Axis Plans Drawn For "New Europe"

FDR Announces "All Aid Short Of War" Goes To Britain

Canadians May Be Trained In United States

Axis Powers Out To Defeat Chief For Third Term

By RICHARD L. TURNER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4. —In response to a press conference question, President Roosevelt quickly and pointedly called attention today to a newspaper dispatch from Rome saying the Axis powers were "out to defeat" him in the coming election.

To this he added an assertion that generally speaking, all aid short of war was going to England and that discussions have been in progress on the possibility of training Canadian fliers in private aviation schools in this country during the coming winter.

Passage Is Read

Not only did the president call attention to the newspaper article—the leading story in this morning's issue of the New York Times, which is supporting Wendell L. Willkie, the Republican presidential nominee — but he quoted at length from a copy which lay upon his desk.

After citing a paragraph saying the primary purpose of the Axis was to keep the United States out of war and "prevent or minimize its help to Great Britain," and that the German-Italian-Japanese military treaty of last week was in pursuance of those objectives, he read the following passage:

To Create Crisis

"Moreover, the Axis is out to defeat President Roosevelt, not as a measure of interference in the internal policies of the United States but because of the president's foreign policy and because of everything he stands for in the eyes of the Italians and Germans.

"The coming United States election is realized to be of vast importance to the Axis. Therefore the normal strategy of the Axis is to do something before November 5 that would somehow have a great effect on the electoral campaign."

The subject had been brought up at the press conference by Earl Godwin, radio news commentator, who inquired whether Mr. Roosevelt had "any reason to believe Germany and Italy are working for your defeat in the election."

Statement Untrue

The president's answer was to read the paragraphs quoted above, and then Mr. Roosevelt was asked whether he had "any reason to believe the story was true." Chuckling, the president replied that he was merely quoting the press back at the correspondents.

He laughed broadly when, a moment later, Raymond P. Brandt of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, a newspaper which is opposing the president's election, observed that the article was "a pretty good ad" for his

Noe Announces He Will Be Candidate

NEW ORLEANS Oct. 4 (AP) — James A. Noe, Democratic national committeeman, former governor and the latest politician to be named in Louisiana's ever-widening federal probe of alleged irregularities in recent years, today used his indictment as a springboard to announce for the United States Senate two years hence.

"You're taking the picture of Louisiana's next senator," Noe grinned to photographers as he left the federal building after making $5,000 bond on the federal charge that he, Seymour Weiss and the win or lose corporation deprived the federal government of approximately $32,000 income and excess profits taxes in 1935.

This was Noe's first public pronouncement that he will attempt to unseat Senator Allen J. Ellender in 1942 for the post once held by his old political master and friend, the late Huey P. Long, whose banner Noe still waves though he is a bitter enemy of the remainder of Long's former lieutenants, most of whom have been indicted and some jailed.

Japan Warns Axis Will Fight U. S.

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Oct. 4.—Japan thrust two sharp warnings at the United States today that any challenge of the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo Axis would tumble her into a "fight to a finish."

Premier Prince Konoye, in his first interview since signing of the three-power pact, emphasized Japan's stiffened attitude toward America with the declaration that:

"Whether the Pacific will become the scene of war or peace solely depends on whether Japan and the United States respect each other's position. At the present, there is no concrete idea of taking the initiative in negotiations with the united States."

Konoye, whose interview was with the Japanese press at Kyoto, urged the United States to throw in her lot with the Axis by "positively cooperating with their construction of a new world order."

"Nevertheless," he added, "should the United States deliberately refuse to understand the true intentions of Japan, Germany and Italy and consider the Triple Alliance hostile to herself and challenge the Axis nations, the Axis would be ready to accept such a challenge and fight to a finish."

Opposes Commission

Simultaneously, Yakichiro Suma, foreign office spokesman, in a nationwide broadcast declared recent American moves in the Far East "clearly indicate she is taking step after step in the wrong direction which might precipitate her into the vortex of armed conflict."

Konoye emphasized that the Axis is prepared to recognize the leading position of the United States in the Americas, provided the United States showed the same consideration to it with reference to Europe and the Far East.

Japan will continue efforts to reach an understanding with Soviet Russia, Konoye asserted, but is firmly opposed to Communism and would not tolerate its spread in the Orient.

Scout Camporal Opens In City

Approximately a third of an expected 900 Boy Scouts and leaders had arrived Friday for the annual South Plains council camporal on the Texas Technological college campus.

Climaxing event on the program will be the Texas Tech-Loyola football game at 8:30 o'clock tonight. Scouts will be admitted to the grandstand with presentation of a brick—the brick to be donated to West Texas Museum association's "Give a Brick" campaign.

Troops 8 of Lubbock and 22 of Lamesa, both sponsored by American Legion posts, will present an Indian dance between halves of the game.

Lubbock Lions club is sponsor of the camporal. Dr. F. G. Harbaugh, club president, welcomed the Scouts Friday night at a brief program between tents quartering the boys on the campus. Vernice Ford is camporal chairman.

Program today follows:

8 a. m.—troop inspection judging of "campcraft and personal."

9 a. m.—field events, with Robert H. Bean in charge.

2 p. m.—tours of city.

2:30 p. m.—picture show in gymnasium.

6 p. m.—camp breaks.

8:30—football game.

Boys and leaders had arrived Friday night from Whiteface, Plainview, Crosbyton, O'Donnell, Ackerly, Tulia, Slaton, Brownfield, Tahoka, Amherst and Lamesa.

New Mexico Calling For Cotton Pickers

TUCUMCARI, N. M., Oct. 4 (AP) — Calls for cotton pickers rolled into the state unemployment office here today with virtually no takers.

With cotton picking time at hand in eastern New Mexico and West Texas, calls for 500 pickers were received from Carlsbad and Roswell, and for "any number" from Muleshoe, Texas.

"It's the first time in years the call has gone out from Texas for pickers," said H. H. Bode, manager of the state unemployment office here.

The central office of the unemployment service in Albuquerque announced a shortage both of agricultural and construction workers in New Mexico.

TODAY will be your last opportunity to visit the 27th annual Panhandle-South Plains fair.

The lights will go out and the gates will be padlocked around midnight.

However, the fact that this is closing day doesn't mean that there will be any deterioration in quality or quantity of attractions.

On the contrary, if the records of previous years are maintained, it will be one of the biggest and busiest days of the entire week. Last year, the final day's attendance was 29,255—the second largest of the week. With equally favorable weather, the record today should be as good or better.

Several On "Must" List

Several of the attractions at the current exposition properly belong on the "must list" of those who have not already seen them.

First on the list should be the Coronado Entrada. The starting time of this magnificent spectacle celebrating the 400th anniversary of the exploration of the Southwest by the famous Spaniard will be 7:30 o'clock tonight—half an hour earlier than usual. Approximately 18,000 persons have paid the small admission of 25 cents to see this $200,000 production—the funds having been provided through federal government appropriation, at the five presentations in Lubbock, the audience last night included 3,120 paid admissions.

Army On Exhibit

Second on the "must list" should be the free program in front of the grandstand at 2 o'clock this afternoon, the starting time having been moved up one hour earlier than usual.

It will be the last opportunity to see the demonstration of modern artillery weapons by the crack demonstration unit of approximately 120 men from the Second regular army division who have been established in a model camp on the fairgrounds through the week. Included in the unit is the complete division band.

Shift Made In Royal Air Force Command

LONDON, Oct. 4 (AP)—A surprise shuffle in the RAF command tonight switched Air Chief Marshal Sir Cyril Newall, the man who built the modern RAF, to the key post of governor-general of New Zealand in the South Pacific.

Air Marshal Sir Charles Portal, 47-year-old head of the RAF bomber command, succeeded Sir Cyril, giving the youngest fighting service its youngest chief for a stepped-up air war against Germany.

Sir Cyril, 54, succeeds Viscount Galway, who held the New Zealand post six years.

Some observers believed the transfer of Sir Cyril to a position normally of great honor but little administrative importance in New Zealand might have been with an eye to possible future developments in the Pacific in face of the German-Italian-Japanese military pact.

Republicans Say Ickes Helps Their Cause

DENVER, Oct. 4 (AP)—Republicans are advertising a Democratic campaign speech which Interior Secretary Harold L. Ickes will make in Denver.

"Don't fail to hear the 'hatchet man' Monday night," read a penciled sign in a window of the Willkie club of Colorado headquarters.

The man in charge of the headquarters declined to state his name but said:

"Sure we're advertising Mr. Ickes' speech. We believe he is a real vote-getter—for the Republicans."

All London Raided By Nazi Bombers

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 5. (Saturday)—All London was under attack early today in the 28th consecutive nightly air raid, and the streets were littered with spent shrapnel falling from an anti-aircraft barrage which hour upon hour was lifted above the city.

The assault was concentrated in the northeastern and southwestern areas, but bombs fell, too, in the very center of London. One smashed through the glass roof of a railway station, just missing a ticket collector and a passenger, but no casualties were reported there.

(Both the Waterloo and Victoria stations are roofed with glass.)

The attack spread out from here to the industrial Midlands and other areas of England and Wales.

It was the customary follow-up to daytime raids in which the Nazis, flying solo or in tight little wedges, joined the German Big Berthas of Cap Gris Nez in scorching the English shores and ship lanes with bomb blast and shell fire yesterday.

It was the end of the fourth terrible week of punishment for England's capital. And tonight, beneath a sky like one vast piece of water-soaked cotton, central London's anti-aircraft roared furiously for two hours to keep new raiders at a distance.

One At A Time

Along the southeast shores of the island, over chalk cliffs and feudal castles, the bombers came today—usually one at a time—dropping their loads from low clouds on the areas that might become bridgeheads for invasion. British officials said their work was "haphazard" but acknowledged that the towns and villages of the southeast were hard hit and that there were dead and wounded among the people.

In one case six planes attacked together, smashing part of an ancient castle and knocking over houses in two streets of one coastal settlement.

Once, over the Thames estuary, a

British Raiders Pound Germans

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 4.—Royal Air force pilots rode afar today, bombing the German-held coast of Holland in a continuing counter-offensive that already had struck from western Germany to the channel ports of France.

Simultaneously, the admiralty disclosed that British naval planes had returned to the distant Norwegian theater of war sinking a 2,000-ton Nazi supply ship in Bjorne fjord south of Bergen and leaving a 5,000-tonner "heavily on fire in fore and after holds" alongside the jetty at Haugesund. One British dive bomber went down in the fray.

The RAF's new nightlight attacks on the Netherlands shore were described in the spare, dry phraseology of the air ministry's first announcement simply as directed at Nazi "objectives."

But in wide, earlier assaults the RAF was declared to have hit many German barges—of the type assembled for the long-awaited invasion of England that has never

Willkie Says He Will Lead "This Nation Back To Work"

By WILLIAM B. ARDERY
Associated Press Staff Writer

PHILADELPHIA Oct. 4 — Wendell L. Wilkie, returning to Philadelphia four months after his nomination as Republican presidential candidate, accused the New Deal tonight of putting politics before defense needs and declared that, if elected, he would "lead this nation back to work."

"If we are to make America strong, we must go to work," he told a crowd under floodlights at Shibe park, home of Philadelphia's big league baseball clubs. "Only production—not orders—can defend us from aggressors."

Willkie termed the nation's defenses even less adequate than four years ago, charged the Roosevelt administration with "blocking the creative forces of our people," and declared:

"The longer the United States remains incompetent to defend itself, the closer we are drawn toward war. We must stop that drift toward war.

"I want to lead the fight for peace. I know how to lead that fight."

Mussolini And Hitler Meet In Brenner Pass

Other Big Things Are Discussed In 3½-Hour Parley

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, Oct. 4. — Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini spent 3½ hours together today in an armored car in the Brenner Pass, gateway of the Axis, and tonight officially inspired German commentators declared their decisions would chart not only the course of the war but the whole make-up of the "New Europe."

Accustomed to look for stunning sequels to these meetings of the dictators, the German people, both official and unofficial, expect that when the Axis-made propositions are unfolded they will again astonish the world.

Balkans Talked

Actually, in keeping with Axis policy, the official communique and the Italian and German press accounts dealing with this sixth meeting of the dictators speak only in glittering generalities.

Many indications point, however, to the Balkans as one prime subject of discussion. Undoubtedly, the United States, the three-power pact signed last week among Italy, Germany and Japan, the position of Spain and the future of Africa also were topics.

Yugoslavia has been wooed consistently of late by the Axis, and the result is likely to appear soon.

Greece has been put under persistent pressure, first by the German press, now by the Italian.

Ambassador Busy

The wily Franz von Papen, Germany's ambassador, has been exceedingly busy in Turkey; the Bulgarian minister of agriculture is about to be the guest of the German nation these days.

Dienst Aus Deutschland, a news commentary service considered as receiving official inspiration, said "the physiognomy of the New Europe" was "decisively determined" at Brennero, Italy, in the cradle of the Axis Alps, where the dictators talked.

It continued: "The subjects discussed exceeded in significance even the complex questions treated during the last two meetings of the Axis foreign ministers." These conversations, between Count Ciano of Italy and Joachim von Ribbentrop of Germany, were climaxed by the signing of the three-power pact.

Dienst then underscored the fact that both diplomatic and military

Schott notified the husband and Mrs. Lewis was rushed to Floydada hospital, where examination revealed she had suffered a skull fracture.

Hospital authorities said she had not recovered consciousness late tonight and her condition remained unchanged.

Mrs. Lewis is about 35 years old. The family has lived in this vicinity several years. Schott is a longtime friend of Lewis.

CORDELL, Okla., Oct. 4. (AP)—Jack Ray, 17-year-old inmate of the Granite State reformatory, pleaded guilty today to the robbery-slaying of George Goodwin, San Jon, N. M., a year ago.

District Judge W. P. Keen sentenced the youth to life imprisonment at McAlester state penitentiary.

Goodwin's body was found in a cotton field near Canute, Okla., last October, nearly a week after he was shot en route to New Mexico with a truck-load of pears.

Two Are Burned When Truck, Car Collide

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 4 (AP) — Mrs. Etta Birnbaum, 26, wife of a young physician, and Arville E. Hall, 33, Tulsa truck driver, burned to death today in flames which enveloped the tangled wreckage of their vehicles after a collision east of here.

Highway Patrolman Leonard Fox said Mrs. Birnbaum's foot slipped from the brake pedal as the automobile in which she was taking a driving lesson approached U. S. highway 64 from a side road.

The car crashed into the side of Hall's truck, the patrolman related, and a loaded gasoline trailer overturned, exploded and burst into flames, the first spreading 100 feet in all directions.

Hall jumped from the truck, his clothing afire, and ran screaming for a few feet, then collapsed. Horrified onlookers were unable to go to his assistance.

Mrs. Birnbaum was thrown out of the automobile and into the center of the gasoline-fed inferno, which threatened for a time to spread to a nearby filling station. She was picked up by M. D. Covington, Tulsa, a passing motorist, but died before reaching a hospital.

APPLE BUTTER

CROSBY Gaige, who edits the Spice of Life, dedicated to the American housewife, suggests you put up crocks and jars of apple butter: It should be dark, rich and spicy he says. He cooks the seeds and cores as well as the apple skins and asks what is better with cold meat in mid-winter than incomparable apple butter?

Here's how he does it: 4 lemons, 6 cups sugar, 1-2 teaspoon ground cinnamon, 4 quarts quartered apples 1-2 teaspoon ground cloves, 1-2 teaspoon ground allspice.

Slice the lemons and cover with water. Let stand overnight. In the morning place in a kettle with the apples which have been washed and quartered but NOT peeled or cored. Cook 1 hour. Strain through coiander, add sugar and simmer 1 and 1-2 hours longer, stirring occasionally to prevent burning. Add spices, but in sterile jars and seal.

WHAT A CAKE!

SOMETIMES we wonder if anything good can come out of Amarillo and then an incident happens such as that of Friday afternoon and we think it's a great place. It concerns a chocolate cake. Not an ordinary cake if you pleace but the most delicious red angel food cake we ever tasted and our opinion is backed up by at least seven members of the editorial staff, some of them who are connoisseurs of chocolate cakes.

The cake was a gift to Lois Marie Daniel who graciously took her copper letter opener and carved off generous hunks for us. LOVELY GRAY HAIR

WOMEN today are smarter about gray hair than they used to be. A head of gray hair used to be something to regret but today there is no smarter woman anywhere, all ages included, than the woman with beautiful gray hair, who dresses up to it. This may sound like a small boy whistling in the dark, because recently friends have reminded us we are getting as gray as a wharf rat but we don't mind the changing locks—honestly.

