Snyder got some experience hosting a top flight high school basketball tournament the past weekend, and apparently everything went off rather smoothly.

Of course there were the usual little problems that cropped up here and there, but visitors to the city—and there were many of them—appeared to be well pleased with the Class AAA regional tournament.

Lamesa was undoubtedly more pleased than the others, since its team won the regional title, but followers of the other three teams from Andrews, Levelland and Burkburnett appeared to enjoy the tournament as well as you could expect under the circumstances.

The tournament put well over 5,000 people in the coliseum for the two nights—the actual paid admissions amounted to around 4,900, and county workers, cheerleaders, coaches and the teams themselves made quite a throng for both evenings.

Over the years, Lamesa has done rather well playing here, and this tournament was no exception. The Tors turned in what one local fan referred to as "a typical Follis performance" Saturday night in upsetting the unbeaten Levelland Lobos for the regional crown. Follis, the coach at Lamesa for over two decades, has a reputation for getting the most out of his material and at the right time. And he did it again Saturday night in defeating the Lobos who had beaten Lamesa twice earlier in the season.

There were good numbers of Snyder fans in the stands, especially on Saturday night. A substantial contingent of the Snyderites had gone to Levelland on Friday night to see the Tigers in their playoff game with Lubbock Monterey.

As it worked out, Snyder lost its district playoff at Levelland, while Levelland lost its regional playoff at Snyder.

If you think inflation has run rampant today, the tourism and information branch at Whitehorse, Yukon Territory, Canada, says you haven't seen anything yet. They tell of an enterprising businessman who floated into Dawson City during the gold rush of 1898 with a cow and achieved his ambition to be the first man to sell fresh milk in the Klondike. He charged $30 a gallon and was immediately nicknamed "Cow" Miller.

Despite all of the cold, snowy weather we've had, there still will be a spring someday, and warnings have gone out to Texans to beware of one warm-weather, crawly pest that has caused increasing concern in the state recently.

It is the brown recluse spider that prompted the warnings. This little crawler has been around for centuries, but it wasn't until about 15 years ago that it was discovered to have a poisonous bite. It causes blisters, intense inflammation and general discomfort when it bites a person. Sometimes the person may not know he has bitten for an hour or so. Then, all of a sudden there is pain and a small blister appears.

The brown recluse sometimes is called the "fiddleback" spider because of a fiddle-shaped dark area on its back. It likes to hide in dark places, and an insecticide called lindane is reported to be effective in controlling it. However, this insecticide should be used sparingly and strictly according to directions.—WACIL McNAIR.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, Feb. 27, the 58th day of 1973. There are 307 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1900, the British defeated the Boers in the Battle of Paardeberg in Africa. The outcome led to the creation of the Union of South Africa.

On this date:

In 1598, Boris Godunov became Czar of Russia.

In 1700, the Southwest Pacific Island of New Britain was discovered by the English navigator, William Campier.

In 1889, a railroad was opened in Burma from Rangoon to Mandalay.

In 1933, the German parliament building in Berlin, the Reichstag, was burned.

In 1939, the U.S. Supreme Court outlawed sitdown strikes.

In 1944, during the Pacific war, U.S. planes hit Japanese targets in Indochina.

Ten years ago: Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said he was confident that the Soviet Union and Communist China could settle their ideological dispute.

Five years ago: The British House of Commons voted overwhelming approval to a bill to restrict colored immigration to Britain.

One year ago: President Nixon ended a visit to China.

CHECKING ON DEEP CREEK--Maps and other data are being checked on the banks of Deep Creek as an examination team studies the stream's watershed to determine feasibility of a flood control project. From left are W.W. Snyder, economist, and H.N. McGill, hydrologist with the state Soil Sonservation Office at Temple; and Von Kleibrink, local unit conservationist. Also participating in the survey are G.E. Kretzschmar of the state Soil and Water Conservation Board; Joe J. McEntire, area conservationist and Dou Bartosch, SCS area engineer, both of Big Spring; George Litton and James Hefferman, local ranchers; C.A. Rechenthin, state resource conservationist, and Glenn Stanley, biologist with the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, Fort Worth. The results of the examination will be made public at a meeting Thursday night in the district courtroom.

US Calls For POW Release

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House today accused Hanoi of violating a prisoner agreement with the United States and called on North Vietnam to release immediately at least 120 more American POWs.

Press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said President Nixon had instructed Secretary of State William P. Rogers to demand from North Vietnamese officials a clarification of the delay in the second round of scheduled prisoner releases "on a most urgent basis."

The White House spokesman said Hanoi is in violation of Article IV of the Vietnam peace agreement which, he said, declared that prisoners should be returned "at a rate no slower than the rate of withdrawal of American and allied forces."

Ziegler said the United States already has withdrawn more than half the troops it had in South Vietnam at the time the agreement was signed. While emphasizing that he was using unofficial figures, Ziegler said that Hanoi would have to release 120 more Americans at once in order to keep pace with the withdrawal.

Ziegler said Rogers, attending a Vietnam conference in Paris, was told by Nixon to take up the matter with North Vietnamese officials "as a matter of the highest priority before other business is conducted."

Ziegler said the instructions to Rogers were issued following a lengthy meeting this morning between Nixon and presidential adviser Henry Kissinger, who negotiated the cease-fire agreement.

Ziegler said terms of the peace agreement make it clear that the pace of prisoner releases cannot be linked to any factors other than the withdrawal rate.

He said the United States "will not accept linking" the prisoner question with any other matter involved in the agreement.

Asked if Rogers also had been instructed to suggest retaliatory measures might be taken if the second batch of U.S. POWs is not set free quickly, Ziegler said: "I'm not in a postion to predict or speculate on that matter."

To date, 155 servicemen and eight civilians have been released, Ziegler said.

Top Court Reverses Club Ruling

By VERNON A. GUIDRY JR.
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — When a segregated swimming club in a Washington suburb gave membership preference to those living nearby, it gave up any basis for denying membership to Negroes, the Supreme Court ruled unanimously today.

The high court reversed the U.S. Circuit Court at Richmond, Va., which had allowed the Wheaton-Haven Recreation Association, as a private club, to bar Negroes as members.

"When an organization links membership benefits to residency in a narrow geographical area, that decision infuses those benefits into the bundle of rights for which an individual pays when buying or leasing within the area," wrote Justice Harry Blackmun for the court.

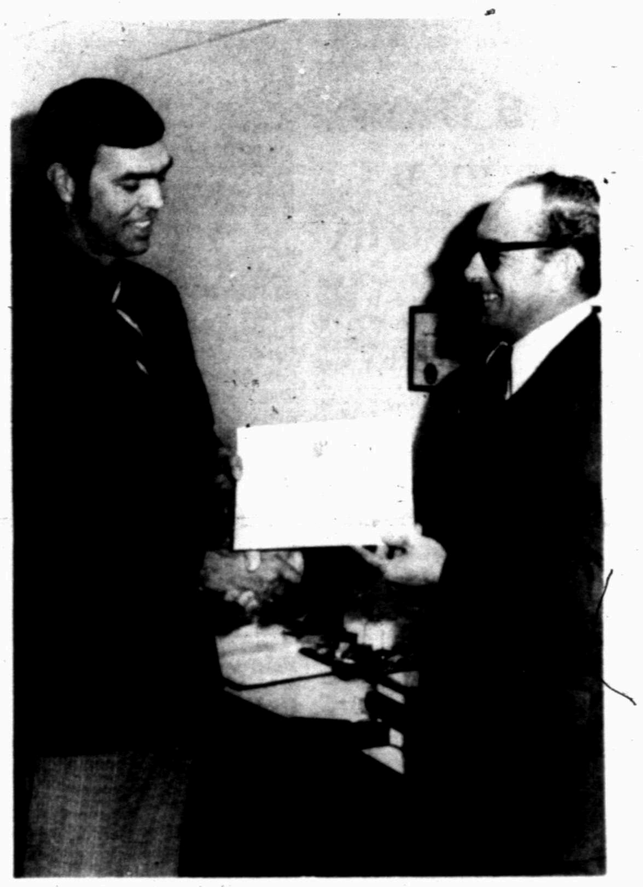

The justices in 1969 ruled 5 to 3 that a Negro family that buys or rents a home in a subdivision must be allowed to use recreational facilities that go with the property.

In the Wheaton-Haven case, the court of appeals held that since the membership in the swimming right could neither be leased nor transferred with the sale of property, the club did not fall under the earlier decision.

The high court said today the lower bench made too fine a distinction. In the present case as well as the earlier one, the court said, membership in the club was open to everyone within a geographic area, with the only element of selection being based on race.

The association's swimming pool is located north of Washington in well-to-do Montgomery County near Silver Spring, Md.

Club policy provided that preference be given to those living within a three-quarter radius of the pool. Others could join, but they required a sponsoring member.

WTC POLICE TRAINING CERTIFIED--Ray Robbins, left, receives a certificate of accreditation from Argel E. Roberts of the Texas Commission on Law enforcement Standards and Education this morning at Western Texas College. Thus, the law enforcement training department, headed by Robbins, is now fully certified by the state.

Economic Indicators Rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government said today its list of leading economic indicators rose an average of 1.2 per cent in January, continuing the same rate of steady rise as the last quarter of 1972.

The report said industrial contracts and orders for plants and equipment rose 2.8 per cent and new orders for durable goods climbed 4.8 per cent last month.

Stock prices rose eight-tenths of one per cent and prices of industrial materials increased 3.3 per cent, said the Commerce department report.

AT GOVERNORS MEET

Domestic Budget Cuts Criticized

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Wendell Ford of Kentucky said today President Nixon's domestic budget cuts "make a mockery" of his stated goals of avoiding a tax increase, reducing inflation and shifting responsibility from the federal government to the states.

In a statement for Sen. Edmund S. Muskie's intergovernmental-relations subcommittee, the Kentucky Democrat set the tone for what looms as a three-day Democratic assault on the administration during meetings of the nation's governors.

While Muskie's subcommittee heard criticism similar to that it received last week from a number of mayors, many of the Democratic governors attended a reception given by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and House Speaker Carl Albert.

Ford, who termed his 26-page statement "a realistic, matter-of-fact assessment" of Nixon's budget, said the President's conclusion that the budget seeks to avoid a tax increase is "perhaps the most deceptive of the stated objectives of the proposed budget."

In contrast to the intent of revenue sharing to ease the burden on the states, the Kentucky Democrat said the budget forces state and local governments onto "their own resources to try to sustain programs slashed or terminated in the proposed budget."

Ford declared that Nixon "is shifting the federal deficit to states while increasing the costs of states to subsidize the rest of his budget."

Rather than avoiding a tax increase, the budget "actually increases the most regressive of taxes as evident by increased Medicare charges and costs to be borne by those least able to pay," the governor said.

