Coffee Drinkers, Gasoline Sales Aid Red Cross Drive

Coffee drinkers gave $101.60 to the Ochiltree county Red Cross campaign fund last Saturday as cafes and drug stores of Perryton gave their coffee sales to the Red Cross.

Service stations donated 2 cents per gallon of gasoline and turned in about $80 to the drive.

Boy Scouts sold zinnia seed to flower lovers and netted the drive $68.

More volunteer workers are needed for the Red Cross drive, according to Gene Akers, fund drive chairman. Persons desiring to assist in the city and rural areas may either contact Akers at 3501 or Mrs. J. F. Cox at 3581.

Slightly more than $1,000 of the $2,826 goal has already been raised, Akers reported.

Inspection Shows Insect Damage Light Locally

Some green bugs and cutworms have been found in the Panhandle, but the insects pose no threat to Ochiltree county, according to a report by Norris Daniels, entomologist at the Amarillo Experiment Station.

Cutworms were found in some fields in Oldham and Potter counties and conditions are good for development of cutworms in other areas, Daniels reported.

Greenbugs were found in 16 of 79 fields inspected, but were confined to rank wheat or volunteer. Beneficial insects were found in sufficient numbers to take care of the greenbugs, and no serious damage is expected from the insects, the report continued.

Brown wheat mites were found in some fields in Hansford and Sherman counties.

Fire Insurance Credit Raised Effective April 1

Effective April 1, Perryton will receive a 15 per cent good fire record credit, according to a recent announcement by the Texas Board of Insurance Commissioners.

During 1953 the fire insurance credit was 10 per cent, meaning that Perryton fire insurance policy holders will get a saving in their insurance costs.

Fire insurance credits or charges are determined each year on the basis of fire losses compared with the premium payments.

The record of charges and credits for the past five years is:

1950: 10 per cent credit.
1951: 15 per cent credit.
1952: 15 per cent credit.
1953: 10 per cent credit.
1954: 15 per cent credit.

Red Bud Club Sponsors Stark Park Planting

In cooperation with the City Park Department, the Redbud Garden Club is sponsoring landscaping of the Stark Park located on 16th avenue between Eton and Fordham, Mrs. Loyd Morgan, president, reported today.

Many shrubs have already been planted and other landscaping improvements will be carried out by club members as quickly as possible.

Other civic clubs have indicated that they would assist the Redbud unit in making the new park ready for summertime activity. Perryton's Lions club have already donated $100 to be used for playground equipment.

Lonesome Tomcat Causes Ruckus

The dog vaccination program at the city hall came to an abrupt halt for a while Monday afternoon when a rabies shot was given to to large tomcat. There were about seven dogs waiting their turn at a rabies shot when Dr. Martin Duke slipped the needle to the tomcat. The cat howled, leaped into the air, all dogs started barking and owners were scrambling like mad before things got back under control. This was the only cat treated that afternoon and perhaps it is just as well.

City Council Will Consider Renewal of Gas Franchise

Same Terms As Present Gas Contract

The city council will consider Tuesday night an application for franchise renewal by the Public Service Corporation, asking for a 25 year franchise under much the same terms as the franchise which expires March 29.

Under terms of the franchise agreement submitted to the city, the Public Service Corp. would pay 2 per cent of the gross receipts, same rate as at present. The company has paid about $1,800 per year franchise tax, according to city manager J. B. Whigham.

No change in the gas rate is indicated under the terms of the franchise submitted to the city council.

The franchise does have one new stipulation, put in by the council at an earlier meeting with representatives of the company. This is a "recapture" clause, providing that the city can purchase all property of the company in Perryton for a cost of $110,141.71, representing the original cost of the property, plus any additional expenditures in facilities, plus 5 per cent of this total.

The company would not be obligated to sell gas to the city, in event the city did buy the gas lines and other facilities.

This "recapture" clause is in effect in a number of cities and the Public Service Corp. entered into a franchise agreement at Canadian recently with the "recapture" clause in it. This clause merely paves the way for city purchase of the gas company facilities, if and when such a step seems feasible or desirable.

Need for Civil Defense Cited At Annual B&PW Club Banquet

Need for an active Civil Defense organization in all American cities was emphasized by Gaines. F. West of Oklahoma City at the annual B&PW banquet Thursday night.

"We live in a new era," West said. "And an active Civil Defense organization is part of this new era. Civil Defense is not something to get excited about right now and forget in a year or two years, but is something that must become an essential part of our way of life."

