Near record turnout unseats veterans

The heaviest turnout of voters in 13 years Saturday elected a new mayor, two new aldermen, and a new school trustee.

In his first bid for an elected post, Wayne House unseated three-term incumbent mayor Tim Hunter, 713-139.

Retired street superintendent and building code inspector Charlie Helms unseated incumbent alderman Bud Mercer for Place 2, 557-275.

And former mayor Johnny Crawford defeated two other candidates for Place 4 council seat, vacated by Bud Burch. Crawford drew 308 votes; Ira Hambricht, 278, and Mark Raby, 244.

Incumbent school trustee Don Decker was unseated by political newcomer Randy Catlin, 425-232.

The only incumbent to be returned Saturday was trustee Keith Fisher, who was unopposed for Place 7. He drew 678 votes.

Catlin also out-pollled four other candidates for Place 6 on the board: Jimmy Duggins, 159; Nan Davis, 45; Eddie Miller, 35, and Carmen Lozpine, 19.

House, whose family moved here while he was in elementary school, retired after several years as the electric utility company office manager here. He has been extremely active in the Chamber of Commerce and the Industrial Development Corporation.

Since House's son, Wendall, is serving on the school board, they become the first father-son combination to have been elected to the two local political bodies in modern times. And possibly in the history of Iowa Park.

More voters turned out for both the city and school elections Saturday than any election since 1978.

There were 855 votes cast in the city election and 922 in the school's. The 1978 city and school elections were second highest here, with 1,056 and 1,347 votes cast, respectively.

House and Helms carried both election boxes, as well as absentee. Crawford ran second to Hambricht in Precinct 33, 45-56, but carried Precinct 32, 246-214, as well as absentee, 17-8.

There was a total of 673 votes cast in Precinct 32, 149 in Precinct 33, and 35 absentee.

In the school election, Catlin carried all three polls as well as absentee. He polled 308 of the 680 votes cast at Kidwell, 96 of the 204 at Bradford, 15 of the 12 at Valley View, and nine of the 16 absentee ballots cast.

Unopposed Fisher received 506 votes at Kidwell, 155 at Bradford, nine at Valley View and eight absentee.

Trustees approve bids on building projects

School trustees Tuesday night approved bids for major construction and remodeling at the high school and junior high, and canvassed the results of Saturday's election.

The bids on the two buildings were not approved until numerous revisions were worked out with the contractor, in order to get the work done within budget.

Actually, the final figure on the junior high was some $10,000 over the $715,000 budgeted, as Superintendent Glen Mitchell asked the board to approve an additional $10,185 to pay for tile on the new hall walls.

He explained the tile would save that much in repairs and other costs over the long term, and it could be paid from the interest earned on the bond money that is on deposit.

An entire wing of classrooms, to include a new chemistry lab, will be built onto the east end of the present structure.

Buchanan Construction of Wichita Falls was the successful bidder.

Arthur/Moss Construction, also of Wichita Falls, was the successful bidder on the high school project. The final bid, after $317,571 in costs were cut from the low bid of $1,087,898, is $768,601.

With the major deletion of a new teachers lounge, which was also to serve as a workroom, a wheelchair carrier for the stairway and eight air conditioner units, the final bid was under the $768,492 budgeted for the project.

New bids are to be opened this afternoon on the two elementary school projects. First offered under one bid letting, the bid was rejected and resubmitted for separate bidding. The first bid was well above what the board had budgeted.

In a split vote by trustees, a proposed change in the school dress code submitted by a committee of parents, students and school personnel, was rejected, and then, again by a split vote, amended the present code.

The proposed change would have permitted any student "attire" to be permitted if it came within two inches of the knee.

Speaking against the change were Mitchell and assistant high school principal Randy Lovelady.

Principal Richard Davis told the board the faculty exercises "common sense" when determining if a student's clothing causes a distraction, and a change to shorten the required length would only lead to more challenges by even shorter attire.

Trustee Sherri Kennedy had sought to allow shorter lengths last year, pressed the issue Tuesday, and promised to bring it back before the board next year.

She was joined by Denny McCarthy and Wendall House in voting for the proposed change. John Sibbey, Don Decker and Keith Fisher voted against it, with chairman Jerry Reed breaking the tie with his nay vote.

