochs against T. M. Cox and others, over Bailey county land, was expected this afternoon as the case neared the hands of the jury at noon. Evidence was expected to be closed as the defendant took the witness stand shortly before noon. Arguments will follow.

Testimony by Mr. Enochs, landowner, was completed this morning. Several witnesses, including G. P. Howell, Enochs and J. H. Lucas, Littlefield, both employes as representatives, were heard. Meade F. Griffin, Plainview attorney, representing Mr. Cox, cross-examined them at length on details of the transactions involved. J. I. Kilpatrick, attorney for Mr. Enochs, directed the examination.

S. E. Hall and W. E. Kirkland, neighbors of Mr. Cox, testified for him.

Other members of the jury panel not used, who reported at 11 o'clock, were instructed by Judge William H. Atwell to return at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Friday, The 13th Losing Its Potency

Potency of Black Friday is ebbing, or Lubbock's residents are treading cautiously.

No mishaps and no unusual arrests were reported this morning by police and sheriff's departments.

Even the stork, who never hesitates to complete his contracts in fair weather or foul, had made no visits here today, a check of hospitals showed.

Pedestrians and motorists were observing traffic regulations better than usual. They knew that ambulance drivers, policemen, firemen, and newspaper reporters were waiting to shrug and say, "What else could you expect? It's Friday the Thirteenth."

The number 13 carries a shadowy omen of evil for some persons. Business men have postponed important transactions on the thirteenth of the month. Friday, likewise, is avoided as a day to begin new projects.

Marry the two and you have an infernal couple.

Many buildings, particularly hotels, have no thirteenth floor. It may be superstition among tenants, but it's dollars and cents to the management.

Today is the last Black Friday of 1935. Caution is the watchword.

niture, house-furnishings, and electrical appliances.

"The average gain in retail sales over those of the week previous spread from 10 to beyond 30 per cent.

Higher Than Last Year

"Compared with the corresponding 1934 week, the estimated increase for the country, as a whole, ranged from 8 to 20 per cent.

"With the wave of consumer buying overtaking the preparations that had been made for it, greater pressure was placed on wholesalers for rush shipments of fill-in supplies of winter merchandise and the prompt dispatch of recorders for Christmas goods.

"To the rising orders for current needs was added the broader covering of futures in staple lines, as prices continued to stiffen, which placed wholesale volume for the week 10 to 18 per cent ahead of that for the comparable 1934 period, with larger increases reported by some of the midwestern centers," the survey concluded.

agree at Geneva to urge Emperor Haile Selassie to grant Italy a zone of influence running from the new Somaliland frontier established under point 3 and extending all across Ethiopia from the 35th to the 45th longitude and northward to the 8th parallel; Emperor Haile Selassie would have sovereignty over this zone of Italy influence but would hav ean adviser who might or might not be an Italian.

Commission Provided

There would be a League of Nations' commission to advise the Ethiopian monarch on internal affairs, but no member of this commission could be a citizen of any other interested power.

In the Italian zone of influence, the active administration would be through an Italian privileged company with exclusive economic rights which, however, would have to recognize the existing property rights. This company would be obliged to contribute to the expense of the social improvement of the natives.

Hope For Answer

The proposal was offered with the hope that Premier Mussolini would answer it is speedily as possible.

It urged him to accept the plan in principle as a basis for discussion without prejudice for the final settlement.

The preamble to the proposals said the settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian conflict should be handled by the league's committee of five which delegated Great Britain and France to find a solution.

We said, in the statement several weeks ago, that the Safety commission is working for the public, hence should report to the public.

It will be interesting to note the explanation when it is made.

THIS may be one for Mr. Ripley. Believe it or not, psychology, that mysterious science—or theory—has invaded, of all things, the field of cod liver oil!

Out at our house we've been feeding the brats pills filled with the oil.

It is supposed to keep 'em from having flat feet, halitosis, bunions and what-not, although this country is full of big, strong men and women who managed, some way, to grow to adult years without ever taking on any cod liver oil.

