

SCENE OF DEATH - Mrs. Ruby Smith was killed, Mrs. Bill Bennett and Walter Lewis were seriously injured, Bill Bennett and Gordon Lewis less seriously hurt, in this mid-intersection collision two and one-half miles south of Olton

1 Dead, 4 Injured In Traffic Mishap

Mrs. Ruby Parker Smith, 57, was pronounced dead at the scene of an car-pickup accident which occurred at the intersection of farm roads near the home of Mrs. Lillian Green, one mile west and one mile south of the city limits. The accident occurred about 6 p. m. Wednesday.

Injured in the mishap were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bennett and Walter Lewis, and son, Gordon Lewis.

Mrs. Mary Bennett was taken to the University Hospital in Lubbock where she remains in fair condition. She was treated for multiple cuts and bruises, a broken leg and chest injuries. A hospital spokesman said Thursday morning that a tracheotomy had been performed and that her blood pressure was stable and that she was doing fairly well.

Walter Lewis was taken to the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock, where he underwent surgery for massive facial injuries as well as multiple lacerations and bruises. He remained in surgery most of the night and is in the intensive care unit in serious condition.

Bill Bennett, husband of Mary Bennett, was listed in good condition in the Olton hospital. Gordon Lewis was treated and released Thursday morning from the Olton hospital.

The mishap occurred as the two vehicles, a 1964 Ford driven by Bill Bennett was traveling west and a 1968 Chevrolet pickup, driven by Walter Lewis was traveling south.

Investigating officer, Joe Young of Muleshoe, said that there was nothing to obstruct the view of either driver. The impact of the two vehicles was at the center of the intersection. Mrs. Smith is survived by three sons, Delbert of Chidress; Dorman of Dallas and Arnold of Portales, N. M.; five brothers, Jim Parker and O. D. Parker of Austin; Roy Parker of Alus, Okla.; Rome and Leath Parker of Oklahoma City; and three sisters, Mrs. L. C. Gaylean and Mrs. Roy Raines of Austin; and Mary Bennett of Olton; and eight grandchildren.

Services are pending at Olton with Parsons Funeral Home.

Mustang Band Wins Top Honors At Tri-State Music Competition

BY JUNE KANTZ

Last Saturday night the Mustang Band triumphantly returned from the Tri-State Music Festival at Enid, Okla.

Competing against 14 other bands in the same class, classed according to school enrollment, Olton (the smallest) received the top rating of I in the events of field marching and sight reading and a rating of II in concert. In total, these ratings fell only one point short of a Sweepstakes win.

Other Mustang Band entries included several solo twirlers and musical ensembles. The ensembles receiving I ratings were a cornet quartet, composed of Mike Phillips, Jimmy Galloway, Eddy Nelson and Billy Gary; and a clarinet quartet of Lajuana Burleson, Pam Galloway, Dixie Griffin and Steve Stockdale. Receiving II ratings were a drum ensemble with drummers Carrol Blackwell, Pat Phillips, Kelly Robertson, Gale Long and Keith Workman and a brass sextet composed of Russell Tanner, JoEllen Spain, Kenny Spain, Joe Dale Chitwood, Mike Phillips and Jimmy Galloway.

Aside from the winnings, the trip to Tri-State was quite an experience in itself. At 7 a. m. Wednesday morning bandmen began to arrive in the parking lot; bleary-eyed, wishing the sun would come up, but already keyed up and ready to get underway. By 7:30 the buses were loaded. Director Stockdale had seen to last minute details, sponsors Mrs. Stockdale, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Green, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Wilks and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Phillips. Mrs. Elmo Bryant and Mrs. Buster Nicholas were all set, and the buses rolled out.

Arrival in Enid came about 3 p. m. Wednesday. The town was already crowded with Festival participants milling around the downtown area and the weather was hot and muggy, threatening rain.

Almost immediately the Olton girls were directed to their housing - a small Scout House on the west side of town.

The boys fared almost as interestingly. They stayed in a locker room under a race track stadium. Some comment went around concerning the "stable" atmosphere under there, but all was in good humor.

The girls also encountered a few residence problems. The small building was shared with around 50 girls from the Chit-cota, Okla. band and the house featured two bathrooms, no showers and on the second day the plumbing collapsed forcing everyone to walk to the Methodist church across the street for restroom facilities.

After moving in to their respective headquarters, the band went downtown for dinner, expecting later to gather at the marching field to watch some of the larger bands compete, but the development of rain ended that idea and everyone scattered to their own amusements indoors. Many went to the show, several attended the dance at the nearby YMCA and a few hardy souls endeavored to explore the town despite downpour.

Thursday morning everyone was bused downtown for an early breakfast and then turned loose until the afternoon. After a day of shopping, sightseeing and talking with other contestants from Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma, the band went back to headquarters and donned uniforms for the Field Marching contest.

Withstanding a rigid inspection and the cold, strong winds that whipped down through the stadium all during the performance, the Mustang Band came through with flying colors. Afterwards, tension was high as all wondered and speculated on what rating had been received, as the ratings for all events were not announced until Friday night.

Friday, the last full day of the contests, the band rose early and by noon had played in Concert and Sight Reading contests. The first was survived well despite the lack of music stands in the warmup room and the difficulty of several bass players in transporting their instruments up and down what seemed interminable stairs.