Draft Lottery Set March 8

WASHINGTON (AP) — A lottery for a standby military draft will be held here on March 8 even though it is unlikely that anyone in the lottery will be drafted.

The Selective Service System said the men receiving lottery numbers will be those reaching age 19 during 1973; that is, all men born in 1954.

"For the first time since the lottery was instituted in 1969, the men receiving lottery numbers will not face the prospect of possible induction into the armed forces," a statement said.

However, it explained that men receiving lottery numbers will be potentially vulnerable to induction for all of 1974. A processing ceiling number will be announced March 8, and those at this number or below will be classified to form a standby pool of "readily inductable men," it said.

U.S., N-Viets In Agreement

By MIACHAEL GOLDSMITH
Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP) — The United States and North Vietnam agreed today on a system for reconvening the international Vietnam conference to deal with any peace violations, but the system effectively gave each side a veto.

Conference sources said the agreement provides for reconvening the conference only if Washington and Hanoi concur, or if either of them has the backing of at least six other conference members.

The 12 governments represented at the conference are split evenly into Communist and non-Communist states. The need to assemble at least seven votes in favor of recalling the conference thus would prevent such a session taking place against the will of either side.

The Washington-Hanoi agreement was reached in private discussions and was submitted to a drafting committee.

The declaration was expected to be formally signed by the weekend.

The remaining disagreements involved such questions as extending peacekeeping machinery to Laos and Cambodia, giving an explicit Vietnam peace function to U.N. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim and arranging reconstruction aid to Vietnam on an international basis.

These points, all put forward by Western ministers, ran into stiff Communist opposition, the sources reported.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and the North Vietnamese foreign minister, Nguyen Duy Trinh, singled out the West's nonrecognition of the Viet Cong administration as one of the major remaining obstacles to agreement.

The U.S. delegation spokesman, Robert J. McCloskey, told newsmen the United States "hopes and expects" the remaining differences will be ironed out by the time the conference adjourns.

The approach to agreement contrasted with developments in Vietnam itself, where Hanoi and the Viet Cong suspended their release of American war prisoners.

None of the foreign ministers attending these talks raised this issue during the second plenary session.

However, the Communist and non-Communist foreign ministers split over a U.N. role in postwar Vietnam and over the competence of the meeting to deal with Laos and Cambodia.

Geo. Vincent Is Candidate

George C. Vincent, a retired stock farmer, has filed for a place on the ballot as a candidate for Councilman, Place 3, in the Snyder City Election set for April 3.

Vincent is the second candidate to seek Place 3 on the council, the post now held by John Boren. Leonard Gallegos announced last week that he would seek the post.

Incumbents are seeking re-election in both of the other council positions be be filed this year. They are J.D. Hinton, Place 1, and Joe Sentell, Place 5.

Utility Subpanel Still Unnamed

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Sen. William Moore, D-Bryan, wants to keep the pressure off a subcommittee that will study a statewide utility commission bill, so he declined to appoint the subcommittee Monday.

Asked by a reporter if he would reveal the names of the subcommittee members, Moore shot back: "Hell no. That's mighty important...I'm going to sleep on that."

Earlier, he indicated he wanted the State Affairs Committee to vote on the bill and not send it to subcommittee. Opponents of controversial bills begin to put pressure on subcommittee members as soon as they are named, he said.

Moore changed his mind after three hours of testimony and agreed to send his bill to a subcommittee, which he, as chairman of the full committee, will appoint.

Moore said he couldn't explain utility rates to his constituents and that he wanted to shift responsibility to a statewide commission that would regulate utilities.

"This thing has been kicked around the legislature for the last 20 years," he said.

Texas is the only major state without a statewide regulatory body for utilities, he said. An opposition witness later said Texas was the only state without a statewide commission to regulate telephone companies, but that all other states had statewide regulation of power companies.

Moore said he voted against a utilities commission two years ago because there was a different governor then. He has confidence, he said, that Gov. Dolph Briscoe will name "three good people" to serve on the commission.

"I don't say that any of them are gouging the public," Moore continued. "I don't know. But I can't explain it to the people in my district."

City councils are at the mercy of power companies because "they've got to pay what they'll sell it to them for," he said.

He cited the case of a proposed development of a model city in Montgomery County that could not be guaranteed long distance telephone service because Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. considers the development site—now nothing but pine trees—in its jurisdiction.

He accused Bell of forcing an appeal to the Federal Communications Commission because the developer refused to ask Bell to furnish the long distance service. The average appeal to the FCC takes three years, he said.

HEAVY DAMAGE — This 1968 Model Volkswagen sustained heavy damage in a 5-car pileup on U.S. 180 2.7 miles east of town at 7:50 a.m. today. The driver, Sandra Frazier of Aspermont, sustained minor injuries, but was not hospitalized. Investigating Highway Patrolmen said the pileup occurred in a heavy fog. Damage to the other vehicles involved was described as less severe than that to the Volkswagen.

Hill Gives Opinion On Penalty

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — If the Texas legislature wants to reinstate the death penalty, it hasn't found the right solution yet, Atty.Gen. John Hill said Monday.

The attorney general's opinion came at the request of Rep. Bob Hendricks, D-McKinney, chairman of a House committee that is considering two bills on the death penalty. Each of the two would allow either life imprisonment or capital punishment for certain categories of murder.

"A statute leaving the imposition of the death penalty to the discretion of the agency assessing punishment, without setting precise objective standards by which the selection of alternative punishments is to be invariably determined, would be held unconstitutional," Hill said.

"Some persons, commenting on the decision (outlawing the death penalty as then used), have concluded that the Supreme Court would uphold a death penalty statute only if it made the penalty mandatory under certain circumstances. Without necessarily agreeing with that analysis, it is our opinion that the less discretion placed in the courts and juries to determine the sentence to be imposed, the more likely it is that the court will uphold the statute," he said.

13 Arrested In Marijuana Cases Here

City Police and an undercover agent who has been working with them for several weeks arrested 13 person on narcotics charges here yesterday afternoon.

Two of those arrested were juveniles, and three others were charged with unlawful sale of marijuana. These three include Hubert Mack Dishman, Larry Don Beard and Joseph Lee Costillo.

Eight were charged with unlawful possession of marijuana. They are Duchess Lynette Whetsel, Joe Aycock, Sharon Garrison, LaWayne Luther Fagin, Richard Regis Harper, Therisa Ann Campbell, Paul Allen Norred and Scott Roger Cockrell.

The undercover agent had previous experience in narcotics investigation, officers said. Detective Gary Barrett of the Snyder Police Department said the department is holding warrants for the arrest of several other suspects.

Bond was set at $3,000 by Justice of the Peace J.P. Billingsley for those charged with unlawful sale of marijuana. Billingsley set bond at $1,500 for those charged with unlawful possession of marijuana. All of the suspects were released after posting bond.

Votes To Cut Off Foreign Aid

By HARRISON HUMPHRIES
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has voted to cut off foreign aid April 30 unless President Nixon releases $4.5 billion approved by Congress for domestic programs.

The committee attached that provision Monday to a bill authorizing $1.55 billion in military aid over the next four months.

The bill, which also prohibits spending of appropriated funds for rehabilitation of North Vietnam without congressional approval, will be ready for Senate floor debate later this week. The measure authorizes military-aid grants to 64 countries.

But the bill would cut off foreign-aid commitments after April 30 unless Nixon allows full spending of appropriated funds for the departments of Agriculture, Transportation, Housing and Urban Development, and Health, Education and Welfare.

The amendment was sponsored by Sen. J.W. Fulbright, chairman of Foreign Relations, on a 9-7 vote along party lines.

As a weapon in the fight against inflation, Nixon is refusing to spend appropriations earmarked for various domestic programs in an attempt to hold down government spending. Both houses of Congress are involved in a battle with the White House over this impoundment practice.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., who advocates congressional authority to set spending priorities without item veto by the president, said he voted against the provisions tying foreign aid to domestic spending, on grounds it was an attempt by foreign-aid opponents to kill the program.

In a related development, the Senate approved an extension of foreign-aid spending until April 30. The same resolution carries continuing spending authority for the Labor and Health, Education and Welfare departments until the end of the current fiscal year June 30.

The spending bill was returned to the House, which had been willing to allow continued expenditures in both areas until June 30.

Present temporary spending authority expires at midnight Wednesday.

Meir Sees Search For Peace

WASHINGTON (AP) — Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir says she believes the search for peace in the Middle East will go on, despite the shooting down of a Libyan airliner by Israeli planes last week.

Mrs. Meir also said upon her arrival in Washington Monday that she understood the world revulsion over the tragedy in which 106 persons, most of them Libyans, were killed.

"It would be indeed a callous world if it happened otherwise," she said, "but even in a state of shock and true sorrow we have to go on searching for peace."

Mrs. Meir planned to confer with members of Congress today and Wednesday, and will meet with President Nixon on Thursday regarding peace moves in the Middle East.

She said the United States now is playing "the perfect role" in the Middle East by expressing considerable interest in peace and showing its willingness "to help the parties to get together."

"I'm sure the United States is prepared to do everything possible to help," she added, "everything except one thing: to decide for the parties" or to impose a settlement.

Mrs. Meir said Israelis felt "true sorrow" over the shooting down of the Libyan airliner. "If we had an inkling that there were passengers on the plane nothing like this would have happened," she said.

Five Cars In Pile-Up During Fog

Five cars were involved in two separate motor vehicles mishaps 2.7 miles east of town on fog-shrouded U.S. 180 at 7:50 a.m. today.

Investigating Highway Patrolmen said Sandra Frazier, Aspermont, and Nona Williams, Route 2, Hermleigh slowed their cars to stop for a school bus. A 1971 Model Chevrolet, also traveling west, and driven by Steven Carriker of Roby crashed into the Volkswagen of Mrs. Frazier from behind knocking it into the Plymouth of Mrs. Williams officers said.

A few minutes later, a 1971 Model Mercury operated by Gilbert Soliz of Roby came along and collided with the Volkswagen, officers said. At the same time, a 1971 Model Ford operated by Bobby Holcomb of Roby, slid into the Mercury.

Mrs. Frazier sustained minor injuries, but did not require hospitalization. Officers said there was heavy damage to the Volkswagen and considerable damage to the Mercury and the Ford. There was minor damage to the Plymouth.

Risner Says War Protesters Hurt

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Air Force Col. Robinson Risner, one of the most outspoken American POWs released by North Vietnam, says he feels "beyond any doubt" that Vietnam war protesters and their spokesmen "kept us in prison an extra year or two."

Col. Risner said Monday he believes the release of American POWs came about largely because of President Nixon's decision to step up bombing and the introduction of B52 raids against the Hanoi-Haiphong area last Christmas.