For instance we have always wanted to wear certain shades of blue which are impossible with dark hair but which will be attractive with gray or white hair. We might even wear earrings, for gray hair sets them off like a fine frame. And daring hats look clever, on a well-coiffured pearl hairdress.

Lubbock has its share of lovely gray-haired women who know how to wear makeup, hats and frocks to flatter their locks. We are thinking of Mrs. E. J. Parsons, Mrs. George Simmons, Mrs. C. P. Carlock, Mrs. Wylie Briscoe, Miss Annah Jo Pendleton, Mrs. Kenneth Leftwich, Mrs. W. C. Edwards, Mrs. Maude Bradley, Mrs. Parr Merriman and of course Miss Della Wilkinson with her abundant, snow white hair.

AND while we think of gray hair that flatters its wearers we recall a number of men such as Arch B. Underwood, Charlie Watson, H. C. Pender, Dick Shinkle, W. H. Evans and Dr. G. J. Wagner.

And don't you like the pepper-and-salt types such as Mrs. Clayton Gammill, Winnie Wheat, Lois Hall and Rev. Luther Kirk?

A model meeting of the Beta Sigma Phi sorority was held Thursday evening in the Aztec room of Hilton hotel with rushees as guests.

The meeting marked the beginning of a series of rush activities to be held during October. Other events will include a dessert to be held Oct. 6 at the home of Mrs. William G. Dingus, 2502 Twenty-first street, with Mrs. Dingus and Miss Lula Mae Cravens as hostesses; a scavenger hunt and dance on Oct. 11; a preferential tea on Oct. 20; and a pledge ceremony and dinner on Oct. 28.

Plans were made for a rummage sale to be held Saturday under the direction of Mrs. Winton Kyle, chairman of the ways and means committee.

At the program hour Mrs. William A. Wilbanks conducted an "Information Please" quiz on the history and activities of the sorority, with each member of the chapter participating.

Talks On Diction

Mrs. P. T. Glazner spoke on the topic, "What Did You Say?", emphasizing the importance of correct diction and good pronunciation. She directed a pronunciation bee, with the guests and members comprising two teams led by Mrs Kyle and Mrs. Wilbanks. The winning side, with Mrs. Kyle as captain, received a prize contributed by Mrs. Glazner and Miss Cravens.

Guests were Mrs. Bess Truman, Mrs. Dorothy Eggeling, Misses Katherine Montgomery, Juanita Cook, Mary Grace Ellison, Julia Lain and Ruby Lee Leary.

Members attending were Miss Cravens, director, Mesdames W. H. Galloway, Dayle Vannoy, Nathan White, Lloyd Zellner, Wilbanks, Glazner, Kyle; and Misses Lee Blundell, Lottie Crosslin, Myrtle Duncan, Eloise Smith, Kathrine Malone and Bertha Singley.

Demo Treasurer Raps Independents Funds

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4. (AP)—Oliver A. Quayle, Democratic party treasurer, charged today that independent groups supporting Wendell L. Willkie for president would spend "many times the $3,000,000" limit allowed by the Hatch act.

He drew a reply from C. B. Goodspeed, Republican treasurer, that an unfair interpretation of the law might prevent the Republican party "from presenting its candidate to the people."

The exchange was before the special Senate committee appointed to police this year's elections.

Quayle insisted that the Democratic committee was controlling all finances of groups supporting President Roosevelt and would comply with the "spirit as well as the letter of the Hatch act."

Ex-Poet Laureate Of State To Be Here

Grace Noll Crowell, ex-poet laureate of Texas, has granted an interview to members of Women's Press club of Texas Technological college at a tea given in the home of Mrs. Wm. G. Dingus of 2502 Twenty-first street on Oct. 8.

Hughes, Dallas district judge, and a panel discussion led by Meta Meadow of Fort Worth, State president.

Miss Vaneta Cross of Plainview, district director, will preside at the business meeting after breakfast.

Visitors will be invited to attend the churches of their choice before the final conference event, a luncheon. District chairmen of standing committees will each give a five-minute preview of plans for the year, and action of the business meeting will be summarized. A skit, "Not Guilty", will be presented by the Vernon club.

Clubs included in the district are Amarillo, Brownfield, Crosbyton, Crowell, Childress, Electra, Levelland, Lubbock, Plainview, Pampa, Tahoka, Wellington, Wichita Falls, Shamrock, Hereford, Quanah and Vernon.

Activity tickets were made available to the students of Junior High school this week for the first time in the history of the school. Included on the ticket are the Cowboy World, student newspaper; The Cowboy Round-up, student annual; and a pass to all the Cowboy football games this year.

Sold to the students for $2.00, the activity ticket represents a saving of $1.00 should the student enter all the activities separately. Student annual, The Cowboy Round-up, is priced regularly at $1.50, including the photograph of the student which is used in the annual; the Cowboy World selling at .05 the copy, amounts to .90 purchased by the issue; and the football games of the Cowboys at .15 each for four home games totals .60 for the season.

More than 200 students had purchased the tickets Friday afternoon, and the total is expected to reach 500 before the close of the offer Oct. 18.

Statistics On Texas Quoted

Interesting statistics on Texas and its people were given by T. C. Root, professor of economics and business administration of Texas Technological college in a "Bathing Suit View of Texas," at an American Business club luncheon Friday noon in Hilton hotel.

J. E. Maisen, past president and chairman of the board of governors, presided in the absence of President Bob Gee. Secretary Jimmie Wilson reported on the clock which the club is installing at Matador field, Texas Technological college. The clock, gift of a business man, has been installed but a higher speed motor than ordered, was sent. A new one has been ordered to replace it, but it had not arrived Friday, he said.

Dance Is Planned

George Reinhardt of the social committee said a dinner-dance would be held soon for members and their wives, the date to be announced next week. H. B. Bryan and Bruce Craig were co-chairmen, the latter introduced the speaker.

Root, in a summary of the history of the state, added, "some say Texas has been under six flags and is now under the seventh"—a flour sack." In bounding the state he said it was bounded on the north by the United States and "on the south by the Rio Grande river, the only river in the world that prairie dogs can cross."

Number Of Square People

Defenders of the state used to wait until they could "see the whites of the eyes" of the enemy, he pointed out, now they "wait on cotton checks and old age pension checks."

Texas is the largest state, 266,000 acres, including dry river beds; it represents one twelfth of the area of the nation. Distances across the state were compared to distances between other towns of the nation. Sources of income, agriculture, oil and industry, were cited to show how Texas ranked among the 48 states in production and income.

"It is the number of square people in a state—not the square miles, that make it great," he said in conclusion.

AUTO PRODUCTION

DETROIT, Oct. 4. (AP) — Ward's automotive reports estimated today that motor vehicle production this week would total 105,153 units, compared with 95,990 last week and 76,095 this week a year ago.

Man Who Loved Sea Given Request For Water Burial

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 4. (AP) — Charles Harold Nelsen loved the sea.

Boats and sailing and anything that smacked of the salt or rolled with the wave of Chesapeake bay took most of the Richmonder's leisure hours—a throwback, perhaps, to his Danish ancestry.

Nelsen was a young man, yet he had spoken the wish that he'd prefer the sea in death even as he loved it in life.

A few weeks ago Charles Harold Nelsen was killed just four days after his 27th birthday. He was struck down near his home, 60 miles inland, by an automobile.

After a cemetery burial, his family and friends recalled his wish about the sea, a wish whose fulfillment was not kept waiting.

Quietly and at night the coffin was disinterred and taken to the coast. Near Glouchester banks a boat was waiting. Six men and a woman went aboard with the coffin. The boat put out into the bay.

Three hours later the boat returned and the seven passengers left quietly, leaving Charles Harold Nelsen where he wanted to be.

"Non-Political" Talk Of FDR's Is Rapped

NEW YORK, Oct. 4. (AP) — The announced "non-political" speech on national defense which President Roosevelt will make Oct. 12 from Dayton, O., was termed "pure subterfuge" today by Samuel F. Pryor, jr., eastern Republican campaign manager.

"While we are struggling to keep our budget within the Hatch (clean politics) act and operate honestly," Pryor said, "we see pure subterfuge in a trip like this."

Six Are Burned In Chemical Explosion

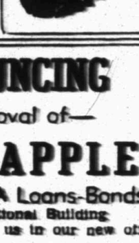

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 4. (U.P.) — Five girl students and a chemistry teacher at Brackenridge high school were burned severely by a chemical explosion in a rehearsal of a "peace pipe" ceremony.

The accident, which happened last night, was revealed today when the teacher, Jack Combs, and students Doris Fehrman, Dorothy Ray Wurzbach and Juanita Spivey were unable to attend classes.

Prior to the "peace pipe" demonstration at the Brackenridge-Harlandale high school football game, Combs was parceling out powder for cups held by the girls, members of the Brackenridge school's purple Jackets marching unit. The powder ignited, burning the six.

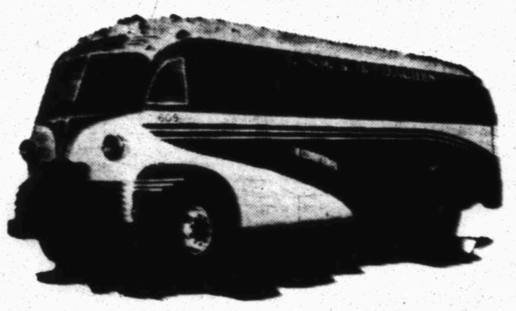

Injured less seriously and able to continue classes today were Ray Bridges and Charlsie Gravis.

John L. Lewis Seeking Better Terms Before Pledging Support For Democrats

Meeting With Willkie Hinted

BY LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—President John L. Lewis of the Congress of Industrial Organization was reported today to be holding out for better terms before pledging his support to the Roosevelt-Wallace ticket.

There were reports also of an early conference between Lewis and Republican Presidential Candidate Wendell L. Willkie. Last night they were in the same hotel in Pittsburgh where Willkie delivered a major address and where Lewis is attending a conference of steel workers.

No Confirmation Given

There was no confirmation of a Willkie-Lewis get-together. When asked if he planned to see Willkie, Lewis said he was "not going to discuss politics today."

Whichever way he goes—if he goes—Lewis will have to eat some language. He told the United Mine Workers' convention at Columbus, O., last winter that Mr. Roosevelt would meet "ignominious defeat" if he sought a third term. Soon afterward Lewis paid his respects to the Republican party: "it does not pretend to serve anyone but the financial interests who control it. In a major sense, it is frankly hostile to labor."

Issue Is Dissolved

One of the issues divided the administration and Lewis is understood to have been the distribution of government contracts. The question seems now to have been resolved to the satisfaction of labor by joint action of Attorney General Robert H. Jackson and the national defense commission.

Sidney Hillman, commission member, a vice president of CIO and president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, announced Oct. 1 on behalf of the commission that no national defense contracts would be awarded to firms violating federal labor laws. Jackson issued an informal ruling yesterday that such restriction would be lawful.

Dawson County To Operate 22 Gins

(By Staff Correspondent)

LAMESA, Oct. 4.—Dawson county cotton production for the 1939 crop was 19,702,248 pounds of lint or 40,173 bales, according to records in the county Agricultural Adjustment administration office.

The crop was harvested from 89,719.5 acres. The county allotment was approximately 130,000 acres, but drouth conditions reduced the acreage over 40,000.

Dawson cotton was ginned in Lynn, Gaines, Terry, Howard and Martin counties. Cotton from these counties and also Andrews and Borden was ginned in Dawson.

In operation were 22 gins last year. The same number will be operated this year.

Nebraska Men Exhibit Hogs

Two young Nebraska wheat farmers, who turned to livestock and who now make hog raising their main business, have an exhibit at the fair. They are the Bauer Bros. of Gladstone, Neb.

"We have a 480 acre farm about 150 miles southwest of Omaha, and eight miles from the Kansas line," said Harold Bauer, who is here with a herd of fine hogs. "We raise wheat and corn, but our chief business now is hog breeding. We give most of our attention to that."

Surprised At Industry

Harold went into the business soon after he left high school. He and his brother started in a small way. They became well known throughout Nebraska, Kansas and Iowa and in other Missouri valley states, exhibiting at fairs and building up a big sale business.

"We have sold some hogs while here and had a lot of inquiries," Harold explained. "We sold a number of young pigs here. People are going in for better hogs now."

This is the first trip of the brothers to Texas and the young man said the state was entirely different from what he had pictured it to be. "I had no idea there was as much industry here in Lubbock as, there it," he added. "I thought of this section mostly as ranching. The farming business and industry has surprised me."

1941 Cadillacs Shown Today

Pup Thomas Cadillac-LaSalle company, in its new home at 1616 Thirteenth street, will hold open house this week-end and show the 1941 Cadillac models, announced L. D. Thomas, owner.

Showrooms, a service department and used car lot are maintained in the company's new home. J. S. Pittman is sales manager of the company; Wade Robertson is used car sales manager and Frank Cline is service manager. A complete automobile service department will be operated by the company.

Most Far-Reaching Advance

Jack T. Davis, factory representative, will be here all day today with another new model and will assist in the showing and explaining of mechanical features of these fine new automobiles.

Marked for certain distinction among 1941 automobiles, two models of the six series of Cadillacs are on display. The new cars are representatives of the most far-reaching advance in the company's history. Highspotting the revolutionary program are: 1. The invasion by Cadillac of the medium price field; 2. Unusual styling that comes a modernistic mood with automotive ideals of utility and comfort; 3. Fleetwood materials and workmanship for all Cadillacs from the lowest cost to the most expensive custom bodies.

Entirely new to the passenger car field in lines not previously produced are the Series Sixty-one, Sixty-three and Sixty-seven. In addition the manufacturer announces new model Cadillac Series Sixty-two, Sixty Special and Fleetwood Seventy-five.

Horsepower Output 150

Improved at many vital points to boost horsepower output to 150, the traditional Cadillac precision-built V-8 engine is mounted in each of the 1941 series. Impressive this year, through the numerous refinements, is remarkable gas mileage that introduces new low operating costs.

In design fullest advantage has been taken of new bodies that are generally much lower and appear wider than the 1940 series. Bullet-shaped fenders blend more completely into the flowing lines of the hood and rear quarters. Bumpers are massive, lending a note of ruggedness to the lithe form of the car.

A lavish use of decorative metal features styling. At the front a checkered grille of chromium extends beneath the broad, low hood. Louvres are likewise of checkered design. Headlamps flow into the crown of the tapering front fenders, which serve as well as recess for fog lamps.

It is not in major form alone, however, that the new cars have been groomed for the modern taste. Innovations in design and construction enliven the models throughout.

Horsepower ratings move to 150 for all Cadillacs, chiefly through higher compression ratios made possible by a new engine head. Extensive fuel developments, says the company, have prompted research in cylinder head design with the result that a compression ratio of 7.25 to 1 is feasible.

Body types available in the six series vary and in two series are offered in a special "de luxe" styling. The Cadillac Sixty-one (concealed running boards) offers a coupe and Aerodynamic sedan. The Sixty-three (concealed running boards) is built in only one type, a newly developed and exclusive sedan body style of the most modern design.

A coupe, a sedan and two convertibles are produced in the Cadillac Series Sixty-two (running boards optional). The Sixty Special (no running boards) has two sedan types, the sedan and sedan with division. The Sixty-seven (concealed running boards) appears in two five and two seven passenger sedans. Six Fleetwood sedans, with formal and imperial types listed, make up the Series Seventy-five. All sedans are four-doored and all coupes carry a full width enclosed rear seat.

Both mechanically and structurally the 1941 Cadillacs have been designed for the rigors of strenuous, long-distance touring, and for the ready maneuverability and sure control necessary in today's traffic congestion.

Cadillac has always been a pioneer not only in the reduction of engine noise but in improvements that would assure quiet operation throughout the life of the car. Important to the latter for 1941 are beter hydraulic valve silencers. Closer tolerances, a high quality case-hardened steel and a re-design of the lifter unit give smoother action and a warranty of longer life.

During the Crimean War, soldiers rolled their tobacco in cartridge paper, and thus cigarets came into popularity.

Southeastern European Countries Expect Diplomatic Offensive By Dictators

German Planes Over Rumania

By ELMER W. PETERSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Oct. 4.—With German-made planes cruising protectively over Rumania's oil fields and the Italian army jockeying along Albania's Greek frontier, southeastern Europe looked tonight for a new Axis offensive, probably diplomatic.

A stronger Nazi-Fascist policy in this corner of the continent, including new pressure against pro-British Greece, was indicated.

Balkan political circles were convinced that Adolf Hitler and Premier Mussolini devoted a good share of their Brenner Pass meeting today to discussion of a possible new "prestige" campaign in this area.

