"For Thirty Years a Builder in Collingsworth County"

VOLUME XXXI | Wellington, Collingsworth County, Texas, Thursday, March 7, 1940 | NUMBER 34

Award List Is Given In Boys And Girls Show

Henard, Atkinson Place For Third Year; Winners To Amarillo

A raging sand storm failed to stop Collingsworth County's Annual Youth Project Show Saturday, March 2, for in spite of the weather, this proved to be the largest and most successful show in the four-year history of the event.

For the third successive year, Pat Henard of Wellington and A. W. Atkinson of Quail carried off honors in the calf and sheep division, respectively. Standing high for the second year were Orville Atkinson in the sheep division and Pete Dowell in the hog division. Both boys are from Quail.

Projects of the 4-H Club girls and Future Homemakers, and projects of several of the Future Farmer groups, were exhibited in display windows of local merchants. The stock division of the Show, scheduled to be shown on the south side of the square, was moved to the stock barns of the moved to the stock barns northwest of the square.

Winning animals in the stock division were taken to Amarillo, to be shown in the Tri State Fair, which is in progress this week.

The following awards were announced by W. K. Cottingame, county agent, and Miss Rose Erisman, home demonstration agent:

GIRLS' DIVISION

Individual Future Homemaker exhibits: first, Geneva Mitchell of Wellington, street dress; second, Maurine Foster of Wellington, jelly; third, Pauline Browning, Wellington, luncheon set.

Future Homemaker Chapter exhibits: first, Wellington, breakfast room and kitchen exhibit; second, Quail, season's wardrobe for a girl; third, Samnorwood, dining room.

Four-H Club exhibits: first, Swearingen; second, Dozier; third, Quail.

Four-H individual exhibits: napkins, first, Lennie Faye Feemster, Quail; second, Dorothy Marie Boyett, Quail; third, Mary Jo Brock, Midway. Aprons: first, Evelyn Jo

Singers Meet At Norwood Mar. 10

Samnorwood singers will be hosts to the regular Collingsworth County Singing organization Sunday afternoon, March 10, E. L. Hively, president, announced early this week.

An invitation has been issued Wheeler County singers, and a large number have indicated they will attend.

Special singers expected include E. F. Cook of Amarillo, the Bradford Brothers, the Sammie Davis Quartet of Mayfield, Okla., and the Lake Creek Ladies Quartet. Albert Halp of Reed, Okla., will represent the Hartford Music Co. at the convention.

"We extend a cordial invitation to all singers and song lovers to attend this singing," said Mr. Hively. "This is the first time in several years that this singing has met at Samnorwood, and we are expecting large crowds to attend."

Olive M. Seaberry On Semester Honor Roll At University

FORT WORTH.—Olive Marie Seaberry of Wellington, sophomore in Texas Christian University, is on the scholastic Honor Roll for the first semester of 1939-40, as announced this week by Registrar Hutton.

Miss Seaberry is one of 43 sophomores to win a place on the Honor Roll. The freshmen had 76 names on the roll, the seniors 75 and the sophomores 43.

A grade average of "B" or better is the minimum requirement for the Honor Roll.

County Schools Will Dismiss Friday For

Teachers To Attend Conference

"Every teacher who attends the Northwest Texas Conference for Education is going to come away with a better concept of the problems facing his profession in these constantly changing times," predicted E. G. Sanders of Samnorwood, president of the conference. "But while he's going to hear about his problems, he's also going to hear what the outstanding educators of the nation are doing about these problems," he added.

The conference meets Friday and Saturday, March 8 and 9, at West Texas State College in Canyon. It is the largest educational event of the year in Northwest Texas. The theme of the conference is "Educating for Democratic Citizenship."

Collingsworth County teachers are having a prominent part in the working of the conference this year, programs printed recently in the office of the Wellington Leader show. In addition to Mr. Sanders, who holds the highest office the conference offers, John L. Beard, superintendent of the Wellington Schools, is a member of the resolutions committee; Logan Cummings, county superintendent, is chairman of the legislative committee; Foy L. Brantley of Samnorwood and Carl Chaudoin of Quail are members of the constitution committee; and Jack Davis of Dodson is a member of the registration committee.

Deskins Wells, editor of the Wellington Leader, is scheduled to address the conference at its first general session Friday morning. He will speak on "A Layman's View of Education." Mr. Wells is also a member of the publicity committee for the conference.

"All schools in Collingsworth County will be dismissed Friday in order that the teachers may attend this convention for the mings announced this week. "And we heartily urge every teacher to attend this convention, for the instruction which they will receive from the various sessions, as well as from the association with teachers from all over the Panhandle."

In outlining the program, Mr. Sanders stated that three general sessions will be held Friday and two Saturday. In addition to these, special sessions for various groups will be conducted.

Among the outstanding educators to appear are President Pat M. Neff of Baylor University, who will speak Friday morning on "Citizenship in a Democracy;"

Juniors Ready For Annual Play

In a fast moving comedy entitled "What Wright Left," members of the junior class will present their annual play Thursday night, March 14, at the high school auditorium, at 8 o'clock.

Written by the well known humorist, Russell Crane, this class has picked for its production a play designed entirely for laughter and fun, with enough of suspense added to keep the audience guessing throughout the three acts.

What Wright left, the manner in which he left it, and the strings attached to the legacy become so complicated that long before the end, the listeners will wonder if it would not have been better for the characters if Wright had left nothing at all.

"This is not a play to bring your troubles to, for they cannot thrive in its atmosphere," said Miss Minnie Atchley, junior sponsor, who is directing the play. "But we can offer an evening of fine entertainment, completely amusing,"

And The Point Of Salesmanship Is To Meet The Customer

One of the Panhandle's score of snowstorms this winter was raging—and sales were scarce—when the postman brought Lynn Harris, commercial salesman for the West Texas Utilities Company, Childress, the following letter from a refrigerator manufacturer:

"A Mr. Bob Scott, R. R. No. 1, Dodson, has requested of our factory information and literature on milk coolers and refrigeration, with which he has been supplied. Will you therefore arrange to contact this prospect in an effort to sell him? We would appreciate hearing from you when Mr. Scott has been contacted . . . "

Harris braved the snow and wind to drive the 70-mile round trip to Dodson, mostly over country

Mrs. Stevenson Named Local Manager Hospitalization Plan

Group Hospital Service, Inc., a non-profit plan whereby low cost hospitalization can be given to employed persons and their dependants, will be introduced here during the coming weeks, L. S. Taylor of Amarillo, area supervisor, announced in Wellington Saturday, when he named Mrs. J. B. Stevenson local manager of the organization.

Accompanying Mr. Taylor here to make arrangements for this work was J. A. Odom, Jr., Pampa representative.

This movement has received the approval of the Wellington doctors, the Tri-County Medical Society, the two hospitals, the City, the County and local business men. First step in its introduction came Wednesday evening, March 28, when Mr. Taylor met with a group of fifteen business men and explained the working of the plan.

"This is strictly a non-profit organization," Mr. Taylor pointed out Saturday. "It was introduced by the Texas Hospital Association, and it is now in operation in a number of West Texas towns, including Amarillo, Quanah, Memphis and Childress."

Continuing his explanation, Mr. Taylor pointed out that the plan works along lines similar to insurance. Monthly dues are paid, and in case of illness, payments for hospital service are made by Group Hospital Service, Inc., to cover part or all of the hospital costs incurred.

Applications, however, are made by groups as those working in one business house, employees of two or more firms joining together, groups of farmers, or of other employed persons.

"Not only do we offer coverage for the employed person, but for a small additional charge, his wife and children may also receive the service," Mr. Taylor said.

"Benefits of the plan for em-

Boyer Announces For Senate Post

The Wellington Leader is authorized to announce the candidacy of Max Boyer of Perryton, for the State Senate of Texas from the 31st Senatorial District, which includes Collingsworth County and 25 other counties of the Panhandle.

Mr. Boyer is now serving his second term in the House of Representatives from the ten North Panhandle Counties and his present legislative district is almost solidly behind him in his desire for promotion to the State Senate. Prior to Boyer's election to the House, he served Ochiltree County as County Attorney for three terms and has been engaged in the practice of law for eleven years. The Perryton Legislator is married, is a member of the Methodist Church, Masonic Lodge, and other organizations and was president of the Perryton Lions Club in 1936. He has been an active Democrat and was the Permanent Chairman of the first West Texas Young Democratic Club organization and presided over its first Convention held in Lubbock in 1933.

Among the highlights of his legislative career was the Dallam-Hartley Counties Land Bill which permitted re-appraisal of 50,000 acres of Panhandle Land, prevent-

Mrs. Wischkaemper In Charge Of Co-Op House In Minnesota

Mrs. Richard Wischkaemper, Sr., who formerly lived at Lutie, is now in charge of a co-operative house for boys at the University of Minnesota, at Minneapolis, the first of it's type to be opened on that campus.

Working for her is another county woman, Mrs. Howden Glasgow, who went to Minneapolis from Wellington a few months ago.

Mrs. Wischkaemper began her work at the University at the beginning of the school year. Thirty-five boys live in the house, which is operated along the same plans as the co-operative house of which she had charge at Texas A. and M. last year. The house was formerly a fraternity house.

Mrs. Wischkaemper is quite happy in her work on the University campus, her son, Richard Wischkaemper, Jr., states.

W. G. Taylor, Creamery Owner, Buried Tuesday

W. G. Taylor, owner of the Taylor Creamery in Wellington for the last fifteen years, died in a Wellington hospital Monday morning, March 4, at 8:15 o'clock. Mr. Taylor had been seriously ill for about a week, and an operation had been performed in an effort to save his life early in the preceding week. His condition grew steadily worse however.

Funeral services were conducted from the family home at 1007 Floydada street Tuesday morning, his 60th birthday, at 10 o'clock. Rev. J. P. Neal, pastor of the Baptist Church, was in charge of the ceremony.

Pall bearers were Luther Gribble, S. R. Pinkston, C. C. Bell, Casey Jones, J. B. Castleberry, and Steve Owens. Flower girls were Johnnie Wiles, Helen Langford, Yvonne Shields, Betty Jean Richards, Peggy Ruth Ream, and Eula Lee Powell. Hymns included "Near the Cross" and "Farther Along."

Interment was in the Wellington Cemetery with Kelso Funeral Home in charge.

Mr. Taylor had been a resident of Wellington for the last 22 years. He was widely known and highly respected throughout this section, and his many friends were shocked to learn of his critical illness. Throughout the years he had lived here, and especially during the fifteen years which he operated the creamery, Mr. Taylor stood for those movements for the upbuilding of the town and the

Dodson Revival Now In Progress

Revival services at the Church of the Nazarene in Dodson are now under way, with Rev. L. H. Newcomb of McKinney in charge of the preaching. Rev. E. P. Akin is pastor of the church.

"We extend a cordial invitation to the people of this area to attend these services," said Rev. Akin.

"Rev. Newcomb is a forceful preacher, and he has a message

School Trustee Elections Set For April 6th

Candidates Must Be Certified Ten Days Before Election

Election of trustees for independent, consolidated, and common school districts will be held Saturday, April 6, Logan Cummings, county superintendent, announced early this week.

"Although no candidates for trustee have yet been announced, considerable interest is expected in most of the districts this year," Mr. Cummings said.

All candidates must be certified by ten days before the election, it was pointed out.

Trustees of the various common and consolidated districts whose terms expire this year include:

Samnorwood: J. M. Morgan, J. A. Coleman and Gus Gooch; Buck Creek: J. E. Gentry; Quail: W. C. Johnson, J. F. Coleman and T. C. Crabtree; Fresno: Wilton Ketchum; Elm Valley: to fill vacancy now existing; Rolla: M. L. James; Shinnery: W. R. Ward; Enterprise: A. P. Briscoe; Kelley: M. C. Cornelius; Bean Hill: A. J. Peters; Houselog: W. D. Forbes; Ella: J. L. Shannon; China Grove: H. C. Sanders; Needwood: Fred T. Walker; Midway: F. F. Popwell; Cross Roads: J. H. Barton; Kesler: to fill vacancy now existing; Hackberry: F. M. Schoonover; Wilnulcer: H. M. Wilson; Roundup: Lewis Green; Swearingen: J. F. Skaggs; Pleasant Point: R. B. Young; Seale: Guy C. Bumpass; Pleasant Mound: W. E. Rainwater; Lone Mound: E. A. Barber.

Magician Appears Here On Friday

An evening of magic and illusion is being sponsored by the senior class of Wellington High School Friday, March 8, in the appearance of Birch, nationally known magician and entertainer, and his troupe of helpers.

Birch's appearance is scheduled for two performances in Wellington, a matinee show beginning at 2:30 o'clock, and the evening show opening at 8 o'clock. Both shows will be at the high school auditorium.

Appearing with Birch is Miss Mabel Sperry, young musical star, who is featured as a xylophone soloist.

"These performers have been recommended to us as being the outstanding show of magic production now on tour in this country. With such an array of tricks and illusions which he brings, the senior class feels that it can guarantee an evening's entertainment which will excite and thrill every spectator," Mrs. John Williams, senior sponsor, stated Tuesday.