The Air Force officer, who spent 7½ years in Hanoi prison camp, said American prisoners were "extremely surprised" to learn that South Dakota Sen. George McGovern had won the Democratic presidential nomination.

In an interview published by The Daily Oklahoman, Risner said he and other POWs opposed McGovern's policies and backed Nixon's handling of the war.

Risner said he could not see "the Vietnamese ever keeping their promises to a person who would come and beg for the prisoners."

AUSTIN (AP) — The House approved a bill today to make sure merchants pass their sales tax collections on to the state treasury. The measure now goes to the Senate, where a similar bill is mired down. Senators failed Monday to take it up for debate.

House members also passed to the Senate a bill that would permit injured workmen to choose their own doctors.

The sales tax measure advanced on second reading Monday.

If finally passed by both Houses, the bill would require businesses that collect sales taxes to deposit either a bond or cash, treasury bonds, savings certificates or certificates of deposit with the comptroller to guarantee they will send the taxes on to the state. The deposit would be either $50,000 or three times a firm's average quarterly sales tax liability, whichever is lower. A business would not have to make a deposit if it had not been delinquent in remitting its sales tax collectins to the state for two years.

The Legislative Budget Board estimated the bill would increase state revenue by $9.3 million in the coming fiscal year.

Organized labor for several years has sought the measure allowing injured employes covered by workmen's compensation to select their own doctors. Current law says an injured workers must use the doctor or chiropractor selected by workmen's compensation insurance companies.

The bill advanced Monday on a voice vote, after the House refused, 83-49, to approve an amendment by Rep. Tom Craddick, R—Midland, to remove chiropractors.

It took the House more than two hours Monday night to give preliminary approval to a bill requiring Houston officials to bargain collectively with the firefighters' association on wages, hours and working conditions.

The bill advanced, 84-46, after an amendment was added to cancel the collective bargaining requirement if Houston voters do not approve it in a local option election by June 4, 1974.

Senators passed several bills to the House Monday, including measures that would authorize the State Health Department to conduct a program to control head lice on school children and let junior colleges call themselves "community colleges."

Ex-POW, Wife Agree On Divorce

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — Divorce proceedings have been filed here on behalf of one of the first former prisoners of war to return from North Vietnam.

The divorce petition was filed in Lorain County Common Pleas Court by a Lorain attorney who served as best man at the 1961 wedding of Air Force Capt. Burton W. Campbell and his wife, Bonnie.

The couple announced last week that they would seek the divorce by mutual consent. Campbell asked in the brief statement, "If you really care about us, please leave us alone until it is resolved."

Campbell, who has been hospitalized at Wright Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton since his return, was shot down over North Vietnam in 1966.

US Dollar Strengthens

LONDON (AP) — The U.S. dollar strengthened today in early trading on European money markets. Gold held steady.

A London dealer reported the markets "comparatively quiet."

The dollar improved in London, Zurich, Frankfurt, Milan, Brussels and other centers. It was also stronger in Tokyo.

Gold opened in Zurich at $81 an ounce, unchanged from Monday night. In London, Europe's other major gold market, the metal moved up 50 cents to 81.20. During the height of the gold rush last week it was moving up $7 an ounce or more in a day's trading.

Makeup Artist Says Eyes Attract Attention First

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Talking eyes and a sexy mouth can bewitch a man, even if a woman has a big nose. So says Santiago Seijo of Rome, well known as Sergio, whose career has included being personal makeup artist to Sophia Loren.

"Eyes will make the first conquest, then he will look at your mouth," Sergio observed, adding:

"Eyes tell more about a woman than her lips, but it is her lips that will speak the story of love that the man may find in her eyes."

To meet this romantic emergency, lips should look full and expressive like those of Sophia or Jacqueline Onassis, whose mouths he admires. Faye Dunaway has an interesting mouth, too, "but not in the same way," he said.

"A cupid's bow mouth can never look sexy. To me there is something psychological about associating it with decadence... the roaring 20s... the depression..." says the makeup expert.

As for a big nose, you can solve it cleverly with makeup, emphasizing your good features, he says. It was he who "gave Sophia her assets," he explained, which included "making her large nose disappear." Her mouth was large, too, but in balancing it, it became an asset with "the fantastic eyes (which, he says, he taught her to slant) and heightened cheekbones with which she is blessed..."

Sergio met Sophia, when he (and Givenchy) worked at the fashion house of Balenciaga, the Spanish dress designer. He had obtained a master's degree from the University of Madrid and a doctorate in romance languages from the Sorbonne. He soon decided he would rather be a face designer, applying his knowledge of color to faces, "designing a background."

In that capacity he worked with Italian films, but for the last seven years he has been associated with Eve of Roma on the Via Veneto where his impressive list of clients includes princesses, actresses, opera singers, society people and a queen... Queen Mother Frederica of Greece.

"A woman can do marvelous things with her face if she doesn't take it for granted," he advised. "Each feature should be analyzed for its beauty potential and she should learn how to enhance good features and play down poor ones."

For example, little tricks can enhance the eyes. Protruding eyebones should be darkened to make them appear to recede, never brightened with shimmering substances which would make them more important than the eyes. In addition, if eyes are deepset, light makeup should be applied to the lid to balance the entire eye area. Dark substances would make the eyes appear to recede even more.

Eye liner is totally out of fashion, he observed, but a thin line at the end of the eye might be smudged for shading. And eyebrows shouldn't be shaggy, "a washer woman look... like putting a heavy frame on a beautiful little painting..."

He laments client Ali McGraw's straggly eyebrows and tags the effect "the Joan Crawford of the 70s" look.

"Crawford would have called more attention to her beautiful eyes if she hadn't framed them with heavy brows," he explained.

Cheekbones are important considerations in achieving a balanced face with makeup because they help shape it, he observed. If the face is long, cheekbones should appear to be lowered: if the face is round, they should be brought closer to the nose. The trick is always to bring the face to an oval shape, using dark makeup to make areas recede and light makeup to make them more prominent.

It is ridiculous, he says, to abandon one's [illegible] for a kinky lad ... shaved brows or whatever one has outgrown ... ideas and relies on striking effects for attention.

"To me a mature woman can be far more devastating than a younger woman," he remarked, "and what makes her fascinating is a willingness to change rather than accept herself as she is... but the change should be an improvement.

"Marlene Dietrich is the perfect example. Her charm is ageless because she makes the best of everything she has, whereas many older women concentrate on covering up lines with lots of makeup. Lines may be caused by the accumulation of dead skin cells and the failure to remove makeup."

To help remove hard, dry skin cells, a woman might massage her face every day with a rough bath towel, using a firm up and down motion, but not stretching the skin, he advised. The abrasive action should also tone face muscles. In his opinion men do not have such lines because they are constantly removing dead skin when they shave.

Bikes May Be Faster Than Cars

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Although sale of bicycles in the United States in 1971 exceeded factory sales of cars by more than 2¼ million (8.9 million bikes versus 6.5 million cars), the bicycle has had negligible impact on commuter traffic, Arthur D. Little Inc., reports. The automobile still accounts for 82 per cent of trips to and from work, while public transport and walking accounts for most of the remainder.

But, adds the research firm, for trips in city traffic, the bicycle may be the fastest mode of travel. In one recent study with 25 bike-car commuter time trials over different routes averaging five miles, bicycles won 21, cars 3 and there was one tie.

Gals Help Support Families

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) — Nearly four of every five workering women today help support a family according to a financial services expert.

W. Scane Bowler, chairman of the board of Pioneer Western Corp., said that "contrary to popular opinion, most working girls are not single.

"Of the total work force of 83.8 million persons in 1971, 31.6 million were women. Fewer than 23 per cent of the women were single — the others were married, divorced or widowed," he added.

The largest segment of working women are those who have husbands who are working or at home. More than 58 per cent, he said, are in this category.

"Divorced wives account for only 6 per cent of the women in the work force but they represent the fastest growing segment, up about 30 per cent since 1960," Bowler added.

There are 1.4 million more single women on the job today than there were in 1965.

"In families where there are two or more breadwinners, females have been punching time clocks in increasing numbers, up 25 per cent in six years to 19 million by last year," he said.

Bowler said that women are also having more to say about how the money they earn is being used. They are becoming involved in family financial planning-savings, insurance and investments.

BIRD CAUGHT IN A BADMINTON GAME!

NINE OF TEN MAKING MONEY

Many Have Distorted Image On Railroads

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — It is understandable that you might have the impression that railroads ceased to be profitable at about the same time that Currier & Ives stopped making prints. But that's not the picture at all.

While the fiancially troubled Penn Central, the nation's largest, has been in and out of the news almost weekly during the past few years, nine of the country's 10 biggest lines have been making money.

They intend to remain profitable, too, mainly by investing hundreds of millions of dollars a year in their capital plants.

But paradoxically, a large percentage of Americans believe variously that the industry is depressed or on the verge of collapse or about to be taken over by the federal government.

Why?

To begin with, people have feelings and freight does not. The railroads maintain that transporting people is unprofitable. Riders have been told they are a burden, and they've reacted vociferously.

The biggest clamor of all has come from commuters and short-distance travelers in the Northeast and Midwest, which together have the greatest concentration of people in the nation.

Freight continues to pay its way. One line, Southern Railway, has had seven straight years of record-high income, and last year reported pretax profits of more than $100 million on $700 million in revenue.

A fascinating explanation for the distorted image of the industry, and the reasons why one line prospers while others declare bankruptcy, is offered by Frank Barton, assistant to Southern's president.

The story of Southern's success begins, said Barton, with the South losing the Civil War. Unlike other vanquished foes, the South was not the recipient of federal generosity. During the Reconstruction, he said, very little reconstruction was undertaken.

It was during this time that the nation's basic rail system was built to its present size. Because industry was largely situated in the Northeast, rails proliferated there. And because the Midwest and West were growing, lines were extended there.

Few lines were built in the economically depressed South and even today, says Barton, "we have a relatively lean rail system, not afflicted with large segments of unprofitable track."

In the East and Midwest, the picture is different. Industrial and traffic patterns have changed, and now there is much unneeded track. In fact, he claims, between 10 and 25 per cent of all rail mileage in the country is unneeded.

Not so in the South. While it was considered a poor investment at the turn of the century, it is now growing faster than any other geographical region of the country, much faster than the Northeast.

Barton wants it understood that history alone is not responsible for the Southern's success. "We keep most of our earnings in the business, and we concentrate on railroading rather than unrelated fields," he says.

Cost control, plant modernization, training programs and modern marketing techniques contribute, he maintains, and he cites the example of "Big John" to illustrate the latter.

Big John is a 100-ton covered hopper that cut 60 per cent off the line's grain shipping costs. Protests by water carriers delayed use of the cars for four years until a Supreme Court decision cleared the way.