The board accepted resignations of two veteran teachers and two support personnel, and hired two new teachers.

Resignations accepted were submitted by Annebeth Dawson, fourth grade teacher; Susan Mollett, Kidwell resource room teacher; Georgia Moore, assistant superintendent's secretary, and Dave Bridgers, printing aide for all schools.

Hired were Carol J. Howard, who was named the Outstanding Student in the Division of Education and Midwestern State Univ. Woman of the Year, who will teach high school English and journalism; and Lisa Thomson, to teach resource room at Kidwell Elementary.

Mary Helen Schell delivered a prepared statement to the board, as a representative of the local Texas State Teachers Association.

Reading from the statement, she told the board:

"We are concerned about the cut in salary for teachers. If any cuts are made, all personnel should be included from the superintendent to paraprofessionals.

"Career ladder: We would like to receive a separate check for our career ladder payments; Is it a policy to always fund Level II before moving to Level III?

"We are concerned that the residential bonus is discriminatory.

"We would like to have our TSTA dues payroll deducted instead of being paid through bank drafts."

No action was taken by the board, but Reed responded, "There are three levels of people the board considers (when making policy): students, employees and taxpayers. We appreciate your concern."

Following the canvassing of the ballots, Fisher and Randy Catlin were declared winners in Saturday's election.

However, neither was administered the oath of office because of a change Supt. Mitchell said had been handed down from the secretary of state's office.

He explained the newly elected members must sign a form certifying that they have not accepted money in return for special favors if elected, the form forwarded to the Austin office for review, and then upon notification of clearance, the new members would be officially installed.

Prior to the start of the meeting, the board recognized several students who have participated in state level competition. All but one were members of the Future Farmers of America.

The other student was Jonathan Imboden, who went to state literary competition in headline writing competition.

MAYOR WAYNE HOUSE TAKES HIS OATH OF OFFICE
... administered by City Secretary Janice Newman.

Aggressive cost cutting planned by new mayor

Iowa Park's new mayor, Wayne House, announced his agenda for his team, including cutting taxes, lowering utility rates and paving of streets, but based on his first official action, it could take some time and election changes to get it all done.

The first action of House's administration was to attempt to appoint newly-elected Alderman Johnny Crawford mayor pro tem. It failed for lack of support from the three carryover council members.

The appointment of the mayor pro tem must be sustained by the vote of the council.

When he told of his appointment, Alderman Diane Robnett said "I cannot ratify that." She explained Alderman Johnny Coker has been serving in that capacity, and since both the mayor and Crawford were "new" on the council, suggested Coker should continue.

Coker has served as the mayor pro tem since being appointed by Crawford in both their new terms of office when elected in 1976.

Alderman Virgil Woodfin agreed, saying Coker was familiar with "things" currently underway.

Asked how he felt about continuing in the position, Coker said, "I would support it. I have the job now and I like it."

A motion naming Coker mayor pro tem was approved 3-0, with Crawford and Alderman Charlie Helms abstaining.

Concerning his agenda, House said he feels correcting the city's sewer problems is the number one concern, and should be corrected this summer with all funding of other projects put off until the project is completed.