West pointed out that the idea of Civil Defense was not new, but was actually an integral part of American life. It is merely the practice of neighbors getting together to protect life and property in event of war or disaster, he said.

"If Perryton were to be bombed in wartime, or suffer a major fire, tornado or explosion, Civil Defense organization would be the only means of you saving your property," he declared. "Our fire department and police departments would be much too busy fighting the major fires to have time to save your $15,000 home," he concluded.

The banquet was attended by members of the B&PW Club along with presidents of most of Perryton's civic organizations. There were guests from Colby, Kansas and Beaver, Okla.

Rose Powell was mistress of ceremonies. The welcome was given by Nellie Bryan and the response was made by Marguerite Benson of Borger, a district officer. Mrs. Leah Ward, club

Danger Signals for Parents Of Jail Bound Kids Named

DALLAS—(AP)—Is your son or daughter headed for jail?

Worried parents don't need a crystal ball to learn the answer to that question.

Seven "danger signals" are nearly always present in youths who wind up facing felony charges. According to Dallas County's adult probation officers Bill MacKay and Charles Hull, here are the "symptoms" parents should watch for:

1. Poor attendance at school and lack of interest in graduating.
2. Bad companions.
3. Secretiveness at home; lack of confidence in parents and sisters and brothers; unwillingness to discuss friends and dates with parents.
4. Drifting from job to job if old enough to work.
5. Minor law violations and success in escaping formal charges or a court appearance.
6. Drinking.
7. Failure to respect the property of others.

The last sympton, says MacKay and Hull, is the common denominator in the 72 men and women now at liberty under Dallas County's four-month-old probation program.

"They're like little children who want something that belongs to someone else," MacKay said. "They just reach out for it like a 4-year-old. Nearly all lack the moral stamina to get out and earn money to pay for what they want."

Probation is granted to selected defendants who are considered good rehabilitation risks and have not been previously convicted.

Dist. Judges Henry King and Harold B. Wright consider probation an improvement over the old suspended sentence law. A defendant who violates the strict terms of probation—which requires clean living— can be sent to prison immediately.

Under the suspended sentence law, it is necessary to convict the man or woman of a new felony before he can be made to serve time on the previous offense.

About one third of the countys probationers are 17 to 19 years old. Most were convicted of burglary or theft.

When these youths appear in court, MacKay and Hull know there has been a breakdown in parental control.

And the breakdown, they say, did not occur just before the crime was committed.

"If parents lose control of a child, it's likely to happen when he's 13 or 14," MacKay says.

"Wise parents know a rash or slight fever in a child may mean the start of a serious illness.

Boys and girls with "crime symptoms" can be treated successfully. But parents must learn to recognize the symptoms

Arteries Tell Person's Age, Says Dr. Cox

AUSTIN, TEXAS—Some folks are old at sixty while others are mentally and physically alert at eighty. The number of years one has lived may not be a true index to ones physical condition. Actually, the length of a person's life span is influenced by the condition of his arteries. "Premature hardening of the arteries, often due to avoidable infections, improper diet and possible worry and strain is to a certain extent preventable," declared Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Many of the problems connected with the hygene of old age are due to lowered mental power. Therefore, a cheerful and optimistic attitude toward the aged, especially during sickness, is essential to their well being.

Old people regard their condition as far less serious when they can be fully dressed and out of bed. When they can be up, the excretory organs function more satisfactorily. However, when an elderly person complains of being overtired, or otherwise not physically fit, a day of rest in bed is advisable. By providing light and easily digested food and applying warmth to the body of an aged patient, he is often tided over a mild or threatened illness.

Special attention should also be paid to proper clothing, diet and exercise of the elderly. With reasonable attention to certain well defined and easily followed principles of personal hygiene, it is possible to grow old gracefully. Furthermore it is also possible, in many instances, to retain ones faculties to such an extent as to make old age a pleasure rather than a burden.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendel Barbee and son Craig of Reydon, Okla. were guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Helton last week end.

In most cars, each front wheel has a kingpin pivot for turning right and left and two hinge-like joints for moving up and down over rough spots in the road.

In the 1954 Ford you won't find either the kingpin or the hinge-like joints which most cars have. In their place are two sealed ball joints about which each front wheel moves both up and down and right and left. This completely new suspension not only makes the car easier to steer but permits greater total up-and-down front wheel travel for a smoother ride.