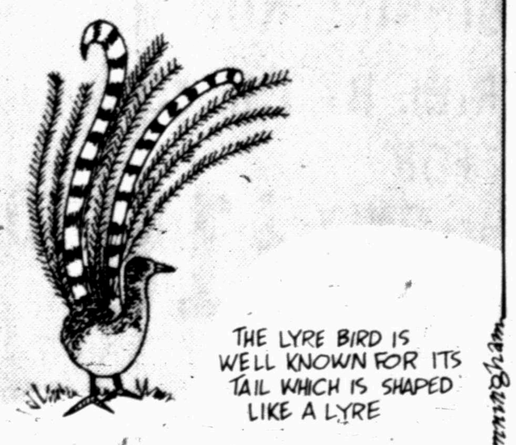

While awaiting clearance, Southern gambled $13 million on new equipment and had 575 Big Johns ready for use when the decision came and another 500 on order.

Bulk cargoes such as this give Southern a big advantage over many lines. Long hauls help reduce costs, too, as does the fact that it is not a commuter line or primarily a passenger line.

But perhaps the biggest boost, as Barton sees it, came from the war that was lost.

Canada has less than one per cent of the world's population.

Junior Editors' Quiz on LYRE BIRDS

QUESTION: Tell me something about the lyre bird.

* * *

ANSWER: The lyre bird is a beautiful Australian bird. The male of the species has the unusual characteristic of a large tail, shaped like the ancient lyre. This spectacular tail has two broad feathers curving upward, with slender feathers in between. Usually the tail is carried low, but when it is raised, it is about 2 feet long. The male displays his attractive tail to impress the females during the mating season.

The lyre bird is a solitary bird, about the size of a chicken. The tail is larger than the bird itself. The feather arrangement of the tail does not reach full growth until the bird is 7 or 8 years old. Both sexes have a sooty brown plumage. A sturdy, dome-shaped nest is made on the ground and the female lays one egg in it. This bird is a poor flier, but is an extremely rapid runner. It flops its wings when running and leaping. It sings a loud, melodious song and uses its musical voice to mimic the calls of other birds. Sometimes it even imitates animal sounds.

Kinds Of Girls Not To Marry

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — What kind of a girl should a man marry?

That isn't too hard to figure out. A man should marry the girl he's in love with and can get along with, and who loves him and can get along with him.

What kind of girl should a man avoid marrying? Any other kind.

But he should be at special pains to avoid marrying the kind of girl who —

Spends more on her hair than he does on his entire wardrobe.

Thinks being "a mere housewife" — as she calls it — is somehow degrading.

Feels a husband should wash his own socks.

Takes pride in the fact she doesn't cook well and has no desire to learn.

Can't keep a home looking reasonably tidy as well as lived-in.

Can't keep from keeping a home unreasonably tidy.

Expects to dole out his lunch money every day instead of once a week.

Is so wasteful her husband will have to throw out two sacks of garbage every night.

Doesn't think any comic strips are ever funny.

Vows that the first thing she'll do when she marries a man is reform him.

Keeps her fingernails twice the normal length and broods for days if she breaks one.

Never thinks it is fun to get wet in a sudden summer rain.

Believes her relatives invariably show more character than his do.

Would rather play with an old doll than a new baby.

Would rather start a new war with her mother-in-law than keep an uneasy truce.

Serves either too many leftovers or never serves any at all.

Thinks all men are really "just little boys — and bad little boys at that."

Spends most of her time proving she can play bridge better than any other woman in town.

Is secretly ashamed that the diamond in her engagement ring isn't as big as she'd like it to be.

Expects her husband to come straight home on paydays with his uncashed paycheck in his mouth — but wouldn't think of ever greeting him at the door with his house slippers in her mouth.

Thinks an article like this is too ridiculous for words, because, "after all, let's be serious — what man ever knew anything about women in the first place, now really?"

Coming up next, Girls — Some Kinds of Boys Not to Marry.

Wallace's Doctor Denies Report

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — George C. Wallace's chief physician has called "totally false" reports that the Alabama governor is kept under constant sedation and "half the time is in a daze."

Dr. H.H. Hutchinson said Monday that Wallace is in pain much of the time but takes only a mild pain-killer, "like aspirin, that you can buy at the drugstore."

Hutchinson said the 53-year-old governor, paralyzed in both legs since he was wounded in an assassination attempt nine months ago, is "a good bit improved" since a recent prostate gland operation. He added that Wallace has gained eight to 10 pounds since last week's operation.

Ancient Art Maintained At Rogers

Art lovers unite! People interested in a not quite lost art should visit Rogers on the west side of the square.

Serving this area since 1916, Rogers has established and maintains a tradition of helping people find the right clothes. You select the image you want to project and an experienced staff at Rogers will help you select a suitable wardrobe in the latest fashion.

This is not a new theme with Rogers. For years they have been helping local shoppers in this manner. 'Harmonation' is having your clothes say nice things about you.

In the tradition of fine men's clothiers for centuries Rogers also offers other services not normally found such as gift certificates, gift wrapping, alterations, fitting, mailing of packages, and for the busy person a personal shopper.

Indeed, the "Lost art" is alive and well at Rogers in downtown Snyder.

Stricklands To Mark 1st Anniversary

Strickland TV Sales and Service wil be celebrating their first anniversary as a full-fledged Motorola dealer this week.

Hoyle Strickland, a graduate of Elkins Electronic Institute, has been servicing televisions and other electronic components for three years and the month of March marks his fourth year and the first year of a sales dealership. The local Motorola dealer was honored by being designated as a Customer Problem Solving Center, meaning that area dealerships send Strickland's TV problems not easily dealt with.

A full line of Motorola products is offered from a cabinet television to car stereos. Being the man that services an electronic unit Strickland recognizes the quality built into Motorola. He said, "they're durable, and if you have trouble they are easy and fast to service."

Osmonds May Move To Britain

LONDON (AP) — The Osmond Brothers, American singing idols of millions of young people, say they may move to Britain because of death and kidnap threats back home.

Fifteen-year-old Donny Osmond and his brother Alan, 23, wouldn't discuss the reported threats, but their father, George Osmond, said Monday, "We've had a lot of bomb threats lately. Things are getting pretty scary. We have had to take tremendous security precautions."

Osmond and his sons were keeping the location of their luxury hotel secret to avoid repetition of an incident four months ago when a mob of teen-age girl fans—known as weeny boppers—used iron bars to batter their way into a hotel to get near their idols.

The brothers, members of a six-strong group, flew here unannounced at the weekend to receive an award for selling four million records in Britain last year.

Mrs. Bynum Opened First Fabric Store

The ardent shopper will be hard pressed to find a place like the House of Fabrics anywhere in the southwest.

Lucile Bynum, owner and operator opened the first fabric store in town in 1953. She spent 12 years sewing for the public and then opened the House of Fabrics here in 1964.

Today the store carries a selection of double knits, currently on sale at 25 to 33 per cent off, dacrons, cottons, linens, and blends of flax, rayons and polyesters. And three lines of zippers, along with the Simplicity line of clothing patterns.

Most of the material is made in the U.S.A., but high quality European made material is available at the same or comparable price.

Mrs. Bynum adds a personal touch by helping you select material and patterns that will make you look 'most Becoming'.

Anne, Mark Go Riding

WARFIELD, England (AP) — Princess Anne has gone riding with the cavalry officer she reportedly is intending to marry. The couple were training Monday to compete against each other in a horse show next month.

The 22-year-old only daughter of Queen Elizabeth II met 24-year-old Lt. Mark Phillips at his parents' home here. They later drove off to Windsor Castle where Phillips stayed overnight.

Government Cautions Hoffa

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, which freed former Teamsters President James R. Hoffa from prison and then was endorsed by his successor in the 1972 presidential election, has cautioned Hoffa against any attempt to regain power in the giant labor union.

"The government will move quickly to enforce all aspects of the conditional commutation in the event that Mr. Hoffa does not abide by the conditions imposed on him," Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst said Monday.

The statement followed newspaper accounts quoting the 60-year-old Hoffa as planning to return to the presidency of his old home local in Detroit if the government would lift the ban against his taking part in any union activity.

Many sources saw this as an opening bid toward eventually winning back the national presidency of the two-million-member union.

Nixon, in commuting Hoffa's 13 years in prison sentences and freeing him two days before Christmas 1971, attached the condition that Hoffa hold no union office and take no part in labor-management affairs until 1980.

Terms of Hoffa's parole, which are separate from the commutation, expire March 10 and Hoffa has told newsmen he would seek a meeting March 11 with Kleindienst to discuss lifting the 1980 restriction.

"I have informed Mr. Hoffa through his attorney, Morris Shenker, that the conditions set forth in the commutation order are not negotiable. Therefore there is no need for a meeting," Kleindienst said Monday.

One Killed In Car-Truck Crash

CANYON, Tex. (AP) — A collision of a car and a pickup truck Monday night killed Judy Parker, 19, of Amarillo and injured six other persons, two seriously.

The crash occurred just outside the west edge of Canyon at an intersection of U.S. 60 and a county road.

Attendants said those suffering the worst injuries were Joe Garrison, 19, of Canyon, who was driving the car which carried Miss Parker, and Mrs. Lloyd Kriling of Amarillo, who was among six persons in the pickup driven by her husband.

Clark Lbr. As Old As City Itself

Clark Lumber Company, 1706 Twenty-fifth Street, has been in existence almost as long as the City of Snyder. The owner is G. B. Clark, Jr. Manager since 1962 is John Reed.

Reed said Clark Lumber Company has many different things for sale, including fir wood, oilfield lumber, rough and finished wood, plywood, fencing materials, barbed wire, posts, field fences, roofing materials, water heaters and general plumbing supplies, paint, hand and power tools, light fixtures, all types of bolts, carpet and linoleum, formica, electrical supplies, ladders and storm doors.

In addition, the firm rents rug shampooers, floor sanders, power saws, drills, pipe threaders and cutters.

There are 13 employes at Clark Lumber Company, and everyone of them will be happy to help you find what you want. Store hours are from 7 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. five days a week and from 7 a.m. to 12 o'clock noon on Saturdays.

"We try to give unlimited service," said Reed. "If we don't happen to have what you want in stock, then we'll try to get it for you," he said.

The telephone number at Clark Lumber Co. is 573-6343.

Translations of the Gettysburg Address into 29 languages have been compiled and issued in a booklet by the Library of Congress.

Released POW Denies Statement

By JOHN LUMPKIN
Associated Press Priter

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — An Army helicopter pilot grounded by the Viet Cong almost two years ago said today he did not make the end-the-war statement Radio Hanoi attributed to him prior to last fall's elections in the United States.