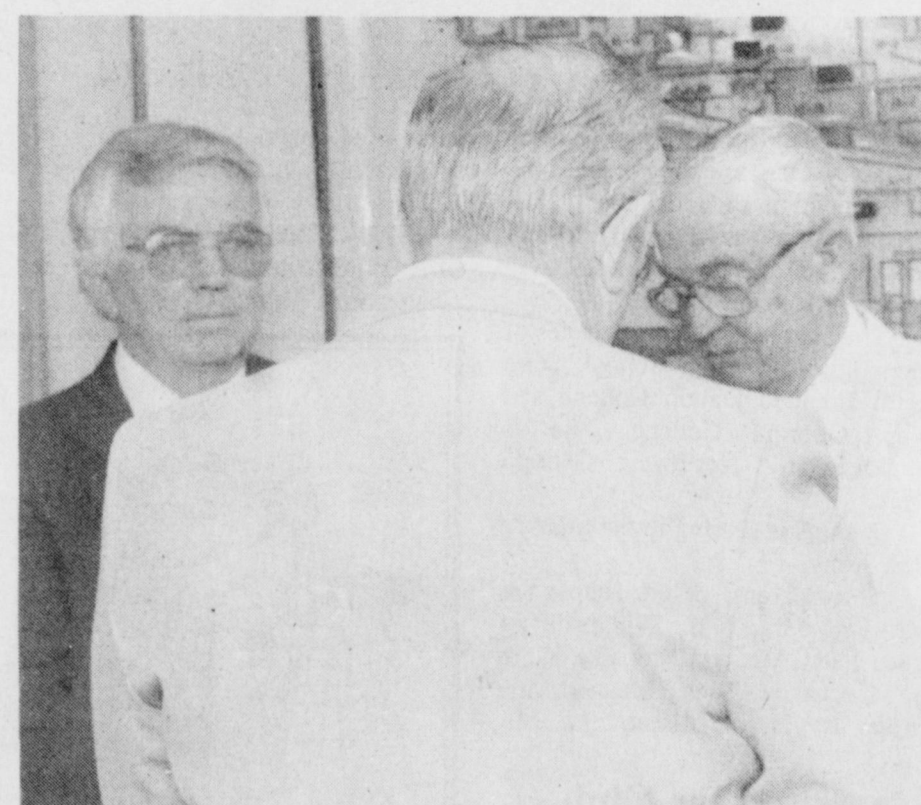

He said he had talked with county commissioner Gordon Griffith who had agreed he would sealcoat streets for $10,000 per mile, and he proposes two miles, about 35 blocks be included.

House said he will ask at the next council meeting that water and sewer rates be cut 10 percent.

And, "I want to lower the tax rate from 88-cents to 80," he said.

"I'm telling you so when we go into the budget we'll be in the right frame of mind," House declared.

Most of the almost three hour meeting was taken up by discussion of sewer problems, and responding to a request for a waiver of building requirements for an oil separator on the sewer line of a business almost ready to open its doors.

The council heard complaints of sewers backing up in homes and at Bradford Elementary.

A proposal to contract the services of Biggs and Mathews to conduct a study of the sewer system, at a cost of $35,000, was approved, with the work to commence immediately.

Chris Powell, who is about to open a new business at the corner of Park and Colorado, asked that a unit his contractor installed to prevent oil from getting into the sewer line be approved, instead of the required oil separator.

He quoted his contractor as saying the unit installed would keep any oil from the washing of lawn mowers from reaching the sewer lines.

The outset of the conversation, after an engineer went to the site to see what had been installed, was to allow Powell to continue the opening of his business, but within nine months to have the oil separator installed.

Powell had explained he was to hold his grand opening May 19, that his major season for business was at hand, and he would gladly comply with the wishes of the council if he were permitted to complete work on the building.

A request for permission to participate in a state government program of investing monies long term in order to gain higher interest rates was approved. The vote was the same as the mayor pro tem, with Crawford and Helms abstaining.

House, Crawford and Helms were administered the oath of office, after results of Saturday's election were canvassed.

Each of the outgoing members, Bud Burch, who did not seek reelection, Tim Hunter and Bud Mercer, made statements before relinquishing their chairs.

Each paid high compliment, to city staff and their cooperation, as well as expressing appreciation for having had the opportunity to serve the citizens of the community.

Prior to adjourning, the city's employee of the month, Delbert Sigafus, was recognized.

The council called for the first in a series of budget work sessions to be held at 7 p.m. Monday in council chambers.

Adult illiteracy program topic for Baptist Women's meeting

"Back to Basics: Literacy Missions" was the topic of the program taken from the Royal Service magazine for a meeting Monday evening of the Thelma Smith Baptist Women of First Baptist Church. The meeting was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church. The hostesses were Mrs. H.E. Cummings and Mrs. Elmer Singleton.

Mrs. Riley Thompson, the program leader, explained that Baptist women must face adult illiteracy as they seek a compassionate ministry through literacy missions. Mrs. S.B. Reaves gave the introductory topic on "Nationwide Literacy Missions."