Later that afternoon many band members, most of whom had had no chance to take a bath in three days took advantage of the YMCA swimming pool, and then rested up for the final evening.

Friday night the traditional Band Banquet was held in a cafeteria in downtown Enid. Blanket awards and plaques were presented to deserving band members and the Arion Award was presented to outstanding musician Mike Phillips, first chair cornet in the Mustang Concert Band. Highlight of the evening, though, came when the Band presented Mr. Stockdale with a tie and pants and serenaded him with "For He's A Jolly Good Fellow" played on kazoo.

After the banquet, band members walked several blocks to the Phillips University Concert Hall where the winning stagebands of each division gave a concert and the winners of Tri-State Music Festival events were announced. After the concert most bandmen gathered at the Y for the final night dance which lasted until about 11:30 and then all trooped back to headquarters and running on nervous energy, which was about all that was left, talked it all over until the wee hours of the morning when all finally dropped off to sleep in utter exhaustion.

Rising with the sun as usual,

Saturday morning bandmen put their uniforms over the clothes they planned to ride home in and gathered with all the other Tri-State bands for the big parade. After sitting on the street curbs for a half hour or so the parade got underway and the band lined up to move out. Olton was one of the first to march and within fifteen minutes the judges stand had been passed, the corner rounded and the 1970 Mustang Marching Band fell out for the last time.

After a quick lunch, everyone scrambled back on the buses and started home. The trip was not uneventful. Not only did it feature many impromptu kazoo concerts-many of them razzily renditions of long labored-over concert pieces, but the first bus developed a flat tire about 40 miles north of Amarillo.

Arrival came about 6 p. m. Weary but happy, band members dispersed to their homes-all music behind - until Monday morning.

Attendance of the Tri-State Festival was the culmination of a year's hard work for Mustang Band members and Director Fred Stockdale.

A small, unorganized group at the beginning of the year, the band under able direction was polished into a disciplined group of musicians all, near the end, working unselfishly hard together toward the final goal of Tri-State.

Christian Adventure Awaits Eager, Young Brandon Family

Adventuring for Christ might well describe the plans of the Bob Brandon family as they make preparations for a new life in Thailand.

The enthusiastic young Brandons and their small children will leave Aug. 13 for their new home and challenging opportunity.

Brandon will be working with the Bangkok School of Preaching, a school started in 1958 when a Bible instructor at Sunset School of Preaching in Lubbock, Parker Henderson, began the work.

The family will join five other families working in Bangkok, all former classmates of Brandon at the Sunset School. Brandon graduated from the school in January.

The Bangkok School is working to teach Thai people to teach themselves; establish a permanent two-year school of preaching; establish a mobile teaching and training program for the villages; to carry out a greater correspondence course program and to concentrate on approximately 50,000 American servicemen.

(Approximately 60,000 American servicemen are stationed in Thailand at present although 50,000 is the average peacetime number.)

Brandon will attend language classes mornings and teach Bible classes four and one-half hours afternoons. His wife, Pat, will probably have to wait a while before attending language classes until the little ones become a little older.

Chris, their eldest child, is eight years old and will be attending an American school. Timmy is 18 months and baby Michelle, six months.

An ardent sportsman, young Chris is eagerly looking forward to playing his first baseball this summer before the family moves from Olton.

In Michigan, where the family lived before Brandon enrolled in Sunset, Chris was a hockey enthusiast. He has taught his tiny brother to help him name major league hockey players. As Chris speaks a player's first name, tiny Timmy answers with his last.

In Thailand, where there is not football or hockey, Chris will have to become a soccer fan. The Brandons have not learned if baseball is played there.

Cost of attending an English speaking school is $50 per month. When the Brandon children learn the Thai language - and children pick it up more quickly than adults - they will enroll in public school.

Thai language is one of the most difficult languages to master - considered by many as the second hardest to learn after Chinese.

One Thai word can have as many as eight different meanings, Brandon explained. The inflection given in pronunciation gives the different meanings.

"Someone said that musically talented people with ability for memorizing learn most quickly - we'll have to work together - Bob's got the memory -" Pat began.

"But I can't carry a tune in a bucket," Bob concluded.

None of the changes they will have to make for their new life really matter, Pat says. "It's worth it!" she eagerly explains.

Olton Pork Producers Inc. Is Town's Newest Business

Directors of the newly organized Olton Pork Producers Incorporated met Wednesday with an attorney to make application for chartering Olton's newest business adventure.

Anyone who has 20 to 40 acres of land, preferably adjoining a lake, who would sell the property for the SPF hog operation is asked to contact Ken Burgess or Gene Trotter at Olton State Bank.

Gene Reynolds, a local carpenter who has spent much of the past two years building

SPF units, told the group of stockholders that most operators blocked off 40 acres of land with a lake that could be used for drainage.

A 200 sow operation will market approximately 4000 pigs per year, adding around $200,000 a year into the area economy.

Land, buildings and stock and maintenance of a 200 sow operation until the point of selling will require about $200,000 a spokesman said.