CWO James Hardy Hestand, 23, who entered the service in Oklahoma City and whose parents are from Justice, Ill., spoke at a news conference at Brooke Army Medical Center where he has been undergoing processing since his release two weeks ago in the Orient.

Also appearing at the news conference was Spec. 4 Keith Albert, 23, of Thibodaux, La., who along with Hestand was due to begin convalescent leave today.

Albert was a POW in South Vietnam for almost three years.

Hestand was asked about an Oct. 3, 1972, Communist report that he called for a congressional end to fighting in Vietnam.

"I was told that when I got back. Last October or November I was listening to the radio and heard a few names and mine was one of them," he said. "I ask you to consider the source of that information and it's not true."

He said his captors asked him to make a statement and he refused.

Hestand said POW camp offered him "a long period of time to think about one's self" and the experience "helped me to make a lot of decisions of what I wanted."

He said at present, "I am pretty sure I will make the military a career."

Albert said, "I was pretty easy going at first before my capture." And, he added, he had not really planned his future.

He said he has decided to leave the Army and wants to attend college, hoping to major in biology or a related subject and go to work for a government wildlife fisheries department.

He said he would "keep myself busy" by fashioning artifacts with his hands during his years in prison. He said he made bracelets and beads and also played chess after a chess board was made with cloth and pieces from cardboard.

Vernacular Films

NEW DELHI (AP) — Singapore was the major foreign market for motion pictures in regional Indian languages in the last 2½ years, Deputy Foreign Trade Minister A.C. George told Parliament.

George said Singapore imported 21 vernacular films in that period, one in Malayalan and 20 in Tamil, both South Indian languages.

Bennett's On Scene Since 1952

Bennett Office Supply, 1819 Twenty-fifth Street, has been in continous operation since January of 1952. Harold Bennett, owner and manager, has been with the firm since its beginning.

Bennett is franchise dealer for Victor adding machines, mechanical calculators, electronic printing and display models and pocket models. Bennett also is franchise dealer for Royal typewriters, and he is a dealer for Smith-Corona portables and typewriters.

Bennett's has the largest stock of Hallmark cards, books and party goods in town. In addition, the store has a complete line of Bibles and office supplies, furniture and equipment. Included among the Bibles are the Living Bible, King James' version, and Revised Standard version.

There are many gift items available at Bennett's including billfolds, Cross, Schaeffer and Hallmark pens, art supplies, Russell Stover candy, a large stock of ready-made frames in all sizes, and a large selection of photo albums, scrap books and attache cases.

Freddy Costello, one of the employes, is a trained repairman on typewriters, adding machines and calculators. Bennett's motto is, "Service and quality."

Other employes include Mrs. Harold Bennett, bookkeeper; Mrs. Thomas Hall, who has been with the firm 10 years; and, Marta Walton, a Distributive Education student.

Store hours are from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 8 a.m. to 12 o'clock noon on Saturday.

Just dial 573-7202, and the chances are you'll discover Bennett's has that gift you've been looking for.

Central Tire Serves Area For 23 Years

Would you believe that Central Tire & Automotive Service located at 1510 Twenty-fifth Street started in 1949 as the Bill Ragsdale Tire Company?

Ragsdale Tire Co. was owned jointly by Ragsdale and R.D. Hazelwood and was located beside the old Aztec Theatre on College Avenue. In May, 1950, an experienced Firestone employe, Stanley Noah came to the company adding knowledge and energy to Snyder's leading tire service center.

By 1956, Noah had become sole owner of Central Tire. At that time, a transition was made from an almost entire trade in truck tire and service business to include all phases of auto and truck and automotive mechanics service.

For 23 years, Central Tire and Automotive Service has been serving Scurry Countians and people outside the county with quality service.

Timm Promoted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert D. Timm, a 51-year-old rancher from Olympia W has been promoted to chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board by President Nixon.

Penney's Has Snyder Store Since 1929

J.C. Penney's came to Snyder in 1929 and has since distinguished itself as a store that carries 'First Quality'. People in our area, as people all over the nation do, identify Penney's with the slogan.

Located on the southside of the town square, like the 1,700 other stores in the U.S.A., Penney's offers primarily a full line of clothing for the family from the toddler to men and women. Since 1968, Penney's has offered catalog service, meaning greater selection in a wide variety of items.

"This has enabled us to make a greater merchandise offering to our customers" said Loren W. Sullivan, for seven years the manager of Penney's in Snyder.

"Even with these modernizations, such as our catalog," said Sullivan, "We still believe in the ultimate goal of J.C. Penney, that being customer satisfaction."

Petunias Detect

NEW YORK (AP) — Fish and petunias may come to rival canaries as pollution detectors.

Nearly everyone knows that canaries have been used to give early warning signals of foul air in mines. Now various plants, including petunias, are being tested in government laboratories at Beltsville, Md., for clues to various air-borne pollutants. And Science News reports that fish responses may provide instantaneous gauges of water pollutants.

Hermleigh, McAdoo In Playoff

The Hermleigh Cardinals will tangle with McAdoo at 7:30 p.m. tonight at Slaton in a Class B bi-district basketball playoff game.

Hermleigh is champion of District 10-B and has a 24-5 season and 13-1 district record. McAdoo is champion of district 9-B and has a 31-6 record.

Coaches at Hermleigh are Rusty Hackler and Mike Martin.

Probable starters for the Cardinals are Dale Peterson and Tommy Vineyard at guard, Joe Taylor and Charles Kuss at forward and Ricky Bowman at post. All of them are seniors except Taylor, who is a junior. Bowman and Taylor are the tallest boys on the squad at 6-1.

Other Cardinals ready to lend a helping hand are Jay Roemisch, Ronnie Roemisch, Joel Roemisch, Randy Childs, Raymond Holdridge, Steve Mason and Randy McMillan.

UCLA Bruins Dominate Poll

By DAN BERGER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — UCLA's basketball grinder, having pulverized 68 foes in a row, again heads The Associated Press college poll but the awesome Bruins are giving Coach John Wooden a few more gray hairs anyway.

Wooden's crew garnered 36 of 38 first place votes for a 70-point lead over second-place North Carolina State. The Bruins are beating foes by an average of 23 points per game and are dominating the Pacific-8 Conference in virtually every statistic, except free throw shooting.

"This is a lousy free throw shooting team," Wooden said Monday in a rare bit of slang candor. "This is the worst free throw shooting team I've ever coached, both high school and college."

Wooden said he used two true guards, Tommy Curtis and Greg Lee, in the lineup at the same time last Saturday night against Oregon State while protecting a nine-point lead: "I felt they (Oregon State) would be fouling us a lot and I wanted Greg in there because he's our best free throw shooter. And I wanted Tommy in there so we could bring the ball up against their press."

The Bruins are hitting only 62 per cent of their foul shots and are dead last in that category among Pac-8 teams.

But at 23-0 for the season, UCLA is still the overwhelming No. 1 choice. North Carolina State received two votes for first place, surprising even head Coach Norman Sloan.

"Not even I could vote for us. Until UCLA loses, they are still the best," said Sloan. North Carolina State is ineligible for the playoffs this year.

Minnesota climbed into third place in the latest poll, followed by Long Beach State, Marquette, Providence, North Carolina, Houston, Maryland, Memphis State, Southwestern Louisiana, Indiana, Missouri, Syracuse, New Mexico, Kansas State, St. John's of New York, Jacksonville, South Carolina and Purdue.

The Top Twenty, with first-place votes in parentheses, season records and total points. Points tabulated on basis of 20-18-16-14-12-10-etc.:

1. UCLA (36)	23-0	756
2. No. Caro. St. (2)	23-0	686
3. Minnesota	18-2	557
4. Long Beach St.	22-2	471
5. Marquette	22-2	451
6. Providence	21-2	371
7. No. Carolina	21-5	293
8. Houston	20-3	250
9. Maryland	19-4	244
10. Memphis St.	21-4	192
11. SW La.	21-2	180
12. Indiana	17-5	173
13. Missouri	18-4	86
14. Syracuse	20-4	75
15. New Mexico	22-4	63
16. Kansas Ct.	19-4	61
17. St. John's, NY	18-5	26
18. Jacksonville	20-5	24
19. So. Carolina	18-5	21
20. Purdue	15-6	15

Others receiving votes, listed alphabetically: American U., Austin Peay, Brigham Young, Florida State, Louisville, Marshall, Oral Roberts, Oregon State, Pennsylvania, Penn State, San Diego, St. Francis (PKA.(, San Francisco, Southern California, Tennessee, Tulsa, Vanderbilt.

Keep In Shape For Skiing

ASPEN, Colo. (AP) — Despite the fact you may ski only a few months a year, you have to keep in shape all-year around for it, according to Bob Beattie, ex-Olympic skiing coach and coordinator of the Pepsi-Cola National ski program. "Jogging and tennis are the best conditioners for skiing," says Beattie, "and not just during skiing season but all the time."

Doc Hayes, Wife Killed In Crash

TERRELL, Tex. (AP) — E. O. "Doc" Hayes, beloved and successful former basketball coach of the Southern Methodist Mustangs for 20 years, and his wife, Kathleen, died in a one-car crash Monday.

Texas Department of Public Safety officers said Hayes, 67, and his wife were traveling toward Dallas on Interstate 20 Monday afternoon when their car hit a concrete abutment. The car was demolished, a DPS spokesman said, and Hayes and his wife were pronounced dead-on-arrival at Colonial Hospital here.

Hayes, described by former SMU sports information director Lester Jordan as a fun-loving man who was always out to help his fellow man, won eight Southwest Conference titles at SMU, more than any other conference coach.

He also put together between 1947-1967 a record for most career victories by an SWC coach, 299. He lost 182.

SMU Chancellor Willis M. Tate, who was president of the school during most of Hayes' coaching tenure, said of the former coach and his wife:

"I have lost two close friends and SMU has lost one of its greatest leaders, who was loved by everyone associated with him. Our hearts go out to members of the Hayes family."

Matty Bell, former SMU athletic director, who hired Hayes in 1947, said: "He was one of the finest men and finest coaches I've ever known. He was primarily interested in the boys who played for him, and that interest in them continued long after they completed their college careers."

He was described by Jordan, one of his closest friends, as someone who had a story to tell for every occasion.

Hayes' title years included one in 1962, four straight from 1955-58 and three straight from 1965-67.

His best year nationally was 1956, when the Mustangs, led by All-America Jim Krebs, finished fourth nationally.

After retiring as head coach in 1967, he served as a special associate for two years before joining the Dallas Chaparrals professional basketball team as director of player personnel for two more years.

In 1927, after lettering three times as a basketball player at North Texas State, Hayes graduated and spent 20 years as a top high school coach.

He and his wife married in 1934.

They had two sons, Richard and John, who survive. Funeral arrangements are pending at Restland Funeral Home in Dallas.