Of the entire group of illusions, the one which has most baffled audiences for centuries is the famous Hindu Rope Trick, in which a rope is tossed into the air. It

Project Show Made Permanent Event

MAX BOYER
of Perryton has announced this week that he is a candidate for the post of State Senator from the 31st Senatorial District. Mr. Boyer is now a member of the House of Representatives.

REV. L. H. NEWCOMB
is now conducting a revival meeting at the Church of the Nazarene in Dodson. Rev. Newcomb is from McKinney.

Hurst Elected President; Contributors To Youth Awards Are Members

A permanent organization for the annual boys Fat Stock Show and girls Project exhibits was perfected Friday night, February 1, when representatives of the Rotary Club and the Kiwanis Club, sponsors this year, met for the purpose.

Ben Hurst, Wellington lumberman, was chosen president of the new organization, which has not yet been named. Vice president and general manager is Kelly Cottingame, county agent. Secretary-treasurer is Jack Hurst.

Members of the board of directors include Dr. E. W. Jones, Jack Watson and Cameron Beam. Committees appointed include finance, J. B. Castleberry, Dewey Ellis and Tom Campbell; publicity, Bill Turk, Orval Couch, and Deskins Wells; arrangements, James Sullivan, L. A. Manzer, and Bura Handley; transportation, Harley Kern, Cliff Campbell and S. R. Pinkston.

"In the future, this Project Show isn't going to be sponsored directly by the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs. It will stand on its own feet," Mr. Turk commented. "This doesn't mean these two organizations that sponsored the event this year are dropping entirely out, our interest and our support will continue to be with the show, and we will assist in every possible way."

Naming of this annual livestock and project show is being left up to the youth of the county, and an award of $5 will be made to the boy or girl making the best selection as judged by the board of directors.

"The name must embody idea that it is county-wid scope; that it isn't limited one group but includes th and girls 4-H Clubs, the Homemakers, and the Farmers, and that it is an event," Mr. Turk pointed o

Suggestions should be turne to Mr. Hurst before April 1.

The age limit of entries is 2 years.

All contributors of prize money to the show automatically became members of the organization, as well as others who contribute in the future. The annual meeting

Money Buried 13 Years Found On Fresno Farm Tues

By MRS. EARL REYNOLDS

Two dollars and sixty-five cents, buried in an iron pipe by a Fresno boy thirteen years ago, was plowed up Tuesday morning by Sidney Elmore in a field near his house.

The boy was Morris Weaver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Weaver.

At the time, 1927, the family was living on the Elmore farm when the youth put the money in the pipe, covered each end, and buried it near the barn, in a field. When he went to get it, he was unable to locate the place where he had placed the pipe.

Later, the family moved to a farm south of Mr. Elmore's but the boy remembered to mention his "buried treasure" which he couldn't find.

Young Weaver died in 1936, leaving a widow and two children. Mrs. Weaver has remarried, and no one in the Fresno community knows her whereabouts. His par-

Lillie Ginner Is Hurt On Last Day Of Ginning Season

By MRS. G. D. THOMAS

Cliff Allen, ginner at the Lillie Gin, got through the entire cotton season without an injury—until the last day.

Friday, March 1, as the gin prepared to clean up its 1939 crop, Mr. Allen fell and received a back injury. He was taken to a Wellington hospital Friday evening, where X-ray pictures were made.

Although he was removed home Sunday evening, Mr. Allen is still confined to his bed, but his condition was reported somewhat improved early in the week.

Zonetta Moore Chosen President District FHT

Zonetta Moore, president of the Wellington chapter of the Future Homemakers of Texas, was chosen president of the District F.H.T. in a district meeting held at Childress Saturday, March 2.

Other officers of the district include Betty Coffee of Childress, vice president; Dorothy Johnson of Carey, secretary; Eunice Whiteside of Carey, treasurer; Maurine Russell of Childress, reporter; Etta Belle Loving of Wellington, parliamentarian; Nadene Kennedy of High Point, song leader; Trula Jo House of Childress, yell leader; and Mollie Ann McWhirter of Samnorwood, pianist.

Wellington will be host to the next district meeting of the F.H.T. to be held in 1941.

In charge of the Childress meeting was Caroline Caraway of Childress, president of the F.H.T. chapter.

Schools sending representatives to the meeting were Wellington, Carey, High Point, Dodson, Samnorwood and Childress. Other schools in the district are Kirkland, Cee Vee, Turkey and Shamrock.

Girls attending the meeting went dressed for play, and following the business session, volley ball was played in the school gymnasium.

Attending from Wellington were

Deck's DIDACTICS

By H. D. W.

Several weeks ago I made mention of group hospitalization. This service which is authorized by the laws of the State of Texas is now available in this county. I am not a selling agent for this worthy enterprise, but because of the public good, I feel justified in asking each one of you to find out about this service. It seems to me that it is something that we have been needing for a long time.

Fuller Butler, who formerly lived here, dropped by to see me Wednesday morning. He is special agent for the Southwestern Associated Telephone Company. He has been working for this same company for 20 years; so I presume that his services are satisfactory. He lives in Lubbock and takes his orders direct from the president of the company. In ten more years he can retire on a pension and he will be only 49 then. He and his brothers, Oral, Fred and Roy have worked for this same company for a combined total of 80 years. Each one of them will be eligible to retire before he is 50. In just five more years they will have worked a total of 100 years for the same company.

Seeing Fuller reminded me of the morning that the Butler boys and Solon and Dutch Higgins and I went swimming on Easter morning. We built a big fire, put on a bunch of eggs to bake in part of the coals, and went swimming. It was the coldest water I can remember. It seems pretty silly now, but it was fun then. As I look back it is no wonder to me that each one of the Butler boys is doing well. They know what hard work is.

I was flattered the other day when Jack Watson stopped by to ask my advice. He wanted to know the best way of telling the people that he had been skinned by the salesman for an aluminum company. In the long run the company will probably make the contract good, but it has already caused him plenty of trouble. His sole motive was to keep anyone else from getting hooked. He wanted to know how far he could go in letting other people know and how much the advertising would cost. In case you are so dumb that you do not realize that I am doing the advertising for him free of charge, perhaps you had better look over the correspondence and the records Jack has in his possession.

Otto Buerger showed me an analysis of the well at the Buerger gin. It contains practically the same minerals as the Goodnight well, but I am not enough of a chemist to know whether the proportion is the same. Due to the fact that it would not work well in the gin boiler, a sample was sent off to find out what was wrong. The answer came back that they ought to be using it as mineral water instead of trying to make steam out of it. Perhaps there is genuine mineral water all the way from the Goodnight well to the Buerger gin.

I do not know anything new about the oil business, but some land owners are receiving offers for their royalty as well as their leases. It means new money in the county.

Here is a friendly letter from J. S. Dorn. He thinks I am on the right tract in criticizing trade barriers between states as well as nations. Somehow it warms me up on the inside with a pleasant feeling to get a letter from a man like Mr. Dorn. He couldn't see eye to eye with me when I was trying so hard to get a swimming pool built for Wellington just as a majority of the aldermen of that time could not, but this difference in view has never affected our personal relationship. I value his friendship very highly.

Fred LeDerer says that if oil is brought in near Wellington he intends to give his hardware store a good selling. He says that he has no intention of trying to compete with everything an oil boom will bring to town. That is what he said, but I will wager a page ad against $50 that he does not do any such thing.

* * *

Here is an appreciated letter from Connie Boverie, who is now Mrs. Constance B. Schultz:

February 17, 1940

Dear Deskins,

A long time ago when Charlie Litchfield was my English teacher in Wellington High School he required the class to write an essay on "Procrastination is the Thief of Time." Frankly that was the hardest assignment that I had ever had for, truth to tell, I had not the slightest idea then what procrastination meant. How I came out on the essay I have no recollection but I am well aware that ever since then I have been terribly burdened with that very vicious habit of procrastination.

So here it comes out as usual. I have let my subscription to your very splendid paper run out. And how could I ever keep properly abreast of the times without it?

So Deskins do send the paper right along and if this does not reach you before my name is dropped from your lists, please reinstate me and send me the copy or copies that I would otherwise miss.

I do enjoy the Leader very much, and when I read the names of old friends there on the printed page, I have a warm little glow in my heart and feel that maybe I'm not so far away from home after all.

About three months ago my mother gave me a copy of Mother Shipton's prophecy, which she said was being printed in papers in Virginia and Mississippi when she was a girl. She thought it might be worth reprinting. Unfortunately I lost the clipping in the mess that is supposed to be my desk, but last week I noticed that Jimmie Gillentine had published it in The Hereford Brand, and I clipped it out and sent it back. It is to be found on page three of the second section.

* * *

Most of this prophecy has come true, but the item that interested me the most was this statement: "England and Germany shall be as one." How are they going to be as one? Knowing what you know, ask yourself this question: Is there any way for them to be as one without one taking over the other. There is a way, of course, in mutual trade and friendship, but I have doubts as to whether the fanatic and psychopathic Hitler and the class defending, uncertain Chamberlain will ever be able to see eye to eye with a simple man from Tennessee, whose name is Hull. Hull has wisdom and vision. They have hatred, prejudice and greed. Their remedy is to resort to force in order that one may rule the other. The basic philosophy of Cordell Hull is that no people have any cause to rule another and that the remedy lies in a fair balance between all people and all nations. Which system do you think is the best?

Mrs. E. Thomas Dies At Home Of Son Here Friday

Native Texan, Deceased Had Lived In Collingsworth 34 Years

Mrs. Emma Lee Thomas, well known woman of the Seale community, died at her home there Friday morning at 8 o'clock. Funeral rites were conducted Sunday afternoon at 2:30 from the First Baptist Church in Wellington with Rev. S. L. Greenwood of Alanreed in charge. He was assisted by Rev. J. P. Neal, pastor of the Wellington church.

Pall bearers for the service were John Daffron, Bob Wilder, Bob Bowen, Walter Culp, Henry Davidson, and W. W. McClaskey. Assisting with the flowers were Margaret Bumpass, Pearl Bowen, Emma Jane Culp, and Jo Ann Bumpass. Hymns included "The Old Rugged Cross," and "Where We'll Never Grow Old," by the choir, and a solo, "In the Garden," by Pete White.

Interment was in the Wellington cemetery with the Ellis Funeral Home in charge.

Mrs. Thomas had lived in this county for 34 years, and during that time she had made friends who loved her for her strength of character, her cheerfulness and friendly disposition, and the courage with which she met the tasks of life. She was the daughter of the late W. H. Medlin, who lived here for a number of years.

Born in Delta County, Texas, August 17, 1872, Mrs. Thomas was 67 years, 6 months and 14 days of age at the time of her death. While her four children were still small, her husband died, leaving Mrs. Thomas with her family to support. Throughout these years when her children were growing up, she managed the farm work as well as her household duties.

She was a devout member of the Baptist Church.

Before coming to this county, Mrs. Thomas lived in Oklahoma.

Surviving are four children, C. W. Thomas of Wellington, with whom she made her home; Archie Thomas of Selma, Calif., Mrs. Jesse Foust of La Feria, and Mrs. Sam R. Scott of Wellington. Two sisters, Mrs. Rosie Fultz of Redland, Oregon, and Mrs. W. C. Overacre of Rogers, Ark., along with sixteen grandchildren, also survive.

Elgar Robertson Platform Restated

In the announcement of Elgar L. Robertson of Childress appearing in last week's Wellington Leader, stating that he was a candidate for the place of District Attorney of the 100th Judicial District, Mr. Robertson was quoted as saying he will not prosecute any individual. This should have read:

"If elected to this office, promise the people of this district that I will prosecute to the fullest extent of my ability all violations of the law regardless of who the law violator is, but that I will not persecute any individual. I believe in prosecution and not persecution."

Mrs. Bill James and Miss Louise Self were in Pampa one day last week to see "Gone Wieh the Wind." They also visited with Mrs. James' parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Polk.

Epworth League To Sponsor Pie And Box Supper Wed.

Members of the Epworth League of the Methodist Church at Samnorwood are sponsoring a pie and box supper Wednesday evening, March 13, at the church.

"We give a cordial invitation to all the people of this and surrounding communities to attend this event," said Murl Walker, who is in charge of the arrangements.

Civic Clubs To Consider Future Of Wellington

Believing that through the efforts of the civic clubs and other interested individuals of Wellington, some constructive program for the future of the town can be worked out, members of the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs will meet in a joint session Thursday night at 7 o'clock at the Pullman Cafe.

Although this is not an open meeting, members have been urged to bring to the session any person who is interested in the future of Wellington.

Taking up the welfare of the town both from a civic and industrial viewpoint, discussion of any ideas for its improvement, both now and in the future will be given.

Plans for this meeting were worked out by the directors of the two bodies.

Henard Places On Stock Judging Team From Texas Tech

Two honors, either of which would distinguish him as a student, have been received recently by Robert Henard, student in Texas Tech from Wellington.

Robert Henard

Recently he was named third high man on the Texas Tech cattle judging team, which is to represent the school at the Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth, and to participate in the stock judging there.