New Efforts Seen

They expected new efforts to get Greece to cancel Britain's guarantee of help against any threat to Greek independence.

Some observers believed the new Axis program may include an invitation to Hungary, Bulgaria and Rumania to join the Axis in a military alliance as part of new pressure against Greece and Turkey, which also has British ties.

The sight of Messerschmitts among 18 planes in "defensive reconnaissance flight" over Rumanian oil fields was taken as an indication of the manner in which that country is coming under German military protection and guidance.

Rumors of government changes favorable to the Axis were current in Sofia, Bulgarian capital, while in Hungary membership in the new united Hungarian Nazi party was reported gaining rapidly.

Goering Honored

King Boris of Bulgaria awarded the superlative order of St. Alexander today to German Reichsmarshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering and the Berlin and Rome foreign ministers, Joachim von Ribbentrop and Count Galeazzo Ciano.

Balkan press reports from Berlin and Rome significantly discussed "possible extension of the Axis European front" and reports from all Balkan capitals indicated a developing political nervousness.

The prevailing impression was that the Axis, held up in western Europe, now is planning a more active Mediterranean and Near East policy in which a tight hold on southeastern Europe was considered essential.

Dictators Confer

experts accompanied the Duce and the Fuehrer. The communique itself said Col. General Wilhelm von Kittel, chief of the Nazi high command, sat in on the last part of the talk.

The National Zeitung of Essen, a paper close to Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, further pointed out that Hitler and Mussolini met as supreme commanders of their armed forces, more than as heads of their governments.

Rome's accounts of the meeting, however, said the dictators were not seeking to involve any other country in the war; indicated Spain's non-belligerency was established for the time being; said the talks did not concern Soviet Russia; and dealt with no sort of peace moves. Reports that Ciano might later see Russia's premier-foreign minister, Molotoff, were not denied.

Pass Fortified

The Italians hinted that Axis-American relations were discussed, stressed the possibility of a long war and one enlarged on the African front and, like the Germans, said the dictators were so confident of victory that they can now draft "the great constructive lines of their new European and African edifice."

The dictators met with their usual brief show of ceremony on a scarlet, flower-banked platform of the Brennero station, and the German accounts of the meeting stressed its cordiality. Bands played "the Horst Wessel Lied," "Deutschland" and "Giovanezza," the Axis anthems; German and Fascist honor guards stamped and saluted.

Ringing the armored trains of the dictators were strong anti-aircraft batteries, manned by both Germans and Italians.

British Raiders Busy

come—as they lay in the winding Maas river off the river port of Heusden, Holland, and to have accomplished elsewhere a broad mission of destruction.

These, the British declared officially, were some of the actions:

A German convoy of 12 merchant ships, escorted by warships, bombed off Dunkerque by a British squadron that swept down low through the mists to deliver the attack. The results were obscured by the haze.

Two shipping basins in Rotterdam attacked; communications and oil storage reserves bombed in the Cherbourg port region; a steel factory in western Germany, near Wesel, attacked.

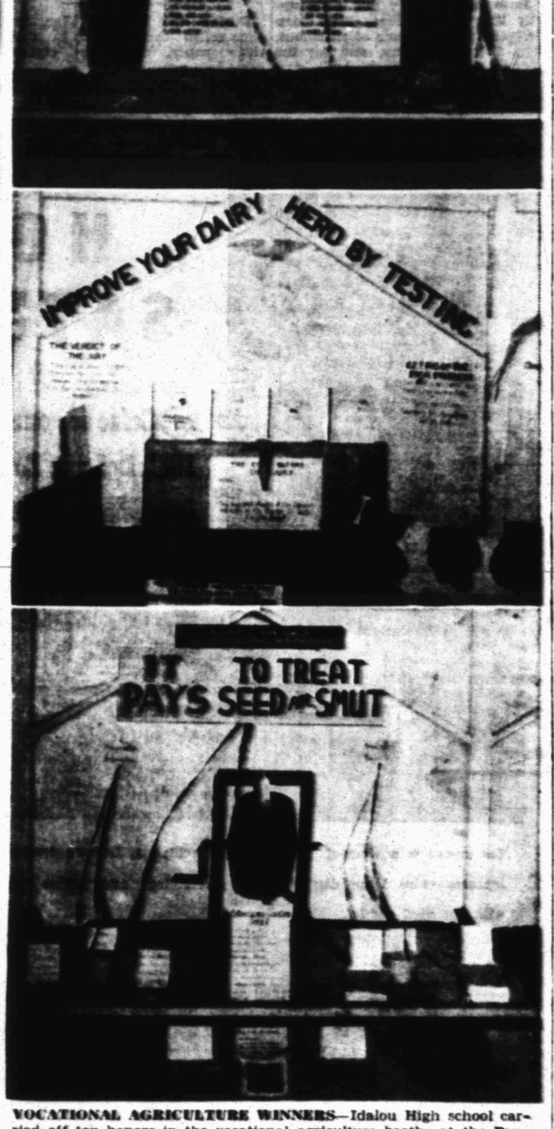

U-Boat Successes

While the air force thus carried on without letup its counter-offensive against invasion, the admiralty announced the destruction of an Italian destroyer of the Curtatone class—966—tonners equipped for mine-laying—and nine submarines, seven German and two Italian.

The destroyer was torpedoed by a British submarine, the admiralty said, and the other vessels by action of British naval and air forces not described in detail.

The admiralty acknowledged:

"The enemy has recently been having a greater measure of success in his U-boat attacks on merchant shipping than during the earlier stages of the war." But it was added, this had been expected "after the collapse of France and German seizure of French Atlantic ports."

T. R. Henderson, escaped convict, spent his wedding night in a prison transfer truck.

The 32-year-old man, who dashed to freedom last May 8 from Eastham prison farm, was married Friday morning to a 26-year-old woman whom he had met in New Mexico. In the late afternoon W. R. Crane, prison transfer agent, took Henderson into custody at Lubbock county jail.

Henderson was anxious to return to Huntsville to participate in the annual penitentiary rodeo, which opens Sunday but had not expected Crane here in time to make the jump back to prison.

Nabbed By Rangers

He was arrested Monday by Texas Rangers and Lubbock county deputies to nip the planned wedding "outside." His next best step, he considered, was the method he took and J. T. Inmon, justice of peace, read the ceremony in Lubbock county jail.

Officers were told the story by Henderson.

Faced With Dilemma

He wanted to marry her but was faced with a dilemma. He could give her his real name — and risk being captured and sent back to the pen. Or he could give her a false name, but his code of ethics did not allow him to treat her that way.

He decided he would just marry her under his real name, then hurry and deliver himself up to authorities, go back to the pen — then escape again and take his wife far away and enjoy marital bliss like the rest.

But the plan failed. He must serve seven years remaining on his sentence for armed robbery in Beaumont.

Mrs. D. Leva Remains In Serious Condition

Mrs. D. Leva of 2906 Twenty-first street was placed in an oxygen tank in a San Angelo hospital Friday night when injuries suffered the previous night left her in serious condition.

Information given The Morning Avalanche by the Associated Press said Louis Feldman of 1918 Dixie drive showed improved condition and Mrs. Feldman's condition was unchanged. Mrs. Leva suffered a shoulder fracture, body contusions and severe shock.

The Lubbock persons were en route to Beaumont with Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Ray of San Angelo to attend funeral services for Mrs. Joe Feldman, mother of Feldman and Mrs. Ray, when the accident happened 12 miles east of Eden. The car overturned.

Physician Is Charged With Wilful Burning

FORT WORTH, Oct. 4. (AP)—Describing charges that he set fire to a haystack and four prairies near Crowley as "ridiculous," Dr. Robert Pinnell 33, staff doctor at the Wichita Falls state hospital, made bond this afternoon on five allegations of wilful burning filed earlier in the day.

The doctor, who was an interne at City-County hospital here until July, said he had no choice except to defend himself and expressed gratitude that he had not been "caught near the scene of a murder." He posted bonds totaling $2,200.

Dr. Pinnell said he was riding with a woman companion when the fire broke out near the small Tarrant county town Sunday night. He said he saw only one fire and learned of the others when he was seized by a group of farmers who pursued him as he drove away.

candidacy.

The conference quickly moved on to other things having to do with foreign policy. A reporter mentioned that in some quarters it was contended that American assistance to Great Britain was below the level of the president's "all aid short of war formula."

As a general proposition that statement was untrue, the president responded.

Fate Of Martinique Is Said Discussed

NEW YORK, Oct. 4. (AP) — The German radio today broadcast the following dispatch from Vichy, France:

"Negotiations which French ambassador to Washington Henri-Haye is conducting with President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Cordell Hull are concerned with the fate of Martinique, it was learned today.

"After his discussion with President Roosevelt on Thursday Ambassador Henri-Haye stated that there was no great difference apropos Martinique between France's standpoint and that of the United States.

"Nevertheless, official quarters here express certain apprehension because it is assumed the United States is making certain difficulties, particularly with regard to Martinique."

Shippers Plan Freight Drive

FORT WORTH, Oct. 4. (AP) — Shippers of this area joined hands with Southwestern railroad officials today to oppose a proposed move by the Interstate Commerce commission to restrict the routing of grain and grain products throughout the western district.

A meeting was called for Monday, when the railroads will show the exhibits they are preparing for an ICC hearing in Chicago October 21, and shipper witnesses will be selected to present testimony.

To Consider Order

The ICC hearing will consider issuing an order requiring the carriers to cancel numerous circuitous routes and restrict the routing generally on grain and grain products. The circuitous routings have been in effect for several years under a temporary ICC order.

"This is probably the most important rate matter the grain and milling interests of this state have had before them for many years," Ed P. Byars, traffic manager of the Chamber of Commerce Freight bureau, said.

He explained that under the present setup Fort Worth interests for example, may purchase grain in the Panhandle or in Oklahoma, route it to Fort Worth for processing or storage and then send it to market, paying only the cheaper rate from the point of origin to destination.

Pledge Made By Air Trainees

"I pledge myself to apply for flight training in the military service of the United States."

That pledge was signed by the 33 trainees announced Friday afternoon by Robert P. Vail as having been approved for training in the Civil Aeronautics administration flight training program at Texas Technological college.

The pledge was printed at the bottom of application blanks received at the college. Students who originally had applied on other blanks had opportunity to withdraw when the new application forms arrived. Some did withdraw, said Vail, coordinator of civil pilot training at Tech.

Neither the college or the trainees know when the students are to apply for flight training in the military service. The college has not yet received an answer to request for additional information.

No Advanced Course

The following have been approved for training: Hugh Ayers, Floydada; Alva Barber, Hereford; S. J. Black, Pampa; Glenn Browne, Wallis Fulwiler, C. J. Griggs, W. C. Jones, M. S. Legge, Chris Pratas, J. W. Randolf, M. C. Robertson, N. C. Wiley, all of Lubbock; Weldon Christian, Big Spring; J. L. Curry, Wilson; G. W. Dingus, Munday; Dennis Feigenspun, Roxana; Hughes Fish Swearingen; H. A. Foerster, Vernon; Nat Gunter, Balmorhea; Jack C. Hail, Quitaque; Jack Harriss, Haskell; Lannes Hope, Slaton; W. G. Johnson, Hollis, Okla.; J. W. Marshall, Fort Sumner, N. M.; C. D. Shuler, Snyder; Allan Webb, Hart, and Trevor Wolfe, Lefors.

Seven other trainees are to be approved, to fill Tech's quota of 40.

Changes in terms of which the college has been notified include Civil Aeronautics authority to Civil Aeronautics administration and director of civilian pilot training to coordinator of civil pilot training.

Tech is not to take part this fall in an advanced course.

Logging Contractors Enjoined By Decree

DALLAS, Oct. 4. (UP) — G. C. Street, jr., regional director for the wage and hour division of the department of labor, announced today that a consent decree, enjoining 116 logging contractors and sawmill operators in Arkansas from future violations of the Fair Labor Standards act, had just been issued.

The decree was issued today by U. S. District Judge Harry J. Lemley at Texarkana, Ark., Street said.

Complaints against the 116 defendants were based on inspections made in the national drive for wage and hour law compliance in the lumber industry.

By this injunction, Street said, several hundred employes of the 116 defendants in business in the southern and western parts of Arkansas, will hereafter receive a minimum wage of 30 cents an hour and time and a half for overtime above 42 hours a week now and 40 hours weekly after October 24. No restriction of back pay was involved.

Triple Alliance Is Talked By Cabinet

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4. (AP)—The administration's concern over the disturbed Far East was emphasized today by a cabinet session of more than two and a half hours, said to have been devoted mainly to consideration of Japan's new line-up with the Axis powers.

Cabinet members were reticent upon leaving the White House but it was made clear that international conditions were discussed, with particular reference to the Pacific.

The cabinet meeting, one of the longest of the Roosevelt administration, increased speculation on the possibility of additional American moves in the Pacific to reinforce the policy of the status quo.

Cuba is encouraging the return of many former residents who became Spanish Civil War refugees.

Here 'n There At The Fair

Thursday night's rain at the fair grounds was only enough to settle the dust. Only in low places was there enough water left Friday morning to show. By mid-morning the mud had dried up and walking was as usual, without mud on the feet.

Cleaning up after crowds have scattered hundreds of pounds of paper and debris, is a job for the city street cleaning department. One man is kept busy all day picking up paper and placing it in barrels. A crew with a wagon arrives at 7 o'clock each morning to haul away the debris.

Largest electric light globe in town is on display in the Texas-New Mexico Utilities Co. booth. It is a 10,000 watt globe, 14 7-8 inches in diameter and is used for motion picture work and for flood lights. The same exhibit also has the smallest light, a "grain of wheat size," used in delicate surgical work, including operations on the brain.

Several sows have farrowed litters of pigs during the fair. One of the Lillard Chester White sows had seven; in the Sand Springs farms exhibit a Duroc-Jersey sow farrowed. The Bauer Bros., had several sows with litters to farrow before coming here. "A sow with a litter of pigs, especially at feeding time, attracts more attention than a grand champion," said Harold Bauer.

The emergency hospital, in the merchant's building, has had but little business so far. Chiefly the troubles have been confined to cut fingers and minor abrasions. There have been a few other injuries but none requiring other than emergency treatment. Nurses from the three hospitals, Lubbock sanitarium, West Texas hospital and St. Mary's hospital have worked in relays, with ambulance service made available by W. W. Rix, Bryan McDonald and A. C. Sanders. The hospital has been open during all hours the fair is open.

Carnival operators Friday morning took advantage of the slack time to sleep a little late and to open their booths rather late. Heavy business Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, especially at night, made most of the employes tired.

Varied prices for soft drinks and coffee are reported. One stand that serves its coffee in paper cups, to save dish washing, charged 10 cents a cup and at least one customer walked off without paying for or drinking the order. Most stands have been charging five cents for coffee and some of the cafes charge 10 cents for soft drinks.

Seagraves Plans Big Celebration

(Special To The Avalanche)

SEAGRAVES, Oct. 4—Seagraves will be host to hundreds of West Texans Thursday night, Oct. 31, in a gala Hallowe'en celebration that promises to outstrip any celebration in magnitude that has ever been held in this section.

Headlining the city-wide program will be the appearance of Herbie Kay and his band, known to radio listeners from coast to coast, who will play for the Hallowe'en dance which will climax the evening's fun and entertainment.

Plan Colorful Street Festival

Plans are rapidly being completed through the Seagraves Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the event, for a colorful street festival, square dancing, bands, costume prizes, window displays and other activities which will be a prelude to the feature of the celebration — the Herbie Kay dance.

Tentative plans at this time call for a broadcast over the Texas State Network, through station KFYO in Lubbock, of a portion of the celebration.

To Rope Off Streets

Ticket sales will be handled by the chamber of commerce through committees which have already been appointed and who are at work laying plans for the Oct. 31 observance.

Permission has been granted by the city to rope off downtown streets for a celebration and complete cooperation of city officials has been promised.

Enthusiasm among residents of Seagraves and surrounding towns is rapidly mounting and a huge crowd is expected.

Congress Expected To Recess Tuesday

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4. (UP) — Speaker Sam Rayburn said today he expected Congress to recess next Tuesday for several weeks, probably until Nov. 18.

"I think it can be said also," he said, "that the president has nothing more to submit to Congress at this time on national defense."

Rayburn and other leaders had conferred with Mr. Roosevelt earlier in the day.

He said he did not favor three-day recesses. Democratic leaders, it was learned, feel that three-day recesses would open the floodgates to oratory and possibly harm the party and national unity.