Mmes. Singleton, V.I. Woodfin, J.T. Parker, Sam Hill and Roy Smith discussed some of the work Southern Baptist women are doing through literacy missions in Georgia, Kansas, Alabama, Tennessee and New Mexico. They emphasized how the literacy missions gave the workers opportunities to witness for the Lord to many people from different countries and religions, who wanted to learn to read.

A special part of each meeting of the group is to remember the missionaries who observed their birthdays on the date of the meeting. Mrs. E.T. Patterson, prayer chairman, conducted the calendar of prayer before the business meeting directed by Mrs. Woodfin.

Mrs. O.S. McLemore, missions in action chairman, discussed an opportunity the group had to help defray the expense of needed items purchased recently for a local family, and it was voted to make a monetary contribution as part of the May missions in action project.

Miss Rhonda Whitson, bride-elect of Brandon Lane, was honored Sunday afternoon with a pre-nuptial shower at the First Christian Church parlor.

Hostesses for the event were Mrs. Coleta Grubbs and Miss Kristi Lane.

The bride-elect's chosen colors of pink and blue governed decorations on the refreshment table.

Covered in a white cloth printed with wedding bell designs, the table held a cake formed of interlocking hearts iced in pink, with "Rhonda" and "Brandon" inscribed on each heart.

A six-branched votive candelabra holding pink and blue candles was nestled in a floral arrangement with a mirrored base to provide the table's centerpiece. A porcelain doll sat in front of the arrangement. Pink punch, blue napkins, mixed nuts and mints completed the table setting.

The gift table, covered in white satin, was centered with a white swan holding a pink and purple floral arrangement.

Guests registered at a table that held the bride's book, a pink plume pen, and a framed poem, "Love Is Patient," a gift from the mother of the groom-elect.

As I See It...

By BOB HAMILTON

To answer a world of questions I've been asked about the results of the city and school elections Saturday, I'll only say I was shocked by the margin by which Wayne House defeated incumbent Tim Hunter for mayor.

A 7-1 margin would have to be called a landslide win for House.

I was not surprised by the turnout of voters. There were 855 votes cast in the city boxes and 922 in the school's.

While it looked for a while there might be a record turnout, it really never happened. But it was near one.

I searched back in our 20-year-old files for what I could find, and then went over to city hall to look up what everyone tells me is the record.

The most votes cast in a city election, according to everything I can find, was in 1968. That one drew 1,099 ballots. That was the year Dr. Erwin Soell unseated long-time mayor Charlie Metz, 576-519.

The second-highest number of votes in a city election apparently came in 1978, when 1,056 ballots were cast.

I can't remember for sure if there was a major issue or not, but I did find that there were 1,347 votes cast in the school election that year. That is apparently a record here.

Actually, there were three consecutive years when the school votes exceeded 1,000: 1,339 in 1976; 1,209 in 1977, and then the record.

The all-time low for the past 20 years of elections was just three years ago, in 1988. I don't know whether the state's changing of city/school elections from April to May had anything to do with it, but that was the first year we had May elections.

There were only 143 votes cast in the city boxes that year, and 211 in the school's.

During my search of the files, I was reminded of an incident that supports the old saying "every vote counts, so everyone should vote."

It occurred in the city election in 1975. Joe Singer was an incumbent city alderman, and the count indicated he had won re-election.

But a recount was demanded, and the new count showed that Billy Gilmore was actually the winner by a 254-253 margin.

Other than those years like 1988 and some others when little interest is shown by voters, I've always been proud of the way our citizens use their American privilege.

An article in a Sunday newspaper brought this point back to mind. It seems the city of Plainview, up on the South Plains, had a "record" turnout in excess of 1,500.

Heck, I don't know how large the Hale County seat is today, but when we lived there in the 1960s, it was in excess of 25,000.

For that city to brag about an election that attracted fewer than double what we had this year just further bolsters my pride in our Iowa Park citizens.

Annual wheat tour set Friday morning

The annual Wichita County wheat tour will be held Friday at the demonstration plots off Rifle Range Road, just south of Wichita Valley Airport.

To begin at 10 a.m., the tour will be followed by a lunch in the Stanley Williamson's airplane hanger.