The Philadelphia Phillies will end their 1973 home baseball season on Sunday, Sept. 23, with a day game against the Chicago Cubs.

Westerners Trip Wranglers 86-74

The Western Texas College Westerners defeated Odessa Junior College's Wranglers 86-74 here last night in the last Western Junior College Athletic Conference basketball clash of the season.

The win leaves the Westerners with an 18-10 season record and a 9-7 conference mark. The Westerners captured third place in the WJCAC race.

Five Westerners—Walter Hanibal, Steve Sparks, James Hill, Joel Dyess and James Houston--closed out their careers at WTC.

Hanibal had a brilliant career; scoring over 900 points in two, although he missed five games last season with a fractured ankle. He has pulled in about 1,000 rebounds in the two years.

The WTC Basketball Sweetheart was chosen last night. She is Deborah Murphy, a sophomore student from Snyder.

The Miss Spirit award was shared by Ada Newsome and Sharon Autry of Snyder and Bobby Peeples was named Mr. Spirit.

The lead changed hands several times in the first half. The visitors were ahead 13-11 after six minutes of play and 20-19 with 10 minutes remaining. The Westerners took the lead and built a five point lead at 25-20 with 7:42 remaining in the half. Odessa went back ahead, 28-27, with 4:50 remaining, but WTC regained the lead, 29-28, with 4:30 left. Fred Allen pushed in a basket with four seconds remaining to give WTC a 39-32 halftime lead.

Odessa never caught the Westerners in the second half. WTC had a 49-39 lead with 16:07 remaining, a 63-50 lead with 15 minutes left, and a 74-60 lead with five minutes left.

Four Westerners hit in double figures, led by Danny McDaniel, who hit 12 of 21 from the field for 24 points. Hanibal hit 9 of 21 from the floor and collected 20 points. Fred Allen connected on 7 of 16 from the field and netted 8 points. Ronnie Allen hit 6 for 16 from the floor and collected 13 points.

Three Wranglers were in double figures--Daryl Cox with 15 points, and Johnny Brooks and Ernest Jenkins with 14 apiece.

The Westerners had a respectable 44 per cent from the field, sinking 39 of 87. Odessa shot 36 per cent, putting in 31 of 85. The Westerners led in rebounds, 63-42. Hanibal dominated the boards, claiming 23 rebounds. Ronnie Allen claimed 18 Harold Ward grabbed 10, and Danny McDaniel got 8.

The rebounding of Hanibal, Ronnie Allen and Ward was the difference in the contest. Fred Allen was credited with 8 assists, and that made him the new record holder for a single season. Fred has 90 assists; the old record was 85 set by Mike Simpson. Danny McDaniel had a great game, both offsensively and defensively. He held the high scoring Johnny Brooks to 14 points. Ronnie Allen held Calude Giddens to 4 points. Giddens is Odessa's leading scorer with an 18-point average.

Of the game, Coach Sid Simpson said: "I was pleased with our overall defense although we had some lapses which gave up cheap baskets. We were not sharp offensively, but rebounding carried us through. Maybe the win will give us the momentum for the tournament."

Freshmen Ronnie Allen, Harold Ward, Danny McDaniel and Fred Allen provide a good nucleus for next season.

The Westerners meet McLennon County at 4 p.m. Wednesday in Brownwood in the first round of the Region V Tournament.

Baseball Strife Apparently Over

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer

So the war, it seems, is finally over.

No, not that one.

The great conflict of national interest, mainly the one involving the national pasttime, ground to a halt Monday—although it won't be official until at least Wednesday.

That's when Marvin Miller, outspoken executive director of the Major League Baseball Players Association, meets with player representatives of the 24 teams to brief them on the agreement achieved with the club owners.

Miller and the owners' representative, John Gaherin, wouldn't disclose any details of the agreement—although plenty of them leaked out anyway. And it still isn't official. Both the owners and players must ratify it. That, however, appears to be merely a formality.

For even as the announcement of the settlement was being made, players were already flooding into spring training camps to begin getting in shape for the season that will open—on time this year—barely a month away.

The agreement is not only preventing another divisive and costly strike, it is hardly ruffling the spring training schedules. As of now, only four teams—the Boston Red Sox, Detroit Tigers, New York Mets and Minnesota Twins—have called off any preseason games at all. The only other casualty of any consequence was the cancellation by the Pittsburgh Pirates of their three-game exhibition series this weekend in Mexico.

Among the reported details of the new pact are:

—a minimum salary of $15,000 for major leaguers. In 1967, for a comparison, the minimum was $7,000.

—a maximum cut of 20 per cent of a player's salary after he has a poor year and a maximum decrease of 30 per cent over two years. The old terms permitted a one-year slash of 25 per cent and a two-year cut of 44 per cent.

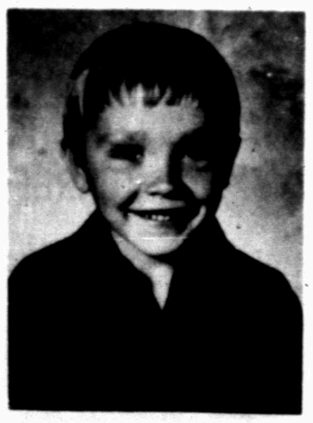

—a month's pay for a player released in spring training, two month's pay if he's cut between the April 6 start of the season and May 15, and a full-season's pay if he's released after May 15. Previously, the player got nothing but a handshake if he was cut during spring training, one month's pay if he was cut any time after the start of the regular season.

Tom Seaver won't have to worry about such details. The pitching ace of the New York Mets, a six-time All-Star who posted a 21-12 record last year, signed his 1973 contract Monday for a reported $140,000.

Other signings included catcher Mike Ryan and pitcher Jim Nash of Philadelphia, outfielder Reggie Smith of Boston, pitcher Mel Stottlemyre and second baseman Horace Clarke of the New York Yankees and infielder Steve Garvey of Los Angeles.

Oswald's Effects Ruled Valuable

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Lee Harvey Oswald's personal effects have become collector items and the federal government should pay a collector's price for items they seized in 1963, an appeals court has ruled.

The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals overruled a Texas district court's contention that Oswald's possessions were worth only $3,000.

Instead, the appeals court said Monday, the diary and other papers of President John F. Kennedy's accused assassin have great historical value for which the government must pay his widow $17,729-almost six times what they offered.

"Oswald's personal effects would have had a very real value, in excess of their intrinsic value, which might have been realised by his widow," said the appeals court.

The ruling overturns the Texas federal court's ruling, which said, "The nation and its people should not be required to pay a bounty for items of evidence upon which the Warren Commission based its report.

Marina Oswald Porter, who has remarried, had been promised $3,000 for letters, a diary, photograpphs, a marriage license and the contents of Oswald's wallet.

The appeals court's opinion said, "The evidence is clear that, but for the enhancement in value created in the public mind with the assassination of President Kennedy, the items in question would be practically worthless.

"We are nonetheless of the view that Oswald's widow should be compensated for precisely that which was taken—in this instance items of personal property having an historical significance, and therefore realizable value quite apart from intrinsic value."

Mrs. Porter had asked additional money on grounds the publication of the Warren Commission Report on the assassination had infringed on the copyright value of reproducing such items as his letters

The circuit court turned her down, noting the Warren Commission was empowered to print the letters by presidential executive order.

Q. What can the Cost of Living Council do if it finds a firm or industry to be violating Phase III controls?

A. Upon learning through its monitoring of prices and labor neogtiations that action has been or is about to be taken that is not consistent with the standards or goals of the program the Cost of Living Council can use its authority to issue a temporary order setting interim price and wage levels. This would allow the Council: 1) to require parties to supply information and assurances demonstrating that their actions are not or will not be inconsistent with the standards or goals of the program; 2) to hold public hearings; and 3) to issue a special rule or order of the Council setting out a specific legally binding level for proposed price or pay action that would restrain an industry or firm from that point on. Such a rule or order could include the requirement to roll back already effected price or wage increases. Violations of the new rules may be subject to a criminal fine of $5,000 for each violation or a civil penalty of $2,500 for each violation.

Q. What is the effective date of Phase III?

A January 11, 1973.

Q. What happens to violations that occurred before Jan. 11, 1973?

A. Phase III rules do not affect any suit action, prosecution, or administrative proceeding with respect to any right possessed, liability incurred, or offense committed before Jan. 11, 1973.

Parties covered by Phase II rules will be required to comply with all such rules up to the effective date of the new regulations. Price-wage changes or profit developments occurring during Phase II will still be subject to review and enforcement. Parties required to report under present rules will be obligated to report all developments occurring under Phase II rules prior to Jan. 11, 1973 in the regular manner.

Egypt To Request Punishment

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — Egypt says it will ask the International Civil Aviation Organization today to punish Israel for shooting down the Libyan airliner that strayed across the Suez Canal last week.

Quick agreement to discuss the airline disaster was expected after the 125-nation aviation organization began a four-day meeting today in the U.N. General Assembly chamber.

Egypt said it was asking for "appropriate measures in the light of Israel's crime against humanity." Israeli officials said they would discuss technical and factual aspects of the case, but they opposed treating it as a political matter.

The aviation congress was expected to order at least one of the organization's technical bodies to investigate the crash, which resulted in the death of 106 persons.

Meanwhile, a spokesman in London for the International Federation of Airline Pilots Associations said his group has rejected proposals for a boycott or strike against Israel.

In Cairo, the semiofficial newspaper Al Ahram reported that Egypt and Libya may bring the incident before the U.N. Security Council.

Dog Swallows Knife And Lives

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Kraut, a 4-month-old German shepherd pup with a taste for Italian sausage, instead swallowed a 12-inch butcher knife and lived to bark about it.

Benjamin Stevens, Kraut's owner, said he and his wife were having a sausage snack in the kitchen of their home during the weekend when the puppy jumped up, grabbed the knife from the table and swallowed it without so much as a yelp.

Stevens rushed the dog to a veterinary hospital, where it was discovered the knife was lodged so deeply it could be detected only with the use of X rays. Surgery was ordered.

"The operation was relatively simple," explained Dr. Roger M. Batts, who performed the two-hour surgery, "but it's still a miracle that he's live."

Subpanel Hears Pros, Cons On Drug Bills

By ROBERT HEARD
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — First offense marijuana possession is a $5 fine in Ann Arbor, Mich., but you can get life imprisonment in Texas, says Rep. Ron Waters, D—Houston.

Waters testified before a House Criminal Jurisprudence subcommittee Monday night in support of his bill to decriminalize marijuana possession for private use.

He told The Associated Press the Ann Arbor city ordinance, which allows the offender to mail in his $5 just as he would a parking ticket fine, is being challenged in court by the state. Michigan law makes first possession a misdemeanor, he said.