Congress had its slate nearly clean today and attention centered on renewed inquiries by the Dies committee and by the committee investigating the National Labor Relations board.

Cuba called a United States expert to help stop its grippe epidemic.

State Rests In Oil Litigation

DALLAS, Oct. 4. (AP) — The state rested its case today in its suit against 13 oil companies to force them to cease emptying salt water into East Texas streams, making water supplies for cities unfit for use, killing fish and rendering it unsuitable for irrigation.

The suit was brought by Attorney Generaid Gerald Mann originally against 155 oil companies, all but 13 of which have agreed to take steps to stop pollution.

The oil companies began their defense, contending that none of the salt water pumped from their wells ever reach the Neches river or any other streams to cause pollution. Two witnesses were examined.

Gordon Simpson, attorney for the John R. Merrick Co., presented John Pearey, lease switcher for the company, who said the wells on the lease caused no pollution.

M. H. Barton, attorney for the McMurray company, examined E. C. Reneau, caretaker, who gave similar testimony.

Mrs. Taylor Lectures Here

Although cancer can be controlled and in its earlier forms can be completely cured, the death rate in the United States annually is higher than the number of American soldiers who died overseas during the World war, Mrs. Volney Taylor of Brownsville, state commander of the American Society for Cancer Control, told an audience of Lubbock women Friday night in the Hilton hotel ballroom. She listed needs of an army of women educated to objectives set forth by the society.

The public must be aroused to the symptoms of the disease and to the knowledge that it is curable, Mrs. Taylor said. This education can come about through newspapers, the radio, magazines, the spoken word and through films, she said.

Go To Amarillo

Other objectives set forth by state leaders are establishment of free diagnostic clinics and of a cancer mobile operated by doctors trained to care for tumor and cancer cases. And who provides financial means for such treatment? Mrs. Taylor hopes the women of Texas will secure from the state Legislature appropriations of funds to care for indigent cases, to be operated on plans carried out in hospitalization for crippled children cases. Funds from memberships of a dollar go toward printing literature and other expenses in the education drive, she said.

Mrs. Taylor was introduced by Mrs. J. W. Walker of Plainview, a state deputy in the cancer control army. They are in Amarillo today to address a luncheon meeting of Panhandle women.

28th Night Of Raids

four-engined super-bomber dived from the clouds and dropped nine great bombs. They wounded nine persons.

In the dawn, the German coastal guns on the French shore opened up through the murk against a British convoy, creeping around the Cap Gris Nez promontory, tugging its own barrage balloons. Six rounds roared but the convoy kept to its course.

Twice before dusk the sirens howled in London. Bombs fell in the central, northern and eastern parts of the city, demolishing buildings and houses and burying the occupants, living and dead.

Then, earlier than usual, the Nazis came back for their nightly assault on the city.

King Is Missed

During one daylight raid, King George himself was in central and east London, inspecting air raid shelters with the new "shelter dictator," Admiral Sir Edward Evans. Guns rolled in the distance, but no bombs fell near the king.

For the king it was a cross-section view of life underground in the world's greatest city.

Visiting one east-end rest and feeding center, he told an 85-year-old refugee:

"I think you're all so wonderful—the way you carry on in spite of it all."

Victims Re-Housed

The English turned their scorn upon the meeting of the Axis dictators in the Brenner Pass.

They likened it to a consultation between two doctors over a patient who has taken a turn for the worse.

There were cheering words for those who are fighting the battle of England, factory workers and home folks alike.

Herbert Morrison, the new minister of home security, told the factory workers they had already "helped to save our country."

Henry Willing, London's housing commissioner, announced, "London has won its battle" and declared that those made homeless by bombs "practically all have been rehoused."

Lynn Herds Said Free From Tuberculosis

(By Staff Correspondent)

TAHOKA, Oct. 4—Lynn county dairy herds are free from tuberculosis according to a report to County Farm Agent Don E. Turner by a veterinarian of the U. S. D. A., following an inspection of 1,500 head.

The veterinarian said he had not had a single reactor from his tests.

However, an 8 per cent of reactors to tests for Bangs disease or contagious abortion, was reported by another veterinarian, of the U. S. D. A. Approximately 1,500 head of dairy cattle were examined.

Representatives of high schools in West Texas and eastern New Mexico that publish high school newspapers are to attend.

The executive committee of the Alumni and Ex-Students association of Texas Technological college is to meet at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the alumni office. Additional plans for homecoming, to be observed Nov. 16, are to be made.

Armour & Co., salesmen of this section are to meet tonight in Hilton hotel for a luncheon and discussion. Ray Johnson is to be in charge.

Special meeting of the Slaton lodge of Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship clerks of Slaton division of the Santa Fe is to be held Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock in Hilton hotel. Clay Ross of Lubbock is president.

Regular meeting of Lubbock Bar association is to be at noon today in Lubbock hotel. Vaughn Wilson is chairman and he is to preside.

After 10 days' active duty at Fort Sam Houston, Dr. Clyde F. Elkins of Lubbock has returned. He is in the medical reserve.

Fourth prize in a national glove designing contest was won by Miss Cantrell of Plainview, 1940 engineering graduate of Texas Technological college.

J. P. Posey and Grady Harriot, sheriff's deputies, arrested Burnie Spencer Friday afternoon when he visited a downtown clothing store. Spencer was charged earlier this week with forgery.

O. T. Lindsey, police patrolman, Friday night arrested a woman fortune teller on grounds of the Panhandle-South Plains fair and placed her in county jail as a suspect in theft of a $56 watch from a young Slaton man. The woman refused to give officers her name. The watch was stolen from the man's pocket, he told officials, when he was in a tent used by the woman for fortune telling.

Fine of $1 and costs, totaling $23.40, was paid by Jack Davis, about 35, Friday after he pleaded guilty to violation of the check law in county court. Judge J. J. Dillard pronounced the sentence.

Dr. G. H. Richter, associate professor of chemistry at Rice institute in Houston, visited the chemistry department at Texas Technological college Friday as inspector for the American Chemical society. Twelve members of the chemistry faculty, with Dr. Richter and President Clifford B. Jones as honor guests afterwards attended a dinner at the Lubbock hotel.

Fair Closes Today

officer, announced that camp will be broken immediately after the noon-day meal has been prepared, and that the 20 motor vehicles with the unit will be assembled on the race track in front of the grandstand.

At 2 o'clock the bandsmen and infantrymen will march on the field. Modern weapons will be demonstrated. Blank shells will be fired in a 75 millimeter field piece—a small cannon. Then officers and enlisted men will climb aboard their trucks and depart. They are to camp tonight in San Angelo, and will reach their station in Fort Sam Houston near San Antonio Sunday.

See Livestock Show

On the "must list" this afternoon properly should be inspections of the swine and cattle departments. The exhibits there will be released at 5 p. m., so that they can be loaded for shipment, most of them to the fair next week in Abilene. The cattle and swine are described by fair association officials as the finest ever shown in this part of the Southwest.

Not to be forgotten this afternoon and tonight is the midway of the Max Goodman Wonder Shows. Not until another fair rolls around a year hence will there be opportunity to visit another high class carnival in Lubbock. Probabilities are that the Goodman shows, probably enlarged and improved, will be the 1941 carnival attraction. Fair associaiton officials say they have been pleased by their dealings with Goodman, and Goodman has been deeply impressed with Lubbock.

Attendance Short

Then, of course, there are the other exhibit buildings—agriculture, women's, Boys Scout and merchant's. All are worth while.

Attendance at the fair yesterday totaled 18,056, or 992 short of the figure for the same day last year. Threatening weather during the forenoon did much to discourage day-time attendance, especially by out-of-town people. The night crowd was somewhat larger, perhaps, than that of last year.

Total attendance for the first five days of the fair fell just short of the 100,000-mark. The actual figure was announced as 99,336, comparing with 100,031 the first five days last year.

Most Valuable Bird Arrives In America

It was Quetzal, sacred bird of the Aztecs and Mayans.

Victor von Hagen, Berkley, Calif. naturalist, brought the bird, only one of 10 to survive captivity, back from Guatemala. Cholera killed the others.

National Guard To Practice

Approximately 125 Lubbock National guardsmen will leave here today and tonight to participate in 131st field artillery practice at Matador Sunday.

First contingent from Lubbock will leave about noon, according to announcement. Other guardsmen will leave after the Texas Tech-Loyola football game tonight. Some of those going to Matador this afternoon will return for the football contest.

Col. Thomas A. Bay of Plainview is regimental commander. Lieut. Col. Harold H. Griffith and Maj. John L. Walton, both of Lubbock, will witness the practice.

Piemons In Charge

In charge of the service battery is Capt. Elmore Piemons. Lt. Lemuel E. Boren is acting in command of battery C in absence of Capt. Huddleston H. Wright.

Captain Wright and Lt. John Kershner have been in Fort Sill, Okla., since Sept. 9 and will remain there three months for a course of instruction.

Joining Lubbock guardsmen at Matador will be contingents from Amarillo and Plainview. Approximately 250 men will participate in the practice on the Echols ranch near Matador.

Finland Faces Severe Winter

BY HUBERT UEXKULL
United Press Staff Correspondent

HELSINKI, Oct. 4. — Finland faced fast-approaching winter today with her supplies of coal, gasoline, coffee and tea almost gone, butter and sugar scarce, and 400,000 refugees from the areas seized by Russia without work.

Unemployment will increase when winter forces the closing of important mills and brings the seasonal slump in the lumber industry.

Pressing was the problem of resettling about 40,000 farm families moved from the area ceded to Russia last March.

Payments Not Large

Relief payments to the unemployed and homeless have not been large, and serious dissatisfaction has resulted, but the payments have proved a serious drain on government finances.

The government had forced through parliament a colonization bill, a war loss compensation bill, and a property tax bill.

The colonization scheme creates thousands of small farms on previously uncultivated land of large estates, which the government is purchasing.

Resettlement Begun

Resettlement under this program has begun, but too late for the families to produce crops. In many cases, houses for them are not ready. And only part of the refugees can be resettled in this way, since there is not enough arable land. The remainder must be absorbed into industry.

Unemployment was eased during the summer by a large program of wood-cutting to provide fuel for the winter, coal being unobtainable. Seasonal farm work and road construction also cared for many. The relatively large army maintained since the war provided for thousands more.

Reconstruction of destroyed houses, and the building of farm houses for the refugees is being held up by a shortage of such building materials as nails, concrete and iron.

Grady's calf is expected to weigh 960 pounds when it arrives in Dallas and Jiggs' calf 940 pounds, according to Ben J. Baskin, county farm agent.

Three other Dawson county boys are to attend the Dallas fair's club encampment.

CALVES BEING FED

TAHOKA, Oct. 4.—Eight calves are being fed for spring live stock shows by 4-H club boys, Don F. Turner, county farm agent, reports.

Tahoka Rotary club has planned to underwrite the feeding of 25 more calves, provided they can be secured. Price of calves has discouraged several boys in attempting to secure them, as present prices are 9.5 to 10.5 cents pound.

Bund Members Trained For Day When Hitler Will Order Revolt In U. S.

False Evidence Given By Kuhn

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4. (U.P.) — Richard Werner, 37-year-old New York chef and former member of the German-American bund, today told a Dies subcommittee he was given military training in the bund for "a certain day" when Adolf Hitler would give the word for the U. S. government to be overthrown.

"We were told by our leaders we must be prepared for a certain day, and know what to do," he said. The day was to be when the bund would "overthrow this government and establish a government like they have in Germany."

Werner said Fritz Kuhn, imprisoned bund leader, testified falsely when he told the Dies committee that only native-born German-Americans could belong to the bund.

He said 25 per cent of the bund, "O. D." men—storm troopers, to which he belonged—were aliens. He said the figure "might even be higher" in the entire bund membership.

He said the bundsmen were trained regularly in street fighting, in ju-jitsu, and held extensive rifle practice at Camp Siegfried, Long Island. He related that night patrol training was conducted on "Flushing Meadows," closely simulating actual warfare.

Second In Command

He said that Hans Tissen, "second in command of the O. D. and an alien," was in the New York National Guard. A man named Sotzek, Werner said, commands the bund storm troopers.

Others named as alien bundsmen by Werner included Max Rapp, George Frank, Werner Ullrich, Wilhelm Schlegel and Ado Vohlken.

He said he heard a Herman Schwartzman assert at a meeting that "the time will come when blood will flow in the streets of the United States."

They talked, he said, of going to Wall street to "get the big bankers." Asked what was to be done with the bankers, he replied, "oh, hang 'em up on the next tree." He said the names of J. P. Morgan, and the firm of Kuhn & Loeb were among those discussed at the meeting.

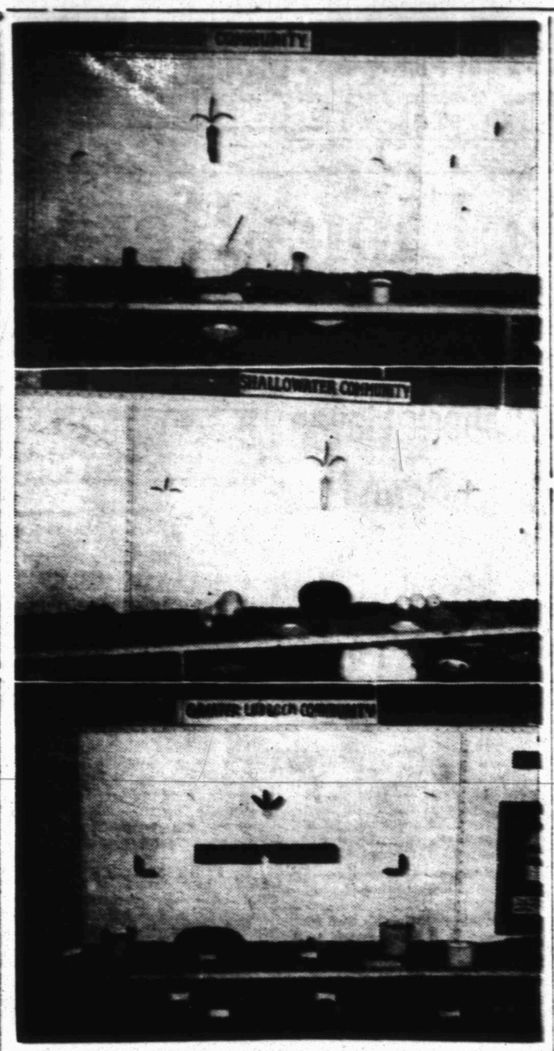

Werner said he joined the bund in June, 1938, and left it in February, 1940.

Speaking in a low voice with a thick accent, he said he was born in Germany in 1903, was educated in German public schools and four years in a German military school at Hanover.

He entered the U. S. in 1926, legally, returned once to Germany in 1927. Werner testified he had not become naturalized.

LAKE ARROWHEAD, Cal. (U.P.)—Miss Ethel-Mary Hamilton, Briarcliff Junior College graduate, and Harold Spurrier Anderson, Jr., Stanford University man, had their engagement announced with a flourish. At the home of the bride's mother here, 40 guests watched an airplane sky writer link their initials in the sky and encircle them with a heart.

Clubs Are Active In Dawson Communities

(By Staff Correspondent)

LAMESA, Oct. 4.—Seventy nine Dawson county boys belong to seven 4-H clubs this year, according to Ben J. Baskin, county farm agent, who supervises the work.

Eleven boys are feeding 17 calves now and 27 more calves are to be purchased this fall for dry lot feeding. Five boys are feeding 20 lambs; 10 are feeding 17 barrows and three boys have registered Jersey heifers they are feeding.

Clubs are located at Harmony, Woody, Hancock, Key, Union, Wells and McCarty.

Seven-Mile Paving For Lamesa, Plan

(By Staff Correspondent)

LAMESA, Oct. 4.—With completion of surfacing of 26 blocks of city streets recently and the surfacing of 13 more by mid-October, the city of Lamesa will have approximately seven miles of all-weather streets.

Paving includes state highways through the town, the city having widened several blocks to full width, with curb and gutter. Before the program, with Works Projects administration participating, the city had only a few paved streets in the downtown section and two streets leading west to the city school plant.

New Hudson Manager Here

Boyd G. Worthington is general manager of Southwest Sales company at 1402 Avenue J, announced as dealer for Hudson automobiles here.

Worthington has been a Hudson dealer in Plainview a number of years. He now has the agency for the Holland haybaler for the southern half of the U. S.

E. W. Carr is general sales manager for the company; H. A. Sneed salesman; Susie Mae Laid secretary and bookkeeper and Garland Wilson, service manager, and Oscar Ragland and Gilbert Hillis, mechanics.