Last Rites Held Here For Mrs. Hattie Lewis

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon in Main Street Church of Christ for Mrs. Hattie R. Lewis, 85, longtime resident.

Officiating were E. R. Higgins of Lubbock Christian College and Doug Lawyer. Burial was in Olton Cemetery under the direction of Lemons Funeral Home.

A native of Desdemonia, Mrs. Lewis died Thursday morning in Manor Nursing Home in Anheuser.

The former Hattie Richard Thurman was born May 29, 1884. She was married to R. Arthur Lewis July 23, 1905 in Oliver Springs, she moved with her family from Abilene to Olton 46 years ago.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Jackie Echols of Plainview; two sons, Brooks Lewis of Albuquerque, N. M. and Thurman Lewis of Carlsbad, N. M. and four grandchildren.

Dear Editor

Proud Of Them

Last week we were privileged to accompany the Olton High School Band to Enid, Okla., to participate in the 38th annual Tri-State Music Festival.

Sixty-five band members loaded the two chartered buses along with 11 sponsors and one band director amidst a flurry of excitement that was felt by each one there.

As we bade Olton good-bye, we began to realize the responsibility and trust placed in each of us, because for the next four days, these 65 young men and women were to be ours, and we hoped - and yes, we prayed - for the very best from them and for them.

The hours turned into days and we began to realize that they too, knew they had been entrusted with something very special, the opportunity to represent, our town, our state along with the generation of which they are a part.

They did this in such a way to make anyone proud to be associated with them.

Their living quarters left something to be desired, but the only complaints we heard were in fun. Boys and girls each stayed in places with bands from other towns, this presented an opportunity for ours to set good examples for the others to follow, and show them good clean fun is better for all concerned.

As far as the Olton band was concerned, there were no discipline problems at all and they got along with one another superbly.

They took their instructions given by Mr. Stockdale as well as their sponsors and carried them out to the letter, they even observed "lights out".

We were not only more than pleased with their attitude and actions, but we were quite impressed with their appearance. Our boys didn't have the long shaggy hair that most other schools permit, and the members were neat and well groomed in all public places. Needless to say there were no cigarettes and no alcohol used.

Maybe it's because they were ours, we noticed this so much, but it's hard not to compare and brag a little.

All of you helped send them to Enid and we wanted you to know it was not in vain. We can put a little more confidence in the future knowing kids like these will be citizens of tomorrow and isn't that a good reflection on you?

Next time you have a chance to see the Mustang Band - do so, Olton, for they have "done you proud".

A Sacred Inheritance

The 19th Century American author J. G. Holland said, "Laws are the very bulwarks of liberty; they define every man's rights, and defend the individual liberties of all men." These words are most appropriate as we celebrate the 13th annual observance of Law Day, USA, on May 1, 1970.

This year's theme, "Law-Bridge to Justice," reaffirms the Nation's commitment to our Constitution. Our country's government was founded on the rule of law. One of the hallmarks of our democratic system of government is that it permits protest and dissent. It provides also for the orderly redress of grievances. The law then is a major factor in keeping our society's conduct within the boundaries of propriety.

Recently, we have witnessed shocking attempts to mock our system of law. Some individuals on trial have attempted to destroy courtroom decorum and the impartial adjudication of issues with boisterous challenges, vile, snarling threats, and conduct unworthy of the most primitive of people. They have disdainfully raised themselves above the law. Due process procedures necessary for the advancement of social progress and welfare of all are strongly rebuked by them as archaic and not suited for their own situation. Our country's growth and development are guided by the law, but they seek to overturn our society by destroying our system of law.

We who are entrusted with the enforcement of the law must certainly be in the forefront of those who strongly support our Nation's judicial system. Keeping our conduct and performance of duty above reproach, we must help rally the entire citizenry to disclaim and reject recent outrages in the streets and in the courts against the law - the "Bridge to Justice" for all people.

National Police Week, May 10-16, is set aside by an act of Congress and by Presidential proclamation to give all those who serve the law and its enforcement a time of honor and respect. Our profession can indeed be proud that we serve our democratic way of life in such a vital role.

Let liberty continue to be every man's most sacred inheritance. But with every right of liberty let us remember there is a corresponding duty of citizenship. Our unswerving desire for liberty must be equalled by our support and acceptance of the responsibilities demanded of free people. The time is now - never before has the challenge been greater or the cause more just.

freight charge, the Brandons will not take the family car to Thailand because of import tax. That tax is 100 percent (a $3400 compact wagon would cost another $3400 to get it into the country).

"Encourages trade in Thailand," Brandon laughed. He explained that they would drive to Michigan before their departure date, visit Pat's parents, and sell the family car there.

They will fly first to Hawaii, stop over in Japan and Hong Kong and then to Thailand. During the stop over in Hong Kong, the Brandons will visit with friends who live there.

The Bangkok School of Preaching requires two years to complete the program of study. Students spend six hours each day in study. An hour of chapel starts the day.

Approximately 20 are presently enrolled in the school. They live on a mere pittance and sleep in the hallways of the school. When they complete their course of study, they will go out and teach others. The School hopes, within a year, to be able to expand so that they might serve an enrollment of 100.

Students training is Bible based and, in the two years, they will receive an overall view of the Bible, studying each book and passage. They will be instructed in ways of presenting the Bible and will have some training in public speaking.