These new ball joints pivot in specially shaped seats so that wheels will turn more easily and are far less likely to get "out-of-line." This new ball joint system eliminates 12 points of wear.

Here's how Ford's new Ball-Joint Suspension work

It's just one of the "dividends" you get in a '54 Ford which make it worth more when you buy it, worth more when you sell it!

In addition to this completely new advance in chassis design, Ford brings you the most modern high-compression, low-friction engines in the industry: the new 115-h.p. I-block Six and the new 130-h.p. Y-block V-8. These two new deep-block engines bring you dividends of greater horsepower, smooth, quiet performance and more GO per gallon.

Fair Prices for Wheat Sought At National Wheat Convention

The American farmer does not have to apologize to anyone in asking for price supports of at least 90 per cent of parity, which will assure him a fair price for the commodities which he produces," Ken Kendrick of Stratford, Texas, vice-president of the National Association of Wheat Growers, told the annual meeting of the Association in Wichita, Kansas, Thursday (Feb. 4.)

Kendrick was the first speaker on the Association's program. His ideas were approved by the Association in their annual election Friday, when Kendrick was elected president for the coming year.

The Wheat Growers also backed Kendrick in a number of resolutions including one favoring a national wheat program of domestic parity or some variation of the certificate plan. Other resolutions asserted the lower price of wheat proposed would not materially reduce acreage, called for a long-range soil building program, asked that farmers assume the responsibility for excess wheat over the national reserve and recommended that the department of agriculture announce acreage and marketing quotas at the earliest possible time to allow farmers time to make their plans.

In addition to Kendrick's election to the Wheat Grower presidency, the delegates elected H. W. Clutter of Holcomb, Kans., as secretary-treasurer, and named the following vice-presidents: R. L. Patterson, Oxford, Kansas; Carrell Boyd, Dumas, Texas; Floyd Root, Wasco, Ore.; Gordon Day, Onida, So. Dak.; Herbert Hughes, Imperial, Nebr.; and Henry Christensen, Denver, Colo.

Kendrick, in his speech, objected strenuously to the widely accepted misconception that the nation is subsidizing only the American farmer. Pointing out that business and industry have had a comparitively high protective tariff for the past 150 years, Kendrick said that until the last 20 years, the farmer has had no protection in the market place.

Emphasizing that many segments of the American economy are subsidized by the government, Kendrick pointed out that the farmer's subsidy was small in comparison with other less well publicized expenditures. He listed the average cost of farmers' price supports at $72,000,000 a year. Compared to that amount he reported second class mail was subsidized at $188,567,000 in 1951; airlines received $80,000,000 a year; shipping construction was underwritten in an amount of about $40,000,000 a year; the U. S. treasury paid out $4.2 billion during World War II to bring the consuming public cheaper food; business was subsidized at the end of World War II at a cost of about $8 billion a year for seven years; and he mentioned other subsidies paid railroads over a long period of time.

Kendrick also attacked the philosophy of what he called the "sliding scale" supports for agri-

Schools to Meet Here to Study New Program

Perryton will be host to about 16 school representatives from this area Tuesday afternoon as the representatives study a new accreditation program.

Miss Ruby Bennett of the Texas Education Agency will speak to the group Tuesday and will remain in Perryton for three more days to study the Perryton program.

The new method of accreditation would make all subjects in a high school accredited at colleges and universities if the high school meets certain standards. At present, individual subjects are accredited and subjects are accepted by some colleges while other colleges do not accept them.

Representatives are expected from Spearman, Morse, Gruver, Lipscomb, Follett, Higgins, Darrouzett, Booker and Canadian.

Attend District Heart Meeting

Dr. and Mrs. D. B. Pearson and Mrs. H. P. Richardson attended the meeting of the North Plains Heart Association in Borger Sunday.

Reports from Panhandle counties regarding the recent fund drive were heard and Mrs. Richardson said Ochiltree county was one of the few counties to achieve their quota.

Edgar Brown of Dallas, state Heart Association director, made a brief talk.

Dr. Bryan Wright of Dumas was elected chairman of the North Plains Heart Association for the coming year.

Family Losses Evened

AMERICAN FALLS, Idaho (AP)—While attempting to adjust a stoker belt Edward Cronkhite lost his right forefinger. His sympathetic wife knew just how much it hurt—she lost a finger in an accident 11 years earlier.