Modern Dentistry

By Dr. Richard Carver
DENTURE IDENTIFICATION

When people that wear dentures or partial dentures go to a hospital or a nursing home - keeping up with their property can be a real and serious problem. Especially if they get separated from their appliances by leaving it on the food tray, changing rooms, possibly leaving it in the operating room or leaving it in a drawer when going home. It is sometimes nearly impossible for the nursing personnel to find out which patient it belongs to.

Not only is it inconvenient and embarrassing to the patient, but it can involve a significant amount of time to replace, especially if the fee is to be paid for by the patient, it may be a hardship as well as an inconvenience.

Information such as name, social security number, allergies or if the person is a Diabetic can be made a part of the denture.

If you or members of your family would like to have this kind of service, you may call the office at 592-5141 for an appointment.

Where Jesus is Lord

WHAT IS A MOTHER?

A mother can be almost any size or any age but she won't admit to anything over thirty. A mother has soft hands and smells good. Mother likes new dresses, music, a clean house, her children's kisses, an automatic washer and dryer, and Daddy.

A mother doesn't like having her children sick, muddy feet, temper tantrums, loud noises, or bad report cards. A mother can read a thermometer (much to the amazement of Daddy) and like magic, can kiss a hurt away.

A mother can bake good cakes and pies but likes to see her children eat vegetables. A mother can stuff a fat baby into a snow suit in seconds and can kiss sad little faces and make them smile.

A mother is underpaid, has long hours, and gets very little rest. She worries too much about her children, but she says she doesn't mind at all. No matter how old her children are, she still likes to think of them as her little babies.

She is the guardian angel of the family, the queen, the tender hand of love. A mother is the best friend anyone ever has. A mother is love. A godly mother is one of the greatest blessings God has given.

The award was signed by Gov. William Clements.

The Iowa Parkan, who died Feb. 23, was retired from both the Air Force and Civil Service. Mrs. Elms continues to live at their home at 910 Van Horn.

Certificates were presented to 45 individuals in ceremonies coordinated by the Junior League of Wichita Falls.

Dr. Charles W. Mattis recently returned from a six-day medical mission to Tegucigalpa, Honduras.

Dr. Mattis, a graduate of Iowa Park High School, is in family dental practice in Corpus Christi. He is the son of Mrs. Raydean Mattis of Iowa Park.

During the mission, Mattis was a member of a four-man team that included another dentist, an assistant and an interpreter.

The mission was set up at the Bright Institute, which houses a four-year school of preaching, a medical clinic with one doctor, and an unmanned dental clinic operated by the Church of Christ.

During his stay, Dr. Mattis said he actually worked in the clinic three and a half days, seeing some 250 patients in that time. Many of the patients, he reported, were poor, and most of the services performed were extractions and restorations.

Mattis said he plans to return next year.

Evening Lions hear program on weather

Merlin "John" Van Dunk, a meteorologist and numismatist with the National Weather Service, who has 40 years in the weather service, spoke to the Evening Lions Tuesday. He was introduced by Jerry Pruett.

His topic was "Weather Cycles and Weather Changes."

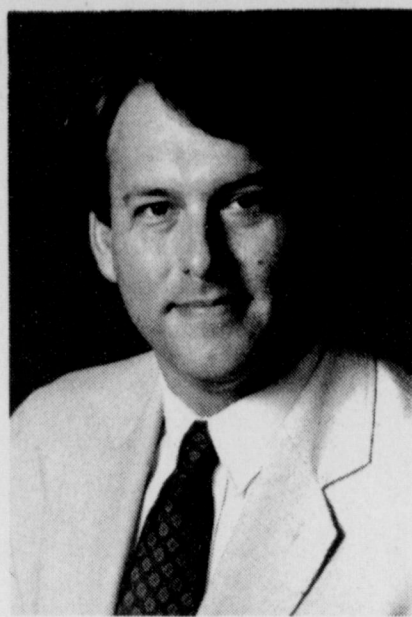

He discussed the drought and lunar cycles that occurred in earlier days and the solar retrogradation which many meteorologists believe that the earth is passing through now. He discussed the earthquakes, volcanoes, drought and frigid weather experienced in each of the cycles and said that perhaps a more appropriate topic of his talk could very well have been "Doom and Gloom" in considering the calamitous events that have brought great loss, damage and destruction to all the world in recent years.