They pay nothing to attend school and, of course, have no income while they are in school. Some receive financial assistance - perhaps $25 or $30 per month - from congregations.

There are about 40 Church of Christ congregations in Bangkok, five among American service men and four or five large Thai congregations.

Ninety-five percent of the Thai people are Buddhists. Approximately 34 million people live in the nation that is only two-thirds as large as Texas. Brandon and some classmates did a bit of arithmetic and discovered that if 1000 persons were converted to Christianity per year, and the birth-rate stopped today, it would take 3400 years to convert all of Thailand.

The Brandons had to obtain a permanent visa in order to go into Thailand to work with the school. The permanent visa does not affect their United States citizenship. In accepting the call to "come over and help us", the family is obligated to stay 10 years.

A portion of the financial support of the Brandons' work is pledged by the congregation of the local Main Street Church of Christ. Various others have indicated their desire in participating in the vitally important program. Contributions are welcomed.

After two or three years, they will return to the States on furlough and have already decided they would time their visits during the monsoon season which lasts through July, August and September.

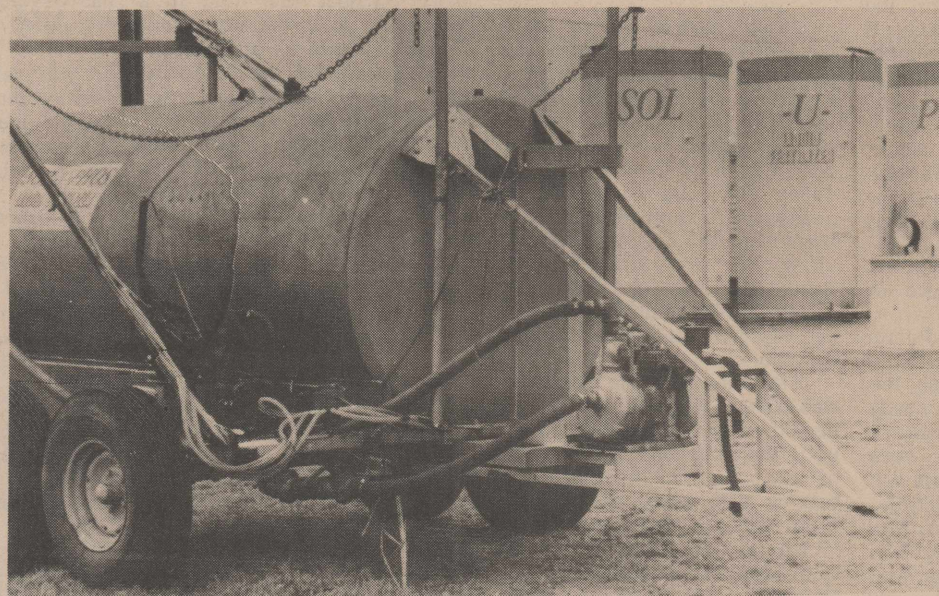

During the monsoon season, all work is halted and the people have nothing to do. The School hopes to organize mobile units to go out into the Thai villages during these seasons, to teach and preach to the multitudes.

Vitally interested and eager to be at work, the family has also given some thought to far-reaching plans for their future after Thailand.

Tennessee-born Bob and Michigan-born Pat have fallen in love with West Texas. "We love it here," Brandon says sincerely.

And those far-reaching plans just may include a home in Lubbock and work with the Sunset School of Preaching.

Beautiful weather this past week has really brought out the golfers. The course in general is coming along nicely. Our greens are under a coat of sand, which makes them a little harder to putt on, but with some more warm days the grass will take over and we'll be back to normal again. The fairways are being sprayed for dandelions which we are hoping will help control this weed. Due to repairs on the Tee-Boxes we may not be able to use them for a few days.

Last Saturday's tournament was some what of a let down in as much as we did not have enough women to enter. Mrs. Fred Thompson and partner Laus Hair came in with a blistering sixty-nine scratch for low score. That's good shooting in anybody's league. We want to thank those who came out and played.

Pro Wayne Allen will be having his first big tournament

May 30 and 31. This will be a (36) thirty-six hole handicap partnership. He is hoping to have a big turnout for this one.

Board meeting for directors will be Monday night at 8:30, try and be there. We need to set a date for a general work day and make arrangements to have the club house painted.

'What About A Budget' Discussed In HD Meeting

Olton Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Z. D. Miller.

The program was presented by Mrs. Lady Clare Phillips. Speaking on the subject "What About A Budget?" Mrs. Phillips said that a budget scares most people, but that a plan to spend one's money to the best advantage will make one's money go farther and be the means of more happiness.

"Many people," she continued, "are living on next month's salary and therefore unhappy."

She admitted that there is no model budget, each individual family must frame its own. A look at last years expenses might be the beginning of a search for a basis. Warning that credit is expensive, Mrs. Phillips urged that it be avoided if at all possible. She recommended that children be included in the planning so that they might feel a part of the effort toward sensible spending.

The next meeting date has been changed to May 12. At that time the club will make a field trip to Lubbock where they will tour two large furniture firms.