The average sentence in Texas is a nine-year prison term, Waters said.

Dr. Richard Alexander, an Austin psychiatrict, testified in support of Waters' bill, but he went further than decriminalization: "Personally, I would prefer that the state legalize and distribute marijuana—not because I am that turned on by marijuana but because I am concerned about the traffic in marijuana."

Dr. Joe Fort, professor of criminology at the University of California, said the Texas law making marijuana possession a felony is the "most extreme in America."

Only Russia, China and other Communist natons have marijuana laws as tough as Texas, he said.

Keeping such laws is "both un-American and communistic, rather than living up to our ideals of individual freedom and responsibility," Fort said.

"I do not advocate the use of any drug and do not myself use alcohol, tobacco or other drugs," he said. But, like it or not, "America is a drug culture," he said, and "Marijuana ranks far down the list behind tobacco, alcohol and aspirin."

Waters' bill would decriminialize possession for private use of any amount of marijuana by persons over 18 years of age. It would make the sale of marijuana a felony. It would make possession for the prupose of sale to a person under 18 a felony if the prospective buyer was three years younger than the seller. Punishment for either felony would be up to three years and a $2,000 fine.

Waters' bill would make it a misdemeanor to possess more than three ounces of marijuana in a public place—maximum fine: $100. Possession by anyone under 18 also would be a misdemeanor—maximum fine: $200.

Court records would remain sealed after successful completion of any probationary period under this bill except to show a previous felony conviction.

Fort, who testified before the National Commission on Marijuana and Drug Abuse, said that commission would report in three weeks that 26 million to 30 million Americans have tried marijuana, and 13 million to 15 million are continuing users.

They are of all ages, classes, religions and life styles, he said.

The subcommittee is holding hearings on several bills that would change Texas' marijuana law, including one by Rep. Tim Von Dohlen, D—Goliad, which reduces first offense possession to a misdemeanor but increases the penalty for sale.

This is the bill advocated by Gov. Dolph Briscoe as part of a series of proposed laws that increase penalties for possession and sale of drugs, except for marijuana first possession.

This bill is supported by the Texas Medical Association and several law enforcement groups.

Dist. Atty. Bob Smith of Austin, president of the Texas District and County Attorneys Association, who backs Von Dohlen's bill, disagreed with those who argue that use of drugs is a victimless crime.

"...It has many victims who are easy to recognize," Smith said. "In the drug subculutre you seldom find a loner abusing drugs. This is a group activity where newcomers are continually being proselytized and taken into the cult. Surely few would dispute my right to raise my child without having him seduced into using mind altering drugs.

"At the present time, drug abuse accounts for at least 50 per cent of our crimes against property. There are certainly victims here in each incident, victims who sometimes lose their lives as well as their property."

A drug user who "becomes nonfuncational and is institutionalized at public expense" makes a victim of the taxpayer who must support the institution, he said.

"The idea that you only obey laws you agree with is a very sick application of the concept of civil disobedience, leaving far behind the correlative concept that in civil disobedience the actor must be willing to accept the penal sanction for his ideal," Smith said.

Fear of punishment still is a deterrent, Smith said. "We all know locks do not prevent thieves from stealing but do serve to keep honest men honest."

The argument that present drug laws do not work is like urging the removal of "all traffic controlled devices because they have not eliminated auto accidents," he said.

Smith said 85 per cent of the marijuana offenders processed by his office are pushers.

In answer to a question, he said there are "an awful lot" of young pushers. "We've got some people working their way through the university (of Texas) pushing marijuana," he said.

This was not to disparage the university, he said. It has a higher percentage of people who abide by the law than the general public, he said.

Ernest S. Barratt, director of the Behavorial Science Laboratory, Department of Psychiatry, University of Texas Medical branch at Galveston, said his research with marijuana showed "effects beyond the period of time when the person is using the drug."

Unlike alcohol, which metabolizes and is gone, marijuana accumulates in the body, Barratt said.

Use of marijuana three or four times a week over a period of years "significantly decreases the particular stage of sleep—the percentage of time spent in a stage of sleep," he said.

Lack of stage three and four of sleep has several effects, including making "you less interested in what is going on about you," he said.

Council Blasts Nixon

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — The president of the National Council of Churches says the Nixon Administration has "declared war on the poor people and members of this country's minorities" with its proposals to cut spending for social welfare programs.

The Rev. W. Sterling Cary, here for a four-day meeting of the council's governing board which begins today, said his joy over peace in Vietnam was short-lived "because I saw President Nixon's budget-cutting as a declaration of another war on the poor and on other members of this country's minorities."

He called on the council and the church to seek the restoration of the funds.

Thick Fog Envelopes Texas Areas

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thick fog enveloped wide reaches of Texas today, all but halting traffic in some areas for a second straight morning.

The misty blanket cloaked much of the state's western, north central and eastern sections in particular. Visibility dropped to zero in places and dwindled to a mile or less nearly everywhere else in the affected zones, causing the National Weather Service to warn motorists to drive with extreme condition.

Elsewhere across the state skies were overcast in South Central Texas, at least partly cloudy along the coast and clear only in most of Northwest and far West Texas.

Points plagued by fog included Abilene, San Angelo, Midland, Lubbock, Childress, Wichita Falls, Mineral Wells, Dallas, Tyler, Longview and Lufkin.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 32 degrees at Dalhart and 33 at Abilene and Midland up to 58 at Brownsville and 59 at McAllen.

Forecasts held out chances for a little light rain in Central and East Texas by Wednesday along with still more fog, mainly near the coast. Little change was expected in other areas.

Krakatoa, the volcano in the Strait of Sunda between Java and Sumatra, blew up — the greatest volcanic eruption in historic times — in August 1883.

Drivers' Bill To Subpanel

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A Senate subcommittee is to report in one week on an habitual traffic offender bill that could put a driver in jail and take away his license forever if he repeatedly violated the state's traffic laws.

The Senate Human Resources Committee heard nearly two hours of testimony Monday on Sen. John Tower's measure before assigning to subcommittee.

The measure, backed by Gov. Dolph Briscoe, would classify as an habitual criminal anyone who is convicted of four major traffic-related offenses in a five-year period. It would also apply to anyone convicted of 12 moving violations.

Such a person would have his license permanently revoked and would face a one-year jail sentence, among other penalties.

Chief A. P. Temple of the Department of Public Safety told the committee both sections of the law would, if now in effect, apply to about 10,000 Texas drivers—less than one-tenth of one per cent of all who hold licenses.

Thus, said Col. Leo Gossett of the DPS, the law wouldn't solve the accident problem in Texas, but would help provide a "closer look at habitual violators.

A similar law in Virginia, the Senate Human Resources Committee was told, has resulted in a steady decline in auto fatalities. In Virginia, it was found that less than five per cent of the drivers caused 30 per cent of the accidents, according to Ben Binford of the Texas Association of Insurance Agents. He said habitual offenders in Virginia were involved in fatal accidents about eight times more than the average driver.

But Sen. Bob Gammage, D—Houston, Ron Clower, D—Garland, and Bill Patman, D—Ganado, frequently challenged the measure as too broad.

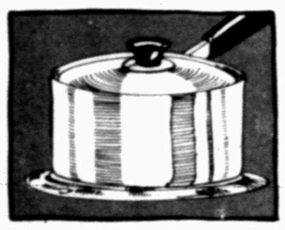

"It would be possible for a person to go to prison for 12 burned out tail lights?" asked Clower, tongue-in-cheek. But Col. Gossett said he had to agree.

Bexar County Presiding Judge Franklin Speaks, a former state senator, urged the committee to adjust the bill's language. Other wise it could be "unconstitutional for vagueness," he warned.

In Europe, thermoforming, filling and sealing in a continuous operation, is gaining in popularity for the packaging of meats, dairy products and other processed foods. New plastic materials are being used, according to the Bureau of International Commerce.

Tips to help you use electricity more efficiently for cooking.

You can get the most value from your electric range by following these tips.

Use flat-bottomed pans

The flatter the pan the better the contact with the electric unit. Also, be sure the pans have tight-fitting lids to reduce cooking time and moisture loss. And match pan size to unit size to avoid heat loss.

Don't open the oven door unnecessarily

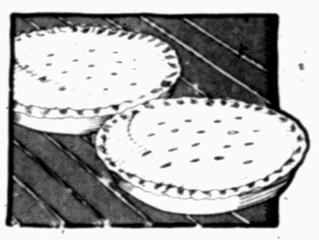

Opening the oven door when the oven is hot can cause heat loss and extended cooking time. It also can result in undercooking.

Use minimum amount of water

The more water you use, the longer it takes to get it hot. Many foods can be cooked with little or no water. Once water starts to boil, use the lowest heat setting that will keep it boiling.

Cook and freeze

Bake two cakes or pies, or make double recipes of such foods as stews and spaghetti sauce. Then freeze one for future use. Also, when you're baking, prepare an oven meal at the same time so no surface cooking is necessary—simply choose foods that will cook at the same temperature.

Thaw before cooking

Thawing meats before cooking reduces cooking time. Also, when recipes call for a preheated oven, don't turn it on too far in advance—usually 10 to 15 minutes will do.

Confusion over religious custom

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1973 By Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Some of my best friends are Jews, but I can't figure out something.

Once I went to a Jewish funeral service and I wore no hat. (I don't even own one.) After I entered, a little man ran after me and offered me a little skull cap, indicating that I should wear it. Of course I put it on. I looked around and noticed that all the other men were wearing one.

On another occasion I attended a Jewish wedding which took place in another temple, and this time nobody wore anything on their heads.

Are Jews supposed to wear something on their heads for funerals, but not for weddings? How about for regular Sabbath services? What's the rule? Please set me straight.

CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS: Covering the head is an old Jewish custom. During the course of Jewish history, especially in Western Europe, and now in North America, many Jews have felt that this custom is no longer required; therefore, differing patterns of ritual apply.

Among Orthodox [the most religious] Jews, the skull cap [or "yarmelke"] is worn not only for prayer but for all the daily activities. Conservative Jews observe this custom only during prayer.

However, within the reformed movement, various practices are observed, depending upon the particular custom of the congregation.

DEAR ABBY: I am an executive in my early 50s. My wife died three years ago and ours was a beautiful marriage. I am not looking for another wife, but I do enjoy female companionship occasionally.

A friend has a secretary who caught my eye. She is 26 and a really beautiful girl who dresses in wonderful taste. I asked her for a date, and took her to one of the finest places for dinner. She was dressed like a queen and I was proud to be seen with her. I offered her a cocktail and she said, "I'll have a beer."

When I realized she wasn't joking, I ordered her a beer, which she guzzled in nothing flat. When it came time for dinner she asked me to order for her, so I ordered a broiled lobster. When it was served she asked me how to eat "the thing." [She had never seen one eaten before.] She made an awful mess of it, and threw the shells all over the table.