But anyhow, it's popular and the fad right now to feed kids cod liver oil, and far be it from us not to keep in the swim.

* * *

The psychology angle, according to a nice little illustrated folder the cod liver oil people thoughtfully put in the box with their product, is in giving the pills to the kids.

Mothers should not frown when they administer the dose.

Neither should they sympathize with the kid taking it.

Instead, the best psychology way to cram it down their throats is for the mother to put on a grin strangely like that painted on the faces of ventriloquists' dummies, hold the spoon at a certain angle, with the little finger pointed out like Mrs. Astor's when Mrs. Astor is drinking tea at Newport.

Then the kid is supposed to take the oil and what's more—like it!

THIS psychology business is getting to be a great thing. First thing we know we'll be doing everything like the psychology professors say to do it.

More than likely, applied psychology will be made a required course in all our high schools and colleges, not only so mothers will learn how best to feed their kids cod liver oil, but also fathers will early discover how to make a living in the easiest, best way.

Ho, hum. We live and learn!

The Stick-Together Idea

Memories Of A Glorious Romance Return To Billie Burke; Leslie Howard Makes No Exceptions About His Visitors

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 13.—Billie Burke visited "The Great Ziegfeld" sets, when shooting got under way on that part of the story dealing with her life as Mrs. Ziegfeld. It was an emotional test such as few other people, if any, have faced.

She saw reproduced some of the rooms of her own home, familiar furnishings, the old glorifier's favorite pictures on the walls. The living room was full of Christmas decorations, a tree, and presents for a tiny Patricia. She saw another child representing her daughter; saw Myrna Loy made up to resemble herself; saw William Powell in the role of her late husband.

For a while she chatted pleasantly and as impersonally as an ordinary visitor; even posed with Powell and Miss Loy.

Later I saw her looking at the bright tree, and she wasn't smiling. A hand strayed to touch one of the dolls, then quickly drew back. She turned and rushed away, mentioning some forgotten appointment.

Wants Table Turned

Leslie Howard wants to try his hand at directing, and has plans for it by the time he finishes his stage and screen Shakespearean commitments. By that time he probably will have been directed half to death, and may enjoy being a boss for a change.

Howard's temper is uncertain. Sometimes, on "The Petrified Forest" set, he has ignored gawking visitors; again, he has ordered them out. One such flare-up proved embarrassing to him.

Three strangers entered the stage on a day when the actor didn't care about being watched. He walked over to them and said: "I'm Leslie Howard. I do not need any stocks, bonds, automobiles, or insurance, so there is no use wasting your time."

The visitors left with murmured apologies. One, though was not exactly a visitor; he happened to be Harry Joe Brown, supervisor of the production.

Protected Hazard

Andy Clyde, the Scotch comic, who's very serious about his golf, took another player's mashie shot athwart his forehead the other day. It didn't seriously injure Clyde, but it did jar him into thinking about the perils of the fairways.

He went to town and took out a liability policy covering any damage his own shots may do. Plenty of people would jump right into the path of a golf ball, if it would give them a chance to sue a movie actor.

Disillusionment

Those two Tahitian belles who had prominent roles in "Mutiny on the Bounty" are not, as you may have suspected, Tahitians at all. Polynesians, it seems, are not that pretty.

Movita, Franchot Tone's lady-friend, is a Miss Castanada, of Spanish parentage and Arizona nativity. Mamo, who became Mrs. Fletcher (Clark Gable) Christian in the picture, is half Hawaiian and the daughter of a Honolulu business man named Joseph Clark. She was a student at the University of Southern California and was preparing to study law when the Bounty sailed into her life.

It isn't true that she has declined dozens of further screen offers; she'd rather be an ingenue than a Portia any day.

Picnic Of Headache

Officials at the Hal Roach studios are old hands at handling large numbers of children, seeing to it that the little darlings get their education, rest, recreation, and toil at certain hours according to the strict schedule set upon the movie industry.