Assorted cookies, Cokes and coffee were served to the guest speaker, and Mmes. O. T. Crosby, Lester Kennedy, Leon May, V. O. Harrod, Miss Ann Warren and the hostess.

Garden Club Council Meets, Officers Are Installed

Lamb County Council of Garden Clubs met April 28 in Womens Clubhouse.

Mrs. James Welch of Dimmitt was installing officer and gave an inspiring challenge to officers as she charged them with their duties of office.

A miniature fire chief's hat was presented to Mrs. Raymon Carson depicting her authority and leadership as president. Mrs. Walter Schreier received a tiny jockey's cap as Mrs. Welch explained that a vice president finds herself "running in circles" as she offers assistance to the president and carries out other responsibilities of her office.

Mrs. C. H. Messer of Littlefield, secretary, was presented a small space helmet representing the correspondence and other duties of her position.

"What Under My Hat" was the topic of an inspiring challenge Mrs. Welch presented following the installation. Changing hats to match each personality, she portrayed a variety of club members.

Introduced first were Dora Do Nothing and Old Ready, the most opposite of members.

"Willie Washy", Mrs. Welch explained, never takes a stand but is always ready to do whatever anyone wishes at any particular time.

Always late to meetings, Lola Lark sits up front, plays with her gloves, rearranges her hat and then whispers to her neighbor while the speaker is talking. Lola could be an asset to her club if only she would channel her energies.

Other members paraded in the address were Sally Super, Eva Extravagance, Ila Trypt and Sarah Scattered. There were, also, Tillie Too Tired, Gertie Glitter, Tammy Timid, Peggy Perky and Nevva Change.

Last to be introduced and perhaps the biggest asset to her club was Darlene Dependable. Darlene is the stabilizing force in the club, always on time, doing every job well and never complaining.

Mrs. Welch concluded her address with a bit of whimsical philosophy on hats, "A hat is a piece of magic" she said.

"A hat is to be stylish in; flow under, flirt beneath; make other women jealous and all men feel masculine about."

"Better still," she confided "a hat is what turns men's glances to your head and their heads to your heart."

Refreshments were served by Mmes. George Bohner, O. B. LaFrance and Jack Allcorn.

MINIATURE HATS depicting their office were presented to new officers of the Lamb County Council of Garden Clubs by Mrs. James Welch of Dimmitt, left, installing officer. Officers are Mrs. Raymon Carson, president; Mrs. C. H. Messer of Littlefield, secretary and Mrs. Walter Schreier, vice president.

New Arrivals

Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Cain and Cathy were in Lubbock Monday consulting a doctor for Cathy.

Missionary Family Visits Assembly Of God Church

Rev. and Mrs. Gene Davis attended the Annual West Texas District Council of The Assemblies of God Churches held in Lubbock April 27-29.

Rev. R. E. Foster, pastor of First Assembly of God Church in Amarillo, was in charge of the memorial service which honored the ministers and ministers' wives who have passed away during the past year.

At the concluding service five men were ordained into the full ministry of the church.

Wednesday morning Mrs. Davis presided at the breakfast held by the members of the Womens Missionary Council. She has been president of this organization for eight years.

Mrs. Billy Davis was speaker at the breakfast. She spoke on "The Christian Woman and Her Freedom".

An international speaker at teachers conventions and on college campuses, Mrs. Davis is the author of a well known book "The Hoba Kid" and is the "Billy" featured in the film "A Desk for Billy".

She and her husband, George H. Davis are missionaries in 27 different countries in South America and the West Indies.

At the W.M.C. convention held Wednesday afternoon the pennies collected for missions during the past year were displayed. About $4000 in pennies were brought.

Junior 4-H's Win With Skit

"Jest Too Tired to Move" was the title of a skit presented by junior members of the Olton 4-H Club Saturday in District II elimination contests. Competing with clubs from nine other counties, the club won second with a blue award.

The skit was presented in the Share The Fun Contest. Olton club represented Lamb County clubs. Howard County placed first in the contest with Hale County taking third.

Cast of characters were Pa, Chris McClure; Ma, Nancy Britton; Willie, Kent Pittilo; Nellie, Donice Quigley; Zeke, Rodney Smith; Grandpa, Sharon Thomas; Henry, Mark McFadden and the coyote, Allan Wheeler.

Directing the skit were Mmes. Landon Smith, Bill Pittilo and Sammie Thomas.

Accompanying the group to Lubbock were Mr. and Mrs. Royce McFadden and Mmes. Thomas, Pittilo, Smith, Vernon Britton, Dan Quigley, T. B. Wheeler and Miss Laura Sue Wheeler.

You've been spending too much on weeds in cotton!

If you've been just cultivating, or using a chemical weed killer and not getting the control you need — either way you've been spending too much.

There's a better way to get good weed control, and spend less.

It's with Caparol® 80W — your partner, the weed-killer — band applied, at planting. In just one trip across the field, you plant your crop and put Caparol on in a band. This keeps the weeds out of the rows. Then, all you do is cultivate the middles.

Don't spend too much on weeds in cotton again this year. Apply Caparol, in a band, at planting.

Everything But The Kitchen Sink

BY MOZELLE TROTTER

Is there anything more beautiful than spring?