Gordon Callahan directed a brief business meeting following the talk.

Kidwell PTA to meet

Kidwell PTA will meet Tuesday at 7:00 p.m. in the Kidwell cafeteria.

Last week all Kidwell students received individual test records on the Comprehensive Test of Basic Skills. Pat Davis, counselor, will explain what the scores mean and try to give parents a better understanding of the CTBS.

Eddie Worthy

He is the son of Charles Worthy of Quinlan and Shirley Bell of Wichita Falls.

His wife is the former Rita Railsback, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Railsback of Iowa Park.

First Baptist Church of Iowa Park is Worthy's home church.

Robinson speaks
on Friendly Door

Myrna Robinson, director of the Friendly Door Senior Citizens Center, was guest speaker at a recent meeting of the Iowa Park Optimist Club.

She told of the various functions of the organization such as providing transportation for medical appointments and Meals on Wheels for shut-ins. She said they have card games and dominos for those who meet there, and a rhythm band composed of senior citizens who will play anytime they are requested. There is a covered dish luncheon on the second Monday of each month when they celebrate birthdays in that particular month. The senior citizens bowl every Friday, have exercise classes, and are offered many other services.

Mrs. Robinson said that these services are open to anyone who is sixty years of age and older.

It was announced that Project Graduation is scheduled June 1, and members were requested to volunteer to work that evening.

Lutheran Church 90 years old

The Clara Lutheran Church celebrated its 90th year recently with special services, a meal and reception.

The theme for the celebration was "Forward in Faith, From Generation to Generation." Banners with the theme were displayed, as well as a banner with the tree of life, each leaf bearing the name of each member since 1900 to the present time.

A book with the history of the church was available for visitors and members.

Former pastor Rev. Earnest Hengst delivered the morning service, assisted by Rev. Douglas Kabell.

A catered meal followed the service, and "Looking at the Unseen," was presented by Rev.

Glenn Huebel, former pastor. He was assisted by Revs. Kabell, Keith Schweitzer, Albert Lindermann, Thomas Handrick, and Vicor Robert Oeltjen.

'Purse snatching' case baffles Iowa Park cops

Police admit they have little to go on in an investigation on a complaint by a woman her purse was snatched Tuesday afternoon while she was shopping in Wal-Mart.

Not only did no one in the store see the black man wearing a jean jacket in the building, much less see him take the woman's purse, and the purse of another unknown woman, and run from the store.

Complicating the investigation is the fact that the woman, identified as Beverly Young of Burkburnett, called the complaint from a telephone in Wichita Falls.

The call was made at 1:23 p.m., according to the police blotter. The alleged victim said the man grabbed her purse and one of another woman and ran from the store.

Young alleges she found her purse in a trash container to the side of the building, and everything was in it, including her billfold, but all her identification and some $800 in cash was missing.

She alleged she contacted employees of the store after the snatching, and received no help, so she drove to her sister's home in Wichita Falls and called in the complaint.

Det. Ray Smock said employees at the store did not see a black man, nor did any other supposed victim complain of having a purse stolen.

Smock said Wednesday he was continuing the investigation, but admitted he had virtually nothing on which to work. Young did file a formal complaint, however.

Four arrests were listed on the blotter during the week.

Shane Patterson, having been informed of a warrant for his arrest on a charge of burglary at the junior high school, turned himself in at the police station at 3:28 p.m. Friday, accompanied by an attorney.

Patterson was transported to the Wichita County jail at 5:04.

Police took Michael David Williamson, 38, into custody on a charge of public intoxication Monday night, and it was determined he had an outstanding warrant against him by the sheriff's department for theft by check under $200.

He was later transported to county jail.

Steven Lee Swanson, 18, was taken into custody Tuesday afternoon on three local warrants and one issued by the sheriff's department. The local warrants were for disorderly conduct, no driver's license and failure to show proof of vehicle liability insurance.

He was transported to county jail.

Taken into custody after learning a warrant was issued against him by the Department of Public Safety in Wichita Falls was James Lee Caskey, 21.

The arrest was made at 10:48 p.m. Tuesday, according to the blotter, and he was released at 12:20 a.m. after posting a $70 bond.