Parking Law Has Tooth

DAVENPORT, Iowa (AP)—The police desk sergeant just laughed when a motorist displayed his overtime parking ticket and complained he'd been tied up at the dentist's office.

Then the motorist carefully unwrapped a handkerchief and displayed an extracted tooth as evidence. He pointed, too, to his swollen jaw.

The ticket was excused.

Operations Family

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y. (AP)—Speaking of operations, as they often do in the Claude Crotty family, the Crotty daughters, Susan Ann, seven, and Claudia, six have more operations to tell about than all their friends and relatives put together. Claudia has just passed her sixth birthday in Middletown Sanitarium recuperating from her eighteenth operation. Most of them have been operations in a series started when she was five days old to correct a rare defect. She was born with the bladder on the outside of the abdominal wall, complicated by the fact that it was an open sac. Doctors succeeded in providing a means of closing it and tucking it into a pocket created within the abdomen. That took seventeen operations.

The other was a tonsilectomy. With all that behind her, Claudia is entering school at the first grade.

Susan Ann, at seven, can count one operation for each year of her life. Hers have overcome an oral defect.

Housing Sin Deplored

PARIS (AP) — Because of the housing shortage, 500,000 Parisians, or 12 per cent of the metropolitan population, live in hotel rooms, according to Deputy Leo Hamon, who said:

One of the disasters resulting from this situation is the large number of broken families. A nation which supports such a situation is in a permanent state of sin."

Enough Sleep Is Safeguard For Health

AUSTIN, Tex.—Sufficient sleep is an important part of healthy living. Adequate sleep helps you to feel well, and builds up your resistance to diseases declares Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. An occasional night of too little sleep will not hurt you. However, when you habitually go from day to day without enough sleep, damaging results are felt.

In addition to ruining your disposition, insufficient sleep plays havoc with your coordination and timing. Workers who are short of sleep and rest tend to be accident prone. Some men who try to hold an extra-time job to increase the family income, have paid a heavy penalty in damaged health and accidents.

Good sleeping habits take practice. It's like anything else you do. No one can learn to become an expert swimmer just by reading about various strokes. You have to spend many hours practicing to become a good swimmer.

Listening to the radio, watching television, or working on hobbies that persons are loathe to quit are sometimes causes of staying up too late. Late entertaining also cuts out many hours of sleep. A regular time and routine for getting ready for bed will help put you in the mood for sleep. The routine may mean reading the evening newspaper or a light story after you are ready for bed. Or it may be listening to soft music just before you turn out the lights and snuggle under the covers.

A regular routine for getting children to bed also helps put them in the mood for sleep. It helps when mothers are relaxed and pleasant when it's the children's bedtime. After reading them a quiet, pleasant story, the children will probably be ready to turn out the light and fall asleep. This helps form good sleeping habits, which mean much to a child's health. Young children need lots of sleep—about twelve hours for the preschool youngsters, and nine to ten hours for older children.

Reds Have Collective Trouble

TOKYO (AP)—Red China of late has given rather strong inklings that all is not well with the massive effort to change over millions of peasant farmers into collectivized communist groups. Recent Peiping broadcasts have said in so many words that many of these farmers just naturally prefer to work and sell on their own for private profit.

The broadcasts also speak of: Poor leadership; antiquated farming methods; inability to get over the communist idea because the masses are uneducated; hostility of "middle peasants" who have experienced the role of "private owners"; peasant dislike of force; the necessity of making "low interest loans" and offering other government inducements; a tendency toward corruption in distributing the earnings under a collectivized system.

Want advertisers in the Herald often begin as children. Others are still going strong after they have reached seventy.

Proper Care Can Prevent Heart Trouble

AUSTIN, Texas—Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, says that far too many people worry over symptoms they believe to indicate heart trouble and their fear keeps them from seeing the family physician. This is unfortunate because many times an examination would reveal that they do not have heart disease. Persons whose examination shows heart impairment have a much better chance to live a happy, constructive life if they follow their physicians advice.

If one has heart disease his doctor will advise that he do all things in moderation, if necessary outline vitamin deficiency needs, eat sensibly and if overweight tell him how to reduce, in order to take some of the strain off his heart.

It is a protection to your heart if you have all the rest you need. When you rest you give your heart a chance to slow down and get the rest it needs. So keep reasonabl hours, especially on work days.