In addition he has been named on the honor roll of the school, released by the registrar.

Henard is the son of Sherm Henard of Plains, and the grandson of Mrs. D. M. Henard of Wellington. He made his home here with his grandmother for a number of years, and is a graduate of the local high school.

Who's New In Collingsworth

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Birchfield of Boerne, Texas, are the parents of a son, Richard R., born Sunday, February 25. Born in a San Antonio hospital, the baby weighed eight pounds and two ounces. Mr. Birchfield is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Birchfield of Wellington.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson are parents of a daughter born Monday morning, March 4. The little lady has been named Gwendolyn Carrol. She weighed eleven pounds at birth.

Basil Duane Nipper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Nipper, was born March 5. The baby weighed six pounds and ten ounces.

Paul Bell Still In Sheriff Race

Paul Bell has asked The Leader to announce that he is still in the race for county sheriff. Due to the fact that he has assumed the temporary management of a local lumber yard, a few people have been under the impression that he would withdraw from the race for sheriff. He says that this rumor is not true, and that he is and will continue to be an active candidate for the office.

Shelterbelt Picture Will Be Shown

A short sound picture, presenting the work of the shelterbelts on farms of the middle west, will be presented at the Ritz Theatre in Wellington Saturday night, March 9, Ray Morgan, who is in charge of the district Forest Service Office in Shamrock, announced this week.

Students Hear World Traveler

E. J. Smutny, world traveler and lecturer, and former member of a New York Philharmonic Orchestra, spoke before students of the Wellington High School Tuesday morning, March 5.

Throughout his address, he carried the theme, "What Future Has The American Youth Today." but he varied the discussion with exciting experiences of his own, and with references to strange mounted animals, a live coyote and a one-eared rabbit which he carried with him.

Telling the group that his motto was "From Still Harbors to Deep Channels," he compared their school life to the still harbors, and their adult experiences to the deep channels of the oceans. "Courage is the main thing in life."

Concluding his appearance, Mr. Smutny gave a short violin recital.

School Admitted To Boxing League

Admission of Wellington High School into the North Plains Boxing League was announced Tuesday by John Lee, boxing instructor. This section includes seven schools in the northern and eastern parts of the Panhandle, and efforts are now being made to bring it into the state Interscholastic League.

Immediately after approval was given Wellington's entrance, plans were begun here for a boxing tournament Friday and Saturday, March 15 and 16, for the southern division of the league. Three sessions will be held, Friday night, Saturday afternoon and Saturday night. Taking part will be the Wellington, Lefors and Alanreed teams.

Two other boxing meets will be held, one at Lefors and the other at Alanreed. Winners of these three meets will compete with the winners of the northern division of the league in a tournament to be held at Pampa at a date to be announced later.

"Golden gloves will be awarded winners in the preliminary bouts, and winners of the Pampa event will be given boxing jackets," Mr. Lee said.

A small admission charge will be made for the sessions here.

Judge Ogle Is Speaker Thurs.

The Wellington I.O.O.F. Lodge held an invitation meeting Thursday night at the local hall. Amarillo had as representatives, J. N. Adams, C. E. McPherson, Earl Windsor and O. B. Chamberlain.

McLean members present were: M. V. Paschall, W. B. Moore and L. V. Childress.

Attending from Matador were L. B. Patterson and W. Y. Higgins.

Farmers Are Urged To Plant Soil Building Crops On Diverted Land

By C. V. GRIFFIN

County A.A.A. records indicate that for the past two years farmers have neglected planting soil building crops on their diverted acres. In 1940 all farmers are urged to take advantage of the soil building payments that can be earned on a farm by carrying out soil building practices.

Crop production records for Collingsworth County will show a material decrease for the past fifteen years. Drought has received the blame for this decrease in production but we must face the fact that ten years ago an average crop could have been made on the amount of moisture that we received during the 1939 crop year. The soil is depleting year in and year out through the loss of nitrogen taken from the soil through leaching, erosion, and undercropping with soil depleting crops. Every farmer should study this situation and strive to keep the land as good as it is now and better it through diversification.

The Department of Agriculture is strongly advocating that the 25 percent of the land that is not devoted to soil depleting crops be planted to some soil building crop in order that production can be built up. This is being done in the eastern and extreme southern states to an extent that production has doubled itself in the last decade.

In 1940, through the community committeemen, the A.A.A. will strive to contact each individual farmer with a Farm Plan Sheet and assist him and offer any suggestion that will have a tendency to increase soil conservation on his farm and, in the meantime, earn the maximum A.A.A. payment. All farmers are urged to give these plans and recommendations their utmost consideration so that better farming results can be obtained.

Ranchers Urged To Enter AAA

All Collingsworth County ranchers who plan to participate in the A.A.A. program for 1940 were urged to advise the local office of the A.C.A. within the near future.

"We had 52 ranchers participating last year," said C. V. Griffin, administrative assistant, following two range meetings held here. "This year, to date, we have only 29. We should like to have all those remaining ranchmen in the program again this year, but it will be necessary for them to act in the near future," he added.

Those who have already indicated they will enter the program this year, according to Mr. Griffin, are: Guy Beasley, A. Y. Bell, A. B. Boyd, J. M. Crews, E. H. Dodson, Chester Fires, Bob Glenn, J. L. Hess, L. A. Sparlin, O. G. Stokely, J. E. Walker, Tom Wilson, Edgar Wischkaemper, Mrs. D. L. Worley, B. G. Glenn, Annie Clifton Hughes, J. C. Sauermilch, C. E. Strong, W. P. Coleman, J. W. Loter, J. D. Thomas, A. E. Wischkaemper, Jr., William Worth McClaskey, Mrs. S. L. Coleman, L. M. Tittle, Emmert Bros., W. W. Breeding, R. R. Martin, and A. J. Laycock.

Norwood Basket Ball Teams End Successful Year

Eagles Tie For First In In East Panhandle Cage League

One outstanding basketball team a season is something for the pride of any school, but when both boys' and girls' teams bring home honors, it is a matter of even more interest. Yet this is what the Samnorwood teams have done, a checking of the record for the year shows.

The boys' team, the Eagles, won 30 games this year, and lost only nine. They scored 1180 points to their opponents' 890. Leading scorers, with the number of games in which they played and the number of points scored includes: Sechrist, 30 games, 301 points; Lowe, 35 games, 241 points; Rainey, 27 games, 167 points; Kirklin, 32 games, 120 points; Neece, 32 games, 90 points; Bradstreet, 35 games, 81 points; Deger, 32 games, 78 points; Furgeson, 27 games, 51 points.

The Eagles tied with Wellington for the lead of the East Panhandle basketball league. In this, they won ten games and lost two. They won the county Interscholastic championship, but lost in their second game at the district meet in Childress.

Eight of these outstanding players will be eligible to letter, and will receive scarlet basketball sweaters, Paul Morris, coach, announced. Three of these boys, Jack Lowe, Boots Sechrist and Robert Neece, will be back next year.

The Samnorwood girls' team also proved itself better than average, winning eighteen games and losing eleven. Losses included those to Briscoe and Mobeetie, two of the strongest teams in the state. The girls participated in the district meet at Borger last week, but were defeated by Phillips, 24 to 21.

Erma Fae Jeffers and Ima Willoughby have scored most of the points for the girls, while Pauline Rainey and Maxie Honeycutt have stood out on the defense playing. Thirteen players will letter, and nine seniors will receive scarlet jackets. The team next year will be built around Esther Clement, Pauline Rudy, Betty Sanders, Virginia Turner, and Carmen Marchant.

SAMNORWOOD
By MRS. C. W. FRITTS

The donkey ball game last Wednesday night at the gymnasium was attended by a large crowd.

The Junior play was very well attended Tuesday night.

Jack Lowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Lowe, of west of Samnorwood, is recovering nicely from an appendicitis operation in a Wellington hospital.

Mrs. W. A. Parson and Mrs. J. B. Gambrell and small son, Benny, visited Mrs. Walter Fritts Thursday of last week.

Ray Peeples is moving a two room house from his father's farm to his farm.

Superintendent and Mrs. E. G. Sanders visited in Canyon with their daughter, Nadine, and son, Larry. Larry is recovering nicely from a recent operation.

Mrs. Walter Fritts visited her sister, Mrs. Ray Shirley, and daughter, Tommy, and her son, Quentin, at Canyon a short time Saturday.

The Junior high school boys and girls and grade school juniors' basketball teams played the county games at Quail last Tuesday. The high school Junior girls and the grade school Juniors placed first.

MOTHER'S GONE

(To the husband and children of the late Mrs. James Gibson, in her memory.)

She is gone but not forgotten,
And her presence lingers still;
Our dear mother up in heaven
Knows we love and do her will.
She was kind and good to all,
Bringing cheer to all she knew;
Friends and loved ones miss her so,
And her good works linger on.
She was a mother good and true,
Faithful worker in the church;
She will be remembered as a saint
By those who knew and called her aunt.
"Gone, but not forgotten"—
How those words linger on;
Mother dear, you know we loved you,
And hope to meet you soon.

—Edith Copeland.

Former Resident Buried At Olton

Mrs. L. D. Bartlett of Olton, a former resident of Wellington, died at her home Wednesday, February 28. She had been in ill health for several years, and seriously ill for the last three and a half months. She was a sister of Mrs. W. E. Cummings of Wellington.

Funeral services were conducted Thursday from the Olton Methodist Church, with the pastors of the Nazarene Baptist and Methodist Churches in charge.

Mrs. Bartlett was widely known in this county. The family came to this county in 1906 and remained until about twelve years ago, when they moved to the plains.

Mrs. Bartlett was born in Albany, Kentucky, and came to Texas as a young girl. At the time of her death she was 65 years and one month of age. Fifty-one years ago she was married to Mr. Bartlett in Young County.

Surviving are these children: Judge D. W. Bartlett of Waco, B. J. Bartlett of Corpus Christi, Mrs. Roscoe Thomas of Mobeetie, Mrs. Jim Fuller, Mrs. Ann Blythe, Mrs. J. T. Gibson and Mrs. Roy Granberry, all of Olton.

Attending the funeral service from Wellington were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cummings, Mrs. Lloyd Powell, Logan Cummings, Mrs. T. C. Fuller, Mrs. Esdle Bartlett, and Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Bartlett.

Local Boxers Win Second At Flomot Match

Bowen, Thompson Take Decisions Over Amarillo, Wichita Falls Entries

Wellington boxers emerged with the second place trophy in the Flomot invitation tournament, held at that place Friday and Saturday, March 1 and 2, with only the Amarillo High School boxing team coming out with more bouts won.

The Amarillo team won several bouts, while the local boys took two.

Jimmie Bowen, entered in the 147 pound class, after defeating Amarillo and Wichita contestants in earlier contests, won over his Amarillo opponent in the final match.

Other winner from Wellington was Leo Thompson, in the 150-pound class. After winning a preliminary game from an Amarillo youth, he won the tournament title in that class on a default.

Other Wellington boys who entered the tournament were Dan Bevers, H. D. Shockley, Ralph Martin, J. A. Goodson, Lavell McKinney, Junior Melton, J. W. French, James Driskill, Z. D. Ternison, Willie Jo Cummings, Frank Cook, and Jack Stafford.

Schools who sent teams to the tournament included Wichita Falls, Amarillo, Wellington, Silverton, Quitaque, Turkey, Lazare and Flomot.

PLEASANT HILL
By MRS. WAYNE MITCHELL

Sunday school and church were well attended both morning and night.

Mr. and Mrs. John Deaton and son, Jackie, of Wellington spent a while Sunday night in the Frank Lindsey home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dorsey and daughter, Fern, and Virginia Hayes spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Winegeart and family.

The sand storms that blew up Monday and Friday weren't appreciated by the farmers of the community.

Mrs. Wayne Mitchell, Mrs. Bertha Brown and Miss Locky Williams visited in the home of Mrs. W. M. Winegeart Saturday afternoon.

Meyer Tells School Men Of Education's Future

J. L. Beard Named President Of Local Unit Of Teachers Association

Attempting to answer for his listeners what lies in the future for the schools of the country, Dr. A. M. Meyer, of the Department of Education, West Texas State College, Canyon, spoke before teachers and trustees of Collingsworth County at their annual banquet in Wellington Friday evening, March 1.

This meeting was a combined business and social event. Re-organization of the county unit of the State Teachers Association was effected, with J. L. Beard chosen as president, Carl Chaudoin of Quail, vice president, and Miss Audrey Boggs of Quail, secretary. These three, with Logan Cummings, will make up the official delegates to the Northwest Texas Conference of Education in Canyon March 8 and 9.

First speaker on the evening's program was E. G. Sanders of Samnorwood, president of the Northwest Texas Conference for Education, who explained briefly to the group the work of the conference, and the manner in which the financial phases are handled.

"Schools From the Trustees' Standpoint" was discussed by L. A. Manzer, president of the Wellington School Board. Although he touched on many points in connection with school work which come to the trustee's attention, he emphasized the need for the schools to give positive religious training to the students under their care—a subject which is all too often regarded as dangerous ground and upon which little emphasis is placed.