The owner of a pickup told police two windows of his vehicle were shot out, possibly by a BB gun, sometime Wednesday night of last week while parked in the 300 block of East Diamond.

All Iowa Park High athletes who competed in basketball, cross country, track, tennis and baseball will be recognized, and awards presented to several who distinguished themselves during their respective seasons.

Admission for adults and students who did not participate in the sporting events will be $3.

Any change made necessary because of baseball playoff scheduling will be announced next week.

Bowie's head boys basketball coach and athletic director for the past number of years, Gayno Shelton, last week asked to be reassigned strictly to classroom teaching. Word from the area is that Shelton suffered a nervous breakdown as result of his following the school policy of removing any athlete from competition who attends an event where liquor is served. Parents of the students have a suit pending in the case.

Another member of the coaching staff, Mark Kehoe, also submitted his resignation last week. It is not known if his changing relates to the drinking incident.

Hawks head to Graham, if field is dry enough

If the floodwaters at Graham have receded and the field dried enough, the Hawks are to play the Steers on their home field today.

As of Tuesday there was still a question whether the field, which reportedly had been submerged under some five feet of water last week, would be dry enough for play.

Today's game was postponed from Tuesday.

Iowa Park defeated two more Dist. 5-AAA opponents last week to extend its season record to 14-3, and remain undefeated in district play.

The Hawks nailed Vernon 4-1 Friday, and Saturday fought off a rally by Bowie to win 5-4. The Steers lost 3-2 Monday at Bowie.

If they can get today's game in, the Hawks will have only two more conference games to finish out their regular season schedule. They're slated to play Friday at Bridgeport and Monday at Decatur.

Danny Tatom went the distance against Vernon, giving up six hits, but limiting the Lions to only one run, which came in the second inning.

The Hawks scored one of their runs in the first, two in the fourth and added the insurance run in the fifth frame.

Iowa Park's seven hits were off the bats of: Robert Denton and Jeremy Carroll, 2x3; J'Bill Merrick and Kelly McClure, 1x2; and a double by Jimmy Duggins.

Duggins limited Bowie batters to only four hits in his six-inning game Saturday, as the Jackrabbits scored three runs in the fourth and one in the fifth. The senior hurler also struck out 14 while walking only one.

Meanwhile, the Hawks were pounding Bowie's hurlers with eight hits to score three runs in the third and the other two in the fourth.

Duggins, who had a double in the sixth, aided his cause by going 2x3 at the plate. The other leading batters were: Merrick, 1x1; Tatom, 1x2, and Carroll and Denton, 1x3.

Unusual freshman going to Austin

A rare incident will take place this week in Austin: a freshman will be competing in the University Interscholastic League state track and field meet.

Lady Hawk sensation Erica Knight has not only qualified for the ultimate contest in UIL track and field competition, but has done it in two events.

She is believed to be the first freshman ever in the history of Iowa Park High School to advance to the gigantic state meet.

Her first event will be the triple jump, which will begin at 5 p.m. Friday, using the pit on the south end of Memorial Stadium on the campus of the University of Texas.

Then, at 12:40 p.m. Saturday, Knight will compete in the 100-meter hurdle event.

Her competition in the hurdles, listed in order of times posted at their respective regional meets, include: Chelsa Lancaster, Lampasas, 14.32; Tanashia Griffin, Cuero, 14.45; Christine Grubbs, Forney, 15.0; Tracy Franklin, Daingerfield, 15.1; Nikki Altman, Tulia, 15.14; Tarsha Skinner, Shepherd, 15.37; Knight, and Janet Meaux, East Chambers, 15.58.

Triple jump competition will be between: Shelly George, East Chambers, 38-3; Carla Spears, Luling, 38-

0 1/2; Wanda White, Carter-Riverside, 37-6; Nicole Wright, Madisonville, 37-0 1/2; Audrie Tribble, West Oso, 36-11; Knight, 36-2 1/2; Michelle Johnson, Bonham, 35-6 1/2; Shontundra Jimmerson, Lamesa, 35-2 1/2.

Medals are presented to all first, second and third place finishers in each event, while the recipients are standing on the awards platform and their names announced on the public address system.