But at Samuel Goldwyn's ordinarily adult establishment they're having quite a time with the 14 little-girl actresses and the 14 little-girl stand-ins essential to the filming of "These Three." While the actresses act, the stand-ins study; when the stand-ins stand in, the actresses study.

The stand-ins also try to act. The youngsters look much alike, and by this time nobody is quite sure who should be focused upon and who should be filmed.

Each To His Taste

Some like it hot, some like it cold: Richard Arlen likes loud sweaters, blue ties, classical music, flying, steak and onions. But he doesn't like trains, blues singers, or desserts.

Stan Laurel is a sucker for lamb chops, fishing (with or without fish), apple pie and outlandish games of poker with all the deuces, black sevens, and one-eyed jacks wild. He doesn't, though, care for ice cream, candy, airplanes, poetry, jazz music, or dancing.

Among Friends

Hollywood nicknames: Ruby Keeler is called "Nubbins," John Barrymore, "Winkie," and Ruth Chatterton, "Mike." Warren William is just plain "Skinny," Kay Francis is "Kitty," and friends know James Cagney as "Bill."

Miss Elaine Barry, you may recall, coined some other nicknames for Mr. Barrymore, but it isn't a good idea to mention them in his presence.

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

THE "HAVES" VERSUS THE "HAVE NOTS"

The Republican party is very anxious that the 1936 general elections not be pitched upon the basis of "the haves versus the have nots".

We can understand that fully, since most of the "haves" are either Republicans or disgruntled Democrats, while the "have nots" are the rank and file of ordinary people who have been benefited by the Roosevelt administration. In order to defeat Mr. Roosevelt, Republicans and disgruntled Democrats must wean from the New Deal standard literally hundreds of thousands of voters—and they know it will be an impossible job if the campaign is pitched on a "have" and a "have not" basis.

The Journal, however, cannot see how our GOP friends can possibly side-step this basis for opposition in 1936.

Even the condition of the two parties' treasuries mirrors the true situation.

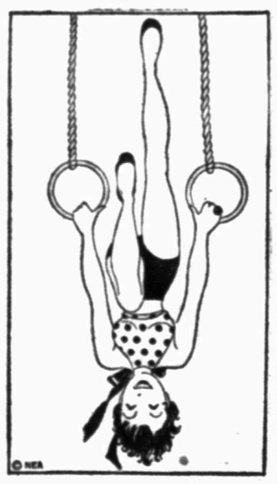

Here is the Democratic party in the saddle—yet $400,000 in debt. Usually the party in power is the one with the full coffers, but that is not the case at the present time. Even in the face of Democratic majorities in house and senate—and a Democratic President in the White House—the Republican party is collecting hundreds of thousands of dollars from the barons of big business—and collecting it easily.

The discerning voter can see, on the face of things, that the "haves" are lining up in opposition to Mr. Roosevelt—are standing together to "gang him", as one of their leaders, Multi-Millionaire Ed Hutton, suggested.

If the discerning voter is a "have not", or if he is a "have" who realizes the necessity for justice and a fuller existence for all, he will not be misled.

And if he is not misled, then the 1936 campaign cannot possibly be pitched on any other plane than the "haves" versus the "have nots".

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13— Those hundreds of New Deal press agents have been as useful as so many postholes during the recent big Business boom-boom, led by the public utilities, against the administration.

With hardly a peep from the government except the soft words of Chairman Jim Landis of Securities Exchange Commission, the "power trust" holding companies were issuing daily defiances, refusing to register with SEC as required by law, and filing shoals of injunction suits with accompanying publicity blasts.

Suddenly there came a slashing, damaging counter-attack—but not from the New Deal. It came from the famous Mr. Roger W. Babson, financial analyst, oracle, and adviser of Big Business, a director of and a very large stockholder in holding and other utility companies.

In short, the attack was an uprising in the enemy camp.

"Let us not make the fatal mistake of defying the law and order upon which our very existence depends," wrote Babson to officials and directors of holding companies, adding that until a supreme court decision was rendered, "surely it is up to us directors of public utility holding companies to obey the law."