Dr. Meyer, who was final speaker on the program, immediately reminded his audience that social competence has always been an important objective of the schools in America, and that it is especially significant at the present time. Warning that the present social education program is inadequate, he said.

"Teachers and school officials cannot effect improvement by themselves—they must have the cooperation and support of parents and social groups which sometimes block needed reform."

Speaking of culture in its broader meaning, Dr. Meyer recognized that while we are more fortunate than we have ever been in the history of the world in the quantity and quality of techniques with which to fashion a good life, yet in spite of all this, there is a vast discord in our living — death through undeclared wars, unchecked diseases, unemployment and its attending diseases, loss of soil resources, the lack of participation by a vast majority of men in our productive wealth, crime, and mental loss.

"Not until we are as experimental in the field of human relations as we have been in the area of new automatic machines, new power processes, new chemical and biological processes, can we hope for much relief from our present frustration," he pointed out forcefully.

"Thus, the task of education becomes fairly clear," he added, naming as this not only the passing of accumulated desirable social habits, but the continuous examination and working with culture to better it.

In closing, Dr. Meyer gave a list of predicted changes in the educational world for the next ten years.

Other entertainment numbers on the program included a violin solo by Mrs. Carl Chaudoin, a piano solo by Miss Mary Elizabeth Ireland, and a group singing.

Trustees attending the event included L. D. McMinn, W. S. White, W. A. Bennett, J. W. Carraker, and Claude Whitfield, members of the County Board; L. A. Manzer, O. B. Raburn, John Forbis, B. W. Boarman and Lee Fortenberry of Wellington, T. R. Cunningham, Lee Roark and Stanley Whitson of Samnorwood; G. E. Aduddell of Buck Creek; T. C. Crabtree, Henry J. Wischkaemper and J. F. Coleman of Quail; U. E. Kelly and M. L. James of Rolla; Mike Burkhalter and W. M. Williams of Cottonwood; E. A. Barber, W. C. Barnett and Rufus Massey of Lone Mound; J. F. Skaggs and J. E. Young of Swearingen, and Bob Wilder of Seale.

Teachers present were J. L. Beard, W. F. Decker, John Williams, Miss Lora Mae McFarland, Miss Minnie Atchley, Miss Mildred Hulsey, L. C. Lehmberg, O. C. Allen, Miss Hattie D. Wells, Mrs. Allard Vandiver, George Neal, Mrs. John Williams, John Hooper, Mrs. Reda Brickey, Miss Delia Cowans, Miss Eula Lucas, Mrs. Logan Cummings, Miss Zeffie Childress, Miss Nova Capps, Miss Mary Alston, Mrs. Ruth Barton, Mrs. Jewel Richards, Miss Aldah Young, Miss Mary Katherine Hutcherson, Miss Effie Childress, Mrs. Dan Henard, Miss Bessie Jean Willis, Miss Dela Bee Burt, and Mrs. K. D. Tinkler of Wellington.

Jack Davis, Lorin Doolen, Miss Elsie Young, Miss Jewel Frances Somerville and Mrs. Edna Burdine of Dodson; E. G. Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. Foy L. Brantley, Miss Beth Kayser, Merle Walker, Miss Mary Elizabeth Ireland, Miss Elizabeth Kurfees, Miss Helen Ramage, Miss Katherine McMinn, Mrs. Paralee Coleman and E. A. Peck of Samnorwood; Ed Brown of Buck Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Chaudoin, L. A. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Dowell, Miss Alice Strawn, Miss Winifred Carter, Mrs. L. C. Merchant, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Hooker, Miss Audrey Boggs, Miss Hazel Gilbreth, Mrs. Evelyn Lowe, T. A. Keith and Mrs. B. O. County Picked For Experiment On Surplus Cotton

Mattress Material For Low Income Farm Group Is Given

Selection of Collingsworth County as the experiment county in Extension District 1 in which to test the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation's plan to furnish cotton and ticking for mattresses for low income families was announced through the offices of the county agent and the home demonstration agent Monday morning.

"Briefly, The Surplus Commodities Corporation is trying to get rid of some of the cotton on its hands. This experiment plan has been worked out by it, with the co-operation of the A.A.A. and the Extension Service to provide these mattresses without cost to farm families having a cash income of less than $400 a year," W. K. Cottingame, county agent, explained.

"One county in each of the extension districts in the state is picked out as an experiment county, and Collingsworth was chosen. If the plan proves a success in the experiment counties, it will be carried into other counties over the country. Eight states in the cotton belt are included in the experiment."

Detailed plans for this county will be worked out Thursday morning, March 7, at 10 o'clock, at a meeting of the County Land Use Planning Committee, the Home Demonstration Council, representatives of the Farm Security Administration, Mrs. Cleo Templeton who heads the County Welfare Agency, the Commissioners Court, representatives from the Soil Conservation Service, the A.A.A. Committee, Mr. Cottingame, Miss Rose Erisman, county agent, and C. V. Griffin, administrative assistant to the A.C.A.

Following the meeting, cotton and the ticking will be ordered from the Surplus Commodities Corporation. Upon its arrival, the materials will be distributed to chosen points over the county and mattress making demonstrations will be given by Miss Erisman, who will also take applications from those wishing the supplies.

Although the mattresses will be given those whose applications are accepted, all mattresses will be made at the central point in the community.

"For the purpose of this particular program, families eligible are described as those having a total income for the calendar year 1939 of not more than $400, at least half of which was derived from agricultural occupations. The total income includes the cash income received or that is yet to be collected, plus any unsold farm products which will be put on the market in the near future," Mr. Cottingame and Miss Erisman explained.

"We feel indeed fortunate at being picked as one of the nine counties in the state to receive this program at this time. There are a good many more farm families in Collingsworth County who fall in this group than is generally known and we feel that this work will add greatly to the comfort of many homes," they said.

Physical Exams Planned For All School Children

Local Doctor, Dentist, Cooperate With Schools To Check Defects

Every school child in Collingsworth County will be examined during the coming weeks to determine whether or not he has any physical defects, or if he is 100 per cent healthy.

Plans whereby this will be done have been worked out by Logan Cummings, county superintendent, Dr. C. B. Jones, city health officer, and Dr. W. R. Orr.

First step in this health drive, however, was a puppet show, demonstrating correct methods of caring for his teeth, which was presented at Wellington, Quail and Samnorwood Monday.

"This drive for health is to try to increase the health standard of the boys and girls in our schools," Mr. Cummings explained. "While every boy and girl will be given a physical examination as to condition of eyes, teeth, nose, throat, hearing, lungs and heart, there are no obligations on the parents' part to have these conditions corrected where they exist. It is our desire that all physical defects be corrected, but if only a part of the children are helped, we will feel the work has been worth while."

Tests for tuberculosis will be given the students where desired.

No schedule of visits to the various schools will be made, but trips will be made at those times when Dr. Jones and Dr. Orr can leave their practices, Mr. Cummings explained.

No definite date has been set for the closing of the meeting.

The nation's tobacco consumption is now about 900 million pounds a year, an increase of about 135 per cent since 1900. In the same time the population is estimated to have increased about 75 per cent.

County League Meet Set For March 29, 30

That the County Interscholastic League Meet will be held in Wellington Friday and Saturday, March 29 and 30, was announced early this week by Logan Cummings, county superintendent.

This event, which is considered the outstanding school event of the year, will bring together approximately 2,500 school children for the two-day event.

On these two days, all literary events, and track and field events will be held. Basketball and probably volley ball events will be determined before that time, Mr. Cummings said.

people of this section.

Although he seldom spoke of his own accomplishments, those who knew him well knew him as a high type and loyal citizen.

Winston Garfield Taylor was born in Alabama March 5, 1880, and at the time of his death he was 59 years, 11 months and 29 days of age. He was the son of J. D. and Martha Slay Taylor, both natives of Alabama.

Mr. Taylor was educated at Taylor's Cross Roads, near Roanoke, Alabama.

He first came to Texas when he was seventeen years of age, settling in Tarrant County. He made several trips back and forth between Alabama and Texas. On March 11, 1901, he and Mrs. Taylor were married at Mangum, Okla., where they lived for about a year, when they moved to Clay County. Several years later, they came to Collingsworth County, where they had made their home since.

Before entering the creamery business here, Mr. Taylor engaged in farming and dairying.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. W. G. Taylor of Wellington, a son, Fred S. Taylor of Lubbock, and a daughter, Mrs. Chas. C. Vaughan, of Childress, and three grandchildren, Marion and Bobbie Taylor, and Jimmy Vaughan.

ployed persons are: room service, including bed care, meals, etc., for 35 days during the year; use of the operating room as many times as necessary; anaesthetic service for each operation; a liberal allowance for drugs, dressing, and laboratory service; and in case of an accident, emergency room and X-ray service.

"For the housewife or minor children, all expenses except the room service are paid in full, and that cost is split.

"Throughout West Texas, we have met with spontaneous success, and we feel that we will meet with this same success here.

"Mrs. Stevenson will begin work this week contacting the people of the county and explaining to them the detailed working of Group Hospital Service, Inc., and the cost of the coverage," Mr. Taylor stated.

Local citizens were urged to contact their doctor or one of the hospitals should they wish their opinions on Group Hospital Service.

Boyer Announces

ing loss of this land to many Panhandle farmers, which measure was authored and sponsored by Boyer in the Legislature. Other legislative activities of the Perryton Legislator included joint authorship of measure to prevent transportation of stolen livestock; supported measures authorizing State to carry workmen's compensation on its employees; supported measures designed to set up system of control of erosion to protect the soil of the farms of Texas and supported measures to provide funds to provide for needy aged, blind, dependent children and teacher retirement. His leadership in the House is well known and his interests have always been for the "average citizen" of the Panhandle.

In making his decision to run for the Senate, Boyer commented, "I have gained much experience in the House, and I can accomplish a great deal more for the whole Panhandle by membership in the Senate. The 'Average Citizen' will be my first concern if I am elected and I do not expect to promise the impossible during the course of my campaign. I earnestly believe that Panhandle citizens are entitled to full consideration in all proposed legislation and I pledge my best efforts to that end," Boyer concluded.

Mrs. B. Harrison Gives Review Monday

"A revival of the popularity of 'Gone With the Wind' reviews has been brought about by the current showing of the motion picture, and more than at any time since the release of the book people have been talking, reading and seeing 'Gone With the Wind'," said Mrs. Bedford Harrison, when she reviewed this book in Wellington Monday. Mrs. Harrison, talented young reviewer of Shamrock, told this story twice Monday, once for the high school students, and in the evening for adults. More than 200 attended both entertainments.

The review was sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club and proceeds will go to the library. Miss Minnie Atchley introduced the speaker, telling of her qualifications and of having been a former resident of Wellington. Mrs. Harrison, costumed in a "Gone With the Wind" dress, won her audience with her personality and charm.

"Week Of Prayer" Is Observed By Baptist Group

The women of the First Baptist Church are observing "The Annie Armstrong Week of Preyer. This program, which is a home mission program and observed all other the Southland, was preceded by a "School of Missions last week by the entire church.

On Monday, March 4, the program was in charge of the mission program chairman, Mrs. J. W. McCracken. Circle 1 gave an interesting discussion on the "Needs of Spanish Speaking People." Circle 2 had as their subject "Our Concern for the Cities." Circle 3 brought the topic, "Lost Sheep, Lost Coin, Lost Son." Circle 4 concluded the program with "Our Concern: Obedience to Christ's Command." Lunch was served at the noon hour. Thirty-five women were present during the day.

The concluding mission program will be given Friday afternoon beginning at 2:30. Also at this time the Royal Service program will be given and will be followed by a business meeting.

Shower Honors Mrs. Jimmie Kelso Wednesday

Friends and neighbors of Mrs. Jimmie Kelso gave a surprise stork shower in her honor Wednesday afternoon, February 28. Mrs. Earl Hunter, Mrs. Harry Gilbert, Mrs. Hugh Longino, Mrs. Guy N. Woods and Mrs. Willie B. Harwell were joint hostesses in entertaining.

It was arranged for Mrs. Kelso to be away from home at the time the guests arrived and on returning to her home she found many of her friends present for a party. Table decorations, refreshments, program and arrangements were prepared and brought in by the hostesses.

Guests were received by Mrs. Earl Hunter and Mrs. Harry Gilbert and registered by Mrs. Hugh Longino. Mrs. Wood presided at the beautifully decorated refreshment table. Mrs. Harwell was assisted in the dining room by Misses Helen Nelson and Allene Lentz.

The lace covered dining table was centered with a bouquet of Faster lilies and an arrangement of yellow candles. The Easter decorations were further carried out in the refeshments of cake and punch. Favors were three cornered cups pinned with a tiny gold safety pin and filled with mints.

Mrs. W. F. Decker and Mrs. Ernest Elliott arranged the program for the afternoon which was given by the following: Nancy Sullivan, readings (three numbers) "A Star For Every Baby," "Tony's Smile," and "Baby's Soliloquy;" Beatrice Hawkins, reading, "How Mr. Simpson Took Care of the Baby." Kelso singers, two songs, "Sweet and Low" and "My Blue Heaven," and Peggy Ruth Ream, two accordion numbers. Kelso singers were Fay Moore, Betty Lou Blanton, Aliene Raburn, Pollyanna O'Neil, Cora Elizabeth Clark, Dorothy Holcomb, Frances Nunnelley and Virginia Bledsoe.