A formal opening and "housewarming" celebration to show the new 1941 Hudson cars is planned for this week-end by the company.

"We are proud of the service facilities we can offer all motorists and Hudson owners in particular," Worthington declared, "and I hope we will have the opportunity of greeting old friends and new at our housewarming."

Complete Display Of New Hudsons

"Three new lines of 1941 Hudson cars featuring a brand new style achievement called 'Symphonic Styling,' striking new body designs, longer wheelbases and a host of new features, will be on display at our opening," Worthington declared.

"Hailed by stylists as a sensational advance, particularly in the lowest price field, Symphonic Styling not only embodies a new lower, longer, more flowing exterior body design, but also makes available at no extra cost a wide selection of interior color combinations that harmonize with exterior body colors," Worthington said in describing the new Hudson cars.

"Symphonic Styling offers, for the first time in a full line of motor cars in standard production, complete harmony between the interior shades of upholstery and trim and the exterior body colors. Basically, the new 1941 Hudson interiors are styled in three color combinations, grey, green and tan—the one included in any car being determined by the exterior color.

New Model Is Offered

"The ensemble effect achieved by Symphonic Styling is entirely new in motor cars and is an application of the same harmonious color trends observed in well-planned home furnishings, ensembles in women's apparel, and the like.

"In the lowest price field for 19 Hudson offers a new 92-horsepower Hudson Six, on a wheelbase increased to 116 inches, three inches longer than previously, with a longer, lower body of new design, increased performance and an extensive list of refinements and improvements. A still lower priced model, the Hudson Six Traveler, with the same power and wheelbase, completes the company's entries in the lowest price ranges.

"Just above this lowest priced line is a new 102-horsepower Hudson Super-Six, with a wheelbase increased to 121 inches and a further group of 1941 advancements.

"An entirely new series of models, known as the Hudson Commodore Series and presented as 'America's Lowest Price Fine Cars,' rounds out the 1941 line. Headline offerings in this group are the new 128-horsepower Hudson Commodore Eight, mounted on 121-inch wheelbase, and its companion car, the Hudson Commodore Six, of 102-horsepower, which is identical in practically every respect except power plant. In this series the new Commodore Eight Custom Coupe, on 121-inch wheelbase, and a new Commodore Custom Sedan, on 128-inch wheelbase, are presented as the most luxurious cars Hudson has ever built.

Striking New Body Lines

"All the new 1941 Hudsons are lower, longer and more graceful in 'silhouette.' Particularly striking in the new body styling is the sweep of the new rear deck design with the accompanying new design of rear quarter windows and roof panel.

"This new body styling, in combination with a 2-inch reduction in overall body height and an increase in body length of 5½ inches, enhances the smooth harmonious flow of body lines and imparts to the car a sense of motion and fleetness. Scores of refinements in symmetry and ornamentation appear on all models."

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Japan Is Said Much Overrated

NEW YORK, Oct. 4. (U.P.)—Cornelius V. Starr, publisher of the Shanghai Evening Post and Mercury, characterized Japan today as "the most overrated power on earth" and called on the United States to block Japan's aggression, by force if necessary.

"Regardless of her bombast, Japan will under no circumstances risk actual war with America," Starr said in an interview with the New York World-Telegram. Japan's "own shrewd leaders" are fully cognizant of the real weakness of the nation, he said.

Starr was one of six Americans ordered deported last year from Shanghai by the Japanese-dominated Wang Ching-Wei regime. He said he ignored the order and left Shanghai on his own schedule, shopping off in Japan on his way here.

"We shall not have to fight," he said, "if Japan is convinced that we are entirely determined and that further aggression means war. A common impression of Japan's strength is a result of her propaganda. . . .

"Japan has done an excellent job of modernizing and developing a small country but she has never approached the strength of a great power."

Tientsin, name of the Chinese treaty-port so much in the news, means "Ford of Heaven."

Red Raiders Favored To Take Loyola Lions Here Tonight

First Home Tilt Will Start At 8:30 O'Clock

By JAY HARRIS
Avalanche Sports Writer

Plaitting "eleventh hour" strategy into their Lion taming whip Texas Tech's almost cocky Red Raiders cavorted in a surprise secret session last night at Tech Stadium—setting for tonight's '40 college pigskin premiere featuring the Crimsons and Loyola of Los Angeles.

Opening whistle will shrill in the ears of an expected throng of 6,000 persons at 8:30 o'clock. The attendance will be augmented by Boy Scout day.

The promising contest will toss the two elevens into the same cage for the fourth time—and will mark the Scarlet squad's attempt for its first triumph over the West Coast Jungle Kings, three times victors on their own prowling grounds.

Lions Arrive Early

So, it will be with revenge rankling in their minds that Coaches Pete Cawthon and "Dutchy" Smith send their speediest scrappers in a decade onto the Tech turf for the city's first glimpse of the boys who will carry the Scarlet and Black through nine more games after tonight.

Arrival of copious and evidently quite revealing scouting notes on Coach Marty Brill's Lions brought about the extra workout last night. The "info" in the flesh will arrive early today via train.

Tech Is Favored

With a full force to send on the field, with ample reserves at a moment's notice and with a week's corrective drills under their helmets, during which they looked "like a million dollars" the Raiders must be rated at least a touchdown better club than the Loyolans, who have enjoyed two weeks uninterrupted work since inaugurating their campaign two weeks ago with a 12 to 0 decision over Redlands college.

Big guns expected to explode in the Raider attack are Walter "Jumbo" Webster, who wears the flitting 55, squirms through opposition lines like a smoke wraith and shags C. L. Storrs' aerial darts with stunning accuracy. It is this combination plus the galloping gains of Right Half Milton Hill and the booming blocking and effective "jitterbug" running of Quarterback and Co-Captain Ty Bain that sends the spectators' to the stadium expecting a Tech triumph.

Weights Practically Even

In the lineup again will be the veteran Prince Scott, 183-pounds of danger at a right terminal post. His number is 84. Watch for it.

Otherwise, there's no surprising changes to be found in the Tech forward wall, 223-pound Rafe Nabors holding down the pivot post with payoff results.

Shoving both teams on the scales it is noted that there is an uncanny equal division of weights, perhaps more even than has been noted in any college contest here in several seasons. Comparing the lines: Tech averages 197 6-7 pounds per man; Loyola averages 197 1-7 pounds per man. Stacking up the ball toting departments: the Raiders average 179 3-4 pounds per man; the Lions average 180 pounds to the man. So, there's no discrimination in that respect.

Loyola Line Impressive

Possibly feuding with the 190-pound Webster, 162-pound Hill, 189-pound Storrs and 178-pound Bain will be Gene "Flash" Grady. Loyola's 165 pounds of lightning at a left halfback post and two 186-pound scoring threats—Right Half Flaherty and Fullback Shaw.

Loyola line stalwarts are stronger at tackles, but slightly indifferent on the wings. Captain Bob Hayes, the youthful but huge right tackle has a counterpart in Joe Miksis on the left side of the line. Reserve power lists Carroll Vogelaar and Frank Hrabetin, both over 220 pounds. And that's not all in case the Raiders are interested.

And last night's somewhat unusual session indicates the Scarlet scourge isn't going to sleep with a victory hungry Lion in the city.

Littlefield Measures Morton High, 27 To 0

LITTLEFIELD, Oct. 4. (Special)—Littlefield High tonight opened its 1940 District 3-A campaign with a rush, swamping Morton under a 27 to 0 touchdown parade.

Co-Captains Babe Hammons and Roy Hutson paced the attack that netted the winners their first score in the second stanza when the latter raced 60-yards on a punt return. Just as the first half gun sounded, Ferrell Compton, fullback, plunged five yards to climax a long drive for the second tally. He added the third tally in the third from the same distance following a 15-yard aerial from Hammons to End Donald James.

Final tally came in the fourth, Compton snagging Hammon's short heave. Littlefield made six first downs and 121 yards rushing to Morton's four first and 38 yards rushing. James failed to kick the fourth conversion after succeeding on the first three.

Westerners Defeat Vernon, 13-7, For Year's Fourth Straight

Levelland Nips Post; Cowhands Win

By JOE PIERCE

POST, Oct. 4. — Levelland's Lobos ripped to a first-quarter touchdown, then withstood the assault of Post's Antelopes for three periods tonight to gain a 6 to 0 victory, their fourth of the season and their second Conference 5-A victory.

After the initial exchange of punts, Levelland took the ball on their own 40-yard line and drove uninterruptedly to a touchdown. Quarterback Billie Green, a slashing, ripping type of runner, advanced the ball most of the way and carried across for the score from the three-yard line.

Post Threatens

Thereafter the game was played mostly in midfield, except briefly in the fourth quarter when Post threatened to tie the contest.

The game was as close—or closer—as the score would indicate. Each team made eight first downs; Levelland led in yards running, 127 to 118, while Post led in passing yardage, 67 to none.

Everybody Stars

As for stars, the game was full of them. There was little Charley Luttrell, who quarterbacks for the Antelopes, and who almost ran the Lobos crazy with his never-say-die line sweeps. There was P. I. (Popeye) Arrington of the Levellands, who was the outstanding linesman of the night until they lugged him off the field early in the fourth quarter.

And there was Delmo Gossett, who almost gave the Levelland rooters heart failure in the fourth quarter when he took a short shovel pass from Luttrell on the Levelland 40 and zigzagged his way to the Levelland 14. Also for the Antelopes, we must mention big Ralph Dean, little A. C. Surman and Winfred Carpenter. These three were responsible for a goodly part of the effective Antelope defense play, especially Dean, who established himself as a likely candidate for all-district fullback honors with some terrific linebacking and "get-out-of-the-way-here-I-come" line plunges.

The starting lineups: Levelland—Schoenrock and McDermitt, ends; Taylor and Wright, tackles; Arrington and Kempson, guards; Tomles, center; Wiley, Hood, Green and Walker, backs.

Post — Carpenter and Harrison, ends; Chaffin and Hudman, tackles; Childs and Williams, guards; Surman, center; Luttrell, Carpenter, Gossett and Dean, backs.

The Summary—	Post	Levelland
First downs	8	8
Yards gained running	118	127
Yards gained passing	67	0
Yards lost running	18	10
Passes completed	4	0
Passes attempted	9	2

Brownfield Rolls Over Monahans Hi, 20-13

MONOHANS, Oct. 4. (Special)—Brownfield's Cubs took the aerial route to stay on the undefeated list by winning from Monahans 20 to 13 here tonight.

The Cubs won their fourth successive victory by scoring on one long pass and two plunges after passes had set the ball up to scoring territory.

Brownfield opens its conference season at home next Friday night against Levelland. Both teams are undefeated.

Ralls Is 7-0 Victor Over Antelope Team

RALLS, Oct. 4. (Special)—An off-tackle plunge for three yards by Gene Smith, Jackrabbit tailback, tonight climaxed a long downfield march and gave Ralls a 7 to 0 decision over Abernathy.

Outstanding for the locals were Tackle Elmo Crump and End Charley Cowley while Hood, tackle, and Johnston, end, starred for the Antelopes. Ralls chalked up 15 first downs to one for Abernathy.

Lamesa Loses League Game To Odessa, 0-22

ODESSA, Oct. 4. (Special) — Odessa's Broncos opened the 3-AA conference schedule here tonight by trouncing Lamesa's Golden Tornado, 22 to 0. It was also the first district game for Lamesa.

Odessa opened the scoring in the second period when Hogan spotted Don Henderson with a 30-yard across-the-goal pass. Meadows kicked point. Meadows scored from the three in the third after Christean had run for 30 to set up the score.

Hogan returned an intercepted pass 35 yards and Meadows converted. Later the Broncos added two points when Henderson and Thomas threw Foy Futrell for a safety.

Zivic Annexes Title!

NEW YORK, Oct. 5. (AP) — Fritzie Zivic of Pittsburgh won the world's welterweight championship tonight by outpointing the game little negro, Henry Armstrong, in a 15-round thriller before a screaming crowd of about 11,000 fan in Madison Square Garden. Zivic weighed 145½; Armstrong 142.

Christians Are Slight Favorites In Cowtown

By The Associated Press

FORT WORTH, Oct. 4.—Grounded for the first time in years, Texas Christian and Arkansas, the same teams who once pitted Slingin' Sam Baugh and Jack Robbins in a dizzy duel that netted 71 forward passes, tangle here tomorrow with old-fashioned ball carriers the major weapons.

There will be passing, but not the fabulous flinging that once identified both teams.

The records reveal that of the 12 touchdowns both clubs hurried across in opening games last week—six apiece—only one went through the air. Texas Christian accounted for that one.

But the Christians could change their battle plans if Kyle Gillespie, the lad with the misbehaving knee, gets into the game. His forced absence created a situation that brought out a batch of running talent in last week's starter against Centenary.

Frog Reserve Strong

Slight odds favored TCU, mainly because of better reserve talent. Coach Dutch Meyer learned from last week's experience that he can easily throw units into the game. As a matter of fact, he was a little more impressed with his erstwhile second string than with the starting eleven.

The Christian backfield was expected to be Dean Bagley, stumpy sophopore scooter, tailback; Nolan Sparks, halfback; Logan Ware, halfback and Frank Kring, fullback.

Arkansas brings in a lad named Schmidt who tore holes in the Central Oklahoma wall last week, going through 15 times for 105 yards—or an average of seven yards per carry. To prance with him is Aubrey Neal, a junior who owns a 5.20 yard average after nine carries last Saturday.

Aggies Play Fearless Tulsa Machine Today

By The Associated Press

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 4.—Mighty Texas A. & M. college's grid aggregation and fearless Tulsa university's Golden Hurricane polished off attack and defense schemes in light workouts here today preparatory to tomorrow's clash at 2:30 p. m.

Alamo stadium was expected to be packed for the appearance in San Antonio, for the first time in a number of years, of a Southwest conference team.

Aggies In Top Form

The power-driven Aggies apparently were close to top form, All-American Fullback John Kimbrough, Marshall Robnette, Ernie Pannell, Jim Thompson, et al, romping through signal drills in earnest fashion, bent on forestalling any possible upset to plans of another undefeated season.

The courageous Tulsa squad of 42, whose coach, Chet Benefiel, expressed no fear of devastating Aggie running attack but worried over possible aerial offensives, listed but few injuries to first stringers.

Tulsa Line Experienced

Boasting a veteran line, the Hurricane depended on its triple-threat halfback, Glenn Dobbs and N. A. Keithley, aided by the blocking of Quarterback Lee Gentry, attack spearhead, and Fullback Ray Muchowich, for ground-gaining efforts.

Fans Get First Look At Rice Owls Today

HOUSTON, Oct. 4. (AP) — Quiet Jess Neely, the sage of Smyrna, Tenn., undrapes the 1940 Rice Owls tomorrow night in a collision with the Centenary gentlemen, who have put the hex on many a Southwest conference team.

This season, however, Centenary occupies the spot reserved for "breathers"—except, perhaps, in the opinion of Coach Neely.

North Texas Teachers Play Mustangs Today

DALLAS, Oct. 4. (AP)—The North Texas State Teachers come here tomorrow for a crack at mighty Southern Methodist with something besides the law of averages on their side.

The Eagles have gone against Southwest conference football competition 37 times throughout the years and only twice have they managed to come through — 14-6 over Texas Christian in 1919 and 7-0 over S.M.U. in 1933.

Once Jack Sisco's boys battled Southern Methodist to a scoreless deadlock.

Otherwise it's been lean pickings for the Teachers. They have scored only 99 points against 1,067 for the Southwest loop's four members they have played: Baylor, Texas A. and M., S.M.U. and T.C.U.

But last week the Eagles came mighty close to breaking the drouth as they scared the daylights out of the Baylor Bears with a last quarter rally that fell but one touchdown short. Baylor won 27-20.

Crowell 13-6 Winner Over Floydada High

FLOYDADA, Oct. 4. (Special) — Quarterback Olds powerhoused his way to a pair of touchdowns behind a charging Crowell line here tonight, wearing down a strong Floydada eleven, 13 to 6.

First score came in the opening period, an off tackle smash netting a needed yard. Hudgeons converting. In the third, Olds traveled a short distance over after an 80-yard drive for the final counter. Golightly scored for Floydada in the second.

Floydada starters: Patterson, Foster, Rushing and Golightly, backfielders; Walls, Grigg, ends; Goen, D. Patterson, tackles; Crawford, Fancer, guards; Turner, center.

Lubbock Eleven Bogs Down Near Paydirt Again

By COLLIER PARRIS
Avalanche Sports Editor

VERNON, Oct. 4—The Lubbock Westerners came through in the clutch tonight, just like the Detroit Tigers and scored a 13 to 7 victory over the Vernon Lions for their fourth straight triumph of the season.