Students set local record this year on TEAMS test

A marked improvement in scores students achieved this year on the Texas Education Assessment of Minimum Skills (TEAMS) tests was the gist of a report received Tuesday by the Iowa Park board of trustees.

For the first time since the tests have been administered, the average score of local students tested this year was above 90 percent mastery.

Tests reported included those taken by third, fifth, seventh and ninth grade pupils.

The average score was 91.09 percent mastery.

And the percentage has increased steadily since the 1986-87 testing, the report indicated.

Average score in 1986-87 was 80.75; 1987-88, 86.84; and 1988-89, 89.84.

The highest scores in each of the grades were in mathematics, which ranged from 94 to 98. Third graders averaged 95, fifth graders 94, seventh graders 98 and ninth graders 96.

Reading also was high, with 86 percent of the third graders mastering the test; fifth, seventh and ninth grades all 92 percent.

The most improved area of the TEAMS testing was posted in the writing test. The third grade tested 80 percent mastery, fifth grade 86, seventh grade 93 and ninth 89.

Respective grades in writing for the 1987-88 year were 81, 82, 70 and 64.

However, attempting to compare the scores of students tested in any given year with those the previous year are not valid, according to the school counselors. They point out that, because the tests are administered to only odd-numbered grades, the students tested are not tested each year, and each class is composed of different students.

Students are administered another test, the CTBS Achievement Test, and in every case this year, Iowa Park pupils in all grades were ranked well above the national averages.

HOMES BENEFITTED -
Four Iowa Park homes were improved Saturday by volunteers in the Christmas In Spring program, coordinated by the Senior Citizen Services of North Texas. Addresses and organizations providing the volunteers were: 306 S. Bond, Howmet; 206 W. Diamond, First United Methodist Church of Wichita Falls; 204 1/2 Jackson, Country Chapel Church and Red River Optimist Club; and 1110 N. Jackson, 3770th TCHTS of Sheppard AFB. In all, 64 homes over the area benefitted Saturday by the program, all selected from applications submitted by the owners.

Pool to open June 1

The first day of June will be swim day in Iowa Park.

That Saturday will mark the opening for the season of the Iowa Park Bicentennial Swimming Pool.

Dates for the opening and it's Aug. 26 closing were set during a meeting of the pool committee last week.

Members of the committee are: Robert Palmer, chairman; Mike Price, city representative; Denny McCarthy, school representative; Mark Wilson, pool manager, and Lisa Holway, assistant manager.

The pool, even though it is located on school property at the high school campus, has been a joint effort of the city and school since it was built in 1976. It was dedicated as the community's observance of the nation's 200th anniversary.

The pool operated at a deficit of slightly more than $10,000 last year. Palmer explained the principal factors for the heavy loss were unusually cool weather in June, replacing the chlorinator device, rebuilding the filter system, and repainting the entire pool.

Pool rates will remain the same, but an aggressive scheduling of special events throughout the season is planned, to encourage greater participation and increase revenues.

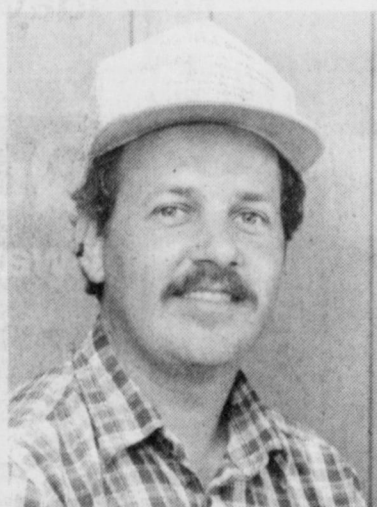

At least one special event each week will be planned, including Little League baseball day, softball league day, Cryovac day, ball day, church youth day, and a special July 4th celebration.

Also, it was decided to build a sand volleyball area on the south side of the pool area, encouraging people to play volleyball and mix the activity with swimming.

Committee members concluded, after a lengthy discussion, that the pool is a community service and every effort should be made to make it a useable facility for the people.

THANK YOU

I would like to extend my congratulations to the candidates who won their choice of office in Saturday's Election. I would like to express my sincere "Thank You" to the people who voted for me and supported me during my campaign. I will run again.