More than sixty friends called at the Kelso home during the afternoon.

Cozette Zone Meet Scheduled For March 12

On Tuesday, March 12, the Cozette Zone of the Clarendon District will hold an all day meeting at the Kelton Methodist Church, beginning promptly at 10 a. m. Mrs. Floyd Thompson, zone leader, announces that a most inspiring program has been arranged for the day.

The auxiliaries comprising the zone are: Wellington, Dodson, Aberdeen, Dozier, Fresno, Kelley, Kelton, Quail, Samnorwood and Shamrock.

Judge L. E. Gribble Speaks On "Laws Women Should Know"

Speaking before the members of the Domestic Science Club last Wednesday afternoon, Judge L. E. Gribble explained "Laws Women Should Know." Laws concerning the husband and wife in regard to community property and many other angles were discussed by the speaker. The members answered roll call by naming a law they would like to see enacted.

Mrs. Winnie Davis Hale, who is in charge of a W.P.A. project to preserve the history of the Panhandle and is now working in this county, talked on her work and explained the importance of having this material filed in one central place.

Mrs. L. E. Gribble was hostess on this occasion with the following members present: Mesdames Lee O'Neil, Pink Sullivan, J. B. Stevenson, W. R. Orr, A. B. Mears, Joe Beard, Winnie Davis Hale, S. R. Pinkston and hostess, Mrs. Gribble.

Class Parents Give Leap Year Party For Dodson Seniors

The Senior Class of Dodson High School was entertained by class parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ulric Davis, with a Leap Year party recently. Games were played by the group and refreshments of punch and cake were served the guests.

Those attending were; Misses Ruby Hodel, Margaret Nell Wynn, Jo McKinney, Lora Dawson, Elva O'Brien, Laverne Welch, Geraldine Hunt, and Messrs. Kelly White, Billy Davis, James Farris, Tolbert Painter, Elwyn Brewster, R. A. Covey, Harold Smith, J. D. Roberts, H. T. Owens, Howard Hunt and hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Ulric Davis.

Reporter, Geraldine Hunt.

Mrs. Frank Weddington and granddaughter, Diana Kay, were here Monday to return Mrs. Frances McLeod who had spent the week end with them.

Good for town; good for country, this pictured suit. It is a blue and white checked wool coat, nipped in at waist and worn over a plain dark wool dress.

Edna Bess Curtner Celebrates First Birthday

Mrs. R. F. Curtner entertained Thursday, February 29, with a birthday dinner for her four-year-old daughter, Edna Bess. Because the honoree's birthday date occurs only once in every four years, it was her first birthday party. Pink and white decorations were used.

Refreshments were served to: Bobby Kent Bobo, Maurice and Roy Francis, Jo Evelyn and Carl Wayne Hackler, Betty Jeanette Karnes, Patricia Ann Starr, Virginia Thomas, Jeanine Young, La Dwayne Barnes, the honoree, Edna Bess Curtner, and ehe hostess, Mrs. Curtner.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Hill visited in Pampa Sunday with friends.

R. O. Sisk, Jr. Given Birthday Party Friday

R. O. Sisk, Jr., celebrated his tenth birthday on Friday, March 1, when his mother, Mrs. R. O. Sisk, gave a birthday party in his honor. The guests were entertained with games and contests at the Sisk home early in the afternoon. Following the serving of refreshments they were guests at the show.

Fashions Found In Wellington Stores

To end the wardrobe problem, which is first in every woman's mind at this season of the year, the Wellington merchants have assembled a large selection of fine hats, coats, shoes, dresses, suits, bags, belts and jewelry. Manufacturers have banded together in groups and originated colors to match perfectly in different fabrics. Shoppers can now walk into any of the Wellington stores and buy piece goods, accessories and ready-to-wear and forget the problem of color disharmony.

To mention some of the specific garments to be found the first would be suits. For a limited or limitless income there is nothing so practical in the wardrobe as a tweed suit. Its uses go on forever and it is always smart.

As springlike as the daffodils are the long coats worn over print dresses. This year there are to be seen many grays along with the ever popular navy blue and black coats.

Milady may be suave and sophisticated in the new slim draped gowns or she may swing along in strictly 1940 fashion with wide rippling hemline in her short skirt. But always, her waistline is tiny and trim, her bodice is sleekly fitted or softly molded. And her sleeves may be amusingly puffed out at shoulders, or very simple.

The skirt is a shower of pleats in shepherd's check. The blouse is white silk, the cardigan jacket, navy blue.

Mrs. Black Gives Dinner Sunday, March 3

Sunday, March 3, Mrs. Jake Black entertained a group of young people with a dinner for her daughter, Mrs. Oran Reddoch, of Childress, Clarence Black, a son, and Basil Clubb, a nephew, all of whom had birthdays occurring during the first days of March.

A delicious turkey dinner was served buffet style to: Misses Louise and Wanda Young, Mildred Lowrie, Lillian O'Brien, Merle Talley of Dodson, Dorothy Black, Frances and Ethelena Reddock of Childress, and Messrs. J. B. Killian, Roger Clubb, John and Joe Lowrie, Frank Reynolds, Oran Reddoch, and the honorees, Mrs. Reddoch, Basil Clubb and Clarence Black, and the hostess, Mrs. Black.

Williamsburg History Studied By 1924 Study Club

"Early Day Williamsburg and Reconstruction of Williamsburg" were topics discussed last Thursday afternoon at the meeting of the 1924 Study Club. Mrs. D. G. Ellis was director and talked on the reconstruction while Mrs. Wallace gave the early history.

Mrs. W. H. Lynn was hostess on this occasion and served refreshments to fourteen members at the close of the program.

During the business session Mrs. J. W. Harper, vice president, was in charge. Members endorsed Mrs. J. W. Walker of the seventh district for state president.

Those attending were Mesdames Clark Anderson, Frank Anderson, J. B. Castleberry, Tom Campbell, Frank Eikenburg, J. W. Harper, M. M. Kern, Fred LeDerer, Dewey Ellis, Kelly Pigg, W. O. Richards, J. N. Wallace, J. W. Wells and hostess.

"On Borrowed Time" Reviewed At Belles Lettres

Mrs. Bob Leggitt reviewed "On Borrowed Time," by Lawrence Edward Watkin, last Thursday afternoon, when members of the Belles Lettres Club met at the home of Mrs. W. S. Puryear. Mrs. Leggitt gave a most impressive account of the book, concluding her remarks with the members repeating the Lord's prayer. Aside from her interpretation of the story. Mrs. Leggitt read excerpts from a review prepared by Miss Evelyn Oppenheimer.

The hostess served refreshments to the following: Mesdames Jack Hurst, Bob Leggitt, C. R. Leggitt, Bert Starkey, Velman Warrick, A. C. Williams, W. K. Cottingame, and hostess, W. S. Puryear.

Double Wedding Rites For Graham-Elliott And Graham-Gilbreth

was before her marriage Sunday, Miss Hazel Gilbreth. She is the daughter of F. Gilbreth of Quail.

A wedding of interest of the past week was the double wedding ceremony in Hollis which united Miss Pauline Elliott and Lloyd Graham, and Miss Hazel Gilbreth and George Graham, on Saturday, March 3, at 7:15 o'clock. The grooms, who are brothers, are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Graham of Quail. Rev. Paul B. Cullen, pastor of the Baptist Church in Hollis, read the vows.

Graham-Elliott

Mrs. Lloyd Graham is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Elliott of Wellington. She attended the Wellington Schools, graduating from high school in the class of 1934. Since finishing school she has been with McLellan's Store.

The groom also attended school in Wellington and is now with Phillips 66 Oil Company. Mr. and Mrs. Graham will make their home in Wellington.

Graham-Gilbreth

Mrs. George Graham is the daughter of F. Gilbreth of Quail. She attended Abilene Christian College where she received her B. S. degree at the close of the summer session in 1939. She is now a teacher in the primary department of the Quail School.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Graham of Quail. He attended school in Wellington, graduating in the class of 1936. Mr. Graham is now operating the Magnolia Service Station in Quail.

The couple will make their home in Quail.

Carra Beth Ball Has Party On Birthday

Miss Carra Beth Ball celebrated her birthday on Friday, February 23, when fourteen of her friends attended a birthday party at the Ball home. The afternoon was spent playing games in which the winner was awarded a prize.

Following the games refreshments were served to the following: Betty Evelyn Curry, Betty Louise McDonald, Lee Carley, Jr., Johnnie Wiles, Charles Caldwell, Howard Moore, Zell Higdon, Maxine Carson, LaVora Hall, Peggy Ruth Ream, Helen Langford, Yvonne Shields, Eula Lee Powell, Neeta Ball and the hostess, Cara Beth Ball.

Mrs. John Aaron Is Elected Head Of Quail W.M.S.

The Quail Missionary Society met at the home of Mrs. Ray McDaniel on Tuesday, February 27. During the business session, Mrs. John Aaron was elected president to succeed Mrs. Plant who offered her resignation. A delegate was selected to go to Plainview. Mrs. Bishop gave a talk on "Surrendering All."

Attending were: Mesdames Hartman, Vaughan, Brown, Plant, Aaron, Norman, Marks and the hostess, Mrs. McDaniel.

Seven Birthday Honorees At W. M. S.

At the quarterly birthday luncheon sponsored by the ladies of the Methodist Missionary Society seven honorees were present. Mesdames A. B. Mears and John Forbis were in charge of the arrangements and decorations for the occasion. Each member brought a covered dish for the luncheon.

Yellow spring flowers suggested the color theme for the appointments and decorations. The large birthday cake was decorated in yellow and lighted with yellow candles.

The birthday offering was made by nine members, some of whom were unable to attend. Those present were Mesdames M. M. Kern, L. E. Gribble, J. A. Mahan, J. E. Kirby, J. A. Leach, R. H. Cocke and W. O. Richards.

In the afternoon Mrs. J. B. Stevenson was leader of the program and told of the life of Isabella Thoburg, missionary to India. The speaker told of the interesting life of this courageous woman who was the first unmarried woman missionary to go to India. Isabella Thoburg established the first school on land bought by women of the missionary societies.

Twenty-one members were present for the luncheon.

Shinnery Girls Make Napkins And Aprons In Club

The Shinnery 4-H Club girls have completed their napkin project and started work on their aprons. Under the direction of their sponsor, Mrs. E. L. Hively, and assistant sponsor, Mrs. Darrell Manney, the girls have been doing splendid work and will be up with their scheduled work in one more meeting.

At each club meeting the girls have an opening song, business meeting and project work. An extra meeting is being planned to make up for the meeting missed recently.

The members of the club are: Gay Reeves, president; Jeralene White, secretary and treasurer; Louise Ward, vice president; Janell Bettis, reporter; and Juanita Sorrells.

The club members and Shinnery school are planning to have a box and pie supper Thursday evening and extend an invitation to everyone interested to attend.

Reporter, Janell Bettis.

Fourteen Births Listed In February

Only fourteen births were listed in the office of H. A. Phillips, justice of the peace, during February. Mr. Phillips said late last week. One of these births occurred during January, but was not recorded until after the first of the month.

"It is likely that there are a few other births which should have been recorded, but they will probably be turned in later," he said.

Of the births listed, nine were boys and five were girls. One was that of a colored child.

The group included Austin White, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin T. White of Cotton Center, February 1; James Wesley Ammons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Ammons, February 4; Frances Ann Drake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Drake of Austin, February 7; James Parsons McDowell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ansel McDowell of Wheeler, Feb. 4.

Mother Shipton Forecast Present 500 Years Ago

Old Prophecy Reprinted At Request Of Readers Of The Leader

Mother Shipton was born in Norfolk, England, more than 500 years ago. She died in 1449. From her writings, it is evident that she was prophetic. She looked down the vista of years to the "Latter Days." She anticipated coming wars, moral breakdown of nations and modern inventions as radio, submarines, ocean liners, aeroplanes, etc., as follows:

Now a word of uncouth ryme,
Of what shall be in future time,
For in that wondrous far off days
The women will adopt a craze
To dress like men and trousers wear
And cut off all their locks of hair.
They'll ride astride with brazen brow
As witches do on broomsticks now.
Then love shall die and marriage cease
And nations wane as babes decrease.
Then wives will fondle cats and dogs
And men live much the same as hogs.
A carriage without a horse will go,
Disaster fill the world with woe.
In London Primrose hill shall be
It's center hold a Bishop's See,
Around the world men's thoughts shall fly
Quick as the twinkle of an eye.
And waters shall great wonders do,
How strange and yet it shall be true.
Then upside down the world will be,
And gold found at the root of tree.
Through towering hills proud men shall ride,
No horse or mule move at his side,
Beneath the waters men shall walk,
Shall ride, shall sleep and even talk,
And in the air men shall be seen
In white, in black as well as green,
A great man then shall come and go
For prophecy declares it so.
In water iron then shall float
As easy as a wooden boat.
Gold shall be found in streams and stones,
In a land that is yet unknown,
Water and fire shall wonders do
And England will admit a Jew.
The Jew that once was held in scorn
Shall of a Christian be born.
A house of glass shall come to pass
In England but alas, alas,
A war shall follow with the work
There dwell the pagan and the Turk.
The states shall lock in fiercest strife
And seek to take each other's life.
The North shall thus divide the South,
The eagle builds in lions' mouth.
Then tax and blood and cruel war
Shall come to every humble door.
Then when the fiercest fight is done
England and Germany shall be as one.
The British lad will then entwine
In marriage with the German vine.
All England's sons that till the land
Shall oft be found with book in hand.
The poor shall great wisdom know
And water wind when corn doth grow,
Great houses stand in farflung vale
All covered o'er with snow and hail.
In nineteen hundred and twenty-six
Build houses light of straw and sticks,
For then shall mighty wars be planned.
When pictures seem alive, with movements free,
When boats like fishes swim beneath the sea,
When men like birds scour the sky,
For half this world deep drenched in blood shall die.
But those who live to see this through,
In fear and trembling this will do:
Flee to the mountains and the dens,
To bogs and forest and wild fens.
For storms shall rage and oceans roar
When Gabriel stands on sea and shore,
And as he blows his wondrous horn
Old world will die and new be born.