It was a rip-snorting game, full of hard tackles and pile-driving blocks, and just how the players of both sides came through the struggle will be written later on the doctor's report. No one appeared grievously injured, however, which is something of a miracle in itself.

Westerners Show Class

The Westerners showed a lot of class in advancing the ball through the middle of the field, and should have scored several more touchdowns. Bob McKinnon, the burly fullback who lived to emerge as individual hero of the contest, had an attack of fumblitis on about five occasions within striking distance of the goal, and it wasn't until the second quarter that the Bronc Busters could make their arches pay off.

Late in the first, they advanced the ball to Vernon's 12-yard line on a long pass from McKinnon to Jackson. Leete made it to the 8-yard line on the first play of the second period, and Billy Wright twisted through and over the goal line on the second play. It was called back, however, and Lubbock drew an offside penalty. Jackson ran up to the 3-yard line, and McKinnon barged over for the touchdown. His try for extra point was wide, which is why the Westerners got behind and had to stage a ninth-inning rally to win.

Behind In Third

Vernon scored in the third period on a pass from Kenneth Russell to Emmett Maxon. It was a 20-yard heave, coming on the heels of a pass the officials ruled complete on account of Lubbock interference. Johnnie Davis kicked the extra point to give Vernon its 7 to 6 lead, and that lead looked awfully big for an awfully long time.

Lubbock overcame terrific breaks to score its winning fourth period counter.

A 40-yard pass, McKinnon to Milner Thorne, set up the state champions' winning touchdown attack. Jackson had returned one of Maxon's fine punts 17 yards to the Lubbock 34. McKinnon fired a long aerial over Thorne's head on the first play, then found him on the second try. Thorne was tackled almost immediately. Billy Wright almost came up with another long one, just missing it, but McKinnon heaved again, an

Slaton Gains 7 To 6 Victory Over Roscoe

(Special To The Avalanche)

ROSCOE, Oct. 4.—The Slaton High school Tigers tasted victory tonight for the first time this season, but not until they were apparently licked did they score the touchdown that defeated Roscoe, 7 to 6.

Elzo Collier, stalwart fullback of Coach Stump Hamilton's crew, dashed over the homelings for 14 yards and the all-important marker with three minutes play remaining. He scooted through the line for the extra point.

Roscoe drew first blood in the opening period, holding the margin three quarters.

Slaton twice has been defeated this year.

Matador Takes 20-7 Tilt Over Crosbyton

MATADOR, Oct. 4. (Special) — Crosbyton's Chiefs went down to a 20 to 7 licking at the hands of Matador's Matadors here this afternoon in the two teams' first District 4-A conference clash.

First counter for the winners came in the early minutes of the opening quarter, Mutt Berryman, fullback, plunging three years. Conversion failed. Later in the same stanza, Bill Tunnell snared Quarterback Nelson's pass for a 30-yard aerial gain and the second Matador touchdown, Berryman kicking goal.

In the third period, Johnny Allsup got loose after a short pass to gallop 15 yards to paydirt, the kick for point being blocked but Tunnell grabbing the ball and stepping over. Crosbyton counted in the fourth when Left Half Blackwood climaxed a 45-yard drive with a two-yard plunge.

Plainview Triumphs Over Quanah, 13-6

QUANAH, Oct. 4. (Special) — Scoring touchdowns in the second and third quarters, Plainview's Bulldogs defeated Quanah here tonight, 13 to 6, in a hard fought game.

Mick Mason scored all of Plainview's points. He drove over tackle for 11 yards early in the second for the first score, caught a 23-yard touchdown pass from Hoefer midway the third for the second, and added the point from placement.

Higgins, York Blast Homers In Big 7th

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

BRIGGS STADIUM, DETROIT, Oct. 4.—The dynamite in the bats of the Detroit Tigers exploded again today to two reverberating home runs and a total of 13 hits to blast the Cincinnati Reds, 7 to 4, and give the American league champions a two games to one advantage in the 1940 World Series.

The explosion, amounting to six hits and four runs in the seventh inning, shattered what had been a peaceful pitching performance by two Tennessee curveballers, Tommy Bridges and Jim Turner, and sent the 52,877 enthusiastic Detroit fans into such ecstasy the game had to be halted several times ot clean up the paper and other debris they showered on the outfield.

Greenberg Starts Explosion

The hits just started popping like a package of Chinese firecrackers—a single by Hank Greenberg, a home run by Rudy York, a single by Bruce Campbell, another homer by Pinky Higgins. Nobody was on and nobody was out when Turner gave up the ghost.

Whitey Moore succeeded in setting down the next two batters, but he, too, gave up a single to Dick Bartell and a double to Barney McCosky and was in desperate straits when Charley Gehringer finally raised a pop foul to end the shooting.

Little Bit Of Both

The contest was a curious mixture of really great pitching and equally emphatic hitting.

For a time it seemed that Turner, a seasoned righthander who won 14 and lost 7 in the national league this year, was going to get the best of the long-hitting cannonaders from the juniors circuit.

The Reds gave him a run in the first inning when Bill Werber hit the first pitch for two bases and poison Ival Goodman singled him home.

Turner faced only ten men in the first three innings, struck out three and once pitched seven successive strikes. He had the Tigers' right-handed power short circuited apparently hopelessly, although he was having some trouble with the portsiders.

Trouble With Lefthanders

The only hit he gave up in the first three innings was a double by the left-handed hitting Campbell after he had fanned Greenberg and York in succession in the second.

Then in the fourth Detroit tied up the score when McCosky and Gehringer, both left-handed batters, led off with singles and McCosky reached home as Greenberg hit into a double play. York hit a wasted single but the Tigers were routed one after another after that until Sandies Blow Capitol Hill Off Field, 46-0!

AMARILLO, Oct. 4. (Special) — Looking for all the world like the ghosts of the champion days of 1934 to '36, the Golden Sandies trampled a rugged and huge Capitol Hill eleven, 46 to 0, here tonight.

With Amarillo's scat backs, M. T. Johnson, Clyde Clark, Boone Baker, and Harold Harlow moving out into the broken field behind waves of vicious blockers, the Sandies simply mowed down the resistance of the Redskins.

Before the game was six minutes old, the Sandies had two touchdowns and for only a couple of minutes in the second half did the starting team play again as a unit.

Duke-Tennessee Classic Highlights Attractive Grid Menu For Nation Today

Sooners, Aggies Meet In Traditional Game

NORMAN, Okla., Oct. 4. (AP) — Oklahoma's great gridiron rivals — the Sooners of the state university and the Cowboys of Oklahoma A. & M.—collide for the 35th time here tomorrow in a non-conference game that may bring an end to a series that is older than the state itself.

Tomorrow's kickoff whistle, sending the foes to battle on Owen field at 2:30 p. m., also will signal a breach of precedent for a game that formerly was played at Stillwater on alternate years.

The two teams clashed on this same turf last year and the Sooners won easily, 41 to 0.

Longhorns And Frogs Favored By Bill Boni

By BILL BONI
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Tomorrow is only the first October Saturday, but it is likely to be peculiarly decisive in the college football season.

Chiefly, it will feature the meeting at Knoxville of Duke and Tennessee, favorites in their respective conferences. The winner is likely to go on to a perfect season.

But as corollarly attractions there are such events as:

The unveiling in the East of Cornell, sectional kingpin last year, and of Princeton, touted as the big Red's main Ivy league threat; of Fordham, expected to battle Boston college for non-Ivy honors in the East; of Northwestern's Bill DeCorrevont, who will make his bow as a seasoned junior against Syracuse:

Irish Inaugurate Season

The Mid-West homecoming of Amos Alonzo Stagg, who brings his college of the Pacific crew into South Bend to open a promising Notre Dame team's campaign; Minnesota's second successive chance to knock off the potential leader of an outside conference, Nebraska; high-geared Ohio State's first Big Ten engagement, with fast but outweighed Purdue;

Opportunities, in Dixie, for Tulane and Louisiana State to bounce back against Auburn and Holy Cross, respectively, from defeats suffered last week;

He Picks Duke

On the West Coast, a tough battle with Oregon State for Southern California's Trojans, hoping to prove that tie with Washington State was all a horrible mistake.

Realizing that even a poor average is better than none at all, this big-game hunter fills both barrels with bird-shot in the hope of hitting something and offers the following predictions (probable attendance in parentheses):

Tennessee-Duke (40,000) why couldn't they have waited until later in the season? . . . But he who hesitates is lost, so—Duke.

And The Frogs

Minnesota-Nebraska (45,000)—The wear and tear in this one should be terrific. We'll take Minnesota.

Cornell-Colgate (16,000)—Mindful of last year's close call, the Ithacans are likely to take no chances. Cornell.

Texas Christian-Arkansas (15,000)—The Southwest race is wide-open, but in this inaugural it should be T.C.U.

Tulane-Auburn (35,000)—Looking for the Green Wave to roll back to victory. Tulane.

Southern California-Oregon State (50,000)—Southern California, but no money-back guarantee.

Syracuse-Northwestern (23,000) — With Don Lawson to help DeCorrevont, Northwestern is our pick.

Ohio State-Purdue (45,000)—Purdue is smaller and faster, which might go anywhere but here. Ohio State.

Indiana-Texas (18,000)—It seems just about time for Dana Bible to have the Longhorns primed. Texas.

Pitt-Missouri (30,000)—The Tiger defense hardly appears rock-ribbed. Cracum to crack 'em for Pitt.

L.S.U. Over Holy Cross

Michigan-Michigan State (60,000)—Already they're talking of over-confidence at Ann Arbor. The Spartans should take care of that, but we don't think they'll whip Harmon and Co. Michigan.

Louisiana State-Holy Cross (30,000)—This business gets no easier. With a blindfold, L.S.U.

Princeton-Vanderbilt (12,000) — Princeton.

California-St. Mary's (40,000) — They say Slip Madigan left behind lots of material. St. Mary's.

Marquette-Wisconsin (30,000) — Marquette, on a hunch.

Here 'n' there elsewhere:

Mid-West — Iowa State over Kansas, Kansas State over Colorado, Oklahoma over Oklahoma Aggies.

Southwest — Southern Methodist over North Texas Teachers.

Detroit Blasts Reds

the big blow-up in the seventh.

During all this time after the faulty first, Bridges was pitching exactly the same kind of ball, cutting the corners inside and out and giving nothing that looked like a good ball.

Ernie Lombardi, the Reds' injured catcher who started the game in a surprise move by Manager Bill McKechnie and played seven innings, led off with a lumbering double in the second inning and Bridges retired the next 12 batters in order.

Late Rally Fizzles

Jim Ripple, who hit a two-run homer yesterday in Cincinnati to spark the Reds to victory, tried to set off another rally by singling off York's glove at the start of the ninth. Pinky Higgins fumbled a bounder by young Bill Baker, who had relieved Lombardi, and little Eddie Joost whacked a single along the ground to center, scoring Ripple and leaving two on base with nobody out.

But Myers whiffed on four pitches and pinch-hitter Lonnie Frey, another Cincinnati cripple, lifted a lazy fly to center. Werber, fighting to the bitter end as usual, singled into short left and Baker beat the throw to the plate, but Mike McCormick fanned and the game was over.

Moore Raked Over, Too

While Turner was the principal victim of the Detroit bombardment, giving up eight of the Tigers' hits before turning the tussle over to Whitey Moore, Joe Beggs also was given a going over by the Tigers.

The former Yankee farmhand reported for duty at the start of the eighth after Moore had been removed for a pinch hitter.

Higgins' Blow Powerful

His first batter was Greenberg, who bombed a tremendous triple against the center field wall 415 feet from the plate. York looked at a third strike, but Campbell singled Greenberg home, took second on Mike McCormick's poor return throw, and scored when Higgins lifted a fly that fell a foot or two inside the right field foul line for a double.

Higgins' homer in the seventh and Greenberg's triple were the two most powerfully hit drives of the game. Pinky sent the ball on a line into the upper deck of the left field stands, 340 feet from home plate.

Thompson To Pitch

Tomorrow McKechnie said he would use young Gene Thompson, a right-hander who has a good fast ball comparable to the offerings that Bucky Walters used in pacifying the Bengals yesterday. This meant that he probably would try again with Paul Derringer on Sunday.

Del Baker, having followed up his plan of using Buck Newsom, Schoolboy Rowe and Bridges in that order, indicated after the game that he might gamble on bespectacled Paul (Dizzy) Trout as a started in the fourth game although he might return to Newsom.

Competition will be open and several shooters from Amarillo, Clovis and Sweetwater have been invited to participate. Officials conducting the event said approximately 75 shooters were expected. The range will be open this afternoon and all Sunday morning for those desiring to practice.

Witt Is Star—
Baylor Drops Denver, 14-7

(By The Associated Press)

DENVER, Oct. 4.—A reserve halfback, Jim Witt of Longview, who was regarded as too injured to play, scored both the touchdowns the Baylor Bears needed to defeat a Denver's stubborn football team 14-7 before 16,000 fans tonight.

The first major Texas team ever to play in the mountain section ran into unexpectedly strong resistance and didn't break through for a score until the end of the first half. Witt, who had an injured leg, replaced the Baylor Star, Jack Wilson, and caught a touchdown pass from Sophomore Bill Coleman.

Westerners Win

this time Wright caught it on the 7-yard line. Bob added the six points, then stepped back and sent the oval through the uprights for the thirteenth point.

Threatened Earlier

Earlier in the fourth period, Lubbock threatened with a drive originating on its own 45 and carrying to the 20. A couple of passes were incomplete, then McKinnon dropped back, flipped a short "Detroit" pass behind the line to Jackson, who scooted nearly 20 yards. The play wasn't planned, being intended for a regulation forward, but big Mac was covered, and got rid of the ball the best way he could. It just happened that Leete was ready to take it.

Tonight's game found Lubbock and Vernon almost in the same boat, with equal aspirations. The Lions had looked good, with three returning lettermen, against Poly of Fort Worth and Pampa, tying the former, beating the latter. After Wichita Falls' defeat by the Masons of Fort Worth, Vernon looked forward to another District 2-AA title. Lubbock, with five lettermen off last year's state championship team and with three victories under its belt, was the betting favorite, even with Vernon folk, and as the game progressed the Westerners became even greater favorites with the Vernon populace. Even when behind, 6 to 7, the Westerners ruled the wagering roost.

Tackling Vicious

They turned in such fine work in mid-field, had tackled so viciously, and McKinnon and Jackson and Wright had run so hard, making yardage every time, that there wasn't much doubt in Vernon's mind as to who would ultimately win.

McKinnon and his crowd came through.

And the hard tackling Westerners were acclaimed by a crowd of 6,000 persons, a couple hundred of them from Lubbock.

Fans Praise Team

When they smooth over the rough spots—and there are several of them yet—the Westerners will be practically obliged to defend their state pennant this December. They were that good tonight, rolling up eight first downs in the first half to none for Vernon and winding up with 13 to 3. They gained 175 yards running and 142 yards passing, which is pretty good in anybody's league. They didn't complete but five passes in 14 attempts, but they'll get over that.

No less than a dozen hardened football fans of this town approached the writer, who "broke in" here, and stipulated that "Lubbock has got it again." It wasn't a disgrace for Vernon to lose the gall game. The "breaks" were all in favor of the Vernons, and Lubbock had enough to make up for them and come out ahead.

The summary:

LUBBOCK		VERNON
13	First downs	3

Cubs Cop 4-0 Victory To Even City Series

CHICAGO, Oct. 4. (AP) — Big Bill Lee, rising from the depths of his poorest National league season, held the White Sox to five hits as the Cubs pounded out a 4 to 0 victory in the fourth game of the Chicago city series. Each team now has two games.

A crowd of only 4,789 saw the Cubs batter Johnny Rigney for 11 hits in eight innings and Clint Brown for two more bingles in the ninth. Luke Appling, Sox shortstop, also was a big help to the National leaguers, making three errors which figured in the scoring.

The fifth game will be played Saturday night with Claude Passeau of the Cubs opposing Bill Dietrich.

COOPER 14; MEADOW 6

Coach Fred Rich's Cooper High machine rolled to a 14 to 6 triumph over Meadow here tonight, a pass—Barrett to Womack——and a covered kickoff in the end zone netting the scores.

Jones plunged for Meadow's tally. Both extra points for the winners were kicked by Barrett, who starred with Qualls. Gatewood led Meadow's attack.

The game was played at Cooper.