During the evening, some terribly vulgar language came out of that beautiful mouth. I was shocked. The reason I'm writing is to tell you this was the third such disappointment I've had in a month!

What's the matter with the young women of today, Abby? Are they typical? Sign me.

NOT THAT LONESOME IN N. Y.

DEAR NOT: No. But you might have better luck with ladies nearer your own age.

DEAR ABBY: Last year, when my son was three years old and attending preschool, he came home with his little face all black and blue. I asked him what happened and he told me the teacher did it.

I called the teacher and she flatly denied it. She said he had fallen and hit his face on a chair.

Now my son is in the same class this year, and I have just been told by an eyewitness that my son was telling me the truth. That teacher did hit him in the face and caused those bruises! And it seems that mine isn't the only child this teacher has left marks on.

Abby, what would you do if it were your child?

CONCERNED PARENT

DEAR CONCERNED: I would enlist the support of the eyewitness and bring the matter to the attention of the teacher's superior.

Local Heart Assn. Launches Drive

The official 1973 Heart Campaign of the Scurry County Heart Association Texas Affiliate, got underway Monday with a kickoff session at the American restaurant. Bobby Beard, campaign chairman, intorduced Bob Nowlin, Director of Region V to the group.

Nowlin explained the contents of the captains and workers kits and also discussed the Heart Association and the purpose of the yearly campaign. The purpose is to get the facts about "Heart and Blood Vessel Diseases: America's No. 1 Killer", to the public. Heart screening tests in schools were emphasized and the fact that the organization needs more of the public interested in working in the Heart Association.

Heart Sunday will be March 4 this year and all are urged to welcome the volunteers who will be going from door to door to bring Heart Facts.

The Long Range Planning Committee of the Texas Affilate, American Heart Association, needs to know how the public feels about the organization. The five-year goals now under revision will be geared to what is learned from the public's attitude. The public will be surveyed through Heart Sunday Volunteers. If the volunteer asks you to fill out a questionaire and to return it in the postage paid envelope, please do so, because you may be helping a lot of people and perhaps yourself, Nowling urged.

Attending the Kick-Off breakfast were chairmen and representatives from various organizations and businesses, including Bobby Beard, campaign chairman; Mrs. Ethel Wadleigh, R.N., publicity chairman; Mrs. Sylvia Voelkel, Heart Sunday chairman; Mrs. Charles Jones, Heart Sunday co-chairman; Bobby Goodwin, Business District chairman; Miss Evelyn Boone, Altrurian Study Club; Mrs. Willie Thompson, SCOBU; Mrs. Ronnie Odom, worker; Bud England, Dick Norris, Clara Tate and Thaba McMillin, Hermleigh; Mr. and Mrs. Martin Murphy, Dunn; Dr. Duane Hood, Western Texas College; Milton Ham, Johnnie Harper, Mrs. F.G. Sears, R.E. Johnson, Sharon Farmer, Jaycee-ettes; Mr. Charles Jones, Tommy LaRoux, Jaycees.

Miss Struthers Enjoys New Role

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Sally Struthers, who plays Archie Bunker's daughter in "All in the Family," says she's tired of being sold to television audiences as Miss American Pie.

That's why, she says, she enjoys playing a frustrated, frightened nymphette in Sam Peckinpah's new film, "The Getaway."

Miss Struthers, who won an Emmy last year for her portrayal of Gloria, said, "I am relieved that the role in "The Getaway" opened people's eyes so they could see me as an actress who could play someone evil and sadistic as well as sweet and innocent."

Day Was Smugglers Paradise

By ED BLANCHE
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — Britain became a smugglers' paradise for one day today as customs officers joined a 24-hour strike by civil servants. The government put "honesty boxes" at air and sea ports and asked arrivals to drop in lists of their dutiable goods with their names.

"This looks like a good day to run a case of rifles or drugs or just a bottle of scotch," one official commented. "Who do you think is going to bother with the honesty boxes with no one to check?"

Air traffic controllers, immigration officers, government clerks and even court employes joined the strike. It was the first fullscale walkout in history by Britain's 280,000 civil servants.

London's Heathrow, one of the busiest airports in the world, was expected to close down, and so was the port of Dover.

The civilians who run the army's computers at its pay center joined the walkout, holding up checks to soldiers all over the country. Dealings on the London Stock Exchange were threatened because the civil servants who put the official stamps on transactions stayed home. Almost all government welfare offices were closed. Driving tests were postponed. Clerks and like employes at prisons did not work, but the guards did. Many courts were closed.

The stoppage was the first in a series of strikes to protest the Conservative government's anti-inflation ceiling on wage increases. Other walkouts are scheduled this week by railwaymen, hospital workers, London teachers and 50,000 employes at Ford plants. Gasmen are on a slowdown, and truckdrivers have been out for a month.

Ban On Saccharin Possible

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration says rats that were fed saccharin in carefully controlled government studies have developed suspicious bladder tumors.

But the agency adds that its scientists have not determined whether the tumors are cancerous, which would force a ban on the only artificial sweetener remaining on the market.

Cyclamates were banned in 1969 under the so-called Delaney Clause in the law prohibiting any food additive that causes cancer in man or animals.

Virgil O. Wodicka, director of FDA's Bureau of Foods, confirmed the preliminary saccharin study results in an interview Monday.

He said the FDA findings will be transmitted to the National Academy of Sciences, which is under contract to evaluate the sweetener's safety and its role in treating certain metabolic diseases.

Even if the bladder tumors are found to be malignant, Wodicka said, the cause may be traced to impurities in the saccharin or to "mechanical irritation" resulting from the high levels of the chemical fed to test animals.

"We're not going to take any action until we get a recommendation from the academy," Wodicka said.

Last year the FDA removed saccharin from the list of additives generally recognized as safe, and recommended that the average adult's daily intake be limited to one gram.

One gram is the equivalent of 60 small saccharin tablets, or seven 12-ounce bottles of the standard diet soft drink, the FDA said.

Move For Men's Lib

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — Jim Rosskopf, a strapping 6-foot-4 sophomore at Stanford University, wants to be a pom pon person.

In a move for men's liberation, Rosskopf is vying against about 20 females for the five jobs of "pom pon dolly," to wave pom pons in a chorus line at sports events.

"I'm learning the routines because they're good exercise," said Rosskopf, who is practicing once a week with the others for the tryouts in late March.

Captivity Taught POW Lot About Discipline

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — "You're on fire. Get out. Get out."

Those were the words of Air Force Capt. James Ray's flight leader May 8, 1966, just after Ray's F105 fighter-bomber and others had completed a run on a North Vietnamese railroad bridge.

"After he told me two or three times, I decided to follow his instructions," said Ray Monday at a news conference at Willford Hall Air Force Medical Center. The Conroe, Tex., airman is due convalescent leave after his processing as a returning POW.

He said his plane "disintegrated" about 30 seconds after he ejected.

"I was operating primarily on reflexes after that," said Ray when asked what thoughts he had at the time. He said he knew he was going to be captured immediately because he saw North Vietnamese on the ground while he was parachuting to earth.

He said he was probably three to five minutes away from safety where a helicopter could rescue him or 10 to 12 minutes from the ocean when he bailed out at a speed of 500 knots.

"I picked up a very solid hit," he said of his aircraft.

Ray said in the next six and one-half years of captivity in North Vietnam he learned "a great deal about discipline, a great deal about understanding human nature and living in a difficult situation with a fine group of human beings."

He said little else about his captivity and did not give a direct answer when asked if he made a statement attributed to him by Radio Hanoi. According to published accounts at the time, Ray allegedly admitted violating the territorial integrity of North Vietnam and apologized for it.

Of the alleged statement, he said, "Consider the source."

He said, in response to another question, that his statements and return were not "staged" by superiors and he added that the subjects which he would discuss, such as captivity conditions, "had already been agreed upon by most of us in prison" beforehand.

The Texas A&M graduate said he and others in his camp found out months later that they correctly deduced the United States had landed a man on the moon, based on a fragmented news report they heard in October 1969 in POW camp.

Ray said he and others speculated whether the information was heard by accident of one of their captors or not, but could not reach a conclusion one way or the other.

"There was something that sounded like one of the camp radio operators tuning in a news station. We heard just briefly something in a British accent to the effect for the first time man has come under the influence of a heavenly body," he said.

"And then the radio was quickly tuned out.

"So we began to speculate on the possibility we had a man on the moon."

Ray said, "The reasons we concluded that it was probably an American was because if it had been a Russian we probably would have heard a lot more fanfare and detail."

Osorio Sentence On Appeal

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — The $6,000 fine and three-year prison sentence given former State Insurance Commissioner John Osorio, a convicted embezzler, was on appeal today.

Osorio, convicted Jan. 23 on three counts of conspiracy and embezzlement in the Sharpstown stock fraud scandals, was sentenced Monday to three concurrent three-year prison terms and three $2,000 fines.

Osorio's attorney, Emmett Colvin Jr. of Dallas, filed an immediate notice of appeal. Osorio's conviction is also on appeal.

Donald S. Akins, a former officer of National Bankers Life Insurance Co. of which Osorio was president, received a $1,500 fine and a probated three-year prison term on his plea of guilty to one count of conspiracy-embezzlement.

U.S. District Court Judge Halbert O. Woodward handed down the sentences Monday to both men.

Acquittal Said Real Victory

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "It was a real victory," says Anthony Russo of a federal judge's ruling acquitting Russo and Daniel Ellsberg on one espionage count each in the 15-count Pentagon papers indictment.

U. S. Dist. Court Judge Matt Byrne, ruling late Monday in favor of defense contentions that the government had shown "insufficient evidence" to convict the defendants on those counts, ordered the defense case to begin today.

He allowed 13 counts of the indictment to stand, and held in abeyance a ruling on two counts which involve transmission of the Pentagon papers to unindicted co-conspirator Vu Van Thai.

Defense attorneys had pushed unsuccessfully in arguments last Friday for a judgment of acquittal on all counts.

However, after Monday's decision by the judge, Russo declared, "By the time we get through with the defense, there will be nothing left for the jury to consider."

The first order of scheduled business today was the government's renewed effort to introduce in evidence Thai's fingerprints — a matter which will influence the judge's ruling on the two counts.

Then Russo's attorney, Leonard Weinglass, delivers his opening statement to the jury. Ellsberg's attorney spoke before the government case opened.

Ellsberg, 41, and Russo, 36, both former researchers on government projects, are charged with espionage, conspiracy and theft in connection with the release to news media of the top secret papers, a Pentagon study of U.S. involvement in Vietnam.

It is the first time Americans have been charged with espionage for giving secret material to newspapers in their own country.