WTCC Convention At Big Spring May 13, 14 And 15

Americanization, Freight Rates, Theme Of Event, President Says

ABILENE.—Dates for the 1940 convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce have been set as May 13, 14 and 15. West Texans will gather in Big Spring on those dates for the 22nd annual convention of the regional organization.

Preliminary plans for the event were discussed at a recent meeting of Big Spring Chamber of Commerce representatives and WTCC officials.

"Americanization" will be one of the central themes of the 1940 convention. The country's youth will participate through the cooperation of the Boy Scouts of America in an "Americanization parade." E. K. Fawcett, Del Rio, WTCC president, and a Scout leader for many years, made this suggestion several weeks ago and is calling upon area Boy Scout councils all over the West Texas territory to cooperate.

Second annual meeting of the Freight Rate Equality Federation, statewide organization sponsored by the WTCC to seek parity in freight rates for Texas, will be held during the convention. The freight rate topic will be one of the principal discussions of the convention. J. M. Willson, Floydada, is president of the FREF, which has a membership of 130 affiliated organizations.

A convention steering committee was named by the WTCC and the Big Spring organization, as follows: Ted Groeble, president, Big Spring Chamber of Commerce; Edmund Notestine, Big Spring, convention chairman; Bob Whipkey, editor, Big Spring Herald; and J. H. Green, manager, Big Spring Chamber of Commerce; President Fawcett; A. F. Ashford, San Angelo, WTCC first vice president; J. S. Bridwell, Wichita Falls, WTCC second vice president; and D. A. Bandeen, Abilene, WTCC manager, J. A. Rix, Fort Worth, assistant WTCC manager, was named convention manager.

A meeting of the steering committee will be held in Big Spring to complete the preliminary plans.

Mrs. P. H. Reinke of Clover, Ida., is thought to hold the "grandmother record," with 71 grandchildren.

A Gentle Laxative Good For Children

Most any child who takes this modern laxative once will welcome it next time sluggish bowels have him bilious, headachy, listless or upset. Syrup of Black-Draught's fine flavor appeals to most children. By simple directions, its action is usually gentle but thorough. Principal ingredient helps tone bowel muscles. Two sizes: 50c and 25c. Next time, use Syrup of Black-Draught.

A
Modern Linerider
on the Range

"We're on guard day and night"

THIS MODERN LINERIDER—so like the old-time cowboy—has a mortal enemy too. The cowboy waged a continuous battle against the rustler. The lineman's big fight is against depreciation—and the ravages of wind and rain, heat and cold.

Just as the soil is worn away by erosion . . . just as a herd of cattle or sheep can be depleted by theft or disease, so does the electric line suffer from depreciation and the elements.

The lineman is contantly at work on the lines entrusted to his guardianship. Repairing and replacing old poles. Repairing and replacing old wires. Destruction by a sudden storm—or damage by a run-away car or truck—must be repaired in as short a time as possible.

Day or night—the lineman is subject to call. The light of a flashlight may be his only illumination while atop a 50-foot pole, working on high voltage lines.

He is one of the hundreds of men and women, working "behind the scenes," who help make Electric Service efficient, dependable and economical here. On him we bestow a title of honor—"A Modern Linerider."

SENIOR SERIES

EDNA JOYCE GRIBBLE EUGENE McGUIRE

(The Senior Series is presented each year by The Wellington Leader as a tribute to graduating members of the senior class of Wellington High School. During the coming weeks, a short sketch will be given of each member who will finish school in the spring of 1940.)

Ruth Elois Brown

It didn't take the bus wreck to bring Ruth into the spotlight. Her friendliness and charming manner have made many friends for her and she is well liked by all with whom she comes in contact. Ruth was born February 12, 1922, near Loco, Texas. Seven of her school years were spent in Loco and four in Wellington.

She has been active in girls' athletics for a number of years. She has played volley ball in Loco and Wellington about five years together. She was on the basketball team two years and on the track team one year at Loco. She also played basketball one year at Wellington.

Outside of these activities, she was in the glee club at Loco one year, in the 4-H Club there two years, and in the Pep Squad here for three years. She was secretary of the Hobby Club, a popular organization at school, and the treasurer of the pep squad.

Her favorite subjects are geography, physiology and typing. She plans to enter Draughn's Business College at Wichita Falls where she will take a business course. When her education is finished, she wants to be a stenographer.

Clara Frances Dunson

If you see a tall, gorgeous blonde with a Grecian profile walking down the street, you may be sure it's Clara Frances Dunson. She was born August 20, 1923, in Electra, Texas. (Her address, boys, is 1004 Dalhart street). All her school years were spent in Wellington.

"Tance" delved into the fine arts during her school days. She studied piano two years, clarinet one and a half years, and was in the band for three years. She also took dramatics and was in the glee club.

She was a member of the Future Homemakers of Texas, the Spanish Club and the English Club.

Clara Frances plans to go to Texas Tech. She hasn't decided in what subject she will major. Her favorite subjects are physical education and band.

Thad R. Trew

On August 5, 1922, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Trew were blessed with a little boy that turned out to be our own quiet, good-natured Thad. He began his schooling at Rolla, and for six years absorbed knowledge there. Then he came to Wellington, and one year in Junior High with four years in Senior High have sufficed to make him a senior. His favorite subject is agriculture, and his chosen vocation lies in the Government work of Soil Conservation Service. He was active in school sports at Rolla, but in Wellington he has given all his attention to getting an education. He has taken one year of dramatics, and was in the Junior play last year. He is treasurer of the Wellington F.F.A. Chapter at present, and a guitarist in the string band of that organization. He plans to attend either Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College or Texas Tech next year. He intends to major in Agricultural Engineering or Agronomy.

Edward J. White

It may have been a sultry day on August 29, 1922, in Raton, New Mexico, but Mr. and Mrs. Elzie White were in high spirits, anyway—no wonder—our own Edward J. had come to live with them! No doubt Edward soon discovered that he had entered the world in the wrong place, for he and his parents soon moved to Texas. Edward started his schooling in Shamrock and stood it there for two years. His third year of education was at Umbarger. Then the Whites came to Wellington, and eight years in Wellington Schools have made a senior of Edward. While here he has participated one year in baseball, and for three years he has made a great player on the Skyrocket football team. The opponent on the football field has often wondered what hit him so hard when he ventured near Edward's position. But we know, don't we? Boxing also claimed Ed's attention, after the football season, and he made his presence felt there also.

Edward has found his favorite subject to be mathematics, and next year he plans to attend Texas A. and M., there to major in mechanical engineering. Good luck, Ed.

Tommy Lee Austin

January 16, 1922 delivered to this world Tommy Austin, write it down as the good deed of the day. That event occurred at Olton, Texas. Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Austin put Tommy in school for two years at Rolla before they found that he belonged naturally at Wellington. For the last nine years Wellington schools have known the cheerful, good-humored wit that is Tommy's, and the Senior class has him for vice president this year. His favorite subjects are history and English.

Tommy is an all-around athlete, having participated four years in football and track, two years in boxing and one year each in basketball and playground ball. He intends to major in physical education at Baylor University next year. When Tommy finishes his education, his chosen life work is instructor of physical education and history (beware the future history student!) Tommy says, "While being a member of the Rocket club, I have learned to play the game fair!"

Winifred Hall Wells

The efficient boy who always has his lessons and is the teacher's ideal of what a student should be is Hall. Born June 19, 1923, Hall has finished an eleven year education in ten years. He hasn't missed anything, either, for he is an honor roll student. His favorite subjects are typing and science. Hall took piano lessons in grade schools, and has been a member of the English I club, is reporter of the Wellington F.F.A. and is a member of the English II club. His choice of college lies between Canyon and W.T.S.C., or Tarleton. At one of these schools he intends to major in piano and minor in commercial arts. Hall's chosen career is professor of the piano. His highest ambition is to play in the Metropolitan Opera. Good luck, Professor Wells.

John Calvin Harper

John Calvin is a true son of Wellington, having lived here since his birth on October 9, 1921. All his education up to the present has been in Wellington schools. In John Calvin we have a student who excells in both his studies and school sports. He made a great player on the Skyrocket team, and the Skyrocket team will sorely miss him. John has done Wellington credit with his four years track, three years football, two years basketball and one year each of boxing and playground ball. He won his letter on the Skyrocket team this year.

For two years John played in the band, and he was in the Junior play in 1939. His favorite subjects are typing and biology. His next Alma Mater will be Texas University, and there he plans to major in business administration. John's chosen vocation is to be an auditor—whatever that is. Anyway, John will probably be a great auditor if he displays the same determination he has shown in high school.

William Boyd Williams

Boyd started life at Bagota, Texas, on December 28, 1921. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Williams. Only two schools can claim Boyd as a student—Childress and Wellington. He spent four years at Childress, and the rest of his schooling has been received right here in Wellington.

Boyd has found his favorite subject to be science. He is president of his Senior class and has done well in his studies besides being a star athlete. Needless to say, he made his mark on the Skyrocket football team and earned the respect of every opponent. Boyd has participated four years each in football, track, basketball and boxing. He intends to further his education at Baylor University, and major there in physical education. His chosen career is coaching. Boyd leaves us his motto: "Grit and determination is the way to success."

J. C. Hartman

J. C. was born on May 11, 1922, and first attended Buck Creek school. Wilnulcer was next to be honored with his attendance, and there he rose to the rank of sophomore. J. C.'s next alma mater was Wellington High, and three years here have made a senior of him. His favorite subjects are typing and vocational agriculture. At Wilnulcer he participated in basketball, softball and other school sports, but at Wellington he has devoted his attention to getting an education. He plans to attend Brantley-Draughn's Business college to gain more education and although he is undecided as to what subject in which to major, his chosen vocation is bookkeeping and clerking.

J. C.'s friends know him as a quiet, unobstrusive pal, and he will probably succeed in whatever he undertakes.

Wedding Bells For The Four Daughters

Gale Page, Lola, Priscilla and Rosemary Lane, the "Four Daughters" of last year's film hit are now "Four Wives" in the new film sequel with the same cast whic his scheduled to open at the Ritz Sunday.

Church Services

WELLINGTON MISSIONARY BAPTIST CHURCH

Sunday, March 10.
Sunday school, 10 a. m.
Preaching, 11 a. m.

The young people of the Shinnery Church will have charge of the evening service which will begin at 7:30 p. m. There will be special music by the Hively quartet and others of the young people. If you enjoy good singing and a good young peoples' program we invite you to come.

R. L. Porter, pastor.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

Next Sunday we will observe the sacrament of the Lord's Supper after a message by the pastor from "This Do In Remembrance of Me," Luke 22:19. Until Easter the pastor will be speaking from themes taken from the last few days of Jesus' life on earth.

His text for Sunday night will be "And It Was Night," John 13:30. Also, next Sunday we will probably elect a new Sunday school superintendent since the present superintendent is moving away.

Eugene Wood, Pastor.

Jesse H. Grogan Dies Saturday In Wichita Falls

Prominent Oil Man, Farmer, Rancher Succumbs To Month's Illness

Jess H. Grogan, prominent farmer and rancher of the north part of this county, died Saturday morning at 6:30 o'clock in a Wichita Falls hospital. He had been ill for about three weeks.

Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock Monday from the Methodist Church in Shamrock, with Rev. George A. Weems, former pastor of the First Christian Church of Shamrock, in charge.

Pall bearers were Lewis Powell, Emmett Powell, Pete Brown, Henry Franks, Jess Finley and Floyd Davidson. Honorary pall bearers were H. E. Franks, Jess Kemp, Luther McCombs, Ben Brown, Elmer Strong, M. T. Powell, Claude Caperton, Dave Thomas, Claude McKinney, Jimmie Richards, Steve Owens, Ernest Baggs, Joe Hindman and Judge R. H. Cocke.