Refuse to let yourself be rushed. If you think something must be done on the run, change that attitude to allow yourself more time. This applies also to driving a car. Aside from the danger of sudden death in a high speed accident, fast driving at any time makes your nerves taut, raises your blood pressure and burdens your heart. Also, refuse to worry, be afraid or to become angry. If you allow yourself to indulge in these wasteful emotions, your own heart is being punished.

Dr. Cox has one last word of advice. If you have heart disease, cooperate with your physician. The physician's objective is for the patient to realize the maximum of their capabilities within the limits of their disabilities.

Gad, That's History!

GADS HILL, Mo. (AP) — This town is remembered by the old folks and historians as the site of one of Jesse James' train robberies, the first such robbery west of the Mississippi river.

But it had one other claim to infamy, too.

A resident was riding along in his buggy before the turn of the century and some irate neighbors reined in, grabbed him and cut off his ears. They stuffed the auditory appendages in his vest pockets and counseled him to quit gossiping about the womenfolk in the area.

A recent historian reports the fellow never was very talkative after that.

Class Ignores Authorities

DES MOINES (AP)—Toni Tollefson introduced the 9B's at Callanan Junior High School to a new kind of political campaigning but it didn't pay off.

Toni, daughter of the dean of the Drake University law school, got letters from the county attorney, the Police chief, a popular police patrolman and a bank auditor. She used them in her campaign for nomination as student council treasurer.

The gist of the letters was that she had no criminal record and must therefore be a person who could be trusted with council funds. But Toni was unsuccessful in a field of eight candidates.

Canine Fire Prevention

EMPIRE, Ore. (AP)—Rusty, a cocker spaniel owned by Warren Murphy of Empire is a dog gone good substitute for a fire prevention crew.

You can't drop a lighted cigarette or cigar and walk away when Rusty is around. Murphy has trained the dog to combat such carelessness, and he does it effectively if sometimes perilously.

The dog will immediately pounce on the stub and bat it with its forepaws. If that doesn't extinguish the stub, Rusty then rolls on it, picks it up in his mouth and, after proper saliva treatment, spits it out.

Lumber Standards

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Douglas fir industry of Oregon, Washington and California spends more than 3 million dollars annually to guarantee that its graded lumber measures up to rigid requirements. Supervisors at key cities spot check to see that shipments are "on grade."

Veterans Forum

Q. I started training as an accountant under the Korean GI Bill, but I'm afraid I'm in the wrong field. I know I'll have to make my one-and-only change of course, but I want to be reasonably sure it'll be the right change. Could I get VA vocational counseling to help me?

A. Yes. You may apply for counseling on the same application form you use for requesting a change of course.

Q. I want to go to college under the Korean GI Bill to take courses in a variety of fields. They wouldn't lead to a degree or to any sort of objective; they're just courses I've always wanted to study. Would I be permitted to do this under the GI program?

A. No. Under the law, your training program must lead to a single, identifiable educational, professional or vocational objective. You would not be permitted to take courses that do not lead to such an objective.

Q. My wife and I both are World War II veterans. May we buy a business together, with a GI business loan, and thereby increase the amount which may be guaranteed? It would not be a real estate loan.

A. Yes. However, the guaranty may not exceed 50 per cent of the loan, up to $4,000, which is the maximum for your combined business loan guarantees.

Q. May a seller charge me more for a house than it has been appraised for by the VA, if I buy it with a GI loan?

A. No. Under the law, the purchase price may not exceed the reasonable value determined by VA appraisal. It is illegal to pay more.

You Are There In Red Cross

The annual Red Cross roll call for Ochiltree county is under way with a goal of $2,826 to be raised here this month. This goal is well within reach, we believe.

You automatically become a member of the outstanding mercy organization in the world today when you contribute a dollar or more, according to your ability to pay. Remember you do not give to the Red Cross—you join the Red Cross.

It should be unnecessary to list the things that Red Cross does with the money contributed—but to many of us the memory of Red Cross aid after the tornado hit Perryton in May of 1950 is still fresh.

There are other things such as aid to servicemen, veterans or their families, the blood program, first aid and nursing courses, the actual relief through furnishing food and clothing for the needy that should certainly prove the worthiness of the Red Cross program.

Beneficent Dust

The weather experts continue to baffle us. Here we had always thought that dust in the air was a complete liability—annoying, possibly unhealthful, productive of no good whatever. Airborne real estate we had always regarded as a sign and a result of dry weather, and dry weather is something which does not endear itself by long acquaintance.