Warns Of Lawlessness

"In this crisis," Babson warned, "a lapse by us into lawlessness would do more to degrade and damage the utilities than any attack by hostile critics. . . . It would be hailed as proof that some of the severest charges made against this industry are perhaps true.

"We public utility directors would be playing right into the hands of Communists, Socialists, and Fascists by flouting the law at this critical time. How can we expect radical groups to abide by democratic principles if we ourselves are to defy the law whenever it suits our convenience?

"In spite of these taxes, restrictions, and handicaps, all of us are better off than if we lived in any other country on the face of the globe. We ought to be thankful we are not inhabitants of Germany, Italy, Russia, Mexico, or any other nation, including England. . . . We should be grateful that we are living in the United States and hence should obey its laws."

Playing F. R.'s Game

Coming from Babson, such sentiments had far more force than if uttered by any New Dealer. But the question arises why the once irrepressible New Dealers didn't beat him to it.

One answer is that although many of the boys are raring to take off their shirts and return brick for brick, Roosevelt—whom you may still catalog as a very slick politician—has been repressing them, on the theory that the industrial and financial lords who hate him are driving the liberal, independent vote and the "common people" right "home to papa."

There will be plenty of time later to return the fire. Meanwhile, Roosevelt figures, the enemy will be piling up ammunition for him.

Temporarily, the administration will take an occasional pot shot just to remind people of what it considers the issue, such as the president's Warm Springs crack at "gentlemen in well-warmed, well-stocked clubs and the suffering they're going through because government is spending money for work-relief," or the Ickes Detroit speech about "multi-millionaires who insist the Constitution was written for exclusive preservation of large aggregations of property, however acquired."

Sloan's "Suffering" Bared

Ickes will have to wait for his long-sought chance to cut loose at William Randolph Hearst, whose enemity to the New Deal he regards as a prime administration asset which should be capitalized.

But Roosevelt is cherishing and may yet make use of proposals such as that of Broker E. F. Hutton (accused by a senate committee of pool-promoting methods "which cannot be too strongly condemned") that Big Business and Big Finance "gang up" against the New Deal.

Probably it wasn't by accident that 24 hours before President Alfred Sloan of General Motors blasted the New Deal before 1500 business leaders in New York, SEC revealed that the suffering Mr. Sloan had made $201,000 in wages last year.

And the blasts of President C. L. Bardo of the National Manufacturers' association reminded administrationists of evidence in the Sheaffer, munitions, and ship subsidy lobby investigations which contain piles of ripe fruit handy to throw at Mr. Bardo.

Vision G. O. P. Split

Roosevelt's advisers rejoiced when Republican Chairman Henry Fletcher chose a fund-raising committee of 16 outstanding "plutocrats"—including men on the Morgan preferred stock lists, men who are red rags to organized labor, and others whose records are vulnerable in any appeal to "the people."

They noted an instant revolt among certain influential Republicans and predicted a nasty battle between liberal and reactionary Republicans which would benefit F. D.

To sum up: The Roosevelt crowd thinks the enemy is being disastrously dumb and is alienating masses of voters. Perhaps the New Dealers are themselves dumb in thinking so. Let's watch and see.

The GOLDEN FEATHER

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JEAN DUNN, secretary to DONALD MONTAGUE, lawyer, delays her answer when BOBBY WALLACE, automobile salesman, asks her to marry him.

At the Golden Feather night club she meets SANDY HARKINS whose business connection is vague. Sandy introduces Bobby and Jean to a MR. and MRS. LEWIS. Bobby sells some bonds for Lewis, who buys a car.

LARRY GLENN, federal agent, is trailing WINGY LEWIS, bank robber. He learns about the bond transaction and questions Bobby. Larry believes the car Lewis bought is armored. Bobby undertakes to find out.

Jean agrees to a secret engagement with Sandy. The bank of which her father is president is robbed and Larry starts a search for the robbers.

Jean goes to see Sandy who has been injured. He and the Lewises are staying at a farmhouse. She soon finds herself a virtual prisoner. The whole party leaves the farm.