Everything is so fresh, so bright, so new! The world has a "new frock" and it's so becoming. Why do we take such beauty for granted?

Three-quarters of the Trotter bunch went visiting last weekend to see the other one-quarter. It was a wonderful, pretty trip.

I'll still take West Texas with its wide-openness but that country down by Bryan-College Station is something else!

We drove to Houston for a day and night. All along the way there were such pretty little wild flowers blooming! Road-sides were a riot of yellow and rose and blue.

Now there's a good use for the word "riot". Wishing won't make it so but wouldn't it be marvelous if that were the only need we ever had for its use?

Maybe I am a little partial, I've always thought the A&M campus was pretty, but it seemed even prettier this time. (It was the first time I'd seen it in springtime.)

Anyway, "Dr. Trotter" recommends getting out and looking at the world through wide-open eyes. Notice how lovely it is, it's good therapy.

It's beyond my comprehension to understand how anyone can look - really look - at God's universe and doubt His existence.

The ugly there's, too, I know. But the prettiness more than makes up for the ugly.

So, I'm going to enjoy the lovely!

And I'm going to be more grateful that the One who created this beautiful world still watches and cares for us who have made the ugly.

What Mothers Are

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Clipped from Friendly Flame, a publication of Texas LP-Gas Association, this timely article was brought to the Enterprise by Mrs. C. C. Curry.)

Mothers can begin being mothers when they are around sixteen, and they sometimes keep it up until they are past eighty, which make it about the longest career on record.

They come in all sizes, shapes, and colors, but don't be fooled; the tiny ones can pack a powerful punch, and the big ones faint at the sight of a spider.

When vandals besieged Rome, it was a stately mother, who, when the despoilers demanded her jewels, placed an arm around her children and proclaimed "Hic sunt ornamentis!" ("These are my jewels!")

A mother will scold quite hard when you pout for a party dress that costs fifty dollars. Then, just when you have resigned yourself to wearing the old blue tulle, she will dig down under the newspaper lining the top bureau drawer, and come up with five old ten-dollar bills, which she presses into your hand.

A mother will scream like a banshee at dirty dishes left in the sink, and then stay up until one a. m. baking the three cherry pies which you promised for the bake sale.

In a recent newspaper account, a pretty young mother offered one of her eyes for an operation for her son, who was losing his sight. Said the hard-bitten old surgeon: "In face of love like this, I stand speechless."

A mother will remain dry-eyed when junior falls out of the apple tree and breaks his arm. She is not particularly moved at funerals or sad movies, but her eyes fill up when you come down the aisle in the beautiful white gown.

Mothers will ask fathers if they think mothers are getting fat, and when fathers say yes, then mothers get mad.

One mother whose little runaway boy was brought home by the police, got on her knees and hugged him tightly, and then got up and gave him the worst licking he ever had!

Mothers can remember the birthdays and anniversaries of all the aunts and cousins, but they forget who called you from the malt shop right after school.

Your mother will take a folded newspaper and give the dog a spanking for getting up on your bedspread. Then, when he gets a piece of glass in his paw, she drives him to the vet, ten miles away, and holds him on her lap while the vet fixes him.

You take one day a year to think especially about your mother; she takes the other three hundred and sixty-five to think about you.

But that's the way she wants it!

GIRL SCOUT Troop Talk

Girl Scout Cadet Troop 107 went on a trip to Camp Haynes Friday evening.

After pitching the tents and starting a fire the girls encountered a bull. He was finally stampeded by way of the campfire but he stampeded the adults.

In the middle of the night the campers were awakened by two drunken cowboys. The leaders banished them and attempted to resume their sleep.

Saturday morning the girls were thrilled to see appearing around the bend a group of Boy Scouts from Kress.

The girls and the leaders felt the only thing not seen was a snake. They thought "The

CALIFORNIA VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Worley returned Monday from Chatsworth, Calif. where they visited their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Preston Mason, Deanne and Curtis Jay. They viewed farming land in the Ventura and Santa Barbara area. They saw fields of flowers and acres of ground strawberries. The ground surrounding the strawberries was covered with plastic to protect the berries from the dirt. The strawberries were sold at eight pints for one dollar. At Santa Barbara Mr. and Mrs. Worley saw a Spanish Mission about 200 years old.

Lord must have been willin' for the 'Crick' didn't rise".

Adults accompanying the 16 scouts were leaders Mrs. Ray Culwell and Miss Helen Locke. Also making the trip were Mrs. Henry Ahrens, Mrs. Burley Favor and Mrs. Sam Cantu.