We have never been able to distinguish between types of dust, except for color and perhaps density.

Now the meteorologists say that dust can be quite beneficial, if it is of the right kind. They say it can even be the means of bringing about large-scale rainfall. In fact, government weather experts are predicting a five year wet cycle to end the rainfall deficiency which has plagued the whole central part of the North American continent.

The kind of dust on which they base their prediction is cosmic dust, a great cloud of which seems to be swirling in outer space. This dust usually is called sunspots, and the weathermen have observed that the presence or lack of sunspot activity has a lot to do with the plenitude or scarcity of rain on the earth. The unusual sunspot activity has prompted their encouraging prediction that we are in for a prolonged wet spell.

If this proves true, we will be able to take a much more kindly attitude toward dust storms—provided, of course, they are outer space dust storms which stay in their place and set diligently about their chore of producing rain.

Farmer friend Ben Graham, who lives about seven miles south of town, has asked us several times why we don't start predicting the weather. Says he wants to know when to expect the rain or snow everyone is looking for, but we can't be of much help. Only fools or newcomers predict Panhandle weather, they say, and we've lived here about 30 years, ruling out the latter qualification.

Editor Ernest Joiner of the Ralls Banner had a bit of good philosophy in his newspaper recently which we will pass along. Says Ernest: "If you succeed in life, you must do it in spite of the efforts of others to pull you down. A helpless man arouses a neighbor's sympathy, and people find ways to help him. But let him get an honest job, become self-supporting and give semblance of becoming a citizen, and the story is reversed.

"People are willing to help a man who can't help himself, but as soon as a man is able to help himself, and does it, they join in making his life as uncomfortable as possible. There is absolutely nothing in the idea that people are willing to help those who help themselves. That is why merchants in towns like this cannot drive Cadillacs, even when they can afford them.

"Let a local business man show signs of prosperity, and his customers switch to other stores. They want a man to live; they do not want to see him prosper. A man will buy a product made in New Jersey when he could buy a cheaper product made and sold at home. His only compensation is that a profit has been made in Newark by a person he doesn't know, while if he bought the home town product, a neighbor he envies may receive a profit."

There is more truth than poetry to this. Our dad, a groceryman for many years, always said that a man in the grocery business just couldn't afford to appear to be making any money. Just as soon as he appeared to be making money, his customers deserted him, was his contention. Other lines of business could show signs of prosperity, but never a groceryman. We never have understood why this is.

When money talks these days, it's probably asking what happened.

For the benefit of golfers, we pass along these choice bits of information: There are 336 dimples on a golf ball, the better to grip the air while spinning, they say. Reason many players carry an extra ball in their pockets is that they know additional distance is obtained from a warm ball; a good solid hit with your driver will impart a spin at the rate of about 2,000 revolutions per minute, whereas the No. 7 iron will give a spin of about 10,000 revolutions per minute. One question—who counted 'em?

It is now reported that the coffee shortage and high price situation will probably become worse instead of better. Scientists say that Latin America is the only part of the coffee growing world which has not been devastated by a rust disease of coffee trees and they are convinced that it is only a matter of time before the rust enters Latin America now. When it does, coffee is expected to soar much higher than $1.30 per pound. And with this soaring, perhaps, will pass from the American scene the deeply ingrained habit—the twice daily coffee break.

This little gem comes from Franz Zeiske in the Bellville Times: "A well known slang term for eye glasses is cheaters. Cheating nature, in other words, by correcting poor vision. Glasses are wonderful, and no one who needs them, objects to wearing them. The same is true of dentures, false teeth to replace natural teeth. Hearing aids are helping thousands to more useful lives. Artificial limbs replace amputated natural limbs.

"Men want the shoulders of their jackets well padded to present a wide shouldered appearance. Women, they tell me, have been known to wear ingenious devices which, in a way, make mountains out of molehills, and bless them if it makes them happy. Why not? But one natural deficiency has never acceptably been overcome with an artificial aid. Why don't bald headed men wear wigs?"

Women would make swell umpires. They'd never think a man was safe when he was out.

We have sometimes wondered how persistent a salesman had to be before he became too persistent. Now we know. As reported in the Crosbyton Review, a magazine salesman was thrown in the clink recently because he was too persistent. He called on a lady in a rural community near Crosbyton and pestered her for two hours, refusing to leave unless she bought his magazines. She ordered him to go several times, and finally signed an order and a check for $41 before she could get rid of him.