OLTON LOSES, 13-26

CHILLICOTHE, Oct. 4. (Special) The Chillicothe Eagles, title favorites in their district, smashed the Olton Mustangs tonight, 26 to 13.

Olton scored first in the second quarter on a 20-yard run by Willis Hedges. The Hedges twins manufactured another touchdown in the third quarter, but Karr, Morrison, Henry and Scruggs gave the Eagles a more potent offense.

CIO Reporters Ousted From Labor Meeting

SEATTLE, Oct. 4. (AP) — Seattle newspapers reported today that five of their reporters, members of the CIO-affiliated American Newspaper guild, were forcibly ejected from a longshoremen's mass meeting last night at the direction of Harry Bridges, west coast CIO leader, who later addressed the meeting.

The times said the reporters surrendered their notes on the meeting at the demand of the 20 Bridges sympathizers who ejected them, although the CIO-affiliated International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union had invited them to attend.

Oklahoma has the largest Indian population of any state.

WE pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States, and to the Republic for which it stands: One Nation, indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for all.

Fore-Warned Is Fore-Armed

PREDICTION by one of the foremost English physicians that a "devastating pestilence" is probable in Europe during the approaching winter is cause for grave alarm in this country.

Just as surely as a major epidemic breaks out in Europe, it will spread over the world. The science of man simply is not equal to the task of keeping a plague confined within borders. And, among all the nations, such an epidemic would be most likely to spread first to the United States because of the extensive commerce with Europe.

The reasonable probabilities are that the course traveled by a pestilence would be somewhat similar to the influenza epidemics of the first World war. "Flu" started in the World war trenches. Before it finally was brought under control it had killed more people than have all the other epidemics combined that this nation has experienced.

All this is alarming, but it is by no means alarmist. The fact that the prediction comes from a vice president of the ultra conservative Royal Society of Medicine is ample evidence that the danger has been minimized rather than exaggerted. The fact that he said the pestilence will occur "unless every law of medicine is broken" is evidence of the gravity with which the peril is regarded. The fact that Europe has been kept under nervous tension more than a year and certainly has not been over-fed is proof that the field is fertile for a plague.

Fortunately, our people taken as a whole are the healthiest in the world. With exceptions, they have had and will continue to have an abundance of food. Our sanitation standards are the highest. We have more and better doctors, more and better hospitals than any nation. Thus, our people are both more resistant to disease and better equipped to combat it than are those of any nation.

Despite that, we must expect epidemic in the United States if there is epidemic in Europe. We should recognize the danger and thus be fore-armed against it. By so doing, we will be all the better prepared for any emergency of the kind which may arise.

A Fine, Forward Step

OPENING to traffic of the highway linking Seagraves, Denver City and Seminole is more important to development of one of the most important South Plains resources than the layman may readily appreciate.

It is more important than merely serving the convenience of the heavy flow of traffic between those growing little cities and their oil areas. The entire South Plains should share in some degree in the benefits from the improvement.

One of the most important essentials to the development of any oil territory is transportation. For that kind of development to go ahead with a maximum of efficiency and a minimum of economy, there must be transportation on which reliance can be placed—which will be available every day in the year regardless what the weather may be.

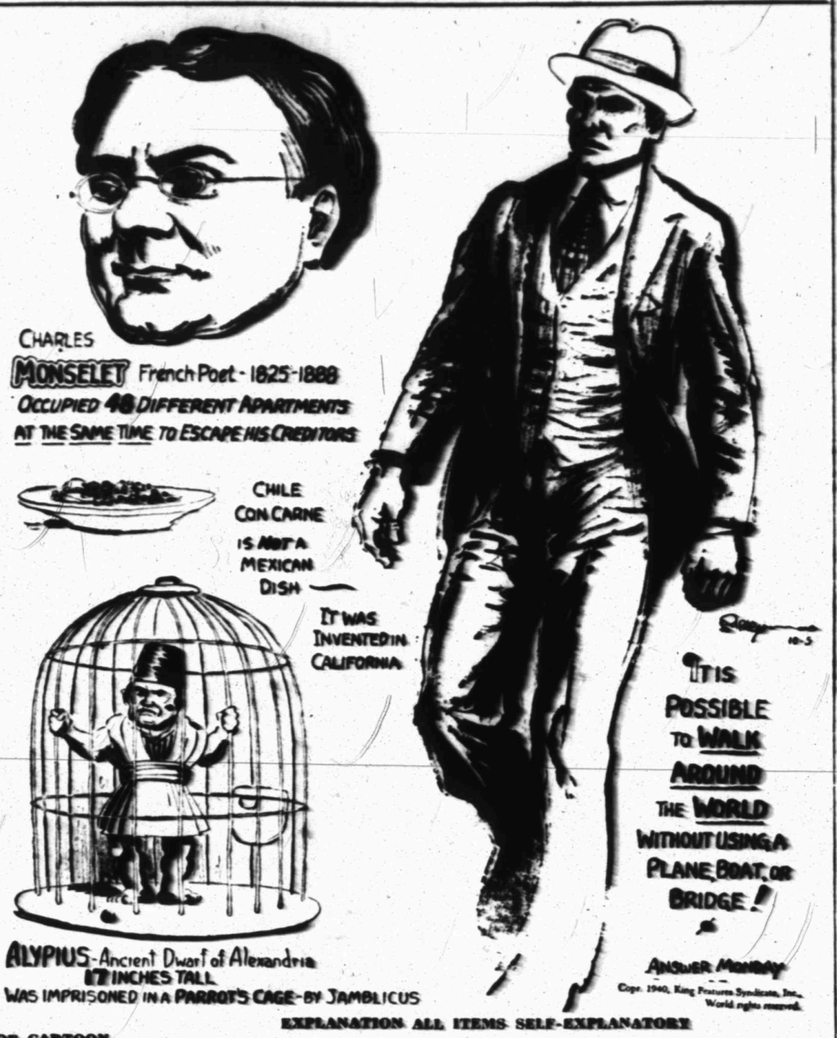

Efficiency and economy are becoming more important every day to oil operations, because it is one of the most highly competitive businesses in the world. The matter of transportation—the matter of having means of getting heavy equipment to and from the scene of operation readily and swiftly often determines whether a well is or is not drilled. Especially is that true in the South Plains fields where the investment in drilling a well is several times heavier than in the oil areas like those of East Texas.

Completion of the modern highway should do a good deal more than help oil development. It also should encourage the development in the area of all its other potential resources, of which there are many.

Most of the benefits from such developments obviously and properly will go to the residents and the property owners there. But it is self-evident that any prosperity they may enjoy will be shared in some degree by the entire South Plains and an even larger territory. Thus, by helping themselves, the progressive citizens of those communities are helping everyone in this entire vast territory.

The tune, "God Bless America," was written in the '20s, but laid aside. Understandable, of course, because of the multitude of blessings many folks had then.

The Road To Shani Lun

By RITA MOHLER HANSON

YESTERDAY: Beautiful Lynn Britton, who has come to Mongolia to visit at the court of a great prince, just has been escorted by Sherdock, a Lama, to the city of Pai Shu, and installed in a beautiful apartment to await the coming of the Prince's friend, Temu Darin.

Chapter Five
Temu Arrives

"I you slavee," the little Chinese maid repeated, drawing out a chair at a table laid for a meal.

"What's your name?" Lynn asked, accepting the chair.

The maid uttered choking sounds that suggested the clucking in a chicken yard. Lynn tried to repeat the syllables and failed. She sat back, gazing about the room, at the gorgeous Chinese rugs on the floor, the priceless polished furniture. There was a strange, uncommon fragrance in the place that excited and frightened her.

"I feel like a slave myself," she murmured and wondered if she and the maid were locked in the room.

Servants then came through the door carrying red lacquer trays. In a sea-green bowl, they served her steaming breasts of chicken and walnut halves, to be eaten with ivory chopsticks; mushroom soup, sweet and salt and sour; red cabbage and pigeon eggs; white rice in a sky-blue bowl.

They poured her tea into a fine white porcelain cup with a silver saucer and a cover in the shape of a pagoda roof, set with turquoise and rose sapphire. Lynn tasted everything though she she ate very little, hoping to hide her fears from the servants.

Hearing a commotion in the courtyard, she pushed her tea aside and hastened to the window. Temu Darin's grey Arabian horse, covered with lather, was being led away, yet dancing with impatience that he could run no more. As the maid answered a knock at the door, Lynn caught herself pushing up the wave in her hair and biting more color into her lips.

Temu Darin came in, tall and broad-shouldered in Mongol garb, a quilted cloak of rich, plum-colored silk held snug about his waist by a wide leather belt, and heavy trousers tucked into pliable leather boots turned up at the toes to accommodate the Mongol stirrup. He was alone.

Removing a winged fur cap with wrought-gold buttons, he bowed to Lynn. There was none of the emotion of the night before in his sun-bronzed face with its peculiar scar. Rather, a sense of caution and waiting that somehow frightened her.

Chinese From Harvard

"Miss Lynn Britton?" His voice, trained in the temple chant, came sure and deep and flexible. His accent, if any, was Harvard.

"You're Temu Darin," she responded quickly. "My brother told me." Lynn would have offered her hand but he had clasped his fingers in his cuffs, Chinese fashion, and bowled again. She left repulsed.

"What else did your brother tell you, if I may ask?"

"He told me you were a friend of the Prince of Shani Lun."

The man's eyes narrowed, strangely dominating eyes, she noticed, the color of Chinese tea strongly brewed.

"Isn't it true?" she demanded, sensing a mystery here.

He spoke strongly. "It is true, I am the Prince's friend. But is your brother his friend?"

"He—he spoke highly of the Prince," she answered uncertainly, wondering what it was he expected her to know that she didn't know.

"And how did he speak of me—the Prince's friend?"

"He——" Lynn stopped, her eyes flashing. "Sherdock told me you intended to bring my brother with you."

Temu Darin retorted grimly. "Had I found him I would have brought him."

Lynn's heart sank. The man strode over to the window and glanced out.

"What is it all about?" she demanded, and before she could check herself spoke from the heart, "What a fool I was to come to this dreadful place!"

He turned and gazed at her a moment in silence. "You came because you couldn't help yourself."

Lynn whitened. "You mean I am a prisoner?"

"I mean it was your destiny to come."

She stared starkly. "Are we in disgrace because we entered the temple last night? It is all my fault." He moved to the opposite side of the table from her, holding her eyes with his.

"It is evident," he replied, looking his most Oriental, "that you have not yet learned the twenty-five examples of family piety."

Lynn felt for a moment that he might be making fun of her, this young man who had been educated in America. But his expression was unreadable. "Family piety?" she repeated.

"Your brother stated in his letter that though head of the family he could not control your actions; that you are an extremely headstrong girl."

Lynn flared. "You people of the East find it hard to tolerate a girl who calls her soul her own."

His glance fell to her mouth and then sought her eyes again. It had lightened as if at last he found something to please and amuse him. "On the contrary, we are very glad to have you here."

It was then that Lynn saw the man's hands were trembling. The sight terrified her inexpressibly—this tall, strong young man of civilized training and primitive blood so stirred by some strange depth of emotion concerning her.

She found herself gripping the charm box that hung around her neck as if she were clinging to a raft in a raging sea. He watched her with hypnotic intensity, his eyes blank, inscrutable, following her every gesture. Hardly knowing what she did she took out the sprig of white lilac.

"Do you know anything about this?" she asked, keeping her voice steady with an effort.

"The box came from the palace museum," he said. "It is centuries old."

She kept her eyes on the token. "But the twig—could anyone have put the twig into the box especially for me?"

"Has it a special meaning for you?" Something in his tone caused her to look up and meet his eyes. The next instant she was walking around the table towards him, drawn as if by an invisible cord, and facing him, paused so close that her skirt touched his garments.

"Has it a special meaning for you?" he repeated, urging, asking, demanding a response to some larger issue that seemed to include this question.

Lynn forced herself to step back and escape the field of his magnetism. A new expression, swift as a sheet of lightning, flashed over his face, as if he'd come to some decision.

He moved away and picked up his hat, steeling his features to impassivity. "I shall inquire if a message has come from your brother." He left after a word in Chinese to the little maid.

Elliott Roosevelt Praised By Demos

FORT WORTH, Oct. 4. (AP) — Elliott Roosevelt, son of the president, drew praise from members of five Democratic groups which met here Thursday and organized a Roosevelt-Wallace campaign club.

The group adopted a resolution commending the president's son for volunteering his services in the national defense program.

The action was taken after Mark McGee, a speaker, had discussed the appointment of Roosevelt as a captain in the procurement division of the air corps.

"There has been a lot of criticism of Elliott Roosevelt because he has been commissioned as a captain in the air corps," McGee said. "Suppose he did accept the commission after he volunteered his services. Had it occurred to you that because he is the son of the president and is married he might not be called in the draft? He did not claim any exemptions. You read in the newspapers every day of men getting commissions in the army."

Funds Authorized For Dredging Channels

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4. (AP) — Authorization of funds to dredge ship channels at the Corpus Christi naval air school and the Orange shipbuilding yards where 12 destroyers will be built were included in the national defense rivers and harbors bill passed today by the Senate and sent back to the House for concurrence in amendments.

The measure specifically authorized appropriation of $2,700,000 for dredging a channel 30 feet deep and 200 feet wide from the Corpus Christi air school to the intersection with the Louisiana-Texas intracoastal canal. The project calls for a turning basin at the school, 5,000 feet long and 1,000 feet wide.

Provision for the Orange project was adopted as a Senate amendment to the bill, and authorized dredging of a channel in accordance with plans of army engineers. The engineers earlier informed the Senate committee a channel 25 feet deep from the shipbuilding yards to the Sabine-Neches waterway would cost $137,000. The navy department termed the project "essential."

City Postal Receipts Increase $3,058.58

Amos Howard, postmaster, said postal receipts for 1940's third quarter were $3,058.58 higher than that period for 1939.

Receipts were $58,524.10 compared with $55,465.52 last year.

September receipts were $659.77 under those of last year. This was due largely, it was explained, to smaller purchases of postal supplies by Texas Technological college this year. Last year's purchases were the largest in the school's history, and there were some carried over at the close of the year, it was understood. This necessitated smaller buying this year.

Receipts were $22,982.25 this year and $23,642.02 a year ago.

Quarterly receipts by months, compared with 1939, were:

Month	1940	1939
July	$16,841.35	$15,402.05
Aug.	18,700.30	16,421.45
Sept.	22,982.25	23,642.02
Total	$58,524.10	$55,465.52

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

HARD liquor moguls are engaged in a backstage controversy over methods of policing their industry—if at all. It has already resulted in the resignation of several officials of the Distilled Spirits institute—nationwide agency created to steer clear of law enforcers and prohibition reformers. It has also precipitated internal charges that they are pursuing a penny-wise policy.

The institute was originally organized with plenty of ballyhoo, and the late W. Forbes Morgan, a Democratic politico, was the first executive secretary. When he died, Prof. W. A. Sturges of Yale was signed as proof of the distillers' pure intentions. He framed a code of morals that would have permitted him to force compliance with the laws, regulations and orthodox commercial practices. But certain powerful liquor interests bucked, and withdrew from the institute with a consequent depletion of its treasury. Mr. Sturges resigned, and so has Norman W. Baxter, erstwhile publicist for Jesse H. Jones and the Democratic National committee. Under the new setup the Institute's directors will have no authority to deal with controversial trade problems. It will be no more than an information bureau insofar as the Washington office is concerned.

This behind-the-scenes uproar comes at a time when the industry faces difficult days. The prohibition movement is suffering new birth pains. South Carolina went dry at a recent primary, and North Carolina's legislature will debate the wet-dry question next year. As before prohibition, Southern and Southwestern states are growing uneasy. High prices resulting from new taxes have brought a fall-off in sales and developed bootlegging in certain areas.

CHORTLE: Latest figures on the size of the vast army of people on federal payrolls or subsidies disclose graphically Wendell Willkie's task in defeating the man who gave birth to this form of personalized government—Franklin D. Roosevelt. The Republican nominee is one man against 10,000,000. He hands out promises, while FDR hands out the dough.

The necessarily incomplete list of Roosevelt beneficiaries makes a staggering total—staggering, that is, for Mr. Willkie. They include 1,000,000 regular federal employes; 1,700,000 WPA-ers; almost 6,000,000 farmers who receive AAA checks (and they will get them in October this year); about 300,000 now in CCC camps and several million graduates; almost 700,000 NYA students and workers. These figures do not take account of the millions who have been aided by funds from PWA, RFC, HOLC, Social Security, Commodity Credit or the Food Stamp setup of the FSCC.