Flower bearers were Exie Edwards, Mrs. George Close, Willie Massey, Geraldine Duncan, Agnes Finley, Grace Powell, Mary Bee Shields, and Mrs. Harvey Close.

A native of Clay County, Texas, Mr. Grogan was born February 11, 1875, and at the time of his death he was 65 years and 21 days of age. Mr. Grogan engaged in ranching in Clay County. Later he moved to Jefferson County, Oklahoma, and in 1909, to this section.

On September 28, 1899, he was united in marriage with Miss Hester Ellen Holcomb at Henrietta.

Mr. Grogan was widely known and liked throughout the eastern part of the Panhandle. He worked for the development of farming and ranching in his section, and was active in efforts to develop oil interests in the northern section of this county.

Surviving relatives include his widow, Mrs. Jesse Grogan, and three daughters and two sons, Ross Grogan, Hugh Grogan, Jesse Grogan, Mrs. Claude Powell and Mrs. Clyde Brown, all of near Shamrock; two sisters, Mrs. Rena Bridges of Los Angeles, Calif., and Mrs. Ida May Oldham of Big Spring; three brothers, E. W. Grogan of San Antonio, Mose Grogan of Fort Worth, and John Grogan of Shamrock; three grandchildren and numerous nieces and nephews.

Interment was in the Shamrock Cemetery.

Farm Animals Receive Blessing

It's an old Mexican custom to have your pets and animals blessed, so Chavela, Spanish dancer, brings her cow and new-born calf to Queen of Los Angeles church in Los Angeles, Calif., to receive benediction from Father Estaban Emalda. Many pet owners follow this tradition annually, as it is supposed to bring fertility and health to the animals during the coming year.

The revival closed at the First Baptist Church Wednesday night. The meeting was very successful. Eight joined the church by letter, five rededication of lives were made and two joined by baptizing.

Ruth Brown underwent a tonsilectomy Friday afternoon in a local hospital.

Estelle Adkins is the owner of a thimble which her grandmother sewed with when just a girl. The thimble fits on the third finger and has no end to it. It was used by pushing the needle on the side of the thimble instead of using the end as we do today.

Mrs. Anna Pierce left Saturday for Kermit, Texas, where she will visit for the next two weeks.

Lavera Talley is home again after her long visit in Dallas where she underwent two operations.

Rev. McKenzie, district missionary, will speak at eleven o'clock at Arlie in the First Baptist Church and then he will speak at three o'clock in the afternoon at the First Baptist Church at Loco the fourth Sunday in March.

Several men in this community attended the banquet given in the clubhouse Friday night for farmers and business men. Frank Prince, T. H. Rainer, Silas Crawford, H. T. Chaudoin and Gene Woods attended.

Next Sunday Rev. Tom Burns of Childress will be at the First Baptist Church to fill his appointment. Rev. J. R. Plant, Methodist pastor, was at the Methodist Church last Sunday.

The annual singing is to be held the third Sunday in March at the Loco school house. Childress and Collingsworth singers are in charge of the singing.

Many people from this community attended the singing at Wellington Saturday night and Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harbin, Mr. and Mrs. Silas Crawford, Dorothy Harbin and C. A. Crawford were among those who went.

Feed Allotment Is 95,039 Acres

Collingsworth County's feed allotment under the 1940 A.A.A. program has been approved by the state office at 95,039 acres, and returned to the local A.C.A., it was learned here this week.

Allotments for the individual farms are being mailed out this week, C. V. Griffin, administrative assistant, stated, and should be in the hands of the producers by Saturday.

"All allotments were figured on the same basis, that is, every farm has the same per cent of feed acreage in proportion to the cotton and wheat acreage allotments," Griffin explained.

Of the cultivated acreage in Collingsworth County, feed, wheat, and cotton allotments will cover 73 per cent of the land, leaving 27 per cent for diverted acreage.

Mrs. Earl Koger of Shamrock visited with friends here Monday.

SHERIFF'S SALE

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
COUNTY OF COLLINGSWORTH

BY VIRTUE of a certain execution issued out of the Honorable Justice Court of Precinct No. 1, Dallas County, on the 9th day of February 1940, by W. L. ANNOUNCEMENT...

Hospital Service Now Available

To Citizens of

Wellington and Collingsworth County

At ACTUAL COST!

Have you ever stopped to think what would happen if serious illness should creep into your home tonight? Suppose your child should become in need of hospital services tonight! Would you be ready to meet such a crisis?

Probably not, if you are an average American citizen—a small business man, a salaried man or a farmer. After the emergency has been passed—then comes months of worry, months of scrimping to save enough to meet an unwanted and unexpected obligation, months of embarrassment trying to stretch your income to meet the necessities of life and to pay hospital and medical bills.

Why not apply the "ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" to a problem such as this. Through special enactment of the Texas Legislature, a set-up was created through which the Group Hospital Service, Inc., may operate on a non-profit basis in which 317 hospitals in the state are included, offer hospitalization to Group-Members on an insurance plan.

This plan is based on co-operative action of thousands of Texas families each paying a small amount into the fund each month. In case of any hospitalization needs, Group Members receive benefits of 35 days hospitalization a year, use of operating room, medical care, and service of nurses. This Group Hospitalization can be written for private rooms or for wards and the cost is very small.

Family Groups are urged to join, the head of the family pays a small fee and still smaller fee each month for each dependent, thus insuring the entire family hospitalization.

Investigate this plan! It will save you money, it will save you needless worry, it will preserve your credit and keep you out of debt and give you the assurance that you will have the best of hospital care for you and your loved ones when illness strikes in your home.

TEXAS CELEBRATES

Texas was 104 years old last Saturday. Measured in terms of our own lives, and our own experiences, that is rather old. But measured in terms of the history of the state, since the white man first came across the territory, and in terms of its potentially great future, that period is rather short.

A graphic story of states of the South who have passed their peak in prosperity and in the welfare of their people has been told by certain writers during recent years. This does not apply to Texas. Farm prosperity, it is true, may have gone into a temporary eclipse, due to adverse trade barriers and an agricultural situation that is not only nation-wide, but to some extent world-wide. Texans, however, by their own efforts, their own intelligence, and their own hard work, are working to find a solution to their own problem, and in innumerable individual cases, they are finding in this new agriculture a way to success.

Industrially speaking, Texas is just beginning. Each year finds some new industry or some new plant entering operation. The oil problem has come up for a good deal of criticism, but that, as well as a number of other industries here, is still in the period of "growing pains." That Texas, along with other states facing the same problems, will work out a satisfactory solution is likely.

Texans, too, have taken their place in the national life—in the fields of politics, exploration, science, and entertainment, Texans have taken their place with the best of the country.

The inevitable story of Texas lies in its development, but this must be a development that is not exploitation.

ROAD-MAKING MONSTER

Among the 300 exhibits at the recent convention and road show of the American Road Builders Association in Chicago was a monster machine 75 feet long and 15 feet high, described as the world's largest excavator, and called a carry-all scraper.

This immense machine weighs 40 tons, and can remove 55 tons of earth at a single bite, it is said. It is pulled by a 160-horsepower engine and pushed by a 95-horsepower tractor, both of the Diesel type, each requiring only one man to operate. Its four pneumatic tires are nine feet high and two and one-half feet in diameter. The cost of the machine was given as $35,000.

Exhibits at the great show covered nearly eight acres of floor space and were valued at more than five million dollars. The convention lasted five days, with delegations representing every state in the union and 36 foreign nations.

Among the matters discussed was the completion of a great international highway from Alaska to Argentine. In such a project a number of great machines such as that described above could doubtless be used to good advantage.

QUACKS AND SUCKERS

The ease with which charlatans of all kinds, particularly medical quacks, defraud the public would be incredible were it not for the evidences to be seen on every hand. A few of the schemes whereby the bullible and superstitious have been separated from their money by these swindlers are mentioned in an article by Dr. Morris Fishbein.

Soon after Franklin made his famous kite demonstration in electricity, everyone was discussing the wonderful new force. A doctor named Elisha Perkins manufactured a lot of short metal rods, which he claimed were charged with electricity and therefore capable of drawing disease from the human body. He sold many of the rods—one pair to George Washington.

Electric belts and similar appliances have been sold by the millions, not one of which, of course, had any curative value whatever. A few years ago a widely advertised product called Sanatogen had an enormous sale and testimonials were obtained from many persons of prominence. The stuff was composed of 95 per cent cottage cheese and the remainder glycerine phosphate, neither of any medical value.

One promoter acknowledged making $45,600 profit in a year from the sale of a "chemical ring" supposed to cure diseases of the blood, but in reality no more efficacious than a twine string tied around one's finger.

But we can hardly wonder at the success of quackery in a state of civilization which still accepts a mass of medical and other superstition as gospel truth.

2600TH ANNIVERSARY

In colorful ceremonies and festivities, the people of Japan will celebrate throughout 1940 the 2,600th anniversary of the accession to the throne of Jimmu Tenno, first emperor and founder of the world's oldest reigning family which dated its origin from 660 B. C.

Festivities inaugurating the year-olng celebration officially began February 11, according to foreign press dispatches, when Emperor Hirochito, 124th ruler of Nippon and direct descendant of Jimmu Tenno, presided over elaborate ceremonies at the imperial court at Tokyo.

With messages extending congratulations and felicitations to Emperor Hirohito, heads of governments and dignitaries paid tribute to the 2,600 anniversary celebrations. The New York Times reported President Roosevelt's message which read:

"Upon the occasion of this memorable anniversary, I am happy to extend my sincere good wishes for the welfare of Your Majesty and your family."

Pope Pius sent congratulations in a statement which said:

"We are participating with great rejoicing in the celebrations commemorating the twenty-sixth centenary of the founding of your powerful empire and we extend to Your Majesty and to your august house congratulations for the glory of your ancient kingdom, while we reaffirm our gratitude for the kindliness of your government toward our Catholic sons."

WILD GAME IN TEXAS

AUSTIN. — The statewide quail restoration project in which the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission hopes eventually to establish quail management demonstration areas in the majority of counties in the state is progressing rapidly according to reports to the executive secretary of the Game Department.

To date, the director of game restoration reports, there have been forty areas released and work on improving the habitat has been started. These areas total 38,465 acres. The areas, none smaller than 200 acres and none larger than 4,000, are set up under the guidance of technically trained game managers and biologists. The areas established are expected to be examples for land-owners who desire quail on their farms and ranches to visit in order to get actual demonstrations of the needs of quail in the way of food and cover.

The management of quail from the standpoint of habitat improvement on a state-wide basis is a new thing in Texas, and although a considerable amount of research has been done, there is still a great deal to learn concerning what practices are best suited to the various sections of the State.

On most farms and ranches there is a lack of suitable food and cover areas for quail. Therefore, in order to correct this deficiency, fence corners, fence rows and other out-of-the-way places are being fenced as protection from livestock and are retired from crops so that quail can find suitable protective cover and feeding lanes. In general, quail prefer a habitat that contains a mixture of different vegetation types such as brush, woods or timber, weeds and grass. Therefore management practices are directed toward these ends on the particular projects being set up by the Game Department.

Although domestic crops have been planted in some places to supply food, greater attention is being given by the biologists to the restoration of native weeds and grasses because they are available to quail through the critical period of winter, whereas seeds from domestic crop plants oftentimes are not available after late fall. Biologists working on quail restoration, which is a Pittman-Robertson project partially financed by federal funds, are keeping careful records through systematic observations on the various projects so as to evaluate the effectiveness of the various habitat improvement techniques being used.

On some of the areas where there are no quail, birds trapped in the wild will be released. A metal band will be placed on the leg of each. If the bird is killed later and the band retrieved, it will be possible to tell how far the birds wander after release. It is generally thought that if birds wander far the habitat is not suitable to their needs. Game managers have found that in most parts of Texas sufficient brood stock is present to restock the surrounding country if food and cover conditions are right.

BRIEF TOPICS

John Vaught, dog catcher of Livingston, Mont., urged city councilmen to build a new dog pound, explaining: "We tried putting them in the city jail, but they crawled out the cracks."

John Spoo of Louisville, Ky., when held up by a bandit, said: "I have no money; besides, if you shoot me somebody will see you running away." The gunman fled.

City Attorney R. V. Baker of Kenosha, Wis., issued a proclamation ordering police to pick up all stray dogs. The first one picked up belonged to Baker, who had to pay $1.50 to retrieve it from the dog pound.

Fargo, N. Dak., has an ordinance requiring all women to remove their hats while dancing.

Glass such as oven ware is made of is now used for bobbins in silk and rayon mills and is found to be clean and durable.

Scouting Beckons All

THE ADOBE WALLS

The Adobe Walls Council, serving Carson, Collingsworth, Gray, Hall, Hansford. Hemphill, Hutchinson, Lipscomb, Ochiltree, Roberts, and Wheeler counties in Texas and Beaver, Cimarron and Texas counties in Oklahoma, has an area of about 16,000 square miles and an estimated population of 150,000.