Larry learns the robbers were the Jackson gang. A telephone number, written on the wall, leads the federal men to the farm.

Bobby visits the old brick works which he suspects may be where the armored cars are assembled.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXVI

Bobby Wallace hunched himself back of the stunted, soot-blackened bush and held himself motionless with a tense effort that made his muscles ache. The light from the auto headlights inside the factory yard seemed to blaze with a brilliance beyond that of mid-day. For a long, agonizing minute he was in the very center of the brightness, while he cowered low in sudden fear, not daring to move—with a little spring from the bush tickling his ear.

Then, at last, the rumble of the engine grew louder as the car went into gear; the light swung slowly past him as the car turned to drive to the gate at the front of the encircling fence, and at last he was in darkness again.

He waited there a few second longer, straining his ears; he could hear no sounds that would indicate that he had been discovered. He grew bold enough to raise his head and peek out, over the bush.

The fence was not more than 15 feet away, and the factory wall was perhaps 40 feet beyond that. The car was trundling along over uneven ground between the fence and the building, and as it reached the front, where the gate was — a matter of 60 or 70 feet to Bobby's right — it came to a halt, its lamps throwing the gate and its supporting uprights of metal into sudden relief.

Bobby blinked, until his eyes got used to the darkness, and stood up, peering beyond the fence intently. No one was visible along the wall; down at the front, where the car was, a few figures were visible.

One man, evidently the watchman — as he crossed the beam of the lights a holster was visible on his hip — was sauntering over to open the gate. Two others had come out of the factory and were standing by the running board, talking to someone in the car. They had left the factory door open and stood in the light that came out from inside.

The ground where Bobby stood was full of cinders and little stones, and it was hard to walk without making a noise; but with infinite care Bobby tried to draw nearer. He had proceeded a dozen feet or more when the watchman swung the wire gate open. The car's motor hummed more loudly, again, the men who had been standing at the running board stepped back, and the car went on through the gate.

As it did so, its rear end passed into the light that came from the factory door. Thanking the fortune which had given him good eyes, Bobby peered at the license number, silently repeating the digits over and over to fix them in his memory; FH-1973-X. Then the car passed out of the light and disappeared up the little ravine, its red tail light blinking brightly as it passed out of sight.

The watchman closed the gate, and the other two men went back into the factory and closed the door, leaving the place at the factory entrance as dark as the rest of the landscape. Bobby stood there, gaping at nothing, with his mouth open.

To be sure, he had seen nothing in the least out of the way . . . except for the fact that FH-1973-X was the license number of the car owned by Mark Hopkins, his employer, whom he suspected of running a secret and illegal factory where bullet-proof cars were made for gangsters!

He must have stood there for three or four minutes, quite motionless, oblivious to his surroundings, while he tried to think things out.

His first impression was that all of this confirmed his worst suspicions. He had in his pocket an invoice proving that Mark Hopkins' auto agency regularly bought a number of passenger car chassis from Detroit, which could not be accounted for in any of its ordinary business. He had discovered this factory, tucked away in an almost undiscoverable part of the wastelands on the fringe of the industrial district, guarded by an armed man who permitted no one to loiter near it. Now he had discovered that Hopkins himself came out here, late at night.

And yet, he told himself, it might all mean nothing at all. There might be some perfectly proper explanation for it.

"I'll tell Larry Glenn all about it," he decided, at last. "He'll know what to do about it."

He began walking toward the front of the building, to find the cindered roadway that would take him back to Pulaski avenue, where his car was parked. And he thought so hard about what he would tell the federal man that he forgot how much care he ought to exercise in putting his feet down on the crunchy gravel; and suddenly a harsh voice split the night with a rough "Hey, you! Where you going?"

Bobby froze in his tracks. Beyond the fence he could just see the hulking figure of the watchman standing up and staring out at him. For one painful moment Bobby waited there, then impulsively, he broke into a wild run, heedless of direction, seeking only to get as far

THINGS GET HOT

Asbestos Has War Political Situation

ASBESTOS, QUEBEC, Dec. 13. (AP)—The political situation in Asbestos has the city fathers all burned up.