Since most of these agencies were created or vastly expanded by the President, he is literally their "Great White Father." There is no expectation that he will poll their unanimous vote, but in making up their election books, the Democratic strategists chortle over them in calculating a handsome majority.

SLASH: The United States is slowly building up stocks of essential war materials which it could not obtain in a major conflict if prospective enemies proved strong enough to blockade certain trade lanes—especially from the Far East. But a policy of studied neglect of this problem over a long period makes it impossible to attain a state of military self-sufficiency for several years.

Several corporations are now experimenting in the manufacture of artificial rubber. But it will be at least two years before the firm with the finest chemists and richest resources will reach quantity production. An American drug company, by purchase of German patents and formulas, has relieved a possible shorage of quinine, which is vital to the cure of malaria and kindred diseases. But so far—despite secrecy in these matters—the United States is woefully deficient in a present or future supply of tin. There is not enough on hand or recoverable to suffice the Army and Navy for more than a few months.

The blame for this unhappy situation rests squarely on the executive and legislative branches. A special Army-Navy committee urged a $100,000,000 appropriation for key materials several years ago. But the Budget Bureau, with the support of the White House, cut the total to $20,000,000, and a careless Congress approved the slash.

DISMOUNT: Democratic insiders — also outsiders around the country—have besieged the White House with demands that President Roosevelt take the stump in the last weeks of the campaign. They are insisting that he make three radio addresses—in Boston, New York and Chicago—and the more political they happen to be, the better.

The Democrats still minimize Wendell Willkie's chances, publicly, but privately they are afraid of him—not so much that he will win as that he will make the race too close for comfort to a man breaking the two-term tradition. They want FDR to go over with such a bang that his innovation will be forgotten and cause no hard feelings. Otherwise, they figure it may mean the destruction of the Democratic or New Deal party. Faint signs that Willkie is gaining ground induces the fear that by late October he may be a dangerous comer.

Senator Mead of New York, a stalwart New Dealer who cannot be accused of political tifth columning, recently voiced a plea that Mr. Roosevelt get down off his high horse. Said Jim at the New York state convention: "The success of our Democracy and the demands of the party system require an honest, frank and candid presentation of the issues involved in this campaign. To avoid or to evade a full, frank and intelligent discussion of the issues would be most unfortunate, and would violate the obligation assumed by any candidate when he accepts the nomination conferred upon him by his party."

NEW YORK
By Richard Waldo

NEW YORK banks are turning to diplomatic agents of the Latin republics for best data on European war trends. The latter's pipelines stem directly from Spain's Franco who has trebled his representatives—financial, political and ecclesiastical — to Spanish-speaking America.

The Caudillo's agents report that the open-handed belligerency of Uncle Sam, as shown by the speedup of the short-of-war drive, has advanced the date of the Gibraltar attack. Changes in the Axis strategy and timetable followed the first clear-cut evidence that the United States would pitch into the war before our election date. November has heretofore been considered the American Rubicon—not possible to cross before that date. Toto worries over the military role of the U.S. in the event of an overnight British war alliance follow an ascending scale as they rate our manpower, air force and fleet. There is little concern over a second AEF within a minimum of 18 months, but a serious concern with the American war plane potential of March 1941, and a real and immediate menace in the existing U. S. fleet.

By common agreement, an American war declaration within 1940 is considered the equivalent of doubling the British fleet—land power not much more, though certainly not less. With such an accretion the British navy could seal the blockade punctures and divert enough tonnage to the Mediterranean to put Italy on the defensive. The entire campaign to enlist Spain for the capture of Gibraltar and its hinterland was advanced to beat the possible arrival of American dreadnaughts.

Here And There In Texas

By GORDON SHEARER
United Press Correspondent

AUSTIN, Oct. 4 (U.P.)—All the candidates for governor in the recent state primary declared for a revision of the present 7,000-pound load limit for motor trucks, and most of the candidates for the state legislature are pledged to its repeal.

There are 21 different organizations in the state that are interested in the truck load question. Failure to change the load limit in the last legislature was due, partly at least, to different views about what the change should be. Efforts are being made to present a united front at the January session of the legislature.

Opinions Differ

There is wide variance among the advocates of a truck load change. Some have favored flat top weight, different on amount. Some believed the weight should be a varying one depending upon the type of the vehicle carrying it.

Unless the advocates of a change unite on a measure, there will always be the prospect that the railroad interests by dividing the forces for truck load raises can block any law on it.

Former Sen. Carl Hardin, representing the private truck owners organization, said he believed the various truck associations are united in support of a bill fixing weight limitations mathematically by a formula based on wheel and axle factors.

THE proposed bill is similar to House bill 13 of the last session of the legislature. H. B. 13 was sponsored by Rep. Homer Leonard of McAllen. Leonard has been re-elected to the house and is expected to be named speaker this time.

Both Rep. Joe Monkhouse of Uvalde, who was chairman of the House Committee on Highways and Motor Traffic, and Rep. Helmuth Schuenemann of Kenedy, who was chairman of the House Committee on Common Carriers, are retiring from the legislature. Who will head the two committees will not be known until the speakership is settled definitely. Joe C. Carrington, a new member from Austin, head of a Motor Carriers Insurance company, may get one of the chairmanships.

Sen. Houghton Brownlee, also of Austin, who headed the Senate Committee on Highways and Motor Traffic, will be re-appointed to both the chairmanship of that committee to membership on the House General Investigating committee, it is expected. The Senate has no Common Carriers' committee.

In the Senate it is expected that Sen. Rogers Kelly of Edinburg will take the lead in the right for a new truck load law. He has placed it first on the list of "must" measures.

Presuming that Leonard will be speaker it will be necessary for some other members to carry on the drive in the House.

One Bill Vetoed

Hardin said that 23 states already have adopted the wheel and axle bill that is being supported by the truck organizations.

"We are not fighting the railroads," Hardin said. "We are trying to do something that will help business, industry and everybody."

The private carriers will launch also a new fight for their own regulatory bill. Under a court decision, the merchant who hauls his own goods, adding the cost of drayage to the price of goods he sells customers, must charge the same carrying rate as common carriers.

The private carriers have secured a legislative resolution asking that the law not be enforced as construed by the courts, but so far have failed to get their private carrier bill enacted. Once it was passed by House and Senate but it was vetoed by Gov. James V. Allred who thought there were defects in the measure.

ANOTHER attempt is expected to be made in the 47th legislature to take oil and gas regulation away from the Texas Railroad commission.

Olin Culberson, former head of the commission's Gas Utility division, will be a new member of the Railroad commission January 1.

In his campaign Culberson asserted repeatedly that a large utility company was campaigning against him and threatening withdrawal of advertising from papers that gave him support.

Culberson returned last week from a vacation trip. He said he expected now that utility interests that had failed to keep him out of the office would try to take part of the office away from him.

Attempts to create a new oil and gas board have been made repeatedly at recent sessions of the legislature, without success.

Commission Change Seen

Under the latest ruling of the attorney general's department, Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson will forfeit his state office when he is called out for active service in the National Guards' training plans this winter.

It is probable also that Commissioner Jerry Sadler will be in the army's air force by the time the next legislature meets.

Personality of their successors may be a factor in determining if there shall be a separate oil and gas board. Successors will be named by Governor O'Daniel.

Conscription Plans Made

Plans to conscript Lubbock county's young men took progressive strides Friday.

Into the office of Ed D. Allen, county clerk charged with prosecution of the move in this county Oct. 16, came assurances of further cooperation in the all-important national move to register its young men, 21 to 35 years old inclusive, as a defense measure.

Schools To Dismiss

Dr. W. B. Irvin, superintendent of city schools, said Dunbar primary school would be dismissed that day so that E. C. Struggs, the principal ,and three teachers, under supervision of a white election official, might register negroes. The school is on Seventeenth street. The same provision will be made as regards Guadalupe school, of which Mrs. George Duval is principal. Mexicans will register there.

Dr. Irvin said there would be no registration at Dupre school, but that those who have been voting there would go to the gymnasium of Senior High school to register.

Registration for those who regularly vote at Junior High will be in the girls gymnasium, which is on the lower floor of the middle wing.

To Use Stage Room

At K. Carter school registrants will use the large stage room of the new addition, and students who regularly use that portion of the building, the west lower floor room, will be dismissed. Should additional room be required, so much of the hallways as may be wanted will be available, the superintendent said.

Dr. Irvin reiterated wishes to be of every assistance needed in the conscription drive, but indicated no necessity had presented itself for further dismissing of school students.

Allen was mailing to all judges in the 20 election precincts a booklet instructing them in the method and requirements for registration. Each judge is expected to ask for plenty of volunteer workers who will assist without pay in the registration. Volunteers are asked to suggest to judges they will assist.

To Set Up Tables

At Cooper Rural High school, Supt. B. M. Hays said he would set up tables in the gymnasium to take care of at least 20 registrants at a time.

Computation of the number of assistants needed to register those of conscription age may be made according to two factors: Approximately 80 per cent of the total voting strength for governor at the last primary is made up of potential conscription registrants, each of whom will require from 20 to 30 minutes to register.

Slaton is making plans to register its young men at the city hall, where three precincts vote, and Lubbock's four precincts cornering in the county courthouse will use regular offices there as in the past.

To Function As Unit

Lubbock county's election board of 75 persons is expected to function as a unit, it was announced.

The announcement went out for all persons to register in their own precincts wherever possible—but to be sure and register, wherever they happen to be. Registration is mandatory, and all are warned to take proper notice.

Policy Is Dictated To Princeton Faculty

NEW YORK, Oct. 4 (AP)—Columbia university's faculty studied today a pronouncement by President Nicholas Murray Butler in which he outlined the institution's position in the war between "beasts and human beings" and suggested that those who found themselves in conflict with the policy resign.

"Because of the present world war," he told a convocation of the university's faculties yesterday, "primarily economic but now violently and brutally military as well, this institution at work in the field of liberty is called upon to cooperate with government."

LEADING STOCKS DOWN

NEW YORK, Oct. 4 (AP)—Further light profit taking pressure turned leading stocks downward in today's market.

While most pivotal issues finished above their lows, closing losses ranged from fractions to a point, with a few inactives off more than 3. Scattered airlines, coppers and specialties managed to emerge with modest advances.

Smallness of offerings throughout was seen as an encouraging feature. Transfers amounted to only 400,000 shares compared with 794,885 yesterday. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down .4 of a point at 45, the first set-back in this composite since Sept. 27.

Motors trailed with the rest of the list notwithstanding this week's output of new automobiles pushed up to 105,153 units versus 95,200 the week before. Steels more than halved early declines as mill production was expected to hold at current high levels. Rails kept losses to minor amounts.

Under water were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, Sears Roebuck, Deere, Douglas Aircraft, Glenn Martin, Allied Chemical, du Pont, Westinghouse, American Can, Eastman Kodak, Johns-Manville, U. S. Gypsum, N. Y. Central, American Telephone, Western Union, General Steel Castings preferred, Kennecott and Texas Corp.

On the upside were U. S. Rubber, American Smelting, Phelps Dodge, Chesapeake and Ohio, Loft, Market Street Railway preferred, Eastern Airlines, Pan American Airways, and United Air Lines.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 4 (AP)—The cotton market struck ahead for gains of 2 to 9 points today despite more active hedging.

Demand appeared to reflect the desire of the trade to guard against the possibility of a tight spot situation later in the season. Demand centered on later deliveries which might indicate buyers planned to accept delivery on their cotton rather than go into the spot market.

The South reported larger percentages of cotton were being held for the government loan or kept off the market for higher prices.

More liberal offerings of futures from the South reflected a pick-up in spot sales. Into-sight movement for the season to date, however, was only about 50 per cent of last year.

Worth street reported a quiet day in cotton goods.

Exports Thursday 2,189 bales; season so far 41,[illegible]. Port receipts 40,412. Port stocks 2,361,188.

"Misrepresentation" Is Charged By Smith

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 (AP)—Edwin S. Smith of the labor board told a special House committee investigating board affairs today that a "false picture" had been painted by his critics about a speech he made in Mexico City during a conference of Latin American labor leaders.

Smith labeled as "misrepresentation" a critical article on his Mexico visit entitled "Red Labor Marches in Mexico" by Hartley Barclay, a New York magazine editor.

The committee's inquiry into the nature of Smith's Mexico City speech began yesterday with Barclay testifying that AFL President William Green had refused to attend a labor gathering in Mexico City on the grounds it was sponsored by "extreme leftists and communists."

Picked From Phrases

Smith told the committee that the labor congress Green shunned and the International Industrial Relations congress were two of four distinct meetings going on in Mexico City at that time, and that he did not address the labor congress.

Smith disputed a paragraph in Barclay's magazine article which quoted Smith as saying:

"Workers cannot stand aside and listen to an explanation of how capitalism might work."

Smith declared that it was "put together by Barclay with single words and phrases picked out of different paragraphs and sentences of his speech."

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 4 (AP)—Continuation of the Chicago wheat price setback which has been underway since the three months highs were reached Tuesday carried values almost a cent lower today.

Kidnaper Given Life Sentence

REDWOOD CITY, Calif., Oct. 4 (UP)—Wilhelm Jakob Muhlenbroich, 40-year-old German barber, today was sentenced to life imprisonment, exactly two weeks after he kidnaped 3-year-old Marc de Tristan, jr., for $100,000 ransom.

Muhlenbroich, who had pleaded guilty, stood quietly as Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt pronounced the life sentence which was mandatory under California's kidnaping law.

Sheriff James J. McGarth took Muhlenbroich immediately to San Quentin prison, where the kidnaper will be "dressed in" tonight.

Muhlenbroich seemed almost eager to get out of the Redwood city jail and into San Quentin, where he will start at work in the jute mill.

Muhlenbroich snatched the child from the arms of his nurse on a street in fashionable Hillsborough, suburb of San Francisco, on Sept. 20. Two days later he was captured by two lumberjacks in El Dorado county and the child was returned safely to his parents.

Wallace Cites New Deal Money Policy

HELENA, Mont., Oct. 4 (AP) — Henry A. Wallace, campaigning in the Northern Great Plains, told Montana audiences the Democratic administration is committed to the policy of pouring money "into main street and onto the farms."

The Democratic nominee for vice president moved into the Dakotas today after an eastward swing across Montana.

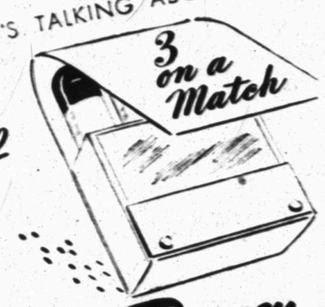

Wallace in a radio address late yesterday at Helena, Mont., declared that Republican charges that Democrats poured money "down rat holes" was "strange talk from a party that made no effort to keep the peoples money from being poured into Wall street before 1929.

"Instead of pouring money into Wall street, the policy of the Roosevelt administration is to pour it into main street and onto the farms where it will fertilize the soil from which all true prosperity grows."

Japan will establish a national central scientific laboratory where all government research will be conducted.

Age-Old Argument Between Washington, Virginia Rages

BY EDDY GILMORE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4. — The 94-year-old argument over where Virginia begins and Washington ends—or vice versa—is up for another lusty debate.

The villainess of the controversy is the fickle Potomac river, a languorous-looking stream which changes her curves without notice.

Trouble started over a few muddy feet of ground in 1846 and now it has grown to include the Washington national airport—one of the world's newest and biggest commercial fields.

Argue For Years

For almost 100 years the orators of the Old Dominion have argued that everything on the Virginia bank is Virginia, and for the same number of years, Washington orators have contended Virginia ends at the Potomac's highwater mark.

The squabble went from committee to commission and from commission to court and finally to the supreme court, which a few years ago set the boundary at the highwater mark of 1791.

Just where the highwater mark was 149 years ago has never been established to everyone's satisfaction.

No Man's Land

Located between them is a narrow strip of territory that has come to be known as no man's land, populated by filling stations, hot dog stands and other businesses.

It has caused tremendous confusion.

Crimes committed in no man's land have found Virginia and Washington police battling over jurisdiction. Rows over taxes have come and gone.

Now it's the huge new air terminal.

One-third of the field is in Washington and two-thirds in Virginia. A bill and an amendment in Congress would put the entire field in Washington.

That sounds simple, but—

Virginia would lose all the gasoline tax, which would be quite an item.

If the bill passes congress it couldn't become a law until ratified by the Virginia legislature, and Virginia officials say this won't be done.

If part of the field stays in Virginia, a Civil Aeronautics board official pointed out, the government will lose between $50,000 and $100,000 a year in charges already agreed upon.

Meanwhile the Potomac flows by.