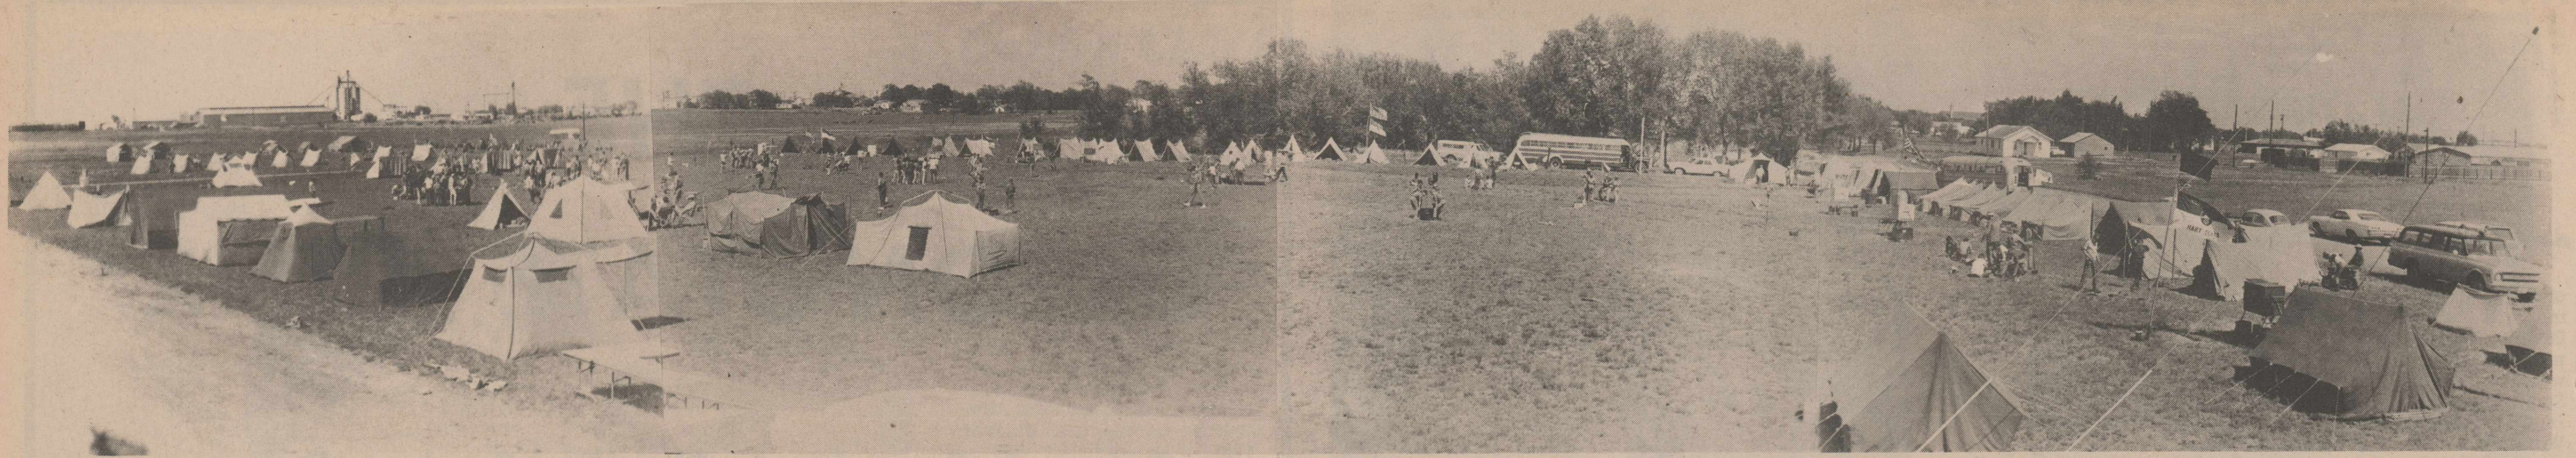

Brownie Troop No. 235 met Tuesday in American Legion Hut with leaders Beverly Nicholson and Ann Nicholas.

Activity for the day was the making of Mothers' Day gifts. Day Camp was discussed and plans were made for the next meeting, a skating party in Plainview.

Those present included one guest, Diane Pinkerton and the following members: Nina Spurlin, Debbie Dickson, Bonieca Nicholson, Cynthia Sorley, Shari Carlisle, Marilyn Durham, Dee Wozencraft, Marty Salinas, Karla McAlister, Cindi Lawyer, Sharla Nicholas, De Enna Blakely and Dusty Kinison.

ATTEND RECEPTION

Mrs. Viola Hedges and her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Curry attended a reception in Kress Sunday afternoon observing the 60th wedding anniversary of Mrs. Hedges' brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Moore.

Boy Scout Camporee

Tent City Springs Up Here During Boy Scout Camporee

A miniature tent city sprang up Saturday on the lot just east of Babe Ruth Baseball park as approximately 296 boys of Haynes Boy Scout District set up a well organized quadrangle of campsites and prepared for an over night stay with participation in their Skill-O-Rama.

The Skill-O-Rama got underway at noon when lunch was prepared by the boys and continued through the preparation of the last meal served Sunday at noon.

A prime purpose of the Cook-pot Camporee was to encourage patrol cooking and give Scouts an opportunity to learn new techniques and to compete against other boys of equal or superior skill in the art of food preparation.

Demonstrations featured the use of the tin can, the dutch oven, aluminum foil, fire lays, safety in cooking and the preparation and cooking of various foods over hot coals.

The results smelled inviting to both participants and curious sight seeing crowds that filed past the activity. Sour dough pancakes, cherry cobbler, biscuits, doughnuts, fried apples, brownies, bacon, eggs and dandelion tea were only a few of the tempting offerings produced by the competent cooks.

Following the Skill-O-Rama each boy had to run an obstacle course nearby. This involved crawling thru a series of rubber tires and crossing a hazardous bridge. Campfire skits provided fun and entertainment for all.