Things got warm when one faction of the voters decided they didn't like the attitude of Mayor J. G. Belanger and demanded that he quit. He did.

But that only made four members of the municipal council hot under their respective collars.

Just when preparations were under way to choose a new mayor, the four rose and held their resignations aloft. They said they objected to a crowd jamming the council chamber to build a fire under the mayor, then staging a "miniature revolution" to smoke out the opposition.

Result: No mayor; no quorum; no next step decided; temperature still high.

TEAGUE MAN KILLED

HOUSTON, Dec. 13 (AP)—Crushed between two bridge pilings after a strut had collapsed, John Edward Thomas, 29, of Teague, was killed late Thursday.

Thomas and fellow workmen were repairing a trestle damaged by flood water when the accident occurred. He was rushed to a hospital but died enroute.

BRIGHT SPOTS

First Patient

MARION, S. S.—Dr. J. C. Moessner, a chiropractor, was the first patient in his own hospital.

He fell from a scaffold and broke four bones in his right ankle while inspecting the renovation of a building he converted into a chiropractic hospital.

Handicap

CONWAY, S. C.—Storekeeper S. G. Singleterry bet a customer, Freeman Brown, that he couldn't eat a pound of cheese and a pound of crackers in five minutes.

Then he feared he had made a bad bet. He cut a two-pound slice of cheese and added a half pound of crackers.

Brown did not detect the added quantity—and won the bet.

"Bonded" Plate

OXFORD, N. C.—Police Chief Harvey Jackson is looking for a man who has lost his upper plate.

The reason: Jackson accepted an upper plate as "bond" for a prisoner who couldn't pay court costs. That was some time ago—and the chief still has the false teeth.

He hopes to find someone to whom he can sell the "bond" and settle the court account.

Nearly Tea Party

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—Officer Samuel Arthur went to tea at Mrs. Mary Casso's home—and got there just in time to turn off the gas.

Mrs. Casso went to Boston and left the gas burning under the tea kettle. She called the police department to climb in the window and extinguish the flame and Officer Arthur responded.

One Hit, No Runs

ANDERSON, S. C. — Walter Dickson is off his feet for a month or six weeks, the result of a triple play involving an automobile, a bottle and Dickson.

The automobile ran over the bottle, the bottle sidewiped Dickson and he went down with an injured ankle. The doctor did the rest.

Keyless City

KANSAS CITY, Kas.—The key to the city is gone. Ray Murphy, national commander of the American Legion has it. Mayor Don C. McCombs, who has been giving the same gilded key to all the distinguished visitors—who shortly afterward gave it back—didn't know what to do when Mr. Murphy just kept it.

Best Intentions

BUFFALO, N. Y. — Stanley Howes of Marilla was ordered to report for grand jury service. He didn't show up and deputy sheriffs went looking for him.

They found the missing grand juror in a county court room where, he said, he had reported for orders every day for a week. The officers showed him where the grand jury meets.

Costly Justice

PHILADELPHIA — Benjamin Rosen is going to get the $42 police took away from him in a raid on a card game.

Rosen hired a lawyer and appealed to the superior court where the judges devoted a day to the case.

The court's total salary expense for the day's work was $297.

Keeping Bees Busy

BATAVIA, N. Y.—John Demuth and his bees are following the sunshine south.

Demuth who believes it's a waste of honey and money to let bees loaf in the wintertime, expects to increase his 210 colonies to 800 by spring and get a double crop of honey besides.

BINGHAM, Utah—Cesar Robbiano, a courteous gentleman, stepped from a narrow sidewalk into the street to allow two women to pass. An automobile knocked him down, fracturing his skull.

Increase Sought In U. S. Naval Research

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13. (AP)—Contending the nation's peace-time naval research strength has dwindler to 13 per cent of its allotted quota, the navy high command today asked President Roosevelt to provide for an increase.

The request, made at a White House conference, came as prospects for a renewed naval limitation slumped in London conference developments. Expansion of the United States fleet toward existing treaty strength, and an increase in the regular enlisted personnel, already has been arranged.