The success of Scouting in this large area is largely due to the recognized fact that lofty adult ideals can be tied to boy-interest only through a high type of adult companionship with boys while doing things which appeal to boys. The fact that Scouting is a national program of activities for local use, to be run by local men and for the benefit of the local boys has appealed not only to the boys but also the adults. This companionship is given and largely supervised by volunteer leaders. Of the 438 adult Scout workers in the Adobe Walls Council only two are paid workers and these only to help the volunteer to better serve the boy.

In this area there are over 1600 boys who become twelve years of age annually. Multiply this by two, three or four and you will have the prospective Scout field. Just how near we reach all of these boys will be measured by the adult interest in these boys. Wherever sponsoring institutions and leaders can be found boys are available. Surveys of all boys of Scout age (12-21) show that over 75% want to be Scouts. Nearly every boy at the age of 12 wants to be a Scout, but as he grows older other interests interfere unless he is well rooted in the Scouting program. As leadership and better Troop programs are developed more and more boys will want to be Scouts and have a greater tenure.

At the present time there are 53 Scout Troops; 977 Scouts; 438 Scouters; 9 Cub Packs; 195 Cubs; and 61 Cubbers in the Adobe Walls Council. This shows an increase over last year at this same time of: 13 Troops; 194 Scouts; 183 Scouters; 6 Cub Packs; 108 Cubs; and 39 Cubbers. The objective for the year is: 60 Troops; 1200 Scouts; 8 Cub Packs; and 170 Cubs which gives us the picture of the work necessary if we are to reach our goal in the next four months.

On Texas Farms

COLLEGE STATION.—Texas farm families planted 10,241 frame gardens in 1939, an increase of 7,119 over the 1938 total of 3,122.

The little gardens, usually around four feet wide and 20 feet long, yielded 2,125,000 pounds of vegetables valued at $112,000. Many produced three to five crops in 1939.

The frame gardens, protected against wind and extremes of heat and cold, and usually subirrigated, were especially valuable in a year when drouth cut vegetable yields over a large portion of the state.

The idea of the frame garden for out-of-season vegetable production goes back a number of years ago to Castro County, where Mr. and Mrs. Charley Heck decided that their family needed fresh vegetables and turned to cold frames as a means of growing them in spite of limited rainfall, winds, and blowing sand on their wheat farm.

Later, according to Jennie Camp, specialist in home production planning with the Texas A. and M. Extension Service, a home demonstration agent was employed by Castro County. This agent, Izora Clark, passed on word of the Heck's success to other farm women and to neighboring home demonstration agents.

By 1935 the idea had spread to a number of counties in the South Plains area, and Grace I. Neely, extension specialist in food preservation, investigated the plan. By 1936 the Extension Service had adopted the system as a standard recommendation.

The secret of the success of the frame garden lies in the protection afforded by the sides and the cover, usually canvas. Since the area is so small—usually around 100 square feet—farm families can afford to improve the soil for intensive cultivation. Sub-irrigation is almost a standard practice, but the gardens can be successfully irrigated from the surface.

Frame gardens often yield ten times the volume of vegetables that can be produced on a similar area in open gardens.

The vegetables, because they grow rapidly and are protected from sudden changes in temperature, are of surpassing flavor and tenderness.

The main value of the frame gardens from the standpoint of nutritional experts, however, is that they produce vegetables early in the spring and late in the summer at a time when the ordinary garden is bare. In some sections of the state, the frame garden is the only source of fresh vegetables.

The miniature gardens are also ideally adapted for use in towns and cities, Miss Camp pointed out.

The 300 percent increase in the number of frame gardens in 1939 over the 1938 total is cited as evidence of the practical value of the system.

Detailed information as to the construction and culture of frame gardens is contained in an Extension Service circular, C-121, "Frame Garden Suggestions," which can be secured free at the offices of county agricultural and home demonstration agents.

I SAW

By V. A. R.

There's one prediction concerning sandstorms that is becoming classic in this county: There'll be two sure dusters, one the day of the annual boys' Fat Stock Show, and the other the day of the Interscholastic League meet. That leaves one to come. As everyone dodged in and out of buildings trying to keep dust out of his eyes, I SAW

Mrs. J. M. Stowell walking from her home downtown carrying a magazine.

Helen Louise Wischkaemper, the small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wischkaemper, looking around in wide-eyed interest at all the machinery in the back of The Leader office and smiling appreciatively when she got her name spelled out on a piece of metal.

T. H. Rainer of Loco crossing the street carrying two pails—just a little too large for milk buckets.

Tiny Mary Sue Campbell walking with grown-up dignity down the street with Edith Copeland, but holding tight to Edith's hand so there'd be no chance to get away. They're from Loco, too.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Terry driving rapidly in town from their home out near Rolla.

Mrs. Guy Clay and Neva taking advantage of a pretty Sunday to drive out in the country.

Mrs. W. H. Goforth sitting downtown with her small granddaughter, Linda Singley, and saying if Linda's mother knew she were downtown and not all dressed up, she might not like it.

Another of the newest generation downtown was Carolyn Couch, who had her face turned away from admirers. That didn't work, though, for her mother, Mrs. Orval Couch, just turned the basket around.

Mrs. U. E. Kelley waiting for the rest of her family to get through looking at calves and sheep so they could get out of the dust and wind at the stock show.

Betty Margaret Berry was another who was taking in the show, looking eagerly at all the livestock.

Somewhat of a surprise, and attracting many favorable comments was Thad Trew's snow white calf on exhibition at the show.

SEWING WITH COTTON BAGS

Do not throw your cotton bags away. Use them to make something smart and useful for your family. Dozens of practical articles may be made from either the plain white muslin bags, or from the fast colored print bags.

Most cotton bags are sewn with chain stitching. This stitching usually starts in the lower corner near the fold. By cutting the chain close to the bag and taking hold of the ends of the upper and lower threads at this point and pulling both, the stitching is ripped in a few seconds. If any difficulty is experienced, the bag has perhaps been stitched from the other end.

The ease with which printing ink may be removed from cotton bags depends on the kind of ink that has been used. Under ordinary circumstances, it is sufficient to cover the inked places with lard or soak them in kerosene overnight. Then wash them out in lukewarm water. If only a faint, barely discernible marking may still be seen, it is safe to assume a few washings will remove the remaining traces.

Some women prefer removing the ink with ordinary laundry soap. Wet a bar of soap and rub on the dry bag. Repeat until the bag is covered with a thick layer of soap. Roll the bag up and let it stand for several hours before washing. When it is washed and boiled, it will be as white as any muslin. Most of the printed bags have very little ink to be removed.

The material used in cotton bags is of firm, sturdy weave and by the time it has been laundered for sewing, there is absolute proof against further shrinking. Many women find it fun to dye their empty bags into solid colors for summer sports clothes. If the white or natural tints of the bag are used, the garments may be trimmed in rows of braid, or with collars and cuffs of printed cotton.

Bags in which flour or sugar is purchased may be used to make dozens of useful articles including aprons, smocks, pajamas, sunsuits, luncheon sets, laundry bags, dish towels, crib covers, bibs, stuffed toys, and dresses for children. Mrs. John W. Ryan of Fresno has made a beautiful dress for her small daughter out of a blue print bag. Mrs. Ryan is using muslin bags in piecing attractive quilt blocks. Mrs. Cleo R. Lax of Lutie uses two bags of a kind to make little dresses for her daughter who is two years of age. Many other thrifty women in Collingsworth County are finding valuable uses of their cotton bags.

A small handbook showing the many things which can be done with cotton bags may be obtained by calling at the Farm Security office in Wellington, Texas.

Over 200 Miles Of Shelterbelts For Northwest Texas

WICHITA FALLS.—Over 200 miles of shelterbelt have been approved for planting in Northwest Texas, reported W. E. Webb, State Director of the Prairie States Forestry Project on March 1. Approximately 60 miles of tree belts have already been planted this year.

Wherever necessary replacements are also being made on the older belts in order to place them in a more satisfactory condition. This will take care of the losses suffered in the unseasonably dry weather this past summer. The unusual amount of snow and rain during the past 10 weeks has done wonders in putting the ground in shape for the planting. The moisture has gone down over 20 inches in most places.

Mr. Webb further reports that more than 700 applications have been made for tree belts in 32 counties. The foresters have their hands full in examining proposed areas for shelterbelts, meanwhile keeping over 25 crews in operation. However, they will continue to accept applications for the next few weeks. Applications may be turned in to the County Agents or Forest Service Officers in Wilbarger, Hardeman, Childress, Cottle Motley, Hall, Collingsworth, Donley, Gray and Wheeler Counties.

Faculty, Rotarians Tie 6-6 In Donkey Basketball Game

The score ended 6 to 6, but both the Samnorwood faculty and the Shamrock Rotarians were of the opinion that they were losers in the Donkey basketball game played Wednesday evening, February 28, at Samnorwood.

Starring for the Shamrock team were John Walker and Forrest Kline, while E. A. Peck, who tied the score, was outstanding for the Norwoods.

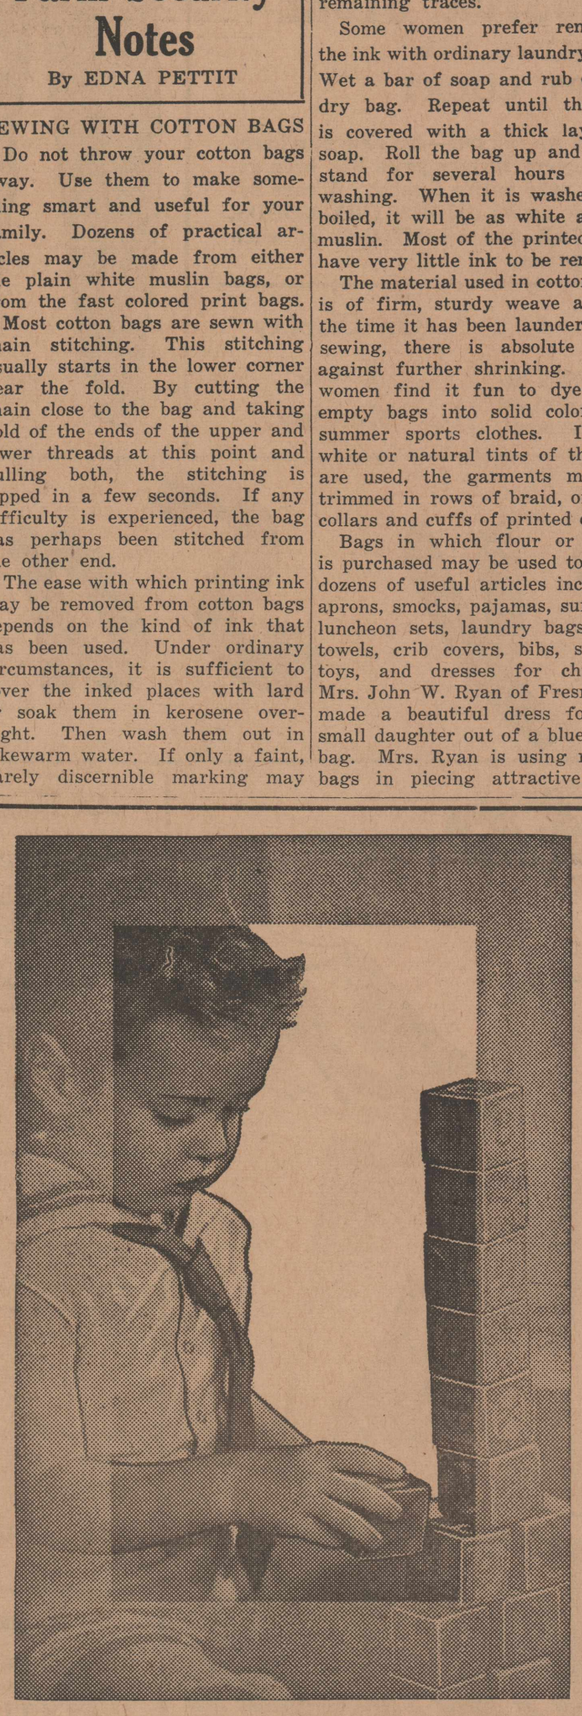

The number of paid admissions taken in at this game were the largest for any event ever held at Samnorwood.

How To Relieve Bronchitis

Bronchitis, acute or chronic, is an inflammatory condition of the mucous membranes lining the bronchial tubes. Creomulsion goes right to the seat of the trouble to loosen germ laden phlegm, increase secretion and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding that you are to like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

Interest In Distribution

Before an airplane is put into service, grueling tests are made to establish its ability to perform. Nobody can put a distribution system through acrobatics tests to prove its capacity to carry the load upon it. But that is no reason why specifications for an efficient distribution system should not be drawn.

The farmer's interest in distribution is to have and find him a market for the largest possible quantity of his products and to return him the largest possible share of the dollar which the consumer spends for those products.

Between the farmer and the consumer is a distribution system which performs an amazingly complex task of getting things from where they are produced to where they are wanted.

The bank's interest in distribution is making sound loans, for our economic system is based on money, credit and banking. Banks, and the credit they supply, have helped to make possible the American standards of living. And in so doing they have contributed to the well being of every person in the country.

It is the policy of this bank to provide helpful service for its community.