Sunday morning members of the 15 participating Troops, carrying the wholesome odor of out door fire and a few incidental smudges, reverently attended the churches of their choice then returned to the "tent city" to cook the final meal and clean up the area.

The two day event closed Sunday afternoon with the issuing of awards. Judged on two meals cooked, Saturday lunch and Sunday breakfast, the Skill-O-Rama, obstacle course, cleanliness and appearance of the campsite at inspection, ribbons were awarded - blue for first place, red for second, and yellow for third.

Awarded blue ribbons were: Troop 206, Lockney, Jesus Garza, Scoutmaster; Troop 256, Plainview, Dr. Douglas Owen, Scoutmaster; Troop 218, Hale

Origin Of Words

By Mrs. Blanton Martin

The word "clue" has a most interesting origin. The story concerns the slaying of Minotaur, the part-animal, part-human offspring of Minos, legendary king of Crete. This creature with a ferocious appetite was born to Minos and his wife as penalty for Minos' having offended a god. The beast was relegated to a labyrinth so intricate in design that no one entering could find his way out. Minotaur's normal diet consisted of criminals thrown inside the maze. Every ninth year, however, he feasted on seven young men and seven young women whom his father exacted as tribute from the country of Attica. One of Minos' other sons had been murdered there.

As the time for one such feast drew near, Theseus, son of the Athenian king, offered himself as one of the doomed fourteen. He did this in the hope that he could slay Minotaur and, in so doing, free his country from the terrible tribute. He was successful in his plan. Except for the daughter of Minos, however, Theseus and his thirteen companions would have wandered hopelessly in the labyrinth. The princess had fallen in love with Theseus, and concerned with his ability to find his way out, she had secretly given him a ball of yarn. One end of the yarn Theseus tied to a post just inside the entry to the maze. As he and his companions went looking for Minotaur to slay him, they unrolled the ball of

Annual Pioneer Round-Up Set May 16 In Plainview

Complete plans for the 42nd Pioneer Round-Up to be held Saturday, May 16, are taking shape, according to Mrs. Helen Pemberton, president of the sponsoring organization, the Plainview Business and Professional Women's Club.

The square dance on Saturday night following the program is always of much interest to local and area square dancers. Miss Lou Ella Scarbrough is chairman of the dance committee.

yarn. They were able later to follow the thread of yarn back to the entry.

In Chaucer's time a ball of yarn was called a clew in England. It is so identified today in parts of Scotland and of England. And so the poet used this term as he told the tale of Theseus and the princess:

By a clewe of twyn as he hath gone
The same weye he may returne
Folwyng alway the thread anon."

Later the spelling of "clew" was changed to "clue" by the same process that "trew" was changed to "true"; nonetheless, the prevailing sense of the word is based upon this legendary tale.

Accent on Health

More than 500,000 children will swallow poison this year in the United States and 90 per cent of all cases reported will involve children under the age of five.

The tragedy of the situation, says the Texas State Department of Health, is that most all accidental poisonings are preventable.

Why are young children the greatest victims of accidental poisoning? The pre-school child has an inquisitive nature. Closures and cupboards are great places to hide and investigate. A child will taste, bite and swallow anything he can reach, and teething time calls for chewing on furniture, toys and window sills.

At about the age of two, a child takes to "mountain climbing", using chairs, tables or stools to open medicine cabinets and any other reachable places.

Accidental poisonings don't just happen. They take a special mixture of factors which normally have a formula which reads: A contributing thing, plus a contributing surrounding, plus a contributing individual. The result of this formula is poisoning.

LAKE OUTING

Many of us are unaware of the potential dangers of medicines and other household substances. Even salt and pepper may produce an inurious or deadly effect when used in large amounts. A five-year-old youngster in Rhode Island died after swallowing about two tablespoons of ordinary pepper. In another tragedy, a 22-month old child died after inhaling a large amount of talcum powder.

How do you determine if your child may have been poisoned? Suspect it when you observe: 1. Bottles or packages of medicines, household cleaning agents or poisonous substances open near children; 2. Unconsciousness, confusion or sudden illness which is unexplained. 3. Pain or burning sensation in mouth or throat. 4. Discoloration of lips and mouth and strange odors on the breath.

If you suspect an accidental poisoning, take the following steps: 1. Call your doctor at once. 2. If you cannot reach the doctor, take your child to the nearest hospital and be sure to take the container of the suspected poison with you. A sample of the chemical can be most useful also. 3. One important point: A person who has swallowed poison should not be made to vomit since this could aggravate the situation.

The phrase, "Poison Proof Your Home", may seem trite due to over-usage. But it is even more meaningful today than in the past with the advent of more and more home chemicals. In 1968 in Texas a total of 73 fatal home poisonings were recorded. Some 4,000 fatal poisonings occur in the United States each year.

To help poison proof your home, you can: 1. Store all medicines and household products in locked cabinets; 2. Clean out medicine cabinets regularly; 3. Don't put hazardous objects in soft drink bottles but keep them in their containers; 4. Don't leave any medicines, insecticides or fuel oils where children can get to them. Don't use lead-based paints on toys or furniture.