The United States government is the potential owner of more than half the world's cotton supply.

Thirty-One Apply For Membership In Philosophical Unit

Dr. Archie J. Bahm, instructor in philosophy and sociology at Texas Technological college, proposed a Southwestern Philosophical association, in which 31 persons in nine states have asked to be considered members. The association will be organized at a meeting at Southern Methodist university in Dallas Dec. 27-28.

Doctor Bahm wrote to 66 philosophy professors and others interested in philosophy, proposing the association. The charter members will be from Texas, Arizona, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Kansas and Mississippi. Dr. J. M. Gordon, dean of arts and sciences at Tech, will be a charter member.

A program of fellowship "intended to aid in the establishment" of the association has been made for the meeting in Dallas. Lectures and selected papers will be given.

DISGUISED CHIEF NABBED BY COPS

SEDALIA, Mo., Dec. 13 (AP) — Lawrence N. Englund, night chief of police, likes disguises.

With some old clothes, a growth of beard and some coal dust, he went out, got some necessary evidence and then decided to prank.

Still disguised, he walked into police headquarters—and was promptly arrested.

Brother-In-Law Of Hamilton Convicted

DALLAS, Dec. 13. (AP)—Joe Carson, 21, brother-in-law of the electrocuted gunman Raymond Hamilton, was convicted of a $21 holdup Thursday and sentenced to serve five years in prison.

Elbert Mangum pleaded guilty to the same charge several weeks ago and was assessed 10 years.

Mangum was arrested in Oklahoma City several days after the filling station robbery the night of Sept. 16, and Carson later was found here.

FIRE RUINS COTTON

LITTLEFIELD, (Special) — Fire at the Bayless gin here, destroyed five bales of cotton recently. Cause is unknown. The five bales were a total loss but prompt response by the fire department saved other cotton on the gin yard.

away from the factory in as short a time as possible.

"Hey!" yelled the watchman. "Stop or I'll drill you!" Bobby heard a sharp report behind him; but if the bullet went past he never heard it.

He did not know whether the watchman tried to pursue him or was satisfied with having put him to flight. He only knew that he ran and ran, up and down the wildly ridged and furrowed wasteland, missing a sprained ankle in the dark and the treacherous footing only by miraculous good luck . . . until at last he came out of the wasteland into the paved length of Pulaski road.

Bobby staggered to a halt, and listened; although he was panting so hard that for a moment he could hear nothing else, he soon persuaded himself that he had outdistanced pursuit, if pursuit there was. He looked about to orient himself, concluded that he must go to the left to find his car, walked a few hundred yards along the lonely roadway —and, with a heart-throb of thankfulness, found it at last.

By the time he got back to town he had regained both his breath and his composure. He returned the car to the place where he had rented it and took a street car to his rooms; there his first act was to call Larry Glenn. But Larry's phone did not answer, and Bobby was obliged, at last, to go ingloriously to bed with his exciting story untold.

He went early to the sales agency the next morning, got out his demonstrator car, and announced that he was going to give a prospect a ride; then he drove downtown, parked, and went to the suite of offices occupied by the Department of Justice men.

There, to his disappointment, he learned that Larry was out of town, with the date of his return uncertain When Bobby hesitated, and mumbled that he had some important information, he was invited to an inner office where an agent named Frank Watson sat down with him and, in less time than Bobby would have thought possible, extracted all the facts—plus the invoice slip.

"Do you think it amounts to anything?" asked Bobby.

Watson was noncommittal. He murmured that they would investigate, thanked Bobby for bringing in the information, and promised to tell Larry what Bobby had done; presently Bobby was out in the street again, feeling almost as if he had been cheated out of something.

He wandered down the street, and presently he came to the office building in which Jean Dunn worked; and the sight of this perfectly prosaic box of steel and cut stone afflicted him with all the romantic melancholy which might visit a swain who, in a happier era, beheld again the rustic bower wherein he had first kissed his lost love. Without exactly intending to, he came to a halt in the entrance and stood there, his last night's exploit forgotten, thinking of the girl he loved, who had told him, the week before, that she could not marry him.