But the salesman committed a felony by refusing to leave as requested and after the lady filed charges against him, he was arrested. Moral: Buy your wares at home.

John Luthi Attends Father's Birthday Party

John Luthi was one of the sons of Adolph Luthi at the old gentleman's 91st birthday party at Canon City, Colo., recently. He and his brother Jim Luthi of Gage, Okla., are two of seven sons of Adolph Luthi.

The elder Luthi was born in Switzerland in the Civil War period of Feb. 9, 1863. He came to America when he was 23, settling in Iowa.

The family later moved from Iowa to Missouri, then to Oklahoma, and finally to Canon City, Colo. in 1923 where Mr. Luthi now lives.

He was a farmer for many years, was a trucker for 17 years, and took a job as sexton of Greenwood cemetery until he was in his mid-80's.

He is one of the most active members of the Odd Fellows lodge and has held most of the lodge offices, including Noble Grand. He is the oldest licensed driver in Fremont county and is still quite active in keeping his yard and lawn in good shape.

The town of Canon City turned out for the annual birthday party, folowing a custom of many years standing.

Wolf Creek Philosopher

Admires Jap Phone System

(Ed note: The Wolf Creek Philosopher must have gotten the wrong number the last time he was in town to use the telephone, his letter this week indicates.)

Dear editar:

I was reading in a copy of a newspaper which my wife had lined a bucket with to keep the eggs from breakin she was taking to town, some people thought radio would put the newspapers out of business, then they decided television would, but I've got my first time to see anybody try to line an egg bucket with a radio or a television set, at any rate, I was out here reading this newspaper and tryin to stay warm on the south side of the barn durin the recent cold snap and an article attracted my attention.

It was about telephones in Japan. Accordin to it, up to now the public telephones in Japan have been on an honor system, after you get through usin one you're supposed to drop a coin in the slot, instead of before, which just goes to show how backward the Orientals are, because the telephone company found out most people, after they got through talkin, didn't figure the conversation was worth a nickel, and left nothing.

However, I sort of like some aspects of the system. Under our system here in the United States, you pay a nickel at a public telephone before you get to talk to your party, and while this is fine for a telephone company and maybe all right with the person making the call, it leaves out of consideration the rights of the party bein called. Maybe he wasn't interested in being bothered at all. Under the Japanese system, at least one side of the two parties had a chance to decide whether he'd gotten his money's worth, but under ours neither has.

I suppose the telephone company could install a coin box on both ends of the connection, requirin a nickel to start the call and a nickel on the other end to receive it, but most people are so curious they'd go ahead and drop a nickel in just to see who's callin and all it would amount to is just another rate increase.

The system I prefer is to put a meter on telephones, with a loud ticking noise ticking off the seconds at so much a second. This I figure would cut down on telephone conversations by at least 50 per cent, and I believe you could cut 50 per cent of the talkin out of telephone conversations and still get just as much factual information transmitted. Under the present system, some women get twenty-five times as much use out of a telephone as others, but they're both changed the same.

Chargin by the minute though would bring a storm of protest from a lot of women, and I want it understood I am not sponsorin this move. I haven't even got a telephone. I can't even keep my fences up, let alone a telephone wire.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Terror and Tension Feature 'Gun Fury' Western Story

Terror, tension and suspense hold the upper hand in "Gun Fury," the outdoor action drama which comes to the Ellis Theatre on Tuesday-Thursday.

Filmed in Tecnnicolor, the story stars Rock Hudson, Donna Reed, Phil Carey and Roberta Haynes.

"Gun Fury" gets off to a galloping start when the forthcoming idyllic marriage between Hudson, a Civil War veteran, and Miss Reed is rudely shattered by Carey, a lustful killer who abducts the girl and leaves Hudson seemingly dead. Hudson embarks on a lone pursuit of Carey and the girl, but he is eventually joined by a member of Carey's band left to die in the pitiless Arizona sun; an Indian whose wife the outlaw has slain, and Miss Haynes, the Mexican spitfire Carey has thrown over for Miss Reed.

The relentless pursuit reaches its shattering climax amid the desolate Arizona buttes.

Globetrotters In Feature Film

The fabulous Harlem Globetrotters are the key figures around which "Go, Man Go" is built. The picture, starring Dane Clark, comes to the Ellis Theatre on Friday and Saturday.