At last he looked up—and, with a start of amazement, saw Jean's father coming out of the building. Mr. Dunn saw him and came toward him with one hand extended, smiling a rather preoccupied smile. They had hardly shaken hands and greeted one another when the banker said:

"Bobby, do you know where Jean is?"

Bobby looked at him uncomprehendingly and said, "Why—isn't she —up there?"

"No," said Mr. Dunn. "I was just up. You see, I came to town unexpectedly—I left Maplehurst on the midnight train last night and got here about 7. I had to come up in connection with our robbery insurance. I called Jean's apartment when I got in but there was no answer. So, thinking I would reach her a little later at her office, I had breakfast and made another little call, and then came down here. And they tell me she's gone out of town for a few days!"

"Out of town?" said Bobby blankly.

"Yes. I can't understand it. This Mr. Montague, her employer, wasn't in, but one of the girls said Jean left day before yesterday. She didn't know where she'd gone, or anything, except that she supposed she'd be back in a few days."

The two men looked at each other.

"You knew nothing about it?" asked Mr. Dunn. Bobby shook his head. "I haven't seen her for—a few days," he said.

"I don't understand," repeated Mr. Dunn. "Jean wrote nothing to us about it. She would surely have writ en . . ."

And then Bobby was struck by a horrible thought—one that put an actual, physical pain in his chest, and made him feel a little weak and giddy. Even as he told himself that he was being disloyal and stupid for even thinking it, he knew he could not rest until he could find out about it. He seized Mr. Dunn's arm.

"I'm going up to Larry Glenn's office," he said. "He's out of town, too, but they've got to tell me where I can reach him. They've got to! I want him to know about this."

At that moment Jean Dunn was riding north in a big blue sedan, aware at last that she was the virtual prisoner of a desperate man; and Larry Glenn, without knowing it, was standing in a room she had quitted less than an hour before.

Mayor Saves Telephone Poles

CLEVELAND, Dec. 13 (AP)—Some people collect stamps, others gather old coins, but Mayor David R. Bain's fancy runs to old telephone poles.

Mayor Bain, of suburban Fairview village, decided two years ago to save them, when he saw a crew of men replacing weatherbeaten poles.

After several months the mayor had gathered such a large collection that the federal government was willing to furnish money to use them in building a recreation hall, 100 feet by 30. This was Bain's original idea.

Mr. and Mrs. Hutcheson were struck, allegedly by a hit-and-run driver, as they attempted to cross a highway near Denison.

Gullet was arrested between Denison and Sherman by Deputy Sheriff Bart Shipp.

FALL BAPTIZED IN CATHOLIC CHURCH

EL PASO, Dec. 13. (AP)—Albert B. Fall, seriously ill with pneumonia, was baptized into the Roman Catholic church on his bed at William Beaumont general hospital Tuesday, the El Paso Times said.

The former U. S. Senator and cabinet member was baptized by Father Albert Braun, pastor of a tiny Catholic church on the Mescalero Indian reservation in New Mexico, and Fall's friend for many years.

Hearing of Fall's illness, Father Braun visited him at the hospital Tuesday morning. During their conversation Father Braun asked the former secretary of the interior if he ever had been baptized.

"No," the senator replied. "When I was a young man and came west there were but few churches in this country. Then I became a busy man and that is one of the things I have postponed doing."

Fall signified his willingness to take the baptismal vows, and Father Braun, with the aid of Father David J. Kirgan, rector of St. Patrick's Cathedral and another friend of the Fall family, administered the rites.

Fall is the son of the late Rev. Phillip Slater Fall, who, with Alexander Campbell, withdrew from the Church of Scotland to form the Campbell or Disciple of Christ church. Rev. Fall also founded the Brown Street Christian church at Nashville, Tenn.

The cancer death rate increased from 63 per 100,000 in 1900 to 100 in 100,000 in 1934, but has begun a slight decline this year.