Clark portrays Abe Saperstein, the founder and owner of the Globetrotters who built the basketball team into international recognition.

The picture takes the Trotters from their founding days of one night stands by dilapidated bus to their present day status of star performers who play around the world.

Matrimony Is Theme of Film

Although Cole Porter has never been known to rhyme "June" and "moon," there is a definite bridal accent to his hit musical, "Kiss Me Kate" based on the Broadway play.

The picture, starring Kathryn Grayson and Howard Keel, comes to the Ellis Theatre on Sunday and Monday.

In an early sequence of the plot Kathryn Grayson, despite the fact that she sings "I Hate Men," considers a proposal of marriage from a Texas cattle baron, enacted by Willard Parker. In a later scene Ann Miller is proposed to all at once by a trio of suitors, Tommy Rall, Bobby Van and Bob Fosse.

And in a third sequence, Howard Keel rides into town surrounded by a bevy of beauties as he sings "I've Come to Wive It Wealthily in Padua."

Ideal Manager To Regional Meet

Ideal Food Store manager Hank Cornelsen is one of the 30 members of the company's organization who will attend the Super Market Institute convention being held March 22-23 in Colorado Springs at the Broadmoor Hotel.

The institute conducts regional meetings periodically to present newly developed operating methods which will result in improved service to super market patrons.

Legion Program

Walter LaMaster, commander of the Pierce Johnson Post, American Legion, will give the program on the American Legion birthday over station KEYE on Saturday morning, March 13, at 11:30 a. m. The annual Legion birthday party will be held Monday night.

But mister—take another look!

A burly, brawny brute of an engine—a real truck engine—makes you think of a Miss America who also can bend horseshoes. 125 horsepower says that this beauty can heft a top load with ease and dash.

That's more power than some makers pack into their two-ton models. That's more usable power than in any other 6-cylinder engine in its class!

And its wide, deep box holds at least 8 cubic feet more than the roomy '53 model. That tail gate is grain-tight—and sand-tight.

Finally, it offers Truck Hydra-Matic Drive* that saves you, saves your cash, saves your time.

(Note to the luxury-minded: there's a DE LUXE model at extra cost, with chrome grille and trim, two-tone paint, carved rear corner windows—the works!)

Come in and drive this great GMC. It will do all its own selling!

Truck Hydra-Matic Drive standard on some models, optional at extra cost on others.*

SLIGHT TEXAS BUSINESS DECLINE—The above index, computed by the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research, indicates the overall 4 per cent decline which occurred in Texas business from December through January. This rate of decline in the January figures brings the Texas business situation rather closely in line with the situation of the rest of the country. Dr. John R. Stockton, bureau director, notes that "up until this time, there has been a tendency for business in Texas to hold up better than for the country as a whole." (AP Chart)

Christian Science

Services 11 a. m. each Sunday
Public Cordially Invited

The healing power of that faith which is rooted in a spiritual understanding of God will be brought out at Christian Science services this Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Substance" includes the following passage from the Bible: "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen. Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear" (Hebrews 11: 1,3).

Among the correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be the following:

"When we come to have more faith in the truth of being than we have in error, more faith in Spirit than in matter, more faith in living than in dying, more faith in God than in man, then no material suppositions can prevent us from healing the sick and destroying error" (368:14).

The Golden Text is Pslams: "Thy name, O Lord, endureth for ever; and thy remembrial, O Lord, throughout all generations" (135:13).

Mrs. M. R. Merydith of [illegible] comb was a guest of her mother, Mrs. W. F. Taylor, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Reece Taylor returned home last Wednesday evening from a three weeks vacation at Hot Spings, New Mexico.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Steve Tips the Balance

Was just leaving home this morning when the Missus reminded me to stop at Steve and Al's Meat Market for a pound of hamburger. "Be sure to get it from Steve," she said.

"Why?" I wondered. So when I got to the market I asked Steve if he knew. "I'll tell you, Joe," he said. "Al and I sell the same meat, and a pound is a pound. Maybe it's just that we go at it differently.

"Al loads the scales and takes away 'til he has a pound. But I put too little on and start adding. To your wife — that puts looks like a better buy."

From where I sit, there always more than one way to approach a thing and still come out fair and square to all. Steve likes a cup of tea with dinner, I prefer a temperate glass of beer. We get along fine. Gets me mad though, when some starts "throwing his weight around" and demands that things exactly his way.
